A PAT ON THE BACK would seem to be in order for the Friona High School Speech Department.

Friona High School was host last weekend for their annual speech tournament, which drew some 23 schools, large and small, from all parts of the region.

The size, number, and distance travelled by these visiting speech departments must say something about the reputation that the Friona tournament has achieved.

We have personally helped judge the debate portion of the tournament for a number of years, and can attest to the fact that it draws a number of talented youngsters. They seem to be getting better every year.

ANY TIME A PROBLEM arises in the good old USA, you can bet your bottom dollar that Yankee ingenuity will come to the rescue.

A firm in Oklahoma has just begun commercial production of pipeline quality methane gas using cattle manure.

As soon as the words "energy crisis" were added to the nation's vocabulary, folks began to try to figure out alternate ways to heat our homes and fuel our cars.

Solar energy has become the big thing in some parts of the country. We had thought that the oldfashioned wind chargers of our childhood days might make a comeback....especially since we have a lot of wind in this area of the country. Some studies are being conducted in this direction.

Several months ago my wife brought up the subject of cattle manure at the dinner table. I don't know why she couldn't have picked a more delicate time to discuss it.

But she pointed out that pioneers in the Panhandle of Texas weren't with a lot of wood to burn and so they used cow chips for their fires. Before the settlers arrived the Indians had used buffalo chips for fires. Parmer County is certainly blessed with an abundance of cow-do. Why not put it to good use? Now, here, just a few months after our family discussion, we read where the Oklahoma-based company, appropriately known as CRAP (Calorific Recovery Anaerobic Process, Inc.) has come into being. I don't know just who the fellow was who first said "Necessity is the mother of invention" but he could have added a line that said "...and when the need arises, Americans will invent it."

FIRST BABY....The first baby to be born at Parmer County Community Hospital for 1978 was Margie Gonzales. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Gonzales of 810 Ashland. Grandparents include Maria Rios of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. Juan Gonzales. She was the second child for the couple.

UF Finished; Agency Payoff Is Detailed

Friona's United Fund recently closd its books on the 1977 drive, which was very successful, according to Gale Warren, chairman.

Total contributions amounted to $11,150.43, 104 per cent of the goal of $10,727.

Undesignated gifts amounted to $10,609.43, with designated gifts bringing in an additional $541.00. Following is a rundown of the 12 $1,000, $989, $154, $1143; Friona Youth Center: $1,200, $1186.80, $52, $1238.80.

The business district contributed 61 per cent of the fund goal. Pace-setters exceeding their goals were Ron Smiley-Troy Young, who raised 200 per cent of their goal, Andy Hurst-Keith Black, who raised 107 per cent, and Hollis Horton-Rick Jennings, who raised 105 per cent.

"I think this shows that even though agriculture is in a depressed state the residents came through for a worthy cause, giving hope for a bright future. I also thank my co-chairman, Dave Hutson, for his hard work, and the Friona Star for timely publicity, without which, the drive could not have succeeded," Warren said.

Decribes Robbery

Piggly Wiggly Mgr.

Two men are in custody in the county jail in Farwell, charged with robbery and assault with a deadly weapon, following the armed robbery and stabbing last Friday night of Piggly Wiggly manager Joe Tongate, who was hospitalized following the incident.

In custody at Farwell are Rodolfo Carella, 24, and Fred Constancio, 48, who face similar charges. In addition, Constancio faces violation of probation, since he was serving a six-year probated sentence in connection with a theft conviction in 1976.

Tongate was attacked by a young Mexican male shortly after he closed the Piggly Wiggly Super Market last Friday night in his vehicle on the parking lot. The assailant was hiding in the back of Tongate's Chevrolet Blazer waiting for him to close.

"Three of us left the store when we closed, but the two boys had rides waiting for them. My Blazer was parked up next to the building. When I got inside, I feit like there was someone else in the vehicle. I smelled a strange odor," Tongate said.

Tongate started the engine and put the car in reverse, and about that time the man hit him from behind with a club.

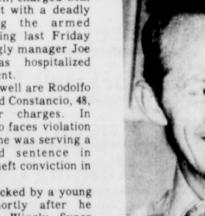

Somehow, Tongate managed to get hold of the club, and pulled the man over the seat, "On top of me. We struggled for some time, and I must have hurt him. He said 'I give up. Turn me loose and I'll go,' " Tongate related.

