TEXAS TOO Labor Day Weekend Toll Climbs

The toll of Labor Day weekend traffic deaths rose steadily Saturday. The total reached 157.

The National Safety Council had estimated in advance that between 575 and 675 Americans might die in motor vehicle accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday, Sept. 2.

The Associated Press, in a survey to provide a basis for comparison, counted 518 deaths in a non-holiday period of equal length. The period ran from 6 p.m. Friday Aug. 16 to midnight Monday, Aug. 19.

Dry weather encouraged road travel in most sections of the country. But rain damped areas in the Midwest, South and Southeast.

The traffic death record for a Labor Day weekend—they all run three days—was set in 1966. It was 636.

The highest death count for any summer holiday period was made during a four-day celebration of Independence Day in 1967. It was 732. That is also the tops for any holiday period.

Traffic accidents claimed 17 lives in Texas by noon Saturday.

Fire Toll At 16

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Fire destroyed three business-apartment buildings in the city's Midtown section Saturday. Thirteen bodies were recovered and authorities said three persons still were missing.

The three persons still unaccounted for are believed to be children. Police did not release the identities of any victims but said the bodies apparently were those of four adults and three children.

Bible Fund Report

Unless some fires are stirred up in churches and elsewhere today, the high school Bible Class fund is in trouble.

Response has suddenly dipped the last few days, and Saturday it was down to three contributions for a total of $40. Only this week is left in the annual appeal, and around $1,700 is desperately needed.

The non-denominational course—offered for the Bible's great moral, ethical lessons as well as its history and literature—is dependent solely upon private support, although it does offer academic credit.

If you have delayed helping, now is the crucial time to step forward and revive the campaign. Please mail or bring your contributions to The Herald for acknowledgment.

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

There'll be much going on around here during this Labor Day weekend. Webb AFB is putting the big pot in the little one with a string of events that includes a carnival, beauty pageant, bands, quartets, games, rides, contests, concessions, food booths, and not the least—the opening of the handsome new NCCU Club. The 38th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament, one of the oldest continuous events in this part of the country, is under way. Coahoma has its fifth and final summer playday Monday. Everywhere families will be getting picnics and last minute flings.

We can only hold our breath about what could happen on the highways. But then, it couldn't be much worse than what has been happening. A week ago this morning, a car carrying Bobbie Dale Travis, 30, and Mrs. Onnie Odorn, 43, of Odessa, rammed head-on into a Steere Transport truck at the Wild Horse crossing northeast of here on the Snyder highway. Both were killed, apparently instantly. In town there were at least two dozen collisions which produced three injuries.

Nor was this all the violence. Charlie Peterson, 40, was shot at the home of Odessa Conner, 43. She subsequently was charged with murder and released under $5,000 bond. Eugene Robinson, 21,

'New Party' Tries To Draft Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New Party, in search of a leader, mounted pressure this weekend to draft Sen. Eugene McCarthy despite his stated rejection of the role of leader in any fourth party fight for the presidency in November.

The group surfaced earlier this summer with the announced aim of mobilizing a nationwide protest vote against the expected nominations of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon by the major parties.

The first decision of the New Party organizational meeting in Chicago Friday was to encourage a flood of telegrams urging McCarthy to be their standard bearer.

Both before and after he lost his bid for the Democratic nomination McCarthy said he would not lead a fourth party movement, although he said he might join such a movement if it had a worthwhile program and acceptable leadership.

Undeterred by McCarthy's stand, several state units of the New Party are boosting him anyway. In Oregon, one of five states where the New Party claims to have qualified to set on the November ballot, several hundred demonstrators in Portland offered their nomination to McCarthy.

Four Organs Swapped Making Surgical History

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Surgeons made medical history Saturday when they transplanted the heart, one lung and two kidneys from a young woman into four men in simultaneous operations.

The corneas of the donor, a 20-year-old shooting victim, also were removed and placed in an eye bank.

It was a major day in heart transplant history, too, with three such operations taking place across the United States—one here, one in Pittsburgh and another in Stanford, Calif.

Only Friday, a heart transplant was performed in Montreal, Canada.

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, internationally known surgeon who headed the five teams performing the multiple operations here, said this was the first time for as many as four organs from one donor to be transplanted.

"As far as I know there have been only two organs taken from a donor and given to recipients in previous cases," Dr. DeBakey said at a news conference.

All patients remained in satisfactory condition several hours after the operations. Dr. DeBakey said the patients "are reacting as we would want them to react. All vital signs are normal."

The donor was Mrs. Nelva Lou Hernandez, wife of a Houston warehouse foreman.

Recipient of the heart was William C. Carroll, 50, of Scottsdale, Ariz. Receiving the lung was William J. Whaley, 39, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The recipients of the kidneys were William C. Kaiser, 41, of Odessa, Tex., and Thomas A. Stevenson, 22, of Houston.

A 6 p.m. statement from the hospital, about 12 hours after the operations, said all recipients were in satisfactory condition.

CONSCIOUS

Carroll was conscious and his heart action is very satisfactory," a spokesman said. Whaley also was awake and "as far as can be determined, the transplanted lung is functioning satisfactorily."

The spokesman said Kaiser and Stevenson were in "very satisfactory condition."

Surgeons said a new drug was used for the first time in lung transplant to help fight rejection of the organ.

The heart transplant was the 26th in the world and the 11th in Houston. The 37th heart transplant followed Saturday in Pittsburgh and the 38th in Stanford. Ten heart transplants in Houston were performed by a team headed by Dr. Denton J. Cooley at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital. Seven of Dr. Cooley's transplant patients survive and two have been released from the hospital and are working in Houston.

More than 60 doctors, nurses and attendants were in the five teams that performed the multiple transplant surgery Saturday.

Dr. A. C. Beall, who supervised the lung transplant, said there had been five previous lung transplants in the world and none are living.

"We have to take an optimistic approach but at the same time we must be realistic," Dr. Beall said of his patient. "Right now his condition is satisfactory but we have an awfully long way to go."

Kidney transplants are almost routine—more than 1,750 operations have been performed. The transplants Saturday were the 19th and 20th at Methodist Hospital which began this program in 1963.

24 HOURS

Dr. DeBakey said the multiple transplant operation began about 3 a.m. and was completed about 6:30 a.m.

Surgeons said the team re-annealed the heart, lung and finally the kidneys and all organs were taken to four operating rooms where the recipients waited.

The hospital said the surgical team had been organized and the procedures worked out for more than six months to take advantage of the proper situation when it developed.

Carroll was admitted to the hospital Aug. 9, suffering from severe coronary arterial disease. Doctors said he could not have lived more than six months without the transplant.

Whaley was admitted May 13 suffering from incapacitating chronic emphysema.

The kidney transplant was the second for Kaiser. He received the kidney of a 17-year-old boy May 5. The youth's heart was transplanted into the chest of James B. Cobb, 48, of Alexandria, La., at the same time by Dr. Cooley's team. Cobb died.

The hospital said Kaiser's first transplant was unsuccessful.

The shooting of the donor with a .22-caliber pistol occurred Friday night and she died about 12:30 a.m. Saturday.

Soviets Are Warned Against New Invasions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced Saturday that the western allies will take a new look at their European defenses in light of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"The status quo has been changed," the State Department said after a hurriedly called meeting of envoys from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations.

CHANGED

The changed east-west military situation in Europe is of significance to the security of the United States and its allies.

"In the light of these events we are reviewing with our allies what the implications may be for existing arrangements to provide for our common security."

The announcement, issued by State Department press officer Carl Bartsch, was a follow-up to President Johnson's public warning to the Soviets Friday night against launching any more invasions—either against Romania or elsewhere in eastern Europe.

Johnson's warning was reported to have been conveyed to the Kremlin through diplomatic channels also. Bartsch confirmed that Secretary of State Dean Rusk met with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin late Friday night about the time

Johnson was delivering his surprise statement in a San Antonio speech.

The Johnson and State Department statements marked a policy switch as U.S. strategists turned to public pronouncements in an effort to dissuade the Kremlin from any further military overtures.

This is a changeabout from the earlier U.S. tactic on Czechoslovakia. In that case the U.S.

Hundreds Killed In Iran Quake

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—An earthquake shook a 750-square-mile area of eastern Iran Saturday afternoon and early reports indicated several hundred persons were killed.

The one-minute quake, centered about 560 miles east of Tehran, near the borders of Russia and Afghanistan, struck almost six years to the day after a quake that killed 13,000 persons in western Iran.

Government officials refused to give any casualty figures. But the Red Lion and Sun said the quake caused heavy damage and casualties and press reports put the death toll in the hundreds.

government deliberately kept silent for months while independent-minded Prague argued with Moscow. The theory then was that Washington could best help the Czechs by keeping its nose out of the Communist family quarrel.

FAILURE

Apprehensive U.S. officials acknowledged that the new approach tried by President Johnson in his surprise statement stemmed in part from the failure of the old policy to stave off the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Furthermore, they said, the faith of U.S. policy makers that the Kremlin will act in reasonable fashion has been jolted by the ruthless way the Soviets are pursuing their crackdown on Czechoslovakia and by the repeated rumors of Russian troop movements around Romania.

This explanation was given for Johnson's sudden decision to add to a prepared San Antonio speech his warning to the Soviets against repeating their Czech invasion elsewhere in the days ahead in Eastern Europe.

"We must not in the year 1968 return to a world of unbridled aggression," the President said. "Let no one unleash the dogs of war."

Rat Cuts Off Power At Fair

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A power failure caused by a rat brought about one fourth of the San Antonio world's fair to a near standstill for two hours Saturday. Some 200 passengers were temporarily stranded about the monimonal and about a dozen foreign pavilions were closed.

Hemistair's chief electrician, Earl Pizzini, said a rat got into a transformer in the southwest quadrant of the fairgrounds and shorted it out. He said it was the fair's longest power failure.

RESTORED

Full power was restored by 3 p.m. The power failure came just as a drizzle stopped after peering San Antonio much of the day, and visitors were beginning to pour into the fair.

Not affected were the Tower of the Americas—scene of power failure in the past—the U.S. pavilion and the Institute of Texas Cultures, Pizzini said.

Early reports said the entire fair was blacked out, but officials said the area included only the southwest corner, where foreign pavilions, press center and Texas International trade center are located.

Eight trains aboard the monimonal that circles the area were stopped in their tracks, officials and witnesses said.

Romania Steps Up Readiness

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Thousands of Romanians donned brown militia overalls Saturday for a weekend of paramilitary training as the armed forces stepped up combat readiness amid reports of Soviet troop concentrations along the country's unprotected borders.

Weapons drill was held on tightly guarded factory grounds and army bases where World War II veterans staged target practice and teenage girls rattled off the nomenclature of Soviet-made rifles.

REPORTS

Border authorities in eastern and northeastern provinces were said to have received fresh reports of Soviet armor moving behind the Prut River. Intelligence was reported to have located Soviet divisions in Moldavia and Bessarabia, former Romanian territories seized by the Russians during the war. Estimates ranged from 15 to 27 divisions.

The regime of President Nicolae Ceausescu, architect of Romania's policy of independence maintained an air of outward calm while working behind the scenes to try to find a political settlement to the East European crisis.

Communist sources said

Ceausescu has appealed to Moscow and its four hard-line allies to give firm guarantees that Romania will be spared Czechoslovakia's fate and to create conditions for a settlement by withdrawing the occupation troops from that country.

In an emotion-charged speech Friday at the Transylvanian city of Cluj, Ceausescu again pleaded with the Russians to "prevent a deepening of differences" in the Communist camp.

SENT MEMO

The Romanian leader reportedly sent a memorandum to the five occupying pact members—Bulgaria, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Russia—asking that the Czechoslovak issue and Romania's request for non-intervention guarantees be placed before a conference of ruling Communist parties. The meeting to be convened after the Warsaw Pact armies have left Czechoslovakia.

As a price for such guarantees, Romania was said to be ready to renew a 20-year friendship and mutual assistance treaty with the Soviet Union. The pact concluded in 1948 expired earlier this year and was not renewed because of a controversy over terms the Romanians considered incompatible with their independent policies.

MIDLAND TYKE'S PARTIALLY NUDE BODY FOUND IN CLOSET

Policeman Charged In Child's Murder

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—A rookie policeman—a Marine Corps veteran of Vietnam—was charged with murder Saturday after the body of a 2-year-old girl was discovered in his stepfather's home.

Blonde little Lori Margaret Gunn had been missing more than 19 hours when her partially nude body was found in the home of former Midland City Councilman Jack Walcher.

Charged with murder with malice was Walcher's stepson, Michael Lee Moody, 24, a son of Mrs. Walcher by a previous marriage. Moody was the only person occupying the house at the time of the slaying, Walcher and his wife had been in Ruidoso, N.M., several days, police said.

The Walcher home, next door to the home of the child's parents, had been used by officers

Saturday as a command post in a wide hunt for Lori, last seen riding her tricycle under the carport of the house about 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Sgt. Vince Conklin of the Midland police discovered the body of the child, partially wrapped in a sleeping bag, in a bedroom closet of the Walcher home. Conklin arrested Moody on the spot and told him of his rights.

DOOR AJAR

The police sergeant said that when they entered the room, the closet doors were slightly ajar and that Moody tried to close them by backing against them.

"Let's look into the closet," Conklin said.

"Well, there's nothing in it," he quoted Moody as answering. Conklin opened the closet door, and the lower part of the girl's body fell forward from the sleeping bag.

"You're under arrest," the veteran officer said to the rookie patrolman.

Moody was hustled through a back door of the home into a squad car by Conklin and other officers and taken to the Midland police station.

From the same house in which the body was found, police had directed a wide search by about 800 persons for the missing girl. The search continued from midnight until dawn as more people joined the search.

Lori's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Gunn. He is a geologist with an oil company in this West Texas petroleum center. Mrs. Gunn is a woman's page columnist for the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Moody was discharged from the Marine Corps on Nov. 16, 1967, after serving for two years in Vietnam. He joined the Midland Police Department about two weeks after his discharge.

Police Capt. Wayne Gideon filed the murder charges against Moody before Justice of the Peace Robert H. Pine. Pine denied bond pending an examining trial which he set for Tuesday.

Although officers said the child apparently was killed by a blow on the head, the formal charge said she died of murder "by means unknown." It was not immediately known if she had been raped.

ATTORNEY

The Walcher's still in Ruidoso, retained an attorney for Moody. Police said he had made no statement and was not being interrogated.

Police Chief Harold Wallace asked all residents of Midland to search their homes and out-buildings in case Lori Margaret had walked or been taken to some structure. The city was virtually ransacked as the hunt went on.

Hours after her disappearance and just a short while before the body was found, Chief Wallace had said, "We have no leads . . ."

The National Guard and Boy

Scouts, officers from the county and city and volunteers pressed the search.

Officers described the child as large for her age, weighing about 40 pounds and standing three feet. She was a blonde with brown eyes and fair complexion.

She was the youngest of four Gunn children. The oldest is 13.

Suspect Charged

Sgt. Gayle Reeves (left) books in police patrolman Michael Lee Moody Saturday, in the murder of a two-year-old child, Lori Gunn. Her body was found in the closet of Moody's stepfather's home, next door to the Gunn residence.

Tax Increase To Finance County's Higher Budget

By SAM BLACKBURN
There are six items in the 1969 Howard County budget for public hearing on Sept. 9, which makes it different from any of its predecessors for the past several years.

These new features are:
1) A flat 10 per cent increase in salaries of all elected officials (with the exception of the members of the Howard County Commission and all deputies or appointive workers effective with the January paychecks.

2) Earmarking of $25,000 to initiate a county official-employee retirement program, as provided by state law, with the county and the employee jointly contributing to the enterprise.
3) $25,000 appropriation to be available if and when the U.S. government should cease the present Big Spring post office building to the county for its development into a modern library building.

4) $14,000 set aside to combine the present two county fair barns, west of town, into one large building by roofing over the intervening space between the present structures.
5) $5,000 designated to finance the county's part in the establishment of a Howard County Child Welfare Department state has the funds and approves participation in the establishment of such an agency here.

6) Allocation of $18,000 to supplement the county's fire fighting equipment: this money is said, will provide one fire truck, and possibly for a second station later on.

TAX CHANGE
Because the county commissioners sometime ago approved a change in the formula by which tax valuation will be determined by changing the percentage of actual value from 20 to 25 per cent, these programs can be achieved along with the other normal operations of the county and yet decrease the tax rate from its current mark of $1.07 to $1.05 per $100 valuation.

However, because the formula by which taxes will be figured has been increased by five per cent, the tax bills of property owners will be increased. Property which has a real value of $10,000, for example, will now be assessed at $2,500 where in 1968 it was $2,000. At $1.07 per $100 value, the taxpayer was billed last year for $21.40 county taxes; he will now pay at $1.05 per $100, $26.25—an increase of $4.85.

Virginia Black, county auditor, in preparing the budget estimated the county taxes on the valuation shown would be $21,326.875 total. However, it is estimated in setting up the budget, that only 90 per cent of the taxes will be paid during the year—producing an income of $744,187.50. Delinquent taxes due the county on July 1, 1968, were $110,330, and it was estimated that $77,273 will be collected during the current tax year. The tax delinquency expected to exist next July is pegged at $82,687.

COUNTY FAIR BARN MAY BE UNITED INTO ONE LARGE STRUCTURE
Area marked by bars could be transformed into additional roofed space of the $41,625 increase and represents the salary boosts of the workers in this department. Appropriation for heavy equipment purchases for 1969 is $29,479, an increase of $11,579 over 1968. However, $10,000 set up for trucks this year is missing in 1969. Another major item this year is payment for a tractor, bought by the department—$14,750. Total expenditures for the current year for this department are $335,300, compared with $379,925 in 1968—an increase of $44,625.

GENERAL FUND—General fund has an estimated total income from all sources of $343,667. This compares with $261,883 for the current year. The fund is $81,784 larger than in the current year.

COMMISSIONERS COURT—Total budget for this department is $21,670, compared with $20,278 in 1968. With exception of a $500 increase in the salary of the secretary, $300 in year for fire protection and $3,000 spent this year for firemen's liability. Added is $2,000 for maintenance of the county's fire fighting equipment.

ELECTION EXPENSE—This fund is unchanged—$3,550 earmarked for the ensuing year as was the case this year.

CHARITIES—This department shows an increase from $34,174 to $42,465—up $7,291. Of this increase, $5,000 is money to establish a Child Welfare Department provided the state is ready to cooperate and join the effort. The Health Unit expense is increased from $11,200 to $12,000. An additional $800 is also set up for "health unit program"—an item not in the 1968 budget. The salary increases for the case worker, and her secretary, plus the county retirement fund, total $1,000. The total county payment is $37,535 compared with $37,275 for the $7,291 increase in the $242,000 for this major fund, which is about $19,000 larger than in 1968. This is the fund which finances the operation of the bulk of the county offices. Bulk of the increase is derived from the increases in official and employee salaries, heavier Social Security tax payments, and increases made for hiked postage rates.

TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR—Total budget for the new year is $50,493, compared with $45,635 for the current year. Bulk of the increase of $4,768 is a 10 per cent salary hike aggregating $3,708.

COUNTY CLERK—County clerk budget for 1969 is $41,773 which is about $3,000 up. Only increases are salary hikes and Social Security payments.

DISTRICT CLERK—District clerk's budget is up $3,746. Total allocation is $21,062. Salary increases for the clerk and 100 deputies, plus postage, Social Security tax boost and stationery, account for the difference.

