212 TROOPS Soviets Release Airliner

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that the Soviet government has acted to release a troop-laden American airliner after receiving an official U.S. expression of regret that the craft violated Soviet air space over the Kurile Islands.

Press secretary George Christian said Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, relayed word shortly after 11 a.m. EDT that the Soviet government had given instructions that the DC-8 jet chartered by the military from Seaboard World Airlines be released along with the 229 Americans aboard.

In response to a question, Christian said "The United States has expressed regret in a note given the Soviet Embassy last night" that the airliner violated Soviet air space due to a navigational error.

No Information

Christian said he had no further information on the subject, nor could he say where the plane would go from the Kuriles.

But he added: "We have reason to believe the matter is going to be resolved shortly."

He said the matter would be resolved once the plane actually left Soviet territory.

Christian was asked if President Johnson had been in touch with Moscow about the matter. He said no, that the entire question had been handled through normal diplomatic channels.

The State Department said Monday that Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin told U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow merely that the matter was under investigation. He gave "no assurances" of prompt return of the plane or the 229 persons aboard, the State Department said.

Forced It Down

The aircraft, a DC8 chartered by the military from Seaboard-World Airlines, was carrying 212 Vietnam-bound servicemen and a crew of 17, when the Soviet fighter planes forced it to land Sunday on Interup Island in the Pacific Kurile chain.

While pressing for release of the plane and those aboard, U.S. officials reportedly see the incident as a sticky one for the Soviet Union, a situation that will require delicate handling.

If the Kremlin were to allow the plane and passengers to leave at an early time it would likely face condemnation from Red China and other Communist countries.

Nixon Says 'Demand'

Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon said the United States should demand "immediate release" of the plane and those aboard.

"These demands," he said, "should be coupled with a clear warning to the Soviet leaders that this unwarranted action threatens progress toward a detente . . . and new and serious tensions could build between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Fireworks Display

Webb AFB is planning a fireworks display on base Thursday, the Fourth of July. Both military personnel and the public are invited to view the aerial display from 9:30 to 11 p.m. Air policemen at the base entrances will direct visitors to the display area.

A seating area will be provided, though onlookers can also watch the fireworks display from their automobiles. Plenty of free parking will be available. There will be no admission charge.

Want Higher Prices

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—The presidents of five Central American nations are expected to ask President Johnson once again for higher prices for commodities and goods they sell to the United States when Johnson joins them here this weekend for an economic review.

Foreign ministers of the five nations in the Central American Common Market—El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala—were due today to arrange the agenda for the presidents' conference opening Friday.

Before Johnson arrives, the chief topic before the presidents will be a controversial 30 per cent boost in imports levies that is threatening to break up the seven-year-old trade bloc.

Mexico Shaken

MEXICO (AP) — A strong earthquake rocked Mexico City, Acapulco and Cuernavaca for two minutes Monday night, causing widespread alarm. No casualties or damage have been reported.

The National Earthquake Information Center in Washington said the earthquake was measured here at 6.2 on the Richter Scale, compared to 8.5 for the Alaska earthquake in 1964.

Spare Nest

Omaha Public Power District workmen went to some lengths to preserve a bird's nest in the hollow of a power pole which had to be replaced. They lashed the old pole to the replacement pole beside it, then cut off the ends of the old pole above and below the nest, leaving the bird's home undisturbed.

Senate Tax Bill Sails Through Vote In House

July Comes In Dripping Wet

The first rains of July came to Howard County just as the first day of the month was passing into history.

A brisk shower, which dumped from .16 to as much as half an inch of moisture on Big Spring swept into town on the heels of a roaring windstorm before midnight.

North of town near Vealmoor, the heaviest rains were reported at two inches. However, a few miles to the west at Knott, only .20 inch was reported.

LIGHT

From Fairview south, light showers were reported. At the U.S. Experiment Station, .16 inch was gauged but at the Texas Electric Switching Station, to the east of the city limits, .43 inch was measured.

A light shower was falling at 10 a.m. Southwest Big Spring had nearly half an inch.

Most parts of the county contacted had only light rains with the lone exception of the narrow strip in the Vealmoor community.

Heavier rains fell north in Dawson County. Texas Electric Service Company said that Lamesa had .69 inch.

In the extreme southeast corner of the county, Chalk reported .30, while Vincent in the northeast corner had .20. At Vincent it was said heavier rains fell toward Lake J. B. Thomas. However, the Odessa-Big Spring intake station had but .30 inch.

The Reef Camp, west of Vincent and north of Coahoma, had .60 inch. Moss Creek Lake had only a shy .20 inch.

TESCO said that no service interruptions resulted from the stiff winds which blew in the showers.

Knott received .20 inch of rain. South of Big Spring, Forsan reported .30 inch of rain. In the southwest part of the county, Lomax and Elbow reported only a sprinkle.

As winds swept the area, some crop damage due to the blowing sand was reported at Lomax.

The showers brought the 1968 rain total at the U.S. Experiment Station to 13.88 inches. June provided 1.70 inches. June went on the books as the first month of the year to fail to exceed the 67-year average for the month. The average for June is 2.75.

Plane Checked For A Bomb

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A Braniff airlines 727 jet with 42 passengers aboard made an unscheduled landing here Monday after a telephone call in Dallas reported a bomb was aboard the plane. No bomb was found.

The jet, en route from New York to San Antonio, was about 15 miles from Memphis when Capt. C. F. Haggard was radioed about the telephone call.

He brought the plane in and rolled it to a stop at a deserted part of the old north-south runway. Emergency vehicles, including about 10 city police cars, stood by as the plane came in.

The passengers were taken quickly to the terminal while police and airline personnel checked the plane and luggage for a bomb.

Two hours and 15 minutes later, the passengers were on another plane, continuing their interrupted flight.

"We decided to send the plane to Dallas empty for a more thorough check," said Art Huff Jr., Braniff manager here. "Our passengers come first and we refuse to take any chances."

Second Session Is Not Needed

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas House members completed legislative action today on a Senate-written tax bill based largely on penny increases in the state's retail sales and auto-sales taxes.

Backed into a corner by Senate refusal to take anything else, representatives voted 85-59 for the measure. Senate sponsors said the bill would raise $175.7 million, but later unofficial estimates indicated it would only bring in around $159 million.

CLEARs WAY

The House vote to accept the Senate's bill clears the way for the special legislative session to end Wednesday without the need for a second summer session.

Counting the anticipated loss of $9 million to $10 million in sales tax revenue because of the federal income tax surcharge, the bill would just balance the budget which lawmakers are expected to enact Wednesday for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1.

House members voted on the tax measure after a conference committee failed to work out a compromise.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, chairman of the House Tax Committee, told the House that Senate negotiators were adamant in their refusal to take anything but the bill passed by senators Thursday after two days of debate.

Senate members of the Tax Conference Committee had said a compromise bill was out of the question because senators would accept nothing but their own bill.

The tax measure now goes to Gov. John Connally for signature.

TAX HIKES

The Senate bill, passed as amendments to a House measure that fell short of meeting the session's money requirements for fiscal 1969, contains increases in the general sales and auto sales taxes from 2 to 3 per cent and a hike in the corporation franchise tax. The measure is effective Oct. 1.

House members originally passed a $100.2 million bill containing the auto and retail sales tax rise plus a requirement that trading stamp companies pay the state the value of stamps left unredeemed after seven years.

"We have met with the Senate conferees and we have met by telephone. It's gotten down to taking what we have got or having another session," Atwell told the House.

The tax bill will lower the point at which the sales tax is imposed from 25 to 17 cents in places without city sales taxes and from 17 to 13 cents in cities with their own local one-cent sales taxes.

MACHINES

It also will be imposed on vending machine sales of 17 cents or more.

Some House members feared the Oct. 1 effective date of the bill would hurt their chances for re-election because the general election is just five weeks later and the impact of the new tax would still be fresh in the minds of the voters.

PROBLEM

The tax problem started when the House passed a bill, effective Jan. 1, raising the general sales tax and the levy on automobile purchases from 2 to 3 per cent each. That measure would raise $100.2 million — way below the actual seed for new revenue. Senators wrangled for two days, then passed a bill also raising the sales and auto taxes but adding an increase in the corporation franchise tax and making the whole package effective Oct. 1 in order to get enough money for the next fiscal year.

Representatives also planned to debate a six-page resolution authorizing numerous items in the compromise $2.5 billion general appropriations bill that are different from those passed by the House and Senate.

The spending bill, written by a 10-man House-Senate conference committee, would require an estimated $148.8-million in new taxes, according to Rep. W. S. Heatly, Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

REQUIRE

House rules require House conferees to get that chamber's approval for any items in a compromise bill that were not in either House or Senate versions of the bill and for deletion of or changes in items that were the same in both bills.

PLANS TO APPEAL BRITISH COURT RULING

Ray's Extradition Granted

LONDON (AP) — A British court today granted extradition of James Earl Ray, wanted in the United States as the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The extradition order was granted by Chief Magistrate Frank Milton.

Legal sources said Ray would appeal the decision.

The magistrate granted Ray legal aid to pursue his appeal in a higher court within the required 15-day deadline.

NO SHOW

Ray received the magistrate's decision without any outward show of emotion.

He was immediately led from court, still surrounded by a cordon of Scotland Yard detectives, and taken back to his maximum security jail at Wandsworth Prison in south London.

The magistrate, sitting at his bench stacked with law books, addressed Ray directly and told him: "You will be committed to prison to await extradition to the United States."

Milton dealt at some length with the contention of defense attorney Roger Frisby that Ray could not be extradited because the slaying of the civil rights leader, shot in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, was a political offense.

The judge agreed it was common knowledge that King was a controversial figure in the United States. But he refused to accept the defense contention that this alone would make the crime of his assassination a political one.

"To hold so would be to extend the meaning of this case too far," the magistrate said.

The case turned on whether the crime was political or not. Under treaty between Britain and the United States, persons may not be extradited for political reasons.

The U.S. government denied Ray's contention that the killing of King was a political crime.

In summing up, Magistrate Milton said he found no difficulty in establishing that there was a prima facie case against Ray in King's murder.

"On this, on the verbal and affidavit evidence before me, there can be no doubt," he said. Milton said no evidence had been produced in Ray's case to show it was not an individual act.

"All I know is that this accused man said he didn't do it," he said.

The magistrate also passed over the question of Ray's identification without difficulty. Ray was arrested in Britain on forged passport and illegal gun-carrying charges under the alias of Ramon George Sneyd.

