TOUGH BARGAINING U.S.-Soviet Agreement Is Signed

MOSCOW (AP) - The United States and the Soviet Union signed a 1968-69 cultural and technical exchange agreement today after some tough bargaining and both sides expressed enthusiasm. U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson signed for the United States and Nikola M. Lunkov, head of the Foreign Ministry's new section for cultural relations with foreign nations, signed for the Soviet Union.

The agreement provides for continuation of a 10-year-old program for scientific, technological, educational and cultural contacts between the two countries. The previous agreement expired last December.

It was signed the same day a Moscow - New York air route was opened as another sign of Soviet-American cooperation. The route was envisaged in the first cultural exchange agreement. signed in 1958 but delayed by the ups and downs of relations.

Negotiations on the new cultural agreement were delayed partly by poor relations resulting from the war in Vietnam. But the main reason was a reorganization of the Soviet system for handling cultural relations.

Negotiations began June 3, bogged down in disagreement and finally came to a conclusion last

There Is No Immediate Major Threat To Saigon

SAIGON (AP) - U.S. sources said today that some enemy units believed poised for an attack on the capital have pulled back and "there is no immediate major threat to Saigon."

"The enemy has backed off," said one highly placed U.S. official. "They don't have the capability to attack except in a very small way. Police barricades went up around flood-wrecked portions of Lubbock today after a new downpour, following five inches of rain Sunday, flooded western sections of the South Plains city.

Heavy thunderstorms built up around the city after as much as two inches of fast rain began at 5 a.m. Part of a storm sewer system caved in this morning collapsing adjacent street pavement. Police said three unoccupied autos went into the crevass.

DOWNPOUR

Police barricaded five blocks of 34th Street, one of Lubbock's several shopping centers from motor traffic.

Radio KCBD on Lubbock's southeast edge said its rain gauge measured an inch of rain in five minutes shortly after the early morning downpour began.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says the U.S. Naval Academy is not producing the mature, confident and well-educated officers the modern Navy needs.

Rickover also says the De-fense Department "is too much influenced by an industry viewpoint" in its dealings with defense contractors and their profits, "far from being too low as claimed," may be too high.

The deputy commander of the Navy's nuclear propulsion programs issued the broadsides at a closed House appropriations subcommittee hearing in May. His testimony was released today.

said in the testimony released today that contractors are able to "hide large profits in costs so that the government never really knows . . . how much profit a company actually makes Rickover said what he called an excessive interchange of personnel between government and industry has led to some cases where government contract officials deal with their former companies and vice versa.

"Substantial amounts of technical information regarding this country's military capabilities," Rickover said, "are being given away through advertising of government contractors," much of it at government expense.

Missing Plane

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP) - Civil Air Patrol authorities called off a search late Sunday for a missing single-engine Piper Cherokee plane with four men aboard.

Col. Homer Johnson of the Odessa Civil Air Patrol said he had reports that the plane was in trouble just south of Sanderson, but he does not know if it crashed or not.

The men reported on board were all Sanderson men, and have been identified as Clyde Whistler and his brother John, C. B. Chandler and Walter Shumaker.

Johnson said there has been no sign of the plane since it left Odessa en route to help a search for a missing airplane carrying a California couple. The California bound airplane was reported missing after it took off from San Antonio.

The California airplane involved in the search took off from San Antonio July 4 with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Gardener of Rolling Hills, Calif., aboard.

No trace of the Gardner airplane has been found.

A Civil Air Patrol spokesman at San Antonio said today's search area was between San Antonio and Fort Stockton, with a search headquarters set up at Ozona.

Earlier today it was reported that the North Vietnamese 32nd and 33rd regiments had reached the Cambodian border after evading U.S. B52 bombers on a 250-mile march from the central highlands. The main thrust of an enemy attack on the capital is expected to come from the west.

RUSK, Tex. (AP)-Pete Vardas, 35, an escaped convict described as extremely dangerous, surrendered without a fight when confronted by two officers Sunday.

After handing his pistol to officers, Vardas then begged for food and water.

He had been the object of an intensive manhunt in the East Texas Piney Woods after overpowering his guards and escaping Thursday from the Rusk State Hospital, where he had been undergoing brain wave tests. He was serving a 99-year sentence from Fort Worth.

Cherokee County Deputy Sheriff Orval Grimes said Vardas pulled a gun on Lester Evans, manager of a fruit stand, Sunday afternoon and forced him to drive north on US 69 between Rusk and Jacksonville.

~ Grimes said he and Highway ' Patrolman John Taylor, going south in a squad car, met Vardas and his captive.

He said Vardas apparently recognized the officers and made Evans whip off the highway and onto a shallow side road.

The officers turned around and Vardas, apparently realizing he was blocked in, gave his pistol to Evans. There was no violence.

Friday night, he exchanged shots with a Jacksonville farmer, Hugh H. Collum, after Collum reportedly refused to give him a ride to Fort Worth.