"Get out the door, then and I'll turn you loose," Tongate told his assailant, who then told Tongate to close his eyes. "I told him they were closed."

"When I released him, he stuck a knife in my ribs and said 'Now I'm going to kill you,' "Tongate related.

Tongate still had the club, and he struck his assailant five or six times. Managing to use his left hand, he opened the door on the driver's side and rolled out on the parking lot, and when he did the man fell out on top of him.

All of the time the two were struggling in the vehicle, Tongate had his foot on the brake, since the vehicle was running and was in gear. He said he couldn't free a hand to kill the engine.

The vehicle rolled backwards in a semi-circle until it struck a portion of the Piggly Wiggly building and stopped.

Meanwhile, Tongate's assailant resumed his attack, using the knife to stab him several more times. Tongate collapsed, and the assailant ran, apparently thinking him to be dead.

The mystery man retrieved the store's money sack from Tongate's vehicle, and ran around to the back of the store, where he presumably had a friend waiting with a car.

Tongate then made it to his vehicle. He started for the hospital, in the meantime trying to raise someone on his citizen's band radio, without any luck.

He made it to Parmer County Community Hospital by about 9:15, where he was treated for some ten stab wounds and was hospitalized.

Tongate said he usually has a pistol which he carries with him when leaving with the sack to be deposited in Friona State Bank's night depository, but on that particular day he had left the gun at home.

"Also, my vehicle is usually parked away from the building in a way that I can see into the back portion before I get inside," he said.

The sheriff's office was notified and began checking clues. Tongate estimated that the bag contained around $12,000 in cash and $8,000 in checks.

Tongate was able to describe his assailant somewhat, and from "mug shots" supplied by the sheriff's department, one member of the department was virtually certain of the man's identity.

The sheriff's department notified Roswell authorities and put out an APB for the arrest of Carella. Late Saturday, Carella was arrested in Loving, N.M., aboard a passenger bus. He was said to be enroute to Lampassas, Texas.

At the time of his arrest, Carella had around $6400 in cash on his person. He was jailed in Roswell Saturday night, and was returned to Parmer County on Tuesday, after waiving extradition.

Carella has worked around Friona at various farm jobs. His parents live in Roswell, authorities said.

On Sunday afternoon, Constancio was arrested at his home north of Friona. Both he and Carella have been in Parmer County Jail this week. Bond was set for each one at $25,000, but as of Thursday, neither had posted bond.

Carella and Constancio will be bound over for grand jury action. The jury is scheduled to meet on Monday, and the robbery and assault case will be on the docket.

Tongate was released from the local hospital Wednesday morning. He has been convalescing at home since that time. A gash over his left eye required six stitches to close. Tongate thinks it was caused by the initial blow with the club, which resembled an axe-handle.

He also had a bad stab wound in his right shoulder, but said his heavy corduroy coat helped prevent more serious cuts. In addition to the cuts, his assailant also bit Tongate's right index finger during the fight.

Farm Strikers Stop Santa Fe

Leaders in American Agriculture's farm strike effort called attention to their strike goals in an unusual manner on Wednesday of this week, by stopping a number of Santa Fe freight trains to the west of Friona.

The first train was stopped early Wednesday morning, and was held up until a Santa Fe supervisor arrived from Clovis,

The farm strike leaders offered coffee and doughnuts to the train men, who were apprehensive especially during the stoppage of the first train. "A potentially dangerous situation turned into a pleasant encounter. Cool heads prevalled on both sides. The train men were sympathetic to the farmers' problems," said J.C. Beck, local Santa Fe spokesman.

PAGE 2, THE FRICNA STAR, SUNDAY, JANUARY 15, 1977

Dear Bill.

As you and most other people know, I am leaving the Star staff this week and am going back to college at Texas Tech in order to get my degree in advertising. First of all I'd like to thank you for giving me this opportunity to gain usable experience in not only the newspaper and advertising businesses, but also good experience in life.

In the short time I've been with the Star, I've tried to be as objective as possible in the articles I've written. However, we both know that sometimes my objectivity overlapped into editorialism and the result was not the best journalism possible.

Now that I am no longer the "kid" reporter, I would like to put my feelings about one particular issue into ink. That issue is the present dire predicament of the average farmer of this community.

