Films Of Assassination Are Stolen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A college film-making student says movies of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy were stolen from his locker and the lock was carefully replaced.

Alvin Tokunow, 24, said the theft took place after he had told several people that in the film a dark man resembling Sirhan Bishara Sirhan could be seen inside the Ambassador Hotel.

Kennedy was slain early June 5 after acknowledging victory in California's Democratic presidential primary. Sirhan was arrested and charged with murder.

"We thought we saw Sirhan in the hotel before the shooting and there also on the Sunday before," Tokunow said. "There appeared to be another dark man talking with him, and a young woman nearby."

Tokunow said he told police that his original negatives were stolen in early August from his locker in UCLA's film editing building, but he said he had two sets of prints of the negatives. Both sets were fuzzy, he said, adding that police have been studying one of the fuzzy sets.

Bible Fund Report

The annual appeal for the high school Bible Class fund came to a formal end today, short of the goal of $3,500, but if the momentum established over Sunday continues, this objective may yet be met. The total now is $3,138.

So if you haven't given or if your class or your club has made a gift, please bring these on to The Herald for acknowledgment.

A wonderful weekend response accounted for $259, one of the best days of the campaign. Included in the generous gifts were some deeply felt memorials — one to a minister whose young ministry is just beginning.

"It is with a sincere prayer of thanksgiving that God will richly bless all who had a part in this offering that we close the formal appeal," said the Rev. Dan Sebesta, campaign chairman. "Certainly we appreciate the gifts, but we also treasure the prayers of those who were unable to give."

PUEBLO CREW

No Word Of Release

SEOUL (AP) — North Korea continued to celebrate the 20th anniversary of its Communist regime today but gave no indication that it would release the 82 captive crewmen of the Pueblo in honor of the occasion.

Rumors had circulated in Seoul for several days that the Pyongyang Government would free the Americans captured aboard the U.S. Navy intelligence ship last Jan. 23, and North Korea's Central News Agency had promised "important reports" on a special Sunday broadcast. But there was no word of the Pueblo or its men from the Communists.

Oppose Wallace Backer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some 600 Negro policemen and Fairmount Park Guards have voted to try to censure and oust Fraternal Order of Police President John J. Harrington over his public support of third party presidential hopeful George Wallace.

The Negro police met Sunday in the aftermath of Fraternal Order of Police meeting Tuesday in which Harrington's statements were disputed. Harrington is also national FOP president.

U.N. Peace Team Arranges Cease-Fire Along Suez Canal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council called on Israel and Egypt today to obey their 1967 cease-fire after 10 Israelis and 17 Egyptians were reported killed in a gun battle across the Suez Canal Sunday.

AGREED

In a meeting that began Sunday and lasted past midnight, the 15-member council agreed on a "statement of consensus" read by the council president, Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff.

The meeting followed requests from both countries that the council give its urgent attention to the battle that at one point reportedly raged along most of the canal, from El Qantara in the north to Port Taufiq in the south.

A U.N. truce team finally arranged a cease-fire by early evening. One member of the team was reported wounded and two U.N. observation posts were hit. Israel said the Egyptians violated one agreement with the observers to stop the shooting.

The canal front was reported calm today.

The battle was the fourth and most serious incident along the canal since Aug. 26. An Israeli charge of Egyptian provocations was already before the Security Council, but the battle Sunday and the council's response put the earlier complaint on the shelf, at least for the time being.

Israel and Egypt each accused the other of starting the shooting. Lt. Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, chief of the U.N. cease-fire teams, said one of his groups reported the Israelis fired first in the team's area of observation, while three other observer teams said the Egyptians shot first in their areas.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah told the council that Egyptian forces opened fire first on Israeli engineers who had just detonated an antivehicle mine the Egyptians had planted north of Port Taufiq, on the east bank of the canal. Egyptian Ambassador Mohamed El-Kony said this was a fake charge to "cover another act of premeditated aggression."

FIRE RETURNED

Israeli sources in Tel Aviv said the first Egyptian fire was returned and the exchange quickly escalated into an artillery duel that sent clouds of dust and smoke rolling over the 100-mile canal.

Israel reported 10 of its soldiers killed and 17 wounded. Israel also said two Arab civilians were injured and a church and two mosques damaged on the Israeli-occupied east side of the canal at El Qantara.

The Egyptian command said Israel began the battle by shelling Port Suez. It reported that five Egyptian soldiers and six civilians were killed and 22 Egyptians were wounded.

Other than for this one change the budget was approved as read. No other alterations or revisions were made. The tax rate as had been announced, pegged at $1.05 per hundred dollar valuation which is two cents under the rate for 1968. However, since taxes are being assessed for county needs in 1969 on a formula which increase tax bills by 25 per cent, this rate reduction will not mean much to the taxpayer.

The public hearing on the budget was without fanfare. The only citizens to show up for the proceedings were Robert Currie, president of the State National Bank, and Bill Crooker, Crooker is the Republican candidate for County Commissioner Precinct 3.

SUPERVISOR NEEDED

Currie precipitated the action on the matter of the salary for an engineer. He suggested if the county is to spend approximately $400,000 on roads each year it seemed that a competent engineer is needed to supervise the operations. He said he doubted if an engineer could be hired for $8,000 who would have the capabilities and training adequate for the job.

"If you are spending $400,000 a year on something," said Currie, "it would seem to be good sense to pay as much as $20,000 a year for a man who would properly direct the program."

The county commissioners were not enthusiastic in their attitude toward the suggestion. It was argued that the county had employed a man who had engineering capabilities but who was not an engineer and that the plan had enjoyed good results. However, it was admitted that this employee — Bill Paul Thomas — is no longer on the job.

GOOD RESULTS

Currie said that under the administration of the last engineer the county had nearly 10 years ago, that excellent results in road building and operation ensued.

Ray Nichols, who later made the motion to increase the offer for an engineer, cited the record of Thomas.

The county commissioners have made only lukewarm efforts in the past to obtain a competent engineer. With the resignation of W. B. Parks, the last engineer on the payroll, a few applicants were interviewed but were not accepted for the job. For the past several years no interviews have been carried out.

On the vote for the increase in the engineer salary offer Mrs. Joe Hayden seconded Nichols' motion. Bill Tume voted against the proposal. To provide funds, the court took $2,000 from funds allocated for utilities and moving utilities and poles and transferred the money to the engineer salary item.

DANGER AREA

As an offshoot of the same discussion, Currie mentioned he felt that engineering was needed on the new road

U. S. Told Bombing Halt Not Enough

PARIS (AP) — A Hanoi spokesman told the United States today a simple bombing halt will not be enough to insure peace in Vietnam. He said American spy flights, naval raids and artillery attacks against North Vietnam also must end.

North Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le made the statement at his weekly news conference when asked whether his government would accept a simple bombing halt as a green light for serious peace negotiations.

Earlier Le acknowledged "the positive" content of proposals made by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and by ex-Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg calling for an immediate cessation of bombing over North Vietnam.

"The United States must unconditionally stop all bombing raids and all other acts of war against the territory of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam," said Le.

Goldberg, who headed the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, and Mansfield have both advocated a bombing halt "to move forward to obtain an honorable political settlement of the war."

Mansfield also has proposed formation of a provisional government of national union in South Vietnam, including elements currently unacceptable to the Saigon Regime.

Salary 'Offer' For Engineer Is Raised

Howard County would employ a road engineer at $10,000 a year, if one can be found for that salary. The Commissioners Court Monday upped the $8,000 offer for such an employe by $2,000 in the meeting of the court to finally read and approve the 1969 county budget.

For the past decade, the county has had no engineer. Each year, an item of $8,000 has been inserted in the road and bridge fund for "engineer's salary."

RATE OF $1.05

Other than for this one change the budget was approved as read. No other alterations or revisions were made. The tax rate as had been announced, pegged at $1.05 per hundred dollar valuation which is two cents under the rate for 1968. However, since taxes are being assessed for county needs in 1969 on a formula which in-

Nigerian Army Hands Over Infested Food

ABA, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian army, in an effort to show it is not intent on wiping out the rebellious Ibo tribe, rounded up 300 persons in this nearly deserted city and handed over food to them.

The distribution Sunday was made three days after federal troops captured Abo, which had been the largest city left to secessionist Biafra in eastern Nigeria.

The Ibos, the predominant tribe of Biafra, claim the federal troops are waging a war of genocide against them. Virtually none of the 300 were Ibos.

They were some of the thousands the army believes remain in Abo, which before the war was a trading center of 131,000 inhabitants. But as the trucks and armored cars deposited food at the town hall, the streets were almost empty except for those collected by the troops in the roundup.

UNLOAD FOOD

Troops gruffly hustled weakened men to unload sacks of rice, beans, and dried and smoked fish from Norway.

The stinking fish crawled with vermin. One bone-thin man took his ration, climbed to the roof of the modern two-story town hall and chewed at his fish.

Some men were too weak from hunger to carry bags. The children stared listlessly but wide eyed. The very young had pale golden hair, symptomatic of protein starvation.

From an Italian-built ammunition carrier, civilians pulled cartons of condensed milk, presumably for children short of protein.

On the second floor of the town hall a 3-year-old boy, the size of a year-old toddler, sucked on a sour green pickle.

TROOPS

Col. Benjamin Adekunle, commander of the 3rd Marine Commando Division, said his troops — not the Red Cross — would handle relief in the area because "they know what Nigerians need, not milk but rice, beans and such solid foods." He has refused to permit the International Red Cross and its cartons of dried milk into the front.

