

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

The delight of doing something different isn't exceeded one bit by the return to routine. Furthermore, when people rave to me about how glad they are to be "back home" — I'm just sorry they had a lousy vacation!

Mine was marvelous — maybe just because I needed it — and somehow, life looks lovelier. I don't need a guru to tell me it's great.

Two regrets: Timing was terrible, and I missed the cocktail buffet hosted by Col. and Mrs. William C. McGlothlin, as well as the tea dance held by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Jones in honor of their English guests, Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Jones.

Kinda followed Sam and Vera Blackburn's trail on my wanderings around New Mexico. In Capitan, had a delightful visit with my friend, Jack Mayfield, principal of the school there, and his daughter, Myrum, who had some interesting stories to tell of her experiences as a Job Corp counselor and teacher on the Indian reservation. In Buisson, met Walt Wiggins, public relations man at Buisson Downs, and chatted a minute with Bill Thomas, manager of the Jockey Club, who, the rest of the year, is associated with George Ranclach at Sunland Park Race Track. Dr. and Mrs. Bill Cashion were there, and she tells me that "Candy Man" came in to pay her $37.50 for a $2 ticket. They, along with Bill and Marie Currie, were visiting the Lloyd Wassons. I didn't see them, but she said the Zolite Boykins and Mrs. Travis Reed were supposed to be vacationing in the mountains.

Stopped by the Villa Inn, being operated by Emmett Kent Morgan, to say hello to his mama, Mrs. Faye Morgan, but

Film Shows Abuse Of Narcotics

Pete Stone, assistant identification officer of the Big Spring Police Department, showed a film and discussed use of narcotics at Thursday's meeting of the Big Spring Credit Club.

"Ninety-four per cent of narcotics users are hooked for life and four per cent are able to be cured," said Stone as he told reasons why people become dope addicts. They include personal kicks, experimentation, the need to be accepted, the feeling of getting away from reality through a "trip," and lack of parental love.

According to Stone, addicts trying to break the habit said "freedom is more important than a fix." He explained that many crimes are committed to support the habit, and that the user begins mildly, oftentimes innocently, and later finds himself a victim.

Mrs. R. L. Nall presided and introduced Mrs. Loy Ditto, a guest. Mrs. J. B. Apple received the capsule fund. Sixteen attended.

Mrs. J. Minchew Cited By TOPS

Mrs. Jack Minchew was cited for her fourth 10-pound weight loss and was crowned June queen and six-months queen at the Tuesday meeting of the TOPS Pounds Rebels at the YMCA. Mrs. Minchew has lost over 38 pounds, and Mrs. J. W. McNew was runner-up by losing 34 pounds.

Three-month contest captains were named. They are Mrs. Doyle Russell, Mrs. Tim Lee and Mrs. Minchew. Miss Ida Lou Smith's group won the recent contest and will be honored July 23.

Mrs. Henry Stewart presided. Eighteen attended and reported a total loss of over 28 pounds.

High Card Tallies

Duplicate bridge winners Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow and Mrs. E. L. Powell, first; Mrs. Glen Riley and Mrs. Joe Herbert, second; and Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, third. It was announced that Wednesday and Friday will be Master Point days.

missed her. Did meet her sister, Mrs. June Frewit. She and Faye are operating the motel's restaurant and have rented a cottage from the Stormy Edwardses for the summer.

In El Paso, ran into Rick and Celia Terry who were there a week with the children, Marty and Jana, and his mother, Mrs. J. L. Terry. Rick, who is now traveling the Texas Panhandle-Oklahoma district for Pinnacle Boat Company, is in Canyon today golfing with the assistant city manager, an ex-Big Springer, Johnny Janak.

Didn't see a soul I knew at Tinnie, but had the postmaster, Mr. Clements, make me a soda at the Silver Dollar Saloon and steak house. It's a delightful piece of the past that draws people from miles around. Under-stand artist John Meigs has been decorating it, and Peter Hurd, whose homestead is just down the road, is a favorite customer. I'd like to spend a hundred years on that long, back veranda with the all-white wicker furniture.