Many people who may have lived on the Plains all their lives don't really understand the farmer's present problem. Not all farmers drive new Cadillacs and new pickups. Today the farm is a commercial business so most farmers don't raise all the foods they eat.

Farmers are no longer self sufficient and they depend on local merchants for their needs. Farmers eat all the junk foods and out-of-the-can instant food just like everyone else. The result is that a farmer is not JUST a farmer anymore. He is a consumer also and is subject to the same increases to which any consumer is subjected.

Farmers don't live higher than most businessmen. It's true that farmers have more money invested (most of it borrowed from local lending institutions and later put back into Friona's economy) in farm equipment than most people can imagine. The farmer makes enough money to pay off his loan, pay his natural gas bill ($800.00 per month is not unusual), pay his parts bill for maintenance of his machinery, pay the fertilizer bill, etc and the money left over usually isn't enough to finance his operation for another year

So the farmer goes back and borrows money again. His good credit allows him to borrow enough money to keep up with inflation and live decently. He goes deeper in debt. I feel that if a person can make more money than I can at farming, business, or digging ditches, then let him make it and more power to him! I hope I never got so envious that I talk someone down because he makes more money than I.

This year, farmers who have paid back their loans for 30 years cannot do so because of a governmental mistake. The USDA told farmers to plant fence to fence, thus creating a surplus. Now the government refuses to help correct that mistake. People say that they would hate to see the government get their hands into agriculture because they would ruin it, but they don't realize that the government has been in agriculture years before they were born. The present farm bill is a sure disaster for the American farmer. "Farmers have too much money. It's about time they came down and lived like the rest of us!" BUNK!

American "consumers" want a cheap food policy. How much cheaper does the public want food to be? This past year Americans paid more for their automobiles than they did on food! Other developed Western countries pay 25-30 per cent or more of their income on food. The trouble is that most Americans have never been really hungry. It's coming though. When corporate farms are prevalent, then Americans will PAY for their food. Just look what the corporations did to the oil industry.

I feel that merchants, businessmen, housewives, and FARMERS should actively SUPPORT, not sympathize with, the farm strike. Some local merchants moaned and groaned about closing for one day to "sympathize" with the strike. If they don't quit sympathizing and start actively supporting the strike they may have to close shop forever because the town will die. Let's face it. Friona thrives on farmers.

Are you willing to pay just $5.00 per year per person in your family in order that Friona and your business will remain healthy and strong? At the same time, your contribution will help boost the sagging coal and steel industries and will help raise the value of the American dollar in foreign money markets. If you are willing to do this, then you support 100 per cent parity for farm products. Five dollars is a very small price to pay for the future of you, your children, and America, don't you think?

Well, I'll get off the soap box now I'd like to thank Laura Nell, Carol, Stanley, Naomi, Vickie and the Harts for all the help they have given me. You are a great bunch of people to work with. God bless you and good bye.

Squaws Split Pair In Week's Action

The Friona Squaws split a pair of games during the last week, winning the game against Floydada last Friday night, 62-50 and losing the game Tuesday night to powerful Canyon, 46-67

In the Friday night game with Floydada on the home court, the visitors got the first points on the board and stayed ahead until the last third of the quarter when the Squaws pulled ahead on the shooting of Rhonda Parsons and Varla Welch.

In the second quarter the Squaws had improved ball handling and were able to get the ball down court. The Friona guards did a good job of ball stealing. In spite of this Floydada substituted liberally, trying to find a hitting combination which it did, as Floydada outscored Friona two to one to take a halftime lead, 31-29.

During the third quarter Varla Welch hit a hot streak to pull the game out for the Squaws. They hit for 13 points while holding Floydada to only four.

The final quarter started off with fouls on both sides, which continued for the whole period. In between all the fouls Miss Welch and Miss Parsons continued to find the basket. An outside basket in the final second of the game by Cindy Cleveland made an exciting climax to the game.

Friona 19 29 42 62 Floydada 11 31 35 50 Forwards: Varla Welch 13-6-32; Rhonda Parson 10-2-22; Cindy Cleveland 3-2-8; Dana Miller, Linda Nelson

The Friona Squaws gave the home crowd a good game against Canyon Tuesday night, but came out on the losing end of the score 46-67.

