MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A tropical depression in the Atlantic Ocean off Cape Hatteras, N.C., may become hurricane Dolly today, the Weather Bureau reported.

The disturbance has intensified rapidly, with maximum winds at least 50 miles per hour, the bureau said.

The depression at 10 a.m. EDT was near latitude 35.2 north, longitude 70.7 west, or about 380 miles northwest of Bermuda.

It was reported moving east-northeast at about 20 miles per hour.

The intensification reports were received from a Navy reconnaissance aircraft and confirmed by a satellite observation, the bureau said.

He presently is a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee and was chairman of the credentials subcommittee at the recent Dallas state convention.

Gordon also is a member of the state School Land Board.

He is a partner in the Abilene law firm of Brooks, Jones and Gordon and is connected with the Frankbooks Oil Co. and Big Country Oil and Gas Co., both of Abilene.

Gordon is a native of Palestine, Tex., and a graduate of the University of Texas Law School.

Rain Passed Us By

Howard County seems to have missed out on one of the best chances of a badly needed rain early today.

Sand Springs community, with a quarter inch report, seems to have been the best favored of the county's districts. Here in town the extreme east half seems to have received around .20 inch while the area to the west of State Street got little or none.

The Texas Electric Service Co. switch plant at the east edge of the city reported .23 inch and the U.S. Experiment Station .19 inch.

A series of sprinkles and overcast skies marked Sunday and the temperature never got to 80 degrees all day. Monday continued the same pattern of summer resort comfort.

Heavy cloud banks were on hand at dawn Monday, and thunder added to the promise of moisture. Other than for a light shower, which began around 9 a.m., there was no rain.

Meantime the need for rain over the county is rapidly becoming critical. Feed crops are in bad condition due to the prolonged dry spell and the cotton, while still flourishing, will soon be suffering. Pastures are in distress and stock tanks are dangerously low on water.

Ready To Settle

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that Egypt is reported ready to accept a Middle East settlement including substantial concessions to Israel.

The report, from "well informed Arab diplomats who are advisers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser," said the offer had been communicated privately to Israeli leaders.

The concessions included guaranteeing the passage of Israeli ships through the Strait of Tiran, waiving past demands for the repatriation of Arab refugees from Israel, internationalizing the Gaza Strip and demilitarizing the Sinai Peninsula.

The sources said Nasser, as an interim measure, would permit non-Israeli ships carrying Israeli cargoes to pass through the Suez Canal if Israeli troops evacuated a strip just beyond the canal's eastern bank.

Syrians Defect

TEL AVIV (AP) — Two Syrian Air Force pilots flew their MIG17 jet planes across the frontier today and gave themselves up at an air base in northern Israel, the Israeli army announced.

An army spokesman said the planes and the pilots were in good conditions.

Beurl Wayne Bragg, 43, died at 8:20 a.m. Sunday in a local hospital of injuries received Saturday afternoon in a head-on collision in the 2500 block of US 80 west.

Indonesians Nab 1,400 Commies

JAKARTA (AP) — Indonesian troops have captured more than 1,400 Communists, including at least six Central Committee members. In the last two months during a massive sweep through troubled East Java, the region's military commander says.

Maj. Gen. Mohammed Jasin said 850 prisoners were members of central and section committees while 506 were lower echelon activists.

Fishermen Stricken By Mystery Poison

FORT MYERS, Fla., (AP)—Five men unloading a cargo of fish were fatally stricken Sunday and one-by-one toppled into the hold of the fishing trawler Novelty.

The nature of the poison in the hold remained a mystery, and autopsies were performed today on the victims. Toxic samples taken from the ship's hold were analyzed.

Lee County sheriff's investigator James Loeffler said, "We don't know what killed them or where it came from. They either got a whiff of a toxic gas or some sort of chemical poison."

FLOOD HOLD

Back from a successful trip, the crew of the 125-foot trawler Novelty and dockworkers were preparing to flood the ship's hold to enable huge pumps to pull out both water and fish.

"When the water was turned on," Loeffler said, "the man holding the hose immediately collapsed and fell into the hold."

The first man to react, Francis L. Winter, 33, of Punta Gorda, Fla., jumped through the hatch and reached the body when he, too, keeled over.

As he slumped into the hold, his brother, Joseph, 55, also of Punta Gorda, raced to the hatchway. He got his feet on the ladder and his hand on the rail when the poison hit him and he fell the rest of the way, Loeffler said.

"The other two men never left the deck," the investigator said. "They just looked into the hold and collapsed through the hatch."

RESCUED

He said a sixth man was felled by the incredibly fast-acting poison, but was rescued by the ship's one-armed cook, Clyde Farris, and dock worker Roy McNeely.

"All of this transpired in less than two minutes," Loeffler said. McNeely descended with a rope while holding his breath and raised the last man to be felled.

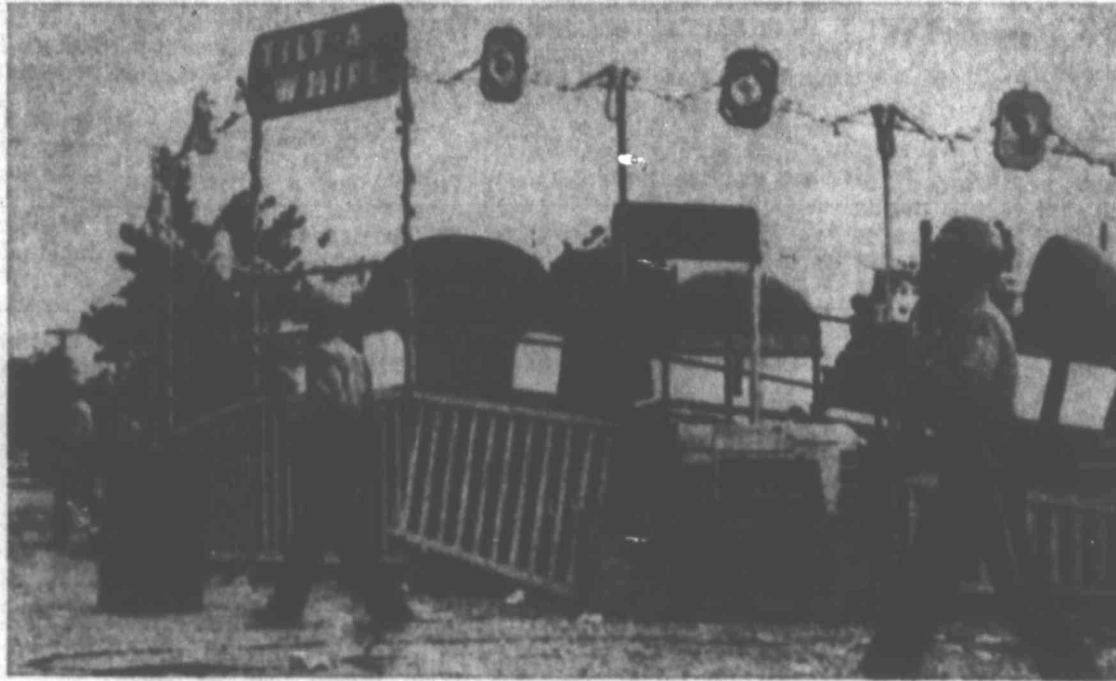

"Parrish is the hero if there is one," Loeffler said. Without knowing what had stricken his shipmates and the dock workers, he administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Loeffler said Lawrence Finley, 33, of North Port Charlotte, began to breathe without aid and was rushed to a nearby hospital where he was reported unconscious and in critical condition.

Heavy Fighting Along Approaches To Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops guarding the southern approaches to Saigon battled the Viet Cong today at two points nine miles apart.

Helicopters landed more than 1,000 men from the 9th Division in rice fields 24 miles south of Saigon in an attempt to encircle an enemy force estimated at more than 100 troops.

HEAVY FIGHTING

Details were sketchy, and no casualty figures were reported as yet. But the fighting was said to be heavy at times.

That fight was just south of Rach Kien, a key district capital. The Americans were sent in after intelligence reports told of the enemy unit, and the GIs drew fire shortly after they landed.

Nine miles farther north and only 15 miles below Saigon, another 300 men from the 9th Division virtually wiped out an enemy platoon of 40 or so men, according to initial field reports. Only three Americans were reported wounded.

In a delayed report, U.S. headquarters said that a Viet Cong force fired with bazooka-type rockets Saturday at the U.S. freighter Southport II as it approached Saigon.

U.S. Navy gunboats, helicopter gunships and Air Force fighter-bombers attacked the enemy positions along the bank and then strafed fleeing groups of Viet Cong. A U.S. spokesman said 20 Viet Cong were killed, there were no U.S. casualties and the ship was not damaged.

BOMB NORTH

In the air war, U.S. Air Force B52s bombed North Vietnam for the first time in nearly a month, while U.S. tactical fighter-bombers flew 119 missions Sunday against enemy supply lines in North Vietnam's southern panhandle. The latter pilots reported destroying or damaging 42 trucks and 17 supply boats.