TIDBITS: Mr. and Mrs. George Newton of Modesto, Calif., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kaeffel on Langley Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards of Lubbock are spending today with her parents, the Toni Taronis. The Bob Kalgis and children are back from visiting her mother, Mrs. James Moore in Weatherford, Okla. Young Kevin is the only one at home with his parents today for Bobby in the mountains. Mr. and Mrs. George Knight, in Odessa, and Mark and Tori are visiting another grandmother, Mrs. S. S. McColgin in Reydon, Okla. Understand Mrs. Betty Rogers (owner of Gibson's) has returned from a world tour.

Mrs. Raymond Tollett and Iris Anne are all packed to vacation in Spain, Portugal and other places. Oh yes, in Austin, got to visit, briefly, with Mrs. Donald Van Meter and Laurel, who are staying at the Downtown until the lake house is completed. Mrs. Ida Caton, 88, is a guest here of her twin sister, Mrs. Liza Cockrell, mother of Dr. Frankie Williams, and I hope to get to talk with her before she leaves. In the slightly younger crowd, Pixy Becky Fryser is home from Austin with her family, and my own Becky will be arriving tonight. Incidentally, my young and handsome friend, Robert (Bobby) Bright just graduated with honors from the Law School at the University of Oklahoma where he was made a member of the Order of the Coif. Bobby used to golf here in the summers with Richard Atkins. Mrs. Chester Butcher and her pretty daughter, both berry-brown, stopped by and said "bye" before leaving Webb, but she promises to be back in no time. Another one who will be leaving Webb before too long is young Sgt. William Thomas King, and West Texas is probably beginning to look pretty good to him.

That's what's happening, but it's deadline. Call me?

Sharpen Dull Pins With Baby Soap

Troubled by dull baby diaper pins? Take a bar of pure baby soap — it's softer and doesn't crumble as readily as do some others — leave the wrapper on the bar and stick your pins into the soap.

Pins will go through the diaper easily and the wrapper will keep any little bits that might flake in one container. Another method is to run the tip of the pin through your hair before pinning the diaper.

Sex (?) In The Sixties

It's both "yay" and "nay" for sex in styles according to fashion experts viewing the New York couture group's fall collection. At left is the Cossack costume with black coat and boots, accented with beige T-neck sweater and fur hat.

The center statement is vinyl — pants and CPO shirt, over tattersail shirt and vinyl boots. At right is a convertible petticoat that straps in stages from maxi to mini.

'Unisex' New Fashion Word

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Fashion Editor NEW YORK (AP) — "What's in fashion? Femininity, if you are a man. Masculinity, if you are a woman," quipped Roman couturier Alberto Fabiani.

So is no sexuality at all in clothes — or unisex, as it has come to be known.

So are costumes from a vaudeville trunk, or great-grandmother's wedding dress, or flea market finds, or the rags off the backs of hippies.

Clothes have become a way to protest without carrying placards. They have become a way of involvement without getting involved.

At least this is how the most adventurous of a nine-designer panel articulated on the subject of fashion Saturday. The designer speak-in was staged by Montgomery Ward for members of the press attending the New York couture group's fall collection previews.

Rudi Gernreich deflated the trend to unisex as "a breaking down of conventional attitudes of sexual behavior" that began in England in the early '60s. "Young men and women are beginning to communicate as human beings without hampering of femininity and masculinity," commented the California

Thrives On Enthusiasm To Achieve Set Goals

By RHODA LEMONS
"I thrive on enthusiasm; it gives me my drive," said Mrs. J. B. Apple, 419 Westover. She is a homemaker and manager of the Retail Merchant's Association. Her husband is business manager of the same firm.

The Apples have one daughter, Mrs. Don Williams, 2804 Parkway, and two granddaughters, Candy and Kay.

The Apples began their business in Big Spring in 1950, and before that, she worked for various firms. They have resided in Big Spring since 1937.

Mrs. Apple has domestic help two days a week. The heavy cleaning is done then, which gives her time for more enjoyable things.

The Apples have a lot of company. They have guests for dinner at least two or three times a week, and often invite friends for bridge. Mrs. Apple entertains often at breakfasts for the Big Spring Credit Club — International, of which she is a member, or for other social obligations.

Her favorite appliance is the electric skillet, which she uses constantly. She makes a number of casserole meals with salad, dessert and a hot bread. Her granddaughters visit often, and they enjoy this type of meal with a parfait dessert.