SAME ONE
But the magistrate said: "I find evidence that James Earl Ray is the same person now before me."

Lawyers close to the case said an appeal would be carried to the High Court with arguments on the same political grounds as Milton rejected in Magistrate's Court.

Should the High Court reject the appeal, Ray could go to the House of Lords, which is Britain's highest court. But he could make an appeal to the Lords only on a point of law.

The extradition order against the 40-year-old prisoner was on two grounds—being "a fugitive criminal accused of murder" and "a fugitive convicted of robbery."

Deadly Gas Forces Mass Evacuation

POPE AIR FORCE BASE, N.C. (AP) — At least six persons, including a woman and a child, suffered gas inhalation and more than 1,000 families were evacuated today as deadly chlorine drifted over a 5½-mile area.

The gas seeped from a water filtration plant at Pope Air Force Base and winds moved it to three trailer courts, other housing areas and to operations areas of the air base.

HOSPITAL

The six victims were admitted to Womack General Hospital at nearby Ft. Bragg. Their condition was not known immediately.

This traces to his escape in April, 1967, from the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City, where he was starting his eighth year of a 20-year sentence for armed robbery.

MORE DUE

Two British charges on which Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8—having a forged Canadian passport and an unlicensed gun—are due to come up next Tuesday.

An official at the plant said a soft, flexible hose full of gas broke while the chlorine cylinders were being changed and about 50 pounds of the gas escaped. He said the workers changing the cylinders fled and was not injured.

W. H. McKeithan, the plant's chief engineer, was working at a pumping station nearby. He ran to his office, donned a gas mask, and turned off the valve which directs gas into the hose. But the danger did not end when the leak was plugged.

Winds quickly pushed the gas toward the trailer parks, two of which are just across a road from the water plant.

SECOND AIRLINER HI-JACKED TO CUBA

Passengers Returned To Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eighty-six passengers of an American jetliner hijacked to Cuba returned to the United States today aboard a mercy plane normally used on "freedom flights" to ferry Cuban refugees to Miami.

The chartered plane landed at Miami International Airport at 12:28 p.m., EDT, and the passengers were taken into a quarantine building for questioning and clearance.

The hijacked Northwest Orient Airlines jet, which had 87 passengers when hijacked, returned earlier today from Havana with only the seven-member crew aboard. The hijacker remained behind in Cuba.

Cuban authorities refused to allow the passengers to return on the three-engine 727 jet, claiming Havana's 10,000-foot runway was too short for a safe takeoff.

A chartered, four-engine propeller plane, an Airlift International DCTB was dispatched to Varadero, Cuba, to fly the passengers to U.S. soil.

The Minneapolis-Miami jet was hijacked over Florida Monday night by a Spanish-speaking passenger who boarded the plane in Chicago with a .38 caliber revolver.

The plane's pilot, Capt. Richard Simonson, disputed Cuba's claim that a takeoff with the 86 passengers would have been unsafe.

"There was no safety factor as far as I was concerned," Simonson told newsmen in Miami. "I believe we could have made it out."

A Federal Aviation Administration official in Miami said that under the most adverse conditions 6,000 to 7,000 feet would be safe and 10,000 feet is "more than enough."

The hijacker was in the front row of the first class section when stewardess Margaret Burt asked him to fasten his seat belt.

GUN

"He grabbed my wrist and put a gun on me," said Miss Burt. "About 100 miles north of Miami one of the (stewardesses) called to me and said, 'One of the men in the first-class cabin has a gun,'" said Simonson. "Then there was a heavy pounding at the door. I had to open the door for safety."

"A Latin-looking man about 35 or 40 with a gun told me, 'Go to Cuba. Go to Havana,'" the pilot continued. "He appeared nervous but when he realized I was going to Havana he became relatively calm."

Radio Havana, monitored in Miami today, said Cuban authorities were investigating the hijacking, second in 48 hours and the seventh airliner diverted to Cuba this year.

The crew and passengers of the airliner spent the night in the terminal at Havana's airport. Simonson said he argued with Cuban officials that a take-off would be safe, then decided further argument would be futile. Simonson said he and an official of the Swiss Embassy, which handles U.S. affairs in Cuba, told passengers they had to stay behind.

SECOND

The Northwest jet touched down in Havana just six hours after a Southeast Airlines DC3 with 14 passengers and a three-man crew were permitted to complete a flight to Key West that was interrupted Saturday by a well-dressed Negro who put a gun to the head of the pilot.

HOPE TO GRAB UNCLE SAM'S MONEY

Gangs Stepping Up Violence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minor Chicago street gangs are stepping up violence and crime to draw the attention they believe necessary to qualify for federal antipoverty money, Chicago police officials say.

POWER PLAY

The officials also told investigating senators Monday that a year-long federal job-training program directed at members of two larger, warring gangs increased their power and led to rapid increase of violence, terror and intimidation. Their testimony was coupled with that of two Chicago detectives who said legal aid lawyers—obtained through a Presbyterian preacher who acted as legal adviser to the Blackstone

Rangers—tried to persuade two youthful gang members to change their testimony in a murder or to leave town.

Cmdr. William Griffin, head of a police district on Chicago's South Side, told the Permanent Senate Investigations subcommittee that violent crimes were decreasing before the $927,000 Office of Economic Opportunity program began last June.

Since that time, "crimes involving the Rangers and the Devils Disciples have nearly doubled," he said.

Griffin said training centers used by the gangs have been employed as sanctuaries for persons fleeing the police, that guns have been found there and that adult directors have provided little or no supervision and have refused to cooperate with police.

'GRAVY TRAIN'
A Mafia-like code of silence has evolved as the two gangs turned to more sophisticated criminal activities in the last two years, Edward Spellar, an investigator for the Cook County (Chicago) state's attorney, told senators.

Both men said there is evidence other teenage gangs are competing in violence to meet what they believe to be qualifications for federally funded programs.

"These are gravy train proposals," said Chairman John McClellan, D-Ark. "I hope the train gets wrecked before it gets there."

BIG SPRING NATIVE IN DUO
Larry Evans teams with Lavina Petersen

Duo To Be Presented In Trinity Music Series

Billed as a "duo with a difference," Larry Evans and Lavina Petersen will be presented Sunday as part of the summer Abendmusik Series at Trinity University in San Antonio.

Both accomplished musicians, Mrs. Petersen and Evans recently formed a duo-piano team to do the music for four hands at one piano.

"There is a vast repertoire for this combination that is beautiful, yet rarely heard," explained Evans.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Earl C. Evans, Big Spring, and is a graduate of Big Spring High School. Like his brother, Bill Evans, he has made piano his career.

Here he studied with Mrs. Nell Frazier, then went on to North Texas where he studied with Dr. Silvio Scionti. He also toured with Dr. Scionti's eight-piano ensemble. Currently he is working on his masters degree with Miss Helen Haupt, who previously was on the faculty of the University of Texas and now on the faculty at the University of Houston. Probably next spring he will play his graduate recital.

For the past seven and a half years Evans has been a private piano teacher in Houston and served as president of the Houston Piano Teachers Forum for the years 1965-66 and 1966-67.

Mrs. Petersen is a graduate of the University of Texas where she studied with Dalies Franz. She has soloed with the Houston Symphony and has worked with Miss Haupt in graduate studies on the piano.

Already the duo has had a successful appearance in Houston and has been invited to play on a program honoring the Month of Arts. Several programs have been booked for the autumn. Evans would like to do a small tour of West Texas, and of course, include Big Spring in the itinerary.

At the San Antonio appearance, he will do Haydn's "Sonata in C Major" and Chopin's "Ballade No. 4 in F Minor." Mrs. Petersen will join him for Bizet's "Children's Games Suite," Schubert's "Andantino Varié," and Poulenci's "Sonata."

and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., announced Monday he also is prepared for one.

'FIXER'

Thurmond said Fortas has a reputation "as a fixer" and as an associate justice has aligned himself with "the radical wing of the court."

He also said he believes there was collusion by President Johnson and retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren to keep the next president from naming Warren's successor.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, meanwhile, announced it will begin public hearings July 11 on the nominations and will question Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark on whether a vacancy actually exists on the court.

The question was raised in the committee last week on the contention that Warren submitted his retirement at the pleasure of the President and Johnson said he would accept it when a successor had been confirmed by the Senate.

Prisoner Is Seeking Help

Memories of a somewhat spectacular rape trial of 18 years ago are being stirred by a letter from the state penitentiary received here by Wayne Burns, district attorney.

The letter was written by Eugene Mallonee, who has served 18 years of a life sentence imposed on him in 1950. He was indicted for an alleged rape attack on a teenager. The alleged attack occurred Sept. 4, 1950. He was tried in 118th District Court before a jury and Judge Charlie Sullivan; his punishment was fixed at life, and he was removed to prison.

He is now asking for recommendations from present officials and from members of his jury panel that he be paroled.

In his letter to Burns, Mallonee quotes a number of the jurors who tried and convicted him. The jurors, without an exception, informed the prisoner that too many years have passed since the trial for them to remember the details of the case.

Mallonee includes a list of special credits he has earned in prison. Included are notations that he has given blood on several occasions.

Dirksen Promises To Support Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort by 19 Republican senators to block President Johnson's two Supreme Court appointments has been weakened by a pledge from Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen to vote for confirmation.

Dirksen says he will support the appointment of Abe Fortas as Chief Justice of the United States and Homer Thornberry as an associate Supreme Court justice.

FOUND FIT

"The nominations were made in good faith, in conformity with the Constitution, the men nominated are qualified, and they have been found to be fit by the American Bar Association," Dirksen said Monday.

He also told newsmen he believes the Senate has the two-thirds vote needed to cut off a filibuster against the confirmations threatened by at least two Republican senators.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., a leader of the GOP drive against the appointments, said he was ready to filibuster

Panel Taking Aim At Fee-Splitting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The practice of fee-splitting has become the focus of opening hearings in the Securities and Exchange Commission's inquiry into the cost of buying and selling stocks.

Officials of two broker-dealer firms were summoned to testify today on fee-splitting—which the SEC contends is one bar to lower costs on volume transactions—the commission's probe went into its second day.

RECORDS

Pershing & Co., a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and Michael J. Heaney & Co., an American Stock Exchange member, were subpoenaed along with records.

The SEC heard testimony Monday that although the New York Exchange bars rebates on commissions and fees, it permits the splitting of fees ordered by a mutual fund but only among member firms.

