..... from the files of The Friona Star

50 YEARS AGO—MARCH 12, 1928

At an election held here Monday for the purpose of determining whether or not Friona should become an organized municipality or remain a mere hamlet, a good turnout assured incorporation, by a vote of 65 for and 34 against. There being perhaps 125 qualified voters in the described corporate limits, the turnout of 101 voters was considered excellent.

An epidemic of measles has broken out in Friona and vicinity during the past two weeks, and the number of cases seems to be increasing rather than decreasing.

A piece of Americana in Friona is about to go the way of the Model-T Ford and the penny post card. The penny peanut machine, a long-established American institution, is about to be replaced at Friona Consumers. To The Editor

Dear Bill,

If an unborn infant which is about to be aborted could talk we might hear the words of the following article. I think it is a touching article on the evil of abortion, and would make any God-fearing child of God cry to read it. I think it needs to be published by every paper.

The article:
"Today I will be slaughtered! My parents have arranged for me to be murdered. They are paying a man to do this. He is called a doctor."

"In the underworld men are hired to kill others. When they are convicted, they are punished by imprisonment or death. But the doctor who has been hired to kill me will never be tried. It is legal. It is called abortion."

"But I am a human being, and have a right to live. God intended that I should be born. They call me a fetus because I still live in my mother's womb. The word fetus means 'little one.' I am a little human being, and all my systems are working perfectly. My heart has been beating ever since conception. In this little room where I live—right under my mother's heart—I have been well taken care of, receiving all needed nutrients from Mommy's body."

"I have wanted to be born, it might be that someone would adopt me, but my death sentence has already been pronounced, and I must die today. If I could be born, I could bring much happiness to my parents and to all the family. I have the inherited traits and characteristics of my parents, and we could have a lot of fun together. God has given me a beautiful little body, and I don't like the idea of being chopped to pieces and thrown into the sewer, but I am helpless. If I could only be born and grow up, perhaps I could defend myself, but they are going to slaughter me today."

"I know I will be missing a lot by not being born. I have two beautiful eyes that will never see the light of day, and can never look into the faces of my loved ones. Never can I see this big wonderful world that God has created. I have two ears, but will never hear the sounds of music, laughter, and conversation. My little nose will never smell the scent of flowers. I have the sense of taste but can never enjoy the delicious foods that human beings eat. I have a perfectly formed voice box, but will never be able to speak or sing or laugh.

"I am 'fearfully and wonderfully made,' but today my body will be whittled to pieces. They don't want me. I wonder why? But the God who formed me loves me, and He will receive my soul into heaven, and someday give me a new body."

"I will be murdered today. May God have mercy on those who are responsible for killing me. I am a fetus, a 'little one,' a little human being. I have a divine right to live. Wish I could talk to my Mommy and Daddy about this."

"But now the doctor is bringing in the butcher knives. Good-by forever."

Now our nation is legalizing abortion. God have mercy on our nation.

Leon Watson
Friona, Texas

(Editor's note: The following letter was received by Postmaster Richard Wilson, but employees at the post office have been unable to trace the person missing. We are printing the letter herewith, in the event that one of our readers might be able to assist the writer.)

Dear Sir:

I am trying to find my daughter Joyce Ann (Prigmore) Moore, who is married to Jerry E. Moore. They left my home at Greenwich, Ohio in 1973 and I have not seen or heard from them since.

In a week (March 19) I will be 77 years old, and would like to get in contact with them again. I am very much worried about them. I want to advertise for them in your newspaper.

Do you have a police force there? They have not committed a crime of any kind, but I thought maybe your police could help me in some way to get in contact with them. They travel quite a bit and I thought they may have come to your town to stay for awhile. They have been gone almost five years.

I used to live in Friona, back in about 1908-1909, and I do know she seemed to be wanting to see Friona because I had lived there.

Will you please take a few minutes of your time and answer this letter? I have been trying a lot of different ways to find Joyce. You perhaps don't know what it means to have a missing daughter or son. It means a lot of heartache, sadness, looking every day for a letter and meeting disappointment. It means a lot of crying and praying.

If anyone can send a word that would help me find my daughter, I will be forever grateful.

Thanking you,
Mrs. Frances C. Prigmore

SCS Report

"Wildlife Needs You" is the theme of the 1978 National Wildlife Week March 19-25.

The conservation endeavor is sponsored by the National Wildlife Foundation with the help of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, Inc.

Mack Mauldin, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Friona, said his agency is cooperating with the observance by offering publications about wildlife to interested people.

"All of us in SCS have a keen appreciation of wildlife," Mauldin said. "Wildlife provides esthetic, environmental, economic, and other benefits. Since they need food, cover, and water, the best way to help wildlife is to provide adequate habitat."

