IN MIAMI Convention Laborers Walk Out

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Electrical workers installing equipment for television coverage of the Republican National Convention next month walked off the job Saturday in a jurisdictional dispute with CBS, network and city officials said.

Bill Leonard, vice president of CBS News and the network's supervising executive in Miami Beach, said the stoppage by 33 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers involved a dispute over a new device to superimpose names and titles over television pictures.

Others Quit In Sympathy

A convention hall spokesman said 200 other workers, in the center on overtime, walked off in sympathy with the IBEW members. The IBEW members are from New York City and Hollywood, Calif.

Spokesmen for NBC and ABC said they were not involved in the dispute, although most work at the convention hall came to a standstill.

City and Republican officials said they were not alarmed at this point by the work stoppage, although a strike by the same union has threatened to force the Democratic National Convention to move away from Chicago later in August.

Won't Stop Convention

"The strike will not imperil the convention," Miami Beach Mayor Jay Derner said.

Fred Morrison, public relations chairman for the GOP convention, said the effect of the strike would depend on its length.

Leonard said CBS wanted one of its news editorial employees to pre-set the device, but that the union wanted one of its members to handle the job.

City Manager Jack Duffield said the city was not involved in the dispute, and learned of it only a few hours before the workers stopped.

Most Of Work Done

A 74-day strike by the IBEW in Chicago has raised the threat that the Democratic National Convention, scheduled to start Aug. 28, may have to be moved to another city. Miami Beach has been considered a likely site in the event of such a change.

Duffield said "most of the work has been wrapped up" for the Republican convention in Miami Beach, but any delays could cause trouble. He said the major problem would be in completing installation of equipment needed for the television networks and other news facilities.

Mrs. Pool A Candidate

DALLAS (AP) — The widow of Rep. Joe Pool says she will be a candidate in an Aug. 24 election to fill her husband's unexpired term.

Pool, a Dallas Democrat, collapsed and died of a heart attack Sunday at Houston. The winner of the special election, called by Gov. John Connally, will fill Pool's vacancy until January—when his term ends.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

The bell has tolled for another serviceman listing Big Spring as his home. Spec. Sam Stephen Allison, whose wife, Helen, resides at 1513 1/2 Scurry, died Monday of wounds received the previous week in combat in Vietnam. He will be buried in Abilene where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lantz, reside.

There were two other brighter developments, for Maj. Fred Neale Thompson was one of the three pilots released by the North Vietnamese. He was listed as being from Big Spring, but this was because his wife and children have been here with Mrs. Harry Logan, 512 Scott, in recent months. They had returned to Monch Corner, S. C., when word came of his impending release. At Hurlbut AFB, Fla., Capt. Bill Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson, ejected safely when his A-1J went out of control during a bombing practice run.

Alert patrolmen and detectives combined to nab a couple of burglary suspects, a stolen car and a batch of loot. When two men were picked up returning to a car reported stolen to police, the

Peace Depends On A Cease-Fire

Presidents End Summit Meeting

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam and President Johnson chat on a hill at Pacific command headquarters in Honolulu before their final get-together on the Vietnam war. They announced an agreement that any final peace settlement must include a complete end to fighting in Vietnam.

Czechs Agree To Soviet Demand For A Conference

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders have acceded to a Russian call for a showdown meeting in the Soviet Union this week on the liberalization program the Prague reformers refuse to halt.

Usually reliable sources said the Czechoslovak leadership under Alexander Dubcek, the first party secretary, accepted the Soviet invitation. There was no official confirmation.

IN KIEV

The Soviet 11-member Politburo, or ruling council, called Friday on the Czechoslovak party's 11-man presidium to meet in Moscow, Kiev or Lvov. Prague sources said the meeting will probably take place in Kiev, about 350 miles from the nearest Czechoslovak border point, on Monday or Tuesday.

In principle, this would be after the withdrawal, promised for Sunday, of the last of the Soviet troops who lingered here since Warsaw Pact maneuvers ended June 30. One tank unit was still reported within 30 miles of Prague on Saturday, however.

CONCESSIONS

The acceptance represents a concession on the part of the Czechoslovaks who have repeatedly said any bilateral talks with other parties would have to take place in Czechoslovakia. It also has aspects of a risk because a few of the presidium members are thought to want to brake the liberalization drive.

There was speculation that the French Communist party chief, Waldeck Rochet, who talked with Dubcek here before returning to Paris Saturday, may have been instrumental in arranging the meeting. Waldeck Rochet visited Moscow earlier this week.

It was not known whether Dubcek won any concessions from the Soviets in return for accepting a Soviet site for the meeting. An obvious one would be a firm promise on the complete withdrawal of Soviet troops.

The Soviet Union has been using the slow pull out of the original force of 18,500 Red army men as political pressure.

Official Czechoslovak announcements reported Soviet units still in Bohemia and Moravia, more than 200 miles from the border checkpoint where they are to leave Czechoslovak territory.

Newspapers published a picture of Soviet tanks at Podbrady, about 30 miles from Prague.

Virginia Man 26th To Get Heart Transplant

HOUSTON (AP) — A 59-year old Arlington, Va., man became the world's 26th heart recipient Saturday when a surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley placed the heart of a Houston housewife in his chest.

A spokesman at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where five other human heart transplant operations have been performed, identified the recipient as Fred C. Everman, a retired barber, who was doing well one hour following surgery.

The donor was Mrs. Evelyn G. Krikorian, 33, admitted to the hospital July 3 with kidney disease. The spokesman said Mrs. Krikorian had been in a coma since July 16 when she suffered a cardiac arrest followed by brain damage.

The woman died at 3:40 p.m. and the six-man surgical team began the two-hour operation 10 minutes later.

The transplanted heart started without electrical shock, the spokesman said.

Everman was admitted to St. Luke's for a second time June 29 suffering from heart failure and coronary artery disease. He also had suffered several heart attacks, the spokesman said.

The donor's husband, Berge G. Krikorian, gave permission for the transplant. Everman was "doing well with all vital signs stable and an uneventful recovery is expected," the spokesman said.

Plane Crash Kills Two Men

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two men were killed Saturday when a light plane crashed and burned on a farm five miles north of Fort Worth.

The victims were identified as Albert Earl Morris of Saginaw, executive vice-president and chief engineer for the Wren Aircraft Co., and Robert J. Bjornstad of Clinton, Wash., director of military programs for the firm.

The president of Wren, E. H. Pickering, said the plane was a modified Cessna 182 which was being developed and tested for the military service. The plane was on its second flight when it crashed.

A witness to the crash, William Lewis, said the plane appeared to be having engine trouble and began a spin toward the earth. He said one of the men jumped or fell from the craft at an altitude of about 100 feet. The other victim was found in the plane which burned after crashing.

Wren Aircraft is located at Fort Worth's Meacham Field.

LBJ, Thieu Holding To Same View

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson and President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam sought Saturday to put pressure on North Vietnam to halt all fighting as a prelude to final settlement of the war. At the same time they said Hanoi seems to be preparing renewed offensive action.

In a communique climaxing a brief summit meeting, the two presidents concluded North Vietnam has yet to respond constructively to the geographical bombing restrictions which Johnson ordered March 31 and which were followed by the opening of preliminary talks in Paris.

NO DIFFERENCE

Shortly after the communique was issued, Johnson told reporters "There were no great differences that appeared" in the talks.

Johnson, summing up the conference in his own words, emphasized that it "was not very exciting" in the sense that there was no significant friction or conflict among the participants.

The U.S. President used strong language to knock down any idea that he and Thieu had taken up such potentially important policy matters as a total halt in the bombing of North Vietnam or "a pullout."

He called these rumors and described them as "just pure, absolute tommyrot and fiction."

He said such subjects did not figure in any of the discussions.

STILL FIGHTING

The joint statement said Hanoi appears to be pursuing a policy of fighting while negotiating at Paris and continues to build up forces in the South but despite this they said they see no alternatives to pressing ahead for realistic discussions.

The statement said:

"The two presidents deplored the use of the discussions for propaganda purposes on the North Vietnamese side, and such unrealistic positions as Hanoi's refusal to admit the presence of North Vietnamese troops in the South."

RESTATEMENT

The lengthy communique consisted in the main of restatement of positions advanced earlier by the two governments. It made no mention of whether the chief executives had discussed the possibility of a full halt in the bombings of North Vietnam in an effort to break the stalemate in the Paris talks between U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives.

In their conclusion, Johnson and Thieu called on Hanoi "to forsake the paths of violence, and to take the road toward peace now open to them through the Paris talks, which should lead to negotiations involving directly North Vietnam and South Vietnam."

They stressed a full role for South Vietnam in any final settlement.

NO COALITION

Johnson said again that the United States would not allow the imposition of a coalition government or any other form of government on the people of South Vietnam without their consent.

The New Miss Texas

Crowned as Miss Texas in Fort Worth Saturday night, to represent the state in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, was Miss Diane Huggins, 26, representing Nacogdoches. She weighs 412 pounds and has measurements of 35-23-35.

Nacogdoches Girl Wins Texas Title

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Diane Huggins, 26, Miss Nacogdoches, was crowned Miss Texas of 1968 — in colorful pageantry at Will Rogers Coliseum Saturday night.

She will represent the Lone Star State in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City in September.

Glenda Propp, 18, Miss Bask County, was named first runner-up.

Peggy Kincannon, 20, Miss Lubbock, was picked as second runner-up.

Pamela Cain, 18, Miss Hurst, was named third runner-up and Miss Dorothy Lou Pickens, 21, Miss Fort Worth, was named fourth runner-up.

Miss Huggins, who performed a jazz dance in a clown costume, is a junior at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches.

An education major, she is 5-foot-5 1/2, weighs 112 pounds and her 35-23-35 curves carried her to a preliminary swimsuit award Friday night.

Five others who made the semi-finals but were eliminated in the last go-round were Natalie Mabry, 20, Miss West Texas; Brenda Robertson, 19, Miss Texas Woman's University; Kathy Brown, 19, Miss Richland area; Kathy Campbell, 18, Miss Irving and Treva Ladd, 17, Miss Burkburnett.

Infantrymen Meet Large Cong Force

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen clashed with a large enemy force late Saturday on an old battlefield north of Saigon and artillery and helicopter gunships were called in to help the Americans.

Officers reported that a company of the 1st Infantry Division made "sharp contact" with the enemy and came under heavy small arms and mortar fire. There was no word on casualties.

1967 ATTACKS

The fighting broke out near Song Be, 70 miles north of the capital and just south of the Cambodian border where strong enemy forces mounted a series of large-scale attacks on the central highlands last fall. It was only 25 miles east of Loc Ninh, where troopers of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Division killed 39 enemy in fighting Thursday and Friday.

Although there were no details of the Song Be action, some U.S. sources speculated that enemy forces moving from Cambodia are again building up in the area.

No other ground actions were reported Saturday.

On Friday, government troops rescued 39 manacled captives who had been chained to stakes by the Viet Cong. The guerrillas were scared away by U.S. B52 bombers, who pounded the Viet Cong positions in the Mekong Delta before South Vietnamese infantrymen charged into an open field to free the prisoners.

Spokesmen said 20 other prisoners were unaccounted for and presumably were taken along by the fleeing Viet Cong. The civilian captives included 13 women and 26 men and teenage boys who had been held by the Viet Cong for periods ranging from two months to two years.

KILLED, CAPTURED

The South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing six of the enemy, capturing nine suspects and seizing 10 rifles, 200 sticks of TNT and 250 mortar and antitank rocket shells. Government casualties were three wounded.

Nine miles north of the ambush site, other government troops reported killing 29 guerrillas in two days of scattered fighting. Three government soldiers were killed and 28 were wounded in the engagements.

TELEVISION 'CONFRONTATION'

Demo Foes Agree To Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination, agreed Saturday to a nationwide television confrontation.

McCarthy, campaigning in Nashville, Tenn., promptly accepted an offer from the Columbia Broadcasting System for "an hour-long, prime-time, face-to-face, TV and radio discussion on Vietnam and other issues."

The American Broadcasting Co. also made an offer Saturday to McCarthy and Humphrey to join in a special, hour-long edition of its public affairs program "Issues and Answers."

Humphrey mentioned no network and ABC said it had not heard from either candidate.

A Humphrey aide, acknowledging that the vice president had received the bids, said Humphrey would like to participate in a television "discussion" with McCarthy the week before the Democratic National Convention.

The aide, in Washington, said details would have to be worked out with McCarthy.

Both networks said they were issuing the invitations—the second extended by ABC—because of an apparent reversal in Humphrey's position against such a debate.

McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy held the first TV meeting of presidential candidates of either party on "Issues and Answers" prior to the California primary.

In a telegram to the candidates, CBS News President Richard Salant suggested either Sunday July 21 or Sunday July 28 at 9 p.m. EDT as a possible time. He said the show would have one moderator, CBS News correspondent Walter Cronkite.

Salant said he was making the invitation "in line with published statements today that both candidates might be agreeable to such a public discussion before the Democratic national convention."

Elmer Lower, president of ABC News, said he was returning the invitation because of a statement by Humphrey indicating he might welcome such a discussion. Previously, McCarthy had accepted the invitation and Humphrey had not.

Lower noted that in an interview with the Washington Post, Humphrey had commented on a McCarthy proposal for a joint discussion of American policy in Vietnam and said, "It may be desirable to have such a discussion before the convention."

American Petrofina Has Higher First Half Yield

NEW YORK — American Petrofina, Incorporated's net earnings increased 15 per cent on a sales gain of 9 per cent in the first half of 1968, President Harry A. Jackson announced.

Net income of American Petrofina for the six months ended June 30, 1968 amounted to $7,126,014, or 97 cents per share of Common Stock, as compared to $6,211,732, or 87 cents per share during the same period of 1967.

Cash flow for the current six months was $12,956,065, equal to $1.75 per share, as against $12,103,172, or $1.70 per share, in the first six months of 1967. Gross revenue increased to $96,496,892, as compared to $88,270,238 reported in the first half of last year.

Jackson said that, with benefits accruing from the company's 1968 capital investments and the maintenance of recent price improvements, earnings for the second half of the year should exceed those of the first six months. He mentioned that the 500-million-pound-per-year styrene monomer plant at Carville, La., a joint venture of Petrofina's subsidiary, Cosden Oil and Chemical, with Borg-Warner Corporation, was in full-scale operation a July 1.

Greater production of crude oil and natural gas and increased sales volumes of refined products and Petrochemicals were factors in the improved results. They helped offset higher costs of crude oil and wages and declines in certain product prices.

For comparison purposes, earnings for the first half of 1967 have been restated upwards by reducing the provision for federal income taxes for the period from $1,300,000 to $400,000.

Teens Fill In For Adult Volunteers During Summer

By JEAN FANNIN

Teens are showing their usual good side this summer through volunteer work at the Veterans Administration Hospital, according to Mrs. Arach Cunningham, director of volunteers.

"We have 42 young people who are taking their first step forward in doing civic service for the community," she said.

The teenagers work in dietetics, laboratory, medical administration, nursing, occupational and recreational therapy, X-ray, medical and surgical office and the volunteer office.

"Each volunteer is interviewed as to his or her interests and plans for the future," Mrs. Cunningham said. "We try to assign them to some area which is of interest to them."

The Youth Volunteers, as they are called, are between the ages of 15 and 18 years, and during the month of June, they donated 1,683 hours of volunteer work.

The average worker spends 12-14 hours per week at the hospital. They are limited to two days per week and usually work 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 or 3 p.m. each day, Mrs. Cunningham said.

CANDYSTRIPE
Each volunteer is sponsored by a service group, she said. The girls wear pink and white striped pinafores and white blouses and the boys wear white sports shirts. The girls' pinafores sparked the nickname "candystripers."

Four volunteers returned this year for a second summer of work and one boy back for his third summer.

Roger Klonka has spent three summers doing volunteer work at the VA, and through June of this summer, he has accumulated 415 hours of work.

Kathy Conley has worked 213 hours through June; Deborah Dunlap, 203; Verna Goswick, 319; and Ruth Russell, 218. Students are limited to the amount of work they can be assigned but are allowed to substitute in the same area in which they are assigned. This accounts for the variation in hours, Mrs. Cunningham said.

LOTS OF HELP
Mrs. Cunningham contacts area high schools each spring to ask for Youth Volunteers and rarely has trouble getting more than enough workers. She estimated that about 50 teens would be the perfect number for the VA, "but the perfect number varies with our needs," she said.

The volunteer program usually begins June 1 and all volunteers visit the hospital May 31 to acquaint themselves with the hospital and its procedures during a day-long formal orientation program.

They are welcomed by the hospital director and the chiefs of divisions, trained in policies and ethics of the hospital and given a tour of the complex. At the end of the day the volunteers meet with the chief of the division in which they will be working.

They receive special on-the-job training in the division, but this is the only formal training they undergo. Most of the volunteer work done during the summer is by youths to relieve the adult volunteers who work year round, Mrs. Cunningham said.

ISSUE OWN PAPER
In addition to their regular duties, several girls have banded together to put out the Volunteer Times, a Youth Volunteers newspaper, for the fifth summer in a row.

The newspaper is mimeographed and carries names and news of the teens volunteering their summer to work at the VA. Ruth Russell is editor; Verna Goswick, assistant editor; Lynda Swords, artist; and Linda Affleck, typist.

In addition to the regularly scheduled Youth Volunteers, Rainbow Girls visit the hospital 9-10:30 a.m. Mondays and Wednesdays and play and sing for the patients during their morning break.

All will be seeking answers to the question "What more can be done to improve cotton sales outside the U.S.?"

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says "the entire cotton industry has urged government to encourage increased cotton exports for years, and it appears we have finally gotten their attention. Unless we can deliver specific recommendations our cries for increased exports in the future may fall on deaf ears. It is something of a 'put up or shut up' proposition."

part of the committee planned to question him.

Eastland said some members do not believe there is a vacancy on the court because President Johnson has said he will accept Warren's retirement only after a successor is qualified.

Because of this, Eastland said, the committee plans to take no action on Thornberry's nomination as an associate justice until after the Senate votes on Fortas.

With a large bloc of Republicans ready to filibuster against the nominations and opposition growing among Southern Democrats, an actual vote on Fortas' nomination could run into lengthy and possibly fatal delay.

Cotton Exports To Be Talked

An increase in the amount of cotton sold to foreign markets continues to offer the only hope in the next few years for returning to production of two million bales or more on the High Plains and a corresponding production increase across the cotton belt.

Exports are especially important to the High Plains, which over the years has sold some 65 per cent of its total production into the export market, according to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Gathering in Lubbock in August and 14 will be the executive committee of Cotton Council International, the special export committee of the National Cotton Council, leaders in business and agriculture from this and other cotton areas and top officials from six different agencies of the federal government that influence cotton exports.

The committee wound up its questioning of Fortas Friday but there is a question whether his nomination can reach the Senate floor before Labor Day.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., an opponent of Fortas' nomination, opened the hearing today by asking Thornberry about a decision he wrote for the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals declaring the Texas poll tax unconstitutional as a requirement for voting in state elections.

"You held it was unconstitutional under the due process clause of the 14th amendment, did you not?" asked Ervin.

"Senator, I'm at the stage where I have to say the opinion speaks for itself," Thornberry replied.

Ervin asked him if he agreed that senators, with their responsibility to pass on Supreme Court appointments, have a right and a duty to ascertain the constitutional philosophy of nominees.

"I certainly do, sir," Thornberry said.

"But I take it that you are unwilling, under your judicial privilege, to explain your constitutional philosophy as expounded by you in your opinions," Ervin said.

SEPARATION
"I'd not say judicial privilege but under the separation of powers," answered Thornberry referring to the constitutional structure for independent and coordinate judicial, legislative and executive branches of the government.

Today's unusual Saturday hearing was delayed nearly 40 minutes because of roll-call votes in the Senate.

Thornberry, accompanied by his wife, sat patiently waiting until the senators returned from the floor to start the hearing.

Both Fortas and Thornberry are long-time friends of President Johnson. Thornberry, 39, whose home is in Austin, Tex., succeeded Johnson as a member of the House when Johnson was first elected to the Senate.

Thornberry Won't Discuss Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry told the Senate Judiciary Committee today the doctrine of separation-of-powers prevents him from testifying about decisions he has written.

Thornberry, a former congressman nominated to succeed Associate Justice Abe Fortas if Fortas is confirmed as chief justice, thus echoed Fortas' position during four days of hearings earlier this week.

Fortas, named to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren, contended that because of his constitutional responsibility to the separation of powers doctrine he could not answer questions about decisions of the court of which he has been a member since 1965.

