

Bus Incident Precedes Flareup

Tel Aviv school bus is shown after it struck a mine Monday in the southern Negev Desert, killing two men and wounding 28 schoolchildren. The incident brought Israeli tension over Arab guerrilla attacks to a high point. Today Israel invaded Jordan.

CROWDS DUE

Jaycee Snake Hunt Begins Here Friday

The sixth annual Jaycee Rattlesnake Round-Up opens Friday at 8 a.m., at the Big Spring Fairgrounds, with a record crowd of hunters and on-lookers expected for what has been billed the world's "most unusual sporting event."

Must Sign Register

Snakes will be purchased from registered hunters only, Jaycees remind, and hunter registration will be open from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. all three days of the round-up.

A special attraction this year will be guided tours for hunters and photographers, set up for Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. The bus tours will leave the Big Spring Fairgrounds promptly each day. Fee is $2 per person, and 40 persons may be taken at one trip.

Chairman of this year's round-up is Walter Wheat. Assisting in the festivities as Miss Diamond-back will be Sharon Hicks, new Miss Big Spring, who will reign over the Rattlesnake Round-Up dance Saturday at 9 p.m. at the Cosden Country Club. Admission to the dance is $3 per couple or one live rattlesnake per person. Providing dancing music will be the Chanteurs.

Veteran Snake Handler

Bill Ransberger, Sweetwater, veteran snake handler who is to retire after his last round-up this spring, will again be present to give demonstrations, milk snakes and lecture in the pit set up at the fair grounds.

A special feature of the round-up will be a display by the Big Spring Antique Automobile Club, with owners of cars dressed in clothing of the period.

Last year's round-up was well received, with over 5,000 visitors in attendance during the three-day run.

Sherman Smith, expert snake handler, took top honors in the round-up last year, with 402 pounds of rattlers turned in.

Snack Of Snakes

Jaycee-Ettes will be in charge of the snake snack bar, where tasty tidbits of rattlers can be obtained.

All proceeds from the round-up go toward Jaycee-sponsored projects during the year, such as the Miss Big Spring pageant.

Funds For State Park

Big Spring State Park has been awarded a federal grant of $11,450 to match legislative appropriations of $22,900 to be spent on improvements.

The funds will be expended in providing shaded picnic units, roads, parking facilities and necessary utilities. Some of the funds are to be earmarked for design, layout and site preparation.

The federal funds are from Federal Land and Water Conservation Act money. The project is administered by the bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the U.S. Department of Interior. The money comes from the sale of surplus government property, federal motor boat fuels tax, sale of the $7 Golden Eagle passports, and from other recreation fees.

Big Spring State Park comprises 322 acres atop scenic Mountain.

Israeli Troops Pulling Back After Invasion

Jordan Terrorist Bases Are Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli invasion force drove deep into Jordan along a 200-mile front today to avenge a series of guerrilla raids, then began a planned withdrawal once the "police action" to wipe out terrorist bases was accomplished, an army spokesman said.

The daylong fighting that began at dawn with helicopter drops of assault teams and followed with dozens of jet bomber strafing runs cost Israel 15 dead and 70 wounded, according to the spokesman.

The Israelis reported killing at least 150 El Fatah terrorists and said they had inflicted heavy casualties on the Jordanian army. They claimed destroying 15 tanks and capturing two.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, who watched much of the fighting from a command post overlooking the Jordan Valley, had said earlier that the troops would be pulled out "on schedule."

The withdrawal came after Britain and the United States called on Israel to pull back its forces, but informants here said it had nothing to do with these appeals and called the withdrawal a "planned phase of the operation."

At the height of the fighting,

Invades

Israel invaded Jordan today for the first time since the 1967 war to attack Arab guerrilla bases. Arrows indicate strike groups all along the 200-mile cease-fire line. Action seemed to center around the former refugee camp at Karameh, three miles east of the Jordan River.

Israeli and Egyptian positions exchanged fire at Great Bitter Lake on the Suez Canal, but the clash was small and no casualties were reported in Tel Aviv.

FIRST MOVE

Jordan's chief of military intelligence estimated up to 15,000 Israeli troops crossed the Jordan, including three armored brigades and their tanks. It was the first major Israeli move into Arab territory since the Middle East war in June.

A Tel Aviv spokesman said one Israeli jet had been downed by ground fire, but that the pilot had bailed out and was safe behind his own lines.

He denied a Jordanian claim that its forces had killed 200 of the invaders, destroyed 42 tanks and armored cars and shot down three of Israel's French-made Mystere jets.

"Our casualties are surprisingly low for this kind of engagement," he said.

UNOPPOSED

AP correspondent Eric Galt reported from a hill near Jericho said Israeli planes screamed overhead unopposed to pound Arab positions on the east bank.

King Hussein called for an immediate Arab summit meeting but issued a statement that expressed dissatisfaction with other Arab governments.

Israel, he said, "is aware that we are satisfied to talk of Arab unity without seriously working to build it up in union and strength." A spokesman said Hussein had been in telephone contact with Egypt, Syria and Iraq.

Most of the action appeared centered around the former refugee camp at Karameh, three miles east of the river.

Avalanche Claims 19

WARSAW (AP) — at least 19 persons, most of them Soviet tourists, were killed by a huge avalanche in the southwestern Polish Sudeten mountains Wednesday, Waldemar Ney, the official in charge of rescue operations, reported today.

The avalanche occurred on a warm, sunny day in the Bialy Jar (White Ravine), 4,600 feet above sea level in the Sniezka (Schneeekoppe) range above Karpacz.

Ney said 11 bodies have been recovered and a 500-strong rescue force is searching for eight missing persons "presumably dead." Five rescued people are in a hospital.

Rocky Won't Enter Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today that he is not a candidate and will not campaign directly or indirectly for the presidency of the United States.

The 59-year-old three-term governor said he had concluded that most of the GOP's leaders want the candidacy of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

SMALL FOLLOWING

Rockefeller, who conceded the nomination to Nixon in 1960 and lost it to Sen. Barry Goldwater in 1964, said he had decided he "could not truthfully claim" a Republican following big enough to win.

"By the very nature of our political system we must operate through and not outside one of the major political parties," Rockefeller said.

An aide pictured him as "agonizing over the past few days" over his decision.

Nearly three years ago, Rockefeller said, "I will not now or at any time in the future ever be a candidate for president again. That's a flat statement." He made it in Minneapolis, July 25, 1965, at a governors conference.

Since then, he has repeatedly disavowed interest in again trying for the GOP nomination.

Nixon, however, believed all along that Rockefeller in fact would be a candidate. Rockefeller supported Gov. George Romney of Michigan until Romney withdrew from the New Hampshire primary a few days before the election, March 12.

WAITING

When Romney pulled out of that race, Patrick Buchanan, one of Nixon's chief lieutenants, said, "We're waiting now for the other shoe to drop." In other words, Nixon expected to see the governor challenge him.

Cong Still Shelling Saigon's Big Airport

SAIGON (AP) — Despite intelligence reports that many of the Viet Cong menacing Saigon have pulled back toward the Cambodian border, allied forces reported killing 167 Viet Cong close to the capital Wednesday, and 15 enemy shells landed on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

CONG SLAIN
The Viet Cong were slain in the 50,000-man Operation Quyet Thang, the biggest allied offensive of the war. In a one-sided fight 15 miles northwest of Saigon, 142 guerrillas were reported killed against only one American and seven South Vietnamese dead. Four miles southwest of the city South Vietnamese rangers reported killing 25 Viet Cong at the cost of four wounded troops.

These actions increased enemy casualties in Operation Quyet Thang to more than 1,000 killed since the sweep began March 11.

Ninety-six other enemy troops were reported killed in five battles ranging north to the demilitarized zone Wednesday. One GI died in these clashes and 15 were wounded, while South Vietnamese losses were seven dead and 20 wounded.

Little damage was done to Tan Son Nhut, one of the world's busiest airports, in the 15-round barrage from enemy recoilless rifles. The 75mm weapons were fired from within 1,000 yards of the field, and AC47 Dragon Ships were dispatched to hunt them. Spokesmen said results of the Dragon-Ship counterattack were: not

The recent slowdown in the fighting after the furious combat of the Communist lunar new year offensive in February was reflected in the weekly casualty report announced today. American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties last week were all considerably less than they had been the week before.

CASUALTIES
Casualties announced for last week were: American — 336 killed, 1,916 wounded; South Vietnamese — 267 killed, 962 wounded, 181 missing; Viet Cong and North Vietnamese — 3,070 killed.

The figures the week before were: American — 509 killed, 2,706 wounded; South Vietnamese — 411 killed, 1,199 wounded, 98 missing; Enemy — 3,268 killed.

DATE MOVED TO APRIL 20 Spelling Bee Changed

Sixth Annual Howard County Spelling Bee will be on the morning of April 20 and not, as has been earlier announced, April 13.

Change in dates was made Wednesday when it was called to The Herald's attention that the April 13 date would be in conflict with Easter weekend plans of many persons who otherwise would like to attend or participate in the Spelling Bee.

Mrs. Odan Brewster, who has served as official pronouncer for the annual spelling bees for several years, will be available in that capacity April 20, but she will be out of town on April 13. Many of the youngsters who are competing for their school championships and who could be the competition in the county bee have out-of-town plans for the long Easter holiday.

For these reasons it was thought advisable to change the date to one week later.

The Lubbock District Spelling Bee is May 4 which will give the county champion nearly two weeks to prepare.

The spelling bee will be in Big Spring High School, at 10 a.m. Mrs. Brewster will be the official pronouncer and three judges will be named to check each spelling and decide any conflicts which may arise.

Winner of the county bee gets a specially engraved plaque and an expense paid trip to Lubbock, to compete in the district bee against the champions of 21 other West Texas towns. Should he win the district bee, he gets a free trip to Washington, D.C. in June.

Webb's T-38 Trainers To Get Gear Changes

A program of modification of the T-38 aircraft (advanced supersonic trainer) will be instituted at Webb Air Force Base, probably in August.

An announcement from Webb officials said the project will be to change the landing gear on the T-38 to bring it up to the stronger standards as used on the F-5, a combat version of the training plane.

The modification is to encompass all T-38s in the Air Force inventory, wherever they may be. This includes those at the eight pilot training bases in the Air Training Command, as well as those used by other Air Force Commands.

The change-over will be done by Norair, a division of North American Aviation which manufactures the aircraft. It is expected that a crew of about 15 persons will be brought in to do the work. This will be done in the alert hangar formerly used by the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron (later the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron), on the northwest corner of the Base Two repair docks and two crews will be set up. The modification comes under the supervision of the Air Force Logistics Command.

The scheduled modification program is for some 15 planes a month, with at least five of the T-38s being here at one time to undergo the changes. The entire project may cover some four years.

Object of the modification, it was said, is to strengthen and extend the useful life of the airplane and preclude more expensive changes later. All T-38s, in this respect, will be brought up to the standard of the combat model F-5.

Dissatisfied With Service, Bandit Robs The Bank Again

THORNTON, Tex. (AP) — A tough-talking gunman who said he was dissatisfied with the way he was treated the last time he robbed the bank, held up the First State Bank of Thornton today and escaped with an estimated $2,500.

Police later arrested a man in Franklin County after a high-speed chase.

R. R. Black, bank president, said the gunman apparently was the one who took $5,000 Feb. 27.

Black quoted the gunman as saying, "You didn't give me all you had before. I want the hundred dollar bills and all this time."

He said the bandit marched him around the vault until all the money was collected.

"I told him we had given him all we had," Black said. "We don't keep one-hundred-dollar bills lying around. I know one thing—he talked meaner this time."

There were no customers in the bank—just Black and bank employee Mrs. John Nance. Both were locked in the bank vault and the gunman told them, "Now, don't you get out of there as quick as you did last time."

Shouts by Black and Mrs. Nance finally attracted attention.

The sheriff's office at Groesbeck, Limestone County seat, said a man was captured "after he was chased all over Franklin County." He was returned to Groesbeck for questioning.

Mrs. Nance said the bandit wore a blue sports coat, sports shirt and cotton trousers. She said he appeared to be in his 30s.

Britain Cuts Interest Rate Back To 7½ Per Cent

LONDON (AP)—The British government cut the bank rate today from 8 per cent to 7½ per cent in the wake of Britain's toughest peacetime budget since the 1930s.

The move by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's labor government is designed to make money more available for export production and investment in new plants and machinery.

The bank rate governs interest rates throughout the sterling bloc. It has been 8 per cent since last Nov. 19, when it was hoisted from 7½ per cent in an increase associated with devaluation of the pound.

Announcing the reduction in the rate, the Bank of England cited the calming of the international monetary situation resulting from the Washington agreement to allow both free and official markets for gold and the strengthening of the pound as a result of the British budget made public Tuesday.

"In these circumstances," the bank said, "the reduction in the rate to 7½ per cent is appropriate both on international and domestic considerations."

The cut in the rate gave the pound an immediate boost. Sellers on the London foreign exchange market turned buyers, helping sterling up to $2.4025. It had earlier dipped to $2.4025 from last night's closing at $2.4065.

The rate change also affected

the London stock market, with leading equities showing sharp gains.

Icy Winds Push Deep Into Texas

By The Associated Press

Icy north winds propelled freezing weather deep into Texas today in the wake of a surprise spring storm which coated parts of the plains country with up to 10 inches of snow and dumped torrential rains in other sections.

GLAZE
A treacherous glaze covered highways nearly everywhere in the snow belt early today and numerous farm roads were reported impassable. State police said all major routes remained open, however.

Swollen streams slowly subsided, meanwhile, in areas where the heavy downpours sent water lapping into some houses in low areas.

Snow piled up deepest in an area east of Plainview around Quitaque, where the measurement was 10 inches.

One of the wettest sections was around Lamesa, where a farm gauge caught 4.07 inches of rain just ahead of a three-inch snow.

Farmers and ranchers generally hailed the moisture as a boon to crops and ranges. They said it also would save untold amounts of cash which would have gone to pay for pumping irrigation water.

Snow amounts at otherpoints included Lubbock 8 inches, Denver City, Lockney and Silverton 7, Plainview 6, Tahoka 5 and Childress and Matador 4. Brisk winds heaped drifts up to three feet in places, and schools suspended classes throughout Northwest Texas.

STRAYED

Most other parts of the Panhandle-Plains section received at least light rain mixed with occasional snow, and a little snow strayed as far south as Midland. Big Spring and Abilene. Light snow or intermittent flurries persisted as late as midnight around Lamesa and Childress.

River Weakens Big Wooden Dam

TAUNTON, Mass. (AP) — Torrential rain in southern England earlier this week. Several other small rivers flooded lowlands causing damage estimated at some $50 million. In the Boston area, the Charles River was overflowing into lowland interior sections, causing damage to homes along the banks.

