Wallace's Impact Confessed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Concerned senators generally say they believe George C. Wallace's third-party presidential bid has about reached peak strength and will be on the downgrade election day.

But few Democrats or Republicans doubt that the former Alabama governor will have a strong impact on the contest between GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon and Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey — if he gains anywhere near the 20 per cent of the popular vote some polls now indicate.

Spot Checks Results

A spot check of the individual senators deeply involved in local contests indicates that Wallace's greatest threat to either candidate lies in the states that ring the Deep South — the states which Nixon counts on to furnish him the winning margin of electoral votes.

Nixon himself has spotlighted this problem by calling on Humphrey to repudiate any attempt on the part of Southern Democrats to combine with Wallace forces in an attempt to throw the presidential contest into the House of Representatives.

Nixon Knows It

Humphrey said in a speech Friday: "Mr. Nixon has charged there is some collusion between my supporters and the supporters of Gov. Wallace. Well, that charge is patently ridiculous and Mr. Nixon knows it."

"But I issue this challenge: Let Richard Nixon, George Wallace and me debate the issues on national television. That way we'll soon find who is in collusion with whom. And it won't be Humphrey and Wallace."

In Tennessee, one of the critical border areas, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., working hard for Nixon, said he thinks the GOP nominee will win. But he does not rule out the possibility that Wallace might come out on top in the scramble there for 11 electoral votes of the 270 needed for victory.

"The race is between Nixon and Wallace in Tennessee," Baker said. "I don't find any Humphrey sentiment in the state."

Baker said he has been surprised that Wallace's strength has remained high. But Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said he thinks Wallace, who rose to power in Alabama as an ardent segregationist, has already peaked and is on his way down.

Will Taper Off?

Cooper said he is confident Nixon will win Kentucky's nine electoral votes handily.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said if Wallace gets 25 per cent of the vote in Virginia, as some polls indicate he might, he will cut into Nixon's chances to win the state's 12 electoral votes.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., said there is substantial Wallace support in his state but he thinks it will taper off by election time.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

It was very near Webb Week, what with the observance of the 26th anniversary of the establishment of an air base in Big Spring. This was climaxed by a visit by Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux, commander of the Air Training Command, a luncheon, a ball and a couple of tours of the base. UPT Class 69-G graduated; several top decorations were presented; Webb consolidated base personnel was the best in ATC; Col. Thomas DiFloure named as OMS commander; and finishing touches put on the Air Force Association social for senior NCO's on Tuesday.

Naturally, it was fitting that the appropriations bill for the base stepped up a notch with approval of the House and Senate conferees. The $2,796,000 marked for Webb is due to get approval by both houses, then the measure goes to the President for final enactment.

Contrary to the song, there was a discouraging word on the range. There were reports that more than three score youngsters were involved in an alleged glue-sniffing, marijuana party. Squeeze that number a lot to allow for exaggeration and it's still something to worry about, to find out about, and do something about.

On the other end of the spectrum, however, came word that Herbert J. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Ward, 1706 Donley, and Gerald W. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, 602 George, have earned places as National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists. The hurdle to finalist (See THE WEEK, Page 8-A, Col. 7)

'You Still Around, You Skalawag!'

Former President Harry S. Truman recognized some of the photographers who accompanied him on his tours in his presidential days when the press corps descended on the Truman home Saturday. Today's occasion was the visit of Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine the 1968 presidential and vice presidential candidates who interrupted their tour to visit with another old Democratic campaigner.

'Always Tell The Truth, Even If Hurts,' Truman Tells HHH

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, who likens his own campaign to Harry S. Truman's in 1948, made a pilgrimage Saturday to the man who won one of history's biggest political upsets and got this advice:

"Always tell the truth, even if it hurts."

Humphrey and his running mate, Sen. Edmund Muskie, were welcomed on the gingerbread porch of the late Victorian style home by the 84-year-old former president who went through problems much like Humphrey's.

Truman trailed Republican Thomas Dewey in the polls 20 years ago as Humphrey is lagging behind Richard M. Nixon now.

Humphrey believes, however, that many of his problems now are due to a reaction from the rioting and other difficulties at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

He feels that he will just about pull even with Nixon by mid-October and already sees encouraging signs of supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy moving in greater numbers to his side.

Humphrey is said to be under pressure from some advisers to make some definite move that would separate him from the administration's Vietnam policy.

Recently Humphrey has been again taking the line that as president he would be able to do everything he thought necessary to bring peace but that as a vice president and as presidential candidate he has no control over events.

LAUDS LBJ

Humphrey's appearance with Truman today capped a week in which he appeared with other top Democrats and oft-times critics of the war—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Sen. George McGovern, Sen. Wayne Morse and Adlai Stevenson II. He also received an endorsement from President Johnson.

Later in a speech prepared for a state Democratic dinner in Columbus Humphrey evoked all the names—Franklin Roosevelt, Adlai Stevenson, John Kennedy and said of Lyndon Johnson:

"He went on to accomplish more of the unfinished business of America than any of his modern predecessors."

He also received an endorsement from President Johnson.

Soviet Troops Leaving Soon From Prague

Though Some Will Remain, Premier Says

Where's Zond 5, Up, Down—Lost?

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's leadership gave out word Saturday that Soviet-led occupation troops will start gradual withdrawals within a few days but "certain contingents" will remain.

News of pending pullouts of troops who invaded just a month ago came from Premier Oldrich Cernik in a speech to Communist party officials and workers in Ostrava, a big mining center in Silesia.

His remarks were reported by Radio Prague.

"In the next few days, the gradual withdrawal of foreign troops from our territory will take place," he was quoted as saying. "But certain contingents of the armies will stay with us—how many and for how long, the public will learn in due time."

PUNISHMENT

Cernik, followed by Alexander Dubcek, the Communist party's first secretary and chief architect of the nation's reform policies, pledged a government which will work to keep the air free for political expression.

"The answer to voices saying we did not face up resolutely enough against rightist elements is that nobody can expect that we will use the same methods as the fifties," Cernik declared. "We will not punish anybody for his political opinions."

"Only those will be punished who transgress our valid laws," said Dubcek. "It is important to create an atmosphere in which people will not fear to speak their opinions in public."

Dubcek promised that the Czechoslovak Communist party would avoid what he called "a power policy" and would win over the masses by its work and position on various problems.

OCCUPATION

A major demand of the Soviet-led occupation is for the stationing of Warsaw Pact troops permanently on Czechoslovakia's border with West Germany.

A high official of the Czechoslovak border guard said Saturday Czechoslovakia continues to defend its borders adequately by itself.

John Rathiff, petty officer first class going home to Texas to marry his sweetheart, Sandra Thompson, looked down as the plane approached the runway and said, "It sure didn't look like Miami."

"When we taxied to a stop," he said, "the attendant told me, 'You know where you're at, don't you?'"

"AFRAID SO"

"I said, 'Yes, I'm afraid so.'" Few of the passengers interviewed even noticed the hijacker as he worked his way forward seat by seat from the tourist to the first class section, then entered the cockpit with a revolver in his hand.

Earthquakes Jolt Areas Of Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Four earthquakes, ranging in strength from minor to strong, Saturday jolted widely scattered areas of Japan, extending from the northernmost main island of Hokkaido to central Honshu.

National Police headquarters in Tokyo said there was no report of major damage or deaths but four persons were injured in Urakawa in Hokkaido.

JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory reported Saturday night indications that the Soviet spaceship Zond 5 has re-entered the earth's atmosphere after circling the moon.

British experts have predicted a Soviet attempt to land the capsule, adding success would give the Russians a big step forward in the man-to-the-moon race.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of the observatory here, said his radiotelescopes were receiving no signals after picking up "heaps of extremely strong signals" earlier in the day.

"If the Russian spacecraft is still in orbit we would have expected to have received further signals by this time," Lovell said at 7 p.m. "Therefore we presume it has re-entered the earth's atmosphere—as we expected from our last contact."

But Lovell stressed to newsmen: "We have no definite information at this time. We are acting on an assumption."

He said the observatory was no longer attempting to track the Soviet moonshot, last reported tumbling toward the earth at 25,000 miles an hour. At that time it was over Antarctica and apparently less than 3,000 miles from the earth's surface.

One British science expert said "It's one thing for the spaceship to re-enter the earth's atmosphere. It's another thing to recover it successfully. News of this achievement can only be disclosed by the Russians. If the recovery effort failed, we may never hear what really happened."

Double-Barreled Assault In DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — Two thousand U.S. Marines backed up by America's largest bombers pressed a double-barreled assault Saturday against North Vietnamese army units trying to enter South Vietnam across the demilitarized zone.

The Leathernecks, in the fifth day of a massive sweep through the once-neutral buffer zone, reported light contact with the enemy as they methodically destroyed well-engineered bunkers and infiltration trails.

U.S. spokesmen said that since the Marines were landed by helicopter in the DMZ Tuesday, they have killed 68 North Vietnamese soldiers at a cost of two Marines killed and 20 wounded.

EIGHT RAIDS

While the Marines swept through the mountainous central area of the DMZ, U.S. B52 bombers have been flying daily strikes on the eastern flank of the zone, about seven miles inland from the coast and over the southern edge of North Vietnam.

Eight such raids were flown Friday in an attempt to silence the big enemy guns that could be used against the Marines. Field reports said the enemy artillery so far has failed to pinpoint the Leathernecks' sweeps.

U.S. sources said earlier this week that three North Vietnamese divisions with about 30,000 men are concentrated along the DMZ for a possible push against South Vietnam's northern provinces.

Presumably they were to use an intricate network of "speed trails," now being destroyed by the Marines. A Marine spokesman said these trails were cleared paths with steps and hand rails in difficult terrain.

Two other significant actions were reported across the country Saturday.

DEADLY CLASH

Marines of the 7th Regiment reported killing 47 enemy in a sharp clash 110 miles south of the DMZ, southwest of Ho An. American losses were one killed and 24 wounded.

The area south of Da Nang has seen almost constant fighting since Aug. 23 when two regiments of the North Vietnamese 2nd Division tried to punch their way into South Vietnam's second largest city. Since then U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops have pushed them southward, killing an estimated 2,000 in scattered firefights.

Forty-eight miles northwest of Saigon near Tay Ninh City, where fierce fighting flared Friday, troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division claimed killing 19 more North Vietnamese regulars while suffering only two wounded in scattered engagements.

SACRIFICES

South Vietnamese Premier Tran Van Huong claimed in a letter to the U.S. military commander, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, that recent American military sweeps have "completely thwarted the enemy plan for a general offensive against the more populated towns in South Vietnam."

"With their sacrifices and courage, the men of the U.S. forces have inflicted heavy losses on the enemy and routed a considerable number of main force units," said Huong.

'WE WILL NOT TAKE THEM OUT UNTIL YOU LEAVE CZECHOSLOVAKIA' Suggests More Troops For West Germany

By ENDRE MARTON Associated Press Writer

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The United States should dispatch 100,000 troops to West Germany and then tell the Soviets: "We will not take them out until you leave Czechoslovakia," scholar-diplomat George F. Kennan suggests.

And he describes as "pure madness" any idea of President Johnson meeting with Soviet leaders under present circumstances.

"What respect would the Russians pay to the word of a lame duck president? What has Mr. Johnson to offer them? It is a bad policy to go and plead with people when you have no cards in your hands, no carrot and no stick," Kennan said in an interview.

The former ambassador to Moscow and to Belgrade, a retired foreign service officer now teaching at the Institute for Advanced Study, spoke freely in the relaxed atmosphere of his spacious study. The 64-year-old Kennan, regarded by many as the top American authority on communism, strongly questioned that there would be a detente or relaxation of tensions between East and West.

