Visitors To Lamesa Die In Air Crash

LAMESA (SC) — A return flight to San Jose, Calif., from visiting relatives in Lamesa ended in death for six people found Thursday in the crash of a light plane lost since Monday.

The plane was found Thursday afternoon against a steep and grassy hillside five miles northeast of Salinas, Calif.

Killed were Larry Driver, 30, a pilot with only 75 hours flight time; his wife, Sharon, 27; their daughters, Kathy, 2, and Kellie, 5; his sister-in-law, Sue Driver, 26, and Sue Driver's daughter, Tamme, 7. All were from San Jose.

The Drivers had spent the weekend in Lamesa visiting Mrs. Jewell Driver, Larry Driver's stepmother. They left the Lamesa Airport at 12:20 p.m. Monday and stopped at Roswell, N.M., and made another stop at Grand Canyon Junction, Ariz., for fuel on the flight back to San Jose.

Larry Driver was reared in Lamesa, but had spent several years in California. Sue Driver, wife of Ronnie D. Driver, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Martin, Midland.

To Dismiss Early

Classes in Big Spring elementary schools will dismiss at 2:45 p.m. Monday so that school children may attend the Shrine Circus slated at 3:15 p.m. that day at the Big Spring Rodeo Bowl, said Sam Anderson, school superintendent.

Buses will run on regular schedule, however, and that will effect some students at Park Hill and College Heights schools, he said. All bus children will be supervised by teachers at the school until the buses run, unless they are picked up by their parents to attend the circus, he said.

Here They Come

HOUSTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's campaign swing to Houston today begins a busy 11 days for office-seekers in Texas with five candidates for president or vice president scheduled to woo the voters.

Following Republican presidential candidate Nixon, his Democratic opponent, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, is set to arrive in Houston Tuesday. Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine speaks Sunday in San Antonio.

Nixon's running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, will make the keynote address Sept. 17 at the state GOP convention in Fort Worth.

Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama will be in Dallas Sept. 17 for a speech at the state American Party convention, following a fund-raising dinner the night before in Dallas.

Bible Fund Report

Nearing the end of the annual formal appeal, the Big Spring High School Bible Class fund Friday stood in need of urgent help.

A dozen friends added $151 to the fund today to make the new total $2,653, still about $850 short of what is needed. Added to this, but not included in the total, was $100 which came from two churches, which support the class out of their budgets. (These budgetary supports supplement what is raised through the regular appeal.) The First Church of God and the St. Paul Presbyterian Church each sent in $50. Another service club — the Breakfast Optimist, sent a generous check.

From Wichita Falls, D. W. Wiley Jr., county commissioner, sent a gift, noting "I have two grandchildren, Mark and Paula Wiley in Big Spring. They are too young now, but I hope the plan is still working when they are old enough to attend."

Please, please — if you can help — mail or bring your gift today or Saturday to The Herald for acknowledgement, or remind your Sunday school class or club if these can have a part.

Sure Sign Of Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a sure sign Congress was back in session. The champion of the marigold, the protector of birds was holding court.

PERCHED

Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, Republican minority leader from Pekin, Ill., was perched on a table in the Senate press gallery with a cup of coffee in his hand and cigarettes nearby, holding his weekly news conference for the first time in a month.

Tousle-haired and irrepressible as ever, not even a story about a report that he was marked for assassination escaped the wry touch.

"I don't want my head blown off," Dirksen said he told police after one of three reports of threats on his life.

"I've got flowers in bloom and they need me. I've got 65 bird feeders now and the birds need me," he said.

But the news conference, darting as usual from anecdote to reminiscence to hard answers, touched on more than birds, flowers and assassination.

What did he think of chances the Senate would confirm Abe Fortas' nomination as chief justice?

"Not roseate," he intoned. Did he think President Johnson should withdraw the nomination?

"I don't know what the President should or shouldn't do. I'm not the president. I should be but I'm not."

SEARCH

A search for his views on whether the Senate should return for more business after the elections somehow wandered into an account of how a florist's association gave him a gold rose as an award and the report that his own golden tea roses "are doing beautifully this year."

Nixon Beams Campaign At 'Silent Americans'

Day Foodlifts Still Delayed

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Red Cross stepped up its night food flights to Biafra Thursday night as squabbling between the Nigerian and Biafran governments continued to delay the start of a daytime foodlift.

The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva said six planes landed 43 tons of food and medicine and 33 relief and medical workers during the night. A spokesman said the number of flights is likely to be increased in the next few nights.

PERSUADE

August Lindt, International Red Cross coordinator for West Africa, was in Biafra Thursday trying to persuade the secessionist leaders to accept Nigeria's condition for not interfering with the plane loads of food and medicine and that they land at a Biafran air strip called Annabelle.

Diplomatic sources said Lindt might return to Lagos if the two sides in the 14-month-old civil war continued to disagree on a landing site.

"We will not change our stand," a Nigerian military spokesman said.

The Nigerians had threatened to shoot down all planes flying into Biafra, contending that they might be carrying arms to the rebels. But they agreed not to interfere for 10 days, starting Thursday, with Red Cross mercy flights going to Annabelle.

Biafra welcomed the agreement but broadcast a proposal Thursday that the mercy planes land instead at Obilaga airstrip, in central Biafra.

LEFT FREE

The Nigerians claim Biafra wants Annabelle left free for planes bringing arms. They reject Obilaga as a landing spot because neutralization of that air strip would block the advance of federal troops on the headquarters of Biafra's chief of state, Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, at Umuahia, 25 miles from the airstrip.

More than 3,500 tons of relief supplies for Biafra are stockpiled at Fernando Poo, a Spanish island off the east Nigerian coast, and the Red Cross and other welfare organizations have made night flights into Biafra despite the Lagos blockade. But they have not been able to carry nearly enough to meet the needs of the Biafrans, thousands of whom are reported dying each day from starvation.

Biafra meanwhile acknowledged that federal forces had broken through the defenses of Aba, largest of the three major towns still held by the rebels when federal troops began a big drive last month to close out the war. The Nigerians announced Wednesday they had captured the town, but Biafra's said then it still was under their control.

Mississippi Demos To Back Wallace

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's regular Democratic leaders, including Gov. John Bell Williams, have bolted the national Democratic party to campaign for George C. Wallace.

Wallace, former governor of Alabama is the presidential candidate of the newly formed American Independent party.

In urging Mississippians to vote for Wallace, the state Democratic executive committee said Thursday the election of Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey would be a disaster. Leon Brumlett of Clarksdale, committee chairman, made the announcement after a private session of the committee. Williams, whose defection was expected, stood at his side wearing a Wallace button.

WASTED

"It is the opinion of the state executive committee that in Mississippi a vote for GOP nominee Richard Nixon will be both a wasted vote and a help to Hubert Humphrey," Bramlett said.

Williams said he was in agreement with the committee — and would have backed Wallace in any case.

Supporting Wallace, he said, is the only way to "stop the Eastern Establishment that had control of both major parties."

Enrollment Inches Upward

Enrollment in Big Spring schools took another jump today with an increase of 20 over Thursday for a total of 7,421, according to Sam Anderson, school superintendent.

There was an increase of three at Runnels Junior High School for a total of 590, while Goliad Junior High School enrollment remained at 684. The high school figure climbed nine more to 2,060, and elementary schools had five more students for an enrollment of 3,958. Special education increased by three for a 129 figure.

Anderson said more students are expected to enroll Monday.

Believes He More Likely To End War

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says he thinks he would probably be more likely to bring peace in Vietnam than Richard M. Nixon would. But he hopes the Johnson administration can end the war by January.

BACK HOME

The vice president gave these assessments to reporters Thursday night as he returned home for a final weekend of rest before resuming his presidential campaign Monday by riding in a ticker tape parade and speaking to a rally in Philadelphia.

Arriving at Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport, Humphrey was asked about a CBS report that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, his defeated Democratic opponent, has felt since March that 1968 is Nixon's year. "I surely don't believe it and that's the only comment," Humphrey shot back.

He was then asked about the report's conclusion that McCarthy "suspects" Nixon would be more likely to settle the war because he is not identified with the policies of the last four years.

"I don't agree with that," Humphrey said, adding, "I think I have every bit as good a chance and maybe a good deal better" to end the war.

"In the meantime," he added, "I am hopeful that the present administration will be able to end that war."

Turning to his Republican opponent, Humphrey said, "Mr. Nixon is not known as a peace-maker. His life has been much more characterized by the field of the cold war policy."

Earlier, talking with reporters aboard his campaign plane on the flight from Washington, Humphrey said Nixon's campaign opener in Chicago Wednesday reminded him of Thomas E. Dewey's unsuccessful 1948 bid for the presidency.

LOOK PRETTY

"I remember when Tom Dewey thought he could glide through a campaign full of love and kisses, all he thought he had to do was smile and look pretty," he said.

But Humphrey indicated he expects Nixon to switch later to the more aggressive campaigner of past years. "Wait until the going gets tough—they revert to form," he said.

LBJ Hints Most Favor Abe Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today a "little group" of senators should not be allowed to "thwart the view of the majority" of senators whom he portrayed as favoring the nomination of Abe Fortas to be chief justice.

Taxpayers Share In Cost Of Democrats' Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — All the bills aren't in yet, but the cost of putting on and policing the 1968 Democratic National Convention will come to a large tab. And a fair slice is destined to come from taxpayers.

The party's share of the bill has not been calculated, according to John Meek, convention coordinator.

However, James C. Worthy, chairman of a nonpartisan committee which negotiated the agreement to hold the convention in Chicago, said Thursday his group gave $750,000 in cash to the Democratic National Convention Committee. Additionally, he said, his group provided services which amounts to the equivalent of $160,000.

Of more direct concern to taxpayers, though, was the presence—in or near the city—of some 25,000 National Guardsmen, Army troops, federal agents and local police.

Use of 5,500 Illinois guardsmen cost of the taxpayers $75,600 a day, or a total of $529,200 for the full week of active duty, according to Brig. Gen. Harold Patton, assistant adjutant.

About 7,000 federal troops were airlifted from Texas, Colorado and Kansas to be deployed if needed. The Pentagon had no immediate report on the cost of bringing them to facilities near Chicago and returning them to their home bases a week later.

Muskie Invites Texas Democrats

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie will spend some 10 hours here Sunday on a visit that includes a mammoth dinner reception at which more than 1,000 leading Democrats have been invited to attend.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, seeking to heal factional conflicts among Texas Democrats, will launch his campaign with a major address in front of the Alamo.

Cong Uses Women, Children As Shields In Wave Attack

SAIGON (AP) — A veteran Viet Cong battalion, herding women and children in front as human shields smashed into a company of American paratroopers in three waves early today. Thirty-one Americans were killed and 27 wounded.

The waves of troops from the Viet Cong's Cu Chi Regiment broke through a company from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division 26 miles northwest of Saigon. The Viet Cong and the paratroopers were still locked in battle as night fell.

Thirty-one Viet Cong have been reported killed so far.

MANY KILLED

AP photographer Max Nash reported from the battlefield that many of the Americans were killed by the Viet Cong as they lay wounded on the field.

The battle was one of three fought northwest and southwest of Saigon today in which, according to incomplete reports, at least 110 of the enemy were killed and 150 persons seized as suspected Viet Cong.

A Communist defector had told U.S. intelligence officers that Viet Cong troops were meeting Thursday in the village of Ap Trang Dau, nine miles from a major allied military base housing the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and a South Vietnamese training base for rangers.

Troops from the 25th Division put a cordon around the village, and the Viet Cong tried unsuccessfully three times to break out.

Suddenly, Nash reported, about 300 enemy troops charged through rice paddies into one American paratrooper company 150 yards away. The came in three waves. At command headquarters in Cu Chi, the voice of a radio operator came through: "They are coming, they are coming." Then the radio went dead.

U.S. officers said the first wave of enemy troops came running shoulder-to-shoulder through the night, screaming, firing assault rifles and pushing women and children in front of them as human shields.

After breaking the cordon, the enemy vanished into the darkness, leaving 31 of their own dead on the battlefield. Nash said some of the third wave enemy troops had bamboo poles with them to carry off some of their dead.

18-HOUR FIGHT

In an 18-hour fight that lasted until noon today, other troops from the 9th Division reported killing 40 Viet Cong 13 miles southwest of Saigon and captured 15 tons of rice apparently stockpiled to feed Viet Cong soldiers fighting in the area.

Two Americans were reported killed and nine wounded.