POLL TAX RULING
The committee wound up its questioning of Fortas Friday but there is a question whether his nomination can reach the Senate floor before Labor Day.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., an opponent of Fortas' nomination, opened the hearing today by asking Thornberry about a decision he wrote for the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals declaring the Texas poll tax unconstitutional as a requirement for voting in state elections.

"But I take it that you are unwilling, under your judicial privilege, to explain your constitutional philosophy as expounded by you in your opinions," Ervin said.

Vote On Fortas Facing A Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — After four days of committee testimony the foremost questions facing both Abe Fortas and the Senate is when his nomination as chief justice may reach a floor vote.

The outlook for any kind of floor action, after the Senate Judiciary Committee wound up its questioning of President Johnson's nominee Friday, was for sometime after Labor Day.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he would call a closed meeting of the committee "one day next week" to take up Fortas' qualifications to succeed Earl Warren.

The committee's regular meeting day is Wednesday. But under its rules one member can have any item on the agenda delayed a week.

This, plus the time customarily allowed for filing majority and minority reports after a committee vote, could delay the nomination's reaching the Senate floor too late for consideration before Congress breaks for the national political conventions.

Eastland also announced calling off Homer Thornberry before today's unusual Saturday session although he said only

YOUR MONEY

By CHARLES E. BEIL

One of the most important changes in the history of the savings and loan association came with the introduction of the "savings member" idea.

In the earliest associations, members only contributed their savings, and the same members were the only loan borrowers. No one else was involved.

As savings and loan associations flourished, it became clear that more people needed loans than the savings of the limited membership could make possible.

Since there were a lot of people who saw the wisdom of regular savings, along with earning substantial interest, the "savings member" idea came into being.

These were people who were not joining the association with the purpose of a future loan, but simply to save.

Soon savings and loan associations were making loans to non-members, too. From then on the scope of the associations widened. Today you, like so many thousands of others, will find our association a better place for your savings, where you'll earn the highest return with insured safety and extra convenience.

Hundreds Of Guests Flee Las Vegas Hotel Blaze

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — More than 400 guests fled a fire that destroyed 100 rooms in Del Webb's Sahara Hotel early Saturday. More than 20 persons were treated for the effects of smoke inhalation.

The fire centered in one of three two-story structures comprising the south wing, which made up the original hotel. Not affected were two high-rise wings — 24 and 14 stories — housing guests, the showroom and the casino, where gambling went on as usual.

Three firemen and 20 guests were treated at Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital for the effects of smoke inhalation and then were released, authorities said.

The fire broke out in the 200-room section of the hotel complex about 6 a.m., firemen said. Hotel officials said no alarm was given, but employees made the rounds of rooms to evacuate guests. The 1,000-room hotel was booked solid for the weekend.

"I thought the pounding on the door was some drunk on a wild party," said Mrs. Roy Nelson of Dallas, Ore., one of 400 guests evacuated from the wing. "I was ready to go back to sleep when I heard someone yell 'Fire!'"

Don Bairo of New Kensington, Pa., said both he and his wife were treated for cut wrists after they broke the window of their first-floor room and climbed to the ground on a stepladder.

Other guests also broke windows, and some lowered themselves to the ground with bedsheets tied together, firemen said.

The evacuated guests, most of them in bathrobes and bedclothes, flooded the hotel convention center while hotel personnel sought to find other accommodations for them.

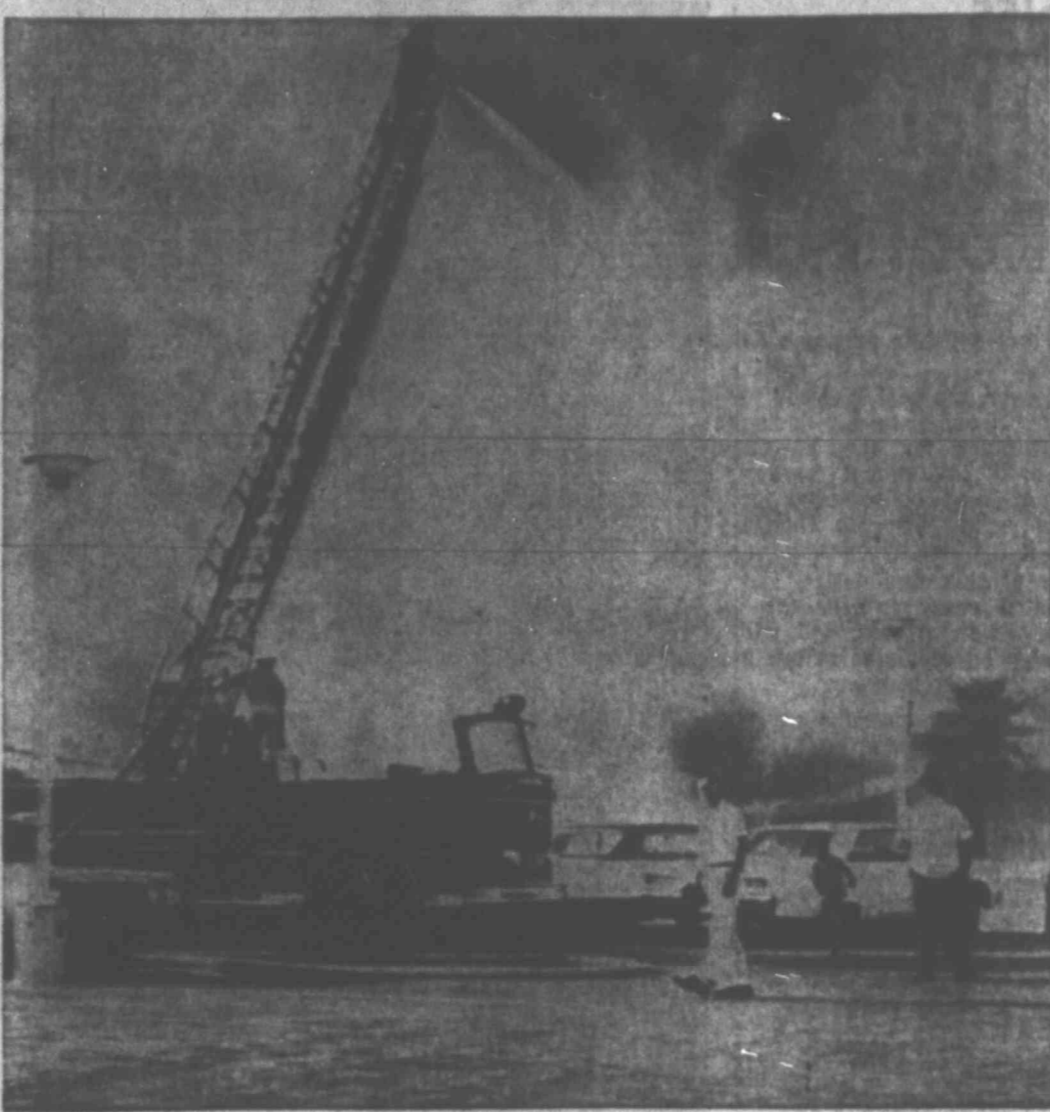

Hotel officials estimated damage at roughly $1 million. County Fire Chief H. J. Carson said most of the rooms on the second floor of one old wing building were destroyed totally by the fire and first-floor rooms were damaged extensively by heat, smoke and water.

The two adjacent structures of the old wing likewise were badly damaged, he said.

The fire was put out at about 9 a.m. by more than 100 city and county firemen using 11 trucks. Its cause was not immediately determined.

New Iraq Leaders Spurn Followers Of Nasser

BAGHDAD (AP) — The men who took over Iraq in a bloodless military coup last week have cracked down on followers here of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, excluding them from the government and throwing many of them in jail.

This is an early sign that the overthrow of President Abdul Rahman Aref Wednesday may put a heavy strain on relations between countries of the Arab world and perhaps herald further political upheavals.

In his first policy statement since what is being called here the "white revolution," premier Abdul Razzak el Naef made no mention of socialism, required dogma for Arab revolutionaries of Nasser's ilk.

Iraq's new head of state is former Gen. Ahmad Hassan el Bakr, a right-wing Baath Socialist, but Naef, who masterminded the coup, seems likely to emerge as the country's real ruler.

The inclusion of several other

Reports Theft Of Automobile

Mrs. Herman Smith, 2702 Rebecca, reported to police Friday morning that her late model car had been stolen from the parking lot at Big Spring High School.

A short time later police received a report that a boy had driven the car back to the parking lot, parked it and left the scene before he could be questioned. Police are investigating.

Also under investigation are the thefts of a purse from a parked car and jewelry and clothing valued at more than $50.

Cuca Payne, 703 NW 9th, reported that her purse was taken from her car while it was parked at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church Friday night.

The jewelry and clothing were taken from the home of Martha Tate, 2101 Thorp, while she was out of the house for several hours Friday afternoon.

right-wing Baathists in his 26-man Cabinet almost certainly will cause concern in neighboring Syria.

A rival, more extremist faction of the Baath party rules in Damascus and the two groups are bitter enemies.

Both Syria and Egypt have displayed a pointed reserve toward the new Iraqi regime.

Spearheading the coup were a group of relatively junior officers, led by Naef, calling themselves the Arab Revolutionary Movement. Political moderates, they claim to have been disillusioned by the "corruption" that riddled Aref's administration.

They have given notice they will pursue independent policies and likened the deposed Aref, a slavish follower of Nasser, to a "dog's tail."

The young officers demand also that responsibility for the Arab defeat by Israel in last year's six-day war be clearly determined.

Without saying so in as many words, they make clear they believe Nasser was among those to blame.

Iraq is unlikely to change its tough line on Israel and in view of continued Israeli occupation of Arab territory such a move would likely be fatal to any regime.

Rains No Help To Swim Pool

The rainy spring West Texas has had may be good for the farmers and the mosquitoes, but it is definitely not so good for the city swimming pool.

Revenues are down about $100 as compared with June, 1967, when the totals were $1,589. This year pool revenues totaled $1,489.15 as of July 1, according to the monthly report. In 1967 the pool spent $10,107 and took in $3,700 in receipts.

The pool opened June 1 and will close around Sept. 1, according to Johnny Johansen, parks superintendent. It is open from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. daily. (Tickets are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Season passes are $12.50 for adults and $7.50 for children and 10-swim books sell for $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children.)

The Northside pool is open 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. only on Saturdays and Sundays because of the lack of demand for the facilities, Johansen said. Tickets are 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

LONG RECORD

The City Park pool, somewhat smaller than regulation Olympic standards, was built in 1924 as a FWA project. It is less than three feet deep at the shallow end and the bottom of the pool slopes gradually downward to a depth of 14 feet at the other end.

It holds a half a million gallons of water. The pool is usually drained periodically during the summer, and the water is constantly being refiltered. A $10,000 filtering system was installed about three years ago.

A chemical feeder adds soda ash to the water to neutralize a smarting effect on the eyes by the chlorine in the water. Life-guards test the water twice daily and state health officials maintain a close supervision over the pool facilities.

The pool is run by temporary employees hired for three months out of the year to run the pool.

"College students are usually hired," Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, said.

Tony Butler, a student at Texas Tech, is manager of the two swimming pools this summer and has five life-guards, all certified by the local YMCA, who are responsible for cleaning the pool each morning and policing the pool area as well as their regular duties every afternoon.

USED BY TEAM

The YMCA swim team uses the pool for training each morning and also conducts learn-to-swim classes for children as part of the city recreation program in the early summer.

Reservations for the pool are not ordinarily accepted, Anderson said, "because the pool is a public utility and has to be left open to the public as much as possible."

However, the pool is closed to the public one Saturday during the summer for the YMCA-sponsored Invitational Swim Meet and can be reserved for school parties prior to June 1 when it is officially opened.

The pool is sandblasted and repainted every two or three years, Johansen said, and will probably be repainted before it opens for next summer.

The pool has operated every summer since it was built, Anderson said, "even during the drought which forced the city to ration water in the early 1950's." Water was pumped into the pool from a Cosden well located east of the pool near the city park.

Senate Votes Extension Of Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — After defeating all attempts to amend the measure, the Senate passed Saturday a bill to extend the present farm act until the end of 1973.

The bill, passed 58-15, now goes to the House where the House Agriculture Committee has approved legislation to extend the present act for one year, or until the end of 1970.

Enacted in 1965, the law sets up programs for various types of support prices, diversion payments, export subsidies and cropland adjustment payments for the various major crops—wheat, corn, feed grains, cotton, rice and tobacco.

Before passing the bill the Senate rejected two amendments by Sen. John Williams, R-Del., to limit government payments to any individual farmer. Williams first proposed a ceiling of $25,000 on such payments and lost 25 to 47. Then he tried a $75,000 annual ceiling and lost 30 to 40.

The Senate also turned down, 26 to 48, an amendment by Sen. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., to add to the bill provisions for a national reserve for wheat, feed grains and soybeans.

During debate Friday the Senate rejected efforts to shorten the extension time. Amendments were offered and defeated in succession to limit the extension to one year, to two years and to three years.

Chairman Allen Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee who steered the bill through the Senate, told his colleagues the present farm program is not perfect but is preferable to the program in effect prior to 1965.

Cuban Terrorists Blamed In Blasts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police suspect Cuban anti-Castro terrorists were behind dynamite explosions that rocked five establishments in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills.

Four of the blasts Friday were at agencies of foreign countries that trade with Cuba and maintain diplomatic relations with Fidel Castro's government. Blue and white stickers reading "United Cuban Power" were found in the wreckage.

Enriquez Hears Death Sentence

KARNES CITY, Tex. (AP) — Johnny Rudy Enriquez, 21, was sentenced formally Friday to die in the electric chair at Huntsville Sept. 17.

Enriquez was convicted here in 1966 for the slaying of Mrs. Phillip Foss, 21. He was also charged with killing four other persons, including a state highway patrolman, during a bloody South Texas rampage April 15, 1966.

His conviction was upheld Feb. 14 by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, which subsequently denied two motions for rehearing.

Minister Dies In Traffic Crash

CENTERVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A two-car collision near here Friday claimed the life of Vaughn Merle Pettigrew, a Church of Christ minister from Wichita Falls.

The accident occurred on rain-slickened US 75, 2½ miles north of this East Texas town. Officers said Pettigrew, traveling south, skidded into the oncoming traffic lane.

car turned out to be loaded with silverware, jewelry, guns, etc., missing from various points, plus $800 in uncashed express orders.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District opened bids on five projects last week with an approximately low-bid value of $400,000. When directors consider these Tuesday, they will also be facing the prospect of spending around three million dollars more for three sections of pipeline.

Paul Meek, president of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, is one of two new faces on the board of American Petrofina, Inc. He is vice president of American Petrofina in charge of its plastic and chemicals division.

Another Big Spring man has been advanced in his professional association. Larry Crow steps up to the presidency of the Texas City Managers Association, succeeding A. K. Steinheimer (a former manager here), who is leaving the city administration field. Herbert Whitney, now retired as Corpus Christi city manager, served as president of the state association when he was here.

Whamo, and Sand Springs was without a post office branch. Last week orders came for closing the station as part of a general belt-tightening. Cost of the station was $1,500 a year; revenues were $400.

Prospects for the $2,300,000 in parallel runways, $349,000 in flight training facilities, and $147,000 in academic classrooms for Webb AFB suddenly brightened on Friday. Previously these had cleared all authorization hurdles, and Friday the House Appropriations Committee voted them out. It will take some doing to get this through the House and then the Senate before Congress knocks off by Aug. 3, but it might be done.

Webb AFB Federal Credit Union observed open house for its new home Saturday, making it the first in these parts to build its own plant. The unit serves 8,886 members, has savings of over $4.5 million and loans of more than $4.7 million.

Considering the estimate of a million dollars in damage from the May 15 hail storm, the rate of re-roofing is moving slowly. In the two intervening months, permits for new roofs have aggregated only about $90,000. Virtually all claims have been

Junior Rodeo Shapes Rapidly

Two fancy saddles along with 20 sterling silver belt buckles await the top hands who take part in the 23rd Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo opening here on Aug. 8 and continuing through Aug. 10. As usual, the rodeo, sponsored by Howard County 4-H Clubs, is sanctioned by the American Junior Rodeo Association. All points concerned count in the AJRA standings.

The two saddles, which will be awarded to the best all-round cowboy and cowgirl of the show, are being provided by Ward's Boot and Saddle Shop and by the New Car Dealers of Big Spring.

The buckles which go to each champion in each event in all age groups, are given by local business firms.

James Shelton, assistant county agent, said that indications are that 200 contestants will be on hand to enter the local rodeo. They are to come here from all over the southwest. A number of the riders will be leaders for national titles. Entry deadline is Aug. 5.

The events will be: Girls breakaway roping, pole bending, barrel racing, bull riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, wild steer race and goat sacking. The events will be for three age groups, both for the boys and the girls. There are 12 and under; 13-15 years old and 16-19 years old.

For boys, 12 and under, the events are calf roping, ribbon roping, bull riding and pole bending. For boys 13-15, events are calf roping, ribbon roping, bull riding and pole bending. For the 16-19 group the events are calf roping, ribbon roping, bareback bronc riding and bull riding.

The goat sacking and wild steer riding are added attractions for the very young rodeo hands.

A number of Howard County Junior performers are rated high in the national standing. Robert Crenshaw, a veteran junior calf roper, is near the top this season, and Terri Lewis is a much admired contestant in barrel racing and pole bending. There are other capable young rodeo performers from this county included in the list of 175 4-H Club members who are staging this annual event.

A downtown parade on the afternoon of Aug. 8 will officially kick off the rodeo. Performances are 8 p.m. nightly at the Rodeo Bowl. Admission will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Men Who Flew 'Hump' To Have 23rd Reunion

The (China - Burma - India) Hump Pilots Association will hold its 23rd Annual Reunion at Crockett, Aug. 23-25, at the Kings Inn Motel. Commanders of the Air Transport Command and other distinguished guests are due to attend. Plans are under way to have on display a C-46, C-54, C-47, C-87 and other aircraft that flew the Hump.

The association is composed of pilots who flew one of the largest logistic operations in World War II, operating 24 hours a day with practically no navigational aids. From bases in India, they flew thousands and thousands of tons of supplies, passengers and a score of other vital necessities to American and Nationalist Chinese forces in Burma and China. Their operational routes of up to 1,000 miles took them over the highest mountains in the world, the Himalayan range, where the world's worst weather exists almost daily, including violent thunderstorms, icing, monsoons and hurricane-type winds.

Doug Arnold, Crockett, and convention chairman, has planned a gala Texas program for this 23rd reunion, and it is anticipated that there will be 150 to 200 "Hump" pilots attending. The association membership consists of Army, Navy, Air Force, China National Airline Corporation, Royal Air Force and United States Airline Pilots: Herbert O. Fisher, New York City, is president of the 900-member group.

Among "Hump" pilots from Big Spring are Jack Gulley and Jack Cook.

Four Instructors Win Webb Quarterly Honors

Four instructors were named for wing honors of the quarter—a three month period running from April to June—this week at Webb AFB.

Capt. Robert D. Gobble, 3561 Student Squadron, was selected as classroom instructor of the quarter.

Initially he was an instructor pilot here. Later he became a training officer and counter-insurgency instructor with the student squadron. Now he is both an instructor and course director of the counter-insurgency subject.

He has logged a total of 2,425 flying hours, including 2,120 hours of rated jet time. He has served overseas on three occasions.

Capt. Gobble, from Salisbury, N. C., holds a degree in mechanical engineering from Clemson (Ala.) Agricultural College.

Named the T-38 instructor pilot of the quarter is Capt. Michael W. Smith, 3560 Pilot Training Squadron, who has 1,220 flying hours, 970 of them as jet time. He has been stationed at Webb since August, 1966. Capt. Smith is a native of Kansas City, Kan., and has a degree in mechanical engineering from Oklahoma State University.

The T-37 instructor pilot of the quarter is Lt. John K. Bray, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, who received his undergraduate pilot training at Webb and has been assigned to the base as an instructor pilot since June, 1967. Lt. Bray has a total of 825 flying hours, including 590 hours of rated jet time. He is from Antioch, Calif., and is a graduate of the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah, with a degree in chemistry.

T. Sgt. Braxton Martin was selected the airman instructor of the quarter. He is a physiological training specialist and serves as an aviation physiology and physiological support instructor at the base. He is assigned to the 4560th USAF Hospital at Webb. Sgt. Martin, whose home is Alexander City, La., has been stationed at the base since June, 1967. He also has had tours of duty at March AFB, Calif., Pease AFB, N. H., and in Okinawa.

