AT CALCUTTA Jetliner Falls In Rainstorm Killing Six

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—A Pan American World Airways Boeing 707 jetliner, flying through a monsoon rain, undershot the runway at Calcutta's Dum Dum Airport today, caught fire and burned, killing six of the 63 persons aboard.

Fifty-six persons were reported injured, including several in serious condition. A spokesman for Pan American said five passengers — among them a child and three women — and a stewardess were killed. The survivors were 48 passengers and nine crew members.

The duty officer at Dum Dum Airport's control tower said the huge four-engine jet approached the airport in "moderate to heavy rain" and "undershot."

It hit the ground and burst into flames and within minutes was burned out, he reported, adding that some of the passengers were trapped in the wreckage.

Cosden Directors

Cosden Oil & Chemical Company directors, meeting in special session in New York City, have elected to the directorate Kenneth W. Perry and John MacKenzie, both of New York City. Paul D. Meek, president, made the announcement.

Perry, who is vice president-chemical marketing, joined Cosden 11 years ago as a junior engineer after graduation from the University of Oklahoma, subsequently becoming project engineer. He transferred into chemical sales in 1960, moving to New York City as chemical products manager in June, 1963. In October, 1965, he was elected to his present office. Perry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry, Odessa.

MacKenzie is vice president and secretary of American Petrofina, Inc. He is assistant secretary-treasurer of American Petrofina Company of Texas, and has been serving Cosden as an assistant secretary.

The Cosden directorate also includes Meek, Jacques Meus, H. A. Jackson, R. I. Galland, F. L. Durham and C. W. Shouse.

WAFB Projects OK'd

Webb AFB projects were among the items on the 1969 military construction bill approved by the Senate Military Construction Subcommittee, according to Sen. John Tower, member of the subcommittee.

Projects totaling $2,796,000 for Webb are listed, including a parallel runway, $2,300,000; academic classroom, $147,000; and basic flight training facility, $349,000.

There were 22 Texas military installations included in the bill for a total expenditure of $35,944,000.

Midland Bonds

MIDLAND (AP)—After one setback at the polls, Midland voters approved two bond issues totaling $4.75 million Wednesday for part of a three-year capital improvements program of the West Texas city's water and sewer systems.

The first proposal, which carried 4,336 to 1,405, provides for $2.63 million in water revenue bonds for a 12 million gallon infiltration plant to treat water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The district is to start delivering water to the city in 1970.

The second issue, which passed 3,992 to 1,734, calls for $2.12 million in sewer revenue bonds to provide for secondary treatment at the water pollution control plant.

On May 16 voters rejected the two proposals in an election that drew only 2,877 votes, less than one-half of Wednesday's turnout.

The city's water and sewer systems program is expected to cost $6,545,000 with money not included in Wednesday's bond issues coming from reserve funds and previously voted but unsold bonds.

HHH Leads GOP

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Democratic presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey has surged ahead of Republican contenders Richard Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller, the Gallup poll asserts.

The poll organization said Wednesday that Vice President Humphrey was ahead of former Vice President Nixon by six percentage points and led New York Gov. Rockefeller by three points in a survey taken just before the June 4 California primary.

After the primary and the shooting of Sen. Robert Kennedy, Gallup said his surveys made a "check-back" with a sample of the same voters which showed "little appreciable change in support for any of the candidates."

Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the only other announced Democratic presidential candidate, was not included in the poll.

'Little Bottle' Bill Saved, Appropriations Increased

Committee Okays Higher Spending

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved today a general appropriations bill that, if passed into law, would require $133.8 million in new taxes.

The committee worked from the Legislative Budget Board's recommended bill, which would have necessitated a $129.6 million tax bill. It added appropriations costing $4.22 million.

RISE
Most of the rise in recommended spending went to state administrative departments and agencies.

The Senate Finance Committee is still working on its version of the appropriations bill, which includes funds for more than 200 added highway patrolmen and investigators for the Department of Public Safety.

Although Speaker Ben Barnes said he wanted the Highway Patrol expanded, the House committee left the patrol force at its present 1,007-man strength.

The Liquor Control Board failed in its efforts to get a $5.7 million budget, including funds for cars, pistols and radios. The Appropriations Committee recommended $3.5 million—only about $100,000 over the present appropriation.

Recommended spending from general revenue—the only money which the legislature is completely free to appropriate as it wishes—would total $475.2 million. This compares with $471 million recommended by the Legislative Budget Board and $465.2 million in Gov. John Connally's budget.

CONNALLY
Connally recommended a $125 million tax bill at the start of the special session nine days ago. Under the Texas Constitution, expenditures must be balanced by taxes.

The Appropriations Committee bill totals $2.53 billion from all funds, including dedicated highway taxes, federal aid and earmarked taxes.

The recommended spending is for one year, starting Sept. 1. Retained from the Budget Board bill was a recommended 3.4 per cent across-the-board pay raise for all state employees covered by the position classification plan—which includes most workers under the level of departmental executives and professional workers, such as physicians.

Speaker Ben Barnes told the House the appropriations bill would be eligible for debate Monday but probably would not be taken up until the House finishes work on Gov. John Connally's liquor by the drink bill. That would put debate probably on Tuesday.

Usually, the House and Senate pass different spending bills, throwing the final writing into a conference committee.

INCREASE

Most of the $2.88 million increase in administrative agencies, compared with the Budget Board bill, went to the state Department of Public Welfare for its child welfare program. Officials of the department said the program is in danger of going under because of lack of funds.

The Department of Mental Health would get $111.0 million from general revenue, compared with its present budgeted $103.4 million. The committee recommended $11 million for new construction, compared with $7 million for the current fiscal year.

Switched Vote

Rep. James Clark, Dallas, who voted with the drys Wednesday, casts his vote with the wets Thursday as the House State Affairs Committee approved for floor debate the little bottle liquor bill.

EFFORT TO CURB MAIL ORDER GUNS

Question Post Office Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rifle Association has questioned the legality of a Post Office Department move to curb the traffic in mail order guns.

But if past practice holds and the early reaction of those who deal with weapons is any indication, it appears likely that it will be business as usual for the gun mail order houses until—unless—Congress enacts stiffer controls.

NEW RULES

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced new postal rules Wednesday under which packages containing guns will not be accepted for mailing unless clearly labeled "Firearms."

Further, he said, the chief law enforcement officer of the community to which the package is addressed will be notified of delivery of the weapon.

Watson also announced sawed-off shotguns and short-barreled rifles will be banned from the mails under "concealed weapons" regulations unless addressed to authorized law enforcement or military personnel.

Extradition Proceedings Authorized Against Ray

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. application to return James Earl Ray to the United States moved steadily forward today as the British government authorized extradition proceedings to begin.

AUTHORIZED
Home Secretary James Callaghan signed an order authorizing the Bow Street Magistrate's Court to conduct the extradition proceedings against the 40-year-old escaped convict accused of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton was expected to schedule a hearing in about a week.

The application was sent to the Home Office, the British equivalent of the U.S. Justice Department, after clearing its first legal hurdle in the Foreign Office a few hours after U.S. Consul General Jack Herturf delivered the bulky petition.

Court formalities and appeals could delay Ray's return up to six weeks or longer if he fights extradition.

The inch-thick petition contains a summary of evidence against Ray in connection with the assassination of King at a Memphis motel April 4. It also contains information on his escape from the Missouri State Prison while serving a sentence for armed robbery, along with fingerprints and other identification material.

The United States is seeking extradition on both charges and must satisfy a British judge that both would be crimes under British law.

APPEAL

If Milton grants extradition, Ray would have 15 days to appeal to the High Court and if the High Court upheld the extradition order, he would have another 14 days to appeal to the House of Lords, Britain's supreme court.

Sheep's Heart Fails In Transfer Attempt

HOUSTON (AP) — Surgeons failed today in what they described as an attempt to save a dying man by transferring the heart of a sheep into his body.

The operation was performed at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where four human heart transplants took place earlier and two of those patients still are recovering.

NO IDENTITY

Officials would not identify the man, 47, who died in surgery today. They said his heart failed Wednesday morning and he was referred to the hospital for a possible transplant after being revived with difficulty.

"No donor patient was available," a St. Luke's statement reported, "as a last resort, the insertion of the heart of a 125-pound sheep was attempted at 1:02 a.m."

Spokesmen said a sheep was selected with tissue matching that of the patient. Hospital administrator Newell France described it as "a rather bizarre situation."

It was the second known case in which a human being has received the heart of an animal.

Surgeons at the University of Mississippi medical center transferred the heart of a chimpanzee to a man on Jan. 24, 1964, in what is believed to be the world's first heart transplant. It worked for an hour.

"Unfortunately, the dimensions of the only available donor heart . . . proved too small for the requirements of the considerably larger recipient," the head of the Mississippi surgical team, Dr. James D. Hardy, said at the time.

The recipient of the chimpanzee heart, described as dying before the surgery was attempted, never was identified.

FOUR TIMES

Surgeons at St. Luke's Hospital, headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley, have performed four human heart transplants in recent weeks and two of those patients survived—the only persons in this country kept alive by such means.

The two are Everett C. Thomas, 47, an accountant from Phoenix, Ariz., and Louis John Fierro, 54, an automobile salesman from Elmont, N.Y.

Vote Switch Gives Booze New Life

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's little bottles, liquor by the drink bill suddenly came alive today after it had appeared all but headed for the legislative graveyard.

Two wets, who voted Wednesday with drys against the measure in protest to what one called its "hypocrisy," switched sides to push the measure out of the House State Affairs Committee with an 119 vote.

DEBATE

The governor's bill, which the committee merged with a watered-down liquor law revision measure, could be debated as early as Saturday, said Rules Committee Chairman Randy Pendleton. But Speaker Ben Barnes said at an impromptu news conference on the House floor that he probably would abandon plans to work the House on Saturday.

Speaker Ben Barnes said he hasn't decided whether to put liquor or appropriations on Saturday's work schedule. The House Appropriations Committee's version of the $2.5 billion spending measure for the Sept. 1 fiscal year also will be eligible for debate Saturday, Barnes said.

Reps. Jake Johnson of San Antonio and Jim Clark of Dallas, both wets, made the difference between Wednesday's 110 vote on a parliamentary issue that apparently spelled defeat for the bill and today's 119 vote for the measure.

NOT COUNTED

Sponsors had not counted on the vote of Johnson, a militant wet, because he opposed the miniature bottles approach. But they had expected Clark's vote. (Clark, though, said he would have supported liquor law revision bills, if each were considered in separate bills. But he called the amalgam of Connally's measure and a special subcommittee's proposed revisions in liquor laws, full of hypocrisy and sham.)

Thus, Clark and Johnson voted with the drys Wednesday.

What made the difference? Why did they switch?

"Obviously this morning there is a completely different attitude on the part of the authors and the leaders of the committee. Yesterday, there was a heavy gavel and the author's complete unresponsiveness to adding amendments Mr. Johnson and I thought constructive," Clark said.

Johnson and Clark listed four changes they hope to make in the bill:

—Require all liquor license holders to make annual financial reports showing their indebtedness. Clark said this would help inform the liquor control board of who actually controls alcoholic beverage outlets.

—Allow hotels licensed to serve mini-bottle mixed drinks in their restaurants to also serve the drinks through room service.

PROHIBIT
—Prohibit legislators from practicing for a fee before the LCB. This was in the original liquor law change bill but was taken out by the subcommittee.

—Restore the schedule of license fees and permit changes in the original reform bill, some of which were more than double existing fees which date back to the 1930s. The fee schedule was cut out of the subcommittee rewrite.

East Germans Collecting High Prices For Passage

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany, seeking to forestall a crisis of confidence in West Berlin, today collected jacked-up prices for overland travel to the isolated city and put into effect a series of time-consuming bureaucratic regulations for travelers.

DENOUNCED

The United States, Britain and France denounced the new restrictions. By midmorning the measures had forced 300 trucks and thousands of cars to line up more than two miles for processing at border points.

Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger flew into West Berlin aboard a U.S. Air Force plane. At a news conference at Tempelhof Airport he charged the East German measures as "illegal, provocative, and against existing agreements." He said his cabinet would act Monday on assistance for Berlin, involving subsidies to cover the increased cost to the city.

The new regulations, which include increased freight fees, do not constitute a blockade such as that unsuccessfully imposed 20 years ago by the Soviet Union.

West Germans previously were able to travel by car from Berlin, a Western island surrounded by East Germany, with only their identity cards. But the new rules announced Tuesday imposed visa fees and require that West Germans obtain passports by July 15.

German travelers at the Helmsstedt crossing found after midnight that the East Germans had erected two tents. Entering them, they made a visa application and paid a visa fee—$1.25 for one way and $2.50 for a round trip—on the 110-mile autobahn or superhighway that rips through East Germany. At another station, the highway tolls were collected.

PLEDGES TO DE-ESCALATE ARMS RACE

LBJ Congratulates U. N. Move

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson, in a surprise visit to the United Nations, congratulated the General Assembly Wednesday on approving the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and promised vigorous American efforts to de-escalate the nuclear arms race.

Johnson told the assembly in a 12-minute speech that the nuclear nonproliferation pact was "the most important international agreement in the field of disarmament since the nuclear age began."

Johnson entered the assembly hall shortly after the delegates approved the treaty 95-4 with 21 abstentions. Albania, Cuba, Tanzania and Zambia voted no, the resolution of approval recommended that all nations sign and ratify the treaty as soon as possible.

ADJOURNED

A few hours later, the assembly adjourned its 22nd session which began Sept. 19, recessed Dec. 19, and resumed April 24 to deal with the nonproliferation treaty and the U.N. effort to end South Africa's control over South-West Africa.

The nuclear treaty, first presented last August by the United States and the Soviet Union in the Geneva Disarmament Committee, binds signatory nations with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to other countries and nations without such weapons not to acquire them.

Johnson congratulated "all who have contributed to this historic event." He said the United States would "move rapidly" to open the treaty for signature, sign it, seek senatorial ratification and scrupulously carry it out.

"We shall, as the treaty requires," he declared, "facilitate the fullest possible exchange of equipment, materials, scientific and technical information for the peaceful uses of nuclear energy. . . . We shall share . . . nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes."

"Finally, in keeping with our obligations under the treaty, we shall, as a major nuclear power, promptly and vigorously pursue negotiations on effective measures to halt the nuclear arms race and to reduce existing nuclear arsenals."

SPONSORED

The treaty was sponsored by three of the five nuclear powers—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. France boycotted the long negotiations in Geneva which produced the draft, and Red China continually assailed it as a Soviet-American plot to preserve their nuclear dominance. But the treaty got support Wednesday from French Delegate Armand Berard, who told the assembly that although his government would not sign the pact, it would behave "exactly like those states that decided to adhere to it."

Opening lead: Ten of ♣
A substantial swing resulted when the above hand was dealt during the Vanderbilt team event at the nationals recently held in New York.

At one table, the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram and West made the effective lead of a trump against the final contract of four diamonds. Declarer put up dummy's queen and returned the five of spades. East played the 10, South covered with the king, and West won with the ace.

West had no more trumps to lead, so he shifted to a club in an attempt to put his partner in. East played the ace of clubs, felling declarer's king, and led a second round of diamonds. There was only one trump left in the dummy, and South was unable to ruff out his losing spades.

By leading diamonds at every opportunity, the defense was able to establish three spade tricks, which, together with the ace of clubs, spelled a one-trick defeat for North-South.

At the other table, South arrived at a contract of five diamonds, which was doubled by East. West chose to open his fourth best heart and the ace was played from dummy. A small spade was led, and East made the fatal mistake of following with the eight instead of splitting his honors.

Declarer merely covered the eight of spades with the nine and West was in with the queen. The latter shifted somewhat belatedly to a trump—taken in the closed hand—and South ruffed a spade in dummy, observing the fall of East's 10. A heart ruff put declarer back in and this time he led the king of spades. West covered with the ace, North ruffed, and East's jack fell.

South trumped a heart, drew the remaining diamond and then cashed the seven of spades—which was now high—followed by the six. In the end, he conceded a club trick and claimed his doubled contract for a score of 750 points. The net swing on the deal, counting the one-trick set registered by his teammates at the other table, was 850 points.

DR. KAMERICK FITS BLUEPRINT What Does It Take To Be College Prexy?

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—It was something like drawing a blueprint. But instead of building from the plans, it was a case of finding something to fit them.

That was the way the regents of North Texas State University set about finding a new president to replace Dr. J. C. Matthews, president since 1951. Dr. Matthews requested that he be re-assigned to teaching.

$35,000 A YEAR
It took $35,000 a year and free housing to get him, but Dr. John J. Kamerick was hired. He takes over Sept. 1 as the university's ninth president.

Dr. Kamerick is vice president and provost of Kent State University, a state school similar to North Texas in many ways.

What was the blueprint and how does the new president fit? E. C. Pannell of Fort Worth, chairman of the regents' selection committee, gave the answers:

1. Age: Approximately 50 but no objections to a younger man. Dr. Kamerick is 47.
2. Experience and demonstrated ability to manage a large university's financial affairs.
Kent State is larger than North Texas, with 26,000 students to 14,000 for the Texas school. At Kent, Dr. Kamerick dealt with 75 per cent of the operating budget—about $20 million. It is one of the 30 largest universities in the nation.
3. Distinction as a scholar, preferably in liberal arts, with an earned Ph.D. degree.

RESPECT
Kamerick has a Ph.D. His field is European history with specialties of intellectual history and modern Britain. He teaches a graduate course in British social thought. The Kent faculty named him most distinguished member of the year in 1963.

4. Ability to represent and engender respect for the values of higher education.

The new president is an officer of several educational associations, is a well-known public speaker and helped Kent achieve accreditation in 12 fields in the last four years.

5. Capacity to create mutual respect in relations with students and faculty.

"He is well liked by the Board of Trustees, faculty and students. He is strong on diplomacy," said Chancellor John D. Miltel of the Ohio regents. A. K. Brintnall, University of Akron

Is Santa Claus An Indian Giver?

POST, Tex. (AP) — When a small twister unroofed several outbuildings at the Cross H Ranch, east of Post, it also blew away a number of objects from the yard of the ranch house occupied by owner Giles Dalby and family.

Among the objects blown away was a playhouse three-year-old Charlsie Dalby had received as a Christmas present.

Charlsie's first words as she followed her mother into the house after a fruitless search for the playhouse was, "Why did Santa Claus come and take it back?"

Big Springer To View Mint

For the first time in history, the U.S. Mint is to set up presses and actually print currency away from the closely guarded press room in Washington. The place will be San Antonio and the date will be June 19.

On hand to watch the mint's famous presses turn out crisp new bills will be W. E. Wozencraft, Big Spring. Wozencraft is the city's most enthusiastic and busy coin collector, and will be in San Antonio on the date mentioned to attend the Texas State Numismatic Association convention. The convention opens on June 17 and ends on June 19.

Occasion for the printing of U.S. Currency at San Antonio is twofold — it marks the mint's participation in the HemisFair now commemorating the 250th birthday of San Antonio and it also will honor the 150th anniversary of the Garza Mint which struck off copper coins for the Texas colonists a century and half ago in San Antonio.

The currency printing will be in the Gunter Hotel grand ballroom.

A Whale Of A Kiss

Kandu, a 13-foot, 2,200-pound killer whale, gives Cathy Neville, Associated Press writer, a big kiss after Cathy's interview with the whales' trainer, Jerry Watmore, Tuesday. Kandu is a three-year-old at Seattle's Marine Aquarium.

Girls, Here's Thrill; Kiss By Killer Whale

By CATHY NEVILLE
Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — I have nothing against starting out a beautiful spring morning with a nice affectionate kiss. But when it's from someone who's just eaten two dozen raw herring,

I'd just as soon shake hands. So I leaned over and tried to pretend I was about to be kissed by James Coburn or maybe Robert Goulet, with or without the fish. Well, girls, you've never been kissed until a 13-foot, 2,200-pound killer whale has nibbled your ear. Kandu is a girl, but she'll kiss anyone who leans over her pool at the Seattle Marine Aquarium. Although Kandu is fickle, she doesn't have any second thoughts about being kissed. She's Jerry Watmore, a pretty 24-year-old former dolphin trainer at San Diego's Sea World.

She came to Seattle about one year ago and applied for the job of training the whale—then a petite 1,100 pounds. She threw Kandu a herring whenever the whale did what Jerry wanted and soon Kandu was shaking hands, kissing, rolling over on her back and doing a variety of other tricks.

TRY TO FORGET

Although killer whales can bear for up to seven miles under water, Kandu responds to Jerry's hand signals, not her words. For example, when Jerry holds up a fish Kandu nods her head. Jerry says that after throwing her big friend herring all day, "I go home at night and scrub and dump on the perfume and try to forget the fish."

Wallace Wants Clark To Resign

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — George C. Wallace has charged that a new federal lawsuit against Alabama agencies is in effect an attempt to hinder his third party campaign for president.

'DEGRADED'

"That's using the Justice Department for politics," Wallace told a cheering crowd at a Chattanooga rally Wednesday night. Wallace, former governor of Alabama, said U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark should resign because politics is behind the suit filed Wednesday, which charges eight Alabama state agencies with racial discrimination in hiring. Wallace said Clark had allowed himself to be "degraded."

French Government's Ban 'Cools' Rioters

PARIS (AP) — The French government's ban on street demonstrations would be "pitilessly dispersed." The government also ordered dissolution of seven extremist student groups.

The ban on street demonstrations demonstrated Wednesday night without police interference. Police used tear gas to scatter demonstrators in Strasbourg, Bordeaux and Caen students paraded with shouts of defiance against President Charles de Gaulle, and the police did not go into action.

The rebellious students at the University of Paris called off a demonstration after De Gaulle's government warned that all effort to secure the return to work of about a million-workers still on strike, mainly in the metallurgical and automobile industries.

No violence was reported on the labor front. The government appeared to have won a breathing spell but no one was underestimating the possibility of new trouble.

'THE PRESSURE IS OFF AS FAR AS THE CONVENTION IS CONCERNED'

Humphrey's Advisers Hope To Corral Young Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strategists for Hubert H. Humphrey are looking beyond Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's challenge to how the vice president can convince voters—especially young ones—that he is not just part of the status quo.

"The pressure is off as far as the convention is concerned," said a Humphrey adviser, but he acknowledged concern over how Humphrey is regarded, especially by young voters.

But McCarthy, resuming his campaign against Humphrey Wednesday for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Wednesday he doubts the accuracy of tabulations indicating a heavy Humphrey lead in delegates to the party's August convention.

Rockefeller said, "Before we commit even small forces, all the far-reaching implications of this act must be faced—as they were not faced in Vietnam. We must not find ourselves with a commitment looking for a justification."

Rockefeller also said he would "accept immediately" a debate with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon if one of the television networks offers time.

Nixon, regarded the GOP front runner, turned down such a debate, saying through a spokesman it "would only serve the Democrats by promoting divisive tendencies among Republicans."

Third-party candidate George C. Wallace, campaigning in Chattanooga, Tenn., said Wednesday the government should register Communists, not guns, and strict law enforcement is the way to abolish crime.

"They ought to abolish crime by putting people in jail," Wallace said. "I'll tell you what's better than crime than guns: It's the Supreme Court of the United States . . . and those in high places."

Another Humphrey adviser concerned about a status quo tag on the vice president said he thinks Humphrey should begin telling voters in detail about his programs and his views on the draft and the conditions of Negroes.

The vice president, relaxing at his home in Waverly, Minn., has no public appearances scheduled until early July. But his adviser said Humphrey should not wait until after the convention to begin stumping the country.

