SINCE SUNDAY Guns Have Taken 79 Americans

By The Associated Press

Guns have taken the lives of 79 persons in the United States since midnight Sunday, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Of those, 41 were homicides, 28 were suicides and 10 were accidental deaths.

Three children were killed with firearms Wednesday, two by other children and one by a former mental patient.

Coroner Andrew J. Toman of Cook County (Chicago) said Wednesday that more persons died from gun wounds in the county during 1967 than died in automobile accidents.

He said 607 firearms deaths were reported compared with 591 traffic fatalities.

The FBI reported that approximately 6,500 persons were murdered with firearms in 1966—an average of 125 gun homicides a week. Total homicides for 1966, the FBI said, was 10,920 persons.

This included stabbings and stranglings. The FBI said 60 per cent of the homicides in America result from firearms.

The Associated Press is making a week's survey of gunshot deaths. The count began at midnight Sunday and will continue through Sunday, June 23.

Beaten With Hangers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Diane Nichols, 20, was hospitalized today with injuries received when an irate man flayed her with a whip fashioned from three twisted coat hangers.

Officers estimated she had been struck more than 100 times in the beating Wednesday.

Police said she was found tied face down on a bed at her home. She was clad only in a nylon nightgown.

Police Lt. W. E. Stover said the beating was the worst he had seen in which the victim survived. Police said Miss Nichols managed to identify a man she said beat her after accusing her of failing to give him a letter delivered to her home.

Miss Nichols was in an undetermined condition.

Wants Neutral Study

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean news agency said today that the United States has proposed to North Korea that the Pueblo crew be turned over to neutral nations for an investigation to determine whether they violated North Korean waters.

The Dongwha news agency quoted diplomatic sources as saying that the United States wants the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea to conduct the investigation.

Giveaway Winners Picked

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may take more than luck to win all those cars, dollars and other prizes in gasoline giveaway games, says the chairman of a House subcommittee investigating the contests.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., says dealers participating in the games claim they can easily pick out the winning cards and arrange for their distribution in any way they wish — including not giving them to anyone.

Seven Die In Crash

READING, Pa. (AP) — Seven persons were killed Wednesday night when a twin-engine plane crashed into a cornfield during a thunderstorm.

One witness said she saw the plane — outlined by several flashes of lightning — roaring earthward in a tailspin.

Upon impact, it burst into flames "that lit up the sky," she said.

Ike Still Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors tending former President Dwight D. Eisenhower still consider him to be in the critical period that generally lasts about a week for the victim of a heart attack.

Nightmare On Water

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Coast Guard searched today for possible survivors or victims of a sudden windstorm that turned a perfect night for sailing into a nightmare. A score of pleasure craft swamped or capsized.

Twenty-four persons were plucked from 65-degree water Wednesday night shortly after 70- to 80-mile-an-hour winds swept onto Lake Erie and waves surged to 15 feet.

There were no reported deaths. Most of the 24 persons rescued had been in a sailboat race.

House Vote On Surcharge Due Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears to have a safe but not overwhelming margin for passage as it comes before the House for a vote after a year of controversy and delay.

The Senate, anticipating House approval today, has scheduled its own vote Friday.

If the anticipated script is followed, everyone in the country who now has federal income tax deducted from his paycheck will find the tax bite 10 per cent bigger in about three weeks.

That means a worker now having $50 per week withheld for income tax would have $55 withheld until next June and possibly longer.

SPENDING CUT

Tied to the increase in taxes is a mandatory $6-billion cut in government spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Johnson fought the spending cut as excessive. But he finally agreed to the measure because of what he called the overriding need for more revenues to shrink a deficit estimated at $24 billion to $31 billion check inflation and bolster the dollar internationally.

The Senate already has voted for a similar package, but must consider the final version.

For individuals, the effective tax increase this year would be 75 per cent of their total tax bill, because for them the surtax is retroactive to April 1. For corporations, it covers the full year 1968.

As the bill is written, the surtax would expire June 30, 1969, but its principal architect, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has already raised the possibility of an extension if the nation cannot put its financial house in order by then.

EXCISE TAX

Besides the income tax surcharge, the bill continues the excise tax on automobiles at 7 per cent and on telephone service at 10 per cent. Under the old law, they dropped to 2 per cent and 1 per cent respectively. The bill also provides a speedup of corporation tax collections.

Long Gun Ban Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strict ban on mail order sales of rifles and shotguns was approved today by the House Judiciary Committee.

The vote came just a half day after President Johnson signed into law a similar prohibition dealing with pistols and revolvers, and called for tighter restrictions over the sale of firearms.

(SEE STORY ON PAGE 2-A)

The Senate Judiciary Committee also was scheduled to act today on legislation to ban shotguns and rifle sales by mail.

The bill approved by the House Judiciary Committee by a 29-6 vote would also prohibit the sale of rifles and shotguns to anyone living outside the state where the sale is made, or to anyone under 18.

Camp Leader Vows To Stay Following March Of 50,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — By the yardsticks of the men who planned it, the 1968 march on Washington was a triumphant show of support for the Poor People's Campaign.

With little more than 10 days in which to organize "Solidarity Day," leaders Wednesday brought out an outpouring of black and white Americans, estimated by Washington police at 50,000, to surge around the foot of the Lincoln Memorial.

HEARS CHIEF

The crowd stood in the sunshine and heard campaign chief the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy vow to keep Resurrection City, the Shantytown set up to house the Poor People demonstrators, in Washington with or without the government permit that expires Sunday night.

"Some of you may go home," Abernathy roared to the approval of the crowd, "but the rest of us are staying here, ready to go to jail."

Sales Tax Hike Given 90-54 Okay In House

Corporate, Income Taxes Defeated

AUSTIN (AP) — The House tentatively approved today a bill boosting the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent and planned an afternoon session to give final passage.

Passage sends the tax measure to the Senate, where sentiment reportedly also favors the sales tax increase route for solving the revenue problems of the special session.

PRELIMINARY VOTE

The House vote on preliminary approval of the tax bill was 90-54.

Efforts to impose corporate and personal income taxes were decisively defeated. Gov. John Connally's revenue plan which included a sales tax rebate to cities in lieu of their own local sales taxes was quickly scrapped and never given serious consideration.

The Senate recessed until 2 p.m. after Lt. Gov. Preston Smith told the chamber it was possible senators would be able to consider some sort of tax bill by that time.

The House tax bill adds a penny per dollar to the sales tax and to the 2 per cent motor vehicle sales tax.

Reps. R. H. Cory, Victoria, and Ben Atwell, Dallas, House tax committee chairman, sponsored the sales tax plan as a substitute for the governor's bill.

INDIFFERENT

Mayors reportedly failed to get behind the Connally bill and were indifferent to the Yebate plan.

Rep. Don Gladden, Fort Worth failed 130-13, in an effort to win approval for a 4 per cent personal and corporate income tax amendment. His tax would have been computed on federal income tax payments.

House members approved a provision by Rep. Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, requiring trading lamp companies to pay the state the value of all stamps unredeemed after seven years.

The adjournment in the House was to satisfy the constitutional requirement that bills be passed twice on two separate days. Evidently, the leadership did not expect to get the necessary four-fifths vote to suspend the constitutional rule. The effect of the adjournment was to have a new legislative day starting at 1 p.m.

BOOZE

With the $5 million or so in new revenue that would be raised if the senate approves the house-passed mini-bottle liquor by the drink bill, the Cory-Atwell proposal would raise a total of $132 million, roughly the amount needed to finance the House version of the general appropriations bill.

Knocked out of the proposal was a 50 cents per $500 tax on real estate transfers, which would have raised $666,666 between Jan. 1 and Sept. 1, 1969, the end of the fiscal year for which the legislature is approaching.

Youth Quizzed On RFK Assassination

JUAREZ, Mex. (AP) — A youth who claims dual citizenship in the United States and Mexico is being questioned by Mexican federal agents and FBI agents about a letter containing statements about the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

NO CHANGE

The youth, identified by Juarez judicial police Chief Jesus Chacon as Crispin Guriel Gonzales, 17, was held without charge or bond.

Chacon said Gonzales was examined for four hours late Wednesday by three psychiatrists who are to report to authorities later today.

The Mexican federal district attorney in Juarez, Norberto Salinas, said he was consulting with Mexico City to determine if any charges should be filed.

Chacon said the youth was picked up Monday night after, police said they were told, a letter containing statements to the effect that the youth had

Near Record Crowd Sees Rodeo Opener

By SAM BLACKBURN

The animals were rough and tough, the cowboys determined but not always too successful in their efforts, and the near record first night crowd of spectators were delighted with what they saw at Wednesday night's opener of the 35th Annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion-Rodeo.

Some of the riders, including some of the top men nationally in the rodeo world, scored good times but others, as well known for their ability, found the animals uncooperative and often tested the hardness of the sand on the floor of the rodeo bowl.

