27 YEAR VET

Pat Speir Appointed DPS Chief

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Public Safety Commission today announced the appointment of Wilson E. (Pat) Speir as director of the Department of Public Safety.

Speir, 51, has been with the department 27 years and has been assistant director since 1962. He has been acting director since the death of Col. Homer Garrison Jr.

The commission named Leo E. Gossett, 42, assistant director. Gossett has been with the department 19 years.

The announcement was made today after a meeting Monday of the Texas Public Safety Commission.

SPEIR

At the same time, Joseph E. Milner, 36, highway patrol captain for the Houston District since 1966, was promoted to the new post of Chief of Traffic Law Enforcement for the DPS.

Texas Ranger Sgt. James H. Ray, 53, Midland, was promoted to Ranger Captain stationed at Lubbock.

Texas Ranger Edwin G. Albers Jr., 45, Canyon, was promoted to Ranger sergeant stationed at Midland.

United Fund Report

The Big Gifts Division, chaired by Jimmy Taylor, is leading the annual United Fund effort with 40 per cent of its goal in hand, according to Clyde McMahon Jr., campaign chairman.

This morning, the effort had $21,353 in hand toward the goal of $109,225. The Webb AFB solicitation was also making progress. The formal drive does not kick off until Oct. 1.

AT DENVER

Dual Transplant

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A 52-year-old truck driver has received a heart and a kidney in a dual transplant operation at the University of Colorado Medical Center.

Relatives identified the recipient as John W. Lanning of Portland, Ore. They said the donor was an auto crash victim.

The medical center would say only that the surgery had been performed. Officials would not name the patient or give other details.

A center spokesman said, however, that the recipient was in satisfactory condition.

Escapee Surrenders

BROWNWOOD (AP) — A San Angelo man who escaped from the Brown County jail Monday night surrendered this morning to police at nearby Santa Anna.

Sheriff's deputies identified the man as Earl Burton, 24, charged with armed robbery.

They said Burton escaped with Clarence William Bredren, 19, who has been convicted of murdering a San Angelo man in 1966.

Bredren was captured a few hours after the escape.

The pair escaped about 9:30 p.m. by removing a light fixture in their cell, then sawing through the ceiling and making their way to a window. The jail was unattended at the time.

Storms Push In

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms carrying hail and damaging winds formed in parts of South Texas early today as a cold front pushed further in from the north.

A severe thunderstorm warning was in effect until 6:30 a.m. for persons in Bee, Refugio and Aransas counties.

Weather Bureau radar indicated a line of thunderstorms from northeast to southwest line from George West to Beeville.

Meanwhile, temperatures dipped to the 40s and low 50s over the Panhandle and to the 60s and 70s elsewhere.

Severe thunderstorms wracked northeast and south central portions of the state Monday night.

A tornado touched down four miles north of Mathis in South Texas and knocked over an electrical company relay tower. Another tornado was reported near Poteet, south of San Antonio. No damage was reported.

Off And Running

The annual United Fund campaign is off and running, although the formal solicitation doesn't begin until Oct. 1. A. C. Faulkner (left) put up the sign Monday, and Jimmy Taylor, one of the campaign workers, crawled up the ladder to indicate the goal. Clyde McMahon Jr. is chairman of the campaign.

Smith Appeals To Young Rebels In Keynote Speech

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith keynoted the state Democratic convention today with a detailed appeal to young Texans who have rebelled against what he called "the establishment."

"I believe that we ought to do more listening to these young rebels," the party nominee for governor told the convention. "We ought to try to understand. At the very least, we should be willing to try."

"As your governor, I would be willing to try—I would be available to listen to any nonviolent protest, criticism or suggestion from anyone, and certainly from the young people who carry out hopes for the future, whether we, or they, like it or not."

Will Davis of Austin, state Democratic party chairman, gavelled the convention to order promptly at 10 a.m.

Smith's speech setting out his hopes and plans for the convention and the party the next two years did not mention support of the national nominees, Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Maine Sen. Edmund Muskie.

Neither did Smith mention the nominees in an informal speech Monday at a pre-convention reception and dinner.

"This is a state convention; they are not involved," he said when asked why the national party leaders were not invited to the state convention.

The gubernatorial nominee appealed to disenchanted Democrats to stick with the state party, even if they do not agree with current party policies.

Smith also stressed the need for a party platform strong on law and order. He specifically called for reforms affecting youth crimes and delinquency.

"What real hope is there for reducing crime in this country unless we can do a better job with our young people? We must do more than we are doing, that's obvious," Smith said.

He suggested that the Texas Youth Council could be relieved of 25 per cent or more of its new admissions each year if good probation services were available in the home community.

Primary duties of the convention were to write a party platform to Smith's liking and name a new state chairman and 62-member executive committee for the next two years.

Smith has said he wants Dr. Elmer C. Baum, Austin osteopath and long time friend and campaign worker for Smith, to be the new state chairman.

WANTS BAUM

Agnew blamed the Vietnam War for a variety of this country's ills, contending it has been a cause of disregard for law in the form of draft dodging and acts of civil disobedience.

"The Vietnam War has been a cause of our mounting economic crisis—increased taxes, greater deficit spending, a further exodus of U.S. dollars abroad," he said.

PEOPLE POWER

Agnew said that Mr. Humphrey still thinks primarily in terms of "government power" while Mr. Nixon thinks primarily in terms of "people power."

Agnew said.

Delegates met with the theme of "the scent of victory is in the air."

One party official called it "The greatest harmony since the Eisenhower years—if not all time."

The convention was gavelled into session a half hour late against a backdrop of flags, streamers, balloons and a lively Dixieland band.

Fortas Wins Committee Vote Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice won the approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee today, but still faced serious trouble in the Senate itself.

The committee vote was 10 to 6.

The battleground now shifts to the Senate, where a filibuster is threatened against confirming the nomination.

IN DOUBT

The outcome is in doubt. It takes a two-thirds majority of senators voting to choke off a filibuster by putting a debate limiting cloture rule into effect.

Opponents, who include Republicans and Southern Democrats, claim they have the votes to keep the debate going and perhaps enough to defeat the nomination outright, which would require only a simple majority.

Fortas, an associate justice on the Supreme Court, was nominated by President Johnson June 26 to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice. Johnson accepted Warren's retirement offer-ative on the confirmation of a successor.

The motion in committee to report Fortas' nomination favorably to the Senate was made by Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla.

Voting for it, in addition to Smathers, were Sens. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.; Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.; Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.; Birch Bayh, D-Ind.; Quentin Burdick, D-N.D.; Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md.; Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.; Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.; and Hugh Scott, R-Pa.

Voting against were Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and Sens. John L. McClellan, D-N.C.; Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii; Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.; and Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn.

The only absent member of the committee was Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., a supporter of the nomination.

Before the meeting, Hruska told a reporter that although he would vote to report the nomination to the Senate, he was not committed to voting for Senate confirmation.

NO COMMENT

There was no White House comment on the committee action.

Nor was there any comment from Fortas at the Supreme Court. He got several calls telling him about the vote. One of them from his wife

Wallace Says Texas 'Is Very Necessary'

DALLAS (AP) — American Independent party presidential candidate George Wallace declared today that Texas "will be one of our good states."

The third party candidate addressed the state convention of his supporters and talked above constant applause which had peaked of enthusiasm that drowned out his words.

Wallace, ailing with a virus, came into the hall an hour after the convention got under way, his selections for committees and presidential electors already pushed through with only an occasional "nay."

ACCEPTS

"I do accept the nomination," Wallace said, and will do the best I can to carry forth a successful campaign."

Wallace's words could hardly be heard above the shouting and the handclapping.

"It is very necessary that we carry the state of Texas," Wallace declared.

"This is not a sectional movement—it is a national movement—but our support in our part of the country is a great base from which to conduct our national campaign."

"Just combine our (the South) electoral vote with that of a few other states and we have the necessary votes to go to Washington.

"No new party movement ever had the grass roots support that we have. Our movement represents the major sentiment of the people of the United States."

Bard Logan, state party chairman, told the delegates that "foremost we are interested in winning in November."

CROWD

Wallace, who drew a near-capacity crowd into Dallas' 11,000-seat Municipal Auditorium Monday night, brought the Texas AIP delegates to their feet cheering as he entered the hall this morning.

After his 11 a.m. speech before the convention Wallace was scheduled for appearances in Wichita Falls, Tex., and Tulsa, Okla. Then he planned a few days off to rest and try to whip a virus that has noticeably reduced his weight.

Anti-Nuclear Treaty Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons and sent it to the floor for action.

The vote was 13-3, with three abstentions.

OVERRODE

The majority overrode objections of members who urged delay because of the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Acting Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., said he hoped the Senate would act during the current session of Congress on the nonproliferation treaty. No date has been set for a Senate vote.

A two-thirds vote will be needed to give Senate consent to the treaty under terms of the Constitution.

The heavy endorsement in the committee came after weeks of uncertainty over whether the treaty would reach the floor in view of the Czech crisis and concern about other Soviet intentions.

Hubert Silences Critics, Wins Applause Of Youth

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey silenced noisy critics in a college auditorium here today and won prolonged applause by urging youth to turn away from extremists and violent action.

Addressing a student convocation at Jesuit-operated Canisius College, the Democratic presidential candidate was greeted by mixed boos and cheers and friendly and unfriendly placards when he was introduced.

Departing from his prepared text, the vice president said he did not want young people to "hush your tongues" or abandon challenges to their elders.

But he said that they should make their feelings known "in a way that commands respect" if they are to influence public opinion and achieve their ends.

What is needed, he said, "is not the vindictive tongue, not vituperation, but inspiration."

Although most of the students seemed either receptive to Humphrey or neutral, a vocal minority refused to stand when he entered the hall, and, jeering, waved signs with such legends as "Remember Chicago," and "Be Your Own Man."

65 YOUNGSTERS IMPLICATED, BEING QUIZZED

Marijuana, Glue Sniffing Reported Here

Names and addresses of 65 boys and girls, who are said to have engaged in marijuana smoking or plastic glue sniffing, have been provided the sheriff's office and a personal inquiry of each youngster is being made.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that he has found disturbing evidence the information he has regarding the sale and use of marijuana is correct. Many of the 65 boys and girls who have been contacted since Monday afternoon have admitted, the sheriff said, that they have engaged in the practice. No charges have been filed, but the investigation is continuing.

Evidence accumulated Monday from an alleged party scene led to revelations indicating widespread use of both marijuana and glue, said Sheriff Standard. There were a number of cars involved, judging from tracks. In an area of less than a quarter of an acre, just off a road on the southeast edge of the city, the sheriff and his deputies recovered 50 squeezed tubes which had contained glue, also numerous sacks shaped into "sniffers." There was other evidence indicating that it had been a sizable gathering.

