

BOMB Death Comes In Package To Teacher

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Daniel J. Ronek, a teacher who would have been 24 today, received a six-inch-long, cylindrical package in the mail Monday. The package exploded in his hands, killing him.

The mailman who delivered the package described it as being two inches in diameter with a metal screw cap at one end.

It was enclosed in heavy, dark tan cardboard and weighed eight ounces to one pound, according to the mailman, Herbert Harding.

The package had been forwarded from Columbus, Harding said, and the Columbus address on the package had been scratched out.

Neither Ronek's mother, Mrs. Susan Ronek, nor his uncle, Steve Breznen, were at home when the blast occurred.

Postal authorities joined police in the investigation.

It was the second such death in Lorain County this year. A bomb package received by bus killed 42-year-old Samuel Hammons Jr. at his home in Avon Feb. 24.

School Funds Missing

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—An audit has revealed that $16,000 is missing from funds of the Port Isabel School District, Asst. Dist. Atty. Selden Snedecker said Monday.

The audit, according to Snedecker, was ordered by School Superintendent Barry L. Bridges shortly after he assumed his new position.

Carl Smith, the school district's business manager for the past three years, resigned yesterday, according to Snedecker and school board officials.

Sterling Residents Killed

Three Sterling City residents were killed and a San Angelo man injured critically in a pickup-car collision 6.4 miles north of San Angelo on US 87 at 6:55 p.m. Monday. This mishap occurred during a heavy rainstorm.

The dead are Thomas Eugene Carr, 71, and Mrs. Thomas Carr, 68, and Luther B. Hallmark, 74, all of Sterling City. Carr and Hallmark were pronounced dead at the scene and Mrs. Carr was dead on arrival at a hospital in San Angelo.

In critical condition with internal injuries and a broken neck was Robert B. Kennedy Jr., 29, San Angelo. The Carr automobile was northbound and Kennedy, in the pickup, was going south. Impact of the crash sheared the pickup top.

Services are pending at the Lowe Funeral Home in Sterling City.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr will be buried in Bangs following their funeral in Sterling City. No other arrangements have been settled.

Suez Gun Duel

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government reported today that Israeli artillery and tank fire killed 31 civilians and wounded 58 during Monday's gun duel across the Suez Canal.

A military communique said several houses in the heavily populated district of Elarbeen, in the city of Suez were demolished when the Israelis laid down three separate barrages lasting more than two hours. An Egyptian soldier also was reported wounded.

Israel said the battle started when the Egyptians raked Israeli positions north of Port Taufiq with artillery and small arms fire. The fighting spread along a six-mile front, the Israeli army reported, until a ceasefire was arranged.

Israel also reported Jordanian gunners fired today on an Israeli patrol that was digging up two antivehicle mines apparently laid by Arab saboteurs near the Jordan River.

The army said the Israelis fired back and there were no casualties.

The clash along the canal was first since June 23 and came as Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was in Moscow conferring with top Soviet officials.

Displomatic sources in London said the Soviets had advised the British privately they would like to see the big powers force Israel and her neighbors to begin some form of phased peace.

Johnson To Meet Thieu In Honolulu

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The announcement President Johnson has agreed to meet with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu this month has increased speculation Johnson plans a busy season of globetrotting.

The President had returned from Central America—jetting to all five republics there in seven hours Monday—only hours before Thieu's office in Saigon announced the meeting planned in Honolulu about July 20.

SPECULATION

There already had been strong speculation that Johnson, who made a 4½-day around-the-world tour last December, might range all over the map during the coming weeks.

There was talk of possible Johnson trips to Africa, Asia, South America and Europe—perhaps even to Moscow—before his term ends.

Wherever he goes, Johnson would be hard pressed to top Monday's record of five countries between breakfast and mid-afternoon. Starting out in El Salvador, he traveled 1,050 miles to Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala.

When he reached Guatemala City, last stop before returning to his Texas ranch for a brief stay, the chief executive was exactly 95 miles away from his starting point, the city of San Salvador.

Johnson was the first U.S. president to visit all five nations of Central America. In effect, he operated a homewardbound ferrying service for the presidents of the other countries who had joined him at the weekend Latin summit in San Salvador.

Each of Monday's stops followed a pattern: Johnson never left the airports, stayed in each country about an hour, exchanged formal speeches with the host presidents and mingled with leading citizens at informal receptions.

Warm greetings everywhere also were part of the pattern. Few sour- notes were struck, people cheered lustily and rushed to touch him. Many talked about amity and friendship and waved American flags.

At Guatemala City, however, the greeting was the least spontaneous because those on hand were present only by invitation. The Guatemalan government is beset from left and right.

GUNS

So, as Johnson roamed through a champagne reception in the striking new airport terminal, combat troops carrying submachine guns mingled with the guests.

The President's purpose in going to Central America was to dramatize progress by the region's seven-year-old common market and point to the unfinished tasks ahead.

Uribe Case Going Before Grand Jury

George Uribe, 25, alleged to have fired the rifle shot which took the life of Paula Sanchez De Tomlinson, will be taken before the Howard County Grand Jury today or tomorrow. His case has been added to the list of matters already announced for consideration by the jurors.

Uribe has been held in jail since soon after the shooting of the woman Sunday night. She died Monday evening in a local hospital of a gunshot wound in the head.

BOND

Bond has been set at $10,000 for Uribe and he is currently charged with assault with intent to murder. Wayne Burns, district attorney, said he might file a murder with malice charge, but that in view of plans to take the defendant before the grand jury, it may not be necessary. The grand jury, should it indict the defendant, will designate the gravity of the offense.

The grand jury was selected and put to work this morning. Judge Ralph Caton named W. P. Edwards Jr. to serve as foreman. Dist. Attorney Burns and his staff had lined up a parade of witnesses to be taken before the body. Burns said that in addition to the cases already announced he has added the Uribe matter and also a charge against Carroll Wayne Follis of forgery-passing paper.

JURORS

Other grand jurors, who are to serve with Edwards, are Chester Cluck, W. C. Fryar, J. B. Harrison, Jimmy Jolly, Richard Atkins Jr., R. G. Dunnam, Clarence Coldiron, Paul D. Jenkins, Ray Boren, Ynez Yanez Jr., Walter Nichols, Mrs. W. Neil Norred.

Isolated Shower

A sudden shower, which appears to have been concentrated largely on the downtown and southern part of town, swept into Big Spring at mid-afternoon as much as .30 inch, but the U.S. Experiment Station, on the north edge of town, held only .04 inch.

Heavy clouds hovered over town in late afternoon and promised rough weather. The threat passed without development as much as a pea soup fog, which hung on until midmorning.

Guardsmen Move Into Ohio Prison

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — Ohio National Guardsmen clamped tight security over London Correctional Institution today and began weeding out rowdy inmates who had set small nuisance fires in four of the prison's seven dormitories.

The institution is a prison farm facility in Madison County about 20 miles west of Columbus.

GUARDSMEN

Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered a company of 250 National Guardsmen into the institution Tuesday morning to reinforce regular guards and state highway patrolmen. Inmates of the dormitories caused guards to be withdrawn earlier when they threw small objects, broke windows and set fires in mattresses.

There are about 680 inmates in the affected dormitories. The institution houses about 1,300 inmates.

Shortly after the National Guardsmen arrived the inmates of the four dormitories were herded into the prison yard and searched. Buses awaited outside the gates to take between 25 and 100 of the men authorities described as "troublemakers" to the maximum security of Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus.

At 9 a.m. authorities reported "all is quiet" at the institution, adding there had been no further disturbances since about 1 a.m.

Ohio Penitentiary where the rowdy inmates will be moved was itself hit by rioting and serious fires June 24. Near-normalcy now has returned to that institution.

STRIKE

The unrest began Monday with a prisoner sit-down strike and a fire in a refrigeration building. Supt. E. B. Haskins described Monday's difficulties as "nothing of serious consequence."

HAIL, TWISTER IN PANHANDLE

Storms Wash Some Sections

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms increased over Southeast Texas Tuesday after pre-dawn rains of up to six inches washed parts of Central Texas and an area of West Texas.

A very heavy thunderstorm boomed in the Hempstead vicinity as the rains moved south-eastward. Another area of moderate showers drenched the area from Bosque County, west of Waco, to the College Station section.

Earlier, showers fell in the Panhandle from southwest of Dalhart into New Mexico as fog cut visibility to less than a quarter mile from the South Plains into Central Texas. The fog was heaviest, the Weather Bureau indicated, at San Angelo, Waco, Childress, Wichita Falls, Texarkana, Tyler, Lufkin, Big Spring and Lubbock.

Fog and rain shrouded Austin, College Station, Killeen, Sherman and Denison.

College Station reported more than two inches of rain since 1 a.m. as precipitation continued. Brief flooding occurred in the Austin area.

Hail and high winds accompanied still other showers and thunderstorms in the Panhandle-Plains section, where the sighting of a funnel cloud five miles southwest of Hale Center caused a half-hour tornado alert for parts of four counties. There was no indication the twister struck ground.