SHERIFF—Total budget for this department is $79,896. The current year budget called for $72,782. Salary increases, Social Security and $300 for groceries for the jailer and cooks account for most of the $7,014 increase.

COUNTY ATTORNEY—Salary increases, Social Security and $127 additional for vacation help, hiked this office budget for 1969 from $12,789 to $14,991.

COUNTY JUDGE—Budget for the county judge for 1969, is $10,302. This is $942 over the current year. The county judge, although a member of the commissioner's court, was the exception in the matter of salary raises. The commissioners got no raise, but the county judge received his 10 per cent along with other officials.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE—There are three justices of the peace offices in the county. Two are in Big Spring. They are designated as No. 1, Place 1 and No. 1, Place 2. The budget for each of these is $7,814. Salary increases have hiked the figure from $7,110 to $7,814. The third justice of peace office is Coahoma—No. 2. Budget for this office is $1,443, which is $131 greater than the current budget.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT FUND—An increase from $23,300 to $51,690 in this fund is explained by the presence of $25,000 set up for 1969 for the renovation of the Big Spring post office building into a new county library. This will be spent, if and when, the post office department decides to give the building to the county when the post office moves to the new federal building. Also $20,000 in this fund is earmarked as a transfer to the regular library fund—an increase of $3,000.

LIBRARY FUND—The county library budget for 1969 is pegged at $21,801, of which $20,000 comes from the transfer listed above. This is about $2,950 over the current budget. Salary increases, plus an extra $1,600 for books and binders, accounts for the increase which is offset by $500 cut in film program expense and $150 reduction in machine expense.

LAW LIBRARY—Law library budget is unchanged from the current year—$3,900. The library is financed from fees charged in the filing of cases in the county and district court and derives no income from county tax money.

AIRPORT OPERATING FUND—Howard County has an income of $16,100 from operation of the Howard County airport, derived from landing fees, office rent, hangar rent and grass lease. Expenditures for the current year are estimated at $15,215. Included is an item of $11,000 for repairs and replacements. The same item is included in the new budget and the money allotted is the same.

LATERAL ROAD FUND—The income for this fund derives from the state payment of refunds on an old statewide paving bond issue and is always $27,162. This money is used to pave county roads. The budget is the same this year as last.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS AIRPORT SINKING FUND—Howard County still owes $390,000 on its airport. It will pay off $100,000 of the debt in 1969 and $12,700 on interest. Total budget for the sinking fund is $50,650.

COURTHOUSE AND JAIL SINKING FUND—The county owes $348,000 on the bonds which financed the courthouse and county jail. This year it paid off $47,000 on the principal and in 1969 will pay off another $49,000. Interest to be paid in 1969 will be $8,700. The oil evaluator receives $1,700 from this fund (and $800 from the airport fund). The budget is $91,300 for 1969 compared with $98,050 this year.

1965 ROAD BOND SINKING FUND—Howard County owes $335,000 on its 1965 road bonds and $190,000 on the 1966 road bonds. This year the county paid off $25,000 on the 1965 bonds but nothing was due on the 1966 issue. The county paid out $11,060 interest on the 1965 issue and $5,000 on the 1966 issue.

This coming year, the county will pay $45,000 on the 1965 issue and $10,000 on the 1966 issue. The county will pay $10,185 interest on the 1965 and $7,012 on the 1966 issue. The oil evaluator receives $1,400 of his compensation from this fund.

LIBRARY OF COUNTY'S FUTURE?
Funds set up by county to remodel post office building

Included in this fund are total payments to Coahoma fire department of $1,500 for protection in rural areas; $1,700 for civil defense, along with insurance for county employees, liability, county property, and other items. Missing this coming year is $8,500, which was in the budget last year for fire protection and $3,000 spent this year for firemen's liability. Added is $2,000 for maintenance of the county's fire fighting equipment.

AGRICULTURE—Pay increases for the two agents, one assistant and the secretary in the office, plus Social Security tax increases account for the $1,295 hike. Total allocation for the office is $16,294.

CAPITAL OUTLAY—Two important new items are in this fund. One is the $14,800 scheduled for use in joining the two fair grounds barns into one building, and a second is $18,000 set up for fire station equipment in one item—no computer payment is being made this year. Total allocation for this fund is $47,800, an increase of $28,622.

OFFICER SALARY—The commissioners have set up Valentine Day, 1960. The Circuit Court, in its ruling on Tindol's petition for writ of habeas corpus, said the man is entitled to an appeal if such an appeal could be filed at this time or to a new trial, if an appeal could not be handled. It also said that if neither action was taken by the state "within a reasonable time," that the prisoner should be finally discharged from prison.

Now officials around the courthouse are wondering just how long a reasonable time can be.

James Tindol, under 15-year here, demands that he be released because he is serving "a sentence on a conviction which has not been proved valid."

Tindol was found guilty by a district court jury in the beating death of William Gatlin on Meantime in Big Spring, a state attorney general's assistant has been in conference with Wayne Burns, district attorney, Gil Jones, who was prosecutor when Tindol was convicted, and with Ralph W. Caton, judge who presided in the trial in 118th District Court.

Also said to have been contacted by the attorney general is Carroll Smith, former Big Spring lawyer, who was counsel for Tindol in his trial.

Meantime, court observers are wondering about the "reasonable time" specified by the U.S. Circuit court several weeks ago, as permitted the state before an "acceptable appeal" would be filed in behalf of the convict.

If this "acceptable" appeal was not prepared and filed "within a reasonable time," the high court ordered that the prisoner be finally discharged from prison.

The problem of an appeal for Tindol at this late date, or a new trial if that was the best course, hinges on the lapse of time and the absence of official records in the case. Transcript notes have been destroyed. The witnesses who testified have scattered and probably could not be reassembled.

Tindol's demand that he be removed from the prison to the jail here on a bench warrant is based on his contention that, while he is serving time in the penitentiary, working at his assigned prison tasks and restricted by regulations, he has no opportunity to properly pursue his efforts to get either a new trial or a proper appeal.

He needs to be in Big Spring, he said, so that he may have opportunity to discuss his case with his attorney and refuse any appeal which he may feel is not acceptable. If he is not returned

Tindol Now Seeks Return To County

James Tindol, under 15-year here, demands that he be released because he is serving "a sentence on a conviction which has not been proved valid."

Tindol was found guilty by a district court jury in the beating death of William Gatlin on Meantime in Big Spring, a state attorney general's assistant has been in conference with Wayne Burns, district attorney, Gil Jones, who was prosecutor when Tindol was convicted, and with Ralph W. Caton, judge who presided in the trial in 118th District Court.

Also said to have been contacted by the attorney general is Carroll Smith, former Big Spring lawyer, who was counsel for Tindol in his trial.

Meantime, court observers are wondering about the "reasonable time" specified by the U.S. Circuit court several weeks ago, as permitted the state before an "acceptable appeal" would be filed in behalf of the convict.

If this "acceptable" appeal was not prepared and filed "within a reasonable time," the high court ordered that the prisoner be finally discharged from prison.

Yippies Planned Rioting, Provoking Attacks

CHICAGO (AP) — A policeman who infiltrated the Youth International Party has disclosed how Yippies planned in advance to riot and provoke attacks on them by police during the Democratic National Convention, the Chicago Tribune said Saturday.

The Tribune said in a copy-right story that the policeman, Robert L. Pierson, told the newspaper he was given a leave to serve as an investigator for the state's attorney's office, won the Yippies' confidence and became bodyguard for their leader, Jerry Rubin.

Pierson, 35, said he guarded Rubin from Sunday afternoon until Wednesday afternoon when his identity was discovered in a chance meeting with a member of the Blackstone Rangers, a South Side street gang, who recognized him.

Demonstrations by antiwar groups, including the Yippies, during this week's Democratic convention resulted in violent exchanges between protesters and police. The outbreaks brought swift action by police and charges that they attacked demonstrators without provocation, often clubbing them into submission.

Several hundred were arrested and scores were injured.

As a result of Pierson's undercover work, the Tribune said, police officials knew in ad-advance what the Yippies were planning.

Pierson related that after he received permission from the Cook County — Chicago — state attorney's office to infiltrate the Yippies, he grew a beard for six days, rented a motorcycle and rode into Lincoln Park on Monday. The Yippies generally operated out of the North Side park and it was the scene of a number of violent exchanges between them and police early in the week.

The policeman said he came to the attention of Rubin by breaking up fights among hippies three times on Monday. It was then that Rubin assigned Pierson as bodyguard, Pierson told the Tribune.

It was on Monday, too, Pierson said, that Rubin entrusted him with his personal diary of Yippie plans and told him to hold on to it at all costs.

Pierson said he later excused himself by telling Rubin he had

Combat Flier Turns Diary Into A Novel

Jim Harris did an unusual thing for a combat flier — he kept a diary of all his missions as a B-17 pilot. Now the Midland Southern Methodist University insurance broker has done another unusual thing about his experiences — he has put them together in a book.

"Tail End Charlie" comes out successfully as his flying adventures during World War II as a part of the then pitifully small, but Eighth Air Force, assigned the task of daylight raids on Nazi strongholds.

Harris, created some characters and a story vehicle of the earthy activities and constant amours of the crew of Monday's RAF Goldfish Club, those who Mourner and, later, of Har-vey's Hellcats, to carry along with them.

It is his account of battling enemy fighters, bouncing over flak "thick enough to land on," and with enough gasoline to land on because of flying the catch-up tail-end slot that gives life to many historic bombing raids. Among them were thrusts at Bremen, St. Nazaire, and other points; the then-largest daylight raid of the war over Bremen; the first shuttle flight from England, over Europe and to North Africa; the adoption of an African donkey as the outfit's mascot, threading up the Ruhr Valley, known as Flack Alley, to blast industrial targets.

Those who flew combat missions during the war, particularly bomber pilots and those in the Eighth Air Force, will find memories stirred by this account pin-point narrative.

Police and firemen stand watch Friday after Michigan Air National Guard jet fighter crashed on takeoff at Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport and came rest in the median of Interstate 494. The pilot, Capt. Sylvre Coussement, Glen Ellyn, Ill., escaped injury.

Kipnaper Had Difficult Time Finding Deliverer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The kidnaper of 4-year-old Stanley Stafford Jr. telephoned home four restaurants in the Los Angeles area before he found a man willing to deliver $250,000 ransom.

Before Harold "Red" Tractor agreed, the caller said the others: "They all said they didn't want to get involved."

A nerve-racking 36 hours followed for Tractor, 47. The ordeal included 15 hushed phone conversations, the care of a 30-pound satchel containing $250,000 in $20 bills and a lonely drive to the payoff spot with the hope FBI agents were somewhere near watching.

At the end Robert L. Dacy, 59, an ex-convict, was wounded and captured Friday in a wild chase and gun battle, and the frightened boy was returned to his parents.

Dacy, in a hospital with a broken right leg, later pleaded innocent to two state counts of kidnaping for ransom. He was ordered held without bond with his preliminary hearing set for Sept. 20 in Municipal Court.

"I took good care of your boy," Dacy told the mother as she arrived at Morningside Hospital where doctors were taking stitches in Stanley's leg cut in a traffic collision that ended the long chase.

"I gave him candy and milk," the youngster still wore the blue bathing suit which he had on Wednesday morning when a man posing as an electrician working next door tied up his

Dear Abby

Surprise Trip By Mom

DEAR ABBY: I suppose you must get a lot of fake problems but this is the real McCoy.

I am a 1st lieutenant in an infantry outfit in Vietnam. I am due to go on R & R the end of this month, and planned to meet Judy, my fiancée, in Hawaii.

Tonight I received a letter from Judy telling me that my mother is planning to go to Hawaii and "surprise" me on my R & R. My mother and Judy are rather close, but I'm sure this wasn't Judy's idea.

Believe me, I love my mother, but I am 25 years old and Judy is 22 and the last thing I want right now is my mother on my R & R (Rest and Recuperation) with me.

How do I tell her to stay home without hurting her feelings?

STARS AND STRIPES

DEAR S AND S: If your mother and Judy are "rather close," your mother probably knows Judy is meeting you in Hawaii so mother may think you need a chaperone. Unless you want to be the dummy in a three-handed honeymoon bridge game, better tell Mom you were "surprised" already to hear of her intended visit, so to please skip the trip.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are frantic and don't know where to turn. I'll get right to the point:

Last night I found a small corn cob pipe in my teenage daughter's room. It had been "smoked" and still contained a small portion of something that looks like tobacco, and yet it isn't tobacco. We fear it's some kind of drug or dope.

When my husband confronted our daughter with this pipe, she said she didn't know what it contained — that a boy had given it to her. We don't believe her.

Where can we go to have the contents of this pipe analyzed?

Crippled Children Clinic Scheduled For Sept. 7

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, in cooperation with the Howard County Easter Seal Society, will conduct its next crippled children's clinic Saturday, Sept. 7, beginning at 9 a.m. Parents of children may pre-register by calling the center or register the day of the clinic until noon.

The clinic will be under the supervision of the center's medical advisory committee, composed of Dr. B. Broadrick, Dr. M. W. Taibot Jr., Dr. Nell W. Sanders, Dr. Louise Worthy, and Col. E. C. Parker Jr. The medical director of the clinic will be Dr. Thurston Dean, orthopedic surgeon from Midland. Local pediatricians will alternate supplying pediatric services.

All children up to 21 years of age are eligible to attend. Children from Lamesa, Colorado City, Snyder, Lorraine, Stanton, Sterling City, Garden City, as well as Howard County may benefit from this clinic. No charge will be made for services.

Parents of crippled children who wish to have their children seen in this clinic should contact their family physician in order to have them referred. If they do not have a physician, they should contact the center or register the day of the clinic.

The purpose of the clinic is to offer a diagnostic and evaluation service to crippled children through the team approach. The team will consist of an orthopedic surgeon, pediatrician, physical therapist, speech therapist, occupational therapist, public health nurse, and brace man. It is felt that through the team approach that a better evaluation of the child's treatment program can be given. The clinic will help to determine what kind of treatment is best for the child, which might need one or a combination of the following types of treatment: physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy, surgery, braces, corrective shoes, drugs, or a home exercise program.

Children who have so far not been treated might be located through this clinic and treatment offered. It is essential that children who are eligible for the state crippled children's program be seen by a physician who is a member of the board of physicians, approved by the State Crippled Children's Division before they can be placed under this program. The clinic will offer such a physician in Dr. Dean.

Mitchell's First Bale Is Reported

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mitchell County's first bale of cotton was ginned by the Guitart Gin of Lorraine, Thursday, from 1,940 pounds of cotton grown by Marcelano Madrid on the Charley Thompson farm, one mile east of Lorraine.

Madrid's bale was from Watson-cotton planted the last week in April and hand pulled from eight acres. Madrid received $100 contributed by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and merchants of Lorraine and Westbrook.

ALMOST 1,000 T-38s TO GET NEW GEAR

Mammoth Project To Start At Webb

A large hangar abandoned when the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron left Webb AFB will again see activity when work begins to replace the landing gears on almost 1,000 F-5 Freedom Fighters, the combat version of the Talon.

The changeover will take about a day and a half for each plane. Chief Warrant Officer Henry D. Brewer, assistant governor of technical representation, said that the projected goal will be 21 Talons per month. The projected number of finished aircraft by next June is 165.

"Webb was chosen for the modification site because of existing unused facilities. We also think that the choice was made because Webb has that 'get it done right' spirit," Brewer said.

The change in landing gear, which is stronger and heavier, should decrease fatigue and maintenance on the struts and related parts.

Addition of the heavier replacement landing gear will increase the weight of each craft by only 36 pounds.

Seven men will do all the modification work necessary. There will be one electrician, one sheet metal specialist, one supply specialist, three aircraft general mechanics and one supervisor. Each plane will require between 55 and 65 man-hours to make the conversion.

Planes will be flown in from all ACT bases concerned. Scheduling will permit a Talon to be landed and readied in the morning, with the dismantling started that afternoon. Modifications will be completed by the following afternoon. The craft will be ready for departure the next morning.

The first planes converted will be Webb's so that a learning curve can be established and scheduling will be more precise.

In the first month six planes will come from here, six from Williams AFB, Ariz., and three from Tyndall AFB, Fla.

All reusable parts of the old style landing gear will be shipped to San Antonio Air Materiel Area for rebuilding and reuse.

New parts are being supplied directly from the Northrop factory. The Air Force will furnish all tools and supervise the work. The civilian contractor will furnish men only.

Planes will be flown in from all ACT bases concerned. Scheduling will permit a Talon to be landed and readied in the morning, with the dismantling started that afternoon. Modifications will be completed by the following afternoon. The craft will be ready for departure the next morning.

The first planes converted will be Webb's so that a learning curve can be established and scheduling will be more precise.

Dallas Seeks Policemen

Police Officers Morgan Robnett and W. T. Hillburn will be at the Holiday Motor Inn from 1-7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18, to answer questions about the Dallas Police Department and explain what it has to offer to interested men. They will administer the Civil Service examination to those applicants who meet the minimum requirements.

The Dallas department has openings for applicants between the ages of 19-38. Because of the shortage of personnel, promotional opportunities are considered excellent. The starting annual salary for a recruit is $6,000 with automatic increases to $6,888. A substantial pay increase is expected Oct. 1. Police recruits work a 40 hour week and all necessary equipment is furnished by the department.

Recently, the maximum age limit was raised to 38 in hopes of attracting retiring Armed Forces personnel. Date of employment must be prior to applicant's 39th birthday.

Royal Newlyweds Skip Festivities

OSLO (AP) — Norway's royal newlyweds, Crown Prince Harald and Crown Princess Sonia, were believed en route to the Caribbean today on the royal yacht Norge.

Married Thursday, the 31-year-old prince and his 20-year-old bride slipped away from the festivities at the palace after midnight and sailed off in the yacht which his father, King Olav V, lent them.

Horoscope Forecast

FUR TODAY AND TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early morning is very good for Sunday services and studies and for really listening to a sermon. Later in the day you are able to get in touch with some pretty influential persons and get them to do as you wish with your fondest outside aims as well as your satisfactions in general.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): If you don't rise in a hurry, you are going to get on the good side of a powerful individual, easily. Be sensitive to the right person. Listen to the addition that is rightfully yours.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Some new idea could lead you right down the primrose path during the night. But then new friends bring happiness you had not expected. Dig into that new material that brings knowledge that should have been known. Be sure you are not in a hurry to follow intuition in a hurry or you get in deep. Later you can think and act most constructively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Don't follow intuition in a hurry or you get in deep. Later you can think and act most constructively.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Good morning to find out what aspects exist. Expect to meet a new person and then relax. Make your plans to get wheels in motion during the coming week. Then the right idea occurs to you accordingly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): If you have an opportunity to assist persons who come to you for help, do it. Your services are very much needed. Don't be too hasty to say "yes" to a request. You may have a lot to do.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sep. 23): Don't upset present setup in a firm because you feel tired. Get out and have a little fun of whatever pleases you most. Even if it is for the sake of a new work, you really care by some fancy art, etc.