The Apples have an attractive patio with white wrought iron furniture. It is here that they do a large part of their entertaining, with Apple serving as backyard cook. He does the barbecuing and frequently has enough left over for other meals. Mrs. Apple has two large refrigerators and a freezer.

Mrs. Apple shops for groceries without a budget, and admits that sometimes it "seems that a lot of expenditure goes for food." She keeps large supplies of food on hand and because she does not leave work until 5 p.m., prepares many meals in advance, especially if they are having guests.

The Apples have a large breakfast, and Mrs. Apple does not eat lunch. Their main meal is at night.

Mrs. Apple's home is comfortable and attractive. She is a music lover and plays the organ and piano. A number of evenings are spent with her granddaughters at the organ and Mrs. Apple at the piano. She finds this both relaxing and therapeutic.

Mrs. Apple has several gifts from Okinawa, including handmade place mats and an Oriental screen sent from a friend, and some unusual mugs made from rock.

Mrs. Apple is a member of the Order of Eastern Star and teaches three schools a year throughout Texas in her credit bureau work. Other work she does also calls for a great deal of traveling. Mrs. Apple believes that the combination of good organizational habits and enthusiasm are the prime ingredients for a successful career. She thinks that these two goals would serve the housewife as well as the business woman.

Mrs. Apple reads avidly, both periodicals and material relating to her work and other books.

She is a member of the 1955 Hyperion Club and a charter member of the Altrusa Club.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

By Mrs. J. B. Apple

TEXAS HOT COCOA CAKE

1 stick margarine
1/2 cup cooking oil
4 tbsps. cocoa
1 cup water
2 cups sugar
2 cups flour
1/4 cup buttermilk
1 tsp. soda
2 eggs (beaten)
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix margarine with liquid shortening, add cocoa and water, put in a sauce pan and bring to a boil.

Sift flour and sugar in a large mixing bowl; to this add the hot liquid and beat.

Add beaten eggs, then the buttermilk (combined with soda.) Add cinnamon and vanilla last.

Bake at 400 degrees for 35-40 minutes, using an 8 1/2 x 13-inch pan.

TEXAS HOT COCOA ICING

1 stick margarine
2 tbsps. cocoa
6 tbsps. milk

Bring ingredients to boil and add one box powdered sugar. Beat; add one teaspoon vanilla and nuts if desired. Pour immediately over warm cake.

NEVER FAIL CORN BREAD

1 cup corn meal
1/2 cup flour
1 tsp. salt
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup sweet milk
1/2 tsp. soda
1 tbsps. baking powder
1 egg
1/4 cup cooking oil

Beat egg slightly, add buttermilk, sweet milk, soda and baking powder. Then add the sifted flour, corn meal and salt. Last add the oil.

Grease baking dish generously and have the dish very hot. Pour in corn bread mixture and bake at 450 degrees for 30 minutes. (Use 8 1/2 by 13 inch baking dish.) Also delicious to add one cup of leftover ground ham.

CREOLE MEAT BALLS

2 lbs. ground chuck or round steak
2 eggs (beaten)
1 cup cracker crumbs
1 cup unsweetened apple sauce
Dash salt and pepper
2 cups tomato juice
1 small onion (chopped)
1 stick celery (chopped)
3 or 4 carrots

Mix meat, eggs, cracker crumbs, apple sauce, salt and pepper. Make into round balls. Dip in flour and brown slightly, using cooking oil. Add chopped onion.

Add to mixture, tomato juice, celery and carrots. Turn temperature to low and simmer for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. (If gets dry, add water).

This is excellent to freeze for later use.

CHERRY JUBILEE

1 cup black Bing cherry juice
1 tbsps. cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup black Bing cherries
1 tbsps. butter
2 tbsps. brandy

Bring juice to boil. Mix cornstarch, sugar and a little of the juice and add to the boiling mixture. Boil one minute. Add cherries. Remove from heat; add butter and brandy.

Serve hot over vanilla ice cream. If you wish to ignite it, pour good cognac over and light.

CHERRY PUDDING (Like Cake)

1 can cherry pie mix
1 large can crushed pineapple
1 box white cake mix
2 sticks margarine (melted)

Spread cherries over bottom of large oblong baking dish, 8 1/2 by 13 inches. Spread pineapple over cherries and sprinkle cake mix over entire mixture. Pour the melted margarine over this. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Sprinkle nuts over top if desired. Serve with scoop of ice cream.

