QUARTER-MILLION-DOLLAR CONCERN WILL MAKE FIBER GLASS PIPE

Local Capital Organizes New Manufacturing Plant

A new "home-grown" industry — a quarter-million dollar enterprise — for Big Spring had moved on the horizon today, after a series of quick developments which have brought about the formal organization of a corporation known as Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., to engage in the manufacture of fiber glass pipe and fittings for the oil field market.

WEDNESDAY

The corporation received its charter under Texas laws this week, then organizational formalities were completed Wednesday night at a meeting of stockholders and directors.

Stockholders are all Big Spring residents who, in two days time, subscribed fully paid-in capital funds of $225,000.

Named by the shareholders as directors were V. F. Michael, who was brought to Big Spring by local organizers as chief executive and operating head of the new firm; John Currie, vice president of the State National Bank; Russell Dorsey, superintendent of Bond Operating Company and a veteran of some 35 years in West Texas oil production; W. P. Edwards Jr., owner-operator of extensive oil and ranching interests; Guilford Jones, attorney; John L. Taylor, implement dealer; and R. W. Whipkey, publisher of The Herald.

The directorate, in a subsequent session, named Michael as president, Currie as vice president, Clyde Hollingsworth as treasurer, Jean Powers as secretary, and Mrs. V. F. Michael as assistant secretary.

CONTRACT

The board is working out a management contract with Michael, who also is a major shareholder, and announced that activities will begin at once toward getting the company into business.

First step will be to acquire a site of operations, with a building of some 7,500 to 10,000 square feet of floor space, and an enclosed paved yard for storage purposes of possibly up to five acres.

Michael also will be engaged immediately in developing plant layout, perfecting machinery of his own design and getting materials on order. If plans go as anticipated, officers said the company could be in operation by the first of the year.

The major output will be fiber glass pipe and fittings of various sizes, to be marketed mostly in oil field areas where salt water corrosion is a major problem. The fiber glass product has such qualities as exceptionally high tensile strength, extremely light weight and — principally — complete resistance to corrosion.

Those who have studied the venture say there is a prime market for fiber glass products in the West Texas oil fields, and these would be the first concern of the new company. However, there will be a program to market the products throughout all major oil producing areas.

15-20 EMPLOYEES

Michael said he thought some 15 or 20 persons would be on the payroll at the start of production, and that expansion of personnel will be determined by the company's success. He envisions eventually a payroll of up to 100 people.

The hometown development of Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., is an outgrowth of efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, Industrial Foundation and related civic interests to bring more industrial investment into the city.

When it was learned that the leadership of Michael was available, business leaders got together to outline the formation of a company with local risk capital.

The quick subscription followed, and this led to a tender to Michael to head up the corporation. He moved to Big Spring from Wichita, Kan. Much of the groundwork has been handled by Jones, Currie and Hollingsworth, who called in from time to time members of the Chamber of Commerce industrial team, the city administration represented by City Manager Larry Crow, and the Industrial Foundation, whose current president is Lowell Jones.

CHAMBER

C-C President Milton Talbot and the manager, Carroll Davidson are among others who worked intensively to bring about the new industrial venture.

V. F. MICHAEL

THE MICHAELS

Engineer Team To Run Plant

A husband-and-wife team of outstanding professional training and experience will be directing operations of Big Spring's new manufacturing plant, Fiber Glass Systems, Inc.

They are Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Michael who will serve, respectively, as president and assistant secretary of the concern.

Each holds two degrees in chemical engineering from the University of Texas, and both have had long experience in various fields of chemical and related research.

Homecoming for Him

It's a sort of homecoming, too, for Michael, who lived in Big Spring as a youth and was graduated from the local high school in 1932. He came here with his family in 1929, his late father having been employed in the oil fields in this area. His mother, Mrs. R. J. Michael, resides at 1210 Runnels.

Michael, 53, was in the University from 1933 until 1939, largely working his way through school, and obtained both a bachelor's and a master's degree in chemical engineering. He has done some work on his doctorate.

As an undergraduate, he achieved membership in Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, and Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity; and as a graduate student was accepted in Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity.

Faculty Member of A&I

He was a part time instructor during his graduate years at the University, then joined the faculty of Texas A&I at Kingsville, where he taught chemistry and chemical engineering.

Michael moved in 1943 to Tulsa, where he joined the research department of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company. In 1948 he was summoned to Wichita, Kan., to establish a research department for the Rock Island Oil & Refining Company. He remained with that concern for 20 years, until his recent resignation, rising to the position of vice president for research and development. It was during his tenure at Rock Island that he originated and developed in its entirety that company's fiber glass division.

Michael has developed a number of patents, 11 of these in various chemical processes which he worked out while with Stanolind. He added nine others in various petrochemical and fiber glass innovations while with Rock Island.

First To Obtain Them

Mrs. Michael also has bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Texas in chemical engineering, and was the first woman to obtain such degrees there. She is a member of the Society of Women Engineers, and is a member of the honorary sorority of her profession, Iota Sigma Pi. The Michaels were married in Kingsville. They have a daughter, Margaret Jean, a graduate of the University of Kansas who will be teaching this year in a Kansas City high school; and a son, John Mark, who will be a senior this year in KU and then will go to medical school.

The Michaels have established residence here at 2512 Rebecca.

Demos Favor HHH Over Sen. McCarthy

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey runs better than Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy among rank-and-file Democrats, but McCarthy had the greater support of independents when the two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination were pitted against each other, the Gallup Poll reported.

The Gallup organization said Wednesday that 33 per cent of rank-and-file Democrats favored Humphrey for their presidential nomination while McCarthy won support from 30 per cent.

But the poll said that independents favor McCarthy over Humphrey by 53 to 32 per cent. Gallup said the Minnesota senator is "far stronger" with young Democrats, from 21 to 29 years old. He also holds an edge with those who have a college background and Democrats living in the Far West.

Humphrey, however, is stronger with older voters who classify themselves as Democrats in the Midwest, South and East, the poll reported.

Parade Kicks Off Annual Jr. Rodeo

The 23rd annual Howard County Junior Rodeo was to officially get under way at 4 p.m. today with a parade through downtown Big Spring.

Performances for the show, sponsored by the Howard County 4-H Club, slated today, Friday and Saturday, will start at 8 p.m. each day at the Rodeo Bowl. Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

There are a record 228 entries in this year's show. Among them are Rex Bland, Abilene, and Ann Miller, Lamesa, the 1967 all-around cowboy and cowgirl.

The pair will be competing for this year's top prizes of saddles given to the highest-scoring boy and girl.

Events slated include barrel racing, pole bending, ribbon roping, breakaway roping, calf roping, bareback riding and bull riding. Stock is furnished by Black Rodeo Producers, of Marfa.

The parade will gather at Eleventh and Main and go north to Third, where it will turn west to Scurry. On Scurry, the caravan will turn south to Fourth, east to Main, and return to its point of origin.

Besides the two championship saddles, 20 trophy buckles will be given to winners of each age event.

Marylander's Nomination Due Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, winner of the Republican presidential nomination, today picked Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland as his running mate.

Nixon made the announcement in a brief news conference at 12:40 p.m. He said some 100 party leaders had been consulted.

MAJOR SURPRISE

The selection of Agnew, a onetime supporter of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, was a major surprise. The Maryland governor delivered the nominating speech for Nixon Wednesday night.

Nixon opened his news conference saying the deliberations "have been very thorough on what we think is a tremendously important decision."

He said he wanted a man qualified to be president, who could campaign effectively and who would be able to assume new responsibilities dealing

Nine Miners Are Killed

GREENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rescue workers began the slow process today of carrying out the bodies of nine miners reported killed Wednesday in a fiery explosion in a coal mine shaft near here.

A mine employee, who asked to remain unidentified, said the rescue workers had found eight bodies in one area of the mine. The body of the ninth miner was found nearby, he said.

NEARBY

The employee said it would take some time for the workers to bring the victims to the surface because the shaft area was small. The first body was discovered at about 4 a.m. EDT today—14 hours after the accident was reported.

Throughout the rescue operation and the reported finding of the bodies, mine officials, police and other authorities have refused to discuss the accident with newsmen.

The entire area leading to the River Queen mine entrance was cordoned off soon after the accident and newsmen have not been permitted in.

In Washington, the U.S. Bureau of Mines said it received a preliminary report that the blast resulted from the accidental detonation of a carload of explosives being transported deep in the mine.

The mine, owned and operated by Peabody Coal Co., is just south of this small coal-mining community in Western Kentucky.

About 300 persons—women, children and miners—lined a road leading from the mine area to seek out loved ones, relatives and friends among those being carried out.

NO CHANCE

One of those bystanders, a middle-aged man wearing a green work uniform said: "I've been in mining all my life and my brother-in-law is down there, and I know there is no chance."

GOV. SPIRO T. AGNEW

especially with the problems of the nation's cities.

Nixon said he will recommend the convention nominate Agnew for vice president.

Agnew was elected governor of Maryland in 1966 after a term as county executive of Baltimore County, which surrounds the city of Baltimore.

SUPPORT

He attracted considerable Democratic support in the heavily Democratic state after George Mahoney, an outspoken foe of open housing, had captured the Democratic nomination for governor.

Nixon won a smashing first ballot Republican presidential nomination early today by bowling over Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Since then, he told the reporters, he had been closeted with party leaders and speaking with them by telephone looking for a running mate. Smiling, he said he trumpeted a definite right-winger.

Nixon, 55, will be running with a 49-year-old vice presidential candidate. But first the party delegates, at a session tonight, will have to go through the motions of ratifying Nixon's selection. The two candidates then will make acceptance speeches.

SECOND TRY

Nixon's first ballot victory culminated a smoothly organized for a second try at the presidency. Nixon lost out to John F. Kennedy in a tight race in 1960.

Delegates erupted in a turbulent shouting, band-blaring, sign-waving demonstration when Wisconsin was reached on the state roll call. Nixon had sewed up the 30 Wisconsin votes in a primary and it was those votes which put him over the 667 count necessary for the nomination.

Nixon later summed up his victory in these words at a news conference:

"I was ready, I was willing and the events were such that the party wanted me. . . ."

At the storied 3 o'clock in the morning, celebrated in an old song, Nixon got a call from the man he thinks he will oppose in November, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

PLUGGING

MacGregor, Midwest chairman for Nixon, has been plugging for Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City for a spot Lindsay says he wouldn't accept. But another name mentioned frequently was that of Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon. Hatfield has been a dove on the Vietnam war, as opposed to Nixon's harder line. He lists himself as a liberal, to the left of the position Nixon occupies.