The B52 strikes along the frontier ranged from inside the northern half of the demilitarized zone about eight miles west-northwest of the Marine base at Con Thien to five miles inside North Vietnam.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A series of heavy gun battles between police and Negroes swept the riot-scarred Watts district Sunday night and early today, leaving three dead and 35 wounded or injured on the anniversary of the 1965 riots.

The predominantly Negro area appeared relatively calm as dawn ended a night in which police said they were once almost over-run in an exchange of fire in a park. Later, in a brief siege, police estimated 1,000 shots were fired at a police substation.

The three dead were listed as Negroes.

ALL NEGROES

Six policemen were hurt, including five by gunshot.

The disturbance broke out as a festival commemorating the third anniversary of the 1965 Watts riot in which 34 died—came to a close. Festival sponsors have held the celebration annually since 1966, saying it is proof that something constructive could come from the devastation of 1965. The closing-day of this year's festival featured a three-mile-long daytime parade witnessed by perhaps 25,000.

Police called a tactical alert shortly after midnight Sunday placing 2,000 officers on duty throughout the nation's third largest city.

Some 200 officers were rushed into an area around Will Rogers Park, a few blocks from the area that was scorched by the 1965 rioting that caused $46 million in property damage.

ARRESTED WOMAN

Police Lt. Lew Ritter said the trouble started about 10:30 p.m. when two officers, directing traffic at the Watts Summer Festival, arrested a woman on suspicion of drunkenness.

Bystanders hurled rocks and bottles at the officers, who called for reinforcements. Sixty policemen were sent to the scene and an exchange of gunfire began.

Police Chief Thomas Reddin said the firing at police was heavier than in the early stages of the 1965 rioting.

"Then we had scattered reports of snipers," he said. "This time there was concentrated firing."

Sgt. David McGill, one of the officers who moved in after the first shooting, said, "We saw a lot of people being hit. They shot into their own crowd."

PLANNED

Ritter said "the attack on the police station was apparently planned, and the firing in the park was definitely planned. It all began as if there had been a signal sounded."

About 20 blocks of the 98 per cent Negro area were touched by some part of the disturbance during the night. Police cordoned off several blocks.

Curfew Clamped On Area Following Fires

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — A 9 p.m. curfew was clamped on East Chicago Heights and the entire police force of 31 in neighboring Chicago Heights ordered on duty after a rash of fires hit the two communities.

Calm had returned to both communities by late Sunday, authorities said.

A policeman was shot while investigating one of the six fires. Two youths were beaten, one critically, in a separate incident.

NEGRO AREA

East Chicago Heights, south of Chicago, is a predominantly Negro community of nearly 7,000. Chicago Heights, to the west, has 8,000 Negroes in a population of 40,000 persons.

Five of the fires, which broke out within minutes of each other early Sunday, caused minor damage. But a blaze at the Lawn-Tex, Inc. warehouse in Chicago Heights destroyed the block-long building and caused an estimated $400,000 damages.

Raldo Rotoloni, Chicago Heights fire captain, said an arson investigation was being conducted.

Theodore France III, 28, a sergeant on the all-Negro East Chicago Heights police force was wounded by a shotgun blast as he investigated a fire at a liquor store. He was taken to a hospital in fair condition.

NO TROUBLE

Chicago Heights police reported crowds of Negroes gathered in the streets late Sunday but no trouble resulted.

The police also reported two Negroes arrested for questioning about several of the fires.

Police said railroad flares were found in the cars' truck. Officers said flares were involved in the fire at a building housing the office of economic opportunity center, a store-front church and a laundrette, where the damage was estimated at $3,000.

Railroad flares also may have been used to start a fire that caused minor damage to a nearby drugstore, police said.

Joseph Range, owner of the Prairie Inn Tavern in Chicago Heights, told police he saw two men in a car throw a burning mop at his building.

George Sprague, Chicago Heights police chief, said the two men also were sought in the beating of two white youths who said they were forced off the road by four other cars. One of the victims, Arthur Martin, 18, was in critical condition.

NONE FILED

No charges were filed immediately against the two men being held.

East Chicago Heights Police Chief Robert Stone said the two blazes which started almost simultaneously in a liquor store and nearby restaurant in that suburb early Sunday were caused by firebombs.

MORE THAN ENOUGH FOR FIRST-BALLOT NOMINATION HHH Pegs Votes At 1,600

By The Associated Press
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, expressing confidence he'll win the Democratic presidential nomination on the first convention ballot, has pegged his delegate strength at 1,600 votes.

And Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox says he may turn the Democratic race into a four-way battle to show Americans the party "offers more than liberals and socialists."

The Democratic nomination in Chicago in two weeks will require 1,312 votes and Humphrey was asked Sunday if his estimate of delegate strength means he thinks he has the first-ballot nomination sewed up.

FEEL GOOD
"Let me tell you I feel rather relaxed," Humphrey replied. "I feel good. I think we ought to be looking forward to November."

Humphrey also said the Paris peace talks are "at a serious stage" and America's position with Hanoi should not be weakened by loose talk by candidates.

"If I can lend one little note of optimism today," he said, "which I do very carefully and with prudence and caution, I would say that the negotiations, while they have been sticky and they have been slow and they appear many times not to be productive, that those negotiations are at a serious stage."

Humphrey was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."
Sen. George S. McGovern, the newest declared Democratic contender, said a certain "disquietude" he detects among delegates gives him "at least a fighting chance" to beat Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

McGovern was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."
EMPTY SHELL
But an Associated Press survey after McGovern entered the race Saturday showed he drew immediate support from only two delegates, both from Nebraska. The South Dakota senator already had his state's 26 delegate votes.
McCarthy, bidding for support from California's 174 delegates, said in Sacramento Sunday the Democratic party is "an empty shell—without power or vitality or function" and must be revitalized.

National conventions should be held every two years on issues and public policy, not just selection of candidates, McCarthy said. He said party leaders should become the peoples' spokesmen and press for progressive legislation.

The California delegation gave McCarthy a warm reception but reaffirmed its intention to remain uncommitted.

Newly-nominated Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon and his running mate, Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, planned their campaign strategy meanwhile at an ocean resort near San Diego, Calif.

OH, YEAH

Aides say Nixon has decided to put more emphasis on television appearances than hectic vote-seeking rallies.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said Sunday he realized 10 days before the nominating at Miami Beach that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, whom he backed, was not going to win.

"I really don't think it will have appreciable effect," said Humphrey who also claimed 1,600 delegate votes, more than the 1,312 needed for nomination.

McCarthy, echoing the same sentiment, said that if anything it will make it easier for Kennedy delegates to "come to me."

Morton appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

SAYS HE HAS 'A FIGHTING CHANCE' There's No Great Rush To Banner Of McGovern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Net gain for Sen. George S. McGovern after two days in the Democratic presidential race appears to be endorsement by several former Kennedy aides, approving nods from some former Kennedy supporters and two delegate votes.

But, the South Dakotan said Sunday, he has at least a "fighting chance" to beat out the other two announced candidates.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.
McGovern commented on a radio-television program 24 hours after he entered the race. He intends to use the medium as the chief vehicle for his 11th hour drive before the Democratic National Convention opening in Chicago two weeks from today.

UPHILL FIGHTS
His schedule included three tentative television taping or live sessions today and another Tuesday.
McGovern, a 46-year-old former college professor with a record of winning uphill fights, invoked the name of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy numerous times when he formally announced Saturday.

His avowed hope is to pick up the 300-plus convention delegates pledged to Kennedy when the New York senator was slain last June 6. But the immediate impact was far from encouraging.

TWO MORE VOTES
Only two members of the Nebraska delegation which Kennedy won in a primary declared their support for McGovern, an Associated Press poll showed.

Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, leader of the 174-member California delegation, said he was "very happy to see Sen. McGovern participate" in the race.
The chairman of the Nebraska delegation said 20 of 23 of the 30 members are still unpledged, although this could change at a caucus this week.

In Colorado, State Rep. Richard Gebhart who headed Kennedy's state campaign, said he had no reason to believe Kennedy-pledged delegates would come out for McGovern before the convention.

There was no comment from the Kennedy family, but McGovern said he neither expected nor would seek any.

GREEN LIGHT
Quick endorsement came from former Kennedy aides Pierre Salinger, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. and Frank McKewicz. The latter handled a sit-in for 14 hours in Santiago's cathedral Sunday, accusing the church of neglecting the poor while lavishing funds on the coming visit of Pope Paul VI to South America.

The Archdiocese of Santiago said it "profoundly lamented and condemned" the occupation of the cathedral, which was carried out with military precision.

FOLK SINGING
Barring the congregation from Mass, the demonstrators held their own service and joined in folk singing led by two Communist entertainers.

Police did not enter the cathedral or arrest the girls and bearded youths who took over the 100-year-old edifice but jeered as they left the church, there were fist fights and scuffling.

