Sixty Negro GIs Protest Demo Alert

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Sixty Negro soldiers at this vast armored fort balked when indications arose Saturday that they were being sent to Chicago for possible riot suppression during the Democratic convention.

Military police escorted 43 to the guardhouse, an area of barbed wire, barracks and nighttime searchlights.

A reliable source at the post said the men will be charged with "disobedience of a lawful order from a superior officer." The amount of the penalty is set by the court-martial.

Ready For Trouble

Meanwhile, riot-trained fellow soldiers from this Central Texas installation camped in tents on a grassy stretch between two runways at Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, 65 miles to the south, ready to fly to any trouble spot.

And another huge troop movement centered on Wichita Falls, Tex., 210 miles north. Informed sources said troops were moving there from Ft. Sill, Okla., and on to Chicago aboard C154s.

Military spokesmen restated the Army position that it would not reveal any information about current or future troop movements.

Informed sources and observer estimates placed the number at Bergstrom AFB at about 1,000 and at Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls at about 2,000 although some estimates were higher.

Military Silence

Military silence prevented any accurate count. Chicago sources said advance parties of soldiers already were in the convention city preparing for the arrival of 7,500 Ft. Hood soldiers. In Lawton, Okla., reliable sources said an estimate of 4,000 to 5,000 Ft. Sill soldiers would be "a good guess."

The troops presumably were to supplement thousands of Illinois National Guardsmen, 11,500 Chicago policemen and 2,000 Secret Service and FBI agents.

The Ft. Hood spokesman who reported the demonstration of 60 soldiers during the early morning darkness said the protest was non-violent.

Bible Fund Report

The high school Bible Class fund got its best single day of support as to amount of contribution Saturday when $216 was received. This put the total to $1,169.42, approximately one-third of the way toward the goal after one week of appeals.

Among the donors were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, former residents who now live in Weatherford, but every year they have been staunch supporters of the Bible fund.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

There were signs of fall everywhere, and one of them was the appearance of the first bale of Howard County Cotton for 1968. The 480-pound bale was produced on the H. L. Moates farm near Luther, where it was ginned Tuesday evening. The Chamber of Commerce quickly presented a $500 cash prize in keeping with a long tradition which signals opening of the new harvest. Spotted showers brought some help to a few places in the west and north parts of the county Friday evening, but for the most part cotton is beginning to hurt for rain. If it doesn't come soon, a lot of the plants will throw off fruit.

Appeals for support of the high school Bible Class fund have met with fine response during the first week with over a thousand dollars raised. If the tempo will pick up just a little — and that depends on your help — the annual appeal can be crowned with success within the next week or so. Don't forget to mail or bring your gift to The Herald.

Youngsters had best live it up this week, for it is the final one of the vacation season. In some outlying schools, such as Westbrook, it's all over now for registration will begin Monday. Big Spring (See THE WEEK, Page 4-A, Col. 3)

KREMLIN MIGHT SPEED WITHDRAWAL OF ARMIES

Russians Relax Their Grip

Fight Waged To Condemn Red Invaders

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Jiri Hajek, foreign minister of the liberal regime in Czechoslovakia, told the Security Council Saturday that the Soviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies invaded his country without invitation or justification.

Speaking out at an emergency session of the council, Hajek said the military occupation of his country "cannot be justified by arguments about the alleged danger of counterrevolution."

His appearance was delayed more than three hours by a Soviet demand that East Germany, one of the invaders, be permitted to take part in the debate.

The Western powers accused the Soviets of filibustering and the council finally rejected the Soviet demand 9 to 2, with 4 abstentions. Hungary and the Soviet Union voted no, but the Soviet negative vote was not a veto, since the issue was procedural. Brazil, India, Pakistan and Algeria abstained.

Hajek asserted that until the occupation of his country by the Warsaw Pact allies, Czechoslovakia was under a truly Socialist order.

He said the open debate that was taking place in Czechoslovakia strengthened socialism and communism.

"We supported the broad, popular stream of the people's initiative, under the leadership of Alexander Dubcek," he added.

Hajek arrived in New York Friday. He was visiting Belgrade, Yugoslavia, when the Warsaw Pact forces invaded Czechoslovakia Tuesday night, and he has not been in Prague since.

He told the council that under Dubcek, head of the Communist party of Czechoslovakia, all factions in the country had been unified.

Hajek took note of the debate over East German participation and said it was the policy of his government that existence of two separate German governments is essential to any peaceful settlement in Europe.

Dubcek Reportedly Joins Soviet Talks

PRAGUE (AP) — President Ludvik Svoboda, in a message relayed from Moscow, told his Soviet-occupied nation Saturday night that Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek is at his side in negotiations at the

Ike Suffers New Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported Saturday night that there have been no further episodes of heart irritability affecting former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, but his condition remains critical.

Doctors at Walter Reed General Hospital disclosed that "two sharp episodes of very rapid heart action," which they reported in a Saturday morning medical bulletin, were caused by "centricular fibrillation," the most serious and life-threatening symptom of Ike's present heart attack.

But they said the two particular episodes had been brief, and there had been no further recurrences.

The 8:30 p.m., EDT medical bulletin was as follows:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains critical. However, there have been no further episodes of increased heart irritability resulting in rapid heart action since this morning.

"The general is resting comfortably. Mrs. Eisenhower continues to visit him at frequent intervals.

Reporters asked whether the "marked cardiac irritability" reported in the morning bulletin represented "a serious setback" in the general's condition.

The doctors replied: "A setback, yes." But they did not use the word "serious."

Eisenhower, 77, has been hospitalized at Walter Reed since last May 14. Doctors said the five-star general experienced two short episodes of very rapid heart action early Saturday.

Kremlin to speed a withdrawal of Russian-led armies from Czechoslovakia.

SHOTS HEARD

Svoboda's statement, broadcast by the Free Czechoslovak radio, came as scattered small arms fire broke out in the capital.

Beside Dubcek, National Assembly President Jozef Smrkovsky and Premier Oldrich Cernik — both leaders of the reform government Moscow sought to destroy — were involved in the Moscow talks, Svoboda said.

All three liberal Communist leaders were taken into custody by the Soviets shortly after troops of the Soviet Union and four other Communist countries occupied Czechoslovakia Tuesday.

The announcement, broadcast by the Free Czechoslovak radio network was the first by a Czechoslovak leader confirming that the interned officials actually were taking part in the talks.

GREETINGS

Svoboda left for Moscow Friday with a delegation that included two conservative Communists who have been designated here as collaborators of the Soviets.

They are Slovak Communist party chief Vasil Bilak and Alois Indra.

Svoboda said that the joining of the talks by the three leaders was the reason for his delayed departure from the Soviet capital. He was expected home Saturday.

"Sincere greetings from all members of the delegation," the message from Svoboda said. "I had promised to return the same day. Believe me that in these difficult days I would not stay longer if the interest of our country did not call for it."

"Upon our arrival we started our discussions and felt that comrades Dubcek, Smrkovsky and Cernik should be present and that is also the reason why we are staying on."

In an earlier message over the free radio, Svoboda said the talks "were making progress."

He gave no indication when they would end.

They're Barred, Temporarily, From Convention

Officials of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, unable to resolve a bitter dispute between Georgia State Rep. Julian Bond, left, and Gov. Lester G. Maddox over the state's representation at the convention, voted Saturday to bar both delegations from Monday's opening session. Bond and Maddox are pictured at subsequent separate press conferences at the same hotel where Bond indicated a willingness to accept a credentials committee compromise while Maddox was saying "there'll be no compromise by us."

Democratic Officials Vote To Bar Georgia's Delegates

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic officials voted Saturday to bar Georgia's National Convention delegates pending the outcome of a bitter fight between Gov. Lester Maddox and Negro state Rep. Julian Bond over the state's presidential nominating votes.

The party's National Committee voted to leave Georgia's 44 delegates off the temporary roll for Monday's opening day proceedings after credentials officials reported they were unable to resolve the seating dispute.

WILL FIGHT

Bond said his slate of "Loyal

National Delegates" will fight for all of Georgia's 43 delegate votes if Maddox won't accept a Credentials Committee ruling to split them evenly between the two factions.

Maddox arrived here to map his floor fight to seat all of Georgia's regular party slate and said at a news conference "There will be no compromise by us."

The Credentials Committee, headed by Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, said in ruling to divide Georgia's seats between the two bitterly rival slates that there was evidence Negroes were not allowed full participation in the state's Democratic party affairs.

MUST UPSET

To win all of Georgia's seats, both Maddox and Bond must upset the Credentials Committee ruling, which was approved by the National Committee.

Hughes said if the Maddox camp won't accept the forced settlement, only the Bond group will be seated when the permanent convention roll is adopted Tuesday and Georgia would lose half its votes.

"If the unseated delegation cannot accommodate itself to the committee mandate, then we are prepared to present a full delegation of Loyal National Democrats," Bond said.

Hughes' committee recommended giving the Bond and Maddox delegations 21 seats each with 20% votes apiece, plus seating the present national committeeman and committeewoman who have a full vote each.

OBSERVER

"There would have to be, I assume, Georgia delegates on the permanent roll," said Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey.

Later, the National Committee agreed to admit both the Maddox and Bond groups to the convention hall on Monday as observers.

The National Committee accepted Credentials Committee recommendations on all other seating contests. These included recognition of an insurgent Mississippi slate instead of the regular Mississippi delegation, and a modified loyalty oath for Alabama's delegates—a move to weed out supporters of third-party candidate George Wallace.

MASS EXODUS

Attempts to overturn the Credentials Committee's report concerning Georgia and Mississippi both failed, gaining only 13 votes each.

Georgia's national committeeman, William Cotter, warned that refusal to place the state's delegation on the temporary roll will "cause a mass exodus of Georgians to the Republican Party."

BIG SPRINGERS CHEER TOUGH TALK

Wallace Pros Woo Voters

Rain drove the American Party in Saturday night, but it didn't keep them from coming out for law and order, victory in Vietnam and George Wallace.

The event was an American Party Rally, and the place was supposed to be Amphitheatre at City Park. But thundershowers arrived with the speaking program and 250 people were driven under a pavillion nearby where the program continued with local and out-of-town speakers campaigning for George Wallace of Alabama, the American Party's 1968 presidential aspirant.

Speakers for the former Alabama governor were Glen Jones and Elton Wallace, both of Big Spring, and Dustin Fillmore, Wichita Falls. All three at one time or another touched on law and order, the Supreme Court, the Vietnam war and communism.

Fillmore, an attorney and former assistant district attorney of Dallas County, hit hard at recent Supreme Court rulings and cited justices' rulings on cases concerning communist activity in this country. He also cited various public officials and members of government who had been known to belong to communist organizations.

Speaking about Vietnam, he said that talk of appeasement is the same as talk of defeat. He spoke against a "no-win" policy he said other presidential candidates favored.

"The communists are the only ones fighting for victory," he said. "How can our leaders require a boy to fight enough to die, but not enough to win? The choice of this war is not war or peace, but victory or surrender."

Fillmore said that current laws on civil rights and big government ruling states come from "politicians, bureaucrats and the judges they appoint."

"The American people have the opportunity to change those in government from the top down, and they can do it by electing George Wallace," he said.

Elton Wallace slammed President Johnson's appointment of Abe Fortas, which is now being challenged in Congress.

"Fortas has gone so far as to say that he hopes to resist to the point of disobedience any law he feels is unreasonable or unconstitutional," Wallace said. "George Wallace says he will put the government back where it belongs, in the hands of the people. And not in the hands of those who interpret the law as they see fit."

Jones gave a history of North Vietnam's prime minister, Ho Chi Minh, and his communist activities since 1920. He also said that a coalition government in Vietnam with the Viet Cong would not succeed and it would be overrun by communists.

"There can be no talk of appeasement, but only victory," Jones said. "Appeasement is only surrender on the installment plan."

Winds Lash South Plains

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains that reduced visibility to near zero, large hail and strong winds lashed an area southwest of Lubbock in the South Plains of Texas late Saturday.

Downpours also were reported along the Gulf and inland to Hempstead on the Coastal Plains. A thundershower that struck at Wichita Falls dropped the temperature from 101 degrees to 80 in about an hour.

The South Plains storm centered in Yoakum County where the Weather Bureau put a severe thundershower warning in effect.

The turbulence developed after a weak cold front pushed near Lubbock to touch off scattered thundershowers near its leading edge.

Shortly before midnight scattered light showers fell from near Lawton, Okla., to 30 miles northwest of Abilene to 45 miles northwest of Midland to 60 miles west of Lubbock and just northeast of Muleshoe.

Moderate thundershowers fell east of a line running from Victoria to Austin and into Central Louisiana. Rains that fell at an inch-per-hour rate soaked the area from Katy to Brenham.

Still more scattered showers fell over the area from northeast of Junction to southeast of Childress and from 15 miles north of Tyler to Lufkin to northeast of Austin.

Peace-In-Vietnam Plank Born Loser

CHICAGO (AP) — Though the strong peace-in-Vietnam plank drafted by a minority bloc seemed to face sure defeat in a convention floor fight, members of the Democratic Platform Committee said Saturday they found much of its language "quite acceptable."

"Some of it probably will show up in the finished platform," a committee source predicted privately as the official 22-member drafting team resumed its work behind closed doors and far behind schedule. The source went on:

"But the language is probably far too specific for most of the Platform Committee people. They don't want to tie the president's hands by dictating military and diplomatic moves in advance. They would insist on some considerable changes in wording."

HIGHLIGHTS

The plank, endorsed by Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern, challengers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidential nomination, was announced Friday night by committeemen advocating a speedy, negotiated end of hostilities. Meantime the drafting committee brought to completion a 55-page domestic section of the platform. Chairman Hale Boggs prepared to present it to the full Platform Committee.

These, it was learned, were among the highlights:

Crime—a section titled "Justice and Law" calls for vigorous law enforcement against all violations, including riots, looting and civil disturbances. It also has strong sections on organized crime, the drug traffic and white collar crime.

WELFARE

Welfare—the anti-riot provisions of the crime section are balanced off by pledges of forceful action against the causes of slum outbreaks. The Democrats will pledge new and expanded programs to provide jobs, work-training, better housing and education for poor neighborhoods.

Civil rights—the platform will endorse the recommendations of the National Commission on Civil Disturbances, though the report is not mentioned by name. The Riot Commission's report, issued in March, called for massive financial and other efforts to alleviate racial tensions and eliminate discrimination.

Wallace Adds Oregon As His 43rd State

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — George Wallace picked up his 43rd state ballot position Friday night.

An assembly of electors qualified his name for the Oregon presidential ballot.

Wallace said these state nominations might be all he needs for the November campaign and he might not hold a national nominating convention in his quest for the presidency.

This was in conflict with his earlier plans to call a national convention.

The Oregon convention nominated for vice president Marvin Griffin of Georgia, the man earlier picked by Wallace, and it adopted the slogan "George C. Wallace, Independent, for President."

There was no party name but the delegates chose a slate of electors pledged to Wallace. Under Oregon law 1,000 registered voters had to get up an organization to set Wallace on the ballot.

After the assembly organized and nominated Wallace, the former Alabama governor came from the wings and said, "I do accept."

Security was tight. An estimated 100 uniformed city police joined Secret Service and Alabama state police guards.

A knot of 25 demonstrators carried placards at the coliseum entrance but drew scant attention. Hecklers inside failed to interrupt Wallace's acceptance speech although occasionally he smiled at them or made a quip that brought roaring approval from his supporters.