Most wildlife in Texas inhabits privately owned farms and ranches. This land provides hunting, fishing, trapping, and other values inherent in a well-balanced landscape and the fish and wildlife it supports. For that reason, farmers and ranchers play a key role in maintaining wildlife populations.

Single copies of any of the above publications can be obtained free by contacting personnel at the SCS office located at Friona telephone number 2220.

Mauldin said SCS has a small staff of biologists especially trained in wildlife and fisheries that he can call on to help him assist landowners improve their wildlife habitat. Anyone wanting this type of help should call the telephone number listed above.

Mauldin said the following publications can be obtained from his office at 1306 W. 9th in Friona.

"Invite Birds to Your Home"--This booklet lists 20 plants that can be grown in conservation landscape plantings in Texas and gives the number of bird species that use each variety.

"Catfish Farming"--This USDA publication, written by four SCS biologists, tells how to grow channel catfish, blue catfish, and white catfish in ponds, raceways, or cages.

"Conservation Practices--Signs of Good Hunting and Fishing"--This pamphlet gives tips to hunters on how to recognize the conservation practices that are signs of good wildlife land.

"Russian Olive for Wildlife and Other Conservation Uses"--Tells how to grow this small tree that produces food eaten by more than 50 birds and mammals; adapted to dry, cool climates.

"Warm-Water Fishponds"--This booklet tells how to build ponds best suited for fishing as well as how to stock and manage fishponds.

Legal Notice

LEGAL NOTICE

The Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Inc., P.O. Box 753, Hereford, Texas, 79045, is making an application for a loan from the Rural Electrification Administration. The loan will provide for the construction of approximately 17 miles of 69 KV transmission line, one 3750 KVA substation, and one 7500 KVA substation. Approximately 5.5 of this 17 miles will run Eastward, beginning at a point located approximately 4 miles North of the intersection of F.M. Road 2943 and US Highway 60, in Deaf Smith County. From there, it will run East about 3 miles, thence North about .5 miles, thence East about one mile, thence North about one mile, to the 3750 KVA substation. Approximately 11.5 miles of this line will begin at a point located about two miles South and 1.5 miles West of the intersection of F.M. Road 1058 and F.M. Road 1057, in Deaf Smith County. From there, it will run in a Southwesterly direction along the Tierra Blanca Draw about 8.5 miles thence North about 3 miles to the 7500 KVA substation.

The loan also provides for increased capacity of two existing substations and for reinsulating of another existing substation in order to increase voltage output. These increases will not involve any additional structural work. Finally the loan provides for approximately 200 miles of underground and overhead distribution line and for approximately 150 miles of reconductoring and reinsulating on existing lines. These improvements will be in Castro, Parmer, Oldham and Deaf Smith Counties. These facilities will make it possible for the Cooperative to meet the increasing demands for electric power of the member-owners. If there are comments on the proposed construction, it should be submitted to the Cooperative on or before April 15, 1978. Additional information may be obtained at the Cooperative office at the above address.

UP AND OVER....Todd Bandy, second from the right, is shown clearing the first hurdle in the finals of the 330-yard intermediate hurdle their second meet title with 103 points.

Sylvia Malouf's Jumps Pace Squaws' Efforts

The Friona Squaws track team, paced by the 22-point performance of Sylvia Malouf, placed fifth at Farwell's Twin City Relays last Saturday with a total of 43 points.

The Squaws were plagued by injuries, which hampered higher finishes in some events, and caused a last-minute revamping of the mile relay team.

For the second time in two outings, Miss Malouf was high point girl for the Squaws. She won the long jump with a leap of 16-8 and three-quarter inches. This was an improvement of six inches over her first outing.

Sylvia had to settle for second in the triple jump, with a super jump of 34-6½. This was more than a foot and one-half farther than she had jumped in winning the event at the Friona Invitational, but Olton's Melanie Whitten came up with a meet record 34-10½ to edge Sylvia for the gold medal in the event.

High jumper Kenna Noland improved her mark by two inches from the previous week, but had to settle for sixth place in an event where the top two girls leaped five feet, four inches, the best jumps in the entire Panhandle-Plains this spring.

Freshman Norma Barlow raised some eyebrows by nipping veteran quarter-miler Paige Osborn and taking third place in the 440 with the time of 65.2. Miss Barlow also had the good time of 12.8 in the 100-yard dash preliminaries, but narrowly missed getting to the finals.

The Squaws' 880-yard relay team of Kimber Britting, Paige Osborn, Sylvia Malouf and Cindy Cleveland trimmed almost two seconds off its first meet title, but only moved up one place to fourth.

Other point-makers for the Squaws included Renae Monroe, fourth in the 80-yard low hurdles, and Robin Zetsche, fifth in the 880-yard run. Each lowered their times from the Friona meet.

Close misses to scoring points were both the Squaws' 440-yard and mile relay teams, each of which placed seventh.

Coach Craig Hunter, eyeing the team's next meet outing at Tulia

April 1, said he was going to shake up the lineup to some extent, to see if the team could score more points.

