DEADLINE

Millions File Income Tax Returns Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Midnight tonight is the deadline for filing 1967 income tax returns and the government estimates 18 million Americans waited until the past weekend to do it.

To meet the legal deadline, returns must be postmarked by midnight but the rules have been stretched for persons affected by last week's racial violence, including police, firemen and National Guardsmen called to duty.

May File Late

Persons whose records were lost or destroyed in the violence or were prevented from obtaining help in preparing their returns because of curfews or related conditions may file late returns. But they must be filed as soon as possible and accompanied by letters explaining the circumstances and reasons for the delay.

The usual penalty for late filing — five per cent monthly of the taxes due up to a maximum of 25 per cent — will not be assessed but the interest must be paid — one half of one per cent of the taxes due.

Last Contingent

The Internal Revenue Service estimated that at least 5.2 million taxpayers will file returns today, the last contingent of 18 million who had not acted by Friday. But the IRS added that three out of four taxpayers sent their returns in earlier.

By midnight tonight, about 60 million individual returns will have been filed, the agency said. IRS expects the total to reach a record 73.2 million by June.

Recount Gets Started

Recounting the 3,120 votes cast in the April 2 city election got started this morning by the three members of special committee named by the Big Spring City Commission.

John Currie is chairman of the recount committee, which includes Mrs. Ivelle Marr and William J. (Bill) Sheppard. They were appointed last week by Mayor Arnold Marshall, after the commission received a request by Mrs. Mary Thomas for a recount of the election returns. Canvassed returns of the election gave Mrs. Thomas 1,235 votes, just 13 behind the winners. Marshall received 1,405 votes, Jimmy Morehead received 1,255 votes, and Walter Stroup received 1,251. These three incumbents were re-elected.

On hand to watch the committee at work this morning were Mrs. Thomas, her husband, attorney George Thomas, Marshall, Stroup, Morehead, Eddie Acrl, who ran fifth in the race with 947 votes, City Secretary Charles Smith, and City Attorney Tom Hickaby.

There was no indication this morning how long it might take the committee to complete its work.

Dump Grounds Moved

The City of Big Spring is moving its dump ground, and opening the new sanitary landfill demonstration project, which is being partially financed by a federal grant.

Ernest Lillard, public works director, said the city trucks began using the new site, across IS 20 from the Cosden refinery, today. It will be opened to the public next Monday, he said. Residents carrying trash are asked to continue using the grounds on North Birdwell Lane this week.

The new grounds will be open from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily, except it will close at 3 p. m. on Saturdays and be closed all day Sundays, Lillard said. The entrance will be east of the union hall on the south service road of IS 20.

The city received a federal grant of $95,710 for a three-year period.

Sputniks Link Up

MOSCOW (AP) — Two unmanned Soviet Sputniks automatically linked up in orbit today, circled together for three hours and 50 minutes and then separated.

The duplication of a Soviet feat first accomplished last Oct. 30 came amid indications that the Soviet Union soon will be ready to make its first manned space flight since cosmonaut Vladimir M. Komarov died in the crash of Soyuz 1 last April 24.

Cosmos 212, launched Sunday "to test new systems and elements of the design of spacecraft," docked in orbit with Cosmos 213, which was blasted aloft later.

This duplicated the feat of Cosmos 186 and 188 last Oct. 30. The unmanned docking was believed by experienced observers here to be in preparation for manned linkups in space. The four cosmos satellites involved all followed the same orbital paths as the ill-fated Soyuz 1 spaceship, which crashed last April 24, killing cosmonaut Vladimir M. Komarov.

Komarov was believed then to have been testing a new spaceship designed for space docking. The Soviet Union has yet to accomplish this with manned vehicles, although the United States first did it 2½ years ago.

Cosmos 186 and 188 stayed together in orbit for 3½ hours. Then they separated and came down to separate soft landings.

Courts Clogged With Violators

By The Associated Press

Courts are engaged in processing thousands of arrests made during the looting, arson and violence that followed the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Hundreds are still in jail.

Hundreds have been fined, mostly for curfew violations. Many have received suspended sentences. Others remain free in jail pending trial on charges ranging from looting and arson to first-degree murder.

CONVICTIONS

In Baltimore, about 5,800 persons were arrested. Of 3,466 cases tried, 2,193 convictions resulted, mostly for curfew violations. Fines ranged from $5 to $300. Probation cases totaled 389. Many cases involving looting and arson await grand jury action.

Washington reported 5,500 arrests, including 4,400 curfew violations. Persons charged with curfew violations have been told they can avoid trial by posting $25 bond. The remaining cases deal with looting, arson, and other more serious charges.

Chicago arrest figures exceed 2,800, with an estimated 500 persons remaining in jail.

Bonds for 207 persons arrested in looting and arson cases were reduced Sunday in a special Easter session of circuit court. A total of 283 cases were heard.

Previously more than 2,000 were released on bond, plus some juveniles who were turned over to their parents. Most of the Chicago arrests were for disorderly conduct, curfew violations, burglary and looting.

Cases in other cities include: CINCINNATI — Total of 260 persons arrested, including 54 juveniles. Charges include curfew violations and possession of fire bombs. Three persons have been charged with first-degree murder, one for manslaughter, two for assault with a deadly weapon, and one for inciting to riot.

NEW YORK CITY — About 400 arrests, with disorders minor compared with those in other cities. All cases are being processed in courts of the city's five boroughs.

KANSAS CITY—About 160 in jail in lieu of bonds of $50,000 to $100,000 awaiting hearings on felony charges arising from riots. Courts also have 122 misdemeanor cases, such as curfew violations, on docket. About 20 persons pleaded guilty to curfew violations and were fined $15 to $25. Other cases have been continued.

Political Caution Earmarks Meeting Of Governors Today

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Democratic governors talk some presidential politics today, and agents for the party's White House contenders already are at work, hunting support for their men.

But it seemed unlikely that any of the three top prospects for the nomination President Johnson shunned would make much headway at the brief private session.

16 TO ATTEND

At least 16 of the 24 Democratic governors were to attend the party's governors' conference at a downtown hotel, but in general they seemed to have only one thing in common: political caution.

The advance talk was of uncommitted delegations and favorite son candidacies.

Political strategists representing the camps of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who hasn't yet announced his candidacy, all were on hand to argue the case for their candidates.

But only governors were to be admitted to the conference itself.

Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox, who supports George C. Wallace for president, said in advance he would seek backing for the Alabamian.

Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis of Maine announced he would break into a Florida vacation to attend the meeting as a Kennedy man.

Nine of the governors due to attend were from Southern border states. And in some of those states there were signs of Humphrey support.

Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana and Gov. Mills E. Godwin of Virginia have said Humphrey would be more to the liking of their states than the other two contenders.

Godwin said Sunday night that it was "a fair interpretation" to say that a majority of the governors do not favor Kennedy. But he also said that many governors intend to try to take uncommitted delegations to the Democratic National Convention.

An Associated Press survey in advance of the St. Louis conference showed that 10 governors who had been expected to work for Johnson's renomination have now joined the uncommitted.

It was clear that many of the governors want to see what happens in those primaries before pronouncing their presidential choices. Kennedy and McCarthy are the contestants; Humphrey does not plan to enter any primaries.

The next contest matches one

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The owner of a boarding house said today he had identified a drawing of a man sought in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as a roomer known by the name Eric Galt.

"It's him, I'm sure," said Peter Cherpes, 72, who runs a boarding house on Birmingham's South Side. Cherpes consented to talk after the FBI responded to his request to be released from a secrecy pledge.

Cherpes said FBI agents showed him drawings about last Wednesday, or two days before a car registered in the name of Eric Starvo Galt was found abandoned in Atlanta. The car, a white Mustang with an Alabama license tag, matched the description of a car seen leaving the assassination scene in Memphis, Tenn., where King was shot April 4.

Cherpes was shown a newspaper artist's drawing of the assassin today and he said it was much like the drawings exhibited by federal agents. Cherpes said the sketches "looked exactly like Galt."

The man known as Eric Starvo Galt has become the object of a widening search by FBI agents, who have been contacting persons with the same name or similar names from Virginia to Florida and sifting through dozens of stores and businesses in Birmingham for clues to the missing man.

Galt rented a room from him, Cherpes said, last fall, at about the time the hunted man obtained an Alabama driver's license.

He also purchased with cash a white Mustang from a Birmingham car salesman. He listed his occupation as merchant seaman, unemployed.

Johnson Heads For Hawaii, Talks With Park, Chiefs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson ended a relaxed Easter weekend at his ranch and headed today for Honolulu for talks with South Korea's president and with U.S. military chiefs in the Pacific area.

The plane bearing the presidential party left Bergstrom Air Force Base at 9:22 a. m. (CST) for the flight of about eight hours to Hawaii.

VANCE JOINS

A last-minute addition to the party was Cyrus R. Vance, a former deputy secretary of defense on whom Johnson frequently calls for special assignments.

It was Vance whom Johnson dispatched to South Korea following the Jan. 23 seizure by North Korea of the U.S. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo. President Chung Hee Park and other officials in Seoul protested that they were excluded from U.S. - North Korean talks of Panmunjon over return of the vessel, and Vance sought to reassure them.

Park has been reported fearful the United States might not remain steadfast in its long-standing resolve to help protect his country against any incursions from Communist North Korea.

Besides offering reassurances of this score, Johnson will be urging Park to go ahead with plans to commit another South Korean division to the war in Vietnam, where about 50,000 Korean troops are fighting. The United States regards the extra division as vitally needed.

Should Park cancel the plan to dispatch the additional men, the gap might have to be filled with still more American manpower.

Johnson also will be talking with Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, retiring commander-in-chief, Pacific, and Sharp's top aides. The President and the admiral met at Camp David, Md., only last week.

Expected to join the military confab was Adm. John S. McCain, now commander of U.S. naval forces in Europe and slated to succeed Sharp in July.

Johnson planned to speak on his arrival at Honolulu International Airport. Then he was to go by motorcade to the Iolani Palace, where Democratic Gov. John Burns has his office.

CEREMONIAL

Press secretary George Christian said today's schedule in Hawaii would be largely ceremonial. The meeting with Sharp and McCain comes Tuesday, and Johnson is due to meet with Park on Wednesday.

INTEREST UP

In Peace Plan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Arab interest in a plan to demilitarize Israeli-occupied Arab territories, reported to have been proposed by U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring, has created "an exciting chance" of peace settlement, informed sources in Amman say.

Diplomatic activity reached a new peak in the Jordanian capital over the weekend and it was reported that the proposal was under active and favorable consideration by Jordan and Egypt.

Israeli foreign ministry officials said they had not heard of the plan and could not comment.

AMBUSH

Jarring is reported to have suggested to leaders during his trips around the Middle East that Israeli troops withdraw from the west bank of the Jordan River, the Sinai Peninsula and Syria's Golan Heights—all occupied during the war last June—and the Arabs in return agree not to move troops into the areas.

N. Koreans Kill Four In Truce Zone Ambush

SEOUL (AP) — Two American soldiers and two South Koreans were killed Sunday night by North Koreans who ambushed a U.N. Command truck half a mile south of the Panmunjon armistice meeting site, a spokesman for the U.N. Command said today. The attackers escaped and there was no indication any of them were hit.

Two other American soldiers were wounded. The U.N. Command called the ambush "a flagrant violation" of the Korean armistice and filed a protest note.

The ambush raised American casualties to four killed and 14 wounded since the North Korean raid on Seoul Jan. 21 in an attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park. North Korea seized the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo on Jan. 23, and one of its 83 crewmen was fatally wounded then.

The spokesman said a truck from the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division was making a routine trip from an advance camp to Panmunjon when it was attacked. He said personnel aboard a second American vehicle heard about 200 rounds of automatic weapons fire and two explosions and rushed to the scene.

A 2nd Division force was dispatched to sweep the area but found no trace of the attackers. The spokesman said the ambush was well inside the South Korean half of the demilitarized zone. The two South Koreans killed were attached to the U.S. division.

U.S. Rear Adm. John V. Smith, the U.N. Command member of the Military Armistice Commission, demanded a joint investigation of the attack.

