WORLD'S LARGEST MANNED SPACECRAFT CARRIES THREE ASTRONAUTS

Apollo 7 Hurlled Into 11-Day Orbit

Highlights Of Flight Schedule

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Here are highlights scheduled for the 11-day flight of Apollo 7:

Launch Day

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham blast off at 10 a.m. (Big Spring time) into oval-shaped earth orbit ranging from 142 to 176 miles high. About three hours after liftoff, crew uses the orbiting upper stage of Apollo 7's Saturn IB booster rocket to rehearse docking techniques to be done when later Apollo craft fly to the moon.

Second Day

After separating from the orbiting rocket stage to a distance of 83 miles, Apollo 7's main 21,000-pound-thrust engine is triggered two times, about 26 and 28 hours after liftoff, to rendezvous with the booster, simulating how an Apollo spaceship in lunar orbit might rescue astronauts in a moon-landing craft stranded in the wrong orbit around the moon.

Third Day

Apollo 7 tracks orbiting rocket from distances up to 370 miles to test spaceship's ability to line up a rendezvous target. Astronauts use sextant to see how well they can navigate by stars. They later photograph weather and terrain features on earth.

Fourth Day

Crew uses landmarks on earth to see if they can calculate their orbit, continue star-sighting tests and photograph more land and weather features. Main Apollo engine ignited third time to adjust orbit so astronauts can return to earth using maneuvering rockets if main engine should fail.

Fifth Day

Engineering test of spacecraft radiators to see how well they cool component. Navigation test using combination of stars and earth's horizon.

Sixth Day

First of two minimum impulse burns of main Apollo engine to see if short bursts of the motor could be used to save fuel in spacecraft maneuvering rockets. More navigation experiments.

Seventh Day

Longest firing of main Apollo engine. Burn lasts 17 seconds to adjust orbit toward better recovery zone, with Schirra switching from automatic to manual control for last 30 seconds of burn.

Eighth Day

More land and weather photographs. Test of backup coolant system in life-supporting environmental control system.

Ninth Day

Radar of type to be used in moon-landing Lunar Module spacecraft beamed from ground to orbiting Apollo 7 to test Apollo's ability to lock onto it, as would be done for rendezvous in lunar orbit. Second minimum impulse burn of main Apollo engine.

Tenth Day

Seventh main engine burn, lasting about eight seconds, to adjust orbit for better landing.

Final Day

Apollo 7 fires main engine final time to re-enter after 163 orbits and parachute to a landing in Atlantic Ocean, 230 miles south-southwest of Bermuda.

Jesse James Style

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Two masked bandits pulled off a Jesse James-style train robbery here early today. Sheriff's deputies said the armed robbers hopped onto the caboose of a slow-moving freight train on the city's west side, relieved the startled conductor of $65, and hopped off the moving train.

United Fund Report

The United Fund received a shot in the arm as $2,800 more were turned in, moving the drive up to 43 per cent of its $109,225 objective. Bringing the total up to $46,918.18 were large contributions by the women's division, and employees of McGibbon Oil Co., who had 100 per cent participation of fair share giving. The women's division, headed by Mrs. Ralph Caton and Mrs. Bob Galbraith, is in its first year of the United Fund Drive here.

Adventure To Blaze Trail To The Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A space veteran and two rookies rode the world's largest manned spacecraft into orbit today on an 11-day adventure that could place America firmly on the path to the moon.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham, dressed for the moon in the new bubble-topped lunar suits, hurtled into orbit aboard the 69,000-pound Apollo 7. If the flight goes well, it ends after 11 days and 4 1/2 million miles of flight through space.

Thousands of people lined Atlantic beaches as the Saturn IB rocket, the most powerful booster ever used for a U.S. manned flight, slugged the spacecraft into orbit, riding a tail of fire the length of a football field.

The eight first stage engines, generating 1.6 million pounds of thrust—more power than 100 jet fighter planes—ignited at 10:03 a.m. (Big Spring Time), roared into the crystal blue sky and curved downrange.

Schirra said shortly after ignition that the ride "was a little bumpy", but six minutes later he said it was "riding like a dream."

Eisele reported the guidance and navigation system was "go."

Mission Control Center said the mighty booster rocket performed flawlessly during its 10 minutes of powered flight, accelerating the spacecraft to 17,500 miles an hour and drilling it into orbit.

Mission control announced that the orbit achieved was 140 by 183 miles, very close to the desired path of 142 by 176 miles.

Facts Of Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Here are the facts and figures about the Apollo 7 flight:

Astronauts: Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., 45; Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele, 38; civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham, 36.

Flight duration: 10 days, 20 hours, 9 minutes.

Purpose: Check all systems to qualify Apollo ship for later flights to the moon.

Orbital path: From 105 to 262 miles high, between 31.59 degrees north and 31.59 degrees south latitude.

Rocket: Saturn IB, two-stage, 225 feet tall, first stage thrust 1.6 million pounds.

Spacecraft: Before third orbit separation from second stage—113 feet 3 inches long, maximum diameter 21.7 feet, 69,034 pounds. After separation—33 feet 4 inches tall; 12 feet 10 inches diameter, 32,389 pounds.

Estimated cost of mission: $145 million.

Orbit Close To Desired Path

"We're looking at the Canary Islands," Schirra reported to capsule communicator John Swigert a few minutes after Apollo 7 had been inserted into orbit.

"You're making me jealous," Swigert replied. Success of the Apollo 7 flight may open the door for another Apollo crew to orbit the moon in December, a vital step toward landing men on the moon next year.

The spacecraft was to remain mated to the booster second stage, called the S4B, for about three hours, just as it will be on a moon flight.

After two orbits, the Apollo

Command and Service Module, which holds the crew, will inch forward and separate from the S4B.

The crew then flies in formation with the spent booster for a time before moving 83 miles out in front to get into position for a rendezvous late Saturday.

While attached to the S4B, the spacecraft is 113 feet 3 inches long and weighs 69,034 pounds.

At separation from the S4B, the 16,000-pound Apollo Command and Service Module will still be larger by two tons than any flown by the Russians and 12 tons larger than the two-man Gemini spacecraft.

Countdown Was Flawless

The countdown to launch of the marathon flight was near flawless. A brief hold was called at 6:15 to permit proper chill down of the second stage rocket engines, but the problem was quickly corrected.

Schirra, 45, the oldest man to fly into space and the first ticked for a third trip; Eisele and Cunningham essentially completed their training several days ago and have been relaxing for the most part as launch teams prepared their rocket and spacecraft for America's first man-in-space flight in 23 months.

"One of the prime requisites of this flight," Cunningham said, "is to come back with the feeling that all of the spacecraft systems are capable of supporting a flight duration that would take you to the moon and back."

Project officials admit the flight may not go the full route because of the complexity of the equipment.

"Our most important learning for this flight is to determine how the spacecraft lasts," said Glynn Lunney, the flight director. "We can gain just about every systems objective in the first three or four days if an equipment problem requires the mission to be terminated early."

During the flight, the astronauts are to keep watch over such key systems as guidance and navigation, electrical, communications, environmental control, maneuvering engines and the main spacecraft engines.

Watch Support Systems

"In the early stages, I'll keep my eye on the life support system, because it keeps us alive, and the fuel cell electrical system because it keeps the spacecraft alive," said Cunningham, who is the crew systems expert.

Eisele is the guidance and navigation expert, while Schirra is Apollo 7 commander.

Schirra says he's too old to wait two or three years for another flight, and that this will be his last space trip. The veteran of Mercury and Gemini missions calls Apollo 7 "the most ambitious undertaking yet. If we accomplish what we start out to do we can be more adventurous on subsequent flights."

One adventure the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has in mind is a moon orbit flight by the Apollo 8 crew about Christmas time. Apollo 8, commanded by Air Force Col. Frank Borman, presently is scheduled as an earth orbit

Compromise Gun Control Bill Waits President's Pen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strongest gun control bill ever to pass Congress is awaiting the signature of President Johnson who had sought an even tougher measure.

The bill before the President, compromise product of a House-Senate conference committee, bans the mail order sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

Although it lacks provisions for registration of owners and licensing of firearms which Johnson pleaded for, he is expected to sign it. It is not certain when Congressional action on the bill that was given life by the deaths of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was completed Thursday by the House.

Besides making it illegal to buy through the mail outside the state in which you live, the bill bans sales of firearms or ammunition to juveniles, fugitives, mental incompetents, drug addicts or persons under criminal indictment.

FORBIDS

It forbids over-the-counter sales of pistols to anyone under 21 and rifles and shotguns to those under 18. Similar age limits would apply to the sale of ammunition.

There was little real opposition to the compromise although the relatively narrow margin for passage—160 to 129—reflected a last-ditch effort by opponents to sidetrack the bill until next year.

Some members objected to two provisions in the compromise that changed the measure from the way it originally passed the House.

Rep. Clark MacGregor,

R-Minn., objected to the bans on all ammunition. He had successfully sponsored an amendment to exclude ammunition for rifles, shotguns and 22 caliber target pistols.

He said the measure, as it now stands, would subject sportsmen and hunters to harassment and inconvenience.

The conference weakened provision calling for mandatory additional prison terms for persons convicted of using a firearm in the commission of a federal crime.

DISCRETION

The compromise gives a judge discretion to suspend or grant probation for a first offender who uses or carries a gun while committing a federal felony or to give a 1-to-10-year sentence. For second and subsequent offenders a mandatory 5-to-25 years is required.

It also permits the sentences to be served concurrently with the penalty of the actual crime.

The original House version made the penalty mandatory and required it to be served consecutively.

Nixon Making Plans To Meet With Allied Leaders

DALLAS (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, predicting he'll "win big" in November, already is thinking about a possible post-election trip to Europe to meet with allied leaders.

MET SCRANTON

Before flying to Dallas Thursday night from Akron, Ohio, the Republican presidential candidate met with former Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, just back from a 20-day fact finding mission to Western Europe on Nixon's behalf.

It was Scranton who disclosed, at a news conference, that Nixon would like pre-inaugural meeting with leaders of Western Europe should he gain the White House.

Scranton said Nixon would want to talk personally with as many European leaders as possible, assuming he is elected.

The Nixon campaign rolled through Illinois and Ohio Thursday with one public appearance in each state.

Speaking to an overflow crowd of more than 5,000 in a university field house at Akron, Nixon first tried to ignore anti-war chants by some 40 demonstrators. Then he said, as he had in similar situations before, that at a Nixon rally his backers shout down the hecklers. Then he waved his hand in mock salute to the protesters while many in the crowd faced them with thumbs-down gestures.

To a heckler-free crowd of 6,500 in a field house at Moline, Ill., the GOP nominee said: "We're going to win in Illinois. We're going to win in the nation. We're going to win big."

Before his Akron rally, Nixon issued a statement aimed at breaking the traditional allegiance of labor to Democrats.

"The rank and file of American labor is rightly resentful of the way some union treasurers are being emptied to support the sagging campaign of an administration that has proven to be a false friend of labor," he said.

BROKEN

He said Democrats had broken their contract with labor "by failing to fight inflation."

NEW YORK (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey said today that he and his running mate, Sen. Edmund G. Muskie, will guarantee the cost of television debates with Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Wallace.

Humphrey made the proposal a day after Senate Republicans blocked legislation to permit free time for television debates this year—debates Humphrey has counted on to catch up with the front-running Nixon, his Republican opponent for the presidency.

"We have commenced negotiations with one of the networks this morning for an hour of prime time on Sunday night, Oct. 20, with a debate among Mr. Nixon, Gov. Wallace and myself," Humphrey said.

Humphrey expressed hope that Nixon and Wallace would share the debate costs. But if

No Hecklers Turn Out For Wallace In Duluth

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — George C. Wallace came to the Duluth Arena, which 6,350 people filled to capacity Thursday night, with a bouquet of roses to toss to hecklers.

But there was no heckling. WALKED OUT

About 50 or 100 persons walked out early in his speech without fuss. The rest of the audience applauded politely, and at times enthusiastically, but were markedly more restrained than other audiences in recent days.

Consequently, when Wallace came to his customary criticism of the press and singled out his favorite target, the New York Times, an aide delivered a single rose to correspondent Martin Waldron who responded with a bow.

