Humphrey Seeks Unity In Bid For Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey carried a banner of national unity and "peace over politics" into a three-man contest for the Democratic presidential nomination Saturday.

crowd, fringed with pretty girls wearing green-banded straw hats bearing an "HHH" symbol and sprinkled with Negro supporters, cheered loudest the 56-year-old vice president's assertion that it is time for Americans to say: "I love my country."

participate, on equal terms, in every aspect of being and doing that relates to self-respect," he continued. Humphrey praised Johnson a half dozen times in his 30-minute announcement, there was no sign that the President will help him in his attempt to gain the nomination over Sens. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

Carthy have been critical of Johnson's record in handling the Vietnam war and coping with domestic problems.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week . . . with Joe Pickle

Spring is a blast in these parts, especially at the National Guard armory. It doesn't make much sense, considering that only two rifles (without firing pins) were taken, but somebody went to a lot of trouble to stack explosives against the ordnance room, string a quarter of mile of wire to the top of the mountain from whence the charge apparently was touched off. Pretty silly, too, for it puts Uncle Sam as well as the State of Texas on the trail.

A former Big Spring man, and another well known here, received federal judicial appointments. Hal Woodward, who grew up and finished high school here, was named judge for the northern district of Texas.

Bermuda Has Business As Usual During Rioting

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Tourists swam and watched yacht races, then returned to their hotels Saturday while British troops enforced a 5:30 p.m. to-dawn curfew.

partures were near normal. The International Race Week yachting competition began Saturday and tourists from two cruise ships that put in at the city's harbor shopped in the specialty stores along Front Street.

Left More Behind

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Three men stole $200,000 from an airport safe deposit box and eluded police. Authorities said the men were in such a hurry that they left behind $230,000 and a shipment of cocaine valued at $900,000.

Watch Called For Twisters; But Hail Causes The Damage

Pounding hail, inflicting damage in some places, struck Saturday out of marring thunderstorms that brought fear of tornadoes to much of North Central Texas and northeastern sections of the state.

As the watch was posted, heavy thunderstorms raked Pittsburg and Gilmer sections of Northeast Texas and moved to the southeast.

Peach trees, house roofs and utility lines suffered. Police at Cleburne and Greenville reported hailstones as big as tennis balls in both cities.

The Weather Bureau said severe thunderstorms were expected in a 120-mile-wide strip of country from 25 miles northwest of Texarkana to 25 miles north of College Station, deep in the Texas midlands. Sections of Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas were included in the late Golf ball size hail struck six miles north of Mesquite in Eastern Dallas County. Crops were ruined in the vicinity of Bertram by hail that ranged from the size of marbles to hen eggs.

The tornado watches went up after heavy thunderstorms raked the middle Red River Valley with damaging hail earlier in the day.

TIPA Awards Close Session Charge Filed In Shooting

Awards were presented to top student journalists of the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association at an awards banquet Saturday night at the Holiday Inn, which climaxed the two-day 20th annual convention.

End Of The Chase

Policeman holds gun on Jerome Holland, 17, in palm tree thicket where the wounded youth took refuge after a robbery and running gun battle. Holland was wounded in the chest and arm in a shootout with employees of a supermarket that had been held up.

Storekeepers Chase, Capture 4 Robbers

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — A 25-year-old supermarket manager became enraged when five bandits robbed his market of $1,113 and held his mother hostage. The manager, Guy McHarty, took three bag boys with him and chased the getaway car Friday in a running gun battle that ended with the capture of four men. The manager's mother was held captive while the men rifled cash registers at the Winn-Dixie store but was left uninjured when the men fled. McHarty fired a carbine at the getaway car for five miles during the 80-mile-an-hour chase until he plugged one tire, forcing the bandits to stop. One of McHarty's helpers, Dave Dzemsak, 19, was wounded in the groin when, police said, one of the bandits fired at his pursuers from under the getaway car. He was reported in good condition at a Miami hospital. Three of the men surrendered and lay face down, hands behind their heads on the busy roadside of Interstate 95, under the gun held by McHarty until police arrived.

Regional Leaders Chart New Head Start Program

Directors toiled up here Saturday for Head Start programs for 3,600 pre-school children in more than 50 communities in the western half of Texas. Approximately four-score program directors, along with Community Action Program and Panhandle Educational Services Organization leaders took part in the two-day session. Mrs. Frances Lyle, regional training officer, said that regulations for summer programs were reviewed, techniques discussed and demonstrated, and health requirements stressed. So involved were the participants in the opening session Friday evening at Cosden Country Club that the meeting had to be called to a halt after 10:30 p.m. Satisfactory meetings were all at the Child Development Center (formerly Kate Morrison School) where the Big Spring full-year program, as well as summer Head Start, is operated. Mrs. Lyle said that Big Spring was chosen because of the outstanding development program here. Taking part on a panel Friday evening were Dr. Charles R. Jones, special education, Texas Tech; Lee McCalister and H. G. Adams, Marfa, Head Start directors; Mrs. Jeanette Jenkins, child development, Texas Tech; Ray Hudson, assistant CAP director at San Angelo; Mrs. Clara McPherson, nutritionist, Texas Tech, and Mrs. Frances Salaza, Lubbock social worker. Dr. Kay King and Cylia Law, child development, Texas Tech, and Keith Swim, director of the Head Start program here, were on Saturday morning's program, along with Dr. Tom McDermitt, Dallas, U. S. Department of Public Health, who outlined what a full-rounded dental program should be. Dr. Robert Carr, Lubbock, gave the same for medical expectations during the afternoon. Mrs. Margaret Emswyler, Head Start director for Austin OES, also participated. The VOLT technical service gave demonstrations of equipment and methods, and resource personnel moved out furniture and then rearranged it in one of several demonstrations. In the concluding sessions,

The Big Spring Traffic Commission will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. to discuss traffic control, stop sign placement and a request for the removal of an unloading zone. The meeting will be held in the city commission room. The agenda includes discussion of traffic control on Birdwell Lane between Third and Fourth Streets; consideration of a stop sign at Sixth and Abrams and of additional school bus stops; a request to remove the unloading zone at 217 Runnels in front of the Miss Texas Shop; and discussion of traffic signals on North Third and Lancaster.

THE WEEK

a year ago, statements in response to the call for condition of April 18 showed. The call date fell when a lot of oil payments were in transit, which helped the record $49,057,000—deposit some. Loans and discounts were $26,615,000, also a record and up $2,661,000 over a year ago. Cash of $10,229,000 was up three-quarters of a million dollars but this was three million dollars short of a record in this department.

It happened 12 miles north of Big Lake in Reagan County, but Roy Fox, 56, of Garden City, was just as dead as though it happened right at home. His car and a pickup truck met head-on.

How far away is Vietnam? Not really on the other side of the world when it comes to casualties. Last week Pic Reynaldo A. Sanchez laid his life on the altar of service for his country when he died of wounds April 22. Besides many fellow townsmen who mourn in profound respect, he leaves his wife and two children. Arrangements for his last rites are pending.

This is the home stretch week for the primaries. Big Spring and Howard County warmed up to it in a big way last week with four gubernatorial candidates making stops here. They were Waggoner Carr and Don Yarbrough for the Democrats and Paul Eggers and Wallace T. Sisk for the Republicans. John Hill and Pat O'Daniel for the Demos and John R. Trice for the GOP were supposed to be here. The governor's race and two commissionerships (No. 1-3) will generate most of the interest in the primaries Saturday—if not overshadowed by the unofficial referendum on liquor by the drink, horse race betting and a state milk price commission.

The Air Force has released $100,000 in appropriations for installing a sprinkler system at Webb AFB. This is part of the $2,296,000 appropriation package for Webb last year. The big item—two million of it—was for a new base hospital, which has not yet been given the final green light for bids. Meantime, requests for $2,796,000 for additional work at the base were approved during the week by the House armed services committee. This is but the first of nearly a dozen steps.

R. V. Jones, who gave eight years of his life in service to his community as a city commissioner (two as mayor) died unexpectedly. For the bulk of his time on the commission, the overwhelming problem was keeping solvent, but in the later stages several improvements were made, including the two small city lakes, which, despite their small size, were life-savers. Criticized for them, Mr. Jones lived to see them life-savers for the town. Without them the city would never have landed the VA Hospital.

Newcomers learned that nothing is impossible with West Texas weather. Sunday night showers fell in the area, from one to two inches in the Ackerly area. Despite this soaking, high winds Monday afternoon had a first class sandstorm raking that area. When temperatures dipped here to the low 40's, there was actually ice on fields (where sprinklers were going) in parts of Glasscock County.

The wild flower show is an unusually brilliant one this year. Amateur naturalists are seeing varieties they never saw before. Most farm and ranch roads have good displays. There is one large spot in the city cemetery which looks like it had been smeared with golden paint. Ed Fisher says that one drive in this general area with much beauty is from Robert Lee to San Angelo because blue bonnets are mixed in with other flowers. But you don't have to go out of town to see an avalanche of roses and irises.

Congratulations are in order to Gayle Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coleman, and Bill Schwarzenbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Schwarzenbach. They were cited as outstanding Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members—which is no small honor.

Our town has been honored during the weekend by the presence of the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association. These young people are doing a significant job in putting out papers and yearbooks for their colleges, and we hope that many of them will continue this vital service as graduate journalists.

Word is that Brig. Gen. Kyle Riddle, former Webb commander, who has been assigned to Tokyo, will be coming back to Texas, this time as chief of staff for the 12th Air Force at Waco.

BEAUTIFULLY CRAFTED WROUGHT IRON FURNITURE

AUSTIN (AP)—If riots come to Texas, the Department of Public Safety is ready with specially trained and specially equipped squads. DPS assistant director Wilson Speir said Saturday. DPS officers throughout the state have undergone an intensive, accelerated riot control training. Speir said. "It is a tribute to the people of this state that we have avoided the tragic incidents of lawlessness that have occurred elsewhere in the country, but it is the policy of this department to be prepared to maintain law and order wherever violence might be threatened," Speir said. "It also will be our policy to use whatever legal means are necessary to prevent the breaking of the laws of this state insofar as possible, and to apprehend anyone who does violate the law," he said. "Since unlawful rioting generally is urban in nature, the Department of Public Safety stands ready upon request to assist any local law enforcement agency in the suppression of lawlessness," he said. "We hope it won't be necessary to use the training and equipment, but we're ready if we must," he said.

Dear Abby

Time For Him To Get A Job

DEAR ABBY: John and I have been married for seven years and I think I have a problem.

When we were first married, John decided that he wanted to go back to the university and get his BA degree, so I agreed to continue to work and support us so he could. John got his BA, then decided he wanted a Masters, so I agreed to continue to work until he got that. Well, right after he got his Masters, he wanted his Ph.D., so I agreed to continue working.

I've supported both of us for seven years now. I will be 28 on my next birthday and would like to quit my job and have a family while I'm still young enough.

John could easily get a teaching position at the university and support us both, but he now says he's "out of the mood" of having a family, and he doesn't want me to quit working. I am at the end of my rope, and any comments would be appreciated.

DEAR DISTRESSED: Part of the problem is your reluctance to look John in the eye and tell him what is on your mind — or else why would you be writing to me? If necessary, practice in front of a mirror, and learn how to say (convincingly) "Look, Baby, I have had it with the working. Let's YOU support US for a change!"

DEAR ABBY: While driving through a small city in upstate New York I became ill and a doctor hospitalized me for 15 days. I was in this semi-private room, and had a "roommate."

My first "roomie" was a 10-year-old kid who watched TV around the clock. I was trapped in an oxygen tent and almost lost my mind.

My next "roomie" was brought into my room at 3 a.m. He'd had a snootful and missed a curve at 70 miles per hour. His wife tore in, hysterical, and proceeded to chew him out. She called him some interesting names, immediately repented, then stood outside the door and cried for two hours while her mother gave her the old "I-told-you-so" routine.

That afternoon about 500 relatives came to visit him. At least a dozen of them pulled out cigarettes and were just about to light up when they were calmly told by my roommate that the "guy in the other bed" was in an oxygen tent! I kept expecting to be blown to bits any minute. After they left, his wife sat on his bed and cried for another two hours.

By this time I was begging the nurses to put me in the morgue so I could get some rest. My next roommate was a man whose wife adored him. She was there 16 hours a day, seven days a week and talked all the time. Somehow I got well enough to go home.

Abby, please print this. Maybe someone will remember it if (God forbid) he ever has to share a room in a hospital.

Style Show, Parade To Mark Cotton Week Here

Cotton, still the king of this area's agriculture, will draw a week-long salute here starting Monday when Big Spring and Howard County observe National Cotton Week.

Although the yields here vary sharply, according to weather,

Howard County has averaged over $5,000,000 income annually from cotton. The income in counties on the South Plains above here runs many times higher than that per year.

PARADE MONDAY Kicking off the observance will be a big parade through the downtown district at 4 p.m. Monday with floats, modern equipment used in planting, cultivating and harvesting cotton, bands, and the South Plains Maid of Cotton from Lubbock. All during the week merchants will be offering specials on cotton goods, stressing the superior qualities of this natural fibre.

Thursday evening judging in a contest of sewing with cotton goods will take place at a style show in the city auditorium. Some 45 will be participating in this event. Coahoma's famed "Border Brass" ensemble will play for the occasion.

As an added reminder of cotton's important role in the area's economy, bales of cotton will be placed in the downtown area and shopping centers by the West Texas Compress Company.

During the week, service clubs will hear programs on cotton, its importance and, its future.

Gerald Miller heads up the parade which moves off at 4 p.m. Monday from First and Main. It will move south on Main to Sixth, then to Runnels, where it will turn back to First where it will disperse. More than 20 local implement dealers and others allied with the cotton industry will feature equipment — planters, pickers, strippers, tractors, land breaking equipment, etc. Also featured will be bands from Coahoma High School and Runnels

Special Education Class Plants Own Cotton Crop

Pupils in the special education division of Big Spring schools got their cotton crop into the ground on the eve of Cotton Week.

W. F. Taylor, who has been working with cotton for 70 years, helped them do it as a climax to a program he gave on cotton last Wednesday at Moss school. The program was part of the Oasis Garden Club's continuing therapy project at the school. This month the project was the top state award.

Mr. Taylor was worried about his presentation, but after a few words the youngsters were enthralled as he told about how cotton, a wild plant, was domesticated centuries and centuries ago, and how it became a major crop in this country. Tracing the development of cotton, he recalled that as a lad of six he helped with plowing and planting. The plowing was with a Georgia stock, which turned the earth only one way, and planting was by hand. It was all one man could do to take care of five acres because it had all to be done by hand.