LIBRA (Sep. 24 to Oct. 23): If you show great thoughtfulness in the job you live with, you will find everything comes so harmonious. It will be a delight from now on. Also, you may get along better with coworkers. You don't have to do all the work in the world.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you show appreciation to associates for the work you are doing, you will find that you can get along with them. Don't forget to write to that rich aunt uncle. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Find a better system for adding to present income. Show others that you are making a profit. A money trail may be the key. Show them that prosperity starts with a state of mind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Show persons who can be relied on in terms of trouble that you are most grateful and entertain them lavishly tonight. You have to use that smile most if you are to get the right results. Make others happy and increase own happiness.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): If you plan now for a more prosperous future, you find you can have it! That is provided you apply yourself. Also, if you have promised to assist others, be sure you do so. Don't fudge on a right promise — be ethical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Go after persons you like and convince them to go along with your ideas, whether in business or society. Your foundation for entertainment are fine, so carry through with them tonight. Show that you have taste and imagination.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful time to enjoy the long-time pleasures in the past and for using any spare moments of all to think about how you can best build a firm foundation for yourself in the coming months that your life is far more successful and you have more worldly success and honor.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): A good day to contact influential persons in the world of activity and gain most information that is valuable from them. Find out how to improve credit in the days ahead. Take care not to overdo.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Find out the right place where you can get a new and lucrative idea for your greater development. Persons whose background has been different to yours are very helpful. Don't go to bed too late.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Analyze your activities and see how to handle them with greater care so that you make a fine impression on higher-ups. Show that you are very romantic with

Hospital Here Makes Major Steps To Solve Alcoholism

By TEX ROGERS

Researchers are coming close in developing workable programs for alcoholics, and when the alcohol problem is solved, Big Spring State Hospital will have contributed much in that area.

"Big Spring State Hospital is one of the best anywhere in combating the problem of alcoholism," said Dr. Gary Miller, deputy state commissioner for Mental Health and Retardation.

"Although the state hospital at Big Spring is one of the smallest of the nine such units in Texas, it is a leader in the treatment of alcoholics," he said.

VISIT FACILITY

Dr. Miller, and his assistant, Mrs. Sarah Conklin, were here Wednesday at the Big Spring State Hospital, which was host to the state meeting of vocational rehabilitation counselors.

"Enough answers have been accumulated on alcoholism to develop workable programs to help alcoholics," he said.

Research on all mental illnesses being done at every state hospital, and at the Texas Research Institute on Mental Science in Houston, Dr. Miller noted.

The hospitals have various projects in search of new programs and ideas, with most funds coming through federal grants. If a hospital uncovers a program that is successful, other institutions can use them.

DONE A LOT

The state hospital here has done much in contributing to solutions of mental health problems, he said.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, hospital superintendent, said alcoholism is the major problem of patients admitted to Big Spring hospital.

"About 30 per cent of our patients are alcoholics, and that's about the same figure of other state hospitals," he said.

CARD OF THANKS

Words alone can never express our grateful appreciation for the many, many kindnesses shown us by our lost and beloved husband and father. The calls, visits, floral offerings and the food helped to brighten our lives during a very dark time. May God bless each and every one of you.

Mrs. John W. Hildreth

mental illness should be accepted as a problem. Those who have mental illness in their family seem more understanding."

He noted that a greater interest in volunteer programs in state hospital is a good indication of more understanding and acceptance by the public.

Mental illness may also be much more common in this field.

"There obviously are biological and chemical factors involved in mental illness," he said. "Actually, it could mean the same thing, depending on the language used by the psychiatrist and psychologist. A psychiatrist may interpret a reaction as mental, while a biologist may say the same reaction is chemical, but they both can be right."

EXAMPLE

Dr. Miller explained: "Suppose an alcoholic feels anxiety, which is a mental reaction, and takes a drink. The alcohol is a chemical and reacts as a chemical to relieve the anxiety. Also, the impression of the man's brain to take a drink is of a bio-chemical nature."

"For every psychological disturbance in the mind, there must be a biological or chemical reason," he said.

A big help to the state hospital and Department of Mental Health and Retardation will come in the future when the department installs a computer which will enable the research of correlation of data on cases.

"This new program will be very effective in comparing all kinds of mental cases," Dr. Miller said. "It will effect every employ in the department in doing a better job in solving the problem of mental illness."

"Most people are beginning to understand the problems of mental illness, but I don't believe they understand them fully," he said. "Some people have a fear of mental illness, but they should realize that

Newer Residents Must Apply For Voting Ballot

Voters who have lived in Texas less than a year must immediately apply for a ballot during a 15-day period beginning Friday, Sept. 6, if they want to vote for president and vice president in the coming general election. Pauline S. Petty, county clerk, announced. Applicants must appear in person.

This will be the first time that persons having less than a year's residence in the state will be able to vote in a presidential election. Mrs. Petty should take this document with said. A law passed by the Texas Legislature last year permits a voter who moved to Texas from another state less than a year before general election day to vote for president and vice president, but for no other offices, if he will have lived in Texas at least 60 days on election day.

In order to vote, he must possess all the qualifications required of electors under Texas law, except the ordinary residence requirements. It must also be shown that he was collected information on the voter's residence in the state. The voter must provide his own means of identification. He must also provide a recent photograph. Applicants must appear in person at the county clerk's office to apply for a ballot. If he does not have written proof of his registration, it will be necessary for the clerk to obtain verification of his voting eligibility from the voter registrar or other appropriate election official at the place of his former residence before he will be accepted for voting.

Applications must be filed with the clerk by 5 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 20. However, the voters will not actually vote until the period of Oct. 21-Nov. 1, when they will return to the clerk's office and cast their ballots. Each applicant will be given written notice informing him whether his application has been accepted after Mrs. Petty receives a reply from the voter registrar in the state of former residence.

Persons voting in the presidential election under this special procedure need not be registered as voters in the county where they now live.

Mrs. Petty emphasized that this voting procedure applies only to persons who will have lived in Texas less than a year on election day. If a person moved to Texas before Nov. 5, 1967, he must be registered with the county tax assessor-collector in order to vote in the general election Nov. 5, and he will vote in the regular manner on election day. However, only those persons who became residents of Texas after Oct. 1, 1967, may register at this time, and they must register by next Oct. 5 in order to vote in the election on Nov. 5. Registration for persons who became residents on or before Oct. 1, 1967, closed last Jan. 31.

THE WEEK

roughneck for Sharp Drilling Company, was caught between drillpipe on a rig 14 miles west of here Monday. He died Thursday night.

Things should be fitting rapidly back into the old groove as of Tuesday. Most schools will be starting then, and nothing changes summer into autumn quite so quick. Forsan started last week and enrolled over 420, about as expected. There are still a few faculty spots to be filled here and in the area — mostly in math, and this year, in assistant coaching spots.

The thump of the football was heard last week, and now the popping of leather, since contact work is in order. That leaves only two weeks for Spike Dykes to have his Steers ready for the opener in Lubbock against Monterey. The Steers have a great potential this year if they have a will to match it. Fans must think so, for they have bought up 1,000 season tickets so far.

Speaking of season tickets, the annual membership enrollment for the Big Spring Concert Association is under way. The fare this season includes the Broadway comedy, "Cactus Flower," the Pennsylvania ballet company of 55 dancers and musicians; the San Antonio symphony orchestra under Dr. Victor Alessandri's baton; and something at the other end of the spectrum, the Paul Winter contemporary symposium of modern music.

Individuals, church groups and other organizations underwrote instructional costs of a Bible course when it was launched here over 20 years ago. They've been doing it faithfully since. The annual appeal is now two-thirds gone, with only this week remaining. It will take generous help on the part of many if the goal of $3,500 is reached.

Oil activity kept a lively tempo during the week. Midwest No. 2 Drums, 15 miles northeast of Gall and at the edge of the Myrtle pool flowed 66 barrels in three hours on a test between 7,887-91. Cobb & Ruwe No. 1 Guffee was staked as a 7,000-foot Pennsylvania stepout from the North Vincent pool in north-east Howard; and Knox Oil & Exploration No. 2 McBride as an Oceanic stepout in north Howard.

"Midnight Cowboy," the modern western which will be released next year, completed its shooting in this area last week, and quietly rode into the sunset. Members of the company and production staff seemed to enjoy their stay almost as much as residents enjoyed having them.

Webb AFB won second place for its On-the-Job Training. Only Moffatt AFB, Calif., with 95, topped Webb's 95. Last year Webb led the Air Training Command, so first and runnerup in successive years is cause for pride.

Our sister city of Lamesa has things humming on the north. Construction pegged a round $630,000 was projected to include a quarter of a million dollar convalescent home, also a feed mill and feeding complex for beef and swine and broilers.

They Came, They Taunted, They Were Clubbed

tel. headquarters for the Democratic convention. They massed in Grant Park across from the Hilton. Police stood by the side on both sides of the avenue kept a vigil until the dawn, letting the demonstrators defy the curfew. The youths lit bonfires and let deriding insults fly but the police took it unflinchingly rather than risk spreading tear gas and violence to the Hilton.

On Wednesday, as delegates were leaving their hotels to nominate Hubert H. Humphrey, 8,000 antiwar demonstrators rallied in Grant Park, vowing to march five miles to the convention at the International Amphitheatre to hold a protest rally there.

A few youths were clubbed when police tried to arrest a youth hauling down the American flag before he was arrested. After sitting on the sidewalk singing in protest for an hour or so, the marchers disbanded. Demonstrators found that, although the police allowed them through their lines in small groups, guardsmen blocked most exits from the lakefront park. The troops used tear gas to turn back the crowds, giving Hilton residents their first taste of the gas.

Exits farther north, however, remained open. The crowds surged through and, with a cheer, rushed onto Michigan Avenue and headed south-back toward the Hilton. "The streets belong to the people," they cried as hundreds — perhaps a thousand — marched.

The swelling crowd taunted police, a few missiles were thrown and some persons sat down in the street. A small group made a push against the police lines and was driven back by flailing clubs. That did it. Suddenly two flying wedges of police charged east up Balbo Avenue and drove into the crowd on Michigan Avenue, swinging clubs.

Television sets in the amphitheater showed the delegates what was happening. Police charged again and again, clubbing demonstrators, dragging them to police vans and pushing or throwing them in.

outside the Hilton took up the chant. "The whole world's watching." The street scene grew more wild as police charges scattered demonstrators. Violence spilled onto the sidewalks and even into the lobbies of the hotels. Targets of continuous barrages of verbal abuse and some missiles, the helmeted police chased demonstrators, newsmen, spectators or unsuspecting passers-by who blundered into the violence.

New Police Official Installed By Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — Soviet-occupied Czechoslovakia got a new minister of the interior in charge of police—Saturday Radio Prague announced.

It was not immediately clear how ominous the news might be for supporters of the liberalization program that the Soviets sent their tanks to destroy. The Soviet news agency Tass spoke of 40,000 counter-revolutionaries in Czechoslovakia that it wants to be rid of.

Both Pavel and Pelnar are supporters of liberal Communist leader Alexander Dubcek. Defense Minister Martin Dzur said Saturday Soviet-led occupation forces in Czechoslovakia total about 650,000 men, but he insisted progress was being made in getting them out of towns and villages into "special areas."

Police Check Minor Wrecks

Five minor accidents were reported to Big Spring police Friday.

A car driven by Perry Bascom Baldridge, 1202 E. 3rd, and a pickup driven by Daniel Oliver Perez, 208 N. Nolan, collided at First and Main at 10 a.m.

Although Russian armor tried to remain unobtrusive, it was very much in evidence in Prague and the countryside. The two big soccer clubs, Slavia and Bohemia, complained that their teams could not practice because Soviet tanks were parked in the stadiums.

Man Charged In Robbery

Johnny Leon White, 28, was charged Friday in the court of Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, with robbery by assault. Slaughter set bond at $5,000.

Police had received a report at 4:02 p.m. that Hartley's Cleaners, 508 E. 2nd, had been robbed and the woman on duty assaulted.

"We will pick up quite a few students during this month and peak enrollment will probably reach the 7,500 enrollment projected," Hise said.

Vandalism Investigated

Three cases of vandalism are currently under investigation by Big Spring police.

Pete Hull, 1803 Alabama, reported that vandals had damaged a house at 709 Edwards. All windows on the bottom floor of the house had been broken or sagged, and ironie for these holes had been punched in the walls and ceiling and obscene words had been written on the walls. Damage was estimated at $1,000. Neighbors gave police descriptions of two boys seen in the area.

"No girl over the age of 7 may wear a costume whose top and bottom sections are not permanently joined by a piece of material which, in its average width, is less than a third of the width of the wearer's torso."

CUPID BUSY IN AUGUST

Hey, Cupid, look at what August is doing to your bride month of June and your sweetheart month of February!

There have been 324 marriage licenses issued at the office of Paul Pettit, Howard County clerk, in the first eight months of 1968.

June, July and August with 162 have accounted for half of the total.

August has provided 58 for the all-time high of the year — exceeding June's 53 and closely matched by July's 51.

As for February — traditional month of Valentines and such — only 37 couples took the leap in that interval.

Other months and their marriage license totals: January, 33; March, 27; April, 32; May, 33.

HCJC To Get Loan Funds

The HCJC student loan fund will receive $17,456 for an estimated 75 loans, according to Sen. Ralph Yarborough. On a statewide basis it is estimated 19,819 students will be assisted.

Last year, HCJC received $14,733 for NEA student loan purposes.

Since the program was started, total provision of loan funds by federal sources has been $74,218, and HCJC has put in another $6,216.

Repayments last year amounted to $2,930 principal and $547 interest. There are now $147 loans outstanding in the amount of $67,314. Loans cancelled for those who entered a changing fields or who were disabled amount to $2,775.

They were brought together in Chicago by the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, a loose coalition of 135 antiwar groups that organized demonstrations but has no authority to enforce discipline.

The "mob," as it is known, estimated that they came from 38 states, with most from Chicago, New York, Boston, Detroit, Cleveland and California.

Many wore McCarthy buttons and wherever they grouped they raised flags: red for revolution, black for anarchy, green and red for the National Liberation Front.

They carried signs: "Welcome to Prague," "We've had it, Mayor Daley," "Veteran of Lincoln Park, Aug. 28, 1968," and "The streets belong to the people."

REFUSAL The city's refusal to allow staying in the parks was in essence Daley's refusal and there were many reasons for his decision.

"They repeatedly said and stated they came to Chicago to disrupt the national political convention and to paralyze our city," he said. "They came here equipped with caustics, helmets and their own brigade of medics. . . it was also pointed out they would attempt to assault, harass and taunt the police into reacting before television cameras."

District Farm Queen

Rebecca Stephenson, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Stephenson, Paint Rock, was chosen Farm Bureau Queen of District VI Friday night. She represented Concho County in the contest. Miss Stephenson will represent the district in the state contest in Dallas Nov. 11.

Concho Co. Girl Is New District Queen

District VI Farm Bureau Queen Rebecca Stephenson was crowned Friday night in the Howard County Junior College auditorium before a crowd of approximately 80 district farmers and ranchers in Big Spring for the annual district meeting. Miss Stephenson, 18, the reigning Concho County Farm Bureau Queen, is a junior at Paint Rock High School where she is a cheerleader, FFA sweetheart, student council officer and a member of the Beta Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Stephenson, Paint Rock.

Sherry Savage, Gaines County Queen, was named runner-up. She is 17 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Savage, Seminole.

Miss Stephenson was presented with a bouquet of red roses and crowned by Diana Block, Tom Green County, 1967 District VI Queen and runner-up in the state contest. Miss Stephenson will represent District VI in the 1968 Texas Farm Bureau Queen Contest in Dallas, Nov. 11. "Farm Bureau is the largest organization in the world. It was organized to aid the farmer and it has fulfilled this purpose. I'm proud my family belongs to Farm Bureau," she told the audience.

Other contestants were Kay Roberts, Coke County, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artell Roberts, Robert Lee; Ginger Adams, Howard County, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams, Big Spring; Donna Sheppard, Kimble County, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stansell, Fluvanna; and Marilyn Mathiesen, Tom Green County, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mathiesen, Miles.

Carolyn Taylor was presented as the winner of the District VI Talent Contest and Jan Dusek as the winner of the district discussion meet. Miss Taylor will present a twirling routine in the state contest in Dallas in November and Miss Dusek will present a speech on marketing and bargaining of agricultural products in the discussion meet.

Derwood Blagrove, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau, presented both young women with plaques. Each of the queen contestants were presented with tokens of appreciation for their interest in the Farm Bureau. Judges for the contest were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hanson, Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Smith and Lanny Perry, Abilene.

NO SUSTAINED FIGHTING REPORTED Paratroopers Uncover Big Arms Cache

SAIGON (AP) — American paratroopers sweeping around the northern city of Hue uncovered Saturday a major enemy arms cache that may have been stockpiled for a new attack against the old imperial capital. The store of weapons and ammunition was found on a day in which the U.S. Command described action as light and scattered throughout South Vietnam. There were at least seven scattered rocket and mortar attacks, but no sustained fighting was reported. The big arms cache was found eight miles southwest of Hue by 2nd Airborne Division troops after a Viet Cong defector led them to a series of tunnels covered by triple canopy jungle. The find was part of a three-day sweep in which the paratroopers reported killing 178 enemy while losing seven men dead.

Two days ago, enemy terrorists broke into two defenseless hamlets 65 miles south of Hoi An and killed 18 civilians, wounded 5 and kidnaped 65 others. In other actions, government forces reported they overran an enemy prisoner of war camp and freed 45 South Vietnamese soldiers deep inside the Mekong Delta, 125 miles south of Saigon. South of Hue in Quang Nam province, enemy troops ravaged two refugee camps. Government spokesmen said 15 civilians were killed, 22 were wounded and 85 houses were burned. In other scattered actions government forces reported overrunning an enemy prisoner of war camp and freeing 45 South Vietnamese soldiers 125 miles of Saigon deep in the Mekong Delta. U.S. Air Force B52 Bombers flew 10 missions late Friday and early Saturday, hitting at targets from the Delta, through the central highlands and into the coastal lowlands in the northern part of the country. Over North Vietnam's panhandle, U.S. strike planes flew 120 missions Friday through an aircraft fire described as moderate to heavy. Headquarters announced the loss over the North of two Navy planes, one on Thursday and the other on Friday. The losses raised to 888 the announced number of American planes downed in combat over the North so far in the war. The two-man crew of one plane was listed as missing. The one man aboard the second craft was rescued. Heavy security forces again were on duty in Saigon Saturday night, and police were reported to be on a special alert because of the approaching Sept. 2 anniversary of North Vietnam's National Day.

Growing Moisture Need On Most Of Farmlands In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Dry, hot weather continued this week to hold most of Texas. There is a growing need for soil moisture, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Ranges especially need rain though grazing in most areas continues fully adequate. The hot, dry weather is maturing crops and speeding the harvest of cotton, corn, grain sorghums, rice and hay, he said. Livestock are in good condition throughout the state and marketing in most districts is normal for this season, he noted. In midweek reports, district agents sum up their situations: Showers, some heavy, fell over the Panhandle and improved the moisture situation. However, the general shortage still exists. Some damage to sorghum has been done by greenbugs. Soybeans are being irrigated and some wheat planted. Ranges were fair to good and cattle generally are in good condition. The vegetable harvest in Castro, Deaf Smith and Parmer counties is on and peach harvest is over in Collingsworth County. Rains, some heavy, fell over parts of the South Plains over the weekend. Moisture over most of the Lubbock area is adequate and cotton is fruiting well. Insect infestations are light. First bales have been ginned in two southern counties. Sorghum harvesting is picking up and yields will be good. The effects from the heavy greenbug infestation are still not known and is in full swing, some contracted yields in late fields may be reduced from a lack of rain and midge infestations. Livestock are in good condition and grazing in most counties is average or above for the season, Gunter said. Hot and dry weather broken only by a few scattered showers has held for many days in North Central Texas. Cotton generally looks good though root rot damage is reported. Corn yields are expected to be near average while sorghum yields were good. The harvest is in full swing. Land is being prepared for grain planting. Hay fields need moisture for regrowth. Peanuts also need rain. Pastures are brown but grazing is good and livestock in good condition. Only spotted showers fell over Far West Texas and soil moisture is very short in most counties. Irrigated crops are good. Generally insect infestations in cotton are light. Grass is getting dry and fires are a threat. Goat shearing is on and some calves and lambs are going to market. Labor is scarce. Moisture is needed throughout West Central Texas where the sorghum harvest is active and yields above average. Scab and powdery mildew are materially changing the outlook for a pecan crop. Ranges are dry but grazing is abundant and livestock are in good condition. Grass fires are still a real threat over the entire district. Goat shearing is in full swing, some contracted

Market Stays On Even Keel, Caution Reflected

NEW YORK (AP) — A cautious stock market remained on an even keel the past week in advance of the Labor Day weekend, traditionally a turning point for business and the market. Cautious was reflected by the fact that weekly volume shrank to 38,592,280 shares from 45,392,460 the previous week. It was the lightest volume for any of the series of 12 weeks in which exchanges have been closed one day a week so that brokerage houses could catch up with paper work.