ABOUT 6,000
At least 6,000 and possibly more men, women and children filled the east and west stands at the big bowl. Actual attendance was not reported. Officials, pointed out that there were many passes issued for the first night, and that no report on advance ticket sales has been posted. However, the veterans of the local association agreed that the turnout last night was probably one of the largest first night crowds in more than a decade.

The performance moved at a rapid pace under ideal weather conditions. There was no wind, no dust, and a pleasantly comfortable temperature.

The rodeo entry list is one of the longest in the local show's history. In calf roping, for example, there were 56 cowboys entered. The audience saw a dozen of these in action and 34 others tried for money after the crowd had gone home.

In fact, the top times for the first four money places were scored after the regular performance had terminated.

ROPER

Top man for the calf roping was Glen Franklin of House, N.M. His 11 seconds flat was enough to give him first place. There is nothing new in Franklin being the high man in calf roping. He is the national leader in the RCA in this event and slated by many observers to be this year's champion in the field.

The next three winners — there was a tie for third and fourth place — were Morris Walker, Cotilla, second with 11.6; and Joe Lowrance, Sulphur, Okla., and John Kirkpatrick, Post, each with a time of 12 seconds.

Fastest time scored in the show proper was a 13 by D. Hampton, Fort Worth. His time was not good enough to put him in the winning field for the day.

The grand entry of the rodeo was spectacular in that more than 700 riders were circling the arena at the climax. A long list of riding groups from all over this area was on hand for this traditional initial spectacle of all rodeo shows.

Tommy Steiner, the producer, has a well-organized working team and the events moved through with no lag and with professional smoothness.

SPECIAL ACTS

The special acts, particularly Bill Buschhorn with his remarkable pair of sheep dogs, and Wetback, who showed as the champion dog rider of all monkevdom, delighted the crowd.

San Angelo featured its Saddle Club Drill. The San Angelo riders had won top honors as the best riding group in the parade which officially opened the show Wednesday afternoon.

printing funds during the special session.

Rep. Carl Parker of Fort Arthur offered the corporate income tax amendment. It would have taken 10 per cent of a corporation's total federal income tax.

Cory moved to table it, saying, "I don't think Texas is ready for this kind of tax." His motion carried, 109-38.

REMINDER

Atwell reminded the House that "We got by without a tax bill last session" and told them "We need in the neighborhood of $100 million."

House Chaplain Clinton Kersey prayed in his invocation that representatives who alone can initiate revenue bills, keep in mind that "The power to tax can also be the power to destroy" — quoting an early U.S. Supreme Court decision.

Another fiscal problem, appropriations, appears closer to settlement. A joint House-Senate conference committee starts work today on a compromise between the two chambers' separate versions of a $2.5 billion general spending bill. How big the general revenue part of the bill is determines how big the final tax bill — if there is one — will be, since the budget must balance.

If July 3, the last day of the 30-day session, passes without action on a tax bill, the legislators have to come back and start all over.

Airliner Forced To Cuban Field

HAVANA (AP)—Santiago Airport officials said today that a Venezuelan airliner was forced to land there shortly after midnight, but refused to say if the plane was hijacked.

Other reports from Santiago, 460 miles southeast of Havana, said a young man armed with a grenade commandeered Flight 797 from Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, and threatened to explode the plane unless the plane landed in Cuba.

ALL WELL

An unknown number of passengers were taken to the Hotel Versailles in Santiago where officials reported all were well. The hotel refused further information and would not let newsmen speak to passengers or crewmen by telephone.

A spokesman at the airline's New York office said 77 passengers and three crew members were aboard the plane. He said all the passengers now in Cuba boarded the plane at Santo Domingo and that passengers who had flown from Miami, Fla., to Santo Domingo on the plane all got off in the Dominican Republic.

Youth Quizzed On RFK Assassination

prior knowledge of the assassination, fell from his pocket at a concession stand in Juarez.

Chacon would not divulge contents of the letter except to say it included statements about the assassination and also mentioned Kennedy's brother, Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Police records showed that Gonzales was arrested June 3 in Los Angeles on a vagrancy charge, local officers said, and that Gonzales told Los Angeles police he was a native of Mexico.

DEPORTATION

Gonzales was sent to El Paso, across the Rio Grande to Mexico, for deportation to Mexico. When he arrived in El Paso he claimed U.S. citizenship and a check of Washington State records indicated he was born a U.S. citizen.

He also claims Mexican citizenship and Chacon said the youth's parents live in the state of Colima, Mexico. They were not identified.

'MORE GOOD THAN BAD'

Johnson Signs Crime Bill Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crime bill bearing Congress' first authorization of wiretapping provisions limiting Supreme Court rulings on criminal confessions and restrictions on the sale of guns, has been signed by President Johnson. The bill contains "more good than bad," the President said Wednesday night as he signed the measure barely four hours before it would have become law if he had not acted.

Johnson said, although he warned against the wiretapping provisions leading to the United States becoming "a nation of snoopers."

Johnson was urged to veto the bill by its opponents, who argued parts were unconstitutional and unwise. But congressional leaders predicted a veto would have been overridden.

The Senate passed the bill 72-4 and sent it to the House and an apparent rewriting in a conference committee when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot June 5 in Los Angeles. Within hours of Kennedy's death the next day, the House passed the bill without change 368-17 and sent it to the White House.

The new law's major provisions — Establish a five-year program of federal grants to improve the training and equipment of state and local police and to develop new crime fighting techniques.

Appropriations of $100 million are authorized to finance the program for the current year and another $300 million for the second year. The amount of federal aid in subsequent years is left open.

—Make confessions admissible as evidence in federal criminal trials if voluntarily given and also eyewitness testimony on the identification of suspects in police lineups—an effort to overturn controversial Supreme Court decisions.

—Authorizes wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping by law enforcement officers, acting under court orders, in the investigation of a long list of specified crimes.

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and also their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and to people under 21.

—Make illegal the possession of any firearms by felons, mental incompetents, aliens illegally in the country, Americans who have renounced their citizenship and veterans who receive other than an honorable discharge.

—Bar from federal employment for five years anyone convicted of inciting or taking part in a riot or other civil disorder or of any riot-connected felony.

—Require Senate confirmation of future directors of the FBI appointed by the President. The legislation, as first passed by the House last year, was limited to what Johnson called his safe streets program of federal aid to strengthen local law enforcement. All the rest was added in the Senate.

Even as the House acted June 6 Johnson protested the firearms section was only a watered-down version of the gun controls he had asked. He called it a halfway measure because the ban on mail-order sales did not include rifles and shotguns.

However, separate legislation passed to carry out his recommendations is now before the Senate and House Judiciary committees and appears likely to be passed.

Stiffer Firearms Control Bills Sent To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Not both the Senate and House had satisfied with the gun restrictions in the crime bill just signed into law advocates of stiffer firearms control drove today to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

Wallace Steps Up Hunt For Presidential Votes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — George Wallace, stepping up his attack on both major parties, goes presidential vote-hunting today in Louisiana.

Despite Gov. John McKeithen's lack of enthusiasm for Wallace's third party campaign, the former Alabama governor was invited to address the Louisiana Legislature during his fund-raising visit to Baton Rouge.

His schedule at the state capital, as it has at every other stop on the 11-day Southern tour, included a news conference and speeches at a $25-a-plate dinner and a political rally.

More than 700 followers who paid $25 for dinner and 8,000 or more who turned out for a rally Wednesday night at Jacksonville.

Young Persons New Work Force

HOUSTON (AP) — The executive vice president of the National Restaurant Association says young persons in the 20-25 year age group will constitute 65 per cent of the country's work force by 1975.

Donald Greenaway of Chicago addressed delegates to the 29th annual Texas Restaurant Association Wednesday.

"You had better stop right now and get to know the young people who are 13 to 27 years of age," he said. "For in the coming seven years, they'll represent the best educated group in America's history. Of our total population in 1975, 45 per cent will have a year or more of post high school education, the largest percentage of educated people in one bloc in the world."

Club Feeds 1,600 For Rodeo Feast

What looked like a mountain of deliciously barbecued beef at 5 p.m. had dwindled to a few shreds amid cleanly picked bones by 8 p.m. Wednesday and the Kiwanis Club's annual Rodeo Barbecue was recorded in the books as the most successful the club has enjoyed in its history as sponsor of these events.

It was estimated not less than 1,600 men, women and children dined on the viands provided by the club. Of this total, at least 1,200 were served at the City Park. An additional 400 or more were provided with food at the Rodeo Bowl where the club had a contract to feed the special guests of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion.

Jack Worsham, general chairman of the event for Kiwanis, said that he was pleased with the turnout and was grateful to the members of the club for their wholehearted cooperation and help.