A six-inch cloudburst at Salado, between Temple and Austin, was the heaviest deluge recorded. Clifton a little farther north in a section west of Waco, caught 5.80 inches.

Punishing winds accompanied a downpour measuring 4.06 inches in an hour at Rockdale, between Taylor and Bryan. Water rose into half a dozen houses at Rockdale, electric power failed for as long as three hours and streets were flooded temporarily, police dispatcher Bertha Williams reported.

More than one inch of rain fell at numerous points in the same general area.

While thundershowers were heavy at many points, Weather

TEENAGER VANISHES

Typical Day Turns Into A Nightmare

CORRY, Pa. (AP) — It started out as a typical day in the life of a rural family.

James P. Cooney was at work at his job with a business equipment manufacturing company in town and Mrs. Cooney was at home with the children.

The three youngest Cooney children were playing at the side of the farmhouse and Karen Sue, 15, the oldest, was in the yard hanging up the wash.

But then Karen screamed. And by the time Mrs. Cooney got out into the yard and the other children rounded the house, Karen had vanished.

About 100 policemen and volunteers fanned out over 150 acres of rugged, wooded terrain 25 miles below the New York line Monday in search of the brown-haired, blue-eyed high school sophomore.

Searchers brought in bloodhounds but failed to find any trace of the girl by nightfall. State police said the search was expected to resume at daybreak with a helicopter. The FBI said it was joining in.

State police said they suspected the girl was kidnapped but said there was nothing to indicate that a car had been in the area of the Cooney farm along Pennsylvania 426 at the time she disappeared.

Australian Surrenders

Wally Mellish, accompanied by his 19-year-old bride of last Wednesday, Beryl Muddle Mellish, and carrying her 11-week-old baby, leaves Glenfield, Australia, house today where he defied a police siege for the past eight days. Police Commissioner Norman Allan, right, escorts Mellish.

Gunman Surrenders After Long Seige

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Gunman Wally Mellish, who held his shotgun bride and their baby hostage for seven days while police kept a cordon around him, surrendered today after he was promised a chance to fight in Vietnam.

Mellish, a 22-year-old former mental patient and convicted car thief, was taken to Ingleburn army camp to see if the army would have him.

Mellish's 19-year-old bride and childhood sweetheart, Beryl Muddle, was taken with her 11-week-old son Leslie to her parents. For the time being the police did not enforce a warrant for her arrest for failing to pay a $42 fine for prostitution.

BIZARRE

Mellish ended his bizarre hold-out after talking for nearly three hours on the telephone with the Rev. Clyde Paton, chaplain at Long Bay Jail. Mellish's chief condition for surrender was that he be given a chance to serve with Australia's forces in Vietnam.

Carrying his baby son, the young man emerged from the house where he had held off police for seven days and six hours with an arsenal of hand grenades, two rifles, and a shotgun and threats to kill his wife and child if the police rushed him.

The young wife followed him from the house.

Mellish started threatening to shoot Miss Muddle and the baby a week ago when police showed up at the house to question him about some stolen car parts. The police put a cordon around the house, but did not try to rush it for fear the young man would carry out his threat.

ARRANGED

Police Commissioner Norman T. Allan arranged a wedding for the couple, with the bridegroom holding a shotgun, last Wednesday after Mellish agreed to surrender. Though the commissioner threw in a wedding feast of steak, curried mushrooms and rice pudding plus a $20 wedding ring, Mellish refused to give up.

Allan also turned over to Mellish an armor piercing rifle which Mellish had demanded to "make him equal to the police." The commissioner was censured by the New South Wales Police Association for supplying the weapon, but he maintained the young man wouldn't start shooting as long as he was humored.

"Mr. Allan's patience has been rewarded," New South Wales Premier Robin Askin said after Mellish's surrender.

"There will be general relief that the siege resulted in no loss of life. I don't think too many people will now be concerned by some of the more unusual aspects."

APPEARED FIT

Mellish and his wife were taken to a field headquarters set up during the siege. Their baby appeared fit. Officers recovered the weapons from inside the house.

Police said the young woman's role in the hold-out was unclear. She passed up several chances to escape and was reported to have shouted insults at police from a veranda.

Asks Treaty Ratification

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson formally asked the Senate today to ratify the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, which he called "a triumph of sanity and of man's will to survive."

In a message completed while the President was in Central America, and flown from there to Washington on a courier plane, Johnson asserted that "I consider this treaty to be the most important international agreement limiting nuclear arms since the nuclear age began."

More than 60 countries, including the United States, have signed the treaty which aims at preventing the spread of nuclear weapons. But, to become effective, it must be formally ratified by the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union and at least 40 other nations.

Sirhan Secretly Whisked To Tight Security Cell

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan has been secretly whisked to a cell in the Hall of Justice, where he will face trial on charges of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A convoy of patrol cars manned by seven deputies from the Central Jail, completed the move Sunday, Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess announced Monday. The 14-minute move was so secret not even Russell E. Parsons, Sirhan's attorney, knew about it.

"We knew it was coming," said one of Parsons' aides, "but the time was a secret even from us."

The 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant's new 6-by-8 feet cell is on the 13th floor in the Hall of Justice.

The Hall of Justice's jail quarters have undergone a complete renovation, accelerated because of the Sirhan case. Sirhan's cell is in an isolated corridor with no outside windows and no other prisoners. It is equipped with a bunk fixed to the wall, a toilet, wash basin and a 12-inch circular mirror attached to the wall.

A larger security area for visitors adjoins the cell. It has bars and sliding doors and a 29-by-30-inch window in one wall. Sirhan and visitors can look at one another through the window and talk by telephone.

Ray's Appeal To Open July 29

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray's appeal against extradition to the United States will open in the British High Court July 29, his British lawyer said today. The hearing is expected to last at least two days.

Ray, charged with assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., made a one-minute appearance in Bow Street, Magistrate's Court today on the two charges on which he was arrested June 8 at London airport, using a forged passport and carrying an unlicensed gun.

Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton ordered him held in Wandsworth Prison for another seven days on the two charges. Ray said nothing.

Milton, who last Tuesday ruled in favor of the U.S. government's extradition petition, asked defense attorney Michael Eugene when the appeal would be heard.

Eugene replied that the High Court had agreed to start the appeal hearing July 29 although the appeal itself has not been filed formally.

Ray's lawyers are preparing an appeal contending that King's assassination was a political crime, an offense that is not extraditable under British law. "The appeal petition is not expected to be filed until the end of a 15-day grace period which began July 2,

Policy Limiting Police Use Of Guns Rescinded

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Before 2,000 protesting citizens the City Council rescinded today a policy statement limiting police use of guns.

Councilman Harold Silva changed his vote to revoke the action taken last week after a Negro youth had been shot and wounded in an incident that touched off four days of racial disorders.

The result came after businessman C. J. Dougherty de-

Detectives Nab Mugger, Pedestrians Dodge Shots

NEW YORK (AP) — Pedestrians near Times Square scurried for cover Monday night as four detectives fired 10 shots in pursuing and catching an alleged mugger who dodged in and out of heavy traffic and behind parked cars on 42nd Street.

After a three-block chase, the officers seized a man identified as Carl Miles, 23, a garment manufacturing center pushcart worker. He was charged with attempted robbery and felonious assault.

The victim in a tenement house hallway robbery on 9th Avenue was Harry Robinson, 62, an English visitor to the United States.

He resisted the robber and was beaten on the face and head, police said. He told police at a hospital, where he is treated for a forehead cut that required four stitches and for eye and cheek bruises, that his assailant had jockeyed him into the hallway and sprayed some kind of chemical into his face.

Clark Renews Plea For Registration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark renewed an appeal for federal registration of firearms today despite the administration's setback in the House.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., brought the question up at a Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee hearing on the firearms registration and licensing bill urged by President Johnson.

Thurmond asked Clark if he still advocates national registration in view of what happened in the House Rules Committee Monday.

"Yes, I do," Clark replied. He said that registration would be "of tremendous help to law enforcement" by providing identification of the owners of guns used in crimes.

At the Rules Committee meeting members obtained a pledge from Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., to oppose any attempts to attach registration and licensing provisions to another bill, either by mail or over-the-counter.

The effect of the bill would be to extend to shotguns and rifles the restrictions provided on sales of handguns in the recently passed crime control bill.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and in line to head House conferees in any negotiations with the Senate on gun control legislation, said he made his pledge in an effort to save the long gun bill.

Miss Ireland Can't Afford To Enter Another Contest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — She is going all out to win, but Ireland's loss in the Miss Universe Pageant says: "I could think of more gracious ways to make money."

Despite the graciousness aspect, Tiffany Scales views her competition against girls from 65 other countries as money in the bank.

"If I don't win here, in Ireland I hope to be making a shilling here and there," she said.

But the Miami Beach effort will be her last outing in the world of beauty contests.