Aboard his airplane en route to Duluth, Wallace strolled the aisle making jokes with the reporters accompanying him. "You boys better start writing some good things about me," he said. "I look like I'm going to make it."

Predicting how he thought press reaction to his candidacy would change in the 3 1/2 weeks remaining until election day, Wallace quipped: "It's like when Napoleon escaped from Elba. The first headlines said, 'The beast has escaped, he's in Granada.' But by the time he got to Paris the headlines were, 'Our great emperor has returned.'"

To typically responsive crowds of 4,000 at the courthouse in Evansville, Ind., and 6,000 to 7,000 at the City Hall in Peoria, Ill., Wallace repeated his charge that the polls were "rigged" in favor of his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon.

WAR PLEDGE

In more weighty portions of his speeches in both cities he stressed his pledge to end the Vietnam war militarily with conventional weapons if peace talks fail.

State Weather Settles Back

By The Associated Press

Texas weather settled back into a mild autumn pattern in most sections today.

A few early morning thunderstorms around Wink in Far West Texas made that area an exception.

There also were a few showers during the night a bit farther west and in extreme South Texas.

Clouds overhung the eastern third of the state solidly and it was at least partly cloudy everywhere else except for clear skies in the Panhandle.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:

I went over to my next-door neighbor's house yesterday to have lunch and she had four pieces of bread wrapped in a hunk of foil, just laying over the pilot light to warm.

Wow! That bread was as warm and fresh as if it had just come from her own oven.

So, if you need just a few pieces of bread for a meal, why don't you try warming it this way? I did and I love it! I even warmed a couple of hamburger buns using this method and it works great.

You can turn the foil over several times and it heats from both sides quickly.

If your pilot light is covered, it takes a bit longer. If your pilot is a small open flame, turn the bread frequently and it will warm quickly without burning.

So remember, you with small families, wrap up a few pieces of bread in some aluminum foil and set it on top of that pilot light. Sure makes it "scrumptilyumptious." And beats heating up that oven!

Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

Here's how to can peaches easily for that "county fair" look:

After they have been scalded and dunked in cold water, I cut them in half. Then with my fingers I grasp the peach skin at the center, opposite the stem end, and the skin pulls off in one piece.

After the peaches are cooked in the syrup, I put one peach half in the jar, cut side down. Put another half opposite this, then the next two on opposite sides.

Just keep going this way until the jar is filled. The peach halves look like shingles on a roof and surprisingly, the jar holds more if they are placed in this manner. ... Mary Belle G.

Dear Heloise:

Since I don't have a linen closet, I use a small gold wrought iron book stand to hold extra towels in my bathroom.

It not only looks pretty, but it is especially handy for the children. I keep their tissues and soap dish on the top shelf, and right next to it I nailed an extra silverware drainer for their combs and brushes. ... Carole Hummer

Dear Heloise:

The time to repot African violets is after your violet has finished blooming and has rested for at least two months.

Remove the plant with as much soil as possible. If the roots are badly potbound, use a size larger pot. But be careful because violets must be pot-bound before they bloom.

Fill in around the sides of the pot without disturbing the soil around the root and then water. Before the soil dries, water again with a solution of fertilizer, being sure to follow instructions on the label.

Once your potted plant shows signs of regrowth, loosen the soil, being careful not to break the root structure. Keep the soil porous, avoiding hard top soil.

I have gorgeous blooms following this procedure.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

My daughter-in-law puts her bread to rise in her car which stands out in the sun. She says it is just the right temperature.

And I believe her, because she just won Grand Champion at the County Fair for her bread!

These young people can cure teach us a thing or two. ... Mrs. G. Linville

Dear Heloise:

When working outside in the garden, there's no need to miss that important phone call.

Take a ceramic dinner plate and place it under the telephone (turned up to loud, of course). This amplifies the sound and sends you scurrying indoors to say "yes" to your dream date or accept the prize. ... Listener

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM ALVIE FARRAR

W. A. Farrars Mark Wedding Anniversary

Today marks the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Farrar of Clyde who formerly resided in Howard County. Their children and grandchildren will host a tea in their honor from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, at the home of daughter, Mrs. Pete Thomas in Sand Springs.

Other children, along with their husbands and wives, are Mr. and Mrs. Worth Farrar.

Roy Rogans Plan Reunion Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogan will be hosts for a family reunion Sunday in their home at 1313 Lincoln. Here for the weekend will be her sisters, Mrs. T. B. Spencer of Marysville, Calif.; Mrs. Ralph Smith, Odessa; and Mrs. Bob Wickson of Roswell, N.M. Bob Wickson will also attend along with Mrs. Rogan's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Meador and children, and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Kennedy and son. Friends of the family are invited to call.

Sew Pillowcases For Missions

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army sewed pillowcases at Wednesday's meeting in the Citadel. Mrs. (Capt.) Bart Deggs announced that orders are being taken for the pillowcases at a charge of $1.50 per pair. Those wishing to order are asked to call Mrs. Deggs, 267-6141, and proceeds will go to the Mexican mission fund. Cards were mailed to absent members.

Salad Luncheon

Mrs. Bill Reynolds, 1000 Baylor, was hostess to Tuesday's meeting and salad luncheon of the Opt-Mrs. Club. Mrs. Sidney Clark presided, and the next meeting will be a party for husbands, Oct. 29, at the First Federal Community Room.

Sale Set Saturday

The Coahoma Quarterback Club will hold a bake sale all day Saturday in the Anderson Grocery Store at Coahoma. Proceeds will be used to assist the football team.

Pasadena, Tex.: Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Birkhead, Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Farrar and Paul, all of Granada Hills, Calif. There are six great-grandchildren.

The couple was married Oct. 11, 1908, at the home of the Rev. Jess Kennedy east of Abilene. Farrar was engaged in stock farming in that area and also in Howard and Dawson Counties. In 1940, the couple returned to Abilene, and later to Clyde, where he has since owned and operated a furniture store.

Mrs. Farrar, the former Miss Laura Mae Hurst, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Hurst of Lamesa. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Farrar of Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Farrar are active members of the First United Methodist Church in Clyde. The family formerly held membership in the First United Methodist Church of Coahoma where they plan to have lunch Sunday prior to the tea.

Mrs. Farrar, who plans to wear a white knit, long-sleeved dress, will be presented a white carnation corsage, and Farrar will receive a carnation boutonniere.

The granddaughters will serve punch and wedding cake from a table laid with a white crocheted cloth and centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli. White candles will be held by crystal holders, and other appointments will be of crystal and silver. The cake will be decorated with touches of green and silver.

Out-of-town guests expected, other than the children, are Ronnie Farrar of Pasadena, Mr.

Coffee Date Announced By OES

The Past Matrons of Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, met Tuesday at the Downtown Tea Room with Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Mrs. Lester Wise and Mrs. George Hall as hostesses.

Mrs. D. D. Dyer presided, and Mrs. R. D. Ulrey gave the invocation.

A farewell coffee was planned for Oct. 26 in the home of Mrs. Stripling, No. 2 Indian Ridge, in honor of Mrs. J. T. Allen who will be moving to Tyler.

Named to the month's visiting committee were Mrs. George Pittman, Mrs. Nora Williamson and Mrs. C. A. Murdock. The telephone committee will be composed of Mrs. Charles Graham and Mrs. R. D. Ulrey. Hostesses for the Nov. 12 meeting will be Mrs. Pyrie Bradshaw, Mrs. Nannie Gambill and Mrs. J. T. Allen.

Plans Schedules For Flower Show

The Four O'Clock Garden Club discussed the upcoming flower show at Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr., 433 Hillside.

The show will be called "HemisFair," and will be sponsored by the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, Oct. 26, at Highland Center. Schedules were outlined by the club.

A Christmas workshop was scheduled for Nov. 13 in First Federal Community Room. Mrs. John Edgar presided, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Legal Responsibilities Outlined By Attorney

WESTBROOK — Mrs. Bill Jackson was hostess to members of the Plainview, Spade and Carr home demonstration clubs Monday afternoon.

Tom Rees, local attorney and guest speaker, talked on "Legal Responsibilities of the Family."

Twenty-seven members and guests were present. Attending from the Carr Club were Mrs. John Latty, Mrs. Tom Jackson and Mrs. T. A. Rees. Club members will attend the annual council meeting in the Medallion Room, Oct. 17 beginning at 10 a.m.

Revival services begin Sunday at Westbrook Methodist Church and will continue nightly through the week at 7 p.m. The Rev. Jesse Dea, pastor of Ira and Union Methodist churches will be the evangelist. The Rev. Henry Parmenter, pastor of Westbrook Church, extends an invitation to everyone to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roberts of Vincent were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Roberts. Mrs. John W. Hawkins, Mrs. L. B. Messinger and Mrs. O. T. Bird were in Coahoma Monday afternoon for funeral services of Frank McGettes. Seven attended.

McGettes was a cousin of Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Messinger. Mrs. C. M. Alvis was a patient in Loraine Hospital last week.

Mrs. Ruby Rogers returned to her home in Petrolia this weekend following a visit with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dale Rogers. The Rogerses accompanied her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford were in Huntsville the past weekend and attended the prison rodeo. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Claxton of Colorado City and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lankford of Loraine.

Mrs. Joh W. Hawkins spoke on "Finding God Through Suffering" when members of Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon. Seven attended.

Get Ready For Wildest Weekend Of Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas residents — and the police especially — braced themselves today for what annually is the wildest weekend of the year.

It is a combination of football riots, carnival and sometimes tears. The thing that starts it each year is the pre-game rally — or riot — Friday night at Commerce and Akard Streets. At least it once was a football rally — for the teams of the University of Oklahoma and the University of Texas. It is much more now. Add these ingredients and you know why the police will look and feel beat by Sunday night.

A gigantic rally today for Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon.

Kids Day Saturday at the State Fair of Texas where 100,000 youngsters will cavort and total attendance will approach 350,000.

Previously the celebrators were released in time for the college game. But last year officers still hadn't finished processing all those arrested when the kickoff came.

'Turtleneck' Bandit Robs Savings Firm

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A robber, wearing a turtleneck shirt and armed with a rusty automatic pistol held up the San Antonio Savings and Loan Association branch office at the Central Park Mall Thursday afternoon and fled with between $200 and $1,000.

An employee, Mrs. Sharon A. Palasky, 21, told Det. T.T. Fenley she was alone in the office about 5:40 p.m. when a man, in his 40s and sporting a strawberry blond surfer's haircut, walked in and placed a paper sack on the counter. Thinking he wanted her to throw the sack away, she picked it up and was about to throw it in a trash can when the man said, "Put it up."

The man then pulled a pistol from underneath his shirt, Mrs. Palasky told police. Mrs. Palasky asked the man if he wanted any change and he said to pull all the bills only. When she finished placing the bills in the sack, she said the man kept asking for more. She said she had to show the man an empty drawer to convince him there was no more bills, Mrs. Palasky said.

She said the bandit forced her to crawl under the counter while he fled with the money. Another employee of the office was out when the robbery occurred in the crowded mall.

Two Army Reserve Members Lose In U.S. Court Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court judge refused Thursday to grant a stay in a case in which 137 members of two Army Reserve units attack their active duty orders as illegal.

Judge Griffin B. Bell of the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the petition for stay failed to show that there was a reasonable certainty the case would win in appeals court.

The suit was filed by members of the 424th Personal Services Company who were activated from the ready reserve in Lavoia, Mich., and members of the Second Battalion 138th Artillery, First Armored Division, who were attached to the Kentucky National Guard at Louisville.

Petition for habeas corpus and to join the active duty orders were denied Oct. 8 in Austin, Tex., by U. S. Dist. Court Judge Jack Roberts.

The case was appealed to the 5th Circuit. Nathan R. Zahm of Sherman Oaks, Calif., attorney for the reservists, asked for the stay because some of the men leave for Vietnam Friday. Once outside the territorial limits, the court would lose jurisdiction, Zahm said. Judge Bell suggested that the matter of jurisdiction could be resolved by adding the secretary of the Army as a defendant. Asst. U. S. Atty. Charles White agreed to the change.

