RECORD Volume On Exchange Soars Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading volume on the New York Stock Exchange soared today to a first-hour record of 7.66 million shares.

The previous record for the period was 6.74 million shares set last Oct. 3.

The crush caused the exchange ticker tape to lag by three minutes in reporting floor transactions.

Prices advanced in what brokers said was reaction to reports of a possible halt in the bombing of North Vietnam as a move toward peace.

United Fund Report

The United Fund Drive in Big Spring inched to within $368.14 of the 50 per cent mark today as $54,244.36 was reported by the United Fund office. The figure is 49.4 per cent of the $109,225 goal.

Leading the contributors today was the Big Spring Herald which turned in a fair share of $11.09 per employee and the Veterans Administration Hospital with a $400 contribution.

Webb AFB also chipped in more funds to make its total giving of $13,098.49 to exceed the base's objective of $13,000.

Mrs. Alyce Butler, executive secretary, said that for the drive to keep its momentum, the 50 per cent mark should be reached by Friday. There is a need for campaign workers to complete as many work cards as possible in the employee division, she said.

THIRD MONTH Same Allowable

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable today at 41.3 per cent of potential for November, the third consecutive month that factor will regulate production.

This means the maximum production of Texas crude oil next month will total 3,246,026 barrels a day, the same as October.

Three of the 14 major buyers told the commission they wanted more oil next month than in October, five asked for less and six purchasers asked for the same amount in November as this month.

Written nominations for oil totaled 2,893,744 barrels daily for November, a decrease of 35,068 from October. The Bureau of Mines forecast the November demand for crude oil at 2,950,000 barrels a day, an increase of 50,000 from this month.

Spaceship Gives Sparkling Show

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Describing themselves as looking like "three squirrels in a cage," the Apollo 7 astronauts today staged their fourth television show, photographed by Hurricane Gladys and provided a sparkling visual show for early-rising Californians who saw their spaceship blinking like a star.

Numerous residents in the Los Angeles area gathered in small groups and stepped from their cars to view Apollo 7 as it streaked from horizon to horizon in just two minutes at 17,500 miles an hour.

JUST A STAR

"It was just a big blinking star—that's all it looked like to me," said one observer. "And it was really easy to distinguish because it was the only thing up there except the moon."

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham were sighted about an hour after they were telecast Episode No. 4 of the Wally, Walt and Donn space television show.

Reception was not as good as on previous pictures, primarily because of some piling and screen splinting.

In mid-morning, Apollo 7 raced high above Hurricane Gladys as it churned in the Gulf of Mexico. Schirra, taking pictures, described it as "a real blunder . . . a very spectacular view."

He told the Mission Control Center in Houston the astronauts had a good view of the Texas city which "almost made us homesick. But we plan to drop in a few days."

Jesting, he told the center: "You should see us up here.

We're like three squirrels in a cage."

COLDS

All three spacemen continued to suffer with colds, but medical officials reported them in better shape today after several hours of sleep.

With more than half their planned 11-day flight behind them, the astronauts reported they were eager to hurry home.

Apollo 7 is expected to be visible in the Houston area Friday and Saturday at 6:54 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. CDT, respectively. On subsequent days it will be in position for viewing in cities farther east.

Because the craft does not travel any farther north than Longitude 31, visibility is limited to areas in the southern United States on a line running roughly from Los Angeles to Charleston, S.C.

Another Los Angeles observer said:

"I was really bugged because there we were, watching history go by and there were all these other people, walking to work and just looking at their feet."

SOBER AFFAIR

In contrast to the first two televised shows, when there were many hinks and funny signs, today's 12-minute episode was a very sober affair.

The astronauts started to tore down the show Wednesday, reportedly on orders from high Space Agency officials who objected to the fun-and-games aspects of the show.

The closest thing to a joke was when Schirra, floating in weightlessness, described the movement as being "like kind of a monkey moving around its cage."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Gladys veered slightly westward in the Gulf of Mexico today, sparing the metropolitan Tampa Bay area from the threat of her 90-mile-an-hour winds, and headed on toward more thinly populated beaches in north Florida.

"LUCK OUT!" Tampa, St. Petersburg and other cities clustered around the bay area "may luck out on this storm, after all," said Dr. Robert H. Simpson, chief of the National Hurricane Center.

The shift off a northward course was detected this morning by a hurricane hunter pilot who thrust his plane into the eye of the storm 180 miles south-southwest of Tampa and 200 miles west of Miami.

Soon afterward Gladys slowed almost to a standstill. A later return to northward movement was forecast, but Simpson said the track probably would keep the hurricane far enough off the Florida West Coast to ease the danger to more populated areas.

Killer of at least one person in a stormy crossing of Cuba, Gladys remained far enough at sea to spare the Florida Keys and the southwest coast of the mainland from serious damage.

Forecasters prepared to lower storm warnings south of Naples and through the Keys, but kept them up north of that area for precautionary purposes.

Late-blooming Gladys, meanest of the 1968 tropical storms, was being nudged slightly westward by developing high pressure zone east of Florida. This kept her a little farther out in the Gulf than the forecast track.

SMALL AREA

Her highest winds of 90 miles an hour were confined to a small area near the center, but during the night Gladys hurled 65 m.p.h. wind gusts clear across Florida into sleeping Miami Beach. Palm fronds littered the streets and lights went out in scattered regions of power failure.

The Florida Keys escaped serious damage. At Key West, winds blew steadily at 30 m.p.h. through the night.

Bombing Halt Terms Difficult To Arrange

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson apparently has run into difficulties in both Hanoi and Saigon in his efforts to arrange final terms for an end to the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Before ordering a bombing halt, U.S. officials said, Johnson is determined to receive North Vietnamese assurances his action will move forward the deadlocked Paris peace talks and freeze the level of combat in South Vietnam.

There still has been no word here of those assurances.

South Vietnamese leaders are reported meanwhile to have refused to sign a joint declaration proposed by the United States on halting the bombing.

President Nguyen Van Thieu is said to have several objections, among them that there should be no end to the bombing of the North unless Hanoi gives firm guarantees it will not escalate the war.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, who met with Thieu three times Wednesday, met again with the South Vietnamese president today, presumably in an effort to iron out the difficulties.

SECRET

Johnson administration leaders generally sought to keep bombing-halt negotiations secret. But information available in official quarters here is focused on the problems with North Vietnam.

Officials said privately they must know in advance what would happen in the field if the United States ended the bombing.

Johnson is believed seeking assurances from Hanoi that the full in the fighting, the decline in troop infiltrations from the North to the South and the withdrawal of economy units from around South Vietnamese cities would not be reversed following an end of the bombing.

South Vietnamese leaders appear to object to Johnson accepting whatever North Vietnamese "assurance he might get." They are insisting on "guarantees" that North Vietnam will not escalate the war.

An end to the bombing has been the essential North Vietnamese condition for moving the Paris peace talks into a new, second phase in which specific issues involved in ending the war would be negotiated.

The United States has committed itself to include the South Vietnamese government in the phase and North Vietnam says the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front must be a participant.

Resolution of this problem by including both would be a measure of North Vietnam's seriousness in the view of U.S. officials.

Another concern is restoring the zone dividing North and South Vietnam as a demilitarized buffer. The United States frequently has demanded this in the Paris talks as an important step in de-escalating the war.

OTHER STEPS

Various other steps, such as ending infiltration through Laos and Cambodia also have been demanded by the United States.

Air strikes, restricted to North Vietnam's southern panhandle since March 31, are continuing meanwhile and more are planned for today. At the same time Pentagon figures show that bad weather has reduced sorties over the North by 30 per cent since midsummer.

Mayor On Mission

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty leaves for Mexico City today to try to persuade Olympic officials to send the Games to Los Angeles in 1976. Los Angeles, where the Games were held in 1932, was selected last month as the U.S. city to bid for the 1976 Games.

Nixon Wages Radio Blitz, Nights Of Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon is waging a radio blitz—10 nights of talk on the issues of 1968—after coming as close as he ever will to a debate with Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

And that wasn't very close. The Republican presidential nominee and his Democratic rival shared a platform and made separate speeches Wednesday night at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner. It was largely an evening of political banter.

PLEGGED

Nixon pledged today that he would as president act to deal with rising steel imports which he said are injuring the domestic industry. He said every million tons of new steel imports represents a loss of almost 8,000 job opportunities at a time when steelworkers are being laid off for lack of business.

While Nixon was at the dinner his radio barrage began with a recorded, 15-minute speech promising leadership that would "bridge and help to close the gap between the generations."

Tonight, Nixon programmed another recorded, nationwide speech on his plan for an all-volunteers Army. "After Vietnam, I believe we should move toward improving the pay and other benefits of the armed forces and making military service entirely voluntary," he said.

Hubert Lumps Opponents Together For One Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey said today a vote for George C. Wallace is the same as a vote for Richard M. Nixon—and that both constitute "a pretty expensive vote" for the nation's workers.

Humphrey made his pitch in a speech prepared for a noon rally in this auto manufacturing center, where traditionally Democratic blue collar workers are reported defecting to Wallace, thus increasing Nixon's chances of carrying a state crucial to Democratic election hopes.

TO WED?
Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, Aristotle Onassis

Newspaper Says Jackie To Marry Greek Magnate

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald Traveler said today in a copyrighted story that Jacqueline Kennedy plans to marry Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Socrates Onassis within the next few weeks.

However, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary in New York said of the report: "As far as I know Mrs. Kennedy is not planning to get married."

And Richard Drayne, a spokesman for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the former first lady's brother-in-law, said at the Massachusetts senator's Washington office: "We have no knowledge of Mrs. Kennedy's plans. Any confirmation would have to come from Mrs. Kennedy or her office in New York."

The Herald Traveler said a "completely knowledgeable source" had predicted that the marriage would take place before Christmas and could occur before the end of this month.

The report said New York, Maryland and "a European city" were under consideration as possible wedding sites.

Onassis, 62, is one of the world's richest men. He has been a guest of the Kennedy family on several occasions and was a guest at the Kennedy compound at Hyannis Port this past weekend, according to the Herald Traveler.

Onassis also has entertained various members of the Kennedy family, including the 39-year-old widow of President John F. Kennedy and her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, on cruises aboard his yacht Christina.

First Hard Freeze In Parts Of State

By The Associated Press
The first hard freeze of the season was predicted today by the Weather Bureau for the north and west parts of Panhandle and South Plains of Northwest Texas.

TO 24
Forecasts called for overnight lows ranging down to 24 degrees, eight below freezing.

The cool readings, chilliest of the fall appeared in the wake of a cold front that swept across the state and dumped heavy rains and some hail along its path.

A freezing warning was also in effect for northwest Oklahoma.

Meanwhile, Hurricane Gladys veered slightly westward in the Gulf of Mexico posing a long range threat of possible turbulent weather to the Texas coast. The storm shifted its northward course at a point 200 miles west of Miami and 180 miles south-southwest of Tampa.

Small craft warnings were up for all of the Texas coastline. Forecasts called for north winds gusting up to 33 miles an hour through the afternoon and evening.

The mercury before dawn dropped to 28 in the South Plains and 30 at Denver City in West Texas. By midmorning temperatures were rising ranging from the 40s in the north, west to the 60s over the interior of the state and the 80s in the south.

DAMAGE

County agricultural agents in Amarillo estimated rains and hail caused $1 million in damage to the grain sorghum crop. Agents said the loss was 10 to 50 per cent in some areas.

Rains ranged from three to six inches.

Wallace Swings Back Into Texas

FORT WORTH (AP)—George Wallace made a swing deep into Texas today hunting votes for president in a state where all indications show he will receive substantial support but probably will run third to the Democrats and Republicans.

Wallace drew an estimated 5,000 persons at El Paso in Far West Texas and was met by a storm of heckling, mostly youngsters he called punks.

His next stop was Fort Worth for a rally about noon at Burnett Park in the downtown area, a park that is a favorite speaking place for presidential aspirants.

Wallace scheduled a plane stop at Meacham Field, the old Fort Worth municipal airport. His plans called for no set itinerary as he headed for the park.

Gregg County Airport, serving a complex of cities in deep East Texas, including Gladewater, Marshall, Longview, Kilgore and some farther away, awaited his arrival in early afternoon.

In East Texas he will be in what is considered the Old South portion of the state and some political observers see some of his greatest strength in Texas in that region.

Eggers To Speak To Teachers Here

Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for governor, will make a brief stop here Friday at 4 p.m. to speak to the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association.

He will be discussing his views on education legislation in response to an invitation by the teachers' unit. Previously, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Democratic nominee for governor, addressed the local unit.

Eggers carved out a brief period from his schedule in order to accept the invitation. He will be en route from Midland to San Angelo and will speak at 4 o'clock. Questions raised by teachers will be incorporated into his talk, and Eggers indicated that he will seek to answer questions raised from the floor.

Mrs. Loyce Phillips, president of the TSTA unit, will preside at the meeting at the Howard County Junior College auditorium, and Jimmy Holmes, vice president and program chairman, will preside. The public is invited.

Eggers, 49, is a native of Seymour, Ind., and is a graduate of Valparaiso University and of the University of Texas law school, from which he received his degree in 1948. He is a partner in a Wichita Falls law firm, specializing in oil and gas practice; trustee of Midwestern University Foundation; active in church, civic and cultural projects in his home city; active in his county as well as State Republican affairs. He served in the Air Corps during World War II.