"I have never understood this talk about detente," Kennan said. "I have not seen any evidence of detente and I wouldn't trust any so-called detente if it is not supported by free contacts between governments and peoples."

An atmosphere of cooperation with the Soviets, he explained, "simply doesn't exist. Their conspiratorial method of diplomatic action cannot create such an atmosphere."

There has been some progress in the field of nuclear weaponry and the nonproliferation issue, Kennan said, but he added: "This is not detente."

But I don't see that anything has changed in this respect, or that we would be any closer to the solution of the German problem."

Although talking in scholarly terms, Kennan did not conceal his emotions when he discussed the Czech invasion.

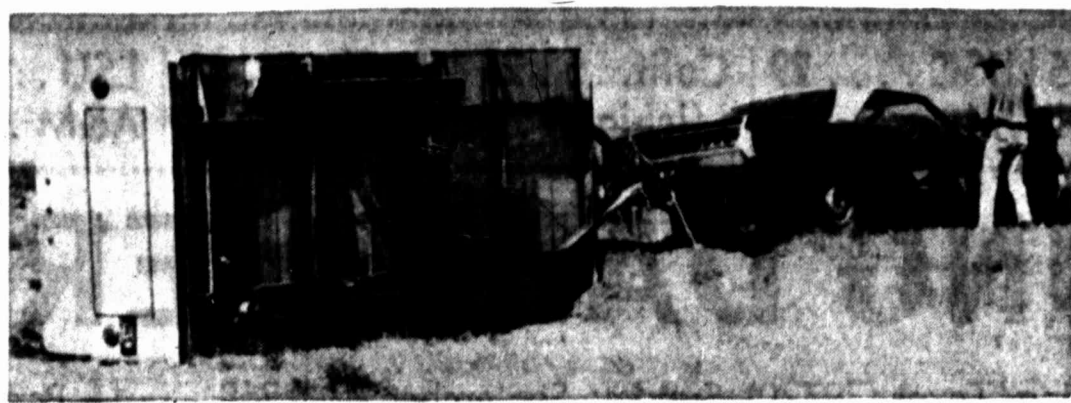

"The Russians did not intervene in Czechoslovakia to re-establish a military balance. They intervened because of their internal weakness," he said.

"What should we do now?" Kennan asked. "Perhaps move 100,000 men into Germany and tell the Russians: 'We will not take them out until you leave Czechoslovakia.'"

"The trouble is," he continued, "that we don't put any cards in the hands of those elements in the Soviet Union who never liked the idea of sending 300,000 or 400,000 men into Czechoslovakia in the first place and who might like to reverse this policy now."

No One Hurt

Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Fackler of Austin escaped injury Friday afternoon, when their travel trailer overturned about four miles north of the city on U.S. 87. Fackler told sheriff's deputies that the trailer began "whipping," forcing his car into the barrow ditch, where the trailer rolled over on its side. Neither vehicle was heavily damaged. At left, the trailer came to rest just barely against a mail box, without damaging either the vehicle or the box.

Reagan Objects, But Militant Will Give One Class Lecture

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Over Gov. Ronald Reagan's vigorous objection, Eldridge Cleaver, Negro militant, was given approval Friday to give one class lecture at the University of California's Berkeley campus.

Reagan warned that the 50-8 vote by university regents might cause a "top to bottom" legislative investigation of the university. He was one of the regents voting against Cleaver.

Commie Kissed American Flag, Shirley Reveals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, fresh from a confrontation with Soviet tanks in Czechoslovakia, believes women should stay out of the White House.

After speaking to some 500 persons at the Commonwealth Club Friday on the subject, "I Saw Soviet Tanks in Prague," the former child movie star was asked when she thought a woman would be named a candidate for vice president.

"I don't know," she said. "But if they ever name one to be president, I'm going to move." As for the tanks, Mrs. Black said she had never seen so many—nor had she seen them move so fast.

She said one car in the motorcade that took her and other Americans from Prague to West Germany was draped with an American flag. Czechs lining the streets waved and shouted when they saw the flag-draped car, she said. One even kissed the flag.

"It's not without irony," Mrs. Black said, "that those Communists kissed the American flag while here at home some Americans choose to desecrate it."

Family members of J. E. Mitchell, patient in Hall-Bennett Hospital, reported his pocket watch missing from his room. The watch, reportedly worth $100, was removed or misplaced Friday.

Indian Guides To Organize

An organizational meeting for organizing "Y" Indian Guide Tribes will be held at the YMCA Tuesday at 7 p.m., according to Curtis Mullins, "Y" General Secretary.

"Y" Indian Guides provide opportunities for dads to be active with their six to nine year old sons. The program also encourages youngsters to turn to their dads for guidance and reassurance... a practice that often continues for the remainder of their lives.

"Boys develop self-reliance," says Mullins, "and dads learn the value of taking time to be a real pal to their sons."

"Y" Indian Guide tribes are composed of about eight boys and eight dads who are called braves. Sitting council style in a circle, they have pow wows every other week in one of the big braves' teepees. Big braves, especially after a hard day in the office, are allowed to sit in chairs while their sons sit cross-legged on the floor in front of the father.

Meetings are planned along Indian themes and with Indian love. Meetings are planned along Indian themes and with Indian love. Meetings are planned along Indian themes and with Indian love.

She Stayed Home Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Gottfried, the most popular IBM machine operator on Wall Street, disappointed an estimated 15,000 men Friday. She didn't show up for work.

The crowd, up from a mere traffic-jamming 5,000 who gathered as early as 9 a.m. spurred by news reports of the sensation caused by the super-shapely brunette's daily stroll to work. But Miss Gottfried, 21, who's 5-foot-4 and measures 43-25-37, was home in Brooklyn. "We gave her the day off and she'll be off Monday and Tuesday, too," said a spokesman for the bank where she works.

Reports of the spectacular appearance of Miss Gottfried, who usually emerges from the Broad Street subway exit at 1:28 p.m. on her way to report for the afternoon shift, had circulated through the district for two weeks.

Clerks and bankers, brokers and errand boys had been arranging their lunch hours so they would be free to see Miss Gottfried, who favors tight-fitting sweaters and blouses and walks briskly to her job. "It's all crazy," she commented again Friday. "These people have all the responsibility of handling millions of dollars and they act like they're out of their minds."

By not going to work, she missed the sight of a building-to-building crowd of girl watchers and a banner which someone hung out saying "We Love You."

Police said four car roofs crumpled from the weight of excited spectators who climbed atop for a better view. Meanwhile the bank said Miss Gottfried would not lose her job over the commotion. But she said her employers "say I must try to find another way to get to work without using that subway station."

Unemployment insurance claims were on the rise during August, as automobile workers in the Dallas-Fort Worth area laid off for model changeover, and filed for their insurance.

Farm placements were up 4,000 from the previous month, but placements in non-farm jobs were down from the July total by almost 2,000.

Local offices of the Texas Employment Commission took fewer job applications during August than in the preceding month, according to Leon Kinney, local TEC office manager.

Jury Panel Called For County Cases

A jury panel will report to County Judge Lee Porter Tuesday morning to serve in the trial of any of the many cases which have been set this week in Howard County Court.

How many cases will actually require the services of a jury is problematical. Of the long list of complaints sounded a week ago, many defendants indicated a desire to enter guilty pleas.

Judge Porter announced that he will push through all of the cases he has set for trial.

THE ARTS

Midland-Odesa Group Theme Honors Director

By WINNIE UNGER

"Year of the Mann" is the theme of the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Choral year, honoring its director, Robert Mann. He has written an original ballet for performance with the orchestra's April concert.

Season tickets are available through Oct. 7 from the Midland Symphony Association, P.O. Box 4332, Midland, at $17.50 reserved, $12.50 general admission, and $4.00 student. The five programs in Midland are scheduled Oct. 8, "Time of the Brass"; Nov. 19, "Time of the Strings"; Jan. 21, "Time of the Voice"; March 18, "Time of the Artist"; and April 29, "Time of the Dance." The programs will be held in Odessa, in the same sequence, a day earlier.

The Permian Playhouse of Odessa is the scene of an art show this weekend. More than 100 original oil paintings by accredited artists from all over the world may be seen from 2-5 p.m. at 310 W. 42nd St., and prices begin as low as $50, including framing. The show and sale is designed to help finance the theater group's programs.

The show precedes the opening Friday of "Wait Until Dark," a suspense drama which will run Sept. 28, Oct. 4, 5, 11 and 12. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The University of Texas Art Museum is currently exhibiting 500 photographs depicting the England of Queen Victoria's day. Entitled "Victoria's World," the exhibit is drawn from photographs in the university's Gernsheim Collection.

Other exhibits at the museum in September include a collection of modern wall hangings from the Museum of Modern Art; and plastic sculpture by UT art student Arnold Stewart.

Forty examples of rare early Benin sculpture is on view in the Masterson Junior Gallery of the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, through Nov. 17. Benin art is believed by anthropologists and art historians to extend back at least five centuries. During the 15th and 16th centuries, Benin City, located in the high tropical forest of Western Nigeria, was the center of a kingdom about 500 miles in diameter. Its king, the Oba of Benin, was absolute monarch of the area and remains the spiritual head of over 500,000 Edo-speaking peoples.

Benin art was first discovered in 1897 when the British captured the city of Benin and the bronze art objects, ivory and wood carvings were shipped back to England for sale to various collectors. Although there are still artisans in Benin, their production has changed in subject matter and their output has diminished.

Three members of the Texas Tech art department, Paul Hanna, Dick Evans and Lynwood Kretsch, are featured in an exhibit at the Troup Gallery, 2211 Cedar Springs, Fort Worth. The collection includes paintings, prints, serigraphs, woodcuts, etchings, lithographs, drawings, sculpture and stoneware and will be on view until Oct. 12.

Dr. William J. Moody, professor of music and director of bands at the University of Texas at Austin, has been elected to a two-year term as president of the National Band Association.

The 1,500-member NBA is the largest national association of band directors in the world, its members including band directors from elementary through high schools, colleges, industry and the military.

The NBA is an associate organization of the Music Educators' National Conference. Dr. Moody was a member of the NBA's original board of directors.

The Dallas Symphony's Saturday Nighter Concerts — originally conceived as a popular-priced series patterned after the European "public general reduction" — have been promoted this season to a full-fledged, formal series of 10 concerts.

Single ticket sales for the concert series will open Sept. 23, with the exception of the Van Cliburn concert, which will not go on sale until Nov. 11.

The series will open Sept. 28 with a concert featuring John Browning, pianist, playing the Brahms Second Piano Concerto. The series will also offer Alexander Uninsky, pianist, Nov. 23, an all-orchestral program, Jan. 4, Serge Fournier, guest conductor, Jan. 25, Masako Ushioda, violinist, Feb. 8, Dealey Award winner, Feb. 22, orchestral, March 1, Mstislav Rostropovich, cellist, March 29, Van Cliburn, pianist, April 19, Teresa Stich-Randall, soprano, and Bernard Krusyn, baritone, April 26.

Train Wreck In Indonesia Kills 50

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Two overcrowded passenger trains collided head-on at high speed Friday near a tiny jungle village 35 miles south of Jakarta and 50 Indonesians were reported killed. The number of injured was placed above 100.

Some officials expressed fear the death toll would go as high as 80 since many persons were trapped in the wreckage. It was Indonesia's worst rail disaster in two decades.