Results from the Farwell meet were as follows:

POINT MAKERS

Long jump: 1. Sylvia Malouf, 16-8¾.

Triple jump: 2. Sylvia Malouf, 34-6½.

High jump: 6. Kenna Noland, 4-8.

880-yard dash: 5. Robin Zetsche, 2:45.7.

440-yard dash: 3. Norma Barlow, 65.2; 5. Paige Osborn, 65.7.

220-yard dash: 5. Sylvia Malouf, 28.9.

80-yard LH: 4. Renae Monroe, 12.15.

880-yard relay: 4. Squaws (Kimber Britting, Paige Osborn, Sylvia Malouf, Cindy Cleveland), 1:55.6.

Team totals: 1. Bovina 121; 2. Lubbock Cooper 74; 3. New Deal 60;

4. Olton 55; 5. (tie) Friona & Shallowater, 43; 7. Farwell 28; 8. Petersburg 18; 9. Lockney 17; 10. Anton 16; 11. Kress 14; 12. Amherst 13; 13. Happy 12; 14. Springlake-Earth 11; 15. Hart 4.

Chiefs Take Second Straight Meet Title

The Friona Chieftains racked up their second meet title in two outings last Saturday, taking the championship at Farwell's Twin City Relays with a total of 103 points.

Going into the final event of the meet, it looked like the team might be involved in another close finish in the team race, as Friona had a scant 83-81 lead in points over runnerup New Deal. The Chiefs thus needed only to place ahead of the Lions to clinch the meet title.

As it turned out, Friona scored an impressive win in the mile relay event, and New Deal failed to place at all, giving Friona a 22-point edge in the team totals.

The mile relay foursome of Chitto Caballero, Rod Owen, Robert Alexander and David Fleming cut 3.1 seconds off their time of a week earlier, winning it in 3:40.9.

Jumper Jeff Whiteside added more than a foot to his distance in the long jump, getting 20-10¼ on his final jump to claim the gold medal in that event. Whiteside and Landrum of Olton staged quite a duel in the event, and Jeff had to have the good jump on his last try to claim victory.

Koty Kothmann improved his mark in the discus with a heave of 147-11½, to beat the challenge by Harkey of New Deal, whose mark of 140-2 placed second.

Kothmann's toss set a new meet record in the event, and put his name on the mark which had been held by a former Friona Chieftain, Davy Carthel, whose winning effort was 145-9 in 1975.

Friona's other relay team, the sprint relay foursome, was nipped at the tape by Farwell, and had to settle for second with a time of 46.4.

Whereas the foursome had won its event with some good handoffs in their first meet, this time they were not so good.

"We had two bad handoffs out of the four, yet we still almost won the event," said Coach Gary Jones.

Jones said that Rickey Taylor, who barely missed qualifying for the finals in the 100-yard dash with a 10.5 after only a couple of days of workouts, would be tried on the sprint team in the next track outing.

"We're also going to change up the order somewhat and see if we can't improve our time. We need to work on our handoffs. This is what the pre-district meets are for—to see what each athlete can do best," Jones said this week.

Also, Tulia, where the Chiefs will next run, has an all-weather track surface, and Jones thinks this will help cut down the times. A 30 mph wind at the Farwell meet hampered times somewhat.

Other changes being planned for the Tulia meet by Jones is to allow miler Leslie White to try the 880-yard run. "I think this will help his speed in the mile eventually," Jones says. Friona has scored only one point in the 880 in two meets.

Rod Owen will be moved from the Intermediate hurdles to the 220-yard dash, and freshman Martin Mercado will run the hurdles.

The Chiefs failed to get any points in the high jump at Farwell, but Jones says that jumpers Mike Hutson, Scott Fangman and Kevin Kothmann are all jumping well. Hutson has cleared six feet in workouts.

"The enthusiasm and work attitude is great. The boys all believe that we are capable of winning the district title April 20-21. They are excited about their chances," Jones says.

POINT-MAKERS TWIN CITY RELAYS

120-yrd HH: 5. Chitto Caballero, 17.0.

440-yard dash: 2. David Fleming, 54.1.

ANCHORMAN....David Fleming is shown hitting the tape at the conclusion of the mile relay event at Farwell, giving the Chiefs the relay trophy and the meet trophy. The team scored a 22-point win in the team race.

In some parts of Russia people used to roll around in the fields in the hope that this would encourage the crops to grow.

FCI Helps Protect Farmers

U.S. farmers will depend on the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) to protect more than $2 billion of 1978 crop investments, including a record number of Texas farmers.

"More farmers are participating in our program than ever before," noted Ben A. Jordan, Jr., Director of FCIC's Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma region. "We expect a liability of some $75 million in this region."

