COMMON MARKET France Again Blackballs British Entry

BRUSSELS (AP) — France again blackballed British membership in the European Common Market today.

Foreign Minister Michel Debre told his five colleagues at a meeting of the European Economic Community's ministerial council that France rejected a West German plan to include Britain and other applicants.

Debre said the French conclusions of December, 1967, had not been modified, that France still considered the British economy could not permit entry in the common market.

Earlier, West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt unfolded the West German plan to develop and enlarge the six-member community by including Britain, Denmark, Ireland and Norway.

NEAR LAMESA

None Seriously Hurt In Bus Mishap

LAMESA (AP) — A chartered bus en route to Phoenix, Ariz., from Miami, Fla., struck a gravel pile at a road construction site near here Thursday and injured 21 persons, highway officials said.

All but two were treated and released at a Lamesa hospital, officers said.

Mrs. Carmel Gordon of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Lyuna Stewart, Ajo, Ariz., were hospitalized Thursday night at Medical Arts Hospital here and were released Friday morning.

Bus driver Frank Burt Loy, Tempe, Ariz., said his vision was obscured by dust when the right front wheel of the bus struck a gravel pile, according to highway patrolmen who investigated the accident.

"Passengers were jostled about quite a bit," an officer said.

The bus was one of two chartered buses returning to their home after having attended an Odd Fellows-Rebekahs meeting in Miami, Loy said.

It was dust caused by the leading bus that obscured vision for the second bus, Loy said.

The buses were about 27 miles east of here on US 180 when the accident occurred, officials said.

Torrential Rains

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A wet tropical depression dumped torrential rains on southern Florida today while Tropical Storm Frances was born halfway between Cape Kennedy and Bermuda.

Seven inches of rain flooded Miami Shores. Three high school football games were washed out. Downpours left car-drowning puddles throughout the greater Miami area.

Frances, sixth tropical storm of the season, was near Latitude 35.0 North and Longitude 65.5 West or some 200 miles north of Bermuda, moving toward the northeast at 12 miles per hour.

Highest winds were estimated at 50 m.p.h. near the center. Gales extended 125 miles from the center.

Three In Family Die

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A mother collapsed and died at the funeral of her two sons Thursday. All died of heart attacks.

The sequence of deaths began last Saturday when Peter Tritz, 38, suffered a heart attack at his home and died on the way to a hospital. His brother, George, 45, went to the hospital to console Peter's widow. There he collapsed and died.

Thursday, after attending a double mass for her sons, Mrs. Anna Tritz, 69, a widow, was driven to the cemetery. She collapsed and died as the caskets were being taken from a hearse.

More Food Donated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 1.7 billion pounds of food were donated to needy families, institutions and school children in 1967-68 compared with 1.4 billion pounds the year before, the Agriculture Department reports.

Cost of food for the year ended June 30 was about $368 million, compared with $247 million the year before, the department said.

The food is supplied by the department to states for distribution to schools, institutions and needy families. It does not include participation in the food stamp program, which allows recipients to use coupons to participating stores.

Conference

President Johnson confers with James Russell Wiggins last night in the White House Cabinet Room.

Newsman Named To U.N. Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Washington Post editor J. R. Wiggins, a strong supporter of his Vietnam policies, to fill in as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in the waning weeks of his administration.

BALL QUIT

Wiggins replaces veteran diplomat George W. Ball who quit Thursday to join the campaign team of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Ball bowed out after only five months at the U.N. Wiggins is expected to serve only the four months until a new president chooses his own envoy next January.

Wiggins, 64, who rose from a job on a country weekly in Minnesota to guide The Washington Post as managing editor and editor the last two decades, is largely an unknown quantity in world affairs without previous experience in foreign diplomacy. But Johnson praised his judgment, his understanding and his human compassion.

Wiggins was described by his newspaper today as "a staunch supporter of the administration's position on the Vietnam war." He retired as editor and executive vice president immediately upon accepting the U.N. appointment.

The new ambassador flew to Washington from his summer home in Maine to meet with Johnson at the White House Thursday night. Wiggins said, "I had a presidential commission once before—in the United States Army Air Corps. I'm accepting this one in the same spirit."

STRESSED

Johnson stressed that Ball was resigning because of domestic politics, not because of any break over foreign policy.

Ball told a State Department news conference the next president must have "settled principles and clear vision." He said Humphrey is such a man and Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon is not.

Nixon Says Wallace 'Used' By Humphrey

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon accused Vice President Hubert Humphrey today of trying to use former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama to defeat Nixon in the South.

Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, told a plane-side news conference in Louisville, Ky., before flying here, that he will not join in any nationally televised debate which includes Wallace.

Congress is considering a measure which would relax the equal time laws for political candidates to permit a three-way debate. Humphrey has said he would participate.

Mercy Plane Dive Kills Auto Victim

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — A young auto accident victim died early today after the plane rushing him to a hospital crashed shortly after takeoff.

The victim was Gary Edward Selby, 21, of Boswell.

Selby was being flown to Oklahoma City after being critically injured in a car-truck collision west of Hugo on US 70.

Witnesses said the plane climbed to an estimated 300 feet when the engine began to sputter. They said the plane first turned left then right before crashing about a half mile away.

Hubert Blasts Nixon For Refusing To Debate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey accused Richard M. Nixon today of "lack of respect for the intelligence of the American public" by balking at the idea of a round of nontelevised debates.

Before leaving San Francisco for Portland, the Democratic presidential candidate appeared on a live local television program and was about to leave the air when the moderator said he had just received a report from Kentucky that Nixon had rejected the debate idea.

Asking permission to comment, the vice president then launched into a rebuttal—part of which he addressed directly to Nixon.

For example, Humphrey said that if the Republican presidential nominee would not debate him, "how do you think you're going to face up to leaders of other countries when their national interests are involved."

The Democratic candidate said he thought Nixon was showing "a kind of a disdain for public opinion and lack of respect for the intelligence of the American public."

The moderator of the television program quoted Nixon as saying Humphrey's latest proposal Thursday for a series of debates was "kid stuff."

Cloture Bid Filed, Dirksen Switches

WASHINGTON (AP) — A petition to cut off Senate debate on the Abe Fortas nomination was filed today after Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen delivered a heavy blow to Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., filed the petition to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule to halt a filibuster against his motion to take up the Fortas nomination for consideration.

TUESDAY

A vote is to be taken at 1 p.m. Tuesday on the petition. To cut off the debate will take a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

Dirksen, in a switch of his previous position, told newsmen he would not vote for cloture. And he left open whether he still favors confirmation of Fortas.

The petition filed by Mansfield had the signatures of 23 senators, 16 Democrats and 7 Republicans. Only 16 signers were required by the rules.

Dirksen was initially an outspoken supporter of President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

And although Dirksen voted with the majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee in approving the nomination, he said there was "a strict understanding in the committee that the vote did not bind anybody."

2-15 For Murder

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Huey Newton, leader of the Black Panthers, was sentenced to two to 15 years in prison today for slaying a white policeman last October.

Word that Dirksen will not vote to put the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule into effect brought from Majority Leader Mansfield the reaction that "it sure as hell will" make it more difficult to break a filibuster by opponents.

Dirksen, who is from Illinois, did not sign the cloture petition.

'FALSE, UNTRUE'

Wallace Romance With Shapely Blonde Denied

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A spokesman for George Wallace has denied any romantic link between the third party presidential candidate and a curvaceous blonde who has appeared with his campaign party and says she is willing to marry him.

'SEEING HER'

The spokesman said Thursday that the former Alabama governor's knowledge of the girl, Ja-Neen Welch, had been limited to "seeing her a couple of times on an airplane" and added she had been dismissed from the tour.

Wallace's headquarters said reports of such a romance were "false, untrue," and an attempt to damage Wallace's presidential campaign.

Miss Welch prompted the denial when she told an interviewer "I wouldn't object to being the next Mrs. Wallace."

Richard Smith, campaign treasurer for Wallace, said Ja-Neen had made campaign trips as a Wallace Girl Volunteer but would no longer be part of the troupe. "You can bet on that."

In Indianapolis, where she runs an advertising and publicity agency, Miss Welch said Smith's statement "does not change my feelings toward the governor. I'm still very much in love with him."

Ja-Neen, who says she was born in Columbus, Ohio, and that "people usually use 26 as my age," said she met Wallace in Chicago three months ago and plans to see him again next week in Montgomery or Indianapolis.

Wallace's wife, Lurleen, died of cancer last May 7 after she had succeeded him as governor.

Of their Chicago meeting, Miss Welch recalled, "I have extrasensory perception and I predicted that he would be elected president and that I would be there when he took the oath of office."

Wallace's headquarters said reports of such a romance were "false, untrue," and an attempt to damage Wallace's presidential campaign.

Miss Welch prompted the denial when she told an interviewer "I wouldn't object to being the next Mrs. Wallace."

Richard Smith, campaign treasurer for Wallace, said Ja-Neen had made campaign trips as a Wallace Girl Volunteer but would no longer be part of the troupe. "You can bet on that."

In Indianapolis, where she runs an advertising and publicity agency, Miss Welch said Smith's statement "does not change my feelings toward the governor. I'm still very much in love with him."

Ja-Neen, who says she was born in Columbus, Ohio, and that "people usually use 26 as my age," said she met Wallace telling reporters that he felt it was "essentially their (the Democrats) problem."

Dirksen's support of the Fortas nomination has been in the face of strong opposition within Republican ranks, led by Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

To cut off a filibuster against Mansfield's motion to take up the nomination for consideration will take a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

Even before Dirksen switched his position and said he would not vote for cloture, Mansfield had said it would be difficult to get the required margin.

Dirksen said he felt "duty bound not to vote for cloture," adding that "I gave the nominee a vote in committee."

An opponent of the nomination on resumption of debate today called for President Johnson to withdraw the nomination and for Fortas to resign from his present position as associate justice on the high court, which he has held since 1965.

"The stature of the court has been demeaned already by the monumentally poor judgment displayed by the President of the United States and by Justice Fortas since his ascension to a seat on the Supreme Court," Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., said in a prepared speech.

Support Growing For Summit Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Support grew among lesser members of the United Nations today for a Big Four summit meeting proposed by Secretary-General U. Thant in an effort to reduce East-West tensions and lessen the threat of nuclear war.

But there was no immediate reaction from the Big Four—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—to Thant's suggestion that their foreign ministers meet during the current U.N. General Assembly to pave the way for the top-level talks.