The New York and American Stock exchanges decided to continue the one-day-a-week closings through September, pending developments. The shrinking of volume the past week, if followed by another dull week, could conceivably be such a "development" which would take the heat off the brokerage firms which were swamped by orders in late spring. The action of the averages was somewhat contradictory. The Dow Jones industrial average this week rose 3.67 to 896.01. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped .6 to 333.1. On the whole it was a firm to slightly higher market, but movements were so slight as to carry little significance. Of 1,654 issues traded the past week on the New York Stock Exchange, 789 rose and 721 declined. New highs for the year totaled 98 and new lows 56. The movements, a series of slight gains or losses, were described by some analysts as a "back-and-forth" market. Despite the business and economic news background, which was quite good, the market seemed to lack inspiration and to be watching and waiting for some definite clue. The nomination of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey left the market with no apparent reaction. The same could be said of the agreement announced by the Czechoslovak president that the Soviet bloc nations had agreed to a gradual withdrawal of their troops. The five most active issues the past week on the New York Stock Exchange were: Control Data, up 3 at 131 on 561,600 shares; Schenley, up 2 1/2 at 56 3/4; Glen Alden, off 1/4 at 13 1/2; American Telephone, unchanged at 51 1/2; and Penn Central, off 7/8 at 65 1/2. Price trends on the bond market were mixed the past week. Government bonds advanced for the first time in three weeks, while municipal bonds declined for the third week in a row. Corporate bond prices were unchanged to a little lower.

Child Drowns In Freak Mishap

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) — A snake fell from an overhanging tree into a boat and Michael Mathews, 13, jumped out and drowned Friday. Searchers recovered the body six hours later from 15 feet of water in a stock tank clogged with weeds and moss. One of the dead youth's brothers, Kenny Mathews, 8, said they were paddling the boat when the big snake flopped down. Kenny paddled hastily to shore and ran with another brother to summon aid. The stock tank is in the Southlake community, north of Fort Worth, near the home of the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clynton P. Mathews.

Nixon Planning Houston Visit

HOUSTON (AP) — Republican candidate Richard Nixon will be briefed on the space program Sept. 6 and then will speak at a night park rally, a spokesman said Friday. Nixon is expected in Houston from San Francisco at 2 p.m. and go directly to the Manned Spacecraft Center. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. at Hermann Park. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., also will speak. Nixon will stay in Houston overnight and leave Sept. 7 for Oklahoma City. In Washington, NASA said Nixon's staff had requested the space program briefing.

Soviets Complain Of Resistance By Czechs

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda called Saturday for the "liquidation" of resistance groups in Czechoslovakia, which it said have more than 40,000 members. Pravda complained that the resistance has spread to the countryside and cited examples of sabotage and Soviet soldiers being attacked. "The struggle is far from being over," it said. "Liquidation" in Russian does not necessarily mean killing, though the world came to think of it that way during the Stalin era. As used by Pravda today it apparently amounted to a demand to break up the resistance groups, without a clear indication of which punishment should be meted out to their members. Pravda described a number of incidents in Czechoslovakia in which Soviet soldiers were shot by members of resistance groups. It reported two Soviet helicopters being shot at near the town of Most. Pravda complained, "Every year the Soviet Union delivers 1.4 million tons of wheat to Czechoslovakia. But bandits in leather jackets, with pistols hidden in their pockets, rush like black devils on motorcycles through the villages, threatening death and shouting to the farmers—'Not a crust of bread for the occupiers!'" It also said anti-Soviet inscriptions continued to appear in Prague and elsewhere. "The Soviet press in the past few days has been admitting more openly that the occupation encountered resistance after insisting at the start it was welcomed by the Czechoslovak people.

On the convention floor, Daley was jeered by delegates sympathetic to the demonstrators and police tactics were criticized from the rostrum.

There is now a spirit of victory among demonstration leaders and a feeling of achievement in the City Hall that defended the compound where the Democrats named a presidential nominee.

And, in between, lingering bitterness and shock and outrage—directed either at the police who put down the protest or at the demonstrators who came here to confront them.

So the stage was set. On one side, Chicago's police and 5,500 mobilized National Guardsmen. On the other, thousands of demonstrators—some estimates put their number at a maximum of 15,000.

Both Pavel and Pelnar are supporters of liberal Communist leader Alexander Dubcek. New Police Official Installed By Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — Soviet-occupied Czechoslovakia got a new minister of the interior—in charge of police—Saturday Radio Prague announced.

He is Jan Pelnar, former head of the Communist party in western Bohemia. He replaces Gen. Josef Pavel. The broadcast said Pavel resigned Friday and his resignation was accepted Saturday by President Ludvik Svoboda.

It was not immediately clear how ominous the news might be for supporters of the liberalization program that the Soviets sent their tanks to destroy. The Soviet news agency Tass spoke of 40,000 counter-revolutionaries in Czechoslovakia that it wants to be rid of.

Police had received a report at 4:02 p.m. that Hartley's Cleaners, 508 E. 2nd, had been robbed and the woman on duty assaulted.

Vandalism Investigated

Three cases of vandalism are currently under investigation by Big Spring police.

Pete Hull, 1803 Alabama, reported that vandals had damaged a house at 709 Edwards. All windows on the bottom floor of the house had been broken.

Police said the suspect was picked up at 4:40 p.m. but he jumped from the police car and ran down the street. White was found in a pickup camper in a garage at 607 E. 4th and arrested.

Israelis Celebrate Release Of Liner

ROME (AP) — "Very tired but very happy," the last 12 Israelis from the El Al jetliner hijacked July 23 celebrated their release from Algeria Saturday with caviar, champagne and a big meal before heading home.

There was a report that the line's $7.5 million Boeing 707, diverted to Algiers from a Rome-Tel Aviv flight by Arab nationalists five weeks ago, would follow the passengers and crew members to Rome, arriving Sunday.

An Israeli Embassy spokesman said the airport's control tower reported the plane was en route, expected to land after midnight.

NO SUSTAINED FIGHTING REPORTED Paratroopers Uncover Big Arms Cache

SAIGON (AP) — American paratroopers sweeping around the northern city of Hue uncovered Saturday a major enemy arms cache that may have been stockpiled for a new attack against the old imperial capital. The store of weapons and ammunition was found on a day in which the U.S. Command described action as light and scattered throughout South Vietnam. There were at least seven scattered rocket and mortar attacks, but no sustained fighting was reported. The big arms cache was found eight miles southwest of Hue by 82nd Airborne Division troops after a Viet Cong defector led them to a series of tunnels covered by triple canopy jungle. The find was part of a three-day sweep in which the paratroopers reported killing 178 enemy while losing seven men dead. Associated Press photographer Joe Holloway, with the airborne troops, reported the cache included more than 500 rifles, 5,000 rounds of mortar shells, 31 antitank weapons, 20,000 rounds of .50-caliber machine gun ammunition and 1,750 North Vietnamese uniforms. The elaborate tunnel complex also contained a two-story field hospital. A dead soldier was found on an operating table when the hospital was overrun. Holloway reported. South of Hue outside the provincial capital of Hoi An, enemy troops ravaged two refugee camps. Government spokesmen reported 15 South Vietnamese civilians killed, 22 wounded and 85 houses burned. Two civilians were reported kidnaped. Two days ago, enemy terrorists broke into two defenseless hamlets 65 miles south of Hoi An and killed 18 civilians, wounded 5 and kidnaped 65 others. In other actions, government forces reported they overran an enemy prisoner of war camp and freed 45 South Vietnamese soldiers deep inside the Mekong Delta, 125 miles south of Saigon. South of Hue in Quang Nam province, enemy troops ravaged two refugee camps. Government spokesmen said 15 civilians were killed, 22 were wounded and 85 houses were burned. In other scattered actions government forces reported overrunning an enemy prisoner of war camp and freeing 45 South Vietnamese soldiers, 125 miles south of Saigon deep in the Mekong Delta. U.S. Air Force B52 Bombers flew 10 missions late Friday and early Saturday, hitting at targets from the Delta, through the central highlands and into the coastal lowlands in the northern part of the country. Over North Vietnam's panhandle, U.S. strike planes flew 120 missions Friday through an aircraft fire described as moderate to heavy. Headquarters announced the loss over the North of two Navy planes, one on Thursday and the other on Friday. The losses raised to 888 the announced number of American planes downed in combat over the North so far in the war. The two-man crew of one plane was listed as missing. The one man aboard the second craft was rescued. Heavy security forces again were on duty in Saigon Saturday night, and police were reported to be on a special alert because of the approaching Sept. 2 anniversary of North Vietnam's National Day.

Child Drowns In Freak Mishap

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) — A snake fell from an overhanging tree into a boat and Michael Mathews, 13, jumped out and drowned Friday. Searchers recovered the body six hours later from 15 feet of water in a stock tank clogged with weeds and moss. One of the dead youth's brothers, Kenny Mathews, 8, said they were paddling the boat when the big snake flopped down. Kenny paddled hastily to shore and ran with another brother, 6, to summon aid. The stock tank is in the Southlake community, north of Fort Worth, near the home of the boys' parents. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton P. Mathews.

Growing Moisture Need On Most Of Farmlands In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Dry, hot weather continued this week to hold most of Texas in a growing need for soil moisture, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Ranges especially need rain through grazing in most areas continues fully adequate. The hot, dry weather is maturing crops and speeding the harvest of cotton, corn, grain sorghums, rice and hay, he said. Livestock are in good condition throughout the state and marketing in most districts is normal for this season, he noted. In midweek reports, district agents sum up their situations: Showers, some heavy, fell over the Panhandle and improved the moisture situation. However, the general shortage still exists. Some damage to sorghum has been done by greenbugs. Soybeans are being irrigated and some wheat planted. Ranges were fair to good and cattle generally are in good condition. The vegetable harvest in Castro, Deaf Smith and Parmer counties is on and peach harvest is over in Collingsworth County. Rains, some heavy, fell over parts of the South Plains over the weekend. Moisture over most of the Lubbock area is adequate and cotton is fruiting well. Insect infestations are light. First bales have been ginned in two southern counties. Sorghum harvesting is picking up and yields will be good. The effects of the heavy greenbug infestation are still not known and carves are moving but little movement of lambs was noted. Cotton prospects are good.

Market Stays On Even Keel, Caution Reflected

NEW YORK (AP) — A cautious stock market remained on an even keel the past week in advance of the Labor Day weekend, traditionally a turning point for business and the market. Cautious was reflected by the fact that weekly volume shrank to 38,592,280 shares from 45,592,460 the previous week. It was the lightest volume for any of the series of 12 weeks in which exchanges have been closed one day a week so that brokerage houses could catch up with paper work. The New York and American Stock exchanges decided to continue the one-day-a-week closings through September, pending developments. The shrinkage of volume the past week, followed by another dull week, could conceivably be such a "development" which would take the heat off the brokerage firms which were swamped by orders in late spring. The action of the averages was somewhat contradictory. The Dow Jones industrial average this week rose 3.67 to 896.01. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped .6 to 333.1. On the whole it was a firm to slightly higher market, but movements were so slight as to carry little significance. Of 1,654 issues traded the past week on the New York Stock Exchange, 789 rose and 721 declined. New highs for the year totaled 98 and new lows 56. The movements, a series of slight gains or losses, were described by some analysts as a "back-and-forth" market. Despite the business and economic news background, which was quite good, the market seemed to lack inspiration and to be watching and waiting for some definite clue. The nomination of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey left the market with no apparent reaction. The same could be said of the agreement announced by the Czechoslovak president that the Soviet bloc nations had agreed to a gradual withdrawal of their troops. The five most active issues the past week on the New York Stock Exchange were: Control Data, up 3 at 131 on 561,600 shares; Schenley, up 2 1/2 at 56 1/2; Glen Alden, off 1/4 at 15 1/2; American Telephone, unchanged at 51 1/2; and Penn Central, off 7/8 at 65 1/2. Price trends on the bond market were mixed the past week. Government bonds advanced for the first time in three weeks, while municipal bonds declined for the third week in a row. Corporate bond prices were unchanged to a little lower.

Nixon Planning Houston Visit

HOUSTON (AP) — Republican candidate Richard Nixon will be briefed on the space program Sept. 6 and then will speak at a night rally in Houston on Sept. 7. Nixon is expected in Houston from San Francisco at 2 p.m. and go directly to the Manned Spacecraft Center. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. at Hermann Park. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., also will speak. Nixon will stay in Houston overnight and leave Sept. 7 for Oklahoma City. In Washington, NASA said Nixon's staff had requested the space program briefing.

Soviets Complain Of Resistance By Czechs

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda called Saturday for the "liquidation" of resistance groups in Czechoslovakia, which it said have more than 40,000 members. Pravda complained that the resistance has spread to the countryside and cited examples of sabotage and Soviet soldiers being attacked. "The struggle is far from being over," it said. "Liquidation" in Russian does not necessarily mean killing, though the world came to think of it that way during the Stalin era. As used by Pravda today it apparently amounted to a demand to break up the resistance groups, without a clear indication of which punishment should be meted out to their members. Pravda described a number of incidents in Czechoslovakia in which Soviet soldiers were shot by members of resistance groups. It reported two Soviet helicopters being shot at near the town of Most. Pravda complained, "Every year the Soviet Union delivers 1.4 million tons of wheat to Czechoslovakia. But bandits in leather jackets, with pistols hidden in their pockets, rush like black devils on motorcycles through the villages, threatening death and shouting to the farmers—'Not a crust of bread for the occupiers!'" It also said anti-Soviet inscriptions continued to appear in Prague and elsewhere. The Soviet press in the past few days has been admitting more openly that the occupation encountered resistance, after insisting at the start it was well come by the Czechoslovak people.

This Is Year Of Rug In Huskie Football

SEATTLE Wash. (AP) — This is the year of the rug. The University of Washington has made a $300,000 effort to yank the alibi from under rain-fearing football visitors by installing a waterproof carpet of fake grass in its 55,000-seat stadium.

The field's new surface is called AstroTurf and is very similar to the material that floors the Houston Astrodome.

But Washington's 1½ acres of rug is open to a sky which has been known to leak off and on. There are Californians who coach Jim Owens' office marked "off" and "on" and connected directly to a black cloud roosting over the field in perpetual readiness.

DREADED TRIP

They spoke with fear of venturing north to play in the Washington quagmire. A coach might tell his players the field rainy Saturday on the old sog, was just as quag for the Washington Huskies as it was for them, but they never quite believed it.

It's probably only a libelous rumor that Washington could assure victory Saturday by turning a hose on the enemy plane when it arrived on Friday.

As far back as antiquity, Andy Smith of Cal, Howard Jones of Southern California and Red Saunders of UCLA were said to have prepared for their Seattle visits by hosing down the practice field, the ball and perhaps even the players—and it isn't known which of these great strategians actually introduced the gimmick.

The statistical fact that the invaders won about as often as they lost was drowned in the rain tales. Also overlooked was the stretch of 21 games that Washington endured without a win.

Cuts down on knee injuries, one of football's occupational hazards.

Because visiting teams will have only their usual cleated sneakers, Washington has stocked 200 pairs of the special shoes in assorted sizes. Instead of rushing to the field to inspect the mire on Friday, the guests will spend a pleasant interlude trying on shoes.

By the end of 1969, all Pacific-8 teams will have been introduced to the rug. This year Oregon, California and UCLA will test it, as will nonconference Rice—in the Sept. 21 opener—and Idaho.

dry run—well, drip-dry—last season in the high schools' Memorial Stadium downtown. Sixty-seven games were played on the rubber grass, including nine by the professional Seattle Rainers, and not one halfback was lost in a mudhole.

JUST ONE INJURY

Just one serious injury—a pro player suffered a ruptured spleen—was recorded in 2,500 man-hours of football action. In one stretch of four games, neither a trainer nor a doctor was called on the field.

The only equipment switch has been in the shoe department. Experiments last year evolved the use of a soccer-type shoe with multiple small cleats. These give the player what he likes to call "a hold" on the surface for quick turns but permits the foot to yield slightly when the leg is hit.

Sunland Race To Lure 36

EL PASO — Thirty-six of the nation's top three-year-old Quarter Horses, including the mighty Laico Bird, have been nominated for the Sunland Park Fall Quarter Horse Derby.

According to an announcement by Bob Haynsworth, Sunland general manager, the fourth running of the annual classic, slated for Nov. 24, will carry an estimated gross purse of $20,000.

This will be twice the value of last year's running, which grossed $10,000. Brad Leonard, owned by Ellis L. Graag of Edmond, Okla., captured last season's edition.

The 1968-69 Sunland campaign, which marks the introduction of night horse racing in the Southwest, begins under the lights on Friday, Oct. 4. Action will cover 94 racing dates and will conclude on May 4.

'Dogs Sparkle In Scrimmages

COAHOMA — Despite the lack of depth at tackle positions and in the backfield, the Coahoma Bulldogs looked very impressive during their scrimmage with Iran last Tuesday night in Odessa.

Coach Bernie Hagins was particularly pleased with the offensive unit, which settled for a 0-0 dead-lock in the pre-season scrapping. Hagins also praised his defensive unit which held the tough Iran offense to only three first downs.

Perhaps the boy who will see the most action in a 'Dog uniform this season is Kenny Clanton who is progressing well and will direct the Coahoma offensive thrust from the quarterback slot.

The Coahomans put together an inter-squad battle later during the week and, again, the offense sparkled.

The Bulldogs open the 1968 grid season at home against Rankin Sept. 13. Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m.

Oregon Girl Bids For Track Glory

WALNUT, Calif. (AP) — If there's a major surprise on the United States women's Olympic track and field team, she's Margaret Johnson Bailes.

The 17-year-old married high school junior from Eugene, Ore., burst into prominence when she equaled the world record of 11.1 seconds in the National Amateur Athletic Union meet at Aurora, Colo.

She beat Wyomia Tyus, the defending Olympic champion in the 100 at that time and also beat the Tennessee State star in the 200 at the U.S. Olympic Trials in Walnut.

ONE-TWO PUNCH

Thus, Uncle Sam possesses another one-two punch for 1968 at Mexico City similar to the Tyus-Edith McGuire duo at Tokyo in 1964 when one won the 100 and the other the 200.

A possibility exists for one-two-three with Barbara Ferrell of Los Angeles, third in both the 100 and 200 behind the other two girls in the Olympic tryouts.