A fast diesel passenger train heading for Jakarta from Bogor, a hill city 40 miles south of here, smashed into a train going to Bogor just outside Depok station.

Railroad officials said an investigation will be launched into why both trains were on the same track.

No Boundary Changes Planned

By SAM BLACKBURN

Howard County Commissioners District boundaries have not been revised, despite the talk sometime ago about the necessity of equalizing commissioner districts, population wise. No changes will be considered for this year.

Lee Porter, county judge, said that the four commissioner precincts in this county are "not too much out of line," and that the commissioners court had bypassed any consideration of re-aligning them for the current year.

Next year, Porter said, will not be a presidential election year and some new figures on voter registration in the county will be available.

The one precinct noticeably important in correctly evaluating the relative population differentials of the commissioner districts," he pointed out.

This year, if each district had exactly one fourth of the voting population, each would have 3,530. One of the precincts, as it now stands, comes within 11 voters of that number. This is Precinct 3 which has 3,519 registered voters listed for its three voting boxes.

Commissioner Precinct 4 lacks 391 voters of having its exact one-fourth of the county's total voters. There are six too much out of line," and that the commissioners court had bypassed any consideration of re-aligning them for the current year.

Next year, Porter said, will not be a presidential election year and some new figures on voter registration in the county will be available.

The one precinct noticeably important in correctly evaluating the relative population differentials of the commissioner districts," he pointed out.

This year, if each district had missioner precincts do have one element which keeps them clear of the problem in other counties. All of the four districts extend into the city, and there are city voting boxes in each.

Precinct No. 1 has Voting Box 1, on the North Side, with 1,163 votes and voting Box No. 8 (Cedar Crest school) with 1,207 registered voters. These two boxes account for 2,370 of the precinct's total of 2,742. This leaves only 382 voters living in No. 12 (Prairie View); No. 13 (Knott); No. 14 (Vealmoor); and No. 17, (Gerald Harris residence.)

In Commissioner Precinct No. 2, three of its boxes are in the Big Spring city limits. Voting strength in these three boxes accounts for 3,376 of the district's total registration of 4,772. There are six voting boxes in the district. No. 2 (Washington Place school); with 2,171 voters; No. 15, (Runnels

Junior High) with 977 voters; and No. 18, (Neel Residence on the extreme end of 25th street; has 977 votes. Two other of the district's boxes are in urban areas — inside incorporated towns. These are No. 9, (Coahoma) with 643 votes; and No. 10 (Forsan) with 165 votes. Another box — No. 21 (Sand Springs) newly created, has 538 voters on the rolls. This allocates all of the voting in the district to the more thickly populated areas and accounts, probably, for the district's 4,722 registered voters. There are only three voting boxes in Commissioner Precinct 3, but two of them are important town boxes. The two urban voting places account for 3,062 of the district's 3,519 voters. No. 3, (Main and 18th Street Fire Station) has 1,957 registered voters No. 16 (Park Hill school) on the west side of town has 1,105. No. 19, the other box, voting at Elbow school, has 457 registrations.

Voting Box No. 4 (4th and Main Fire Station), is the biggest voting box of the county's 21. It accounts for 2,260 of Commissioner Precinct 4's total of 3,138 registered voters.

The only other quasi-urban box that Precinct 4 can claim is a relatively new voting place — No. 20, which voted in the Crestview Baptist church just outside the city limits on the northeast edge of town. No. 20 has 384 votes. The other boxes in the precinct are No. 5 (Vincent) with 65; No. 6 (Gay Hill) with 42; No. 7 (R-Bar) with 77; and No. 11 (Center Point) with 211. The four boxes account for only 395 votes, which means that 2,644 of the precinct's voting strength is in the two city boxes.

Actually, of this county's total registered voter strength, 11,442 are residents of urban voting boxes.

The problem of some counties, with huge urban votes in one precinct and only a handful of voters in the other three, has led to much dissension.

The three commissioners in such counties, elected by a small percentage of the total voting population have control of the entire county if the members elect to hold together.

The one commissioner from the urban district, although he is elected by a large majority of the voters living in the county, has only one vote and can readily be overruled by his compatriots.

This has led to the decision by the federal courts requiring many counties to redistrict and more equitably allocate voting strength among the precincts.

Brown Reports To ABC On Demo Convention

Roger Brown, a local attorney who was an alternate delegate to the National Democratic convention, took his listeners behind the scenes of the sprawling conclave in a talk made before fellow members of the American Business Club at the Settles Hotel at noon Friday.

In his preliminary remarks, Brown said much of the convention news was made available to TV viewers and newspaper readers, but some fascinating aspects of the Democratic rally were not.

Brown said he returned home convinced that Mayor Richard Daley, pilloried in the press for resorting to force against the "hippy" element present for convention by-play, took a realistic and very necessary tact in neutralizing the problem.

Brown said that the lunatic fringe of the hippy movement, some of whom he was prone to label as anarchists, created problems from the beginning by stealing behind the registration desk of at least one major hotel, taking the available room keys, and using the rooms as a base of operations. Several of the authorized delegates consequently were deprived of hotel rooms, even though they had reserved them in advance.

Brown said that Daley admitted that some of his police might have "over-reacted" but that the hippies seemed determined to promote trouble by throwing stink bombs, hurling obscenities at the men in uniform, and in general, creating problems with which authorities could not cope short of using force.

"The situation could easily have become volatile and gotten out of hand," the speaker stated.

Brown expressed the conviction that a lot of the agitators present were young people who were there without the knowledge of their parents, adding, "I believe that if their money from home had been cut off, we wouldn't have had the problem we did."

Brown said he mixed with a pro-Sen. McCarthy crowd to satisfy a curiosity and once slipped into a caucus of the California delegation present "just to see what was going on."

An anti-Texas sentiment was most evident among the New Mexico and Colorado delegations on hand, Brown said, adding that it was impossible to get those people to openly discuss their hostility.

Those delegations, said the speaker, were instrumental in helping vote out the unit rule, even though the rules of the convention clearly stated that such rules could be changed "while the ball game was going on."

Brown also explained some of the problems that went along with gaining entry to the convention site.

Elmo Phillips, member of the ABC's Regional Executive committee, said that Jiggs Vincent had been named the new regional director, succeeding Bill Cox, who had to resign as of July 1 due to business reasons.

ABC prexy Bill Bradford urged members to register for and attend the regional convention, which will take place Oct. 12 in Amarillo. Registration will be held at the Coronado Inn in Amarillo, Bradford added.

A guest at the Friday luncheon was Dr. H. E. Thompson.

College Reports Big Increase In Enrollment

Howard County Junior College closed out its first full week of classes Friday with exactly 100 more than the final enrollment in the fall semester a year ago.

While the bulk of the registration is now in, Dr. W. A. Hunt said that students could register through Wednesday. There are a few who have not yet enrolled but who have not yet cleared the business office.

While the total enrollment increase is approaching 10 percent over last year, the most impressive gain is in the number of full-time students. The latest count showed 642, or a gain of 83 over last year's final tabulation. This figures out 15 per cent. There is some indication that the part-time students may be carrying slightly heavier semester hour loads, too.

problems with which authorities could not cope short of using force.

"The situation could easily have become volatile and gotten out of hand," the speaker stated.

Brown expressed the conviction that a lot of the agitators present were young people who were there without the knowledge of their parents, adding, "I believe that if their money

Fire Destroys Part Of House

Big Spring firemen answered two calls Friday. Fire destroyed the rear of a house at 204 NE 9th occupied by Salvador Guadalupe Lara at 9:45 p.m. The rest of the house suffered heavy smoke damage. No one was home at the time of the fire. Earlier Friday, firemen were called to Fifteenth and Gollad to extinguish a fire in a car driven by Daugherty Kirtlan. A bad carburetor was listed as the cause of the car fire, but as yet no cause has been attributed to the house fire.

Baby Is Late, Father Killed

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — The 18-year-old wife of Army Pfc. Charles Owens had been marking off the days until Sept. 19, the date doctors had promised the couple's first baby would arrive. The baby didn't arrive Thursday, but an Army captain died with the message that Owens had been killed in action in Vietnam two days earlier.

Five More Ft. Hood Soldiers Convicted

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—Five more soldiers were under court-martial sentence Saturday as an outgrowth of what officers called a protest on the eve of the Democratic National Convention. One won a full pardon at the Friday trial. Authorities arrested 42 soldiers, all Negroes, when they congregated on a street corner at this vast armored forces post in Central Texas and refused to disperse for reveille. A post spokesman said the men were protesting against possibly being sent to the Chicago convention for anti-riot duty. Later, several thousand Ft. Hood troops were airlifted to Chicago but saw no action. Several soldiers left the post-midnight protest meeting after officers talked to them. The others were ordered to report to their units for reveille and a spokesman said they did not do so and were arrested on charges of refusal to obey an order. Later they were placed in custody of their company commanders. Earlier, one soldier was acquitted and another was convicted on the same charge. A sixth soldier, Pvt. Ronald McCoy, 23, of Philadelphia, won acquittal Friday. Convicted and sentenced to

Salazar Slipping Closer To Death

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar was reported slipping closer to death Saturday and a wave of sentiment forestalled naming a successor. President Americo Thomaz apparently could not bring himself to make an appointment while the 79-year-old ruler for 36 years lingered, even though the government was at a virtual standstill. A surge of sympathy built up in political circles and among the people to let the old man die in office. Salazar, recovering from a Sept. 8 brain operation suffered a massive stroke last Monday. His condition slipped during the early hours of Saturday, when he was reported to have been given a blood transfusion for increased hemorrhaging.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Fourteen coeds were sitting on Mim Wyley's lap when the chair collapsed.

That was the end of the lap sitting contest Friday. Wyley, 6-foot-5 235-pound senior at the University of Texas at El Paso, was treated at a hospital for cuts from the splintered back of the wooden chair. When college officials called the contest off the leader was Allen Mueller, 6-foot-7 and 208 pounds, clocked for 45 seconds with 13 coeds aboard.

Webb Captains Receive High Awards Here Friday

For gallantry in air action over North Vietnam, Capt. James L. Aldrich has earned the Silver Star Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leaf Clusters, and the second through ninth Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal.

The Webb T-38 Instructor Pilot received the awards Friday morning in a special ceremony at the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron. Making the presentation was Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux Jr., Air Training Command commander.

Also receiving the Silver Star during the same ceremony Friday morning was another T-38 Instructor Pilot — Capt. Gary W. Hall. He earned the military decoration for his actions as a forward air controller in an O-1 Birdog. On Nov. 16, 1967, in Cai Lay, North Vietnam, Capt. Hall exposed himself to enemy fire thus permitting friendly fighters to pinpoint the enemy's position, then fly in, attack and destroy the enemy.

Capt. Aldrich earned the military decorations for his performance as an F-105 Thunderchief pilot while assigned to the 33rd Tactical Fighter Squadron, Takli AB, Thailand, between August, 1967, and March, 1968, he flew 100 missions (298 hours) over North Vietnam.

It was for a flight on Nov. 17, 1967, that Capt. Aldrich received the Silver Star, the nation's fourth highest decoration for valor. The citation accompanying the award read in part: "attacked a heavily defended airfield in a disabled aircraft and delivered his ord-he received his numerous decorations then returned to the United States and signed in at Webb in April, 1968.

His other decorations include the National Defense Medal, the Air Medal, the Commendation Medal, Longevity Service Medal, and several others.

Capt. Aldrich attended both the General Motors Institute and Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, before entering the Air Force's aviation cadet program in 1957. He completed pilot training at Reese AFB, receiving his wings as a B-25 pilot in September, 1958.