"We had scores of guests come by and tell us how delicious the meal had been," said Worsham. "All we had left when the last guest had been served was part of a pot of beans. We took those to the Salvation Army."

No report on the financial outcome of the barbecue will be available for some time as advance ticket sales have to be reported. However, club officials were sure that the club would be able to show a profit on the effort. Funds from the barbecue will go to the club's work for underprivileged children.

Henry Thames was cook and his barbecue was hailed by diners as superb. "We had a good fire," said Thames. "It worked just right. The meat cooked slowly and came out tender and juicy as good barbecue should."

NEW YORK (AP) — In time, human heart transplants may become commonplace. But their cost in dollars will likely remain uncommonly high. There are no hard figures on the real, total cost of each heart transplant carried out so far. But it ranges up to $50,000 each, one heart specialist estimates. If — and it is still a big "if" — heart transplantation proves out successfully, then at least 10,000 Americans might be candidates for new hearts each year, says Dr. Donald Fredrickson, former director of the National Heart Institute. The high cost of getting new organs for old is already being faced by thousands of young and older people with kidney disease. For them, transplantation of a kidney can be successful now in most cases. Blood-purifying machines can keep them going, too, but this treatment is also expensive. In one heart case in which there are some precise figures — that of Michael Kasperak who received a borrowed heart at Stanford University last January — the hospital bill totaled $28,845.83. This amounts to about $1,900 a day for the 15 days he lived after operation.

Blue Cross hospital insurance covered $21,580 of this sum. Fellow workers and others are paying or have paid the remaining $7,265.83 expenses for blood by replacing 288 pints. In this case, and presumably all others so far, the surgeons donated their services. Costs of heart transplants performed to date have apparently been borne mainly through medical insurance, through research funds, or private contributions, including contribution of skills and services.

Fredrickson, now chief of the Laboratory of Molecular Diseases of the Heart, Institute, says he does not expect costs to decline significantly in the next few years even if heart transplants become rather routine. A prime expense is many days of hospitalization under intensive special care. About 1,900 kidneys have been transplanted, mostly within the last few years, and 90 per cent of patients getting new kidneys live for at least one year. Costs have come down within the last decade. At one center for kidney transplants, the cost averaged $17,750 over a three-year period. Now it averages $13,300, with another $200 to $1,000 a year for follow-up costs. Artificial kidneys — machines that purify the blood — are keeping victims of kidney disease alive through repeated use at hospitals or in the home. The annual cost ranges from $5,000 up. The National Kidney Foundation cites estimates that 5,000 to 10,000 Americans die each year from chronic kidney disease, and that many of them could enjoy extra years of life if treated by kidney machines or borrowed kidneys. But besides the enormous cost, there is a shortage of trained personnel and lack of adequate treatment facilities. Bills introduced in Congress this year would provide $140 million over the next five years to set up and operate artificial kidney and kidney transplant centers.

Additional Cuts Possible In New Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee says further cuts may be made in the administration's foreign aid bill when the measure reaches the House floor in about two weeks. "We are going to try to hold this figure," Rep. Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., said Wednesday after his committee slashed the administration's $2.9 billion request by nearly $600 million. "But," he added, "I imagine there will be some further cuts on the floor. I hope they won't go as deep as $1 billion." The committee, by a 24-9 vote, approved an authorization of $2,364,725,000 after beating back attempts by Republicans that would have cut a total of $1 billion. Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., who heads a House Appropriations subcommittee which actually funds the foreign aid program, said Wednesday's cuts were half what they should have been. "I'm extremely grateful they left me some work to do," he said. In other congressional action, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called for a thorough and complete investigation of charges of widespread corruption in Vietnam. He said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee should look into charges by William J. Lederer in a recently published book, "Our Own Worst Enemy." He also asked the State Department to comment on the charges. In a related development, Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., who also has called for a congressional probe of the Lederer charges, said a State Department reply to him failed to either rebut the article or clarify it. He called the reply a "mish-mash of bureaucratic nothingness." —The administration's industrial safety bill drew both support and criticism at a Senate Labor subcommittee hearing. Dr. Philip Lee, assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, backed the bill and said one of its most important provisions would provide aid to states in collecting data on accidents. He said the country did not have such adequate data now. Opposition came from Paul Hafer of the National Association of Manufacturers, who said the secretary of labor should not be given the "unprecedented power as proposed in this bill." He said the secretary would have unlimited power to close a plant down if he found "imminent harm existed." —Both the House and Senate quickly cleared and sent to the White House a resolution giving Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and other widows of congressmen free mailing privileges for six months. The privileges would be restricted to "correspondence relating to the death of the member." —A House Appropriations subcommittee was told in a report by the public printer that the per page cost of the Congressional Record is going up $3, reaching an estimated $116 in the next fiscal year. PARIS, Tex. (AP) — The 140-bed L. P. McCashtien Community Hospital, one of the two new hospitals being completed here, used concrete totaling 216,000 yards, 545 tons of structural steel, 114 miles of wire, 28 miles of conduit, 14 miles of pipe, 191,000 square feet of asphalt, 2,100 light fixtures. A spokesman for the board, Irwin McClanahan, said the hospital has 134,361 square feet including a core for 200 beds. The building was erected and equipped at a cost of $25.94 per square foot.

New Contact Pattern May Help Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — Despite the barrage of charges which the United States and North Vietnam exchange in their Paris talks, a new pattern of contact is emerging—a pattern that could lead to serious negotiations to end the war. This appears to be the most encouraging development in the discussions, which began almost six weeks ago and have registered no progress toward scaling down the fighting. The pattern became clear Wednesday when 40 minutes of a meeting that lasted less than four hours were devoted to a recess during which the two top members of each delegation talked privately and informally. In this conversation were W

Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance for the United States and Xuan Thuy and Le Duc Tho for North Vietnam. Their conversation was described as amiable but what they said was not disclosed. The precedent of a recess for refreshments was set several weeks ago by a short break of about 15 minutes. Wednesday it clearly attained the proportions of something more than a brief respite from the formal talks. U.S. officials hope the practice will lead to regular private discussions. William J. Jordan, the U.S. press spokesman, told the U.S. press: "Our feeling for some time has been that private talks are a better way of dealing with the tough issues."

 Possession of a singleton heart deterred South from making a take-out double after East opened the bidding with one club. South chose instead to overcall with one diamond in the hope of obtaining another chance later. West raised East to two clubs and the latter now showed his second suit by bidding two hearts. This gave South an opportunity to show additional strength by bidding two spades, for North is obliged to enter the three level merely to show a preference for diamonds. When West competed with three clubs, North raised South to three spades, despite the fact that he did not have a single face card. He reasoned that the singleton club and four trumps would be worth a trick or two. When South carried on to game, East closed the auction by doubling four spades. West led the queen of clubs and, when a singleton appeared in dummy, he shifted to the queen of hearts. He was permitted to hold the trick and continued with the jack of hearts which South ruffed. Declarer observed that he could enter dummy by ruffing a club to take the spade finesse. However, if West has the king of spades, another round of hearts will reduce South to the lone ace of trumps. Even if he has the good fortune to drop the jack of spades on the second round of the suit, he has no reentry to dummy to draw the last trump. South decided to lead trumps from his hand. He cashed the ace and continued with the queen. West put up the king and East's jack fell under it. South ruffed the heart return, trumped a club with North's nine of spades and then drew the last trump with the ten. Declarer's diamonds took the remaining tricks when East's queen fell under the ace, king. South's lead of the queen of spades was a well calculated play. Observe that, if he plays the ace and a small spade, even if one of the opponents holds a doubleton king, another round of hearts will force out declarer's last trump, and the jack of spades becomes established for the setting trick.

HUMPHREY CALLS FOR RE-EXAMINATION

Says HHH, Nixon Favor Past

By The Associated Press
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey called today for re-examination of the "old policies" but Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller charges both Humphrey and GOP rival Richard M. Nixon want to relive the past.

And Nixon says the only way to bring change if Humphrey is the Democratic presidential nominee will be for Democrats, Republicans and independents to join Nixon, "marching under a Republican banner."

Humphrey, ending his campaign moratorium since Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination, called for the policy re-examination in prepared National Press Club address.

He said the next president faces a new period in history in which "the old premises, the old policies, all the old way of doing things are being brought into question."

The vice president said "the status quo when it sustains hunger, injustice . . . or subjugation of one man by another" will not be accepted—but he did not say the old policies should be cast aside wholesale.

"There is nothing less in this," he said, "than the need to re-examine — and to change where necessary — our national priorities, the allocation of our resources, the structures and framework in which we work."

Humphrey said he means to rally Americans "to do whatever is necessary to make this Democratic system of ours bend and shape to new conditions as it always has before."

But New York Gov. Rockefeller said Humphrey would "live the last four years all over" — and he said Nixon, his opponent for the GOP nomination, advocates "the leadership that failed eight years ago."