Senate Voting Records Of Nixon And HHH Show...

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voting records of Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey show them closest to foreign and military policy and farthest apart on spending.

Nixon, the Republican presidential contender, and Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, have laid out their differences in campaign papers and speeches. But these primarily represent promises.

But any comparison of actual performance, as nailed down by their own voting records, has to stretch back to 1952 when both were members of the Senate and were faced with decisions on the same issues.

This was the year of President Harry S. Truman's bitter fight with Congress, which ended with his domestic program in shambles. Almost without exception, Humphrey supported Truman and Nixon opposed him.

When the Senate killed Truman's veto of the controversial McCarran-Walter Immigration bill, Humphrey voted to uphold the President and Nixon to overthrow it.

Nixon and Humphrey stood together in opposing foreign aid cuts. But Nixon voted to restrict it in a "pair." Both supported a Senate mandate for a 143-wing Air Force and both opposed an effort to cut Air Force research and development funds by $68 million in the service's funds.

But Nixon voted for and Humphrey against pigeonholing a military pay raise bill.

Nixon, who said in Chattanooga, Tenn., during the current campaign that he had always voted for TVA, was recorded as voting in the 1952 session to cut funds.

Nixon voted for and Humphrey against the tidelands oil bill, giving the states title to underwater oil lands, a measure that Truman described as "robbery in broad daylight."

When Truman asked for a two-year extension of price, wage and stabilization controls, Nixon voted to end rent controls and Humphrey opposed the action. Similarly Nixon supported and Humphrey opposed taking price controls off agricultural products.

Truman asked authority to seize the struck steel mills, and Humphrey proposed a formula which Nixon opposed. Then the Republican senator voted for and the Democrats against a resolution which put the Senate on record as requesting the President to use the Taft-Hartley Act in the strike.

Bad Weather Has Sliced North Viet Bombing Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bad weather has cut bombing sorties over North Vietnam 30 per cent since midsummer and even without an ordered halt the level should drop over the next six months.

This could be a major factor in the thinking of top U.S. officials weighing the risks of a total halt at this time.

U.S. fighter bombers since last March 31 have been restricted to strikes within the long, narrow panhandle of North Vietnam stretching from the 19th parallel to the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam.

Pentagon figures show that the number of sorties rose from 7,200 in April to 9,700 in May, 10,300 in June and a good-weather peak of 14,300 in July.

Since then, the trend has been downward to 12,900 in August and 10,500 in September.

A sortie is one flight by one airplane.

The northeast monsoon, bringing rain and overcast, set in about mid-September and will be the dominant weather feature over North Vietnam, including the panhandle, until mid-April.

U.S. military officials oppose any unconditional bombing halt. At the very least, they want North Vietnam to agree to truly demilitarize the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone and to refrain from shelling U.S. and South Vietnamese positions with artillery emplaced north of the DMZ.

Military officers point out that a total bombing halt is only one of five basic conditions which North Vietnam has demanded to bring about meaningful peace negotiations.

The others include: —U.S. pullout from the DMZ and commitment to stop firing artillery at North Vietnamese positions above the DMZ. —A halt to all naval shelling, such as bombardment carried out by the 16-inch guns of the battleship New Jersey. —Termination of American aerial reconnaissance over North Vietnam. —No more U.S. leaflet drops and other acts of psychological warfare.

Money Woes Snag Sewer

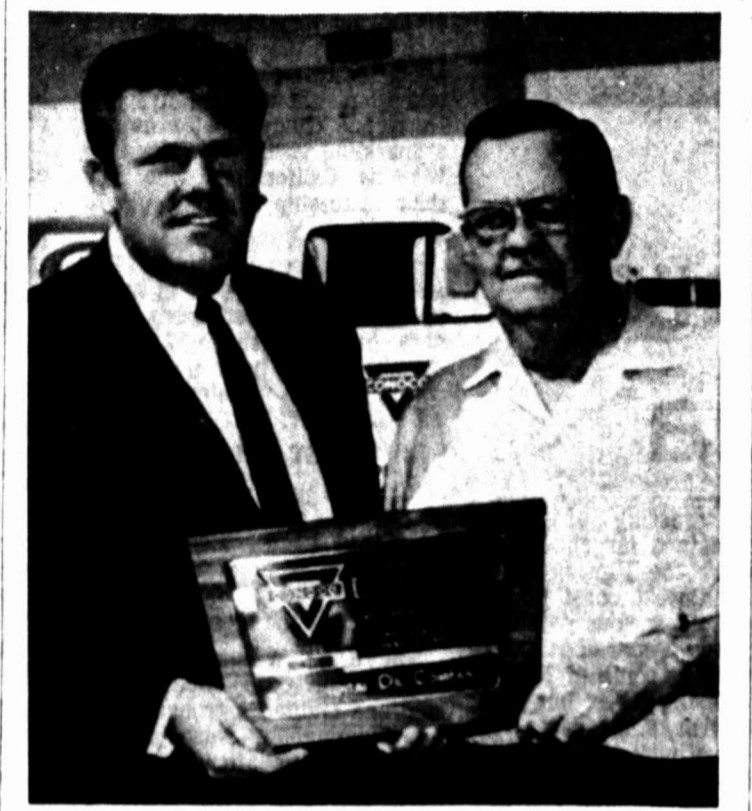

FORSAN — Until Uncle Sam's purse is replenished and more funds are available for a grant, Forsan's plan for the installation of a city sewer system is pigeonholed.

"The FHA has sent all of the papers back to me," said Mayor C. J. Lamb. "They tell me that until additional appropriations are available there is nothing that we can do but wait."

Some months ago, Forsan launched a campaign to provide the community with a sewer system. In order to put the plan over, a grant had to be provided. Tentative approval of the grant was made by the FHA and the program was moving steadily ahead.

With FHA money exhausted, there is nothing to do but wait until additional funds are appropriated and then request reactivation of the project, it was said.

75,000 Longshoremen Ordered To Stay On Job

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ordered 75,000 longshoremen from Maine to Texas to stay on the job until Dec. 20.

Judge Sylvester Ryan, as expected, invoked the Taft-Hartley Act Wednesday against the International Longshoremen's Association and ordered an 80-day cooling-off period.

The ILA struck for two days after its contract expired Sept. 30, but went back to work under a temporary court order which Ryan issued Oct. 1.

In issuing the Taft-Hartley injunction, the judge said: "The strike, if permitted to continue or to be resumed, will cause irreparable injury to the United States of America."

The union has demanded a higher guaranteed annual wage and shipping firms seek the right to shift longshoremen from dock to dock in the same port.

There are also disagreements over "containment." The use of prepacked containers cuts down on the number of longshoremen needed to load and unload cargo.

Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the New York Shipping Association, said every effort would be made to agree on a contract before expiration of the cooling-off period.

But Louis Waldman, counsel for the ILA, said he would confer promptly with Thomas W. Gleason, the union president, on what steps to take to appeal the injunction ruling.

Tractor Theft Charge Filed

A charge was filed today against a Howard County man in connection with the theft of a tractor Sept. 9 from the Roger Miller farm five miles northeast of Big Spring.

Charged in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's court for theft over $50 was Levy Lee Edmondson, 32. Edmondson is currently being held in Lubbock for investigation of burglary, according to A. N. Standard Jr., Howard County sheriff.

Standard said Edmondson had been in custody of the sheriff's office two weeks in connection with a misdemeanor, and further investigation led to the theft charge.

A 1965 model diesel tractor was taken from the Miller farm, but was recovered Sept. 24 on a farm in a remote area near Mesquite, N.M., Standard said.

The sheriff added that recovery is expected soon of a tractor which was taken from the Big Spring Experiment Station on April 22. The tractor is thought to be in the same area as the other tractor which was recovered in September. The Howard County sheriff's office, Texas Rangers, New Mexico and Mexico officers are continuing the investigation, Standard said.

Agnew Raps SDS, Slum Campaigning

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gov. Spiro Agnew says the so-called "students for a democratic society" is conducting classes in revolution.

The Republican vice presidential candidate says the student organization, involved in many campus disorders is teaching its members "how to make Molotov cocktails, how to disrupt the plumbing and transportations with bombs and how to tear the country down."

Speaking Wednesday night, the Maryland governor said SDS members "invade principles' offices and tear up files. They do everything they can to be destructive and disruptive of this society."

He said the SDS was founded on some campuses by professors.

"What happens with some of our leadership in this country? Some of them stand by and say they're just expressing themselves."

"Well, I can tell you that when Richard Nixon moves into that oval office, there's going to be a lot less tolerance of that kind of unlawful and disruptive expression."

"This country is not to be condemned nor compared with the deficiencies of dictatorships. And those among us who would continue to run us down, I say let them get out."

Agnew said he had no intention of campaigning in slum areas as his Democratic opponent, Sen. Edmund Muskie, is doing.

"You certainly don't learn from people who are suffering poverty how to cure their problems," he said. "You learn from the experts. If the poor knew what was wrong, they would have cured it long ago."

Prospectors Elect Slate

Big Spring Prospectors Club organized this week, and scheduled a special called meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 29 in the Texas Electric Service Co. Reddy Room, Bob West, president, has announced.

The club was formed at a meeting in the chamber of commerce building Tuesday night. Don Luttrell and Ernie Webb of Midland and Odessa, national officers of the Prospectors club, were on hand to explain the aims of the organization.

They also demonstrated scientific equipment used in the search for buried treasure and metal.

Thirteen members were signed up at the initial meeting. Two of the members are women.

Additional members are being recruited, West said.

Officers elected at the organization meeting included West as president, Bill Cooke, vice president, and Jerry Blades, secretary-treasurer.

Other officers to be elected at the meeting Oct. 29 and date for regular monthly meetings will be decided. West said that the current plans call for a field trip at least once each month.

He said that membership dues which will pay the member up through Dec. 31, are $1.

He said that anyone interested in the aims and objectives of the Prospectors club is invited to contact him at home after 6 p.m. daily. His phone number is 263-1756.

Sen. Fannin Due Here For Address

U.S. Senator Paul J. Fannin, on a stumping trip of Texas for the Republican national ticket, will address a joint meeting of three service clubs here Friday noon.

The senator is due here at 11:45 a.m. and will go immediately to the Settles Hotel ballroom for his address before the American Business Club, the host group, plus the Downtown Lions and Jaycees.

Afterwards he will hold a brief press conference and then confer with Howard County Republican leaders before flying to Austin for a speaking engagement.

Persons other than members of the clubs are invited to attend the luncheon, but they should call Winston Wrinkle at 267-6391 for reservations in order that sufficient preparations may be made.

Sen. Fannin served three terms as governor of Arizona prior to his election as senator from that state in 1964. He served as chairman of the Western Governor's conference in 1963 and on the executive committee of the national conference. He is a member of three Senate committees and ranking minority member of the sub-committee on Indian education.

Lamesa Civil Jury Docket

LAMESA — Judge Truett Smith of 106th District Court, has scheduled a civil jury docket to open in his court here on Oct. 28 at 10 a.m. He has instructed a jury panel of 150 be on hand for the trial of the cases which are announced ready.

Fourteen matters have been docketed for disposition.

The cases called are styled: Herschel Burns vs. Elaine Stafford et al.; Norma B. Johnson et al. vs. Hill and Hill Trucking Co.; et al.; W. C. Taylor vs. Jewel Slaton, et al.; James V. Dixon vs. Plains Fairways Inc.; Gilbert Holladay vs. David Anderson; Norenda H. Langehenning, et vir. vs. C. B. Wood; Tommy Whiting Jr. vs. Argonaut Southwest Ins. Co.; Frank Westerman, et ux. vs. Tom Brown Drilling Co.; Elmer W. Donney vs. Texas Company, et al.; Jewel Spraberry, et al. vs. James Don Mitchell; Sidney E. Odessa Attorney Talks Tonight

Phillip Hartburger, Odessa attorney, will speak to the Howard County executive Democratic committee and other area county committees at 8 p.m. today in the District Courtroom in the Howard County Courthouse.

Hartburger has been first assistant to Sargent Shriver, current U.S. Ambassador to France, on three of Shriver's assignments over a six-year period.

C. V. Riordan, county Democratic chairman, said Hartburger is well versed on programs affecting the area.

All interested persons are invited to the meeting, Riordan said.

Volunteers Will Elect

Volunteers of the Big Spring State Hospital will be recognized tonight by the hospital's Volunteer Council for contributing 34,280 hours of service to the hospital.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Alford Building at the hospital.

The volunteer hours represent 16 people working 40 hours a week for one year, said Mrs. Mary Cochran, volunteer service coordinator for the hospital.

Election of officers will be held at the meeting, and Mrs. Cochran will report on the meeting of the State Volunteer Services Council, which is slated for October, 1969, in Big Spring.

Representatives of local service organizations and other interested persons are urged to attend. Chairman of the Volunteer Council is Louis McKnight.

Dawson Vote Look Bright

LAMESA — A heavy turnout of voters is anticipated Nov. 5 in the general election in Dawson County.

Louie C. White, county clerk, said that the county has 6,489 eligible voters and that he has ordered slightly more than 7,000 ballots.

