Mild Storm Adds To Moisture

Another spring shower, a milder storm than the two which cut through Howard County earlier in the week, fell throughout the area early Sunday morning, gauging an official total of 48 inches, although in some areas up to 1.5 inches was reported.

This pushed the week's total precipitation — Sunday through Sunday — to 5.13 inches. The official totals were recorded at the U.S. Experiment Station. May's total rainfall count so far is 5.16 inches, the second wettest May recorded. A real deluge occurred in May, 1928, when 7.45 inches of precipitation was counted in the first 13 days of the month.

Electric Service

The only mishap of Sunday's steady rainfall was in the Kentwood and Monticello additions, where lightning knocked out two transformers and a feeder line of Texas Electric Service Company about 9:30 a.m. Electrical service was restored about 11 a.m.

Soil temperature, somewhat cooler than it was two weeks ago, was 58 degrees at 8 a.m. today. Farmers in the area said that Sunday's rainfall did not do any damage, but left the rain-soaked fields muddy and unmaneuverable.

Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said that city officials were out Sunday surveying city streets but that no major damage was reported. Lillard said that repairs to the streets, left muddy and washed out, in some cases, by last week's storms, had still not been completed.

A look at Sunday's precipitation around the area showed the Texas Electric Service Company switching station, two miles east of town, with 1.07 inches; at Forsan, two inches was gauged; Elbow has 1.5 inches of steady rainfall; Vealmoor reported 5 inch, as did the Knott community. The Wilkerson Ranch, 10 miles northwest of town, reported about one inch.

Thick Fog

Early Monday a thick fog cloaked Big Spring and was beginning to lift about 9 a.m. Today's forecast was for a 30 per cent chance of more rain tonight, with cooler weather in sight for the weekend.

None of the Sunday heavy showers fell on the Lake J. B. Thomas lakeland. Elevation Monday was 2239.82, down .03 of a foot from Sunday although 55 of an inch fell at the dam, .50 at the Big Spring-Odessa intake.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District reported gauges of .80 of an inch at the Morgan Creek station 15 miles northeast of Big Spring, and .80 at the Big Spring station north of town. The McWhorter pump station on the Martin-Howard line had 1.30 and the Martin County well field 1.00. At Odessa showers amounted to .28.

Webb Open House

Webb AFB will stage its annual open house for Armed Forces Day Saturday, with the theme of "Forces for Freedom."

There will be static displays of T-41, T-37, T-38 and other aircraft on the flight line. Interested parties will also be offered guided tours through the base maintenance and training facilities. The base will be open to servicemen, their families and interested civilians in the surrounding area from 9 a.m. until noon.

Col. William C. McGlothlin, commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb, said, "Our job at Webb is to train jet pilots. From the first phase of training, which is accomplished at the Howard County Airport in T-41 aircraft, students move into a second phase of training on Webb with the T-37 Twenty-bird. Final stages in the making of a jet pilot are accomplished in the T-38 Talon."

Instructor and student pilots will make a fly-in in the small, single engine T-41 at 9:30 a.m. This will be followed at 10 o'clock by Twenty-bird pilots and the T-38s at 11:40.

In addition to the many displays, there will be a fire suppression and control demonstration at 9:30 o'clock and para-sailing at 10:30 o'clock. Following the para-sail team will be a rescue helicopter crew demonstrating pick-up procedures.

Speck Trial Error

CHICAGO (AP)—State's Atty. John Stamos said Sunday he would ask an Illinois Supreme Court justice to correct a clerical error in the trial record of Richard Speck, convicted in the murder of eight nurses.

A Chicago newspaper disclosed Saturday that a court clerk misinterpreted a court order and entered it incorrectly in the trial record.

The entry, in effect, dismissed six murder indictments against Speck and left standing only charges for the murders of Merlita Gargullo and Valentina Pasion.

Speck, 26, was convicted and sentenced to death in Peoria last year on charges of murdering all eight of the victims found in a nurses dormitory July 14, 1966.

McCarthy Expects A Better Showing

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy exhorted his campaign workers today to turn out the vote Tuesday, while Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said he would fare better in Nebraska's presidential primary than he did in losing Indiana.

With those words, the Democratic rivals keynoted their final sprints of campaigning for their second presidential primary clash—an outing which could hold a political bonus for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

DIFFERENCE

Kennedy told more than 200 people, most of them campaign workers, at a Lincoln breakfast that the Tuesday outcome "is going to make a big difference" to his presidential prospects.

"Get people to the polls so they can vote," the New York senator urged. McCarthy, meanwhile, was defending his congressional voting record at a news conference in Omaha. He accused the Kennedy forces of distorting it in advertisements and a campaign letter, and said his canvassers in Nebraska had found 15 per cent of the people they contacted troubled about the matter. "That's not the kind of politics to which I would lend my name," McCarthy said of the Kennedy tactics he alleged. The Minnesota senator said he had a 10-year record of voting on 79 per cent of Senate roll calls. He said Kennedy's record over three years was 80 per cent.

IMPROVE

McCarthy, drew 27 per cent of the vote and ran third to Kennedy and favorite son Gov. Roger D. Branigan in the Indiana primary one week ago, said he will improve that showing in Nebraska. He would not give a percentage forecast. "A horse doesn't predict who's going to win the race," he said.

Kennedy was working in Wahoo, stopping at Boys Town, then winding up his campaign in Omaha, site of the state's heaviest concentration of Democrats. McCarthy was swinging through towns like Beatrice and Crete, on his way to an Omaha windup.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, a Republican, said he expects to see Richard M. Nixon capture 70 per cent of the vote in a GOP race which holds little suspense. Nixon hasn't campaigned here for a week, but his forces were busy urging Democrats to write in the name of the former vice president on their ballot, in an effort to prove the Nixon appeal extends beyond the GOP itself. Crossover voting is not permitted in Nebraska.

Tiemann said Vice President Humphrey could poll a substantial write-in vote in Tuesday's Democratic showdown. Humphrey's organization has disowned the low-key Nebraska write-in effort, which has drawn little notice alongside the hectic Kennedy and McCarthy campaigns.

WRITE-IN

McCarthy was swinging through towns like Beatrice and Crete, on his way to an Omaha windup.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, a Republican, said he expects to see Richard M. Nixon capture 70 per cent of the vote in a GOP race which holds little suspense. Nixon hasn't campaigned here for a week, but his forces were busy urging Democrats to write in the name of the former vice president on their ballot, in an effort to prove the Nixon appeal extends beyond the GOP itself. Crossover voting is not permitted in Nebraska.

TORNADOES DIP DOWN IN FORT WORTH AREA

Bristling Storms Keep State On Edge

By The Associated Press

Bristling thunderstorms hurried still more tornadoes and cloudbursts at weather-weary Texas today, concentrating this time on the Cleburne and Dallas-Fort Worth areas in the north-central part of the state.

Witnesses just across the road told of watching a funnel cloud slap one side of a new Johns-Manville Manufacturing Co. plant in the north edge of Cleburne at 12:17 a.m. It struck as a squall line surged southward from the Fort Worth area.

HEAVY RAIN

Cleburne police dispatcher J. M. Thompson said 4.5 inches of rain within an hour sent the east and west arms of Buffalo Creek on a rampage and water rose into about 25 homes and a few business places.

Thompson said Johns-Manville officials estimated the firm's tornado damage at $100,000.

Flash flooding—destructive but apparently not of depth to imperil lives—also invaded houses in several neighborhoods around Fort Worth and an undetermined number of places in Grand Prairie, between Dallas and Fort Worth.

City patrolman Wesley T. Mikel said he saw a twister spin down at 3:45 a.m. as a thunderstorm crackled wickedly and bashed the plate glass front out of a large restaurant in the 5200 block of South Lamar Street in South Dallas. Several trees were uprooted in the vicinity.

THREE PLACES

The twister was reported to have touched down in three more South Dallas locations causing only minor damage. A car wash was blown down along with some exit signs on Central Expressway, police said.

The Weather Bureau reported a tornado sighted 32 miles northeast of Dallas and moving that same direction from a point eight miles northeast of the town of Rockwall at 4:40 a.m. There was no word of damage.

A special advisory placed three Northeast Texas counties in the twister's path—Hunt, Delta and Hopkins—under a tornado warning until 6:30 a.m.

By 5:14 a.m. the Weather Bureau posted a tornado watch for part of Northeast Texas and adjacent sectors in Oklahoma and Arkansas, alerting residents until 9:15 a.m. in an area 50 miles wide centered on a line from 50 miles northeast of Dallas to 70 miles northeast of Paris.

Despite the storms' viciousness, no injuries were reported. The wild turbulence propelled Texas into an eighth straight day of furious spring weather, blamed for 10 deaths from drowning or auto crashes in the wild downpours.

FRONT BLAMED

A cool front which progressed to the Texas Coast and headed northward again as a warm front received the blame for the protracted storms. Early today it lay along a line from Mineral Wells southward through the San Angelo area and Del Rio on the Mexican border.

Moderate to heavy thundershowers ranged through North Central Texas this morning, rain was starting to fall around Del Rio and drizzle or fog cloaked much of Northwest Texas.

George Marti and several companions told of watching the Cleburne twister from outside Marti's large home just across the road of the recently completed Johns-Manville fiberglass factory.

"First it dipped down onto a parking lot at the Johns-Manville plant, picked up an empty Central Texas Freight Lines truck and flipped it several hundred feet in the air," Marti related.

SPED ALONG

"The funnel then sped along south and west sections of the building, pulling out the walls for about 200 yards along with the completed insulation and fiber board that awaited shipment."

Marti and Chester Moseley, a neighbor, said the twister spun several hundred yards on the ground toward the west, scattering debris widely, before it snaked back into the clouds and disappeared.

FORECASTS

Forecasters called for the northbound warm front to move out of the state and a fresh cool front to develop and wheel into far West Texas and the Panhandle by evening. Scattered showers were expected in all sections and occasional thunderstorms in the Panhandle again.

Serious Steps To Peace Pledged

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam challenged each other today to take new steps to scale down the war in Southeast Asia. Both pledged serious efforts to find some basis for a peaceful settlement.

Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam, who spoke first at the opening round of substantive talks, called on the United States to end the rest of the bombing and "all other acts of war" against his country, but did so in words softer than expected. He made no threat of breaking off the talks if the demand is not quickly granted.

SIGN

President Johnson's spokesman, Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, asked for some sign of military restraint by North Vietnam that would meet the President's request for a de-escalation response to his March 31 ban of part of the bombing. What actually has happened, Harriman charged, is that North Vietnam has moved "substantial and increasing numbers of troops and supplies from the North to the South."

U.S. officials expected a blast from Thuy and they were not surprised when they got it. He accused the United States of aggression in South Vietnam and said the more it was defeated—the more cruelly it responded—increasing attacks and sending in troops.

At the same time, he said he and his delegation had "come here with an attitude which is serious and full of good will."

Harriman opened his statement by saying the United States rejected many points Thuy had made but that the U.S. statement today would not be a reply but "an affirmative statement."

BUFFER

He proposed that restoration of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam as a buffer free of military forces be made "an important test of faith on each side."

"We believe the demilitarized zone should function as a genuine buffer," Harriman said. "Let us begin by pulling apart the contending forces as a step toward broader measures of de-escalation."

He accused the North Vietnamese of "aggression" and of taking an increasing military role in South Vietnam alongside the Viet Cong. He called the introduction of regular North Vietnamese army units "a blatant violation of the Geneva accords."

A North Vietnamese spokesman said later: "It is as ridiculous to say that North Vietnam committed an aggression against South Vietnam as to pretend that Washington would attack the State of New York. Because Vietnam is only one country."

For the United States, Harriman told the more than three-hour meeting the securing of South Vietnam's freedom from outside interference is "at the core" of "serious and productive actions" for peace.

PROPOSALS

1. The United States and North Vietnam should restore the demilitarized zone "to its proper and original status."

2. The neutralization agreements on Laos, made in 1962, "should be honored and its people should be left to the peaceful life they desire."

3. The people of South Vietnam, as a matter of principle, "must be allowed to determine their own future without outside interference."

4. The United States is prepared to join with "all the nations of Southeast Asia—and with others—in building a future with great promise for the peoples of the area."

In effect, this last point was a direct proposal for North Vietnam, once peace was established, to join in a U.S.-assisted development program.

The meeting lasted three hours and the next meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday.

IN FRANCE

Strike Falls Short Of Goal

PARIS (AP) — French labor unions, students and opposition politicians joined today in the first nationwide general strike of President Charles de Gaulle's 10-year rule. But by midday the attempt to paralyze France appeared to have fallen far short of its mark.

UNAFFECTED

Except for scattered slow-downs and disruptions the country seemed largely unaffected. Train service was reduced, departure of international flights from France was canceled, traffic in the cities was less than normal. But power supplies continued with only spotty interruptions and many shops and offices did business as usual.

In Paris, one of the electricity cutoffs hit the two hotels housing the U.S. and North Vietnamese delegations to the Vietnam peace conference.

But at the conference building, where full-scale discussions got under way this morning, there were no effects.

The nation's four main trade unions acted together for the first time in more than a decade to organize the strike.

Security officials hoped that a major demonstration planned during the afternoon would not turn violent. Thousands of students were expected to join with workers in a three-hour march through a working class district to the left bank.

The strike was called in support of students at the University of Paris whose conflict with the government erupted last week in bloody battles with police.

The riots, strikes and demonstrations could not have come at a more embarrassing time for De Gaulle with hundreds of foreign newsmen assembled for the opening today of the Vietnam peace talks.

There was no indication, however, that the demonstrators would try to approach the conference hall. And the government made sure that the strike of power plant workers and others would not interfere with the conference.

BEGAN

The strike began at one minute past midnight.

Although the students and their struggle for improvement of university conditions were the chief reason for the demonstrations, many unions called on their members to demonstrate also for greater job security and more purchasing power for their wages.

Both Sides Hurl Charges

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Three Arab-Israeli border incidents were reported Sunday. Two persons were reported killed, four were wounded and there was the usual exchange of charges.

The Beirut government accused Israel of opening fire on the Lebanese village of Huleh. Israel claimed that the exchange began when Lebanese fired mortar shells into the Israeli settlement of Margaliot.