Persons evacuated from a four-mile area near the Mill River late Wednesday night. They were not allowed to return to their homes.

POSES THREAT
Earlier witnesses reported before daylight that the river had broken through the old dam and posed a threat to the downtown section.

Frank A. Morris of the Army Engineers said the situation in Taunton "is still touch and go."

The Taunton peril was the latest in the wake of a two-day

John Lott, Lubbock, who has traveled extensively over the world in the interest of Boy Scouting, will be the speaker at a special meeting for all Scout, Cub and Explorer units here Sunday evening.

He will speak at the 6 p.m. worship of the First Methodist Church when charters for Troop 2 and Pack 2, sponsored by the church, will be presented. Other non-church connected units are invited to have their charters presented, too.

Lott, a descendant of the Slaughter ranch founders, holds the Silver Beaver (council) and Silver Antelope (regional) and is due to receive this spring the Silver Buffalo (highest award in national Scouting). Lott went back to SMU to study Spanish in order to work in South America in extending Scouting.

All persons interested in Scouting are invited to share in the First Methodist meeting.

'Kitty' Genevose Killer Escapes, Faces Rape Rap

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Escaped killer Winston Moseley held a husband and wife captive for more than an hour today, raped the woman and then fled in their automobile, police said.

He carried a revolver as he left, police said, but it was not determined whether he had ammunition.

Moseley, serving a life sentence for killing a New York City barmaid, escaped from a prison guard Monday at Meyer Memorial Hospital.

Inspector Ralph V. Degenhart, chief of detectives, said that when Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Eulaga entered a house they own on the city's eastside at 8-15 a.m. today, they found Moseley in a vestibule and holding a revolver he had found in the dwelling. The Kulagas live in nearby Grand Island.

Moseley, 33, bound Mrs. Kulaga with ropes and took Mrs. Kulaga, 35, to another room. There, Degenhart said she reported, Moseley raped her.

Degenhart said the Kulagas told them Moseley claimed to have broken into the house Wednesday. It was furnished but unoccupied.

Moseley had been serving a life term at Attica State Prison, near here, for the stabbing death in 1964 of Katherine "Kitty" Genevose, 28, in New York City. After the crime, it was learned that 38 of her neighbors either saw the stabbing or heard her screams, and not one summoned police or tried to aid her.

Moseley was brought to the Buffalo Hospital a week ago for minor surgery. He escaped while being prepared for return to Attica.

Red Cross Gifts Mount

The Red Cross appeal for renewed support of servicemen (SOS) has continued to bring in money locally, and the chapter today announced total gifts of $1,911 in the special campaign.

The chapter has a quota of $4,372 in the Red Cross drive for $12 million to meet new demands created by the Vietnam war. The organization is now serving more military families and handling more emergencies than at any time since the Korean war.

The local appeal will not be pressed after March, it was said, and persons who wish to help in this program for young men in Southeast Asia and elsewhere are invited to respond promptly.

Checks should be made to the American Red Cross and mailed to the local chapter, Box 626, Big Spring.

Weather Forecast Thursday night rain is expected in the eastern third of the nation with showers in the Alabama-Georgia area and snow from the lower Great Lakes into Illinois and Missouri. It will be cooler in the rainy areas.

Vietnam War Funds Bid To Spark Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources say the administration is expected soon to ask $3.3 billion more for the Vietnam war, a request likely to spark another round of war policy debate on Capitol Hill.

The sources said Wednesday that about half the still tentative request would be earmarked for sending about 35,000 more U.S. troops to the war zone—a reported manpower move already under sharp congressional attack.

MORE MEN
Defense Department officials told Congress in January they did not estimate any need for a supplement to defense funds voted last year, barring unforeseen emergencies. But their statements came just days before the Viet Cong launched its massive Tet offensive.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee, said meanwhile that reported advance notice from the White House to key Congress members on troop increases "is exactly the sort of thing I've been complaining about."

Reports on Capitol Hill say some Congress members already have been told President Johnson has decided to send 35,000 more men to Vietnam.

SLAMS SECRETARY
Fulbright has been demanding that Congress be consulted before such decisions are made. "Any increase would be a serious matter," he said in an interview. "Do they mean 35,000 now and 35,000 more in a few months, or what do they mean? Those are the sort of questions that should be asked before any decision is made."

He added that White House conferences with congressional leaders do not contribute his idea of full consultation, nor do contacts between individual senators and the administration.

"They get four or five people together and tell them, 'This is what we've decided,'" Fulbright said. "The Arkansas Democrat said he had not heard from the White House on the troop-increase reports."

The experience of 1948 should have been a lesson. In that election there were really four parties and four pretty important presidential candidates — Mr. Truman, Democrat; Thomas E. Dewey, Republican; Sen. Strom Thurmond, States Rights Party, and Henry Wallace, the "peace" ticket.

A change of less than 6 percent of the popular vote from President Truman in only two states would have shifted the election into the House of Representatives.

Henry Wallace did not carry a single state but was perhaps controlling in taking New York, Michigan and Maryland away from the Democratic candidate.

There is a feeling among some expert politicians that political opinion now dividing the country causes the possibility to be greater in 1968 than it was 20 years ago.

One reason given is that Thurmond's counterpart, George Wallace of Alabama, shows far more strength in that slot than was shown in 1948. In that year the combined vote of Thurmond and Henry Wallace was 4.87 percent of the total. The polls are now giving George Wallace around 12 percent.

Even the possibility of such a situation points up the great need to amend the Constitution abolishing the electoral college and provide for the election of the president and vice president by more democratic processes.

It is much too late for such action to avert the possibility of the president being elected in 1968 by the House of Representatives and the vice president by the U.S. Senate but with the splinter parties likely to increase instead of decrease, reform should be brought about.

Tilesetters Fail To Show

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — HemisFair is starting to substitute other materials for tile on fair site projects delayed by a walkout of Tilesetters, Marble Masons and Terrazzo Workers Local No. 2.

Frank Manupelli, the position's executive vice president said union officials had promised him that tilesetters would be at work on the Gulf Insurance group and Mexico projects Wednesday but none appeared on the fair grounds.

A number of projects are affected by the strike, which began March 11. Manupelli had said that if tilesetters, ordered by Dist. Judge Peter Michael Curry late Friday to return to work, did not substitute materials to complete the projects.

"If we get tilesetters at some point where they can be used to complete jobs, fine, but we're going ahead now," Manupelli said. "I've instructed our people to start as soon as architects agree on substitute materials."

Burleson Hints Deadlock Contest

WASHINGTON, D. C. — To speculate what may happen in the November elections is about as certain as an amateur prognosticator predicting what the weather will be eight months hence, according to Rep. Omar Burleson.

The possibility, however, is that the election of the next President of the United States could be thrown into the House of Representatives. Conditions which could bring it about are showing more substantially.

Should this occur, the election would certainly not be in conformity with the "one man, one vote" rule laid down by the Supreme Court placing more political strength in the populated areas. In such an event, each of the 50 states would have one vote. Alaska, for instance, with 272,000 citizens would have the same vote as Texas with its 11,000,000 and Delaware with one vote equal to more than 19,000,000 people of California.

Even the possibility of such a situation points up the great need to amend the Constitution abolishing the electoral college and provide for the election of the president and vice president by more democratic processes.

It is much too late for such action to avert the possibility of the president being elected in 1968 by the House of Representatives and the vice president by the U.S. Senate but with the splinter parties likely to increase instead of decrease, reform should be brought about.

Ship Left To Burn

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A glowing Greek freighter floated aimlessly in the Pacific Ocean today—its cotton cargo burning fiercely—while its crew settled back aboard a U.S. Navy ship for a six-day cruise to the Panama Canal Zone. A fire in the three forward holds of the North Queen broke out late Wednesday when the 9,341-ton vessel was 630 miles southeast of Baja California, Mexico, the U.S. Coast Guard said. The Greek flag ship, owned by West of England Underwriters of London and under charter to the French Government, was on route from Mobile, Ala., to Indonesia. It had made several eastern Gulf port stops prior to the blaze, the Coast Guard said. The Navy sea transport tanker Maumee steamed to the scene and, several hours after the blaze broke out, safely pulled from the sea the 32-member crew, including several women, who had abandoned the freighter in lifeboats.

Moore School Reunion Sunday

The sixth annual Moore School reunion will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Highland Shopping Center Mall, and all former residents of the Moore community are urged to attend. The Rev. Wayne Cook will bring the memorial service. The Rev. Elra Phillips is president, and secretary is Mrs. A. I. de Ryan. The Moore community was established in 1906 with one teacher school. During the 1940's, five teachers served the school, but in 1949 the plant burned and the area was made part of the Big Spring Independent School District.

Stanton Lions Elect Officers

STANTON (SC) — New officers were elected at the Tuesday meeting of the Stanton Lions Club. Those elected were: Russell McMeans, president; Charles Elmore, first vice president; Claude Nowlin, second vice president; J. R. Dillard, third vice president; Bill Terry, secretary; treasurer; F. O. Rhodes, song leader; John Roueche, tail twister; Homer Schwalbe, lion tamer; Richard Payne, chaplain; Pauline Wood, sweetheart and Nolan Simpson, Jimmy Conner and Ceel Bridges, directors. Paige Elland introduced the winner of the beauty pageant Miss Vickie Morrison and presented her with a check for her expenses to Brownwood, April 5, for the district convention. Cliff Hazlewood, program chairman introduced Mrs. Paige Elland who introduced Jim Hollrah, president of the student council of Midland Lee High School.

Mr. Hollrah introduced two exchange students who are attending Midland Lee High School. They were Miss Ulrike Huebner from Germany and Jose M. Cunat-Avilar from Spain. The students spoke on their respective countries explaining the industries, schools, governments and family backgrounds. A question and answer session followed the meeting.

Senators Split Over Ethics Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas senators split Wednesday as the Senate defeated, 44-40, the Clark-Case amendment to the ethics resolution to require senators to report publicly each year the amount and source of their incomes and other financial information. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., voted for the amendment. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., voted against the amendment.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another Vietnam policy critic, has proposed suspension of all aid to help meet mounting war costs. There are clear indications of strong opposition to the aid authorization in both houses, but administration leaders feel they can salvage a reduced appropriation. Mansfield said economic aid obviously must be continued in Vietnam, South Korea and friendly Southeast Asian countries. But he said even this must be reduced as a part of a general economy program. In addition, he listed space, non-Vietnam defense spending and public works as other areas where savings might be made to satisfy Congress members who are demanding spending reductions before they will vote for increased taxes. As a part of such a program he said that two-thirds of the U.S. troops who make up the equivalent of six divisions in Europe should be brought home.

Chanting Students Seize University

WASHINGTON (AP) — Singing and chanting students nearly 1,000 strong have taken over and shut down Howard University in a nonviolent coup, with a spokesman vowing "We're here for the duration." The students jammed all four floors of the predominantly Negro university's administration building overnight while others milled outside. SINGING, DANCING They sang, danced, joined in hand-clap punctuated chants, made speeches and joked in what looked more like a festival than an insurrection. But the siege took on a more militant tone in a statement issued just after midnight today by students manning the university switchboard. "There's no telling what might happen whenever the administration gets tired," said Robert Malson, 24. "If they come to recapture the building we can expect some of us will get hurt. But we hope it won't happen."

Two Votes Cast

Two absentee votes have been cast in the city commission election, April 2, according to Charles Smith, city secretary. The votes were received Wednesday afternoon, Smith said, and he reminded voters that deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. March 29.

UNCLE TOM' CHARGE

The demonstration began Tuesday as a sit-in demanding exoneration of 37 students charged with disrupting March 1 Charter Day ceremonies on the campus. Brown said the protest might end if the charges are dropped. But the emphasis at a student news conference Wednesday was on lack of Negro history and culture courses at the university. Protestors in past months have accused the administration of "Uncle Tom" attitudes. An administration spokesman said there were no plans to call in police but said "appropriate legal action to restore operations" was being sought. It was understood charges including disorderly conduct and unlawful entry against the protesters were being considered. The student statement said 800 students were inside the building overnight, including a few whites. It said the demonstrators had been joined by students from George Washington and American universities and Morgan State College, all in the Washington area.

Activities Chairmen For Easter Seal Effort Named

Mrs. T. A. Harris has been named chairman of the 1968 Easter Seal campaign in Howard County, according to Miss Bo Bowen, president of the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The other chairmen serving on the drive are Don Lovelady in charge of the Lily Day sale which will be held March 30, George Mclear, coin containers; Mrs. Joe Horton, Easter Bonnet sale; and Mrs. Dwight McCann, Easter Parade appeal to the homes on March 26.

According to Mrs. Horton the Easter Bonnet ticket sale will be held on April 5 at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. An Easter bonnet, gift certificate and an orchid will be given. The Lily Day sales will be manned by members of the Key Club and Future Homemakers of America, March 30, in the business area. Mrs. Harris, in accepting the chairmanship, said "The Easter Seal Society is a volunteer agency which has taken leadership in providing help for the handicapped for some 46 years, and the needs for rehabilitation are growing." Mrs. Harris, who has long been active in local P-T-A and other civic activities, added "I am confident of the cooperation of all residents of Howard County in contributing volunteer time and dollars will make it possible to continue bringing this vital service to the many crippled children and adults who need it." The Easter Seal Campaign is conducted annually and over 70 per cent of the proceeds stays with the local community to be used for crippled children and adults in this area. The funds are used for corrective shoes, crutches, supports, transportation for treatment, and salary for a therapist.

Mansfield Wants Foreign Aid Cut 'To Bare Bones'

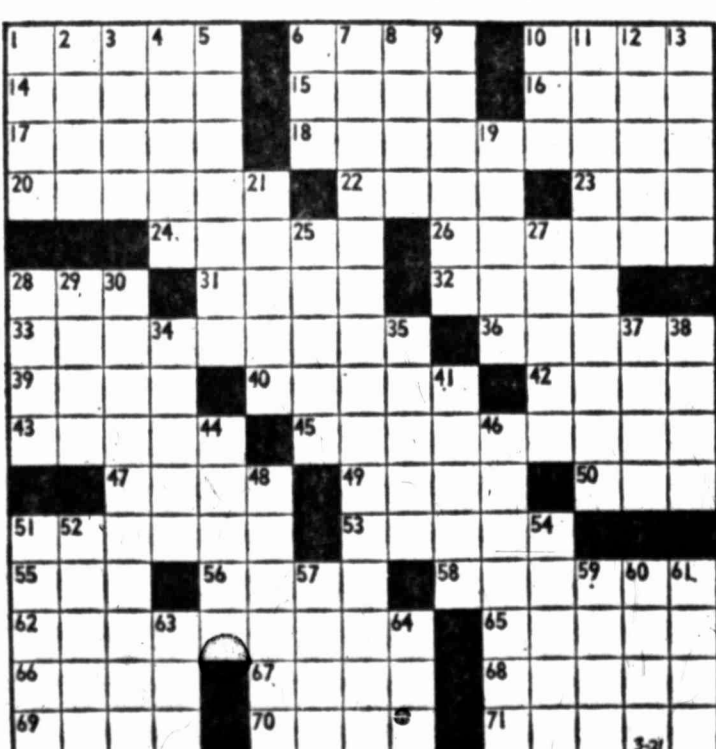

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he'll urge the Senate to cut President Johnson's $2.92 billion foreign-aid request "to bare bones." But Mansfield, a critic of Vietnam war escalation, said in an interview he would oppose any effort to suspend the program for the duration of the Asian conflict.