The suit was filed naming Lt. Gen. Beverly E. Powell, commanding officer at Fort Hood, Tex., as defendant. Zahm's principal argument was that the enlistment contracts signed by the reservists provided they could only be called to active duty in times of national emergency or war.

But the widest event is the riot at Commerce and Akard in downtown Dallas.

466 ARRESTED Last year, police arrested 466 persons at the intersection before 5 a.m. Saturday, when street sweepers moved in, cleared out the broken bottles, washed down the area and had it spit and span as the sun rose. The downtown affair finds no one rioting against anything. The people just riot for fun. It isn't much fun when they wake up in jail the next morn-

VANDALISM

Most arrests are for over-imbibing, affray, vandalism and things like that. In some years, the intersection had looked badly beaten and other signs of the riot.

Last year, because of more than 400 well-organized police, damage went down as arrests rose. Two venerable hotels, the Baker and the Adolphus, face each other at the intersection and are in the most danger of damage. The Adolphus has found it discreet to remove most of the lobby furniture. TRUST The Baker is using a different sort of approach. "Last year we trusted them," said a hotel spokesman, "and we didn't have any damage." The furniture will remain tonight.

More than 1,300 officers of various sorts will be on duty. Police will number 500, a few more than last year. Called in are 375 police reserves. State police are sending 200, largely because of Nixon's visit. Thirty civilians are assigned to jail and city court chores.

State Fair spectators must do with firemen — 250 of them — instead of police.

The city of Dallas collected between $21,000 and $22,000 in fines or bail forfeits last year while paying out $6,000 in overtime to police. This year the manpower costs are expected to be $26,700.

'The Living Bank' Opens In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The Living Bank, a clearing house for persons who wish to donate their bodies or organs to be used after their deaths has officially opened. The bank presently is housed in a 43-foot trailer on the parking lot of the Medical Center National Bank. At the bank, which ultimately hopes to have a home in a permanent building, persons can sign billfold-size cards indicating what they wish to donate. The bank is for information and record and not a laboratory for storing of actual organs.

Others who signed cards saying they were willing to donate organs for possible future transplant operations or for use in medical research were Mrs. Marjorie Nicks and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buxton of Houston, whose husband and son, respectively, were donors in two of Houston's 16 human heart transplants; Tommy Stevenson, 24, of Houston, a kidney recipient in a historic four-person transplant operation performed Aug. 31 at Methodist Hospital.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ South did a skillful job of concealing his intentions in this hand from his opponent, West, and the latter failed to capitalize on the opportunity that he had to defeat the four spade contract.

West opened the ten of clubs and the ace was played from the dummy. Declarer was confronted with the possibility of losing two tricks each in hearts and diamonds. If West held the ace of diamonds, only one trick need be surrendered, or, if East had both the king and queen of hearts, then South might reduce his losers by one.

In the event that all cards were unfavorably located for declarer, it would be necessary to execute an end play against East on the deal. However, it would be essential in that event to secure a measure of cooperation from the enemy and, in order to avoid tipping his hand, South resolved to launch his campaign at once.

Accordingly, at trick two, South led a small heart from dummy and covered East's eight with the jack. West was in with the king and, had he chosen at this point to shift to a diamond, declarer's plans would have come to naught for, after cashing two diamond tricks, East can sit back and wait to score the setting trick in hearts.

West was not aware, however, that emergency measures were in order and, being reluctant to break the diamond suit on his own initiative, he continued with the ten of clubs; South ruffed in his hand and proceeded to take charge of the situation.

The ace and a small spade to dummy's jack permitted declarer to ruff away North's remaining club. The ace of hearts was cashed and a heart continuation threw East in with the queen. Since a club lead would provide his opponent with a ruff and discard, East could do no more than cash the ace of diamonds and then concede.

Observe that if South tries to draw trumps before he makes his heart play, it will provide East with an opportunity to discard the eight of diamonds—a clear-cut command to his partner to make the fatal diamond shift when he gets in.

TWO MARKERS DEDICATED, TWO REUNIONS STAGED

Four Events In C-City Recall Other Days

By SAM BLACKBURN
 COLORADO CITY — Colorado City staged what might be termed a four ring civic circus Thursday, and the events revived memories of other days for hundreds of early day settlers of this community.

The casts for each of the events were largely comprised of the same people — or at least of people of the same general age groups in Colorado City and Mitchell County history.

History was revived in each of the four programs which were sandwiched into the day's activities. The colorful days of half to three quarters century ago were recalled.

The events on this community's calendar for Thursday included:

- 1) The thirty-seventh edition of the Mitchell County Old Settlers Reunion.
- 2) First class reunion of the graduating class of the Colorado City High School for the year 1918.
- 3) Dedication of an historic marker on the entranceway to All Saints Episcopal Church.
- 4) Dedication of an historic marker to commemorate the dramatic buffalo trail and call attention to the role the shaggy legions of nearly a century ago had in the settlement of the part of the southwest.

Initial event on the crowded agenda for the day was the reunion, which was held Thursday morning at Civic II-use.

Speaker for this event was R. A. Shepherd, widely known Houston attorney, and son of an early day district judge of Mitchell County. Shepherd, who grew up in Colorado City, had an interesting collection of anecdotes and memories of the days when the town was "the biggest city between Fort Worth and El Paso." He has a rare knack for recounting the episodes of his youth with good humor and effective color.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bilberry were the host couple for the reunion. They were not, it was explained, "pioneers" but were chosen for the honor of being host by their fellow Colorado Cityans.

Miss Martha Earnest, who was born in Mitchell County in 1889, was general chairman of the reunion. The first reunion she said, was in 1932. "We missed a few years," she said, "but after the museum was established, we have had one every year.

Porter Richardson was master of ceremonies. Joe Earnest, attorney, presented the speaker. Miss Mable Smith then conducted the presentation of the special awards.

Mrs. F. H. Winn, who came here in 1890, was the oldest continuous resident on hand. C. L. Grable, who came to Mitchell County in 1901 and operated a meat market for many years, was the oldest resident in years. He is 92.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bodine, who married in 1912, were awarded the plaque for the married couple longest married and their great-grandson, Russell Kevin Duffy, eight weeks old, was the youngest pioneer present.

Mitchell County Pioneers Are Honored Thursday

His mother, Mrs. Terence Duffy, accepted the award for Russell Kevin who showed no interest in the proceedings. His father is in Korea.

The one sad note of the program was the recital of the names of 100 pioneers who have died in the past 12 months.

There were 249 present at the program — the largest turnout in many years.

In 1918, Colorado High School had a senior class of 19 members. This year, Joe Earnest sent out invitations to the 19 to join him at the Villa Inn Thursday for the first reunion the class had ever held.

To everyone's amazement, considering that half a century had passed since the day the class finished high school, 10 members were on hand, and letters from four others, regretting their inability to attend the meeting, were received. Five of the class have died.

The luncheon program was devoted to the graduates recalling old days and reminiscing of school experiences. Joe Pond, Big Spring insurance man, was a graduate in that class. Several wives and husbands of the class members were on hand.

"We made no plans for a reunion next year," said Earnest. "Maybe we will have one in 1993."

Students Supporting Negro Seize 2 Campus Buildings

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 100 students at New York University, protesting the dismissal of a Negro educator who called a group, was spearheading the library seizure.

A chapter of Students for a Democratic Society had led the revolt at Columbia.

However, one student who telephoned The Associated Press to say that students had taken over the buildings said they were acting as individuals and did not represent any group.

The sit-in followed the dismissal Thursday of John F. Hatchett as director of NYU's Martin Luther King Afro-American Student Center.

Dr. James M. Hester, president of NYU, announced Hatchett's dismissal two days after Hatchett told 700 students in a speech on the Bronx campus that Humphrey, Nixon and Albert Shanker, president of New York's United Federation of Teachers, had one thing in common, they are "racist bastards."

Hatchett said after his dismissal that University Senate proceedings were "a sham which violated every principle of academic freedom and freedom of speech."

"I have been punished because I have spoken freely and openly of some of the ills of this society," he said.

New York University has campuses in the Bronx and Manhattan. It has 5,149 faculty members and 42,000 students. It is privately endowed.

The demonstrations that crippled Columbia began with the occupation of five campus buildings last April 23. Eight days later, 1,000 city police cleared the buildings and arrested more than 700 persons. Nearly 200 were injured.

While the SDS chapter led the Columbia demonstration, other students, and faculty members, were outraged by the use of police force and supported the strike. Classes were suspended and the school year ended in chaos.

Dr. Lewis Hyde, provost of the 42,000-student school, summoned New York City police to the edge of the Bronx campus and announced: "I intend to take whatever steps necessary to see that the buildings are available to students today."

The seizure was reminiscent of the campus disorders at Columbia University last spring when student activists and revolutionaries crippled that Ivy League school after occupying five campus buildings.

Entrances to the two NYU buildings were barricaded. A group in Gould Memorial Library was described by students as mostly white, while a group in Gould Student Center was described as predominantly Negro.

During the morning a counter-demonstration formed as some 200 students stood in front of the student center and chanted, "Get them out, get them out."

Police from nearby precincts were called to the university but remained out of sight as officials attempted to persuade the demonstrators to vacate the buildings.

Dave Rosenstein, news director of the campus radio station, said Katara, a black nationalist student group, was leading the

Austin Death Ruling Posted

AUSTIN (AP) — A justice of the peace has ruled that Terence Spring, an Austin businessman who had been missing since June 27, died from a self-inflicted wound. Spring's badly decomposed body was found Thursday by law officers in a heavily wooded area southwest of here.

A search was started after Spring's car was spotted by state police helicopter pilots.

The body was about 50 feet from the car. A knife, with human blood on it, was found near the body, said Justice of the Peace Bob Kuhn, who made the ruling in the case. He said the body was in such condition that it could not be determined exactly how Spring died.

Spring was a real estate consultant and had worked in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for 15 years before coming to Austin.

Friends Help Astros' Wives

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — The lights and the television were on before dawn today in the homes of two astronauts while the breadwinners boarded Apollo 7 to make space history.

Suzanne Schirra, daughter of commander pilot Walter M. Schirra Jr., emerged from her house to bring in the morning paper, and told waiting reporters her father had telephoned from Cape Kennedy.

GIGGLED

The little girl giggled at the newsmen's questions and said "I talked with him just for a little while. Then he talked to mother."

Mrs. Josephine Schirra, Suzanne's mother, has had more practice than the other astronaut wives at experiencing launch-day tensions. Her Navy captain husband was preparing for his third space flight. His two companions are rookies.

"It's the night before that is the restless one," Mrs. Schirra once said.

SNAPS TENSION

Mrs. Schirra said little as she prepared for her third night before—this time, Apollo 7. She obliged a photographer by going out and raking leaves with the help of her 11-year-old daughter, Suzanne, but her heart obviously wasn't in it.

Most of the friends who helped her wait out the Gemini launch planned to be at the Schirras' home at Timber Cove near the Manned Spacecraft Center today.

In 1965 Marge Slayton, wife of Donald K. Slayton, director of flight crew operations, arrived in a long flannel granny gown, old-fashioned night cap, and a bottle of champagne—a successful scheme to break the tension. Marge was expected to be one of those on hand today.

Also expected were the wives of astronauts—or former astronauts—John J. Glenn Jr., L. Gordon Cooper and Alan B. Shepard Jr. Trudy Cooper and Louise Shepard were there three years ago, too.

WAITING

Walter M. Schirra III, who was 12 when his father went up in the Mercury capsule, now is at Stanford University and will wait out the launch there. But Mrs. James Pickett of Arlington, Va., Mrs. Schirra's sister, will be at the Schirra home.

The wives of the two other astronauts—Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham—were more prone to night-before jitters. This is the first time into space for their husbands.

The Eiseles live in El Lago, not far from the Schirras. Harriet Eisele planned to watch the launch on television with 14-year-old Melinda, 14, Donn 12, and Jon J., 4. The older children were excused from school.

Others invited to the Eisele home were the wives of astronauts John W. Young and Thomas P. Stafford, their minister at Seabrook Methodist Church, the Rev. Bob Parrott and his wife; and Mrs. Eisele's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Hamilton of Gnadenhutten, Ohio.

