DERAILMENT

Woman Killed, 49 Injured At HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Eleven mini-monorail cars derailed at the HemisFair Sunday, killing one person and injuring 49 after one of the trains struck another.

Thirteen of the injured remained in hospitals today as an investigation began to determine the cause of the accident.

Witnesses said the cars derailed after one train struck another from behind as they were rounding a curve by the HemisFair infirmary.

Bystanders and fair employees rushed to help the injured from the cars, two of which had fallen into a lagoon beside the 12-foot-tall monorail. One woman was saved from drowning.

The dead woman was identified by hospital officials as Emilee Schmidt, 65, of Ellisville, Mo. Her sister-in-law, Ella Schmidt, 71, of Glencoe, Mo., was injured and in fair condition.

One of the injured Ella Jacobs, 74, of Hallsville, Mo., was listed in serious condition.

The tragedy struck on the day HemisFair had its second highest attendance. HemisFair spokesmen said $9,678 visited the fair Sunday, bringing the total to 5,551,322 since the fair opened April 6. The record one-day high is 100,486. The exposition closes Oct. 6.

It was the third known mishap involving the brightly colored trains and the first in which anyone was injured, officials said. Fire damaged four cars during a test run before the fair opened, and one officer said a collision similar to Sunday's occurred in the early days of the fair. It was minor, however, and no one was injured, he said.

Police blamed Sunday's collision on faulty brakes but John Moore, manager of the 1.5-mile long monorail system, disputed this account.

Some of the trains resumed operations Sunday night.

Park To Get Picnic Sites

Holcomb Supply Co., of Tarzan, has been awarded contract for the construction of 12 picnic units with shade shelters at the Big Spring State Park. The contract calls for the expenditure of $10,376.

The shelters will supplement 11 existing sites. The park already has a children's play area and pavilion. Construction is slated for completion in November.

The 322-acre park is slated for additional improvements in the years ahead.

Train Accident

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Penn Central train traveling an estimated 80 miles an hour with 178 passengers aboard struck a derailed freight train Sunday injuring about 100 persons.

Six persons were hospitalized. A railroad spokesman said the collision took place as the passenger train, headed from New York to Philadelphia at approximately 80 miles per hour, hit derailed cars of a freight train which had just left a Penn Central yard on an adjacent track.

The high speed locomotive lurched forward after the initial impact and came to rest on its side on the embankment along with the second car — an empty passenger car.

The remaining five cars remained precariously balanced on the track.

Child Recipient Of Heart, Lungs Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — A two-month-old girl who received the transplanted heart and lungs of another infant Sunday died today in Texas Children's Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said Debra Lynn Lee of Hufsmith, Tex., died at 10:40 a.m. of a cardiac arrest.

Debra received the new organs in a 57-minute operation Sunday.

The hospital spokesman stressed it was too early to predict the eventual outcome of the operation.

Dr. Robert D. Bloodwell, a transplant team member, said it was the first time the heart and lung of one donor were transplanted into one recipient.

The heart transplant was the 13th performed in Houston and the third involving infants.

Debra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee, received the organs of a one-day-old unidentified infant who had congenital brain defects, a hospital spokesman said.

The donor died at 7:30 p.m. CDT. Minutes later a surgical team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley began the operation. Debra was aided by a respirator 27 minutes during surgery which was completed 8:27 p.m.

TWO PUT WALLACE AHEAD OF HUMPHREY

Nixon Leads In 5 Polls

By The Associated Press

Four national surveys and a California state poll show Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon decidedly leading Democratic Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in the presidential race.

Time and Newsweek magazines, the Gallup Poll and a New York Times survey all show that Nixon would win if the election were held today.

Both Newsweek and the Times say Humphrey would get fewer electoral college votes than third party candidate George C. Wallace, although Newsweek says Humphrey's popular vote would be higher.

Time gives Nixon 34 states with 328 electoral votes, Humphrey 10 states and the District of Columbia with 121 votes and Wallace only four Deep South states with 39 votes.

Although the Gallup Poll showed that Humphrey had gained slightly since August, he still trailed Nixon by 12 percentage points.

A California state poll published in the Los Angeles Times gave Nixon 43 percent of the vote in California and Humphrey 34 percent. Wallace got seven percent.

The Times' presidential survey shows that Nixon would win

30 states with 346 electoral votes if the election were held today. Humphrey would carry six states with 42 votes and Wallace would get eight states with 77 votes. Six states were too close to call, the Times said.

Newsweek gave Nixon 31 states with 329 electoral votes, Wallace 9 states with 89 electoral votes and Humphrey 7 states with 54 electoral votes.

The latest Gallup Poll, based on interviews conducted between Sept. 3 and Sept. 7 gave Nixon 43 percent, Humphrey 31 and Wallace 19.

Gallup said that Humphrey's biggest problem appears to be keeping Democrats from defecting. In the latest Gallup poll, 27 per cent of the Democrats said they would vote for Nixon or Wallace, but only 10 percent of the Republicans said they would not vote for Nixon.

In addition, Gallup said, only one independent in five supported the Democratic ticket.

Gallup said Wallace continued to hold his lead in the South with 38 percent of the vote, compared with 31 for Nixon and 25 for Humphrey.

Outside the South, the former Alabama governor's greatest strength was in the Midwest, where he gets 15 percent.

Rules Decision Doesn't Apply

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals held today that a U.S. Supreme Court decision on the right to counsel at a revocation of probation proceeding does not apply retroactively.

The court denied an appeal by Johnny Crawford from a 1955 conviction in Bexar County for robbery by assault. Crawford's sentence was enhanced to life because of a 1951 conviction for assault with intent to rob.

Crawford contended he was not represented by counsel at the revocation of probation proceeding after the 1951 conviction.

Nixon Will Avoid Head-On Fussing

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon, convinced he is now ahead in the race for the White House, was described today as determined to avoid head-on, running arguments with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

That word came from Nixon's national political director, Robert Ellsworth, as the Republican presidential nominee prepared to resume his campaign.

Ellsworth said Humphrey evidently is trying to entice Nixon into a long distance debate, a situation in which the Republican candidate would spend his time replying to the charges and complaints of his Democratic opponent.

Nixon's strategy: Leave the direct responses to Humphrey and the Democrats to others in his campaign lineup—Ellsworth among them—and choose his own issues and arenas for attacks on his rival.

His standard theme, built into each campaign speech was sounded this way by Nixon at a Saturday rally in Santa Barbara.

"One man nominated by his party in Chicago says to the American people 'I supported the policies of the past four years.' He says, 'I helped to make those policies. I have no disagreement with those policies' and he says, 'Let's go forward with more of the same.'"

Wallace Back On Texas Visit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — George Wallace brings his campaign for the presidency to Texas today with a rally, speeches, and a private meeting with well-heeled supporters on tap during the two-day visit.

Wallace is scheduled to land at Dallas' Love Field at 11 a.m., then rushed to the Adolphus Hotel for a meeting with the Wallace-backing Patriots Club.

Dr. M. E. Bradford, a local Wallace coordinator, said memberships in the club go for $1,000, $2,500 or $5,000.

Wallace advance man Tom Drake, a Dallas state representative, said Wallace plans to spend most of Monday afternoon taping interviews at local Dallas television stations.

Monday at 6 p.m. in Dallas Memorial Auditorium, Wallace will speak at a $25 per plate dinner, then appear again at the same place at 8 p.m. for a public rally.

HHH Considers Debate Is Vital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has set out to gain a face-to-face debate with Richard M. Nixon in an effort to overcome the substantial lead the political polls say the Republican has mounted in the drive for the White House.

Humphrey called Sunday for Nixon to "appear on network television to debate the issues of this campaign before the American people."

Nixon has failed to provide "unequivocal statements of position" on the three major issues of gun control legislation, the confirmation of Abe Fortas to be chief justice and ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, Humphrey charged.

With the political polls showing the Democratic vice president lagging far behind, Humphrey is said to consider a debate with Nixon vital to his efforts to defeat the Republican candidate.

The vice president, who has taken a break from his road campaign until Tuesday when he appears in upstate New York, also said any debates should be expanded to include the vice presidential candidates.

Calling for ratification of the nuclear arms control pact, passage of gun control laws and confirmation of Fortas, Humphrey suggested Nixon may be vacillating on these matters in order to appeal to people on both sides of the issues.

In another Sunday development, Humphrey told a meeting of the Zionist Organization of America that he favors continuation of U.S. military aid to Israel to keep the Mideast arms race in balance.

Texas Naval Reserve Unit Will Be Deactivated Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Naval Reserve squadron from Dallas, called up along with five others after North Korea seized the USS Pueblo last January, will be deactivated in the near future, the Pentagon said today.

The squadron has officers and men from a wide area including Fort Worth and Dallas.

When it was called Jan. 25, the squadron had 21 pilots, 5 ground officers and 109 enlisted men. Some others were added later.

The squadron trained in Dallas until it moved to the West Coast in June.

It was the second major step taken by the Navy involving reservists within a week.

On Friday the Navy announced early releases for 30,000 Navy men who were serving two-year active duty tours under a special reserve program.

The six air squadrons will be returned to civilian life by Nov. 1, the Pentagon estimated.

