

RUSSIAN-MADE SHELLS SLAM HEADQUARTERS

Vest-Pocket Truce Ends

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy gunners today shelled the third U.S. military headquarters in the past three days, indicating that a new wave of attacks against major American bases may have begun.

About 30 rounds of 102-pound Russian-made artillery shells slammed into the headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division at Dong Ha and a nearby South Vietnamese village just below the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone. Three American Marines and three South Vietnamese civilians were killed. The wounded were 15 U.S. Marine, Navy and Army personnel, two South Vietnamese soldiers and nine civilians.

The headquarters of the U.S. Army in Vietnam at Long Binh, 12 miles northeast of Saigon, was shelled Sunday. The next day enemy gunners zeroed in on the headquarters of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division at Dong Tam, 35 miles southwest of Saigon.

The new shelling came as a 36-hour cease-fire along the coast of North Vietnam to permit the release of 14 North Vietnamese prisoners of war held by the United States ended at noon.

One U.S. military source said he assumed fighter-bombers were resuming raids on North Vietnamese supply columns and barges in the 288-square mile coastal area that was declared off limits at midnight Sunday.

SILENCE
The cease-fire negotiated in the Laotian capital of Vientiane, silenced enemy shore batteries and antiaircraft guns along a 25-mile strip of coastline to permit a U.S. Navy ship to land the 14 POWs south of the North Vietnamese city of Vinh.

U.S. officers said there were no reports the truce had been violated.

While North Vietnamese leaders in Hanoi were believed debating whether to accept U.S. terms for an end to the bombing of the North, U.S. jets continued their raids on the North Vietnamese panhandle outside the cease-fire area, and spokesmen said more "strikes as usual" are planned for Wednesday.

The Viet Cong's Liberation Press Agency said today that the United States has no right to demand reciprocity for a bombing halt in the North, and that the Paris peace talks will progress only after an unconditional bombing halt.

The lull in ground fighting, now in its fourth week, continued. Some see it as a possible de-escalation move by Hanoi, but the U.S. Command feels differently.

The command announced today that allied troops seized more than 300 tons of enemy munitions and food during September. Most of these supplies were found in the 3rd Corps area that includes Saigon and the five northernmost provinces below the demilitarized zone.

While no violations of the cease-fire were reported, a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk crashed Monday about 38 miles south of the area where the stand-down was in effect.

Court Votes To Purchase

Howard County Commissioners Court went through a short session Monday and voted to purchase two items and send two men from the sheriff's department to the Texas Law Enforcement Academy.

A. N. Standard Jr., Howard County sheriff, was granted a request to send two men to the academy in Austin Dec. 2-6.

The court also voted to purchase a 250,000 btu heater for a hangar at Howard County Airport from Hester's Sheet Metal and Refrigeration Co. Price was to be $675.

Also approved was the purchase of a 3M sign making machine for about $360. The machine will be used to make traffic signs.

Jim Nichols of Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth, consulting engineers, presented the master plans for the county airport, but no action was taken.

Texas Minimum Wage Idea Highlights Public Hearing

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Testimony concerning a possible state minimum wage highlighted a public hearing Monday by a Texas Legislative Committee on employment, wages and related economic problems.

Five members of a 10-man committee appointed last year by House Speaker Ben Barnes attended the Edinburg hearing. The committee is holding a series of public hearings around the state and will report its findings to the House of Representatives when the legislature convenes next January.

MORE SCHOOLS
Callan Graham, director of the Texas Catholic Conference, served as chairman. Rep. Raul Longoria of Pharr was the only legislator member present. Others at the public hearing were Gustav Falk of the American Jewish Committee; Harold Kirkpatrick, executive director of the Texas Council of Churches, and Dr. George Kozmetsky, dean of the University of Texas School of Business Administration.

Mike Frost, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said he opposes the minimum wage. He recommended that more technical and vocational schools be established to help rid the Lower Rio Grande Valley of poverty.

POVERTY
Willis Deines, executive vice president of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association, said a state minimum wage law would "legislate" many farm workers out of a job. He said farmers could not afford to pay the minimum wage to less productive workers they now employ. He said many of these workers have already lost their jobs because of the federal minimum wage.

Alfredo Flores, executive director of the Associated City-County Economic Development Corp., of Hidalgo County, said a minimum wage is very definitely needed in Texas. He also suggested that "green card" workers from Mexico be stopped from crossing the border. A "green card" worker is a person who holds a resident visa and crosses the Rio Grande to work.

