BUSH PILOT Loses Arm But Flies To Safety

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (AP) — A 28-year-old bush pilot, his right arm hacked off by a whirling propeller blade, climbed back into his plane and flew 15 miles for help.

Brian Steed, of South Porcupine, Ont., a pilot for the International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd., had landed his seaplane on Green Water Lake about 60 miles northwest of here.

When he stepped out onto a pontoon, he slipped, his arm hit the moving propeller and was cut away above the elbow.

Steed struggled back into the plane and flew to Lake Shebanowan where another pilot flew him to Port Arthur for treatment.

The accident happened last Saturday but Steed's story did not become known until Monday night.

Child Hanged

DALLAS (AP) — Police said Richard Hooper went home from work Monday and found his daughter Laura Ann, 4, hanged from a back yard swing set.

Justice of the Peace Joe B. Brown Jr. held death was accidental.

As officers reconstructed it, the child's tricycle rolled from beneath her while her neck was entangled in a safety strap.

STRANGE WAY Crime Pays

AUSTIN (AP) — Sylvia Martinez, 8, found out that sometimes crime pays — in the strangest ways.

She was asleep in her room when she was awakened by a youth climbing through the window.

Frightened, she began to cry.

The startled intruder offered her a dollar and pleaded for her to remain quiet. Sylvia complied.

Police said the youth then jumped back out the window and fled on foot.

United Fund Report

United Fund inched ahead to 36.6 per cent of the $109,225 goal, with $39,936.11 reported this morning.

All divisions have reported in contributions, and some sections are above or approaching their goals.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and Communications Workers of America exceeded the $2,195 goal Monday in their joint drive with $2,301, according to Al Harrison, chairman of that campaign. However, more than a dozen employees still need to be contacted, he said.

Webb AFB reports $12,266.50 of its $13,000 objective for a 94 per cent completion.

A special promotion featuring mini-skirted nurses began today at the VA Hospital. The hospital is aiming for contributions from the employees, patients and visitors alike.

All division chairmen will meet at noon Friday at the Cosden Country Club to review progress of the drive.

Film Crew Sends Cheer

The Firemen's Christmas Cheer Fund is $50 richer, thanks to the "Midnight Cowboy."

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker Monday received a check for that amount for the welfare fund from Jerome Hallman Productions, the enterprise which some weeks back had actors and crews here to film various sequences for a forthcoming feature titled "Midnight Cowboy."

The film crew evidently found a warm welcome and considerable help in Big Spring. Some members learned of the fireman's fund, which each Christmas solicits gifts, with Herald cooperation, to provide toys for poor children at Christmas time. It also steps in to help needy families in times of emergency.

The Hallman Productions gift, although it came as a surprise, is mighty welcome and richly appreciated, said Crocker.

Landslides Kill 57

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Two major landslides have killed at least 57 persons in the Himalayan kingdom of Sikkim, whose queen is American-born Hope Cooke Namgyal, the United News of India news agency said today.

The agency said the landslides occurred last Friday as a result of heavy rain that claimed an even greater toll in India.

Official reports through Monday listed 780 dead from floods and landslides in the northeast Indian states of West Bengal, Bihar and Assam.

HEARS WALLACE BID TO GET ON OHIO BALLOT

Supreme Court Rules Against Balkers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's 1968-69 term opened with an unusual burst of activity and some bad news for 256 soldiers: the Army can send them to Vietnam.

Foregoing the tradition of a brief but uneventful starting session, the justices Monday heard a lawyer for George C. Wallace plead for a place on Ohio's presidential ballot Nov. 5.

Then, after a late afternoon conference, they dissolved an order by Justice William O.

Douglas that had blocked the Army from sending the soldiers to Vietnam.

The 256 men—113 at Ft. Meade, Md., and 143 at Ft. Lee, Va.—are reservists who were mobilized under a 1966 law.

They claimed their enlistment contract required a congressional declaration of war or of national emergency for mobilization.

Douglas agreed, but was outvoted 8 to 1. The soldiers can file formal appeals, but by then they will be in the war zone.

In spite of the court's action, attorneys for a California National Guard unit filed suit in Tacoma, Wash., alleging a call to active duty during last May's Pueblo crisis was illegal.

Noting Monday's Supreme Court ruling, the attorneys said they were going ahead because their case is broader and involves more issues.

The Wallace case tests the rights of Ohio to impose severe qualifications for third-party candidates. If the former Alabama governor wins, he will be on the ballot in all 50 states and presumably have a better chance in Ohio than if he had to rely on a write-in vote.

"The state stands shamefully alone," said Wallace's attorney, David J. Young of Columbus, in outlining the qualifications: A party primary and convention plus signatures amounting to at least 15 per cent of the vote in the last statewide election.

Charles S. Lopeman, chief counsel in the Ohio attorney general's office, said the state legislature is forbidden by the Constitution to impose racial or religious discrimination in elections.

But, he said, the legislature may "discriminate against the right of a voter to have a chance that his candidate win."

The Court is expected to rule by next Monday.

In other opening session action, the court:

—Rejected an effort by Virginia's Conservative party to run Wallace for president on its ticket. He already is the candidate in Virginia of the American Independent party.

—Turned down a bid by supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., for president to force California to put his name on the ballot.

—Similarly, refused to order California to place on the ballot Leroy Eldridge Cleaver, a Black Panther and presidential candidate of the Peace and Freedom party.

Backs Peace In Mid-East

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador James Russell Wiggins said today the United States is prepared to carry out its obligations as a member of the United Nations to help guarantee any Middle East peace settlement.

TOP PRIORITY

In an informal meeting with the press, the new U.N. representative declared he was giving top priority to the Middle East question. He already had discussed it with Secretary-General U. Thant and with U.S. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring since taking over his new post Monday.

He said the U.S. government considered that efforts to find a solution to the Israeli-Arab conflict were "a matter of utmost urgency" and declared that the United States was ready to give Jarring its full support.

"The time for movement in this area is now," he said.

On the question of joining the other big powers in guaranteeing compliance with any Middle East peace agreement, Wiggins noted that, both as a member of the United Nations and as a permanent member of the Security Council, the United States had obligations in the field of peace keeping. "To that extent," he said, the United States would help provide guarantees.

ISRAELI VIEWS

Wiggins' remarks came as Foreign Minister Abba Eban prepared to present Israel's views on peace prospects in the Middle East.

Eban was expected to avoid specific formulas, in line with the Israeli policy that the Arabs must first agree to negotiate.

Even before his policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly, Eban made plain that his government feels that the United Nations should avoid an acrimonious debate that merely would send tempers soaring and achieve nothing.

"Never have countries reached agreement by public debate," he told newsmen.

Israel favors direct talks with Arab governments to settle issuues left by the June, 1967, Arab-Israeli war, if and when U.N. special representative Gunnar V. Jarring can set the date. So far the Arabs have been adamant against sitting at the same table with the Israelis.

Wallace Lures Out Rally Of 10,000

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A rally of some 10,000 people in a sports arena Monday night was tailor-made for George C. Wallace's intense campaign style.

There were just enough hecklers—a few hundred to provide a noisy counterpoint to Wallace's hour-long discourse on the American scene.

MOVED AWAY

Although there was little of the scuffling that has marked Wallace's campaign in some Northern cities, police used dogs and horses to move peace demonstrators away from the Baltimore Civic Center after the rally.

But the third party presidential candidate made them welcome in the hall earlier. He blew kisses, thanked them for "bringing me a million votes" and lifted his admirers to high pitch as he warned the "anarchists" that "you'd better have your day now because after Nov. 5 you won't have many days left."

The Wallace detractors filled one corner of the balcony and shouted "We want Hitler" and "Go to hell, Wallace" and they sang "We Shall Overcome."

Wallace clapped in time to the civil rights hymn. He blew some more kisses, then cleared his throat into a large white handkerchief and resumed his talk.

When the Wallace supporters began waving their fists and shouting "shut up" at the demonstrators, Wallace soothed them. "They're all right. Let the police handle it. Let's all be in a good humor now."

At one point the former Alabama governor stepped from behind his bulletproof rostrum and walked to the edge of the stage to smile and bow at the demonstrators.

The crowd had been warmed up for more than an hour with Country style music. The entrance of several dozen policemen in riot helmets brought the crowd to its feet. And a shouted chorus of "God Bless America" bathed the vast arena in emotion just before Wallace bounced onto the stage taking quick little bows and firing snappy military salutes at the audience.

Although the heckling continued without letup, Wallace spoke at length over the powerful loudspeaker system. Even after an hour, he seemed reluctant to end.

At one point, he finally showed some irritation and shouted at the balcony: "Let me tell you little punks something: I was fighting Communists before you were born. I was fighting Nazis before you were born. I came back a disabled veteran."

Wallace speaks today in Connecticut and Boston as he continues a week-long tour.

HHH Proposes Annual Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey proposed today scheduled annual working summit conferences between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Such meetings, Humphrey said in a wide-ranging review of U.S.-Soviet relations, could become "forums for a new diplomacy, free of the publicity, free of the high expectations that surround irregular summit meetings."

URGES SOVIETS

The Democratic presidential nominee also urged the Soviet Union to call upon the North Vietnamese "to start negotiating seriously" at the Paris peace talks.

He also repeated a six-point formula for settlement of Middle East problems and pledged that "I shall be a peace president."

His speech was prepared for a luncheon session of the United Press International Editors and Publishers conference. His two rivals, Richard M. Nixon and George C. Wallace, addressed the conference Monday.

Humphrey returned to Washington late Monday after what he termed a good day of campaigning in Pennsylvania, where he drew enthusiastic responses to a series of sharp attacks on Nixon in speeches at Erie, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton.

Speaking before an overflow crowd of more than 5,000 in the University of Scranton Field House, Humphrey renewed the charge that Nixon is afraid to debate him and said the GOP candidate is being very careful this year.

NO ILLUSIONS

Humphrey said in his UPI speech that he has "no illusions" about the difficulty of dealing with the Soviet Union, because its totalitarian government is "still unresponsive to the needs and wishes of its people."

They Want A Date

With an assist at Chicago's City Hall from Joseph Vodansky, Arlene Wach, Donna Yelk, Marleen McCrea and Charlotte Jasket, from left, fill out applications yesterday to be dates of Naval Academy midshipmen and Air Force Academy cadets at a dance following Saturday's football game in Chicago between the two service academies.

Recruiting Girls Turns Into A Big Headache

CHICAGO (AP) — Many a man would envy James McDonough.

He has been assigned to recruit 1,800 girls, age 18 to 22, as blind dates for Air Force cadets and Naval Academy midshipmen at a dance Saturday after the Navy-Air Force football game in Soldier Field.

HEADACHE But for McDonough, city commissioner of streets and sanitation, it's a big headache.

He was given less than two weeks to sign up the lasses.

The last time girls and academy men were matched after the game was in 1965, when 5,000 females applied to be dates for 2,000 males.

The lucky 1,800 girls—who must be high school graduates—will be allocated to the men according to lists provided by the academies.

And, true to military form, they'll be matched with the men by the number.

"They've given the name of their date—he's in Squadron 10,

No. 7," said McDonough, who was appointed date-recruiter by Mayor Richard J. Daley.

"But they tell me that only lasts for a while," he added. "Then the guys start grabbing the best looking girl that comes along, and running."

Some 800 girls showed up Monday night for interviews with the screening committee in a normally masculine stronghold, the City Council chambers. Another session was scheduled for Tuesday.

LBJ Has Not Decided On Chief Justice Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today President Johnson has not made up his mind whether to submit a new nomination for chief justice.

Mansfield told an informal news conference after a White House meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President that Johnson had said he would contact him before he sent up any new nomination.

Johnson withdrew the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice at Fortas' request after a lengthy Senate controversy culminating in a filibuster against taking up the appointment.

"The President has not made up his mind as to what action he will take, but he has assured me that he will contact me when a decision is reached," Mansfield said.

Mansfield said earlier in the day that he did not expect a new nomination for chief justice at this time.

If no new nomination is forthcoming, Mansfield has indicated that Congress will be able to adjourn this week.

The current session started Jan. 15.

One of the major money bills, up for final Senate action today, is an $18.4 billion measure for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Labor Department.

It already has passed the House but in slightly different form.

FINAL VERSIONS

Senate and House conferees were drafting final versions of the annual defense and foreign-aid money bills. Differences between the two branches were not considered wide enough to endanger adjournment.

The final money bill of the session, a sharply-trimmed $101.7 million catch-all measure, was on today's House docket. Opponents of reductions in funds for new housing programs and the expanded food stamp program were expected to try to get more money.

The bill has not yet been considered by the Senate but was slated for a quick trip through that branch.

Also on the House calendar is a Senate-passed bill to make it possible for presidential candidates Richard M. Nixon, Hubert

H. Humphrey and George C. Wallace to engage in a television debate if they want to without giving equal time to other candidates.