"The processes necessary to transfer the squadrons to ready reserve status began today," an announcement said. "The squadrons are expected to move from their present operational fleet bases to their respective reserve air stations in the near future."

The Pentagon, which has been criticized recently for the way it has utilized reservists, said the six units were called up to improve the aviation strength of the Navy and to provide additional resources to meet contingencies that might have arisen.

Two Officials Decline To Testify On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Johnson administration officials declined today to testify at Senate hearings on Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice, asserting executive privilege.

They took the position that under this doctrine, which is based on the confidential nature of conferences within the executive branch of the government, it would be improper for them to give testimony.

LETTERS

Similar letters were sent to Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Senate Judiciary Committee by Undersecretary of the Treasury Joseph W. Barr and by W. Devier Pierson, associated special counsel to President Johnson.

Their letters were placed in the record shortly before Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., testified that Barr had told him after an appropriations committee meeting on May 27 that Pierson and Fortas had cleared an appropriations bill amendment to provide Secret Service protection for presidential candidates.

One of the issues raised by opponents of Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren is that he has participated in executive and legislative affairs since becoming a member of the court in 1965.

Allott told the committee he had no occasion to doubt Barr's veracity and therefore concluded that "Justice Fortas had indeed been involved in the formulation of this legislative amendment."

DECLINED

Earlier Fortas himself had declined to return for further interrogation and Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford asked to be excused from appearing as a witness.

This left Allott as the only remaining witness before a scheduled vote Tuesday on the Fortas nomination, which has been stalled in the committee since Johnson submitted it to the Senate on June 26.

Subpoenas were issued over the weekend for two additional witnesses, former White House speechwriter Richard Goodwin and Daniel Yergin, author of an article in the July 22 issue of New York magazine.

Subpoenas were issued over the weekend for two additional witnesses, former White House speechwriter Richard Goodwin and Daniel Yergin, author of an article in the July 22 issue of New York magazine.

However, committee counsel John Holleman said the committee has not yet been able to serve either subpoena.

Allott testified that Barr told him at the May 27 appropriations committee meeting that he had been on the telephone to the White House and "this is the amendment they want... it has been gone over by Devier Pierson and Abe Fortas, they have cleared it."

Against Weakening Gun Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott urged the Senate today to reject what he said were weakening amendments to the gun control bill, including one he said would exempt ammunition controls for nearly 90 per cent of all weapons.

EXCLUDES

"It excludes from coverage ammunition of the type that killed President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Medgar Evers to take but a few examples," the Pennsylvania Republican said in a prepared speech.

Scott's appeal came as the Senate prepared to start voting on a series of amendments on the bill. Rifles, shotguns and ammunition would be added to the already enacted ban on mail order sales of handguns under the proposed law.

The bill as introduced also would prohibit sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition to persons under age 18, handguns and ammunition to those under age 21, and sale to out-of-staters of any firearm.

Scott said that in addition to the amendments amendment three other amendments added by the Senate Judiciary Committee would incorporate exceptions that "substantially endanger its effectiveness":

—Authorizing issuance of "collector's licenses" which Scott said would virtually exempt a person from all controls in the bill.

—Permit over-the-counter sales of firearms to persons from adjoining states so long as firearms laws of neither state involved were violated.

LOOSEN

—Loosen standards to permit issuance of a dealer's license to a person who does not conduct commercial operations.

COORDINATING BOARD CLARIFIES ENROLLMENT LIMITS

Midland-Odessa College Wins Approval

DALLAS (AP) — The Coordinating Board of the Texas higher education system approved establishment of new Texas colleges today and at the same time clarified a controversial list some interpreted as a recommendation to limit enrollments at some schools.

The board of the Texas College and University System approved establishment of new colleges at Odessa-Midland, Corpus Christi, San Antonio and two at Houston. It also called for a new school at Laredo under Texas A&I University at Kingsville.

The legislature makes the final decisions on new schools. Committee reports were presented by Tom Sealy of Midland.

The board also made it clear that enrollment limits listed earlier for schools were only for planning purposes and are subject to review. This clarification removed one main point of controversy.

The committee recommended that no action be taken at this time on the establishment of a new senior-level school in the Dallas-Fort Worth area until the University of Texas plan for the North Texas area can be given consideration. This will be at a public hearing in Austin Oct. 11.

A delegation from Laredo had asked for the establishment of a senior college but the committee said the area at the present time does not meet the criteria for an independent school.

But it said the Laredo area has needs which should be met immediately.

The committee also said the Tyler area cannot qualify now for a senior-level college but the board should give consideration to such a project in 1973, when it is believed that the Tyler area will have sufficient population for such a school in the committee's opinion.

The new construction program and the limitation on enrollment at existing institutions are major points in a master plan for the state's system of higher learning projected to 1980.

The Texas Legislature, which has the sole power to create and finance new schools, will have the final word on where and when new institutions will be created.

The study being considered by the board estimates that Texas Colleges and Universities, including private schools and junior colleges, will grow from the present 348,000 students to 707,000 by 1980, when an estimated 90 per cent of the college-age population will live in 22 metropolitan areas.

The new school proposed by the study for this area is a new school for Midland-Odessa, offering only junior, senior and master's level work, to open in 1973 and reach an enrollment of 4,800 by 1980. It would supplement the present junior college at Odessa.

Chicago Police Crushed Plan For Insurrection?

CHICAGO (AP) — A program presenting Chicago's official version of disorders during the Democratic National Convention produced scant new information and showed little of police clashes with demonstrators, critics contend.

Leaders of the peace demonstrators charged Sunday night after the television and radio broadcast that the city had failed to prove its charge that the protesters planned to discredit the government.

However, Robert J. O'Rourke, a Chicago alderman and Republican candidate for state's attorney, said the program "clearly documented how the police crushed a well organized plan for insurrection."

Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, ordered the program produced because he said telecasts during convention week presented a one-sided account of the street violence.

STRATEGY

The one-hour show, titled "What Trees Do They Plant?" and subtitled "Strategy of a Confrontation," was broadcast by more than 140 television stations across the country.

The show concentrated on comments from police officials and previously televised interviews with demonstration leaders.

Many of the film clips depicting the week-long confrontation between police and protesters were shot from long range.

David Dellinger, 50, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee, an umbrella group for demonstrators, said city officials "failed to build a case to justify either the extreme violence of the police . . . or to substantiate their reckless charges."

Sidney Lens, cochairman of the committee, criticized the documentary for omitting footage of police clubbing demonstrators. "The most serious thing (about the film) was what was left out," he said.

COURAGE OF YOUTH

Jerry Rubin, a leader of the Youth International Party—the Yippies—praised the film for showing "the courage of America's youth" in facing the police violence.

Rubin, 28, of New York, told a Chicago radio station the film might have been produced by Yippie infiltrators in Daley's administration.

The first half-hour of the program primarily dealt with comments made prior to convention week by Dellinger and Tom Hayden, 28, both of New York City, Rennie Davis, 28, Chicago, and Rubin, leaders of the demonstration activity.

Frank Babcock, the film's narrator, said the visitors were "hard-core radicals with three objectives: to disrupt the convention, paralyze the city and discredit government by discrediting the police."

NO ONE KILLED

The program showed little of the bloodiest conflict, the clubbing violence that took place Aug. 28 in front of the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

As scenes from the 18-minute confrontation flashed on the screen, the narrator observed, "not a shot was fired, no one was killed and few spent even a night in a hospital."

In the final third of the show Harry Homewood of the Chicago Sun-Times and Richard C. Wade, a history professor at the University of Chicago, analyzed the events.

Wade said "the guilt was spread across both sides" and recommended that demonstrators who acted illegally be fined and policemen who acted unprofessionally be disciplined.

A 55-minute audio tape, similar in content to the film, also was aired Sunday night by more than 1,000 radio stations across the country.

Dear Abby Talks Too Much—Asleep

DEAR ABBY: What does a wife (recently married) do when she discovers that her husband talks in his sleep? He is in military personnel and handles highly confidential material.

Please forward some solutions as this is no joke.

DEAR HEARS: Tell your husband that he talks in his sleep. As for solutions: I can recommend adhesive tape for HIS mouth and ear plugs for YOUR ears.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a very disturbing problem and would like your opinion.

A certain member of our family is living with a woman other than his wife. We live in a distant city and they are planning to visit us soon. It is assumed that we will provide overnight accommodations for them. Others in the family have given them a bed together.

We do not approve of this set up, but don't know exactly how to handle the situation. Any suggestions?

DEAR WANTS TO DO RIGHT: Disapproving as you do, don't provide them with a bed together!

DEAR ABBY: I am 20, married to a wonderful man and have a 6-month-old child. My problem is an extreme case of jealousy.

I won't let my husband watch certain shows on television because I'm jealous of the girls in it. I also cut all the pictures of pretty girls in bathing suits and revealing dresses out of the newspaper and magazines so my husband won't see them.

You are probably wondering why my husband puts up with this. Well, I sometimes wonder, too. I'm just lucky, I guess.

My husband has never given me any reason to doubt his love or faithfulness, so what is wrong with me? Am I normal? Please give me some advice.

JEALOUS BUT LUCKY

DEAR JEALOUS: A certain amount of jealousy is normal. It's caused by a combination of basic emotions. (The desire for love and attention, fear of losing love, and lack of self-confidence.) Since you don't doubt your husband's love or faithfulness, you are probably suffering from lack of confidence.