Voting will be in the 16 regular voting boxes.

Four of the voting boxes are in the Dawson County Courthouse.

These are Precincts 1 with 370 potential voters; No. 2, with 981 voters; No. 3 with 2,043 voters and No. 4 with 1,288 voters.

The other voting boxes are: No. 5 (Ackerly) with 202 voters; No. 7, Mungler, 107 voters; No. 9, Key, with 172 voters; No. 11, Welch, with 257 voters; No. 12, Sparenburg, with 133 voters; No. 13, Klondike, with 115 voters; No. 14, Labor Camp with 122 voters; No. 15, Airport with 191 voters; No. 16, Patricia, with 103; No. 17, O'Donnell, with 162; No. 18, Union, with 94 and No. 19, Britt, with 146.

The special canvassing board will operate in the courthouse.

White said that a large number of requests for absentee votes are on hand and more being received daily. Absentee ballots were being mailed out Thursday.

Minor Wrecks Total Seven

Big Spring police investigated seven minor automobile accidents Tuesday.

Two pickups driven by Jane Kidd Driskell, 634 Manor Lane, and Guillermo A. Hernandez, Coahoma, collided at 10 a.m. in the intersection of Fourth and Main.

Gerald Craig Wreg, Fort Worth, and Jack Dell Matlock, Tahoka, Tex., collided at the intersection of IS 20 service road and Hwy. 87 at 1:17 p.m.

Opal Creighton Newton, 1506 Nolan, and Vida Hale King, Big Spring, collided in the 900 block of Goliad at 4:03 p.m.

Johnnie Wynne Goswick, 1804 Rannels, and Juana Arsiaga Mendoza, 901 N. Gregg, collided at 4:27 p.m. in the intersection of Eighth and Main.

Randall Smith, 1401 E. 15th, according to police reports, lost control of his car and hit a tree at 5:02 p.m. at the intersection of Fourteenth and Dixie.

Barbara Dee Taylor, 504 State, collided at 10:33 p.m. with a truck owned by M. O. Griffith, 1403 Wood, which was parked in front of his home.

Nancy Fuller, 1008 E. 15th, reported to police that her car was hit by another car as she was going through the intersection of Eleventh and Birdwell at 12:55 a.m. this morning. The other car did not stop, she said.

10-Year-Old Boy Linked To Thefts

A 10-year-old Big Spring boy was turned over to police Tuesday afternoon by H. L. Horak, 1505 Oriole, after Horak came home and found the boy in the house.

Entry into the house was apparently gained by the boy after he forced open the back door of the home, the police report said.

Police said that two gold rings belonging to Mrs. Horak were recovered.

Information given police by the youth may help clear up several other house break-ins, Capt. Stanley Bogard said.

Midland County Oil Discovery Mark Dedicated

MIDLAND — An official Texas Historical Marker commemorating the discovery of oil in Midland County was dedicated Oct. 13 by Bill B. Payne, division exploration manager of Humble Oil & Refining Company.

The marker, located nine miles east of Midland on State Highway 158, is one-half mile north of the site of Humble's No. 1 Mrs. O. P. Buchanan.

The wildcat discovery was drilled by Humble on a 16,000 acre block on a structure mapped by seismograph. The well was completed Nov. 6, 1945, flowing 270 barrels of 43.7 gravity oil per day from perforations 10,370-390 feet in the Strawn formation.

Since that time Midland County has produced 235 million barrels of oil. Its current annual production is about 12 million barrels, which ranks 25th among counties in Texas. Together with gas revenue, the value of the county's annual petroleum production is $48 million.

According to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, Midland County has 7,600 people working directly in the oil and gas industry not including those employed by service companies. The annual payroll is in excess of $65 million, which is more than 50 per cent of all wages paid in the county.

Demos Schedule Dance For Funds

Howard County Democrats have announced a fund-raising dance, to be held Saturday, Oct. 26 in the Settles Hotel ballroom.

Devey Byers and the Varieties will provide the music.

Democratic workers are engaged in a ticket sale effort now, and are hoping to find good response. Tickets are $3 per couple.

All money raised from the ticket sale will be used to finance local campaigning for all Democratic nominees.

Lions To Spook Up Candy Sales

STANTON (SC) — Lions here will be out spooking up sales for their Halloween candy. The candy arrived this week and was distributed at the Lions meeting.

In other business, they approved the purchase of a tent for their Boy Scout troop and referred the purchase of two pairs of glasses to the sight conservation committee for study.

Members saw films which showed preparation and planning that has gone into the Apollo 7 and Sea Lab 3 projects.

Twenty-two members and one guest were present at the meeting.

Ball To Draw Large Crowd

The crowd will be coming from all over this area to attend the sixth annual Policeman's Ball Saturday at Skateland, according to Stanley Bogard, president of the Big Spring Police Association.

Doris Smith, association treasurer, reported ticket sales in Midland, Odessa, Abilene and Midland.

According to Mrs. Smith's latest ticket sale progress report, this year's Policeman's Ball will well be the biggest yet, Bogard said.

"Fortunately, we have rented a bigger hall this year and can easily handle a large crowd," he said. "We have started putting up decorations and all the arrangements are on schedule."

Entertainment for the ball will be provided by the Jimmy Heap Show and the Melody Masters. After playing the local engagement, the show is scheduled to play for the Policeman's Ball in El Paso, he said.

The $5-a-couple tickets are available from all local policemen.

Having A Ball

Big Spring police detectives Sherrill Farmer and Jack Jones check over some of the emblems that will be used in decorating for the police association's sixth annual Policeman's Ball Saturday night. The festivities start at 9 p.m. and will last until 1 a.m. Sunday.

Three Hazardous Buildings Razed

Three hazardous buildings have been demolished during the month of September, according to A. D. Meador, city fire marshal. This brings the total for the year to 30.

Six buildings are in the process of being torn down in the public's interest, he said.

Republican Candidate for Governor
FRIDAY, OCT. 18, 4 P.M.
As He Speaks To Teachers In
H.C.J.C. AUDITORIUM

Eggers states: "I'm in this race to win. My chances for victory look good because Texans want new leadership. As governor, I would infuse new ideas and people into our state government—competent, qualified people who are not tied to past promises or mistakes."

In Big Spring, Eggers will answer all questions submitted from the audience . . . teachers and general public.

Wallace To Fort Worth After Fights, Heckling

By The Associated Press

With one candidate for president back in Texas and another due next week, campaign activities hit a quickening tempo at nearly all levels today.

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace moved to Fort Worth after a night rally in El Paso, where noisy hecklers all but drowned out his speech and police removed four demonstrators. Backers and detractors of the third party candidate engaged in several fist fights.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., disclosed plans to accompany Vice President Hubert Humphrey in a swing across the state starting Monday at Fort Worth and proceeding the next two days to Dallas, Waco, Austin and San Antonio.

Yarborough, chairman of Texas Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie, said, "When Hubert Humphrey comes to Texas next week, the Democrats will be ready and the logjam will break."

Republicans announced that Sen. J. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., will campaign in the state Friday and Saturday for GOP presidential candidate Richard Nixon. On Fannin's itinerary are stops Friday in Big Spring and Austin and Saturday in Beaumont and Orange.

Gov. Preston Smith said he was arranging to be in Austin while Humphrey stops there Tuesday.

Smith, the Democratic nominee for governor, declared Wednesday in Dallas that the states know best how to cope with their own problems. He said, "More and more our constant as well as administrators of federal programs realize that it is more efficient in the long run to urge state governments to administer programs."

"We have seen increased emphasis recently in federal legislative programs which give the state responsibility to control the programs. The Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act is a good example."

Paul Eggers, the Republican opposing Smith, asserted in Houston that the lieutenant governor has failed to speak out on an Occidental Petroleum move gers asserted, "and in turn on the whole Texas economy. This proposal is strongly backed by Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, who is supported by my opponent."

U. S. Fighter-Bombers Schedule Fresh Raids

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers kept up their attacks on North Vietnam's southern panhandle today and more raids were scheduled for Friday amid recurring reports that the United States is considering a complete halt in the bombing of the North.

U.S. Air Force and Navy warplanes continued attacking trucks, supply boats, highways, bridges and other lines of communication below the 19th parallel bombing boundary set by President Johnson last spring.

SMASH BOATS

In raids over the North Wednesday, Air Force and Navy pilots flew through northeast monsoon rains and overcast skies to smash more than 30 enemy supply boats and trucks, military spokesmen said.

Reports of an American proposal to end all air attacks on North Vietnam circulated Wednesday after U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met twice with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, presumably to sound Thieu out.

The U.S. Mission refused to comment on the talks, but a spokesman said Bunker had another meeting with Thieu scheduled today.

Reports from Washington said President Johnson is awaiting assurances from Hanoi that the bombing will result in prompt new Communist steps toward peace.

LULL

Continuation of the lull in the ground war added to speculation that Hanoi may be de-escalating as part of a secret agreement in the works, an agreement that would include a bombing halt.

For the second successive day, the U.S. Command did not report a single ground action in its morning communique.

The South Vietnamese military command reported heavy fighting on the eastern end of the demilitarized zone, but it was not initiated by the North Vietnamese. A spokesman said 400 government troops backed by armored personnel carriers advanced into the southern half of the DMZ Wednesday and killed 75 North Vietnamese soldiers.

Employees Of Hospital Receive Praise, Cash

Employees of the Veterans Administration Hospital here were recognized today in a ceremony for contributing to patient safety and well-being and efficiency of operations through quality performance and participation in the VA's suggestion program.

Receiving a certificate of appreciation and cash award for sustained superior performance was Joe B. Evans, engineering division, who also shared top honors of the day with the business service division employees, who were presented a group performance award of $500 and individual certificates for quality work performance.

Those sharing in the cash award are Frances D. Averitt, U. S. Beechly, Johnnie T. Birmingham, Francis E. Branch, Shirley M. Carlile, Betty R. Coffee, Lyle S. Daugherty, Ozella N. Long, Bertha I. Matlock, Jeta M. Metcalf, Talmadge I. Oxford, David H. Pohl, Wanda L. Roman, Anna L. Wright and Ralph Solomon.

Cash awards and certificates of appreciation for approved suggestions went to John J. Clancy, social service; Don F. Arroyo, nursing service; Sandra C. Fryar, engineering division; Joe A. Hungerford and Dorothy P. Hodges, dietetic service.

Mrs. Hodges also received a certificate for a second approved suggestion along with Juanita V. Seitzler, director's office; Deloris F. Teichman, dietetic service; and Betty L. Face, laboratory service.

Length of service awards were also given with a 25-year service pin going to Elmer W. Seitzler, medical administration service, and a 20-year pin to John W. Lackey, dietetic service.

Receiving 15-year service pins were James R. Arnold and Edmond D. Morris, nursing service; Dr. Jack Margolis, medical service; and Sixto Ramirez, building management. Ten-year pins were given to James L. Barnhill, nursing service; Naomi Hedrick, nursing service; Joyce N. Kennedy, dietetic service; Reymundo G. Martinez, dietetic service; Leta M. Metcalf, business service; and Miguel G. Ramirez, dietetic service.

Ten Cases Set For Trial

Ten cases, including eight civil and two criminal, are slated to be heard in 118th District Court by District Judge Ralph Caton, Oct. 21.

Jury notices to appear at 10 a.m. Oct. 21 in District Court have been mailed to 120 persons by Sheriff A. N. Standard Jr.

Cases on the docket include:

Forsan Oilwell Service vs. Northriver Insurance Co., suit on judgment; Lige M. Fox vs. Thomas Newton, et al, $34,400 in damages from auto accident on Feb. 17, 1966; Glendell Hughes vs. Jerry Hughes, divorce; C. D. Herring Sr., et ux vs. City of Big Spring, $5,000 in damages for overflow of water onto property; and Herman H. Morris vs. Travelers Insurance Co., workman's compensation.

Also, Eva Hanson vs. Richard Dolliver, $7,000 damages for car wreck on Jan. 13, 1968; J. D. Bailey vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, workman's compensation; Eula B. Mann vs. Houston Fire and Casualty Insurance Co., compensation; State of Texas vs. Jacky Coffman, theft of hog; and State of Texas vs. Leonard Leroy Moore, burglary.

Opening lead: Ace of ♠ West virtually talked South out of his four heart contract. The latter is not entitled to any sympathy, however, for he had available a ready means for exposing his opponent's deception on the deal.

In the hope of obtaining a ruff, West chose to open the ace and another diamond. South won with the jack and started to draw trump by leading the king of hearts. West was in with the ace and he paused to assess prospects.

East could be counted on for, at most, one trick—the king of spades, if, indeed, he held that card. It was obvious that no further tricks were available in the red suits and, since the king of clubs was readily finessable, it appeared that the defense was near the end of its rope. Declarer, on the other hand, might not be aware how close to success he was, and on this desperate note West evolved his plan.

He shifted to the ten of clubs, knowing that this would give South something to think about. The latter saw at once that, if he took the finesse and it lost, East might give his partner a diamond ruff for the setting trick. South accordingly put up the ace of clubs and proceeded to draw the rest of the trumps.

By this time, declarer had mentally allotted the king of clubs to East and, since he felt certain that West held the king of spades to warrant his overcall in that suit, he proceeded to take the spade finesse. His surprise when East won the trick was surpassed moments later when West showed with the king of clubs to defeat the contract.

