TO BERLIN

Reds Put Restrictions On Travel

BONN (AP)—Representatives of the United States, West Germany, Britain and France are seeking ways to counter new restrictions placed by Communist East Germany on West Germans traveling to Berlin.

Some West German commentators called the East German action the most serious threat to access to West Berlin since the 11-month Berlin Blockade by the Russians in 1948-49.

First Time

East Germany announced Tuesday night it will require West Germans for the first time to have passports and visas for train, road and water travel between West Germany and Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

The regulations appeared to be a new assertion of East German sovereignty and of the Communist regime's defiance of the Bonn government's claim that it is the only representative German government.

The East Germans also announced hikes in overland transit fees and freight taxes.

There was no indication of interference with official traffic of the three Western allies, which is controlled by the Russians as the other occupation power, or with air traffic to West Berlin, which is controlled by the occupation powers.

A meeting of U.S., West German, British and French representatives in the American Embassy lasted until 1 a. m. today. An anticipated joint allied protest to the Soviet Union was not announced.

Up to now, West Germans going to West Berlin by surface routes have traveled on their West German identity cards, ADN, the official East German news agency, said the West Germans would have until July 15 to get passports.

Fee Increases

Increases in transit fees become effective June 20 and freight taxes on July 1, ADN said.

Visiting U.S. Undersecretary of State Eugene Rostow called the East German action "a serious situation" and said such a change from the present pattern "cannot be tolerated."

The East Germans said the new regulations were necessary because of neo-Naziism and revenge-seeking in West Germany and because of the passage of the new state of emergency laws in West Germany.

Want College Funds

AUSTIN (AP)—Two groups of college officials want the legislature to restore $21.4 million cut from the state college budget by the Legislative Budget Board.

In a joint meeting Sunday, the Council of State-Supported College and University Presidents and the Association of State College Governing Boards approved a resolution calling for doubling tuition if necessary to make up for funds trimmed from the College Coordinating Board's budget.

The groups were particularly concerned about the $5.2 million cut in recommended funds for faculty salaries.

Wendell Lloyd Dies

Wendell Lloyd, 21, Howard County Junior College student who was involved in a car-truck collision April 5, died in Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tuesday night.

First reports here indicated that young Lloyd died during surgery doctors were performing in an effort to stop internal bleeding.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lloyd, of the Knott community, he had been hospitalized at Cowper Hospital here in critical condition until he was air-evacuated to Dallas Memorial Day.

His light sports car and a county-owned truck were involved in an accident three miles west of Fairview, Gin on FM 2230 at 10 a. m. April 5. Authorities who investigated said that Lloyd was traveling west on FM 2230 and the truck, driven by Arnold Wallace, Coahoma, was going north on a dirt road which intersects FM 2230.

Doctors had said he had sustained extensive injuries internally.

Arrangements were not known this morning but rites are expected to be in Big Spring.

Blaiberg Improved

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Doctors reported a slight improvement today in the condition of Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient who is stricken with hepatitis.

A bulletin said: "There has been a slight improvement in Dr. Blaiberg's condition. His blood pressure and circulation are satisfactory. The patient remains under close supervision."

A hospital spokesman said Blaiberg, 59, is conscious. The spokesman did not say how Blaiberg is feeling. A common side effect in liver ailments is depression.

SESSION LASTS FOUR HOURS: ADJOURNED FOR A WEEK

Attacks On Civilians Protested In Talks

PARIS (AP)—The United States protested to North Vietnam in the Paris peace talks today against "particularly vicious rocket attacks" on the heavily populated center of Saigon.

REPORTS

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told the North Vietnamese that the United States had reports that "the current offensive was planned and directed by North Vietnamese generals." He said this information came to the U.S. government from high-ranking defectors.

He met with the North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy for almost four hours. The sessions were adjourned until next Wednesday.

"Today," Harriman said, "I want to be sure you understand that this is a situation which could have the most serious consequences for these talks."

Earlier when asked by news-men whether the United States would take retaliatory action—by renewed bombing of Hanoi or other centers—Harriman said that was not the business of this conference but a question for President Johnson.

Harriman said the bombardments of Saigon have been carried out "using the North Vietnamese rockets and mortars."

"Most importantly, the attacks have relied heavily upon North Vietnamese army troops and they are sustained by a swelling flow of men and materiel from North Vietnam.

"The troops attacking in and around Saigon are under orders to infiltrate into the city, to seize civilian homes, and to dig in. Thus, the battlefield has been moved into the densely populated quarters of the capital and suburban areas, with resulting heavy civilian casualties."

SACRIFICED

"The attacking units have been sacrificed. Since the beginning of May, more than 10,000 North Vietnamese soldiers and Viet Cong have been killed in the capital or in its approaches."

Attending the talks with Thuy today was Le Due Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese Communist party's nine-man politburo who arrived in Paris last week.

Hanoi Radio reported today that he had told CBS correspondent Charles Collingwood in an interview the talks can progress only after the United States drops its demand for reciprocal de-escalation and stops all war actions against North Vietnam.

The first session of the talks May 13 brought a demand from Thuy for the United States to halt the rest of the bombing of North Vietnam and a counter demand from Harriman for North Vietnam to reciprocate to the limited bombing halt imposed by President Johnson on March 31. That is still the central unresolved issue.

The only basis for encouragement which Harriman and his aides have found is that Thuy, having moved his delegation into a suburban villa, appears prepared to carry on the discussions indefinitely. Neither side has made any move to break off the talks, though both have spoken of the possibility that the talks may fail.

Along with the daily bombardment of Saigon came an "official statement" from the Viet Cong, broadcast by Hanoi Radio

Tuesday, predicting a general offensive.

STATEMENT

The statement said Viet Cong offensive operations of the last four months—beginning with the Tet assault on South Vietnamese cities in February—and "the general offensive that is coming" are like the battle of Dien Bien Phu which defeated the French in 1954.

U.S. officials took this as support for their theory that North Vietnamese strategy is dominated by a "Dien Bien Phu psychology" that Hanoi's leaders are bent on a decisive victory over U.S. and South Vietnamese forces which would compel the United States to make peace on Communist terms.

Feeds Paris Flames

Demonstrator adds wood to the flames of a burning barricade during clash with police last night in Paris. Violence posed a fresh threat to the authority of President Charles de Gaulle.

Demonstrations In Streets Are Banned

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's government, cracking down after two nights of student rioting in Paris, today banned all street demonstrations throughout France and ordered seven extreme leftist groups dissolved.

The Cabinet issued the orders about five hours in advance of scheduled student meetings in Paris, Bordeaux, Toulouse and Strasbourg to protest police action against a revived wave of violence in the academic and industrial crisis that De Gaulle once warned would lead to civil war.

DIES

Another French worker died from injuries received in battle with the police, raising the death toll in clashes this week to three. Paris disorders overnight left 194 persons injured. More than 150 were hurt in fights between demonstrators and police in St. Nazaire.

Information Minister Yves Guena announced the ban on street demonstrations will last through the election campaign and the voting for a new National Assembly, to be completed June 30.

Mrs. Cotter Found Dead

GARDEN CITY—Mrs. Velma Jane Cotter, 41, wife of D. J. Cotter, Glascock County farmer, was found shot to death in her home at 10 a. m. today. Sheriff Royce Pruitt, Glascock County sheriff, said that Mrs. Cotter's body, with a bullet wound in the forehead, was found by her husband. There was a 22-caliber rifle on the floor beside the body with one discharged shell.

Pruitt said there were several notes left by Mrs. Cotter. The Cotter farm is about 13 miles northwest of Garden City. Her body has been brought to the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, where arrangements are pending.

Pruitt said that Walter Grice, peace justice from Howard County, was called to the scene to hold an inquest on the body, since the Glascock County justice of peace is out of the county. Lindy Oldfield, Howard County deputy, took Grice to the scene.

The Cotters have one son.

the March 22 Movement, a radical student group headed by Daniel Cohn-Bendit, a 23-year-old West German known as "Danny the Red."

Cohn-Bendit, the idol of Sorbonne rioters, was in London today to tape with other student leaders from Europe and the United States a television program called "Students in Revolt."

The British Broadcasting Corp., paid for Cohn-Bendit's ticket and got him liberated for the BBC show after he was held three hours at London Airport on arriving unheralded from Frankfurt.

ESCALATION

A new escalation of the crisis appeared in prospect as students rioted in Paris for the second night running. The Communists called a one-hour general strike today, and the Paris students scheduled another demonstration tonight.

Henri Blanchet, a 49-year-old worker at the Peugeot auto plant at Sochaux, in Alsace, died shortly after midnight of a fractured skull received when he fled from a police charge at the strikebound plant Monday.

Blanchet was the second worker to fall since the general strike began in mid-May in response to a student revolt at the University of Paris. Another Peugeot striker died of a bullet during the battle at Sochaux Monday, and a riot policeman was reported in "desperate condition" after being clubbed in the abdomen with an iron bar.

SPARK

The spark that touched off the new student rioting was the drowning Monday of a high school student. Witnesses said the youth, along with other students, plunged into the Seine to escape a police check.

With three new "martyrs," France appeared to be in for an intensification of student and labor unrest after a brief period during which President Charles de Gaulle's government seemed to have mastered the nation's greatest postwar crisis.

The students began their protest in Paris last Tuesday night on the Right Bank but the police drove most of them back across the Seine to the Latin Quarter and Montparnasse. Using new tactics, the police continually broke the students into small groups, hurling tear gas barrages and concussion grenades heard miles away in the suburbs. There were many short, brisk clashes which left an uncounted number injured.

BLAMED

The Communist party newspaper Humanite blamed the death of the worker, Pierre Beylot, on "the Gaullist police."

"The government has decided to provoke the workers," said the paper. "It substitutes police intervention, bloody repression, for negotiation which could end a conflict which continues."

FOUR CHILDREN KILLED

Civilians Only Casualties

SAIGON (AP)—Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base was the target for the daily Viet Cong rocket attack on South Vietnam's capital today, and the 30 casualties—all civilians—were four Vietnamese children killed and two Americans wounded.

While civilians throughout Saigon filled sandbags to build home shelters, new fighting flared at opposite ends of the demilitarized zone. Allied troops reported killing 121 North Vietnamese in two battles.

The 10 rockets that hit Tan Son Nhut before dawn also wounded 24 Vietnamese and destroyed three houses, one helicopter and a small observation plane.

Several other planes, including a large military transport, were damaged at the sprawling base, a favorite target for enemy gunners even before the current wave of shelling.

The base contains Saigon's commercial airport, government and American air units, headquarters of the U.S. Military Command in Vietnam and the homes of a number of Vietnamese officials, including Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

At least 130 civilians have been killed and more than 1,000 wounded in 24 rocket attacks on Saigon since the Viet Cong launched its "peace talks" offensive May 5, the eve of the start of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks in Paris.

Although the official military view is that the shelling have little military significance, concern is mounting about the psychological effect on Saigon's three million people. Additional government troops have been assigned to sweep the "rocket belt" around the capital.

Diplomatic sources in Paris said President Johnson is under pressure to counter the shelling by resuming bombing of Hanoi.

The fighting along the demilitarized zone was near Khe Sanh, in South Vietnam's northwestern corner, and near Gio Linh, in the northeastern corner.

33 KILLED

A government spokesman said South Vietnamese infantrymen killed 33 infiltrating North Vietnamese soldiers near Gio Linh. He said 11 government soldiers were killed and 33 wounded.

U.S. Marines reported killing at least 28 of an estimated 400 North Vietnamese troops who attacked a fire support base seven miles southeast of Khe

Booze Bill Talked, But No Action Yet

AUSTIN (AP)—The House State Affairs committee debated and amended a combination liquor law revision and mini-bottles mixed drinks bill for three hours today without taking any action.

The meeting was interrupted by the convening of the House at 11 a. m., and the committee planned to resume its work when the House adjourned.

Three amendments were tabled, five adopted before the meeting broke up.

MERGED

A subcommittee took Gov. John Connally's liquor by the drink bill and merged it with a liquor law revision measure drafted by the same subcommittee after a 3½ month study this spring of Texas' alcoholic beverage laws.

Watered down were Connally's strict private club requirements and his insistence that any place with a permit to sell mini-bottles of liquor and pre-mixed cocktails do more than half of its dining and drinking business in food. The committee bill provides that only one-third of the business be in food.

Also inserted was a provision allowing the Liquor Control Board to define a private club guest and make "reasonable rules" for such guests. It would take away the present prohibition on cash sales of drinks by such.

The committee added a provision making it a felony to possess a gun at a tavern, private club or place with a retail drink permit. It also said mini-bottles can't be taken into hotel rooms, although a hotel may have a permit to sell the tiny bottles, usually 1.6 ounces, in its restaurant.

BOOTLEGGING

"We'll have to start bootlegging beer in Bexar County, and that'd be terrible," quipped Rep. Jake Johnson, San Antonio.

Defeated was an amendment by Rep. James Clark, Dallas, to require liquor licenses to make annual financial statements to the Liquor Control Board, including all loans of $100 or more. He said this was designed to keep vending machine companies out of the liquor business.

"I don't think we can wait until January, 1969, (when the regular session of the Legislature may get another liquor investigation report) to find out who owns the taverns and private clubs of Texas," he said.

The committee defeated, 11-10, a substitute offered by Rep. Bill Clayton, which would have defeated the miniature bottles provision altogether and left the bill substantially the same as the liquor law revision bill offered by a special subcommittee at the start of the special session.

Cops Probe Ray's Action In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard detectives, but British police are doing the spade work since the FBI has no legal authority in foreign countries. Worked on their case for the extradition of the man accused of the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

10 DAYS GAP
Ray was traced to two London hotels between May 28 and his arrest Saturday, but there is an unexplained gap of about 10 days, starting May 17, when he left Lisbon.

FBI agents were understood to be working with Scotland Yard last two months if the 40-year-old escaped convict fights all the way through the British courts.

FIRST STEP

As a first step, American authorities have obtained a provisional British warrant charging Ray with the murder of King in Memphis, Tenn. A State Department spokesman in Washington said documents to support the extradition request "will be transmitted to London shortly."