If you insist on cutting out those paper dolls, and try to keep your husband in "blindness," I recommend professional help. You may not be "lucky" forever.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CZECH'S RED LEADERS Tell Their People Not To Lose Hope

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders urged their people in weekend speeches not to lose hope despite tightening censorship and other restrictions demanded by the Soviet Union.

Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and other top officials took to television to bolster public confidence in their will to revive and continue the highly popular liberalization program while still meeting Moscow's insistence on measures to secure and perpetuate communism in Czechoslovakia.

SUN WILL SHINE

The speeches also made plain that there will be no more freedom for anti-Communist political activity.

The appeals for hope were directed partly at thousands of Czechs and Slovaks in Western Europe who are hesitating about coming home and at many who contemplate moving abroad if the borders aren't sealed.

A major Sunday television program was introduced with a panorama of the Prague skyline and a girl singing a melancholy folk song "After the tempest, the sun will shine again." National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky repeated the sentiment: "It will not be easy and it won't be right away, but the sun will shine again."

Smrkovsky pledged anew that the leadership will tell the truth to the people even when this is difficult. He said that "if it is not possible to tell the truth, I would prefer to keep quiet."

In spite of the appeals for hope and the relief felt over withdrawal of Soviet tanks and paratroopers from the cities to rural and frontier areas, the predominant mood was sadness.

TRAFFIC JAMS

With roads free again for civilian traffic, thousands poured into the countryside under gray skies Sunday, riding in trains and hordes of small automobiles.

Traffic jams miles long developed when everybody started back to Prague Sunday night. But the Czechoslovaks showed the discipline that has marked their nonviolent resistance to the occupation. The only honking and cutting out of line was by cars with foreign license plates.

A gas station attendant remarked that "everybody is out driving because they aren't sure about future petrol supplies once that new pipeline from Russia is brought in." He was referring to the pipeline provided for in a new economic agreement signed in Moscow last week by Premier Oldrich Cernik.

Smith Will Take Charge At Texas Demo Meeting

AUSTIN (AP) — Changeover of power in the Texas Democratic Party began today with the last meeting of the state Democratic executive committee named under Gov. John Connally.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, the party's nominee for governor in November, was on the program as principal speaker at the committee meeting.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Smith also will be the keynote speaker at the state Democratic convention Tuesday, the so-called "governor's convention" where the principal aims are to set up party machinery and a platform suitable to the gubernatorial candidate.

A new state Democratic executive committee to serve the next two years will be named by the convention, following recommendations of Smith.

Smith has indicated he will ask that Dr. Elmer C. Baum, Austin osteopath and a long time supporter of Smith, be named chairman of the state committee.

The gubernatorial nominee also will be the main speaker and guest at the pre-convention $12.50 a plate fund raising dinner tonight for the 7,500 convention delegates and alternates. Other speakers will include Connally, Speaker Ben Barnes, the party nominee for lieutenant governor, and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, word he could not attend.

Dr. Spock Socks It To Nominees

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock said Sunday he's confident the appeal of his conviction for conspiring to encourage young men to avoid the draft will be successful.

Spock, who was convicted with three others in Boston of conspiracy last spring, told newsmen: "Our lawyers are confident that the verdict will be reversed."

Then, the noted pediatrician commented on this year's major party candidates for president, calling it "a horrible choice."

He said Richard M. Nixon has "always been for a bloodier war." Hubert H. Humphrey is "appalling in the way that he supports (President) Johnson more enthusiastically than Johnson supports himself" and George C. Wallace is "worst of all because he doesn't understand anything."

because of crucial Senate committee meetings in Washington.

HONORS

This afternoon Smith will offer a pre-convention meeting of the platform committee his recommendations after a tour in which he talked with delegates in all of the 31 senatorial districts.

While pre-convention business session began today, the social part of the state meeting also gets under way with Mrs. Smith a special guest at a downtown hotel reception. Others to be honored will be Texas national committeewoman Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen Jr., Houston, state vice chairman Mrs. Seaboard Eastland, Houston, and Mrs. Scott Sayers, Austin, district committeewoman.

Aviation Meeting

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee will meet today at 5:15 p.m. in the conference room at the chamber.

There will be reports presented by several subcommittees that have been working on various phases of improvements at Howard County Airport, according to George McAlister, committee chairman.

NY Teachers Remain Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Teachers remained on strike today despite new state and city efforts to end a job security dispute and there were no classes for most of the city's 1.1 million public school pupils.

In the district where the trouble started, the Ocean Hill-Brownsville district of Brooklyn, eight schools opened with near-normal complements of teachers and pupils.

But most of the 55,000 members of the United Federation of Teachers stayed away from their schools after UFT, President Albert Shanker told them Sunday that resumption of classes today was impossible.

Shanker termed "fuzzy" a plan by State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. aimed at ending the strike. But he added that the UFT was considering the proposals, which included replacing the controversial governing board of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville eight-school district in Brooklyn.

The union's president predicted Sunday that the walkout would run longer than last fall's 14-day strike and that it "may be the longest teachers strike in history."

School Supt. Bernard E. Donovan said the school buildings would be open, and it was up to the district superintendents whether the children should be admitted.

Course Can Treble Your Reading Pace

When Teddy Roosevelt was president, he reportedly read three books a day. H. L. Mencken could wade through a 250-page book in an hour. Boswell noted that Johnson read as fast as he could turn the pages.

The average person, who moves along at 250 to 400 words per minute, may never equal these rates, but Reading Dynamics Institute confidently predicts anyone can jump his reading speed three times — and probably a lot more. At the same time comprehension and recall will be stepped up.

How this is done will be explained in a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the Texas Electric Service Reddy Room by Larry Jack Hill, who directs the institute work in this area. There is no charge and there is certainly no obligation in attending the demonstrations which will be repeated Thursday at the same time, place, and again Monday, Sept. 23.

The course, under the sponsorship of The Herald, carries with a guarantee of trebling reading speed if a student completes the course. Hill said the record of success exceeds 95 per cent.

Hooked On Corn

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Debbie Farrell, 10, landed a nine-pound carp Sunday at the city's Fontenelle Park lagoon. Debbie said she caught the fish on a "little teeny hook" with three pieces of corn on it.

Police Dogs For Awhile

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two puppies of unspecified breed and dubious parentage may now be classified as police dogs—at least temporarily.

Officer Ronnie Potts was making his rounds Sunday when he was stopped by two young women with two puppies they said they had just found.

The women asked Potts where they could find the Humane Society, and when he telephoned to try to find an animal aid station open on Sunday, the women quires no instruments or devices, is the discovery of left. Evelyn Neilson Wood, a Utah school teacher Awed when her professor went unerringly through her term paper at 6,000 words per minute and didn't miss a thing, she began looking for other rapid readers. From them she discovered common characteristics. Further research and refinement with students led to the perfection of the course. Educators, public figures, executives, etc. all have praised the course.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection in ointment or suppository form.

Poodle Judged Best In Dog Show Here

A tiny white Toy Poodle was judged best in match over 174 other entries Sunday in an American Kennel Club-sanctioned dog show sponsored by the Big Spring Kennel Club at Birdwell Park.

The "top dog" was owned by Louise Evans and shown by C. L. Eudy, Lubbock.

Other group winners were a Weimeraner owned by Ed Cerviski, an Afghan Hound owned by Bruce Ohwen, Galveston; a Doberman Pinscher owned by Sammy Marshall, Lubbock; a Miniature Poodle owned by Eudy; and a Miniature Schnauzer owned by Floyd Jetter, Odessa.

In a second division, best puppy in match went to a Yorkshire Terrier owned by Mrs. Tom Flowers and shown by Jim Moody, San Angelo.

Other sweepstakes winning puppies were an English Springer Spaniel owned by Carol Cannon, Big Spring, 3-6 months puppy dogs; a Novice B class was won by a Poodle owned by Franklin Roswell, Roswell, N.M., and Graduate Novice went to a German Shepherd owned by Annette Wilson, Lubbock. Open A class was won by a Shetland Sheepdog owned by Donald and Diane Bailey, Big Spring. Winner of Open B class was a Poodle owned by Sue Sewell, Big Spring, and Utility class winner was a German Shepherd owned by Ben Jernigan, training director of the local club. Eleven dogs competed in obedience classes.

Other features of the match was a puppy raffle won by Horace Beene, Big Spring, and crate raffle won by Bruce Allen of Webb AFB. The club also conducted a tattoo clinic which will be repeated in the near future to help raise funds for the upcoming AKC licensed point show and obedience trials slated Jan. 18, 1969.

The club also is offering a training class open to anyone interested in learning how to show in conformation. The class is held every Thursday evening except the third Thursday of the month when the club meets. The class is at College Park Shopping Center under direction of Mrs. Bill W. Tubb.

Judges for the match were George Nichols, Lubbock, Jimmy Helms, Midland, and Mrs. Davis, Lubbock for obedience.

The next meeting of the Big Spring Kennel Club will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and guest speaker will be Pat Hastings, Lubbock, who is an AKC licensed judge, who will speak on dog shows.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with one spade and you hold:

♠QJ743 ♥62 ♦K95 ♠A103

What do you bid?