Lt. Col. Godwin Ally, the 3rd Division chief of staff, said that once his troops marched to within five miles of Abo, resistance melted. The troops now stared across the narrow Abo River and the destroyed bridge to the opposite hill where the Biafrans were believed silently holding defensive positions, hoarding their scarce ammunition.

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says the United States must take a careful look at peace-making moves with the Soviet Union. And, he wants America to assure technological military superiority for Israel to offset the Russian buildup of Arab nations.

STRONGER STAND

In the final day Sunday of a campaign trip that stretched from San Francisco to New York, the Republican presidential candidate called for a stronger stand against the Soviets on three fronts.

In Washington, he told the triennial convention of B'nai B'rith, an international Jewish organization, that he supports a policy that would give Israel a technological military margin that would more than offset her hostile neighbors' numerical superiority.

Nixon, accusing the Soviet Union of giving arms to the Arabs to promote its own interest in the Middle East conceded "some may call this a hard line." But he said such talk was needed to convince potential aggressors not to make "a miscalculation."

At a news conference in Pittsburgh earlier in the day, Nixon spelled out two areas where he indicated a tougher U.S. policy might be needed.

He said, "I am concerned about some of the provisions" of the treaty against the spread of nuclear weapons — signed by the United States and Soviet Union and now awaiting Senate ratification.

"I favor the principle of non-proliferation," Nixon said. "I believe we should negotiate a nonproliferation treaty." But he said he was going to discuss the matter this week with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, whom he described as having "some rather strong reservations about the advisability of going forward with the treaty at this time because of developments in Czechoslovakia as well as because he is concerned about certain provisions of the treaty."

Nixon also cited the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia as a reason for taking a look at another area — President Johnson's plan for "building bridges" to the Soviet Union by closer cooperation in some fields.

"I think there has to be a re-evaluation of the entire bridge building program," said Nixon.

South Viet General Killed In Helicopter

SAIGON (AP)—Heavy fighting returned to South Vietnam's central highlands over the weekend, and a South Vietnamese brigadier general was killed shortly after one of his battalions repulsed an attack on the Duc Lap Special Forces camp and killed 47 North Vietnamese.

ENEMY LOSSES

Forty miles north of Duc Lap, near Ban Me Thuot, South Vietnamese militia men backed by a U.S. armored column reported another 47 North Vietnamese killed. Other American forces claimed they killed 82-enemy in two battles south and northwest of Saigon.

The slain South Vietnamese commander, Brig. Gen. Truong Quang An, 36, was the first South Vietnamese general killed in combat since 1961. Three American generals have been killed in action since that time.

Gen. An, his wife, his two chief American advisers and two U.S. helicopter pilots were killed when their helicopter was shot out of the air by North Vietnamese gunners eight miles northeast of the Duc Lap camp. Two American door gunners were rescued from the burning wreckage.

The American advisers were a colonel and a sergeant major. Gen. An was on an inspection tour of the Green Beret camp at Duc Lap a few hours after a battalion from his 23rd Infantry Division had beaten back North Vietnamese troops on the camp's fringes. Two South Vietnamese were killed.

Duc Lap, a strategic watching post near the Cambodian border, withstood a siege by some 3,000 North Vietnamese soldiers two weeks ago. It is considered vital for observing enemy infiltration into the central highlands.

About 40 miles north of Duc Lap, South Vietnamese militia men and an armored column from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division ran into a North Vietnamese force while opening a section of a highway north of Ban Me Thuot. The militia men reported killing 47 of the enemy while suffering one dead and three wounded. No American casualties were reported.

Ban Me Thuot, like Duc Lap, is considered a key enemy target in the central highlands. It is an important provincial capital and headquarters of the Montagnards—mountain tribesmen.

TANGLED

In one of the battles near Saigon, troops of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division tangled with part of a veteran Viet Cong regiment at X Sa Nho village, 30 miles northwest of Saigon. They reported killing 35 enemy and taking two prisoners. U.S. losses were put at 12 killed and 21 wounded.

The Americans burned down most of the houses in the village after the enemy withdrew. A military spokesman said every house set ablaze contained North Vietnamese army equipment, weapons, packs or uniforms.

U.S. Envoys Block Progress At Paris Peace Talks?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two American newspapermen said today U.S. negotiators have blocked progress at the Paris peace talks by "dangerous and possibly fatal trimming" of the understanding by which the conference was arranged.

Contending they paved the way for the Paris talks during a visit to Hanoi last March, William C. Baggs, editor of the Miami News, and Harry S. Ashmore, former executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette, said in a book released today that North Vietnam stated before the sessions convened that meaningful negotiations could not be gin until allied bombing of North Vietnam stopped.

DOUBLE-DEALING

The book, "Mission to Hanoi—a Chronicle of Double-Dealing in High Places," was based on two trips to Hanoi and conferences with U.S. State Department officials in Washington.

Baggs and Ashmore were in Hanoi, engaged in private discussions with a spokesman for President Ho Chi Minh on March 31 when President Johnson announced his decisions to suspend all the bombing of North Vietnam and to withdraw from the presidential race.

The two newsmen said they met repeatedly with Ho's representative during the critical period when the Hanoi regime was trying to decide if it would accept the partial bombing halt as a strong enough indication of good faith to warrant a formal meeting with U.S. representatives.

SURPRISE

Baggs and Ashmore gave this account of their reaction to the Johnson pronouncement as they expressed it to the North Vietnamese:

"Mr. Johnson had surprised us as much as he had anyone else in Hanoi, we said, but in our view the importance of the announcement could not be overestimated.

"We took it to be Lyndon Johnson's way of certifying the sincerity of this new move toward peace—perhaps the only method left to him to do so in view of the steady erosion of confidence in his pronouncements at home and abroad.

"For a man of the President's temperament and ambition, the decision not to run again had to be taken as an act of political self-immolation. We thought it urgently important that the North Vietnamese take the new offer to negotiate and respond in kind."

The authors said their view of the President's announcement finally prevailed in the inner circles at Hanoi. After it was official that the North Vietnamese were willing to meet with U.S. representatives, Ashmore and Baggs said they entered into detailed discussions with Ho's spokesman on the procedural points of such a conference.

LBJ'S ACTIONS

They left Hanoi with an "aide memoire" which they said spelled out the official North Vietnamese response to Johnson's actions.

Baggs and Ashmore said they delivered the document to the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane, Laos, and were asked to return directly to Washington where they met with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, and Asst. Secretary of State William P. Bundy.

The newsmen said: "The North Vietnamese position was that agreement to meet under the partial limitation of the concession on their part, and they would not consider any further acts of reciprocity until the bombing had stopped—at which point everything was open for consideration, including mutual de-escalation of the fighting in South Vietnam.

"If there was to be bargaining, we said, it would have to be done on the other side of total bombing cessation; then, as we judged it, there was considerable room for maneuver if the United States was now willing to accept some form of coalition government in Saigon embracing the NLF (National Liberation Front), political arm of the Viet Cong. This, we reported, was the essence we had distilled out of many hours of direct talk and background probing.

ZERO

"At this point it seemed as though Gov. Harriman turned off his hearing aid and the other-ers in the room began to gaze at the ceiling. . . . The gloomy assumption, soon to be borne out by events, was that Harriman, as chief negotiator, was going to proceed on the basis that total bombing cessation was still negotiable, and stand on the old demand for a guarantee of military reciprocity . . .

"Our waning optimism went down to zero when Harriman simply rejected our contention that the North Vietnamese had made it quite clear that, while they would make contact while the bombing went on, they would not begin to negotiate seriously until it had been halted."

Hubert: 'I Ask You To Vote Your Hopes, Not Your Hates'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey launched his first coast-to-coast barnstorming tour today by calling on the nation to reject what he termed the "Old Era" of conflict and hatred for a "New Day" of hope, equality and unity.

"I appeal not to your fears, but to your reason," Humphrey said. "I ask you to vote your hopes, not your hates."

His speech, prepared for a midday Philadelphia rally, reiterated the themes he introduced in his formal presidential campaign opener in Washington Sunday.

NEW DAY

The vice president charged that his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon—who was not mentioned by name in the text—was openly competing for the same votes as George Wallace—for the votes of people who want at best to slow things down when it comes to programs that offer the way out of tension and trouble in America.

Humphrey termed the 1968 election "a national referendum—nothing less—on human rights and human opportunity," saying that the choice this year is "Are we going to accept as inevitable the conflict and hatred which are becoming a part of our everyday life?"

"The choice," he went on, is "between one America and another America of apartheid . . . between the America of the Old Era and the America of the New Day."

TURN AWAY

"Turn away from the Old Era when an American boy who fought in an integrated bunker at Khe Sanh could come home to a segregated slum in America," Humphrey said. "Choose the New Day when that boy can come home to a job, training, to equality before the law and in his neighborhood."

"Turn away from the Old Era where 'separate but equal' really meant 'separate but unequal' and where generation after generation in the same family ended up in poverty and welfare," he went on, adding:

"Choose the New Day where every American child—regardless of his color or his last name or his religion—can receive the best education in the world, where all of us stand together and equal—and proud of it."

"When people have hope," Humphrey said, "they will not accept what is wrong. They want something better. They want it now. And they are right."

WILLING TO PAY

"I say this nation is willing to pay the price—in dollars, in personal sacrifice and in moral commitment to make this one America, and to do it peacefully," he said.

After a tickertape parade and speech here, plus two television tapings, Humphrey planned to head westward for Denver—and two more appearances—before flying on to Los Angeles to-night.