The Federal Crop Insurance program is designed to protect the money a grower has invested in a crop. In case his crop is destroyed, he will at least get back what he put into the crop. With production costs what they are, that's a management tool not many farmers can ignore," Jordan explained. "Also many financial institutions are emphasizing our program as a means of strengthening collateral needs since it gives cash value to a growing crop before the crop is harvested."

With this increased interest in Federal Crop Insurance we are doing all we can to make improvements in our program that will benefit the producer.

Comedy To Highlight 1978 Ice Capades

"It's comic time at the all new Ice Capades in Amarillo."

There's comedy to tickle everyone's fancy, belly laughs galore—even more. It's in the latest "Just For You" edition of Ice Capades, appearing at the Amarillo Civic Center on Wednesday, April 5 and 6 delightful performances through Sunday, April 9.

Tickets are priced at $4.00, $5.00, $5.50 and $6.00. There are special discount prices for youths, 16 and under. West Texas youngsters can enjoy the comedy and beauty of Ice Capades for a $1.00 discount off the regular prices on the Thursday night performance and Saturday and Sunday afternoon matinees. Tickets are on sale at the Amarillo Civic Center Box Office and at Sears in Amarillo, and can also be ordered by mail by writing to P.O. Box 1971, Amarillo, Texas 79196.

Come on along and get that happy feeling when the incredible Freddie Trenkler, the one and only "bouncing ball of the ice" does his comic capers. Freddie's a veteran performer, a loveable pixie of fun.

In Ice Capades, even the bears have birthdays. Scooby Doo, Quick

Draw McGraw, Huckleberry Hound and hosts of other cartoon characters join in a party for Yogi Bear in "HAPPY BIRTHDAY, YOGI BEAR!" Wally Gators do their famous Gator Glide and teeny tiny chefs cook up more than just a surprise birthday cake for Yogi.

Zany Jean-Pierre was a member of his family's bicycle troupe when he became fascinated with ice skating and clowns. Jean-Pierre decided he just couldn't cut the ice by just pedalling around on top of it, so being young, agile and industrious he started skating just for laughs. Jolly jester Jean-Pierre marks his third year with Ice Capades as a solo comedian. And, when you see him, you'll know why he wouldn't have it any other way.

It's really a flip when astounding juggler Bob Welz premieres this season in Ice Capades. He says it's a toss-up for him, that is to say, innovative comedy, juggling and skating at the same time.

Don't miss the brilliant skating and hilarious comedy at Ice Capades. We'll make all your dreams come true, and it's "JUST FOR YOU!"

Hereford Rites Slated For Dr. R.R. Wills

R.R. Wills, 76, who with two associates opened the Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic more than 30 years ago, died shortly before 11 a.m. Wednesday at his residence at 311 Lawton in Hereford. Dr. Wills, a physician for 50 years before he retired last August from a part-time practice at the clinic, was pronounced dead at the scene Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson, who said death was the result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Drs. L.B. Barnett, Millard Nobles and Wills were responsible for the construction of the Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic. In the late 1960's and early 1970's Dr. Wills practiced in both Vega and Hereford.

Dr. Wills later left the Vega office to work two days a week at the Hereford clinic, a situation he once called "semi-retirement."

Dr. Wills moved to Hereford in 1929, stayed seven months, then came to Friona. He returned to Hereford in 1935 and, except for periods spent in various medical schools, stayed until his death.

He was the physician for Santa Fe Railroad in Hereford for several years. During World War II, he purchased Hereford's first X-ray machine.

"I couldn't begin to tell you how many people in Hereford I've delivered," Dr. Wills said during an interview last year with The Hereford Brand. "There's a lot of them. I see people on the street that I delivered and THEY have kids. What does it mean? It makes me feel old."

Dr. Wills is a past president of the Hereford Lions Club.

Funeral services for Dr. Wills are scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday at First United Methodist Church, with The Rev. William D. McReynolds officiating.

Burial will follow in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Survivors include a son, J.B. Wills of San Pedro, Calif.; a brother, Edwin of Fort Worth; and a sister, Mrs. Mary Nix of Dallas.

April 1 Is Automobile Deadline

Don't plan to wait until April 1 to obtain your 1978-79 motor vehicle registration validation sticker. If you do, you may wind up paying a fine for driving with an expired license.

Bob Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, pointed out today that many county tax offices will be closed on April 1 since that day falls on Saturday this year. In some counties registrations will not be obtainable from Friday, March 31, to Monday, April 3.

Townsley has advised all county tax assessors-collectors that "there is no authority in law for anyone to grant extensions." Whether or not they keep their offices open on Saturday, April 1, is up to them, Townsley said.

The deadline for having validation stickers on vehicle license plates is midnight, falling between April 1 and 2. Local peace officers may arrest any motorist driving with an expired validation sticker on April 2.

At Home In Parmer County

Laura Jacobs

For energy-efficient home food preservation, older methods, such as home canning and drying, leave freezing "out in the cold."