He and his wife, the former Miss Ann Marie Espy, are natives of Dayton, Ohio. The couple has five children.

Deferments Are Governed By The Law

Once a young man gets into college, his deferment from military duty to get a baccalaureate degree is directed by law, provided he complies with the provisions of the law, Mrs. Louise Nuckolls, clerk of the Selective Service board here, pointed out Saturday.

The student can make his formal request on a special form he can get from his local board — and usually from his college — a form appropriately called "Request for Undergraduate Student Deferment." By the first of November in his freshman year, as well as on the same date in his later years at school, the student should have had his college furnish a "Student Certificate" that he is in school taking a full-time course and progressing satisfactorily. The school may use a Selective Service form for his, called SSS Form No. 109, or one of its own design.

The young man, to continue to receive his deferment, should progress timely toward his degree. For example, if he's working on a degree which normally takes four years, he should earn 25 per cent of the credits toward it the first academic year, 50 per cent at the end of the second, and 75 per cent at the end of the third, and, of course, all of the credits by the end of the fourth.

If he's working on a degree that takes five years, he should earn 20 per cent of the credits each year. In connection with this progress each year, it's a young man's duty to inform his local board annually that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction. The SSS Form No. 109 can be used for this purpose.

Each academic year consists of a full 12 months, so a college student registered with a Selective Service board, can use the summer session, if necessary, to stay on schedule. Most students can get their baccalaureate degrees before they're 24 years old, but in case a man reaches age 24 before getting it, the draft board will have to cut off his Class II-S deferment.

Radical Students Permitted Continued Use Of Campus

NEW YORK (AP) — A tripartite committee at Columbia University has decided to allow the radical Students for a Democratic Society to continue its use of campus facilities pending a study of university rules.

The decision by the Committee on Student Organizations—composed of two students, two faculty members and two administrators—followed two meetings with Dr. Andrew W. Cordier, acting university president.

The SDS, which openly says it intends to cripple the 214-year-old Ivy League school when classes begin Sept. 26, had been banned from use of campus facilities following a demonstration Wednesday.

On Thursday, Cordier rescinded the ban but the committee report was mildly critical of the administration for revoking permission for the SDS to use campus facilities in the first place. Cordier, reversing an earlier

Kidnaping Behind Him, Lad Enjoying Presents

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP)—Saturday the frightening experience of being kidnaped and held for $125,000 ransom was all behind Hillard Marks, 7, the grandson of a millionaire.

He was in his own home, with his family, and with the birthday presents—a watch from his grandmother, a football, books and games—which he should have had Thursday while he was held hostage.

The boy's parents, William and Mary Lou Marks, first learned that he was gone at 4:05 p.m. Wednesday. Their long-anguished wait ended about 36 hours later when they were reunited with him in an FBI office.

He was retrieved unharmed and without payment of ransom, from a home in Riverdale, a suburb south of Chicago. FBI agents surrounded the house and seized Robert S. Marin, 24, and his wife, Ethel, 26. Later, agents arrested Daniel Pieler, 30, a former service station owner who knew the Marks family.

Pieler and the Marins were charged with aggravated kidnaping and held in the Cook County jail. The FBI said they would be prosecuted in Illinois courts. Illinois penalties for kidnaping range from two years in prison to death.

Hillard is the grandson of Hil-

The first Explorer road rally navigator as a minimum, and in the Buffalo Trail Council apparently is striking a responsive chord. R. W. Harrington, Midland, coordinator, said that 20 teams have signed and that the field may be filled to its limit of 50 well in advance of the Oct. 5 date for the rally at Odessa.

Two teams from Post 236 Big Spring were the first to sign. Among others that have registered are Post 83, Post 430, Post 274, Post 156 of Odessa, and Post 158, Midland.

"Emphasis will be on safety," said Harrington. "This is not a race, but rather a test of good driving. Drivers must follow a previously unknown route and keep on a fixed schedule. A premium is placed on ability to follow maps and instruction." Each team consists of Explorer driver and an Explorer

Racial Clashes Erupt At Games

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Fighting between Negroes and whites broke out at two central Florida football games Friday night, leaving four policemen and 16 spectators injured.

The clashes, which resulted in more than a dozen arrests, occurred here and in Orlando, 40 miles northwest of Titusville.

Trouble erupted midway through the Titusville-Sanford Seminole game when the Seminole band struck up Dixie, the national anthem of the Confederacy, during a fight on the field between players.

The song apparently enraged a group of Negroes who charged the bandmen and began beating them.

Whites rushed to the aid of the band members and police said more than 100 persons were fighting and exchanging racial

Former Resident Plans New Home For His Bank

Perry Horton, who was reared in Big Spring, has announced in Mineral Wells the construction of a new home for the City National Bank, of which he is president.

The facility will be about 10 months in construction and will be of Spanish-Modern design. Upon its completion, plans are to start on a multi-story office building which will adjoin it.

The ground floor will be entirely open for passage of traffic and for parking. The bank will have five drive-in spaces with new pneumatic devices, and the new bookkeeping system will make the bank the first complete data process bank in that area.

The bank was established in 1922 as Security State, became a national bank the following year. During the past five years when Horton has served as president, the bank has trebled in deposits to where the figure now is $14 million.

Horton is the son of Mrs. S. J. Horton, the brother of C. A. Horton, and sister of Mrs. Ray Shaw, all of Big Spring.

Fort Worth Couple Adds 10th Child, By Adoption

FORT WORTH (AP)—Rhonda Rodden, 13, told one of her teachers she was getting a little sister, the 10th child in the family.

"Don't you have enough already?" asked the teacher.

"Yes, we have enough," replied Rhonda, "but Renessa doesn't have anything. That's why we're taking her, and she's going to be very welcome."

David Rodden, a transport operator for Humble Oil, and his wife started their brood, all but one adopted, with Rhonda and there have been regular additions.

Renessa, 4, a Korean orphan, arrived by plane Friday and all the Roddens went from their home in Richland Hills, a Fort Worth suburb, to meet her at the Dallas airport.

Besides Rhonda, the others are Mark, Joe, Cody, Bobby, Donnie, Rebecca, Regina and Renee.

"We had been married 10 years and the doctor said we just weren't going to have any kids of our own," Mrs. Rodden recalled. "We had always figured we wanted at least 12, so we decided to start adopting them."

Her husband added, "I was in China during the war. I knew how tragic the situation was with the GI babies over there. Because of that we decided on an Oriental child."

Renessa is the fourth war orphan to join the Rodden family. The others were adopted through the County Welfare Department—except for Regina,

Woman Sent To Mental Hospital

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge George D. Taylor ordered a Port Arthur grandmother committed to a mental hospital after she was found innocent of kidnaping a newborn infant.

Mrs. Santiago Flores, 51, was ordered to Rusk State Hospital. A jury of 10 men and two women deliberated six minutes Thursday before finding Mrs. Flores insane now and at the time Dreck Gregory Reese, then three days old, was taken Aug. 28 from a Port Arthur hospital.

The baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Reese of Port Neches, was found unharmed on a doorstep next day.

Under Texas law, the decision by the jury eliminated any possibility that Mrs. Flores could be convicted of kidnaping.

'NOT JUST A BASKET OF GOODIES'

Australians Ban Fairy Tales

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—There's more to the story of "Little Red Riding Hood" than just a basket of goodies for grandma.
According to a psychiatrist here, supported by many kindergarten teachers in Victoria State, "little red riding hood" is sexually-tempted young girl with the warning of her mother not to stray from the straight and narrow path ringing in her ears. The big, bad wolf does not need much interpretation.
As a result, the old fairy tale has been unofficially "banned" by some kindergarten teachers, as has "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" just nuzzles in, but only at a few of the more daring kindergartens.
The mere mention of Grimm's fairy tales and the state's kindergarten teachers recoil in alarm. Definitely not for the younger ears, they chorus. Much too horrifying and frightening.

In supporting Macnab, the principal of the state-run Kindergarten Teachers' College, Heather Lyon, said some fairy stories including Grimm's were far too sadistic for young children.
The kindergartens teachers see children being more interested in the jungle and the rhythm than the words and meaning of nursery rhymes.
Therefore, it's okay to have three blind mice and a farmer's wife chopping off their tails with a carving knife.
Junior's first whodunnit is probably the murder of poor Cock Robin.
The fly is the eyewitness and the fish is there to provide the trimmings.
"Who caught his blood?" I, said the fish.
With my little dish,
I caught his blood."
Usually the story is illustrated with Cock Robin lying on his back, with a great arrow sticking from his chest.
Some critics say that television emphasizes violence too much and that it corrupts the mind and actions of children at a most impressionable age.
But, say the kindergarten teachers, think of the fairy tales and nursery rhymes learned at their mother's knee.

SOURCES MUM

Electronic Eyes Can See In Tunnel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—International espionage has some new electronic spyglasses which not only turn night into day—they pierce camouflage and clouds and even see into tunnels under yards of dirt.
This technique, called remote sensing, uses ever-present waves of energy—electromagnetic radiations and sounds—beyond the range of human eyes and ears.
With remote sensors, a high-flying plane can spot missile silos, tunnels and caves likely to be used for munitions storage 50 to 60 feet below the surface.
Satellites 100 miles up can track a convoy at sea through clouds and at night, and deduce the number and size of ships from their wakes.
Soon the yield of a nation's farms, even the haul of its fishing fleets, can be forecast accurately months in advance. Such intelligence could be invaluable in a cold war, showing a powerful country where to apply economic pressures on a weaker neighbor.
Military sources are still mum about many of these intelligence-gathering devices, but conclusions can be drawn as adaptations of them are released for civilian use.
Chief among the active sensors are radar and sonar. Radar, which uses microwave frequencies just above the radio-telephone broadcast bands, works in air and space but not in the ocean. Sonar utilizes sound waves, the only effective communication through water.
Among the first of the lightweight, passive systems developed were infrared—IR—detectors, sensitive to heat given off in varying degrees by different objects.
Recently a new type of sensor has been developed which bridges many gaps in espionage technology.
The technique employs extremely sensitive microwave radiometers, which measure radiations of slightly higher frequency and shorter wavelength than radar.
All materials emit microwave radiations, but the frequency and strength vary from one material to another. Thus every material has a distinctive radiation "signature."
In a cross-country flight at 40,000 feet, a U.S. Space Agency plane carried a radiometer that mapped rivers, forests, freshly plowed fields and cities—regardless of local weather conditions.

Draft Board Expanded To Five Members

For the first time in its long history, Howard-Mitchell-Martin County Selective Service Board now has five instead of three members.
The two additional members — one additional representative for each of Howard and Mitchell counties — were appointed by the president on recommendation of the governor of Texas.
The expanded board is made necessary by its heavy registration load. The five-member board is provided when the office in an area reaches 12,000 registrants.