Swing To Wallace Called Futile Gesture By Nixon

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, flying to this industrial city where George C. Wallace is said to have great strength, declared today that a swing to a third party extreme would be a futile gesture.

In remarks prepared for a campaign rally, the Republican presidential candidate pressed his view that a vote for Wallace, the American Independent party candidate, would be wasted.

MAKE CHANGE

"Do you just want to make a point or do you want to make a change?"

"Do you want to get something off your chest or do you want to get something done?"

"Do you just want to get a moment's satisfaction, or do you want to get four years of action?"

Nixon, reciting a list of ills which he attributed to the current Democratic administration, said "it is no wonder that the working man is fed up." He went on to suggest that the effective way to express dissatisfaction would be to vote for him.

"We cannot threaten to run a presidential car over people and expect peace in our cities; we cannot put an irresponsible finger on the nuclear trigger and expect to avert the horror of a nuclear war."

Wallace has said many times during the campaign that if a demonstrator were to lie down in front of his car it would be the last time the demonstrator did so.

Nixon said on Monday that if elected president, he would not step up the bombing of North Vietnam—and might even halt it if it would result in less loss of American lives.

He also said he would seek broader negotiations on Vietnam and would stand for "a peace that was generous."

CMSGT. PAUL AIREY Top AF Enlisted Man Due At Webb

C.M.Sgt. Paul W. Airey, the chief enlisted man in the Air Force, has a full schedule of events planned for his visit to Webb AFB, Oct. 14-15.

The first event, the NCO Dining-In will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m. in the NCO Open Mess, Oct. 14. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

At 8 o'clock, Sgt. Airey will be introduced for his formal address to be followed by an informal question and answer session. A dance for NCOs, their wives or dates will begin at 9 p.m. Tickets for the dance may be purchased from the first sergeant of any Webb squadron.

The following day, Sgt. Airey will attend the wing commander's "How Goes It" briefing at 8 a.m. in the wing conference room. At 9 a.m. the Air Force's top enlisted man will start a tour of the base at the credit union. As the tour ends on the flight line, C.M.Sgt. Curtis L. Singleton will show Sgt. Airey the flight lines and their operations.

At 11:30 a.m. Sgt. Airey will be honored by Big Spring officials with a luncheon at the Holiday Inn. Following the luncheon, Sgt. Airey will give a brief talk on the Air Force retention program and Project Transition, which assists retiring personnel in training for civilian employment. Each first sergeant has been asked to bring a guest, either NCO or airman.

All airmen, below the rank of staff sergeant, will assemble at the base theater at 2:30 p.m.

for an address by the chief master sergeant.

Col William C. McGlothlin, wing commander, and Col. Chandler B. Estes, base commander, will be given honorary memberships in the NCO Association at the NCOA dinner for Sgt. Airey. The sergeant will leave Webb the following morning for Laredo AFB.

Sergeant Airey is the personal advisor to the Air Force Chief of Staff on matters concerning the welfare, effective utilization and progress of an enlisted corps that numbers more than 750,000 airmen. Assuming his duties as chief enlisted man in the Air Force more than a year ago, Sgt. Airey plans to return to duty as a first sergeant when he has completed his tour at Headquarters USAF.

Charges May Be Asked In Marijuana Use Here

A. N. Standard, Howard County sheriff, said Tuesday he anticipates his office will ask that charges of marijuana sales be filed against four persons as the result of a prolonged and far flung investigation of his control of the indiscriminate sale of plastic glue," said the sheriff. "Perhaps an ordinance which would require the purchaser to sign when he bought the stuff or perhaps one with a provision limiting the number of tubes that could be bought at one time."

"The glue sniffing practice, he said, is widespread and at least one young resident has become so addicted to the habit that he is in bad condition."

"I doubt if he can be saved even if he were committed to some institution at this time," said the sheriff.

The sheriff said his prolonged check indicated that the bulk of the marijuana brought to Big Spring has been from the campuses of three or four Texas colleges. The distributors, he said, are not professional peddlers, although there is evidence that the marijuana was sold by them.

"We had a list of 65 names of young people who were said to be users of the drug," said the sheriff. "We have now talked to at least 40 of these and we have also discussed the problem with their parents."

"Nearly 100 per cent of the youngsters, with whom we have talked, have readily admitted experimenting with marijuana. Some tell us they tried one smoke and found it neither pleasant nor exciting. Others left of smoking from 15 to 20 cigarettes. Many insist that they see no damage — that they never lost their mental faculties and were in complete control of themselves at all times. They also insist that they have developed no desire for the drug."

He said that the four persons he expects to urge be charged have not been contacted.

"We know these persons," said the sheriff, "and we have had dealings with them before over this same sort of offense. We will ask that charges be filed against two at least, and probably against all four."

Next Monday noon, the sheriff will appear before the Big Spring Jaycees at their luncheon in the Downtown Tea Room to discuss the narcotics problem.

OPEN AT 8 A.M.

Polls To Open Later, Hourly Wage For Clerks

The 21 voting places in Howard County will open at 8 a.m. Nov. 5 and close at 7 p.m. The clerks and counters will be paid at the rate of $1.25 per hour.

These two decisions were made by the Howard County Commissioners Court at its meeting Monday.

Last election, the polls opened at 7 a.m. The earlier opening hour did not seem to attract enough additional voters to make it worthwhile.

The law specifies that in cities of lesser population than metropolitan areas the commissioners have the right to determine the opening and closing hours of the voting boxes.

Last election, the county paid election workers a set salary for their day's work. The per hour plan was adopted as being fairer, since many of the boxes require much longer tours of duty than the smaller boxes.

A proposal was advanced that election judges be instructed to hire as many workers as they felt needed to handle the election effectively. No final action on this proposal was taken.

A heavy vote is generally anticipated for the Nov. 5 election.

Already nearly 300 non-resident applicants for absentee votes have filed with the county clerk. Since the absentee voting cannot begin until Oct. 16, it is believed another 100 such applications or more will have been received by the opening date.

It is expected that a heavy turnout of local voters will jam

Narcotics Film Booked Here

Sheriff A. N. Standard and Jack White, education officer for the Department of Public Safety, are cooperating in a series of programs to be presented in the next few days to local groups. The programs will deal with the problem of narcotics and with the importance of law and order.

A special film on narcotics and youth has been provided to the sheriff and White by the DPS, and this will be screened at a number of the appearances of the officers are to make.

One of the first schools to see the film will be the students of Forsan. Two local schools also want to see the picture.

Three talks on law and order are scheduled. One is for the College Heights PTA at 2 p.m. Oct. 10. The second will be for the Cedar Crest PTA at 3:30 p.m. and the third, all the same day, at 7:30 p.m. for the Boydston PTA.

Next Monday noon, the sheriff will appear before the Big Spring Jaycees at their luncheon in the Downtown Tea Room to discuss the narcotics problem.

Webb Civilians Singled Out For Work Awards

Three civilians at Webb AFB were singled out for outstanding job performance at the base recently. The trio were Clyde C. Huff, Jimmy C. Harper and Mrs. Rae Miller.

Huff, who is the maintenance repair supervisor of the Webb vehicle maintenance shops, and Harper, of the base packing and crating section of the traffic management branch, were presented with Sustained Superior Performance awards.

Mrs. Miller, a secretary in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, earned an Outstanding Performance Rating for the period between May 16, 1967 and May 15, 1968.

Huff received his award for work between June 18, 1967, to May 15, 1968. He has been employed at Webb since 1952, and has held his present position since 1966.

Harper's award covers the period from May 16, 1967 to May 15, 1968. He has been at Webb since 1959. This is the second time in the last two years that the former World War II Navy veteran has merited a sustained superior performance award.

Harper lives at Hilltop Road, Huff at 508 Sunset Boulevard, and Mrs. Miller at 3720 Hatch.

Stamps To Honor Guerrilla Leader

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba is issuing five special stamps to honor Ernesto Che Guevara, the Communist guerrilla leader killed in Bolivia last October. The Communications Ministry announced the stamps will be sold in observance of the "Day of the Heroic Guerrilla," to be celebrated across Cuba Tuesday.

It is expected that a heavy turnout of local voters will jam

Dear Abby Problems In Fees

DEAR ABBY: For the umpteenth time a minister's wife has taken upon herself the impossible task of representing the clergy. This time it has to do with wedding fees, no less.

Might I encourage her to attend one of her husband's Bible classes, and there possibly learn that God has full option on her husband's time to serve the people who called him and the community into which he was called.

Ministers are already working 24 hours a day, so "moonlighting" is out. He dare not take a double fee, but must return any fees to the rightful owner, namely the congregation.

Maybe if her husband were to look on every marriage as an opportunity for worship rather than a duty, it would make his job a little easier. And the "thank you's" a little more meaningful. You may sign this.

"A LUTHERAN PASTOR" who "LOVES A WEDDING"

DEAR ABBY: May I say a few words to PASTOR'S WIFE who wrote in requesting that you remind the bridegroom to favor the minister with a monetary compensation?

This fall I will begin my study for the ministry, and I along with my pastor, disagree with her request. A few months ago a letter was printed in our bulletin stating that a minister is a salaried official, paid by the church, and as such he is compensated for weddings, funerals, and other official occasions. I went on to say that he does not desire nor would he accept compensation for these duties.

If the minister's wife who wrote to you is fed up with the long hours and extra work her husband puts in for "thank you" weddings, then she is fed up with being a minister's wife.

A pastor is not on an eight-to-five shift, and should not expect to be paid for overtime.

A minister's wife who is all that interested in the extra dough her husband receives for performing a marriage ceremony, should have married a justice of the peace. Sincerely, FUTURE PASTOR

DEAR ABBY: Re the minister's wife complaining about nonpaying bridegrooms, she should be a teacher's wife! Here are some of the off-duty chores teachers perform without pay: grading papers night after night; helping students after hours: taking tickets for school activities and supervising same; coaching groups for contests; directing school plays and collecting costumes, scenery, and settings; judging debates; taking students on field trips; and attending educational meetings. Also they are expected to teach Sunday School classes, belong to civic groups, and direct scout activities — for nothing! They get NONE of the following benefits which most Protestant ministers get: paid housing without taxes; paid repairs, utilities, and insurance for same; paid mileage, paid retirement; paid vacations; paid convention trips; a paid assistant; and expensive gifts at Christmas. In the same town, a minister and the average teacher might get about the same monthly salary, but the teacher gets paid only nine months and often uses the other three months to get more education — at his own expense. So, who should complain? Very, truly yours, TEACHER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: YOU should. And you have.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the nut from Elizabeth, N.J., whose boyfriend wears Texas type cowboy boots all the time just burned me up.

She said she thought cowboy boots were "out of place" for a well-dressed man in Elizabeth, N.J. Well, they're out of place for a well-dressed man in Houston, too!

Texas has enough sense to know where to wear cowboy boots and where NOT to wear them. We're not a bunch of bowlegged cowpokes who wear blue jeans, cowboy hats, and cowboy boots everywhere we go. Sign me.

"Hi, Granddad!"

A Long Distance call is a big occasion for Susan. She likes to talk and Granddad happens to be one of her favorite people.

Making sure her call goes through with the same speed and clarity as that of our most important business customer is one of the things we like best about the telephone business. It's a challenge. One we gladly accept.

Sending little voices on big trips is another way we're trying to make your every "hello" a real good buy.

Smith Tells Teachers He Supports Pay Hike

LI. Gov. Preston Smith, Democratic nominee for governor, reiterated before the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association here Monday evening his stand in support of a thousand dollar increase in basic teacher pay.

He did not commit himself on the Governor's Committee report for education other than to say that "I will give full consideration" to its recommendations. At the same time, he said he would welcome other suggestions from any source honestly concerned with upgrading education.

"It is time for action," he declared. "The year 1969 promises to be the most important legislative year in the history of Texas. I hope to contribute my share in the breakthrough in education in Texas."

He said the 61st Texas Legislature faced the challenge of breaking away from the average and seeking to move Texas to the top in education.

This will he acknowledged, take money, but he added that "I believe that the people agree on the necessity of quality education" even to providing the necessary funds.

Smith said he favored a teacher salary schedule that would attract new blood into a profession and reward career teachers for their fidelity and contribution.

The needs of the state are many and great, he said. "But towering like a mountain peak is the need to give Texas children the opportunity to lead a productive life."

Sections of the Governor's Committee report are controversial, he admitted, and the recommendations will have to be studied in light of ideas from other quarters. He pledged a

Muskie Slams Few 'Beauties' At Syracuse

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — War opponents and working men who either "sit this one out" or "turn to George Wallace" will be even more displeased after the presidential election, says Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, who campaigns in Florida today, met the worst heckling of his campaign Monday at Syracuse University in New York.

The Maine senator was interrupted almost every time he tried to speak by a woman with a loud speaker. The woman, Miss Judith Mage, described as the vice-presidential candidate of the Peace and Freedom party, was supported by about two dozen war opponents, some of whom shouted obscenities.