But there was a long list of possibilities, including the names of both Rockefeller and Reagan, despite their constant denials they would not accept second place.

Among others were Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, and Govs. George Romney of Michigan and John A. Volpe of Massachusetts.

When the initial and only roll call was completed after a wearying 7½ hours of convention nominating and seconding speeches, Nixon had chalked up

Cornerstone To Be Laid Friday For Post Office

Cornerstone for Big Spring's new million dollar federal building will be laid officially at 3:30 p.m. Friday. The ceremonies will be brief and strictly local in nature, according to Frank Hardesty, postmaster.

He said the stone will be located near the entrance to the new building on the Main street side of the tract. Former postmasters Elmer Boatler and Nat Shick are to have parts in the cornerstone laying.

County and city officials, along with representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, are urged to attend.

The cornerstone, which will measure 12 inches by 8 inches by 3½ inches, is hollow. Hardesty said that an invitation to citizens to place small mementoes and souvenirs of the era in the stone is extended. However, he pointed out that the area for such storage is small.

The post office building, located between Fifth and Sixth streets on Main, is slated for completion in November. In addition to housing the post office operations, it will afford office space for the federal agencies of the community.

Hardesty said that the cornerstone laying has to be carried out at this time while essential machinery for the placing of the stone is available,

GEN. SAM MADDUX JR.

The Air Force Outstanding Unit Award, highest honor the Air Force can confer on an organization, will be presented to the 3560th Pilot Training Wing (Webb) in ceremonies Friday morning.

ATC CHIEF

Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux Jr., commander of Air Training Command, will be here to make the presentation, giving the citation to Col. William C. McGlothlin, wing commander, at 9 a.m. on the Base flight line. A full parade and pass-in-review has been scheduled in honor of the general's visit. The 529th Air Force band from Lowry AFB, Colo., will play during the ceremonies.

The Outstanding Unit Award is determined from nominations made by each Air Force Command to the Secretary of the Air Force.

The award for Webb covers the period from Jan. 1, 1966 to Dec. 31, 1967, and is awarded to the 3560th Pilot Training Wing for "distinguishing itself by exceptionally meritorious service."

During that period, the Webb wing increased pilot training production with no appreciable increase in resources. It unquestionably surpassed similar units in the Air Force during the same period.

Webb units cited for outstanding results during this period are: the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, the 3561st Student Squadron, the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron and the 3560th Organizational Maintenance Squadron.

Also the 3560th Supply Squadron, the 3560th USAF Hospital and the 3560th Air Base Group were commended.

The wing, during this period, was under the command of Brig. Gen. Chester J. Butcher. All permanent party personnel who were stationed at Webb at any time during the 1966-1967 period will be authorized to wear an outstanding unit ribbon on their uniforms.

Gen. Maddux will be accompanied to the base by Maj. Gen. Eugene L. Eubank (Ret.) and his aide, Maj. G. D. Aldredge.

RECEPTION

A reception at the Webb Officers' Open Mess will follow the parade. Many officers and civilians have been invited.

This will be the general's third visit to Webb. He first visited the base when he became ATC commander in July, 1966. He came again for Webb's 25th anniversary last September.

A New Militancy Is Springing Up In Southwest

By ROBERT BERRELEZ SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Not too long ago, some Texas restaurants put up signs that read: "No dogs or Mexicans allowed."

fore the first Pilgrims reached Plymouth Rock. PRESSURE Striving for the kind of unity that will provide the most effective political pressures at state and national levels, they are demanding first of all an end to what they feel are discriminatory practices in classrooms and jobs. They regard these as the main causes of backwardness among Americans of Spanish surnames. Some specific needs cited: Bilingual education in the primary grades to help Spanish-speaking children who are being forced to compete in English with Anglo-Americans. Texas Sen. Ralph Yarborough once described this as "the cruelest form of discrimination."

more emphasis on academic rather than vocational training for Mexican-Americans. "The Anglos want to make us a race of garage mechanics and carpenters," says an El Paso college student.

There are recognizable less lofty motives behind some of the new militants: the anarchic schemes of the embittered "Anglo-hating" racial zealots, and the political and economic opportunism of the more articulate, better-connected "instant

Mexican," a term applied to the late-blooming civil rightist who steered clear of the movement until federal and private funds in substantial amounts were made available. Demagogues are also present. No evidence has been turned up in support of a nationally circulated claim that 100,000 people were starving in the San Antonio area. Grim in the articulation of its objectives, the new militancy sparkles, nonetheless, with a colorful protest style and language all its own, a mixture of border Spanish and accented English. In East Los Angeles, young "Brown Berets" speak seriously of "Chicano Power." "Chicano" is verbal shorthand for "Mexicano." Ultraconservatives in the movement are tagged "To Tomas" for Uncle Tom. Some leaders despair of ever achieving national unity because of the diversity of issues confronting the various groups regionally. The availability of substantial federal and private funds has encouraged a real effort at unity, but many feel this may be the source of serious discord among groups with different views on militancy. Mexican-American and Negro militants also have quarreled over their share of the poverty program plan.

Johnson Says New Steel Prices Reduce Inflation

PITTSBURGH (AP)—After steel price increases settled at more moderate levels Wednesday, President Johnson said the new prices are "a substantial improvement from the general inflationary threat." Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, said the new price levels "significantly reduced the threat of a large and general inflation in steel prices. Compared to the threat last week, American consumers have been saved a half billion dollars inflation."

U.S. Steel, the nation's top producer, made the key move Wednesday by announcing price hikes more modest than those posted earlier by other big firms. Within hours, Bethlehem, Republic, Armco and Inland said their earlier boosts of virtually all products would be pared down to match U.S. Steel's selective increases. If applied throughout the industry, the increases would mean an average hike of about 2.5 per cent of $4.30 a ton on 60 per cent of the industry's shipments.

A Devotional For The Day

So built we the wall; . . . for the people had a mind to work. (Nehemiah 4:6)
 PRAYER: God of our Fathers, grant that we may have the vision and the courage to build sturdy walls of defense against the forces of evil that surround us today. In Christ's blessed name. Amen.

Setback For SST Program

Maj. Gen. Jewell C. Maxwell, who directs the Federal Aviation Administration's supersonic transport program, described it again recently as "still a high risk program."
 Maxwell's reference was to the danger that, after years of developmental work costing an astronomical sum of tax money, the SST may prove to be unacceptable and unprofitable. More explicitly, the fear is that the public may not take kindly to the SST because of its enormous airport noise and sonic boom, and that, in consequence, too few of the planes will be purchased to get back a profit.
 Early estimates were that some 1,800 of the supersonic transports, sold in competition with the Anglo-French Concorde and perhaps a Soviet version, would find buyers by 1980. But recently, as Maxwell notes, all decisions have been made "on the assumption that the current SST design will be restricted to over-ocean operations." This reduces the market estimate to 500 aircraft by 1980, cutting

Draft Of A New Constitution

Nearly a year after it held its first session, a special commission on the revision of the Texas constitution will vote late this month on the full text of a proposed new document of state governmental guidance.
 If it were to get approval of the commission, the proposed new constitution would have to be also approved by the Legislature, and then it would go to the people for a statewide vote.
 So the course ahead is still long and difficult. It is probable that members of the Commission themselves will not agree on all facts, since some sections have not been completed. The feeling generally is that the Legislature will be reluctant to take action, and even if it did the proposal would take a great deal of "selling" in order to carry at the polls.
 Many veteran legislators are posed to an outright new constitution, and Preston Smith, who presumably will be the next governor, is very lukewarm to it.

 The entire document is, of course, a complex one, and it will, in many areas, depart sharply from the past. There are major changes in sections dealing with the executive and judicial branches and with local government. There is not space here to detail these, but in due time the press will give the full report on what the new constitution intends to achieve. For one thing, it is deleting over 100 sections from the present 50,000 word constitution and is streamlining many others.
 No citizen honestly can say at this date if all sections of the new constitution would be acceptable, but Texas needs a more modern charter than it has. There had to be a start, and the study nearing completion was the starting place.

ANOTHER SHOT AT THE FUTURE

John Cunniff
 Boom Muffles Inflation Noise

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing is more certain to cause normally calm men to lose their breath, their rationality and control of their blood pressure than the subject of inflation or, as some say, the debasement of currency.
 The $5,000-a-year man of 1939 isn't nearly three times as badly off today, even though he must earn $14,282. The fact is, he is earning it—and more. He's much better off.
 In addition, all that extra money isn't going into the filling of basic needs. A lot more of it is going to pay for what the man of 1939 couldn't aspire to: more education, better health care, pensions, a second car, television, hi-fi.
 Still the figures do look puzzling, and so First National City was queried. And from there it was determined that the statistics are, at best, the only figures available of a rather bad lot.
 For one thing, the statistics on cost of living in industrial countries and less well developed nations are hardly comparable at all. The figure for Saudi Arabia, in fact, looked too good to be true. First National City tossed it out.
 It seems that the most accurate statistics generally are maintained by the industrial nations. In some small countries, for example, cost of living indexes are really based on surveys made years ago and not updated for changes in living habits. They could have more inflation than they admit.

Hal Boyle
 Man's Unachieved Daydreams

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't what a man gets or does that makes him happy—it's what he dreams of getting or doing.
 When a man runs out of goals in this world he usually runs out of breath shortly thereafter. Rust clogs him, ennui mows him down.
 NO MATTER how fruitless, inappropriate or downright foolish a dream may be, so long as it attracts that person's interest it keeps him alive. Most daydreams, in fact, are mock heroic. In his heart of hearts the most run-bound man is always galloping off with the Three Musketeers on missions of danger and adventure.
 For example, I find in making a rollick of my own frustrated daydreams, I have yet to—Stun a bully with a karate chop.
 PLAY "KNEESY under the table" with Kim Novak.
 Bulldoze a steer or ride a bucking horse in a rodeo.
 Buy a kitchen sink garbage grinder.
 Belly up to the bar in the Ritz Hotel in Paris and ask the bartender whom he really liked better—F. Scott Fitzgerald or Ernest Hemingway.
 Eat a pickled eel or a tiger steak.
 Defeat Charles de Gaulle in a game of Indian hand wrestling.
 Cry "mush!" to a dog sled team as a pack of arctic wolves closed in silently from behind.
 Get a royal flush in a poker game when there was more than 68 cents in the pot.
 Lead an elephant into a subway car during the morning rush hour—and then sit down in its lap.
 DEFEAT A DESERT sheik in a horse race across the burning sands of Arabia.
 Save a wealthy banker's daughter from drowning by crawling across thin ice to the rescue.
 Have my life changed for the better by following the advice given in a Chinese fortune cookie.
 Beat a bongo drum in the Congo.
 HAND A STACK of chips to a mysterious blonde standing next to me at a roulette table at Monte Carlo and tell her, "Play any number you want, baby—there's lots more where that came from."
 Pack up my troubles in my old kit bag, and smile, smile, smile.
 Burn a joss stick in a ruined Chinese temple.
 Wear a figleaf and a monocle to a dull P.T.A. meeting.
 Well, that's a partial list of one man's unachieved daydreams. What are yours?