An Israeli army spokesman also said Jordanians opened fire across the Jordan River near the Damiya Bridge touching off a 50-minute exchange of mortar and small arms fire. The spokesman added that in another action Israeli troops killed one Arab guerrilla north of Jericho in the occupied west bank.

In Cairo, the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram said foreign ministers of Arab countries involved in hostilities with Israel will meet in Baghdad, Iraq, later this week.

Poll Gives GOP Hopefuls The Lead

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The two Republican presidential hopefuls are faring better than the top three Democratic candidates, says recent nationwide test elections conducted by the Gallup Poll.

ROCKY LEADS

Of the two rival GOP candidates tested—New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard Nixon—Rockefeller made the better showing in the matchings against the three declared Democratic candidates, Sens. Robert (Bobby) Kennedy of New York and Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota and Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the poll said Sunday.

Findings were based on a national survey of registered voters completed just prior to last Tuesday's Indiana primary and after Rockefeller's entry into the race. The survey was conducted between May 4 and 8 among 1,139 registered voters in more than 300 localities. In the poll, the candidates were matched individually against the other party's candidates, with former Alabama Gov. George Wallace considered as a third party candidate.

Support for Wallace in six trial heats averaged 16 per cent, a gain for Wallace since the previous survey in April, the poll said.

Humphrey gained on Nixon since the early April survey—conducted before Humphrey entered the race—and now trails by three percentage points.

Rockefeller, pitted against Humphrey for the first time since entering the race, had a seven point lead over Humphrey.

BOBBY LEADS

Kennedy lost ground to Nixon since the April test and trails the former vice president by 10 points, compared to three points in April, the poll said. Rockefeller led Kennedy by 14 points.

Audra Kapsaroff plays one of the parts in "The Devil On Stilts," one of two plays to be offered by the Little Theatre of Big Spring.

Wednesday Is Deadline For Theatre Tickets

Deadline for purchasing tickets and making reservations for the upcoming supper theatre program of the Little Theatre of Big Spring is Wednesday.

No tickets will be sold at the door Friday and Saturday evenings, when the organization will stage two one-act plays, plus two other surprise features in the Cosden Country Club.

Tickets may be had from Mrs. Margaret Goodwin, 267-6311, during the day, or 263-1563 after 5 p.m.

The plays, both comedies, are directed by Al Scott and Don Kiebach, both board members of the little theatre. Appearing in "The Devil On Stilts," are Audra Kapsaroff, Pat Adams and Cheryl Haas.

Appearing in "The Street of Good Friends," are Maxine Boardman, Margaret Goodwin, Doris Vaughn and Molly Ennor. Final arrangements and last rehearsals are being held tonight and Tuesday.

Back On Job

Perry Johnson, tax assessor-collector for the City of Big Spring, was back on the job at City Hall this morning after recuperating from a heart attack of several weeks ago.

Dear Abby

'Tools' For Mother

DEAR ABBY: I was given my mother's day present a few days prematurely because, "It was something I would find useful" and there was no sense having me do without it another day. You have no idea how disappointed I was to find my "gift" was a household appliance.

Please warn these unsuspecting, generous shoppers not to be brainwashed by salespeople who will try to sell them electric appliances, such as toasters, mixers, blenders, vacuum cleaners and washer-dryers to give to Mother as a "gift." These items are not really gifts, they are tools of her trade just as a saw and hammer are a carpenter's tools.

How many husbands would be thrilled to unwrap a pair of hedge clippers, or a gallon of paint and some brushes on Father's day? ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ONE: Sorry, but you rattled the wrong cage. Any of the "tools" you mentioned would be a most welcome gift to the woman who faces the normal routine of housework daily. As long as she must cook, clean, and do the laundry, anything that helps her to do it more easily and faster is indeed a great gift.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is a sophomore at college (about 200 miles from home) has been bringing home his "girl" for weekends since last October. She also is a sophomore, and seems to be a nice enough girl, but we don't "know" her any better now than the first time he brought her home. You see, she always has a book with her. She sits in our company while everyone is conversing, and keeps her nose in the book. She hardly ever says a word, her head is down and she reads. I say this is very rude. Our son has tried on several occasions to draw her into the conversation, but so far he hasn't succeeded. Is there some way we can pry some conversation out of her so we can find out what she is like? Our son thinks she is "wonderful." This is wonderful? HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: The girl is shy and sadly lacking in self-confidence. Let her hide. She's using the book as a "shield." When she feels more at home with you, perhaps she'll turn over a new leaf.

DEAR ABBY: You devoted a lot of space to whether parents (for the sake of a healthier sex education) should allow their children to witness a cat bearing kittens. Some said yes, some said no.

Any parents who would permit the family cat to bear kittens for the sake of "educating" their children should complete their education by giving them a tour of the local pound, requesting special permission to see the gas chambers where unwanted kittens and puppies are disposed of.

This will clearly show the fate of the majority of unwanted animals produced by neglectful, irresponsible owners.

We do not need more animals to destroy in gas chambers. Neither do we need more animals who eventually will die of disease, starvation, poison, and under car wheels.

If you love animals you will print this so your readers will know the seriousness of permitting pets to breed accidentally. Feline Affiliates, Ltd. President

ABOUT HALF ARE VIETNAM-BOUND

20,000 Reservists Face Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 20,000 Army, Air Force and Navy Reservists and National Guardsmen—about half of them Vietnam-bound—answer President Johnson's call to active duty today.

How long they stay in uniform will depend at least partly on the course of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks beginning today in Paris. They could be held on active duty for up to two years.

NO DECISION

The course of the peace talks may also determine whether any more citizen soldiers and sailors will be called up. Pentagon officials said no decision has been reached on any further muster of Reservists.

Acting on Johnson's orders, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford announced April 11 that about 24,500 Reservists were being ordered to active duty. They were given 30 days to arrange their affairs, before putting on their uniforms.

Clifford said about 10,000 of the Reservists and Guardsmen would be sent to Vietnam to provide needed support troops and the rest would help fill out the badly depleted central force of fighting men kept in the United States for possible use worldwide.

TROOPS EXCUSED

Last week, about 1,250 Air Force and Air Guard troops were excused from active service because it was found regular Air Force units could provide the support functions the Reservists had been designated to fill.

This reduced the over-all call-up total to about 23,300. Nearly 20,000 report today. They form some 87 units in 34 states.

Another 3,600 individual Reservists from the Army ready reserve manpower pool will show up for active duty starting June 15, the Pentagon said.

These men will fill out the ranks of understrength units called to active duty.

NEW CALLUP

The new callup brings to more than 38,000 the number of Reservists and Guardsmen ordered to active duty since January.

The new callup includes two of the National Guard's first-line infantry brigades, the 29th of Hawaii and the 69th of Kansas and Iowa. The Hawaii brigade has trained extensively in jungle warfare techniques.

The 69th Brigade underwent considerable training in tandem with the 9th Division of the regular Army before that division went from Ft. Riley, Kan., to the war.

EXTRA TRAINING

Other units being called up from the Army Guard and Reserve include armor, artillery, engineer, signal and aviation.

The Air Force will get fighter squadrons, medical, airlift and other reinforcements from its guard and reserve.

The Navy will get much-needed Seabees from its reserve.

Many Reservists and Guardsmen have been exposed to extra training during the 30-day waiting period prior to reporting for duty.

The National Guard Bureau has been shifting none too plentiful equipment and weapons to mobilized units not called up. The mobilized units have been promised new weapons and gear after coming on active duty.

GUARD UNITS

The guard and reserve units will move to mobilization training stations a few days after reporting at their home armories and bases.

The first callup, involving 14,787 Air Reservists, Air Guardsmen and Naval Air Reservists, came Jan. 26, shortly after the North Koreans seized the U.S. ship Pueblo and its crew.

The callup enabled the Air Force to send more regular fighter units to South Korea and provided added strength for U.S. based tactical air elements drained by the Vietnam war.

One squadron of Air National Guardsmen ordered to active duty in late January recently arrived in Vietnam for combat duty—the first fighting by a National Guard or reserve unit since the Korean War 15 years ago.

Roman Catholic Priest Gets Heart Transplant

By The Associated Press

A Paris hospital said today a patient was in excellent condition after a heart transplant Sunday, and medical sources identified him as a 45-year-old Roman Catholic priest who had suffered 30 heart attacks.

At the Houston, Tex., hospital where three transplants were performed in one week, one of the two surviving patients was reported in "serious but improving" condition and the other was in excellent shape.

The bulletin from Broussais Hospital in Paris on France's third and the world's 14th human heart transplant said only that the hospital's team had performed the operation "under satisfactory conditions and the state of the patient is excellent."

TWO DIE

The French medical sources already had reported that Prof. Charles Dubost, aided by Drs. Jean-Paul Cachrat and Michel Lacombe, gave a priest from Marseille the heart of a 39-year-old man who died Friday from a cerebral hemorrhage.

They said an artificial blood supply had kept the heart alive until the operation.

France's other two heart recipients are dead.

Four heart recipients survive in other nations.

John W. Stuckwisch, 62, at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston, is the man listed in serious condition. But a spokesman said: "His dramatic recovery from the desperate operation last Tuesday and steady improvement are considered to be encouraging."

GUNSHOT VICTIM

Cooley's other surviving patient, Everett C. Thomas, 47, is eating a normal diet and walking in his private room. Thomas, a Phoenix, Ariz., accountant, received a new heart May 3 from a 15-year-old housewife who died of a gunshot wound in the head.

Paving Program To Be Discussed

Big Spring City Commissioners Tuesday will discuss plans for a new paving program. The regular session will be held in the commission room of city hall, starting at 7 p.m.

Funds for city participation in the program are available through income from the sales tax. The scope of the program is to be discussed, as well as a timetable.

In other business, the commission will hold a public hearing for an on-premises beer consumption permit for Mutt's Place, 3704 US 80 west, requested by Willie Jean Harvey. The location was formerly the Circus Club.

The terms of two directors on the board of the Colorado River Municipal River District expire May 31, and the commission must make new appointments. Expiring terms are of Robert W. Currie and Dr. Lee O. Rogers.

Jack Watkins will make a request for a sewage line on Union Street. Authorization to call for bids for an Addressograph machine, nine police cars, two pickup trucks, five larger trucks, and two truck bodies will be considered.

An ordinance will be considered to charge a fee of $12 for reservations for the new concrete pavilion in City Park.

Recommendations from the traffic commission will be considered, as well as several other routine ordinances.

New Restaurant Is Taking Shape

A $26,000 Colonel Sanders "Kentucky Fried Chicken" restaurant is under construction at 2200 Gregg, according to L. J. McPherson, contractor. Completion date is not known.

The restaurant, which is part of a nation-wide chain, is to feature completely modern facilities and will be constructed of brick.

What makes a Pontiac a Pontiac?

(And what makes ordinary cars ordinary?)

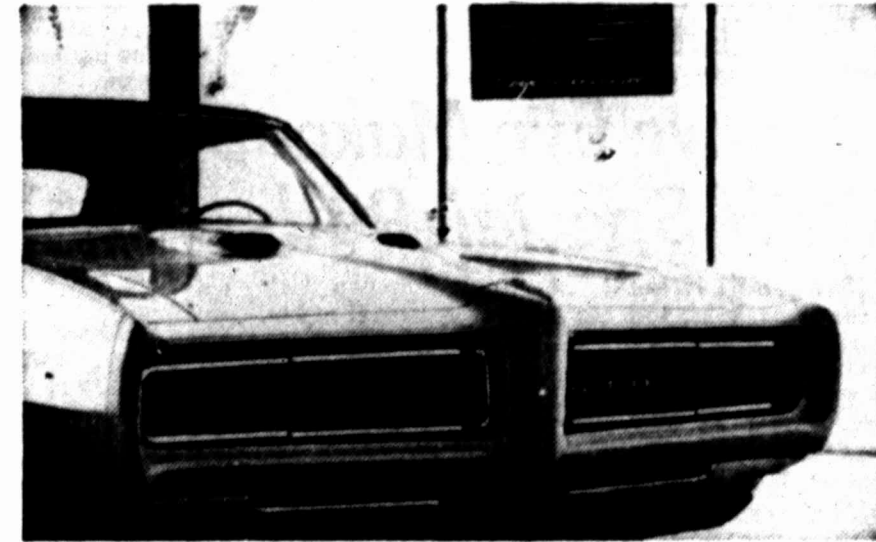

Only Pontiacs have Wide-Track. Drive a Pontiac and you'll wonder who took all the bumps and curves out of the road.

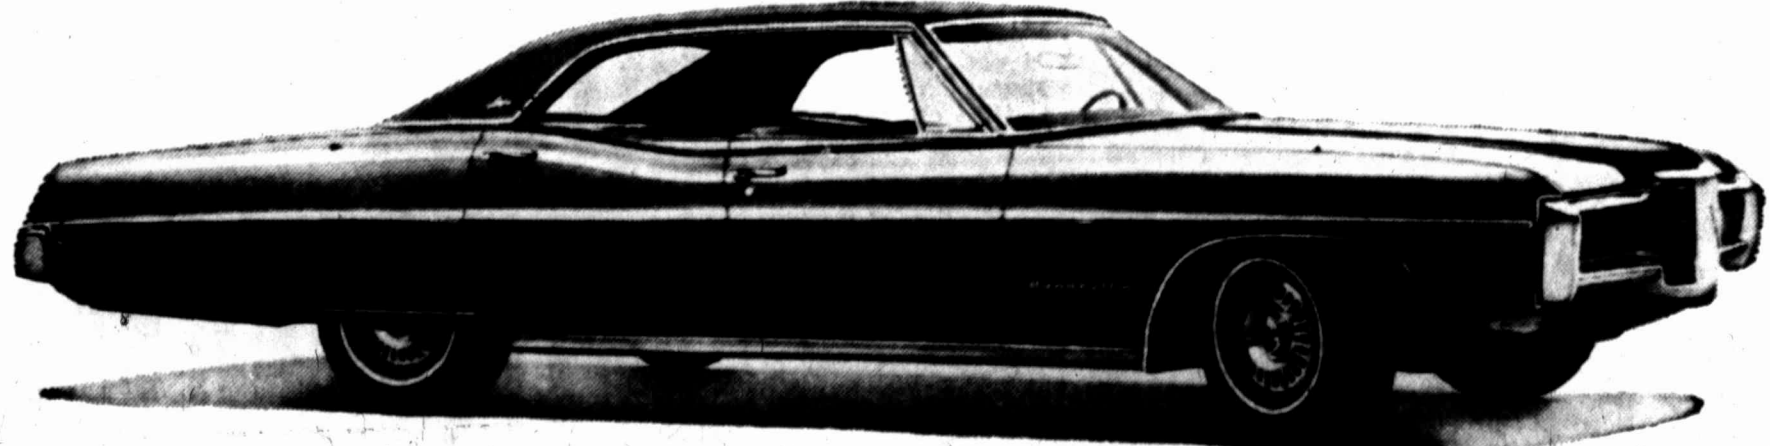

Even our lowest priced Pontiac has a unique 175-hp Overhead Cam Six. Unless you count cylinders, you'll swear it's a V-8.