Flores testified that immigration department records show that 5,681 of these alien workers cross the border daily at crossing points between Progresso and Del Rio. Lewis Van Lear of the Texas AFL-CIO testified that an additional 4,000 alien workers cross daily to jobs in Brownsville.

Cooler Air Kicks Up Tiny Tornado In Texas

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — A group of Lamar County 4-H Club members turned up a graphic reminder to litterbugs as part of 4-H Week.

They picked up trash along a portion of a highway near Paris—and used the heavy accumulation of beer cans to build a six-foot-tall "beer can man" from them.

Scattered light showers dotted several other areas. The new front's forward edge before daylight extended from south of Lubbock past Abilene to east of Wichita Falls and into Oklahoma.

Cooler air pushing southward off the Rockies pushed into the Texas Panhandle and turbulence developed far ahead Monday evening, kicking up a small tornado near Eagle Mountain Lake northwest of Fort Worth. Some property damage was reported.

Weather Bureau radar indicated the storms in northern areas of the state were heavy in some areas, at times 40 miles wide and losing rain up to a rate of two inches per hour.

Skies already were clear early today in sections behind the front. Forecasts called for a little cooling in most parts of the state tonight, with overnight lows down to 38 degrees in the upper Panhandle.

Predawn readings ranged down to 38 degrees at Perryton and Dalhart in the Panhandle while it was still 72 at Brownsville and 83 at Brownsville in the southern tip of the state.

Top marks Monday afternoon ran from 77 at Galveston and Longview up to 91 at Presidio in far West Texas.

A TIME FOR DECISION

A Presidential election, the most important one in our lifetime, is close upon us. With three candidates in the race, Texans are confronted with such a variety of appeals that some confusion is not surprising. We see some of our top state political leaders urging support of Hubert Humphrey on the self-serving appeal of party loyalty. We see fine Texans tempted to support George Wallace because they like his outspoken position on certain issues and are thus swayed by an appeal of sheer emotion. With full respect for the right of every Texan to make a personal decision, this message in behalf of Richard Nixon is offered as

... AN APPEAL TO REASON!

HUBERT HUMPHREY WILL NOT change. He has proved himself consistently anti-Texas for too long! In addition to his famous filibuster against Texas owning its tidelands, he has fought to repeal our right-to-work laws and sought to destroy the oil depletion allowance so vital to our economy. On every issue of world importance his position is contrary to that of most Texans. Humphrey, a founder of the ultra-liberal ADA organization, would gain executive authority for his radical minority viewpoints should he ever become president. Hubert Humphrey cannot be elected by popular vote. In view of his repeated vicious attacks upon George Wallace, what a ghastly miscarriage of intent it would be if Wallace supporters themselves should throw the election into the House of Representatives where every Wallace vote in Texas would automatically go to Humphrey!

GEORGE WALLACE CANNOT be denied his impressive showing in rallying a number of fine people to the call of his third party candidacy. The very least that can be said is that he has successfully dramatized the desires of many people for a change "at the top" in the direction of the affairs of our government. However, the very most his supporters can hope for is to split the popular vote so that our entire electorate will be at the mercy of the Washington politicians who would then elect our president for us. Election of Hubert Humphrey in this manner would be a "change" . . . but for worse! The more positive way to vote for change is to consider the many fine merits of Richard Nixon and his program, then vote for Nixon to assure the election of our president by the people instead of by the Congress!

RICHARD NIXON CAN..... AND WILL!

supply dynamic, experienced leadership for an immediate change of direction—at the top—in all our national affairs at home and around the world. Your concerns are his concerns! To name a few at the top of the list and Richard Nixon's solutions:

● NIXON ON LAW AND ORDER is pledged to help improve local police protection, to appoint an Attorney General dedicated to rooting out crime, to restore balance in our courts strengthening peace forces against criminal elements and to cease freeing so many of the guilty on technicalities.

● NIXON ON VIET NAM will call upon his experience as vice-president during eight great Eisenhower years of peace to reform world alliances now in disarray, to redirect our strategy on new global terms. He will end this war and avoid future ones by dealing with adversaries in the only way they respect—through strength, collective security and patience.

● NIXON ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT is pledged to move control of local schools and all other governmental functions which properly belong at the local level closer to the people.

