KREMLIN PRESSURE

Czech Reformer Ousted

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders, awaiting decisive talks with the Soviet Communist party Politburo, were urged by pacemakers of this country's liberalization drive today to "defend unitedly the road on which we have started and which we will not leave alive."

The appeal came amid mounting concern over rumors that the leadership was split on how to react to Soviet pressure at the showdown meeting likely to begin next week.

The rumors were fed by the decision Thursday of the policy-making party presidium to remove Lt. Gen. Vaclav Prcelik, a chief target of Soviet attacks, from a key position in the party Central Committee.

The presidium ordered Prcelik back to army service and abolished the political department of the party which he headed. It controlled the army, security police and judiciary.

This was an apparent move to conciliate the Kremlin.

Propaganda War

The Russian propaganda war against the Czechoslovak leadership continued unabated. The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda attacked the departures from orthodox communism and said it was impossible to understand why these were not suppressed.

Usually reliable sources said they understood the decision in Prcelik's case had not the unanimous backing of the 11-member presidium. Liberal Communist intellectuals voiced alarm over this indication of yielding to pressure from abroad at a time when popular support for the Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek, had reached a new peak.

Editors of Literarni Listy, a writers weekly and influential mouthpiece of the liberal elite, prepared an extra with an open letter calling on party leaders to negotiate and explain, "but unitedly defend the road on which we have started and which we will not leave alive."

Tough Cop Innocent?

NEWARK (AP) — Police Director Dominick A. Spina says he will plead innocent to charges by an Essex County grand jury of "willfully refusing" to crack down on gambling operations.

A tough cop, who says he has loved his 35 years of police work, Spina was charged Thursday with four counts of "nonfeasance" in an indictment handed up to Superior Court Judge Walter H. Conklin.

The police director told newsmen his attorney would seek an "immediate trial" and termed the allegations "completely without merit."

If convicted on all four counts, Spina faces a maximum sentence of 12 years imprisonment and $4,000 in fines.

FBI 60 Years Old

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, born almost out of desperation and mired in its early years in political problems, is 60 years old today.

But the bureau planned no celebration. For the FBI's 16,000 employees it was just another work day.

Although the FBI of 1968 is one of the most controversial, efficient and — some say — powerful government agencies, it was founded almost as a desperation move July 26, 1908, by then Atty. Gen. Charles J. Bonaparte.

The Justice Department had been borrowing investigators from the Treasury Department's Secret Service to collect evidence for cases, but Congress prohibited that practice on May 27, 1908, and an independent agency was set up.

When Hoover — then 29 — took over in 1924 the agency had become mired in the administration of political hacks.

When FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover — then 29 — took over in 1924 the agency has become mired in the administration of political hacks.

Cleans Out Bank

WOODSON, Tex. (AP) — A cigar-chomping gunman wearing a straw hat held up the Woodson State Bank Thursday and escaped with an estimated $17,000.

The stocky holdup man forced bank President Felton Leake, three other employees and two customers into the vault and locked them up.

A former bank employee later released them, using what Leake called a "trade secret."

When he got out of the vault, Leake complained that the gunman "cleaned us out."

The robber fled in a brown and white automobile matching the description of one stolen in Dallas.

Woodson is between Abilene and Wichita Falls, some 20 miles northwest of Breckenridge.

North Texas University Plan Okayed

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Responding to what was termed "critical deficit of higher education in the North Texas area," University of Texas regents approved today a proposal for creation of a university system in North Texas.

The proposal includes bringing the Southwest Center for Advanced Studies (SCAS) into the system.

Chancellor Ransom said the proposal will be submitted to the Texas College and University Coordinating Board as soon as possible and will then be presented to the legislature in January.

BIG GRANTS
The plan, outlined at the monthly meeting of the regents, calls for a Dallas administrative office of the University of Texas system headed by a resident vice chancellor.

Name of the proposed vice chancellor was not discussed.

Chancellor Harry Ransom, in recommending the plan, said, "Time has now been exhausted for discussion. The time has come for action."

Under the proposal, SCAS would become the University of Texas Center for Advanced Studies at Dallas and would join the University of Texas at Arlington and Southwestern Medical School in an urban education complex.

"The actions taken today by the Board of Regents are intended to achieve a practical and realistic solution to the critical deficit in advanced education in North Texas," Frank C. Erwin Jr., board chairman, said.

The proposed University of Texas system in North Texas "is designed to provide an educational resource of a quantity and quality that can successfully meet the needs of the region and the state," Erwin said.

If implemented, the agreement between SCAS and the University of Texas system would convey to the university about $10 million in land and facilities and approximately $700,000 annually in existing research and development grants.

Ransom said the complex will consist of at least three geographically separate, yet functionally integrated campuses, "collectively providing the full range of undergraduate, master's, doctoral and professional programs."

DEDICATION
It was pointed out that the administrative center in Dallas will be a part of the Central Administration of the University of Texas system, with the vice chancellor reporting to the chancellor and through him to the regents.

Each institutional unit would be headed by a president reporting to and through the vice chancellor of the North Texas system.

Regent approval came after an appeal from a 10-member committee of Dallas civic, business and educational leaders for such a facility.

Texas Polio Alert Issued

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Health Department issued an "urgent polio alert" today, saying 16 confirmed cases of paralytic polio have been reported in Texas this year.

None of the victims—all children — had been immunized against polio.

Nine of the 16 persons stricken were infants under a year old. Only one victim was five years old or over.

The Health Department said only 29 cases of paralytic polio have been reported for the entire country, giving Texas the unwanted distinction of having 55 per cent of the nation's cases.

During the same period of 1967, Texas had only five cases, the department said. One case was reported in the week ending July 20, latest for which statistics are available. It was in Harrison County (Marshall).

"Immediate immunization of all persons up to 21 years of age, especially infants and young children, is recommended and urged. The peak incidence for polio in Texas continues through the early autumn," the Health Department said.

Sen. Kennedy Rejects Race For Veep Spot

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., took himself out of any consideration for the Democratic vice presidential nomination today with a statement saying "for me, this year, it is impossible."

Kennedy, last survivor of four Kennedy sons, said in a statement that his decision "is final, firm and not subject to further consideration." Kennedy said he is removing himself from consideration because of family responsibilities resulting from the assassination of his brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., last month.

The Massachusetts senator, in a four-paragraph statement, said he will speak out, however, on "foreign and domestic policies our party must pursue if it is to be successful in the coming election."

PURELY PERSONAL
He said he appreciated the confidence of Democrats who have proposed him for the national ticket and "under normal circumstances such a possibility would be a high honor and a challenge to further public service."

Kennedy added, "My reasons are purely personal. They arise from the change in my personal situation and responsibilities as a result of the events of last month. I know that the members of the Democratic Party will understand these reasons without further elaboration."

"I have informed the Democratic candidates for the presidency and the chairman of the convention that I will not be able to accept the vice presidential nomination if offered and that my decision is final, firm and not subject to further consideration."

The Massachusetts senator has been at his Hyannis Port home since last Monday conferring with his family and close advisers.

The statement was issued through his Boston office. A spokesman said there would be no further comment on it.

Kennedy's statement reflected the tremendous pressure he apparently had been under to accept the second spot on the Democratic November election ballot.

'MAYBE'
Only Thursday, Chicago Mayor Richard Daley said he had talked with the Massachusetts senator and that Kennedy had said "maybe."

About the same time, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., was advising the 36-year-old Bay State legislator to reject the overtures.

Kennedy's oldest brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was killed in a World War II plane crash in Europe.

President John F. Kennedy, the second oldest brother, was assassinated by a rifle sniper in Dallas, Tex., in 1963.

As the sole surviving son of the Kennedy clan, Edward had responsibility for 15 children — three of his own, ten of Robert's and two of John's.

Nude Texans Found Dead

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police investigated the deaths today of a young Texas couple whose nude bodies were found in the bedroom of their apartment here.

Police said the cause of death was not determined pending an investigation by the coroner's office.

The couple was identified as Buddy and Dena Halters, both about 21, formerly of Port Arthur, Tex.

A friend, Ronnie Villamez, 19, found the bodies. He said he had been living with the couple for three or four days since he came to New Orleans from Port Arthur.

Villamez said he and another friend, Leonard McGee, 26, had been in the couple's apartment for a while.

Villamez said he left the apartment Wednesday and the bedroom door was locked. When he returned today, he said, he broke down the door and found the couple dead in bed.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN RETURN TO DUTY

Racial Violence Erupts

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Enters Pleas Of Innocent

Black Nationalist leader Fred (Ahmed) Evans entered pleas of innocent today at Cleveland's Municipal Court to charges of shooting with intent to kill a police tow truck operator, possession of narcotics and possession of an automatic rifle. Charges stemmed from Tuesday night's burning and bloodshed on Cleveland's East Side in which 10 men were slain.

Dusk-To-Dawn Curfew Returns To Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — National Guardsmen and white police returned to Cleveland's Negro slums Thursday night to enforce a dusk-to-dawn curfew imposed by Mayor Carl Stokes.

There were 30 arrests Thursday night. Two persons were seized looting, one was arrested on an arson charge and 27 were curfew violators. Several small fires broke out on the East Side, where 10 persons—including three policemen—were killed in shootings Tuesday.

Disturbances were reported in the Harvard-Lee section about five miles southeast of the cordoned-off area. A group of 200 Negroes gathered and a cleaning store was firebombed. A clothing store was looted but police quickly dispersed the crowd.

The loss from fires and looting in the East Side has been estimated at $1.5 million by Joseph C. Boggins, executive vice president of the Insurance Board of Cleveland.

Stokes said that "Police records showed 39 instances of looting Wednesday night."

Merchants and police differed on the protection supplied to shops in the troubled area.

Benjamin Weiss, owner of a furniture store, said looters broke into his store while two Negro policemen watched.

"I asked the Negro policemen why they didn't stop the looters and they said there were too many in the mob," Weiss said.

Some Negro patrolmen said that merchants allowed gangs to loot their stores so they could collect insurance.

They said the shopowners would ask for protection while they removed valuable items from the stores.

'IT'S ALL YOURS'
"Then, after they got everything of value on the truck," a policeman said, "they'd tell the gang outside—'go ahead, it's all yours'."

Wednesday, Stokes chose to let black community leaders try to control the tense situation. He reversed that stand Thursday.

He apparently had no choice. Several members of the mayor's committee told newsmen they would not act as peace-makers Thursday night because they had seen evidence of professional looters coming in from out of town and they feared they could not control these elements.

Roving Gangs Rip Cleveland, Chicago Again

By The Associated Press

Sporadic racial violence erupted Thursday night and early Friday in five areas ranging from Erie, Pa., to Seattle, Wash., with Cleveland and Chicago again the major targets.

Roving gangs of juveniles smashed several windows along Detroit's 12th Street, scene of the start of last year's riot which claimed 43 lives. However, police described the situation Friday as "nothing out of the ordinary."

Reversing his policy of trying to let black community leaders control the situation, Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes reinstated a dusk-to-dawn curfew in Cleveland's Negro slums. It was enforced by National Guardsmen and white police.

LOOTING

There were 30 arrests—two for looting, one for arson and 27 for curfew violation. Several small fires broke out on the East Side where 10 persons, including three policemen, were killed in shootings Tuesday.

Meanwhile, merchants and police differed on protection supplied in the troubled area.

One merchant charged that his store was looted while two Negro policemen watched. But some Negro policemen claim that merchants, after removing valuable items, allowed gangs to loot their stores so they could collect insurance.

In Chicago, a North Side supermarket, which has been the scene of previous incidents, again was vandalized, and store windows were smashed in suburban Maywood after police used tear gas to break up a demonstration at the village hall.

The disturbance in Maywood, an integrated city 15 miles west of Chicago's downtown section, followed a meeting of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

HALT INVASION
Police said about 300 Negro youths marched to the village hall where the village board was meeting. After police used tear gas to disperse them, the youths moved to the downtown section where they smashed windows, overturned park benches and hurled objects at passing vehicles, slightly injuring ten persons.

Twenty five persons were arrested and a curfew was quickly imposed.

A resident of the area said the disturbance on Chicago's North Side began after a group of young Negroes listened to a talk described as inflammatory.

A newspaper photographer was beaten, and about 100 youths invaded the supermarket, the front of which was still boarded as the result of an earlier disturbance.