The adviser's recommendation was that Humphrey begin acting next month as if he were already the Democratic nominee and start delivering speeches that "would make clear that there is a big difference between Humphrey and Nixon."

Humphrey surged ahead of both Nixon and Rockefeller in the latest Gallup Poll, after trailing both Republicans in a May poll. The latest survey showed Humphrey with a 42-36 per cent margin over Nixon and a 39-36 per cent margin over Rockefeller.

"STICK-IN" — A substantial share of the 172 California delegates Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won before he was assassinated favorably for Kennedy at the party's national convention, according to an Associated Press survey of 113 of the delegates.

—Nixon won 33 GOP delegates in Illinois' Tuesday primary and the other 15 are listed as uncommitted. On the Democratic side, Humphrey won 6, McCarthy 2, President Johnson 1 and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley 1 with 38 listed as uncommitted.

Members of the screening and budget committee include R. W. Thompson, John Taylor, Clyde McMahon Sr., R. J. Ream and Jimmy Taylor.

The agencies meeting with the committee June 25 are the American Red Cross, 6:30 p.m.; Big Spring Milk and Medicine Fund, 7 p.m.; Salvation Army, 7:15 p.m.; Westside Youth Center, 7:30 p.m.; Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, 7:45 p.m.; Summer Recreation Program, 8 p.m.; Texas United Fund, 8:15 p.m.; Halfway House, 8:30 p.m.

Nuclear Treaty Weaknesses Cited

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Its U.S. and Soviet sponsors hail it as a historic step toward disarmament, but many countries are far from happy with the new treaty aimed at curbing the spread of nuclear weapons.

Some call it a "treaty of imperfections." Some doubt that it will have any effect on the nuclear arms race.

FALLS SHORT — There is no doubt that the treaty draft, approved by the U.N. General Assembly Wednesday and now open for signature and ratification, falls far short of what most countries wanted. But it appears to be the best that could be arrived at after 10 years of debate and negotiation.

Its worth will be determined by the number of countries that adhere to it and the effect it has in creating a favorable atmosphere for future disarmament negotiations. It is generally agreed that its value may be mainly in this latter direction.

Almost everyone at the U.N. General Assembly acknowledged that any agreement by the United States and the Soviet Union on a disarmament treaty was significant at a time when the international atmosphere was poisoned by the Vietnam war. Generally, however, U.N. diplomats are not so sure about the value of the treaty as a barrier to the spread of nuclear weapons to countries that don't have them.

PEKING'S POWER — There are two obvious weaknesses to the treaty: Two of the five nuclear powers—France and Red China—won't adhere to it, and perhaps as many as 10 near-nuclear countries also will refuse to sign.

South Africa, for example, is not expected to sign the pact and several black African countries fear that the white regime in South Africa may become a nuclear power and dominate all of Africa. India fears Peking's nuclear power despite a general pledge of protection from the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

Several countries have strongly objected to the absence of any restrictions on the production of nuclear weapons by the five nuclear powers.

Howard County Sheriff's posse won top honors and large trophy at Andrews on Wednesday afternoon when the 20 riders from this county rated best of 10 groups featured in a rodeo parade. The occasion was the opening of the annual Andrews Junior Rodeo.

Ed Cherry, president of the Big Spring group, said that Stan U.N. placed second and Monahan third in the parade.

Cherry said that the posse was warmly welcomed by the Andrews residents and were tendered every courtesy.

A huge display case on the first floor corridor of the Howard County courthouse is repository for the trophies and citations the Howard County Sheriff's posse wins. The Andrews cup was the 22nd memento placed in the case.

Bandit Floors Station Worker — Police are investigating an attempted robbery at D&C Texaco Service, 901 S. Gregg, Jimmy Dale Storey, 707 Anna, told police a man came into the station at 5:45 a.m. today and told him he wanted the money in the cash register. Storey said he struggled with the man and was knocked down and struck on the jaw attempting to stop him.

Hosea Banks, 1106 NW 7th, owner of Lakeview Cafe, told officers ice cream, candy bars and penny vending machines were taken from the cafe last night. Officers said entry was apparently gained by forcing the padlock on the front door.

Labor Day Trail Ride Scheduled — The second annual Labor Day Trail Ride will be held Aug. 31-Sept. 2, according to Reel W. McFarland.

The ride will be based in Big Spring each night and will go toward Ackerly the first day, Moss Lake the second day and the "big spring" the third day. Cost will be $10 per person. For other information riders may contact McFarland at Box 231, Big Spring.

Lions Laud Mrs. Deats

The Downtown Lions had their five-year treat Wednesday when Mrs. Richard Deats played the piano for them.

She was home with her family on a year's furlough from missionary work in the Philippines at the time, and Wednesday she obliged again. Lions agreed that her artistry had even increased and gave her a rousing round of applause for selections from Chopin.

Among the guests to hear her were her husband, the Rev. Dr. Richard Deats, an United Methodist missionary who instructs in the Union Theological Seminary near Manila, and her father, Rex Baggett.

Randy Jones, Marion Bartlett and Aubrey Neighbors were inducted by Joe Pond, international counselor, as new members of the club. Jimmy Jennings and Sgt. Vernon G. Skrake were recognized as transfers into the club.

Ten children in this area will attend the Texas Lions League of Texas camp for crippled children, according to Aubrey Bryans, chairman of this activity.

District 2A-1 has won the Melvin Jones membership award again, making it the first district in the history of Lions International to win this award for three consecutive years, said Jimmy Ray Smith, president. He said a district dinner celebrating this achievement would be held at Lowake Saturday evening.

Many Disabled May Be Missing Out On Benefits — Big Spring area, especially young disabled individuals, may be missing out on potential disability benefits from social security. Erven Fisher, district manager, said today.

As a result of the 1965 and 1967 amendments to the Social Security law, many individuals who could not have qualified previously may now be eligible, he said.

Prior to the 1965 amendments, it was necessary for an individual to be totally and permanently disabled to meet the requirements for benefits. This was changed so that a person who had been disabled for 12 months or longer could become eligible for benefits, he stated.

The 1967 amendments reduced the work requirements for young disabled workers from a minimum of five years to a year and a half, if the worker became disabled prior to age 24. If the disability began between the ages of 24 and 31, the worker must have had covered employment under social security for half the time between his 21st birthday and the date he became disabled.

Fisher explained that many young workers who became disabled and were denied benefits previously because they lacked the necessary work requirements, may now qualify for benefits, if they are still disabled.

The local official added that many workers who are disabled fail to file a claim for benefits because they continue to receive their salary from their employer and fear that they will not qualify for benefits. He said that they should file a disability claim with social security because they might qualify for benefits despite these payments.

Fisher concluded by saying that disabled widows between the ages of 50 and 60 may now qualify for benefits too as a result of another 1967 amendment.

Jury Rules Green Guilty

FORT WORTH (AP) — A jury ruled Roy Dale Green guilty of murder without malice today for the slaying of a teenager in an attack that left three persons dead and one victim raped.

The verdict carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison. The state had asked a verdict of murder with malice and sought the death penalty.

The defendant's mother, Mrs. J. C. Wilson, and sisters and a brother of the defendant sighed in relief at the "without malice" decision.

The jury required more than eight hours to reach a decision and at one point appeared deadlocked.

Mrs. Wilson broke into tears. The jury returned to its deliberations to decide on a sentence.

Suspect Posts $10,000 Bail

Phillip Mendoza, youngest of three men implicated in the Friday night armed robbery of Shorty's Pay N Take II grocery is at liberty on $10,000 bail.

Justice Jess Slaughter agreed to reduce Mendoza's bail from $25,000 to $10,000 on Wednesday afternoon and the 18-year-old suspect was freed from custody.

Meantime, his two older codefendants, Jose Antonio Saracho and Robert Orocco, continue in jail. Saracho must post two $25,000 bonds — one for armed robbery and one for assault with intent to murder — before he will be released. Orocco, who was arrested on Wednesday morning, has to make a $25,000 bond for a robbery by assault charge.

Two teenaged girls are still in jail under orders of Bob Wakefield, juvenile officer, in connection with the same incident. The girls, aged 14 and 16, are said to have been companions of Saracho. Orocco and Mendoza when they held up Thompson in his store on Lamesa Drive last Friday night.

The quintet is alleged to have taken $70 from the grocer, beaten him and then, as he lay on the floor, one of the five fired a bullet into his leg shattering the bone.

Officers apprehended Saracho, Mendoza and the girls soon after the holdup but Orocco was not located until Wednesday morning. Sheriffs deputies A. G. Mitchell and Lindy Oldfield arrested Orocco at his mother's home here.

Horns Keeping Alive For Title

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Sophomore Larry Hardy had the answer for the University of Texas in the College World Series when the Longhorns had to win or else. He fired a one-hitter in leading the Southwest Conference champs to a 7-0 victory over Brigham Young Wednesday.

It kept Texas alive in the NCAA championships. The Longhorns lost their opening game in the double elimination series 8-5 to Oklahoma State.

Hardy struck out 11 Brigham Young players and walked only two. Larry Romney, the NCAA home run leader, whiffed three times.

BYU starter Brad Meyring walked home a run in the first, and Bob Snoddy singled in another for a 2-0 lead.

An error, Snoddy's double and Lou Bagwell's two-run single made it 4-0 in the sixth. Texas herded across three runs in the ninth.

St. John's of New York, rich in pitching and led by a bold, tobacco-chewing catcher, Ralph Addonizio will challenge No. 1-ranked Southern California tonight in the top game of the College Baseball World Series.

USC and St. John's became the only remaining unbeaten teams in the double-elimination NCAA finals during a long Wednesday night session.

Addonizio stole a 3-2, 12-inning game from North Carolina State. First he stretched an ordinary double into a triple with a head-first slide under the tag.

After taking time out to wash the dirt from his eyes in the dug-out and obtain a fresh chew of tobacco, Addonizio astounded NC State and the crowd by trying to score an ordinary third-to-first groundout.

He made it with a headlong slide away from the tag, reaching out to touch the plate with his hand as he went by.

USC overcame a 4-1 first-inning deficit and beat Oklahoma State 6-5 as left-hander Brent Strom struck out 11 and gave only three hits, one a home run by Wayne Weatherly, in his eight innings of relief.

Texas will face NC State at 2 p.m. CDT, today.

OSU meets Southern Illinois at 5:30 and the USC-St. John's game starts at 8, with the winner favored to go all the way.

OSU will match Bill Maxwell, 5-1, against SIU's John Susce, 11-2. Texas will send James Alex Check, 7-2.

Today It's For Real

Deane Seman, right, gestures as he talks to Gary Player on a practice round for the 68th U.S. Open Golf Championship. They and the rest of the field of 150 professionals and amateurs start today play today over the Oak Hill Country Club at Rochester, N.Y. Player said confidently that "I'm playing the best golf of my life."

Player Ready For Comeback In Opener Of U.S. Open

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Player, who hasn't really been away, is ready to make a comeback.

"I'm playing the best golf of my life," the tough little South African said today before teeing off in the first round of the United States Open Golf Championship.

"Even more importantly, my attitude has changed. I want to win again. I've got that positive attitude, that desire," that charge, call it what you will.

The muscular little man who has won all the world's major titles, was among the last in the field of 150 to get away today on the demanding 6,692-yard, par 70 Oak Hill Country Club course, a course that pre-tourney favorite Billy Casper said is tailor-made for Player.

"It isn't exceptionally long but it's very exacting. It places a premium on accuracy, and that's Gary's forte," said Casper.

Player, once considered a member of the Big Three along with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, defending champion of this tournament, hasn't won a tournament in this country since he captured the Open title at St. Louis in 1965.

That made him only the third man to win all four of the world's major professional titles—the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA—and admittedly took an edge off his desire.

He made only token appearances on the tour, spending most of his time with his family on their ranch near Johannesburg.

But this year he's back.

DIFFERENT BACK IN 1908

Says Today's Golfers Hitters, Not Craftsmen

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "These boys are not craftsmen, they're just hitters," old Fred McLeod said sadly. "I'm afraid the day of craftsmanship is gone in golf."