Sharon Plays Her Guitar

FORT WORTH — Even Sharon Hicks, Miss Big Spring, faced the problem of a broken guitar Friday morning, she entertained a house at Will Rogers Auditorium of 2,800 in the final night of preliminary competition at the Miss Texas Pageant.

Sharon had to have her guitar fixed Friday morning after the top of the guitar was broken when she was attempting to put a set of new strings on the instrument.

She went on the bring a crowd-pleasing show to the patrons of the pageant.

Sharon's parents arrived Friday and were able to watch her perform while dressed in a cute outfit of blue overalls and a red bandana shirt.

Friday morning Sharon was able to practice her talent but was unable to do so like contestants have the previous two days. The reason was here was a power failure at the auditorium and rehearsals had to be moved to the Roundup Inn.

Saturday night Sharon went through the last performance of the 1968 extravaganza in which the new Miss Texas was crowned.

New Cut In LD Rates

AT&T has announced, effective Aug. 1, a reduction in long distance rates for interstate calls covering distances greater than 506 miles.

The latest reductions will lower rates for station-to-station daytime calls, placed between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, from 5 to 10 cents for the first three minutes.

"This rate reduction will save customers approximately $20 million annually," said Harry Sawyer, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Only last November, AT&T reduced interstate rates by $100 million annually.

"Since World War II, the consumer price index has risen 77 per cent," Sawyer pointed out. "That means, in bread-and-butter terms, that whatever cost 20 cents in 1945 now costs 35 cents today. But long distance telephone service today costs about half as much as it did in 1945, thanks to this 23rd reduction in rates since coast-to-coast service began in 1915."

Sawyer noted that in 1915, when it was first possible to call from New York to Los Angeles, it cost $20.70. After World War II, the cost was $4. New rates make it $1.70.

"Already," Sawyer noted, "customers can call interstate station-to-station anywhere in the U.S. between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. weeknights and all day on weekends for $1 or less."

Curfew Hours End In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — City officials decided today to lift the curfew clamped on Akron and surrounding suburbs after racial disturbances started Wednesday.

But Mayor John S. Ballar said he would keep 450 National Guardsmen moved into the area early Thursday on duty for another 24 hours.

Ballar said that despite minor disturbances Friday in Negro neighborhoods of Akron's south side he felt "confident" the curfew could be lifted.

Although a 9 p.m. curfew was in effect for the second straight night Friday, police said it had "unofficially been ignored" and few arrests were made for curfew violations.

No major outbreaks were reported during the night, but two youths were wounded slightly by a shotgun blast Friday and a man was seriously injured when hit by a rock, police said.

There were scattered fires before the curfew officially went into effect and a few instances of fire bombs being thrown.

Showers Keep Prospects Good

While some damage from boll weevils has been caused in certain cotton fields south of town, the general report on crops in this county is "A-O-K." Conditions could hardly be better for a bumper cotton and feed crop, according to Paul Gross, county agent.

Grain in some parts of the county could use rain, but it is not yet in serious difficulty. Cotton across the county seems to be flourishing, with many fields offering the brightest prospects of a big yield that they have in several years.

Boll weevil trouble has been spotted in fields around Elbow according to Gross. While the damage is not as yet a real threat, it is upsetting to farmers who until two years ago believed the weevil was one insect they had no reason to fear in West Texas fields.

Counters from Texas A&M assigned to study the weevil population in this county have been reporting weevils captured in a considerable part of the Howard County with the heaviest infestation in the Elbow area.

So far nothing has been done to combat the weevils since they are numerically insufficient to merit poisoning at this time, said Gross.

The showers, which fall repeatedly and not consistent with West Texas history, have done much to keep the fields flourishing even though the volume of moisture has not been heavy. A good rain is what is needed to complete the grain ripening.

Ranchers are happy over the pastures which are in excellent condition, but they also are a little perturbed over the low water levels in their stock tanks. Rains have not been intense enough to provide any important runoff.

Vegetable gardens are in the best condition in many years. Roasting ears have already been gracing the tables of farmers and friends for weeks. This has been many years, old timers

Small Area Has Showers

Late afternoon showers Friday touched on sector in northeast Howard County with beneficial results.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District's pump station at Morgan Creek, about 15 miles northeast of Big Spring, had 1.8 inches. The Dick Reed farm, 22 miles northeast on the Snyder highway had 2.2 inches in two showers, 7 Friday morning and 1.5 Friday evening.

However, the rains did not get as far west as Luther or the Wilson Ranch, nor did they extend to the Lake J. B. Thomas watershed. There was only a trace of rain at the dam and none at the Big Spring - Odessa intake.

say, since corn has done so well. Black-eye peas are in excellent condition and farmers are looking forward to an abundant harvest. Watermelons, too, should be excellent this summer, the farmers report. This is particularly true in the sandy land areas of the county.

It's Bean-Pickin' Time For Old Settlers Feast

Tuesday will be bean picking day for the sponsors and friends of the Howard-Glasscock County Old Settlers Reunion Association.

Jess Slaughter, president of the group, has issued a call for volunteers to report to him at the Old Settlers Pavilion in City Park at 9 a.m. on that date. At that time, a mountain of 200 pounds of beans will be on hand and must be gone through to eliminate all rocks, sticks and other debris. The beans will go along with the barbecue, which will form the piece de resistance for the annual reunion to-gether meal next Friday at the park.

Plans for cooking and serving the barbecue will be announced later this week.

The annual picnic is financed by gifts from friends of the association.

Slaughter said that while donations have been generous this year more money is needed. He asked all persons who want to have a hand in the party to mail their checks or deliver them to him at once.

Ray Called 'Optimistic' By Attorney

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—William N. Morris Jr. and Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil Canale to discuss "the general ground rules for the trial. They afforded me every courtesy," Hanes said.

Hanes' visit with Ray inside the jail surrounded by shotgun-toting deputies was the first he had had since his client was turned over to U.S. authorities in London and flown back to the United States.

He said he was "perfectly satisfied with the accommodations and the system set up" to guard Ray. "My client is satisfied."

Hanes declined comment on whether his client was named James Earl Ray. He had given the name Raymon George Sneyd when arrested in London June 8.

And he said he thought his client could get "as fair a trial in Memphis as anywhere. I have great faith in the American system of justice."

Hanes said he could not estimate how long it would be before he was ready for trial: "These things can't take place immediately." He said it would depend on information given him by Ray and on witnesses.

Hanes also said he did not believe the ground rules laid down by the judge would hamper his case.

IN LONDON

Hanes last saw Ray in Wandsworth Prison in London, shortly before Ray was turned over to U.S. authorities for his secret and security-shrouded flight back to face the murder charge.

Government officials refused Hanes' requests to see Ray once they had him in their custody, and Hanes also was denied a seat on the Air Force jet that brought Ray back. The attorney flew in later aboard a commercial flight, arriving in Memphis just before midnight Friday.

Ray has been indicted on a first-degree murder charge in the April 4 sniper slaying of King, the civil rights leader.

The next step in the legal road which will lead him to the expected full trial will be his arraignment, which has not been scheduled. Ray will enter his plea at that time.

Sirhan After Court Appearance

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, left, has a smile as he and his attorney, Russell E. Parsons, leave the courtroom in Los Angeles after the court granted another continuance. The judge set a new date of Aug. 2 for Sirhan to enter a plea in the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A covered dish dinner was scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday in the club room at the Settles Hotel, convention headquarters, with a dance 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the ballroom. The Texas Plainsmen played for the event.

Initiation for new members for the ladies auxiliary will begin at 1 p.m. today with initiation for the men set for 3 p.m. The state past president will be the guest speaker.

A buffet dinner beginning at 4:30 p.m. in the coffee shop will conclude the weekend's activities.

LEADERS AGREE

Wallace Won't Get Any 'Deals'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two former chairmen of the major political parties joined Saturday in endorsing a plan to bar any deals with George C. Wallace should neither the Republican nor Democratic candidate win an electoral college majority in November's presidential election.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said also they will urge their respective parties to endorse the plan in platforms to be adopted at next month's national conventions.

Under the proposal, all Democratic and Republican candidates for U.S. representative would pledge to vote, if the choice of a president reached the House, for the nominee who had received the largest popular vote in their states.

The plan is seen as a counter to statements of Wallace, former Alabama governor and now a third-party presidential candidate, that he would be in position to influence the choice of a president in the House.

Wallace has said that, if the choice reaches the House, he would command some support and might offer it to the presidential candidate who agreed to put some of Wallace's proposals into effect.

The final choice of a president would be up to the House if no candidate won a majority of the electoral votes. In such a test, each state would have a single vote, to be cast by agreement of its House delegation.

Scott and Jackson urged in a joint statement that state political organizations choose as presidential electors "individuals who are not susceptible to bargaining."

Turks Protest Fleet's Visit

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—More than 5,000 placard-carrying youths staged an orderly demonstration Saturday to protest the visit of the U.S. 6th Fleet and what they claimed was police brutality.

There were no incidents and the youths, mostly university students, dispersed peacefully after the rally at one of the main city squares.

Some of the placards read: "Ugly American, go home," "6th Fleet, get out," and "We want a Socialist Turkey."

Units of the fleet arrived in Istanbul Monday and are scheduled to leave Tuesday.

The rally followed a week of anti-Americanism in Turkey that has spread to Istanbul, Ankara, Izmir and Trabzon.

Turkish youths have attacked American sailors, splashing them with ink and black paint, and smashing windows of American buildings. Nearly 20 American sailors were reported hurt.

In Trabzon, on the Black Sea coast, students marched to an American radar site, shouting anti-American slogans on Friday. Several were arrested after a clash with riot police. Two students were reported injured.

More than a score of Turkish youths have been arrested in Istanbul.

Despite the incidents, the U.S. sailors' shore leaves have not been canceled.

Governors Might Form A Coalition

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said Saturday he plans to explore with two fellow favorite sons, Govs. George Romney of Michigan and James A. Rhodes of Ohio, the possibility of forming a coalition behind a presidential candidate in advance of the Republican National Convention.

The three favorite son governors lead delegations with a total of 132 uncommitted nominating votes.

Romney said that together they might hold a key to the outcome of the Miami Beach convention.

AWAITS CAUCUS

Rhodes said he knew of no coalition plan and added his delegation would remain uncommitted until it caucuses on the convention's opening day Aug. 5.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, campaigning to overtake Richard M. Nixon in the presidential nomination race, said he did not anticipate receiving any commitments of support at the Cincinnati session of the National Governor's Conference.

"From the point of view of politics, I don't think it's going to be very significant," Rockefeller said of the conference.

None of the three big favorite sons has indicated which candidate he personally supports.

FOR ROCKY

Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer said he would try to persuade all three to join him in supporting Rockefeller.

Upon his arrival in Cincinnati, Rockefeller said there is "a real possibility" that Republican delegates will begin to turn away from Nixon if the former vice president does not win the presidential nomination on the first ballot.

Rockefeller said the nation needs new leadership to overcome problems which have created widespread frustration.

"One of the frustrations is evidenced by the black people who are holding up the signs," he said.

Rockefeller said he had come to Ohio "to offer the Republican Party a choice — a winning choice."

NO CONFERENCE

At an impromptu airport news conference Rockefeller said he has no plans to confer with California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"He seems to be doing awfully well on his own," he said. Reagan has been picking up convention delegate support.

A reporter said Florida Gov. Claude Kirk had forecast Reagan's formal entry into the race and asked whether Rockefeller expected the Californian to announce candidacy.

"I consider that he's a pretty active candidate now," Rockefeller said.

Three Hurt In Car Collision

An auto collision at Seventh and Nolan sent three local women to the hospital Friday afternoon.

Alert Ambulance carried Billie Reese Roberts, 608 Nolan to a local hospital where she was reported in good condition Saturday.

Bonnie Sue Thorpe, 2202 Thorpe, driver of the other car, and Linda Thorpe were taken to the hospital by private car, treated and released.

A wrecker was dispatched by the police department to remove the Thorpe car from the scene.

Police are also investigating three minor fender benders which occurred Friday. A minor accident was reported at 810 E. Third Friday morning but both cars had left the scene when police arrived.

A car driven by Nancy Fisher, 3709 Dixon, was in collision with a car which left the scene at 18th and Gregg and a car belonging to Donald Richard Fabre, 624 Ridgeway, rolled from a parked position and was in collision with a tile fence.

Credit Union's Assistance To Military Is Pointed Up

Credit unions are one of the best morale boosters available to the military, and good morale makes for good performance of the mission, Brig. Gen. Everett S. Thomas (USA Ret.) told a luncheon gathering at Webb AFB here Saturday.

He had come here to help dedicate the Webb Federal Credit Union's new handsome home which observed open house during the day.

Gen. Thomas, executive secretary of the Defense Credit Union Council, had praise for the new facility, declaring that it met the requirements functionally and good taste, and that it should reflect the pride of the membership in their credit union.

The real usefulness of the credit union, he cautioned, is in service. He challenged the board of directors, management and membership to use the new facility just west of the base chapel as a tool for giving "the best possible help to those in this command."

He was introduced by Gilbert Webb, vice president of the credit union at the luncheon attended by some 50 base, civilian and out-of-town guests. Maj. Jerry Grimes, president of the credit union, lauded Wade Choate, manager, for his leadership.

CEREMONIES

The formal opening came at 10 a.m. in brief ceremonies in which Gen. Thomas and Col. William McGlothlin, wing commander, participated with Elizabeth Moore, "Miss Credit Union," in snipping the ribbon. There was brisk traffic through the attractive, spacious quarters all during the morning. Even an early afternoon shower only slowed the turnout slightly.

Gen. Thomas said that Gen. Curtis LeMay was the first to recognize the importance of credit unions as a source of better morale. Taking a tip from him, the Air Force has set the pace among the military, he said, because men with financial problems can't do their best jobs toward the mission.

Although the military has only 400 credit unions (all but a half dozen within the United States), it has a far greater share of the members, assets and service by the nation's 23,000 credit unions. It has 10 per cent of all membership, and over eight per cent of assets, savings and loans.

PROTECTION

A Department of Defense directive puts the defense establishment squarely behind the credit unions, and Congress has never given them a "no" vote, he said.

Gen. Thomas praised the credit unions for protecting men from fast dealers and loan sharks, both by financial aid and counseling service, but he warned that the business of the union is not to pay six per cent dividends but to fulfill its obligation to the base personnel. This means reaching everyone from the lowest enlisted grade to the highest general officer, he said.

Regrets were read from a number of dignitaries, among them Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Sen. John Tower, and Rep. Omar Burleson.

McKittrick Park Area Is Closed

Sustained rains over a period of several days have forced the closure of the McKittrick Canyon area to public visitation, according to Supt. Neal G. Guse of Carlsbad Caverns National Park.

Guse said a total rainfall of 16.26 inches over the period July 2-7 caused severe damage to the access road to the canyon and also to the roads within the 6,000 acre federally-owned McKittrick Canyon area itself. Full assessment of damage has not been completed.

Connally Cuts State Budget With Veto

AUSTIN (AP)— Gov. John Connally took a slim slice today off the $2.5 billion appropriations bill passed by the special session, vetoing only $1.35 million.

However, Connally said in effect he would like to veto another $1.44 million lump sum appropriation for the state Department of Agriculture but held back because it would also blast a number of worthwhile and meritorious expenditures included.

Connally commented: "Lump sum appropriations of this nature severely inhibit the chief executive (governor) in the exercise of his constitutional responsibilities to render judgement on appropriations through exercise of veto power."

If this method of appropriation becomes a matter of common pervasive legislative practice, it could lead to the most pernicious waste of the financial resources of this state that our history may record."

The $1.35 million vetoed cut the general revenue money in the bill for 1969 to about $469 million, still an increase of almost $36 million over 1968 spending.

In addition to the money vetoes, Connally cancelled a number of riders or special provisions that he said were illegal and unnecessary. One such rider would prevent the Department of Health and Air Control Board from spending any air pollution money that was connected in any manner with cotton gins. He vetoed a similar rider in 1967.

Another rider vetoed would have required the Department of Public Safety to keep its three airplanes and two helicopters in Austin except when on rescue missions. Connally said this would prevent them from being used for traffic surveillance and control.

The money vetoed included: Elimination of briefing clerks in courts of civil appeals, $91,000.

Two more automatic elevators for the Capitol, $275,000. Temporary building to house the comptroller's operations until the finance building is completed, $600,000.

Executive assistant for the Board of Control, $16,500. Investigation of insurance claims, $50,000.

Two deputies of Liquor Control Board $30,000. Purchase of land in Somervell County and Port Lavaca for parks, $277,500. Museum at old Washington State Park, $22,000.

Big Spring Camping Area Aids Economy, Nets Praise

By JEAN FANNIN

"In all our travels through the West we have never found camping accommodations that held even a candle to your park," a family from Grover City, Calif., wrote to the City of Big Spring.

This is one of many Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, has on file from people who have used the overnight camping area maintained by the city in the park on US 87 south.

One individual from South Dakota said he was "thoroughly charmed by the lovely park."

PARK IS LISTED
The park is listed in several national publications and is becoming well-known among the camping set in the country. An average of 20 families have stayed in the camp each night since school was out, Anderson said.

"One man from Michigan told me that Big Spring had one of the nicest camp grounds to be found between here and Michigan," Anderson said.

A major in the Air Force wrote from Bossier City, La., to say that the local park was "the best maintained and most adequate park that my family and I utilized in travelling through four states."

FULFILLS MISSION
The park was recommended by the Park and Recreation Board to accomplish two purposes: advertise Big Spring and add to the economic value for the community. Local citizens agree that it has done both.

During the Week in the City Park "Starlite Specials" held at the city park amphitheatre, campground visitors were frequently found in the audience. Other functions in the park also have drawn participation by the campers.

One camper from West Palm Beach, Fla., wrote that he and his wife stopped at a Big Spring grocery store to buy food for dinner and then stopped in the campgrounds to cook it.

"We really appreciated a clean spot to stop, a hot shower and shampoo — the shade from our trailer — the Texas breeze — we were the envy of all who passed by on the highway," he wrote.

SMALL COST
Anderson approximated that setting up the facilities cost about $4,000 and the city has since added all weather surfacing to the drive and put in 10 electrical outlets at a cost of about $1,300.

There is no charge for the use of the park and no reservations are taken. "The park is operated on a first-come first-served basis," Anderson said, and in many cases this leaves the latecomer without a place to stay.

The park is usually full by 4 or 5 p.m., he said.

One former Big Springer, H. Boyce Hale, wrote that he had spent the night in the campground and had visited with other campers. "I had a conversation with a 'fellow tourist' and he also was amazed at this facility, and the fact that he wasn't charged several dollars for the privilege of staying," Hale wrote.

NO RESERVATIONS
Requests for reservations are frequent items when the mail arrives each morning at city hall, Anderson said. Each request is returned with information concerning the park and a polite "Sorry," in answer to the reservation request.

One woman wrote "The night which stands out in our memory most vividly is our night in Big Spring" and thanked the city for "your thoughtfulness to campers" in providing running hot water.

Water District To Open Pipeline Bids Tuesday

The next to the last major contract letting is due for the Colorado River Municipal Water District when bids for 37 miles of pipeline are opened at a directors meeting in Big Spring Tuesday.

The opening is set for 2 p.m. in the Settles Hotel, said O. H. Ivie, general manager.

Twelve sets of plans have been checked out, and about half a dozen contractors have been on the field to inspect the routes. Four others are due to look it over prior to Tuesday noon.

Proposals will be received for construction of 10 miles of 42-inch diameter line from Big Spring to Moss Creek Lake, which will become a terminal storage reservoir when the Robert Lee lake is completed.

A second section of either 24 or 27-in. line from Moss Creek east 11 miles to a junction with the district's Sun Oil water line will be included, along with a third section of 21-in. line from the Sun Oil juncture northeastward to the terminal side storage just northwest of Colorado City.

Directors also are expected to act on five bids, approximating $400,000, which were opened Wednesday for gate valves, motor controls, buried cable for pipeline control a water intake and drip basin, and substructure for the main pump station in the Robert Lee reservoir.

If the contracts are awarded on these, plus the 37 miles of pipeline, this will leave only the 42-in. line from Moss Creek to the Robert Lee reservoir to be let late this year.

Says Demos Have Contract For Chicago Convention

CHICAGO (AP)— The head of a group which helped bring the 1968 Democratic National Convention to Chicago said today the convention is bound by contract to remain in Chicago.

James C. Worthy, chairman of the Chicago Nonpartisan Committee, 1968 National Political Conventions, introduced that angle into speculation that the convention may be shifted to Miami Beach or some other city.

The speculation has sprung from a strike by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers against the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. The strike has prevented installation of telephones and television and telephone equipment in the International Amphitheatre, where the convention is scheduled to open Aug. 26.