Now, he explained, one man with machines and chemicals can do what perhaps 100 hands once did. Machines not only prepare the land, plant and cultivate it, but cotton strippers and pickers can gather in one day as much as 100 good pickers once could. Chemicals now kill weeds which once had to be chopped by hand.

He explained how cotton fibres, once pulled from the seed by hand, was cut loose by whirling saws of a gin. The children pulled seed loose by hand, and then planted these seed, along with delinted ones he had brought. He also showed them how to pull the lint so the staple (length) could be determined, and told why micronaire (strength), and Pressley (fineness of fibre) were so important.

"Farmers can no longer grow just any cotton," he told the children. "They have to raise the kind of cotton that will

He also told why cotton made the best cloth, and he pointed out that he and Mrs. Taylor were wearing 100 per cent cotton clothing. Later he will return to help thin the cotton the youngsters planted in a long flower bed, and in the fall, if all goes well, there will be a cotton picking, and more pulling of fibres to see what sort of crop they raised.

Also participating in the project was Mrs. C. O. Hill, the club's therapy chairman, and Mrs. Jim Zike, club president.

and Goliad Junior Highs. Miss Big Spring (Sharon Hicks), Miss Junior Big Spring (Suzanne Mich), Miss Farm Bureau (Linda Madison), will be featured on floats. The South Plains Maid of Cotton will be featured in the parade, which will be led by the Webb AFB color guard and local public officials.

A big show will be the style show Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the city auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent. More than 45 contestants, mostly from the homemaking classes of high schools, will participate in the "Sew It Yourself with Cotton" contest. Neighboring counties are invited to have entries, too.

While the Coahoma Border Brass will pace the show, Mrs. Frances Wheat, home economist for Texas Electric Service, will be the master of ceremonies, and Mrs. Joanne Forrest will narrate the show. The maid of cotton also will be on the program.

Menard Jaycees Sponsor CAF Fly-In This Afternoon

By JERRY MONSON
The Menard Jaycees are sponsoring a Confederate Air Force Fly-In today at 2 p.m. at the Menard County Airport, with a selected group of famed World War II aircraft from the flying museum which is based in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Tickets for the show are $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children. Gates will open at noon, and a number of local flying enthusiasts are expected to attend.

ing a private pilot's license should get in on the ground school instruction classes being offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 - 10 p.m. at the Big Spring Aircraft office at Howard County Airport. Instructor is Robert Jones. There is no additional charge for wives attending, too, according to Charles Noble, manager. This class will run through the end of May, and a new one will begin about the second week in June.

planes of Howard County Flying Club. Flying for Big Spring Flying Club were Tom Williams, Clayton Bettle, John Stanley, J. H. Hammond, Don Baker, Ronnie Howard and Charles Rainwater.

A sharp drop in passenger load factor, higher interest costs and reduced federal subsidy are responsible for T-TA's loss of $445,000 during the first three months of the year, according to Dick McKaughan, president, in his quarterly message to shareholders this year. The airline sustained a $185,000 loss for the same period last year.

Pollard To Attend Dealers Meeting

Bill Pollard, of Pollard Chevrolet Co., and his wife have registered to attend the 51st Annual Convention of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association in Dallas, May 5-7. Pollard is an area director on the state association. More than 1,000 persons will attend the state's largest gathering of car dealers to participate in clinics on wage and hour laws, industrial relations, business management and auto safety. The highlight of the three-day convention will be a meeting between the car dealers and top executives of Ford, Chrysler, General Motors and American Motors to discuss new safety laws, car warranties and other benefits for car buyers in Texas.

There were about 30 transit planes in at Howard County Airport during the week. Among them was a new experimental plane, the Starduster "mini-biplane," owned by Stardust Aviation, El Cajon, Calif. It was en route to Chicago, Ill.

Others included a Cherokee D en route from Florida to California, where the wings will be taken off so the plane may be shipped to the Piper dealers in Honolulu, Hawaii; and a plane from Cabot Carbon Corporation, Pampa.

Up in the planes of Big Spring Aircraft during the week were Larry Milch, Marian Walker, Joel Summers, Leon Anderson, Thomas Stevens, John Koettner, Lee Turner, Robert Mayo, Mrs. Joyce Green and Kyle McAlister. Mrs. Carolyn Jones soloed. Mike Moore, Sam Dennis and Don Grigg were up in the

Criminal Jury Matters To Be Heard By Jurors

Faced with no civil cases ready for trial, Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, Friday afternoon suggested that Wayne Burns, district attorney, might want to try some of the pending jury criminal matters on his docket.

Burns and his staff hustled around and set up two cases for trial. One, set for Monday at 10 a.m., is a burglary charge pending against John Lewis Christmas. The second case is against J. W. Reynolds Jr., charged with writing a felony worthless check. Judge Caton had set down 20 civil matters for disposition this week. He sounded the docket at 2 p.m. and none was found ready for trial.

It was at this time he suggested the criminal cases. A jury panel which has been notified to report for duty will be qualified at 10 a.m. to try the two criminal cases.

Burns announced Friday that Jack Kruse, charged with writing a worthless check, entered a plea of guilty last week. He was placed on three years probation and given nine months to reimburse the merchants who had accepted the bad checks. The specific check for which he pleaded guilty was for $75 and was cashed at Hemphill Wells, Burns said.

Maj. Angel Going Back

Maj. Robert Angel, who has been home on special leave to take the American Board of Thoracic Surgery, will leave here Sunday evening to return to his post in Vietnam.

He has four more months of duty in Cam Ranh Bay hospital where he is chief of surgery and also has doubled as commander of the casualty staging flight which handles all cases which are being sent to other major hospitals in Japan, the Philippines and the United States. About every type of surgical case imaginable from the combat casualties has come to the Cam Ranh Bay hospital, which Maj. Angel says has the best possible of equipment.

"Our facilities are the best, and we have wonderful nurses and capable corpsmen who see that the men get the best medical and surgical service possible," he said. During his tenure there, Maj. Angel has managed to squeeze out some time to help the Vietnamese. Included was a case of heart surgery on a small Vietnamese girl.

He completed his work before the American Board last Sunday in Pittsburgh, Pa., and is now awaiting word from the board. He has been working toward this for several years and the Air Force granted him leave to return home for the examinations. He has been spending time with his wife and son, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel.

Multiple Sclerosis Workers

Workers in the Multiple Sclerosis Society talk over a proclamation with Mayor Arnold Marshall, right, announcing "Conquer Multiple Sclerosis Month" in Big Spring. From left are Chester Cathey, society chairman; Mrs. G. T. Painter, and Mrs. Spike Dykes, who is the drive chairman.

Hope Chest Drive Begins

"Conquer Multiple Sclerosis Month" was proclaimed Friday by Mayor Arnold Marshall to commemorate the 1968 Hope Chest campaign.

The proclamation was presented by the mayor to leaders of the Big Spring - Coahoma Division of the Permian Basin Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

According to Chester Cathey, chairman of the society, approximately 500,000 persons are afflicted with multiple sclerosis and related diseases. The disease affects the central nervous system and destroys patches of the substance myelin which insulates the nerve fibers.

Mrs. Spike Dykes has been named to coordinate the community-wide canvass, which is planned for Tuesday, May 21. A volunteer appeal will be made later.

Headquarters for the drive will be in the old Gibbs and Weeks Building, 109-111 E. 3rd. Telephone is 263-4633.

Two Major Recovery Projects Are Planned

Two major secondary recovery projects — both water floods — have been approved for the Westbrook (middle Clear Fork) pool in Mitchell County. It is calculated that an extra 28 million barrels of oil will be produced as a result of these activities.

The discovery of this reservoir, completed in 1921, was the first commercial crude oil producer in West Texas.

The water floods for the middle Clear Fork horizon, the sources of practically all the oil from the Westbrook area, is found at about 2,900 feet.

Standard Oil Co. of Texas will be the operator for the Westbrook, North (middle Clear Fork) Unit of 7,700 acres on which there are now 100 producing wells.

Twenty-two of those will be used as water injection holes when the entire program is completed. Engineers calculate that an additional recovery of 17 million barrels of crude will be produced as a result of pressure maintenance by water injection in the unit. American Petrofina Co. of Texas will be in charge of the Westbrook, Southeast (middle Clear Fork) Unit of 3,480 acres with 138 wells presently listed on the proration schedules of the Railroad Commission.

Additional recovery from this unit is calculated at nine million barrels. Seventeen injection wells are planned.

The Westbrook (middle Clear Fork) reservoir in 1967 is credited with yielding 1,361,000 barrels of crude to bring its cumulative production to January 1 of this year to 34,407,000 barrels. Industry authorities estimate present reserves at about 25.5-million barrels.

Judge And Juror
CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Court Judge Francis J. Talty learned Friday that starting May 7 he is to be both a judge and juror. The judge has been called for jury duty by the Cuyahoga County jury commissioners.

TOP 'BOSS' AND SECRETARY C. W. Shouse and Mrs. Sue Ratliff

SUE RATLIFF HONORED

Top 'Boss' Honor To C. W. Shouse

Big Spring chapter of the National Secretaries' Association Saturday night named as its executive of the year C. W. Shouse, vice president of refining for Cosden Oil & Chemical Company and a director of American Petrofina.

Members also paid tribute to their own president, Mrs. Dee (Sue) Ratliff, with a citation of secretary of the year. She is employed at Texas Electric Service Company.

The awards were made at a dinner program at the Big Spring Country Club which climaxed a week-long observance of National Secretaries Week. Shouse was recognized not only for his attributes of an outstanding "boss" but for a notable record in his own profession and in civic work in the community. He is on the board of both the YMCA and the TB Association.

Mrs. Ratliff, who has held virtually all offices in the local chapter and who plans this year to take examinations as a Certified Professional Secretary, was lauded for her interest in the association as well as her professional competence.

The dinner program featured a review of the book, "At Wit's End," given by Mrs. Larson Lloyd, who highlighted hilarious sequences from a humorous recital of the daily crises of a wife and mother.

Don Womack was master of ceremonies, and commended the secretaries' association for promoting professional achievement. The association encourages regular educational and professional training.

Another activity of the last week was an awards party for the chapter-sponsored Bridge Marathon. First place went to Ruth Ward and Donna Hembree, second to Nell Hall and Helen McCrary, and third to Peggy Grimes and Ben Stewart.

NSA plans to sponsor a bridge marathon again this year, starting in September, and invites participation of all bridge players. Proceeds go to a scholarship for a deserving secretarial student at Howard County Junior College.

The following awards were presented: wolf, Brian Rosson, Keith Raybourn and Terry Chorn; gold arrow points, Brian Rosson, Keith Raybourn, John Williams, silver arrow points, John Gehling, Russell McDonnell, Brian Rosson, Keith Raybourn, Tom Anthony.

Also, dinner badges, Steve Evans, John Williams, Leslie Dickerman and Jon Elrod; assistant dinner badges, Allen Speck, Hyler Farris, Terry Chorn and Ben Frazier; special recruiting award, Hyler Farris.

West Texans Claim Awards

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Two West Texas high schools walked away with the major trophies in exhibits and contests at the Texas Industrial Arts Student Association fair on the A&M University campus Saturday.

Snyder piled up the most points to win best-represented in the bracket for senior high schools. Madison Junior High of Abilene finished first in its category.

LaMarque and Kress were second and third, respectively, behind Snyder. Lamar Junior high of Bryan and Lincoln of Abilene followed Madison in that order.

Almost 900 students from 95 Texas schools competed in the two-day meet.

Brown-eyed Denise Holman, 17-year-old junior of Reagan High in Austin, was chosen state sweetheart for the association. She won over three other finalists.

Miss Holman, only 4-11½, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holman of Austin.

The Austin beauty won over Debbie Norris of LaMarque, Judy Hayes of El Campo and Brunene Smith of Port Lavaca.

Al Garcia of Corpus Christi Miller and Kenny Lane of Kress tied for high point honors in the fair.

Don Allford said, "In plain language this means that the many union members who don't share George Meany's hawkish views and don't like Hubert Humphrey are supposed to stay away from their precinct conventions" May 4.

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — Five children of one family, ranging in age from four to 17, were found late Saturday shot to death.

The bodies were found sprawled outside a farm house six miles west northwest of Mattoon.

Police officers were searching for an 18-year-old youth who reportedly lived with the William Cox family.

Arrangements are pending but are expected to be in Big Spring.

Mr. Vinson was a retired section foreman for the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. He was born at Abilene.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Edith Vinson, of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Buster Weaver, Big Spring; one son, Thomas Odell Vinson, Huntsville, Ala.; several brothers and sisters; also four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

U.S. authorities have said only that American forces are in their normal alert posture.

Since the enemy's lunar year offensive across the country died out there have been rumors that another coordinated drive could come at any time. Some highly placed American officials discount the recent reports that have pinpointed the attack for the last few days of this month. They feel a more likely time would be the latter part of May or early June.

Others note that rarely, if ever, has the enemy carried out actions at expected times or on

KEEPING EYE ON CALENDAR Candidates Facing Busiest Week

Calendar-watching candidates for governor spread out over the state Saturday on the final campaigning weekend before the May 4 primary elections.

Nine of the candidates were expected in Galveston Sunday to talk to the Texas Association of Broadcasters meeting.

Dolph Briscoe told a hometown audience at Uvalde that "People are just beginning to decide whom they will cast their votes for on election day."

He said next week will be his busiest. He predicted he would lead the Democratic ticket next Saturday.

"Our campaign headquarters is receiving a flurry of reports from all over the state that this will be an upset year," he said.

At Harlingen, John Hill of Houston said, "Everywhere I go, I am told that people do not want two or four or six years of holding-action, make-do, hang-on government. The state is fertile for the seeds of good government to be planted—I believe the voters will plant that seed May 4—and harvest a bounty next year."

Don Yarborough of Houston said in Austin "Women are leading the way in my campaign because they want to elect a man who will fight for equal rights for women and for protection of shoppers." Women, he said, "have a great stake in this election because I am the only candidate in the race who will fight for the passage of a constitutional amendment to eliminate the discrimination, under law, against the women of Texas." He said, if elected, he would appoint women to "policy level positions" in state government.

Preston Smith of Lubbock said at Dallas that as governor "My policy regarding rioting, looting, killing and burning, would be peaceful attempts to enforce the law and apprehend law breakers are not convincing and forceful enough, then the protection of innocent people and their property would demand force necessary to effectively deal with the situation."

"For public officials to attempt to make a distinction between the good or bad motives of law breakers and to temper enforcement of the law according to whether a law breaker means well or ill, is to open the door to a complete disregard for the law that leads to anarchy," Smith said.

Waggoner Carr, also of Lubbock, told Houston supporters "We must pass stronger laws" on air and water pollution; "we must provide tax incentives to both industry and to our major cities to get this job done now. If we do not solve water and air pollution... now... our children and grandchildren will die, because they will not be able to breathe or drink the waters from our streams, rivers and wells."