Robert M. Bishop, a vice president of the Exchange, denied the rationale behind this is to channel more mutual fund business to member firms.

He said the rule keeps the money "in the member firm community."

REBATES

SEC attorneys contended, however, that rebates some-

Winds Hamper C-City Fly-In

COLORADO CITY (SC)—J. O. Dockrey Jr., chairman of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said Sunday that high winds hampered the annual fly-in held at the city-county airport. He said 27 planes braved the brisk Texas winds to join townspeople in the chuck wagon breakfast held at the airstrip, Sunday morning.

Dockrey said that about 400 attended the fly-in, with the majority eating breakfast, chuck wagon style.

The Odessa Sky Divers, scheduled to perform for the crowd, cancelled because of the high winds.

What do you get when you turn the switch?

Today's best value in better living

Summertime is the time your electric service hits a peak in value. Most likely, electricity cools all or part of your home. Your refrigerator works overtime, supplying extra quantities of ice cubes and cold drinks. With the children out of school, your dishwasher is on a busier schedule. And hot weather means more loads of soiled clothes for your washer and dryer. Electricity works harder for you in summer than in any other season. As a result, your electric bills are usually higher in summer. But when you consider the work electricity saves you and the relief it brings from the heat, you'll agree it's your biggest value in summertime better living.

HHH Backs Loan Program To 'Save, Perfect' Cities

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey proposed today that the federal government underwrite a multi-billion-dollar loan program to save and perfect the nation's cities.

The vice president advocated the creation of a national urban development bank, supported mainly by non-governmental funds, to finance projects "especially, but not exclusively, in the inner cities."

'MARSHALL PLAN' Humphrey, campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, outlined the proposal as part of a "Marshall Plan for American cities" in a speech prepared for the City Club.

Starting with an initial appropriation of federal funds, the bank would finance its operations by sales of federally guaranteed bonds to private investors, Humphrey said. It also would charter regional banks to

Rights Leader Suggests Black Political Party

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Civil rights leader Wilfred T. Ussery says Negroes "may find they're going 100 miles-an-hour in the wrong direction."

And ways of reversing this trend may be a key item on the agenda of the five-day national convention of the Congress of Racial Equality opening Wednesday, said Ussery, the organization's national chairman.

The 39-year-old official from metropolitan development, offer loans to inner city small-business men and fund housing developments. By establishing the bank with an assured source of funds, Humphrey said, long range planning would be facilitated and encouraged instead of being "inhibited by the uncertainties of the annual appropriations process."

He earlier had presented proposals to deal with civil disorders and to expand federal education programs.

Before the speech, Humphrey planned to visit anti-poverty projects, including a job program for the city's Spanish-American population and a community clean-up program employing some 400 young people.

IT WILL COST As he did with education last week, Humphrey proposed that the needs of the nation's cities be financed with some of the additional billions of dollars to be raised under present taxes because of economic expansion and with funds that will become available with the end of the Vietnam war.

He emphasized that coordinated urban development programs "will cost money—a great deal of it." While he gave no exact figure for the size of the urban development bank, he said "we are talking here about billions of dollars each year."

He said, "This is essentially a program for federal underwriting of loans," then added, "This is even more essentially a proposal to commit ourselves, as a country, to paying whatever is the cost not just of saving, but of perfecting, our cities."

The vice president flew here Monday from Minneapolis with Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes who had joined earlier in the day in announcement of a mayors committee to boost Humphrey's candidacy.

Minor Wrecks Investigated

Police are investigating six minor accidents which occurred Monday.

At 1414 E. 3rd, Mary E. Smith, 3223 11th Place, and Mrs. G. E. Armstrong, were involved in a mishap; at the College Park parking lot by Safeway, Lola Lorene Barton, 2216 Lynn, and Jewel C. Canterbury, Colorado City, were involved in a car accident; at South Monticello, and Grafa, the cars of John W. Seale, 2300 S. Monticello, and Louis Walker Brown, 1002 Birdwell, collided.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Instead of criticizing an associate who is doing things differently than you had anticipated, study well and use diplomacy. Effecting a reconciliation with one who means a good deal to you requires you take initial steps. Do so gently.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Don't get so excited because there is so much to do and expect others to do for more than is their duty, or there is real trouble later. Show maturity in making your home more charming clean. Be clever.

MEANING (May 21 to June 21) You want to get things done, which is fine, but don't expect others to think as you do. A charming smile will get them to agree with your ideas. Arguments accomplish nothing.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Establishing harmony of home is most important now, so do your utmost to do just that. Some point of contention should be removed in a quiet and diplomatic way. Silence is sometimes golden.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Doing your work in a more efficient way and showing cooperation for others is just wonderful today. Act in such a way that you bring real harmony around you. Control that "leaky" temper.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You want to increase income, but shun where it counts the most is not wise. Do not busy with some new and fine idea. Make improvements around you. Then you get the approval of those you contact.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Although you want others to follow your ideas now, if it best you first do some favor for them. If you want results. Then be social life you have to do some entertaining, to get into the good graces of others. Be generous.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You love to investigate and there is no better time than now for just this. Don't go off on tangents but get right at the truth. Someone "comes to you for assistance and is really in need, so do your best."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Some of your friends are in a blue mood, so avoid anything that looks like the beginning of a fight. Put that wise social plan to work. You can gain more prestige and be a delightful person with others.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠
Faulty technique by one declarer led to a significant swing when this hand was dealt in a recent team of four contest.

A contract of four spades was reached on identical bidding sequences at both tables and, in each case, West opened the ten of diamonds and the ace was played from dummy.

Declarer was confronted with the loss of three tricks as soon as he surrendered the lead — two diamonds and a heart. His problem was to avoid surrendering a club as well.

One declarer led a small heart at trick two and, when East played low, South's queen drove out the ace. West returned another diamond and, after East cashed out the defensive book with the king and queen, he exited with a trump.

South drew three rounds of spades ending up in dummy and then led the jack of hearts. East covered with the king, declarer ruffed and then reentered the North hand with the king of clubs to discard his losing club on the ten of hearts. South claimed his contract.

At the other table, declarer drew trumps immediately after winning the opening diamond lead, and then a heart was led from the North hand. East had been following the proceedings attentively, and observing that South held a six card spade suit, East realized that if the declarer also held the ace of hearts, the latter would have 10 tricks in plain view and the defense might just as well abandon hope.

In a desperation measure, East put up the king of hearts from his hand and, when the queen appeared, he was able to hold the lead. The king and queen of diamonds were cashed followed by a fourth round which South ruffed. After cashing out his spades and clubs, declarer was obliged to surrender the setting trick at the end to East's queen of clubs.

While it is true that East can always assure South's defeat by going up with the king of hearts as soon as that suit is led from dummy, the play is much more difficult to diagnose at trick two — and the declarer might just as well make his opponent work for his bread and butter.

Wanted Man Held In Kansas

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Donald Ray McCullars was charged Monday in Justice of the Peace Leonard Henderson's court in Colorado City with theft of a watch and about $500 from the Matt Matlock Service Station in Westbrook early Sunday.

McCullars, described as white and about 20, was picked up on a routine traffic violation in Salina, Kan., Sunday, was being taken to the police station, and allegedly made an unsuccessful attempt to escape. Kansas police became suspicious and put out a bulletin that led to the discovery that the car McCullars was driving was stolen in Georgia.

The Mitchell County Sheriff's Department was also informed that McCullars is allegedly AWOL from the U.S. Army.

The youth had been working for the Matlock Service Station about a week. He had told the Matlocks that he was just out of the military service and had been robbed of $900. The Matlock's had given him a job as night operator at the station and had left for New Mexico on a vacation.

A truck driver, who found the station closed, alerted the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department.

A Devotional For The Day

Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole. (Luke 17:19)

PRAYER: Dear Christ, deepen our faith in Thee. Give us strength to rise above the commonplace reactions of our lives and to live in constant companionship with Thee. Help us also to bring others into Thy companionship so that they may become men and women of faith. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Don't Be A Fool

This may not do any good, but it doesn't hurt to ask. Won't you be extra careful in your driving during the Independence Day holidays?

Nationally, safety experts predict that between 700 and 800 will die in traffic mishaps during the weekend. This is as many as we will lose on the battlefields of Vietnam in two and perhaps three weeks.

Our lads in Vietnam can't help it; but you can help the situation on the highways simply by being careful — extra careful — and by obeying speed limits and refusing to take short cuts on the law. There are bound to be a lot of fools on the road. If you're bound to be one of them, then look out for them.

Matter Of Equity

William A. Bonner Jr. of Big Spring has written a letter to the Howard County Commissioners Court (with a copy to The Herald) wherein he voices a protest against a higher tax bill.

The Court last month voted to increase the basis of property valuation for tax purposes from 20 to 25 per cent — a hike of 25 per cent.

Wrote Mr. Bonner: "I wonder how anyone can continue to own property in Big Spring? Rent on commercial property, under lease or rented on a monthly basis, cannot be raised to compensate for the tax increase. Apparently, property owners have no choice in the matter. What is the alternative?"

Mr. Bonner's is a common cry, shared by us as well as others. The cost of government, at all levels, has continued to rise at such a rate that antiquated taxing methods will no longer suffice.

But he has not mentioned all the story. The Big Spring Independent School District also is being forced to raise its property-taxing basis by 25 per cent. These local requirements come on top of new state levies and the federal income tax surcharge.

In the case of the county, a major hope is that next year — as the Commissioners Court has agreed to do — an efficient and equitable new program of county valuations will be effected. It is not enough that a special office keeps up with changes in values, improvements, etc., in the city and the school district, while nothing whatsoever is done to county values. This is not to appeal for a bigger tax load on out-of-city property holders (both real and personal), it is to appeal for equity. If this is brought about, there could be some change in the county tax position.

People want more public services, and they all cost more. They must cut back their demands, there must be a growth of value in this county, or there must be a newer system of taxation fair to all. The experts at every level of government should take the latter as an immediate challenge.

Marquis Childs New Complexion Of The Court

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court faces substantial alteration, of significant size at least, in the retirement of Chief Justice Earl Warren. In the departure of Warren, President Johnson's elevation to his place of Associate Justice Abe Fortas, and the President's simultaneous appointment of a new "brother" on the high bench in Homer Thornberry of Texas, some winds of change are blowing over the great marble palace that fronts the Capitol.

TO BE SURE, about half the Republican members of the Senate have rejected the counsel of their party leader, Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, and arrayed themselves to fight Senate confirmation of these nominations. It is a pity — a pity because there is only a narrowly partisan motivation here.