Paradoxically, in the AAU, Mrs. Bailes won the 100 but placed second to Miss Tyus in the 200. At the trials, it was Mrs. Bailes in the 200 and Miss Tyus winning the 100.

On qualifying for the Olympic team, Margaret was asked if she could give any explanation of her burst into prominence.

"I'm starting to get matured as a runner," she replied, "and now my prayers have been answered."

Another reason might be power and a third that she is learning to get out of the starting blocks properly.

She ran a 109 in the 100-yard dash while still only 13 and has been running since she was in fifth grade. Coaches have aided in smoothing the style of the powerful youngster.

Mrs. Bailes stands 5-foot-7, weighs 143 and adopted former Olympic triple gold medal winner Wilma Rudolph as her idol.

Although she lost, she showed her power in the Olympic Trials as she was off to a last place start, trailed Miss Tyus by two meters after the first 10 and finished with the same 11.3 time although about a meter back.

Margaret is an average student who wants to take nursing training "when she finishes where she'll be a senior this fall.

Cougar Game Is Tossup, Says Royal

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas coach Darrell Royal told sportswriters Saturday the Longhorn football opener against the University of Houston Sept. 21 should be rated a toss-up.

He ranked Texas an underdog to Oklahoma Oct. 12 and laughed at a magazine story picking the Longhorns as the pre-season choice for the No. 1 college team in the nation because of their easy schedule.

"We're going to be a better football team, but everybody else in the league (Southwest Conference) is improved," Royal said.

Royal took a break from second day fall workouts for a 1½-hour practice field news conference with about 25 writers visting each of the SWC schools.

He called Houston one of the top teams in the country.

"They've got the statistics and records to back it up," he said.

The biggest question mark on the Longhorn team, Royal said, is his offensive line. Discussing an apparent shift from his split-end offense of the past few years, he said, "We've been pretty good but that's like flying with a pretty good pilot."

Two more lineup changes were announced, to go along with about a dozen on opening day. Ken Ehrig, — tight end for one day, was sent back to his old halfback position, and sophomore Charles Speyrer was moved from halfback to split end, where Royal said he was doing a good job.

Starting halfback Ted Koy was still in the Student Health Center with a virus condition, and starting linebacker Corby Robertson reported late after an illness kept him in bed in Houston.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Johnson 6-7, And Growing

By TOMMY HART

Back Lonnie Clanton and lineman Mike Irons of the 1967 Big Spring Steers, who were committed to SMU, will wind up at junior colleges instead of this fall.

TONY BUTLER

Both hope to play for SMU eventually, however.

Tommy Jones, one of the stars for Crane in that bi-district basketball game with Colorado City here last season, is a tri-captain and a 165-pound starting end for the Golden Cranes this fall.

Winn Talley, former coaching aide at Colorado City, is now superintendent of schools at Fluvanna.

Coahoma's Tony Butler, with a size 19½, has the biggest neck of any of the Texas Tech football players.

He's also the strongest of the Red Raiders.

His favorite foods are his mother's homemade bread and angel food cake.

Some observers say that Butler will be one of the most sought-after gridder by the pros after he uses up his college eligibility in 1969.

He's already had some inquiries made by pro scouts.

San Angelo Central will field one of its smallest football teams in a decade this fall.

There are few smarter football players anywhere than Sands' Steve Herm, a quarterback, who carries a 99.2 grade average.

Steve is a brother to Eddie Herm, a former Sands great.

At 6-7 and still growing, sophomore-to-be Ben Johnson will be the tallest high school basketball player here since 6-9 Paul Thomas trod the boards.

Johnson is developing a deft touch around the baskets.

Wayne Johnson, a regular on the 1967-68 Steer cage team is headed for Odessa College on a scholarship.

Ex-Big Spring quarterback Bobby Hayworth expects his Levelland High School football team to improve over last year's model, with four defensive and as many offensive starters back from a team that finished with a 2-8 record.

With a little luck, Levelland could have wound up with a 6-4 record.

Three of the Lobos' defeats were by one point, another by only five.

Levelland beat San Angelo Lake View and Brownfield and only Lubbock Dunbar shut out the Lobos.

Can any college match the University of Houston for the number of golfers it has put on the pro tour?

No fewer than 32 ex-Cougars have played in PGA tournaments from time to time and Rex Baxter, Homero Blancas, Jacky Cupit, Marty Fleckman, Phil Rodgers and Kermit Zarley are among former Houston students still making good livings in pro golf.

Elroy Marti, the Houston golf pro, says Bob Hope has done more for pro golf, than any other individual and the PGA was trying to protect him in an incident that caused the madman to strike out on their own.

Marti also insists that "four or five guys" led the pro insurrection.

One of those must be Gardner Dickinson Jr., Kahlua Kapers, owned by Big Spring's Johnny Ray Dillard, won her owner $1,440 in purse money by finishing third in the recent Ruidoso Derby.

Elvis Spradling, the one-time HCJC basketball ace who wound up at Rice University, is now varsity football assistant to Coach Sonny Arthur at Ropesville High School.

A District 2-B school, Ropesville was 4-6 last year but expects to improve, with its whole 1967 backfield in tact.

That recent exhibition game between New Orleans and Houston's Oilers, played in the Astrodome, drew 40,000 plus who contributed toward receipts totaling $270,000.

That's more than the Saints ever drew for an exhibition at home, even though the New Orleans park seats in excess of 70,000.

Special family tickets are offered in New Orleans.

Injury Bug Hits Sands Grid Team

ACKERLY — Both bad and good news engulfed Sands High School here this week, with respect to the nearing football season.

Several minor injuries plagued Coach James Blake's Mustangs, with five of his starters requiring medical attention.

Center Gavino Rodriguez dislocated a finger; wingback Ed Newcomer and tackle Jim Fryar suffered pulled muscles; another wingback, Speedster Ike Lewis, was sidelined with blisters and quarterback Steve Herm suffered with a bruised tailbone.

On the brighter side, three new gridsters were added to the Pony roster. Rick Oaks, 120, freshman tackle; George Cantu, 185, freshman guard, and Jake Merrick, 155, senior guard and center donned brown and white Mustang uniforms.

Blake is holding only one workout each day and feels that his team has a long way to go if they are to provide strong competition their initial year as an 11-man squad.

He feels that the defense is at best fair, although the passing game seems to be adequate.

The Sands team hosts the Big Spring Sophomores in a scrimmage in Ackerly next Friday, then opens the season at home against Grandfalls Sept. 13. Both games kick off at 7:30 p.m.

Blake and his staff watched the Cowboys workout last Friday night and were impressed with their execution. They concluded that should Grandfalls continue to improve, the Pokes will be tough to contain this season.

Despite the infancy of the new season, Blake praised members of his team who are going all out to make this season a successful one. Those receiving plaudits were ends Ronnie Taylor, Perry Gillespie and Ron Oaks; tackles Jim Fryar, who could become one of the best linemen in the league this year; Johnny McGregor and Larry Shaw.

Foes Beware! Mean Green Is Returning

DENTON (AP) — The Mean Green is back. Back on shirts, buttons, bumper stickers and the cover of the North Texas State University's football brochure. Even the band is identified as the Mean Green Marching Machine. And a nearby basis advertises the greenie martini. It's all in the spirit of football, a tribute to the green and white Eagles of North Texas, defending champions of the far-flung Missouri Valley Conference. "Joe Greene and the Mean Green go hand in hand and not just because of words," asserts Fred Graham, sports publicity director.

The catchy phrase, which has become the second nickname for the Eagles, was born as a rallying cry for the defense in 1966 when Joe was a sophomore. "Green and Greene have been a great partnership ever since." Since Greene a massive All-America candidate at tackle, moved into the lineup, the Eagles have won 15 games, lost three and tied one. And they are picked to take the crown again, so selected by opposing MVC coaches. "They are probably just popping out," quipped Rod Rust, coach of the Eagles. "It's easy to pick the defending champions and get off the hook."

BLACKOUTS LIFTED CBS To Air 120 NFL Grid Games

National Football League games again will be presented exclusively on the CBS television network in 1968, for the 13th consecutive year.

Production innovations designed to give viewers a more complete and dynamic picture of the action will make the television grid season more enjoyable for viewers this season than ever before. Chief among the innovations is the newly developed CBS Minicam Mark IV color camera which adds a new dimension to the coverage with its ability to zoom in for closer closeups on the playing field and for crowd shots.

EIGHT TEAMS ASSIGNED

The 16 broadcasters who will cover National Football League games on the CBS Television Network during the 1968 season have been paired into eight play-by-play and analyst teams. Each has been assigned a schedule of from 12 to 15 regular season games. The pairings (play-by-play men first) follow: Jack Buck and Pat Summerall; Dick Cason and George Connor; Frank Gifford and Eddie LeBaron; Lindsey Nelson and Tom Brookshier; Roy Scott and Paul Christman; Chuck Thompson and Lemmy Moore; Jack Whitaker and Frank Gifford.

The names most frequently seen in print are Greene, quarterback Steve Ramsey, flanker Ronnie Shanklin and defensive rover Charles Beatty. Greene, recuperating from off-season ankle surgery remains the key to the defense, although Rust ranks Beatty pretty high. "Nobody is playing better people than Joe Greene and Charles Beatty at those positions. Nobody."

Blair Leads Orioles Past Tigers, 5-1

DETROIT (AP) — Paul Blair came off the bench to drive in four runs and left-hander Devo McNally won his 10th straight game as the pulsing Baltimore Orioles snapped a three-game losing streak with a 5-1 victory over the front-running Detroit Tigers Saturday. McNally's victory established a Baltimore club record for consecutive triumphs but he had to pitch his way out of a tight jam in the sixth to preserve it. He hasn't lost since July 5. The old mark of nine was set by Hoyt Wilhelm in 1959.

Joe Fay Clubs 4-Run Homer

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Foy belted his second grand slam homer of the season in capping a five-run fifth inning and powering the Boston Red Sox to a 6-4 come-from-behind victory over the Washington Senators Saturday. Foy, who has hit five grand slams in three years with the Red Sox, wasted little time as he stepped to the plate against southpaw Frank Bertina with the bases loaded and two out. He leaned into the first pitch and drilled his 10th homer into the screen in left field. Bertina had allowed only one hit, Russ Gibson's homer in the third, before the Red Sox broke loose in the fifth. Reggie Smith led off with a walk, took second on Jerry Adair's single and scored on Rico Petrocelli's pinch single. Mike Andrews then walked, setting the stage for Foy.

Jets Come Close But Rarely Win

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Jets fast are becoming the San Francisco Giants of football. Until the power-laden St. Louis Cardinals came along, the Giants seemed to be given the best chance to win the National League pennant each year. They frequently came close but always managed to find a way to miss out. For the past couple of seasons, the Jets have been considered the team most likely in the American Football League's Eastern Division, primarily because of Joe Namath. But each time they have failed to wind up on top. Take 1966, for example. The Jets started out well, winning four and tying one of their first five games. They finished the season 6-6-2. Last year, Weeb Ewbank's forces were 5-1-1, then 7-2-1. Then they lost their next three games, and Houston wound up on top. The Jets again are considered a leading contender, and they firmly believe the outcome will be different this time. "A year ago we coaches thought we could do it," Ewbank said, "but convincing young men—that's something else. But when we came so close everyone was kicking themselves. They realized they should've believed it in training camp. I think they're confident now."

Oliva Lost Indefinitely

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota right fielder Tony Oliva suffered a dislocated left shoulder in Saturday's game against Chicago and is believed lost for the remainder of the 1968 season. Oliva, battling Boston's Carl Yastrzemski for the American League batting championship, dislocated the shoulder trying for a diving catch on a pop fly down the right field line hit by the Sox' Ken Berry in the sixth inning. The ball dropped for a double, and Oliva slammed into the outfield turf on his shoulder. He was carried from the field on a stretcher by teammates. The shoulder was reset by team trainer Georg Lentz and club physicians. Oliva was later taken to a hospital for X-rays, and will spend the night at the hospital. A club spokesman said the physicians who reset the shoulder said it appeared Oliva would not be able to play again this season.

Giants Slam Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants jumped on Don Sutton for two-run rallies in the first and second innings Saturday and coasted to a 5-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers behind Mike McCormick's six-hitter. McCormick, now 10-13, lost his shutout in the fifth, when singles by Jeff Torborg and reliever Jim Grant and shortstop Hal Lanier's error gave the Dodgers a run. Rookie Bobby Bonds' single, Ty Cline's double and Jesus Alou's single scored two runs in the first inning. Singles by Lanier, Bonds and Ron Hunt keyed a two-run second. Lanier singled and scored the Giants' fifth run on shortstop Zoilo Versalles' error in the fourth inning. Sutton, 6-14, was lifted in the fourth after allowing eight hits.

Mix-Up Causes Delay In Game

GRANDIN, N.D. (AP) — Grandin and Climax, Minn., should have played their high school football game here Friday night—they should have and could have had they flagged each other down between the two towns. The game reportedly was scheduled in Grandin and the Climax team drove here—then discovered the Grandin squad had motored to Climax for the game. The schools try again Tuesday night—at Climax, they hope.

Roy Face Makes Farewell Appearance For Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steve Blass and Elroy Face combined for a five-hitter with Face making a token first inning appearance to tie a major league record as Pittsburgh battered Atlanta 8-0 Saturday. After the game, it was announced that Face, a Pirate since 1953, had been sold to the Detroit Tigers. Blass started and after retiring the first batter, moved to left field while the 40-year-old Face came on to pitch in his 802nd game, tying the mark set by Walter Johnson from 1907 through 1927. After Face got Felix Millan, Blass returned to the mound and pitched the rest of the way. Chris Cannizzaro, who had a single, double and triple, keyed three Pittsburgh rallies. Cannizzaro doubled to open the third inning and moved to third on Blass' infield single. Fred Patek tripled for two runs and then singles by Matty Alou and Roberto Clemente sandwiched around a pair of wild pitches produced two more. In the seventh, Cannizzaro singled and moved to second when Deron Johnson fumbled Blass' bunt. After Patek sacrificed the runners along, Maury Wills singled for one run and Alou doubled for another.

Tigers Lean On Reliever

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates sold Roy Face to the Detroit Tigers Saturday just a couple of hours after the relief hurler tied a major league record for most games by a pitcher in one league. The Pirates said it was a straight cash deal but didn't disclose the amount. They said they obtained waivers first from all of the other National League teams. The Tigers are counting on Face to help out in the bullpen in their stretch run for the American League pennant. The Tigers currently have a six-game lead over Baltimore. The 40-year-old Face has been one of the greatest relief pitchers in the game during his 15-year career. His best season came in 1959 when he won 17 straight games, all in relief, and finished with an 18-1 record. His percentage of .947 that year is the highest winning percentage in major league history. After deciding to sell the 5-foot-8 right-hander, the Pirates worked out a way to have him tie Walter Johnson's record of 302 appearances by a pitcher in the same league. Johnson set the mark from 1907 through 1927, primarily as a starting pitcher.

Richest Race Slated Monday At Ruidoso

RUIDOSO DOWN, N.M. (AP)—A field of 10 quarter horses will dash 400 yards Monday at Ruidoso Downs in what is billed as the world's richest horse race, the $603,000 All American Futurity.

Just 20 seconds after the starting gates ring open at the Southern New Mexico mountain resort track, it will be all over. And the winning owner of the Labor Day race for 2-year-olds takes home $100,000—about $8,000 a second. Second place is worth $75,000 and third place, $35,000.

trial heats Aug. 23 for 109 sprinters, come from a field of 200 yearlings originally nominated for the race in January, 1967, at an initial cost of $25 to each owner.

Peden's Team Cup Winner

In a match that went down to the final hole and the final putt, Roy Peden's visiting delegation edged Don Lovelady's local squad 5-7, in the first annual First National Bank Cup Matches at the Country Club Friday.

Peden, who resides in Kermit, Texas, won the right to keep the four-foot FNB trophy for a year. Peden helped his team to victory by defeating Lovelady in a head-to-head competition, 3 and 2.

Phil Howe of Ponca City, Okla., and Colorado City, George Powell actually sewed up the victory by turning back the Big Spring tandem of Darlyle Hohertz and Ronnie Broadrick 1 up, in team play in the final match of the day.

Bengals Trounce New York Jets

The fledgling Cincinnati Bengals, hoping to gain ground in a hurry on their established rivals, are spending the exhibition season keeping people from gaining much ground on them.

Paul Brown's wunderkids, who shocked the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League a week ago, kept the Friday night and knocked off their American League colleagues, the New York Jets, 13-9. They held the Steelers to 29 yards on the ground and the Jets to 42.

Hurrahs Bore Star Nearing 30 Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—Denny McLain—the reluctant hero. The 24-year-old right-hander of the Detroit Tigers is on the verge of becoming the first major league pitcher in 34 years to win 30 games but the "hurrah" and adulation, he says, bore and distract him.

Like Greta Garbo, he wants to be alone. "The only time I can find any peace is when I get up in the clouds in an airplane," McLain says. "The rest of the time somebody is always tugging at my coat lapels: 'Do this.' 'Go there.' 'Sign here.' 'Talk to these people.'"

He started tossing the baseball around with the boys in the neighborhood. It was at the organ that he first started earning money. "I got $20 for playing in an American Legion hall," he said.

Over-Anxious' Hunter Is Threat To Other Nimrods

COLLEGE STATION — Safety is the most important factor to remember in the upcoming hunting season, says Wallace Klusmann, Extension wildlife conservation specialist at Texas A&M University.

It's the "over-anxious" hunter who endangers the lives of fellow hunters and causes needless damage to wildlife. Approximately two-thirds of all hunting accidents are caused by humans in the line of fire, hunters mistaking for animals and hunters not using the safety catch on their guns.

Dennis Partee Leads Surge

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two former Southwest Conference stars returned to familiar ground Friday night and helped push San Diego past Denver 6-3 in an American Football League exhibition game that turned out to be little more than a field goal contest. Placekicker Dennis Partee, a rookie from Southern Methodist University, pulled San Diego's Chargers out of a 3-3 tie with just 18 seconds left when he booted a 30-yard field goal. He also kicked 13 yards for a San Diego score in the first quarter. Former Arkansas quarterback Jon Brittenum, who holds all-time Arkansas records for passing percentage and yardage, picked up the quarterbacking chores from veteran John Hadl in the second half. It was his passing and generalship that led the Chargers to their last-minute move. "The kid really came through in the clutch," Chargers coach Sid Gillman said of Partee, who now is five for five as a pro kicker. "You can't do any better."