 Those Little Black Specks In The Eyes

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: For the past month or so I have been seeing little floating black spots and am wondering if you can tell me the cause of this and the cure. — M.H.
 A sudden rash of letters like this one is evidence that I haven't discussed these black spots or "floaters" for quite some months. So rather than having readers worry that something terrible is happening to them when these spots appear, let's discuss the matter.
 In most cases, these floaters or specks that seem to drift around in the eyes don't mean anything except that you most likely are middle-aged or thereabouts.
 Technically they are called "vitreous floaters," but in plain language, they are little particles in the thick fluid which is contained in the eyeball.
 They don't do any harm other than being a nuisance — if you let them. Rarely do they really interfere with your ability to see or read. They are too small.
 Doing fine work, you may be

Example Of Civic Cleanup

There may be some weeds along the thoroughfares of Corpus Christi somewhere, but we did not see them here. But again, I saw no instances where trees were allowed to block line-of-sight at traffic intersections or to hide stop signs. In our city, many of our few trees pose some of our most serious traffic hazards, such as at Settles and Fifteenth.
 Doubtless, the city has many problems of which we were not aware, but weed-grown lots — at least along many of the major streets — are not seen. I saw no instance where the curbsides were overgrown, such as we often have in our downtown area.
 THERE ARE far more trees, of course, in that city than we have here. But again, I saw no instances where trees were allowed to block line-of-sight at traffic intersections or to hide stop signs. In our city, many of our few trees pose some of our most serious traffic hazards, such as at Settles and Fifteenth.
 Considering the amount of transient traffic, Corpus Christi is a remarkably clean city. The shoreline in the downtown area was spick and span, with a pleasant and well-kept parkland. Even the water was devoid of the trash and debris so obvious along the ocean front at Port Aransas.
 WE FOUND the motel and service station people to be far friendlier than those at Galveston, where the grasping hand is more familiar than the

Convention Report
 GOP Platform Covers Issues Broadly

By EDMOND LEBRETON
 Associated Press Writer
 MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The platform the Republican National Convention adopted puts the GOP on record for a flexible policy to meet the issues of war, poverty, riots and crime — problems of main concern to today's voters.
 It is this attitude, rather than stern insistence on party principles, that contrasts sharply with the document tailored to Barry Goldwater's uncompromising — and unsuccessful — campaign four years ago.
 THE 1968 statement endorses negotiations to end the Vietnam war, while looking to a progressive takeover of the fighting by South Vietnamese forces. In 1964, the party promised to "move decisively to assure victory."
 On poverty and urban problems, the current statement calls for a substantial role for private industry. But it does not blink at proposals for substantial use of federal funds.
 It proudly claims credit for Republicans in the development of such programs as a federal interest subsidy to help the poor buy homes and federal backing of efforts to develop ghetto-owned businesses.
 "WE WILL NOT tolerate violence" in the cities, the 1968 platform says, and it calls for a vigorous drive under new leadership against organized crime. But it also promises "measures to alleviate and remove the frustrations that contribute to riots" and "a relentless attack on economic and social injustice."
 In 1964 riots and crime were not a comparable issue and the platform

 Convention Revives Cuban Issue

MIAMI BEACH — Nobody planned it that way, but the choice of this GOP convention site has raised the Cuban issue from the dead.
 Your hotel waiter is likely to be a broken-English refugee. Your conversationalist at a fashionable cocktail party may very well be a fluently bilingual physician, economist or merchant who has fled Castroland. He may be an apostate American businessman who left his all in Havana. The result has been to make the convention unexpectedly Cuba-conscious . . . and jostle American memories and conscience and concerns which haven't been politically disturbed for several years.
 IT IS no wonder. There are 30,000 Cubans in Florida and 500,000 Cubans in the United States, many of them registered voters. A Nixon-for-President group of Cubans welcomed his arrival at the Hilton Plaza. Their leaders offered to raise a $10 million campaign purse for the former vice president. They have an eager, pathetic confidence that Nixon somehow will turn out to be the liberator of their homeland.
 There are other powerful, sometimes subconscious Cuba-reminders.

Billy Graham

Do you believe it is possible for Christians to live by the high standards set by Christ? W.K.
 One thing is sure, God never asks us to do anything that He will not give us the strength to perform. So often our trouble is that we try to live like Christians in our own wisdom and strength. This is no more possible than it is for you to lift yourself up by your bootstraps. But, when we become Christians, Christ comes into our hearts and gives us something we can never get in any other way. We fall when we forget to ask Him to help us, we can live on the high standard He has given us because He lives in us. Suppose you tried to walk a dark and lonely road at night. You would much prefer to have a friend, particularly one who knows the road, to go along and lead you by the hand. You have exactly that privilege as a Christian, and the one who walks with you is the Lord of glory Himself. Every morning, commit the day to Him: ask His help and His guidance. Put yourself in the way of His teaching by prayerfully reading your Bible before you start the day. Turn everything over to Him. If you will do this, you will find life completely and gloriously changed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Recently E. R. Waltham brought home $200 cash and hid it in the pocket of an old topcoat.
 A few days later, his wife donated the coat to a charitable organization, a fact that Waltham didn't discover until several days later.
 He rushed down to the organization's headquarters, explained his plight, and with the help of workers began rummaging through 22 crates of used clothing. Waltham found his coat, and the cash, in the second crate.

A LOVELIER YOU

Try Exercise For Sway-Back Stance

By MARY SUE MILLER
Do your skirts forever dip in back and hike up in front? If so, the chances are the trouble lies in a posture flaw known as sway-back.

Any postural fault is a menace to one's health and appearance, but sway-back is a triple threat. The figure leans back — off balance — like a tree in a high wind. As a result the back curves inward, a position that puts a strain on the spine and eventually leads to a sagging chest, puffy stomach and drooping derriere.

Slender teen girls are most prone to sway-back, owing to muscular weakness and poor postural habits. But women of all types and ages suffer the condition. It worsens, of course, with age, if not corrected.

A long look at your profile in a mirror will tell you if you are a sway-back. The first step to correction is a small adjustment in your stance. Simply teach yourself to carry your weight forward on the balls of your feet. If you did not now jam your weight on your heels, you would not teeter backward. Nor would your hemline.

The next move is to strengthen your back muscles. This routine does it: On floor, back down, raise knees until feet lie flat. Without letting feet leave floor, pull up to sitting position. At first you may need to brace your feet under a low chair. Work up from three to 15 repeats.

TIPS FOR TEENS
Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural make-up for young adults — ages 13 to 19 — are detailed in my booklet, "Model Tips For Teens." Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use make-up to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model make-up tricks. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Traveling Texans Take To 'Packable' Cookout Grills

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD
Summer time is cookout time, and it's especially enjoyable in Texas, where you have such a wide choice of picnic areas — at the beach, on a ranch, at the park, or in your own backyard.

For the small fry wieners or hamburgers are just as welcome as porterhouse steak, provided they are cooked over an open fire and there are plenty of them. For mother the big plus is that the men of her family, large and small, usually take over the cooking of the outdoor meal. This leaves her with only a dozen or so chores, ranging from estimating and providing the food to the clean up afterwards — but at least it's a change.

EQUIPMENT
This season's cookout equipment shows quite a change from the past. It's more compact and practically all of it is designed so that it can be folded for easy transportation. The Oriental braziers seem to be influencing barbecue equipment, for American table model versions of these are showing up.

The portable grills are made with short legs, around seven inches or so for setting on a table or some other stand for cooking, or with full length legs which raise the grill to a convenient cooking height. A convenience well worth while are wings that open up on each side of the grill to provide working space.

In some of these grills, the metal grill itself is adjustable. This is another convenience, for you can adjust the height to the condition of the coals and the kind of meat you are cooking.

The less expensive barbecue grills are simple affairs that include a container for coals with a grill over. Usually the firebox and legs are finished with paint that lasts about one season. The grill is generally lightly plated. The entire grill should be cleaned thoroughly and oiled or repainted before being put away at the end of the season.

These grills use charcoal or briquets, a manufactured solid fuel about the size of charcoal. Smoke chips can be bought if you wish to impart the flavor of wood smoke to the meat.

DELUXE MODELS
Patio and terrace dining has brought about the manufacture of elegant barbecue grills running into real money. These usually are gas-fired, and may be stationary or rollabout. The stationary grills are served directly by a gas line, the rollabouts are served with gas hose that is connected to a gas outlet. Some of the grills are made of cast aluminum, and all of them have electric spits and adjustable working space. These more expensive grills are in large capacity designed to provide for a sizable crowd.

While selecting your brazier or grill, be on the lookout for barbecue tools, such as long handle forks, spatulas, turners, knives, and a cutting board for carving meats. The barbecue cook will appreciate an apron and asbestos mittens. Another convenience is one of several types of fire lighters. This is important because coals must be far advanced in order to provide the best heat for cooking meat. Consider how many persons you usually serve on your cookouts, then buy accordingly. You can find the capacity and type that you want, and most of them are reasonably priced.

Mets And Astros Mix It Up

Players and coaches of the New York Mets and the Houston Astros mix it up in a short rhabarb in the fourth inning of Wednesday night's game at Houston. The extra action came after Astros' third baseman Doug Rader went into third with a hard slide and during the slide connected with Met's third baseman Kevin Collins' jaw. Collins was taken from the field on a stretcher, but later reports said it was believed that he was not hurt bad.