School Count Edges 7,500

Enrollment on the fifth day of classes in Big Spring public schools totaled 7,487, according to Sam Anderson, school superintendent, for an increase of 66 since Friday.

Anderson said elementary schools gained 36 for an enrollment of 3,994, and the high school had a jump of 17 to 2,077. Some students were still registering Monday and by the end of the day the total count could be 7,500, Anderson said.

Runnels Junior High School attracted five more for a 595 enrollment, and four more joined Goliad Junior High for 688. Special education classes had an increase of four for 133.

Enrollment by the fifth day in 1947 was 7,582, he said.

De Gaulle Says Soviet Domination Will Fade

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle conceded today that the "condemnable" Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia had damaged his policy of seeking closer ties with Eastern Europe and dismantling the two Europe on the continent.

But, he declared at a news conference, even if "this policy is momentarily thwarted it is the right one."

De Gaulle predicted Soviet domination of Eastern Europe would not last.

TOO LATE

"It is too late for foreign domination to obtain the adherence of nations even when their territories are occupied," he said.

The move toward self-determination "is indeluctably following its course," he added.

"It is too late for communism to triumph over national sentiment," De Gaulle said. "It is too late to want to maintain forever a Europe cut in two. France will remain what she is. She will survive no matter what happens. She is working for independence, liberty, entente and cooperation—otherwise said, for peace."

In this repeated declaration of French independence, De Gaulle recalled that he had taken his distance from the United States.

HOME WOES

At his first news conference since last Nov. 11, the 77-year-old president first discussed home front problems.

Referring to student riots and strikes in May and June, he declared: "The state cannot tolerate any other authority than its own."

"Any threat of violence must be broken or repressed," he said, in a clear warning to still unruly student groups who reject government-sponsored reform projects for the nation's universities, and to any labor groups who might consider repeating the massive strike movements of last spring.

COHOOMA

The county is paying in the Silver Heels addition and that he felt the present entrance to the road is dangerous. An engineer, he said, would have probably designed a safer approach.

Simon Terrazas moved that the county employ an engineer to consider the entrance and see if it could be better designed. After some discussion, the motion was adopted with County Judge Lee Porter voting to break the two-two tie.

The county's budget for the ensuing year is $1,280,671. This compares with the current budget of $1,119,114.

SALARY HIKE

The new budget as approved, carries a flat 10 per cent salary increase for all elective and appointive officers of the county with the exception of the salaries of the four county commissioners.

It also includes funds to activate a county official-employee retirement program in 1969. Likewise in the budget are funds to start renovation of the present post office building into a county library if the county's bid for the structure is approved and it is ceded to the county by the U.S. government.

Another item in this year's budget calls for the expenditure of money for broadening of the county's firefighting system and for the renovation of the fair grounds barns.

Stars Of Circus Ready To Perform

Performers and crews were busy this morning setting the stage for the annual Suez Shrine Circus slated for two performances today at the Rodeo Bowl. Acts will begin at 3:15 and 8 p.m.

This year's performances are expected to be among the best in the history of the annual affair. All children will be guests of the show, and adult tickets will be $1.50.

Miss America In Seclusion

NEW YORK (AP)—The newly crowned Miss America, Judith Anne Ford, arrived Sunday to begin a 10-day visit as part of her year's reign.

The 18-year-old blonde from Belvidere, Ill., will have a busy schedule of wardrobe fittings, interviews and conferences as she gets ready for the 200,000 miles of travel that go with her title.

MORE FUN?

Miss Ford can expect to earn about $85,000 in personal appearance fees during the year.

She is scheduled to hold a news conference Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a spokesman said she will be in seclusion at Barclay Hotel, resting from her four nights of competition in Atlantic City, N.J.

After an acrobatic performance on a trampoline during the talent contest Saturday night, the 5-foot-7, 125-pound beauty fielded reporters' questions at a news conference Sunday morning following only two hours' sleep.

"Do blondes really have more fun?" she was asked.

"I've never been a brunette to compare it with," answered Miss America who is 36-24-36.

As the only woman member of the school's trampoline team, she finished second in the junior national AAU championships this year.

Judi says she plans to finish her education at the University of Illinois and to become a physical education teacher.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ford, live in Belvidere, where her father is a director of labor relations for the Sunstrand Corp. Her brother Don is a medical student.

Second Bandits Get Leftovers

LONDON (AP) — A Roman Catholic bishop's reported remarks that killing birds with a shotgun is his favorite sport threatens to set off controversy among British animal lovers.

The Catholic Herald, a weekly newspaper, quoted the Rt. Rev. David Cashman, a 55-year-old bishop of Arundel and Brighton, as saying, "I'm mad about shooting birds and animals."

"It's the nearest thing to heaven, in human terms, that I know."

Bishop Cashman, who lists shooting as his recreation in Who's Who, later told other newsmen that he regretted saying the words "but I am not going to deny them."

Ark, a Catholic animal welfare organization, was considering a protest over the remarks. A vice president said, "This amounts to a scandal."

ST. LOUIS (AP) — C. C. Clark, 51, of Independence, Kan., was collecting his wits after being robbed at knifepoint Friday when two young men jumped in his car at a stoplight.

They demanded money. When Clark explained he had just been robbed of $312 in cash, his wristwatch and a ring, the men became angry, called him a few names, and left.

Portugal's Ruler Is Recuperating

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Premier Antonio Salazar spent a quiet, restful night with some fever that disappeared this morning, a hospital spokesman said. A blood clot was removed from alongside his brain on Saturday.

Portugal's 79-year-old ruler was reported recuperating satisfactorily at the Red Cross Hospital. A medical bulletin Sunday night said Salazar was able to eat, sit in an armchair and take a few steps.

Dr. Antonio Vasconcellos, Marques denied reports that Salazar was unable to speak. Salazar, who has ruled Portugal for 40 years, was injured in a fall more than a month ago. The blood clot formed between the brain and the meninges, membrane around it, medical sources said.

Czech Industry Curtailed For 'A Long Time To Come'

PRAGUE (AP) — Production from Czechoslovakia's heavy industry, the mainstay of its economy, may be curtailed for "a long time to come" as a result of the Soviet occupation, the Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper reported today.

Rude Pravo said that during the first week of the occupation production losses in heavy industry alone amounted to 1,626 million crowns or $227,640,000.

"In many plants it may be possible to compensate the losses," the paper said, "but the data prove that the smooth flow of production in heavy industry is threatened for a long time to come."

HALF PROMISE

The Soviet Union has given a half promise to compensate Czechoslovakia for all damages caused by the invasion, and a parliamentary committee is compiling a report.

Rude Pravo said failure by Moscow and some of its hard-line allies to meet their supply obligations to Czechoslovakia was one of the adverse factors. It said five large export shipments could not be readied on schedule because supplies did not arrive from the Soviet Union, East Germany and Hungary.

At the same time, Rude Pravo added "the trade representatives of these countries insisted on adhering to delivery schedules" by Czechoslovakia in other industrial branches.

TROOPS STAY

Meanwhile, reliable informants reported the country's embattled Communist leaders have agreed to the stationing of Soviet-bloc troops indefinitely along their country's border with West Germany.

These border forces are not among those the Soviet Union has promised to withdraw from occupied Czechoslovakia when the situation "normalizes," the sources said.

Neither Prague nor Moscow has announced the agreement, but sources said it was one of seven concessions in the Moscow accord signed by Czechoslovak and Soviet leaders Aug. 28, a week after the Soviet invasion.

HOSTILE FORCES

Vasily Kuznetsov, a Soviet first deputy foreign minister, is in Prague, reportedly to secure more speedy compliance with the secret agreements. Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, said Sunday Czechoslovakia was "taking the first steps toward normalization," but "that its leaders still had failed to strike a decisive blow to 'hostile forces' in the country."

The stationing of Soviet-bloc troops along the Czechoslovak-West Germany border had been one of the major sore points between Moscow and Prague during the tense months preceding the invasion. Czechoslovakia insisted it could take care of its borders with West Germany without Warsaw Pact help.

Informants said the Czechoslovak leaders also promised they would:

- Change Czechoslovakia's political development to conform with the conservative Soviet brand of communism.
- Remove from office Interior Minister Josef Pavel, Deputy Minister Jiri Hajek. Pavel has been replaced and Hajek has resigned.

CENSORSHIP

Revive censorship to prevent the news media from criticizing the Warsaw Pact countries that participated in the invasion—the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, East Germany, Poland and Hungary.

—Repeal the 14th congress of the Czechoslovak Communist party, held secretly while party leader Alexander Dubcek was a prisoner in Moscow. It purged the party presidium of conservative, orthodox Communists, but this has been partly nullified by election of a new presidium.

—Withdraw Hajek's formal request for debate on the Czechoslovak crisis by the U.N. Security Council. Hajek, just before he left New York after the Moscow agreement, asked the council to do nothing more.

—Take no reprisal against Czechoslovak citizens who collaborated with the invading armies.

WARNING

The Russians agreed, in turn, to take their security police with them when the occupation forces leave and dropped a demand that Czechoslovak leaders declare that a "counter-revolution" existed in their country, the informants said.

Although the government has reintroduced press censorship, Pravda complained that the voice of "right-wing, antisocialist elements" still is heard in the Czechoslovak press.

Pravda further warned that despite the Soviet promise to withdraw its forces eventually, Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia will "carry out their noble international mission to the end."

Red Army troops in Prague celebrated Soviet Armed Forces Day Sunday by parading with carnations in their machine guns. Czechoslovak army units did not participate, and very few spectators turned out to watch the parade.