The dissenters, led by the ordinarily sound and able Sen. Robert Griffin of Michigan, are not really challenging the character or competence of Fortas or Thornberry. Their real objection is that these are the choices of a "lame duck" President. What they are saying is lamentably clear. It is that vacancies should remain until a new President — and by this they mean a Republican President — is installed. Their position inescapably is that seats on the world's highest tribunal should be regarded pretty baldly as campaign booty.

THEIR PUSH, to which Presidential aspirant Richard Nixon has unwisely given his blessing, will come to little. Fortas and Thornberry will be confirmed anyhow, but in the meantime a stain of small and pointless partisanship will have been cast over the scene.

But when this politicking is over and Fortas and Thornberry have sworn the great oath, whether their successors are the old "warren court"? Those — including this columnist — who have long yearned for a less hyper-liberal court, a bench less disposed to strike down the legitimate rights of the states and of the prosecuting authorities, will have some cause for a certain renewed hope.

IT IS A HOPE, though it should be seen as qualified one, for several human reasons. The new Chief Justice, Abe Fortas, as an Associate Justice has shown a deeply liberal view, not too different from Warren's, and this no doubt will continue. Still, the complaint of the court's rational critics under Warren has been almost as much against its often emotionalized manner of speaking and deciding as against the decisions themselves.

And if Fortas is not likely to depart widely from the philosophy of the Warren court, he is very likely at all events to express it with far greater detachment, with far more concern for unsentimental reality and, to be frank, with far greater legal learning.

FOR, AGREE with him or not, this man has professional equipment of rare and undeniable brilliance.

As to Thornberry, his career in the lower courts has evoked solid respect from those who are after all the best of critics, the practicing lawyers at his bar. It is tricky and maybe presumptuous, too, to predict the course of any judge. That disclaimer aside, it is fair to say that Thornberry by Eastern standards is only moderately liberal and that his whole mind and personality are calm and balanced.

FINALLY, Fortas and Thornberry are beyond doubt old and close friends of the President — "cronies" perhaps, in the hostile definition. Friends of liberal Presidents, however, can sometimes make the best and soundest judges, as witness Associate Justice Byron White, a partisan workhorse for John F. Kennedy whose civilized judicial conservatism now lights up the bench. Conversely, Earl Warren was anything but a crony of President Eisenhower, who was himself conservative and who was, moreover, to find it very hard to rejoice in the Warren appointment he had made at the behest of others.

Billy Graham

I don't approve of the conduct of the Christians with whom I work, but I wouldn't like to criticize them. What can I do? H.B.

You have asked a most difficult question, for it is always easier to see the evil in our friends than in ourselves. Before you allow yourself to become overly critical, remember that Jesus said, "Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log in your own eye?" I do not believe that this means we should be blind to the faults of Christians, but rather that we should first consider ourselves carefully. "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone."

At the same time, I realize you do have a real problem. If you have first examined yourself with the same standard, you are then in a better position to see the other fellow. If then his life is a definite hindrance to the gospel, you may in love speak kindly to him. The Bible says: "Brethren, if a man is overtaken in any trespass, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Look to yourself lest you too be tempted." Perhaps you may in this way win him both to yourself and to the Lord. A sincere, but mistaken, Christian will always appreciate any suggestion that would make his life more acceptable to the Lord. Do not think your correction will avail anything if you cannot yourself take correction.

John Cuniff Boom Badly Out Of Balance

NEW YORK (AP) — Speaking economically, this month may be remembered as much more than the midway point in a booming but troubled year. A year or so from now we might also recall it as the beginning of a new economic phase.

As this economy enters the second half, or the new phase, consumers are spending heavily and debt is rising. Joblessness is only 3.5 per cent of the labor force, but credit is costly, prices and wages are rising, and taxes are rising too.

ALTHOUGH THE defects and needs of the urban economies are being exposed as never before, the problems and imbalances of the rural and farm economies are great also: farm expenses are high or rising, while prices received are slipping.

In general, the economic boom, now more than seven years old, is so badly out of balance that prices are rising at the rate of four per cent a year. And many of these rising household costs are where they can't be avoided: in rents, medical and dental care, food, clothing.

Already the economic indicators, those statistical arrows that point to future events, have begun to tilt downward, anticipating a slowdown because of a promised $6 billion cutback in government spending and a 10 per cent surcharge on personal and corporate incomes, scheduled to begin this month.

GRADUALLY, as money is taken out of the economy the rate of unemployment should begin to rise, perhaps reaching more than 4 per cent of the labor force in the next six months or so. This is one of the painful ironies of any slowdown.

Wage increases likely will continue at a rate of 6 per cent or so for a matter of months but will become increasingly difficult to obtain. Consumer spending may drop even though, hopefully, price increases will moderate and credit costs drop.

By early next year it may well be a brand-new economy—perhaps even threatened with recession—one that will permit the new president to issue with some degree of credibility that old battlecry: Let us begin.

THERE IS A good chance the new president will find his constituents clamoring for more expansion in the economy, for more jobs, for lower taxes and perhaps even for a bit more government spending.

Although this may be a new phase of the economic boom, or even the end of it, the excesses and defects of the past seven years aren't likely to be forgotten. Fundamental changes are being considered.

As the great speculative binge in the stock market shows signs of ending, the stock market itself appears to be facing a long period of examination and criticism of its methods, in part the result of excesses.

Whatever the net results of economic policy over the next six months, or the examination of it over the past seven years, the signs are becoming clearer that a phase is ending.

To Your Good Health Translating What The Doctors Reported

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Sir: Please tell me in language I can understand what the doctors' report means. It says I have a tortuous and calcified aorta and arteriosclerotic heart disease. How bad is this and what can be done about it? I am 75. — Mrs. B.W.

It means you have hardening of the arteries—and who doesn't at our age? The degree of hardening varies from one person to another, but we all have it, or must look forward to it, because it is as much a part of growing older as accumulating some wrinkles, watching our hair change color, and our gradual inclination to sit just instead of playing games, and going to bed instead of staying up till dawn.

More specifically, your report means that evidence of the hardening could be seen by X-ray in the walls of the aorta, which is the main artery into which the heart pumps blood.

The hardening of the arteries around the heart is another way of saying "arteriosclerotic heart disease." It is not unusual at 75, just part of the process of getting to be that old, and there is nothing you can do about it.

Depending on the degree of hardening, you had best be guided by your physicians' instructions. Maybe he won't give you any. Or maybe he has placed some limitation on your activities.

In general, the best course is to remain as active as is comfortable for you. Don't, as the expression goes, "just sit around and listen to your arteries harden." Keep interested in doing things and seeing people. Just take warning if you do something strenuous enough to make you huff and puff. That's nature's way of saying that you are overtaxing the capabilities of your heart.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would daily doses of cod liver oil benefit arthritis? Should all acid juices and fruits be discontinued? — Mrs. D.P.

No to both questions. Both notions are popular superstitions. Medical testing shows that cod liver oil does not help (unless the patient is lacking Vitamin D to begin with) and there is no than a balanced, nutritional one. special diet for arthritis other than there are no foods that "should" be eaten, none that must be avoided.

For candid information on other arthritis fallacies, plus sound information on what will help, read my new booklet, "How You Can Control Arthritis." For a copy, send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, care of this newspaper.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Saturday Night In The Communal Tub

The barber shop was open only Saturday and Sunday night. The barber worked the rest of the week on his farm.

A Negro boy in the town was the shop porter. He showed up even before the barber on Saturday, opened the door, raised the windows to let the stuffy hot air out. Then he swept out the place—not a big task since the shop was anything but large.

THERE WAS one battered old barber chair and behind it a backbar with a speckled mirror. Kerosene lights illuminated the shop after sundown or if it was cloudy.

A faded brown curtain covered a door at one end of the room which led to the rear of the shop.

If you passed through that door you were in the bathroom. A worn kitchen chair; a stack of dingy towels and few bars of cheap soap comprised the furnishings. The tub itself, scarred by many years of service, reposed in grandeur in the middle of the room.

ON SATURDAY night, the bath was in high demand. Especially in wheat harvest when the threshing hands would come drifting in about sunset.

This was the porter's big moment. He had an old wash boiler on a "batchelor" stove in back of the tub. Stoking this stove was the initial job and bringing the water to simmer in the boiler was the next step. He also had a rain barrel at one side filled with reserve water. As the supply dwindled, he brought in additional water in a big galvanized bucket from the cistern outside.

THE CUSTOMER would swagger into the barber shop, greet his friends who were waiting their turn in the chair and demand of the barber what the chances were of getting a bath. The barber would reply the chances were good but that Joe was already ahead of the newcomer.

Meantime Joe, having paid his two-bits, had gone back of the curtain and the porter, perspiring from the heat, was splashing buckets of near boiling water from the washbowl into the tub. When he had the amount required, he brought in cold water to moderate the temperature. Joe patiently waited, sitting solemnly on the old chair with his discarded clothing piled on the floor beside him.

ONCE IN THE TUB, it was the house rule the splasher could stay as long as he wanted. However, this was not always easy since the other bathers stalked in from time to time demanding how much longer did the bather plan to loaf around in there?

Once his bath was finished, he would don his clothing and go out into the shop for his haircut and—if he felt particularly fancy—a shave.

THE PORTER, meantime, yanked out the stopper and the water would gurgled down the drain, out through a short segment of pipe to be discharged on the parched sunbaked earth.

Then like the dark feroar in Omar's epic, he would prepare for another guest.

This barber shop bath was a luxury almost as rewarding to one's ego as boarding the train and having a meal in the diner.

WHEN A MAN was able to do these things, word got around that he was a "real sport" and a "big spender."

What else could a fellow desire in the world of fame?

—SAM BLACKBURN

Art Buchwald These College Kids Are Bright

WASHINGTON — I hadn't realized the extent of "student power" in this country until I had dinner at a friend's house the other night. Among the guests seated at the table were a well-known TV newscaster, the head of a congressional committee, a syndicated columnist and the editor of a national magazine. An added star was the 18-year-old son of one of the guests, who had just finished his freshman year at Amherst. We shall call him Stephen. Although it went against protocol, the hostess insisted that Stephen sit on her right.

AS STEPHEN was cutting his meat we all watched him nervously, hoping some pearls would drop out of his mouth. But when he didn't say anything, the congressman jumped in.

"Tell me, Stephen," he said, "what do your friends think about the negative income tax?"