WAR COSTS

President Johnson's 1968-69 foreign-aid program includes $420 million in military aid. Last year Congress lopped $1 billion off the President's request, voting only $2.2 billion, lowest in the program's 20-year history. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another Vietnam policy critic, has proposed suspension of all aid to help meet mounting war costs. There are clear indications of strong opposition to the aid authorization in both houses, but administration leaders feel they can salvage a reduced appropriation. Mansfield said economic aid obviously must be continued in Vietnam, South Korea and friendly Southeast Asian countries. But he said even this must be reduced as a part of a general economy program. In addition, he listed space, non-Vietnam defense spending and public works as other areas where savings might be made to satisfy Congress members who are demanding spending reductions before they will vote for increased taxes. You, being dead in your sins . . . hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses. (Colossians 2:13)

Guess Who Was Closest?

Forecasting voting trends may be as hazardous this year as in 1936, when Alf Landon was swamped by Franklin D. Roosevelt. The experience of forecasters in the recent New Hampshire presidential preference primary is a case in point.

The Columbia Broadcasting Co., on the night before the election, predicted that Lyndon Johnson, a write-in candidate, would get 65 per cent of the vote and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy would get 29 per cent. The American Broadcasting Co. predicted 76 per cent of the vote for Johnson and 25 per cent for McCarthy in a poll conducted two weeks before the election. A Roper poll in mid-February for Time magazine gave Johnson 62 per cent of the vote and McCarthy 24 per cent. The National Broadcasting Co. coyly declined to reveal the results of its pre-primary poll.

McCarthy actually got approximately 42 per cent of the vote and Johnson approximately 48 per cent. McCarthy got almost as many votes as Johnson, if the estimated 5,000 votes he got in the Republican primary are considered.

It is ironic that probably the closest approximation to the actual vote was made by a British magazine, the Economist of London. Writing from Manchester, N. H., for the March 9 issue of the Economist, its correspondent gave this forecast: "It now seems possible that Mr. McCarthy's total could conceivably reach as high as 40 per cent, a vote unthinkable not long ago."

What, then, were the voters of New Hampshire saying? Apparently no one knows, although scores of experts are now pursuing their favorite theories in conversation or on paper.

Inconsistency Invites Impotency

The Washington Post's Robert H. Estabrook has made an accounting of actions and inactions of the United Nations Human Rights Commission that adds up suspiciously to a double standard. The commission seems all ways ready to beat the dead horse of anti-colonialism, or make the most of white or Western offenses, while shunting aside charges of Eastern offenses or colored persecution of other colored people.

South Africa's apartheid, Portuguese policy in Angola and Mozambique, and Rhodesian white supremacy are prime targets for U.N. wrath, in the corridors and the commission. But what is curious and indefensible are the many other human rights violations that are swept under the U.N. rug.

A telling example was the criticism of Britain for limiting immigration of Asians with British passports from Kenya. Yet Kenya itself went uncriticized for expelling Asian residents who preferred not to become Kenyan citizens. Other examples include:

Refusal to consider seriously breakaway Biafra's charge of genocide against the central Nigerian government; Burma's expelling of Indian citizens; the Duvalier dictatorship's persecutions in Haiti; the Greek military coup's suppression of civil rights; Egypt's use of poison gas in Yemen and intervention in Aden, and the massacre of a half million Chinese in Indonesia.

And while the U.N. commission has taken sorrowful note of the United States' racial troubles, a rightful enough concern, no protest has been forthcoming over the Soviet Union's criminal trials of nonconformist writers or the brutal suppression of student demonstrations recently in Communist Eastern Europe.

The United Nations Human Rights Commission, with its lofty Declaration of Human Rights, is unlikely to gain impressive influence in this troubled world until it is prepared to denounce evil as evil without regard to power politics, racial differences or people's previous status. In the struggle for human rights, inconsistency invites impotency.

Things Have Been Worse

WASHINGTON — Many people are wondering whether conditions in America and the world today are worse than ever. Inasmuch as the United States has enjoyed several years of relative stability and peace, it is natural that a war abroad and disorder at home creates pessimism and discouragement.

But a glance at the history books will show that the United States has suffered more hardships in the past than prevail at present and has managed nevertheless to get through the depressions and wars.

JUST 35 YEARS ago, for instance, there were nearly 13,000,000 people out of work. This was 24.9 per cent of heavy in both instances. Little was the work force—the highest unemployment rate recorded before or since that time. Two world wars in this century have required the sending in each case of more than 2,000,000 American troops abroad. The casualties were heavy in both instances. Little wars have been interspersed with the big wars. Times of economic stress, including inflationary periods, have come and gone.

The big question is whether America, with its present resources, is more capable of meeting the crises that confront the people than in the past. Certainly experience is a better teacher than most people realize.

FOR THE United States has learned a lot in recent years about measures necessary to control a big economy, though the remedies for inflation are not always promptly applied as the purchasing power of the monetary unit steadily declines.

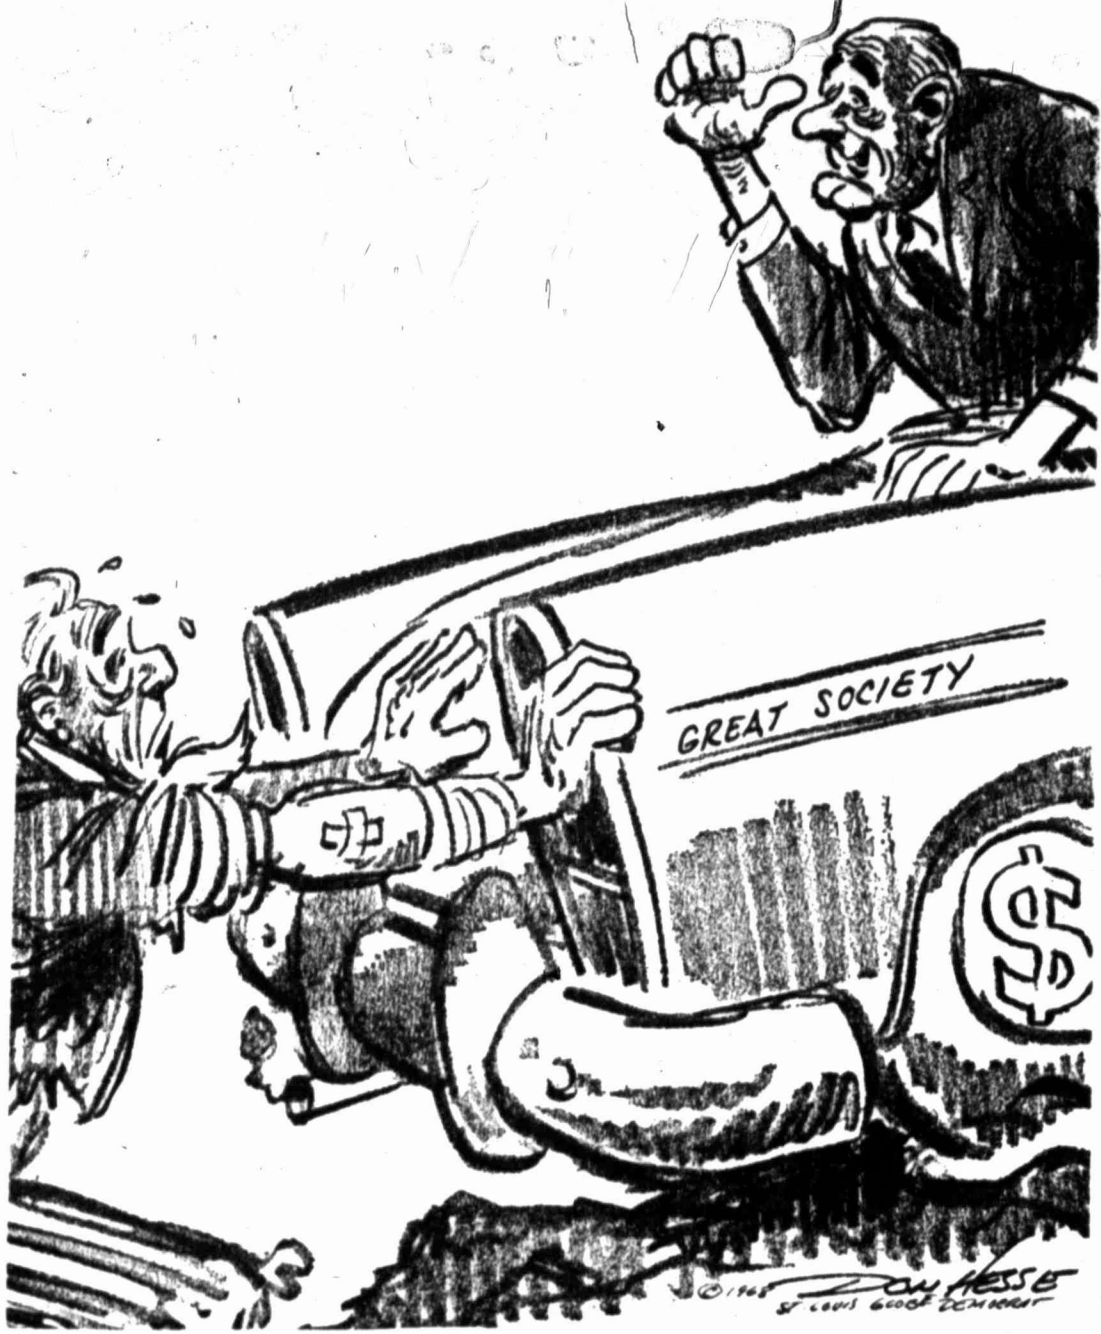

Relatively few people are alive today who remember the "bank holiday" which started on March 6, 1933, or its meaning. All of the banks were closed for ten days, just as a new president was being inaugurated. A change of administration had been voted in the midst of the economic crisis.

THUS, THE FEARS that are being expressed nowadays about the fluctuations in the price of gold are familiar. Although anxiety over the gold value of the dollar was widespread in 1933, stability was gradually achieved. So may it be anticipated that the United States, with the help of other nations, will again find a means of stabilizing world currencies.

The corrective process may be slow in getting under way, but at least it has started already. President Johnson has this week announced a "program of national austerity." This means a rise in taxes as well as a cut in federal expenditures. The simple truth is the federal government can no longer afford "guns and butter," and there has to be some decrease in federal spending for sociological projects.

POLITICS, of course, has its novel personalities, and feuds may go on creating divisions in the two major political parties. When election day comes, however, the people usually size up the economic situation in terms of their own personal welfare. If times are bad, it doesn't matter who the candidate of the opposing party is — the incumbent is doomed to defeat. If, on the other hand, a relative degree of stability is attained and a war is going on, the people are reluctant to make a change despite grievances and complaints over the policies of an existing administration.

Herald's Hal Hates Ring-A-Ling-A-Ling

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the ordeals of modern living is the telephone.

Like many scientific marvels, it started as a mechanical servant of man and now has managed to master and enslave him. It is getting more and more difficult to feel grateful to Alexander Graham Bell.

WHEN YOUR house is burning down, it is a great advantage to have a telephone in it so that you can summon help from the fire department.

Most of the time, however, your home isn't burning down, and then the telephone becomes more of a nuisance than a blessing.

There was a time in the American past when business was conducted in the office, socialists were arranged by mail, and the home was a sanctuary of real privacy.

ALL THAT has been destroyed by a simple and repetitive sound—"ring-a-ling-a-ling." That sound has made man a prisoner in his own castle.

It has turned his home into a market, an office, a political forum, a torture chamber where anyone in the world with sense enough to work a forefinger through a dialing system can grab him by the ear and pour a message into it.

Ring-a-ling-a-ling! "A mutual friend has informed us you have a child of school age. Naturally you don't want him to become a dropout, do you? Now this new 365-volume encyclopedia we are issuing—you need only one, volume a day for a year—at a special discount price of—"

DING-A-LING-A-LING! "Friends of the Draft Friendly Hobe Hurley for Dogcatcher Campaign would like to solicit your vote. On international issues, Hobe feels we should stand steady on the price of gold and make up our mind right now either to stay in Vietnam or get out. On domestic issues, he stands four-square for—"

Ring-a-ling-a-ling! "Hi, Jack honey. My husband took the 8 o'clock plane for Chicago, and I was feeling—lonesome—and thought that—Hello, hello. Why, you're not Jack. What are you doing on this phone?"

Ding-a-ling-a-ling! "Lady, do you have dishpan crinkles in your hands that make even your best friends pity you behind your back? We're introducing Scrammo, the new miracle soap powder, with the secret almond oil base which guarantees that—"

Ring-a-ling-a-ling! "Hi, there partner! Grace and I and a few friends are taking a night off from the suburbs to tour the town. Would it put you out too much if, after the theater, we dropped by your place for a couple of belts before heading back home? We have to catch a 1:39 a.m. train, so we won't keep you up very late."

BRRING-a-ling-a-ling! "I hate to bother you at home with something I know I should have brought up at the office but— Oh, you were taking a bath? Sorry. Well, go ahead and finish it. Take your time. I'll hang up now and call you back in three minutes."

Everybody hates to bother you at home, but everybody does. Brrring! Brrring! Brrring! By day and by night the metallic clangor sounds.

MANY PEOPLE today yearn to "get away from it all." If they ever do get away from it all, the last thing they'll get away from is the telephone.

Even then, stridently calling to bring them back, will be the familiar echo of "Brrring, brrring, brrring!"

Budget Balloon Falls Flat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House trial balloon of a $9 billion budget cut never soared very high in the estimation of congressional leaders demanding deeper reductions as the price of a tax increase.

And now it seems to have fallen flat. No specific reductions have been sent to Capitol Hill, formally or informally, and the indications are that none will be ready for some time.

Congressional economists are showing irritation. Some are suggesting that the $9 billion reduction talk last weekend by high administration sources was really intended more for the ears of the international monetary authorities meeting to stem the gold rush than for consideration by Congress.