The investigation led to identification of four teenagers who were brought to the office and questioned at length Monday afternoon.

Sheriff Standard said all four — two boys and two girls — admitted being at the party and told of numerous other parties at which not only glue was used, but also marijuana.

Information provided by the quartet led to the interrogation of a girl who told Standard that she had brought parcels of marijuana into town from two cities east of here. These were sold, in cigarette form, for $1 per smoke.

She provided a list of names which the sheriff and his men are checking, and she also surrendered a dozen handmade cigarettes and a package of seed, which Standard said bore resemblance to marijuana seed. He will send the cigarettes and seed to a laboratory for chemical tests to prove whether they are actually marijuana.

He said he has contacted officers in the two towns where two suppliers were alleged to operate and that these officials have begun their own investigation.

"We have had isolated examples of glue sniffing and some reports of marijuana smoking," said Standard, "but this is the first time we have run into the practice in such widespread use."

He said he was advising parents of boys and girls who had admitted participating in the sniffing of marijuana smoking. "This is most disturbing," said Standard. "Glue sniffing can be extremely dangerous; it has caused permanent brain damage in some instances, and even has been listed as a cause of death. The perils of marijuana are so well known to need elaboration."

"We hope that we will be given cooperation of families of these youngsters who have let themselves get involved and that we can somehow bring an end to the matter quickly."

Thousands Of Russ Troops Ring Prague With Big Guns

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of Soviet troops ring Prague with their big guns aimed at the city to keep pressure on Czechoslovakia's leaders.

The steel ring of Soviet artillery is evident to anyone traveling outside the now tranquil but sad city. Heavy cannon, rockets and missiles point at Czechoslovakia's capital from north, south, and east and west.

One military expert says there is enough artillery not only to destroy the 600-year-old city but to "overkill" if shelling is ordered.

A short ride on the main highway east of Prague, a left turn toward the village of Dubec and there are 24 big guns set up in the alfalfa fields, their barrels pointed toward the capital. Twelve are lined up in a row to the right of the road; there are two groups of six on the left.

The guns appear to be 122mm cannon with a range of more than nine miles. Downtown Prague is less than eight miles away so these weapons could hit the presidential palace on the opposite bank of the Vitava River.

MANY TANKS

A mile or so farther are five batteries of multiple rocket launchers pointing at the city. A few hundred yards beyond the end of Prague's Stranice streetcar line, two score Soviet T55 medium tanks are parked, their guns directed toward the city.

Northwest of Prague, near the village of Horomerice, more than 50 big guns are concentrated within half a mile. They include at least 18 122mm howitzers, six huge 152mm cannon plus 85mm guns and 57mm automatic anti-aircraft batteries. Some travelers have also seen missiles mounted on tanks aimed at Prague from the east and several tank regiments.

The artillerymen live in tents near their weapons with ammunition and supplies stockpiled nearby. Estimates of the total number of occupation troops ringing Prague range up to 90,000.

Local Doctor Still Critical

Dr. George Peacock continued in a critical condition in the intensive care ward at Medical Arts Hospital in Dallas Tuesday. He had an intestinal thrombosis with precipitated complications following surgery. There had been little or no change in his condition at last report. Dr. Peacock is a long time physician here, and is a member of the Cowper Clinic staff.

CENSORSHIP

Very little is camouflaged, and the site of artillery aimed at the big city is clearly visible to Czechs picking apples in nearby orchards or passing on their motorcycles.

The implication is that all the hardware is there to frighten the people and intimidate their liberal Communist leaders to meet Soviet demands.

One major demand, for renewed censorship of press and radio, is now being enforced. As a result, details are meager on the continuing talks between Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov and the Czechoslovak leaders.

The Soviet demands are also believed to include permanent stationing of Soviet troops at the West German border and tough action against Czechoslovakians who engaged in what Moscow regards as anti-Communist activity during the January-to-August days of liberalization.

7 GOP Humor Perks Up Official Proceedings

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Texas state Republican convention has not been without its fun and frolic, and splices of political humor have spiced the official proceedings.

Mrs. Tobin Armstrong from Kennedy County in South Texas prompted a laughing retort when she took note of Democratic presidential nominee Hubert Humphrey's alleged "quick silver" changes in his stands on certain campaign issues.

NEVER FORGET

"The great debate of the 1968 campaign will be between Humphrey and Humphrey," Mrs. Armstrong, the national committee woman told a delighted gathering Monday.

Then State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. of Dallas, in subsequent remarks, said, "I hope there is no winner in that great debate."

The Republicans staged a social Monday night called a "Stampede Stomp" for a little light diversion and the stated purpose of "stomping on donkeys."

In a slick, color convention program suggesting that 1968 is the "year of the elephant" the GOP included a series of quotes "from selected Democratic figures" under the heading of "Elephants Never Forget."

HST TALKS

The italicized quotes appearing on different pages without comment included:

"Nobody in this world can put on a political rally like that great executive Dick Daley of Chicago. He makes it so much fun being a Democrat that you don't see how anybody could be anything else."—Lyndon Johnson.

"The regular Democrats will go right down the line to re-elect the President, unless some damn fool splits them."—Harry S. Truman.

"President Truman is a man with instincts of a teacher who would rather persuade than compel, who would rather unite than divide."—Hubert Humphrey.

"Take these pens back to your state and write to me about all the things I've done wrong."—Lyndon Johnson.

"Baker is my strong right arm, the last man I see at night, the first one I see in the morning."—Lyndon Johnson.

"I believe in every thing that the President is doing."—Hubert Humphrey.

Metropolitan Opera Opens 84th Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera opened its 84th season Monday night with an old-fashioned—yet could add midwest—opera, and memories of an old rivalry between prima donnas.

Renata Tebaldi sang the title role in Francesco Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur." It's an opera hopelessly complicated and intrigue-filled, with broad romantic melodies like Viennese operetta songs, not very exciting and not very musical in between.

The four principal singers all sang in the opera the last time it was done at the Met, six seasons ago. Franco Corelli looked dashing and ringingly sang the part Enrico Caruso sang the first time the Met did "Adriana Lecouvreur," on opening night in 1907.

Irene Dalis and Anselmo Colzani both sang well and made laudable attempts to act.

Maria Callas attended the performance—her first time inside the Met at Lincoln Center —bringing back memories of her long, celebrated "feud" with Tebaldi. Once, the battle lines were drawn and every opera lover was passionately convinced that either Callas or Tebaldi was the greatest soprano. Echoes of those by-gone days were heard just before the curtain went up, when shouts of "Brava Maria" reverberated against shouts of "Brava Renata."

But Callas' voice was nearly gone the last time she sang at the Met, in 1964, and Tebaldi, though singing better than she did the last time she did "Adriana Lecouvreur" here, does not have the voice she once had.

The audience rather went along with the "return to the past" tone of the evening, being conservatively dressed. Fewer bare shoulders were seen than usual, though the evening was balmy; fewer chandelier earrings and fewer flamboyant experiments in costume were noted, in favor of more traditional evening garb.

Dear Abby

Get Him In The Tub!

DEAR ABBY: My husband accused me of having affairs wasn't as important to him as with other men, but I swear I was, so he went into another I've never let another man line and we were married. touch me. He says he is sure we've been happily married for 18 years now, and neither one is right because I am cold as ice with him.

Abby, if he would only have and take a bath maybe that would help some, but he goes to bed in the same dirty undershirt he's worked in all day (He does construction work).

He shaves maybe every third or fourth day, and he seldom uses a toothbrush. The sight and smell of him kills all my desire to even kiss him. I am only 32. Is my reaction normal, or is there something wrong with me?

DEAR COLD IN HUNTSVILLE: DEAR ABBY: You are normal, but there could be something wrong with your husband. The husband-wife relationship is probably the most intimate of all human relationships, and in order for it to provide the ultimate in marital relations, cleanliness is indeed next to godliness.

Tell him, Lady, tell him! But tell him out of love, not anger. A little soft soap sometimes goes a long way.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Mortician's Son" interested me because it sounded like my husband and me before we were married. I liked him a lot, but I didn't want to be a funeral director's wife either, so I was all for calling it quits before it got too serious.

Well, my husband-to-be deided that being a mortician wasn't as important to him as with other men, and we were married for 18 years now, and neither one of us has any regrets.

That was real cute the way you told that mortician's son that if his girl didn't "dig" his profession he should "bury" the romance, but I hope you print this to show another point of view.

"HAPPY CHOICE"

DEAR HAPPY: Regardless of the choice in the beginning, we all end up with the funeral director in the end.

DEAR ABBY: I am expecting a baby within the next two weeks. My husband has agreed to take me to the hospital and stay with me for six hours. No more. He says if the baby hasn't come by that time, he goes.

Abby, this is our first child, and I'd feel so much better knowing that my husband would be with me until the very end, but I can't get him to change his mind.

What is wrong with a man who would make a decision like that?

EXPECTING

DEAR EXPECTING: He's selfish. And a little sadistic.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hint For New Residents Of Texas Wishing To Vote

County Clerk Pauline Petty has issued a reminder that new residents of Texas who wish to vote in the presidential election this year must apply for a ballot at the county clerk's office by 5 p.m. Friday, Sept. 20.

The reminder is for voters who will have lived in Texas more than 60 days but less than a year on next Nov. 5, general election day. This is the first time that residents of less than a year will be able to vote in a Texas presidential election. A law passed in 1967 allows a new resident to vote if he will have lived in Texas for at least 60 days on election day, possesses all qualifications required for voting in Texas elections except the normal residence requirements, and was either a qualified voter in another state immediately prior to his removal to Texas or would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election in the state of his former residence if he had remained there and complied with the state's legal requirements for voting.

Mrs. Petty said that if the voter was registered in the state of his former residence and has a voter registration certificate or other document to prove his registration, he should have the document with him when he applies at the clerk's office. Otherwise, it will be necessary for the clerk to contact the appropriate election official in the state of the voter's former residence to verify whether he would have been eligible to vote in that state if he had not changed his residence.

New residents whose applications are accepted will be notified of that fact and will return to the clerk's office between Oct. 21 and Nov. 1 to cast their ballots. They will not be permitted to vote on anything except president and vice president. Persons voting under this law are not required to register with the county tax assessor-collector.