5 CUP SALAD

1 cup drained mandarin oranges
1 cup drained pineapple tidbits
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1 cup flake coconut
1 cup sour cream

Mix well. This is better if refrigerated 4 to 6 hours before serving.

BUYING TIPS

Things You Should Know About Lighting When Buying Lamps

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD

What do you want your new lamp for — reading or other close work or for general illumination in the room?

Then there's that matter of style, for a beautiful lamp is one of the most decorative features of a room.

What kind of lamp do you need for your room? There's no rule of thumb as to materials, style, or even size, although today lamps seem to have reached their ultimate in size and height. Table lamps may be as high as four feet, and floor lamps range up to six feet — up to ceiling height if you take pole lamps into consideration.

The best way to get a lamp that meets your decorative needs is to study your room before you go shopping. Decide where the lamp is to go, how it is to be used, the kind and style you want... then go shopping for it. And take time about making your selection.

Aside from style and general beauty, there are many practical features to take into consideration. If the lamp is to be used for reading or sewing, probably you will want an adjustable switch. If you will be needing a lot of light, buy a two- or three-way lamp with high wattage bulbs. Sight authorities say that for casual reading a table lamp should have at least 100 watts. For prolonged reading or study and hand sewing, you should have 150 to 300 watts. Floor lamps should have at least 50 more watts than a table lamp.

LIGHT NEEDED

You want to be sure, too, that a lamp produces not only the amount of light needed but also light that is free from glare. You need to direct the illumination where it is wanted — on the reading page or the work that you are doing.

A lamp for reading or close work should be equipped with a white glass or plastic diffusing bowl or a disc beneath the light, or it should have a harp (frame for holding the shade) that is wide enough to accommodate a white indirect light bulb, which is mushroom shape.

To make reading or working easier on the eyes, the lamp should have a spread of light sufficient to encompass the page or work. This is a special point to check in this age of drum shades. The shade should be light, for colored shade absorb illumination. Don't be too concerned about whether the shade will soil — all of them will sooner or later. You may be able to find a shade that you can douse up and down in suds and clean them.

The switch should be easily accessible and also easy to operate. The button switch that you press is easier to operate than the kind you turn. This is an important feature if you expect to operate this lamp in a dark room.

Another important factor in

Get Annual Check

About every year have your eyes checked to make sure that no disease is present or developing.

good room lighting is to have other illumination in the room, so that there will not be sharp contrast between the area lighted by your reading lamp and the remainder of the room. Such contrast is hard on the eyes.

The much talked of high intensity lamp concentrates a bright, white light on a given area. This area is quite small. Although such a lamp can be used as the sole light in a room, again authorities say that there should be supplementary illumination in order to avoid contrast.

This lamp is quite small and has an adjustable arm that can be switched from one position to another. It usually is equipped with high and low switches.

Any lamp you buy should have the UL label, which is your assurance that it has met the standards of the Underwriters' Laboratories, a testing concern maintained under the sponsorship of the American Insurance Association.

Jeannine Brady Named 4-H Queen

Jeannine Brady was selected rodeo queen at the Tuesday meeting of the Coahoma 4-H Club at City Park. The Coahoma rodeo will be held Aug. 8-10, and the group will enter a float in the parade.

Those to work on the float are Gloria Webb, chairman; Jeannine Brady, Patsy Freeberg, Rhonda New, Sally Echols, Jayne Meacham and Lisa Taylor.

Phyllis Wynn presided, and Sally Echols led the Pledge of Allegiance. Gloria Webb led the 4-H pledge. Members were reminded to pick up rodeo tickets, by Saturday, at 212 NW 5th in Coahoma.

Steve Baker Is Guest Speaker

Steve Baker gave a talk on Founder's Day at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Charles McCarty, worthy matron, presided, and Mrs. J. C. Pickle presented a patriotic program. Refreshments were served to 51 attending.