Shotgun-armed police halted the invasion, but the youths harassed a fire department station and pelted passing vehicles with rocks and bottles.

A warehouse in the Erie, Pa., Negro area was firebombed and police and firemen were pelted with rock and bottles when they responded to the alarm.

Police said a Negro militant, Bennie Wall, was arrested after he threatened to shoot a police captain. They said Wall, who was found to be unarmed, was charged with inciting to riot and released under $500 bond.

STOREKEEPER TURNS TABLE

Would-Be Robber Is Nabbed

By SAM BLACKBURN
A courageous Vincent storekeeper, whose wife had been slugged by a would-be robber, corralled the assailant and turned him over to officers Thursday night.

Officers identified the suspect as Roger Dale Smith, 24, Odessa, who was charged with robbery by assault. Bond was set at $3,500 by Walter Grice, justice of peace, and at noon Friday this had not been posted.

Deck Coleman, proprietor of the Coleman Country Store at Vincent, ran the suspect down and held him at gunpoint until officers reached the scene, said Sheriff A. N. Standard. Coleman chased his quarry over a quarter of a mile before he overhauled him. Mrs. Coleman was brought to Big Spring for examination of a head injury, but she was not believed seriously hurt.

RAPPED OVER HEAD
The sheriff said that Mrs. Coleman was alone in the store part of the building in Vincent around 9 p.m. Her husband was in the living quarters attached to the store, which was closed.

There was a persistent rapping at the store door, and Mrs. Coleman opened it. A young man was standing in the doorway and mumbled something about having to get gas. Before Mrs. Coleman could answer, he forced the door open and stepped into the store.

Almost at the same time he swung at Mrs. Coleman with some sort of weapon and knocked her to the floor, she said. In a semidazed state, she cried out. Coleman ran into the store and saw the assailant fleeing into the night.

The storekeeper knelt by his wife and helped her to her feet and then grabbed up a gun, leaped into his car and took up the chase.

He could see the fugitive on foot racing along a field road about a quarter of a mile away, so Coleman pursued the man and cornered him in a field. He pointed his gun, and the fleeing man halted, with his hands up.

Coleman brought the prisoner to the store and called the sheriff's office.

Standard alerted Highway Patrolman Kenneth Haxwell who was cruising in the general area, and notified deputy sheriff Sam Roberts at Coahoma, then he took off for Vincent.

FOUND CAR

Maxwell reached the scene first and took the suspect in charge. The other officers arrived in a few minutes. They brought Smith to the county jail and then returned to the scene. They found a car parked near the store and in the car they found evidence which the sheriff said would be important in the case. So far no gun has been found, but Mrs. Coleman believes she was hit on the head with a pistol.

Cops Use Gas, Dozen Injured

CHICAGO (AP)—More than a dozen persons were injured Thursday night when Negro youths vandalized a food store on Chicago's North Side. In suburban Maywood another crowd smashed store windows after police used tear gas to disperse demonstrators at the village hall.

A police spokesman said after the NAACP meeting about 300 Negro youths marched a mile to the Maywood Village Hall where the village board was meeting on the second floor.

Officials refused to permit the entire group to enter the meeting. Police, whose headquarters is on the first floor, asked the youths to disperse. After they refused and became boisterous, police hurled tear-gas canisters at them.

One of the youths picked up a canister and hurled it back into the village hall, Police Sgt. Grady Rivers said. Policemen in the hall donned gas masks.

Most of the youths headed for the nearby downtown section and smashed store windows and overturned park benches and hurled objects at passing vehicles, injuring 10 persons, none seriously.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was quickly imposed. Reinforcements from surrounding communities, some wielding submachine guns, moved in.

Maywood Police Chief Berner Kellough said those arrested, all Negroes, would be prosecuted for mob action and violation of curfew.

The disturbance on Chicago's North Side started after a large group of young Negroes listened to talk described as inflammatory, according to Sid Bennett, 35, a Negro who lives in the area.

"About 8 to 10 men, some dressed in African-style garb were inciting the crowd," said Bennett. "They were outside agitators."

BROKEN RIBS
Bennett, a karate expert, rescued Mel Larson, 54, a Sun-Times photographer who was beaten around the face and suffered chest injuries, including possible broken ribs by a Negro gang. He was reported in fair condition.

Some 100 youths invaded the supermarket, a colonial-styled structure that was involved in disturbances after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The front of the store has been boarded up since the April disturbances. The supermarket has been the scene in recent weeks of picketing and boycotting by members of Operation Breadbasket protesting against alleged exorbitant prices of the A&P food store chain.

GRAB LIQUOR
Several youths carried a cash register from the food store, but dropped it and ran when shotgun-wielding policemen arrived. The cash register was locked and the $150 in the drawer wasn't taken, police said. The youths were not arrested.

The store manager, Martin Stratton, said the youths also carried some food and liquor out of the store.

Besides invading the food store in Chicago, youths harassed a Fire Department station and pelted passing vehicles, including a Chicago Transit Authority bus, with rocks and bottles.

Publishers Offer Increase In Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington lacked a morning newspaper for the second day today as a strike by the men who cast printing plates continued without apparent breakthrough after all-night negotiations.

Representatives of the Stereotypers Union Local 19, striking all three Washington papers, and the Washington Newspaper Publishers Association, negotiated until dawn.

"There hasn't been a settlement so we haven't been able to publish," said John Dower, promotion director of the morning Washington Post.

He called the fact that the negotiating session continued all night "a good sign."

The local's 75 stereotypers, out since Wednesday night, also are striking the afternoon Evening Star and Washington Daily News.

The publishers said they offered the union a new three-year contract that would increase wages by $32 a week, to $187 in the final year of the contract.

The association said the union asked a $40 a week raise and bigger fringe benefits.

AT UNRULY RALLY Wallace's Supporters Outshout Protestors

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP)—George Wallace says it took his American Independent party five minutes to sign up 500 voters, the number required to get on the Rhode Island ballot.

Wallace spoke Thursday at a noisy and unruly rally where his supporters cheered and hecklers yelled "Go home!"

About 12 hecklers were escorted from the packed ballroom after scuffling and pushing broke out. Police estimated attendance at 2,400 to 3,000.

TELL THE TRUTH
Wallace was interrupted repeatedly. A Negro, identified as John Reynolds, stood up and gesturing angrily charged "You're lying! Tell them the truth baby!"

The crowd responded with a roar of "We want Wallace!" Reynolds said he was the Rhode Island head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

At one point in the uproar, there was a yell: "Go home, nigger."

Several demonstrators were Negroes. Two Negroes held a placard directly in front of Wallace. I said: "Not even Jesus could forgive what you do."

Ex-Newswoman Kirstein Dies

MAMORONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Former newswoman Jane Kirstein, 52, who survived the sinking of the Italian liner Andrea a dozen years ago, died as she slept at her home here Thursday.

She was the mother of Mrs. Philip Hardberger of Odessa, Tex. Also surviving are her husband George; her mother, Mrs. Charles Gaches of Seattle, and a sister, Barbara Van Valin of Snohomish, Wash.

Mrs. Kirstein had worked for the New York Times, the New York Post and the Nation, of which she also was a former publisher, and contributed articles to the Irish Independent in Dublin.

The liner Andrea sank after colliding with the Swedish liner Stockholm. Among the 50 other survivors were Camille M. Cianfarra, then Mrs. Kirstein's husband, and their daughter Joan. It was believed that Mrs. Kirstein's daughter Linda, by her first marriage to newscaster Edward P. Morgan, was lost but she was rescued. Linda now is Mrs. Hardberger.

The funeral service will be private.

12th Bombing In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A "powerful hand grenade" exploded today in the offices of the Evergreen Review in Greenwich Village, shattering three windows but causing no injuries. It was the 12th bombing incident in the metropolitan area since April 22.

Moments later a man who said he was speaking for a newly formed anti-Castro exile group telephoned The Associated Press and claimed credit for the attack as well as for two earlier bombs which did not explode.

The caller said: "We have begun to commemorate the morning of the 26th of July. Commandos of the MNCC have attacked at 2:35 a.m. the office of Evergreen magazine."

He said the attack was made because the magazine had published the Che Guevara diary "and because of their position in favor of international communism."

Today, the 26th of July, is the 15th anniversary of the beginning of the Cuban revolution. In 1953 guerrillas directed by Fidel Castro raided Cuban army barracks in Santiago to launch the eventual overthrow of the Batista government.

The 11 previous bombing incidents, including one in Newark, N.J., have been at eight foreign, tourist or diplomatic offices of countries which trade with Cuba, two taverns frequented by Cubans and a pacifist bookstore.

In Los Angeles, four travel agencies and a business office were bombed last Friday. "Unite Cuban Power" stickers were found on their doors.

In Chicago, an explosion shattered several windows today and blew out a boarded-up door of a Mexican tourist office which was bombed less than two weeks ago. There were no injuries.

Wreck Kills GI

BELTON, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas soldier stationed at Ft. Hood was killed Thursday when a car and a truck collided near this Central Texas city. He was identified as Gerald W. Cox, 26. Injured was another soldier, James D. Silverwood.

At one point in the uproar, there was a yell: "Go home, nigger."

Several demonstrators were Negroes. Two Negroes held a placard directly in front of Wallace. I said: "Not even Jesus could forgive what you do."

Opening lead: Ace of ♠ North's one no trump bid crowds the upper limits of the range for that call — observe that he has 16 points plus two tens. It may be pointed out on his behalf, however, that an opening bid of one club may present a rebid problem if partner responds with one diamond.

East overcalled one no trump with two spades. South's hand was worthless defensively and yet he could take six tricks at a diamond contract. Accordingly he jumped directly to five diamonds in an attempt to steal the hand from the opposition.

West was tempted to raise his partner bid, inasmuch as the auction had reached an extremely elevated level and he feared that 11 tricks might exceed the offensive potential for his side, he doubled to extract some measure of compensation on the deal.

West opened the ace of spades. East felt that it was extremely unlikely that his side could cash any more spade tricks and, in an attempt to induce a heart shift, he played the king of spades under his partner's ace. East intended his play as a suit preference signal, calling for the lead of the higher ranking of the two plain suits.

West was unfortunately unaware of the urgent necessity for a quick shift in the attack, and he woodenly continued with a second spade. South ruffed and led a diamond. West was in with the ace and belatedly led a heart. Dummy's ace was played and, after the king of diamonds drew the remaining trump, declarer discarded his last heart on the high clubs.

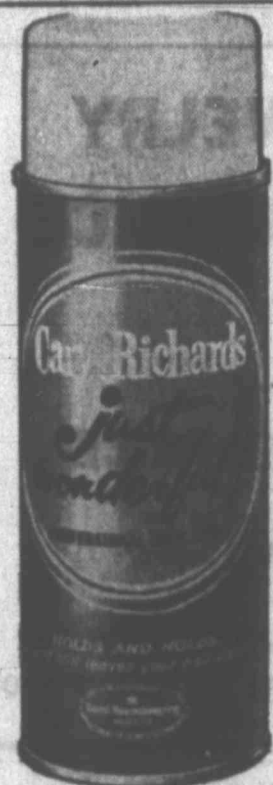

West should have made his heart shift at trick two, while he still had the ace of diamonds. The bidding made it highly improbable that South had a second spade, and besides, if East wanted a continuation, he could have given a more normal come-on with the nine, ten or even the jack of spades. His play of the king was an unnecessarily high card which could logically mean only one thing: He wanted a heart shift before it was too late.

A Devotional For The Day

Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. (Philippians 2:4)

PRAYER: Holy, gracious, and loving Father, as we face social conditions, may we ever seek to have Christ's spirit of love. With radiant and joyful living transform us into the likeness of Christ, and may this change be evident in our relationship. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Removing A Shackle

The executive branch subcommittee of the Constitutional Revision Commission has pointed to one of the severest weaknesses in the Texas government. Pertinently, it recommends that the constitution be changed to allow the governor to dismiss any official or board member whom he appoints.

The President of the United States has this authority in the federal administration. And a state governor cannot be truly a chief executive without it. The change need not await constitutional revision, but it would require a constitutional amendment.

The Texas Constitution (Art. XV, Sec. 7) reads: "The Legislature shall provide by law for the trial and removal from office of all officers of this state." Consequently the Legislature could not give the governor power to remove his own appointees without a trial.