● NIXON ON OTHER PROBLEMS has solid solutions PLUS solid backing of enough members of Congress to implement those solutions.

IF YOU REALLY WANT A CHANGE...

SHOSHONE INDIANS STAGE RAIDS

Lo, The Poor White Hunter

WINNEMUCCA, Nev. (AP) — Shoshone Indians, in full war paint and carrying rifles, are creeping up on white hunters and ordering them off the reservation.

"They looked up and saw us, and that was enough," said John Pope, an Indian also known as "Rolling Thunder," as he described one "raid" Monday. "One man's mouth was moving but nothing came out. I gave them 15 minutes to get off the reservation. They made it."

GO HUNGRY

Pope, a spokesman for the Shoshones, claimed the white hunters "are wasting deer while our people go hungry."

The Shoshones, led by Chief Frank Temoke, began the scare technique last week. Pope said five groups of white hunters have been run off the reservation—in the Ruby Valley near Elko.

Pope was here with Stanley Smart, an Indian convicted Oct. 11 and fined $100 for hunting and possession of deer out of season.

Smart filed an appeal Monday, contending that as an Indian he has the right to hunt regardless of seasons set by the white man, on or off the reservation. State game protectors said Smart was not on the reservation when arrested.

Pope said the Indians intend to keep white hunters off the reservation. He declined to say how many Indians were in the "scare party," but said their rifles were unloaded.

"We intend to close all of the eastern Nevada reservation land to white hunters and fishermen," said Pope. "We're not making threats to anyone. We believe in law and we believe in justice. We only want to gather food for our people."

Quest For Presidency Brings Hubert To Texas

FORT WORTH (AP) — The quest for the presidency of the United States brings Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to Fort Worth today. He is to talk at a noon rally in a downtown park and then make another speech at a posh $100-a-plate luncheon.

The Fort Worth swing was the first in a 7-city, 2-day whirl of activities that ranges the length and breadth of Texas, whose voters supported John Kennedy in 1960 and Lyndon Johnson in 1964.

The Democratic party standardbearer was scheduled to spend time today in Dallas, Waco, Fort Worth and Austin Wednesday his three jets will take his contingent to San Antonio, then to the Lower Rio Grande Valley city of Harlingen and to the westernmost city in Texas, El Paso.

Humphrey's schedule called for only an hour stop in Dallas, a heavily Republican area, and for no time in Houston, the state's largest city.

Humphrey's announced plans called for him to campaign mainly from his airplane in Dallas, El Paso, Waco and Harlingen, where he is scheduled to spend an hour or less.

Here is what the vice president's aides said he will be doing at each stop as he wooes the voters that could give him 25 electoral ballots:

Fort Worth — Humphrey arrives at 11 a.m. at Carswell Air Force Base, then attends a noon rally at Burk Burnett Park. He lunches privately at Green Oaks Inn and later attends the fund raising luncheon and makes another speech.

Dallas — The vice president attended a rally at Love Field at 3:30 p.m. and leaves an hour later for Waco in Central Texas.

Waco — An airport reception is scheduled for Humphrey at 5 p.m. at James Connally Air Force Base. Waco officials say they understand the vice president will make an announcement that could have great impact on the industrial and economic development of Central Texas. The announcement, they said, could result in the doubling of enrollment at the young James Connally Technical Institute within the next two years.

Austin — The state's capital will host Humphrey at 6:45 p.m. when he arrives at Austin Municipal Airport for a reception. He'll make a speech at the Municipal Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. and then leave for San Antonio at 10 p.m.

San Antonio — Vice President Humphrey stays overnight in the Alamo City after an airport reception when he lands at 10:30 p.m. He will speak at a rally at the Alamo Wednesday, then swing down to Harlingen at 1:30 p.m.

Harlingen — Humphrey will take part in groundbreaking ceremonies for the James Connally Technical Institute mobile laboratory at Harlingen Industrial Airpark shortly after he 2:15 p.m. arrival. At 3:15 he leaves for El Paso.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss, but is really growing hair.

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc. will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in the family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

APOLLO FAMILIES Champagne Corks Pop, Ham On Wry In Homes

By HARRY ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — "It looks like they've lost weight," said Mrs. Walter M. Schirra Jr. as her astronaut husband stepped onto the deck of the carrier Essex.