In what was viewed as another er show of independence by Romania's Communist rulers, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart arrived in Bucharest Sunday, becoming the first top-level Western statesman to visit Communist Eastern Europe since the Aug. 20-21 invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Dear Abby

Mother-In-Law Problem

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother-in-law. I have been married for 42 years and have never said a cross word to her, but I am at the end of my rope. She lives in another town, thank God, but she uses up all her old age pension just traveling around visiting the relatives. When she comes here, she insists on sleeping on our sofa where she can hear and see everything. And she snores so loud we can't hear the TV. We have a spare room but she won't use it.

She complains about my cooking, my coffee, our children, grandchildren and friends. She puts her false teeth in my best china cups and when she leaves I have to throw the cup out. She won't go to church so one of us has to stay home and keep her company. We never know when she's coming. She'll get on a bus and travel 600 miles and call us from the bus depot to come and get her. Isn't that a lot of nerve? If we have plans, it's just too bad. Everyone has to change their schedules to suit her. I would rather be dead than have her again. What should I do? PROVOKED

DEAR PROVOKED: After playing the shrinking violet for 42 years, it may be difficult to become a tiger lily, but try. Tell the crusty old lady where you want her to sleep, where to put her false teeth, and if she doesn't care to go to church, she can sit alone. Also let her know that unless you have some advance notice, you may not be home.

DEAR ABBY: When one telephones an office and asks for Mr. John Doe, frequently the receptionist asks, "Who may I say is calling?" This gives the caller the impression that whether Mr. Doe is in or not will be decided when Mr. Doe learns who is calling him.

This is irritating to the caller. In your opinion, is it proper for the receptionist to ask this question? E.P.K.

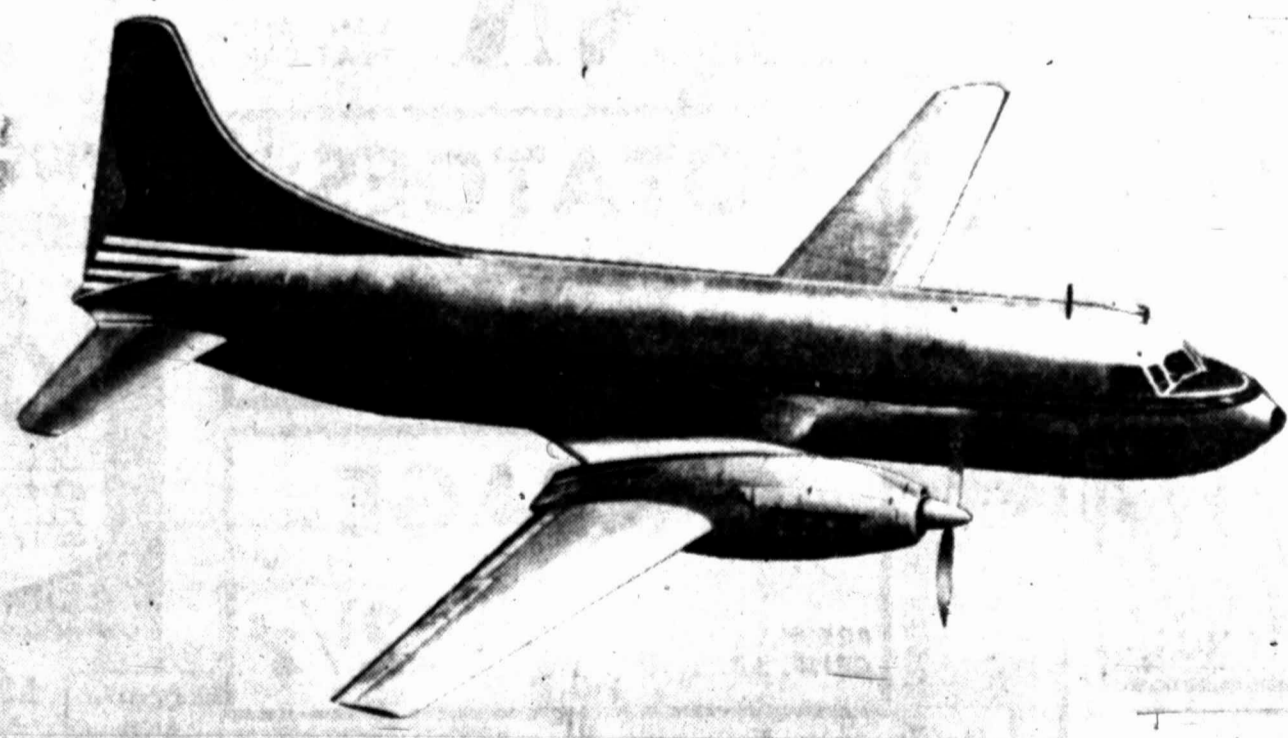

DEAR E.P.K.: The caller should first identify himself. If he doesn't, the receptionist may properly ask who is calling Mr. Doe, whose privilege it is to be either in or out to the caller.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you less than one week after tragedy has struck our family. We just lost a precious 8-month-old baby due to one of those all too frequent "freak accidents." While napping in her crib she strangled to death on the string attached to her beloved pacifier, which she had around her little neck.

This is an open letter to ALL mothers: Please, never put a string around your baby's neck! And remove all those pretty bright, but deadly ribbons from around the stuffed animals and other baby toys. Busy little fingers can undo the tightest of knots.

PBX Club Hears Talk On Drugs

"Drug addiction is caused mostly by curiosity," said Sgt. Pete Stone of the Big Spring Police Department at Thursday's meeting of the PBX Club in Furr's Cafeteria.

Mrs. John Ray introduced the guest speaker. He cited examples where addiction began with curiosity about drugs; the interest being stimulated by inept education, group association and influence of close friends.

"Fewer than five per cent of drug addicts are ever rehabilitated, and for this reason, addiction is a problem that warrants more public attention than it now receives," said Stone.

Mrs. Ray presided and announced that Edna Sloane of Kansas City, Mo., is the new international president, elected at the recent convention in Denver. The next international convention will be held in San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. John Rains directed games, and four guests attended.

A LOVELIER YOU

Fabrics Of Fashion Make Big Difference

By MARY SUE MILLER
Have you ever seen a muslin pattern for a mink coat? If so, you know what a whale of a difference material makes to a fashion. In muslin the look is dreary as can be. In mink, it's every girl's dream.

Just so, material influences the fashionability of everything we wear — its design, eye-appeal and durability. For Fall '68, fabrics that "make" fashion are softer, the better to shape softer, rounder silhouettes.

Daytime materials choose up sides between haberdasher effects and the strictly feminine. In the Haberdasher category you find tweeds, twills, denim, flannels, melton, cashmere, country corduroy, antique leathers, silky foulards in cravat stripes, fine shirtings — and plaids, large and small, in most all materials. On the feminine side are such yardages as fluid crepe, slinky jersey and rayex knits.

Color begins with neutrals, and that's news after the explosion of bright shades in recent seasons. Grays, creamy beiges, taupe, and brown are seen everywhere. Deep darks have increasing importance — hunter green, blackberry, midnight navy, black.

To go it alone or blend with neutrals and darks, there's a range of smoky pines, mere shadows of pink, violet and willow green. Sparklers — fireman red, Irish green, orange copper, brassy gold — offset an otherwise quiet, elegant palette.

A final point to make the most of is the new way fabrics are used. Contrast is the key to it — a mixing of textures,

ELBOW HD CLUB

Nine members of the Elbow HD Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Denver Yates and welcomed three guests, Mrs. Stewart Anderson, Mrs. Hugh Clark and Mrs. Crawford, the guest speaker. Mrs. Crawford gave the program on sweaters.

Mrs. B. J. Petty, vice president, presided as current officers were re-elected for 1969. The group agreed to provide 2,000 cookies for patients at Big Spring State Hospital on Sept. 18, and fund-raising projects were discussed.

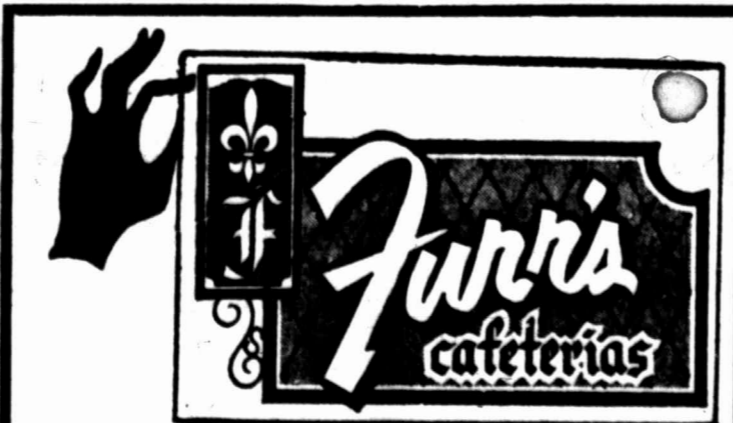

Mrs. Yates brought the devotion, and during roll call, members gave turkey recipes. The next meeting will be Sept. 19 in the home of Mrs. L. Z. Rhodes.

AIRPORT HD CLUB

The 1969 officers were elected during a meeting, Tuesday, of the Airport HD Club which met at the home of Mrs. Karl Harrison, 1205 College. The slate includes Mrs. S. A. Wilson, president; Mrs. James Findley, vice president; Mrs. R. B. Covington Jr., secretary; Mrs. B. A. Bunn, treasurer; and Mrs. R. P. Morton, council delegate.

Ten members were present to hear the program on purchasing sweaters. A porch sale was slated Sept. 20-21 at the home of Mrs. Henry Tubb, 601 State, and a Christmas decoration workshop will be held at 1 p. m., Sept. 13, at the home of Mrs. R. P. Morton, 2303 Austin.

