C-City Old Timers Meet For Reunion

COLORADO CITY - Robert A. Shepherd, widely known Houston attorney, who grew up here, was guest speaker today at the annual reunion of Mitchell County Old Timers in Civic House.

The Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and the Mitchell County Historical Survey Committee are joint sponsors of the all-day event.

Miss Martha Earnest is general chairman. The official couple for the day was Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bilberry. Miss Ruth Hightower was director for the musical features and Porter Richardson, manager of Radio KVMC, was program chairman.

This afternoon, two historic markers were to be unveiled. One was at the Episcopal Church, which has been in service as a place of worship since 1885. The other was at the buffalo display at the museum, commemorating the day of the buffalo in this area.

United Fund Report

Counting of currency for the United Fund Drive increased today as $44,076.71 was reported to bring the 1968 goal of $109,225 to 40.3 per cent completed. The big $3,000 leap from the Wednesday morning report came from all divisions, with Clyde Mc-Mahon Concrete Co. and Gandy's Creamery turning in heavy contributions through payroll deduc-

McMahon Concrete reported an 80 per cent increase over last year's contribution, and Gandy's Creamery turned in a 31 per cent increase.

Webb AFB continued to push toward its $13,000 goal today, with $12,569.32 reported to close within four per cent of its objective.

The Big Spring United Fund campaign division chairmen will meet at noon Friday at Cosden Country Club to make further plans for the drive.

Record Auction Price

NEW YORK (AP) - It took only five minutes of bidding at the Parke-Bernet Galleries Wednesday night to set a world auction record of $1,550,000 for an Impressionist painting.

That price was paid by the Norton Simon Foundation of Fullerton, Calif., for "Le Pont des Arts. Paris." an early work of Pierre Auguste Renoir, painted about 100 years ago.

Simon, a Los Angeles industrialist, was not present. The bidding was done in his behalf by Stephen Hahn, a New York dealer, started at $250,000. Nearly all succeeding bids were in jumps

The previous auction record for an Impressionist work was $1,411,200 paid by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, at Christie's in London last December for Claude Monet's "La Terrasse a Sainte Adresse."

State Buys Tracks

AUSTIN (AP) - The Parks and Wildlife Department said today it has signed a contract with Earnest Witaker of Dallas to buy a 347-acre site on the Paluxy River in Somervell County (Glen Rose), which will become dinosaur tracks state

Robert Mauermann, deputy director for the department, said the site-55 miles southwest of Fort Worth — is the first to be acquired under the $75 million park program approved by the legislature in 1967. The park contains the best preserved dinosaur tracks in the state, including those of the brontosaurus and duck-billed dinosaurs.

GOP Sit-Out Beats 'Equal Time' Bill

Democratic leader decided today to bow to a Republican sit-out and abandon the fight to permit free television and radio time for joint appearances of major presidential can-

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., told a reporter he had no choice under the circumstances except to give up to GOP opposition.

LAY ASIDE

He said he will move to lay the equal-time bill aside and take up a session-end catch-all $674.7 million appropriations measure.

The Republican presidential candidate, Richard M. Nixon, has indicated willingness to engage in a joint debate with his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey, but not if third party candidate George C. Wallace also participates.

The bill, passed by the House Wednesday after an historic, locked-in debate, provides for joint appearances by all three candidates on free time provided by the television and radio networks.

When Mansfield called the House-passed bill up at the start of today's Senate session, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois made point of no quorum. In an unexpected battle tactic.

Dirksen had a page boy posted outside the chamber to tell GOP senators not to respond to the quorum call. After more than an hour, only

Wallace Freeze Out Plan Called Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) - A plan to freeze out George C. Wallace if the presidential election goes to the House of Representatives is dead, one of its prime backers says.

SHIED AWAY Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., says top advisors to Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon shied away from seeking pledges by House candidates to support the presidential candidate with the highest popular vote, no matter what party.

"The big Nixon lead in the polls makes this sort of academ-state delegation casting one ic now anyway," Udall said in vote. an interview.

He and then Rep. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., proposed the pledge plan two months ago.

The timing coincided with the emergence of Wallace's third party movement as a major force which might prevent any candidate from getting the required majority of Electoral

HEAVY RAINS

Several sections, mostly in East and South Texas, caught fairly heavy rains Wednesday evening before the unruly weather moved on Vicious winds wrecked a maintenance building and damaged roofs of others on the Texas A&M campus as 1.61 inches of rain fell at College Station, most of it within half an hour. The metal roof off the razed structure was hurled 50 feet.