The Texas governor has extensive appointive power, over an extraordinary array of scores of boards, commissions and offices. Some require senatorial confirmation; some not. But after he has made an appointment he loses supervisory control because of lack of removal power. The governor, for example, has been helpless to correct mismanagement of the Liquor Control Board.

The Texas governor has been denied removal power because of a remote Reconstruction Era fear that he would abuse it to aggrandize his personal political power. That is possible but unlikely.

Gov. Connally cleverly acquired a removal power of sorts by simply having appointees continue in office beyond their tenure at his pleasure, which is constitutional if clumsy. It would be far better for the governor to have removal power, so he would have supervisory restraint over the actions of appointees for whom the people hold the governor responsible — and unfairly so under the present system.

It Might Work Better

In recent years the obvious flaws in our postal system have stimulated proposals for drastic reform. It is thus not surprising that the presidential Commission on Postal Organization, having studied the matter for a year or so, has arrived at a parallel conclusion: Fundamental changes must be undertaken if the postal service is to measure up to the need.

When the Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien suggested removing his job from Cabinet status and turning the mails over to a government corporation, the idea came as something of a shock. More months of slow, inadequate service have engendered more acceptance of this radical approach to the problem.

This will derive new impetus from the commission's plan to establish such a corporation, non-profit but not dependent on Congress for appropriations or postal rate increases. The current morass, characterized by annual deficits and declining quality of service, argues strongly for approval of this concept.

The commission proposes that the postal corporation would be headed by a nine-man board of directors, six to be appointed by the President subject to Senate confirmation, the other three to be chosen by the six as operating officers. It "would have the objective of supporting itself completely from its revenues."

That would mean increases in postal rates, at any rate for some classes of mail. But there also is reason to believe that application of modern techniques, in which the Post Office Department has lagged, could substantially reduce the present gap between costs and revenue. In the long run, good postal service might not be much more costly to users than the present inadequate service. There is no guarantee of this. However, the idea of a non-profit postal corporation relatively free of politics is promising enough to merit the most serious consideration.

Marquis Childs Governors View The National Scene

CINCINNATI — A Governor's life is not a happy one. The prerequisites that go with the office — a free house, a limousine and chauffeur, the use of a National Guard Plane — are small recompense for the ever-increasing pressure for more and better services which in turn means higher taxes that in turn means a struggle with the legislature and the stored hostility of the voter.

Once a year the Governors, one of the nation's smallest trade unions, meet in annual conference to exchange grievances and test the political climate. This takes on special significance in a Presidential year, as here in Cincinnati on the eve of the two national nominating conventions.

WHAT IS STRIKING this time is the extreme caution with which both Republican and Democratic Governors hold their fingers up to the wind. They are trying in an unpredictable year to answer the questions with a lot of talk as meaningless as the gas in a campaign balloon. Underlying this caution is the unspoken conviction that Governors have fallen out of favor in the Presidential sweepstakes. Not since 1932 and Franklin D. Roosevelt has the Governor of a state been elected President.

TWO REPUBLICAN candidates have been offering their wares here. Ronald Reagan of California and Nelson Rockefeller of New York, heading the two most populous states in the Union, have been politicking with their scouts in a dozen smoke-filled rooms.

Yet the impression is that they have made little, if any, dent in the massive delegate phalanx put together by Richard M. Nixon. For the Governors that is the galling irony. Here is Nixon, without an administrative care in the world, sustained by a lucrative big-business law firm and with members of that firm serving as his principal political lieutenants, sailing blithely toward the finish line. In private most Republicans agree that Nixon probably has the 67 delegates for the first-ballot nomination at Miami Beach he claims.

ROCKEFELLER has been darting in and out of his private executive jet, wooing delegates in distant parts between sessions of the conference he feels obliged to attend. His fellow Governors speak with respect and even awe of the Rockefeller blitz. Knowing so well the cost of campaigning in television time and newspaper ads, they are fascinated by the outpouring of wealth this blitz has meant.

As for Reagan he is written off except for the kind of political miracle that just doesn't happen. Sure, say the Republicans from the big-city states, he could deny votes to George Wallace in the South and carry possibly more Southern states than Nixon. But with us he would be the kiss of death, and it is in the big-city states that Presidential elections are won.

FURTHERMORE, Reagan is in trouble in California. The California Poll among Republicans on choice for the nomination showed Nixon with 48 per cent, Rockefeller 34 and Reagan 11. Petitions to recall the Governor requiring him to stand for election have been filed with apparently the required 800,000 signatures.

WHEN IT COMES to Vice-Presidential candidates the count among Governors is hardly less than 46 or 47. Win or lose on either of the two tickets, the Governor tapped for second place would get a run on the national track. He would move up into the stratosphere of Presidential politics and be free for a time at least of the incessant demands of administrative office.

Billy Graham

Why do ministers use the expression "full salvation?" Don't you think it is old-fashioned? L.C. The Bible says: "He is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him."

I personally am not afraid of the old-fashioned expression, "full salvation." It is never God's wish to do anything by halves. I do not want to be half-saved. If you were an engineer you would be insulted if I called you half an engineer. I want to be the real thing and if I'm to be a Christian, let me be the genuine article. If I am by the grace of God to enjoy religion, then let it be full-religion.

'THERE'S GOT TO BE BLOOD IN THAT TURNIP'

John Cuniff U.S. Gold Gamble Paying Off

By ROBERT D. HAWORTH
(For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The Treasury Department's announcement that the U.S. supply of gold increased by $213 million in June indicates that the gamble the United States and its allies made in setting up a two-price gold system is paying off.

THE SO-CALLED two-tier gold price system was established by central bankers of leading nations last March to shore up the official price of gold at $35 an ounce after a run on gold by private speculators. The United States was faced with a dwindling gold supply and the threat that it would have to raise the price of gold, an action that would be equal to devaluing the dollar and setting off a worldwide economic crisis.

The central bankers agreed to retain the official price of gold at $35 an ounce for monetary purposes and let the market for gold for other uses set its own level on a supply and demand basis.

SOUTH AFRICA, the world's leading gold producer, would like to see the official price of gold raised. Officials there have privately termed the two-tier pricing system "a fluke."

In an apparent attempt to drive gold prices up, Finance Minister Nicolaas Diederichs reported last week that South Africa had secretly tested the new free market with a "substantial amount" of gold sales. He further said South Africa would not begin official sales "for a considerable time to come."

U.S. financial and marketing experts do not believe the South African announcement will have substantial effect on the free market. It came after the price of gold on the world markets dropped to its lowest level in three months, hitting a low of $37.75 on the London exchange. After rising to $39.10 at the Friday morning fixing on the London exchange, the price slipped to $38.70 at the afternoon fixing on moderate trading.

SOME European sources were skeptical of the South African announcement. They could not see how South Africa's test sales could have been substantial without more gold showing up in major central bank holdings.

In New York, Richard Scruggs, business and market analyst with Goodbody & Co., an investing firm, said there are a number of influences which would tend to exert downward pressures on the gold market.

"The prevailing view is that South Africa still is sitting on a considerable hoard of gold which they will feel compelled to release in the months ahead," he said.

Hal Boyle Quickest Way To Go Broke?

NEW YORK (AP) — It is said that the quickest way to go broke in America is to open a restaurant.

This is because practically everyone feels that he can run one, and a lot of people try. The facts of business life, however, are that no other industry has a higher failure rate.

"There are tremendous elements of chance," acknowledged Jerome Brody, who at 45 has operated not one but two chains of successful restaurants. "It makes ordinary gambling look like kid stuff."

"You can start a restaurant with two bucks and a key and build it into a profitable company, or you can put a million dollars into one and blow it all in six months."

JERRY is a strapping 6-foot-1 former Army-bomber-pilot, blue-eyed, brown-haired, fastidiously dressed and handsome as a matinee idol. Behind his success lies an almost legendary skill in showmanship in creating elegant eateries.

With no more credentials for restaurant operation than a few courses in business management at Dartmouth, he entered Restaurant Associates, Inc. shortly after the end of World War II. In 16 years he built it from a $5 million network of low-priced coffee shops and cafeterias into a chain of posh, expensive restaurants—including the Four Seasons and the Forum of the 12 Caesars here—grossing $32 million yearly.

ABOUT FOUR years ago he left his first firm to form his own—the Jerome Brody Corporation. Its five restaurants—among them the Rainbow Room and the Rainbow Grill—now serve 20,000 meals a week and bring in some $12 to $15-million yearly.

In prospect he has in mind the building of a world chain of swank restaurants.

"We're still living in an affluent society, and anyway what else is there but optimism?"

What are his guidelines in opening a new restaurant or rebuilding one that isn't doing well?

"AN OLD restaurateur once told me there are only three secrets of success in this business—location, location, and location," replied Jerry.

"But I think that, besides location and luck, you must create restaurants that have a distinctive character, theme, or personality."

"You're competing against processed foods in the home and home television. To lure people out you have to give them more than a good meal. You have to make dining out a total experience, a feeling of luxury and glamor."

"SELECTION of personnel is a major problem, too, as it is in any industry. It's a personal contact business, not a mail order business."

"Not everyone is fitted for it. You have to be pleasant, dedicated and have a gregarious nature. You have to enjoy the work almost more than you do your private life."

Like most successful restaurateurs, Jerry has shown he has other key characteristics—taste, tact, and a creative talent.

At home he tends to stay out of his kitchen.

"I know what real cooking is, but I don't do much of it myself."

Around The Rim

Woof! Woof! And Hello To You

At least I know my fellow workers read this column. Well, at least I know they read one — because everyone I have seen so far has some ridiculous remark.

(As much as I hate to fill in details for those who weren't paying attention, I will explain that I wrote recently about my success in talking to — not with — dogs.)

WHEN I WALKED into the news room, the Managing Editor, Joe Pickle, said: "Bow! Wow! Wow!"

If he knew what I believe he said in dog language, he'd better watch it, but I'm not sure I've broken the code completely.

Good old Bob Rogers, golfer-printer whiz, said:

"I talk to dogs, too. Hello, Walt."

IN FACT, I even got an anonymous fan letter. It read: "Roof-roof - roof-roof!" and it was signed with a smeared paw print. (It looked like legal-eagle Sam Blackburn's writing.)

If my understanding of dog talk is correct, this means "You're a nice man, but I wouldn't want my daughter to marry one."

BOB COSINDINE (he began, name-dropper that he is) probably could be called the ghost writer's ghost writer. For a time there after World War II he had co-billing on many books.

He told on NBC's Monitor Weekend of one book he wrote for a World War II general who was quite pleased about the whole thing.

IN FACT, in the excitement of bringing the book out, he even sent an autographed copy to Cosindine.

It was inscribed: "To the amiable ghost."

CHARLIE RICE, who writes a column called "Punchbowl" in This Week magazine, has an intriguing thing going. He calls it "The Worst Sellers List," and I'm borrowing some of the better titles. Such as:

"Huckleberry Finn," by Ho Chi Minh.

"Mother Goose," by Clare Booth Luce.

"How Green Was My Valley," by Salvador Dali.

"Presidential Wit," by Eartha Kitt.

"Never on Sunday," by McGeorge Bundy.

"War and Peace," by Cyd Charisse.

"Bonnie and Clyde," by Mary Margaret McBride.

"Don Quixote," by Truman Capote.

"Hickory, Dickory, Dock," by Doctor Spock.

The best way I know to repay Mr. Rice is for you to come up with some titles of your own to forward to him for his use. Mail them in, folks.

I RECEIVED a letter from a friend who was visiting in Washington and there was two cents postage due.

This is a man — ex-Tulsa Mayor George Norvell — who ordinarily would never make that error.

What is it that comes over man when he gets to Washington that he immediately goes for other people's money?

—WALT FINLEY

David Lawrence About 'Separation Of Powers'

WASHINGTON — There is more confusion than ever now as to what is meant by "separation of powers" in our constitutional system of government. The two nominees for the Supreme Court of the United States who have just appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee have refused to answer many questions asked of them concerning past decisions.

Judge Homer Thornberry, who has been nominated by the President to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court, did answer a question about his delay in taking office five years ago even though he had been confirmed by the Senate. His reply leaves an air of mystery.

MR. THORNBERRY, while serving as a member of the House Rules Committee, was appointed by President Kennedy to become a judge of the U.S. District Court. He was confirmed in July 1963, but he remained in the House of Representatives five months while the White House withheld his commission. Sen. Robert Griffin, Republican of Michigan, last week called the attention of the judiciary committee to reports that the move was "designed to insure Mr. Thornberry's vote on legislative issues during the interim."