Our quarrel with declarer does not concern his refusal to take the club finesse, for going up with the ace was—in fact—the proper play. What he failed to do, was to lead clubs himself, subsequently, before trying the spade finesse.

If, by some chance, West does have the king of clubs, then North's queen can be established for a discard, thereby relieving declarer of the necessity for taking a spade finesse. The latter play can always be held in reserve should East turn up with the king.

Carlos Says He'll Boycott '72 Show

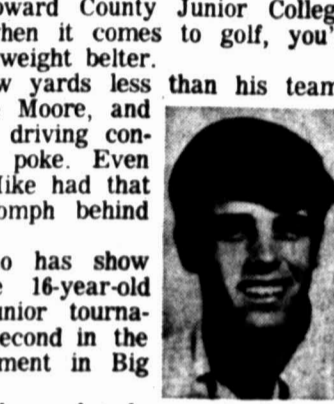

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Carlos, the dark cloud of racial unrest over the 19th Olympic Games today, said he would boycott the 1972 Olympic Games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Freshman Jeff Nieto of Howard County Junior College weighs only 120 pounds but, when it comes to golf, you'd have to refer to him as a heavyweight.

Moore once pieced together an unbelievable 61 on the par 68 Casa View course in his native city but dismisses that feat because the course is too easy.

Moore won the Irving JC tournament this year, which qualified him for the State JC meet at Lubbock.

Nicklaus Back For Tournery

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Four of golf's current top money winners, headed by defending champion Jack Nicklaus, were set to tee off today in the first round of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Tournament.

Evans Deadlocked For Second Spot

Ricky Evans of Coahoma is tied for second in the District 5-A scoring race with a total of 28 points.

Sonny Randle Is Added To Roster Of Cowboys

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys believes in insurance even at a spot where you have the most talent.

Black, not gold, became the dominant color of these troubled times as the 19th Olympic Games today, record-breaking performances of the U.S. athletes.

They accepted their medal from Lord Burghley of England. Both had said they would not accept a medal from International Olympic Committee President Avery Brundage.

He then said he would not attend another Olympics unless he paid his own way there, a broad hint of a boycott of the 1972 Games in Munich, Germany.

Peter Norman of Australia was second, just edging Carlos. It was only one of a flock of world marks to fall.

George Young, Casa Grande, Calif., won the other U.S. medal Wednesday, a bronze for third in the 5,000-meter steeplechase.

That gave the United States a total of 12 medals, six of them gold. But Russia, the other giant of the Games, closed up a bit.

Prospects started looking up immediately in golf at HCJC when the two boys enrolled here.

No one has ever been bold enough to suggest that one of the cities in North Carolina might qualify for a big league baseball team.

Zenon Andrusyshyn, the UCLA punter, could be among the No. one draft choices in pro ball after this season.

Seagren won on fewer misses than Schiprowski each had one miss at 17-8 1/2.

Seagren won on fewer misses than Schiprowski each had one miss at 17-8 1/2.

Landry announced Wednesday that Dallas has obtained end Sonny Randle, a 10-year veteran who was cut by the San Francisco 49ers last week and became a free agent.

Randle will be a backup man for end Bob Hayes and flanker Lance Rentzel—two of the best in the National Football League.

Phyllis Faulkner was the only Big Spring winner as the Steers yielded to Snyder in practice tennis matches, 11-1, here Tuesday.

Blacks Using Games As Way To Protest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The reaction around Olympic Village ranged from "good show" to "send 'em home" today.

While the buzzing Village debated the propriety of the U.S. Negroes' deportment on the Olympic victory stand Wednesday, people wondered what the black athletes might have—if anything—for an encore.

Brundage, controversial 51-year-old president of the International Olympic Committee, spent a pleasant day at Acapulco, where the yachts were sailing peacefully.

Absence of the Chicago hotel owner prevented an immediate confrontation with two of the American militant blacks who have insisted they don't want to receive medals from Brundage's hands.

Smith, world record holder in the 200 meters, won the race in 19.8 seconds, setting a new mark.

That gave the United States a total of 12 medals, six of them gold. But Russia, the other giant of the Games, closed up a bit.

Over the stands, the wives of the two athletes laughed heartily with friends.

Seagren's victory in the pole vault was packed with drama, and a heart-breaker for teammate John Pemele.

Seagren, Claus Schiprowski of West Germany and Wolfgang Nordwig of East Germany all cleared 17-8 1/2.

Seagren won on fewer misses than Schiprowski each had one miss at 17-8 1/2.

Liquor By Drink
After 52 Years
 RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Liquor by the drink became a legal reality in Virginia today for the first time in 52 years — heard the Chesapeake-Ohio highway's train No. 41.
 Cocktails will be on the menu from the train pulls out of New River. The railway secured license because its tracks pass through Bath County, the one in which liquor by the drink has been approved since the 1900 Legislature authorized local option.

Mother Of AP
President Dies
 CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. James Miller, mother of President John F. Kennedy, died Wednesday. Her son also is president of the newspaper in Rochester, N.Y. She was the widow of the Rev. James Miller, a pioneer Christian Church minister in Oklahoma.

Nice Going, Hubert

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey casts a glance and a smile sideways from the podium as Richard M. Nixon, far right, his Republican opponent in the presidential race, gives him the high sign during the Democratic candidate's speech at the Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner in New York last night. Seated between the candidates are President Johnson and James A. Farley, former postmaster general.

Nixon-Hubert-Johnson Swap Quips In Same Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — The Democratic and Republican contenders, Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon, finally got into the same ring—but with the retiring champion, Lyndon B. Johnson, looking on and stealing the show.

While Humphrey kidded Nixon and Nixon praised President Johnson—sounding almost as if he rather than Humphrey were Johnson's vice president—Johnson spread the humor with a nonpartisan hand.

FACE-TO-FACE

The scene was the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner presided over by New York Archbishop Terence J. Cooke. On hand were an array of political figures past and present—including New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, James A. Farley, Franklin D. Roosevelt's chief political operator, and the three principal figures, Nixon, Humphrey and Johnson.

Humphrey recalled that he had been trying unsuccessfully to get Nixon to debate him in a face-to-face confrontation. With Nixon only a few seats away, Humphrey observed, "What the television networks, the United States Congress and my telegrams couldn't accomplish, Archbishop Cooke has accomplished... I wish I had Archbishop Cooke as my campaign manager and my advance man and my finance chairman."

When Nixon spoke he noted that there are times when people in politics had to be critical of each other but there are other occasions above politics.

LRJ PRAISED

And then, the man who was Dwight D. Eisenhower's vice president said of Democrat Johnson, "He's the hardest working President we've had in this century."

Before the program began in the Waldorf's Grand Ballroom decorated with silver leaves and hundreds of red roses, Johnson and Nixon—with Farley sitting between them—engaged in an animated conversation while Humphrey worked on his speech three chairs away.

Johnson, at times looking almost glum, also was praised by Rockefeller, who said, "We know the tremendous burdens you have been carrying for all of us and the people of this great state are deeply gratified."

Johnson spoke last. He noted all the veterans of the political wars around him. He kidded Nixon, who had been surrounded by so many Indians.

"I don't think any veteran can appreciate my feelings on this night, except maybe General Custer," Johnson said, bringing laughter.

MIRACLE

He suggested that Humphrey, trailing in the polls, was looking to the archbishop to bring off a miracle.

But of Nixon's hope for a rebirth of his political career, Johnson said, "Mr. Nixon is hoping of course that the archbishop has come here to witness a resurrection."

Nixon, the President added, "appears to be so confident these days that he's already planning to change the name of Washington, D.C., to Resurrection City."

of Nixon's now-famous 1962 news conference after losing the California Governor's race. Johnson, with laughter building in the audience, said, "This could be my last press conference. Pretty soon you won't have Lyndon Johnson to kick around any more."

NOT FORGOTTEN

One politician who has loomed large in this political year was absent but not forgotten.

When he began speaking, Humphrey reeled down the list of those present and added "and Sen. McCarthy where ever you are."

McCarthy who lost the Democratic nomination to Humphrey, has declined to endorse him, although he has endorsed the vice president's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

While all three men had their serious moments, the emphasis was mainly on humor.

Nixon, for instance, told the charity audience that while he and Humphrey had differences, "we have several things in common."

"We both come from rather humble backgrounds. Regardless of what some others may call us, he's the son of a druggist and I'm the son of a gro-

County Cotton Cut Possible

A 1969 upland cotton marketing quota of 15,133,333 bales and an acreage allotment of 16.2 million acres were announced by the Agricultural Department.

Cotton producers will vote on next year's quota at a referendum slated Dec. 15. If approved the program will provide growers with price support and acreage diversion payments for their 1969 crop.

The 1969 quota is about one million bales less than last year, showing a decline in the four-year upland cotton average to 483 pounds per acre to 454 pounds in 1969.

The national acreage allotment is unchanged this year and included 200,000 acres for adjusting farm allocations.

Gabe Hammack, Howard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office manager, foresees no change in the county cotton allotment of 71,000 acres. However, a possible reduction of the 325 pounds per acre projected yield in 1968 could be reduced on next year's crop. This, of course, would affect crop diversion payments, he said.

Also announced was a national marketing quota for extra long staple cotton of 82,418 bales and an allotment of 79,660 acres. Producers of long staple cotton also will vote in referendum, but a date has not been set.

Texas has been allocated 28,088 acres for growing long staple cotton.

Reserve Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for employment in the Air Reserve technician program at Tinker AFB, Okla., Barksdale AFB and Alvin Callender Field, La. Kelly AFB and Carswell AFB, Tex. Places open are supply management officer, air commander pilot, training officer, maintenance officer with salaries ranging from $10,203 to $19,780. Information may be had from the interagency board of USCS Examiners, Ellington AFB, 77030.

OES Honors Two Grand Officers

Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, met Tuesday at Masonic Temple to honor two grand officers, Steve Baker of the board of grand trustees and Mrs. W. D. Peters of the Founder's Day committee.

Mrs. Charles McCarty, worthy matron, reported on the grand chapter meeting which she attended last week in San Antonio where Mrs. Floy Yates was elected grand matron for the year, and J. T. Sanders was named worthy grand patron.

A Halloween party was scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Oct. 31, in the Peters home at 517 Scott for members and their families. Refreshments were served from a table appointed with crystal.

Charter Meeting Combines Groups

The charter meeting to combine the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild of First United Methodist Church was held Monday. The Rev. Marvin Roark, pastor of Kenwood Methodist Church, directed the services.

Mrs. H. C. Erving and Miss Helen Willard, the two presidents, gave brief histories of the women's groups in former Evangelical United Brethren and Methodist churches.

The meditation program was "Bread of Life" presented by Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, Mrs. Clyde Johnston, Mrs. C. W. Kesterson and Miss Gladys Burnham. The climax of the program was the Agape feast and the signing of the charter. Mrs. Harrol Jones, soloist, was accompanied by Miss Peggy R. herd, organist. Membership cards were presented.

Investors Get Stock Reports

The history of Siboney Corporation, since its organization in 1955, was traced by Auriel LaFond Monday evening when he was guest speaker for the Lucky 20 Investment Club in the First Federal Community Room.

Siboney, which is listed on the American Stock Exchange, has acquired several companies since 1955, including the local Gamco and Math-Master Labs in May, 1968. George McAlister of Big Spring is now a member of the Siboney board of directors.

Mrs. Fred Beckham presided as a new slate of officers was accepted, to be installed at a Nov. 11 dinner at the Silver Star Restaurant. Taking office will be Mrs. John Burgess, presi-

Charter Service Held By Women

STANTON (SC) — The Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild of First United Methodist Church met jointly Monday for a charter service in commemoration of the union of women's groups of the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mrs. James Jones led the service. Those participating were Mrs. Fiji Brandt, Mrs. O. B. Bryan, Mrs. James Eiland, Mrs. Cecil Bridges, Mrs. Bob Cox, Mrs. H. J. Barbee and Mrs. Bob Latimer.

Mrs. Billy Reagar was soloist while those attending knelt at the altar. Twenty-four members signed the charter roll.

A LOVELIER YOU Successful Reducing Needs Mental Aids

By MARY SUE MILLER

To a large degree successful reducing is a mind over matter proposition. You of course must know how to count calories and balance your menus. But, after that, a smart head can easily get the best of a foolhardy appetite.

How about these appetite foolers, for instance?

- When hunger gnaws between meals, take a drink instead of a snack. The drink to have is a tall glass of cool water. Sip it very slowly and it will "drown" the desire for solid nourishment.
- In emergencies — the unconquerable hunger — munch on a low-cal dietetic cracker or cookie. Be sure to store the box on a high shelf. The harder to reach the better, just like keeping candy out of a child's reach.
- Stay busy while you are on a diet. If your mind is occupied with interests other than food, your appetite senses it hasn't got a chance.
- Talk about anything but diet. The subject makes an egomaniac of an appetite and bores the daylight's out of every person within earshot.
- At mealtime eat very slowly and savor every morsel. That way, your appetite thinks it has had an enormous feast.
- Pretend at all times that you are already slim. Then, like the figure-proud, you'll think twice about a slice of seven-layer cake. Appetites have a way of following the lead. The darn things become figure-proud, too.