The British police are holding Ray on charges of using a forged passport and carrying a loaded gun. On Scotland Yard's records he is officially listed as Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport.

U.S. officials have not tried to question Ray to avoid legal complications resulting from Supreme Court decisions in recent years. And now that he has been charged under British law, Scotland Yard cannot interrogate him outside a courtroom.

While British police were trying to ascertain whether Ray had any contacts in London, detectives in Toronto were searching for a short blond man who reportedly came looking for Ray in a rooming house three or four days after the suspect flew to London.

FAT MAN

The landlady, Mrs. Fela Szpakowski, told police about the caller, the second Ray reportedly had during his month-long stay in Toronto after the assassination of King. The first was an unidentified fat man who was reported to have called on Ray at another rooming house.

Mrs. Szpakowski said the blond caller presented a police identification card, but both the Mounted Police and the Toronto police said he was not a policeman.

The Atlanta, Ga., Constitution, in a copyright article, said that an apartment manager in the Southern city's hippie district reported a man using the name Eric Starvo Galt stayed in his building for more than a week prior to the slaying of King. The name is one of the aliases under which Ray was sought by the FBI.

The manager said the man "looked more like a preacher than a convict."

Defense Rests After Spock Makes Denial

BOSTON (AP) — Testimony has ended in the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

The pediatrician ended his second day on the witness stand Tuesday with a denial that he ever attempted to persuade young men to resist the draft, but said he was "glad and delighted" when they did.

Closing arguments by defense and prosecution begin today. A final charge by U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford remains before the all-male jury receives the case.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock is Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They face maximum sentences of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines if convicted of the conspiracy charges.

The defense rested when Spock left the witness stand after 16 days of testimony by both sides. The defendants were indicted Jan. 8 and trial began May 20.

Prosecution and defense lawyers said they hoped the jury could receive the case before the weekend.

During cross-examination, Asst. U.S. Atty. John Wall asked Spock if the "ultimate effect" of the pediatrician's anti-draft activities might result in widespread refusal by young men to serve in the armed forces and fight in Vietnam.

"I would be glad if 500,000 men in the Army and Navy refused to serve," Spock replied. "They would be doing right by their country."

"But you would not personally encourage them?" he was asked.

"But I wouldn't personally give encouragement. I wouldn't want to be involved in that," Spock said.

Twenty-two members and two visitors, Jim Robins of Stanton and Eddy Fort of Lubbock attended the meeting.

UN Plans To End Session With Votes Backing Treaty

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly planned to end its stop-and-go 23rd session today with votes endorsing the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and condemning South Africa's hold on South-West Africa.

The 124-nation assembly scheduled morning, afternoon and night meetings to wind up the session, which began last Sept. 19, recessed Dec. 19 and resumed April 24.

COMPROMISE

The day's business included a new compromise resolution on South-West Africa introduced Tuesday night, a resolution on the nuclear treaty recommended by the assembly's main Political Committee Monday and a routine report on delegates' credentials.

The resolution on South-West Africa gives the territory the African name of Namibia, condemns South Africa for not letting the United Nations take over the area, calls on all countries to "take effective economic and other measures" to force South Africa out, and recommends that the Security Council also "take effective measures" to that end.

In the compromise, the Latin Americans got the Africans and Asians to take out a call for the council to impose sanctions against South Africa.

But the revised version retained a statement that South Africa's "continued foreign occupation of Namibia... constitutes a grave threat to international peace." Since such a finding is a prerequisite for sanctions, that statement was expected to cause the United States, Britain and France—all big traders with South Africa—to abstain in the voting.

NUCLEAR

The assembly in 1966 declared South Africa's League of Nations mandate over South-West Africa terminated and in 1967 set up a U.N. council to take the territory over and prepare it for independence.

The resolution on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty "commends" it and asks the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain, as co-sponsors of the treaty, to open it for signature and ratification as soon as possible.

Sponsored by 48 countries, the resolution passed the committee by a vote of 92-4 with 22 abstentions. The treaty binds signatory countries with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to others and those without them not to acquire them. But both France and Red China, two of the five nuclear powers, are refusing to sign the pact.

Caddo Indians Push Land Claim

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A group of Caddo Indians has scouted the history department of Midwestern University here seeking material to boost their claim to land in East Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The Caddo Indian Nation, with headquarters in Anandarko, Okla., filed in 1946 what it termed a "friendly suit" before the Indian Claims Commission.

The Indians' visit to Midwestern and the Texas Archives in Austin were attempts to get copies of treaties and other documents to support their claim. For the lands the tribe gave up in the face of pressure from white settlers more than a century ago, the Caddo Tribal Executive Committee is hoping to receive $3 million. There are about 1,500 Caddoes remaining from a once-widespread tribe that numbered several thousand.

Opening lead: Five of ♠
West's standard overcall of one spade backedfire in a strange manner in the above hand.

After North's free bid of two clubs, South made a strong effort to reach slam by cue bidding West's suit and then jumping in diamonds. When North refused to cooperate with South's slam tries, the latter reluctantly settled for a game.

West, influenced perhaps by his opponent's cue bid in spades, chose to open the five of hearts, which placed considerable pressure upon the declarer. With some other lead, South can draw trumps, take a club finesse in either direction, and subsequently use the ace of hearts to enter dummy for a spade discard on the established jack of clubs. He can hardly fail to win 11 tricks—7 diamonds, 2 clubs, 1 heart, and 1 spade.

The heart opening, however, deprives South of his reentry to the North hand, before a second club trick has been established. If he plays the ace of hearts, draws trumps, and subsequently takes a club finesse, the final result will be a two-trick set. After East takes the king of clubs, South must still lose three spades.

Declarer realized his predicament, and after a careful analysis he uncovered a plan that made allowance for the king of clubs being offside. At trick one, he played the 10 of hearts from dummy! East won the trick with the queen and made the natural shift to his singleton six of spades.

South played the ace and then cashed the ace of diamonds. When the queen dropped from West's hand, declarer drew the remaining trump and proceeded to take the club finesse. East was in with the king; however, he had no safe exit. Whether he returned a club or a heart, North must regain the lead and South is able to discard his three losing spades on the ace-queen of clubs and the ace of hearts.

Had East continued with a heart at trick two, declarer would have been unable to effect his plan; however, he had nothing to lose by trying. The one spade overall had marked West with at least a five card suit, so that East had at most one spade. When he wins the opening lead, the temptation to shift to his singleton is hard to resist; and, once South strips out the diamonds, the club finesse can be taken with complete assurance.

MOST GOP DELEGATES LEAN TOWARD NIXON

Tower Selected Favorite Son

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Texas Republicans will go to the party's national convention with U.S. Sen. John Tower as the favorite son and with most of the delegates reported leaning toward Richard Nixon as the presidential candidate.

After a closed meeting of the delegation Tuesday, state chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. said he believes that between 12 and 16 members of the 56-vote delegation favor California Gov. Ronald Reagan and, of the remainder, a few had not made up their minds while the others leaned toward Nixon.

DEMONSTRATION

He said he knew of no support for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, O'Donnell declined to say whom he favors.

In a turbulent session Tuesday afternoon, the state convention approved a resolution putting the Texas delegates behind Tower "until released after consultation with the delegation."

Backers of Reagan bitterly opposed the resolution, wanting it to be released after the Texas delegation casts its first vote for Tower as the state's favorite son.

Then they offered a minority resolution praising Reagan as a governor and urging him "to take an even more active part in national Republican politics."

The Reagan resolution set off a seven-minute demonstration in which approximately 300 of the 1,273 delegates took to the convention floor.

The shouting, marching Reagan supporters did not stop until Tower took the microphone and told them he would support their minority resolution which was then approved by the entire convention.

WON'T SAY

Asked if his approval meant he was endorsing Reagan, Tower replied, "No, I could not have supported it if it had been an endorsement."

The Reagan supporters, principally from the Panhandle and Houston areas, have been beating the drums for the governor since their arrival in Corpus Christi last weekend.

"They plastered the convention hotels with posters and stickers, set up a hospitality room where they showed filmed speeches by Reagan, and distributed circulars urging that 'the door be kept open for the California governor.'"

In contrast, the Nixon backers did not open campaigning. Asked if Nixon supporters had deliberately refrained from making the presidential nomination race an issue, O'Donnell said, "They elected to do it that way."

UNITY PLEA

Tower, in the convention keynote address, pleaded for party unity.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Most everyone wants to break up existing conditions now without actually having anything new to go to. Therefore, make a plan to refuse to get upset and to run out on anything you have agreed to do without first having a complete new plan and place work that is even more satisfactory than the present one that you have.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Just ferret out what is going on by contacting good friends early. You want to get some personal aim going, but this isn't quite the time. Some shopping around where a live interest is concerned. Tell good.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Better recheck and see that all is being done right in that job you have promised to do. A charming bigwig gives you backing you want if you make a good showing. Avoid the dull in him.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have to have the latest of consciousness now if you want to make that big happy, otherwise you get the proverbial boot from work. Get those new ideas. Your mind is keen; make good.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Although you feel that expert is a bit on the temperamental side, get aid for some plan that means an awful lot to you. If your mate is feeling lousy, don't add to the confusion. Be good.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Stop seeming uninterested where associates are concerned and get busy giving them real support. They don't get the results you want. Something comes up in the outside world you don't care about, but leaves it alone right now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) While some other interest may seem more interesting, it's better you complete what you have started first. Just leave workers alone who are getting pretty annoying. Tend to your own knitting.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Relax and take it easy, even in business today—getting all worked up gets you absolutely nowhere. You can ward off potential trouble simply by being charming. Have more faith in others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) If you want to get those things done quietly and easily at home, better talk matters over first with those who dwell under your roof. Advancement is very possible, but you have to study all angles first. Don't beam in until you are ready.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you permit others to cause you to drive faster than you should, talk out of turn, you could really get into a pickle now. Eradicate mistakes. Get your mate to keep quiet if he or she gets on your nerves. You should have good if you are savvy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Before you spend the money for that real extravagant article, run out to the bank and deposit it. An expert gives the idea that arises on your ear, but later you know it's really fine. Go ahead with it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) So much is of interest around you now, but be sure to discriminate or a lack of will power could get you in very hot water. Don't give up that regular bread-and-butter job, either.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have to persevere patiently if you want to clear up that desk, other work intelligently and speedily. Some information that an expert gives you can help to make present situations much better. Use it wisely.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be one of those rare people who are literally born with wisdom and would do well in any trouble-shooting vocations, in the field of psychiatry, in government, etc. Be sure the energies are channelled in the right direction or the mind could get a regular sore, depending upon the company that is kept.

unity to make 1968 a Republican year.

"You must discipline yourselves to subordinate personal differences, factional disagreements and personal animosities for the sake of a greater good—providing America with strong and credible leadership," he said.

Tower, 42, only Republican ever elected to the Senate from Texas, has said he wanted the favorite son role only to strengthen the state delegation at the national convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Aug. 5.

He had been mentioned as a possible vice presidential candidate but this week said, "It will not be me."

The need for party unity was stressed by nearly a dozen GOP office holders and party officials who addressed an eight-hour convention and who drew ova-tions and "ole's" for their denunciation of the Democratic administration and their predictions of Republican victories in the November election.

The largest single demonstration was for gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls.

TERRIBLE FILM

Discounting Smith's long political experience, Eggers said, "The cow that's been in the pasture the longest doesn't necessarily give the best milk."

The Republicans re-elected Albert Fay of Houston and Mrs. Tobin Armstrong of Armstrong as national committeeman and committeewoman and adopted 17 resolutions.

The resolutions denounced the Johnson-Humphrey administration, expressed sympathy to Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and her family, demanded intensified pursuit of the Vietnam war, endorsed the right-to-work law, would continue the 27 1/2 percent federal tax allowance for depletion of oil and gas reserves, and called for employment of bi-lingual teachers in schools with a larger percentage of Mexican-American pupils.

Opposition was voiced to several of the resolutions, including one praising San Antonio's HemisFair.

"That is a terrible film being shown at the U.S. pavilion," one delegate declared.

After Resolutions Committee chairman Jack Cox explained the resolution was to boost HemisFair and not necessarily express approval of individual exhibits, it was adopted.

Trustees Praise Cafeteria Chief; Cash Balance Due

The cafeteria department of the Big Spring Independent School District is expected to end the school fiscal year Aug. 31 with a cash balance of $49,426.07.

In a report presented by Supt. Sam Anderson to Big Spring school trustees Tuesday night, cafeteria director Ray Lawliss was commended as "doing an exceptionally fine job," in the words of school business manager Don Crockett.

Crockett pointed out that the $49,500 balance stems from a total fiscal year operation of $320,000, and much of the surplus will be immediately spent in August, he said, for stocking the cafeterias, meeting payrolls and figuring government subsidies.

Estimated income for June, July and August was pegged at $17,010.90, with estimated expenses figured for the same period at $11,984.47.

Gov. Romney Striving To Hold Michigan Votes

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. George Romney, who urged for months that Republican governors unite early behind one presidential candidate, is doing precisely the opposite now by keeping Michigan's delegation uncommitted.

"What we're doing is realistic now," Romney said in an interview. "I'm not going to bat my head against a wall."

The wall to which he referred is the gubernatorial indecision that helped crush his own campaign for the nomination.

Romney is determined to hold the bulk of the state's 48 votes away from either Richard M. Nixon or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the present.

The object, he says, is to await developments, candidate statements on major issues and pre-convention polls.

Romney, who controls the delegation as a favorite son, insists that no consideration of any job he might get in a national Republican administration will enter into what the Michigan delegation eventually does.

Would he consider running for vice president?

"I don't know," the governor replied. "I'm not certain you can deal with the problems of this country effectively (in that job) and make as much of a contribution as you'd like to make."

Thus far Romney has won general endorsement from party leaders and delegates for an uncommitted delegation. However, the state's lieutenant governor and the majority leader of the state Senate are spearheading moves to win support for Rockefeller and Nixon, respectively, when Romney abandons his favorite-son candidacy.

The key question is how much of the delegation Romney will be able to deliver when he makes his own decision.

Loyalty to the three-term governor is strong among most of the Republican organization—and the national convention delegation is almost completely an organization slate.