A LOVELIER YOU

Play Cool But Stick To Beauty Routines

By MARY SUE MILLER

Relax if you will and be lackadaisical. Laze in your deck chair and put off your chores till manana. But don't neglect your beauty routines.

Perhaps you've already discovered that only a few weeks of neglect are a drag on your appearance. And once the damage is done it takes real hard work to make repairs. Then where's the fun? Just in case you are tempted to shirk your beauty duties, here's a reminder come to haunt you:

Be faithful to your skin-care routines. Cleansing is more than ever vital as the pores are subject to increased clog in hot weather. Facial washing creams speed the cleansing process when you feel lazy. If your skin is dry, apply a moisturizer day and night. Only skins respond to antiseptic lotions.

Never fail to protect tanning skin all summer long with a suitable suntan product. To ward off wrinkling use an eye-oil stick and a lip sunstick before going outdoors for long periods of time. Do this whatever your age and whether or not you mean to tan.

Protect your hair from sun with hats and scarves, your eyes with glasses.

Keep the head-to-toe complexion silky with bath oil and body lotion.

To avoid figure spread, get a daily workout, emphasize fruits and vegetables on your menus, and don't let your posture slump.

Just so you sail through the summer looking lovely. Mayhap lovelier!

A LOVELIER SKIN Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A Lovelier Complexion." Detailed advice contained includes the correct care for dry, oily, combination and normal skin types; proper application methods; treatments for blackheads, enlarged pores, circles, wrinkles, crepiness, etc. For your copy write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Barbed Wire Fences Seal Off City From Viet Cong

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Da Nang and its 320,000 residents are being circled by a double ring of barbed wire fences in the first allied effort to seal off a major city from Viet Cong infiltrators.

Dubbed Lam's Wall after its architect, Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the antiguerrilla barrier consists of two fortified lines—one around the city's outskirts and the second cutting through the rice paddies and foothills seven miles away.

MINEFIELDS

The inner barrier, a 100-yard-wide strip with parallel barbed wire fences, minefields and watchtowers, was completed nearly two months ago.

U.S. Marines and Seabees and Vietnamese army engineers are pushing construction of the 22-mile outer barrier. It is expected to be completed within a month to six weeks, according to Lam, commander of the 1st military corps area in northern South Vietnam.

The southern section of the outer line had been nearly completed when the Communist command sent two battalions of nearly 1,000 men marching on Da Nang recently. All of the watchtowers and bunkers were not in place but the fence was credited with channeling the enemy troops into the path of waiting allied units.

Da Nang, where they were trapped and mauled Aug. 23 by three battalions of U.S. Marines and Vietnamese rangers. More than 300 of the enemy were killed as they tried to break away and flee. None got near the inner fence.

Both barriers are disruptive to farmers, travelers and even young lovers, but "they may save Da Nang from the type of street fighting that killed so many civilians in Saigon and Hue, one of Lam's aides said.

Agnew Books Texas Talk

FORT WORTH (AP) — A speech on law and order by Gov. Spiro Agnew, Republican vice presidential nominee, will highlight the GOP's state convention here Sept. 17.

Confirmation of the Maryland governor's Fort Worth appearance was made Thursday by Peter O'Donnell Jr., state party chairman.

A hefty majority of 2,075 eligible delegates is expected for the one-day convention, to be held at Hotel Texas.

O'Donnell and other state and local party officials met Thursday to hash over convention plans.

"This early campaign visit by Gov. Agnew, which follows within less than two weeks of Dick Nixon's appearance in Houston, demonstrates how vital Texas is to the presidential victory," O'Donnell said.

Daley Will Get His Chance In At Least Eight Cities

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley will get his chance to show in at least eight cities his view of what happened in demonstrations during the week of the Democratic National Convention.

A statement signed by the mayor and released Thursday by an aide said Daley has accepted the offer of prime time by two broadcasting companies. A documentary program, prepared by the mayor's office, will be shown on the Metromedia television and radio network, reaching New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington and D.C.

The Chicago-based WGN Continental Broadcasting Co. also will show the documentary through its outlets in Chicago, Denver and Duluth, Minn. The firm has offered to make the program available to any other station interested in showing it.

Time and date of the airing networks for prime time to have not been set, the aide said, but will be announced shortly. It can be people, Daley charged that the networks presented "one-sided coverage" of demonstrations and police actions during last week's convention in Chicago.

Christmas Takes Trip To Prison

John Christmas, under 12-year sentence for burglary, with Pete Campos, three years, as a probation violator, and Daniel Rios, wanted for parole violation, are on their way to Huntsville today to begin serving their prison terms.

Christmas was formally sentenced on Thursday morning. A deputy sheriff from the office of A. N. Standard, sheriff, was in charge of the trio.

The Columbia Broadcasting System rejected Daley's request, saying it already had given Daley a chance to present his view in a 30-minute interview during the convention.

The National Broadcasting Co. and American Broadcasting Co. offered Daley an opportunity to appear on a prime-time panel discussion with newsmen, but refused to allow him to make an independent presentation.

Daley has rejected these proposals because the "format does not meet the purpose of providing a balanced presentation," the aide said.

ABOUT VEEP STAND-IN

Wallace Aide Not Worried

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A top aide to George Wallace says he is not worried that a stand-in for vice president on the third party ticket may appear on the ballot in some states.

Bill Jones, Wallace's national campaign coordinator, said Thursday, that "Under no circumstances will we jeopardize our ballot position."

Jones' remark followed a ruling by Wisconsin that new petitions would have to be filed if Wallace wants on the ballot the name of the running mate he will name next Tuesday.

If new petitions are not filed, the official said they would print ballots showing Wallace and former Georgia Gov. Martin Griffin as the candidates. Griffin's name has been used as a stand-in candidate in those states which require the whole slate to be identified.

Although they could obtain the necessary signatures on petitions to get Wallace and his actual running mate on the ballot in Wisconsin in one day, they will probably not go to the trouble, Jones said.

It is the presidential electors who actually choose the president and, Jones said, "we will make it abundantly clear to them who the actual candidates are."

A similar problem developed in North Carolina this week when election officials said they had to submit the Wallace-Griffin ticket because of a deadline for printing ballots.

Wallace prolonged his holiday in Miami Beach.

Smith Won't Shackle Campaign To Humphrey

FORT WORTH (AP) — Keeping an apparent wary eye on the unstable political situation of the times, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith as Democratic nominee for governor spelled out clearly Thursday that he won't shackle his campaign to party loyalty.

Smith said during a Fort Worth visit that he plans to divorce his statewide race from the Democratic party's nationwide presidential campaign.

He will vote for Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential nominee, he said, but doesn't expect to campaign actively in Humphrey's behalf.

Smith told a gathering of Tarrant County party officials, "This is no year to run a campaign solely on the basis of party loyalty."

He left the door open, regarding his own campaign, to Democrats who might vote for one of Humphrey's opponents—Republican Richard Nixon or George Wallace, American Independent Party candidate.

"I have always supported and voted for Democratic Party candidates, and will continue to do so," Smith said. "I won't quarrel, however, with good citizens of this country who feel otherwise."

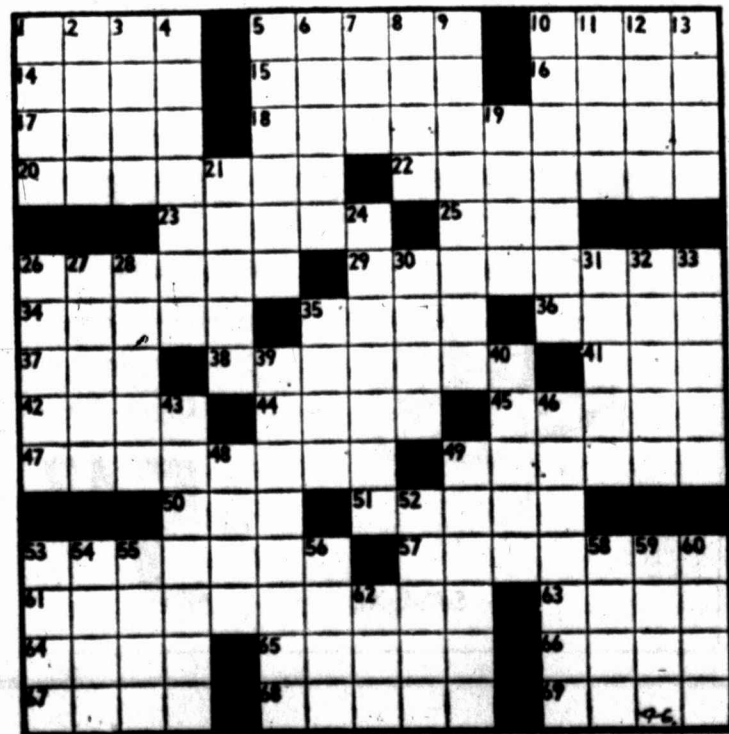

"I've never asked the good people of Texas to vote for me just because I am a Democrat, and I hope no one will vote against me just because he is a Republican."

Smith was in Fort Worth to meet with 10th Senatorial District delegates and alternates to the Sept. 17 state Democratic convention in Austin.

A Devotional For The Day

I bow my knees before the Father . . . that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; that you, being rooted and grounded in love, may . . . know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge. (Ephesians 3:17, 17-19, RSV)

PRAYER: Father, may we speak for Thee in love, remembering that we must speak the truth in love if the truth would reach the hearts of those who hear. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Time To Revive NATO?

The Soviet government hurled a huge rock into the pond of international relationships when it sent in armed forces to occupy Czechoslovakia. The ripples are spreading rapidly throughout the world.

One immediate effect was seen when Majority Leader Mansfield of the United States Senate announced that he would temporarily abandon his efforts to bring about a cutback in U.S. troops stationed in Europe. Now, only a few days later, Chancellor Kiesinger of West Germany has called for a summit conference of the government heads of North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. He believes that such a meeting must determine what can be done "to fill this tired workaday operation with life."

There is merit in Kiesinger's proposal. If NATO is to serve its purposes of deterrence and readiness, it needs some galvanizing. It is important, however, to bear in mind the West German chancellor's caution that this should "in no way mean that NATO should be instilled with bellicose spirit, but rather with the simple recognition of where one stands."

One particularly interesting aspect of Kiesinger's remarks was his hint that the Warsaw Pact countries' action against Czechoslovakia might force President de Gaulle back into closer cooperation with France's NATO allies. This may be no more than wishful thinking, since de Gaulle has persistently undermined NATO's influence and has played many variations on the theme of French self-sufficiency and freedom from entanglements — most recently after the explosion of France's first hydrogen bomb a short time ago.

Kiesinger is quite right, however, in noting that de Gaulle knows a European peace settlement is out of the question if "a defenseless West Europe confronts an overarmed Russia." One can hope that the West German leader will be able to emphasize the point effectively in his September conference with de Gaulle.

Sen. Mansfield's basic contention that Western European governments ought to shoulder a greater share of the NATO defense burden, permitting withdrawal of some U.S. troops, remains valid. His decision not to press the point for a time is tactical. Meanwhile, a broad reassessment of NATO's powers and responsibilities by the heads of the member governments seems in order.

Congress Faces Tough Test

For a national election year, the 90th Congress' second session so far has done somewhat better than initially expected. But with the national conventions over and the presidential and congressional campaigns beginning, it faces a rough — and perhaps long — road to final adjournment.

Not much more than the regular appropriation bills and routine program extensions were really expected of this election-year session. And it has yet to complete even those, particularly the huge defense and controversial foreign-aid fundings, which were due last June 30.

But it does already have to its limited credit new consumer-protection laws, better gun controls (with more pending), a generous housing bill, a needed tax hike, crime-control aid to the states, a historic open-housing law, and at least a weak start on congressional ethics codes.

Important business plugged by the administration, however, remains unfinished. This includes higher and vocational education aid, the farm program, and food for the poor. And there is a big list of desirable pending bills, of which few are likely to be passed and on which work will have to be started all over again in the new Congress to be elected in November and convened in January.

Also, this Congress will be under a number of serious handicaps in its final months. Campaign politics will be a heavy drag. Retiring President Johnson will have little influence, and without that the House and Senate majority leaderships are weak. The Supreme Court appointments squabble will be a stumbling block. Resurgence of concern over Soviet foreign policy will add confusion, as on ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty. And, of it all will still hang the palls of the Vietnam war and the crisis of the cities.

Congressional work has been resumed with reluctance, resentment, impatience and doubts. Here is an opportunity for some Capitol Hill statesmanship that can be hoped for, but hardly anticipated with any confidence.