"We're not against the Pope or his visit," to the Eucharistic Congress later this month at Medellin, Colombia, said one demonstrator. "We are against the way the visit is being planned."

"Too much money will be spent on needless ceremony," said a youth.

FOR ALL MEN
"The church must realize that it must be for all men, poor as well as rich," said another.

The takeover was carefully planned and carried out with precision. On Saturday, 20 of the youths hid in the confessionals and among the statuary. Before dawn Sunday they opened a door and let in the other demonstrators.

One young man silenced the cathedral's great bell. Another passed out walkie-talkies by which leaders communicated with a central command post. Others stood watch on the towers of the cathedral.

Young girls prepared credentials for newsmen, the only persons allowed in the cathedral other than the demonstrators.

Argentine Meat Exports Lower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Argentine meat exports for the first half of this year were down 50 per cent from a year earlier, the Agriculture Department reported today.

A major cause was a ban on Argentine meat by the United Kingdom as a result of hoof and mouth disease in the importing nation, the department said.

The ban was lifted April 15 on frozen beef and pork from Argentina but remained on lamb and mutton.

The department quotes "informed sources" as saying Argentina's meat exports will continue lower the remainder of 1968.

In the first place, I think Lucy is picky-picky, and in the second, I defy anyone to come up with a no-nonsense philosophy any better than Charlie Brown's. After all, life may not be all you want — but it's all you've got! It's just a little after 9 o'clock now, and you've got another wonderful day to shoot for that dream-hurry!

All you mothers who are shopping for school clothes down town this week should take the little tykes along and let them linger a few minutes to enjoy the windows at Zack's. The creatures have come — 95 of them, little froggy things that climb, crawl, swing and sprawl all over the place — and if you look with a discerning eye and sense of humor, you're bound to see someone you know reflected in their antic postures. The delightful little beings are the handiwork of Mrs. Clyde (Ruth) McMahon Sr., who made them as gifts for friends, and they are not for sale.

Had a call from sweet Mrs. Della Agnell who is making her home right now at Bennett House. She was feeling fine after having a good visit with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aldredge of Gilmer. Mrs. Agnell lived in her home too long to want to leave it, and she is anxious to get back in her own bed when she can find a suitable companion to stay with her.

There's nothing like a big family reunion to give one a sense of security these days, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Williamson got in a lot of talking yesterday in Robert Lee when the descendants of the late Judge and Mrs. W. A. Bell of Coke County got together.

There were nine sisters and their families who observed the occasion. Don't you know they did a lot of remembering?

Those boots were made for walking, but Skip Richardson of El Paso, Pinnacle Boot Company exec, preferred to ride when he was up to cover the territory with new salesman, Rick Terry. Mrs. Richardson (the former Chere Stanley) came along to keep Celia company and visit her grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Terry. They took in the Junior Rodeo with R. E. McKlenny.

Had a good chat with Beverly Jones at the Saturday night showing of "Prudence and the Pill," but didn't see Lillian and Al Valdes who called to say they were across the aisle. The Valdes family will leave Friday for HemisFair and Padre Island before going to Houston to visit ex-Webbites, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Drinaea. The Danny Valdes made the Padre Island trip earlier and recommended it highly.

A pretty big thing is going to be happening in Houston, too, because, about Aug. 23, I think Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons will both receive BS degrees at the University of Houston. They'll be anxious to get home and show the sheepskin to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Simmons. In the fall they will return to work on doctor of optometry degrees.

Lucy Pickle, who is vacationing (Ha!) called in a couple of items: L.L. (J.G.) and Mrs. Thomas H. Crofts are announcing the arrival of a son, Thomas Howard III, born Sunday in Newport, R.I. The baby is the grandson of Mrs. Ellen Crossland, who is leaving Tuesday to see the sweet thing, and the mother is the former Mary Locke Crossland. Paternal grandparents are Judge and Mrs. Thomas Crofts of Terrell. The new parents live at 2777 E. Main Road, Portsmouth, R. I., 02871.

Mrs. Julia Bonifield and her mother, Mrs. H. H. Stevens, have as guests Mrs. Bonifield's daughters and their children. They are Mrs. Curtis Barnfield, Fred, Byron, Katherine and Matthew of Houston and Mrs. Gene Murff and Stevie of Bergstrom AFB near Austin.

You might say ex-Big Springer, Lane Hudson, kinda stopped to water the horses. He lives in Denver, Colo., now where he raises thoroughbreds, and was taking four of the horses to San Antonio where he was to meet the new owner from Florida. His mother, Mrs. Louise Hudson lives with him (they used to have the Peacock home here) and he tried to call several old friends who were unavailable including Mrs. Dorothy Garrett and the Lloyd Wassons. However, Marie McDonald joined him as they made quick visits around town.

Good news from Roy and Helen Worley. After serving as high school principal, here, they went to Dripping Springs, but this fall he'll be heading the Wiler Hutchins High School at Wilmer which adjoins the city limits of Dallas. I'm enchanted with their address — 3614 Legendary Lane. Their boys are scattered. Bill is in reserve training at Fort Leonard Wood, Bob is a junior at UT in Austin and Mike is a lawyer in Lubbock.

LBJ Nearing End Of 'Liquid' Fast

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is nearing the end of a 48-hour, liquid-only fast in preparation for further tests to learn the extent of a chronic intestinal disorder.

The Texas White House declined to say exactly when Johnson would return for X-rays and other tests to Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio, a 35-minute helicopter trip from the President's ranch.

WATCHES, WAITS

But Johnson, who began the fast Saturday by watching visi-land—the Republican ticket in the 1968 presidential campaign. Johnson and other top officials briefed Nixon and Agnew on foreign policy matters.

Johnson attended Roman Catholic services Sunday at St. Francis Xavier Church in Stone-wall, a couple of miles from the LBJ Ranch. Although not a Catholic, Johnson frequently goes to mass there and is a friend of the pastor, the Rev. Wunibald W. Schneider.

In his prayer, the priest said, "Let us ask the divine physician to give good health and strength to our President and First Lady."

Johnson's personal physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, announced Thursday that—apart from the diverticulosis that has afflicted the President since 1960—all tests produced findings well within normal limits.

Manure Study Funds Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a move under way in the Agriculture Department to solve a growing problem of what to do with cattle manure.

The department has awarded a $32,000 contract to Texas Technological College at Lubbock for a 3½-year study of manure disposal problems of large cattle feedlots.

At stake is how to return "millions of tons" of manure to the land as fertilizer and thereby avoid what the department calls "environmental pollution problems" at the feedlots.

"Texas Tech will find ways of cutting the volume of and at the same time preserve the fertilizer value of the waste while it awaits future application," the department said.

Other portions of the study will include the effects of different types of feed in making manure a better fertilizer, the effects of feedlot designs, animal population, rainfall and management factors.

Large cattle feedlot operations have increased greatly in recent years and so has the manure problem.

The department said last month that beef production from feedlots in the 32 major producing states increased 77 per cent in the past five years.

San Antonio's Walsh New Legion Commander

HOUSTON (AP) — Robert P. Walsh of San Antonio is the new commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion.

Walsh, elected Sunday at the closing session of the department's 50th convention, succeeds William G. Nami of Cuero.

Jack W. Flynt of Dimmitt was elected national committeeman. His alternate is Teal Adkins of Beeville.

Other new officers include Mrs. Lee Sotner of Lockney was elected head of Eight-and-Forty, an auxiliary service organization.

Antonio, judge advocate, and Ray W. Thompson of Houston, sergeant-at-arms.

Delegates voted to hold next year's convention in Austin.

Mrs. Billy B. Hester of Houston was elected president of the women's auxiliary. Mrs. James White, also of Houston, was elected chaplain and Mrs. Eddy Ginn of Corpus Christi was elected historian.

Hungry Locusts Infest Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers in the Great Plains occasionally recall with only mild overstatement how grasshoppers in the dust bowl years were so hungry they ate fence posts level with the ground.

But nothing in recent years has surpassed the siege in Africa's locust belt. The Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations says at least 200,000 square miles of the Sudan is infested by the biggest outbreak of locusts since 1958.

One developing group of the flying insects is reported to cover an area 30 miles long and 20 miles wide, the FAO said.

Traffic Texas' Worst Killer

By The Associated Press
Traffic took its usual week-end heavy death toll in Texas with 28 victims on top of 39 persons dying violently.

There also were five drownings in the toll tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

UNUSUAL CRASH
One of the more unusual accidents was the crash of a homemade gyroplane in which a young Dumas resident, Joel Slagle, died Sunday. He was making the first flight in the craft when it cracked up a mile west of the Dumas airport in the Panhandle.

These were among the other victims:
Judy Stephenson, 25, of Carthage was killed Sunday night as a car hit a culvert 2.1 miles north of Marshall on US 59 in East Texas. A companion, Leta Jenkins, 15, of Texarkana, died from injuries in the same crash early today. Serious injuries were suffered by Dan Stephenson, 26, husband of the dead woman who told officers the steering wheel came off his car and by his brother Sammy, 16.