SECOND BUDGET MEETING SCHEDULED TONIGHT

School Trustees Hear Opponents Of Tax Hike

By JERRY MONSON
"We need the best schools available—for the money we can pay into them," said W. J. Sheppard.
"I have all I can do now to pay taxes," said Edward Simpson.
"Where is it going to end?" asked John Currie.
"There won't be many property owners if this keeps up," said Winston Wrinkle.
A delegation of about 20 interested citizens attended the first of a two-night session of the proposed 1968-1969 budget of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday and voiced their concerns over the figures presented—total budgeted expenditures of $3,991,972; debt service of $483,794.42; for total encumbrances and expenditures of $4,475,766.42.
$70,000 LOWER
This revised figure, presented to trustees by Supt. Sam Anderson and business manager Don Crockett, in the over five-hour session, is $70,382 lower than the first draft, which was shown to board members at a meeting two weeks ago.
The budget has been estimated in a 25 per cent increase in the assessment percentage. If the tax assessment of the school district is increased from 60 per cent to 75 per cent, with a $1.70 ad valorem tax rate still maintained, the district will realize income of $4,014,699.43 from local maintenance funds.
The revised budget includes total available receipts, based upon a tax roll of $136,250,000 at 75 per cent assessment and 95 per cent collection, of $4,671,611.87. This includes $4,054,365.06 from the general fund and $617,246.81 from the interest and sinking fund.

CONTINGENCY
With the estimated expenditures for the 1968-1969 school year, then, cash in the bank, as of Aug. 31, 1969, should total $195,845.45, a contingency balance which Crockett said is needed to operate the school system.
Sheppard spoke to trustees before the budget discussion got under way, saying he was "concerned about valuations leveling off and declining."
"I have no answer myself," he said. "I don't know where you're going to make the cuts."
Sheppard and others presented a comparison of figures and increased costs from the 1956-1957 school year through the projected year, pointing out that the budget has increased 300 per cent, while there has been only a 40 per cent increase in student population.
PROGRAMS
Anderson said that a number of factors have contributed to this, including general increases in costs and salaries coupled with an increasing demand for services.
"When you add programs, such as our vocational program in the senior high school," he pointed out, "it is expensive, but these programs are not subsidized by local taxes. If you cut them out, you are cutting out the services to pupils."

Anderson added that the revised budget has chopped out many items people in the community have asked be included in the schools' planning.
Another Arrested In Robbery Case
Robert Orsco, 22, who has been sought since last Friday night in connection with the armed robbery of Shorty Thompson at his Pay 'N Take grocery, 708 Lamesa Dr., was arrested early today and is being held in Howard County jail.
Orsco was found in a closet at the home of his mother, 808 N. Gregg, by Deputy Sheriffs A. G. Mitchell and Lindy Oldfield. The officers said the man was wrapped in a quilt and crouching atop a shelf in the closet. He offered no resistance.
Four other persons have been arrested and are in the county jail in connection with the robbery of the grocery store. Thompson, shot in the leg by bandits, is recuperating at the Cowper Hospital and Clinic. His leg was shattered by the bullet.
Orsco has been at liberty on $2,000 bond, posted May 23, in connection with an attempted burglary of White's Auto Store. His bondsmen turned him in after the robbery incident.

Already arrested in the robbery case are Jose Antonio Saracho and Phillip Mendoza. Bonds in their cases were set at $25,000 and they are in the county jail. Two teenage girls, 14 and 16, are also in the juvenile ward of the jail. They are alleged to have been with the armed men who staged the hold-up.
The bandits took about $70 from Thompson. He was then slugged and dragged to the rear of the store. As the robbers left the scene, one fired three shots at the prone store keeper, one bullet striking Thompson in the leg.
Four of the suspects were arrested relatively soon after the incident, but Orsco had been sought unsuccessfully until his arrest today.
Orsco was unarmored when arrested. He had no cash on his person, officers said. The charges naming him as one of the robbers have been on file since soon after the incident.

Among items sliced from the revised budget were $350 in administration and business; $39,962 in instruction expense, including a $930 cut in travel expenses, a $900 decrease in the journalism program, and a cut of $2,906 from audio-visual and library materials; operation of plant was sliced $4,894, including the cancellation of a school bus already on order; total operational expenses were decreased $58,502; and capital outlay was cut $11,880.
WILL DISPLEASE SOME
A decrease of $3,000 in the paving program for school was made, leaving $3,000 to take care of paving needs.
Anderson pointed out that band and choral requests had been cut and this was certain to displease certain residents of the community; however, he said, all items were carefully considered.
"I think this is the budget we will be able to live with," he said. "I don't know how you're going to hack away at it any more without really hurting some programs and perhaps jeopardizing our accreditation standards."

Trustees edged around discussion problems at schools which have a higher per pupil cost, although Crockett said two areas were Lakeview and Gay Hill.
"The population in the Lakeview area is declining all the time," he said. "We have reduced the number of teachers in that school in order to cope with some of the expenses, which are considerably higher than those in other schools."
EXPENSIVE
"Gay Hill, 23 miles from town, has a low pupil-teacher ratio, about 13 students per teacher," he explained, "and it is expensive to operate an instructional program there."
Anderson told the delegation that there is a "certain size school which is more efficient."
"If you could handle children as you handle inanimate objects, we could all save money," he said. "All of us know the Lakeview area is declining in population, and the Gay Hill situation is something which is happening to rural school districts everywhere."
John Currie told trustees that the quality of the school system has improved greatly over the past few years and he said he sympathized with the board's problems.
"However, you've got to consider this move with a limitation from the ability-to-pay side," he pointed out.
Discussion on the proposed budget, which is being looked at in advance of the board of equalization meeting in July, will resume today at 7:30 p.m. in the board room behind the administration building.

Plans for a work day at the Howard County Youth Horsemen Club's arena on the Garden City Highway have been set for Monday, June 24. A watermelon party will follow.
At a meeting Monday night at the arena, ribbons and rosettes were presented to winners of the last point show and it was announced that the last show would be July 20.
Mrs. Cecial Allred was named senior reporter, and Carroll Lyster was chosen junior reporter. Jill Forrest was selected as junior secretary, replacing Terry Soechting, who is moving from the area.
The club firmed up plans to ride in the 35th annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo June 19-22.
A highlight of the meeting was the appearance of Kenneth Williams, senior president who is confined to a wheelchair, in his new trailer. Workers from Cosden and the Howard County Sheriff's posse built the trailer for Williams, especially to pull his wheel chair when the club goes to performances.

College Park HD Club Hosts Party

The College Park Home Demonstration Club hosted a Mexican dinner for husbands Saturday in the home of Mrs. Cuy Cook, 1006 E. 21st.

Dinner was served in the lighted garden. Quartet tables were laid with beige cloths and centered with arrangements of daisies, wisteria vines and peppers. Pottery and silver appointments were used.

Games were played, and winners were Mrs. Jimmy Caldwell, Mrs. James Shelton and Mrs. Cook.

Miss Toinette Rains Is Married Tuesday

Miss Lynda Toinette Rains of Big Spring and S. Airman David H. Grifford of the Air Division, United States Navy, exchanged wedding vows at seven o'clock Tuesday evening in the Wesley Methodist Church with the Rev. Tom Strother, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rains, 1905 Runnels, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hollis Grifford of Lubbock and the late Mr. Grifford.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar graced with tall arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and stock. Flanking the arrangement were candelabra, fern and greenery.

"Because" and "Ave Maria" were sung by Miss Cheri Cederburg, accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Green, organist. During prayer, the couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor-length peau de soie gown overlaid with ruffled lace and designed with high lace collar.

The Empire bodice was marked with a self-band forming a large bow and sash at the back, and the long sleeves buttoned with tiny satin buttons. Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a Dior bow.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid circled with white spider chrysanthemums and tied with satin streamers.

Miss Toinette Page of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and David Wayne Stroup served as best man. Miss Page was attired in a street-length dress of mauve Chantilly lace over matching peau de soie. The headpiece was a mauve Dior bow with pink veiling, and she carried a nose-gay of pink carnations backed with tulle and showered with pink satin ribbons.

The bride's brother, John Rains, and Billy Anderson were ushers.

The couple graduated from Big Spring Senior High School, and the bridegroom attended Howard County Junior College prior to joining the Navy. The bride will reside with her parents while the bridegroom is stationed at Naha, Okinawa. She plans to attend HCJC.

Aching Feet Can Be A Fun Drag

Aching feet can be a drag on HemisFair fun. Sunny days and sizzling sidewalks call for footwear that will keep you cool and dry.

Flimsy non-porous canvas or plastic shoe materials can trap moisture and heat, multiplying foot discomfort.

Leather has a built in "air conditioning" system. Its millions of tiny natural pores permit a continuous change of air inside the shoe, while simultaneously absorbing foot moisture. The breathing action keeps feet dry and helps prevent chafing and blistering.

Color at your feet for summer '68 includes the pales, (grey, pink, banana cream, nude) and the brights (poster green, yellow, orange, azalea). Also stepping lively will be navy, dark brown, red and, of course, white.

Mrs. Janie Cofer Brings Devotion

The Martha Foster Circle of Wesley Methodist Church will not meet for the next two succeeding Tuesdays because of Bible School at the church. The announcement was made by Mrs. Janie Cofer at Tuesday's meeting in her home at 707 E. 15th. The hostess gave the devotion and closing prayer. Refreshments were served to seven members.

The refreshment table was covered with a floor-length white cloth with net overlay. Crystal candelabra held pink tapers, and other appointments were of crystal and silver. The bouquets formed a centerpiece and rice bags were placed on silver trays. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Helen Rains, grandmother of the bride, Miss Elaine Grifford, Mrs. Landell Cathcart, all of Lubbock; and Mrs. Paul Soldan of Odessa.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Grifford wore a camel knit dress with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

smooth fashion. Ed Cogburn of Houston was elected permanent chairman by acclamation after John Alaniz of San Antonio withdrew his name.

Mary Schriber of Fort Worth was named secretary.

LEADERS Committee chairman named included:

Fred Lusk of Houston, Committee on the National Delegation; Kathy McGary of El Paso, Resolutions Committee; Albert Pena Jr. of San Antonio, Presidential Electors Committee; Don Gladden of Fort Worth, Credentials Committee; and Jesse Sapp of Waco, Committee for Permanent Organization.

The committees quickly named Don Alford of Austin as their choice for Democratic national committeeman and chose Patricia Wilson of Fort Worth as national committeewoman.

The Credentials Committee ruled that all persons who voted in the Democratic primaries this year as eligible to hold party posts and offices and added the persons—about 160 or more—present at the meeting. The Committee on Delegates asked for nominations by mail and said they would be announced at the September convention.

Pena said his committee selected a list of 13 presidential electors and that others would be added if all named could not accept. The electors included Pena, Miss Wilson, Mrs. Carr, Maury Maverick Jr. of San Antonio and state Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall.

WELFARE Resolutions were passed without a dissenting voice until some dealing with welfare, minimum age measures and endorsement of McCarthy came up. Welfare and wage issues were tabled. The vote against endorsing the Minnesota senator came on a 64-35 vote after a "division of the house" count by Cogburn.

Among the resolutions endorsed were one of sympathy for the family of Sen. Robert Kennedy, one denouncing Connally and what they called his "lack of concern of the plight of the Afro-American and the Mexican-American, and another declaring that the United States should pull its military forces out of Vietnam.

The anti-Connally resolution said he should not be elected or named to any office, state or federal.

UNIT RULE Another resolution asked that the unit rule be abolished from the state Democratic convention and presidential preference primaries be used instead of the convention system.

Besides Mrs. Carr and her husband, David, 41, leaders in the rump movement, other than the elected officials, included Don Weiss of Arlington, Trey Ellison, 30, of Austin; Lee Smith, 32, of El Paso.

Smith, a technical writing supervisor at White Sands Missile Range, N.M., said his residence was maintained in El Paso.

Mrs. Carr said, "We're going to Chicago with 104 delegates, and we'll present our case to the Democratic national committee." She added her group was prepared to go to court if necessary.

Two Divisions Need Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two U.S. Army divisions in South Korea are short some grades of officers, lack sufficient equipment and are deficient in over-all operating strength, according to a Senate subcommittee report.

The report dealing with the 2nd and 7th Infantry Divisions, was prepared by an investigating subcommittee and released in heavily censored form Tuesday.

The two divisions "show deficiencies in over-all operating strength, shortages of majors and captains, military occupation specialties and shortages of major items of equipment and repair parts," the report said.

In discussing the condition of the 7th Infantry Division, the subcommittee stated: "Shortages of major items of equipment and the lack of availability of repair parts to reduce the amount of equipment which is inoperable . . . are the principal reasons for the (deleted) condition of the division in logistics."

Subcommittee staff members investigated the condition of the units earlier this year following the seizure of the USS Pueblo by North Korean naval units.

35 Criminal Cases Called

Thirty-five criminal cases, representing over half of the total pending matters of this category in the 118th District Court, have been set down for consideration on a criminal jury docket to open June 24.

Judge Ralph Caton has announced he will sound the docket at 2 p.m. June 21, and a jury panel will be on hand June 24 to try such of the cases as may be ready.

Because the docket has been set for June 24, the grand jury, which would have been called for that date, will not be organized until July 9, Judge Caton announced.

MURDER RAPS Included in the list of cases which Wayne Burns, district attorney, has said are on the docket are three complaints charging murder, two alleging statutory rape, and two alleging armed robbery.

The murder cases, which are tentatively docketed for trial, include charges against Ismael Valdez, who is alleged to have shot Frank Maholy to death on Nov. 12, 1967. He was indicted Jan. 25.

Two other murder indictments set for trial name Joe Hernandez Jimenez as the defendant. Jimenez is alleged to have gunned down Roy Rodriguez and O. T. Ramirez in a shooting affray on the night of Jan. 6. He was also indicted on Jan. 25.

Ernest Turner, charged with statutory rape, is alleged to have committed the offense on Jan. 10, 1966. He was indicted Feb. 1, 1967. Robert Mesker, is alleged to have assaulted a teenage girl on March 30, 1968. He was indicted on April 16, 1968.