Eugene Locke warned in Dallas, his hometown, that "This very minute workers for the extremists from the East are trying to take over the Democratic party in Texas."

He urged his supporters to assure that Gov. John Connally "gets overwhelming support as Texas' favorite son for president."

He said supporters of Sens. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., and Robert (Bobbie) Kennedy, D-N.Y., are trying to block Connally as a favorite son candidate. At Grand Prairie, Locke called for a "major overhauling" of Texas' liquor laws.

Lozano, former San Antonio city councilman, introduced Wallace as "a man with plenty of nerve and courage who is here to help save our country."

Wallace is seeking to have 14,259 Texans attend American party precinct conventions May 4 and to certify they are party members. This would get his name on the Texas ballot in November. The number is one percent of the general election vote in 1968.

The former governor said in Dallas, "I am not running for president. I am running for Texas' best interests."

Wallace Predicts No Change Due To Humphrey's Move

GEORGE WALLACE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—George Wallace wound up his Texas campaigning Saturday with a prediction that his third-party plans will not be affected by Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Wallace, heading the American party, told crowds on the last day of his swing into the Lone Star State, "We're in good shape in Texas. The crowds we've met show it."

He held a news conference at Austin Saturday, then flew to Corpus Christi and Victoria in advance of his last major night rally here.

From Houston, he plans to fly Saturday night to Alabama to be with his wife, Gov. Lurleen Wallace, who has been fighting cancer two years.

The former Alabama governor came to Texas Thursday, made airport speeches in East Texas, then in the Panhandle, West Texas, Central Texas and finally into the Coastal Bend and Houston.

About 20 youthful pickets, all white, appeared at his Corpus Christi stop Saturday. Some carried anti-Wallace signs, while others bore placards supporting Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., for the Democratic nomination for president.

During Saturday's stops, Wallace was introduced by Ruben Lozano who is of Mexican extraction, an obvious bid for support from the Mexican-Americans who form a large proportion of the population in the Coastal Bend.

Lozano, former San Antonio city councilman, introduced Wallace as "a man with plenty of nerve and courage who is here to help save our country."

Wallace is seeking to have 14,259 Texans attend American party precinct conventions May 4 and to certify they are party members. This would get his name on the Texas ballot in November. The number is one percent of the general election vote in 1968.

Methodists Urge Johnson To Break Through Snarl

DALLAS (AP) — United Methodists urged President Johnson Saturday to break through the snarl over where to hold Vietnam peace talks by living up to his offer to go "anywhere, any time."

After sharp debate, the 11-million-member denomination's governing conference adopted a resolution praising the President for efforts to initiate negotiations and prodding him to get on with it.

Delegates from across country narrowly turned down a move to eliminate the prodding portion, but then strongly approved the entire statement, declaring: "We commend the President of the United States for his recent move to enter into negotiations with North Vietnam, and call upon the government of the United States to fulfill its repeatedly expressed offer to send a representative anywhere, any time to make such talks possible."

Seeking to strike out the latter section about prior offers, John Satterfield a Yazoo City, Miss., lawyer, said it represented a "condemnation of the United States."

He argued that the President's offers had meant a "reasonable time and reasonable place." A. D. Moore, a Beaumont, lawyer, added: "Whatever he said, he didn't mean any site anywhere."

Inability of Hanoi and Washington to agree on a place for such talks so far has blocked moves toward getting them started.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prospects for an early settlement of a nationwide telephone strike dimmed Saturday.

Patrick J. Morgan, top negotiator for the striking AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, and J. S. Griggs, director of labor relations for the struck Western Electric Co., met privately but no progress was reported.

B52s Drop Loads On Saigon Fringe

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers pounded the outskirts of Saigon again Saturday apparently in an effort to wreck Viet Cong units massing for a possible strike into the South Vietnamese capital. The Air Force Stratofortresses have struck 10 times in two days within earshot of the city.

Rumors persisted that an enemy followup to the Tet offensive in February was imminent. One report said a new Viet Cong document now in allied hands called plans for an assault on Saigon and the allied air base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of the city.

The latest B52 strikes poured tons of explosives into troop concentrations 24 to 35 miles on the northeast and northwest sides of Saigon. There also was scattered ground fighting outside the capital during the day but nothing of major proportions.

Seized enemy intelligence reports are said to contain detailed plans for Viet Cong attacks on electrical power plants and water supply systems that were left alone during the lunar new year offensive.

Saigon's normal jitters have been even more pronounced in recent days, stemming largely from the capture of a Viet Cong colonel who told authorities an "all-out" attack was planned for the Saigon area by the end of the month. South Vietnamese armed forces are on a 100 per cent alert and special warnings were issued by the Vietnamese national police.

U.S. authorities have said only that American forces are in their normal alert posture.

Methodists Urge Johnson To Break Through Snarl

DALLAS (AP) — United Methodists urged President Johnson Saturday to break through the snarl over where to hold Vietnam peace talks by living up to his offer to go "anywhere, any time."

After sharp debate, the 11-million-member denomination's governing conference adopted a resolution praising the President for efforts to initiate negotiations and prodding him to get on with it.

Delegates from across country narrowly turned down a move to eliminate the prodding portion, but then strongly approved the entire statement, declaring: "We commend the President of the United States for his recent move to enter into negotiations with North Vietnam, and call upon the government of the United States to fulfill its repeatedly expressed offer to send a representative anywhere, any time to make such talks possible."

Seeking to strike out the latter section about prior offers, John Satterfield a Yazoo City, Miss., lawyer, said it represented a "condemnation of the United States."

He argued that the President's offers had meant a "reasonable time and reasonable place." A. D. Moore, a Beaumont, lawyer, added: "Whatever he said, he didn't mean any site anywhere."

Inability of Hanoi and Washington to agree on a place for such talks so far has blocked moves toward getting them started.

No Progress In Phone Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Prospects for an early settlement of a nationwide telephone strike dimmed Saturday.

Patrick J. Morgan, top negotiator for the striking AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, and J. S. Griggs, director of labor relations for the struck Western Electric Co., met privately but no progress was reported.

Israel Makes Clear Its Parade Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel made clear in the U.N. Security Council Saturday it will hold a military parade through Jerusalem on its 20th anniversary Thursday despite a complaint from Jordan and objections from Secretary-General U. Thant.

Israel spoke out as Pakistan and India privately sought support for an intended resolution that would have the 15-nation council call upon Israel not to hold the parade.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Teekoa told the council: "Israel forces are free to move, to act and to parade as they see fit" within the area held under the cease-fire for the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, which includes the occupied Jordanian sector of Jerusalem.

Jordanian Ambassador Muhammad El-Farra, whose complaint had brought the council together, said the parade would pass through the Jordanian sector for almost half its route. He charged that it was "part of the Israeli plan aiming at the complete annexation of Jerusalem." He said the council should "call on Israel not to hold the military parade."

Before the meeting, the council got a report from Thant that he had told Israel the parade "could well have an adverse effect on the efforts now going forward to find a peaceful settlement" between Arabs and Israelis. He has Swedish Ambassador Gunnar Jarring working for such a settlement as his representative in the Middle East.

Thant's report published a note he had handed Israel a week ago expressing his concern that much of the parade would take place on the Jordanian side of the armistice demarcation line—and reaffirming his stand that the 1949 Israel-Jordan Armistice Agreement is still in effect. He said he had not yet had a reply to the note.

Weather Forecast

Sunny skies are anticipated Sunday for most of the nation. Scattered thundershowers are expected over the Gulf states and the southwest Atlantic coast states. It should be warmer in the west and slightly cooler in the middle Atlantic states and north Texas. Little temperature change is expected elsewhere.

KEEPING EYE ON CALENDAR

Candidates Facing Busiest Week

Calendar-watching candidates for governor spread out over the state Saturday on the final campaigning weekend before the May 4 primary elections.

Nine of the candidates were expected in Galveston Sunday to talk to the Texas Association of Broadcasters meeting.

Dolph Briscoe told a hometown audience at Uvalde that "People are just beginning to decide whom they will cast their votes for on election day."

He said next week will be his busiest. He predicted he would lead the Democratic ticket next Saturday.

"Our campaign headquarters is receiving a flurry of reports from all over the state that this will be an upset year," he said.

At Harlingen, John Hill of Houston said, "Everywhere I go, I am told that people do not want two or four or six years of holding-action, make-do, hang-on government. The state is fertile for the seeds of good government to be planted—I believe the voters will plant that seed May 4—and harvest a bounty next year."

Don Yarborough of Houston said in Austin "Women are leading the way in my campaign because they want to elect a man who will fight for equal rights for women and for protection of shoppers." Women, he said, "have a great stake in this election because I am the only candidate in the race who will fight for the passage of a constitutional amendment to eliminate the discrimination, under law, against the women of Texas." He said, if elected, he would appoint women to "policy level positions" in state government.

Preston Smith of Lubbock said at Dallas that as governor "My policy regarding rioting, looting, killing and burning, would be peaceful attempts to enforce the law and apprehend law breakers are not convincing and forceful enough, then the protection of innocent people and their property would demand force necessary to effectively deal with the situation."

Carters Find Big Market For Prairie Dogs

By SAM BLACKBURN

Some of the early day ranchers would probably turn over in their graves at the statement made last week by Joe Carter, a native of Glasscock County.

Said Carter: "A rancher in the Three River country has written us asking if we can supply him with prairie dogs to stock a part of his ranch."

Carter couldn't fill the order because too many other folk want prairie dogs and his village just won't produce enough of the furry little animals to fill the demand.

"I figure I can make about $100 an acre from prairie dogs," observed Carter. "Which is better than usually can be done with cotton."

Carter and his wife live on the road to Garden City about two or three miles this side of the Glasscock county seat.

Their comfortable ranch home is surrounded by prairie dogs. There must be a hundred or more dog holes on the land right around the house.

Four years ago, Mrs. Carter hit on the idea people might like to have prairie dog pups as pets. She had Carter run an ad in The Daily Herald. It got results and the Carters sold all the prairie dog pups they could trap that spring. The next year, a little better experienced in the art, they sold two or three times as many as the first year.

This year, if they could catch the little fellows, they could sell hundreds.

Sixteen of their little animals have been shipped to Florida this year. Others have gone to many distant points. One shipment was sent to Spain.

Carter was born just a stone's throw from where he now lives. He said that when his father acquired the land, it was "one big prairie dog town from one end to the other." War on the little animals has been waged ceaselessly and villages are now rarely seen. Actually, it is supposed to be against the law to permit a village of prairie dogs to survive.

Carter feels that the prairie dog has been maligned. He points out that the animals are not nearly so destructive as they are often painted.

"They'll clean a piece of land of mesquite," he said. He pointed to a acre or two in front of his house. It is dotted with the characteristic mounds that the prairie dog builds around his hole. There's only one or two stunted mesquite in sight and they appear to be on their last legs. There are no weeds. On adjacent land where no prairie dogs live, the mesquite and weeds are rampant.

"They're dandy watch dogs," says Carter. Let a stranger come on the place or a car other than the ones operated by the Carters arrive through the gate and the dogs are out of their holes barking the sharp nip that marks them and warning all and sundry that trespassers are on hand.

"They are enemies of rattlesnakes," Carter adds. He says that when a rattlesnake invades a prairie dog village, and crawls into one of the

The Carters get $2.50 a piece for their prairie dog pups.

"Some are resold for five to spot a spectator. In fall and winter, Mrs. Carter says, they are bolder.

"Sometimes they won't go into their holes until you are within a few feet of them," she said. "They just sit on the dirt around the hole and bark at you."

ACC Teacher To Judge Regional Art Show Here

By WINNIE UNGER

Talmage Minter, Abilene Christian College Art instructor, will be on hand Saturday to judge entries for the Texas Fine Arts Region 18 art show. The exhibit usually attracts from 250 to 300 pieces of art work to compete for first, second and third place awards, and for best-in-show honors.

Minter received a BS in education from ACC in 1961, and his BFA from the University of Texas in 1965. His works are included in collections at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, Oklahoma Art Center, Oklahoma City, and Witte Museum, San Antonio.

He is not content to teach and be the critic, but is a productive artist. In the last two years he has had works accepted in the Eighth and Ninth Annual Eight-State Exhibition of Painting and Sculpture in Oklahoma Art Center (winning a purchase prize in the latter); the First Annual Peabody Print Show, Nashville, Tenn.; Third Bucknell Annual National Drawing Exhibition, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.; and Texas Painting and Sculpture 1968, Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, which will open in May.

Works may be registered for the exhibition from noon to 6 p.m. Friday in the Community Room of First Federal Savings and Loan building. Registration fee is $2 per entry, or $1 each for TFAA members (holding '68 cards) and 50 cents for students through high school age.

Winners in the three categories — amateur, professional and student — will receive awards donated by the T. G. & Y. stores, Hobby Shop, Swartz, Sherwin-Williams, Bennett's Pharmacy, McGibbon Oil Co., Wheat's Furniture, Hemphill Wells, and Stanley Home Products, by Mrs. Paul Bruns. Also offered is a purchase prize of $100 from Cosden Oil and Chemical Co.

American art form that flourished from the middle of the 17th Century until the early 1800's. The collection is in a series by a husband and wife team, Ann Parker and A von Neal, who are working under two Ford Foundation grants. The show will continue through June.

Works by Swiss artist Klaus Otto Spahn are now on display in the Odessa College Library and will remain through May 24.

Spahn's original drawings, lithographs and etchings are a unique since the 28-year-old painter was stricken with polio at the age of nine, which left his arms and legs paralyzed. He learned to write by holding a pencil in his mouth, and began painting in the same manner.

He is a member of the Association of Swiss Artists, Sculptors and Architects, and studied at St. Gallen, Switzerland, for eight years in the art academy. He later studied art in Rome and the northern part of Italy, in Paris, France and in Spain, primarily near Barcelona.

The young abstract painter has had exhibitions all over Europe and one in Buenos Aires. This is the first exhibit of his works in this area. His sister, Veronika Spahn, Odessa, is supervising the exhibit.

Four Cities Get Awards

Four West Texas cities have attained the coveted Blue Ribbon City Award, according to an announcement by president Don Wooten of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Suitable signs and certificates will be awarded to the chambers of commerce of Brady, Fort Stockton, Littlefield and Olney at the 50th annual convention of the WTCC in Odessa, May 5-7.

The announcement came just one year from the inception of the Small Town Economic Progress (STEP) program, which was instituted by the WTCC as a result of an in-depth study of the problems and potentials of small towns of the area.

The Blue Ribbon City Award is granted to cities which meet the standards set forth by the WTCC in six categories: beautification, local government, parks and recreation, tourist development, education and industrial development.