Odds Against Humphrey, But—

WASHINGTON — Not for a long time have the odds against a Democratic candidate in a Presidential election been anything like the gap that separates the Nixon-Agnew ticket and the Humphrey-Muskie ticket. The term "underdog" seems at this point to be an understatement of Humphrey's position comparable to describing Niagara Falls as a little water falling over a hill.

SEVERAL TIMES during the proceedings in Chicago now happily ended, pro-Humphrey delegates spoke of the need for the candidate to conduct a Harry Truman-type campaign. Truman was the underdog 20 years ago. But his underdogness was of a degree that makes the Humphrey underdog look by comparison like Mammoth Cave.

There is, however, a stern correction to be applied here. Twenty years ago we were all writing, those of us who try to assess the volatile stuff of politics, that Truman couldn't win. It was Thomas E. Dewey beyond a doubt.

WE WERE all wrong. No one will ever forget that news photo of a grinning Truman holding up an early edition of the Chicago Tribune with the banner headline, "Dewey Wins." It could just happen again if we go on the assumption, coming out of Chicago, that Humphrey doesn't have a ghost of a chance.

The circumstances are, of course, vastly different. Truman had the target of the 80th Congress and the charge that the Republican majorities had killed the Truman programs for social advance. Humphrey, by contrast, is saddled with the onus of the most unpopular war in America's history. The riots and disorders are put on him on the principle that the ins must take the blame for everything that goes wrong. Strikes, inflation, the whole burden of the Johnson administration, is his heritage, and neither Richard Nixon nor his enemies within the party mean to let him forget it.

TO REPUDIATE this heritage would be to alienate not merely President Johnson but a large segment of the party supporting the Vietnam policy and talking the same shorthand on law and order as Richard Nixon or even George Wallace. This is the yawning abyss that Humphrey must try to bridge. It looks at this stage like an impossible piece of political engineering.

BUT ON THE other side of the ledger are certain assets that cannot be written off. The Democratic party has developed over the years fundamental loyalties, and while those loyalties have been eroded by recent conflicts, they are still valid. Organized labor is currently facing the greatest political challenge since the late '30s to show that the leadership can deliver votes for a liberal candidate promising to push legislation labor wants.

Auto Hullabaloo Time Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Are the sales forecasts now emanating from Detroit just more of the hullabaloo that precedes the new models along with cocktail parties, publicity releases, previews and press showings?

Auto people have a way of talking things up. It's part of the game. The words are meant to convey as much inspiration as fact, and in that they are successful.

THE FORECAST for 1969 seems truly inspired. Ford Motor Co. announced the other day that it believes the industry might deliver 9.3 million of the new models, which would top the record 1966 model year by 166,000 vehicles.

That's for the new models. Detroit also figures its success by the calendar year, that is, from January through December. This calendar year looks like a record, with some 9.3 million sales anticipated, the same figure as for the 1969 model projection. But the record may not last long.

Chrysler Corp. recently announced that it expects deliveries in calendar 1969 might even top this year's sales. In other words, something in the range of 9.4 million sales isn't being ruled out by Chrysler.

These are truly enormous figures, even though the auto analysts have been telling us for a couple of years to expect nothing less than 13 million sales a year by the late 1970s.

These projections, stated confidently as they always are by executives, and backed by sociological research, computer studies and graphs, sometimes overwhelm negative arguments. And this year's projections seem especially compelling.

These are among the arguments of the optimistic auto people: —There's a lot of money in the consumer pocketbook and high rate for a couple of years now and he's got the cash to spend. He seems to be getting anxious to use some of the bundle.

—THE AUTO scrapage rate has been healthy. About 6.5 million cars a year are now being disposed of. That means, in most instances, that replacements must be purchased.

—The population is rising, and so also is the number of potential buyers.

—The job market remains strong. Personal income is rising. Credit is fairly easy to obtain. All these factors make it easier for the consumer to make the plunge. And as middle-class wealth rises, so also does the number of two-car families.

Isn't It Worth A Trial?

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments of a Pavement Plato: Are we flooding our schools with the wrong people?

We are sending our kids there. Might it not be better if the grownups went?

This month some 57 million young people will inundate U.S. kindergartens, classrooms and campuses. Many of them profess a reluctance, since it is "the thing" to do.

"GEE, VACATION is so much fun I hate to think of going back to school," said my daughter, Tracy, who is 15 and is secretly rather proud that she'll be a high school sophomore.

"I wish I could go in your place," I told her.

"You must be kidding," she said, unbelieving.

But I wasn't kidding at all. Millions of middle-aged Americans, I am sure, have a wistful yearning to return for a refresher course in the groves of academe.

George Bernard Shaw once said it was too bad youth had to be wasted on the young. The same thing might be said about education.

"Civilization is a race between education and catastrophe," once observed H. G. Wells. This remark is often ridiculed now by our precocious youth as just another pompous platitude from one of yesterday's fuddy-duddies.

But many grown ups have a feeling of desperation that their own education is hardly sufficient to avert the catastrophe.

THE SHEEPSKIN they won years ago, if they did win one, has hardly proved a passport to safety. They have merely, at the best, staved off catastrophe. Once they too were "the hope of tomorrow," but today a younger generation bitterly blames them for the pickle the world finds itself in. They survived a terrible business depression, two great world wars and innumerable smaller conflicts. Yet civilization, dwelling uneasily under the Damocletian sword of atomic extermination, seems in greater danger than ever.

The average middle-aged man doesn't feel educated. He feels woefully ignorant. He hasn't had much time to campaign for a better world. He has been too busy earning a living, keeping his kids out of jail, and paying off mortgages.

Now, with many of the best years of his life behind him, he suddenly finds himself something of a stranger in the world he lives in. Knowledge has passed him by. Incessant change has rattled many of his firmest beliefs, raised doubts even as to the verity of his God.

"I'M DARNED if I really know what I am sure about," said one such man. "Everything I learned in school seems to be out-of-date or wrong. I'd give anything to go back to school and start getting educated all over again."

Certainly, if given the chance, most middle-aged men wouldn't waste the opportunity. Perhaps it would be a good idea if every high school graduate, before going on to college, were forced to spend a year in the School of Hard Knocks, and his father given a sabbatical 12-month in a university discovering what the New Knowledge is all about.

It would be a real education experience for both son and dad, and at the end of it there would be less nonsense about "the generation gap" that yawns between them. Each would be wiser and understand the other better.

Isn't it worth a trial? There would be no lack of middle-aged volunteers.

The Senate Was Too Money-Minded

WASHINGTON — Virginia Sen. Harry Byrd Jr., like father like son, wants us to live by the book — by the Constitution — and it's melancholy to find the Harry Byrds of public life too often have to go down in honorable defeat.

Like this: Last July the senator lost a Senate vote by 46-41, with 12 absentees, when he tried to stop a bill that was in sneaky but substantial violation of the historic document which all Federal officers have sworn to uphold. It was a measure which appropriated $100,000 to bankroll a nine-member presidential commission on the salaries of Congress and the Supreme Court. It was also one of those measures which make politicians look awfully shifty and gutless.

THE CONSTITUTION gives Congress the power of the purse and the only honest way in which senators and representatives can change their salaries is to vote them up or down. But the Federal Salary Act of the 90th Congress, originating in the House, dodged that question of legislative pay and never placed it in a position to be debated or voted upon.

INSTEAD, a House-Senate conference committee last December inserted a back-door provision whereby the President could hike or lower Capitol Hill and Supreme Court pay. Using a method employed under the Hoover Commission, the President could decree a change of pay — unless the House or Senate voted otherwise. Since it's most unlikely that the White House would cut Congressional salaries, the lawmakers could obtain their raises by indirection and without annoying their constituents.

HARRY BYRD attacked the proposition from high ground, although at an oblique angle. He invoked the separation-of-powers principle, and pointed out that this subterfuge in the pay-bill would give permanent authority to the Executive branch to exert unwarranted control over the Legislative and Judicial branches of government. The nine-member Commission would advise the President as to pay-rates, but the President would not be bound by the advice. Byrd presented the hypothetical situation in which the Commission recommended hiking Congressional salaries from $30,000 to $40,000, and a President then said:

"LOOK, YOU fellows in the Senate and in the House, be good to me and I will not follow this Commission report and give you $40,000. I will give you $50,000."

With a presidential election in view, and presidential power a live subject in the Fortas case, Byrd was rolling along — except that he had chosen a vulnerable approach. He was asking the Senate to stymie the pay-raise by denying funds to the fact-finding Commission. He soon had some supporters in John Williams of Delaware, Gordon Allott of Colorado, Frank Lausche of Ohio and John Pastore of Rhode Island, but it was Warren Magnuson of Washington State who derailed Byrd's repealer of the Commission's fund.

MAGNUSON eventually voted with Byrd but not until pointing out that this was a back-door method of closing the back door. Magnuson said that the direct remedy was not to cut off funds, but to abolish the Commission and the whole idea of presidential supervision of salaries. This was a change of subject, and a Senate majority took the excuse to duck its obligation.

"I thought of it as a test vote on the separation-of-powers," Byrd told me afterwards.

That's what it was. But the Senate, too individually money-minded, did not act with courage and conscience. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Soviet Challenge In Europe

WASHINGTON — The United States government knew of the preparations for the invasion of Czechoslovakia at least 20 days before it happened. A memorandum prepared by the Central Intelligence Agency was distributed throughout the government on August 2 to the effect that military preparations had been completed in a fortnight's time which would be adequate for an intervention in Czechoslovakia if deemed necessary.

ALSO, ON AUG. 20, the day before the invasion occurred, President Johnson had a luncheon with high officials at which Soviet strategy was discussed. Reports of a Soviet Central Committee meeting to be held that same day were available which indicated a decision by the Soviet government to move into Czechoslovakia. The reports were based on the character of the exercises near the borders of Czechoslovakia which appeared to be a rehearsal for military intervention.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has been criticized by Austria for not having made a much more pointed protest about the invasion of Czechoslovakia. This may account for the fact that on Aug. 30 President Johnson, in a speech at San Antonio, Tex., decided to speak out against another possible act of aggression aimed at another country in Europe — presumably Romania. He said:

"It is clear to me that the leaders in Moscow have felt that their interests were threatened by the emergence of even modest degrees of independence and human liberty. And there are even rumors late this evening that this action (in Czechoslovakia) might be repeated somewhere else in Eastern Europe."

WHILE THE SOVIET government sent its ambassador to Secretary Rusk on Saturday to deny any such plan, Austria is growing more and more worried. Diplomats in Vienna express regret concerning what they term the passive attitude of the United States, and point out that Austria now has to reckon with the presence of 600,000 Warsaw Pact troops across its northern borders. The Austrian officials say that, even if the occupation troops should be gradually withdrawn from Czechoslovakia, the Soviets will still keep large forces along the Austria-Czech border, and this isn't very comfortable.

FRANCE ALSO is becoming restless, and has made a strong demand to the Soviets to withdraw promptly their forces from Czechoslovakia. There is a fear expressed in Paris, moreover, that the next country to be invaded will be Romania. West Germany, too, is disturbed by recent developments in Czechoslovakia.

Meanwhile, officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are beginning to revise their defense plans and to call for a new pronouncement of policy by the United States with respect to the retention of troops in Europe. Since last March more than 30,000 American troops have been pulled out and relocated in the United States. It has been said that they could quickly be returned to Europe. But the Soviet invasion has convinced NATO officials that the United States military forces would have arrived too late if a Soviet attack had been begun against one of the NATO countries.

FOR THE TIME being, President Johnson's warning to the Soviets that the United States would not condone "unbridled aggression" is being circulated throughout Europe as a form of assurance. President Johnson, in his San Antonio speech last Friday, also said:

"I express the hope and the belief that there will be no condoning of aggressors and no appeasement of those who growl across national boundaries — by this or by any other administration."

It may be taken for granted that both presidential candidates share President Johnson's view, and that the United States, despite the occurrence of a presidential election, is not going to change its policy of defending the people of Europe, for whom so many Americans sacrificed their lives in World War II. ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Illinois, who floated through the air off a trampoline, and Miss Alabama, who stays curvy despite hot fudge sundaes, are second-round winners in the Miss America Pageant.

Posse Playday Plans Polished

Plans for an open playday beginning at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 5, were made at a meeting Tuesday of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse.

An arena has not been selected for the event, but will be announced later.

There will be four events in the playday, including barrel racing, pole bending, flag racing and ring racing. Competition will be divided into five age groups of nine years and under, 10-12, 13-15, 16-19, and 19 and over.