A GENUINE fear that speculators against the dollar might win gave a strong impetus last week to the lagging discussions between the executive and legislative branches of an economic combination to reduce the prospective $20 billion deficit and bolster the U.S. international financial position. The momentum has slackened since then.

There was a point at which key congressmen were talking the 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson is asking. Some suggested restoring the regular income-tax bracket rates, except in the lowest brackets, as they were before the massive 1964 tax reduction instead of merely adding a surcharge.

Such a rollback would yield an estimated $14 billion increase in revenues instead of the $10 billion plus which the surcharge is supposed to bring in.

BUT THE ASKING price was a budget reduction in the range of $15 billion — meaning an actual spending cut of about $6 billion — instead of the $9 billion budget trim that would mean about $4 billion in actual spending.

There was no meeting of minds on an economy move of these dimensions.

It would require dropping, postponing indefinitely or at least drastically scaling down some whole domestic programs.

This is exactly the course some economists are advocating. They say the built-in expansion of these programs over the next five years or more will cost more than the present revenue structure can provide—even if the economy maintains a healthy growth.

To Your Good Health

How Insulation Dosage Is Decided

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently my seven-year-old granddaughter was found to be diabetic so I am interested in information about that. I can't understand why her insulin intake has to be increased so often. She was taking 12 cc.'s of Lente U-40 and six or eight of semi-Lente. Now it is up to 26 cc.'s of Lente and 16 of semi-Lente. Now it requires two syringes. I don't see why a more concentrated insulin can't be used so she will need only one syringe. — W.G.

Let me correct you on one point: Insulin is measured in units rather than cc.'s.

As to determining dosage, with children a modest dose usually is given at first until the response is noted. Some may be insulin-sensitive and respond promptly to a small dose. If not, the dose is gradually increased.

The increases you mention may be because a properly effective dosage has not yet been reached. Another possibility is based on the fact that antibodies are known to form in the system, which react against insulin. This requires larger doses until the desired total effect is reached to control the disorder.

If you have reached the limit in your syringe using the U-40 strength, I see no reason why you cannot switch to U-80 insulin measured with a syringe marked for that strength.

Dear Dr. Molner: I drink a lot of cola, usually about 32 ounces a day. I have been told that people can become addicted to it and get sick when they miss it. I don't believe that. My husband is constantly telling me I'll rot my insides away. Is there anything to all this? — Mrs. D. M.

Well, that's quite an accumulation of mixed-up information! No, the cola drinks won't "rot your insides."

Nor will a person become addicted, but people can and do develop a strong habit — as you evidently have.

Since these drinks contain caffeine, a moderate stimulant, some folks can develop the jitters, just as some develop "coffee nerves." Individuals vary. If you drink ordinary cola

(rather than the low-calorie kind) you are getting quite a lot of sugar every day. The principal risks are, first, that you will gain weight, or, second, that amount of sugar will dull your appetite and you will not get enough of some other foods that you need.

I'm no viewer-with-alarm, but most folks are best off if they don't get a quart-a-day habit like yours.

The Big Show

Within a stone's throw of the spot where a brave band of Texans fought to the death 132 years ago, a second battle moves to a feverish pitch. It is against time.

BUT THOSE who are raising HemisFair '68 within the shadow of the historic Alamo are supremely confident that they will win and be ready for opening of the "world's fair" by April 6. What will be left to be done will be the mop up operations, they say. Texas is on the verge of its biggest show ever — bigger than even the Centennial in 1936.

As you look over this huge exposition taking shape, you can't see how it's going to be done. HemisFair says it must be done — it will be done.

"I'VE BEEN through four world's fairs," said one veteran. "We're already where most of them were when they opened."

The enthusiasm of the people shaping up the fair is contagious. San Antonio is getting excited, too. The city of 750,000 people is scrubbing up, and signs in Spanish as well as English are going up on streets in cafes and hotels in anticipation of a great tide of visitors from the Rio Grande to the Horn.

HEMISFAIR is going to be a big show, and it promises to be an exciting show. Within less than a hundred acres, nearly as many exhibit buildings and other attractions have been packed as in the major international shows. This compactness will be important when you start walking it this summer. So many visitors are expected, that walkways have been provided at two levels. Besides, you can go by the mini-rail and sky ride.

There are many unique features. For one thing, HemisFair '68 preserved many of the stately old oaks in the slum site which was cleared; also, several of the historic old German and early homes were kept intact. The San Antonio River, which gives San Antonio a flavor all of its own as it winds through the downtown area, has been tapped to flow through a system of canals that interlace the HemisFair. These lead to a large basin for aquatic shows.

THE TRADEMARK is the Tower of the Americas, which presents a breathtaking ride to its summit (in 45 seconds) and offers a spectacular panorama over 400 more square miles. The cap atop this 640-ft. tower (tallest in the Americas) is actually a five-story circular structure containing cafes that revolve around the core. So that the kitchen will know where to deliver food to the moving dining area, orders are placed on different color slips. The crowning structure is so large it was built on the ground and jacked into place. When the super-strong steel strands for lifting snapped during a trial suspension, the problem was solved promptly by using oilwell drillstem. When you go up in the elevator, it is like going up on the wings of nothing — the outside elevator panel is clear glass, letting you look out on the fair, San Antonio, and then the world beyond as you zoom up to the top.

THEN THERE are many other features — the international exhibits complex, the convention center and the indoor arena with 10,000 seats, the U.S. pavilion with its "Confluence of the Americas," the Texas Hall of Arts and Cultures, the numerous industrial exhibits, "Elencanto de Pueblo," which may prove surprise of the fair, and a host of rides and shows that look like Disneyland and Six Flags rolled up in one.

Millions of people are coming to Texas to see HemisFair '68. You'll never have another opportunity to see this sort of spectacle so near at home. Don't delay your plans.

Nobody Believes It In Hanoi

WASHINGTON — If you think people in this country are confused about what is happening on the American political scene, you can imagine how confused they are in Hanoi.

Just the other day, Ho Chi Minh's Cabinet called in North Vietnam's expert on American political affairs. He was in chains and two guards threw him to the floor.

"All right, Dao Tri," one of the ministers said, "are you going to tell us the truth about American politics or are we going to have to get it out of you some other way?"

"HONORABLE ministers," Dao Tri cried from the floor, "I have told you the truth. I did not make one word of it up."

"Well, let us hear it again," another minister snarled. "What exactly has happened?"

Dao Tri, his head bowed, began: "Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York has decided to run against President Johnson because he is opposed to President Johnson's policies in Vietnam."

"But," said a minister, "we thought Sen. McCarthy was running against President Johnson because he opposes his policies in Vietnam."

"SEN. MCCARTHY is running against President Johnson. As a matter of fact, he came within 200 votes of beating President Johnson in the province of New Hampshire."

"Then why is Sen. Kennedy running against President Johnson?" a minister asked.

"Because he says he wants to help Sen. McCarthy defeat President Johnson."

A minister turned to one of the guards and said, "Hang him up by his thumbs."

Dao Tri was hung by his thumbs. The minister said, "Now continue."

DAO TRI, between screams, continued: "Sen. McCarthy said he doesn't need Sen. Kennedy's support in his fight against President Johnson, but Sen. Kennedy says he's going to support McCarthy whether he likes it or not."

"Raise him off the ground a little," a minister said to the guard. "Didn't you tell us Sen. Kennedy said he would not oppose President Johnson?"

Dao Tri screamed, "Honorable ministers, hear me out. Kennedy announced it before the primary elections in New Hampshire, because he said he did not want to split the Democratic Party. After the primary, Sen. Kennedy said the party was split anyway, so he thought he would have a better chance of splitting the Democratic party than Sen. McCarthy would."

"A LITTLE higher," a minister ordered the guard. Dao Tri's toes were barely touching the ground. "Now tell us about the Republican Party."

"Former Vice President Nixon was very big in New Hampshire," Dao Tri gasped, "so Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of the province of New York, who said he did not want to be President, has decided to run against him."

"Why?" a minister asked.

"Because the polls show that Rockefeller could beat President Johnson, but Nixon can't. Therefore, the majority of the Republican delegates are for Nixon and against Rockefeller."

A GUARD pulled the cord and Dao was barely conscious.

"Why would the Republicans support a candidate who could not beat President Johnson, when they have a candidate who could?"

Dao Tri, his face white, screamed: "I don't know."

"He's still sticking to his story," one of the ministers said.

"The fool," another minister said. "He thinks we are so stupid that we will believe his pack of CIA fairy tales. String him the whole way."

Who Grounded Our H-Bombers?

WASHINGTON — "On page 80 you announce that you will eliminate the airborne alert," said Congressman Glen Lipscomb to Defense Secretary on May 6, 1966.

McNamara: "Yes."

Lipscomb: "It appears to me that is quite a step to take."

McNAMARA: "I think the chiefs objected to eliminating all of the airborne alert. I replied that they could carry on whatever airborne alert was consistent with the regular training program and would not require additional funds. I believe the Air Force is examining what level they wish to fly under these circumstances."

Gen. Wheeler, Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff: "That is correct."

ALMOST TWO years later, Jan. 21, 1968, a B-52 bomber on airborne alert against the Soviet Union crashed at Thule, Greenland with four unarmed H-bombs aboard. There followed strenuous demands from Moscow that the USA give up carrying live, but unarmed H-bombs on its nuclear bombers. Information reached the press (mine from Congressional sources) that McNamara ordered the bombs removed from subsequent flights, but the Defense Department now takes a "No Comment" position on whether or not this was done.

IN 1966 McNamara gave three reasons for wishing to eliminate funding for the airborne alert: an improved warning system, an improved take-off system for B-52's on the ground, and the declining importance of bombers in relation to missiles. "But, significantly, he left it to the Air Force generals (and not to the Russians) to decide 'at what level' they wished to continue, and how to phase out the H-bomb carrying B-52's. These planes were aloft for two reasons: they would be a live deterrent to a Russian nuclear assault, and they were safe from destruction on the ground.

ON NOV. 3, '67, more than two months before the Greenland incident, McNamara told a press conference that the Russians had developed a Fractional Orbit Bombardment System (FOBS) which would be operational this year, and which "perhaps" would allow the Soviets to launch a "surprise nuclear attack . . . against bomber bases." The secretary added, however, that we knew this was coming and had deployed an Over the Horizon Radar (OTH) that would give additional warning to bombers on the ground. It seemed, therefore, to be a standoff between the Soviet FOBS, a Space weapon, and the American OTH, an improved warning device.

DESPITE THE official "No Comment" about the de-bombing of the B-52's, it is possible to get unofficial confirmation that H-bombs are no longer being taken aloft.

THERE IS MORE to write about our disarming habit of offering sacrifices at the feet of Soviet Russia. The old heathen practice of placating an angry god seems to have been adapted as an American foreign policy.

The parks and recreation board ordered approximately $3,500 in playground equipment previously earmarked by the city commission for ABC Park and Birdwell Park, at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The equipment, which is to include various "kiddie-land" swings, slides and other activity facilities, was ordered from a firm in Litchfield, Mich.

The board recommended the establishment of a $12 reservation fee for the new picnic pavilion now under construction at City Park. The pavilion, costing some $5,000-$6,000, is expected to be completed in about a month. Reservations for the pavilion may be made with the Department of Public Works.

Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, told members that the amphitheater improvements will cost between $600-$700. City crews are presently terracing and landscaping the area, building a loading platform, refin-

Casualties For Both Sides Show Decrease

SAIGON (AP) — Allied headquarters announced today that American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties decreased markedly last week from the heavy loss figures of previous weeks.

The official estimate of enemy troops in South Vietnam also was reduced by 16,000 to 26,000 men.

U.S. command said enemy strength as of mid-February was between 207,000 and 222,000 men. The last previous estimate was 223,000 to 248,000.

The U.S. Command announced that 336 American troops were killed and 1,916 were wounded last week, a decrease reflecting generally slackened fighting. More than 500 U.S. fighting men were killed in three out of four of the preceding weeks.

In the week before last, 509 Americans were killed and 2,766 were wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 267 government soldiers were killed, 926 were wounded and 181 were missing last week. The previous week's totals were 418 killed, 1,199 wounded and 98 missing.

The U.S. Command said 3,070 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were killed last week, compared with a revised total for the previous week of 5,168.

Science Writers Tip Off Society To Big Changes

AUSTIN (AP) — Science fiction writers tip off society to the changes the scientists are bringing about, a Russian-born scientist and teacher believes.

Dr. Lew Kowarski, now a French citizen, is teaching a course on "The Rise and Impact of Nuclear Physics" at the University of Texas.

"Change is occurring so rapidly now that we are in danger of being crushed by it," he said.

Kowarski, 61, left Russia as a boy and has lived in France, Belgium, Britain, Canada and Switzerland. He participated in the 1953, 1958 and 1964 "Atoms for Peace" conference in Geneva.

Illustrating his point that writers prepare society for change, he recalls that H. G. Wells predicted in 1914 "with amazing accuracy" the atomic age, the United Nations and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty.

SH350 Improvement Set, IS20 Signs To Be Changed

Howard County is to get $1,759,866 worth of road improvement on 13 miles of SH 350 from Wildhorse Creek east to the Mitchell County line and eight miles on FM 1520, from IS 20 in Coahoma north to SH 350. Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, said today.

He said that the State Highway Department has announced that Border Construction Co., Monahans, was apparent low bidder on the two projects.

Border Company's bid was $1,759,866.

Smoot said that Tuesday, Tommie Moore, Inc. of Fort Worth, was low bidder on a project to transform all of the signs on IS 20 across the county from the present type to what is called the "break away" safety type. The Moore bid was $84,612.

Some of the IS 20 signs already have been changed over to the safety type and when this new project is completed, all will be of that type. The break-away design is such that when a vehicle hits a sign standard, the latter snaps easily and the sign collapses rather than wrecking the vehicle. The break away system is said to be a major method of causing fewer injuries and serious property damage incidents in collisions between cars and the signs.

Smoot said that the two road jobs will include resurfacing and widening of the road beds of SH 350 and FM 1520.

The bridges on Wildhorse Creek and Morgan Creek will be rebuilt and widened.

He said that the city of Coahoma has already begun laying curb and gutter on FM 700 inside the city limits from IS 20 north to the city limits. Coahoma is financing this aspect of the project.

Work will not be started until weather warms up and remains stable, he said.

East Texas State Receives Grant

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — A $1,428,445 grant from the U.S. Office of Education has been received by East Texas State University. The funds will be used in construction of three major building projects.

The federal grant will be combined with state building funds and loans from federal and private sources for a total of $4,285,000 needed to finance the projects, part of a long-range $12 million building program.

Science Fair Opens Friday

COAHOMA — Eighth Annual Coahoma High School Science Fair will be held Friday and Saturday at the Coahoma High School with Phil Wynn, science teacher, as supervisor.