The National Council of Catholic Women is meeting this week in Denver, Colo., for its 34th national convention.

Members are attending from 11 Texas cities.

Honored guests are Mrs. John Shields, national president, Miss Margaret Mealey, education director, Mrs. James H. Rounsville of Jacksonville, Tex., national director from the San Antonio province; and Mrs. R. J. Sullivan Sr. of Houston.

Mrs. Tom McCundy of the San Angelo Diocesan presiding.

PWOC Presents Playlet Tuesday

The Protestant Women of the Chapel presented a playlet, "Suspended Judgment" — "Or How Not To Think," at Tuesday's meeting in the chapel annex at Webb Air Force Base. Hostesses were Mrs. Doug Wingate and Mrs. Frank Borner. Mrs. Tom Allison presided during the brief business meeting.

HD Council Elects New Officer Slate

STANTON (SC) — New officers were elected at Tuesday's meeting of the Martin County Home Demonstration Council and will take office in January. Named were Mrs. Albert Pitman, chairman; Mrs. W. T. Wells, vice chairman; Mrs. Morgan Hall, secretary; and Mrs. Bill Morrow, treasurer.

The achievement day will be Nov. 7, and a county-wide Christmas party was set for Dec. 17. The council will meet in November. Twelve members and Mrs. James Eiland, HD agent, attended.

Circle Has Study On Human Rights

Mrs. W. D. Lovelace gave the first article on a study of human rights, "South America — White Man's Heaven, Black Man's Hell," at Tuesday's meeting of the Lalla Baird Circle of Wesley United Methodist Church. Mrs. Alta King, 702 E. 12th, was hostess.

Mrs. King and Mrs. Druce Cawthron presented the second article, "The Church Women and Human Rights." Miss Helen Ewing worded prayer and brought the devotion.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, 2200 Carl.

Paul's Manifesto Probed By Circle

"Paul's Missionary Manifesto" was the subject of a program given by Mrs. J. A. Andrews at Tuesday's meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the Westside Baptist Church. Mrs. C. L. Kirkland read the prayer calendar, and prayers were led by Mrs. Mary Riddle and Mrs. E. O. Sander. Special prayers were offered for the church revival, Oct. 20-27, and several women remained to work on the "open door" project.

Couple To Marry In Church Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos H. Ford of the Garden City Route are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Jean, to Bill R. Seal, son of Mrs. Elmer Seal, Garden City Route, and the late Mr. Seal. The wedding is scheduled for Nov. 2 in the Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. D. M. Duke officiating.

Receive 25-Year Pins Wednesday

Mrs. C. A. Smauley and Mrs. Marion Nichols received 25-year pins at Wednesday's meeting of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at the IOOF Hall. Mrs. J. L. Millican presided. Mrs. J. C. Cravens and Mrs. M. E. Anderson served refreshments. Mrs. Pete Van Pelt and Mrs. Winifred Wood will serve as hostesses at the next meeting, Nov. 20.

Guild Discusses 'Art Of Living'

Members of St. Anne's Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal Church discussed the program, "The Art of Living," at Tuesday's meeting at the parish house. Mrs. R. L. McDonald presided and announced plans for a Halloween carnival Oct. 29 at the church. Mrs. W. Ray Null will serve as food chairman. The public is invited to attend.

IN BROWNWOOD SATURDAY Texas Art Group Will Hear Electra Malone

Electra Malone, Dallas artist and teacher, will do a demonstration for the 15th annual West Texas Art Association meeting in Brownwood, Saturday, at 10:30 a.m. The demonstration and meeting will be at the Brownwood Senior High School. Membership registration begins at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Malone studied at the University of Texas and North Texas State, as well as the John Pike School of Watercolor, Woodstock, N.Y. She is a past president of Southwestern Watercolor Society.

A known innovator, with primary interest in color, Mrs. Malone works equally well in acrylics, oil, pastels, polymer, and watercolor. She is an instructor of art at Southern Methodist University and Dallas College. Her work is represented in collections throughout the country.

Mrs. Malone's demonstration will be followed by a luncheon, an association business meeting, and the presentation of the exhibition awards by Dr. Clarence Kincaid of Lubbock, exhibition judge. Five cash awards as well as citations will be presented to member artists for work shown.

Approximately 300 West Texas artists are expected to attend the one-day meeting.

GOP Enjoying Financial Edge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans, hoping to capture control of Congress for the first time in 14 years, started the campaign with a 7-to-1 advantage over Democrats in congressional campaign funds reported to the government.

The Republican party reported to the House of Representatives raising $31 million through its national fund-raising organizations between Jan. 1 and Aug. 31.

Democrats reported raising $451,318 through their organizations.

The reports didn't include funds raised by state and local organizations and outside groups like labor unions.

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, which traditionally supports Democrats, reported spending $743,754 on congressional races through Aug. 31, but didn't say which candidates or parties got the money.

The independent United Auto Workers reported spending $51,760, all of it on 25 Democrats.

The Executive Firms Campaign Committee—a combine of Wall Street brokerage firms—reported raising $124,000 for congressional races. The only expenditure listed went to a Republican.

Expenditures reported by the party committees are almost in the same ratio as the contributions—$2.6 million spent by the Republicans and $398,452 by the Democrats.

The chief GOP organization—the National Congressional Campaign Committee—reports taking in $1.9 million and spending $1.6 million.

CONTRAST

By contrast, the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee during the same period reports income of $307,850 and expenditures of $109,444.

The big financial edge enjoyed by the Republicans in House races is further increased by the money raised and spent by their Boosters' Club, which concentrates on aiding GOP candidates who are trying to unseat Democrats. The regular committee funds go to incumbents seeking re-election.

The Boosters' Club lists receipts of $738,652 and expenditures of $552,800.

The Democrats have no comparable organization. Two smaller Democratic committees have disbursed an additional $127,642 listed as campaign expenditures, however.

In the Senate, the Republican Campaign Committee spent $443,958. Its Democratic counterpart spent $161,366.

One union that funneled its support to both parties is the Seafarers Political Activity, which gave $15,000 to the Republican Congressional Committee and $5,000 to the Democratic Senate Campaign Committee.

Kosygin Claims Most Of Troops Will Leave

PRAGUE (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said Wednesday night most of the occupation troops in Czechoslovakia will withdraw soon, but he did not indicate how many will stay.

Kosygin said the withdrawal will include troops of Poland, Hungary, East Germany and Bulgaria, the four East bloc nations that joined in the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 20 to reverse the country's liberalization drive.

Kosygin spoke at the signing of a treaty with Premier Oldrich Cernik legalizing the Soviet occupation. His speech was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass.

Anticipating further criticism of the Soviet Union because of the treaty, Kosygin urged Communists unity to combat this.

"The enemies of socialism will fume and rage," he said. "They will try to distort the meaning of our treaty and to aggravate international tension. The enemies of Czechoslovak-Soviet friendship want nothing more than to erect a wall of alienation and sow distrust between our peoples.

"We must oppose this by our unity, which is stronger because it is engendered by the community of our class interests and our goals of building socialism and communism."

He predicted that the treaty will meet with the broadest support and approval of the peoples of the U.S.S.R. and Czechoslovakia, other Socialist nations and all the forces which prize the cause of peace and socialism.

Cernik said the treaty "strengthened relations of close cooperation and friendship between the Czechoslovak nation and the nations of all countries of the Socialist community," the Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported.

Brown Clubbed His Parents To Death

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Dolphus Jack Brown is guilty of murder with malice in the blood-drenched slayings of his parents at Shallowater last year, a 34th District Court jury decided Wednesday night.

Jurors met again today to decide the sentence for Brown, 26.

The guilty verdict was returned at 10:30 p.m. after seven hours of deliberations.

Prosecutors said Brown clubbed his parents to death at their home April 17, 1967, because of desperate need for money to meet debts. They said the father and mother, D. J. and Birtie Brown, in their 50s, had turned down his plea for cash.

POKER GAME

Lubbock County records show a will has been filed naming Brown, an only child, the sole heir to an estate estimated at $150,000 to $300,000. His parents owned farm property and an insurance agency.

Defense counsel argued the state's case, based on circumstantial evidence, was too flimsy to justify a conviction.

Dist. Atty. Alton Griffin told the jury that Brown killed his parents about 5 to 7:30 p.m., disrobing the dead couple and putting the bodies in bed to make it appear the slayings occurred later.

After taking all the money he could find, Griffin said, Brown went back to a motel, where he

Poker Operators Please Take Hint

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Nevada's Gaming Control Board is moving to cut down the number of house-financed players in the state's licensed poker games.

"You don't have much of a chance in a game which is filled with shills and stakes players," Chairman Frank Johnson said Wednesday. "They can freeze you out of the game."

A shill is paid a salary by a casino "to stimulate the action" while a stakes player is given cash by a casino to sit in a game for the same reason, said Johnson. The difference? A shill doesn't profit from any winnings, while a stakes player gets a share, explains Johnson.

The board ordered a limit of two shills and barred stakes players in recommending approval for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herzog to operate a poker game at the D&N Club in Sparks. The board said it was not singling out Herzog, but wanted other poker game operators to take a hint.

Horoscope Forecast

TODAY AND TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Any critical comments, opinions or even strong thoughts can get you in considerable trouble with those about and can negate much of the effort you have put out to make some project that is important to you a great success. Take some time out to please your loved ones and to let them see you really do value being allied with them in what ever venture.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Be cheerful when driving with others since they need a boost for their waning spirits. Also keep your promises and doing the work expected of you is fine. Stop wasting valuable time or you could regret it later.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): You are bringing a little too selfish and a good friend could resent it. Take time for thoughtfulness and kindness. Give a compliment where deserved. This costs nothing and works wonders.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Permit others to state their view without forcing your own or you could get into unnecessary arguments. Be understanding with those who have a difficult problem. You can solve it very easily.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Try to help friends with problems they may have, and do not force yours on them. Do not let your busy schedule get in the way of helping others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): If you cut down on expenses, you find that you can soon have quite a reserve. Listen to what business people have to say. You may not approve of some changes, where property is concerned, but it is for the best.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You may think that personal desire is important to achieve right now, but if you are patient, all is fine. Be optimistic. Think more kindly of others and improve your image with everyone.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Engage so much just to convince you you like to do your bidding. Just be sincere and honest and all is fine. Into some philanthropic work that good for you and can be most helpful to others. Don't waste time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you are more interested in helping others instead of yourself, you can come to a real understanding with friends. Get projects working nicely. Be very circumspect in social life during 1968.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You have to be very careful to follow every regulation applying to you or you can lose the support of higher-ups very quickly. Show more industry in doing your work. Become more successful in it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You have new ideas you want to put in operation, but you had better study details more thoroughly first, so keep busy with regular work today. Also those you want allied with you are in a peculiar mood. Side your line.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Carry through with promises and stop acting in such an eccentric manner and you avoid problems with others. Be sure you do what you expect of you. However, give matters considerable thought first. Show wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): This is the right day to have those talks with associates, otherwise there may be trouble arising soon if you don't do more studying where some project is concerned. There are risks in it that needs to be ironed out.

Student Unit Backs Firing

NEW YORK (AP) — The student council of New York University's Graduate School of Business Administration said today it has endorsed the firing of a Negro educator who called Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon "racist bastards."

William Zimmerman, student council president, said the council called a special meeting Wednesday and voted unanimously to support university President James M. Hester's firing of John F. Hatchett as director of the university's Afro-American Student Center.

Hatchett was fired last week after he used the epithet in an address to students to describe the two major party presidential candidates and Albert Shanker, head of the AFL-CIO.

Cold Winter?

LONDON (AP) — Thieves crashed a party at the London home of violinist Yehudi Menuhin Wednesday night, stole five fur coats left by guests in an upstairs room and escaped.

GI's Killed In Action Lowest In Eight Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam last week was the lowest in eight weeks, the U.S. Command announced today. South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also dropped, reflecting the current lull in ground action.

The weekly casualty report said 177 Americans died in combat during the seven-day period ending at midnight Saturday.

This was the lowest number of Americans killed since 159 died in the week ending Aug. 27. In the week ending Oct. 5, 190 Americans were killed in action.

The U.S. Command also reported that 1,278 Americans were wounded last week, with 659 requiring hospitalization. A week earlier, 1,326 were wounded.

Tax Take Posted For September

Big Spring city tax department collected $1,300.60 in taxes and fees during the month of September, according to C. E. Johnson Jr., city tax assessor-collector.

This amount is $2,004.48 below that collected in September, 1967, he said.

Johnson's office has collected $28,810.84 since the city's fiscal year started April 1, which is $7,599.07 below the amount collected during the same period the year before, he said.

Votes Hint Big Turnout

A big turnout at the polls may be expected this year for the general election on Nov. 5 if absentee balloting is an indicator.

There were 24 absentee and limited ballots marked Wednesday in the county clerk's office at the Howard County courthouse, Wednesday was the first day for absentee voting in Texas.

Clerks also mailed out 354 absentee ballots to servicemen and others who will not be in the county on election day.

Voters who are new in Texas will begin voting for the office of president and vice president next Wednesday.

History Repeats

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A Cherokee Indian has been arrested on charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Police said he tossed a tomahawk at another man.