Wooten reported that other cities have achieved the standards in one or more of the categories, but only the four cities listed have met the qualifications in all six categories.

Other highlights of the Golden Anniversary convention include panels of experts who will explore the fields of "Vocational and Technical Training," "Petroleum and Petro-Chemical Industries" and "Finance."

In addition special honors will be accorded outstanding men in industry who are former West Texans. This has been designated a program for "Top Displaced West Texans."

The president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Milford O. Rouse, will be honored with a reception and dinner on Sunday evening, May 5.

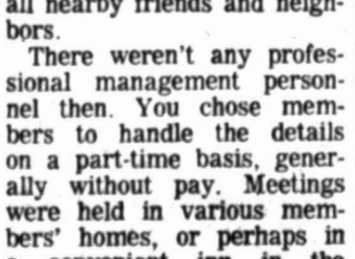

YOUR MONEY

By CHARLES E. BEIL

If you had become a "member" of a savings and loan association a hundred years ago, it would have been a far different joining one today. You'd have been one of a small group, a few dozen people, probably all nearby friends and neighbors.

There weren't any professional management personnel then. You chose members to handle the details on a part-time basis, generally without pay. Meetings were held in various members' homes, or perhaps in a convenient inn in the town. The whole function of these associations was to enable members to save together — so that each in turn could finance a home from those cooperative savings.

Those first savings and loan associations were small, but they were products of very big ideas... so big that in little over a century the savings and loan idea has mushroomed to the point where more than one-fourth of all the savings in the United States is in savings and loan associations... earning high dividends with safety and providing the funds to finance more homes than any other single source. (P.S. Have you made this big idea part of your savings plan?)

Eagles Sponsoring Fair, Carnival

Alamo Exposition Shows, featuring fair and carnival attractions, opens a one-week stand here Monday at 2100 W. 3rd under sponsorship of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

V. A. Whittington, FOE carnival chairman, said that Frank J. Lee, who has been directing the show for the San Antonio Livestock Exposition for many years, would be here in charge of the operations.

Those who clip a coupon at the bottom of the Alamo Exposition Show advertisement in The Herald will be entitled to a free ride on the merry-go-round Monday evening.

Other features are planned during the week.

The show includes 25 rides and tented attractions, including a double ferris wheel, fun houses, a full-sized British merry-go-round and smaller version for young children.

The firm's staff includes about 200 people, according to Lee, who has been here handling advance arrangements. He said that every safety precaution has been taken and all rides are operated carefully by trained, experienced personnel. The show will continue through Saturday.

A Texas painter, Leona Muckleroy, Baytown, has been selected as a prize winning finalist in the Benedictine Art Awards art competition. Thirty-five finalists were selected from nearly two thousand entries in the national exhibition in New York City.

Lubbock's West Texas Museum, on the Texas Tech College campus, will open sculpture exhibit Sunday by students of John Queen, Tech instructor of art. It will run through May 19.

Hundreds Look Over The New Models At Auto Show

Trustees Support Denial Of Amnesty

NEW YORK (AP) — The Board of Trustees of Columbia University Saturday denounced the "small minority" of students who brought academic work at the prestigious institution to a halt and strongly backed President Grayson Kirk in his refusal to grant them amnesty.

Dr. Kirk then summoned the university's 800 faculty members with professorial status to an unprecedented Sunday meeting to thrash out the situation created by the student sit-ins. There are 3,911 teachers at the 27,500-student institution.

Rebel students, numbering between 200 and 400, were still holding out with Negro students and Negro outsiders barricaded in Hamilton Hall. They are led by William Epton who was convicted of conspiracy charges stemming out of Harlem riots in 1964.

The student demonstrators, holding a total of five campus buildings, rejected a faculty-proposed peace formula to end the disturbance. They were holding out for amnesty.

They have succeeded in getting the university to suspend construction of a gym in Morningside Park, contending that the school's building would deprive Harlem children of play space.

About 200 Harlem residents gathered outside the buildings Saturday afternoon.

The 24 trustees said in a statement the disorders were "perpetrated by a small minority of students, aided and abetted by outsiders who have injected themselves into the situation."

Armory Blast Under Probe

Repair work is beginning at the National Guard Armory while sheriff's deputies, FBI agents and Texas Rangers continue a full scale investigation of the dynamiting and robbery of the Armory sometime Thursday night.

1st Sgt. Douglas Hedges, who is on full duty at the Armory, said that all of the lower windows had been replaced. Representatives of the Army Advisory Board were to be here Monday to decide what other types of repair need to be done. Hedges spent Friday night on guard at the Armory, which is located at the base of Scenic Mountain near the east entrance to Webb AFB.

Deputy Lindy Oldfield said Saturday that no new clues had been uncovered in the robbery. The burglars, who appeared to have done a professional job of dynamiting, made off with only two rifles — which were minus the firing pins. They left many other weapons behind.

COSDEN CLUB: MAY 17-18

Two Comedies Planned For 'Supper Theatre'

Tickets — in a limited number — will be going on sale this week for the next presentation of the Little Theatre of Big Spring, according to Erven Fisher, business manager.

A "supper theatre" presentation, the organization will stage two one-act comedies at the Cosden Country Club May 17-18. Admittance will be by advance ticket sale only — no tickets will be available at the door, according to Fisher, as the steak dinner arrangements must be made in advance.

"The Street of Good Friends," directed by Al Scott, has been in rehearsal several weeks. Playing the parts are Mrs. Maxine Boardman, Margaret Goodwin, Doris Vaughn and Molly Ennor. "The Devil On Stilts," directed by Don Klebach, was cast last week and rehearsals have started. Taking this vehicle on the boards are Audra Kapsaroff, Pat Adams, and Cheryl Hass.

Plans have not been completed for the entertainment, but should be final this week. Although supper theatre is relatively new in Big Spring, it is common elsewhere. In Dallas and Houston, as well as on the East Coast, there are theatre organizations that are devoted solely to serving dinner first, followed by dramatic offerings. A supper theatre program given at the high school last year had standing room only.

Self-Help Plan Urged For Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro businessman who opposes the Poor People's Campaign urged Saturday a 10-year self-help economic development program for Negroes, and asked for public and private loans to get it going.

Dr. Thomas W. Matthew, who runs a string of small businesses in New York and Watts, employing about 800 people, suggested $100 million in yearly federal loans at 2 per cent interest.

The program is reasonable, he said, in view of the alternatives — insurance losses from riots, loss of business, increased welfare costs, deterioration of cities and the cost of sustaining police and armed forces.

Matthew, 43-year-old head of the National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization — "NEGRO" — opposes such demands of the Poor People's Campaign as a guaranteed annual income on grounds that they increase Negro dependency, and don't attack the psychological problems that are the legacy of slavery.

He opposes increased welfare programs for the same reason. "Dreams and the view from the mountaintop are nourishment for the soul," he said, quoting phrases spoken by the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who originated the Poor People's Campaign.

"But in the cavern of the black ghettos millions of children need bread in their bellies. "Let the black people of America choose between begging which guarantees permanent dependency and self-help which opens the door to independence.

"Our grandparents had a guaranteed annual income. They called it slavery. We should know better."

Matthew said he would seek 100-year loans from the federal government, 20-year loans from private industry at 4 per cent interest, and five-year loans from foreign investors at 6 per cent.

Foreign loans should be insured by the federal government, he said, and legislation will be sought guaranteeing income-tax deductions for private industry loans.

The loans, he said, would be used by NEGRO to create jobs, and employ and train "the so-called hard-core unemployed."

Crowds Pick Up At HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — It was Iowa Day at San Antonio's HemisFair world's fair Saturday and the crowds picked up in good fair-going weather.

HemisFair officials said 34,000 had passed through the gates at 3 p.m.

The Iowa crowd accounted for only about 80 of that figure. HemisFair President Marshall Stevens presented a certificate of welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lund and their two children, Andrea, 16, and Rick, 12, of Cedar Rapids.

Mrs. Cooper Cited For Long Service At Wards

Management and employees of Montgomery Ward Co. paid tributes to Mrs. Lula V. Cooper Friday for the completion of 25 years of service as a company staff member.

Dick Wainwright, Fort Worth, came here for the presentation of a gold pin denoting a quarter of a century of service. John Rough, store manager, gave Mrs. Cooper a diamond-studded watch as a memento of the occasion.

Mrs. Cooper started with Wards at the store at Gregg and Third in 1943 in Department 16 (piece goods). She was in fashions for a time, but she returned to her first love and is still serving in the piece goods department. She was honored at a breakfast affair at Furr's, and about 60 persons attended. Mrs. Cooper and her husband, Marvin Cooper, live at 1418 Stadium. They have two sons, John Cooper, Midland, and Charles Cooper, Odessa.

Big Men With Big Bats

Taking a lusty swing is Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, top right, who stands to gain third place in major league home run standings. Mickey clouted the 521st of his big league career Friday night. It tied him with former Boston Red Sox star Ted Williams, lower center. All-time great Babe Ruth, lower right, of Yankees had a career total of 714 homers. Willie Mays, top right, of the San Francisco Giants is second to Ruth with 566 and the late Jimmy Foxx, lower left, finished with 534.

Aggies' Feet May Be Held To The Fire

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas A&M will be before the Southwest Conference to answer charges of violating the recruiting rule when the league fathers hold their spring meeting here next weekend.

This has changed what had appeared to be a routine meeting into one that could result in fireworks to rival other meetings in the past four years in which four schools were put on probation, including A&M.

The Aggies that time were penalized for out-of-season football practice and terminating athletic scholarships.

NEW CHARGE

Now they are charged with financial inducements to prospective athletes, allowing student athletes to sell football tickets, giving complimentary tickets to high school coaches and players and transporting and entertaining prospective recruits and their families at sites other than their homes and the A&M campus.

Coach Gene Stallings said his school was not guilty of any of the some 17 complaints filed by other members of the conference. He also said he felt A&M would be exonerated.

Stallings is the only one who would reveal that the charges actually had been filed against A&M. The conference officials would not comment other than to say that reports of inquiry by the conference's investigative agency were being considered. Who they were against was not revealed.

Otherwise, there seems little business of importance, at least to the public.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, will consider a change in the fall football practice rules as advanced by the NCAA. Now the first three days of practice must be limited to non-contact conditioning drills regardless of the starting date. However, fall practice now can be started two or three days earlier if the conference so desires, so there would be no loss in actual practice time.

TAILORED SCHEDULE

The baseball schedule will probably be tailored to meet the added travel that will come from Texas Tech and Arkansas entering the race. This means that instead of a single game at one campus and two at the other there will be a double-header and a single game at one school, then the next year they will be at the other.

Another attempt will be made to limit basketball scholarships, in which there is a vague agreement at this time that the number shall approximate 20. Under the new proposal a definite number would be set.

There will be consideration of a proposal to have fall practice in basketball.

TV sports will announce whether it will exercise its option to televise eight games on Saturday afternoons next basketball season. It is expected to do so.

Pale Hose Return To Losing Ways

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Merritt supplied the pitching and Cesar Tovar, the punch, giving Minnesota a 4-1 victory over Chicago Saturday as the White Sox reverted to their losing ways.

Merritt, in recording his third triumph against one loss, spaced nine hits and throtted the White Sox, who had broken their 10-game losing streak Friday with a 3-2 decision over the Twins.

Tovar collected three hits, driving in one run with a double in the second and tripling and scoring in the fifth on Tony Oliva's sacrifice fly. Tovar singled in the first.

The lone run off left-hander Merritt came in the first and was unearned as Tom McCraw singled, went to second on a throwing error, stole third and scored on a fielder's choice.

But the Twins bounced right back, taking the lead against loser Joe Horlen, 0-4, with two runs in the second.

Bob Allison opened with a double and moved to third on an infield out. Then Jackie Hernandez singled the run across. Hernandez moved to second on an infield out and after Merritt walked, Tovar doubled the go-ahead run across.

In the fifth, Tovar opened with his third straight hit, a triple into the left field corner. After Rod Carew bounced out, Oliva's fly ball brought Tovar in.

HOME OPENER

Tigers, Indians In 2:30 Contest

The Big Spring Tigers play their home baseball opener at 2:30 in Steer Park this afternoon, at which time they will oppose the Colorado City Indians.

In their inaugural game on the road last week, the Bengals cooled off the Midland Colts, 13-5.

Tony Fierro or Bobby Griffin will toe the mound for the Big Springers. Jody Flores, Gary Mears, Chubby Moser and Joe Cadenhead will be available for relief duty on the mound.

Jimmy Fierro will be behind the plate. Other starters will be Pat Martinez Jr., first base; Billy Pineda, third base; Rod Roberts, shortstop; Tom Arista Jr., left field; Albert Mendoza, center field; and Billy Weatherall.

John Renteria, Jack Blizard and Charley Fierro will be in uniform for duty in the outfield.

Tom Arista Sr. is serving as manager of the Tigers, who are perhaps the oldest sandlot team west of Fort Worth and perhaps in the state, from the standpoint of experience. The Tigers were organized in the '20's.

McLain Hurls 7-0 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain pitched a five-hitter and Dick McAuliffe drove in three runs with a homer and single Saturday, leading the Detroit Tigers to a 7-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

McLain scattered five singles in breezing to his second victory without a loss while the Tigers pummeled loser Fritz Peterson, 1-1, and two relievers for 14 hits. Jim Northrup also homered for the American League leaders.

The Tigers gave McLain the only run he needed in the first inning on singles by Mickey Stanley and Al Kaline and Bill Freehan's ground out.

McAuliffe's bases-loaded single with two out in the fourth boosted the lead to 3-0. Detroit added another run in the fifth on a double by Freehan and a single by Northrup.

McAuliffe and Northrup tagged reliever Jim Bouton for bases-empty homers before Freehan's run-scoring double in the eighth completed the assault.

Bill Sharman Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Owner Franklin Mieuli of the San Francisco Warriors said Friday that Bill Sharman has resigned as coach of the National Basketball Association team.

He Won But Tape Didn't Break

Jerry Richey of Pitt stretches tape as he wins the two-mile college run at Saturday's Penn Relay Carnival in Franklin Field at Philadelphia. Right on his heels is Villanova's Dick Buerkle. Richey, a sophomore who became eligible for varsity competition only two months ago, ran the distance in 3:46.3, just a tenth of a second off the meet record.

Auto Racing Has Been Good To Yarborough

TIMMONSVILLE, S.C. (AP) — There was a time when a man's standing in this farming area of South Carolina was measured to a large extent by how many bales of cotton he produced. Times have changed, and race driver Cale Yarborough helped change them.

Time was when Yarborough, as a blond, squat, heavy shouldered kid of nine, drove a tractor on his father's cotton-tobacco farm halfway between Timmonsville and Hebron. Neighbors said he was a good plow man even as a boy—not too fast. Most considered he'd make a good farmer.