Marines Seize Strategic Hill Near Khe Sanh

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Marines seized a hill northwest of Khe Sanh from its North Vietnamese defenders in an Easter Day battle. An American source said South Vietnamese troops soon will take on a bigger share of the fighting along the northern frontier.

HILL BATTLE

The battle for Hill 881 north, five miles from the Khe Sanh combat base, was one of several sharp fights over Easter. AP correspondent John Lengel reported from Marine headquarters at Da Nang that 108 North Vietnamese were killed on 881 North—most of them by artillery and air strikes that preceded the Marine assault.

Six Marines were reported killed and 12 wounded. Troops of the 26th Marine Regiment stormed up the slopes. Sporadic shooting continued after the hill was declared secure early in the afternoon.

The hill was the scene of hard fighting in the spring of 1967, and the North Vietnamese hung on to it after the siege of Khe Sanh was lifted this month.

The 26th Marine Regiment had been in Khe Sanh during the 77-day siege. After the encirclement was broken the regiment moved out to sweep the surrounding area.

The U.S. Command is preparing to replace American troops along the demilitarized zone with South Vietnamese forces, an American source said today. It was considered possible that South Vietnamese troops will take over defense of the Marine outpost of Con Thien and of Khe Sanh, now defended by a battalion of air cavalrymen.

It was reliably learned that the move will be carried out as soon as the South Vietnamese 1st Division has completed refitting and retraining. The division suffered heavy casualties during the enemy's lunar new year offensive.

REPULSED

Near Khe Sanh, an enemy company attacked two companies of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, but the Americans repulsed the assault after 15 minutes. Eight U.S. soldiers were killed and six wounded.

The Khe Sanh airstrip was hit by six mortar and rocket rounds Sunday morning, two minutes after 6,000 Easter eggs arrived by helicopter for the garrison. Three Marines were wounded.

LITTLE THINGS

But local officials of the 450,000 United Steelworkers affected by the talks are afraid the local issues will wind up on the national bargaining table come June, placing an added burden on industry negotiators already concerned about the possibility of White House intervention.

"These little things hurt a lot more than the big ones," says Anthony Tomko, president of

Prowler Hurls Lye On Her Face

Mrs. Carol Reynolds, Lot 72, O.K. Trailer Park, told police that a Mexican male, wearing a moustache, had hurled a glass of lye water on her face and arms early Saturday morning.

She said she was in her bedroom when the prowler approached her trailer and threw the contents of a glass through the bedroom window. It struck her on the face and arms.

Her injuries were not believed serious.

Police said that Mrs. Reynolds told them she had been receiving a series of notes from an anonymous correspondent and that there was no such note on Saturday.

Strike In Memphis May Alter History

By GAYLORD SHAW Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — On a cold, gray morning in January, half an inch of rain fell in Memphis, barely enough to send trickles of water along the gutters.

But that half an inch of rain started a flood of events that may have altered the course of race relations in the United States.

RAIN PAY

Because of the rain Jan. 30 Memphis Sanitation Department supervisors sent home with two hours pay for the day, 21 or 22 men whose job it was to clean the gutters.

The gutter cleaners, all Negroes, complained their white supervisors always received a full day's pay, even when it rained.

Their complaints swelled into a strike of 1,300 sanitation workers and garbage collectors, 98 per cent of them Negroes. The racially tinged labor dispute brought clashes with police, hundreds of arrests and a sit-in at the City Council Chamber.

And it brought Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to Memphis.

King led garbage collectors on a march through the business district on March 28. He was planning another march when, on a still spring evening April 4, the civil rights movement's leading apostle of nonviolence was shot and killed by a sniper.

The night of King's death, disorders started breaking out in cities across the nation. The riots waxed and waned for a week, leaving more than a score of persons dead, scarring Washington, Chicago, Baltimore, Kansas City and other urban centers, and heightened racial tension in communities from coast to coast.

Within a week, Congress had passed and President Johnson signed a civil rights bill containing a broad open housing provision.

The turmoil following King's death all but obscured the sanitation workers' strike, which enters its 10th week today. The dispute has left the city edgy and some officials appeared concerned about the plans of the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, who succeeded King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, to address a mass meeting here tonight.

Objected To School Eulogy For King, Teacher Fired?

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — An elementary school teacher's claim that she was fired because she objected to a school eulogy for Martin Luther King may be discussed at a school board meeting Tuesday.

Bruce Cranston, vice president of the school board, said there had been no official notification that the teacher, Miss Jane Reeder, had been dismissed.

Cranston said, he did not think the dismissal could take place without action by the school board. He said that if the claim was made official, it might be discussed at the Tuesday board meeting.

NO RIGHT?

Miss Reeder, in a letter sent to Gov. Richard Hughes, claimed she was dismissed as a second grade teacher at Benjamin Franklin school after she objected to the eulogy for the slain civil rights leader.

She said the incident occurred on April 5, the day after King was killed in Memphis and claimed she was fired the following Monday in the school office.

Miss Reeder, 30, said that at the time of her alleged dismissal, she was told she "had no right to express her opinion in that manner."

She has taught at Benjamin Franklin since September. She previously taught in the Westbury, N.Y., school system for six years.

ANARCHIST?

In her letter to Hughes, Miss Reeder said in part:

"An announcement was read through the school building that a great hero, Martin Luther King, had been shot and further statements were made to enliven him in the minds of our children.

"To put it simply, I disagree with the whole idea of his being anything more than an anarchist and I said so to a person in my school. She is a Negro teacher, but although we have had different opinions on this issue of civil rights, we have always felt free to exchange ideas with each other and still remain friendly." The letter also said, according to Miss Reeder, that "because of giving my opinion to this girl, I was fired immediately that afternoon."

Bodies Of Two Anglers Found

MADILL, Okla. (AP) — The bodies of two fishermen drowned in separate accidents near Madill over the weekend have been recovered by volunteers.

The victims were H. L. Henderson, 51, of Fox and Billy J. Tomb, about 40, an outpatient at a Veterans Hospital in Dallas.

Henderson drowned Saturday at Ellsworth Point in Lake Texoma east of Madill. He was fishing with two other men. Officers said their boat sank and Henderson was unable to make it to a nearby oil derrick in the lake, where the other men swam.

Tomb drowned in the Red River just east of Denison Sunday while fishing from an inner-tube. Officers said the inner-tube overturned.

River Flow To Halt

Engineers will plug huge tubes through the John Day Dam Tuesday morning, stopping the flow of the Columbia River. Lake Umatilla will begin to rise at the left behind the dam. The Oregon shore is in the background.

Engineers Will Stop Flow Of Mighty Columbia River

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP) — The flow of the mighty Columbia River will be shut off Tuesday morning as though a faucet valve were turned. Massive gates in John Day Dam some 25 miles upriver from here will slide shut under hydraulic control and the waters racing downstream will pile up against the concrete and steel barrier that stretches more than a mile between Oregon and Washington.

The power will go into the Bonneville system which markets to public and private utilities in the Pacific Northwest. Its cost by the time the 20th turbine is installed nearly four years from now will have been close to $450 million. About a third of that cost has been to move people and the things they built from the path of the rising waters of Lake Umatilla.

When the gates at John Day are closed Tuesday, the Columbia will be thundering over McNary Dam upstream at 250,000 cubic feet a second. The flow last week was only 130,000 and to get it to the higher figure — to fill the lake quickly — water was drawn from many reservoirs upriver. Later this spring the first power from the turbines will be put on the lines and in September the dam will be dedicated.

Biggest Dam

Lake Umatilla, the reservoir behind the biggest dam ever built by the Army Corps of Engineers, will fill quickly. Its level will rise more than a foot an hour. By Wednesday morning it will be at the bottom of the spillway gates. By Friday the lake will be 76 miles long, running upstream from John Day Dam to McNary Dam.

Its level will be some 80 feet above the present river. And under it will be abandoned towns, abandoned railroads and highways and the mysterious rock carvings of long-vanished Indian tribes. Navigation by the new lake, giving a continuous course of 325 miles from the sea to Ice Harbor Dam on the Snake River. John Day is the 10th dam completed or under construction across the Columbia below Grand Coulee. Its ultimate output will produce a constant supply of nearly three million kilowatts, making it one of the world's most powerful — more powerful than Grand Coulee.

Massive Sit-In At Colgate Ends

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — A massive five-day sit-in demonstration at Colgate University is over, but school officials still grappled today with "the broad questions raised" by the assault on discrimination by fraternities. "Our demands have been met," William Robinson Jr., a Negro student leader, asserted Sunday night. With that, an estimated 600 Colgate students and faculty members moved out of the university's three-story administration building, which they had taken over Wednesday. "BLACKBALL" BATTLE The settlement, reached in a virtually round-the-clock talks between the Association of Black Collegians, headed by Robinson, and Colgate President Vincent M. Barnett Jr., provided that discrimination by all fraternities cease and the rights of members of Phi Delta Theta, the principal target of the protest, be protected. A school spokesman said the discrimination provision was aimed specifically at the "blackball" system, under which one negative vote blocks a student from joining a fraternity. Barnett revoked Phi Delta Theta's local charter Friday. He said Sunday's agreement allows the fraternity members to occupy their house for the next two years but bars them from engaging in usual fraternity activities.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K943 ♥1052 ♦KQ96 ♣K2
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1♣ Pass 1♦
Pass 2♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Two no trump. You have 11 points in high cards which justifies another forward move. The most likely game possibility seems to be in no trump and such a suggestion is in order for the responding hand even when he has a suit unprotected.
Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K74 ♥K6 ♦A1063 ♣Q1075
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1♣ Pass 1♦
Pass 2♦ Pass 4♦
Pass 4♦ Pass 4♦
Pass 5♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Six no trump. Your side obviously possesses sufficient values to take 12 tricks but, the spade suit appears to be partner's weak spot and an opening lead thru your king could prove fatal.
Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A1095 ♥AKJ3 ♦5 ♣KQ74
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♥ Pass 1♠ ?
What do you bid?
A—Pass. Altho it does not suit our taste to remain silent on a hand of this strength any offensive maneuver is fraught with great danger. Furthermore, there is always the prospect that the enemy will go too far which is usually the best chance for a substantial profit on a holding of this type.
Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A942 ♥A865 ♦A43 ♣Q10
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass
Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Double. Partner is almost certainly marked with a singleton heart so that his distribution should prove good for your hand. In fact, if he has spades, a game may be contemplated. If his bid is in one of the minors and the opponents proceed to three hearts you should not double, however.

Three Westbrook Students Enter

WESTBROOK (SC) — Three Westbrook High School students will compete in the Class B Regional Interscholastic League Contest April 20 in Big Spring. They are Sue Bell, Don Jarrett and Robert Contreras. Georgeann Smith, a third grade student, won first place in story telling event Friday in the District UIL Competition but will not enter regional. Sue won first place in prose reading. Don won first in pole vaulting Saturday during the district track meet in Snyder. His distance measured 10 feet 7 inches. Robert placed second in the 880 yard run. Grade students who entered district meet in Hermleigh and placed are: Spelling — Debbie Webb and Joyce McKenney with alternates, Bruce Rich and Judy Hogue, all sixth grade, placed fifth. Picture memory — Julia Swatt, Connie Christon, and Mark Apperson with alternate Billy Hogue, placed third. Story telling — Georgeann Smith with alternate, Vanessa Morris, first place. Ready writing — Joyce McKenney and Roxanne Moore, results not yet determined.

Milk Production Declines Posted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Milk production is running as much as 10 per cent below year-earlier levels in some states. An Agriculture Department survey shows production the first quarter of this year was down 1.5 per cent from the like period last year and 5.4 per cent below the first quarter average for the years of 1962-66. But officials are hopeful of an upturn during the second quarter of the year. The department recently raised support prices for milk, a factor expected to influence output favorably. States with major declines in production include New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Kentucky and Maryland.