"You buy your shots when you buy your clubs."

McLeod, a dapper little Scot with snow-white hair and twinkling eyes, sat under a huge oak at the Oak Hill Country Club today and watched golf's tough young capitalists tee off in the first round of the 68th U.S. Open Golf Championship.

As boy and man, Freddie, now 86, has been on hand for almost 60 of them and he even won one 60 years ago.

"That was in 1908 at the Myopia Hunt Club in Hamilton, Mass."

"It was quite different then," the slightly built retired pro from the Columbia Club in Chevy Chase, Md., recalled nostalgically.

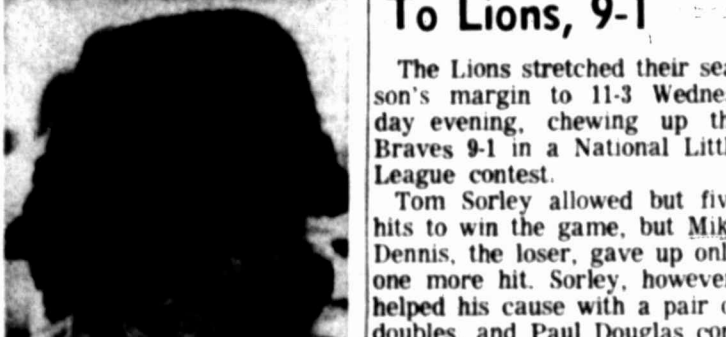

"I had eight clubs in my small canvas bag—two of them woods and one a putter. We didn't number the clubs. We named them—niblick, mashie and so forth. They all had wood shafts."

"We had to use the same club for a variety of shots. This required some thinking. Now all a fellow has to do is choose the right club. The club does the work."

"The greatest player I ever saw."

Freddie paused and his eyes swept down a twisting highway of memories.

"Hogan—it would have to be

FRED McLEOD

Ben Hogan. "The old man said, 'Now there's a man who knew how to dissect a golf course.'"

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

(With Nate Mitchell pinch-hitting for Tommy Hart)

Margaret Kay, sports scribe for the Abilene Reporter-News, is featured in the current issue of the "Sporting News," a national publication. The attractive sports writer is the daughter of former major league outfielder and University of Texas grid immortal, Ernie Kay Sr., and sister of Ernie Jr., a fullback and punter for the National Football League's New York Giants. Her other brother, Ted, is a sophomore tailback at the University of Texas.

Employed at the Abilene daily for almost a year now, Margaret, 23, is not the first woman ever to cover sports fulltime in the state. For many years, Mrs. Amy Broussard was on the staff of the Beaumont Enterprise. She retired when her husband took a job in another city. Abilene once had a woman sports writer during World War II.

Fresh out of the University of Texas school of journalism, Margaret caused quite a stir among her male colleagues when she burst on the scene with her press card and entered the press box to cover a football game.

A native of Belleville, a small town located between Houston and Austin, Margaret covered all of state AAAA grid runner-up Abilene Cooper's football games during the previous season. Currently, she stays busy all over the sports scene and writes a column (Kay's Comments) two or three times a week.

To go with the other accolades he has already received, Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's Most Valuable Player for 1967, was recently presented an autographed gun and holster set by California Angels owner, Gene Autry.

When the 29th annual Odessa Pro-AM golf meet kicks off next month, perennial participant Doug Higgins will be absent. It will be the first time in 17 years that Doug missed one of the tournaments.

Texas A&M's Larry Stegent is the best all-around running back in the Southwest Conference. So say the pro scouts who saw all of the conference's spring grid games.

Montreal baseball fans are pushing for a high office job for ex-Dodger great Jackie Robinson, who played there en route to the Brooklyn club. Some 22 years later, the first Negro to play in the major leagues is still popular with the Canadians.

Some of the Cleveland Indians baseball players aren't exactly "tickled to death" with air travel. Vic Davilant makes the sign of the cross on every takeoff, while Luis Tiant closes his eyes and squeezes the arm rests of his seat.

Cards Dazzled, Drysdale Nipped

By The Associated Press

Pat Jarvis dazzled the St. Louis Cardinals with wire-to-wire speed but Don Drysdale wasn't quick enough to fight off the New York Mets' finishing kick.

Jarvis, Atlanta's hard-throwing right-hander, hurled a three-hitter Wednesday night as the Braves ended a long standing in the Braves' assault against the National League leaders 7-1.

The Mets, blanked by Drysdale for eight innings, caught up with the Los Angeles shutout king in the ninth and nipped the Dodgers 2-1.

San Francisco trimmed Pittsburgh 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati 4-1 in afternoon action. Houston was rained out at Philadelphia.

Jarvis, 6-4, held St. Louis hitless until the fifth inning and drove in the only two runs he needed with a pair of singles as Atlanta cooled off the sizzling Cardinals with a 13-hit attack.

The Cards had won 13 of their previous 15 starts and had beaten the Braves 10 times in a row, sweeping their first six meetings this season.

Hank Aaron clubbed a two-run homer, Tito Francona laced a bases-empty homer and two singles and Marty Martinez socked two doubles and a triple in the Braves' assault against loser Nelson Briles and three St. Louis relievers.

Real Battle In League Is For Fourth Place

By The Associated Press

The American League isn't waiting for next year's expansion to go to two divisions. They've got two right now.

And that's too bad for devotees of tight pennant races because the real battle seems to be for fourth place.

The pace-setting Detroit Tigers, who haven't won a flag since 1945, boosted their lead to five games over idle Baltimore and 5 1/2 over Cleveland with a 2-1 victory over Minnesota Wednesday night. Those first three teams make up the first division—realistically, if not literally.

Minnesota, 10 games back, heads the seven also-rans and there's only a three-game gap between the Twins and last-place Washington. In fact, the Twins are only one percentage point ahead of Oakland, with Boston another point back. Who says there's no race?

In the only other Wednesday night action, Oakland drubbed Cleveland 7-0. The Baltimore-Washington and Chicago-New York single games and the California-Boston twin-nighter were rained out.

Dick McAuliffe's eighth-inning tie-breaking homer and Mickey Lolich's five-hit pitching gave Detroit its third straight triumph over slumping Minnesota. The Tigers have won eight of their last nine games.

John "Blue Moon" Odom hurled a seven-hitter and smacked his first major league homer as Oakland blanked Cleveland.

Legendary Bear Coach Succumbs

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Jim Crow, a legendary figure in Southwest sports, particularly football, died in his sleep Wednesday night.

Crow coached at Baylor University for 45 years after being graduated from Texas A&M where he was an outstanding tackle. He also played at Baylor.

Funeral plans were incomplete.

His full name was Floyd Arnold Crow but in his later years he was known to his associates as Uncle Jim. He was a huge, rugged man.

Crow was 76. He retired from Baylor June 1, 1965.

Crow grew up in Waco and was an All-Southern tackle for A&M in 1912. He transferred to Baylor, then back to A&M, where he won All-Southwest Conference tackle honors in 1915 and 1916. He graduated in 1917.

He played service football at Camp Travis in San Antonio in World War I and joined the Baylor coaching staff in 1920.

Aided By Walks, Tigers Get Win

The Tigers clawed when it counted and upended the Scotties 15-8 in a National Minor League game Wednesday.

Gary Tidwell and other Scottie hurlers gave up but four hits, but the Tigers stretched these into 15 runs, thanks in part to a triple by Burks, who also doubled to run his RBI total to six. Scottie pitchers were in a charitable mood, giving up 12 walks and hitting four batters with a pitched ball.

John Wright got two hits for the Scotties as did Henry Currie, who included a home run as one of his. Gary Tidwell really sparkled at the bat with three for three. The Tigers are now 12-1 for the season.

Lions Rally To Overtake Red Sox

The Lions came on strong to defeat the Red Sox 6-4 in a Sophomore game Wednesday. Ricky Steen had two hits for the victors—the only player to get more than one. Through the top of the fourth the Sox nursed a 4-0 lead but the Lions took the lead in the bottom of the sixth. Both teams now are 2-1. The box score:

Cabots Win In An Extra Inning

The Hawks led for four innings but the Cabots knotted it in the fifth and then went on to win 3-4 in an extra inning in the American Little League Wednesday evening. Doug Robinson, who took over in the seventh from Larry Stanley, got the win. Don Beene had started. Pat Carroll, who relieved Dennis Churchwell after six, absorbed the loss. Larry Stanley homered in the third with one man aboard for the Cabots. Don Beene had two hits for Cabots as did Huckabee for the Hawks, but the real star with the stick was Kirk Wrinkle who was three for four. The box score:

Lamar Is Leading

BEAUMONT (AP) 8 Lamar Tech is making a runaway of both the team and individual championships of the NCA College Division Golf Tournament over the defending champion Cardinals' home course.

Tech's 36-hole total of 567 is 23 strokes ahead of the distant second place team, Middle Tennessee State, which is at 590.

The star of the Lamar Tech team is Mike Nugent, who tackled on a two-under-par 70 Wednesday to go with an opening round 67 for a 137 total—seven strokes under par.

Mike Whiteside of Middle Tennessee is four strokes behind Nugent in the race for the individual medal with a 141 total.

Elze Fights For Life, Loses Bid

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Jupp Elze fought for his life today after a gallant, but losing bid to win the European middleweight boxing championship.

The 29-year-old West German champ was hit in the head by a devastating right-hand punch by Italy's Carlos Duran in the 15th and last round of their title fight Wednesday night.

Elze sagged to the canvas, heaved himself to his feet with a hand signal that he had had enough, then staggered to his corner. There he collapsed unconscious.

"His life is in danger," said a doctor at Cologne University Hospital where Elze was taken with an oxygen mask clamped over his face. "I cannot say at this stage whether he will pull through. The next day or two will be decisive."

The doctor said Elze was suffering cerebral bleeding.

Duran, who retained his European title on a 15th round technical knockout, declared, "I was astonished when he collapsed. He put up a great fight."

THUY EYES CONFIDENTIAL TALKS

Reds To Cut Propaganda?

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam appears to be edging toward confidential talks with the United States on Vietnamese peace issues, although it is still conducting a diplomatic holding operation in the Paris conference.

HARRIMAN PLAN
Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam is considering a proposal by U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman Wednesday that "both sides reduce the propaganda output following each meeting" they hold here. The public release of formal statements would be ended under the Harriman plan, and spokesmen for each side would give only a "general description" of what had been said in the closed conference room. The eight talks so far held have been followed in each case by release of the formal statements of Harriman and Thuy.

U.S. officials said they found some encouragement in Thuy's stated agreement to study the proposal. In earlier sessions when Harriman suggested semi-private or secret discussions Thuy rejected the idea. The Americans had no assurance that his response in a future meeting would not again be negative, but they felt he would not have agreed even to study the proposal unless he and his

Ding Dong Bell Woes

DING DONG, Tex. (AP) — Yes, Ding Dong is in Bell County, but don't look for it on a map.

Ding Dong is, or was, a country store, closed for several months after its owner, Tom Haynes, died.

But to Raymond Skelton of Chicago, recent events in Ding Dong have him upset and he is trying to correct them. In 1962 the Santa Fe Railroad, for whom Skelton is vice president for operations, gave Haynes an old locomotive bell for his Ding Dong store. The bell was appropriately mounted on a wooden stand.

Now thieves have stolen the bell and Skelton has railroad detectives helping to look for it. Why should Skelton be so interested? He grew up at Youngsfort—it's on the map about two miles from the store.

The store came into being when two brothers, Bust and Zoales Bell, opened it more years ago than folks in this Central Texas area remember. The Bell brothers had a sign painter come out and erect a sign which pictured two bells. The impish painter put Ding over one bell and Dong over the other.

Poor People's Pep Talks Trigger March On Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — In their first demonstration in more than a week, Poor People's Campaign leaders appeared to be trying Wednesday to get their sometimes wandering protests back on target.