A.—There is no satisfactory bid with this hand. It is too good for two spades and not good enough for a jump to three, which guarantees game. Nor is it the proper type for a jump to four. The best bet is to make a temporary bid of two clubs intending to give a spade raise on the next round.

Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable, partner opens with one spade and you hold:

♠2 ♥AK95 ♠AK75 ♣QJ96

What do you bid?

A.—No jump bid should be made because considerable space will be required to find the best contract. Bid two hearts with the intention of showing diamonds on the next round and, if it seems desirable, perhaps clubs later in the bidding.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠87 ♥Q107 ♦AJ87 ♠10982

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner's failure to jump the bid makes it clear he has not a powerful hand but merely one that is not suited to no trump. There cannot, therefore, be any hope for game, so you should pass.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A2 ♦AKQ975 ♠AKQJ6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

2 ♦ Pass 2 NT Pass

3 ♣ Pass 3 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—There is, of course, no doubt in your mind that you can fulfill a contract of six diamonds, but even a partner who holds the king of spades and it is suggested that you make a bid to "fish" for that card. That can be accomplished by bidding three spades, an obvious cue bid. If partner holds the king of that suit, it will be his duty to show it by bidding four spades, in which you can undertake to bid a grand slam.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AK2 ♥7 ♦AJ94 ♠A962

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

1 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Despite the fact that you have a singleton heart, your hand will make a most attractive dummy for partner, who apparently has a heart suit that is self-sustaining or close to it. The proper procedure is a bid of four clubs. Partner will realize that you are making no effort to play the hand in a minor suit, but that you are providing him with material information on which to base a final decision. A bid of three no trump cannot be accepted as correct by this department. Such a call would be made by opener on some mediocre hand, inasmuch as the jump rebid by responder is forcing in our system.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠AK3 ♥1052 ♦A63 ♣Q43

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Inasmuch as partner has previously passed, you must be convinced that you are not going places. This is definitely a part score hand and there is nothing wrong with hearts as trump.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AJ73 ♥Q10 ♦1063 ♠AQ105

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

3 ♥ Pass 4 ♣ Pass

4 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six hearts. Your trump support is very adequate for a suit in which partner has made a jump rebid. Your hand has the essential ingredients of an opening bid, and partner has opened the bidding and jumped. That spells slam.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A1076 ♥KJ965 ♦Q ♠AQS

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 ♣ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four clubs. This bid is preparatory to bidding six no trump, the safety of which we have no doubt. But there may be greater things in store for us and we had better tell all.

Socialists Snare Swedish Victory

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Socialists strengthened their 36-year grip on the Swedish welfare state with a smashing parliamentary election victory Sunday, the biggest vote of confidence the Social Democratic party has won since the war.

The outcome was a surprise to most political commentators, who had expected a much closer race. It also checked the trend dropped seven seats to a total of 105, while the Communists retained only three of their eight seats.

This gave the Socialists a majority of 17 seats, their first since World War II. In the last house, they had a working majority of nine because the eight Communists always voted with them.

Some slight re-arrangement of seats could result from the estimated 300,000 mail votes. Although the computers were keyed to reflect them, the volume was at least 65 per cent above the 1964 total.

Political commentators attributed the sharp reversal in Socialist fortunes, after a setback in local elections two years ago, to two factors:

1. The record size of the poll

—an estimated 89 per cent of the eligible voters—showed that the Socialists brought out supporters who in the past stayed home because they took a Socialist victory for granted.

REDS FADE

2. The Czechoslovak crisis aroused a feeling of uncertainty about the future which rallied voters around the party in power. It also accounted for the sharp drop in the Communist vote, most of which is thought to have gone to the Socialists.

Premier Tage Erlander, architect of Sweden's welfare state and the party leader for the last 22 years, told newsmen there was a third reason: "We have regained the confidence of the young voters and that is of decisive importance for the future."

REPUBLICANS MIX BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE

Tower Rips 'Third Party Dream'

FORT WORTH (AP) — Sen. John Tower called the American Party Presidential candidacy of Georgia Wallace today a "third party dream" that will never materialize.

He said the former vice president has "opened his arms to the South" and provided an opportunity for southerners to become "a major influence in the national party."

Southerners are coming to realize this as the campaign polarizes and "are not going to elect some congressmen and chase off after a third party dream," Tower said.

In proclaiming that the "scent of victory is in the air," the senator declared, "we are going to carry Texas in a landslide, elect Paul Eggers governor and elect some congressmen and some state legislators."

Chairman O'Donnell calls the convention to order at 9 a.m. Tuesday, touching off a flurry of speeches by some of the party's top figures.

Nixon's Camp Is Concerned About Wallace Supporters

FORT WORTH (AP) — Richard Nixon's Texas campaign director says a "dramatic effort" to woo George Wallace supporters will be made late in the Republican presidential campaign.

The director, Ken Towery, said in an interview Sunday: "I don't want to say what our plans are, because we don't want to let Mr. Humphrey in on it, although I believe the Democratic campaign is so disorganized in Texas that Humphrey wouldn't be able to take advantage of any inside information anyway."

He said the late-campaign injection planned for Texas would be, in a sense, as dramatic a development as it would be on the Democratic side if Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., were to take the stump with Vice President Hubert Humphrey in eastern and northern metropolitan areas.

"It will be a comparable situation, I think, to the voters we would be appealing to," Towery said. He did indicate that the late-campaign salvo would be aimed at East Texas, where traditional Democratic voters are believed to be leaning toward Wallace.

Biafra Asked To Give Up Fight For Independence

ALGIERS (AP) — The African summit meeting called on Biafra Sunday to surrender after moderates blocked a condemnation of Israel and settled for a resolution calling for peaceful settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

The action ended any hope that the OAU might come to Biafra's aid in the civil war. Earlier the chiefs of state, holding their fifth OAU summit meeting, voted 36-0 with two abstentions for the resolution calling for implementation of the U.N. Security Council's resolution on Israel and the Arabs.

It appealed to all members of the organization to back a United Nations resolution calling for a peaceful settlement of the Middle East crisis.

Pressure Boiler To Cost Millions

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — The Babcock and Wilcox Co. will build a universal pressure boiler standing 16 stories high for Centrap Illinois Public Service Co.

It will produce 42 million pounds of steam per hour for production of 600,000 kilowatts of electricity. Cost has been estimated as high as $11 million.

Components will be manufactured at the plant here and other Babcock and Wilcox installations.

Gifts Near Goal

Even though the formal campaign has passed, friends of the Bible Class fund continue to send in gifts and narrow the total needed to reach the $3,500 goal. Gifts over the weekend brought it to about $95 needed.

The Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sent in $5 and Mrs. D. C. Pyle and Mrs. Vera Audrain each sent in $2.50. Besides these, the St. Paul Presbyterian Church sent in a $25 pledge.

Ex-CORE Leader Likes John Brown

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Floyd McKissick, New York activist and former head of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) said Sunday that "if we were going to vote for anyone for president, it would be for John Brown."

Campaign To Cripple Columbia Anew Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — A campaign by student revolutionaries and activists to cripple Columbia University again begins Tuesday with two planned demonstrations at the 24-year-old Ivy League school.

The radical Students for a Democratic Society has planned its first major actions to coincide with the arrival of freshmen on the Morningside Heights campus. Many classes start Sept. 26.

So two contending forces, those in the university hoping to avoid further disruption on campus and the band of student radicals, begin acting out a drama to see whether Columbia can reopen in peace this term.

CHAOS — Student activists and college administrators throughout the country are expected to follow the developments closely. After the earlier outbreaks at Berkeley, Columbia has become the symbol of student unrest in the United States.

Columbia's school year ended in chaos last spring following clashes that involved administration, students, faculty and New York City police. A sit-in that began April 23 spread, and students quickly occupied five campus buildings. Eight days later, 1,000 city police cleared the buildings and arrested more than 700 persons.

Thant Takes Look At Population

PARIS (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today that population growth is one of the most critical and urgent problems of our times.

He said enlightened public opinion could "contribute to a better understanding of the problem and its consequences and of how to meet it."

That was the closest he had come to the subject of artificial birth control since Pope Paul VI renewed the Roman Catholic ban on it in a July 29 encyclical.

Thant made his remarks in a speech prepared to open the International Nongovernmental Organizations Conference on Human Rights at the headquarters here of the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

He had told the U.N. Economic and Social Council in Geneva July 8 that the United Nations should "establish the needed programming machinery" to help governments prepare projects "in family planning."

He did not use the term "family planning" today, though he recalled that he had reminded the council of "the problem of population growth."

Wrecks Claim Over 20 Lives

Motor vehicle accidents claimed over 20 lives in Texas during the weekend to take the lead in the grim parade of violent death.

The Associated Press counted 30 dead at a late hour with traffic accidents accounting for 21 deaths. Five persons died of gunshot wounds, three drowned and one woman was killed when a mini-monorail train at the San Antonio HemisFair fell from 12-foot high tracks.

The AP tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday.

Soviet Spy Ship Trailed By U.S.

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — The Navy said Sunday a Soviet intelligence vessel was within 125 miles of Barbers Point Naval Air Station on the island of Oahu.

The Soviet ship, Gavril Sarychev, was followed routinely by the U.S. Navy destroyer escort Charles Berry.