Ribbons will be presented to the top six winners of each event, and an all-around trophy buckle will be given to the girl and boy with the most points scored in all four events.

Registration will be held before 2 p.m. at the playday arena. Entry fee will be 50 cents per event.

Aggressive bidding by South landed his side in a six-club contract that was not a favorite to succeed. When his cue bid of three hearts, which was a clear-cut slam try, was followed by North's signoff at three no trump, South should have submitted to partner's judgment.

The subsequent cue bid of four spades automatically catapulted the partnership into a slam. At that, if South held three diamonds and a doubleton in either major, the six-club contract would have hinged on a simple finesse.

West opened the king of diamonds and dummy played the ace. Prospects for the declarer were not very bright —he was confronted with a sure loser in diamonds, and finesses must apparently be taken in hearts and spades.

Trumps were drawn in three rounds as West discarded one diamond and one heart. The king of spades was cashed next, followed by a small spade. When East played low, the jack was successfully finessed. The ace of spades cleared that suit from both hands.

Altho he had negotiated one hurdle, South was convinced that the finesse in hearts must fail, inasmuch as West's overcall in that suit clearly marked him with the queen. Declarer saw a ray of hope, however, for it was reasonable to assume that West held a five-card suit for his bid—in which case an end play was in the offing provided that East's hand could be stripped of hearts.

A heart was led to North's king as all hands followed suit. Now the five of diamonds was played. If West won this trick, he would have a choice of leading a heart into the declarer's ace-jack, or else continuing with a diamond which would permit South to discard his losing heart as the dummy ruffed.

It would not avail East, however, to put up the jack of diamonds when declarer exited with that suit, for either a spade or diamond return by East would provide South with the necessary ruff and discard.

AIR TRAFFIC CONDITIONS IMPROVE

Up, Up And Away Easier

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — Air travelers are getting up, up and away easier these days, although some slight delays in landings and takeoffs are still reported at major airports.

An Associated Press survey Thursday showed several reasons for the improvement—a seasonal decline in the number of flights, unusually good weather and fewer equipment breakdowns.

'A LOT BETTER'

A Federal Aviation Administration spokesman at Kennedy Airport said air traffic conditions at New York's metropolitan area airports were "a lot better" than they were during the crowded days of July.

It was in July that the Professional Air Traffic Controllers

Organization—which claims 7,000 members—began a "follow the book" slowdown, strictly enforcing FAA safety rules which are sometimes bent in periods of peak congestion.

The organization is continuing its safety campaign. But other factors apparently have combined to ease crowds.

The FAA spokesman at Kennedy said that delays were limited to from 40 minutes to an hour, and then only during peak travel periods. He said that on Tuesday, for example, there were departure delays of 35 minutes and arrival delays of 30 minutes—nothing like the six and seven hour waits that plagued many passengers earlier this summer.

FEWER FLIGHTS

The FAA officials said the improvement was due to better weather, fewer breakdowns in air controller radar and communications equipment, fewer flights during the late summer season and diversions of some flights from Kennedy to LaGuardia or Newark airports.

At National Airport in Washington, the FAA said there had been no reportable delays—those of over 30 minutes—since the Labor Day weekend. A spokesman said this was because of "unusually fine weather and the fact that equipment remained in good working order."

A spokesman at Chicago's O'Hare Airport said delays were only 15 to 30 minutes during peak periods, with no delays at other times. The spokesman said Labor Day traffic was on time because of a light schedule—only 1,400 flights compared to a daily average of 2,100 takeoffs and landings.

PUBLIC HEARING

The reported improvement came only one day after the FAA proposed new restrictions which, if adopted, would set limits on the number of aircraft that may land within one hour at the airports serving New York, Washington and Chicago.

Other requirements as to speed, equipment and size of crew would keep most private planes and other small aircraft off the airports whenever they are experiencing any heavy flow of commercial airline traffic.

FAA will hold a public hearing Sept. 25 on the issues—the first federal restrictions ever to be applied to ease congestion at major public airports. The proposed regulations probably will go into effect around Nov. 1.

New Breed Of Nurse On Way To Provide Personal Care?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal health planners say there's a new breed of nurse on the way to provide the kind of personal home care that busy doctors have little time for.

The nurses—men and women—will need five to six years of college and university training for their roles as family health counselors.

NEW CONCEPT

Although they are to take over many of the functions doctors used to perform, the home-visiting nurses will work under the supervision of physicians.

"This new concept will take some getting used to," says Dr. Leonard D. Fenninger, director of the federal health manpower programs. But he predicts that in 10 to 20 years, visiting nurses will be "the common thing."

Public health nurses and other nurses have been functioning for years in somewhat the capacity envisioned for the new nurses.

But the new nurses would operate more independently. They would serve families or individuals as a first contact for all health problems, handling the ills they can and turning the others over to doctors.

PRACTICE

The government has contributed to two projects which have put part of the approach into practice.

One project has nurses at the University of Colorado serving as assistant pediatricians. Nurses give the youngsters in a clinic the checks and care they need, turning over to doctors only the cases they can't handle.

The second project, supported entirely by a $150,000 federal grant, was set up by the Tuskegee Institute in Tuskegee, Alabama. Nurses from the school went around rural Alabama in a mobile health unit, providing care to youngsters. The effort expanded to homes of the youngsters. Soon nurses were treating whole families.

Call Cancer Meet

STANTON (SC) — The Martin County unit of the American Cancer Society will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Cap Rock Auditorium, according to president Tom Angel. Anyone interested is invited to attend and become a member. Dr. Martha Madsen, pathologist from Midland will give a talk on cancer and will describe the different types of cancer as well as the problems of diagnosis and treatment.

SALVATION ARMY Clothing Needed

The Salvation Army has sounded an urgent appeal for clothing, to help needy youngsters get outfitted for school. Although articles for both sexes are needed, the need for boys' clothes is heading the list.

Thus far, 55 families have been helped with clothing so far, and 1,555 articles of clothing and 129 pairs of shoes have been given out at the Salvation Army post.

The post has had help from 357 persons in supplying this need. But more is needed if the requests of all are met, as the supply at the post has been almost exhausted by the heavy demand.

Persons who can help are asked to drop off usable clothing at the Salvation Army.

NEWT HIELSCHER

Co-Op Annual Meet Slated At Stanton

STANTON — Several hundred members of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative are expected here Saturday for the annual meeting of the co-op for hearing financial reports and electing three directors. There also will be a free barbecue and an address by Newt Hielscher, Shreveport, La., widely known after-dinner speaker.

The selection of two young people to receive Cap Rock scholarships to HJC will be announced. Music for the affair, starting at 7 p.m. at the high school football field, will be furnished by the Border Brass, popular young combo from Coahoma.

Cap Rock has over 6,600 members in 13 counties clustered around Howard and Martin counties.

Hielscher holds two degrees from Texas A&M University. After seven years as a school teacher, he returned to A&M and served 11 years as a professor and assistant to the dean of engineering. Facetiously, he said that after 18 years as a teacher his debt to society was paid, so he turned to life underwriting.

However, he has continued active in civic affairs, including a district governorship of Lions, in his church where he is a deacon and teacher, and in Scouting, which conferred the Silver Beaver Award on him.

Reports on highlights of finances and operations during last year will be made by O. B. Bryan, general manager. Glenn Cantrell, president, will preside.

Lubbock Firm Submits Low Bid On Boiler Job

A Lubbock firm — Anthony Construction Co., Big Spring, has submitted the low bid on renovation and modernization of the central boiler plant at Big Spring State Hospital.

Anthony's bid was for $39,700, well under the $44,800 proposed by Roundtree Co., Lubbock, only other bidder. It goes with the state building commission recommendation to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for actual award. Work involves new controls, pumps, etc.

Grand Jury Votes 19 Indictments

Howard County grand jury submitted a report, listing 19 indictments it had voted, to Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, at 9:30 p.m. Thursday. The grand jury had begun work Wednesday and spent two full days and into Thursday night working on the cases.

The grand jurors did not indict Odessa Connor, accused in the shooting death of Charlie Peterson. This was the only murder case presented.

Three men charged with assault with intent to murder — Tony Torres Jr., Bobby Torres and Eleno Chavez — were likewise not indicted. The trio was accused of firing shots at Daniel Rios.

Eugene Bennie Hatfield was indicted for murder with a motor vehicle. He was charged in the death of Buel Wayne Bragg, who died as result of a traffic mishap on Aug. 10. The crash occurred in the 2500 block on US 80 west.

David Tubb, accused of rape, was indicted on Thursday. The offense allegedly occurred Aug. 18 in a trailer house here.

The grand jurors returned two indictments against Dee Scaggs Jr., and one indictment against Praxedes Ceballos Jr., for forgery and passing. The two men were alleged to have been in-

DR. MORRIS ZIFF

Arthritis Group To Hear Ziff

Dr. Morris Ziff, program director of the Arthritis Clinical Research Center of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, will address a meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation Monday.

He is to speak at the Sands Motor Hotel, W. Highway 80 in Midland, at a 7:30 p.m. dinner. Reservations — open to anyone interested — may be made by calling the chapter office (LO 4-0221) in Midland, or writing to the office at 1204 W. Kansas in Midland 79701 by noon Saturday.

Chapter officials said they had been attempting to book Dr. Ziff since several members heard him at the regional meeting in New Orleans two years ago. He will tell about the clinic directed by the medical school staff at Parkland Hospital, kinds of treatments used, and perhaps some case histories. This is the clinic where the movie, "The Fifth Family," was filmed to tell the story of a young arthritis mother undergoing treatment.

High School Class Needs Your Help

The Big Spring High School appliance class needs your help — and perhaps they may help you.

If you have any old appliances you would like removed, just call the high school (267-2461) and ask for E. Y. Buckner, instructor.

The class needs old refrigerators, washing machines, dryers, percolators, toasters, vacuum cleaners, for use in learning appliance repair skills. Whatever the type of appliance you can give, the class will be glad to come and get it, said Buckner.

not indict Elmer Eugene Randle, who had also been charged with forgery in the case.

Johnny Leon White, charged with robbery by assault in the Aug. 30 robbery of Mrs. Aliene Evans was indicted.

Other indictments returned were:

Leo Loden, burglary; James Dean Cull, theft; Henry La Brash, two indictments for destruction of private property; Carrol W. Follis, two indictments for forgery; Edward L. Capers, indicted for felony worthless check; Rodger D. Smith, attempted robbery by assault; Harold G. Bledsoe, two indictments for theft by false pretense; Wayne Gerald Tyson, indictment for theft; Mathias Oscar Pederson, indicted for DWI second; and Elder Smith, indicted for DWI second.

The grand jurors declined to bill Charlie G. Clearly, charged with theft over $50.

CRADLE TOO SUGGESTIVE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Movie censorship has come a long way since 1969, says 85-year-old attorney Morris Wolf, who represented Philadelphia's first motion picture exhibition company before the Pennsylvania Movie Censorship Board.

"I remember the censors objected to a scene with a cradle," he said. "They said it was too suggestive, that it suggested a birth would take place. They made us take it out."

TPEA Goals Are Outlined

Workings and objectives of the Texas Public Employees Association were outlined Wednesday evening for the local chapter at its monthly meeting in the Alford Building at Big Spring State Hospital.

W. P. Watts, Austin, executive director of TPEA, reviewed accomplishments of the last legislature and projected the program for the January session. He also touched on responsibilities of TPEA members as citizens.

L. K. Miller, business manager of the hospital, was presented with his 40-year pin. Miller also introduced Watts to the group of some 150 persons who had gathered for the covered dish dinner.

Entertainment was supplied by the Border Brass of Coahoma, and Roy Blackwell, president, introduced Roy Thurston, Garden City, who served as master of ceremonies. The next meeting will be Oct. 2.

Die-Hard Bunch Pushing McCarthy

By The Associated Press

Die-hard supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy are pushing for fourth-party slots on the ballots of several states, despite McCarthy's removal of his name as fast as it gets on some ballots.

An Associated Press survey shows McCarthy backers are working hardest in 12 states. The push was successful in Indiana and Iowa, but McCarthy asked that his name be stricken.

The threat of a fourth-party drive drawing disenchanted voters from the regular parties was compounded Thursday by the defection of a second Southern governor from the Democratic ticket.

Gov. John Bell Williams said he and the Mississippi delegation rejected by the Democratic convention would support third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana denounced the Democratic ticket earlier, although he stopped short of a formal endorsement for Wallace.