West Germany's Rioting Pupils Want To Be Heard

By PETER SEHAK
Associated Press Writer
BERLIN (AP) — They wave red flags, shout "Ho Chi Minh," wear their hair long and sometimes throw rocks at policemen. Their usual dress is an old sweater or a U.S. Army surplus parka. They are students in West Berlin and West Germany who are taking to the streets and shaking up the country following an attempt to assassinate one of their leaders, 28-year-old Rudi Dutschke.

Social Democratic Party, but behind most student demonstrations. Prominent among the students' beefs is the antiquated West German university system. German professors have retained most of the authority they have held since medieval times. They lecture but don't like to have their theories challenged by students. The universities are overcrowded despite the fact that there are only about 300,000 university students in West Germany, a country of 58 million.

MISTRUST

They want to be heard, but until last week their elders weren't willing to listen. They want to remake German society, but they are not quite sure into what. They mistrust the older generation, calling it hypocritical. They are leftists, strongly influenced by the Chinese and Cuban Communists, but they reject communism on the Soviet or East German model. Dutschke, their chief ideologist and moving spirit, fled from East Germany in 1960. They call their movement "anti-authoritarian" and themselves "the opposition outside parliament."

Backers Of 'Red Rudi' Battle Berlin Police

BERLIN (AP) — Leftist students ordered a blockade of publisher Axel Springer's newspapers today, raising the prospect of more trouble after four days of violent demonstrations in West Berlin. The Socialistic Students Association — or SDS — said it would set up blockades in West Berlin, Frankfurt, Esslingen and Hanover. Springer, continental Europe's biggest publisher, has been a chief target of the German New Left because of his papers' anti-left editorial stand. Earlier blockades led to clashes with police and considerable damage to trucks and buildings. In an effort to reconcile the dissidents and the authorities, other West Berlin political and youth groups announced plans for "make a new start" rally today.

BLOCKADES

Leftist demonstrations began Thursday when SDS leader Rudi Dutschke was shot and critically wounded by a gunman on West Berlin's main street, the Kurfaerendamm. A demonstration on that street Sunday erupted into a clash between thousands of Dutschke's supporters and hundreds of police, plunging the traditional Easter parade of strolling Berliners and tourists into chaos. The demonstrators shouted "Nazis" at the police and chanted "Ho-Ho-Ho-Chi Minh" and "Rudi Dutschke." They huddled together rather than retreating when water cannon opened up at point-blank range.

CLUBS SWINGING

The students retreated only when police advanced with clubs swinging. At least one patrolman was knocked down and beaten when he moved too far in front. Doctors reported that Dutschke, 28, was making satisfactory progress. He was hit by three revolver shots. One lodged in his brain and was removed in a lengthy operation. The man accused of shooting Dutschke, a house painter named Josef Bachmann, 23, was wounded by police and also is reported making satisfactory progress. Police said Bachmann told them the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. inspired him to shoot Dutschke.

PROMINENT BEEFS

Humphrey Hopes To Cash Political Debts In Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is counting on collecting political debts piled up in tireless party fund-raising activities in his expected bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

It is widely assumed he will announce his candidacy this week.

DINNER CIRCUIT
Humphrey's associates believe his extensive traveling on the Democratic dinner circuit will help do for him what it has done for Richard M. Nixon among the Republicans—put him in the front rank of contenders.

Humphrey and Nixon are the men best known personally to local organization members of their parties who often turn up as convention delegates.

One of Humphrey's accomplishments has been to sell himself to Southern Democrats, who once looked upon him as the ogre who forced a strong civil rights plank on the 1948 convention and triggered a Dixiecrat walkout.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said he thinks Humphrey will be the choice of several Southern delegations. Gov. John J. McKeithen has indicated Louisiana's vote will go to the vice president.

UNCOMMITTED
Humphrey support also is apparent in North and South Carolina.

"It is probable that the vice president is the only candidate who is strong in every region," said Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., a top Humphrey backer. He added in an interview he thinks Humphrey is ahead now in delegate strength over the two announced Democratic candidates, Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy. Humphrey is encountering reluctance on the part of President Johnson's supporters to switch to him after the President's statement that he would not accept renomination.

They are Govs. John D. Dempsey of Connecticut, Charles L. Terry Jr., of Delaware, John A. Burns of Hawaii, Roger D. Branigin of Indiana, Otto Kerner of Illinois, Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, Buford Ellington of Tennessee, John B. Connally of Texas, Calvin L. Rampton of Utah and H. L. Hunt of West Virginia.

The 24-member Democratic National Governors Conference meets today in St. Louis to discuss politics but there was no sign the governors would take a united stand behind a presidential candidate.

TAPE TANGLE
Elsewhere on the political scene: —President Robert S. McNamara of the World Bank has declined comment on a Republican's demand that he resign because he helped promote Kennedy's drive for the Democratic nomination.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said "it was indiscreet at best for a public official" to get involved in politics. McNamara made a television tape in which he praised Kennedy but did not endorse him outright. The program was for use in Indiana, where a Democratic primary will be held May 7.

There are no regulations barring McNamara from politics but presidents of the World Bank usually have not been involved in elections.

—J. Irwin Miller, the Indiana industrialist who heads a newly formed Rockefeller for President Committee, voiced hope New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will announce within a month he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

He appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Restraint Tactics Help Quell Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the year it has been going into slums to quell riots the Army has found it's better to try to outnumber rioters than to outshoot them.

Only about 15 bullets were used in coping with the recent wave of looting and burning in Washington, according to official reports. The troops did not injure anyone with gunfire. But tear gas was used liberally.

CRUCIAL TEST
The violence in Washington and scores of other cities was a crucial test of the Army's tactics for coping with civil disorders.

Negroes in more than 100 cities reacted to the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. by some form of disorder and about 40 lives were lost. By comparison, the Newark and Detroit riots last year had a combined toll of 66.

Thus, top officers say the Army feels the recent disorders show the homework the Army has been doing for months has been time well spent.

Swift mobilization of power and restraint in applying it are the keys to stopping disorder in its tracks, officials said.

The Army poured more than 26,000 soldiers into Washington, Baltimore, and Chicago, the three sorest spots in the nationwide siege of street violence.

These regulars were backed up by 14,800 National Guardsmen who were "federalized"—called up and added to the regular forces—and some 32,000 other Guardsmen mobilized by their governors.

Across the nation the rule that officials made stick, with few exceptions, was that soldiers and Guardsmen display their weapons but keep them unloaded. In a situation where firing seemed called for, it was to be resorted to only on the order of an officer or, lacking an officer, a noncommissioned officer.

Post mortems showed there was no such tight rein on shooting for Newark and Detroit in 1967.

Dear Abby

The Personal Question

DEAR ABBY: I went to a cocktail party where there were about 50 people just milling around making small talk.

A rather sexy looking gal spotted me from across the room and pretty soon she was beside me starting up a conversation. When I realized that she had more than a casual interest in me, I thought I'd better put her straight, so I told her I was a married man. She then asked, "Happily?" I think that was an extremely personal question for one stranger to ask another. What do you suppose she had in mind?

CARL

last year. She always reads your column. Maybe she'll see this and give me another chance.

TURNUED DOWN: DEAR TURNED DOWN: Steer clear of the girl. Although you escaped punishment from the law, I advise you to turn yourself in and ask to tell your troubles to a doctor. You appear to be a very sick young man who needs treatment. The reason the girl never "told on you" was NOT because she "cares" for you, but probably to avoid possible unpleasant publicity, which was unfortunate because it left you free to "violate" others.

DEAR ABBY: I know that most small boys have a natural aversion to soap and water, but at what age is a boy supposed to start keeping himself reasonably clean?

I have a son, 13, and you wouldn't believe how he detests soap and water. And to top it off, he doesn't even want to wear socks. The answer I get is, "If Huck Finn could go without shoes, I can go without socks."

When he comes home from school grimy and sweaty, and I tell him to shower before supper, he tells me he had a shower in gym, so he doesn't have to shower at home. And he climbs into bed at night, exhausted, with dirty hair and filthy feet. You should see the bed sheets: You would think he had been working in the coal mines. And he sleeps until the last minute in the morning so he can't shower then. O, please, Abby, how can I clean up this kid? I don't know how much longer I can take it.

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Cleanliness should not be "optional." It should be mandatory, and if your son at age 13, does not keep himself reasonably clean, offer to give him a bath. You may have to start undressing him. I'll bet he moves!

DEAR ABBY: A year ago I fell in love with a girl I'll call "Mary." We started to date, and I became serious about her. She was 18 and I was 24. She was beautiful and the nicest girl I had ever known. To me she was perfect. I was crazy over her and she never let me touch her. It was the first time in my life that a girl ever "tamed me down."

I finally told her I loved her and wanted to marry her. She refused saying she didn't love me, and we shouldn't see each other any more.

In anger I violated her and got so carried away I beat her up so badly she ended up in a hospital.

I still love her, Abby, and I think maybe she cares something for me because she never told on me. I have been trying and trying to apologize, but she won't even see me. Don't you think she should forgive and forget? I have learned a lot in the

Custom Duties Help Feed Nation's Needy, Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty cents out of every dollar Uncle Sam collects in duties on imported goods winds up in the till of the Agriculture Department.

From there, the money is translated into food for tables of the nation's needy and for school lunches.

In performing this translation from custom receipts of food for the hungry and school children, the department lends a helping hand to producers of farm products adversely affected by low prices—particularly perishable products like fruits, vegetables, eggs, poultry, turkeys, meat animals and the like.

In 1936, Congress directed that 30 per cent of custom receipts be turned over to the department to help divert surpluses of perishable products from markets where the extra supplies tend to depress prices. The law authorizes use of such surpluses to feed the needy, the diversion of them into byproduct uses and in some cases into foreign markets.

Corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, soybeans, dairy products and other storable products get price protection from the department's Commodity Credit Corporation. The CCC is authorized to make loans on stored products and even to buy them for storage.

This fiscal year, around $400 million in custom receipts was available to the department. But it may not use all this mon-

Texas Nurses Fail To Show

HOUSTON (AP) — A meeting was scheduled for today in an effort to determine why 17 of 21 licensed vocational nurses failed to report for work at the Ben Taub General Hospital Sunday night.

W.B. Forster, administrator of the city-county hospital, said he had arranged to meet with the nurses.

"At this time we are at a loss to understand what their complaint or complaints may be, although we know some of them are unhappy over salaries," he said.

Forster said most nurses who telephoned the hospital said they would be absent for personal reasons. A few said they were sick.

At least 27 vocational nurses failed to report for Saturday afternoon and evening shifts and seven were absent from the Sunday morning shift.

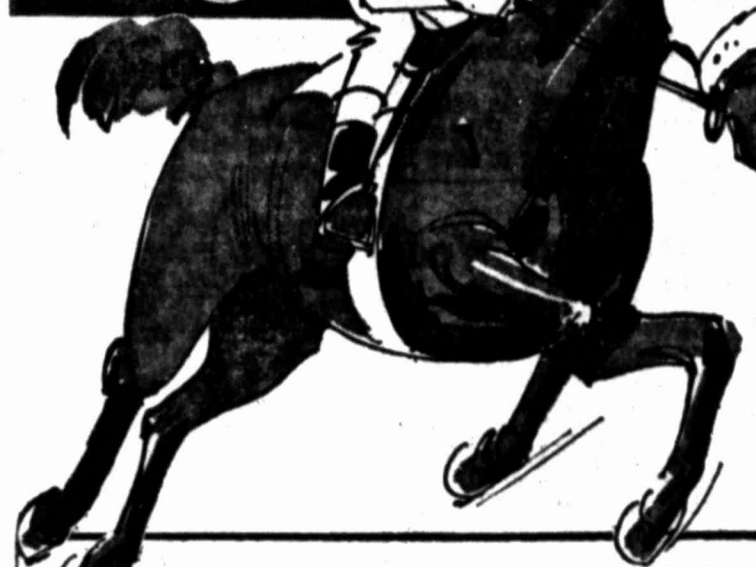

Forster said registered nurses and volunteers were substituting for the absent nurses and that the patients were being cared for.

Violent Death Toll In Texas Zips To At Least 35

By The Associated Press
The violent death toll in Texas during the Eastern weekend soared to at least 35 with 22 of the fatalities blamed on traffic.