Worthy—a well known Republican and civic leader—declined to comment on the possibility of a law suit if and when the Democrats decide to nominate their presidential and vice presidential candidates elsewhere. But he did say "we will not stand idly by and let the convention be moved."

The bipartisan group headed by Worthy put in bids for both the Democratic and Republican conventions. The Republicans chose to go to Miami Beach.

Worthy said the group signed a 40-page contract with the Democratic Convention Committee.

"It's a very carefully drawn contract," Worthy told a reporter. "They just can't pick up and say, 'We're going to take the convention somewhere else.'"

"They can't walk away," Worthy said, but he added: "There has been no indication that they intend to do so."

Worthy said the contract was not with the city of Chicago but with the Democratic party and a chartered not-for-profit corporation—his group.

"It's a valid contract with binding clauses," he said.

While the contract goes into such jobs and titles as chairs and parking spaces, Worthy said, there is nothing in it about communications.

The Chicago group agreed to raise $750,000 for the Democrats. So far, Worthy said more than $350,000 has been paid to the Democrats from the $400,000 kitty promised by private business. The $350,000 balance was pledged by the city of Chicago.

Ray Called 'Optimistic' By Attorney

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — William N. Morris Jr. and Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil Canale to discuss "the general ground rules for the trial. They afforded me every courtesy," Hanes said.

Hanes' visit with Ray inside the jail surrounded by shotgun-toting deputies was the first he had had since his client was turned over to U.S. authorities in London and flown back to the United States.

He said he was "perfectly satisfied with the accommodations and the system set up" to guard Ray. "My client is satisfied."

NAME?

Hanes declined comment on whether his client was named James Earl Ray. He had given the name Raymon George Sneyd when arrested in London June 8.

And he said he thought his client could get "as fair a trial in Memphis as anywhere. I have great faith in the American system of justice."

Hanes said he could not estimate how long it would be before he was ready for trial. "These things can't take place immediately." He said it would depend on information given him by Ray and on witnesses.

Hanes also said he did not believe the ground rules laid down by the judge would hamper his case.

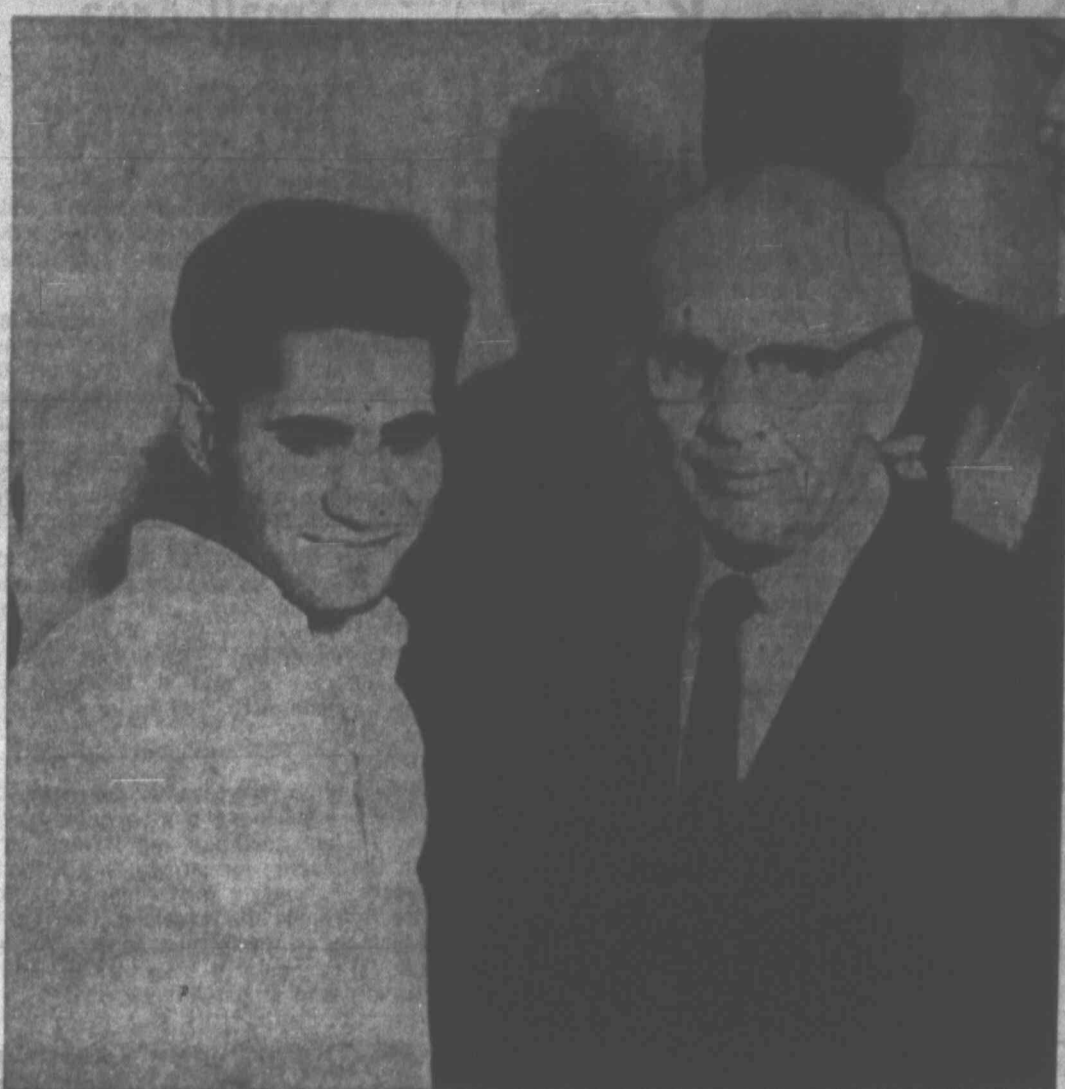

IN LONDON

Hanes last saw Ray in Wandsworth Prison in London, shortly before Ray was turned over to U.S. authorities for his secret and security-shrouded flight back to face the murder charge.

Government officials refused Hanes' requests to see Ray once they had him in their custody, and Hanes also was denied a seat on the Air Force jet that brought Ray back. The attorney flew in later aboard a commercial flight, arriving in Memphis just before midnight Friday.

Ray has been indicted on a first-degree murder charge in the April 4 sniper slaying of King, the civil rights leader.

The next step in the legal road which will lead him to the expected fall trial will be his arraignment, which has not been scheduled. Ray will enter his plea at that time.

Sirhan After Court Appearance

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, left, has a smile as he and his attorney, Russell E. Parsons, leave the courtroom in Los Angeles after the court granted another continuance. The judge set a new date of Aug. 2 for Sirhan to enter a plea in the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A covered dish dinner was scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday in the club room at the Settles Hotel, convention headquarters, with a dance 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the ballroom. The Texas Plainsmen played for the event.

A buffet dinner beginning at 4:30 p.m. in the coffee shop will conclude the weekend's activities.

Turks Protest Fleet's Visit

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — More than 5,000 placard-carrying youths staged an orderly demonstration Saturday to protest the visit of the U.S. 6th Fleet and what they claimed was police brutality.

There were no incidents and the youths, mostly university students, dispersed peacefully after the rally at one of the main city squares.

Some of the placards read: "Ugly American, go home," "6th Fleet, get out," and "We want a Socialist Turkey."

Units of the fleet arrived in Istanbul Monday and are scheduled to leave Tuesday.

The rally followed a week of anti-Americanism in Turkey that has spread to Istanbul, Ankara, Izmir and Trabzon.

Turkish youths have attacked American sailors, splashing them with ink and black paint and smashing windows of American buildings. Nearly 20 American sailors were reported hurt.

In Trabzon, on the Black Sea coast, students marched to an American radar site, shouting anti-American slogans on Friday. Several were arrested after a clash with riot police. Two students were reported injured.

More than a score of Turkish youths have been arrested in Istanbul.

Despite the incidents, the U.S. sailors' shore leaves have not been canceled.

Governors Might Form A Coalition

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said Saturday he plans to explore with two fellow favorite sons, Govs. George Romney of Michigan and James A. Rhodes of Ohio, the possibility of forming a coalition behind a presidential candidate in advance of the Republican National Convention.

None of the three favorite sons has indicated which candidate he personally supports.

FOR ROCKY

Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer said he would try to persuade all three to join him in supporting Rockefeller.

Upon his arrival in Cincinnati, Rockefeller said there is "a real possibility" that Republican delegates will begin to turn away from Nixon if the former vice president does not win presidential nomination on the first ballot.

Rockefeller said the nation needs new leadership to overcome problems which have created widespread frustration.

"One of the frustrations is evidenced by the black people who are holding up the signs," he said.

Rockefeller said he had come to Ohio "to offer the Republican Party a choice — a winning choice."

NO CONFERENCE

At an impromptu airport news conference Rockefeller said he has no plans to confer with California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"He seems to be doing awfully well on his own," he said. Reagan has been picking up convention delegate support.

A reporter said Florida Gov. Claude Kirk had forecast Reagan's formal entry into the race and asked whether Rockefeller expected the Californian to announce candidacy.

"I consider that he's a pretty active candidate now," Rockefeller said.

AWAITS CAUCUS

Rhodes said he knew of no coalition plan and added his delegation would remain uncommitted until it caucuses on the convention's opening day Aug. 5.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, campaigning to overtake Richard M. Nixon in the presidential nomination race, said he did not anticipate re-

Credit Union's Assistance To Military Is Pointed Up

Credit unions are one of the best morale boosters available to the military, and good morale makes for good performance of the mission, Brig. Gen. Everett S. Thomas (USA Ret.) told a luncheon gathering at Webb AFB here Saturday.

He had come here to help dedicate the Webb Federal Credit Union's new handsome home which observed opening house during the day.

Gen. Thomas, executive secretary of the Defense Credit Union Council, had praise for the new facility, declaring that it met the requirements functionalism and good taste, and that it should reflect the pride of the membership in their credit union.

SERVICE

The real usefulness of the credit union, he cautioned, is in service. He challenged the board of directors, management and membership to use the new facility just west of the base chapel as a tool for giving "the best possible help to those in this command."

He was introduced by Gilbert Webb, vice president of the credit union at the luncheon attended by some 50 base, civilian and out-of-town guests. Maj. Jerry Grimes, president of the credit union, lauded Wade Choate, manager, for his leadership.

CEREMONIES

The formal opening came at 10 a.m. in brief ceremonies in which Gen. Thomas and Col. William McGlothlin, wing commander, participated with Elizabeth Moore, "Miss Credit Union," in snipping the ribbon. There was brisk traffic through the attractive, spacious quarters all during the morning. Even an early afternoon shower only slowed the tourout slightly.

Gen. Thomas said that Gen. Curtis LeMay was the first to recognize the importance of credit unions as a source of better morale. Taking a tip

Connally Cuts State Budget With Veto

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally took a slim slice today off the $2.5 billion appropriations bill passed by the special session, vetoing only $1.35 million.

However, Connally said in effect he would like to veto another $1.44 million lump sum appropriation for the state Department of Agriculture but held back because it would also blast a number of worthwhile and meritorious expenditures included.

Connally commented: "Lump sum appropriations of this nature severely inhibit the chief executive (governor) in the exercise of his constitutional responsibilities to render judgement on appropriations through exercise of veto power."

If this method of appropriation becomes a matter of common pervasive legislative practice, it could lead to the most pernicious waste of the financial resources of this state that our history may record."

The $1.35 million vetoed out the general revenue money in the bill for 1969 to about $489 million, still an increase of almost $36 million over 1968 spending.

In addition to the money vetoes, Connally cancelled a number of riders or special provisions that he said were illegal and unnecessary. One such rider would prevent the Department of Health and Air Control Board from spending any air pollution money that was connected in any manner with cotton gins. He vetoed a similar rider in 1967.

Another rider vetoed would have required the Department of Public Safety to keep its three airplanes and two helicopters in Austin except when on rescue missions. Connally said this would prevent them from being used for traffic surveillance and control.

The money vetoed included: Elimination of briefing clerks in courts of civil appeals, $91,000.

Two more automatic elevators for the Capitol, $275,000.

Temporary building to house the comptroller's operations until the finance building is completed, $600,000.

Executive assistant for the Board of Control, $18,500.

Investigation of insurance claims, $50,000.

Two deputies of Liquor Control Board, $30,000.

Purchase of land in Somervell County and Port Lavaca for parks, $277,500.

Museum at old Washington State Park, $22,000.

Says Demos Have Contract For Chicago Convention

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of a group which helped bring the 1968 Democratic National Convention to Chicago said today the convention is bound by contract to remain in Chicago.

James C. Worthy, chairman of the Chicago Nonpartisan Committee, 1968 National Political Conventions, introduced that angle into speculation that the convention may be shifted to Miami Beach or some other city.

The speculation has sprung from a strike by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers against the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. The strike has prevented installation of telephones and television and tele-

Huong Wants Direct Talks

SAIGON (AP)—Premier Tran Van Huong appealed today for peace talks between North and South Vietnam "without any go-betweens."

"The Vietnamese people would be proud of such a peace if it is achieved by the Vietnamese people themselves," he said.

"I appeal to the people in the North to stop their acts of aggression against the people of the South," Huong said in a short television speech marking the 14th anniversary of the signing of the Geneva agreements which divided Vietnam.

"The only way to bring about peace is to have direct talks between North and South Vietnam," Huong said, "and the North must disband all its organizations in the South."

McKittrick Park Area Is Closed

Sustained rains over a period of several days have forced the closure of the McKittrick Canyon area to public visitation, according to Supt. Neal G. Guse of Carlsbad Caverns National Park.

Guse said a total rainfall of 16.26 inches over the period July 2-7 caused severe damage to the access road to the canyon and also to the roads within the 6,000 acre federally-owned McKittrick Canyon area itself. Full assessment of damage has not been completed.

Big Spring Savings Buys Site For A New Facility

Acquisition of property as the site of a new business home has been announced by the Big Spring Savings Association.

Jack Worsham, president, said negotiations have been closed for the purchase of two adjoining tracts on Main Street at Seventh. The total property will extend about 162 feet along the west side of Main, from the Modesta shop location to Seventh, and is 140 feet deep. Purchases were made from Dr. Alben B. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gill, and the Gills are arranging to move their residence from 606 Main.

Savings board of directors is starting studies of needs for a new institutional home, and will be proceeding without interruption toward eventual design and construction.

Plans for a new facility, he said, "are a culmination of our desires to keep pace with the growth of our association, and with the growth of the community. We plan to have a modern, complete facility to be of more service to those who do business with us." Worsham said the design would include drive-in facilities and make provisions for adequate public parking.

Worsham said the Big Spring Big Spring Savings, now operating at 419 Main, has been organized just seven years. Its total assets have grown to more than $7.5 million.

Asks Lower Voting Age

To the Editor: We have sent to The Hon. John Dowdy, congressman from Texas these questions:

"We would like to ask your opinion on something we consider very important. What do you think of the draft and voting ages? We have three points that we would like to mention: 1) The voting age should be lowered to 18, or 2) the draft age should be raised to 21, or 3) everyone in military service regardless of age, whether drafted or enlisted should have the right to vote in federal elections.

"We feel that anyone who is called upon by his government to serve and fight for his country should have the right to vote in that county's elections, after all this is supposed to be a free country! This country would be in bad shape if it were not for men 18 to 20 years of age.

"We hope that you will do everything in your power to see that one of the three mentioned above is made a law."

Young son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel, Coahoma, one of 4-H Club members to be visited by County Calf Tour on Aug. 3

Country Calf Tour Scheduled Aug. 3

Howard County 4-H Club boys and girls are feeding 30 calves for the fall and winter stock show competition and friends of the youngsters will have a chance on Aug. 3 to see how the animals are shaping up.

Annual county calf tour is set for that date.

A caravan will form at the Howard County courthouse and visit the homes of the 10 members who are feeding calves for the coming season.

INVITATION

Paul Gross, county farm agent and James Shelton, his assistant will head up the tour. A cordial invitation to all friends of the 4-H Club movement to join in the trip has been extended.

This year will see three of the 10 exhibitors trying their hand at steer competition for the first time. Three are veterans and have often won honors at local and state shows.

The tour leaves the courthouse at 9:45 a.m. and makes its first stop at 10 a.m. at the home of Rickie Tubb. Young Tubb, is one of the first year showmen and has two calves he is shaping up. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tubbs. They live on the Andrews highway about 10 miles west of Big Spring.

Second stop will be at the H. C. Blackshear residence near Couden refinery, where Dealy Blackshear, another freshman in steer showing, will display his calf.

James Mike Blair, of Sand Springs, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Wayland, will be host at the third stop. He will show his calf and demonstrate what a first year youngster can do with an animal.

REAL VETERAN

The tour will swing back to Big Spring after the visit with James for a lunch break at the Big Spring City Park.

After lunch the first stop will be at the O'Daniel place, south and east of Coahoma, to see the two calves Robert O'Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel is feeding for the show ring. Robert is a second year showman.

A real veteran of the steer competition is next on the list. He is Robert Haney, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Haney, Luther.

Cases Ready For Trial

Six cases were announced ready for trial, and attorneys said that four other defendants would plead guilty to indictments against them when the 118th District Court jury docket opens Monday at 10 a.m.

Judge Ralph Caton called the docket on Friday afternoon.

Ellis Dyer, charged with DWI second offense, is tentatively slated to be the first defendant to go to trial. Doyle Sanders, charged with worthless check, is No. 2 on the list.

Ronnie Fisk, charged with robbery by assault, is No. 3, but the case against his codefendant, Roy L. Goswick, was passed for the term.

Joe Edward Barron, DWI second, Laverne Norwood, forgery, and Richard Roland Green, burglary, are the other defendants whose cases have been set for trial.

It is doubtful if more than two of the cases will be tried during the week. A jury panel of 120 has been summoned to report for duty in the cases.

Pleas of guilty are planned, the court was advised, by Samuel Dominguez, worthless check; Russell Headrick, three counts of forgery; and Alberto Ortiz Gonzales, DWI second.

Cases passed for the term in addition to that of Goswick are Herb Werner, embezzlement; Stanley Owens, theft; Miguel Medina, habitual failure to stop and render aid.

Cincy Reds Shade Philadelphians

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mack Jones' two-run pinch single keyed a four-run sixth inning burst and Alex Johnson drove in three runs with a single and double Saturday night as the Cincinnati Reds drubbed Philadelphia 9-3.

Jones' single sent the Reds ahead 4-3 in the sixth and they added two more runs in the inning on singles by Johnson and Tommy Helms.

Johnson drilled a two-run double as Cincinnati pulled away with three more runs in the seventh. Six of the Reds' last seven runs were unearned—the result of two throwing errors by Philadelphia third baseman Ricardo Joseph.

Don Lock socked a two-run triple for the Phils in the first inning and hit his second homer of the season in the sixth, breaking a 2-2 tie.

Lee May's 10th homer, in the second inning, and a run-scoring single by Helms in the third had pulled the Reds even.

Gerry Arrigo squared his hitting record at 5-5 with relief help from Ted Abernathy. Phils starter Larry Jackson, 9-11, was the loser.

BOSTON (AP) — Ken Harrelson drove in four runs with his 21st homer and a single Saturday, leading the Boston Red Sox to a 7-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Harrelson's homer came after Mike Andrews' double and a walk to Carl Yastrzemski in the third.

He then raised his league-leading RBI total to 71 in the fifth when he singled home Mike Andrews, who had singled and reached second on a wild pitch. Andrews drove home two more runs with his third straight hit in the sixth and Rico Petrocelli doubled home another in the seventh.

Lefty Dick Ellsworth, 8-5, checked the Senators on five hits.

The Senators scored once in the fifth on an error, a sacrifice by loser Frank Bertina and a single by Cap Peterson.

Houser, Soles Shine As Locals Triumph

Frank Houser pitched the Big Spring Internationals to a 5-1 victory over the Andrews Americans in the park at Webb AFB here Saturday night, thereby ousting the only out-of-town team in the District 3 Little League tournament.

The Internationals return to play Tuesday night in the semifinals against the Big Spring Texans, who drew a first round bye in the five-team meet.

The Big Spring Americans clash Monday night with the winner advancing all the way to Thursday night's finals.

All tournament games are scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock. No contest is scheduled Wednesday night.

Houser surrendered only two hits, did not walk a batter and fanned ten in notching the win. He lost his shutout in the fourth when his opposing number, Morris Roberts, was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and rode home on a single by Jimmy Jones.

The Internationals struck for two runs in the first, another in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

Landon Soles drove in four runs for the Big Springers and scored the other one. Jody Allred and Jerry Knoepfel counted on Soles' one-baser in the 'hello' inning.