Dear Abby

Go Only Where Invited

DEAR ABBY: After being widow for four years, I married George, a divorced man whose daughter is getting married in Syracuse next month.
I suggested that we go to Syracuse a day or two early as I have relatives there. It was then that George informed me that I was not invited to the wedding. I was furious. I took it for granted that as his wife I would be welcome at his daughter's wedding.
George said I could make the trip with him, but while he attended the wedding and reception, I could visit with my relatives. I told George that I was a lady and refused to be hidden away. All his people know that he has remarried. The only reason he has ever given me for his divorce was that he and his wife "didn't get along." Do you suppose that he's afraid if I go to the wedding I'll find out something he doesn't want me to know?
He says, "I can't imagine why you would even want to be there with my former in-laws and ex-wife present."
Please advise me as I am very unhappy over this, and am considering leaving him.
DEAR LEFT OUT: A "lady" goes only where she is invited. The day belongs to George's daughter, and if she had wanted you at her wedding, she'd have invited you. George should go alone. Trust his judgment.

pick me up (she drives) and we go to visit a former teacher who is ailing. I agreed, as I like this teacher. When I saw how hard and cheap Betty looked, I was shocked. Now I know I don't want to associate with her anymore, so when she calls, I ask my mother to say I'm out. My mother did this several times, but now she says getting rid of Betty is MY problem, and she refused to lie for me anymore. How can I end this friendship without hurting Betty?
DEAR SOFT: Answer the telephone and tell Betty you are too busy to talk to her more than a few minutes. And when she suggests getting together, be unavailable. I can't guarantee that you won't "hurt" Betty in the beginning, but I promise, you'll be rid of her in the end.
Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to: Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

hind the running of quarterback Fred Haynes and halfback Trigger Allen. A disastrous fumble by the Aggies' Bob Long at LSU's goal line cost A&M the ball game shortly after LSU had scored its winning point.

The punting of Steve O'Neal and Hargett's pinpoint passing built up a 12-6 Aggie lead before LSU staged its drive. In the first quarter, O'Neal punted the ball out of bounds at the LSU one-foot line and the Tigers, unable to move the ball, tried to kick. But the snap from center sailed over punter Eddie Ray's head, to give Texas A&M a safety and two points.

Goliad Mavericks Deflate Travis

SNYDER — Big Spring Goliad walloped Snyder Travis, 30-0, in an eighth grade football game here Saturday evening. Ricky Steen opened the Mav-erick scoring in the opening period when he went five yards, after which Barry Truette added the two points on a run.

Lamar Edges Runnels, 12-6

Snyder Lamar edged the Eighth Grade of Runnels Junior High, 12-6, in a football game played here Saturday afternoon. The visitors counted first, after receiving the opening kickoff and driving 60 yards in nine plays. Lamar's Tyrone ripped the final 29 yards for the six pointer, leading 6-0 at the half. Lamar counted a second time early in the fourth quarter by recovering a Runnels fumble at the home team's 35 and going the distance in five plays. The TD came from two yards out.

Texas Tech, Cincinnati Play To 10-10 Standoff down in the opening moments after Larry Alford raced 52 yards down the sideline on a punt return to the Cincy 12. Quarterback Joe Matulich worked the ball to the two-yard line in four plays and then sneaked in on a keeper. The two teams traded field goals in the second quarter with O'Brien kicking a 47-yarder for the Bearcats and Vinyard hitting from 23 yards out for Tech. Rover Kevin Ormes and halfback Ronnie Rhoads stole two Cincinnati passes in the second period and Rhoads theft at the Bears' 42 led to Vinyard's field goal. Cook moved the Bearcats nearly the length of the field on the only other serious scoring threat that stalled at the Texas Tech nine. O'Brien, operating from the 16, missed on a 26-yard field goal attempt late in the third quarter. O'Brien and Cook provided most of the offensive fireworks. O'Brien pulled in five passes for 116 yards, in addition to scoring all ten of his team's points. Matulich and Tom Sawyer shared duties for Tech and neither was impressive. Matulich wound up with 10 completions on 22 passes for 80 yards.

Hriniak's Tap Defeats Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Felipe Alou scored the winning run on Walt Hriniak's fielder's choice tap in a two-run eighth inning rally that carried the Atlanta Braves to a 2-1 victory over San Francisco Saturday. Gaylord Perry, who pitched a no-hitter against St. Louis in his previous start, took a 1-0 lead into the eighth, when the Braves filled the bases on singles by pinch hitter Ralph Grabie, Alou and Felix Millan. Garr scored on a force at second and Alou tallied when Hriniak tapped a high bouncer in front of the plate and catcher Dick Dietz was unable to make the tag.

Texas, Houston Play 20-20 Tie

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Highly ranked Texas and Houston fought to a 20-20 standoff Saturday night in what had been billed as the championship football game in the Southwest. Texas had the ball at its own 38 yard line and watched the clock tick off the final seconds on fourth down as many of the capacity crowd of 66,397 booned, wanting Houston to get another crack at it. It was the opener for the Longhorns, a perennial Southwest Conference powerhouse who had been rated No. 4 in The Associated Press pre-season poll.

The explosive Cougars, who mauled Tulane 54-7 last week, were ranked No. 11. The ball changed hands almost by the minute on fumbles and pass interceptions in the closing minutes, but it was a great goal line stand by the Longhorns that saved them from defeat. Texas stopped mighty Paul Gipson for no gain at the Texas two-yard line on a fourth down play with 3:50 left in the game. Gipson, a 205-pound senior fullback who was a second-team All-American last year, scored all the Cougars' touchdowns on runs of 1, 66, and 5 yards. The Cougars, who have led the nation in total offense the past two years, piled up more than 400 yards running and passing. Texas' slippery Chris Gilbert, also a senior, sped 57 and 8 yards for Longhorn touchdowns and Ted Koy ran four yards for the other Longhorn score. Both Houston's Jerry Leiwke and Texas' Rob Layne missed their final conversion attempt to leave the game a standoff. Gilbert finished with 195 yards on 21 carries, and Gipson ran for 173 yards on 28 carries.

Kansas Surprises Illinois, 47-7

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Two long scoring passes by Bobby Douglass, a 41-yard touchdown run by Donnie Shanklin and a 75-yard pass interception run-back by Dale Holt launched Kansas to a 47-7 trouncing of Illinois Saturday. Kansas, a Big Eight football title threat, scored three times in the second period for a 20-0 halftime bulge and the Big Ten Illini never got off the hook. Bob Naponic sneaked over for a touchdown early in the third period to cut the deficit to 20-then Kansas continued to explode.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Mary Ann Rathmell of Houston defeated Polly Alexander of Garland 4-and-3 Saturday to win her third straight Women's State Amateur golf title.

Rice, Huskies Deadlock In Seattle, 35 To 35

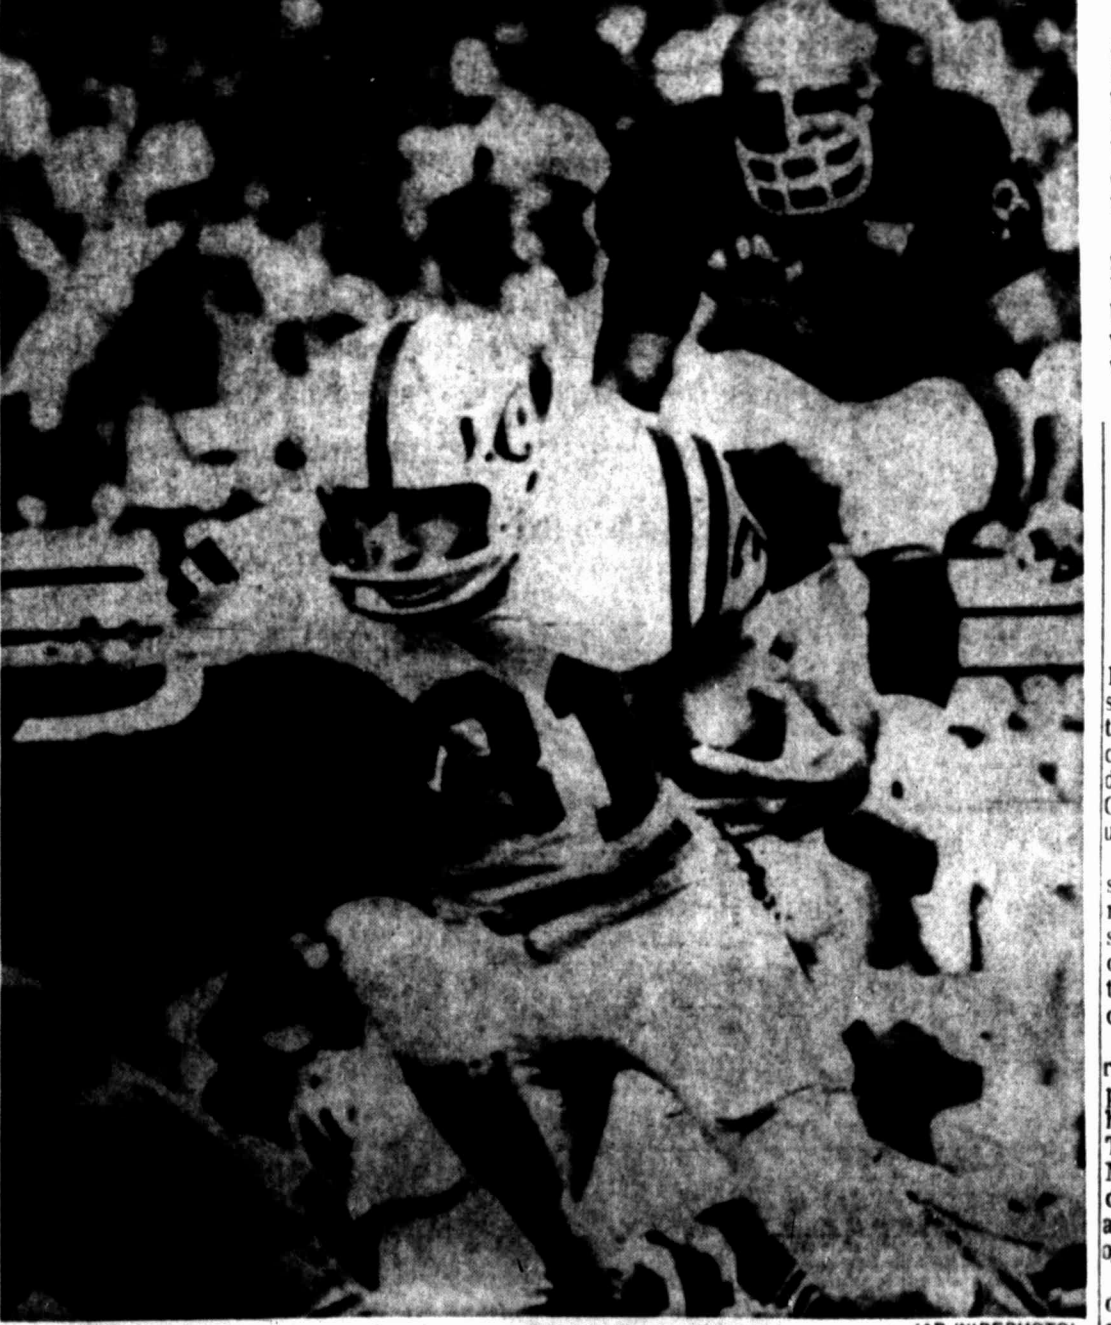

SEATTLE (AP) — Ron Volbrecht, a sophomore with no nerves, booted 91 yards of field goals at crucial moments Saturday for Washington to pull out a wild 35-35 tie with Rice in a football game inaugurating the host team's new outdoor carpet. With five seconds left to play, the young kicking specialist from Hammond, Ind., booted a 51-yarder to save Washington from defeat by a team it was supposed to beat. Only two seconds were left on the haltime clock when Volbrecht kicked a 40-yarder to give the Huskies a 17-14 margin at recess. Robbie Shelton, an opportunistic from Palacios, Tex., embarrassed the Huskies repeatedly as he ran for one touchdown and passed to Larry Davis for two others. Rice scored in the first four minutes and Washington marched 69 to match the seven pointer. Shelton guided a 78-yard scoring march and Washington, with quarterback Jerry Kaloper mixing passes into the offense, again pulled even. Shelton and the rest of Rice appeared set on running Washington out of its own synthetic turf stadium with two quick touchdowns in the third quarter. Washington managing to match one and trail 28-25 at the end of the period. Rice stabbed for one more midway in the final period. Washington tallied with 4:29 left but was still in arrears by three when Volbrecht came through with his last ditch kick.