Lo Ella Cunningham was farthest from the eyes of the public. She and her children, Brian, 8, and Kimberly, 5, were on a boat in a river near Cape Kennedy. Television sets were on board as a backup—but she hoped to get a good view of the actual launch.

Mrs. Cunningham, who flew to the cape Wednesday night for a final visit with her husband, planned to return to their home near here tonight.

There are loudspeakers in each astronaut's home tied to the global network that tracks the space flight—so each wife can hear her husband go about his routine. And each home has three television sets.

Best Of Region Award

On behalf of the 66 postal employees in the Big Spring office, Nle Cole, clerk, Floyd Howell, carrier, and Frank Hardesty, postmaster, receive a trophy from Edwin I. Fisher, postal service officer, for best in the Dallas region for suggestions. The personnel here submitted 15 suggestions which were adopted for improving postal service. Nationwide in its class, the Big Spring office ranked 84th. Nationally, workers submitted 211,700 ideas, more than one-fourth of which were adopted. Savings were estimated at $6.6 million as a result, as well as faster postal service.

Dreaded Blood Disease Striking Texas Cattle

DALLAS (AP) — Cattle raisers in the Dallas area are hoping the first frost will slow down a widespread epidemic of the dreaded blood disease anaplasmosis, now striking cattle in large numbers.

Dr. William L. Anderson, a veterinarian specializing in large-animal diseases, said the frost will not completely eliminate the danger from carrier insects, but "should slow it down considerably."

Anderson said this is the worst epidemic he has seen in 15 years.

Anaplasmosis reportedly bears some similarity to hepatitis in humans, destroying red blood cells and producing a yellowing or jaundiced condition of the affected animal's skin.

Steve Wheelers, Dallas County agriculture agent, said horseflies are primary carriers of the virus, but it can be spread by the bite of mosquitoes, ticks or any blood-sucking insect.

Anderson warned that anaplasmosis can be transmitted from carrier cattle to healthy animals through injections with dirty needles by amateur inoculators.

The veterinarian said the epidemic has spread through Hunt, Rockwall, Collins, Kaufman, Tarrant and Ellis counties, and South and East Dallas County. Wheelers said he understands some 2,000 cattle have died in the area from the anaplasmosis outbreak.

U.S. Protection For Jackie Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to provide Mrs. John F. Kennedy with Secret Service protection until her death or she remarries.

The action, subject to House approval, would extend the same protection to her children until they reach the age of 16.

Existing law calls for Secret Service protection for the widow of a president for four years after he dies in office. The four years expired in Mrs. Kennedy's case November 1967. Protection since then has been on a year to year basis.

Schirra Becomes Oldest Man Ever To Fly In Space

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — There are very few ways that Wally Schirra shows his age. One is the fact that he has an 18-year-old son.

Another is his birth certificate. That document shows that Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. was born on March 12, 1923, in Hackensack, N.J. What it doesn't say is that at 45 Schirra becomes the oldest man ever to fly into space.

In what would seem to be a young man's game, Schirra looks the part of the command pilot of Apollo 7. He has crammed more harrowing experiences into his 45 years than most men meet in a lifetime. He was a jet fighter-bomber pilot in the Korean War, racking up 90 missions. He helped develop the lethal air-to-air Sidewinder missile, a heat-seeking explosive that could be as hazardous to the firer as it was to the target.

He has test piloted a number of Navy jets, logging 3,300 hours in jets and 4,300 in all types of aircraft. He was a fighter pilot on the USS Lexington in the Pacific.

One of the original seven astronauts, only he and Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr. are still flight rated.

Schirra logged nine hours and 13 minutes in space aboard his Sigma 7 Mercury spaceship, Oct. 3, 1962. He was 39 then.

In December 1965, he teamed with Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford in Gemini 6 for another 26 hours in space.

With the Apollo 7 flight, he becomes the most experienced spaceman alive, American or Russian. It will be his third blast-off, and, he has decided, his last.

"I think when I find I'm just too plain tired, when I can't keep up the pace, then I would personally consider it . . . There is some two space agency Distinguished point in your life, and a man Service Medals and one Exceptional Service Medal. He has a honest with himself. And this is shelf full of other air trophies much too important a business and awards.

for me to just have personal pride and keep on going until I might stumble," he said. "I'll have to learn when to hang up my spurs." Schirra is the father of two children, a veteran of 27 years of naval service beginning with the U.S. Naval Academy at 18. He has won three Distinguished Flying Crosses, two Air Medals, one Exceptional Service Medal, and one Exceptional Service Medal. He has a shelf full of other air trophies and awards.

A Devotional For The Day

He is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Ephesians 2:14)

PRAYER: Lord Jesus, let Thy spirit of love embrace the world this day. Break down by Thy crucified love the walls and barriers that divide us. Draw together Thy children who take the bread and drink the cup, that they may all be one in Thee. For Thy sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Why Not Modernize?

Investigation by the House Ethics Committee may show that alleged "ghost voting" in the House has been neither widespread nor gravely venal. Let us hope that this will prove to be the case.

Let us hope, in addition, that when the dust has settled, the House will at last come around to doing what many state legislatures have done: That is, install an electronic vote-recording system which virtually rules out finagling. Some may argue that the House would demean itself by taking such action on the heels of the "ghost voting" scandal. The fitting retort is that, after such an episode, the House would appear too little concerned if it did not take advantage of the means available to avert a like scandal in the future.

It is said in extenuation of what has occurred that rollcalls are noisy and confusing, so that mistakes are easily made, although the perpetuation of a mistake on successive days as took place in the House recently is highly unlikely. All the more reason for employing a modern electronic servant to sort things out and make abuse practically impossible.

Experiment In Consolidation

Consolidation of city and county governments has been the subject of much academic discussion over the years. But in far too many jurisdictions, as in Texas, there is no legal vehicle for such consolidation. Where there is, public apathy and the opposition of conflicting interests paralyzes action.

Thus it was a matter of national interest when Jacksonville, Fla., and surrounding Duval County were officially consolidated on Oct. 1. The consolidated government has jurisdiction over 827 square miles of north-east Florida.

The new government replaces the old, separate city and county government structures with a "strong" mayor, a 19-man city council (14 elected from districts and five at large), a consolidated county-wide police force directed by an elected sheriff, a seven-member, non-partisan, non-paid, elective school board and a consolidated, elected civil service board.

The goal, is to provide high-quality governmental services, county-wide, for: Police protection, fire protection, streets and highway planning, traffic control, zoning, recreation and parks, library service, building codes, sewers, water, street lighting, drainage, refuse collection and disposal. All of this, it is hoped, can be done with less money, permitting tax reduction and the elimination of tax inequities.

The most significant aspect of the Jacksonville experiment is its abrupt departure from supposedly hallowed tradition. It breaks the old mold. It offers exciting new vistas, not alone in terms of efficiency and economy but in opportunities to improve the climate and thus the life of the community.

Those who are searching for better government at the municipal and county level will be watching the Jacksonville experiment with sympathy and interest.

Holmes Alexander Questions About Muskie

WASHINGTON — As Democratic vice presidential candidate, Sen. Muskie of Maine is showing himself to be a crowd-pleaser, and he's getting a good press, but that's because he's being judged for his rugged features and outdoor bonhomie.

I know it's a minority opinion, but mine is that Muskie rates behind the tongue-tongued Governor Agnew and the ironhearted Gen. LeMay as a potential President of the United States, which is what the vice presidential nomination stands for.

HAS ANYBODY looked into Edmund Muskie's record as a senator? His chief contribution as a national legislator lies in his 1962-63 service on the McClellan subcommittee investigation of the notorious TFX.

The TFX case goes back almost eight years. The Senate testimony fills 10 volumes and is still incomplete. It tells a notorious story, maybe one with a disastrous ending for the U.S.A. has invested nearly $7 billion in Air Force and Navy planes which are an integral part of our present and future military strength — and which, to date, won't fly.

Ed Muskie was on the wrong side of this controversy.

"THE RECORD SHOWS that Muskie was there," says a member of the McClellan subcommittee. "It shows that he was the main questioner for the Johnson administration. It shows that the questions were fed to him by the administration. It shows that they were consistently pro-McNamara and pro-TFX."

For readers who don't remember it all, let us begin with the most recent episode of the sorry tale. On Sept. 23, an F-111 Air Force plane crashed at Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada. Planes are always flying into the ground, but this one was the tenth out of 100 which were manufactured under the TFX program of former Defense Secretary McNamara.

THE NAVY VERSION of the F-111B, is so faulty that Congress has cancelled it out, leaving a gaping hole in Navy aviation for years to come. The Air Force version, the F-111A, has been out of service for five months because of its failures and crashes.

Secretary McNamara, taking office under President Kennedy and continuing under President Johnson, commenced the TFX program in September, 1961, a new man in the Pentagon. He conceived the seemingly plausible notion of "commonality" in military aircraft, combat planes that would perform both for the Navy and Air Force. All the military evaluators told him that it's impossible to have a multi-purpose weapon in modern warfare. McNamara overrode this professional opinion. Muskie with no expertise in aviation supported him in the closed hearings.

McNAMARA ALSO overruled the evaluators in the choice of a manufacturer. Six companies submitted plans, and the Boeing Company of Washington State won the competition. But McNamara ordered that the aircraft be manufactured by General Dynamics, located in Lyndon Johnson's home State of Texas. Again, McNamara's support within the McClellan investigations subcommittee was led by Muskie.

Many persons, including this one, hoped that "commonality" was feasible in weapons-making. Many, including myself, were pulling for TFX to succeed. But this rooting for American air-superiority is not the same as decision-making. A wrongly taken decision of this magnitude can doom a nation to disaster.

Sen. Muskie, who might become President, is connected with this error, this catastrophe, this discredit.

Planning Ahead

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Members of the seventh grade class were instructed to write an essay on what they wanted to be when they grew older.

One youngster wrote: "I want to be a dentist, like my father because I figure by the time I grow up, he will have all of his equipment paid for."

Supermarket Stocks Improve

NEW YORK (AP) — Things are looking up for the chain food stores, like profits and stock prices and the outlook.

A couple of years ago these same things looked terrible. Profits were down, once placid housewives were making ominous gestures with their handbags, and stamps and promotional games were being attacked from all directions.

No wonder supermarket stock prices were depressed. Every one was unhappy and grumbling. The customers argued and boycotted; the cashiers and managers were edgy; profit margins shriveled to near zero. The whole picture was sad.

NOW, just a couple of years later, Wall Street analysts detect a new odor about supermarket stocks. It's as if the air fresheners on the shelves had fopped their sprayheads, for these are the same stocks that smelled like the fish counter in 1966.

Wall Street analysts are susceptible, as is well known, to fads and fantasies. One analyst makes a discovery and, like dress designers or comics the others borrow the material. But there's more to this present interest: Facts.

THE HOUSEWIFE has called off her boycotts, and consumers for some reason are spending with abandon, regardless of the tax increase. Retail prices have been keeping ahead of prices the grocers must pay for the produce they sell. And so profits have risen this year, especially for some of the regional chains.

Helping create the more profitable look are lessons in efficiency and management learned during the troubles of 1966. Some stores have returned to original methods of competitive prices, few services, no frills, no stamps and even fewer products for shoppers to choose from.

Hal Boyle Magic Daydreams

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't what you do that keeps you young in heart—it's what you dream of doing.

Life is a long flight from reality, and fantasy is as necessary to the mind's health as bread and meat are to bodily strength. Science has found through experimental testing that if people are kept from dreaming while asleep they tend to become neurotic.

The same thing is probably true of people when they are awake. Show me a man who doesn't spend a considerable portion of his time daydreaming and I'll show you a man who's heading for an ulcer or the butterfly net.

OUR DAILY worries are prison bars; our daydreams are magic escapes into brief but enchanting freedom, bright juneys of refreshment for the rut-stale soul.

Probably the best of all vehicles for daydreaming is a swivel chair, preferably one by a window. The office convict can lean back, stare out the window with blank eyes as if he were pondering a business problem of weighty concern and—zoom!—he's off and miles away mentally.

Some people have lived so long in Dullsville they have trouble thinking of something interesting to daydream about. But the choice is limitless. Why not dream of doing something you've heard about but never tried? For example, you might:

MARRY THE boss's blue-eyed daughter.

