

2,007 DOWN

Lost Plane Total Climbs In Fighting

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Command announced today that 2,007 airplanes and 1,480 helicopters have been lost in the Vietnam war to enemy fire, accidents and all other causes.

Headquarters said 809 combat planes have been downed over North Vietnam since bombing of the North began a little more than three years ago, in February, 1965.

This latest total included at least one plane not announced in daily communiques. Such losses are fitted into periodical totals. Usually these lost planes have gone down in Laos or the Tonkin Gulf, out of sight and unknown to the enemy.

Headquarters said 238 planes have been lost to enemy fire in South Vietnam. And another 960 planes have been lost to nonhostile action, such as mechanical failure, or they were support cargo planes brought down by enemy fire or downed through accidents.

The Command reported that 593 helicopters were destroyed by enemy guns. Of these, nine went down over North Vietnam while on rescue missions for downed pilots and the rest, 584, were downed in South Vietnam.

Dropout Admits Arson

HOUSTON (AP)—A junior high school dropout was held by juvenile authorities today after telling police he set four Feb. 21 fires in which one person died.

"I set these fires because I was mad at my mother because she wouldn't let me have any cigarettes," the boy, 15, said in a statement. "We had a fuss and she slapped me."

About half of Houston's fire equipment was tied up fighting the four blazes that broke out in rapid succession in a residential section south of the downtown area.

The boy said he squirted lighter fluid on papers and trash around the buildings and started the fires with a cigarette lighter.

One fire affected a four-unit apartment building from which three persons escaped but a fourth, Herbert Ray Baggerly, 19, died when overcome by smoke and flames.

Librarian Killed

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—A librarian, described as "a quiet, intellectual person," was found raped and strangled in her apartment Thursday.

A strip of cloth was still wrapped around Elinor Gold's neck when she was found partly clothed on her bed.

Miss Gold, 28, was a librarian of the City of Whittier. Her library supervisor discovered the body after Miss Gold failed to report for work.

Detective Charles Plummer said a small amount of marijuana was found in the apartment.

Ticket Slowdown

DALLAS (AP)—Widespread disappointment over delayed pay raises spawned unconfirmed reports of a ticket writing slowdown in the police department today, but some sources put little credence in the report.

One officer in the know said it would be Sunday before supervisors would know from ticket counts whether such a retaliatory campaign is under-way.

In private conversations, officers of both the uniform divisions and the Criminal Investigation Division have expressed great disappointment over City Manager Scott McDonald's suggestion to the city council that police pay raises not begin until October.

Jews Are Targets

WARSAW (AP)—The anti-Zionist campaign the Polish government is waging to counter a week of student protest against the regime was a return to an old reflex that has made the nation's Jews a convenient scapegoat in the past, Western sources said today.

This time, the government had to look harder for the Jews. Of Poland's pre-World War II Jewish community of 3.5 million, only some 30,000 are left.

Westerners suggested these reasons for the government's speed in striking out at "Zionists": as the ringleaders in demonstrations involving thousands of students and adults in the cities; —Jews were among the ranks of Polish Stalinists and there are still some old scores to settle.

—Accusing Zionists of intriguing against the country is a handy rallying point to whip up patriotic emotion for the party among workers in face of liberal ideas of students.

—The campaign is being used as an instrument of maneuvering within the party.

—The government has planned to ease Jews out of influential positions because they did not agree with the official line of condemnation of Israel as aggressor in the Middle East war last year.

FOURTH WIN FOR DOLORES LANKFORD
Young expert grand champion steer and Judge Buddy Logsdon

Dolores Lankford Shows Her Fourth Champ Here

By SAM BLACKBURN

Imperturbable Dolores Lankford paraded her 980-pound Hereford steer to a grand championship at the 31st Annual Howard County FFA and 4-H Fat Stock Show Thursday night.

The big beast, who was as cool as his young mistress, answers to the name of Little Red. This is to differentiate him from Big Red—the steer which won Dolores the grand championship in the same ring in 1967, and Spot which took top honors for the 16-year-old lass in 1966.

FOURTH TIME

Her victory last night ran her string of championships won at the local show to four. She had won first in 1964; missed out in 1965 and came back to grab top honors each year since.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lankford, who live near the Borden County line north of Gay Hill. She is a member of the Vincent 4-H Club and attends Borden County High School.

Dolores won her victory last night over an impressive field of top entries. She took the coveted first place by nosing out a fellow 4-H club member, Linda Foster, whose 1,018 pound entry had taken top honors in the heavyweight division. The two 16-year-olds are both members of the Vincent club.

RESERVE

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foster, Coahoma, Linda won the reserve championship. Her big steer is named Sam. Dolores' entry was another of the many championship winning calves bred by J. C. Sales of Martin County.

The 100 lambs gave the judge, Fred Igo, quite a workout before he had decided on the top entries.

He awarded the championship Crossbred banner to Rocky Crittenden, Big Spring FFA; the championship Finewool to Roy Mansfield, Coahoma FFA and the championship Medium Wool to Cathy Evans.

Cathy had quite a time of it winning her title. She had her toughest competition from two of her brothers. The 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans, Sand Springs, defeated Ricky Evans for the grand championship, but she had to eliminate brother Randy, 13, to have her chance to try against Ricky. She is a second year lamb showman. Randy placed second in the weight division.

GARY'S LAMB

The lamb entered by his fellow FFA members from Coahoma for Gary Moore, who died in a train-car crash last Monday, was shown by Don Rich-

WASHINGTON (AP)—Battling the frenzied wave of gold buying in Europe, the government triggered higher interest rates for American borrowers today and convoked an emergency meeting of representatives of gold pool nations.

In a related move, the London gold market—accepting a U.S. suggestion—did not open today. There was no immediate word on when trading would resume.

STEM SPREE

U.S. officials sought to stem the gold buying spree, which threatens the very existence of the international money system, in this series of rapid-fire developments late Thursday:

—The Federal Reserve Board raised its discount rate from 4.5 per cent to five per cent, effective today, in a move designed to fight inflation and restore confidence in the dollar overseas.

—The Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve scheduled a meeting for Saturday in Washington among the seven nations which feed gold to the London market in an attempt to maintain the price at $35 an ounce.

—The United States reasserted its determination to buy and

Interest Rate Going Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine of the nation's 12 Federal Reserve banks opened today with the new five per cent discount rate while three others—New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco—remained at 4½ per cent.

The district banks with the new five per cent rate are: Boston, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Dallas.

Usually, higher discount rates add up to higher interest rates for consumers. The discount rate is the rate which the Federal Reserve banks charge commercial banks for borrowing money. Other rates are scaled from it.

Stock Exchange Opens

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange opened as scheduled today.

There had been some speculation that the exchange might remain closed because of the gold crisis and the expectation of severe strains on stock prices.

The American Stock Exchange also opened as usual.

sell at $35 an ounce.

—The Senate backed up this commitment by completing congressional action, 39 to 37, on a bill to remove the 25 per cent gold backing for paper money, thus freeing the nation's entire gold stock of $114 billion to back the dollar overseas.

In London, Queen Elizabeth proclaimed a special bank holiday for today. The London stock market was closed and Canada raised its discount rate from seven per cent to 7.5 per cent effective today.

HIGHEST LEVEL

For the United States, the discount rate is now at its highest level since the days which preceded the 1929 stock market crash when the rate hit six per cent. It reached its highest level—seven per cent—in 1920-21.

This is the charge commercial banks must pay for money they borrow from the Federal Reserve System. All other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

The upward move will mean higher interest rates in the economy generally and ultimately will filter through to loans on mortgages, automobiles and other consumer goods.

"It's a bona fide crisis," World Bank president George Woods said of the current picture.

Woods replied "Of course it is" when asked at a White House dinner if he thought the dollar was in danger.

The speculative gold buying stemmed from suspicion of paper money in the wake of the British devaluation of the pound last Nov. 18, a feeling the programs proposed by the United States to end its dollar drain may not succeed and a belief the price of gold might rise.

U.S. officials have called this belief absurd.

TO MARKETS

The United States contributed $771.2 million in gold to the London market during the last quarter of 1967, which represented its share of gold sales in the first two buying sprees which followed devaluation.

Earlier this week, the Treasury switched another $450 million in gold from the money stock to a special fund at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York where actual sales to foreign governments are made.

France Lets Price Soar

PARIS (AP)—The price of gold reached $44.36 an ounce on the Paris market today, more than $9 above the $35 price guaranteed by the United States. Wild speculation in Hong Kong sent the price to $40.47 while the London gold market suspended operations under government decree.

REFUSED

France refused to go along with other major European gold dealing nations in action to dampen buying. Normally, the Bank of France intervenes to keep the price just above the $35 dollar figure. But today, because the market did not receive fresh supplies from the seven-nation gold pool in London, the Paris price was allowed to find its own level in accordance with local supply and demand.

However, the Bank of France played a major role. It allowed the price for one kilogram—2.2 pounds—to rise to an unprecedented 7,000 francs or $1,400 from the outset of dealing in a bid to hold down demand.

Today's over-all volume was $43.86 million compared with $52.6 million Thursday. Thirty tons of fine gold, excluding coins, changed hands, compared with 45 tons Thursday.

In the face of London's suspension the French Finance Ministry had decreed normal trading on the gold market, the stock market and other exchanges.

DE GAULLE

President Charles de Gaulle has argued that much of the world's monetary troubles are attributable to U.S. investment in Europe through what he considers inflated dollars. He held an emergency meeting with his finance minister, the governor of the Bank of France and his foreign minister.

Later Finance Minister Michel Debre told reporters: "The French position is well known. There will be no official statement."

Jacques Rueff, one of De Gaulle's chief monetary specialists, commented that the present "ridiculous monetary system is breaking up before our eyes."

Vietnam Withdrawal Goes On Capital City's Ballot

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A referendum demanding that the United States withdraw from Vietnam goes before the voters of Wisconsin's capital April 2, compounding problems of administration supporters seeking a victory for President Johnson in the state presidential primary that day.

So far the only outspoken opponents of the resolution, which got its start in the University of Wisconsin community, are the city councilmen. They voted to put it on the ballot after the city attorney advised they had no choice, then voted 20-0 to urge a "no" vote.

SUPPORT

Supporters of the referendum say offers of support have multiplied since Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy won 42 per cent of the vote in the New Hampshire primary Tuesday.

McCarthy also is opposing Johnson in the Wisconsin primary. More than 8,000 signatures were on petitions forcing the City Council to put this question on the ballot.

"It is the policy of the people of the city of Madison that there be an immediate cease fire and the withdrawal of United States troops from Vietnam, so that the Vietnamese people can determine their own destiny."

Strong sentiment for a yes vote appears centered in the university campus, which has 33,000 students.

There has been a concerted drive to register students to vote. The largest number of new voters, the city clerk's office said, have been registered in heavy student population areas.

The campus has been the scene of frequent antiwar demonstrations, including a violent clash last Oct. 18 when Dow Chemical Co., maker of napalm for the Vietnam war, tried to recruit students for jobs.

SPLIT

Some politicians say privately that the war referendum could cause a split in Democratic party ranks in the city. Madison is traditionally a Democratic stronghold.

The American Legion has indicated it might organize a campaign for no votes, but has not announced a drive. City Atty. Edwin Conrad said he had calls from veterans who favored placing the question on the ballot because they said "they felt it could be beaten by a 2-1 vote."

On the other hand, "the response to our work has been absolutely great," said Mrs. Mary Ann Rice, 32-year-old mother of five and executive secretary of the Citizens Committee for a Vote on Vietnam.

Senate Okays Removal Of Gold Cover For Paper

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has sent to President Johnson a bill to lift the 25 per cent gold cover on U.S. currency and free America's gold reserves for use as ammunition in the international financial crisis.

Before the Senate's late-evening 39-37 vote sent the House-passed measure to the White House, the Senate Finance Committee approved an excise tax bill viewed by the administration as another key economic weapon.

The bill would retain excise tax rates on telephones and automobiles at current levels rather than letting them drop sharply. It is aimed at fighting inflation and reducing the federal budget deficit. Senate action on the gold cover bill came as the London gold market—target for a massive wave of speculative buying—announced it would close down today at the suggestion of the United States.

Speculators are gambling they can profit by forcing the United States to increase the price of gold.

Before approving the excise tax measure, the Senate Finance Committee defeated 9 to 8 a proposal to boost income taxes 10 per cent and to cut federal spending $8 billion in the year ahead.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., the author, pledged he would reoffer the proposal in the Senate debate.

Allies Uncork Biggest Sweep Of Vietnam War

SAIGON (AP)—At least 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are sweeping between Saigon and the Cambodian border in the biggest operation of the Vietnam war, the U.S. Command announced today.