Thant in his annual report of the assembly Thursday night accused both the United States and the Soviet Union of resorting to strong arm methods when they felt their security threatened.

Many of the smaller U.N. member countries agreed with these words by Thant: "In reality, the two super powers hold the master key to peace in the world. Little wars, or wars by little states, can be contained so long as the super powers do not pose a threat of the big, the nuclear, the ultimate war."

"In the final analysis, there can be no solid foundation for peace in the world so long as the super powers insist on taking unilateral military action whenever they claim to see a threat to their security."

OFFER CHANCE

Thant said the presence of U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and French Foreign Minister Michel Debre at the assembly provided a chance for them to discuss outstanding issues. All are expected within 10 days.

RACIALLY TINGED DISORDERS

Thousands Are Missing Classes

By The Associated Press

Thousands of pupils in schools across the country are missing instruction because of racially tinged disorders which have disrupted classes.

In Boston, young Negroes in the Roxbury slum section have been on a rampage of beatings, robberies and looting that have reached into private homes.

DEATH

The disorders which have brought one death, injury to 36 persons including 14 policemen and scores of arrests, began after Negro high school students were refused permission Monday to wear African native dress to classes.

Thursday a husband and wife were beaten in their home, a man was robbed of $150 in daylight on the street, and firemen were made the targets of stones and bottles.

In Seattle, the city's troubled Washington Junior High School may re-open Monday with a security task force of parents and community workers.

The school had been the scene of three days of thefts, beatings and classroom terror when Supt. Forbes Bottomly ordered it closed for the week on Wednesday afternoon.

New York Mayor John V.

Lindsay said today he expected the city's public schools to be open Monday for 11 million pupils after a 10-day teacher strike that has racial overtones.

The largely white teachers' union is pitted against predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican forces seeking total community control of local schools including the power to hire and fire teachers.

But Albert Shanker, head of the union, said only that a Monday opening was possible providing that outstanding issues in a peace settlement could be agreed on.

Gang Sets Car Afire

In New Jersey racial problems led to student boycotts at three high schools including Trenton High School where two-thirds of the students did not report to classes Thursday.

It was the fourth shutdown of the school in the last nine months. This time the trouble stemmed from a boycott by several hundred white students protesting alleged assaults by Negro students.

Pittsburgh School Supt. Bernard J. McCormick says he won't back down to threats of a band of Negro students who, he said, barged into his office Thursday and demanded curriculum changes.

PROTESTS

In Elmira, N.Y., the high school has been temporarily closed after four days of protests and counterprotests by Negro and white pupils. The school is predominantly white.

Kenneth S. Weaver, the principal, said classes would not meet until after a student assembly Monday to discuss means of alleviating tensions over Negro student representation on class councils.

'NO CURTSYING—HARDLY ANY HAND KISSING'

'Conservative' Charity Ball Climaxes Visit Of Royalty To Texas HemisFair

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP News/Photo Writer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A society that honors wealth but is afraid to be caught having fun, as this town once was described, has been inspired by royalty to have a whirl at it. But the ball Thursday night ended abruptly, even before the music started, thanks to a Texas liquor law which forbids sales of beverages after midnight. Because nobody wanted to dance without champagne, everybody went home.

Nevertheless the party climaxed the two-day visit of their serene highnesses the Prince and Princess of Monaco went down in its 250-year history as its most dazzling social event.

By Eastern standards the event was conservative. There were few false eyelashes, no daring décolletage and nary a man in a turtleneck with a jangling necklace.

"No one is competing here trying to look better than the other one," explained Mrs. Irving Mathew, who spends some partying time each year in New York. As for herself, the wife of the Frost Brothers Store president courageously wore white feather-trimmed jumpsuit and tunic.

While a few glittered in beads, most women wore simple silks and brocades and—like emerald-laden Mrs. H. B. Zachry, wife of HemisFair's chief executive officer—depended on their beauties for fashion interest. Although M. Abbe Shunk wore a silver brocade jacket and bow tie, he carried a spare black tie in his pocket just in case he felt out of place in the sea of tuxedos.

"Most of us are too busy for ostentation," commented oil man Ralph Rowden. "Maybe some day, but we're too young yet."

The town's elite had been busy two days partying the Hollywood star with the fairy tale marriage as if she were a true Lone Star State daughter. The charity gala climaxed the events at $50 a ticket benefitted the Texas Association for Retarded Children.

More money was raised than expected, partly because Prince Rainier made a generous personal donation, the association's chairman Paul Herder announced.

Count Charles de Chambrun, French high commissioner to HemisFair who arranged the royal visit, has a similar charity interest in France.

Despite all the French accent, the event was Texas-American with little or no protocol. If the 500 guests thought making the exclusive list would insure meeting their serene highnesses, they were to be disappointed.

The receiving line was abandoned in favor of a few personal introductions by Count de Chambrun. There was no curtsying and hardly any hand kissing.

The count's dinner partner was Texas' first lady, Mrs. John Connally who said, "I sometimes get misty eyed." That was when she was asked whether she would miss the social activity of her husband's office after he retires as governor.

As for future plans, "it will probably take months to straighten out personal matters we've neglected for the past nine or 10 years," she said.

"John says you can buy anything you want," a friend teased her as the highlight of the evening, a French fashion show, began.

"I know better than that," Mrs. Connally smiled.

A Texas charity ball is a man's world. Even the fashion shows tend to titillate the males more than the women, even though the model with the see-through dress cheated by wearing flesh-colored underpinnings.

Generally the gentlemen poked fun at the city pants-and-belt on the forehead worn by the Yves Saint Laurent model, or whistled at the fluttery misses in ostrich plumes, or made admiring remarks about the figure-clinging one-shoulder crepes inappropriately given the names of Texas towns.

This was the first time Princess Grace had agreed to travel with a group, Jean Claude Hamelin, a public relations counsel for the French visitors, told friends at his table.

Among those who came on the trip just for the fun of it were French millionaire Paul Louis Weiller and Andre D. Rouveix, widower of onetime French cinema celebrity Martene Carol.

The biggest success with the ladies was a charming bachelor prince, Egon de Furstenburg.

"The girls are simply gaga over him around here," said a hotel secretary. "I guess they figure if Princess Grace could do it, they could snag a prince."

Bright Red For Winter

This chic outfit was shown during Andre Courreges' fall-winter fashion show in Paris. The model wears a bright red woolen coat fastened with eight brass buttons. Her accessories include a brass belt, white silk scarf with navy blue dots and white boots.

Police Officer Warns Of Glue Sniffing Practices

"Elementary grade students should be warned of the dangers of glue sniffing," said Sgt. Pete Stone of the Big Spring Police Department when he was guest speaker Thursday for the Junior Woman's Forum. Sgt. Stone used the topic, "The Misuse of Drugs," when he spoke in the home of Mrs. Alton Marwitz, 3227 Cornell, to describe the hazards of sniffing glue and using various types of drugs.

Mrs. Jerry Barron presided, and Mrs. Dan Williams was elected recording secretary. Mrs. Morris Rhodes reported on the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Western District convention to be held in March, 1969, in Big Spring. The club will be responsible for tote bag souvenirs and registration.

Mrs. Fred Simpson became an associate member, and Mrs. James L. Caldwell was welcomed as a guest.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a gold cloth and centered with a fall floral arrangement. Milk glass appointments were used.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10 in the home of Mrs. Joe Horton, 3300 Cornell.

Opti-Mrs. Club To Aid 'Adopted' Boy

The Opti-Mrs. Club will contribute to the aid of an "adopted" boy at the Big Spring State Hospital. The announcement was made at Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. W. D. Broughton, 1601 East 16th. Mrs. J. W. Dickens gave the program, "The Starving Americans," a parody on dieting. Mrs. Ora Burson was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will be a salad luncheon Oct. 8, in the home of Mrs. Bill Reynolds, 1900 Baylor.

Club Makes Quilt For Needy Family

The Sew and Chatter Club worked on a quilt for a needy family at Wednesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Marvin Smith, 407 Washington. Plans were announced to decorate a room at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Christmas. Refreshments were served from a table laid with a green cloth and centered with a green and white floral arrangement. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. M. A. Cook, 1700 Johnson.

Westbrook Baptists To Send Gifts To Vietnam

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. N. J. McMahan was host to members of the JOY Sunday school class of First Baptist Church Monday. Mrs. McMahan presented the devotional thought on "The Value of Water." Mrs. W. C. Hutchins, class teacher, led prayer.

New officers are Mrs. L. B. Edwards, president; Mrs. J. K. Williamson, vice president; Mrs. W. A. Bell, secretary; Mrs. Altis Clemmer, treasurer and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hutchins, teacher; and Mrs. Edwards, associate teacher. A committee was appointed to send a Christmas package to a church member who is serving in Vietnam. The group voted to buy a book quarterly for the beginner and primary department Sunday school classes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Barber spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Harold Gainey and family in Monahan.

Maritha Oden, a student at Sul Ross, spent the weekend with her parents, the E. A. Odens.

Guests of the J. K. Williamson were the J. T. Smiths of San Angelo and the Lonnie

Salvation Army League Making Pillow Cases To Raise Funds

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army will sew pillow cases as a fund-raising project. The announcement was made by Mrs. (Capt.) Bart Deggs at Wednesday's meeting in the Citadel. The cases will sell for $1.50 per pair and may be ordered by calling Mrs. Deggs at 267-6141.

Members collected and sorted items for the "small items" sale at the Citadel Nov. 20. Winners for the collection contest were Mrs. Jimmie Moore and Mrs. Jerry Stephens.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a lace cloth and centered with an open Bible flanked by blue tapers in gold candle holders.

Mrs. Moore gave the devotion.

Council Plans Show In Highland Center

The Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Paul Guy, 705 Tucson, and completed plans for the council flower show Oct. 26 in Highland Center. Mrs. Frank B. Wilson presided, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Nov. 26 at the home of Mrs. Tom Ivey in Silver Heels.

Motion To Swap Support Outfits For Combat Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moves are under way to replace no-longer-needed rear-echelon U.S. units in Vietnam with fighting forces in an effort to strengthen combat power with out exceeding the 549,000 man ceiling imposed by President Johnson.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is reported eyeing thousands of construction troops for possible removal in a trade for fighting battalions.

This is possible because of the virtual completion of an enormous construction program in which U.S. engineers and Seabees built six new deep draft seaports, many airfields, supply complexes and other facilities over the past three years.