Moving on, the southbound showers and thunderstorms deposited 1.36 inches at Beaumont-Port Arthur and 1.23 at Houston.

The same front stirred up still another tornado scare in South Texas, meanwhile, as a funnel cloud was spotted 10 miles southeast of Alice. It disappeared without word of any damage. Areas farther north were still drying from downpours measuring up to 2.52 inches at Slidell and 2.42 at Dallas. Two men were killed as an Army helicopter trying to make an emergency landing in a heavy thunderstorm hit a power line near Weatherford. One was Lt Geoffrey Oveson, a Ft. Wolters instructor. The other had not been identified. A car skidded off a slick turn expected behind the front, with possibly scattered frost in the Panhandle-Plains section, but temperatures stayed warmer than expected

PUSHES SOUTH While the cooler air was still pushing southward, Wednesday's top temperatures climbed to 95 degrees at Alice, McAllen and Presidio. Dalhart was the coolest station with a high of 62. Winds shifted back to the south by this morning and the mercury held to 43 degrees at

by advisors to Humphrey and

"The Nixon people say, for instance, there are 18 delegations where a switch of seats could change the state's vote in any house vote for a president With a Nixon landslide they expect to win those seats so they say why bother about a pledge plan," Udall said.

Humphrey's advisors also know Democrats may still control the House so they shy away from any commitment which might tie their hands in putting their candidate in the White House, he said.

President Will Not Now Make New Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson said today he will not now present another nomination in place of that of Justice Abe Fortas, for chief justice. Johnson said he might do so in ordinary times. But, he added: 'These are not ordinary times. We are threatened by emotionalism, partisanship, and prejudice that compel us to use great care if we are to avoid injury to our constitutional system. Chief Justice Earl Warren, who asked to retire, has indicated his willingness to continue on the bench at Johnson's pleas-

Johnson said: "Under the circumstances, the foundations of government would be better served by the present chief justice remaining until emotionalism subsides, reason and fairness prevail.

Johnson issued a statement from the White House in which he said he deeply regretted that a Senate filibuster prevented a vote on the nomination of Justice Fortas to succeed Warren.

He said he was confident both Fortas and Homer Thornberry, whom he nominated to be a justice succeeding Fortas, would have been confirmed had their cases come to a vote.

"Their qualifications are indisputable." Johnson said. After the Senate balked at confirming Fortas, Johnson withdrew his name at Fortas' request. He also withdrew Thornberry's name later.

BLAST-OFF OF APOLLO 7 SCHEDULED FRIDAY

Astronauts Prepare For 11-Day Ride

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) - With green lights flashing for all aspects of the flight, the final countdown begins today for Friday's scheduled launching of the three Apollo 7 astronauts on an 11-day space journey. The 300-man launch crew planned to start the critical final hours of the count by feeding electrical power to the 224-foot-tall Saturn 1B rocket. As the launch team prepared the rocket and the Apollo 7 spaceship, Navy Capt. Walter Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham expected to relax after a morning meeting in their quarters with key project officials.

The space trio is to ride the pulsating power of the Saturn 1B into orbit at 10 a.m. (Big Spring Time) on a critical mission that could put the United States back on course toward its goal of a manned lunar landing next year.

If Apollo 7 demonstrates that the spaceship can function long round trip to the moon, the Apollo 8 crew may attempt to orbit the moon in December. The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rocket for that mission rolled to its launch pad Wednesday for about 40 days of prelaunch checks. The Apollo 8 commander will be Air Force Col. Frank Borman Schirra, Cunningham and Eisele practiced Wednesday in a spacecraft simulator.

When the launch crew starts the final count, the clock will read 14 hours 15 minutes and hours, there will be an automatic hold of six hours for any necessary catchup work and to allow the main force of the launch team to get some sleep.

