SOVIET Space Probe Circled The Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's latest space probe, Zond 5, flew around the moon Wednesday, Tass reported today.

The official Soviet news agency said the minimum distance between Zond 5 and the moon was about 1,200 miles.

"A stable radio communication is maintained with the station and equipment on board the station relays scientific information to the ground," said Tass.

"The equipment aboard the station functions normally. Pressure and temperature within the station is maintained within the present limits.

"The coordination computing center continues processing incoming information."

The announcement in general confirmed a report Wednesday by Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Space Observatory, that a Moscow spokesman had at the time called "a canard."

The British scientist suggested the Russians might try to recover it — an unprecedented feat which could be a big step toward later sending a man to the moon and back.

Polio, Leprosy Cases

AUSTIN (AP) — One case of paralytic polio and one case of leprosy were reported in Texas during the week ending Sept. 14, the state health department said today.

The polio case, in Sutton County, raised the total for the year to 19, compared to six at this time a year ago.

The leprosy case, in Guadalupe County, raised the 1968 total to 32 compared to 17 at this time a year ago.

THEN SEE STEERS Eat Chicken With The Lions

Don't worry about supper this evening before going to the ball game. This is the date for the Evening Lions Club traditional chicken barbecue starting at 5 p.m. at the Downtown Tea Room.

For years the Lions have served this feast prior to the opening home game, and although almost everything else has gone up, the Lions are holding the line at $1 per plate for the chicken and all the trimmings. In addition to the large number who go by the Tea Room for that, many call or come by to pick up the dinners ready to go. Net proceeds go to the Evening Lions fund for buying glasses for children in need of them.

Flames Soar High

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Flames roared 200 feet into the air after a 20-inch natural gas line broke 34 miles east of here Wednesday night.

The pillar of fire burned unchecked for 40 minutes until an emergency crew dispatched by United Gas Co., which owns the line, could reach a shut-off valve and halt the flow of gas.

A United Gas spokesman said the cause of the break, in an open field near the Sutherland Springs community, had not been determined.

Gas erupting from the pipeline under pressure of 600 pounds per square inch gouged a crater 10 feet across and 15 feet deep. Trees, fences and utility poles were burned for several hundred feet in the direction the gas was flowing.

Not A Fourth

HOUSTON (AP) — State Rep. Curtis Graves says the New Democratic Coalition of Texas is not a fourth party movement.

"We are real Democrats who support a philosophy of realism in the Democratic Party," Graves said at a news conference Thursday.

Graves, newly elected chairman of the NDC, said he will support and work actively for the election of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to the presidency.

However, he said he will not support Preston Smith for governor and does not plan to support any other candidate for that office.

Plane Falls On Social Club

FARNBOROUGH, England (AP) — A naval patrol plane crashed in flames on a social club at the Farnborough Air Show today.

Some reports said up to 17 persons, including the crew, may have perished.

The plane, a Breguet Atlantic, had been demonstrating its performance on one engine and was circling before starting its second engine.

Then it crashed in a burst of smoke and flame on the roof of the social club.

Reports said there may have been up to seven persons aboard the plane. Another 10 were not immediately accounted for on the ground.

The flying display, sponsored by the Society of British Aerospace Companies, continued.

Bears, Bulls Become Wolves

NEW YORK (AP) — The girl-watchers of Wall Street got out of hand Thursday.

Brokers and clerks in the financial canyons of lower Manhattan had been noticing Francine Gottfried, 21, for a couple of weeks. Clad in tight sweater and skirt, she would emerge from a particular subway exit around 1:30 p.m. and head for her job as an IBM machine operator.

The word got around and the crowds began to increase. Thursday, as though someone pulled a switch, the "bears" and "bulls" turned into "wolves."

Miss Gottfried emerged from the subway, about 5,000 brokers, bankers and clerks were waiting along the young lady's line of march to the Chemical Bank of New York Trust Co.

Miss Gottfried, a 5-foot-4 brunette, had chosen to wear a yellow sweater and red skirt.

Suddenly a cheer went up from the massed mobs, and the mob crowded around her, many asking for autographs.

Word of the impending scene had spread to police, who managed to steer the besieged girl into a nearby building, out a back door, and to her office by a circuitous route.

Miss Gottfried, who lives in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn and measures 43-25-37, was bewildered by it all.

"I think they're all crazy," she said. "What are they doing this for? I'm just an ordinary girl."

Hijacked Jet With 53 Aboard Is Year's 12th

He said the craft swung off course at 9:12 a.m. EDT, and touched down at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 9:45 a.m.

"There was no radio contact from the pilot," said Boatman "communication suddenly halted when the plane veered to the left and took a southwest course for Cuba."

Boatman said 39 persons were aboard but Bill Wooten, an Eastern executive in Miami, said those aboard were 32 passengers, seven crewmen and 14 Eastern employees.

Wooten said a passenger list was not immediately available. The crew members were all Miami residents, he added.

Wooten identified the pilot as Capt. W.T. Babbitt and the first officer as W.J. Richardson.

Neither Boatman nor Wooten had any information about the hijacker or hijackers.

"We won't know anything about how it happened until they get back," said Boatman.

Wooten said Eastern had appealed to the State Department to get the passengers' back immediately.

The flight, EAL 950, departed San Juan at 7:30 a.m., officials said, and took the "Yankee Route" to Miami, swinging east of Cuba.

It was the 12th commercial flight hijacked this year and the ninth to be flown to Cuba.

All commercial planes hijacked this year to Cuba were promptly returned, but an EAL liner forced to Havana in 1961 was not returned for 23 days.

The 1961 plane was hijacked by a former Cuban secret policeman and finally was swapped for a Cuban patrol boat which had been seized to Key West earlier that year by three detectors.

Smoke Bombs End Preview

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid smoke bombs drove more than 900 persons from a Broadway theater Thursday night 10 minutes after the start of a preview performance of "The Tullian Thing."

Five men were arrested, four of them charged with riotous conduct.

Two women were treated at a hospital for inhalation of the fumes from the explosion of three devices, one in front of the orchestra, another five rows back, and the third in the balcony of the Henry Miller Theater.

As the curtain went up for the first act the capacity audience of 946 included 30 plainclothesmen. Police had received a tip on the planned bombing.

Also in the audience, but as a playgoer, was Chief Police Inspector Sanford Garelik.

Kidnapers Held, Boy Back Safe

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — FBI agents recovered today—unharmed and unransomed—a 7-year-old boy who was kidnaped Wednesday.

The youngster, Hillard Willis Marks called his delivery "wonderful."

The self-assured lad reported the abductors had been nice to him.

And his mother said "I couldn't be happier."

THREE ARRESTED

Two men and a woman were arrested in connection with the kidnaping of the namesake and grandson of Hillard Marks, president of the Perfect Plus Hosiery Co.

The kidnapers had demanded $125,000 ransom from William E. Marks, owner of a Chicago manufacturing firm. But they didn't get it, federal agents said.

The FBI said Hillard was found in a home on Chicago's far South Side.

Under arrest were Daniel C. Pieler, 30, unemployed Chicagoan; Robert S. Marin, 24, a machinist who lives on the South Side; and his wife, Ethel Marie, 26.

They were not charged immediately, but held for state and local authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks had a joyful reunion with their son in the Chicago office of the FBI.

HILLARD MARKS

They planned a party to belatedly celebrate the child's seventh birthday Thursday.

The kidnaping was known in newspapers in the Chicago area soon after it occurred. But the news was not used at the request of the parents.

Hillard was picked up Wednesday after he stepped off a school bus in Oak Brook, a high-bracket-income suburb west of Chicago.

Hillard's mother, Marylou Marks, related that she had a rough time of it.

She said she arrived home

Wednesday and her 13-year-old daughter reported she had seen Hillard get into a car at 4:05 p.m.

"We called the Oak Brook police immediately," the mother said.

Hillard, a second grade pupil at Monroe Elementary School in nearby Hinsdale, had just got off a bus a block from the Marks' large flat-roofed house in Oak Brook.

Although the defense budget has had relatively easy going in Congress in recent years, it has felt this year the impact of the economy drive ordered simultaneously with the 10 per cent surtax imposed in June.

The Senate bill is scheduled for floor action Monday. Differences with the House measure will then be compromised with the two totals and the final bill will inevitably be about $5 billion under the presidential request.

The Senate Appropriations Committee reported today it had approved for the most part the $4.83 billion in cuts made in the House.

More Defense Funds Sliced Senate May Fatten Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved a $71.9-billion defense spending budget that is $5.2 billion under President Johnson's request for the current fiscal year.

The House earlier had recommended $72.2 billion. The Senate committee cut an additional $553 million.

Although the defense budget has had relatively easy going in Congress in recent years, it has felt this year the impact of the economy drive ordered simultaneously with the 10 per cent surtax imposed in June.

The Senate bill is scheduled for floor action Monday. Differences with the House measure will then be compromised with the two totals and the final bill will inevitably be about $5 billion under the presidential request.

The Senate Appropriations Committee reported today it had approved for the most part the $4.83 billion in cuts made in the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An emancipated $1.619-billion foreign aid appropriation bill has been tossed by the House to the Senate, which may fatten it up some.

It passed the House Thursday in record time and with a record 45 per cent cut from funds requested by President Johnson to finance the program for the current fiscal year.

TOKEN FIGHT

Opponents of the $1.3-billion House-approved cut made only a token fight to increase the funds. They gave up after losing their initial effort by overwhelming voice vote.

Previously they predicted that the Senate would beef up the measure, particularly the allotments for development loans.

Approved only Thursday morning by the Appropriations Committee, the bill's total was the smallest since the aid program was launched in 1948 as the Marshall Plan.

Normally the House could not have considered the bill so swiftly since it has a rule requiring money bills to be over for three days before being voted on.

It warned that rule before passing the bill by a roll-call vote of 173 to 139. Voting for it were 120 Democrats and 53 Republicans; against it were 55 Democrats and 84 Republicans.