"I couldn't enter another contest because I couldn't afford to lose," she said, and she meant financially.

Miss Scales signed up with a Dublin modeling agency after she won the Miss Ireland title. Despite only three months of experience, she demanded top rates. "Most people in Ireland recognized me," she explained.

She wound up in the Miss Universe competition because her agency suggested it. So she quit her job, hired a manager and came to Miami Beach. Wednesday night she and the other girls will compete in swimsuits.

Saturday night Miss Scales will learn whether she is headed back to the modeling business or off for a globe trotting year of glamor.

150 Area Youths Join Job Corps

About 150 local young people have been placed in the Job Corps since it began, according to Leon Kinney, director of the local Texas Employment Commission.

Members of the Job Corps live in training centers where they are schooled and taught trades. Age limits are 16-21 1/2 years.

Kinney said that persons from underprivileged families are eligible for the corps and can apply by contacting the TEC office in Big Spring. He said he learns of eligible young people through schools, churches and public welfare organizations.

The district served by the Big Spring office includes the counties of Howard, Sterling, Fisher, Scurry and Mitchell. Kinney said his monthly quota for this quarter is six boys and two girls.

Criminal Docket Called July 22

Announcement has been made that a criminal jury docket will open in 118th District court on July 22. Judge Ralph Caton has instructed the clerk to summon a jury panel for duty at that time.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said that his plans are to present the cases which were recently set on a criminal docket and which had to be passed for various reasons. It is possible some additional cases may be added or some of the ones left over from the older docket may be deleted from the new list.

Auto Insurance Firms Enjoy Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Automobile insurance companies are making exceptional profits, a University of Southern California professor of business administration said today.

Citing his study of 641 corporations, 18 auto insurance companies and seven multiple-line insurance companies, Dr. Richard Norgaard told a Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee that the "insurance companies are earning greater risk adjusted rates of profit than 90 percent of all companies in the sample."

"The automobile companies appear to be doing slightly better than the multiple-line companies," he continued.

Norgaard said these findings "are diametrically opposed to those recently reported by the American insurance association" although the same basic data were used.

"The difference in results came about because of the techniques used to measure and interpret the data," he said.

Norgaard defined rate of profit as "the average annual return including interest, dividends, and security appreciation that the suppliers of capital receive divided by the initial market value of all the firm's securities."

"The conclusions in this investigation are clear," he said. "The large, multiple-line underwriters and the companies which specialize in automobile insurance are making exceptional profits."

Pistol Packing Mama Blasts Young Intern

TORONTO (AP) — Police filed an attempted murder charge today against a 30-year-old woman who they said emptied a .32 caliber revolver at a hospital intern when he told her she was pregnant, then gave birth four hours later Monday to a seven-pound boy.

Police identified her as Sang Rose Wu of Toronto. The wounded intern, Dr. Anthony Tripodi, 24, of Hamilton, Ont., was reported in satisfactory condition after undergoing emergency surgery to remove bullets from his abdomen and shoulder. He also was struck in one ear and forearm.

O. B. Simmonds, deputy chief of police, said: "We'll serve the writ when she is able to receive visitors."

Police said the woman entered St. Michael's Hospital complaining of abdominal pains. They said she refused to believe she was pregnant when told she was being moved to the maternity ward.

Tripodi was giving her a sedative when she whipped out the revolver, which had been hidden under the blankets, police said. They believed she had brought the gun into the hospital in her purse.

A nurse rushed into the room after hearing the shots, screamed for help and Dr. John Schombum hurried in to find the woman still trying to fire the empty gun. She was reaching for more shells from her purse when Schombum overpowered her, the police said.

Jam Expected At Courthouse

Parking space in the vicinity of the Howard County courthouse is likely to be a premium on Wednesday and Thursday.

Not only is the grand jury in session but the sessions of the tax equalization boards for the county school and city will be operating. The boards will meet on Wednesday and Thursday in the offices of the county judge.

All persons having complaints or questions about their tax assessments or the tax valuations placed on their property will have opportunity to confer with the county board or with the board which jointly represents the school district and the city.

In view of increased taxes promised for the ensuing year and due to other problems relating to tax valuations it is expected a larger than ordinary number of taxpayers will be on hand to confer with the boards.

Taxpayers will be registered as they appear at the courthouse and their cases will be called up in the order of their number.

Novis Womack, county school-city tax evaluator, and his staff along with Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, and her deputies will be on hand.

Generally, the files from the offices of Womack are moved to the second floor where they are readily available for reference when a property owner appears with a question or a complaint.

Nixon Doubts Delegates Will Be Swayed By Polls

By The Associated Press

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he is confident his primary victories will lead to the Republican presidential nomination, even should public opinion polls favor rival Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Public opinion polls involve only "about 3,000 people across the country," Nixon said in Springfield, N.J., Monday, and he said he doubted Republican National Convention delegates would be swayed by them.

WILL LISTEN

"I have the same thing going for me that Eugene McCarthy has," said Nixon, referring to primary victories. "But I think that the Republican party will listen to the people and I don't think the Democrats will."

Nixon had said earlier the Democratic convention "will go the way of the bosses" and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will get the nomination despite Democratic primary victories for McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, meanwhile, brushed aside new talk by GOP presidential aspirant Rockefeller of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket.

"I've made my position very plain," Reagan said at an airport news conference in Sacramento. "I'm not interested in the vice presidency at all."

WIDE OPEN

Rockefeller had said in San Francisco the possibility of such a GOP ticket is "wide open . . . I don't think that any combination should be ruled out or should there be a freezing of any situation."

Reagan refused to comment on the New York governor's statement the Californian is a more serious presidential contender than he admits. "There's no sense commenting on what his opinion is,"

Reagan said.

On the Democratic side, Humphrey told more than 2,000 underprivileged youngsters in Washington he is committed to seeing that all young Americans get "all the education they can take" and adequate food and housing.

Humphrey appeared at a kickoff clinic of the Vice President's Summer Youth, Sports and Recreation Program. He said 50 more clinics will be conducted this summer in the nation's largest cities. In other political developments:

—Some 60 Alabama college students are going door-to-door for petition signatures to get third party candidate George C. Wallace's name on Massachusetts' November ballot as Wallace conducts a concerted drive in the state.

EARLY WIN

—Rep. Rogers Morton, R-Md., Nixon's newly appointed convention floor manager, says he believed the former vice president would win the nomination on an early ballot but says he does not expect a first-ballot victory.

—Mayor Richard J. Daley says it is "plausible and possible" the electrical workers' strike that threatens to move the Democratic National Convention from Chicago could be settled within a week. —The Harris Survey reports

Democratic voters favor Humphrey over McCarthy 48 per cent to 40, but independent voters who were asked to state a choice for the Democratic nomination named McCarthy over Humphrey 54 per cent to 39.

'Dear Aubrey' Rescheduled

A wait-and-see attitude has been adopted by Mrs. E. H. Bouillon concerning the Variety Night "Starlite Special" planned for tonight in the City Park amphitheatre.

With the area under a weather forecast for thundershowers plans for tonight's show will go on as scheduled until at least 6 p.m. "We will decide at that time whether to cancel the show," said Mrs. Bouillon, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce cultural affairs committee which is sponsoring the show.

Rain forced the cancellation Monday of "Dear Aubrey," the character comedy planned for Drama Night. The play has been rescheduled for Saturday night.

"If necessary," Mrs. Bouillon said, "Variety Night will be rescheduled for 8:15 p.m. Wednesday. We had not planned a program for that night to avoid conflict with midweek church services," she said.

"If we have to have the program Wednesday night we hope that people will attend church services and then join us in the park." The program includes several pianists, a folksinger, several choral groups and a skit. Capt. John Beer and Capt. Steve Sutton, Webb AFB, will emcee the show. Tickets will be 25 cents per person excepting preschoolers who will be admitted free.

WHY DO WE HAVE TO FIGHT OVER THERE? Lynda Bird's Clincher

NEW YORK (AP) — Columnist Drew Pearson says in a magazine article that questions by Lynda Bird about why her husband had to go to Vietnam provided "the final clincher" for President Johnson's decision to retire.

Pearson writes in the current issue of Look magazine that Johnson and his wife asked Secret Service men to awaken them before Lynda Bird arrived at the White House at 6:30 a.m. after a flight to the West Coast to see her husband, Marine Corps Capt. Charles Robb, off to war.

DADDY, WHY?

Pearson says the President confided to a friend: "We didn't want her coming into the White House all alone. So we left word with the Secret Service to notify us 30 minutes in advance."

"We were awake and lying in bed before the Secret Service called. I pulled a pair of britches over my pajamas and we went out to the South Gate and met her. "She was pale as a ghost. She talked to me about what a fine boy Chuck was, in the past tense, as if he was never coming back. And Lynda Bird said: "Daddy, I want to ask you a question. Why do we have to fight over there when so many people were opposed to the war? Why do we have to send 200 boys over there in Chuck's company when there's so much opposition here at home to the war?"