Forsan Buffs Hurt By Pass Defense

FORSAN — Forsan High off his performance Friday night. "He looked good," Boeker said of Hobbs. Leon, working with the reserves part of the time, counted one of the B team's touchdowns on a 70-yard pass-and-run play. Freshman quarterback Jeff Williams hurled the bomb. Williams, who showed great hurling a 15-yard scoring aerial to Darrow Cobb for the other hours. The Buffs scrimmaged Ropesville here Friday night in sweltering heat and the regular unit was outscored, two touchdowns to none. The Buffs did an excellent job of stopping the visiting Eagles on the ground but could not blunt Ropesville's passing attack. When the second units of the two schools took the field, Forsan blanked the visitors while scoring two TD's. The Buffs, trying to get ready for their Sept. 13 opener here with Abilene Central Catholic, will scrimmage Imperial here at 6:30 p.m. next Friday. Forsan's regulars got as far as the Ropesville two-yard line on one series before time ran out on them. Ropesville managed its scores on passes of 15 feet and 40 yards. Dennis Dunagan, Gary Irwin, David Myers, Clayton McKinnon and Jackie Willis are among standouts for Forsan on defense. The latter three are linebackers. Irwin half after Hadl quarterback plays at end while Dunagan is the first two periods, Brittenum gained control late in the game. Star Pointer Event Slated

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Coffee was selling at 10 cents a pound, ham at 11 cents a pound, a five-pound pail of butter for $1.04, suits for $10 and baseball's Brooklyn Dodgers were leading in the National League. That was back in the so-called good old days of Sept. 4, 1899, when a new trotting track, called the Empire City Trotting Club, opened for business before 12,000 spectators. George Ketcham's Cresceus won the feature $5,000 Manhattan Free-for-All in 2:07 1/4 on the opening card. On Monday, almost 69 years to the day, Yonkers Raceway, which now occupies the site of the old hilltop oval, will observe the anniversary with a $25,000 race called The Star Pointer in honor of the first pacer to do a mile under two minutes. Star Pointer, then an 8-year-old, was timed in 1:59 1/4 at Readville, Mass., in 1897. The trotting track was switched to the thoroughbreds in 1912 and became known as Empire City. The runners held forth until the second World War when the Empire City meetings were held at the old Jamaica course. In 1950, Empire City again became a harness racing track with its mile track reduced to a half-mile oval. Renamed Yonkers Raceway, it is known as the Giant of Trotting.

New Champion Has Been Golfing Since He Was 8

By NATE MITCHELL
When Phil Howe sank the winning putt that made him the new golf champion at the Municipal Golf Course here a week ago, he etched an important notch in a career which began 14 years ago when he was only eight years of age. Phil's father has played golf continually for nearly 40 years and wasted little time getting his son exposed to the game. The elder Howe still competes on the links at the country club in Ponca City, Okla., their home town. Young Howe attributes his success in the game not only to his dad, however, but to Labron Harris, golf coach at Oklahoma State University, and Ernie Vossler, head professional at the Quail Creek CC in Oklahoma City. Phil labored under the tutoring eyes of both golfers in his early years in the game. Howe won his first golf tournament while only nine, copped top prize in the country club ready tournament at his birthplace, Blackwell, Okla. When he reached the age of 10, Phil grabbed top laurels in D-Flight in Enid, then after moving to Ponca City, became the first man on that city's junior high team for the next three years. During the following three years in high school there, he maintained the pole position on the squad. While a sophomore, Phil placed 10th in Oklahoma AA state competition, then won the division the following year. That same year, he was runner-up in the state junior division and third in the state JayCee meet.

PHIL HOWE

Before the year was over, he had racked up wins in the Eskimo, Lakeside Municipal and Ponca City Opens. He fired a five-under 68 to win the Wellington High School tourney; went on to win the Labron Harris Invitational that same year. As a freshman at Oklahoma State, he was the first man on the links squad. During his high school and college career, Howe played with such linksters as Labron Harris Jr., winner of the state and national amateur meets in 1962; Johnny Pott, recent winner of the Bing Crosby tournament; George Bayer, longest hitter on the pro tour today, and Bob Dixon, first player in over 20 years to win the "Little Slam," both the National and British Amateur tourneys. Dixon is currently on the tour, placed second at Cleveland recently. When Howe entered the Air Force and became assigned to technical training (for jet mechanics) at Chanute AFB, Ill., he had little difficulty placing first on his squadron golf team. After arriving at Webb just over two years ago, he won one of the dual meets between the Big Spring CC and Webb; later qualified for the base links team and helped represent Webb at the Air Training Command tournament at Biloxi, Miss. During his ascension to the throne at the Municipal course here last week, Howe finished 14 under par in five rounds—12 under in the tourney. He had a qualifying round of 71, then proceeded to eliminate medalist Bob Waters with a three-under 70; Jackie Thomas, with a 71; Ken Chadd, with a 69 and downed runner-up Charles Bailey, 4-2, with a 70 in the finals. Phil feels that he will be challenging some of the best golfers in West Texas during the Big Spring Invitational tournament being played at the County amateur meets in 1968; Johnny Pott, recent winner of the Bing Crosby tournament; George Bayer, longest

"FLYING FISH" are appropriate rides for Webb's carnival. Testing the gaily-colored carriers are Mrs. James L. Sasser, past president of the Independent

Wives Club, and Mrs. Robert D. Horvach, current president. The club is composed of wives whose husbands are serving in another area.

THE DREAM CAME TRUE this week as Webb opened the doors of its fine new NCO Club. The spacious facility has been in use since Aug. 17, with the formal opening to be observed Monday. Here, following a tour of the building, are Mrs. William Wheeler and Mrs. Donald Martin, both of the NCO Wives Club, Col. and Mrs. William C. McGlothlin and M. Sgt. Robert Butler, club manager.

CARNIVAL!

The Webb Air Force Base Labor Day Carnival is in full swing with two objectives in mind: To keep base personnel "at home" and entertained over the holiday, and to raise funds for units who participate. The project officer is Capt. C. E. Anderson, assisted by John J. White.

Chairman of the entertainment committee and Webb Queen Contest is 2nd Lt. Russell Burroughs, and booth construction was directed by M. Sgt. Charles Aggen. The unit coordinator is M. Sgt. E. W. Warren, while Wives Club's coordinators are Mrs. Miriam Russell and Mrs. Ethel Wood. Publicity was by 1st Lt. Richard Block.

THINGS HAVE BEEN WHIRLING during the week at Webb as carnival rides took form and concession booths were constructed. Shown inspecting the activity area are Airman T. C. Van Jagers, M. Sgt. Charles Aggen, Capt. C. E. Anderson, Col. Chandler B. Estes and two members of the Officers Wives Club, Mrs. Edwin V. Newcomer and Mrs. Holly G. Bell.

WOMEN ARE WORKING to make Webb's first holiday carnival a big success by operating booths, selling refreshments and offering their time in other ways. Pictured at one of the planning meetings are Mrs. Archie P. Kirsch, Officer's Wives Club; Mrs. James R. Bargo, Airman's Wives Club, and Mrs. Noel Shelton of the NCO Wives Club.

A CARNIVAL QUEEN was chosen Thursday evening to reign over the Labor Day festivities at Webb. In charge of the event was Lt. Russ Burroughs, here seated with the winner, Mrs. C. E. Anderson. Other pretty girls who helped make the contest a popular attraction were Miss Juanita Mata, Mrs. Robert Reese, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Miss Sandra Ryder, Miss Vickie Knoepfel and Lt. Rita M. Schuelke.

MRS. MARVIN T. ERHARDT

Wedding Ceremony Performed On Friday

Miss Debra Jo Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Miller, 1702 E. 15th, and Marvin Thomas Erhardt, son of Mrs. Marvin Erhardt, 401 Washington Blvd., and the late Mr. Erhardt, were married Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Polk as the couple stood before an altar flanked with baskets of white mums and tree candelabra holding cathedral tapers. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She was attired in an A-line gown of imported silk organza overlaid with peau de soie, with neckline and sleeves trimmed with descent sequins and ruffled Chantilly lace. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a cluster of organza roses, and her bouquet was a white orchid encircled with Sweetheart roses atop a white Bible.

WEDDING ATTENDANTS
Attending the bride were the matron of honor, Mrs. Tippy Miller, and bridesmaid, Miss Patsy Robertson, both of whom wore A-line hot pink gowns and headpieces of peau de soie with bouffant tulle veil. Each carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Donnie Gooch served as best man, Manning Stroup was groomsmen, and ushers were Tippy Miller and John Martin of Cleburne.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Sheryl Wayne Gambill who sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Because," and "With This Ring," accompanied by Mrs. F. C. Gambill organist.

RECEPTION
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall at the church where a table, covered with white lace over pink linen, held a three-tiered cake topped with miniature bride and groom. Crystal and silver appointments and the bridal attendants' bouquets completed the setting.

Mrs. D. A. Miller presided at the registry table, and Miss Sue Fortenberry and Miss Gay Harris distributed rice bags.

HOUSE PARTY
Members of the house party included Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hollingshead, Mrs. Joe Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hooks, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sims, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Miss Pat Goodman, Miss Sue Fortenberry, Miss Gay Harris, Mrs. Mike Shockley, Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, Miss Nellie Roberts and Mrs. Foy Dunlap.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hooks, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sims, Fort Smith, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Roberts, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Miller, Odessa, and Miss Nellie Roberts, Abilene.

SCHOOLS
The bride attended Big Spring High School and was a member of the Shorthand Club. She will continue her schooling in Denton where the couple will reside.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School where he was active in sports and a member of the Latin Club and Bible Club. He is now attending North Texas State University where he is working toward a bachelor of science degree.

The bride wore a three-piece black and white suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet when the couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

REHEARSAL DINNER
The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon Thursday evening in their home at 108 Cedar. Twenty-five guests attended, and the couple presented gifts to their attendants.

The buffet and dining tables held bouquets of white daisies, asters, babies'-breath and ivy, and the table where the engaged couple were seated was accented with a miniature tree decorated with white asters, fern and white maline tied with cerise ribbon.

The Forsan Study Club held its first meeting of the season, a breakfast, Saturday morning at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. Bill Cregar, president, spoke briefly, and Mrs. True Dunagan, vice president, distributed yearbooks.

Attending with the 15 members were eight guests, Mrs. Herb Smith, Mrs. J. F. Poyner, Miss Susan Elrod, Miss Deryl Dunagan, Mrs. Tony Brons and Miss Nancy Anderson, all of Forsan; and Mrs. W. T. Conger and Mrs. Brenda Wilson, both of Big Spring.

Favors were individual corsages of bronze marigolds tied with gold ribbon, and the main table held an arrangement of bronze and gold marigolds. The breakfast was arranged by Mrs. Dunagan, Mrs. M. M. Fairchild and Mrs. Hamlin Elrod.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16, in the home economics department at Forsan High School.

The next meeting will be in the Rowe home at 1105 Johnson.

Your hands can do you good or do you in, depending on you. Neglected, they can shatter the illusion of glamour—no matter how much time you spend on hair-do or make-up. Properly cared for and groomed, your hands will complement the rest of a well-kept you, setting off all the rest of your grooming to good advantage, and this doesn't cost money in the form of extensive treatments. In fact, you can do most of it yourself at the expense of just a little effort; however, a good professional manicure of regular intervals will be a great help. The point to remember is that day-in-and-day-out care should be given for we know only too well that the body is always changing, aging, and nothing about us reveals age so well as our hands. So... eternal vigilance is the price you pay for youthful hands... Financing arranged on approved credit.

MRS. RICHARD SCOTT WATTS

FRANK BRANDON PHOTOGRAPHY

Couple Recites Vows In Lubbock Church

The Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock was the scene Friday evening of the wedding of Miss Susan Linda Tve of Big Spring and Richard Scott Watts of Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen H. Ivie, 1203 E. 17th, Big Spring, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clayton Watts, 2111 23rd, Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess sheath of ivory peau de sape designed with tiny covered buttons down the center front, a scalloped bateau neckline and long fitted sleeves. The formal gown was veiled by a cage of ivory lace, forming a redingote effect outlined in natural scallops, and featured a chapel-length train. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of tulle and lace flowers outlined in pearls, and she carried a cascade of gardenias backed with satin leaves.

The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with palms and baskets of white and multicolored arrangements flanking an arch of votive candles and greenery. Votive candles also lined the aisle. Mrs. Terry Wahl of Lubbock was matron of honor, and the bride's sisters, Miss Sandra Ivie and Miss Nancy Ivie, were maid of honor and bridesmaid. All were attired identically in formal A-line dresses of royal blue shantung with tiny covered buttons down the front. Their briefly-veiled headpieces were bows of royal blue shantung and they carried multi-colored bouquets.

John R. Gibson, Lubbock, was best man, and ushers were Danny Hood, Amarillo; Terry A. Wahl, Lubbock; and James A. Reynolds III, Arlington.

MUSIC

A cappella music was provided by a quartet composed of Richard Colvin, Dyanne Hood, Mrs. Linda Suddeth and Mrs. John Gibson. Mrs. Gibson sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt on a white prie-dieu.

A reception was held in the La Ventana Room, Alura Towers. Parents of the bridal couple and the feminine attendants joined in welcoming guests. Miss Carol Blain, Wellington, was in charge of the register.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with chiffon and lace and trimmed with cabbage roses. The white tiered cake was separated by columns with swans and lilacs of the valley, and topped by white wedding bells. A white floral arrangement, flanked by silver candelabra and white tapers, centered the table, and appointments were silver.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a natural burlap cloth and chocolate cake was served, with coffee from a copper and brass urn. A brass candelabra with blue tapers completed the setting.

Music at the reception was provided by Mrs. Joe Francis of Lubbock at the piano.

GUEST LIST

Members of the house party were Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, Mr. and Mrs. David Elrod, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Price, Miss Christi Price, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stroup, Miss Sherry Stroup, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cotham and Mrs. Avery Falkner, all of Big Spring.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ivie and Keith, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Fresse and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fresse, all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Scott of Richardson; R. L. Nichols, Terrell; Miss Elizabeth Bohannon, Dallas; Mrs. C. B. Ivie, Waller; and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bohannon, Goldthwaite.

Remove Lipstick Before Washing

If there's lipstick on a shirt collar, a man can remove the telltale stain before having the shirt laundered. The American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear says it's done by rubbing the stain with petroleum jelly.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

As we have noted any number of times in this space, a rainy day is never a dreary day at our house, and the past week brought us several unreary days. We've been West Texans so long that any form of moisture is a thing of beauty . . . especially if it comes on our lake sheds. The low cloudiness of Friday kept us waiting all day long for the rain . . . we wanted more of what our section of the city got Thursday.

That rain on the roof is purely a soothing sound. We hope it might bring on an abundance of turp and mustard greens in JP's fall garden.

Come Wednesday MR. and MRS. A. J. ALLEN will take off again from Howard County airport for their second trip to Europe. They will stop in Dallas and New York before leaving for Berlin where they will visit their son and his family. SPEC 7 and MRS. ROBBIE ALLEN, Bronwyn and the newest little Allen, Jance, who is an infant.

The Allens were in Europe last summer and visited several of the countries and this year will go to Switzerland. They will have a stop in London en route home in about 25 days.

Another family that returned to Europe again this summer were the JOE MOSSES. They made their trip during August and this summer in addition to England, France and Belgium they went to Copenhagen, Denmark.

This promises to be an accelerated week what with school starting. Until everything, and everyone is settled in a routine the students, the parents, the teachers, the administrators, the maintenance people and all that come close to them are bound to be in a general state of confusion. The nice part comes when the schedules all settle down to routine . . . which some may say is boring, but not I.

MR. and MRS. KENNETH OSSMANN and Sue left Friday

Cousins of MRS. L. G. TALLEY, OTTO and ESTAH CARPENTER of Cleveland, Ohio, left for their home Monday after visiting here. The Talleys met the Carpenters in San Antonio last week and toured the HemisFair with them.

MR. and MRS. JOHNNY BEDELL are fishing on Devil's River and sightseeing at the HemisFair during their visit to Texas. Here the couple will visit their parents, MR. and MRS. ARTHUR PACHALL and MR. and MRS. BROOKS-BEDELL. They make their home in Virginia Beach, Va., where he is stationed with the U.S. Navy at NAS Oceana.

MRS. DORYNE HEFNER is in Mesquite to be with her new grandson, Michael, who was born to MR. and MRS. DAN WALLS on Thursday morning at 6:15 a.m. He weighed 7 pounds and 2 ounces. MRS. ORA CONN is the great-grandmother of the baby who has a sister, Pam.

NELL RHEA McCRARY was at the Thursday evening performance of the Ice Capades in Midland. She was the guest of MR. and MRS. ROY MINEAR as was Mrs. Minear's mother, MRS. E. D. MERRILL.

Guests Thursday of MR. and MRS. O. T. BREWSTER were their daughter and her family, MR. and MRS. WALTER DOBIE and their sons, Bruce and Charles, of Lafayette, La.

Members of the BRADLEY family have had two reunions in the past two weeks. The first was held at the home of MR. and MRS. JAMES BRADLEY in Phoenix, Ariz. Present were MR. and MRS. PAUL BRADLEY of Big Spring, MR. and MRS. JERRY NARGARSKY and their son, Bradley, of Erie, Pa., WALTER BRADLEY and MRS. KENNETH STRATTON of Dallas. When the group left Phoenix they went to Grants, N.M., where they were guests of the Paul Bradley's daughter, MRS. HAROLD MERRILL, and Mr. Merrill. They were joined there by the Merrill's daughter, MRS. MIKE PEARSON, Mr. Pearson and their children, Cindy and Susie, all of Big Spring.

Labor Day weekend guests of MRS. RUTH HAMPTON are her daughters and their families, MR. and MRS. H. D. McELRATH and Jana Dee, and MR. and MRS. JERRY MITCHELL all of Arlington.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Guess we're stuck with each other for awhile. The Siamese cat, other for awhile. The movie people left town without me, and so far, I've found no message that they will send for me. They did leave eight by ten pictures, though (unsigned) but I find that small consolation. Sob.

But I'd be happier today if I were Bob Worthy, Jerry's bachelor brother from Doney. He left last week for Australia, the first stop on a trip around the world. (He has a friend who married a count that owns the castle in Austria which was used for scenes in "Sound of Music" and think he may spend some time there.) Coincidence, but I received a card this week from my brother, Bruce Foster, who was at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel in Hawaii with his family on the way to Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carnaack have returned from an extended trip to Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, Oregon and California. This was a wedding trip for them, you know (she was the former Mrs. Edna Malone) and they covered about 7,000 miles. Less ground was covered by more honeymooners, the Michael McClains, who went to Juarez and El Paso, but they had to get back to College Station where they will both be attending A&M. They are at Whitecrest Apartments, No. 6.

The Bob Clarks pulled a trailer all the way to Seattle while helping their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams, get moved. Joe just left the Air Force and will be attending the University of Washington.

The Orbin Dailys are spoiling their red-headed granddaughter, Jence, while her parents, Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Shaughnessy are here en route from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Castle AFB.

Judith Janes Weds Robert V. Lebkowsky

Miss Judith Allison Janes became the bride of Robert Vance Lebkowsky at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the sanctuary of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Austin. The Rev. Joseph R. Cochran performed the double ring service, and a prelude of nuptial selections were played at the organ by Mrs. William S. Warren.

The altar was graced with a sunburst arrangement of chrysanthemums and delphinium interspersed with greenery and flanked by tall, gold candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emerson James Jr., 4613 Laurel Canyon Drive, Austin, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Vance Lebkowsky, 1410 Shafter, Odessa, former Big Spring residents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a candlelight silken organza gown designed with a molded bodice of Brussels lace featuring a portrait neckline and Richetieu sleeves. The flare of the formal skirt swept into a chapel train. Her costume was completed with a half-hat of matching lace from which fell a layered veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of Mystery gardenias interspersed with baby's breath and gypsophelia.

where guests were registered by Miss Lorayne Buck. The couple was joined by their parents in the receiving line.

The refreshment table was centered with an epergne holding white roses and crystal punch and coffee services were used. The all-white, three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed with spun sugar flowers forming a trellis over the cake, and it was topped with wells and lily of the valley.

SCHOOLS

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Crystal Bay, Nev., Mr. and Mrs. Lebkowsky will reside at 5001 Manor Road, No. 118, Austin. She attended Gulf Park College and the University of Texas.