Paddle a canoe across the Pacific.

Steal a gigantic diamond from the eye of a heathen stone idol. Become a partner of James Bond, and share his dangers and his damsel.

Become the fifth face on the Mt. Rushmore Memorial.

GROW A tomato in your garden bigger than your neighbor's pumpkin.

Capture an eagle in its eyrie. Look a gift horse in the mouth.

Win the Masters Golf Tournament — using only a putter. Find Judge Crater, alive and well in Argentina.

Discover a sure cure for middle age that won't make people feel any older.

Climb Mt. Everest and plant your family coat of arms on a stick at the top.

Lead a successful filibuster in the U.S. Senate against another income tax increase.

ORGANIZE A party raid on your local YWCA or the headquarters of the Women's National Republican Club.

Sports Excessera, Et Cetera

There is so much sports on television now, beginning at 10:30 a.m., that something is going to have to be done about church.

Could they have an instant rerun? I know one man who watched the 90-minute film highlights of Notre Dame's 1967 season, and he isn't even a Catholic.

I MAY MISS the Oklahoma-Texas football game — the third time since 1941 — for three reasons. I want to watch the Big Spring-Cooper game; I'm broke; and I hate to see tall Texans cry at the State Fair.

The office midnight rambler left a note: "Walt is a four-letter word."

FAST AND flashy Frank Brandon reports: A businessman on vacation reading his hometown newspaper was stunned to read his death notice. He called the editor and his anger rose with each passing second.

"I'm calling about the report of my death you reported in the newspaper Thursday," the man exclaimed. "Yes, sir," came back the unperturbed voice, "where are you calling from?"

VISITORS TO the Olympics are being urged to use beer instead of water in brushing their teeth to avoid an ailment common to tourists in Mexico.

However, anyone brushing more than 10 times a day will be considered in bad taste.

My bright cousin, Dr. George Ladd, writes: "Movies certainly have extended runs in Muskogee these days. For instance, 'In Cold Blood' played so long it congealed, and 'Rosemary's Baby' has started to kindergarten."

POLL-TAKERS around Texas are finding that George Wallace is in the lead for president among people who are so disgusted that they're not even going to vote.

The only nice thing I've heard about turtleneck sweaters is that they help preserve family ties. . . . Get it Sam? Ugh!

Show me an Indian with moss growing on his north side and I'll show you a stationary Injun.

My bashful aunt, Marie Chastain, suggests: "Do not believe any politician who makes a promise upon a hillside. He is not on the level."

WE NOTICE that candidates who resolutely refuse to say anything bad about their opponents nearly always have friends who suffer from no such principle.

Looks Like Barry's Back On Top

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The wheel of fortune has turned with such dramatic swiftness that the Democratic presidential candidate in 1968 finds himself in much the same situation as did the Republican presidential candidate in 1964. Barry Goldwater four years ago carried six states and by present reckoning Hubert Humphrey is shown as leading in scarcely more than that number.

RUNNING FOR the Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Carl Hayden, who started coming to Congress shortly after Arizona was admitted to the Union in 1912, Goldwater is elated over this state of affairs. From the first Richard Nixon has been his choice as the Republican candidate. The wounds he received in 1964 show in his continuing bitterness toward what he feels was the unfairness of much of the news media toward his Presidential run.

BUT SURPEMELY confident of victory this year, Goldwater is his old casual, easy-going self. One of the most clubbable men in public life, Goldwater is anticipating a return to the Senate club where he spent his happiest years. And if the present indicators are correct the club under Republican management will be much more congenial for the Senator from Arizona.

REFLECTING what is reported to be growing sentiment for George C. Wallace, Goldwater is devoting a lot of his speeches to warning of the dangers of a third-party candidate who might get enough votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives. He is careful to say he is not opposing Wallace.

We may be disgusted with both national parties, he goes on to say, but for our country is it worthwhile going without a leader. He paints a gloomy picture of leaderless months while the House is unable to decide on either of the two candidates of the major parties. This is assuming that, because of the strength of the third party, neither Humphrey nor Nixon gets the required 270 electoral votes.

THE DEMOCRAT opposing Goldwater is Roy Elson, protégé and long the administrative assistant to Senator Hayden. He would like to transfer to himself the magic of the Hayden name and the Hayden reputation for getting more Federal largesse for Arizona than almost any other state in the Union. Political interference is, however, another matter, and particularly in a year promising to be unkind to Democrats.

The most venerable of the lot, Hayden at 91 is one of a procession of Senators retiring or defeated in the primaries largely by reason of age. Regardless of what happens on Nov. 5 the old guard is passing and the face of the Senate so long familiar will be radically changed.

IF ARIZONA voters send Goldwater to the Senate, as now seems certain short of a major upset, at 60 he will be one of the older hands. His Presidential excursion cost him the seniority accumulated in 12 years in the club. The prerequisites of seniority were never rated high in the Goldwater scale of values. The ovation he was given at the Miami Beach convention was proof enough of his standing with the men and women controlling the party.

Can Humphrey Close The Gap?

WASHINGTON — Can Humphrey close the gap between himself and Nixon? It seems clear that the Democratic nominee can build up his strength in the remaining weeks of the campaign only by winning back many of the Democrats who have decided either to vote for Wallace or Nixon or else not go to the polls.

While the Democratic party got a massive majority in the presidential race of 1964, it was because a large bloc of Republicans voted for Johnson, and he attracted the independent vote, too. Now, however, all this appears to have crumbled.

MOST OF THE Republican vote which went to the Democratic nominee in 1964 has since turned back to Nixon. It may be inferred that the regular Republicans, plus the Democrats, are sufficient in number today to give Nixon a big edge in the popular as well as the electoral vote. There are, to be sure, plenty of people who have not finally made up their minds and will come to a decision in the next four weeks.

ON THE SURFACE, it might seem that voters are merely choosing between three personalities — Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace. The speeches made by each are, of course, given wide attention, but this could be one of those years in which it doesn't make much difference what the candidates have said. Demand for a change could supersede all else.

Humphrey is a part of the Johnson administration and, therefore, inherits blame for many of the grievances of the voters. The vice president has been urged to disassociate himself from the administration, but he cannot do this without alienating a lot of Democrats who are loyal to the party and who would stay home on election day if he engaged in such a course.

THE POLLS thus far have shown Nixon way ahead, but it sometimes happens that in the last four weeks of a campaign the candidate who seemingly is losing can gain ground. This time, however, there is not very much that can be done to change the public opinion that has been generated throughout the country, especially in the big cities of the North, on the subject of civil disorders, racial friction, crime, and the ill effects of enforced integration.

IF NIXON is elected President, it is hardly likely that he will have quick answers to all these questions. But the people will expect a re-examination of such issues as busing children to schools and the withholding of federal funds from districts which have been trying to "desegregate" without upsetting school systems and losing good teachers.

The most puzzling aspect of the whole campaign today is the effect that the race by Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace is going to have on the election of members of the House and Senate. Normally, a presidential nominee who wins by a substantial majority carries along candidates for Congress from his own party on what is called the "coat-tail" vote. Since the Wallace ticket doesn't have a separate list of congressional candidates, the voters will have to pick between the two major parties.

CERTAINLY MANY Democratic nominees for Congress are worried. Some of them are not espousing the Humphrey cause too enthusiastically, and others are trying to curry favor with voters in both parties by omitting references to the presidential nominee. The outcome will depend largely on the extent of the opposition to the incumbent administration.

He Scares Them Just Little Bit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—William and Cheryl Howey say their pet cougar, Tiberius, is defanged, declawed, their house pet since he was only 5 months old. "I tame as a kitten and wouldn't hurt anyone," they want permission to keep him. But 43 neighbors have signed a petition saying he scares them, makes noise and reduces property values.

Yanks Seize War Supplies

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen blocking the northwesterly invasion corridors to Saigon tried to trap some 300 enemy troops today, but the bulk of them apparently slipped away.

FRITZ SMITH
Smith Sings For Baptists

"Spiritual Enrichment Week" services of the First Baptist Church will continue through Sunday, according to Robert F. Polk, pastor. Dr. Joe Weldon Bailey, pastor of Columbus Ave. Baptist Church, Waco, is the guest preacher, and Fritz Smith, music evangelist, San Antonio, is guest music director and soloist.

The service tonight will begin at 8 p.m. and will conclude by 7 p.m. Those interested in attending will note this adjustment in time.

Saturday night, Fritz Smith will present a twenty minute concert of sacred music beginning at 7:15 p.m. He will be assisted by the church and youth choirs of First Baptist Church. Smith has served as minister of music for some of Texas Baptists' finest churches, resigning his position at the First Baptist Church, San Antonio in 1966, to serve as a full-time music evangelist. A recording artist with two albums previously released, he has a new album to be released next spring. His vocal ministry has also taken him to Vietnam, Japan, the Philippines, and Hawaii.

The public is invited to the sacred music program Saturday, 7:15 p.m., and to the Sunday services, 11 a.m.

A heavy bombardment on their positions by jet fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery killed 26 of the enemy force before they got away.

SIX KILLED
U.S. casualties were put at six men killed and 16 wounded.

The fighting swirled through rice paddies and thick hedgerows 27 miles northwest of Saigon, a mile from where American ground and air forces killed 147 North Vietnamese soldiers Monday and Tuesday.

It is a familiar battleground, long dominated by the veteran North Vietnamese 101st Regiment and the Viet Cong Cu Chi Regiment.

The fighting broke out Thursday morning when about 400 infantrymen drew heavy fire from troops dug in along the hedgerows surrounding a hamlet near the district town of Trang Bang.

SLIPPED OUT
Then 600 reinforcements rushed in and the Americans attempted to put a cordon around the enemy force, estimated to be a battalion.

Fighting continued until nightfall, but the bulk of the enemy force apparently slipped out under the cover of darkness this morning.

Five miles farther south, an enemy defector led over 25th Division troops to two munitions stockpiles that yielded 2½ tons of war supplies. They included 53 carbines, 150 rounds of mortar shells, 450 hand grenades, 150 fuses for mortar rounds, 300 Chinese Communist Claymore mines, and about 8,000 rounds of ammunition for AK47 assault rifles.

CACHES
Troopers from the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division found two more enemy caches only nine miles west-northwest of Saigon. They contained a light machine gun, 74 bazooka-type rocket grenades, 18 pounds of TNT, 100 blasting caps, 17,000 rounds of small arms ammunition and a bundle of propaganda leaflets.

The caches were among at least a dozen turned up Thursday by allied ground sweeps.

Far to the north, troopers from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division uncovered 20 tons of enemy rice four miles east of Hue. This is enough to feed a 500-man enemy battalion for nearly 1½ months.

Government soldiers operating 18 miles north of Hue found another 20 tons of rice, 27 weapons, 60 rounds of bazooka-type rockets and 1,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.

MOVES FULL FORCE INTO POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

LBJ Slams 'False Prophet Of Fear'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has moved full force into the political campaign, telling a nationwide audience that a Democratic ballot will be a vote for "triumphs of the people." Speaking Thursday night on

NBC radio time purchased by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, the President contrasted the record and prospects of the Democratic ticket of Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, and the Republicans, Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew. "From Hubert Humphrey's past—from so many years of elected responsibility—the direction his presidency will take is quite clear," Johnson said.

"It is toward that better educated, better housed, healthier and more prosperous America that we have begun to achieve—all of us—during these past five years.

worth of difference" between Nixon and Humphrey. He said there is "all the difference between daylight and darkness" and added that the people know the record.

White Dies

George White, one-time producer whose "Scandals" were leading Broadway shows, died yesterday at a Hollywood hospital at the age of 74. A spokesman said White died of leukemia.

Houston Post Editor Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — Elbert Turner, long time Houston Post editor, died late Thursday of cancer in Methodist Hospital.

Turner, 57, began writing high school sports for the Houston Post in 1927 while a student at San Jacinto High School.

He joined the editorial staff of the Post full time in 1932. He worked as a sports editor, copyreader and reporter before being named wire editor in 1936 and news editor in 1937.

He enlisted in the Army in 1942 and spent 33 months overseas in the Pacific campaigns as a military intelligence officer after being commissioned in the field.