Most in the crowd of about 3,500 persons booed the hecklers, and shouted to Muskie to continue speaking from his position atop the steps in front of the school chapel. At one point, several students, identified by a school spokesman as members of the varsity football team, moved in to stand among the demonstrators. Their presence allowed Muskie several moments of uninterrupted speech.

"You're beauties, you are," an angry Muskie told the small knot of hecklers when they continued to interrupt questions asked by students. Miss Mage, making frequent use of the bull horns challenged almost every statement made by the candidate and demanded he debate her. There were no arrests.

Sterling City Man Wins Ewe Honors At State Fair

DALLAS (AP) — Judges awarded top honors for Angus cattle to Illinois breeders and for Santa Gertrudis entries to Texas owners Monday at the State Fair in Texas.

The fair's Pan-American Livestock Exposition progressed also through an auction of 31 Santa Gertrudis cattle and the selection of winners for two breeds reserve grand champion female.

Among the Angus exhibitors, Jansson Bros. of Washburn, Ill., showed the grand champion and reserve grand champion wulls.

In addition the Janssons were co-owners with William Clark of grand champion female and with Sangamour Farms of the Rush Creek Ranch of Kerens led the grand champion Santa Gertrudis bull through the ring and Burrell Ranch of Whitesboro the reserve grand champion. El Celina Ranch of Dallas had the two top females.

C. A. McDaniel of Uvalde received $3,000 apiece for the top priced bull and heifer in the Santa Gertrudis sale, in which 10 bulls brought $12,155 and 21 heifers sold for $15,350.

K. D. Eatmon of Pompano Beach, Fla., bought the McDaniel bull and Antonio Reyes of El Salvador, in Central America, the heifer.

Owners taking championships in the sheep judging: Rambouillet—Gerald Porter of Fort Stockton, champion Ram; Ovey Taliaferro of Eden, reserve champion ram; Clinton Hodges of Sterling City, champion and reserve champion ewes.

Delaine—Chris Berger of Sonora, champion and reserve champion rams and ewes.

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, Burning and Relieves Pain of Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): The embarrassing itch caused by hemorrhoids is most torturous. But science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. And all without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other hemorrhoid formula like it. Preparation H also lubricates, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Apollo 7 Astronauts Start Preparations

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Rocket, spaceship and all other aspects of the flight were reported in excellent shape today as the Apollo 7 astronauts began final preparations for soaring into orbit Friday on this nation's first three-man space mission.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., the command pilot, Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham planned to spend most of the day in a spacecraft simulator practicing many of the maneuvers they are to conduct during an earth orbit trip scheduled to last nearly 11 days.

As preparations proceeded smoothly, Dr. George E. Mueller, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's associate administrator, said "I feel Apollo 7 is as ready for flight as people can make it."

Schirra says the huge Saturn 1B rocket is almost as stable as the Brooklyn Bridge.

Blasloff of the Saturn 1B rocket is scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday. With its first stage generating 1.6-million pounds of thrust — more than the combined power of 100 jet fighter planes — the rocket will be the most powerful ever used for a U.S. man-in-space flight.

MAN TO MOON The 224-foot-tall booster is to hurl Apollo 7 into an initial orbit ranging from 142 to 176 miles high. By firing their spacecraft engine, the astronauts will shift this path several times, reaching a maximum altitude of 262 miles.

While circling the globe 164 times, the astronauts are to test all of the craft's complex systems to qualify the Apollo ship for man-to-the-moon missions.

If the Apollo 7 flight is a success, the three-man Apollo 8 crew may attempt an eight-day voyage around the moon in December. That would be a vital rehearsal for a manned lunar landing next year.

Transporting Aliens Raps

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Federal authorities disclosed Monday they have jailed two men accused of smuggling 46 Mexican nationals into this country.

Answering a complaint from neighbors, police found the aliens in a sealed and unventilated rent truck here Sept. 30. More than a dozen had suffered heat prostration in a ride from Eagle Pass, where they told of slipping across the border, and three died.

Officers lodged charges of transporting aliens illegally against Juan Torres Equia, 31, of San Antonio, and his stepbrother, Anthony H. Arrellano of Chicago.

They said Arrellano was arrested Friday in Chicago and Equia the next day in San Antonio.

A U. S. commissioner fixed bond at $50,000 for Equia at his arraignment here and he was transferred to the county jail at Del Rio.

Investigators said they had learned that Equia wrote a check for rent on a supposedly vacant house where the truck containing the aliens was found, and that Arrellano made a cash deposit for utilities at the house.

U. S. Atty. Ernest Morgan said more than a score of federal officers representing several agencies were engaged in investigating the case. He said they were trying to determine whether the two men were involved in similar incidents.

If convicted, Equia and Arrellano face maximum penalties of a five-year jail term, $2,000 fine or both.

Visiting Candidate Stirs Up Enthusiastic Rally Here

Preston Smith, wearing an air of confidence over the outlook of November's governor election, stirred up an enthusiastic Democratic rally when he called in Big Spring Monday afternoon.

A hundred or more persons greeted at the Settles Hotel, and cheered him on occasion as he made brief, informal remarks.

Smith is the Democratic nominee for governor, and said he feels that the party's ticket in Texas is "Getting along all right."

Smith continued to recite his experience in state government, and said he didn't believe Texans are going for any kind of experiment "for the sake of a new label." He has been state representative, state senator and lieutenant governor.

He outlined the state party's platform, and said it encompasses what the citizens themselves called for. He noted that there is top concern about crime, about improving the state's educational system. He pledged to work to bring about a state program to combat crime, and said he was committed to a full program for upgrading education in Texas.

This means, he said, heavy emphasis on vocational or on-the-job training, to help "those people who need it the most," as well as helping raise standards in public schools and in state colleges.

Smith also pledged that he will work for a long-range water program (this state's greatest problem) which will "be concerned with every section of the state."

Smith said he didn't see the sentiment about national parties would affect the state Democratic ticket. He stressed that "I am voting Democratic, from the White House to the courthouse," but also said that, as governor, he would not necessarily accept every program that would come out of Washington.

The Lubbock man emphasized that the governor's office "belongs to the people — I don't own it, and I want the people to express themselves, after election day as well as before."

Smith was accompanied here by David Ratliff of Sanford, state senator from this district, and he lauded Ratliff as an able governmental leader.

15 Students Arrested, Chicago Cops Injured

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen students were arrested and two policemen were injured Monday in disturbances at three Chicago high schools.

Negro student demands for more influence in the schools triggered the incidents at Harrison and Austin High Schools on the City's West Side. The arrest of a Negro student sparked the trouble at Morgan Park High School on the Southwest Side.

Classes were dismissed at Harrison after nine persons were arrested during a disturbance which followed a walkout by some 600 Negro pupils.

Tables and chairs were overturned and bottles thrown at police who forced pupils from the school's cafeteria. Police Sgt. John Moroney was hit in the head with a brick during the scuffle.

About 250 students later chartered buses to ride to the downtown offices of the Board of Education, where they presented officials with a list of grievances.

Among their demands were courses in Afro-American history, and also asked for more Negro teachers and administrators.

Harrison has some 3,300 students, about two-thirds of whom are Negro.

There were no arrests or injuries at Austin High School where 200 Negro students walked out in dissatisfaction over an assembly called to discuss grievances.

The pupils had demanded that Negroes teach Afro-American history, and also asked for more Negro teachers and counselors. Nearly half the school's 3,000 students are Negro.

Glad Wallace Picked LeMay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., quipped Monday that he was glad former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama didn't choose a Texan for a running mate.

"I think this will level off with Wallace picking Gen. Curtis LeMay as his running mate," the Senator said. "LeMay is fixing to take Spiro Agnew's reputation away as the biggest vote loser."

Yarborough noted that this is the first time in 20 years that a Texan hasn't been on a national party ticket—each time the winning one. He pointed out that President Eisenhower was born in Denison.

"The state's senior senator said he believed the Hubert Humphrey campaign was getting a good response in Texas.

"If the election were held today," he continued, "I wouldn't know how it'd turn out. But on election day I think Humphrey will carry Texas."

He said the Humphrey forces were conducting a "poor boy's campaign—which is the only kind I've ever run."

The senator warned Democrats that the GOP could win "if the Democrats don't get out and work."

Closing Of An Era

Texas may reach its lowest ebb in Washington influence in modern times after Jan. 1. That will surely be the case if the Republicans win the presidency and gain a majority in the House.

Since the 1930s Texas has had two vice presidents, a House speaker, a Senate majority leader, and a President. Outgoing in January will be the President and numerous Texas White House aides, two Texas Cabinet members (Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and Postmaster General Marvin Watson), and former Gov. Price Daniel, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, member of the National Security Council, and presidential liaison agent with state governments.

Texas now has chairmen on five

House committees, including the powerful House Appropriations Committee, though no Senate chairmen. Should the Republicans win House control, Texas would have no chairmanships in Congress.

Texas will have to fall back on its not inconsiderable basic political influence. This state has moved from sixth to fifth in population and may be fourth by the 1970 census. And in another decade it may be third. There is always another election coming up, and that kind of numerical political power cannot be safely slighted, especially now that Texas has become a "battleground state."

Nevertheless, the "Texas era" in Washington is drawing to a close, and this will require considerable readjustment.

A Younger Population

Caught up as we are in the paroxysm of a presidential election in a time of ferment and uncertainty, the 1970 decennial census seems far away. Yet it is right upon us, just as are some of the implications of it.

It doubtless will confirm that the American population is growing younger. Estimates are that the census will reveal an average age of 27 instead of an average of 29 just two years ago.

Translated into terms of political action, the electorate will be growing younger. What will the basic attitudes be? Will the youngest voters be drawn into more active participation, and if so will this be reflected in new proposals? For instance, what will be the attitude toward the draft? What will be the attitude toward other established practices?

These questions are something to contemplate, for they are the facts of life which the astute should note and the less astute should have confirmed within a couple of years.

Holmes Alexander The Anti-Election Urchins

WITH THE CANDIDATES — He looked like Judas Iscariot, and he talked like a Bolshevik. He was a hippie with an immature yellow beard and unkempt hair and smelly clothing. He was still in a glow of excitement after shrieking and gesticulating through a half-hour speech by Hubert Humphrey.

"We're the anti-election committee," he told me amid the tacky-gang which very nearly howled down the vice president in downtown Boston.

I UNPOCKETED my notebook and took his name. He added that he was a recent college graduate and this brought a howl of Irish derision from bystanders. "Graduate of what — the eighth grade? Who'd ever give you a diploma, ya bum?" I wasn't going to use his name or that of his college, but the anti-election committee sounded sufficiently newsworthy.

"We're organized in every city," he went on "and we're going to break up the election if we can. There's nothing else left for us to do," he wailed. "We can't accept any of the three candidates. If Nixon comes to Boston we'll do the same to him, and we'll do it again to Humphrey when he comes back in October."

I ASKED HIM if his gang intended (as I'd heard in Chicago) to try to block off the polling places on election day. He said the matter was under discussion, and I asked him by whom.

"We're organizing as the Coalition of Resistance on a national basis," he said. "We're the peace and freedom committee and the Students for a Democratic Society, the McCarthy

Billy Graham

I have an overwhelming desire to take my own life. I try to dismiss it from my mind, but it recurs several times a day. I have some problems, but probably no more than the average. Why do I have this terrible urge? Can you help me?

A.H.

The recurring reasons for suicide given in suicide notes are: bad health, feelings of guilt, loneliness, being unwanted, being unneeded, and financial difficulties. In studies made of suicides in the U.S., there are indications that people who take their lives usually have no more reason for doing so than those who don't. So, there are strong evidences that suicide is a spiritual problem, at least, in part. You will recall the demonic from Gadara who had cut himself with stones, trying to destroy himself. Jesus cast the unclean (or suicide demon) out of him, and "he was clothed and in his right mind."

My first suggestion to you is that you have your minister and a few close friends pray that this urge to destroy yourself be "cast out" and removed. If, after that, you still have this suicidal urge, see a competent psychiatrist. Sometimes such urges are physically based. I know of one man who had an urge to take his life who found, through his physician, that he had a tumor on the brain. But the basic cure is an encounter with Christ.

Business Mirror Rockefellers Helping Indians

By JACK LEFLER
NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. company with the double-barreled aim of making profits and helping the economic and social progress of underdeveloped countries has been operating 21 years but few Americans know about it.

The firm is International Basic Economy Corp., a part of the Rockefeller empire.

It was founded in Brazil and Venezuela in 1947 by Nelson A. Rockefeller, now governor of New York, and his brothers. It now operates 130 subsidiaries and affiliates in 33 countries.

ROCKEFELLER'S interest in South America stemmed from a visit in 1937 to the Venezuela oil properties of Creole Petroleum Corp., of which he was a director. It was heightened by his World War II work as U.S. coordinator of commercial and cultural relations between the American Republics.

IBEC's first undertakings in Venezuela were a farming company, a fishing company, a food wholesaling company and a milk company.