Stone Passes Big Test At Atlanta

Young George Stone, two days away from his 22nd birthday, just might have nailed down a permanent job at Atlanta, which is a lot closer to his home town of Ruston, La., than, say, Montreal or San Diego. "He looked real good to me," Atlanta manager Luman Harris said after the rookie lefty pitched and batted the Braves to a 10-2 victory over Chicago Wednesday night. "We've got to give him another look or two before deciding on whether to protect him in the draft or not." Stone, making only his second start of the season, drove in three runs, limited Chicago to six hits, struck out five and walked only one. "I'd say he passed with flying colors," Harris said. The league leading St. Louis Cardinals whipped Cincinnati 3-1, Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 in a late night game, San Francisco nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in a day game and Houston fought off the New York Mets in a game marred by a brawl. Stone had trouble only with Jim Hickman and Ernie Banks, who hit solo home runs for the Cubs. And it was his single up the middle with the bases loaded that drove in two runs and broke Ken Holtzman's scoreless inning string at 28. He also singled in a run in the Braves' clinching, five-run seventh inning. "He's a young man with a good future," Harris said. "We'll have to see some more of him," as reference to the expansion draft to stock the two new teams in Montreal and San Diego. Ron Fairly and Bob Bailey each drove in two runs and Don Sutton scattered eight hits in Los Angeles' victory over Pittsburgh. Sutton had a five-hitter going into the ninth, when he weakened and finished with an eight-hitter. Donn Clendenon had a homer for the Pirates. The league leading Cardinals, delayed in starting one hour and only 1:56 in whipping Cincinnati. It put them 14 games ahead of the pack and dropped Cincy from second to fourth. Tim McCarver singled in a Cardinal run in the first and they made it 3-0 in the fifth on doubles by Bobby Toland and Orlando Cepeda and a single by Phil Gagliano. Pete Rose homered for the losers.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Ex-Big Spring mentor Don Fuqua, who reasons he'll be ready to face almost any emergency as head defensive coach at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo this fall after having ridden out Hurricane Beulah, says football in District 26-AAAA has a way to go before it can compare with that seen in 3-AAAA. Fuqua works strictly with the defense at the Texas Valley school. There are more Latin-Americans than Anglos in the school system but only one Negro enrolled. The Latin players usually aren't as raw-boned and big as the West Texas farm boys and never become the head-hunters that players in this area do. Fuqua departed the ranks of bachelorhood shortly after leaving the Big Spring school system. He heads Pharr's off-season program for head coach Charley Williams and, for that reason, doesn't coach any other sport. Don looks for Harlingen and Edinburg to carry the biggest cudgels in 26-AAAA but adds that McAllen will be salty. McAllen is coached by two former West Texans, Hank Watkins and Chop Van Pelt.

The question before the house is: How many pros who finished in the money in the recent Odessa Pro-Am split their winnings with their amateur partners? Quite probably, most of them did.

Hayden Fry's lack of football successes at SMU has been well publicized but did you know that over the last four seasons Rice University has won fewer Southwestern Conference games than any other school? The Owls have notched only seven wins in that stretch, three less than seventh-place Baylor.

Freddy Stuart, the former HCJC sprinter who is now football coach at Roby High School, looks for Wilson to pack the punch in Roby's new district, 6-B. Sands is in the same district with both schools and visits Wilson Nov. 15.

Roy Weaks of Stamford, manager of the Abilene A's, says his current team is the best softball club with which he has ever been associated. The A's won 65 of their first 75 starts this season and will be one of the favored teams in the upcoming ASA State meet at Brownwood.

One of the reasons for the improvement in the A's fortunes has come through the addition to the roster of Billy Paul Thomas of Big Spring. Thomas, who can play anywhere in the lineup, was named the most valuable player in tournaments at Wichita Falls and Odessa and was included on all-tournament teams at Lamesa and Lackland AFB in San Antonio.

Another Big Spring resident, Jimmy Roger, drove home 15 runs in nine games in the Odessa meet for Abilene.

A fully-integrated football team is San Diego of the AFL. Coach Sid Gillman rooms blacks and whites together and when two Negroes requested that they be allowed to share a room they were turned down.

A scribe close to the scene, when asked about Lubbock Monterey's football potential, said the Plainsmen will be big but didn't impress him very much.

Big Spring opens the season with Monterey in Lubbock the night of Sept. 14.

Pros To Stay In Harness This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — There won't be any revolt of tournament pros against the parent Professional Golfers Association, not this year at least. "There will be no boycott," said Sam Gates, who represents the touring pros. "We are going to play straight through." Gates, a New York lawyer, made his statement Wednesday night in Akron, Ohio, after a closed meeting with more than 100 golfers in Akron to compete in the American Golf Classic.

Before the meeting Gardner Dickinson, chairman of the four-man Players Tournament Committee, had termed the situation "grave." The players reportedly are seeking the right to run the $5.6 million tour without interference from the PGA.

"We want to resolve this thing within the framework of the PGA constitution," Gates said.

He planned to meet in New York sometime today with Bill Rogers, the PGA counsel. No time was set, however, and the meeting may be put off for a day or two.

"I haven't anything I can say in the way of a concrete program in the future until I talk to Rogers," Gates said. "We have to have some amendments to the constitution."

The latest threat of a break between the touring pros and the PGA developed Tuesday after an 11-hour meeting between player representatives and the PGA Tournament Committee.

Gates said an impasse developed when the players and the PGA committee deadlocked 4-4 on a resolution by the pros urging a separate sectional play for the touring players.

A counterproposal by the PGA committee was not acceptable to the players, Gates said. Neither Gates nor Dickinson would disclose the nature of the PGA counter proposal.

Leo Fraser of Atlantic City, N.J., secretary of the PGA and slated to succeed Max Elbin of Washington, D.C., as the next PGA president, declared "I don't know what the players want. We can't go any farther than we have. We cannot give the tour away."

Gates said he has recommended that the players consider selection of a commissioner to run their affairs and have complete control of the tour. The PGA has rejected this idea.

Three Named At Andrews

ANDREWS — Three coaches were hired at Andrews High School here Wednesday, replacing the three members who resigned this summer.

Gene Hargrove, a former assistant at Amarillo Caprock, was named to work with Andrews' varsity football program as an offensive line and defensive tackle coach.

Don Edwards, former basketball coach at Iraan, was picked to assist Edd Farmer in the basketball program and work with the B-team football squad.

And Frank Bice, a Sul Ross College spring graduate and former Seminole resident, was hired to help in the basketball program and also take over B-team baseball duties.

The three who left this summer were Neil Laminack, head cage mentor, Jeff Cody, assistant football coach, and Dick Nash, B-team football and baseball coach.

Farmer, who had been a basketball assistant, was moved up to the head cage spot as Laminack retired after 20 years of service, which included 16 district titles, three trips to the state basketball tournament in Austin and one state title.

Cody went to Boswell as head basketball coach, and Nash moved to Alpine, to take over a principal job in Alpine's Centennial School.

Spears Quits Midland Post

MIDLAND — Jay Spears, head basketball coach of the Midland High School Bulldogs the last five years, has resigned to accept a position with a Dallas stock brokerage firm.

The announcement was made Wednesday by Thurmon L. (Tugboat) Jones, Midland Public Schools athletic director. Jones also announced that James Cagle, Bulldog B-team coach last year, would take over Spears' duties as head coach and that Willie Jones,

Young Turks Blast Big League Hurling

By The Associated Press

Joe Keough and Dave Campbell obviously haven't been around long enough to adjust to 1968's Great Hit Famine.

Keough of Oakland and Campbell of Detroit had a total of six major league at bats between them before Wednesday—all of them belonging to the Tiger infielder.

Today they both have their home runs and Keough, fourth member of Oakland's Arizona State Alumni Association, also has a small spot in baseball's record book.

Keough, called up from the minor leagues earlier this week, became the 37th player to hit a homer in his first big league at bat—the 10th one to do it as a pinch hitter—and helped Oakland defeat the New York Yankees 4-3 in the second game of a Wednesday doubleheader. New York took the opener 3-0.

Campbell, playing in his sixth game, and first as a starter for the Tigers, tagged his first major league hit—a homer naturally—as Detroit defeated Cleveland 6-1.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Boston clipped Chicago 3-2, California dropped Washington 4-2 and Baltimore swept a doubleheader from Minnesota 3-0 and 9-4. Detroit also completed a 5-2 victory over Cleveland in a game suspended after eight innings Tuesday night.

Keough, like teammates Rick Monday, Sal Bando and Reggie Jackson, came to the A's off the Arizona State campus, and was batting .303 at Birmingham of the Southern League when Oakland sold Floyd Robinson to Boston last week and Keough came up.

He got his first major league swing in the eighth inning of the second game with Oakland trailing 3-2 and tagged a Lindy Mc-

Daniel pitch into Yankee Stadium's right field seats. That tied the score and two innings later, Jackson, not to be outdone by his old school chum, singled Oakland's winning run home.

MEL WINS AGAIN

In the rain-delayed opener, Mel Stottlemyre won his 15th on a six-hitter with Joe Pepitone's two-run homer providing all the offense he needed.

Campbell's first homer was somewhat less dramatic than Keough's. It came in the eighth inning with the Tigers already enjoying a 4-1 edge.

Detroit packed three runs in the first inning—two of them on Bill Freehan's double. Earl Wilson, with late-inning help from Daryl Patterson, won his 10th and Willie Horton clubbed his 27th home run.

Reliever John Wyatt retired the Indians in the ninth inning of the suspended game to nail down the 5-2 victory.

Ken Harrelson whacked his 29th homer—a two-run shot that led Boston past Chicago. The blow keyed a three-run first inning for the Red Sox and gave Dick Ellisworth enough working room for his 11th victory.

Harrelson, taking dead aim at the Triple Crown, now leads the American League in batting with a .297 mark, in runs batted in with 93 and is second only to Washington's Frank Howard in homers.

Howard smashed his 32nd but it couldn't prevent California from taking Washington. Chuck Hinton, an ex-Senator, did most of the damage, doubling and scoring in the fifth inning and then singling the tie-breaking run home in the seventh after twice failing to sacrifice.

Jim Hardin's six-hitter shut out Minnesota in the first game of Baltimore's doubleheader against the Twins with homers by Curt Blefary and Frank Robinson providing the muscle.

In the nightcap, the Orioles just outlasted the Twins with Robinson coming off the bench to touch off a pair of three-run Baltimore rallies.

Landry Ending 2-A-Day Drills

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboy players breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday. Coach Tom Landry announced that the two-day workouts are over.

The Cowboys will now start tapering off in preparation for their pre-season game Sunday with the San Francisco 49ers.

However, two players will not be suiting up for the game. Center Dave Manders is still recovering from a foot infection and guard Leon Donohue has not recovered fully from an off-season knee operation.

LAST MILESTONE IN PRIMARY MARCH

Nixon Figures Oregon Won It

RICHARD NIXON

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — For Richard Nixon, the Republican nomination was won on a mild night in May 10 weeks ago. From that night on—the last milestone in his triumphant march through the major Republican primaries—Nixon says he considered victory virtually inevitable.