Cuts in funds requested by the President were in supporting assistance allotments, reduced from $195 million to $165 million in development loans for nations outside South America, from $10 million to $25 million, and in loans and grants for South American nations, from $10 million to $270 million.

Direct military assistance allotments were trimmed from $420 million to $373 million.

10 PER CENT HIGHER AFTER JAN. 1

Medicare Costs Going Up

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Medicare patients will be charged an additional 10 per cent for hospital and nursing home care beginning Jan. 1, Wilburn J. Cohen, secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced Thursday.

Cohen said patients will pay the first $44 of their hospital bill with Medicare paying the balance through the 60th day of hospitalization. Patients now pay the first $40.

COSTS UP

He cited "the rapid escalation in health costs" in making the announcement before the National Convention of the American Hospital Association. Cohen also proposed for the first time that Medicare pay for doctor as well as hospital bill from Social Security funds.

Cohen explained that the 10 per cent increase results from a provision in the law that requires the HEW secretary to annually review the deductible amount and announce before Oct. 1 what it will be for the next year.

The increase on the $40 deductible will be matched by a comparable 10 per cent hike in a patients' bill following the initial 60 day period.

According to a HEW spokesman, the patient now pays $10 per day from his 61st day to his 130th day of hospitalization, with Medicare covering the balance. In January the patient will begin paying $11 a day.

Czech Rulers Speak Up For Role Of Non-Reds

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's ruling Communists spoke up today for admission of non-Communists to management roles despite Soviet demands for strengthening of the party's control in all fields.

"Even though the influence of party organizations and bodies is bound to increase in view of the current situation, it does not mean that expertly qualified people, loyal to socialism, members of other parties and unaffiliated persons will be denied the right to share in the responsibility and the management of social, economic and other processes," the Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo declared.

The Czechoslovaks promised in their Aug. 26 Moscow agreement with the Soviet Union to strengthen the Communist party role, but Rude Pravo warned: "Nothing would be a greater mistake than to understand this commitment as a directive to govern by issuing commands, by substituting the party for and bypassing state and other bodies, so typical of conditions before last January."

Admission of non-Communists to management is a potential point of new friction with the Soviet Union, which led a Warsaw Pact invasion of this country one month ago.

The next 60 days the patient now pays $20 daily. This will rise to $22.

Should a patient then have to enter a nursing home, his first 20 days of care are free of charge, the spokesman explained. But the present $5 per day rate from the 21st day to the 100th day will be increased to $5.50 a day.

Cohen's proposal for medicare coverage of doctor fees would mean that Americans over 65, eligible for the program, would be relieved of the $4-a-month premium they now have to pay for doctor-fee insurance.

The part which pays hospital fees is available without added premium charge.

PROTESTS

Spokesmen for the elderly have protested that the $4 monthly premium for doctor-fee benefits is a heavy financial burden for many older people.

Cohen also reiterated his proposals that Medicare be extended to cover 1.2 million disabled Social Security beneficiaries and the costs of prescription drugs for certain patients.

A LOVELIER YOU Let Balloons Slim Too-Heavy Ankles

By MARY SUE MILLER Heavy ankles just can't get by the stocking-caught eye. And, if anything, stockings are more eye-catching this autumn than before. That makes slimming a heavy ankle more than ever desirable. A choice routine follows: Stretch out, back down on floor. Quickly swing right leg straight up and point toes toward ceiling. Now pretend to juggle a large balloon at end of big toe. First circle balloon by rotating ankle in clockwise direction; then anticlockwise. Next bounce balloon forward and backward by flexing ankle. Throughout be sure to keep leg in position, with knee straight and hips on floor. Continue for one minute and repeat with left leg. Strive for increased speed and agility. At this point you may wonder why instructions do not call for the use of an actual balloon. Well, you'd spend so much time retrieving it, you would never get a proper workout. If you're of a realistic turn of mind, however, you can tie a balloon to your big toe — leaving an inch of space between the two — and then juggle away. — Something else — take off any

Sirhan's Judge Once Ruled Death Penalty Constitutional

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, accused of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, will be tried before Judge Herbert V. Walker, who has heard more criminal cases than any other jurist in Los Angeles County. He once ruled the death penalty constitutional.

Walker was named presiding judge Thursday at the trial due to start Nov. 1.

He handed down the death penalty to Caryl Chessman, who died in the gas chamber in 1960 after a 12-year legal battle. Chessman, 38 at the time of his death, was a convicted sex criminal.

JUDGE H. V. WALKER

PUNISHMENT

The bushy-browed judge, at 69, is dean of the Los Angeles criminal judges. He was appointed to the bench in 1953 by Gov. Earl Warren, now U.S. chief justice.

"His standards of fairness and justice have been in the highest traditions of judicial responsibility," the Criminal Courts Bar Association said of Walker in 1964.

In 1967 he granted a 12-day hearing to the American Civil Liberties Union, which contended the death penalty constitutes cruel and unusual punishment. Experts in crime and punishment testified. Walker held that the death penalty was constitutional. Gerald Gottlieb, one of the ACLU's lawyers, said Judge Walker's role in the hearing "will constitute a lasting contribution to American law."

Big Pipeline Work Starts

Work has commenced by Wittman Construction Company of Phoenix, Ariz., on a 37-mile pipeline project for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

First ditch was cut in Mitchell County at the juncture with the district's pipeline from Lake J. B. Thomas to Sun Oil Company in Coke County.

This 11-mile section will be pushed westward to Moss Creek Lake southeast of Big Spring. The lake will become a terminal storage later on the line to the new Robert Lee Lake, but this 27-inch line will give it a direct connection with Lake Thomas.

After this line is complete, the contractor will lay 16 miles of 21-inch from the juncture to the side storage dam above Colorado City. The last section is 10 miles of 42-inch diameter line from Big Spring to Moss Creek Lake.

Wittman was awarded the contract on a bid of $2,765,467.

AMERICANS SHORT CIRCUIT ATTACKS VC Offensive Clobbered?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top U.S. military leaders claim the enemy has lost the ability to mount the kind of offensive that jolted U.S. and South Vietnamese forces last winter.

They say that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong apparently have decided to use sustained low level attacks "in hopes of wearing us out."

These high-ranking officers, speaking in private, contend that the enemy launched his expected "third wave" offensive about Aug. 18, but could not sustain the effort.

CAUTION

Publicly U.S. civilian and military officials have avoided giving firm opinions on whether the North Vietnamese and VC had attempted a third offensive.

This caution stems from criticism leveled at some U.S. leaders in the past for voicing optimism which later proved unfounded.

Senior American military leaders attribute what they claim is enemy failure to heavy casualties and very much improved allied intelligence.

South Vietnamese units to threw at us in January. There is only one option left to them—sustained low level attacks to inflict casualties and destruction."

great credit also is given to Air Force B52 and tactical fighter bombers for clobbering enemy forces before they can mount effective large scale assaults.

LOVE OPTION

Intelligence was rated one of the allied faildowns which permitted the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to shock American and South Vietnamese troops at the outset of the Tet offensive last January.

A follow-up enemy offensive in May penetrated a limited area of Saigon, struck at some other South Vietnamese centers, and was characterized by rocket attacks on populated communities.

But it was much less severe than the Tet offensive, and American military men regard the August enemy effort as even less effective.

"We are clearly on top of them militarily," one senior general said.

Bible Distribution Appears Success

DALLAS — Officials of the Baptist General Convention of Texas here are optimistic for the success of the Bible Distribution campaign currently under way.

Under the leadership of BGCT Executive Secretary Dr. T. A. Patterson, Texas Baptists plan to order more than one million copies of "Good News for Modern Man" and its Spanish language counterpart "Dios Llega al Hombre" for statewide distribution.

The best-selling American Bible Society version of the New Testament is available until Oct. 10 to all Southern Baptist churches and associations at a special rate of 20 cents per copy when ordered in lots of 50 books.

White Pupils Shun Classes

GOULD, Ark. (AP)—Most of the white students have stayed away from classes since this Arkansas River delta community opened its schools Sept. 2 under U.S. Supreme Court orders to abolish its dual school system.

Rather than be outnumbered by Negroes in public schools, the whites await the scheduled Oct. 1 opening of a hastily organized private school.

The Southeast Academy was founded after the Supreme Court told Gould and two other school districts in May that freedom-of-choice desegregation plans weren't acceptable if integration could be achieved more quickly by some other method.

Under the Gould school board's freedom-of-choice plan, 70 of the districts' more than 500 Negroes chose to attend school where 250 whites attended last year. After the court order, the board merged its Negro and white schools. School Supt. Raymond Sage said Thursday the district now has 83 white students and 549 Negroes.

Some white students have established residence in other school districts, but about 123 say they will attend Southeast Academy when it opens.

The Gould City Council relinquished its lease on the city's municipal building so the academy could buy it for $29,000 and convert it into a school.

The proposed 12-grade school is being funded by private donations and a $400-a-year tuition. Parents whose children go to the academy still will have to pay taxes that support the public schools.

"We're trying to keep all the white people from leaving Gould," says Hugh Wright, chairman of the academy's temporary board of directors.

Gould parents could accept integration, he said, but they don't want to send their children to schools dominated by Negroes.

He said that "under certain conditions," the academy might accept Negroes. His daughter, a first-grader, attends the Gould public school and might stay there "if it works out," Wright said.

"Nobody is mad at anybody else," he explained. "It's just a personal thing and that's the way we're leaving it. The Supreme Court decision is behind us. We're looking to the future."

Final Playday Events Saturday

WESTBROOK (SC) — Third and final playday arena events sponsored by Westbrook 4-H Club will get under way at 1 p.m. Saturday, last day of the Mitchell County Fair.

Riding events for riders of Shetland ponies and saddle horses lured 56 young children, young persons and adults at the first playday event. At the second playday, Sept. 7, a total of 83 riders participated.