LIGHTNING BLAMED FOR GAS LINE CONFLAGRATION
Hobbs, N.M. crew called to quell raging blaze east of Lee's store

Isolated Showers Fail To Break County's Dry Spell

A few scattered and sharply restricted areas in Howard County received beneficial showers Friday evening but, in general, the county continues parched and dry.

The promising clouds which began to collect before sunset provided a brilliant display of lightning.

One bolt presumably struck a gas line on the J. O. Whiteside farm about two miles east of Lee's store. The ensuing fire was spectacular and the Coahoma fire truck was called.

The fire was finally put under control after a crew of workers from Hobbs had been sent to the scene. The line was closed off north of IS 20 and southeast of the point of the blaze to stop the flaring flames and permit the workmen to repair the line. The blaze was in Glasscock County.

Actual control of the fire was not possible until after midnight since the crew had to drive from Hobbs to the scene.

Heaviest rain in this county reported was 1.5 inch at Luther and according to residents was largely concentrated on the area in the general vicinity of

The pump station north of Big Spring had 2 of an inch, the Morgan Creek station midway toward Lake Thomas had 3 of an inch, the Big Spring-Odessa intake at Lake Thomas 4 of an inch and the Snyder intake at the dam 4 of an inch. Elevation of the lake was unchanged at 2236.55.

In Big Spring, the average rain was between .10 and .20 inch. Texas Electric Service Company switch plant east of town had only .09. TESCO said Chalk gauged .30 inch. None of the company's other stations reported any measurable rain.

About .20 was reported at Lomax but there were reports that ranches southwest of Lomax had as much as 2.5 inches. Vincent in the extreme northeast corner had .20 with reports of up to .7 inch northeast of there.

Knott had only .20 inch but there were reports of 2.5 inches at Klondike in Dawson County. West of Big Spring toward the Martin County line only light showers fell. Henry Parmenter, who lives between IS 20 and the Andrews highway estimated the fall at .10 inch.

Medals Awarded Posthumously

Mrs. Reynaldo Sanchez has been presented medals won by her husband in Vietnam prior to his death in action April 22. Pfc. Sanchez was awarded the Bronze Star medal with V device posthumously.

Widow Is Given War Hero's Medals

The Bronze Star medal with V device awarded posthumously to Reynaldo Sanchez was presented to his widow in ceremonies at her home, 610 N. San Antonio.

M. Sgt. James R. Conant, Midland Army Recruiter, made the presentation. Also present were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Sanchez Jr., Mrs. Sanchez's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Robles, and his two brothers, all of Big Spring.

Pfc. Sanchez was born Nov. 29, 1943, in Big Spring and attended Big Spring schools. He was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church where he and his wife were married Aug. 4, 1961.

They have two children, Reynaldo Jr., 8, and Gianna, 4, and Mrs. Sanchez is expecting a third child in September.

Sanchez entered the service Sept. 12, 1967, and took his basic training at Ft. Polk, La. He arrived in Vietnam March 12 and was killed in action, April 22.

The medal was awarded "for heroism not involving participation in aerial flight, in connection with military operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam."

Sanchez was serving as point man with the lead element of his battalion during a search and destroy operation near the village of Phuoc Vinh when he spotted enemy movement. "With complete disregard for his personal safety, Pfc. Sanchez remained at this forward position as he placed devastating fire on the well-entrenched Viet Cong" and threw smoke grenades to mark their positions, the citation read. "He again braved heavy enemy fire as he withdrew to the rear and reported approximate location of Viet Cong bunkers to superiors. With this information friendly artillery fire was called in directly on the insurgents," the citation read.

Sanchez led his platoon into the suspected area, according to the citation, and "the insurgents opened fire utilizing automatic weapons and small arms. He courageously advanced through the hostile rounds as he placed devastating fire on the insurgents. He continued this heavy base of suppressive fire until he was hit and mortally wounded by hostile fire."

He was stationed with Co. A of the first battalion of the 18th Infantry.

Judge Resigns In Face Of Misconduct Charges

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge John Hasler of St. Louis County resigned Friday, three days before he was to face charges in the Missouri Supreme Court of misconduct, corruption in office and incompetency.

Gov. Warren Hearnes said he would accept the resignation. The charges were brought by the Missouri House of Representatives June 28 in an impeachment procedure.

The charge stemmed from Hasler's handling of a divorce suit in his court involving Mrs. Shelby.

Jean Shelby, 28, a shapely blonde, Hasler had finally disqualified himself in the divorce case, saying he had become "emotionally involved" with Mrs. Shelby.

The impeachment articles charged Hasler, 56, had advised Mrs. Shelby how she should answer to questions during the divorce trial. He was accused of urging Mrs. Shelby — during meetings they had in motels — to file a cross bill against her estranged husband, Delmar

COY McCANN, CENTER, PRESIDES OVER MOST MEETINGS Explorer Post 3 has 15 members, all interested in agriculture

Explorers To Specialize In Study Of Agriculture

By TEX ROGERS
Scouting is supposed to "round a guy out," but in recent years the scouting program, particularly the Explorers, have moved toward specialized fields with groups interested in law, business, mechanics, and other vocations.

The original idea of an agricultural Explorer Post came from Dr. Paul Koshi of the USDA Research Center, Koshi, a cubmaster in the Cub Scouts, had experience in scouting and was instrumental in getting the program underway. The post gained a sponsor in the Howard County Area Agricultural Workers Association, and Gerald Miller, Soil Conservation Service manager, volunteered as post advisor, and Paul Gross, county agent, agreed to be the post's institutional representative. With that battery of agricultural authorities, Post 3 was on its way.

Since its May inauguration, the post has gained 15 members, meeting regularly on the first and third Monday of each month at the research center.

Coy McCann is president; Allen W. Bunn, secretary; and Rickie Tubb, treasurer.

Dr. Koshi explains that the post is aimed primarily at boys not in scouting who are interested in agriculture, but the post also has boys who are scouts working on advancement and merit badges.

"The main objective is to give the boys a feel of what agriculture is like," Dr. Koshi said. "In 4-H Club work and the Future Farmers of America boys get more specialization in crops or livestock. We try to run the gamut of the various fields of agriculture."

Running the gamut at Post 3 means lectures and field trips on everything from soils to wildlife. Lectures slated for future meetings, Dr. Koshi said, will cover animal husbandry, wildlife, conservation and others. Tours to ranches and farms in the area to view agricultural practices are also slated.

This type of program will enable a boy to get an overall look at agriculture and may help him choose a field in agriculture in which to study and work, Dr. Koshi added.

Film Shooting In Area Due To End This Week

The "Midnight Cowboy" company is now in its final week of filming in the Big Spring-Stanton area, it was announced today. The company has been in the community for over three weeks. This week it will be shooting scenes in this community, at Stanton and at the sand dunes in Monahans State Park.

Jon Voight, the young screen newcomer who plays the title role, distinguished Broadway character actress Ruth White who portrays his grandmother and Jennifer Salt in the role of his first girl friend will participate in scenes to be filmed around the Stanton water tower and courthouse, on the streets, and in and around the old Lamar residence on Broadway.

Ten-year-old Gary Wayne Owens of Corpus Christi and his almost-five-year-old first cousin

Thomas "T-Top" Marlowe Jr. of Big Spring are among the Texans of all ages, mostly residents of the Big Spring-Stanton-Midland area, who have been elected to perform with the stars. The two youngsters will portray Jon Voight as a little boy.

Additional scenes will be filmed later this week at a drive-in theatre and on the sand dunes in Monahans State Park. Previously, the "Midnight Cowboy" company had shot sequences in Big Spring, at the Tower Theatre in Midland, at Mill Creek Pond and at a deserted ranch house on the outskirts of Stanton.

Old Fruit Jars More Valuable

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Old Mason fruit jars are becoming more valuable all the time, says Mrs. Al King of Wichita Falls. The jars are sought as collectors items.

Mrs. King collects the jars. Several of them have dates imprinted in the glass. One reads, "July 14, 1908."

Most early jars were made of glass of some shade of green or blue. Those colors were used until the 1930's. Amber jars date from the last half of the 19th century to about 1917.

The first colorless jars were made in the late 1880's but did not become standard until around 1930.

Purple and lavender jars were originally a colorless glass made before World War I and tinted by exposure to sunlight.

Various jars have been produced since John Mason patented his screw-cap glass jar on Nov. 30, 1858.

Texas Publisher Dies Of Attack

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Forest Kyle, longtime publisher of the Brown County Gazette at Bangs, died Friday after a heart attack. Kyle, in his late 70s, had been active in the Democratic party and numbered among his personal friends former President Harry Truman, President Lyndon Johnson and Gov. John Connally.

Traffic Deaths Slightly Feyer

AUSTIN (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 1,948 persons in Texas this year, down 1 percent from the 1,964 fatalities recorded by this time last year.

Gunman Sought

HOUSTON (AP) — Officers sought the gunman who killed a Negro female impersonator at a Houston lounge Friday night. Officers said Kenneth Hawkins, 32, was shot five times as he danced at the lounge.

Elementary teachers will have grade level meetings at 1 p.m. and go to their respective buildings at 2 p.m. Secondary teachers will meet with their principals at 1 p.m.

During registration Friday all teachers will be on duty at the schools. Classes begin Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Paw-Sucking Pup Poses Problem

CRESTON, Iowa (AP) — Snowball is a paw-sucking pup—the way some babies are thumb suckers.

When Snowball is getting ready to go to sleep or when she gets nervous about something, she lies down and sucks her right hind paw.

"Most of the time she crawls off in a corner or under a chair to suck her paw, but not always," said her owner, Fred Hohnke of Creston.

Snowball is a white pooch—a cross, Hohnke said between a cocker spaniel and a spitz. She's about a year old.

Hohnke said she started her paw-sucking "perhaps six or eight months ago—last winter some time. We don't know exactly when. We first noticed it when we heard the sucking sounds."

WANTS SOME OF ITS PROVISIONS CORRECTED

LBJ Signs Highway Extension

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law a controversial $21 billion national highway law extending over the next six years, the Texas White House announced Saturday.

But Johnson did so with an accompanying statement asserting that "forward looking provisions" in the new law were accompanied by "other sections which I believe to be unfortunate, ill-considered and a setback to the cause of conservation."

The President said he would urge Congress to move quickly to correct what he considered major deficiencies in the measure that expands the interstate highway system.

Johnson also complained about the extension of the interstate system "without any serious study" of future needs and said the new law would dilute protection of many park lands.

Rather pointedly, Johnson noted that Congress, in passing an income tax increase, insisted on sharp cuts in federal spending and said "highway projects will not be immune." On balance, Johnson stated, "I believe the good in this bill outweighs the bad" but repeated his wish that Congress repeal "undesirable features."

The measure provides $12.3

billion in new money for the Interstate and other federal-aid roads and also allocates about $9 billion of previously-voted funds.

In addition, it extends the highway beautification program, a pet project of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's, and establishes a greatly broadened system of relocation payments for persons and businesses displaced by road projects.

The bill adds 1,500 miles to the 41,000 miles already allocated to the interstate system.

The date for completion of the interstate system is extended two years, to June 30, 1974, by the legislation.

The highway beautification program, while extended, is given only a new $25 million one-year authorization by the measure. Johnson had asked $85 million annually for three years.

Other provisions of the law will:

Delay for one year, to Jan. 1, 1970, the penalty for states which fail to implement the national highway safety program.

Authorize new programs of $200 million each in the next two years for traffic improvement projects in major cities and of $125 million each in the same period for special categories of rural highways.

Authorize a demonstration program of use of federal highway funds to help build fringe parking facilities in cities.

The relocation assistance section of the bill establishes for the first time a requirement that such benefits be paid through the nation. Many states do not do this now. The new system must be effective within three years.

The bill provides that persons whose homes are taken and operators of displaced businesses must be reimbursed the full cost of their moving expenses.

Under the old law, such payments are limited to $200 for the home occupant and $3,000 for a businessman. The federal government will pay 100 per cent of the cost to any individual under this program up to a maximum of $25,000 until July 1, 1970.

After that time, the states must pay the same share of the cost that they pay for construction of the highway involved—that is, 10 per cent for the interstate and usually 50 per cent on primary, secondary and urban roads.

Holiday Death Forecast At 46

AUSTIN (AP) — The Department of Public Safety estimates 46 persons will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the Labor Day weekend.

Lt. Col. Wilson Speir, acting DPS director, said a special "Operation Motorcade" will be activated from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 30, to midnight Monday, Sept. 2. During this period, all uniformed DPS officers and equipment will be used to enforce traffic laws.

YOUR MONEY

By CHARLES E. BEIL

In the late '60's and through the 1970's, a tremendous boom in college enrollments is being planned for by the nation's colleges and universities.

The children of the immediate post-war years will swell the coming class rooms and dormitories to overflowing.

Yet even with rapid expansion of facilities and long range planning, authorities admit it's going to become more difficult for a student to get into the college of his choice.

This is a factor every parent should bear in mind. A college education is going to become even more important in the decade ahead . . . and long range family planning is vital to make that schooling possible.

An important part of that planning is regular savings with our association, where you enjoy insured safety and the higher dividends that make your savings add up faster. Open that "college fund" savings account with us now!

Cotton Goal For 1969 Is Put At 14 Million Bales

LUBBOCK — Current indications are that the goal for cotton production in 1969 will be set by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in the neighborhood of 14 million bales, according to Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Johnson commented on prospects for increased cotton acreage and production at a meeting of the Plains Ginners Association board of directors.

He pointed out that if projections of 1968 production and 1968-69 consumption prove correct the carryover of cotton on Aug. 1, 1969 will be down to below four million bales.

Many observers in the trade and at mills are guessing 1968-69 consumption by domestic and export markets at around 13.5 million, which if correct, would bring the Aug. 1, 1969 carryover down to 3.8 million.

The big factor determining the level of plantings in 1969 will, of course, be the provisions of the 1969 cotton program.

USDA must declare marketing quotas and announce major details of the 1969 program by Oct. 15 of this year, and increased acreage is indicated.

Defenders Of Green Beret Camp Cling To Their Posts

SAIGON (AP) — Outnumbered more than six to one, the allied defenders of a Green Beret camp clung stubbornly to their position for the second day Saturday despite repeated assaults by an estimated 3,000 North Vietnamese troops.

Armadas of U.S. planes pounded the enemy regiment seeking to overrun the Duc Lap camp 130 miles northeast of Saigon. On the ground, the allied force of about 15 American Special Forces troops and 400 South Vietnamese irregulars guarding the outpost reported heavy fighting was continuing at nightfall.

LOTS OF BODIES

American spokesmen said there was no accurate information on casualties but air observers reported "a lot of enemy bodies are strung along the wire perimeter."

U.S. helicopter gunships, tactical fighter-bombers and flare-bombers in the massive effort to hold back the enemy. They laid down a deadly carpet of bombs, rockets and machine gun fire. Other fighting was reported continuing near Quang Ngai

City about 330 miles northeast of Saigon. South Vietnamese commanders said 200 enemy had been killed there in two days of running action.

The area around Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, was reported quiet after a series of sharp attacks Friday.

BATTLE PLANS

Military spokesmen said battle plans found on the body of a dead Viet Cong officer showed the enemy had hoped to move enough troops into Da Nang early Friday to maintain a 10-day battle in the city of 320,000.

The plan was thwarted when allied troops learned of the plan from a prisoner and decimated the enemy's advance companies in the village of Hoa Vang, two miles south of Da Nang.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the 1st Corps area, said the combined force of Vietnamese Rangers and U.S. Marines had killed about 200 enemy soldiers and were pursuing remnants of the two enemy battalions committed to the initial attack.

Lam displayed the captured battle plans that included minute details of the Da Nang air base, the city streets and military installations.