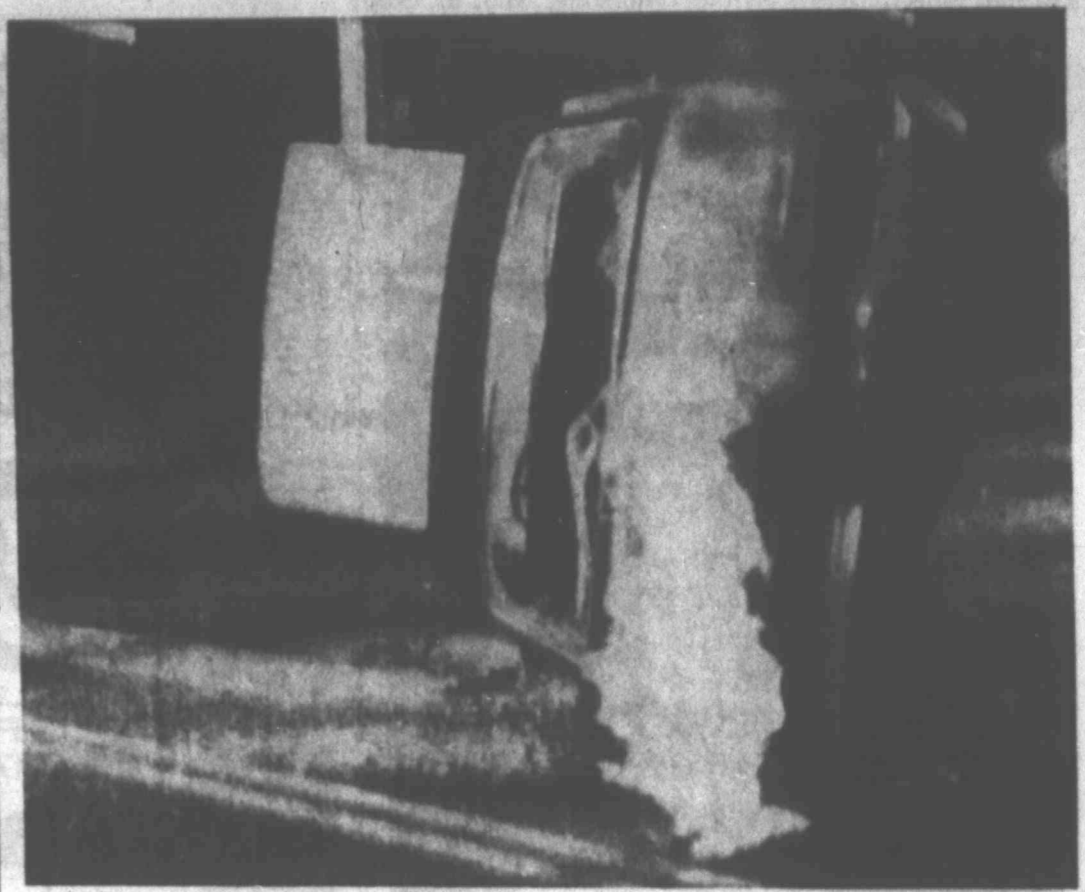

"I actually believed the nomination was won the night of the Oregon primary. From then on it was just a matter of not making mistakes," Nixon told a news conference early today. The May 28 sweep in Oregon came at the end of a trail that began in the snows of New Hampshire and wound westward through Wisconsin, Indiana and Nebraska. When the climactic moment came at the Republican convention in sun-burnt Miami Beach, it was the votes he had won in wintery Wisconsin that put him over the top.

"It wasn't locked up," he insisted. "It was not, because we could have lost it. On the other hand, we had it won in Oregon. And all we had to do was to maintain our position." Nixon won with almost no opposition. Michigan Gov. George Romney, trailing badly in even his own polls, dropped out before the New Hampshire showdown. Quadrennial runner-up Nelson A. Rockefeller swore he wasn't a candidate and took his name off the ballot in the Wisconsin, Oregon and Nebraska primaries. California Gov. Ronald Reagan stayed in but eschewed any active campaign and ran well behind everywhere.

Negroes Go On Rampage

An automobile which a group of young Negroes tipped over flames late yesterday in the northwest section of Miami where at least 10 persons were hurt and 40 arrested in an outbreak of rock throwing, looting and burning. Picture was taken from film shot by Bob Reid of station WTVJ, Miami.

Bands Of Negroes Loot Miami Stores

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bands of young Negroes set fire to cars, stoned white motorists and looted stores in a five-block area of northwest Miami Wednesday night in a disturbance touched off when police massed at a rally aimed at airing problems facing Negroes.

Some 25 persons were injured, including two Negroes who police said were shot by unknown gunmen. About 100 Negroes were arrested, mostly on charges of disorderly conduct leading to rioting. Trouble broke out in the predominantly Negro area about 6:30 p.m., several hours before Republican delegates 10 miles away across Biscayne Bay on Miami Beach nominated Richard M. Nixon as their presidential candidate.

MIAMI POLICE Lt. Jay Golden said both of the men who were shot were in good condition. He said: "The police have not fired one bullet."

Clarence Curry, 25, was wounded as he was being questioned in a looting case. Golden said two shots rang out in the darkness but no gunman was seen. The other shooting victim, Cephus Griffen, was hit by a stray bullet as he walked along a sidewalk, police said.

Barry Brags About Bundle

As the Republican National Convention roll call began, Richard M. Nixon spread a tally sheet across a battered brown briefcase resting in his lap.

He jotted down each state delegation's vote as it was broadcast over the color television set in the circular penthouse sitting room, an aide said later.

The list of states yet to be called grew shorter and Nixon's vote total grew larger.

Then, in Convention Hall three miles away, Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles stepped to a floor microphone and, shouting above the exploding din, cast the votes that made Nixon the Republican presidential nominee.

"Knowles did it," the 55-year-old former vice president said as he turned in his swivel chair to smile at his wife, two daughters, future son-in-law and eight aides who had joined him in the 18th-floor hotel suite.

But the night of victory was not without tension.

One of the first to arrive at his headquarters was Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP nominee. Stepping off an elevator, Goldwater said the convention vote went as expected.

"I hit it right on the nose, and I made a bundle," Goldwater said. "I'm going to teach those guys not to bet me."

Key Texas Republicans Cheering Nixon Victory

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Texas Republicans backed Richard Nixon over Ronald Reagan early today with a 41-15 split decision certain to carry the national convention controversy into party affairs back home.

Nixon's supporters among the 56 delegates were jubilant, not only for the Nixon victory but for the opportunity it might offer Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., to be the vice presidential nominee.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., said Tower was among 12 strong vice presidential possibilities being considered by Nixon's advisers.

Reagan backers claimed Tower and state GOP chairman Peter O'Donnell thwarted their efforts to present Reagan's abilities adequately in a delegation caucus.

Most of Reagan's delegates came from West Texas and the Houston-Beaumont areas, GOP strongholds vitally needed if Nixon is to carry Texas in November. A Nixon loss would give the Reaganites a chance to say: "We told you so," and likely would bring on an effort to overthrow present party machinery.

Winston Wrinkle, Big Spring delegate to the convention, cast his vote for Nixon. Frank Cahoon, Midland, and Terry Condrey, Lubbock, Dr. Clyde Morgan, Abilene, were in the Reagan column. Others voting for Nixon were Sen. John Tower, Paul Eggers, Rep. George Bush, Rudy Juedeman, Odessa.

Tower said there was no need for a final caucus. Since coming to Miami Beach he had predicted the vote would be "about 40-16".

After Nixon had the required majority and other states began switching votes to him, Texas cast a revised vote total of 54 for Nixon and two for Reagan. Voting for Reagan to the last were Mrs. Dale Hager and Dr. Charles Walker, both of Beaumont.

Texas delegates made their decision after hearing personal appeals from Nixon and Reagan and from Nelson A. Rockefeller's brother, David. They even got a visit from Harold Stassen.

O'Donnell called a caucus for Wednesday morning, saying Nixon and Reagan would be discussed at length behind closed doors and a preliminary poll of delegates taken. The caucus was postponed until afternoon and then canceled in favor of a caucus at the convention hall.

"We never really got a chance to speak our piece," protested

Jack Cox, Austin delegate and former GOP candidate for governor.

Cox had acted as peacemaker at the June 11 state convention when some influential party leaders wanted the national convention delegates left free to vote for Reagan. The state convention went along with Tower's favorite son candidacy, which he abandoned July 1 to support Nixon.

Cox was joined in his protests by Rep. Bob Price of Pampa, and State Rep. Frank Cahoon of Midland and others.

Several delegates took the Texas standard and joined in the Reagan demonstration.

During the seven hours of nominating and seconding speeches, Reagan invited Texas delegates to visit his house trailer headquarters outside convention hall. Several accepted.

Two Texans made seconding speeches for losing candidates.

Price was one of several speakers making seconding speeches for Reagan. Mrs. Ike S. Kampmann, Jr., of San Antonio, former national committeewoman and an alternate delegate to the convention, made a seconding speech for Rockefeller.

Mrs. Kampmann was hostess at a reception for the New York governor in a recent San Antonio visit.

In the business session prior to the nominations, Albert Fay of Houston and Mrs. Tobin Armstrong of Armstrong were reapointed to the national GOP committee from Texas.

Press Survey Pretty Close

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — In winning the Republican presidential nomination, Richard M. Nixon's first ballot total before changes was only eight votes higher than the result indicated in The Associated Press survey.

The AP poll, kept updated to the last moment by checks with key delegations, indicated Nixon would get 684 votes, and he wound up with 692.

Three delegates voted for Nixon who were listed as uncommitted although they indicated they would probably vote for him if he looked like a first-ballot winner when their states were reached. And two Wyoming delegates switched to Nixon at the last moment after the previous state, Wisconsin, put him over the top.

Nixon picked up a handful of votes here and there to offset the fact that Hawaii stayed with its favorite son, Sen. Hiram L. Fong, throughout the ballot.

About the only state that failed to follow expectations was New Jersey where Nixon captured 18 of the 40 votes with the remainder going to favorite son Sen. Clifford P. Case.

Nixon's aides had told the New Jersey delegates that he would have 384 votes by the time their state was reached, and that this would point to a first-ballot nomination. Some delegates said that if this were true, they would vote for Nixon rather than Case.

When the count reached New Jersey, Nixon's total stood at exactly 384—and a poll of the delegation revealed that some seven delegates had switched from Case to join the Nixon bandwagon.

The small switches to Nixon left the totals for Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan slightly lower than the poll indicated. Rockefeller received 277 and Reagan 182, compared with expected votes of 282 and 188.

The Battle Is Over

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller gives a final wave to his supporters as he and his wife Happy leave a news conference where he promised to support Richard M. Nixon, who defeated him for the Republican presidential nomination early today.