Pontiac interiors make you glad you left home—soft Morrokide and simulated wood trim so real only a termite can tell it isn't.

Innovations like GTO's Bumper-of-the-Year make Pontiacs look expensive. But record sales prove we know how to price them, too.

Bargains In China For Bridal Season

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD
Are you proud of your china? Or perhaps more important, in view of the forthcoming holidays and family reunions, do you have enough for adequate table settings?

Here's good news—this season of the year is a fine time to buy china. You'll find stores emphasizing it in anticipation of the increasing customer interest caused by the bridal season.

China is an elastic term. It refers to everything from fine china or porcelain to earthenware, including the tremendous volume of semi-vitreous ware or stone ware that is so popular because of its beauty and moderate prices.

Fine china or porcelain is the top quality. It is made of special clay and fired at very high temperatures. It is non-porous and translucent. Some of the finest china in the world is made in this country. One American firm built up its business and reputation by refusing to sell one piece with a flaw in it—instead it was broken.

Many countries contribute fine china today. Japan particularly makes a specialty of moderately priced china. This china has a larger percentage of glass than the average, and therefore is thinner and more translucent.

Semi-vitreous ware, as its name suggests, is not impervious. It is not as tough as true china and it's not translucent. But it is extremely popular on account of its vast range of patterns, especially modern and casual that are so well adapted to contemporary homes and patios dining. Ironware or stoneware, now enjoying a great revival of popularity, is in this classification.

In this section of the country pottery is represented mostly by the peasant ware of Mexico. It is popular because of its colorful folk art and because it makes an attractive table setting with the Mexican cooking utensils.

Pre-Nuptial Party Is Compliment For Karen Elrod

Miss Karen Elrod, bride-elect of Richard Wilson Lee, was complimented with a gift coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Walter Stroup, 700 Scott.

The couple will marry May 31. Cohostesses were Mrs. C. E. Higginbotham and Mrs. Carlos Humphrey.

The honoree was attired in a white eyelet dress and was presented a yellow carnation corsage. She greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. David Elrod, and the hostess, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Lee of Oxford, Miss., mother of the prospective bridegroom, was unable to attend.

The refreshment table was laid with a white organdy floor-length cloth accented with silver bells. The bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and mint green were used in the decorations, and the table was centered with yellow iris and white chrysanthemums.

The guest register was attended by Mrs. Higginbotham and was decorated with a white plumed pen.

The hostess' gift was a yellow blanket. Approximately 70 were included on the guest list.

'Focus Week' Set By Baptist GA's

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Bob Cowley, leader of the Girl's Auxiliary of the Baptist Church, announced "Focus Week" to start May 12 and continue through Saturday at the recent meeting of the GA's in her home.

Activities for the week will be a cookout at the home of Kathy Bailey on Monday; a trip to the Big Spring Baptist Mission accompanied by the Rev. and Mrs. Mac Robinson, Tuesday; and the presentation of a skit, "Who Me?" at the Wednesday evening prayer service at the church.

Other activities will include an ice cream party in the home of Mrs. Cowley Thursday evening. Members of the Woman's Missionary Union will be guests, and the girls will recite work from "Forward Steps." The group will clean the church grounds on Friday, and on Saturday, Mrs. Walter Black will take the girls to play miniature golf.

Canes Are 'In'

Don't be surprised if men one of these days start carrying canes again. Canes give a chance to swagger a bit, and a cane is a great defense, even a warning, against muggers.

try to match any decorative motif in your home. Simply select a pattern that harmonizes with the interior scheme where it is to be used.

Underglaze decoration is a term that you run into much more frequently today. This means that the glaze is applied over the decorative pattern, and for this reason the decoration is protected from the action of automatic dishwashers.

Check the design of the individual pieces when you select china. Cups that are too wide and shallow will not keep beverages hot. The grooves in saucers should be deep enough to anchor the cups. Make sure the plates are not too flat for good service. Make sure, too, that any ornamentation on an individual piece is not so high that it can be chipped off easily. Do the handles of the cups set well, or do they project so far that they can be broken easily?

American glazes are extremely hard, but they can be scratched. Hence it's a wise precaution to make mats of cotton flannel, terry cloth or some other soft material to be used between the plates.

PLASTIC FOR CHILDREN
If your family includes small children who are still in the breaking-up stage, why not use plastic dishes? They are excellent for all sorts of alfresco and informal dining. Indeed, they have been so much improved in quality and styling that they are beginning to compete with china and semi-vitreous ware on the family dining table.

NO SPECIAL CARE
China and semi-vitreous ware need no special care. Washing in hot sudsy water, rinsing and draining, and/or drying is all that's required. If food dries on a dish, it should be soaked until it is softened, never removed with a metal pot cleaner.

China—tableware of any kind except the stove-to-table ware—should not be used in the oven, for the heat might craze them or cause them to discolor.

Jaycee-Ette Unit Named Outstanding

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Colorado City Jaycee - Ettes, reorganized in 1967, were named the outstanding new Jaycee-Ette Club in Texas at the Jaycee spring convention which ended Sunday in Austin.

The Colorado City Club won the honor because of the assistance it has given to Jaycees and community activities.

Mrs. George Lee and Mrs. Wendell Jarnagin, both of the local club, were named the outstanding president and the outstanding Jaycee - Ette, respectively.

The club and the two Jaycee-Ettes will receive plaques which will be presented at a later date by the Odessa Jaycees.

Remove Plates

If your electric light switch plates are to be painted along with the walls, it's a good idea to remove the plates and paint them separately. Thus, if they ever have to be removed, you won't risk cracking the paint around the edges.

Punch Party Is Held For Senior Graduate

A punch party complimented Miss Linda Gray, bride-elect of Donnie Ralph Baker, Friday evening in the home of Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar Road. Calling hours were from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The hostess gift to the honoree was a set of glassware, a hostess cart and a basket filled with kitchen gadgets.

The honoree was attired in a long-sleeved ivory silk linen dress accented with lace collar and cuffs. She was presented a white and turquoise carnation corsage, as was her mother, Mrs. Zack Gray, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. James Baker.

The refreshment table was laid with an ivory cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of turquoise and white iris, spirea and pompon daisies entwined in candelabra. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Miss Ann Garrett, Miss Karen Miller and Miss Robbie Smart attended the punch service. Miss Robbie Gray, sister of the honoree, presided at the guest register.

Approximately 35 attended. The couple plans to marry June 15 in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Robert Polk serving as officiant.

Eager Beavers Bake VA Cakes

The Eager Beaver Sewing Club brought cakes for the Veterans Administration Hospital at the Friday meeting in the home of Mrs. L. D. Patterson, Sand Springs.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a yellow cloth centered with an arrangement of spring flowers.

Seven members sewed various articles. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. W. O. Washington, 2300 Allendale.

A LOVELIER YOU

Remove Eye Makeup With Special Pads

By MARY SUE MILLER
Overheard on a bus, as one lovely spoke to another: "It takes so long to put eye makeup on. I can't bear to take it off. Besides, it gets all over my face and in my eyes when I do remove it."

A quick glance at our lovely's eyes showed that she wore the works—eyebrow makeup, shadow, liner, mascara and two pairs of fake lashes. And all of it smudged and smeared from several days' wearing.

Really nothing is less appetizing than stale eye makeup. It may be irritating to the eyes and surrounding skin, too, when it "sleeps" over a night, not to mention several nights.

New eye makeup remover pads provide an instant clean-up. Just two wipes in a downward sweep with one little remover pad does the complete job of dissolving every last vestige of eye makeup without fuss, rubbing or irritation. Absolutely no spillover on face or eyes!

The method is so efficient you will not want to return to your old way of removing eye makeup. Remover pads are convenient to use at any time you care to mention, but they are pluperfect for a travel case or office drawer.

Upon application the eyes come fresh and clean. Ready to take a sparkling makeup.

EYES OF YOUTH

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Hubert Backers Claiming At Least 169 Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's backers are claiming seven state convention victories in a row in his bid to pick up enough delegate votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

They said today Humphrey has a minimum of 169 pledged delegates after victories in Arizona, Alaska, Maryland, Delaware, Nevada, Wyoming—and Hawaii where party officials say he got at least 20 of 28 delegates elected Sunday night.

1,100 ESTIMATE
Humphrey's chief lieutenants—Sens. Walter F. Mondale and Fred Harris—had said earlier they think they have 1,100 of the 1,312 delegate votes needed for nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

The 1,100 figure was an estimate of delegates the backers think would vote for Humphrey, not delegates pledged by state party organizations.

The vice president also is expected to gain delegates Tuesday in the Nebraska primary where he has strong support among delegate candidates whose names are best known in the state.

But the major focus in Nebraska will be on the race between Democratic presidential rival Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy, the only major announced Democratic candidates on the ballot.

McCarthy said after Indiana's primary last week that Nebraska would offer the face-to-face contest Indiana did not because of the favorite-son candidacy of Gov. Roger D. Branigan.

WRITE-IN HOPES
Nebraska Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, a Republican, said he thinks Humphrey will get a substantial write-in vote.

Tiemann also said he expects Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon to get 70 per cent of the vote. Rival New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's supporters are seeking write-in votes and California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite son candidate, will be on the ballot.

The Nebraska primary highlights a week of political activity in which six states will name 95 delegates to the Democratic convention and 56 to the Republican convention.

Aside from primaries in Nebraska and West Virginia, Republican delegates will be selected by party organizations in Rhode Island, Vermont and Louisiana and Democratic delegates will be selected in Maine.

CONTRAST
The West Virginia primary—in sharp contrast to the 1960 battle between Humphrey and John F. Kennedy—will have no presidential preference race Tuesday.

In other political developments:—Both Rockefeller and Nixon lead all three Democratic presidential candidates, according to a Gallup Poll released over the weekend. It showed Rockefeller leading the Democrats by wider margins than Nixon.

—Rockefeller advisor Leonard Hall reportedly urged governors attending a Western Republican Governors session in Honolulu to withhold first convention ballot support from Nixon. Hall said he did not specifically ask the governors to refuse to back Nixon but said he believed most would "stay loose" until just before the convention.

—Leonard Hall, former Republican national chairman, conferred with California Gov. Ronald Reagan—himself a potential nominee—and others of the 11 Republican chief executives at the Western Governors Conference.

'SOCIAL CALLS'
"Just social calls," said Hall, who roamed through the convention hotel on the beach at Waikiki dressed in a Hawaiian shirt, the uniform of this meeting.

Thirteen state chief executives and the governors of American Samoa and Guam began four days of meetings on such Western problems as resources, transportation, economic development, land management and water.

As usual, however, gubernatorial political talks attracted as much attention as the morning and afternoon meetings on state problems.

Between meetings, the governors relaxed on the beach or saw the sights of Honolulu.

Hall told a reporter that he doesn't believe former Vice President Nixon's support is as solid as his supporters claim.

While Hall said he didn't specifically urge Western governors to refuse to back Nixon, he said he believed most would "stay loose" until just before the convention, rather than sign up in the Nixon camp.

'DREAM TICKET'
If enough state delegations stay uncommitted, Nixon would be deprived of victory on the first ballot—the aim of Rockefeller supporters.

Hall said he wasn't using a "hard sell" on the governors, just renewing old friendships.

And he said he would not ask Reagan to join a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket—the so-called "dream ticket" that many of the New Yorker's supporters talk about.

Reagan says he will not accept the vice presidential nomination.

The Californian also says he is not campaigning for the presidential nomination.

Top Coahoma Band Members Gain Awards

Awards were presented to outstanding band members at the Coahoma High School Band's spring concert May 7 in the Coahoma High School auditorium.

Receiving the John Phillip Sousa Band Award, presented to a senior, was Cary Banks. Scholarships were awarded by Joe Swinney, president of the Coahoma Band Boosters, on behalf of the organization, to Remona Tijerina, Alvis Ashley, Mary Pipes and Marvin Wright. The scholarships will enable the students to attend a summer band camp of their choice.

Featured on the concert program were the junior high school band and the fifth grade beginning band, all under the direction of David Talmadge.

Selections included "Highlights from the Music Man," "Chiquita Tango," a cornet trio featuring Andy Wilson, Vicki Wallin and Marvin Wright, and "Golden Sliphorns," a trombone selection played by David Crawford, Norman Wood, Joyce York and Susan Clark.

A special treat at the concert was the appearance of the Coahoma Border Brass, made up of members of the high school band, including Andy Wilson, Marvin Wright, David Crawford, Tim Whittington, Cary Banks, Gene Snow and Tommy Rutledge.

The Booster Club is mapping plans for a trip to Carlsbad Caverns, N.M., for the high school band and skating parties for the younger bandmen.

Rocky's Top Adviser Uses 'Soft Sell' On Governors

Heart Patient Listed 'Serious But Improving'

HOUSTON (AP) — One heart patient was listed in "serious but improving" condition today at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital and Texas' first heart recipient began his 11th day of recovery in excellent condition.

A hospital spokesman said John W. Stuckwisch, 62, continued to improve satisfactorily although he remained serious.

"His dramatic recovery from the desperate operation last Tuesday and steady improvement are considered to be encouraging," the spokesman said.

'SPIRITS HIGH'
Stuckwisch, an Alpine, Tex., hospital administrator, became critical Thursday but improved Friday. He continues to be fed intravenously and uses a respirator occasionally.