Rockefeller made the direct naming-names attack in Cleveland and said he had read newspaper reports Nixon would not accept his challenge to a debate.

But Nixon, in New York, continued to ignore Rockefeller and concentrated on Humphrey.

"If as generally expected Hubert Humphrey is the Democratic nominee," Nixon said, "there will be one way that those Democrats who want change can get a change"—voting for Nixon.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Humphrey's Democratic opponent, was celebrating his decisive New York primary defeat victory—and said he will press for a share of the 65 additional delegates to be named later by the Democratic State Committee.

With some contests in New York's Tuesday primary still undecided, McCarthy had 52 of the 123 delegates at stake, allies of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy 25 and Humphrey five or Rockefeller had 71 delegates automatically, plus two more in the 11 other contests in which his backers were challenged by those of Nixon.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace, joining the debate over who can bring change, said in Jacksonville, Fla., that electing a Republican president would be "just changing horses, but not changing directions."

The Gallup Poll, meanwhile, showed Wallace leading both Nixon and Humphrey in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina with Wallace favored by 47 per cent of the voters and Democratic party professionals in the five-state area.

Slogan Winners

gine manager. They are presented their savings bond awards by Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr., wing commander. Isom, whose slogan was selected as the winning entry, submitted "Spin The Webb Clean."

Outer Defense Troops Kill 93 Cong, Seize 33 More

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen patrolling Saigon's outer defense ring killed 93 Viet Cong and seized 33 suspects in four clashes south and north of the capital, the U.S. Command reported today.

Inside the city and its suburbs, it was the quietest day since the Communist command launched its "second wave" of offensive on May 5.

No ground action was reported.

The biggest battle in the ring around Saigon was fought by soldiers of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division who killed at least 44 Viet Cong Wednesday around a helicopter landing zone 12 miles north of the capital.

The action broke out at 11 a.m. when helicopters landed a company of American infantrymen, trying to intercept enemy units, a zone surrounded by Viet Cong.

While the outnumbered Americans fought for their lives, helicopter gunships raked the enemy. Both sides moved up reinforcements but the 25th Division won the race, landing another 300 men at 2:30 p.m.

The battle continued until after midnight, then the Viet Cong pulled out and left blood trails behind. U.S. losses were 15 killed and 14 wounded.

Another 39 enemy soldiers were killed 29 miles northeast of Saigon when they were caught by troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and then hit by artillery, helicopter gunships and AC47 Magic Dragon planes with their rapid-firing miniguns.

Only two American soldiers were reported killed and 18 wounded in the 90-minute fight that ended at dusk.

The off-again, on-again character of the recent ground action was reflected in the weekly casualty reports from the allied commands, which reported enemy casualties last week were only about half those of the week before. American battle losses in seven weeks and South Vietnamese battle dead also dropped off sharply.

The U.S. Command said 324

Troops of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division killed 10 more enemy soldiers nine miles southeast of Saigon. Five were seen dodging into a bunker, and the infantrymen destroyed the bunker and the five guerrillas.

The 33 prisoners were gathered southwest of the capital by troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade.

Government casualties last week were 286 killed and 1,189 wounded, compared with 392 dead and 1,156 wounded the week before.

Japan Asks Base Removal

TOKYO (AP) — Demands to remove the American air base at Itazuke, a center of controversy following the recent crash of a U.S. jet there, were discussed by the Japan-U.S. joint committee on security today for the first time.

American officials agreed to study any concrete plan advanced.

The base became a subject of controversy when the fighter-bomber crashed into an unfinished building on the campus of Kyushu University, near the base in southern Japan. A Cabinet committee has recommended that the base be transferred to another location, and Fujiyama said the question of Japanese reimbursement for the cost of such a move is under study.

MRS. PAUL PETTERSON

Bride Has Developed Skills In Homemaking

Mrs. Paul Petterson is a bride of nine months, and during the month when more weddings are supposedly performed than at any other time, she said that she has learned much about being a wife and homemaker.

Mrs. Petterson is the former Gloria Coker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Coker. She and her husband live at 1512 Stadium in a cottage which shows the loving care and attention that has been lavished on it during the past few months.

The Pettersons have bought their home and furnished it in the Spanish motif. They have been given a number of furnishings which she has refinished or remodeled to match their decor.

Petterson is a mortician at River-Welch Funeral Home. Mrs. Petterson teaches in the Head Start program during the school months and plans to attend Texas Technological College later this summer to earn six hours of graduate work.

Mrs. Petterson shops once weekly for groceries, and no matter if she runs out of a needed item, she does not make emergency trips to the store. She either substitutes or changes her menu plans. She watches for specials and shops accordingly.

Mrs. Petterson does hand crafts and has decoupage some scenic pictures for the living room wall. Her main furniture is in hues of gold and green and she has antiqued a chest of drawers and a table. She and her husband work when she needs and built and antiqued a chest of drawers and a table.

June Is Dairy Month

This zingy hash is made with beef, tomatoes and rice and is topped with melted pasteurized cheese spread. Try it during rodeo week or for any occasion when you need an appetite perk up.

Make Western Hash During This Month

Wholesome dairy foods are traditionally at a peak of abundance in June. The dairy industry is responsible for a tremendous range of products that enhance mealtime flavor and sparkle from dawn to way past dusk — foods, which are excellent nutritional sources, too. To remind us of the dairy farmers' contributions to our mealtime pleasure and good health, this period is spotlighted as June Is Dairy Month.

In tribute to the occasion, we highlight a succulent casserole, Western Hash. It's a zesty beef, tomato and rice combo crowned with pasteurized process cheese spread triangles that form a colorful and tempting melted topper. This form of process cheese is an excellent example of the many delightful dairy foods that enrich everyday meals.

Pasteurized process cheese spread is made from carefully selected natural cheeses, in themselves highly concentrated forms of important milk nutrients. The natural cheeses are blended, melted along with an emulsifying agent and pasteurized. During processing, extra milk minerals and milk solids are added to cheese spreads. The resulting product has exceptional nutritional values and uniform texture and flavor, fine keeping qualities and consistently excellent cooking properties such as its quick, smooth melting features so pleasantly capitalized on in Western Hash.

WESTERN HASH

1 lb. ground beef
3 1/2 cups (1-lb. 12-oz. can) tomatoes
1 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup uncooked rice
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. basil
Dash of pepper
1/2 lb. pasteurized process cheese spread, sliced, cut into triangles

Brown meat; add tomatoes, green pepper, onion, rice and seasonings. Cover; simmer 25 minutes. Top with cheese triangles; heat until melted. Makes six servings.

Try Cooking Tip

When coating frozen steaks or chops with egg-bread crumb mixture, make certain the meats are partially defrosted so the coating adheres to the meat, not the pan.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Old-fashioned recipes for oatmeal-date bars often direct that the oatmeal be ground. To do so, put the rolled oats through the fine blade of a food chopper or "grind" in an electric blender. This method works for both regular and quick-cooking oats.

Cream butter and brown sugar; dot the mixture over grapefruit halves; broil until topping is bubbly and fruit is hot. Delicious as a first course for brunch or as dessert for dinner.

Did you know that barley comes two ways, regular and quick-cooking?

Here's something different in a whipped-cream topping for a cake or other dessert. Whip a cup of heavy cream until stiff, then fold in one quarter cup of confectioners sugar and three tablespoons of chocolate shot.

When you are making thin pancakes that are cooked on only one side and are to be filled, turn each pancake out of the frypan so that the bottom side is uppermost — unless the recipe directs differently.

When creamstyle cottage cheese is used in cheese cake and a recipe directs you to put the cheese through a sieve, do so! This extra step usually helps to make the finished cake deliciously smooth.

Crusty French or Italian-style bread freezes and heats well. Because this type of bread stales fast, freezing it when it is fresh means that you can keep it conveniently on hand.

Apricot nectar and ginger ale make a good non-alcoholic party punch if you add lemon juice to perk up flavor. The punch may be tinted with a little red food coloring and be served over a ring of ice in an attractive large bowl. Use an ordinary ring mold to freeze water for the ice.

To make a glaze for coffee-cake, add a little boiling water to a mixture of confectioners sugar, butter and vanilla.

Courtroom Tiger To Defend Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A wispy, silver-haired lawyer who looks like a small-town banker but turns into a tiger in the courtroom will defend Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, the accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Russell E. Parsons' own description of his 40-year career is perhaps a clue to his taking what undoubtedly will be his most famous case: "I've been fighting for the underdog all my life. I'm just a hard-working journeyman lawyer."

Parsons will work without fee in behalf of the 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant charged with shooting Kennedy in the kitchen of the Ambassador Hotel on the morning of June 5.

He indicates he may argue that Sirhan suffered from brain damage. But he declined to specify his strategy and admitted only that he is defending another client who suffered a type of brain damage.