THROWN OUT
Gary Greer, 17, of Olney was killed Sunday night when his car ran off Texas 25 east of Archer City, in the area south of Wichita Falls. He was thrown out as the vehicle overturned several times.

Thomas Reyees, 20, and Thomas Herrinshaw, 21, both airmen from Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio, died Sunday when their car hit a bridge on Interstate 35 in Southwestern Bexar County.

A two-car crash in Southeast Houston Sunday killed Jerome Busker, 66, of nearby Galena Park, swelling the Houston traffic toll to 90 deaths so far this year.
Eduardo Leija, 5, of Corpus Christi drowned Sunday in Sunset Lake as he played in the water. The site is north of Corpus Christi.

CRUSHED
Henry Mallard Jr., 32, of Jacksonville was killed Sunday night when his pickup truck and a larger truck collided head-on near Lockett. The driver of the second truck was not injured.

Dan Mitchell Pierce, 24, of Denison was killed Sunday night when his motorcycle skidded out of control on US 75 in Denison. Police said Pierce was thrown from the motorcycle as it skidded about 300 feet after striking the highway divider.
Linville Pack, 17, died Sunday of injuries suffered a day earlier when he fell from the back of a truck. The mishap occurred in Cleburne near where young Pack resided on a rural route.

Two persons were killed Sunday when a car went out of control on Texas 227 near Round Top and crashed into two road signs. The dead were Iona Daniel, 15, and Albert Jefferson, 1, both of Texas City.
Kyle Ybarbo, 21, was killed Sunday when a chain hoist broke and his falling car crushed him. The accident occurred at his home north of Houston.

A motorcycle crashed into a ditch near Beaumont Sunday night, killing Linda Lee, 12, of Nome, one of two passengers on the vehicle.
Pedro Martinez, 88, was struck down on a San Antonio street by an automobile and killed Sunday night.

An auto-pedestrian accident in San Antonio Saturday proved fatal for Antonia Gutierrez.
William M. Hutchinson, 22, son of a former president of the Midland First National Bank, was killed Sunday when a car slipped off a jack and fell on him. The accident occurred on a raceway near Abilene.

Piedmont Airlines Plane Crash Toll Climbs To 35

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Three more persons died Sunday, raising to 35 the number killed by the crash of a Piedmont Airlines plane.

Two survivors, Barbara Schiller, 19, and Thomas Voignier, 27, both of Cincinnati, remained in satisfactory condition at Charleston Memorial Hospital.

"I thought it was all a bad dream. Just a bad dream," Miss Schiller said. "I wasn't even looking out the window when it happened. I blacked out and when I woke up they were throwing foam all over us."

Miss Schiller was en route to vacation at Virginia Beach with two of those who died Sunday, Judy Bernase, 20, and Sue Boskin, 19, both of Cincinnati. Darrell Triplett, 20, of Branchland, W. Va., also died Sunday.

The twin-engine Fairchild FH227, flight 230 from Louisville, Ky., to Norfolk, Va., was making an instrument landing in fog and smoke when it crashed short of the main runway at Charleston's Kanawha Airport Saturday.

The plane skipped over the top of a 300-foot ravine before the runway and skidded 75 yards down the airstrip as it caught fire.

The crash is being investigated by the National Transportation Safety Board and the Federal Aviation Administration.

Edward E. Slattery Jr., the board's director of public affairs, said Sunday the glide slope equipment at the airport has not been operating since June 16 because of "trouble with the antenna position."

The glide slope is a phase of the airport's instrument landing system.

W. G. McGee, a Piedmont vice president, said positive identification of the bodies was expected to be finished today.

The accident was the fourth fatal crash in Piedmont's history and was the worst air disaster in West Virginia.

Dear Abby

The Missing Shorts

DEAR ABBY: Today while doing my dishes I just happened to glance out of my kitchen window in time to see my next door neighbor take two pairs of my husband's brand new shorts off my clothesline. Now Abby, I know she couldn't have mistaken them for her own laundry as she had absolutely nothing on her clothesline at the time.

Should I talk to her about this? Or should I ask my husband to speak to her husband about it?

EYE WITNESS
DEAR ABBY: Leave her husband (and yours) out of it. Just pay her a visit, tell her you came to collect the two pairs of shorts she lifted off your clothesline, and don't be harsh. If you really want to teach her a lesson, wait a few weeks, and then tell her that you were very much surprised to discover that HER husband was wearing YOUR husband's shorts. (She'll go crazy wondering how you found out.)

DEAR ABBY: My only son is stationed in Vietnam. He has been there for three months. Shortly before he left, he became engaged to a girl he had been going with for two years.

Last night he telephoned her, and I am very hurt and upset because he has never telephoned me. He just told her to call his Mom and give her his love. Am I foolish for feeling as I do? NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Yes. You are to be congratulated for having raised a healthy, normal young man who is able to separate romantic love from mother love. The world is full of unhappy wives who would give anything to be married to a man like that. Cheer up, Mom.

DEAR ABBY: I plan to go to Paris to meet my fiance who is also an American citizen. There is a good chance that we will get married over there, but I would like to know a couple of things first.

Do I have to get a marriage license and blood test here first, or can I do it over there? If I do get married in France, will my marriage be recognized here? We are both over 21, if that makes any difference.

MAKING PLANS
DEAR MAKING: You must live in France for 30 days before you can be married there. You'll not need a blood test, but you WILL need a French marriage application, which you should get in France. And yes, your marriage will be recognized here.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Project Calling For Urban Study

FREESPORT, Tex. (AP)—Brazoria and Matagorda counties are included in a project sponsored by the Gulf Coast chapter of the Texas Society Professional Engineers, with headquarters at Brazosport, calling for an urban area study.

The study, as recommended by the steering committee, headed by Harold Sirgleton of Lake Jackson, includes transportation needs, restoration of historic areas and monuments, improved recreational facilities, drainage and flood control, best use of harbor and water facilities, and pollution abatement.

Projects Talked

STANTON (SC) — The Optimist Club met Friday and plans were discussed for several club projects, including a turkey shoot this fall and a fruit cake sale. The attendance committee made recommendations. It was voted to contribute $50 to help the summer recreation program defray expenses incurred when four representatives were sent to the State T.A.A.F. track meet in Fort Worth. There were 10 members present.

Wallace Eyes Equal Time

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Presidential candidate George Wallace says he believes the three major television networks will provide equal coverage of his American Independent party's national convention. The former Alabama governor said Sunday the networks "see our movement is a national party movement" and will therefore grant his request for equal coverage.

No comment came from any of the network headquarters in New York.

segments of prime evening time to coverage of the Republican National Convention, in Miami Beach last week. ABC carried highlights of the convention. Wallace said the site and time for his party's convention had not been chosen. Wallace returned to Montgomery Saturday night after a two-day campaign tour of North Carolina.

A Devotional For The Day

Give . . . thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad. (1 Kings 3:9)

PRAYER: Our Father, light our souls with wisdom, so that it floods our faculties until we know more than we could ever hope to learn from books. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

The Rolling Snowball

Congress has now exempted federal workers in various categories from the employment cutback imposed on the government as part of the price for enacting an income tax surcharge. Among those exempted are postal workers and some FBI employees. Congress also went a bit further, approving addition of more air traffic controllers.

All this may justify the comment of Rep. Charles B. Jones, a North Carolina member of the House Appropriations Committee: "The snowball has started rolling now and there's no way to stop it." Still, it does not appear that Congress need now feel constrained to go along with other requests for exemptions. And surely few would question the soundness of keeping on postal workers to avert a threatened cutback in postal service. Though there are good arguments for a reduction in federal spending on programs not deemed essential, it seems indefensible that an affluent nation with inadequate postal service should make it even less adequate in the name of economy.

Congress did refuse to exempt employees in the offices of U.S. attorneys. This suggests that it can do likewise with other requests of the kind. Jones' fears of a snowball effect may be exaggerated. But as he might retort, we shall see.

An Allegation Of Vote Fraud

The cry of "fraud" has been raised in many an election — not just in Texas. Yet it is a cry that is singularly difficult to prove in an era where voting machines are dominant. The cry was raised in Texas in 1960, in the race between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon, but to no avail. Now two writers, Earl Mazo and Stephen Hess, have published a book purporting to show that Kennedy won through vote frauds in Texas and in Chicago. It is entitled "Nixon, A Political Portrait."

Mazo, who investigated the Texas vote, came to the conclusion that at least 100,000 "non-existent" votes were cast for Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. The popular vote in Texas was 1,167,932 for Kennedy and 1,121,699 for Nixon, or a 46,233-vote margin for the Democratic ticket.

Mazo certainly cannot prove that at least 100,000 non-existent votes were cast in the general election of 1960 in Texas. But neither can anyone prove that 100,000 non-existent votes were not cast in that election. Yet Mazo obviously failed to assume responsibility for a statement he cannot prove.