MR. THORNBERRY now says that he decided to remain a congressman for those five months because he "had the hope Congress would soon adjourn," but that, when it became apparent the session would drag on for the rest of the year, he felt it was his duty to continue serving the people of his district, rather than leave them without representation.

Mr. Thornberry's failure in 1963 to take the oath of office as a federal judge caused the postponement of action on many pieces of legislation and cases then pending in court. The question is whether the administration or Mr. Thornberry was responsible for the delay. There has never been any explanation as to why the White House held up the commission.

SO IT APPEARS that the doctrine of "separation of powers" is a bit fuzzy in that a member of Congress can sometimes continue to serve in the legislative branch even though he has been confirmed as a judge of the U.S. District Court.

But when it comes to answering questions about opinions participated in by members of the Supreme Court or of the lower courts, both Justice Fortas and Judge Thornberry took the position that they have a right not to discuss before congressional committees the decisions which they have rendered.

CONGRESS HAS the power to limit the authority of the Supreme Court as to the jurisdiction of cases that may be handled by the high court. Yet when a congressional committee today seeks to discuss with nominees to the high court the viewpoints of prospective judges, a refusal to testify is supported by an executive department of the present administration.

This is not so much a question of "separation of power" as of "application of power" by Congress. For the legislative body has the right to determine for itself whether a nominee for the federal bench has shown — by his record — the ability, judgment and impartiality necessary to deal fairly with the cases that may come before him. As matters stand today, the nominee for the post of Chief Justice has conceded that, while serving on the high court during the last three years, he has continued to act as a personal adviser to the President of the United States. No "separation of powers" has been recognized in that instance.

SO CONGRESS sooner or later will have to define the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court in its interpretations of the Constitution as well as the obligations of its new justices to respect the doctrine of a "separation of powers."

Washington Report Federal Pension Fund Going Broke

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 48 years the federal government has refused to set aside enough of the tens of billions of dollars needed to pay its employees' future retirement benefits.

Now, says the Civil Service Commission, the unfunded retirement liability is up to $53.9 billion.

No official admits to being seriously worried about whether today's three million federal employees and their successors will get their pensions.

BUT WITNESS after witness testified in recent House hearings that unless the financing system is revised, the present $19 billion retirement fund will be broke by 1988 and benefits will have to be paid primarily by direct yearly appropriations.

Part of the retirement fund is contributed by federal employees. They chip in 8.5 per cent of base salary. If an employee quits before retirement, he can get his money back.

GOVERNMENT officials say the government's promise in law to pay the benefits is just as good as its promise to pay off on a bond or other federal security, but employee spokesmen have made it clear to Congress that they want money set aside and visible so employees won't think they can't get it for benefits.

Viewed strictly from a standpoint of cumulative out-of-pocket cost to the government as a whole, it doesn't matter whether the money to pay retirement benefits is set aside in advance, appropriated as needed or handled in combination. The cost is the same.

MONEY SET aside in advance earns interest—but such money must be invested in government securities, so the government is simply taking money from one pocket and putting it in another.

From a budgeting standpoint, however, differences are significant. Money not put aside one year for retirement must be paid in a more concentrated dose later on.

As of now, the retirement fund has $19.2 billion on hand. But employees have earned an additional $53.9 billion in eventual retirement benefits. The latter figure is called unfunded liability—meaning the money isn't on hand.

EVEN IF salaries and the number of employees stayed the same, the unfunded liability would grow to $126 billion by the year 2015.

With 800,000 employees already retired, those sources provide enough money to pay the benefits immediately. But, witnesses told the House, without financing changes, yearly benefit payments to the growing number of retirees would overtake receipts in 1975 and the fund would go broke in 1988.

Financing has fallen behind chiefly because nobody put up the money to pay expanded benefits. Classes of workers have been brought into the program at various times, for example, and given retirement credit for previous federal service without money going into the fund to match the added liability.

Such shortages compound themselves because money the fund doesn't have can't earn interest. That alone now costs $1.7 billion a year.

To Your Good Health Worries About Her Heart 'Shrinking'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: A few years ago I had a routine physical and the doctor said I had a small heart. On my last physical recently the doctor said that, from X-rays and measurements, my heart is smaller than at the earlier examination.

Is there such a thing as one's heart shrinking? And what would cause this? I am in my early 40s. — Mrs. B.E.G.

The heart sometimes enlarges, but it does not shrink except in the sense that enlargement of the heart sometimes may show some return toward normal size.

For a classic example, although beri-beri (a vitamin deficiency) can cause a heart to enlarge, the heart later will become smaller again when proper treatment — that is, proper diet and provision of necessary vitamins — is undertaken.

If enlargement of the heart is due to high blood pressure, some decrease in size may occur after the blood pressure is brought under control.

A "small heart" is not unusual in slender individuals who do not have wide chests. So long as your health is good otherwise, the size of the heart is not significant.

One other factor also can be involved. The only accurate way to determine the size of the heart is by X-ray. There can be a slight variation in apparent size, under perfectly normal conditions, depending on the exact moment the X-ray is taken.

If it is done at the moment when the heart is in systole (that is, contracted) it will appear a bit smaller than when the heart is in diastole — relaxed between beats.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

comfortable? — M.R.

The first and most important thing is to make him understand that giving up smoking is an absolute necessity. Yes, emphysema is serious — it is claiming more lives than tuberculosis and lung cancer combined.

There is no cure; the one thing such patients must do is to stop the disease from becoming worse. How? A variety of ways, which are outlined for you in my booklet, "How to Control Emphysema." Send 30 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, care of The Herald, for a copy of the booklet.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband had a recent check-up and chest X-ray and found that he has emphysema. Is that serious? The doctor told him no smoking at all, but he is a heavy smoker and drinks beer. Is there a cure for this disease? He is nervous and tired. How can I help him and make him

Texans Await Major Battle Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Mud-caked American GIs defending the approaches to Saigon exhibit a mixture of dread, confidence and impatience as they prepare for the third battle of Saigon.

Warned by their commanders that the third offensive of the year against South Vietnam's capital may be the biggest battle of the war, quite a number voice fervent hopes that some other unit will bear the brunt of the fighting.

SURVIVAL

Sitting at the edge of a rice paddy, hands cupped around cigarettes in the monsoon shower, combat infantrymen don't talk about the strategic importance of the battle, how it might affect the Paris peace talks or what would happen in Saigon if the enemy again breaks through the city's outer defense perimeter.

Instead the talk is of chances for survival, whether the unit will be rotated out of a particularly dangerous area before the attack opens, whether intelligence can possibly be right about the large number of battalions facing them.

When the word first came that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regiments were massing for a new attack, it set off a low voltage feeling of excitement. But weeks later and with several enemy regiments maneuvering away from the capital, the edge of expectation is somewhat dulled. When intelligence reports of an attack in mid-July proved wrong and new estimates put D-Day as far away as September, some commanders found it difficult to keep their men up to peak performance.

"When the men haven't been in a good fight for several weeks they tend to relax. That's just what Charlie wants," the commander of one infantry company said.

SAFE PLACE?
Many of the men are newly arrived, and the battle may be their first major fight of the war. These men look forward to it as a personal testing under fire.

Not so Sgt. Glen Boulware of Dallas, Tex., who has nearly finished his one-year tour.

"Me, I just hope the next one holds off until I can get out of here. Enough is enough," he said. "My wife wants me out of Saigon and so do I. But I didn't even want to be in the Army and here I am anyway."

Sgt. Kenneth Bethel of Dallas, Tex., nodded and said: "I just hope it never starts. I've got a two-month-old boy at home I've never seen. My wife writes every day that she hopes I'm in a safe place, I keep telling her I am. No sense telling the truth. The families have it hard enough as it is."

'Jellow Pages' Bonfire Threat

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Fiery County Commissioner Albert Pena Jr., has gone up in flames over those "jellow pages" commercials.

Pena, a political leader with a big following among San Antonio's Mexican-American population, says comic Jose Jimenez (Bill Dana) and the "jellow pages" are bad for the image of Mexican-Americans. Adding insult to injury, Pena asserts are the antics of the "sneaky Frito handido."

"Historians and story tellers of the southwest have deliberately distorted the Mexican-American image," Pena said in an interview.

Pena urged Mexican-Americans to write hot letters to the telephone company to demand a stop to comic Jimenez' "jellow pages" spots on radio and television.

If that doesn't work, Pena said, he will organize a big "jellow pages bonfire."

PROGRAMS ARE SET

Mrs. Mays Heads Concert Group

Mrs. Floyd Mays was elected president of the Big Spring Concert Association, at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday evening. She succeeds Mrs. Donald Van Meter, who moved from the city.

Mrs. Mays has been serving as treasurer, and named to take that post was Lester Morton. Mrs. E. H. Boulloun Jr. was elected second vice president in charge of programs, this post having been vacated when Van Hale moved from Big Spring.

Mrs. Mays said Mrs. Larson Lloyd will head the speakers bureau for the association this year, and Helen Hurt will be director of publicity. R. C. Shaver has accepted the task of handling stage arrangements at the auditorium.

Hobbs Youth Choir Slates Appearance

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church, Hobbs, N.M., will dominate the 7 p.m. service of the First Baptist Church here Sunday with a musical program.

The 50-voice choir will present "A Concert of Sacred Music," including anthems, hymn arrangements, and feature ensemble groups.

The choir is directed by Ben Canfield.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of A. D. Shive wishes to publicly thank the many, many friends who have been so wonderful during the extended illness and death of our loved one. The beautiful floral offerings, delicious foods and words of comfort will never be forgotten. Special thanks to the staff of Malone Hogan Hospital and especially to Dr. Burnett for the untiring efforts in our behalf.

Says Officials 'Rather Naive'

NEW YORK (AP)—Columbia University officials were "rather naive" in accepting police assurances that there would be no violence when police ended an eight day sit-in April 30, says the chairman of the fact finding commission investigating unrest on the Ivy League campus.

Archibald Cox, the former U.S. solicitor general who heads the investigative group, said Thursday that perhaps police "just weren't experts on students."

Cox' remarks came during testimony before the commission by Dr. George Fraenkel, dean of the graduate faculties at Columbia.

At least 14 injuries were reported when police cleared five campus buildings.

Fraenkel said Police Commissioner Howard Leary and chief inspector Sanford Garelik had "poo-pooed the idea of anybody getting hurt."

Police had planned to have four men for each protestor, Fraenkel said, but had only 1,400 men to deal with more than 700 people in the buildings. Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, July 26, 1968 7-A State Sen. Basil Paterson, whose constituency includes Columbia and parts of Harlem, told the commission "every means should be used to get testimony from the black students who occupied Hamilton Hall."

Cox said the commission had tried "by every formal and informal way that has occurred to us to invite their participation." But he said further efforts probably would be made. The Negro protestors and the other protestors as well have refused to appear before the commission.

Galland New Top Officer In Petrofina

NEW YORK — American Petrofina, Incorporated, today announced election of Richard I. Galland as chief executive officer succeeding Harry A. Jackson who retires as president Aug. 1. Jackson will continue to serve as chairman of the board of directors.

Galland, 51, joined American Petrofina in 1958 as vice president and general counsel and president of American Petrofina Company of Texas, a wholly-owned subsidiary. He was elected executive vice president of American Petrofina earlier this year.

Jackson, president of American Petrofina since it commenced operations in 1956, has guided the company to its present position with sales approaching $200 million per year and earnings in 1967 of $14,028,000.

Jackson was instrumental in directing the company's rapid growth in sales and profits, as well as production, refining, transportation, and marketing through the acquisition of growing, successful integrated companies such as American Liberty Oil Company, Mt. Pleasant, Texas in 1967; the Petro-Atlas Corporation and its subsidiary, El Dorado Refining Company of El Dorado, Kan. in 1958; and the assets of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Big Spring in 1963.

Galland will continue to maintain headquarters in Dallas. As president of American Petrofina Company of Texas, Galland had operating responsibility for oil and gas production and for the marketing in the United States of Fina branded and other refined products.

Petrochemical marketing is directed by Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, another wholly-owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Incorporated.