The Gavril Sarychev moved into Hawaiian waters more than a week ago, the Navy said, and has been traveling all around the islands.

Although the United States maintains a 12-mile fishing limit on its coasts, the vessel could move in as close as three miles and still be considered in international waters.

As long as the ship stays beyond the three-mile limit "we have no objection to that," a Navy spokesman said.

The Navy said it had not attempted to communicate with the Russian vessel.

Four persons died Saturday in a two-car head-on accident on State 174 near Rio Vista in North Central Texas. Dead were Mrs. Sharon Collins, 21, of Memphis, Tex., Miss Mary Dean Adams, 63, J. T. Tucker, 91, and Mrs. Annie Cody Carmichael, all of Blum, Tex.

FIERY DEATH
Miss Shirley Ann Derkowski, 19, of Houston; Daniel Jankowick, 23, of Chappell Hill; and Miss Jan Rozann Youngdoff, 16, of Houston, were killed in a two-car collision Saturday on US 290 in northwest Harris County. Mrs. Robbie Perkins, 23, of Beaumont burned to death Friday night when her automobile was struck by another on US 90 near Crosby.

TWO-CAR CRASH
Two persons were killed early Sunday in a two-car crash in El Paso. The dead were identified as Mrs. Rosa Ortega, 26, of Clint, Tex., and Tony Parra, 25, of El Paso.

Thomas Tolson, 33, of El Paso was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding was in collision with a pickup truck on US 80 about five miles west of Ranger, Tex.

Meow Of Fems To Dim Roars?

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The roar of the Princeton tiger should be mingled with the meow of a feminine feline.

That's the advise of a committee of Princeton University faculty and administration members who asked themselves, their students and colleagues across the country whether the ancient Ivy League school should admit women at the undergraduate level.

The report, made public Sunday and mailed out to the student body today, recommended that the university do so as quickly as possible. The committee recommended the admission of at least 1,000 women, so that the girls would comprise "not less than 25 percent of the undergraduate body."

The fall enrollment at the presently all male undergraduate college is 3,200. There are about 115 women among about 1,600 Princeton graduate students.

Gales Threaten Southern England

LONDON (AP) — Gales and torrential rain lashed southern England today, adding to the havoc caused by the worst floods in 15 years. The army moved in to help with relief and rescue work.

Road and rail services were disrupted over thousands of square miles from Kent in the east to Dorset in the west. Hundreds were homeless. Thousands of London commuters couldn't get to work. Authorities kept anxious watch for higher tides along the east coast and the Thames Estuary, where northeast gales brought a new and more serious threat. The combination of northeast gales and higher tides in 1953 caused Britain's worst floods of the century, with 307 persons drowned.

This time the only casualty so far was a woman swept away from her car as a river inundated a road in Sussex. Her daughter was swept away, too, but was found alive clinging to a tree half a mile down river.

The Weather Bureau said the nonstop rain which caused the flooding was the product of a freak collision of two air streams. One, heading north from the Bay of Biscay, was warm and moisture-laden. The other, from the northeast, was cold. Their impact brought severe electrical storms.

Helicopters went out at dawn to survey possible routes to several Kentish towns and villages reported completely isolated.

The River Wandle, normally little more than a stream broke its banks during the night at Wimbledon in South London, flooding scores of houses. Schools and a bingo hall on higher land were used as shelters.

Lewisham, a busy shopping center in southeast London, was like a lake. Water stood four feet deep in the streets. Damage to stocks in department stores was immense.

Road and rail links were hardest hit in Kent, Essex, Surrey and Sussex, the four counties which supply the bulk of London's commuters. Thousands of cars were abandoned. Mudslides poured over rail lines already disrupted by electrical failures.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Take Care To Store Expensive Linens

Dear Folks: If you are cramped for space and must store your linens in a closet or drawer along with other items, be careful what you are placing next to those precious sheets and pillowcases. The American Institute of Laundering says that when linens appear damaged, you should check carefully the contents of your storage space. For instance, they found where celluloid automobile frost shields and even celluloid knitting needles decomposed (as they were in a confined space without air circulation) and greatly damaged a large number of sheets stored near them.

So friends, be sure your linens are stored away from anything cellulose plastic just to be on the safe side. And many thanks to the Institute for bringing this to our attention. Perish the thought of having to replace a drawerful of linens in this day and age! Heloise

Dear Heloise: I know lots of housewives who don't use their food grinders or don't own one, because there's no place to use it in their homes.

For years I looked for a place to clamp my food grinder. Then one day I happened to think of pulling my kitchen table apart and clamping it on the INSIDE where the additional leaf goes.

It works nicely and I use a pot holder to cushion the clamp on top. Mrs. Joan Berrien

Dear Heloise: I had uncovered, wooden cornices over the windows in the living room that I didn't want. So I got the bright idea of turning them upside down and mounting them outside under the windows as fake window boxes.

They look so attractive and nobody knows they weren't meant for that very thing! Everyday Reader

Dear Heloise: Your readers might like my husband's idea of using my old oven mitts when working on our rose bushes. They keep the thorns from his hands much better than any gardening gloves he has tried. Bev and Jack

Dear Heloise: This is for women who have a hard time keeping the tie-backs of their curtain in place. First sew a small plastic ring to the tie-backs, then screw cup hooks into the window facing and simply hook the plastic rings over the hooks. They stay in place beautifully and there is no slipping off. . . .

Mrs. Marvin Miller This column is written for you the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint, problem or suggestion you'd like to share, write to Heloise today in care of the Big Spring Herald.

A LOVELIER YOU

Use Slant Board For Beauty Routine

By MARY SUE MILLER For health and beauty you need exercise and you need rest. The less ambitious among us wish for ways to 'indulge in both at the same time.

Well, it is possible. All you have to do is lie down with your feet higher than your head. You can lie on a pre-fab beauty slant board wherein one end rests on the floor and the other is elevated some 12 inches. Or you can stretch out on the floor with three firm pillows under your feet, two under your hips, and none under your head.

The slanted position provides "active" rest for your body, relieving tension and fatigue, so that tired feet and legs feel fresher; pangs in the shoulders and neck quiet down.

The position also sets up a routine of "passive" exercise. You don't move a muscle. Gravity does the work. When you are upended, the pull of gravity on your body is eased and circulation flushes up.

As a result your spine stretches tall and straight, and this improves your posture. There's a rejuvenating flow of blood throughout the body which brings a glow to the skin and softens fine lines.

A 15-minute session on the slant is a sure way to revive your looks before an evening engagement. A daily session is recommended to women who are prone to tension, lackluster skin, and such ills as varicose veins.

GIRL'S EXERCISES

Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for "Lazy Girl's Exercises." Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

A Devotional For The Day

It shall come to pass, that at evening time it shall be light. (Zechariah 14:7)
PRAYER: Eternal Father, how can we thank Thee enough for those exceeding great and precious promises whereby Thou hast sustained us through life? May we continue to step out boldly on them, knowing that they will never fail. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Environmental Trouble-Shooting

One of the more intriguing innovations of this emergent scientific era is the new environmental trouble-shooting program of the Smithsonian Institution.
The Smithsonian's Center for Short-Lived Phenomena speeds specially equipped and selected scientists to gather data on such variant things as locust plagues, erupting volcanoes, fish kills, earthquakes, tidal waves and other ecological disturbances, if possible while they are still happening. The on-the-spot research findings are then relayed to institutional scientists for thorough study.
Maximum speed and global coverage are the aims. Within a few months the center has quadrupled its tipster network to 384 correspondents in 71 countries. And it has access to a worldwide teletype network to pour back data from its roaming research teams.

As the center's director, Dr. Sidney Galler, explains, all this could lead "to the development of what I call 'the science of predictive ecology,' perhaps some day enabling men to predict the consequences of manipulating their environment" and moving on to constructive environmental controls.
That is a fascinating endeavor, as well as a highly promising one. It works toward the other pole of disaster relief, that is, disaster prevention. Only eight months in operation, the center is already getting more reports on important short-lived phenomena than it can handle, so it seems both probable and desirable that its program will continue to be rapidly expanded.

Inflation

Last week U.S. Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) reported his campaign expenses for the year at $17,900 in winning both the Republican and Democratic nominations. That's $3 more than he spent six years ago. That's what inflation will do for you.

David Lawrence Strange Situation

WASHINGTON — A strange spectacle in American political history is being witnessed today in the presidential campaign. Although the President of the United States heads a Democratic administration, and the platform adopted by the Democratic party at the recent convention supports its policies in Vietnam, a demand is being made by both the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees to "end the war" by taking what are called "calculated risks."

THE VICE-PRESIDENTIAL candidate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, has defined the differences between himself and the Administration by arguing that, while everybody is agreed that the war "must be settled not by military force but by negotiated settlement," the United States must "take some risk to end the war." He declared that it is on this point he begins to "part company" with the Administration on Vietnam policy. He sought to justify his attitude by claiming that the Administration has already changed its position as a result of the dissent which has been expressed in America.