America Can Try For Moon Orbit

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts have demonstrated America can reach toward the moon without further delay.

Barring unforeseen problems in Apollo 7's final days, the mission—more than half-completed—has shown that:

EXAMPLES:

—No major, time-consuming changes need be made in future Apollo spaceflights.

—Although Apollo 7 is the first manned flight of an Apollo craft, the complex moonship has been free of major troubles.

—Redundancy in spacecraft systems is excellent. When something prevents feeding data into the flight computer one way, for example, the Apollo 7 crew has been able to use another method.

—The worldwide ground tracking network can rapidly gather the great volume of data needed on a man-to-the-moon mission.

"Were we to re-enter now, we would have accomplished slightly in excess of 75 per cent of all the things we laid out to do," Glynn Lunney, Apollo 7 flight director, said Wednesday.

"I have seen nothing in the data so far that would require major change in spacecraft, but we must reserve any additional comment until we have safely recovered the spacecraft and examined it in detail," said Dale Myers, vice president of Apollo program manager for North American Rockwell Corp.'s space division, builder of the Apollo spacecraft.

Apollo 7 has shown the spacecraft can rendezvous with a target, as it must do on the lunar landing mission. The spacecraft's life-support system already has kept Apollo 7's crew alive within three days of the time needed for a moon trip.

'Windows' Helping Blind See Again

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A few dozen people blind for years now are seeing again through a new method of restoring the windows of the eyes, a specialist reported today.

One man passed his driver's license test a few weeks ago, said Dr. Louis J. Girard, of Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston, Tex.

A woman, blind for 48 years—since childhood—now is able to see the children she reared, he added.

PREDICTION

The operation putting an artificial cornea or "window" into the eye might help 10 to 15 per cent of the million of blind people throughout the world, Girard said.

It applies only to those whose own corneas have been damaged by chemical burns or other things, the mesh is covered with injuries or certain diseases, or human eye tissue, sclera and who have congenital defects of conjunctiva, taken from the ophthalmologist, Girard said in a report for the American College of Surgeons.

He predicted that most ophthalmologists or eye specialists should be able to perform the operation, which takes up to 1½ hours.

SURGERY

Girard said he has grafted artificial corneas into the eyes of 60 persons in the last 3½ years, and at least half are able to see.

"The results are the most gratifying I have had in my career as an ophthalmologist," Girard said in explaining the technique at a news conference.

The surgery uses a tiny shaft of clear plastic which acts as a window. It has skirts or projections of mesh which hold it in place through the cornea.

The person's own eye tissue can adhere to the mesh to keep it firmly placed. To achieve this, the mesh is covered with injuries or certain diseases, or human eye tissue, sclera and who have congenital defects of conjunctiva, taken from the ophthalmologist, Girard said in a report for the American College of Surgeons.

NUDE WOMAN CUTS CAPER

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Among the 150 persons who assembled outside the old Federal Building Tuesday to support the draft resistance of Sidney Walter was a woman who peeled off her clothes, danced in the nude and cut up a melon with a large knife.

At the same time, members of the Firehouse Theater, of which Walter is the artistic director, put on skits favoring draft resistance and advocating peace in Vietnam.

Walter, the father of three children, was classified 1-A in July after he twice returned notices of delinquency to his Niagara Falls, N.Y., draft board.

"The nude woman was not arrested," police said.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS—5

Texas Welfare Payments

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series on the 14 proposed changes in the Texas Constitution that will be voted on Nov. 5.)

By JACK KEVER
Associated Press Writer

A proposed constitutional amendment to raise the limit on state welfare payments from $60 million to $75 million may be just a start if a Dallas legislator has his way.

Sen. Oscar Mauzy has pledged to offer another amendment next year which would raise the ceiling on welfare grants to $100 million, or remove it entirely.

"I think we should upgrade all four programs of the Welfare Department to meet the needs of the people, and whatever it takes to meet those needs I am prepared to vote the taxes that are necessary," Mauzy told a Dallas audience.

LITTLE HELP

—Authorize Dallas County after approval by a majority of qualified taxpayers, to issue road bonds. It would also liberalize the constitutional debt limit for that county's road construction and maintenance and aids to dependents. Welfare payments also go to 231,000 persons averaging 76.8 years in age, 16,000 permanently disabled and 4,300 blind.

Three other proposals to be voted on would:

—Authorize the legislature to permit El Paso and Tarrant counties to consolidate government offices and functions and to allow their political subdivisions to contract with one another for government services.

—Eliminate the requirement that the governor, secretary of state and comptroller approve state purchase contracts, and delete from contract purchase requirements fuel used by state government at Austin, since the Capitol complex has its own power plant.

DISABLED

"Ninety-two per cent are either 65 years of age or older, in school or too young to be employed, ill, blind, or permanently and totally disabled. Of every public assistance dollar in Texas, 83 cents now goes to the aged, 4 cents to disabled, and 1 cent to blind. The balance of 12 cents is for parents (mostly mothers) temporarily unable to provide for their young children," the welfare association said.

Those favoring the amendment note that Texas has consistently ranked low in welfare, including 49th in assistance in aid to dependent children. Texas also pays more in administrative costs per welfare recipient than any other state.

Opponents say the extra $15 million, at a time when the state is hard pressed to meet its financial obligations, would increase each recipient's income only a few dollars a month. They say the state should draw a line in combating growing socialism and the welfare state.

The proposal to consolidate government offices and functions was recommended by the Texas Research League as a way for metropolitan county governments to meet 20th Century problems. Approval by a majority of the voters in each division affected would be required before consolidation could go into effect.

"RED TAPE"

Efficiency and economy are cited as reasons for voters approving the amendment, No. 11 on the ballot. Those opposing it say it would be the first step government at the county level and would increase unfairly the county wide tax burden.

The contract proposal, No. 8, would free busy officials from the storekeeping function of approving state purchases, a job handled since 1919 by the Board of Control, say proponents. The requirement has become just "red tape." Opponents of the proposed amendment contend that purchasing agents and officials act more cautiously if what they do is subject to review by high state officials.

Opponents of the Dallas road bond proposal, amendment No. 4, object that a majority, rather than two-thirds vote, would be enough to approve a bond election, and that the liberalized debt limit would open the way for squandering tax money. Those in favor of the proposal say it would permit Dallas County to meet its expanding needs, would effect only that county and would modify the present requirement that enable a minority of only one-third to override the wishes of the majority.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Funds For Research

DEAR ABBY: Since they haven't found a cure for leukemia yet, could you tell me why they are spending so much money trying to get to the moon? My daughter has leukemia, and I think the money they spend for this outer-space foolishness could be put toward a cure for leukemia and other fatal diseases. Sign me, LUCILLE

DEAR LUCILLE: I understand and sympathize with your viewpoint. However, science's exploration of outer-space is hardly "foolishness," when one comprehends all of its implications for the future.

And present research on all forms of cancer, including leukemia, is absorbing about all the money that the research personnel and organizations can handle. Also, with all sincere respect for the victims of this dread disease, there are other areas of human misery that desperately need funds for relief.

In other words, there is no easy way to cut the inadequate pile of public funds available for mounting human needs.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is getting married soon to a girl who lives in the town where he now works and lives. We have met this girl, and she seems nice as far as we can tell on such short acquaintance. However, there are a couple of little things that should be taken care of, and I am at a loss as to how this should be handled.

Believe me, Abby, this is not easy to write, but here goes: She is forever taking off her shoes, and when she does, her feet smell. Also, she wears sleeveless dresses and it is obvious that she does not shave underneath her arms. Wait, I'm not through. I don't think this girl has ever heard of an under-arm deodorant. Not only is it offensive, but she has huge perspiration rings on her clothes.

There is no excuse for this sort of thing in this day and age. Somebody has GOT to tell her. But why?

"FUTURE IN-LAW"

DEAR FUTURE: NO YOU! It would appear that either your son is completely anesthetized by this girl or he is unaware and insensitive as she is. It would be a kindness to tell him to tip her off.

DEAR ABBY: I am a junior at a state university. In five years of dating, I have been intimate with many girls. The girls have come from all types of backgrounds, but most of them were from the "best" blueblood families.

The pathetic thing they all seemed to have in common was a basic need for love. Their parents may be successful in business and society, yet as parents they are miserable failures. One might expect this of poor, underprivileged girls from broken homes, but when a boy dates a girl who is supposed to have "everything," and returns her to an 18-room mansion to find her mother passed out on the sofa, what can he feel? What can he say?

These girls grab for this shallow type of physical love as a drowning man grabs for a straw. If parents really care for their daughters, they should give them more than money. If you print this, maybe some parents will become aware of their mistakes before it is too late.

MRS. ROBERT W. GREENE

Teenagers, Crowds Give Her Incentive

By RHODA LEMONS

"I love to cook, especially for people who love to eat," said Mrs. Robert W. Greene, 608 Colgate. She particularly enjoys cooking for teenagers because of their hearty appetite.

Perhaps, that is why Mrs. Greene and her husband work with youth groups at the Birdwell Lane Church of Christ. Greene teaches a high school and college age class, and Mrs. Greene teaches a class of sixth and seventh graders. They host an open house for the older group after each home football game and provide chips, dips and cold drinks. Games are usually played and music is the order of the evening.

The Greens are expecting their first child within a month, so Mrs. Greene has been working diligently to get the nursery ready. The room is done in pale green, bright blue and white.

Mrs. Greene painted the chest green, trimmed in the soft white, and made white muslin curtains on which she painted large green and blue flowers and made a cloth for the round table beside the rocking chair and bought a white throw

Try Corn Pudding Recipe From Southern Kitchens

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

AP Newsfeature Food Editor

If you're interested in a corn pudding recipe from around New Orleans, here it is.

One note about preparing the corn for the pudding and the result you can expect.

Don't score the corn kernels on the ears of corn; just cut them off as is. Then take the dull side of a table knife and press out the milky juice without removing any of the husk. Measure the corn kernels and milky juice together to yield two cups.

As to the kind of pudding this is, corn kernels and shrimp layer themselves at the bottom of the casserole leaving a smooth-as-silk custard top.

LOUISIANA CORN PUDDING

3 large eggs

1 tsp. flour

1 cup milk

2 tbsps. butter or margarine

2 cups uncooked corn kernels

cut from fresh corn (about 5 medium size ears will be needed)

1/4 cup finely grated (1 small)

onion, pulp and juice

1 tsp. salt

2 tps. sugar

1/4 tsp. nutmeg

Cayenne pepper to taste

1 can (4 1/2 oz.) dehydrated shrimp, rinsed with cold water and drained

In a medium-size metal bowl, beat eggs enough to blend yolk and whites; add flour and milk; beat to blend.

Add butter; place over low heat until butter melts. Remove from heat. Stir in corn, onion, salt, sugar, nutmeg, cayenne and shrimp.

Turn into a well-buttered 1 1/2 quart baking dish — a round glass casserole that is 7 1/2 inches in diameter and 2 1/2 inches deep is fine.

Set casserole in a shallow pan of hot water; have water come at least half way up casserole.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a knife inserted in center of pudding comes out free of custard—about one hour.

Let stand at room temperature about five minutes before serving.

Makes six servings.

spread for the three-quarter bed which will be used later. The crib is white and ready for the "longed-for" occupant.

The Greens have small dinner parties often, and Mrs. Greene usually serves Mexican food, enough so everyone can have seconds. She bakes for the freezer, for she and her husband seldom eat dessert. Friends and neighbors say that her Mexican food is "something special," and Mrs. Greene said that it is her specialty.

Mrs. Greene worked regularly in the past, but does not plan to again for at least several years. She realizes that later when her child is in school, she may go back to teaching. She taught the third grade for two years and remedial reading at Lakeview for one year.

She is presently tutoring an elementary perceptual reading class under the guidance of Dr. Marshall Cauley and Dr. Harold Smith. She works three evenings a week.

Mrs. Greene said that she was old-fashioned about her house-keeping. She is well organized, washes on Mondays, irons on Tuesdays, cleans on Friday and bakes and prepares food for the freezer on other days.

She said that she has been cooking all her life although at home when she was a child, she cooked only for a small family. However, it does not bother her to cook for crowds. She decides how much it will take to feed one person and adds accordingly.

Her favorite at home meal is a casserole dish which she serves with hot bread, salad and drink.

Mrs. Greene realizes that her household may not be so care-free as she would like, but she said that if the infant is healthy, she won't mind any of the work or the inconvenience. To her, the baby will bring only pleasure.

1 tbs. vanilla
Combine all ingredients and beat until smooth. Spread over cake. When cool, cut into squares and serve.

COCONUT PECAN RING

2 8-oz. pkgs. refrigerated butterflake rolls (24)
2-3 cups granulated sugar
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup flaked coconut
1/4 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 tsp. milk
1/4 tsp. vanilla
2 tps. chopped pecans
Separate refrigerated dough into rolls. Combine the granulated sugar and the cinnamon (you may want to increase these amounts). Dip each roll in the milk then in the sugar mixture, coating all sides. Place 12 rolls, slightly overlapping, in bottom of greased 6 1/2 cup ring mold. Sprinkle with coconut and one-fourth cup pecans. Add remaining rolls, forming a second layer of overlapping rolls. Lap in opposite direction. Bake until golden brown at 375 degrees. Loosen with the tip of spatula; turn out onto serving plate.