He said the immediate threat to Da Nang was over and that he planned to relax the 24-hour curfew imposed on the city Friday.

BLAST BOATS

In addition to two B52 strikes near the Duc Lap camp, the stratofortresses flew nine other missions late Friday and early Saturday in the Mekong Delta, provinces west of Saigon, the central highlands and far northern areas. Targets were listed as troop concentrations, base camps and infiltration routes.

American fighter bombers flew 113 strike missions over North Vietnam Friday and pilots reported destroying or damaging 74 trucks, 13 supply boats and eight bridges.

Johnson Talks Politics At His Alma Mater

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, addressing summer commencement exercises at his alma mater, said today Americans must work during the 1968 political campaign "to ensure that not only rhetoric but reason will prevail."

Flying by helicopter from his ranch home to Southwest State College, Johnson delivered a philosophical address on the realities of American-style electioneering.

Johnson said the oratory to be expected from candidates this fall "quite properly will deal almost entirely with the problems that beset us . . ."

" . . . We must hope that this campaign," Johnson said, "with all its noisy debate about unfinished business, will somehow lift the national spirit, will make our people eager to get on with the business of the next four years—and not embitter them in a frenzy of charges and countercharges."

But he made it clear that he too will be heard.

Johnson said that "the voice you hear will be the voice of an optimist."

The President spoke before a rather sparse crowd in the college athletic field. There was little advance notice of his coming.

The Johnsons flew to the ranch from Washington Friday to resume work-rest vacation started the first part of the month when Congress adjourned for the political conventions.

There was no word on Johnson's schedule for the rest of the month.

THE WEEK

schools kick off Sept. 3.

The week brought more than its share of tragedy and near-tragedy. Mrs. Beatrice Templeton, 44, injured Monday in a car mishap near Robert Lee, died Wednesday. Jack Langdon, 26, of Racine, Wis., was killed when his truck hit a highway tractor off IS 20 east of Colorado City Tuesday. There were injuries in a car-truck crash at the south edge of Big Spring and in the collision of two big trucks on US 87 just south of town during the week. IS 20 was blocked for 10 hours in eastern Howard County Tuesday night when a truck loaded with high explosives overturned. J. A. Smith was wounded in a stabbing incident, and at Lufkin, where he was supervising a construction job, Fred Kasch fractured his skull in a fall.

Another sign of autumn was the call for football candidates to report early Monday morning for first workouts. High school bandmen, under direction of Bill Bradley and his chief aide, Don Turner, already were practicing 210 strong. There will be three units — the symphonic, concert and cadets — plus the 175-piece marching band and several small ensembles. Garden City's Jack Woodley was named vice president of the Texas Six and Eight-Man Coaches Association and next year is due to head it. This year, Lamesa's Donald Jay heads the Texas Coaches Association.

Politics, looking to the general election in November, were stirring, too. American Party backers of George Wallace rallied here Saturday evening, and Roger Brown was off to Chicago as an alternate to the National Democratic convention which opens on Monday. After Labor Day, campaigning will begin to step up on all fronts.

There were two changes in service club presidencies. Jess Looney took over from Sidney Clark, who had a conflicting commitment which prevented him serving as the Breakfast Optimist Club chief, and Lowell Jones stepped up to the Rotary Club presidency, succeeding Joe Price, who moved to Lubbock as manager of the Pioneer Gas office there. (Dearl Pittman, here with Pioneer since 1962, succeeds him as this district's manager.) Jim Thompson was named president-elect of the Kiwanis Club.

Shooting on "Midnight Cowboy," a modern-type western, moves from here to Stanton this week as producers make use of some three sets there, including the old Lamar home, and possibly the Milhollon place and a boot shop.

Dr. Ove Arthur Erdal came to the VA Hospital to replace Dr. Andrew Para, who is taking two months leave to fly around the world. Most of his two months will be spent working in Vietnam on an American Medical Association project at his own time and expense. Dr. Para previously gave volunteer service in Vietnam in 1960.

Luther E. Griffith died here at the age of 96, further thinning the ranks of our real oldtimers. The veteran T&P conductor came here in 1906, thus spent more than three score years in the community and outlived all his large family except three sons. He retired from the railroad in 1944.

Czech Resistance Spreads; They're Testing Russians

LONDON (AP) — Evidence mounted Saturday that Czechoslovakia's patriot population after four days of Soviet occupation has turned into a massive resistance force rivalling storied underground movements of the past.

Creeping sabotage, some active and some passive, appears to be spreading through Czech and Slovak ranks with such remarkable ingenuity the occupation troops are finding few targets for their guns.

SAME DEAL

To the nation of 14 million, it is not a new thing. They did it to the Hapsburgs. They did it to the Nazis. And now they're testing the Russians, Poles, Bulgarians, East Germans and Hungarians. Czechoslovak leaders, still remarkably able to operate clandestine radios over varying and shifting frequencies, are keeping their people and the world outside informed. Their advice to the people is to avoid any clashes but simply to refuse to collaborate.

They claim the results are exhilarating: "There are no Quilings."

NO NEED

Specific advice is being given on what to do about specific things. For example:

A Soviet train loaded with radar, radio tracking and jamming equipment was stopped for lack of electric power and the clandestine radios said simply: "Comrades railwaymen, we thank you."

In Prague and elsewhere, citizens removed street and road signs. Said Free Prague radio listeners: "You know where you live. There's no need for the rascals knowing."

Uranium miners at the Tachov Works notified Prague they were going to work "But not a gram" of uranium will reach the surface as long as the Russians are around.

The slogan voiced everywhere was: "Prague exists only when it is Czech."

Slogans and posters continue to appear behind the backs of the occupation troops. One in Prague said: "Lenin wake up; Brezhnev has gone mad."

Kasch Shows Improvement

Fred Kasch, Big Spring contractor, who was gravely injured Thursday in a fall from a roof, is making steady improvement at the Methodist Hospital in Houston.

Friends here were informed Saturday afternoon that the doctors at the hospital are well pleased at the progress that Kasch is making. He was said to be partially conscious on Saturday and that the fear of internal bleeding has diminished.

Kasch, a partner in Kasch Bros., Inc., a Big Spring-based construction firm, sustained a fracture at the base of the skull in a fall from the roof of a one story building at Lufkin Thursday. He also had a fractured left arm and other injuries.

Reports reaching here indicated that his condition was satisfactory, considering the seriousness of his injury, and that he was resting well.

He was rushed to the Methodist Hospital in Houston following the mishap in order that he could be under the care of specialists. He was supervising the pouring of a roof deck on the Lufkin Junior College job when he somehow fell to the floor below. Mrs. Kasch flew to his bedside and has remained there.

Six Minor Accidents

Six minor traffic accidents were investigated Friday by Big Spring patrolmen.

Cars driven by Lewis S. Pederson, 504 Benton, and Joe Gomez, 1111 N. Goliad, collided at Fourth and Benton at 10:51 Friday. Both cars were going south, police said, and the Pederson auto had $125 damage to its left front, and the Gomez car had $75 damage to its right rear.

Minor damage was done at Third and Main at 12:42 p.m. when cars driven by John W. Ernst, El Paso, and Carol Phillips Drake, 1315 Stadium, collided. The Ernst vehicle was backing up and the Drake car was starting to park when they collided, police said.

Maple Proffitt, 432 Westover, and a car registered to Eddie Chevez, Big Spring, were in collision at Gregg and Edwards Blvd. at 4:45 p.m. Friday. Police said the Proffitt car, going south, had $75 damage to its right front fender.

Carl T. McGlothlin, 2703 Apache, and Melissa Gay Cunningham, 1308 Sheppard Lane, were driving cars in collision at 5:19 p.m. on Thorpe Road. The McGlothlin car, going west, had $200 damage to its left front, and the other auto had $225 damage to its front, police said.

France Joins H-Bomb Club

PARIS (AP) — France became the world's fifth hydrogen bomb power Saturday, exploding a device of "great power" at its test center in the South Pacific, the government announced.

The blast made France a member of an unharmonious club whose first member was the United States, which exploded its first hydrogen device Nov. 1, 1952. The Soviet Union set off its H-bomb in 1953, Britain in 1957, and Communist China in 1967.

The Defense Ministry said the device was detonated at 2:30 p.m. EDT above a lagoon in Fangataufa, in French Polynesia. The area, once called Cockburn Island, had a population of 175 until the French began nuclear testing there.

President Charles de Gaulle, commenting on the blast, said it was a "magnificent scientific, technical and industrial success carried out for the independence and security of France by an elite of its children."

The manufacture of the bomb, widely criticized in France as wasteful and unnecessary in relation to France's role in world affairs, had been almost an obsession for the 77-year-old general in establishing his nation outside any major power bloc.

Bartolome Saiz Garcia, Brady, was involved in an accident at Edwards and Gregg at 8:14 p.m. in which a city street sign was hit, police said.

About $50 damage occurred to a car driven by Jessie Arnold Evans, Big Spring, and $75 damage was done to a car driven by Andrew Nieland, 2506 Apache, at Wasson Road and FM 700 about 10:40 p.m. Friday. Police said both cars were going west and damage was to the rear of the Evans car and front of the Nieland auto.

Humphrey Talks Crime, Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, asserting that the nation is losing the battle against crime and violence, said Saturday "we must move massively to reduce crime and to establish order now."

Humphrey cautioned also against surrendering "to demagoguery which has no solutions, only greater fear and a willingness to accept repression."

POLICE-STATE

"That road," added Humphrey, "leads not to domestic tranquility, but to police-state practices that destroy freedom and divide a people."

Humphrey issued a "preliminary statement on order and justice" on the eve of taking his quest of the Democratic presidential nomination to Chicago for the Monday opening of the party's national convention.

His statement was a package of Humphrey proposals, most of them made previously, on fighting crime and violence, including organized crime and riots. On the latter, the vice president said, "as we reduce the human misery of our ghettos; establish social justice for all Americans; and eliminate discrimination, we will sharply reduce the threat of riots borne of discontent. This is our goal."

"But as we seek solution to these problems, we cannot tolerate lawlessness and riots. However great the grievance we must face the fact that every riot is unlawful. We will not condone this violence. It must and will be ended."

But this, Humphrey said, does not mean "stifling legitimate protest or peaceful assembly."

RIOT CONTROL

Humphrey said that if President he would direct that National Guard units in each state be given additional training in riot control and that small, highly trained units be kept on continual alert for use by any community for short-term service.

Americans, said Humphrey, must commit themselves "to make life worth living for every American."

Among his proposals, Humphrey called for:

—Increased federal aid to states and communities to recruit, train and pay more policemen.

—Licensing and registration of firearms, through action of Congress if the states fail to act.

—Assistance to courts in increasing personnel and in cutting the heavy backlog of cases.

Mrs. R.V. Hart In Baird Hospital

Kenneth Hart, 804 Johnson, was notified Saturday that his mother, Mrs. R. V. (Chellie) Hart, was taken to the Callahan County hospital in Baird earlier in the day.

Mrs. Hart, longtime resident of Big Spring, has been residing at the Golden Holiday Rest Home the past four years. Her condition has deteriorated in recent weeks.

Nigeria, Biafra Still Deadlocked On Food Routes

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Nigeria and secessionist Biafra agreed Saturday on the simultaneous use of land and air corridors for transporting relief supplies to starving war refugees, but deadlocked on the proposed sites for such corridors.

Negotiations were postponed until Monday. Biafran and Nigerian delegates refused to comment on the deadlock after a three-hour meeting at Jubilee Palace with Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie.

The initial agreement was reached Saturday morning when the two sides met for the first time in 10 days. Secretary-General Diallo Telli of the Organization for African Unity had expressed hope the sites for relief corridors would be agreed upon during the afternoon session.

The civil war has dragged on for more than a year and thousands of civilians have been reported dying daily as a result of a blockade by Nigerian federal troops around the Biafran sector of Eastern Nigeria.

Eight Perish In Fire Fight

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP)—Seven teen-age fire fighters and their adult foreman died battling a wind-whipped brush fire Saturday in the Los Angeles foothills. Three others were injured.

The youngsters were trying to stretch a hose from a fire truck over a blackened hill top when a gust of wind blew flames up a funnel-like canyon and over them. The fire rushed 400 yards past them toward a ridge.

None of the dead was immediately identified.

OUT OF CONTROL

The Los Angeles County Fire Department said they were between 15 and 17 years old and wards of juvenile court.

A department spokesman said the boys fight fires under an agreement between the county probation camp and the forestry department.

The injured were evacuated

Minutemen Wage Gun Battle With Troopers

VOLUNTOWN, Conn. (AP)—Raiding Minutemen waged a gun battle with waiting state troopers as they descended on a pacifist camp early Saturday. Four of the raiders, a trooper and a woman resident of the camp were wounded.

The six invaders were arrested. State police, who said they were notified in advance about a planned attack on the New England headquarters of the Committee for NonViolent Action, were posted in the general area.

When the Minutemen were spotted, said State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy, "we identified ourselves and the firing began."

WORE MASKS

Arrested were six Connecticut men, described by Mulcahy as Minutemen—a group said by the Federal Bureau of Investigation to be a "secret, extremist and anti-communist organization."

The pacifist center in this eastern Connecticut community is a training ground for pacifist activities.

The raiders—some of them managed to get into the pacifist center's farmhouse—were heavily armed, carried inflammables and wore masks.

Mulcahy said his troopers stalked out the area of the pacifist center after being notified by the FBI of a plan to attack the farmhouse headquarters.

SIX CHARGED

All six men arrested were charged with conspiracy to commit arson and assault with intent to kill.

They were identified as Louis Rogers, 24, of Lisbon; Thomas J. Hart, 30, of Milford; said by Mulcahy to be the "self-styled leader of the Minutemen"; Alphonse Macha, 29, of William

Plugged-Back Wildcat Test By Petrofina

American Petrofina of Texas, Big Spring, No. 1 Wilder has been filed as a plugged-back wildcat to test the Strawn at 15,450 feet in Loving County.

The venture originally was drilled by the Natural Gas and Oil Corporation by Freepoint Oil Co. of Houston as a producer in the Grice-East (Atoka) pool. It was drilled to 20,150, then plugged back to 16,496, but the zone since has been depleted. Location is 1,980 from the south and east lines of section 36-76, PSL, 16 miles northeast of Mentone.

In Sterling County, Pan-American No. 1 W. N. and L. R. Reed, 1,980 from the north and 660 from the west lines of section 16-30, W&NW, has been completed as a Wolfcamp discovery 16 miles northwest of Sterling City. Operator bottomed at 7,825, plugged back to 7,538 and perforating from 7,296, top of pay, to 7,330. The 4 1/2-in. string was set at 7,400. In 24 hours of pumping, it made 20 barrels of 38.9 gravity oil, had gas-oil ratio of 250-1, and made two barrels of load water. Operator treated with 500 gallons of mud acid, then 2,000 gallons of acid with 400 cubic feet of nitrogen per barrel.

PAN AMERICAN PETROFINA CORP. No. 1 F. C. Holcomb is to be a 12,300-foot Fusselman explorer in Martin, 15 miles north of Lenora.

Drill site is 600 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 45, block 38, T-2-N, T&P survey. It is four miles south east of Devonian production in the Breedlove, East field, 1 1/2 miles southeast of a depleted Dean-Wolfcamp well, 2 1/2 miles northeast of Sulphur Draw (Dean) reservoir. Midwest Oil Corp. of Midland No. 2 L. C. Drum which has shown as the second producer from the Strawn in the multipay Myrtle, Northwest pool in Borden County, has found possible shows for Ellenburger production.