About 350 persons, buoyed by pep talks, marched on the Department of Agriculture to begin a round-the-clock vigil protesting hunger in America.

Discipline wasn't perfect. Park police said they arrested two youths who broke away from the march and tried to haul down an American flag near the Washington Monument.

HUNGER CRISIS
But there were many indications of the sharper focus the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, campaign leader, said he would try to work into demonstrations. Speeches were few, and stuck closely to the point at issue—food. As Abernathy complained that the responses Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has made have been "pitifully inadequate to meet the hunger crisis," the Interior Department issued a permit for the June 19 mass rally here in support of the campaign.

Sterling Tucker, named director of the march and rally just four days ago, told reporters a realistic goal for participants would be something under 100,000.

FEARS
A group of about 100 women, all residents of Resurrection City, had Capitol police worried for a bit when they left the march around the Agriculture Department to stage their own march on Capitol Hill.

Police had to separate them into three groups to comply with a law forbidding mass demonstrations on the Capitol grounds, and they prevented individuals from wandering off on their own, as tourists may do. But before their hour-long visit ended, the women were singing freedom songs and "America the Beautiful" without interference from police. The last time a Poor People's Campaign group tried to sing on the Capitol grounds, 18 of them were arrested.

Paris Talks Drag, Hundreds Die

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Throughout South Vietnam, shells, rockets, bombs and bullets cut down hundreds on both sides as the North Vietnamese U.S. peace talks drag on in Paris. And the bloodiest of all battlegrounds is this region near Barnes, 19, Little Rock, Ark. the Jeep driver, left rivulets of blood cursing from face and neck wounds.

As the Jeep approached the bridge a terrific explosion destroyed the span and sent shrapnel into the bodies of the Leathernicks. When the smoke cleared, two were dead, a third was dying and Cpl. Robert Barnes, 19, Little Rock, Ark. the Jeep driver, left rivulets of blood cursing from face and neck wounds. One Navy doctor assigned to the Marines says "the big ding" along the DMZ started going nowhere. After doctors treated his wounds at a forward hospital, Barnes said: "For us the peace talks are just a big joke. We can't think of them in any other way. They are not giving anywhere. 'I know I'll finish any tour and be home long before the fighting stops.'" Unit commanders, asked about the morale of their men, said they found it continued to be high.

A LOVELIER YOU

Protect Skin, Hair From Harmful Sun

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely becomes a vacation casualty if her face peels from sunburn and her hair hangs limp from swimming. What a pity—part of the fun of a holiday is looking divine and knowing it.

The whole idea of a tan is to look gorgeous. For that finish, apply these tips: Always apply moisturized sunscreen to exposed areas before going in the sun, either to loll or to sight-see. If your skin is sensitive, use an unscented hypo-allergenic sunscreen. To those who wish to avoid tanning and freckles, teen-type, sun blocks are recommended. Lips require the protection of clear or tinted lipstick. Clear sun sticks can be worn over regular lipstick.

After sunning, bathe away accumulated lotion. Then apply a soothing moisturizer, head to toe. No boiled lobster effects for you!

As for your hair, it is not likely to improve during summertime travels, particularly if it's hard to manage at home. But a little forethought will lead you to a number of control methods. Among the best are quick groomers such as instant dry shampoo in aerosols, hairspray fortified for resistance to rain and damp, scarves and hats to wear by day, wiglets and bows to wear evenings.

If you tint your hair, do take along the formula or the makings. Portable electric curlers and dryers are handy when they fit into your luggage and your traveling accommodations.

Improve Figure By Doing Housework

You can dust, sweep and scrub your way to a better figure. That's right. You can exercise right while you're doing housework in your home.

When you reach up to dust a high shelf or wash the woodwork, stand on your toes and stretch your whole body upwards. This is good for your ankles, legs and posture.

Scrubbing the floor is a great way to firm up your arms, shoulders, back, stomach and waistline. Even washing dishes is good for your arms and upper-back.

Otherwise try quick-dry setting lotions.

Great looks just naturally follow!

Youth Film Seen By Methodists

Mrs. Ethel Aldredge, education director of First Methodist Church, showed a film, "Youth Societies' Untapped Resource," at the Monday meeting of the Martha Wesleyan Service Guild at the church.

Mrs. Aldredge stressed the resources could be either good or bad, and it is dependent upon adults and the church to channel young people in the right direction. She cited the greatest need of youth today as "the reconciliation of youth with youth, youth with adults and youth with God."

Mrs. W. E. Moren presided and announced the Ceta Canyon retreat will be held July 13-14. Miss Edith Gay will attend the Mount Sequoyah South-Central Jurisdictional meeting to be held Friday and Saturday in Fayetteville, Ark.

The program committee will meet Thursday with Miss Helen Willard, incoming president, at 1609 Tucson.

Mrs. J. K. Cunningham gave the devotion, "Tests of Faith." Mrs. W. O. Thompson and Mrs. E. J. Cain served refreshments to 17 members.

Add Color And Care To Brighten Meals

You can plan and cook the most delicious meal imaginable, but if it doesn't look appetizing, out of the dining room and eat forget it. You've flubbed! For your meals in front of the fire, it's the appearance of food that makes those old taste buds act up.

Here are three tips for popping up the family menus. Plan the color combinations of the foods you serve carefully. Avoid the "sameness" of meals by adding unusual touches in garnishes and methods of serving. Make sure that each food on the plate is "right" and looks the way it should look.

When planning a meal make sure that all your foods are not of one color — such as potatoes, cauliflower and fillet of fish. Select colors that compliment each other. Add touches of color to your green salads with the addition of tomatoes and celery. Garnish meats, fish and fowl with bright red cranberry sauce. Garnish your spinach with appetizing slices of hard cooked eggs. Add a slice of lemon for the vegetables you serve. Chopped nuts give added sparkle to dishes.

Another pointer for the success of your meal is to avoid "sameness" in serving meals. Haven't we all heard a juicer in the family say "Oh Mom, not that again?" You can serve the family the food they need in their diet over and over again by disguising it in one way or another. For example, serve vegetables plain with a cream sauce or in a salad, or in a stew or casserole.

Take a little time and decorate your table a bit. Use the good dishes and best silver now

Treat Your Family To Cheesecake

Surprise your family and friends with this chocolate cheesecake. It will become a family favorite.

MARBLE CHEESECAKE
 1/2 lb. creamstyle small curd cottage cheese (not tangy)
 1 pkg. (8 ozs.) cream cheese, softened
 3/4 cup sugar
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 3 tbsps. cornstarch
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
 1/2 pt. commercial sour cream
 1 oz. semi-sweet chocolate, melted

Spread a 9-inch springform pan with butter, sprinkle with graham cracker crumbs. Into large mixing bowl sieve the cottage cheese; add cream cheese with high speed of electric mixer beat until thoroughly blended and creamy. Beating at high speed, blend in sugar, then eggs. Reduce speed to low.

Add cornstarch, lemon juice and vanilla; beat until blended. Add melted butter and sour cream; blend with low speed. Put about one-third of batter into another bowl, blend in the melted chocolate. Pour plain and chocolate batters alternately into prepared pan. Swirl with spatula.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until firm around edges—about one hour. Turn off oven. Let cake stand in oven one hour. Remove and cool completely on wire rack. Chill. Remove sides of pan. Makes six servings. May be frozen.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

As delicious topping for a casserole, remove the crusts from bread slices. Cut the bread into tiny cubes and saturate in melted butter. Sprinkle over top of casserole, before it goes into the oven, and dust with paprika.

Need clear fat-free chicken broth? If you open a can of chicken broth and fat has hardened on top, turn the broth into a strainer lined with a double thickness of clean white muslin and the cloth will trap the fat!

Add canned salmon to tomato soup for a hearty lunch-time chowder.

Cheddar cheese soup often benefits by the addition of some finely grated carrot. The carrot should be added as the soup slowly heats so the shreds will partly soften.

Skillet Supper

When you are down to your last minute, and the family starts to mention dinner, try this quick recipe. Hearty and nutritious it tastes like you have been working for hours.

For Hectic Days Try This Menu

PTA night, bridge club, or hospital committee... by whatever name, it usually translates "dinner-in-a-rush." Just when a hectic schedule suggest it can't be done, surprise your family with a hearty, full-flavored skillet supper. Sound contradictory? Not at all when convenient pantry shelf foods bring their work and time-saving talents to your aid.

One such tasty meal built around convenience foods you're likely to have on hand is Tuna Skillet Supper. This family-pleasing meal-in-a-dish combines canned tuna and sliced cooked potatoes with small amounts of green pepper, green onion, and pimiento for zest. Over all is a luscious saucing of condensed cream of celery soup. This expertly seasoned, pepper-rich and double thick soup provides an "instant" and right-every-time sauce for many skillet dishes, casseroles, for

MRS. BOB DUNSON

'Spontaneous' Method Used By Homemaker

By RHODA LEMONS
 Mrs. Bob Dunson, 2508 Rebekah, is a "spontaneous" homemaker and mother. For instance, last week when the family was out of milk, she put her two small children in the car, bought milk and fresh doughnuts, and headed for the park to have breakfast. The children got in about an hour's playing time before she took them home to start her day's routine.

Mrs. Dunson and her husband are parents of Kathy, 3, and Stephen, 16 months. Dunson is division sales manager at Texas Electric Service Company.

She often takes the children for walks on pretty days, and when the weather is bad and the children are tired staying indoors, she will take them to Highland South mall where they can walk and window shop.

Although Mrs. Dunson keeps a highly polished and clean home, she does not make a "big thing" out of cleaning house. She cleans when necessary but leaves heavier work for the domestic help she has on Thursday afternoons.

She enjoys cooking and prepares a large breakfast. She and the children eat alone at noon, as her husband usually has a business appointment. They have the main meal at night. Mrs. Dunson knows what her menu will be for several days ahead. She shops weekly and keeps enough in the freezer for surprise guests or a quick change in dinner plans. The family enjoys doing things together, and while her husband plants and maintains a garden, Mrs. Dunson cooks the vegetables, storing some in the freezer.

The couple entertains infrequently. There are times, of course, when they have informal dinners for couples or families. Mrs. Dunson is active in a number of clubs, and she entertains them at regular intervals.

The Dunsons enjoy bicycle riding, and Mrs. Dunson said that her husband carries both children on his vehicle, while she "pumps furiously" just to keep up with them.

In the past, they have vacationed in New York and California, and are looking forward to the children getting older so that they can again travel and go sight-seeing.

Mrs. Dunson recently decorated her new home. She used colors of vivid yellow, blue and turquoise against a back drop of pale beige. She made a unique wall decoration by using nails and entwining thread in an intricate pattern over burlap-covered wall board. The threads harmonize with the room colors, and the result is a "conversation" piece.

She likes to work in the yard when her children play outside. She limits her tasks to pulling weeds and occasionally spading the flower beds.

Mrs. Dunson is already training her small daughter in the domestic tasks. She has a min-

Farmers Frightened Over Milk Substitutes Flooding Markets

By OVID A. MARTIN
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Dairy farmers face many new competitors such as imitation milk, filled milk, substitutes for coffee cream, and no-milk toppings for desserts.

Many farmers are frightened. They fear the new competition will run many of dairy farms out of business.

Some dairy leaders are demanding that the government limit, if not bar, the use of some substitutes. Some want government action to force prices of the products to be raised to dairy-product levels.

Such a demand was made at hearings the Agriculture Department held at Memphis Feb. 19. But some dairy industry leaders argue that the use of government prices, regulations and laws barring these products is a poor way to meet this competition. They favor meeting the market challengers head-on in a battle emphasizing the differences between the dairy products and their substitutes.

They would focus on nutrition, advancing claims that milk has it all over its competitors in this regard.

The new consumer products worrying milk producers include milk-like beverage made by combining an edible fat or oil other than milk fat with non-fat or skim milk; and wholly non-dairy products, made by combining non-dairy fats and oils with other food solids, excluding milk solids.