That night, Johnson announced his decision to withdraw from the presidential picture.

CALLS HHH

"That morning, Pearson says, Johnson called on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and showed him two alternative endings for his speech that night—one just a "peroration for peace" and the other announcing his withdrawal.

Pearson says Humphrey tried to persuade Johnson not to withdraw, but the President was adamant.

Pearson quotes Johnson as having said: "The time is getting short. We've got to get peace in Vietnam. And I think that with me bowing out the other side is more likely to negotiate."

"There's another thing. I'm tired. I'm getting old. All the men in my family have a record of not living much over the age of 60. I'll be 60 this summer. I've had a heart attack. My health is pretty good. I think my chart is as good as yours. But I'm not sure I could live out another term. And that's not the way I want to end my life."

Aides of Humphrey in Washington said he would have no comment on the magazine article.

DEATH THREATS

Pearson wrote that Johnson told Humphrey he had intended announcing his withdrawal in his Jan. 17 State of the Union address, but mislaid the text. Johnson said he first accused his wife, Lady Bird, of taking the text with her to a beauty parlor, but later discovered the slip of paper near the phone in his White House bedroom, Pearson relates.

Pearson writes that Johnson first wrote out a statement of withdrawal last November and showed it to a few close friends.

Six men had scaled the iron palisade around the White House last year intent on killing Johnson, Pearson says, and 12,000 letters threatening his life had been written.

The columnist says Johnson once confided: "What's the use of being President when the country is divided, when the Congress won't pass a tax bill, when the dollar is in jeopardy, and when the press distorts everything you do?"

"I think I could get renominated. I think I could get reelected. But the stockholders are dissatisfied. Perhaps we need a new president."

Puzzle of Monday, July 8, Solved

He Must Love Nameless Mutt

A "brown and black mutt who doesn't even have a name" was the cause of a California-to-Big Spring trek last week by Randy Hammack.

Hammack found the dog in a trash can in San Jose, Calif. "Just about starved to death," he rescued him and nursed him back to health. The 20-year-old Texan was working at the horse stables of a dude ranch and found the dog "pretty good company."

When he decided to return to Big Spring, Hammack found that the bus lines wouldn't let him carry the dog, so, rather than abandon it, he set out on foot for home.

The journey took him seven days and he "would have made it sooner" except the dog got sick in Albuquerque, N.M., and had to be taken to a vet. Hammack had set out on his trip with "410 and a good supply of dog food" and had to spend two days working in Albuquerque to pay the dog's doctor bill.

Hammack estimated that he got about 100 rides on his trip home, none of the rides were for longer than 100 miles at a time. He traveled until he got tired and then camped out on the side of the road.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex L. Hammack, 2204 Warren, and attended Pecos High School in 1967. He is going on to Fort Worth after a short rest here, but you can bet he won't hitchhike.

"Both of us still have sore feet," he said.

Six minor accidents were reported to police Monday.

At the First National Bank parking lot, the cars of Harold Canning, 2112 Morrison, and Bessie Rangel Trevino, 508 W. 5th, were involved in a mishap; at Wasson and Beveledere, Carolyn McCann Odell, Vidor, was involved in an accident; at Farrell and Johnson, the cars of Harold L. Alexander, 1112 Sycamore, ran together; at Bell and West Fourth, Stanley Morris, Bell and West Fourth, and Art Kern, 603 E. 12th, were involved in an accident; on the KWAR-TV parking lot, a car which left the scene collided with the car of Evelyn Miller, 3303 Drexel; at 700 E. 1st, James Cadzow, 911 E. 18th, was involved in an accident with a parked trailer.

Wallace Hears More Cheers Than Jeers From Yankees

BOSTON (AP) — Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama is hearing more cheers than jeers from Yankee audiences as he campaigns in Massachusetts as the third party candidate for president.

LAST ONE

Wallace is spending the week trying to collect 61,230 signatures of registered voters before a July 29 deadline to put his name on the state's November ballot. Wallace visited five Boston suburbs Monday and encountered generally friendly audiences. With him were Secret Service agents, state police, campaign aides and a country music band to warm up the crowds.

He made few changes to a campaign speech which he gave on his first campaign visit to Massachusetts two weeks ago, calling for stricter law enforcement and less federal control over the states.

'SOUL BROTHER'

"When I'm president and an anarchist lies in front of my automobile it will be the last one he ever lies in front of," he said. That remark brought applause wherever he went.

Wallace also criticized government intellectuals as "pointed heads with briefcases who can't park a bicycle straight." The candidate encountered heckling in Lynnfield, a wealthy suburb north of Boston.

About a half dozen youths circulated among the 400 persons gathered to hear Wallace, carrying signs saying, "Rebel Go Home," and "George, the Soul Brother."

Gangs Loot, Rock Autos

BOSTON (AP) — Looting and window breaking by gangs of young people lasted more than three hours Monday night in the predominantly Negro section of Roxbury after a city-sponsored concert by a Negro singing group.

Police said the trouble began when an overflow crowd of about 25,000 began leaving Carter playground after the concert, part of the city's "summering" festival, an eight-week program of neighborhood entertainment.

Youths began pelting cars with rocks, police said, then broke into nearby stores. Several liquor stores were among those looted. The rock throwing and looting soon spread into the nearby North Dorchester and South End sections before police blocked off the area.

Regular police patrols were joined by 30 members of the riot trained tactical patrol force, some with dogs.

Four policemen were treated for various injuries and seven juveniles were arrested for breaking windows and other disorders, authorities said.

Fourth Of July Events Praised

Appreciation to the citizens of Big Spring for their support of two Fourth of July programs planned by Webb AFB officials was expressed Monday.

Lt. Col. Charles C. Haltom told the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce that attendance at the events was outstanding. The events were the dedication of a plaque at Howard County Airport and the fireworks display on base, both July 4.

He spoke at the regular meeting of the directors at noon Monday in the Settles Hotel. In other business the board approved the monthly budget of the chamber.

Job Placements Up 34 Per Cent

June placements by the Texas Employment Commission increased 34 per cent over May in the San Angelo district, according to a letter sent by the district supervisor to Leon Kinney, director of the local agency.

The San Angelo district includes those offices in El Paso, Pecos, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater and San Angelo.

A Devotional For The Day

Many waters cannot quench love, either can floods drown it. (Song of Solomon 8:7, RSV)
PRAYER: Our Father God, we do not ask for difficulties and sorrows. We do pray that when the great emotions and grief and despair confront us we may be given ample ministry of Thy spirit that our love may not be drowned. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Holiday Violence

Perhaps the public is gradually awakening to the real danger of getting killed on the highway. Not only did Texas traffic deaths fall below the predicted toll, but the national also was lower than anticipated.

Texas reported 32 deaths, six less than had been predicted for the holiday period. The six are a cause for rejoicing; the 32 that were killed needlessly are a cause for lament. The record is good enough, however, that we should be encouraged to redouble our efforts at alerting the public to the dangers of driving and the utter necessity for defensive driving. This should be done constantly and with special emphasis near holiday seasons.

Press reports also tell of 24 deaths from drowning in the Lone Star State during the holidays. The main killer here, as in the case with automobiles, is carelessness. A lot of the victims get into the boats without life preservers. Some people allow children to wade in places near deep holes of water. Some try to swim distances beyond their capabilities.

So the word needs to be hammered again and again that water, too, can be dangerous.

Finally, reports tell of 14 deaths from shootings and stabbings during the weekend. Presumably most of these result from crimes of passion, and some may be written off as impulsive acts. Whatever the motivation, the victims are dead and beyond rebuttal. We need to take a new look at our laws where deadly weapons are used and see if additional punishment may not be imposed, and even in places where premeditation cannot be established, perhaps there can be a stiff penalty for using a knife or firearm against another person.

It's All For You

This week the second annual Starlite Specials are being staged at the City Park amphitheatre under the sponsorship of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce cultural affairs committee.

The week-long series has a two-fold purpose — first to provide community entertainment from community resources; second to utilize the excellent facilities that we have in the amphitheatre and park complex for relaxed, casual summer entertainment.

We don't do enough on either score, and the committee is to be applauded for its efforts. So are the scores of people who have pitched in on the planning and who will have a part in staging the various events. It's a labor of love and deserves widespread support.

Take time out this week to attend as many of these events as possible. You can go as you are — no dress up, no fuss, not much expense because admission charges for defraying expenses are nominal (only 25 cents). You'll have a great time.

Holmes Alexander When The Reds Talk Disarmament

WASHINGTON — The Senate voted on June 24 to deploy the Sentinel anti-missile system, and three days later Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko announced that Russia was ready to discuss nuclear disarmament. Is there any connection between these events?

It suited the Sentinel-advocates in Senate and administration to gloat over their wisdom. Senator Henry Jackson (D., Wash.) immediately claimed that the shadow of Sentinel had caused the Russians to shun the thought of an accelerated arms race. Defense Secretary Clifford was acclaimed as a prophet. He'd predicted that Sentinel would give a "psychological" push toward disarmament talks.