FABULOUS RICHES

Cale has been driving something ever since—and fast—to fabulous wealth. He drove a soap box racer when he was 11, a jalopy at 15, a souped up modified at 17 and a sophisticated, exotically built, 190 miles per hour stock racing machine at 29.

Driving fast indeed has been good to the 185-pound, 5-8, ex-farm boy. He admits his income soared over the $100,000 mark last year when he won two Big superspeedway events and the rich National Association For Stock Car Auto Racing circuit. This year he could become the sport's biggest money winner. He already has banked $75,750 from victories at Daytona and Atlanta—the only 500 miles that have been run—and is hauling in an estimated $1,000 to $1,500 a week from race-connected activities.

"Would you believe that three years ago I seriously considered getting out of racing and actually did quit for awhile?" he asks. "I couldn't do anything right. I couldn't get nothing, and when I got something strong, something always went wrong—wrecks, blown engines, etc."

FORD HIRED HIM

Yarborough was a maverick among NASCAR's young drivers—working any ride he could get but gaining experience—when Ford Motor Co. picked him up in 1965 and assigned him to a car handled a couple of times by A.J. Foyt.

The company's racing experts, including John Holman and Ralph Moody, famed Charlotte race car builders, and the Wood brothers, liked the clear-eyed, handsome young lion not only because of his driving style but for other reasons.

"He's a brilliant driver," says Glenn Wood, codirector of the Wood Brothers team of Stuart, Va., who now hold Yarborough's contract. "But more than that, he's a fine young man. He's easy going, doesn't smoke or drink, is the idol of his crew and works at his job."

Yarborough has now become an important part of Ford's public relations-sales program. He was the company's top stock car attraction at the Chicago Auto Show earlier this year, along with such sports celebrities as footballer Bart Starr, track great Jesse Owen and golfing immortal Byron Nelson.

When not busy preparing for a race, Yarborough can be found signing autographs in Ford showrooms across the nation. His schedule has become so rigid that he has hired a manager, learned to fly and owns his own plane.

He lives in a 14-room Confederate style mansion built by the former town banker, situated among magnificent magnolia trees, camellia bushes, flowers and lawns two miles from Timmonsville, a community of about 2,000 in South Carolina's low country.

In 1865, this display of wealth and affluence would have drawn Sherman's rampaging troops like bees to a hive, the name "C. Yarborough" on the mailbox notwithstanding.

There are three narrow paved roads that lead into and out of Timmonsville, 30 miles from Darlington, where Yarborough and big time stock car racing got their start. Just outside the town limits new billboards have sprung up. They read, "Timmonsville, home of Cale Yarborough, world's fastest race driver."

Tight Fight Is Looming For SWC Track Crown

FORT WORTH (AP) — A tight fight among Rice, Texas and Baylor for the Southwest Conference track and field championship looms on the basis of season records. The annual meet will be here Friday and Saturday.

Texas is a mild favorite in most quarters but there are some experts who think Rice will edge through for a repeat title although Texas is undefeated for the year. Rice has more strength in the relays, which in past years would give the Owls a bulge since the baton events formerly were twice as many points as the individual events.

But this year the conference is operating under a rule of the NCAA that gives the same number of points for all events.

Baylor seems to have the most individual leaders but lacks the depth of Texas and Rice. However, it is indicated that there may be only a point spread between the big three and in such a close race, the least little thing, like disqualification of a runner or relay team or injury, could swing the balance.

At least seven records seem due since that number has been bettered during the season. The marks that have eclipsed records are: mile, Brian Woolsey, Texas, 4:03.6; 440, Dave Morton, Texas, 46.0; 440 hurdles, Jerry Utecht, Southern Methodist, 51.4; high jump, Stan Curry, Baylor, 6-11½; three-mile, Walter Reyna, Baylor, 13:50.2; pole vault, Martin Rollins, Texas A&M, 16-1½; mile relay, Texas, 3:07.0.

Actually three men have bettered the three-mile record — Reyna, Woolsey with 14:02.0 and Steve Montoya of Rice with 14:17.0.

And two teams have bettered the mile relay record — Texas and Rice with 3:07.9.

WORLD RECORD

The town fathers can back up their claim because Yarborough set a world's speed record for a closed circuit when he qualified for the Daytona 500 at 159,222 m.p.h. Back when he was 11, and still alternately driving a tractor or following the south end of a northbound mule drawing a plow, Yarborough already had made up his mind to be a race driver. It was the year he entered a soap box derby in Darlington. He was eliminated in the first heat—by a kid who went on to win all the marbles at Akron.

The flagman for that race was the late Bob Colvin, who until his death in 1967 was president and general manager of Darlington International Raceway, the granddaddy of the South's superspeedways.

And it was Colvin's instinct for spotting driving talent that caused him to allow Yarborough to drive in the 1958 Southern 500 at age 17—a clear violation of NASCAR rules which puts the minimum age at 20.

By then, however, Yarborough already had won the South Carolina championship for sportsman drivers and had sneaked through Darlington's fence dozens of times to watch the big time drivers and mechanics work in the garage area.

Cards Return Angelo Visit

The Big Spring Cardinals will return the San Angelo Eagles visit here last Sunday when they journey south to play the Angelo nine this afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

The Red Birds, opening the season with a 10-3 victory over the War Birds, are 1-0 for the young season.

Club pilot Chico Rubio will probably go with Abel Ramirez in right, Jesse Zapata in center and Ron Steen at Orlando Rosas in left field.

Diego Olague will be at first, Jesus Olague at second and Pano Rodriguez will cover third base. John Olague will man the shortstop position.

Last week's winning hurler, John Ramirez, should get the mound call and will be throwing to catcher Joe Martinez.

Two Riders Hark Back To '33 Run

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — It has been 35 years since the most sensational Kentucky Derby of them all, but racing fans won't let Don Meade and Herb Fisher forget their furious fight down the long stretch at Louisville.

"It comes up every year," said the quiet, gentlemanly Fisher who is just short of 3-foot-7 and even now weighs only 128 pounds.

"You'd think the fans would forget it after all these years, but somebody always brings it up. I guess it was one of the biggest events in horse racing, but I'd just as soon forget it."

STORY OFTEN TOLD

Meade, a dark-eyed, intense little man, just five feet and 100 pounds — "I'm drying up as I get older," he laughs—said someone is sure to bring it up at least twice a day.

Certainly there never has been a stakes race in America like the one between Broker's Tip and Head Play on May 6, 1933.

Bill Crump owned Head Play and sold the colt the day before the Derby to Mrs. Silas B. Mason. Head Play was one-half length in front at the three-quarter pole and it looked as if Mrs. Mason had bought a winner.

Fisher still had Head Play in the lead rounding the turn for home, but there Meade brought Broker's Tip, owned by Col. E. R. Bradley, in along the rail—and it happened.

"He grabbed my saddle cloth and I went to the whip," Fisher recalled the other day at Gulfstream Park, where he has a string of horses.

Down the stretch they came, with the major share of $50,000 and a garland of roses awaiting the winner. The horses raced head-to-head as their riders tangled like bantam roosters, with fists, feet and whips.

"The other horses were five lengths back," Meade recalled in the Gulfstream clubhouse, where he was trying to buy a horse. "We didn't bother any other horses. It was just us."

DIFFERENT STORY

Fisher had a slightly different version.

"We more or less drug him (Broker's Tip) a quarter of a mile," he said. "It was the only time I ever lost on Head Play. He beat us by a nose. Head Play was the best colt I ever rode."

The official chart said Broker's Tip won by a nose "after a long and hard drive." Nothing more. Charley O., the third horse, was four lengths back.

Both riders were suspended, Meade for 30 days and Fisher for 60. Why the difference?

"We had a little tussle in the jock's quarters after the race," Fisher explained. "I tried to throw him through the roof."

Meade didn't see it exactly that way.

"He flung a heavy boot block at my head," he said. "I was standing beside a concrete pillar and ducked just in time. The block made a deep dent in the concrete. If I hadn't ducked, it would've smashed my head."

Fisher and Meade went their separate ways but fate finally brought them to the same race tracks in Florida. Eventually they both became homeowners in the same city, 17 miles north of Miami.

Fisher bought his home in Hollywood 19 years ago and lives here with his wife and three children. His son, Robert, 21, assists him in training a string of horses.

A few years ago, Fisher put his house up for sale and Meade almost bought it.

"I went around and looked at it, but I got a better deal," said Meade. "We're friends now, and we don't socialize. He has his friends and I have mine."

BUT REWARDS GREAT FOR THOSE WHO DO

Few Make Ripple On Tour

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Jim Brantley is a tall, mustachioed Negro from Brunswick, Ga., who tends bar for the support of his wife and seven children.

Jim had had it rough most of his life.

"I don't remember my father and mother much—I lived most of my life with my grandparents," he explains. "Ever since I've been big enough to walk, I've wanted to play golf."

"I was about five years old when I found an old wooden cane with a crooked handle. I made a golf stick out of it and used to hit beatup tennis balls up and down the alley."

"Then I started caddying. I got a job as assistant pro, then as a pro. I laid off golf six years while I worked as a porter. Now I'm at it again."

ONE OF 82

Brantley is one of 82 enrollees in the Professional Golfers Association's fourth approved tournament player training and qualifying program at the PGA headquarters here.

If you've often wondered how one gets into the glamorous business of following the sun on the $6 million pro tour with such playmates as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, this is the answer.

You go to school. Then you play your brains out in a rugged 144-hole tournament covering seven days. If you're lucky—or unlucky—enough to survive, you get a card which only entitles you to tee up a ball with 199 others in qualifying tests on Monday and Tuesday prior to a PGA tournament.

Few make it. Cynics contend the school is no more than an attempt for a degree in heart-break and frustration.

Of those enrolled in the PGA's spring school last week, only 15 will get cards. The others must go home and try again later—at an exorbitant expense.

The lure of American gold on the tour has become international. The competition is tough.

Among the foreigners seeking ATP, or approved tournament player, cards are two Hennings brothers from South Africa, Brian, 30, and Graham, 26, who already have two brothers, Harold, 33, and Allan, 24, on the tour; Hideyo Sugimoto of Tokyo, many times champion of Japan; Liang-Huan Lu of Taiwan, veteran of World Cup matches; Arne Timing of Denmark; British Ryder Cupper Malcolm Gregson and a fellow countryman, Clive Clark, plus one-half dozen Canadians.

DICKSON AMONG LEADERS

The domestic list is headed by Bob Dickson of Tulsa, Okla., winner of both the U.S. and British Amateur last year; Hale Irwin Jr. of Boulder, Colo., and National Collegiate champion, and Benson McLendon Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., an All-American collegian at Louisiana State.

It's a class class but one hard put to match its predecessor of last fall which turned out such pro threats as Deane Beman, Marty Fleckman, Bob Murphy, Ron Cerrudo and England's Tony Jacklin. Fleckman and Jacklin already have won pro tournaments. Beman has been high in the money list.

The players attend three days of intensified clinics at which speakers in all phases of the game—contracts, rules, manufacturing, television and press—are imported to give classroom lectures. This phase of the school ended Wednesday.

The 144-hole tournament began Thursday to continue through next Wednesday with a break on Sunday. There are two double rounds. The 15 low scorers qualify. The class room work is given as window dressing.

"It is our purpose to turn out a finished product," explained Billy Booe, the former Yale football man who served as PGA tournament administrator.

PROPER IMAGE

"We want to make sure he is grounded in all phases of the tour and that he is able to present the proper image."

The program was directed this year by Ernie Vossler, head golf pro of the Quail Creek Golf and Country Club in Oklahoma City, Okla. Vossler is a former tour player.

Lawyers came in to tell the players about the pitfalls of contracts. Rules experts discussed the rules. The tour managers talked about the tour. Press and television representatives explained the importance of public relations.

"Those of you who don't make it should go home and get a job in a pro shop and work on your game," Vossler told the group.

That advice went over the heads of most of the players. They all are intent on being new Palmers and Nicklauses, with million dollar incomes and private jet airplanes.

"I couldn't do it if it wasn't for my bosses," said Brantley. "I work for the Sea Island Co. So does my wife. They gave me a stake and told me they would back me if I made the grade."

"If I flunk out this time, I'll be back in the fall."

Ben Hogan who has won the Pacific tour twice. He twice has scored victories over Nicklaus and once in Hong Kong shot a 69 to Palmer's 68 in an exhibition.

"I am too small," says Lu, who is 5-foot-6 and 130 pounds. "I want to learn about the tour, go home and develop some strong Chinese boys to come over and play against the big, strong Americans."

Cards Upend Yanks, 10-8

Two big innings gave the Cards a 10-8 victory over the Yanks in the first National Little League game for both teams this season Friday evening.

The Cards got five runs in the second, but the Yanks pulled within one run in the third, only to give up four runs in the ninth and see their own rally fall short.

Bruce Abbe was the winning pitcher and was relieved in the fifth by Corky Burchell. Pete La Rochelle was shelled after three innings and tabbed with the loss.

Dennis Simmons got a double and Ken Scott three singles.

Frymire Homers As Panthers Win

MIDLAND—Odessa Permian rallied to defeat Midland High, 2-1, in a District 2-AAAA baseball encounter here Friday.

The win was Permian's seventh in ten league starts.

Midland hit Permian starting pitcher Bill Melton hard in the first inning but could manage only two runs and Melton survived to win his fourth start against no losses.

Larry Frymire, leading hitter in the district, connected safely once in three official trips. That one was a sixth inning solo home run, his sixth of the year.

FIERCE WAR OF WORDS IS LOOMING

Racing Proponents Plan Hard-Hitting Campaign

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

Provoked, they say, by opposition tactics, supporters of pari mutuel horse racing plan a vigorous, hard-hitting campaign on the eve of the May 4 primary.

"Ridiculous and inconceivable," said one supporter of the charges leveled against the horse racing proposal.

A fierce war of words looms between the Texas Racing Association and the new Anti-Crime Council, created to block proposed legislation for legalized betting in Texas.

Previously, proponents of pari mutuel gambling have conducted a subtle, almost silent campaign to win voter approval of the controversial issue.

TELEPHONE CAMPAIGN

Widespread radio, television and newspaper advertising coupled with an extensive telephone campaign will be utilized probably by mid-week.

Posters, bumper stickers and pamphlets are already prepared. Voters in both the primaries on Saturday may give their views on the issue, although the poll is not binding on the legislature.

On the other hand, Gov. John Connally has said he feels the legislature will respond to the wishes of the populace.

Proponents of pari mutuel wagering say privately that if the referendum results are favorable, they are certain the legislature will approve the horse racing bill.

pari mutuel betting to the state is the 3,000-member Texas Racing Association, headed by financier John Murchison of Dallas.