In the fourth, Soles singled and eventually counted on an infield bobbler.

In the fifth, Claude Jenkins reached base on an error for the Internationals, went to third on a two-baser by Knoepfel and both counted on Soles' single.

In all, Soles banged out three hits.

Roberts also fanned ten while walking three. The Internationals are got to him for six hits and he was victimized by five bobbles on the part of his mates.

Washburn Blanks New York Mets

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mike Shannon scored one run looping a seventh inning double and drove in another with an eighth inning single, giving Ray Washburn and the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-0 victory over the New York Mets Saturday.

Lou Brock's single off Dick Selma, 8-5, in the seventh scored Shannon, whose leadoff fly ball to right center had fallen between Cleon Jones and Larry Stahl for a double, to snap a scoreless deadlock.

Roger Maris tripled off reliever Bill Short in the eighth and tallied an insurance run on Shannon's two-out single to left.

Washburn scattered eight hits in bringing his season mark to 8-3 with his fifth successive victory error.

Veale, 8-9, had trouble only with Bob Johnson, who had three of the five Atlanta hits and scored the Braves' run in the eighth on Felipe Alou's sacrifice fly. Johnson had received word Saturday morning of the death of his mother in Minneapolis.

Ex-MP Stars In Workout

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Halfback Woodie Campbell, on leave from Ft. Sam Houston, gained 41 yards in four plays Saturday as the Houston Oilers staged their second full scrimmage in training camp.

Campbell, the team's No. 1 running back last season, reported to the camp Friday from San Antonio, where he is a military policeman.

Both Campbell and fullback Hoyte Granger benefited from crisp blocking by the first offensive line. Granger carried nine times for 67 yards. Sid Blanks added 25 yards in five plays.

The first defense, including George Rice, George Webster, Gary Cutsinger and Pat Holmes, held the second offensive unit to a total of 84 yards, 40 on the ground.

Carl Stith and Rich Stotter played key roles for the second defense, which slowed Pete Beathard's team.

Beathard, playing with sore legs, completed nine of 14 passes for 109 yards and the day's only touchdown. John Wittenborn kicked a 29-yard field goal.

"The timing was better today in the offensive," said head coach Wally Lemm. "There were a few rough spots, which is normal for this period of training."

A's Decision Twins, 2-1

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Pinch-hitter Joe Rudi's run-scoring single with one out in the 11th inning gave Oakland a 2-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins Saturday.

Rudi's winning blow up the middle came after pinch hitter Dan Cater had led off the inning with a double.

The Twins had tied it 1-1 in the bottom of the ninth when Tony Oliva tripled and Rod Carew blooped a single to right.

Oakland, held to only four singles during the first four innings, got to starter Dean Chance for a run in the eighth when Sal Bando beat out an infield single with the bases loaded and two out.

After Chance struck out the first two men he faced, singles by Bert Campaneris and John Donaldson and a walk to Rick Monday loaded the bases.

McNally's Home Run Torpedoes Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Pitcher Dave McNally slammed a two-run homer for his first hit in 42 at-bats this season, pacing the Baltimore Orioles to a 5-3 victory over Detroit's American League leaders and 18-game winner Denny McLain Saturday.

The loss, coupled with Cleveland's 3-0 victory at New York, cut the Tigers lead to 6 1/2 games over the second place Indians.

McNally followed with a drive into the lower left field seats and Don Buford drew a walk before Robinson smashed his seventh homer to kayo McLain.

Held Is Traded To Chicago Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox acquired Woody Held from California and dealt Wayne Causey to the Angels Saturday in a swap of veteran utility players.

A temporary shortage of outfielders prompted the White Sox to deal for Held, who has played both infield and outfield in 11 major league seasons.

Held, 36, had only five hits in 44 at-bats for the Angels this year. Causey, a 31-year-old infielder in his eighth big league season, was 18-for-100 with the White Sox.

With Buddy Bradford fulfilling a three-week service commitment and rookie Bill Voss on the disabled list with a fractured jaw, the Sox were down to four outfielders.

McNally's first major league homer and a two-run blast by Frank Robinson in the fifth inning chased McLain and snapped the Detroit right-hander's winning streak at nine games. It was the first time in 24 starts this year that McLain, 18-3, has been knocked out of the box.

McNally, 11-3, blanked the Tigers on one hit until Mickey Stanley doubled with one out in the seventh. Al Kaline stroked a run-scoring single and Bill Freehan walked.

Gene Brabender came on in relief and hit Willie Horton with a pitch, filling the bases, then struck out Don Wert and got Jim Northrup on an infield fly to end the threat.

The Tigers, however, closed the gap on Stanley's two-run single in the eighth before Eddie Watt replaced Brabender and got Kaline to hit into a rally-killing double play.

The Orioles led 1-0 when Andy Etchebarren started the fifth inning fireworks with an infield hit. McNally followed with a drive into the lower left field seats and Don Buford drew a walk before Robinson smashed his seventh homer to kayo McLain.

A walk, Boog Powell's single and Curt Blefary's sacrifice fly produced Baltimore's first run in the fourth.

First games are set for next Saturday night with San Antonio playing Oklahoma City of the Continental League at Laredo, and Fort Worth going to Shreveport to meet the Southern League entry.

There will be 14 games on the exhibition schedule that will run through Aug. 17. The regular season opens Aug. 24.

HAD 21-1 RECORD
Harris formerly was head coach at Paint Rock High School, which fields six-man teams. In two seasons there, his teams won 21 of 22 starts, losing only to Christoval. His 1966 Paint Rock team emerged as the undefeated regional champions and was one of the highest scoring teams in Paint Rock history, averaging 53 points a game to 12 for the foe.

MIKE HARRIS

from there in 1952. He obtained both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees at Texas Tech, receiving the former in 1957 and the latter in 1965.

Too small to play football, Mike excelled in weight lifting and swimming. He was the State lightweight champion in weightlifting one year and in 1956 had a good shot at the Olympics only to injure a leg while in training at York, Pa.

Despite a lack of height, Mike gave all sports a whirl, however. Harris also ruled as the South Plains champion and the YMCA Regional titlist in weightlifting at one time. In swimming, he captured the TAAF State breast-stroke championship at 100 yards in 1955.

While at Texas Tech, he captured the intra-mural handball championship in 1965.

Harris was a teacher-coach at New Deal under Lloyd Hunt for three years and left there for a similar position at Loreno under Ed Mitchell, remaining there two years. He returned to college at Tech in 1962 to work toward his Master's degree. At that time, he was employed by the City Recreation Department and Texas Tech.

He started as head coach at Paint Rock in 1965 and remained there until 1967, when he moved to Big Spring.

He is married to the former Gienna Isaacs of New Deal. They have one child, a boy, Michael, age 6. The family makes its home at 2412 Alabama.

In addition to his swimming duties, Harris will help coach ninth grade football.

Big Spring hasn't had a swimming coach since Bill Lewis quit following the 1967 season.

McMURRY PLAYER

Curry played football for both Plainview and McMurry College, usually as a center-linebacker. He played under W. C. Harris and Bob Russ at Plainview and under Wilford Moore at McMurry. He graduated from McMurry in 1956.

Curry began his coaching career at Floydada in junior high in 1956, when Preston Watson was head mentor there. He left in '57 to become a coaching aide under Doug Cox at Brownfield.

He returned to Floydada to become a line coach under Charles Tyer in 1960 and was head coach there from 1962 through the 1967 season.

During that time, his teams won 31 and lost 30. His best year was in 1964, when his team finished with an 8-3 record after making the playoffs.

He has been succeeded at Floydada by L. G. Wilson, formerly of Winters.

Although living in Floydada this summer, Curry has been completing work on his Master's degree at Tech this summer.

He plans to move here around Aug. 1 but will continue to drive to Lubbock until he gets his degree.

He is married to the former Sylvia Rogers of Plainview. They have three children — Kayla, 12; Craig, 9; and Kristi, 3.

Dave Morehead Back With Sox

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox announced Saturday that right-hander Dave Morehead has been recalled from Louisville of the International League and that right-hander Darrell Brandon has been returned to Louisville.

Morehead, 24, came up to the Red Sox as a 19-year-old in 1963 and two years later pitched a no-hitter against Cleveland.

Tiant Handcuffs New York, 3-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Tiant limited New York to three hits—two of them infield singles—in hurling the streaking Cleveland Indians to a 3-0 victory over the Yankees Saturday.

Tiant held the Yankees hitless until the seventh inning on the way to his sixth straight victory and 16th in 21 decisions this year as the Indians ran their winning streak to five games.

First baseman Tony Horton made a sprawling stop of Mickey Mantle's ground smash leading off the seventh but Mantle beat his off-balance flip to Tiant, covering the bag, for the first New York hit.

Mantle was erased in a double play and the Yankees wasted Jake Gibbs' infield hit in the eighth and a bloop single by Roy White in the ninth. Tiant walked two and struck out five. The Indians nicked left-hander Fritz Peterson, 6-5, for a first-inning run when Dave Nelson beat out a bunt, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and scored on Lou Johnson's sacrifice fly.

Reichardt Is Star In Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Rick Reichardt smashed a three-run homer in the seventh inning Saturday, capping a four-run rally that carried the California Angels to a 7-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The Angels fell behind 4-0, then struck for three runs in the fifth and moved ahead 7-4 by cuffing Chicago reliever Wilbur Wood for four hits—including Reichardt's 11th homer—in the seventh.

Chicago countered with two runs in the eighth, but relievers Bobby Locke and Minnie Rojas protected the Angels' slim edge.

A two-base throwing error by Sox starter Tommy John keyed the Angels' three-run fifth. Singles by Woody Held, Vic Davalillo and pinch hitter Bobby Knoop sent the tying run across in the seventh before Reichardt unloaded into the left field seats.

Run-scoring singles by Leon Wagner and Tommy Davis plus Pete Ward's sacrifice fly gave the Sox a 3-0 jump in the third and Luis Aparicio singled home another run in the fourth before the Angels started their comeback.

Swiss Scores Win In English Race

BRANDS HATCH, England (AP) — Joseph Siffert, 32-year-old Swiss, scored a surprising victory in the British Grand Prix Saturday in a privately entered Lotus Ford by Rob Walker.

Ferraris driven by Chris Amon of New Zealand and Jackie Ickx of Belgium finished second and third.

An estimated 60,000 fans, including Prince Charles, saw the race. Only nine of the 20 starters still were running when Siffert crossed the finish line. His time for the 212 miles was 2 hours, 1 minute, 20 seconds, an average of 104.83 miles an hour.

It was the first Grand Prix victory for Siffert, who was driving the car used last year by the late Jim Clark of Scotland.

Mexicans Working Hard For Olympics

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, like a runner carrying the Olympic Torch of old, is occupied both with keeping its light shining bright and being sure not to stumble before the flame of 1968 Games is extinguished Oct. 27.

There is no real way of saying exactly how many persons will be involved before the flame goes out on schedule, for the tax drivers studying English at night school and the policemen working out traffic flow are as integral a part of success or failure of the games as is Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, chairman of the Mexican Olympic Organizing Committee.

FINDING PACE

With less than three months to go before the last torch runner lights the flame at opening ceremonies Oct. 12, there are signs that Mexico is finding its pace in the race for readiness.

All major construction of facilities is expected to be finished by Aug. 31, although interior work and detail touches probably will continue through the eleventh hour.

And, Ramirez Vazquez said last week, there are signs that Mexico will emerge from the Games with expenditures under the $85 million budget and without cutting any financial corners.

Preparations for the Games fall generally into two categories: The physical and the organizational. There is little doubt left that Mexico will be physically ready for the Games.

But organization, still being tested and at times found wanting, is the aspect about which doubts still are being expressed.

Some records of application for lodging, tickets and press facilities seem to vanish. Some persons who have bothered to check the status of their various applications have found this out.

Pasarell Is Top-Ranked At Merion

MERION, Pa. (AP) — Charlie Pasarell, America's top ranking men's tennis player, heads an international field in the 69th annual Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships at the Merion Cricket Club July 22-28.

Pasarell and four other members of the U.S. Davis Cup team try for the singles title won last year by South Africa's Cliff Drysdale, now a professional. The other Cup squad members entered are Arthur Ashe, Clark Graebner, Stan Smith and Bob Lutz.

The foreign field at Merion includes two South Africans, Ray Moore and Bob Hewitt, a recent winner over pro Lew Hoad at Wimbledon; Alan Stone, Australia's No. 5 ranking player; Japan's Jun Kuki, India's Ramnathan Krishnan and Premjit Lal; Haroun Rahim of Pakistan, Patricio Cornejo of Chile, and Lito Alvarez and Tito Vazquez of the Argentine Davis Cup team.

In the women's singles competition, Australia's Karen Krantzcke, winner of the Pennsylvania title in 1966, is among the favorites. She should be challenged by the likes of fellow Australian Helen Gourlay, South Africa's Marina Godwin and Laura Rossouw, France's Christiane Spinoza and America's Vicky Rogers, Valerie Ziegenfuss, Patti Hogan, and Stephanie de Fina.

Mary Ann Esel of St. Louis who won the 1967 women's singles title in an upset, will be back to defend it this year.

Graebner, who lost in the final here last year to Drysdale, Pasarell, Ashe, the No. 2 ranking American, and Hewitt, the one time Aussie player who has been playing for South Africa, appear top contenders for men's honors. Graebner lost the 1967 title in five sets after winning the first two against Drysdale.

Yale Still Biggest Winner In Football

Yale defends more than an Ivy League championship this fall. The Elis are the biggest winners in college football history by a whopping 31 victories.

Princeton, Harvard and Pennsylvania round out the top quartet as schools which helped start the game on American campuses. They still dominate the won column long after their national prestige, poll-wise, has waned.

STARTED IN 1872

From a three-goals-to-none victory over Columbia in 1872 through Walter Camp and Amos Alonzo Stagg to Carmen Cozza and Brian Dowling, Yale has posted 619 triumphs.

Princeton follows with 588 while Harvard and Penn both claim 567.

The rankings are based solely on the number of games won with percentages a factor only when teams have the same totals. Thus the Crimson, .723, edge the Quakers, .659, for the No. 3 spot.

Michigan with 502 triumphs and Notre Dame at 501 are the only other schools to reach the elite '500' bracket. Texas, Army, Dartmouth and Alabama round out the top 10.

It stands to reason the ancient Ivy powers are well out in front. What a head start they had.

By the end of 1888—a year the Elis outscored the opposition 694-0—Yale had won 92 games. Princeton 91, Harvard 79 and Penn 51.

By comparison, Michigan had 16 victories to its credit and that brash newcomer, Notre Dame, one.

The Fighting Irish have a slight lead, percentage-wise, with a .784 mark compared to Princeton's .780 and Yale's .775. Michigan, .734, and Army, .729, are the closest pursuers.

Yale has the most unbeaten seasons to its credit, 29, while Princeton claims the most perfect campaigns with 18.

PICKED TO WIN

Yale appears up to its old tricks this fall, favored to retain the Ivy crown it won last fall with stars like quarterback Dowling and halfback Calvin Hill returning. The Elis had gained the championship the first time the Ivy League became formalized in 1956, too.

Harvard, of course, shaped football's destiny by introducing rugby aspects to a soccer-oriented game in those early days.

The schools which are closest to cracking the 400-victory circle are Colorado with 393; Louisiana State, 391; Georgia, 383; Miami of Ohio, 381; Brown and West Virginia, 378; Rutgers and Michigan State, 377; Holy Cross and Virginia, 375.

California, listed with 402 wins, would be much higher in the ratings if the school hadn't switched to rugby for a period of years early in this century. Thus the Golden Bears claim many more victories but they weren't all achieved in football.

The all-time football teams ranked by victories, percentages figured without ties:

Jimmy Farris In Charge As Indians Win, 5 To 0

Jimmy Farris scattered three hits in pitching the Indians to a 5-0 Hi-Junior Teen-Age Baseball league win over the Optimists here Friday night.

Leon Hobbs blanked the Tribe until the fourth, when it picked up a run. A four-run fifth put the decision on ice for the Warriors.

Jeff Thomas, Johnny Rutherford, Roger Daxon, Riley Falkner and Ricky Peurifoy drove out the safeties for the Indians.

The Indians now are 11-3 in the standings while the Optimists are 4-10.

LAUGHING MATTER

"That doesn't look healthy to me."

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, July 21, 1968 7-B

Massengales Seeking Second Odessa Title

ODESSA (AP) — The record-breaking Texas combo of Don and Rik Massengale returns Thursday to open defense of its Odessa pro-am golf championship.

The Massengale brothers, pro Don and amateur Rik, slashed 37 strokes from the 6,500-yard, par 72 Odessa Country Club course in winning the title last year.

The 251 total for the 72-hole route was a record, as was their opening 59. And their closing 61 is the best closing round ever fired here.

They won by five strokes.

TOP PROS DUE

The $35,000 tournament has attracted a number of top professionals and virtually all of the state's outstanding amateurs but the money is often considered secondary.

The emphasis is on revelry, and the lure is such that actor-crooner Dean Martin is returning for the third straight year. He will be teamed with singer-golfer Don Cherry.

The musical duo missed the 36-hole cut by a mile last year but in the traditional spirit of good will nobody dared stop them from playing.

They finished a merry last. One the more serious side, teams are back, headed by PGA champion Don January and his amateur partner Dick Jennings.

Others are pro Charles Coody and Richard Patton, the 1966 winners, and Earnie Vossler-Buddy-Branum. Vossler and Don Massengale have won here twice.

TEAMMATES

The favorites in the run for the $8,000 first prize include the father - son team of Earl Stewart Jr. and son Chip, a University of Texas links ace and teammate of Rik Massengale.

Another threat is the team of Evansville, Ind., pro Bob Hamilton and Grier Jones, the NCAA champion from Oklahoma State who led here after three rounds a year ago.

Marty Fleckman, making big noises at the PGA tournament in San Antonio, is teamed with Ken Newell and they rank among the contenders.

So does the team of pro Rex Baxter and John Farquhar, two Amarillo products who grew up on wind-whipped West Texas golf courses.

Former Masters champion Gay Brewer and Byron Nelson Classic champ Miller Barber are other top names, along with Billy Martindale, Dutch Harrison, Rocky Thompson, Billy Maxwell and Jimmy Demaret.

The tournament is dedicated this year to Bo Winingar, the popular Las Vegas professional who died last December of a heart attack. He was a perennial pro-am contestant.

The festivities open Tuesday with a special $5,000 pro-am event that has no bearing on the regular tournament.

Damascus Attains Moneybags Class

NEW YORK (AP) — Damascus flashed past Dr. Fager in the stretch Saturday to win the Brooklyn Handicap in track record time at Aqueduct and become the eighth millionaire thoroughbred.

The 1967 Horse of the Year, flying the colors of Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft, passed Dr. Fager approaching the eighth pole and beat the Tartan Stable colt to the wire by 2 1/2 lengths.

The time of 1:59 1-5 for the 1 1/4 miles broke the track mark of 1:59 3-5 set by Gun Bow July 25, 1964, and tied by Dr. Fager last July 4 when he beat Bold Hour and Damascus in the Suburban Handicap.

RACIAL UNREST ON CLEVELAND CLUB

Brown Stars Waived

By The Associated Press

The objectives were the same — but the routes entirely different — as the Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cardinals took steps to check racial incidents on their teams.

"It was a very distasteful thing to do," said Cleveland owner Art Modell Friday after placing two starting veterans on waivers in an effort to block threatening dissension among the Browns.

Guard John Wooten and defensive back Ross Fichtner were up for grabs in the wake of charges and counter-charges from both concerning a July 1 golf tournament at Ashland, Ohio.

Fichtner handled arrangements for the event and Wooten, a Negro, accused him of prejudice because no Negroes were invited to play, as had been the custom in the past.

Fichtner said the size of the tournament had been cut down, and no racial slurs were intended. But he did say those connected with the tournament were unhappy because Negroes invited in the past had not socialized with white players.

The argument drew widespread publicity in the Cleveland newspapers and Modell said the positions of both players finally "became untenable." He said he wasn't trying to "hang either one of them. It's just the circumstances."

The 31-year-old Wooten is a nine-year veteran and Fichtner, 29, had been with the Browns for eight seasons.

Worth While

A regular at Moss Creek Lake, A. J. Mitchell of Stanton is shown with a 9 1/2-pound blue catfish he reeled in on his most recent trip there. A. J., who says his luck made the trip worth while, was angling with a rod and reel, using red shrimp as bait.

Cards Oppose Snyder Today

The Big Spring Cardinals will be seeking their 10th victory in 15 starts when they visit Snyder for a 2:30 p.m. baseball game with that city's Eagles.