Voters who will have lived in Texas more than a year on election day must be registered with the tax assessor-collector in order to vote. Persons who became residents of Texas on or before Oct. 1, 1967, had to register by last Jan. 31, the regular registration deadline.

but those who became residents after Oct. 1, 1967, may register at any time up to 31 days before the election. The deadline to register for the general election will be next Oct. 5.

If a registered voter will have lived in the state more than a year and in the county more than six months on election day, he will vote a full ballot in the ordinary manner on election day at the polling place for the voting precinct in which he lives. If he will have lived in the county less than six months, he will be able to vote on statewide office and issues, including president and vice president, but not on local offices and issues, by applying to the county clerk for a ballot during the period from Oct. 16 through Nov. 1.

CHALLENGE: read this message in 32 seconds

There are 1086 words in this message. If you read at an average reading speed, you will require nearly five minutes to read it. If you had developed the simple skill of Dynamic Reading, you would be nearly halfway through the article by now. There are many Reading Dynamics graduates who could read this page with full comprehension in less than 32 seconds. But don't be embarrassed about your slow reading. The simple fact is that you don't read slowly by average standards; but by the standards of Reading Dynamics you probably read between 250 and 400 words per minute. You are not alone. Most of your friends and neighbors — and many highly placed professional people — can't read any faster than you. Many undoubtedly read at a considerably slower pace.

Most Reading Dynamics graduates can read an average novel in less than the time it would take them to watch the Ed Sullivan Show on Sunday night. And they read with full comprehension and complete enjoyment. You can, too, once you have acquired the extraordinary skill of Dynamic Reading.

Most Reading Dynamics graduates have now finished this article. But please keep going.

In recent years over 400,000 people have graduated from Reading Dynamics Institutes throughout the nation and abroad. All of these people took the course with the guarantee that their reading efficiency would at least triple in the short span of eight weeks. In virtually every case, when the student attended class sessions and did the required practice, this exciting promise came true. Reading Dynamics makes you the same astonishing guarantee: We guarantee to increase your reading efficiency at least 3 times. We will refund the entire tuition to any student who, after completing minimum class and study requirements, does not at least triple his reading efficiency as measured by standard beginning and ending tests. Reading efficiency combines speed and comprehension, not speed alone.

Evelyn Wood first observed Dynamic Reading 18 years ago when a professor at the University of Utah read her term paper at an amazing 6,000 words per minute. Mrs. Wood's curiosity caused her to look for other exceptional readers, and over the next few years, she found 50 people who could read faster than 1,500 words per minute, with fine comprehension, outstanding recall, and great satisfaction in reading.

"Reading is a waste of time, slow or fast, if you don't understand what you are reading," stated Evelyn Wood at a recent teacher training conference. "If you are not comprehending, you are not reading."

The first thing you are asked to do after enrolling in the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics course is to forget everything you have ever been taught about how to read. Reading Dynamics teaches you to read all over again. A relatively fast reader beginning the course does not have any particular advantage over an average reader starting the course. You will be taught to read not just with your eyes, but with all your senses. Words will become pictures, on film. Your eyes will learn to move in rhythmic patterns down the page and through the volume; and you will read with thorough comprehension in a fraction of the time it takes you now.

As a child you were taught to "hear" the words as you read them. You will be untaught that cumbersome technique and discover that you can read swiftly and meaningfully by circumventing your old audio reading patterns. Once this eye-to-mind communication has been established, you practically eliminate the necessity of saving, hearing, or rethinking words. You will no longer read word-by-word or even phrase-by-phrase; indeed, as you develop your skill, neither will you read sentence-by-sentence. Instead, you will read in "chunks." You will visually lift large blocks of material from the printed page and instantaneously project actions and pictures onto the screen of your imagination. As the course develops your Reading Dynamics skills, you will discover the exhilaration of experiencing the vitality of the printed study abilities. Reading will become less and less like reading, as it becomes more and more a process of experiencing.

Dynamic Readers, having finished this article, are now pages ahead of you in this newspaper.

As you read, your hand will function as a pacer, swiftly brushing across printed material as the words swell into pictures in continuous, dramatic flow. You will be gratified at your increased speed; you will be moved by your newly developed sensitivity to literary values; and you will be thrilled at the high degree of retention of the printed material after it has been read. Many Reading Dynamics graduates find that their ability to recall even higher technical material long after it has been read is the single most valuable aspect of their new skill.

The Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics teaching staff in Fort Worth is highly experienced. Naturally, all instructors are college trained. Our Reading Dynamics instructors do not teach skimming. They teach improved reading efficiency which includes both speed and comprehension. Skimming techniques negate improved comprehension and are therefore unacceptable in the Evelyn Wood method. As Mrs. Wood frequently points out, "You read five times faster not by reading every fifth word, but by reading five times as many words in the same amount of time. It is impossible to tell which words to skip or disregard until you have seen them all and determined their relative importance and meaning." You may be assured that Reading Dynamics is the most comprehensive reading improvement course in the world today.

The Dynamic Reader, having finished this newspaper, is off doing something else.

In this supersonic, electronic, automated age, it is comforting to know that man has discovered a way to improve not just things and machines but man himself. When your minimum guarantee of tripling your reading skill comes to pass, you will find that you can read and absorb at least three times more material in the time it now takes you to efficiently complete present reading commitments. To put it another way, our average student can read and absorb in 10 minutes what previously required an hour or more. In an age where your most precious possessions are time and knowledge, isn't this a wonderful gift to give yourself? The rare and exciting gift of self-improvement. It can be yours in EIGHT SHORT WEEKS. The 32 second challenge is now over.

O.K. So you failed. Here's what to do about it.

You are invited to attend one of the provocative demonstrations of Reading Dynamics that will be presented this week. At these demonstrations, you will see a documentary movie that includes interviews with U.S. Senators and others who are graduates of the Reading Dynamics course. In addition, you will learn how easily you can increase your reading speed from 3 to 10 times, improve comprehension, retention, and recall. Make your plans now to attend one of the demonstrations listed below.

This is your invitation to a very thrilling experience.

Automatic Edition

The versatile 1969 Volkswagen Squareback Sedan has "gone automatic." A fully automatic transmission is an optional addition to this year's VWs. Other improvements include a special defogging device on the rear-windows as standard safety equipment. The 1969 Volkswagen Squareback and the sporty Fastback Sedan are powered by an air-cooled 65-horsepower electronic fuel-injected engine for greater economy.

Comfort And Convenience Featured In Volkswagens

Greater comfort and convenience are featured across the board in Volkswagen's 1969 vehicles — from the pace-setting VW beetle to the company's bus-like station wagon.

Among major new features for 1969 are a fully automatic three-speed transmission for both the Fastback and Squareback Sedan and an advanced-design rear suspension on all models.

Barney Toland of Barney Toland Volkswagen, 2114 W. 3rd, said that the new rear suspension gives the Volkswagen "a Calling 1969 "our year of refinement," Toland said that the new Volkswagens offer buyers the greatest value of all time. He added:

"Our success has been based upon constantly refining our products rather than simply changing them and that is what we have done with our 1969 models. They have been im-

Barnaby, Officials Discuss County Road Engineer Post

Informal conversation with Neel Barnaby, 804 W. 17th, on the possibility of the Howard County Commissioners court hiring him as county road engineer was opened Monday but no decisions were reached.

Barnaby, a 25-year-old man with the U.S. Navy and a retired commander who devoted much of his time with the fleet in building airports and roads, was interested, he told the court, in the job that the salary of $10,000 posted by the court appeared to be a satisfactory figure.

Each year the budget has carried an $8,000 item for employment of an engineer but the interview with Barnaby was the first time that the matter had been brought up in several years.

The county commissioners court also authorized signing of an agreement to provide a Multilith reproduction system for use of the county offices. The county proposes to acquire the machine under a rental purchase plan. The first quarterly rental is $202 which has been provided. The county has been employing a micrographing system which appears no longer adequate to the heavy demand for its use. Porter did not know when the machine would be delivered.

Conferences Lure Davis And Burns

Dee Jon Davis, Howard County attorney, is in Austin attending a series of lectures and discussions on crime and crime control. The meeting is sponsored by the Department of Public Safety and by the National County and District Attorneys Association. On Thursday, the attorney general's conference on law enforcement that the district attorney, Wayne Burns, district attorney, will attend. Both officials will be back in their office on next Monday.

Volkswagen leaps into the present.

With a fully automatic transmission.

If you had a friend we never would, we almost didn't. 10 years ago the decision was made. To design a fully automatic transmission. The kind you put in drive and forget. Our aim was to make things easy, but for us changes aren't easy to make. Especially in this case. There were certain things we just didn't want to lose. Like horsepower, and our reputation for being economical. What we've ended up with is a 3-speed automatic transmission that's pure Volkswagen—designed from scratch to get the most out of the VW with the least expenditure of effort. It has the fewest moving parts. It's the lightest per horsepower output. And it's incredibly sensitive. (A model airplane engine is powerful enough to turn it.) So come see how far Volkswagen has come. The Squareback and Fastback. Both have disk brakes, an electronically controlled fuel injection system, and now, a fully automatic transmission. If you're interested, it's available as an option on our '69 models. If you're not interested, we sure want to a lot of trouble for nothing.

"KICK-DOWN" SWITCH
A "kick-down" switch supplies a downshift for acceleration while passing or moving out from access roads onto high-speed highways. Maximum and cruising speed for the Fastback and Squareback equipped with the automatic transmission is 81 miles an hour. Over-all fuel consumption for the automatic models is rated at about 24 miles per gallon.

A Devotional For The Day

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me (Psalms 23:4)

PRAYER: Lord, help us appreciate Thy love and care for us. May we, like the psalmist, experience in our lives Thy love so that we can pray with confidence and put undoubting trust in Thee. We ask these things in the name of Jesus Christ, our Savior. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Some 'Freedom'

From the Soviet government newspaper, "Izvestia," comes some interesting observations which should put the Communist philosophy in revealing light.

It acknowledged that the appeal for "freedom for all" in Czechoslovakia is anti-Communist. Said Izvestia, Communists do not hide the fact that under their system nobody will ever have the right to express (what Izvestia called) "counter revolutionary views."

When the Czechs began to appeal to "freedom for all," it simply sabotaged the decisions coming out of Soviet-Czech talks, according to the newspaper.

By Izvestia's definition, communism's freedom "means first of all the right to work and to receive pay, and the absence of any form of economic, political or cultural discrimination." It also includes the right to vote in elections with candidates facing no opposition.

Finally, the paper complained that Czech newspapers were closed to the views which the Kremlin approved of, noting that "people loyal to Socialist ideas and friendship with the Soviet Union were being subjected to persecution and repression."