Because vegetable fats are cheaper than milk fats, imitation or filled milk products can be sold cheaper than whole milk. It is being sold in a number of consumer markets in the West and Midwest.

The Agriculture Department is being asked to require, in 74 big milk areas it regulates, to make processors pay as much for skim milk or non-fat dry milk used in the new products as they pay for whole milk.

Some dairy leaders fear this would lead processors to develop a substitute for the skim milk or the non-fat dry milk, with the resultant loss of an important dairy market.

Some argue that the dairy industry should put on a broad promotional campaign intended to show that whole milk contains food values far beyond those in the new products.

Some arguments they advance: —Milk has three to four times as much protein as the substitutes.

—It has 936 parts of calcium to 136 parts for the substitute having the most calcium.

—Similar comparisons can be made for many other elements.

Some dairy leaders say the market for milk could be enlarged through a broadened combined use of milk and non-milk raw materials in fashioning more and more new food items.

In legislative restrictions, some dairy leaders look hopefully for more laws like the present federal filled milk act which prohibits the movement across state boundaries of a product containing a combination of milk, cream or skim milk and fats and oils other than milk fat made in the semblance of milk.

About 32 states have similar laws.

But there are moves ahead to repeal these laws, on the claims that the products are not harmful and that consumers want them. They might have to delete milk for their descriptive name.

A delightful new canned bean product makes a salad that is bound to prove popular.

Use A Different Recipe For Mix

Cooks often look for new ways of preparing mixes. Here's one that may appeal to you.

COFFEE CAKE
 1 pkg. (10 1/2 oz.) coffee cake mix (with mixing bag and baking pan)
 1/4 cup well drained canned fruit cocktail
 1/4 cup finely cut pecans
 Make up coffee cake mix and turn into pan according to package directions. Halve the fruit cocktail pieces and gently fold into batter, right in pan. Mix pecans with topping (from coffee cake mix package) and sprinkle over batter. Bake according to package directions.

Try Vegetable With Tomatoes

A tasty luncheon dish that's good served with meat.

SPINACH STUFFED TOMATOES
 1 pkg (9 oz.) frozen creamed spinach in pouch
 4 medium - small tomatoes (about 1 lb.)

Cook spinach according to package directions. Wash and dry tomatoes. Cut slice off top of each, with small sharp knife cut around top so as to remove inside in deep wedge-shaped plug. With small teaspoon or fingers remove seeds from remaining wall of tomatoes; turn upside down to drain. (Save scooped-out tomato to use in soup or sauce.) Fill tomatoes with spinach mixture, using 2 heaping tablespoons for each. Bake in shallow pan in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 15 minutes — until just heated through and tomatoes are partially cooked. Makes 4 servings.

Ranger-Union Testimony Expected To End Today

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Testimony in a farm labor union's suit against Texas Rangers and Starr County officials and six Texas laws was expected to be completed today.

Union lawyer Chris Dixie concluded his case at 11:28 a.m. Wednesday and Hawthorne Phillips of the state attorney general's office began presenting his case.

The suit being heard was filed by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, as a result of disputes during the melon harvest last summer.

"GET THAT MAN"
Pancho Medrano of the United Auto Workers Union citizenship department testified he was arrested by Texas Rangers May 26, 1967, at Mission after he took pictures of the Rangers arresting union pickets.

Medrano quoted Texas Ranger Capt. A. Y. Allee as saying, "Get that man. I don't want any pictures taken."

The veteran Ranger has testified by deposition that he did not tell any photographer not to take pictures.

Alex Moreno Jr., a student at the University of Texas, testified he was arrested by Allee on a charge of aiding union member, Magdalena Dimas resist arrest. Moreno testified Capt. Allee shoved a shotgun barrel in his ribs June 1, 1967, a few minutes before Moreno saw Rangers break down the door and enter the home of union volunteer Kathy Baker to arrest Dimas.

THREAT
La Casita Farms foreman Jim Rochester testified Dimas and union volunteer Benito Rodriguez drove up to the La Casita packing shed that evening.

Dimas, Rochester said, had once threatened to "get" Rochester.

The foreman said Dimas was holding a rifle on his lap when the men drove up and that Dimas later raised the barrel to point it in his direction.

Rochester testified he then drew a pistol and fired two shots into the ground near the parked car. He said he later fired at the car as the men drove away.

Rochester said he considered the threat allegedly made by Dimas as "serious." And he notified the sheriff's office.

Earlier testimony by depositions from lawmen indicated Dimas was arrested at Miss Baker's home at 11:10 p.m. by Allee and other officers. Rangers said they broke down the door, entered and arrested Dimas and Rodriguez after Justice of the Peace B. S. Lopez signed what union lawyer Dixie termed a "makeshift search warrant."

Rochester's testimony showed that Dimas was arrested some three hours before Rochester signed a misdemeanor complaint accusing Dimas with disturbing the peace by "rudely displaying a weapon."

TRIPPED?
The farm foreman testified he was called to the Starr County sheriff's office at 2 a.m. the following day and was handed the complaint he said he actually doesn't recall signing.

Dr. Ramiro Casso, a McAllen physician, testified by deposition that Dimas suffered a concussion, cuts and bruises. He said he did not believe Dimas' injuries resulted from a fall unless it had been from several stories.

Capt. Allee testified in a hearing at Rio Grande City that he struck Dimas on the head with a shotgun and that the man was further injured when he tripped over some furniture and Rodriguez fell on him.

Dr. W. J. Maxwell, also of McAllen, testified that he examined Dimas five days after the arrest at the request of a McAllen lawyer who has said he represents Capt. Allee.

Dr. Maxwell testified he found no trace of a concussion, but said if it had been a mild one he might not have been able to find a trace of it.

The physician described Dimas' numerous injuries as mostly superficial.

Weather Bureau radar tracked tornadoes whirling across open range land northwest of Borger and southeast of Canyon, both in the Panhandle. Both disappeared without inflicting damage.

Quick, wind-driven downpours and milder thundershowers poured through much of East Texas, along the Upper Texas coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The heaviest deluge—2.95 inches of rain in about an hour—swamped the village of Hillister in Tyler County.

Storms Sock South Texas

Nearly three inches of rain fell within an hour in Southeast Texas storms blamed for a fatal auto accident Wednesday, and rough weather also belted other sections of the state.

It was the season's hottest day so far in most areas, and the heating of moist air billowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico was blamed for gusty thunderstorms.

The police worked after hours to avoid upsetting the routine in the office.

On June 1 a young constable matched the FBI photo of Ray with the passport photo submitted under the name of Sneyd.

MYSTERY MAN
The application listed Ray's transient Toronto address and gave the name of a travel agency, which allowed authorities to find out quickly when Ray left the country. A week later Scot-Starvo Galt, Galt at the time land yard arrested him in London as he was about to board a plane for Belgium.

The name of the constable who spotted the Sneyd photo has not been divulged because of a Mountie tradition of anonymity. The constable is now back on regular duty.

The Mounties are now trying to find out how Ray assumed the names of the four Toronto men, how he got the passport and what connections he may have had in Canada.

Ray, during the past year, has used the names of four men living in the Toronto suburb of Scarborough—Sneyd, a police constable; Eric St. Vincent Galt, a warehouse foreman; Paul Bridgeman, a teaching consultant; and John Willard, an insurance appraiser. He began using Galt's name after a visit to Montreal last summer.

Long Search Of Passports By Mounties Trapped Ray

OTTAWA (AP) — A dozen Canadian Mounties spent 19 nights scanning more than 200,000 passport applications to trace James Earl Ray.

The painstaking search by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, which led to Ray's arrest in London last Saturday, began one week after the man charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. left Canada May 6.

Ray's use of the names of four Toronto men helped him elude detection, live quietly in Toronto for nearly a month, then fly to Europe with a false birth certificate and passport under the name of Ramon George Sneyd. He obtained the passport April 25 and flew to London May 6.

An FBI photo of Ray was sent to officers at 131 Canadian points of entry on April 22. There has been no explanation of the delay to May 13 before the search started, or what led the Mounties to suspect the wanted man might have obtained a Canadian passport.

After the Foreign Ministry gave permission for the search, the dozen Mounties headed by a corporal began scanning thousands of applications made since late April 1967, when Ray escaped from prison in Missouri.

The police worked after hours to avoid upsetting the routine in the office.

The application listed Ray's transient Toronto address and gave the name of a travel agency, which allowed authorities to find out quickly when Ray left the country. A week later Scot-Starvo Galt, Galt at the time land yard arrested him in London as he was about to board a plane for Belgium.

The name of the constable who spotted the Sneyd photo has not been divulged because of a Mountie tradition of anonymity. The constable is now back on regular duty.

The Mounties are now trying to find out how Ray assumed the names of the four Toronto men, how he got the passport and what connections he may have had in Canada.

Ray, during the past year, has used the names of four men living in the Toronto suburb of Scarborough—Sneyd, a police constable; Eric St. Vincent Galt, a warehouse foreman; Paul Bridgeman, a teaching consultant; and John Willard, an insurance appraiser. He began using Galt's name after a visit to Montreal last summer.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

No Music, Please

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office. The management went to a lot of expense to put in music. It's supposed to increase your efficiency, but it doesn't increase mine. In fact, it slows me up. Those tunes bring back memories. Some are good, but some are depressing and my mind wanders off, and I start thinking about everything but my work.

I asked my boss to cut off the music where I work. It's a whole area so they took a vote, and I lost. So the music stayed.

I work a lot better when it's quiet. Am I nuts? Or are they?

WONDERING: Nobody need be "nuts." You're entitled to your own preferences, but in a "democratic system," the majority rules. (P.S. If it will make you feel any better, I'd have voted with you.)

DEAR ABBY: How many chances do you think a person is entitled to? My wife was a nice, clean-cut girl from a good Christian home when I married her. (In fact, her Daddy was a minister.)

When our first child was 10 months old I came home from work one day and found the baby wet and screaming and all alone. My wife came home in a taxi at eleven o'clock that night, dead drunk.

She said she went to the corner grocery store, met a friend, and they went out for "a drink." One led to another and before she knew it, hours had passed. She begged for one more chance, so I gave it to her.

This has been going on for six years, and it's always the same story. I can't count the "one more chance" I've given her.

We have two kiddies now, and my mother says she will take care of them for me if I decide to leave my wife. Abby, I love her. When she's sober, she's a wonderful, sweet person, but I can't go on like this. She's begging for "one more chance." What should I do?

BIG PROBLEM
DEAR BIG: Tell her you will give her one more chance if she agrees to give "Alcoholics Anonymous" a chance. A.A. has succeeded when every other formula for lasting sobriety has failed. They are listed in your telephone directory. But the one who needs the help has to do the calling.

DEAR ABBY: Recently your column used a letter describing the techniques of two mothers when their children yelled during injections. One mother promised a new doll if her daughter would shut up; the other spanked hers when she didn't.

I avoid either course by telling the child, "Remember, it will hurt a little when the doctor puts the needle in. If you think it hurts too much, don't yell. Just tell him it hurts, and he will take it right out against!"

GRANDMA
Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nixon Nixes Rocky Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has rejected a challenge from New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to meet in a nationally televised debate.

Nixon, generally considered the frontrunner for the Republican presidential nomination, said Wednesday such a debate "would only serve the Democrats by promoting divisive tendencies among Republicans."

The former vice president made the comment through a spokesman after flying back from an unannounced vacation in the Bahamas. He was under rigid security guard.

Rockefeller had issued the challenge earlier in the day during a campaign appearance in Los Angeles. He said he would "accept immediately" if one of the networks offered time for a debate with Nixon.

Nixon aides said the former vice president's disinclination to debate was not related to his televised confrontation with the late President John F. Kennedy in 1960.

Critics Fear 'The Red' Will Incite Students

LONDON (AP) — Conservative members of Parliament today loudly protested the Labour government's decision to let Daniel "Danny the Red" Cohn-Bendit into Britain for two weeks to appear on a radio-television program "Students in Revolt."