APPLE CRUMB

1 can pie-sliced apples
1/2 cup water
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1 1/2 tps. lemon juice
1 cup sugar
2-3 cup flour
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/4 lb. cheese (Velveeta)
Place apples in baking dish. Add lemon juice to water and pour over apples. Sprinkle cinnamon over the apples.
Cream sugar, flour, salt, and butter. Add cheese. Sprinkle over apples. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until lightly brown.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

To steam a vegetable, place it in a perforated pan over boiling water. Steaming is a good method to use for all vegetables except such strong flavored ones as onions and cabbage.

Add diced raw celery to canned peas and carrots and heat; the celery gives good texture contrast. This combination is also excellent served with a cream sauce. The liquid from the peas and carrots may be substituted for one-third of the milk in the cream sauce.

Saute lots of onion and green pepper and heat with tomato sauce and drained canned kidney beans; sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and serve with hamburgers.

Cook brussels sprouts in consommé or bouillon instead of water for extra flavor.

Ever add capers (drained) to a cream sauce for fish? Good!

Capers come two ways, packed in brine and in salt. As a general rule, the salt should be rinsed off the capers before using.

For an interesting salad marinade, drained cooked broccoli in French dressing and serve on lettuce; top with a little sour cream (the commercial kind) mixed with mayonnaise; sprinkle.

When you are preparing a tomato sauce to serve with fish, substitute bacon fat for the butter or margarine usually called for.

Add a pinch of nutmeg when you are preparing iced coffee.

When you are making sugar syrup for cold drinks, always stir the sugar and water together over low heat until the sugar dissolves. Then boil, without stirring, for about five minutes.

Chicken breasts that are coated with batter and deep-fried are good served with sauteed pineapple rings and crisply cooked strips of bacon.

If cookies are hard to cut out from rolled-out cookie dough, it may be that you have not floured the cutter.

Sliced green onions, carrots and mushrooms make an excellent stuffing for fish that is to be baked. Nice for weight-watchers!

Good quick vegetable dish: heat canned stewed tomatoes with canned drained okra and canned whole-kernal corn. You can use a buffet-size can of the corn with the other vegetables.

A Devotional For The Day

In humility count others better than yourselves. (Philippians 2:3, RSV)

PRAYER: Our loving Father, forgive us for our selfish thoughts. Give us sensitive hearts to see the needs of others. Grant us courage that springs from knowing Thou dost love us and those we help. May all we do be done in gratitude and praise to Thee. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Posts Of Influence

Not to be overlooked, as the presidential contest gathers heat, is the fact that control of the next Congress is at stake in the Nov. 5 elections.

It is important as to which party controls the Congress — and it is especially important to Texas.

The political fact is that whichever party holds a majority organizes the House, installs a majority of its members on each committee, and controls the chairmanship of these committees. This, in actuality, means control of the House.

Four of the present committee chairmen are Texans: George Mahon, Appropriations; Bob Poage of Waco, Agriculture; Wright Patman of Texarkana, Banking and Currency; Olin Teague of Bryan, Veteran Affairs.

If the Republicans were to gain control of the House, these men lose their chairmanships. This should be a matter of concern, not for the congressmen personally, but for the influence they can bring to bear in shaping the course of legislation.

George Mahon, for instance, as chairman of Appropriations, is one of the half-dozen most powerful men in the House. A moderate-conservative, he has performed responsibly and ably in managing and controlling federal spending, especially as related to defense.

Bob Poage, as Agriculture chairman, assures that cotton, wheat, peanut and grain farmers in Texas get fair treatment in the agriculture program.

Teague's responsibility as chairman of Veterans Affairs includes the functioning of VA hospitals like the one in Big Spring; both his and Patman's presence enhance the overall strength of the Texas delegation.

Yet another position is vital to West Texas and all the state. Our own congressman, Omar Burleson, has won a spot on the powerful Ways and Means Committee. His seat on this panel will be in jeopardy if control of the House turns over. This committee originates tax legislation and has jurisdiction over the oil depletion allowance. Burleson can be of tremendous help to Texas if he keeps his place on the Ways and Means panel.

With President Johnson leaving the White House, and with a sort of prejudice working against Texas around the nation, this state needs to be alert to safeguarding the congressional influence it now has. We have much to gain by retention of these Democratic chairmen, and much to lose if they were uprooted through Republican control.

Voters should keep this in mind when they study their whole ballot on Nov. 5.

Excellent Examples

Two groups this week gave the United Fund campaign a real boost with exemplary reports. Webb AFB turned in $13,013, which represented slightly more than its goal and added another "over-the-top" to its achievements. Over the years Webb and its people have taken a healthy bite as a good citizen of the community.

At the same time, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company came in with a report of $2,453.46, an increase of 76 over last year, and 10 per cent more than its target. The Bell family averaged $26.14, which, we venture, will stand as tops among those firms with an appreciable number of employees. A splendid example of civic conscience, this is, and if others measured up to it we would over-subscribe the United Fund budget by one-third to one-half.

The Placing Of Negro Teachers

WASHINGTON — Demands that Negro teachers in overwhelming numbers be assigned to schools which are attended predominantly by Negro children have raised a grave issue in many of the large cities across the country. Controversies have developed in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, Milwaukee and Cincinnati.

On its face, it looks as if Negroes are asking today for what white people in the suburbs of the North and throughout the South have been urging — namely, that schools shall be under the control of a board in a neighborhood or district, thereby permitting "segregation" of students and faculties in accordance with residential patterns and the desires of parents.

NO OBJECTIONS are being raised in this particular controversy to the attendance of a relatively small number of white children at Negro schools or the admission of Negroes to predominantly white schools. The idea seems to be generally endorsed that whoever lives in a neighborhood should have the right to go to the school therein. The federal government, on the other hand, has by the use of public funds promoted the concept of assignment of teachers and the busing of pupils from one school or district to another to correct "racial imbalance," even though this is forbidden by the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

TODAY, HOWEVER, the new phase of the segregation dispute isn't really based so much upon racial feelings or sympathies as it is on the outgrowth of a belief among some educators and sociologists that Negro students should have Negro teachers because they need a different kind of training than is given to white children in white schools.

THE OBJECTION raised now is to the use of a centralized system of school administration whereby a city hall and a single school board manage the affairs of a big city. Negro leaders argue that local school boards should be set up in what they called a "decentralized" system, and that each of the district boards shall have the right to fix the curriculum and choose the teachers they desire, irrespective of whether almost all of the faculty members are Negroes.

THIS HAS precipitated a labor union dispute in New York City. The union, called the United Federation of Teachers, contends that there is discrimination against white teachers in some areas of the city and that district school boards should be eliminated if they engage in such practices. The current strike is largely the result of a belief that local school boards are discriminating in the selection of teachers and that this might become nationwide.

New York City was among the first to try out the idea of neighborhood control of schools, and other cities took up the same formula of decentralization. Bitter feeling has arisen, and Negro boycotts of schools over the same issue occurred in Chicago this week, together with some disorders.

STATEMENTS ARE being made by some Negro sociologists that schools should be controlled by Negroes if the majority of the students are Negroes. But other educators say the whole public-school system is endangered as a result of the decentralization plans, which could bring about more segregation instead of integration.

Should teachers be chosen by color instead of by merit? This is the fundamental issue.

The Slowdown Is Still On Its Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Figures this week that showed the economy continuing to overheat despite government efforts to cool it suggest that somewhere in the control mechanism there is a very serious flaw.

The seriousness of this failure to make the economy respond to orders—the inability to bring supply and demand for goods and credit into better balance—is recalled by events of just a few months ago, when the U.S. dollar was challenged.

THAT CHALLENGE could be renewed if inflation persists. U.S. goods, rated in inflated dollars, might be priced too high to remain competitive with foreign products. That would make it difficult for the United States to balance its books.

Controls on the economy are primarily fiscal and monetary. Fiscal policy refers to government taxing and spending; monetary policy, a function of the Federal Reserve Board, refers to the availability and cost of money.

SOME GROUPS in the financial community now believe that the immediate failure to restrain the inflated economy results from a conflict between the two policies. There is some evidence that the two canceled each other out.

A decision was made earlier this year to reduce inflationary demand through a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes and a simultaneous reduction in federal spending. This was a method of taking excess dollars out of the economy.

The Federal Reserve Board, monitor of money supply, was among the strongest supporters of fiscal restraint. But, for some reason, once the fiscal action began taking money out of the economy, the Fed began putting it back in.

THIS WAS like a homeowner stoking his furnace and dampening it at the same time. The heat level remained the same, but a lot more energy was expended and the machinery itself may have been damaged.

Why should the Fed, after seeking a slowdown, have made the money supply larger in July, August and part of September? Any easy answer very likely would contain only part of the truth.

The Fed's activities are incredibly complicated; even some of its own officials fail to understand it.

BY RAISING interest rates and making money less available, for example, the Fed might hope to restrain a young man in St. Louis from buying a suit and thus adding to demands on the economy. But, being human, the young man might not respond in the manner or in the time period desired. Most consumers ignored the restraints and continued to spend.

Many economists believe, however, that the Fed also made a human error, that it miscalculated the timing and impact of the combined tax increase and announced a cut in federal spending.

Fearful that fiscal measures might be immediate and harsh, the thinking goes, the Fed decided to increase the money supply to avert an immediate downturn. When the downturn didn't come anyway, the extra money added to inflation.

The increase in Gross National Product of $17.9 billion in the third quarter is hard evidence that the economy is unrestrained. The slowdown is still on its way.

Prisoner Of Talent

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Yves St. Laurent, who often wears chains over his open-necked shirts and around the hips of his low-slung slacks, is at 32 a prisoner of his own talent.

Yet the painfully shy prodigy of French couture may at any minute bite the hands which hold his reins and run screaming free to the countryside, rapturously ripping some of his clothes off on the way.

THERE, AWAY from fawning socialites in carnival dress, he might lie in the grass and read passages from Marcel Proust or talk about really important things with a circle of creative young friends.

That is how people-weary sometimes world-weary Yves describes personal peace.

"I don't like society. I am resistant to parties," Yves said as his lanky body willed into an office chair and sipped at a cola from a paper cup.

But this was not his day to find peace. Earlier in the week the celebrated St. Laurent name had been the magnet at a congested, circus opening of his ready-to-wear boutique, Rive Gauche, followed by press conferences and private parties in his honor.

A MERE 17 when he became the protégé of Christian Dior, Yves had within a five-year period inherited the great fashion house, introduced the trapeze dress, suffered a nervous breakdown while serving in the French army, sued his firm for not hiring him back, and became master of his own house.

"Everybody wanted to look very rich then and I was caught up in the mood," Yves now says apologetically. "But I have changed my mind completely in the past 10 years. I don't like the image of a woman dressed like a carnival, in costume, always changing them. I think fashion must be just clothes. They must be wearable and this is sufficient."

NEVERTHELESS, he has continued to go through the motions season after season of gilding the ladies who can afford up to $5,000 for his couture. But his heart is not in it.

"It is ridiculous to pay such prices for one little dress. It is not right in this life today. Yes, I am the maker of them, but not for long perhaps."

Yves' own awakening came, he says, with the rise of influence of the young generation. Enviously, like a child with his nose pressed against a bakery window, he applauds their disdain for money and their pleasure in individual creativity.

"I am for freedom," says the prisoner of talent with sadness.

To Your Good Health Ways To Help Raynaud's Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I understand that Raynaud's disease is incurable. Besides taking medication prescribed by my doctor and giving up smoking, is there anything else that can be done to retard this disease?

—Mrs. R. P.

Raynaud's disease is considerably different from many of the diseases we are familiar with. It is not an infection, not caused by germs. It is not a breaking down or weakness of some organ.

Rather, in the simplest terms, it is misbehavior of part of the circulatory system. It is a matter of spasm, or constriction, of the small arteries of the extremities. When these spasms occur, circulation is sharply retarded in the affected areas. Fingers (or toes) blanch as circulation is suddenly reduced.

The disease varies greatly in intensity of symptoms from one patient to another. Numbness and a cold feeling may be all it amounts to in some individuals, — although that can be unpleasant enough.

In others, it can cause a good deal of aching, or because of repeatedly curtailed circulation can lead to ulcers, which are most difficult to heal.

Abstinence from tobacco is of prime importance, because smoking constricts the small blood vessels and adds to the basic difficulty of Raynaud's disease. Avoidance of cold is important, both from the standpoint of immediate comfort to the patient and the fact that exposure to cold increases the spasms.

It is not totally true that Raynaud's disease is "incurable," because in some cases it can be corrected. But let's face the fact that in most instances it is difficult to treat and controlling it rather than "curing" it is the wiser goal.

There are many and varied underlying causes: circulatory conditions, endocrine (glandular) imbalance, collagen diseases, sensitivity to certain toxic substances, and others. Control of Raynaud's syndrome therefore may depend on whether or how thoroughly some underlying condition can be corrected.

—Since nervous tension can be a factor, mild sedation can be helpful. In some severe cases sympathectomy (cutting out of certain nerve trunks which control the arterial spasms) may halt or limit progress of the disorder.

In occasional idiopathic cases (cases in which no physical cause can be found) there have even been instances in which psychiatric treatment has halted the disease. All of which goes to show how varied and complicated Raynaud's disease can be.