Most of the votes in the 1960 general election were cast on voting machines. There is no possible way of identifying a voter with his vote on a voting machine. But it is possible to identify a voter with his vote in the majority of smaller counties where the scratch ballot predominates. It would have been possible, if not practicable, to examine the votes in scratch ballot counties under court supervision. At the very least, though, the results in a few selected scratch ballot counties would have been challenged and the extent of fraud if any could have been determined.

Yet there was no court challenge of the 1960 vote. In the absence of a willingness to test a theory of fraud, it is highly irresponsible to assert that fraud existed while declining to submit the claim to the test of proof.

National Outlook

Nazi Party Looks To Race War

WASHINGTON (AP) — One year after the assassination of its founder — George Lincoln Rockwell — the American Nazi party, its name changed, appears outwardly more prosperous, more sophisticated. But its private papers disclose deep splits with several factions competing for a control of the tiny movement.

What apparently is the principal Nazi organization — now known as the National Socialist White Peoples party, NSWPP — has been a two-story building in a quiet middle-class neighborhood in suburban Arlington, Va.

There, in a second floor office that is carpeted, wall-to-wall in deep red, Matthias Koehl Jr., 33, presides as national leader. Seated beneath a four-foot red banner bearing a black swastika — symbol of Adolph Hitler's Third Reich — Koehl rules a tiny band of armed racists and anti-Semites.

"I WAS BORN a racist," Koehl told an interviewer. "I never could see the sense of mixing of blacks and whites. It's highly indecent. I've always believed in the establishment of an all-white America."

Koehl was second in command last Aug. 25 when Rockwell was shot by a sniper in an Arlington shopping center. The sniper, former Nazi party member John Patler, has since been convicted and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Billy Graham

Please explain what you mean by "average Christian?" Is the average Christian saved? J.B. Too many of us are so involved in the numerous activities of the church — membership drives, financial drives, building programs, and church promotion, that we have often lost sight of the real meaning of being a Christian. Oddly, none of the above (though all are important) have anything to do with being a Christian. A Christian, in the New Testament sense, is a person who has committed himself to Christ so completely, that everything else becomes secondary. Christ is a living Lord; the Bible is a living Book; and the Church is a living institution.

When I say "average Christian," I mean the average "professed Christian." Let's face it: the average professed Christian isn't often found feeding on the word of God; isn't often found trying to win his neighbors and friends to Christ; isn't often found doing good in Christ's name, without expectation of pay.

You ask, "Is the average professed Christian saved?" To be a Christian in name is not enough. Our Lord said: "Many will come to me in that day, and say, Lord, have we not done many wonderful works in your name?" And He will say, "Depart from me, I never knew you."

speaks glibly and without hesitation as he talks of the aims of the Nazis — and of his own predictions for the future of the United States:

"WHAT WE KNOW is coming is race war. Race war is just around the corner in historical terms. We expect there will be a serious American defeat in Vietnam because of the administration's no-win policy."

He sees also hard economic times coming "because of the dwindling reserves of gold and silver. There's going to be chaos in America — we will hold out at that time the only alternative."

But Koehl, respected by his pistol-toting comrades in the Arlington establishment, apparently doesn't command the respect of all Nazis. He lacks something of Rockwell, the former Navy commander and World War II fighter pilot who affected a folksy style as he smoked his corn-cob pipe and talked hate.

"I'm going to completely separate the black and white races and preserve white Christian domination in this country, and I'm going to have the Jew Communists and any other traitors gassed for treason," Rockwell once said.

BUT WHILE THE basic aims of the Nazis haven't changed, their activities have. They've largely stopped their publicity seeking antics such as the demonstration in 1965 when a Rockwell trooper put on black-face minstrel garb, slipped past guards and made a dramatic entrance in the well of the House of Representatives to protest civil rights legislation.

And they've turned to use of the telephone for what Koehl calls the "white power message." One such message, opposing the elevation of Associate Justice Abe Fortas to chief justice called him "a Red Jew — an utterly despicable one."

And more recently Koehl's recorded voice urged District of Columbia residents to disobey the new district gun registration law, and instead to obtain a minimum of 100 rounds of ammunition for each weapon they own. It urged they find secure hiding places for their weapons.

"Everyone who registers his gun with the black government in the district will sooner or later be ordered to give up that gun," Koehl's recorded voice said. "The white minority in Washington will be defenseless and completely at the mercy of the rampaging blacks."

ALTHOUGH KOEHL will not disclose the size of his organization or its budget, he said "our income is rising steadily. We have developed new sources of income."

GOT TO HOLD HIS NOSE AND SWALLOW

John Cunniff Workers' Suggestions Pay Off

NEW YORK (AP) — The suggestion box has come a long way since World War II, when it hung near the factory wash-room, an inspiration, supposedly, to the war effort, but often just a repository for impolite remarks about the boss.

Last year at San Jose, Calif., G. R. Minden, 30, an assembler, and R. A. Maddox, 42, a technician, shared $41,926 for showing their employer, International Business Machines, how to fabricate metal covers so they could be used on two rather than just one type of computer unit.

IT WAS ONE of 250,000 suggestions at IBM last year, 15 per cent of which paid off. The all-time high payment, $72,186 in 1963, also went to two IBM men, Charles Glancey and Lawrence Lavigni, for explaining how to reduce the number of circuits in a tape drive unit.

At United Airlines, a San Francisco maintenance specialist, Dean Webster, 42, received a $14,645 check last year for working out a process that enables jet engines to be examined without dismantling.

TWO YEARS ago Dean Kinsman, then 52, a body layout man in Ford Motor's pilot assembly plant at Dearborn, Mich., won three maximum awards, each for $6,000 and a new car. Earlier, he had won four maximum awards in five years.

For last year paid out $3 million for 28,492 winning suggestions, bringing to more than $20 million the total awarded in 20 years. Several of the maximum award winners have been repeaters, including some women. Kinsman's recommendations included using fiber glass instead of metal in control panel consoles.

SUCH AWARDS indicate the suggestion box has indeed come of age — almost despite itself, for during the early days management didn't always follow-up on recommendations. Good ideas were ignored; even thank you notes failed to go out.

"We had a terrible image and rightly so," says Eric Ekstrom of the National Association of Suggestion Systems, based in Chicago. "It was management's fault. They didn't know what they were doing."

A manufacturing saving of 10 cents a unit seems like peanuts. But after two million cars have gone down the assembly lines, as will happen at Ford this year, the saving is $200,000, perhaps to be repeated year after year.

"NOTHING IS more sensible," says Ekstrom, "than to understand that the guy on the line has creativity if it is tapped.

Working day in and day out he's going to know more than any engineer. He's got a feel for his job."

Ekstrom, NASS executive director, estimates that payoff ideas are at this moment moving through 4,000 company systems. NASS represents about 1,300 of these, and Ekstrom estimates the companies involved saved $500 million last year.

No Magic Cure For Hangover

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Fantasy starts early in human life. Researchers believe that many babies begin to have dreams within five hours after birth.

Does your mate snore? Snoring is so prevalent in Britain that a specialist estimates it threatens the marriages of 1.5 million couples in that country. He believes that about 50 per cent of snorers can be cured of their affliction and another 30 per cent helped by proper treatment.

UNCLE SAM picks up the tab for the world's most expensively tailored clothes. They are the individually fitted 21-layer suits which U.S. astronauts will wear on projected flights to the moon. The suits cost about $100,000 apiece, weigh 57 pounds, and are designed to protect space-men from lunar temperatures which range from 250 degrees below zero to 250 degrees above.

Although women generally brush their teeth more often than men, they are more likely than men to lose all their choppers. On the average, U.S. women have two more fillings or missing teeth than men. At any age they are also more likely to need eyeglasses. About 50 per cent of the female population wear them, only 43 per cent of the male population.

HERE'S WHY it's a good idea to stand well behind a golfer teeing off: A well-hit golf ball takes off at a speed up to 200 or more miles an hour. Quotable notables: "When liberty destroys order, the hunger for order will destroy liberty."

—Will Durant. Subsurface diplomacy: Ivan tribesmen of Borneo once had a custom of settling arguments that delegates to the United Nations might well employ. When two tribesmen disagreed violently, they dived together into the water. The one who stayed under the longer was declared winner of the dispute.

WORTH REMEMBERING: "The trouble with most of us is that we would rather be ruined by praise than saved by criticism."

No magic cure: Science has yet to come up with a wonder drug that will quickly remove the agony of a hangover. "Sobering up is essentially a matter of time," says Leon A. Greenberg of the Rutgers University of Alcohol Studies. Neither coffee gulping or work do much, he says, to speed recovery from the results of excessive imbibing.

PROSPERITY NOTE: Roughly 182,000 individuals are expected to file personal bankruptcy proceedings this year — chiefly because they didn't stick to a family budget, let small debts pile up. Today nine out of ten bankruptcy cases involve ordinary consumers, not businessmen who have failed.

It was Kin Hubbard who observed, "The safest way to double your money is to fold it over once and put it in your pocket."