A psychiatrist will examine Sirhan "from the tops of his shoes to the top of his head," Parsons said.

Brown Slates Innocent Plea

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Football star-turned-actor Jimmy Brown says he'll plead innocent to a felony charge of battery against a peace officer.

"The police force evidently made a mistake," Brown told newsmen Wednesday after a hearing was continued until Sept. 20 so he can make a movie in Spain. "I did not push an officer."

Because he is leaving the country, his bail was increased in municipal court from $1,250 to $10,000.

Authorities say Brown pushed a sheriff's deputy called to investigate reports of a disturbance at Brown's apartment June 9. Brown was accused of assault with intent to commit murder after a 22-year-old model was found injured beneath his balcony, but she refused to sign a complaint. The model, Eva Marie de Bahn Chin, is hospitalized in good condition with a shoulder injury.

Horoscope Forecast TOMORROW — CARROLL RIGTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a very unusual and peculiar time for you and evening and it is the time for you to wind up all kinds of mental and intellectual decisions and to start the practical and materialistic details by which such courses can be put into active operation on a very earthy basis. Look out for property and improve it.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Come to the right decision as to those persons you really want to have as allies in the days ahead, and contact them, get out and buy those things that will improve the appearance of your surroundings. Avoid extravagance.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Come right out with whatever it is you have on your mind with others, but don't become too forceful. You are energetic now and can get just about whatever you want, use it in a clever, sensible way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): See what results you have really been getting from dealing with experts, recent or old, whether in personal or business affairs. Concentrating on private affairs can bring them within your orbit very soon, but bring so substance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Showing closest friends that you are really a part and working hard to improve your mutual operations, more successful in the future. Some new friends will appear, but you must be sure you really know how to use them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): A little talk with that high-up who can assist you in gaining personal hopes will bring the right results in the end. Be sure you really know what your true ambitions are? If so, discuss them freely with others.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 20): Just made new contacts who can help you gain your personal aims and ambitions. Listen to advice given you by those around you. Follow those that are the best, most practical.

LIBRA (Sept. 21 to Oct. 21): You have to be very precise with details if you want to get those obligations discharged properly. Be sure you keep that promise you made to make of the will. Show your affection as you desire. Show you are fair.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21): Your ally wants to be kingpin and it is he who now to show some will power. But do it tactfully. Even some kind of subtle trick. Then you come to a real understanding. Then you come to a real understanding. Then you come to a real understanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Persistence in a very determined fashion will have more result for you. Associates give a helping hand. Then all is completed quickly and well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you hurry and get your work done that is vital, you can then step out for fun. You want to go to the top. You are creative and have an opportunity to express this side of your nature. Step back so far.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You just have to get busy at the desk work around your house if you want things there to be really charming and harmonious. Here at last, on your face when you talk to close friends. Your pride makes a big difference.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Contacting persons who are able to make the future much more pleasant and more affluent for you is your best bet today. Then off to some shopping. If you visit, keep a professional appointment. Don't stay so late in a party. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be a clever youngster who knows just how to talk to others and win the argument through sheer magnetism and knowledge of true facts. There is an early desire to make a good deal of money, so a formal education is necessary and the future can be most successful. Find the forte here scientifically.

erties Union attorney announced Sirhan's selection, newsmen ascended to Parsons' fourth-floor Civic Center office and found: — A 69-year-old legal veteran who has tried about 5,000 cases, and on appeal won California's celebrated "Cahan" decision, barring illegally acquired evidence.

— A wiry, 5-foot-7, 137-pound man, hawk-faced, with thinning hair combed straight back, piercing blue eyes behind thin-rimmed spectacles, snappy answers in a shallow voice.

"He seems quiet," said an associate, "but in court he roars." Said others: "He's an orator of the old school... in the tradition of Clarence Darrow... 'Lawyer's lawyer,' and—

"When he argues to a jury, chills go up and down your spine."

On the street, they said, he unfailingly contributes to panhandlers and blind peddlers.

Twice a grandfather, he walks two or three miles a night, goes deer hunting annually in Utah and escapes on weekends with his wife, Victoria to their home in Palm Springs.

But his only real hobby is the law, at which he puts in 12-hour days.

Parsons was born near downtown Los Angeles where his contractor father helped build the 3rd Street tunnel after helping build the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, the U.S. Grant Hotel in San Diego and Hotel Utah opposite the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City.

"I'm a Jack Mormon, which means not a very good one," said Parsons. "I don't smoke, I don't swear much and I drink not at all—I used to but not much."

He looks upon the Sirhan case as "a big assignment, a tremendous responsibility. Any criminal case is."

Numbers Low For Casualties

SAIGON (AP) — Both allied and Communist combat casualties dropped last week during a general slackening of fighting in South Vietnam, the U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands reported today.

U.S. headquarters said 324 Americans were killed in the week ending last Saturday, 56 less than the previous week and the lowest count since 302 were killed in the week ending April 27.

The headquarters said 2,325 Americans were wounded last week, compared with 2,739 in the previous week. Of the total last week, 1,247 required hospitalization.

The U.S. Command reported 1,613 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, or about half as many as the 3,176 enemy soldiers reported killed in the previous week.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 286 government troops killed and 1,189 wounded last week, compared with 392 killed and 1,156 wounded a week earlier.

Alcoholic, Not The Social Drinker, Is Real Menace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Not the social drinker but the chronic alcoholic is the real menace on the highway, says a physician who has made a three-year study of fatal accidents.

Dr. Melvin Selzer told a news conference at the American Medical Association convention today, "the unrecognized danger is the driver who drinks to excess and who usually has emotional or mental problems—the alcoholic.

"Of course, the risk of accident rises the more drinks you have, but the emphasis on social drinking is obscuring a much greater peril, the addict to alcohol who may have an ordinary traffic record right up to his first—and last—major accident."

Dr. Selzer, a psychiatrist at the University of Michigan's Highway Research Institute, studied the personal history of 96 drivers responsible for fatal accidents and found 36 to be known alcoholics.

"The presence of a large number of alcohol-addicted drivers in this group suggests why the problem of the 'drinking driver' has not been resolved," he said.

Dr. Selzer said alcoholics tend to have overwhelming emotional and personal problems and that this may be as important as intoxication in causing accidents.

He spoke at a program on automotive injuries at which Dr. Seymour Charles of the Physicians for Automotive Safety, Newark, N.J., charged that cars have become "the major instruments of violence and aggression in our violent society."

"Even the names of the automobiles designed to appeal to the young are symbolic," he said. "They are named after predators—animals of attack and aggression."

Dr. Paul W. Gikas of the University of Michigan reported a four year study of 177 highway deaths and said that more than half the victims would have survived if they had used seat belts and shoulder straps.

Top temperatures Wednesday afternoon hit 85 degrees at Del Rio and Wink, 98 at El Paso and 102 at Presidio in Far West Texas. Maximum readings at other points ran as low as 78 at Beaumont, College Station and Houston.

Forecasts promised seasonably warm marks over Texas through Friday.

Showers Check Rising Heat

By The Associated Press

Showers dotting coastal sections and the eastern half of Texas served to check rising heat a bit this last official day of spring.

It was at least partly cloudy nearly everywhere else in the state early today with occasional thunderstorms in prospect over the northwest and scattered showers across most other areas by evening.

Moisture amounts generally were lighter than the day before, when up to four inches fell at Aransas in rains soaking the coastal plains.

Rainfall measurements during the night included Victoria 1.54 inches, Port Arthur 1.07, San Antonio .73, Houston .55 and Galveston .34.

Pilots Must Stay In Vietnam 12 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today that all pilots flying combat runs against North Vietnam will have to serve a full 12 months of duty, rather than leaving as soon as they complete 100 missions.

An Air Force spokesman said the action was taken to eliminate inequities between pilots who fly missions against North Vietnam and those who operate against targets only in South Vietnam.

Under the old system, the Air Force said, "some aircrew members were allowed to return from Southeast Asia upon completion of 100 combat missions over North Vietnam."

Most pilots have been able to do this in about 10 months, the Air Force said, but there have been flyers who finished their duty in as little as eight months.

On the other hand, Air Force crewmen flying solely against targets inside South Vietnam had to serve a full year of combat duty, the usual length of time for most U.S. troops in the war, regardless of the number of missions, which sometimes mounted to 300.

The Air Force denied the new order has anything to do with a pilot shortage, but it appeared obvious that extending the tours would slow down personnel rotation and thus relieve the pressure to provide replacements.

The old system allowing pilots to leave the war zone after 100 missions regardless of time was set up because flying against North Vietnam was considered a greater risk than faced in South Vietnam.

Air Force officers said that a pilot must remain on combat duty beyond 100 missions over the North, efforts will be made to keep him out of what is called the "high risk" areas.