Stephen looked up in surprise. "I haven't heard them discuss it, though I imagine they're for it."

"Well, put," the congressman said.

"LET ME ASK you this, Stephen," the syndicated columnist said. "Does your generation believe the present revolutionary forces now at work throughout the world can produce a viable solution to the problems of pestilence, famine and leisure?"

"I don't think you can generalize about student revolutions," Stephen replied.

The columnist wrote this down in a small notebook.

The editor then asked Stephen, "How do we get out of Vietnam?"

Stephen said, "You just get out. It's that simple."

The congressman shook his head in amazement. "That could be the solution. It just could."

We were eating our salad and Stephen muttered something.

EVERYONE LOOKED up. "What did he say? What did he say?"

"He said, 'Please pass the salt.'"

"Boy," said the columnist, "these kids really are bright these days."

"Our generation never asked anyone to pass the salt," the TV commentator said.

"We didn't have the guts," the congressman said. "When the kids today want salt, they ask for it. That's 'student power.'"

Everyone passed Stephen the salt. Some started discussing the elections in France.

"Maybe Stephen doesn't want to talk about the elections in France," the magazine editor said.

"I DON'T REALLY care one way or another," Stephen said.

"Well, how do you feel about the elections, Stephen?"

"I guess they went okay, considering."

"Tell us about pot," someone begged.

"I know kids who have smoked it," Stephen said.

"What did it tell you?" the columnist said. "He even knows about pot."

"I'd prefer to hear Stephen's views on the elections," the editor said.

"Why don't we wait until the men go into the library for coffee and cigars?"

"Not on your life," one of the women said. "We're just as interested to hear what Stephen has to say about politics as the men are. After all, you don't get a student to come to dinner every night."

Holmes Alexander Fear Makes Fools Of Us

WASHINGTON — Live dangerously, America. More than ever it is a world where men and nations die only once. Has there been such a half-year as these first six months of 1968? When ever have we so needed to cast aside fears and audaciously grab our problems by the throat?

I KNOW it is unfashionable to confess a sneaking admiration for President Hoover who in 1932 ordered Gen. MacArthur to bounce the Bonus Marchers out of the city and to burn their shacks behind them. Most of us were raised to look upon that episode as a Napoleonic exercise in mob-control. It certainly was the opposite of infinite patience, of permissiveness and of presidential politeness. If we deplored it in our youth, then by 1968 we should have become grown up enough to put away childish thinking.

THE INSURRECTIONIST rattle which came here masquerading as the Poor People should have been halted at the District limits as Sen. McClellan advised Attorney Gen. Clark to do. Or it should have been expelled by all necessary force when recognized for what it proved to be — an invasion of barbarians in the camouflage of mendicants. Fear made fools of all who tolerated the hoax. We would have been better men, and a better country, if we'd braved the dangers of repercussions and smashed this sneaky revolution.

Fear-fed hurricanes of hysteria have swept the nation for a month over the private ownership of firearms. Sen. Tydings (D., Md.) became the leading panic-monger for a gun bill that would allegedly save the population from self-slaughter.

BUT THERE already is a well-considered section in the Omnibus Crime and Safe Streets Act to deny guns to suspicious and dangerous characters. Congress went through most of June resisting pressure toward total disarmament of private American citizens.

Fear of accident and passionate murder by firearms is not a good reason for the flagrant invasion of privacy and ownership. There is much need for self-protection in this country. We had better do the bold thing, and fight a war to the death against crime, including the restoration of capital punishment, rather than take guns away from everybody.

TIMIDITY HAS been the American motif at the peace conference in Paris, the scene of a stirring performance of resolute leadership by Gen. de Gaulle. While President Johnson's emissaries were beseeching and wheedling the Asian Reds, the Old Soldier of France smashed a domestic crisis and earned the votes and cheers of his countrymen for it. Oh, we could do with living as dangerously as that! What's the matter, LBJ, with delivering an ultimatum to North Vietnam, as some here at home have urged that you do? Five days to reach an agreement, or we take the limitations of the Vietnam War and go in for the kill. All sorts of dreadful consequences might flow, but the probability is, in well-known words, that the most we have to fear is fear itself.

TOWARD THE END of June, the Senate locked itself in debate over a matter that spans the whole spectrum of timorous - and - fearful living. It comes down to this: shall we concentrate on death-dealing weapons against Russia and Red China, or shall we back into disarmament by building an anti-ballistic (ABM) system so as to negotiate the better, from a defensive posture?

I know there are many technological and economic arguments concerning an ABM against Communist missiles, but the matter won't be settled on such grounds. Nothing in our military policy will be settled, in nuclear matters or in Vietnam, until we dare to live at least as dangerously as our enemies do.

Committees To Combat Tex. Screwworms Asked

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation has recommended that county screwworm committees be reactivated to combat a resurgence of screwworm infestation.

The foundation said at a meeting Monday that Texas has had 700 cases of screwworms this year, four times over the number for all of 1967.

Truistees of the foundation said the recent outbreak was the worst since 1963, when a widespread eradication program was started.

Sterile flies are produced at a laboratory near Mission, Tex., and dropped across livestock-producing areas. The sterile flies mate with non-sterile varieties and interrupt the screwworm reproduction cycle.

The foundation gave several reasons for the recent upsurge in screwworms, which caused an estimated $100 million in damage to the cattle industry in 1962.

—Mild winter weather and generally wet conditions.
—Increased movement of cattle to northern portions of Mexico.

—Increased population of wildlife.
—Livestock are more susceptible to the flies because of a cutback in spraying and other fly-control programs.

The Mission lab now is at maximum production of 175 million sterile flies per week. The foundation said this is double the 1963 production.

Dr. R. T. Bushland, Fargo, S. D., generally regarded as responsible for the research resulting in the program, attended the meeting along with stockmen from Texas, New Mexico, California, Arizona, Louisiana, Oklahoma.

He said in the 1963 crisis, cattlemen were doctoring and spraying their stock, which cut down on the cases of both screwworm and non-screwworm cases.

On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon has accumulated nearly three-fourths of the delegates needed for the GOP presidential nomination and his opponent, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, has called for fast enactment of strict gun control legislation.

Nixon now has 478 of the 687 votes needed for nomination, according to the Associated Press tabulation of delegates pledged, committed or publicly stating their voting intentions. Rockefeller has 192.

The count does not include the minimum 40 Texas delegates that Sen. John G. Tower said Monday would go to Nixon as a result of the Senator's dropping his favorite son role and releasing the state's 56 GOP delegates.

Dear Abby

Wrong Babysitter

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be writing to you, but I need an impartial listener, and I am desperate. I am married with four lovely children, ages 3 to 12. I work of necessity, not by choice. My difficulties started last year when my father-in-law died and "Mom" asked me if she could be our day time babysitter to keep busy and supplement her income. We thought it was a wonderful idea, as we would feel more at ease with grandmother looking after the children instead of a stranger. What a mistake!

ly couple on the other side of the Shmos' called the police. Well, Mr. Shmo (Sr.) got smart and told the patrolmen that he had better watch his step because his best buddy was a police sergeant, so the patrolmen called for the "best buddy" who happened to be my husband. Mr. Shmo (now very drunk) cursed the patrolmen, so they arrested him with my husband's consent. All the neighbors were watching. My husband had no choice but now none of the neighbors will even speak to us. Abby, who was wrong? Should we apologize? SERGEANT'S WIFE: DEAR WIFE: Your husband did the right thing, and if the Shmos' and your neighbors became angry with your husband for having done his duty, shame on them. Mr. Shmo should apologize to your husband for having put him on the spot.

JAW IN ROCKS He also said that the find is "the most complete mandible, or lower jawbone, of an ape found in Europe or Asia in tertiary rocks since 1876." The new discovery was made about 30 miles north of Bilaspur in the northern India state of Himachal Pradesh by a Simons-Chopra field party under the direction of Grant E. Meyer, research associate of Simons at Yale. The jaw was found in rocks of the Dhok Pathan formation, generally considered to be of the Middle Pliocene Age or earlier, Simons said, and the size "suggests that this animal was larger or bulkier than most present day gorillas." The research, known as the Chandigarh-Yale project, was conducted in the foothills of the Himalayas and was supported by grants from the National Science Foundation and the Smithsonian foreign currency program. Simons is professor of paleontology and curator of the division of fossil vertebrates of Peabody Museum at Yale.

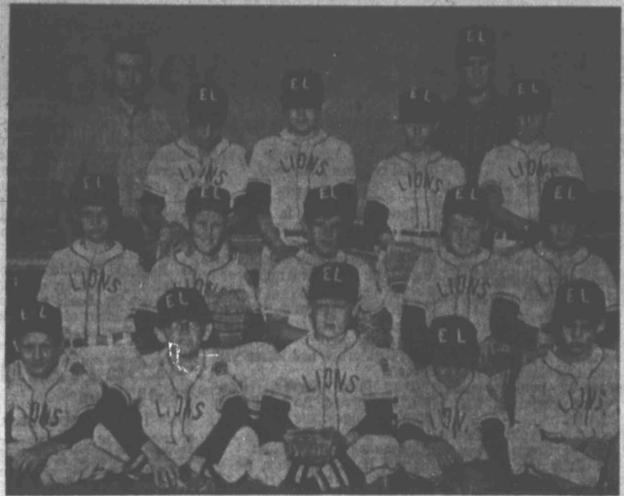

I have tried to talk gently with her, and so has my husband, but it hasn't helped. The situation keeps growing worse. I would like to get someone else in to look after the children, but how can I without hurting Mom? She would feel unwanted, and I would feel cruel and heartless and guilty. Please help me find a solution if there is one. DESPERATE DEAR DESPERATE: Anyone can make a bad decision — the tragedy is perpetuating it. Face it, "Mom" is not working out as a baby-sitter. To suddenly "disengage" her would be unkind. Why not take an "indefinite" leave of absence from your job (for a month or so) and gently relieve your mother-in-law of her duties. You could resume in time after having made other arrangements for a sitter. An alternative would be to place your children in a day nursery. Either suggestion is, I think, better than continuing the way you are. DEAR ABBY: For 20 years we've lived next door to a family I'll call the "SHMOS." Mr. Shmo and my husband belong to the same lodge, and they fish together. Mrs. Shmo and I are also very good friends. My husband is a sergeant on the police force. Recently the Shmos' son came home from college and threw a big party in their backyard. I'll bet there were 100-kids there. The party got ngsy and wild so the elder-

Flock, Lions Book Mexico City Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Use of the American Football League, an experimental conversion...