Around The Rim

Memories Of An Earlier Day—

I have always looked back with fondness on those times I sat at the knees of my parents and listened as they harked back to the period of their own youth and described life as it was lived in those days.

I can remember the old farm houses with the breezeways, although they were slowly going out of style, the smoke houses and the rambling old barns with the scythes hung on an inside wall, and the buggies parked immediately outside or else in dark outline between the outside doors and the openings into the cow lots.

MY MOTHER told me one of her greatest thrills as a child came when her father gathered his entire brood, which consisted of about nine children and a wife, in a wagon pulled by two horses and headed for an overnight stay in Brownwood.

It took all day for the family to reach the "city." The street lights had been turned on by the time the travelers reached the outskirts of the town. It was the first time the kids had ever seen such a tremendous sight — hundreds of lights distributed about the streets of a thriving community, like jewels cushioned in velvet.

THE FAMILY bedded down in the wagon yard that night and, to hear the maternal parent tell about it, that provided a bigger thrill than it would be for their modern counterparts to stay in the Waldorf Astoria today — that, and the prospect of shopping in the Brownwood stores the following day.

Many of those pioneers made their own ink in those days by mixing filings and vinegar with tree bark to get the tannic acid that made it permanent. The mixture was black to start with but faded into the brown you see in old letters.

IN THAT departed era, it was not the practice to look up the family doctor unless you suffered from a broken leg or had typhoid fever — and then he came to you. You treated chapped hands or an aching tooth with a salve melted down and mixed with resin or mutton tallow. The hoof of an injured animal often got the same treatment.

SOME vegetables, especially cucumbers, weren't very popular in those days, mainly because the adult males reasoned they wouldn't eat what the hogs wouldn't touch.

GETTING UP at 4 a.m. to start the chores for the day was the rule rather than the exception. A man could milk by lanternlight, feed the chickens and perhaps get in a little plowing before breakfast. Some of the demands as to shorter work weeks being made by labor today would make the old-time farmer snort. His work schedule would have killed modern man but he thrived on it.

Their method of keeping perishable food cool was intriguing. They would build a metal basin, prop it up by a window, cover it with canvas and fill it with water from the well. My taste buds were better then, no doubt, but the butter and the fruits and vegetables stored there tasted so much better than anything kept in the modern electric refrigerator.

The Unreality Of Conventions

MIAMI BEACH — "And do you see," asked Socrates, "men passing along a wall carrying all sorts of vessels, and statues and figures of animals made of wood and stone and various materials . . . some of them talking, others silent . . ."

The unreality of political conventions, something like Plato's celebrated image of the Cave, always intrigues the attendants, whether they are neophytes or veterans. The first important American convention, the Continental Congress, 1776, had no more legal standing than those this year in Miami and Chicago. None derive their authority from any national Constitution, written or otherwise.

THE DELEGATES at Independence Hall '76 were so uneasy about the absence of lawful authority that they sought justification in metaphysics. They resolved by their votes that they were acting in the name of "Nature and of Nature's God." Having no precedent for the principles adopted in their platform, the Declaration of Independence, the delegates simply pronounced these to be "self-evident."

Propaganda, as we use the word today, first became a convention instrument when George Washington of Virginia showed up in full military regalia — signifying that he wished to be named commander of the Continental Army. In modern times many delegates especially their lady companions, wear the costumes of their candidates, the most outlandish one in memory being the conskin cap of Estes Kefauver.

THE FIRST Democratic convention, 1836, promptly violated the one-man-one-vote principle by adopting the third rule to make Van Buren's nomination more impressive. Eight years later Van Buren got a nose-count majority, but not two-thirds, and the Democrats named the first dark horse, James Polk. The inspirational quality, as seen in the Continental Congress, soon phased out into cynicism, as ostentation and ulterior purposes took hold. The Whigs and Democrats in the 18th century never met the moral issue of their day, Slavery. Republicans and Democrats down to 1932 ducked and dodged around the controversial question of repealing Prohibition. It was a staggering surprise to the nation in 1948 when the Democrats, finally worked up their nerve to adopt a mild plank on civil rights.

THE MORE mature the convention system became, the more boisterous, boozey and boss-ridden it turned. The calibre of the nominees deteriorated. The parties were not much moved to put up high-class men, considering that the electorate seemed to prefer the mediocrities. The vice presidency, despite its obvious importance in crisis situations, became such a howling joke that a long-run musical comedy was built about it.

Much of the fun has gone out of national conventions this year, and Miami Beach and Chicago have been planned as miniature police states. The old principles of democracy and equality have run amok, and Americans fear each other as never before while pretending to be fraternal.

LOGICALLY, this year would have been the time for the Republican and Democratic conventions to stop being charades and to break out into something that resembles real life. There is much talk in both parties of "open conventions," but the strong men will do all they can to prevent that happening. There will be lusty prayers to open each session, but the party chairman hope everything will go so smoothly that there will be no need to fall back upon God.

Chicago Gets Ready

Convention Plans Tightest Security

CHICAGO (AP) — Officials are preparing security for the Democratic National Convention to deal with everything from a lone sniper to a rebellious mob.

Security forces met Friday to thrash out plans for the convention, beginning Aug. 26 in the International Amphitheatre. Present were representatives of the Secret Service, the FBI, Chicago police, Illinois National Guard, the regular Army and the Democratic National Committee.

AT THE same time, party officials were again denying the recurrent rumor that the convention would be moved from Chicago because of a telephone strike and threatened walkouts by transportation workers.

John B. Griswell, convention executive director, said, "Plans are going along on schedule."

Work already is under way erecting a half-mile fence topped with barbed wire to screen the amphitheatre from crowds — or mobs.

MANHOLE COVERS near the convention site will be guarded or sealed with tar to frustrate the potential underground trouble-maker.

Police armed with rifles, radios and binoculars will watch the convention floor from catwalks high above the delegates.

Convention officials, delegates and others will have to show their credentials at a half-dozen checkpoints before entering the amphitheatre.

The extraordinary measures are in response partly to expectations of thousands of demonstrators in the city during convention and to recent assassinations and riots.

IN THE event of mass arrests, the walled yard of the Cook County jail will be converted to a prison compound. Preparations are being made to facilitate court proceedings, provide volunteer defense lawyers and to mobilize doctors in case of violence.

Some 5,500 National Guardsmen will be stationed in Chicago during the convention, including at least 800 in a park a block and a half from the amphitheatre.

In addition, the city's 12,000 policemen will be on 12-hour shifts.

What Others Say

Credit cards held by the individual to whom they are issued, and used judiciously, can be a blessing.

But if your card is lost or stolen and someone runs up a list of charges for which you are responsible, you are likely to want to tear up all your cards. In their enthusiasm to give everyone a credit card, many companies are now mailing them out un-solicited in envelopes marked "credit card inside."

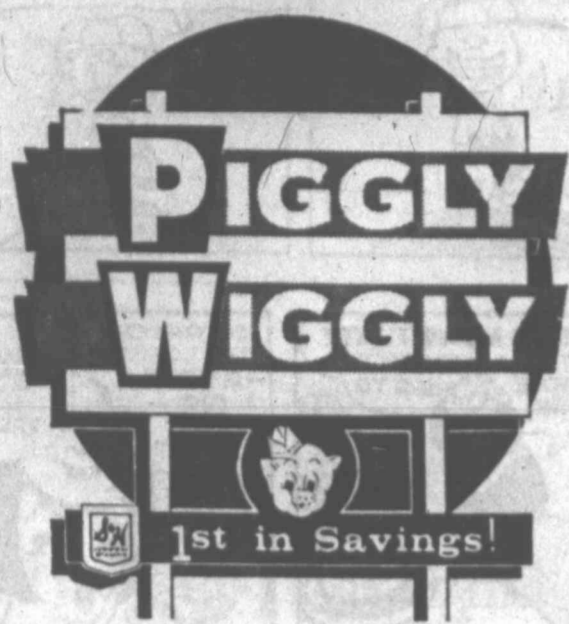

"Little imagination is required to envision the possibilities of theft anywhere along the mail-handling process," says Rep. Richard L. Ottinger of New York. "When, for example, the addressee discovers they have under-written the cost of one or more trans-continental trips on the strength of cards whose existence they had no reason to suspect."

He asks the Post Office Department to require that all credit cards requested by consumers be sent only by registered mail, and that unsolicited cards be prohibited entirely. We support this request.

Rebellious inmates Free Two Michigan Pen Guards

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Two State Prison guards held by rebellious inmates were released unharmed Sunday after a newsman listened to prisoner grievances.

Two ringleaders of the six-hour disturbance were placed in maximum security cells after the meeting. The newsman, Al Spiers of Michigan City, listened with Warden Ward Lane and Anthony Kuharich, state correction commissioner, for more than an hour to various complaints from some 20 prisoners. NOT ABUSED Spiers said the majority of the 150 inmates in the block appeared unconcerned although "about two dozen leaned over the railings of catwalks to see and hear what was going on."