So the cure for that alleged ill is to send in half a million troops on top of a tiny nation and smother the Czech spirit under threat of fear, death and destruction that they may enjoy "freedom," Soviet style. Some freedom.

Deeper Concerns

In the two decades since World War II, the Mexican government has gained a worldwide reputation for political and financial stability.

Its one-party system has ruled peacefully without serious opposition. Its industrialization and urban modernization, as well as its social progress (especially in education), have become models not only for Latin America, but also for other underdeveloped nations in Asia and Africa. It has the region's only hard currency, good credit and heavy foreign investments, and it has made remarkable advances in agriculture and public works.

The Mexican government, in the person of the president, also has a reputation for dealing sternly with any elements, far left or otherwise, that might rock the developmental boat. Why then has it taken such a relatively cautious and conciliatory attitude toward the massive student protest demonstrations?

That it wants to avoid aggravating disturbances detrimental to Olympic Games attendance, a part of the lucrative tourist trade that more than balances Mexico's international payments ledger, is hardly a satisfactory explanation. It is, of course, one plausible consideration.

Another consideration is that Mexico wants to squelch internal disorders as discreetly as possible so as not to make foreign investors skittish, for it needs their confidence and capital. But foreign investors usually prefer to see a firm hand applied in such situations.

Perhaps the Mexican government's concern must run much deeper. Its social revolution, the first in Latin America, has not only matured but is aging, and yet there is still a great and growing gap between the upper-middle classes and the poor in the big urban slums and vast rural reaches. And there is increasing restlessness under the political confines of a one-party system.

The Mexican government may well see the student demonstrations as merely a symptom of broader and graver frustration and unrest in a burgeoning population with unmet needs and rising aspirations.

Marquis Childs Yugoslavia Vows To Be A Vietnam

WASHINGTON — "We will be another Vietnam if it comes down to that."

This is what is being said in Belgrade with quiet resolution by those who see the shadow of Soviet intervention in Yugoslavia still hanging heavy on the eastern horizon. The fear of an invasion similar to the Russian take-over in Prague is a deep undercurrent in the Yugoslav capital, according to intelligence reports.

WESTERN sources are hopeful this fear is exaggerated. No overt signs of troop movements or border concentrations have been detected. But in view of the heavy hand the Soviet military high command appears to be exercising, the possibility of another Prague cannot be ruled out. Marshal Tito flew to the Czech capital to give Alexander Dubcek all possible support. And, whereas Rumania is now playing its cool after initial support for Prague's liberalized communism, stern criticism continues from Belgrade.

Back of the threat of another Vietnam is the Yugoslav determination to resist a take-over by fighting. During World War II Yugoslav partisans mastered the techniques of guerrilla warfare against the Nazis and their internal allies. Showing extraordinary courage and stamina with Tito as their leader, they made the Nazis pay dearly for the occupation. The men who fought that guerrilla war are now saying the Russians would meet the same kind of resistance if they moved into Yugoslavia.

THE YUGOSLAVS were the first to break with the Cominform control exercised by Moscow. They shattered the concept of monolithic communism 20 years ago when Stalin's authoritarian rule extended over all the satellites.

In November of 1949 this reporter was the first Western journalist to interview Tito after the historic break with Moscow. In his huge walnut-paneled office in his private villa on the outskirts of Belgrade he radiated quiet confidence. It is interesting in the light of what is now happening to look back on that interview. Tito expressed firm conviction that the Soviets would not use military force to destroy a government that had refused to submit to dictation by Moscow as he had.

"RUSSIA'S POSITION before the world," Tito told me, "would prevent her taking any such step. It would put the Soviet Union in the position of an aggressor and that is a role she cannot afford. Of course, border incidents will continue."

Stalin did everything he could short of war to bring down Tito. The effect, Tito said in the interview, had been just the opposite of what Moscow intended. The Yugoslavs were amazed that such vilification could be used by a once friendly government.

The wise policy of the Truman Administration contributed a lot to help the Yugoslavs keep their independence. Both military and economic aid bolstered a country ravaged by long years of war. Nevertheless, with economic ties with Moscow severed the going was rough and far more Yugoslav existence was down to bedrock. For Washington a bonus came with Tito's action, closing the Yugoslav-Greek border following his break with the Soviets, which may have led to end of Greek Communist revolt.

THIS TIME, if the worst should happen, there is little or nothing Washington could do. That is the candid word being passed on to Belgrade. The fact that we are in the midst of a Presidential campaign with Vietnam and foreign policy a major issue makes any constructive step even more unlikely.

With Charles de Gaulle in his customary state of sulks the precautionary measures that might be taken through NATO are excluded. There is talk of rotating the 35,000 American troops who were taken over from Germany, instead of simply removing them. There is talk, too, of moving up the NATO foreign ministers' meeting and holding it in New York or Washington. But these are gestures that can hardly be expected to impress Moscow's military command.

Billy Graham

I heard one of the presidential nominees say, "This is the dawn of a new day." While I appreciate optimism, I want to ask you if you think the world is on the brink of a new, exciting era? Do you really think the facts bear this out?

I heard of a city man who bought a chicken farm, and he was distressed when the roosters began to crow at 2:00 a.m., waking him up every morning at this hour. He had always heard that cocks crow at dawn, and this puzzled him. He stayed up one night to study the situation, and he discovered the reason. It was not the first rays of the sun that set the roosters a-crowling, but the headlights of the last commuter train from the city.

We must not mistake every shaft of artificial light for the dawning of a new day. By nature I am an optimist, but undue optimism can be as erroneous as uncalculated pessimism. The facts are simple: the race has lost its way, and our lostness is revealed in an array of symptoms, the like of which has seldom been seen in history. Men tend to treat the symptoms and ignore the cause. That is what many leaders are doing at this moment, and that is why our world is in trouble.

I am optimistic for only one reason: God is sovereign, and has a plan for the future centered in His Son Jesus Christ. He needs compassionate, dedicated and concerned people to cooperate with Him in working out His plan.

Editorials And Opinions The Big Spring Herald

6 Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1968

John Cunniff Two Sides To The Debt Question

NEW YORK (AP) — The words thrift and save are old-fashioned and feminine; the stock market, however, is dynamic and masculine. This is the conclusion of a banking group's survey of young wage earners.

Although there is some reason to question how widespread are these attitudes, they do seem to provide some hint as to why so many people today are willing to go into debt and why so many think the stock market is a lottery.

NO QUESTION about it, America's changing habits, morals and beliefs are being reflected very clearly in the way money is being used. The question is whether the change is for better or worse.

At the end of June Americans owed $101,467,000,000 in consumer debt, of which $32,774,000,000 was for automobiles alone. Add in the money owed on homes and the total reaches more than $225 billion.

Credit cards are mailed to millions of consumers who never asked for them. And it isn't altogether uncommon for a person to receive separate credit accounts from one firm, one with the middle initial of his name, another without it.

SO EASY is money to come by, it seems, that although it won't be found on trees it soon will be spilling out of vending machines. At least one such machine, operated by credit cards, exists in Miami, Fla.

While debt has been piling up—and it is largely a post-World War II buildup—the number of individuals investing in stocks has risen to 24 million, which is twice the total of 10 years ago and triple the figure for 1948.

Many of these people "play" the stock market as they would a slot machine. Figures aren't available, but it is obvious from talking to your neighbors that a good percentage are speculators rather than investors.

And so periodically the nation is warned that this refutation of the old ethic will visit upon our heads a terrible penalty. The wages of financial sin is generally thought to be depression.

True, the total debt is ascending, but so also is the population. And this population change is not simply one of numbers el-

Hal Boyle Cost Of Chuckle Going Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

We may see some changes in the world's menu in the future. A machine has been developed in India to make edible protein from tree leaves, and a scientist at Texas A&M University says the addition of bacteria to water-polluting industrial sludge could produce nourishing food.

THE RISK of giving birth to a mongoloid baby tends to rise with the age of the mother. An English physician believes, therefore that mongolism was rarer in the human past than now for a very simple reason: 200 years ago nearly half the women died before their 35th birthday.

The ritual of the Saturday night bath is still commonplace in many American families. Checks of water use patterns in a number of communities showed a rise in consumption on the Sabbath eve.

Here's a bit of bad news for teenage athletes: The fall football season increases the acne problems of players, report dermatologists at the University of Michigan Medical Center. Dirt, grime and sweaty uniforms have been found to aggravate this condition. Most athletes, however, would rather play now and whip the acne later—and the doctors agree.

QUOTABLE notables: "The first thing to do in life is to do with purpose what one proposes to do." —Pablo Casals, noted cellist.

Pity the poor snail. Some have up to 80,000 teeth—and no dentists.

Inflation note: Even the cost of a good chuckle is going up. The New Yorker magazine is raising its newsstand price to 50 cents.

Opportunity: If your daughter is good in math and economics, why not point her toward a career as an actuary? Only 55 of the 2,100 members of the American Society of Actuaries are women. They earn about $15,000 a year.

Wasp and bee stings kill more people each year in the United States than snake bites. Death can occur within minutes. But if you are extremely allergic to these forms of insect venom you can now protect yourself by being treated in advance with diluted venom in graduated doses.

IF MUSCLES don't make up approximately half of your body weight, better go on a diet. You're too fat for your own good.

Signs of our times: One New York publishing firm has this slogan lettered on the back of its trucks: "On the Left, Back; On the Right, Flunk."

The Civil War, which saw so many military innovations, also produced America's first improved aircraft carrier. It was the G. W. Parke Curtis, a coal barge remodeled by the Federal forces so it could carry an observation balloon that spied on Confederate positions along the Potomac River.

Worth remembering: "Nature has given to men one tongue, but two ears, so that we may hear twice as much as we speak."

To Your Good Health Questions From A Four-Time Mother

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Under the stress of these repeated contractions, the placenta becomes separated from the uterus wall. It, with the attached membranes, is expelled in a matter of minutes — hence the term "afterbirth."

In some instances, this afterbirth may be delayed, and the doctor will assist in its expulsion. The need for it usually can be recognized by determining the size and consistency (feeling) of the abdomen.

"Retained placental tissue" means that some part of the placenta remained stuck to the uterus wall and was not expelled. "Post-partum" merely means "after the baby has been born."

Inspection of the placenta, which is a routine part of a delivery, may or may not give a clue that some of the tissue has been retained. It is not the doctor's fault when this occurs, and removal of the retained tissue afterward is not a serious procedure, although it is a necessary one, as otherwise it may cause bleeding, a discharge, or other subsequent symptoms until it is taken care of.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read the letter from the girl who has dark hair on her upper lip. I have the same problem, and shaved it for 1½ years until Mom caught me. She said that shaving would cause it to thicken, and I would look like a man shortly.