Lonnie L. Goforth Jr., 21, and Jimmy Mele, 22, both of Azle were killed in a one-car accident Saturday. Their car hit a culvert on Texas 199 five miles northwest of Azle in North Central Texas.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through midnight Sunday.

VIOLENT PLANE CRASH
Two men died in a plane crash. A youth hanged himself in jail as a horrified woman police dispatcher watched on closed-circuit television. Drownings, gunfire and stabbings accounted for the other deaths.

Norman Ray Russell, Jr., 18, of Mesquite drowned Sunday afternoon in the Forney Reservoir near Terrell. Investigators said young Russell fell from a boat while fishing near the dam with his brother.

Willie Elzy, 53, of Houston died Sunday of a gunshot wound he suffered Friday night. Police said Elzy and a 15-year-old boy argued and both went to their homes for guns. The shooting followed.

STABBED TO DEATH
Eric Wayne Baker, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Baker of Fort Worth, drowned Sunday in a small pond near the Nimrod community, about 10 miles south of Cisco. The child's body was taken to Cisco.

A San Diego, Tex., telephone operator, Ezelina Lopez, 21, was killed Sunday when her car went out of control and struck a culvert. Police said the automobile rolled over several times.

A car-truck collision at the intersection of IH35 and US 79 at Round Rock Saturday claimed the lives of Reynaldo Vazquez, 30, and Guadalupe Muniz, 26, both of Georgetown.

Irish Jean Fillo, 18, was stabbed to death in the kitchen of her home in Dallas Sunday. Officers took a 25-year-old man into custody for questioning.

Lawrence Davis, 32, of Dallas was shot to death during an argument at his home in Dallas Sunday. Police held a 38-year-old woman in the slaying.

AUTO SMASHUP
Eduardo Vargas Jr., 15, of Odem drowned Sunday while on an Easter outing at Lake Corpus Christi. Officers said the youth was diving at a point on the lake near Mathis when he disappeared in the water.

Harris Louis Hector, 22, of Houston was killed Sunday when the car in which he was a passenger struck a tree about five miles north of Huntsville. The driver was uninjured, but Shirley Washington, 16, another passenger, was hospitalized at Huntsville.

Hazel Deslongchamps, 49, of Gladewater was killed Sunday in an automobile smashup on Interstate 20 near Mount. Sylvan. Three persons were injured.

Linda Nealy, 15, of Fort Worth was killed Sunday when an automobile overturned on a Tarrant County farm road. Three other persons were injured.

Mrs. Cecil Lindley of Mesquite was killed Saturday when the car she was in struck the railing of the Navasota River bridge on US 84 west of Mexia.

TAVERN GUNFIRE
Gunfire at a New Braunfels tavern early Saturday killed one youth and wounded another. Killed was Felix Laganus. Charged with murder was Rudolfo Gonzales Jr., 18.

Kay Klein, 17, of San Antonio, died in a Corpus Christi hospital Saturday half an hour after she was injured in a car wreck at Port Aransas.

Luther Woodrow Tyson, 51, of Lubbock, died Friday when a large boom on an oncoming truck sliced through the windshield of his vehicle. The accident happened three miles north of Lubbock.

Uvaldo M. Cortez, 21, of Austin, was shot to death Friday night at a Travis County dance hall. Police sought a man.

Terry Wooten, 18, of Bertram, was killed Saturday when his car collided with a truck three miles east of Bertram on Texas 29.

A car and a pickup truck collided on a Dallas freeway at about noon Saturday, killing Billy Medley, 28, of Dallas.

HORROR
A San Antonio woman was killed Saturday when she jumped from the fifth-floor window of the Santa Rosa Medical Center. She was Margarita T. Carrasco.

Two Mineral Wells men were killed Saturday when their light plane crashed on takeoff at the Jacksboro airport. Killed were Charles Ray Powell, 27, and Joseph Henry Gregg, 36, Powell was the pilot, police said. Lance Switzer, 5, of El Paso, was killed Friday when he fell from the back of a pickup truck.

A youth hanged himself Saturday night while in the Victoria jail. Dead in his cell was Leonard Wayne Butler, 18. The woman police dispatcher watched horrified on the jail's closed-circuit television system but was unable to summon help in time.

Donette Lavone Thomas, 7, was shot and killed by a neighbor youth Saturday in Denison. An official ruling was not immediately handed down.

A two-car collision Saturday night on IH 35 in San Antonio killed a mechanic, 54-year-old Gustavo Trevino.

Douglas Lynn Keith, 19, of Fort Worth suburb of Euless San Antonio, was killed Saturday in a one-car accident in Rockport. Clifton Lee White, 15, of Fort Worth, died Friday when the car he was in struck a tree during a rainstorm in Fort Worth.

A Friday night tavern shooting in Houston claimed the life of Solomon Johnson Jr., 42. Police said he had created a disturbance at the same place last week.

Kenneth Edward Runyan, 24, of Avery, was killed Friday in a car-truck collision 12 miles north of DeKalb in Northeast Texas. The truck driver was injured.

A car was struck by a freight train north of Tyler Friday, killing Alberta Kay Donaldson, 84, of Big Sandy.

A two-car smash-up in the Fort Worth suburb of Euless Saturday killed Dial Kiteley, 22, of nearby Hurst.

Army Considering Titanium Helmets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is considering production of lighter but tougher helmets, the soldier's shade, shield, footstool and pillow.

Researchers believe titanium, a lightweight but expensive alloy used in some advanced aircraft, could provide the infantryman with better head protection than the helmets now made of manganese steel.

Sources say titanium helmets have stood up well in ballistics tests at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. Scientists there also are looking at several other materials which might be used to fashion combat bonnets.

It is part of a broad Army effort to provide durable but less cumbersome gear for the fighting man—to lighten his burden, make him more mobile and more effective.

Sources say studies have shown titanium helmets can be made as much as one pound lighter than the standard 3½-pound helmet with plastic liner while giving the same amount of protection.

For an additional few ounces, titanium helmets offer substantially greater protection against head wounds, the most serious category of combat injuries.

The titanium helmet is still in the development stage but word about it has spread among some men in, or headed for, Vietnam.

Some soldiers, as well as parents of men in the war zone, have asked the Army whether they could buy titanium helmets out of their own pockets.

The Pentagon estimated that, compared with the $4.35 price tag on the conventional steel helmet, titanium headgear would cost $53 each. This estimate is based on a theoretical production run of 100,000 helmets, the Pentagon said.

Officials say the Pentagon is preparing to award another contract for titanium helmets, presumably for more testing. It is expected they will eventually be sent to Vietnam for a tryout under combat conditions.

A Devotional For The Day

Because I live, ye shall live also. (John 14:19)
PRAYER: O living Christ, whose victory becomes ours when we crown You Lord of all, impart to us life abundant and eternal. Unite us in loving ministry to others that all men may accept the good news You have brought. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Mostly Groundless Fears

A few years ago "automation" was coined into what quickly became a scare word. Rapidly advancing technology, especially computerized mechanization, was going to cause severe and sustained unemployment among millions whose skills were suddenly rendered obsolete.

That fear poisoned labor-management relations in many industries. A presidential commission studied the problem with some reassuring conclusions not immediately accepted. Congress passed legislation and a special office was set up in the Labor Department to try to cope with the problem.

In numerous specifics, the problem was real, painful and complex. Families have suffered as outmoded jobs disappeared. Programs for retraining of middle-aged workers have not been remarkably successful. It has been, and still is, difficult to adapt vocational education to accelerating change. Perhaps the best contribution has been made by enlightened managements in the "phase out," gearing adoption of automation to attritional loss of manpower with obsolescent skills through retirement, death or resignations.

Over-all, however, the fears have eras of technological advances, the creation of new jobs has far exceeded the abolition of old ones. Employment has soared while unemployment has been reduced.

The University of Chicago's Whistler-Meyer study, a two-year investigation of 23 life insurance companies, has now added a dramatically significant footnote to the automation anxiety. They found that many major corporations simply could not hire enough people to do the work now being done by computers; abruptly unautomated, they simply could not function.

The economics lesson is clear: The more sophisticated tools man's genius invents, the greater the output of goods and services, and the more diverse and numerous the jobs created. In employment requirements, change is inevitable, irrevocable, and accelerative. And, despite unavoidable adjustment problems, that is to be welcomed, not feared.

Unpredictable Year

Who will be the next governor of Texas? Seldom in our history has the question been so much in doubt as in this election year.

Much of the uncertainty is being attributed conveniently to this year's addition of approximately one million registered voters. Many of these undoubtedly are those over 60 years of age who formerly did not have to register if they lived in cities of less than 10,000 population. But the rest pose a big question mark.

Who are the new voters under 60 years of age? No one knows. It can be presumed that many of them are Negroes and Latin Americans who are on the voting rolls for the first time. But there is not even a hint as to their political philosophy or whom they would vote for in the governor's race.

The unpredictability of the electorate is not unique to Texas this year, of course. There is a mood of uncertainty throughout the United States, compounded of the war in Vietnam, fears of a financial crisis, and unrest in the cities.

Philosophers may conclude that uncertainty is one of the essential elements of the democratic process. Others will fuss and fret over their inability to cram individualists into convenient pigeonholes. This, too, is democracy at work.

David Lawrence

What's Behind The Insurrection?

WASHINGTON — Police from one end of the country to the other are baffled by the riots that have swept more than 100 cities and towns during the last few days. Arson, vandalism and looting have occurred in so many parts of a city simultaneously that previous planning seems to have been involved.

TOUGH GOVERNMENT authorities say they have no "evidence" of a conspiracy, law-enforcement agencies concede that nothing like the orgy of crime and destruction which has emerged in the past week has ever been witnessed in America. In some respects it resembles guerrilla warfare. The formula has been to provoke disorders in one section of a city, and, when police and firemen move in, then the looting and setting of fires with gasoline bombs are promptly started in another section. The originators of the arson have thus been able to escape.

ALTHOUGH MORE than 40 people were killed and many thousands were

Billy Graham

I have sinned and I am very sorry for it. I confessed it to the Lord, and I'm sure He has forgiven me. But, must I confess what I have done to the person I have sinned against? Please let me know. Thank you very much.

M. M. If the wrong you have done against another person can be made right by your confessing it to them, then you should confess it. If such confession would only complicate matters, then your confession to the Lord is sufficient.

If you have taken property from another, or lied about another, of course these things should be made right. The Bible says, regarding making things right: "Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift." (Matt. 5:24)

If your sin has been in secret, pray to the Father which is in secret, and he will reward you openly," says the Bible.

Usually, confession of sin directly to the Lord is sufficient. But, as I said, if others have been offended by your sin, then the Scriptures indicate that we are to make amends to those we have offended also. If one has been guilty of certain indiscretions with the opposite sex, and these have not developed into overt sin—these should be confessed to God. (I have known of violent repercussions when such indiscretions have been confessed to one's spouse).

God says, "I will forgive your sin and cleanse you from all unrighteousness."

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR HUMAN COMPASSION

James Marlow

Start In The Right Direction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The enthusiastic political plunge taken by growing numbers of college students may have a beneficial side effect—a decline in the use of LSD and other drugs on campus, says a Cornell University medical professor.

Dr. Donald B. Louria, says this is a "charming fallout" of the eruption of campus political activity touched off by the presidential bids of Eugene J. McCarthy and Robert F. Kennedy.

"IF YOU WANT to cure the drug problem," says Louria, who heads the New York State Council on Drug Addiction, "the name of the game is commitment."

In more scientific terms, Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, is saying much the same thing when he urges researchers into drug addiction to look beyond the specific problems of LSD, marijuana, amphetamines and barbiturates to the underlying causes of drug abuse.

"We live in a drug-oriented culture," Yolles told Congress recently. "From aspirin to sleeping pills, from tranquilizers to the pill, Americans of all ages are ingesting drugs in greater number and variety than ever before."

AS A STARTING point for research into drug abuse, Yolles suggests looking into the causes of alienation—that withdrawal from the world that has been characterized as "a refusal of what is, without a vision of what should be."