Rogers eluded a New York City police dragnet after the shootings Thursday night and fled to North Carolina where, accompanied by his brother, Henry Rogers, 35, he surrendered to authorities.

Authorities held Rogers incommunicado and refused to say where he was or how he had been brought back to the city.

Rogers is accused of shooting three men with an automatic carbine in front of the Bronx tenement where he worked.

It's cheaper than renting a car.

For one thing there's no mileage charge. Just a flat $65.* Monday through Friday you have our whole fleet of jet-powered planes at your dispos al. We call it the Consecutive Executive.

You can commute all week long to any city we fly to in the U.S. And you can fly back home again every night. And it won't cost you a penny more. In fact you save money.

(If you don't have to stay overnight you don't have to pay motel bills.)

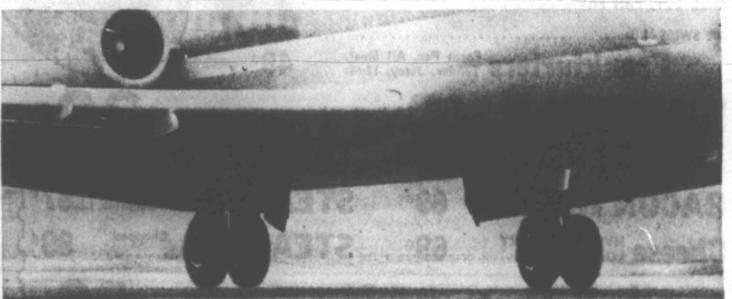

Or. You can fly to one city. Then on to another. And on to another. Do it all week long.

(Remember, we fly to 62 cities in six states in the Southwest. So you can really cover a lot of ground.)

All we ask is you make reservations. A call to your Travel Agent will take care of it. Or call us direct.

And let us chauffeur you around for a week.

passengers turned hijackers - four U.S. craft, one Colombian and two Venezuelan. What can be done about

The answer, alas, is quite unsatisfactory: Not very much. It is not enough to place armed guards aboard every flight that comes within a flying radius of Cuba. The hijacker could hide behind a stewardess and force her to give instructions to the pilot by intercom. Aside from the danger of gunplay to passengers, there is the even greater danger of explosive decompression if a bullet pierces the skin of a plane operating, say, at 35,000 feet.

It might be possible to minimize the risk if every passenger and his

Since Jan. 1, seven passenger air-liners have been diverted to Cuba by airlines fear the adverse public reaction to such a procedure.

> There is one faint glimmer of hope, though. Some intensive experimentation is going on to introduce minute quantities of radioactivity into the powder used in ammunition. It would be enough then just to have a sensitive receiver in the passenger lanes to warn of an armed passenger.

> Until some better warning device is developed, however, airline officials are being forced to be philosophic. After all, they reason, the planes have been released, the passengers have not been mistreated, and inconvenience has been the principal byproduct. So much for some jet travel in the mid-Twentieth Century.

Thorough Probe Warranted

The Federal Communications Com- sor program content. It does have the mission has done well to order hearings on Howard Hughes' effort to acquire control of the American Broadcasting Co. The FCC chairman, Rosel H. Hyde, put his finger on the mat-ter when he noted that "what is involved here is the possible transfer of control of one of the most important media of mass communications in the nation."

Such a transfer should not be lightly made, and certainly not without an appearance by the man who aspires to power over a major network which uses air channels owned by the public. The government does not have, and should not have, the right to cen-right and the obligation to discover if it can whether the attitudes and intentions of those seeking control over a communications network jibe with the broad public interest.

A broadcasting network is, or at any rate ought to be, more than sim-ply a money-making machine. The FCC has not yet asked the billionaire industrialist, recently in the news because of his huge Las Vegas acquisi-tions, to appear at its hearings. But Chairman Hyde has said that the hearings will "fully explore" various "substantial questions?" about the proposed transaction. This could not properly be done without the pres-ence of Hughes himself.

Last week, retraveling nearly eight years, we skimmed South Texasall under a line from Orange to Del Rio: my favorite places to stop and see . . . or do . . . or simply feel what was long ago. Now, let's take West Texas and the Plains.

Again, you'll need your map; we'll be zigzagging, first toward El Paso, then up far as Canadian River country and beyond. We left off at Del Rio, remember?

Around The Rim The Commandments-Different Version

One thing and another: In Uganda, the natives smitten with Christianity learn the Ten Commandments a little differently than the way they're taught here. In that part of Africa, the table of religious ordinances reads thusly: 1. I be God your Master. No get other God only me. 2. No talk God name for nothing. 3. Keep Sunday. 4. Hear for your father and your mother. 5. No kill. 6. No make bad. 7. No thief 8. No lie 9. No want 7. No thief. 8. No lie. 9. No want other man his woman. 10. No want other man his things.

It will be noted that the second commandment is left out, whereas the tenth has been made into two.