The Philadelphia Eagles will take on the Detroit Lions Aug. 11 in the 105,000-seat Aztec Stadium in Mexico City...

Other TV games will be Chicago vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Mon., Aug. 19; Green Bay at Dallas, Sat., Aug. 24; Minnesota at St. Louis, Sun., Sept. 1; and Baltimore at Dallas, Sat., Sept. 7.

All 10 AFL teams, including new entry Cincinnati, will play at least one NFL foe. Only three NFL teams—New York, Chicago and Green Bay—won't play teams from the AFL.

A proposed game between the Giants and the New York Jets fell through because of the unavailability of Shea Stadium, home of the Jets.

The AFL's regular season opens Sept. 6-8, and the NFL opens its campaign the following weekend.

A rally by Big Spring Hardware in the seventh fell short as the Kiwanians won a 9-8 Hi-Junior Teen-Age Baseball league decision here Monday night.

Bill Davis, the winning flinger, was tagged for nine hits. His mates collected 10 off Mark Powell.

The win was the sixth in nine assignments for the Kiwanians. Big Spring Hardware is now 2-7.

Charlie Rodriguez clubbed a home run in the sixth with one for the winners.

Lions Batter Angels, 12-2

The Lion, manhandled the Angels, 12-2, in a Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball league game here Monday evening.

The two teams matched runs in the opening round but the Lions broke away with a five-run third.

Ricky Steen collected three of the winners' five hits while Mike Parker picked up the win. Gil Pesana had two of the losers' six hits.

One of Steen's blows was inside the park home run. Outside of Steen, only Milton Wood and Adam Yanez hit safely for the Lions.

Six exhibitions will be televised nationally, including the Green-Bay-College All-Stars game at Chicago Aug. 3. ABC-TV will carry the Packers-All Stars, with CBS-TV handling the others, including the Mexico City game.

THAN OTHER U. S. SERVICES IN VIET

Marine Casualties Much Heavier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marines are taking much heavier casualties proportionately than the other U.S. armed services in the Vietnam war.

Marines have suffered about one-third of the combat killed and wounded although making less than 14 per cent of the total 615,000-man U.S. troop commitment in Southeast Asia.

The Army has lost more dead and wounded than the Marines—but has more than four times as many men involved in the war.

The Air Force and Navy have been hit lightly compared with the Marines and Army troops which carry the brunt of the ground war.

Pentagon officials said the Marines have a bigger slice of their force available for battle than the Army because they are furnished supply and other support by the Navy and, to some extent, by the Army.

The Army supports its own combat troops, as well as manning huge depots and other rear echelon facilities.

As of June 22, the United States had lost 23,367 killed in combat and 137,317 wounded.

The Marines suffered 8,445, or 33 per cent, killed and 55,450, or 35 per cent, wounded.

The Army sustained 15,545, 61 per cent, of the battle deaths and 94,984, or 69 per cent, of the wounded.

The roughly 60 per cent share of total U.S. casualties borne by the Army is very close to the Army's 59.5 per cent of the total U.S. commitment in Vietnam, Thailand and on ships offshore.

The Army accounts for 356,000 men in Vietnam, plus about 10,000 in Thailand.

The 84,000 Marines in Vietnam represent about 13.6 per cent of the total U.S. armed forces in Southeast Asia.

Only a small fraction of the Air Force limit sees combat than twice their representation in the war.

The Air Force, with 61,000 men in Vietnam and Thailand, has lost 561, or 2 per cent-plus of the war's combat dead and 1,995, or 1 per cent-plus of the wounded total.

The over-all Air Force contingent totals 15.6 per cent of the U.S. military force in Southeast Asia.

The vast majority maintain and supply the aircraft at their bases.

The Navy, with 68,000 men in Vietnam or operating offshore, has lost 816 killed. This is somewhat more than 3 per cent of the U.S. total. Its wounded number 5,058, also a 3 per cent slice of the over-all total.

Some of the Navy dead were pilots in the air war, but most died in surface actions, such as river patrols.

New Center To Combat Slum Schools Crisis

DALLAS (AP) — Establishment of a new center for human relations in the nation's capital is a move by the National Education Association to meet a crisis stemming from urban slum schools, its president said Monday.

TASK FORCE

As head of the million-member organization, Braulio Alonso disclosed the project will be set up as soon as possible. He cited it as the principal recommendation of a special task force on human rights made public as the NEA prepared to open its annual convention today.

Alonso, a former high school principal in Tampa, Fla., asserted that inferior schools in urban slums are part of an educational legacy left by a white middle class that fled to the suburbs.

He talked to reporters at a news conference inaugurating a weeklong series of convention activities.

Samuel B. Ethridge, a Negro educator from Alabama who has been the NEA's associate secretary for human rights of educators, has been named director of NEA headquarters in Washington.

Another task force will be assigned to "go to inner core sections of cities to talk to those involved in education," Alonso said, concerning ways to implement the newly disclosed recommendations.

Alonso described the report as "a vigorous, disturbing indictment of American education and society, but a challenging blueprint for future action in the civil and human rights field."

He urged that its proposals receive careful consideration by the NEA, the educational community and the public.

TRADITIONS

"The educational institution in the United States, like other institutions, reflects the assumption of white middle class superiority," Alonso said. "The schools have helped to perpetuate the values, traditions and way of life which have brought about the crisis that confronts our nation today."

Among other points cited by Alonso in the task force recommendations were (1) accelerated school integration, (2) use of sanctions by the NEA and its 9,500 affiliates "where the rights of children have been infringed," (3) teaching child of minorities about their own culture and "a second culture—that of the predominant white, middle class society from which they have been excluded and (4) development of a model inner-city school planned by the NEA and other agencies to help chart the course for urban education.

Crash Kills, Hurts Seven

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A twin-engine Aero Jet Commander, owned by a Kansas City insurance firm, crashed in a gully-lined, muddy field less than 100 yards from a Drake Field runway Monday, killing one and injuring seven.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said it was "a miracle" that the pilot, Harold Call, 36, of Overland Park, Kan., a Kansas City suburb, was able to bring the plane down for the emergency landing after both engines flamed out at 41,000 feet about 50 miles from Fayetteville.

The FAA said the craft, owned by the Kansas City Life Insurance Co., was on a flight from Dallas to Kansas City. Aboard were the pilot, copilot and six passengers.

Killed was Jack Yeo of Kansas City.

The injured, listed as in fair or good condition, were Taylor Stone, 45, the copilot; Marshall Chatfield, 35; Edward Laird and Cathryn Bixby, 18; all of Kansas City; and James Meyer, 44; and John Reddick, both of Columbia, Mo.

Classroom Tutors Endorse Strikes

DALLAS (AP) — Endorsement of strikes when conditions make it impossible to provide quality education was voted Monday by the 900,000-member Association of Classroom Teachers.

As part of the same resolution delegates agreed to support local and state associations working for repeal of laws which ban teacher strikes.

In other statements of policy, the organization called for (1) minimum annual salaries of $10,500 for teachers holding bachelor degrees and $21,000 for those with master degrees and 10 years' experience; and (2) equality of opportunity for advancement of women teachers and administrators.

The classroom teachers tabled a resolution proposing firearms control. They defeated a motion to designate Jan. 15, the birth date of slain Dr. Martin Luther King, a "national day of recognition of human rights."

Fellow members elected Betty Buford of Plainview, Tex., president-elect of the association, which is holding its annual convention.

Bruce Eckman of Portland, Ore., took over as president of the group Monday. He succeeds Ruth Trigg, the retiring president from Barrington, Ill.

Miss Buford is a member of the Plainview High School faculty and will take office in July of 1969.

Thieves Loot Parked Pickup

S. W. McElroy, 1700 Laurie, reported that several items had been taken from a pickup sometime between Saturday and Monday.

Police reports value the loss at more than $500 and the stolen good include boxes of spray nozzles for cotton poison spray, one case of motor oil, one pressure gauge for the nozzles, one carton of cigarettes, and two boxes of rifle shells. The pickup was parked in the driveway of his home.

Berkeley Crowd Demands Suspension Of Curfew

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A crowd of 1,000 on the University of California campus, acting after three days of disorders, voted Monday night to confront the City Council with demands to reopen the streets.

Before a curfew went into effect, leaders of the Young Socialist Alliance and the Peace and Freedom party told the milling throng that a demand should be made for a city permit for a Fourth of July political rally on Telegraph Avenue near the campus.

Other demands, said spokesman Peter Camejo, will be for suspension of the curfew and for a civilian board to review actions of Berkeley police.

The crowd shouted assent.

Later, the campus and Berkeley streets were cleared by officers enforcing the 8 p.m. curfew which was first invoked last Friday night after police broke up a rally at which speakers criticized "De Gaulle government actions against French students."

Officers marched shoulder to shoulder clearing the area the fourth straight night.

At the university, Chancellor Roger W. Heyns said a permit recently granted to the Peace and Freedom party to hold a rally at noon today on the Sproul Hall steps would be honored.

Heyns said only four students have been among the 86 arrested since disturbances broke out Friday night and that no students were among the dissident leadership.

Arthritis Hits One Of Eleven

One out of every 11 people suffer some form of arthritis in the U.S., according to the 20th Anniversary annual report of the Arthritis Foundation, just published.

The report says that it is now known what it will take to get the answer to arthritis and how to go about it; and that "arthritis will be eliminated" when the people demand it.

The total 1968 national investment in research and training against arthritis is estimated at $15,000,000. The total annual cost to the national economy is estimated at more than 3.5 billion dollars.

"The latest figures attest vividly," the report comments, "to an incongruous disparity... a disease with a staggering impact on society being assigned by that society an absurdly low priority for attention."

Ice Cream Scoop

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Here's a scoop. The Navy is conducting an experiment aboard the guided missile cruiser Springfield to determine the feasibility of serving ice cream cones aboard ship.

The 30-day experiment began June 14 while the Springfield, flagship for the commander of the U.S. 2nd Fleet, was in the torrid Caribbean.

If it's successful, ships with soft-serve ice cream machines will be authorized to buy wafers, cups, and ice cream cones will be available when the ships are in port.

Boy Electrocuted

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP) — A 9-month-old boy in a wet diaper was electrocuted Monday when he grabbed an exposed wire in the living room of his home.

Paula K. Robinson said she heard a small whimper but that her son James was dead by the time she pulled him away.

LBJ Didn't Expect 'Giant War' In Viet?