The swapping process first showed itself early this month when it was announced that two Hawk anti-aircraft missile battalions here being brought home from Vietnam.

The Hawks were sent to Vietnam three years ago to face possible air attacks from North Vietnam. That danger never materialized.

The announcement said the withdrawal of the two battalions, totaling some 1,400 men, would enable Abrams to increase his force effectiveness by permitting, within the current approved manpower levels, deployment of other type forces.

There are indications the two Hawk battalions will be replaced by infantry battalions, and that other Hawk anti-aircraft outfits may be returned to the United States.

About 20,000 Army engineers who have been working on roads, barracks, airstrips and similar projects are likely prospects for the same kind of treatment.

These men are separate from combat engineer units which provide direct support for infantry and other fighting outfits.

Officials indicated that the major logistics commands, established to provide a supply and maintenance underpinning for U.S. forces in an economically primitive country, will be left largely undisturbed.

TOP HEAVY

These logistics operations are backing up the South Vietnamese armies as well, and will become increasingly important as the modernization of the South Vietnamese forces begins.

More than a year ago, there were allegations that the American military establishment in Vietnam was top heavy in support troops.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, then U.S. commander in Vietnam, contended this was not so in view of the problem of building a logistics base from nothing when U.S. forces first entered the war on a large scale in 1965.

By the end of 1968, Westmoreland estimated that U.S. forces broke down into 61 per cent combat and 39 per cent service support.

The trend now set in motion to swap service support outfits for combat units should improve the ratio of fighting troops in the months ahead.

Kiwanians Take A Tour Of Skies At High School

Kiwanis Club members of Big Spring and a group of Lamesa Kiwanians lollied in drowsy comfort in softly upholstered chairs with equally comfortable headrests to watch the night skies as they are here, at the north and south poles and the equator Thursday noon.

They were guests of Big Spring High School on a demonstration visit to the planetarium at the high school.

Gary Carlson, director for the planetarium, took the Kiwanians on their celestial travels and pointed out the familiar and not so familiar constellations and celestial phenomenon encountered on the journey.

It was the first visit many of the club members had made to an installation of this nature, and the shortage of available time handicapped the completion of the demonstration.

Several of the Kiwanians stayed "after school" to ask Carlson questions and be shown other features of the flexible facility.

The club members dined in the high school cafeteria before their visit to the planetarium.

ers is making toward its completion.

Jim Thompson presented the program Thursday.

Roscoe Newell, who with Thompson and Don Lovelady have just returned from San Antonio where they attended the district Kiwanis convention for Oklahoma and Texas, said that a proposal to divide the district into two units had been defeated. A report will be made at a later meeting.

Dear Abby Bid From An Old Man

DEAR ABBY: Recently, I was a houseguest of a sorority sister in another state. Her father is a very good-looking, gray-haired man with a lovely smile and a tremendous personality. While I was there, he told me that he travels for business reasons, and if I wanted to have a good time I should meet him someplace. At first I thought he was joking, but soon enough, by other things he said and did, I knew he wasn't. I just laughed, pretending not to take him seriously, and I stayed away from him as much as possible.

Now that I am home, he has called me twice long distance, wanting to know if we can arrange a meeting. What am I going to do? I am 19 and don't want to get involved with this old married man. He says he likes my mature mind and that he wouldn't do anything I didn't want to do. Please help me.

DEAR ABBY: I am supposed to be married early this fall, but I'm not sure I can go through with it now. Recently John (my fiancé) introduced me to Roy, who is going to be best man at our wedding, and the more I see of Roy the more attracted I am to him.

Abby, I'm so mixed up I need some good sound advice from a wise outsider. Should I hope this "thing" about Roy will pass? Or should I break off with him? I could never tell John the real reason, but I get the shakes thinking about getting married to one man, and feeling this way about another.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: A girl could be making the mistake of her life to marry a man while she can still be "attracted" to another. This is a clear warning signal, meaning you aren't ready for marriage yet. Tell John you want to think about marriage a while longer. And keep thinking about it until NOBODY looks as good to you as the man you're going to marry.

DEAR ABBY: There is a very attractive middle-aged married woman in town whose husband is away a lot. This woman is frequently seen in the company of two very good-looking eligible gentlemen. The three of them are always together, and they seem to be having a very good time.

The problem: Nobody can figure out which one is the "beard."

DEAR CURIOUS: Maybe it's the woman.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Devotional For The Day

Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God. (Romans 12:2)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, renew us in heart and mind. This day grant to us the strength to live and move steadily in the current of Thy divine will. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Tiny Hope For Tax Revisions

Both the Democratic and Republican leadership on the House Ways and Means Committee are committed to a thorough review of the federal Internal Revenue Code. And the Treasury has promised to recommend comprehensive reforms in the federal tax structure for consideration by the 91st Congress convening in January.

A sweeping review may come, as in 1954, but don't bet on major reforms. An overhauling of the federal tax laws has been vainly awaited since President Truman's great and losing battles on that issue with the 80th and 81st Congresses.

President Kennedy tried hard for federal tax revision, but had to forfeit that fight for an anti-recession tax cut which even then was not pushed through until President Johnson took over in 1964.

General reform of a government's tax structure rivals comprehensive constitutional revision as the most difficult accomplishment to get through a legislative body. Like constitutional revision, general tax reform calls out the full array of special-interest lobbies and causes them to close ranks for mutual protection. Both are powerfully resisted because of the ramified changes, some unpredictable, they would cause in the nation's economic arrangements and social forces. Too many prefer the known inequities to the unknown risks.

Against all that, there is no question but what the federal tax structure does need a major overhauling.

The only thing that general federal tax reform has going for it is the fact that the present system hits hardest the middle-income salaried families in normal circumstances, which means a large majority of the voters. But that has been the case now for two decades, and public opinion has yet to prevail over the combined pressures of the special-interest lobbies. There are no optimistic indications that the situation will be much changed in 1969 or 1970.

Significant Development

The pageantry, excitement over the unprecedented, and controversy over papal control of Pope Paul's first papal visit to Latin America overshadowed what many say may be the most significant development in that region since the wars for independence. That historic event followed in the wake of the Pope's visit, and its full significance has yet to be widely realized.

Pope Paul personally inaugurated the Second General Conference of the Latin American Episcopate, admonishing the church among other things to back social reform, stressing gradualism and nonviolence. However, the finally agreed documents of the conference, attended by 150 bishops and five cardinals, came out boldly for regional social reform and justice and warned the military and oligarchies that the Latin American church is now aligned with the nonrevolutionary forces of economic development and social progress.

That is nothing new from the Vatican's viewpoint, which is more closely attuned to Europe and North America in this respect, and the Medellin (Colombia) documents undoubtedly will have its endorsement. For 4½ centuries the Catholic church in Latin America has been teamed with the military and the privileged classes, particularly the big landowning "aristocracy," and the effect has been to preserve the status quo. In recent years growing younger elements in the church, particularly crusading priests, have been defying the weakening conservative hierarchy to take the side of the people in social, political and economic issues, to make temporal as well as spiritual matters their concern. The impact was felt in the left-center Christian Democratic parties (the church sponsored), generally welcomed as an alternative to violent revolution and communism though defiant against military coups and dictatorships.

Now come the bishops' declarations: Denouncing the Latin American "arms race" as merely means to bolster the military power structure at the expense of misery-alleviating economic development, calling for social justice and political reform now and nonviolently, and warning both the military and the oligarchies that the liberals not the conservatives now control the regional church hierarchy and are no longer interested in maintaining the status quo and will not oppose "the profound transformations that are necessary."

It is difficult in North America to imagine how profoundly that religious decision may affect the future of Latin America.

Impartiality Required

WASHINGTON — Maybe the United Nations should have a new secretary-general, or perhaps the United Nations itself should decide whether Secretary-General U Thant was acting in a "neutral" capacity when he suggested that the general assembly be asked to pass a resolution demanding the stoppage of the bombing of North Vietnam by the United States. Nowhere in Mr. Thant's recommendation did he say anything about requiring reciprocal action by the North Vietnamese in their mortar attacks on the people of South Vietnam.

WHILE GEORGE Ball, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, told newsmen that he did not think the secretary-general's discussion of Vietnam was "in any way helpful in furthering the serious and sensitive negotiations now in progress in Paris," there is no sign that the United Nations itself will do anything about it. This leaves U Thant free to make further comments which are not regarded by the United States and other countries as by any means "neutral."

MR. BALL said that the secretary-general's statement on bombing was issued without any advance consultation with the United States, and added that he did not know whether there was any previous talk by U Thant with North Vietnam. It is evident, however, that the episode has produced a very unfavorable impression not merely among the countries which lean toward the side of the United States in the Vietnam War, but even in some of the countries which have up to this time not participated in such discussions at all. What has followed is a general uneasiness over the fact that the secretary-general of the United Nations would publicly argue questions of vital importance without specific authority from the United Nations.

THE UNITED STATES, of course, is not contesting U Thant's legal right to express any opinion he desires. The U.N. charter says that the secretary-general "may bring to the attention of the security council any matter which in his opinion may threaten the maintenance of international peace and security." But nowhere in the charter is any authority given him to project the issue to the general assembly.

The real issue is whether the secretary-general himself should become an active participant. This is not the first occasion on which he has done this. He has from time to time made comments to the press on vital issues in international affairs and apparently feels that he has the unlimited privilege to do so.

BUT, WHILE the U.N. charter does authorize the secretary-general to call the attention of the security council to matters which he believes may threaten the peace, it does not, by word or implication, authorize him to take sides in a dispute between states — except at the direction of the organization itself. The moment a secretary-general becomes a partisan in such a controversy, he also raises doubts about whether he can be impartial in administering the U.N. organization.

THE OTHER SOARING AUTOMOBILE COST

Hal Boyle

She's 'Ideal Barmaid'

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain's "ideal barmaid" is visiting here to see how the lads behind the mahogany on this side of the Atlantic pour the sauce.

"THEY'RE QUICK," admitted Margaret Winfield, "but they waste a lot. With what they spill I could make another drink. If a drop goes on the floor, it's no good to anyone, is it?"

Barmaids are traditional in England, and Margaret had a real battle of the taps to win the title of pub queen of the tight little isles. She won over 3,000 contestants. "We were judged on personal appearance, drink-mixing skill, tidiness, and friendliness—how well we could chaff the customers," she said.