Simple pain-relief (as from aspirin), avoiding tobacco and chilling, and reducing nervous tension may be sufficient in many cases. In more severe cases treatment can become quite complicated and involved.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 30 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Smart Where It Counts

When our five-year-old enrolled in kindergarten, I didn't know it would be an education for me as well. It has been my good fortune to deliver her safely to the school each morning, and the 15-minute ride is a rare experience.

AT FIRST, she was content to quiz me about the various dials and buttons on the dash. I easily hurdled most of the pitfalls there, although I was sorely pressed to explain how the air is made cold by the air conditioner.

Next we advanced to more complex areas. Ever try to verbalize how a traffic signal light works? I waded through the reasons for the sequence of red, yellow, green, with only a little difficulty, but frankly I was stumped why green means "go" and red means "stop."

OTHER TOPICS of our morning discussions have been: why do cars sometime pass us on the right side, instead of the other side?; why are some school buses painted yellow and others are gray or red, and why are some of them little and others big as a house; why do some cars have their lights on during the daytime? I really had an opportunity to shine one morning, when the subject turned to the skies, after she spotted the moon as we went to the car. She already knew that the earth goes around the sun, and that the moon circles the earth. In my best professorial manner, I explained how the earth is but one of nine known planets, carefully named each of the others, in order, going outward from the sun, and recited those which also have moons.

SHE LISTENED patiently, repeating the names of the planets as I listed them, and I figured I had finally arrived at a niche in the same echelon with her school teachers. Then she asked, "but why is the moon still shining after the sun comes up?" I still think I know why, but I still don't know how to explain it to a five-year-old while driving a car.

FAILING in astronomy, it seems I succeeded in an area I had not suspected. She informed her mother recently that I was quite smart, because each morning I take her to the right place. Believe me, I gladly accept any compliment I can get from that charming young lady.

The Negative Vote

WASHINGTON — As we near the final weeks of one of the most exciting presidential campaigns since Rutherford B. Hayes ran against Samuel J. Tilden, it is clear that most people are voting against one of the three candidates rather than for any of them.

My friend Frankheimer thinks he has the solution. He calls it the "negative vote."

"Most Americans this year," Frankheimer said, "know who they're against, but they don't know who they're for."

"I don't understand," I said.

"WELL, ALL YOU hear people say is, 'I wouldn't vote for Nixon if you gave me a million dollars,' or, 'I can't stand Hubert Humphrey,' or, 'Heaven help us if George Wallace gets elected.' There's no question that they would like to vote against these candidates. But there is still a big question whether they could, in their hearts, vote for any of them."

"You may have something there, Frankheimer."

"I KNOW I DO. Not only are Americans confused about whom to vote for, but they're really voting for the person they think they're voting for. The Nixon people say a vote for Wallace is a vote for Humphrey; the Humphrey people say that a vote for Nixon is a vote for Wallace, and the Wallace people say a vote for Humphrey is a vote for anarchy."

"It's not easy to be a voter these days," I had to agree.

"THE SIMPLEST thing," Franken-heimer said, "is to let people cast their ballots against Humphrey, against Nixon or against Wallace. In that way we'd know where the people really stand."

"The beauty of it," Frankheimer said, warning up to his idea, "is that you would only attend the rallies of the candidate you most object to, and you would only work for the man you wished to defeat."

"It would give you something to work for."

"The negative vote plan would solve the financial problems of the candidates," Frankheimer said. "People would much rather give money to defeat someone than donate it to a lukewarm candidate whom they think they're for."

"IF THE ELECTORATE only showed up at rallies of candidates they were against," I said, "it would cut the speeches in half."

"They're doing it now on a modest scale with hecklers," Frankheimer said, "so that's why I know it will work."

"How would it work?" I asked.

"ON NOV. 5 the voters could go to their precincts and choose the lever which read 'Against Nixon,' 'Against Humphrey' or 'Against Wallace.' After the vote was tallied, the candidate who got the least amount of votes would then become President of the United States. But he would have to have an absolute minority to win, or it would go to the House."

Thermal Reading On The Candidates

WASHINGTON — Two national conventions and three roadtrips with the candidates don't change a reporter into an opinion poll, but maybe they turn him into a thermometer. This is a good time to be measuring the thermal content of rival campaigns.

If it weren't for the slight friction between hippies, cops and reporters, Hubert Humphrey's contacts with the American people would be less than body heat. In a word, little heat.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES for Congress and local offices are hard to find in the public places where Humphrey speaks, and as he appears at fewer and fewer open meetings, this separation from the Democratic party will become more marked.

The vice president won't be voteless, but he'll have to find supporters from the lowest political caste of our society: the partyliners, the patronage-professionals, the listless, the unimaginative and the purchasable.

PRACTICALLY EVERY other American type will seize some reason to vote for Wallace or Nixon, or will have the peeve to stay away from the polls. In mid-October, Humphrey's campaign is as cold and newsworthy as a mortuary slab.

Not so with the other Democrat, as George Wallace is still regarded in the South. His warmth is that of lightning. It has given this contest its only suspense, its only color, its only peril. Lightning's flash is almost always harmless, but no man can say when one of the bolts will strike. There is enough discontent in the United States to ignite a very large conflagration for the Wallace cause.

WALLACE IS getting a great many people to believe they are enslaved by their country's laws, and that the Constitution was never intended to allow such statutes and such court decisions.

My own belief is that most of these people are venting their indignation and flaunting their prejudices by supporting Wallace in October without much intent to vote for him in November. His Northern supporters, as I have seen them, are made up of well-spoken, well-dressed wage earners who don't mind being looked-for-the-day, but who don't want to live in Wallace-land so long as there's any other alternative. This is not to say that Nixon can have these Wallace-leaning voters without offering the alternative, or that Wallace has not sensed the flammable condition in many American minds. But at this writing, he is a vivid personality and a fire hazard without being a candidate whose time has come.

THE THERMAL reading on Nixon is that of a comfortable hearthside at which the American family so much yearns to gather. His political maturity has made him, not the father image we had in Eisenhower, but the avuncular one which all of us have known in some likeable, competent, helpful uncle who turns up in a household crisis and knows just what to do about it. This is the warmth that Nixon conveys, and the comfort that he brings, and the confidence that he engenders.

It is pointless now to recall that this most welcome uncle may once have been callow or bumptious, and that he may have sowed some wild oats, and that he made a couple of false starts on his way to the top. What matters in the family circle is that he's back among us in a time of need.

What Others Say

The guessing game about what goes on in President Ho Chi Minh's mind gets more complicated every week. The latest contribution comes from Mr. Humphrey Berkeley in (The) Times. Mr. Berkeley says that U Thant told him recently that he could "guarantee" that the North Vietnamese would agree to negotiate with the Americans within three or four weeks if the Americans stopped bombing them.

It would be much simpler if North Vietnam's leaders would confirm or deny the ideas that other people attribute to them; but they don't. Until they do, the secondhand hints that emerge from Hanoi could be either a spark of hope for negotiations or a wrecker's beacon.

There are two unanswered questions — unanswered, that is by the North Vietnamese themselves. The first is whether President Ho is interested in negotiations at all, even if the bombing is stopped.

The second question is what they would do on the battlefield if talks did start.

These are fair questions. Until somebody answers them, with authority, it will be hard to believe in those nods and winks from Hanoi.

NEW LINK BETWEEN HEART DISEASE AND HABITS UNFURLED

Death Rate From Strokes Higher Among Big Sleepers

NEW YORK (AP) — A study of hundreds of thousands of Americans shows that the death rate from strokes and coronary heart disease are higher among people who usually sleep long hours at night.

The new statistical link between disease and men's and women's habits showed that the death rate from stroke was "considerably higher" among those who usually slept 9 or 10 hours a night than for those who usually slept 7 hours a night.

For coronary heart disease, the death rate was "generally higher" for those with the same sleeping habits.

The report by Dr. E. Cuyler

Hammond, epidemiologist and statistician for the American Cancer Society, was given today at Albany, N.Y., Medical College and made available in New York.

WOMEN

The largest figure was in stroke mortality ratios for men 50 to 59 years old. For persons who slept 10 or more hours a night, the death rate was 286 per cent higher than for those who slept 7 hours. The percentage ranged downward to 14 per cent for coronary heart disease deaths in men 60-69.

For women 50-59, the coronary heart disease death rate was 89 per cent higher. Figures were not available for all age groups.

Hammond refrained from giving in his paper a possible reason for what he called "a brand new finding," but speculated in an interview that long hours of sleep might result from drowsiness caused by the reduced flow of blood to the brain. In this view it would be a symptom.

LONG HOURS

However, he said, the long hours of sleep could perhaps cause disease by reducing the amount of time a person is active—so he is depositing fat in his body more of the time, rather than burning it up.

For all the data on habits, however, Hammond said scientists have not found a basic cause of heart disease, stroke and aortic aneurysm, which he said account for 60 per cent of all deaths.

"I don't think it's genetic," he said. "I think it's something in the American environment, the way we live. If it is, it should be possible to find out what it is."

"We have at least a fighting chance of finding it."

For coronary heart disease below the age of 60, he continued in his paper, cigarette smoking seems to be the most important factor, with obesity next. Over 60, lack of exercise seems to be most important.

PATTERN

The pattern for stroke is similar, although not identical, he said, adding: "Long hours of sleep seem to be more important in relation to stroke than in relation to coronary heart disease."

The Cancer Society began its epidemiological study in 1959-1960, when more than a million persons were enrolled. The total was reduced for the study to nearly 800,000 men and women between 40 and 79 in 1959, and free of disease.

The study also found higher death rates from aortic aneurysm in men 50 to 69 who slept 8 or 9 hours a night, compared to men who slept 7 hours a night.

Studies in Framingham, Mass., and Albany show high coronary heart disease death rates in men with high serum

TENSION

In considering nervous tension, Hammond said it may be that people who complain of pressure or nervous tension have slightly lower death rates from coronary heart disease than people who don't complain.

Women who complained of moderate or severe pressure or nervous tension, however, had higher death rates from stroke than women who did not have this complaint.

Soviets Soft Pedaling East-West Friction

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet bloc representatives in the current policy debate at the U.N. General Assembly are soft pedaling East-West friction points and playing up prospects of a detente.

Poland, which usually follows the harsh line in U.N. debate, sounded the most conciliatory in its appearance Wednesday.

Deputy Foreign Minister Jozef Winiewicz expressed hope that the German problem would not become a stumbling bloc to an East-West detente and said his government is ready to expand contacts with Western countries.

Winiewicz reflected the tone of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, who made no excuses for the occupation of Czechoslovakia but played down Vietnam and cited the need for improving relations with the West.

Like Winiewicz, the Soviet foreign minister insisted that the unity of Eastern Europe must be maintained. But West German diplomatic sources said Gromyko had assured Secretary of State Dean Rusk privately Oct. 6 that there would be no East European threat to West Berlin in the foreseeable future.

The same note of restraint was evident in speeches by Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Ukraine.

Delegates believe the Russians want to protect an image of mildness and peaceful power to offset the damaging effect of the Czechoslovak occupation on relations with the West.

Blanks Reference To 'Supreme Being'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service system has deleted reference to a "Supreme Being" from forms used by individuals requesting conscientious objector status.

The move was ordered by Congress in revising draft laws last year.

In the new and old law, exemption from combat training and service could be granted anyone "who, by reason of religious training and belief, is conscientiously opposed to participation in the war in any form."

But the old law specified that "religious training and belief in this connection means an individual's belief in a relation to a Supreme Being involving duties superior to those arising from any human relation."

In 1965 the Supreme Court ruled an applicant need not believe in God to satisfy the "Supreme Being" definition, but need only hold a sincere, meaningful belief that occupies a similar place in his life.

Last year, Congress dropped the "Supreme Being" definition from the law altogether.

A draft spokesman said there was considerable debate inside the system whether to retain in the new application form the question: "Do you believe in a Supreme Being?"

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the draft, decided to omit it.

The spokesman pointed out that applicants could still declare such a belief in support of their applications if they so desired.

The new form also omits questions on the applicant's schooling, occupations, residence, parents, and membership in organizations.

The applicant is invited to provide personal references, but is no longer required to do so. Also omitted were these items:

"Give the name and present address of the individual upon whom you rely most for religious guidance."

"Under what circumstances, if any, do you believe in force?"

"Describe the actions and behavior in your life which in your opinion most conspicuously demonstrate the consistency and depth of your religious convictions."

The applicant is still asked to describe the belief on which he bases his claim; to explain the source of his belief; and to say whether he has previously expressed this belief.

He is now asked whether his belief would interfere with non-combat military service.

Black Christ Church Feature

DETROIT (AP) — A black Christ surrounded by Negro, white, Indian and Oriental angels will be painted on the new dome of St. Cecilia Roman Catholic Church, says the artist, Devon Cunningham, a Negro painter.

They will appear to be rising from a Detroit skyline, and emerging from clouds beneath the feet of the 24-foot figures will be portraits of dead leaders including John and Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr., Pope John XXIII, Malcolm X and Mahatma Gandhi.

"The black man has a legitimate complaint when he walks into a church and everything is white," said the Rev. Raymond Ellis, pastor of the church which has a predominantly Negro congregation.