He rejoined the Post in 1946 and was named state editor in 1947. He headed the Post's state operation for 14 years. When his illness made it necessary for him to have a less tiring job, he was named director of editorial research for the newspaper.

Survivors include his widow and two sons, Drexel Wayne Turner, 29, and Leighton Kent Turner, 17, all of Houston.

Funeral services were pending.

Texas Soldiers Killed Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texas soldiers were among 30 servicemen listed Thursday by the Defense Department as killed fighting in Vietnam.

They were Sgt. Ronald L. Summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Richardson of Lytle, and Spec. 4 John P. O'Hara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney P. O'Hara of Galveston.

The Pentagon reported Marine Pfc. Daniel P. Colgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Colgan of El Paso, died of wounds.

Dear Abby Use Plain English

DEAR ABBY: I need your help desperately and I need it now. I am going to be married soon to a very decent and wonderful guy.

I have led him to believe that I am the "nicest" girl he has ever known. I realize that I should have told him the truth long before this, but it's too late now. He is looking forward to a pure, untouched wife, and he is not going to have one if he marries me.

In plain English, how can I tell him I am not a virgin?

STUMPED: In plain English.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will answer an anonymous letter as I'm sure my husband would be very hurt if he knew I wrote to you.

You see, my problem is, after 25 years of marriage, all I feel for my husband is "tolerance."

He wants to spend every minute with me. He goes with me to do all the shopping. He works with me around the house. We go on vacations together, and except for the eight hours we spend at our respective jobs during the day, we are always together.

I do my wifely duties with resentment. I would love to be able to go to a movie without him, or to read a book, or just be left alone. If I don't get a weekend without him I will go crazy.

Our children are grown and living out of state, so we have no strong ties anymore as far as I'm concerned. Please help me. I feel so smothered. I would love to be a "golf widow" or the like, but I don't want to hurt him.

"LOOKING FOR RELIEF" DEAR LOOKING: If you want to be "alone" to read a book or see a movie, quit your job. But that's not really your problem. You "tolerated" your husband when the kids were young and he was necessary to help raise them. Now you're bored with him.

Go see your kids. Take a trip with a friend. But if you don't want to "hurt" your husband, don't let him know how you've coned him for 25 years.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 17 years and I don't regret a minute of it, but listen to this: I have nine beautiful, wonderful kids (when they're asleep) raining all the way from a nine-month-old baby to a pair of 16-year-old twins. I am the maid, chief cook and bottle-washer, chauffeur, laundress, gardener, bookkeeper, teacher, nurse, referee, and psychiatrist. And now my husband expects me to be an animal trainer and dog catcher. He brought home a three-week-old cocker spaniel "for the kids" — and guess who has to train him, feed him, walk him, and clean up after him? (Don't tell me to hit the pup with a rolled-up newspaper. Have you ever looked into the eyes of a three-week-old cocker spaniel and tried to HIT him?)

Jurors Indict Texas Deputy

AMARILLO (AP) — A grand jury indicted Potter County Deputy Sheriff Frank Gilley Thursday on charges of aggravated assault.

Gilley is accused in the indictment of beating Oscar Cuellar, 21, in an elevator at the Potter County Jail.

Attorney Bob Carnahan, who was hired by a group of Amarillo businessmen to aid in the deputy's defense, said he could not understand why the grand jury refused to hear about 25 witnesses who could have testified in Gilley's behalf.

Sheriff Paul Gaither suspended Gilley Tuesday after being informed by Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis of a probe instigated by the Amarillo Globe-News into an incident of alleged brutality.

The story of Cuellar's alleged beating was told to Globe-News reporters by an Amarillo couple, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson, who said they were arrested and jailed by Gilley the same night Cuellar was beaten.

Nothing

"They promise nothing more or less than to pull this nation downward, to pull it into another cycle of Republican reaction and inaction. And in doing so they really promise to pull America apart."

It was Johnson's first avowedly partisan speech of the 1968 campaign, and the White House declined to predict how much more such activity there will be.

Johnson classified third-party candidate George C. Wallace as one of the "harsh political

Candidates Play Second Fiddle To Nixon In Texas

By The Associated Press

Politicizing by candidates at the state level played second fiddle in Texas today to a full dress campaign visit by Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon.

In Dallas for the day, Nixon made no bones about the importance he attaches to carrying the Lone Star State in the Nov. 5 general election.

"Texas plays a major part in this election and we want to win it and we will carry Texas," he declared to an airport crowd greeting him, estimated at 3,000 by police.

SOCK 'EM

"When this many people come out spontaneously, it means something is moving in this country, and from now on we are going to sock it to 'em."

In addition to a noon rally at Southern Methodist University, Nixon scheduled a four-state regional telecast from Dallas tonight.

It was Nixon's second trip into the home state of President Lyndon B. Johnson during the current campaign.

Indicating that third party candidate George Wallace also considers Texas votes important, the state office of his American Independent Party said Thursday that the former Alabama governor will be back in the state Oct. 17 for a downtown rally in Fort Worth.

Texas' rival candidates for governor—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, the Democratic nominee, and the Republicans' Paul Eggers—got in some campaign licks Thursday.

Quick Flurry Of Gunfire Leaves Three Men Wounded

MINEOLA, Tex. (AP) — Policeman Floyd Anderson, about 24, stopped a car to check on a faulty muffler about 2 a.m. today and a quick flurry of gunfire followed.

Anderson escaped with a minor flesh wound in his left shoulder but bullets from his pistol seriously wounded two men from Whitewright in North Texas, fellow patrolman Grover French reported.

Officers jailed a third occupant of the halted car. They said it contained a quantity of stolen goods, including a television set, three clock radios, a vacuum cleaner and two walkie-talkie radio sets.

French identified the wounded prisoners as David Clyde Smith Jr. and Jesse Stevens, in their 20s and both from Whitewright in North Texas. Each was hit in the abdomen.

French said this is what took place:

As Anderson talked to the driver, a door on the opposite side of the car eased open. Smith stepped out and fired a 410 gauge shotgun across the top of the vehicle.

Grabbing for his pistol, Anderson fired as Smith and Stevens ran, meanwhile shouting into his patrol car microphone for assistance. Stevens dropped close by.

CALL FOR HELP

Within a few minutes a Mineola resident half a block up the street reported someone was lying back of his garage and calling for help. Officers found Smith there and a 410 shotgun lay about 25 feet from him.

Both wounded men were taken to a Tyler hospital.

No charges were filed on either Texas Ranger Bob Mitchell said he expected the goods found in the car would help clear up some recent burglaries.

Planetarium Show Oct. 18

There will be no show tonight at the high school planetarium. The correct date is Oct. 18 — one week from tonight. The date was inadvertently omitted in the notice Thursday.

Gary Carlson, director, said he would demonstrate the equipment to the public on the night of Oct. 18. Citizens who desire to visit the planetarium are invited to do so one week from today.

LEGAL NOTICE

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals addressed to Mr. J. Arnold Marshall, Mayor, City of Big Spring, Big Spring, Texas, will be received in the Commissioners Room of the City Hall in Big Spring, Texas, until 2:00 P.M., Thursday, October 31, 1968, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud, on the following project:

PRO SHOP BUILDING MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the City of Big Spring, Big Spring, Texas; however the City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Proposals shall be in accordance with plans, specifications and contract documents prepared by Gray and Hohertz - Architects, 508 East Fourth Street, Big Spring, Texas. Any bid received after closing time will be returned unopened.

A cashier's check, certified check, or acceptable Bidder's Bond payable to the Owner in the amount not less than 5 per cent of the largest possible total for the bid submitted, must accompany each bid as a guarantee that if awarded the contract, the Bidder will promptly enter into a contract and execute such bonds as may be required.

Attention is called to the fact that the rates of pay for labor and mechanics employed in the construction of the project will be not less than the prevailing local wage rates for similar work as determined in accordance with Public Law No. 403 of the Seventy-fourth Congress, approved August 30, 1935, as amended, and further in compliance with any State Wage Law that may be applicable.

General construction plans and specifications containing all mechanical and electrical and plumbing work may be examined with out charge in the office of the Architect or they may be procured from the office of the Architect upon deposit of $25.00 for the first set as a guarantee of the return of the plans and specifications in good condition. All plans and specifications shall be returned promptly. A full amount of the deposit will be returned to the bidder upon return of the plans and specifications in good condition, provided the Bidder submits a proposal on the project.

No bid may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for 'treaties' of bids and may be held 30 days unless sooner returned by the Owner.

A performance bond and material and mechanics payment bond in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price will be required of the successful Bidder.

Signed:

J. ARNOLD MARSHALL, Mayor

Smith told a gathering of Mexican-Americans in Corpus Christi. "My open door policy assures all people that your views and your problems and your opportunities will be well heard and treated fairly."

The lieutenant governor said he had two reasons for seeking support from those in his audience: Because "I care about all of our people."

Eggers, speaking to Fort Worth lawyers, reported growing acceptance for his proposal to install an ombudsman to serve as "a kind of watchdog for the people."

"The state ombudsman's function," Eggers said, "will be to protect the public against bureaucratic mistakes and abuses of power. My files are growing daily with complaints about some state operations."

"The liquor regulation scandal, for example probably would have been exposed at an early stage if we had an official to receive complaints in confidence and to conduct impartial investigations."

Austin Teenager Faces Rape Count

AUSTIN (AP) — An Austin teenager has been charged with rape, armed robbery and attempted robbery by firearm in the University of Texas area in recent weeks.

Police identified him as James E. Foster, 17. He was arrested in San Antonio Wednesday.

The rape charge was filed in connection with the alleged criminal assault of a coed, 20, at her apartment Sept. 29. The victim said the assailant held a gun on her.

Bond was set at $5,000 in the attempted robbery charge, but Foster was ordered held without bond on the two other charges.

Police also sought a man who forced another coed onto the backseat of her car at a campus parking lot, gagged her, ripped off her clothes, then fled.

Southern Baptists Move Toward Involvement

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern Baptists, the nation's largest body of Protestants, are moving toward deeper involvement in contemporary social problems, including a drive against racial barriers, a field from which they long stood aloof.

"As long as Negroes are not truly welcome in the fellowship of our churches, our witness to the world cannot be strong," declares a recent denominational study booklet, urging full acceptance of all believers, Negro and white.

The new emphasis, along with other simmering issues, will hit the home scene in meetings of local associations and state conventions across the country this fall, bringing out their response to it.

"Southern Baptists are beginning to see with increasing clarity that they need not and must not choose between evangelism and social concern," says a long-time Christian ethics professor, the Rev. Dr. T. B. Maston, of Fort Worth, Tex. "Our decision must be both rather than either or."

Numerous other currents of change, some of them matters of sharp friction, are at work in the 11.1-million-member communion, the predominant white church influence in the South.

Although it has battled persistently against government aid to religious institutions, as a violation of separation between church and state, many of its 54 colleges now are feeling a financial pinch, and eyeing federal help.

Some have received it, as have some Baptist hospitals, but several state conventions have ruled against taking outright federal grants, and some have state study commissions at work to bring in further recommendations on it.

But the big new swing for Southern Baptists is into social-betterment causes, which most other major denominations have regularly espoused, but which Southern Baptists generally have avoided as mixing in politics. The past attitude often has been inconsistent, says a Vanderbilt University political science professor and lay member, Daniel R. Grant, in that it approved Church action only when "we agree on the position being taken"—such as against gambling, pornography or the liquor traffic.

But "when we have disagreed with the cause, especially when legislation to eliminate racial discrimination has been the burning issue, we have defended our silence by saying that 'the Church should keep out of politics' or 'the Church should not try to legislate morals,'" he told a recent meeting.

That view, however, was decisively overturned at this year's Southern Baptist Convention in Houston, which called for open Church membership to all races, and launched work for equality in housing, employment and education, and to overcome the deprivations of poverty.

Missionary Family

The Warren Newberrys are on their way to Africa to join the Assemblies of God mission in Malawi. Newberry will speak here Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church.

New Missionary Here For Sunday Services

The Rev. Warren Newberry, a newly approved Assemblies of God missionary to Malawi, Central Africa, will be guest speaker Sunday at the 11 a. m. service at the First Assembly of God, West Fourth and Lancaster, the Rev. J. W. Farmer, pastor, has announced.