Leading the opposition is the Anti-Crime Council, an organization of business, civic and church leaders. Baylor President Abner McCall and former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson are co-chairmen.

The council helped organize rallies against the issue last week in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston.

But what aroused the ire of the TRA was a 26-page booklet prepared by the Council and distributed to newspaper editorial writers, among others.

The document sets forth a variety of reasons for opposing the issue and concludes with an appeal to "all responsible citizens... to vote against making pari mutuel horse racing gambling a part of the economy and society of this state."

"MATERIAL UNTRUE"

Jay Pumphrey of Fort Worth, vice president of the TRA, asserts that much of the material in the booklet is "unfounded and untrue" and amounts to little more than "propaganda."

"The TRA members contend this is an attempt to confuse the voter, particularly the housewife," he said.

"Their propaganda deals mostly not with first class pari mutuel horse racing but with such things as illegal, undercover gambling and crime, which are problems in any state whether it has racing or not."

The council document lists a number of prominent Texans as founding members, including Texas A&M shot putter Randy Matson.

A leader in the pari mutuel move, Ed Sampson Jr., of Fort Worth, said:

"There are a number of fine people whose names have been associated with this newly formed Anti-Crime Council who probably are not aware that the so-called facts that are being put out to the public under their name have neither basis nor substance."

"It is ridiculous and inconceivable that such people as Dr. McCall would accuse individuals who are supporters of Baylor University of being associated with a hoodlum element."

"This appears inconsistent to me because of his present and past association with these people."

DEL MAR CITED

"A classic example of Texas ownership of racetracks is the Del Mar Track in California in which Murchison was formerly a part owner."

"The Texas ownership donated all profits to the Boys Clubs Inc. of America."

Sampson said sale of racetrack stock will be limited to Texas residents. "This is the manner in which control is kept in Texas," he said.

The TRA contends further that many conclusions drawn by the Council are based on outdated information.

the issue.

That was in 1962 when roughly 55 per cent of the voters rejected the proposal.

Essentially, opponents contend pari mutuel gambling increases crime, corrupts officials, cripples business and industry and produces insignificant tax monies.

Its lure as a tourist attraction is grossly exaggerated, they say, and the big losers usually are those who can least afford the loss.

In response, the TRA points to Department of Justice statistics which show that the crime rate in Texas' four largest cities are comparable to cities of similar size which have pari mutuel racing.

More significantly, the TRA quotes freely from a San Antonio speech by Gov. John Connally in which he said he sees nothing "inherently wrong" with legalized betting on horses.

Should the legislature pass the bill, he said, "I will appoint members to a racing commission whose character and integrity are above reproach."

It would be run in such a manner that the "hoodlum element" would not be attracted to Texas, he said.

The association contends also that pari mutuel racing would be a new source of tax money, directly and through its lure for tourists. The impact was estimated as high as $300 million annually.

Additionally, they contend, it would provide new jobs, give Texas horse breeders and trainers a boost and eventually become a "major league" sport for the state.

Field Of 17 Likely For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The annual pilgrimage of kings and kooks, knowns and unknowns, and most important, the top 3-year-olds in the land—signed Saturday the approach of the most thrilling two minutes in the world of sports, the Kentucky Derby.

They come from East Coast and West, New York and New Orleans, the owners, trainers and jockeys hoping to make reality of a dream and the fans hoping to dream a reality—the winner of the 1 1/4-mile classic.

YEARS OF HOPE

Like a mystic funnel, the focus of months of work, years of hope and nearly a century of tradition comes to its climax at Keeneland as a final Derby 3:30 p.m. (CTS), Saturday with the Derby's 99th running.

A throng of about 100,000—Churchill Downs is never more specific—will jam royal boxes and railbird peepholes and millions more will see the extravaganza on television over CBS at 3-15-35 or listen on radio over CBS.

With the final, crucial week still to go, a field of about 17 is likely to parade under the 45-famed twin spires as fans hear "My Old Kentucky Home," sip Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, the hope for a long overdue victory for the devil red and blue silks that once were almost a Derby habit, has been tabbed by most as the horse to beat.

"There's no doubt about it, they've got the Derby horse," a head shaking Mack Miller said after his Santa Anita Derby winning Alley Fighter had run aful of the Calumet colt.

"You've got no worries; you're in front," another trainer told Calumet's Henry Forrest after Forward Pass sailed to a five-length triumph in Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland as a final Derby prep.

HE'S PLEASED

Forrest is satisfied, but anything but confident, however, and he knows he can't rest until the $125,000-added Derby is his.

"That was just one race," he said of the Blue Grass, where Forward Pass missed the track record by only two-fifths of a second, going 1 1/4 miles in 1:47.

Forward Pass, a son of On-and-On, carries consecutive victories at a furlong shorter than Derby distance into the big race. Before the Blue Grass, he scored with daylight left over in the Florida Derby.

Dancer's Image, the tattle tale gray who seeks to avenge his family honor, has two straight victories, too, however. Before the Wood's he won the same Governor's Cup that produced Kauai King in 1966.

It was in the Derby that Native Dancer, sire of Boston sportsman Peter Fuller's 1967 Canadian champion, lost the only race of his career.

BIG PRIZE

There's no family tradition at stake for Kentucky Sherry, but there is a chance for the colt to repay much of the $150,000 paid for him by Mrs. Joe W. Brown, widow of a Louisiana oil magnate.

Alley Fighter and a possible stablemate entry, Tig Time, are the property of platinum king Charles W. Engelhard, who entered racing as almost a plaything and in 10 years has rocketed to the top.

The graying tycoon from New Jersey doesn't enjoy racing unless he is involved. He bought his first horses in Africa so he could accompany a friend to the races and said he didn't want to see a Derby without he was in it.

Captain's Gig, carrying the blue and white silks of Cain Hoy Stable, will strike a blow for the thoroughbred version of winter vacations in the South.

The whippet-like flash of his 2-year-old season vacationed in South Carolina while others did their winter work and starts in the Derby with only three races of less than a mile each under his belt this year.

NEAR THE FRONT

With him from the West comes Don B., consistently at or near the front in the California classic for owner Donald B. Woods, who shelled out a paltry $15,000 for him two years ago.

From Lexington and the Blue Grass, the Derby gets late developing Francis's Hat of the Saddle Rock Stable; Emawozon Farm's T. V. Commercial, another on the improve, and Gleaming Sword, making C. V. Whitney's 15th attempt at racing's biggest prize.

The Albuquerque school system requested a conference of its own in athletes and the net result was that a total of four Class AA districts will be in operation around the state this fall, all playing toward the state championship . . . The Albuquerque conference boasts eight teams . . . Bob Milburn, the San Angelo scribe, says that prospects do not appear bright for his city's Bobcats in any sport during the 1968-69 school year . . . The Bobcat basketball team will be particularly hard hit, with only one of the first 12 boys back . . . Snake Tucker, the Big Spring Steers' all-around athlete, says he's job hunting for the summer and would like to get in some kind of outdoor labor . . . Tucker will letter in three varsity sports this school year—football, basketball and track . . . In football, he likely will be split out and used a lot as a pass receiver . . . There are reports the University of Texas will let a contract some time soon to add 18,000 seats to its football stadium, which would bring the seating capacity to 80,000 . . . Cats, Volunteers Resume Rivalry QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — One of the nation's keenest collegiate track rivalries—that between Villanova's Wildcats and Tennessee's Volunteers—will be resumed next Friday and Saturday in the 12th annual Quantico Relays, the third stop on the Eastern outdoor circuit.

They will be challenged, however, in the collegiate division by such newcomers as the U.S. Military Academy—surprise winner of last week's Queens-Iona Relays—and Florida, and such familiar faces as New York U., Georgetown, D.C., and St. John's of New York.

More than 1,500 athletes from almost 100 colleges and clubs have entered the Marine-sponsored track carnival, the first annually on the East Coast which collegians and club entrants are thrown together in open individual competition.

The Baltimore Olympic Club will feature three-fourths of Trinidad-Tobago's Olympic 1,600-meter team of 1964—Ed Roberts, Kent Bernard and Ed Skinner. Roberts, twice named the outstanding performer here, will be after his fourth title in the 100-yard dash.

Olympic sprinters Paul Drayton of the United States and Dave Segal of Great Britain will run for the Philadelphia Pioneer Club, along with former Southern University quarter-miler Theron Lewis.

Other former Olympic performers scheduled to be on hand include three-time discus champion Al Oerter of the New York

Colts Nudge Jets, 11-8

Despite two home runs by the Jets, one a bases-loaded smash by Troy Hogue, the Colts overcame the Jets 11-8 in an American Little League game Friday evening. Dub Powell also got a homer with one on.

Other than allowing six of the opposition's eight runs on homers, Wayne Dickens scattered eight hits well in winning the game. Greg Bokelman was charged with the loss.

Bulldogs Shade Bronchos, 6-5

MIDLAND — Midland High edged Odessa High, 6-5, in a District 2-AAAA makeup game here Thursday.

The loss left Odessa with a 3-6 conference record and an over-all mark of 11-8.

Midland erupted for four runs in the fifth inning to come from behind.

Bear Bryant Is Speaker At May 14 Tech Banquet

LUBBOCK — Paul (Bear) Bryant, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Alabama, will be the featured speaker at the Red Raider Club All-Sports banquet for Texas Tech athletes here May 14, Loyd Lanotte, club president, announced.

Bryant has produced three national champions and four Southeastern Conference titlists since he took over the reins of the Crimson Tide in 1958. His 1966 team was undefeated, tying for the SEC title.

A native of Fordyce, Ark., Bryant played football for Alabama and was an end on the famous 1934 eleven which went undefeated, and defeated Stanford in the Rose Bowl game of 1935.

Field Scovell of Dallas, father of 1967 Texas Tech quarterback John Scovell, will serve as master of ceremonies. Scovell is the vice president of Southland Life Insurance Co. He is chairman of the Dallas Sports Commission and is a member of the board of directors of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association.

Especially honored at the banquet will be conference champions, all-conference players, and the recipients of the Pete Cawthon and Dell Morgan awards to outstanding footballers.

Dean Killion will direct the Court Jesters in musical entertainment. Favours will be provided for the ladies.

Lanotte stressed that the banquet is open to the public, and that all members of the family should enjoy the event, slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Leete Jackson, executive vice president of the Red Raider Club, has made special arrangements with the Lubbock Election Bureau to keep those attending advised on the progress of the city run-off election May 14.

No funds will be solicited at the banquet, Jackson emphasized. Tickets cost $3 each and may be obtained by writing Jackson's office, Box 456, Lubbock. Self-addressed envelopes for their ticket orders are being mailed club members. Deadline is May 11.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Buck Will Not Be Returning

By TOMMY HART

In his visit here the past week, Leroy Jordan of the Dallas Cowboys said Jack Buck would not be back as the Voice of the Cowboys this fall, that Frank Gleiber instead would handle the play-by-play accounts on TV.

Buck is a resident of St. Louis, visited Dallas only on weekends, so understandably he pulled a blooper or two in identifying players on the field from time to time.

Gleiber formerly handled the job but more recently has been telecasting the Cleveland Browns' games.

Asked what he did to stay in shape during the off-season, Jordan said he played a little basketball with a team some of the Cowboys organized and played a little golf . . . In addition, he and all the other Cowboys are on a weight program (which was developed in Russia, of all places) . . . Two HCJC exes, Joe Tighe and Jimmy Jasper, have been going well for Baylor this spring . . . Tighe has cleared 15-6 1/2 in the pole vault while Jasper has run a 9.4 hundred and has run on two impressive relay teams . . . Baylor has been clocked in 40.9 in the sprint relay and 1:25.2 in the 880 relay . . . Lenny Boyer, youngest of seven boys who went into professional baseball, is now playing third base for Little Rock . . . Kenny and Clete Boyer are two of his older brothers . . . Tennis Coach Frank Pulattie couldn't be busier if he were triplets . . . He asked for prospective players among seventh and eighth graders here and 95 showed up . . . Pulattie tried to work in all the children but is handicapped by a lack of playing areas here . . . There is some talk more courts will be added at Howard County Junior College . . . Wayland College in Plainview has a new Red Dog cinder track, which would indicate it will be emphasizing track from now on.

CLETE BOYER

Colts Nudge Jets, 11-8

Despite two home runs by the Jets, one a bases-loaded smash by Troy Hogue, the Colts overcame the Jets 11-8 in an American Little League game Friday evening. Dub Powell also got a homer with one on.

Other than allowing six of the opposition's eight runs on homers, Wayne Dickens scattered eight hits well in winning the game. Greg Bokelman was charged with the loss.

Bulldogs Shade Bronchos, 6-5

MIDLAND — Midland High edged Odessa High, 6-5, in a District 2-AAAA makeup game here Thursday.

The loss left Odessa with a 3-6 conference record and an over-all mark of 11-8.

Midland erupted for four runs in the fifth inning to come from behind.

Bear Bryant Is Speaker At May 14 Tech Banquet

LUBBOCK — Paul (Bear) Bryant, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Alabama, will be the featured speaker at the Red Raider Club All-Sports banquet for Texas Tech athletes here May 14, Loyd Lanotte, club president, announced.

Bryant has produced three national champions and four Southeastern Conference titlists since he took over the reins of the Crimson Tide in 1958. His 1966 team was undefeated, tying for the SEC title.

A native of Fordyce, Ark., Bryant played football for Alabama and was an end on the famous 1934 eleven which went undefeated, and defeated Stanford in the Rose Bowl game of 1935.

Field Scovell of Dallas, father of 1967 Texas Tech quarterback John Scovell, will serve as master of ceremonies. Scovell is the vice president of Southland Life Insurance Co. He is chairman of the Dallas Sports Commission and is a member of the board of directors of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association.

Especially honored at the banquet will be conference champions, all-conference players, and the recipients of the Pete Cawthon and Dell Morgan awards to outstanding footballers.

Dean Killion will direct the Court Jesters in musical entertainment. Favours will be provided for the ladies.

Lanotte stressed that the banquet is open to the public, and that all members of the family should enjoy the event, slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Leete Jackson, executive vice president of the Red Raider Club, has made special arrangements with the Lubbock Election Bureau to keep those attending advised on the progress of the city run-off election May 14.

No funds will be solicited at the banquet, Jackson emphasized. Tickets cost $3 each and may be obtained by writing Jackson's office, Box 456, Lubbock. Self-addressed envelopes for their ticket orders are being mailed club members. Deadline is May 11.

Blazers Picked By Club Members

A final decision on the club blazers and patches was reached by the Big Spring Motorcycle Club at its business meeting Thursday evening at 1001 W. 4th.

Plans also were made for a scavenger hunt at the next meeting May 9.