Haitian Trial Hints Sensational Disclosures

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The Haitian government charged today that a British official accused of plotting an abortive invasion last May sent secret messages announcing his move to a hotel "in machine gun distance" of President Francois Duvalier's palace.

tary tribunal at the Jean Dessalines barracks. He is expected to conduct his own defense. Ten of the invaders who landed by plane in a remote region of the country were captured and condemned to death by the same military tribunal trying Knox. However, Duvalier is expected to pardon them.

'DARLING' The trial of David Knox, 44, information director of the Bahamas, opened today. Diplomatic sources said the government had evidence that Knox sent a code letter containing the "machine gun" reference to a woman accomplice addressed as "Darling."

WANTS NEWSMEN At word of the guards' seizure a 50-man Indiana state police riot squad was sent to the prison. With a 22-man prison riot squad it stood by outside the 30-foot-high walls while Kuharich and Lane spent several hours talking with the prisoners outside the cellhouse door.

These sources said South African-born Knox would be charged with five counts of espionage, one of plotting against the security of the state, and other counts that he altered his appearance, tried to bribe Police Chief Frederick Arbel and had contacts with Haitian rebels in the Bahamas before the unsuccessful May 20 invasion.

When the rebellious inmates asked to see a newspaperman Spiers entered the cellhouse. He is Editorial director of the Nixon Newspaper Group, of which the Michigan City News-Dispatch is a member. Grievances aired by the convicts, Spiers said, concerned policies of the State Parole Board and appointment to it last January of John J. Barton, former state police superintendent and former Indianapolis mayor.

MYSTERY But the British government claims that Knox was more Walter Mitty than James Bond—a man who got into trouble because he liked to create an aura of mystery around himself.

Spiers reported. The prisoners said that Barton "is a police officer with a policeman's training and with a policeman's attitude," Spiers reported.

A government spokesman said the trial would include sensational disclosures about "foreign elements" in the United States, Canada and the Bahamas who plotted to overthrow Duvalier's regime.

Officials Claiming First Ironclad Battleship Found

By BOB MARTIN The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — While the proud and mighty battleship New Jersey steams through the Pacific, the antecedent of all battleships rests at the bottom of the ocean just off Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Hatteras is a partnership between the state of North Carolina, which claims ownership under a 1967 law, and the North Carolina Tidewater Services, Inc., a salvage company. Samuel P. Townsend, supervisor of underwater archaeology for North Carolina's State Department of Archives and History, has granted an exclusive permit to the company, under provisions of the new law, to explore for wrecks in a nine-square-mile area directly offshore and to the northeast of Hatteras point.

Simmons, 50, a company director. The water runs to a depth of about 40 feet there. To locate wrecks, the underwater explorers are using a differential proton magnetometer, which is designed to produce outlines of buried metal hulls. The instruments show one outline of 160 to 180 feet by 45 to 50 feet. The monitor measured 172 by 41 feet.

BLOCKADE The 127-foot "cheesebox on a raft" is famous for three achievements: Saving the Union blockade from the ironclad threat of the Confederate ship Merrimac at the battle of Hampton Roads on Mar. 9, 1862; demonstrating the obsolescence of the wooden warship; and making the movable turret a prime feature of most warships.

WATER WRECKS Many of the wrecks in the area are probably buried under shifting sand, said Robert L. Pineda, who is slated to go to trial in 118th District Court the week of Aug. 23, is back in the Howard County jail. He has been at liberty on bond but his bondsmen have asked to be relieved of responsibility for the prisoner. He was picked up by the sheriff and is being held. He must post a new $5,000 bond if he is to be released.

Though Simmons denies that the object of his search is the Monitor, everyone else connected with the project contradicts him. Marx said Simmons had written him that he was "positive" that the instrument found was the ironclad, and that it was at the location Marx had previously reported.

CONVICTION Conviction as a habitual would mean an automatic life sentence, if Pineda is convicted.

Mike Pineda, who is slated to go to trial in 118th District Court the week of Aug. 23, is back in the Howard County jail. He has been at liberty on bond but his bondsmen have asked to be relieved of responsibility for the prisoner. He was picked up by the sheriff and is being held. He must post a new $5,000 bond if he is to be released.

WAY LEFT OPEN FOR CRITICISM OF DEMO CANDIDATE

Red Viet Peace Envoy Raps Nixon

PARIS (AP) — A North Vietnamese spokesman today blasted both the Republican and Democratic parties of the United States, but saved a special attack for the Republican presidential candidate, Richard M. Nixon.

more specific criticism of the Democratic candidate after that party's convention later this month. Nguyen Thanh Le, spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation at the Paris peace talks with the United States, went into American politics at a news conference.

withdrawing American troops from Vietnam." These have been two of the principal demands of the North Vietnamese at Paris. Furthermore, Le argued that before the Paris talks opened Nixon had recommended an intensification and extension of the war in Vietnam. He quoted Nixon as saying that he refused to "sell out" South Vietnam.

Le also said that such an attitude shows that Nixon recommends a perpetuation of the division of the country and a continued policy of neocolonialism in South Vietnam. Le volunteered his comments on the Republican party and Nixon at the news conference. When a reporter asked if he had anything to say about the Democratic party or perhaps Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Le said his government has of late condemned the policies of the Democratic administration. As for the candidates for the Democratic nomination he said "up to now we do not have enough information" to comment. He said the Paris talks "have made no progress and the United States government must bear full responsibility."

When asked about a statement attributed to Humphrey that peace was nearer than at any time, Le said "this declaration is inexact."

Oldest ballpoint pen in the collection is one which was purchased in 1945, the year that type of pen made its appearance on the market. "The price at that time was $12.50," recalls Sgt. Perry. The pen was not retractable. The ink supply came from pouring regular ink through the top and letting it flow down through the felt point. "The best quality of this pen was its ability to leak," the retired sergeant says.

Bridge Test

—CHARLES H. GOREN

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ (to 1968 by The Chicago Tribune) BY CHARLES H. GOREN

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold: ♠K43 ♥952 ♦1094 ♣KQJ

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♠ Pass 1NT Pass 2♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Three spades. Something must be done to compensate for the discouraging nature of your original response. Inasmuch as your high card values fit in so well with partner's hand and he has shown a distributional type of holding, game prospects are bright and a mere return to two spades by you would be inadequate.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠743 ♥109765 ♦43 ♣J7

Your partner opens with two hearts. What is your response? A.—Four hearts. The double raise of a demand bid is a specialized response which promises good trump support but no special high card strength. It denies possession of an ace, king, void, or singleton.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold: ♠A6 ♥QJ863 ♦A753 ♣A4

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1♠ Pass 1♥ Pass ?

What do you bid? A.—Two diamonds. It is recommended that you make it clear, here and now, that this hand must be played at a game contract. Then will follow the process of determining the best contract. A mere bid of two hearts would not be forcing and a jump shift of three hearts would be placing too much emphasis on the heart suit.

Q. 4—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold: ♠107 ♥K106 ♦K754 ♣AJ103

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1♠ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid? A.—One no trump. You have just enough high card strength to make a reopening take-out double but such an action is not recommended in view of partner's expected spade response. A bid of one no trump in this position shows a slightly better than average holding, not 16 to 18 points. With that big a hand, you would double first and rebid no trump subsequently if the opportunity presented itself.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold: ♠AQ75 ♥J95 ♦AK982 ♣4

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North Pass 1♦ Pass 2♥ Pass 2♦ Pass 2NT Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Three spades. While you have the values to raise no trump, it won't do any harm to check up on the possibility that partner might have some four card spade holding he did not consider worth showing.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠AQ7 ♥AQ982 ♦7 ♣AQ32

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass 3♣ Pass 4♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Four spades. Despite the mild nature of partner's initial response, prospects for slam are bright since the hands appear to fit well. If he has king of hearts and king of clubs which seems likely from the bidding, all he needs, in addition, is a secondary spade control which your cue bid in the suit should ferret out.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold: ♠3 ♥A1072 ♦AKJ54 ♣AJ9

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass 2♥ Pass 3NT Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—Pass. Despite the strong nature of the bidding there is no apparent fit present, and no trump appears to be the spot. A no trump your hand is worth 17 points. Since partner has about 13 or 14, slam seems out of the question.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold: ♠AQ7 ♥4 ♦98432 ♣K987

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 3♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid? A.—Pass. While a game is very probably available to your side, it will be difficult at this level to satisfactorily explore for the best contract. We recommend that you settle for a sure profit which, in view of your club holding, should prove quite substantial.

FROM PRAGUE'S REFORMIST LEADERS

Ulbricht Seeks Assurances

KARLOVY VARY, Czechoslovakia (AP) — East German Communist party chief Walter Ulbricht arrived at this Czechoslovak spa today for talks with Prague's reformist leaders on political and economic relations.

Ulbricht was greeted on his arrival by Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek, the man he tried to get the Kremlin to unseat and whose liberal reforms he opposed so vigorously.