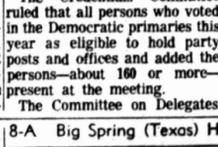

Ronnie G. Fisk and Roy L. Goswick are accused of armed robbery in connection with the alleged forcible seizure of a camper from two tourists.

BULKY DOCKET — Other cases on the long docket run the gamut from DWI, second offense to forgery. Theft is the most common.

Visit Creighton Tire Co. For All Your Tire Needs

Creighton Tire Co., 601 Gregg, has in stock a new tire by Seiberling — Super Wide Sports, the tire of 1970.

The Super Wide Sports tire has new wide-tread for high performance and long mileage. With sporty, Red-Line on one side and conventional white trim on the other, Super Wide Sports tires offer tremendous advantages.

They've been designed to fit a variety of automobiles, for one thing.

Seiberling Super Wide Sports tires deliver the superior stability and handling control required for modern, high-performance cars and have been specially engineered to deliver top mileage, too. A combination of unique tread design and special molding process does the trick.

MOLDING PROCESS

There 4-ply, nylon cord tires, with a flat-contour, 7-rib tread, feature totally enclosed sides and tie-bar reinforcing between ribs, for improved handling characteristics and longer wear. Super Wide Sports are produced through a special concave molding process that more evenly distributes rubber across the tread face. That reduces heat build-up and results in cooler running at high speeds for extended tire life.

Stop by 601 Gregg and let Charlie Creighton or Dalton Carr show you the Super Wide Sports tire that outpools other tires — even winter ones — and yet runs smoothly and quietly on dry roads.

One of Creighton Tire Co.'s most popular tires is the Seiberling 200 Sealed-Aire. Distinctively styled and performance rated at the top, this tire provides all the desirable qualities of comfort, safety, security, control and service you would expect in the finest tire made by Seiberling.

SECURITY

In addition to its superiority in comfort and control, the 200 Sealed-Aire provides the security of positive puncture protection. The puncture-sealing works in the following manner: when an object punctures the tire, the sealing gum clings to the object, keeping air in. When the object is removed, gum follows it through the puncture, sealing the break. In ordinary puncture-sealing tires, normal internal heat will semi-liquify the sealant, allowing it to shift position. You then lose both puncture protection and tire balance. Sealed-Aire bulheads built permanently into the crown of the tire, keep the sealant in position, giving you unfailing puncture protection and retention of balance.

The Sealed-Aire has new continental styling. The tires are distinctively styled from bead to crown and are highlighted by a smart pattern of black and white radial ribs plus a slim ribbon whitewall — ideally proportioned to complement modern automotive styling. Everyone will know at a glance that you've chosen the finest tire of all.

"THERMO-VENTS"

Another exclusive feature of Sealed-Aire is thermo-vents — air conditioning vents built into the shoulder area permitting excess internal heat to escape, allowing the tire to run cooler. This protects against the danger of blow-outs and other heat-caused failures. Tires run cooler, safer and last longer.

This safety tire has stabilizing wrap-around tread — functional wrap-around tread rib descends well into the shoulder area providing traction where you've never had it before. Eliminating tread roll-over in cornering smooths out changing road patterns, and rides up and over ruts and ridges with complete steering control. It provides new handling ease, unprecedented control and directional stability.

The latest advance in tire rubber compounding slows heat build-up, improves traction in all weather and extends tire life. You gain outstanding roadability, softer, quite ride and bonus miles.

The Sealed-Aire has wide, deep hi-traction tread, providing greater road contact area, which means improved traction and stability, distributing the load over larger surfaces for increased tread life. The highly tractive pattern means maximum grip under braking and acceleration.

SUPREME 150

Another popular tire at Creighton Tire Co. is the Supreme 150 — the maximum performance tire. It has the wide, deep, hi-traction tread, long mileage rubber and exclusive thermo-vents to let internal heat escape. It is constructed of Nyltex cord — a balance of stronger nylon cord and easier riding rayon cord. The Supreme 150 is an outstanding, good-looking tire. It has made a lot of tire-fuss-budgets' happy.

Many other tires for automobile and trucks are stocked by Creighton Tire Co. Farmers and ranchers are finding that the place to find any size tire is at Creighton's, 601 Gregg.

Bennett Keeps Records For Each Family

Bennett's Drive-In Pharmacy, 306 W. 16th, has a family prescription record to assist patrons and serve as a reference for physicians to better serve its customers.

The family prescription record is set up in alphabetical order, with one sheet for each family. The entire family is listed, with the ages and any allergies of each shown. This assists the pharmacists to check the dosage of medication as far as age and allergies are concerned. Each prescription filled is listed on the sheet by the member of the family receiving the medication. Should a prescription number be lost and a refill is desired, it is a simple matter to find the correct prescription number from the family records.

Should a record of a family's prescription be needed in filling out internal revenue forms or completing insurance claim forms, the family prescription record will be a ready reference for the patron of Bennett's Drive-In Pharmacy.

HASTON ELECTRIC

Plan Ahead For Wiring

At Haston Electric, 109 Goliad, three men with a combined total of 68 years of service have the experience and training necessary to take care of residential or commercial electrical problems.

Gene Haston, owner of Haston Electric, will advise the individual or contractor in planning a new home or business building in order that the wiring meets immediate electric needs and plans for the future. Planning is necessary to prevent the overloading of circuits which result in blown fuses and loss of time. A circuit with too many appliances can be dangerous.

Light fixtures that match the decor of your home will add to the total decorator's look. Not only should fixtures be purchased to match the furnishings of a room, but also to give sufficient light. Lights for reading and studying should be properly placed and of such construction to prevent glare. Haston Electric handles a large selection of lighting fixtures and can advise on proper fixtures for your needs.

MATCH DECOR
Over a hundred different kinds of light bulbs are carried in stock at Haston Electric, ranging from five-watt fluorescent and seven-watt incandescent bulbs in all sizes, from small four-inch ones to 96-inch giants. Guard lights also are carried in stock. If you should need something unusual that is not in stock, the proper bulb or fixture can be obtained from their wholesaler within a short time.

SERVICE CALLS
Haston Electric makes service calls and a call to 267-5103 will bring a trained, experienced electrician to your home or business very quickly.

Wiring for ranges, washers and heating units is a special help at Haston's. Let them help you with placing needed wall-plugs as nothing detracts from a room like a long, dangling cord or one stretched across an open space.

Be safe — let trained electricians take care of your electrical problems. Call Haston Electric, 267-5103.

24 Scholarships For Journalists
FORT WORTH (AP) — Twenty-four journalism scholarships worth $5,000 have been presented to high school and college students by the Texas Gridiron Club.
Recipients were announced recently at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, which sponsors the Texas Gridiron Show and Dinner.
Proceeds from the show will help 36 journalism students next year.

The sanctuary has been built with the knowledge that comfort, quietness and friendly service is most desired and appreciated when planning becomes difficult for relatives.
Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, through long years of service, has become the symbol of this comfort during hours of bereavement. Complete confidence in the trained men and women of Nalley-Pickle has led to a long-standing custom of turning all arrangements over to them, with the assurance that everything will be carried out to the minutest detail.
Rosewood Chapel is designed to provide privacy for the family during the service; to protect those attending services from inclement weather with a sheltered entranceway; comfort in air-conditioned rooms during services in the heat of summer and controlled central heat in the winter; ample parking with entrances on three streets.
Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is a member of the National Selected Morticians, a world-wide organization which keeps members informed of the latest developments in the profession.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two more variety shows were pumped Tuesday night into television's network channels already teeming with girl singers, boy comedians and singing groups.
First premiere of the evening was NBC's "Showcase '68," a simple, forthright half hour in which, without much production, a number of young performers were introduced.
All were professionals, but new to network TV. The acts included a young comedian whose specialty was making noises like a racing car; the mandatory blonde girl singer and an instrumental trio consisting of three youngsters in their teens.
Lloyd Thaxton, the host, used to preside over one of those teen dance parties, and introduced the acts in an economical fashion—bringing them on and letting them perform.

PRETTY GOOD
All of them were pretty good, and at the conclusion of the program a jury of two Los Angeles disc jockeys and an editor of a teenage magazine picked a winner for the evening—the comedian and the teenage trio tied.

In format and in performers the show is aimed at the young crowd and since it is a partial replacement for the Jerry Lewis show has a big audience of young people.

The show was followed, on CBS, by the premiere of Red Skelton's summer replacement, "Showtime," a variety hour

Markers Honor Town, Cemetery

RALLS, Tex. (AP)—Two Texas historical markers have been erected near the site of Emma, a Crosby County town now vanished into the past.
Emma flourished in 1891 and for a while was county seat of Crosby County. The town died after being bypassed by the railroad.

One of the markers honors the memory of the town, while the other marks the location of the Emma Cemetery, the burial place of 12 Civil War veterans and many of the county's first settlers.

The county seat was moved to Emma from Estacado in 1891. It remained at Emma until 1911 when it was moved to Crosbyton, the present county seat.

Shelley Berman was host on the first of the series, handling the introductions of foreign acts and presenting his amusing sketch in which he plays an American diplomat, an Eastern European dignitary and the go-between interpreter.

British singers Shirley Bassey and Matt Monroe were pleasant and there were some mildly amusing moments with an English comedy team and a German juggler.

DANCED A JIG

The new show had some very handsome, effective sets and there camera work was often imaginative. Goodness knows, however, where they found their studio audience. The sound track suggested that they would laugh at just about anything.
"Cardinal Cushing of Boston," which occupied half of the CBS weekly news hour, was put together two months ago, postponed and when finally showed proved to be of special interest. The 72-year-old prelate figured prominently in the Kennedy funeral services.

Colorful, tough-minded and delightfully frank, Cardinal Cushing in an interview with Harry Reasoner discussed the problems of the church in contemporary society and other subjects close to his religious concern.

But another side of the priest was also shown—on a visit to a home for the aged, he danced a jig to amuse them.

Dear Abby

A Mother-In-Law Joke?

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem which I can't confide in anyone else, so I'm turning to you.

My son-in-law told me that he is "in love" with me. He is 21, and I am 36. My daughter (his wife) is 19 and she's a perfect doll. They have an adorable baby.

I don't know what this boy sees in me, although people do say my daughter and I look like sisters.

Abby, it would break my daughter's heart to know how her husband feels about me. And I don't even want to think of what my husband would do if he knew.

I am having a hard time keeping this boy away from me. He keeps trying to get me alone, and he drops in all the time (without my daughter). What should I do? I can't very well tell him he's not welcome.

GRANDMOM
DEAR GRANDMOM: Aw, come on, you certainly can. Just tell the boy that if he doesn't cut out the nonsense you'll turn him over your knee. If his attentions are really as unwelcome as you say, tell him off—and that should be the end of it.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know where to begin explaining my problem because it's been bothering me for about 15 years now, and it's not getting any better. If anything, it's getting worse.

I am always washing my hands because I have it in my head that everything I touch has germs. I'll bet I wash my hands 50 or 60 times a day.

If I have company, I can't wait until they leave so I can wash everything they've touched. I wash the door knobs and even the chairs they've sat on, then I go take a bath and wash my hair, even though I've bathed before they arrived. I just have to wash everything they've come into contact with or I don't feel clean.

I never go to funerals anymore because when I do, I hurry home to take a bath, wash my hair, wash all the clothes I've worn, (even my shoes!) and I send my dress to the cleaners. I even wash my car!

Have you ever heard of anything like this before? Abby, I really like people, but I stay away from them because of this thing I have about germs.

I am making problems for my family because I am always after them (I have teenage children) to wash the way I do, and they are getting tired of it. Can you help me? Or am I hopeless?

UNCLEAN
DEAR UNCLEAN: I have heard of others who have had the same problem, and it's not "hopeless." Confide in your family doctor. He will recommend someone who will try to help you get rid of those fears.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LIBERAL LEADER PROMISES COURT TEST

Texas Demos Endorse Gov. Connally

DALLAS (AP) — Texas' official Democratic party gave Gov. John Connally a whole-hearted pat on the back Tuesday as a token favorite son candidate—and maybe as a vice presidential candidate, for real.

RUMP CONVENTION

The state convention endorsed, by a 2,834-498 roll call vote, sent a minority group of Liberals and supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy downtown for a so-called second convention that could result in a fourth political party for Texas. Less than half the opposing votes showed up at the rump convention.

"We want the whole country to know that John Connally is not the favorite son of everybody in Texas," said Mrs. Billie Carr, a Houston political worker who has led two previous liberal bolts at state conventions. She promised a court test and an appeal to the national convention.

At the same time the political revolutionists refused by a 64-65 vote to go on record as endorsing

McCarthy.

ALL THE WAY

Meanwhile the scheduled state convention went all the way with Connally. The 2,834-498 vote approved a so-called unit rule resolution that did three things—instructed Texas delegates to the national convention to nominate Connally as a favorite son presidential candidate, bound them to cast their 104 votes as the state convention instructed, and released them from the bond only when Connally gives his personal okay.

Connally has not committed himself, but is believed to favor Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey after the first ballot. There has been considerable speculation that Connally might be chosen as Humphrey's running mate.

Background influence of Presidential Politics appeared throughout the state convention. Numerous placards supported McCarthy. Some of the signs were made by pasting "McCarthy for President" bumper stickers over full color placards that originally read, "Connally, Texas' favorite son for president." A few handmade signs read "HHH and Sen. Edward Kennedy."

CROWD CHEERS

Connally appeared in the closing moments and told a shouting, cheering crowd that he viewed his favorite son position "not as a place of aspiration and ambition but rather as a point for the articulation of the basic principles that have made this nation great and good."

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, the party's nominee for governor, mingled with delegates and said in a speech that he did not know as "any bitter personal division in the Democratic ranks in Texas. We cannot stage our own private wars without being drawn into a vastly more dangerous war."

House Speaker Ben Barnes, nominee for lieutenant governor, urged support of Connally as a favorite son "to keep the strongest voice possible in our national party."

Although there was a flurry of arguments over the unit rule resolution, delegates at the six-hour convention spent much of their time just sitting and waiting. Backstage strategists said much of the delay was caused by party officials hoping that the dissident liberal group would get up and walk out.