And then she spotted the beard her husband acquired in 11 days in space, and the spacecraft went through the minds of the wives of the Apollo 7 trio during that 28 minutes. Afterward they were able to joke about it.

'LOUSY BOAT'

When Harriet Eisele heard 11 days in space, laughed, and said "I hope he isn't too attached to it."

Somebody mentioned that it would be shaved off soon.

"Gee," said 14-year-old Suzanne Schirra, "they're going to be real people again."

THOSE BEARDS

That's how it was at the Schirra's house in Timber Cove. There were similar scenes at the Nassau Bay home of civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham and at the home in El Lago of Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele.

"Those beards don't look bad at all," said Lo Ella Cunningham.

There was, of course, the most agonizing 28 minutes of their lives—the time from splashdown until Mission Control said "their physical condition is good—they're all in good shape."

Nobody will ever know what went through the minds of the wives of the Apollo 7 trio during that 28 minutes. Afterward they were able to joke about it.

There was, of course, the most agonizing 28 minutes of their lives—the time from splashdown until Mission Control said "their physical condition is good—they're all in good shape."

"Everything went beautifully," said Mrs. Schirra. "The only disappointment was in not being able to see the parachutes open."

The spacecraft came down five miles from the carrier and on-board television cameras were unable to pick it up. "Gee, he used to come in the closest," said Mrs. Schirra, whose husband made two previous space flights. But later she told newsmen "It's a new spacecraft. We can expect that some of the things won't go perfect."

BEFORE DAWN

The families all were up long before dawn to follow re-entry procedures. They gathered around space center monitors that gave detailed descriptions of each step and watched television.

When the spacecraft fired its retro rockets over Hawaii, Mrs. Schirra started a stop watch and intently followed the flight plan.

Mrs. Eisele was asked if she wants her husband to go into space again. "No I don't," she said. But she added "I'll accept it if he wants to go."

Mrs. Schirra had no such problem. Her husband has announced that this spaceflight will be his last.

"He's going to stay with NASA until after the lunar flight," she said. "I don't think he knows yet what he's going to do after that."

ALARMS

The wives—Jo Schirra, Harriet Eisele and Lo Ella Cunningham—set their alarms for 3 a.m. Then they turned up the volume on the receivers on which they could hear the high points of re-entry: the retrofire that slowed the spacecraft; the heart-thumping moment when the ship's huge parachutes billowed in the sky; the splashdown and word that their men were safe.

Hemingway's Spain, Beautiful, Poetic

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — The Spain about which Ernest Hemingway wrote romantically and hauntingly was shown with perception and great beauty in night.

A travelogue, perhaps, but it was disguised handsomely by the technique of quoting descriptive passages while the camera's eye traveled the mountain, village street or vista as if seen by the author as he wrote.

With Jason Robards setting the scenes from Hemingway's books and with Rod Steiger reading the prose warmly, the program often had a poetic quality.

DEATH

First—and typical of the whole—there was the story of the hero's death blowing up the bridge in "For Whom the Bell Tolls." We saw the bridge and the trees, serene in summer sunlight as Steiger's quiet voice told the story of men and death in civil war.

Through all the hour, Hemingway's—and Spain's—preoccupation with death ran like a major theme. And, since bull fighting was Hemingway's passion and the subject of some of his most vivid writing, much of the program focused on the animals.

Although the narrator explained that it was not a sport but an enactment of a tragedy and although the camera showed the grace and daring of a celebrated matador, a bull ring sequence climaxed by the killing of a bleeding, bewildered animal was an unpleasant experience for some viewers.

The quiet parts—when there was beautiful camera work to see and some of Hemingway's best prose being read—were the best.

Earlier, NBC showed a half-hour animated version of the "Babar the Elephant" stories, narrated by Peter Ustinov who used a wide variety of voices and accents.

This was strictly for the very young viewers, a simple, imaginative animal story. The animation, while rather primitive, were carbons of the drawings in the original De Brunhoff books.

'60 MINUTES'

NBC moved into a slim lead in the Nielsen ratings race in a report on programs shown between Oct. 7 and 13. NBC built up a rating of 19.1, with CBS ahead in earlier weeks—second with 18.5, and ABC, 15.2.

Top 10 programs were, in order: NBC's Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In, CBS's Mayberry R.F.D., NBC's Julia, CBS's Gomer Pyle and Family Affair, Lucy, movie rerun "Glass Bottom Boat" and Beverly Hillsbillies and NBC's Ironside.