AMBITIOUS

Elements of six divisions and two special task forces moved out Monday in an ambitious maneuver designed to regain the initiative seized by the Viet Cong with their countryside assault on Jan. 30.

The allied force has killed 215 enemy soldiers, seized 22 suspects and uncovered three huge arms caches, spokesmen said. U.S. losses were reported as 11 killed and 94 wounded, while the Vietnamese Command said its troops had suffered light casualties.

The vast operation—named Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win—is anchored in Saigon and extends in a semicircle through five provinces north, west and south of the capital.

Fifty allied battalions have been committed plus support troops and national police units. It is the first significant operation uncorked by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, since Viet Cong forces invaded Saigon Jan. 31 and turned the city into a battlefield.

While the first goal of the operation is to destroy enemy units that conducted harassing attacks around Saigon, a second aim is to restore a sense of security and confidence among the shaken civilian population, officials said.

For the first time in the war, sections of Saigon were included in the battle plan of an allied offensive, search-and-destroy operation. National police and units of the 5th Vietnamese Ranger Group were assigned objectives in western Saigon and Cholon, the Chinese quarter of the capital.

FORCE

The force for the operation includes units of the U.S. 1st, 9th and 25th Infantry divisions, the South Vietnamese 3rd and 25th Infantry divisions, task forces of Vietnamese paratroopers and marines, the Vietnamese Ranger group, and national police units.

CHARGED WITH SLAYING TECH CLEANING WOMAN

Boston Police Link Student

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A 54-year-old cleaning woman went about her usual chores the night of Dec. 4 in the almost vacant five-story Texas Tech science building.

Eight months earlier in Boston, an elderly night watchman made his rounds in the deserted five-story building that contains Suffolk University.

Mrs. Sarah Alice Morgan failed to show up for a lunch break that winter night and fellow workers went searching for her. They found the body of the stocky, grey-haired woman lying on the floor of a blood-splattered laboratory on the third floor.

She had been stabbed repeatedly with a scapel and her attacker had tried, almost successfully, to decapitate her with a hacksaw blade.

Francis B. Maguire, the 52-year-old security guard at Suffolk, usually closed all the doors of the building before leaving at 10 p.m. But at 11 p.m., maintenance men found all the doors still open.

A few minutes later they found Maguire, the victim of a fatal blow on the head. Sulfuric acid was poured on his face.

Keys had been taken from both victims.

Police said Mrs. Morgan apparently was slain when she questioned in connection with Maguire's death. Police said he admitted being in the Suffolk building the night Maguire was killed.

Officers emphasized that missing keys were involved in both cases.

Maguire's keys were missing from his body when it was discovered in a sub-basement of Suffolk, a school housed in one five-story building.

Mrs. Morgan's keys, missing since her death four and one-half months ago, were found Wednesday, dangling from a professor's door at the Tech science building.

Lach was arrested a short time after Lubbock, detectives surprised a man trying to enter a professor's door with a master key.

Lach, who told associates he needed an "A" grade in embryology to get into medical school, had an exam scheduled the day after Maguire's slaying, police said.

The Boston officers were reported trying to arrange a meeting today with Lach's court-appointed lawyer and possibly Lach himself.

A preliminary hearing is to be held on the murder charge next week.

DANNY IN THE HOSPITAL
Would appreciate friends' help

Danny Could Use Help In His Brave Battle

Little Danny Leuschner is putting up a brave battle, and could use some help.

Danny is 4, and he is undergoing treatment for what has been diagnosed as cancer of the lymph glands. This calls for major and expensive care. He is now at the M.D. Anderson Hospital (Room W-606) in Houston, but there is hope that he might come home in a few weeks. Meanwhile, the costs mount.

Danny's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Leuschner, 1706 Alabama. The father is working as a civilian technician at Webb AFB, but has taken an extra night job at the Bowl-A-Rama. The mother, until she had to get a leave of absence to be with Danny, has been working in the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Friends who are aware of the Leuschners' situation have started a volunteer fund to help Danny carry on his battle. Several people at the bowling lanes, at the City Hall and at other places have shared.

They have named the Security State Bank as trustee for funds. If there are others who want to help, checks should be made to the Danny Leuschner Fund, and sent to the Security State Bank.

Friends have advised that if gifts can not be made, it would help Danny tremendously just to have a card of good wishes. Mail can be sent to the above hospital address.

Suggests Free Summer Camps

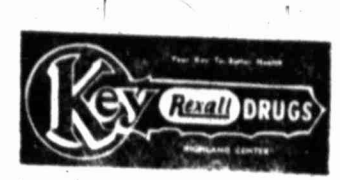

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Irving M. Levine, head of the American Jewish Committee's urban affairs program, recently suggested that urban groups form a coalition to implement recommendations of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders. Levine also urged more big business aid to poverty areas and a pledge of free summer camp vacations for children in those areas.

NEW ANTIQUE CLAY POT
Modern version of old favorite

Gardeners' Red Clay Pot Given New Glory

By EARL ARONSON

You hardly would recognize the red clay pot that has such a warm spot in the gardener's heart. But there it was, in newly fashioned antique glory at the National Arts and Antiques Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden.

A handsome, sculptured red clay pot designed by Faith Sussman caught the eye. The artist says she finds clay a strong, earthy substance and uses it directly as it is dug. Artist Sussman also designed a red clay branch pot, a tall urn with triangles protruding from its side. It would enhance many kinds of flowers.

Garden landscapers had a field day. There were Etruscan and Roman terracotta figures, marbles, stone sculptures and lanterns from Pakistan, India, Nepal, Siam and Japan.

WINDOW COLOR

To bring color to your window, we suggest:

Shrimp plant, a small compact evergreen with cream and purple flowers featuring large coppery bracts often bigger than flowers.

Lantana, blooming freely in late fall. They have flat-topped, vari-colored flowering heads two inches in diameter. The plant, related to verbena, prefers 70-degree temperature.

Watermelon Peperomia, also known as Watermelon Begonia, has round, pointed at tip leaves with stripes, and likes humidity. This plant requires no direct sun. A north or east window is a good spot for it.

Another foliage plant is baby tears, bearing hundreds of delicate tiny leaves. There occasionally are small white blossoms. It will do well in semishade of an east or west window.

Glacier Ivy is a branching, bushy plant that thrives in shade. It has many dark green, star-shaped leaves etched with cream-colored or off-white borders.

Tree Philodendron is a popular houseplant with escaped leaves. It does well in little light, isn't fussy about its soil, the humidity or the temperature.

Friendship Teas Scheduled Sunday

Local chapters of the American Business Women's Association will hold "Hand of Friendship" enlistment teas Sunday afternoon.

The teas are held semi-annually to give business women an opportunity to learn of the program of study carried out by ABWA.

This year, the association's slogan is "Educate in '68." Special emphasis is being put on granting education scholarships to young people.

The Cactus Chapter will hold its tea from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Robert McDonald, 603 Linda, and the Scene Chapter will have its tea from 2 to 4 p.m. in the First Federal Community Room with Mrs. Shirley White, Mrs. Paul Eslinger and Mrs. Ila Mae Dunning.

Designer Talks On Home Decoration

Mrs. Bill Spain, a faculty member at Big Spring Senior High School, spoke on interior design at the Thursday meeting of the Progressive Woman's Forum. The group met in the home of Mrs. Buddy Redden, 2702 Lynn.

Mrs. Spain discussed colors, patterns and accessories. She said that accessories are more important than essentials, and that they should be of good quality and reflect the personality of the woman living in the home.

Family Service Purpose Explained

Mrs. Norman Newhouse of Family Services at Webb Air Force Base spoke on the purpose of the Independent Wives Club at Thursday's meeting in the John H. Lees Service Club.

Mrs. Preston Crickard presided, and new officers were elected. The slate includes Mrs. James L. Sasser, chairman; Mrs. B. K. Mainord, co-chairman and publicity; and Mrs. Keith Holler, secretary-treasurer.

A farewell coffee was slated in honor of Mrs. Joe Boyd in the home of Mrs. Mainord on March 21. Mrs. Boyd is leaving soon to join her husband in the Philippines.

Plant Disease Control Urged

"What You Should Know About Plant Diseases" was the program presented by Mrs. Frank Wilson at the Wednesday meeting of the Planter's Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Paul Guy, 1305 Tucson.

Mrs. Wilson told of plant diseases and described their symptoms. She gave methods of controlling various symptoms by seed treatment, spray, dusting and plant rotation and sanitation. She stressed the control of insects as important in saving plant life and for growing more healthy plants.

The speaker distributed pamphlets emphasizing the dangers of applying chemicals to control plant disease. The application should be made a specific number of days before harvest so that the chemical will break down and leave no harmful residue.

Mrs. Wilson presided for the business session. Reports were heard from committees and the delegate to the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs. Plans were made to conduct an extensive study on horticulture and conservation and Mrs. J. A. Andrews was cited for her work on the contact committee. A committee composed of Mrs. Guy, Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales and Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, was named to revise the by-laws for the approval of the club at the April meeting.

Arrangements of violets and spring flowers were placed at focal points in the entertaining rooms. The refreshment table was laid with a hand painted linen cloth and centered with candles and fruit.

Area Meeting Set Here Next Year

The Texas west area meeting will convene in Big Spring in March, 1969. It was announced by Mrs. J. C. Price, president of the BPO Does, at the Wednesday meeting in the Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Glenn Gale reported on the Texas west area meeting held March 2-3 in Lubbock.

Mrs. Kathleen Williams served as pro-tem in n.e.r guard, and three new members were welcomed. They were Mrs. Foster Kemp, Mrs. Sam Mellinger and Mrs. Jerry Iden.

Reducers Must Face Problem

Mrs. Al Scott led a discussion on how a person decides to lose weight at the Tuesday meeting of TOPS Pounds Rebels at the YMCA. Mrs. Scott presented four methods helpful in losing weight. They are to face the problem, find where it exists, develop motivation and take decisive action. Mrs. Bill Harverson won the weekly prize. The next meeting will be a salad supper at the YMCA.

CHURCH WILL SERVE DINNER

The public is invited to attend a Mexican supper which will be served Saturday evening by the Altar Society of St. Thomas Catholic Church. The supper, which will include a drink and dessert, will be held in the basement at the church, and serving will be from 4 to 8:30 p.m. The charge will be $1 per plate, and proceeds will be applied to the church debt.

Landscape Design Talk Heard By Garden Club

Mrs. Dale Smith continued a series of talks on landscape design at the Wednesday meeting of the Oasis Garden Club in the home of Mrs. W. F. Taylor, 609 W. 15th. Mrs. Joe B. Johnson and Mrs. Tom Rosson were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Smith stressed the importance of design, construction and maintenance of landscaping and said that the design should be readily seen from indoors. Color, harmony, space and comfort are required features in landscaping. Also, she pointed out the importance of planting with materials suited to West Texas.

Mrs. Jim H. Zike presided and announced the awards presented to the club at the district

Rainbows Hold Ritual At Temple

Carol Burleson of the Order of Rainbow for Girls received her age majority at the Tuesday evening meeting at the Masonic Temple. The ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Adele Roberts, mother advisor.

Linda Roberts, worthy advisor, presided. Jan Thompson, worthy associate advisor, asked that all pocket calendars sale money be turned in. Girls selling the calendars will receive points on the Grand Cross of Color.

Mrs. Roberts gave instructions about the Big Sister Award, which is presented at each installation.

Lucrета Drake gave a reading and presented a gift to Terri Grandjean, who is moving to England with her parents, Sgt. and Mrs. Harry W. Grandjean.

Six girls having birthdays gave money for the Knights Templar Eye Foundation. Mrs. Roberts announced that on April 7 the Rainbow Girls will go to the College Baptist Church in the observance of the birthday of the founder of Rainbow. Following services, they will be provided lunch at Couden Country Club. Parents are invited to attend.

Members sang "My Rainbow" as the benediction.

The Mary Jane Club of Coahoma worked on invitations to the anniversary tea slated in April at the Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. Ralph Williams.

Minister Probes Teenage Marriage

Teenage marriage was discussed by the Rev. Byron Orand, pastor of College Baptist Church, at Wednesday's meeting of the Child Study Club in Mrs. David Elrod, Birdwell Lane, was hostess, and Mrs. J. W. Tipton was cohostess.

Rev. Orand cited things leading to early marriage, including steady dating, early physical maturity, an escape from an unhappy home situation and individual social complexes. Also, he pointed out some factors that might deter young marriages as emotional maturity, an awareness of the economic responsibilities in marriage, and the social disadvantage incurred when a young person assumes the responsibilities of marriage without having experienced the freedom of teenage years.

A contribution was made to the Danny Leuschner fund. Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white cloth and centered with a spring floral arrangement.