"WALKOUT"

The "walkout," which occurred without most of the other delegates knowing what was happening, did not come until after the liberal faction delegates stayed through most of the agenda. They voted on all issues presented and left just before adjournment.

In other major action, the convention accepted the resignation of Frank Erwin of Austin as national committeeman and replaced him with Robert Strauss, Dallas lawyer and radio station owner. Mrs. Lloyd Benson Jr. was re-elected national committeewoman.

Three other resolutions, all proposed by Connally's convention planners, were approved. One offered condolences to the family of Sen. Robert Kennedy and another congratulated Dallas as a good convention host.

The fourth extended the convention's "warmest invitation to President Johnson to hasten his return to Texas, following completion of his term, to become its most distinguished and honored scholar enriching the minds of our young just as he has enriched the lives of almost 200 million Americans."

KILLED

Killed in committee were resolutions that would have called for unwavering support of all party nominees, for presidential primaries, for a state minimum wage law, for more state aid to the needy elderly, for more Mexican-Americans on the state constitutional revision commission and for "serious consideration" of Sen. McCarthy as a presidential nominee.

An effort to strike the name of former Gov. Allan Shivers from the list of delegates to the national delegation failed by a committee vote of 27-5.

Former legislator Jimmy Horany of Archer County protested that Shivers supported the Republican presidential nominees in 1952 and 1956 "and there was some talk he even supported Nixon against Kennedy."

Mrs. Asher McComb of Bexar County said Shivers "saved our ideas and we thank him for it."

Colombian Boss Offers To Quit, Fights Flare

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — serious condition. The government President Carlos Lleras Restrepo charged that the rioting Tuesday night to accept his resignation and Fidel Castro. The Senate on Friday rejected the South American constitutional amendments submission into its deepest governmental crisis in recent years. If Congress refuses to accept the resignation, Lleras said in a broadcast to the nation, it will mean it is ready to approve his program, which the Senate rejected last week.

Under the constitution, the presidency alternates between a Liberal and a Conservative every four years, the result of a 1957 agreement which ended a decade of civil war. Lleras is a supporter of Lleras and of ex-dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla.

In recent years both major parties have been split by factionalism, making it difficult for the government to put together a congressional majority to approved, including one student in

McCarthy Eyes Demo Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, resuming his campaign for president, is eyeing delegate prospects at Democratic state conventions.

In his first campaigning activity since Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination the Minnesota senator scheduled a Washington news conference for today.

With the primaries over, except for contests next week for 123 district delegates from New York, McCarthy is turning his attention to state Democratic conventions and to delegates already selected.

STRONGER

His aim will be to convince them he would be a stronger standard-bearer than Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

After a New York City appearance and a speech Thursday night McCarthy heads west for weekend appearances in Idaho and Montana, where Democratic conventions are taking place, and in Arizona, for the Western States Democratic Conference.

Aides indicated McCarthy would continue to stress the need for a change from the policies of the Johnson administration, which he claims would be carried on by Humphrey, his front-running rival for the Democratic nomination.

At the same time, aides said, McCarthy is banking on indications from public opinion polls that Humphrey would have difficulty defeating the likely GOP nominee, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

GRABS SPOTLIGHT

For the next three weeks, McCarthy is likely to have the field pretty much to himself on the Democratic side. Humphrey, at his lakeside home in Waverly, Minn., does not plan to return to Washington for a week and has no scheduled appearances before July 4, aides said.

McCarthy spent much of Tuesday in his Senate office, conferring with supporters who filed in and out of the office under the watchful eyes of two Secret Service men. McCarthy is one of the candidates giving Secret Service protection following the Kennedy shooting.

Kennedy Aides Moving, Most Seeking New Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many workers in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's Capitol Hill offices looked forward to moving days, sure it would be to the White House. Moving has begun, but few know where they will go.

TEARS

Secretaries had tears in their eyes Tuesday as they helped pack much of a man's life and almost a decade of a nation's history into crates, boxes and envelopes.

Fifteen staffers were still at work about 7 p. m. when Robert Kennedy's eldest son, Joseph, 15, stopped by unexpectedly.

Accompanied by former astronaut John Glenn, a family friend, the lad shook hands and chatted briefly with several staff members, saying he just stopped by to say hello.

Activity in the offices, three rooms on three floors of the New Senate Office building was busy but subdued during the day.

And the scene at Kennedy for President headquarters downtown was the same.

Telephones rang incessantly in both places, possibly as much or more than before Kennedy's assassination a week ago.

A Kennedy spokesman said the campaign offices in Washington would be closed by Friday. The Senate offices, he said, were expected to operate for 30 to 60 days as staffers continue to handle and sort papers, speeches, and campaign paraphernalia — some headed for the National Archives, some to the senator's widow.

TEDDY TO HELP

The spokesman said the Kennedy salaried staff on the Hill numbered 37 with 12 more in New York City and two in Syracuse.

He said two aides of the slain senator's brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., are accepting job resumes from staffers and that the lone surviving brother has promised to help them find new jobs.

Under federal law, a deceased senator's employes remain on the payroll for 60 working days, in this case until Aug. 6. The Senate, by resolution, could extend the period.

The scene at Kennedy offices in Washington was duplicated in the Kennedy campaign offices in New York—in somberness if not activity.

A Devotional For The Day

It was in those days that he went up the hillside to pray, and spent the whole night in prayer to God. (Luke, 6:12, Phillips)

Fairly Stated Policy

Last week 73 Columbia University students were suspended for at least a year because of their conduct during the disorders that crippled and temporarily halted the 25,000-student institution for weeks.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, president, took a commendable attitude toward the matter pointing out that the action was not in a vindictive spirit, but in consciousness of the administration's duty to those who pursue their studies here and now, and to those who will follow.

While the university will continue to welcome free expression of dissent, it will not tolerate to any degree whatever, infractions of the university's rules of civilized conduct, nor any attempt to violate the rights of any individuals in their legitimate pursuits here.

This spells it out clearly, and it strikes us that the premise Dr. Kirk has laid down here would be applicable in other places and under other circumstances. It fits neatly into the adage about rights — the right to swing your arm ends just short of some one else's nose.

Reviving An Old Custom

Within a couple of weeks the agriculture committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a one-day tour into Borden County. This will afford business and professional people a change to see what is being done on farms, ranches and in various other enterprises in our next door county.

Best of all, it will give a chance to renew old friendships and make new. We often get so occupied with our every day affairs that we forget that one quality which we like to boast about — being neighborly. We trust that our people will take opportunity of this chance to visit across the fence line.

Ancient Arabia Trailed In Texas

By ED SYERS

Many a geographer still refers to a vast, forbidding sand waste of Inner Arabia as its "Empty Quarter" — until recently unexplored, unexplored except by lonely bedouin, yet perhaps a key to a civilization known to the Book of Genesis. Strangely, a trail to it is sought in Texas, and leads to a lost, century-old gravestone.

Hear Charles D. Matthews, University of Texas Research Professor in Linguistics and expert Arabist who, for years, has sifted languages for forgotten names of that region:

"WHAT IS desired is the location of the burial place, about 1860, of a titled German immigrant, Adolph von Wrede. Others of the same family are known in Texas history.

"Von Wrede was one of the earlier modern explorers of mysterious southwestern Arabia, in 1843, in the general region of Hadramaut (which edges the map void called 'Empty Quarter' and traces to Arabia's Biblical beginnings). 'Useful geographical information from von Wrede was immediately incorporated into the great international geography of Karl Ritter.

"However, either von Wrede misunderstood his bedouin informants or was mistaken in his thought that he had arrived within the bounds of the horrendous inner desert of sand. Later investigations proved he could not possibly have been where he thought he was.

"FACING ATTACK by the famous geographer Humboldt and, no doubt attracted by relatives' accounts of Texas, he came to join their German colony. Not all was happiness in the New World, however. History tells how a relative, enroute Austin, was scalped and killed by the Indians. Also, von Wrede himself is said to have committed suicide.

Linguist Matthews cites ample authority for the German nobleman's grim desert search at a time when almost no one could dare the Arab's inner lost world, and also for von Wrede's apparent disappearance in Texas. His own search to fill the emp-

I can't seem to find peace. Will positive thinking help? How does one think positive thoughts? W.S. Sometimes the term "positive thinking" can be misinterpreted. If it is detached from the redeeming power of God it becomes a mere mental exercise with limited results.

The Bible says, "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." Our minds, in their natural state, tend to entertain doubts, resentments, evil imaginations, and other kinds of wrong thoughts. The Bible teaches that when Christ comes into our lives He brings new thought processes. This becomes "positive thinking" in a Christian sense. Then His thoughts become our thoughts. Instead of thinking badly about people who have wronged us, we begin to think good thoughts about them. Instead of being unbelieving about God's goodness, and cynical about others, we put the best construction upon everything. Many people are eaten up these days by hatred, malice and envy. This is not pleasing to God, and does great damage to ourselves. Christ can change all this. Remember, the Bible says, "Let this mind be in you." This means that if we choose we can go on living in inner misery, but it also means that God has given us the power to choose the Way of peace, joy and contentment. It is up to us. Christ's power is available to all who will accept it.

Efforts To Cut Overseas Travel Flops

NEW YORK (AP) — Administration efforts to keep dollars at home by curtailing overseas spending for pleasure are running head on into obstacles.

The objective is to reduce by $500 million the annual travel deficit, which in 1967 soared to $2 billion, the net result of Americans spending nearly $4 billion abroad while foreigners spent $2 billion here.

LESSENING the prospects for substantial help in balancing the travel outgo and income are these factors:

—Measures that would impose taxes on foreign travel and limit spending abroad are still being argued in the Senate.

The peak travel season, the time when students, educators and sightseeing secretaries head for Europe, began in late May and will extend to Sept. 28. A good part of the season will have passed before any bill could become law.

—Americans have plenty of money to spend on travel regardless of whether a travel tax is passed, and they seem also to have the desire to use this money.

—THE EASE and glamor of airline travel is making trips to foreign lands, particularly to Europe, an almost irresistible attraction to people of moderate incomes.

Whatever the motivation, new and renewed passport applications for the first two months of 1968 rose sharply over a year earlier.

A study by the National Industrial Conference Board, and reported in the Conference Board Record, a monthly publication of the nonprofit organization, showed passports were being handed out early this at a rate 30 per cent higher than a year ago. Less than 10 per cent were obtained for business.

Perhaps the most encouraging aspect of the travel payments situation is the cooperation received from business in promoting travel of foreigners to the United States through reductions in transportation fares and hotel rates.

ESTIMATES indicate that the new low-cost fares for Europeans and Middle Easterners visiting America may bring in as many as 100,000 additional tourists in the first year of its operation.

The Conference Board comments that this is of significance, because in 1967 about 1.7 million Americans traveled to Europe and the Mediterranean areas while only 900,000 from those areas toured America.

ANOTHER AREA of encouragement is Canada. Last year U.S. residents spent $1.1 billion in that country, much of it because of the Expo world's fair exhibit.

This year there could be some improvement. Although many Americans will travel to Montreal and to other Canadian cities because of the second edition of Expo, many Canadians who stayed home last year will visit the United States.

Put Your Faith In Fat Folks

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

If you have to trust someone, you'll generally do better by putting your faith in a fat man. Fat people are more likely to be honest than skinny people simply because it usually takes too much energy to be crooked.

The more sophisticated cocktail party, the less likely it is that half the guests present can give the right answer to a practical question, such as, "How many faucets are there on a milk cow?"

A FELLOW WOULDNT mind the high cost of sending a son through college if it would just send him back home a good quarterback.

A man is still boss in the family if, when they go shopping together in the supermarket, he walks in front of the shopping cart and she pushes it.

The trouble with many rebellions today is that they seem designed to stir echoes rather than achieve goals. Even those who join in them often can't explain clearly what they are for.

Nine out of ten lads and lassies who are wearing the new popular tight-collared Nehru jackets can't spell Nehru's first name without looking it up. But you and I know all the time it was Jawaharlal—or something like that—didn't we?

FISHING HAS always seemed to me one of the dullest of all ways for a man to kill time, but it does have one good result: Few of its devotees end up in either police courts or divorce courts.

What makes the outrageous opinions of today's teenage children even more irritating to parents is the way the kids pop their gum while expressing them.

A hypocrite is a guy who takes a pair of binoculars to a beach strewn with bikini-clad girls and pretends he likes to stare through the glasses at all the sailboats standing out to sea.

LIQUOR NEVER reveals a man's true character more surely than inheriting money does. So the sternest of all tests of a man's principles must be whether he can inherit a profitable distillery and remain the same sweet guy his friends thought him to be before.

One way to tell a man's age is to toss a penny on the sidewalk in front of him. If he glances at it, then walks on, he's under 35. If he bends down and picks it up, he's between 36 and 49. If he starts to bend down but halts because his back hurts him, he's over 50.

Just when we decide the world has gone altogether to the devil, we see, now and then, an old lady placidly at work in her rose garden, and decide there is some hope for mankind yet.

Around The Rim

Bloody Trail

On the morning of May 23, 1934, a V-8 Ford pulled up near a rendezvous below Eiblsland, La. Too late the man and woman occupant realized something was wrong. They reached for their guns but died in a hail of fire. For Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, their trail of murder was over.

THE NUMBER of killings which they actually did was not clear — at least nine, probably more. And there were others in which they took part or which they instigated.

Clyde Barrow was a slight punk from West Dallas who stood 5-7, weighed about 130-140 pounds, had blue-gray eyes, a thin, hard mouth and slicked back hair parted right in the middle. Bonnie Parker was a small woman who posed for snapshots with a machinegun in her hands and a cigar in her mouth. In her days as a Dallas waitress, she was known as the "Devil's Daughter."

CLYDE'S CAREER started Dec. 3, 1926, when he was arrested as a burglary suspect. Several arrests followed and by March 2, 1930, he was given 14 years in Waco on a series of charges. He escaped prison, was recaptured in Middleton, Ohio, then returned to Texas prison and a pardon on Feb. 2, 1932. By March 25 he had been charged with burglary.