Food preserving by freezing is an "extravagance" energy-wise, although it is probably the quickest and easiest method.

For example, it takes more energy to keep corn frozen longer than 22 days than it would to process it in a can.

Also, keeping a one-pound package of corn frozen for a year uses 17 times more energy than it does to manufacture a can to put it in.

For consumers interested in more energy-efficient methods of preserving foods, think about a return to older methods, such as canning and drying.

Home canning requires energy to process a product, but it uses little or no energy during storage.

Also, home canning efficiency increases when the water-bath or pressure canner is filled to capacity during processing.

In addition, drying can be an energy-efficient means of preservation, even though the process is limited to a smaller variety of food items.

Dried foods use no energy during shelf storage.

Although freezing will continue as a popular means of food preservation, it is "energy wise" to use frozen foods and home freezers judiciously.

What is a "Forum"? The dictionary defines it as "...an assembly for the discussion of public matters or current question." Each year, the state's 4-H adult volunteer leaders sponsor their forum at the Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood.

"This year, the Texas 4-H leader forum will begin with registration on Friday, April 7 at 10:30 a.m. and end with lunch at noon on Sunday, April 9," notes Laura Jacobs, assistant county extension agent-home economics. During this weekend forum 4-H leaders from all parts of the state will participate in assemblies, small seminars, ceremonies, swap shops, meals and recreation.

"The theme of the forum this year is 'Back To The Basics in 4-H,'" Miss Jacobs adds, "and the featured speaker is Dr. Pete Williams, Oklahoma extension service assistant director for 4-H and special projects. In addition, 4-H members, leaders, agents, and other resource persons will discuss and demonstrate some of the latest publications, films, and ideas related to adult leader work with 4-H youth."

For registration forms and additional information contact the County Extension Office located on the second floor, Courthouse, Farwell, Texas, or call 481-3619.

Town Talk

By June Floyd

Phone 247-3681 With Your News Item

Someone has described the three stages in the life of a man as follows: (1) School tablet, (2) Aspirin tablet, and (3) Stone tablet.

His explanation went like this: "The pessimist might condense those three stages into (1) Studying, (2) Suffering, and (3) Succumbing."

The cynic would describe life as (1) Listening, (2) Lamenting, and (3) Succumbing.

How much more there is to life. It is learning eagerly, loving joyously, and living everlastingly.

The abundant, faith-filled life is composed of enjoyment, enrichment and involvement.

Life is given to us not to be a burden, but a blessing; not a series of complaints, but a source of celebration.

Life is a sacred trust, a cheerful stewardship, a priceless opportunity and a unique responsibility for service to God and to our fellowman.

Life is more than three tablets that end with an epitaph on a tombstone. Life is a joyous process of growing, giving and gratitude."

Friona Artist Enjoys Work With Youngsters

By JAN U. TURNER

"I may never be rich, but I'm famous because nearly every kid in town knows who I am," chuckled Joy Lindeman, an elementary school art teacher here in Friona.

At 41, the attractive brunette schoolteacher is an artist in her own right, and this summer is planning to have her own showing in the Dallas area.

Her medium is unique. Last summer she taught herself to do off-loom weaving on large circular hoops for decorative wall hangings and almost immediately began selling them.

"I call it my finger weaving.... other people call it off-loom weaving because it isn't done on a loom," she explained, describing her hangings. "They have an Indian influence which is very prominent in decorating now."

During the month of January, several of Mrs. Lindeman's weavings hung in the window display in Friona's newest shop, "The Flower Box."

Two of Mrs. Lindeman's weavings were custom made for a condominium in Ruidosa through a decorator friend of hers who works at Sherwin-Williams in Hereford and who has asked her to do one for a condominium at Angel Fire. "She has made arrangements, also, to hang some of her weavings in the window of a decorator shop in Clovis as soon as she gets caught up making enough for her art showing as well as keeping the Flower Box stocked.

Tickled and a little surprised at her success, Mrs. Lindeman related, "A friend of mine came up to me one morning at church and said, 'Joy! I didn't know those were yours. I just bought one at Taos, and I'd much rather have had one of yours!'"

As for the source of her weaving ideas, she commented, "I make nothing like I see in a book, but books...I've always loved books. That's where so many of my ideas come from, and I don't know if my mind has always worked that way, but college really trained it in a more creative vein to be able to look at something and say, 'Well, I could do this different, or that different!... outshoots from that.'"

Because she married early, Mrs. Lindeman did not begin her college training until she was 31, and she attended WTSU with a major in education and minors in art and math. "Tom Jarboe thinks that's wierd...." she laughed.

"The first time I was exposed to art was in college and I was 31 years old...isn't that ridiculous?!" she exclaimed.

"I married Homer when I was 16, and I never in my wildest dreams thought I would go to college," she declared, adding, "Two years ago I wouldn't have dreamed I would be doing what I'm doing. Teaching school, yes. But the weavings have been a thing that has evolved. This has really been great for me," she said.