Navy and Marine pilots flying from carriers against targets in North Vietnam operate under no mission limit. They normally stay in the combat zone only as long as their carriers do generally about six months at a time.

Candidates Begin Pageant Activities

SAN ANGELO (AP) — The Miss Wool of America candidate began their initial activities today leading toward the crowning of a queen June 27.

The 20 contestants began flying into Dallas as a gathering place before coming on to San Angelo.

Included in social activities will be a dinner party tonight, a swim and supper party Friday, a visit Saturday to the Alvie Cole ranch near Sterling City, the Miss Wool Ball Monday and the annual river parade June 26.

Ask Possibility Of Fair Trial

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — A hearing was scheduled today to determine if former Texas Southern University student Charles E. Freeman can receive a fair trial here on charges growing out of campus riots last year.

Freeman and four other former students were charged with murder and assault to murder following the May 16-17, 1967 riots at the Houston school in which one policeman was killed and two others injured.

Attorneys for Freeman, 19, whose assault to murder trial was transferred to Victoria from Houston April 30, filed a motion June 6 asking Dist. Judge Joe E. Kelly to hold the hearing.

Freeman's trial on the assault to murder charge is scheduled to begin here Monday.

Dist. Judge Wendell A. Odom of Houston ordered the change of venue to Victoria after eight witnesses testified they felt neither Freeman nor the other four former students indicted after the riots could receive a fair trial in Harris County.

Most Real Estate Men Take Ruling With Calm

By The Associated Press

Most real estate men and local officials polled on the potential effects of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling this week barring racial discrimination in all housing are approaching the question with studied calm.

Many expressed confusion over how the decision will be implemented and how it will affect local and state laws on open housing.

Typical of reaction from realtors was the comment of Frank R. Hart president of Walker and Lee a residential brokerage firm in Orange County, Calif.

"In actual practice it will have very little effect," he said. "We sell minority people at all times, whether a seller can be forced to sign a deed even against his own wishes is getting close to another issue of basic constitutional rights."

And C. D. Lebey, a director of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, summed up the feeling of many, saying the decision is just one more factor that in many instances will cause confusion, concern and perhaps misunderstanding on the part of many home sellers and home buyers. "I don't think anyone can really say to what extent real estate will be affected."

Gene Cosner, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, said the Supreme Court decision, holding that an 1866 law bans discrimination in all housing, "makes any further open occupancy legislation unnecessary."

Robert Karpe, president of the California Real Estate Association, said he did not believe the ruling will have any effect on association members in the day-to-day operation of their businesses.

"We have had for many years in our association code of ethics a stipulation that we will offer property equally to any person without regard to race, creed or color. In this regard, I think we have gone further than the Supreme Court, since its ruling only covers racial discrimination."

Jack Kleeaman, executive vice president of the Chicago Real Estate Board, said he felt it was "too difficult to make a judgment at this time."

Saying that local laws have done little "except to cause a little more talk," Clifford Robe-deaux, past president of the Milwaukee Board of Realtors noted.

"This probably puts us back to where we were before the agitation started. We had been making good progress, and there had been sales to Negroes. But all this agitation and violence caused a hardening of attitudes. Maybe people can relax now."

Segregationist Sen. Storm Thurmond, R-S.C., said it was time for Congress to curb the Supreme Court.

Said Senate minority leader Everett Dirksen, "The court has uttered the last word."

Fort Worth Girl Averages A-Plus

FORT WORTH (AP) — Margaret Helzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Helzer of suburban Haltom City, has made nothing but A-plus during her three years at Haltom High School.

She has a 7-point grade average which, said school officials, "is very unusual."

Miss Helzer was editor of her high school newspaper, she plans to attend the University of Texas at Arlington.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Appeal Of 'Older Man'

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter Lisa is 17, and if I have to say so myself she is a very beautiful girl. She is invited to a formal country club party a 21-year-old fellow who comes from one of the best families. He asked her if she could stay all night at his home as it would probably be a late evening and it would save him a lot of driving. (They live in one of those big homes on a nearby lake.)

I don't like to tell my wife that we want her to come home to sleep no matter how late the party lasts.

This morning I got a call from this young fellow's mother urging me to let Lisa stay at her home all night. Abby, I have never met this woman. She is high society and she may be very nice, but just because people have money doesn't always mean they're nice. Anyway, I told her I was sorry, but I wanted Lisa home. Now Lisa says I'm square. Am I?

MADISON MOM

DEAR MOM: If you are "square," I want to be in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are middle-aged and we're watching our weight. We do all right at home, but our troubles begin when we're guests in someone's home. (I don't mean for dinner. I mean those late midnight "snacks" after cards, etc.)

We count our calories all week, and then the hostess puts all this stuff on the table, and pushes it onto our plates, saying, "O, I've worked so hard, you've GOT to eat this!" Or, "If you don't eat it, I'll have to throw it out!"

GORGED

DEAR GORGED: First, a word to the well-intentioned hostess who makes her guests feel guilty if they decline her snacks. Shame on you! The only defense a guest has against such a hostess is to say, "No, thank you." And then keep his trap shut.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this for the woman whose husband suffered a heart attack out of town at 2 a.m. in the apartment of another woman. I have just gone through a similar experience that left me shaken and close to a breakdown.

My husband is 32, handsome, charming, and hard-working. He said he wanted to go away alone for the weekend to "rest." He didn't tell me where he could be reached in case of emergency, but when he came back I found a receipt for a motel stay indicating that a "Mr. and Mrs." had stayed there.

I was crushed. After loving him and struggling with him for nearly 25 years, I felt betrayed and rejected. I consulted a lawyer and came within an inch of filing for divorce. I could have thrown him out and taken most of his worldly goods, but I thought, "What for? I love him. Why should I send him straight into the arms of a gal who can't get a man of her own, and thinks its fair game to go after a middle-aged Lotherio, whose wife doesn't understand him?" (I understood him only too well. He reached the age where a man needs reassurance, and I wasn't smart enough to give it to him.)

I took him back and I'm not sorry. Now he thinks I am the greatest. He says he's always loved me, and I believe him. We all make mistakes and this was his. I can truthfully say that we have a much better marriage now than we had before.

An Exciting Show

For 35 years now the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo has been staging shows annually, with only one exception during World War II. There are many reasons for this record of sustained production. The paramount reason, though, is that year in and year out the rodeo has been an exciting show with pageantry, thrills and keen competition. The bulk of the nation's top cowboys are here to take part in the current show, and the Steiner roping and bucking stock seems as rugged and cantankerous as ever. It all adds up to an evening of fun and adventure. We hope that you will take time out to see the production before it passes into history with the Saturday night performance. After all, without support at the gate, the officials of this community organization cannot continue to preserve this action show which came out of the old West.

Hunger And Malnutrition

Except for the capping of critics and the snipings of a few commentators who have gone to the record to make him appear like a bumbling pollyanna who always was wrong, Gen. William C. Westmoreland has come home from a four-year command of the world's toughest war to almost complete silence. The general, who now becomes chairman of the chiefs of staff, certainly expected no great welcome and would have been embarrassed by full-scale displays so long as the men he left behind were sloughing through the jungles and are falling in ambushes. It does seem, however, that he deserves more at the hands of the American public than silence and second guessing. It is true that the size of the American commitment and cost in the Vietnam war has increased and in contrast to appraisals at some fixed point in time. But it should also be remembered that the commitment and willingness to bear an exacting cost on the part of the enemy has contributed considerably to this escalation. What is extremely germane is that Gen. Westmoreland has been fighting a war that has called for both the exercise and the restraint of power. To strike with maximum resources and without limitations is one thing; to hold back to avoid the potential explosive world consequences of a counter-invasion is quite another. That he has balanced these and made it abundantly clear that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese cannot win a military victory, while all the while enduring bitter attacks at home, is a tribute to him. No wonder Gen. Eisenhower said his task in Europe was far easier than Gen. Westmoreland's.

Art Buchwald

The Work Addict

WASHINGTON — Dr. Nelson Bradley, an Illinois psychiatrist, has just revealed that the United States is being swept by an epidemic of work addiction.

A work addict shows all the characteristics of an alcoholic or narcotics addict. He has a driven craving for work, develops an increasing tolerance for it and suffers withdrawal symptoms without it. Dr. Bradley said like other addicts, this often results in medical and social problems, including bad family relationships with depressed wives and children.

I SHOWED the article to my wife to show her how farfetched psychological theories were getting these days.

"Have you ever heard of anything so ridiculous?" I asked.

She didn't smile. "Will you take the children to the movies this afternoon, so I can get some housework done?" "I can't. I have to write a piece for the Ladies Home Journal," I said instantly.

"All right. But don't forget we've got to go to the beach next weekend."

"HOW CAN I go to the beach when I haven't read Time and Newsweek?" I said panicking.