Everett C. Thomas, 47, who was the first to receive a new heart in the three transplant operations at the hospital, is eating a normal diet and walking in his private room.

"His condition is excellent and spirits high," said the spokesman. "The hospital staff is extremely pleased with his progress."

Thomas, a Phoenix, Ariz., accountant, received a new heart May 3 from a 15-year-old housewife who was the victim of a gunshot wound in the head.

TWO CHARGED
James Cobb, 48, Alexandria La., the second recipient, died Wednesday about 50 hours after receiving the heart of a 15-year-old who was fatally injured in a traffic collision.

The surgical team that performed the operations, led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley, implanted the heart of Clarence Nicks, 36, in the chest of Stuckwisch.

Police said Nicks was fatally beaten April 23 in a tavern. Two men have been charged with murder in the death of Nicks.

Liability Report On School Agenda

A report from an attorney on the Big Spring School District's liability in the use of school facilities by private persons and organizations for non-school related activities will head the agenda of school trustees Tuesday.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the board room behind the administration building.

Other items for consideration will include an audience with a committee representing the teachers to discuss a proposed study of a professional consultation agreement; a proposal to close a portion of Mittel Street east of the Goliad Junior High School campus; and amendment of the general budget to incorporate a revised Title II, Public Law 89-10 budget.

The other was Antonio V. Bustamante, also under a three-year probation sentence. Like Conditt, his probation was set aside and he was ordered to prison.

A third defendant before court Friday afternoon was Raleigh J. McCartney who was accused of being in contempt of court for failing to pay stipulated child support.

Judge Caton heard the case and ordered McCartney to county jail until he purged himself of contempt by paying $700 to his former wife for child support.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that McCartney had been in his custody only a few minutes until he arranged for the payment of the $700 the court told him was overdue.

Two defendants, who had been granted probation when they were sentenced, have now been ordered sent to the state penitentiary to serve their original sentences.

One was James L. Conditt, who pleaded guilty some time ago to burglary of the Friendly Food Store. Granted three year probation sentence at that time he allegedly violated terms of his probation. He was returned from Los Angeles last week Friday afternoon Judge Ralph Caton set his probation aside and ordered him to the state penitentiary.

The other was Antonio V. Bustamante, also under a three-year probation sentence. Like Conditt, his probation was set aside and he was ordered to prison.

A third defendant before court Friday afternoon was Raleigh J. McCartney who was accused of being in contempt of court for failing to pay stipulated child support.

Judge Caton heard the case and ordered McCartney to county jail until he purged himself of contempt by paying $700 to his former wife for child support.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that McCartney had been in his custody only a few minutes until he arranged for the payment of the $700 the court told him was overdue.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AKQ85 A10854 2 442

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 Pass 1 Pass

3 Pass 3 Pass

4 Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Five clubs. Inasmuch as you are forced to proceed to game this is the logical step. A rebid of four hearts would be dangerous in that it might persuade partner that you have a better suit. From partner's failure to bid three no trump over three hearts, you may deduce that he has a long and powerful two suiter.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

863 A62 AKQJ982

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass Pass 1 Pass

1 Pass 2 Pass

3 Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. Prospects for a slam are excellent despite the fact that your partner originally passed and, as yet, has shown no special signs of strength. If partner shows the ace of hearts now, you will have to sign off but, if he is able to bid five diamonds, you should contract for a slam in clubs.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

5 AJ 10862 A97542

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass Pass Pass 1

Dble.

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have enough high card strength to redouble but, lacking any reasonable idea of where you are headed, it is more discreet to pass temporarily and wait developments.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

72 KJ62 A932 4J10

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass Pass 1 1

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—One no trump. This hand just makes the grade. A bid in this spot should be made only with the outlook of reaching for a game. This does not appear likely since your hearts appear to be badly placed for a spade contract but, since partner may have a hand that could help produce nine tricks at no trump, one forward move by you is justified.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

85 A8 A1087632 4J5

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 Pass 2 Pass

2 Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. There is no completely desirable call on this hand. Three hearts is somewhat of an underbid, but we dislike raising all the way to four with just two trumps. The alternative bid of four diamonds may land us in an unmakeable diamond game when four hearts could be spread.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

AJ987 Q8 K8 4K875

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 Pass 1 NT Pass

2 Pass 3 Pass

3 Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Since partner was unable to make a better initial response than one no trump, there can be no very good play for a game. Even if he has all of his high card values in clubs and spades, which seems a likely explanation for his second round jump, it will not adequately fill the holes in your hand.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AQ K876 654 AK98

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 Pass 2

Pass 2 Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This hand was microscopically short of an immediate jump shift response and, as such merits very strong treatment. On hands of this strength the proper procedure is to bid new suits twice and then raise partner. There is only a slight risk partner will take this as a legitimate suit, which impression you will correct on the next round when you raise hearts.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

AS AKQJ72 973 4K3

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass 1 1 Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Prospects for a game have not been entirely dimmed by partner's pass but, the shorter, no trump route to game looks like the best shot at this point since all partner needs are a couple of face cards strategically placed.

BIGGEST JOKE OF THE POLITICAL YEAR?

Don Trying To Shed His Liberal Label

AUSTIN (AP) — Don Yarborough opened his runoff campaign for governor today by trying to shed his liberal label and calling for a prosperity program built on human resources.

Yarborough, the leading candidate in the first Democratic primary, met with reporters for about 40 minutes, then left the Capitol for news conferences at San Antonio, Houston and Dallas.

About 11.4 Million New Voters Hold Key?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Census Bureau figures indicate about 11.4 million Americans will be old enough to vote for president for the first time in this year's election—enough to hold the balance of power in close race.

The newest potential voters comprise nearly 10 per cent of the total civilian population of 118.5 million the Census Bureau says will be of voting age this coming November.

Of these, however, about 8.5 million will be ineligible to cast ballots because they are aliens, are in mental or correctional institutions or fail to meet state residency requirements.

The bureau didn't attempt to spell out how many persons of voting age actually will be eligible to vote in November.

OLD ENOUGH — But it said 63 per cent of the total civilian resident population of voting age cast ballots in the last presidential election.

The number of persons of voting age anticipated in November would be about six million more than November, 1964, when President Johnson defeated then-Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., by landslide proportions.

The 1960 presidential election between the late President John F. Kennedy and then-Vice President Richard M. Nixon was decided by a margin of about 168,000 votes out of more than 68 million cast.

Eligible voters 24 years old or younger had the lowest voting percentage—51 per cent—of any age in the 1964 presidential election.

The bureau didn't extract the number of collegians among this year's crop of those old enough to cast presidential ballots for the first time.

Generally, a person must be 21 to vote in any election but the minimum age is 19 in Alaska, 18 in Georgia and Kentucky and 20 in Hawaii.

Five Receive Scholarships

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Five Colorado City Senior High School students received scholarships Friday at an awards and recognitions assembly for outstanding achievement.

Jimmy Dupree received the $300 Frank Kelley Memorial scholarship, presented by Joe Weaver on behalf of the Kiwanis Club. Gloria Richardson was the recipient of the $150 Noon Lions' Club scholarship, presented by James Hull. Three scholarship funds of $100 each went to Mary Jane Damborsky, Margaret Carter and Delza Kay Moore, presented by Zeta Delta, Business and Professional Women, and Beta Sigma Phi.

Other award winners were May Beach and Gloria Richardson, Betty Crocker Award; Linda Sanders and Rusty Steakley, conservation essay awards; Don Smith and Jim Wilkerson, Future Farmers of America awards; Ann Blackard, Rose Ann White and Christy Stubblefield, Wolverine service awards; Bobby Clay and Eddie Deregibus, art department; Jerry Lynn Hertenberger, voice of democracy essay.

Also, Jennifer Holbert, Peggy Blair and Vickie Cotton, journalism; and University Interscholastic League awards, Ann Blackard, Mary Beach, Carol Watson, Melanie Erwin, Cynthia Yancey, Martha Kinard, Debbie Hines, Robert Wubanks and Pete Brewton.

In addition, members of the National Honor Society were recognized, as were members of sports, the typing team and honor graduates.

Trustees of Howard County Junior College will convene at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building in their regular meeting.

This session, however, has added significance in that a proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 is due to be presented by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president.

LBJ Observes Mom's Day With His Family In Texas

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, observing Mother's Day with his family, attended two church services and heard a Roman Catholic sermon on the theme that motherhood is a fulltime job.

He placed in a Mother's Day picture with his wife, Claudia, and two married daughters—one of them a mother, too.

IN VIETNAM — "It's my first Mother's Day," Luci Johnson Nugent, 20, smilingly reminded. She reported getting a Mother's Day greeting card from her husband, Airman Patrick Nugent, in Vietnam.

The President's older daughter, Lynda Johnson Robb, with the family for the special holiday gathering at the LBJ Ranch near here, still hasn't denied rumors she may be an expectant mother.

Lynda's husband, Capt. Charles Robb, is in Vietnam, too. To reporters who asked Lynda if she was expecting a child, Mrs. Robb has replied: "You've been asking me that since Dec. 10," the day after her White House wedding.

The President was on early Sunday to attend 9 a.m. mass at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church in Stonewall, converted. The pastor, Rev. Wunibald Schneider, observed "a big day here" in welcoming the President back, honoring five young high school graduating seniors from the parish and marking Mother's Day.

SPECIAL POSE — But Father Schneider said he couldn't help injecting "a thought not so pleasant" as he questioned what Mother's Day might be like in the future, with so many women going away from home to work.

"Motherhood is a fulltime job God ever meant it to be something done as a sideline," he told the parishioners.

The President later returned to the ranch to pick up Mrs. Johnson and Lynda, both Episcopalians, then drove them and several house guests the 15 miles to St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Fredericksburg. By the time he rounded everyone up, the President was 12 minutes late for the 11 a.m. service.

But he made up for it by staying for coffee there, too, handshaking and giving photographs a special pose with Mrs. Johnson.

U.S. Construction Kickbacks Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret Senate report alleging indications of kickbacks to employees of a U.S. construction firm in South Vietnam has been strongly denied by the company's top officer.

Edward A. Shay, president of Pacific Architects & Engineers, Inc., said Sunday the report is "distorted, unjustified and unfair."

The 75-page document, prepared by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., after a Southeast Asia tour last December, urges broad congressional investigation of U.S. aid programs in Vietnam and of contracts held by two major contractors.

Ribicoff named the firms as RMK-BRJ, a joint venture that includes four companies, and Shay's PAE. The report has been filed with the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee.

NO COMMENT — There was no immediate comment in Saigon from U.S. aid and RMK-BRJ officials. Shay's prepared reply was released by company officials in Los Angeles.

Ribicoff said PAE contracted with the Army in mid-1965 to renovate the Grand Hotel in Nha Trang for use as a headquarters at an initial estimate of $208,423 but the final cost was $996,226.

Shay replied: "The original cost estimate involved principally the restoration of a single building, but the U.S. Army later ordered the company to construct an entire complex of buildings."

The Ribicoff report also said PAE purchased materials in Singapore and Hong Kong with funds that were to be used only in South Vietnam and added: "There were also definite indications that some of the PAE employees were receiving kickbacks for giving the business to certain Singapore firms."

Shay said the Army gave written approval for the Hong Kong and Singapore purchases because the materials were not available in South Vietnam. He said all materials were purchased at the lowest possible cost.

HARD TO BELIEVE — Shay added that the company "has never, at any time, received any kickback from any source."

One employee who once allegedly accepted $3,500 in kickbacks was dismissed, Shay said, and the Department of Justice found the company free of wrongdoing.

The Ribicoff report said General Accounting Office auditors found last spring that RMK-BRJ could not account for $120 million of government-reimbursable material shipped to Vietnam from the United States.

Ribicoff said both RMK-BRJ officials and Navy officers now report the $120 million has dwindled to $5 million carried in an "in transit" account.

"It is hard to believe," Ribicoff said, "that the Navy would acquiesce in what appears to be some form of cover up or subterfuge."

Mine Operators Wait Until 10 Bodies Found

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) — Mine operators are refusing to send their men back to work in honeycombed Big Sewell Mountain until rescue workers locate the bodies of 10 men who flooded to their deaths in a flooded coal shaft here, an official said.

There are at least nine active mines in the mountain, owned by Maust Coal Co. and the Imperial Coal Co. Some are operated by subsidiaries of these large companies and others by independent contractors.

In addition there is a maze of abandoned mine tunnels—and the mine operators have realized that they too might be tunneling dangerously close to one of the 20 dead flooded workings.

Twenty-five men were trapped underground May 6 when a crew of miners working in the Gauley Coal and Coke Co. No. 8 mine—a Maust subsidiary—accidentally broke into a flooded abandoned shaft known as the McKenzie mine. C.E. Richardson, Maust president, said.

Fifteen of the men were rescued early Saturday after five days entombment. Ten miners are missing and presumed dead.

"The mine operators say they won't send their boys down until we drain the flooded shaft and recover the 10 bodies," said the official.

Suit Seeks $807,400

Damages totalling $807,400 were asked in a petition filed in 118th District Court Monday against the Texas & Pacific Railway Company.

The action was brought by Carmel E. Moore, et ux for themselves and as next friend for Christina Bristow, a minor, and for the estate of Gary Van Moore.

Gary Van was killed March 11 in a grade crossing accident that left Christina severely injured. The car in which Gary Van and his step-sister, Christina, were riding was in collision at the east T&P crossing of Coahoma during a severe snow storm.

The Moores charged negligence on the part of the carrier and asked $500,000 in the death of the boy and $300,000 for injuries and compensation to the girl. Other expenses for medical, funeral, demobilized car ran the total asking to the $807,400.

Sgt. John Scott Completes Course

Sgt. John Scott of the traffic division of the Big Spring Police Department has returned from a five-weeks' course in principles of police management at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Sgt. Scott received a scholarship from the Office of Law Enforcement Assistance, which is under the U.S. Department of Justice. The course included organization and planning procedures, decision-making and budgeting.

Sgt. Scott has been with the Big Spring Police Department for the past eight years.

Summer Dates At YMCA Listed

The YMCA's summer schedule of activities will go into effect June 3 through Aug. 1, and a variety of classes are planned for children and adults, according to Curt Mullins, Y general secretary.