Paul Donnelly, launch operations manager for the Kennedy Space Center, reported Wednesday that preparations for Apollo "are about the cleanest I've seen"-better than on any of the previous 16 U.S. man-in-space flights and the 16 unmanned flights that have been conducted with the Saturn 1B and Saturn 5 terminal countdown begins include serving the power-producing fuel cells with liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen, checking the emergency detection system that would signal if anything were wrong, pumping 86,900 gallons of liquid oxygen and 64,-000 gallens of liquid hydrogen into the rocket, and thoroughly checking spacecraft systems. Earlier, 42,100 gallons of kerosene were funneled into the Saturn 1B.

During the night, the backup

P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young-will make sure all in the Apollo 7 cabin is in working Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham will be awakened in their ready room quarters at the Kennedy Space Center about 6 a.m. for breakfast and a preflight medical exam. When the count reaches 2 hours 25 minutes, they are to enter the spacecraft to make final checks before launch.

Three no trump was reached by North and South on a routine sequence of bids and West opened the six of clubs. The jack was played from dummy and, when East covered with the queen, he was permitted to hold the trick. The club continuation was taken by the king. the ace of diamonds on his right, declarer decided to switch his attentions elsewhere for, even if he suc-ceeded in establishing the diamond suit, he could count only seven tricks-three diamonds, two clubs, and two spades.

What was even of greater note to South was the realization that he must dislodge West's entry—assuming that he had one—before the latter succeeded in establishing his club suit. When the jack of diamonds held, declarer led a small heart from his hand. West played the eight and North's king won the trick. A heart was returned and South ducked; his efforts were rewarded when West's ace appeared.

The club return was won by declarer's ace, and he now proceeded to drive out the ace of diamonds. East was in, but he had no way to reach his partner to cash the clubs. and South was able to run for cover with nine tricks when

Dear Abby

-ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Listen, And Understand

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with a wonderful, extremely well educated, good looking woman of 40 who becomes engaged, then proceeds to tell ME, her future husband, all about her previous love affairs

The next surprise she handed me is that although she is been able to discard a collection of pictures of her ex-boyfriends, and when I insisted that she throw them away she suggested breaking our engagement.

All of this was done with the full permission and approval of her psychiatrist who felt it would be "good" for her to tell me whatever came into her

FINISHED AND DISGUSTED DEAR FINISHED: Surely you must realize that the woman is in therapy and is attempting to face her problems squarely in an effort to resolve them. Her confessions were not very pretty, I agree, but her past adventures were probably causing her to feel guilty and unworthy, hence the truth session. If she is truly "wonderful," have a talk with her doctor for a better un-derstanding of the situation.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for 14 years. She quit working when we got married because we had a family soon after. Now that the children are in school she's taken a part-time job. This is what bothers me. In the past all our money was placed into a joint account for both of us Now that she's working, she puts her earnings into a separate account for herself. She says she wants a "nest egg." Why should a wife need a nest egg? I don't have any such separate funds. Maybe you reasoning. It eludes me. DEAR DON'T: Don't assume that because a wife wants a "nest egg' she is going to fly the coop. The nest eggs which frugal wives stash away in sugar bowls are usually used to buy gifts for husbands and can understand a woman's

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion which I respect highly. I have been going steady with a boy for two years. Ira is 20 and I am 17. My parents have a summer home at the shore, and on weekends Ira has been our houseguest.

One day after playing ball Ira asked me to wash his socks out. It is true, he was my guest, but I think that a 20-year-old intelligent boy should be able to wash his own socks out.

I told him "no," and we didn't have an argument or anything like that, but a few weeks later his parents brought it up to me in jest.

Was I wrong not to have washed his socks out? DEAR GIRL: No. Ira needs a lesson in manners, and if he doesn't know how to launder socks, it's time he pulled 'em up and learned. Everybody has a problem,

A Devotional For The Day

Faith, hope, love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love (I Corinthians 13:13, RSV)

PRAYER: Lord Jesus, Thou hast called me by my name and given me the supreme gift-salvation. May it be my privilege to show love toward others that they may believe that God the Father has sent Thee. Help me to see Thy spirit and challenge in the prayer taught to Thy disciples, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the 'Upper Room')

No Actual Analogy

The miseries surmounted in the past serve often to comfort us as we contemplate the miseries of the present. Thus the strained search for analogies for this confused and somewhat apathetic presidential election campaign.

Some have pounced upon 1948. Then it was Thomas E. Dewey (now Richard M. Nixon) and Harry S. Truman (now Hubert H. Humphrey) and the spoiler. Strom Thurmond (now George Wallace).