BUT THE Jackson-Clifford assumptions are dubious — and dangerous. If we insist on trying to read the Russian mind, we should quell the impulse at wishful thinking and take note of hardware and history.

Hardware wise, the Russians already have an anti-missile system, and maybe two of them, not on paper (where Sentinel is) but under advanced construction. There is one, called Goshal, around Moscow. There is another, called Tallinn, in the northern and western missile-approaches to Russia, which may be either air-defense, missile-defense, or both.

IF AMERICAN negotiators now should agree to halt Sentinel, the Russians would be holding the advantage of an in-being defensive system. Since they already hold impressive offensive advantages, notably the FOBS system for orbiting nuclear bombs in Space, any "freeze" on nuclear weapons leaves the United States in a bad spot — wide-open, in fact, to nuclear blackmail.

The history of the case is still more disturbing than the hardware. For many years, Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy tried for a treaty with Russia to ban nuclear testing in the atmosphere. For a while there was an informal moratorium, which the Russians broke off with an aerial barrage of test-bombs in the Arctic. Only

Billy Graham

Is it possible to pray too much for one thing? I wonder if God gets tired of listening to me. I pray constantly about my many problems.

L. T.
 The answer to both questions is as strong a "no" as I can utter. Jesus' parable of the importunate widow and the unjust judge was told to show what God is like — opposite from the unjust judge who avenged her adversary.

All through the Bible we are told in many different ways to keep praying. Paul said, "Pray without ceasing." Sometimes, however, motives for our praying can be unworthy, such as prayer for selfish ends, such as for more money or more prestige and power. Jesus makes this clear in the parable of the Pharisee and the publican (Luke 18). The Pharisee's self-praise in his prayer, Christ said, left him unjustified, whereas the publican's prayer for mercy as a sinner was praised.

What Others Say

Little by little, the Supreme Court of the United States is permitting further extensions of public assistance to parochial and private schools. It is doing this under the formula that the aid is going to the students rather than to the schools. First it was school busing; the latest decision upholds the lending of textbooks, paid for by the public school system, to students in private and parochial schools.

The argument is that the assistance, extended to all children of whatever school system, does not constitute state support of religion, and thus does not breach the constitutional wall between church and state.

But it does. If textbooks or guidance counseling or bus transportation, financed out of public funds, be extended to parochial and private schools, by this much these schools are being assisted by the state.

Humanitarian dictates may suggest that pupils attending nonpublic schools should be treated equally with those attending public schools. The counter-argument is that the American public school system is thoroughly democratic, is open to all children, and needs to be preserved from weakening and competitive drains. In these days of mounting educational costs, if funds are siphoned off to parochial and private schools, the public system suffers to that degree.

John Cunniff Commissions Keep Climbing

By PHIL THOMAS
 AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissions have multiplied nearly five times in 10 years on Wall Street and with six months of record trading just finished they're expected to keep climbing.

Commissions, currently being looked over by the Securities and Exchange Commission, are geared to volume in that the more shares of stock bought and sold the more commissions are generated for a brokerage house.

VOLUME ON the New York Stock Exchange hit nearly 1.5 billion shares in the first six months this year and exceeded 13 million shares a day 50 times, compared with five days in the first half of 1967. For all of 1967, Big Board volume came to about 2.5 billion shares valued at about $125 billion.

The huge 1967 volume netted the exchange's 650 member firms a commission income of about $1.5 billion with one per cent of this, about $15.5 million, being paid to the exchange itself.

The record volume also meant record taxes for the City of New York which took in an estimated $250 million in stock transfer taxes during the fiscal year ended June 30. This compared with $166 million collected during the 1966-67 fiscal year.

THE ACCELERATING volume is in sharp contrast to a decade earlier when 1957 volume of 714 million, valued at $27.4 billion, earned member firms a commission income of $330 million — about one-fifth of last year's total.

"Commissions average about one per cent of the market value of the stock," a broker said, "but vary depending on the price of the stock."

The percentage paid is higher for lower-priced stocks and for odd lot transactions, those shares bought in lots of less than 100.

"BOTH THE SMALL individual investor and the big buyer, such as a mutual fund, pay at the same commission rate," he said. "For example, a person buying 100 shares of AT&T at $51.50 a share would pay a commission of $44.15—less than one per cent. A fund buying 25,000 shares of the same stock would be charged $11,037.50."

The amount of commission the individual broker gets to keep, according to Alvin Schonfeld, managing partner of H. Hentz & Co., "Varies around the Street, with the average rate around a third. If a broker takes in a $100 commission, he gets $33.33, although in some houses the more business a broker does the higher the rate of payout."

Hal Boyle Precious Memories

NEW YORK (AP) — Every house should have an attic in which to store those things we don't need at the moment but may require later, things too good to throw away.

Every life should have an attic of this kind, too, and every life does—a room of the mind where we retain things which may be a bit out of style but are too precious to discard.

YOU'VE GOT a pretty extensive memory attic if you can look back and remember when—You could buy a two-seated surrey with a fringe on the top for $48.40.

It was possible to win a local reputation as a sage by making such profound observations as—"Anybody can make a mistake; that's why they put erasers on pencils and rubber mats under cuspidors."

One of the most wistful dreams of childhood was that sometime the lamplighter, who came by at dusk on his bicycle, would once—just once—let you help him light a lamp.

A SOPHISTICATE was someone who pronounced the word vaudeville in only two syllables, whereas the unlettered majority always said, "Vaw-dub-ville."

Around The Rim So Near, Yet So Far

I am wholeheartedly in accord with the policy the state is pursuing in advertising by all methods the vacation appeal of this great state of ours. I have tried as best I can in the years I have lived here to see as much of West Texas as I can. Many of the places I have revisited again and again.

ONE OF MY favorite scenic spots is that borderline area of rough and arid hill country which is centered by Texas' tallest mountain—Guadalupe. I go by that route as often as opportunity offers in order to enjoy the grandeur of Guadalupe and its sister peak, El Capitan.

Also, I go to try again to capture the stark beauty of that terrain in color photographs — an end which so far has eluded me. I have shot up a small mountain of expensive color film seeking the picture I want of Guadalupe and El Capitan. Invariably, when I get the transparencies back they are either dreadfully overexposed, out of focus or for some other reason, poor.

PERHAPS the brilliant sunlight which beats down on this area cheats my light meter and tricks my automatic cameras with a false light reading. I have one picture I made several years ago in black-and-white which is satisfactory; I have a hat full of transparencies which are junk.

However, that's not what I set out to discuss. Recently I have noticed that a television spot has been repeatedly used boosting this area and stressing the magnificence of the McKittrick Canyon.

Scenes assumedly from this canyon are shown — elk roaming through the heavy woodland; rippling streams said to be full of mountain trout, magnificent vistas of forest and mountains.

I DO NOT say these scenes are faked. I do not think they are.

The trouble is — John Q. Public can't get into the canyon to see these beauties. Sometime, perhaps, in the distant future, the canyon may be open to the tourist. Right now unless you are a very fortunate fellow who happens to have the right contacts, you can't get into the canyon and, even if you can, you must either go by four wheel drive vehicle or on horseback.

People with whom I have talked and who have been in the fabulous canyon tell me that it is a breath-taking adventure.

NOW ON THE backburner in Congress (and barely simmering) is a plan to make this canyon a part of the Carlsbad Caverns National Park which adjoins it on the north. Some money has been appropriated — a mere drop in the bucket to the funds which will be needed if the area is to be opened to the public as it should be if it becomes a part of the park.

The owner of the land has agreed to sell it to the National Government and a price has been agreed upon.

THE THING that worries me is that men and women are not informed on the status of the canyon as a park may make long hard drives from distant points planning to see it and find that, to all practical purposes, it does not exist—for them now.

I do not think this is good public relations for the state or for its plans to develop tourist appeal.

Art Buchwald Who Had The Best Revolution?

PARIS — All the French seem to want to talk about these days is their revolution. They don't have any interest at all in what has been happening in the United States and they've been so boorish about it I've found myself bragging about our riots back home.

This is how the conversation has been going:

"You should have been here during the uprising," Anatole said. "It was fantastic."

"MAYBE SO," I said, "but you don't know what a riot is until you live through one in Washington, D.C." "Ours wasn't a riot," Anatole said. "It was an all-out revolution."

"Ours could have been, except for the curfew. You didn't have a curfew in Paris, did you?"

"No, but we had a general strike," he said angrily. "You couldn't even get gasoline for your automobile."

"We had looting and burning. Whole blocks were incinerated."

"THE STUDENTS burned every car on the Left Bank," Anatole replied. "They also broke windows. I'd you have any barricades?"

He had me there. "No, we didn't have any barricades, but we had Marines and paratroopers patrolling the streets," I said. "We could have been at war."

"Our students took over all the buildings at the university," Anatole said.

"So did ours at Columbia. They gave no quarter."

Anatole toyed with his aperitif. Then he said, "Our police were more brutal to the students than your police."