Miss Linda Pherigo Honored With Pre-Nuptial Gift Shower

Miss Linda Pherigo, bride-elect of Steve Dick, was complimented with a gift shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Rodney Tiller, 918 Culp, Coahoma.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Don Allen, Mrs. James Banks, Mrs. Tommy Birkhead, Mrs. Ross Darrow, Mrs. L. F. Anderson, Mrs. James Fryar, Mrs. Clay Reid, Mrs. Vernon Hinsley, Mrs. Don Holman, Mrs. Leonard Kinder, Mrs. Bob Kiser, Mrs. Marvin Latimer, Mrs. Ross Roberts, Mrs. Grady Tindol and Mrs. Ovis James.

The honoree was attired in a three-piece gold knit suit and was presented with a white pom-pom chrysanthemum corsage, as was her mother, Mrs. Truman Pherigo. The hostess' gift to the bride-elect was an electric mixer.

The refreshment table was laid with a blue cloth overlaid with white lace and centered with a bridal doll, silver wedding bells and rings. Appointments were of milk glass and silver. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. A. M. Dick who was unable to attend the affair. The couple will marry April 12 in the Church of Christ in Coahoma with Ralph G. Beistle, minister, serving as officiant.

Cancer Drive Starts Today

The annual fund campaign of the Howard County Cancer Society kicks off today, and an appeal is being made for volunteer workers to help throughout the drive, which ends April 2 with a house-to-house crusade. Report meetings are planned throughout the drive. Anyone wishing to volunteer should contact Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith at 267-7843 or Mrs. Ralph Caton, local president and crusade chairman, 267-2301.

The cancer mobile unit has been visiting the schools throughout the week and will be available to other organizations that might wish to use it.

A special volunteer orientation coffee is planned for Wednesday at the First Federal Community Room. Mrs. Dee Jon Davis is coordinating the coffee, which is set for 10-11:30 a.m.

REP. GEORGE BUSH

Cong. Bush Speaks Here Saturday

Rep. George Bush, Republican from Houston, was expected to land at Lubbock Municipal Airport today on the first leg of a tour that will bring him to a $100 per couple dinner at the Cosden Country Club Saturday night.

Bush is expected to introduce Sen. George Murphy of California at a dinner in Lubbock tonight. He plans to visit with friends in Midland Saturday before coming to Big Spring Saturday afternoon.

A press conference is slated for 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. A social hour and reception will precede the dinner at 7 p.m. at the Country Club.

R. L. Tollett, dinner chairman, and Bill Crocker, vice chairman, said that approximately 100 tickets were expected to be sold before Saturday.

Bush was one of the founders of the Zapata Petroleum Corporation in Midland and is well known in West Texas through his work with the Midland Chamber of Commerce. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Yale University.

Tiny Firm Lands Big Golf Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After the City Council awarded a $312,687 contract to design a $4.5-million golf complex, it learned the job went to a two-man firm working in a garage.

Getting Ready For Cancer Crusade

Preparing for the annual Cancer Society fund drive are, from left, Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith, publicity chairman; Col. E. C. Parker, vice president of the Howard County Cancer Society; Mrs. Paschal Odom and Mrs. Dee Jon Davis, who will work with the community-wide canvass.

Texas Democrats Debate Sen. McCarthy's Showing

By The Associated Press

National politics overshadowed state races Wednesday as Texas Democrats debated the effects of Sen. Eugene McCarthy's showing in New Hampshire and the possibility that Sen. Robert Kennedy may seek the presidential nomination.

A former state coordinator of the draft Kennedy movement who now heads the Dissenting Democrats of Texas, Don Allford of Austin, sent a telegram to the New York senator saying "We urge you not to re-enter the race."

NO HELP NEEDED

"Your entry would only confuse and dilute the anti-Vietnam support mobilized against President Johnson," Allford said in his telegram.

Announcing a new statewide effort for McCarthy with the opening of state headquarters in Houston Sunday, Allford said "I think there's no question that after talking with other Mc-Carthy leaders over the state, the general feeling was McCarthy does not need Kennedy's help now, which he should have had back in November."

McCarthy is to visit Texas this spring but no date has yet been set.

A candidate for lieutenant governor in the Democratic primary, Don Gladden, said in San Angelo "the generation of interest by the McCarthy-Kennedy-Johnson controversy will strengthen the Democratic Party in Texas" adding that he thought President Johnson was still the best candidate.

NATIVE SON

Don Yarborough, a liberal candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination said he didn't think the New Hampshire primary would have much effect on Texas politics.

The GOP chairman, quoting Election Code Article 13.12, said the law permits late filing only where a candidate dies.

strong candidate. He's the native son," Yarborough said.

Another presidential hopeful, former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, cancelled a trip to Texas this weekend because of the illness of his wife. He was to have addressed the state convention of the American Party in Austin.

The action of the State Democratic Executive Committee is extending through March 30 the filing deadline where the party has no candidate for a public or party office Thursday drew the fire of Peter O'Donnell, state Republican chairman.

QUOTES CODE

"The Democrats have run Texas for so long they don't seem to realize that it is the State Legislature that passes laws, not the Democratic Executive Committee," he said.

The GOP chairman, quoting Election Code Article 13.12, said the law permits late filing only where a candidate dies.

Meanwhile candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination were busy over the state.

Eugene Locke told a Fort Worth rally that, if elected he would form a massive planning effort called "Task Force 2,000" a group charged with the responsibility of projecting Texas toward the year 2,000. "We must think about the future if we are to have one."

BETTING FOE

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told foes of pari-mutuel betting that he is the first candidate for governor "to stand up and be counted" against legalized gambling on horse racing.

"If we are to defeat crime in Texas and keep the Cosa Nostra out of our state, this is the first step—the defeat of legalized gambling in the state," he said in a letter to a newly formed council organized to defeat a May 4 referendum on pari-mutuel betting.

GRAND OPENING SLATED SATURDAY
Dewey Ray Motor Co., 1607 E. 3rd, area's newest car dealer

OFFERS CHRYSLER AND PLYMOUTH

Car Dealership Opens Saturday

Dewey Ray Motor Co., New Chrysler-Plymouth-Imperial dealer at 607 E. 3rd, is out to "win you over" with its grand opening Saturday, according to owner-manager Dewey Ray.

The grand opening at 10 a.m. Saturday will be preceded by a preview showing from 5-7 p.m. Ray said coffee and doughnuts will be available at the grand opening, and hourly prizes will be awarded. These prizes will include a set of PT-100 Armstrong nylon tires and a Reliable 36 month fiberglass insulated battery.

The big prize, a 1962 Cadillac DeVille sedan, white with teal interior and upholstery, will be given away at 8 p.m. Saturday. "We feel that the personnel principles and policies of automobile dealers today are somewhat archaic," Ray said. "We are trying to use modern techniques to give our customers the best service possible."

One of the unique features of the company is its profit sharing plan, Ray explained, by which an irrevocable trust is set up where employees will benefit from 15 per cent of the net profit of the company before taxes. This, he said, creates an incentive among employees, and so far as he knows it is the only one of its kind operating in this area.

"We believe that each employee here is basically interested in serving the customer over a long period of time, and with over-all interests in long term business growth, this can be more readily achieved," Ray pointed out.

There are 18 persons employed at the company, all local people. Frank Winterhalter is sales manager, Bill Davis is parts manager, and H. B. (Sandy) Stanaland is service manager. Business manager is W. H. Booher. Mrs. Glynn (Mary) Atkins is assistant manager and Mrs. Roland (Sara) Fryar is receptionist.

Working in the service department are Raymond Key, Clyde Gunnels, Lawrence Lawson and Al Spargo. Sales personnel include Darrel Shortes, Charlie Clanton, Walter Robinson, Ray Todd and Bud Hill.

Ray is proud of his tire, battery and accessory department, which features a "complete auto department store."

Joe Wheeler is the manager, and the firm is distributor for Quaker State Oil, Armstrong Tires and Reliable batteries. Both wholesale and retail services are available.

The firm, which purchased the property on Third Street from Cecil McDonald, also plans to emphasize its service department. New equipment there includes engine diagnosis, a brake machine designed to refinish the surface on a disc brake, and a cam grinding unit for new brake shoes to fit a new diameter of a brake drum that has been "turned."

In addition, the service department has the capacity to install a set of tires with its automated equipment every 30 minutes.

Ray points out that Big Spring is a "natural distribution center."

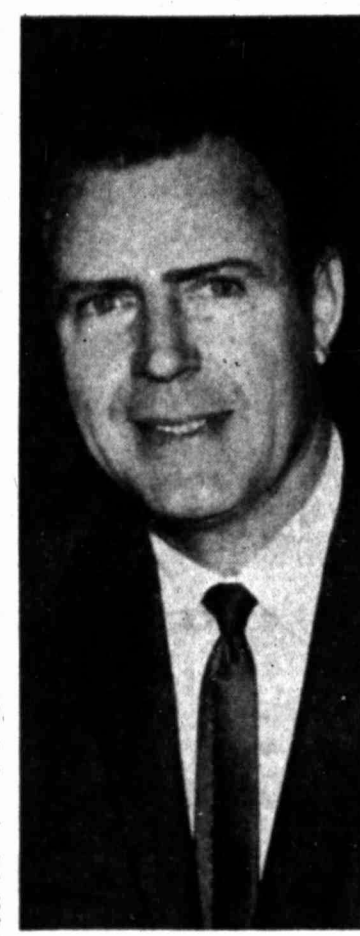

"Within less than one hour's drive from surrounding cities, an automotive registry of 75,000 can be found," he said. "This is nearly as large as many cities with 200,000 population."

"In looking over Texas for a place to establish a dealership, I found Big Spring was right in the middle of one of the finest distribution centers in Texas with one of the highest median income level in Texas. This makes Big Spring an ideal location for a new dealership," said Dewey Ray, owner of Dewey Ray Inc., 1607 E. 3rd.

Ray was born and "partly reared" in Dawson County, just southwest of Lamesa. He attended high school in Waco and entered Texas A&M in 1941. During World War II, he served in the infantry and during the Korean War as assistant G-4 staff of the First Division as a captain. Following World War II, he completed his college work at Texas A&M.

He has been employed as store manager of two major rubber companies and then served as hard-line manager of a department store chain. He operated his own chain of independent service stations.

Planning on entering the automobile business as a dealer, he worked in the service department of several dealerships to gain complete knowledge of their operation. He then served as sales manager over a period of six years to gain complete knowledge of the business from the back door to the front. Ray believes a dealer should have a complete understanding of the entire operation.

I chose Chrysler Corporation because it is the only one of the major automobile manufacturers that has been steadily increasing its total in the market," he said. "It is a fact that Chrysler built cars account for approximately 24 per cent of the total new car market. I wanted to be with a winner."

The resale of Chrysler-built car is equal to or better than that of any other, stated Ray. This fact gives the purchaser of any Chrysler automobile an advantage not only when he purchases, but the benefit of the outstanding retail trade-in value.

"I believe firmly the key to public acceptance of this dealership is dependent upon outstanding service to the customer, both during and after the sale of a new car," he said. "Therefore, we have furnished our service department with all of the latest and finest service equipment available and outstanding Big Spring automotive technicians under the supervision of H. B. 'Sandy' Stanaland."

Thug Fixes Signal

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — After the traffic signal at St. Francis Drive and Hickok Street was knocked down, it was placed on the median to await repairs. Police said when workmen arrived to fix it, the signal was gone.

New Dealer Also Has Auto Department Store

Dewey Ray Inc., 1607 E. 3rd, is distributor for Armstrong tires and Reliable Batteries, made for 51 years by a Texas manufacturer and sold nationally and over the world.

Also distributor for Quaker State Motor Oil, Dewey Ray Inc. has many famous brand tool and automotive product lines.

"We are, in effect, opening the first automotive department store in Texas, selling everything from new cars through automotive accessories on time payment and servicing all we sell in one building," Ray said. Manager of the tire and automotive department as well as wholesaler is Joe Wheeler, a native of Big Spring, assisted by another native Big Springer, Mac McAdams.

To accompany the automotive departments, there is a completely automated tire mounting equipment and the newest and best "Bear" alignment equipment.

"Our automotive department will consistently sell everything from water pumps to rebuilt brake shoes at prices at or below those of chain or discount stores," Ray said.

Ray selected Armstrong tires to sell. They are tested in West Texas at Pecos and would naturally be best for this area. When Armstrong puts out a tire to travel 80 to 100 miles per hour, they want to prove it before placing it in the hands of customers. That is the job of Armstrong's test fleet operating 24 hours a day, six days a week, on the longest "laboratory highway" in the world.

The track is a 24-foot-wide, two lane, nine-mile-long, black-top strip that simulates a super-highway.