Wallace was resting in Miami Beach, Fla., today. Richard M. Nixon, the only touring presidential campaigner for the moment, hopped across the country, receiving exuberant, sizeable receptions in San Francisco and Santa Clara University in California.

Democratic Presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey was at his Waverly, Minn., summer home, where he told questioning newsmen he doesn't agree that Nixon has the best chance of ending the Vietnam war.

New TLCB Boss Jokes About Duties

AUSTIN (AP) — Jokingly comparing his new duties with those at the Democratic National convention in Chicago, Tom Gordon became chairman of the troubled Texas Liquor Control Board Thursday.

Gordon, an Abilene lawyer who is part of Gov. John Connally's inner circle in Democratic party affairs, took over the chairman's gavel from W. D. Noel of Odessa, a 16-year board veteran.

With members Alfred Negley of San Antonio and O. R. Crawford of Jasper, Gordon sat through a briefing in which all LCB division heads explained their operations.

"Anybody who can go through what Alfred and I did in Chicago can handle the liquor board," Gordon laughed as the meeting closed. Gordon was a delegate and carried Connally's fight to retain the unit rule before the rules committee, only to meet defeat on the convention floor.

The board did not act on one of its most pressing orders of business — appointment of a permanent administrator. O. N. Humphreys Jr., assistant administrator, has held the top job on an interim basis since Coke Stevenson Jr. resigned six months ago.

Want To Try Out For Stage Band?

Young people who play an instrument or who would like to sing in the choir are urged to try out for the stage band and the choir at HJC next week.

John Stanley, head of the music department, said that he would have a music desk set up in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building at HJC Wednesday, Thursday and Friday when students were registering.

Arrangements will be made to audition instrumentalists and vocalists who make inquiry. The stage band was activated last year, and Stanley hopes to enlarge it this season. New costumes will be provided. He also is aiming at a substantially larger choir than last year.

OIL REPORT

Howard County Stepout Flows

Logue and Patterson, Inc. of Corpus Christi No. 1 Gilbert C. Wright Estate, northwest Howard County prospector, flowed at the estimated rate of 216 barrels per hour on a brief drill test in the Cisco zone of the Pennsylvania today.

The stepout promises to become the second well in the Modesta (South Cisco) pool. It is a location north of the opener and only producer in the pool.

The tool was open 25 minutes on the test of the interval between 8,889-8,901. Gas surfaced in two minutes and oil in 20 minutes. In the next five minutes the well flowed at the estimated rate of 216 barrels of 43-gravity oil per hour.

Initial shut in bottomhole pressure after one hour was 3,517 pounds. The flowing pressure (on one report) was 677 pounds, and the final shut in pressure (no time specified) was 3,497 pounds.

The 4½-inch string has been set at 8,900 feet and the venture will try for completion.

Earlier it had tested the Cisco zone from 8,871-8,886 with the tool open 1 hour, 35 minutes. Gas surfaced in nine minutes and oil in 1 hour, 43 minutes. After the tool was closed, recovery was estimated at a trace comparable to production from lower zones. The 30-minute shut in pressure was 3,466 pounds, the flowing pressure 204 to 1,060 pounds, and the final shut in pressure, after 40 minutes was 3,497.

The venture is located 15 miles northwest of Big Spring and is 1,980 from the north and 990 from the west lines of section 32-33-23N, T&P.

Two wells have been completed in this area, one a Spraberry Trend venture in Martin County and the other a small Wolfcamp discovery in Mitchell County.

John L. Cox of Midland No. 1 Choate, 1,500 from the south and 660 from the east lines of section 25-35-1N, T&P, seven miles northeast of Stanton, completed in the Spraberry. Total depth was 8,300 with the 4½-inch, string set at 8,295. It was perforated from 7,658-8,237 and fraced with 90,000 gallons. Initial pumping production was 235 barrels of 40-gravity oil with no water. Gas-oil ratio was 825-1.

In a southwestern Mitchell County, 15 miles south of Iatan, King Resources Co. No. 1 Ellwood, completed for eight barrels of water from the Wolfcamp. The venture was taken over from Tyra, Tyra and King Resources, which plugged at 8,511 on Feb. 17, 1968. King Resources plugged back to 8,333 and set the 4½-inch string at 8,300, then perforated from 6,128-6,600, from 6,232-6,440 and 6,520-6,700. The gas-oil ratio was 1,750-1. Operator traced with 60,000 gallons and 72,000 pounds of sand. Location is 660 from the south and 1,980 from the east lines of section 30-1 SPRR.

LOCATIONS

HOWARD Wood, McShane & Thoms, Monahan, No. 2-WT G. O. Chalk, has installed an impact well at 2,250 feet in the Howard-Glasscock (Glorietta) field, 1,171 feet from the north and 10 feet from the west line, 114-29-W&NW, one mile east of Chalk. It is a twin to No. 2-W Chalk which will be plugged and abandoned.

Continental Oil Co. No. 45 W. R. Sells has plugged back an oil well in the Howard-Glasscock (Glorietta) field. It has presently completed at 4,915 feet in the Wolfcamp pool and will be plugged back to 4,300 feet. It's located 660 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the east lines, 132-29-W&NW, three miles west of Fortson.

Agnew Lashes Chicago's Antiwar Demonstrators

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Spiro Agnew, emphasizing law and order, has told a group of young people that militant minorities among them are involved in unconscious anarchism. Lashing out at some antiwar demonstrators in Chicago recently during the Democratic convention, the Republican vice presidential nominee charged that "all they can do is lay down in the park and sleep or kick policemen with razor blades." The Maryland governor spoke Thursday to Young Republicans in York, Pa., and then came here.

HIPS AND YIPPS

"Who is going to succeed to the responsibilities of operating the businesses, the industries, the government, the transportation systems, everything that needs to be kept up to keep us functioning as a civilized society, unless the young people are trained and accept the responsibilities that they must take on ultimately?" Agnew said.

"If you tell me that the hippies and the yippies are going to be able to do the job, I'll tell you this. They can't run a bus, they can't serve in a governmental office, they can't run a lathe in a factory. All they can do is lay down in a park and sleep or kick policemen with razor blades."

"This does not mean that I have lost my faith in the young people of this country. It simply means that I refuse to recognize a militant minority of the people in the colleges as the young people who are available to do the jobs of government."

"A small minority of these people are involved in what I might term unconscious anarchy."

LET'S STOP

"And it's people like you," Agnew added, "who are willing to reject summarily, out of hand, what's going on in these places throughout the world — and it's not just in the United States and much of it is Communist inspired as you and I know — you are doing the greatest service to your country that you can do."

The governor said he was not against young people. "I wanted to do a lot of silly things when I was your age, but my parents wouldn't let me," he said. "And let me tell you something. When I grew older, I was very glad they didn't."

"So let's stop wasting public dollars buying off the militants." Earlier Thursday, Agnew told the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Washington that the only solution to urban slums and hardcore unemployment was the development of satellite cities.

'NO COMMANDER WILL EVER ADMIT HE HAS TOO MANY TRIGGER-PULLERS'

U.S. Troops Could Be Axed Without Losing The War?

SAIGON (AP) — How soon can the half million American troops in Vietnam begin turning the burden of the war over to the Vietnamese military and start going home?

The prevailing Saigon view-point sees this goal realized only years from now unless a settlement is negotiated. The arming of the Vietnamese with more than 200,000 M16 automatic rifles, half of them already delivered, is seen as the initial phase of a long rebuilding process.

RIGHT NOW
And yet because of the peculiar way the Vietnam war is being fought, particularly the general acceptance that military victory in the classical sense is unreachable because of the war's "limits," there is an about $30 billion this year—as other viewpoint that suggests

American boys can start moving out right now without any appreciable military injury.

Just as another quarter of a million American troops brought into Vietnam would not necessarily win the war, many believe the converse applies: A quarter of a million troops pulled out would not necessarily lose it.

Civilian and military viewpoints on the prospects do not necessarily coincide, but the view that American force levels could and should be reduced has already been placed in circulation in the top government levels in Washington, according to senior Americans here. Its proponents see the war's costs—about $30 billion this year—as the major irritant within the United States over Vietnam.

PACIFICATION
Some Americans here believe that a phased reduction of U.S. troops could begin immediately, paring the number to 200,000 by 1972. One of the proponents is John P. Vann, an influential and knowledgeable regional director of the U.S.-backed pacification program.

Vann would cut deeply into the elaborate military structure built by the former commander of U.S. troops and now chief of staff of the Army, Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

The U.S. high command jealously guards its establishment in Vietnam. Vann admits his proposal is provocative—"It would need a hard-headed secretary of defense to push it through."

JOHN P. VANN

are against pulling out any American troops in the foreseeable future. Lt. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell, commander of the area that includes the battle-scarred demilitarized zone, comments:

"No troop commander will ever admit he has too many trigger-pullers." Certainly it is a tenet among commanders that they need as much manpower as is necessary to accomplish the missions assigned them.

American efforts in Vietnam presumably are based on the assumption that Vietnamese will eventually take over the defense burden, but critics see the opposite taking place in some areas. Around Saigon, for example, the continuous threat of a major enemy attack has tempted the U.S. command to insist upon a greater voice in security than is normally the case.

"We could nursemaid the Vietnamese army forever," one civilian official commented.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, is "showing considerably less patience for high-level excuses than did Westy," according to one official close to him. Abrams believes that real progress in Vietnam can be made only by the Vietnamese, and has told them so. Vietnamese "officers know that the honeymoon with the U.S. is over—they must fish or cut bait," said one official.

MUST SHOW
To avert what might turn out to be a complete rejection of the war by the U.S. public, Vann said, a planned reduction of U.S. forces would be a necessity. "We have to show them that this thing can end," he said.

He would go about the reduction by partly dismantling the elaborate military structure erected by Gen. Westmoreland.

"The first 100,000 Americans to leave would be for free," Vann declared. "They are the clerks, the laundrymen, the engineers, the building officers' clubs throughout the country. So many extraneous things are soaking up people not essential."

In Vann's view, infantry divisions should be limited to one base camp each instead of several (the 1st Division has five base camps). Each base camp generally requires one battalion of infantrymen to secure, meaning that as much as one third of the trigger-pullers in each of the 11 American infantry divisions are standing guard duty.

STAY LONGER

Restricted to one base camp, U.S. troops would be required to stay out in the field longer, and walk more, particularly if fewer helicopters were used, another Vann recommendation to save the taxpayers money.

In the 3rd Corps area there are 900 helicopters, each using 3,600 pounds of fuel per day. Others who agree with Vann's viewpoint believe that vast quantities of ammunition are used unnecessarily, particularly in the "searching by fire" tactic wherein a unit moves into an area spraying gunfire in front of it. There are also critics of the constant B52 raids that rattle cities every night. "Those raids cost half a million dollars apiece," one official commented. "I know of at least half a dozen raids where an infantry squad would have been better advised to check out the area—at one thousandth of the cost."

Those here who see a U.S. planned withdrawal as possible say they have no intention of selling out the Vietnamese. "I think that taking over the burden of the war is within their capability," Vann said. "Things are looking up, not enough but some. But as we phased out our troops, at some time we might have to make a value judgment, particularly if the other side was benefiting from our withdrawal."

TAKING OVER
Some Vietnamese units have already taken over from Americans. The four-craft swiftboat unit at Phuoc Quoc Island is now all Vietnamese. The Vietnamese navy has taken over responsibility for manning eight coastal patrol stations.

Vietnamese minesweepers clear the important Dong Nai River each day. The Vietnamese air force now has a squadron of UH1B (Huey) helicopters, and a squadron of Vietnamese F5 Freedom Fighter jets has flown 5,000 combat missions in the past year.

Vietnamese also are taking over an increasing number of Special Forces camps in the highlands, and the Vietnamese army is moving in to some places, such as the Bong Son Plain, that American divisions once policed.

Awarding M16 Contracts Intended To Speed War End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army methods of awarding contracts for stepped up production of the M16 rifle were intended to hasten an end to the Vietnam war, says Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford in answer to congressional critics.

The defense chief said Thursday avoidance of competitive bidding was legal and was necessary to rush the weapons into the hands of South Vietnamese soldiers.

The United States is supplying South Vietnamese with thousands of the lightweight M16s each month hoping eventually to let them handle most of the fighting.

"The M16 rifle is not only the best shoulder gun today, it has become a symbol to the South Vietnamese forces," Clifford told the National Press Club.

"If a South Vietnamese soldier has an M16, then, by God, he's on top of the heap. He knows he has a better weapon than the enemy."