A drill test was run at 8,300-8,340 feet at that horizon. The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 450 feet of black 40-gravity crude, 270 feet of heavily oil- and gas-cut drilling mud and 750 feet of slightly gas-cut salt water.

Initial shut-in bottomhole pressure, after 1 1/2 hours, was 3,388 pounds. Flowing pressure was between 299 and 616 pounds. Final shut-in pressure, in three hours and five minutes was 3,140 pounds.

Farmers Roll Out Green Carpet For Big Springers

By TEX ROGERS

St. Lawrence farmers threw out a lush, green carpet to welcome Big Springers Friday when 36 local people visited Glasscock County in the third annual St. Lawrence tour.

Although welcoming carpets are usually red, the one in St. Lawrence was of green, growing cotton fields and orchards as the visitors from Howard County saw outstanding farming and ranching areas.

Visiting At St. Lawrence

G. G. Morehead, left, Big Spring; Lawrence B. Hoelscher, center, St. Lawrence farmer; and George Baker, Ft. Stockton newspaperman, visit Friday at St. Lawrence Hall during the Big Spring tour of St. Lawrence community. Baker is a candidate for state representative of Glasscock County and Morehead was a member of the tour.

The tour, sponsored by the retail and agriculture committees of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, was headed by Edwin Bednar, who was in charge of arranging the visit, and conducted by Oliver West, Glasscock County agricultural agent.

TALL IN COTTON

High spots during the day, when a bus was boarded, began at 8:30 a.m. and ended at 4 p.m., were visits to the Edwards Brothers Ranch, Lorin McDowell Ranch, James Currie Commercial Pecan Orchard, and St. Lawrence Gin. The visitors also saw hundreds of fields tall in cotton, golden in maize, covered with watermelons and thick in alfalfa.

During a break at noon the tour stopped at the St. Lawrence Community Hall for a filling barbecue meal and a long visit with the people that grew these crops—the St. Lawrence farmers.

The tour began with a stop on the Edwards Brothers Ranch, where West and Glasscock County Commissioner D. W. White joined the Big Springers. Bill Edwards showed his range management practices and cotton fields.

UNDER PLAN

The Edwards Ranch has some 65 sections of pasture land for cattle and 2,400 acres under plow. Cotton takes up almost 800 acres with maize grown on the rest.

An automatic moving sprinkler irrigation system waters 340 acres of the cotton and 400 acres in on dry land. Edwards watered cotton averages about 750 pounds per acre.

One point on the Edwards Ranch tour was a 212-acre pasture that had recently been sprayed to eradicate mesquite. Edwards said that his extensive clearing project on the tract had allowed him to maintain 16 heifers on the pasture year around with calves. Before then only five cows could feed on the tract.

WATER

On Edwards' irrigated land care is taken to recover all the water that comes from the ground. A recovery well is in the middle of the large field to take all runoff water back into the ground.

Cattle breeding on the ranch is always in the experimental stage with the Edwards brothers cross breeding Hereford, Brangus and Charolais cattle in search for a heavier calf at weaning time.

Accurate records of all cattle production is the main objective of the Lorin McDowell Ranch, just south of the Edwards Ranch.

Records are kept on every cow and bull that produces a calf, but the work doesn't stop there. Calves are recorded when they are born and their weights are logged during their growing time right up to the slaughter house after they are sold.

Taken To Hospital

KNOTT (SC) — Spec. 4 Michael Jackson, who was wounded in Vietnam, has been airlifted to Ft. Hood Army Hospital. His wife, the former Ethel Shockley, is with him. She was accompanied to the hospital by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shockley, who have returned home.

may be changed every three or four years, he said, for something new that will offer better weight. His latest breeding plans have brought results, however. Steers this year averaged 650 pounds on the market while the calves averaged about 600, he said.

MESQUITE CONTROL is conducted on the entire McDowell Ranch. All land was sprayed for mesquite and some had to be root plowed for better clearing. With improved land the McDowells run 20 head of cattle per section.

"We try not to overstock our land right now, because if we did we would be back where we started," he said. "We are aiming for 30 head per section, though."

REALISTIC VIEW

McDowell does take a realistic view of the mesquite and cactus problem on his ranch: "You can't ever eradicate brush or cactus, just control it."

On the James Currie Commercial Pecan Orchard, five long years of time and money have been put into its operation, and at least three years remain before a return can be seen.

Currie, a longtime native of Glasscock County, said the pecan orchard was started in 1963 on 80 acres of land. Since then 5,000 trees have been planted. In 1965, 806 trees started the orchard, and 955 more were planted in 1964. But the next spring some 1,765 trees had to be planted, and 90 per cent of the 1965 plants and 50 more of the 1964 plants were replaced. Most of the replacement resulted after severe frosts.

Currie said that frosts in 1967 and this year set the orchard back at least two years. Now, it will take from three to five years before the orchard can be in full production.

Other farms seen were the Horace Underwood and Fred Hoelscher farms where alfalfa and cotton and milo were growing strong.

Dead Teen Found In Refrigerator

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas teenager was found dead Friday, shut inside a refrigerator on the back porch of his home in the city's Oak Cliff section.

Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg ordered an autopsy. Detectives said the victim, Joe Cazares, told two teenage companions that he believed abandoned refrigerators were not dangerous and that a person, if shut inside accidentally could easily kick his way to freedom.

Convention Confusion In Chicago

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The mind boggles.

Consider, for instance, the license plates on the official cars. Beneath the image of the Democratic donkey appears the slogan: "Land of Lincoln."

But that is only a minor irony amid the confusion surrounding the Democratic National Convention which opens Monday, a quadrennial gathering never known or good order or textbook logic in the first place.

GRAND MESS

Nor is the confusion limited to the grand mess caused by assorted strikes and threatened strikes of taxi drivers, bus drivers, telephone installers; mobilization of army troops and police riot squads; an influx of bearded and sandaled thousands bent on marching in the streets; or the predictable Chicago convention inconveniences involving lost hotel reservations, mobbed elevators and squadrons of flies wafted into the amphitheatre on easily identifiable westerly zephyrus from the neighboring stockyards. As one example, there is the matter of security.

To those who arrived early and needed to get inside the amphitheatre, police issued carefully numbered badges. Not unusual, in view of all the rumors of impending trouble.

Later came the announcement that the badges would expire Friday at midnight.

TIGHTENING UP

The reason had to do with the Secret Service tightening the security; the numbered badges apparently had been given out too indiscriminately. What would replace them? Badges issued by the news organizations themselves—to whomever they pleased.

As it turned out Saturday, however, the numbered badges didn't expire after all. "I don't know why," shrugged a Democratic National Committee official. "They were supposed to."

Because of the taxi strike Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, the host for the convention, has hired 300 buses at a cost of $20,000 a day to carry delegates from their hotels to the amphitheatre.

And to make the trip more pleasant he had six-foot fences built along the route in front of all the unsightly vacant lots and rubbish heaps. Daley overlooked the fact that from a bus, if not from a taxi, one can see right over the fences.

As for political confusion, begin, as the clerk does, with Alabama.

Dead Teen Found In Refrigerator

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas teenager was found dead Friday, shut inside a refrigerator on the back porch of his home in the city's Oak Cliff section.

Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg ordered an autopsy. Detectives said the victim, Joe Cazares, told two teenage companions that he believed abandoned refrigerators were not dangerous and that a person, if shut inside accidentally could easily kick his way to freedom.

Police found no immediate indication of foul play.

Wall Of Statistics Hides Farmer's Face

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern cotton farmer feels it as the new-turned earth, pungent and moist, holds promise for a better year ahead.

The plainsman, his eyes red from sun and dust, feels it as he watches the horizon for a promising dark cloud to halt the dustdevils that dance capriciously across the dry land.

Negroes, in capturing the agony and promise of their people, call it "soul"—the mournful grace that, some blacks claim, escapes the white man.

Agriculture, too, has its soul. And, more frequently than not, it is ignored by many who profess to know farming best.

It is easy to understand why the soul of rural America is not readily seen or examined, because the wall of statistics—figures and phrases describing parity, gross income, cost-price squeeze, net worth, poverty, subsidies and government programs—hides the face of the farmer.

Fortunately for the American consumer, most food and fiber is produced by farmers who are resourceful.

The commercial farmer's problems, says Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, can be softened through continuation of government programs aimed at gearing production to what he calls effective demand and thereby raising incomes.

In the harsh light of economic success, it is tempting to argue that an economically sound farming operation is conducted with more of an eye toward profits and little consideration of soul.

But, there are investments available today that would guarantee higher returns than agriculture.

Many farmers, therefore, whether large and successful or small and marginal, till the land because they would rather do that than anything else in the world.

Freeman put it this way last week to the Democratic Party's platform committee when he urged "elevating small, non-commercial farmers to wherever possible, and, where not possible, to provide other sources of income for the marginal farmer in order to help him stay on the land—and off the city welfare rolls."

The Department of Agriculture has many programs aimed at helping small, poverty ridden farmers stay on the land. Many types of long-term loans are provided to help them buy land, build homes, buy machinery and livestock and operate their enterprises effectively.

Most farmers, large and small participate in the government's price-support and production-control programs; even though not all favor the way such programs are operated.

Programs aimed at helping poor farmers, on the other hand, sometimes are blunted by the very agricultural soul that distinguishes farming as a cultural practice and not solely an economic exercise.

Many simply prefer poverty on the land to relative affluence in a city, a truth as solid as it is difficult to comprehend for some.

A department report said recently that communication with poor rural people is one of the biggest problems in lending them a hand.

"The poor, too, have their pride," the report said. "A certain distaste in having to take something for nothing may pre-dispose many among them to shun or to give only token recognition to the common efforts of professional philanthropy."

"Such problems are a general manifestation of most of the poor, regardless of color."

COMBINES MOVING INTO FIELDS LIKE THIS Howard County's grain crop should be fair to excellent say farmers

Grain Harvest Has Started, Cotton Picking Close Behind

By SAM BLACKBURN

With the first bale for 1968 already ginned and on display, the nearness of the cotton harvest in this county becomes acutely evident.

Already, farmers are checking fields and noting the number of bolls which are opened and will soon be ready for picking. However, heavy foliage this year will possibly delay the crop a bit — which, if it should rain will be all to the good.

Meantime, the beginning of the grain harvest is under way. Clyde Eager, with Kimbell Mills, estimates his plant has already handled a million pounds of Howard County grain and the combines have not actually begun to move as yet.

There is a good chance that the grain will run as much as 1,000 pounds average to the acre. The county was allotted 80,203 acres for sorghum, but nearly 40,000 of this acreage was diverted. Of the remaining 40,000 not all was planted and a guess is that the actual fields in sorghum will total around 37,000 to 38,000 acres. If the 1,000 pound average should hold, there is a chance of a crop of 35,000,000 pounds. Unfortunately the price is lower this year than last year, which tarnishes the otherwise happy picture offered by the lush prospect for a good grain crop.

Meantime, farmers are divided on the status of the current cotton crop. Many say that the prolonged dry weather since July 20 and the light rains which fell in July have badly damaged prospects. Others are more optimistic — they do not think the crop is badly burned as yet, but they are gravely concerned over the continuing lack of rain.

Howard County has about 52,000 acres in cotton and there was a time when the prospects appeared good for an average of a bale an acre. Few seasoned observers expect that big a crop, however. They do think there will be "a lot of cotton" this fall.

The first bale, which H. L. Moates brought in from Luther last week, is nearly two weeks earlier than the first bale of 1967. Last year's first bale was ginned Sept. 1. It was produced by Raymond Neill, who gathered it from 13 acres of cotton about two miles east of town. Farmers and ginners do not look for any additional ginnings in the immediate future. They point out that now the first bale has been ginned and the $500 bonus awarded, there is little incentive to get other bales to the gin.

Particularly since any such bales would have to be hand-picked and such harvesting is extremely expensive, in view of the depressingly low prices most growers expect for their crop.

Some cotton, the ginners think, may show up in two or three weeks, but no grand rush of ginning is in sight.

James Shelton, assistant county farm agent, said that boll weevils in sufficient numbers to cause worry have been trapped in a limited part of Gay Hill community. No poisoning has been attempted, he said, since a farmer who starts poisoning has to repeat every 30 days for the balance of the season.

Other boll weevils have been spotted along the southern boundary of the county. The Lomax fields have produced a worrisome number of the pests, even though their actual damage this season has been minor. South of the line in Glasscock County fields are often found with weevils in existence.

Other weevils are spotted in fields elsewhere, indicating, farmers fear, that the pest may become a real menace in a year or two.

Meantime, the pastures grow dry and the need for rain mounts daily. Particularly stock water is needed. Few of the stock tanks have any reserves.

Sterile screwworm flies have been air-dropped in the area southeast of here, where a screwworm infection was confirmed a few weeks ago. However, the county agent's office shipped off some sample worms Friday which appear certain to be classified as screwworms.

A frost will be the real signal gun for the cotton harvest race. Gins over the county are getting in shape for the season. All, probably, would handle any cotton which might be brought in now, but the operators are still putting the finishing touches on their preparations for the real harvest.

Dear Abby Don't Put It In Writing

DEAR ABBY: While on a business trip several months ago, I met a very attractive married woman. (I am also married and have a family.) I admit I became quite involved with her. I won't say it was "love," but it was a very romantic encounter for both of us.

We've kept in touch through letters and telephone, and I invited her to meet me again at my own expense. I am not a rich man, but I own my own business, and can well afford it. Out of the blue I receive a letter from this woman's husband telling me he'd found the letters I had written to his wife, and that she had confessed EVERYTHING. Now he demands that I write him a letter assuring him that I will never see his wife again. He also asks me to assure him in my letter that I will not leave my wife and family for her. (I never intended to).

I am at a loss as to how to handle this. I am definitely through with his wife as I want no trouble. What is your advice?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Don't put anything in writing, but do consult your lawyer. He can tell you what to do and what not to do, which is even more important in this case. A man needs a lawyer to advise him of his rights — especially, when he's wrong.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman whose husband had a good job, was "smart" but he evaded filling out forms because he could neither read nor write!

He could be a victim of a disability called "DYSLEXIA." This occurs in people of all intelligence levels, but more often in those of superior intelligence. For some unexplained reason it affects twice as many boys as girls. The most baffling part of the problem is that dyslexic readers have high I.Q.'s, show facility in math, have normal vision, and show no signs of brain damage and appear healthy in every other way.

Dyslexia can be detected by simple kindergarten tests, and if detected early the child can be helped with SPECIAL training, and no amount of ordinary tutoring will produce results.

Dyslexic readers see "saw" for "was" and "no" for "on"; they also confuse alphabetical look-alikes.

A team of Johns Hopkins medical scientists is presently tackling the problem. It is estimated that this disorder afflicts about half a million children in the United States.

For further information about this subject, write to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 2023 West Ogden Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, 60612.

Sincerely,

Guilty Pleas May Reduce The Docket

If all of the defendants who advised the court Friday afternoon of their desire to enter guilty pleas this week go through with their promise, the docket which was called by Judge Ralph Caton's 118th District Court will be sharply reduced.

Six defendants informed the court they wanted to plead guilty to the indictments against them. Two other defendants announced ready for trial. Two defendants failed to answer when their names were called and warrants for their arrest were issued.

The first case on the docket due for trial will be a charge of robbery by assault against Roy L. Goswick, Goswick and Ronnie G. Fisk, his co-defendant, were indicted for the theft of a camper and truck from two tourists.

Fisk, unlike his partner, announced he desires to plead guilty.

Richard Roland Green, charged with burglary, is the second defendant slated for trial.

Other defendants who said they would plead guilty are Herb Werner, accused of embezzlement and theft over $50; Samuel E. Dominguez, worthless check theft; Russell Headrick, three charges of forgery; Alberto Ortega Gonzales, DWI second.