He said 275 boys and girls from the first through the twelfth grade are taking part, and that approximately 130 science projects are to be set up in the halls and rooms of the high school.

The fair will be open to the public Friday, from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The project will cover biological and physical science, and sweepstakes awards will be made in each of the four divisions. The divisions are the primary, elementary, junior high school, and high school.

In other years the Science Fair has attracted many visitors and the school house has been thronged with parents and friends of the youngsters.

The projects run the gamut of scientific endeavor and many of the boys and girls have worked for months assembling material and getting ready for the fair.

Judges will inspect the projects Friday and select the winners.

Astros Prospering With Don And Tom

Bo and Jo are the talk of the baseball world these days but the Houston Astros are perfectly happy with Don and Tom, thank you. While playboy Bo Belinsky and Playboy's Jo Collins were announcing plans to get married, right-handers Don Wilson and Tom Griffin were combining to pitch a one-hitter as the Astros edged Detroit 2-1 Wednesday in an exhibition baseball game. There were other interesting developments on the baseball front. Willie Mays had two teeth yanked by a dentist and Boston pitcher Dave Morehead almost lost a couple when he ran into a wall during a volleyball game. There was some baseball played, too. Phil Linz and Ed Charles, who aren't even on the roster, sparked the New York Mets to a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore. Oakland's Sal Bando continued his spring slugging, cracking his sixth homer as the Athletics clubbed Cincinnati 6-2. Mickey Mantle belted homer No. 1, starting the New York Yankees to a 9-1 victory over the minor league Mexico City Red Devils in the Mexican capital. Dick Ellsworth became the first Boston hurler to work seven innings, checking his former Philadelphia teammates on one Sox victory. Orlando Cepeda's 10th-inning St. Louis overcame eight errors and edged Los Angeles 9-8. Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly drove in the decisive run as Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Three runs in the eighth inning enabled California to overcome Cleveland 9-7 despite five hits by the losers' Max Alvis. The Chicago Cubs collected 17 hits and buried San Francisco 10-4. Atlanta bombed Minnesota's Dave Boswell for 13 hits in 3 1/3 innings and nipped the Twins 8-6. Sandy Valdespino, sold by the Twins to the Braves last fall, socked a three-run homer. The only hit allowed by Houston's Wilson-Griffin combine was a homer by Detroit's Al Kaline. It came off Wilson, who went five innings, fanning five. Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter last season, is expected to be one of Houston's pitching mainstays. But Griffin, a 20-year-old rookie, had only a 3-9 record last season with two minor league clubs. While Griffin was making his pitch for a major league job, Belinsky, who is on the roster of Houston's Oklahoma City farm team, left his baseball future in doubt. The fun-loving southpaw said he and Miss Collins, a 39-24-38 beauty once tabbed as "Playboy's" "Playmate of the Year," would be married in about four months, when her pending divorce becomes final. "This is true love," said Belinsky, who has kept company with such entertainment notables as Mamie Van Doren, Tina Louise and Kay Stevens. Belinsky left the Houston camp earlier in the week after being denied permission to stay out past curfew on a date with Miss Collins. He said if the Astros assign him to the minors he'll quit baseball and move to Hawaii, where he and Miss Collins will run "a swinging dude ranch." "I'm in love," he said, "and from now on it's Bo and Jo."

Player Says He May Quit At 40

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player plans to quit the pro golf tour when he's 40, but the 32-year-old South African says he feels now that he could play forever. "No man on the pro tour is more physically fit than I am," Player said after shooting a 64 in a final tuncup for today's start of the $80,000 Pensacola Open. "I'll probably quit playing competitive golf when I'm 40," he said. "If I lived in America, I probably would play until I am 50, but it is too difficult when I who ended the Bruins' 47-game winning streak in their Game of the Century last Jan. 20 in Houston. In the other NCAA semifinals Friday, the selection is North Carolina over Ohio State. This is the breakdown: NIT semifinals tonight: Dayton over Notre Dame—The play of Don May for Dayton is expected to be the difference. He has been the vital factor in Dayton's 12-game winning streak, much as last year when he led the Flyers to the championship final of the NCAA tournament. Kansas over St. Peter's—the coolness and floor generalship of the slick passing Jo Jo White figures to overcome the fast-breaking Peacocks, who assaulted everyone with a run-away 100-71 victory over Duke last Monday. NCAA semifinals Friday: North Carolina over Ohio State—The Tar Heels are out to redeem themselves for their defeat by Dayton in last year's semis and they don't intend to get sidetracked by the Buckeyes. Larry Miller, Rusty Clark and Charley Scott are too tough a trio for the Big Ten champs. UCLA over Houston—Lew Alcindor isn't bothered any more by the eye trouble which hampered him in January when Houston won by two points. Elvin Hayes, Houston's Big E, may again outscore Alcindor, but UCLA's better balance and the so-called home advantage should end the Cougars' 32-game winning streak.

have to leave my family and my ranch and come over here." Player is the only member of the Big Three bidding for the Pensacola title. Both Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus passed up this tournament. "I really played well," Player said of his 64 Wednesday, which set the pace for the pro-am prelude to the start of the tournament. A string of sub-par rounds will be needed to win the Pensacola title on the 6,380-yard country club course where Gay Brewer trimmed 26 strokes off par with a 262 total a year ago. Other favorites include Doug Sanders and Dan Sikes, winner of the Citrus Open last Sunday. Sanders and Sikes each shot 67 in the pro-am, and Brewer fired 69.

Twins Going After Crown This Year

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — When Minnesota acquired John Roseboro, Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller from the Los Angeles Dodgers, it was obvious that the Twins were shooting the works for the 1968 pennant. In the trade, Minnesota dealt off shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Mudcat Grant, both instrumental when the Twins won the American League pennant in 1966.

HIGH ON LIST A hitting catcher and bullpen help for 34-year-old Al Worthington had been high on the shopping list of owner Calvin Griffith after the Twins blew a one-game lead with two to go at Fenway Park last October. "We feel we strengthened two positions," said Cal Ermer, the manager who replaced Sam Mele last June 9. "I feel that Versalles will come back and have a good year with the Dodgers but we helped ourselves with a regular catcher to play every day and two good experienced hands in the bullpen.

"I am very optimistic about our chances. We had a fantastic race last year but it might be even better this time. I can't see any one club breaking it wide open. We might go into late August or September with six or seven clubs still in it." Before you rush out to order World Series tickets for Metropolitan Stadium, heed the caution flag. The Twins do not have a regular shortstop. Jim Kaat's tender left elbow still is causing concern. Every time Ermer talks about one of the questionable spots on the Twins he says, "Well, Tovar can play it." The versatility of Cesar Tovar, who drew the only vote for Most Valuable Player honors that Carl Yastrzemski didn't get, is all-important to the Twins. At the moment it appears that Tovar may have to play shortstop because Jack Hernandez, the fine fielding shortstop from the California Angels' organization, isn't hitting. Rick Renick, another prospect has been handicapped by minor injuries.

MAY GO TO THIRD If Hernandez finally wins the job, vacated by Versalles, Tovar may wind up at third base where weak-hitting Ron Clark is holding forth until Rich Rollins completely recovers from surgery on his right knee. Rollins finally made his first appearance Sunday as a pinch hitter. Another potential job for handyman Tovar is center field. The incumbent Ted Uhlaender normally gets off slowly and then comes on like gangbusters. Harmon Killebrew has settled down comfortably at first base. Rod Carew, the Rookie of the Year in 1967, is set at second. Bob Allison's fine comeback as a home run hitter and RBI man was a comforting development last year. Ermer has Rick Reese as a platoon man in left field for Allison. Uhlaender figures to be the center fielder although speedy Pat Kelly, brother of Leroy Kelly of football's Cleveland Browns, swings a good bat.

Flynn, of course, is the right fielder. Oliva, coming off his first sub-300 year, underwent surgery on his right knee during the off season. The batting champ of 1964 and 1965 is anxious to get back in the thick of the fight. Roseboro, veteran of many Dodger championship teams, is due to do the heavy work as No. 1 catcher. The veteran Jerry Zimmerman did most of the work in 1967 with the help of Russ Nixon. Kaat remains a question mark because he still is taking it easy with that tender elbow that he injured in the next-to-last game of last season at Boston. Ermer is letting him take his own time, confident he will be ready to start bearing down by opening day.

Lone Record Holder Back

COAHOMA — Eldorado and Wylie rank as co-favorites in the second annual Bulldog Relays, which will be resumed here Saturday. All records in the meet date back to 1966, when the first such cinder carnival was staged. Only returning record holder will be Johnny Mayo of Eldorado, who two years ago tossed the shot put 52 feet 1 1/2 inches. The records:

440-yard relay—Ablene, Woodson, 43.6.
120-yard high hurdles—Bobby Weaver, Coahoma, 15.4.
100-yard dash—Leroy Kettler, Winters, 9.9.
440-yard dash—Mike Mosley, Coahoma, 49.6.
800-yard run—Danny Richardson, Eldorado, 1:58.2.
220-yard dash—Leroy Kettler, Winters, 22.8.

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker asked the Madison Square Garden people if they wouldn't please stop announcing the score of that game in Boston. But it didn't fool Oscar Robertson; he knew what the score was. Detroit beat Boston 125-116 Wednesday night while New York nipped Cincinnati 108-106. Thus, the Pistons finished fourth in the Eastern Division, getting in the final playoff spot. The Royals, in fifth place, are out of the playoffs for the first time in 12 years. While the Knicks and Royals were battling their way through the first half, the progress of the Boston-Detroit game, which had started earlier, was being noted by the announcer at the Garden. When the Pistons had taken a 74-50 halftime lead, Jucker asked for an end to the announcer's remarks; he knew what the score was. "I didn't want them to worry about scores," he said. "I just wanted them to go out and get their win."

Big O: Celts Didn't Want To Play Cincy

Boston-Detroit game, which had started earlier, was being noted by the announcer at the Garden. When the Pistons had taken a 74-50 halftime lead, Jucker asked for an end to the announcer's remarks; he knew what the score was. "I didn't want them to worry about scores," he said. "I just wanted them to go out and get their win."

FINALS AT NIGHT Steers Will Run At San Angelo

Big Spring High School's track and field team will again be split this weekend, with the regulars going to San Angelo for that city's annual Relays and the Sophs venturing to Coahoma for the annual Bulldog Relays. The San Angelo meet will not begin until 2 p.m. and will continue into the night, with the final event scheduled for 9:45 p.m. Scoring will be on a 10-8-6-4-2 basis and doubled in all relay events. Medals will be awarded to winners of first, second and third place winners while trophies will go to the winners of the two relay events as well as to the winning team. TWO CANDIDATES SPEAK OUT FOR TEXAN IN WHITE HOUSE

Groups Backing LBJ's Rivals Get Busy

By The Associated Press
White House, while groups backing Johnson's rivals got busy in his home state.

PROF HELPS RFK
An assistant professor at Lamar Tech in Beaumont, Ronald Platt, said he had agreed to head a campaign of an organization named Texas Liberal Democrats to drum up support for Kennedy, as requested by the New York senator's Washington office.

Establishment of a Central Texas chapter of Texas Democrats for McCarthy was disclosed, meanwhile, at Waco. Its co-chairman, David Copeland, labeled the President's war on poverty as "a gimmick to build a political machine of high-salaried directors while none of the funds ever come close to those in need."

Among the gubernatorial candidates, Eugene Locke said at Tyler, "I know that a vast majority of his fellow Texans do support the President's Vietnam policies, but we do not know where all these would-be governors stand."

CALLS DANGEROUS
"Once again I call on them to let the people know where they stand. Sen. Kennedy's actions can only be divisive. Is this what some of these men who want to be governor of Texas want?"

Also in Tyler for the windup of an East Texas tour, Waggoner Carr spoke in similar vein. He declared, "I think Bobby Kennedy is one of the most dangerous men in national politics today. His views are totally opposed to the majority of the views in Texas."

Carr at the same time described himself as "the only logical candidate for governor... with both legislative and executive experience in state government, and the only man who recognizes the issues and is willing to stand up in public and express my opinions."

OPEN DOOR PLEDGE
Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, in Fort Worth to open a campaign headquarters, confidently asserted, "We're leading this race and bordering on a victory without a runoff. The people of Texas appreciate the fact that I announced as a candidate last August without waiting to see who else was going to get into the contest."

Smith said he proposed an open door policy and "I will not be surrounded by a ring of bureaucracy."

Speaking at Arlington, John Hill proposed the minimum age for children to enter public schools be lowered to five years as part of a program to develop to lure tourists and industry. Briscoe likewise pledged himself "to take very active help to assist law enforcement agencies in making cities the safest in America."

BLASTS BETTING

Edward Whittenburg, campaigning at Muleshoe, said making it legal to bet on horse races in Texas, as some propose would increase the problem of coping with crime.

"Our crime problem is serious enough," Whittenburg went on, "without inviting organized crime into our state through pari mutual betting. Law enforcement in Texas is not geared to cope with the problems that would accompany legalized pari mutual betting."

A platform made public at Athens by Dolph Briscoe contained provisions for more pay and sick leave benefits for teachers, more vocational and technical education, steps to make highways safer, relief for traffic congestion in cities, development of state parks, solutions to air and water pollution troubles and increased efforts

BID TO WREST AN APOLOGY FROM LBJ?

Pueblo Crewmen Write Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say letters from captive Pueblo crewmen to their families at home appear a new North Korean bid to wrest an apology from President Johnson.

SUSPICIONS
Some relatives of crewmen, in telling Wednesday of receiving such letters, expressed suspicions they were written under North Korean supervision.

Catherine O'Bannon, wife of Michael O'Bannon, 21, a fireman on the intelligence vessel when it was captured Jan. 23 off North Korea's coast, said the letter she received repeatedly urged her to tell U.S. authorities the Pueblo violated the Communist nation's territorial waters.

Mrs. Warren Hayes of Columbus, Ohio, said the letter apparently written by her son, Radioman 2C Lee Hayes, described the Pueblo as an espionage ship spying in North Korean waters, asked the United States to admit this and apologize, and added:

"I ask you as my parents to do the same."
Officials in Washington noted such requests closely paralleled those in a letter—purportedly signed by all 82 surviving Pueblo crewmen—which North Korea made public earlier this month.

RADIO SILENCE
That letter, addressed to President Johnson, urged him to "frankly admit" the alleged violation and apologize.

The administration has declined to disclose what action might be taken in response to Top administration officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, have maintained that to the best of their knowledge the Pueblo did not penetrate North Korean waters.

At the same time they have conceded that since the ship was operating under radio silence for about 8 to 10 days before its capture, there might have been a territorial violation of which they weren't aware.