Claims Police Being Maligned

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Police are being maligned and people are definitely taking the law into their own hands by deciding which laws they will obey and which laws they will disobey, says a leader of the National Baptist Convention U.S.A., a Negro organization.

A. Henson Jarmon, chairman of the convention's stewardship commission, said Saturday, "The foundations of our social order are being destroyed."

The convention, which ended its annual meeting Sunday, has 6.5 million members and is described by its leaders as the largest Negro organization in the nation.

Heart Transplants Near 50, Specialist Sees Upsurge

NEW YORK (AP) — With the number of heart transplant operations throughout the world edging near 50, a scientist predicts an even greater upsurge in the coming months.

Dr. F. C. Spencer of the New York University Medical Center also said that despite the obvious success of the heart transplants so far, a great number of questions remain.

One problem that needs exploring, Spencer said, is why many recipients seem to respond either "extremely badly" or "extremely well."

He told the second International Congress of the Transplantation Society Sunday that the next year will provide major and needed information about long-term survival of recipients, adding, "I predict a great increase in frequency in the next several months."

The society held its first meeting last year in Paris.

States from acquired heart disease, he said.

"For the 80,000 or so of these which occur before the patient can reach the hospital," he said, "only prevention will provide a cure."

Of the 120,000 who get to a hospital, about 30,000 might be returned to the community without surgery. That leaves 80,000 persons each year who "clearly require new forms of surgery," Cooper said.

There are about 8,000 deaths each year from congenital heart disease occurring before the age of one year, but these are largely due to lesions that could be handled with other surgery. Various other cases would amount to about 1,000 additional persons a year to be added to the 80,000 transplant candidates.

Looking at a potential supply of donors, Cooper said there are 260,000 deaths of men and women between the ages of 15 and 64 each year from causes other than cancer or heart disease.

Assuming that all would be suitable donors, he added, that means that one out of three would have to be willing and available as a donor to supply the 81,000 candidates.

"Assuming the willingness," Cooper continued, "the availability does raise some impressive problems in logistics and preservation."

Festival Wedding

BIR SUR, Calif. (AP) — Mimi Baez Farina, sister of folksinger Joan Baez, is the bride of record-producer Milan Melvin. The two were married Saturday at a Big Sur folk festival. Joan Baez sang at the outdoor ceremony, which was attended by a crowd of young people.

SEVERAL MULTIPLE FATALITY CAR WRECKS, SHOOTINGS

Violent Death Toll In Texas Is Pushed Past 30

By The Associated Press
Four separate traffic accidents claimed 14 lives Sunday as the weekend violent death count in Texas mounted steadily.

The Associated Press counted 32 lives lost at a late hour traffic accident accounted for 23 lives lost and shootings and stabbings another nine. A wreck near Boling killed five persons, and single accidents in Wichita Falls, near El Paso and in Fairfield claimed the lives of another three.

The AP tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

'KILLER' SKIPS

The toll:
A U.S. Marine, his wife and her brother were killed in a one-car mishap about 35 miles east of El Paso on Interstate 10 about dusk Sunday. The Department of Public Safety said the soldier, Marine Lance Cpl. David Russell Wells, 21, was stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Authorities identified the other two as Mrs. Patsy Lee Wells, 19, and her brother, Donald Lee Tanner, 17, both of Dallas.

A Dallas boy, Gabriel Saucodo, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julio Saucodo, was struck and killed Sunday night near his home as his father watched. Police sought the driver of the car, abandoned in another part of town.

Three Houston men were killed in a two-car smashup four miles south of Fairfield on U.S. 75 at about 6 p.m. Sunday. The Department of Public Safety identified them as Steven Cook, 43, Larry Lee Cook, 27, and Larry Eldon Cooper, 21.

Officers said the victims' car swerved as it attempted to pass a truck and was struck broadside by an oncoming vehicle.

Lewis Warren of Dallas was shot to death Sunday morning at a residence. A woman was jailed.

Larry E. Camp, 18, of San Antonio, died Sunday when the car he was a passenger in struck a bridge railing a mile east of Columbus on Interstate 10. The driver escaped serious injury.

A burglar fatally stabbed Antonio San Miguel, 33, early Sunday in the bedroom of his Houston home. His wife, Juanita, suffered less serious stab wounds.

Roland Davis, 20, died Sunday when shot in the eye with a .22 caliber pistol at a Houston cafe. Police said the gunman fled on foot.

KILLED FIVE

A two-car head-on collision on Farm Road 422 near Boling in South Texas Saturday night killed five persons.

The dead in the crash were identified as Joe G. Villareal, his wife, Lena, both 55, and a daughter, Carolyn, 16, all of Houston; Jesus Romero Jr., 22, and Jose Perez, 21, both of Bay City.

Raul Villareal, 17, a passenger in the automobile driven by his father, was seriously injured. Jesus Perez, 19, brother of Jose Perez, was listed in critical condition in a Wharton hospital.

Noris J. Berry, 45, Iowa Park, was killed Saturday in a car-pickup truck wreck near Justin in North Texas.

A hit-and-run driver killed Willie James McDaniel Jr., 15, of Vidor, Saturday on a street in the Southeast Texas community.

BIG LAKE MURDER

A West Texas service station owner was shot to death in his home Friday night by three robbers after his day's receipts.

Killed was Floyd Teel, 52, of Big Lake, Tex. The three robbers wore scuba masks to hide their identity.

The three were Wayne J. Jennings, 16, Richard Lee Stapleton, 16, and Roger Ale, 17. Three Wichita Falls high school youths were killed Friday night when their car veered into a utility pole as police chased them at high speeds. A fourth rider in the car was critically injured.

Demos Battle For Right To Go Against Goldwater

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arizona Democrats decide Tuesday to determine who takes on Republican Barry Goldwater and Gov. Jack Williams in the November general election.

National attention will be on the battle between Roy Elson, Robert Kennedy and Richard Herbert for the right to go against Goldwater in the U.S. Senate general election. But all the local attention appears to center on county contests.

Elson, 37, has been administrative assistant to retiring U.S. Sen. Carl Hayden and is running with the blessing of the 90-year-old lawmaker.

Herbert, 30, a state corporation commissioner, and Kenneth Adams, 55, a state tax commissioner, have tried to overcome this advantage with strong personal campaigning. All three men have concentrated their fire on Goldwater and avoided attacking each other.

National and international issues, such as Vietnam policy, have not figured in the debates. The Democratic governor's race also has been relatively calm, especially when compared with the red hot battle of two years ago which left then incumbent governor Sam Goddard badly mauled.

Goddard is the frontrunner again this year in his effort for another shot at Williams.

A Devotional For The Day

If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. (Luke 9:23)

PRAYER: Father, only by the Holy Spirit's presence and power can I accept and carry my cross. Help me. Free me of my sins and shortcomings that I may better serve Thee this day. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Acting With Restraint

The machine-gun slaying of U.S. Ambassador John Gordon Mein on a Guatemala City main street in daylight was a shocking event. But Washington did well to react with restraint, only asking an investigation which President Mendez Montenegro immediately undertook under what amounts to martial law.

How sadly well we now know in our own country that such atrocities cannot be prevented. An apostle of Alliance for Progress reforms, Ambassador Mein, a career Foreign Service officer, knew he was a likely target, shunned tight security precautions to demonstrate that the U.S. would not be intimidated by terrorists. A dedicated and competent man died for duty and conviction and should be honored for that. But his purpose would not have been served by overreaction to his assassination.

Ambassador Mein's death recalls the killing last January of the head of the U.S. military mission in Guatemala and his associate and the wounding of two others on his staff. And there may be more to come. The anti-U.S. slayings are most likely the work of far-left terrorists, though Guatemala's far-right terrorists, who earlier this year kidnaped an archbishop, are also anti-U.S., as well as anti-reform.

The reformist pro-U.S. Guatemalan government is caught between polarized extremists opposing reforms aided by the U.S. The far-right urban terrorists and rural guerrillas oppose reforms because they would weaken the small privileged oligarchy. Their far-left counterparts oppose reforms because they fear such would relieve social and economic pressures and thus undercut their revolutionary aims.

The far-left terrorists are the more suspect, however, because they have an added incentive for killing U.S. personnel. They actually hope to provoke U.S. intervention in Guatemala again, as they believe that would end popular support for their Communist cause. That is why Washington must react to such provocation with restraint, however trying, and rely on the legitimate Guatemalan government to protect U.S. officials and citizens, with whatever assistance it may request.

Second Anti-Missile Thoughts

An odd bit of intelligence has been picked up by U.S. reconnaissance satellites: The development and deployment of an antimissile system around Moscow and other Russian cities apparently has been halted.

The question is even more puzzling because the intelligence picked up by satellites comes just as the Russians are preparing to negotiate with the U.S. over a curb on the production of missiles. Have the Russians come to the conclusion that an antimissile system is either too costly or too unreliable for the tremendous expenditures required? There is, of course, no available answer.

But there are a number of sobering considerations involved in the more one explores the possibility of neutralizing a missile offensive. Aside from the technical problems associated with locating incoming missiles and differentiating the decoys from the real ones — and these are formidable problems indeed — what effect would the explosion of antimissiles have on the defending country?

The antimissiles depend on an exploding nuclear warhead to destroy the trigger mechanism of the incoming nuclear or thermonuclear enemy missile. Just how many such explosions, within say 400 or 500 miles from the defending country, can be tolerated in the form of residual atmospheric radioactive fallout? If the first-line antimissiles did not do the job and the second-line antimissiles were called into play, would the defender desolate much of his own country in defending a few vital cities?