A special feature will be the children's theatre workshop, led by Mrs. Bruce Miller, for children eight years and older. The course will feature pantomime, basic stage direction and other aspects of the children's theatre.

The Y may be contacted for more information on any program at 267-8234.

Three Post Bonds Released From Jail

Three men have posted bonds and been released. Bonds of $1,500 were set by Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter for three young men charged with breaking into a coin-operated machine at Kentwood Apartments.

Named in the count were John W. Salmon, Snyder, Ricky Smith, Roscoe, and Jerry Stewart, Big Spring. They were alleged to have forced open the money box on a washing machine at the apartment laundry Saturday. Statements were taken in the case.

Zane Grey Items Due Ohio Display

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Zane Grey collection of personal memorabilia, photographs, original manuscripts and first editions has been presented to the Ohio Historical Society, which plans to display them in a proposed museum here.

The collection was donated by children of the author of stories of the American West who was born here in 1872.

Horsemen Club Meeting Tonight

The Howard County Youth Horsemen Club will have a meeting today at 8 p.m. at 108 E. Bryant's Auction House, Dubs E. 3rd.

Kenneth Williams, the organization's secretary, said that the meeting place had been changed due to inclement weather. Club members originally were to meet at the arena south of town.

The 75-page document, prepared by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., after a Southeast Asia tour last December, urges broad congressional investigation of U.S. aid programs in Vietnam and of contracts held by two major contractors.

Ribicoff named the firms as RMK-BRJ, a joint venture that includes four companies, and Shay's PAE. The report has been filed with the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee.

NO COMMENT — There was no immediate comment in Saigon from U.S. aid and RMK-BRJ officials. Shay's prepared reply was released by company officials in Los Angeles.

Ribicoff said PAE contracted with the Army in mid-1965 to renovate the Grand Hotel in Nha Trang for use as a headquarters at an initial estimate of $208,423 but the final cost was $996,226.

Shay replied: "The original cost estimate involved principally the restoration of a single building, but the U.S. Army later ordered the company to construct an entire complex of buildings."

The Ribicoff report also said PAE purchased materials in Singapore and Hong Kong with funds that were to be used only in South Vietnam and added: "There were also definite indications that some of the PAE employees were receiving kickbacks for giving the business to certain Singapore firms."

Shay said the Army gave written approval for the Hong Kong and Singapore purchases because the materials were not available in South Vietnam. He said all materials were purchased at the lowest possible cost.

HARD TO BELIEVE — Shay added that the company "has never, at any time, received any kickback from any source."

One employee who once allegedly accepted $3,500 in kickbacks was dismissed, Shay said, and the Department of Justice found the company free of wrongdoing.

The Ribicoff report said General Accounting Office auditors found last spring that RMK-BRJ could not account for $120 million of government-reimbursable material shipped to Vietnam from the United States.

Ribicoff said both RMK-BRJ officials and Navy officers now report the $120 million has dwindled to $5 million carried in an "in transit" account.

"It is hard to believe," Ribicoff said, "that the Navy would acquiesce in what appears to be some form of cover up or subterfuge."

Negroes Jailed In Gas Incident

Police have arrested a Negro woman and her companion and are seeking two other Negroes for questioning in a gas-siphoning incident which occurred at 607 Edwards-Circle during the weekend.

Officers are investigating, and no formal charges have been filed.

Kirby Pugh, 2110 Cecilia, reported the theft of five car stereo tapes valued at $35, taken from his car which was parked in front of his home Saturday.

Officials Mull Road Troubles

There's road trouble north of town. County commissioners, in session Monday, had a full quota of woes from recent rains, but most of them seemed to be in Precincts 1 and 4 — the north half of the county.

Perhaps the Moore area just northwest of town was the hardest hit with the A. J. Pirkle home isolated and partially under water. Frank Goodman also had trouble around his place.

At one point, said Cy Terrazas, commissioner of No. 1, a pick-up truck had washed off the road around Knot, there was bad washing, but one road had to be halted across it and raised faster that someone may yet drive into this stream, said Ray Nichols, Commissioner.

Luckiest so far has been No. 3, the southwest quarter of the county. Machinery normally at work in this area has been diverted into the disaster area, said Mae Hayden, commissioner. There were estimates of county-wide damage.

County participation in the demolition of the Crawford Hotel building, provided it can be bought by local interests, was asked Monday morning.

A. Swartz and John Currie, speaking for Downtown, Inc., indicated that the building could be acquired but that this would leave the organization unable to finance the clearing of the spot of the six-story structure which long has been vacant except for a drug store.

A similar request is due to be made to the city. The two spokesmen said that inquiry had been made into possibility of an urban renewal or some allied project, but that indications were that more than a quarter of a block would be required.

Acquisition and demolition of the hotel, they said, would remove an eye-sore and increasingly hazardous structure, and would more importantly provide more parking area for the downtown sector.

There were no firm prices, but the cost of demolition has been estimated in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Flames Destroy Vacant Building

A fire in a vacant building at 1601 W. 5th at 2:30 a.m. today completely gutted the interior, firemen said. Immediate cause of the blaze was not determined, but there was no electricity or gas on in the house, firemen said.

100 Gift-Laden Hippies Parade

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of 100 gift-laden hippies paraded to a Chicago police station Sunday in a demonstration of love on Mother's Day.

More than 100 gift-laden flower children walked a mile bearing pizzas, apple pies, daisies and love buttons.

"We want to become friends with the police department," said a spokesman for the group.

Capt. Kenneth W. Fossier ordered a police regulation banning gratuities and directed the parade to a nearby children's hospital where the hippies left their offerings.

3,000 DEMONSTRATORS CONVERGING ON WASHINGTON

Construction Of Tent City To House 'Poor' Begins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign, officially launched with a Mother's Day march through a riot-ridden Negro slum, now begins erecting the tent city to house some 3,000 demonstrators slowly covering on the city.

The first 450 of the campaign's rank and file reached the nation's capital over the weekend. More are scheduled to arrive by week's end.

MORE HELP
Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the slain civil rights leader who conceived the campaign as a means of winning more federal help for the poor, led Sunday's march.

The demonstration, soaked by rain for most of its duration, went off without incident. Police Lt. E. J. Prete estimated the number of marchers at between 2,000 and 3,500.

Today the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, King's successor as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is to drive a stake into parkland near the Lincoln Memorial and thus signal the start of construction of shelters in what campaign leaders call Resurrection City.

The 15-acre site runs parallel to the reflecting pool between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument.

RUINS
The Mother's Day march was sponsored by the Nationwide Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO), which sent delegations from chapters across the nation. The marchers, including Negroes and whites, American Indians and Mexican-Americans, assembled at the John F. Kennedy Playground deep in one of the city's poorest Negro neighborhoods.

The marchers passed the ruins of stores looted and burned during three nights of violence that followed the April 4 slaying of King in Memphis. Earlier Sunday, NWRO members, mostly mothers on welfare, spoke at 53 area churches asking for support.

The group seeks repeal of restrictive amendments dealing with welfare that were passed last year as part of a bill increasing Social Security benefits. Another aim of NWRO is adoption of a $4,000 minimum annual income for every American family.

The march ended at Cardozo High School, about two miles from the Kennedy playground. Mrs. King was joined on the speaker's platform at the school by Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, wife of the New York senator and presidential aspirant, and Mrs. Harry Belafonte, wife of the Negro entertainer.

Mrs. King said the nation "is threatened from within as well as without. Our greatest threat, however, is that of possible self-destruction. Our problems of racism, poverty and war are so crucial that we are perilously close to the end through our own actions."

She called for the support of all women of this country in a campaign of conscience to rededicate love, non-violence, justice and peace.

Demonstrators, mostly Negro, were heading in buses for the Northeast. SCLC officials said these contingents won't arrive before Thursday. The first arrivals, two buses from Atlanta, arrived in Washington Sunday. They ranged in age from an 80-year-old woman to a 3-month-old child.

As the campaign gathered momentum it was accompanied by warnings it could lead to violence and by assurances from administration officials and demonstration leaders that order would be maintained.

Senior Citizens' Month Displays

Setting up the Senior Citizens' Month displays at the Veterans Administration Hospital are, from left, Frank Caldwell, personnel officer, Erven Fisher, manager of the Social Security Administration Office here, and John

Matthews, assistant personnel officer. The social security office is cooperating with the VA's "National Hospital Week" theme, stressing the need for care of the senior citizens.

Volunteers At Hospital Due Awards Thursday

"Your Hospital — People Caring for People," the theme for National Hospital Week, will be in evidence Thursday night as Veterans Administration Hospital adult volunteers are recognized for a combined total of 16,958 hours of service. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. in Room 232.

Jim Baum, news director of KBYG, will be the speaker. Mrs. Ara Cunningham, director, voluntary service, will preside during the presentation of awards. Chaplain C. O. Hitt will read the invocation.

Special awards will be presented by Dr. H. C. Ernsting, acting hospital director. They will include the VA bronze emblem for service over 1,750 hours to L. R. Mundt, Veterans of World War I; R. R. McKinney, Disabled American Veterans; A. E. True, National Association of Letter Carriers; and Mrs. Keats Watts, American Red Cross.

Certificates of devotion for attaining 1,000 hours services will be presented by Dr. H. J. Zinn, chief, surgical service, to Mrs. John Freeman, Eager Beaver Sewing Club, and Mrs. D. H. Goodnough, World War I Auxililiary. Receiving certificates of outstanding service from C. E. McDonnell, chief, medical administrative service, for at least 500 hours will be Mrs. Jesus Ramos and Mrs. Paul E. Sturdevant, American Red Cross; and Mrs. Zaida Rea, American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Joyce Propst, acting chief, nursing service, will present certificates of merit for achieving 300 hours service to Mrs. Sybil Rate, A. W. Moody, Mrs. Jesus Ramos, Mrs. J. F. Skalicky, Mrs. Donna Jo Watts, and Mrs. Rilla Webb, all American Red Cross volunteers; Mrs. Byno Warren, World War I Auxiliary; and Mrs. John Warner.

Certificates of appreciation for 100 hours service will be presented by Frank Caldwell, chief, personnel division, to the Rev. Lee R. Jones, Shirley Osborne and Richard Rust, Airport Baptist Church; Mrs. L. S. Daugherty, Mrs. C. A. Hestand, Mrs. J. Hurtado, Mrs. Melvin Newton, Mrs. Jesus Ramos, Mrs. Lillian Reed, Mrs. Rilla Webb, and Mrs. Lexa Wood, American Red Cross; Mrs. Melvin Brown, National Association of Letter Carriers; Mrs. W. C. Daniel and Mrs. T. L. Vallaseh, Webb AFB Officers Wives Club, the Rev. V. Ward Jackson, First Church of God; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, Order of Eastern Stars; Mrs. Roy Milam, VFW Auxiliary; Mrs. Sandra Nichols, American Legion Auxiliary; R. L. Price, World War I Veterans; and Mrs. L. B. Helms, Shelton Holmes and Mrs. Wayne Parker.

Dr. Ernsting will also present certificates of special recognition for exceptional service to the Airport Baptist Church; Mrs. Steve Baker, Order of Eastern Stars; Mrs. R. R. Boland, National Catholic Community Service; Mrs. Melvin Brown, National Association of Letter Carriers; Mrs. E. L. Crenshaw, VFW Auxiliary; Mrs. A. W. Moody, American Red Cross; Mrs. Zaida Rea, American Legion Auxiliary; and Mrs. Harry Lees, Gold Star Mothers.

Entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Charles Bell and Mrs. Louis Heinze, piano duet; a vocal solo by Mrs. Gwendolyn McLaughlin, and selections by a quartet including Mrs. Rene Brown, Mrs. Charles Bell, Mrs. Verdell Turner and Mrs. Robert Hill.

Philosophy Prof To Fight Release By UT Officials

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Larry with the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). He said of philosophy at the University of Texas who has said that America needs a new revolution to change its way of life, says he will fight an attempt by school officials to give him a terminal contract.

Caroline indicates he will ask the student assembly to help him. The assembly recently established a $1,000 contingency fund for legal aid to professors it feels are unjustly released.

He said the budget council of the philosophy department informed him Saturday that he would get a contract with the termination date of May 31, 1969.

The department chairman, Dr. Richard M. Zaner, said the council had made a recommendation to Dr. John R. Silber, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, to recommend to UT President Norman Hackerman who would make the final decision. In a letter Sunday to the UT student newspaper, the Daily Texan, Caroline linked himself

Traffic Toll In Texas Dips, At Least 26 Die Violently

By The Associated Press

Twenty-six persons died violently in Texas during the week-end but the traffic toll was somewhat smaller than usual, probably because wet and stormy weather slowed and reduced the volume of auto travel. Accidents on streets and highways claimed nine lives between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Langston, 41, and Carl Tenny, 44, were presumed drowned shortly after midnight Saturday when their small metal boat upset and they were swept over a spillway at Lake Palestine.

Pedro H. Benavidez, 41, of Austin was shot and killed Sunday night outside a Corpus residence. Police held a 43-year-old man.

day when her boat capsized at Lake Tawakoni.

Russell Whitson, 59, of Dallas was killed Sunday in a head-on collision just south of McKinney on a service road of US 75.

GUNFIRE

Elizabeth Hommen, 50, died Sunday of burns suffered in a fire at her home in Seagoville.

BOAT FLIPS

Barbara Hext, 18, of Rio Hondo drowned Sunday as a boat carrying her overturned while being towed by another boat in the Arroyo Colorado near her home in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Two cars collided head-on Sunday in Atlanta on US 59, killing Mrs. J. E. Wren of Prescott, Ark.

In a bizarre accident, a speed boat went out of control after hitting a wave and bounced onto a boat dock Sunday in Corpus Christi, killing Lisa Wright, 5.

Betty Jean Driggers, 35, of Greenville drowned early Sunday when her boat capsized at Lake Tawakoni.

Elbert Davis, 53, Wichita Falls was killed Friday evening in a one-car wreck near Iowa Park.

Gunfire late Friday killed Kenneth Byrd, 29, of San Antonio after an argument between two drivers on Interstate 10. He was shot in the abdomen and the arm.

A three-car wreck early Saturday on US 287 just southeast of Fort Worth killed two people. They were Sylvester White, 31, of Alvarado, and Joella English, 25, of Fort Worth.