Thomas Ham, who showed a lot of improvement last spring as a high school pitcher here, will go to the mound for the locals.

Others available for relief work on the hill include Charley Rodriguez, James Newman and Johnny Ramirez.

R. J. Englert, Mingo Rubio, Benny Gomez and Mack Duron are others who likely will suit out for the locals.

The two teams met previously this season, with Big Spring ekking out a 6-5 victory.

College Baptist Keeps Leadership In League

College Baptist made it 8-1 in Church Softball league standings by defeating Salem Baptist, 4-0, in an extra inning game here Friday night.

The pace setters collected three of their five hits in the big eighth after Rodney Brooks had blanked them through seven rounds.

Joe Blasingame, on the mound for College team, set the Salem crew down with two safeties and helped his own cause with a home run.

Don Ritchey accounted for College Baptist's other three tallies with a two-on homer. He also had a single while Bobby Brasel collected College's other hits, both singles.

Salem could have deadlocked College Baptist with a win. As it was, Salem dropped to 7-3 in the standings.

Darrell Morgan and Jimmy Anderson each had a hit for Salem.

In the second game, the Catholic church edged Westside Baptist, 7-6 thereby accounting for its third win in ten assignments.

Westside slumped to 3-8 with the reversal.

Paul Jenkins had a big night for the Catholics, driving out a triple and single. Raymond Hattenbach chipped in with a double and triple for the winners.

Jerry Don Paige accepted the mound loss but collected three hits, including a home run and triple.

ACES FIRED BY 2 MEN

M. R. (Frog) Koger had every right to look back on a golf round he shot at the Big Spring Country Club the past week with mixed emotions.

Koger, a prodigious swinger, fired a hole-in-one on the 153-yard seventh hole, then turned around and used 12 strokes on the 520-yard 14th hole.

He had played brilliantly through the 13th, at which time he was five under regulation figures.

Harold Hall and Jack Cook were playing with Koger at the time.

Bill McRee also sank an ace during the week, bagging his on the seventh while playing with Robert Stripling and Lowell Jones.

In Jets-Patriots Trade

Babe Parilli, left, Boston Patriots quarterback, was acquired by the New York Jets Saturday in a trade for Jets backup quarterback Mike Tallaferro, right. Tallaferro, 26, requested he be traded to give him a chance at a starting position with another club. He has been No. 2 to Joe Namath. Parilli, 38, a 14-year veteran of professional football, in 1964 was named the AFL's All-Star quarterback.

NCO Wives Club

Shortly after Webb Air Force Base was re-activated in 1952, the NCO Wives Club was formed to promote friendship and cooperation among members, as well as provide organized service to the base and community.

Many of the wives are temporarily alone while their husbands are on military assignment, and the club provides them with companionship and needed activity.

The group sponsors monthly welfare projects which include Family Services, the American Red Cross and the Veterans Administration Hospital. They contribute to college scholarship funds and offer help in any area that will benefit the base.

New officers were installed Saturday evening, and the women are looking forward to new meeting rooms when the NCO Open Mess opens in August.

A NEW SLATE WAS INSTALLED by the club Saturday evening at Webb Air Force Base, and here the women complete plans for the ceremony. Those standing are Mrs. W. E. Nelson, retiring second vice president; Mrs. Robert Johnson, retiring first vice president; and Mrs. Paul Hooser, second vice president. Seated are Mrs. J. A. Clement Jr., retiring president; Mrs. Noel E. Shelton, president; Mrs. Ed-die Hood, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert W. Carter, secretary. Those unable to be present for the picture were Mrs. Calvin Hall, retiring treasurer; Mrs. Howard Enoch, retiring secretary; and Mrs. John Del Vecchio, first vice president.

A REWARDING PROJECT of the NCO Wives Club is the presentation of a check to Family Services for the purchase of dishes. Accepting the money is Mrs. W. E. Nelson, left, family services volunteer who has received a gold 10-year pin for her work on base. At right is Mrs. James Wiggins.

Mrs. Chandler B. Estes
Honorary President

CAKE-BAKING IS BETTER when there's more than one to do it. These NCO wives get together when working on the club's welfare project of providing three cakes each month for patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. They are Mrs. John R. Nelson, Mrs. William Wheeler and Mrs. Roy G. Zeigler.

GUEST SPEAKERS ARE regular guests of the NCO Wives Club. The programs cover a wide range of subjects of interest to women. One of the recent programs enjoyed by the group was one on wig care. Shown practicing what they learned are Mrs. Bob Meisner and Mrs. William Doyle.

MEMBERS OF THE MONTH are chosen for outstanding achievement in the club as well as their friendliness and willingness to serve in any capacity. Three who have received the honorary title are Mrs. Marvin Holland, Mrs. Edward Sheigh and Mrs. Gerald Matthews.

MRS. DONALD GENE FREEMAN

Miss Margaret Darlene Jackson and Sgt. Donald Gene Freeman were united in marriage Saturday evening in the sanctuary of the First Church of God. The Rev. V. Ward Jackson, father of the bride, and Chaplain C. O. Hitt performed the double ring service.

Lace daisies trimmed the slender A-line skirt which swept into a chapel train edged with daisies. It wasn't very long ago that any woman who tampered with the lines of nature to the extent of experimenting with the color of her hair was immediately branded as a shameless hussy. Well, that is all changed now and is an out of fashion on the battle. Nowadays a "nice" girl can enhance her beauty with a hair color change, and the only reaction she'll get is one of admiration for gridding herself on good grooming providing, of course, that her choice of color is an intelligent one. What is an intelligent choice? She should choose one or two shades lighter than her natural color. With graying hair, try a return to a color somewhat darker than your childhood tresses. When in doubt consult your hairdresser. She will know what's right for you. Financing arranged on approved credit.

Wedding Solemnized In Chapel At Webb

Miss Sonya Hudgins became the bride of Sgt. James William Yost at 6 p.m. Saturday in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base. The Rev. John Darcy read the double ring vows as the couple stood before an altar rail entwined with greenery and flanked by baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. H. K. Alley, Miami, Fla., and A. C. Hudgins, 423 Dallas. The bridegroom's father is Joseph J. Yost of Akron, Ohio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a traditional gown of Chantilly lace over white satin designed with a fitted bodice and long sleeves forming petal points over the hands. The tiered skirt swept to a chapel-length train, and she wore a petal cap encrusted with seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was of silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Cecilia Ann Hudgins, of Miami, Fla., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Joe Schalk of Big Spring was bridesmatron, and Miss Evelyn Hughes was bridesmaid. Miss Elizabeth Ann Alley, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The attendants were attired in identical floor-length gowns of turquoise peau de soie designed with scooped necklines and A-line skirts featuring an inverted front pleat. They wore Dior headpieces with brief veils and carried single long-stemmed turquoise carnations.

Charles Edward Yost of Akron, Ohio, served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Sgt. Jim Reed and Airman 2. C. Don Lewis, both of Webb Air Force Base. Paul Douglass Jr. was junior groomsmen.

Venita Lea Johnson was flower girl, and Vincent Keith Alley, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

WEDDING TRIP

When the couple left on a trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a blue three-piece suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. They will be at home in Akron.

Mrs. Yost is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom graduated from Archbishop Hoban High School in Akron, and will enter Akron University in September.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's father. Miss Susan Daniels presided at the guest register, and others in the house party were Miss Karen Melton, Three Rivers; and Mrs. E. R. Richardson. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over turquoise and centered with an arrangement of turquoise and white carnations interspersed with silver wedding bells. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Food Distribution Helps Meet Poverty Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles dealing with the number of poor people in this county and what is done to alleviate their distress. Other articles will discuss other aspects of this problem.

By SAM BLACKBURN

Nearly 15 per cent of the households in Howard County have incomes so low that they have to be classified as poverty cases. However, social workers whose duties bring them in daily contact with these depressed families, insist there is no real hunger in the county.

The efficient distribution of surplus commodities, the benevolence of religious and charitable groups and the educational efforts which the welfare agencies pursue precludes, social workers believe, any true examples of what could be termed starvation cases.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce reports there are 12,300 households in the county. Of this number 10,500 are in Big Spring. The average household, county-wide, comprises 3.5 individuals. The average urban household is made up of 3.38 persons.

BELOW STANDARD
A check shows that 14.8 per cent of all households in this county have incomes under $3,000. Another 12.1 per cent have incomes from $2,999 to $3,999. In contrast to these low income groups, the Chamber of Commerce records show that 35 per cent of the Howard County households have incomes of $10,000 or better.

If these figures are valid, then more than 6,000 men, women and children of the county's total population of around 43,000 exist on family group incomes of not more than $250 per month. This means the household must provide itself with clothing, shelter, food and fuel for about $71 per month per person.

LESS THAN $70
Since only the top bracket of this 14.8 per cent of the households has the maximum annual income of just under $3,000, then it must be assumed that hundreds of individual residents of this county have much less than $70 per month to maintain themselves.

For about 200 households of the county's total, the difference between going hungry and having food is found in the Howard County Welfare Department's surplus food distribution program just now moving into its eighth year of operation.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare director, sees it that 700 individuals are given food from government supplied surplus foods each month.

"The food we are now distributing," said the director, "supplemented with just a little fresh meat and a few fresh vegetables will insure these people we serve with a balanced diet."

QUALIFICATIONS
A family group can be provided with these free commodities if it can qualify under the standards as to its needs. These standards are set up by the state and the federal government but the welfare office rolls are open to all persons who are entitled, under the regulations, to this form of assistance.

The foodstuffs are from the federal surplus foods warehouses. Howard County Welfare's stock comes from San Angelo. The surplus food program was adopted here to replace the highly expensive and inefficient "grocery order" plan which was formerly used. Under that plan, the county welfare annual expenditure for groceries ran as high as $10,000 a year.

PLAN CHANGED
The plan then followed was for the impoverished applicant to come to the welfare office, state his case and, if he was found to be in real difficulty, he was given a county voucher for a certain amount of money. These vouchers were accepted by food stores in payment for food. The county then paid the grocer at the end of the month.

COUNTY WELFARE FOOD CENTER HELPS FEED HUNDREDS
"Supermarket" for 200 of county's poorer family groups

Under the surplus food commodity distribution plan, Mrs. Phillips points out, the allotment of funds in her budget for grocery purchases has dropped from $10,000 in 1958 to $1,500 in 1968.

Further, she says, the recipients are being provided with more and better food.

ABUSES
Under the old grocery order plan there were instances of abuse. The holder of the order would sometimes use the money, not for groceries, but for beer or cigarettes, if a scheme could be worked out with a dealer to accept the script for that purpose. A requirement was then made that the storekeeper write on the back of the order the items bought — a regulation which irritated the merchants since it took much additional time. Further, this was not foolproof—a couple of six packs of beer could easily enough be listed on the order as potatoes, flour or lard.

The poor of Howard County have only the meager incomes they eke out for their work or they are recipients of pension, old age or Social Security checks.

OTHER HELP
Since only 200 households (families) of the county's probable 1,400 households with incomes under $3,000 are provided food through the County Welfare surplus food distribution, then at least 1,200 other households are subsisting on what income they have or receive from other agencies.

The State Welfare office says that 633 individuals in this county are receiving old age checks from the OAA program. Nine individuals get checks from the state as aid to the blind. Twenty-six persons, classified as totally disabled, get OAA monthly payments and there are 40 families on the State Welfare rolls who are getting aid for dependent children. The aid to children serves 165 children at this time.

The Old Age Assistance can pay an individual up to $110 per month — maximum under the state program. However, few of the old age pensioners in this county receive the maximum. They receive much smaller amounts—the minimum can be as little as $1. The average for the county paid to old age pensioners is $58.84.

AID TO BLIND
The bulk of these individuals must get by on this minor sum or get help elsewhere since they are as a rule too old to work and earn any supplemental income.

The county's blind get an average monthly payment of $66.04. The county disabled pensioners receive average checks of $57.46.

The aid to dependent children averages $93.86 per family per month. The maximum benefit for one child could be as high as $72. For two children the maximum is $93; for three children $114. Four children or more could get not to exceed $135 per month.

The State Welfare office points out there is much misunderstanding relative to this phase of its work.

There is a mistaken impression, an official said, that certain families utilize the child support plan to collect easy money.

This, the welfare workers assert, is not the way it works.

JOBS FOR MOTHERS
A child to be placed on the dependent children list must be proved deprived of a father by either death, divorce, desertion or by some illness which has left the parent in capable of providing for the child.

The mother, if she is physically able to do so, must file with the Texas Employment Commission and she must investigate all offers of employment and accept any which are termed as suitable. Of course, if she has very small children, the mother may not be able to work. It is also possible that she could be in such poor health that she is unable to hold a job.

"We insist that an offer of employment must be a fair offer," said one worker. "We have instances where women on our lists are asked to work for 50 cents an hour or some other ridiculous sum. We do not insist that the applicant for employment accept such jobs."

LIMITED
The amount of money a mother may receive for dependent children is stipulated and limited. If a family shows four children on its list and is accepted for assistance, the maximum payable is $135 per month; if other children appear in the family, no additional payment is made.

The needy of the community, in the opinion of Mrs. Phillips are not restricted to any one race.

She said that a check of the 700 persons who receive surplus commodities from the county office are fairly well divided.

"We have about 45 per cent Latin-Americans, 30 per cent Negroes and 25 per cent Anglos on the lists," she said.

PENSIONERS
Indicative of the sharply curtailed income that the impoverished and aged get from the state welfare program is shown by the average that those on the rolls receive. Old age pensioners get the largest monthly amount—$37,437 for an average $58.38. The 19 blind persons receive $1,254 for an average of $66.04 per month. The 26 disabled receive $1,288 per month for an average of $57.46.

The 40 families receiving aid to dependent children represent 165 individual youngsters. Total monthly payment to this group is $3,760 for a family average of $93.86 and an individual average of $22.50 per child. For the entire group of 843 persons receiving state welfare checks the average is $44.60 per month.

OTHER CARE
However, this is not all of the money the state welfare department spends in the county. A program known as the vendor plan makes it possible for certain individuals who have need for nursing home care to be afforded such care.

There are a large number of vendor clients on the state rolls. In the cases of these individuals, the old age benefit checks are paid directly to the nursing home with the exception of a small sum which is retained by the client for his or her personal needs.

Old age benefit recipients are now enrolled in medicare and are assured of hospitalization by this method.

PERMANENT RESIDENTS
The activities of the two welfare departments are concentrated on the problems of the permanent resident who is in the low income bracket and in need of additional help beyond what he can provide for himself.

Transients who reach the county and the city and are in destitute circumstances are provided assistance by the Salvation Army and in certain other distress cases, by the Red Cross.

A milk and Medicine Fund, supported by the United Fund, stands by to provide certain foods and medical help when families are in emergencies.

Most of the religious organizations of the city have some form of charity endeavor which help in cases which fall into their fields.

The amount of money which Social Security pays to retired persons cannot be logically dubbed as welfare relief since it is not based on that premise.

SOLE INCOME
However, it is conceded that for a great number of persons checks they get from this source retired under the program, they are the major and sometimes sole source of income.

The average check received by clients of the Social Security in Howard County is $72.70. Those persons who have to rely primarily on this for their subsistence, must be classified as members of the county's lower income group.

The importance of this income to the economy of the county is bound to be important since it amounts to $253,553 per month or $3,120,236 per year. There are 3,344 men and women on the Social Security list.

CONCLUSIONS
Social welfare workers who are in close contact with the situation in this county concede:

1.) The county has its full share of persons who are in dire financial straits and who have to be helped if they are to escape starvation.

2.) The county welfare department's surplus commodity distribution program alleviates major food distresses for some 700 of the county's poor but does not reach a vast number of other people who need help.

3.) State welfare department checks to old age pensioners, blind persons, permanently disabled individuals and dependent children comprise the bulk of the income of hundreds of persons.

4.) Social Security checks go to a considerable portion of the county's 1,500 households which are those of persons entitled to be classified as needy.

5.) Only a start has been made in the matter of affording better housing for the families of persons who have poverty incomes.

A Devotional For The Day

Thou shalt have no other gods before me. (Exodus 20:3)

Need Of Brightening

If all cities have one problem in common, it likely is the appearance of approaches into the city.

We have ours, and in some respects it is better than it once was, but the coming of Interstate 20 has brought one new area into focus. It is along the south access road as IS 20 skirts the northern part of the city.

If there is any importance to creating a good impression upon those who may not even stop, then we should take a good, hard look at this matter and see if there are not steps that can be taken eventually to brighten up the strip.

Persuasion, zoning, taxation and other factors will enter into this picture, but there are remedies available and potential which will help remove some of this blight that hardly does our town credit.

Worthy Service

The Webb AFB Federal Credit Union has achieved a "first" among the dozen groups which have banded together to perform a unique service for their members here. A handsome new building was dedicated and held open house at the base Saturday.

Webb is the first credit union to build its own home. The Webb credit union has had a remarkable growth, and today it has nearly 8,000 members scattered around the world and who have a $4½ million investment in it. Prospects are that the unit will continue to grow substantially and become the home-base for some overseas operation.

The base credit union has filled a role that goes beyond those of some private groups, for it has breached the gap for many a serviceman in emergency situations. It has been able to step into a credit gap to help individuals who might otherwise be barred from loans or penalized because of the transient nature of their assignments.

While this has been of great help to the members, it also has been of benefit to the community in stimulating economic activity. Finally, it has been a haven for a financial nest egg for many a service-connected family, no matter where it might be sent here or abroad.

Marquis Childs Daley's Kingdom In Chicago

WASHINGTON—One of the few surviving bosses out of the old politics of power and pelf to whom both Democrats and Republicans pay tribute is Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago. A striking illustration is the way the Democrats cling to Chicago as a Presidential convention site despite the communications strike threatening to make adequate preparation all but impossible.

THIS GOES BACK to the original choice of Chicago, which many Democrats felt then and feel even more strongly today was a mistake. The argument in the inner council was over security and the possibility of mass demonstrations that could be contained only by thousands of National Guardsmen with bayonets drawn. They would have to patrol the route through 50 blocks of squalid slum from the downtown Loop to the International Amphitheater with a sight—and smell—of the stockyards.

IT MADE SENSE, so the security argument went, to follow the example of the Republicans and go to Miami Beach. In that resort with its abundance of hotel rooms, eight bridges and causeways from the mainland can be shut off to all but those with proper credentials and a mass invasion of demonstrators thereby checkmated.

But the President was adamant. He denounced Miami Beach as a rich man's playground entirely out of character with the Democratic party. Along with the most minute details of the convention Chicago was his decision.

IN THE MONTHS that have intervened Daley has shown that his loyalty is not to the Democratic Administration in Washington and the national ticket but to Chicago and Cook County.

Daley has said that the convention will be held in Chicago even if the strike forces a blackout of television and makes telephone communications from the hall difficult if not impossible. He has also said that, if necessary, city employees will do the installing held up by the strike.

THE CONSEQUENCES of a television blackout in the hall are not hard to envisage. As a substitute, mobile television would concentrate on the demonstrations and the street crowds. The emphasis would be on protest and disorder to the great disadvantage of the party's nominee.

Billy Graham

The phrase "rend their garments" appears in the Bible several times. Will you please explain this for me?

A. W. Rending the garments was a custom showing great mental agitation, grief, sorrow or anger. With a knife the mourner or distressed person would cut a place on the edge of a tunic or inner garment and then tear it three or four inches. At Christ's trials the high priest rent his garment because he said Christ had spoken blasphemy. This rending would take place when mourning for a departed loved one. On such occasion the rent would be sewed up in thirty days except when mourning for a father or a mother. However, in the case of the high priest, according to Jewish custom, he could not sew up his rent at all. It must stay. The rending of the garment was done also when any member of the family became an apostate.

What Others Say

There's something inherently dishonest about the proposal to change our major holidays, created to pay tribute to our heroes and honor certain events, to Mondays and making them three-day sprees.

It's a kind of perversion. Since the 40-hour week was imposed upon us by federal law back in depression days we've noted a material change in our observance of holidays.

The Fourth of July was always a grand event. Speeches, parades, picnics, games with the east side of town pitted against the west side. We saluted the flag, honored our founders, reviewed the success of our way of life, and went home proud of our society. These are a thing of the past today. Now we stretch the Fourth so as to include a weekend and give us a large share of a week in which to get sunburned lying on the beach, or go fishing in the mountains. Not even an echo of oratory recalling our glorious past and giving our children a sense of pride in our history.

The same contrast holds true with our other holidays.

So, if we're going to give up holiday observance why not be honest about it? Why not just obliterate Memorial Day, Washington's Birthday, Thanksgiving, Independence Day, Veterans Day?