What Happens To Your Pay If Gold Price Spirals?

NEW YORK (AP) — What happens to your pay check if the price of gold is increased? Will a car cost you more money?

These are some of the questions people ask when the talk and the headlines turn to the international gold situation. Economists interviewed by The Associated Press provided these answers to some of the most common questions:

Q—How would a man in the street be affected by an increase in the price of gold from the present rate of $35 an ounce?

NO CHANGE

A—An increase would mean that the United States had devalued the dollar. At home, pay checks, bank accounts, the costs of domestic products, and real estate would show no change. The dollar would buy less gold but it would continue to purchase the same amount of goods—housing, cars—as it did prior to devaluation. However, imported goods might cost more.

Q—Why is the price of gold increasing?

A—Hoarders and speculators in foreign countries would reap the immediate profits if they had bought gold for $35 an ounce and sold it, at say, $70. Some economists say doubling the price would end speculative attacks on the dollar since hoarders and speculators presumably would get rid of their gold at the higher price.

Q—Could there be detrimental effects?

A—Some economists foresee a breakdown in world trade and commerce, which has been pegged to gold being worth $35 an ounce. If world trade slumps, jobs would dwindle. Over the long run an inflationary trend would develop.

TAKE IT EASY

Q—Why is the price of gold held at $35 an ounce?

A—This is the price at which the United States has guaranteed since 1934 to buy and sell gold. It's the keystone of international finance.

Q—Why a price increase for gold?

A—Some argue a higher price for gold would restore confidence in the dollar and produce economic expansion. It would discourage hoarding and promote gold production, some say. Boosting the price requires congressional action.

Q—Where would a price increase in gold be felt first?

A—In the field of international trade and commerce, a field remote from many people.

Q—What can a person do to protect himself in these uncertain monetary times?

A—"Probably the best thing to do would be to sit still," said one economist. Some have sought refuge in gold mining stocks, which have increased in price recently. But this is a personal investment judgment. Advocates of a tax hike say the best way to help would be to write Congress urging the tax bill passage.

GOLD FLOW

Q—Would a tax increase stem the gold flow abroad?

A—It would tend to take the steam out of inflationary pressures. It would reduce purchasing power and dampen what economists call an inflationary psychology. People expect prices to go up, so they ask for higher wages, say economists. A tax increase long has been recognized in other countries as a traditional, orthodox fiscal step by countries with balance of payments deficits. These countries, one banker said, "would say the United States is taking the right kind of medicine. It would dampen gold speculation and restore confidence in the dollar."

Q—What touched off the current gold stampede?

A—Britain's devaluation of the pound last Nov. 18 sent tremors through the international monetary world. Faith in paper currencies, including the keystone dollar, suffered a blow. Hoarders see gold as a haven from paper currencies, especially in nations where devaluation has occurred frequently. Speculators have been betting on a rise in the gold price and gobbling up large amounts of gold. And in France, the governmental love of gold is unquestioned.

WAR SHOCK

Q—Who are these hoarders and speculators?

A—Their identities are cloaked in mystery. But likely the largest single hoard is in the oil-rich Arab states. In other countries, such as India, gold is the traditional form of savings, even for dowries. In other European countries, wracked by war twice in the same generation, businessmen feel safer with some gold as a hedge.

Q—Why does the United States keep losing gold?

A—Since World War II, the United States has spent or sent abroad more dollars than foreigners have spent in this country—creating a balance of payments deficit. The Vietnam war has aggravated this deficit. Foreigners, banking on the U.S. pledge to redeem dollars for gold, have cashed in their dollars. The deficit has caused gold to flow out of the country to pay debts to nations. An additional amount of gold is lost through the United States' 50 percent share of gold used in the seven-nation London gold pool, designed to stabilize the gold price at $35.

Q—How much gold does the United States now have?

A—The regular Treasury gold stock is about $11.4 billion, lowest since 1936.

Q—How much gold have we lost recently?

A—Since Britain devalued the pound last year, the gold stock has dropped $1.475 billion.

Sen. McCarthy Expects RFK To Challenge Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene F. McCarthy, convinced Sen. Robert F. Kennedy plans to join the Democratic presidential race soon, is moving to head off the New Yorker in the remaining preference primaries.

"I think he will announce before Monday," McCarthy told reporters Thursday, "unless the reaction is bad" to Kennedy's statement he is reassessing whether to challenge President Johnson.

NEBRASKA TEST

McCarthy aides said the timing of his Thursday announcement that he will enter primaries in Indiana May 7 and South Dakota June 4 was prompted by Kennedy's statement and a desire to get into these states ahead of any possible Kennedy candidacy.

"It certainly has that effect," McCarthy told a reporter.

The Minnesota said he expected Kennedy to challenge him in Nebraska May 14, Oregon May 28 and California June 4.

Kennedy was faced with having to decide today about the Nebraska contest in order to meet the filing deadline.

McCarthy is due to undergo a test of his strength compared with Kennedy's this weekend at a meeting of the 30,000-member antiwar California Democratic Council.

By special agreement between Wayne Burns, district attorney, and the lawyer representing Carol Ann Scaggs, a hearing is under way today on a proposal that her probation sentence — which she received less than two weeks ago — be revoked. The hearing had been originally set for March 22.

The woman was indicted for forgery and pleaded guilty March 4 to the charge.

A five-year sentence, the sentence was probation on her promise to stay out of trouble and repay the bank $120. This was the amount of the check involved in the case.

The following Monday, the woman was jailed again. This time she was charged with having robbed a 70-year-old man from Abilene of $30. He alleged she took the money from him at knife point.

Burns filed a motion to revoke the probation sentence. This would mean, if the court accedes, that the woman will go to the state penitentiary to serve the five-year sentence imposed in the forgery.

Burns pointed out that another indictment, not as yet heard by the court, pends against the defendant. This charges her with burglary.

The council spawned the McCarthy movement in California but there is an undercurrent of Kennedy sentiment within the membership. The group is expected to endorse McCarthy overwhelmingly at the close of the convention Saturday.

EARN RIGHT

"McCarthy has earned, through his courage and leadership, the right and duty to be supported," said Gerald N. Hill, council president and co-chairman of the McCarthy campaign in California.

At least one of Kennedy's closest political advisers meanwhile is urging him against risking his political future by making a race for the Democratic nomination this year.

"It's entirely possible," said the informant, who asked not to be identified, "that he will announce he has reassessed the situation and decided not to make the race."

"I, for one, don't think he can take the nomination from the President if Johnson decides he wants to stay in office," the adviser said, adding he expects Kennedy to make up his mind in two or three days.

manhood award, both in lambs and steers.

Mike McClain, Knott, has the Loy McClain award for the best steer shown bred in this county.

He will receive a $100 savings bond tonight from Aucutt, a pioneer Howard County rancher.

Buddy Logsdon judged the steers. He was high in his praise of the quality of the animals shown and complimented the youngsters on their work.

First place winners in the three weight divisions were Mike McClain, a member of the Knott 4-H Club, in the lightweight division. His entry weighed 963 pounds. Dolores Lankford's steer was first in the mediumweights, and another Vincent 4-H clubber, Robert Haney, had the second place animal in this division. Lifida Foster's entry took first place in the heavyweight division.

She had a little trouble getting rid of the competition offered by a young fellow she knows well — Steve Foster, her brother — who showed the second place steer in that weight division.

Randel Sherrod will be the auctioneer at the sale tonight. The public is invited. Last night's ideal weather brought out a large crowd of spectators for the judging events, and the turnout was so impressive that the show officials believe that the shifting of the show from a daytime to a nighttime event may be the answer to better attendance.

At 6 p.m. today, a barbecue dinner will be served for the exhibitors, the buyers, the families of the young showmen, officials of the show, and special guests. The sale begins immediately after the dinner.

The sales committee has lined up a small army of bidders, and the auction is expected to be an exciting event.

PAYMENT FOR JURY DUTY IN YEARS PAST

Wants To Give 17 Some Money

Mrs. Virginia Black, Howard County auditor, is looking for 17 men and women of this county. She wants to give them some money.

Most of the 17 will get $5, one will be paid $10, and two, $15 each. Two others have $14 each coming to them. One has $1 due.

The 17 persons are men and women who have been called for jury duty in a period dating from June, 1965, through March, 1967. Each was issued a check for his services. Minimum average check is $5 for one day's duty. Those with the $15 awaiting them served three days.

For some reason, the people who served as jurors and received these checks did not cash them. The amounts are still being carried on the county's books and Mrs. Black would like to be able to pay off the obligations and get the records clear of uncashed checks.

Possibly some of those who have been issued checks for jury duty have lost them, or the checks may have been inadvertently destroyed. It doesn't matter.

The persons need only identify themselves and Mrs. Black will issue a replacement check. Of course, she wants the checks cashed.

The people who have money coming, with the month and year the check was issued, are:

Mrs. Harrel Jones, August, 1966, $5; James Tidwell, June, 1965, $10; Carl Benson, June, 1965, $5; Mike Moore, July, 1965, $5; L. F. Lowe, June, 1965, $5; Claudine Flynn, June, 1965, $1; Loyd Zack Gray, November, 1965, $5; Jeannie Jacobson, December, 1965, $5; Clarence Jack Bennett, December, 1965, $5; Mrs. Thomas Eustace, March, 1966, $15; Doris Easterling, June, 1966, $5; Alvis Harry, June, 1966, $5; Cruz Rodriguez, June, 1966, $4; Myrtle Click, September, 1966, $4; Mrs. Avelia Marie Rogers, March, 1967, $15; Marjorie Lou Suggs, October, 1966, $5; and Donald W. Fryar, December, 1966, $5.

Vietnam Hero Helps Church

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A conscientious objector who was mortally wounded while helping to rescue a fellow Marine at Khe Sanh in South Vietnam has tithed part of his life insurance to his church.

Pvt. Jonathan Nathaniel Spicer, 19, wrote that he was laughed at by fellow Marines at Khe Sanh because of his anti-war views after he was assigned to that beleaguered fortress as a medic.

"They treated me with disdain and contempt," Spicer wrote to his father, William, a former Methodist minister who is a social studies teacher at a junior high school.

At Khe Sanh a month ago Spicer charged from a bunker to help stretcher bearers loading wounded into helicopters under fire. He was wounded by shrapnel. Open heart surgery and hospitalization in Vietnam were followed by transfer Tuesday to a hospital in Japan where he died Wednesday.

The elder Spicer said he and Mrs. Spicer received their son's last letter two months ago. Spicer also is survived by three brothers, Rocky, 9, Bill, 21, and Timmy, 17, a Marine recruit undergoing training.

"It contained his last will and testament," the father said.

"He wanted $1,000 of his $10,000 worth of Army insurance to go to the Church—in keeping with our practice of tithing. Another $200 is to be used to buy his youngest brother a horse and he said the rest is to be used by the family."

Water District Invites Visitors To Dam Project

The public is going to have a chance to see the big Robert Lee dam project close up.

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, meeting in Odessa Thursday, fixed 1:30 p.m. March 31 (Sunday) as the time that the public will have free range in inspecting the four-mile long dam, spillway and other facilities. The dam site is approximately two miles west of Robert Lee on State Highway 158.

Until now the public has not had an opportunity to cover the project because of the danger caused by huge earth-moving equipment. Work is now at just the right stage to give on-lookers a good concept of what is involved in the nine-million dollar job, said O. H. Ivie, general manager.

The board formally awarded contracts on low bids to Johnston Pump Company of Glendora, Calif., for pumps to be used on a diversion works in Mitchell County, and to J. D. Jones Construction Company of Big Spring, for construction of a water treatment plant for the Humble IAB field in Coke County. The contract for pumps with an aggregate capacity of 81.5 million gallons per day was for $86,810, and that for the water plant was $95,200. The board also ratified a contract to W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring, for moving earth at the Robert Lee pump station on a low bid of $24,975.

Bids nor construction of a 2,500-acre-foot side storage reservoir northwest of Colorado City will be received at Big Spring, April 9. This will also include a low-water channel dam in the Colorado River to pumps can boost it into the side half the normal highly mineralized low flow of the river so storage. The project may approach half a million dollars total cost, according to the general manager.

The board also authorized the advertisement of bids for drilling of three water wells in its well field in Martin County. These will be used for injection purposes, which will increase the amount of lake water the district can put in storage during the winter months. So far this year, 304,000,000 gallons of lake water have been injected in order to be ready to meet the summer peaking demands of Odessa and other customers.

Indications are that the City of Stanton will begin taking water from the CRMWD around May 1, Ivie told the board.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Fri., March 15, 1968 9-A

Big Spring VICA Meet To Lure 500

Over 500 students and teachers are expected to arrive in Big Spring about 3 p.m. today for the annual Vocational Industrial Clubs of America District spring meeting at Big Spring High School today and Saturday.