Contests are staged by age groups beginning with Shetland pony riders up to age nine. Ribbons have been awarded through fourth place in pole bending, flag races, barrel races and goat tying.

At the Saturday afternoon playday contest to be in the Western Riding Club Arena at the fair grounds, belt buckles will be awarded.

A buckle will go to the girl and boy and the adult with the best average in each class. Ribbons won in the two previous contest events will be averaged with final ribbons. Top score possible is 48 points with first place counting four points, second place 3 points, third place two points and fourth place one point.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ West opened the ten of hearts against South's three no trump contract. The three was played from dummy, East signaled mildly by following with the six and South was in with the ace.

With only seven top tricks available, it appeared that the diamond suit must provide the balance of declarer's quota, so he entered dummy by overtaking the ten of clubs with the jack in order to lead a small diamond. It was South's intention to put in the nine from his hand. It may be observed that this play forces out West's king and, when the dummy gets in again to lead another diamond, South has a finessing position behind

East's queen-ten with the ace-jack.

East suspected the favorable lie of the cards for his opponent, and, in an effort to complicate matters for the declarer, he boldly put up the queen of diamonds, forcing South to win the trick with the ace. The ace of clubs was cashed and a third round put North in to play the long club on which all hands discarded spades.

A diamond was led and now East followed with the three. South considered the sequence of plays and decided that East must have started with both the king and queen, and that he had split his honors originally in order to prevent declarer from winning the first diamond trick too cheaply.

So reasoning, South put up the jack of diamonds from his hand. West produced the king and East's ten became established for another trick. South was held to four clubs and the three outside aces and he suffered a two trick setback.

Perhaps declarer should have had some second thoughts concerning East's diamond plays, for the latter had nothing to gain by putting up the queen of diamonds if he actually held both honors. However, East is to be complimented for finding the only play to throw South off the track.

A Devotional For The Day

Ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ . . . written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart. (II Corinthians 3:3)

PRAYER: Our Father, grant us the spirit of heart that will set us to work doing all we can to meet the needs of the bodies, minds, and spirits of all men everywhere. May Thy Holy Word increasingly give mankind vision and the Holy Spirit lead us to work for the fulfillment of the Master's prayer, "Thy kingdom come." Amen.

Frustration

Recently a well-liked, able, four-term congressman facing easy re-election indefinitely, Rep. Horace R. Kornegay, 44, a Democrat from Greensboro, N.C., called it quits. His reason for abandoning Capitol Hill? Frustration with an outmoded law-making system's waste of time and talent.

This moved Rep. James C. Cleveland, R-N.H., to say: "This is the result of our year-long sessions and our refusal to take even the first halting steps toward reorganizing and reforming the congressional system. How many more able young men like the gentleman from North Carolina will decide to leave Washington because they feel their time is more valuable elsewhere?"

It is not a matter of salary. It is the sessions dragged out by cumbersome committee procedures, chairman's bossism, three-day work weeks, bottlenecks designed to serve special interests and personal political power, and parliamentary rules favoring obstructionism over activism. Then there is the archaic, wearying seniority system that rewards aging hangers-on to the detriment of diligent, competent, and dedicated younger men.

And yet, while the executive branch has been in continuous reorganization, there has not been a congressional reform bill passed in more than two decades. There is one now pending, for some mild organizational changes to help Congress handle a little better its mounting workload. But after Senate passage, the bill has been pigeonholed in the House Rules Committee for more than a year.

And some wonder why effective political power at the federal level has shifted so heavily from Congress to the presidency. The system needs modernizing. No business would think of trying to operate today with methods of the past century.

Take Pride In The Team

Pride is an important ingredient for any community. When adults fail to manifest it, its lack quickly is noted by the younger people, and the results bode ill for the community.

This evening Big Spring has an opportunity to show its pride in its high school football team by turning out in record numbers for the opening home football game. More than a football game is involved, for it is also a matter of pride in the boys, in the band, in the school.

We have a huge investment in plant and other facilities to educate over 7,500 boys and girls, and we spend over four million dollars a year for this purpose. It's nothing less than we should do as our responsibility to the nation. But somehow in all this we must nourish the hope that many of these young people will find it advantageous to remain as productive citizens long after their formal education is past.

They certainly won't do this in a town that has no pride. Thus, this evening offers a wonderful opportunity for casting a personal vote of confidence in the community which the team so proudly represents.

David Lawrence Factors That Influence Elections

WASHINGTON — Even a definite trend of public opinion in September doesn't always mean that the same will prevail in November. Although many polls are showing Nixon to be ahead with a substantial lead over both Humphrey and Wallace, past experience has proved that the situation can change radically in the last several weeks of a presidential campaign.

THE PUBLIC-OPINION polls in September, 1948, for example, spoke of Gov. Thomas Dewey, the Republican nominee, as "almost as good as elected." Oddly enough, there was a third candidate in the field at the time, and his last name was Wallace. He happened to be a former vice president — a "liberal" Democrat — and his first name was Henry. In September, 1948, the Wallace strength on a third-party ticket was overestimated. The immediate effect of the polls, however, was to bring about a widespread effort to persuade the followers of Wallace to go back into the Democratic party. They were told that "a vote for Wallace is a vote for Dewey."

ditions favored the incumbent Democratic administration, and there was no war going on.

IT IS BEING suggested now that, with television available, what the candidates say in the next several weeks will influence a large number of voters. This is not necessarily true. Presidential candidates often suffer from "overexposure," and the nominee who conducts himself in a quiet and dignified manner sometimes gains rather than loses votes.

The most interesting example of this occurred in 1920, when James M. Cox, three times governor of Ohio, was the Democratic nominee. He had the support of the incumbent president — a Democrat. Cox toured the country from coast to coast, made many good speeches, and on the whole carried on one of the most constructive campaigns in political history.

SEN. WARREN Harding, the Republican nominee, on the other hand, conducted a "front porch" campaign at his home in Marion, Ohio, and left town to make only three or four speeches. Yet he won by a landslide due to the negative mood of the country about economic conditions that had followed the close of World War I in November, 1918. Government controls had been lifted almost immediately after the armistice, and prices skyrocketed quickly. Sugar, for instance, rose from five cents a pound to 20 cents a pound, and similar maladjustments in the price structure were numerous.

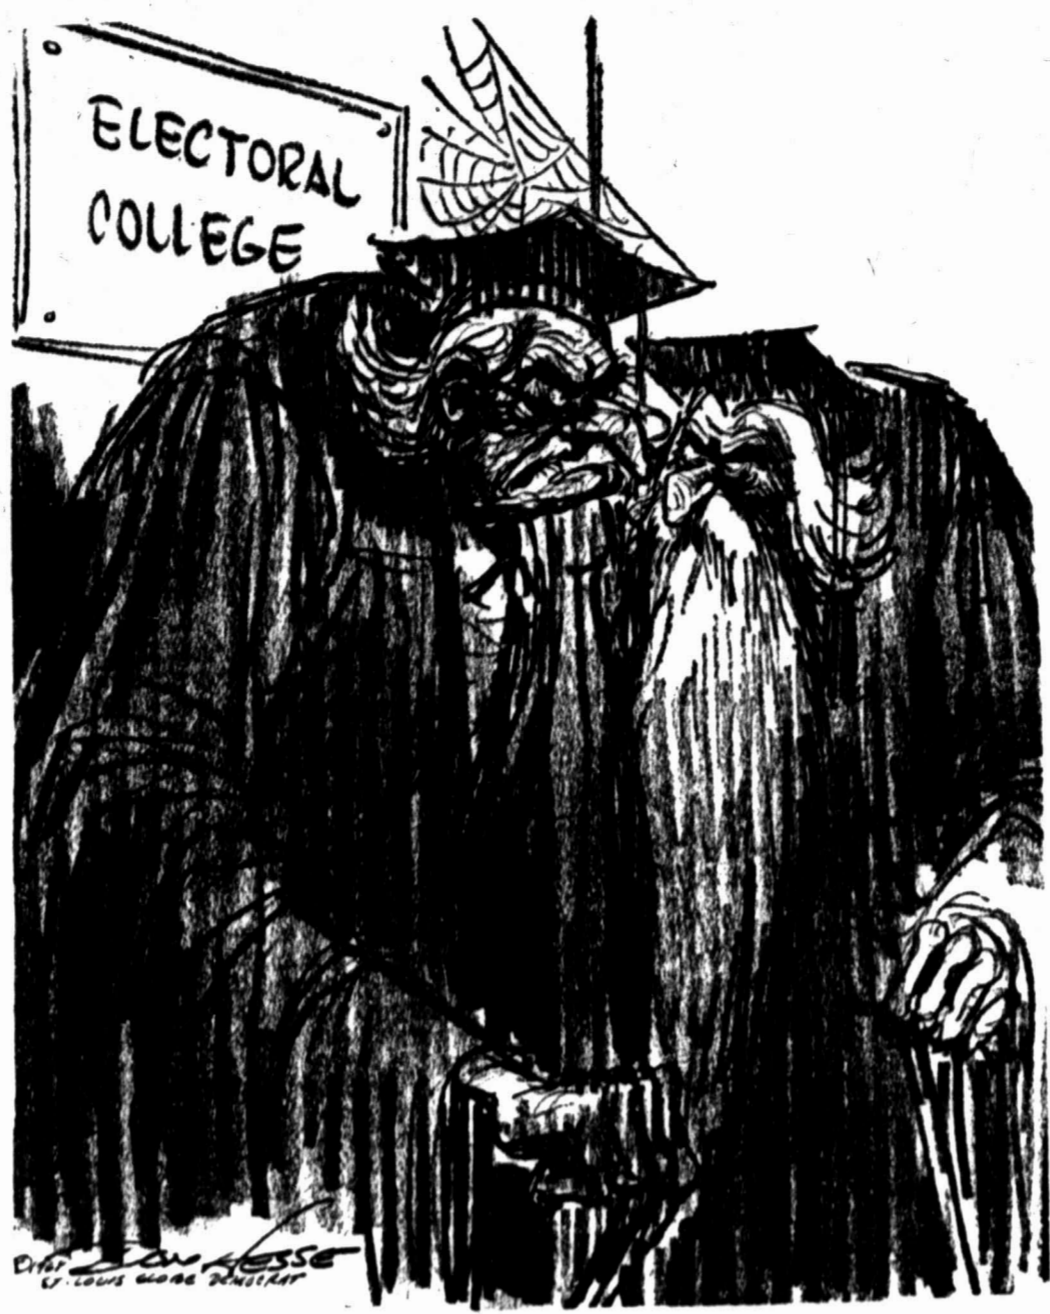

Billy Graham

My son recently obtained a book "Sex and Marriage" in which the author advocates unnatural sexual practices for unmarried couples. My son doesn't know that I have read his book. Do you think I should speak to him about it?