As a disease of the young, alienation has probably existed since the first gap opened between the generations, but Yolles believes it is now "wider, deeper and more diffuse than at any previous time in our history."

"It affects the rich and the poor," he says, "the college student and the school dropout, the urban and rural youngster." Their common complaint: "Life is a drag."

Since they can't change the world, they are to change their state of consciousness. Rejecting the beliefs, values and leaders of the "square" world, they create their own dream world through drugs.

YOLLES SAYS there are estimates that two million college and high school youngsters have tried marijuana and that its use is increasing.

Worth Remembering

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Money seems to be spreading around more lately. Families which contain some 30 per cent of the population now have annual incomes of $10,000 a year or more.

Ever get the idea your pet dog is eating you out of home? Well, maybe he will—if you let him. The stomach of a 40-pound pooch can hold three times as much as that of a 150-pound man.

MEDICAL quackery is one of the nation's fastest growing businesses. Authorities estimate its cost to the public has risen from $1 billion annually five years ago to $2 billion now.

Salt was once so scarce that it was used as money to pay Roman legionaries, and the modern word salary comes from the Latin term salarium or "salt money." But we're in no danger of running out of salt today.

There are enough salt beds and domes along the Gulf Coast alone to satisfy America's needs for 25 centuries. Incidentally, only 5 per cent of salt is used to flavor food. The rest is employed in chemical industries.

Careless driving causes more highway fatalities than excessive speed. The Automobile Manufacturers Association says that only 5 per cent of injurious accidents occur at speeds above 70 miles an hour.

THE KNOWLEDGE Jam: Research centers throughout the world now turn out 60 million pages of technical information yearly. A fast-reading scientist would have to read eight hours a day until the year 3363 just to wade through 1968's outpouring of facts.

Man Against Himself: Suicide is now the fourth leading cause of death among boys of college age, and the 10th leading cause among Americans of all groups. At least 20,000 kill themselves each year, and for everyone who succeeds about eight to 12 try and fail.

IRONY: Although the United States produces enough food to feed millions around the globe, nutrition experts estimate that 20 per cent of our own people, either through ignorance or poverty, live on deficient diets.

History lesson: Can you name the U.S. presidents who bore the following nicknames: "Atlas of Independence," "Old Rough and Ready," "Trust Buster," and "Man of Great Heart?" They were John Adams, Zachary Taylor, Theodore Roosevelt, and Herbert Hoover.

Geographical oddities: Vacationers looking for a place to cure a thirst might try Bourbon Mist Island. It's located in Whiskey Lake, Alaska.

Worth remembering: "You should have enough education so that you won't have to look up to people—and enough education also so that you'll be wise enough not to look down on people."

QUICKIES: Nerve impulses travel only at 75 feet a second in frogs, but at 400 feet a second—over 250 miles an hour—in your body. The game of chess originated in Asia about 4,000 years before the Christian era began.

There are about 40,000 nails in the average wooden home. A housewife who irons all day puts out more energy than a brick-layer.

To Your Good Health

How Much Is Enough Water Per Day?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to see an article on drinking water. I am 66 and feel good. I drink about one glass of milk a week (with my cereal), juice every day, two cups of coffee and two cups of tea a day, soup every day, about two glasses of water every day.

Is it better to drink more water in place of other liquids? —A.M.

Your fluid intake sounds fine to me, and I can't see any reason to worry. But let's analyze the whole thing anyway.

An average adult requires about 2½ quarts of water a day for health. But — and this answers your specific question — it doesn't make any difference what form the water may be in.

A cup of coffee is just water plus what color and flavoring it picks up from the coffee grounds. Same for tea. A cup (or glassful) can be roughly figured at five to eight ounces, or two or three cups to a pint, depending on how big the cup is.

So your two cups of coffee, two of tea, and two glasses of water work out about three pints, or a quart and a half a day.

You should be getting 2½ quarts — and you probably are. But where does that other quart come from?

Well, there's your little bit of milk, and your daily fruit juice, but that's only a few more ounces.

The fact is that you are getting a lot of water in your food. I don't mean the fluid that you may be able to see in such vegetables as stewed tomatoes or such. A lot of water you never see at all.

Fresh vegetables are mostly water — which is readily provided if you have ever seen a juicer squeeze the juice (mostly water) out of carrots, celery, or whatever. Lettuce and such greens are mostly water. So are the "solid" vegetables.

As I said in the beginning, the average adult needs 2½ quarts a day, but it doesn't matter what form it is in. If you work hard and sweat, you need more.

Happily, we have a built-in regulator. If we aren't getting enough water, we become thirsty. A wonderful machine, the human body!

Dear Dr. Molner: Please dismiss umbilical hernia, cause, and how serious it could be. I am 59.

Umbilical hernia is quite common in the newborn, and usually repairs itself with little or no attention in most cases.

In an adult it is another matter—although still nothing to be unduly alarmed about. Like most hernias, it is the result of the weakening of muscles and fibrous tissues. These umbilical hernias can be annoying and become gradually larger, and there is the risk of a loop of intestine being forced through the weakened area, the same danger which exists with a hernia in the groin. Therefore, for safety as well as for comfort, if the hernia is producing symptoms, it should be repaired surgically. Surgical repair at the age of 59 is not a difficult procedure.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be, simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

A Fork The Devil's Instrument

One thing and another: What eating tool was once banned by the Church of England? I'm glad you asked.

That would be the table fork. In the latter part of the 16th Century, many churchmen reasoned that eating with the newly-introduced fork, which had been imported from non-Christian countries, was catering to the Devil.

The accepted way of lifting food to one's mouth was with the fingers. If God had meant for man to eat with forks, the churchmen of that era maintained, He would have made it part of man's body.

Queen Elizabeth tried eating with a fork toward the end of her life and was severely scolded by the church for it.

A CHILD I know says he doesn't know what function a bathroom scale performs other than the fact that his mother stands on it and it makes her mad.

THE HAUNTING tunes some of those local radio stations play might remain in your memory for ever, provided the world blows up by midnight Thursday.

ONE THING ABOUT the heat the natives brag about down in Presidio, which invariably lays claim to be the hottest place in the country: It's not the humidity.

The community doesn't have a single man-made swimming pool but its 1,500 residents expect some day the area will become a winter resort.

Highways opening up through Presidio into Mexico encourage that belief.

HAVE YOU heard about that local minister who was listening to one of his taped sermons and fell sound asleep?

A BRICK which floats has been developed in South Wales. Made of a coal tar substance called Synthasil, the brick keeps dampness out of one's home in the winter months — and heat in.

All you have to do is paint it on the outside wall. It dries in half an hour and one coat lasts for ten years. —TOMMY HART

Stock Market May Take A New Look

NEW YORK (AP) — During the next few weeks the bullish sentiment that has propelled stock market volume and prices is going to be reassessed. As misty emotion fades, some rocks might be revealed to challenge the advance.

This is not to say that the bulls will stumble on the rocky course. But the market is going to determine if all the activity of recent weeks comes from conviction or simply from the need of long idle bulls for exercise.

THERE IS, for example, a powerful urgency for mutual funds to perform. They don't make money by standing idle, and yet they have been idle a good part of the year. At the end of February some $3.4 billion of their $41.5 billion of assets was in cash—just waiting for a reason to be reinvested.

Was it conviction about the chances of peace or was it the need to perform that sent them into the market?

The current optimism is based, soundly or unsoundly, on prospects for peace following President Johnson's proposal to talk with North Vietnam and that nation's apparent willingness to consider this proposal.

PEACE WOULD eventually mean less government spending, which would mean a better chance for the nation to pay its bills. It would lessen the threat of more inflation and of business controls. It would put people in a buying mood.

As events are demonstrating, however, peace is a long way off. And, though real peace would be bullish, what about a mere slowdown in military activity that still would require big expenditures? Wouldn't this still leave the economy tied to a millstone?

IT MUST BE remembered also that the United States has more or less assured its foreign cousins that it will cut down on over-rapid expansion of the economy by reducing the money supply and raising taxes.

In other words, much of the emphasis during the rest of the year will be on taking inflation out of the economy rather than on expanding the economy. Policy now calls for deflation.

Another potential shoal is the ever-present threat of tight money, which the stock market abhors.

ANDREW BRIMMER, a Federal Reserve Board member, commented recently that the full extent of money and credit restraint has not been realized fully. This restraint, he indicated, will be left in months to come.

The biggest uncertainty for the market, however, is not economic, so much as diplomatic. The coming events between Washington and Hanoi could whip up prices or drop them into the doldrums. Something of this sort happened 17 years ago.

AFTER KOREAN War peace talks began in July, 1951, the stock market jumped 10 per cent in two months. But in the next two months, as talks dragged, it lost all but three per cent of the gain.

Fran until the war ended in July, 1953, the market set — sawed. Nearly every spurt based on peace hopes was followed by a depression of almost equal size. The entire gain in the two years of talks was only seven per cent.

It could happen again.

A Question Of Self-Government

WASHINGTON — The Red Coats in August, 1814, and the blackskins in April, 1968 — they both tried to burn down the city named for George Washington, the capital of this republic, the seat of this government.

President Madison got on his horse and went out with several members of his Cabinet to try and rally the militia. He was no soldier and soon took flight, while his wife cut some of the portraits from their frames at the Executive Mansion and tried to save what other valuables she could from the looters.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, who wears a military ribbon, acted promptly in calling out the Federal troops, and putting a former Deputy Defense Secretary, Cyrus Vance, in over — all charge. But some of us last weekend who watched the ugly smoke of arson and vandalism polluting the lovely sky above the marble buildings and the flowery parks must have felt like the watchers in the War of 1812. We were feeling, at least one of us was, that fearful and inept politicians had let the enemy get the jump on us and had allowed the nation to fall into futility and disgrace.

MAYBE MADISON couldn't help it. We were a weak, young nation in his day. There is no such excuse in 1968. Perhaps we were luckier in 1814, for there was a climate of truth and resolution in the land. Soon after the sacking of Washington, the British fleet would be repulsed at Fort Mifflin, Baltimore, and by January, Andrew Jackson at New Orleans would give us a victory that expunged the disgrace. But truth wasn't to be found in official Washington last weekend, and resolution was sickled over with fear and hypocrisy.

"By the Eternal," Jackson had vowed when he learned that the Red Coats had landed. "They shall not sleep upon our soil." But Lyndon Johnson fell into the feeble cliché and summoned Congress into joint session with the attackers' own slogan: "We shall overcome."

WE — ? The blackskins who were putting buildings to the torch, and ransacking other men's properties, hardly deserved that brotherly pronoun. These were gangs of outlaws. These were foes of the government and the Constitution which Lyndon Johnson had taken his oath to defend. It is not racism to recognize that this was an all-Negro assault upon the city. It is not racism to be honest about that. The lacking ingredient last weekend, last year, and for several terrible years, was the simple, forthright, self-evident quality that men call truth. But you couldn't find it in the words and actions of American leadership during this critical time when the nation wobbles from bad to worse.

FLAGS IN THE CITY, including the one over the White House, stood at half-mast for Martin Luther King, who has threatened to march on the capital later in April. Let us speak well of the dead, and be sorry for any man's treacherous murder. But there is something psychotic about a nation that strikes its colors for an acknowledged troublemaker. The local newspapers were sanctimoniously applying the word assassination to King's murder, as if he had been a public officer instead of a public man.

WE HAVE an enemy in our midst, and the fault is more ours than his. The Negro rioter has become an outlaw because we have condoned his lawlessness, and have tried to purchase his friendship, and have intoxicated him on the firewater of self-pity. None of this means, of course, that the Negro citizen is incapable of self-government, for he has been stupidly misled and mistutored. But last weekend it looked very much as if we, the entirety of the American people, were the ones incapable of self-government. And what logically follows, incapable of self-defense.

Golf Continues On Upswing

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf continues to attract duffers at an all-time rate of 9,100,000 having played 15 rounds or more during 1967.

You can add 1,600,000 to the total if you want to count golfers who played less than 15 rounds during the year.

The increase since 1947, says the National Golf Foundation, shows golf's growth, although not phenomenal, has been steady. There were 2,516,506 golfers 20 years ago, 4,400,000 in 1960 and 7,750,000 in 1965.