ABOUT THIS time he teamed with Raymond Hamilton, another Dallas hoodlum, and together they killed J. N. Bucher, Hillsboro service station operator April 30, 1932. Hamilton went his way, later was captured and sentenced to 99 years. Clyde took a new partner — Bonnie Parker. They were credited with killing an officer and badly wounding a not her at Atoka, Okla., Aug. 5, 1932. Next, Howard Hall, a Sherman grocery clerk, was their victim in a robbery Oct. 11, 1932. The two worked in several robberies and burglaries and then killed again—this time Doyle Johnson, Temple, on Christmas Day, 1932.

Officers had driven to the Barrow homestead in Dallas on a routine check Jan. 1, 1933, when a strange car drove up. Without warning gunfire came from the car and Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Davis of Tarrant County fell dead.

They robbed a bank at Lancaster, then broke up the party. State Highway Patrolmen E. B. Wheeler and H. D. Murphy, investigating a car parked four miles northwest of Grapevine on April 2, 1934, were mowed down with machineguns. Bonnie rolled one of the patrolmen over, calm ly pumped several bullets into his chest.

FLEEING, THEY wrecked their car near Miami, Okla., April 6, 1934, and Constable Cal Campbell, who went to help, was shot in cold blood.

By now they were so hot on relatives dared all they. They dodged pursuers across North and East Texas and into Louisiana where help supposedly awaited them. Instead, Dallas Deputies Ted Hunter and Bob Alcorn, with two former Texas Rangers, lay in wait. This time the officers got to shoot first.

— JOE PICKLE

CLYDE'S BROTHER, Buck, had been pardoned from Texas prison and went to Joplin, Mo., to establish a contact point. Clyde and Bonnie went there and when on April 3, 1933, officers went to investigate a bootlegging complaint, they ran into a wall of bullets. Constable J. W. Harrington and Detective Harry McGinnis fell dead. They fled, robbing as they went, heading up a bank at Lucerne, Ind., wounding two women. On June 11, 1933, they kidnaped two officers who investigated a wreck, then had another wreck at Alma, Ark., where they fatally shot investigating Marshal Henry D. Humphrey without warning. Then they robbed a National Guard armory in Oklahoma, headed into Dexter, Iowa, where they were cornered in a woods and Buck was fatally wounded. Clyde and Bonnie escaped, continued hitting stores, banks and service stations in Nebraska, Minnesota, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

SHERIFF SMOOT Schmid, Dallas, laid an ambush, but Bonnie and Clyde shot their way through it. Then they had pistols smuggled to Raymond Hamilton, in a Eastham farm prison, and in the ensuing break, while Bonnie and Clyde waited in a getaway car nearby, Major Crowson, a guard, was killed and another guard was critically wounded.

They robbed a bank at Lancaster, then broke up the party. State Highway Patrolmen E. B. Wheeler and H. D. Murphy, investigating a car parked four miles northwest of Grapevine on April 2, 1934, were mowed down with machineguns. Bonnie rolled one of the patrolmen over, calmly pumped several bullets into his chest.

FLEEING, THEY wrecked their car near Miami, Okla., April 6, 1934, and Constable Cal Campbell, who went to help, was shot in cold blood.

CLYDE'S BROTHER, Buck, had been pardoned from Texas prison and went to Joplin, Mo., to establish a contact point. Clyde and Bonnie went there and when on April 3, 1933, officers went to investigate a bootlegging complaint, they ran into a wall of bullets. Constable J. W. Harrington and Detective Harry McGinnis fell dead. They fled, robbing as they went, heading up a bank at Lucerne, Ind., wounding two women. On June 11, 1933, they kidnaped two officers who investigated a wreck, then had another wreck at Alma, Ark., where they fatally shot investigating Marshal Henry D. Humphrey without warning. Then they robbed a National Guard armory in Oklahoma, headed into Dexter, Iowa, where they were cornered in a woods and Buck was fatally wounded. Clyde and Bonnie escaped, continued hitting stores, banks and service stations in Nebraska, Minnesota, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Street Paving Plan Gets Green Light

A street paving program for 72 blocks and estimated to cost more than $280,000 was given the green light by the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday.

Public Works director Ernest Lillard was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the paving program, together with an estimate of costs. In discussing the cost estimates, Lillard told the commission that probably a third of the work would be done in the next budget year, thus the city's share of the costs could be budgeted in two years.

In answer to a question by Commissioner Walter Stroup, Lillard said the work would still be under way this time next year. The commission had previously been told that work could not begin before September, due to the necessary legal steps.

FUNDS AVAILABLE

told the commission there is $60,000 in uncommitted funds in the budget that can be applied on the city's share of the program. The current program, as now planned, would involve an estimated $69,826 cost to the city, with the property owners paying the balance of $212,095.

However, Lillard said many of the property owners might drop out before the program is initiated. He said although many sign petitions for the paving, they sometimes back out when it comes time to pay.

STREETS

The streets included in the program are: Northwest Ninth Street, from Aylford to San Antonio; Northeast Tenth Street, from Benton to Main; North Eleventh Street, from US 87 to Gregg; Northeast Eighth, from Benton to Main; West Eighth, from US 80 to Andrew; San Antonio, from Fourth Street to Tenth Street; Sixteenth Street, from Gregg to Lancaster; Ninth Street, from Gregg to Lancaster; Fourteenth Street, from Dixie to Settles; Thirteenth Street, from Dixie to Settles; Twelfth Street, from Gollad to Austin; Young, from Twelfth to Sixteenth Street; Austin, from Fourth Street to Sixth Street; Austin, from Second Street to Third Street; East Nineteenth, from Donley to Settles; Phillips Road, from Virginia to Birdwell Lane; Northwest Sixth Street, from Lamesa Drive to San Antonio; Lorilla, from Seventh Street to US 80; Lancaster, from First Street to Second Street; North Gregg, from Lamesa Drive to IS 20; North Scurry, from IS 20 to Northwest Seventh Street to IS 20; North Fifth Street, from Scurry to Main; North Third Street, from Trades to Dundee; Trades, from Third Street to Fourth Street.

At the request of the Big Spring Independent School District, commissioners decided to close Mittel Street, south of Twentieth Street. However, the street right-of-way dedication will not be cancelled, in the event the city might want to reopen it at some future time.

Commissioners named Bill Estes, Billy T. Smith and Pat Murphy to serve as board of equalization representatives for the city, at the upcoming sessions. These will also serve the school district.

ZONING DENIED

On a motion by Jimmy Morehead, the commission decided not to consider the re-zoning of property in the Belyue Addition from Zone 2-F, duplex, to MF, multifamily. Joe Amberson, representing Big Spring Rental Homes, had asked the commission to hear an appeal, after the denial by the planning and zoning commission. He planned to build an apartment house in the area.

The zoning commission had denied the request on the grounds the streets serving the area were too narrow for more traffic, and that sewer service in the area is already overloaded. Several petitions from residents in the area were also presented, urging that the request be denied.

A request for damages caused by a sewer line backup was denied, on a motion by George Zachariah. Mrs. T. G. Adams, 507 Johnson, presented a bill to the city for $134, which she said was the result of a back-up at her home, causing damage to floors and rugs.

Identical Average

ABILENE (AP)—Sandra and Sylvia Hart, virtually identical twins from Cisco, Tex., graduated from Hardin-Simmons University recently with identical average, 3.67 based on a 4-point system. They both attended Cisco Junior College before coming to Hardin-Simmons.

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky quit today as head of South Vietnam's People's Self Defense Committee, giving further evidence of President Nguyen Van Thieu's gains in the long power struggle between the two men.

Ky's letter of resignation to Thieu came after a week in which Ky had not participated in any government activities and has remained almost entirely in seclusion at the seaside town of Nha Trang.

SELF-DEFENSE

The committee is an attempt by the government to arm and give rudimentary training to neighborhood and village groups for self defense against the Viet Cong. Ky was appointed to head it on May 3.

In the past week, Thieu has steadily increased his own control of the government at the expense of Ky. One after another, Thieu has replaced high officials loyal to Ky with men loyal to himself.

Among the Ky men replaced or about to be replaced are Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngo Loan, director of the national police; Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of the 3rd Military Corps Area; and Van Van Cua, the mayor of Saigon.

Several other high-ranking Ky supporters were killed last week by a rocket from a U.S. helicopter which the U.S. mission said misfired.

Ky has only those duties assigned to the vice president by the constitution. They are largely ceremonial.

Ky in his letter of resignation said: "In consideration of the fact that we have a new government which is capable of commanding a people's self-defense committee more responsibly, I have found it necessary for me to hand over the power to command the committee to the government from today on."

WORK OF POLICE DEPARTMENT COMMENDED

Citizens Support Chief Banks

A delegation of Big Springers stood up Tuesday night as supporters of the Big Spring Police Department and particularly its chief, E. J. Banks.

Nine individuals commended the chief and his department to the city commission, which joined them by formal motion in expressing confidence and support. However, the crowd in the commission room was much larger.

Prefacing his remarks with a statement that he usually attends commission meetings to "beef or with criticism," D. A. Brazel pointed out that the country today has had outbursts of crime and disrespect for law and order, but "there has been none here and it is time to give recognition to the department responsible — our police department."

"FORTUNATE"

He recalled an incident involving his family in which he requested police assistance and received immediate action. "It has failed to be told to the public," he said, "the part Jay Banks played in catching the robber of the State National Bank. His personal knowledge was responsible for the arrest."

"We are most fortunate to have the type of police department we have and our chief is recognized throughout the state," he said.

AFFIDAVIT

Mrs. Mary Thomas, who has filed two misdemeanor cases charging Banks with gaming and failure to enforce the law, offered to provide a copy of an affidavit signed by Marvin (Rip) Morrison, who has been convicted of the robbery of the State National Bank. Apparently, this affidavit is the basis for her suits.

Cecil Riordan reminded the commissioners that "Mr. Morrison is a convicted bank robber." He said he also usually comes to the meetings to offer criticism, but added "it is a pleasure to come to express confidence in our police department."

"We are living in a time when any man in law enforcement is challenged," he said. "Our police department is recognized throughout the state."

RESPONSIBLE

"Don't let these allegations or controversy affect our department," he urged the commissioners, "or the one man responsible for it, E. J. Banks, who he called a 'leader of leaders.'"

Roscoe Cone, who recalled his long experience in city administration, observed that Big Spring has "one of the better records in its police department, not only in Texas, but in the United States," which he attributed to a community attitude.

"Jay Banks," he said, "is human like the rest of us... and is exemplary as a citizen and, in heading up the police department, has contributed exceptionally to the effectiveness of the department." In Big Spring, he added, the crime rate is lower than throughout the state, which speaks well of the city operation.

PERSONALITIES

He alluded to the possibility that "personalities may have entered into the picture" concerning recent charges. But in the over-all picture, Cone said "city officials and department heads including Banks, have done an outstanding job."

Mrs. Thomas again spoke, stating "there are some good policemen." But she said the law should be equally enforced. She recited incidents where the police department had not acted, mentioning gambling on the Northside and an attack on a man, but said a boy was given a ticket for honking at a police car.

Raymond Tollett, who received the commission of his 28 year residency here, also pointed out that before spending many years in the oil industry, he served 2 1/2 years in the FBI, six months as special agent in charge. He said he had been continually in touch with the FBI since leaving, and in addition has served six consecutive terms as a Special Texas Ranger.

RECOMMENDED

Tollett said before Banks accepted the position as police chief here, he investigated Banks' background, particularly concerning activities in Fort Worth. He said he received an "unqualified recommendation" for Banks from the late Homer Garrison, Department of Public Safety commander, and an unqualified recommendation from the FBI agent in charge at Dallas.

"I categorically deny that Banks was engaged in the affairs that led to his resignation at Fort Worth," he said. "It behooves us, as citizens of Big Spring, to commend Jay Banks for the fine police department he has built since coming here," he concluded.

BANKS SILENT

Referring to the recent burglary charges involving policemen, E. A. Fiveash reminded the commissioners that with the low salary scale, "you can't always depend on everyone you hire. Some are a credit and some a discredit."

Banks, who attends all commission meetings, was asked by Mrs. Thomas if he wanted to say anything, and he replied no. John Burgess, attorney for Banks in the case Mrs. Thomas filed, told the commission he has instructed Banks to make no public statements.

"My family and I feel safe here," Paul Meek said, "and we are proud of our police department."

"We have an excellent police department and a safe city," Dr. Halvard T. Hansen said, "due to the backing of our citizens. When unfortunate things happen, they are corrected as soon as they occur. I think the citizens of Big Spring endorse Chief Banks."

PROMPT HELP

Bill Westbrook reminded the audience. Commenting on his experience, he said when he has called for police help, it has arrived at a minute's notice. "I feel it is the finest police department in the state."

Mrs. Peggy Harrison, secretary in the police detective branch, told the commission "We feel any accusation against Chief Banks is against us all. We are behind him 100 per cent."

"I thank you people for coming here," said Mayor Arnold Marshall. "We are proud of our city and we support our police department."

George Zachariah then made the following motion, which was unanimously approved: "The commission appreciates citizens appearing commending our police department, and the commission shares their confidence and support of the police department."

Architect Named To Figure Costs On Golf Clubhouse

City commissioners Tuesday named Daryle Hohertz as architect for the new golf clubhouse, and asked that estimates of costs be provided for a metal building or a brick veneer building. Following a study of these, the commission is expected to give him the go-ahead for drawing plans and specifications.

Hohertz has made preliminary drawings for the building, which includes an office, sales area, lounge, snack bar, and rest rooms. A cart shed was not included in the authorization.

$18,000 COST

The commission was acting on a recommendation of the parks and recreation board, which estimated that the building would cost $18,000 with architectural costs at $1,000.

The commission also approved the recommendation that weekend and holiday play on the golf course be limited to threesomes, foursomes, and fivesomes.

The commission approved two recommendations from the traffic commission. These were to put stop signs on Vicky Street at Parkway and Hearn, and on Fourteenth Street, at Austin.

Public hearing was held and first reading approved for a change from Zone C, commercial, to Zone CA, central area, for the lots numbered 600 through 610 Runnels.

FIRE PROTECTION

Public hearing was held and first reading given to an on-premises consumption permit for the Park Inn, at the entrance to the City Park, at the request of Nellie R. Mott.