"You can read them some other time. You've got to relax once in a while."

"Who says I don't relax? Look how relaxed I am right now?"

"Then why don't you take that typewriter off your knees?" she demanded.

"A little work never hurt anybody," I said. "I only do it to be sociable."

"If you don't want to think of me, why don't you think of the children? How would you like it if someone said your father was a work addict?"

"I'M NOT a work addict," I cried. "I do a little work in the morning."

Billy Graham

As an old man who lived a life apart from God, is it fair for me to seek His mercy so late in life? I.K.

Your concern about your soul at such an advanced age is a bit unusual. As a rule people become so calloused to spiritual things when they get up in years that they very seldom seek a right relationship with God. You are the exception and you are very fortunate.

Certainly God will accept you! You ask if it is fair to ask for help when you have ignored Him all your life. Fortunately, God is always far even though we may be unfair. We call this the "mercy" of God. If He dealt with us only if we were fair, I'm afraid most of us would be left out.

I find no age limits in the Bible. The invitation is to all, old or otherwise. "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." Of course it is better to give our lives to God when we are young. That way our influence is saved as well as our souls. I don't know how old the thief was who prayed to Christ in his last dying hour, but I do know that his prayer was heard, and that our Lord said, "This day thou shalt be with me in paradise."

The Money Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — If any evidence is needed that the world's monetary problems are still close to a crisis condition it has been provided by reports of a deterioration in the British trade balance.

In recent years confidence in paper money, not just in the pound sterling, has declined steadily. The result of inflation, international payments problems and internal turmoil that has made people question the societies of which the paper is a symbol.

IN THE past several months the world has been less eager to hold dollars. The British have been forced to devalue the pound from $2.80 to $2.40. And now the French and their franc are wobbling.

Stated simply, the danger is that these major currencies, which provide the oil for the machinery of international commerce, might become so unacceptable that the gears will begin grinding and might even jam.

Dr. Pierre Rinfret, an international consulting economist, has just released a special report for his corporate customers, called "Crisis and You," in which he describes a financial emergency.

IT EXISTS, he says, "when people abandon all forms of securities, bank deposits, debt instruments and representations of money for cash in the strongest currency available, including gold and silver."

The cash, therefore, "is taken out of productive use and disappears into hoards." To some extent this already is occurring. Since November speculators have converted as much as $3 billion of paper into gold, much of it from U.S. vaults. And the situation still isn't stabilized.

IF IMPROVEMENTS in monetary matters—or the certain prospect of improvements—do not develop in the next few months, some analysts look for more crises, perhaps in the fall, when the International Monetary Fund meets.

The British are trying every measure to avoid another crisis. Britain is on an austerity diet of taxes and wage controls designed to reduce intake and boost output. It's a boxer's regimen.

Half a year after devaluation, when results should be showing, the British have announced that May exports dropped and imports rose, the opposite of what was desired.

Hen-Pecking Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — It was an ordinary luncheon meeting for the office working ladies at their nearby quick service grill and eatery, the "In-and-Out Club."

They were hen-pecking their problems as usual. A curious male bystander heard these typical examples of current female prose in the industrial arena:

"I WOULD rather stay single forever than marry any of the available jerks in my place."

"He isn't a bad guy to work for if you don't mind spending eight hours a day with a person who wears a clip-on 75-cent bow tie and whose mind falls apart at 9:02 a.m."

"I would describe him as an employer who is just finding out he is tied alive to a wife he doesn't want to be found dead with."

"When he uses a word I don't understand, I simply cross my legs—and he starts the sentence all over again."

"HIS BASIC problem is that his wife does understand him—and so do I."

"Watch out for Maude. She always orders a third one because her boss has four at lunch—and that means she doesn't have to worry about him being able to smell her breath after lunch."

"I hate to go to business and have the kids come home to an empty house. But if I don't go to business, how can we afford a color television set, and you know how important color television is to the modern child."

"Mabel... Mabel, honey... don't look so blue. You were right and he was wrong. Anyway, none of them are worth it."

"I DON'T care how much trouble men are. I'd rather argue with one of them than to spend my life cutting up beef kidneys for a cat."

"Well, if the rest of you girls think we should have another round, heaven knows I don't want to be the only kill-joy in the crowd."

"Yeah, don't look at the table to the right now. It's the homely guy who is staring at us. Pre- tend you don't notice. Maybe the guy next to him—his better looking—will turn this way. I think he's playing hard to get."

"Well, girls, shall those of us who are free go to an educational program this evening, or meet at somebody's house and take off our shoes and have fun?"

"SEE HIM over there—the one with the blue eyes and his mouth full of corned beef and cabbage? Ny-uss, huh, Ny-uss! For him I'd give my blood to the Red Cross."

"I could get a merit raise anytime I want to, but up to now I don't need a merit raise that much."

"Will somebody please tell Mildred to pull her skirt down? This is a business girls' luncheon, not a burlesque show."

"My husband will probably meet me after work. After all, he should. I lent him the money to put gas in the car."

"WELL, GIRLS, shall we head back to the salt mine and start finding out where our bosses are trying to hide out for the rest of the day?"

"Yes, here comes Freddy with the check. Okay, girls, everybody get out their pens and pencils and start figuring. Was it you, Agnes, who ordered the chicken salad or the super club sandwich?"

To Your Good Health

Treating Cirrhosis Of The Liver

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: You mentioned the effect of alcohol on the liver, and also diet and medication. Please give a list of foods that are generally bad for the liver, for those whose liver problems were not caused by alcohol. —C.B.

Dear Doctor: My son's case has been diagnosed as Laennec's cirrhosis with ascites. How serious is this condition? Should he limit all activities? —J.S.

Cirrhosis of the liver is always serious. The term Laennec's cirrhosis is usually used when alcohol is the cause. Poisoning, faulty diet, infections, and probably other factors can also cause cirrhosis.

The term itself — cirrhosis — implies that, from whatever cause, the liver is hardened and filled with scar tissue.

The liver has great powers of regeneration, if given a chance. This means correct diet, which we will discuss in a moment, and freedom from anything that is poisonous. Alcohol ranks at the top of the list. The patient with cirrhosis must not touch alcohol.

"Correct diet" means things the liver needs, and only in a minor way avoiding some types of food.

Indeed, an average healthful diet is about the best way to put it. That means a good supply of protein and of carbohydrate. For some patients, fats may be limited since cellular changes in the damaged liver involve the accumulation of fat.

Ascites (a-SIGHT-eez) raises a different problem. Ascites is accumulation of excessive fluids in the body and is a complication of cirrhosis after it has progressed. Restricting salt is usual in this case, and diuretic elimination of fluids.

A vitamin supplement is important in treating cirrhosis, and supplementary minerals may be given, particularly if diuretics are being used, since the diuretics remove some minerals.

An average diet usually supplies sufficient minerals, but if the patient has a fickle appetite, you have to be careful in this regard.

There was a day when very strict diets were used for cirrhosis, but experience shows that they were neither necessary nor of any real help, so today a well-balanced diet is used.

As to the amount of activity for a cirrhosis patient, it depends on the individual's condition. The cirrhosis patient often tends to be anemic and thus has a poor reserve of strength. Activity, for such a person, would be limited to whatever degree is necessary to prevent him from overtaxing his strength. Within that limit, there ordinarily is no reason for enforced inactivity.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Hard For Hearing

For a number of weeks, city officials have been attempting to provide a public address system in the meeting chambers of the Big Spring City Commission. Through the last meeting, the effort was still short of success.

ALTHOUGH the old city courtroom, used as a meeting place, is relatively small, it has poor acoustics. The audience has not been able, in past years, to keep abreast of what is taking place around the meeting table. For far too long, there was no one in the audience area to care.

But in recent months, there has been some and some have requested that the commission provide a method of amplifying the sound. Indeed, the members of the news media, sitting just outside the "inner circle," sometimes have difficulty hearing what is going on.

MAJOR PROBLEM, odd to say, is caused by the modern conveniences of heating and cooling. The air coming through the vents into the chamber creates a hum that drowns out all but the loudest talk, which seldom occurs. This problem also has been attacked, but has not been solved.

Discussed at one time, but no announcement has been made regarding the action, was the possibility of building a different arrangement of tables for the commission. They now sit around a table, the same one that has been serving commissions for at least 15 years. Probably any method of sound pickup will be difficult to provide so long as this arrangement is used.

OTHER CITIES have arrangements where all the commissioners sit facing the audience, and may direct remarks directly to them. In some cases, there is even a place for the members of the audience who wish to be heard, to speak over an amplified system. This too is a needed addition to the commission room.

Most who come to be heard are given a seat at the table, but then others find it quite difficult to hear. During a public hearing, it is not always too public, due to the inability to hear what is taking place.