The number of golf courses also continues to increase despite the building boom and demands for land. In 1967 there were a total of 9,336 courses compared with 5,691 in 1951.

Pair Married Friday Night

STANTON (SC) — The Lenora Baptist Church was the setting Friday for the wedding of Miss Sharon J. Kuhlman and Eddie L. Odom. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Kuhlman of Lenora, and Mr. and Mrs. Garth Odom of Stanton.

The Rev. Charles Mitchell officiated for the double ring service which was read before an altar graced with candles, baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and an arch of greenery.

Jack Fryar, pianist, accompanied Miss Melrae Angel of Stanton as she sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Twelfth of Never" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal A-line gown of white peau de soie with Empire waist and lace covered bodice with long, lace sleeves. Extending from the back waistline was a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of yellow roses centered with a white orchid.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Richard K. White, matron of honor; Miss Carolyn Kuhlman of Midland, maid of honor; and Miss Ronda Kuhlman, bridesmaid. Mrs. White wore a yellow linen dress and the other attendants wore green dresses. All wore matching bows with net-veils and carried long, stemmed yellow roses.

David Greenhaw was best man, and groomsmen were Bob Graves of McCamey and Randy Rister of Big Spring. Ushers were Danny Fryar of Stanton and Larry Franklin. The flower girl, Carla Rister of Merkel, wore a yellow linen dress with matching Dior bow and net veil.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents with the bridegroom's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fryar joining the couple in receiving guests.

The Inner Circle of the West-side Baptist Church met Friday evening to elect officers and reorganize the class. Mrs. H. C. Hooser Sr., 424 Edwards, was hostess.

The Easter motif was used in decorations and refreshments. The Rev. Frank Radcliff is teacher of the couple's class and gave the invocation. Officers named were Richard Deal, president; Mrs. Jimmy Bumgarner, vice president; Mrs. Hooser, secretary and assistant teacher; Mrs. Ken Mayhall and Mrs. Eddy Lamb, group captains; Mrs. Radcliff, flower chairman; Mrs. Deal, social committee chairman; Mrs. Dickie Murphy, song leader; and Mrs. Bumgarner, pianist.

Twenty-six attended.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

The day was as Easter should be—bright and shining, calm and quiet, green and glorious. The young simply enjoyed being alive, and the old hoped for life a little longer. For all, there were flower-bedecked altars where one might seek his God and say "thank you."

Adding to the goodness of the day were the little ones who loved looking for Easter eggs, the young people who delighted in each other and the couples who brought their babies and "came home" to see mother and dad.

Up, up and away were Harold Canning and son, Barry, who planned to Miami, Fla., to visit his parents, Ma. (Ret.) and Mrs. L. W. Canning. Mrs. Canning has been a little under the weather, but I'm sure that seeing two of her favorite men perked her up right away.

The V. T. Andersons were happy to have a day with their grandsons, Pat and Mike, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson of Fort Worth. Taylor returned with the family and will be in the Fort Worth-Dallas area for several days. Out at the Jim Zike home, daughter, Margaret, and son, Jim, entertained their houseguests, Donald Dawson of Houston and Miss Sally Grisham of Rusk.

Of course, there must have been countless college men and women who were home during the break, but among those I heard of were Janet Jones, Kitty Campbell, Becky Frayser, Kay Price, Tommie Lou Hutto, Merry Lee Dibrell, Judy Jones, Linda Hall, Jane McClath, and all three of the Tollett young people, Ray, Blake and Iris Ann.

The Frog Rogers were happy to have their daughter, Mrs. John Passow here from Lubbock even though John was flying and couldn't make it. Karon visited with her uncle, Bill Inkman but missed seeing her grandmother, Mrs. Camille Inkman, who is in Dallas with another daughter, Mrs. Robert Boykin, and Mrs. Inkman's sister, Mrs. T. D. Copeland. Believe she's to be there for an extended visit.

How nice that the C. G. Griffins will be coming back to Big Spring as he takes over as pro at Big Spring Country Club. It's been a long time, but I remember Norma as a lovely person when she was a member of the Spoudazio Fora here quite a few years ago. Welcome home!

Hope the holiday was better than the past few weeks have been for Miss Cella Fowler, our Girl Scout advisor. All those little people are getting her down, it seems. Down with the mumps—down with the measles, etc.

Down, too, but not out, is Mrs. Al Strawn, sister of Mrs. Willard Sullivan, who had surgery the other day at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. When Tot went up to visit, she also spent some time with their aunt, Mrs. John Adams, 22.

Understand Mrs. George Elliott had surgery not long ago but bet she bounced back to normal in no time at all.

The Jim Zacks, along with his sister from California, got away from it all Sunday by heading toward Mexico and plan to relax in the sun the rest of the week. Imagine Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boren are relaxing in fine style, also, for they are in Hawaii—convention, I think.

Sid and Helen Mellinger are now in Kansas City, Mo., where Sid is associated with a brokerage firm. He is in training now and perhaps will be sent to another branch before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Worley and son, Bill, of Austin are leaving today after sharing the Easter ham with the Tom Guins. I'm told that Tom Henry Guin is practicing law in Port Arthur now.

Well, with the holiday out of the way, four of the local ladies are ready to start packing their bags. Off again in May for setting about Europe will be Mrs. Lloyd Wasson, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Mrs. Vi Worthy and Mrs. Cecil Guthrie.

Deadline. Call me?

Pre-Nuptial Party Fetes Bride-Elect

The first in a series of pre-nuptial parties honoring Miss Karen Elrod, bride-elect of Richard Wilson Lee, was held Saturday morning, Mrs. O. H. Ivie, 1204 E. 17th, and her daughter, Miss Sandra Ivie, were hostesses.

Guests were greeted by Miss Ivie, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. David Elrod. Fourteen close friends of the bride were registered by Miss Nancy Ivie at a table covered with a white linen cloth and decorated with a single pink rose.

The honoree was attired in a pastel floral voile shift and was presented a white cymbidium orchid corsage, and her mother was given a corsage of pink roses.

A buffet brunch was served from a white lace-covered table featuring a miniature bridal couple as centerpiece. Milk glass and silver appointments were used, and Miss Susan Ivie attended the punch service.

The couple will marry May 31 at the Main Street Church of Christ.

Now Is The Time To Inspect Heating System

Now that spring is really here, most homeowners can lower their fuel bills and still enjoy greater comfort by following a few time-tested suggestions on the care and inspection of their heating system, according to Roy Hester, owner of Hester's Sheet Metal.

Hester, who is a local dealer for Carrier Equipment, said cold floors, drafts and uneven heating from one room to another are the best indicators of a deficient heating system.

Dirty fans, filters and ducts and poorly adjusted burners and valves are the main problems, he added.

"The best insurance for maintaining a good heating system is to have it inspected, cleaned and adjusted annually by a qualified serviceman," Hester said. "The cost is small in relation to the greater comfort, longer equipment life, and up to 10 per cent fuel savings an annual check-up can bring."

Homeowners, though, can do a number of things themselves to make sure their heating units are operating safely and efficiently.

For example, filters need to be checked about every two months and a fan or blower wheels should be inspected annually to make sure they remain relatively clean. This will assure proper air flow through the unit to prevent it from overheating and will provide good air circulation to all rooms, Hester said.

Return and supply air registers also should be checked and cleaned periodically, particularly those hidden from view by furnishings.

Proper air adjustment for the burners is another item to check. This should be done annually as part of a service check-up on oil-fired units.

With warmer weather coming on, homeowners should keep the thermostat set as low as possible commensurate with comfort. For every degree increase in average room temperature, Hester said, fuel consumption increases approximately two to four per cent, depending on outside air temperature.

Another Home Sold By 'Home'

Home Real Estate employees pride themselves on "selling Big Spring." Here Lee Hans and Marie Price look over a home that was recently sold.

Haston Electric Has Men With Ample Experience

At Haston Electric, 109 Goliad, three men with a combined total of 88 years of service have the experience and training necessary to take care of residential or commercial electrical problems.

Gene Haston, owner, will advise the individual or contractor in planning a new home or business building in order that the wiring meets immediate electric needs and plans for the future. Planning is necessary to prevent the overloading of circuits which may result in blown fuses and loss of time. A circuit with too many appliances can be dangerous.

Light fixtures that match the decor of the home will add to that "total decorator" look. Not only should fixtures be purchased to match the furnishings of a room but to give sufficient light. Light for reading and studying should be properly placed and of such construction to prevent glare. Haston Electric handles a large selection of lighting fixtures and can advise on proper fixtures for the individual's needs.

Over a hundred different kinds of light bulbs are carried in stock, ranging from five-watt fluorescent and seven-watt incandescent bulbs in all sizes, from small four-inch ones to 96-inch giants. Guard lights are also carried.

Service calls are also available, and a call to 267-5103 will bring a trained, experienced electrician to the individual's home or business very quickly.

Increases in productivity, or else somebody gets gypped.

In other words, unless the pie grows bigger through increases in productivity, no segment of the economy can cut a bigger slice without depriving its neighbor of his relative share.

It's another story altogether, though, if the recipes of government and business result in a bigger economic pie. Then business, labor and government all can take bigger slices without depriving each other at all.

The present recipe is gradually giving the economy indigestion, with the imbalance in the mixture generally conceded to be too much baking powder in the form of heavy federal spending. The country is getting sick.

Prices are rising. Wages are rising. But—productivity actually declined last month, and a recent Labor Department report showed that wage increases greatly exceeded increase in output per man-hour.

In the final quarter of 1967, the report showed, this output per man-hour in private industry rose at the rate of 2 per cent a year. This was a sharp increase, for the third quarter rate was less than one per cent.

However, compensation per man-hour jumped 4.8 per cent, and figures indicate that wage increases are now maintaining a pace well in excess of the growth in output.

This doesn't mean that labor is successfully taking part of the economic pie that belongs to industry, for industry seldom permits such things to happen for long. It, too, is seeking to retain its slice, or enlarge it, by raising prices.

This is a typical wage-price spiral, a tug of war, with each trying to maintain its share by grabbing from the other. It doesn't matter who starts it—labor or industry—but neither succeeds for very long.

Curley's Has Facilities For Every Type

Curley Johnson, owner of Curley's Studio, recently celebrated his fourth anniversary at 200 Eleventh Place and reminds area residents he has facilities to make all types of pictures.

Although the studio has been open only four years, Johnson has been in the photography business for 30 years. He makes wedding pictures, and of course, high-quality portraits.

Another specialty is the reproductions of old photographs. Johnson can make fading or tearing pictures into new photographs in either color or black and white.

In addition to his other services, Curley's carries a large selection of frames of all sizes to complete the portrait and films of all kinds may be taken to his studio to be developed.

Plunge Kills Writer Runyon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Damon Runyon Jr., son of the famous newspaper man and author and a newspaper reporter himself, has been killed in a 52-foot plunge from a Washington bridge.

Runyon, 50, was dead on arrival at a hospital after plummeting Sunday from P Street Bridge.

Runyon began his career 32 years ago with the old International News Service. Last October he became a feature writer for the D. C. Examiner, a new Washington paper.

Survivors include his widow, a son and a daughter, all of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lubbock Native Wins Silver Star

SAIGON (AP)—In a ceremony aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard Sunday, Cmdr. Marvin M. Quaid, 38, of Lubbock, Tex., was awarded the Silver Star for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action."

Quaid was decorated for his leadership of an air strike May 21, 1967, against the Hanoi thermal power plant.

Temperatures In Texas Rise

By The Associated Press

Clear to partly cloudy skies prevailed over Texas today and the forecasts were calling for a warming trend for most sections of the state.

The cooler and drier air followed in the wake of a Pacific front which pushed across the state and into the Gulf of Mexico during the weekend.

Temperatures before dawn today ranged from the 40s and 50s over the northern and central portions of Texas to the 60s in the south and along the Gulf Coast.

Maximum readings Sunday afternoon ranged from 69 at San Angelo to 89 at Laredo and 88 at Lufkin.