The critics feared he would incite British students whose scattered rebellions have been a pale imitation of the Continental ones.

IDOL

Cohn-Bendit, the 23-year-old German-born idol of France's rioting students, arrived in England Tuesday night to appear with student dissidents from other countries on the BBC program. Admitted for 24 hours only, he was given a two-week visa Wednesday.

Patrick Wall, a Conservative MP who was beaten up by Leeds University students three weeks ago, called the government decision "very foolish."

Danny, called "the Red" because of the red hair he dyed black to slip back into France, recently said he may try to visit the United States.

Although coming to Britain with 10 other students to take part in the BBC program to be shown tonight, his main activity likely will center on a three-day seminar on student protests at the London School of Economics, long the cradle of leftist movements.

The seminar is intended to coordinate and crystallize the aims of various student protest movements now active in British universities.

PRO AGITATOR

Twelve Conservative MPs branded Cohn-Bendit "a well-known foreign professional revolutionary agitator" and framed a motion calling on the House of Commons to censure the BBC for bringing him in.

Danny said he hoped to get visas to the Soviet Union and the United States to see "the difficulties of students in different countries, East and West."

He denied coming to Britain to stir up British students to militant action. "I'm not a supplanter," he said.

The other student leaders invited to appear on the BBC program, all active in student protests in their own country, include Lewis Cole of Columbia University.

Rotary Program

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Rotary Club met at noon Wednesday. Owen Kelly, vice president, presided. The program was presented by Jake Hodges and was on range grasses. There were 13 members present and two visitors. Neil Hilliard of Big Spring and Jimmy Rhodes of Midland.

Rocky Cites Guilt, Fear

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller declared today that the nation "must not feel stifled by guilt" over the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—"any more than we should be checked by fear or twisted by hate."

"We must, instead, get on with the business of building a more decent and more just America," he said in a speech prepared for delivery to businessmen members of the Commonwealth Club.

Rockefeller, trying to overcome Richard M. Nixon's lead in committed Republican National Convention delegates, brought his campaign to San Francisco after a day in Los Angeles in which he met with some key supporters of California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

For 90 minutes Wednesday night, leaders of Reagan's 86-vote favorite son convention delegation questioned Rockefeller in private on his views on foreign and domestic issues.

Cinema Theater To Open Friday In Shopping Center

Cinema in College Park will have its opening Friday.

An adventure in intimate theatre, Cinema will have an open-end booking arrangement that will permit holding pictures so long as they have good public demand. In addition to regular ticket purchase at the door, Cinema will observe a performance reservation policy. This will assure guests a seat for a specified performance on any day of the week.

The theatre has 168 foam rubber, reclining opera-type seats with turquoise upholstery and walnut trim. These are spaced much wider than conventional theatre seats, and the aisle is 4 feet wide for relaxed passage. Twelve tons of refrigeration cool the interior.

Walls are draped in a fire-resistant satin type material, picking up the turquoise theme.

These absorb the sound from the woofer and tweeter speakers, giving a pleasant balance free from echo or distortion. Side drapes at the front will mask the flanks for wide screen pictures and may be pulled back for Cinemascope.

Patrons are no more than about 30 feet from an exit. The rear seats are only about three score feet from the film. The design of the interior and the space, as done by Harvey Allen of Lamesa, is to give the living room feeling.

Cinema is intended as an adult theatre, with the clientele 16 years of age or above, unless accompanied by parents. This does not mean projection of art or continental movies, but rather that patrons will be able to enjoy their entertainment in a mature atmosphere.

Entry from the College Park parking area will be by a single door with a passageway extending to the end counter at the concessions stand. Patrons then step into the spacious red-carpeted lobby or may make their way down the carpeted aisle to their seats. A powder room with large mirrors is available for the ladies, and the men's restroom opens from the lobby, too. There will be lounge furniture, again carrying out the color scheme, plus a changing exhibit of local paintings.

Cinema is owned by Skyvue Theatres of Lamesa, headed by R. A. (Skeet) Noret, who a number of years ago was a resident of Big Spring.

First Film Is Announced

"Half a Sixpence," a delightful story of rags to riches against a backdrop of towns, rivers, castles and seaside resorts of England, will have its West Texas premiere here Friday with opening of Cinema in College Park.

While the Paramount production has shown in Dallas and Fort Worth, it has not yet come to this area. It was set to have a trial run Thursday in advance of the first public showings Friday.

The film features Tommy Steele, the refreshing figure in Walt Disney's "Happiest Millionaire," and has Julia Foster and Penelope Horner competing for his love. There is a bundle of fresh talent in the cast.

"Half a Sixpence" is somewhat like the story of Steele (Kipps), who came up from a South London slum beginning to gradually work his way into a place of stardom.

Kipps splits his sole sixpence with his small girl friend, and from that he launches into making a fortune and accumulating a few problems that money can't buy.

The cast has youthful exuberance that bubbles on the screen and gives the film an electrifying quality that makes it seem everyone had fun making it. Steele sings, dances, plays the banjo and emotes on a dramatic level amidst some striking scenes, including the Henley Regatta.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You couldn't find a better day than this to plan your trip or look into some new and interesting avenue of expression. You can get it right in the palm of your hand now. Show that you are an alert, clever person.

Try some new method and you will find that others take advantage of this day to have a really good time with your firm friends. Since you are always too busy for fun, put aside all those worries. Other's case, you should assume some of their sorrows. Don't be a fool.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21): It is important that all runs smoothly, either in business or at home, so do nothing that will upset the apparatus. You can also put out a good day's work. Entertainment should be done at home in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You can find some time you need to meet with persons you like, if you plan your work wisely and get through your errands. There is no reason why your day has to be so dull, full of frustration. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You have a fine day to get finances where they really should be. Time spent at bookkeeping would pay for you some extra money. Know what your real position is.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): This is one free day you have for doing all that you want to do. You are most fascinating and about as successful. See some of those people you love but for whom you've had little time lately. Give 'em a hand!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You have to do some private reading and this is one day when you can have a regular hey-day at it. Some very close the new losses up and give you the data you want. Don't blow your top at some information of a personal nature, though.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those charming young people who is almost a muddle-head and can and will do much to help and please others, and for that reason will be very successful. Popular. A fine chart for the modernizer of established business, etc. Be sure you permit your progeny to have many buds around early.

A Devotional For The Day

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God. (James 1:5)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, we thank Thee that Thou wilt forgive us for our sins and accept us as sons. Help us to give Thee the supreme place in our lives so that when we ask it shall be given, and when we seek we shall find. In Christ's name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Incomprehensible Figure

Word from the Commerce Department that public and private debt in this country now stands at $1,604,100,000 is certainly no cause for dancing in the streets. The announcement does accomplish one good thing, however. The breakdown of this incomprehensible figure brings the debt picture into better perspective.

It knocks in the head, for example, any lingering notion that government profligacy contrasts with private restraint. The federal debt is disturbingly huge; no doubt of that. But individuals are right in there pitching when it comes to amassing debts on everything from home mortgages to department store charge accounts.

During 1967 the over-all federal debt, under pressure of the war in Vietnam, rose by somewhat more than $20 billion. At year's end it had reached $371.6 billion.

Ordinary folk were not far behind. Individual debt, including nearly $100 billion in outstanding payments on consumer items, went up $15.6 billion to hit a total of $331.4 billion. Corporations, meanwhile, took on an additional $44.3 billion dollars, rounding out their indebtedness to $641 billion.

The main lesson in the Commerce Department figures is that we are a people who operate on credit in a very big way — and that we had better keep operating at speed if we want to keep our collective head above water.

Senate Can Expedite Park

All Texans, and other conservation-minded and recreation-minded Americans, should hope that the Senate will correct a House oversight in order to obtain the earliest and least expensive opening of Guadalupe Mountains National Park near El Paso.

Texas and oil companies have donated all mineral interests in the land already acquired. The National Park Service cannot dedicate the park until all authorized acreage is purchased. The only part yet unobtained is 72,000 acres, on most of which the government holds a price-frozen three-year option expiring this year.

The House failed in its Interior Department appropriation bill to include the $15 million recommended by the Budget Bureau to buy that optioned land immediately. Unless the Senate adds it, with House approval in conference committee, the cost of that land will go up a conservatively estimated 10-20 per cent by next year (and the later the higher), and the use of the park will be delayed a year or more with that intangible value loss.

War expenses and inflation have compelled Congress to require a $6-billion cut in federal spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1. But it does not make economic sense to postpone an item that will cost taxpayers more later and that is a noninflationary expenditure anyway. The decision is now largely up to Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee. We hope he makes the wiser choice.

Holmes Alexander The Meaning Of The Kennedys

WASHINGTON—In the hours immediately after Bob Kennedy was shot, his assailant was identified as a Latino. This made things difficult for amateur analysts, because Kennedy had such a solid Spanish-American following.

By lunchtime I heard that the slayer was a Cuban, and if he were an anti-Castroite that explained something, for Bob had not helped the Bay of Pigs invasion to succeed. By mid-afternoon in Washington, we knew that the killer was a Jordanian, and now it could be said that Kennedy was a casualty of the Mideast war between Israel and the Arabs.

THERE HADN'T BEEN, however, the familiar ritual that might be called scapegoating and place-name. When John Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, printer's ink came down like a cloudburst and drenched that city in communal guilt. Hadn't some crazy woman there spat on Adlai Stevenson? Hadn't some Texan in Dallas been rude to Lyndon and Ladybird? Didn't that prove Dallas, also the home of General Edwin Walker, to be the womb of right wing extremism, and malformed by nature to be the scene of presidential murder?

THIS THEORY was savagely held and most unwillingly abandoned

Billy Graham

I come from a broken home, and my life has been miserable. I can't seem to overcome the environment of my home life. Have you any suggestions?

Too many of us are all too ready to blame our failure on our parents, our circumstances, or past events.

Two faculty members of the University of California in Berkeley made a detailed study of the background of one hundred successful men to see if they had been hindered by undesirable childhood or early home environments. The study revealed that in the lives of many of these men there were broken homes, and family disturbances. There was evidence of a great deal of marital discord. Some had been over-disciplined, and some under-disciplined. There were sex problems, rivalries with siblings, etc. But, the interesting point was: they were all healthy of mind, successful in business, good citizens and good parents. They were successes, not because of their early life, but in spite of it.

God has given us a great capacity to overcome, to offset, to triumph over circumstances. Paul said: "We are more than overcomers through Him that loved us." Put your life in Christ's hands, stop thinking about your failures, and let God make you a success.

John Cunniff Airlines Competing Like Hawks

NEW YORK (AP) — In happy times the major airlines share the skies like busy, peaceful butterflies, but right now they are competing like hawks.

This week an attorney for American Airlines told a hearing in Washington that in the Pacific area Pan American World Airways had a "sorry record of poor service, poor promotion, and high fares and profits."

The next day Pan Am referred to a list of other airlines, including American, that it said wished to be cut in on the big Pacific territory, and strongly indicated that the result would be to drive Pan Am out.

THE BIG fuss will last so long as the Civil Aeronautics Board continues hearings on proposals to restructure air routes between the U.S. mainland and vast areas of the commercially expanding Pacific.

At the moment, Northwest, Pan American and United Air Lines have authority to fly these routes. But a CAB examiner has recommended that Eastern, Trans World and Western airlines also be permitted to carry passengers there.

This tremendous interest in restructuring routes, not only in the Pacific but in much of the world, comes from a complex of reasons: Security, expanding economies, population shifts, new aircraft, the need for competition to keep prices low.

THE SECURITY argument, of course, is one that the nation isn't likely to ignore. Military men feel that not only must air routes be maintained to Southeast Asia but that they must be kept strong throughout the Pacific.

But the Pacific's commercial prospects are much more interesting to the airlines.

Japan is now the largest trader with the United States. The Korean economy is expanding. Indonesia, a potentially wealthy nation, seems eager to exploit its resources. All this means business for the airlines.