The two defendants who did not answer when their names were called were Jose Nunez Lopez, burglary; and Jessie Lee Edwards, worthless check.

Cases on the docket passed for the term include Albino Ortega, ex-convict in possession of a prohibited weapon; Merle Eugene Clemons, possession of narcotics; Max Yocum, embezzlement; Miguel Pineta, failure to stop and render aid; Jacky Coffman, theft; and Robert Mesker, rape.

The court has called a jury panel to report for duty at 10 a.m. Monday.

Humphrey Expects Three Horse Ride

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert Humphrey expects to ride into the White House in a sort of three-horse open shay.

"We run a kind of three-horse operation," explained one staffer for the vice president, who is the overwhelming favorite to win the nomination for president at the Democratic National Convention beginning Aug. 26.

The three horses: campaign staff, personal staff and friends or associates.

"Humphrey," observed an aide, "does not have an Abe Fortas or a Clark Clifford, fortunately or not, and he makes his own key decisions."

But these are the men whom aides usually describe as the inner circle, those closest to the vice president:

—Lawrence O'Brien, the master political craftsman who helped design the campaigns of the late John F. Kennedy, and President Johnson, as well as the late Robert F. Kennedy. He was the first of the big names in the Kennedy entourage who came over to Humphrey—rather than to his opponent, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—after Robert Kennedy's assassination.

—Max Kampelman, a former political science instructor at the University of Minnesota who became Humphrey's first Senate aide in 1949, is now a Washington lawyer and remains one of the vice president's closest advisors.

—William Connell, 42, the vice president's executive assistant, is also his chief political operative. When he joined Humphrey in 1955 he was assistant director of university relations at the University of Minnesota.

"He can be very tough with Humphrey," says one admirer. "Bill will tell Humphrey when he thinks he's wrong on something. The two of them have really had some knock-down and drag-out arguments."

—Sens. Fred Harris and Walter Mondale, co-chairman of the United Democrats for Humphrey.

—Dwayne O. Andreas, Minneapolis businessman, is Humphrey's personal liaison with various fundraisers.

—Dr. Edgar Berman, 52, formerly a successful surgeon in Baltimore, is Humphrey's personal physician, friend and adviser. He directed Medico projects in the Middle East, Vietnam and Haiti and was a consultant for three months in 1960 at the Albert Schweitzer Hospital in Africa.

—William R. Biggs, a Washington neighbor and friend, has been described as an "intellectual banker." He is retired from banking but is a director of several corporations.

Humphrey also gets advice now and then from two fellow members of the Johnson Cabinet—Secretary of Labor Willard W. Wirtz and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, a fellow Minnesotan described as a "very tough gut politician."

And does President Johnson counsel his No. 2 man?

"Johnson has seen Humphrey almost not at all," one adviser says. "Partially it's Humphrey's been out of town and Johnson's focus has been on Vietnam." They have talked to each other on the telephone, one exchange for more than an hour.

THE ARTS

Summer Doldrums Close As Arts Programs Open

By WINNIE UNGER

Advance notices from schools and clubs of prospective arts programs offer a welcome relief from summer doldrums. The Little Theatre group and Concert Association have stirred purchase prizes, and the Big Spring Art Association's installation dinner will present an unusual program by Avery Falkner Jr.

in the Coedon Country Club Blue Room, Sept. 17.

Falkner has been a graduate assistant teacher in the California College of Arts and Crafts, Oakland, Calif., where he acquired his masters degree in painting. He will present a film in abstract design imagery which he painted directly onto the celluloid to achieve something new in visual experience, and which carries a sound track of music as accompaniment.

The film technique is similar to the "light" environment shows currently being produced in San Francisco where simultaneous multiple projections of images, color and light are accompanied by live music from electronic rock music groups.

There will be a display of Falkner's latest paintings and lithographs at the dinner. His work has consistently won top awards in Texas, California and national shows. He will be an art instructor this year at Goliad Junior High School.

The dinner and program is open to the public by reservation only, and tickets, at $2, may be acquired by writing or calling Mrs. Frank Hartley, 408 W. 6th, 267-8841.

Texarkana School Fuss Swings On Integration

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — If the Texarkana, Tex., School Board abandons freedom of choice school desegregation, Dr. Mitchell Young, a Texarkana surgeon, says he'll lead a movement to abolish the independent school district.

Young, 39, says 2,900 taxpayers have signed a petition asking an election to dissolve the district if the board goes on with its plans to merge Dunbar High School and Texarkana senior High. Dunbar is primarily Negro and Texarkana Senior High is mostly white.

"We don't want to abolish the school district if we can find another way," said Young, who has nine children. "We don't think it's in the best interests of the city." Four of Young's children attend Highland Park Elementary School and one goes to Pierce Junior High.

He said he might pull the petitions on the school board soon to call a halt in Texarkana to what he terms a power thrust of the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) to control education through abolishing freedom of choice school desegregation.

If the school district is dissolved, the schools would come under jurisdiction of the county school board, Young said.

Under the freedom of choice plan, parents of both Negro and white students select their children's school.

"HEW is the Gestapo of the United States, and it has to be stopped," said Young.

"A freeze on federal funds to at least 96 Texas school districts has been threatened by HEW if the districts do not abandon their freedom of choice school desegregation plans and follow HEW guidelines.

Young predicts many Texarkana school patrons will be delinquent taxpayers next year if freedom of choice is outlawed in Texarkana. About 18,000 pay taxes in Texarkana, Tex., Young said.

School Board President O. D. Kinder said the schools would not be crippled, but he had no immediate plan of action.

"That's something we'd have to face whenever it occurred," he said. "Kinder said he preferred not to get any more involved with this group," referring to the organization led by Young.

climb to one million by September, according to Young, who reported a roll of 50,000 in June.

Young said the membership includes some Negroes, at least 150 in Texas.

A Negro mother in sympathy with Young's group said: "I thought my daughter should be able to go to the school she wants to go to the white school, but she's forced to go."

The woman said transportation to a formerly all-white school is a problem for Negroes. "There are no buses provided, and some people have seven or eight children," she said.

Young, a graduate of the University of Arkansas Medical School, is no stranger to HEW.

"Dr. Young has done everything he possibly could to prevent the integration," said John Palmer, assistant information director of the Dallas regional HEW office. "He's had a flow of letters to the President and to congressmen and to everybody he thought would be influential," he said.

"I would say that the (Texarkana) school district has felt the effects of his efforts," Palmer said, "and it has a tendency to make negotiations more difficult," he said.

The Texarkana, Ark., school board and HEW are still negotiating. The Arkansas board has asked for more time to overhaul the desegregation plan which HEW recently turned down.

Young maintains that he and members of Freedom, Inc., are not opposed to integration. "We are for freedom of choice which will bring about integration peacefully over a period of time," he said. "We are fighting to prevent the government from gaining complete control of education in this country."

The freedom of choice advocates have sent, Young said, approximately five million letters urging congressmen to uphold freedom of choice by supporting an amended $16 billion appropriation bill for HEW. The amendments, tagged to the bill by Rep. Jamie Whitten of Mississippi, would prevent HEW from receiving its appropriation unless freedom of choice is recognized.

The bill, with its amendments, has cleared the house and is expected to reach the Senate floor in September, Young said.

Protests against the federal government could take on the guise of an income tax boycott, Young said. He explained that members of Freedom, Inc., "might not pay our federal income tax until April 15 and then make token quarterly payments."

"If the membership is large enough, this would greatly influence the federal government," Young said. He added that Freedom, Inc. does not plan to break the law in its protests, however.

Local Cup Team Is Shaping Up

Several spots on the team which will represent the Big Spring Country Club in next Friday's First National Bank Cup matches are still up for grabs.

Eight players have completed their required 72 holes of qualifying play. Five others are three-quarters of the way along. Two others are only half way along the trail.

Don Lovelady, captain of the local team, said the deadline for qualifying had been extended a couple of days in order that Big Spring can field the strongest team possible.

Both Lovelady and Dan Wilkins, the reigning club champion, are exempt from qual-

Loot For Winning Team

Don Lovelady, chairman of the annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament and captain of the local forces for the first annual First National Bank Cup matches scheduled Friday, displays two of the awards to be given away at the conclusion of the 18 holes of play. The larger award goes to the winning team. Each of the 28 players in the matches will get one of the smaller awards. The matches kick off the tournament, which extends to Labor Day. All the action takes place at the Country Club.

QBC Feast Always Serves To Kick Off Grid Season

The Quarterback Club's barbecue honoring members of the 1968 Big Spring High School football team and their coaches should remind local buffs, more than any one thing, that the season is near at hand.

The barbecue is always held coincidentally with the booster organization's membership drive.

Those purchasing membership tickets, and they are priced at $5 each, can take their families to the barbecue without charge.

Ike Robb and Jimmy Jones, new co-captains of the QBC, have kicked off a whirlwind campaign to sell memberships and insure a good crowd at the Thursday night meeting, which begins at 7 p.m. in the amphitheatre at the City Park.

Robb and Jones said it is hoped that membership rolls will embrace as many as 1,000 people. That would insure the financial success of the busy booster club, which stages its meetings once a week during the football season.

The Steers will have been in all-out training four days the night of the barbecue. They'll work early and quit early on the day of the barbecue, however.

Chief speaker at the barbecue will be Bob Wright, now assistant executive vice president of the Texas Coaches Association.

Pooch was a star in the sport for Howard Payne College at one time.

Bob graduated from Howard Payne in 1949, after serving in Europe during World War II. He started coaching at Olney, remaining there for two years.

In 1951, he moved to Brownwood where he coached in the high school for five years. He

Ashe Attains Final Round In Net Play

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Arthur Ashe, a United States Davis Cup star, defeated stubborn Jim McManus 6-4, 6-3, 14-16, 6-3 Saturday and moved into the title round of the 88th National Tennis Championship where he meets Bob Lutz on Sunday.

Ashe, a 25-year-old Army lieutenant stationed at West Point, N.Y., took a brief rest after dropping the marathon third set and then overpowered McManus, a 26-year-old former University of California captain who was not seeded in the national tournament.

Ashe needed just 39 minutes to win the first two sets while the 175-point third set lasted 91 minutes. He won the fourth set by breaking McManus' service with a backhand return down the line in the fourth game.

"He has that one big shot and you never know when it's coming," McManus said in praising Ashe. "The shot may be a serve, a backhand, a volley forehand, anything."

Ashe, who served 20 aces against McManus, will meet Lutz, an unseeded giant-killer from the University of Southern California, for the title Sunday.

Lutz has upset Cliff Richey, South Africa's Bob Hewitt and Davis Cup standout Clark Graebner in his spectacular bid to become the first American to win the U.S. singles since 1955.

fact that he was involved in the City tournament at the Muni course.

Jack Wallace scored identical 71's in his 36 holes while shooting for the team.

Roy Peden, the visiting captain, was due to reveal at least part of his team sometime today.

Mike Cleckler, Odessa, the defending champion, notified tournament officials he would probably be back to try and defend his laurels.

Entries for the 36th annual tournament will be accepted through Friday. The entry fee has been dropped to $17.50 and officials are hoping for a turnout exceeding 200. Last year, slightly over 140 took part. Match play in the tournament starts Saturday and extends through Labor Day.

Cup players will get trophies and caps, regardless of how they finish. The winning team also gets a huge trophy.

Each flight will be made up of 16 players and officials are hoping for as many as 14 flights.

A Friday night barbecue and a Saturday night dance will be held in conjunction with the tournament.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Husky Bob Murphy, a cigar-smoking rookie from Florida, exploded a 20-foot shot out of the sand into the cup on the 18th green Saturday and charged into the rain-delayed third round lead of the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic with a 54-hole total of 10-under-par 206.

The 210-pounder from Nichols, Fla., who looks like a football fullback, fired a 34-32-66 for a 54-hole total of 10-under-par 206.

Longhorns Launch Heavy Workouts

The Big Spring Steers might be called the Early Birds when they report for their first football workouts Monday.

Coach Spike Dykes has summoned all his football hopefuls in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades to report to the dressing rooms at the high school gymnasium at 7:30 a.m. Monday.

After instructions concerning plans, the lads will be issued shorts and shoes and begin a workout. Another is scheduled for Monday afternoon. Thereafter there will be two conditioning drills daily.

Friday the pads will be issued and contact work will start in preparation for the opening game Sept. 14.

The boys were issued shoes last week but had to work out on their own.

An estimated 100 boys registered the past week and took physical examinations.

Several more have been working, some of them as far away as California, are due to check in this week.

The Longhorns will toil on the practice field at State and Tenth Streets, where 3/4 practice fields have been laid out.

Dykes and his aides will point the Longhorns toward a scrimmage with the Sweetwater Mustangs, which will take place behind locked gates in Sweetwater's bowl probably Sept. 6.

Coach Joe Boyd of Sweetwater, rather than Dykes, dictated that the scrimmage would be secret. His team, the pre-season favorite in 3-AAA, opens its conference season the following week.

White's Smash Lifts Yankees By Detroit

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy White's two-run homer in the first inning and the four hit pitching of Mel Stottlemyre carried the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over 25-game winner Denny McLain and the Detroit Tigers Saturday.

White tagged the Detroit ace for his 13th homer with Horace Clarke aboard and two out in the first. Stottlemyre made it stand up for his 17th victory and the Yankees' 10th in their last 13 starts.

McLain, battered for nine runs in 5 2-3 innings last Tuesday night in a 10-2 loss to Chicago, allowed only five Yankee hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth but absorbed his fifth loss.

It was the first setback for the husky right-hander in 17 decisions on the road and the first time he has lost two games in a row this season.

Stottlemyre, 17-10, blanked the Tigers on two singles until the seventh, when Willie Horton

Wysong Trails By A Stroke

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — over the 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. Slim Dudley Wysong of Makaha Valley, Hawaii, was one stroke behind.

Wysong, who led the first round with a seven-under-par 65, and slipped two strokes behind after 36 holes, came storming back despite a hot sun and oppressive humidity to shoot a 36-32-68 over the par 36-36-72 course.

There were six tied at eight-under-par 208, led by Jack Nicklaus, the perennial money player from Columbus, Ohio, who has won two of the last three tournaments and tied for second in the other.

Deadlocked with Nicklaus were Lee Elder, who shot 66; Dean Refram, 69; Terry Dill, 70; Tommy Bolt, 69, and Labron Harris, 70.

Gene Littler, Homero Blancas, and Miller Barber were at 209. Defending champion Dan Sikes carded a 72 for 213.

Cincy Slams Mets, 10-7

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lee Maye smashed two home runs and Don Pavletich had a two-run blast to power Cincinnati past the New York Mets 10-7 Saturday night.

Maye socked solo homers in the first, and third, his 17th and 18th of the season. Pavletich's second homer of the year came in the third after Jim Beauchamp singled.

The Mets combined three walks, an error and singles by Tommy Agee and Jerry Buchek for three runs in the fifth, but Beauchamp singled in one run and Leo Cardenas doubled in another for the Reds in the bottom of the inning.

The Reds then scored three more in the eighth, two on Cardenas' double.

Allen's throwing error and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Washington Senators 2-1 Saturday.

Cardenal, whose perfect throw had cut down Jim French at home as he tried to score after a catch in the 13th, singled opening the 16th.

The speedy outfielder then stole second and after Dave Nelson struck out, Jimmie Hall was purposely passed. Then Cardenal and Hall worked the double steal and when third baseman Allen threw wild trying to trap Hall off second, Cardenal scored. It was Allen's third error of the game.