Results of some 30 skill speed contests in the conference will be announced late Saturday. Winners of the competitions are eligible to compete in Austin at the state meet April 26-27.

Area clubs will begin setting their exhibits for a public demonstration Saturday at 10 a.m.

Stanton's supply line from the city to the CRMWD main supply line six miles north of town has been completed, and work is progressing on the filtration plant at Stanton.

Ivie said that three crews were busy laying out pipeline routes from Big Spring to Moss Creek Lake, which will be an intermediate storage point for water from Lake Thomas and the new lake at Robert Lee.

Lines also are being run from Moss Creek Lake to the Sun Oil Pipeline in central Mitchell County, and from that juncture northeast to the diversion storage reservoir. There have been some inquiries from companies for use of the diversion water at other points, but if no contracts are formed there soon, the district will deliver the water to Sun Oil Company.

The Coke County Historical Society has made inquiries about getting the old John Saul ranch house, acquired by the district in condemnation of the Willcockson properties in the Robert Lee Lake basin, Ivie said. The board appeared favorably inclined but awaited some formal request.

The board received reports on negotiations for removal of telephone and gas lines in the new lake basin area and ratified several miscellaneous lease agreements. This was the first time in several years that the board had met away from its headquarters in Big Spring.

Contests include appliance repair, architectural drafting, auto body repair, auto mechanics, auto parts, building trades, chef, clothing, cosmetology, data processing, dental assistant, dry cleaning, electrical trades, Also industrial electronics, machinist, meatcutter, medical laboratory technician, metal trades, nurse's aide, printing (letterpress and offset), radio and television repair, refrigeration and air conditioning, truck mechanic, welding, chapter ceremonies, parliamentary procedure, job application and public speaking.

Contests will be held at area businesses and at the high school vocational office.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR FROM BOTH SIDES

Zoning Changed For Apartments

Highland Garden Apartments, described by its builders as a new concept in modern living, was given unanimous approval by Big Spring City Commissioners Thursday following a public hearing on a zoning change appeal.

The project will be built on a 9.953 acre tract in the Highland South Addition, on the west side of Goliad, south of Big Spring Creek. Commissioners recently annexed the site into the city, then the planning and zoning commission turned down a zoning change request, after a large delegation of residents from the area attended the public hearing and protested the planned apartment center.

BIG INVESTMENT

Ike Robb, who has developed the Highland South area, carried his appeal from the zoning board's ruling to the city commission, which sat for a public hearing Thursday. This attracted almost 40 residents, most of them from the area under discussion.

Robb told the commissioners that the project represented an investment of more than $500,000 and the leading agency had already given its approval to the site and construction. He said there would be 10 individual structures, each containing four apartments, in addition, there is a cabana and swimming pool. All the buildings are single story, he said, and the buildings do not look like other apartment complexes, but give the appearance of residences.

FLATTERED

"We are flattered they selected our area to build this center," Robb told the commission. "We believe it will be a credit to Highland South and a credit to our city. If I did not feel this way, I would not be selling the land for this purpose."

He pointed out that a similar apartment center had been built in Odessa and that expensive homes are being built adjacent to it, with no apparent loss in property values. He said the building line would be 50 feet from the street curb on Goliad.

Wayne Burns, whose home at 511 Scott is the closest residence to the planned project, listed his objections to the apartments which were echoed by several others.

While conceding the proposed apartments were attractive, he pointed out that new residential homes would also be attractive. He said that although an expensive apartment building would add to the tax rolls, so would residences built on the same site.

TRAFFIC WOES

He said many residents who bought homes in Highland South did so with the implied understanding there would be residences only built in the subdivision. According to the Master Plan, he continued, zoning should provide orderly development and the best use of the property in the city. The best use of this property, he said, is for building homes. He said he believed the apartments would hurt the market value of his house.

He and others at the hearing were concerned that although "high-type" persons might be attracted to the apartment center, this may not be the case. Particularly, one person pointed

TARC Seminar Slated Saturday

A leadership seminar for Texas Association for Retarded Children officers and committee chairmen will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at Moss Elementary School.

The conference is hosted by the Howard County unit of the association, and Theodore S. Abbott, president, said that a good response is expected.

The local unit is planning a workshop April 4 to get committees set up to plan for a pre-school class for retarded children and a sheltered workshop for handicapped persons. Truman Hanson, field representative for the TARC, is encouraging statewide participation in the conference.

Sgt. Scott Selected For Special Police Course

Sgt. John B. Scott has been selected to attend the principles of police management course at Northwestern University, Chicago, April 8 through May 10, according to Chief of Police Jay Banks.

Thursday afternoon in special session, the Big Spring City Commission approved the payment of eight cents a mile for his transportation. The school will pay his tuition, totaling $500, and provide him with an allowance of $14 per day for room and board.

The course will include use of staff, planning, policies, organization, budgeting, management communication, administrative survey techniques, training and essential control steps.

Sgt. Scott is a native of Doylestown, Pa. When he was discharged from Webb AFB in 1961, he decided to make Big Spring his home and joined the police department, Aug. 8, 1961. He received an award from the City of Big Spring in 1964 for outstanding performance. He was promoted to sergeant, Sept. 1, 1965.

He has completed police training in basic police science, traffic law and enforcement, advanced police science, communications, first aid, crash and rescue, firearms, defensive tactics and judo, auto theft and mob and riot control. His training courses also include explosives, professional defensive driving, Big Spring ordinances, criminal law and code of criminal procedure.

Sgt. Scott and his wife, Arlene, reside at 14 November Drive.

Don Lovelady, 2905 Goliad, said apartments would destroy the atmosphere of family living in the area. Ed Ballard, 508 Scott, asked if such a new development would be good for the city, as there are already so many vacancies here. Bill Gibson, 519 Scott, called the request "spot zoning" and not in the best interests of the city.

Charles Dodson, one of the developers, defended the project, saying it will have all the features of a home and the advantages of an apartment. He called it the best and most profitable use of the land. W. H. Eysen, 501 Highland, asked why it could not be built in some other part of the city. A number of others spoke in criticism of the project.

SHOW OF HANDS
Robb pointed out he had considerable land left to develop in Highland South, and said he would do nothing to hurt the area. He pointed out that three of the four property owners closest to the planned project, favor it being built.

Ben Faulkner, one of the developers, said the project is the first in two years approved by the lending agency outside of a metropolitan area. Wiley Brown, Odessa, who has built homes in Highland South, said the similar project in Odessa has proved a credit in the town and that $50,000 homes are being built adjacent to it. It has been featured in many magazines, he said, and attracted lots of interest. Burns asked to see a show of hands, which indicated about 20 at the hearing opposed the project, and about 10 favored it.

COMMISSIONERS VOTE
Commissioner Jimmy Moorehead pointed out that an issue such as this should not be decided on how many people — either for or against — come to a public hearing. City Attorney Tom Huckaby explained that it would take four votes of the commission to override the denial of the planning and zoning commission for the zone change.

Commissioner George Zachariah made the motion to approve the change from Zone 1F-1, single family residence, to Zone MF, multiple family, for the tract. It was seconded by Moorehead and all commissioners voted in favor of the change.

Zachariah then spoke to those attending, explaining that the decision was based on "land use," and nothing else. He recalled the split votes that resulted when the Coronado Hills Apartments and the Ponderosa Apartments were approved, most of the opposition at that time stating that they were not needed. He reminded that these apartments are almost full to capacity.

"I don't believe these apartments will do anything but help," he said.

City To Help Pay For Sign Program

Big Spring City Commissioners voted Thursday to participate in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, in providing signs along the highways leading into the city.

Larry Crow, city manager, said the "big spring" improvement committee had adopted the symbol of a buffalo to be used on a sign program leading to the spring site. It also recommended that the city help finance the sign program.

Some 25 small signs were recommended, at a cost of about $450, to lead the way to the spring. It also recommended the city pay $100 to help finance a sign on US 87 north, as requested Tuesday by Jeff Brown, of the tourist and convention committee of the chamber, and $580 to help repaint and pay the lease on two signs on IS 20, as requested at the same time by Carroll Davidson, chamber manager.

The commission adopted all three recommendations, after Crow advised the money could be budgeted.

Following a brief discussion, commissioners voted to disallow two damage claims. One was brought by Mrs. Ernest Bruner, 816 W. 8th, for $18.96, for damage to her car which she said was caused by street repairs being made after city crews repaired a water line.

The second was brought by the Keith Motel for a claim involving a sewage stoppage, in which $51 was asked. Tom Huckaby, city attorney, recommended both claims be disallowed.

Driver Education Course Scheduled
A course for adults in driver education will be sponsored by Howard County Junior College starting Monday.

The organizational meeting to settle on times and other details will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in Room No. 4 of the administrative wing of the college. Cost of the course, which will equip individuals to take the driver license tests of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will be $30. Persons interested are asked to call the college.

Grass Fire Alarm
Firemen were called to the Hillside at 5 p.m. Thursday to a grass fire. There was no property damage according to firemen's report.

Small Crowd Views Plays

Although a small crowd attended the Howard County Junior College Hawk drama department one-act plays Thursday night, Martin Landers, director, said the response was "most appreciative."

"We hope to have a bigger crowd this evening," Landers said. "Tickets are still available at $1 for reserved seats and 50 cents for general admission. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the drama department, at the college office, or at the auditorium door this evening."

Curtain time for the production is 7:45 p.m. Landers said one of the one-act plays will be selected for statewide drama competition later this spring.

Plays included are "Case of the Crushed Petunias," by Tennessee Williams; "Memorial Day," Murray Schisgal; and "A Wife for a Life," Eugene O'Neill.

A Devotional For The Day

If we live in the Spirit, we also walk in the Spirit. (Galatians 5:25)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the possibilities of human life. Help us to be our best selves. Fill us with love, patience, and understanding so that through us other persons may receive the love with which we are comforted. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Days May Be Numbered

The cheered change in chairman of Mexico's Institutional Revolutionary party (PRI) is only a beginning on what the dominant or government party must do to retain political stability in that country. Indeed, the days of one-party rule in Mexico, now nearing four decades, may be numbered.

The general shakeup in federal and state PRI organization, undoubtedly ordered by President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, was triggered by municipal election victories by the small National Action party in Hermosillo in Sonora and Merida in Yucatan. But the trouble runs far deeper, as the new chairman, Alfonso Martinez Dominguez, carefully noted in his acceptance speech that admitted concentration of economic power and pledged "a just distribution of wealth" and "keeping political power always in the popular majority."

Actually, though rural and urban workers base the PRI, the party is dominated by Mexico's new industrial middle-class, the government bureaucracy, powerful politicians and the wealthy. Not only is the PRI umbrella stretched to cover the multiplying special interests in advancing Mexico, but it is coming under sharp criticism as being a party of the privileged rather than a party of the people. It is charged, with much truth, with straying from the objectives of Mexico's 1910 social revolution and the principles of its 1917 constitution.

The concern for continuing poverty and abuse of power and privilege have been the central themes of Mexico's leading modern novelists, some more left than others, including Mariano Azuela, Juan Jose Arreola, Juan Rulfo, Agustin Yanez and Carlos Fuentes. The most damning indictment perhaps was Fuentes' powerful novel, "The Death of Artemio Cruz," in 1962.

Now, however, Mexico's professional intelligentsia, a growing national force, is becoming more specifically and less cautiously critical. Telling examples are recent technical essays by the Harvard-trained presidential economic adviser Ifigenia M. de Navarrete, "Income Distribution in Mexico," and the English-educated former national bank economist and United Nations adviser, Victor L. Urquidí, "Fundamental Problems of the Mexican Economy."

What it all boils down to is that the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer in Latin America's most industrially advanced nation, and the responsible political party is confronted by the challenge to do something fundamental about it. Failure could mean, at worst, violence, or, at best, the evolution of a genuine two-party or multiparty political system.

Fiscal Pressure On States

The Vietnam war's fiscal impact is, of course, mainly on the federal government, which must finance it. But wartime inflation and the threat of a federal tax increase are also putting a sharp fiscal strain on the state governments.

Inflation pushes up the costs of state (and local) governments, while the federal tax threat increases voter resistance to state and local tax increases. And, it must be conceded, state and local governmental spending is just a contributor to inflation as federal spending in a tight war-time economy.

All this is likely to compound the confusion in the regular and special sessions of state legislatures convening this year. A recent Associated Press survey indicated the legislatures will likely fall into four categories.