MARGARET IS endowed with a robust humor and robust proportions. She is 29, 5 feet 9, weighs 11 stone—or 154 pounds. She has dark eyes and a crown of pale ale-colored hair.

Married to a lorry driver—they have two children—Margaret reigns during the day over the Eagle Pub, not far from London, which is managed by her mother. She started pulling the pub taps at 15, now gets $14.55 for a 33-hour work week, and is completely happy with her lot in life.

"Mum says I'm worth 20 times my pay," she said. "Over there the pay is all you get. There are no tips, although the customers stand you to a treat now and then."

"I have done other kinds of work. I managed a baker's shop for a time, but I missed the pub and the chaffing."

"I LOVE THE atmosphere of a pub. Once you've been in it for a while you can't get away from it. You always have someone to talk to, and to make happy if they feel a bit down-hearted."

"Nearly every pub has one or two barmaids. Single girls like the job because they can always get plenty of dates, and the unhappily married girls like the job for—well, the same reason."

Many pensioners kill the long hours of retirement at her pub, and merry, warm-hearted Margaret likes to mother these lonely, time-tossed-away men.

"They talk about their memories of days gone by, the cost of living, and what's in the news," she said.

"WE DON'T have very many Casanovas. British men don't pinch much. They want to kiss your cheek or stroke your arm. If one does get a bit fresh, I can always stop him by asking, 'Ow's your missus?'"

She wouldn't know how to mix a bullshot or a sidecar, probably, but she is adept at pulling a pig's ear, or serving a dog's nose, a mother-in-law, a granny, or wallop and wompo.

A pig's ear is the Cockney term for beer. A dog's nose is gin with a beer chaser. A mother-in-law is a mixture of "stout and bitter" brew, granny a mixture of "old and mild." And wallop and wompo are kinds of ale.

Concerning The 'Fifth Disease'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: What is the Fifth Disease? What does one do to cure it? Should a child with it be allowed to attend school and expose others? Doctors in my home town do not seem to know much about it. — Mrs. W. W.

They probably know as much about it as anyone else — which isn't much but is enough for the needs. Fifth disease, also known as Hungarian measles, is one of a group of diseases that involve a rash — regular measles, three-day or German measles, scarlet fever, roseola infantum, and finally Fifth Disease.

In earlier days it was not realized that there were quite so many similar diseases. Probably this was responsible for the contention that some people had measles two or three times. Actually it is rare to have measles more than once, but in the older days if something came along involving a measles-like rash, it was called measles. Now finer distinctions are made.

There isn't much to be done in treating Fifth Disease except to keep the child quiet and keep down any fever, itching, or other discomfort if they are bothersome.

No, a child with Fifth Disease should not be allowed to attend school, both to avoid giving the ailment to other children and for his own sake. It isn't a serious disease, but like other childhood diseases it deserved sufficient care and attention to minimize the risk of relapses or complications.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 40 and for about 15 years have been getting tanned each summer. The last couple of years I've noticed white spots, especially on my arms and legs. The darker my tan, the more spots appear. They ruin the nice look of my tan. Can anything be done to prevent this? Is it a "warning" that I should stay out of the sun? — Mrs. S. G.

In your case this should be a warning. These spots may be areas of vitiligo, wherein the skin pigments, lose their response to tanning.

If you persist in tanning, all I can suggest is the use of special cosmetics to cover the light spots. There is no way to guarantee whether, either with or without treatment, these spots will regain the power of tan.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How To Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 30 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Who's Foot On The Accelerator?

WASHINGTON — In trying to take the "law" out of law-and-order, Candidate Hubert Humphrey gives us a white paper called Order and Justice. This 49-page operation is not so much a surgery in semantics as it is an orgy of gibberish.

YOU CAN SEE Mr. Verbosity, or his hired men, laboring in circumlocutions to avoid the noun "law" which the liberals say is a code-word for "cops."

In the introductory passage Hubert manages to buddy-up as closely as he dares to the urbanurrectionists who are in guerrilla warfare against the blue-clad forces. He chides "some persons," presumably Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew, with choosing "that road (which leads not to tranquility but to police-state practices)." In pandering to Hoodlumville, Humphrey gives his hostages to the outposts of anarchy, and is soon mumbling in the dialect of ambivalent dementia.

HE SAYS WE must begin "first" by recognizing that "the disadvantaged" are the chief victims of violent crime. For instance, he says in Washington, D. C., 84 per cent of assault victims and 70 per cent of murder victims are black.

I don't know what this is supposed to prove, unless it's Hubert's excessive sympathy for black people who live among their own kind. In all honesty, intra-Negro violence is not the crime problem that everybody's talking about.

ONE "EXPLANATION" for crime, Humphrey says, is the "high visibility of prosperity in America." He seems to be saying that covetousness leads to robbery, and that jealousy leads to violence. These are banalities that have their roots in human nature.

rather than in our modern society. I can't find any section of this task force report where this Democrat, who would be President, addresses himself to the heart of the matter, which is the breakdown of social discipline.

NO DISCIPLINE from the infant's playpen, to the schoolroom, to the public street, was ever maintained without a set of rules and a scroll of punishments. But this is getting into the area of "law," the forbidden word.

The Vice President's inherent formula throughout this report is one of "justice," by which he seems to mean that furtive thing called "equality." But the imposition of enforced equality is flying in the face of nature, not to mention the free enterprise system. A good many Americans believe we've had too much of that already.

As might be expected, Humphrey recommends "massive" federal aid for crime-control, additional federal bureaucracy in the office of a new Deputy Attorney General to "coordinate" the aid, and (naturally) at least one more national commission, this one on Non-Victim Crime.

The Vice President's section about morality laws is the permissive approach to crime by the repeal of much-broken laws and the loosening of the Social Ethic.

ANOTHER PHASE of permissiveness shows in HHH's recommendations for reliance on "additional men rather than guns," and on "minimum force." This last is a fallacy of our times, and it has got us into looter-watching at home as well as No Win warfare abroad.

No mailed fist for Hubert Humphrey. If President, he would fight crime in a pair of mittens.

Chief Justice Still Around

WASHINGTON — Unflappable, unchanging through his long years of public service, the chief justice of the United States gives no outward sign that he is at the center of the storm over the judiciary.

IMPEACH EARL Warren, hang Earl Warren, down with the Supreme Court — these are the cries at the extremist fringe. George C. Wallace demands the end of an independent judiciary with the election of federal judges every few years. More politely Richard Nixon suggests the court has been protecting criminals as crime in the streets is rampant.

While this clamor must be audible even in the hush of the Supreme Court's great marble temple the chief justice is unperturbed. He talks to no one about his future, unless it be his brethren on the court, as the angry debate rages over Abe Fortas to succeed him. But that he will be sitting in the chief justice's seat at the center of the bench when the court convenes for the fall term and for a good long time into the future if no successor is chosen it is hard to doubt.

WARREN HAS just returned from the kind of satisfying summer that helps to explain his serenity and his good health at the age of 77. He went fishing in the high mountain country. Later he and Mrs. Warren went on a cruise along the New England coast in well-nigh perfect weather. Then at the end of the summer he went to Geneva to represent the United States at World Law Day, an observance of the international organization, World Peace Through Law.

AT 77 — he will be 78 next March — Warren moves at the same tempo that has marked his entire career. The phrase in that first all-embracing decision of the Warren court in 1954, Brown vs. Board of Education, ordering school desegregation with "all deliberate speed" expresses it well. Yet the reasons that led the chief justice to ask for retirement are as strong as they were before the Fortas controversy blew up.

Younger men must have an opportunity to develop leadership on the courts, as in every field, Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes went on to the age of 91, a record on the court. But were there not others who might have carried on in the Holmes tradition?

RETIREMENT would not be simply sitting with folded hands for Justice Warren. He is too active for that. It would mean other interests. One of his concerns is preserving what is left of America's heritage of field and stream and wild life. An often-discussed project not as yet carried out is the acquisition of a tract of untouched country in Alaska.

THE CLIMAX of the California revolution came in the Republican primary in June. Sen. Thomas Kuchel, a moderate who was first appointed to the Senate by Gov. Warren, was defeated for re-election by Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, who led the cheering against the Warren court. A far-out right-winger, Rafferty is at the opposite pole from the politics of moderation that Warren practiced so successfully.

NO ONE HAD an inkling when Warren was named chief justice in 1953 — least of all President Dwight Eisenhower who appointed him — that Warren would have followed the bold and independent course marking the court under his leadership. While rumblings of his unhappiness have come from the former President over Brown vs. Board of Education and other decisions of the Warren court, his single act of appointment will in all probability rate in history as Eisenhower's most important decision. All deliberate speed toward a determined goal — that and a sense of duty — characterize Warren's career.

Small Increases Approved In Water District Budget

A budget anticipating 1.5 per cent increase in net revenues and less than two per cent in operating expenses was approved in Big Spring Thursday by the directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The revenue estimate of $2,850,265 includes $35,684 less from municipal users. This is more than offset by sales to three new industrial users in the aggregate of $144,944. This includes assumption of the Humble IAB repressuring contract, another $72,881 from a new oil field contract, and $8,714 from American Magnesium. Resources shape up like this in the new budget: cities

$1,469,604 (down $35,684); oil and industrial users $1,297,937 (up $82,050); rural and pipeline, $47,024 (unchanged); recreation $35,700 (down $3,900). Operational expenses are fixed at $932,506 (up $18,174). In addition, the board pegged $475,000 for renovation and installations on the system necessitated by the activation of the Robert Lee reservoir and pipeline late in 1969. Under operational costs, source of supply costs are up about $10,000, which is the amount of a water payment guarantee; administrative expense $188,988 (up $16,625 due principally to transfer of one position from another department to administrative, plus general salary adjustments); pumping expense $572,678 (down $578 although $5,000 was appropriated for power to operate the new channel dam pumps); recreation $35,417 (down $9,166); capital expenditures of $17,000 (down $600).

New Pump Station Should Be Ready Before Spring Rains

Terry Construction Company of Greenville, S.C., was the apparent low bidder Thursday as prime contractor for the pump station of the Colorado River Municipal Water District project's diversion works on the Colorado River. Terry had a proposal of $374,406. Katy Engineering Co. of Houston submitted a proposal of $399,000, and the highest of the five bids went up to $478,019. Included in the prime bid is approximately $65,000 in pumps, transformers, and valves which additional work entailed at the district. Terry specified 186 calendar days for completion of the structure, which would mean that the station should be ready to go prior to April, 1969, and in advance of the normal spring rains on the watershed.