Then and now, IBEC executives say, the purpose was: "To do a worldwide, profitable business in fields important to economic development and concerned with basic human needs."

IBEC'S START wasn't without its troubles. American executives ran into resistance to change in the ways of doing business and political and monetary instability. Some of its ventures were ill-conceived for certain areas and failed to show a profit. They have been liquidated.

Operations have been refined into five groups:

Food—Operates 52 supermarkets in South America, raises hybrid seed corn, catches and cans tuna, processes and distributes milk and other food products.

Poultry—Supplies breeding stock to chicken farmers in 23 countries.

Housing — Has constructed about 13,000 one-family, low-and medium-cost houses in Puerto Rico. Programs are under way in Mexico, Peru, the Virgin Islands and the United States.

Industrial—Manufactures a wide range of metal products in the United States and overseas. Financial services and investment—Manages mutual funds in six countries, plus worldwide insurance brokerage operations and varied investments.

The Rockefeller are majority stockholders in IBEC but there are about 1,000 other shareholders. (John Caniff is on vacation.)

To Your Good Health The Tuberculin Misunderstanding

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My husband had a skin test and chest X-ray this year and also previously. The results were: skin test positive, chest X-ray negative. It was written on his card NOT to get any more tuberculin skin tests.

Could he have TB with a positive skin test? Why shouldn't he have any more? — Mrs. E.S.

The useful little tuberculin skin test seems to be one of the most misunderstood tests in the book.

A "positive" skin test means that the person has been exposed to the tubercle bacillus and protective antibodies against the germ have formed in the blood. It does not necessarily mean that he has tuberculosis, only that the exposure has occurred.

(It has also been shown that persons with negative tuberculin tests may become positive after receiving a blood transfusion from a donor who has a positive reaction. This is not unfavorable. It means that the recipient has acquired antibodies from the transfused blood. It does not indicate infection.)

A "negative" skin test means that a person has NOT been exposed to the germ — and if he hasn't been exposed to the germ he cannot have tuberculosis.

Thus, when the skin test is negative, there is no need for a chest X-ray so far as tuberculosis is concerned. But with a positive tuberculin test, there may or may not be active tuberculosis, so it is necessary to use some other means to decide — the chest X-ray.

Once a person's skin test has become positive, it will remain positive thereafter, so nothing further is to be learned from any more skin tests. (Even if a person does have active tuberculosis, the skin test is no index of its severity.)

Anyway, when a skin test is positive, thereafter it is wise for the person to have a chest X-ray periodically, say each year.

Incidentally, it also is possible for repeated tuberculin tests to bring about a positive result even though the person has not been exposed to the germ other than in the skin tests. In such a case, even though the patient reacts positively to the skin test, he will not develop tuberculosis from it. It still requires actual exposure to the disease to get it.

But since you cannot know for certain what caused the positive reaction, the tests or actual exposure, again the only safe precaution is to have regular chest X-rays.

Dear Dr. Molner: The skin on my arms and back is blemished with small brown moles. Can too many of them be harmful? Is it true that they can be removed by putting iodine on them? If not, how can they be removed? — S.G.

The number of moles isn't the important thing. The principal risk of a mole is that it may be rather constantly irritated, as from shaving, or the chafing of belt, shoulder strap, bra, or whatnot.

If a mole bleeds or changes in size or color, it should be reported to your doctor promptly, as sometimes this can be a sign of malignancy.

Iodine won't remove moles, but your doctor can do it either by cautery or office surgery. Or if a mole is in such a location as to make a scar objectionable, have a plastic surgeon or a dermatologist do the removing.

Note to Mrs. T.L.C.: Yes, polyps in the colon are something to worry about because of the relative frequency with which they ultimately tend to become malignant. The safe thing, therefore, is to have them removed when found. (They have no relationship to hemorrhoids.)

Around The Rim Those Calls In The Night

The other night just as I had crawled into bed and tucked myself neatly under the covers, the telephone rang.

A woman's voice asked: "What time is it, please?"

RATHER THAN tell the woman that it was not the time to call harmless, peaceable, sleepy newsmen and ask questions nor to explain that it was probably the woman had dialed the wrong number, I merely glanced at the clock.

"It is ten minutes past ten o'clock," I said.

"Thank you very much," said my caller and hung up.

I have been called at all hours of the night and have been asked all kinds of questions. I have drunks inquire of me if I could tell them the winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1907; who the U.S. senator is from Puerto Rico; when the next eclipse would occur.

ONE NIGHT, when it was raining cats and dogs and the wind had been blowing a gale, the phone rang.

The hour was 4 a.m.

"What're you doin'?" demanded the caller.

"I'm trying to get some sleep," I responded with great dignity. "What should I be doing at 4 o'clock in the morning?"

"You should be down here at the hospital," said the voice. "To go with me in the ambulance. We've had a tornado hit the southeast side of town and there's no telling how many are dead or hurt."

"I'll be with you in a minute," I said, pulling on my pants.

ANOTHER NIGHT, when I was very very deep in sleep, the jangle of the phone awakened me.

"Bill and Cecil just shot and killed a couple Mexicans," said the wide-awake voice of the county jailer. (Bill and Cecil were two deputy sheriffs.)

"So what?" I mumbled, "why call me at this hour?"

"Oh, I thought you'd like to know," said the jailer.

I crawled back in bed and then what the man had said got through to my sleepdrugged brain.

I hurried down town.

IT WAS TRUE that the two deputies had slain two Mexicans — the thing that made it more than common mill run homicides was that the two slain men were nephews of the then president of Old Mexico. The ensuing scandal which developed in my community reached to Washington and to Mexico City. It finally resulted in the United States paying $25,000 indemnity to Mexico for the deaths.

In the old days, chats with what they regarded as a sense of humor, had a trick of calling up every one they could think of early in the morning of each Jan. 1.

WHEN THEY had shaken you out of your slumber and you had answered the phone these wisecracks would ask in solemn tones "Is this 1936?" No, you would answer — it is 1968.

The caller would break into a brag of asinine laughter.

"Get with it, old son," they'd bellow. "Look at your calendar." I seldom laughed at the joke.

I sometimes think there are more wrong than right numbers anyway.

Marquis Childs Muskie Adds To Demo Ticket

LOS ANGELES — Crisscrossing back and forth across the country, Sen. and Mrs. Edmund S. Muskie are having a ball. Grim as Democratic prospects are and demanding as the schedule is, the candidate for vice president readily concedes that never before has he had such a fascinating and rewarding experience.

It took him a week or so to get acclimated to the bright, hot glare of national attention. Cautious and understated at the start, he soon hit his stride. His relaxed and friendly manner is reflected in the ever-increasing crowds that come out to see this hitherto unknown senator from Maine.

AGAIN AND AGAIN this reporter has heard both Democrats and Republicans say, "Of all four candidates I like him best." Recognizing that Muskie is one of the few pluses in his rugged uphill campaign, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has given him a free hand to direct his own course with a minimum of official coordination.

Early in the game Muskie acquired a gentle but effective way with hecklers. First he listened. Then as he began to do at Washington, Pa., where students of Washington and Jefferson College were booing aid to education, he got a leader to come up to the platform. What, you're booing aid to education? You, who are college students? With his mild irony he reduced them to silence.

GRANTED, of course, that his hecklers are nothing like as noisy and persistent as the young who disrupt Humphrey's meetings. Muskie carries far less of the burden of blame as the young, see it for the Administration's Vietnam policy. His is a new face in a year when the two principals are old faces out of a past that the obstreperous young have completely rejected.

IN WHAT has become his standard speech, really parts of three separate speeches assembled in various ways for various audiences, Muskie talks about the 40,000,000 people who at the turn of the century streamed into this country. They came in search of freedom and, they say with quiet and yet moving dignity, they learned how to be free and how to use freedom. There are forces, he goes on, seeking to exploit the tensions and fears in society today, to build walls between peoples, and that can only lead to the destruction of the democratic system.

ONE OF THE flood of immigrants who came to the land of promise in the early years of the century was Muskie's father. A tailor in his native Poland, the father's last name was originally Marciszewski. But when he arrived at Ellis Island in 1903, knowing no English, the immigration officials followed a common practice and wrote him down as Muskie. His mother was a native of Buffalo, N.Y., where many Poles had settled.

THE MUSKIE story follows a familiar American pattern. He worked his way through Bates College in Maine, made Phi Beta Kappa and went to Cornell Law School. Because clients were scarce in Waterville, Maine, when he started to practice law he went into politics. For a Democrat his rise in Republican Maine was spectacular. After the legislature he served two terms as governor. Following a nonpartisan course he achieved a number of educational and economic programs. In 1958 he became the first popularly elected Democratic senator in the history of the state.

HE SHOWS no signs today — a candidate for the second highest office in the land — of pride or pomposity. As he moves in and out of his chartered jet with official parties and flag-waving crowds out to greet him at each stop, back of the shock of surprise still evident — you mean all this is for me? — is a shrewd awareness of what he adds to the beleaguered Democratic ticket.

Art Buchwald Curing The Nuclear Weapon Phobia

WASHINGTON — One of the things that Gen. Curtis LeMay said at his press conference last week was that Americans seem to have a phobia about nuclear weapons. This struck home because I have to admit I've had such a phobia for some time. But only after Gen. LeMay brought it up did I decide to do something about it. I went to see Dr. Adolph Strainedluff, a psychiatrist who specialized in nuclear weapon phobias.

"On the couch," he said. "Vat seems to be the trouble?"

"DOCTOR," I said staring at the ceiling, "I have this fear of nuclear weapons. I know it's silly, but to me it's very real."

"Aha, very interesting. Ven did you first become aware of such a phobia?"

"I think it was around the time of Hiroshima or Nagasaki. I'm not sure which. I saw these photos of all these people killed and miles and miles of rubble, and suddenly I got this thing about atomic weapons."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF tapped a pencil against his knee. "So tell me, how does this phobia manifest itself?"

"In peculiar ways, Doctor. I get the feeling if I ever see a mushroom cloud, I'm going to die."

"Very interesting, very interesting. You know it's all in the mind, don't you?"

"Of course. That's why I came to you. I don't want to do anything stupid."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF said, "You are a very sick man. You think that just because an atomic bomb killed a few thousand people 23 years ago, you are threatened. You are manifesting infantile repressed hostility toward the weapons of war. In psychiatry we call this a military-industrial inferiority complex."

"I know I'm sick. You've got to help me," I begged.

"All right. First you haff to get over this absurd fear of nuclear bombs. You must think of them as just another weapon in our vast defensive arsenal. Ve haff bowie knives and H-bombs, and in war, one is just as good as another. You're not afraid of a knife, are you?"

"Well, I don't think about it a lot."

"SO VY SHOULD you be afraid of an H-bomb? It's another form of a knife."

"I never thought of it like that."

"Okay, so now let's look at some facts straight in the eye. In Bikur a ve blew up 20 bombs in an experiment. So ve thought everything would be destroyed; that's how stupid ve vere. Do you know that now aft er the boom boom, the place is flourishing and the rats are fatt er than they ever vas before?"

"It's good to hear."

"So, then you don't haff anything to worry about."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF started playing with the hand grenade which was attached to his watch fob. "If you're going to be a happy, normal human being," he shouted, "you're going to haff to stop with all these guilty peace feelings."

He was stomping around the room. "So get out of here with your lousy phobias, and all this stuff about being afraid to die. If you're not vill ing to take a little fallout for the good of the country, then go back where you came from!"

A LOVELIER YOU

Give Leather Wear Tender Loving Care

Leather fashions have never been more popular or more diversified. Coats, jackets, vests, shirts, pants, skirts, dresses, hats...

To the virtues of handsome looks, comfort and utility, leather garments add minimal upkeep. Just a bit of tender leather care pays dividends of even greater satisfaction in long, happy wear.

Care methods are well worth noting. Actually the simplest procedures are the most effective. The two main types of garment leather are classified as smooth and suede.

Deeply soiled suede leather, with its nappy surface, responds best to professional dry cleaning, although some suedes are now washable.