A five-car collision in Sunset, Tex., Saturday killed John E. Johnson, 24, of Odessa. His wife was hurt in the wreck.

Officers Probe Double Shooting

LUBBOCK (AP) — An elderly man was found dead and his wife wounded critically Sunday in the filling station they operated.

He was Jack Earwood, 70. Officers said a .22 caliber pistol lay nearby.

Peace Justice Wayne Lecroy was withholding a verdict in the double shooting pending completion of an investigation.

I would like to thank the people of Glasscock County, and especially of Precinct 3, for your confidence and trust in me.

I appreciate your support in my recent reelection as your County Commissioner of Precinct 3 and I stand ready and willing to be of service to you.

A Devotional For The Day

Behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest. (Genesis 28:15)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for our Christian mothers who have taught us about Thee. We pray that we may be faithful in teaching others Thy ways. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

No Great Debates Looming

No one who was around at the time can forget the television debate series between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon in the presidential election campaign of 1960. They served to focus national attention on Kennedy and probably provided him with the margin needed for victory.

It is this memory, perhaps, nostalgically recalled, that prompts broadcasting executives and television watchers to urge the repeal of the so-called "equal time" provision of the federal broadcasting statute. That law requires a broadcaster who provides free time to one candidate to provide free time for all his opponents, no matter how obscure. Television stations and networks simply cannot be burdened with the difficulties of accommodating the fringe element of political opposition. They would like to concentrate solely on the main candidates in the campaign — they might, indeed, have some difficulty sorting out the "main" candidates in the current race for governor of Texas.

Hence broadcasting executives are pressing Congress this year, as they have for many years past (an exception was granted for the Kennedy-Nixon debates) to repeal the equal time rule. Congress is reluctant to do so, probably from a variety of motives, some of them relevant.

Yet nostalgia is a poor guide. There is no assurance that the electric nature of the Kennedy-Nixon debates can ever again be recaptured. A moment's consideration should persuade the thoughtful that a debate between Robert F. Kennedy, Hubert H. Humphrey, and Eugene J. McCarthy on the Democratic side, or Richard M. Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller, or Ronald Reagan on the Republican side would not produce one of history's great moments. Nor is the prospect of a debate between any two of these after the presidential nominating conventions much more hopeful of eloquence and drama.

Planning—Urgent Need

Hardly a week passes without some governmental or private agency issuing a report on the massive and inflammatory problems of America's great cities, with a list of recommendations to make the mind reel. The latest comes from the National Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, calling for a long list of curatives from the development of "new towns" to resettlement allowances to move excess population from high-employment areas.

The proposals, growing ever more serious as urban warfare becomes a once-unthinkable reality, run into the multiple billions of dollars annually. They include rent supplements, negative income taxation, subsidized rapid transit, air and water pollution controls, industries for slum areas, desegregation of suburbs, school-system reorganization, enlistment of private enterprise in downtown redevelopment, vast housing projects, manpower retraining and so on and so on.

All this may have to be done. But this does not minimize the problems facing the nation's cities.

Meanwhile, would not it make a high degree of common sense to make every effort to prevent America's middle-sized cities from growing into the desperate plights of today's megalopolises? This will not be easy either, but it will be a great deal easier than trying to correct giant, avoidable mistakes later.

That is why every moderate-sized metropolitan area should give a high priority to community and area planning. It is why every political subdivision in Texas, especially cities and counties, should urge the state legislature to give them more home-rule authority and state-aid resources for intergovernmental planning and cooperation.

It is why every state agency such as the highway department, water commission and air and water pollution control boards, should concentrate on the prevention of urban blight expected under present trends. It is why the legislature should work for a new state constitution and such things as tax revision that will encourage rather than penalize redevelopment and rehabilitation.

David Lawrence Present Primaries Meaningless

WASHINGTON — Sporadic primaries — meaningful to some observers and meaningless to others — are expensive for the candidates, and do not necessarily indicate who will be nominated by either party.

Every candidate can derive some satisfaction from the Indiana primary. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York didn't get a majority of the Democratic votes, but he did get more than either Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota or Indiana's Gov. Roger Branigan, who is presumably a supporter of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Yet former Vice President Richard Nixon, who was unopposed on the Republican side, got almost as many votes as Sens. Kennedy and McCarthy combined.

PERHAPS the most important effect is what significance is being attached to the Indiana results by the delegates in other states which do not have primaries. There is certainly no sign that any of the Democratic aspirants has the nomination tied up. Nor can Mr. Nixon be sure that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, who has entered the race but is not partici-participating in the primaries, will not develop a strong organization at the national convention and become a formidable competitor.

THERE ARE few states which have primaries, and their chief value is to give each of the candidates a chance for nationwide publicity prior to the conventions. The speeches being delivered today, however, may not be pertinent by the time the conventions are held in August, as the issues before the country may be even more complex than they are now. The country will want to know then how each candidate stands. This could have much more meaning than what was said to the Indiana voters.

MAYBE the primaries this year will serve a useful purpose in demonstrating to the people the futility of the present formula. In a statement just issued, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader, says that "the tragedy of primaries is that in reality they mean very little." He points out that they are not always binding on the delegates. He calls attention to the tremendous amount of money they cost each candidate, and says that in a sense primaries are "auctions on a temporary basis." He adds:

"PERSONALLY, I would like to see primaries, if they are going to be maintained, conducted in all states on a day certain and under a rigid limitation of expenditures, rather than to continue the haphazard expensive procedure which is now followed. If this were done, it would mean, in my opinion, that the national conventions, at which the delegates — and not the people — make the choice, could be done away with."

The Montana senator also proposed that the electoral college be abolished, so that a President would be elected by direct vote of the people.

IF A REFORM were made and a single national primary were established, the next step logically would be a revision of the electoral system so that the congressional district — instead of the whole state — would be regarded as a unit for the purpose of casting each of the electoral votes of a state. In this way, a president and vice president would be more likely to be chosen by a majority of the people of the country. This would avoid what has happened several times in history, when a president has been elected by a majority of the electoral votes but not by a majority of the popular votes cast by the citizens of the nation.

Billy Graham

What do you think of mini-skirts? R. J. Y.

I think that mini-skirts are a reflection of our mentality. I read where one of the owners of a "topless" nightclub said that the topless waitress fad is fading out because "there is nothing left to the imagination," and, "the element of mystery is still the most important key to a woman's charm."

Modesty is becoming to a woman, and when she dresses simply to attract the opposite sex she becomes a sort of predatory animal, unbecoming to the human species. While a woman's body is indisputably beautiful, it is more beautiful when it is properly attired and adorned. Mini-skirts only expose a girl's most unattractive portion of her body: her bony knees, and I believe that the fad will be short-lived.

Smart girls major on charms of personality and wit, and inner radiance. The old adage, "Beautiful but dumb" comes to life in the modern female who believes that her most important attraction is physical instead of spiritual. While my wife is physically charming, the thing that attracted me to her was her inner beauty. This she will keep, regardless of the inevitable aging process — long after the mini-skirt has faded out.

Doesn't Worry

College Student Has Had One Date

By JACQUELINE KORONA
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — While many college students are wondering how to stay in college until they're old enough to avoid the draft, Mike Gross faces the problem of staying in college until he's old enough for the draft.

AND A JOB. And driving a car. And dating.

And just about everything else that a normal 14-year-old doesn't have to worry about.

Now a senior studying advanced mathematics at Michigan State University, Mike was the youngest freshman ever admitted to the school when he enrolled four years ago. He'll be 15 when he graduates in December and his immediate plans seem limited to one course—more graduate study at Michigan State.

HE SAYS he'd like to go elsewhere, but it's a problem of age.

"He couldn't very well go away from home at 15, when he can't even drive a car," says his father, William Gross, holder of a master's degree in education from Michigan State and manager of a Lansing credit union.

Waiting for the draft is, according to Mike, "just like waiting for the atom bomb."

"I'm only 14 and they don't take you until 19."

In October he turns 15, "about the right age to start dating," he says.

"I'VE HAD one date," he adds, sticking up one finger to make the point. "It was a blind date — and it was fun."

Along this line, Mike is looking forward to the arrival this fall of Edith Stern, a 16-year-old graduate of Florida Atlantic University, who is coming to Michigan State to study and teach advanced mathematics.

"When we heard she was coming, we were really excited," he said.

"It will be interesting," said Edith. "It will certainly be different."

Mike's studies present few problems for him. He earns a 3.86-point average out of a possible four points.

But being a senior in college at 14 does affect his social life. Other than his one date and occasional "goofing off" with boys in his neighborhood, he has little social life.

"IT'S HARD for him," says his mother, "he doesn't have much chance to meet girls his own age."

His mother says the other MSU students accept Mike as one of them, adding, "they even tease him about not being old enough to go to parties with them."

To Your Good Health A Dangerous 'Game' They Are Playing

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My friends and I play sort of a game. We take several deep breaths, then someone squeezes our chest and lungs.

Some people faint. Some either go into a dream or a kind of a "trip," and laugh and cry and talk, or lie there crazy. This lasts 30 to 60 seconds. Is there any harm or danger? — J.M.

I refused to answer the last several letters on this subject for fear of giving some lame-brained youngsters new ideas.

The idea of playing this dangerous game seems to be getting around without any help from me — but word of the dangers does not.

Yes, this is a dangerous game. Anything that causes fainting is potentially dangerous, because it means that normal physiological processes are being interfered with and disrupted.

Specifically, the practice can cause fracture of the ribs, which perhaps is the least of the risks. Rupture of a lung, which is very much more serious, is entirely possible.

Finally, brain damage of a permanent sort can result from disturbances of oxygen supply to the brain. This disturbance is what causes the faint.

Apparently we live in an age in which young people are, more than ever, intent on experiencing new "kicks."

But the fact remains: this type of "game" is dangerous.

Dear Dr. Molner: My father, 38, has nephritis and the symptoms that accompany serious kidney disease. Our family doctor has told us that his kidneys will just keep deteriorating until he dies.

Recently, I read an article on artificial kidneys, which said the "kidney" could be operated at home and the patient would hook himself to it by means of tubes. Our doctor made no mention of this. Are the artificial kidneys readily available? — L.B.

The "artificial kidney" is relatively new, as revolutionary medical devices go. Until quite recently, only large hospitals or research centers could afford one of the machines, costly to operate as well as to buy.

Still more recently, great efforts have been made to reduce the cost of the machines and find simpler ways to operate them, and only in the last couple of months or so a vast

United States government project is being organized to provide such care on a larger scale than ever before possible.

The "artificial kidneys" do not cure badly damaged kidneys, but rather they take over the work of the kidney's. Blood flows from one blood vessel, through the machine, which filters out accumulated wastes, and then back into the patient's veins.

Your doctor might inquire whether there is any possibility of such help yet in your area, but, regrettably, I must warn you that we are still in the early stages of such development, and we do not even know, how much to expect on a long-term basis. The devices are complex and the program is very expensive.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Molner's booklet, "Your Kidneys—Facts You Need to Know About Them." Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim A Sickly Man From Valdosta, Ga.

Down in Valdosta, Ga., there is a street named Holliday.

During the 1861-65 struggle between the states, sometimes referred to as the Civil War, it was nothing but a dusty lane and the biggest house on it was the home of one Maj. John Holliday, who fought on the side of the Johnny Rebs.

When it came time to name the thoroughfare, the city fathers decided to honor the Holliday family by naming it for them.

THAT MIGHT have been the clan's chief claim to fame had it not been for an incident which occurred nearly two decades later in a small community of notorious repute — many hundreds of miles to the west of Valdosta.

A son of the old soldier fell in step with three companions on a stroll down a street in an Arizona town to keep a date with destiny. The thoroughfare was Fremont, main drag of Tombstone, seat of bloody Cochise County.

THE ONE-TIME Georgian was John (Doc) Holliday. His three companions were the Earp brothers — Wyatt, Virgil and Morgan — and they were aligned on the side of what passed for law and order.

Young Johnny had been sickly all his life. Although he was a dapper dresser, he walked the aide of a cane — until Virgil Earp took it away from him and extended a double-barreled shotgun.

Doc Holliday had been known as a fast man with a pistol but Virgil thought the people they were about to face might get the idea that Holliday was too sick to fight if they saw the cane, so he asked Doc to add the shotgun to his arsenal.

THE PEACE OFFICERS — Holliday had been deputized for the occasion — were out to discourage the members of the Clanton-McLowery gang, who had publicly vowed to shoot on sight Holliday and any or all of the Earps. The rendezvous was to be the OK Corral.

Billy Claiborne, a two-pistol gunslinger, was there, as were Ike and Billy Clanton, plus Frank and Tom McLowery. Claiborne had added to his fame some time before by shooting to death two unarmed men who had hesitated to call him "Billy The Kid," as he had ordered them to do.

FRANK McLOWERY and Billy Clanton opened fire on the lawmen and that was a fatal mistake, as it turned out. The fight lasted less than 30 seconds, during which time the outlaws fired 17 shots and the officers 13. Claiborne found the hot lead not to his liking and ran away, as did Ike Clanton. The other three outlaws laid down their knives and forks for all time as a result of their brush with the law.

Morgan Earp got a busted shoulder from a flying bullet and Wyatt Earp's clothes took a beating from the hot lead. Otherwise, the lawmen came through in fine shape. Holliday dispatched both of the McLowerys, or so Wyatt Earp later said.

FOR A TIME before going to Arizona, Holliday tried to practice dentistry in Dallas but his hacking cough had driven away his patients.

Back in Valdosta, Holliday street became quite famous because of that shootout in Tombstone but some of the gentler people who inhabited the town preferred to remember young Johnny as a bare-footed young fisherman who used to run down the street with his fishing pole and stopped to return a greeting with a wave just before he darted down to the river.

Some recalled that time of Johnny's earlier life with a pang of pity, too. The boy had always been sickly and was possessed of a hacking cough. He was to die of that cough, too, but not before he had made a few miles and come to firm up a few friendships.

Holmes Alexander Triumph Of Private Investment

HELL'S CANYON, Idaho — They will tell the tale a long while around here, and there will be visible proof of it far past the lifetimes of those of us who were in at the beginning and at the end.