PREPARING FOR FESTIVAL
Lorrie Watkins, choir, and Larry Abbott, band

Choir, Band Plan Post-Tour Concerts

The Big Spring High School Choir and Band Departments are both planning concerts — one before and one after their joint tour Thursday through Sunday to the Corpus Christi Buccaneer Festival.

The choir concert will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium. Soloists, a cappella choir and the Madrigal Singers will provide entertainment, according to Kenny Sheppard, choir director.

Tickets are on sale for 50 cents and $1, and those persons purchasing advance tickets from choir members will help defray tour expenses of the youngsters. One-half the cost of the advance ticket sales will go toward the tour expenses, Sheppard said.

Soloists will be Jerry McGuire, "The Vagabond"; Danny Johnson, "Sure on This Shining Night"; Joe Clower, "Where's Ere You Walk"; Don Crockett Jr., "Du Bist Bei Mir"; Carolyn Montgomery, "Seben Crudele"; and Mark Shaver, "The Green-Eyed Dragon."

The Madrigals will present "La Biche" and the choir will sing selections from the Buccaneer Festival music.

The band is planning a concert when it returns, according to Bill Bradley, band director. At the festival, the concert band, under the direction of Don Turner, will play at 8:50 a.m. and the symphonic band, under Bradley's direction, will play at 9:40 a.m., both on Friday. From 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, soloists and ensembles of the band will perform. Saturday, both groups will

Scholarship To Be Awarded

SAN ANGELO—A $300 scholarship memorializing the late Millard Cope, former publisher of the San Angelo Standard-

Times, will be awarded this spring to a freshman journalism student entering Angelo State College this summer or fall.

West Texas high school graduates planning careers in newspaper work are being invited to apply for the scholarship, according to Fred Conn, Cope's successor as Standard Times publisher. Applications should be addressed to the journalism department, Angelo State College, San Angelo, Texas.

Applicants for the scholarship should submit a statement of why they wish to become newspaper journalist, a brief outline of their high school or other experience in journalism, and samples of their work, Conn said. Applications should be sent to the ASC journalism department not later than May 15.

MR. AND MRS. TOMMY CONE AND BRYANT

Professional Scouting Draws Career Man

By RHODA LEMONS
 "It is my responsibility to see that boys get Scouting, and I do that by working through adult volunteers," said Tommy Cone, new Lone Star District Scout executive in Big Spring.

Cone arrived in Big Spring with his wife and small son, Brant, 16 months, about three weeks ago. They reside at 3218

Cornell, and moved here from Midland. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cone attended school in Whiteface where they were high school sweethearts. They married shortly after graduation, and he enrolled in Levelland Plains Junior College. Following graduation there, Cone entered Texas Technological College in Lubbock. Mrs. Cone was employed by Sears Roebuck and Company and worked there until the arrival of their son.

Cone became associated with professional Scouting July 13, 1967, when he entered Schiff Scout Reservation for 45 days of training. Upon completing the course, he was qualified as a Scout executive and was employed in Midland. "I intend to make it my life's work," said Cone, who is enthusiastic about the possibilities of the Lone Star District, which includes three counties: Sterling, Howard and Glasscock.

He thinks his greatest challenge lies in the 14 to 18 age group especially in the exploring program and securing a retreat for the boys.

Mrs. Cone is just an enthusiastic as her husband about his new job, and she will assist him wherever possible. Her main interests are in their home and son. She learned to sew as a young girl, and has made most of her clothes for years. She enjoys cooking and collects recipes wherever she finds them. She says her main pleasure is in spending as much time as possible with the baby so that she won't miss any of his growing-up.

She is, however, interested in other activities, and both she and her husband enjoy golf and reading. She reads all types of literature, but her husband finds his greatest reading pleasure in poetry.

He is interested in joining a civic club and contributing to the community with this association. Mrs. Cone will later be interested in club work, but not until her son is older.

They like to get together with other young couples for an informal evening of cards, bowling or just conversation.

Cone's major goal is to obtain his degree; he lacks about 12 hours, and to later do graduate work. He will have to wait until he is closer to a four-year college to accomplish this.

However, no matter what the future holds, he has found his career in professional Scouting.

Miss Mary Foreman Honored At Luncheon

Miss Mary Foreman was honored Saturday with a luncheon in the home of the hostess, Miss Dolly Wilkins, 911 Scurry, Miss Foreman and Dale Vaughn plan to be married in the summer, and the complimentary affair was an announcement party.

A "Daisies Do Tell" theme was used in decorations. The two dining tables were covered with white cloths, and places were marked with cards accented with yellow daisies. Centering each table was a crystal bowl holding yellow daisies, and a larger arrangement of the flowers was placed on a side table.

Miss Foreman was attired in a beige and white silk suit and was presented a daisy pin as a remembrance of the luncheon. Ten of the honoree's close friends attended.

Miss Foreman is coordinator of elementary guidance services for the Big Spring School System.

Red Clay Pots Insulate Plants

When indoor heat goes up, plants must "keep their cool." If you can't adjust a room thermostat, or if you like indoor temperatures on the warm side, keep plants cooler in clay pots.

The red clay pot walls act as natural insulation for plant root structures, since they are thicker than those of nonporous containers.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

With the new car showing here everyone will get a good long look at the best looking cars that are offered by the automobile industry... and how happy those people will be who will drive one home soon.

I think back, oh, so many years ago when my father drove home a brand spanking new Dodge sedan... the first one in Big Spring, I believe. I was young but appreciative, and I brought all my friends home to see our beautiful new conveyance. I can't even remember what we were conveyed by or with up until that time.

This classy new car had windows that rolled up and down, ivory spoked wheels, running boards that were so wide they could, and frequently did, serve as picnic tables, and enormous fenders. The great box of a body was so high off the ground the little people had to be helped aboard and if it happened to be parked over a low place, everyone had to be aided up. The upholstery was mohair, as I recall. Surely it was because nothing else could have been so sticky on bare legs or so hot in the summer, but the suffering was the very elegant kind. We loved our Dodge sedan.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES McKASKLE are making the happy announcement of the arrival of a son, GREGORY ALLEN, who was born in Fort Worth on April 19, weighing 8 pounds, 15 ounces. The McKaskles live at 7845 Terry St., Fort Worth, 76108. She is the former Jan Fields and is a former employe of The Herald.

RUTH LEMON, a junior student at the University of Texas in Austin has been accepted as a student in the physical therapy department, University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston. She will begin her training in September. She was graduated from Sands High School in 1965 and attended McMurry College in Abilene two years. She is the daughter of MR. and MRS. JOE LEMON of Ackerly.

MISS MARIE HALL, whose mother, MRS. G. T. HALL lives here, has recently sponsored a program in Dallas given by Dr. William B. Jordan, director of SMU's Virginia Meadows Museum. The program was a discussion of "American Art Today" for the University Club of Speech Arts.

A. M. RIPPS who now makes his home in Bedford but who comes "home" for a visit with friends regularly, was here Thursday having come from San Antonio where he was an enthusiastic visitor to the HemisFair and also visited relatives.

A happy trio that took in the HemisFair during the past week were three sisters, MRS. RUPERT HALBROOK, MRS. HERSCHEL PETTY and MRS. E. C. BOATLER.

The BEN HAWKINS of Lubbock visited their daughter, MRS. RON CLARK, and her family last week.

MRS. LEO GONZALES, accompanied by her brother, LOUIS CASILLAS, was in Dallas the past week to undergo medical tests.

The Texas Intercollegiate Press Association brought back a former Herald staff member, MRS. LOUIS ALEXANDER who, as Sherry Weber, was a Herald reporter. She instructs journalism at Texas A&I in Kingsville, and Mr. Alexander teaches biology in high school there. They are planning on a European tour this summer. John Youngren of Angelo State College brought word from two other former Herald family members, WAYLAND YATES, member of the ASC faculty, and CLIF LAWHORNE, who is earning his Phd at Southern Illinois University.

MRS. CARL STROM is in Fairfax, Okla., at the home of her brother, GEORGE SMITH, having a wonderful time fishing in the creek where she fished as a girl. She has recently been in Kansas City to attend a reunion at Loretta Academy where she was a student from age nine. For three years she was president of her class which was honored at this gathering.

Before returning here Mrs. Strom plans to visit her good friend, MRS. CLAUDE CHAMBERS, in Seminole, Okla.

Look Neat At Work

If you are one of the working crowd who must get through the summer in the steaming city, the fashion industry has outdone itself this time to keep you looking trim and pretty while you beat the heat.

MRS. ROGER DALE HUITT (HOWARD'S STUDIO)

Shawnia Denton Wed To Roger Dale Huitt

Miss Shawnia Sherry Denton and Roger Dale Huitt were united in marriage Saturday evening in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Denton, 1409 Mt. Vernon.

The Rev. J. William Arnold performed the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an improvised altar graced with an arrangement of white gladioli and flanked by lighted tapers in branched candelabra. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Denton, 01 Mill Rd., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie E. Huitt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white lace designed on princess lines with a scalloped Sabrina neckline accented with sequins and pearls. The skirt back fell in five tiers of lace forming a bustle effect that cascaded into a chapel train. A plateau cap of lace was her headpiece which was encrusted with pearls and sequins holding a tiered veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Ronald Fryar was matron of honor and Mrs. Quinn Denton was bridesmatron. Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Cauble and Miss Darlene Huitt. They were attired in formal gowns of yellow and pink and wore matching headdresses and corsages.

Ronnie Huitt was best man, and Quinn Denton was an usher. Miss Jamie Grantham of Knott was flower girl.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. For traveling, the bride chose a yellow organdy dress with yellow accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home in Big Spring.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, and the bridegroom graduated from San Angelo High School.

Six attended, and the next meeting will be Friday with Mrs. D. D. Johnston, 600 E. 16th.

A LOVELIER YOU

Draw Correct Line For Facial Beauty

The eyebrows play a vital role in the attractiveness of a face. More than most of us realize!

The eyebrows influence both the charm of one's facial expression and one's facial contours. Just look in a mirror and draw your eyebrows together, and you learn in an instant how the expression changes the appeal of your face.

To see how eyebrows affect facial contours, only imagine a full, round face with eyebrows drawn into a thin, exaggerated arch. Would you say that the shape of the brow further plumps the face? You just know it!

In general, eyebrows enhance facial structure when they conform to these beauty standards: The arch takes a slow, natural curve. It also is generous in width. And it extends from a point above the inside corner of the eye socket to the outside corner. The space between the eye and eyebrow should be the width of the eye, when wide open.

Those standards, however, come in for modification when facial contours would be improved thereby. What follows are brow shapes that soften contour problems:

Broad face — brow tapers quarter-inch beyond eye socket.

Thin face — brow ends short of eye socket at outer corner.

Round face — brow peaks close to outside corner.

Long face — brow is roundly arched.

As need be, those effects can be achieved by the subtle use of pencil, tweezers and brush. The key to success is that word "subtle."

EYES OF YOUTH

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Make Clothespin Bag From Blouse

If you need a clothespin bag in a hurry, make one from your small daughter's outgrown blouses by sewing up the front opening about six inches from the bottom. Stitch the blouse together at the bottom and fasten it on a clothes hanger. This makes a good-looking clothespin bag and doesn't cost a dime.

MRS. ANGEL GONZALES (Photo by Curley's Studio)

Wedding Solemnized In Catholic Church

Miss Elvira Rios became the bride of Angel Gonzales in a morning ceremony Saturday at St. Thomas Catholic Church. The Rev. Leo St. John read the double ring nuptial vows as the couple stood before an altar graced with arrangements of white flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Rios Sr., 406 N. Gregg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Gonzales of Coahoma.

Miss Carolina Rocha, organist, played traditional wedding selections throughout the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of Chantilly lace designed with a square neckline and fitted bodice. The long sleeves tapered to petal points at the wrists, and the full skirt was accented with bouffant lace tiers. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a tара adorned with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Alonzo Arispe was matron of honor, and Miss Rita Valadarez served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Anita Rios, sister of the bride; Miss Bertha Rodriguez, Mrs. Joe Quintana, Knox City; Miss Connie Garza, Lamesa; and Miss Paula Quintana of Haskell. All were attired in similar dresses of pastel colors designed with fitted bodices and full skirts.

Alonzo Arispe of Coahoma was best man, and Delma Claveran and Diana Dominguez served as flower girls. Andy Arispe of Coahoma was ring bearer.

Demo Conventions Are Being Stressed

George Thorburn, Howard County Democratic chairman, is urging all of his precinct chairmen to stress the Democratic precinct conventions which will be an important feature of the primary election date on May 4.

At these precinct conventions, delegates to the county convention one week later are to be elected, and the county's Democratic position thus determined.

The county convention, in turn, names delegates to the state convention, where these may have a voice in what sort of representation Texas has — and how it will perform — at the Democratic party's national convention.

HOURS

The law specifies that precinct conventions must be held between the hours of 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. on the date of first primary election.

Thorburn said that the precinct conventions in the urban voting boxes will be held immediately after the polls have closed at 7 p.m. on May 4. The rural boxes, as a general rule, hold their precinct meetings in the afternoon of the election day.

Only voters who can show registration certificates stamped to prove they have voted in the primary on May 4 may take part in any precinct convention. The meetings, Thorburn pointed out, will be held at the voting places and the precinct voting judge will preside.

"The precinct judges," Thorburn noted, "are for the most part the precinct chairman. Since some boxes do not have an active precinct chairman, it will be the responsibility of the judge to serve as precinct chairman at the precinct conventions."

Each precinct is entitled to name one delegate to the county convention for each 25 votes cast in the most recent general election for governor.

Since there were only 3,681 votes polled in the last general election, the total number of delegates to the county convention cannot exceed 137. A precinct with less than 25 votes gets one delegate but a precinct with more than 25 votes must have "a major fraction" of 25 to be entitled to an additional delegate. For example, a box may have cast 62 votes and get only two delegates — the same as if it had only 50 votes or, for that matter, as few as 39 votes.

ONLY A FEW LOCAL RACES Voters To Have Their Say Saturday

Next Saturday is V-Day in Texas. On May 4, preliminary party primaries occur, and Howard County voters join those throughout the state in determining who will be serving in various public offices for another term.

Both Democratic and Republican parties will be holding primaries. The former are expected to draw the bulk of voters.

In Howard County, the Democrats have a fairly "short ballot," due to the fact that an unprecedented number of local offices are uncontested. Only in two county commissioner races and for justice of the peace and for constable are there multiple candidates. Even many state offices are going uncontested.

This may bring out something less than a record vote, although the county, thanks to a change in voter registration (without poll tax payment) has the largest voting strength ever.

The big contest on the ticket is for governor, with no less than 10 bidders. Further information on voting will be given during the week.

District's Projects Pressing Forward

Projects of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are pressing forward on a wide front.