Several Groups To Share In Concessions Income

Concessions will be sold before, after and during intermission of each "Starlite Special" during the Week in the Park July 7-14, according to Charles H. Hundley. City organizations will be in charge and were selected on a first-come, first-served basis. They will have soft drinks, candy and gum. Proceeds from the week will be split evenly between the clubs with the Chamber of Commerce sharing in the total profit. Week in the Park is sponsored by the cultural affairs committee of the chamber. Activities will be in charge Monday; Beta Sunday night; Drama Night, Monday; Variety Night, Tuesday; Country and Western Night, Thursday; and Teen Night, Friday. Nothing has been scheduled for Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Concessions will be sold at every event. The Junior Women's Forum, under the direction of Mrs. Maurice Rhodes, will be in charge of concessions the first Sunday night. The Four O'Clock Garden Club, Mrs. John Edgar, will be in charge Monday; Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. Garland Braun, Tuesday; PBX Club, Fern Smith, Thursday; Boy Scout Troop 14, Mrs. Dale Ditto, Friday, and NCO Wives Club, Mrs. Helen Mathews, the second Sunday Gospel Sing-Song.

The Big Spring Progressive Forum, under direction of Mrs. Hugo Campbell, will be first alternate in case some club cannot participate.

Horoscope Forecast TOMORROW - CARROLL RIGHTER

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be sure you get surroundings improved in a.m. Then you can get together with relatives, friends in a happy, sure way. A short trip with one you like can bring just the right results you want. Be a little more serious than usual.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning is best time to plan the movements of the day, then go ahead in a most decisive and pleasant way. Be honest with others, even servants. A little more activity than usual is good for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning is best time to show devotion to kin. Then out with complaints for the fun you have in mind. A day for real enjoyment, provided you are moderate in all things. Avoid those who have tantrums.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) Morning should be devoted to your good friends, but the remainder of the day and evening should be relegated to kin, family, friends, social matters later. Visit the beauty or barber shop. Make fine social headway.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can convince that part of yours to assist you with some project you are ready to have operating in a.m. and then your combined efforts bring fine results. Plan the steps wisely. They carry through, one, two, three.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take interest in that civic project in a.m., then join that social group you like. Be careful of credit matters, or you can get into deep debt. Make sure that some party doesn't get too boisterous.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Others give you some fine ideas for getting ahead. Tonight get in touch with big ideas. Take the time to make some out-of-town telephone calls. This could be either for business or personal purposes.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You may have to follow the wishes of others in a.m., but later you can get into interests that really please you. Keep busy of whatever it is you want to do. Don't neglect to show more your devotion in a.m.

McCarthy SPELLS OUT FARM POLICY

GOP Contenders Take A Break

By The Associated Press

The July 4th holiday saw the two contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination on the hustings, while their GOP counterparts were taking a break from the campaign.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in Philadelphia for ceremonies at Independence Hall, called for Senate ratification of the Human Rights Conventions of the United Nations as an example that "our commitment, as Americans, and as free men, must be to man's liberations."

RIGHTS PLEA

The three conventions calling for the guarantee of certain rights for all men have been bottled up in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for some time, Humphrey said, and now is the time to sign them.

In coming, Iowa, Humphrey's challenger for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy called for a better break for the farmer, and a build-up of surplus commodities to protect against crop failures and to provide food for the world's hungry.

Both Republican aspirants were taking the day off. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was in Hawaii for a brief family vacation after a swing through Western states, while Richard M. Nixon was at his New York home with no political activities.

Before Rockefeller changed from politician to vacationer, he told newsmen at Honolulu's airport he has not tried to get convention delegates committed to him because the people "want an open convention."

VEEP NIX

Rockefeller again said he would not accept a vice presidential spot and that he hasn't considered who he would want as his second man.

McCarthy's speech, billed as a major farm policy address, called for real parity for the agricultural industry and a reconciliation "between the farmer and the city dweller, between the farmer and the consumer, the farmer and the laborer."

"This is what farmers want and that is what they deserve," he said.

Parity must be "defined as farm prices sufficient to meet the cost of production plus a reasonable profit," McCarthy said in prepared remarks.

'REBIRTH'

In other political highlights: —Georgia delegates to the Democratic convention will go to Chicago officially uncommitted, but an Associated Press survey indicates the state's 49 votes probably will go to Humphrey under the unit rule.

—Clarence Townes, Negro assistant to Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss says a two-year project to recruit minority votes for the GOP has won "at least 30 per cent of the black vote across the nation."