Dodgers Shutout Red Birds, 3-0

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Claude Osteen and Jim Gritter combined to pitch a four-hit and a no-hitter against St. Louis in two runs, leading the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 3-0 victory over St. Louis Saturday. Grant choked off a St. Louis threat in the eighth inning to help Osteen, 12-18, best left-hander Larry Jaster. Sudakis singled home a run in the first inning and clouted a bases-empty homer in the fifth.

Iowa Shocks Oregon State

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A stubborn University of Iowa defense turned eighth-ranked Oregon State into a fourth quarter fumbling giant in engineering a 21-20 major collegiate football upset Saturday. The sophomore-studded Hawkeyes surprised the Beavers and a partisan crowd by three times curling around the bubbles of the Pacific-8 Conference team in the final 14 minutes. Following the first of the recoveries, sophomore quarterback Larry Lawrence steered the Big Ten Conference underdog 43 yards in five plays to a tying touchdown.

Wildcats Win Over CS, 21-0

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State's Cornelius Davis scored all of Kansas State's three touchdowns as the Wildcats dedicated its new $1.6 stadium with a 21-0 victory over Colorado State University Saturday. The Wildcats spluttered and stumbled at times but this made little difference to a shirt-sleeved record home crowd of 25,000 as it basked in the victory glow in a new 35,000 capacity stadium. Davis, the Big Eight's leading rusher as a sophomore, appeared back in rookie form as he paced the Wildcat attack. The 6-3, 210-pound St. Louis, Mo., fullback hauled in touchdown passes of 6 and 16 yards and also bulled over from the one-yard line. Colorado State, 21-13 victors over New Mexico last week, never was able to launch a consistent offensive threat until the final minute.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—O. J. Simpson's running brilliance shone through the overcast of Memorial Stadium when Southern California needed it most Saturday, rallying the Trojans to a 29-20 season opening football victory over Minnesota. Simpson carried the ball six straight times in a 45-yard USC touchdown drive in the waning minutes which brought the defending national collegiate champions from the brink of defeat. He also ran 36 yards for USC's first touchdown and added a seven-yard scoring run with 28 seconds left. Simpson gained 236 yards on 39 carries and caught six passes for 59 yards. His best previous rushing total was 235 yards on 30 carries against Washington last season. The Gophers had taken a 20-16

Purdue Routs Cavaliers, 44-6

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Middle guard Chuck Kyle spearheaded an aggressive defense that swept top-ranked Purdue to a 44-6 victory over the Virginia Cavaliers Saturday in the football opener for both teams. The Boilermakers, preseason picks to win the national college championship, were lackluster on offense through most of the first half and managed only a 13-0 halftime edge. That included a 3-yard touchdown run by All-American Leroy Keyes with 31 seconds remaining.

Alley On Beam In 5-1 Victory

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gene Alley drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single, sparking a four-run outburst and Dock Ellis pitched a five-hitter, giving the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-1 victory Saturday over the Chicago Cubs. Alley singled up the middle in the fourth after a single by Freddie Patek, a double by Matty Alou and an intentional walk to Roberto Clemente loaded the bases. Jose Pagan and Jerry May followed with singles driving in two more runs.

White Sox Lose To Baltimore

CHICAGO (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles erupted for five runs before a batter was retired in the first inning and went on to whip the Chicago White Sox 8-5 Saturday. Run-scoring singles by Frank Robinson, Boog Powell, Brooks Robinson and Paul Blair keyed the rally. Chicago reliever Wilbur Wood set an American League record for appearances in a single season, pitching in his 83rd game to break the 1965 mark set by Eddie Fisher.

Austin College Wins 2nd Game

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Austin College won its second game of the season Saturday, rolling over Southwestern of Memphis 40-0. Quarterback Wes Eben threw two touchdown passes, 12 yards to Mike Toon and 11 yards to Roland Rainey, and fullback Joe Beade scored twice on runs of nine and two yards to pace the Kangaroo attack. Halfbacks Neil Crockett and Charlie Schreiber scored the other Austin touchdowns on runs of 4 and 15 yards. Southwestern moved inside the Austin 20 just twice, losing the ball at the 13 and 19 in the second period.

Short Registers 18th Hill Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Left-hander Chris Short chalked up his 18th victory Saturday as the Philadelphia Phillies edged the New York Mets 4-3. Ed Charles tagged Short for a two-run homer in the first inning, but the Phils came back with three runs in their half on run-scoring singles by Tony Gonzalez and Gary Sutherland around Bill White's run-producing double.

QB HARRY GONSO LEADS DESPERATE SURGE
Baylor Defeated, 40-36

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Quarterback Harry Gonso led Indiana's Hoosiers 80 yards in the last four minutes for a touchdown and a 40-36 victory over Baylor Saturday. Gonso circled left end for the last three yards with 18 seconds remaining, climaxing a wild fourth quarter in which the lead changed hands four times. Gonso and Jade Butcher combined on a 50-yard pass play to keep the game-winning drive going barely seconds after Terry Cozby's 30-yard field goal had put the Bears out front 36-34. Gonso completed 13 of 14 passes for 221 yards and gained another 58 yards rushing. Indiana, defending co-champion of the Big Ten Conference and a heavy favorite over Baylor, a doormat of the Southwest Conference last season, was plagued by fumbles and penalties in the early going. Baylor got an early 14-6 lead while crossing the 50-yard line under its own power only once, thanks to Hoosier miscues. They

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES of the West Texas Girl Scout Council lists four local residents, shown here with Miss Celia Fowler, right, district advisor. They are Mrs. Jack Little, new to the board; R. J. Ream, who has received a service award from Girl Scouts; and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, holding the gold statuette she earned through service to Girl Scouting. Mrs. Lloyd was executive director for 12 years. The fourth board member, Mrs. Jack Vaughn, was unable to be present.

WEBB WOMEN are going all out this fall to make Girl Scouting as rewarding to themselves as it is to the Scouts. Among the base's registered adult Scouts are these leaders, Mrs. Gaylon O. Smith, Mrs. Edwin Newcomer, Mrs. Jimmie Van Gilder, Mrs. William Harrison and Mrs. William Mason, Neighborhood Four chairman.

"FOUNDING FATHERS" of Girl Scouting in this area include Larson Lloyd, Dan Conley and Lawrence Robinson, all of whom received gold statuettes for service, and the late Shine Philips. Lloyd, Conley and Philips were board members when the council was incorporated in 1946, and Robinson served as local treasurer even prior to that time.

'Adults In Girl Scouting'

By JO BRIGHT

Girl Scouting is a flexible, informal educational program that influences the lives of girls by reinforcing and supplementing the teachings of the home, the school and the church or synagogue. It is carried on in small groups under trained adult leadership. Girls from 7 through 17 of all races, creeds, nationalities, economic and geographical backgrounds, who accept the Girl Scout Promise and Laws, are welcome to join.

With these things in mind, Big Spring's adults in Girl Scouting are preparing to launch another year dedicated to "inspiring girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service — that they may become happy and resourceful citizens." Through a wide range of activities in the arts, home and out-of-doors, the girls will gain new knowledge and skills which they are encouraged to put to use for the benefit of their families, friends and communities.

To accomplish its goal of giving girls a complete growth program, Girl Scouting needs members, such as these dedicated people, to lead the way. Won't you become a registered Adult in Girl Scouting?

GIRL SCOUTS OF AMERICA presented the highly-regarded Girl Scout statuette to Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. for the more than ten years she has served as day camp director. Before taking on the camp responsibility, Mrs. Thomas was a troop leader and neighborhood chairman.

MUSIC IS TRADITIONALLY a companion to friends and fellowship, and all are an important part of Girl Scouting. Girls all over the world share the melodies and meaning of inspirational or fun-filled songs that are theirs alone. Ready to teach new music to their girls are Mrs. Dub Coates, Mrs. Charles Tate, Mrs. Bill Fryrear, Mrs. Melvin Brown and Mrs. Henry Thames, Neighborhood Two chairman.

GIRL SCOUT CADETTES are considered rather special by these women who will be working this year with these girls in the 12 to 14 age bracket. Helping the Scouts work on proficiency badges and real life situations that test their abilities to use the knowledge will be Mrs. James Clevenger, Miss Carolyn Cook, Mrs. Bob Ballard and Mrs. Owen Wormser.

MRS. DONALD G. NEWSOM

Wedding Solemnized On Saturday Evening

Miss Kay Talbott and Pvt. 1 C. Donald G. Newsom were married in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd in the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Talbott, 703 W. 16th, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. R. L. Newsom, 1600 Donley, and the late Mr. Newsom.

Traditional wedding selections were performed by Mrs. Carl Baker, organist, and the soloist was Mrs. Blake Talbott of Lubbock who sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

White satin roping marked the bridal aisle, and the couple knelt on a white satin prie-dieu. The altar was centered with arched candelabra and flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

ATTENDANTS
Feminine attendants were Mrs. Dickie Beard, the bridegroom's sister, matron of honor, and Miss Janice Jones and Miss Becky Hammond, bridesmaids. Mrs. Beard wore a lime green satin gown of Empire style, with overlay of silk organza, and her headpiece was a matching satin bow. The bridesmaids wore identical W. Woolworth Company. Pvt. Newsom received his BBA degree at Texas Tech and was associated with United States streamers which matched her dress. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace and organza designed with rounded neckline accented with seed pearls and French sequins. The semi-belled skirt was softly gathered to a fitted bodice with long, petal point sleeves, and the detachable train was adorned with lace and seed pearls. Her tiered, elbow-length veil fell from a pearl-encrusted tiara, and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

The bridal bouquet was of yellow-tipped carnations, centered with yellow roses, and carried atop a white Bible.

L. R. Sanders of Lubbock was best man, and ushers were Blake Talbott of Lubbock and David Talbott, brothers of the bride. The bridegroom's brothers, Kenneth Newsom and Tommy Newsom, were groomsmen, and Jimmy Newsom was the ring bearer. Robin Newsom served as flower girl. The couple presented gifts to their attendants during a rehearsal Friday.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and has been employed at F. and companion coat. Her accessories were brown patent shoes and the corsage was from her bouquet.

Gypsum before joining the Army.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Good Way To Keep Men's Collars Neat

Dear Heloise: I'm a minister's wife and, of course, it is very important that my husband look nice before his congregation every Sunday. I've discovered a real neat way to keep the lapels and collar of his suits coats from getting creased while hanging in our crowded closet. Before I hang them in the closet, I turn the lapels up, fold them over and pin them together with a straight pin. This eliminates having creased lapels. By pinning, they retain the fashionable rounded look. The collar I also turn up to prevent a crease from forming. When he's ready to wear it, I just take out the pin, turn back the lapels and the collar and it looks like the suit just came from the cleaners. My husband thinks I am the "mostest" for coming up with this idea and said, "Why don't you share your hint with others?" Minister's Wife.

your husband. Bless you both for sharing with us... Heloise handle... Needless to say, having a handle makes it an even better colander... Barbara Dougherty. Dear Heloise: Recently I read a Letter of Laughter in your column that brought back memories. It was the one about cutting the pocket off the wrong pair of trousers to mend another pair. You'd never guess what I did about 10 years ago. I was patching overalls for my husband and had several ragged old pairs handy to use. I found one leg with a good sized place that would work fine. I cut the leg off, patched the knee I was supposed to. Then held them up to look at them. Well, you guessed it! They had only one leg... the one I had just fixed! I've pulled some good ones in 24 years of married life but that one took the cake... Mrs. M. G. McIntosh. Sure it wasn't the leg? Heloise. Dear Heloise: This is a little tip for those who are making jelly or jam that needs straining. I put the gauze sack in the kettle and clip one side of it with two clothespins to the vessel. Then hold the other side of the sack open with one hand and scoop the fruit into it. Simple and fast. Sure wish I had thought of this 45 years ago when I first started to strain fruit for jelly! Effie Wilson.