San Antonio with 36 of an inch was the only point in the state reporting rain for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Smile Of Victory And-Error

Bob Goalby, right, sits by as Roberto de Vicenzo applauds the new Masters Golf champion at Augusta, Ga., after de Vicenzo lost a tie at end of fourth round play which would have sent the two in a playoff today. Each had 277 at end of the four rounds but de Vicenzo turned in an erroneous scorecard and he was pushed back to second place.

Pen Mightier Than Club, Goalby Backs Into Title

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — There's an ink stain on the left breast of Bob Goalby's green Masters jacket. It doesn't show. But it's there. It always will be. It was put there by the innocently errant pen of Tommy Aaron, who kept score for his playing partner, Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo in Sunday's near-incredible wind-up of the Masters Golf Tournament. De Vicenzo, the balding globetrotter who won last year's British Open Championship, was in the clubhouse with a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 for 277, 11 under par, when Goalby came charging up through the pack and tied him with a final round 66.

Preparations for a playoff today were in the making when it was discovered De Vicenzo had signed an incorrect card and Goalby was the champion—declared champion on a bookkeeping error. Hord Hardin, president of the U.S. Golf Association and chairman of the rules committee, made the bombshell announcement: "Under the rules of golf, he (De Vicenzo) will be charged with a 66, which does not leave him in a tie with Bob Goalby, who is 11 under par. "He is second, 10 under par." De Vicenzo, playing a round that was just one shot off the Masters record, tapped in a two-foot birdie putt on the par-4, 400-yard 17th hole, just as Goalby was catching him with a 10-foot eagle putt on the 520-yard 15th.

WRONG MARK Through a split-screen account of it shown by CBS-TV, a national television audience saw the two putts drop almost together. But Aaron marked down a four on De Vicenzo's card, instead of three. Roberto went on to bogey the last hole. Blinded by pressure and the frustration of the bogey, he signed his card. And he was

Golf Rules Defended And Assailed After Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Will our conservative golf fathers be forced to rewrite the rules to conform with the jet and electronic age? There were such suggestions today after Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, the grand old warrior of the world's fairways, was deprived of a shot at the rich Masters title. "This will set golf back 10 years," grumbled one spectator after De Vicenzo had been charged with an extra stroke he didn't take simply because his playing partner put down the wrong figure and Roberto failed to catch it. It was as simple as that.

OUTDATED? "Golf rules are outdated," said Fred Corcoran, tournament director of the International Golf Association and once tournament manager for the PGA. Others—Hord Hardin, president of the U.S. Golf Association; Joe Dey, executive director of the USGA; and Joe Black, former tour director of the PGA—defended the rules. De Vicenzo apparently finished in a tie with Bob Goalby for the Masters crown with a 71-hole score of 277 only to be knocked down to second place when it was discovered that he had signed a card showing a 4 on the par 3 17th hole and a 66 instead of a 65. The mistake had been made by Tommy Aaron, the Argentine's playing partner, but under the existing rules it was Roberto's responsibility to check it and sign it authoritative.

THE RULE The rule is No. 38: "After each hole, the marker shall check the score with a competitor. On completion of the round the marker shall sign the card and hand it to the competitor. Should more than one marker record the scores, each shall sign the part for which he is responsible." In this case, Aaron was the marker for De Vicenzo and De Vicenzo the marker for Aaron. The third section of the rule says: "If a competitor returns a score for any hole lower than actually played, he shall be disqualified. A scorer higher than actually played must stand as returned."

This marks the first time that such a penalty has been imposed in a major men's tournament, with the title affected.

What About Turbines?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The field for the Indianapolis 500-mile race stands at 55, but six STP turbine cars remain unentered with entry deadline at midnight tonight. Four cars were entered Sunday for the Memorial Day race, with veterans Ronnie Dunham and Bud Tingelstad, both of Indianapolis, assigned to drive two of the cars. The three cars have turbocharged Offenhauser engines. The fourth entry was a Ford-powered car entered by Ken Breen of Warren, N.J. No driver was assigned.

The status of the turbines hasn't changed since April 5 when a federal judge rejected a plea by Studebaker's STP Division to order the U.S. Auto Club to restore its more liberal 1967 rules on turbine-powered cars. The STP turbine car driven by Parnelli Jones was running away with last year's 500 when a bearing failed less than 10 miles from the finish.

MURKY AS EVER

Another major Kentucky Derby by stepping stone, the Gotham Stakes, is past, but the road to the May 4 classic at Churchill Downs appears just as rocky as ever. Elmdorf's Verbatim, who appeared to run out of steam after six furlongs in the Governor's Gold Cup, set a stakes record in winning the Gotham last Saturday at Aqueduct.

Isidor Belber's Wise Exchange, training like a champion and figured easily the best Derby candidate in New York, couldn't touch Verbatim in the Gotham. Verbatim almost was counted out of the Derby picture after the Gold Cup, but the Speak John 3-year-old bounced right back into it by winning the $60,000 Gotham in 1:34, three-fifths of a second faster than the old stakes mark. Verbatim finished 2 1/2 lengths in front of Wise Exchange. What A Pleasure, not nominated for the Derby, finished third. In a major race for older horses last Saturday, Estreno II and Irish Rebellion finished in a dead heat in the $67,000, 1 1/2-mile Pan American Handicap at Gulfstream Park. This week's card will be three more Derby prep—the seven-furlong Forerunner Purse at Keeneland Friday and Saturday's Wood Memorial and Cal-

Young Fireball Artist Burns Astros' Skein

Houston, Tex. (AP) — What would have happened if rookie hurler Nolan Ryan of the New York Mets hadn't developed a blister Sunday in the Astrodome? "Wait until you see this kid," they said. "He'll pop your eyeballs out."

Ryan, 19-year-old righthander from Alvin, Tex., failed to wait for an introduction. He fanned the Astros' side in the first inning, struck out five of the first six batters, and held Houston hitless the first five innings. "The kid's a little difficult," said veteran third baseman Bob Aspromonte after Nolan ended Aspro's four-game hitting streak. "He throws as hard as anybody in the league."

Aspromonte was the only Houston regular in the lineup who Ryan failed to strike out at least twice. Ryan had a no-hitter intact until pinch hitter Lee Thomas launched the sixth inning with a single into left field. "He throws harder and his ball is not straight," said right fielder Norm Miller of Ryan. Mets Manager Gil Hodges signaled another rookie pitcher, Danny Frisella, out of the bullpen after six and two-thirds innings when a blister worsened on the middle finger of Ryan's pitching hand.

Frisella finished the game, striking out three more Astros as the Mets blanked Houston 4-0 for the first defeat of the season after four straight victories. NEW YORK (AP) — Nolan Ryan (R) pitched a no-hitter for the New York Mets against the Houston Astros in the Astrodome Sunday.

Willie Mays, Jim Hart Lead Giants' Explosion

With Willie Mays and Jim Hart thriving on an economy kick, the San Francisco Giants have gone from austerity to affluence in one lively afternoon. Mays bunched a two-run homer and two-run single in one inning Sunday and Hart cracked three straight homers, good for six RBI, as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies 13-2 and 3-1.

The Giants, who had scored just two runs in 24 innings while losing twice to Pittsburgh, erupted for 20 hits in the opener against the Phils and scored eight runs in the fifth inning. Mays accounting for half of them in his two trips to the plate. Mays sat out the first seven innings of the nightcap while Hart, who had drilled a three-run homer in the first game, accounted for all three San Francisco runs with a pair of homers off left-hander Chris Short. Ernie Banks' three-run homer led the Chicago Cubs past pre-

Davalillo Is One-Man Blitz

Vic Davalillo has improved his hitting by stealing a few inches at the plate and he also is making big strides forward on the bases, where he is stealing 90 feet at a time. It all added up to a lot of yardage for the diminutive Venezuelan Sunday as he drove in four runs with a home run and a triple and set up another with two stolen bases in Cleveland's 7-4 victory over Boston.

Ron Hansen also drove in four runs for Washington as the Senators rolled over Oakland 8-1 and Harmon Killebrew got the key hit — a two-run triple — in unbeat Minnesota's four-run third inning that beat the New York Yankees 4-3. In other American League games, Bill Freehan singled in the winning run in the 10th inning to hand Detroit a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago White Sox and California took advantage of Baltimore's faulty fielding to beat the Orioles 6-2.

"You notice that I'm closer to the plate?" Davalillo asked reporters. "Both pitches I hit are fast fall in on me. Pompeyo (his brother who played with Washington in 1953) tell me 'if they're going to hit you they're going to hit you u whether you're close or far away from the plate. There's no way you can get away.'" Hansen's three-run double and run-scoring single and homers by Frank Howard and Bill Bryan gave the Senators their first victory after three losses. Killebrew's belt came after Tony Oliva singled in a Minnesota run and then Bob Allison doubled home Killebrew with the decisive run as the Yankees drove out starter Dean Chance with three runs in the ninth inning.

Freehan's hit came with the bases loaded and none out after the White Sox manager a 44 tie off Detroit starter Mickey Lolich on two-run homers by Buddy Bradford and Tommy Davis. Roger Repoz led off California's victory with a homer and the Angels got another run when Baltimore shortstop Dave Johnson had trouble getting a ground ball out of his glove.

Nats To Decide On Expansion

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League will consider when it will expand from 10 to 12 baseball teams and set down guidelines for determining expansion procedure at a meeting in Chicago Friday. But League President Warren Giles said here Saturday that he expects no major action to be taken on any subject or "final decisions, I am sure."

Hawks Win On Fluke Shot

NEW YORK (AP) — A desperation shot, intended almost as much to get the puck into New York's end as to score a goal, made a Stanley Cup hero of young Bob Schmutz. It also gave the Chicago Black Hawks a 2-1 victory in the pivotal National Hockey League fifth playoff game against the Rangers. The victory — third straight for the Hawks — sends the East Division semifinals back to Chicago for a sixth game Tuesday with Bobby Hull and company leading 3-2 in the best-of-7 series.

Schmutz, given a regular turn because of Ken Wharram's sore ribs, snapped a 1-1 third period shot hit Ranger defenseman Jim Neilson's stick, changed direction, and zipped past goalie Ed Giacomin. "It was desperation shot," admitted Schmutz, who scored three times in 13 games during the regular NHL season after being called up from Dallas of the Central League. The winner of the Ranger-Hawk series has Montreal waiting in the wings. The Canadiens swept the other East Division semifinal 4-0 over Boston.

In the West Division, St. Louis holds a 3-2 edge over Philadelphia and Los Angeles leads Minnesota 3-2. Sixth games in both series are set for Tuesday at St. Louis and Minnesota.

Willie Mays, Jim Hart Lead Giants' Explosion

With Willie Mays and Jim Hart thriving on an economy kick, the San Francisco Giants have gone from austerity to affluence in one lively afternoon. Mays bunched a two-run homer and two-run single in one inning Sunday and Hart cracked three straight homers, good for six RBI, as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies 13-2 and 3-1.

The Giants, who had scored just two runs in 24 innings while losing twice to Pittsburgh, erupted for 20 hits in the opener against the Phils and scored eight runs in the fifth inning. Mays accounting for half of them in his two trips to the plate. Mays sat out the first seven innings of the nightcap while Hart, who had drilled a three-run homer in the first game, accounted for all three San Francisco runs with a pair of homers off left-hander Chris Short. Ernie Banks' three-run homer led the Chicago Cubs past pre-

SW Pacers Will Meet

The Southwest Conference returns to a full schedule of baseball activity this week with first-place Texas, winner of 10 consecutive games, meeting one of its principal challengers, Texas Christian. The Horned Frogs and Longhorns open a two-game series at Fort Worth Friday and play the second game Saturday. After losing its first three conference games, each by one run, Texas has knocked over nine straight league opponents and has a 1 1/2-game lead over TCU. Texas Christian, with seven victories in 11 games, moved into second place last week when Baylor shut out Texas A&M 2-0. The loss dropped the Aggies to third place with a 4-3 won-lost record. They have three games at last-place Texas Tech this weekend.

Southern Methodist, which plays Rice Friday and Saturday, and Baylor, with no conference games on tap, are still in the running for the title. SMU is 6-5 and Baylor 5-5.