The diversion works will draw off the highly mineralized low flow and flush flow of the river by lifting water into a diversion basin. When flood flows drop below a certain factor of mineralization, the potable water will be allowed to flow downstream into the new Robert Lee reservoir. CRMWWD directors authorized the advertising of bids for 14.74 miles of 30-inch pipeline from the Martin County pump station pany of Snyder for five oil well to Midland and for terminal mounds in the upper portion of storage at Midland. Lettings are proved. Bids were opened previously and Price was the low bidder.

Surveying to establish fixed points of elevation in the lake bottom was authorized. These will be used later in checking on the degree of sedimentation in the lake.

Ivie told the board that the dam project is 83 per cent complete and that closure of the dam is still scheduled for November. The original 17 oil well mounds should be finished by December, he reported. Panhandle Construction Co. has run final pressure tests on the 33-mile section of 36-inch line from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station. Lyles & Lyles are about 65 per cent toward completion of the diversion basin just above Colorado City. Work has begun on a section of pipeline from Moss Creek Lake, which will be a terminal storage point, to the Sun Oil water pipeline in Mitchell County. And work is getting started on the main pump station above Robert Lee.

The proposed $17,000 capital expenditures from the budget include trading in three cars and four pickups; trading in a boat and a barge motor; also two way radios with trade-ins. The budget does not get into the matter of rates, which are established in January of each year in keeping with the indenture.

West opened the queen of diamonds and the king was played from dummy. South entered his hand with the queen of trumps in order to lead a small heart toward North's queen. East won the trick with the king and exited with the six of hearts.

Declarer played the ace and continued with establishment of the hearts by leading a third round and ruffing with dummy's eight of spades. East overruffed!

with the nine and returned a spade to remove North's last trump. South had two hearts left in his hand and, since there was no way to avoid losing another trick to West's jack of hearts, he suffered a two trick defeat.

Declarer would have had an easier time developing North's club suit for, with the king being the only outstanding high card, South can afford to give up a trick, if need be. Although West's opening lead removes a key entry to the North hand, a simple unblocking maneuver will relieve the roadblock.

At trick two the ace of diamonds is cashed and South discards the ace of clubs from his hand. The queen of clubs is led next and, if it is not covered, declarer merely discards a heart from his hand. Should West turn up with the king, South has no further worries, for he can discard three more hearts on dummy's clubs which are now established.

When it develops that East has the king of clubs, South merely continues to lead the suit until his opponent covers, at which time declarer ruffs. He now draws the trumps ending up in dummy and cashes the remaining clubs, discarding hearts and then conceding one heart at the end.

Declarer played the ace and continued with establishment of the hearts by leading a third round and ruffing with dummy's eight of spades. East overruffed!

Whaley Lived 27 Days After Lung Transplant

HOUSTON (AP) — William J. Whaley, 39, who lived 27 days after suffering emphysema for 10 years. The disease so impairs longer than any other person who underwent such surgery, died Thursday night.

A Methodist Hospital statement said the exact cause of death would not be determined until after an autopsy.

The transplant, only one of its kind in Houston, was believed to be only the fifth such attempt in a human being. None of the other recipients lived more than about two and a half weeks.

Whaley, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was reported in "most critical" condition Thursday afternoon. At the same time a hospital spokesman said he was having respiratory difficulties.

Whaley had been in serious condition since Sept. 16 when the hospital said he was suffering from viral pneumonia. He appeared to rally briefly, however, a few days later.

Wallace Aides Cancel Plans For Motorcade

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George Wallace resting at home from his campaign schedule, spent a busy day Thursday conferring with aides.

The former Alabama governor received word that presidential campaign appearances in two of the nation's largest metropolitan areas were meeting opposition from local officials.

In Cicero, Ill., Wallace aides canceled plans for a motorcade through the western suburb of Chicago after they received a permit for him to speak at a Cicero street corner.

Officials had denied on Wednesday a permit for Wallace to make a speech at the Cicero Town Hall because they said they could not provide adequate police protection. Later, they granted permission for the street corner speech.

Preceding his speech in Cicero Wallace is scheduled to parade through Chicago's Loop.

The Chicago stop is the first in a seven-state tour next week which will take Wallace to industrial cities of the North and Midwest.

A rally tentatively planned for Shea Stadium in New York City on Oct. 9 fell through when Parks Commissioner August Heckscher denied a request to use the stadium.

Clifford Franklin, Wallace's New York State campaign coordinator, had asked for permission to use the stadium.

But Heckscher said, "As a matter of city policy, this city-owned facility, designed for sports entertainment and recreational events, is not available for partisan political rallies."

Peanuts Galore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanuts stored commercially totaled 806 million pounds of equivalent farm stocks on Aug. 31, which is 35 per cent more than a year earlier, the Agriculture Department reports.

This is the largest commercial supply since records began in 1938, the department said.

1969 Nova with Torque-Drive. You won't clutch at its price.

Other economy cars may act more modest than Nova but then, they have more to be modest about. We've done the type of things to the '69 Chevy Nova that you'd expect only from more expensive cars. Like freshening up its already sporty appearance: Front. Side. And rear. Like making the instrument panel design smarter, richer. Like putting on new fanned front brake drums. But we don't rest Nova's case on looks and ride alone. There's the rest it can give your left foot with exclusive Torque-Drive transmission. Torque-Drive action eliminates the clutch pedal and almost all shifting. You just flick the lever from 1st to Hi, and that's it. No clutching ever. What does this boon to stop-and-go driving cost? The price is low enough for you to be able to put your left foot in permanent retirement. And you can order it for any 4- or 6-cylinder model. If you were comparing Chevy Nova with other economy cars, now you know. There's no comparison. Your Chevrolet dealer awaits. Putting you first, keeps us first.

Big Spring Quarterbacks—All

Here are four boys who are calling signals for Big Spring on various levels of competition this fall. From the left, they are Gary Hughes, Gary Hinds, Johnny Patton and Lynn Cauley. The Longhorns visit Odessa Saturday night for a game with Ector.

Steers Visit Odessa Saturday For Game

No one is pretending this one will be for the District 3-AAAA championship but Big Spring and Ector clash in what could be a most interesting football game, starting at 8 o'clock Saturday night in Odessa.

Ector is trying to adapt to AAAA ball after a most successful tenure in AAA circles. The job was complicated for new coach Harold King because the 1967 Ector team was virtually wiped out by graduation.

Hopes were high in the local camp before the season opened but the Steers have dropped two straight decisions — to Monterey of Lubbock and Midland Lee.

The Steers enter Saturday night's game as slight favorites but the Longhorns haven't been able to put it all together. Unless they do, they could be in for a rough time against the Eagles.

Ector opened with a 3-0 loss to Monahan and carried the fight to Lubbock High last week before losing, 13-7.

Big Spring has scored on its two opponents but that is about all. The Longhorns were strubbed by Monterey, 21-14, and lost to Lee, 24-8.

Ector has a fine short passer in Alex Bitolas. He can throw the long ball but not with as much accuracy. He's also a good faker and does a most creditable job of running a ball club. His favorite pass is the backfield.

Alan Toles, 195; Ira Young, 155; and Fred Subia, 165, lend Bitolas a lot of help in the backfield.

Toles, captain of the unit, is the backbone of the team, according to Big Spring scouts. He's a hard runner and very tough. Alan has great balance for a running back and is said to be the finest athlete on the Ector team.

Young is Ector's fastest back. He runs exceedingly well on the option and is used at times as a pass receiver.

Subia always plays the windback position and lugs the ball only on the tackle plays. He is also a good pass receiver and has fine speed and a good pair of hands.

Bitolas will usually pass to his split end, Ector Matta, who is especially dangerous on the crack-back block.

Sophs Batter Colorado City By 54-20 Tab

Big Spring's Sophomores broke what had been a close game wide open in the final 10 minutes in tashing Colorado City's JV team, 54-20, here Thursday afternoon.

Cee City went ahead in the first few seconds on a 65-yard run and pulled to within four points of a tie with a surge in the third. In between those rallies, however, it was all Big Spring.

In the three games now, all of which the locals have won, the Dogies have rolled up 102 points.

Benito Rubio ran seven yards to pay dirt for Big Spring's first score in the opening period at the end of a long drive. Roddy Caffey accounted for the two extra points on a run to make it 8-6.

Caffey added a touchdown later in the quarter on a 57-yard run up the middle and Ernest Zubiate barreled over for the two extra points to make it 16-6.

In the second, Caffey romped again for a tally, scooting 10 yards around left end and QB Scott McLaughlin added the two points on a keeper. At half time it was 24-6.

Colorado City fought back with two quick touchdowns to make it 24-20.

Big Spring went to work again on a 70-yard drive and Zubiate managed the touchdown on a four-yard run. Walt Campbell rang up two more points on a run to make it 32-20.

In the fourth, Rubio plucked an enemy pass out of the air and raced 70 yards for another Big Spring score. Zubiate made it 40-20 in a run for the two extra points.

A short time later, Big Spring's inspired defense threw the Colorado City quarterback in the end zone for a safety. That made it 42-20.

Rubio made a fine punt return down to CC's 40, after which Big Spring scored again in three plays. McLaughlin flipped a 14-yard pass to David Englert for the touchdown.

The Dogies weren't through. Caffey got another tally from nine yards out on a right end sweep after halfback John D. Smith intercepted a Wolf pass and returned it 62 yards down to the visitors' ten.

The Big Spring coaches played 35 boys. The locals visit San Angelo for a game next Thursday.

In all, the Dogies made 23 first downs and 534 yards in total yardage.

Mavs Triumph Over Ponies; Toros Lose

Teams representing Andrews and Big Spring split a twin bill here Thursday night.

The Goliad eighth graders of Big Spring rolled to a 14-6 victory over the Andrews ninth grade B team but Andrews A won the ninth grade game over the Toros, 25-6.

Mike Tredaway set the pattern for Goliad in the first game when he raced 56 yards on the first play from scrimmage down to the visitors' 25. Andrews later took the ball on downs but Tredaway recovered a Pony fumble and QB Alan Davis got the score to 12 yards out. Davis' pass to Nathan Poss added the two extra points.

Andrews scored following an unusual play in the second but failed to add the PAT. The Andrews quarterback picked up his own fumbled lateral and ran 35 yards down to the Goliad five, after which Andrews powered on in for the score. The Big Spring defense apparently had assumed that the pass was a forward, hence incomplete.