Gibson Handed Sixth Defeat By Pirates

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson struck out 15 batters but had his consecutive game winning streak snapped at 15 games Saturday when Pittsburgh scored two unearned runs in the ninth inning for a 6-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was the first loss for Gibson, 19-6, since May 22 when San Francisco beat him 3-1.

Gibson walked the first batter he faced on four pitches and then retired 15 Pirates in a row until Jerry May singled, opening the sixth inning. By then, the Cardinals had a 4-0 lead.

But Pittsburgh battled back, creeping within one run in the seventh.

Pittsburgh won it in the ninth when Willie Stargell led off with a double. Don Clendenon bounced to shortstop Dal Maxvill but the throw struck pinch runner Gary Kolb in the back and allowed him to score. Clendenon reached second on the error and scored a moment later on Gene Alley's single.

The Cardinals needed four singles for a first-inning run and padded their lead to 4-0 with three runs in the fourth.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dave Johnson's homer and Don Buford's triple and three singles keyed a 12-hit attack that powered Baltimore to a 6-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday night.

Johnson's two-run blast, his eighth, helped the Orioles to a 3-0 lead in the fourth, and Buford's triple after Mark Belanger singled in the sixth accounted for two more. Buford also singled in a run in the eighth.

Boston's Elston Howard hit his fifth homer in the seventh and Reggie Smith belted his ninth with a man on in the eighth.

The winner was Jim Hardin, 17-8, as the Orioles cut American League leading Detroit's lead to 6 1/2 games.

DALLAS (AP) — Gene Babb, an Austin College graduate of 1957, has joined the Southern Methodist University coaching staff, head coach Hayden Fry said Saturday.

Babb has been alumni relations director for the Sherman School for four years as well as assistant football coach. He was to have spent all his time on the alumni matters this year but decided to remain in coaching.

Babb will work with defensive ends.

Babb played pro football with the San Francisco 49ers, the Dallas Cowboys and the Houston Oilers.

Palmer Seeks Repeat In T-Bird Tourney

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, slowly returning to form after a long slump, defends his title against a top field of touring pros in the $150,000 Thunderbird Classic beginning Friday at the Upper Montclair Country Club here.

But Palmer, who has won the Thunderbird two of the six years it has been played, will have to charge past the two hottest men on the tour right now — Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros.

Boros is enjoying the best season of his golfing career at the age of 48. Nicklaus, who has won here once and been runner-up three times, recently won two straight tour events after an early season slump.

Almost all the other big names will be on hand to challenge the 7,055-yard, par 72 course.

The entries include Billy Casper, the top money-winner on the tour this year, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and Masters titleholder Bob Goalby. Most of the other top money winners will be on hand.

Gary Player of South Africa, the British Open champion, and Roberto de Vincenzo, the colorful Argentinian whose scoring error dropped him out of a tie in the Masters, head the foreign entries.

Tournament officials say they expect no special problems from the feud between the touring pros and the Professional Golfers Association.

But a PGA official said last week that his group may make the pros sign pledge cards signifying their allegiance to the older group. He said the cards might be ready by the start of the Thunderbird.

The chase for the $30,000 first prize will begin Friday with play continuing through Monday, Labor Day. The three-day weekend is expected to help the tournament set an attendance record.

Play will be preceded by the Craig Wood Thunderbird amateur on Thursday. The tournament, named after the late U.S. open and the Masters champion, will pair a touring pro and three local amateurs, who pay $300 each to enter.

The tournament is sponsored by the Newark Ford Dealers Advertising Association. Proceeds go to United Cerebral Palsy and affiliated hospitals.

Gene Littler, who won the first Thunderbird in 1962, is one of the few name pros who won't be on hand. The other previous winners include Palmer, 1963; the late Tony Lema, 1964; Nicklaus, 1965, and Mason Rudolph, 1966.

BOB PRESLEY BEN NEEL

Presley, Neel Holdover Coaches In Local School

Two holdover coaches in the local schools this year are Bob Presley and Ben Neel.

Presley will help Bill Curry and Kirby Pugh coach the ninth grade Toros.

He did his undergraduate work at Hardin-Simmons University and took his master's degree at North Texas State University.

Bob is a graduate of Irving High School where he lettered as a football guard for two years. He started his coaching career at Irving before moving to Big Spring.

Bob is married to the former Judy Schneck of Quincy, Ill. They have one daughter, Laura Lynn, age one year. The family makes its home at 2610 Presleys make their home at 2701 Central.

Bob teaches World History in high school.

Neel, who grew up in Fort Worth and attended Polytechnic High School, has been in the local system four years but has been coaching only the last two.

He and Gary Griffin will coach the Goliad seventh grade team.

Neel also attended Hardin-Simmons, graduating from there in 1965. He was an end under coach Jack Whitley at Poly for two years.

He is married to the former Bonnie Sue Daniel of Cross Plains. They have a year-and-a-half old boy, Ben Dwayne. The family makes its home at 2610 Cindy Lane.

Challenge Cup May Be Top Spectacle

The Sports Car Club of America calls it the most exciting spectacle in auto racing, and this year the Canadian American Challenge Cup series very well could claim that title.

The six-race series for the SCCA's Group 7 sports-racing cars begins Sept. 1, and from reports coming from car manufacturers in this country and abroad the entries this year will be a collection of light-weight, superfast projectiles unlike anything ever seen in motor sports.

They'll go for almost one-half million dollars in prize money, plus a championship fund that could net the winner at least $120,000. The New Zealand team of Bruce McLaren-Dennis Hulme won five of the six events last year and together took home about $165,000.

These two aren't likely to dominate the series by such a wide margin this year but nevertheless they are the odds-on favorites. The Kiwis will be back with an all-new version of the McLaren M6As which clobbered the best U.S. products in 1967, including a million dollar-plus effort by the Ford Motor Co.

McLaren, the No. 1 builder of machines for the Group 6 and 7 sports-racing segments of the sport, has dubbed his 1968 entry the M8B, said to be lighter, faster and almost crash-proof.

The probable entry list includes some of the world's most exotic machinery and drivers whose names comprise the heavyweights of the industry.

Ford, which fielded entries from the Shelby shops in California and the Holman-Moody stock car plant in Charlotte N.C., last year, won't be represented on a factory basis this year. Jack Passino, boss of the Dearborn maker's performance efforts and hero of Le Mans, admitted the company doesn't have a power plant that would be competitive in this type car. But he hinted that 1969 cars, including the McLarens, will be powered by hefty new engines from the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, which insists it isn't putting any money in racing. Make that statement along pit road anywhere that autos are in competition and you'll get the biggest laugh of the week.

Charlie Hayes, a veteran of Group 7 racing, whose McKee-Olds is expected to be vastly improved over last year, wrote in a recent issue of Auto Week Competition Press, a weekly motorsports journal:

"I personally know of no fewer than eight cars whose builders anticipate in excess of 620 horsepower from their bored, stroked, dry-sump, Lucas-injected 427 cubic inch alloy Chevrolet engines.

"When one considers that the total weight of these sleds will likely be less than 1,800 pounds, with driver and fuel aboard, it doesn't take a computer to figure that you've got a horse for every three pounds of weight."

Aside from the McLaren machinery, which may comprise two-thirds of the Can-Am entry list, with variations in engine makes and sizes, several independent U.S. builders consider this series so important that they dig into their own financial reserves in order to compete.

These include Dan Gurney, Texan Jim Hall, New England's Ray Caldwell, Roger Penske and Bob McGee. Hall, whose Chaparrals dominated the Group 7 scene for years, is coming back with the first completely new car he has built since 1963.

Gurney, long a Ford benchman, is said to be toying with a Group 7, fuel-injected version of his stock block mill that won him second place in the Indianapolis 500.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Coach Never Accepted Job

By TOMMY HART

The Texas Six-Eight Man Coaches Association has voted to stage its 1969 school in Levelland for a good reason . . . The group was treated royally by the Levelland people and was off the hook financially by the time the all-star basketball game was played the second night of the clinic . . . A paid crowd of 950, most of whom had purchased their tickets far in advance in a whirlwind drive, saw the star-spangled all-star tilt . . . About 81 coaches from around the state attend the four-day school . . . Jack Woodley, the Garden City coach, never did accept that proffered job with Crane Junior High, although the Crane administration released such information . . . Woodley could and would have joined the Big Spring coaching fraternity, had he elected to leave Garden City . . . Jack expects to have his Master's Degree after a couple of more summers of work . . . Little wonder baseball men elect to take early retirement . . . The veteran Detroit Coach, Tony Cuccinello, will retire after this year, after attaining his 60th birthday Nov. 8 . . . At that time, he can start drawing $13,000 annually in pension money . . . Cuccinello arrived in the big leagues in 1930 . . . Alan Sikes, the former San Angelo great, likely won't be eligible at Angelo State College after transferring there from Texas A&M . . . He is supposed to have failed some summer courses which would have cleared the way for him . . . One of Midland's newest residents is Froggie Williams, the one-time Rice All-American . . . Williams recently purchased a half-interest in an oil well supply firm there . . . A team mate of such notables as Joe Watson, Gerald Weatherly, Ralph Murphy and Tobin Rote, Williams later played in the College All-Star game in Chicago . . . Froggie's last second field goal that toppled Texas in 1949 is still fondly recalled by Rice execs.

The major baseball league races will open April 7 in 1969 and close Oct. 4 . . . Minnie Minoso, the ex-big league outfielder, now 43, is now playing for the Jalisco team in the Mexican League . . . Two members of last season's Coahoma High School football team, back Ken Gregory and tackle Robert Winn, will be on athletic scholarships this fall . . . Gregory will play defense primarily for Sul Rens while Winn will attend Panhandle A&M, where he'll study Veterinary Medicine . . . Neither the Oakland A's nor the San Francisco Giants will draw 1,000,000 customers at home this season . . . For that reason, owner Charley Finley of Oakland may already be looking for another city in which to locate his team . . . When Coach Bob Bledsoe of Galveston Ball read that his team was heavily favored to win it all in District 24-4A this year because of an abundance of returning lettermen, he remarked "I keep reading how good we're going to be, but we haven't had any forfeits yet" . . . Al Reynolds of the Cincinnati Bengals (AFL) owns seven pairs of cowboy boots but that isn't too unusual—he doesn't wear any other kind of footwear . . . The Oil Bowl, a fixture in Wichita Falls since it was started, probably will move elsewhere by 1971 . . . The people in Wichita Falls have grown disenchanted with it . . . Lubbock may qualify, in which case its sponsors should start referring to it as the Sorghum Bowl . . . Elisio Estrada, the 127-pound boxer managed by Martin County's Melton McMorries, recently lost a decision to Paul Rojas of San Pedro, Calif., in Ventura, Calif., but made such a splendid showing he was given a standing ovation . . . An area baseball promoter recently cleared $700 on a doubleheader and pocketed all the boodle rather than split any of it with his players . . . Sands High School will have one of the fastest footballers around this fall in Ike Lewis, who has run the 100 in 10.1.

Hardened Pros Face Top Davis Cup Aces

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) U.S. Open Tennis Champion — Li Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner, Uncle Sam's top Davis Cup aces, both face a tough row of hardened pros in the first and top-seeded Rod Laver, both of Australia.

MINE FIELD

Graebner's road to the semifinals is pocked with such dangerous unhidden mines as Butch Buchholz, Marty Riessen and John Newcombe.

Riessen, a pro for less than a month, is off to a strong start. In his first tournament at Cannes, France, he was runner-up to Newcombe. He reached the quarter-finals in the German Open and last week beat Drysdale for the Newport, R.I., Pro Tennis Championship.

The first U.S. Open, with $100,000 in prize money, starts its 11-day run at the West Side Tennis Club with favorites involved in first round matches Thursday.

Mrs. Billie Jean King, winner of the Wimbledon Open and the world's No. 1 woman player, has the honor of striking the first ball when she goes against Helen Amos of Australia at 12 noon, EDT, in the stadium court.

The prospects of a clash between those long-time feminine rivals, Mrs. King and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., were erased when Miss Richey, who remains an amateur, decided not to contest the Open.

So Mrs. King must find her main competition from Ann Haydon Jones of England, Judy Tegart and Margaret Court Smith of Australia and Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded behind her in that order.

ROSEWALL TO PLAY

Ken Rosewall of Australia, seeded No. 3, is the highest men's seed to see action on the opening day, playing Jim Parker of St. Louis in the stadium's second match.

Dennis Ralston, seeded No. 8, plays Chauncey Steele 3rd of Cambridge, Mass., and Charles Pasarell, No. 12, faces Karl Coombes in other featured matches Thursday.

The tournament, bringing back such old favorites as Pancho Gonzales and Frankie Parker, promises to draw the biggest galleries in years. Gonzales, once king of both amateurs and pros, is seeded 13th. Parker, twice national champion in the World War II years, is the first foe of Ashe, who drew an opening byes.

First round byes also went to Laver, second-seeded Tony Roche of Australia; Tom Okker of The Netherlands; Fred Stolle, Emerson and Drysdale.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Feature matches Thursday in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, starting at 12 noon, EDT:

Stadium
Mrs. Billie Jean King, Lana Beach, Col., vs. Helen Amos, Australia.
Ken Rosewall, Australia, vs. Jim Parker, St. Louis.

Grandstand
Nikola Pilić, Yugoslavia, vs. Butch Bostrom, Brazil.
Françoise Dürr, France, vs. Valerie Greenstein, San Diego, Calif.
Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., vs. Chauncey Steele 3rd, Cambridge, Mass.
Charles Pasarell, Puerto Rico, vs. Karl Coombes, Australia.

EXAMPLE OF PERFECTLY DEVELOPED GREYHOUND
Cinder Moss, Imp., campaigns at Juarez track

Average Racing Greyhound Selling For About $600

JUAREZ, Mexico — One of the most consistent questions asked by visitors to Juarez Race Track is "How much do greyhounds cost?"

Well, it's difficult to place a price tag on a greyhound because it varies according to the grade of dog, ability and track at which he is campaigning.

On the average, though, a price of about $600 would be right.

Owners and breeders generally have an investment of about $450 in each dog by the time it comes to the track to prepare for its first competition. This amount includes all costs from the time the greyhound is whelped.

An average dog will start his racing career at around 14 months. Some start earlier and others don't mature until later. However, they all must start by two years or they are no longer eligible to do so as a maiden.

So, you can see that the investment in a greyhound can grow to be a good sum before you even know if the canine will earn anything at all.

Owners have been known to turn down as much as $10,000 for champions. Some dogs have been valued up to $25,000.

Miss Whirl, a recent all-around stakes winner for three solid years, won $110,000 in her career and is now on a breeding farm to pass on the profitable strain of her racing blood.

The greatest sire of all time in greyhound circles was Rocker Mac. An Australian import, the Rocker was bred to 761 females and made more than $90,000 as originator of progeny that, when they quit racing, will have won almost 30,000 races!

The price tag of a greyhound is relative. One of the greatest runners was bought for only $173, and many an offspring of the bluest of bloods has brought astronomical prices and never produced an in-the-money finish.

Veteran dogmen racing at Juarez figure it's a matter of hard work following bloodlines and waiting for a little luck that will send a champion your way.

Newsman Will Get Awards In SWC

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Southwest Conference has announced it is honoring five Texas sportswriters for their outstanding contributions to journalism and to athletics.

The awards will go to Harold Scherwitz, sports editor of the San Antonio Light; Harold Ratliff, retired southwestern sports editor of The Associated Press; and Dick Freeman, retired sports editor of the Houston Chronicle.

The other two awards will be presented posthumously to Bill Van Fleet of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and George Wright, former sports information director at Baylor.