A remote prospect, but still one that is very seriously considered, is China. If that nation opens her doors to air travel, as have the nations of Eastern Europe, a vast new area of almost unlimited potential could develop.

Why suburbanites don't plant crabgrass on their lawns instead of spending their lives westward. More of the nation, therefore, is given a Pacific orientation, making possible the development of a growing tourist business, not just to Hawaii, but to lands many thousands of miles beyond.

THE JET airplane also has made much of this possible. And in the future, the jet will play a big role of another kind. Because of the enormous cost of jets, airlines must develop bigger businesses, larger routes, than they now have.

The Boeing 747, which is due to be in operation before 1970, will cost $20 million. The Concorde, a British-French supersonic jet due in 1971, was expected to sell for $18 million but likely will cost more than $20 million.

In the mid-1970s, when the biggest plane of all, the U.S. supersonic airliner, is expected to be ready for commercial use, the cost of one plane will be up to $40 million. Small airlines won't be able to afford it.

As a consequence, the scramble is on to enlarge routes. Failing to do that, smaller companies are expected to seek mergers with each other or with larger operators.

And so the Pacific has become a battleground for the airlines. After the hearings the CAB goes into studious hibernation, with no answer expected for months.

Hal Boyle Why, Daddy, Why?

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is made up of wonders.

Among the things that stir us to wonder:

Why, if hair has to grow in a fellow's ears after 40, does it have to be colored gray?

Why a woman who wouldn't ordinarily hurt a fly manages to impale so many passing men with her umbrella on a rainy day?

WHY BYSTANDERS are always called innocent?

Why the horse that looks the best in the paddock always looks the worst coming down the home stretch?

Why a wife who says she never has anything but a tuna fish sandwich for lunch always wants a one pound porterhouse steak when her husband takes her out to dinner?

Why cats so consistently refuse to use a scratching post of their own and insist on sharpening their claws on the most expensive chair in the house?

Why the doctor who tells you that you need to go on a diet usually outweighs you by 20 pounds?

WHY MOTHERHOOD is so universally admired but mother-in-lawhood is so widely laughed at? After all, every woman who became a mother-in-law had first to be a mother.

Why suburbanites don't plant crabgrass on their lawns instead of spending their lives fighting it? Why teen-age children act like angels in other people's homes and like fallen angels in their own home?

Why women make their lives more difficult by being zipped up the back instead of in front?

WHY EVERYBODY smiles at a fat baby and wants to chuck him under the chin, but frowns at a fat man and pokes an accusing finger in his stomach?

Why the more we do for our kids, the more we feel that we are leaving something undone?

Why the boss never gives a guy a merit raise without also dolefully hinting that the firm may go broke before the end of the year?

WHY—WITH all the money it is getting—the government still can't afford to put enough glue on its postage stamps to make them stick? This problem has been with us for generations.

Why a husband enjoys eating beef hash in a restaurant at midday but kicks like a steer if his hausfrau serves it to him for dinner in his castle?

Why, after a crowded trip by air, your piece of luggage is always the last one the porter pulls off the cart and puts on the luggage stand?

Why it is that the easier science makes life for us, the harder it seems to be to get the same old kick out of it?

To Your Good Health Silicone For Breast Enlargement

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Where can one go — or is it against the law — to have silicone or a jelly-like substance inserted to make the breast larger? I've seen a couple of girls in show business who had this done. When I ask them where they change the subject. Is this illegal? If so, why? — W.L.

If I'd saved all the letters from women wanting some quick and easy way to enlarge the bust, I'd have a trunkful. Mainly they inquire about three methods:

Is there some hormone that you can take or rub on? — I know of no effective method in this direction.

Will exercise help? — Only to the extent that exercises improve posture — although this can be a distinctly useful factor.

What about silicone injections? — As I have written before, there is a method, used by plastic surgeons, which involved filling a specially-shaped plastic sac with silicone, and implanting it next to the chest wall. The sac can be firmly anchored to the underlying tissues so it will remain in place; the sac itself maintains dependable shape. Obviously, this is a painstaking process, a demanding facet of plastic surgery, and not inexpensive by any means.

As to injections of silicone, without the sac and its attendant surgery, that has obviously been done, possibly more abroad than in this country.

However, despite the glowing reports of its success, there are numerous problems involved. The silicone may not remain where it was injected. Sagging and loss of shape can occur. And there remains the question of what happens as this silicone moves, and what consequences may develop years later.

Silicone for medical purposes (such as this) is under control of the Food and Drug Administration and, like other drugs or materials still in an experimental stage, there are rigid rules as to who may use it and how.

Interior grades of silicone, it is know, are being produced in some foreign countries and reportedly have caused trouble.

Therefore my advice to my readers is to give up thought of silicone treatments until research and experimentation establish what is safe and effective and what is dangerous or ineffective.

My advice remains that it has been: put on a little weight, learn to stand up straight, and throw your shoulders back. If young, wait for a little more maturity.

That last remark goes double (or more) for the high school girls who are young and may not have matured as fast as some of the pouter-pigeons they admire. Just waiting will take care of a good many of these girls.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

How Much Is Too Much?

How much is 'too much' to pay in taxes? At what point, I wonder, do taxes become confiscatory?

In almost any public meeting concerning taxes, someone is sure to say that taxes are too high already, and we are looking ruin in the face to kick them up any higher.

ON THE OTHER hand, we have been treated recently to many learned treatises on the fact that if the President's surtax is not approved, the economy is headed toward spiraling inflation, and all of us could be ruined as the value of our holdings decreases.

Whether we do or don't, there is someone around to assure us it is the wrong move. For all I know, all of them may be right.

OUR LOCAL agencies — including the county, junior college, schools, and city — are faced with the same higher costs that hits the rest of us. Doubtless, it is a time to back up on capital expenditures, while holding the line as much as possible on operational costs, merely to stay even.

For all the agencies will have increased their income within a year, if the school district approves a tax increase under consideration. Although the city lowered its property tax rate, the sales tax raised the cost of city operation and increased its income. Last week, the county and junior college jumped the tax assessment percentage, and now the school district is doing the same thing. The city, aided by its sales tax, will lower its levy.

ALL OF these increases at one time take a handsome bite from the property owner's pocketbook. Although we may be a long way from the point of being unable to pay more taxes, it is not easy to reconcile.

As taxpayers, we ask these several agencies to provide a number of services, and obviously we have to pay for them. On the other side of the coin, former city commissioner John Taylor often said during budget preparation time, "there are many things it would be nice to have, that we would like to have. But can we afford them?"

THIS IS probably the pertinent question. We can pay the amount of taxes to buy the things we must have, no matter how high. It's the frills, if any, that we might want to look at a bit longer before we increase our tax payments. Some of these, perhaps, we cannot afford.

Marquis Childs Rockefeller Goes Into Action

NEW YORK—The wheels are turning furiously at the Rockefeller-for-President headquarters here. The shrewd political advisers and the smart young public relations men are settling into midtown offices hardly a jump ahead of the telephone installers punching holes in walls to lay strands of multicolored wires.

Pretty, young girls who look like Junior League novitiates answer the telephones not yet quite sure of where anybody's office is. And presiding over all this intense activity are innumerable posters of Nelson Rockefeller with his broad, self-confident grin.

WHETHER THE wheels are turning in place, grinding out steam and smoke signifying little, it is too early to say. As for the candidate himself, he radiates an optimism that may be genuine although at the present writing it has a rather forced sound.

His schedule calls for a sortie into California this week. As a Daniel in the lions' den of the ultra-conservatives he can muster. Four years ago in California Rockefeller was defeated in the primary by Barry Goldwater, thus clinching the nomination for the hero of the right wing that flourishes in the teeming South.

THESE SAME Goldwater adulators tried to bring down Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel running for re-election in the primary last week. His opponent, Max Rafferty, California's superintendent of public instruction, used as a main line of attack Kuchel's support of Rockefeller.

THE MOST WIDELY distributed Rockefeller campaign button says: "Rocky has never lost an election." His showing as the GOP candidate who can beat any Democrat by a wide margin is the root of his hope for the nomination. His agents calm to be making progress with this appeal in uncommitted states such as Pennsylvania and Ohio. And Rockefeller will go to the convention with all but a hand full of New York's 92 delegates.

While Richard M. Nixon is far in the lead, the tragic events of last week have given the campaign a different look. At least three times Nixon publicly predicted that the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy would be the Democratic nominee. The wish seemed to be father to the thought, for from all indications Nixon would have had his best chance against Kennedy.

NOW ALL THAT is changed. With Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as the Democratic candidate the possibility of harmony within a divided and discordant party is improved. In the Kennedy wing of the party many voices are raised to urge that the last surviving Kennedy son, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, accept the vice presidential nomination on a Humphrey ticket. Humphrey's lead is so great that he would be under no compulsion to make such an offer. Yet, if Kennedy should accept, the wounds of the past might be healed.

TWICE ROCKEFELLER has successfully defied the political odds, when he first ran for governor of New York as a very rich amateur and again when he went for a third term as his advisers were telling him he didn't have a chance. The odds are longer this time, longer perhaps than in '64 when he went down, yet he is in there battling.

Art Buchwald It's Not Easy To Be A Swinger

WASHINGTON—It's very hard for many college students to live up to the roles they have been given by the mass media. What newspapers, magazines and television networks expect from students is more than most of them can deliver. I discovered this when I was speaking at a Midwestern campus the other day.

A student, whom I shall call Ronald Hoffman, seemed very troubled and I asked him what the problem was.

"MY PARENTS are coming up next week, and I don't know what to do."

"Why?"

"Well, you see, I told them I was living off-campus with this co-ed in an apartment. But the truth is that I'm living in the dormitory."

"That shouldn't really disturb them."

"Oh, but it will. They're very proud of me, and they think I should have a mind of my own. When my dad heard I was living off-campus with a co-ed, he doubled my allowance because, as he put it, 'Anyone who is willing to spit in the eye of conformity deserves his father's support.' I don't know what he's going to say when he finds out I used the money to buy books."

"IT'LL HURT him," I agreed. "What will your mother say?"

"I don't know. She's been crying a lot since I wrote her about living with this co-ed, and Dad's been arguing with her that her trouble is she doesn't understand youth. Mom's likely to get pretty sore when she discovers she's been crying for nothing."

"Not to mention how silly your father will look for making her cry."

RONALD SHOOK his head sadly. "The trouble with parents these days is they believe everything they read. Life magazine, in a 'Sex on the Campus' article, made it sound so easy to find a co-ed to live with. Well, let me tell you, for every Linda Lee Clair of England who's playing house with a male college student, there're a million co-eds who won't even do the dishes."

"Then all this talk of students living out of wedlock is exaggerated?"

"EXAGGERATED?" When I got here I asked 10 girls if they wanted to live with me. The first one said she didn't come to college to iron shirts for the wrong guy. Four told me frankly that it would hurt their chances of finding a husband. Three told me to drop dead, and one reported me to the campus police. I was lucky to get a room in the dormitory."

"I guess it's no fun for a young man to pretend he's a swinger."

"YOU CAN SAY that again. Every time I go home, everybody wants to know about the pot parties and orgies I go to at school. The only thing that's saved me is that I've seen 'La Dolce Vita' twice."

"You have to depend on your imagination?"

"What college boy doesn't?" Ronald said. "There are more conscientious objectors among co-eds in the Sexual Revolution than any modern sociologist would dare admit."

"It's enough to destroy your faith in Hugh Hefner," I said.

From Both Sides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A television system installer suddenly found himself on the other end of a system he installed.

Columbus officials ordered a closed circuit television system installed at the city prison for use by officers during interview and arrest procedures.

Putting in the system was a full day's work and one of the installers went out on the town afterward. He had a few drinks too many and soon found himself back at the prison standing before one of the cameras used for interview work.

Nudists' Rules

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Nudist colonies in Kentucky now must obtain state licenses and undergo "reasonable inspection" by local sheriffs.

The 1968 legislature imposed the new restrictions after the Court of Appeals knocked out the former more stringent limits.