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Moyers, former White House press secretary for President Johnson, says that as late as April, 1965, Washington hoped Hanoi would "back away from an all-out confrontation," but, unfortunately, the war grew because "each underestimated the other's tenacity."

In a copyright interview in the Atlantic Monthly, Moyers rejected a suggestion that Johnson planned "a giant war" in Vietnam.

"I am sure he didn't expect a giant war, much less plan it," Moyers said. "No, as I recall, there was an unspoken assumption in Washington that a major war was something that could be avoided if we injected just a little power at a time."

BACK AWAY?

"There was an assumption that the people in Hanoi would interpret the beginning of the bombing and the announcement of a major build-up as signals of resolve on our part which implied greater resistance to come if they did not change their plans."

At another point, Moyers added, "there was a belief that if we indicated a willingness to use our power, they would get the message and back away from an all-out confrontation."

"As late as April, 1965, in his Baltimore speech, three months before he decided to begin the massive build-up, the President still held to the hope that he could tempt the North Vietnamese in another direction," Moyers said.

"You may remember, he spoke of turning the whole Mekong Delta region into an Asian TVA, and held out the possibility of Hanoi's sharing in the fruits of such a venture. As late as that spring he was hoping to avoid a wider war."

FAILURE

The former press secretary, now vice president and publisher of Newsday at Garden City, N.Y., said, "The President really believed there would be some alternative right up to the last minutes, until July of 1965."

Moyers said he thought Johnson in late 1965 "knew then that the war was headed for proportions that he had hoped to prevent."

"He was increasingly disillusioned over the failure of the Soviets to influence Hanoi. The President—well, most of us shared this at the White House—we felt that he could reason with the Russians, and they would deliver."

"He overestimated their influence in Hanoi or their willingness to help us off a painful hook."

DPS School Dates Listed

Jack White, information and safety officer for the Department of Public Safety in this county, has been informed by Wilson E. Speir, acting director of the DPS, of a new session of the training school for the department. The training school begins on July 30.

Young men between 20 and 35 years of age, who can pass the written examination, the rigid physical examination, and have the required background which has passed investigation, will be sent to the school for a period of 18 weeks.

The academy is at Austin.

Upon successful completion of the course, recruits will be assigned to field duty as patrolmen in one or another of the four uniformed services of the DPS.

Any man interested in trying for the school is invited to contact the DPS or talk to any highway patrolman.

A&M To Change Grading System

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas A&M University will revise its grading system in 1969, President Earl Rudder has announced, adopting the four point grading plan June 1.

A&M now operates under a three point system. Under the new system, an "A" will count four grade points per semester hour, with "B's" counting three, "C's" two, "D's" one, and "F's" none.

The plan also defines "A" as 90 to 100, "B" 80 to 89, "C" 70 to 79, "D" 60 to 69, and "F" below 60.

Seven Motorists Killed In Texas Thunderstorm

AMARILLO (AP)—Cars carrying eight motorists smashed together during a heavy thunderstorm Monday night and a little girl was the lone survivor.

State patrolman Glenn Clements said most of the occupants were hurled out as a light automobile skidded and a heavier vehicle rammed it broadside while topping a hill.

The crash occurred near a US 87 bridge over the Canadian River about 14 miles north of here in the Texas Panhandle.

Officers listed the dead as Dr. David Craig Ewing, 32, of Amarillo; his wife Melinda, 31; their children Cynthia, 9, and Robert, 5; Mrs. Eida M. Adams, 54, of Reading, Pa., believed Mrs. Ewing's mother; Mrs. D. A. Smith, 39, of Dumas, Tex., and her daughter Billie Denise, 12.

Connie Geiss, 9, of Reading, Pa., suffered critical injuries. Attendants at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo said early today, however, that she had shown considerable improvement.

Clements said the Ewing car skidded on the rainswept highway and Mrs. Smith and her daughter apparently were in the heavier automobile which came over a hill about that moment.

Sorry About That

CARROLLTON, Ky. (AP) — State Trooper Jerry Keither stopped a motorist on Interstate 71 south of Cincinnati Monday after radar clocked his auto at well over the legal limit. When Keither went up to the car, the motorist, shaking his head sadly, pointed toward his control panel. And there, was a new $30 radar detection device.

'Big Spring' Marker May Be In Offing

An historical marker commemorating the "big spring" may be in the offing, according to Clyde McMahon, chairman of the "big spring" development committee.

Truett Latimer, executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, recently suggested such a marker.

"If we can be of any assistance to you in the erection of an appropriate Texas Historical Marker, we will be pleased to do so," Latimer said in a letter to Dr. Lee O. Rogers, former

Grand Jurors Are Named

Twenty Howard County jurors have been notified by Fern Cox, district court clerk, to report to Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court at 9 a.m. July 9 for grand jury duty.

The 20 were selected by a special jury commission which met Monday morning in the Howard County Courthouse. The commissioners were Aubrey Weaver, Charles Merritt and J. W. Speegle.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said his office is preparing to lay about 30 felony matters before the grand jury for its consideration. The grand jury will be chosen from the 20 men and women on the panel list and will begin their work immediately after they are sworn in.

Vandals Smear Paint On Houses

Vandals smeared paint on several houses in the Kentwood Addition during the night, according to police reports. Mrs. Glendon L. Armstrong, 2701 Lynn Drive, reported that paint had been put on the garage door of her home during the night. Similar incidents occurred at the three other residences in the area.

Feeders To Meet

Members of Coahoma Future Farmers of America and feeders will meet in the Gerald Oakes home, 902 Culp, in Coahoma at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The group will select lambs for a feeding project.

Bo Bowen To Speak At Girls Camp

Miss Bo Bowen, Howard County health nurse, will speak to a group of homeless girls Wednesday - Friday at the Baptist Encampment near Stanton.

The camp is sponsored by the State Welfare Department and is designed to give the girls, ages 10-16, a week of swimming, games and study.

Approximately 100 girls are attending the camp which began Monday and will continue through Friday.

Miss Bowen will head a discussion and question and answer session following a series of films that will be shown. She will talk about personal grooming, alcohol, boy-girl relationships, growth and development, smoking, narcotics and drugs, venereal disease, and relationships with other people.

This is the first camp of its kind in the area and the girls attending are from the surrounding area.

HemisFair Officials Plan Big Welcome For President

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—HemisFair's executive committee laid plans today for "an old fashioned Fourth at the fair" as part of a big welcome for President Johnson and a group of ambassadors, scheduled to make a splashy arrival at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The President and Mrs. Johnson reach Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio Wednesday, accompanied by 40 ambassadors from Latin America, the Organization of American States and the foreign nations represented at the San Antonio world's fair.

It will be the first visit to the fair for the President, who lives in the Hill Country just north of San Antonio.

The trip was announced weeks in advance and HemisFair officials have been organizing a big airport welcome—a rare occurrence in recent presidential trips.

July 4 is shaping up as the biggest day in HemisFair history, with everything from the ballyhoo of a circus parade thrown in with the presidential presence and a fireworks display supposed to simulate the angular LBJ profile all in the works.

Gov. John Connally, who doubles as HemisFair's commissioner general, will head the welcoming committee at Randolph. Connally will host a dinner at his Floresville ranch Wednesday evening for the ambassadors.

Cheaper Highway Markers Due Test

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A cheaper, speedily applied pavement marker has been developed by Southwest Research Institute and will soon get a field test in 12 states.

Application of the new markers was demonstrated for State Highway Department representatives on Loop 410 west of San Antonio.

The markers are formed by dropping pea-sized glass beads into colored epoxy binding material and were conceived in a program directed by John Dale of the institute and sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials in cooperation with the Bureau of Public Roads.

Institute researchers found the markers lost practically none of their reflective power after six months of traffic wear while painted stripes deteriorated so badly they had to be repaired.

Dr. Hunt Seeks College Funds

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, was back in Austin today working with other Texas public junior college presidents concerning state support of junior colleges during the next fiscal year.

Under a formula contained in Senate and House bills, payments would be based on summer, fall and spring enrollments for the 1967-68 school year. It also fixed state appropriation at $475 each for the first 450 full-time students, plus $450 for each full-time student above 450. Estimates are that HCJC would receive $315,000 under the new arrangement as against $313,000 under present distribution. Odessa Junior College would get $846,000 as against $796,000; South Plains, Levelland, $540,900, as against $503,000; Cisco $393,300 as against $383,000.

Assessor Quits

BOWIE, Tex. (AP)—E. F. Thomas, oil and gas assessor and Montague County veterans service officer, has resigned.

Duties of the assessor's office will be assumed by Pritchard and Abbott, a Fort Worth firm specializing in oil and gas pipeline, railroad and public utility appraisals.

Thomas will be employed by the firm's North Texas division.

Norman Petty, Long Illness

LAMESA (SC)—Norman Petty, 96, died Monday in a Lamesa hospital following a long illness. He had been in failing health since 1961.

Graveside rites were to be at 4 p.m. today in the Pleasant Valley Cemetery in May under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

He was born Nov. 22, 1871, in Baton Rouge, La., and had farmed in May since 1883 until his retirement in 1942.

He is survived by one niece, Mrs. Ida Smith, Hacienda Heights, Calif., and one nephew, W. L. Petty, Big Spring.

B52s Attempt To Check Flow Of War Supplies

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacked the southernmost part of North Vietnam with the heaviest saturation raids of the war Monday and today.

Wave after wave of America's biggest bombers—75 planes in all flying from bases in Okinawa, Thailand and Guam—released more than four million pounds of explosives on enemy targets just above South Vietnam's border.

Each B52 carried about 54,000 pounds of 500- and 750-pound bombs.

WIFE OUT

Nine missions of five planes each hit just inside North Vietnam. Another six missions struck the northern half of the demilitarized zone.

The main targets were North Vietnamese storage areas, caves, bunkers and artillery sites. One aim was to wipe out enemy big guns that have been steadily hammering U.S. com-

Long Holiday Being Planned

One entire floor of the Howard County Courthouse will be closed Thursday and Friday in observance of the July 4 holiday.

District Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, has already announced he will be out of town Thursday through Sunday.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said his office would close Wednesday at 5 p.m. and reopen at 8 a.m. Monday.

Fern Cox, district court clerk, contacted most of the attorneys in town and found that many were to be out of town for the weekend. A bar meeting is scheduled and members of the local bar plan to attend.

Since both the judge and the district attorney are to be out of town, along with many of the lawyers, Cox said his office would also take Friday off.