D.M.

The sexual permissiveness of our times is astounding to the average person. The advocates of complete sexual freedom are much more vocal and articulate than the defenders of decency. While I don't believe in the "hush-hush" attitude of years gone by when any discussion of legitimate sex was considered dirty, to me our obsession with sex and so many books about it are disgusting and revolting. This is one area of life where nature is the best teacher, and I believe that so much discussion of it attaches an interest to sex out of all proportion to its importance. I am quite sure that most of the books written on the subject are written for money, conscious as the authors must be that young people will buy them for curiosity, if for nothing else. Then, too, obviously many of the authors, judging from the tone of their writings, receive a vicarious satisfaction from the work.

The Bible is outspoken against unnatural sexual practices (read Romans Chapter 1), and the defilement of our bodies which were to be the temples of the Holy Spirit. Yes, since every one else is talking about it, I believe I would discuss the matter with your son.

John Cunniff They're Donating Their Know-How

NEW YORK (AP) — Many retired executives and professional men throughout the United States are finding contentment these days in giving away what it took them a lifetime to learn. They are donating their know-how free.

These are the members of IESC and SCORE, acronyms for International Executive Service Corps and Service Corps of Retired Executives. IESC assists foreign businessmen. SCORE does the same domestically.

Many of these retirees are finding a satisfaction that couldn't be provided by sun, golf and rest. In fact, participants actually have left the calm of retirement communities to get back into action.

EARLIER this year Everett Hinton of Sun City, Ariz., left with his wife for a six-month stay in Cyprus, where a dry-goods merchant had requested help. Hinton, 67, received a daily living allowance as his only financial compensation.

Rewards in other areas were great. The satisfaction of helping a fellow man in need, of being a useful member of society, of improving international relations, of learning about a foreign culture.

The dry-goods merchant had requested a man such as Hinton and told IESC he was willing to pay a fee of about $1,000 a month. Hinton, who spent 27 years with Montgomery Ward, was chosen from 4,400 names in IESC files.

APPLICANTS who apply to 545 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y., are chosen very carefully, but once chosen they ask for more. Nearly every man who has carried out an assignment has asked for another.

IESC's annual report, released during the summer, shows that in its four years 1,139 projects have been accepted and 583 completed. These figures will grow more rapidly from now on, for IESC has reached what it terms its first plateau, the ability to accept 500 new projects a year.

It does this on a budget of little more than $2 million, 40 per cent of which comes from American corporations or is received in service fees, and 60 per cent of which is provided by the U.S. government. Even on such a low budget the operation is becoming more efficient. Projects that cost $20,000 in the first year now average only $10,000, the result of increased activity and growing efficiency.

Hal Boyle
Cure For A Sick Society

NEW YORK (AP) — America is suffering from a national nervous breakdown, says a noted psychiatrist, "but it isn't malignant.

"It isn't like a cancer of society—it is more like a disease that has a crisis and runs its course," said Dr. Frank S. Caprio, Washington, D.C., specialist. "Things will get better."

THE ROOT cause of our society's sickness today is the widening gap between parents and teenagers. Our enemies have found our Achilles heel. They are trying to exploit it by fomenting racial tensions and campus unrest in order to establish a negative image of American life.

"The cure is for parents, teenagers and society itself to assume a greater responsibility in avoiding harmful things."

Dr. Caprio, 62, a short, jolly faced man who looks like a friendly teddy bear with a mustache, is no breast-beating Cassandra. In a just-published book, "Parents and Teenagers," he presents in detail constructive ways in which he thinks the generation gap can be lessened.

The book, his 25th, is based on more than three decades of professional experience and is co-authored by his 22-year-old son, Frank B. Caprio, who is pursuing a doctorate degree in social psychology.

"As a matter of fact, it was my son's idea," said Dr. Caprio. "We are both optimistic, and believe the problem of the generation gap can and will be solved."

"But it is necessary to adopt a positive attitude. A tremendous majority of our 25 million teenagers are better than the youth produced in any other period of our history."

"They are more idealistic, more interested in education, and more sensitive to injustice and hypocrisy. They are basically fine. Only three to five million are problem teenagers—those who are maladjusted and drop out of society, burn draft cards, smoke marijuana, become hippies. The rest are fairly well adjusted."

Dr. Caprio feels it is useless to place the guilt for the present degrees of estrangement between the generations on either parents or their offspring.

"But the future of the world does depend upon how much parents are willing to contribute to peace by teaching their children the true meaning of love and giving them a healthy sense of values."

"WORLD peace should start in the home. It must begin with a happy family."

This, in his opinion, requires greater cooperation between parents, children, and society as a whole. All have a role to play in creating a greater understanding.

"A father has to realize that merely being a good provider isn't enough," he said. "He has to realize that giving his son expensive clothing and a new automobile doesn't necessarily prove he's a good parent."

"He must remind himself that teenagers today need and want emotional security as well as material things. They need to feel accepted, inspired, guided and encouraged. It isn't true that they resent discipline; they do resent negative scolding."

ON THE other hand, Dr. Caprio suggested, teenagers, too, have a responsibility in the creation of a more wholesome, less tense family atmosphere.

"They should show more respect to their parents and forgiveness. Parents are human, too. Just as a teenager appreciates compliments from his parents, parents like to get a compliment now and then from their teenagers."

Holmes Alexander Javits Muddying The Waters

WASHINGTON — Sen. Jacob Javits (N.Y.) is a nominal Republican, but he's also a bipartisan fustibudger and a greedy gut when it comes to grabbing credit lines for himself. There wouldn't be many wet checks in the Nixon camp if Javits was bumped off in November by James Buckley, the Conservative party candidate for the New York Senate seat.

SPECIFICALLY, Javits has irritated a number of Republicans by his activities in the matter of the proposed Community Development Act of 1968. At a news conference some months ago Javits said he regarded the Community Development measure as an addition to the War on Poverty, but that's exactly what it isn't supposed to be.

Community Development is a Republican brainchild which will please its parents immensely if it strangles the War on Poverty to death. Javits doesn't understand this. In trying to muscle in as a sponsor, he has brought some Democratic personalities, as well as Democratic ideas, along with him. The Republicans wish he hadn't. Community Development was intended to be a flashy campaign item for Nixon, and a strong part of his domestic program if he's elected.

Community Development is structured like a business corporation which sells its stock to the public and operates for a profit. The stockholders in this instance would be any resident over 16 years of age in any community of as much as 5,000 persons.

STOCK would be sold cheaply for cash, or for services rendered ("sweat equity"), and each shareholder would have one vote in the decisions of the corporation. The chief business of each corporation would be to purchase neighborhood factories and stores which would be originally constructed by outside companies. Each community would have one or more development banks to keep capital in circulation. Ideally, the Federal government would be in the picture only as a non-voting partner, and principally for the purpose of giving tax concessions and incentives.

It takes some optimism to believe that good ideas can drive out bad ones. Republicans like Javits, who insist on mingling the good with the bad, don't add much hope.

Marquis Childs Summit Meeting In The Making?

WASHINGTON — In the four months remaining in his presidency, Lyndon Johnson is bent on a summit while the initial goal was Moscow, and this is still not entirely ruled out, the consolation prize is Asian summitry, with 1966 as a precedent.

THE PLANS are being readied for Bangkok some time after mid-October. Naturally no one will admit to this for a moment. Conceivably it could be broader in concept than merely the allies in the Vietnam war — a conference of Asian powers, including Japan, charting the Johnson legacy of economic rehabilitation over a wide arc.

But whatever the locale it is a safe bet that the President will be out of the country as the Nixon-Humphrey contest goes into the final embittered weeks. Johnson wants desperately to score in the last inning so that his record in foreign policy will be at least somewhat redeemed.

THE SOVIET take-over in Prague was for the President a personal disaster, since it thwarted his mission to Moscow. He had anticipated initiating the talks that would eventually lead to a slowdown in the nuclear arms race. That would have been a fitting climax to the nuclear non-proliferation treaty agreed to after so many long painstaking months of haggling and haggling.

Seen, however, in larger perspective the personal consequences for one man's place in history are dwarfed to insignificance. Prague may have put a period to the last chance to stop short of the brink. It is like the U-2 spy plane incident which at the end of Dwight Eisenhower's Presidency wrecked his high hopes for an easing of tensions and at least a pause in the seesaw of missile rivalry with the two nuclear giants confronting each other across the abyss of annihilation.

AS WAS almost inevitable Prague has poisoned the political atmosphere here at home. In his acceptance speech at Miami Beach Richard Nixon called for negotiation with the Soviet Union. Now he says the nuclear treaty should be held up, and this may mean its death. Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford called for a go-ahead on the anti-ballistic missile theory that the United States in the missile talks must negotiate from strength. This means another notch in acceleration.

In these waning months with his Gallup rating at an all-time low, the handwriting on the wall is all too plain for Johnson. Every sign points to a disaster for his party. He does not want to be trapped in the ruins.

TWO YEARS ago he took the same reading and planned to be out of the country so that presumably the blame would not fall on him. He went on a grand tour of the Pacific, beginning with New Zealand and Australia. Everywhere huge crowds thronged the streets and for the most part they were friendly crowds.