Rocky Promises To Support Nixon On Campaign Trail

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller promised today to support Richard M. Nixon on the campaign trail this fall.

But he shunned any suggestion he might team with him as a running mate and said, "Are you talking about a spot on the ticket? Don't spend the time."

Rockefeller, now 60, met his third straight defeat in his pursuit of the presidency with his chin up at a pre-dawn news conference.

"I said I would support whoever was the nominee of the convention," he said. "You don't support somebody unless you campaign for him."

In November," Rockefeller said.

It was the second time Rockefeller watched as Nixon won the prize he had sought. In 1960 Rockefeller stopped short when he saw a convention showdown would be futile. In 1964 the New Yorker refused to campaign for Barry M. Goldwater, who whipped him in the California primary and swept a convention that booed Rockefeller when he spoke.

But Rockefeller said he felt his three campaigns, his 10 years as governor of New York had left its mark of moderation on the party, particularly its platform this year. He pronounced the future of the Republican party as bright.

SLIPPAGE

Rockefeller had pinned his strategy to stopping Nixon 100 votes short of victory on the first roll call then going on to win over Nixon and California Gov. Ronald Reagan on the fourth or fifth roll call. "It looks like I didn't count properly," he said.

"I think there was slippage during the course of the evening," he said. "I ran about 75 votes short of what I thought I was going to get. Mr. Reagan ran about 100 votes short of what I hoped he was going to get. And that was the ball game."

Rockefeller added, "I think this convention genuinely preferred Dick Nixon and the same was true for the leadership of the party. It's as simple as that."

Would Rockefeller run again? He remembered he said he wouldn't in 1964 and smiled, "I've stopped making predictions."

Rockefeller's backers were bleak. An aide, Joseph Boyd, said, "You work hard to win, and when you don't, it's rough." Press secretary Leslie Sloat said he had no idea what the governor's schedule would be today. "We hadn't planned on this," he said.

LOSER LABELS STRATEGY CORRECT

Reagan's Last-Minute Try

(AP WIREPHOTO)

One Last Hurrah

Volunteer workers for Gov. Ronald Reagan give him a cheer and wave placards as he and his wife Nancy arrive at their Miami Beach hotel early today from Convention Hall where Reagan appeared before the Republican National Convention to move that the choice of Richard M. Nixon as the party's presidential candidate be made unanimous.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, whose last-minute try for the Republican presidential nomination fell far short, said today, "There is nothing I could have done differently."

After watching Richard M. Nixon walk off with the California governor's nomination, Reagan said he had been correct, including his refusal to declare openly for the nomination until just 48 hours before the Republican National Convention balloting.

PLUGS UNITY

"I could not have started out as newly elected governor of California and then set out for a new job," said Reagan, who has served as his state's chief executive for just 18 months.

Alternately sad and smiling in defeat, Reagan stepped before the convention and in an emotion-filled voice, asked the delegates to make the presidential nomination unanimous for Nixon.

In a gesture for party unity, Reagan stood on the rostrum of Convention Hall, received the applause of the delegates and said the party has "one common goal"—defeat of the Democrat's in November. Some of Reagan's advisers weren't so sure about the wisdom of his tactics.

One source said that two key advisors, Los Angeles industrialist Henry Saldatori and business man Justin Dart, had urged Reagan to announce his formal candidacy six weeks ago and actively pursue the nomination.

GLUM FACE

Reagan rejected the advice and decided to remain a favorite son and hold off becoming an active candidate until his name was placed in nomination. He changed his mind Tuesday but he couldn't stop Nixon.

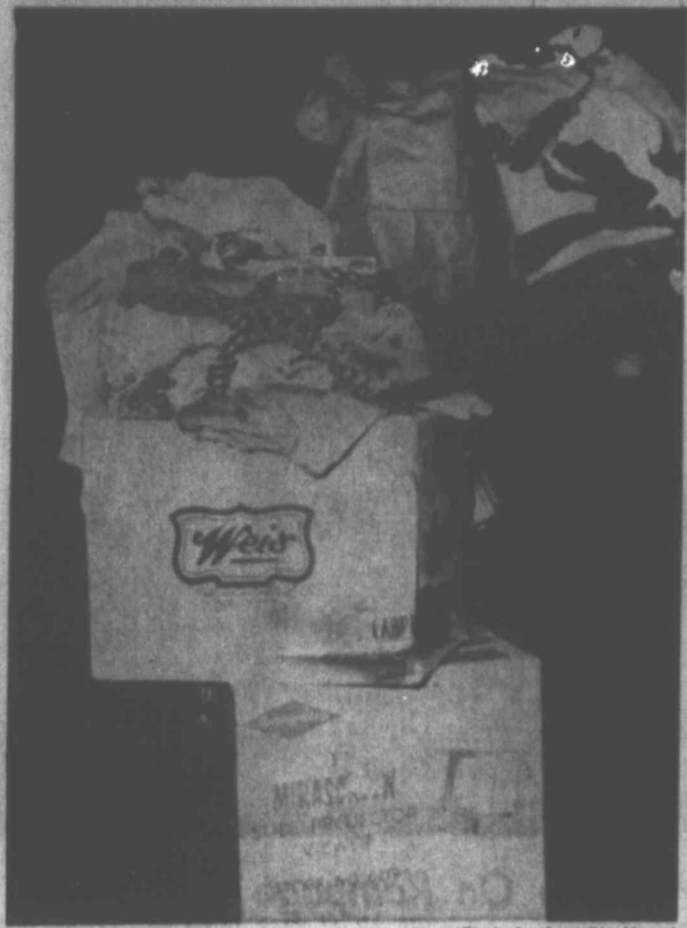

The failure of his campaign was reflected in the glum face of key political aide F. Clifton White, who left the last Republican convention a nationally acclaimed success after helping Barry Goldwater to the presidential nomination.

Even while the candidates were being placed in nomination, Reagan's aides tried to ward off defeat, ushering groups of delegates into the communication trailer and office where Reagan waited outside Convention Hall.

After he left the hall, Reagan told newsmen things really weren't so bad. "How can you lose when you go back to being governor of California," he said.

CLOTHING APPEAL GETS BIG RESULTS
Youngsters assured of garments for wear at school

No More Clothing For Three Needed

A flood of gifts for a family whose plight was revealed by Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare office, has been so overwhelming that Mrs. Phillips has asked that no more donations be made.

"We have ample clothing for the three youngsters who want to enter school this fall," she said, "as well as a lot of other clothing which will be most helpful in the relief of other destitute families."

She said that the three kids who needed school clothes are now so well outfitted that their clothing problem has been settled for a long time to come. The other clothing donated, some of which would not fit the youngsters in this particular family group, will be kept for other emergency cases.

"I have never seen so generous a response from the public," said the county welfare department chief. "People have been coming to the office and calling on the phone steadily since the first story appeared in the Big Spring Herald."

"We have this case solved and we will have others later on. That's why we want to call a halt to the giving for this family. We will need help for other children."

The particular case for which the response has been so generous involved a mother, soon to have another child, and her five minor children. The father deserted the family six weeks ago. Three of the kids were of school age and would not have had clothing to serve them when school opened if the gifts had not been made.

Cowtown 'Glue Sniffing' Bill

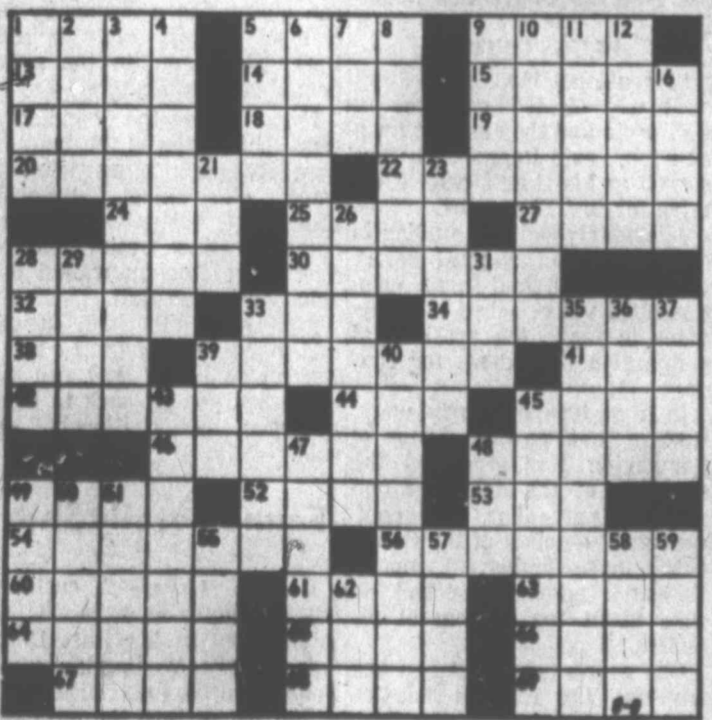

FORT WORTH (AP) — City councilmen have passed an ordinance designed to prevent the sale of certain types of glue to persons under 18 years of age without written consent from parents.

The ordinance also requires retail sellers of glue to keep records of "glue transactions" and provide records to the police when requested.

Mayor Pro Tem Bill Sarsgard proposed the ordinance in an effort to curtail "glue sniffing" by teenagers and children. Violation calls for a fine not to exceed $200.

DESPITE FIRM'S KICKBACK INDICTMENTS

Navy Won't Revise Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy says it won't revise a contract with a rocket-launcher supplier, despite the firm's indictment on charges of defrauding the government on earlier contracts.

The indictment returned by a federal grand jury Wednesday accused the firm and four individuals of feeding more than $3 million through sham subcontractors into Swiss bank accounts.

The indictment also charged the defendants with receiving over a half million dollars in kickbacks from another firm.

NAMED

The defendants named in the indictment were Chromcraft Corp.; Alisco Inc. of St. Louis; Andrew L. Stone, Alisco's main stockholder and chief executive officer; Francis N. Rosenbaum, director and special counsel; Evelyn R. Price, Stone's executive secretary, and Robert B. Bregman, president of Bregman Electronics Inc. of New York City.

Chromcraft Corp. merged with Alisco in 1966. Since 1962, Chromcraft and Alisco have been the Navy's sole supplier of 2.75-inch rocket launchers.

The Navy told the House Appropriations Committee in March that the launchers are patented by Chromcraft and Alisco.

"The time which would be required to develop a similar Navy-owned item and to get a new manufacturer into production is completely prohibitive," said the Navy.

SCOOP

The Associated Press reported exclusively that the Justice Department investigation of Alisco already was under way when the Navy awarded the contract for $13.9 million July 23.