"HOW CAN you say that?" I cried. "Our police used bay clubs and tear gas and hoses."

"Aha," said Anatole, "our police also used clubs. But they were six feet long, and the police threw the tear gas right into the students' faces. They also beat them up on the way to the station."

"Our students were also beat up. Many of them are still in jail. It sounds like you people had a tea party."

"A tea party?" Anatole said, slamming down his drink. "We had a million people march from the Place de la Republique to the Sorbonne."

"We had shootings in Detroit," I said.

"BUT WE have censorship here on the television. You at least know what's going on."

"We're afraid to walk the streets at night," I said, hoping that would put Anatole in his place.

"All the banks were on strike," Anatole said, pretending he didn't hear me. "We didn't even have any money."

"Everyone in America owns a gun," I said.

"We almost overthrew President De Gaulle," Anatole declared.

"We overthrew President Johnson." "Ah, yes, but you did it peacefully."

"NEVERTHELESS, we got rid of our President and you didn't."

I could see Anatole was losing his cool, so I tried to placate him. "For a small country, you had a pretty good revolution."

"Don't patronize me," Anatole yelled. "It was a damn fine revolution and we haven't heard the end of it yet."

I looked at him coldly. "Would you like to hear about the poor people's march?"

He got up from the table and stomped away, leaving me to pay the check.

Marquis Childs Professionals Show Their Ability

WASHINGTON — If there is now a chance to halt the nuclear arms race on the brink of another and perhaps a fatal spiral, a great deal is owed to two men for having played patient midwife to this new opening.

They are professional diplomats who refute by their skill, their understanding, their quiet dedication, the myth of the cookie pusher, the striped-pants boys who dawdle over the teacups while sneering at the homely virtues of their own land.

IN MOSCOW Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson has patiently and painstakingly explored every possibility to open talks that might lead to agreement ruling out the anti-ballistic missile and scaling back offensive missiles. A year and a half ago President Johnson persuaded Thompson to go back for a second tour as Ambassador. He returned to Moscow with the full confidence of the President and the explicit mission of nuclear arms talks, knowing how thorny the path would be while the Vietnam War kept the two nuclear giants at odds.

IN WASHINGTON Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin has worked toward the same end. His unflinching good nature has been sustained despite reverses and rebuffs from both sides in the off-again, on-again game of the past four years. An imperturbable facade in the face of hair-raising ups and downs in the troubled U.S.-U.S.S.R. relationship has stood him in good stead.

SUPREMELY important for the Ambassador of Communist Russia in capitalist America is to report the truth as against the propaganda line. The temptation must surely be great to confirm the prejudices of the hard-liners in the Kremlin who believe America is an imperialist monster bent on either subjugating the world or annihilating it. Judged by the external evidence, Dobrynin has been a conscientious reporter, indicating to his government, it may well be, that this is a last chance to pull back from the abyss of the next round and the fateful point of no return.

AS THE frequent target of popular distrust and professional diplomat is said to be alienated from his native land. He is a hybrid of foreign influence and insidious alien culture. In the instance of both Thompson and Dobrynin nothing could be further from the truth.

Thompson has sought to preserve his anonymity in contrast to the ambassadors who too often take an ambassadorial post with a view to the memoir and lecture circuit and the prospect ahead of political office. For the pro-reward is in the achievement of a national goal.

THIS IS PLAINLY only the beginning of a beginning. And the perils in the path are formidable. There are many in this country and undoubtedly in the Soviet Union as well who would like to slam the door on the new opening. The Curtis LeMay's are gnashing their teeth and demanding more and more and more missiles. An incident like the U-2 spy plane, so mishandled by the Eisenhower Administration, could put an end to the first tentative hope as indeed the incident of the American plane forced down on a Kurile Island runway threatened to do.

In light of these threats the presence of cool, calm professionals in key posts is some insurance against panic. They are the first line of defense against failure of a last best hope.

Happy To Have Her Baby Back

Mrs. Helen West of Marysville, Calif., expresses her happiness as she holds her two-year-old baby, Vicky, shortly after the youngster was returned following her abduction Monday.

Marine Faces Kidnap Rap, Girl Returned Unharmed

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A manhunt centered in California and Nevada today for a 22-year-old Marine sought in the gunpoint kidnaping of a 2-year-old girl who was returned unharmed later by the Marine's wife.

Object of the search was Thomas Fulton Schofield, listed as absent without leave from Camp Pendleton near San Diego, Calif.

HOSTAGE

Curly haired Vicky West was driven back to her Marysville home Monday by Schofield's 20-year-old wife, Loretta, 12 hours after the child was taken as hostage for the Schofields to flee the area, said Sheriff Gary J. Miller of Yuba County.

Miller quoted Mrs. Schofield as saying her husband got out of the car near Redding—about 100 miles north of Marysville and near the Nevada border—and he told her to take the girl back.

"She said he told her to come home, that he didn't want her to get involved," the sheriff said. Mrs. West, 24, a friend of the young Marine's for several months, said they had talked Sunday evening and Schofield said he thought he was being sought for a San Francisco knife. Police in San Francisco said later they were seeking no Schofield.

'HUNGRY'

Miller said the two then picked up Mrs. Schofield and drove to the West home. At one point, Miller said, Schofield knocked Mrs. West's brother-in-law Michael, 16, unconscious with a pistol blow on the head. He was recovering today.

Then the Schofields tied up the boy, Mrs. West and Mrs. West's other daughter, Jamie, 5, and fled with Vicky in the West family sedan, Miller said. A half-day later, Vicky was back home, "hungry, but okay," Mrs. West said.

Fence Vandals

Justin Holmes, 301 Washington, reported to police that vandals had damaged his fence sometime Saturday or Sunday. He found the damage when he returned home from an out-of-town trip.

One Powder Puff Pilot Stuck In 'Pea Patch'

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — With five planes across the finish line and another stuck in a "pea patch" 20 miles away, officials of the Powder Puff Derby braced today for the final wave of lady aviators completing a four-day, 2,500-mile cross-country race.

Two of the 75 planes left in the race Monday were scratched and another was disqualified. The deadline to reach Savannah is sundown today.

TOUCH DOWN

A spokesman said five of the teams arrived before sundown Monday. Thirty were reported in Greenville, Miss., preparing for the final leg of the trip. Several put in at Birmingham, Ala., an alternate stop, when threatened by a squall line of thunder showers and others were spread along the route stretching as far away as Phoenix, Ariz.

The first to touch down Monday was No. 25, piloted by Shirley Fadel Junker and Ila Mae Carosell, both of Palm Springs, Calif., 12 minutes ahead of No. 45, brought in by Beryl Young and Olga Tarling, both of Queensland, Australia.

Third was No. 49, piloted by Cleo Sherbow of Baltimore,

PAST THREE-QUARTER MARK Nixon Picks Up In Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — With four weeks to go before the Republican National Convention begins, Richard M. Nixon pushed just past the three-quarter mark Monday, in terms of publicly committed delegates, toward a first-ballot nomination for president.

In an Associated Press tabulation of first-ballot intentions of the Miami Beach delegates, as dictated by primary results, pledged at the time of election or stated in an AP poll, the former vice president had 501 of the required 667 votes.

The biggest pick-up of the past week was at least 25 Texas delegates who went along when Sen. John G. Tower dropped a favorite son stance and went to Nixon.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stood at 192 in the table. The Republicans had only eight more delegates to pick, in Utah the coming weekend, to fill their 1,333 convention seats. Backing favorite sons or otherwise at least ostensibly on the fence were 589 delegates, plus 43 outside of California who had picked Gov. Ronald Reagan, that state's favorite son.

In the same tabulation Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stood at 677% of the 1,312 needed for first-ballot nomination in the Chicago Democratic Convention opening Aug. 28.

Trailing at 414 was Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. Another 15 votes were scattered among various others.

More than half of the total Democratic convention roster of 2,622 was uncommitted in public at that point. That situation was still sharply complicated by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy which shifted more than 300 votes from him to the uncommitted category.

The bulk of those still had not stated a new choice, thus helping build up the total of 779% generally uncommitted. The favorite son total was 537%.

The Democrats had just under 100 more votes to ballot.

Detroit Judge Slams Book; Delays Trial

DETROIT (AP) — A criminal court judge in Detroit sharply rapped a recently published book Monday and agreed to delay the murder trial of a white Detroit policeman accused of slaying a Negro youth during last July's riot.

Traffic Safety Is Encouraging

CHICAGO (AP) — The lower-than-expected highway death toll during the Independence Day weekend represents a significant gain in traffic safety, the National Safety Council says.

The council had estimated in advance that between 700 and 800 Americans might die on streets and highways over the four-day weekend. The final toll from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday was 620. This compared with 553 deaths in a non-holiday weekend of equal length.

GOOD SENSE "The deaths that took place make up a tragic version of the traditional Independence Day parade," Howard Fyle, council president, said Monday. "But the fact there weren't more is an encouraging sign that good sense may yet triumph."