A Senate investigating subcommittee earlier this week assailed the Army for awarding contracts last April without competitive bidding to the General Motors Corp. for a ceiling price of $58.3 million and to Harrington & Richardson for a ceiling of $41.5 million.

LOWER BIDS
It criticized the Army for failing to consider lower bids by Maremont Corp. of Saco, Maine and Cadillac Gage.

The Army's explanation has been that the two companies cars driven by Eddie Coy-Neer which won the M16 business were in better position to produce them faster.

Production of the M16 has reached 35,000 to 40,000 a month now, Clifford said, and will go higher.

"We're going to have them up to 50,000 or 60,000, and we are going to save a substantial amount of money because that's going to help us end the war more quickly—and every day we save in the war, we save an amount far more than what it would cost us to get this advanced additional production on the part of the M16.

Barber's Poll To Hike Costs?

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — A barber is conducting his own presidential preference poll "to see if a poll has to be scientific to be right."

Reuben Moreno placed a locked ballot box in his shop Thursday. After each haircut, a voting-age customer may cast a ballot for his presidential favorite, Moreno said.

The results will be posted Nov. 1, he said, four days before the Nov. 5 election.

Minor Wrecks

Only three minor accidents were investigated by Big Spring police Thursday.

Cars driven by Betty Dalton, 1501 Johnson, and Mrs. Wayne Henry, 1306 Stadium, collided at 10:46 a.m. Thursday at 403 E. 6th.

Montie Draper Foster, Colorado City, and Gary Lanis Phillips, 908½ Ayford, were in cars which collided at 11 a.m. in the College Park Shopping Center parking lot.

At 3:19 p.m. Thursday in the First National Bank parking lot, cars driven by Eddie Coy-Neer, Knott, and Frank Cortinez, Southland Apartments, collided.

what does a fourth grader know about eyestrain?

Probably nothing... and yet eyestrain directly affects a child's ability to learn. Most students receive a vision test at school, but such tests do not always reveal deficiencies. You can be sure that your child sees properly by having his eyes examined by a TSO Doctor of Optometry. At TSO a professional eye examination includes a study of the history of the eyes and visual symptoms; an internal eye examination for evidence of disease or defect; then a subjective examination for visual abnormalities such as astigmatism, muscle imbalance and near or farsightedness. If glasses are needed, the fee for TSO professional eye care is most reasonable. The examination, finest quality single vision lenses and frame are as low as $16.00. Single vision contact lenses are just $75.00 complete with examination and fittings. If desired, there is a convenient credit plan at no additional cost. Take your child to TSO, soon.

Clifford Hints Climate 'Cool' For Soviet Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford says the United States must toughen its negotiating position toward Russia by pushing missile development and defense.

Clifford also came out strongly for keeping "a significant American military presence in Western Europe," which feels threatened by the concentration of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia.

TOUGHENING UP

The defense chief's statements before the National Press Club were among several developments Thursday to indicate a toughening attitude since the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Clifford said recent developments confirm that "when and if we negotiate, safety and success demand that we negotiate from strength."

Clifford indicated that he believes the climate may not be right for the arms control talks which the Soviet Union has agreed to.

"We can continue to hope that, at an appropriate time, these talks can take place," he said.

Clifford appeared at the Press Club luncheon after a series of high level policy discussions, including a session of the National Security Council chaired by President Johnson.

Those sessions weighed the implications of Russia's reversion to a hard line, and possible action the United States might take at the diplomatic and military level to shore up Western defenses.

FLIGHT AXED

There were the related developments:

—Citing the Czech situation, the State Department announced cancellation of a tour of Russia by the University of

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Pushes Missiles

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford, addressing the National Press Club in Washington yesterday, says the United States must toughen its negotiating stance with the Soviet Union by pushing development of missiles and defense. He stressed development of the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile system.

Minnesota concert band and a second ceremonial flight marking the start of commercial air service between New York and Moscow.

—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, commenting after a White House meeting, said there was a possibility the Senate will not act this year on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

—The State Department branded as "indecent and outrageous" attacks in the Soviet press which said the Atlantic Alliance had planned to take over Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

Clifford announced that "in the light of all current developments our prudent course is to press forward as planned with the Sentinel" antimissile system.

DEFENSE CUT

Pentagon officials, searching for possible savings to meet congressional demands for a $3-billion defense spending cut this year, had considered delaying a start on the Sentinel for some months.

But Clifford disclosed he had ordered that the $5-billion Sentinel system be exempt from any such economy cuts.

Some critics have contended that the United States should ease off on missile development and put off deploying the Sentinel to avoid triggering a new round in the arms race with Russia.

The Sentinel antimissile system is designed to guard the United States against a relatively small nuclear attack such as Red China might be able to mount in the mid 1970's.

Some senators and military men have proposed that the Sentinel be expanded into a much heavier defense against sophisticated Soviet missiles. Estimated cost of such a heavy defense would be about $40 billion, and civilian analysts claim it would not be effective enough to prevent millions of American deaths.

PUEBLO SNAG

While opposing any drastic reduction of the 300,000 American servicemen in Western Europe, Clifford implied that the NATO countries should take another look at their policies toward NATO. He did not say so, but few NATO countries have met their troop commitments to the alliance.

On other subjects, Clifford said:

The expected third round North Vietnamese and Viet Cong offensive in South Vietnam may be under way.

—There is very little progress in U.S.-North Korean negotiations in which the United States is trying to win release of the 82 crewmen of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo.

He Waves To Relatives After Heart Transplant

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at Methodist Hospital said a Texas toolmaker who became this city's 12th heart transplant recipient continued to make excellent progress today.

James Elbert Singleton, 47, of Fort Worth, was able to wave to his family outside his room some 12 hours after he received the heart of a 17-year old boy Thursday. Doctors also scheduled him to sit up in bed during the night.

Singleton's donor was Paul C. Mason of Long Beach, Calif., who died of injuries received in a motorcycle accident last Monday in California.

JET FLIGHT

The youth was flown here Wednesday night from Long Beach in a private jet. Mason's family had made the decision to donate the heart after being advised the boy had irreparable brain damage.

After the family contacted Dr. Michael DeBakey, internationally known cardiovascular surgeon, by telephone, arrangements were made for a private jet and a surgeon to go to California and transfer the youth to Houston.

Hundreds Of Teachers Continue Fall Strikes

By The Associated Press

A threatened teachers' strike in Philadelphia has been averted but hundreds of teachers elsewhere in the nation continue walkouts that have delayed the opening of the fall term.

Any hopes for an extended vacation among 290,000 Philadelphia school children were dashed Thursday when the city put together a $27.6 million wage package to avert a strike by the 12,500 teachers.

'SICK' TUTORS

Under the new two-year pact, salaries go up $1,800 to give beginning teachers $6,700 at the start and pushing the top wage to $13,200. The fall term opens today.

In Michigan where schools were scheduled to open earlier this week, 11 school districts serving almost 64,000 youngsters remained closed due to teachers' strikes.

Today's scheduled registration for 14,000 children in the Montgomery County-Clarksville, Tenn., system was postponed until further notice with 500 teachers out on strike over school budget cuts.

In East Chicago, Ind., a strike by nearly 500 teachers enters its third day. Six of the city's 13 schools were closed again Thursday and less than 50 percent of the 100,000 pupils showed up. All but about 2,100 were sent home.

In East Chicago Heights, Ill., 49 of the district's 70 teachers called in sick Thursday and an attorney for the board declared it was "impossible for that many teachers to be sick at the same time."

A court injunction was obtained ordering the teachers back to work immediately but there were no indications as to whether they would comply.

INJUNCTION

An injunction was issued in Rhode Island directing Cumberland teachers end a two-day boycott and report to classrooms today. A lawyer for the Cumberland Teachers Association said its members would comply.

The judge also ordered the Cumberland School Committee to meet with the 250-member association. Only 60 teachers showed up Thursday but the town's 13 schools opened briefly for 5,500 students.

Teachers in East Haven, Conn., did not report Thursday and were not expected in the classroom again today. The dispute involves about 200 teachers in 14 public schools with 6,000 students.

In New York City, where the United Federation of Teachers threatens a strike next Monday, school supervisors voted to shut the schools "for the safety of the children" in the event of a walkout.

Eggers Backs Teacher Pools

AUSTIN (AP) — Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for governor, made his proposals Thursday for Texas education—the largest single expense of our state government.

He said 49 cents of every state dollar goes to education. However, he said, this is where Texas stands: 31st in educational attainment, 42nd in preventing high school drop-outs and 42nd in literacy.

"Finally," he said, "No other state has more illiterates than does Texas."

Eggers, a Wichita Falls, lawyer, mixed in some political comments at a Capitol news conference, along with discussion of some educational proposals.

He said the recent democratic presidential ticket of vice president Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Edmund Muskie "should help Mr. Nixon immeasurably in the state of Texas."

However, he said, "I don't see any great, immense coat-tail effect for my own candidacy, although it can't but help to some extent."

Move To Saturate Homes With Bibles Picking Up

A movement to saturate every home in the state with a Bible printed in popular English or Spanish is gaining momentum in Dallas with an announcement by sponsoring Baptists that they will distribute more than one million copies next spring.

To facilitate the Texas Baptist mass Bible distribution plan, Dr. T. A. Patterson said some 4,000 churches are being "offered an opportunity to purchase modern English and Spanish translations of the New Testament at a greatly reduced cost."

Patterson is executive secretary of the 1.8 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The mass distribution of Scriptures has been under development for the past two years, Patterson said. It is part of the overall theme of the convention, "The Bible — Foundation for Ministry," which emphasizes a return to Bible study by all peoples, he said.

The plan was officially endorsed earlier this year by the convention's 192-member executive board which followed earlier meetings with the of "Good News for Modern Man" and "Dios Llega Al Hombre," published by the American Bible Society. Both versions have received popular acceptance with over 10 million copies of the English version having been sold since it first appeared in print in 1966.

STARTING SUNDAY

Rev. Hall To Lead Baptist Temple Revival

The Rev. R. B. Hall Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church at Littlefield, will lead the revival at Baptist Temple, 400 Eleventh Place, starting Sunday and continuing through the week.

Daily services will be held at 7:30 p.m., and Rev. Hall will also organize a Junior Revival Club, for youngsters between 9-12 years, which will meet at 7 p.m. daily.

Before taking the pastorate of the Littlefield Church in July, 1967, Rev. Hall was director of public relations at Wayland Baptist College, after serving there as director of student recruiting.

He had served as associate pastor of the First Baptist Church, at Altus, Okla., for more than a year and was interim pastor at Edmondson, Tex., seven months. He has also served churches at Quanah, Merkel and Eastland, all in Texas, and in Frederick, Okla.

He attended high school in Big Spring, and is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

In 1966, he and his wife participated in a pulpit exchange with the pastor of the Kingston Baptist Church, near London, England. They recently returned from a tour of Europe and the Holy Lands, sponsored by Wayland Baptist College.

Mrs. Hall is the former Helen Taylor, of Eastland, a graduate of Baylor University. The couple has three youngsters.

Ancient Water Being Saved

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Water from Antarctica, snow and ice dating back to the time Jesus Christ was born is going to be sent to the Vatican.

Ice taken from McMurdo Sound in Operation Deep Freeze and analyzed by scientists of the National Science Foundation was melted at the U.S. Naval Academy science laboratory.

Three blocks of ice in five-foot sections weighed 130 pounds and yielded 15 gallons of water. A portion of the water will be sent to the Vatican while another portion will be placed in the Naval Academy Chapel. Another portion of the water is to be mixed with water from the seven seas at the academy which is used during a ring dipping ceremony by midshipmen.

As the ice melted, Rear Adm. James W. Kelly, chief of naval chaplains, prayed, "Lord, we are grateful for all you have given us as we watch the melting of snow that fell the year our Lord was born. We know that was a joyful year."

Drilling at Byrd Station began in 1966 and ended last January when Navy scientists hit bedrock at 7,100 feet below the station.

Rear Adm. James L. Abbot, chief of the Navy task force which supports national science foundation project, explained how the ice was extracted.

The ice was pulled out in a 15-foot section which later was cut into three sections. Abbot said scientists dated the ice by counting layers formed during summer thaws and by radiation measuring methods.

Scientists found that one layer was formed the year Jesus was born, according to Dr. T. O. Jones, an Antarctic scientist.

The ice was shipped to Baltimore aboard the U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker West Wind, stored in Washington and taken to Annapolis by car to be melted.