The climax came with a seven-nation conference in Manila. The conference ended on Oct. 25 with a communique pledging that all foreign troops would be withdrawn from South Vietnam six months after North Vietnam stopped its aggression and infiltration and withdrew its forces. From Manila Johnson went on to Thailand, Malaysia and South Korea where he received the most tumultuous reception of the tour, with 2,000,000 people in the streets of Seoul.

A DAY OR two before the tour ended Bill Moyer, then the President's press secretary and strong right arm, let it be known that on his return Johnson would start out on a furious campaign swing taking him to as many as 18 states, but the day after he got back to Washington he held a press conference and with considerable heat denied that he had ever intended to hit the campaign trail.

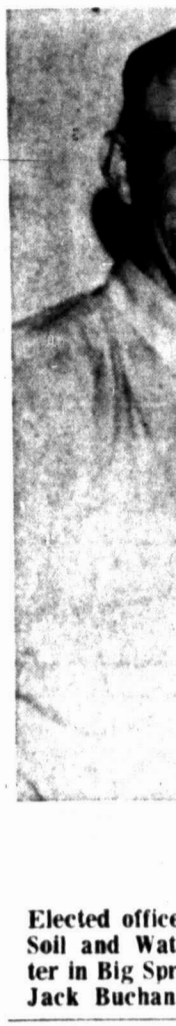

How much he could have done at that late date to save veterans such as Sen. Paul Douglas was questionable. In any event, he did not stop short of the brink. It is like the U-2 spy plane incident which at the end of Dwight Eisenhower's Presidency wrecked his high hopes for an easing of tensions and at least a pause in the seesaw of missile rivalry with the two nuclear giants confronting each other across the abyss of annihilation.

IN MID-OCTOBER this year New Zealand's Premier Keith J. Holyoake comes to Washington on a state visit. According to present planning he will fly back with Johnson on Air Force One for a repeat of the Asian summit of two years ago. (The President is holding the final decision down to the last minute.) Another hard-line conference could only add to Humphrey's troubles.

Concerning Wallace, Thurmond asserted that even if a close vote left the choice of president up to the House of Representatives the former Alabama governor still would not win. "It could turn out that way, the South Carolina Republican said, "but I don't think so. I think it will be Nixon and Humphrey in the end."

Thurmond recalled that he received 39 electoral votes in 1948 and said, "We would have stood a better chance if the election were thrown into the House then he (Wallace) does because the Southern states would have supported me and, I think, a lot of the Republicans."

Salazar Due To Be Booted
LISBON (AP) — Antonio de Oliveira Salazar remained in grave condition today, and political sources reported he will be replaced as prime minister unless there is marked improvement in his condition soon.

The sources said President Americo Thomaz and the Cabinet had agreed to name a successor to curb nervousness in official circles and among the people over the 79-year-old leader's prolonged illness.

The reports said an announcement was expected later today or Saturday.

The sources said the successor is virtually certain to be Marcello Caetano, once Salazar's closest partner in building his authoritarian regime.

Salazar, in a coma and partially paralyzed since a stroke Monday, was reported still unconscious this morning with his condition stationary.

ENGINEER MAY BE CALLED IN TO HELP PROBE

Monorail Brake Fuss Waged

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—After the driver and train officials issued contradictory statements on possible cause of Sunday's fatal monorail accident at HemisFair, police said they may ask an outside engineer to check the brake system of the train in question.

Gustav Jackson, 25, the driver of the train which witnesses and police said rammed another train, told newsmen Thursday he cut the electrical power of his train, applied brakes and then threw his train in reverse in an effort to avoid the collision.

After signing a statement for police in which he gave details of the accident, Jackson told newsmen he was about 100 feet away when he spotted the other train stopped. He said he tried to slow the train by turning the train's accelerator knob, which cut electrical power.

This did not slow down the train, Jackson said, so he turned the power all the way off and applied the brakes, which "completely failed."

He said he then "got excited" and started shouting to the passengers to "look out," and he threw the train into reverse. "It didn't get a chance to take hold," Jackson said. He estimated the train, which normally travels about four and one-half to five m.p.h. when the collision occurred.

Calls Newsprint Price Increase 'Unjustified'

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A recent hike of cost of newsprint has perpetuated the practice of making Southern newspapers subsidize the price of newsprint in other regions, R. M. Hederman, president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, said here Thursday.

The price charged by Southern newspapers continues to be the highest in the United States, Hederman said. The price of newsprint in other regions, R. M. Hederman, president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, said here Thursday.

Sabah Government Spurs Anti-Philippine Feeling

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia informed the Philippine government officially today it is suspending diplomatic relations and asked it to withdraw its customs officers from the North Borneo state of Sabah "at the earliest opportunity."

Malaysia's note was handed to Philippine Charge d'Affaires Romeo T. Cristobal at the foreign ministry.

Meanwhile, the Sabah government whipped up anti-Philippine feeling, and youths in Kota Kinabalu, the Sabah capital, burned Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos in effigy to protest the Filipino claim on their Malaysian state.

More than 10,000 of Kota Kinabalu's 60,000 population watched as a group of youths punched, spat on and burned an effigy of the Filipino president hanging from a makeshift gallows in this capital city.

Led by Sabah Deputy Chief Minister Khoo Siak Chew and other officials, the youths then paraded the flaming effigy through the city's streets.

The government declared a public holiday and called on the people to turn out for demonstrations "to give our answer and clear to the Philippines."

The protests were triggered by Marcos' signing of a law declaring Sabah Philippine territory. Malaysia retaliated by suspending diplomatic relations with the Philippines and canceling the treaty under which it was cooperating against smugglers who rob the Manila government of an estimated $100 million a year in customs.

Sabah, formerly British North Borneo, became part of Malaysia in 1963 when the former British territories in Southeast Asia were merged. The Philippines claims Sabah should have reverted to it because part of the territory was ceded to a British syndicate by a 19th century sultan of Sulu, and his descendants are now Philippine citizens.

Although Filipino leaders emphasized they had no intention of resorting to force, military forces in Sabah have been put on the alert. The director of the Sabah Vigilante Corps called for more volunteers "in view of the present situation."

Heart Of Texan Killed By Shot Transplanted

By The Associated Press
Surgeons performed the world's 50th and 51st heart transplants Thursday—the 50th at the University of Michigan Medical Center, Ann Arbor, the first such surgery in Michigan, and the other at Methodist Hospital in Houston where 14 previous transplants have occurred.

Philip T. Barnum, 49, of Kalamazoo, received the heart of an unidentified 37-year-old man at the Michigan hospital.

Barnum, a father of four, was reported in satisfactory condition. Doctors said Barnum has been suffering from coronary artery disease, a degenerative disease of the heart. The donor was described only as a stroke victim.

Names of the doctors who operated on Barnum were not immediately disclosed. The medical center has become known for its success in kidney transplants.

At Houston, the 51st heart recipient was identified as Bernard E. Pfohl, 57, an engineer of Jacksonville, Fla. A hospital spokesman said the donor was Robert Gordon Muir, 46, of Baytown, Tex., who died from a self-inflicted bullet wound of the head. Pfohl's condition was reported as satisfactory.

Doctors at Houston survive the 14th Houston heart patient, Dusan Vlado, 16, of Elenor, Yugoslavia, was reported in good condition Thursday. He received his new heart on Wednesday.

ROSH HASHANAH, THE JEWISH NEW YEAR Shofar Sounds Season

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Like a trumpet call, the sound is piercing, staccato, and the people pray, "May the solemn tones of the shofar arouse us from indolence, from indifference and from selfish ease."

The blast from the ram's horn—a call to conscience—marks the start at sundown this Sunday of a period of reevaluation and stock-taking, Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year.

It's a time of hope and trust but as leaders of the faith surveyed conditions in the nation and the world, they saw widespread danger and deprivation.

America faces "both challenges and uncertainties," said Arthur J. Goldberg, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice and United Nations ambassador, now president of the American Jewish Committee.

"Abroad, we have yet to fix on a course of action that will bring peace; at home, we have yet to devise ways of meeting our commitments to our own citizens."

Yet, in the rudiments of men's religion, confidence persists, no matter how grim the circumstances, and that basic hopefulness sounded in the messages of the Jewish observance.

"Hope is a duty, especially when doom seems inevitable," said Rabbi Levi A. Olan, of Dallas, Tex., president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, representing the clergy of Reform Judaism.

"The fierce conflict and terrible agony of our times are in themselves testament to hope. Much of the violence and disorder is in oppression, in unnecessary poverty, colonial slavery, or under political and economic tyranny."

In Jewish homes around the globe, Rosh Hashanah begins at sunset with a simple ceremony of prayer and symbolism—the lighted candles on white tablecloths, the sliced apple dipped in honey, signifying hope for a "sweet" year.

Then families go to the synagogues, where the sharp blowing of the shofar sounds its summons to re-examine attitudes and conduct, to repent of past wrongs and to rededicate oneself to God's purposes and principles.

"Help us, O God, to understand," the congregations pray, "that injustice and hate will not forever afflict the sons of men; that righteousness and mercy will triumph in the end."

The observance is the beginning of a 10-day period of introspection and penitence, the "Days of Awe," culminating in Yom Kippur, the "day of Atonement," of divine forgiveness for man's failings and assurance of continued care for him.

Jewish tradition holds that man's fate is written down at the start of the period, and sealed at its close.

Services in many synagogues this year will include prayers for peace in the Middle East and Vietnam, for reconciliation of the races in this country, and for liberty and justice for people in Communist nations.

"The hearts of all of us are filled with prayers for the freedom and well-being of the Czechs and the Slovaks," said Henry N. Rapoport, president of the United Synagogue of America, representing Conservative congregations.

Johnson Backs Bible Week

NEW YORK — President Johnson officially endorsed National Bible Week today in a statement declaring that the Scriptures provide "the best possible guidepost for today's living."