In the third, Davis scored on a 68-yard rollout for Big Spring. His pass to Poss for the extra points fell incomplete.

Late in the game, Davis broke loose on runs of 15 and 25 yards but Goliad fumbled and lost possession on the ten. Andrews drove to midfield but Goliad again took over and ran out the clock.

Johnny Tonn fell on three Andrews fumbles for Big Spring and otherwise distinguished himself on defense. Bob Carille, Bob Priebe, Mike Parker, Greg Crawford and Max Brooks also stood out on defense for the Mavericks. Goliad played without the services of ace back Ricky Steen, who was ill.

Goliad made 10 first downs and 320 yards total yards. Davis completed four of eight passes for 32 yards.

Davis gained 138 yards rushing with the ball. Tredaway 122 and Billy Truette 50 yards. In all, Goliad recovered six fumbles.

Mustangs Play Dunbar To Tie

LUBBOCK — Sweetwater and Lubbock Dunbar played to a 6-6 standoff in District 3-AAAA play here Thursday night.

Both teams waited until the final period to count, with Benjie Kemp going over from the one for Sweetwater following a Dunbar fumble on the 15.

Pokes, Saints Favored In Pro Grid Contests

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit should give pro football fans a good line on Green Bay Sunday. If the Packers drop another one to a Central Division rival, they could be in real trouble.

The Lions romped over the Chicago Bears last week 42-0, intercepting eight passes after being left for dead in Dallas. The Packers still are wondering what Vikings visited Milwaukee.

New Orleans' chances of upsetting the appreciant in the Century Division could depend on the outcome of their home game with St. Louis. After what has been happening to Cleveland, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, the Saints are beginning to have ideas. We're picking the Saints in an upset.

Green Bay, Chicago and Washington let us down last week but the over-all record was 10-3 on a 5-3 in the NFL and 5-0 in the AFL. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

NFL

Green Bay 27, Detroit 21-Lions high on cloud nine after that Bear game but Packers are in bad mood after losing to Vikings. This series among the best in NFL. Last year they played 17-7 tie and 27-17 game won by Packers. Bill Munson and Earl McCulloch, new pass-catch combo, will get real test from Packer pros.

Baltimore 33, Pittsburgh 14-With John Unitas still doubtful, Earl Morrall probably will be on job again. Steelers were run through the wringer at Los Angeles but aren't that bad. Teams haven't met since 1957.

Minnesota 27, Chicago 14-Time to begin to believe the Vikings and time to begin to doubt Bears' big early buildup. Much depends on Gale Sayers, who has had big days against Minnesota. Bears' passers so bad that eight were intercepted by Lions. Bill Brown of Vikes already has five TDs.

San Francisco 24, Atlanta 17-Falcons' attack still sputtering while 49ers hit stride against Cards and smeared passer four times. San Francisco won both games last year 38-7 and 34-28. It all depends on John Brodie's arm.

Dallas 35, Philadelphia 14-They split last year but Cowboys much too strong off first two games. Big bad Cowboy defense got Cleveland passer five times last week with Willie Townes in the lead. Don Meredith should be able to run Dan Reeves and Don Perkins at Eagles.

New Orleans 23, St. Louis 20-

JV's Slash Ector, 20-6

Big Spring's JV's made it three wins in a row by knocking Odessa Ector, 20-6, here Thursday night.

In the first quarter, Gary Hughes passed 30 yards to Herman Evans for the TD that sent Big Spring ahead. Joe Rubio added the PAT on a kick.

In the second, Evans broke loose on a 65-yard run after gathering in a punt. Down around Ector's 25, Tommy Tanner threw a terrific block that sprung Evans loose. Rubio again booted the PAT.

The two teams went to the dressing rooms at half time with Big Spring owning a 14-0 lead.

In the third, Manuel Washington intercepted a Big Spring pass and returned it to the one, after which Skipper Smith went over for Ector.

Big Spring used up seven minutes in the fourth ending out a touchdown, with Evans and Joe Zubiate doing much of the work. Kyle Rosene, who played a fine game throughout, sailed over from the four for the clinching touchdown.

On defense, John Hilario, Johnny Armistead, Lewis Switzer and Steve Tidwell glistened for the locals. Hughes and Dave Duncan divided time at the quarterback's spot for Big Spring and both performed creditably.

The JV's go to Lubbock next Thursday for a 4 p.m. engagement with Estacado.

points on a run.

With 1:09 left in the half, Runnels counted again on a 35-yard run by Jay Tee Smith after two passes had failed from that point. Hobbs passed to Conley for the two extra points and Big Spring led at half time, 24-0.

Big Spring scored once in the third on a 49-yard run, with Conley traveling the final 35, at which time 5:42 remained. Second and third units played most of the period after that.

In the fourth, the first team went back in and Smith promptly counted from 18 yards removed with 6:42 left. Smith also added the two extra points to make it 38-0.

The reserves went back to work and managed a TD in four plays on a 68-yard drive. Donnie Shanks got the score from 53 paces away, then ran in the two points to make it 46-0. Just 48 seconds remained.

The Runnels coaches took 35 boys with them and played both all Shank and Bruce Felts both intercepted enemy passes. Colorado City's longest run from scrimmage was eight yards, its longest pass completion was for 22 yards.

Now boasting a 2-1 record, Runnels goes to Andrews for a 5 p.m. game Thursday.

COAHOMA WINS Two Starts

COAHOMA — Coahoma teams won two decisions and played a tie in a third game against Stanton here Thursday night.

In B team play, Coahoma's margin of victory was 14-7.

Dusty Choate ran a kickoff back 80 yards for a score and Rick Stone raced 30 yards on a punt return for Coahoma's two TD's.

Coahoma also won the eighth grade game for its third straight success, 52-7, and just about everybody got into the scoring act.

Scoring touchdowns for Coahoma were Lynn Ashley (two), Steve Stone, Roland Beal, Raymond Galvan (two) and Danny White while Freddy Franklin added four extra points and Mark Millican and Beal two each.

Stone, Steve Frazier, James Blair, John Best and John Wright contributed some tremendous blocking for the home team. Coahoma's entire defensive effort was outstanding.

In the seventh grade game, the two teams played to a scoreless deadlock.

Coahoma's seventh and eighth grade teams, coached by Willie Lundy, go to Seagraves for games next Thursday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

His Odessa Ector team's season won't extend beyond Nov. 15 because it probably won't even come close to winning the District 3-AAAA championship but Coach Harold King should be a leading candidate for Coach of the Year honors within the league.

Before the season got under way, King was prone to wonder if he would even have enough personnel to field an 11-man club. His predecessor, Jim Payne, had remarked to intimates he didn't want to face the grueling challenge in Class AAAA ball with the decimated squad he was sure to have. Payne moved out of the area.

King took on the job, happy to be back in varsity coaching, and apparently convinced his troops that any team that had dominated its AAA competition the way Ector did could more than hold its own in AAAA ball.

Ector will, no doubt, be tough for Big Spring to beat tomorrow night if for no other reason than King has sold his boys on the idea that the Eagles need a win against an AAAA team to convince the home folks they belong in the conference.

It could be Ector's only chance to win against such competition all year, King could be telling his hands.

Coahoma Wins Two Starts

Bob Churchich, the quarterback who caused Big Spring's Albert Fierro to ride the bench at the University of Nebraska a couple of seasons, is now playing for Omaha in the Continental Football League.

Last week Churchich ran for three touchdowns and passed for another but Omaha still got beat by Don Trull and the Oklahoma City Plainsmen, 34-31. Trull, the former Baylor great, threw for three touchdowns in the game.

It's hard to figure out why the Dallas Cowboys let punter Billy Lothridge go. He led the NFL in kicking last year and has a 45.9 yard average this year, tops among those who have punted 10 or more times.

Whatever it is the varsity Steers here have, as related to an inability to hold onto the ball, must be catching.

In losing to Snyder Lamar, 26-14, last weekend, the Big Spring ninth grade Steers lost the ball six times on bubbles. One Snyder player (Sherman Floyd) was always in the vicinity of the errant oval—he captured four of them.

Biggest disappointment in professional football this season could be Gary Beban, the former UCLA quarterback who is now with the Washington Redskins.

Beban isn't going to make it as a quarterback, Coach Otto Graham has intimated, and he may not be able to hang on as a halfback.

There were rumors that Beban wasn't ideally built for a pro quarterback when he was in college ball, that he was too short for the job, but the Redskins went ahead and signed him to a contract calling for $200,000.

Since Washington has one of the best quarterbacks in Sonny Jurgensen, anyway, it was doubtful from the start that Beban could fit into the picture with the Redskins at that position.

Abilene High School reportedly is coming up with another splendid basketball team and could break the barrier as the favorite in District 3-AAAA. Harold Wilder is doing an outstanding job of coaching the Eagles.

John Howell, Midland Lee's pitching ace last spring, wound up with a 5-4 record in that rookie baseball league in Florida.

So over-balanced was his team in pitching that no one on the staff got in more than ten games.

'Green Bandits' Looting Jumps

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Looting by Vietnamese troops, especially by some elite units, appears to have increased significantly in recent months, further alienating the army from those it is sworn to protect.

Since the war began, Vietnamese troops have stolen chickens, pigs and other food to supplement meager field rations.

Now some units spend a good part of their time in the field systematically taking anything of value from whatever homes they come across.

HELPLESS

Recently a Vietnamese marine battalion operating on the fringe of a provincial capital in strongly pro-government suburb looted the village chief's home while the official stood helplessly.

Those who have watched the Vietnamese troops in action for a number of years date the beginning of serious looting—as opposed to stealing food—to the Tet offensive, when the war moved into the cities.

Troops from peasant homes got a good look at the way Vietnamese were living in urban areas and decided to raise their own standard of living a bit.

The looted village chief told a reporter in English, "They are just poor soldiers and there is nothing I can do." He put up an argument when the troops tried to take his gas mask. They finally gave it back after rendering it useless by smashing out the glass eyepots.

Looting is as old as warfare, and some American troops in the Hue fighting during Tet did their share of "liberating" such items as liquor and transistor radios.

LUXURY GOODS

One American adviser commented at the time: "The common soldier has always been at the bottom of the ladder here. He knows his commander is probably corrupt and even selling some of the food meant for the troops to line his own pockets. Now they figure it's their turn."