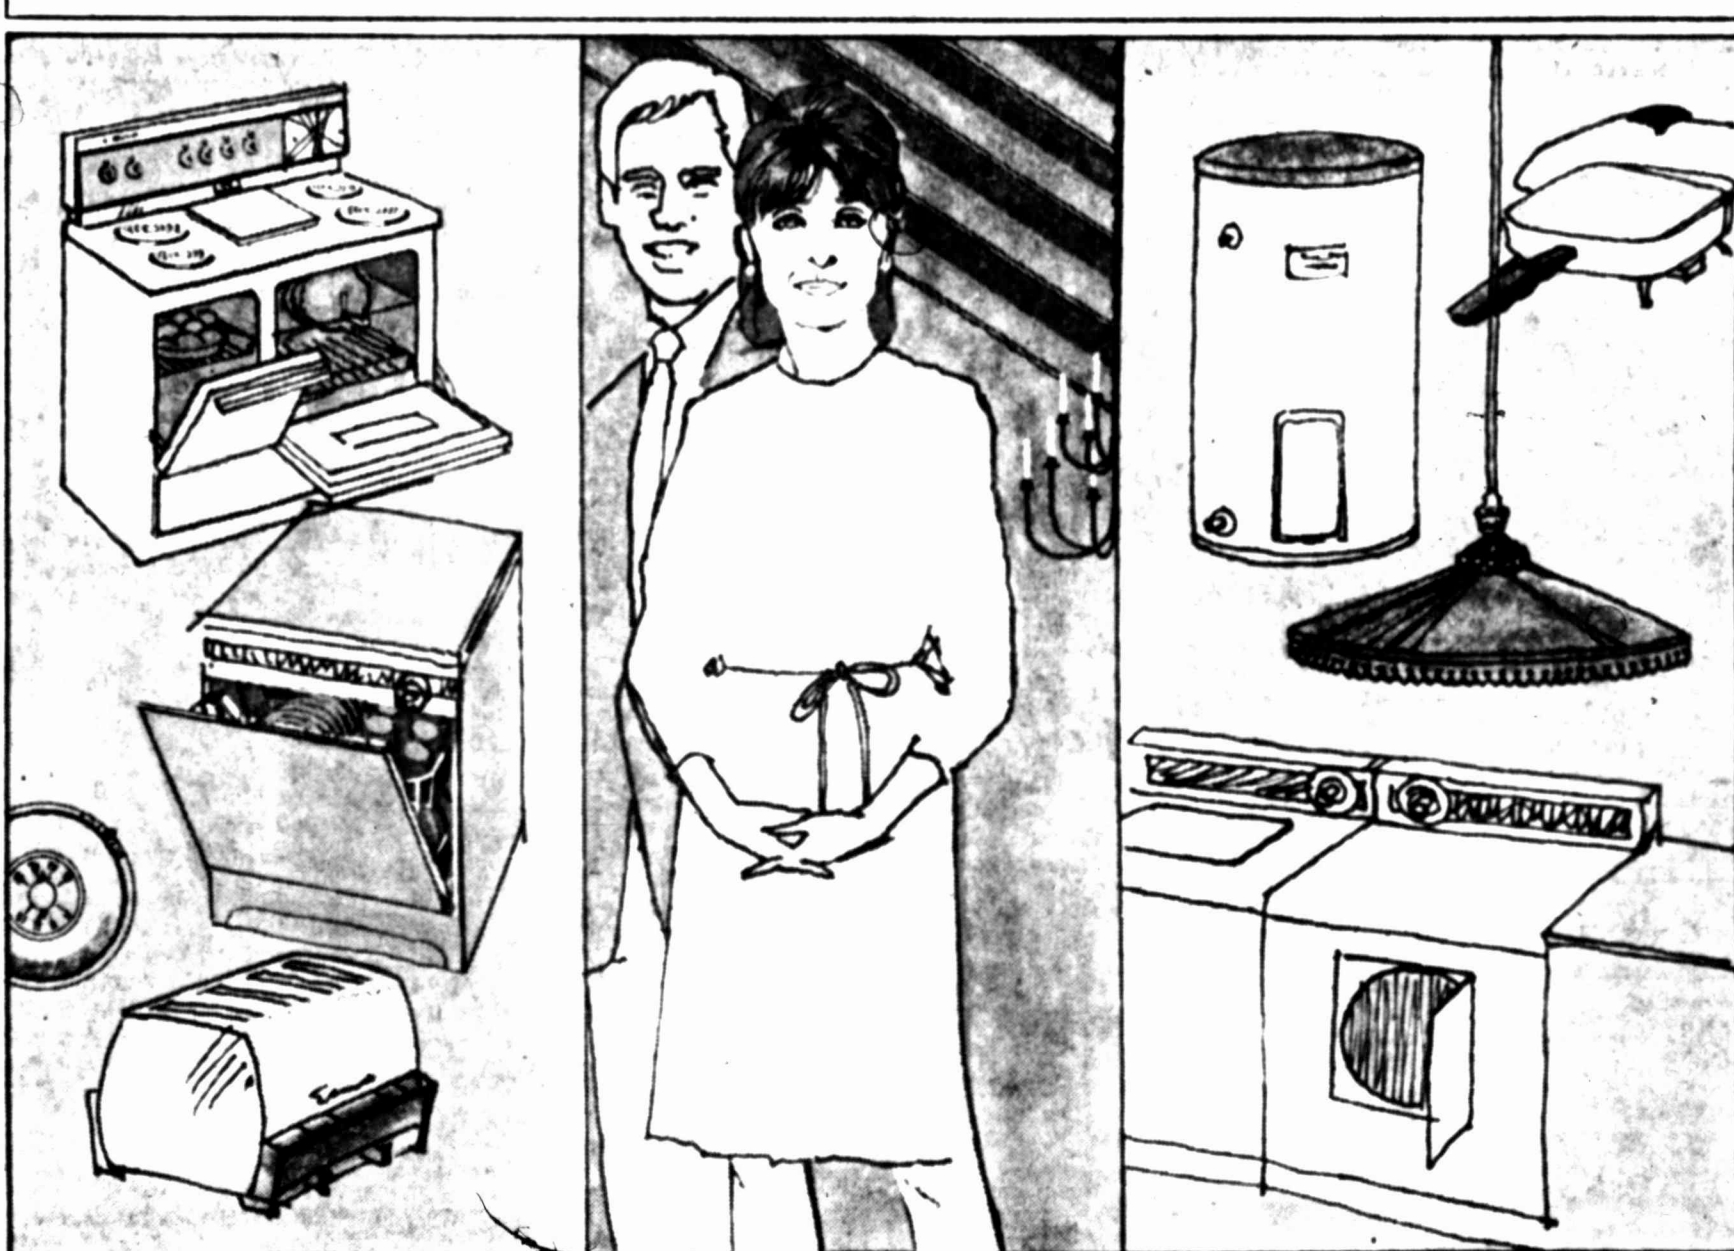

Discussion Puts Home Vs. Career

"Can the Educated Woman be a Contented Housewife?" was the question asked by Mrs. Thomas Ross when she presented the program for the American Association of University Women study group meeting Monday evening.

The program was a discussion comparison of Betty Friedan's "Feminine Mystique" and Phyllis McGinley's "Sixpence in Her Shoe," expressing pros and cons of whether a woman can feel justified in pursuing a career in addition to being a housewife.

The meeting was held in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College with Mrs. Cass Hill presiding and 20 in attendance.

HINTS FROM HELOISE Make Sturdy Mitts For Floor Waxing

Dear Heloise: Before tackling that dreaded floor waxing job next time (if you don't own a wax applicator), take just a few minutes to do the following. You'll be pleasantly surprised at the results.

Stitch up a tubular mitt of some soft, sturdy cloth for each hand. (Terry cloth would be fine, but I happened to use the long sleeves of a discarded cotton knit dress.)

while doing this job. Just squat down with feet tucked under and sway from the waist, side to side while applying the wax. You can almost feel that wasteful melt away!

Now, saturate the palms and fingertips of the mitts with liquid wax. Then while on your knees, you can apply the wax with both hands maintaining perfect balance. This makes the job fast and easy.

When the mitts run out of wax just pour some on the floor and wipe away again. Why not at least try my way next time when waxing must be done? I bet you can polish your floors in half the time.

Great idea, Sue. Sure a wonderful way to get the maximum use of those colored sets where the top sheet has outlasted the bottom or vice versa.

And another thing, you can kill two birds with one stone if you like. For those (like myself) who keep promising to do some waist exercises, you can get it

Officials Work Out Details Of New Zoning Ordinance

By KEN LEACH

Copies of a new proposed city zoning ordinance may be ready within three to four weeks, according to Marvin Springer, of Dallas, city planning consultant.

Members of the Planning and Zoning Board and the city commission met with Springer Monday night to work out proposed items in a revised zoning ordinance.

Under the tentative ordinance, shopping centers would be zoned under special planned areas. Heavy and light commercial areas would be designated under the plan. Heavy commercial would take in contractor yards and other heavy uses, while light commercial would be zoned for garages, used car lots, light machinery and warehouses.

All newly annexed property would come into the city under an "agriculture zone" instead of the present single family residence zone. This would create a holding zone while development of the property is planned.

Several areas in the city would come under a proposed flood plan. The zone would prohibit building in the area until flooding could be controlled. The area could be used as parks, playgrounds, golf courses or for agriculture.

Under the proposed ordinance, the prefix PF would be added before zones to designate areas as flood plane areas. This would allow for future planning of an area, but would prohibit building until such time as flooding is not a problem.

Under the present ordinances, livestock, such as horses, pigs and chickens, are prohibited from being kept in the city limits. This provision would be kept under the proposed ordinance.

Beauty shops would not be permitted in homes under the new ordinance, nor are they under the present ordinance.

Specific use permits would have to be granted by the city commission for day nurseries, private clubs, and veterinarian clinics.

Provisions under the new ordinance would provide for the city commission to handle new situations by resolution, rather than ordinance.

An official zoning map would be created under the new plan in three sections. The first section would be filed when the ordinance goes into effect and would not be changed. This map would be used in court proceedings to prove how the property was zoned at the beginning of the ordinance.

Two other copies of the map would be kept by the city engineer — one for updating purposes and the other would reflect the present zoning conditions. Under this plan, up-to-date copies of the official map would be available to the public.

Members of the planning and zoning board present at the meeting were Elmo Phillips, James Cape, J. D. Jones, Bill Sheppard and John Ferguson. Commissioners present were Mayor Arnold Marshall, Mayor pro tem George Zachariah, Jimmy Morehead and Garner McAdams.

The proposed ordinance will be subject to public hearing before its passage by the city commission. Time for the hearing will be set at some future date.

Two Big Spring men and the Big Spring work unit of the Soil Conservation Service received awards today from H. N. Smith, Temple, state conservationist, for outstanding performance.

W. S. Goodlett Jr., area conservationist, and T. R. (Blackie) Morris, soil conservation technician of the Big Spring unit, were assigned outstanding performance ratings for July 1, 1967 to June 30, 1968.

The Big Spring work unit of the SCS was honored for above average production during the same period. The unit consists of Gerald Miller, work unit conservationist; J. C. Wall Jr., soil conservationist; Chesley M. Wilson, range conservationist; T. R. Morris, soil conservation technician; and Darrell Blagrove, part-time soil conservation technician.

Also given outstanding performance ratings with Goodlett were Duane Moss, work unit conservationist, Brownfield; and William Dugger, soil conservation technician, Brownfield.

The awards were given by Smith at a meeting of area Soil Conservation Service personnel at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association here.

There are 51 people in the Big Spring area from 12 work units and the area office covering 14 counties in nine SCS districts.

The award was accompanied by James Abbott, assistant state conservationist, and Ernest Shillingburg, personnel director.

Two Big Springers Gain SCS Awards

Howard County 4-H club Achievement banquet is to be held at 7 p.m. tonight in the Big Spring High School cafeteria. Paul Gross, county farm agent, said that preparations are being made to serve 300 persons.

Highlight of the evening will be announcement of the boy and girl selected as the 1968 Gold Star winners. The Gold Star award is the highest honor a 4-H club member can receive at county level.

In addition to the Gold Star winners, about 100 county 4-H boys and girls will be singled out for special recognition for outstanding work in many fields.

Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, Howard County state representative, will be on hand to issue the awards.

Billy Gunter, district extension agent, Lubbock will speak briefly.

Larry Shaw, president of the Howard County 4-H Club Council, will preside.

300 Expected At Banquet

Three cases of screwworm infection have been confirmed on the R. L. Powell ranch, 15 miles southeast of Coahoma, Paul Gross, county farm agent, said today.

These three cases bring to nine the total number of confirmed infections in the county this year and the Powell property is the sixth ranch on which the parasites have been found.

Gross said that the anti-screwworm center had been notified and the Powell ranch will be treated with an aerial bombardment of sterile male screwworm flies.

The week of Oct. 3 showed 10 ranches in the West Texas area where screwworm infections were confirmed.

The spread of the invasion is becoming more and more disturbing to cattlemen. Last year, not a single infection was reported in this county and many ranchers had high hopes that the evil had been erased.

Lamesa Trustees Canvass Successful Vote Returns

LAMESA — Trustees of the Lamesa Independent School District canvassed returns Monday evening from Saturday's $2,200,000 bond election to finance updating of the system's physical facilities.

The issue carried Saturday by 1123-820, a reversal of a vote in 1965 for an issue to finance a new high school.

Rittenberry and Alexander have been given the green light by the board to proceed with final plans for the construction of a new Middle School complex to house grades five through eight, and also to make other improvements including a $336,000 addition and renovation program at the high school.

The Middle School will replace the 48-year-old building housing Central Elementary School and the 43-year-old plant of Lamesa Junior High.

In approving the new issue voters gave assent to raising taxes from $1.50 to $1.77 per $100 valuation, the latter assessed on 50 per cent of actual value. Proponents pointed out that would still leave the district with one of the lower actual rates in the region.