Malawi, a land-locked country, extends along the western and southern shores of Lake Malawi in East Central Africa and lies entirely within the tropics. Located 3,000 feet above sea level, the country is considered to have one of the best climates on the continent. The first resident Assemblies of God missionaries went to Malawi in 1944.

During their first term of missionary service, Rev. Newberry and his wife, Annette, will be engaged in general missionary work, evangelism, and teaching in the Bible school at Dedza. His past employment as a journeyman bricklayer will be helpful in the construction of new churches.

Rev. Newberry attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, Tex., for one year, and later received his BA degree from Southern California College, Costa Mesa, Calif. Mrs. Newberry received her AA degree from Orange Coast Junior College in Costa Mesa.

The Newberrys have pastored churches in Stanton, Tex., and Dana Point, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Newberry have two children, Evangeline, age 9, and Michael, age 7.

Mormon Speaks Monday

James A. Cullimore, assistant to the quorum of the 12 apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints, will be in Big Spring Monday as part of an inspection tour of the church's Texas missions.

Cullimore will address a public meeting of the local church, 1803 Wasson Road, at 7:30 p.m. The public meeting will follow an all-day conference with missionaries of the West Texas area.

In his position with the Mormon church, Cullimore works directly for the quorum of the 12 apostles, which is the governing body of the church. The quorum is presided over by David O. McKay, president of the church.

Laymen Lead Methodists

Sunday is Laymen's Sunday at First United Methodist Church of Big Spring and Methodist churches all across the United States and wherever Methodists meet around the world.

Guest speaker for the morning worship service at 10:35 a.m. is James Willson Jr., Floydada. Willson is known to United Methodists here as conference lay leader for the Northwest Texas Conference, which encompasses the Big Spring churches. He is a successful businessman, being a dealer in building materials, and has many outstanding accomplishments to his credit, including being a past district governor of Rotary International, a member of the board of directors of the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, or for his having won the coveted Silver Beaver Award for his work in Boy Scouts of America.

Laymen of First United Methodist will have a part in the morning worship service.

Evening service at 6 p.m. will also see laymen of the church in charge. Speakers include Mrs. Robert Hill, Hayes Stripling Jr. and youth leader Stanford Stewart. An all male choir will be featured.

Birdwell Ends Lesson Week

Birdwell Lane Church of Christ will conclude its current revival Sunday, F. F. Conley has been the guest speaker at the week-long series of special lessons.

Conley has preached for a number of Churches of Christ in the West Texas area. He is presently preaching for the Pleasant Valley Church of Christ in Mobile, Ala.

Time of services has been set at 7:30 each evening during the week. The congregation recently changed the times for their Sunday morning activities, with Bible Study now scheduled at 9 a.m. and worship at 10 a.m. Evening worship on Sunday is at 6 p.m.

Location Selected

ANDERSON, Ind. — The International Youth Convention of the Church of God has chosen Dallas as site for its 1970 meeting.

The Rev. Kenneth Prunty, director of youth ministries for the sponsoring Board of Christian Education at general offices here, said the Aug. 20-23 convocation is expected to attract over 5,000 delegates.

Recently elected officers for the next two years are James R. Cook, Bedford, Ind., president; Lynn Taylor, Kennelwick, Wash., vice president; and Sharon Kaye Olson, DeSoto, Mo., secretary.

The Church of God, which has had general offices here since 1906, has a constituency of over 400,000 in 40 geographical areas of the world.

Garner Leads Trinity Revival

Trinity Baptist Church will hold a revival starting Sunday which will continue throughout the week.

The Rev. M. O. Garner, pastor and founder of the Grace Baptist Church in Amarillo, will lead the revival. He has been pastor of the Amarillo church for the past 20 years and during that time has seen the enrollment grow to more than 1,500 Baptists.

Rev. Garner is also the founder and president of the Bonam Street Christian School which has an enrollment of 400. The Baptist school has grades one through 12.

Rev. Garner attended Bible Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth. A world traveler, he has recently returned from this third inspection tour of the Baptist missions in the Middle East.

Services of the revival will start at 7:30 each evening.

Homecoming Set Sunday

Phillips Memorial Baptist Church will hold a homecoming Sunday.

D. R. Philey, former pastor of Phillips, will preach at both the morning and evening services. A pot-luck dinner will be held following morning services.

At 2 p.m. the Big Spring Baptist Association will hold its monthly singing session at the church.

Regular evening services will begin at 6:30 p.m. with Training Union.

The homecoming activities are being sponsored by Phillips Memorial Baptist Brotherhood. Members of the brotherhood will sing in an all-male choir at the morning services with layman Wayne Salmon directing.

LESSON ELEVATES CHRIST; STRESSES HUMANITY, MERCY

The new quarter's series of lessons of words of faith and encouragement moves rapidly from last Sunday's study of the source of faith to the basis of faith in Christ.

The background Scripture is Hebrews 4:6, 9, 9; the focal passage Heb. 4:14, 5:10.

The lesson is related as to the fundamental reason God invaded human history. Hebrews is a book of "the better way." The superiority of Christ to other high priests and messengers is enumerated to show the perfection of Christ as our High Priest.

However, the humanity of Jesus is emphasized because this enables Him to be merciful because He knows how weak we are, and faithful because He knows how much we need Him.

The nearness of Christ is stressed. Human priests were sympathetic because they were subject to the frailties of the flesh Jesus, instead of coming for a brief period and dying for our sins, became flesh and grew up as any other being. "In all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin." The Greek word used here "sympathesai," which means "touched with the feeling of," Jesus has that genuine sympathy for us. He had a special compassion for those who were ignorant and to those who had been deceived or who were going astray.

Christ was called apart — not of Himself, but "the Father did glorify Him thus."

H I G H T I M E

Ten minutes early! The service of worship begins at eleven, and the Anderson family has had time to saunter a little . . . gratefully aware of the glorious autumn morning and the serene beauty of their church building. Afterwards, like Christians the world over, they will go home refreshed and inspired by God's Word, ready to meet whatever the week may bring.

Turning from self-service to God's service is never easy, but it is immeasurably worthwhile. When our hearts are completely God-centered, all other concerns fall into their proper places . . . and our lives become richer and more significant than our minds can imagine.

"Everything else can wait . . . but your search for God cannot wait." There is still time. Come to church this Sunday and share in the bounty of His strengthening love. It is yours for the asking.

Revenge-Minded Herd Entertains Cooper

 14 Monterey 21
 15 Lee 21
 28 Ector 10
 34 Lubbock 6
 Totals 61 50 Totals 4

END LUVEN FLORES
 Probable BS starter

Classy Cooper comes to town tonight to see what can be done about firming up its chances for a first place finish in the District 3-AAAA race and, at the same time, stamp out what pennant fever the provincials might have.

Kickoff time is 8 o'clock and Cooper, which waxed Big Spring last year, 56-12, is a firm two-touchdown choice this time.

Big Spring, since losing its first two starts, has given the opposition as many problems as a chimpanzee checking in for a hair-curl.

The Longhorns, boasting a high-octane offense built around the unpredictable wheels of Roy Lee Warren, counted 28 points with a last-half surge against Ector two weeks ago and then detonated a shot heard around District 3-AAAA by taking Lubbock High apart, 34-6.

Cooper, of course, is something else again. The mighty Cougars have given up only one touchdown this season while rolling to a 3-1 record. That benevolence cost them dearly, however, since Odessa Permian used it to defeat Permian Green's team and vault into first place in the standings.

The team that blows the duke tonight will, of course, be ushered to the sidelines in the championship race. For that reason, the antagonists are apt to start their haymakers from the floor and open up with everything they have.

Cooper has a respected passing game which has Andy Duvall on the throwing end and aiming the ball at such boys as Bob White and Larry Hoefler. Certainly the most versatile boy in the Cooper lineup is Richard Midren, a brother who can play anywhere any time. He's listed as a starting tackle and a linebacker on defense but he can also play quarterback, if needed.

Big Spring has been noted more for its running game than its aerial might so far but the Steers have been showing an increasing penchant for going to the air in recent starts.

Against Lubbock, for instance, quarterback Gary Hinds and end Jimmy Farris hooked up on a 71-yard scoring pass.

Cooper will have a weight advantage in the line, with boys like the 205-pound Bill Harrington, a tackle, and the 195-pound Terry Springer, a guard, manning the positions.

Cooper tries to unnerve the opposition by executing everything to near perfection. For two years now, that stratagem has worked on most teams. Coach Green of the Cougars played under Bud Wilkinson at the University of Oklahoma too long not to play it any other way.

The awful licking administered to the Steers by Cooper last year left an acid imprint on the memories of everyone in a local uniform. For that reason, the Steers are out to unruflie a little fur tonight.

Probable starters:
 E-Luvén Flores 160 and Jimmy Farris 160. T-Cory Lewis 190 and Steve Russell 190. G-Johnny Hedges 185 and Danny Pulatte 200. C-Tommy Switzer 160 or Emmitt Miller 180. QB-Johnny Patton 170 or Gary Hinds 160. HB-Roy Lee Warren 175. FB-Johnny Rutherford. FB-Rocky Wooley 200.

Yearlings Pop Snyder Travis By 38-14 Tab

In an awesome show of power, finesse and depth, the Runnels Yearlings ran roughshod over Snyder Travis, 38-14, here Thursday night.

The win was the fourth in five starts for the local eighth graders, who return to play next Thursday against Snyder Lamar on the road.

Coaches Dan Lewis and Bobby Zellars played all 51 boys they had in uniform and some of the reserves, notably the 85-pound Willie Williams — a half-back on both offense and defense — looked outstanding.

Big Spring scored in nine plays after taking the opening kickoff back to their own 38. Quarterback Clifford Hobbs pushed in on a sneak from the one, after which Dick Conley ran for the two extra points.

Big Spring counted again in the opening period on an 80-yard punt return by Conley. Jay Tee Smith added the two conversion points on a run to make it 16-0.

In the second, the Runnels team ran the score to 22-0, pushing 52 yards in three plays. Vin McQueen sprinted 40 yards to the five and fullback Johnny Ortega got the other five on a lunge off tackle.

Operating against Big Spring's second group, Travis finally got on the board just before the half ended, going 50 yards in four plays. Two 15-yard penalties hurt the Yearlings in that drive. QB Mike Boies went the final eight yards for Travis on a bootleg play. A pass from Boies to Scotty Sullivan added the two extra points. Big Spring's margin at halftime was 22-8.

The Big Spring Brahmas suffered another heart-breaking loss to Travis in the ninth game, 14-12.

Billy Wood and David Stanley counted TD's for Big Spring in that one, the latter returning a kickoff 85 yards to paydirt.

They'll Try To Cage A Bird Tonight

When the Forsan Buffaloes line up against Hermleigh at home tonight, coach Oscar Willis, Larry Tolson, David Myers and Alton Boeker will be depending upon these four boys to carry much of the burden on defense for the Bisons. From the left, they are Jackie Hermleigh, Larry Tolson, David Myers and Alton Boeker. The Forsan club will be seeking its fourth win in five starts.

Los Angeles, Pokes Given Nod In NFL

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer
 ST. LOUIS (AP) — The first real game of the pro football season matches the Los Angeles Rams and the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee Sunday.

The unbeaten Rams still remember that 28-7 beating they took last December in Milwaukee and the twice beaten Packers have not forgotten the one they lost in the Coliseum 27-24 on a blocked punt.

Baltimore 27, San Francisco 17—Earl Morrill doing excellent job as sub for John Unitas with 10 TD passes in four wins. Colts have beaten 49ers 12 straight times and don't figure to stop now.

Detroit 21, Chicago 17—After Bill Ford lowered the boom on the Lions following last week's loss in Minnesota they should come out hungry for Bear meat. Bears have quarterback trouble but Gale Sayers will make it closer than last time.

Dallas 34, Philadelphia 14—Cowboys did it in Philadelphia two weeks ago and should repeat, although Eagles will be tougher with Norm Snead at controls. Loss of Dan Reeves a blow to Dallas.