Work will start Monday on the construction of a 7,500-foot long dam for the side storage on the Colorado River two miles northwest of Colorado City. The contractor, Lyles & Lyles of Ballinger, has been preparing roads and the site during the past week. The dam will have a core trench under it to prevent seepage or washout. It will be a horseshoe affair to impound mineralized water from the normal flow and the initial flush flow of the river. This operation is expected to help improve the quality of water in the Robert Lee dam, 40 miles downstream.

Panhandle Construction Company was stymied by the weather during the past week in laying pipeline from the Martin County well field toward Big Spring. So far the project has some 4 1/2 miles of 36-inch pipe in the ground and two more miles of pipe on the right of way. However, four highway crossings have been laid.

Crews have completed field work on routes for pipelines from Moss Creek Lake, south-east of Big Spring, to the pipeline serving Sun Oil's plant in Coke County, also from this

Shaw's Play To Be Offered Here

Area residents are reminded of the performances of George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," to be presented tonight and Monday by the Alpha - Omega Players.

Tonight's performance will be at 6 o'clock at the First Methodist Church, and the performance Monday will be at 7 p.m. in the Webb AFB Chapel.

According to the Rev. Leo Gee and Chaplain Robert Deming, who are coordinating the production, the Players are dedicated to the mission of transforming the world into messages of faith and reminders of basic truths.

The Players unfold the life of Saint Joan, the peasant girl of Lorraine, without scenery or costumes and use only the church chancel as a background. The public is invited, and there is no admission charge.

Mrs. Robert Angel, chairman of the group, said that Mrs. Floyd Mays and Mrs. W. P. Edwards Jr. have been named co-chairmen of the house-to-house canvass planned for Tuesday, May 7.

Mrs. Angel reminded patients with arthritis that dramatic advances in surgical techniques and improved drug therapy therapy had to have a doctor's permission. Mrs. Angel pointed out. There is the possibility that future classes or sessions may be held.

Members of the board here are Mrs. Angel and Dr. W. A. Riley. Those on the advisory board include Mrs. Horace Garrett, Sam Anderson, Jack Little, Lorin S. McDowell III, J. Arnold Marshall and Dr. R. B. G. Cooper.

An appeal has been made for volunteers, and anyone interested in serving should call Mrs. Edwards at 263-6653 or Mrs. Mays at 267-6192.

During the past four weeks, the local arthritis unit has conducted a series of lectures and exercise classes at the Doris Roberts Rehabilitation Center for those persons afflicted with the crippling disease. Patients participating in the exercise

FOX KITTENS CAPTURED BY FOXY YOUNG COLLEGIANS
Linda White, left, Harrell Newton with four of their six unusual pets

Youth Digs Up A Business, A Bunch Of Fox Kittens

By SAM BLACKBURN

How do you get in the fox kitten business?
Harrell Newton, Howard County Junior College student, says he had to dig to get in the business.
"We had to dig a trench at least 15 feet long and six feet deep in order for me to get started as a fox kitten mag- nate," explained the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Newton, who live north of town.

The story began a week ago. Harrell, with his father and his younger brother, was working on a farm the Newtons have leased in the sand country of the old Gail Road.
"We saw two foxes go into a hole," he said. "We investigated and saw they had a den in the sand dune."

The next day, Harrell, with his girl friend, Linda White, his younger brother, Lonnie, a n d Lonnie's girl friend, Diana Langley, with Mr. Newton, returned to the scene. That's when the digging got under way.
Mamma and Papa fox got away, but after the 15-foot-long trench had been excavated, the diggers captured six tiny fox kittens.

They were stowed in a cotton trailer and the trailer covered over with netting wire.
"They were old enough to eat," said young Newton.

The first night, the young captives gobbled up a can of prepared dog food and the next day they made away with a jackrabbit the boys killed for them.

Linda, also a student at HCJC, has adopted one of the little lady foxes.
"I have named her Ramona," Linda confided.

"How do you know Ramona from the other little lady foxes?" she was asked.
"That's easy," said Linda. "I painted Ramona's toenails with purple polish."

Aware of the bad reputation that foxes have for spreading rabies, Harrell took no chances. The second day after he had possession, he took all six little animals to the vet and had each given anti-rabies shots.

What does he intend to do with his crop of foxes?
"Well," he said, "I plan to keep two of them (Ramona will be kept.) I also plan to give some friends two and, if I can find anyone who wants to buy, I'll sell the others."
Despite the short time the little foxes have been captives, they are already quite friendly and seem happy to associate with mere human beings.

seed

How can I save money? It isn't easy. It requires considerable self-discipline.

Is it necessary to save? The answer has to be yes. The farmer shows us the way. From every crop he saves some of the best for next year's SEED. This SEED is his assurance that he can plant a crop next season. It would be much easier to sell the whole crop in the fall, but we know how shortsighted this would be.

Save a part of your crop as SEED for the future. This practice will assure continued prosperity.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

The Missing Innkeeper

By ED SYERS

Long ago, Margaret and I plunged a dinner there. We knew it an "in place" with wonderful food. We didn't know that, for over a century now, few hostels have been more regarded than tiny Salado's Stagecoach Inn, between Waco and Austin.
Notable, its table and appointments; beautiful, its spring-fed glade of oak and pecan; distinguished, its guests; and deep, its history and legend: all this, the long years, has been well known. Strangely, what isn't known is the man who created it.

That together we might find him is the hope of a Fort Worth great - great grandson.
Old accounts show that E. Sterling C. Robertson, son of the famed Texas empressario, founder and chief booster of old Salado "in 1859 sold a small acreage to W. B. Armstrong for hotel purposes, the beginning of Stagecoach Inn."

Fort Worth's Billy R. Armstrong Sr., long hunting a kinsman, has traced his forebear as a pioneer surveyor who helped lay present Bell County - fought Indians - then built the stagecoach inn, Shady Villa, for a new city - Salado - that might dominate Texas. "Beyond that," admits searcher Armstrong, "I've found next to nothing."

FATAL RIDE
Understandably, this baffles a man; for little Salado is rich in Texas story, and the Inn lived through it all. The town was founded by Tennessean Robertson the same year he created two-story, proud Salado College - rock-ruined, the hill across - and the same year Armstrong built Shady Villa. Almost overnight, Salado was a main stop for the highwheeled Concordes on the San Antonio-Dallas or Fort Worth route.

The Inn, as today, was close by then-gushing Salado Springs. Shortly it was a graceful two-story Texas Colonial with accommodation and cuisine that drew any traveler overnight. Before Civil War, Robert E. Lee signed that register; after it, blue-uniformed George Armstrong Custer-en route Austin reconstruction command - did the same. Frequenters were cattlemen of brands tall as George Littlefield and Shanghai Pierce.

Legend says there were others, too. Frank and Jesse James had Salado sanctuary and a later Sam Bass would camp the Inn's glade shortly before his fatal ride into Round Rock. Behind the old building is the spring-fed cave Sam camped by. Famous or infamous, they'd stop at Stagecoach Inn's Salado. They liked what they saw, and it showed.

By the early '70s, Salado College had a two story addition, nearly 300 enrolled and law prohibiting liquor within six miles.

At Salado, Texas' first Women's Club met in the handsome Robertson home, over the hill behind the college; and Central Texas farmers, determined on fair prices, organized their first Grange in '73. A wool mill went in on the river below.

PANIC OF '73

From that Inn, even the casual traveler could see Salado was on her way. The panic of '73 shook her, sure; and, railroads might pass her by; but founder Robertson could still muster significant legislative support that the new University of Texas situate on the high hill, just across: simply begin with Salado College's buildings and his city's future. Too few votes, of course: State Capital Austin swamped him.

And railroads east - bypassing, finished the town, its college, industry - all but that dusty pike and its wagons and stages that passed the Inn. All but the Inn!
Ownership changed a few times over the years, yet incredibly, that Inn held from stage to T-Model to superhighway and beside it, preserved as originally, now is a handsome new motor hotel; and the food's as great as when Margaret and old Sam Houston, stopping over, tried it. And, no, this isn't a plug... so much as a wonder why.

The one thing solidly remaining from all Salado's hope! How does great - great grandson Armstrong feel, passing it, superfluous? He's not after some kind of claim on it; he just sees a monument to a builder with vision: W. B. Armstrong, 1859.

House Speaker Ben Barnes, in seeking the office of Lieutenant Governor, stands for:

- ☆ Stopping the rising crime rate by using a positive, 12-point program that includes: Police Academy for training all Texas peace officers, stronger criminal prosecution forces, better court facilities, and greater rehabilitation for both juvenile and adult offenders.

Knott Win Award

By SAM BLACKBURN
KNOTT — A few weeks ago, a young Knott man was gravely injured in a car-truck collision on a rural road near here.

Taken to the hospital, his relatives were told he had to have blood — 12 pints to start — as quickly as possible.

The parents contacted Knott Community Improvement committee, which operates a "walking blood bank" as one of numerous activities designed to make Knott a better place in which to live.

In an amazingly short time, the 12 pints of blood were provided. The blood bank supervisor at Knott, on receiving the message, turned to the file cabinet listing nearly 100 per cent of the residents of Knott, who have volunteered to donate blood when needed.

The injured youth is recovering. He had to have a lot more blood, however, than the original 12 pints his neighbors provided for him. His doctor said he probably owes his life to the Knott Community Improvement program and its blood bank.

As a result of the blood bank and for other activities, Knott has been awarded the $100 first prize for community improvement for 1968 by the Texas Electric Service Co. It won over White Face in Cochran County. The victory was announced last week.

A year ago, Knott competed with Lenora for the same honor and came out second best. This is its first year to win top honors.

Mrs. Mac Gaskin, a leader in the program, said she is certain Knott will continue in the contest this year.

Mrs. Catherine Crawford, Howard County Home Demonstration agent, said that she watched the judging and it was her impression that the judges were impressed not only by the blood bank, but by the unflagging optimism and hard work that Knott residents put into their community improvement program last year despite a tremendous handicap.

"Knott had a disastrous farming year," she pointed out. "There were no crops. It appears that the people expended their frustration at the crop failure in a community-wide ceaseless effort at making their community a better place." The judges were impressed by the acquisition by Knott of his own fire truck and its own fire station. The truck was one of four bought by the county commissioners court to combat rural fires and was the first allotted to any community.

The truck is housed in quarters built in the old Knott gym. The committee also has completed its community roping and riding arena — one of the best anywhere. The arena has been built entirely by voluntary labor.

All over the Knott area, farmers and their wives have also pushed ahead with projects to make their home and farms more attractive.

Soon, the community will begin a recheck of its people to update its blood bank file.

"We have had a number of new families move in," said Mrs. Gaskin. "We want to give them a chance to enroll in the blood bank. We also want to make sure all of the cards we have on file are active and available."

Leonard L. Smith is the president of the Community Improvement Committee; Rovert Nichols is vice president; and Mrs. Gaskin is secretary.

THOMAS MANN
Baylor Honors
Thomas Mann

WACO — Thomas Mann, former undersecretary of state and career diplomat, has been selected to receive Baylor University's "Lawyer of the Year" award.

Former United States disarmament negotiator Arthur Dean will speak at ceremonies honoring Mann and observing National Law Day Saturday.

Mann is a 1934 graduate of Baylor University School of Law. After retiring from government service in 1966 he was associated for a short time with the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies in Washington, D.C.

Mann's career as a diplomat spanned 24 years, from the time he left his law practice in his native Laredo, to his retirement in 1966 as undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

He twice served as assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, under Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy. He was appointed in 1955 as ambassador to El Salvador and in 1961 as ambassador to Mexico. Mann has served in foreign service posts in Uruguay, Venezuela, Greece and Guatemala.

It Should Have

CHICAGO (AP) — Police Lt. Emmett J. McMorrow rushed to a currency exchange and arrested a man who later was charged with armed robbery.

"Everything seemed sort of familiar," McMorrow said.

It should have. He arrested the same man on the same charge in the same currency exchange 20 years ago.

Group Opposes 2, Issues On Ballot

The Citizens for a Better Howard County, which has taken a leading role in some local campaigns including efforts to secure pledges of Sunday closings, has gone on record urging a negative vote on the horse racing and liquor - by - the - drink referendum.

Dr. H. M. Jarratt, president, said that the group suggested that all voters consider the involvements which could arise out of legalizing either of these matters.

The issue of parimutuel betting on horse races, according to CBHC, resolves itself to gambling. This is an appeal to man's addiction to a will - o - the - wisp of quick gain, where in reality the odds are stacked against him. Dr. Jarratt said that it is estimated that gambling takes $50 billion a year out of the nation's economy, returning its operators and the syndicates $10 billion profit.

Claims of revenue to the state are spurious, he said, for each $1 in revenue will be offset by $5 in higher enforcement costs.

As for the liquor - by - the - drink proposal, the group argued that experience in other states has shown that liquor consumption is more (67 per cent more) not less by reason of the single drink option. Moreover, the single drink price multiplies the cost by four times, which would be adding an estimated $780 million a year to the liquor bill for Texas. This doesn't reflect higher law enforcement charges, greater highway casualties, lost days from work, and loss to business by having this money siphoned

School Plans
Open House

An open house and a special program is to be presented by the St. Mary's Episcopal School from 10 a.m. to noon on May 1. The school is inviting all parents of pupils and all parents interested in the school and its program to attend.

The program will feature a playlet by the first graders; a demonstration spelling by the third grade; and singing by the kindergarten group.

The parents will also be invited to visit all of the school classrooms and watch the school in action.

It is pointed out that St. Mary's employs the Carden System of instruction which has been highly successful. Questions on how the school functions and how its program is pursued are invited.

A preregistration period for next year will also be held for all persons interested.

Campout May Have 1,000
Scouts Here For Weekend

More than 700 boys and men are signed up for the Buffalo Trails biggest campout here Friday and Saturday. The total could go past the 1,000 mark. Reservations have been received from all but two districts in the council, said Tommy Cone, Scout executive. More are being received daily.

Troops will begin checking in at the Roundup grounds southeast of the City Park at 4 p.m. Friday, and workers to assist in this are being arranged by Frosty Robison, camping and activities chairman.

Each troop will prepare its own food, and teams will conduct inspections of the camps both Friday night and during the day Saturday.

Contests in Scoutcraft and athletic events will be held Saturday; and there will be a big campfire program Saturday evening when awards will be presented.

The Roundup ends officially with the campfire, but most of the troops will stay overnight. Religious services have been arranged for early Sunday morning for the boys before the last of the units break camp and head for home.

The Roundup was for approximately a quarter of a century the biggest single event of the council. It was halted for a decade but resumed last year.

Robison and his committee men will stake out campsites and make other arrangements, including those for judgements to rate the events on Saturday.