Odessa Signs 4 Athletes

ODESSA — Coach George Roach, Odessa College, reports the signing of four more track athletes.

Latest to sign is Bill Luhrsren of New York. Coach Roach said Luhrsren has run a 4:25 mile and was third over 200 other athletes in the New York Public School meet this summer.

The other three are Texans.

From San Marcos, Roach has signed Roger Byas and James Luddington. Byas has run a 49.2 440-yard dash and has a 48.5 best on the mile relay team at San Marcos.

Luddington was third in the state meet in the mile with a 4:23.5.

Perhaps one of the top trackmen to attend Odessa College is Billy Porter of Dawson.

Porter won state titles in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. He ran 10.0 to win in his class in the state meet but has a best time of 9.6. He won the 220 in 21.3 seconds.

Returning Veterans

Two of the boys coach Spike Dykes will be heavily counting on when the Big Spring Steers launch regular drills Monday morning are running back Roy Lee (Waterbug) Warren (left) and guard Johnny Hedges. Both are considered all-district material. The Longhorns launch their season against Monterey in Lubbock Saturday night, Sept. 14.

Bantam Champion Confuses Scribes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Puffing on his pipe, Lionel Rose grinned as he said, "Women and boxing don't mix."

And in answer to another question, he replied, "You're not a fighter until you go down at least once."

All in all, the Australian bantamweight boxing champion of the world has spoiled the Los Angeles conception of an Aborigine as a blood thirsty savage throwing boomerangs and petting kangaroos.

The personable champion looks older than his 29 years, chats amiably with American newsmen, bombards sparring mates and confused his fans only when he said, "I fight for pie."

Translate the Australian pronunciation of "pie" into "pay" and the confusion ends.

A guarantee of $20,000 brought Rose to Los Angeles for a 10-round non-title fight at the forum on Wednesday night against Mexico's Jose Meade. A victory will bring him back for more "pie" and a title bout against a top challenger next year.

Rose hails from the Australian bush country, a descendent of that country's originals, comparable to an Indian in America. Dave Sands, a middleweight, was the only other Aborigine to have fought in the United States.

Rose's father was a tent fighter, working the country shows.

"Some days," recalls the champ, "My dad must have had as many as a half dozen fights. He must have had thousands of fights in all."

The senior Rose died when Lionel was 15, four years before the Australian youngster took advantage of a fluke of fate and upset Fighting Harada in Japan last Feb. 28 for the 118-pound championship of the world.

He was just 19 and only two other boxers, Harada and Tony Canzoneri, ever had won world professional boxing titles before they were 20.

ACC Launches Work Monday

ABILENE — A record number of some 85 candidates are expected to report for Abilene Christian College's opening fall football drills Monday.

Coach Wally Bullington, beginning his first year at the helm, has indicated that as many as 100 could be on hand. The prospects report for physicals Saturday, with two-day workouts starting Monday morning.

Bullington said that his charges would work twice a day through Sept. 10. The Wildcats will drill in shorts and shoes only for the first three days, in accordance with an NCAA ruling.

"We'll go through a real hard conditioning program these first three days," said Bullington. "We'll be working on basic fundamentals, teaching defensive techniques, the kicking game and we'll be getting a good look at our new boys."

ACC will have a record number of freshmen reporting. The Wildcats signed 31 and try-outs could swell the total to over 40. Among those reporting will be 20 returning numeral winners.

Key returnees include offensive tackle Bob Rash, All-SLC in '67, center Bob Keyes, split end Bill Lockey, tailback Trent Lancaster, wingback V. T. Smith, linebackers David Parsons and Chip Bennett, defensive linemen Joel Foster, Roger Smith, Courtney King and Bob Oliver and defensive backs Don Cobb and Mack Seaggins.

The Wildcats launch the season Sept. 14 in Natchitoches, La., against perennially powerful Northwestern State College of Gulf States Conference.

How to turn a 15-year-old boy into a car thief.

All you have to do is to be too tired—or too lazy—to take your keys with you when you leave the car.

Is it really that simple? You bet it is.

Every day, 1,000 cars are stolen by kids under 18. In fact, nearly half of all those arrested for car theft are too young to have a driver's license.

How do they do it? You make it easy for them. Half the cars stolen had the keys left in the ignition. Or under the floor mat. Or on the visor.

Don't make it easy for a kid to go wrong. Take your keys.

Don't help a boy go wrong. When you leave your car, take your keys.

Race Greats Head For Darlington

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — "They would do us all a favor if they would plow the whole place up and plant it in peas," stock car racing great Richard Petty said here last May. "Yes," agreed ace Mercury driver Cale Yarborough who lives on a farm about 10 miles down the road, "and I'd be tickled to furnish the plow and the peas."

Australia's Ron Clarke was the two-miles event and clips a fraction of a second off his own world record time of eight minutes 19.6 seconds, during the International Athletes' Club meeting at Crystal Palace Saturday. Clarke, 31, holds world records at six distances between 2 miles and 10,000 meters.

Rams Eyeing 11-Game Card

SAN ANGELO — In this day of more or less standard 10-game football schedules, Angelo State College this fall will embark on an unusual 11-game slate which will carry through 11 consecutive weeks from Sept. 14 to Nov. 23.

With ASC and Tarleton State brand new members of the Lone Star Conference but not eligible to compete for the football title at least until 1969, ASC athletic director and head football coach Max Bumgardner wanted to schedule as many conference teams as he could this fall.

The Rams wound up last season with a 3-6 record.

Off that club, Bumgardner graduated 15 top seniors. He will be going with a young team made up mostly of sophomores and freshmen.

The Rams will open up with five Lone Star foes, Stephen F. Austin Sept. 14, Sul Ross Sept. 21, McMurry of Abilene Sept. 28, Texas A&I Oct. 5 and Southwest Texas Oct. 12. The two new Lone Star members, Tarleton and ASC, get together at Stephenville Nov. 2.

Houston Rubber Plant Growing
 AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. has announced that a $2.5-million expansion of the world's largest synthetic rubber plant at Houston will be completed next year. The expansion will allow for a 40 per cent increase in warehouse facilities and a 5 per cent production capacity increase. Most of the money is being used to install an additional finishing line to dry, weigh, bale and package synthetic rubber, according to Donald H. Francis, director chemical production. The Houston plant produces styrene-butadiene rubber, the general purpose rubber that has been the workhorse of the industry since it was developed during World War II.

MUCH OF THE PLANNING for this season's concerts was led by officers of the Big Spring Concert Association. They are, from left, Mrs. Ralph W. Caton, second vice president; Mrs. E. H. Boulliou Jr., first vice president; Mrs. Roberta Phelan, secretary; Lester Morton, treasurer; and Mrs. Floyd Mays, president. Mrs. Roy Cederberg, third vice president, was unavailable for the picture.

NEW TO THIS YEAR'S PROMOTION of the concert series is the speakers bureau, a group which will be available to speak on the coming attractions scheduled by the association. Here, discussing the Broadway comedy hit, "Cactus Flower," are Dan Shockey, Mrs. Star Warford, Mrs. R. C. Shaver and Mrs. Larson Lloyd.

"The Concert Season"

By JO BRIGHT

Big Spring Concert Association board members have provided "something for everyone" in what may prove to be the most popular fine arts season in years.

The season will open November 12 when the husband-and-wife team of Jeannie Carson and Biff McGuire will appear in the delightful Broadway comedy hit, "Cactus Flower." The sprightly farce has been labeled "hilarious and beguiling," which should make for an evening of amusing entertainment.

The San Antonio Symphony Orchestra, under its distinguished conductor, Victor Alessadro, has become established as one of the outstanding symphonic organizations in the nation. To be presented December 16, it will doubtless receive the standing ovation accorded these musicians in the past. Dr. Alessadro enjoys an international reputation as a conductor, and the orchestra has toured widely in addition to maintaining a successful season at home.

The third treat for ticket holders will come on February 3, 1969, with the performance of the Pennsylvania Ballet. This is an international company, featuring young dancers from Yugoslavia, Brazil, France, Australia and the United States, in repertory ranging from traditional to contemporary classicism. The company has woven Old World elegance and the best modern dance idioms into a vibrant theatrical style.

Bringing the season to a close will be the Paul Winter Contemporary Consort which is scheduled to perform on March 28, 1969. Theirs is called "a new adventure in instrumental music — from Bach to Blues." The seven young musicians, who have developed a unique sound, have recorded for Columbia Records and completed a tour of 23 countries under the sponsorship of the State Department.

All programs will be staged in the Municipal Auditorium.

THE SAN ANTONIO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA proved an inspiration to these members of the Big Spring High School Band who are working to promote the orchestra's appearance here on December 16. Clockwise, starting from bottom left, they are Robert Campbell, trumpet; Tammy Polk, French horn; Tammy Butler, tuba; Pam Lancaster, flute; Bob Bryant, trombone; Melvin Chappell, bassoon; Judy Conley, oboe; and Steve Hughes, clarinet.

THE SUPPORT OF WEBB AIR FORCE BASE has been of vital importance to the concert series, and a number of people associated with the base are assisting with the current campaign. Here, lending their time to promote the Pennsylvania Ballet, are three board members, Capt. Joseph G. Spano, Mrs. Richard Shook and Mrs. Gordon A. Caulfield.

TUNES OF THE TIMES including folk music, jazz and ethnic rhythms, will be performed here this season by the seven young musicians that make up the Paul Winter Contemporary Consort. The Consort's repertoire is broad, ranging from blues to Bach, and it was the first such group to play a jazz concert at the White House. Listening to the unique orchestrations of its recordings are Sidney Carr, Russ McEwen, Jane Ryan and John Arnold.

Vance-Gooch Nuptials Performed In Temple

Miss Patsy Gooch and Paul Richard Vance Jr. were married Friday evening in Baptist Temple before an altar centered with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked by emerald palms. Branched candelabra illuminated the setting as the Rev. James A. Puckett officiated for the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gooch, Sterling City Route, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Richard Vance of High Island.

Mrs. J. L. Overton of Forsan, organist, played traditional selections and accompanied Mrs. O. T. Boeker as she sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "More."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in an A-line gown of white bridal satin overlaid with Chantilly lace and designed with Empire bodice and elbow-length sleeves of Chantilly lace. The chapel-length train was made of bridal satin, and her veil of silk illusion fell from a band of seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Terry Wiggins, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Wayne Weaver of Beaumont was bridesmatron. Both were attired in formal gowns of chartreuse Enchante and wore short veils of chartreuse dotted lace. They carried bouquets of flame gladioli.

Wayne Weaver of Beaumont was best man, and Donnie Gooch, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Gary Wiggins and Darrel DeRowen.

FLOWER GIRL

Debbie Wiggins, the flower girl, wore a white dress trimmed in green and a brief veil headpiece. Cary Wiggins was ring bearer, and altar tapers were lighted by Terry Bond and Sharon Black, both of High Island.

The couple will be at home in Texas City following a wedding trip to Galveston. For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece white knit suit with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Forsan High School and attended Howard County Junior College, Stephen Austin College and Lamar Technological College in Beaumont. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and served in the Army. He is presently employed by United Engineers of Texas City.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the fellowship hall where Miss Mary Jo Simpson presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. John Cardwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Overton, all of Forsan; Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Black, High Island; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conger, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wiggins, Mrs. Corene Shortes and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Boyd.

MRS. PAUL RICHARD VANCE JR.

The refreshment table was laid with a green cloth overlaid with net and centered with an arrangement of white roses flanked by white tapers in silver holders. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Out-of-town guests attended from Abilene, Odessa, High Island, Beaumont and Merkel.

Drug Use Discussed By Officer

"Any child can become a dope addict, and the legalized sale of marijuana may increase the probability," said Sgt. Pete Stone of the Big Spring Police Department at Thursday's meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels. The group met in the First Federal Community Room. He was introduced by Mrs. Gladys Shortes.

"Addiction to drugs is caused mostly by curiosity, and curiosity about drugs may be stimulated by inept education, group association and close friends," said Stone.

"In Big Spring, glue sniffing poses a greater problem than drugs," he said. Stone further said that fewer than five per cent of drug addicts are ever rehabilitated, and for this reason, addiction is a problem serious enough to warrant more public attention than it now receives.

"The only effective weapon against drug addiction is intelligent prevention," concluded Stone. An informal group discussion followed the program.

Mrs. Gladys Russell received prizes and won the weight-loss contest for the week. Mrs. Shortes was elected chairman of the hospital flower committee.

Goal Is To Bring Family To Join Him From Korea

By TEX ROGERS

It took Dr. Preston E. Harrison three years and hundreds of pages of correspondence to bring Dr. Dung Song Choi from Korea to Big Spring State Hospital. And although the battle is won by Dr. Harrison, hospital superintendent, it's just beginning for the small, cheerful Korean.

When Dr. Choi (pronounced Chay), 55, started working in the geriatric and alcoholic unit of the hospital here on July 12, he came alone. His wife and four children had to be left behind in Seoul, Korea.

DR. DUNG SONG CHOI

GOAL
Getting the family to the United States is a goal the doctor is working toward, and half of it should be reached next year when his two daughters come to Texas.

However, when his wife can join him in Big Spring is a question which can't be answered. She is now making a home for their two sons.

"It is a custom in our country for the mother to stay with her sons and make a home for them until they are all married," Dr. Choi said. "After the boys marry, she will join me."

Speaking with the patience of an Oriental, he said: "Of course, it takes time. But she will come."

One son, an engineer, is 27, and the youngest is 20.
Dr. Choi's two daughters, one 24 and the other 21, will be coming to Big Spring next year, he said. The eldest is a pharmacist and the youngest is an English teacher at a college in Seoul.

SECOND TRIP

This is Dr. Choi's second trip to the United States. He spent some seven years here before.

ferred his letter to Big Spring State Hospital," Dr. Harrison said. "We wanted him to come here, but he had to return to his country for two years to satisfy the immigration laws."

After Dr. Choi went back to Korea, the long string of letters between him and Dr. Harrison began. Finally, the two years elapsed and Dr. Choi was able to come to Texas.

After medical school Dr. Choi remained in Korea as superintendent of province hospitals, but when the Korean War came, he turned his talents to the real victims of the conflict — Korean children.

With help from the Korean government, Dr. Choi started an orphanage for 300 children on a small island off the southern coast.

During those hard times when many children were separated from their parents, and others turned to orphans, Dr. Choi kept them smiling with music from

"I specialized in internal medicine in medical school," he said, "but when I came to this country I always worked in state hospitals, so I learned psychiatry."

The doctor also learned to speak four languages other than Korean — Japanese, English, German and classical Greek.

It was in Canada that Dr. Harrison learned of the Korean doctor. It seemed that while Dr. Choi was in North America he developed a liking for the climate and country and wanted to stay. He also took a liking to Texas.

INQUIRED

"Dr. Choi wrote the state office in Austin and inquired about a job, and the office rea battered organ.

MADE HAPPY

"It was hard on the children, but when we played the organ and made music, they were happy," he said.

After the war the doctor worked for the government until his trip to the United States.

Dr. Choi's first concern now is getting his daughters and wife to this country. In the meantime, he wants to become a full fledged American and will apply for citizenship here.

Retail Sales Still Booming In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Despite increased income taxes and inflation, retail sales are still booming in Texas, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

Dr. Graham Blackstock wrote that sales gained 3 per cent last month over June and 12 per cent over July, 1967.

CONFIDENCE HIGH

For seven months, sales were up 10 per cent from last year. "Texans, it seems, are not to be deterred in their shopping. Neither are Americans generally, who likewise spent 3 per cent more in retail purchases during July than in June, and 10 per cent more than in July a year ago. The confidence of the buying public is obviously high," Blackstock said.