Qualifying Opens At River Oaks

HOUSTON (AP) — Qualifying matches begin today in men's singles at the 34th annual River Oaks Tennis tournament. The field will be narrowed to 16 players who join a draw Tuesday with 16 men exempt from the initial matches. Canadian Mike Belkin, winner Sunday of the men's singles in the Masters Tennis Tournament at St. Petersburg, Fla., is one of the amateurs sitting out first day events. Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., seeded No. 1 at River Oaks, took the women's championship at St. Petersburg. The women's division begins competition Thursday. Miss Richey's brother, Cliff, is seeded No. 1 in men's singles. He is followed in seeding by Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, Ray Rufus of Australia and Cafael Osuna of Mexico.

Phillies On Verge Of Eastern Title

Three of the four berths in the National Basketball Association have been filled and the Philadelphia 76ers will attempt to complete the picture tonight. Los Angeles clinched its final with a 108-107 thriller over Dallas Saturday night. The Bucks took the series, 4-1. The 76ers could wrap up the East title in Philadelphia tonight with a victory over the Boston Celtics. Philadelphia, with four players hitting for over 20 points, tripped the Celtics in Boston 110-105 Sunday. The 76ers now have a commanding 3-1 lead as they shoot for their second straight NBA championship. In the ABA Eastern Division final Sunday night, the Pittsburgh Pipers took the crown with a 114-105 victory over Minnesota. It was the Pipers fourth victory in five playoff starts over the Muskies. Pittsburgh defeated Minnesota 117-108 Saturday night. Pittsburgh will open the best-

Six Straight For Swimmer

GREENVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Charles Hickox, 21-year-old Indiana University junior, has won six consecutive major swimming races. He is making a strong bid to succeed Mark Spitz, 17-year-old Santa Clara, Calif., high school student, for recognition as the foremost swimmer in the United States. Hickox won the 200-yard butterfly, the 100-yard backstroke and the 200-yard individual medley in the national AAU short course swimming championships at East Carolina University over the weekend. He beat Spitz in the medley.

Gotham Stakes Fail To Shed Light On Derby Favorites

Another major Kentucky Derby by stepping stone, the Gotham Stakes, is past, but the road to the May 4 classic at Churchill Downs appears just as rocky as ever. Elmdorf's Verbatim, who appeared to run out of steam after six furlongs in the Governor's Gold Cup, set a stakes record in winning the Gotham last Saturday at Aqueduct. Isidor Belber's Wise Exchange, training like a champion and figured easily the best Derby candidate in New York, couldn't touch Verbatim in the Gotham. Verbatim almost was counted out of the Derby picture after

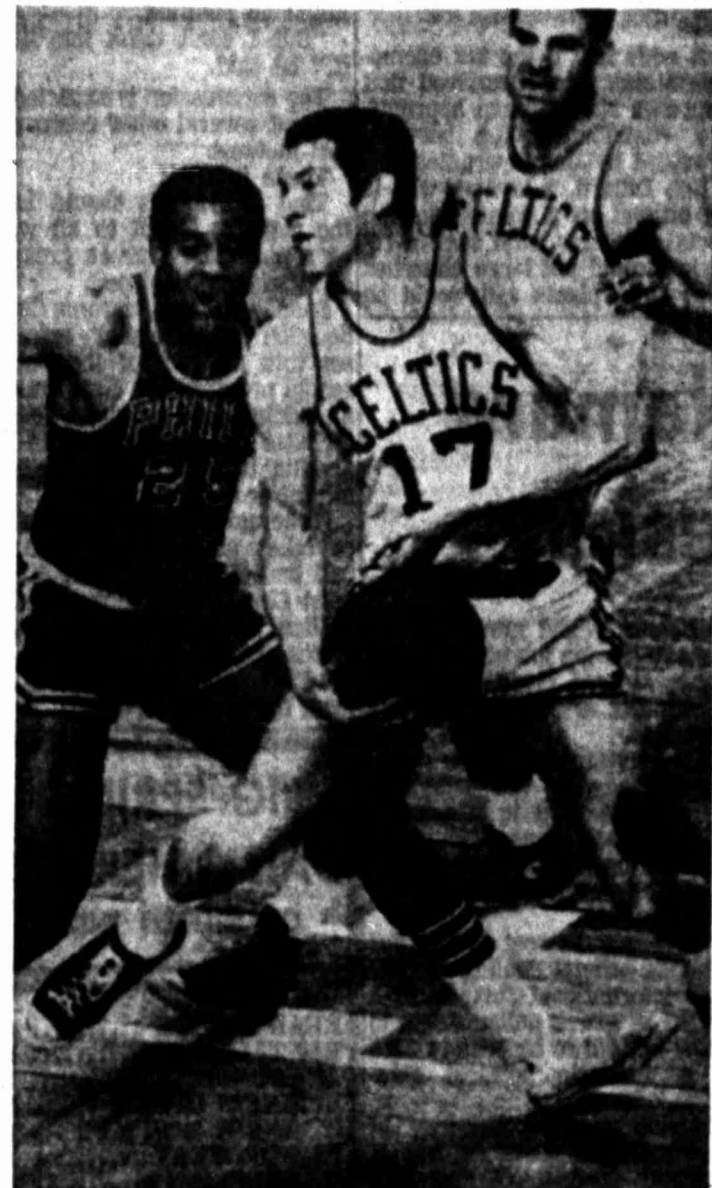

Young Fireball Artist Burns Astros' Skein

Houston, Tex. (AP) — What would have happened if rookie hurler Nolan Ryan of the New York Mets hadn't developed a blister Sunday in the Astrodome? "Wait until you see this kid," they said. "He'll pop your eyeballs out."

Ryan, 19-year-old righthander from Alvin, Tex., failed to wait for an introduction. He fanned the Astros' side in the first inning, struck out five of the first six batters, and held Houston hitless the first five innings. "The kid's a little difficult," said veteran third baseman Bob Aspromonte after Nolan ended Aspro's four-game hitting streak. "He throws as hard as anybody in the league."

Aspromonte was the only Houston regular in the lineup who Ryan failed to strike out at least twice. Ryan had a no-hitter intact until pinch hitter Lee Thomas launched the sixth inning with a single into left field. "He throws harder and his ball is not straight," said right fielder Norm Miller of Ryan. Mets Manager Gil Hodges signaled another rookie pitcher, Danny Frisella, out of the bullpen after six and two-thirds innings when a blister worsened on the middle finger of Ryan's pitching hand.

Frisella finished the game, striking out three more Astros as the Mets blanked Houston 4-0 for the first defeat of the season after four straight victories. NEW YORK (AP) — Nolan Ryan (R) pitched a no-hitter for the New York Mets against the Houston Astros in the Astrodome Sunday.

Fast Action

John Havlicek (17) of the Boston Celtics as he comes down after taking a pass from teammate and Chet Walker (25) of the Philadelphia 76ers attempted to break it up in the first period of their National Basketball Association playoff game at Boston Garden Sunday. Also in on the play is Bailey Howell of the Celtics. Philadelphia won 110 to 105 to lead series 3-1.

GENTLE GIANT SOLVES BOOZE PROBLEM

Hoss Really In Love--Gosh, No

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In the wake of the stress and pre-empted programs of recent days, network television settled back to something like normal over the weekend.

BEAUTY CONTEST
There was nothing extraordinary going on, and it was sort of relaxing. Contributing to the "business as usual" look was another of those teenage beauty contests on ABC Saturday night.

TAX LOOPHOLES
Sen. Robert F. Kennedy presented some statistics about loopholes—one man worth more than a billion dollars who paid less than $700 in taxes two years in a row; 35 persons with annual incomes of more than $500,000 who paid no taxes at all.

FIST FIGHT
Sunday night's show was a sudsy affair, with Hoss busily meddling in a family situation and straightening out the bent if not broken relationship of a man and his wife and children.

Nightingale in a drama special, was the lonely, neglected wife. Hoss wasn't really in love with her—gosh, no—but he was a gentle understanding giant who brilliantly got the husband to quit belting booze and back to his family by the simple expedient of having a fist fight with him.

Texas Political Hopefuls Hit Campaign Trail Again

By The Associated Press
Texas political hopefuls hit the campaign trail again today after resting up over the Easter Sunday weekend.

In the Democratic gubernatorial race, Preston Smith planned to be in Austin today, Eugene Locke planned to campaign in Dallas, while Dolph Briscoe scheduled stops in Fort Stockton, Pecos, Monahans, Odessa and Midland.

VIRUS VICTIM
Paul Eggers, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination, was to be in Houston today.

In the Democratic race for lieutenant governor Don Gladden planned to be in Fort Worth, Cleburne and Dallas today while Ben Barnes announced he would campaign in Houston.

In the only political development Sunday, Sen. Ralph Yarborough issued a statement thanking groups for endorsing him as a favorite son presidential candidate.

The senator has been confined to his bed at his Austin home for several days by a virus.

ENDORSEMENT
The senator a political foe of Gov. John Connally, who also seeks the favorite son role, said "I hope to be back in harness in another day or two and will then consider these resolutions."

Members of a Lower Rio Grande Valley "Texans for Kennedy" club endorsed Yarborough Saturday as a favorite son candidate.

The endorsement followed similar action last week by Democratic county committees in El Paso and Houston and heightened the chances for a fight between the senator and Connally for control of the Texas delegation to the national convention.

Nigeria Likely To Step Up War

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria has threatened to increase military activity against secessionist Biafra, apparently in an effort to prevent other African countries from recognizing the breakaway eastern region.

Tanzania last week became the first African state to recognize the Biafran government of Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, and Nigeria promptly broke relations with Tanzania.

Okoi Arikpo, Nigeria's commissioner for foreign affairs, announced Sunday that it was "quite likely" the Lagos government would step up the war against Biafra. He added that "if the Tanzanians send a representative to Biafra and we meet him there we will treat him like a rebel."

He did not say how many had returned home from Canada.

Draft Dodgers Return To U.S.

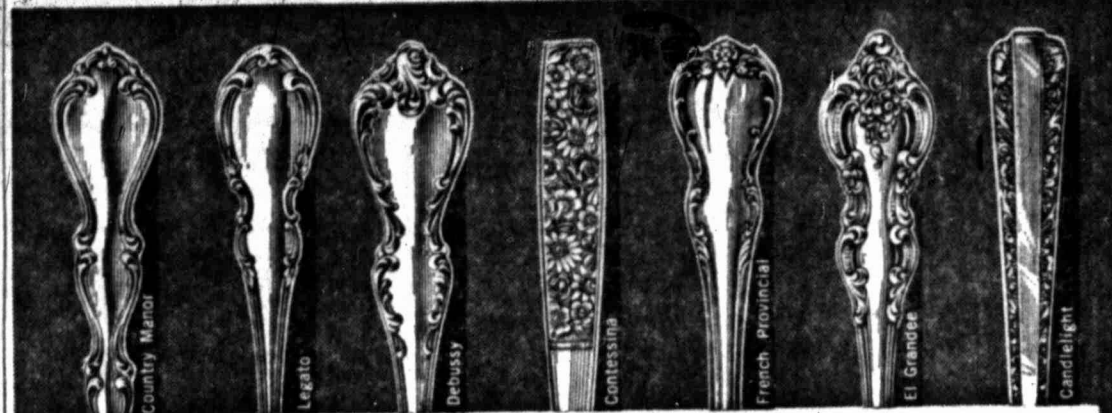

TORONTO (AP) — Some U.S. draft dodgers have decided to return home and face jail because they could not adjust to Canadian life, the secretary of the Toronto Anti-Draft Program told a Unitarian meeting Sunday.

Vision Of Virgin Mary Reported

CAIRO (AP) — More than 200 persons say they have seen a vision of the Virgin Mary during the past four nights in an old church in the Cairo suburb of Zeitoun.

Zeitoun is about a mile from Matariya, where the Virgin, the infant Jesus and St. Joseph are reputed to have rested during their flight to Egypt.

Sunday night about 2,000 people, including nuns and priests, packed the square and alleys leading to the church.