The end of the tale was reached Sunday, May 5, when the investor-owned Idaho Power Company dedicated its industry-built complex at Hell's Canyon Dam after a solemn invocation, a pledge to the flag, appropriate congratulations from the states of Idaho and Oregon, as well as from many captains of industry and finance. Conspicuously absent were the crestfallen minions of the big government bloc who fought to prevent this superb accomplishment.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER and central figure on the powerhouse deck was the modest, spectacled Thomas E. Roach, the company's board chairman, who was company president when the fight began in 1947. His speech was a model of restraint.

As one of the newsmen who had visited the site 20 years ago, and who followed the controversy which raged through Congress, through the Federal Power Commission and several political campaigns, and which ended in the U.S. Supreme Court, I thought a bit of gloating could have been justified.

BACK THERE in President Truman's time, with the New Deal mercuries still green, the liberal doctrine was crabbied and arrogant. In federal policy it was a heresy to have doubts about the United States and one world. In domestic policy it was uncouth to denur at the proposition that great investments and their wise management could come elsewhere than from the federal government.

When Idaho Power Company applied for a license to build a complex of three hydroelectric dams along a 100-mile reach of the all-but-inaccessible Snake River, there was a wild outcry from the socializers. They demanded that the federal government "safeguard the national heritage" by building one "high" dam for over $456 million in tax dollars. The arguments were that an investor-owned company would ream the rate-payers, lay waste the natural beauties, do nothing for reclamation, irrigation, recreation, navigation and, in any event, would never overcome the obstacles in engineering and financing.

THERE WERE 14 bills in six sessions of Congress aimed at frustrating the company. There was a 12-month battle before the Federal Power Commission where the company eventually proved the feasibility of the venture in 20,000 words of testimony with 400 exhibits. There was a breath-holding, two-year interval when the opponents appealed to the Supreme Court to overrule the commission. Ten years elapsed between the application for license and the court's go-ahead signal. The ensuing years saw the completion of the complex with dams at Brownlee (1959), Oxbow (1961) and Hell's Canyon (1968).

THE ENTIRE development is one for the history books. Its cost of $230 million is far below the federal figure, and the development will generate $500 million in taxes through the 50 years that the licenses call for. All multipurpose features of the proposed federal dam are achieved by the company dam at no cost to the taxpayer. Idaho is filling up with manufacturing plants, many of them from processing the vegetables that now grow in the increasingly irrigated land which was barren a few years ago.

IT IS A stirring tale of human perseverance and ingenuity, and the moral is quite obvious in this election season. Every one of the major Presidential candidates is begging private enterprise to rebuild the nation. It's a remarkable change of tune.

John Cunniff Burden Of Higher Mortgage Rates

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising mortgage rates not only are bringing fundamental changes in the present housing market but are bound to cause repercussions in family finances for 10, 20 or 30 years into the future.

Evidence of trouble in the mortgage markets is provided by the government's decision to raise the permissible interest rate to 6 1/2 percent on mortgages it backs, and in attempts by states to change usury laws so as to permit even higher rates.

SO UNPRECEDENTED and to some extent unforeseen, are today's rates that the standard books of tables for estimating mortgage payments literally must be rewritten, for most of them have no listings above seven per cent.

True, for some families a fraction of a per cent may not make an observable difference in their budgets. For example, the 3/4 of a per cent rise in the ceiling on government-backed mortgages could result in these higher costs for a new, 30-year, $20,000 loan.

MONTHLY CHARGE for interest and principal $152.08, compared with $143.29 under the previous ceiling; yearly charge $1,824.96 compared with $1,719.48; and 20 years, $36,409.20 against $34,389.60.

Those differences are small enough to predict that few families who could afford a mortgage at six per cent will be terribly burdened by paying another 3/4 of one per cent. But, the real danger is not in a single 3/4 of one per cent rise so much as in the trend. If rates reach eight per cent — and legislative changes in ceilings may permit this rate in some states — or 10 per cent, as foreseen by President Johnson without a tax increase, then the higher charges will be painful.

NOT ONLY are home purchasers compelled to pay these higher rates, but often they are locked into them for many years, even though mortgage costs could conceivably drop sometime in the future.

When a mortgage is booked, bankers explain, it is anticipated that it will remain at the same rate until satisfied.

Most lending agencies write clauses into their contracts that discourage or forbid prepayments within a specified period. Beyond that period they permit prepayment but impose a cash penalty.

IN THEORY, mortgage lending institutions must do this in order to protect their investments, in order to have some assurance that the contract on which they spend money today can be depended upon to exist tomorrow.

But, with today's extremely high rates, and the possibility that they may rise or fall sharply, a severe burden can be placed on both mortgage holders and mortgage lenders,

Protection Offered By Trinity Vault

The consideration given to selecting a casket can be important, both in appearance and in endurance. But many times because they do not understand the purpose of a burial vault, people disregard the necessity of a vault for permanent protection.

Unless someone makes arrangements with the funeral director, the outside container will be a wooden box. A vault replaces the wood container with an indestructible material and thus protects the casket.

Trinity Memorial Park, on the San Angelo Highway, manufactures concrete burial vaults which are available to the public through the various funeral homes in the area.

O. C. Shapland, who heads the institution, said that he has been manufacturing the concrete vaults for about 10 years. The plant is on the park grounds, housed in the warehouse area.

Keeping endurance in mind, the manufacturers found that concrete was the best material. Concrete has been used for over 2,000 years, beginning in Rome, and it has become increasingly practical for burial vaults, because concrete grows stronger with age.

Its economy of material and manufacture make this fine product available to the public at reasonable prices.

The concrete burial vault, as we know it today, first made its appearance about 1905. Concrete vaults are manufactured according to rigid standards, insuring the highest quality of concrete and workmanship. Dense concrete with a strength of over 4,000 pounds per square inch is required, and tests have shown that this concrete in-

Cautious Program Viewed For Debts

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler once said that a periodic reconsideration of the federal debt limit by Congress provides the nation with options, than the words of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is in a position to kick the trap door and permit the noose to become a knot.

If taxes are not increased, said Mills, "sometime just prior to the elections the secretary of the Treasury is going to be without funds and without authority to issue additional bonds." It can be assumed his tone was grave.

In years past administrations have been put in embarrassing situations by having to trudge up Capitol Hill to ask Congress for the right to go deeper into debt. In the past 50 years, in fact, the ceiling has been raised dozens of times.

On several occasions the administration in power has come face to face with the limit, as it did last year, and so had to resort to bookkeeping tricks. On occasions government bills have been left unpaid because there was no cash on hand.

Derby Winner Hearing Opens

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The official hearing into the disqualification of Kentucky Derby winner Dancer's Image got underway today with the possible suspension of trainer Lou Cavalaris Jr. hanging on the outcome.

The hearing is to determine the guilt or innocence of those connected with the horse, including owner Peter Fuller of North America's leading conditioners.

Fuller has said he will not allow Dancer's Image to run in Saturday's Preakness if Cavalaris is suspended and cannot saddle the horse.

Track stewards started the racing world last Tuesday with the announcement that traces of phenylbutazone, a banned drug, had shown up in a routine urine specimen taken from the Derby winner after the race.

After that announcement the real bomb was dropped when stewards said Dancer's Image had been placed last and forward Pass declared winner of the 94th running of the American classic. It was the first time a Derby winner's number had been taken down.

Phenylbutazone, or "bute" as it is called by horsemen, is an analgesic which is allowable for horses in training, but taboo for actual racing.

Cavalaris said the colt had been given a dose of the drug the Sunday before the race, but said the following six days should have been plenty of time for effects of the "bute" to wear off.

Veterinarians are agreed generally that the drug usually is dissipated within 85 hours. However, Dancer's Image was being treated for weak ankles with cold water and ice packs, and there has been speculation that this slowed down his body's ability to shake off all traces of the drug.

Kelso Sturgeon, public relations director for Churchill Downs, said the stewards would devote the entire day to the hearing and would try to have the matter settled by the end of the day.

Mills Working On Long Run

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Billy Mills, the United States' hero of the 1964 Olympic Games, sets his sights on another victory in the grueling 10,000-meter race and feels he's well ahead in his training program.

A member of the Marines when he won at Tokyo, Mills now works for an insurance company in San Diego and so far has concentrated on shorter races.

At the West Coast Relays on Saturday night, he placed third in the two-mile race won by veteran steeple chaser runner Pat Traynor in 8 minutes 42.2 seconds. Mills' time was 8:43.3 for the race of about one-third the distance of his Olympic event.

Billy wasn't much affected by the wind and chilly weather on Saturday night which spoiled many record attempts. Despite the weather, however, Bob Seagrain of Southern California boosted his meet record pole vault to 17 feet 6 1/4 inches. He missed his three attempts at 17-8 1/2 trying to better the world record held by teammate Paul Wilson, who missed this event because of a pulled muscle.

Texas Loop Idle Again

By The Associated Press

It will most be like starting a new season for several of the teams if the Texas League can play ball tonight.

For the second time in four days Sunday, rain forced the postponement of all games. They were the last of three-game series between Albuquerque and Shreveport, El Paso and Dallas-Fort Worth, Arkansas and Amarillo and Memphis and San Antonio.

Amarillo and Arkansas have not played in four straight nights, and the Travelers also had a fifth game postponed last week. Albuquerque and Memphis saw action on only three of the last seven playing dates.

Dallas-Fort Worth was the most fortunate, getting in five games while sitting out two. El Paso also played five times, including a doubleheader. Shreveport, San Antonio and El Paso were idle three nights.

A new four-game series is scheduled to open tonight with Western Division leader Albuquerque at Dallas-Fort Worth, winner of six straight; El Paso at Eastern Division leader Shreveport; Arkansas at San Antonio and Memphis at Amarillo.

Houston's Track Meet Delayed

HOUSTON (AP) — Wet grounds forced postponement Sunday of the first Houston Striders Invitational Track Meet at Jeppesen Stadium.

A spokesman said the track club will attempt to hold the meet sometime in June.

Heavy rains prompted officials to first postpone the meet Saturday.

Wins In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Graham Hill, averaging 84.407 m.p.h., drove his Lotus to victory by 16 seconds Sunday in the Spanish Grand Prix and took the lead in the 1968 Formula One world championship.

Happy Family

Golfer George Archer of Gilroy, Calif., strolls across the 18th green with daughters Marilyn, 2, (right) and Elizabeth, 4, and his wife, Donna, after capturing the New Orleans Open title Sunday. Archer presented the $26,000 check as a Mother's Day present to his wife.

Archer Strings Up Birdies To Win New Orleans Title

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — George Archer added $26,000 to his swelling bank account today — the result of a string of birdies that won the Greater New Orleans Open golf title.

The 6-foot-6 pro nailed down first place in the $100,000 tournament Sunday on the 18th green by tapping in a five-foot putt for his fourth birdie on the back nine.

At 67, Archer was four under par over the demanding 6,560-yard Lakewood Country Club course — 13 under at 271 for the 72 holes. His slice of the cash boosted his PGA tour earnings to $77,632 for the year.

A superb finishing round of 66, five under par, boosted Bert Yancey to the second spot and a $12,000 payoff. Miller Barber, Tom Weiskopf and Bobby Cole tied for third at 276.

Barber and Weiskopf were tied for the lead when the final round began but both fired 73s for the last 18 holes.

Cole, who had a 65 Saturday ran into an horrendous triple bogey at No. 15 when his tee shot disappeared in thick Spanish moss hanging from a cypress tree, and he finished with a 70.

Archer was one under on the front nine. At No. 10 he three-putted from 45 feet for a bogey 5. Then he buckled down.

On 11 he chipped in from off the green for a birdie. At 12 he riddled in a 15-foot birdie putt.

At 13 his lie was four feet off the green and 30 feet from the flag but his chip shot ran straight to the hole.

Jack Nicklaus was far down the money list. His first three rounds were even par.

His fourth was a 68 — highlighted by a drive that carried the 380-yard, par-4 16th from the tee. He tied at 13th place and picked up $1,900.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Final scores in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament over the 36-55-71 Lakewood Country Club course Sunday:

Turbocar Has Mishap, May Not Make The 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Its frame badly wrenched in a practice accident Sunday, the STP turbocar that nearly won last year's Indianapolis 500 mile race probably won't be repaired in time to make the May 30 classic.

Driver Joe Leonard, San Jose, Calif., bumped the first turn wall after turning laps in the 166-mile per hour range. Leonard was not injured.

STP President Andy Granatelli said he does not think the car, No. 40, can be repaired in time for the race.

"We may figure out a way to get the job done in time to qualify it," he said. "But right now it looks like the car never will run again."

The turbine, then driven by Parnelli Jones, led nearly all the 1967 race until a minor gear failure eliminated it with only minutes remaining.

Another turbine fared better in Sunday's practice.

Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., tested the vehicle in which English driver Mike Spence was killed Tuesday and turned in four laps in the 167 m.p.h. range.

A season high of 32 cars was on the track as practice went into its final week before Saturday's initial qualifying day.

Talons Maintain Unsullied Record

The Talons pounded two pitchers while Frank Houser was holding the Star fighters to one hit Saturday night to account for a 6-0 victory. This gave the Talons a 2-0 record and the Star Fighters a 0-1 standing. The Talons had peaked away until the fifth when they got three runs and settled the issue.

NFL Owners Meet Today, Hassle Set

ATLANTA (AP) — The annual spring meeting of professional football club owners gets underway here today with a controversy already looming between owners and players in the National Football League.

The player - owner dispute, which involved salaries and the pension fund, flared into the open Sunday when Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and NFL president, said concessions being demanded by the players "come under the realm of impossibility."

Modell said he and his labor relations committee "are open to any suggestion that makes sense," but said two of the player demands are impossible.

The two player proposals considered impossible, Modell said, are that $5 million be contributed annually to the player retirement fund and that each player receive $500 for each exhibition game.

In addition, the NFL Players Association also is seeking a minimum salary of $15,000 a year for players.

Modell gave no indication how that proposal would be received.

During the meeting, which will last through Wednesday, the NFL and American Football League owners will try to get together on other differences such as the use of individual names on jerseys and the selection of a site for the 1969 Super Bowl.

A change on extra point scoring also has been proposed to put more suspense into the games.

The proposal up for consideration would prohibit the extra point kick and would allow one point for a successful running or passing conversion after a touchdown.