Dear Heloise: Here's a little tip on how to dry those dark drip-dry dresses, shirts, etc., with the white collars that are so popular now for the teenage group. As you know, navy or black usually "bleeds" a little even when certified colorfast. To solve this, I hang my dress or shirt on a covered hanger, then place a piece of plastic (part of a cleaning bag will do) under the collar with a little allowance so the collar doesn't touch the rest of the garment. Then pin the plastic together with a plastic clothespin. Presto! No bleeding on my nice white collar... Joyce Van Cleef. Dear Heloise: I read the tip about making a substitute colander by punching holes in an aluminum throw-away pie plate. I purchased one of the pre-packed popcorn poppers which is like an aluminum pie plate with a handle. After the corn had been popped, I punched a few holes in the bottom and had a dandy colander with

Federation Board Meeting, Workshop Slated In Austin

To Reign Over Festival

Miss Louise Spence of Tyler, a coed at Texas University, will reign over the Texas Rose Festival in Tyler, October 17-20.

National Attention Turns To Tyler Roses

National attention will be focused on Tyler as a floral center, Oct. 16-20, when the city's eighth annual Texas Rose Festival is held in tribute to the famous flower. It is the colorful festival, plus production annually of more than 20,000,000 rose bushes, that has given Tyler the merited title of "the Rose Garden of America."

The festival and its activities are built around Tyler's 20-acre Municipal Rose Garden, a spot unexcelled for beauty by the square foot. Here more than 35,000 rose bushes of more than 400 varieties grow in a varied color scheme. The garden and nearby Garden Center building serve as headquarters for the Rose Festival.

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its annual board of directors meeting and workshop at the Commodore Perry Hotel in Austin on Oct. 1-3, Mrs. Henry F. Shaper of San Antonio, president, has announced. The theme of the meeting will be "Vision for Action."

A LOVELIER YOU

Hints On Smoothing, Whitening Elbows

By MARY SUE MILLER
A career Lovely asks: What can be done to smooth and whiten elbows? Mine feel like sandpaper and look grubby. A summer of desk work and sleeveless dresses seems to have brought the trouble. Nothing helps, neither pumice stone or hand lotion.

The Answer: First off you have to break the habit of leaning on your elbows - leaning on your desk, the arms of chairs, table tops. You do lean, you know. Otherwise the elbows would not be in such a fix. Once the pressure's off, elbows respond to a variety of treatments:

1. Cleanse the elbows with a firm brush and facial quality soap several times daily. Dry briskly with a terry towel and massage in body lotion.

2. To clean dry elbows apply a scuff remover. This is a fluid cream, originally meant to create pretty feet from a mass of callouses. The action on the elbows is much the same. You simply rub it in until the rough skin is loosened, when you whisk away the particles. As only a little scuff comes away each day, don't expect miracles from one application. Keep at it.

3. Pale the skin with lemon soaks. This way, cut a lemon in half and hull out some of the pulp; oil elbows and soak them in the cups for 15 minutes. Rinse with warm water and pat dry. Once or twice weekly.

4. For the big Thicket Dinner on Wednesday evening, Sen Truett Latimer, executive director, Texas Historical Survey Committee, and former member of the Texas Legislature from 1952 to 1960 from the 84th District, will be guest speaker at the Texas Heritage Luncheon on Oct. 2.

"BELLY BUTTON" OR UMBILICAL HERNIA

Navel, or belly button hernia, is not unusual in babies and usually it corrects itself in a few months to a year. It is the only kind of hernia which can be self-correcting. The Doctor sometimes just tapes a coin, or a similar flat object over the hernia.

In grandmother's time, every baby usually wore a belly band for this purpose, but now medical opinion has discarded this therapy as having little value. Infrequently, surgery may be required for a navel hernia but the operation is simple. Your physician will tell you if one is necessary.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

The general election for class officers is slated for Wednesday, Oct. 2. The deadline for petitions is Thursday, Sept. 26, which is less than one week away. All students are urged to participate in the elections.

There will be a meeting of all student senate officers Monday, Sept. 23, at the SUB parlor at 6:30 p.m.

The Women's Dorm Council elected officers Tuesday, Sept. 17. Gloria Garcia, sophomore from Garden City, was elected president and Judy Gromatsky, freshman from Arlington, was elected vice president. Jewell Lamarkin, sophomore from McCombs, was chosen to be the devotional chairman.

The purpose of the council is to serve as a communications link between the administration and the women and to plan programs for the dorm residents.

So far, a total of 1,120 students have registered for the fall semester, an all-time record. More than 643 of these are full-time students, beating last year's record by more than 100. "We have broken every record for enrollment and semester hours that has ever been set here at HCJC, and what's more, we are expecting more students to register next week," said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the school.

Computers Enroll College Students
What would you think if someone told you that your report cards have already been sealed in envelopes and stamped. Well, according to Mr. Dallas Nash, head of Data Processing in the Vocational-Technical department, they have been ready for weeks.

Actually, it's all a part of the computer registration that has taken place in the last two weeks. "The new process does not actually make registration faster because it takes time to gather the information that is needed from each student, but it is a faster method of obtaining information about the students later on," said Mr. L. Lewis, registrar. "The main reason we used the computers for registration this semester is that it saves considerable man hours when we desire to obtain data from the students to make various reports," he added. The system also relieves teachers from some of the administrative work.

All of the students that have enrolled so far were registered on the computer by Friday, Sept. 20. "I hope to be able to register all of the students in one day next year," said Mr. Nash. "East Texas State University utilized the same system as ours and 8,400 students were registered there in one day," he commented.

Two basic curriculum are offered at Howard County Junior College, programming and operations, and management pro-

New Officers Named At Coahoma School

By SUSIE WISNER
COAHOMA - This week the halls of Coahoma High School have been filled with spirit after the mighty Bulldogs defeated the Rankin Red Devils Friday night. The Bulldogs traveled to Winters.

Rodney Wall, student council president, presided over a meeting of the school's governing body Wednesday. A new slate of officers was elected. Ricky Evans, senior, will serve as vice president this year. Vickie Wallin, senior, was elected secretary-treasurer and Leslie Woods, junior, will serve as reporter. A committee was named to set dates and plan activity days this year. Those on the committee are Patti Sterling, Twylla Wall, Gaylan Harrison and James Dunn, who will serve as chairman.

PEP SQUAD
The pep squad held a meeting Wednesday in which Mrs. Rob Ethridge, sponsor, went over some of the rules for out-of-town football games. Head cheerleader, Sandra Gross, explained to the group about conducting pep rallies. After business was discussed, the cheerleaders left several new ideas.

The assistant cheerleaders will be serving the B-team again this year. The quartet, consisting of Brenda Eppier, senior, Debbie Fryar, junior, Arlene Milliken, sophomore, and Sandra Belew, freshman, led a pep rally preceding Thursday's game against the Big Spring sophomores.

Coach Kendall Cleckler spoke to the student body at the main pep rally Friday afternoon. Mrs. Tiller, Mrs. Cox, and Mrs. Crawford were judges in the class competition for the spirit stick. This week the sophomores seemed to excel and were awarded the coveted prize.

SCIENCE CLUB
Johnny Ted Fowler was elected president of the science club during their first monthly meeting Tuesday night. Jerry Webb was elected vice president. Nancy Mann will serve as secretary and Kay Reed, reporter. Club dues this year will be $1 and should be paid before annual pictures are made.

Plans were discussed concerning a tour of the Big Spring High School planetarium. Named to the activity committee were Toby Green, chairman, Paul Day, Kenneth Furlong, Sue Read, Laura Ward, Cathy Evans and Jerri-Ann Menser. The next meeting was set for Oct. 7.

The Future Homemakers of America will hold a barbecue library.

BEARKATS HONORED
Friday night the Bearkats played Comstock and were honored with a party afterwards sponsored by the freshmen. Friday, Kay Sawyers, Judy Ann Halfmann, Cecelia Seidenburger, important this year as ever and Millie Christie, cheerleader, put on a skit to boost the football boys' morale.

Wednesday at assembly Jim Manning told us some of the history of folk singing and provided us with some interesting facts of the art along with some very entertaining comments.

The biology classes have been bused to the science room and have observed a frog's heart beating. All of the science classes are working on term papers. Out-door feeders are being placed in order to give students a chance to observe the birds in their natural surroundings. Lists of species of birds that are identified in a classical book was filed.

PROJECTS BEGUN
Money-making projects are as important this year as ever and the sophomores are planning to have a car wash and bake sale Sept. 28, at 10 a.m. The seniors' Halloween carnival and history of folk singing and projects are in the process of being planned.

Friday the Student Council met and Ernie Schwartz, president in the president's absence. The council discussed the Homecoming party, and the time problem during the lunch period. New officers for this year's council are Kay Sawyers, president; Ernie Schwartz, vice president; Velma Lee Sherron, secretary; and Floyd Schwartz, treasurer.

Teachers are in the process of selecting new books for the species of birds that are identified in a classical book was filed.

Producer Visited Here To Help Get Review Launched

Members of BSHS Steer Band have begun plans for the annual variety production, "Campus Revue." The previous success of "Campus Revue" was helped by Todd Lane, and he will help again.

He was here last week to begin a series of business and production committee meetings. Although CR 69 is still six months away, Lane and Bill Bradley, high school band director, believe in lots of planning.

Lane's experience in this type of show began in his high school days. He helped organize and originate a similar show in Wichita Falls, (from where he graduated), which is in its 12th year. His original show grew to such proportions that it is now held in the city auditorium, which seats approximately 3,500 people.

Lane has attended TCA and Midwestern, and is presently working on his BA in production and theatrical management. He is a lighting designer, staging manager, and theatrical consultant. He has remodeled three auditoriums.

Productions he has produced include: "Bye Bye Birdie," "Pajama Game," "Music Man," "Annie Get Your Gun," and "Sound of Music." He has also managed these productions: "Oklahoma," "Carousel," "Brigadoon," "Hello Dolly," "Half a Sixpence," and "One a Clear Day Like Today."

He has worked with Carol Burnett, Pearl Bailey, Louis Armstrong, Johnny Cash, Martha Ray, Phil Harris, and Dale Robertson.

"Big Spring has a unique organization and everyone is willing to work. I like being with adults who work with kids, instead of saying 'the kids are going to the dogs.'"

"I think the people of Big Spring will be surprised when they see the high caliber of talent and professionalism that they will see in CR 69," Todd said. "Too often, people don't realize what talent they have in their own town."

Todd is now producing "Fidler on the Roof" with the Preservation Jazz Band in New Orleans. He will then next open a children's theater and produce an Opera in Wichita Falls. In November, he is scheduled to design the lighting and staging for a ballet company from India.

Todd will return in February to add the finishing touches to CR 69, Feb. 8-9.

Action certainly does speak louder than words, according to John Wayne, particularly on the motion picture screen.