The first quarter of the game had good defense by both sides, which in turn caused turnovers of the ball. Canyon hit the basket the first half of the period while Friona hit the basket the second half to lead at the end 13-12.

In the second quarter Canyon came out hitting the basket and it was midway in the period before the Squaws could find the range. Canyon held only a six-point lead at the half, 29-23.

The second half of the game Canyon continued to hit the basket. They also tightened their defense making it hard for the Squaws to pass the ball down court. The Squaws continued to play hard. Four Squaws scored in double figures, with Rhonda Parsons leading with 16.

Chiefs Launch 3-AA Schedule At Home

District play begins for boys teams in District 3-AA this week. Friona was hosting Muleshoe Friday in their opening game.

District 3-AA teams, especially the boys' division, have been making it tough on their non-conference opponents. After all of this outside activity, the boys kick off district play on Friday, and it may be one of the most balanced races the district has seen for the past decade.

For virtually the last ten years, Dimmitt and Morton have hogged the championship in the boys division, with only Friona's championship in 1974 breaking the monotony of the Indians-Bobcats domination.

Every team in the boys division has a winning record in nonconference games. Dimmitt's 18-4 mark is the best, the 'Cats having won 81.8 per cent of their games. Friona's percentage, at 17-4, is 80.9.

Muleshoe and Littlefield both have 14-6 records. Morton's 9-8 record is a little deceiving, since the Indians have played a killer of a non-conference schedule, including some of the top teams in this area. Dimmitt likewise has tackled some tough opponents. The 'Cats have downed Lubbock Estacado, which has lost only two games all season, and they did it in Lubbock. Dimmitt, Morton and Friona are ranked 1-2-3 in class AA in the area by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal this week. Dimmitt and Morton meet at Morton on Tuesday, so an early indication of who will lead district should emerge.

After hosting Muleshoe in their district opener Friday (January 13), the Chiefs host Littlefield on Tuesday, and go to Olton on January 20.Morton will be here on Tuesday, January 24, and Dimmitt visits on Friday, January 27.

Friona definitely has the home court advantage for the first half, with four of their five games at home. The second half, will naturally be tough on the Chiefs, who are 9-1 in home games, and 8-3 on the road.

+ + + +The girls division, which does not begin district play until Friday, January 20, looks like a similar tossup. Four teams have at least ten wins, and a fifth, Morton, stands at 9-11.

Friona's Squaws, although sporting just a 10-12 record, have been playing good basketball lately, and look to be one of the toughest teams in district on the eve of district play. The Squaws visit Olton January 20 for their district opener.

The Olton girls are 12-7, but may not have played as tough as schedule as Friona.

The second half was virtually the same, even though the bench saw a lot of action. Friona outscored their guests, 28-16 in the third quarter,

Kothmann Tabbed 1st Team All-State

Koty Kothmann, senior member of the Friona Chieftain football team, was named first team class AA all state team selected by the Texas Sports Writers Association announced this past week.

Kothmann was one of three Panhandle area players named to the team. He was selected to the first team offense as a guard.

A 6-3, 220-pound senior, Kothmann also played tackle on defense. His coach, Lonnie Phillips, calls Kothmann "The best offensive guard I've seen in high school football.' Kothmann played strong-side guard on offense, and the Chieftains averaged around 400 yards rushing during district play.

"He's the best player I've coached in 18 years," Phillips added.

The last Chieftain to gain all-state football honors was Gene Strickland, who made the first team as an end following the 1973 season.

Dana Miller scored 43 points in the tournament to pace all scorers. Vickie Smiley scored 33. Coach Gary Jones credited M'Lynda London and Kim Frye with excellent defensive play

"The entire team played very well and had few turnovers," Jones said. The three wins brought Friona's season record to 15-1.

Friona High School's Chieftains tuned up for District 3-AA play by winning their 16th and 17th non-conference games during the past week.

The Chiefs walloped hapless Floydada last Friday, 71-43, and then on Tuesday disposed of class AAA Canyon, 55-47.

The win over Canyon avenged one of Friona's four losses, and the Chiefs were in command virtually all of the way.

After a slow-moving first quarter in which the teams were feeling each other out, Jeff Whiteside sparked the team's scoring in the second quarter, in which Friona outscored the visitors, 18-10 and took a 28-17 halftime lead.