These may be the thoughts running through the minds of Russian scientists and strategists. Or they may not be. But they must be running through the minds of our own specialists in this most grisly of military calculations.

In the end both Russians and Americans may agree, as Dwight D. Eisenhower did when the first Russian H-bomb was exploded, that there is now no alternative to peace. The people of the world are entitled at least to the hope that such a conclusion will be reached.

A Rating Of The Candidates

WASHINGTON — In politics, there is a time for all things, including a time for heedless truth-telling and a time for tempering the hurtful truth. Here in early September we have, perhaps, a short while remaining in which to discuss the campaign as it truly is, regardless of the shock it may give to partisan readers, or the hurt it may give to the candidates.

TRUTHFULLY, THEN, this is a contest between two men who do not approach greatness. Frankly, it is vain to look for the genius of inspired leadership in either Nixon or Humphrey. We know them well, and should not expect too much.

NIXON has some disquieting limitations both for foreign policy and domestic programming. For example, a Nixon goodwill trip to Latin America is almost out of the question. He was nearly killed there, did not cover himself with glory, and he can't go back again. Nor is it at all probable that he can carry any rapport to Moscow where he is openly detested and distrusted by the Kremlin leaders.

I happen to believe that it is not a bad thing to be hated and feared by Communists, but this means for Nixon that he has few options and little flexibility in dealing with the Red menace. Again, this is not too bad a thing, for it rules out the ruinous accommodations and false hopes which have resulted at previous Summit meetings from Yalta to Glassboro.

WITH INFLEXIBILITY forced upon him, Nixon will have to walk the straight-and-narrow. He will have to rearm, not disarm, the nation. He must retain our superiority, even our supremacy, in conventional and nuclear weapons. He will have to rejuvenate NATO, probably with much greater reliance on West Germany which is threatened by the recent breach of the policed peace in East Europe. He may have to make come-home overtures to France which has become a nuclear power in spite of us and could become a nuclear ally. Nixon may have to revert to his 1954 position of all-out bombing and possibly paratroop invasion to prevent Communist conquest in Southeast Asia. He has no choice between toughness and softness. His anti-Communist past has committed him to the first.

DOMESTICALLY, also, Nixon is limited in choices. He cannot soothe, and he must suppress, the civil disorders. He is on record for the appointment of a Judiciary that will interpret laws, but not make laws; and for an attorney general who is the opposite of the permissive-minded Ramsey Clark.

Nixon has not curried favor with the Negro leaders, and cannot expect their cooperation. He is pledged to "black capitalism" to rebuild the slums, but this implies self-help by the slum-dwellers, and they are not likely to comply. Nixon's best chance in the fields of anti-poverty and anti-riot is to bring about an all-encompassing prosperity, where there is even less excuse than there is now for social protest.

NOT MUCH is wrong with Dick Nixon, and much is right about him, but we should not ask him to develop powers of imagination and charisma that he plainly does not possess.

Only when we compare Nixon and Humphrey — which will take another neither is a top-rater, one is vastly preferable to the alternative.

column — do we find that, while (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

'Copy-Cat' Inventor Nets Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — Chester Carlson concedes that not many inventors have done as well as he has; even though his many years of effort have produced only one very successful machine.

Asked the size of his wealth, Carlson, 62, said: "It's under $50 million." Repeatedly he added: "Hindsight is better than foresight. It would have been more if I had held onto all my stock."

THIRTY YEARS ago next month, on the 22nd to be exact, Carlson proved his principle of photoelectricity, which is the process that has since been developed into the modern Xerox office copier.

Working in a little laboratory at Astoria, N.Y., Carlson wrote "10-22-38, Astoria" on a glass slide. By means of electricity this was transferred to a metal plate and then by pressure to a piece of waxed paper.

Six years later the Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus, Ohio, agreed to a development contract that would give it most of the royalties from sale or licensing. Two years later the Haloid Co., later called the Xerox Corp., joined the agreement.

Copiers were beginning to sell strongly as the 1960s approached, but most of them depended upon wet processes. Carlson's dry image process, now fully developed, was introduced in 1960 and sales soared. Now, eight years later, industry sales are well above $1 billion and more than 40 companies have office copiers on the market.

CARLSON'S INVENTION has led the pack by far, and literally has almost changed every office in America. If a use seemingly doesn't exist for a copier, the girls in the office soon will find one.

The degree of acceptance, Carlson maintains, does not surprise him. "I knew it would be a big thing," he said. "I believed every office would have one, but I never thought I'd make as much money as I did. It's a bit bigger than I thought."

What did surprise him, Carlson says, is the fact that 550 people would gather in Rochester, N.Y., this month for an international conference on electrophotography. "I didn't foresee such a conference," he said.

Carlson, who is a patent attorney as well as a physicist, was 42 when the first royalties were paid. "It was a trickle in the beginning, a gradual growth through the 1950s and in 1960, with the first real office copier, it grew fast. It went up like a rocket."

THE BASIC patents held by Carlson have expired now and his main income is from his stock holdings. His role as a consultant to Xerox, where he maintains an office, brings him no salary nor the desire for one.

Worth Remembering

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans now gulp 30 pounds of aspirin every minute around the clock—more than 2 1/2 tons daily—to cure headaches and calm jittery nerves. Is all that worry really worthwhile?

The United States now has more than 100 million telephones, or one for every two persons. This is nearly half of all the telephones in the world. What would it sound like if, at a given moment, all the telephones everywhere rang at once?

SPEEDING costs money as well as increasing the possibility of accidents. Checks show that a car that gets 20 miles a gallon at 40 miles an hour gets only 12 miles a gallon at 80.

Time has outdated the idea that women must choose between matrimony and a career. Some 15 million U.S. married women now hold jobs outside the home.

Looking for an interesting new hobby? Why not take up dendrochronology, the science of dating past events by the growth rings of dead living trees? The idea of using trees as calendars of history goes back to Leonardo da Vinci, the Italian universal genius of the 15th and 16th centuries.

Our cat-and-dog lovers now spend $1.5 million a day for pet foods, double the amount spent for prepared baby foods. It's nice we don't keep elephants instead of watchdogs. An elephant can munch 800 pounds of fodder between dawn and dusk.

QUOTABLE NOTABLES: "The fear of ridicule causes our worst cowardice."—Andre Gide. No bull: If you get bored with all the sophisticated chatter at a cocktail party, you can break it up by standing on a chair and asking how many guests know whether a cow's ears are in front or behind its horns. Just to keep you from tossing restlessly tonight yourself, the answer is — behind the horns.

Geographical oddities: Long before paleface politicians pitched their marble tepees in Washington, D.C., the Algonquin Indians gave an apt name to the Potomac river. Potomac means "trading place."

SH-H-H: Medical science has found that too much noise can make you ill physically as well as tire you mentally. It is estimated that more than six million Americans work in areas so noisy they are a health hazard.

Have a drink: Water isn't usually regarded as a food, but, broadly speaking, it is. As a matter of fact, it is one of the two most important nutrients the body needs. The other is oxygen.

How To Run A National Draft

One thing and another: Those individuals who would end the military draft should have issued his mobilization order in 1933 after Benito Mussolini invaded their country.

Here is the Lion of Zudah's mobilization order in full: "Everyone will now be mobilized and all boys old enough to carry a spear will be sent to Addis Ababa. Married men will take their wives to carry food and cook. Those without wives will take any woman without a husband. Women with small babies need not go."

"The blind, those who cannot walk or for any reason cannot carry a spear are exempted. Anyone found at home after receipt of this order will be hanged."

WHEN THE razor blade companies came out with the celebrated stainless steel blades, the product they were selling was every bit as good as their advertising claimed to be.

The hucksters are as busy as ever singing the praises of the blades. Regrettably, most of the companies have gone back to making lousy blades.

The cynics point out that the product has worsened because the companies want to stay in business and offer their stock holders top dollar for the money they have invested. Some of the criticisms being voiced by the users must be getting back to the manufacturers because one concern has put a woman on the road.

HER ONE job is to sell the consumers the idea that the blades are as good as they ever were, that psychological factors determine whether a man gets a good shave.

"The man holding the razor may be wrestling with some bothersome problem that results in getting a bad shave," the woman insists. "It is a mystery to me why a razor blade company would hire a woman to do a man's job, in the first place. It is also a mystery why, after proving they could make a blade that would last for ten to 15 shaves, the manufacturers would cheapen their product."

Where's The Justice Department?

WASHINGTON — Although some of the big television network have declined to give Mayor Daley of Chicago the time he requested to explain to the nation his side of the controversy over the disturbances in Chicago, the network is grave doubt whether a speech would be adequate to overcome the ill effects of the pictures that were shown on the screens throughout the country.

PROBABLY the only way that two sides of the story can be presented on television is to have certain scenes re-enacted which were not caught by the cameras in the first place. Much of the disorder in Chicago was in places where there were no television cameras. Rocks were thrown at police, acid was sprayed into their faces, and other acts of violence were committed which provoked the policemen. When they tried to arrest the demonstrators who engaged in such tactics, clubs had to be used. The television cameras caught the latter acts but not what had preceded.

EVEN IF ALL the police in Chicago who were the victims of these assaults were to tell their story on the air, it is doubtful whether many of the people who saw the few bits of film on TV screens would forgive the police for the use of their clubs. Unless pictures can be made of both sides in a street fight or a riot, there will always be charges of unfairness and bias.