Dr. J. H. Burnett was referred to the county commissioner's court on his request for fire protection in the Silver Heels area. George Zachariah told him the commission would favor some arrangement with the county to provide fire protection in the area.

Dr. Burnett pointed out that the nearest volunteer truck is at Sand Springs, and he was willing to pay some suitable fee to obtain service from city trucks.

City Attorney Tom Luckaby told him the city has no liability from liability outside the city limits and could not send trucks out without some coverage, which was previously provided by the county, under a special agreement.

WATER CONTROL

The commission approved Zachariah's motion to call for bids for control system equipment for the water works system to be opened July 3, at 10 a.m. Estimated cost for the equipment is $28,000.

A new contract with the Big Spring Country Club was approved for leasing and using a water line in the country club area. John Burgess was spokesman for the club, which was also represented by Paul Meek and Lester Morton.

A $25 monthly payment was eliminated from the new pact; the city adopts maintenance on the line, reimbursable by the club at a cost of plus 14 per cent. The City will pay the electric costs, also reimbursed by the club; the contract term is for 10 years, with a renewable option of 10 years; and the city is not liable for any failure to provide water through the line.

Routine Matters Considered

Although discussion of the proposed 1968-1969 budget took up most of the evening, Big Spring school trustees considered some routine items on a lengthy agenda.

They approved a revised Title I budget to include a summer program grant of $35,835 to aid programs functioning at Cedar Crest, Bauer, Lakeview and a special education in remedial reading and library use.

Trustees accepted the resignation of Wendell Huddleston, principal of Park Hill Elementary School for the past five years, who resigned his position to accept a post in the Lubbock Public Schools. He and his wife plan to take advanced professional work in Lubbock, Supt. Sam Anderson said.

Letters of resignation were accepted from the following teachers: for personal and family reasons, John Ball, high school mathematics; Mrs. Barbara Holmes, Airport third grade; Mrs. Patricia Parks, Gollad English; Mrs. Mary Sharp, Marcy first grade; Mrs. Evelyn Turner, Gay Hill first grade; Mrs. Sue Willbanks, high school homemaking.

To accept another position:

Mrs. Editha Joy Burnsed, Runnels librarian; William H. Hallmark, Gollad physical education and coach; Jimmy R. Marcus, high school history and coach; Earl Penner, Cedar Crest sixth grade.

Savage, high school mathematics; Mrs. Sarah H. Scott, high school English; Mrs. Susan Warden, College Heights first grade; Mrs. Rosemary Weaver, high school art; Mrs. Sharon Winders, Marcy first grade.

Maternity: Mrs. Christine Cook, Gollad science; unsigned contract, A. J. Atkins, Runnels science; leaving Big Spring, Sharron Creighton, special education; Mrs. Frances Huddleston, Bauer first grade, Donna L. McDonald, Boydston fourth grade.

Health reasons: Mrs. Mary Underwood, special education; to return to private business, Louis Heinze, high school building trades.

To further education: Mrs. Marguerite J. Garrett, high school part-time choral; Edward D. Hall Jr., Runnels art; Paul M. Stevens Jr., College Heights sixth grade.

The following teachers were employed: Mrs. Ruby Ruth Allgood, Kentwood fourth grade, master of arts, Texas Western College, 21 years' teaching experience, from Odessa; Paula Ruth Browning, special education, bachelor of arts, Lamar State College, one year's teaching experience, from Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Gail E. Cantrell, Washington sixth grade, bachelor of science, Eastern New Mexico University, from Portales, N.M., no experience; Elizabeth Ann Clana, speech therapist, bachelor of science, Lamar State College, two years' teaching experience, from Denver, Colo.; Gary Mack Griffin, Gollad physical education and coach, bachelor of science, Angelo State College, no teaching experience, from Abilene.

Also, Mrs. Rebecca Hagood, high school English, bachelor of science, McMurry College, six years' teaching experience, local resident; Clovis Hale, high school physical education and coach, three years' teaching experience, local resident; Mrs. Beatrice S. Nesbitt, Runnels librarian, master of science, East Texas State University, 18 years' teaching experience, from Commerce; Mrs. Billie G. Head To Head Battle

Head to head Emile Griffith of New York and Andy Hellman of Los Angeles trade punches during their 12-round bout in Oakland Coliseum Tuesday night. Griffith, former middleweight champion who lost his crown to Nino Benvenuti of Italy, won a split decision over Hellman.

Former Champion Griffith Knows How To Hurt A Guy

OAKLAND (AP)—In the ring title fight with champion Nino Benvenuti, Griffith's continued close-in fighting kept Emile from landing a knockout punch though he continually smacked the 27-year-old North Dakotan with telling blows.

"I wasn't trying for a knockout," Griffith said with a straight face, "because I needed the workout. I was trying to put on a good show. I needed the practice."

The decision was split because referee Vern Bybee scored the fight as a draw.

Both judges gave Griffith

Pirates Capture Extra Inning Tilt

The Pirates and Stars locked in an extra-innings battle Tuesday in the American Little League before the Pirates finally won it 4-3. This left the Pirates with a 13-1 record and the Stars 6-7.

Roger Burchell, who pitched the two extra innings, was the winning pitcher, having relieved Ronald McKee after six. Noel Hull, who also relieved Kit Grice who hurled the first six, was the unlucky pitcher. Grice struck out 11. Chris Bogard homered for the Pirates in the third with one man on. The box score:

Trustees Take Initial Look At Athletic Budget

Big Spring school trustees took a brief look at the proposed athletic budget of $93,480 for the 1968-1969 school year at a special meeting Tuesday night to study new fiscal year budget. The current total is $89,572.

Athletic Director Spike Dykes, speaking on behalf of the budget request, said that he felt the athletic requests had been trimmed as far as they could be and still maintain a satisfactory athletic program in the schools.

Of the amount Dykes requested, $44,380 would come as a subsidy from the general fund. Revenues would provide the rest.

A breakdown of the proposed budgets for each department follows, with the current year's budget in parentheses:

Football $24,915 ($25,033.05); basketball $8,210 ($6,394); baseball $4,006 ($4,476.75); volleyball $4,018 ($3,056.95); golf $1,210 ($1,185); tennis $1,975 ($1,975); swimming $1,743 ($1,743.52); track $5,753 ($5,925.70); athletic director expenses $2,750 ($2,750); insurance $2,600 ($2,250); cheerleaders $1,000 ($1,000); and miscellaneous $23,300 ($21,782). The miscellaneous slot includes training supplies, telephone and telegraph, band expense, laundry and dry cleaning, tickets and printing, field equipment, station wagon expense, game contracts are pegged at $12,000.

Lands Big One

L. C. Alston, a consistent and successful fisherman at Moss Creek Lake, displays a big one—a 27½-pound catfish — he landed at the lake. His grandchildren, Carol Jean Ferguson, Denver City, and Tony Bowen, Odessa, concede it is the biggest one they ever saw.

Alston Continues Touch As Moss Creek Fisher

A throw line baited with a perch netted L. C. Alston a 27½-pound yellow catfish at Moss Creek Lake Tuesday afternoon.

The big fish was snared near the dam by Alston who is a consistent fisher at the lake. On Monday afternoon, Alston caught a 3-pound channel cat, and in 1967 he nabbed two 25-pound hefties at the same lake.

Between May 1 and July 15 last year Alston took 110 pounds of catfish from the reservoir.

He lives on the Moss Creek road about five miles from the lake, which makes it easy for him to make regular visits to the resort.

Fishermen, he said, are having good luck these days at the lake.

Cycle Club To Hold Meeting

Plans for a scramble track will be discussed at a meeting of the Big Spring Motorcycle Club in an 8 p.m. Thursday meeting at the pavilion near the totem pole in the City Park.

After the meeting there will be a true-false run, said Jack Parrott, president. Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

(With Nate Mitchell pinch-hitting for Tommy Hart) There was a lot of interest regarding San Angeloan Shorty Gideon's competing in the Handicap Division in the Big Spring Amateur golf tournament held here last weekend. The ex-Big Springer preceded J. B. Wetzel (now in Jal. N.M.) as the golf professional at the municipal golf course here.

Shorty teamed up with Sam Hulme, a local resident, and walked off with first place honors ($100 each in gift certificates) at the meet's end last Sunday. With his handicap, Gideon fired a 27 in the opening round; came back with a 30 on the last day for a 57 in 36 holes of playing. Meanwhile, his partner pieced together a pair of 31s for a 62, which totaled out at 119—the best in the division.

Locals Hut Summersell and Ralph Mahoney managed an aggregate of 120—just a stroke back—for $60 each and second place plaudits in the division.

As expected, linksters from all over the area descended upon the Big Spring Country Club for the annual get-together — coming from as far away as Houston. A pair of school kids, Joe Selman and Jim Thomas, drove here from the Astro City to compete.

Other regional cities represented included Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Snyder, Monahans, Lubbock and Levelland. Still other towns were probably represented, but the acquisition of this information became next to impossible during the buff, puff and pressure of the meet.

The meet failed, in part, to better last year's total of participants — 224 vs. 230 — but with only amateurs allowed in the tourney this year, this was an excellent turnout. Chances are, next year's conclave will attract even more golfers.

Atlanta Braves' strongman, Hank Aaron, has a theory about what should be done about the decline in hitting in the big leagues. "Maybe they should give the batter four strikes," Hammering Hank reasons. "I can't see how moving the mound back will help except for more bases on balls. What really worries me, though, is that the lack of hitting is cutting deeply into our attendance."

As further evidence of the decline in attendance at baseball games, going into their game against the San Francisco Giants May 31, the Los Angeles Dodgers had drawn 408,352 paying customers, as compared with 431,007 at the same period last season.

When Mexico City asked for the 1968 Olympic Games, its main purpose was "to show the 400 million people who will view the games on television a true image of today's Mexico."

With the games still only about five months hence, there are many housing, press, traffic and other problems plaguing this city of 6,000,000. Traffic policemen are attending English classes at night to aid tourists; nine out of 10 cars on the streets are taxicabs, and it's difficult now to get hotel accommodations for the games. Private homes are being approved for lodgings. Transportation and housing officials are urging Americans, who will make up about 35 per cent of the visitors, to come by train and sleep in the Pullmans in the city's railroad yards.

A city-wide "spruce-up" has already begun and the Mexicans are planning to release on opening day 10,000 white doves (beating Tokyo's 8,000) as symbols of peace.

Ace Sox Sub Smacks Grand Slam Home Run

By The Associated Press

Russ Snyder's big hit in his role as most valuable off the bench has the Chicago White Sox celebrating their rise out of the American League cellar.

But Cesar Tovar's departure from his part as most valuable anywhere has the Minnesota Twins feeling mighty low.

Snyder, who had been flubbing his lines as ace substitute since the White Sox got him from Baltimore last winter, hit the first grand slam home run of his career that sent the Sox to a 9-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night. The triumph lifted Chicago from 10th to eighth place.

In contrast Tovar departed from the script he wrote last year as the Twins' most valuable player and made two errors that let in two runs, the last giving the Detroit Tigers a sweep of their doubleheader with Minnesota. The 3-1 and 3-2 losses left the fourth place Twins floundering nine games behind the Tigers.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore belted Washington 8-4.

Oakland tripped Cleveland 2-0 in a rain-shortened affair and rain forced postponement of California's doubleheader at Boston.

Spring Training Flop Remains Hot

By The Associated Press

Given an option three months ago, the New York Mets might have left Dick Selma in Florida without a backward glance. Given a choice today, they'd probably settle for nothing less than two of him.

Selma, a distinct flop during spring training, reeled off his sixth regular season victory without a loss Tuesday night, hurling a five-hitter as the Mets tripped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

Selma appeared ticketed for the Mets' Jacksonville farm club in April after appearing in five exhibition games — and compiling an 0-5 record. But New York had exercised all its options on the 24-year-old right-hander, and Manager Gil Hodges wanted to take one

Big Indian Rally Buries Tigers

The Indians broke loose in the latter stages of the game and completely routed the Tigers, 22-1, in a Texas Little League game Tuesday evening.

Chato Gonzales allowed the Tigers only two hits while his mates were getting 11, including four by Sammy Rodriguez and Gary Christensen. Clifford Crow contributed a pair. Rudy Ribio was charged with the loss as the Indians put across five runs in the fifth and 13 in the sixth. The Indians now are 5-8 for the season. The box score:

more look before giving up on him.

Now Selma rates No. 1 among National League pitchers with five or more decisions and merits a place of esteem on the Mets' talented young pitching staff alongside Jerry Kosman, Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh slugged San Francisco 7-4, with a 16-hit barrage; first place St. Louis trimmed Atlanta 6-0 behind Bob Gibson; Houston upended Philadelphia 5-1; and Cincinnati outscored the Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Two errors by third baseman Ken Boyer helped the Mets push over a pair of unearned runs against loser Claude Osteen, 5-8, who had pitched shutouts in his previous two starts.

Roberto Clemente's eighth homer touched off a four-run sixth inning spree that carried the Pirates past the Giants. After Clemente homered off southpaw Ray Sadecki, tying the game 3-3, Bill Mazeroski drilled a two-run single and Maury Wills singled another run home.

The Giants' Willie McCovey took over the NL home run lead by blasting his 12th of the season, a two-run shot off Steve Blass in the fourth inning.

Gibson, 6-5, beat Atlanta for the first time since 1966 with a five-hitter as the Cardinals extended their two-year hex over the Braves to 10 successive victories.

The Cardinals, who have won 13 of their last 15 games, assured Gibson of his second straight shutout by reeling off four double plays.

Tony Perez knocked in four runs with a homer, single and ground out, leading the Reds past the Cubs in an afternoon game. Perez, who leads the league with 39 RBIs, gave Cincinnati its margin of victory with a two-run blast in the sixth inning. Lee May also homered for the Reds.

first pitch for Baltimore, Boog Powell and Gene Brabender each doubled in two runs in the second inning and Brooks Robinson hit a two-run shot in the fifth as the Orioles beat Washington for the ninth straight time. Chuck Dobson stopped Cleveland on five hits before rain gave Oakland an abbreviated victory with the Indians threatening with two on and one out in the sixth inning. Dave Duncan's sacrifice fly and John Donaldson's homer supplied Oakland's runs. The umpires waited one hour and 29 minutes in the sixth before calling the game.