A native of Denver, Galland was educated at Yale University receiving both a BA and LL.B. He was associated with Cravath, de Gersdorff, Swaine & Wood of New York City from 1940 to 1950, except for four years service in World War II as Lieut. (J.G.) in the U.S. Navy. He became chief counsel of Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Baltimore and New York from 1950 to 1955. Galland was vice president, general counsel and secretary of Colorado Oil and Gas Corporation, Denver, immediately prior to joining Fina.

Mayor Remains, Councilmen Quit

POTEET, Tex. (AP) — Only Mayor W. E. Payne remains in office and they're calling a special election for September to pick a new Poteet city council.

One councilman resigned because of his health. Then a dispute arose over public works administrator Glenn Martin, who said councilmen Jesse Ramirez, Leslie Miller, Ben Trevino and Max Griffin signed a letter stating he was fired.

When the question of dismissing Martin was put on the agenda for discussion at a council session Tuesday night, the four councilmen walked out and said they wouldn't be back.

Dog Saves Owner, Due Hero's Medal

HILLSBORO, Mo. (AP) — Smokey, a German shepherd dog who saved his young master from being bitten by a snake, will receive a medal for heroism.

Morie Myers, 13, son of a deputy sheriff in Jefferson County, was walking near his home north of Hillsboro several weeks ago when a copperhead snake in a berry patch appeared ready to strike at the boy.

Smokey knocked Morie down and then tangled with the snake, taking a bite on the foreleg. It swelled but the infection cleared up.

Smokey will get his medal from the German Shepherd Club of St. Louis Saturday.

Land Fill Garbage Disposal A Success

The city's experimental land fill garbage project south of the Cosden refinery on Interstate 20 proved a success, City Engineer Ernest Lillard said today.

The project, which began Jan. 1 under a public demonstration grant from the Public Health Service, has been completed by the joint efforts of the city and the Soil Conservation Service here.

Lillard said the site of the land fill was originally covered with large gullies caused by erosion from water. After the city obtained leases for the land from property owners the SCS began construction of a channel to divert the water from the gullies.

The city then installed all the equipment necessary to operate the land fill under conditions set by the Public Health Service. It included an on site office, scale arrangements to weigh and log all refuse entering the area, and heavy machinery to keep the land fill covered at all times.

The SCS project was completed on the waterway last week when the channel was sodded and seeded with coastal bermuda grass, he said.

A lot more garbage has been brought into the land fill than first expected, Lillard said. "We first thought that volume would be about 900 tons per week," he said. "But it's averaging about 1,200 tons per week."

Elks Induct New Members

Four new members were inducted into the Big Spring Elks Lodge No. 1386 Tuesday evening with the class being designated as the "Sunbeam Morrison Class" in honor of H. J. (Sunbeam) Morrison, an Elk who died Monday.

New Elks inducted include John M. Turner, T. J. Branson, Wayne Basden and C. A. Rose. Besides the class being designated in honor of Elks Morrison, the Elks memorial service to a departed brother was observed, and a donation in his memory was sent to the Texas Crippled Children's Hospital.

It was announced by the entertainment committee that Elks and their families will meet on Aug. 2 for a fish fry at the lodge.

Steamy Weather Lingers In Texas

By The Associated Press
Steamy weather lingered in Texas today after Thursday's turbulence in which two died in a fire apparently started by lightning and a couple of tornadoes were sighted.

The residential fire started by lightning at Houston killed Mrs. Lillie Scott, 30, and a daughter, Jay, 1. A neighbor saved two children from the burning house.

One twister shoved a house off the foundation at Edna in South Texas before whirling aloft. None was injured. Another funnel cloud whirled over Jefferson County in Southeast Texas but apparently did not dip to earth.

expected to disappear gradually. Scattered showers developed anew before dawn along the Texas Coast from Corpus Christi to Beaumont and in the Panhandle area north of Amarillo. There was some ground-fog around Lufkin in East Texas.

Top temperatures Thursday afternoon hit the day's high of 100 degrees at Wichita Falls once more. Alpine in far West Texas was the coolest spot with a top mark of 84.

Ranchers Report Cuts In Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Livestock ranchers in the Southwest reported sharp cuts in net income in 1967 from a year earlier, largely because of bad weather and higher costs, the Department of Agriculture says.

Cattle ranchers averaged a net income last year of $6,312, compared with $7,293 the year before and the 1957-59 average of $7,410. Sheep producers averaged a net of $7,216, compared with $11,778 the year before and an average of $9,498.

The highest net income for cattlemen last year, the report says, was in the northern Rocky Mountain area. Ranchers netted an average of $19,965, compared with $18,347 in 1966 and an average of $12,196. The third area surveyed was the Northern Plains where the net among cattle ranchers was $9,186, compared with $7,540 a year earlier and an average of $5,249. Sheep ranchers in the Utah-Nebraska area averaged $18,853 last year, against $14,963 the previous year and an average of $13,667, the report said.

Says 'Poverty' Good Business For Few Folks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., says the activities of an antipoverty program official show "poverty is really a pretty good business for some people."

Rep. Green told the House Thursday that Richard Frost, a $1,000-a-month official with an Upward Bound project in Oregon, also serves as a $100-a-day consultant to a firm that has an Office of Economic Opportunity contract to review Upward Bound grants.

Upward Bound is a program administered by the OEO aimed at helping potential high school dropouts stay in school and go on to higher learning.

Rep. Green said Frost used to be national director of Upward Bound but quit that post to become an advisory board member of Educational Associates which has no other source of income but the OEO.

She said Frost also is deputy director of an Upward Bound program in an Oregon prison for which he draws a $1,000-a-month salary. In addition, she said, he is a professor at Reed College in Portland, Ore., and gets paid between $16,000 and $18,000 a year.

Rep. Green commented in connection with an amendment to a higher education bill that would eliminate OEO's authority to award contracts to private agencies. The amendment was approved.

The bill also would transfer Upward Bound to the Office of Education.

Frost, contacted in Portland, said Rep. Green's criticism stemmed from his opposition to transfer of Upward Bound out of the OEO.

"Now, as a free citizen, I continue to oppose such a transfer," Frost said.

"Mrs. Green has a real political clout over the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and would like this successful program (Upward Bound) in that department," he added.

McCarthy Junket Planned In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Citizens for McCarthy Thursday announced that Sen. Eugene McCarthy probably will bring his candidacy to Texas as Aug. 7-9.

The McCarthy boosters held a news conference in San Antonio to announce appointments of Bexar County Commissioner Albert Pena, Negro leader G. J. Sutton of San Antonio and State Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth as co-chairmen of the Texas Citizens for McCarthy.

FIGHT UNIT RULE

Maury Maverick Jr., of San Antonio was introduced by Alan Reed, executive secretary of the McCarthy group, as the legal counsel for an organization to fight the unit rule that now binds all of Texas' delegates.

Maverick, a former state representative, said a group called the Texas Democrats for an Open Convention will push for abolition of the unit rule, which requires all delegates to vote with the majority of the delegation.

"We will strive to have a delegation to the national convention which will actually represent the majority and minority views," Maverick said.

IRREGULARITIES

He said TDFAOC will center its arguments on allegations of irregularities in the makeup of the Texas contingent and allegations of lack of representation, particularly among Mexican-Americans.

There is no question, Maverick said, that "Gov. (John) Connally won the majority in Texas, and his majority should be honored." But Maverick said the minority should still be represented.

Reed said present plans call for a McCarthy visit to Texas Aug. 7, 8 or 9. Vice President Hubert Humphrey is to campaign in the state Aug. 10. Reed said McCarthy may campaign in Austin, Houston, El Paso and San Antonio, if he comes.

'NEW DIRECTION'

Pena is a former supporter of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. He said he endorsed McCarthy because he believes the Minnesotan is best supported to carry out Kennedy's programs.

Gladden said McCarthy represents a "new direction" and represents "a new freshness in the national life."

Sutton, like Pena, was a Kennedy man before the senator was assassinated. He said McCarthy understands the new politics and said McCarthy is "the one man" in the race who could take action on racial discrimination, unemployment and other complaints of minority groups.

Studies Basic Adult Learning

AUSTIN — Adult basic education is not just the three R's, it is "education to help adults meet and solve life problems."

That is the consensus of a group of ABE teachers attending a teacher-trainer institute in Austin. The institute, one of 27 funded by the U.S. Office of Education, is coordinated by the Extension and Field Service Bureau of the University of Texas Division of Extension. Among the students is Paul R. Chappell, 1899 Owens, Big Spring.

With one week of the three-week session remaining, five participants met to discuss the institute and share their plans for teaching adult functional illiterates in their home areas.

"I'm interested in promoting a better family life," said Mrs. Barbara Hill, Little Rock, Ark., who believes that educating the adults also educates many children.

Miss Beatrice Lopez, Albuquerque, N. M., said she hopes to conduct a short session on ethnocentrism — race as the center of culture to "help the classes understand themselves better."

Along with the mechanics of developing a good ABE program, the institute has emphasized understanding other cultures. Loy Hedgepeth, West Monroe, La., said this was his first opportunity for frank, informal discussion with members of various ethnic groups. Miss Lopez noted that "sensitive areas shouldn't be stepped around; that's why they are still sensitive." Discussion has been broken into groups to give members a chance to get the "nitty gritty" of issues.

Blanket Casualties tradition in which one person is bounced high in the air from a taut blanket—is part of the spring whaling festivals.

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — When Dr. Jerry L. Coles, Public Health Service physician, toted up the casualties from four blanket toss festivals he found: One dislocated elbow, two foot fractures, one broken ankle, one fractured coccyx, four sprained ankles, one acute back strain and one knee injury.

INWOOD, N.Y. (AP) — The Five Towns Economic Opportunity Council, an antipoverty organization, has asked the public to donate $1,015 to finance a plea for another $19,687.

Director John L. Kearse said Wednesday he needs the smaller sum for a newspaper advertisement. In the ad, he says, he will explain that his program was pared in the nationwide cut-back on federal poverty funds and that the public must chip in if his job training and employment services program is to continue.

Top Leaders Headline Permian Basin Baptist Camp Saturday

Two outstanding Baptist leaders will be featured on the program of the annual men's rally at the Permian Basin Baptist Encampment Saturday.

They are Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Midland, and Roy Akers, San Antonio, president of the Baptist Men of Texas.

The rally program will develop the theme "Every Man a Missionary" ("Cada Varon un Misionero"). During the afternoon there will be recreation of swimming, dominoes, ping pong, horse shoe pitching, shuffleboard, etc., and from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. the evening meal will be served ($1.50).

Owen Taylor, Lamesa, will lead the music, with Doyle Edwards, Westbrook, the accompanist.

The Rev. Julian Vigil, Big Spring, will read the Scripture and the Rev. John Rankin will give the camp report. Dr. H. M. Jarratt, president, Big Spring, will preside at the session.

Dr. Morriss has been pastor at First Baptist in Midland for the past fifteen years. Prior to that he was pastor at New London, Cameron, Baytown and Mt. Pleasant. He is a graduate of Baylor University, which conferred an honorary doctorate on him in 1960, and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. In Baptist affairs he has served as chairman of the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, head of the Texas Baptist human welfare commission, and member of numerous panels on state and Southern levels. He has been active in numerous civic affairs in his own community. Dr. Morriss also has travelled and spoken in England, the Middle East, Alaska and South America.

Akers is a deacon and choir member in his own church (First Baptist at San Antonio), and has served as chairman of the laymen's organization of the church and association, serves on the University of Corpus Christi board, has been active in many civic affairs including Red Cross, safety, muscular dystrophy, exceptional children, mental health association. He was recipient of the DeMolay's honorary legion of honor. He and his wife have provided a camp (The Singing Hills Ranch) north of San Antonio for church, civic and youth groups at no charge.

Fiddler Writes Hymns

A prominent figure for many years at the Old Settlers reunion has been B. F. Logan, whose fame as a fiddler was widespread.

But few people know that Mr. Logan has another favorite talent which he has nourished in almost obscurity. It is hymn writing.

Many years ago he ran across one verse of a poem by Jennie Wilson, a famous hymn writer, and music for it began to take shape in his mind. He added words for a chorus, and after he had composed music, he wrote and asked Jennie Wilson for two more verses, and she obliged. A. J. Showalter Company, Dalton, Ga., published the song, "Building," which was included in some song books.

Mr. Logan worked all these years for a living, but "you might say I had music in my soul," he said, "for while working, a hymn — both words and music — would pop into my mind. I would have to grab a piece of paper and jot down a few words and notes, else the theme of that particular song would leave, never to return."