The analogy of 1948 with 1968 can, of course, give aid and comfort only to Democrats. Then, as now, the polls indicate the Republican nominee is far ahead of the pack. Then, as now, the Democratic candidate is portraved as the tired torch-bearer of a bankrupt administration. But there is only limited comfort in this analogy. As far as the war in Vietnam is concerned, Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace appear to be very close. Humphrey's position is more flexible than the others, though, since he advocated a halt to the bombing of North Vietnam. Humphrey, too, is in the best position to profit from any startling development that may occur in the Vietnam situation.

The main issues, therefore, are domestic ones in 1968. At this point the analogy of 1948 loses most of its

Who can best reconcile the conflicts between the Right and the Left? Who can do the best job relieving the tensions in the ghettoes with better housing, better schools and more job opportunities? Who is best qualified to reduce racial tension? Who can best appeal to reason and order?

Fair answers to these questions, among others, should control the selection of a president. A substantial segment of the American electorate has not made up its mind. It will do so perhaps a few days before the election, or in the voting booth.

thing for nothing. It is a comfort to be able to say "it was covered by insurance," but this is just another way of saying that "we all shared in this loss." This is precisely what happens, for insurance companies are but the trustees of funds accumulated to pay off fire losses which may occur.

In Texas, if a community has a good record by holding its losses well below the total amount of annual premiums, a system of progressive cred-

Nowhere is it truer than in fire its rewards the policy holder. If the community suffers a disastrous fire or consistently has losses in excess of annual premium yields, then a system of penaties increases the cost of insurance until these excessive losses are paid for.

Reduced to its simplest elements, property owners (who insure) pay for insured fire losses. And that catches most of us. Thus every one of us has a monetary stake in a good fire record by eliminating hazards, by being extra careful and by being safe all the time

David Lawrence Bombing Not The Real Peace Issue

WASHINGTON — Most people don't realize it, but if the United States announced that it would "unconditionally halt the bombing," this would government of South Vietnam, peace not mean peace in Vietnam. There would not be achieved. For North has been so much talk about the Vietnam has demanded that the Unitimportance of stopping the bombing that the real objectives of North Vietnam have been lost sight of in

SECRETARY OF State Rusk has declared that President Johnson would be willing to order a complete cessation of the bombing if it were a step toward peace, but that there is no reason to believe that it would be. He has called attention to the fact that since March 31 the bombing of four-fifths of North Vietnam, where 90 per cent of the people live, has been halted, while "there is not one square mile in South Vietnam that is free from bombing." Hanoi has not moved any closer to peace.

JUST WHY are the North Vietnamese pursuing this kind of game? They are hoping that the United States and its allies will not only give up bombing the rest of North Vietnam, but will agree to allow the Communist insurgents in South Vietnam to assume a major role in the government at Saigon, thus preparing the way for a takeover by the Communist leaders in Hanoi.

But even with a complete halt in the bombing and a concession to

Billy Graham

Some people in our church are saying that God is too much a God of love to let anyone really spend eternity in helf. What do you think about this?

Some people live in hell on earth but God didn't ordain they should. Neither does God decree that any one go to hell. The Bible says, "The Lord is not willing that any perish. but that all should come to repentance." (II Peter 3:9.)

The concept that God "sends" people to hell is unscriptural. We send orselves to hell by our sin, by our rebelliousness, and by rejecting the love and mercy of God. Just as a person can make for himself a hell on earth by being selfish, unyielding. and stubborn, he can choose his eternal destiny by harboring the same

Hell was really not made for people It was made for the devil and his angels. If we go there it will not be because we have not been given every opportunity to choose life instead of death, heaven instead of hell. David said, "If I make my bed n hell ...," indicating that hell is something we make for ourselves here and now, and in the hereafter.

Life imposes certain rules upon us. A top golfer recently won the championship, but lost it because he failed to sign his name on his score card. God keeps a record book, and he has made it possible for our names to be inscribed in it. But the choice is ours, and when we own Christ the Savior, our names are written in God's book of life.

permit the "National Liberation Front" - the political arm of the Viet Cong - to participate in the troops and leave South Vietnam to be governed by a coalition — which. of course, means domination by the Communists of North Vietnam. PART OF THE explanation of why the North Vietnamese are holding out so inflexibly was given by Secretary Rusk on the program "Issues and Answers" over the ABC television network on Sunday. He said:

"I think the North Vietnamese watch public discussion in this country very closely. They from time to time quote to us the most obscure statements made by somebody in this country. They put great weight on the demonstrators and the signs of dissent in this country . .