I let it grow out and tried to bleach it, but nothing worked. Does shaving or using a hair remover cream thicken the hair? Also, what is a good recipe for bleaching? — D.R.

Neither shaving nor depilatory creams will thicken the hair. Your mother is mistaken about that.

Depending on the darkness of the hair to start with, bleaches often are satisfactory — peroxide is an old standby, but the drug store doubtless has others.

Removal of the hairs individually by a trained electrolysis is the only permanent solution to the problem.

Around The Rim Each Generation Into Its Own

Forty years ago the younger generation of that date was not marching in protest parades, burning draft cards, growing long hair and beards nor garbing itself in fantastic outfits which apparently modern youth finds in trash barrels.

NO, THE younger folk of that time were doing other interesting things. Activities, which I may say, probably had just as much impact on making a better world as sitting around strumming guitars and taking long drags on marijuana cigarettes.

The teenagers and those slightly above teenage folk of 1928 were pursuing great intellectual enterprises. They were, for example, vying for the world championship in colleges in who could swallow the largest number of live goldfish.

OTHERS WERE taking part in a monumental demonstration of physical endurance called the marathon dance. In these tremendously impressive efforts, boys and girls danced on and on day and night in honky-tonks. Five piece bands took turns keeping the music going. The dancers kept going, with 10 minute rest periods ever so many hours, until they dropped. Final survivors on the floor received trophies and applause from scattered spectators.

Slightly older young scientists were proving how long an individual could sit atop a flagpole or be buried in a coffin under the ground.

IT WAS all very educational and highly illuminating.

The others who were not actively pursuing these vital scientific experiments were engaged in determining just how gawdy a shirt (it had to be silk) could be, or how pointed a pair of shoes — they were called English walkers — might be worn without causing collapse from acute agony.

THE BRASHER and more daring of the younger set were sampling home brew or gulping down a concoction called bath tub gin. The latter product was available, despite national prohibition, in a score of places in nearly every community. These supply sources were called "blind tigers" or "blind pigs." Perhaps the latter name was better.

Some of the customers who went into these places got drunk as pigs, and some departed blind — when the proprietor, in his benevolent desire to meet the demand for his product, had used wood alcohol as base of his gin.

THE HEP CATS of the day were called jellies (jelly bean) and their girl friends flappers. The latter wore miniskirts with fallen arches, although no one called them that. They rolled their hose, bobbed their hair, draped their slender young necks with long strands of gaudy beads and were distinguished for their adeptness at a dance called the Charleston.

The boys wore no hats, slicked their hair down to varnish shine with liberal applications of hair oil, grew long sideburns a la Valentino. They wore peg-top pants, so narrow at their shoe tops it was a real task to remove them.

FROM WHAT I have read, 40 years prior to 1928 the younger generation (described 40 years later as sterling young men and modest young women) were dashing madly about the country on bicycles as members of Century Clubs, surreptitiously sneaking into saloons to watch the dancing girls and adorning themselves in tight pants, narrow shouldered coats and derby hats. Some referred to them as Dandies.

Forty years from now? Your guess is as good as mine. —SAM BLACKBURN

Art Buchwald A Job For The 'Old' Nixon

WASHINGTON — As everyone knows, there are two Richard Nixons, the "old" Nixon and the "new" Nixon. It is not generally known that just before the presidential campaign got under way, the two Nixons had a bitter fight at a strategy meeting in Miami Beach. The "old" Nixon was told he was no longer needed, that the Republicans had decided if they were going to win in 1968 they were going to have to go with the "new" Nixon.

"YOU CAN'T do this to me," the "old" Nixon cried. "I've given the best years of my life to the party and you can't throw me out now."

A Republican strategist said gently, "We're not throwing you out, Dick, but you had your chance before and you blew it. If you blow it again, it could mean the end of the Republican Party. We can't take that chance."

"What does the 'new' Nixon know about politics?" shouted the "old" Nixon. "Does he know how to get in there and fight? Does he know how to hit them in the groin and knock them over the head? Does he know how to accuse them of being soft on communism and squishy on Vietnam and disrespected all over the world? Can he slug it out toe-to-toe?"

"NO, DICK, that's exactly what the Democrats expect us to do. But we're not going to play their game. We're going to talk about the forgotten man who works and pays his taxes, and we're going to talk about how wonderful it is to live in the suburbs and how nice it is to go to the seashore in the summertime."

The "old" Nixon jumped to his feet and yelled, "What kind of campaign is that? You have to go for the jugular. Nice guys finish last."

THE "NEW" Nixon said, "Sit down."

Dick, and listen carefully. This is a unique election situation. We don't have to attack the Democrats because they're going to make mincemeat out of each other. In order for Humphrey to get anywhere in the election he's going to have to attack Lyndon Johnson's policies in Vietnam. Then to defend himself Lyndon Johnson is going to have to attack Hubert Humphrey. Gene McCarthy will attack both of them, and all we have to do is sit back and talk about crabgrass in the United States."

"It's too risky," the "old" Nixon said. "You'll bore the heck out of the people. The public wants the 'old' Nixon they used to kick around all the time. They're used to me and they know what to expect. You throw another Nixon at them now and they'll all go out and vote for George Wallace."

THE "OLD" Nixon pointed his finger at the "new" Nixon and screamed, "He's out to get my job. Do you think he could ever get the goods on Alger Hiss or debate the cold war with Khrushchev in a kitchen, or get pelted with rotten vegetables in South America? You bet your sweet life he couldn't. Now, after all I've done, old Tricky Dick is getting the heave-ho from the party."

The "new" Nixon said sadly, "I'm sorry you had to bring it down to personalities, Dick. I was hoping that because of what the party means to you that you would support me and get behind me, if not for my sake, then for Ike's."

THE "OLD" Nixon said finally, "What do you want me to do?"

"Will you become Spiro Agnew's campaign manager?"

Holmes Alexander What Happened To Clean Gene?

WASHINGTON — It's not difficult for me to believe that Clean Gene McCarthy's boys and girls hurled filth down on Chicago cops from bedroom windows of the Conrad Hilton. I was in a McCarthy headquarters shortly before the Democratic Convention, and I saw what postures, and I heard what language, were in vogue there.

I'm a prude about young ladies who sit around in top revealing mini-skirts. I've spent much time in locker rooms and in military barracks, and I know all the naughty three and four-letter words, but I never heard them issue from rosy lips in mixed company as they did around Clean Gene's emporium.

THE SENATOR, I'll accept, is pure in mind and motive. But there's a burden of proof against the legend, commencing in New Hampshire, that he rectified all those college kids. It was a long campaign from the March primary to the August convention. Somewhere along the trek those kids — well, some of them — showed themselves as cop-baiters, draft-dodgers, anti-Americans and violators of at least one of the Ten Commandments.

In time we may know more clearly what Eugene McCarthy's crusade did to the children, but we know already how he tore his political party to pieces with no good result and for no good reason. All we need now is for McCarthy partisans to do as they threaten by forming a far-out Democratic nominee Hubert Humphrey to be the squad leader of a corporal's guard.

THE DEMOCRATIC party, born 1801 with Jefferson's election, has not always served the country badly, and it deserves better than to be succeeded in the hearts of Southerners and workmen by the George Wallace movement. These along with Richard Nixon's probable victory, are in part the result of McCarthy's irreconcilable breaks with Lyndon Johnson, Robert Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey and just about the entire Democratic leadership.

My own inclinations are to like the fellow in politics who goes it alone, and McCarthy does it with style, but there's a limit to that sort of thing.

As to the reasons which McCarthy has for disembodying the Democratic party, I hear from persons who know him better than I do that most of the rationale is subjective. He was going around eight years ago calling himself a better Catholic than John Kennedy, a better liberal than Hubert Humphrey and a better Democrat than LBJ — all, I thought, spoken facetiously. But, no, I'm told, Gene McCarthy wasn't kidding. He really does hold himself in something that approaches Gaullist self-esteem.

GENE AND JOE McCarthy don't match up in many ways, for Gene is smooth and Joe was rough, Gene is ascetic and Joe was brawn, Gene is andy and Joe was dissipated. And when you get past these superficial characteristics, you find the how he tore his political party to pieces with no good result and for no good reason. All we need now is for McCarthy partisans to do as they threaten by forming a far-out Democratic nominee Hubert Humphrey to be the squad leader of a corporal's guard.

Party Honors Karan Miller

The home of Mrs. Berry Watson, 3916 Hamilton, was the scene Friday of a pre-nuptial gift shower for Miss Karan Miller, who will be married to Gary Phillips on Oct. 5 in Berea Baptist Church. Co-hostesses were Mrs. John Ray, Mrs. J. C. Cox, Mrs. Ray Crooks, Mrs. H. H. Dyer, Mrs. E. W. Nail, Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Robert Baker, Mrs. John Waddill, Mrs. Edward Engel, Mrs. Claude Hodnett, Mrs. Rufus Tuckness, Mrs. Morris Griffice, Mrs. Marvin Callihan and Mrs. Willie Lee Butler. All wore red dresses and white rose corsages. Miss Watson was presented a red rose corsage. Her mother, Mrs. W. E. Miller, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Joyce Phillips, received white rose corsages. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a red lace cloth overlaid with white net and appointed with white milk glass. An arrangement of red and white roses accented the table, and a smaller arrangement was placed on the registry.

Cactus Chapter Holds Tea Sunday Afternoon

Mrs. Carl Tippie explained the "ABC's of ABWA" during a program Sunday when the Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, held its Hand of Friendship tea in the home of Mrs. Robert L. McDonald, 603 Linda Lane. Mrs. Tippie was tea chairman, and other members of the tea and membership committees who assisted as hostesses were Mr. Orville Bryant, Mrs. John Polischak, Mrs. Carol Chivetta and Mrs. James Abbe. Chapter officers greeted the 21 prospective members and 20 members who attended. An ecru lace cloth covered the tea table, and appointments were of silver. The centerpiece featured yellow mums.

Announce Marriage

Miss Connie Sue Jones and Sgt. Lawrence Jackson Green of Webb Air Force Base were married Sept. 7 with Walter Grace, justice of the peace, performing the ceremony in his home. The bride, attired in a blue lace suit, was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Charles Ray Haskins, 4107 W. Hwy. 80, where the couple will reside. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Green of Seneca, Mo. Don Headley served as best man. The bride attended Coahoma High School and the bridegroom graduated from Seneca High School. A wedding supper was held in the Haskins home, and the couple left on a brief wedding trip.