In a war where mere possession of real estate is far less important than the attitudes of the people toward their government, looting is a minus factor for a government. When soldiers in fatigues are called "green bandits," the situation is serious, a U.S. civilian adviser said.

But government soldiers are in the war until they are killed or too seriously wounded to fight again. To see the profusion of luxury goods others have amassed while they were fighting in the rice paddies is an irritant, to say the least.

First Over Top

Three representatives from the Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery unit at Webb AFB display their 100 per cent attainment in the base United Fund campaign. Along with the trio is 1st Lt. Donald C. Paladino, wing UF monitor. The men are, from left, Sgt. Carlos Joiner, Maj. Joe Ballinger, Lt. Paladino and Capt. Donald Olsen.

Webb Unit First To Go Over The Top

The Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center (WARRC), Detachment 18, at Webb AFB is the first major organization to obtain 100 per cent participation and collection in the base's United Fund campaign.

"This goal," said 1st Lt. Donald R. Paladino, "was achieved through the efforts of Capt. Dennis Olsen, United Fund monitor for WARRC, and by the generous contributions from air men like Sgt. Carlos Joiner, who gave over twice his 'fair share' quota."

Base collections have reached $9,349.25, which is 73 per cent of the Webb goal of $13,000. Participation has reached over 90 per cent in the Air Base Group. Following in third place with 90 per cent is the deputy commander for materiel section. The communications squadron has recorded 62 per cent per date while 52 per cent has been registered by the deputy commander for operations section. In last place so far within the base's major organizations is the hospital with 47 per cent.

Tiny Rollback By Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. cut back Thursday on its price increases for 1969 models, bringing them into line with Ford Motor Co. and General Motors boosts.

Chrysler's increase of an average of $84 per car, which was criticized by the White House when announced last week, was reduced to $52. Ford's increase averages $47 a car and GM's is $49.

It was the third consecutive year that Chrysler announced its new car prices first, then cut them back when Ford and GM came out with smaller increases.

NEW MODELS

American Motors Corp. will announce its prices for new models on Monday when its offerings will be unveiled in showrooms.

"I think it would go without saying, it wouldn't be wise for an auto company in light of the prices announced by the others, to do anything radically different," said one American Motors source.

The list prices announced by the Big Three automakers do not include federal excise taxes, dealer preparation and handling charges, state and local taxes and shipping costs. Chrysler made no mention Thursday of prices on optional equipment which in its original price list was included in an across-the-board 2.9 per cent increase.

"Most of the prices announced last week have been reduced and some increased to maintain a competitive position in each car line," said the Chrysler announcement.

SECOND OWNER

The firm also made additional revisions in its warranty program which was changed in the original announcement Sept. 11.

The 1969 model warranty included a five-year or 50,000-mile guarantee for the engine and the power train components and 12 months and 12,000 miles for the rest of the car, except for tires which are covered in a separate warranty.

In a change Thursday, Chrysler said a second owner could benefit from the unused portion of the warranty if he would register the car and pay a $25 fee and if the car had been properly maintained.

Chrysler a year ago announced list price increases for its 1968 models averaging $147.94 but this was cut back to $115.82 after competing companies came up with smaller increases.

In the 1967 model run, Chrysler first announced average increases of $111.32 and later this figure was trimmed to $78.58.

Liquor Program Set At School

Big Spring high school students can expect a visit from the Texas Liquor Control Board Oct. 16.

LCB program director Ray Walker, Austin, will be at the school to present six programs to the physical education classes. Charles Hawkins, local LCB agent, is making the arrangements for the visit.

Cancer Board Meets Monday

The American Cancer Society chapter will meet at noon Monday in the Officers Club at Webb AFB. All board members are urged to attend.

Civil Defense Warning Test Slated For Saturday Noon

The Big Spring-Howard County Civil Defense Unit will sound an attack warning signal test at noon Saturday.

Sirens used in the signal will sound a wavering tone for three to five minutes, while horns and whistles will sound short blasts for three to five minutes, according to W. D. Berry, director of local Civil Defense.

The test will include Webb AFB, also. Procedure of the attack warning signal, which is standard throughout the country, begins when an attack warning message is received by local governments over the National Warning System.

The local authorities will sound outdoor warning devices for the attack warning only. The signal will mean that an actual attack against this country has been detected and protective action must be taken immediately. Residents, in an actual attack, should go to a shelter immediately, or the best available shelter.

Berry also noted another signal, which will not be used in the test Saturday. The alert signal is used for peacetime emergencies such as tornado disasters, and is made with a steady tone from a siren for three to five minutes, and a steady blast from a horn for three to five minutes.

The attack warning signal is sounded the last Saturday of every calendar quarter.

PRESIDENT OF TEXAS BAPTISTS

Launches Crusade Here

RICHARD PAYNE

Payne Plans Philippines Mission Trip

STANTON (SC) — Richard Payne, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Stanton has been invited to participate in an evangelistic mission in the Philippines during October.

The mission is sponsored by the General Board of Evangelism and Missions of the United Methodist Church and will include 34 preachers and laymen from over the United States. They will meet in San Francisco, Sept. 30 to begin orientation and will leave for Tokyo Oct. 2.

Visits will be made to Tokyo, Hong Kong, and Taipei en route to Manila.

In the Philippines the group will work "two by two" as assigned teammates. Each team will serve in two different situations, traveling from one assignment to the other.

Much of the public speaking, preaching and witnessing will probably be through an interpreter in order to reach the old as well as the young.

On the return trip the group will spend a few days in Honolulu where Mrs. Payne will join her husband on his return trip. The group will have its last meeting together in Honolulu Oct. 30, then the Paynes will return to Los Angeles Nov. 1.

The president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will keynote the launching of the Crusade of the Americas for the Big Spring Baptist Association here Monday evening.

Dr. Gordon Clinard, pastor of the First Baptist Church in San Angelo and head of Texas Baptists, will be the speaker for the rally set for 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Sanctuary.

A choir composed of members of churches in the association that embraces Howard and Martin counties is being organized by James Kinman, associational music director. The Rev. Byron Orand, associational moderator, will preside. Arrangements are in charge of the Rev. Jack Boyett, East Fourth Baptist pastor, the associational crusade chairman.

A special guest for the evening will be Bryan Rose, the new missionary for the Big Spring-San Angelo area.

Plans for the coordinated evangelistic effort reaching through North, Central and South America in 1969 will be outlined at the meeting, and Dr. Clinard will issue the challenge for the ambitious undertaking.

A native of Springfield, Tenn., Dr. Clinard holds the AB from Union University, his BD and Th.D. degrees from Southwestern Baptist Seminary. He was for 11 years professor of preaching at the seminary. Prior to that he held pastorates at Burleson and at Huntsville for an aggregate of seven years.

He is an author of two books, contributor to numerous periodicals, and a former editor of the Southwestern Journal of Theology. He is a trustee of the Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Angelo, the Mexican Bible Institute in San Antonio. In addition he is a member of the Christian education commission of BGCT as well as the convention president. He also holds numerous civic posts in San Angelo.

More than a score of Baptist churches in this area are expected to send large delegations to the rally.

DR. GORDON CLINARD

Northcutt Ordained

The Rev. David L. Northcutt, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Coahoma, will be ordained formally in ceremonies set for 5 p.m. Sunday in the church.

Named to the commission which will formally induct him into the ministry are Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, minister for the First Presbyterian Church in Big Spring and immediate past moderator of the Texas synod; the Rev. Robert Hawkins, Kermit; the Rev. Dan Sebesta, St. Paul's Big Spring, Dr. S. C. Guthrie, Glenn Guthrie, and Bill Gibson, Big Spring.

Youth Officers Hold Installation

Officers for the Big Spring Baptist Youth Association will be installed at the monthly youth rally at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Stadium Baptist Church.

Officers for the new term will be: Rodge Dixon, president; Kathy Rigdon, vice president; Brenda Burke, secretary; Linda Williams, treasurer; Tommy Polk, program chairman; Sharon Cook, publicity chairman; Debbie Dunlap, pianist; Cindy Adams, organist; and Grady Ray, music director.

Mrs. J. T. Springer, youth sponsor, and outgoing president Bill Jones will serve as installing officers.

THE HIGHEST FULFILLMENT OF THE GREATEST HOPE

Home is one of the greatest possessions of the human heart. The International Sunday School lesson stresses the fulfillment of the greatest of all hopes — the coming of Christ as God's anointed One. The background Scripture is taken from Isaiah 61; Luke 2:22-32.

Isaiah has more to say than any of the prophets about the coming of the Christ (Greek for anointed) or Messiah (Hebrew for anointed). In chapter 61:2, he establishes a predicate for his prophecy in some of the most familiar lines of his ministry — "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me . . . to preach good tidings . . . to bind up the brokenhearted, . . . to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord . . . to comfort all that mourn." Then 61:11 promises that "the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all nations."

This and many other prophecies of the coming of a Messiah raised hopes in the heart of a despairing Israel. Other prophets made similar predictions but coupled them with political and eternal glory.

Isaiah spoke around 740-700 B.C.; the passage from Luke is not long after the birth of Jesus, reflecting the persistence of the hope. A devout Hebrew named Simeon was in Jerusalem "waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Ghost was upon him . . ." The Holy Spirit led this devout man to the temple, and the Spirit led him to recognize the baby as the Messiah. Anna, an aged prophetess, had a similar experience. The hope of the centuries had been fulfilled. But alas, how many recognized and received Him? How many do today?

Bourbon Chaplain Is Very Flashy

He comes on like gangbusters — a large but agile frame adorned by a flashy suit, flamed red socks and handkerchief. You know that a man who dares to preach in bars and strip joints is not going to be a shrinking violet, but you aren't quite prepared for the effusion of hearty handshakes, red press kits, New Orleans gossip and folksy gospel buzzing in the wake of the Rev. Bob Harrington, the "Chaplain of Bourbon Street."

Interviews are child's play to the Sweetwater, Ala., evangelist. He has tamed hecklers in some of the darkest and rauciest fleshpots this side of Sodom and Gomorrah. He has traded barbs with Joe Pyne and met the cool inquisitiveness of Art Linkletter. His supply of stock quotes guaranteed to make headlines is seemingly inexhaustible.

Here are a few samples: "Why am I doing this? The Bible says that you should be fishers of men. Bourbon Street is the biggest fish-hole I've found this side of hell, and I never run out of prospects." (Speaking of his conversion) "I went to church with the motive of finding prospects to sell insurance to on Monday, but instead I found eternal insurance."