"IF WE HEARD that 50,000 demonstrators were marching around the headquarters in Hanoi calling for peace, we would say the war is over. Now when they hear that 50,000 demonstrators a few months ago were out in front of the Pentagon in Washington, they can be misled, you see. So a part of our problem is to be sure that they understand the basis on which the United States makes decisions, so they do not misunderstand or miscalculate or come to the conclusion that somehow the United States is going to abandon Southeast Asia - because we are not going to abandon Southeast Asia, whoever is elected in November, and Hanoi should understand that and get down to the serious business of making peace."

MR. RUSK doesn't feel that there is any really substantial difference in objectives between the major political parties in the United States on the subject of the Vietnam war. He made it clear also that he doesn't believe the foreign policy of the United States has been "a partisan

Analysis of the position of the Hanoi government has been made in news dispatches from time to time throughout Southeast Asia as well as Europe. The general feeling abroad is that North Vietnam is obdurate about making peace because of a belief that the United States sooner or later will abandon the war in Southeast Asia and passively allow South Vietnam to come under the control of the Communists. Around The Rim

A Policeman At Work

It happened more than a dozen years ago, but I think it is typical of our police protection - now as Detective Jack Jones was given the assignment by the radio operator family disturbance at an address on the North Side. He invited me along. and I hopped into the car, even though such calls rarely generate any news copy. Nor did this one.

THE DISTURBANCE concerned a Negro family, some six persons living in two rooms. A young man, in his early 20s, had been evicted from the premises by his paramour, and he had called for police help in claiming his possessions

Jones instructed the young man to wait outside, and we knocked on the door and were invited inside. Immediately, the young woman of the story began telling a semi-hysterical story concerning the alleged "rascal" outside. Jones finally managed to get a coherent story of the events - in brief, it was a lover's quarrel.

A KINDLY elderly couple, the girl's parents, stood patiently, taking neither side in the narrative. Jones passed the time of day with them, as he waited for the girl to gather up the young man's belongings. A tiny baby lay in a crib, which he chucked under the chin, and he swapped names with a pre-school

He might have been a paternal uncle making a social visit, rather than "the law.

WISHING THE elderly man luck in finding work, Jones gathered up the clothing, admonished the girl about causing any more trouble, and we left. He advised the young man to stay away from the place, handed over his belongings, and we drove away. The police report of the episode merely stated, "cleared up for now."

Jones didn't carry a nightstick, he made no threats — in fact, I think he made some friends. I assume he was armed with a gun, but doubt any of the principals of the incident

" THIS IS THE kind of police work that can be exasperating, and similar calls fill the police blotter every day. I suspect other officers are handling each and every one of them with the same ease and dispatch as Jones did a number of years ago.

Such work doesn't make for glamorous — or notorious, as the case may be - news stories, so we rarely hear much about them. But these comprise the bulk of the policeman's job, along with traffic control, accident investigation, petty thefts and burglaries.

I frequently think of that 'routine police call when someone wants to tell me about "police brutality." –V. GLENN COOTES

this for George Wallace. Of the three major candidates, he alone is throughly the he-man. Masculinity in a presidential candidate is much to be desired, and the lack of it is no inconsequential matter. We're talking of the man who must keep his finger on the nuclear trigger. We are selecting a commander-in-chief, and not just a political administrator.

IT WOULD BE wrong to say that hair-on-the-chest is the top requirement for an American president but it is one that should be somewhere the presidential make - up.

If you were picking among Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace for the one least likely to panic under conditions of war and insurrection, there is hardly any doubt that the tough little Alabamian would be your choice. There are other important qualities which Wallace may not have, and serious defects which he does have. But he's more of a man than both of his major opponents put together.

THE PUGNACITY comes out in many ways. I have spent the good part of a weekend with Wallace, and I am struck with the directness of his thinking. It travels the shortest possible distance to the point of contact, like a left jab. I don't want to put compromising words in his mouth, but I would bet that Wallace doesn't believe everything we hear about poverty in America. Well, this is a country where there are more jobs than jobless persons. This is a government in which four of the cabinet ministries are dedicated to improving health, welfare, education, housing and agriculture.