Eggers 'Eggs' Liquor 'Mess'

FREEMONT, Tex. (AP) — Charging "widespread scandal" in the regulation of Texas liquor laws, Republican gubernatorial hopeful Paul Eggers said Monday that voters must begin looking at the man, not the party.

He said Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, the Democratic nominee for governor, "failed to pass the test of leadership" during the recent 30-day special legislative session.

"Texans had every right to expect a liquor reform measure in the wake of widespread scandal, yet during the entire session my opponent sat on his experience," Eggers said. "The day has come in Texas, as the liquor regulation mess proves, that voters must look at the man instead of the party," the candidate added.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠. West gave careful consideration to his opening lead against South's three no trump contract. He promptly ruled out hearts for, although it was the unbid suit, too much strength was required from partner to develop tricks from that source. The same thing was true of clubs, nor did it appear attractive to lead a diamond, the suit bid by declarer.

By a process of elimination, West decided to try spades in the hope of hitting his partner. He accordingly opened the queen of spades. The king was put up from dummy and East signaled encouragingly with the six. Although he would have liked to exhibit greater enthusiasm over West's lead, he was unable to spare a higher card. By ducking the first trick, he assured the eventual run of the entire suit provided that West could get in to lead spades again.

A club was led to the king at trick two and declarer continued with the queen. When East showed out, West's jack was finessed on the next round. A total of five tricks were taken in clubs on which East had to find four discards. He gave up three diamonds and one heart, holding on to his spades for dear life.

In order to develop a ninth trick, South was obliged to drive out the ace of diamonds. When the queen was led, West played the ace and then returned the eight of spades thru the dummy's holding, which was now headed by the ten. East won the trick with the nine of spades, picked up the remainder of the suit with the ace and jack and then cashed the setting trick with the deuce of spades.

Despite the flawless performance by the defense, South could have frustrated their efforts by permitting West to hold the first trick with the queen of spades. This blocks the run of the suit and limits the opposition to a maximum of three spade tricks and one diamond.

Four Texas Trains Axed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Missouri Pacific Railroad was given permission by the Interstate Commerce Commission Monday to discontinue four passenger trains serving Texas.

The ICC authorized the discontinuance because of "great financial loss" to the railroad in operating the trains.

An ICC spokesman said the stoppage could go into effect Wednesday.

Affected would be trains 7 and 8 between St. Louis and Texarkana; 27 and 28 between Texarkana and Fort Worth; and 23 and 24 between New Orleans and Fort Worth.

The ICC said the Missouri Pacific had shown that the loss would exceed $1 million in 1968.

Reasons given for the losses were diversion of first class mail from trains to trucks, and dwindling use of the trains by travelers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Monday identified 62 U.S. servicemen who were killed in action in the Vietnam War.

Also included on the latest Pentagon casualty list were three men who died of wounds and 14 who had previously been named as missing.

Among those killed:
Texas—Pfc. Terry L. Coggins, son of May B. Bess, 208 Anderson Street, Wilmer.

Missing to dead—non hostile:
Texas—1st. Lt. Raymond P. Bonworth Jr., husband of Virginia S. Bonworth, 4333 Moana Drive, San Antonio.

Hoffman ordered the breakup

Hoffman spent 10 days hearing evidence in the two cases. Testimony revealed that two of the district's schools, Coolidge and Kennedy, are 99 per cent Negro, with predominantly Negro faculties, while the other four are almost all white with white teachers.

In remarks from the bench, Hoffman said school segregation "has the effect of stigmatizing Negro pupils and retarding their educational development."

"It is more than 14 years since the Supreme Court ruled that in the field of public education the doctrine of 'separate but equal' has no place," Hoffman said.

Hoffman ordered the breakup of the racial pattern of pupil enrollment at Coolidge school by September, 1968, and at the Kennedy school by the fall of 1969.

He also said any plans for building new schools must be submitted to the court for review so that the schools will be located "with the objective of eradicating the effects of past segregation."

He ordered the school board to begin filling vacancies and assigning teachers to positions in schools where their race is in the minority. This must be fully accomplished by the beginning of the 1969-70 school year.

The ruling was a victory for the Justice Department. Similar decisions have been made in 11 Southern states.

The district covers schools in South Holland, Phoenix and parts of Harvey, all suburbs south of Chicago. Officials from Phoenix and Harvey reacted favorably to the decision.

Richard D. Nelsons To Live In Odessa

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis Nelson are at home at 708 1/2 N. Washington in Odessa following their marriage June 25 in the Calvary Assembly of God Church in Midland. The Rev. Warren Newberry performed the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with white stock and palm foliage and illuminated by cathedral tapers. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde William Morris, Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Nelson, 1419 E. 6th. Miss Laura Evers, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Warren Newberry as she sang "I Love You Truly." Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white brocade gown designed with an Empire bodice and long sleeves. The cathedral-length veil fell from a headpiece of lace petals encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations.

Miss Clydene Morris, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and another sister, Miss Charlotte Morris, served as bridesmaid. They wore identical pink brocade floor-length gowns and carried white carnation corsages. Ronald Richard was best man. Ushers were Jimmy Bailly of Odessa and Gayle Reese of Midland. Flower girls were Vangee Newberry and Phyllis Reeves. Mike Newberry and Dennis Reeves were ring bearers and altar tapers were lighted by the flower girls. The couple's wedding trip took them to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. She is a graduate of Stanton High School, and he graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and is presently employed with Texas Flange Company in Odessa. A reception was held in the fellowship hall. Miss Kathy Werwanger of Stanton presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Mrs. Gayle Reeves, Miss Marsha Smith and Mrs. Ronald Richard, sister of the bridegroom. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McKnight, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rau and family and Mrs. Sig Rogers, all of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rich, Coahoma; Mrs. Carl Miles and family, and Mrs. Sylvia Harrison, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. James Clary, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Inman, all of Stanton; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Richard and family of Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Dear Heloise: My two little daughters love to help mommy with everything, especially the things they aren't really old enough to do. Not wishing to discourage them, I got out my sewing box and let them mend and sew buttons on their own play clothes that aren't too badly ripped. They can sew on buttons quite well! They may not sew as well as I do, but on play clothes it really doesn't matter and it makes them feel SO grown-up! I think a lot of mothers would be surprised to see how much their children really can accomplish if they will just give them a chance. . . . Jo Ann Herring

Dear Heloise: Like most young brides, it took me a long time to make a bed as it was difficult for me to get the sheets and blankets the same length on both sides. I found it was easier to fold sheets, blankets and bedspread in half lengthwise. Then place the correct end at the head of the bed and pull the rest of it down and then tuck it in. It's so much easier to get half a sheet the same length on both sides. Try it and you'll agree. . . . Mrs. C. R. Vincent

A LOVELIER YOU

Wigs Add Beauty To Summer Hair-Do

By MARY SUE MILLER Wigs and hairpieces are no longer novelties. We've come to consider them as necessities of both a cosmetic and a cover-up nature. A superior beauty aid in summer!

Fortunately, advances in the production of hair products bring their cost within range for most of us. Not long ago any sort of piece was an expensive luxury. Now a wardrobe is not outside the realm of possibility, owing to the improvement in synthetic fibers and in manufacturing techniques.

The synthetics presently used—Celanese acetate, Dynel and Japanese fibers—are something of a miracle. The texture and sheen are that of human hair (beautiful human hair). Sometimes the synthetics are permanently curled and also compatible with hairspray. All are light in weight, pliable and manageable. Any you would choose are washable with regular shampoo and easily set.

Construction methods further naturalness and long wear, too. Wefting, the use of several shades in one hairpiece, makes the color of synthetic hair the match of human hair. Strong nylons and nettings build sturdy foundations. Special additions like Velcro strips assure greater cling.

If you tuck a hairpiece into your vacation gear, you just might have your first carefree haircare holiday.

Overcome your hair problems! Send for my booklet, "How to Have Lovelier Hair." Advice includes: corrective care of dry, abused, oily and hard-to-manage hair; expert coloring methods and treatment of tints; tips on perfection cutting, permanents, straightening and grooming. Write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald for your copy, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

let's not let a computer come between us

Sure, we use computers. They are great for speed and accuracy and efficiency. With more than 370,000 customers to serve, we don't know what we'd do without them for paper work and to figure out things.

But computers will never take the place of people, because to a computer everybody's just a number. Computers don't smile, or call you by name, or show a personal interest, or reflect a friendly and helpful attitude. Not even ours.

So we have real living, breathing people . . . friendly people ready and anxious to help when you have a problem or want information about your electric appliances or electric service. We're trying to live down the computers. This may be the computer age, but we're not going to let a computer come between you and us, ever.

Youth Against Crime

Patrolman Winston Williams, 46, poses with the 140th Street station house in the Harlem members of Youth Against Crime at the station of New York.

It's A Dream Come True For Patrolman Williams

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrolman Winston Williams conceived the idea of watching the teenagers in his East Harlem precinct he thought, why not enlist them as allies, why not employ their energies to aid firemen and police?