Seminary Classes Sign Up 20

The Seminary Extension Center, at Baptist Temple Church, has signed up 20 persons taking 24 courses, and at least 10 more are expected.

Persons interested may sign up during the next six weeks for the 18 weeks of classes. Next session is set for Tuesday, and two-hour classes begin at 7 p.m. Those wanting more information may contact the Rev. James Puckett, pastor.

New 'Word' Implications

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —According to the Canadian philosopher Marshall McLuhan, the spoken word gave way to the written word, but now "we are leaving the age of printing and passing into the age of electronic communications."

CONFESSION AND REPENTANCE IS THE WAY TO RESTORATION

Disobedience to the laws of God will bring distress in due season, and the way to restoration of fellowship with God is through confession and repentance.

This was the message that Nehemiah read to the Jewish people about 440 B.C. as they gathered by the water gate near the Temple in Jerusalem. The story is detailed in the Scripture for the Sunday school lesson, Neh. 8-10.

For one thing, the people, now subject to foreign powers, finally admitted "we are in great distress." They were at last hungry for God's word and stood while Nehemiah read and priests explained some of the passages. It is tremendously important that the Word be read "distinctly" and with understanding. This is a responsibility of preachers and teachers today.

As Nehemiah read, the people felt a deep sense of conviction for their sins — for the Word of God clearly pointed this out. Their list of transgressions was long, "nevertheless" God was just to hear their confessions. They were led by this experience to make a new covenant with God and each other. America may not be in the same position as the Jews as a chosen people, but America certainly has been blessed in a special way. Thus, we stand in need of self-appraisal in the light of the Word to see if we are being more concerned with things than the One who has given us the things.

Revival Set At Airport Baptist

A revival will be held at the Airport Baptist Church Sept. 15-22 with the Rev. Calvin Partain, pastor of the First Baptist Church of O'Donnell, as evangelist.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. each day, and there will be two speakers at each service from Monday through Friday.

Sharing the pulpit with Rev. Partain each day will be the Rev. Leslie Vetto, pastor of the Knott Baptist Church, on Monday; the Rev. Melvin Montgomery, pastor of Mt. Bethel Baptist Church, Big Spring, Tuesday; the Rev. Eldon Cook, Big Spring, Wednesday; the Rev. L. B. Edwards, pastor of Westbrook Baptist Church, Westbrook, Thursday; and the

Previews Of Budget Set

Texas Baptists are getting sneak previews of their convention's $13.5 million proposed budget before it reaches the second step towards final approval in early November by messengers to the annual convention in Fort Worth.

Sixteen regional meetings authorized by the executive board of the 1.8 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas have been planned for pre-convention cooperative program discussions prior to Sept. 19.

Convention president, Dr. Gordon Cline, pastor, First Baptist Church, San Angelo, is heading a delegation of speakers including Dr. Cecil Ray, director, BGCT stewardship division; Dr. B. J. Martin, chairman, BGCT executive board and pastor, South Main Baptist Church, Pasadena; Dr. T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; and the Rev. Ed B. Bowles, pastor Green Acres Baptist Church, Tyler, and chairman, BGCT program coordinating committee.

Purpose of the meetings, according to Dr. Cecil Ray, director of the stewardship division, "is to discuss the 1968 proposed budget to understand the needs and opportunities and to see the type of response required to achieve the missions goals." The meetings are the first of their kind.

Ray added that the meetings are held in conveniently located centers so each church can send representatives. Meetings are designed for area missionaries, pastors, church stewardship chairmen, treasurers and finance committee chairmen.

September meetings will be held in San Angelo, Sept. 3; Waco, Sept. 10; Beaumont, Sept. 17; Austin, Sept. 16; Fort Worth, Sept. 17; and Tyler, Sept. 19. Meetings in August were in Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Lubbock, Houston, San Antonio, Midland, El Paso, Dallas, Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

Churches Send Food To Biafrans

NEW YORK — Five tons of Church World Service donated food and medical supplies are on their way to 13,000 Biafrans penned inside blockaded Eastern Nigeria.

Other shipments of CROP split beans (276,000 pounds) and additional medical and hospital materials (1,213 pounds) sailed for Lagos, Nigeria, from New York.

CWS contributions to Biafra and Nigeria refugees now total approximately $250,000 CWS has previously sent several hundred thousand dollars worth of food and medicines to refugees within the warring nations. The five tons of food and medicine were flown to Biafra aboard a World Council of Churches charter flight.

A shipment of 500 tons of stockfish (dried) donated by the Norwegian churches was recently delivered to Fernando Poo island and is being shuttled into Biafra for distribution.

Some 3,000 tons of food, medicines and other relief materials donated by voluntary agencies are presently only a few hours transportation distance from starving Biafrans. Another 1,700 tons of supplies are stockpiled in Lagos. All the food and materials are immovable until the officials of Biafra and Nigeria agree on an acceptable

Baptists To Meet Monday

The Big Spring Baptist Association will have its regular monthly meeting at 7:15 p.m. Monday at Stadium Baptist. The program will feature a presentation, "Our State Missions Program," by Mrs. Shirley Fryar, associational WMU president.

The executive board, in its 6 p.m. meeting, will consider a proposed budget of $13,601. This is up by about 30 per cent from the current year principally because of the creation of a new area relationship with the Concho Baptist Association. This entails the employment of an area director, who would correspond somewhat to the missionary under the former district setup which has been inoperative for several years.

Annual meeting of the association is set for Oct. 14-15 at Crestview Baptist Church. The Rev. Mack Alexander, pastor of Central Baptist, will bring the sermon and Dr. James Basden will be the guest speaker.

Where the Fish Are

Granddad loves to fish. Secretly, I think he likes to talk about it equally as well. He spends hours with his friends arguing the pros and cons of "angling." The other day I overheard a lengthy controversy about the best place to fish. Granddad ended the whole matter with these words of wit and wisdom, "If you ask me, the best spot to fish is out there where the fish are—so let's get going!"

This special brand of humor greatly appealed to all of his friends and it remained in my mind long after they had left. It seemed to answer those nature lovers who claim that they can worship God out of doors as well as in church. For certainly, the best spot to worship God is where God is.

Worship means not only moments of adoration and praise but also thoughts channeled toward God. The Church has the living presence of the Lord and inspires spiritual thoughts through hymn, prayer and litany.

Yes, the best place to lift up the heart is in the house of God.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

When Aramis (Tito) Arencibia, the one-time professional baseball thrower, succeeded in getting his five brothers and a sister into this country from Cuba, that should have proved accomplishment enough for any one mortal.

With Tito and his wife, that was all right for starters. Together, though, they have lent assistance to no fewer than 21 families who had wanted to flee Castro's enmity and isle. Still, requests come regularly to Arencibia from individuals who are trapped on the Caribbean atoll or else marking time at way stations in between.

One of the most recent appeals came from Madrid, Spain, where ex-Big Spring infielder Al Costa—having shaken the Havana dust from his suitcase—sits waiting for passage to this country, living on hope and diminishing assets. It will be November, at the earliest, before Costa will be allowed to depart Madrid, even if he can find the where-withal.

Some of Arencibia's people have made their way to America through Spain. Others have waited for the airlift. A brother, Carlos, was intrepid enough to climb aboard a small boat with a few friends and wait in hopes a friendly vessel would scoop them from the sea or else the tides would bring them to the U.S. The group eventually was sighted by Americans off Brownsville.

Carlos is now working in a handbag factory in Miami as is another brother, Erasmas. Raul Arencibia, who came in by way of Spain, toils in a Miami shoe store. Brother Orestes is employed as a carpenter there.

Latest to land in America was Eliezer, who is a male nurse and who shouldn't have any trouble finding employment in this country.

Tito's sister, Nereida Muniz, lives with her husband, Vincent, in New York City where the husband is a film developer.

The Arencibias are modest about the many times they have taken the roles of the Good Samaritans. They won't say what they've invested in Operation Bootstrap but the figure isn't too far removed from five figures.

Even though the work has been expensive for the Arencibias, it has been rewarding in many other ways for them. It is an enriching experience to be able to offer a helping hand to so many individuals, take it from Tito. Many Cubans grateful for the assistance extended by Arencibia write him regularly.

And when they settle down to become responsible citizens in this country, Arencibia feels he is repaying, in part, a nation that has been so good to him.

At one time, Tito's brother, Raul, was in charge of the palace guard in Havana with the rank of lieutenant in the Cuban Army. In those days, the army had the same job police departments in American cities now have, that of maintaining order in the cities.

The Arencibia family was and remains very close and any one of them could be counted upon to do what Tito started. It so happened that, because of his ability as a baseball player, he was the first one to come to this country.

The patriarch of the clan lives with one of the brothers in Miami. The mother died in Cuba several years ago.

Linda Cathey, the diminutive Big Spring swimmer who visited Mexico City recently, said that Americans who had qualified for the Olympic Games should take every advantage of training in high altitudes or suffer the consequences.

On three occasions, Linda was leading races at 75 yards only to give out before the finish of the events — and Miss Cathey invariably stays in good physical condition.

There are five Texans on the varsity football team at the University of Missouri, one of whom is Sam Adams of Midland Lee.

Adams is a 199-pound junior guard. He'll likely be a starter this fall.

Tigers Scrimmage Bulldogs Tonight

SNYDER — The Midland Bulldogs will scrimmage the Snyder Tigers in Midland Friday night. The workout starts about 7:30 p.m.

Snyder opens its season next Friday in a District 3-AAA game against Lubbock Dunbar.

Wayne Tyrone, head coach at Snyder, said the situation at the tackle positions on the Midland club are causing him the greatest concern, since they will be manned by underclassmen.

Tony Breedlove, former resident of Big Spring, and Dennis Carlton are currently manning the position for Snyder.

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Bengtson rated a bonus after masterminding Green Bay's dynamic defense for nine National Football League seasons.

So Vince Lombardi gave him the Packers' high-powered offense too.

Coach Bengtson plans to express his gratitude this winter by presenting ex-coach Lombardi with an unprecedented fourth straight NFL championship. General Manager Lombardi will settle for nothing less.

Jim Dooley, Chicago's defensive genius for the past two seasons and successor to Papa Bear George Halas as head coach this year, has other ideas. But the brawny Bears likely will have to settle for the runner-up spot in the Central Division.

The Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts, who won every game they had to last year—except one, figure to slug it out for the Coastal Division crown again, with the Rams rated a slim choice to repeat.

Here's how the Western Conference races could wind up:

- Central
1. Green Bay
 2. Chicago
 3. Detroit
 4. Minnesota
- Coastal
1. Los Angeles
 2. Baltimore
 3. San Francisco
 4. Atlanta

Green Bay's Central Division foes won't miss Lombardi, who has given up his dual role of general manager-coach to concentrate on front office business. Before the season ends, they'll probably wish the boss had offered a desk job to quarterback Bart Starr.

The peerless play-caller, who has led the Packers to five league titles and two Super Bowl triumphs during the nine-year Lombardi era, could be headed for a peak season. He missed all or part of six games in 1967 with injuries, but took charge in the big money playoffs against Los Angeles, Dallas and Oakland.

Like the Bears, Detroit will be formidable on defense. The Lions unveiled two rookie standouts—running back Mel Farr and defensive back Lem Barney—in 1967 and are counting on ex-Los Angeles quarterback Bill Munson to make the attack go.

With Alex Karras up front, the Lions' defense won't be pushed around by anyone.

Minnesota hopes to break its two-year lease on the Central cellar behind quarterback Gary Cuozzo, picked up from New Orleans, and an improving young defensive unit. But there are too many superior clubs in their path.

The Rams scored more points and yielded less than any NFL team last year on the way to an 11-1-2 finish. The emergence of Roman Gabriel as a winning quarterback and the ferocity of the Fearsome Foursome—Deacon Jones, Lamar Lundy, Merlin Olsen and Roger Brown—carried them past everyone but Green Bay, a 28-7 victory in the Western title game.

The Colts, triggered by the incomparable Johnny Unitas, were unbeatable for 13 games last year—then fell to the Rams in their Coastal finale at Los Angeles. If Timmy Brown, obtained in a deal with Philadelphia, runs to daylight and last year's casualties, including big Bubba Smith, bounce back, there could be no stopping the 1968 herd.

San Francisco, caught in the middle of the Baltimore-Los Angeles battle royal last year, might make the upcoming race But the Falcons dipped to 1-12-1 a three-way affair if new Coach Dick Nolan finds the depth he's been looking for in the 49ers' offensive and defensive lines.