IN PAST YEARS, the commissioners were hesitant about spending the large sum of money needed to provide the best of amplification systems. Recently, the commission asked that the problem be studied and a cost estimate be provided for another decision. Whatever the cost, the problem should be, and no doubt will be, solved.

What You'll Find In Books

WASHINGTON — Other people's wisdom — it's my excuse for reading books, if any is needed, and for the shoe-leather trade of interviews. I find no difference in reportage of the written and the spoken thought, except that the first is more coherent.

In "The Careful Writer" (Atheneum) Theodore Bernstein makes the point that writing is the formal language, and that speech "simply ain't got no justification" to bid for the scholar's attention. "We have long preserved our constitution," said Dr. Johnson, the dictionary-maker, "let us make some struggles for our language." Bernstein's book is a grammarian's delight.

BUT IN "The New Language of Politics" (Random House) William Safire presents an A-to-Z lexicon and philology of the jargon best known to most Americans. Even in this day of the ghost-writer, the television script and the stately position paper, the most memorable words of candidates and statesmen are those expelled through their lips and received by our ears. Words like Dixiecrat, Bull Moose, Normalcy, Giveaway, Nervous Nellies, Loser Image are easily understood when verbalized or journalized, but they'll never become formalized. Safire's book is a dilly.

YET "BLACK History" (Doubleday), edited by Melvin Drimmer, shows that gracious writing and witty speaking are not sufficient to convey other men's wisdom. Indeed, the charm and pleasantries of language often cheat us out of Truth. The reading reporter has no right to duck books that are dull and dense, ugly and ungainly, against his grain, abrasive to his prejudices.

SUCH A BOOK is "Black History," more than 300 heavy pages long, composed of 31 essays of pro-Negro, anti-white exposition. Its prime purpose, I take it, is to provide the Negro student with a history of his race in America. It will also remind the rest of us that history is usually written by the victors, which is another way of saying it is written with bias, and certainly with dishonest omission. The white conquerors of North America wrote books that sentimentalized the slave and ex-lavie, minimized the importance of the black labor force in agriculture and construction, took a patronizing attitude toward Afro-intellectuals and (despite conspicuous exceptions) never really recognized this nation - within - our - nation.

"TO HEAL and To Build" (McGraw Hill) suggests a belly-laugh, because it's a too-late campaign puff for Lyndon Johnson. The publisher received the manuscript only a little while before the President's announcement of non-candidacy on March 22, but I'm not surprised that the decision was to go ahead with publication. It's that good. The editor is James MacGregor Burns, biographer of Presidents Kennedy and Roosevelt. The contributors are all topdrawer: Bowles, Bundy, Ellison, Heller, Hoffer, Lilienthal, Rostow and Udall. The best piece of writing in the volume, worth the price of admission, is Howard K. Smith's Foreword, easily the most enlightened short, sympathetic article I have read on LBJ.

THOSE WHO prefer to hear no good of the 38th President, or of his programs, should be warned away; but anybody with a modicum of curiosity about the legendary paving blocks to Hell may want to follow this Federal highway of good intentions called the Great Society.

In "The Jeweler's Eye" (Putnam) Bill Buckley assembles his gems, both written and spoken words, beginning with an explanation of the title. He is, in short, a reader and listener, he says, of other men's wisdom — a jeweler who knows his trade. Buckley's book: a connoisseur's catalogue of valuable items in our time. The Time To Clamp Down

WASHINGTON — This is a strange era. Large numbers of the American people not only are being taught to misbehave but are being permitted to get away with it. Riots, looting, arson, vandalism and disturbances which are normally punishable by law but which have been glossed over as permissible under the right of "free speech" have aroused throughout America a demand for an end to disorder and lawlessness.

NEVER HAS such timidity been shown by the national government as in the last several months. It's the same old story — it takes a crisis to get reform Congress finally has enacted an anti-crime bill, including provisions for limited gun control, but it still is reluctant to pass stronger legislation that might keep guns out of the hands of madmen.

At last, however, the tide is turning. The courts are growing a little more sensible and are brushing aside some of the technicalities which have served to protect criminals and to hamper police in their efforts to enforce the law.

THE SUPREME Court of the United States, in a decision on June 10, affirmed the right of a police officer to "stop and frisk" individuals whose "unusual conduct" could reasonably lead him to believe that "his own life and that of others might be in danger."

In the federal district court in Boston, four prominent individuals who have been active in "peace demonstrations" have just been found guilty of conspiring to counsel young men to evade the draft. The jury brushed aside the argument that such activities were merely an exercise of the right of "free speech" and were "justified" because of the defendants' "moral concern" over the Vietnam war.

IN THE COURTS of the District of Columbia, some stern sentences have been given to persons arrested during the riots in the nation's capital in April.

Despite these hopeful signs, the violence and lawlessness still are incredible. Candidates for the presidency cannot make public appearances without risking their lives and those of their families who may accompany them. Issues of importance have been lost sight of as the safety of persons seeking the presidential nomination has become the biggest concern of the campaign.

ONLY FIVE months remain of the 1968 presidential and congressional campaigns. There are lots of important questions before the country — Vietnam, crime, education, inflation, food for the poor and sociological reforms. But all these become secondary if, in a country which boasts of the right of free people to govern themselves, it is dangerous for a campaign to be made by an individual who seeks to serve his country in the presidency.

Too many persons have been taught to believe that "civil rights" means the right to do as one pleases — to engage in "civil disobedience," to "demonstrate" in the streets, and to demand from the government whatever they feel is their due, irrespective of law.

THE TIME has gone to teach these people that they cannot expect to coerce the government to do their bidding by means of force or threats of force. They must recognize that this is still a democracy in which people believe that there must be debate on the current issues and that the majority decides what is best for the nation.

HINTS FROM HÉLOISE

Prepare Breakfast The Evening Before

Dear Heloise: Here's a hint for those who like a hot cereal in the morning—that can be prepared right after supper, the night before. Fill a wide-mouthed thermos bottle with hot water, put in the cork and set the bottle aside. Cook your hot cereal thoroughly. Instead of pouring it in your bowl (as you would ordinarily the next morning) pour the water out of the thermos and put the cereal in the bottle.

Cork and cap the bottle firmly and lay it on its side on a towel (so it won't roll) on the drainboard.

That's all there is to it. In the morning you will have a hot, thoroughly cooked cereal ready in an instant. Heloise

That's what I call a "corker" for morning lazybones like me. If you pour coffee in another thermos you've really got it made.

Better yet! Sometimes put them on your bedside table and have breakfast in bed! Heloise

Dear Heloise: Before putting new ticking on my pillows, I make a bag the size of the pillow out of cheesecloth. (Use two layers if you like.) Then put the feathers in the bag. It's easier to put the bag in the new ticking and I don't have feathers all around. Also, I find I change to new ticking more often now because it's less trouble. Mrs. Edward Barnas

Dear Heloise: When my husband changes the oil in his car, he pours the old oil along our fence row to kill unwanted grass and weeds. Sure beats that back-breaking, hand-clipping job of trimming around the edges. E.L.P.

Dear Heloise: This hint is particularly nice because it saves time when it is needed, most—in the morning while dressing.

The next time you wash your underclothes, have a few plastic bags on your folding table.

Instead of putting slips together, lay them in a row. With each one, put a pair of hose, etc., until you have a complete set of underclothing.

Now put each set in a plastic bag before putting them away. Sure saves time, 'cause all you have to do is grab a bag when you're in a hurry. Thelma De Leuze

Dear Heloise: For years my conscience nagged because I didn't use up those little soap slivers, but no more.

I made a small bag of nylon net, using a shoestring for a drawstring. I filled the bag with several dozen small soap pieces, drew the bag only partly shut so I could add more soap pieces when needed. Then I tied it around my bathtub faucets where the water would run DOWN THROUGH THE BAG.

At bath time I turn on the hot water first, so I get nice suds, then add the cold water. This works so well—even with hard water—I hardly need to touch the big nice bar of soap in the soap dish. Mrs. W. H. Clemens

Dear Heloise: If at the last minute while dressing, you see your skirt is missing a button, find a safety pin and a button (the kind with the thread, still sewn through the holes).

Put pin through the material once, then through the thread and then through the material again.

Clip the pin and button as usual. The safety pin doesn't show. It's nice to keep a couple of these extra buttons in your sewing box for emergencies. Thirteen-year-old

Dear Heloise: After ironing shirts, to keep the collars from wrinkling while hanging, I place a strip of cardboard (the same as manufacturers use) under the collars before placing them on the hangers.

The strip of cardboard may be used over and over again. Mrs. Mary Hennagur

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Mini Mum, Culottes Thumb

Jayne Harris, 16-year-old London debutante, wears the supershort miniskirt at left in which she was allowed to enter the Ascot race meeting at Ascot, England. At right, she's garbed in the white crepe culottes in which she was refused entrance. She ducked into her father's car to change into the miniskirt.