This was understandable, for during those years he was serving on the (Coahoma) school board, was on the city council and was mayor while earning a living for a large family.

Fiddling was a hobby with him, but he was more serious about his hymn writing. In 1913, the Quartet Music Co. of Fort Worth published four of his songs. Since then the Stamps — Baxter Co. has published several songs. About 18 years ago Mr. Logan had a disabling stroke that partially paralyzed his right side and left him unable to write. But he still has music in his soul and has faith, as one of his hymn titles suggests, that "There'll Be Singing in that Home over There."

PRAYER IS POWERFUL TOOL IN CHANGING MODERN WORLD

Changes. Changes. Everything you hear about today involves the word "Change" in one way or another — times are changing, values are changing, the nation is changing. But another change which the Uniform Sunday School Lesson points out this week is this: Prayer changes things — and people.

The lesson, taken from Daniel 9:3-6; 17-19, emphasizes Daniel's steadfastness in prayer in spite of the hard circumstances and sorrow. It also points out when to pray, what to pray, and who should get the credit.

Daniel certainly did not plan it at the time, but his prayer as recorded in Daniel 9 is a fine example of what should be the content of our own prayers, whether we are faced with problems as acute as his or not.

Daniel is known best for the regular praying that got him into the lion's den, and for the courageous way he faces those enemies. But he is also seen as a man of faith and devotion in other matters.

This lesson gives an excellent example of the power of prayer. Daniel studied the Word of God; his heart was stirred and he began to pray. Finally his prayer became an anguished cry for deliverance. The restoration resulted.

As Christians, we should remember this about prayer: Prayer is sometimes the only thing we can do. Prayer is also the most that we can do.

Butler Plans 'Help' Clinic

When people get into trouble, most of the time they go to their minister.

Chaplain Lee Butler of the Big Spring State Hospital, is planning a course to help ministers help people, particularly if emotional problems are involved. He has shaped a clinical pastoral education course to begin Sept. 19 at the hospital and to continue each Thursday through Nov. 7.

He will coordinate the course, and members of the hospital professional staff will be called in as instructors and as resource personnel.

Each session will deal with group dynamics, verbatim discussion, taping sessions involving counselling and preaching, case studies, examination of personality therapies, functions of a hospital.

"While the majority of people in trouble still go to their ministers for help, in many cases the ministers have not been equipped by training to give them the guidance they need," said Chaplain Butler. "The whole object of the course is to help pastors deal more effectively, either directly or through referral to others, with those who need assistance in meeting crises and other overwhelming situations in life."

Those who are interested in the course are asked to write or call Chaplain Butler, Box 231, Big Spring 79720, or telephone 267-8216, Extension 260.

Sixty-Five Voice Choir To Visit East Fourth Bapt.

"Good News," a Christian folk music festival, will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. at the East Fourth Baptist Church by a 65-voice choir.

The youth of the First Baptist Church in Kermit, under the direction of Jim Strother, the summer youth and music director, will make its first stop here on an extensive tour.

"Good News" involves folksy tunes, occasionally unconventional instrumentation, dialogue, melody, and carries the reaction of a young scuffer at anything Christian.

The program will be in the church auditorium, and everyone is invited. Afterwards there will be a youth fellowship, and then choir members will be guests in homes of the members. Monday they will go to Mineral Wells, then to Six Flags, and back to Crosbyton and then home.

Pastor To Leave Church At Forsan

Mac Robinson, pastor of the Forsan Baptist Church, will be leaving his pulpit and Forsan following services Sunday.

He will begin work on a master of theology degree at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth this fall. He plans to continue his studies until he obtains a doctor of theology degree.

He has served the Forsan church for the past four years. He was graduated from Baylor University in 1962.

He and his wife Lorita have three daughters, Tammi, 8; Pamela, 6, and Kenda, 4. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woner Robinson, Snyder Highway.

The Mac Robinson family will make its home at 4504 Odessa, Fort Worth.

REV. J. C. QUARLES

Quarles Accepts Pastorate

Rev. J. C. Quarles, who conducted revival services at Hillcrest Baptist Church more than four years ago, is in the West Texas area again, this time to stay. He is the new pastor of the First Baptist Church in Sand Springs.

He and his wife came to Sand Springs from Weatherford where he was pastor of the Center Point Baptist Church.

In 26 years he has been a minister of the gospel. Quarles has pastored nine churches, New Hope Baptist Church, New Mexico; Maljamar Baptist Church, New Mexico; Antioch Baptist Church, New Mexico; Hillcrest Baptist Church, Lovington, N.M.; Hodges Baptist Church, Levelland; Bethel Baptist Church, Denver City; Calvary Baptist Church, Hobbs, N.M.

He attended College of the Southwest and Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Prairie View Plant Honored

Prairie View Baptist Church will dedicate its new church plant, an attractive brick structure of some 4,000 square feet space, in special services Sunday.

The day will be climaxed by beginning an eight-day revival with the Rev. Darrell Robinson, formerly of Amarillo, as the evangelist. It continues at 8:30 p.m. daily through the following Sunday.

Activities begin with the regular Sunday School service at 10 a.m., said the Rev. Roy Collins, pastor. At the 11 a.m. dedicatory service, the Army Chaplain Blair Morris of Fort Benning, Ga., will bring the message. The Rev. Morris was serving the church when he entered the service in World War II.

There will be an old fashioned dinner on the ground from 12 noon until 1 p.m., followed by two hours of singing and testimony.

Open house will be observed from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., and the first revival service will be at 8:30.

The Rev. Robinson will assume his duties Aug. 19 as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Liberal, Kan. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woner Robinson and was reared in Howard County, later pastoring at Lakeview, Bethel, Midway and Berea Baptist.

To Train A Child

*Mommy, I love you.
I'm glad I'm alive.
It's fun to run and play
and laugh and dance.
It's hard to stand still and listen.
Mommy, I love you.
Thank you for taking care of me. Thank you for cookies and milk and bread.
Please give me a dime for
Sunday School. I like Sunday School. We sing and laugh and learn about God.
Mommy, I love you.*

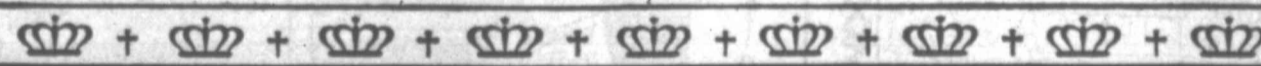

And so on and on she prattles in her own innocent and naive way. Soon, however, her questions will become more complex and her parents will need all the love and wisdom they can obtain.

Fortunately, we as parents are not alone in this endeavor. The Church stands ready and anxious to help us train our children. Through worship, study and meditation we can learn to know what God requires of us. Come to the church of your choice this Sunday and every Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sees It Coming

Packers' quarterback Bart Starr seems to be bracing himself for his soon-to-come encounter with Henry Jordan (74) Thursday night at intra-squad game in Green Bay. As expected, the offense beat the defense, 10-0.

Earl Stewart, Son Lead Odessa Play

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — The $35,000 Odessa Pro-Am rolled into the second round today with the accent on youth, a father-son team in the lead, and Dean Martin in unpredictable form. Blunt Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, and his amateur son, University of Texas shot maker Chip, held a one-stroke lead over the 100-team field. "Got a helluva partner, don't you?" a fan asked Stewart Thursday, after he and Chip had slashed nine strokes from the Odessa Country Club's regulation 72. "Damn right," he responded with a smile. "I've known that for a long time... Chip played an extremely fine round today." The younger Stewart dropped birdie putts of 15, 20, 25, 3, 2, and 22 feet in collecting six of his teams nine birdies. The final one came dramatically at the 18th green. It moved them out of a three-way tie for second with the brothers Messengale, pro Don and amateur Rik, and former Masters champ Gay Brewer and John Paul Cain. The Messengales, defending champions, tacked together a 29-35-64, dipping six-under par through six holes before cooling off a bit. Brewer-Cain had a 31-33-64. In both instances, it was strong performances by the amateurs that turned the trick. Rik Messengale got six of the team's nine birdies, including five on the first six holes, while Cain, a native of nearby Sweetwater, got five to Brewer's three. The Messengales could have shared the lead except for a bogey at 16 and Brewer-Cain could have done likewise, but John Paul three-putted the par 5 17th after reaching the green in two shots. Martin, an admiring female audience at his heels, teamed with fellow singer Don Cherry for a 74, the insignificance of which was largely ignored. Guzzling a local beverage called "Bronco Grape," Martin protested his 10:30 a.m. Friday starting time, contending it prevented him from getting sufficient rest. The tee time was switched to 11:30. Three shots behind the leaders were seven teams headed by 1966 winners Charles Coody and Richard Patton. C. G. and Teddy Griffin, one of two Big Spring teams entered in the Odessa Pro-Am, finished very much in contention after the first round of competition. They pined together a 34-33 for a 67, only four strokes back of the leaders. Charles Brantley and Donald Lovelady, also of Big Spring, were three strokes under par going to the 16th hole but had to settle for a 72. Jan and Robb Smith, both formerly of Big Spring, also had a first round 72. Jan now lives in Grand Prairie while Robb resides in Midland.

Gonzales Whiffs 12; Texans Win

Thomas Gonzales fanned 12 and walked only two in hurling the Texas Leaguers to a 3-0 victory over the Nationals in an all-Big Spring final of the District 3 Little League tournament here Thursday night. The game was unrelenting in the international park at Webb AFB and attracted a large turnout of fans. The contest climaxed a great season for Texas league teams — the Cats had previously won the City championship. Gonzales waded through some first inning trouble, when the Nationals put two runners aboard, and wound up limiting the Nats to two hits. The Texans scored twice in Round One when Albert Smith and Fernie Paredes counted. Smith had singled and Paredes had gained a life on a fielder's choice. John Smith added an insurance tally in the third when he smashed a home run over the center field wall. Albert Smith paced his team's five hit attack with two blows. Ken Scott and Cary Coffee had the only hits for the Nationals. Paul Douglas and Corky Burchell divided time on the mound for the losers. The Texans, playing toward the State championship, return to competition Monday night against the District 4 winner in the American league park here. A victory there would qualify the Texans for Sectional competition at Abilene.

Reflecting On Fun-Filled Season

The Stars of the American Little League (above) can look back on a season that, although it wasn't climaxed by a championship, did provide its share of thrills and enjoyment. Top row, from the left, they are manager Benny Rogers, Glenn Carleton, Mitt Rogers, Randy Tonn and coach Jerry Thompson. Middle row, Tommy Davidson, Jim Ray, Noel Hill, Chris Simpson and Joey Shaw. Front row, Mike Mounce, Tracy Thompson, Greg Horton, Randy Scoggins and Kit Grice.

Oldtimers Set Sunday Game

An "oldtimers" game, pitting one-time members of the Tigers against a VA Hospital club assembled by Pat Martinez Sr., will precede the regular attraction at Steer Park between the current edition of the Tigers and the Big Spring Cardinals. The old-timers' contest gets underway at 1 p.m. The feature attraction is billed for 3 p.m. Martinez himself will play in the first game, as will Elias Gamba, Popeye Santellon, Tom Arista, Albert Garcia, Cy Terrazas and others. Gilbert Valdez, now of Fort Worth, had planned to be on hand but he has been ill. For many years, he was the Tigers' regular second baseman. Horace Yaney likely will pitch for the VA Hospital club, which calls itself the Jets. Price for the double header will be 75 cents. The hospital team has new uniforms on hand for the special occasion.