"One rule I have at school that the kids hate, and I mean they hate it, is if you make a mistake you can't turn it over and start over, you have to correct your mistake the best you can whether it looks like you thought it would or not," she explained. "That's how one of my instructors was at school, and some of my biggest mistakes turned out to be my largest asset. She would help me by showing me what to do with my mistake and how to incorporate it into my painting or whatever...I try to do that with the kids and I think that really helps their creativeness."

"A lot of times I don't even know what I'm going to do when I start, and I'll leave a space open where I can put beads, shells, feathers, or bells," she said.

Many times, Mrs. Lindeman works on her wall hangings while waiting for her students to get to a point during class where she can help them.

"In art you have to give instructions and then have a few minutes of time for them to work on it before you go around and comment or give instructions and extra help," she explained. "I have ten, maybe fifteen minutes in each group during which I work on the looms. Each week in the lower grades I have a new unit of study, so it depends on the unit of study we have," she added.

Weaving is taught in her classes. "It's fun. And it's easy. Find you a first grader who did paper weaving and they'll tell you it is," she grinned. "They all loved it, and all they did was weave two pieces of paper, but that's the beginning and by the time they're in the fourth grade they're good and they're beginning to imagine 'what can I do?' and 'how can I do it?'" she explained.

"I really encourage them whether their work is very good or not," she pointed out. "I want them to think that they've tried hard and that they can try a little harder and it will improve, and that I can appreciate what they're doing," she said.

Laughing aloud, she leaned forward and related, "One day I instructed the class to paint a picture of 'The Hairy Thing'. And it was darling! There were some of the cutest things you've ever laid your eyes on!"

"Another time I said, 'You are to paint a picture of the ugliest person and the meanest dog you've ever seen....a lot of children have been bitten by dogs and they've got that down pat, let me tell you!' she grinned. "And what's so fun about it....they'll sit there and giggle to themselves while they're doing it....it's fun!"

"Teaching art is really emotionally satisfying," she said with a smile, "and since I've had the training I can detect emotional and mental disorders, maturity levels, many things with drawings that I never ever would have thought....I can usually tell if a child is having a problem before anyone else if I have them in art."

She continued, "In this class I took, 'Art for Elementary Children'....well, for instance, parts of the body are more prominent at different age levels, and so are refinements of the drawings at different age levels. When kids first start drawing, their sky is way up at the top about an inch wide and their ground is about an inch wide down here," she indicated.

"As they mature, some at an earlier age than others, then at about age 8 to 10 those two lines will meet...you know, the horizon line," she explained bringing her hands together to indicate the coming together of the sky and the ground in an imaginary drawing.

"Do you realize that children in the first grade do not think about all the important parts of their body?" she queried. "Like they leave off the hair. For each thing on this little scale that a child puts on a person in a painting or leaves off...it depends...but by the first grade a child should have something that you can tell on the face is the eyes, nose and mouth, and the hair on, and if they're very mature for first grade they'll have ears," she explained.

"They may not have all the refined parts like the hands and fingers, but they should have a body, two arms and two legs, and the scale gives points for each one of those in establishing maturity levels," she said.

"A lot of the kids are good, but art is like piano or writing...you can be creative with it or you can be trained in it," she pointed out. "There is opportunity every single day that they're in my class for them to initiate creativity on their own."

"There is one little girl, when we did the meanest dog picture, whose dog had ahold of her skirttail! I thought...how many times that has happened, but how few children think about it even when they're weaving and has been selling some of her creations around Texas and New Mexico. She will have a showing of her works in Dallas this summer.

being chased by one!" she said. "A lot of times she'll come to me and say, 'Mrs. Lindeman, I want to make this running and I can't make her leg move up. How do you do that?'"

"That's what makes teaching art to children neat. I'm telling you, it does!"

"And you know, that's a lot to give up for money because you don't have that really unique relationship with other adults because they conceal themselves and hide behind masks. Children don't play the games adults do."

Regardless of her weaving success, she intends to remain a teacher. "There are days when I swear I'll never go back as long as I live," she laughed, "but I like to teach school."

"Like I said," she beamed, "It's a lot more fun to talk about my kids because they all really have accomplishments in their own right, and the areas where they have excelled are real different and I'm equally as proud of each one of them."

Then she added, "If I were to retire and do weaving exclusively it would really have to benefit me financially to make up for what I would be missing emotionally. Really, my job is satisfying. I feel like I'm doing my good for humanity. Everyone has to make their mark somewhere, and teaching is my mark."

Linda Hamilton, Douglas Williams Exchange Vows In Local Church

Public Library Week Set Here

April 2 through April 8 is National Public Library Week, during which the Friona Public Library will have an open house and a contest for children grades 1-8, according to Librarian Mary Ford.