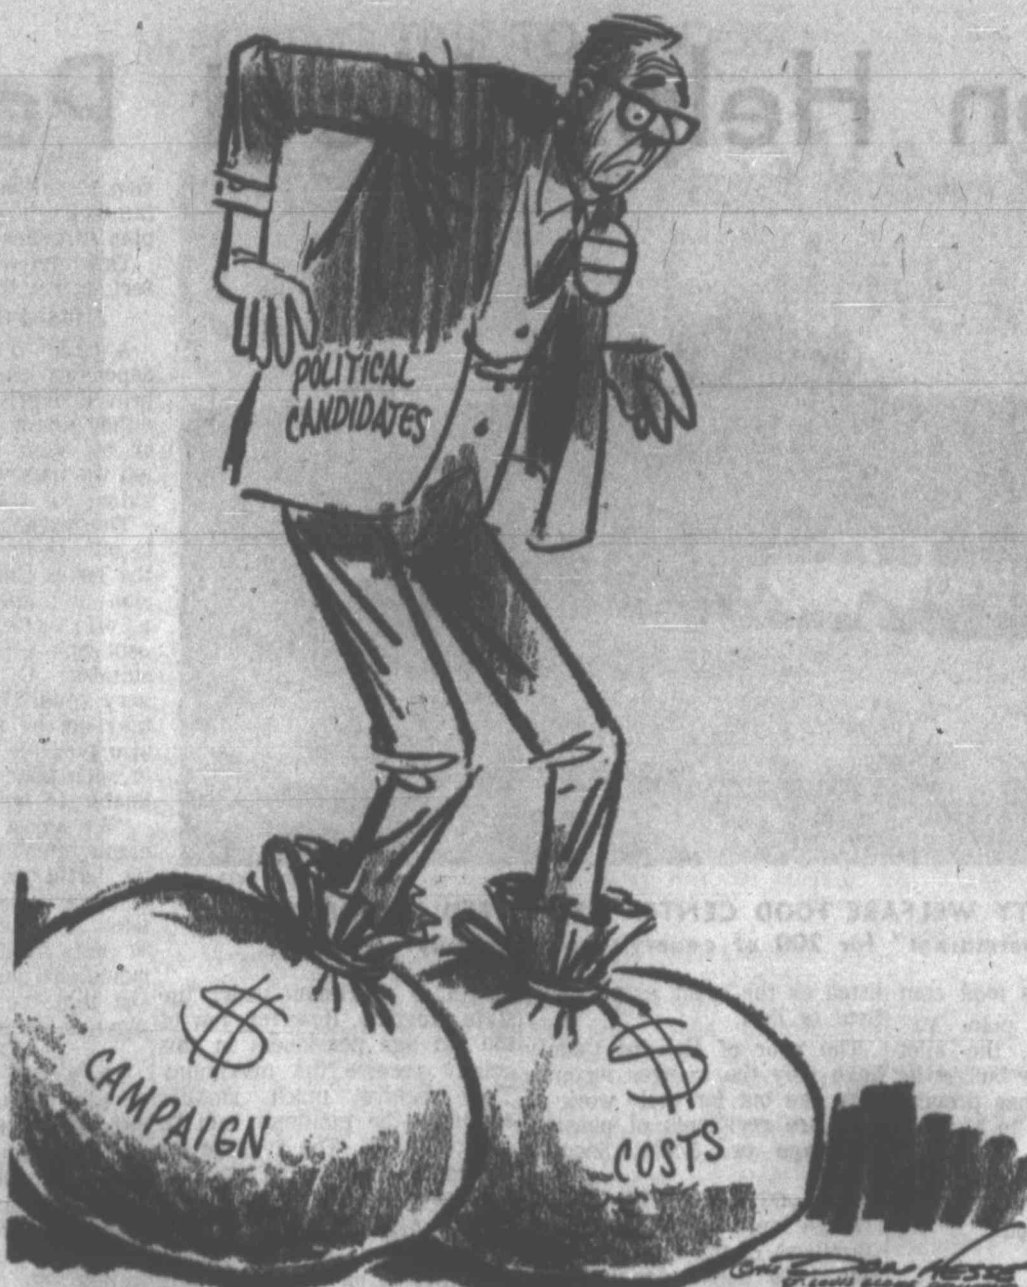

Since we're considering holding all of them on Mondays, and encouraging everybody to forget their purpose, why don't we substitute a three-day Bonus Vacation every other month, or even every month? — TURLOCK (CALIF.) DAILY JOURNAL

Economy Undergoing Orderly Cooling

EASY, THERE

- GNP hits record $550.8 billion, but slows
- Business continues to gain, but rate retarded
- Sales hit new peak of $93.4 billion for month
- Housing off second straight month, credit eased
- Saving-loan reserve level lowered, to aid housing

NEW YORK (AP)—New statistics indicated this past week that the economy is slowing down somewhat.

This would be in line with predictions of many economists that during the second half of this year the rate of growth will be more subdued.

The latest figures cover the Gross National Product, the operating rate of factories, the corporate rate of profits, business inventories, industrial production and housing starts.

The GNP—total of all goods and services—rose in the three months ended June 30 by $19.6 billion to a record annual rate of $550.8 billion. But it's increase was a bit below the $20.2 billion gain in the first quarter.

In connection with the GNP, Assistant Secretary of Commerce William H. Chartner said a sharp slowdown in final sales in the second quarter and a rise in inventories suggests the economy is entering a period of "orderly cooling."

OFF, BUT STRONG

The Federal Reserve Board reported the factory operating rate slipped in the second quarter to 84.9 per cent of capacity from 84.9 per cent in the first quarter. The second-quarter average was off from 87.1 per cent a year earlier.

The annual rate of corporate profits after taxes dropped in the first quarter to $49.1 billion and from $50.3 in the previous quarter. The Commerce Department said the decline to the new retroactive income surtax.

Another Commerce Department report showed business inventories rose much more slowly in May than during April, while sales posted a strong gain.

The report said the $678 million increase in stocks of all businesses in May was only about half the $1.46 billion gain in April but was well above the $350 million average for the first quarter.

SALES AT RECORD
Combined sales of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers advanced by two per cent to a record $93.16 billion in May after a decline in April to $93.37 billion.

Industrial production climbed in June to a record for the second straight month, but the gain was much less than in May—another supporting factor for forecasts that the economy will cool in the second half.

The Federal Reserve said the June index of factory, mine and utility output rose 0.3 per cent to an annual rate of 164.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average. The gain in May was 1.6 per cent.

Housing starts fell during June for the second straight month to their lowest level of the year. The Commerce Department said the annual rate of 1.31 million units was off about 2.5 per cent from May.

In an effort to infuse strength into home building and the economy, the federal government acted to make it easier,

Around The Rim Mechanization Strikes Again

This is another warning signal being lofted for those who, like yours truly, are not in their ways and resist these newfangled ideas put forth in the name of progress.

It's the Post Office Department we must watch.

For a long time The Bell System had me upset, what with all-digit nonsense, direct dialing and all the other mechanical aids that will never replace the Voice with the Smile. Matter of fact, I still cannot remember my own phone number.

AS COULD HAVE been predicted, the Bell System paid no attention to me, and it is now necessary on occasion to dial up to a dozen digits just to talk to Aunt Minnie in Waxahatchie. So much for that.

But now, were you aware that the Post Office Department is sneaking in new abbreviations for states? You may not have learned them yet, but take a look at the postmark on an incoming piece of mail and you'll see that we're going for more mechanization.

THE ABBREVIATIONS we learned in school are out the window, as far as the officialdom is concerned, and the day will come when the public is told to adopt them or else your mail will be returned. The Department, you will recall, toyed with those numbers for a couple of years, then abandoned them in favor of Zip Codes, which are an abomination to those of us trying to keep an address book up to date.

COMPOUNDING the confusion, all states have been reduced to two letters. You don't write "Mass." any more, you get by with "MA." No use putting down "Ark." or "Calif." "AK" and "CA" will do the trick.

There's not much the bureaucracy boys could do with states like New Hampshire and New Mexico; they remain the same. But you must write "OH" for Ohio and "MN" for Minnesota, not to mention "MT" for Montana and "CT" for Connecticut.

THE MOST BRAZEN outrage is to reduce proud "Tex." to "TX" and I'm not so sure but that we ought to stage a non-letter-writing demonstration against this — or a sit-in on Post-Office pens.

To make matters worse, the postal whiz-kids have come up with a list of standardized abbreviations for cities and towns of more than 13 characters. No telling what they've done to places like Fredericksburg or Far Rockaway Beach.

It's the machine that's doing all of this, of course.

THE DAY will come, mark it, when you will be ordered to address your letters in reverse order, such as:

7070
BG SPRG TX
462 RNLS
JOE DOAKES

They may even make Joe abbreviate his name, too. And certainly there will be a warning not to "fold, staple or mutilate this letter in any way." Otherwise, the office won't accept your mail.

I'd be willing to go back to the pony express, and leave it to the rider to find out where to deliver the mail. — BOB WHIPKEY

Art Buchwald Slow Torture By Torte

(Art Buchwald has disappeared for a few weeks. He left some articles behind. When asked if they were reprints, he indignantly replied, "No, they're gems."—Editor's note.)

VIENNA, Austria—There are many people in Vienna who consider the State Opera House the most important building in the city. But there are others of us, mostly on the highest cultural levels, who would trade three performances of "Fidelio" and two performances of "Lohengrin" for one plate of schlag at Demel's, the grandmother of all Viennese pastry shops.

Demel's is to Austria what the Tower of London is to England. Inside the hallowed mirrored walls are displayed the treasures of the country — foaming mountains of custard, strata upon strata of chocolate cakes, bottomless lakes of fruit-flavored mousse, tunnel after tunnel of apple strudel and glaciers of ice cream and frozen tarts.

IT HAS BEEN said that if Austria had an Aga Khan, he would be weighed each year at Demel's and given the equivalent in whipped cream and strawberry icing.

The first thing I saw on entering Demel's was a large marble stand filled with homemade candies. On top of the stand was a handwritten sign advertising the specialty of the day.

It was strawberry mousse with vanilla cream, grilled almonds and hazelnuts, sherbet and assorted candied fruits.

"A STRONG man," Si Bourgin, an international food patrolman, told us, "would quail at such a dish, but the average Austrian woman can eat 10 of them."

As my eyes became used to the light, I saw a room to the right with about 20 tables. The decor was late 19th century, and very little has been changed since Emperor Franz Josef used to pop in for an apple turnover. In the center of the shop was the high altar, filled with pastries and gugelhufl.

I STARTED to shake uncontrollably, and Bourgin had to slap me in the face to bring me back to my senses.

The women who wait on people are known as the Sisters of Demel's. They are dressed in shapeless black smocks and have all taken vows never to serve any pastry unless it has been made with butter. Tattooed on their arms are the words: "Death Before Shortening."

As I sat at a table and prepared to eat six pastries, I heard a low rumbling, groaning and moaning.

"What's that?" I asked Mr. Bourgin.

"THAT'S WHAT is known as the Demel lament. Each afternoon the women come here and start moaning. "Oh, I can't eat this—it's so fattening. Oh, I can't take another bite. I shouldn't! Tomorrow I will eat nothing all day. I swear this is the last Sachre Torte I will touch for a month." They never stop eating while they're talking. You could compare the Demel lament to a Gregorian chant.

"What kind of people come here?"
"The Viennese aristocracy, tourists, beautiful women and people who are trying to forget their unhappy childhoods. You must never talk to a beautiful woman at Demel's. The way to strike her fancy is to send over a pound of butter with your compliments. If she accepts it you can then formally introduce yourself."

David Lawrence The 'Separation Of Powers'

WASHINGTON—A grave constitutional question has been raised before the Senate Judiciary Committee involving the propriety of a Supreme Court justice serving as an unofficial adviser to the President. Up to now it has always been assumed that the doctrine of "separation of powers" meant that the executive and judicial branches of the government were to be kept independent of each other.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE Abe Fortas, who has been nominated by President Johnson to be chief justice, acknowledged to the committee that he has participated in White House policy meetings while serving as a member of the Supreme Court. There have been a few occasions in the past where a justice of the Supreme Court has been useful in international negotiations, but there is no known precedent in which a justice has been asked to advise the President on matters of domestic policy.

In testifying before the Senate committee, Justice Fortas said:

"It is well known that the President and I have been associated, mostly as lawyer and client, for many years. The President has confidence in my ability to analyze the situation and state the pros and cons . . ."

"THE PRESIDENT of the United States, since I have been a justice, has done me the honor of indicating in a few instances that I could be of help and I have been asked to come to the White House to participate at times."

Justice Fortas admitted that he took part in the meetings held by the President during last summer's rioting in Detroit. Mr. Fortas said he did not write the President's statement ordering federal troops to the Michigan city but that he did see it in advance.

WHEN SEN. JAMES Eastland,

D-Miss., specifically asked Justice Fortas whether he had approved the President's message beforehand, Mr. Fortas said that he wasn't asked for any approval. But the impression was given that he acquiesced in the contents of the message. He referred to the incident as occurring at a "time of national crisis."

It will be recalled, however, that Gov. George Romney of Michigan tangled with the White House when the riots broke out. He tried to get federal troops sent promptly, but the President delayed his reply for several hours. There is still a controversy in Detroit during the period between the White House and the President's response later stipulating that the governor must put his request in writing.

SEN. SAM J. ERVIN JR., D., N.C., asked Justice Fortas if he might have to disqualify himself from consideration of certain legal cases which could develop in the future as a consequence of the President's decision to send troops to Detroit. Mr. Fortas declared it was "difficult" for him to imagine such a thing occurring, but that if the problem arose he would consider whether he should disqualify himself from acting in such a case.

CERTAINLY in the discussion in the Senate Judiciary Committee and the debate that will ensue in the Senate, the proper role of a Supreme Court justice in his relations with a President of the United States is likely to be fully explored. Present and future justices of the Supreme Court may be warned that they cannot serve on the bench and act as personal advisers to a chief executive without running into difficulties with Congress over the principle of the "separation of powers" embodied in the Constitution.

Weathered Marker, Home Recall Gail's First 'Doc'

By SAM BLACKBURN

GAIL—There's a weathered grave marker in the old Gail Cemetery, bearing the name of James N. Prince. He was born, you read, Dec. 24, 1860 and he died in 1902.

There's a great deal more to the story than the tombstone records. It is a story closely tied to the pioneer history of Borden County and of the problems that the early settlers had to deal with.

James N. Prince was the first doctor in Borden County and until his death was the only doctor. His patients were not numerous and they were widely separated and his only means of reaching them was on horseback, in a buggy or on foot.

His death was a product of his profession.

"SLOW FEVER"

In 1902, oldtimers remember painfully, Borden County's populace was assailed by what was called in those days "slow fever."

Doctors of today call the disease typhoid. In the primitive days of 66 years ago, you have less than a fighting chance to survive slow fever, and there are many graves bearing 1902 date in the burying grounds of Borden County. The tombstones do not say so but it is likely that the deaths were the product of that county-wide typhoid epidemic.

Dr. Prince was 41 years of age when he died. At that time he had lived in Borden County for 13 years.

Memory of this pioneer physician and of the many services he rendered to the pioneers of the area still exist.

Dr. Prince was born in Mt. Vernon. His father has been a teamster in the Confederate Army. James was a tiny baby when his father left to go to war. Nearly five years later his father came home. His young son did not know him; he regarded his father as a stranger. From 1867 until 1889, Prince lived in Rogers, Tex. In those years he attended the Missouri Medical College, St. Louis, and the Memphis, Tenn., Hospital Medical College, where he graduated in 1887.

PREVIOUS PRACTICE
He practiced medicine for two years in Rogers where he was an active citizen and a member of the Masonic bodies, the IOOF and the Woodmen of the World.

He married a young school teacher, Susan Emma Green, who came to Rogers from Belton. Her father had also served in the Confederate army as a surgeon. After the war, her father became a Baptist preacher.

The young physician and his wife had five children. All but one are still living.

In 1889, Dr. Prince made three trips from Rogers to West Texas and what is now Borden County. He wanted to explore the country and his fancy settled on the rugged lands of Scurry County dominated by Mushaway (Muckakoo) Peak. "This is to be my future home," he said to himself.

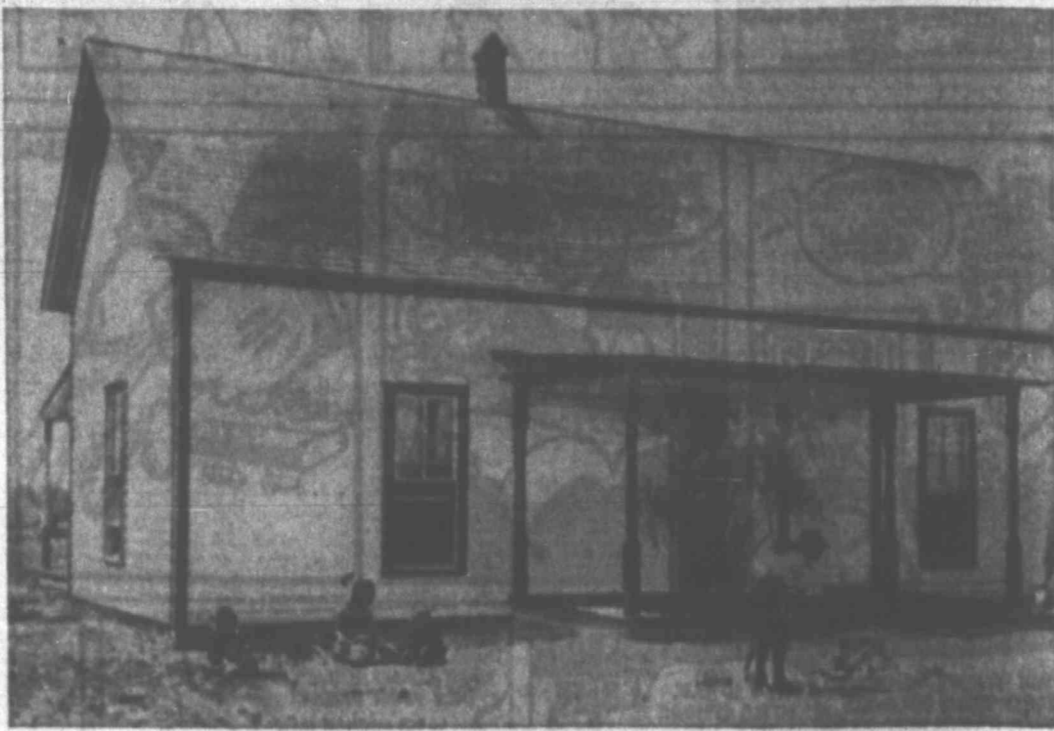

FILES ON LAND
His young wife had the same adventuresome spirit of her husband, and they headed west. On his second trip out, Dr. Prince had filed on a section of land — Sec. 32, township 5 north — which is just one mile east of the present townsite of Gail. This was to be their new home.

At that time there was no Gail. The area was wild, unsettled and the terrain unmarked by furrow, and the vista without a house to break the expanse of hills, canyons and grassy prairie land.

The Prince family pulled out of Rogers in the fall of 1889. Apparently the group travelled in three covered wagons and a buggy. J. M. Searcy, brother-in-law of Dr. Prince, and his wife, Belle, sister of Mrs. Prince, occupied one wagon. J. W. Prince, father of the young physician, and his family were in the second wagon. Who manned the third wagon is not recorded. The doctor and his wife rode in the buggy.

LONG JOURNEY
The journey took 15 days, but Dr. and Mrs. Prince did not reach their new home in that period.

The caravan travelled to Abilene and on through Sweetwater and west to Snyder. Somewhere west of Abilene the doctor and his young wife parted from the wagons and drove on to Merkel where they remained until their first child was born.

Mrs. Prince told often how the couple came to a canyon late in the day and could not find a crossing. Early the next morning, Dr. Prince went on foot to locate a passage, leaving his young bride alone in the wilderness.

His search proved fruitless but he did see smoke in the distance. He followed the smoke to a ranchhouse. The lonely rancher, so glad to have company, insisted that Prince have breakfast before he would show the stranger how to span the ravine.

Meantime, the wife, soon to become a mother, spent lonely anxious hours at the buggy. By the time the doctor returned Mrs. Prince had conceived herself that he had had an accident.

FIRST CHILD

Their first child was born in November and it was February, 1890, before they resumed their interrupted journey to their homestead.

For several years the Prince family lived in a tent and rough dugout they had dug. They built corrals and pigpens and added more tents.