Campers Will Like Chilled Breakfast

A can of pears makes a refreshing and convenient breakfast starter when camping in a stream, and for a special touch, serve with a sprinkle of powdered citrus breakfast drink.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's attendants were Miss Wendy McGinn, maid of honor, and Miss Cheri McKee of Little Rock, Ark. Miss Gettys Ann Siddons and Miss Sheila Cox, bridesmaids.

The attendants were identically dressed in formal gowns of Teahouse Green faille, ruffled at the neck and hemline. Illusion veils of green over cornflower fell to floor-length, and they carried court bouquets of cornflowers and lime chrysanthemums.

The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Jon Karl Lebkowsky, and groomsmen were Ralph E. Janes III, Thomas Ross of Big Spring and Rick Eschman of Corpus Christi. Assisting as ushers were Beauford E. Lauterbach, James P. Lattimore, Douglas M. Austin and Gerald D. Munger.

The newly-married couple was honored with a reception in Westwood Country Club.

A LOVELIER YOU

Use Modeling Hints Posing For Picture

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely smile is slim but, in snapshots of the wearing a bathing suit, I look 10 pounds overweight. How thin do you have to be to look thin in candid shots?

The Answer: The camera adds pounds to the figure and a bathing suit offers nothing in the way of camouflage. But you can lessen the hazards by using these model tips for posing:

When you stand for a picture, pull up tall and then a little taller. Turn your body so that the camera catches a three-quarter view. Keeping your knees together and relaxed, point foot nearest camera, little toward it. Clasp your hands behind back and pivot your shoulders just a bit in the camera's direction.

Another standing pose is with feet together, the lower half of the body in profile to the camera and with the shoulders turned toward it; the hands, clasped behind neck, the head thrown back, and a big smile on the lips.

Photogenic seated poses in beach attire are harder. If you design departments that will design an original mural for your home. Standard mural patterns are also available.

MRS. LEON ALAN SALISBURY

Miss Jennie Chappell Becomes Bride Of Leon Alan Salisbury

Miss Jennie Mae Chappell became the bride of Leon Alan Salisbury Friday evening in the First Church of God in Big Spring.

The Rev. R. E. Stevenson performed the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Branched candelabra entwined with smilax greenery held white cathedral tapers, and palms of emerald foliage flanked the altar. The couple knelt on a satin prie dieu during "The Wedding Prayer." Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Chappell, 1809 Owens, and Mr. and Mrs. Bege Salisbury of Lansing, Mich. Mrs. R. E. Stevenson, organist, accompanied Mrs. Richard Reagan soloist, as she sang "Till The End of Time" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white formal gown of em-bossed brocade designed in an A-line with long sleeves ac-cented with tiny covered but-tons. The chapel-length train of peau de soie fell from the Empire waistline, and her veil of silk illusion was elbow-length.

Her headpiece was a ribbon cluster encrusted with seed pearls and lily of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Donald Freeman was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Janice Salisbury, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Linda Salisbury, both of Lansing, Mich. They chose identical dresses of floor-length pink taffeta, overlaid with white lace, and wore Dior headpieces with brief veiling. They carried pink Sweetheart rose bouquets.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of white spider chrysanthemums and pink roses. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple, and silver and crystal appointments completed the setting.

Miss Sara Salisbury of Lansing, Mich., distributed rice bags. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Regal Salisbury of Lansing, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bera of Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. Winnetred Bebee, Anderson, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Chappell, Chuck and John Chappell, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chappell, all of Oklahoma City.

Use Baby Cream For Night Beauty

If you think it takes gobs of goo to treat your skin overnight, you couldn't be more wrong. Pure baby cream has all the softening powers without the disadvantages of some night creams. Baby cream is light and rubs in to become invisible and it doesn't stain the pillow case, either. When you wake up in the morning there is no cream residue on your face because it has been absorbed. Your face just looks young and fresh.

MRS. RODNEY CHARLES SPARGO

Wedding Solemnized On Saturday Evening

Miss Johnnie Sue Lee and Sgt. Rodney Charles Spargo exchanged double ring wedding vows Saturday evening in the Wesley Methodist Church with the Rev. Tom Strothef, pastor officiating.

Miss Betty Johansen, organist, accompanied Miss Linda Baird of Dallas and Miss Nancy Baird of Waco as they sang "Whither Thou Goest" and the "Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, 1604 E. 6th, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spargo of Greenville, Pa.

The ceremony was performed before an altar illuminated by branched candelabra flanking a massive arrangement of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and daisies. Fern trees completed the decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal peau de soie gown. The Empire bodice was overlaid with Venise lace which formed the long, tapered sleeves. The lace was repeated on the slender skirt and organza and peau de soie train. Seed pearls accented the neckline and encrusted the cluster of rosebuds which held her veil of illusion. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of French carnations backed with satin and tulle. Glenn Haddock, all of Webb Air leaves and showered with petit Force Base.

Members of the house party were Miss Linda Baird, Miss Nancy Baird and Mrs. Bill Berryman of Midland who assisted in serving refreshments from a table covered with a white crocheted cloth over a gold underlay. The bridal bouquet was placed between two white candles, and the three-tiered cake was topped with an arch and bells.

Out-of-town guests were Sgt. Bob Berryman, Ft. Polk, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitley and sons, Ken and Mickey, all of Llano; Miss Mariann Williams and Miss Mary Martin, both of Dallas; Bill Berryman and Clyde Trolander, both of Midland; Dick Munson of Austin; Miss Betty Petro of Galveston; and Lt. and Mrs. Richard McGucken of Abilene.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside at 403 State. For traveling, Mrs. Spargo wore a three-piece gray and white knit ensemble with black accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

Let Family Choose Colors In Home

It's a good idea to let all members of the family have a choice in choosing wall and floor colors for a room everyone will use. Finding a common choice should not be difficult these days when every kind of surfacing comes in a multiplicity of colors.

In ceramic tile alone, more than 1,000 colors and color combinations are now offered by U.S. manufacturers in keeping with tile's ever-growing decorative use throughout the home.

Cynthia Pond Finds Out People About The Same

By JEAN FANNIN
The roofs are red, the people are friendly, and everything is so clean it sparkles.

These are the impressions of Cynthia Pond, 21-year-old Baylor coed and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pond, 2706 Crestline, concerning her recent stay in Sweden.

Miss Pond recently returned from a six-week tour of Europe, four weeks of which were spent living with two Swedish families under the Lion's Club Youth Exchange Program.

FIRST THING
"The roofs were the first thing I noticed as the plane flew in to the Stockholm airport," she said. "They're all made of red tile."

In Stockholm she stayed with the Jan-Axel Lennerman family in Jacobsberg, a suburb of Stockholm. There were four children in the family, three boys and one girl, ages 3-16, "and they all went out of their way to show me a good time," she said.

"One thing I found out was that people are pretty much the same the world over — they may have different customs and ways of living, but they all have the same basic needs," she said. "These tours were organized to promote better understanding between the young people of the world and I feel that they accomplished their purpose."

Miss Pond was sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club, of which her father is a member and a past district governor. Mr. and Mrs. Pond learned of the tours during a mid-winter meeting and made inquiries.

The program is about six years old, but this is the first time Big Spring has participated. Students making the trip are between 15-22 years old.

"Everyone went out of their way to be nice," Miss Pond said. She toured Stockholm, which is built on a series of islands, with members of the Lennerman family and the Stockholm Lions club.

WATERWAYS
"Stockholm is pretty because of the many waterways," she said. "In the older parts of the city the buildings are tall and the streets narrow, but it is an extremely modern city."

"The country is modern and old at the same time. It is amazing how they fit the old and the new together," she said.

"The country has some divided highways," she said, but among mementoes of her trip she has a picture of a horse-drawn hay wagon taken on a Swedish highway. "The roads are all narrow compared to our highways, but the cars are smaller," Miss Pond said.

A large portion of the traveling is done by train. Miss Pond traveled by train from Stockholm to Tibro, a small town in son, and "they added me as a fourth daughter."

"Each of the girls had to fix dinner one night and I took my turn," she said. "They had never had iced tea before, but after I made it that night they went downtown and bought iced tea glasses so they could have it all the time," she said.

"I bought lots of souvenirs and was given even more. At one factory which produces wooden items the owner wouldn't let me pay for anything."

The Stockholm Lions Club gave her a necklace fashioned by a club member who was a goldsmith. She presented plaques to the Stockholm and Tibro Lions Clubs from the Downtown Lions and invited the members to visit in Big Spring.

"The young people on my tour were all from Texas, except for 10 from Michigan, and the Texas Lions have invited young people from Sweden to visit in Texas next year," Miss Pond said.

EUROPE TOUR
When she left Tibro she traveled back to Stockholm for three more days with the Lennerman family before leaving on a two-week tour of Europe with the 156 other young people.

"We toured Lucerne, Switzerland; Heidelberg, Germany; Amsterdam, Holland; Brussels, Belgium; Paris, France; and London, England. While we were in England we also made a side trip to Stratford-on-Avon," she said.

"Language was no problem except maybe in Paris, because everyone speaks English," she said. "And sign language is marvelous."

Miss Pond also proved to her own satisfaction how small the world has become. "While in Stockholm I met Ambassador and Mrs. W. W. Heath, the parents of Mrs. Dewey Ray, 1 Coachman Circle. They asked me to spend the night," she said.

"The best advice I was given as another member of the family was at the orientation session in Dallas during April. They told daughters between the ages of 18 and 24 and a five-year-old-foreigner."

LENOIR, N.C. (AP) — The five Caldwell County commissioners were sentenced to 48 hours in county jail Thursday by a Superior Court judge who found them guilty of contempt of court for not providing "adequate office space" for the clerk of Superior Court.

The five immediately announced they would appeal to the North Carolina Appeals Court. Each was released on $500 bond.

'Union Queen' Vote Slated

Four young women will compete for the title of "Miss Union Queen" of the area 1968 Labor Day celebration. It was announced by D. L. Willis, president of the Odessa Central Labor Union, which is sponsoring the event.

Two of the entrants — from Midland — are Missy Caruthers and Tammy Smith. The other two contestants are Kimberly Wood and Debra Jean Castleberry, both from Odessa.

The winner of the contest will be crowned at the Labor Day Celebration Sept. 2 at Floyd Gwin Park in Odessa. Cash awards will be given to all contestants who participate. Requirements for applicants in the Miss Union Queen contest are: must be 8-12 years of age, the daughter of a union family. Each contestant must present own talent act.

Activities, free to all, will begin on Labor Day at 1:30 p.m.

Scheduled to speak at the Labor Day Celebration are George Nigh, lieutenant governor of Oklahoma, Jack Bostick, vice president of the International Association of Fire Fighters from Fort Worth, and Mrs. Rosa Walker, Austin, director of women's activity of the Texas AFL-CIO, and a member of the Communications Workers of America.

He Can't Live Within Income

NEW YORK (AP) — William Zeckendorf, former president of the real estate firm of Webb & Knapp, says his debts total $79,076,100.53 while he has assets of $1,885,620.73.

Zeckendorf asked a federal court Thursday to sanction special arrangements with his creditors under the Bankruptcy Act.

Most of the debts, he said, resulted from obligations he made as head of the real estate firm, which is now in bankruptcy proceedings.

A Devotional For The Day

Behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land. (Genesis 28:15)

PRAYER: O Lord, we thank Thee for the sacred Book of books. Our trust is in Thee and Thy Word. Grant to us the assurance of Thy guidance this day. In Christ's holy name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Getting The Most From Investment

Virtually all the area's schools will be embarking upon a new-term this week, joining a few which opened doors during the past week. Within Howard County, there will be something like 9,000 in the elementary and secondary schools, and soon another thousand at the college. That means that about one in four of our population will be in school here.

The combined budgets for operating the educational program, maintaining and operating buildings as well as paying for them, will approximate $6 million. No other single activity here touches so many people either as participant, employee or supporter. Only two other industries have a greater payroll.

So a lot is going into education, perhaps not as much as some think is needed and perhaps more than some think is necessary. But it is enough that it should concern all that we receive the most for our investment.

This must come in the form of boys and girls who not only are challenged to the maximum of their capacities to master subject matter, but who gain an appreciation for the worth, and the rights of others; who come to realize the interdependence of people; who acquire a knowledge of and pride in the heritage of their state and nation; who are exposed to some of the arts which will stir the soul and the sensibilities; who accept responsibility with privilege. In short, they must emerge with the skills and the desires that will lead to a gainful and productive place in a free society which can exist only so long as its new life blood continually brings creative and concerned sustenance.

This confronts educators and parents with a fearful responsibility, and it means that now, as never before, there must be more effective communication between them, not only as to grading against a mythical standard, but also as to objectives and methods.

Bad Advertisement

We don't consider this ding-donging, for apparently not many are listening. But we do insist that our businessmen, who ought to set a good pattern in many respects, should show more pride in a neater, cleaner setting for their stores and shops.

All over town — yes, right in the heart of downtown and over around shopping centers — there are weeds, weeds and more weeds. They may not harm anything in particular, but they do advertise that operators whose places they adorn are too lazy or careless to do anything about them. And that's not a particularly good advertisement.

Marquis Childs The Democratic Shambles

CHICAGO — The Democrats have no place to go but up. After this helpless shambles of a convention, the climb out of the pit looks impossibly steep.

The forces of anarchy in the streets were matched by the anarchic conduct often prevailing in the convention hall. Having clothed Sen. Eugene McCarthy with the multicolored array of their discontents, his most impassioned followers seemed bent on rule or ruin. He could only have been acutely embarrassed as his far-out Yippie-hippie following massed across from the Conrad Hilton Hotel, flanked by police and National Guardsmen, chanting obscenities throughout the night through amplifying devices.

AT THIS late moment the McCarthy image has been worn down to a shadow of its once bright promise. In the critical stages, he had faltered until many who had given him their all were forced to admit that perhaps he really did not want to be President. Another device was necessary if the "stop Humphrey" drive was to have any chance of success.

The expenditure that the left-of-center Democrats resorted to was a measure of the party's desperation. It was to whip up a move to draft Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts. Concealed in futility and born of despair, the light from this little boomlet flickered briefly and then, like a candle in a hurricane, was snuffed out.

AT THE FAMILY retreat at Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy tried for a time to keep silent. He had twice said he had no interest of running for any public office this year. In a telephone conversation with Vice President Hubert Humphrey last week, he had said firmly that he was not interested in either the Presidential or Vice Presidential nomination.

HIS POSITION was complicated by the presence in Chicago of his brother-in-law, Stephen Smith. Smith's political wheedling and dealing was reported in various exaggerated forms

Billy Graham

I have prayed for many years for something, but it seems God doesn't hear my prayers. I am beginning to lose my faith in God.

H.D. — The problem of "unanswered" prayer really arises from our failure to understand the ways in which God may respond to our petitions. So often we are inclined to think that the only answer God can give to our prayers is "Yes."

We need to remember that "No" is also an answer — and that sometimes God says to us, "Wait."

"No" is certainly an answer of love on the part of our Heavenly Father when we ask Him for things which are not really for our good or for His glory.

Again, He may not grant an immediate answer. The Bible contains many instances of God delaying the answer to the prayers of His people — perhaps to test the quality of their faith or the sincerity of their motive. Jesus taught that men ought always to keep on praying and never to lose heart. (Luke 18:1)

I would ask you to consider these things as you face your own particular problem. God's ways are not our ways; but we can always trust His wisdom and love. And we can be sure that He knows best.

Around The Rim

Equipment For A Convention Delegate

There's no way of knowing what all a delegate to the Democratic national convention took along to Chicago, but it might have been helpful if a suggested list of articles had been published in advance.

There would be no point in listing wild headgear with miniature jackknives mounted on straw hats and the like; or of suggesting oversized sunglasses that cover all the face. Everybody takes those along.

BUT A REAL helpful wardrobe list might have included:

A bullet proof vest, in color to match chain-mail trousers.

A military flyer's helmet, plus instant-use gas masks. The latter would have been for protection from mobs, to don while passing the stockyards, and in repelling objectionable fumes from the platform.

A QUADRUPLER set of identification badges, all equipped so that they would go through those lock machines and flash the right light at the right time. These should have been affixed to various parts of the body for safety purposes, so that in event of emergency a delegate (or whoever) could get in and out of the hall before starvation.

A transistor radio, securely bound to the chest with ear plugs, so that the ordinary run of delegate (or whoever) could hear what was going on.

A PORTABLE television set, carried on a rack suspended over the shoulders, so that the delegate (or whoever) could see what was going on.

And, when things got unbearable, like the singing of the Star Spangled Banner with a hippie beat, a set of earplugs to shut out all sound, and a set of blinders to cut off all sight.

AS AN ADDED luxury, a lightweight folding stepladder with which a delegate (or whoever) could stand out above the crowd and be sure to get his face in front of the cameras and perhaps even one time get the attention of the chairman. This, of course, should be accompanied with a folding pen to put around the ladder to keep antagonistic delegates (or whoever) from knocking it down.

A heavy baseball bat to swing at those interviewers from the "mass media" as they approach, thus effectively cutting off inane questions.

IF THE baseball bat seemed too drastic, then a mimeographed set of answers to be handed to the interviewer. These could have such sentences as: "Yes, I have heard the rumor, but the decision ought to rest with Senator Knobknocker, and I would not want to attempt to speak for him at this time." Or, "We feel that we have picked up 17 more votes, and the opposition's strength definitely is eroding." Or, "All we are seeking here is fair play — we had hoped this would be an open convention." Or, "With some revisions in the plank, I feel this a policy our people will live with, but we'll have to caucus first."

FINALLY, for the convention visitor, a collapsible carousel. He had been on one all the time anyway, and might as well have enjoyed the ride.

Jack Lefler SEC Zeroes In On 'Inside' Information Trades

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission shook up the securities industry this past week with accusations of fraud against Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith — the nation's biggest brokerage firm — 14 of its officers and salesmen and 14 institutional investors.

The SEC ordered a hearing on charges by its staff that Merrill Lynch provided some of its biggest customers with advance information about declining earnings of Douglas Aircraft Co. in 1966.

This, the SEC alleged, enabled these customers — mainly mutual funds — to act before a subsequent decline in the price of Douglas stock while small investors were unaware of the situation.

The case assumed major significance because of the size of Merrill Lynch. It has 11 million customers and 172 offices.

IMPORTANT CASE — But it was even more important because of the ramifications it presents for the operations of all brokerage houses, investment research firms and corporations whose stock is for sale to the public.

What actually is "inside" information — the knowledge that can produce profits or protection for the holder while the outsider acts in ignorance?

That is the question to be answered. Getting information about companies whose stock is on the market has been a way of life for Wall Street ever since its members first met 175 years ago.

Brokers and investment analysts, generally, were puzzled about where they got from here. Some said they would have to re-evaluate their programs of studying the status and outlook of corporations. And some corporate executives said they might have to clam up when brokers' representatives made inquiries on which to base stock recommendations.

'SURPRISED' — Merrill Lynch and others mentioned in the SEC accusation — including Dreyfus Corp., Investment Management Co., Madison Fund, Inc., and J. M. Hartwell & Co., Inc. — denied any wrongdoing.

Merrill Lynch issued a statement saying:

"This proceeding relates to a matter which occurred more than two years ago and which was looked into by the SEC some time ago. We are surprised that the commission has now seen fit to hold this hearing."

Apparently the commission is trying to break new ground in the handling of information regarding public companies. We are convinced none of our people acted wrongfully and you can be sure we will defend our position vigorously."

HIGHER C.O.L. — On the consumer front, the cost of living rose in July at an annual rate of 6 per cent for the second consecutive month. The July price index was up 0.5 per cent from June 15 121.5 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This meant that items costing $10 in 1957-59 now cost $12.15.