The indictment said Chromcraft fed $3,407,284.23 to Swiss bank accounts through Scientific Electronics Ltd. and Bregman Electronics Inc. from 1963 through 1966. The indictment said the money was supposedly for equipment, but none was ever furnished.

The indictment said kickbacks of $663,481.05 were furnished by Western Molded Fibre Products Inc. of Gardena, Calif., which supplied parts to Chromcraft.

U.S.-Viet Troops Invade Shau Valley Second Time

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese troops have invaded the A Shau Valley for the second time in three and a half months, disrupting the major Communist supply base again as part of their campaign to blunt the big enemy offensive expected in the next month or so.

A fleet of 200 helicopters landed more than 3,000 soldiers of the U.S. 101st Air Cavalry Division and the Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division in the valley in the northern part of South Vietnam Sunday and Monday, but announcement of the operation was withheld until today for security reasons.

U.S. officers say it would take a division of troops to control it.

AIR STRIKES

A U.S. spokesman said the invasion is considered a spoiling attack to cut the enemy supply and infiltration lines and "do what other damage we can before the monsoons begin this fall."

Scores of air strikes and reconnaissance flights last week preceded the weekend troop landing, and B52 bombers dropped 1,800 tons of explosives. Two helicopters and an F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber were shot down over the valley last Friday by heavy anti-aircraft fire.

PROBABLY WARNED

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the allied force has met with "minimal resistance" so far. Probably warned by the heavy air activity that preceded the invasion, the North Vietnamese presumably pulled back across the nearby Laotian border.

U.S. headquarters reported that 15 North Vietnamese troops had been killed in the first four days of the operation. U.S. losses were two dead and 22 wounded, while eight South Vietnamese were killed and 18 wounded.

Three helicopter gunships were shot down during the first minutes of the massive assault by 200 troop-carrying helicopters and their escorts. One crashed and burned, killing a crewman and injuring three others. But the anti-aircraft fire was scanty compared to the heavy barrages that destroyed or damaged 120 U.S. helicopters during the first invasion of the valley in April.

UNCOVER BASE

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that headquarter troops uncovered an enemy base camp containing 80 barracks. Searching the structures, the South Vietnamese found an assortment of ammunition including 10 rockets and 15 cases of 50-caliber machine gun ammunition. More than 4,000 pounds of rice also had been left behind.

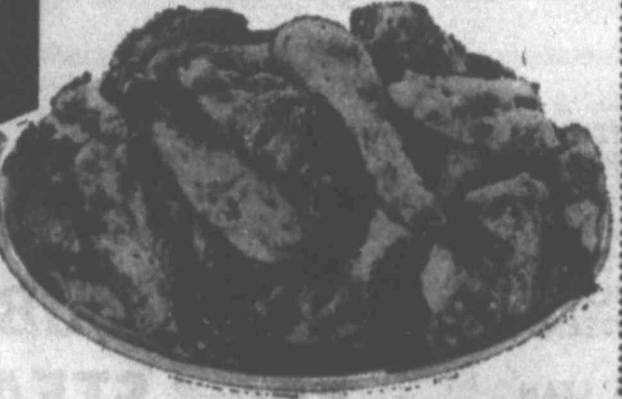

Just outside the eastern edge of the valley, units of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division uncovered an enemy bunker complex and another weapons cache that included five mortar tubes and assorted equipment, five anti-aircraft machine guns, one recoilless rifle and 30 pounds of explosives.

The first allied visit to the valley lasted a month, and the American and South Vietnamese troops are not expected to stay long this time either. The valley is at the end of the allied supply line and is often closed in by clouds and fog; and

Sun Spots Study In West Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Sun spots that might endanger America's first lunar astronauts are being studied with the aid of a unique telescope operated by the University of Texas.

Dr. Archie Stratton, director of the telescope, said the instrument is uniquely capable of seeing the spots closer to their point of origin deep inside the sun. Sun spots, he said, give rise to solar flares that might endanger astronauts and also produce radio blackouts and interfere with international radio communications.

The telescope is at Mount Locke, near Ft. Davis in West Texas.

OKANOGAN, Wash. (AP)—"I Like Ike" and "Vote for HHH" could fit right into the campaigns of two candidates who have filed for Okanogan County commissioner. The Wallace of Brewster might have been able to use some matchbooks, pins or bumper stickers left over from former President Eisenhower's campaign. Except Wallace is a Democrat. Herschel H. Hall might take advantage of "Vote for HHH" slogans except that he's a Republican.

Beams May Find Sunken Subs, Oil

AUSTIN (AP)—Laser light may help the Navy find sunken submarines and aid oilmen in drilling offshore, two University of Texas graduate electrical engineering students believe. Kenneth Hessel of West, Tex., and Sam Varnado of Wesson, Miss., are conducting laboratory studies "in an effort to determine the propagation characteristics of laser light beamed under water." They hope their findings can be used in improving the search, detection, rescue and communications capabilities of the Navy and in the science of oceanography or even offshore drilling for oil.

Houston Mayor's Power To Control Lake Tested

Police in Athens Arrested Dallas Woman Claims Rape

DALLAS (AP)—A young Dallas woman who told of being kidnapped and raped was returned to her husband and baby Thursday after escaping her abductor at Athens. Police in Athens arrested Mark Jonathan Whiteman, 19, of Dallas and officers here charged him with kidnapping. Authorities expect to lodge a rape charge against him at Athens, police Capt. Will Fritz said. Fritz said the woman, 19, told officers the young man went to her Oak Cliff home Tuesday afternoon, forced her to leave her baby with a neighbor and they departed after she also was compelled to write a note advising her husband she was quitting him. They drove for several hours in East Texas, police quoted her as saying, and the man several times fired a pistol to frighten her. Authorities said she was raped as they spent that night at an Athens motel, but she escaped while the man slept next morning and enlisted the aid of a passing Athens policeman.

Dallas Woman Claims Rape

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—The Uruguayan government says it won't compromise with pro-Peking terrorists who kidnapped a key official in an attempt to force a softening of President Jorge Pacheco Areco's austerity program. The largest manhunt in the country's history was underway for Dr. Ulises Pereira Reverbel, head of the state electric and telephone company, and a male secretary. They were kidnapped Wednesday by four members of the Tupamaro National Liberation Front. Armed with machine guns, the kidnapers wounded Pereira's chauffeur and another secretary. Reverbel, 48, wealthy cattle rancher, lawyer and close adviser to the president, had been a strong advocate of Pacheco's crackdown on labor agitation and his program of belt tightening to check inflation. A leaflet distributed by the front said Reverbel was kidnapped "as a warning that nothing will remain unpunished and that popular justice will be exercised through the most convenient channels." The leaflet accused Pacheco of "having sold our country to North American capital through the International Monetary Fund and through the meddling of neighboring dictatorships." A government spokesman, who described the front as a Peking Communist group, said: "The government will not deal with delinquents—they are extremist elements who are out to intimidate but will not succeed." Authorities said Reverbel's chauffeur identified two of the terrorists, saying they were Jorge Amilcar Lluveras, 38, a minor union leader, and Eloises Rivero Cedres, 30, a former Socialist militant. Both are known in left-wing circles as Peking Communists.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
Husband Talks Too Much
DEAR ABBY: My husband is a good man in many ways, but he has one terrible fault which I think is inexcusable. He "tells all" (and I do mean ALL) to his men friends.

I feel that we have no intimate husband-wife secrets like other married couples. My husband tells guys he hasn't even known very long everything that goes on between us. I know he has because he's told me so. Knowing that all his men friends know all those intimate things about me, I can't face them. What is the matter with a man who acts like this? I have grown cold toward him, and we've only been married two years. Do you blame me? COLD WIFE
DEAR COLD: Either your husband is very immature or he thinks he's invented something. Your talkative husband is "telling all" to the wrong people. If he can't keep his mouth shut, he should be down on a couch, and tell it to a psychiatrist.

DEAR ABBY: I am a recent divorcee, and as such, most men take me for an "easy mark." They all ask the same question, "What do you have to lose?" I am in my late thirties, and I'm certainly not a child. But what is a good answer for these eager beavers? The word "NO" doesn't seem to mean anything to them. They want to know WHY! Please give me a good answer. INDIANA READER
DEAR READER: Just say, "NO — that's not my style," ... and don't engage in a debate with any of these clowns or you're sunk.

DEAR ABBY: Ben and I have been happily married for four years (no children yet) and I wouldn't think of being unfaithful. He says he trusts me, and he isn't the least bit jealous. Well, the employees at my office recently got up a bowling team, and since I am a pretty good bowler, I joined. The other married bowlers always come alone and go home alone, and their spouses never come to "watch" them. Ben and I each drive our own cars, but on my bowling night, Ben drives me to work. I go to the bowling alley with a co-worker, then Ben calls for me at the alley. He always comes so early that it's right at the beginning of the game, so he "waits" for me. While he waits, he watches every move I make. This affects my game and I go to pieces and can't bowl. Once Ben had car trouble and didn't get there until after the game, and that was the only time I bowled my usual game, and our team won. I can't tell Ben not to come so early or he'll think I'm hiding something. Yet when he watches me bowl I am so bad the team suffers. Please, please help me. BOWLING BLUES
DEAR BLUES: Don't puss-foot around. Tell Ben that you cannot bowl your best when he is watching you, so to please do you, and the team, a favor and come AFTER the game.

MRS. JERRY THOMPSON

Plans Menus, Ends Worry

By RHODA LEMONS

"I finally learned how to enjoy my weekend guests after working all week," said Mrs. Jerry Thompson of 3222 Cornell. Her main problem was that she couldn't get out of the kitchen to join the group.

"Now, I buy a large roast or ham and let it bake with potatoes, then I cook a vegetable and toss a salad, and dinner is done," she said. She and her husband often make homemade ice cream, which takes care of dessert and after-dinner snacks.

The Thompsons have company often on weekends, and on other weekends they usually spend time at the lake with their boat. They have three sons, Tracy, 11, Casey, eight, and Jamie, three. They are boating and skiing enthusiasts, but usually just go to the lake for the day and do not camp out. Often, they are joined by friends.

Mrs. Thompson is employed as plant secretary at Sid Richardson Carbon Company, and her husband is a gauger for Mid-American Pipe Line.

Mrs. Thompson admits that after working hours, she devotes most of her time to her sons and her husband. "Whatever they are involved in, involves me," she said. Recently, it was American Little League. One of their sons was in the Pee Wee League and another was in the major league. Their practice sessions seldom coincided, and the Thompsons spent a lot of time at the ball park.

Mrs. Thompson buys groceries every two weeks. She tries to budget her expenditures, but allows for the extra company and outdoor barbecues her family particularly enjoys. Her husband is the outdoor cook but "he has never been able to cook enough for leftovers."