Also, Mr. Humphrey has been saying that he could have accepted the minority proposal for the Democratic platform calling for an "unconditional" halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

APPARENTLY in an effort to deal with such varying comments, President Johnson, in a speech before the American Legion convention at New Orleans on Tuesday, made the following declaration:

"We are today exacting a very substantial price from the enemy. It requires patience of all of us. But we are limiting his capacity to bring weight against our forces and our

Billy Graham

My husband is nearing 70 and (although he won't admit it, is impotent). He imagines he is a woman charmer. AND HE HAS A GREAT DESIRE TO MARRY A YOUNGER WOMAN. He has even told me to hurry up and die so he can remarry. This distresses me but what can I do? M.W.

When some men begin to lose their manhood they suffer illusions and blame their incapacity on their wives. Wise is the man who recognizes the signs of aging and accepts them. Some of the couples I know who are most in love are those who are up in years, have accepted the fact that they have reached a new plateau in their marriage and have found a deepened love and respect.
But, now and again, we find men who just will not accept the fact that they are getting older. I recall that a woman wrote a columnist about this problem, and she said, "My husband is nearing 70 and he is still chasing women." The columnist answered: "Don't worry madam, I have a dog that chases cars, but if he caught one, he wouldn't know what to do with it."

The vacuum left by impotency is not easy to fill for some — the reason being that they have attached too great an importance to sex in marriage. But love can live on even stronger than ever, and the aging years can be the Golden ones, and even the most love-filled and enjoyable.
Your husband really needs God! Let's pray for his conversion.

John Cunniff Straight Talk From L-T-V's Boss

NEW YORK (AP) — At conventions on golf courses, in city clubs, at offices and wherever businessmen gather, the conversation is likely to be about Washington — not just political Washington, but the Washington of the regulators.

Sometimes it is alleged that the two are one, and to a degree that might be true. But the men who run the corporations and borrow and lend and trade the money feel particularly harassed these days by the regulators.

MOST OF the harpoons are being tossed by the Federal Trade Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, the Justice Department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

On the receiving end have been the advertisers, the drug manufacturers, the conglomerate corporations, the mutual funds, the stock exchanges, the brokers, the price hikers, the money lenders, the airlines, the carmakers.

Obviously the list could go on and on, which isn't at all odd, for many of Washington's agencies are set up for the purpose of examining and criticizing — and hopefully setting straight — the methods of business.

Many businessmen never have trusted Washington's theoreticians, feeling the battle for progress is fought in the marketplace rather than in books. Washington, they feel, not only is intruding but is hurting reputations and investments.

LITTLE WONDER then that one businessman, James J. Ling, chairman of Ling-Temco-Vought Inc., blew his normally cool demeanor in a speech a few days ago and accused government agencies of "business McCarthyism or witch-hunting."

His speech is especially interesting because it seems to be the honest view of a man and not the pap of a public relations department. An associate says that the contents were all Ling's and that he made changes even as he spoke.

Ling, who built Ling-Temco-Vought into a huge operation with sales close to $2 billion a year mainly by buying up other companies, was particularly offended by the FTC.

On July 9 that agency announced an "in-depth" investigation of the conglomerate merger movement, and said that the study would consider the "effects and implications" of the trend.

Ling felt the use of "implications," a word not otherwise defined, smacked of guilt by association techniques. Thus the reference to McCarthyism.

At another point Ling said that bureaucrats would socialize all business "and thus pave the way for the ultimate demise of the entrepreneurial system, which has been the cornerstone of this country's strength and growth."

THIS MAY be true, but Ling seems to have given a new meaning to the term. The dictionary calls an entrepreneur "the organizer of an economic venture," and Ling certainly is that.

Hal Boyle No Man's Land Horrors

NEW YORK (AP)—We women may come out of the hairdresser's looking like a million dollars, but I wouldn't give two cents for the way we look when we're inside.

These establishments are popularly known as beauty salons, but that's a misnomer. They're more like a chamber of horrors.

THE POSHER places perform the rites of rehabilitation in the privacy of individual booths, but the less ritzy parlors such as the one of which I am customarily a customer leave us all out in the open where we can see and be seen.

They do, however, charitably undertake the hair-coloring process in a more remote section of the shop where women with red, brown or purple locks can drip a little less publicly under their peaked plastic caps.

Their only consolation in this situation is that the incipient blonde across the way looks even worse than they do.

THERE IS NO end to the various adornments the operators can place on a woman's scalp for her session under the dryer. There are curlers the size of orange juice cans, clips in various colors, pink plastic pads to cover the ears, nets that hang stringly down the back and strips of sticky tape across the nape of the neck.

Nobody proposes to win any beauty contests in this setup, but these gals are potential Miss Americas compared to the women in various stages of the comb-out process.

With their hair teased straight out in every direction, and solidified in that position with streams of hairspray, they resemble a cross between Medusa and the three witches of Macbeth.

GIVEN TIME, these towering tresses can be coaxed down into less Vesuvian proportions and commanded to remain in that state through the application of still more lacquer. As a matter of fact, not one hair thus stiffened would have the temerity to move until the next week's appointment.

All this maneuvering takes place to the accompaniment of constant chatter conducted in voices loud enough to outpoint the decibel system of the whirring dryers. It is not the place to spend a quiet Saturday afternoon.

Fortunately, except for the male operators, beauty salons are no man's land. Lucky women—and lucky men!

Around The Rim Is Anybody Listening?

One thing and another: How often have you stood up in front of a group of people to deliver a discourse and come to the conclusion that no one is really paying attention to what you say?

You may be right. A spokesman for the American Psychological Association says that, at the most, only about 12 per cent of any one group absorbs what a lecturer has to say.

A FEW will be worrying about some travail. Others will be day-dreaming. Some will be concentrating on thoughts about food. Still others will be lost in erotic thought. One or two might even be fretting about redeeming their souls.

What a cross-section of thinking you'd get if you fired off a gun at sporadic intervals and asked your listeners to encode their thoughts and moods at that moment.

EXPERIMENTS conducted by the American Psychological Association also have proved that, no matter how many kids complain about school and church, they are happier there than at home or play.

And what do the kids under ten years of age think about? They dream of the time when they will be older, whereas the mature — those 50 and older — tend to hark back to previous times and hardly ever identify with people in their own age group.

At a party, Freeman said. "When I say agriculture," Freeman quoted the man, "they say 'oh' and walk away."

"I say those who walk away from agriculture ought to have their heads examined," Freeman continued, "because no segment of the American economy is more crucial to that economy than agriculture and no segment of American life is more crucial to that life than agriculture."

SECRETARY OF Agriculture Orville L. Freeman mentioned in a speech last week a symptom of farming's agony — the apparent apathy among non-farmers.

One of the department's executives claims he always is the loneliest man at a party, Freeman said.

But viewed in perspective, farmers are among the elite in the modern American economy. There are lattered segments, certainly, but put together agriculture today has few peers.

Generations of farm leaders, secretaries of agriculture, politicians and economists have sought and suggested answers. So far none has worked completely.

But it is tempting to suggest — only a bit facetiously — that part of the reason agriculture yields so little force in determining its own affairs is a modern hangup about seeing smoke from a neighbor's chimney, that civilization spells doom.

Cynics may claim that farmers have a death wish, that they can never jell into an effective bargaining force because they unconsciously want to be hardpressed and in a jam.

This view can't be reconciled with what successful farmers are today: Competent businessmen who want and intend to get a better deal somewhere. The big question is how and when.

WASHINGTON — Already in the campaign Richard Nixon has rushed so far to the front and is running with such style and confidence that only a worrywart would give himself the glooms by looking for trouble.

Yes, but if Dick has any room on his staff, he'd be smart to hire a congenial pessimist. Nixon needs a gloomy Gus in his entourage. October's bright blue weather, not far away, would be the worst of all possible times for the GOP nominee to forget what he much dislikes to recall — that he is also a Republican with Charles Evans Hughes and Thomas Dewey who have lost races which should have been won.

ANXIETY SHOULD ride in the campaign planes and motorcades, for wherever two or three reporters meet one of them is sure to say "Nixon will blow it." My own opinion is that Dick is at his best when playing the straight man of politics and at his worst when he puts on the robes of noble statesmanship.

The Johnson Administration has a conspicuous flop in the Paris peace conference, and Dick hasn't pitched a forkful of political hay out of that fiasco. He has recently spared the rod of his favorite whipping-boy Attorney General Clark, and his too-too statesmanlike pronouncements on the Democratic Convention are the kind of namby-pamby that turns front runners into also-rans.

THEN THERE IS Candidate Nixon's Averted Glimpse policy toward George Wallace. Dick told a press conference that he intends to ignore the third party and to make this a two-party contest by pretending Wallace is no factor. But nobody had yet devised a way to evaporize life's realties. Nixon had better lay off the hocus-pocus of acting as if the little man from Alabama does not exist.

There are a number of reasons why Nixon must take due notice of Wallace. The sheer politics of it is that Wallace may prove in a few weeks to be a closer competitor than Hubert Humphrey. This isn't a two-party year.

ALSO, THERE are moral reasons as well as additional practical reasons why the GOP candidate should wake up to the Wallace threat.

When Nixon averts his glance, he is refusing to confront what every wide-awake citizen knows — that we are heading into a black-and-white partisanship which should not be allowed to happen. Nixon should not give his consent-by-silence to what Wallace is trying to do.