Several relatives of crewmen reported turning the letters over to the government and officials were reported studying them.

It was noted it was obvious the letters could not have been sent by the captive crewmen if the North Korean government hadn't wanted them sent.

PARIS POSTMARK
Some of the letters bore Paris and Marseille postmarks, which U.S. officials said indicated they may have been sent to France through North Korean or other diplomatic channels.

Mrs. Hayes said she was sure her son wrote the letter she received—but was equally certain it was written under supervision.

She noted it contained few misspelled words. "He never wrote that neatly and he misspelled a lot of little words," Mrs. Hayes said.

She added she intends to write the government as the letter suggested, seeking a U.S. apology.

"We just can't forget our son's over there—it's been buried too long. We must do something now," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Woelk, of Alta Vista, Kan., said the letter and a picture from

Thieu Increases Military Quota

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today South Vietnam's allies are increasing their military and economic commitment here to his country, and to share the sacrifice he has ordered 135,000 men be added to the South Vietnamese armed forces.

In a major policy speech, Thieu also itemized government plans to crack down on corruption, which he labeled "a shame for the whole nation and population." He announced the creation of new agencies for national planning and administrative reform.

"Our allies in the free world will give us more military and economic assistance," the president said. "But for our part, I think that we must make greater efforts and accept more sacrifices, because, as I have said many times, this is our country, the existence of our nation is at stake, and this is mainly a Vietnamese responsibility."

Thieu did not say what the increased allied aid would be. U.S. congressional sources in Washington say the White House plans to commit another 35,000 troops to Vietnam above the 525,000 now authorized. U.S. troop strength here at last official count was 509,000 men.

South Vietnam has already begun a partial mobilization to fill the expanded military quota. The program involves drafting 18- and 19-year-olds, recalling reservists and veterans and stopping discharges.

CORRUPTION CITED
The increase would bring South Vietnam's men under arms to 909,000, including both regulars and militiamen. The regular army, navy and air force now total 340,000 men, and the bulk of the 125,000 extras will be assigned to these forces. The United States will equip the new troops.

Turning to corruption, Thieu said he has given strict orders to close permanently "dancing bars and disguised nightclubs which are harmful to our good moral traditions and deprave our youth. The outdoor markets for smuggled and stolen goods (the black market) are to be closed."

Letter From Pueblo Crewman

Mrs. Mary L. Shilling holds a picture and a letter from her son, John A. Shilling, 21, a crewman from the USS Pueblo, captured Jan. 23 by the North Koreans. Mrs. Shilling said it was the first word she has had from her son, but isn't sure if he composed the letter. The letter was turned over to the Navy. She lives in Auburn Corners, Ohio, about 20 miles southeast of Cleveland.

Tower Says Fate Of F111B Hinges On Carrier Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower says the fate of the F111B—Navy version of the controversial TFX warplane—will hinge on tests of the swing-wing interceptor on aircraft carriers during April.

The Texas Republican, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, disagreed with reports the panel has all but decided even before the carrier tests to deny the Navy's request for $330 million to construct 20 F111Bs.

Tower instead said he thinks the "committee position is fluid right now."

FOUR PROPOSALS

The panel begins today considering the massive Navy procurement request, which includes the proposed F111B authorization.

Pentagon sources, in predicting earlier that the committee would ditch the plane, said the action could come even before the Navy engineers report next month on four contractor proposals to replace the F111B.

These sources said airborne maneuverability—rather than its ability to take off and land on carriers—is the main problem dogging the F111B. It reportedly weighs about 80,000 pounds, or about 20,000 more than Navy officials would prefer.

Two admirals testified at a recent hearing that had funds not already been spent on the F111B, they would recommend development of an entirely different plane.

APRIL EXAMS

The development of the F111 has been enmeshed in a political hotbed ever since former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara overruled the military and awarded the TFX contract to General Dynamics rather than to Boeing.

The first F111A fleet now is in Thailand, awaiting assignment in Vietnam. Air Force officials generally have praised the plane's performance.

The 30 F111Bs for the Navy would be built by Grumman Corp. at Long Island, N.Y., instead of by General Dynamics of Fort Worth, Tex. General Dynamics built the Air Force model.

In the past the Armed Services Committee has attempted to get its bill in shape for floor action by summer. It could thus delay consideration of specific proposals affecting the future of

Blood Clot Kills Son Of Famous Comedian

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Grey, an actress who married Charles Chaplin Jr., who tried but couldn't follow in the famous footsteps of his comedian father, is dead at 42.

A coroner reported he died Wednesday of a massive blood clot of a major blood vessel near the lungs, caused by thrombosis of the right leg.

PROUD OF NAME

Death came only one day after Chaplin had returned to his Hollywood home from a hospital where he was treated for pneumonia, pleurisy and a broken ankle. His grandmother found the body in a bathroom.

The actor never escaped from the shadow of his father, whose silent screen comedies still play in art theaters across the nation. But he said, in a way, he didn't want to escape.

"I've never thought about changing my name permanently," he said once. "A person should be proud of his family name. I'm proud of mine."

WRITES FATHER

Charles Jr., who made a few low-budget movies in the 1950s, lost a movie part in 1953 when his father threatened legal action if the son portrayed him in a movie based on the life of actor Jackie Coogan.

Chaplin's doctor said Chaplin worked on a letter to his father for a week in the hospital and mailed it Tuesday. The elder Chaplin, 78, hasn't been in the United States since 1952.

Chaplin Jr. was married and divorced twice. He met his first wife, actress Susan Magnus, at the Pasadena Playhouse. She later won custody of their daughter. His second wife was Mary Martha Brown, a nurse.

A LOVELIER YOU

Beauty Comes With Bath Preparations

By MARY SUE MILLER

Cleanliness is the first law of beauty. To get clean, people always have taken baths. But now bathing offers the most sophisticated kind of beauty care — extensions beyond the cleansing process.

Cosmetic preparations for a bath increase so fast these days as to cause confusion. This quick rundown on the basics is meant to help you find products best suited to your needs.

Perfumed Bubble Baths come in both liquid and powdered types. Besides luxurious froth, products offer special cleansing agents. As soap destroys bubbles on contact, a soak should precede sudsing.

Perfumed Bath Salts take the form of crystals and tablets. Preferred kinds soften hard water and increase the lathering power of soap.

Bath Oils are found in fluids, capsules, beads and sprays. Their fragrance clings and lasts many hours. Newest formulas permeate the water, the better to smooth and moisturize the skin. In 20 minutes of soaking, the skin absorbs a satisfactory amount of bath oil, when it is trickled into warm water. Bubbling bath oils, a fairly recent development, combine the features of bath oil and bubble bath, but in moderated degree.

Milk Baths are soothing emulsions formulated with milk protein.

The use of one such product would surely tune up your skin for the balmy days ahead.

YOUR GROOMING

Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for "Your Grooming—A to Z," a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and ped-care, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Gallina Bridge Group To Meet

The Gallina duplicate bridge group will meet at 10:30 a.m., Friday, at Big Spring Country Club. The regular duplicate games were held Wednesday at the club with Mrs. Robert Dyer and Mrs. Wally Slate placing first. Other winners were Mrs. Floyd Mays and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, second; Mrs. Jack Irons and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, third; and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. C. T. Pajot, fourth.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Save Money With Reconstituted Juice

Dear Heloise: In reply to a recent letter concerning plastic lemon juice containers... I buy only one plastic container and use it indefinitely by refilling it from a bottle of reconstituted lemon juice (which is less expensive than the little plastic lemon containers). Just enlarge the hole in the plastic container slightly. Pour lemon juice from the bottle into a cup. Squeeze the plastic lemon until the sides touch (expelling the air) and place it upside down in the cup of juice. The plastic lemon will slowly fill with juice. Mrs. A. W.

juice into the container directly from the bottle? The snap cap can be reinserted easily. Saves time and washing that extra cup you use. Heloise

Dear Heloise: I got tired of lifting my portable sewing machine so I bought a typewriter table. It's a perfect height and I can roll it around wherever I want to sew, then I just roll it into the closet when I have finished for the day. Betty C.

Dear Heloise: Recently I found a use for the baby blankets and fitted crib sheets which I no longer need. I use them in place of a regular ironing board cover. The blankets make excellent padding on my board and the crib sheets fit on top beautifully with the aid of two safety pins. Mary Louise

Dear Heloise: There was a lot of wasted space under my kitchen sink because there were no shelves. I measured the height of my tallest can and bottle of cleaning stuff and added three inches. Then had my husband cut two boards that high out of a plank. These boards are used as side braces on each side of the cabinet. From the same plank I got him to cut me a shelf that would go all the way across the cabinet under the sink and rest on the braces. The shelf can be nailed to the side braces or just let the weight of the stuff hold it in place. These are easy to make and put in. The best part is they can be changed or moved without any trouble because they are not nailed to the walls of the cabinet. Now the cabinet under my sink is neater and I can see what I have without moving 14 cans. Mrs. J. Krause

LETTER OF LAUGHTER Dear Heloise: I have a great way to clean bathroom tile. I just take my father's shaving cream and squirt it on the tile, then wipe it up with a damp cloth. But be sure to put the shaving cream back so you don't get caught. Penny

Dear Heloise: After cooking packaged puddings, put the pudding into the individual dishes and cover them with wax paper while they are still steaming. This will eliminate that rubbery top which some children dislike. A Reader

Dear Heloise: Some time ago you printed a hint to sew a small comb in the front of a hat to help keep it on. May I add my idea? If you make a small pin curl in your hair with a bobby then slip the tiny comb under the pin curl it will keep your hat even more secure. This also works extremely well for nurses' caps. Mrs. E. Bowen

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

PWOC Hear Program

Mrs. Charles Dennison correlated the coming of spring with "Christ re-awakening the believer's heart" during the Tuesday meeting of the Protestant Women of the Chapel at Webb Air Force Base. The subject was "To Believe, Or Not To Believe."

Mrs. Dennison presided and announced the area workshop to be held May 1 in the chapel annex. Chapel groups from three bases, Dyess AFB, Abilene, Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, and Reese AFB, Lubbock; will be guests at the workshop.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers.

Backpacking Info Sought

By ED SYERS. Where can a man backpack into our Hill Country? asks a trail-minded major from Universal City, near San Antonio. "As an old trail tramp (foot only)," says Maj. Francis L. Zimowski, 102 La Salle Pl., "I miss the opportunities for backpacking into the wilderness available in some prior states where I've resided. "While traveling by road through your Hill Country, I've seen so many beautiful areas for packing in. Yet fences and other barriers impede. Apparently ranchers and property owners don't take kindly to intrusion, even by careful nature lovers. Still, there's a lot of country up there, just beckoning to the back-packer. "WILDERNESS TRAIL. "My reason for writing is two-fold. First, does OBT have knowledge of anyone who might allow packing in? (I hope we find you one. I know no neater, more careful camper). "Second, what about a wilderness trail in the Hill Country similar to the famous old Appalachian of the eastern seaboard? Has there ever been a serious effort by any organization to provide such a trail across your Hill Country? My hope is the concept might capture the imagination of Texans who really love the outdoors."

(Maj. Zimowski is challenged by country roughly bounded by Kerrville, Fredericksburg, Sonora, Menard, Llano, Rock Springs, Leakey and across to Bandera. Now, what's the latest from you trail-seeking Sierra Clubbers?)

Financial Disclosure Plan Nixed By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. The Senate, following sometimes heated debate, voted 44 to 40 Wednesday against the full-disclosure plan sponsored by Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J. Among those voting for the plan was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., censured by the Senate last year for alleged financial misconduct. Senate leaders said that with the controversial Clark-Case proposal disposed of, they hoped for faster action today on other amendments to the financial

FRINGE BENEFIT FOR WORKERS

Lunch Vouchers Big Business In Britain

LONDON (AP) — It started as a bid to see that girl typists got a proper mid-day meal instead of splashing their money on lipsticks or stockings. Now it's big business and growing.

$28 MILLION — Lunch vouchers — chits from employers which employees can cash in for a meal — were used by an estimated 300,000 white-collar workers last year. The firm that provided this service reported a turnover of $28 million.

The British luncheon voucher has become a fringe benefit which many will not work without. It's practically a currency. Giant firms like the oil corporations, Ford, Cunard, Imperial Chemical Industries and the nalionalized steel companies use it. So do insurance firms, the Atomic Energy Authority, even religious bodies and the diplomatic corps; even little firms with a mere half-dozen employees.

TAX-FREE — Anyone can have them — from the lowest paid clerk to the managing director. The only rule — imposed by the Internal Revenue Department — is that a tax-free concession applies only to one three-shilling or 36-cent voucher per person per working day, and that it must be spent on a meal.

There's nothing to stop any company from issuing more expensive vouchers up to 10 shillings — $1.20 — but only three shillings of the amount may be charged against taxes.

The three-shilling voucher, pays for little more than a sandwich and a glass of milk today. Many workers say the amount is no longer enough. They have to make up the difference from their own pockets.

The business is the brainchild of John R. Hack, a 42-year-old former accountant who is managing director of Luncheon Vouchers Ltd.

World War II workers were well fed in factory canteens. After the war they demanded something equivalent from civilian firms.

offering luncheon subsidies. Soon nearly 9,000 firms were issuing vouchers in the form of printed, typed or handwritten chits or plastic discs — usually cashable at the nearest restaurant.

CASH REFUNDS

Hack got the idea of a central clearing house to issue a standard form of voucher and make refunds to restaurants on a nationwide basis.

His company was formed in 1955. The first year Hack had 500 customers. Then a consortium of nine of Britain's biggest catering firms took over and the thing snowballed when their restaurant chains were roped in.

Today more than 20,000 British and Irish business concerns give out luncheon vouchers. The original four per cent of voucher face value charged by Hack's company for the service has been cut to 1 1/4 per cent.

Bundles of vouchers, turned in by restaurants all over the British Isles, come into the headquarters of Luncheon Vouchers every day. The chits are checked by computer against forgery and redeemed with cash refunds within an average of three days.

Rich Entertainment Mix By Hope, Benny Fizzles

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Any evening of entertainment that has both Bob Hope and Jack Benny in their own acts is a rich entertainment mix, and so it was on NBC Wednesday.

By current standards of TV variety shows, each comedian starred in a program that would have passed muster as one of a weekly series. However, both programs were specials and in jokes, sketches and form, neither was outstanding.

'BONNIE AND CLYDE'

Hope popped into sight with a predictable volley of one liners directed at every presidential possibility in sight and New Hampshire received the kind of attention he usually reserves for California.

The sketches included one spoof of "Bonnie and Clyde." No variety show apparently can resist it. There was an exchange concerning golf with Arnold Palmer who may be a wizard of the links but demonstrated that he is something of a duffer when it comes to reading cue cards.