NIXON LEADS BY ONE VOTE

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — At least one vote already has been cast for president of the United States. It may be the first in the nation.

Marvin Manning, 32, of Bristow, Conn., voted Monday when ballots for newcomers became available. A new law permits non-residents of Oklahoma, who would have been qualified electors in their home state, to vote for president by using applications available through Oct. 21.

Manning said he is a registered independent and voted for Richard Nixon.

'Herding' Fish Grant Unfurled

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The National Science Foundation has awarded Texas A&M University a $43,500 grant for fish behavioral research. Dr. Herman Kleerekoper of A&M's Institute of Life Science said the research could lead to development of more effective means for repelling sharks.

The A&M research program also will seek to determine the possibility of "herding" fish for commercial purposes.

Kin Hunting Wife Killer

TISHOMINGO, Okla. (AP) — Brothers and cousins of a missing Chickasaw Indian man went into the rattlesnake-infested hills of southeastern Oklahoma today to hunt down their fugitive kin who has hidden for seven days apparently with his frail 4-year-old son.

The search for Loy Factor, 43, and his son, Donald, followed a family conference that lasted most of the night.

Factor is named in a murder warrant in the death of his wife, Juanita, 31.

The Indian man has one artificial leg, suffers from diabetes, and is subject to epileptic seizures. He lost his leg earlier when bitten by rattlesnakes in the same hills where he is hiding.

Bloodhounds, airplanes and hundreds of searchers afoot and on horseback failed to find any significant trace of Factor or his son since they disappeared into an 18-square-mile block of wilderness last Wednesday.

Also on that day, Factor's 14-year-old stepdaughter, Deborah, led officers to a shallow grave in the edge of the woods that yielded the body of her mother.

Deborah told officers of a two-week trek through the woods during which Factor told the seven children their missing mother had been bitten by a spider and was in a hospital.

Deborah and five younger children finally fled to the home of relatives.

Four Killed

Four Wichita Falls men were killed Monday when their single-engine plane crashed while attempting to land at the municipal airport at Hot Springs, Ark. Airport authorities said the plane clipped a high power line and flipped over short of the runway. The victims were identified as Larry Robinson, Donald Harris, George B. Cox and Frank B. Stewart.

Band Boosters To Stage Fun Fare Following Game

The Big Spring Abilene Cooper football game won't be the only big show in town Friday evening.

No, indeed, for after the game is over, the Big Spring Band Boosters will kick off Fun Fare, a conglomeration of food and drink, booths, "super garage sale," and live entertainment.

The affair, which continues through Saturday and concludes Sunday afternoon, will be held in the former Lewis 5 & 10 location in College Park Shopping Center.

The hours on the opening evening will be until 1 a.m. Saturday the hours will be 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Members of the Runnels and Goliad Junior High bands will join in furnishing novelties and other musical entertainment.

LAMESA — Relocation of a trailer manufacturing company here has been announced by Keith Crozier, Arlington.

He said that his firm, formerly known as Cobra Manufacturing Co., would be relocated here on N. 2nd Street under the name of Lamesa Trailer Sales and Manufacturing Co. He will start out Nov. 1 with six to eight employees and hopes to boost this eventually to 25 Crozier, on a visit here with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Greenwood, became interested in Lamesa and changed plans to relocation either in Lubbock or Odessa.

'Hot' Yarn

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Fireman C. E. White was first on the scene at a fire recently but he couldn't find the source of the smoke which filled the kitchen.

He called for help and soon firemen filled the kitchen about as thick as the smoke.

One of them accidentally looked at the toaster and solved the problem. It was the source of the fire.

The smoke was in fireman White's house.

Charge Filed In Gun Case

Eusebio Morales, 19, who is accused of having shot Nerberto Guzman, 33, in the left leg last Saturday night, has been charged with possession of a prohibited weapon. The case was filed in the Howard County Court today by Wayne Burns, district attorney, who acted in the absence of Deon J. Davis, county attorney, now on vacation.

Sheriff A. N. Standaard, who investigated the shooting, said that it was decided that a charge of assault with intent to murder which had been completed for Morales, was abandoned when investigation indicated that there was a strong element of self defense in the case.

Guzman is making satisfactory recovery from the .22 caliber gunshot injury.

ALLES WELL THAT ENDS...

LONDON (AP) — One of England's High Court judges ruled Monday that a chap is entitled to stop at a pub for a drink on his way from work, without abuse from his wife when he gets home.

Mrs. Justice Elizabeth Lane, the only woman High Court judge in the land, granted a divorce to John Deane, 58, a carpenter who said his wife, Florence, shouted and attacked him whenever he came home after a pause at the pub.

Deane left home to escape the rows, and Mrs. Justice Lane said he was right to do so.

"Had he continued to live under those circumstances he might have had some sort of breakdown," she declared.

Enemy Plans Something Big

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military officers are weighing intelligence that indicates the enemy in Vietnam will attempt "something big" in the way of a new offensive before the end of the year.

Captured enemy officers have told interrogators in Vietnam they think their leaders in Hanoi would like to make a big splash in U.S. headlines about the time of the Nov. 5 election.

It is not clear to American military men exactly what Hanoi thinks might be accomplished if its troops were able to make a major psychological impact with new assaults around election day.

Doug, Marie Price Are Big Spring's Barbecue Leaders

BIG SPRING'S BARBECUE KING
Doug Price of Price's Barbecue, 2000 Gregg

If you're driving down Gregg Street and your nose catches the sweet scent of barbecue about the 2000 block, don't be surprised if you follow the aroma to Price's Barbecue, 2000 Gregg, the home of Doug and Marie Price, the King and Queen of Barbecue in Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Price are long-time favorites of Big Spring barbecue connoisseurs. They came to Big Spring six years ago and have been in the barbecue business here ever since. Doug is an old hand at the food business. He started as a washer and cook in 1929, which means he has 39 years experience.

Price's Barbecue, which was completely redecorated before it opened on Sept. 12, has a friendly, homey atmosphere where you and your family or friends can eat an enjoyable meal cafeteria style in comfortable surroundings. The new business has plenty of room with places for 60 people.

Specialties of the house include barbecue ribs, sausage, beef and ham, with special prices on chopped barbecue. Extras include potato or macaroni salad, beans, cole slaw, vegetable salad and dessert.

A regular plate at Price's is enough to fill any stomach, with a large portion of meat, potato or macaroni salad, beans, pickles, onions and peppers. A large order also includes a coleslaw.

If you are planning a party or company for dinner, why not call on Doug and Marie Price at 263-1615 to cook for the gathering. Price will cook all the food for any party, but he does not cater parties.

Prices also makes orders to go any style — plate, sandwiches or by the pound. Just phone in an order and pick it up later while it's nice and hot, and there's no waiting.

Doug prides himself in being a real barbecue specialist, which means he does all his own cooking and uses his own special recipe for the barbecue sauce. The sauce served at Price's really tops off the barbecue. It's not too greasy, and not too thick, but just right.

If you are in the mood for good barbecue, whether you want to eat at home or out, remember Price's Barbecue at 2000 Gregg. Come by or give them a call at 263-1615, and give your taste a treat. Price's is open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, but is closed on Sunday.

GOUND'S PHARMACY WELL STOCKED

Hospital, Medical Needs

There are pharmacies and be easier at Gound's with its cards, Gound's features Mar- formulae and other necessities then there are drug stores. But, drive-in window. For faster service, just call 267-5232 for a prescription and then drive in later to pick it up. Gound's also delivers prescriptions any time and any place in Big Spring. For the women, there are several gift items and a huge stock of Hallmark greeting cards, Gound's features Mar- formulae and other necessities for the baby.

Gound's Pharmacy, managed by Bob Knight, is a complete pharmacy with a full line of drugs. Its prescription department can fill any kind of order from your doctor, whether it requires compounding, ointments or capsules.

Records are accurately kept on each family that deals with Gound's Pharmacy, and the system is so accurate that the business is accredited with the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Co. Knight explains that the family record sheet maintained up to date at Gound's includes the name of the family, the family member requiring the prescription, the medicine order, the doctor, and the amount purchased.

Gound's also carries a complete line of hospital equipment for rent, including a hospital bed, commode chairs, lifters, wheelchairs, prescription canes and walking canes. They have several kinds of convalescent aids, also.

Dr. Scholl's foot aids, syringes, needles, thermometers, and surgeons gloves also are stocked, as is a complete line of Johnson and Johnson bandages.

Picking up prescriptions can be easier at Gound's with its cards, Gound's features Mar- formulae and other necessities for the baby.

Formula For No Bugs Easy

You don't have to be good at arithmetic to understand the formula of brown bottle plus brush equals no roaches. The manufacturers of Johnston's No-Roach package their laboratory tested product in a plain amber bottle and attach a free brush for safe, easy application. This combination will positively protect your home from all crawling insects.

No-Roach is an insecticide that is:

1. Safe and easy to use.
2. No insecticide odor.
3. No powder or dust or mess.
4. Stays effective for months.

No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects — cockroaches, ants, spiders and silverfish. One application stays effective for months.

It's clean and easy to use and harmless to pets.

There's no need to move dishes or food when you use Johnston's No-Roach. Just brush the colorless, odorless coating where you want it. Dries quickly to form an invisible barrier that stays effective for months.

You can brush Johnston's No-Roach in cabinets, on baseboards, door sills, window sills or wherever you see roaches and ants. Use No-Roach today, and forget about bugs tomorrow.

Johnston's No-Roach is available at Hull & Phillips, Newsum's, Safeway, Piggly-Wiggly, Furr's and all grocery stores.

BUZZ SAWYER

TRUEBLOOD IS TRYING TO CHEAT MISS LILLY OUT OF THIS MINE, CHICO. I MUST WARN HER IMMEDIATELY.

LISTEN! DO YOU HEAR ANYTHING, CHICO?

NOTHING!

NEITHER DO I. WHERE'S THE WATCHDOG? WHY ISN'T HE BARKING AT THE JAGUAR? I DON'T LIKE IT!

THEN UP WE GO!

GASOLINE ALLEY

You sure you got a place to stay, Miss Annie?

I'll sponge off my cousin, Tillie! she owe me a week from last summer!

You is a fine mah, Joel! Thank you!

It were my pleasure!

Heh! Heh! You kinda cotton 't that ol' dame, don't you, Joel?

Miss Annie ain't much for looks, Rufus, but she got a beautiful soul!

NANCY

ARE YOU GOING TO TREAT ME TO LUNCH LIKE YOU PROMISED?

SURE... LET'S GO

PUT DOWN THAT PAPER, OR PEOPLE WILL THINK WE'RE MARRIED

LI'L ABNER

MONEY IS TH' ROOT O' ALL EVIL!!

ANY FOOL KNOWS THAT!! AH KNOWS IT!!

BUT WHUT'S YORE PRE-DICK-SHUN?

YO' HEARD IT!!

BUT??-AH BIN HEARIN' THAT ALL MAH LIFT!! WHENEVER AH AXLS MAMMY--

FO'A NICKEL, SHE SAYS MONEY IS TH' ROOT O' ALL EVIL!!

DON'T KICK THAT BUCKET!!

BLONDIE

WHAT WILL YOUR HUSBAND SAY WHEN HE HEARS YOU BOUGHT A MINK AND STOLE?

ABSOLUTELY NOTHING

OH, CORA-- YOU MUST BE FOOLING

OKAY-- COME I'LL SHOW YOU

JULIUS, I JUST BOUGHT A MINK STOLE FOR A THOUSAND DOLLARS

SEE, I TOLD YOU HE WOULDN'T SAY ANYTHING

RICK O'SHAY

I DON'T RECALL SEEN' YOU AROUND BEFORE STRANGER... JES WHO MIGHT YOU BET?

I MIGHT BE A FAR BETTER MAN THAN I AM--

BUT TO ANSWER YOUR QUESTION, MY NAME IS CLARION McCALL. MY PRESENT OCCUPATION IS VAGRANCY.

I ENTERED YOUR COMMUNITY... AND JURISDICTION... LAST NIGHT BY CATTLE CAR ON THE WESTBOUND FREIGHT.

FROM WHERE?

FROM ANOTHER WORLD, MARSHALL... FROM A TIME AND PLACE WHICH NO LONGER EXIST.

SNUFFY SMITH

BRRR-- IT'S GITTIN' DOWNRIGHT CHILLY IN THIS OL' LOG HOUSE-- WHY DON'T YE BUILD A FIRE, PAW?

I JEST DID

KERRY DRAKE

THERE YOU HAVE IT, MR. AMES! COME ACROSS WITH $1,000,000 OR THE POLICE ARE TIPPED OFF THAT STAR IS PASSING PHONY $20 BILLS!

WHICH SHE GOT FROM YOU, MR. GIBRALTA? SO YOU'LL HAVE TO INK-RIMATE YOURSELF!