MERRILL GREEN

Green Seeks To Sustain North's Winning Streak

FORT WORTH — It's been seven long years since the North Schoolboy All-Stars have come out on the short end of the score in their annual battle with their counterparts from the South at the Texas High School Coaches Association All-Star football game. And North coach Merrill Green of Abilene cooper hopes to continue the Yankee mastery in this year's classic set for Fort Worth's TCU Stadium next Thursday at 8 p.m. It'll be the 34th renewal for the big classic with the North holding a decided 20-10 advantage. Although the South is once again loaded with explosive backs, Green and the North squad are not without their "super stars." Heading the list is a young man who was considered the finest all-around football player in the state last season. And Green should certainly be familiar with this great athlete since it was Jack Mildren who quarterbacked Green's Cooper team to the Conference AAAA state finals last year before losing to Austin Reagan. Mildren is a jack-of-all trades and was a first team All-State choice on both offense and defense. With Mildren on hand to quarterback the North, Green will have a player who is quite familiar with his system and what he wants to accomplish. This could be a key factor in an all-star game. Mildren is not only a fine passer but a tremendous running threat as well thus giving the Yanks plenty of versatility in their attack. Green also has two other all-state quarterbacks in McKinney's Philip Wood and Odessa Ector's Arturo Spencer. It wouldn't be too surprising to see Green move one of the quarterbacks to halfback on offense and also utilize their talents on defense as well. Green won't have to operate with strictly a quarterback offense however with such talented runners on hand as Garland's Andy Hoyle, Dumas' Steve Burks, Palestine's workhorse Reagan Young, Jacksonville's Glenn King, Plano's great John Griggs and Bronte's Doug McCutchen who scored 39 touchdowns in 1967. Should the South throttle the North running attack, Green has solid receivers in Wichita Falls' Mike Lowrey, Fort Worth North Side's Gary Martinez, Richardson's Bob Brown and Iowa Park's Harry Price.

Sailboats Race At Moss Sunday

The Big Spring Sailing Club will stage a series of races at Moss Creek Lake Sunday afternoon and the public is invited to sit in on the proceedings, without charge. Judges will use a point system to determine winners. Under such a plan, a point is given to those who finish a race, another for each boat beaten in any one event. Boats entered Sunday will be in the Starfish class, which means each will have a lateen rig and will be manned by one man only. The boats will be floated about 1 p.m. and the first race is scheduled for about 4 p.m.

Gibson Is Hard Act To Follow In Nat'l

By The Associated Press
Patience finally paid off for Jim Northrup and Joe Torre, but against Bob Gibson it appears almost useless. National League hitters have been waiting for almost two months—since May 28—for Gibson to lose, but the hard-hitting St. Louis right-hander is having none of it. In fact, it's almost as difficult just to score a run against him as it is to beat him. The Philadelphia Phillies are the latest left watching and waiting as the veteran hurler cut them down 5-0 Thursday night on five hits for his 11th consecutive victory and eighth shutout of the season.

MISERLY ON MOUND
Now with a 14-5 record, Gibson has yielded more than three runs only once in those 19 decisions, and in his last 92 innings he has allowed only two runs. So the wait goes on against Gibson, but for Northrup and Torre, it has finally ended. The slugging Northrup waited three weeks—since July 4—before breaking a home run slump Thursday night and Torre drummed his figures for five weeks—since June 20—before he connected. Northrup broke loose for two blasts, driving in three runs, and helped the Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 rain-shortened victory over the Washington Senators in the only American League contest. Torre unloaded a three-run clout in Atlanta's 4-2 triumph over the New York Mets. In the only other game in the National League, Cincinnati scored a 2-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who waited and waited for the clutch hit only one runner as far as second base in posting his 12th complete game in a row. His victory string and this 33rd shutout of his career each tied Cardinals' team records.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

Will Big Spring ever have another ball-carrying twosome like J. C. Armistead and Frosty Robison of the 1953 Steer team? Between them, in ten regular season games, Armistead and Robison gained net yardage of 2,045 paces. Armistead lugged the leather 188 times for 1,059 yards and a 5.8 average. Robison, who invariably made the big play for the Steers, picked up 886 paces in 134 efforts for a 7.3 average. Frosty also caught 11 passes that year for 168 yards and three touchdowns.

The Houston Sports Association (Judge Roy Hofheinz and Co.) will be charged $717,467 for rent of the Harris County Domet Stadium this year. The money is due Aug. 16. The old adage is true; it takes money to make money.

Big Spring's Billy Paul Thomas helped the Abilene A's nail down the District ASA Softball championship in Abilene last weekend, working both as a pitcher and catcher. The A's thus earned the right to play in the State tournament, which will again be held in Brownwood in August.

When Big Spring's Charley West returned 25 punts for UT-El Paso in 1967, he set an all-time school record. The 11 enemy passes he picked off in 1966 also constituted a school mark. And he had a career high of 19 interceptions for runbacks totaling 233 yards, which also put him in the Miner record book.

Jack Tayrien, the ex-Big Springer who takes over as head coach at Lockney this fall, talked the Lockney school board into (1) increasing his coaching staff from five to seven men (junior highs included), (2) building onto the athletic fieldhouse and (3) adding new lights to the stadium. One of the men he imported for coaching purposes was Carrol Tucker, a native of Hobbs, N.M., and line coach at Coble High School in Bayard, N.M. Bayard went all the way to the Class A State finals against Roswell Goddard last fall. Lockney is being picked third in District 3-AA behind Olan, last year's champion, and Dimmitt. Lockney has won only one district game the past two seasons, so Tayrien understandably has guarded optimism about the 1968 season. Tayrien says Olan's wheelhorse, Benny Aiken, reminds him a whole lot of Donny Anderson, the former Texas Tech great. Benny plays 194, is 6-1 and ran a 49.5 quarter last spring.

Dimmitt has a standout performer in 6-1, 190 David Land, although he doesn't have Aiken's speed. Tayrien thinks he has a lineman who could be one of the best in that section of Texas. He is 6-4, 191 Steve Barker, a defensive ace with a tremendous desire to get to the ball carrier. Barker is team captain and president of the student body. Tayrien says that Steve reminds him a lot of Tim Smith, the Big Spring line star of a few seasons back.

Frank Freer, a one-time entry in the Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, is now pro at an exclusive resort club outside of Minneapolis, Minn. Freer played out of Wichita Falls at one time.

And it wasn't too many years ago that Gene Towry, the new National Public Links champion, was pro at the Lamesa Country Club. The little fellow later surrendered his pro status to become an amateur again.

It was decided the club would sponsor membership rides each Friday evening to neighboring cities. Those interested in making such rides will gather on the south side of the courthouse at 7 p.m. each Friday and will depart town no later than 7:30 p.m. Club officers are seeking to build the membership of the organization.

Hill Climb Is Planned Here

Another hill climb will be held by the Big Spring Motorcycle club in the near future but no date was set for the event at last night's business meeting, held in the City Police building. The next business convocation takes place Aug. 8 at the same location. Jackie McMurray was named publicity chairman of the club at last night's session, which attracted 21 members. Eight motorcyclists rode from here to Mineral Wells last Sunday for a hill climb. Two members of the club, Bill Cook and C. P. Ward, recently completed a trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, covering 3,000 miles.

Ross Fichtner Extended Pact By New Orleans

By The Associated Press
Ross Fichtner's fortunes are looking up and Ron Kramer's have taken a turn for the worse. Sam McDowell stepped on a scale to have his fortune told and it didn't cost him a penny—only a professional football contract. Fichtner, 29, dropped several days ago by the Cleveland Browns after a racial incident, signed Thursday with the New Orleans Saints. The Detroit Lions gave the 33-year-old Kramer, an 11-year tight end, his unconditional release. And the Miami Dolphins decided to let McDowell go after the rookie from Southwest Missouri weighed in at 375 pounds, a mere 80 more than the amount at which his contract stipulated he should report. Fichtner, an eight-year safetyman, was the second veteran to join the Saints recently. Dave Parks, an end who played out his option with San Francisco, signed with the National Football League club last week. The Browns placed Fichtner, who is white, and John Wooten, a Negro guard, on waivers after a dispute which arose when the Browns' Negro players were not invited to participate in a tournament which Fichtner arranged. Wooten, a nine-year veteran, has not disclosed his plans. Kramer, one of the league's premier performers during eight seasons with Green Bay and three with Detroit, was hampered by injuries last year. But his career record shows 229 receptions for 3,272 yards. "I may make a few calls to some other clubs," he said. "But then again 4 may decide to call it quits and hang them up."

Unknowns Are Dominating Links Play

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — While Lee's Pleas fretted over the putting woes of their new hero, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, five of pro golf's virtual unknowns swept into the opening-round lead Thursday in the $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic. Locked in the tie for first heading into today's second round were Pete Brown of Pomona, Calif., J. C. Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., Jim Colbert of Overland Park, Kan., Harry Tossano of New Castle, Pa., and Bob Stanton of Sydney, Australia, who now lives in New Orleans. All had five-under-par 66s over the 6,702 Keller golf course. First-place money is worth $20,000. None of the leaders is ranked in the top 60 money winners this year on the PGA tour, and only Brown has ever won a PGA tournament—the WACO Turner at Ardmore, Okla., in 1964.

Aquatic Team Eyes Action

The YMCA-sponsored Big Spring Aquatic team will compete in the annual Midland Invitational Swimming meet scheduled this weekend. Four boys and three girls represented Big Spring in the 14th annual Invitational Lubbock Swimming tournament last weekend and several won awards.

John Bizzell, competing in the 13-14 boys' age bracket, copped third places in both the 100-yard backstroke and 200-yard freestyle and earned medals as a result. Lisa Burnett won fifth place in the 50-yard freestyle (13-14, girls) and was awarded a ribbon.

Ann Bell won fourth place in the 200-yard freestyle, 100-yard breaststroke and fifth place in the intermediate medley — all in the 13-14 girls' bracket and earned ribbons in each instance. John Darby was fourth in the 100-yard breaststroke, boys' open division, and copped a ribbon.

In all, seven clubs sent teams to the meet, which was held in the Clark Park Pool. Others who represented Big Spring in the meet included Cliff Hobbs, boys' 15-16; Pink Dickens, boys' 15-16; and Cindy Lester, girls' 13-14.

Perfect Squelch.

Have a friend who's been boring you with talk about his VW's mileage and operating economy? Here's a neat way to silence him. Get yourself a 1968 VW. Then, too, will have a car that gets up to 27 miles per gallon of gas, and up to 40,000 miles on a set of tires... that needs only 2.7 quarts of oil... that never needs anti-freeze (because it doesn't have a radiator). You can even play one-upmanship, if he doesn't have a 1968 Volkswagen. Because your VW will have seats with built-in headrests, a fresh air ventilation system, padded dash, and scores of new safety and performance features his older model doesn't have. So come in and let us fix you up with a new VW. Then next time your friend stops by you'll be ready for him.

Terrorists Bomb Paper

SAIGON (AP) — Terrorists struck in Saigon today for the second time in a week and blew up the city's largest Chinese newspaper.

Police said four young Viet Cong, two of them girls, set off a 60-pound plastic bomb in the press room of A Chau Van Quoc, the Asian Daily News, an anti-Communist paper which supports the Saigon government. No casualties were reported.

The terrorists, all armed with pistols, walked into the newspaper office just after 1 p.m. and ordered everyone out.

One girl terrorist pulled out the explosive charge concealed in a bag, planted it in the press room and fled with her companions.

EXPLOSION
Five minutes later an explosion rocked the three-story building, heavily damaging it.

Employees of the paper said the terrorists were Vietnamese of Chinese origin. The plant is located in Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon where 300,000 Vietnamese Chinese live.

A few blocks away another Chinese paper, the Kien Quoc, was blown up June 6. Three persons were killed in that explosion, and 15 others injured. The Kien Quoc also supported the South Vietnamese government.

Last October, terrorists shot and killed the managing editor of A Chau after he had written several editorials criticizing Viet Cong assassinations.

After weeks of comparative quiet, Viet Cong terrorism broke out again in Saigon and in two provincial capitals to the north and south last weekend. Twelve Vietnamese were killed and 91 wounded in the bombings of four theaters, one only a block from the national police headquarters in Saigon.

WARNING
South Vietnamese intelligence sources have warned that terrorist attacks might precede the expected big enemy attack on

Eye-To-Eye On GOP Choice

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is greeted by supporters at a meeting of the International Platform Association in Washington last night, left. Earlier yesterday Illinois Sen. Charles Percy, right, announced his endorsement of Rockefeller in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination.

Office Of Vice President Moving To Center Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The often-slighted office of vice president is moving to the forefront of the political campaign because of two men representing the youthful, liberal and urban-minded wings of their parties.

Word from Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is considering the possibility of making himself available, accelerated a drive to put the brother of slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in second place on the Democratic ticket.

SHUNS 'LURE'
A charge by an aide of Richard M. Nixon that the "lure of the vice presidency" had caused Sen. Charles H. Percy to endorse Nelson A. Rockefeller Thursday for the top GOP nomination put a spotlight on backstage maneuvering in the Republican camp over the second office.