The project, part of an effort Townes called a drive for the "rebirth" of the GOP, has included "the so-called militant elements of the minority groups," he said.

"They have been quite important in our drive to recruit black voters over to the Republican side," he stated.

—An appearance in Minneapolis, Minn., Wednesday night by George C. Wallace, a third party candidate for president.

Police used night sticks and chemical Mace to break up the disorders, which resulted in a dozen fist-fights.

FREE SPEECH

Wallace, who arrived after order was restored said about the protestors:

"These are the folks that always talk about free speech, but they don't want you to say anything."

—James W. Cook, president of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., now being struck by electrical workers, said installers must start work on the Chicago's Democratic National Convention hall by Monday if full communications facilities are to be ready by August.

In spite of the threat of disrupted or incomplete telephone lines, Democratic officials say the convention will remain in Chicago.

200 Commies Rounded Up

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian Army says it has rounded up nearly 200 Communists in large-scale operations in west and central Java, where the Communists are apparently trying to organize a new party network.

The communique Wednesday coincided with reports from other regions of intensified political and guerrilla activity by the Communists, who were outlawed after the 1965 coup failed.

The army said at least 200 Communists were arrested in the Pekalongan district, on the northern coast of West Java last week.

It said some of those arrested confessed they were attempting to revive the party in the region and were recruiting villagers into a "people's liberation army."

The army said another 42 Communists were captured in raids through the hills around Mt. Merapi, in central Java, a longtime Communist stronghold.

Earlier this week unconfirmed reports said Communist forces in east Java had seized control of a district and turned it into "an impregnable fortress." Troops are reported moving against them, but police officials said the army has so far been unable to penetrate the densely jungled district.

Showers Skip Around Texas

By The Associated Press

Most Texans were able to start celebrating July 4 in weather considerably less torrid than usual for this season.

Light rain fell most of the night around El Paso in far West Texas. There were scattered showers in the vicinity of Del Rio and San Antonio, and also a waning cool front which stretched in early morning from south of Laredo past Corpus Christi and across the Gulf of Mexico to near New Orleans.

Additional shower activity was expected tonight or Friday in most sections, particularly the Big Bend country of West Texas, down the Rio Grande Valley and over the coastal plains.

The rainfall measurements Wednesday included Del Rio 2.21 inches, Laredo 1.54, Alpine 1.18, Presidio .82 and Abilene .91.

Outside the moisture belt, skies were mostly clear from Northeast Texas eastward through the Panhandle and at least partly cloudy elsewhere.

Top temperatures Wednesday afternoon again held below 100 at all reporting stations, ranging from 95 degrees at Cotulla down to 72 at Alpine.

Readings near dawn today stood in the 60s to 70s.

TAX COMPUTER GOOFS COSTLY

There's a computer in the state comptroller's office that had better start worrying about being replaced by a man.

That computer is the one programmed to address the forms needed by Big Spring merchants for their first report on the city sales tax. The forms for city and state sales taxes are being mailed separately.

City merchants informed Larry Crow, city manager, that some of them weren't getting the forms for the city tax. When Crow called the state comptroller, he found out about the erring computer.

It seems that some merchants were listed in Big Springs and some were listed under Big Spring (no s on the end of Spring). The computer was programmed to pick out addresses in Big Springs—and that is just what the machine did.

The comptroller told Crow that the machine had been re-programmed to pick out those addresses in Big Springs and the forms should be mailed the first of next week.

French Trade Bans Mulled

Scheme To Split Stock Fees Eyed

GENEVA (AP) — A special meeting of GATT—the General Agreement of Tariffs and Trade—opened today to discuss the recent French trade restrictions, but the decision of President Charles de Gaulle's government to delay some of the measures appeared to have revived the threat of reprisals by his trade partners.

The council called the special session of some 50 nations after France announced import restrictions and export subsidies to help it get over the costs of recent crisis.

The United States hinted that it was ready to take a tough line. But French agreement to hold off any action until its Common Market partners make a detailed examination of the situation has avoided any immediate clash.

The GATT council is expected to insist that any French measures be temporary and may even set a time limit.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The securities industry has devised a complex scheme to split fees and still avoid violating the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, testimony before the Securities and Exchange Commission indicates.