Odessa Collegian Leads In Tourney

CONROE, Tex. (AP) — Only three golfers beat par 71 Tuesday in the opening round of the 59th Texas Amateur Golf tournament, played in 90-degree weather at River Oaks Plantation Country Club.

Unheralded Kurt Cox, a recent graduate of Odessa Junior College, lead the 220-player field with a 2-under-par 69.

Hal Underwood, No. 1 University of Houston player, and teammate Bobby Walzell trailed with 70s.

George Rives of Jacksonville and Dean Overturf of Houston fired 71s on the 6,400-yard course, which kept most scores in the 80s.

Although the registration deadline was June 4, tournament director Jackson Bradley added six players Tuesday because of dropouts.

Among the late entrants were Underwood, Bob Barbarossa of Houston, who finished second in the Southeastern Invitation at Columbus, Ga., last weekend, and Carl Ahrens of Houston.

Martin Warnica of the University of Houston faced the seventh hole with a No. 6 but scored an 80.

Barbarossa and Tom Wright, also of the University of Houston, carded 72s.

Chip Stewart of Dallas posted a 72 and Rik Massengale of Jacksboro a 75. Both are on the University of Texas golf team with Overturf.

Lamar Tech Out In Front

BEAUMONT (AP) — Lamar Tech, playing on its own course, took a whopping 15-stroke lead today into the second round of the NCAA College Division golf tournament.

The Cardinals are defending champions in the 72-hole tournament.

The four-man Lamar Tech team shot a 375-13 strokes under par over the 6,800-yard Tyrrell Park Course that plays to a par 72.

Closest to the hot Cardinals were Middle Tennessee 290, East Tennessee State 295, Illinois State 298, Austin Peay 299, Portland State and Chico State, each 302.

Mike Nugent, Southland Conference champion, and Mike Garrison, both of Lamar Tech, carved out five-under-par 67s in the individual race. Another Lamar Tech player, Mike Allen, was third with a 70.

Tied for fourth were five players.

Haterius Signed

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League Tuesday announced the signing of defensive halfback Steve Haterius, a native of Stamford, Tex., who played for West Texas State.

West Division Of Texas Loop Eyeball To Eyeball

Nothing changed Tuesday night in that red-hot Western Division race in the Texas League — meaning Albuquerque and El Paso are still eyeball-to-eyeball.

Albuquerque beat Dallas-Fort Worth 8-7 while El Paso whipped Shreveport 10-7. The Dodgers lead by scant percentage points, .585 to .582.

In other games, Arkansas upped its Eastern Division lead to three and one-half games with a 7-1 thumping of Amarillo and Memphis tripped San Antonio 6-1.

Catcher Buddy Hollowell of Albuquerque doubled home Jim Barfield in the seventh inning with the winning run for the Dodgers. Starting pitcher Jerry Hudgins saw his streak of 27 1-3 scoreless innings snapped by a five-run Dallas-Fort Worth uprising in the third inning. Reliever Dick Dare picked up the victory.

El Paso peppered Shreveport pitching for 13 hits, including home runs by Tom Silverio and Don Wilkinson.

Phil Knuckles allowed only five hits and knocked in three runs in Arkansas' easy victory over Amarillo.

Memphis drove Archie Reynolds, the winningest pitcher in the league, from the mound in a four-run second inning to down the Missions. Steve Renko held San Antonio to four hits, evening his record at 5-5. Reynolds is now 8-2.

Westside And Catholic Win

With Jerry Don Paige striking out 16 men while issuing only two walks, Westside Baptist clipped Berea Baptist 6-2 in a Church Softball League game Tuesday. It wasn't until the final frame that Berea scratched.

In the nightcap, the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic team unloaded on Kentwood Methodist, 19-2. Martinez was the winning pitcher and Price was charged with the loss. Tom Arista and Charles Boadie each had three hits for the Catholics, while Simon Alvarado, Eddie Rodriguez, Cruz Rodriguez and Paul Jenkins each had two hits.

Berea is now 4-2, Westside 2-4, Catholic 2-3, and Kentwood 2-4. Friday Forsan (2-1) will meet Hillcrest (0-5) and in a game for first place, Salem (4-0) will face College (4-1).

Wood Tames Cubs, 12-1

Danny Wood made an auspicious first appearance as a pitcher for the Angels in the Sophomore League Tuesday evening, holding the Cubs to three hits and a run. Moreover, he insured victory with a three-for-three at the plate. Ron Carter and Don McKee each had doubles. The game was called in the sixth on the 10-run rule, and Greg Carlisle drew the loss.

Open Play May Kill Amateurs

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association is confident that if pro tennis continues to flourish it will spell the doom of sham-amateurism.

"Before, there was no place for most of the world class tennis players to go if they wanted to cash in," said Robert Kelleher, the USLTA president from Los Angeles, today.

"Sure, the Wimbledon winner could sign up for a lot of money but the players who finished a few notches down didn't do too well.

"Now with the National Tennis League and World Championship Tennis and open tennis tournaments, there's a place for most of the players who want to make a living from tennis."

Kelleher said he was delighted with the smash successes of the first two open tennis tournaments—the British Hard Courts Championships at Bournemouth, England, and the French Open Tennis Championships at Paris.

British tennis officials said the Bournemouth tournament drew twice as many spectators as it ever did before. The French Championships grossed a record $170,000, three times what it did in 1967, despite strikes and a lack of transportation. Kelleher said he had been told.

Kelleher said he was counting on the first U.S. National Open Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, Aug. 25-Sept. 8 to gross at least $100,000 more than the $232,000 of 1967. He wouldn't be surprised if it did considerably better than $100,000 more.

Gun Control Foes Fading

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cracks are appearing in the solid wall of resistance Congress has thrown up against efforts to write a tougher gun-control law.

In the House, Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee predicts the committee will approve a gun bill at its next meeting June 20. The panel rejected such a bill by a tie vote Tuesday.

However, that 16 to 16 vote was the closest this stringent a gun-control bill has come to winning the committee's approval.

PRESSURE

And the Senate, an indication of the mounting pressure for stiffer controls over gun purchases was reflected in the plea of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., for the people of his state to review this long-held position against such legislation—which McGovern also has opposed.

He said South Dakota sportsmen should consider whether they would be willing to undergo "a certain amount of inconvenience" in order to help slow the use of guns in violent crime.

President Johnson, who has repeatedly urged Congress to pass a law restricting sales of all firearms, called Tuesday's tie vote in the House Judiciary Committee "a shocking blow at the safety of every citizen in the country."

Celler expressed confidence he can pick up at least one more vote to break the tie when the committee reconsiders its action June 20.

PICKETS

As the committee considered the issue, several hundred pickets circled the downtown offices of the National Rifle Association, bearing placards demanding strong gun controls. The NRA has opposed the tougher bill, contending Americans have the constitutional right to bear arms.

With a heavy load of mail urging a stiffer law now reaching Congress in the aftermath of the shooting death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the pressure will be on committee Republicans, who voted almost solidly against the bill.

The tie vote came on a bill sent to Congress Monday by Johnson. It would prohibit mail-order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition, and also over-the-counter sales to residents of another state.

Johnson has on his desk a bill that would place similar restrictions on pistols. It is part of an omnibus crime-control bill that Johnson has not yet signed into law.

Congress did not provide restrictions against the sale of rifles and shotguns, a decision which led to the new administration proposal.

Rocky Promises Summit Meeting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged today to call a summit meeting of Western heads of state to create "a true Atlantic partnership," if elected president.

Looking for support to overcome the Republican delegate lead of Richard M. Nixon, the New Yorker offered sweeping foreign policy proposals in the opening of two days of public speeches and private talks in California.

PROTECTION

He planned private meetings with a few top Republicans who are pledged to vote for California Gov. Ronald Reagan as a favorite son at the convention.

Concentrating on foreign affairs, Rockefeller called for closer United States cooperation with Western Europe, including giving the supreme command of NATO to a European instead of an American.

Secret Service agents, New York state troopers and two Los Angeles police department intelligence officers guarded Rockefeller—the first announced presidential candidate to come to California since Robert F. Kennedy was shot to death in Los Angeles last Wednesday.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Town Hall in Los Angeles, Rockefeller referred to the New York Democratic senator's death in a hospital just a few miles away.

"He died here last week because he dared—he was determined—to speak out on the great problems before our people," Rockefeller said.

But most of Rockefeller's attention in the talk before the city's business leaders was directed to building "a new world structure, a new international order."

NEW LEADERSHIP

He called for bringing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "into line with current realities by encouraging European nations to assume a greater responsibility for their defense."

Asking for "new leadership," Rockefeller said, "We cannot act as the world's policeman."

Rockefeller proposed more trade and scientific and cultural exchanges with the Soviet Union and expansion of "the existing bilateral talks with Communist China in Warsaw into wider ranging explorations."

With California's 86 votes pledged to Reagan until he releases them, Rockefeller's hopes in the state rest mainly with persuading some delegates to back him on the second and third ballots.

The visit was a major stop in his all-out appeal to American voters to support his effort to beat Nixon.

The governor also hoped, aides said, to show the men with votes at the convention that he can pick up support from followers of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and thus lead the GOP to victory in November.

His nationwide campaign is designed to prove he can provide the "new leadership" he says the country needs.

"America cries out for a leader," he said in full-page ads which appeared in newspapers from coast to coast and pledged to give, later today in Los Angeles, his answers to "a subject that has tormented us like none other in our recent history: Riot."

Foreshadowing his formal position, Rockefeller said in a CBS telecast Tuesday night that, while it was vital to preserve public order, "we can no longer tolerate injustice or bigotry. We must strike at their roots."

He urged viewers: "If we don't like the laws, let's change them."

And, he insisted, "Without progress and justice there can be no order."

The governor opened his telecast speech with a tribute to Kennedy who, he said, "died for his country. His death presents a new challenge to those of us who remain."

Rockefeller said, however, that the assassination would not stop him mingling with the voters during his campaign.

"I have faith in this country. I have faith in people, and consequently I have no fear," he declared.

President Johnson has provided Rockefeller and other major candidates with Secret Service protection and guards are expected to surround the New York governor when he makes a planned walking tour of Watts, the Los Angeles Negro district where rioting raged in 1966.

Agents guarded him during his telecast.

Rosie, Crip Whoop It Up

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rosie and Crip have caused the nearest thing to a modern population explosion among the almost extinct population of whooping cranes. San Antonio Zoo officials said Monday the dynamic duo has done it again.

Rosie, said zoo Director James Chism, laid one egg last week and she and Crip are taking turns sitting on it. Chism had hoped for two eggs from Rosie—the standard outlay for a female whooping crane.

Chism says there are only 47 whooping cranes in the wild and 10 or 12 in captivity. Rosie laid two eggs last year. One whooper died and the other was taken to Laurel, Md., to the National Wildlife Center.

State Officials Say Wage Rule Will Cost Taxpayers

By The Associated Press
State officials say a Supreme Court decision on the minimum wage law applying to various employees of public institutions would cost the taxpayers millions of dollars a year.

The court ruling affects nearly two million workers in state schools, hospitals and other institutions, holding that they are covered by minimum wage and overtime standards set by federal law.

TEXAS GUESS

In most states the minimum wage standard, currently $1.15 an hour but rising to $1.60 in 1971, was already being met.

But most states were paying for overtime work with equal time off, or at the standard per-hour rate. Under the federal wage law, overtime work must be paid at the rate of time and a half.

The additional salary outlay in Texas had been estimated by Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, in advance of Monday's high court ruling, at $14 million over a four-year period.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Brian Upp of Oklahoma assessed the cost to his state at $6 million over a four-year period.

Maryland reckoned its state payroll hike at $6 million a year. Other official estimates included Michigan, $300,000; California, $300,000; Kansas, $500,000; Colorado, $1 million to $1.5 million.

School teachers are not affected by the ruling, which applies only to nonadministrative and nonprofessional employees.

"Our principal concern is not in the area of the minimum wage," said Jay McGlon, Florida state personnel director. "But we are concerned about time and a half overtime. How much money this will amount to is anybody's guess."

Mrs. Miriam Ringo, director of the Illinois Department of Personnel, said she did not yet know how many state workers would have additional money coming but "I regard this as an unfortunate decision."

Scattered Showers Fail To Dent Heat

By The Associated Press
Brown-mopping Texans discovered Tuesday that summer is here, even though the calendar doesn't call for its arrival until June 21.

Temperatures headed upward in all parts of the state except the Panhandle, and scattered showers failed to dent the heat. The mercury hit 106 degrees—the nation's high—at Presidio, in the sultry Big Bend of West Texas and 101 at Wichita Falls.

TOP MARKS
Top marks elsewhere included San Angelo 99, Cotulla and Wink 98, Dallas and Del Rio 97, Laredo and Mineral Wells 96, Abilene, Fort Worth and Houston 95, Alice, Austin, Lufkin and San Antonio 94, El Paso, McAllen, Tyler, Victoria and Waco 93, Beaumont, Brownsville, College Station and Midland 92, Childress, Longview and Lubbock 91 and Alpine 90.

Highs of 84 at Dalhart and 85 at Amarillo in the Panhandle made them the coolest reporting stations.

Shower activity hung on today as a weak cool front dawdled along a line linking Sherman, Abilene and Midland, and occasional thunderstorms were expected across the north half of Texas again by evening.

There already were moderate to heavy thunderstorms this morning around Paris and Denison in the north edge of the state. Scattered showers fell at other points in North Central Texas early in the day.

STORMS
State police reported hail the size of golf balls accompanied a gusty storm northeast of Paris during the night but apparently caused no serious damage.

At one time a line of moderate thunderstorms stretched from Fort Worth past Mineral Wells and Breckenridge to Abilene.

There also was considerable turbulence in the Lower Rio Grande Valley late Tuesday afternoon as a band of heavy thunderstorms enveloped the area from McAllen to Port Mansfield.

Showers fell elsewhere but generally were light. One of the heaviest produced .39 inch of rain at San Angelo.