New York 37, Atlanta 14—Norm Van Brocklin's Falcons won't be able to handle Fran Tarkenton's explosive offense. Washington 34, Pittsburgh 21—Steelers are going to beat somebody soon but not the Skins with Sonny Jurgensen at the controls.

Cleveland 24, St. Louis 21—Give edge to Browns on Bill Nelson over Jim Hart or Charlie Johnson.

Miami 21, Buffalo 10—Saturday night—Dolphins coming off upset of Oilers. Bills still having trouble with attack, bowing to Chiefs 18-7.

New York 31, Denver 4—Joe Namath and Co. back on beam last week after poor showing against Buffalo. Return of Steve Tensi helps Broncos, who edged Cincinnati last week.

Kansas City 24, Cincinnati 14—Chiefs hage too much for expansion club.

Boston 21, Houston 20—Patriots home after 41-10 bombing by Oakland, could get well against Houston which floundered last week without Pete Beathard.

Oakland 31, San Diego 20—Raiders need one more win to

Small Game More Dangerous To Pursue, Says Lunsford

Small game is more dangerous to hunt than big game, according to K. W. Lunsford, game management officer of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Big Spring.

Texas had 90 hunting accidents in 1967, 23 of them fatal while the victim was hunting. Of the 90 accidents, 34 occurred while the victim was hunting small animals such as rabbits, squirrels and armadillos. Only 14 of the 90 accidents happened while the victim was hunting deer. The remaining 42 mishaps occurred while the victims were hunting land or water birds or while they were plinking.

The same gun safety rules apply for small game as they do for big game. Yet, whatever they are hunting people make the same old grievous mistakes.

For example, 16 persons were killed or injured last year while removing a loaded gun from an automobile. Common sense indicates that when you grab a gun by the barrel and drag it across the seat toward you, you're asking for trouble. There have been several recent accidents of this nature.

Other factors in hunting accidents are lack of control of the weapons and being unsure of the target. The victims stumble and fall and shoot themselves because they can't get the muzzle of the gun away from themselves. If the firearm is carried properly and if the safety device is on, these accidents can be prevented, Lunsford said.

Hunters should remember that a gun is not a toy, that when they pick up a gun they assume a tremendous responsibility.

This responsibility is to themselves and to anyone else who might be injured or killed by the firearm, according to Lunsford.

Anglers are catching good strings of fish from rapidly filling Amistad Reservoir, according to Leo Lewis, fisheries supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Now visible to motorists on US Highway 277, Amistad boasts 10,500 acres with a depth of 125 feet at the dam on the Rio Grande. Conservation level of the Texas-Mexican impoundment will be 67,000 surface acres and estimated 3,550,000 acre-feet of storage.

Local nimrods should make sure they do not kill the Inca or Ground dove while hunting.

The bird looks much like the Mourning dove but is smaller.

The Inca or Ground dove is protected by Texas game laws and those found guilty of killing the fowl can be fined anywhere from $25 to $200.

Palmer Seeking 3rd World Title

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer is knocking on the door of his third World Match Play Championship.

Palmer is a 2 to 1 favorite in this fifth annual tournament, the only one of its kind left in golf. Everything else is at medal play. First place is worth $12,000.

Volkswagen introduces an old labor saving device.

To make our new Fastback a lot more fun we made it a lot less work.

By introducing a fully-automatic transmission. Just put it in position 3. And enjoy yourself.

Tells Of Escaping In 10-Day Flight

BAN ME THUOT, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. Army sergeant missing for 15 days made his way back to allied lines and told of escaping from North Vietnamese in a 10-day flight through Cambodia and South Vietnam's central highlands, military sources reported today.

They said Sgt. Buddy Wright, of Wellston, Ohio, stumbled into a South Vietnamese army camp last Sunday pointing to his stomach and saying, "Chop chop, chop chop," which means food to the Vietnamese.

Wright told him he did not know. The interrogators asked him what kind of a noncommissioned officer didn't even know his unit.

He said he was a very stupid NCO.

Bankrupt

Charles Steen, above, whose uranium bonanza in a desolate Utah mountain range made him a multi-millionaire, was ruled bankrupt yesterday by a federal referee in Reno, Nev. In 1952, Steen was an oil geologist living on beans, tea and potatoes in a tar-paper shack.

The North Vietnamese had an AK47 assault rifle pointed at him during the interrogation. At night, a guard came by every 30 minutes and pointed a light at him.

During his fifth night of captivity, Wright escaped. He ran all night and all the next day. The North Vietnamese chased him.

"When I saw the North Vietnamese my first thought was, 'I am dead,'" Wright later told other American soldiers. "When they didn't kill me, my will to survive came pretty strong and I decided I will try hard to escape. When I first escaped, I felt I could make it."

"I thought I was directly west of Duc Lap and had to run east. After two days I became weak and I was not quite sure where I was. I thought I was losing my way and I was scared."

HEAVY RAIN

On the second day of his escape, he could see North Vietnamese troops still looking for him. He hid eight hours then struck out again when a heavy rain began to fall.

On the night of Oct. 5, he saw a fire and figured it was in a South Vietnamese camp. He was not sure, so he decided to wait until daybreak.

At first light, he saw a soldier with an M16 rifle, the standard allied weapon. Wright walked toward him.

The soldier carried Wright to a hill the South Vietnamese troops were occupying. American advisers called a helicopter which took Wright to Duc Lap, then to the 2nd Brigade of the 4th Infantry Division at Ban Me Thuot.

VERY STUPID

The sources said Wright gave this account of his capture and escape:

He became separated from his platoon Sept. 22 and North Vietnamese seized him southwest of the Duc Lap Special Forces camp near the Cambodian border, 125 miles north of Saigon.

He said the North Vietnamese troops marched him west for two days so he thought he was in Cambodia. They did not mistreat him, but took his wallet, identity tag and boots to prevent him from escaping.

North Vietnamese interrogators asked him the name of his unit, which is the 1st Battalion, 2nd Infantry, 4th Division. But

Party To Raise Defense Money

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Burt Lancaster says he will hold a party Sunday to raise money for the defense of more than 400 persons arrested at Chicago in disorders during the Democratic National Convention.

Lancaster said the affair in his Bel Air home is being sponsored by the Committee of Arts and Letters for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. He said the money will be turned over to the American Civil Liberties Union to defend those arrested.

Acting as waiters and waitresses will be Paul Newman, Julie Adams, Leonard Nimoy, Donna Reed, Carl Reiner, Jill St. John, Rod Serling, Joanne Woodward, Ron Murray and others with the committee, he said.

Soviet Troops Pull Out Vowed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union has promised Czechoslovak officials that all but 10 per cent of the Warsaw Pact occupation forces will leave their country before its 50th anniversary of independence Oct. 28, diplomatic sources say.

The informants said Soviet officials made the promise in Moscow Thursday during negotiations on a treaty for temporary stationing of forces in Czechoslovakia. Czechoslovak Community party leaders have promised to sign such a treaty, legalizing the occupation that began Aug. 20.

PRESSURE

By some current estimates, the withdrawal over the next two weeks would leave 50,000 or fewer troops—all Soviet except for command detachments from Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria, the sources said.

At Moscow's insistence, the Prague government has abandoned press freedom and other key features of the liberalization program it began in January. Prague radio said Thursday there is evidence that the Soviet Union is satisfied with Prague's latest commitments for a swing back to orthodox communism.

But there was evidence of public dissatisfaction in Czechoslovakia with the concessions made to the Kremlin. In a resolution addressed to Communist party leaders, 1,549 employees of the Prague Radio Communications Research Institute declared: "We reject categorically any legalization of the stay of foreign armies on our territory. Do not permit it at any price." The resolution urged the leaders to stick to their reform policies despite Soviet pressure.

HONOR

Jiri Pelikan, ousted chief of Czechoslovakia's television system, made a farewell appearance on TV Thursday night and replied emotionally to Soviet charges that Czechoslovak television had been run by anti-Communists.

Convicted Of Burning Draft Board Records

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Seven men and two women, all Roman Catholics, have been convicted of burning draft board records with homemade napalm.

A jury deliberated one hour and 20 minutes Thursday in U.S. District Court, and after the foreman read the guilty verdict to a hushed, crowded courtroom a spectator shouted:

"Members of the jury you have just found Jesus Christ guilty."

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ordered the courtroom cleared. Spectators moved into the halls, where they began singing, "We Shall Overcome." Outside the building they continued singing and held lighted candles as several dozen helmeted policemen looked on.

DEFENDANTS

The defendants are the Rev. Philip F. Berrigan, 45, of Baltimore; his brother, the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, 47, formerly an instructor at Cornell University; Thomas P. Lewis, 27, a Baltimore artist; David Darst, 26, a Christian Brother teacher in St. Louis Mo.; John Hogan, 33, a former Maryknoll brother;

Thomas Melville, 38, a former Maryknoll priest, and his wife Marjorie, 38, a former nun; George Mische, 31, a peace organizer from Washington, D.C., and Mary Moylan, 32, a nurse.

They were convicted of mutilating and destroying government records, hindering administration of the Selective Service Act and causing injury to government property. The charges stemmed from an incident May 17 at nearby Catonsville, Md.

They had pleaded innocent, and throughout the four-day trial defense attorneys sought to introduce testimony to show that the actions of the defendants were intended as a public protest against the war in Vietnam.

Each defendant could receive a maximum of 18 years in jail and fines of $17,000 on the three counts of the indictment. The judge ordered the cases submitted to a federal probation department for a report before setting a sentencing date. Seven of the nine were freed on bail.

Father Philip Berrigan and Lewis, who are presently serving six-year sentences for pouring blood on draft board records a year ago in Baltimore, were returned to the federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa.

Still Faces Hijack Counts

MONTREAL (AP) — Charles Laverne Beasley of Dallas, Tex., was acquitted on a technicality Thursday of charges arising from an attempt to divert an Air Canada flight to Cuba but was arraigned shortly afterward in the same case.

Beasley, 22, faced eight charges arising from an attempted hijack Sept. 11.

The original charges were dismissed by Judge Emile Troitier, who agreed with the defense argument that the crown had failed to obtain necessary authority from the attorney-general of Canada to prosecute a non-Canadian in a hijacking case.

The crown immediately announced plans to bring identical charges as soon as the necessary authorization could be obtained.

Beasley is charged with theft of an aircraft, interfering with transportation facilities, kidnapping, forcible detention, illegal possession of a 22-caliber revolver, public mischief by obstructing use of property and two counts of assault.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Stop getting so emotional about everything and stop thinking that others are imposing upon you, and be more practical. Learn to stretch your money more intelligently. Don't permit such extravagance from a family member.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Good day to have a meeting of minds with regular partners so that routines work out much better. Give more attention to detail. It is more important than you think right now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ameliorate your financial position efficiently if you want to gain the favor of persons who can open new doors of opportunity to you. Avoid sending out notes of criticism. Be kind instead.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to enjoy inexpensive pleasure, but don't lose any particular ground. Do whatever will make you a more charming and delightful person. Spend some money at beauty or barber shop.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk over important matters with others and then discuss them with kin before doing ahead with them. Get that fundamental affair nicely handled, which is readily possible now. Don't procrastinate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) Contact others early and see what they can and will do to make your life more easy, snappy.

profitable. This is not a good day to be so discriminating. Get into the spirit of this important, pioneering day.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Some practical activity in conjunction with a higher-up is good now, especially where the civic is concerned. Be sure to safeguard your reputation, however. Take care where personal safety is concerned, too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Some new outfit comes up unexpectedly that would not be right for you at all, so be on your guard. Listen to what an experienced person has to say about something you do not understand. Profit from such advice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can now make some confidential plan that can be put in operation early next week that will be beneficial to you. Take care that anything you care to do will be done in a very precise manner. Be the soul of punctuality.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be sure you know what associates and partners you are and do not go off on tangents you would later regret. If you think constructively, some personal desire can be yours now. Stop being so fanciful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Let your work today make the right impression on a higher-up who is watching you instead of the opposite. Better keep busy handling obligations today and tonight. Do not get into any strenuous labor, though.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A day for recreation and pleasure, so put off other things aside, except for some very important duty. Meet with old pals, meet new and interesting people, have delightful conversations, etc. Feel snappy.