A partial answer for the increase in sales despite inflation and the 10 per cent income tax surcharge is that the tax increase did not fall until mid-July.

Another partial explanation is that consumers are dipping into their savings to compensate for decreased income due to the surcharge, the writer said.

INCOMES RISE
"Incomes are rising, too, and this fact helps to offset both the tax increase and inflation. But it cannot be a lasting factor, because inflation is growing faster than income," he said.

Consumer credit also has accelerated in each of the last four calendar quarters, Blackstock said.

In Texas, July's sales growth over June was 5 per cent in durables and 2 per cent in non-durables.

Automobile sales are 17 per cent over the same period of 1967.

Among cities with increases during the first seven months compared with the same period last year were Austin 15 per cent, Dallas 11, El Paso 9, Fort Worth 12, Houston 10 and San Antonio 9.

EVERYONE HAS MOLES

Moles usually follow this pattern. They are black or brown and flat. As time goes on they may become elevated and lighter in color. Some never change. Eventually most will slowly disappear, appearing to fade into the skin. Others may raise so high from the skin that they grow a small "stalk." Sometimes moles may darken, or grow hairs.

The vast majority of moles are benign. But any type of spot or blemish which itches, bleeds, becomes painful or suddenly changes in size, shape, or color is suspect. Show it to your physician.

Make Plans For Mid-Management

Charlie Havens, head cashier at State National Bank, and Doyle Holder, coordinator for the new Mid-Management course at HCJC, discuss program requirements for Bobby Plovman, standing, who plans to participate in the course this fall. Havens will be in charge of the training station at State National.

New College Course Trains Junior Execs, Supervisors

By JEAN FANNIN
Training junior college students to be junior executives and supervisors is the purpose of the new Mid-Management Program offered at Howard County Junior College this fall. Students enroll in an internship seminar as well as courses designed to aid them in problems encountered on the job, Doyle Holder, coordinator of the program, said.

CO-OP PLAN
The program includes a cooperative plan with members of the business community whereby the student attends college classes for formal academic instruction and works at a regular, part-time job in a sponsoring business firm serving as a laboratory for on-the-job training and experience. Holder said this program developed when college officials noted that only 50 per cent of the nation's high school graduates were entering college, and, in most cases, a business prefers a student with two years of concentrated business courses in conjunction with two years of on-the-job training rather than the four-year baccalaureate degree holder.

"One national firm complains that they lose 90 per cent of the people they hire with a bachelor's degree, but can retain 75 per cent of those who have trained with them for two years through the Mid-Management program," Holder said.

ADVISORS

Local businessmen will act as an advisory committee to suggest curriculum for people in their particular fields, Holder said. He has already met with local oil jobbers and bankers. "Everyone seems enthusiastic about the program," he said. A student will enroll for 66 semester hours of training, 57 of which should transfer to the university of his choice should he decide to pursue a bachelor's degree, Holder said. Courses that will not transfer vary from university to university, he said, but generally are those courses usually taught at junior or senior level.

"University officials question the advisability of offering to junior college students a course which they consider junior or senior level," Holder said. The local curriculum will be extremely flexible and designed to meet the needs of the student, he said. The recommended work load is 12-15 hours per week while carrying five solid subjects.

BUSINESSES

Businesses participating in mid-management programs usually include retail stores, motels, hotels, financial institutions, insurance offices, supermarkets, restaurants, real estate agencies, wholesale establishments and automobile agencies, as well as other less general fields.

The curriculum includes courses of value to a person in the business field as well as state requirements, such as physical training, orientation, basic grammar and functions of American government.

Courses will be taught by regular academic faculty members who have been selected for their special qualifications and competence in particular areas of instruction.

Courses offered include salesmanship, fundamental math analysis, computer programming, principles of modern business enterprise, typewriting, technical and report writing, marketing, industrial behavioral science, business and professional speaking for the freshman year.

HemisFair Picks Up Steam At Last

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The San Antonio world's fair, conceived in a civic tumult and born into a stormy national climate, is picking up steam in its waning days.

The fair generally is conceded to be an aesthetic success, spread over 52 acres of downtown San Antonio. It's convenient to tourists and local folk. The tourists have showed up and a major segment of the locals — namely the largely Mexican-American populace of the city's West Side — have stayed away in droves.

The fair drew its first 300 thousand attendance week through Sunday, Aug. 17, and this week was on the way to an even larger turnout.

AILMENTS

HemisFair has suffered from a number of ailments, some of which the closed corporation that runs it could not control. The exposition opened April 6, one day after Dr. Martin Luther King was assassinated. The turnout was low then and has generally run below pre-fair estimates.

The fair's backers put down 7.2 million attendance as the break-even point for the 400-odd underwriters who pledged the money for the $150 million exposition. Low income at the gate in the opening month forced a $3 million additional underwriting to keep the fair afloat and a third underwriting now is under way. The fair ends Oct. 6.

TAKEOVER

The first financial crisis led to the takeover of the HemisFair top echelons by construction magnate H. B. Zachry. But the June crisis tarnished the public image of the fair. Added to that was the fact that HemisFair's planners had not laid down any money for national advertising after the opening days.

More than 75 per cent of HemisFair's visitors have come from outside San Antonio and its Bexar County environs.

Sunday was set down by the fair hierarchy as "two for the price of one" day, and "San Antonio Day." Sunday figures out to sort of a world's fair one cent sale.

One paid admission to the fairgrounds will admit two persons. The same "one will get you two" applies also to shows, rides, exhibits and partially to some of the 163 restaurants and food spots on the grounds.

The total turnout through midweek (Wednesday) was 4,707,173. The official pre-fair estimate called for 5,566,230 through that day.

Sunday's "two for one" deal is aimed at producing a huge turnout just for the record, and amounts to a "HemisFair solidarity" move to get the local populace out to the grounds.

'Gone With The Wind' Back At Cinema For 6th Release

"Gone With The Wind," acclaimed worldwide as one of the great motion picture entertainments of all time, is now presented at the Cinema in new Wide-Screen and Metrocolor splendor, giving even greater power to the unforgettable love story.

This marks the sixth release since David O. Selznick's production of "Gone With The Wind" made motion picture history with its world premier in Atlanta, Georgia, in December of 1939. The picture was last released during the Civil War Centennial year, 1961. The current presentation brings the epic drama to a younger as well as older generation of motion picturegoers as a colorful and exciting new experience in sight and sound.

CLASSIC
Clark Gable as Rhett Butler and Vivien Leigh as Scarlett O'Hara

Starring Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland, winner of 10 Academy Awards, and seen to date by a combined international audience of 295,000,000 persons, "Gone With The Wind" is being shown as a roadshow attraction.

The history of "Gone With The Wind" is one of the most fascinating in the annals of movie-making. Margaret Mitchell's novel of the South during Civil War days remained a best-seller over the years in every language. It was purchased by Selznick for a then record sum of $50,000.

The motion picture public unanimously selected Clark Gable for the role of Rhett Butler. The demand for Gable as the dashing Southerner was so great that no other actor was ever considered. The selection of Vivien Leigh for Scarlett O'Hara came after an exhaustive two-year search and tests of well-known stage and screen feminine stars and unknowns alike.

A total of 1,400 actresses were interviewed, with 90 actually tested. It is an interesting side note that "Gone With The Wind" brought fame to many. Among those tested was a young New York model. She didn't get the role but was to become famous later as Susan Hayward.

The massive picture has 59 major speaking roles. Thousands of extras were used in spectacle scenes. The most elaborate and still acclaimed as a classic of filmmaking was the burning of Atlanta. The city as it was in 1864 was authentically created on 40 acres at the Selznick Studios in Culver City, California. Of the picture's 90 sets, 50 buildings alone were designed and erected in recreating Atlanta.

NO SECOND CHANCE
The scene had to be filmed in a single "take" without mishap. There would be no second chance. No available camera crane was large enough to cover the scene, in which 1,200 extras appeared.

Shrine Circus Due Here On Sept. 9

Clowns, high wire acts and performing elephants are scheduled for performances at 3:15 p.m. and 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 9, at the Rodeo Grounds when the annual Suez Shrine Circus comes to town.

Children's tickets, as always, will be given away free by merchants in Big Spring, Ackerly, Coahoma, Stanton and Forsan. Adult tickets are $1 in advance and $1.50 at the gate.

"Every effort is being made to top last year's program with all new acts," Gus Bell, producer of the circus, said.

High wire acts include The Four Flying Alexanders, The Royal Troupe from Santiago, Chili, Bob Johnson featuring his one-finger stand, and The Rhaiffs, from France, offering for the first time their high balancing ladders. Fay Alexander of The Four Flying Alexanders did the triple somersault for Burt Lancaster in the picture "Trapeze."

Animal acts already selected are Bucky Steele's Five Performing Elephants, featuring an elephant carrying a live pony in its mouth; Gee Gee's Alaskan Huskies and Twelve Liberty Ponies.

Clown acts will be presented by Gene Randow's Clowns, The Sherman Brothers, "Whit & Face" clowning with their dog Lucky; and Al's Lemon Zep, crazy car antics.

Adult tickets are on sale at Security State Bank, First National, State National, Blum's, Greynhound Bus Terminal, Prager's, Record Shop, Hemphill Wells, and the Chamber of Commerce.

'GUESS WHO ...'

Award Winners In Ritz Feature

Sidney Poitier, today considered America's finest actor, began his theatrical career by being thrown out of the theatre entirely. Currently, Poitier is starred with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn at the Ritz Theatre in the Stanley Kramer production, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," a release in Technicolor which introduces Katharine Houghton.

Poitier, Tracy and Miss Hepburn all have won Academy Awards for their work — Poitier's, for his performance in "Lilies of the Field" — and Poitier has several times starred on Broadway in longrun hits. His first acting try, when he answered a newspaper ad, was a fiasco because nobody knew what he was talking about.

"My West Indies accent was not exactly conducive to helping me as an actor," he recalls, "so I bought a radio for $14 and listened to it every night for six months, trying to mimic what I heard so that I could get rid of my accent."

Texas Towns Shook Up By 'Bonnie And Clyde'

Bank robberies recently shook up a few sleepy Texas towns being used as location sites for "Bonnie and Clyde." The off-beat action drama, with Warren Beatty and Faye Dunaway in the title roles, returns today at the Jet Theater.

The Texas Bank sites selected by director Arthur Penn and Beatty, who made his debut as a producer with this film, included banks actually held up by the notorious Bonnie and Clyde during the 1930's. Among them were the Ponder State Bank in Ponder and the long-closed Farmers and Merchants Bank of Pilot Point.

Townspiece were cast as bank clerks, depositors and passers-by for robbery sequences. Some of them had actually been around when the real Barrow gang struck. The "Bonnie and Clyde" restaging, noted one native of Red Oak, Tex., was more exciting and nerve-racking. "At least Clyde came and went, fast," he observed. "You movie fellows blasted through four or five times."

Michael J. Pollard, Gene

Hackman and Estelle Parsons portray other members of the Barrow gang which ripped through the Southwest on a crime spree. David Newman and Robert Benton wrote the screenplay.

Claud E. Jones, construction foreman in Big Spring, has been named to succeed Tucker.

Benton joined Southwestern Bell in 1957 as a stockman in Lubbock. He worked in various plant department jobs until his promotion to Midland frame foreman in 1967.

He received a B.A. degree in industrial psychology in 1966 from Texas Tech. Benton is a native of Brownfield.

Pays To Serve In U.S. Army

CINCINNATI (AP) — A young Army officer says the U.S. Army has decided to reimburse him for part of $200 he spent to refute doctors' diagnoses that he could not physically qualify for the service.

In fact, 23-year-old Dan Bertram, now a 2nd lieutenant has more than been compensated for the expenses.

"It's just one of the many great things that have happened to me," Bertram said regarding his experiences since an Associated Press story revealed his ambition to join the Army.

Military doctors said Bertram of Cincinnati had diabetes and he was classified 4F, ineligible for service.

But he spent $200 for the medical tests that showed he did not have diabetes. He spent 2½ days in a hospital.

Bertram said he has received $30 in contributions to help cover his expenses and has been flooded with letters, one from Mayor Alfred Straub, of Harrisburg, Pa.

On a television quiz program, he won $133.

Now Bertram says the Army agreed to pay $85 for the tests, but not his other hospital bills.

After completing basic training at Indiantown Gap, Pa., Bertram remains confident he will like Army life.

"It's just a little different—once you make the adjustment to the regimentation it's okay," said the University of Cincinnati graduate, who took the Army ROTC course in school. "I'm looking forward to going to Ft. Sill, Okla."

WILL 'LET 'EM HAVE IT' AGAIN

The Fighting 100th

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Hawaii (AP) — "Gee 'um," the sweating men of Company C chanted as they jogged their second lap around the drill field.

It's pidgin English meaning "let 'em have it," and it expresses the spirit of the 100th Battalion, 442nd Infantry, now training for war again after almost a quarter of a century.

The 100th is almost sacred to Hawaii. During World War II, its members, almost entirely Japanese-Americans, won fame and first-class citizenship in some of the fiercest fighting in Italy and France.

They'll do it. And now their children along with three of the original members, show the same spirit in the reactivated 100th.

The outfit is undergoing training at Schofield Barracks near Honolulu. Called to active duty along with the 29th Infantry Brigade last May, the 100th is attached to the former National Guard unit.

But the 100th is special, and it strives to keep its identity. It's the only battalion in the infantry with its own patch and colors.

"They are something special, and the troops feel it," Capt. J. M. Rolls, the group's adjutant, said.

Although the men, like many others across the country in the nationwide call-up, had to leave their families and good jobs, "they feel they have another job to do, and they'll do it," Rolls said.

How does it feel to serve with one of the most decorated outfits of World War II?

"GO FOR BROKE" "They're just like any other troops," Rolls said. "But they've got more spirit than most units."

According to the old-timers, the young men live up to the battalion's motto: "Go for Broke."

M. Sgt. Thomas S. Miyashiro said, "The times are different, but they are as good as we were. I don't mind going into combat with them."

Miyashiro is one of the three members who served in World War II.

The men of the 100th want to excel, but not for the same reasons the original members did.

During World War II, Japanese-Americans were viewed with suspicion. Thousands were rounded up, taken from their homes and thrown into relocation camps outside the West Coast area.

But the Japanese-Americans moved to counter the war hysteria. Sgt. Miyashiro said he joined the Army in 1943 "to prove to others who were prejudiced against Japanese-Americans that my country is America."

Many others in Hawaii and on the mainland did the same. The 100th Battalion was formed in June, 1942, by Japanese-American volunteers. The 442nd Regiment was born the following February after the Army called for more Nisei—second generation—volunteers. The turnout in Hawaii was so great the Army had to turn away thousands of volunteers.

The 442nd finally met up with the 100th Battalion in Italy, and they joined to form the 442nd Regimental Combat Team. The 100th became the unit's first battalion.

Agriculture Represented

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Six Texas farm organizations are represented on the newly formed Texas Agriculture Water Committee, organized to protect agricultural interests.

Represented are the Texas Farm Bureau, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, Texas Range, Texas Farmers Union and Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

"Agriculture has been placed behind municipalities and industries in Texas," said Sidney Dean of Victoria, chairman of the group. "It should be on a par with industry as agriculture is the number one industry in Texas." Dean is president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Vice chairman is A. L. Black of Friona, president of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts; and the secretary is Wayne Bodkin of Waco, Assistant to the president of Texas Farmers Union.

The committee, organized Thursday in Dallas, voted to ask the Texas Railroad Commission for its interpretation of use of fresh water for flooding oil fields.