None of the other offices in the courthouse plan to be closed other than Thursday. With the exception of the sheriff's office all of the others will observe the Fourth and resume activity Friday.

Beatle In Love With Jap Artist

LONDON (AP)—"I love her," declared Beatle John Lennon, standing hand in hand with Japanese artist Yoko Ono.

Lennon spoke Monday night at an off-beat art show he dedicated to the 34-year-old sculptress, wife of American artist Anthony Cox.

Lennon, 27, confirmed that his six-year-old marriage to Cynthia Lennon, also 27, is broken — "over though not legally." They have a 5-year-old son.

DEATHS

Services Today For W. N. Reed

Services were to be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Church of Christ at Sterling City for W. N. (Bill) Reed, 74, who died in the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo early Tuesday. Marion Hays, minister, was to officiate and burial was to be in the Sterling City Cemetery under direction of Lowe Funeral Home.

Mr. Reed leaves his wife, the former Nita Longshore, to whom he was married in 1916; one daughter, Mrs. Chesley McDonald; three grandchildren; three brothers, John Reed, Lee Reed and Nick Reed, all of Sterling City.

He was rated as one of the leading judges in the Southwest of breeding bulls and had been selector for the Concho Valley and the Howard County South Plains Hereford sales. He and Lee Reed owned and operated 50,000 acres in ranches in Sterling, Howard, Mitchell and Childress counties. He also had taken an active role in conservation, effecting mesquite control on 10,000 acres.

Mrs. Mayo Hill, Funeral Monday

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Mayo Hill, 72, retired bookkeeper, died at 1:20 p.m. Sunday in the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City after a long illness.

Funeral services were held Monday at 4 p.m. from the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Billy Wilkinson, pastor officiating. Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

She was born Oct. 21, 1895, in Charleston, and came to Mitchell County about 60 years ago. She married J. W. Hill in 1925, who died in 1966.

She is survived by one son, Merrill Johnson, Colorado City; one brother, Joe Berry, Madera, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Carl Mader, Guerneville, Calif., and Mrs. Myrtle Simpson, Phoenix, Ariz.; and one grandchild.

Norman Petty, Long Illness

LAMESA (SC)—Norman Petty, 96, died Monday in a Lamesa hospital following a long illness. He had been in failing health since 1961.

bat bases and supply lines just below the eastern flank of the DMZ and firing at allied warships offshore. Another objective was to stem the increasing flow of war materials to enemy troops in South Vietnam.

Such heavy B52 strikes sometimes have signaled a massive American ground sweep. It is most unlikely that American troops plan a sweep into the northern half of the DMZ or above it. But the B52s could be softening up the enemy's artillery to limit their reaction to other U.S. offensives along the frontier.

COMBAT

U.S. sources said the storage areas—caves and bunkers—supply both North Vietnamese infiltrators headed south and the artillery crews attacking South Vietnam's frontier.

The sources pointed out that enemy artillery some of which has a range of 16 miles, has been harassing the big allied supply bases of Dong Ha and Cua Viet, at the eastern end of the DMZ. Dong Ha is also headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division and the nerve center for allied combat operations along the DMZ.

Despite 3,656 missions over North Vietnam's southern panhandle by smaller fighter-bombers in June—an average of 122 a day—U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy is pouring more supplies and troops into South Vietnam than ever before.

In South Vietnam, only one significant ground action was reported Monday as a general hill continued.

In a day of fighting three miles southeast of the nearly abandoned combat base at Khe Sanh, 157 North Vietnamese were killed, U.S. Marines reported. A Marine company clashed with one enemy force in the area and called in airstrikes and artillery. U.S. pilots

Sex Education To Be Offered

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—The first sex education program for Arlington schools will be taught next fall and, according to one educator, it will be well accepted.

Dr. Donald A. Boyer of Evanson, Ill., who has pioneered in getting such education offered in public schools, says students want authoritative information on sexual subjects.

"The children's attention span is often greater when you are covering this field," he said.

A school official said sex education would be offered as a part of a health course which will be required of ninth-graders.

Pythians To Install Officers

Russell Hardin, Lubbock, will be the installing officer when new officers of Frontier Lodge 43 of the Knights of Pythias embark upon their duties this evening.

The installation is set for 8 o'clock in Castle Hall, 1407 Lancaster, with Sherrill Farmer, chancellor commander, in charge. Those to take office include:

Jim Corbell, chancellor commander; A. E. Clanton, vice chancellor; L. B. Conway, prelate; B. T. Chrane, master of the works; John Norton, master at arms; Edward R. Morin, secretary; Manley A. Cook, financial secretary; Bob Hill, treasurer; Bill Loftis, inner guard; Larry Baggett, outer guard.

Hardin has been a member of the Pythian order for many years, serving in all the chairs of his subordinate lodge in Lubbock before progression through the offices of the grand lodge, including that of chancellor of the Grand Lodge of Texas in 1953. He is a past member of the Texas Pythian Home board at Weatherford, and currently is a representative of the Supreme Lodge for Texas and Louisiana.

Following the installation program, which all Pythians are urged to attend, there will be refreshments.

Poor People's Campaign Costs Exceed $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six weeks the Poor People's Campaign spent living and demonstrating in the nation's capital cost everyone involved, including the public, at least $1.2 million.

But that sum may fall far short of what the final expense will total—a figure that may never be known.

On May 11 when the Southern Christian Leadership Conference planted Resurrection City, the campaign's plywood shantytown, on national park land near the Lincoln Memorial, federal officials said there would be little cost to the government.

But by the time Resurrection

City was dismantled and hauled away last week, federal expenses were officially put at $231,684.

MUM ON MONEY

The District of Columbia estimated its own expenses from the campaign at about $500,000, not counting police costs during last week's demonstrations.

The SCLC, although tight-lipped about money matters, conceded it spent about $350,000 to operate the campaign. The Washington Star said it cost an additional $100,000 to build Resurrection City, and there was another $10,000 spent to bring the mule train, symbol of rural poverty, to the city.

Of the government expenditures, about $85,000 went toward tearing down the shantytown and replacing the grass trampled in the mud-filled 15-acre camp site.

Most of the governmental expenses, $129,603 spent by the National Park Service and the $500,000 incurred by the District of Columbia, went to pay overtime for policemen.

COURT COST

These estimates cover known government and SCLC expenses. There is another category of expenditures that may never be fully known—the thousands of dollars worth of money, goods and time donated by hundreds of people and organizations.

The large cost of transporting the campaigners to Washington was borne primarily by sympathetic businesses, civic groups, civil rights organizations and support committees organized early in the year by SCLC.

Washington area churches donated living space, food and clothing. Doctors, dentists and nurses gave their time, companies gave medicine. And individuals chipped in everything from loaned automobiles to the price of a long-distance telephone call back home.

Jail and court costs for the more than 200 demonstrators arrested a week ago Monday have not been estimated.

SLUMP

Businessmen blamed the campaign for part of the drastic business and tourist slump that hit the capital right after the April 5-6 riots, long before the first campaign people arrived.

William Calomiris, president of the Metropolitan Washington Board of Trade, said the combination of events may have cost the city $20 to $30 million in lost business.

The government stands to get something back on its contributions, but it won't be much. SCLC was required to post only a $5,000 bond.

The materials of Resurrection City still owed by SCLC and now in government hands might be negotiated as partial repayment.

But the plywood which cost SCLC $70,000 at a reduced rate when new, would be worth far less now, after its weeks of exposure to sun, wind and torrential rains.

The star quoted Andre Young, executive vice-president of SCLC, as saying "That is a very small cost to pay for the education of this nation."

Heavy Cigarette Smoking Imperils Health, Says PHS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tobacco industry is under attack again from the U.S. Public Health Service, which says recent findings indicate heavy cigarette smoking can, on the average, shorten life more than eight years.

TV BAN BID

The PHS findings dovetailed with new recommendations by the Federal Trade Commission urging laws to ban all cigarette advertising on television and radio.

Both agencies submitted their findings Monday in separate reports to Congress.

Three of the five FTC members called for the prohibition on all TV and radio advertising, but said if this wasn't done, then "cigarette advertising on television and radio should be limited as to the hours at which it may appear, the extent to which it may appear, and the types of programs on which it may appear."

The three majority FTC members, Philip Elman, Mary Gar-diner Jones and James Nicholson, were joined by the remaining two commissioners, Chairman Paul Rand Dixon and A. Everett MacIntyre, in recommending a new and tougher warning on all cigarette packages, which would also be required in all advertising.

Skilled Trucker Prevents Tragedy

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — A truck driver used his tractor Monday to guide an escaped trailer loaded with gasoline over a half-mile stretch of curving highway before finally letting it crash in an unpopulated, wooded area along Lake Michigan.

The truck exploded and flames, brought under control in about two hours, could be seen at least five miles away, witnesses said. No one was injured.

Driver Doug McDougal, hauling gasoline for service stations in nearby Petoskey, said he felt the trailer, with 4,400 gallons of gasoline, break loose.

Maneuvering the tractor to prevent the load from going out of control along the downgrade on US 131, McDougal said, he passed several motorists from the opposite direction, a factory and a nuclear power plant.

Finally, he said, he gunned the engine of his tractor, allowing the trailer to shoot off into the woods.

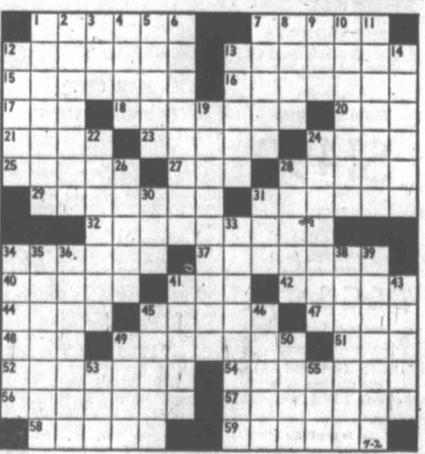

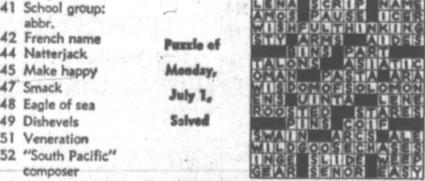

Collect 234 Guns

NEW YORK (AP) — A month-long gun amnesty period, which began a few days prior to the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, ended Monday with city police collecting 234 guns and one bazooka shell.

The annual June amnesty period, during which the public can turn in guns without being subject to prosecution, yielded only 31 weapons in 1967.