4-H Club Banquet Announced By Coahoma Group

The Howard County 4-H Achievement banquet will be held Oct. 2 in the Big Spring Senior High School cafeteria. The announcement was made by Phyllis Winn when she presided at Monday's meeting of the Coahoma 4-H Club in the Coahoma Elementary School cafeteria. Those named to the decorations committee for the banquet were Linda Beistle, Terry Beistle, Pat Fryar and Mrs. James Fryar. Grace Ann Lowe sang "School Days," and Glenn Webb read the poem "School." Yearbooks were distributed, and plans were made to sell a household cleaner as a fund-raising project. The cleaner may be picked up at O'Daniel Trucking Co. and will be sold for $2 a bottle. Those on the project committee are Ben Herrera, Cheryl Bohannon and Susan Nixon. Jerry Webb spoke on parliamentary procedures. Refreshments were served.

Luncheon Held For Ann Belew

Miss Ann Belew, who plans to be married to Willie P. Lane Jr. on Oct. 5, was the honoree at an informal luncheon held Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. J. B. Apple, 419 Westover, with Miss Edith Gay as cohostess. Miss Belew was attired in a pink shift and greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Troy Drinkard. The hostesses wore corsages made of scrubber puffs and presented the honoree with an electric blanket. The table was covered with a cloth made of dish cloths and centered with a spice tree. Both were presented to Miss Belew. The couple plans to be married in the First Christian Church with the Rev. James Puckett officiating.

Kiwani-Queens Give To Bible Fund

The Kiwani-Queens donated $10 to the high school Bible fund at Thursday's luncheon meeting in the Holiday Inn with Mrs. Don Lovelady and Mrs. Sherman Smith as hostesses. Mrs. Lovelady presided, announcing that new officers will be named at the next meeting. Mrs. Wendal Parks won the attendance prize. The table was laid with a white cloth, and the main table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

'Play Dough' Fun For Rainy Days

Dear Moms:

So many of you write to say that your children are climbing the walls for something new to do and it suddenly dawned on me that I had once made play dough for my Bible school class. It went over with such a bang that I thought perhaps you might want to try it. So I rushed into the kitchen and tested my old recipe three times, and here 'tis, just right for the youngsters:

- 1/2 cup salt
- 1 cup water
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 4 tps. salad oil
- Food coloring

I stirred up all but the food coloring with a big spoon, then gathered it up in my hands and kneaded it a few minutes like bread dough.

Next, I divided the dough into four parts and added a few drops of different coloring to each chunk (or coloring may be added to the water), then folded the dough over with my hand and kneaded, patted and mashed until the coloring was uniform.

Honestly, Mother, you can't buy anything that will please them more. They play for hours molding the funny faces, dinosaurs, snakes and what have you.

When the kids finish playing for the day, put each color in a plastic cottage cheese container with a lid to keep the air out. A plastic bag works fine, too.

Next day when they are at it again, the dough will still be pliable. To make it more interesting, add different food coloring by putting a few drops in a teaspoon of water and working it into their original color, giving it a marbled appearance.

Mothers, if you are desperate for entertainment for youngsters, give this a try and you'll not be sorry. Just remember to keep it covered and airtight when not in use and it will stay pliable for several days enjoyment.

We used to put ours in the refrigerator when not playing with it. Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To avoid the tedious task of pinning the pattern to material when cutting out a garment, try using heavy coffee mugs to hold it in place. By doing this, the pattern can be shifted to get it perfectly straight. And by moving the cups after the cutting is done, it's simple to open the material to mark the darts so they are just right. Ruth Priborsky.

stop the swelling and pain. One day I grabbed a bag of frozen vegetables and quickly applied it to the bump with the result that no swelling occurred.

The bag is pliable and conforms to the contour of the head. Since then I am never without a plastic bag of vegetables in my freezer. Judith Youshock

Dear Folks: Be sure that the top is capped securely on a bottle of catsup, cocktail sauce, chili sauce or anything that is thick in substance. Then shake it a few times with the head of the bottle DOWN — just like we all shake thermometers. If the bottle is almost empty, nearly all that's left will come to the neck of the bottle and you can pour it out immediately.

Try it next time! Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea for the mother with too many little ones to outfit in bathing suits this summer. I saved my little girl's too-tight navy stretch pants with worn knees, cut off the legs, hemmed them, and inserted a red string tie in the waistband. Presto, a pair of sharp bathing trunks for little brother. Or, with a halter top, a bathing suit for her. Caron Friese

A LOVELIER YOU

Cotton Swabs Make Eyes Look Bright

By MARY SUE MILLER When the temperature sizzles and your eye makeup melts, what can you do but start all over? Actually that's a good idea if you happen to be at home. But if you're out on the town you have to patch the job.

Do you know the patch tricks? All you need for making instant repairs are a couple of cotton swabs. There's even a tiny white plastic case for toting fresh swabs in your purse or travel gear. Very convenient it is, too!

As for ways to clear the smear: Erase slipping or smudged eye pencil with quick swipes of a swab — real quick and short, but firm.

To reblend separating eye shadow, wield a swab with a feathered whisk. Like Mab's wand! When mascara runs, rip up with a swab dampened with water or mild skin freshener. Avoid using mascara remover here, or you may altogether denude your lashes of makeup. Heaven forbid!

Before touching up mascara, flick lashes with a powder-dipped swab. Makes like new! Eliminate fatigue circles as they crop up by swabbing with flesh-toned powder. Your lower lashes mat together? Place a swab under them and separate with a little lash brush. Just so, your eyes can look like cool pools although fevered by the heat, humidity and exasperation. EYES OF YOUTH You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Space Program Chief Says U. S. Still Second

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas O. Paine, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, would become acting head of the agency. Paine, who presided over America's entry into the age of manned space flight, is stepping down as head of a U.S. space program he believes ranks second to Russia's. President John F. Kennedy named Webb to head NASA in February, 1961, when it had

Chrysler Ups Prices On Its 1969 Models

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced a price increase on its 1969 models which was promptly criticized by White House economists as a severe setback to the cause of price stability. "If it becomes the pattern for the industry," President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisors said in a statement Monday, "it would cost the American consumer $750 million." Chrysler said the increase averaged $94 or 2.9 per cent above the current manufacturers suggested retail price. An Associated Press computation put the average price of Chrysler's 172 different 1969 models at $2,917.44, an increase of $128.11, or 4.4 per cent over the average price of 160 1968 models which could be compared to the 1969s. In an apparent attempt to meet government criticism ahead of time, John J. Riccardo, Chrysler's group vice president for U.S. and Canadian automotive, included the following statement in his price increase announcement Monday: "The government's own figures from the Bureau of Labor statistics for July 1968, show

North Vietnamese Kill 25 Marines With Big Barrage

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops caught a column of U.S. Marines as the Leathernecks were digging in for the night Monday, killed 25 and wounded 125 with more than 200 mortar rounds and a hail of small arms fire. The Americans struck back with mortars, artillery and helicopter gunships. The Marines reported 27 of the enemy killed in the 10-hour fight four miles south of the central part of the demilitarized zone. VULNERABLE The Marines were from the 26th Regiment, the defenders of Khe Sanh who held out against a 77-day Communist siege last winter, and then abandoned that outpost. The casualties Monday were comparable to those on the worst days at Khe Sanh. The first North Vietnamese barrage pounded in at 3:30 p.m. just as the Marines were moving into defensive positions for the night, one of the most vulnerable spots troops can be in. The Marines apparently were caught before they could get their foxholes dug. U.S. Helicopters and artillery and mortars pounded the North Vietnamese positions, but the Communists kept up the attack until 6:30 p.m. More than 150 rounds were fired into the Marine positions before the barrage subsided. Two hours later, the North Vietnamese renewed their mortaring, and an hour later

Barbed Wire Experiences

OLNEY, Tex. (AP) — W. T. Swink of Olney says it's an interesting experience to try to explain to a customs inspector why he has a package of barbed wire in his luggage. Swink collects samples of various types of barbed wire. His collection presently contains more than 300 different types. He began collecting in 1924 and has brought in samples from many foreign countries. Customs inspectors find the packages of barbed wire in his luggage and are sometimes puzzled, but Swink explains about his collection. He carries a picture of his barbed wire collection with him to help explain. There are more than 622 varieties of barbed wire, he says. Swink has been presented with a plaque by the Texas Barbed Wire Collectors Association of which he is a charter member. The plaque names him as the association's outstanding member this year. He has worked with several authors who were writing books about barbed wire.

Jordanian, Israeli Units Swap Shells During Duel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab gunners shelled the Israeli town of Bet She'an with 130mm rockets Monday night, and several hours later the Israelis retaliated by hammering the Jordanian town of Irbid with artillery. It was the first time the Arabs have used such heavy rockets and the first time since June 4 that populated areas in the troubled Baysan Valley have come under attack. A reliable source said the shelling was the work of "an Arab terrorist group, and my guess would be El Fatah," but he added that the Jordanian army obviously had to cooperate in the attack.

Since the Israelis shelled Irbid on June 4, commando attacks and Jordanian shelling had concentrated on Israeli military positions in the Jordanian and Beisan Valleys, south of the Sea of Galilee. Since Aug. 18, there have been 100 incidents of violence along the 250-mile Jordan cease-fire line, with five Israeli soldiers killed, and 26 soldiers and 12 civilians wounded. During the night Jordanian and Israeli troops also exchanged fire with cannon, mortwo-hour duel. Each blamed the other for starting the fight, and Jordan said two Israeli batteries and one observation post were destroyed. Meanwhile, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan told a United Labor party rally that the Israelis "have to be ready for the possible renewal of war, and in this case we must be equipped to win a full victory." "I don't know if there will be another war," he continued. "I hope the Egyptians will not make the fatal mistake and be misled by their leaders into sparking another war against us."

At the Suez Canal, where 10 Israeli soldiers and 15 Egyptians were reported killed in a prolonged artillery duel, more than 400 Arab refugees were exchanged, and Egyptian boat crews and Israeli soldiers chatted and laughed with each other as they helped the refugees.

Under the supervision of the International Red Cross, 225 Palestinian Arabs caught in Egypt during the 1967 war and 226 Egyptians caught in the Israeli advance were exchanged between the two halves of El Qantara.

Store Chain Grows

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Perkins Stores of Wichita Falls have added two new stores to the department store chain with the purchase of two in Lawton, Okla., from Zorbas and Miller, Inc., operators of two Dixie Stores. The new stores bring the total of Perkins Stores' locations in Texas and Oklahoma to 10.