SINCE THERE isn't nearly as much poverty as talked and written about, and since Wallace knows this. I would expect him to be the most cogent of the three candidates when it comes to military spending that we must do in the next several years The $70-odd billions in our current annual budgets is not enough to deter our enemies from blasting us to

WITH THE CANDIDATES - Say smithereens, or nibbling us to death, and no man can be President without knowing that.

> WHERE ARE WE going to get the extra money to save our lives? We are going to have to take it out of the welfare funds, out of the bureaucratic waste and probably out of the silly Space-for-Peace programs. It wouldn't be plausible to say that Hubert Humphrey has the heart to do this, and it would take a lot of nerve for Richard Nixon to do so, but this kind of revolutionary hard-think would come naturally to Wallace. Of the three candidates. Wallace is the one most probable to instruct the Joint Chiefs of Staff to shoot the works and win the Vietnam War.

IT MAY BE that our national crime wave has reached a point of no return, and that for some years to come our lives and property will require more policemen, stern justice and swift punishment. This is not the way any sensible American would want it. It would be much better if the radicals staved within the confines of the constitutional republic which has a remedy for every political ill. But if that is not to be, then the country has to fight its way back to law-and-order, and Wallace is the only candidate who uses that term without choking on it.

Size

EVERYTHING good about Wallace his guttsiness, his straight-to-thejaw thinking — ought to be said for him here in the late innings of the campaign. I don't think he will win. I know that he should not win. We cannot have a president who. deservedly or not, has the reputation of racism

We cannot indict, insult or insulate 14 million Negroes, and that is what a Wallace election would do. Nor can we have a president who, deservedly or not, is attracting so many soreheads, and too many defeatists, and many who are willing to give up on democracy instead of giving it another chance. THE NIXON MARK VII: It was thought at one time that the Nixon would be retired because of the disastrous years when it went into a complete sales decline. But the Nixon has made a comeback with new engineering and a very successful advertising campaign. The Mark VII has a much quieter engine, uses less gas and appeals to the middleclass family market by claiming it is much safer than the other '69 models, and a better buy for the money. Automobile surveys indicate that customers are showing a preference for the Nixon, although many have complained the 1969 selection of cars doesn't give them much of

> Anyone who buys this car gets a free bumper sticker which says, 'Support Your Local Police.'

THE MUSKIE: This is the sleeper model of the year. It has great popularity amongst the younger people and in many places it's outselling the Humphrey Humber, mainly because it isn't stuck with all the accessories that the Humber has. Unfortunately, it is on display in the same showroom with the Humber and does not have a strong enough chassis to support both.

THE AGNEW ACK-ACK: When it first came out on the market it wasn't a household name; but it has been getting a great deal of publicity, and for an unknown quantity, not all of it good. As a matter of fact, every time the manufacturer thinks it has all the bugs worked out, it has to recall the model and make further adjustments. One of the problems is that every time the Agnew goes forward, it has to back up. This is giving the dealers fits

THE LEMAY NUKE III: This model came out late. The manufacturer, who used to make bombers, decided to try its hand at cars, and while the Nuke has just appeared on the market as a sister to the Wallace Wildcat. it is considered by safety experts as the most dangerous car on the road. Although it looks innocent enough, those who have tested it say that as soon as you put your foot on the accelerator, the whole damn car explodes. (Copyright, 1968, The Washington Post 18.1)

ARGUMENTS

Arguments advanced by informants who say a breakthrough still is in the cards emerged after the 25th session of the conference Wednesday.

Taken together these arguments suggest the North Vietnamese, for the first time, are revealing a readiness to yield some ground.

The first argument:

- Hanoi regards with some dismay the prospect of Richard M. Nixon being elected President Nov. 5. This, according to sources, appears to be the only conclusion to be drawn from North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy's statement that "President Johnson . . still has enough time and power" to open the way to peace by ordering a halt now to the bombing of North Vietnam

PUSHED OUT

The second argument Hanoi is being hurt militarily under the combined pressure and the increasing firepower of allied forces in South Vietnam. Ever-younger troops, sources said, are being pushed out of North Vietnam's eroded training bases into Southern battlefields. The rate of infiltration