KEY TARGET

Fee splitting is a prime target of the SEC in its investigation of the cost of buying and selling stocks. It wants any savings passed on to investors, not to other broker-dealers.

The commission recessed its hearing for the July 4th holiday Wednesday after three days of testimony but scheduled officials of two large New York brokerage firms, Bache & Co. and Reynolds & Co., as witnesses on Monday.

Industry witnesses, served with subpoenas, have cooperated with the SEC in its investigation thus far and answered all questions with one exception.

Avery Rockefeller Jr., president of Dominick & Dominick of

New York City, objected Wednesday to SEC attorneys placing a list of his firm's 12 best mutual fund customers in the hearing's record.

He contended the information was confidential. Hearing examiner Roger S. Foster overrules him.

LEGAL

Boud L. Jefferies, president of Jefferies & Co., a Los Angeles broker, testified that New York Stock Exchange rules limiting fee-splitting to members can be circumvented through unrelated business and other exchanges.

Jefferies said he can buy stock on the New York exchange for a customer who is not a New York member but is a member of the Pacific Coast Exchange.

This customer can then be named by Jefferies for a split in fees for an unrelated transaction on the Pacific Coast Exchange, he said. The scheme is legal under rules of the Pacific Coast exchange.

Howard Near State Pace

Howard County is matching the state pace for United States savings bonds through May, but District 4 as a whole has fallen sharply off the pace.

Figures announced by Larson Lloyd, district bond chairman, showed that Howard County sold $23,996 during May, making $238,942 for the first five months of the year. This is 43 per cent of the year's quota and puts the county slightly ahead of the state necessary to reach this.

Dawson County continues to lead the district in percentage with sales of $7,782 in May and $79,638 for the year, or 66 per cent of the quota. Martin County sales in May reached $2,087, making $12,071 for the year, or 40 per cent of the total.

Others were considerably off the pace. May sales, (cumulative totals in parenthesis) and percentage, follow:

Andrews $3,370 ($15,994) 20%;
Fisher $2,912 ($15,933) 25%;
Gaines $3,633 ($21,653) 24%;
Mitchell $5,095 ($28,915) 31%;
Noan $13,517 ($76,164) 21%;
Scurry $8,847 ($43,505) 26%;
total $11,179 ($615,320) 34. Area I sales amounted to $563,055 for May, $5,373,736 for the year; Texas $15,517 for May and $75,225,927 for the year.

STILL UNHAPPY Americans Worry About Violence

Editor's Note: What's on America's mind? America. That's the conclusion of the first nationwide soundings by members of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association who were asked to say what their readers are talking about.

This report was compiled by Tom Peppers, managing editor of the Charlotte Observer, and Tom Heintz, managing editor of the Boston Globe. Their first reports formed the basis for a series of stories earlier this year.

The Americans are turning in upon themselves.

They're worried about the guns they own, and they're not quite sure how to control them. They're worried about violence in the country—not so much just racial violence, but crime and generally violent behavior—and they're talking to each other about it in Boston, in Council Bluffs, in Amarillo, in Saginaw, in Moline, in Newark, all over.

It's not quite the same as it was in February, when managing editors over the United States last reported on "what the people are talking about" in our Editor-to-People Survey No. 2.

PEACE WOES

In February, our predicament in Vietnam seemed to be the main topic of conversation in little towns and big cities across the country. In February, we wondered mainly about our behavior toward the Vietnamese.

In July—now that there's talk of peace around a big table in Paris—we're talking about ourselves, and about our behavior toward each other. In July, the memory of Bobby Kennedy's death in a kitchen corridor is still sharp.

Newspapermen listening in on conversations on street corners and at club meetings and in ofices and factories hear not so many specific mentions of Bobby as they do of the need to put our own violence under tighter controls.

They're caught, it seems, in a constitutional dilemma: Should they shackle their own rights to own guns in order to control the irresponsible and violent ones? But guns are not all they're talking about in July.

They still speak of the war, if not as much as they did a few months ago. They speak, not very excitedly, of the presidential campaign. They talk of taxes—the taxes that seem to be going up and up, locally as well as nationally. They talk of civil rights, still, but now they seem to be talking more of local action programs to give the Negro more his due.