17,000 employees and an annual budget of $999 million. Two and a half months later astronaut Alan Shepard rode a Mercury capsule to an altitude of 116 miles, marking the nation's first manned penetration of space.

Webb, who actually will leave his post when he turns 62 next month, steps out at a time when his budget is about $3.8 billion and NASA employs 34,000. This is less than the peak year of 1965 when the budget was $5.2 billion, but Webb told newsmen he was not quitting because of disagreement over current government economy moves.

MEN ON MOON "Jim Webb is a truly remarkable man," said Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex.

Julian Scheer, a long-time friend who is NASA's assistant administrator for public affairs, said Webb plans "to do a lot of things he is interested in on his own." Webb announced his retirement after a meeting with President Johnson. The President made no immediate comment. Under his tenure, NASA completed six one-man Mercury missions and 10 two-man Gemini missions. The only blot on an otherwise perfect safety record came in a ground accident in January, 1967, when a launch-pad fire killed the first three-man Apollo team.

Webb said Monday that the United States is still second to the Soviet Union in space operations and that current programs would not bring parity. He said there is still a chance, however, that the nation will land men on the moon before the end of next year.

bombers and artillery pounded the positions until the enemy soldiers withdrew as darkness was approaching. U.S. headquarters said 27 North Vietnamese also were killed in this fight. The Marines had no dead and seven men wounded. A spokesman said that troops from the two Marine regiments are conducting sweep operations in close proximity to each other, trying to clear the area of North Vietnamese troops pressing along the central DMZ. PRESSURE With Khe Sanh abandoned, there are indications that the North Vietnamese now plan to put heavy pressure on the Rock Pile, and perhaps lay siege to it. Sizable North Vietnamese forces have been massing in the area, and the Marines have clashed several times recently with enemy units of platoon and company size. Two big munitions stockpiles containing hundreds of rocket and mortar rounds were found by Marines last week. After the North Vietnamese who attacked the 9th Marines pulled out, the Marines swept the area and uncovered 40 well constructed bunkers in which they uncovered a third big munitions stockpile. It included 1,600 rounds of mortars, rockets and rifle grenades, more than 100 cases of ammunition for automatic weapons and small arms, 300 claymore mines, and more than 200 hand grenades.

He Must Pay Off To Escape Prison

Jack Kruse, who was found guilty of writing a worthless check five months ago and who was required, in order to receive a three-year probation sentence, to make restitution for the checks, was before Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, Monday afternoon. He faced revocation of his probation but he was given until Sept. 27 to pay off the $150 he promised to repay. Wayne Burns, district attorney, had filed a motion asking that Kruse's probation be revoked. If Kruse fails to pay the money, he will face having his probation set aside and be sent to the state prison.

Garden City Standouts

Pictured here with coach Jack Woodley are the two Garden City boys picked as Players of the Week, picked off their performances against Dawson last Friday. They are quarterback Stephen Hirt (13) and Melvin Robinson (61). Details in story below.

Farris, Curry Are Among Grid's Best

The following players in the Big Spring area have been selected by the Daily Herald's sports staff as Players of the Week for their performances in last week's football games:

BIG SPRING
TUCKER — CLAUDE (SNAKE) TUCKER, who plays safety on defense and split end on offense, was cited primarily for his work on defense. Time and again, he stopped Lubbock Monterey backs just when it appeared the Plainsmen were going to break the game wide open. In addition, Tucker scored Big Spring's second TD on a surprise maneuver, getting behind the Monterey linemen to take a pass from Gary Hinds after Hinds had faked a punt.

LINEMAN — The nod here has to go to end JIMMY FARRIS, an end who caught four passes good for 45 yards, time and again making the big play when the Longhorns needed it. On defense, Farris plays the left line-backer's spot and he was graded highly in that department by the Big Spring coaches.

COAHOMA
 The lineman with the highest grade in the films taken of the Coahoma-Rankin game last week was RODNEY WALL, middle linebacker who plays his ability to spring loose the Forsan backs with his fine blocking. Time and again, he opened gaping holes in Abilene Central Catholic's line, permitting Clayton McKinnon and David Myers to seep through Jackie plays left linebacker on defense and earned his first helmet "star" by making 15 tackles. He also intercepted one pass to set up a Forsan touchdown.

BACK — A hard-hitting 175-pounder named JACKIE WILLIS, who plays right guard on offense, was singled out for his ability to spring loose the Forsan backs with his fine blocking. Time and again, he opened gaping holes in Abilene Central Catholic's line, permitting Clayton McKinnon and David Myers to seep through Jackie plays left linebacker on defense and earned his first helmet "star" by making 15 tackles. Cards Facing Busy Period In NL Race

By The Associated Press
 The St. Louis Cardinals may be building a National League dynasty but it looks more like a dictatorship.

Not content with having run away with their second straight pennant, the Cards are about to have their say in determining the rest of the standings, as well.

They move into San Francisco tonight for a three-game series with the runner-up Giants, who lead third-place Cincinnati by two games after Monday's 8-4 victory over the Reds. Chicago is 3½ games behind the Giants and Atlanta is five back.

BIG SERIES DUE

Then it's on to Los Angeles for three with the Dodgers, who are battling Houston and New York for eighth place. After that it's back home for two games with seventh-place Philadelphia, which is trying to catch Pittsburgh, and three with Houston.

In Monday night action, Los Angeles tripped Atlanta 6-0 and Pittsburgh trounced Philadelphia 6-1. St. Louis, Chicago, Houston and New York were not scheduled.

"The way it's planned, the pitchers will go in their regular rotation for the remaining 11 games—Bob Gibson, Ray Washburn, Nelson Briles and Steve Carlton," Red Schoendienst, manager of the Cardinals, said Monday night.

That means Gibson will work every fifth day, which will bring him right up to Oct. 2 and the much-awaited confrontation with Detroit's Denny McLain in the World Series opener.

"I'll leave it up to Gibson if he wants to sit out one start," Schoendienst added, "and I may pitch all the relievers in the last game. I'll also get some of the regulars out for a few days. But the last four games I'll play them all."

Willie McCovey drove in four runs in San Francisco's victory over Cincinnati, which prevented the Reds from moving into a virtual tie for second place. McCovey's two-run double highlighted a five-run rally in the seventh inning that gave rookie reliever Rich Robertson his first major league victory.

MAYS GETS HOT

The slim crowd of 2,361, smallest in the Giants' San Francisco history, saw Willie Mays engage in a verbal altercation with two Air Force sergeants in the stands.

Mays had just made a running catch and was approaching the dugout in the middle of the fourth inning when he went after the two men. He was intercepted by Bobby Bonds and Manager Herman Franks and the sergeants were ejected from the park.

"All I said was, 'Nice catch. For a $100,000 bum you're earning your money,'" explained S Sgt. Jay Eash of the Alameda Air Station.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
 DICK YOUNG, New York columnist:
 "During the Czech crisis, a New York newspaper carried the banner line: 'Svoboda goes to Moscow,' and a Met fan said, 'He should take Ed Kranepool (Met first baseman) with him!'"

ART ROSENBAUM, sports editor of the San Francisco Chronicle:
 "Playboy magazine picks Cal to finish high, possibly third in the Pac-8 football race this year because of 'planetary influences.' Now and then, one wonders if Berkeley is still on this planet."

MERRILL GREEN, football coach at Abilene Cooper, noting he had been picked No. 2 in the state this year:
 "We'll try harder."

JACKIE BURKE, pro golfer:
 "The public is tired of dissension. Football players, golfers, college students, they're all rebelling about something; everyone's dissenting. I think the public's dissatisfaction is going to show up in the reception the touring pros get and maybe in the ballot boxes in November."

Dr. SAMMY LEE, former Olympic diving champion:
 "I have been dropped down to 'alternate' as a diving judge in Mexico City's Olympics, having been blackballed by the Russians because I was outspoken about their diving judges in Rome in 1960 while claiming they downgraded American performances and upgraded theirs. This carried into the 1964 Olympics. Actually, when each judge was rated by a computer after the Tokyo Games, my average was three points above the mean average for American judges and 19 above for the Russians in judging their own divers."

CHUCK HIXSON, SMU quarterback, discussing ace receiver Jerry Levias:
 "He's the best I've seen going to the ball. Once last spring I threw a ball that should have been an interception. Jerry came back and got it and turned it into a 75-yard touchdown play."

Singer BOBBIE GENTRY, co-owner of the new Phoenix Suns of the NBA:
 "Do I have any favorite players? I'm lucky if I can name any players. There's Chamberlain and there's Baylor. Do you think they'd play for my team?"

Ex-Texas Aggie JOHN DAVID CROW, after moving from the backfield to tight end for the San Francisco 49ers:
 "When coach Dick Nolan asked me to make the switch, I was all for it. But now that it's over, I don't recall him asking me if I would like to try to block Deacon Jones (LA Rams). It has to be all downhill after being baptized by that man."

EARSELL MACKABEE, defensive back for the Minnesota Vikings:
 "The hardest thing to learn, and accept, is that you're going to get beat by a receiver. All the great defensive backs have, and you know it will happen to you. Only one good thing can happen to you when a receiver beats you—that's to have the quarterback snuffed out before he can throw."

CHARLIE COWAN, tackle for the Los Angeles Rams:
 "The most difficult block for a big lineman like myself (6-4, 265), is trying to take out one of those 9.6 defensive backs in an open field."

Bearcats Oppose Comstock Friday

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearcats, fresh from a 26-8 conquest of Dawson, will entertain Comstock here Friday at 8 p.m.

Coach Jack Woodley was fairly pleased with his boys, especially the last half of the Dawson game. Down 8-0 at intermission, the Bearcats suddenly jelled and put over four TDs. Woodley said he knew little about Comstock except that it has one lad, a junior speed merchant who qualified for the state meet in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Ron Smith Sparks Rams To NFL Victory, 24-13

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Smith came to the Los Angeles Rams about the same way he went through the St. Louis Cardinals' defense—long and roundabout.

Both trips paid off handsomely as Smith's 94-yard kickoff return sparked them to a 24-13 victory over the Cardinals Monday night in a National Football League game.

The Rams' head coach George Allen, sipped milk and outlined Smith's journey to the club.

"We actually got him for big Ben Wilson," Allen explained. "You remember big Ben? We traded Wilson to Vince Lombardi (Green Bay Packer general manager) and he gave me a second round draft choice. We turned around and gave that to Atlanta for Smith, who is a proven ball player. I remembered him because I signed him for the (Chicago) Bears in 1965 before he went to Atlanta."

So the fourth-year man from Wisconsin repaid Allen with the touchdown run to open the second half and pushed the Rams into a 17-3 lead.