IT'LL BE STAR'S WORD AGAINST MINE! AND I HAVE A FELL GUY READY TO SAY YOUR DAUGHTER WAS PUSHING THE QUEER DOUGH FOR HIM!

FOR WHAT I'LL BE PAYING HIM, HE'LL BE HAPPY TO TAKE A PRISON RAP!

YOU'VE GOT 24 HOURS TO RAISE THAT MILLION. MR. WOULD-BE SENATOR!

PHONE ME AT THE DEL RIO WHEN YOU HAVE IT READY! I'LL TELL YOU THEN HOW TO DELIVER IT!

BEEBLE BAILEY

LOOK AT THOSE COMPLAINTS! IT'S DISGRACEFUL!

EITHER THE BOY IS TOO SMALL OR WE'RE NOT RUNNING THIS CAMP RIGHT

HAVE A BIGGER BOX BUILT

PEANUTS

HERE'S THE WORLD-FAMOUS HOCKEY PLAYER SKATING OUT ONTO THE ICE

I PICK UP THE PUCK NEAR THE BLUE LINE...

I SHOOT! THE GOALIE NEVER EVEN SEES THE PUCK!

THEY'RE NOT SLEEPING WELL IN MONTREAL TONIGHT...

DICK TRACY

I'M A JUVENILE!

YEAH? WELL, JUDO IS THE ONLY REASON THESE AREN'T IN MY BACK.

I WISH THEY'D MADE IT, YOU DIRTY COP! I WANT A LAWYER.

LAWYER? I'LL GIVE YOU THIS IN THE MEANTIME!

LIZZ TO TRACY, I'M AT "CLUTE SKIN" WITH 2 CUTE CHARACTERS. HOW ABOUT A HAND?

OH, BOO HOOT! I'M A JUVENILE!

MARY WORTH

WHO IS IT, MAGGIE?

A DELIVERY BOY FROM A FLOWER SHOP!

WITH THIS... WHOEVER SENT IT MUST HAVE YOU CONFUSED WITH A DERBY WINNER!

MAY I HAVE THE ENVELOPE, PLEASE?... AS THEY SAY ON THOSE AWARD SHOWS!

"A SALUTE TO LADY LOCK-- WHO BROUGHT US TOGETHER-- JOHNNY!"

LOOK! IT'S MADE OF FOUR-LEAF CLOVERS! ... HUNDREDS OF THEM!

SAVE THEM, PEGGY! ... I HAVE A DISTURBING HUNCH THAT YOU'LL NEED EVERY ONE OF THEM!

REX MORGAN

LAST NIGHT SOMEONE TRIED TO RIN ME DOWN AS I WAS GETTING OUT OF MY CAR! I THINK I WASN'T LAMON.

YOU'RE OUT OF YOUR MIND!

WHOEVER TRIED TO DO THIS TO ME MUST BE EXACTLY THAT!

WHY DON'T YOU GO TO THE POLICE? THEY'LL LAUGH IN YOUR FACE!

NOT WHEN I TELL THEM THAT TWO OTHER MEN WHO DATED GINNY SINCE YOU MET HER WERE KILLED-- ACCIDENTALLY!

LOOK DR. CAVELL-- DO YOU REALLY BELIEVE THAT I'M A KILLER?

TERRY

ACCORDING TO THE GUIDE BOOK, THE THEATER MUST BE DOWN THIS STREET, TERENCE.

TERRY AND FIFFE ARRIVE IN NEWA

ACROSS THE STREET FIFFE, WANT TO TAKE A LOOK AT THE POSTERS?

IF THAT'S THE LEADING LADY GOLDEN BOY YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO KEEP YOUR MIND ON THE BUSINESS AT HAND!

SMITTY

HEY! LOOK AT THE PRIZE IN THIS BOX OF CEREAL!

A DIAMOND NECKLACE! FOR A FAKE IT LOOKS GOOD!

SAY GINNY HAS A BIRTHDAY IN A FEW DAYS-- JUST FOR LAUGHS I'LL GIVE HER THIS FOR A PRESENT!

MOON MULLINS

I'M SORRY I'M LATE FOR MY APPOINTMENT-- SWAMI!

DON'T FRET-- I PREDICTED YOU WOULD BE, AND TOOK MY COFFEE BREAK.

NOW, THEN, AH! YOUR FUTURE IS IN THE HANDS OF A VERY HANDSOME MAN, MISS SWIVEL.

DOES HE HAVE BLUE EYES?

WHO KNOWS? THIS IS ONLY A BLACK-AND-WHITE BALL.

Panthers 3rd In Paper's Football Poll

Dallas South Oak Cliff, the newly appointed No. 1 ranked team in Class AAAA football circles, won't have much time to revel in its new-found fame. The Dallasites moved up from the No. 2 position Monday in the Dallas Morning News poll and their first defense of the ranking will be a tough one—Friday's fracas as unbeaten South Oak Cliff inherited the top billing from Amarillo Tascosa, shocked with a 21-0 loss to Amarillo High Saturday night. Tascosa dropped all the way out of the top 10 following the loss.

Galveston Ball, third last week, moved into the No. 2 spot. Richardson exited from the top 10 along with Tascosa. They were replaced by Corpus Christi Miller, No. 10, and Amarillo Palo Duro, No. 8. Other divisional leaders were able to hold onto their top listings. They include Perryton, Class AAA; Iowa Park, Class AA; and Poth, Class A. Lubbock Estacado moved up from 10th to 8th in the Class AAA poll and Graham and Fort Worth Como replaced Wichita Falls Washington and Bridge City in the top 10. The first seven teams remained intact from last week.

- Class AA rankings and was replaced by Granbury as the No. 7 team. Dangbergfield made its first appearance in the poll as the No. 10 team.
- There were no newcomers in Class A but Aspermont, No. 5 last week, dropped to eighth.

Bengals Face Big Problem Tomorrow

DETROIT (AP) — Now that the Detroit Tigers have forced the World Series into at least a sixth game, Manager Mayo Smith has the problem of selecting a pitcher for the game.

The Tigers handed their manager the problem Monday by defeating St. Louis 5-3 and cutting the Cardinals' edge to three games to two.

AL KALINE's two-run single in the seventh inning sparked the victory, but there were other key factors as well.

There was a crucial play by catcher Bill Freehan on Lou Brock at the plate, Willie Horton's throw to nab Brock and the courageous comeback pitching effort by Mickey Lolich and his single that triggered the winning three-run rally.

WORKOUTS SET — The teams had the day off today, except for brief workouts — the Cardinals in St. Louis and the Tigers in Detroit — but Smith had to ponder Wednesday's game, which will be played in St. Louis. His major problem was a starting pitcher.

It could be Earl Wilson, who left the third game with a pulled hamstring muscle in his right leg, or Joe Sparrino, who relieved Denny McLain in Sunday's contest.

He pitched a helluva a game," said Orlando Cepeda, who capped the explosion with a two-run homer, his second homer of the Series. "He got stronger as the game went along. He's a good pitcher. I can't see why he didn't win 20 games."

SETTLED DOWN — The motorcycle-riding right-hander settled down so effectively that he scattered six hits the rest of the way and didn't allow another run.

He almost didn't get the chance to finish the game, though. The turning point for him came in the seventh inning when leadoff batter Don Wert struck out.

"If Wert had gotten on," Smith said, "I would've used a pinch hitter. But when he didn't, I figured Mickey had been pitching well and we had two more shots at them."

"I was very much surprised he let me hit," said Lolich, who rapped a home run and a single in the second game.

Lolich singled and, after Hoerner relieved starter Nelson Briles, went second as Dick McAuliffe singled and to third on a walk to Mickey Stanley. That's when Kaline singled across the tying and lead runs, and Norm Cash added a run-scoring single.

At that point the Cardinals had to think back to the fifth inning when Brock, the hitting and base running star of the Series, was thrown out at the plate trying to score from second on Julian Javier's single to left. St. Louis led 3-2 at the time.

Purdue Reaps Most Votes In AP Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Power-laden Purdue again was a near unanimous choice for the top spot in The Associated Press major college football poll Tuesday, while the Bollweavers' next foe, Ohio State, moved into fourth place.

The Bollweavers, who crushed Northwestern 43-6 for their third straight victory Saturday, were named first on all but two of 37 ballots in picking up 736 points.

Southern California, also 3-0 after stopping strong Miami, Fla., 28-3, remained second with 660 points. The Trojans, national champs last year, received only one vote for first, but were named second on 33 ballots.

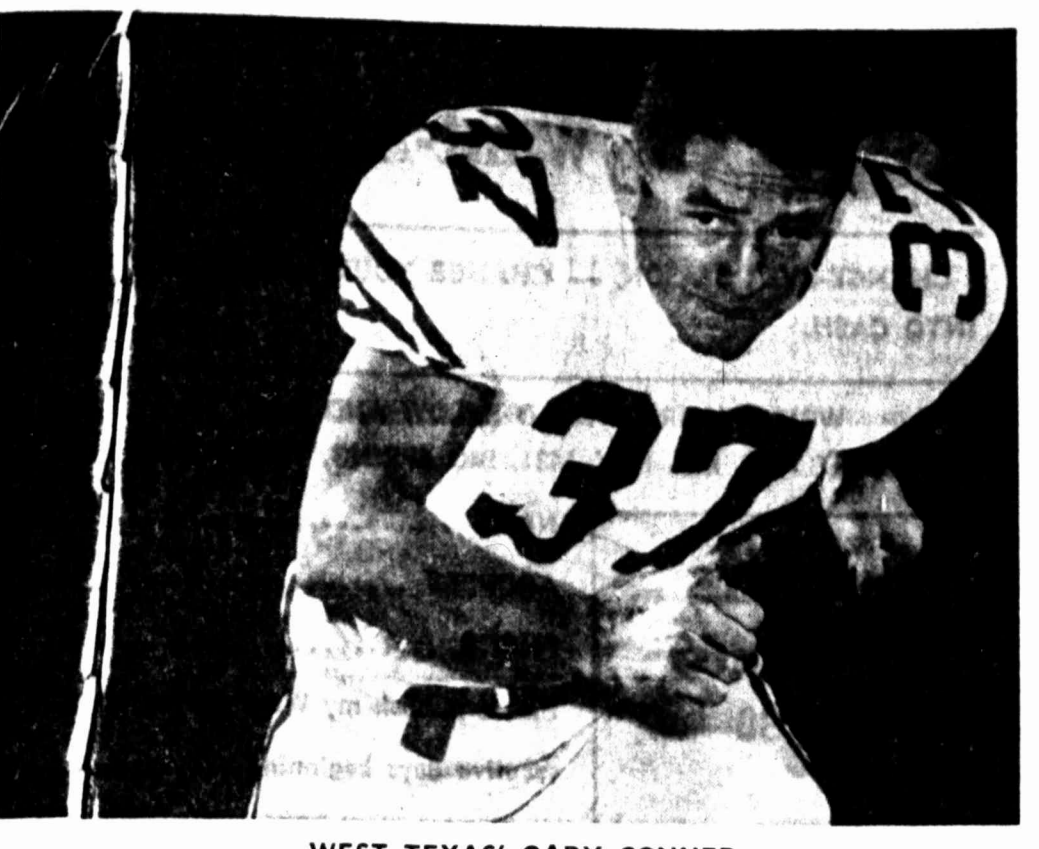

Penn State, a 31-20 conqueror of West Virginia for its third triumph, held on to third and Notre Dame, which followed a loss to Purdue with a 51-28 smashing of Iowa, stayed in fifth.

Ohio State, sixth a week ago, advanced after beating Oregon 21-6 for its second victory.

Kansas, 3-0, which has been gradually moving upward during the past few weeks, jumped from eighth to sixth after trouncing New Mexico 68-7.

Florida, 3-0, slipped from fourth to seventh despite a 31-14 breeze past Mississippi State.

Louisiana State, 3-0, advanced two notches to eighth, while Nebraska, 3-0, fell from seventh to ninth and Tennessee, 2-0-1, leaped from 15th to 10th after humiliating Rice 52-0.

WEST TEXAS' GARY CONNER
He has come onto his own

Gary Conner Wins His Spurs At West Texas

Gary Conner, a brother to three area residents and a part-time resident of Big Spring, has worked himself into a regular berth on the highly successful West Texas State University football team.

When he was a freshman in college, Gary claimed a measure of fame when he lowered his head and smashed into 6-4 quarterback Hank Washington, knocking the celebrated player to the ground.

Gary is a brother to Kenneth Conner Jr. of 1904 Grafia St., and Mrs. Sybil Hatfield, 2103 Alabama, both of Big Spring, and Mrs. Don Fite, Colorado City.

While living here, Gary regularly lifted weights at his sister's house in Colorado City. He says he is still working on his quickness, some of which departed during the year's layoff.

After getting in his freshman year at the Canyon school and playing a season with the Buffaloes, Gary laid out of school for a year, during which time he worked as a meter reader for the Texas Electric Service Company in Big Spring.