By June Floyd

During the past several months we've heard and read so much about "focus on women's rights," and, I am personally against the ERA amendment as it is written. I'm beginning to wonder if we're not putting too much emphasis on "women's rights?" Maybe we are putting the focus in the wrong place.

Perhaps we should "focus" on families rather than women. Recently I ran across a very well written article entitled "Focus on Families.

Judge Joseph Sabath, an outstanding figure in the Court of Domestic Relations, has had a long and varied experience with the affairs of broken homes and wrecked marriages and has presided for twenty years over what he calls "the nightmare world of the divorce courts."

From his varied experiences he has composed what he calls, "Rules of a successful marriage." It goes like this:

"Ninety thousand people, who have come to the parting of the ways through bitter recriminations have stood before me to testify of broken homes, sordid betrayals, and the unbelievable rancor which causes separations.

'Out of my fifty years of married life and my twenty years as a divorce jurist, I have framed a decalogue for those who are married or are contemplating it, which I think would prevent at least ninety per cent of the marital smashups. "Here to me, are the rules of a successful marriage: Bear and forbear.

Work together, play together, and grow up together. 3. Avoid the little quarrels, and the big ones will take care of themselves.

4. Compromise (give and take). It is the anti-toxin of divorce.

5. Practice sympathy, good humor and mutual understanding. 6. Don't grouch before breakfast or after it. 7. Respect your "in-laws," but don't criticize them or take criticism from them 8. Establish your own home, even in a one room flat. 9. Fight for each other, but not with each other.

10. Build your home on religious faith, with love and forgiveness as the watchword."

The two families were guests in the home of Vince and Audrey Rowell and son, Jason.

While the Frionans were there, Delton and Betty Lewellen flew out for a visit, too. Mrs. Rowell and Mrs. Hamilton are both daughters of the Kelleys.

Purchase" and "Markdown." Either might be a good bargain, but the Special Purchase is usually merchandise bought from the manufacturer at a low price for a special role. A markdown is a lowered price on merchandise that has been in stock in the store through the season. Markdowns appear in storewide clearances.

Check clothing markdowns carefully for flaws, missing buttons, belts, or stains -- such as lipstick or make-up. (Make-up can often be removed by washing or drycleaning.)

vailable at Friona Public Library. Here's the latest spellbinding thriller from Alistair Maclean-about an enormous, sophisticated, mobile-oil rig called the Seawitch, anchored off the American coast in the Gulf.

It's owned by a billionaire named who's out to beat the big companies at their own game. Technologically very advanced, the Seawitch can supply him with enough cheap oil to undercut prices on the world market and there's nothing his rivals can do about it. At least, nothing he can foresee.

Day's End

While growing up one of my favorite times of the day was evening. That's the time when the whole family was usually together. It would be after dark when Dad got home from the fields and all of our chores would be done. We'd all get to the house about the time Mother would be setting the supper table. She'd yell, "Come and get it before I throw it out!" She had heard that expression somewhere and she would laugh everytime she used it. There was no need to call us twice, I can tell you, because appetites were good on the farm.

After supper dishes were done we would all sit around in the living room. Dad would read his paper or the Farmers Stockman and Mom would busy herself with mending and such.

Finally, Dad would say, "Wonder who's goin' to help me get these old boots off." I don't know now why it was so much fun to try to pull off his boots but it was something we looked forward to each evening. We would jump up and start tugging. I would straddle his leg and push while my brother pulled. Dad would laugh and say, "You boys 'er just not strong enough, maybe your sister better do it." That would make us tug harder than ever, then all of a sudden, the boot would shoot off, causing us to tumble to the floor laughing. Dad wasn't one to hang his clothes up, a trait I seem to have inherited. Mom tried for years to get him to put his boots and hat away in the closet at night but he never would. Said he couldn't see the point of that since he'd just be getting them out again the next morning. 'But, what if company comes unexpectedly late at night?" Well, if company comes I'll just put my boots on, sure don't aim to be walking around barefoot with company here." So the boots would stay by his favorite chair till the next dav Day's end was a time when Day's end was a time when we talked. We shared what we did that day and planned on what we would do tomorrow. Before the lamps were blown out a Bible story was always read and memory verses recited. Come to think of it, I remember very few unhappy evenings I spent as a child and for that I will always be grateful to my parents.