"Any time I get the ball," the freckle-faced Smith said, "I know I can go all the way. It was a squib kick and I knew I would have to do a lot of maneuvering. I don't think I was even touched. They told me on the bench I stiff-armed (Jim Bakken) and he blocked out another guy."

Cash Paying Dividends

By The Associated Press
Norm Cash gave the Detroit Tigers a quick scent of the quarter they've been tracking for 23 long years. Baltimore's Don Buford postponed the Big Kill — but the Tigers can afford to wait another 24 short hours.
Cash smacked a two-run single in the first inning and a three-run homer in the second as the Tigers mauled New York 8-1 Monday night, assuring themselves of no worse than a tie for the American League pennant — which hasn't flown to Detroit since 1945.
Buford's grand slam homer and bases-empty blasts by Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell powered the second place Orioles past Boston 8-1 and kept them mathematically alive — but fading fast.

Rebel Report Is Upcoming

It may be hard for local football buffs to acquaint themselves with the fact that the Big Spring Steers open their District 3-AAAA season here Friday night against Midland.
That realization will be brought home at tonight's meeting of the Quarterback Club, which starts at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.
The report could be ominous. Big Spring scouts who sat in on last week's game between Lubbock High and Lee say there's not much difference between Lee last year and this year's team.
Lee defeated Big Spring a year ago, 19-7, and went on to a fine season.
Action films of last week's game between Big Spring and Lubbock Monterey will also be screened.

Coahoma Boosters Will Meet At 8

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Quarterback Club will meet in the high school cafeteria this evening, starting at 8 o'clock.
Films of last week's game between Coahoma and Rankin will be shown and a scouting report on Coahoma's next opponent, Winters, will be given.

PARTNERSHIP MEET SLATED

A partnership tournament, with all linksters making use of handicaps, will be held at the Country Club Saturday. Entry fee is $5 per team and any amateur in the area is eligible to play.
The rules dictate that a linkster with a handicap of 10 strokes and under must team with one owning a handicap of 11 strokes or more. Tandems can choose their own starting times.

4th-inning homer, giving Minnesota a 4-3 victory over California in the only other game on the AL schedule.
"I'm not sending Mayo any congratulations yet," said Baltimore skipper Earl Weaver after his club skirted elimination in its desperate pursuit of Mayo Smith's runaway Tigers.
"That's the way you play this game."
"We haven't given up hoping for a tie with them. We also have to think about holding on to second."
The Orioles, 10 1/2 games off the pace, must win their remaining 10 starts while the Tigers lose their last 11 to force a pennant playoff. Detroit entertains New York and the Orioles are at Boston again tonight.
Weaver apparently has one eye on the oncoming Yankees, who moved into third place with a 10-game winning streak before running into a buzz-saw at Detroit.
Cash's single keyed a four-run opening burst against New York starter Joe Verbanic and the Tigers rocked reliever Steve Barber for five more runs in the second, with Cash's 22nd homer the big blow.
The early onslaught helped southpaw John Hiller, 9-5, breeze past the Yanks and extend Detroit's winning string to seven games. Hiller scattered eight hits and struck out seven in hurling the 10th straight complete game for the Tigers' staff.
Brooks Robinson pulled the Orioles even at Boston with a second-inning homer and started the decisive fourth-inning flurry with a single off loser Jim Lonborg. Elrod Hendricks' single, a walk and pitcher Tom Phoebus' infield hit broke the 1-1 tie before Buford unloaded into the right field bullpen for the second grand slam of his career.

Lobert, a bandy-legged infielder, was a contemporary of Grover Cleveland Alexander, Christy Mathewson and Jim Thome, whom he once beat in a foot race.
He was given his nickname because of his resemblance to Hans Wagner when he broke into baseball as a third baseman with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1903.

Announcing your next car! The great new Chrysler!

Your next car can be a gently curving line of tempered glass and steel that sweeps quietly around you. A molded shell of stressed skin and thousands of miniature welds. Your next car can have a cockpit. Instead of just a seat and a dashboard.

Your next car can provide a controlled environment where man creates his own climate and the perimeter of the cockpit blots away the murmur of road and wind.

Your next car can cater with soft seats fitted to the contours of the body, and memory systems that complement your driving habits.

Your next car is 15 choices, but only one shape. Your next car is one you can still move up to. Easily. Your next car is here. The great new Chrysler for 1969.

See the all new 1969 Imperial!

Outside, Imperial's styling is unlike that of any other luxury car for 1969.

Unlike that of any other Imperial ever built. The lines are clean, with exceptional flair.

This year's Imperial is longer, too. With more head room, more shoulder room, more leg room. Even the trunk is more spacious.

But Imperial's differences go far deeper than just added length, or a contemporary look. Consider one today.

See what Plymouth's up to now!

It's an all new Fury line! Some popular priced cars give the impression they were run off on a ditto machine. Not so with the Fury. This car is completely new for 1969. Longer. Wider. Roomier. And yet it's so much more than just a new size. The styling is clean. Every line seems to have only the purpose of blending with every other line. The curved side glass leads naturally to the roof curvature, and blends beautifully with the body side. Every bit belongs. The deeply set, textured aluminum grill. The wraparound dual taillights. The hidden wipers. And there's just enough chrome trim to dress it up without cluttering it up. So if popular priced cars leave you feeling ordinary, try our "ordinary" car—the ordinary Plymouth Fury.

Durable Dictator Is Fighting Death

LISBON (AP) — Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, Europe's most durable dictator, was reported near death today but there was no indication of his successor.

A stroke hit the 79-year-old Salazar's confessor, Dominican Father Gregorio, went to the hospital Monday, arousing speculation that the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church had been given.

The average Portuguese finds it difficult to imagine his country without the austere, coldly analytical "Senhor Doctor." No man stands out clearly among possible successors.

There were unconfirmed reports that 73-year-old President Americo Thomaz had convened the 15-man Council of State, which must be consulted by the president when he chooses a premier.

Britons Gig Weathermen For Failing To Warn

LONDON (AP) — Britons denounced their weathermen today for failing to warn them of the three-day downpour that flooded huge areas of southeast England, caused three deaths and did millions of pounds worth of damage.

The floods covered hundreds of square miles, marooning families, isolating towns and villages and disrupting road and rail services.

Members of the House of Commons said that the meteorologists on Saturday gave no indication of the dangers ahead and said they would raise the matter in Commons.

The weather office chief, Dr. Brian Mason, protested: "We haven't got a computer sufficiently powerful to make an accurate forecast of the rainfall on a day-to-day basis."

Rain Monday night added a fresh threat to areas not already under water and hampered rescue operations by police and troops.

Thousands of people were evacuated from inundated homes and housed in temporary quarters.

The British Automobile Association said that almost every stream and river in southeast England was at danger level.

The weathermen forecast more rain today but added that drier weather was on the way.

Opening lead: Nine of ♠

An examination of the hand diagram leads to the conclusion that South is destined for defeat in his six heart contract, since East appears to hold two spade tricks on the deal. Declarer was able to launch a successful salvage campaign, however, by applying pressure against his opponent.

West opened the nine of spades and the ace was played from dummy. Trumps were drawn in three rounds as East discarded a diamond and a club. Declarer cashed the three high clubs, disposing of a spade from his hand as East gave up another diamond.

A fourth round of hearts was played on which East was able to spare the jack of spades; however, as the last trump was led from dummy, an interesting end position was about to unfold. These were the last five cards:

On the ten of hearts, East had to make another discard. He was reluctant to surrender another high spade for fear of eventually establishing two tricks in that suit for North. He, therefore, parted with the nine of diamonds and South discarded a spade. When the deuce of diamonds was led, East played the jack and declarer finessed the queen. The ace dropped the king and South's ten of diamonds took the 12th trick. Declarer lost only a spade at the very end.

If East had discarded the queen of spades on the last trump, South would have parted with the ten of diamonds. A spade lead now drives out the king and North's ten and seven of spades take the fulfilling tricks.

Site For New Dental School Expected To Trigger Fight

DALLAS (AP) — The question of where to locate new state-supported schools to train doctors and dentists will be debated in Austin Oct. 11 at a public hearing to be conducted by the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System.

The principal fight is expected to center around the site for the new dental school proposed at Dallas meeting Monday. The report received by the board calls for the Texas Legislature to pick the site.

San Antonio and Dallas are both seeking the school. The Texas Dental Association has recommended that the school be located in San Antonio.

NEW SCHOOLS

Residents of the Alamo City are expected to renew their pleas at the Oct. 11 hearing that the board designate their city rather than leave its location up to the legislature.

The recommendation on medical schools calls for the establishment of new schools at both Houston and Lubbock and a plan whereby the state will subsidize Texas resident students at the Baylor Medical School in Houston.

The proposed new school at Houston drew fire at Monday's meeting of the board when Victor Brooks, a board member from Austin, declared that the school was not needed. He said that a detailed minority report opposing the school will be presented at the Austin hearing.

At Monday's meeting, the board approved a master development plan which calls for the establishment of six new schools and which places an enrollment ceiling on existing institutions.

GUIDELINES

The board approved two new senior colleges for Houston and one each for San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Midland-Odessa. It also voted to create a special educational center at Laredo. Bachelor's degrees, will be operated by the Texas A&I University of Kingsville.

Action on a seventh school, to be located in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, was delayed until after a hearing at the Oct. 11 meeting.

In approving the enrollment ceilings, the board said that such ceilings are primarily guidelines to assure an orderly growth of the 22 state-supported colleges and universities and that they will be subject to review and change.

The plan allows the schools to make their normal growth until September 1972 when annual enrollment increases will be controlled by the board until the schools reach their ceilings in 1980.

Artist Is Named To Combat Team

PLEIKU, South Vietnam (AP) — A commercial artist from Wichita Falls, Tex., has been named to an Army Combat Art Team.

Sp. 4 David Fairington was one of the first soldiers to qualify under the relatively new program.

The teams are composed of five men each and spend time in Vietnam on temporary duty. Completed paintings are sent to Washington, D.C., where they are displayed in the Army's War Art Collection. One or two paintings from each team's total are to be placed in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. And some works are chosen for a road show that travels throughout the country.

See Here Kingfish

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — For most of his married life Dr. Carl Baker of Paris has gone fishing at every opportunity—and Mrs. Barker chose to stay home.

They took a vacation trip to South Padre Island this summer and Dr. Barker finally got her aboard a fishing boat.

Mrs. Barker—landed a 42-pound kingfish that was one of the biggest ever taken in that area. It wasn't nearly as large as the silence from Dr. Barker.