Finally, the practicalities of 1968 are that Nixon must somehow make a legitimate combination of what we loosely call white backlash and black capitalism. Dick showed, in his selection of a running-mate that he does recognize the just grievances of the white majority.

SINCE APRIL Nixon has hardly mentioned that Negro communities must be given every chance, every reasonable incentive, to join the private enterprise circle. In all candor, the races do not mix well, and there was a lot of wisdom in the old separate-but-equal doctrine. If Nixon has any convincing ideas of how to inject economic parity into the Negro slums of Darktown, he should be saying so, loud and often.

Front-runner as he is, Nixon is still no shoo-in. He needs somebody around to tell him so.

FARMERS FEEL ALONE DESPITE MASS COMMUNICATIONS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In many ways farmers today rub shoulders with each other and others more than they ever have because of mass communications, good roads, cars and the pressures common to everyone.

But much of an ancient mystique persists of the perference of a farmer for some sort of solitude, independence or contrariness that made early pioneers move farther west the first time they saw smoke from a neighbor's chimney.

This has been part of the charm and problem of rural life. Despite great strides in organizing farm cooperatives, participating in organization efforts of all types and collectively moving ahead in technology, many farmers still feel alone.

BROADLY SPEAKING, farmers for generations have suffered from feelings of inferiority that today should be as outmoded as a walking cultivator in a field of corn.

Statistics, some familiar, some not. —One farmer today produces enough to feed more than 40 persons, 14 more than just eight years ago.

—Agriculture has more workers than all the makers of cars, trucks and buses, of the entire steel industry and of all the public utilities combined.

Farming's assets of $273 billion are equal to three-fifths of the market value of all corporation stocks on the New York Stock Exchange.

—Last year American farmers spent $15.4 billion for the products of the oil men, the car makers, the machinery manufacturers, the tire makers, the utilities and the bankers, to name a few.

"No businessman, no factory worker, no financier ought to walk away from a customer like that," Freeman said.

WHAT FREEMAN did not answer was why, with all this impressive wealth and potential leverage, is the American farmer a mostly fragmented, multivoiced and ineffectual force on the national political and economic scene.

Palmer Becomes Golf's 1st Millionaire

By DAV O'HARA E
Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Arnold Palmer can relax. He's pro golfer's first official millionaire—and he's also out of a slump.

Palmer pushed his official PGA earnings over the $1 million mark as he won the $150,000 Kemper Open with one of his old-time charges Sunday at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

A veteran of 14 years on the tour, Palmer later was asked how it felt to become a millionaire by playing golf. He replied with a big laugh.

"It feels great—certainly one of the greatest thrills of my life," he said. "Actually, I went over the $1 million mark some time last year. Now it's nice to have it official. For a while there this year I didn't know if I could make it."

Palmer, who was 39 last Tuesday, earned $938,515.22 in official money on the PGA tour through last year. He has added $110,377.57 this season, but some is listed as unofficial—such as money picked up in play outside PGA jurisdiction.

The old warhorse, accompanied by an increased Arnie's Army in a huge crowd of 39,300, started the final round three strokes off the pace. It was apparent that it was to be his day. He had an eagle 3 on the second hole, sinking a six-foot putt. He went on to add five birdies, more than offsetting a pair of bogeys, and finished with a five-under-par 67 and a 72-hole total of 276, 12 strokes under regulation.

The victory, worth $30,000, was Palmer's 53rd championship, but only his second this year. He won the Bob Hope Classic in February before going into his slump.

"I kind of felt like myself again," he said after leading Australian Bruce Crampton and veteran Art Wall by four strokes.

Crampton, who had a closing 73 after trailing by one stroke after 54 holes, and Wall, who finished with a 70, both collected $14,625.

Orville Moody, 34, a pro rookie on the tour who led with 206 starting the final day, and unheralded John Lively tied for fourth at 281, earning $6,975 apiece. Another stroke back were Dow Finsterwald, Al Geiberger, Phil Rodgers and Doug Sanders.

Cards Clinch Pennant Beating Astros 7-4

By The Associated Press

Curt Flood's champagne spray gave the St. Louis Cardinals that heady feeling again before Cincinnati's George Stone hurled Atlanta past Los Angeles 5-2 in other NL games.

Southpaw Steve Carlton pitched the Cardinals to their biggest victory of the year, surviving Houston 11 hits, including Jim Wynn's two-run homer, to bring his record to 13-11.

Flood and Roger Maris, who knocked in three runs with his fifth homer and a sacrifice fly, paced the Cardinals' 15-hit barrage against Don Wilson, 13-15, and three Houston relievers.

Carlton fell behind 2-1 when Wynn unloaded his 23rd homer in the first inning, but Flood's second hit and Maris' homer sent the Cards ahead to stay in the third. Orlando Cepeda drilled a two-run single in the fifth and the champs added two more runs in the sixth on Flood's bases-loaded single and Maris' sacrifice fly.

Detroit's Magic Number For The Flag Is Now 2

By The Associated Press

Watching the Detroit pitching staff in action for the last two weeks could give a hitter an inferiority complex. But Jim Northrup, Bill Freehan and Willie Horton took care of that little problem in a hurry.

While Mickey Lolich was stretching the Tigers' complete game string to nine with a three-hitter, Northrup and Freehan walloped two homers each and Horton hit one in Detroit's 13-0 romp over Oakland Sunday.

The victory, combined with Baltimore's 2-0 loss at Cleveland, cut Detroit's magic number for clinching the American League pennant to two. The end could come tonight if the Tigers beat New York and the Orioles lose in Boston.

In other American League action Sunday, the Yankees stretched their winning streak to 10—highest in the majors this season—with a 3-2 decision over Washington, Minnesota shaded Boston 3-2 and California topped Chicago 4-1.

The Tigers, who have won six straight, haven't used a relief pitcher since Sept. 4 and Lolich gave the bullpen another day off. The left-hander struck out 12 and ran his record to 15-9.

It was Lolich's second complete game in the Tiger staff's string. Denny McLain, who won his 30th game Saturday, has three. Earl Wilson has two and John Hiller an Pat Dobson one each.

Northrup tagged a two-run shot in the first inning and Horton followed with his 36th of the season. Freehan had two-run homers in the third and fifth, raising his season's total to 24. Northrup's second of the game and 19th of the season touched off a four-run Tiger sixth.

The Yankees bunched three runs in the fourth inning and hung on to nip the Senators for their 10th straight.

Pokes Blast Lions, 59-13

By The Associated Press

Don Meredith hit Bob Hayes with a 50-yard touchdown strike on his first throw against Detroit Sunday and the Dallas Cowboys were off and running to their highest point production in history, 59-13.

Meredith hit on 16 of 19 passes for 228 yards, including another touchdown, before leaving with the game safely in the bag in the third period. Walt Garrison scored two touchdowns on one-yard plunges.

Detroit simply was overwhelmed by a Dallas offense that ran up 542 yards.

Earl Morrall says he "made about 20 mistakes that Johnny Unitas wouldn't have made." But Morrall, the on-the-spot quarterback for the Baltimore Colts, was given the game ball by the team's outstanding pro boys were off and running to their highest point production in history, 59-13.

Unitas, the Colts' veteran leader, was nursing an injured right arm. Morrall, acquired from New York less than a month ago and with minimal experience with the Colt system, was thrown into the breach.

He completed 16 of 31 passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns.

In other National Football League games Sunday defending champion Green Bay bombed Philadelphia 30-13, Dallas blasted Detroit 59-13, Cleveland took New Orleans 24-10, New York beat Pittsburgh 34-20 and Washington defeated Chicago 38-28.

The league opened its 49th season Saturday night with Minnesota blasting Atlanta 47-7, and opening weekend continues tonight with Los Angeles at St. Louis.

The champion Packers made new coach Phil Bengtson's opener an easy one, coasting in behind Bart Starr and a rugged defense. Starr hit on touchdown passes of 12 and 55 yards and a brilliant kickoff return by Herb Adderley set up another touchdown. The defense, meanwhile,

Super Gnat Scores For Chiefs Bills Lose, Collier Fired

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bills have ended Coach Joe Collier's losing streak at two games and the Cincinnati Bengals have stopped Coach Paul Brown's at one, but only Brown is celebrating.

"Here's to one in a row," Brown said, toasting a soft drink to Cincinnati's 24-10 victory over Denver Sunday, his first in the American Football League after losing his debut last week.

Collier, however, had little to be happy about after the Bills were trounced by Oakland 48-6, their second but last 1968 loss under Collier, who was fired after the game.

In the only other AFL contest, Joe Namath did the firing for Brown said, toasting a soft drink to Cincinnati's 24-10 victory over Denver Sunday, his first in the American Football League after losing his debut last week.

Cincinnati's victory meant more than just a 1-1 record for Brown, who left pro football five years ago after a glorious career leading Cleveland of the NFL. His expansion Bengals won two exhibition games, but Sunday's upset was the real thing.

Brown took a chance to get it. With his club on its own 46 yard line, fourth down and inches to go in a tie game in the fourth quarter, he went for the first down and fullback Tom Smiley got it.

Collier, who coached the Bills to the division title in his first year in 1966 before falling to 4-10 last season, watched sadly while Oakland took apart his rookie backfield and ran over his defense.