The contest, a word scramble, will be in four different groups, such as grades 1-2, grades 3-4, etc., and will be timed at the library. The fastest with the most correct words will be the winners in the four groups.

Winners will each receive a $2 bill. Interested persons should see Mrs. Ford at the library Tuesday, April 4-Saturday, April 8. The library is closed on Monday.

An open house will be held at the library Wednesday, April 5 at 10 a.m. and again at 3 p.m. Hostesses Mrs. Mary Moseley and Mrs. Billie Fairchild will serve coffee and donuts.

Linda Diane Hamilton of Canyon and Douglas Lloyd Williams, also of Canyon, exchanged wedding vows at 10 a.m. Saturday, March 18.

The wedding ceremony was performed in Friona's Calvary Baptist Church by Bro. Ron Trusler of Hillcrest Baptist Church of Amarillo. He is a former pastor of the local church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Hamilton of Friona. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Walsenburg, Colorado.

The arch was covered with English Ivy and two large baskets of apricot gladiolus, carnations, daisies and baby's breath. Family pews were marked with apricot bows.

Harold Taylor of Friona, vocalist, sang "It's A Beautiful Thing," as the grandparents and parents were escorted to their pews. A guitar selection titled "Sunrise-Sunset" was played by Miss Pal Tidenberg of Nairobi, Kenya. Mrs. David Brown accompanied on the organ.

As the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she was attired in a wedding gown designed and made by her mother. The dress was a "Turn-of-the-Century" white eyelet embroidery and lace, featuring a wide Venice lace panel down the front to the deep ruffle, which was bordered on the top and lower edge with embroidered lace. The high neckline and wide cuffs on the full sleeves were also bordered in the wide lace. Her waistline was encircled with a band of cotton lace and apricot satin ribbon entwined.

Her picture hat was designed by the bride, was hand applied Venice lace identical to that of the dress panel and the crown band was the same as the waistband.

She carried a bouquet of apricot roses, daisies and baby's breath encircling white gardenias.

Of sentimental significance was the cameo brooch which was worn by her mother in her wedding. For something old the bride wore a pearl and ruby lavalier which was a gift from her great aunt, Miss Emma Parrish of Windom, Texas, and in turn had been a gift of her parents in the 1930's. She wore the traditional blue garter and her dress was something new.

Janice Hayes of Canyon served as matron of honor.

Groomsmen were Charles, Raymond and Alan Hamilton, all brothers of the bride from Friona and Darrel Williams of Walsenburg, Colorado, brother of the groom.

Randy McElreath of Dodge City, Kansas was the best man.

The matron of honor wore an apricot dotted Swiss dress trimmed in white eyelet and lace in a similar design as the bride's dress. She carried a nosegay of apricot carnations and daisies.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

Mrs. Danny Simpson of Canyon presided at the guest register.

The bride's table was covered in white knit satin with a lace overlay. The front lace swags were tied with white wedding bells and lace bows. A bouquet of roses, daisies and baby's breath in a silver and crystal compote centered the bride's table.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with apricot daisies and hearts and topped with wedding bells and lace. The other appointments were crystal.

The groom's table was covered in apricot polyester with a nylon net overlay and net bows at the corners. The table held the silver coffee service and the German chocolate cake.

Serving from the bride's table were Miss Pal Tidenberg of Nairobi, Kenya, Miss Sheila Hardee of Colorado City, both roommates of the bride at WTSU and Miss Susan Blasingame, cousin of the bride from Abilene.

Serving from the groom's table were Mrs. Elby Sneller of Wiley, Colorado and Miss Dianne Williams of Salsenburg, both sisters of the groom.

The registration table was covered with white satin and lace and held the memory candle with the couple's picture and wedding invitation made into it.

For her wedding trip the bride wore an apricot giana blouse and skirt and the gardenia corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 100-20th St., Apt. C in Canyon.

Out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, parents of the groom, Darrel Williams, brother of the groom, and Dianne Williams, sister of the groom, all of Walsenburg, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Williams of Rocky Ford, Colorado, brother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Elby Sneller, Melissa and R.J. of Wiley, Colorado, sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, grandparents of the groom from La Vita, Colorado.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weimer, Denese Weimer of Wiley, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Gene McElreath of Monte Vista, Colorado; Randy McElreath of Dodge City, Kansas; Brady Yearly of Perryton; Brad Churchill, Valentine, Nebraska; Pal Tidenberg of Nairobi, Kenya; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hodges of Dumas; Susan Blasingame of Abilene.

Also, Mrs. Leslie Hamilton, Mrs. Geneva Killian, Mrs. Lodena Blasingame, Sheila Hardee, Brenda Barker, all of Colorado City, Texas; Brother and Mrs. Ron Trusler, Mr. and Mrs. James Harkins, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Duke and children, all of Amarillo; Mrs.