Borden County was formally organized in 1891 and Dr. Prince registered with the new county clerk as licensed physician. Borden County could boast its first practicing doctor as of Sept. 28, 1891.

There were not too many patients available for the doctor's skill, and those who were on hand were hardpressed to pay for his services. The practice he had was strenuous and called for many weary hours of travel by horseback or in the buggy over a countryside which had no roads.

BUILT A HERD
He had begun building up a small herd of high grade cattle, and he needed additional money beyond what his meager fees produced. In 1896 he was elected as county clerk of Borden County. Re-elected in 1900, he died before his second term had expired.

In the latter years of his life the doctor bought 2 1/2 sections of land south of the mountain and built a house. The house still stands and is occupied by the John Johnsons.

One episode in his career as a doctor is vividly recalled by his friends. He never failed to answer a call for his help regardless of the weather. He was often trapped by blizzards but as always able to make his way back home.

FLOOD MISHAP
One the occasion mentioned he had been summoned on a distant call and had to ford the Colorado River. Heavy rains had brought that normally waterless stream to a flood stage, but the doctory doctor plunged his horse into the water and headed for the other shore. The current flipped the horse over on his side and the doctor was hurled into the murky water. He grasped the saddle and he and his steed drifted down stream and finally washed close to the other, and they made their way to safety. He re-mounted and calmly continued to the bedside of his patient. After Dr. Prince's death by "slow fever," Mrs. Prince pulled up stakes and moved to Abilene. She was impelled, her children say, by a desire that her youngsters have as good an education as the frontier afforded. All of the young Princes attended Hardin-Simmons University.

FULL CYCLE
At the Borden County 75th Birthday Party on Aug. 14, 1966, one of the exhibits at the Borden County Historical Museum which attracted much attention was the surgical kit which this first doctor carried on his hectic travels. The kit had been loaned to the museum for that occasion by his son James P. Prince.

Borden County today is much changed from what it was in 1900 but in one respect, it is as it was when Dr. Prince first came there. At that time the county had no doctor. Today, Gail and Borden County have no doctor.

Dear Abby

Married Too Young

DEAR ABBY: I must have started a dozen letters to you and tore them all up, hoping each time things would work themselves out. Well, they haven't so this time I am writing to you for advice.

I'm not quite 18 and have been married for 10 months to a man who is 26. When I told my mother I wanted to marry Phil she begged me not to, saying I was "too young," and would regret it. I wouldn't listen to her, said I was "in love" and I talked her into signing for me.

Now I realize my mother was right. I can't begin to tell you how unhappy I am. Phil is jealous, suspicious, treats me like a child, and he even "spans" me on my bare bottom if I don't obey him. All the love I had for him is dead and I can hardly stand for him to touch me. Abby, this is just not working out. I talked to my pastor and he says, "Give your marriage a chance."

All day long thoughts keep running through my mind. Should I just leave and go home! Should I tell Phil I want a divorce! Could I get an annulment! Or, now that I've made my bed must I lie in it! Please, please, help me. . .

SICK AT HEART
DEAR SICK: Tell Phil what is in your heart and go home to your mother. A lawyer can tell you if you're eligible for an annulment. Fortunately you are childless. Better to leave the bed "you made" than to lie in it and conceive children there you don't want. In a marriage you feel is a mistake. Confide in your mother. She will understand.

DEAR ABBY: I have asked many people this question, and they have all come up with different answers, and I would love to know yours. I am a 18-year-old girl. Just for fun, an 18-year-old boy challenged me to a race. I won. Should I have let him win for the sake of his masculine pride? Or should I have beat him as I did, fair and square?

FAST GIRL
DEAR FAST: Since HE challenged you, and you accepted the challenge, you should not have "let him" win. Naturally, it was a blow to his masculine pride, so let this be a lesson to you. Never accept such a challenge with a boy again, because if you win, you lose.

DEAR ABBY: Saturday I attended the wedding of a relative. I wore a very nice black cocktail dress with long sleeves, and as I didn't want to spoil my hair-do I wore a black lace mantilla on my head.

Now I know they say that black is out for weddings, but I have seen plenty of black dresses at weddings so there is nothing so unusual about that. Well, outside the church, a friend of my mother-in-law's asked me "WHOM I HAD LOST!" It took a minute for me to realize what she meant. At the reception my husband's uncle asked me the same thing. I am furious. What should I have said to these rude people? Do you share my opinion that these remarks were ignorant and uncalled for?

HURRY!
DEAR HURT: If the remarks were intended to ridicule, I would agree with you. But perhaps they were not. It was probably not so much the black dress that gave the impression of mourning as the black lace mantilla.

CRMWD Has Slight Gain In Revenues

Revenues of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are running slightly ahead of a year ago, thanks largely to oil company demands.

Through the first half of the year, revenues amounted to $1,342,698, which is $10,000 more than for the same period last year. The member cities paid in $696,875 for water in the first half, or $40,000 less than in the first six months of 1967, but oil companies paid $616,837, up $50,000. Pipeline fees of $11,511 and recreations resources of $27,376 were virtually static.

Odessa paid in $436,938, down $19,000; Big Spring $200,296, down $17,000; Snyder $45,526, down $8,000. Rural users paid $14,114, up $5,000. Operating expenses for the first half were $408,366, down $22,000. This left $944,331 to be applied to debt services and indented funds, or $34,000 more than for the first half of 1967.

Water sales revenue was based on 5,285,426,000 gallons through June, whereas a year ago the same period saw 6,000,293,000 gallons delivered. This is 715 million gallons less, and the member cities used 731 million less. The reason that revenues held steady is that member cities pay a fixed monthly charge, plus six cents a thousand gallons for water used.

More Stolen Check Forms May Appear

Of 300 official check forms for the Vincent Gin Company stolen last month, 33 have been cashed and 27 of the blanks have been recovered. Sheriff A. N. Standard estimated that 30 of the 40 checks perhaps already forged and cashed, are as yet unaccounted for.

"We feel sure," he said, "that the forgers must have messed up a number of the checks in their experiments with the checkwriter and their efforts to make their forgeries appear genuine."

"Assuming they ruined as many as 10, there must still be at least 30 of the checks floating around."

The 33 checks which have been cashed here and in Odessa are for an average of $70 each, Standard said. Merchants have thus been robbed of nearly $2,400 by the operation.

Three men have been charged with the burglary of the Vincent gin with forging and passing of the 33 checks. A fifth charge was filed Friday afternoon against Dee Scaggs Jr., who has been in jail and out of jail on bond at frequent intervals this past week.

The sheriff said three of the forgeries were cashed in Odessa. The burglars also took an adding machine and a check writer. The check writer was found in the attic of a Big Spring residence along with the binder containing 227 unwritten check forms.

Standard said that the third man charged in the case is still at large but that his attorney has agreed to contact him and try to persuade him to surrender.

Standard said it is probable several more of the forged checks will show up within the next few days.

Will Integrate More Housing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. has agreed to make more apartments available to Negroes and Puerto Ricans in three large housing projects it owns.

Metropolitan, one of the city's biggest landlords, said it would stop giving preferential treatment to relatives of tenants in order to find room for minority group applicants.

Dean Uses Unorthodox Method To Save Ties

"How to Save a Marriage and Ruin Your Life," a romantic comedy released by Columbia Pictures, comes to the Jet Drive-In Theatre starting today for three days.

Starring in this ribald adventure is Dean Martin, cast as David Sloane, who sets out to save the marriage of his best friend (Eli Wallach) by persuading Sloane's mistress, Muriel Laslo (Anne Jackson) to leave him.

But he mistakes Carol Corman (Stella Stevens) as Muriel, and she mistakes his overtures as a proposal for marriage and promptly moves into his apartment.

Then antics pop up in his efforts to oust her, including a fabrication about a first wife who, on her death bed, made him promise never to remarry.

Eventually Carol discovers this ruse and then provokes his jealousy by implying to his business associates her own infidelity to him. He gets trapped into continuing to pay her rent and other expenses. And when Harry gives up Muriel, David ends up paying Muriel's rent, too.

Unwilling to be an ex-mistress, Carol says she is willing to be a divorcee, thus she and David marry—but instead of dissolving, it sticks.

Of course the Dino needs no introduction to film fans, nor indeed Wallach who has played in numerous film pictures such as "How the West Was Won," "The Mistis" and "Genghis Kahn."

His wife, Anne Jackson, plays Muriel. Stella Stevens is a native of Hot Coffee, Miss., who first played opposite Martin in "The Silencers." In the meantime she has played numerous leading roles and is one of the brightest luminaries among young actresses.

'Old Swimming Hole' Polluted

GREENFIELD, Ind. (AP)—The "old swimming hole" in Brandywine Creek, subject of an 1883 poem by James Whitcomb Riley, was ordered closed by Dr. R. E. Kinneman, Hancock County health officer.

The wide place in the creek, a half-mile outside Greenfield when Riley was a boy in the 18th century, now is surrounded by building developments.

Dr. Kinneman said the creek now is polluted from sewers and septic tanks and unsafe for swimming.

Elvis And Nancy Zip In 'Speedway'

Elvis Presley fans the world over will flip over his new MGM musical romance, "Speedway." For in this song-and-dance romp, Elvis for the first time partners with a top feminine vocalist, the attractive and talented Nancy Sinatra, and it is a felicitous combination.

"Speedway" opens Sunday at the Ritz and runs through Tuesday.

As a back drop for the fast-moving and laugh-spiced story is the excitement of stock car racing, with authentic track-thrill footage filmed by ten cameras in Panavision and Metrocolor at the Charlotte, N.C., Speedway. And wait until you witness those

Disney Fans Have Bonanza Coming

Walt Disney fans have a bonanza coming up Wednesday through Saturday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre when "The Jungle Book," a full-length cartoon feature and "The Adventures of Bullwhip Griffin" will be shown.

Roddy McDowall carries the leading role in the Bullwhip adventure, a happy spoof of the golf rush era. He is a proper Boston butler, who with a young ward, is shanghaied en route to California. Dumped in Alaska, he manages to strike it rich, then is bilked out of his fortune by Judge Higgins (Karl Malden) a fast-talking con man.

Back in San Francisco with out a nugget to his name, Roddy becomes Bullwhip and books a fight with a fearsome barroom character, the Mountain Ox. With the aid of some Walt Disney tricks, plus the encouragement of Suzanne Pleshette, a Boston socialite who ran away to become a Gold Coast barroom singer, he wins the crucial test.

spills, collisions and crashes! Written for the screen by Phillip Shuken, "Speedway" casts Elvis as a stock car racing champion whose prowess on the track is matched only by his generosity in sharing his winnings with people in need. Among the latter is a motherless family comprising a down-and-out but cheerful father (William Schallert) and his four little daughters. Of these, six-year-old Victoria Meyerink will especially win your heart, and her scenes with Elvis are among the picture's delights.

Partly as the result of his philanthropies but more largely due to the fact that Elvis' manager (Bill Bixby) has been losing the racing champ's winnings by betting on the horses, Elvis finds himself spectacularly in arrears on his income tax payments. And this is where Nancy Sinatra comes in. She's the girl employed by the Internal Revenue Service to check on him. If everyone had a cutie like Miss Sinatra to do the collecting, it would be a pleasure to pay income taxes!

SWEET NOVEMBER, starring Sandy Dennis and Anthony Newley.

Happy Month Has Romance

"Sweet November" is a sparkling contemporary love story starring these forceful and unique talents — Sandy Dennis, Anthony Newley and Theodore Bikel. The Jerry Gershwin-Elcott Kastner production for Warner Bros. - Seven Arts was directed in Technicolor by Robert Ellis Miller from an original screenplay by Herman Raucher. The film opens Thursday at the Cinema in College Park Center.

The story of "Sweet November" lies within the pattern of our times. It is a romantic tale about a kind, quixotic and thoroughly impractical Brooklyn girl, played by Sandy Dennis, who takes to her heart for a month at a time — and for one month only — some man with a problem. In doing so, she seeks to ease her own troubles, as well as leave the man considerably changed. The focus on this 90-day stay, during the month of November, from which the title is derived, is Anthony Newley.

Sandy Dennis, who won an Academy Award as best supporting actress for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" has piled up an impressive list of memorable starring roles in "Up the Down Staircase," "The Fox," and now in "Sweet November."

TOUGH ACTION DRAMA DUE AT RITZ
John Wayne and David Janssen star

'Green Berets' Story Of Rugged Combat Action

"The Green Berets," starring John Wayne in an epic-scaled drama of exploding action and emotions, is the first motion picture drama to be centered on the war in Vietnam. It comes Wednesday to the Ritz for a four-day run.

David Janssen and Jim Hutton also star in the Batjac production for Warner Bros.-Seven Arts, which Wayne co-directed with Ray Kellogg. Michael Wayne, the actor's son, produced the Technicolor-Panavision film. The screenplay, by James Lec Barrett, is based on Robin Moore's best-selling novel of that title.

Combining comedy, drama, spectacular battle scenes and intrigue, "The Green Berets" is a compelling account of the U.S. Army's Special Forces branch in action.

A gripping story of courageous men under extreme stress, "The Green Berets" was filmed in robust human terms and not as political commentary. Wayne points out. Photographed with meticulous attention to detailed authenticity, it was filmed largely on location at Fort Benning, in Georgia.

No Water Shortage

The new million gallon storage tank on West-over Road is due to go "on stream" Aug. 1 and should end water anxieties once and for all for city residents in certain areas.

Giant Tank Helps Erase Big Spring Water Woes

A water shortage in Big Spring is not imminent, with a new one-million-gallon storage tank due to "go on stream" around the first of August, but it has been a definite possibility in the not-so-distant past, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

City residents use more water right now than the water filter plant can pump in a day, plus most of what is stored during the night before. The plant

Murder Suspect Arrested On Bus

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A tall, slender young man was arrested on a bus near St. Louis and charged with first-degree murder in the strangulation of a Columbia rooming house owner whose body was found in his home Thursday.

Police said Leslie Crews, in his 70s, was strangled with a necktie between dawn and 10 a.m. His home is near an apartment house where Mr. and Mrs. Gary Frieders, both 22, were brutally beaten in bed early Wednesday. Both suffered skull fractures. Crews' billfold was missing.

The man held gave his name as Joseph Brown. Police said he was in his mid-20s, and told them he was released from prison at Moberly, Mo., July 10. He said he was sentenced in 1959 to concurrent terms of 15 years for rape and 10 years for burglary.

pumps around the clock five months out of the year, pumping some 200,000,000 gallons per month.

DANGER FADES

The plant has seven million gallons of storage space now but there are still times that the storage tanks get too low for comfort, according to Roy Hester, supervisor of the water filter plant.

"There have been times that if the plant were forced to shut down for more than an hour the city would have been dangerously short of water and if an emergency, such as a major fire, arose there would have been quite a bit of danger," Hester said.

The new reservoir will take care of the extra demand placed on the plant May to September each year, Lillard said. The city will now be able to keep enough water in storage "for safe measures," he said.

The new storage reservoir located just off Westover Road is now 92 per cent complete and should be ready for use within the next three weeks, Lillard said. The tank was started Jan. 22, 1968, under a contract for $80,316.

BOND ISSUE

The reservoir is being paid for by the water and sewer revenues voted under a bond issue in 1959. That bond issue also included the now completed pump station at City Park, the new pump and control at the filter plant and 12,300 feet of 16 and 12 inch concrete cylinder line. Plans are being made for instrumentation and supervisory controls to be installed at the filter plant and a bulk storage and automated feeder also at the plant. A new 2½ million-gallon clearwell is now 40 per cent complete.

City water comes out of three different storage levels, Edwards, Lancaster and State Park, with Edwards serving the major portion of the town. The new reservoir will be located in the Edwards area.

Somebody Got A Big Bargain

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — An antique shop owner returned from a business trip and discovered that one of his salesmen had sold a $1,195 Philadelphia Chippendale chair that was 200 years old to an unidentified woman for $11.95.

J. W. Chandler, the owner, said the salesman, Frank Coffman, blanched when he told him the price of the chair.

"You've never seen a sicker man," Chandler said. "Yes, he's still employed. It was just a mistake."

Secretary Of Year

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The National Secretaries Association Thursday named Mrs. Bobbie N. Ogden of Dallas the International Secretary of the Year. Ms. Ogden is a director and secretary-treasurer of Innkeepers Management and Services, Inc.

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You would be wise not to listen to a tall and thin talker who would like to woo you under his own purposes which may, or may not be calculated villainy. If you keep on a light and happy plane of consciousness and do nothing to cause adverse comment, you can enjoy this day and evening and delight others.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Get outside of that dull work and step out with a charming person who is very cheerful and can hit your own spirits admirably. Get those reports out later, but add some fluff that translates you into the good graces of others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Although you want to get out for some frivolity, you had better just stick to business of hand and make hay while the sun shines. Listen to that expert. Don't permit one of those charms to get you into some really foolish, thoughtless thing.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Those ideas you have are best worked out in the business world since this is very important. Get those reports out later, but add some fluff that translates you into the good graces of others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Sit down and converse with that expert but keep matters confidential or you could upset the applecart. Some thoughtless criticism of another could be very annoying later on. Think twice before you speak.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) It is far more important that you support an ally in all ways except monetarily for best results now. You need to work on the ramifications of that plan to gain some personal desire a little longer, if you are to make it successful. Be thorough, more willing to listen to what you are so impressed in small matters that you do not have time to delve into something civic that could bring you esteem, better opportunities in the days ahead. Study that project well. You have the know-how to handle it wisely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Rather than fuss about regular duties, listen to the clever ideas others give you so that you can make your life more efficient, interesting. Take that little trip that will put you in touch with a new associate. Be of good cheer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get rid of those responsibilities so that you can go out with some good friend for who ever your purpose. Be sure to do what will make your mate happy is important before you take off for fun. Be good.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You understand better now what associates desire of you and then you can make better arrangements for the future. Avoid higher-up who is bored and wants someone to kick up. Keep busy of own work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is so much work ahead of you, so why are you considering dashing off to some place you know little or nothing about? Keep steady even though you have the wanderlust. Make his history.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put aside all those responsibilities and get out for a good time so that you regain your heavy way of living. A thoughtful and toward-a close tie makes for greater harmony between you. You have taken this path for granted too long.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You are so busy of this and that that personal duty right now. Be more willing to listen to what you have to say can gain you much. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to keep your mind focused upon the mental side of whatever problems face you instead of going into all of the petty little annoying details that require your attention since most everyone is more willing to listen to what you have to say better in accord with such a course of action. Keep promises made.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A good time to converse quietly with associates and plan how to make routines work more successfully and with less effort.

See to it that you get to appointments on time. Don't forget to go that important shopping, since you mustn't run out of groceries.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Talk over with practical, financial advisors what should be done to add to your present abundance. Once this is done, delve into that hobby later that gives you much enjoyment. Be sure your budget is looked into.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you get out to the world of activity, you not only accomplish a great deal, but can find a happy time with newcomers. Find kindred spirits who can make your life richer. Show gentility with one of those who is feeling in his case, etc.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) It would be best to get the right lover or asset? who can best help you with present problems. You could reach this person today where it would be impossible during busy week. Reflection shows best course to follow in the future.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are eager to make a plan that involves a fine job that could be mutually rewarding, so sit down on this lazy day and get all organized. Then get to the social. Avoid talking shop or finances for best results.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Doing something thoughtful for one who has it in his power to help you out ahead in your chosen career will be clever. A little matter of charity can be handled nicely now. Show that you are a spiritual person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An intelligent individual can give you a very fine idea how through which you can solve that particular problem you have. New contacts with persons quite different from you are very good for you now. Be active, alert.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow your intuition about what to do where service to others is concerned so that others will think more of you. Don't get so provoked over a mate who is not feeling too well. Show kindness and consideration.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) That fascinating associate will gladly assist you with that project you have if you will clarify it quietly and gently. This is just the right day for making such plans. Forget about going to see that influential person today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make it your business to assist one who comes in you for help and is feeling perplexed, troubled, since you are so familiar with such problems. Get more order into your own life as well. Don't be so self-sacrificing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show your appreciation for any little favor extended you today and stop fussing and you find this can be a delightful day, evening for you. Recreation is important now—promise to be cheery.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Sit down and plan exactly how you can make your basic affairs for more efficient and worthwhile so that the future will be easier for you. An ally could be in a bad mood. Just get out of the way and all is fine.

Trees Killed By Park Vandal

NORTH LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Twenty trees are dying in city parks since vandals stripped their bark.

On their trunks are draped this epitaph on crepe:

"All I wanted was to furnish shade for all, but I was killed when my bark was skinned."

Dick Yalpole, parks superintendent who put up the signs, said no vandalism has occurred since.