Atlanta won three games from scratch out a couple of upsets in 1966, its first year in the NFL but looking ahead to 1969.

Except for one mystery, the Frogs appear offensively sound and capable of contending for a Southwest Conference title once again.

CARTER, FAY VIE

The question mark comes at quarterback, where Taylor's hopes ride with Dan Carter and Ted Fay, both of whom lettered last year as sophomores.

The quarterback situation has been a dreary one for several years.

"But I'm confident one of these boys is going to come around and do a good job for us," Taylor said. He also mentioned sophomore Busty Underwood, a good passer, as a prospect.

TCU operates from the proset and "I" formations with variations. The emphasis is on the running attack. Besides Montgomery and Bulach, the Frogs have two fine runners in Marty Whelen and Sammy Rabb.

The offensive line looks solid with guard James Ray, tackle Fred Barber and end Bill Ferguson returning as starters. New faces are center John Rutstrom, guard Danny Lamb, tackle Charles Bales, and split end Linzy Cole.

Nine defensive starters came back but the loss of tackle Danny Cross and halfback Cubby Hudler could have a carry-over crippling effect.

NEED GOOD START

And, added Taylor, whose Frogs dropped their first five contests last year:

"I think it would be beneficial to us to get off to a good start. Of course this is true of any team, but especially ours, probably more so than anytime in history... from the standpoint of confidence."

"I think at mid-season last year our kids got together and said, 'Heck, we've worked hard, and we're as good as these other people.'"

"They just made up their minds and came back and won. I think in the early part of the season they didn't think they could win."

"After their early disaster...

Coach Lauds Local Fans

"I like my job. I enjoy what I am trying to do and I'd rather be doing the work that I am in the world," Spike Dykes, Big Spring High School football coach, told the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday.

He added that he could not say just how good the 1968 football team would be. "I'll be in a better position to discuss this after Saturday," he added.

He had high praise for the boys who are out for places on the team and said that he hopes they will leave the school better citizens for having played football and having learned the lessons of sportsmanship that he says the game teaches.

Dykes also said that Big Spring fans are the best he has ever seen.

"No matter how poorly our team may be playing or how deep they may be in the scoring records," he said, "the Big Spring fans are out at each game to support us and help us."

Jim Thompson, program chairman, said that he and Dykes used to play football against one another when they were youngsters at Ballinger and Stamford.

Roscoe Newell, president, called attention to the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis District Convention which opens on Sept. 19 in San Antonio.

Johnson Still Pushes Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders are taking an increasingly dim view of Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice and raise the possibility his nomination will die in committee.

President Johnson, however, is pictured as still hopeful Fortas will make it and as giving no indication he might withdraw the nomination.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated Thursday that opponents may succeed in keeping the nomination locked up in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Although Dirksen is supporting the nomination and he is the senior Republican on the committee, he said a filibuster in the committee is "the kind you cannot lick."

This is because it is easy for opponents on the committee to keep talking until a meeting is cut off by the start of Senate sessions, Dirksen said.

Under the rules, committees are barred from meeting while the Senate is in session except by unanimous consent.

"I'd say the opposition has hardened and may well have increased," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield. He termed Fortas' chances of confirmation to succeed Earl Warren "not encouraging."

Mansfield said he just didn't know when the committee might act on the nomination.

Dirksen and Mansfield commented at separate sessions with newsmen. But they agreed that even if the nomination gets out of the judiciary committee, it is doubtful if the necessary two-thirds majority could be obtained to break a filibuster in the Senate.

Stalled by the controversy over Fortas' appointment is Johnson's nomination of another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry, to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Unless Fortas is confirmed, there won't be any vacancy on the court for Thornberry to fill since Warren has made his retirement is contingent on approval of a successor.

Officers To Drag Hunter For Cons

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — At least one—perhaps two—of three convicts who threw down their hoes in a potato field and jumped into the Trinity River in an escape attempt were believed dead today by prison officials.

Gregory Brages, 21, serving a life term for rape, was recaptured in two hours.

Brages told guards he looked back while swimming in the river and saw John Neal Rogers, 33, serving life for robbery by assault, go under.

Warden C. L. McAdams of the Ellis prison unit ordered officers to drag the river Thursday, but no trace of Rogers or R. C. Kinlow, 33, a convicted forger, could be found.

Dear Abby

Teenager's Lament

DEAR ABBY: I suppose you will throw this in your waste paper basket, but I am going to have my say anyway, and I hope it doesn't shock you.

I am a 14-year-old girl and my problem is my mother. I hate her. It may sound terrible to you, but I really HATE her. I used to think I would get over it, but I know now I never will.

Sometimes I think I will go out of my mind if she doesn't quit picking on me. I never do anything to suit her. She doesn't like my clothes, my hair, my friends, or anything. My friends are not bums, either. They are good kids and they aren't wild or on pot or anything like that, but my mother says they look like hippies, and the AREN'T.

Please help me, Abby, before I run away from home. I cry myself to sleep at night because my mother is so hateful. If I babysit she makes me put the money in the bank. Other girls can buy records or do whatever they want with the money they earn.

Don't tell me to talk to my father. He's always on my side. And don't tell me my mother "loves" me and is only doing things for my own good. If you print my letter, don't sign my name or I'll get killed.

MISERABLE IN PHOENIX
DEAR MISERABLE: Your letter doesn't "shock" me at all. I receive many such letters each week. Almost every normal teenager alternately loves and hates his parents. It's not easy to be criticized, restricted, corrected, and disciplined day in and day out. But parents who really love their children, prove it by consistently letting their children know what is expected of them. Parents who are "soft" and permissive, rear confused, insecure children.

I don't expect you to agree with me today, but keep this letter and read it again three years from now, and then you'll understand it perfectly. Good luck, dear, you're lucky. You are loved.

DEAR ABBY: I am appalled at the carelessness with which some women and girls sit in their too-short skirts these days. I am tired of sitting on buses, in restaurants, and at private gatherings and being exposed to views I can't avoid.

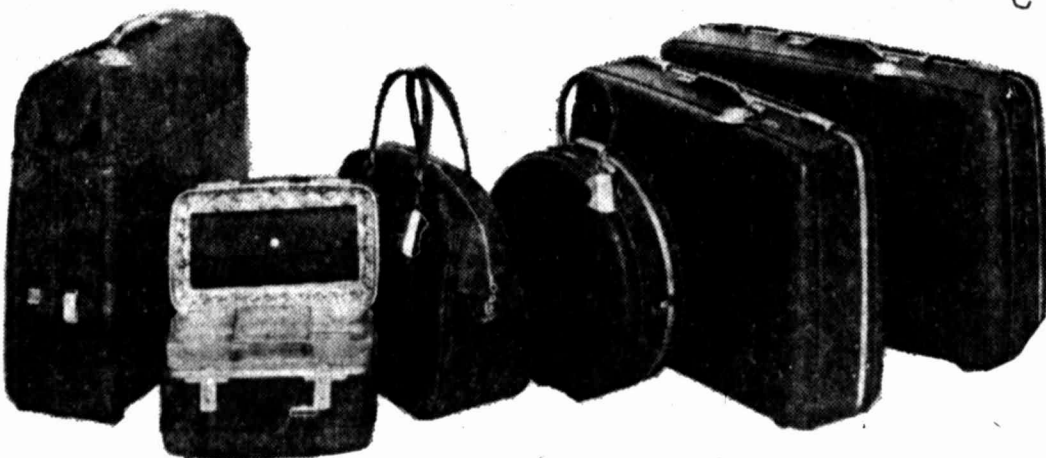

The other evening in a restaurant an older woman in a miniskirt left nothing to the imagination. I didn't know whether to signal her, whisper to her as I left, or write her a note on my napkin.

Should one ignore a situation which is disgusting to all, or try to communicate the problem to the offenders in some way?

REVOLTED
DEAR REVOLTED: Don't bother to signal, whisper, or write any notes. The offenders know full well what they're exposing, and they couldn't care less. Just look somewhere else.

32 Servicemen Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Texans were among 32 U. S. servicemen identified by the Defense Department Thursday as having been killed in Vietnam.

They were:
Lance C. Hector M. Gonzalez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crisoforo B. Gonzalez, care of Mayor Ito Barrera, 334 South-west 4th St., Premont; Pfc. Paul E. Hyland, son of Mrs. Ruth O. Hyland, 5842 Velasco, Dallas.

Spec. 4 Ernesto R. Gallardo, son of Mrs. Hortencia R. Gallardo, 650 Santa Monica St., San Antonio.

Died not as a result of hostile action:
Pfc. Edward M. Jackson, son of Mrs. Teele P. Jackson, 214 Frizzle St., Athens.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A basic influence now in effect... the Sun... brings much of benefit and value in whatever has to do with new beginning and dealing with those in powerful position, especially where health, apparel, service, employment, personnel and dietary conditions are concerned. Judgment should be good now.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A good day to arrange your labors and activities for the days ahead so that all goes very much better for you. Do something about improving your health also. Be more dynamic, vital and really enjoy your life.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You can really have a delightful time of it. Reactions you most like and enjoy, and rid yourself of tensions and timidity. Be with persons you like most, particularly closest ties. Don't stay out too late tonight, though.

GEORGINA (May 21 to June 21) Focus your attention on family matters today and see to it that all at home is most orderly and clean. Get rid of those things that are obsolete. Give them to one who will appreciate them, if still usable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A day to visit about with good and close pals and have the kind of delightful time you like at fine restaurants, etc. First do those duties quickly that must be done. Then off to fun and frolic.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A fine day for handling monetary matters and consulting with experts, getting their ideas. Add to present assets soon and do something about getting property improved. Stop putting up with leaky faucets.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Others will be flattered if you tell them what they can do for you, so do just that today. Dress in fine style, but not overly. Do whatever you can to assist them, also, and have fine rapport.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Studying situations that apply to you exclusively is your best bet now, so get busy and do not confide in others. You can have happy time with mate, if you are charming with him, or her. Be very considerate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) A day to be with congenial as much as you can and get the future mapped out more satisfactorily. First be sure you have activities for the coming new week nicely worked out. Then go-go-go!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to get those obligations out of the way that are impossible during the busy work week. So get on early start in the bustling world of activity. Blavly understands you better and gives a boost forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Getting a good start early on that little trip you have planned is wise so that you avoid heavy traffic. Good results can come of this. Get the data you want from these new acquaintances but be diplomatic about it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you apply yourself, you find that all those financial affairs can be settled very nicely today. Center efforts on adding to present assets and cutting down on expenses. Pay any debts you may have.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You can now have those talks with associates and get them to follow through on your most practical ideas. Show that you value their loyalty. A little soft soap can go a very long way — use it!

$200,000 Busing Program Key To Total Integration

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The Board of Education is making a $200,000 bet this year that it can bring off the complete racial integration of Berkeley schools through the sixth grade.

Under the plan, all pupils from kindergarten through the third grade will attend schools which were predominantly white. All pupils from the fourth through the sixth grades will go to schools which were predominantly nonwhite.

SOCIALISTIC
"We consider this the first and most thorough school integration of significant size in the country," said Dr. Dan Freudenthal, the board's coordinator of research and publications.

Retorted Stanley Colborn, a leading opponent of the plan: "It is a complete waste of taxpayers' money. It has never worked anywhere in the country. It's another indication of the socialistic trend."

Berkeley has 9,000 grade school children. About 50 per cent are white, 41 per cent Negro and the rest Oriental or of other races.

Until now, most of the whites went to schools in the hill section of the city, most of the others to schools in the flatlands.

To bring about complete integration, the school board will bus 1,400 Negroes to 11 schools.

SPECIAL ELECTION
To integrate the school faculties about half of the 178 Negro teachers have been reassigned to the white areas and about 45 per cent of the 879 white teachers will teach in the Negro flatlands.

Opponents of busing forced a special election last October, seeking to unseat two members of the board, Carol Sibley and Dr. Sherman Maisei. Mrs. Sibley won by a vote of 23,167 to 14,917 and Maisei by 23,138 to 15,042.

"What opposition remains generally is on grounds of safety to smallest children riding out of their neighborhoods," said Freudenthal. "We have spent eight months preparing for the change. We expect bugs in the plan, but we will cope."

Named President Of MH-B College

BEALTON, Tex. (AP) — A Gulfport, Miss., preacher Thursday was named president of Mary Hardin-Baylor College to succeed Leonard Holloway who resigned.

The new MH-B president Dr. William Graydon Tanner, 38, said Freudenthal. "We have spent eight months preparing for the change. We expect bugs in the plan, but we will cope."