Quite probably, it is thought that the primitive converts are in no danger of sinning by making graven images.

A QUESTION for today: Why is one section of this state referred to as South Texas whereas the geographical extremities in a distant commonwealth are known as Southern California? . . .

ONE SAGE remarked recently that about.

any woman bright enough to earn a Phi Beta Kappa key should also be smart enough to melt it down post-haste, and never mention it again.

In short, brilliant women are still not popular in male circles, even in today's enlightened society. Bright men resent them and they terrify those of the male species who are dim-witted or are border-line cases.

THE SAME observer also insists there is much to be gained by playing the fool. For one thing, you evade a lot of trouble and inconvenience.

If you get the reputation for being a little dotty, you are never picked to serve on committees.

Playing the fool comes easy with a few people. As someone once said, everyone is a fool for at least five minutes a day. Others of us work overtime at it without getting time and a half pay.

David Lawrence Crime Blamed On High Court

WASHINGTON - It isn't often that the chief justice of the highest court of one of the largest states in the union speaks out publicly in denuncia-tion of several opinions of the Su-preme Court of the United States.

Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr., of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in addressing the convention of the district attorneys' association of his state, bemoaned the fact that the United States has become a "land of unrest, lawlessness, violence and disorder - a land of turmoil, of riotings, lootings, shootings,"

THE MAIN theme of Justice Bell's speech is contained in the following paragraph:

"The recent decisions of a majority of the Supreme Court of the United States which shackle the police and the courts and make it terrifically difficult - as you well know - to pro-tect society from crime and criminals, are, I repeat, among the principal reasons for the turmoil and the nearrevolutionary conditions which prevail in our country, and e specially in Washington."

DISCUSSING THE reasons why respect for law and order, as well as respect for "any public or private authority," is rapidly vanishing, Justice

Bell blames a number of factors.

First, he says, many political leaders are stirring up unrest, discontent and greed, and many racial, church and college leaders are advocating "mass civil disobedience and intentional violation of any and every law which a mands" of those who advocate defiance of law and order "under the cloak of worthy objectives" - and who commit all kinds of illegal actions which they miscall "civil rights" -are harming and not helping their cause. He says:

"LET'S FACE IT -a dozen recent revolutionary decisions by a majority of the Supreme Court of the United States in favor of murderers, robbers, rapists and other dangerous criminals which astonish and dismay countless law-abiding citizens who look to our courts for protection and help, and the mollycoddling of lawbreakers and dan-gerous criminals by many judges each and all of these are worrying and frightening millions of law-abiding citizens and are literally jeopardizing the future welfare of our country. Is this still America?"

CHIEF JUSTICE Bell calls on the district attorneys to see that persons who violate the law are prosecuted promptly, and to conduct the prosecutions so as to "comply with all the recently created technical standards" set up by Supreme Court rulings. He recommends, however, that the district attorneys' association take a position publicly with respect to every decision of the Supreme Court of the United States which "the association is convinced is unfair to our lawabiding people and is unjustified by the Constitution and any statutory law." He urges that a copy of all the association's recommendations, resolutions and criticisms be sent to members of Congress, state legislators and the Supreme Court of the United States itself. Chief Justice Bell concludes: "Finally, you must fight with all your might and power and as never before for all the law-abiding people of our wonderful state who are consciously or unconsciously relying upon you and the courts to protect them from felonious criminals and from all law-breakers."

I made my fortune honestly, and people regard me as a selfmade man. What is by obligation to God regarding my wealth? M.U.

I am glad that you yourself do not claim to be self-made. There is no such person and never was. You took advantage of prevailing situations to your own profit. You were little responsible for these situations. They were made for you. Every baby born in this country and every immigrant coming to our shores helped you make money. One caliming to be self-made is merely arrogant. The Bible, in Deuteronomy, says: "... thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth thee the power to get wealth."

What you have beyond your own needs is God's. You hold it in trust. Your responsibility is your stewardship of God's wealth to which you lay claim. The Bible provides the tithe - or one-tenth of one's income as an obligation. The tithe is notobligatory but suggestive.

In early Hebrew days the tithe was brought to church - brought not sent! There, through charity and in many other ways it is directed into channels which advance the Kingdom of God. Remember, however, the tithe may not discharge your obligation. You may owe much more. I know of one industrialist who gives his entire surplus income back to God. Others give much larger percentages than one-tenth.

IT WAS AN incident, hardly more than that, in the bitter struggle for control of the capital city. This big turn has been under an eerie seige for three months. Sporadic outbursts of street fighting and arson have been contained by emergency curfews. The brazen occupation of federal parkland by the Poor People was tamely accepted at first, and the eventual clearing of Resurrection City was accomplished without resist-ance, only because the squatters had made it an unlivable shanty-slum.

BUT THE SEIGE was not lifted when the Poor decamped. Many of the invaders remained behind as infiltrators. Their guerrilla tactics now have got the defending forces baffled-almost buffaloed.