A few legislatures or gubernatorial administrations are planning, mostly for unique emergency reasons, to make actual cutbacks in state spending. More will try to stay within the revenues produced by existing tax rates. Others will run deficits and issue bonds. And some will be compelled to make major tax increases.

despite their political unpopularity and possible adverse effects on the nation's wartime economy.

Texas, unfortunately, is in the latter category. This state used up all its surplus in this first year of the current biennial budget. Many expenditures, especially in education, must increase by statutory requirement.

Constitutionally the Texas government can neither run a deficit nor issue bonds except for specific purposes approved by popularly voted amendments submitted by the legislature.

In a special session this year to provide funds for the second half of the biennial budget, the Texas Legislature must raise taxes at least $125-$150 million. If real and urgent needs were fully met, it would be much more. But economic conditions and public temper suggest this will be a "priorities session," with parliamentary fighting over every dollar.

This may call for some deferrals, but these should be exercised with judiciousness. State and local may be called upon to share sacrifices with the federal.

A New Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON — Amidst the encircling gloom while waiting for the other shoe to drop in Vietnam a ray of hope is like a cup of water to a wanderer in the desert. The cynical will say the nuclear nonproliferation treaty is a mirage since it cannot dismantle the growing arsenals of the five members of the nuclear weapons club.

BUT BECAUSE the two nuclear giants are united, together with Britain, for a common purpose within the framework of the United Nations, the treaty makes it possible to hold the club to five. Moreover, the supplementary resolution joins the United States and the Soviet Union in a pledge to go to the aid of any nation under attack or the threat of nuclear attack.

This is proof of what can be done to pull a small step back from Armageddon in spite of the Vietnam war. President Johnson has consistently and earnestly backed the treaty. In his state of the Union message he put stress on it along with the prospect of other lesser agreements with the Soviets.

WITH THE FULL backing of the President the head of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, William C. Foster, and his deputy, Adrian Fisher, worked for three arduous and trying years to get the agreement. The interminable backing and filling have been frustrating, boring, often despairing. Negotiating with the Russians is never easy or simple.

Foster and his deputy deserve highest marks for their patience and persistence through the months at Geneva that seemed at times unending and often fruitless. Looming ahead was the General Assembly deadline of March 15. As it is finally buttoned up the treaty will just get under that deadline.

THE TREATY itself must be ratified by the Senate. A favorable augury was the vote on May 17, 1966, on a resolution of Sen. John Pastore backing up the President on a non-proliferation treaty. The vote was 84 to 0.

The Senate will not be asked to approve the supplementary declaration promising to come to the aid of a signatory under nuclear attack, since this entails no new commitments. What the declaration does—and this may be the most significant fact about the entire achievement—is to unite Moscow and Washington in a commitment aimed, in effect, at Red China.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, China will not sign the treaty, which pledges the nuclear powers not to transfer atomic weapons to other nations or to assist them in producing such weapons. The peril here is abated not one whit by the treaty, and it is a peril that can hardly be exaggerated.

NO WAY TO FIGHT FIRE

President Has Giant Advantages

WASHINGTON (AP) — It could be a mite early to start writing off Lyndon Johnson as President even though headlines in the wake of the New Hampshire primary shrieked of "vulnerability" and "defeat."

For one thing: It's a little hard to see how anybody can lose an election when he isn't on the ballot, especially when he comes up with 48 per cent of the vote on a write-in basis—as Johnson did.

BUT THIS is even more important: When the man involved is president of the United States he has big advantages built into a big power base that comes with the office. And he can use them to the hilt in primary and general election campaigns.

There is a fleet of planes that can whisk him anywhere at 600 miles an hour—for speeches, dam dedications, the unveiling of monuments, conventions, and on-and-on.

ALL ALONG the way, if there's any advance word at all, the crowds will turn out. They turn out just to see the President — but they also stay and listen to his talks and hang around hoping to be one of the lucky ones getting a handshake.

Since many of these events don't carry an outright political label, the federal government picks up the tab. When a trip during the general election campaign is labeled partly political and partly nonpolitical, the Democratic National Committee will be getting the check for the political portion.

But suppose the President wants to take a look at work on new dams on the Columbia River in the Northwest—he can go on to a political rally in Seattle and only that part of the bill goes to the Democratic paymaster.

OR JOHNSON can flip off to an airbase or a Marine camp or any other kind of military post as he has been doing lately on numerous weekends, and make pen to have some political content, but still the show is mainly a demonstration of the commander-in-chief's concern with national defense. So the government foots the travel bill.

Then there are other ways a president can command attention and make a bit of political hay, if only incidentally. He can stage news conferences whenever he wishes, perhaps at a moment when some special announcement of a major appointment or major program can capture headlines that otherwise might go in some measure to a political rival.

(By Douglas B. Connell, for James Marlow, who is ill.)

Little Blonde Thinks Big

NEW YORK (AP) — Beth Brickell, who once yearned to be either a professional football player or a U.S. ambassador, has become one of America's most promising young actresses.

As a star of "Gentle Ben," one of the most successful new television series, she looks forward to a widening video fame and a future motion picture career.

Although she was glad to land the television role, in which she plays the wife of a Florida Everglades game warden, Dennis Weaver, Beth was fearful she might be overshadowed by another star in the series—"Gentle Ben" himself, a bear.

MANY PEOPLE, she reasoned, might be more interested in watching a seven-foot bear than a 5-foot-3-inch blonde because bears that tall are a lot rarer.

But her fears of being upstaged have turned out to be unfounded. "Actually we use three bears," she said. "My favorite is Bruno, who weighs 640 pounds and is very tame. I'm very fond of him. He likes to have you pat his head and scratch his ears, just as if he were a big pet dog."

WITH ANOTHER season assured for the series, Beth is doing so well financially that she can now afford a better looking fur coat than any that the three bears were born in. Beth has a fragile beauty reminiscent of Grace Kelly, but an iron determination to win at anything she tries.

"My biggest disappointment as a child was that I couldn't be a football player," she recalled. "But I just didn't have the build."

SHE GREW UP in Camden, Ark., studied political science at the University of Arkansas, hesitated whether to become an actress or enter the U.S. foreign service and work her way up to an ambassadorial post. This little girl thinks big all the time.

After a summer of study in Scotland, she toured 17 countries, including the Soviet Union, finally made up her mind her future lay in acting.

"At the time I was in Rome and down to my last $16," she recalled. "To earn my fare back home I took a job there teaching typing and shorthand."

"INSTEAD OF DATING all those handsome Italian men, I had to stay at home at night studying my shorthand book, so I could keep one lesson ahead of my students."

Back in New York, Beth spent another three years working as a secretary while she studied at the Actors Studio and did small bits in television commercials and off-Broadway shows. Then she went to Hollywood and landed her part in "Gentle Ben."

'Changing Sex' Is Not Literally That

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I have been trying to understand what I read about changing males to females in Copenhagen and at Johns Hopkins through surgery and hormones.

From my studies I don't have any full understanding. Can a perfect male be changed into a female by these methods? — E.W.S.

No — nor would anyone want to.

Incidentally the same type of work is going on in places other than the ones we've read about so much, and this has been true for quite a few years.

The point is this: In everyone there is a mixture of what we call "male" and "female" hormones. In men, the former type is dominant; in women, the latter. The pattern of chromosomes determines sex. This can be examined in appropriate tests.

Occasionally for reasons not thoroughly understood, a male child may have too much female hormone, and with a girl child the reverse can occur.

The result can be sufficient to cause difficulty in deciding whether a child, at birth, is a boy or girl. Curious as this may sound to you, it has happened repeatedly. A child, basically, male, is brought up as a girl, or the other way round.

Such a child grows up confused and unhappy, feeling as though something is wrong but not knowing exactly what. Psychologically such children tend to reflect their true sex. A child basically feminine, but reared as a male, would have feminine attributes.

The surgery you have read about, and the use of hormones, is not a matter of "changing a male to female," but rather correcting the anatomical mixup so that the fundamental nature of such a person is reinforced. Someone who is basically female but has been brought up as a male is treated so that the basic sexual attributes are brought out more fully instead of being partly disguised by the improper hormone balance and physical development. Chromosome studies as well as chemical studies of hormone production are necessary.

I doubt very much if it would be possible to change the sex of the average individual, but more important, there would be no point in it, and nobody is seeking to do so.

For the "in-between" people, it is a matter of helping nature correct some errors — which, after all, is pretty much what medical science is always trying to do.

For the victims of this sexual mixup — and there are more of them than you ever hear about — the treatment now possible is important for their comfort and happiness, and we should hope that, as more is learned, they can be helped even more.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please describe a "floating kidney." How it affects one? Is it ever removed? — Mrs. E.M.S.

A "floating" kidney is one which moves somewhat more than is normal. There is no reason to remove it, assuming the kidney to be functioning properly. The movement, however, can cause discomfort.

Sometimes gaining a little weight is enough to correct the situation (floating kidneys are usually found in lean folks).

A girdle or corset may give sufficient support. In some instances, surgery is required, to snug up the tissues which surround and support the kidneys. The kidneys are supposed to move enough to adjust to our changes in body position, and a padding of fat protects them. When there isn't enough "padding," or other tissues have stretched, then the kidneys can move more than normal — they "float."

Pharagraphs By The Friendly Philosopher

IF YOU'VE wondered, along with Executive Editor Glenn Cootes, why candidates-to-be are so reluctant to announce their intentions, former Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon gave the answer the other day.

"Opportunities to speak are more plentiful for an unannounced candidate," said Henry.

It makes sense. When a statesman announces he will run, he suddenly becomes a politician, and who wants to listen to them.

AN AIDE to ex-President Kennedy says the murdered President planned to drop Mr. Johnson. The over-taxed LBJ may be wishing the plan had succeeded.

ABC announces it won't carry the political conventions live this year. Instead they will give 90-minute summaries each night.

Probably the only reason they will bother with this is they have all those high-paid analysts on their payroll.

TONY BENNETT, whose "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" was a really big one, might want to go back and take a look to be sure no one has transplanted it.

A youngster in church school was asked: "What is your favorite parable?"

He thought for a moment then said: "I like the one best that tells us about the multitude who loaf and fishes."

A GALLUP poll reveals that 70 per cent of Americans are willing to donate their heart or other vital organs to medical science upon their deaths.

The transplants presumably would be made without regard to race, religion or economic status.

If more persons would consent to be only half as charitable in life there probably would be a spectacular improvement in human relations.

AT THIS TIME next year how far will most of us have progressed in bilingualism?

A news story says the pale and pallid look is fashionable in Rome for '68. It's the same in Big Spring since the flu bug arrived.

Times are still real rough down on the farm.

Some airlines are refusing to accept hippies as passengers. This may be because the ventilating systems of their planes, though fully adequate, don't have unlimited capacities.

West Germany has produced a millionaire spy. With that kind of dough who needs a movie contract?

MY CHUNKY uncle, Chester Ladd, Muskogee, Okla., retired restaurant owner, says he never has liked four-letter words.

"In fact," he adds, "since I've retired I've learned to hate one: 'Work'."

EX-TULSA Mayor George E. Norvell went through Ardmore, Okla., the other day and took time out to send me a card reading:

"Ardmore has never been the same since you left."

"And they appreciate it."

To GOP: Spare That Important Man

WASHINGTON — The Republican Party is today the most important organization in the world. It has a chance to find a post-Johnson President — with all that change implies.

THE MOST IMPORTANT individual in the world today is the one destined to become the GOP nominee. He'll be the only man alive with the political opportunity to unseat Lyndon Johnson and to overthrow the America-killing Democratic Party, an organization that from Woodrow Wilson to LBJ has inadvertently done us more harm than all our enemies. When you get down to possible Republican nominees, you are talking about Richard Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan — one of these must save us, if we are to be saved.

IF GOD STILL loves this nation, He will help Republicans to keep their heads between now and convention time in August. I am praying to keep mine, which is the only head I'm responsible for. We should not rule out any of these men until we know what stuff they're made of in 1968. Never mind past evidence. It was said of Lincoln that "he never stopped growing." Good men don't. We must give Nixon, Rockefeller and Reagan credit for such quality. We must watch their growth.

Keeping one's head over Nixon, I think, means to achieve an open mind toward him. He is the choice of so many party elders whose judgment I trust, and so many youthful Republicans, whose instincts deserve respect, that I want to hear Dick out.

KEEPING ONE'S head over Rockefeller is an exercise in pragmatism. He may be the only GOP leader with a better-than-even chance to beat LBJ. But pragmatism is, a godless, anti-ethical philosophy. Its creed:

"whatever works is right." The GOP went pragmatic in 1952 by nominating a military hero with no known political principles. Gen. Eisenhower beat Stevenson (we'll never know if Taft could have done so), and saved us from a sixth straight term of Democratic presidents. Again, today, Republicans need a winner. To nominate a loser is to give LBJ, or Hubert Humphrey or Robert Kennedy a lease on the White House at least until January, 1973.