Coaches in the AFL have gone on record in favor of the plan.

Tiant Hurls Fourth Straight Shutout

By HAL BOCK
By The Associated Press

They say pitching is 75 per cent of the game and when Luis Tiant is the man on the mound, enemy batters have trouble getting their 25 per cent worth.

Tiant hurled his fourth straight shutout Sunday, beating Baltimore on four hits as Cleveland took the first game of a doubleheader 2-0. Stan Williams then tacked on eight more scoreless innings before Brooks Robinson homered to break the spell but the Indians completed the sweep, 4-1.

If the Orioles were somewhat suspicious of Tiant's shutout string before Sunday, it was understandable. The Cuban-born right-hander had a 0-6 lifetime record against them in four previous big-league seasons.

But he struck out nine and was in control all the way, besting Tom Phoebus in a pitcher's duel. Tony Horton's sixth inning single gave Tiant the only run he needed and Dave Nelson's suicide squeeze bunt brought in the other in the ninth.

OTHER GAMES

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Boston swept a doubleheader from New York 8-1 and 4-2. Washington dropped Detroit 6-3. Minnesota rapped California 4-2 in 10 innings and Oakland took Chicago 6-2.

In the National League, Chicago split with New York, taking the first game 4-3 but losing the nightcap 10-0. Los Angeles nipped Atlanta 1-0 in 12 innings. Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 2-1. Cincinnati dropped San Francisco 3-1 and Houston topped St. Louis 3-2.

Tiant's four shutouts leave him one short of the major league record set in 1904 by Doc White of the Chicago White Sox. His 36 consecutive shutout innings are 20 away from the mark set by Walter Johnson. He is sporting a 1.73 earned run average.

HOT STREAKS

Cleveland with 10 victories in 11 starts and four straight over Baltimore has soared into a second place tie with the Orioles, who've dropped six in a row.

Detroit is still in front despite Sunday's loss to the Senators. Frank Howard led Washington's attack with two homers — his eighth and ninth of the season — while Ken McMullen socked his fifth.

Sal Bando socked three hits and drove in two runs as the Athletics raked Chicago. Tony Pierce, making his first start of the season, won it with Jack Aker coming out of the bullpen to get the last out.

Jim Fregosi's 10th inning error allowed Minnesota's winning run to score and the Twins added an insurance run when Bob Allison walked with the bases loaded. Both California runs came as the result of bases-loaded walks by starter Dave Boswell.

But Rich Rollins' seventh inning homer tied it for the Twins and Fregosi's error on Tony Oliva's bounce allowed Rod Carew to race home with the winner.

Dick Ellsworth pitched a three-hitter in the opener and Gary Bell allowed five hits in the second game as Boston swept the Yankees.

The Red Sox, who had dropped three straight and six of eight, jumped on Bill Monbouquette for five runs in the first inning of the opener with double: by Carl Yastrzemski, Reggie Smith and Ken Harrelson the big blows. Sox honked on Fred Talbot for three quick runs.

Davis Ends Slump On A Broken Rule

By The Associated Press

Willie Davis kept the faith in one baseball adage and Walter Alton flouted another. The Los Angeles Dodgers came out ahead both ways.

Davis overhauled the law of averages Sunday, breaking an 0-for-24 lump with a 12th inning triple and scoring on Zoilo Versalles' infield hit as the Dodgers nipped Atlanta 1-0. . . . with the help of a hazardous managerial maneuver by Alton.

The Los Angeles skipper ordered Hank Aaron walked intentionally — putting the potential winning run on base — during the Braves' last-ditch rally in the bottom of the 12th.

"I wasn't going to let Aaron beat me," said Alton, explaining why he had Jim Brewer walk Aaron with two out and Felipe Alou, who had doubled, in scoring position. "I broke an unwritten rule, but Hank's one of those rare characters you can justify breaking that rule for."

The Dodgers got away with it when Jio Grant, third reliever in the inning, induced pinch hitter Deron Johnson to bounce into a game-ending force play at second.

In other National League squeakers Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 2-1. Houston shaded first place St. Louis 3-2 and Cincinnati came from behind to beat San Francisco 3-1. The Chicago Cubs divided a doubleheader with New York, doubling the Mets 4-3 before taking a 10-0 drubbing in the nightcap.

Davis lined a shot up the right center field alley with two out in the 12th and legged the hit into a triple. Versalles then brought home the game's only run by beating out a roller to the left side.

Run-scoring singles by Roberto Clemente and Matty Alou gave the Pirates a 2-0 first inning lead and right-hander Al McBean made it stand up for

Astros Beat Gibson, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Larry Dierker and Bob Gibson both figured they didn't want to be beaten by a walk, but figuring wasn't enough for Gibson.

The St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander gave up a bases-loaded hit instead to Denis Menke, and that gave the Houston Astros a 3-2 victory over the Cardinals Sunday.

Dierker pledged before the game that he would concentrate on not walking any men, because 26 men in 53 innings is enough. And they always seem to beat him, he said.

Dierker didn't walk anybody Sunday, so there was nobody to beat him and he boosted his record to 3-5. Gibson's record dropped to 3-2.

The hex seemed to be on going into the seventh. Each team had scored an unearned run early in the game. Then in the fourth inning Mike Shannon of the Cards lined his sixth homer of the year just over the left field wall.

Gibson looked like that one-run lead was all he would need. He struck out nine men in the first six innings and finished eight innings of work with a total of 10. But the Astros jumped him in the seventh.

Ron Davis singled to lead off the seventh, and after Norm Miller was hit by a pitch, Jim Wynn bunted for a hit and loaded the bases. Gibson got the next two men. Then, with the count ball-two, Menke singled in the go-ahead runs.

Shafer Pitches Devils To Win

Tony Shafer was tough when he had to be as he hurled the Devils to a 6-2 victory over the Yankees in the National Little League Saturday night. Although he allowed six hits while his team were gathering only three off Pete LaRoche, Tony struck out eight Yankee batters, repeatedly shutting off threats.

This left the Devils with a 2-3 record, the Yanks with 3-2. The box score:

LOSS OF SPECIAL FORCES CAMP REVEALED

Reds Pulling Away From Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command says allied troops have crushed the main thrust of the Communist command's nine-day-old attack on Saigon...

Headquarters said Special Forces—Green Beret—troops and South Vietnamese irregulars were evacuated by air Sunday from the Kham Duc Camp...

Some military observers considered these casualty figures a highly optimistic estimate. U.S. headquarters said allied losses were 210 killed, 67 of them Americans, and 979 wounded, including 333 Americans.

For the first time since May 5 there was no significant fighting in Saigon. Weyand said at least 26 enemy battalions had been scheduled to attack Saigon but well over half of these were intercepted outside the capital military district.

LAST FOOHOLD Viet Cong troops abandoned their last major foothold in Saigon, a bunker complex on the southern fringes of the city, and apparently went south this morning.

SHOT DOWN The enemy shot down one of the evacuation planes, a four-engine C130 transport, killing the six Air Force crewmen and an undisclosed number of civilian irregulars and South Vietnamese army soldiers.

The camp, with about 400 defenders, came under attack Friday. Headquarters said preliminary reports showed 19 Americans killed and 89 wounded.

CONGRESSMEN PUZZLED Johnson Remains Mum On Income Tax Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is still keeping Congress guessing about whether he would accept a $6 billion spending cut tucked onto his proposed income tax hike by Senate-House conferees.

House sources were reporting strong sentiment for the package, however, and chances the Senate would reverse course and insist on a smaller cut seemed highly unlikely.

Although the conferees agreed last week to a bill combining the spending cut with a 10 percent income tax surcharge, Johnson still hasn't said publicly whether he would veto such a measure.

Intense backstage maneuvering appears likely to delay showing Capitol Hill action on the measure until the month's end at least.

SPENDING SLASH The President, who has said the income tax boost is vital to fight inflation at home and strengthen the dollar overseas, expressed reluctant willingness before the conferees reached agreement to accept a $4 billion spending slash.

At the same time he asserted that a bigger cut would endanger vital domestic programs. He repeated those themes in a weekend talk to the Business Council...

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Calling for more education and less napalm, U.S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., said Sunday night "I think education is more important than the cremation of the living."

LT. GEN. Fred C. Weyand announced the victory over the enemy's main thrust against Saigon. "Although isolated small attacks, terrorism and harassment..."

Although isolated small attacks, terrorism and harassment are continuing, the enemy's main thrust against Saigon has been crushed.

Yarborough criticized the President's Budget Bureau in recommending only $15 million in 1968 for funding of the Bilingual Education Act.

Democratic and Republican leaders on the Senate Finance Committee said they doubted the proposal—already rejected by House—would get new life in the Senate.

Czech Leaders Show No Signs Of Knuckling

PRAGUE (AP) — The liberal leadership of Czechoslovakia's Communist party shows no signs of knuckling under to pressure from the Soviet Union, Poland and East Germany.

The party presidium is expected to meet this week and add momentum to the campaign to break away from the Kremlin's domination.

It is no secret here that pressure has been exerted by Moscow and other Soviet bloc members disturbed by Czechoslovakia's trend toward independence. But there is no sign of panic among Prague's government and party leaders.

Alarm over rumors of threatened Soviet military intervention was generated abroad, not in Czechoslovakia. But apparently there was a strong enough hint of military pressure from Moscow to give the Czechoslovaks a picture of what could happen if Prague carries its independence movement too far.

Informed sources say Soviet troop movements on the Polish-Czechoslovak border last week, in the form of "staff maneuvers" of Warsaw Pact forces, were not big enough to threaten any military action. But they were sufficient to get the message across, the sources say.

There is also resentment over the fact that Czechoslovakia has a trade deficit with the West but a surplus with the Soviet Union. It is no secret that the Russians owe the Czechoslovaks money, but no one in authority will say how much.

Critic Insists Two Shows Added Spice, Daring To TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's awards show, in which the Emmys will be passed out, comes along next Sunday night, pretty much winding up the awards season.

OLD MOVIES

This has not been one of television's golden years. By and large, the regular fare, the series, have been predictable, grade B stuff. There has been a feast of old movies and a famine of meaty, quality drama.

This viewer, confronted with almost 250 nominees, would find it difficult to pick a favorite program or performer in most of the 47 categories.

Certainly much of the season's excitement was stimulated, first, by "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," and later, by "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In." Both shows have several nominations and certainly deserve recognition if only for bringing some spice, daring and often a point of view into an entertainment area that had been slipping into a bland and perfunctory rut.

'DEAR FRIENDS'

Occasionally there may have been lapses in taste and the viewer on occasion could disagree violently with their expressions of opinion, but the two shows combined to make a more stimulating season.

"CBS Playhouse" made a stab at bringing back meaningful, original drama, and had some success with two efforts, "Do Not Go Gentle into that Good Night" and "Dear Friends."

ABC's adaptations of some old movies with new stars didn't come off very well, but "A Case of Libel," with Van Heflin recreating his stage role, provided a fine evening of television.

Among the variety specials, one recalls with affection, "Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass," on CBS, a most imaginative show, and Frank Sinatra's NBC special with Ella Fitzgerald.

Raymond Burr probably deserves some award for managing, within a few months, to blur his well-established image as Perry Mason by developing a completely different and equally convincing character named Ironside—so convincing a lot of fans believe Burr is really paralyzed and in a wheel chair.

Two Mitchell Drills Staked

Two Mitchell County locations have been staked.

Standard Oil Co. of Texas plans No. 1205-W North Westbrook Unit as a Westbrook (Clear Fork) prospect six and one-half miles north of Westbrook.

Operator is to drill to 3,200 feet. Location is 2,314 feet from the north line and 990 feet from the west line of section 1-28, T&P survey.

Standard also has staked the No. 5504-W North Westbrook Unit 1,200 feet from the southwest line and 1,650 feet from the northwest line of section 13-28, T&P survey, six and one-half miles north of Westbrook. Operator will drill to 3,200 feet.

Horoscope Forecast
FOR TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very peculiar day and evening. Your best results come from a meeting of the minds between those about you and your own over-all ambitions. Avoid disappointments and strange attitude in fellow workers who are in a fix.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Ideal day for recreation. Avoid that coworker who is in a bad humor. Then the evening can also be very happy for you. Buy some thoughtful gift for loved one. Come to a fair; better understanding.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You must get right about you and not disappoint those who rely on you in stead of going off on some tangent. Get into those outlets that bring happiness to you. Evening can be particularly pleasant for you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Partners "to-do" about something you feel is right could lead to arguments. Drop it for the moment and busy yourself keeping promises you have made to others. You find that good pals come to your defense, where needed. Be grateful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Being highly efficient is important now. Do not give heed to a coworker who is trying to annoy you. Do what ever a bowing desire of you and add to present prestige. Show that you have wisdom, knowhow.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) Don't resort to nagging those around you who expect you to come through with promises made to them. Keep calm, cool and collected. Get your surroundings improved. Don't spend so much for recreation.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Don't be so temperamental with a close tie over some minor detail, or there could be some serious estrangement. Show that you have wisdom. Keep your feet firmly on the ground and all is fine.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Sit down with associates and formulate the proper plan of operation for the days ahead. modus of living. Do not fret over the inevitable. This only takes us precious time you could be spending on constructive work.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Doing what is expected by coworkers is wise instead of wasting your time with agonies. Get your health improved. There is bound to be some big opportunity (coming your way soon. Be prepared.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) You must think constructively if you want to gain those ambitions that mean so very much to you. Higher-ups are very busy now and have no time for you. Carry on yourself independently and you find all goes well just the same.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) You must discuss with kin some plan you want to get on the road, even if they will buck somewhat. Get the support you need for same. Steer clear of that new contact who wants to horn in on it.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Others may ask to assist you in your projects; listen to them and cooperate where feasible. A jealous individual could try to stem the tide of your success. Give this person the cold shoulder.

PISCES (Feb 20 to March 20) Some excellent idea you have could gain you the prestige of a practical-minded person of note; but if it works immediately, avoid that irascible associate right now. Get busy with other persons.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be one of those delightful young people who has every opportunity to progress if concentrating on the policy level instead of getting into the morass of detail merely, which could be very stifling for this idea-loaded individual. Education should be such that success comes in such areas with others.