Renowned for his convincing portrayals in outdoor adventure films, Wayne is now proving himself a dedicated master of film action as a director, too. With Ray Kellogg, Wayne co-directed "The Green Berets," the first motion picture drama about the war in Vietnam.

The actor's son, Michael Wayne, produced the production in Technicolor and Panavision. The explosive film opens tonight at the Jet Theatre.

No stock footage was used in the action drama, based on Robin Moore's best-selling novel, "The Green Berets," with a screenplay by James Lee Barrett. All battle sequences were staged on location at remote jungle-like sections of sprawling Fort Benning, in Georgia.

"Action," Wayne recalls, "was the basic theme of the earliest motion pictures. And, it remains the essential theme, today. Motion pictures are meant to move, when an actor stops to talk, it must be essential to the story."

Wayne explains that he selected "The Green Berets" to film "because it is filled with the type of action and adventure that audiences like."

Role Of Melanie Changed For 'Gone With The Wind'

When Margaret Mitchell described Melanie Hamilton in "Gone With The Wind" as a mousy little person with a thin, childish figure and a serious, heart-shaped face, she inadvertently changed Olivia de Havilland from a dewey-eyed heroine to a dynamic actress.

This remarkable metamorphosis was one of the surprises of David O. Selznick's memorable production of "Gone With The Wind," which has gone down into history as one of the great motion pictures of all time.

The unforgettable, multi-award winning film is now presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in new Wide Screen and Metrocolor splendor. This presentation gives infinitely greater dramatic impact to such of the picture's spectacular sequences as Sherman's march to the sea and the flight of the populace from Atlanta, the burning of the Atlanta munitions warehouses, the magnificent ball at Tara, the plantation sequences and many other scenes recreating the Civil War era, populated by thousands of extras.

Olivia de Havilland had to overcome her natural beauty for the role of Melanie. She wore a minimum of make-up to achieve a clean-scrubbed look. She pulled back her hair into a severe coiffure and disguised her curves.

You can't de-gild the lily entirely but Melanie paled in comparison with the fiery beauty of Vivien Leigh as Scarlett O'Hara. Yet Clark Gable as Rhett Butler, admired Melanie's ladylike qualities. And she married Ashley Wilkes (Leslie Howard) whom Scarlett loved. So plot-wise, Melanie did right. As for Olivia herself, the role proved both a personal triumph and a turning point in her career.

'FAMILY BAND'
Another Disney musical production

Novels Are Source Of Disney Musicals

Whereas most film producers look to the Broadway stage for musical comedies to adapt for the screen, Walt Disney Studios continues to draw upon novels as material from which to develop original musicals.

Of prime example is Disney's new musical comedy, "The One and Only, Genuine, Original Family Band," based upon an autobiography by Laura Bower Van Nuy called "The Family Band," which tells of her musical family's migration to the Dakotas during the 1880's. "Family Band" comes hot on the heels of "The Happiest Millionaire," and features the same young romantic stars, John Davidson and Lesley Ann Warren.

"Millionaire," also an original musical, was based upon another autobiographical account, "My Philadelphia Father," written by Cordelia Drexel Biddle and Kyle Crichton. The story concerns Miss Biddle's eccentric millionaire father who was a physical fitness nut and kept pet alligators. Before being filmed, the book was scripted into a successful Broadway play by Crichton.

The first of this series of original musicals by Disney was the internationally acclaimed "Mary Poppins." Based upon a group of children's classics by P. L. Travers, "Mary Poppins" told the adventures of a magical nursemaid. Its unprecedented success in 1964 made Julie Andrews a super-star overnight.

The acceptance of "Mary Poppins" was the signal for other film companies to throw their hats onto the musical bandwagon. But even so, the trend in the industry has been to go with proven shows like "Camelot," "My Fair Lady," and "Sound of Music" because the gamble is always bigger with an original musical, a gamble Disney has always scoffed at and won.

In color by Technicolor, "The One and Only, Genuine, Original Family Band" stars Walter Brennan, Buddy Ebsen, Lesley Ann Warren, John Davidson, Janet Blair and Kurt Russell. The musical features nine original songs by Richard and Robert Sherman. Lowell S. Hawley adapted the autobio-

MEN IN SERVICE

MISSILES BROUGHT UP
Sidewinders cross flight deck

LAST MAN OUT
Crewman runs from under Crusader

AIRCRAFT LAUNCHED
Flight deck crew takes a rest

RETURNS FROM MISSION
Damage check, refuel and rearm

"Flight quarters... all unauthorized personnel stand clear of the flight deck... pilots man your planes... standby to launch the helo."

Since late August, when the attack aircraft carrier Hancock went to war in Vietnam for the fourth time since early 1965, these words echo over the flight deck many times each day.

And when they are heard, the flight deck becomes alive with men wearing bright colored jerseys. Each color represents a man's job. "Red-shirts" arm the planes with bombs and rockets. "Yellow-shirts" direct the planes to one of two powerful steam catapults. Green-shirted sailors crawl under the "bird" and hook up the catapult.

One of these men in the Hancock scene is Aviation Boatswain's Mate 2.C. Robert L. Johnson, U.S.N., 30, 707 Wyoming, Big Spring.

The 25-year-old carrier prepares for a strike against the enemy by swinging into the wind while jet planes, loaded with the ordnance of war, are readied for launch. When the order is given to "launch the strike aircraft," a plane is airborne every 30 seconds. A strike can number from one to 30 of the ship's 80 aircraft.

Launched from the catapult first is a radar reconnaissance plane with a large radar dome above its wings. Named "Willy Fudd" because of its ungainly appearance, it will project the ship's radar for many miles and provide a communications link between the Hancock and her fighter-bombers.

The Hancock carries two types of fighter-bomber aircraft. The F-8 Crusader is the ship's main line of defense against enemy attack. The A-4 Skyhawk is the bomber "workhorse" of the fleet. Despite being the smallest jet in the U.S. arsenal, the Skyhawk has done the majority of bombing in North Vietnam.

From a position known as "Yankee Station" in the Tonkin Gulf, "Fighting Hannah" and two other attack carriers launch their planes around the clock. Their mission: stop the flow of material from North Vietnam to enemy forces in the south.

Sonar Technician 3.C. Leo E. Holden, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Holden, 1003 Nolan, Big Spring, is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Waddell. The ship has returned to the gunline off the coast of North Vietnam for the third time.

To start the day off the ship fired at a causeway linking an enemy transportation network. Aerial observers reported the approaches were chewed up and the causeway itself significantly damaged for the Waddell to withdraw.

Midshipman 4.C. Richard G. Macklin, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Macklin, 1403 E. 19th St., Big Spring, has completed his initial phase of Midshipmen indoctrination at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. During the ten weeks of summer training he and other "Plebes" were introduced to and met the standards of discipline, conduct and performance required of Midshipmen.

With the summer over and the upper classmen returning to Annapolis, the emphasis now shifts to academic subjects and integration into the 4,000-man Brigade of Midshipmen.

Pfc. Carlos Arenobia Jr. has completed basic training with the U.S. Marines and will go to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for survivor and combat training. Last week he visited here with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tito Arenobia, with whom he lived almost three years. Carlos attended Runnels Junior High and was a junior in BSHS before his parents came from Cuba to live at Coral Gables, Fla. He also was a Herald carrier for about a year and a half.

Li. (j.g.) Don Puckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Puckett, 2604 Apache, is an officer aboard the destroyer USS Rupertus which was recently fired upon while serving off the coast of Vietnam. At one time the Rupertus was fired upon four days in a row.

"The third time in that group was the worst," remembered Puckett. "We took over 200 rounds that day. The closest ones were about 10 to 15 yards, but down where we were, it sounded like we'd been hit by a couple of them."

Puckett, who is the ship's main propulsion assistant, continued, "We could hear big thumps — which were the rounds going off — and could also hear the shrapnel from the exploding rounds banging against the hull of the ship."

Action on the high seas is not new to Puckett. He was officer of the deck aboard the Rupertus when the destroyer came to the aid of attack aircraft carrier USS Forestal. The carrier was heavily damaged in June, 1967, when 250 bombs loaded on its aircraft exploded on board.

Puckett is a 1966 graduate of the Naval Academy. His younger brother, Richard, is a senior there.

'The Gunfighter' Lucky To Be Alive

By GEORGE McARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The lanky bird-colonel sprawled awkwardly on the hospital bed, carefully protecting a swollen right arm bandaged from the shoulder down.

LIVING LEGEND

In blue hospital garb he looked pretty much like others in the ward — but he was one of the few authentic and living legends in Vietnam.

The four-star commander of American forces, gruff-spoken Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, had stopped by to pass a few old-soldier jokes. Other generals and less exalted ranks had dropped in. Some news correspondents, old friends, had dropped by.

Col. Henry Emerson, 42, known to his friends as Hank and called "The Gunfighter" by his men, was pleased by the attention.

"What the hell," he said, "I guess if you have to go it's good to go out winning. I'm lucky to be alive at all."

What bothered Emerson was leaving behind the 1st Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division, some 4,000 men he had led seven months and molded into possibly the best infantry brigade in Vietnam.

"It took a little while to realize that my days as a brigade commander were probably over," Emerson shrugged. "The arm will probably be all right in a couple of months but somebody else will have the brigade by then. It's probably a staff job for me."

DECORATED

Emerson's first combat wound was a long time catching him. He emerged decorated but unscathed from the Korean War and an earlier tour in Vietnam which he spent fighting in the jungles as a battalion commander with the 101st Airborne.

He was a legend before that tour was over — one of the first unit commanders in the war to devise effective jungle tactics, and a man who loved to fight.

When he took over the 9th Division Brigade in the Mekong Delta he sprinkled it with old comrades and shook it to its roots. He started night patrolling with a vengeance. He used whole battalions in night helicopter operations. He perfected the use of tear gas in combat, flushing hidden Viet Cong units so the artillery could get at them. He developed a closeup psychological warfare program, equipping each platoon with a loudspeaker.

A lifelong bachelor from Millford, Pa., the Army was his life and fighting was what he was trained to do.

BURST OF FIRE

Ironically, he was having a quiet day when he was wounded. Preparing for a seven-day leave, he was flying his temporary replacement, Col. Ira Hunt, McClain, Va., the 9th Division's chief of staff, to visit a battalion command post.

At 1,000 feet a sudden burst of 50-caliber machine-gun fire hit the chopper. The pilot nursed the careening craft almost to the ground when it lurched to one side, crashed and burst into flames. The copilot and a waist gunner died instantly. Everyone else except Emerson was thrown clear. Emerson was trapped, flames licking beneath his right arm. Hunt, half-stunned, dragged him out.

"I guess it was only 20 seconds or so," Emerson said. "Maybe I could have gotten out myself. I was sure trying. But I was mighty glad Hunt was there."

Next day they gave Emerson his first Purple Heart.

"I'd just as soon have done without it," he said.

Judges To Eye Law Of 1879

AUSTIN (AP) — The 1879 Texas law under which 42 demonstrators were arrested at a service station last May will be examined by a three-judge federal court in Austin Nov. 7.

Twenty-one of the demonstrators filed suit against the county attorney to stop him from prosecuting the case. The county attorney asked that a federal court be convened to consider the constitutionality of the law. The law prohibits assembly to interfere with the lawful pursuit of a man's occupation.

The demonstrators carried placards around Don Weedon's service station near the University of Texas campus, accusing him of being a racist. Weedon pleaded "no contest" to a charge of assaulting a Negro musician at a night club. He was fined $20.