AN OPEN MIND on Rockefeller can perceive something supernatural going for him. A voice of destiny, a finger of fate, summons him toward the presidency against his own obstinacy. By bonehead arrogance in '60, by a romantic remarriage in '64, by odd-ball ambivalence in '68, Rocky has muffed his chances.

If we keep our heads, we cannot dismiss this supernatural persistence. We had better give a hearing to the supernatural evidence, and to the politically sinful pragmatism of find-a-winner. "Give me my 'sh' again," cried Shakespeare's ardent young lover. The GOP, ardent for victory, may have to nominate a politically faithless man in order to keep faith with America.

IT WOULD come all too easy for conservatives and liberals alike to lose their heads over Ronald Reagan. He is admired and detested for his opinions' sake, depending upon political bias. If this is a year for the combination of supernaturalism and pragmatism, Reagan is just as eligible as Rockefeller.

Let Republicans do no pre-convention violence to Dick, Nelson and Ronald. One of them is going to be the most important man in the world for a while.

Foreign Policy Not Settled

WASHINGTON — For eleven hours Secretary of State Rusk answered questions about foreign aid and the Vietnam war at public hearings of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Monday and Tuesday. Parts of the proceedings were televised, but it is doubtful whether any substantial proportion of the listeners across the country really understood the dialogue on foreign policy. Indeed, it seemed at times that some of the senators themselves didn't have enough background on the intricacy of America's problems abroad to ask meaningful questions.

YET THIS conference of members of the Senate with the Secretary of State was supposed to be an example of how the executive and legislative branches of the government deal with a subject as complex as the Vietnam war.

An analysis of the interrogation shows clearly that several senators believe the United States should not participate in any wars overseas and that it doesn't have the responsibility to repel aggression except when the territory of the United States is directly attacked.

AS SECRETARY Rusk explained, international life has changed since World War I began, and all nations, large and small, are supposed to have become partners in the humanitarian effort to preserve the peace. Many Americans have forgotten that both world wars were the direct result of a misguided pacifism and isolationism. Even the outbreak of the Korean war in 1950 was based on an assumption that the United States would not come to the rescue if the Communists moved against South Korea.

TODAY, with the Communists active in Africa, Latin America, Europe and Asia, in efforts to subvert free governments and infiltrate many countries, there are still those Americans who believe that all this can be regarded as a "myth" or an "illusion."

Secretary Rusk was very skillful and dignified in replying to the questions. He tried to explain the difficulties which confront diplomats in trying to make peace with a Communist-controlled government like that in North Vietnam. Some of the senators appeared to be not so much interested in Mr. Rusk's answers, as they were in expounding the views which they thought would be pleasing to their constituents back home who would like to forget the Vietnam war altogether.

THE IMPLICATION was that the State and Defense Departments should take orders from Congress, and that military commanders should conduct their strategy in conformity with principles laid down by a Senate committee.

Mr. Rusk declared that the Communists would be able to read every word spoken at the public hearings. For that reason, he declined to go into details about how the United States would conduct a peace negotiation. He said that, even if the United States ceased bombing, the North Vietnamese would not consider themselves obligated to stop their infiltration into South Vietnam and their continued attacks in the South.

THE UNITED STATES government is committed, according to Secretary Rusk, to continue the war and force the North Vietnamese to go back across their borders. It is apparent, however, that, even if a truce agreement were drawn up and each side withdrew to its own jurisdiction, there would be no assurance of peace. The United States and its allies will have to organize a collective defense force to make sure that peace is maintained.

Changing The Habit

Sister Mary Corita Kent, a schoolteaching nun at the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary order in Los Angeles, illustrates another change in appearance since Pope Paul VI authorized "renewal" for Catholic orders. At left, in 1959 picture she wears a traditional habit worn by Immaculate Heart nuns since the order was founded in 1871. Center, she wears a modified habit adopted several years ago. At right she wears current dress of sweater and skirt.

Nuns' Habits, Clothing Changing With The Times

LOS ANGELES (AP) — They wear dresses. Some get permanent waves. They use their real names and sleep as late as they wish. So what's unusual? The difference is that these are nuns—members of the schoolteaching Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. And they're involved in one of the hottest controversies sizzling anywhere in Roman Catholicism: "renewal."

The sisters say the way they dress, the hours they keep and their teaching posts in 36 parishes are changes are to update their 97-year-old order and help it serve the modern world. But across town in the chancery office, 81-year-old James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, disapproves. He is known both as a parish builder and as a firm traditionalist.

In resolutions and letters to newspapers, many laymen, Franciscans, Jesuits and others heatedly take sides.

In the balance is whether most of 200 Immaculate Heart sisters will return next fall to dress, the hours they keep and their teaching posts in 36 parishes of the Los Angeles archdiocese.

As matters stand—at an impasse—they well may not, considering themselves fired by Cardinal McIntyre. Some parochial school doors could close and hundreds of Catholic youngsters be thrown into public schools.

What's the nub of the hassle? For one thing, dress. No longer in ankle-length, dark blue habits with starched white headgear and black veils, sisters stroll the campus of Immaculate Heart College in dresses so contemporary you can't tell nuns from students or visiting mothers.

The college, its 14 beautifully landscaped, tranquil acres sloping steeply into the Hollywood Hills, is a girls' liberal arts school with an enrollment of 1,100. Its convent is mother house or headquarters for the Immaculate Heart order, most of whose 560 sisters teach in Catholic schools of the Southwest.

Some sisters are visiting beauty parlors and getting permanent waves for the first time in their lives.

ABUNDANT LIFE AVAILABLE ALL FOLLOWERS OF CHRIST

Many times the abundant, Spirit-led life is thought of or presented as that which can be experienced by a great preacher, or a veteran missionary or someone else, but not the common ordinary person.

Christ had taken the time and love to lead 12 common men — many others, but 12 especially — into maturity in their relationship with Him and with God. They became great not because of what they were but because of what the Lord and the Spirit did to and for them.

In the same way the Christian today becomes what God wants him to be when he knows the power of the Holy Spirit in his life. Not on the mission field or behind the pulpit necessarily but right where he is — in the home, behind the desk at the office, downtown.

It is in the ordinary places that the Spirit changes the person, giving love and joy and peace.

Houston Risks Winning Skein

By The Associated Press
Houston and St. Bonaventure, the only unbeaten major college basketball teams in the country, risk their winning streaks as the NCAA national championship tournament resumes tonight. Both face stern tasks.

The top-ranked Houston Cougars, 29-0, go against ninth-ranked Louisville, 20-6, in the Midwest regional at Wichita, Kan. St. Bonaventure, 23-0, and third-ranked nationally, faces the No. 4 North Carolina Tar Heels, 25-3, in the East Regional at Raleigh, N.C.

ATTRACTIVE CARD
Individual duels give these games added lustre and make them stand out over the other six second-round contests—Columbia-Davidson, Ohio State-East Tennessee, Kentucky-Marquette, UCLA-New Mexico State, Texas Christian-Kansas State and New Mexico-Santa Clara.

Elvin Hayes, Houston's Big E, is pitted against Louisville's Westley Unseld in a matchup of All-Americans. Another All-American, Larry Miller of North Carolina, faces Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure, who made the All-American second team as a sophomore.

Duke, 10th ranked nationally and the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten not in the NCAA tourney, scored an impressive 97-81 victory over Oklahoma City Thursday night in the opening of the National Invitation Tournament. In the other first-round NIT game at New York's Madison Square Garden, St. Peter's beat Marshall 102-93 in two overtimes.

Elmerio Webster scored 51 points, including seven in the second overtime, to pace St. Peter's. Mike Lewis led Duke with 22 points.

ALCINDOR WATCHED

Prime interest in the NCAA West regional at Albuquerque, N.M., is focused on Lew Alcindor, UCLA's two-time All-American. He is expected to lead the Bruins in a bid to retain their national title.

Kentucky's showing against Marquette is the headline in the Midwest regional at Lexington, Ky. Adolph Rupp, Kentucky's coach, who holds the all-time career record of 781 victories, is after an unprecedented fifth national title.

This is the complete schedule for tonight:

At Raleigh, N.C. — Columbia, 22-4, vs. Davidson, 23-4, and St. Bonaventure, 23-0, vs. North Carolina, 25-3.

At Lexington, Ky. — Ohio State, 18-7, vs. East Tennessee, 19-8, and Kentucky, 21-4, vs. Marquette, 22-5.

At Wichita, Kan. — Houston, 29-0, vs. Louisville, 20-6, and Texas Christian, 14-10, vs. Kansas State, 19-7.

At Albuquerque, N.M. — UCLA, 25-1, vs. New Mexico State, 22-5, and Santa Clara, 21-3, vs. New Mexico, 23-3.

At New York, N.Y. first round — Kansas, 19-7, vs. Temple 19-8, and Villanova, 18-8, vs. Wyoming, 18-8.

Big Spring ranks third in the standings, behind pace-setting Midland Lee and Odessa Permian — but only five strokes removed from the top.

Lee has an aggregate score of 601, Permian a 603 while Big Spring has put together a 606.

Trailing Big Spring by a mere stroke is San Angelo. Abilene Cooper is fifth, at 608; followed by Midland High, 611; Odessa High, 643; and Abilene High, 674.

Big Spring gained ground in the last match held three weeks ago by registering a 307. Lee had a 309 but still took over first place when the erstwhile pace-setter, Midland High, slumped to a 321.

Under rules adopted by the golf coaches, the low four men on a five-man team count toward the total team score.

Odessa and San Angelo will host the teams later in the spring.

Representing Big Spring will be Ronnie Broadrick, Ken Chad, Mike Weaver, Mike Hall and Don Kasech.

The previous competition was held in Big Spring and Abilene.

Yearlings Shade Snyder Travis

SNYDER — Runnels' eighth graders ran their won-loss record in girls' volleyball to 3-3 by turning back Travis, 15-8, 17-15, 15-3 here Thursday.

Zonell Miers, who counted ten points in a row in the first game, Sylvia Rodriguez and Christina Mata were outstanding for the Yearlings in the contest.

In B-team competition, Snyder won, 15-9, 15-6. Vickie Vaughn was impressive for Runnels in that one.

Netters Entered In Midland Meet

Big Spring will be one of about 30 schools entering teams in the annual Midland High School Tennis tournament which starts today and continues through Saturday.

Abilene Cooper, El Paso Irvin and San Angelo are listed as favorites in the event.

Permian Defeats Snyder Tigers

SNYDER — Odessa Permian handed Snyder a 6-4 baseball loss here Thursday, benefitting from nine hits.

Of the ten runs in the game, eight were scored in the opening inning. Winning hurler was Bobby Wright.

H. V. Ratliff Is Honored

FORT WORTH (AP) — Harold V. Ratliff, who has written sports in Texas for 46 years, was recognized as "the No. 1 spokesman for sports in Texas and the Southwest Conference for more than a quarter of a century" at an appreciation luncheon Thursday.

The retiring sports editor of The Associated Press in Texas was honored by the Greater Fort Worth Sports Committee of the Chamber of Commerce as sports leaders from over the Southwest paid him tribute. He was presented with a plaque.

"It was appropriate," said Ratliff, "that Fort Worth should do this. I never got out of Hillsboro until I was 15 years old and Fort Worth was the first place I visited."

Ratliff has either played in or written about Texas schoolboy football for 48 years and the result is a book, "Autumn's Mightiest Legions."

It led Dutch Meyer, former coach and athletic director of Texas Christian University, to remark that "the kids who have participated in sports from the first grade on up are certainly indebted to Harold V. Ratliff, and he and others have dedicated their lives to building up youth."

Ratliff spent his entire newspaper career within a radius of 60 miles, starting on the Hillsboro Mirror, going to the Cleburne Times-Review and then to The Associated Press in 1936. He became sports editor in 1941.

More than 200 persons attended the luncheon over which Judge Howard Green of Fort Worth, a long-time friend of the writer, presided. Flem Hall, retired sports editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Bill Rives, editor of the Denton Record-Chronicle, made talks on their association with Ratliff. Judge Green formerly was president of baseball leagues in Texas. Rives was a co-worker in The Associated Press.

Links Teams Chase Rebs

Wilbur Cunningham's Big Spring Steers return to District 2-AAAA golf play at Midland's Hogan Park today.

This is the third of five rounds of competition which will determine the individual and team championships in the conference.

Big Spring ranks third in the standings, behind pace-setting Midland Lee and Odessa Permian — but only five strokes removed from the top.

Lee has an aggregate score of 601, Permian a 603 while Big Spring has put together a 606.