The tendency also is to deal with the demonstrators as if all of them did the same things. Most of them started out to be orderly. The few activists who stirred up the trouble did so undoubtedly as a result of plans made beforehand. Members of Congress are saying so in their speeches. In an editorial last Tuesday, the Chicago Tribune said:

"THE REVOLUTIONARIES who worked up street disorders here are well pleased with the results and are announcing that the melees at the Democratic national convention are just the prelude to 200 or 300 Chicago's between now and election day. They are going to hound the presidential candidates around the country and stir up more trouble.

"Tom Hayden, founder of the Radical Students for a Democratic Society, said: "WE ARE GOING to create little Chicagos everywhere. Our goal is to undermine the illegitimacy of government and to show it doesn't have any hope of governing without social change, beginning with an end to the war."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has warned that radical students are planning widespread attacks on American campuses this autumn. He says: "It is vitally important to recognize that these militant extremists are not simply faddists or 'college kids' at play. Their cries for revolution and their advocacy of guerrilla warfare evolve out of a pathological hatred for our way of life and a determination to destroy it."

THERE IS NO doubt that the general public is hardly aware as yet of the many seditious forces that are at work trying to break down law and order in America. Because a national political convention was being held at Chicago, it was a natural place on which the revolutionaries could center their attention. The strategy is to form what appears to be a peaceful demonstration. Then certain individuals in the crowd start to throw rocks and bottles at the police, and the consequence is a riot. But why, it is being asked, doesn't the U.S. Department of Justice prosecute the persons who cross state lines to instigate riots? The Chicago Tribune wonders about this same thing. It says:

"IF THE Justice Department had any courage or sense, it would proceed at once against the ringleaders who have openly boasted of their intent, in defiance of a law passed at this session of Congress prescribing prison terms and fines for agitators crossing state lines to incite a riot." The Political Scene

Humphrey On Law And Order

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is steering a middle road on the law and order issue, but the emphasis varies.

Three times since he won the Democratic presidential nomination in Chicago, Humphrey has spoken out on the issue which his strategists regard as Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon's chief campaign weapon.

IN AN interview here, Humphrey gave what most observers considered to be a defense of Mayor Richard J. Daley and Chicago police for their action in putting down the violence that surrounded the Democratic National Convention.

"We ought to quit pretending that Mayor Daley did something that was wrong," the vice president said in a radio interview. "He didn't condone a thing that was wrong. He tried to protect lives."

LATER, addressing a hometown welcoming rally in this lakeside town some 40 miles from Minneapolis, the vice president denounced "militant, strident, violent" persons for their tendency "to take to the streets to settle their problems."

But, in a New York television interview, Humphrey appeared to ease the tenor of his remarks.

Four times within half an hour he said Chicago police "did overreact in some instances."

AND HE SAID, "I really didn't have anything to do with what happened in Chicago except inside the convention."

As for Mayor Daley, he said, "I'm sure he didn't want to condone the beating of those people with clubs. I don't condone it."

He went on to suggest a sort of Johnsonian compromise, creation of a blue-ribbon committee to study "the actions of the demonstrators, the conduct of the police and the role of the media" in the Chicago disturbances.

HE SUGGESTED that a group such as the Ford Foundation might take the lead in forming such a committee which would be composed of criminologists, journalists, lawyers, media representatives, and sociologists, named by professional groups such as the American Association of University Professors, the American Association of Law Schools or the nation's journalism schools.

EARLIER, Humphrey basked in New York's bright sunshine and the approval of his supporters in organized labor as he marched smartly up Fifth Avenue for more than a mile, then took a reviewing stand in the city's first Labor Day parade in five years.

Although a few antiwar demonstrators turned up on the fringes of the group, some carrying signs such as "Hu-Bird, How Absurd," the day was generally free of the kind of incidents Humphrey's staff had feared might disrupt the affair.

Garden City To Entertain Regional Champ In Opener

GARDEN CITY — With the opening game set here Friday at 8 p.m. against Dawson, the Garden City Bearkats face a lot of hard work to get ready for the invasion by the regional champs.

The Kats come off with 1-1 records each time. One reason for the lack of sustained offense, said Woodley, was experimentation with combinations. Right now it looks like Steve Hirt, brother of Ron Hirt who made Bearkat history, will take over at quarterback Robert Hilger, a seasoned hand and outstanding performer, will be at halfback. Contesting for the other place will be David Hilger and Floyd Swartz.

Roger Lange, all-district, will be at one end and Johnny Schafer may be at the other, with David Hilger as relief. Kenneth Chandler, a tall freshman, however, could break in here. At guard, James Dubose, all-

Gino Beats Bills, Oilers Meet Chiefs

Gino Cappelletti gets his kicks out of kicking, but the Buffalo Bills sure wish he would find another way to amuse himself. The Bills did a fairly good job of short-circuiting Boston's offense Sunday—except Gino's toe.

The precision kicker connected on three field goals and an extra point to lead the Patriots to a 16-7 victory in the American Football League opener for both teams. Meanwhile, the AFL was aglow today over a couple of weekend games that didn't mean a thing—except a big dent in the elder National League's reputation.

ARTHUR ASHE, TOM OKKER SQUARE OFF

Can Big Service Beat Speed?

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Can a big service overpower speed and finesse in a championship tennis battle? This was the question that divided the court wizards today as Arthur Ashe, the U.S. Army lieutenant from Highland Falls, N.Y., and Tom Okker, the quick-giant-killer from The Netherlands, squared off in the men's singles final of the U.S. Open Tournament.

Ashe, semifinalist at Wimbledon and bidding to become the No. 1 men's player in the world, was going for his 26th consecutive singles victory against Okker at 2 p.m. Big Spring time before a national television audience (CBS).

The service also was the determining factor in the jolting surprise in the women's final which saw Virginia Wade, pretty 24-year-old British girl with a thunderbolt service and a powerful forehand, dethrone Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the two-time Wimbledon winner, 6-4, 6-2.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Bruce Crampton said last week that it takes four super rounds to win a tournament in pro golf today, and he turned out to be a prophet—for Billy Casper.

When the sun returned Saturday and Sunday, Casper needed only 26 putts for each 18 hole round. It was "some of the best putting I've had in several years," Casper said.

Muskie Receives Rousing Sendoff At SA Reception

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Campaigning for himself outside Maine for the first time in his political career, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie found himself virtually unknown here Sunday and he frankly admitted it.

But his debut here was viewed as a success by some 800 South Texas Democrats, who gave him a rousing sendoff at a huge dinner reception that closed his grueling nine-hour campaign kickoff.

"I had some real reservations in coming to Texas," the Democratic vice presidential candidate told the dinner crowd, which represented a broad cross section of party members.

"I'm quite aware that the average citizen had never heard my name before last week," Muskie said bluntly. But he drew excellent response at each stop on his list, including the Alamo where he urged Americans to "get our emotions under control and start using our heads."

U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, one of Muskie's principal escorts throughout the day here, deemed the long visit to the Alamo city and HemisFair a definite success.

"The climax was the supper meeting," Gonzalez said. "It reflects the basic democratic unity here."

Democratic officials from more than 20 Texas counties and a liberal sprinkling of liberals attended the meeting, Gonzalez said.

Muskie visited HemisFair twice during the day — first to deliver a speech during a Polish-American Day prayer ceremony, and later for a quick VIP tour of the sprawling exposition.

COMMON SENSE

"Which one is he?" and similar remarks from onlookers along his HemisFair route underlined the identity problem Muskie faced in his San Antonio visit. In the city itself, he passed virtually unnoticed. However, some said this was because his tour here came on very short notice.

At a news conference, Muskie remarked that he was "very happy with this reception here in San Antonio. I'm glad I had an opportunity to have my name known in just a few more households."

Muskie repeatedly stressed a common sense approach to the problems facing America.

"This is no time to make votes simply by playing upon the discontent and the uneasiness of the voters," he told his audience at the Alamo.

Administration Decides Where It Will Whittle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration has decided where it will whittle and where it will cut, according to a report that it will cut $1.5 billion in spending cuts imposed by Congress.

The agency-by-agency figures released Sunday add up to $1.5 billion, but $3.5 billion.

The administration doesn't have to shoot for the full amount, Budget Bureau Director Charles J. Zwick said, because Congress in passing the cutback legislation reserved to itself the right to take the first bite.

And it appears, Zwick said, the lawmakers will make cuts totaling about $3.3 billion before adjourning.

The reductions made on Capitol Hill and those the administration intends to make total nearly $7 billion because amendments and re-estimates have added $900 million since January to proposals subject to reduction by the cutback law.

Agency heads have been told, Zwick said, that the $3.5 billion reduction will be made by cutting:

- $1 billion from defense expenditures, but without cutting into funds for the Vietnam war.
- $1 billion in loan programs of agencies such as the Small Business Administration, Farm Credit Administration and Export-Import Bank.
- $200 million from the federal-aid highway program, by delaying certain projects.
- $100 million from the space program, but without touching the Apollo man-on-the-Moon project.
- $1.2 billion from all other civilian agencies, but with high-priority social programs such as "safe streets," low-income housing and manpower training protected from cuts.

While the $989 million in cuts required of the Defense Department is the greatest for a single department, other agencies will be hit harder considering the size of their operations.

Police are investigating the breaking and entering Sunday morning of a residence at 902 North Gregg.

Police received a call at 3:40 a.m. Sunday about a man in the home of Linda Mae Jackson, Mrs. Jackson's two granddaughters, Velma Jean and Linda Hunt, were awakened by the man, and Velma screamed. Mrs. Jackson turned the light on and the man ran into a storeroom in the rear of the house.