Benny, in his only special of the season, stuffed his show with celebrities. There were Lucille Ball and Johnny Carson as guest stars. There was also an assortment of quick sight gags starring an assortment ranging from the Smothers brothers to Dean Martin. Since Jack's show was more or less tied to a carnival theme, there was also a chance to insert a sword swallower and a fire eater.

Benny, of course, was the familiar character he has played for three decades of broadcasting — and so was Johnny Carson in a very funny impression of Mrs. Peep who played the son with Benny in a sketch. Lucille Ball had her comedy moments, dressed up in a slinky harem costume and singing a siren song about having a man around the house while surrounded by muscle men.

NOT FANCY FREE

Earlier on "The Avengers" of ABC, a surprise came in the very final moments of the weekly adventure of John Steed and Mrs. Emma Peel. Through all these seasons of summer replacements, it was understood that the swinging Mrs. Peel was a footloose if not exactly fancy free widow. Last night, her husband turned up. Instead of being dead in a plane crash, he was lost all these years in the jungle. So Mrs. Peel, a little regretfully, went obediently off to the joys of housewifery — and Miss Diana Rigg who played the part, was on her way back to the stage and movies.

The episode was concerned mostly with shooting people with a drug pellet that produced amnesia and with lots of fights, but it did introduce the new girl in Steed's life. She is a very pretty, wide-eyed brunette named Linda Thorsen and plays an agent named Tara King. She demonstrated at the outset that she is almost as good at hand-to-hand fighting as Mrs. Peel.

Fans of the droll series undoubtedly will take the switch-over in stride. The show is remarkable in the way it makes the most vicious evil-doing and prolonged slug fests seem part of a sprightly little comedy.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Break Up The Foursome

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I am in love with my best friend's husband. I'll call him "R." He loves me, too, but he also thinks the world of his wife and children.

I have a wonderful husband, and I could never hurt him. We also have children. I know that all "R" and I can ever hope for are a few stolen hours of happiness together, but that's better than nothing.

We know our love is wrong and we have tried staying away from each other, but we can't for long. "R" and my husband are very good friends, and "R's" wife is my best friend, so we four are always together. Our love is growing stronger all the time and it is making a nervous wreck out of me. But how can we stop? WAUKEGAN

DEAR WAUKEGAN: You will have to break up the foursome before you can break up the twosome. Your family or R's will have to move out of town. And the sooner the better. And the farther, the healthier.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that when folks ask a clergyman to officiate at a wedding, or a funeral, or any other occasion where the services of a clergyman are required, they tell him to please make it "short and sweet"?

Most folks are in such a big hurry nowadays they don't even want to take time to make a ceremony official.

IRKED IN ITHACA DEAR IRKED: If you have ever been victimized by a clergyman who took advantage of a captive audience while performing a "service," you would not have asked that question. If you haven't, you're lucky.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't advise me to ask the man down at the bank because he'll probably think this is a very dumb question for a grown woman to ask.

After being a widow for one year I married again. My first husband handled all the finances and I never wrote a check out in my life. (I didn't even know how.) My lawyer wanted to make sure nobody took advantage of me (not even my new husband), so he suggested we get a JOINT CHECKING account, which we did.

My question is, does a check have to have BOTH signatures on it to be good? All the money is mine, so why should I have to chase all over town to find my husband and get HIS signature on a check if I want to draw some money out of our account? On the other hand, if only one signature is necessary, that means my husband could go ahead and draw out any amount he wants without MY signature. So where does the protection for me come in? Thank you.

DEAR BEWILDERED: No question is "dumb." Certainly not this one. In the case of a JOINT CHECKING ACCOUNT, only one signature is necessary. However, in special cases, if arrangements are made at the bank specifying that BOTH signatures are necessary, your husband's signature will not be valid without yours. Since all the money is yours and you want "protection," why not ask your banker to honor YOUR signature on a check, but not your husband's unless yours accompanies his?

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Attorney General Avoids Liquor-By-Drink Squabble

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has sidestepped the Texas liquor-by-the-drink squabble by refusing to issue an opinion on the constitutionality of Gov. John Connally's mixed drink measure.

Martin cited a 1939 opinion on the matter by then-Atty. Gen. Gerald Mann and said he was "quite reluctant" to overrule earlier opinions unless court interpretations or fact situations have changed.

UNANSWERED

Mann's opinion, however, appears to leave unanswered the question of whether the governor's specific proposal is constitutional.

The attorney general's refusal was expressed in a letter from Asst. Atty. Gen. Hawthorne Phillips, chairman of the opinion committee, to Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria. Cory heads a special House subcommittee studying the liquor control act in the wake of allegations that state liquor laws have been enforced improperly. The letter was dated Tuesday.

There has been speculation of the committee might recommend a liquor-by-the-drink law.

'OPEN SALOON'

Cory specifically asked whether the definition of open saloon in the liquor by the drink bill submitted to the legislature by Gov. John Connally last year was constitutional.

The state constitution prohibits the open saloon but empowers the legislature to define the term. Connally's liquor by the drink bill would have defined open saloon to mean any place devoted exclusively to the sale of mixed drinks for on-premises consumption. Only hotels, private clubs, restaurants, lodges and excursion boats would have been allowed to sell mixed drinks.

"Should the legislature decide to redefine the term 'open saloon,' we believe that the courts of this state would, of necessity rather than this office, be the proper forum to determine the constitutionality of the new definition," the letter said.

Police Helpless

DALLAS (AP)—There wasn't much the law could do about it, although it was an accident. A pedestrian died.

James Earnhart told officers he was walking and bumped into another pedestrian. He was taken to a hospital for treatment of whiplash of his neck.

Cary Grant Took Weekly 'Trips' On LSD, Wife Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pretty blonde wife of actor Cary Grant says he took weekly "trips" on LSD for the past 10 years and tried to persuade her to try the drug.

"SCREAMING FITS" Dyan Cannon, 30, seeking a divorce from the 64-year-old actor, testified Wednesday that he beat her and had frequent "yelling and screaming fits."

The actress returns to court today continuing her effort to prove that Grant is an unfit father for their two-year-old daughter, Jennifer. She is challenging his right to visit his only child.

Miss Cannon, who said she married Grant after knowing him more than five years, said he told her he had used the hallucinatory drug LSD for 10 years. During the six years she knew him, she said, "on those occasions when he took LSD, I was with him."

During his "trips" she said a doctor was present only once. Twice before their marriage, Miss Cannon said she took the drug too but never after they married.

"FIRST MARRIAGE" "He once told me I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown," she said, "and he hoped I would have it so the new me would be a wonderful me."

"He wanted the new me to be created through the use of LSD."

The marriage was the first for Miss Cannon, a native of Seattle, Wash. She had appeared in several films and television shows before she became Grant's fourth wife in a secret ceremony at Las Vegas, Nev., July 22, 1965. Their daughter was born Feb. 22, 1966, and the couple separated Dec. 28, 1966. She filed suit for divorce last August.

The debonair actor was married three times previously—to Virginia Cherrill, Barbara Hutton and Betsy Drake.

Grant was in St. John's Hospital, New York City, recovering from two fractured ribs and face cuts suffered March 12 in a car-truck crash. He was under doctor's orders not to have visitors or a radio in his room and was expected to remain in the hospital until this weekend.

In 1960 a psychotherapist, Dr. Mortimer Hartman, told newsmen that Grant had helped in tests involving lysergic acid diethylamide, or LSD.

'A BROKEN HEART'

Grant's attorneys introduced testimony from two psychiatrists who examined him last fall. Dr. Stanley L. Pomer, said he found no evidence of erratic behavior in the actor. The other, Dr. Judd Marmor, said he thought Grant was "an emotional individual, but I have often seen that in actors." He said he found no evidence of damage from LSD.

Miss Cannon is asking that Grant be prohibited from seeing their daughter Jennifer overnight unless a nurse is present because "he is an unstable person."

Miss Cannon, who has asked for $5,740 monthly support, said she wants to hire a chauffeur to live with her and the child because "Jennifer is a highly publicized baby and I worry for her safety. I'd like to have a male on the premises."

Among her expenses she listed two sessions per week with a psychiatrist at $60 per hour. One of Grant's attorneys asked whether Miss Cannon is bothered "by any particular problem."

"Yes," she replied, "a broken heart."

MRS. ROBERT F. PENNER

While Family Sleeps, The Baker Is Busy!

By RHODA LEMONS
Mrs. Robert F. Penner enjoys doing her baking at night when the household is asleep. At these times, she usually bakes three or four different varieties of desserts and stores them in the freezer.

Mrs. Penner lives at 2610 Carol with her husband and son, Kevin, a seventh-grader at Gold Junior High School. They have a daughter, Kandy, who is a senior at the University of Texas.

"Two things I would find it most difficult to live without are my food freezer and my dishwasher," said Mrs. Penner. Her family does not care for leftovers even if they become "planned-overs," so Mrs. Penner proportions what is not eaten at one meal into individual serving dishes and freezes them for later use or when company arrives unexpectedly.

Penner is petroleum and evaluator engineer in the Production Department of American Petroleum. The family moved here from Dallas a little over a year ago. They recently changed residences, and Mrs. Penner has been busy selecting draperies and refinishing furniture.

Blues and greens with accents of orange are the color tones most predominate in the home. Mrs. Penner said that she likes pinks and reds, but found that her husband could not live comfortably with those colors.

Mrs. Penner prepares three meals a day, and her husband believes that the family should be together at the evening meal. Mrs. Penner serves the main meal in the evening and a light lunch for herself and her husband.

The Penners like best to entertain in groups of eight or 20. They have seated dinners for the smaller group and buffet dinners for the larger number. Her cookbooks feature exotic dishes of Italian, Mexican and Chinese cuisine; however, for everyday varieties, the family prefers the more simple American dishes.

Mrs. Penner does mending, needlepoint, crocheting and knitting, and is presently working on needlepoint pictures. Her daughter is the "real" seamstress in the family and makes many of her college clothes. She learned to sew in home economics classes in high school.

Cake decorating is another hobby of Mrs. Penner's. She tries any new decorations she can invent or find, and her husband has been known to leave "desolate" notes in the cookie jar if he finds it empty for any period of time.

The Penners golf on occasion and both enjoy yard work. Mrs. Penner is a member of the 1955 Hyperion Club, and enjoys playing bridge.

It is through a church program that Mrs. Penner is instructing an adult education course. She has three students who are learning to read and write English. The course is free and usually lasts about one year. Mrs. Penner has had six years of Spanish and speaks it fluently.

Spareribs And Sauce Are Tasty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Who doesn't go for fresh pork spareribs splashed with a spicy-sweet sauce and barbecued over charcoal? It is practically un-American not to celebrate these.

But we have news for you. You don't have to spend long hours tending the ribs over the fire. You can cook them ahead in a good old kettle, saucapot, Dutch oven—or whatever you call a big pot with small handles—and marinate them in the rich spice-laden sauce. Just before your family and friends are ready to pick a rib, you broil the spareribs over charcoal.

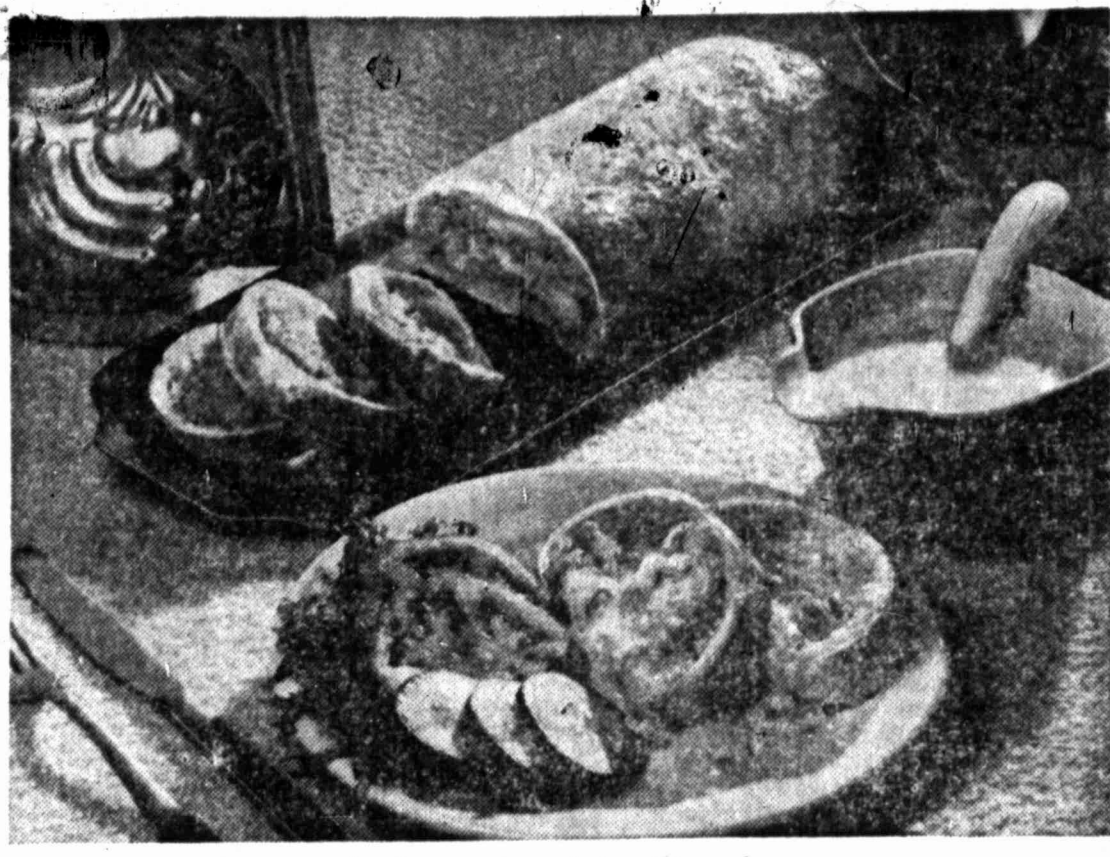

What goes into the sauce? Lots of good things like dark brown sugar, prepared yellow mustard, tomato sauce, Worcestershire, onion and pepper. Easy to put together, too. The result: a sauce with a just-thick-enough consistency to stick to the ribs. We think you'll call this rib-picking mighty good eating.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS
3 lbs. fresh pork spareribs
1 medium onion, peeled
1/2 tsp. whole cloves (about 10)
1/4 tsp. peppercorns (about 20)
2 1/2 tsp. salt
3 cups water
1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1/4 cup prepared yellow mustard

1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 to 2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 medium onion, minced (about 1/4 cup)
Freshly ground pepper (about 1/4 tsp.)
Small pinch cayenne pepper
Have meat cut the racks in half, crosswise, making 2 short ribs out of each long rib. Now cut ribs into individual pieces. Place in a large kettle; add onion, cloves, peppercorns, 2 teaspoons of the salt and the water; bring to a boil; cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Drain ribs and place in one layer in a large shallow dish. Meanwhile, prepare barbecue sauce. In a saucapot stir together the sugar, mustard, tomato sauce, Worcestershire, onion, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper and cayenne. Bring to a boil; simmer 5 minutes. (Makes about 1 1/3 cups sauce.) Add sauce to ribs and turn to coat thoroughly. Cover and refrigerate for at least 3 hours, longer if you like.