At Haskell, Gary played for Sonny Everett, which was Joe Kerbel's starting end on the 1954 state championship team at Brockmeier. Kerbel now coaches Conner at West Texas.

As a schoolboy, Gary was a running back and linebacker. He was switched to defense exclusively when he moved to West Texas but says he likes defense better than offense.

Conner recently beat out Billy Lintow and Frank Bettencourt Jr. for a regular job on the West Texas team as a corner back.

Conner played his high school football at Haskell, where Kenneth also performed on the 1960-61-62 teams. Ken himself was an all-district end.

Conner caught up with him. Terry helped West Texas bowl over Montana State, 35-20, in Bozeman, Mont., last weekend. In that game, West Texas' celebrated Eugene (Mercury) Morris galloped for four touchdowns — the longest for 89 yards and racked up 340 yards in carries for an NCAA rushing record.

Tourney Play Is Nearing

SWEETWATER — Roy Peden and Joe Ethridge, both of Kermit, are the defending champions in the second annual Lake Sweetwater Partnership Golf tournament, which will be held here Friday and Saturday.

Peden, finalist in the Big Spring Invitational in September, is having one of his better years in golf. He won the Sweetwater 29ers tournament and the Colorado City 25ers meet.

Other well-known tandems due here include Jim Whittaker and Mike Malone, Travis Horton and Denver Price, Doug Ehle and Bud Halford.

Ehle recently set a course record at Snyder. Teams will play 18 holes each day in the tournament and will be assigned to flights after the first 18.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

SPORTS dialogue: HAROLD VALAN, referee of the controversial Floyd Patterson-Jimmy Ellis bout in Sweden, in which Ellis was given a disputed decision.

"I consider myself a damned good judge of any fight I see in person. I gave the decision to Ellis because he did most of the forcing and leading, and landed the harder punches. It was Ellis who made the fight, such as it was.

There was no question in my mind but that Ellis had won. I gave him nine rounds—1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, 12 and 15—to six for Patterson. With me, there is no such thing as an even round. In every round ever fought, you can give the edge to one man for sharper punching, harder punching, or aggressiveness or ring generalship or knockdowns.

Russell, Medlin Claim Laurels

Following is a list of players singled out for their play in football games involving area teams last weekend.

BIG SPRING — Quarterback GARY HINDS did everything expected of him in guiding the Steers to an impressive 34-6 victory over Lubbock High. The firebrand had a hand in four of five Big Spring tallies, racing for two himself and throwing passes for two more.

Lineman of the Week honors went to STEVE RUSSELL, a tackle who is used sparingly on defense but who was terrific as a blocker. His ability to clear the way for Big Spring ball carriers helped propel the locals to five TD's. Rated almost even with Russell was center Emmitt Miller, who has been tremendous strides since the season began. He continually carried the fight to the opposition.

ROGER LANGE, another 160-pound senior, played an aggressive, heads-up game to win the award as Lineman of the Week. He plays offensive end and defensive end and linebacker. On an end-around play, he lugged the ball in for a TD, and he ran a kickoff return 55 yards for another. He caught two passes for 13 yards, covered one fumble and made five tackles.

DAVID HILGER, experiencing another great game, captured back of the week honors against Rocksprings last week. It was his second consecutive designation for the award.

Back of the Week is MARLIN MEDLIN, 154-pound senior wingback, who caught three passes for 42 yards and was a very effective blocker. He also made a good grade on defense, coming up with six tackles.

Barron Graves' Dog Triumphs

A pointer dog named Susie, owned by Barron Graves of Vincent won first place in the "shoot to kill" field trial held by the Permian Bird Dog and Sportsman Club on the Flying G ranch the past weekend.

Second was Ranger's Mollie Bee, a pointer owned by Bill Mathis of Midland while a German shorthair named Tom, owned by Jerry Graves of Vincent, was third.

In all, 24 dogs competed in the competition. Upwards of 60 persons viewed the activity.

QBC MEETING TO BE MOVED

Tonight's meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be held in Room 112 of the high school complex, rather than in the cafeteria, co-captain Jimmy Jones of the booster organization has announced.

Room 112 is immediately east of the cafeteria. Guides will be on hand to traffic members to the proper location.

Coahoma Boosters Convene At 7:30

COAHOMA — Tonight's session of the Coahoma Quarterback Club, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., will be held in the High School Auditorium rather than the Cafeteria, it has been announced.

A scouting report on Coahoma's next football opponent, Rotan, will be offered. In addition, films of the Coahoma-Stanton game will be shown with commentary offered by one of the Coahoma coaches.

Ponies Making Shambles Of Statistical Warring

The SMU Mustangs' aerial passing display is turning the Southwest Conference statistical average to replace A&M's Steve Neale.

SMU's Jimmy Livingston picked off three North Carolina State passes to take the lead in pass interceptions with 5 and Tech's Larry Alford maintained his punt return lead with 10 rubecks for 224 yards and one touchdown.

Richardson has rushed 58 times for 350 yards overtaking TCU's Norman Bulach who is second with 289 yards in 46 carries.

American Troops Kill 147

SAIGON (AP) — American ground and air forces battled North Vietnamese troops along the northwesterly approaches to Saigon and killed 147 of them in a two-day fight that raged on and off until just after noon today, the U.S. Command announced.

U.S. casualties were 8 men killed and 13 wounded in the battle with troops from the 101st

North Vietnamese Army Regiment, an old adversary that long has operated in the area 28 miles northwest of Saigon. This is about midway between the Cambodian border and Saigon along prime infiltration corridors leading into the capital.

GROUND SWEEPS

While this was the heaviest fighting reported by both the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands, allied troops on massive ground sweeps up and down the country continued to uncover tons of enemy munitions, food and medical supplies, apparently stashed away for future attacks.

U.S. officers claim that the seizure of more than 150 tons of war supplies in recent weeks has hurt the enemy and may delay, if not abort, some of his planned attacks.

In many cases, enemy prisoners and defectors have led the allied troops to the caches.

STOCKPILES

Military spokesmen said about 12 fresh stockpiles of war materials and food were turned up Monday from north of Saigon to the demilitarized zone, some of it buried in coffins.

Infantrymen from the U.S. 1st Division ran across a battalion-sized enemy base camp four miles from the division headquarters and 20 miles north of Saigon. A search of the area turned up large quantities of supplies including 1,000 antipersonnel mines, 1,050 grenades, 87 bazooka-type rockets, 6 submachine guns and more than 1,000 pounds of medical equipment.

MAKE HEADLINES

The developments came as U.S. officers weighed intelligence reports indicating the Communist Command may attempt "something big" in the way of a new offensive before the end of the year. Captured enemy officers are reported to have told interrogators they think Hanoi would like to make headlines about the time of the Nov. 5 U.S. presidential election.

The informant's comment that the main North Vietnamese divisions and regiments appear to be avoiding a fight appeared to be backed up by the weekly figures released by the South Vietnamese command.

Government headquarters said 1,654 enemy troops were killed during the seven-day period ending at midnight last Saturday. While this figure is subject to readjustment, it was the lowest weekly enemy toll reported in more than two months. It compared to 2,866 enemy claimed killed by allied forces the previous week and 3,350 two weeks ago.

Blind Folk Guitarist Spurs Star Spangled Banner Fuss

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jose Feliciano says he has had no adverse reaction to the way he sang the Star Spangled Banner at the World Series on Monday and that he "sang it that way to express my love for my country."

There were many boos from the more than 53,000 at the Detroit Tiger-St. Louis Cardinals game in Detroit and critical comment afterward. Sample adverse comments: "It was non-patriotic" and "It was a disgrace and an insult."

'I LOVE AMERICA'

night, he told a newspaperman "everyone on the plane from Detroit was extremely nice" and that since people stood and applauded at his show when he mentioned his World Series appearance "everything seems all right."

"I love America," said Feliciano, a Puerto Rican who lives in Newport Beach, Calif. "The only reason I sang it that way was to express my love for my country. I am very happy that I did it that way."

FIRST TIME

Feliciano, who has been singing six years, said he "did not change the lyrics" of the national anthem "and the melody was not even different."

This was the first time he sang the national anthem in public, he said, and "I had worked on the arrangement for sometime by myself, awaiting the opportunity."

He declined to label his version, but it appeared to resemble most closely what is termed soul music. Ernie Harwell, the Tigers' play-by-play announcer, said he invited Feliciano to sing "because he's one of the outstanding singers in America today."

Housing Requests Face New Slashes In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration food stamp and housing program requests face new slashes in the House on the heels of a near $1 billion congressional cut for housing aid and urban renewal projects.

The House Appropriations Committee has recommended a $50 million slice off the food stamp program in a money bill up for action today, plus cuts in two housing programs and a juvenile delinquency project.

The House was expected to go along with the committee cuts.

President Johnson Monday signed the appropriation that knocked nearly $1 billion off his urban renewal and housing subsidies requests, the $1.57 billion appropriation for the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Congress cut a requested advance $1.3 billion for urban renewal projects in the next fiscal year to $750 million; a $1 billion model cities request to $625 million, and a $65 million contract authority request for rent subsidies to $30 million.

The new cuts were recommended by the Appropriations Committee Monday in a bill that was cut to $101 million from the administration's request for $270 million.

The committee's bill recommends appropriations of: —$20 million rather than the requested $90 million for the food stamp program that helps poor families get more food for their money. This would be in addition to the $225 million already appropriated for the program this fiscal year.

—$5 million to help pay interest costs on low-income housing construction, enough to cover contracts for $60 million worth of new housing. The administration asked $11.5 million to cover contracts for $150 million in construction.

—$1 million for enforcement of open-housing legislation rather than the $8 million requested by HUD. Another $300,000 sought by the Justice Department was completely eliminated.

—$5 million for a new program to aid states on control and prevention of juvenile delinquency. The administration asked $19.2 million.

A dozen money requests for other programs under the new housing-aid and open housing laws were cut out completely by the committee.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠
We have been invited to adjudicate a dispute which arose between East and West in defending against South's four heart contract on the above deal.

West opened the ten of diamonds, East played the ace and declarer followed with the queen. To all appearances, West had led the top of a doubleton, so that from East's point of view only two tricks were available in the minor suit and, unless West held the ace of spades, hope of defeating the contract might just as well be abandoned.

But assuming that West did have the ace of spades, there was a further complication to be reckoned with. If East led the king of spades and his partner failed to overtake in order to give him a ruff, the line of communications between the defenders would be broken and, as soon as East's ace of clubs is disclosed, South will be able to discard his remaining spades on the dummy's clubs.

In order to alert his partner to the peculiar nature of his spade holding, East first cashed the ace of clubs and then switched to the king of spades. West was aware that East would hardly set up North's club suit unless he was trying to convey some special message, so he promptly overtook the king of spades with the ace, so that he could make a play for his partner. Unfortunately for his side, West drew the wrong inference.

Thinking that East held the lone ace of clubs, West tried to give him a club ruff. This play enabled the declarer, of course, to take full command of the proceedings. East contended during the post-mortem that, when West overtook the king of spades, he should have returned a spade and not a club. We are inclined to agree with him—after careful consideration, of the facts.

If East's hand consisted of something like:
♠ K Q J; ♥ x x x; ♦ A J x x x x; ♣ A, as West appeared to have assumed, he would hardly have released his ace of clubs so readily. His logical shift at trick two with this holding would be the king of spades, in an attempt to establish some tricks in that suit while he still has control of clubs.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Take nothing for granted today and tonight and others may be just as confused as you. Be sure you look at everything from a very conventional and conservative you really like. Why be unhappy? It's attitude and allow those who have any close contact with you to realize you are willing to do whatever is possible to make their lot easier.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Important you get all your bills paid and meet every other obligation that is yours, as well as plan to make more money in the future. See what others will do so that you have more money assured. Be diplomatic.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you do some entertaining or extend favors and show devotion to those around you gain much good will now. Get personal aims realized. Show a cheerful attitude and you make really big hit!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are not sure about a job you have to perform, but if you study it well, make quiet preparations, all is fine. Do what ever will assist those who are being abused or feeling so. Be kind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you forget that argument with an attachment which a friend is having, you find you can make this a very happy day, and evening. Be with a person who likes the social. Make big headway as a result.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Release family to background while you get into the business world and make hay while the sun shines, as it were. Don't be prejudiced unfavorably where one you like is concerned. Safeguard reputation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) If you are more broad-minded, you find that many opportunities are all about you ready for acceptance. Make the right decisions and your reputation soars. Show that you are very gracious where the social is concerned.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Start working on that plan that helps you to utilize that fine ability for precision that you possess. Make a big impression, even on experts. Show loved one that you are truly devoted and not just acting.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Be more interested in what associates are trying to do, although you may not agree with them, and then be sure to carry through with commitments. Get the right contract that pleases all involved in it. Be clever.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Keep busy of work and don't get that feeling that others are imposing on you and you are sure to make real progress. Take those treatments that improve your health considerably. Show that you are a good American.