Monday the 46-year-old patrolman saw his dream come true as 40 boys and girls started to improve relations between the community and police and firemen.

Williams, a 16-year veteran at the East 104th Street station house, said he was confident the program "would help educate the public to the services provided by the police, fire and various narcotic control units."

The youths go to work at a time when firemen in particular have been voicing concern about brick-and-bottle attacks when they respond to alarms in slum communities.

Williams' idea came to fruition with the backing of the Hell Gate subcommittee of the House Economic Neighborhood Development program and the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

The East Harlem community is predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican and about half the youngsters recruited speak Spanish as well as English.

After selection the youths underwent a five-day orientation course. They learned how to inform residents about fire prevention measures, how to obtain legal aid and how to get help for a narcotics addict.

Sandra Samaniego, a 20-year old Hunter College student who will help supervise the youths, called the group a "referral agency to direct people who need help to the right place."

The youths will also report to the police on crimes, abandoned cars, open fire hydrants and other community problems.

Each youngster will be paid $1.50 an hour for 30 hours of work each week.

Cong Makes Harassing Attacks Around Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — A series of clashes broke out Monday and Tuesday around Saigon and in the far northwest, two flash points where big battles are expected soon.

Enemy gunners also aimed at a bridge linking Saigon with the Mekong Delta to the south and a military post southwest of the capital. Twelve American soldiers and two government troops were wounded at the bridge and three Americans were wounded at the military post.

U.S. pilots flew 140 missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle Monday and another Air Force F4 Phantom was shot down during the night. A Jolly Green Giant helicopter rescued the two crewmen — 1st Lt. Charles W. Mosley, 26, of Lawrence, Kan., and 1st Lt. Don M. Hallenbeck, 24, — 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone. Both were unharmed, the Air Force said.

It was Mosley's 99th mission, leaving him with only one more to go to finish his tour of combat flying over the North. Hallenbeck, son of an Air Force colonel at Scott Air Base in Illinois, was on his third mission.

The Phantom was the 864th U.S. warplane reported lost over North Vietnam. Summarizing the results of the 140 missions, a U.S. spokesman reported:

"The attacking crews hit enemy lines of supply and military storage areas, reporting the destruction or damage of 11 supply and storage areas, 30 barges and nine trucks. In addition, the movement of men and materials was slowed by cutting roads in 63 places and leaving five bridges unusable.

"The crews also ignited 16 secondary explosions, 20 petroleum, oil and lubricant fires, and 105 other sustained fires. They also silenced 28 weapon positions."

JACK ZINN

Zinn To Get Law Degree

Jack Zinn is to receive his juris doctor degree from the Southern Methodist University Law School July 23.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Zinn, 2511 Allendale Road, Big Spring.

Zinn attended College Heights Elementary school here and did his high school work at Shawnee-Mission North High School in Shawnee Mission, Kan., where he was graduated in 1961. He did undergraduate work at Howard County Junior College and then at Kansas University, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1965.

While in law school, he was a member of Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity, and of the American Law Student Association. He also served as all-university election chairman at SMU.

He is currently serving as an administrative assistant for all student officers on the campus. His plans after graduation are indefinite, but they do include a graduation party in Juarez Aug. 3.

'Skeeter' Machine Still Living

The city is still doing battle with the ever-present horde of mosquitoes according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

The mosquito machine is currently spraying in the Hillside area, "which is where we have had most of our complaints lately," Lillard said.

Preacher Ties WCC To Red Propaganda

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — The Rev. Carl McIntire of Collingswood, N.J., charged today the World Council of Churches is "a platform for Communist propaganda."

An outspoken radio preacher who heads the rival International Council of Christian Churches, McIntire is attending the WCC assembly in Uppsala as a newsman.

He spoke out in an interview with the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter, which called him "the World Council's enemy No. 1."

McIntire's group, representing 130 churches, mostly small, was founded in Amsterdam at the same time the WCC was constituted in the Dutch capital in 1948.

McIntire charged that the WCC ignored the Bible's clear and eternal meaning and worked from a purely Communist standpoint.

He said Metropolitan Nikodim of the Russian Orthodox Church, a prominent delegate, "does not represent Christendom but the Soviet government."

An anti-Communist news conference was staged by Baltic churches in exile. McIntire was present there also.

Estonians and Latvians have set up an information center with a document exhibit here in connection with the assembly and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's visit to Sweden later this week.

The 730 WCC voting delegates, representing 300 million church members, were split up into committees preparing recommendations on a variety of theological and secular subjects for later presentation to the assembly.

Police Question Jukebox Suspect

Police are holding a woman in connection with an incident that occurred at the Banks Cafe Monday evening.

Raymond Chvojka, 1794 Yucca, reported that a woman damaged a jukebox in the cafe by prying open the back and taking 10 45-rpm records about 8 p.m. Police arrested her in the 500 block of North Lancaster minutes later.

Patients, Vols To Switch Roles

A group of patients at the Big Spring State Hospital and a group of volunteers will switch roles Wednesday as the patients will provide entertainment for the volunteers.

The patients sold doughnuts and lemonade on the hospital campus to finance the party they will give the volunteers. They mailed invitations to Circuit Riders members and other volunteers, and planned a program for the honorees.

This is the first time for such an activity at the hospital, a spokesman said.

Big Solar Flare Fouls Up Communications By Radio

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The biggest and brightest solar flare since 1966 fouled up short-wave radio communications around the world Monday, the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center reported.

And, according to the government scientists, there's a better than even chance of further radio trouble from the same flare on Wednesday, with the signs of the sun pointing to more big solar flares in the not-too-distant future.

"By our own short-wave monitoring and transmissions, we can see that we have had a tremendous interruption today," Kildahl said.

"NOISE STORMS"
He said the flare, which lasted about an hour, produced "noise storms" on short-wave transmissions that lasted several hours. By late evening the interference had died down, he said.

The storms affected a wide segment of the short-wave band, knocking out transmission from 184 megacycles to 10 megacycles, Kildahl said.

The flare was rated class 3 on a scale of brightness and size that has a maximum rating of class 4. It was the highest magnitude recorded since May, 1966, Kildahl said. Two Class 2 solar flares, which also interrupted short-wave communications, were recorded Saturday.

Flares of lesser magnitude are seen at some of the flare patrol stations almost every day, Kildahl said.

Dear Abby

The Naughty Sailor

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman, mid-forties, attractive (so I'm told), and my hobby is boating.

Let me explain, I am not madly man-hunting as I have a pretty good social life, although I have no one special at the moment.

My problem is a joker whose boat is tied up next to mine in the marina. He is in his early fifties, very attractive, and also divorced. He does a lot of entertaining on his boat. He is always very friendly when he sees me, but the only time I ever hear from him is when he wants to BORROW something. (He's borrowed everything from fishing gear to a fifth of vodka.) He always pays me back, but this is what bugs me:

He asked if he could borrow my boat for a night as he was entertaining a "lady" and wanted to try out my new navigation equipment! Now, what would YOU have told him?

SUNDAY SAILOR
DEAR SAILOR: I would have boxed his compass and told him to get lost.

DEAR ABBY: All my life my parents have raised me to be courteous and to respect my elders. This is getting harder every day. I will give you an example.

Last week I went to a baseball game with two of my friends. They left their seats in the stadium for a few moments and while they were gone a man about my father's age started to move in and signaled another man to come join him. I told him those seats belonged to my friends who would be back any moment. He said he would move when my friends returned.

Well, when my friends came back, this man refused to move. I reminded him that he had given his word, but he said, "Listen, kid, I'm 30 years older than you. You kids go find other seats."

Not wanting to start trouble, my friends left and sat somewhere else.

Now why are kids expected to show respect and be courteous to adults when adults act like this to us?

TEENAGER
DEAR TEENAGER: Teenagers complain (and justifiably so) that they are individuals and don't want to be judged by teenagers who behave in a discreditable manner. The same goes for adults. The men were rude and inconsiderate, but they fortunately do not represent ALL adults. Be fair.

DEAR ABBY: When my hus-al, but here is what I want to get across:

It turned out that this man had never known my husband! He makes a practice of reading the newspapers to find out where funerals are, how old the deceased was, where he lived, the number of children, and some of the lodges he belonged to, etc. Then he calls on the widow to get acquainted, saying he had been a good friend of her husband.

If I hadn't accidentally found out that he did this to other widows, I might have gotten even more seriously involved than I did. And it would have cost me a lot of money, too. Please print this as a warning to other unsuspecting widows.

Flag Desecration
Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bill providing stiff penalties for persons who desecrate the flag has been signed into law by President Johnson.

The controversial measure started through the legislative mill in 1967, when feeling ran high in Congress over antiwar demonstrations that included burning and other acts of disrespect to the flag.

The new law permits fines of up to $1,000 and imprisonment for as long as a year for persons who knowingly burn, deface, defile, mutilate or trample on the flag or any representation of it.