Place marinated ribs on grill 3 to 4 inches above medium hot charcoal and grill 3 to 5 minutes on each side or until ribs are hot and beginning to brown around the edges. Do not overcook or ribs will dry out. Makes 3 main dish servings or 6 to 9 appetizer servings.

Note: Recipe is easily doubled. If there is any sauce left over in bottom of marinating dish, reserve for use another time. Store for a short time covered, in refrigerator.

Leftovers Are Good

When there's cooked chicken or turkey left over, you can use it in a hearty biscuit roll for the family. Also, stop apologizing for leftovers, they can be delicious and nutritious.

Flavors Truly 'Wedded' Second Time Around

Some food writers go too far. They urge women to call leftovers "planned-overs" and to plan religiously ahead for their use. What nonsense!

What's wrong with leftovers? Why does their name have to be changed? Leftovers have been with us since man first tossed a hunk of meat on the fire and he and the cavechildren hanging around — to say nothing of the cavechildren — couldn't gobble it all up. Undoubtedly whatever meat was left over was used for the next feast — and no great planning was involved.

Leftovers they've always been. Until some smart kitchen clinicians started twisting the name around. So let's hue to tradition and leave them alone. Leftovers are great because you can make good dishes with them. You don't have to apologize for them and you don't have to plan for them. All you have to do is to choose a recipe or invent one, that intelligently uses whatever leftovers you happen to have around.

Why do we feel so strongly about not forcing leftovers to be planned-overs?

We'd rather see the family enjoy all the roast chicken they want when the bird first appears on the table than have to worry about holding back so there will be enough left over for another meal. Next day let them eat beans.

So now to our leftover dish—chicken or turkey roll. If there isn't any chicken left over to use in this roll, save the recipe and use it next time you have turkey. We've never yet seen the roast turkey that didn't allow the family to have all they want and still yield a couple of cups of meat for another dish.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY ROLL
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 small onion, peeled and finely chopped
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1 tsp. flour
1/2 cup milk
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. aromatic bitters
2 cups knife-chopped (fine) cooked chicken or turkey
2 cups commercial biscuit mix
1/4 tsp. ground poultry seasoning
2-3 cup milk

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat, melt the butter; add onion and celery; cook, stirring often, until onion is golden. Stir in flour; add 1/2 cup milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in the salt, aromatic bitters and chicken; set aside to cool while preparing biscuit dough.

In a small bowl, with a fork, mix together the biscuit mix and poultry seasoning; add the 2-3 cup milk and stir to form a dough. Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth; with a prepared stockinet covered rolling pin, roll out to an exact 10 by 10-inch square. Spread with the chicken mixture. Roll up tightly. Place, seam side down, on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Brush top with extra milk. Bake in a 400-degree oven until golden brown — 35 minutes or longer. Serve hot, cut into crosswise slices, with a favorite sauce. Makes six servings.

Note: If you want to make a richer biscuit mixture than the one given above, do it this way. Turn two cups biscuit mix and 1/4 teaspoon ground poultry seasoning into a mixing bowl. With a pastry blender cut in two tablespoons butter until it is the size of small peas. Add 1-3 cup light cream and 1-3 cup milk; with a fork, stir to form a dough. Proceed as directed in recipe.

Let cool completely. Place cold cake in shallow dish. Prick. Combine corn syrup and rum; pour over cake. Let stand overnight, turning once. Whip cream and decorate top with it; sprinkle with grated chocolate. Serve with extra whipped cream if you like.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

By Mrs. Robert F. Penner

CHICKEN AND SPAGHETTI

5 lb. hen
3 boxes spaghetti
1/4 lb. butter
3 medium bell peppers
Salt and pepper to taste
2 small onions
2 cans golden mushroom soup
2 large can tomatoes

Cook hen the day before by boiling with onion and garlic. Two canned chickens may be used. Save juice to cook spaghetti. Bone and chop chicken. Strain juice. Add water to juice, salt, bring to a boil and cook three boxes of spaghetti. While spaghetti is cooking, put butter in skillet, add chopped pepper, onion, and saute. Add soup to onion and pepper and turn off fire as soon as soup is heated through.

Laver into a casserole the spaghetti, chicken, onion and mixture, then add chopped tomatoes and salt and pepper to taste.

Bake in moderate, 300 degree oven until crusty. (About 35 minutes). Serves 12.

Serve with cabbage slaw and French bread.

CABBAGE SLAW

1 medium cabbage, grated
1 medium onion, chopped fine
1 large bell pepper
4 hard boiled eggs, chopped
2 tbsps. olive oil
3 tbsps. vinegar
3 tbsps. sugar
Pinch of salt, pepper
Celery seeds

Combine the first four ingredients and refrigerate until ready to serve. Mix olive oil, vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper and pour over slaw at the table. (If celery seeds are added prior to serving, flavor is changed or spoiled).

REAL SOUTH SHRIMP GUMBO

Boney parts of two small chickens
1 fat slice of ham (about 1/4 lb.)
1 garlic button
Tops of one stalk of celery
1 large pkg. sliced frozen okra
1 medium can of crab meat
1 pt. chopped oysters (use kitchen shears)
1 lb. cleaned, deveined frozen shrimp

Cook chicken parts with garlic button and celery tops. Cut up chicken, discard celery tops and garlic, and reserve broth and chicken.

Fry fat ham slice and saute onions in fat. Add onions to chicken broth, then fry thinly

EGGPLANT CASSEROLE

5 lbs. eggplant, peeled and sliced
1/2 lb. longhorn cheese, grated
20 saltine crackers, crumbled
2 medium onions chopped fine
2 eggs, beaten lightly
Salt and pepper to taste

Boil eggplant until tender (about five minutes), drain gently. Mix eggplant and all other ingredients tenderly in order not to mash eggplant. Pour into casserole and dot with butter. Bake about 20-25 minutes at 350 degrees, long enough to cook egg and soften onion.

BAKED TOMATOES WITH BROCCOLI

8 medium tomatoes
1/2 cup wild rice
3 cups finely chopped sweet Spanish onions
1 cup chopped canned mushrooms in butter
6 slices crisp bacon, broken into bits
2 pkgs. frozen broccoli
Slice off tops of tomatoes, scoop out centers leaving thick wall. Cook rice in boiling salted water for exactly 25 minutes. (Put on in cold water, and when it starts to boil watch the clock.) Drain.

Cook onions and mushrooms in a little bacon fat until soft but not brown. Add bacon and cooked rice. Season with salt and pepper, mix with a fork. Stuff tomatoes with this mixture, heaping high, bake 20 minutes in 350 degree oven until tomatoes are soft. Serve on bed of steaming broccoli, cooked according to package directions.

ELEGANT CHERRY PIE

1 can condensed milk
7 tbsps. lemon juice
1 large can Bing cherries, drained and quartered
1/2 pt. whipped cream
1 cup pecans, broken into bits
1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs

Add lemon juice to condensed milk, then add cherries. Fold in whipped cream, chopped pecans. Place half the vanilla wafer crumbs in bottom of a 10-inch glass pie plate. Pour milk mixture over crumbs and top

GINGERBREAD WAFFLES

1 cup sifted flour
1 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. each salt and soda
2-3 cup sour cream
1 tsp. baking powder
2 eggs
3 tbsps. sugar
1-3 cup dark molasses
1 No. 2 1/2 can sliced pineapple
Sift dry ingredients except sugar. Beat eggs; add sugar gradually, beat. Add molasses and sour cream, mix into dry ingredients until flour is just moistened. Bake on hot waffle iron and serve with pineapple slices and whipped cream. Serves six.

CHOCOLATE WAFFLES

2 cups sifted flour
4 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
3 tbsps. cocoa
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs, separated
1 1/4 cups milk
1/2 cup melted butter
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix in order listed. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, fold in last. Cook on hot waffle iron. This is a tender batter. Be sure steam has stopped before lifting lid on waffle iron to remove.

TOLL HOUSE CUPCAKES

1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 egg
1 6-oz. pkg. chocolate chips
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Combine in bowl brown sugar, egg, salt, and beat until very thick. Stir in chocolate chips, nuts and vanilla. Spoon one tablespoon topping over each cupcake and return to oven. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes. (Watch closely so they don't burn on bottom.) Yield: 16 cupcakes.

PIZZA-STYLE MEAT PIE

1 lb. lean ground beef
1 medium onion, peeled and finely chopped
1 can (15 oz.) or 2 cans (each 8 oz.) tomato sauce with tomato bits
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tbsps. minced fresh parsley
1 tsp. dried crumbled oregano
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell with high fluted rim

4 oz. mozzarella cheese, sliced
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat a 10-inch skillet; add the beef and onion; cook over moderately low heat (without added fat), using a fork to crumble meat into tiny particles, until beef loses its red color. Remove from heat and pour off any fat that has accumulated over top. Sprinkle the generous amount of Parmesan over all. Bake in a 400-degree oven until crust is golden brown — 25 minutes. Let stand for five minutes or so (for filling to "settle") before cutting. Makes four to six servings.

Note: If you use rich enough pastry dough, the crust should brown in the time given. To help have the bottom crust as crisp as possible, some cooks often bake pies on the rack below the center one of the oven.

Treat Your Family To A Meat Pie Supper

Even imaginative cooks tell us that they're hard put to it not to keep serving "the same old thing" for dinner. They ask for main-dish recipes that are "different."

So here we go. Cooks are inclined to neglect meat pies. We think they make delicious offerings for supper and recommend them in particular because they are filling enough to satisfy even a regular meat-and-potatoes guy.

Here's the latest recipe of this kind we have tried; this one features an interesting new tomato sauce. All our tasters enjoyed the pie.

PIZZA-STYLE MEAT PIE
1 lb. lean ground beef
1 medium onion, peeled and finely chopped
1 can (15 oz.) or 2 cans (each 8 oz.) tomato sauce with tomato bits
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tbsps. minced fresh parsley
1 tsp. dried crumbled oregano
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell with high fluted rim

Serve Cake Continental On Occasion

A sophisticated cake dessert to serve to discriminating guests.

CONTINENTAL CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 1/4 cups sifted regular flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup milk
1-3 cup corn oil
2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
3/4 cup dark corn syrup
1/4 cup rum
2-3 cup heavy cream
Grated semi-sweet chocolate

Grease a 9-inch round layer-cake pan; line with wax paper. In a large mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in brown sugar. In a small mixing bowl beat together the egg yolks, milk, corn oil, melted chocolate and vanilla; mix into dry ingredient beating until blended.

With clean beater in a small or medium mixing bowl, beat egg whites until stiff; fold into cake batter. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a 375-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 30 to 35 minutes.

Let cool completely. Place cold cake in shallow dish. Prick. Combine corn syrup and rum; pour over cake. Let stand overnight, turning once. Whip cream and decorate top with it; sprinkle with grated chocolate. Serve with extra whipped cream if you like.

Vegetable Tip

To top broccoli or brussels sprouts, thin mayonnaise with a white wine or lemon juice and milk; add sliced (unblanched) almonds.

The bidding:

2♠ Pass 3♠ Pass
4♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♣. West opened the nine of hearts against South's four spade contract. Dummy covered with the ten and when East ducked North held the trick. The five of clubs was led, East put up the ace and shifted to a trump. South played the queen of spades which lost to West's king. There was a slight temptation to play the ace of diamonds at this point for, if that card lived, West was assured of enough tricks to set the contract—two spades, one club, and one diamond. However, if declarer was void in diamonds, an attempt to cash the ace of that suit might prove fatal to the defense. Further reflection led West to the conclusion that his partner probably would not have released the ace of clubs so readily unless he held additional strength in that suit. West accordingly decided to follow East's line of defense by leading another spade to cut down the dummy's ruffing power. In returning a trump, West carefully selected the ten of spades for his lead, even though he thereby temporarily surrendered his second trick in the suit. He reasoned that, if South subsequently ruffed out a club with North's nine of spades—it would promote West's eight to winning rank, and he would at least break even in the exchange.

South won the spade return with the jack and immediately ruffed a club in dummy. He returned to his hand with the ace of hearts and drew another trump with the queen of spades. He now attempted to split out the remaining clubs by cashing the king of that suit. West ruffed in, however, with the eight of spades and East took the setting trick subsequently with the queen of clubs.

Observe that West must return the ten of spades at trick five to assure declarer's defeat. If he returns a small card instead, South can win the trick with the seven of spades and after ruffing a club, he can return to the ace of hearts, draw the remaining trumps and concede one more club trick to East. In all, he loses only two clubs and one spade.

Nunez Loses His Probation

Joe A. Nunez, under 10-year-probated sentence for shoplifting, will have to serve the time in prison. His probation was revoked by Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court Wednesday afternoon. The court was told he had been arrested since the probation had been allowed him for another shoplifting offense.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, had filed a motion asking that the probation be set aside and the man taken to the state penitentiary to serve the 10 years. The evidence offered Wednesday afternoon was to prove that Nunez had taken two cartons of cigarettes from the Safeway store. He was ordered into custody of the sheriff, pending removal to the Huntsville prison.

Another proposed revocation of probation fell by the wayside.

E. E. Banks who is under a 10-year probated sentence for assault with intent to murder, had been recently accused of selling liquor illegally. The complaint was made by an undercover agent for the Texas Liquor Control Board. On the basis of this complaint, Burns had moved to have Bank's probation revoked.

When the undercover agent was brought to a lineup, in which Banks was one of the participants, it was said he could not identify the defendant. Burns had to cancel his petition for revocation.

Is This Supposed To Be Good Deal?

DALLAS (AP) — There was a long-ago time when airline stewardesses escorted passengers from planes with umbrellas when heavy rains fell.

Now, Love Field has installed eight gates at the second-story level which permit passengers to board planes across a little adjustable bridge without going into the rain.

Hot Pursuit Fish Law Requested

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — The Lake Texoma Association has asked Oklahoma and Texas for a "hot pursuit fish law" for the reservoir.

They say one of the most frequent complaints is that a fisherman is picked up when he crosses the imaginary state dividing line while in hot pursuit of a school of surfacing sand bass.

The association wants a license from either state to be legal when a fisherman is in such hot pursuit.