SHE DIDN'T CRY
Admits Nailing Girl To Tree

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — When the hands of a teenage girl were nailed to an oak tree in the ritual punishment ceremony of a motorcycle club, she did not cry. Thursday the man who admitted driving the nails sobbed when he was sentenced to four years in prison.

SWITCHED PLEAS
Owings and three other members of the former "Outlaws Motorcycle Club" switched pleas Thursday to guilty on the third day of their trial after two persons had been selected as jurors.

Three Mishaps Are Reported To The Police
Three minor accidents with no injuries kept Big Spring police busy Wednesday.

HAND-NAILING
He said the hand-nailing began as a hazing sort of thing for the "benefit" of Donald Graves.

Miss Deese, 19, was in court when the sentences were handed down. In a deposition filed before the trial Miss Deese said under oath that she had been a prostitute and was being punished by her "old man." Owings, by not keeping a $10 date he think that as No. 2 man he would attract big city and liberal support in November to a ticket headed by Humphrey.

PERCY'S INTEREST
Percy's interest in the second spot was emphasized by the disclosure that he had talked recently with his Illinois colleague, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen about it. The latter offered to present Percy's name at an informal meeting of leaders that usually precedes the presidential nominee's choice of a running mate.

The understanding was that if Nixon were nominated, Dirksen, a solid supporter of the former vice president, would put Percy's name in the pot as a gesture to his colleague.

The situation involving Percy is a little more complicated. The Illinois senator's announcement that he will back what he called Gov. Rockefeller's "underdog" bid for the Republican presidential nomination brought a quick reaction from the Nixon camp.

Y Slates Theater Workshop

The YMCA will initiate a new summer program for children Monday with the registration and first session of the Children's Theater Workshop.

A firm in the YMCA curriculum, the workshop will be geared for children 8 years old and older and the sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Bruce Miller.

The workshop will give the children a chance to explore and participate in pantomime and basic stage directions. Curtis Mullins, general secretary, said.

The class will be held each Monday and Wednesday July 29 through Aug. 21, 10-11:30 a.m. Sixteen students have registered for the course, according to Mullins. However, the children may register anytime before the class begins Monday, he said. To register, they may come to the YMCA or call 267-8234.

MoPac Earnings Reported Down
The Missouri Pacific System's consolidated earnings for the first half of the year dipped $1,240,382 below the same period of 1967 to a total of $12,085,190.

Downing B. Jenks, president, reported today. Net income for its first half was $8,517,652, compared to $10,285,867 for the same period last year.

Perfect Squelch. Have a friend who's been boring you with talk about his VW's mileage and operating economy? Here's a neat way to silence him. Get yourself a 1968 VW. Then you, too, will have a car that gets up to 27 miles per gallon of gas, and up to 40,000 miles on a set of tires... that needs only 2.7 quarts of oil... that never needs anti-freeze (because it doesn't have a radiator).

'Reb' Brando Ready To Make New Flick

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — Show Biz notes from the 50th state— Marlon Brando appears ready to go back to work. After the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the actor passed up the starring role in Elia Kazan's "The Arrangement" to devote his time to civil rights. Stopping over in Honolulu en route from Tahiti Island to Paris, Brando said he expects to begin work soon on "The Rebellion," to be filmed in Europe.

"The director is Gillo Pontecorvo, who made 'Battle of Algiers,'" said the actor. "He's one of those new directors who doesn't give a damn about stars or anything but his film. He's energetic and full of ideas; I haven't worked with a director like that in years, and I'm looking forward to it."

MONEY MAKER
The late Kui Lee, already an island legend although he died only two years ago, will get the film treatment under a deal set by Honolulu Advertiser columnist Eddie Sherman. He secured rights to Lee's life story from the songwriter's estate, and producer Leonard Freeman has taken an option on the biography.

Kui Lee was the brilliant, rebellious island boy who wrote "One Paddle, Two Paddle" and "I'll Remember, You." "Ain't No Big Thing," and other songs which helped propel Don Ho to national fame. Lee died of cancer in his twenties.

A location scout from the Mirisch-Brothers company visited here recently to hunt scenery for a sequel to "Hawaii." The producers are apparently going ahead with plans to continue the James Michener saga with the Chinese and Japanese portions of the novel, which many readers consider the best part.

PUBLIC LIKED IT
Many persons consider "Hawaii" a flop because it drew almost uniformly bad reviews. But it appears to have been one of those movies that nobody liked but the public. "Hawaii" was a big moneymaker for the Mirisches and United Artists. So there is little wonder that a sequel is planned.

Hawaii is becoming increasingly popular as a background for television commercials. The reason is not merely to capture the islands' scenic beauty in color; the film makers can also escape some of the stringent terms for actors by not shooting on the mainland.

Maggie Parker, lone female lead of the new "Hawaii Five-O" series, comes from an unlikely background for an actress. Born to a proper Bostonian family, she took a master's degree in education at Boston University. Four years ago she turned down the position of dean of women at a new California college to pursue an acting career in Hawaii.

VISITORS
Despite the odds, she has managed to earn a good living in radio, television, commercials and films. Now she is destined for stardom if the "Five-O" series succeeds.

Recent entertainment figures in the islands: Helen Hayes, visiting son James MacArthur, co-star of "Hawaii Five-O"; Nancy Sinatra, filming for a new television special and not visiting her ex, Tommy Sands; Betty Grable, here for a stand in "Guys and Dolls"; James Arness dropped his Garbo habits and gabbed with the press when his catamaran finished first in the trans-Pacific race. His fellow television star, Buddy Ebsen, came in two days later but won the race because of the way the cats were handicapped.

Texas Hailstorms In June Trigger Property Losses

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas hailstorms in June caused $5.1 million in property losses, the Weather Bureau's state climatologist said today.

He said no accurate estimate of total dollar losses to agriculture was possible. He reported 36 hailstorms.

Tropical storm Candy was responsible for $2.1 million in crop losses and for other property losses totaling $625,000, he said.

The weather official said most of the damage from the tropical storm, which formed suddenly off the Texas coast June 23 and hurried its fury inland, occurred in Calhoun, Jackson, Refugio and Victoria counties.

He reported no injuries or deaths from the storm.

Tornadoes were the least destructive of all the weather violence in Texas this spring. He said the 21 tornadoes that occurred on 14 days in June caused no deaths or injuries. The funnel clouds caused $69,000 in property damage and $55,000 in agricultural losses.

He noted that the number of twisters in June was above the 1951 to 1968 average of 17.

Great Race Slated

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio businessman has accepted a challenge to race from London to New York City and then back to London, using air and ground transportation.

The race between Paul Vaughn, president of Filmco Inc., of Aurora, Ohio, and Edward Drewry, who deals in real estate, will begin on foot from the top of the General Post Office tower in London.

The two will then race to the top of the Empire State Building and return to the tower in London.

The Association of the Ohio Commodores, the Ohio Industrial Development Department and private businesses will sponsor Vaughn. The race will take place sometime between May 4-11 in 1969. It is sponsored by The London Daily Mail.

Dear Abby

Silence May Be Golden

DEAR ABBY: If you knew positively that your sister's husband had been keeping another woman for seven or eight years, would you take on the sad task of telling your sister?

Many other people know it, and she is bound to find out someday, and then she will know that we knew it, too.

HER SISTERS
DEAR SISTERS: There are two schools of thought. To tell and not to tell.

I belong to the "not to tell" school. There are exceptions, of course. In most cases the wife usually knows, but she is putting on a brave face for reasons known only to her.

Allow her her pride and keep quiet. And should she in time admit that she knows, be "big" and don't chime in with those who would say, "I knew it all along."

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and I am waiting for a guy who is overseas in the service. (Let's call him Morey.) I don't have an engagement ring or anything like that, but I promised Morey I would wait for him, so that's what I am doing.

Well, there is a guy Morey used to run around with (let's call him Herman), and Herman comes over and takes me out just to keep me from going nuts. Anyway, it started out that way. Now, Herman, tells me he thinks he is in love with me, although I told Herman from the start that I was waiting for Morey and I think of him only as a friend.

Don't get me wrong, Herman hasn't tried anything, but he is starting to like me too much for his own good. I don't want to quit seeing Herman because he's really a nice guy and a girl could go nuts sitting home all the time writing letters.

My mother says I shouldn't be going out at all, but I can't see any harm in it as long as I don't lead anybody on. What do you think? I don't want to hurt Herman.

WAITING FOR MOREY
DEAR WAITING: Maybe you think of Herman as "only a friend," but he obviously has other ideas about you. I don't know how you figure you are going with Herman. If a girl "waits" for a fellow, she waits alone without "go-ins" and don't worry about hurting Herman. I have an idea he can take care of himself.

DEAR ABBY: You said "There is one type of man I have never known to be strong, reliable and trustworthy, and he is the man who would ask for a loan of money from the woman he loves."

Are there NO exceptions? BEEN THERE
DEAR BEEN: Yes. A husband and wife many years married, and united by common interests, may become so one in purpose and thought that a common purse would be as natural to them as a common bed or dinner table. But before marriage, or immediately after, the man who begins to ask a woman for the use of her purse shows himself to be lacking more than money.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ARNIE: There are two times in a man's life when he shouldn't afford it. (1) When he can't afford it. (2) When he can.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW — CARROLL RICHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are very emotional now and would be wise to curb this trait a bit. Get busy and do whatever tasks face you with a more positive and direct attitude if you want to have the advantage of the best of today's aspects. Tonight make a point to avoid some overhealthiness condition that is set to assert to you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Spend part of the morning with kin and settle down affairs that are vitally important. Then work industriously and catch up on work you should have done some time ago.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Getting to touch with those who love the know-how to make present plans workable is wise this morning. Success depends largely upon how you proceed with that friend or it could lead to trouble, dissension.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): That business expert gives you the advice and aid you require in order to bring your business up to where it rightfully belongs. Cut down on these unnecessary expenses. Do you have to have that horribly expensive vase?

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Get busy on whatever will give you pleasure during the month, since you need the company of others at that time. In fact, a social day would be very nice for you. Be sure you do whatever makes you more attractive tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Do you really have to be out in the business world so much when there is much to do at home? Dig up that information you require, too. Take it easy tonight and restore your vitality.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Don't be so sensitive, confide in good friends and set their views for your advancement. However, society is not good tonight, when tempers are short. Don't rely on that expert right now — a good friend is more helpful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Supporting higher-ups is important now if you and they are to advance in these rather difficult times. Civic work could be your cup of tea now. Slip out early and do it with a vim, real know-how.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): A new attitude is vital to you in necessary and gathering information you need most important. Go to the right sources. Meet persons whose experience and culture is different to yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): How you know how to spend your money properly and time promises to be better more so than for some time past. Show your mate more devotion than you have lately, also. Evening should be quiet, calm.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You had better talk over with associates just what you have in mind, since they do not quite understand your actions, motives. After a good business day, curl up with a good book tonight. This could be tremendously interesting.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Find a better system for your routine work today and you also make your co-workers happier. Why not run out to see your tailor and get your clothing you want to buy? Some special health treatment would also be good.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): If you join their good will during spare time, and this is also true where business matters are concerned. You need a little love yourself, anyway. Don't think the whole world is on your particular shoulders.

Up-lift for the face that desires to look "Ageless"

The woman who is called "ageless" has all the advantages; no one can tell how old she is and no one cares. The "ageless" look is too exciting to evoke petty guessing. And it's not hard to achieve now that we have a way to semi-permanently smooth "catty" facial lines into insignificance. Greaseless, aqueous 2nd Debut applied nightly does it. And as a beauty-bonus it rid's your skin of all dryness as long as you use it regularly. Moreover, it "lifts" the tone of the entire complexion to give you credit for youthful freshness and vigor you should reflect even when you don't. Follow up in the morning with a second film of 2nd Debut before make up just to keep the good work of 2nd Debut going for you all through the day too.

2nd Debut WITH CEF 600

2nd Debut LIQUID CLEANSER
One quick cleansing with 2nd Debut Liquid Cleanser will astound you! You will agree you have never seen your skin so really clean. Never! It's a rich liquid you spread on your face and neck. Allow it to remain there one minute, then—douse your skin with cool water. The 2nd Debut Liquid dissolves into the water and takes with it embedded dirt and residue. See your skin glow with new cleanliness. The 2 oz. bottle is $3.00.