Trailing Big Spring by a mere stroke is San Angelo. Abilene Cooper is fifth, at 608; followed by Midland High, 611; Odessa High, 643; and Abilene High, 674.

Big Spring gained ground in the last match held three weeks ago by registering a 307. Lee had a 309 but still took over first place when the erstwhile pace-setter, Midland High, slumped to a 321.

Under rules adopted by the golf coaches, the low four men on a five-man team count toward the total team score.

Odessa and San Angelo will host the teams later in the spring.

Representing Big Spring will be Ronnie Broadrick, Ken Chad, Mike Weaver, Mike Hall and Don Kasech.

The previous competition was held in Big Spring and Abilene.

Troubled Nicklaus Tied With Barber

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — haven't found out how to direct it yet."

Challengers in the Citrus Open Golf Tournament may scoff, but Jack Nicklaus—the king of the fairway belters—is having trouble with his driver.

"I'm not hooking or slicing. I'm just striking the ball off the wrong way," said Nicklaus. "I got a new driver before last week's Doral Open, and I and still come in with a 67."

The Ohio strongman salvaged a five-under-par round with some lucky bounces and great iron play, and hit 17 greens in regulation strokes.

Barber tied Nicklaus' score and 41 other players broke par as the flashy field started scrambling for the $23,000 first prize payoff.

The fast finish by Nicklaus and Barber just before dusk broke open one of the biggest logjams of the year. Five players were deadlocked for the lead at 68 before they were bumped out.

Southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand and comeback-bidding Bruce Devlin of Australia used sharp putting to cut four strokes off par along with little Deane Beman, surging Tom Weiskopf and surprising Don Massengale.

Four more players—Bert Yancey, John Lotz, Bob Murphy and Lee Trevino—were tied at 69, with Ken Venturi, Gay Brewer and Gardner Dickinson among the 14 players shooting 70s.

The boys who will be going to Eldorado include:

Ken Barfield, mile relay, sprint relay and 100.

Herman Evans, mile relay, sprint relay and 220.

Lynn Cauley, 880.

Mike Holten, 880, mile relay.

Gary Huff, mile relay, 440 relay, 100 and broad jump.

Joe Ortega, pole vault.

Roman Ramirez, mile run.

Lupe Rodriguez, mile run.

Benny Guiley, mile run.

Johnny Rutherford, 120-yard high hurdles, 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Henry Salazar, 880.

Lewis Switzer, 120-yard high hurdles, 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Luke Stoneman, pole vault, broad jump.

Gary Osburn, pole vault.

plays first round games tonight. West Orange playing Raymondville, and Carthage tangling with Stephenville.

Finals of all four classes are scheduled Saturday.

Vina Whitmire scored 37 points in leading Slidell's closing bid against High Island. It was her field goal that pulled Slidell within two points with only seconds left. But she fouled trying to get the ball and High Island was in possession as time ran out. High Island ran its season record to 33-2.

Klondike rallied in the final quarter to tumble Sundown and run its record to 34-4. At the end of three periods Sundown led Klondike 34-23 but the latter's Joyce Wilsner scored 10 of her 24 points in the final quarter to give Klondike the victory.

Dogies Lose By 17-15 Tab

Midland's JV's enjoyed an 11-run third inning on their way to a 17-15 win over the Big Spring B team in a baseball exhibition here Thursday.

At one time, the Shortorns tied by a score of 8-3 and tied the score at 14-14 after the Bulldogs' big inning.

The game opened the season for the Shortorns. They return to play next Thursday against San Angelo here.

Rockey Wooley, who has an arm injury that hampered his throwing yesterday, found his batting eye. He clubbed a first inning home run with two mates aboard and followed with a solo blast in the third. Charley Lewis had a triple and a double for the Big Springers while Johnny Hedges came up with three singles.

Midland earned only seven of its 17 runs. In all, the Dogies were guilty of 14 bobbles.

CARD OF THANKS

If it were possible, we would like to personally thank each friend and relative who was so kind to us during this period of sorrow in the loss of our loved one. Words are so empty, and nothing we could say would be adequate in letting you know how much it meant to us when you came to see us, when you sent the beautiful floral tributes, and when you prepared such delicious food and saw that we ate. Skill Tests Idea Raising Pilots Tempers Sky-High

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are 400,000 private pilots in this country and none of them has had to prove his flying skill since the day he got a license, no matter how long ago that was.

Now the government is proposing to require nonprofessional pilots to take periodic refresher courses and proficiency tests, and the proposal is raising their tempers sky-high.

'PLEASURE FLYING'

The 23,000 airline pilots and those of the 130,000 commercial pilots who fly for hire already must pass regular proficiency tests. But there is no such rule for student and private pilots.

And they, with far less opportunity to keep skills sharp, outnumber the professionals 3 to 1. In 1966, the last year for which there are statistics, there were 5,712 aircraft accidents, involving 1,151 fatalities. According to the National Transportation Safety Board, "pleasure flying" accounted for 2,469 of the accidents and 712 of the fatalities.

"There is no conclusive proof as to the percentage of general aviation accidents that might have been prevented by periodic instruction, refresher training or proficiency checking," said the Federal Aviation Administration in proposing the new rule.

SOUR COMMENTS

"However, a review of the accident records shows that many accidents can be ascribed to deterioration of basic airmanship and skills, and to pilots' failure to keep abreast of new developments and operational procedures."

The FAA proposes to require a specific number of hours of instruction and proficiency testing within a fixed period. It invited comments—and got 600 almost immediately.

An advance look at the communications shows that when Gen. William F. McKee, the FAA administrator, reviews the comments after the April 1 deadline, he will find most private pilots vehemently opposed to any new restrictions. "Do doctors, lawyers, electricians or any of the professional people you know who have the lives of people in their hands have to take examinations?" asked Jim Greenough, Lake Crystal, Minn.

"If I were faced with an annual flight instruction program and flight checks as are the air transport pilots, I'd probably just phase out of the aviation picture," said Albert J. LaMere, a state senator from Munster, Ind. "The game just wouldn't be worth the candle."

"It certainly would make me feel better to know that I was qualified in the eye of an instructor on a continuing basis, rather than just once in a lifetime," said Don C. Oden of Tulsa, Okla. "I received a private license in 1945, did not fly after that until 1965 and then—to share the air with other pilots—I needed only to get a new physical examination, take a couple of hours of refresher training in a little trainer, and I was qualified to go about my merry way into the busiest airports in the United States. In my opinion this is absolutely ridiculous."

Pilot certificates had to be renewed yearly until the manpower crunch of World War II washed out the rule.

"We proposed to renew all pilot certificates in 1950, but that was dropped for reasons of public objections," says George D. Stathers, chief of the FAA's Airman Training and Standards Section.

"We don't impose rules we think are good, only the ones we can prove are necessary," he said. The current proposal is spurred by a clamor over traffic congestion and collisions "and some by people wanting to thin out the number of pilots."

"We do feel there is a distinct advantage of recurrent training and testing," Stathers said. "The great problem is to provide a convenient and expedient way of doing it."

Appreciation Banquet Monday
An usher appreciation banquet is being held for the 50 ushers who serve at the First Baptist Church. The event is set for 7 p.m. Monday at Coker's Restaurant, said Merrill Creighton, chairman of the ushers.

Religious Groups Attack Capital Punishment Law
WASHINGTON (AP) — Major Protestant and Jewish groups, driving for a ban on the death penalty, have urged the Supreme Court to allow opponents of capital punishment to serve as jurors in death cases.

The rule of law excluding from a jury persons with conscientious scruples against capital punishment is deeply prejudicial to the accused, they said in a brief.

DEATH PENALTY
Later this year the court will review the long-time practice by which prospective jurors who say they have scruples against the death penalty can be disqualified.

This nationwide procedure, being tested in a murder case from Chicago and a rape case from North Carolina, is said by opponents of capital punishment to assure "hanging juries" for prosecutors.

The constitutional argument before the court is whether a defendant is being tried by a cross-section of the community when opponents of the death penalty are disqualified.

NOT NECESSARY
The religious organizations, all opposed to capital punishment, are:

American Friends Service Committee; Council for Christian Social Action of the United Church of Christ; General Board of Christian Social Concerns of the Methodist Church; the United Presbyterian Church in the United States; Union of American Hebrew Congregations; Central Conference of American Rabbis; and the Commission on Social Action of Reform Judaism.

Bridge Test

dummy's ace. He disposed of one club on the queen of hearts as East ruffed in with the queen of spades.

The king of clubs was returned to dislodge declarer's ace, and inasmuch as West retained the ten of hearts as a stopper in that suit—South was obliged to concede the setting trick at the end to East's queen of clubs.

Declarer could have assured his contract against anything short of a very bad break in hearts by taking the spade finesse. The advantage of this play becomes obvious when all hands are exposed to view. There is a sound reason for not trying to drop the queen, however, despite the fact that declarer has nine trumps and the odds slightly favor that play.

Suppose, for example, that the spade finesse should lose to a doubleton queen in West's hand. Now both opponents are out of spades, and North's eight becomes a late entry to dummy. If West shifts to a club, South wins the trick with the ace, cashes the three top hearts—discarding a club from his hand—and then ruffs a heart to establish North's long card in that suit. Dummy is re-entered with the eight of spades and South's remaining club goes on the seven of hearts.

Less reliance on strict percentage tables and a more direct examination of the problem which confronted him might have proved highly refreshing to South, the declarer at four spades.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the queen and ace, South ruffing the third round with the deuce of spades.

A spade was led to the king and the suit was returned. East played the ten, and South—after a brief moment of indecision—put up the ace. When West showed out, declarer tried to run the heart suit by cashing the king and then crossing over to

'Ironsides' Proves He's Not So Tough
By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There was some smart thinking in the creation of the character Robert Ironsides, a crusty, short-tempered cop with a heart of pure golden putty. And it seems now to have been a stroke of almost genius that put him into a wheelchair.

The NBC series "Ironsides" not only has this character around to solve a crime a week, but uses it to give the program flexibility.

Thursday night, for instance, the story was designed to melt the heart of every sentimental viewer—with Ironsides taking on the protection, care and feeding of a small and very cute foundling.

Sponsor Signed
The story was built around the baby—its mother trying to escape from an ex-husband, a mental case, and the last minute capture of the madman. But that was only incidental to the scenes of business-like policemen and women fussing over the child. It was "Little Miss Marker" brought up to date, but the idea has lost none of its warmth.

The series, with Raymond Burr as Ironsides particularly contributing to the variety and depth of the episodes, has stood up very well all season. It seems to deserve its popularity and almost automatic renewal for a second season.

NBC has found an insurance sponsor so next season it plans to hop aboard the original drama bandwagon that this season has proved so successful and prestigious for CBS.

NBC has announced plans for five such dramatic specials. Plays already are being filmed up for one 90-minute show to be shot in England with Sir Laurence Olivier as host and narrator, and starring Michael Caine, Sean Connery and Paul Scofield. The series will be called "On Stage," and the first will be broadcast in September or October.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: All kinds of changes are now taking place that require you to go along with them in harmony and a pleasant attitude and if you do such, you can find that your relations with others works out very much to your advantage. Fine for social meetings and for romantic pleasures tonight. Be happy.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Making new arrangements with an ally is important, but you must be tactful to get the best results in the days ahead. Then entertain others who can be helpful to you in the future. Be charming.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The work ahead of you can be done very efficiently, since you are a Child of Venus and the adoration of beauty and art are foremost in your nature. Listen to what co-workers have to say so you get ahead faster. Follow ideas.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can go out for the recreation you like in a.m. which has been impossible to you before this. Adopt a more friendly attitude toward others for best results. Don't neglect important Saturday chores.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Doing whatever truly pleases them who dwell with you is wise on this day and night. If you have certain changes in mind, first consult regular astrologers. Get O.K. and then carry through.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Complete then get his backing, especially where it is most important to you. Be more cooperative with a co-worker. You can increase output considerably that way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you are charming with others, you find that you get wonderful ideas that can be utilized in the future, also find some worthwhile ally. Call out-of-town for some important project you have in mind. Get quick results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal day to handle all of your responsibilities very wisely and conscientiously and have more good will from others. Then forget duties and be romantically inclined. Show that you are a very delightful person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those delightful young people that others will want to sail to the nth degree and thereby your progeny could accomplish very little in life. So teach early that only those things are enjoyed actively that are honestly earned. Fine chart for professions that have to do with art in all its phases, precision.

TWO ACCIDENTS
Traffic records at the police department show two minor accidents for Thursday. At First and Main, Audley Winn, 1311 W. 2nd, and Louise Matthews, Route Two, were in collision. Charles Ambrose Underdown, 4103 Connally, and J. R. Parchman Jr., 1104 Pickens, were in an accident at Fourth and Birdwell Lane.