The July increase was the 18th consecutive monthly rise in the cost of living and coupled with the 0.5 per cent climb in June, was the sharpest two-month rise in 11 years.

The Labor Department said much of the July increase was due to higher prices for farm products, foods, mortgage interest and medical care charges.

The National Machine Tool Builders Association reported that machine tool orders rose 13 per cent from June to $143.3 million in July.

This, the association said, gives promise of a steady upturn through 1968.

DISCOUNT SPREADS — The reduction of discount rates from 5 1/2 to 5 1/4 per cent by the Federal Reserve System banks spread this past week and now includes all 12 banks.

The discount rate is the interest charged by the Federal Reserve banks for funds borrowed by commercial banks from the Federal Reserve System.

Automobile production this past week climbed to an estimated 100,200 passenger cars from 45,763 the previous week as automakers speeded the conversion to 1969 models.

Steel output last week fell 3.4 per cent from the previous week to 1,963,000 tons, the lowest level in nearly five years.

To Your Good Health The Use Of Special Vaccines

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about vaccine made from sputum and blood from your bronchial tubes, to be given back to you for protection against that same bronchial trouble — Mrs. J.M.

Vaccines of this type are called autogenous vaccines. They sometimes succeed when other treatments have failed. They are not by any means limited to bronchial trouble, but are used for chronic infections elsewhere in the body.

Germs are collected from the infection — from the sputum in this case. Then the germs are cultured — grown, that is — in the laboratory, and modified, killed, or otherwise made into a vaccine.

Then they are given to the patient by injection, starting with extremely small doses, which are very gradually increased.

The basic theory is the same as that of other vaccinations. In the case of the standard vaccines, for smallpox, polio, measles, and so on, the vaccine is a modified, or weakened form of the germ which causes a given disease. The dose is not strong enough to cause the disease; it is strong enough, however, to cause the system to start creating antibodies, or substances which protect against that particular germ.

That is the purpose of autogenous vaccine, hoping to help you build up resistance against some particular strain of germ which is bothering you.

Since the appearance of a considerable number of varieties of antibiotics, the autogenous vaccine treatment is not used as much as formerly. One or another of the antibiotics will succeed in suppressing most cases of bacterial infection.

But when that fails — as, for example, if you have acquired a germ that has developed resistance to antibiotics — the autogenous vaccine method may be tried. It is a complicated and time-consuming process, obviously, which is why other methods are tried first.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 57 and never had tonsils or adenoids removed. At night I breathe through my mouth which causes my tongue to be red, dry, and irritated. Gargling with mouth wash seems to relieve it. Should I see my doctor? — Mrs. A.K.

Unless you want to keep on with this nuisance, I'd see the doctor (or a nose-throat specialist) to find out what is obstructing your breathing and making you sleep with mouth open.

I wouldn't be too sure that it is tonsils or adenoids. But why guess? Find out.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am in my middle 20s and recently gave birth to a 10 1/2-pound baby. My doctor ran tests on me to check for sugar diabetes and said that overly large babies were usually a sign of a potential diabetic.

My tests were okay, although there is a history of diabetes in my family. My question is, what can I do now to prevent or at least slow down the onset of diabetes as I get older? — Mrs. K.F.

Your doctor was entirely right. The diabetes may not become evident for many years.

The only things you can do which will be helpful are: (a) be sure not to become overweight, since obesity brings on diabetes sooner; (b) be tested for sugar periodically so that, if you do develop diabetes, you will learn about it soon and thus be able to control it more easily and successfully.

Note to R.D.: When a malignant tumor is removed while still encapsulated — has not begun to spread — the chances of removing it without any recurrence are very good.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching, and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Art Buchwald It Was A Butchering Process

CHICAGO — As everyone knows, the Democratic National Convention has taken place at the famous stockyards in Chicago. There were a lot of confused onlookers during the convention, and they were not necessarily all human. I was passing a cattle pen next to the amphitheater where they were fattening up about 20 heifers with corn. Much to my surprise I heard them talking to each other.

"Hey what's going on over there?" one heifer said to another.

"I don't know," said the heifer standing next to him. "Someone told me that's where they butcher Democrats."

"DEMOCRATS?" a heifer who was munching corn said. "What kind of meat is that?"

"It beats me. Some say it tastes like Texas steak, others say it tastes like Southern fried chicken, and some of it is supposed to taste like Minnesota dove."

"Ugh," a heifer said. "It doesn't sound too good. They're bringing in an awful lot of them."

"Well, this is the time of year when there's a big demand for the hides of Democrats. You see, they feed them for four years on corn and hay and they get all fat and flabby, and then they bring them to Chicago and start cutting them up."

"Who cuts them up?" a heifer asked.

"THEY CUT each other up. It's an amazing sight. I was taken over there the other day to pose with Mayor Daley, and I must say I've never seen a slaughterhouse like it anywhere. They were pushing and shoving and biting and kicking each other, and stomping up and down. When I saw what was going on over there, I was glad I was an animal."

"What are those things that are all blue?" a heifer moaned.

"THOSE ARE horns. They have hard heads and horns and they're supposed to keep everyone in line so the butchering is orderly. They also inspect the Democrats to see that they're properly branded. There was one Democrat who tried to get in with the wrong brand, and bulls just beat the heck out of him. The bulls are noted for their beef and no brains."

"I heard," said a heifer, "that there is a lot of hoof and mouth disease over there."

"No more than usual. You get that many Democrats together at one time and you're bound to have some."

"What are all these strange-looking trucks for?"

"THEY'RE CALLED television trucks. When the Democrats butcher each other they take pictures of it."

"What a way to go," a calf sighed.

"I may be crazy," said one heifer, who was eating grass. "But I'd like to taste a Democrat, just once."

"By now there must be enough cut up Democrat leftovers for everybody."

David Lawrence Weaknesses Of The Convention

CHICAGO — Despite all the television broadcasts and the roll calls, it is difficult for the observing citizen to become informed as to what happens at a national convention.

There is much ado about the 12,000-word document which was not even read to the convention delegates but was accepted just because a majority of the 110-member platform committee had previously endorsed it. Yet 2,622 delegates were seated in the convention hall and approved the platform by a voice vote.

Only the Vietnam war plank was subjected to scrutiny, and a roll call was conducted to determine whether the majority preferred the majority or the minority report. It so happens that 40 per cent of the delegates disapproved of what ultimately went into the platform about Vietnam.

INDIFFERENCE to what might be called "the people's representatives" occurred also when the vice presidential nominee was chosen. The delegates, of course, could propose whomever they pleased. When, however, the word is passed around that the presidential nominee wants a certain individual as his running mate, this is accepted as the equivalent of a political mandate.

The American people are told that the convention system affords the members of a political party an opportunity to choose whomever — it wishes, but this is confined only to the presidential nominee. Ever since it became apparent that Hubert Humphrey would be the presidential nominee, lots of talk took place among the delegates about who might be the man chosen for the vice presidential nomination.

THERE WAS speculation about various names, but the list seemed to narrow down to Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, and Sargent Shriver, ambassador to France. These four men — all of whom are Roman Catholics — were supposed to have political advantages for the Humphrey ticket. Thus, Mayor Alioto would presumably have attracted the Italian-American vote. Sargent Shriver, who is a brother-in-law of Sen. Edward Kennedy, would have mobilized a good many of the Kennedy supporters.

FINALLY IT was announced that Sen. Muskie, who is of Polish descent, had been chosen by Humphrey, and is expected to get the votes of Polish Americans. He is a former governor of Maine, and is regarded as a "moderate" acceptable to the South.

The Chicago convention has been much like its predecessors. There has been the usual friction among delegations and among the different ideological groups inside the party. But certainly most of the delegates are going home with a feeling of sadness that they could not hold the convention in the city of Chicago without being subjected to the presence of 6,000 National Guardsmen as well as 12,000 police officers and many security agents.

THE "DEMONSTRATIONS" around the hotel where the headquarters of the party had been established were a tragic example of the consequences of today's so-called "revolution" in America. Although a place had been set aside for the protesting groups to gather, a large number of them insisted upon trying to march down to the amphitheater where the convention was being held. Naturally, the police had to break up the march, as no permit for it had been given.

The fact that newsmen and other innocent bystanders were injured in the melee is regrettable, but it certainly is difficult for the police to handle lawlessness unless they can use stern measures. Mistakes happen, and persons who are merely watchers become involved.

THE REAL TROUBLE is that the organizations which plan the "demonstrations" deliberately attempt to get publicity in the press and over television by means of the disorders.

Maybe future national conventions will take place on some island with just the delegates and the press present. This would seem to be the only way now to isolate or immunize a convention from the kind of troubles which beset the conclave at Chicago.

State Crime Rate Jumps

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' major crimes, occurring at the rate of one every 90 seconds, increased 15 per cent for the first half of this year, the acting director of state police said Saturday. Lt. Col. Wilson Speir said there were increases in each of the seven major crime categories: Murders and homicides by 9 per cent; rape 14 per cent; robbery 14 per cent; aggravated assault nearly 6 per cent; theft 12 per cent; and auto theft up nearly 24 per cent. Speir said the over-all crime rate increased by about 17 per cent in cities of over 100,000 population; 7 per cent in cities of 50,000 to 100,000; up almost 9 per cent in cities of 25,000 to 50,000; up almost 15 per cent in cities of 10,000 to 25,000; and up 25 per cent in cities of 5,000 to 10,000. He said crime rose by only 1 per cent in cities between 2,500 and 5,000. In the rural areas, Speir said, there was an increase of 34 per cent in counties with a rural population of more than 50 per square mile. The crime rate decreased by almost 20 per cent in counties with from 20 to 35 rural population per square mile, and decreased about 3 per cent in counties with under five rural population per square mile.

Grand Jury To Study Cases Against 19

Odessa Connor, accused of having shot and fatally wounded Charlie Peterson, 40, on the night of Aug. 25, will be one of 19 defendants whose cases will be considered by the Howard County grand jury this week. The grand jury will be organized at 10 a.m. Wednesday in 118th District Court by Judge Ralph W. Caton. As soon as it is chosen, the panel will begin work on the matters which Wayne Burns, district attorney, has lined up.

The Connor case, along with a charge of statutory rape against David Tubb, an attempted robbery charge involving Roger Dale Smith, and assault with intent to kill complaint against Tony Torres, Bobby Torres and Eleno Chavez are the more sensational of the felonies to be heard by the jurors.

The attempted robbery by assault complaint against Smith grew out of an alleged attack on Mrs. Dorothy Coleman, store operator at Vincent, on the night of July 25. Smith was chased and captured by Mrs. Coleman's husband. Mrs. Coleman was struck over the head, but not seriously injured.

The murder complaint against the Connor woman stems from the fatal shooting of Peterson who was found dying in his car in front of the defendant's home. She is alleged to have shot him with a .22 caliber pistol. The rape complaint was filed recently on the statement of a 19-year-old girl who charges that Tubb assaulted her in a trailer house.

The two Torres and Chavez are accused of having fired shots at Daniel Rios. The alleged shooting attempt occurred Aug. 3 in a service station on the north side of town.

Other cases to be considered are: Carroll Wayne Follis, forgery and passing; Edward L. Capers, worthless check; Harold G. Bledsoe, theft by false pretense; Wayne Gerald Tyson, theft.

Tonsillitis Holds Weekly Lead

Local hospitals reported 10 cases of tonsillitis to the city-county health unit during the past week to give it the top spot on the weekly disease report, according to Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse. Hospitals also treated four cases of flu; two cases of diarrhea, four cases of gastroenteritis, two cases of bronchial pneumonia, four cases of strep throat, one case of measles and one case of empetigo.

Jet Bomb Blast Part Of Swindle?

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is reported convinced that the bomb which caused the crash of a British Comet jetliner en route to Cyprus last October was planted for an attempted insurance swindle. Detectives have discovered that $600,000 worth of insurance was taken out on one of the 66 persons killed in the disaster over the Mediterranean east of Rhodes. It was believed at first that the bomb had been planted to kill a Greek Cypriot leader, Gen. George Grivas, who had planned to take the plane but changed his mind.

THE ROSELL TROUPE

Merchants To Give Ducats To Youngsters

The children in the Big Spring area will once again be guests of area merchants when the Suez Shrine Circus comes to town Sept. 9.

Merchants in Big Spring, Ackery, Coahoma, Stanton and Forsan are giving away children's tickets for the two performances, 3:15 p.m. and 8 p.m., at the Rodeo Grounds.

"Every effort is being made to top last year's program with all new acts," Gus Bell, producer, said. Acts already hired include clowns, animals and high wire artists.

High wire acts on the program are the Four Flying Alexanders, the Rosell Troupe from Santiago, Chile, Bob Johnson, the Rhalfis from France and the Ferroni Duo.

Johnson will be featuring his one-finger stand and the Rhalfis will be offering for the first time their high-balancing ladders. Fay Alexander of the Four Flying Alexanders did the triple somersault for Burt Lancaster in the movie "Trapeze."

Animal acts include Bucky Steel's Five Performing Elephants, Gee Gee's Alaskan Huskies and the Twelve Liberty Ponies. Steele will feature an elephant carrying a live pony in its mouth.

Clowns will be on hand to round out the enjoyment for the children attending the performances, Bell said. Gene Randow's Clowns, The Sherman Brothers and Al's Lemon Zeen are listed on the program. The Sherman Brothers feature "white face clowning" with their dog Lucky and Al's Lemon Zeen act made up of crazy car antics.

Adult tickets are $1 in advance and $1.50 at the gate and are being sold at Security State Bank, First National State Bank, State National Bank, Blum's, the Greyhound Bus Terminal, Prager's, the Record Shop, Hamilton-Wells, and the Chamber of Commerce.

'JACK OF DIAMONDS'
Joseph Cotten, Georga Hamilton

Hamilton Stars As Cat Burglar

From the moment when George Hamilton, as a gentleman cat-burglar, climbs up the wall of a fashionable East Side New York apartment house like a fly, enters the apartment (playing herself), removes her jewels, then promptly executes another daring robbery aboard an Atlantic luxury liner, you know that you are in for suspenseful action loaded, suspenseful entertainment in "Jack of Diamonds."

It is while robbing the liner that Hamilton encounters a rival thief in the person of Marie Laforet and while they make their respective escapes in the water while waiting boats pick them up individually, they are destined to meet again on the slopes of the Bavarian ski resort of Zugspitze. Here is formulated the beginning of one of the most bizarre thefts ever contrived for a movie plot—that of stealing the $3,000,000 collection of Zarahoff jewels. Involved in the dangerous enterprise are Hamilton, Miss Laforet, her mentor and master-thief Maurice Evans, and Joseph Cotten, known as the Ace of Diamonds, with a remarkable record of international robberies behind him.

The preliminary to the Zarahoff theft is even more audacious than the actual robbery itself. In order to obtain the combination to the safe, the gang must break into a file in the headquarters of the Paris Police!

Once this feat has been accomplished, replete with suspense and thrills, Hamilton finds himself under suspicion of Wolfgang Preis, of the International Security Alliance, because he has been indiscreet enough to commit two other robberies of movie stars, this time Carroll Baker and Lilli Palmer (also playing themselves), and now the police are hot on his trail.

How he circumvents them, the ingenious method by which Hamilton and feminine accomplice Marie maneuver their way across Paris rooftops, break into the bank containing the Zarahoff jewels and make off with them—only to be faced with an ironic climactic choice if they are to achieve their freedom, makes for a Simba forces. They must also prevent a $20,000,000 fortune in uncut diamonds from falling into Simba hands.

Congo War Story Filmed

"Dark of the Sun," with a big cast headed by Rod Taylor, Yvette Mimieux, Jim Brown and Kenneth More, is a monumental new motion picture which you will find hard to forget. Unfolded in terms of stark realism against a sinister backdrop of the Belgian Congo of the early 1960s, here is the story of a new nation forged out of its composite elements and of the brutal strife of this blood-marked civil conflict. It is also the story of the human beings caught up in the fiery maelstrom, some of them heroes, some cowards, some murderers.

It begins when a group of mercenaries, led by the Hardened Capt. Bruce Curry (Rod Taylor) and Sgt. Ruffo (Jim Brown), a native of the Congo who has returned to his homeland from the United States, are detailed by the Central Congolese government to undertake a mission into the interior to rescue the inhabitants of the small town of Port Repulse which are under attack by rebel freedom fighters. They must also prevent a $20,000,000 fortune in uncut diamonds from falling into Simba hands.

Elvis Scores Again With 27th Movie

It is intriguing to contemplate the reasons why fame might have eluded Elvis Presley, the singer who changed the course of popular music. Logically his closest brush with show business should have been from a seat in the Grand Ole Opry auditorium. And the extent of his entertainment might well have been from a chortle of pleasant home, a weekly check strumming a guitar for friends large enough to support all Tupelo, Miss., doesn't look three — these were Elvis Presley's spawning ground for a man known around the world. Yet his latest picture, "Speed by his first name. Nor does the way," in which he stars with two-room house where Elvis Nancy Sinatra, marks his 27th was born appear a likely candidate for the Southern shrine it box-office success.

Biggest Scene Is Typical Of Award Winning Film

One of the records set by cameras without vibration. The scene in the railroad station never failed to evoke awe from audiences whenever it appeared on the screen. The most pungent comment was made by John Marsh as he watched "Gone With the Wind" at the Atlanta premiere. He turned to his wife, Margaret Mitchell and remarked: "If we'd had that many soldiers, we would have won the war."

Producer Selznick planned it that way. He told his production aides that he wanted the scene of the Confederate wounded in the railroad station to be the longest and highest pullback of movie history. He wanted it to depict in a vivid and shocking way the human wastage of war. William Cameron Menzies, the production designer, made sketches of a camera angle that would extend from a closeup of Vivien Leigh, to an immense panorama of the dead and dying. Today it could be captured in a helicopter shot, but no such facility was available in 1939.

The giant "Gone With the Wind" sequence was made possible by construction of the world's largest motion picture camera crane. A huge boom with an extension of 85 feet in any direction, including a direct vertical one, was designed to photograph 1,500 extras on the 40-acre Atlanta, Ga., set. So enormous was the crane's weight — 140 tons — that a concrete runway 200-feet long and 12-feet wide was built along the track where the crane moved. The giant camera was built with a contractor's rigging crane, mounted with its caterpillar tractor on two trailers, and supported by 46 truck-sized pneumatic-tired wheels. The crane was designed to carry such heavy loads as structural steel members, tanks and electric signs so it was rigid enough to support the big "Gone With the Wind" color

Projected to a possible 8,300 feet to explore both the Spraberry and Dean horizon, it is six miles northeast of Stanton, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 35, block 35, T-1-N, T&P survey.

PINWORMS CAN INFECT AN ENTIRE FAMILY

An itching around the anus may be caused by pinworms. They infest the intestinal tract and lay their eggs near or just outside the anus. The eggs do not hurt anything except when they are swallowed and hatch in the intestines.

Pinworms are so small you can hardly see them. The eggs are transmitted to the mouth by failure to properly wash the hands. They get on the fingers and under the nails. Explain to children the importance of cleanliness. Your physician can prescribe a medicine to eliminate pinworms.

School Board Hems And Haws

GLASGOW, Mont. (AP) — The height of fashion has forced the Glasgow school board to skirt the issue of hemlines.

The board changed its rule that skirts must reach to coeds' knees and required instead "reasonable and modest length" worn "in a lady-like manner."

The action was taken after clothiers said they could not buy skirts long enough to meet the board's original order.