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson plan to buy a freezer soon. She believes that with one, she could save money and cook ahead when guests are expected.

Another plan the Thompsons have for the future is the purchase of a home. Their main problem is knowing exactly what they want — either can't find it, or feel that it is "too expensive."

Mrs. Thompson employs a baby sitter who also assists in cleaning the home. She sends her ironing out and determinedly tries to be free of work in the evenings.

"Jerry and I talk over all major expenditures and try to plan ahead for most purchases," said Mrs. Thompson. However, she does do all the shopping for the family. She believes that, for her, the combination of a career and homemaker, is much better for both herself and her family than when she did not work.

"I feel more free to buy the things we don't actually need but enjoy," said Mrs. Thompson. Also, she thinks her boys have developed more self-reliance and appreciation of the time they are home together now.

Mrs. Thompson plays bridge in two clubs and enjoys reading. She spends a great deal of time outdoors because her sons and husband are so "outdoor-minded."

Try A Chocolate Filling On Cake

Make a quick and easy chocolate frosting for your best cake recipe.

CHOCOLATE FILLING

1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
2-3 cup sweetened condensed milk
1 tsp. water
2 tbsps. instant coffee

Into the top of a double boiler turn all the ingredients. Cook over rapidly boiling water, stirring often, until thick — about 10 minutes. Use as filling for an 8-inch white or chocolate cake layer (split in half crosswise) and cover the top and sides of cake with fluffy white frosting.

Margarine Inspections To Change

Are you a margarine user? If so, you'll be interested to know that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has amended its federal meat inspection regulations to provide more uniform regulations for manufacturing margarine.

The federal meat inspection service inspects margarine moving in interstate and foreign commerce that is made in part with rendered animal fats and oils.

The Food and Drug Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has jurisdiction over margarine made with strictly vegetable fats.

Effective July 22, these new amendments, announced by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, which administers the meat inspection program, give margarine manufacturers the option of using either water or milk products in margarine made from animal fats or a combination of animal and vegetable fats. Before these amendments, manufacturers could use only milk products.

The Food and Drug Administration has allowed the optional use of these ingredients since April, 1966.

In addition, the amendments make optional the culturing of dairy ingredients used in margarine. Food and Drug okayed this option last year.

These amendments also require that ingredient statements on the product list the name of the specific fat, oil or stearin used. They allow use of certain preservatives and flavoring substances in order to bring requirements more in line with those of the Food and Drug Administration.

These requirements should result in more uniformity in the margarine you buy, whether made with animal or vegetable fats.

Baked Custard Is Light And Frothy

Try a new honey-flavored custard for dessert.

BAKED CUSTARD

2 large eggs
3 tbsps. mild-flavor honey
Pinch of salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 cups milk, heated until bubbles appear around edge

In a small mixing bowl beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites; add honey, salt and vanilla; beat gently to combine. Slowly stir in the very hot milk. Strain into three six-ounce glass custard cups.

Set cups in a nine-inch square aluminum cake pan. Pour four cups of very hot tap water into the pan. Bake in a 325-degree oven for 40 minutes; knife inserted in center will not come out clean; center will set as custard cools. Chill and serve garnished with thawed frozen berries or peaches. Makes three servings.

Inside the flaky, no-fail pastry made from spicy refrigerated pizza dough, you'll find a flavorful combo of ground beef and pizza sauce with the added spark of oregano, onion and mushrooms.

Made in minutes, the meat mixture is sprinkled with shredded cheddar cheese then goes "under-cover" as the pizza dough is braided atop.

To complete this jet-paced menu, choose perky cherry tomatoes, carrot curls and crisp celery sticks to serve alongside; for dessert—ice cream parfaits.

Another time, use refrigerated pizza dough and sauce to make pizza on the grill, petite party pizza, or inside-out Italiano sandwiches. This versatile refrigerated fresh dough product can indeed brighten your summertime menus in many unique and easy ways.

PIZZA LOAF

1 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 pkg. refrigerated pizza dough and sauce
1 can (4 ozs.) mushroom

stems and pieces, drained
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. leaf oregano, crushed
Pepper

1 pkg. (4 ozs.) or 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
Milk
Sesame seed

In skillet, brown meat and onion; drain. Stir in pizza sauce, mushrooms and seasonings. Cool.

Unroll pizza dough and place seasoned side up on a greased 15x12-inch cookie sheet. Stretch dough to a 14x11-inch rectangle. Spread meat mixture lengthwise down center third of dough to within two inches of ends. Sprinkle with cheddar cheese. Make diagonal cuts, two inches apart, on each side of rectangle just to edge of filling. Fold ends over filling. Then fold strips over filling alternating sides and crossing in center. Brush with milk and sprinkle with sesame seed. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until golden brown. Makes six to eight servings.

Try New Assorted Cheeses

A tray of assorted cheeses, a bowl of fresh fruits, crackers and small, thin slices of pumpernickel and rye bread is a gourmet treat.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist, suggests serving an assortment of cheeses: mild Edam and Gouda to strong-flavored Limburger or mold-ripened Blue. Include old favorites Cheddar and Swiss and one unusual cheese to arouse curiosity. Cheese spreads and dips are popular as snacks, too.

Most cheeses are served at room temperature to bring out characteristic flavor and texture, says the Texas A&M University specialist. Cottage cheese and other soft, unripened varieties are served directly from the refrigerator. Remove hard varieties from the refrigerator at least an hour before serving, but do not allow cut surfaces to dry out.

Add Orange Rind

Lightly roll cream cheese balls in finely grated orange rind; serve with tossed green salad after a curry dish.

 "Not guilty," replied Dagley. Then he put his hand in a pocket and two dice fell to the floor.

Recovering his dice and his dignity, Dagley said, "Your honor, I wish to change my plea. To guilty."

Young Bobby Leopard Making Slow Progress

Young Bobby Glenn Leopard, fighting for his life in the Children's Center at Denver, is making some slow progress, his father, Glenn Leopard, Sand Springs, said today. Leopard returned Wednesday from Denver, where he has been at the bedside of his 10-year-old son.

The lad underwent a kidney transplant several weeks ago — the kidney provided from the body of a young Denver child who had died in a car accident — and was making good progress for a few days after that surgery. He then developed an intestinal blockage which necessitated a second visit to the operating theater. His condition has been extremely serious since that time.

Bobby is the victim of a rare kidney disease which would have taken his life in the relatively near future, if a kidney transplant had not been made.

He lives with his parents in Sand Springs. Mrs. Leopard is in Denver with her son. The father, who works for Cosden, serves his shift at the plant and then on his off days drives to Denver to see Bobby and Mrs. Leopard.

Friends and well wishers of the Leopards have started several funds to help the family meet the mounting hospital and medical bills Bobby's prolonged stay in the hospital are creating.

Leopard said that no speculation on when Bobby can come home is possible at this time. The fight for his survival must be won before the matter can be considered.

Horoscope Forecast TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon is set to stimulate you into some very sudden and unwise activity that could bring you loss in some way as indicated by your own sign following. Be sure you make a special point to control errant acts and think out a course that you can place in motion late tonight or early tomorrow.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You find that allies are acting rather strangely, but don't let it bother you, since the planets are playing tricks to see how you handle situations. Some aims may be reached via a different direction. Follow through.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You had better check all rules that apply to you and be very effective where your vocation is concerned. Being sure you do nothing to ruin your fine credit is wise. Make sure your important bills are paid.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are in a mood to make all kinds of radical changes, but you had better think it over first or you will be very unhappy later. Don't get worried over some unfortunate piece of correspondence. It was just an error.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Impress others with the fact that you can work almost incessantly without asking favors of others. During spare time do whatever makes you a more healthy person. This could lead to greater wealth also.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Conditions are rather confusing where some recreation is concerned, so get things straightened out nicely before you do anything rash. Forget those people who act so strangely. Stay on your side of the fence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over with kin how to make your home life absolutely ideal, since you are now hardly living as you really want to. There is some condition there that needs improvement immediately. Be generous of spirit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

Be sure to drive as carefully as you can and stay on as friendly terms with an associate as you can, also. Did you do over those reports for any possible errors? Save yourself time and money later on.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be careful that in making certain changes to try to add to income you do not add to your present expenses instead. Use tact in handling some money matter with a mol. Don't lose your temper.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Not a good day to get on the census list in public that others resent, though it is your real nature. Avoid that little higher-up who is looking for a whitening boy. Get right down to work you want to do. Don't let others get you off the track.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Any quiet behind-the-scenes operating would be good now, so plan for more success in the future, but don't confide in others. An associate requires your assistance. Give it without thinking about it twice.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have many responsibilities to carry through with, so be certain to go ahead with them though they may be annoying. Do something that makes your friends happier. Forget that special pleasure of yours, for now.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have some new plan and should get in touch with allies you want to work along with, but be very diplomatic with them. Then you get their O.K. Be most careful you keep promises you have made — bucking others would be very bad for you.

The bidding:
 South West North East
 1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass
 4♥ Pass Pass Pass
 Opening lead: King of ♠

South's four heart contract went on the rocks when he took a finesse that was not an essential ingredient to success on the deal.

West led the king of spades and East signaled encouragingly with the nine. West continued with a small spade to his partner's ace; however, South ruffed the next round.

Trumps were drawn with one pull and a diamond was led to North's ace. The closed hand was reentered with a heart to play another diamond, and this time South finessed the jack. East won the trick with the queen of diamonds and he shifted to a club. South played the queen; however, West produced the king for the setting trick.

Declarer considered himself to be the victim of bad luck in having lost both finesses. In point of fact, he had not given himself the best chance. When the spades are stripped out and trumps have been drawn, South can improve his prospects slightly by forgoing the diamond finesse altogether.

It is suggested that declarer cash dummy's ace and king of diamonds. When the queen falls on the second round, the contest is over for the diamond loser has been eliminated; however, that is not the entire point of the play. Even if the queen does not drop, South will be able to endplay his opponent if West has the missing honor—for, when the jack is led next, West has no convenient exit. A club return is into the ace-queen and any other lead presents the declarer with a ruff and discard.

If it develops that East has the queen of diamonds, then South has lost nothing, since the finesse also would have failed, and he still has the club finesse available as a last resort.

It may be observed that, if East switches to a club at trick three instead of continuing the spades, South is almost certain to fall on the deal, provided that no one exposes their hand to declarer's scrutiny. South is obliged to take an immediate finesse in clubs and, when that loses, a diamond finesse becomes inevitable for, with only six cards in the suit, a play to drop the queen runs distinctly counter to the odds.