Mr. Johnson sent this statement on Bible Week to the American Bible Society and the Laymen's National Committee, joint sponsors of the observance, to be held Oct. 20-27.

The Laymen's National Committee, an organization of leaders of business, industry and the professional world, has sponsored the week annually since 1941.

The American Bible Society and the Laymen's National Committee are joining for the second consecutive year in sponsorship of National Bible Week. The occasion also marks the opening of the Bible Society's Worldwide Bible Reading, a month-long scriptural program conducted every year. It will be observed this year from Oct. 20 through Thanksgiving.

In a statement issued by the White House, President Johnson said:

"The Bible comes with many covers, on varying grades of paper, and in multiple languages. But its purpose is unchanged: man's firm instructions and wonderful promises from God. It holds our answers, and it holds our hopes. It is life's greatest Scripture proving 'the best possible guidepost for today's living.'

"While this mighty book traces our history and projects into tomorrow, it remains the best possible guidepost for today's living."

Ministers interested in this course, designed to strengthen personal counseling, are asked to contact Chaplain Butler at Box 231, Big Spring, or phone 267-8216, extension 260 for details. In the alternative, they are asked to be at the hospital Thursday morning.

'BIG FISH STORY' CONTAINS LESSONS FOR ALL GENERATIONS

Jonah and his mission to Nineveh form the basis of the Sunday school lesson, based on background Scriptures Jonah 1:4.

The Book of Jonah too often is treated as a "big fish story," but it has some pertinent lessons for any generation. When God commanded Jonah to go to Nineveh, he ran in the opposite direction, boarding a ship. The story is familiar — how in a great storm he was singled out as the "Jonah" and cast overboard and eventually rescued through the medium of a big fish (not a whale).

Commanded again to go to Nineveh, he obeyed — but apparently with his fingers crossed. He went into this city of perhaps 600,000 population, warning that if the residents did not repent, God would destroy them in 40 days.

He must secretly have hoped that God would destroy Nineveh, for when the Ninevites did repent and God lifted His judgment, Jonah pouted. He felt that God should have Israel but destroy Nineveh.

The notions of one man notwithstanding, God loves all people when they hearken unto His voice. This was the case even with Nineveh. God chided Jonah for his blindness and childishness. Waiting for God to destroy the city, Jonah waited on the outskirts under a gourd vine. When it died, Jonah was disturbed and pitied it. Then God reminded him how much more important were the souls of human beings whom Jonah wanted wiped out.

Received By Presbytery

Three new ministers were received into the Presbytery of the Southwest at its semi-annual session concluded Wednesday afternoon in El Paso.

Included was the Rev. David L. Northcutt, Coahoma, whose ordination has been set for 5 p.m. Sept. 29 in the First Presbyterian Church in Coahoma.

Others are the Rev. James W. Cory, Seminole, and the Rev. Don Coleman, who will be the minister to Presbyterian students at Texas Tech.

John McClelland, student at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, was received as a candidate for the ministry.

The Presbytery agreed to kick off a capital funds campaign early in 1968 to raise at least $200,000 to be used in development of a camp obtained three years ago at Chimney Springs near Clodocroft, N.M. Although camp was held there this year, the place is unimproved.

Dr. Preston Harrison, Big Spring, was named to the Presbytery commission on the minister and his work. The Rev. John H. Justus, minister of El Paso Manhattan Church, was named moderator-elect, and Clovis, N.M., was selected as host for the February meeting of the Presbytery.

Attending from here were Frank Lovelace and Rev. Northcutt, Coahoma; Bill Gibson and the Rev. Dan Sebasta, St. Paul's Big Spring, and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd and A. A. Porter, First Church, Big Spring.

Glenn Faison Goes To COME

Glenn Faison, education director at First Baptist Church, is being sent by his congregation to help with the COME (Canada - Ohio Michigan - Enlargement) evangelism effort next week.

He leaves here today for Detroit where he will work with the Merriman Road Baptist Church. He and other workers for the venture sponsored jointly by the Michigan Baptist and other area conventions and the Southern Baptist Sunday School board, will participate in a kick-off rally Saturday evening in Detroit.

A week of intensive preparation to reach the estimated 60 to 70 per cent unchurched people among the 10 million population around Lake Erie will follow. Evangelistic emphasis will follow during October, November and December, and it will look forward to the Crusade of the Americas next spring.

Atoms and Apple Cores

Mark will be fourteen years old this month. He is very thoughtful these days. Many an hour is spent on the back lawn with watercolors and pad, mostly thinking or dreaming.

Boundless curiosity is his, and "why," a certain response to every answer he receives. Besides painting, he likes to hunt, swim, golf, read, and putter in the basement with test tubes. Only recently, girls have been included with rifles and missile shots as a favored topic of conversation.