J.W. Hamilton, Mrs. Ronnie Hamilton and Rusty and Elaine Hamilton, all of Abernathy; Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. Hooks of Odessa.

Also, Mrs. Stan Chancellor and Christina of Andrews; Ms. Emmy Gognon of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faulkner and family of Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hayes and Diana of Plainview; Mrs. Clarence Calvit of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Simpson and Jeanine Jarboe of Canyon and Mrs. Linda Reznik of Missouri City, Texas.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Friona High School and is a junior student at West Texas State University, Canyon.

The bridegroom is a 1969 graduate of Walsenburg High School, a 1974 graduate of Oklahoma Farrier College in Sperry, Oklahoma and graduated in 1977 from WTSU with a degree in animal science. He is employed by the Valley View Cattle Company, Canyon.

Library Report

"The Black Marble" by Joseph Wambaugh is available at Friona Public Library.

Joseph Wambaugh presents a major surprise: a novel in which crime is secondary to love, and dogs are sometimes more important than people. For here is the strange world of dog shows, the stranger story of a dognapping extortion scheme, and, right in the middle of it all, the most unusual of love stories.

It is a marvelously varied picture of Southern California life, inside and out of show rings, country clubs, and police divisions.

Here is a detective sergeant who turns sometimes to the warmth and beauty of the Russian Orthodox Cathedral and to the warmth and solace of Russian vodka.

The funny and moving, the caustic and the savage, the realistic and the tragic are skillfully woven in this novel.

Sr. Citizens Set Meeting

On March 31

Friona's Senior Citizens will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday, March 31 at the Union Congregational Church.

The devotional will be given by Rev. C.H. Murphy. A mini-concert will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Merv Noah.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. Everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

If fuel costs are squeezing the profit out of your corn crop, plant

The Cost Cutter

Less Irrigation Cost — Lower Harvest Costs Because of Lower Moisture — Less Drying Cost

Pioneer brand 3780 can cut your costs to improve corn profits in four ways —

★ Less Irrigation Cost — 3780 needs less total water than commonly grown corns because it grows off fast. And because of its early water use, 3780 uses early-season rainfall more efficiently than other corns or crops.

★ Less Harvest & Hauling Cost — Fast drydown with good standability and ear retention lets 3780 dry in the field — you harvest and haul less moisture from the field.

★ Less Dockage — Less water hauled from the field means less dockage or drying expense.

★ Lower Potential Weather and Insect Loss — Because of its rapid growth feature and fast drydown, 3780 is ready for harvest well ahead of commonly grown corns. Fewer days in the field mean less exposure to potential bad weather and late-season insect problems.

MORE NET INCOME PER ACRE

High Plains farmers have consistently found 3780 producing more net income per acre than competitive corns of later maturity . . . even though the green weight of later maturing corns may have been more.

With 3780, you don't take big cuts in yield like you might expect. In fact, in 96 tests under many conditions in the past four years, 3780 has averaged 7,817 pounds per acre. Few farmers will boast of a higher four-year-average, dry-corn yield than this.

Yields like you'd expect from corn with input costs similar to grain sorghum . . . that adds up to more net income per acre.

3780 — 96 High Plains tests — 4-year average — 7,817 lbs./A.

Here's How 3780 Performed For 5 Area Farmers in 1977

Helmuth Quebe — Plainview
Planting date: April 11
Harvest date: August 20
Results: 8,200 lbs./A. at 15.0% moisture, pre-water plus three waterings; outyielded later maturing competitive corn by 600 lbs./A.
His comment: "I like 3780 because of its early maturity."

R. E. Lance — Hereford
Planting date: April 20
Harvest date: September 25
Results: 6,500 lbs./A. at 19% moisture, watered 3 times.
His comment: "3780 did as good as I thought it would."

Don Ott — Dimmitt
Planting date: April 27
Harvest date: September 10
Results: 8,590 lbs./A. at 19% moisture, watered 5 times.
His comment: "3780 had a very good yield for a fast maturing variety."

Vernon Jackson — Stratford
Planting time: April 7
Harvest date: August 5
Results: 8,680 lbs./A. at 16.5% moisture, watered 5 times. Popular competitive variety in same field planted earlier, received 1 additional watering, yielded less, and was harvested 12 days later at 24.5% moisture.

J. L. Francis — Kress
Planting date: June 2
Harvest date: October 20
Results: 7,100 lbs./A. at 14% moisture, watered 5 times.
His comment: "My 3780 was planted after a hail and I was really satisfied with the results."

Sorghum Farmer's Corn

3780 yields well with management similar to sorghum. And since it reaches peak water demand 4 to 6 weeks earlier than sorghum and up to 2 weeks earlier than later maturing corn hybrids, it can take advantage of early-season rainfall and avoid later-season water shortages. Your Pioneer seed dealer has a brochure that tells the whole story. See him soon!