First-year quarterback Dan Darragh, replacing injured Jack Kemp, never got started as he spent much of the day on the ground. The defending AFL champion Raiders, on the other hand, pushed right through the Bills as rookie George Atkinson ran 86 yards with a punt for one score. Larry Todd ran for two from scrimmage and Pete Banaszak and Hewitt Dixon added one each on the ground.

Collier still feels the Bills will win "their share of games," but it won't be for him. He was replaced by Bills' player personnel director Harvey Johnson, a former Canadian Football League and Buffalo assistant coach.

Namath tossed 57 and 30 yards to Don Maynard for two first half touchdowns and Turner added a 22-yard field goal and then the clincher, a 42-yarder in the final quarter that made the score 20-16.

The high-powered Chiefs were able to score only on Noland Smith's 90-yard punt return and Jan Stenerud's four field goals, giving him 4-for-8 this season.

It's Back To Salt Mines For Steers

After viewing the films of the Steer's 21-14 loss to Lubbock Monterey in the opening game Saturday evening, Coach Spike Dykes said that it would be a week of hard work.

"We're going to work on everything — the fundamentals and all. It's going to take a great effort to cope with Midland Lee when they come here Friday."

He hastened to say that he and the other coaches weren't down on the boys.

"If they fell short last week I guess it was the coaching. I couldn't fault the boys on effort. They gave it as much or more than we could expect. We just made a lot of mistakes. And Monterey did, too. We were playing a district favorite and a team ranked high in the state polls. We're disappointed at losing, but it's not the end of the world to be beat by a rugged football team like Monterey."

Although Lee, with a 7-3 record last year, lost 22 lettermen, it has several hefty transfers from Midland Carver, the Negro high school which has now been combined with others.

Monterey seemed big, but Lee won't be any less in height. Consider Jim Butler 205 pounds, Ed Bailey and Tim Currie 220, Ed Booker 200. Lee has Steve McMillon or Chris Woolridge at quarterback, Bill Sparkman at halfback, and Ross Graham an all-district prospect at fullback. Kelly Roach, a 6-3 basketball star, runs at tight end and is hard to defense.

The Steers came out of the Monterey game in pretty good physical condition. The big job is simply to work harder and be ready for Lee Dykes thinks they can do it because they have to do it.

"After all," he said of the first district game, "the marbles will all be on the line."

Coahoma JH Beats Forsan

COAHOMA — Lynn Ashley tallied three touchdowns and scored two extra points to lead Coahoma Junior High past Forsan, 34-6, Saturday here.

Freddy Franklin opened Coahoma scoring in the first period with a 35-yard run, and then Ashley went to work with a 20-yard tally, a five-yard burst, and then brought home a kickoff return for 70 yards.

Robert Garcia marked a 10-yard touchdown, and Steve Stone added two extra points.

Coahoma led 16-0 in the first period and 22-0 at halftime. Forsan talked once in the third period, but Coahoma matched with another score and led 28-6 when the final quarter arrived.

Outstanding in the offensive Coahoma line was Steve Fraser, James Blair and Stone, and Roland Beal, Ashley and Franklin led the offensive backfield charge.

Containing Forsan on defense were Blair, Fraser, John Best, Stone and Troy Kirby.

Coahoma Junior High will host Colorado City at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Last Second Field Goal Saves Game For Huskers

By The Associated Press

Tennessee's Volunteers had hot feet but Nebraska's Paul Rogers had the hottest foot of all.

Rogers, a sophomore, kicked a 51-yard field goal with 21 seconds left that gave the 14th-ranked Cornhuskers a 13-10 triumph over Wyoming as the college football season got under way Saturday.

Ninth-ranked Tennessee, playing on their new synthetic Tartan Turf, scored on the final play of the game and then added a two-point conversion pass to pull out a 17-all tie with upset-minded Georgia.

Those were the only two members of The Associated Press' Top Twenty to see action over the weekend but there were plenty of others hotfooting it across the nation's gridirons.

Eugene "Mercury" Morris rambled for touchdowns of 71, 9, 57 and 33 yards as West Texas State crushed Lamar Tech 45-7. Roland Moss, second in the country in scoring last season, set a school record by rushing for 209 yards as Toledo clobbered Richmond 31-14. And Paul Gipson ran for 115 of Houston's 578 total yards as the explosive Cougars trampled Tulane 54-7.

Other scores included: North Carolina State 10, Wake Forest 6; Morehead State 7, Marshall 7; Western Michigan 20, Arkansas State 0; Iowa State 28, Buffalo 10; Utah State 28, New Mexico State 12; Dayton 24, Kent State 10.

Rogers earlier booted a 26-yard field goal but Nebraska trailed 10-3 entering the fourth period against Wyoming. The Cornhuskers caught up as sub quarterback Ernie Sigler passed 17 yards to Jim McFarland, setting the stage for Rogers' 51-yarder.

Tennessee also came from behind in the final period. Bubba Wyche capped a 45-yard drive with a 20-yard touchdown pass to Gary Kreis as the final gun sounded. Wyche then threw to Kenny DeLong for the two-point conversion.

'Catch-Me' Killer Jailed In Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — John Erler, accused of being the "catch-me" killer of Hollywood, Fla., surrendered Sunday night to an off-duty sheriff's deputy and members of his family.

Erler, 24, a former policeman, held a .38-caliber revolver and threatened suicide as he talked for 45 minutes with Deputy Dave Koelsch and his mother, brother and sister, Koelsch said.

The confrontation ended when Erler handed the revolver to the unarmed deputy and rode off with him to the Maricopa County jail, where he was held for Florida authorities.

IN TROUBLE
Erler is charged with killing Marilyn Clark, 12, at Hollywood last month. The second degree murder charge was filed Saturday after officers with whom he formerly worked said it was his voice in a telephone call that said, "I just killed three people. I'm serious. Please catch me. Please."

He resigned from the force Sept. 5, and came here to visit his family. He disappeared Saturday when word reached here that he had been charged with killing the girl whose body he discovered.

"I'm in trouble," Koelsch quoted him as telling his family. "I don't want you to be involved."

Police found his abandoned car and, on Sunday, spotted Erler's younger brother, Danny, near an apartment house. A dozen cars sealed off the area, but stayed away from the apartment which Erler rented Saturday.

SUICIDE
Koelsch who normally works with juveniles, was advised by radio to call a phone number. Police said the person who answered the number was Danny, who handed the telephone to his brother.

"He told me he'd decided to commit suicide," Koelsch said of the accused. "I told him that was a bad way out. After we talked for a while he agreed to talk to me in person, and told me where the apartment was."

Koelsch became acquainted with Erler two years ago while he was riding a police beat in an area where Erler worked at a service station.

"When I got there Danny was standing in the door, waiting for me. Bob was on the phone. I think he was talking to his mother."

Koelsch said Erler occasionally took the revolver from his gun belt and cocked it as they talked.

"He wasn't threatening me or anyone else," Koelsch said. "He was just thinking of taking his own life. He kept saying over and over again that he didn't want to hurt anyone."

Koelsch said Erler talked by telephone twice with Carl King, assistant chief of police at Hollywood.

Erler's mother and sister, Dee Dee, joined the three men at the apartment later.

SHOT FIVE TIMES
Koelsch said he didn't question Erler about the slaying, saying his only concern was to get him to give himself up.

Finally, Koelsch said, Erler handed over his revolver to his brother and Danny gave it to the deputy.

At Kansas City, Mo., it was disclosed that Erler's estranged wife had sent their 1-year-old son to another state for safety. Mrs. Patricia Erler went to live with her mother and stepfather when she left Erler in July. Hollywood police had told her that Erler had threatened to kill her and their son. Police were guarding the home in Kansas City until Erler surrendered.

Dorothy Clark, 42, of Clarkston, Ga., mother of the slain girl, was found unconscious and critically wounded in her car about four miles from the spot where her daughter's body was found. Marilyn had been shot five times in the head. Mrs. Clark was shot five times in the head and once in the neck. Hollywood police said she had recovered enough last weekend to give clues which led to the charges against Erler.

267 Enemy Troops Killed In Rash Of Viet Battles

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese and U.S. forces dealt their enemies heavy casualties in fierce fighting Sunday and seized tons of stockpiled ammunition, including a rocket launcher and a large cache of rockets and mortars threatening Saigon.

Communications reported 184 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in two savage fights south of Da Nang and along the Cambodian border near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp. Another 169 enemy soldiers were reported killed in a dozen smaller skirmishes from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone.

House Speaker Backs Hubert

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes said Sunday he will actively campaign for Democratic presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey.

Barnes, speaking to about 350 Democratic officials and workers at a barbecue, said "Not a single Democrat in this state can afford not to elect Vice President Humphrey and Sen. Edmund Muskie on Nov. 5th."

A week ago, Barnes was the only top Democratic Party official to meet the vice president during a presidential campaign appearance in Houston.

Barnes was quoted as having told Humphrey that the national Democratic ticket was in trouble in Texas.

In his brief speech Sunday, Barnes noted that "Many people say the Democratic Party is divided into three or four factions, and that another party will occupy the White House. The doom-sayers couldn't be more wrong," he said, "because the Democratic Party is stronger than it has ever been before."

The youthful speaker's remarks fell somewhat short of a ringing endorsement, as some Humphrey supporters had privately hoped and expected.