"We don't talk about social problems, civil rights, economic rights. We talk about getting right with God."

"The Devil's honky-tonks convert more people in a week than the average church converts in a year."

"I'm out to change the long-face, black, holier-than-thou Baptist image."

Harrington claims the welcome mat is out for him in 90 per cent of the New Orleans French Quarter niteries. He is also accepted, even welcomed, in similar districts across the country, most notably Las Vegas and Dallas.

The "Chaplain of Bourbon Street" says that night club owners like his presentation be-

Foreign Missions Face Radical Change Charge

By GEORGE W. CORNELL Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A shift in the winds today rocks the ship of Christian foreign missionaries. In some cases, it means a complete — and hard — turnabout in their troubles. Once burdened with the image of the white colonial status quo, they're now sometimes accused of inciting radical change.

"It's a most important and visibly dramatic shift," says the Rev. Dr. David Stowe, head of the Department of Overseas Ministries of the National Council of Churches.

"There's been a considerable sensitizing in the missionary movement to the revolutionary social-justice implications of the Gospel."

The strange reversal, with various twists and exceptions to it, has shown up recently in Portuguese Angola, in Rhodesia and South Africa, in areas of India and Latin America, and among native Baptists in the Soviet Union.

"Although missionaries have always sought to identify with the people among whom they worked, they formerly were often considered part of the ruling apparatus," Dr. Stowe said.

"That picture has changed." What's odd about the recent difficulties is that instead of encountering resentments as assumed defenders of foreign paternalism, as in the past, they're now often linked by ruling regimes with insurgency.

That's the case in Angola, in West Africa where the Portuguese government has blamed missionaries for instigating rebellion, although they insist that they teach nothing more subversive than the Bible.

Opposition pressure, however, has reduced the large-scale missionary forces there of more than 250 before the outbreak of uprisings in 1961 to less than 50 now, and some of them are scheduled for departure.

Angolan government policy "is apparently intended to extinguish Protestant missionary activity," said the Rev. Dr. Alford Carleton, head of the United Church Board for World Ministries.

In summing up 15 more missionaries home from Angola this month, the United Church and the United Church of Canada will further reduce personnel there — numbering 45 until 1961 — to three. Methodist and other church forces there similarly have been decimated.

Although the government last week indicated some may be allowed to come back, recent practice has prevented it, and it remained a question.

Webb Books 2 Courses

Webb Air Force Base Education office has made arrangements for two college extension classes to be taught here.

Advance classes in abnormal psychology and labor management relations have been scheduled.

Registration in the psychology class should be done before Wednesday, Oct. 2 in the education office at the base.

The class will be taught by Dr. Richard Hall from Texas Tech.

Registration for labor and management relations will be held Sept. 30. It will be an extension class from Hardin-Simmons University.

Arrangements can be made for both classes to count toward graduate credit, according to Verl Green of the education office at Webb.

Registration fee for psychology will be $45, with a $82.50 fee for the labor and management relations class. Classes will be held on the base in Withycombe Hall.

Assembly Of God Conducts Revival

The First Assembly of God Church, West Fourth and Lancaster, will conduct a revival beginning Sunday and running through Oct. 6.

The Rev. Raymond Grimes, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, Aubrey, Tex., will preach. Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. each day, except Sunday when they still start at 7 p.m.

There will be special music and singing. Burt Dennis will be song leader.

The Rev. J. W. Farmer is pastor of the First Assembly of God Church here.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The hub of a railroad—the classification yard. Could you, without training or experience, take charge here? Could you sort and "spot" thousands of cars, have them ready at the right time on the right track to go out with the right train?

But every day your mind performs an operation even more complex. You sort and classify your thoughts and impulses. You decide what is right and wrong. You determine which actions are urgent, and which can be deferred. You resolve that some goals are important, and others are secondary. And every decision affects your life, and the lives of others!

Preparing men and women—and boys and girls—to make the right decisions is one of the great functions of the Church. There are sound Christian standards by which life's choices should be sorted. There is confidence and strength for those who seek, learn and practice the true Way of Life.

MORE MOSCOW PRESSURE

Czech Leaders Weaken

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders continued discussions today on their coming trip to Moscow, which is expected to produce agreement on a partial withdrawal of the half million Soviet-led troops that occupy this country.

Top Communist party and government leaders met into the night Thursday and there were suggestions that the Czechoslovaks, who up to now have shown some defiance in the face of the Aug. 20 occupation, were ready to make further concessions to Soviet demands. They hope in this way to salvage as much as possible of party chief Alexander Dubcek's liberalization drive.

TURNED DOWN
National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky told a crowd waiting for Dubcek after Thursday night's meeting that he would not be a member of the delegation to Moscow. There are reports that Soviet leaders had turned him down, objecting to his speeches to factory workers around the country.

Smrkovsky, a victim of Stalinist era purges, has taken part in all major dealings with Moscow since Dubcek took over the party leadership last January from former President Antonin Novotny, a hard-liner.

Among the reported Soviet demands was one for a purge trial of Czechoslovak "counterrevolutionaries" in order to justify Moscow's military intervention here.

TRIAL DEMANDS
The Czechoslovaks have rejected this so far but there were signs that they will not be able to withstand Moscow pressure indefinitely.

Interior Minister Jan Pelnar, in charge of the police, met with Dubcek into the night and the Soviet trial demands were presumed to be one of the topics they discussed.

While they met, one of Pelnar's deputies, Frantisek Vasek, disclosed that the Soviets were already active in the Czechoslovak secret police, whose members have so far declined cooperation with the invaders.

22 Survivors Praise Texan

PEASE AIR FORCE BASE, N.H. (AP) — Survivors of a jet tanker crash on Wake Island have credited a Texas sergeant with saving their lives by speedily opening an escape hatch after the flaming plane landed.

The 22 men who escaped the crash last Tuesday, arriving Thursday praised Sgt. Floyd Johnson of Fort Worth, for saving their lives by opening the hatch.

Johnson himself was among those who arrived back at Pease. Eleven men died in the crash.

Johnson said the jet skidded on the Wake runway as the pilot attempted an emergency landing with the tail on fire.

He said he headed for the hatch as soon as the aircraft came to a stop.

Others aboard said there was no confusion or panic.

Big Improvement
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Nuernberger Thursday named Miss Shirley Adams, a 27-year-old blue-eyed blonde as bailiff. She is believed to be one of the few women bailiffs in the nation's courts.

Four GIs Acquitted, Two Draw Hard Labor
FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Four soldiers were acquitted and two convicted Thursday in court-martial on charges of refusal to obey an order on the eve of the Democratic National Convention, an Army spokesman said.

Enlisted men acquitted were Pfc. Walter Beckon, 22, Newark, N.J.; Sgt. Joseph Coger, 21, Baltimore, Md.; Spec. 4 Jesse Richardson, 21, Waco, Tex.; and Sgt. Gregory Ward, 20, Philadelphia, Pa.

Convicted and sentenced to three months at hard labor, forfeiture of two-thirds pay for three months, and reduction to the lowest enlisted pay grade were Spec. 4 Leo Bradley, 21, Memphis, Tenn.; and Pfc. Arthur Smith, 20, Montgomery, Ala.

Many of the soldiers left the post-midnight protest meeting after officers talked to them.

The others were ordered to report to their units for reveille, and a spokesman said they refused and were arrested. Later they were placed in custody of their commanding officers.

Other soldiers taking part in the demonstration will be tried at later dates, an Army information officer said.

Circled Biafran Chiefs Claim They Won't Flee

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Encircled Biafran will fight on and its leaders will not flee to establish a government in exile, the Biafran leader, Lt. Col. C. Oduwegwu Ojukwu, said today.

Radio Biafra, monitored in Lagos despite jamming by the Nigerian government, said Ojukwu told a meeting of Biafran leaders and chiefs in Umuahia: "It is utter nonsense to say the war has come to an end. It is just beginning."

Variable Annuity Policies Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Insurance Board has scheduled a Monday hearing on rules governing variable annuity policies, which are supposed to give beneficiaries a hedge against inflation.

Such policies were cleared by the legislature last year for sale in Texas.

Under variable annuity policies, the amount of money paid by an insurance company to a beneficiary varies with the value of investments, such as stocks, held by the company in a separate account.

Temporary rules were issued by the board Aug. 8, and criticisms and proposed changes will be discussed at the hearing.

Horoscope Forecast FOR TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening for you to take any trips or to do any changes of perspective or residence, etc. that you wish but the afternoon and evening are fine for looking straight at your practical interests and then to build your life on a more solid and secure structure than it has been in the past.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You can hit on some excellent ideas for improving yourself and tonight is best time to contact those persons who can help you put them in operation. Know what you want to do. Then act in a decisive fashion.

AURUS (April 20 to May 20) Contact some authority who can assist you with some real problem you have. Since you then can get out and make new and interesting contacts. Collect say independence, be sure you are on a sure footing. Be successful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get right in on those conversations associate is having with others and back him up. Then get busy and handle any work connected with same. Sit back and see what occurs with mate. Then you know what to do.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) With all those duties storming you in the face, what are you doing sitting in that comfortable chair? Get busy in the morning or in the afternoon for a change. Get much done. Then make new arrangements with partners.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning is best time to plan for parties, amusements of all kind, so that you can then dig right into all that work ahead of you. Others who respect you can make your life more easy, successful now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Fundamental affairs that need your personal attention should now be handled with wisdom and verve. Get property affairs in perfect condition. Start updraft that makes you go out for the social in a charming frame of mind.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) You can put just these things in a way that bring real order into your life, and then you can enjoy the comfort of your home, love and family. You have an excellent job to contact. Don't waste time in doing so.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Take care of those monetary matters in the early part of the morning when you are thinking very clearly, then you can meet with good odds. Don't forget to make that improvement to house, either write letters tonight without fail.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have important decisions to make and the early morning is best for this. Then keep busy at the monetary and other practical affairs that are current. If you budget what you have proper, you can do more later on.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Planning in a.m. what you want to accomplish, without confiding in others, finds you carrying through in a positive fashion tonight. Avoid one who has been bothering you. Then your time is your own.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Look to that good old in a.m. for ideas how to get along better with others, and then carry through on your own. Don't forget to help those who are in distress. Show that you are a generous and reliable person.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Contacting someone is quite easy for you now and the morning is best time, so that later you can be with allies for whatever your plans. Don't forget to handle some civic affair you promised to do. Be clever.