When police arrived after being called, the man left the house by jumping through a window, police said.

Officers are also investigating a reported rape of a 23-year-old Negro woman Sunday morning. No charges were filed Monday morning.

Eggers Hails School Ideas

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Republican gubernatorial nominee Paul Eggers says a report by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education was very encouraging. Eggers said Sunday that the committee report incorporated many facets of a program he presented last week. "Excellence in Texas education will help more citizens reach full potential," Eggers said. "Ignorance and those who condone it should be every man's enemy." The report calls for increased spending and various structural changes to put Texas in the national leadership in public education by 1980.

Kicking Her Man Under Bed Hurts

ROME (AP) — Anna Magnani kicked and kicked when it hurt she kicked again for the motion picture cameras at the man under her bed. And when she finished kicking, Miss Magnani, 60, went to a doctor who told her she had broken her foot. "It hurt, but I kept kicking my screen husband as I was supposed to," she said. Her screen husband for the film "The Secret of Santa Vittoria" is Anthony Quinn but a double was under the bed during the kicking.

Black Panther Leader Guilty, Plans Appeal

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Black Panther leader Huey Newton, 26, was convicted Sunday night of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of a white policeman. The jury took four days to reach a verdict. Newton's attorney, Charles R. Garry, moved immediately for an arrest of judgment and a new trial, and said later he would appeal the conviction to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

HUEY NEWTON

ARMED CAMP
The verdict "didn't make any sense," Garry told newsmen. The defense contended that the dead policeman hated Negroes and harassed them. Newton could be imprisoned from two to 15 years. A hearing was set for Thursday on Garry's motions.

The jury of seven women and five men found Newton guilty of shooting patrolman John Frey last Oct. 28 in a West Oakland Negro district.

The prosecution said the killing occurred after Frey stopped a car containing Newton and another Negro for questioning about traffic tickets. Frey was shot five times and died. Another officer, Herbert Heanes, was critically wounded, and Newton was shot once.

The verdict ended a eight-week trial conducted in the atmosphere of an armed camp.

'BLACK POWER'
Dozens of policemen were in the courthouse during the trial and spectators were searched daily before entering the courtroom.

Negro militants had predicted trouble if the verdict went against Newton but the city was quiet today.

Newton stared expressionless when the verdict was read. As the jury was dismissed, an unidentified person among the spectators shouted, "Black Power!"

The jury found Newton innocent of a second count, assault and battery with a deadly weapon on Heanes. It ruled, too, that Newton's 1964 knifing conviction was a felony and that therefore the current manslaughter conviction could carry a penalty of two to 15 years in prison instead of one to 15.

The jury contained one Negro, its foreman.

Talks To Open NY Schools For Million Pupils Waged

NEW YORK (AP)—Meetings between school and teachers' union officials continued today in an effort to open public schools for 11 million pupils.

No definite word came from the session. Mayor John V. Lindsay said Sunday that the schools would open. So did Mrs. Rose Shapiro, president of the Board of Education.

IMPOSSIBLE
But Albert Shanker, head of the 53,000-member teachers' union which voted overwhelmingly to strike, said there would be "picket lines about every school" even if agreement was reached. Opening of the schools today "would be impossible," he said.

Rhody McCoy, head of the governing board of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville demonstration school project in Brooklyn dismissed 10 teachers last spring for alleged insubordination and touched off the crisis, intimated Sunday there might be a compromise but added, "they're forcing it on us." Shanker, president of the United Federation of Teachers, has demanded reinstatement of the 10 teachers to their original classroom duties.

McCoy countered, "They will be brought back against our wishes and will be reassigned."

McCoy added the teachers would be given "appropriate work," including classroom duty.

BOARD BALKED
The mayor intervened Saturday in the dispute, and conducted five hours of negotiations in City Hall Sunday.

Dr. Bernard E. Donovan, superintendent of schools, was asked Sunday whether the safety of the children might be endangered in the absence of the teachers, and supervisors in event of a strike. The supervisors' association said its members will not work if a strike occurs.

"We'll handle it tomorrow morning," Donovan replied. "If nobody shows up, obviously nobody shows up."

The 10 teachers who appealed their dismissals were cleared by a trial examiner.

Afterward, Donovan ordered the teachers' reinstatement. But the Brooklyn governing board balked.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An estimated 25,000 Cubans, described by a police officer as the largest exile gathering since President John F. Kennedy spoke to Bay of Pigs veterans at the Orange Bowl in 1961, met Sunday to honor their patron saint, the Virgin of Cobre.

Three Cuban refugees, fresh from a five day journey to Florida aboard a raft made of truck tires, led the procession to the seaside site of a shrine to the saint. Traffic officer Brune Moore, who estimated the crowd, said the procession of boats and cars lasted five hours.

"The virgin saved us and we have come to give thanks," said one of the trio, Heriberto Jimenez Rodriguez, 21.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South, both vulnerable with both 60 part scores, you hold:
♠AJ92 ♣7 ♠K2 ♠KQ10563
The bidding has proceeded:
East South
What do you bid?
A.—While this hand has the offensive power to justify a take-out double, we prefer a simple overall of two clubs, first, because that is enough to complete the game and, secondly, a double may result in embarrassing heart bids from partner if he happens to have length in that suit. Furthermore, a simple overall of two clubs may make it convenient for you to compete with spades on the next round if partner does not participate immediately.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKJ94 ♣KJ963 ♠7 ♠K6
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
4 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Despite partner's previous pass, we would feel very bullish about slam prospects. Any hand in which partner holds two aces should give us a splendid play for a slam in spades, and it doesn't much matter which aces they are. We would, therefore, bid four no trump, which in this case is a clear-cut Blackwood bid and, even if partner has only one ace, a bid of five spades should certainly be safe.

Q. 3—Your side is vulnerable, partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♠Q42 ♠10753 ♠Q65 ♠K52
What is your response?
A.—Despite the fact that you have ample trump support, you must refuse to raise to two hearts. This hand lacks the seven points in support of such a declaration. Some action, however, must be taken since you have the necessary high card strength to keep the bidding open. The proper procedure is to respond with one no trump. Observe that in support of hearts this hand is worth only six points (a point is deducted when raising with a 4-3-3).

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQ8652 ♠J8 ♠J964 ♠3
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 3 ♠
What do you bid now?
A.—This is a very fine spade holding for a partner who has made a game demand bid. It is well to paint a picture of your hand in one call. That would be a bid which says, "Partner, I have a very good spade suit. Our choice is, therefore, four spades. With this knowledge, partner should be able to judge the trick taking possibilities of the hand."

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠443 ♠75 ♠92 ♠987654
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 NT Double ?
What do you bid?
A.—Two clubs. With this hopeless hand containing a six-card suit, the rescue bid is indicated, for there is too good a likelihood that West will leave in the contract of one no trump doubled.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK72 ♠53 ♠A6532 ♠104
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—You have a very fine spade holding for a partner who has described your hand, and a bid of three no trump is clearly indicated. It would be poor strategy to bid three diamonds at this point. Such a bid would show a rebiddable suit and partner, relying on a better diamond suit, might be induced to take more drastic action.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with one spade, and you hold:
♠6 ♠AQJ96 ♠AKJ842 ♠2
What is your response?
A.—While the hand has the power to justify a jump shift despite the lack of spade support, our vote is not for three diamonds, for the reason that we wish to conserve bidding space in order to show a six-five distribution. This will necessitate bidding the hearts seven after having shown diamonds, and a jump shift would use up too much room. Bid two diamonds.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, partner has opened with a bid of two diamonds, and you hold:
♠AQJ52 ♠KJ84 ♠J9 ♠1084
What is your response?
A.—With eight points in high cards, including one-half quick trick, you have the textbook ingredients for a response of three no trump. A bid of two spades of hearts is not approved, for a suit response to an opening demand bid should show a better suit than either of these.

Voting Under Way In ASCS Races

Voting is now under way to elect Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committees in Howard County.

Those eligible to vote are land owners or tenants over 21 years old who can earn crop payments. Farmers under 21 may vote if they actually operate a farm. Farming interests do not have to be in Howard County, he said.

Hammack said about 2,000 ballots were mailed out Friday to producers in the five communities in the county. The ballots should be returned to the ASCS office, 1119 Gregg, when they will be counted by the county ASCS committee. The committee will meet that day also to select ACP practices for 1969.

The county convention will be held Sept. 25, and the community committees will appoint one member and two alternates from each community to the new county committee, which will take office Oct. 1, Hammack said.

Three nominees from each community will be elected with the one receiving the most votes to be designated as chairman of the community committee.

More Credit Jacks Pound

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — The Bank of International Settlements today announced a new $2-billion credit to bolster the pound sterling.

The credit, which will make foreign currencies available any time holders of pounds want to exchange them in large quantities, will run for 10 years, with a three-year grace period after that before any repayments need be made.

Twelve countries will participate: Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, West Germany, Italy, Japan, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States.

Ottmar Emminger, No. 2 man in the West German federal bank, told newsmen that West Germany would make available $400 million of the amount.

West Germany, the central banks of the 12 nations agreed on the credit at a meeting that lasted until after midnight Sunday. The purpose is to restore confidence in the pound, which once more has been badly weakened by Britain's persistent tendency to spend more abroad than it earns.

The credit also assures holders of pounds—chiefly the oil-rich Arabs of the Middle East—of other currencies into which they can convert their sterling holdings if they desire. But the British and the central bankers hope that the granting of the credit will engender so much confidence in the pound that much of the credit will not have to be used.