TEXANS TALK

They talk of the Poor People, and in some places they talk of busing school children to other neighborhoods, and in Texas they talk of maybe getting liquor by the drink.

"Eavesdrop" reports from more than 60 cities in the United States are full of the problems, the prices, the crime, the taxes, the mysteries of youth, the rebellions.

And the reports are largely cheerful.

The Americans are not talking about any great achievements in early July, or about any big victories, or about any major progress, or about rainbows for they thought even the May-June weather was pretty lousy.

We reported in February that

Police Check Minor Wrecks

Police are investigating five minor accidents which occurred Wednesday.

At White Auto Store parking lot, the cars of Abraham Espinoza, 1009 N. Runnels, and Daniel Flores, 710 NW 10th, collided; at North Fifth and North Gregg, the cars of Alvin Booker Cole Jr., Lubbock, and Billy F. Billingsley, 910 W. 3rd, ran together; at IS 20 and North Service Road, Jack H. Fulwider, Wichita Falls, was involved in a one car accident.

At Third and Gregg, William Larry Rhodes, 607 Abrahams, and David Mendez, Coahoma, were involved in an accident; at Fourth and State, Elnora Reed Dossett, 402 NW 3rd, and Cheryl Griman Lepard, Box 743, were involved in a mishap.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
South correctly diagnosed that an end play was required to assure the success of his slam venture; however, he projected his campaign in the wrong direction and his efforts went for naught.

A contract of six hearts was reached with dispatch and West opened fire with the queen of clubs. South was in with the ace, drew trumps in two rounds and cashed the two of diamonds, on which West discarded a club.

When the declarer realized that he was confronted with a diamond loser, it appeared to him that the success of his contract hinged on picking up the queen of spades. He proceeded to ruff out the dummy's remaining club, cash the king and queen of diamonds and then throw East in with the fourth round of that suit.

In order to avoid presenting South with a ruff and discard, East exited with the eight of spades. This was covered in turn by the nine, West's ten and the trick was taken by North's ace. On the return, South finessed the jack in his hand; West, however, produced the queen of spades for the setting trick.

Declarer's technique was faulty. The contract did in fact hinge on an endplay—South, however, had his attention centered on the wrong suit. If he strips out the spades—rather than the diamonds—he cannot fail.

After the ace of diamonds reveals the bad news in that suit, it is suggested that declarer ruff out the eight of clubs and then play A-K-J of spades. He is now in position to claim the rest of the tricks.

If West wins the third spade, he must, on the return, present declarer with a ruff and discard—since West is known to have nothing left but spades and clubs.

If East has the queen of spades, he will be confronted with an equally unpleasant prospect. Since the lead of either black suit is fatal, he must return a diamond. If he comes back with the jack of diamonds, however, South can win the trick with dummy's queen and, on the return, he finesses successfully against East's ten to clinch the contract.

Burleson Favors Local Laws For Gun Controls

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Omar Burleson concludes that states should have time and opportunity to come up with uniform firearm legislation rather than to attempt this by federal statute.

"The point has been made that we register and license dogs and automobiles," he observed. "True, but by the states, counties and municipal governments."

In his weekly news letter, the congressman pointed out that "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed" and that this principal has been upheld in various decisions.

In the case of U.S. vs. Miller

(139), however, the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of Miller for possession of an unregistered sawed-off shotgun as a violation of a federal interstate gun statute passed in 1934.

The property seizure act of 1941 made it clear that nothing in the bill authorized the President to requisition or require the registration of firearms possessed by individuals for personal protection, sport, etc. This was reiterated in 1963 in PL 88-186.

Rep. Burleson pointed out that Vice President Hubert Humphrey once declared that it "is the right of citizens to keep and bear arms (as) one more guarantee against arbitrary government, one more safeguard against tyranny..."

Not only is the right guaranteed by the federal constitution, he observed, but also by 35 state constitutions.

"At present time a majority of the states are seeking through agreements and compacts, uniform firearm legislation," he said. "It would seem they should have time and opportunity to work their will."

Holiday Litter 'Explosion' Due
NEW YORK (AP) — Keep America Beautiful, Inc., estimated today that a holiday litter "explosion" during the Fourth of July weekend would cause enough fallout—13½ million cubic feet of litter on highways and other public areas of the nation—to fill a firecracker taller than the Empire State Building.