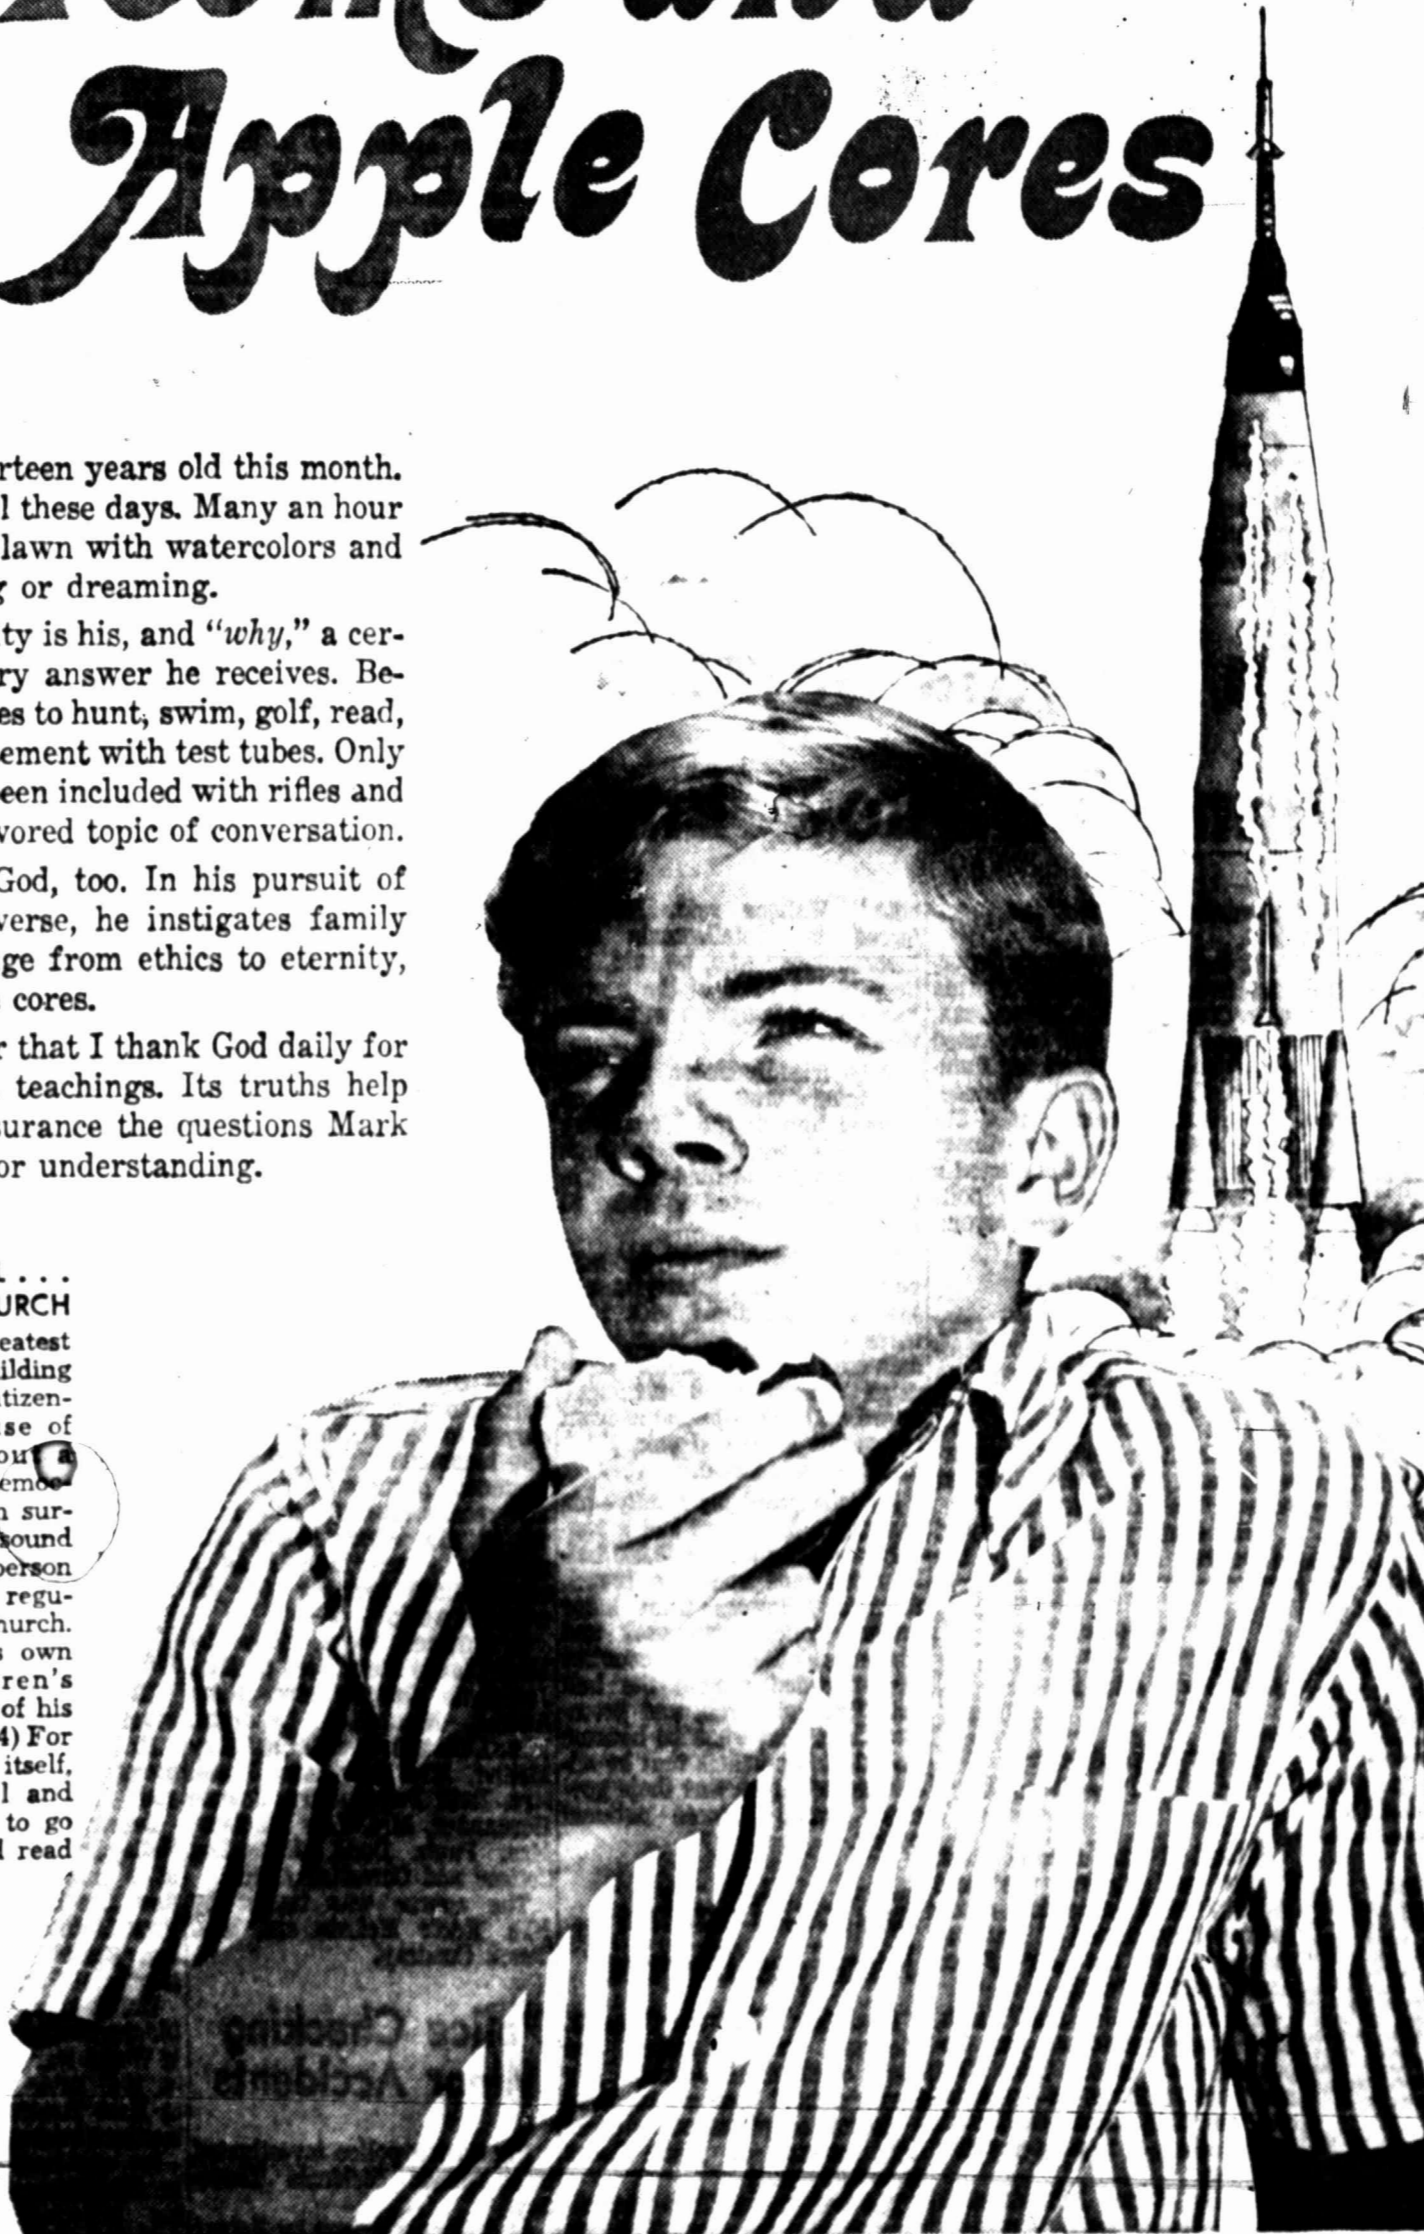

He talks about God, too. In his pursuit of answers to the universe, he instigates family discussions that range from ethics to eternity, from atoms to apple cores.

It's small wonder that I thank God daily for His Church and its teachings. Its truths help me answer with assurance the questions Mark asks in his search for understanding.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

First Party Since Shooting

Andy Warhol, pop artist and producer of underground movies, talks with French actress Martine Barot during party at "The Factory," Warhol's studio in New York's Greenwich Village, last night. Miss Barot wears a dress with a plunging neckline open nearly to the waist.

Superstars Galore At Warhol's Party

NEW YORK (AP) — There were superstars galore Thursday night as Andy Warhol, pop artist and producer of underground movies, hosted his first party since he was shot by one of his proteges early in June. "He's even more profound and more beautiful now than before if that's possible," said Ingrid Superstar of the man who has two paintings of Campbell Soup cans in the Museum of Modern Art.

Warhol himself said he saw no "new Warhol" as a result of the shooting.

"Before I thought it would be fun to be dead. Now I know it's fun to be alive," said Warhol whose movie "The Chelsea Girls" was the first underground movie to be shown in commercial theaters.

Equal Time Bill Includes Wallace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bill to make televised debates possible between presidential candidates has inched forward in a House committee amid charges that the issue is becoming a political football.

There also was speculation Thursday that even if the Senate-passed measure finally wins approval in the House the debates may never take place.

The House Commerce Committee tacked onto the bill a provision to insure inclusion of third-party candidate George Wallace in any debate between Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey and Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Then it approved the over-all measure 21-10, but scheduled further consideration next week after the ranking Republican protested the precise wording.

The move by Rep. William L. Springer of Illinois prompted the comment from Chairman Harley D. Staggers, D-W. Va., that the issue has "turned into a political situation completely."

He and Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., suggested Springer's move amounted to a delaying tactic and that Nixon does not want to debate.

The bill would suspend requirements that radio and television stations or networks who provide time to one candidate also provide it to all others competing for the same office.

Suspension of the law in 1960 led to the historic debates between Nixon and John F. Kennedy.

Inclusion of Wallace drew praise from Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Stanton said Wallace had emerged, according to polls, "as an important force in this fall's campaign."

"We believe the electorate should be given the opportunity to compare first hand his views on the critical issues of this campaign with those of the candidates of the Democratic and Republican parties," Stanton said in a statement.

Should the modified bill clear committee it then faces House debate and later conference with the Senate.

Nixon has said he would be willing to debate Humphrey, but not in a three-way meeting with Wallace. Humphrey has indicated he would go along with a three-way debate.

If the bill passes, however, and Nixon sticks with his position some sources suggest Humphrey might refuse to debate Wallace alone.

Detroit Ace Wins 31st Game, 6-2

by The Associated Press
What do you do for an encore after two consecutive no-hitters? Well, as far as the St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Giants are concerned, not much—except, maybe, give the hitters a chance to unvent some pent-up frustrations.

ON WAY TO 31st WIN Detroit's Denny McLain

Jim Hart cracked a grand slam homer and Bob Bonds hit a pair of homers and scored four runs to pace San Francisco's 15-hit attack that helped rookie Rich Robertson to his second straight victory.

Meanwhile, Detroit's Denny McLain won his 31st game, although one of his deliveries enabled Mickey Mantle to take over sole possession of third place on the all-time homer list.

OVER LEE, 7-6

Peurifoy's Boot Boosts Dogies

MIDLAND — A touchdown Jack Chrane. The Big Spring JV's scored in the final three minutes of the first half, coupled with a successful point-after-touchdown Big Spring while Rose was try by Ricky Peurifoy, enabled the visitors to edge Midland and defense for Lee's Stone wall Brigade, 7-6, Thursday night.

The win was the second in a row for Big Spring. Lee was making its first start of the season.

Quarterback Gary Hughes counted the Shortorns' TD from three yards out at the end of a 65-yard drive. Option plays, in which Hughes would throw to Joe Zubiate and Kyle Rose or keep, threw the Lee defense off balance in the surge.

Royal Looks For Trouble

AUSTIN (AP) — Houston fans and coaches call it "the big one." Texas fans joke that the Houston team will fly to Austin without a plane.

It has stirred more excitement in the Southwest than any game in years, probably since Texas and Oklahoma fought it out in 1963 for the No. 1 national ranking.

Steers, Lee Launch 3-4A Play Tonight

Coach Bob Burris of Midland Lee voiced concern over Big Spring's quickness the other day but, the truth of the matter is, his own Lee club exchanged size for speed this fall and may be the better team for it.

Cowboys, San Diego Rate Scribe's Vote

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay's chances of rolling to a fourth straight National Football League title should be easier to rate after Sunday's meeting with the Minnesota Vikings who roughed up Atlanta 47-7.

The Packers had no serious trouble with the battered Philadelphia Eagles in their opener, but the Vikings' revitalized attack offers a challenge.

Although the two clubs split in 1967, the pick here is the favored Packers, but in a close game.