Ulbricht and his hosts were expected to give much attention to economic issues and relations with Comecon, the Communist common market. On the political side, Ulbricht was expected to ask the Prague men for assurances that their dealings with West Germany would not harm the position of the Communist regime in East Germany.

Both Czechoslovakia and East Germany, the two most industrialized of the lesser European Communist nations, have large surpluses in their trading account with the Soviet Union and would like some changes made in Comecon so they could get some benefit from the surpluses.

Ulbricht is the second East European Communist leader to journey to Czechoslovakia since party chief Alexander Dubcek and his colleagues weathered the showdown with the Soviet Union over Prague's liberalization policies.

President Tito returned to Yugoslavia Sunday after a visit to underline his full support for Czechoslovakia's reformist regime. The Romanian president and party chief, Nicolae Ceausescu, arrives Aug. 15 to sign a treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance.

Slowdown Romania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, the three most independent nations in the Eastern bloc, have been drawn closer together by the Prague-Moscow showdown. The East German and Polish Communists, fearful that reform in Czechoslovakia would spawn a similar movement in their countries, were the Kremlin's strongest supporters in the dispute. A government spokesman said that as one result of Tito's visit, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia would try to increase their $1.2-$1.4 billion annual trade and develop closer ties between Czechoslovak engineering industries and Yugoslav building industries, a banking consortium and later a joint bank. SURPRISE Ulbricht's surprise visit was considered evidence that his opposition to Czechoslovak liberalization is softening. Meanwhile, one set of Soviet military maneuvers along the Czechoslovak border ended, but another series of war games began. Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said "communities troops" of the Soviet Union, East Germany and Poland had begun exercises near their borders with Czechoslovakia. The government television station in Prague reported the new maneuvers without comment.

In London, the Guardian reported that Czechoslovakia had to agree to eight points as the price for peace in its talks with the Russians. The article by Lord Bethell was based on information from a leading Czechoslovak journalist, who was not identified.

Bethell reported only two of the concessions: severe restrictions on Czechoslovakia's trade and cultural relations with West Germany, and a campaign in the press emphasizing friendship with the Soviet Union and its allies.

Officials at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight center in Greenbelt, Md., said ATS 4 was cartwheeling at the rate of one revolution every 40 seconds and was still attached to the upper stage of its Atlas-Centaur booster rocket.

The drum-shaped satellite, packing a new weather-watching camera built to stalk storms in daylight or darkness, blasted into space Saturday aiming for an orbit that would keep it permanently positioned 22,300 miles over the equator west of South America.

Project officials said the most that can probably be gained is engineering information that will tell whether satellite experiments survived the launch. Officials said ATS 4 cost about $15 million. Its Atlas-Centaur rocket was valued at another $13 million.

A 1964 graduate of Grand Prairie High School, she completed requirements for a bachelor's degree in Spanish with a minor in French this summer. Mrs. Carter is the second Grand Prairie High School graduate to make straight "As" during four years of college here. Mrs. Mary Ann Youngblood, now a teacher in Grand Prairie, was the first, in 1965.

Nixon Maps TV Campaign, Will Slash Hectic Rallies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Republican presidential campaign that will stress television instead of hectic rounds of vote-seeking rallies.

And Nixon seeks also to make the most of his vice presidential running mate, Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, in dealing with campaign issues and in covering territory for the ticket.

TOWER TO HELP
Those themes emerged from the strategy sessions under way during Nixon's working vacation at Mission Bay, a San Diego resort. A new round of talks was set today, while Agnew planned his first independent campaign trip and Mrs. Nixon, with daughter Tricia, sets out for three days of appearances from Seattle to Los Angeles.

Sen. John Tower of Texas, a Nixon ally in the campaign for the GOP presidential nomination and the chairman of his key issues committee, was due in San Diego to sit in on the talks shaping the autumn program.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's chief spokesman, said the nominee and his men already had decided to continue the television emphasis they considered a key weapon during the presidential primaries.

TEAMWORK
Along with that emphasis, Klein said, will come a cutback in the round of personal appearances which has characterized past presidential campaigns. Klein said the Nixon forces realize that when the nominee is going to face a massive television audience, he must have time to rest and prepare.

"This time, there will be adequate preparation," Klein said. That evidently is a lesson learned from the physically exhausting campaign Nixon ran eight years ago. The problem was evidenced most clearly when a tired and haggard Nixon faced John F. Kennedy in the first of their televised debates.

As for teamwork between the two GOP nominees, Klein said Nixon wants to fashion "the most closely coordinated dual campaign in history."

Klein said the staffs of the presidential and the vice presidential nominee will be tied closely together, and their travels—as well as the things they say on issues—will be carefully coordinated.

LESSON LEARNED
This, too, apparently stems from a lesson learned in the narrow defeat of 1960. Henry Cabot Lodge was the vice presidential nominee then, and he sometimes took an independent course.

Ex-Dodgers Great To Support Demos

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, quitting as an aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, says he'll back any Democrat against Richard M. Nixon. His turnabout highlights the expressed unhappiness of some Negro Republicans with the GOP ticket.

Robinson, 49, who broke the color line in major league baseball, said Sunday that Nixon heads a ticket that is "racist in nature" and that the former vice president "has prostituted himself and sold himself out to the bigots in the South."

By selecting Maryland Gov.

Spiro T. Agnew as his running mate, Robinson said, Nixon has handed over control of the party to the Southerners.

BLACK FIRST
The former Brooklyn Dodgers great, who was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1962, declared, "I intend... to support the Democratic nominee, and pray to God that every black man and every minority in this country does the same thing," adding:

"I'm a black man first, an American second and then I will support a political party—third."

He appeared on the NBC-TV program, "Searchlight." Dissatisfaction with his own party was expressed by one Negro delegate to the GOP convention in Miami Beach, Fla., who commented at a private meeting, "The black voter has generally been disenchanted with the Republican party for so long that, in order for the GOP to recapture any significant numbers of blacks, they will have to offer far more than they have to date."

Negro Republican resentment against the GOP ticket sometimes centered about the selection of Agnew.

'HORRIBLE MISTAKE'
William O. Walker, an alternate delegate from Cleveland, said of Agnew: "The thing that disturbs me is how his selection was brought about. This was done by Nixon selling out to South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond."

Wendell G. Freeland, an alternate from Pittsburgh, termed the choice of Agnew "a horrible

Blast Burns Deep Sea Tug

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The charred deep sea tugboat Sturgeon and the barge it was towing were being escorted to Tampa, Fla., by a commercial salvage tug, the Coast Guard reported today.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the tug and the barge, carrying phosphate, might make a temporary stop in Mobile, Ala., en route to Florida.

An explosion and fire occurred in the tug's main engine late Saturday. The Coast Guard said the Sturgeon flashed SOS signals which were received by several passing merchant ships. The S.S. Ansgaritor, a German ship, picked up six crewmen the tug launched in a lifeboat. The tug's master, Capt. F. P. Thomas of Texas City, Tex., and two crewmen remained on board.

All were reported in good condition, the Coast Guard said. The Coast Guard said the Ansgaritor continued to Houston. The tugboat and barge were about 150 miles southeast of New Orleans, en route from Houston to Tampa, when the explosion occurred.

Cemetery Vandals

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP) — Vandals desecrated Calvary Cemetery Saturday night, smashing more than 300 tombstones and statues. Cemetery officials estimated that damage will exceed $100,000, and may run as high as $500,000.

Mayor Says GOP Turns Back On Black People

DALLAS (AP)—Mayor Richard G. Hatcher of Gary, Ind., a Negro, said Sunday that in nominating the Nixon-Agnew ticket "the Republican party has in effect turned its back on the black people of this country."

He told newsmen, "It has shown that it does not seek nor deserve the support of the Negro."

Hatcher discussed the Republican ticket of Richard M. Nixon and Spiro Agnew with reporters while in Dallas to address the 43rd annual meeting of Alpha Kappa Alpha, national Negro women's sorority. The Gary mayor, 35, said he would have preferred New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or Mayor John Lindsay as the GOP presidential candidate—or "perhaps others who have displayed more understanding and compassion for the legitimate aspirations of black people."

He asserted the Republican national convention was basically segregated with only 26 black delegates and "that's as close to lily white as you can get."

Hatcher said, "I hope we will see black people playing a larger role at the Democratic party convention, and that the nominees will more adequately reflect the current needs in this country."

Ike Nearing End Of Critical Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, nearing the end of a critical period of recovery after his sixth heart attack, continues to "show satisfactory improvement." This was reported by doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital in their daily bulletin Sunday.

mistake." Barrington Parker, a delegate from Washington, D.C. said the Nixon-Agnew ticket "isn't going to have any appeal in the District."

Archie Jones, a Negro delegate from Baltimore, said the nomination of Agnew "will not help the ticket."

Mrs. Carolyn Hill Stewart of West Virginia said that GOP political personalities were not attracting enough young Negroes to the party.

Citing young Negro workers for the presidential candidacies of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, both Democrats, she asked: "But who have we got that they're going to do that for—except maybe New York Mayor John Lindsay?"