With a complete 13-game program on tap in the NFL and AFL, here's the way it looks from here.

Green Bay 28, Minnesota 20—Bart Starr is on the beam and both Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski are healthy.

The Vikings unveiled a new threat in Clint Jones, who rode the bench in '67, and Joe Kapp looked like a winner against the Falcons.

Could be an upset, but Packer defense should hold the fort.

Baltimore 30, Atlanta 7—John Units was thrown out during the week but Earl Morrall is capable of shredding that Falcon defense.

Atlanta threw a scare into the Colts last fall but folded the second time around.

Chicago 28, Detroit 14—Two clubs trying to bounce back from opening game disasters.

Gale Sayers usually has big day against Lions who still are shaken by that 59-13 beating in Dallas.

However, Sayers will be playing with a minor back injury. Bears won't have to worry about Sonny Jurgensen this week but must watch out for Earl McCulloch.

Dallas 24, Cleveland 17—Don't think Browns have forgotten that 59-13 rout in the playoff game last December.

Cowboys rolled for 542 yards against Lions, with Don Meredith playing only first half.

way. That front four got Greg Landry five times last week. Beware, Frank Ryan.

New York 30, Philadelphia 21—Giants made mistakes but still beat Steelers handily, showing new spark in Ronnie Blye.

Eagles still without Norm Snead. Fran Tarkenton might run at Eagles, opening them up for bombs to Homer Jones.

Los Angeles 31, Pittsburgh 10—The Rams' defense ruined Jim Hart and the Cards and could do the same for Kent Nix.

Roman Gabriel should find Steelers' deep defense easier to pierce than Cards' Clubs haven't met in regular season since 1964.

San Francisco 21, St. Louis 20—Toughest game on the list. 49ers still busy installing new system under Dick Nolan.

Cardinals must bounce back from tough game Monday night. If John Brodie can avoid those interceptions, 49ers should squeak home.

Washington 27, New Orleans 17—Bombs away. Jurgensen takes to the air again. Pat Richter was the main target last week.

This time it might be Charley Taylor's turn. Billy Kilmer was intercepted three times last week as Saints offense looked sad.

AFL San Diego 24, Houston 7 (Saturday night)—Chargers have second since Sept. 6 opener with Cincinnati Oilers.

Hoyle Granger and Pete Beathard can be rough. They split last year in two tight games.

Oakland 31, Miami 10 (Saturday night)—Raiders manhandled Buffalo so badly, 48-6, that Joe Collier was fired.

Bob Griese erratic in Dolphins, opening defeat by Houston. Oakland should be able to call the score.

Cincinnati 14, Buffalo 7—How can an expansion club be favored over an old-established club? Paul Brown's men knocked off Denver last week.

Red Foley Is Found Dead In His Room

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Red Foley, who rose to fame in the late 1940s with his recording of "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy," was found dead in his motel room Thursday night. He was 58.

He apparently died of natural causes as he was getting ready for bed some 8 to 12 hours before his body was found. Dr. Gordon Franke, Allen County coroner said. An autopsy was scheduled today.

Franke said Foley was fully clothed and on his back on the bed when found by the motel manager.

Foley, whose gospel song "Peace in the Valley" was the first religious record to sell over a million copies, had given two performances in Fort Wayne Wednesday evening.

TOP ARTIST
Clyde Julian Foley was born on a 24-acre farm near Berea, Ky. He began his professional singing career in 1931 at the age of 21.

Named the top folk artist in the country in 1950, he was voted into the country music Hall of Fame last year—becoming one of half a dozen living artists to hold the honor.

His first songs were the tragic ballads—"The Death of Floyd Collins" and "The Sinking of the "Titanic"—but his name grew with the toe-tapping, rag-popping story of a singing shoe shine boy in a Chattanooga railroad station.

Foley, a baritone, got his first guitar lesson from his father and credited "pop" with his success in the music field.

He prepared for his "coming out" at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville in 1946 by doing shows with Gene Autry on the National Barn Dance and by cutting a record for Sears & Roebuck on the Conqueror label.

SCARED

"I guess I never was more scared than I was the night I replaced Roy Acuff on the network part of the Opry," he related years later.

The father of four daughters, he had lived in Nashville with his third wife, Sally, since he returned to the Tennessee city in 1963 following a brief stint in Hollywood as the star of a television series, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

Both his first and second marriages ended in death. The first wife, Pauline, died during the birth of his first daughter, Betty. His second wife, Iva, died unexpectedly in 1951.

His other daughters are Shirley, Julie and Jenie. Shirley is married to actor-singer Pat Boone.

After Foley left the Grand Ole Opry, he was featured singer on the "Ozark Jubilee," a television production he founded in Springfield, Mo.

Some of his later hits including "Don't Let The Stars Get In Your Eyes," "Tennessee Saturday Night" and "Just a Closer Walk With Thee."

Gen. Ike Not Out Of Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's surgeon general describes former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recuperation from repeated heart attacks as "miraculous" and says the former president now gets out of bed several times a day.

"We are very pleased with the progress that Gen. Eisenhower is making at the moment," Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton said Thursday.

Heaton said Eisenhower now gets out of bed several times daily to sit in a chair, eats well, no longer uses oxygen and looks "very good."

He added, however, that the 77-year-old Eisenhower is not out of danger. He declined to speculate on when or whether he could go home to his Gettysburg, Pa. farm.

Heaton's comments were made at a White House ceremony during which President Johnson declared the week of Oct. 13 as "America's Salute to Eisenhower Week."

In handing a copy of the proclamation to Eisenhower's son, John, the President said America "has always spoken with one voice and affection for a beloved leader."

McCalls Pays $1 Million For Article By Bobby

NEW YORK (AP) — A 25,000-word article about the Cuban missile crisis, written by the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has been sold to McCall's magazine for $1 million plus reprint and broadcast rights.

Norman Cousins, editor in chief of McCall's, announced the sale at a news conference Thursday. He said the cash price for the manuscript—$40 a word—was the largest ever paid for such material.

Cousins said the magazine containing the article would appear on newsstands Oct. 22, the sixth anniversary of the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba.

He said the issue would have a normal press run of 8.5 million copies.

Theodore C. Sorensen, an aide to both Sen. Kennedy and John F. Kennedy, said the article would go to the Kennedy estate.

McCall's paid $1 million for the article, which ended when the Russians dismantled their Cuban missile sites and took the missiles back to the Soviet Union.

Sorensen said Kennedy began writing the article at the request of the New York Times magazine in April 1967, but later decided not to submit it for publication because it was too long and because some persons might feel he was using it in a bid for the presidency.

The article was found in the assassinated senator's personal effects and was sold to McCall's after bids were taken from various publishers, Sorensen said.

He said the $1 million, along with subsidiary rights including book publication, serialization, films, television and recordings, would go to the Kennedy estate.

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER—

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A strange day, night which is not of all good for anything that requires taking chances or that is new and different in its nature and character but a very good Saturday for focusing your time and your energies upon the various and sundry duties that need to be concluded before you can proceed any further.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Look about you whether you are in business and see what you can do about improving your surroundings. Fresh draperies could make such a difference. Find the right person to give you a hand at this refreshing process.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Make it a point to assist one who is really having a difficult time today. Your attitude could help rather than lash out at one who is acting in an earnest manner. Forget cares and have fun tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): If you really listen to suggestions of Kim you can be very helpful in their plans as well as make your own more successful. Don't just take off and to heck with everyone else. Family accord is very important now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Be careful when you go up or down stairs, drive, or in motion anywhere today and tonight. And before you use sarcasm with others, think twice. You find that neutrality with others pays off in big dividends instead.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You could have a big loss now if you aren't careful. Since the planets are not with you right now, think in terms of saving instead so that you have a good bank account. Stop letting others take advantage of you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You fare better now by assisting others with their problems. A good partner does something that will further your interests. Show attitude in some tangible way. Don't take anything for granted.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Keep focused on your duties with others that may take a good deal of your time, but which are really important. Clear up unfinished business. Be sure you assist that person in real trouble.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You have an impulsive friend who best you do not follow to any marked degree or you will get into trouble. His or her judgment is not very good. Be sure you do not say something unkind about a good friend out of sheer boredom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You have understood just what should be done in the outside world so that you get to the top, but be cautious about such. Be sure that you are loyal to that bigwig who is having some sort of trouble. Show attitude for good favors.

Dear Abby That Songbird Sister

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister is very musical. She is also a little nuts. She plays the guitar and makes up songs. She made a ballad which she calls, "THE MEN IN MY LIFE." It has about 30 verses and she goes on and on naming one guy after another. Maybe it's true and maybe it's not, but she sure included a lot of guys, both single and married. I told her she'd better quit singing that song around town or she's apt to get herself in a lot of trouble. She could get sued, couldn't she? And by the way, how much would it cost to send her to the city to get her head read?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, 15, accepted a ring from a boy, 17, after skating with him three evenings. It meant nothing. This is just the way they do things. A boy will give the same ring to three girls in a week sometimes.

Well, my daughter lost the ring. Now his sister called me, demanding that I pay for the ring. She said she gave it to her "kid brother" as a birthday gift.

What would you advise? I really feel no responsibility, but want to do the right thing.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (I'll refer to him as "John") passed away recently, and I suffered a great loss as we had been happily married for over 20 years. Ours was a good marriage except for one incident several years ago when John had an affair with another woman. It almost killed me when I found out, but he promised he would stop seeing her.

A week after John's death, his mother told me that John had never really stopped seeing this other woman, and the affair continued right up to the time of his death. This came as a terrible shock from which I haven't yet recovered. How can one be so cruel and heartless?

What shall I say if my mother-in-law mentions this affair again?

Recorded Tips May Slice Toll

DEAR BILLY: I suppose your sister-in-law could be sued for libel or defamation of character, but if she's as "nutty" as you say she is, I doubt if anyone takes her seriously. If you send me your name and address I'll be glad to tell you what the local going rate for a "head reading" is.