Recommended tonight: "Istanbul Express," NBC, 9-11 EDT, first of the network's new batch of movies made for TV, secret agent stuff on a train with Gene Barry conquering all; "60 Minutes," CBS, 10-11 p.m., magazine format news show with interviews with Hubert H. Humphrey and George C. Wallace.

Dear Abby Doesn't Need Domination

DEAR ABBY: My son (I'll call him "George") is 30 and has been under psychiatric treatment for some time. He is able to work and there is nothing wrong with him physically, but he's lazy.

George is single and has never been married.

He complains of not having any friends. His mother and I can't do a thing with him. If we offer any suggestions, he flares up.

George is very good-looking, has a fine personality, can dance, play the piano and he has had two years of college.

Now, here's where you come in. Can you help me find a domineering gal who could motivate my son and get him functioning again? Thanks for any help you can give me.

DISTRESSED FATHER

DEAR FATHER: I don't know the nature of your son's problems, but it's a pretty good guess that he lacks confidence in himself as a result of having a father who would like to provide all the answers, serve as a "buffer," and practically live his son's life for him. Since George is seeing a psychiatrist, don't interfere. Perhaps the LAST thing your son needs is a "domineering gal" to take over where a domineering father left off.

DEAR ABBY: I am in a situation that most guys would not consider a problem — they would probably be relieved, but it's a problem to me.

I have been dating this wonderful girl for about a year now. I love her very much, and she claims to love me, but listen to this:

Last week her roommate told me that my girl was pregnant, so I went to her immediately, told her I knew, and wanted to marry her. She turned me down! She said that her having a baby was a poor reason to get married — that she doesn't ever want me to feel that I HAD to marry her!

She wants to stop seeing me until after she has the baby, then she says if I still want to marry her she will marry me.

In the meantime she wants

The recipient is the son of Sgt. Maj. Joseph A. Venable, who died as a result of a helicopter crash in Vietnam.

The scholarship was from the 1st Infantry Division which gives scholarships to dependent sons of division personnel killed in Vietnam.

SPACE PLANNERS CONSIDER MOON ORBIT TRIP AT CHRISTMAS TIME

Apollo 7 Flight Called 'A Perfect Mission'

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON — "We accomplished 101 per cent of the objectives," Dr. George M. Low, manager of the Apollo program, said today after the flight of Apollo 7 "a perfect mission" but said a decision will not be made until next month whether to launch the next three Apollo spacecraft around the moon.

"We were able to accomplish a very major step toward the manned lunar landing," Phillips said, "and I have every confidence it will be accomplished before the end of next year." Nevertheless, he added, "We have much work to do before the decision can be made whether to fly the next three astronauts around the moon at Christmas time."

A decision will be made in mid-November, Phillips said, after ground tests determine whether officials can completely understand—and resolve—minor problems that developed during the 11-day mission of astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham.

The spacecraft performance has been "exceedingly beautiful," said flight director Glynn Lunney.

Security State Bank and Big Spring Printing Co. chipped in today to inch the United Fund Drive total here to $62,530.36 or 57.2 per cent of the $109,225 goal.

"We can reach the goal, but it is important that all campaign people work their cards as soon as possible and turn them in to the United Fund office," said Clyde McMahon, Jr., drive chairman. "There is still a lot of money out which needs to be collected. This could help push us over the goal."

There will be a meeting to review and preview the 1968 campaign at noon Wednesday at Cosden Country Club. All division chairmen are urged to attend, McMahon said.

Heart Of Man Transferred

MILWAUKEE, WIS. (AP) — The heart of a man injured in a street scuffle was transferred Monday night to a 49-year-old woman in what surgeons described as an immediate successful heart transplant.

The recipient, whom officials at St. Luke's hospital declined to identify, was reported by a Marquette Medical School surgical team to be in stable condition after the one-hour, 36-minute operation.

The donor died two hours before the operation. He was Robert Buelow, 30, who physicians said had been in critical condition since Sunday with irreversible brain damage.

Police said Buelow was knocked down by an unidentified pedestrian after he stepped from the car in which he was riding to tell the pedestrian to get out of the path of the auto.

Once astronauts start heading for the moon, there is no chance for them to get back to earth for more than seven days—the amount of time it takes to fly to the moon and back. Apollo engines are not powerful enough for the crew to turn around before reaching the moon, if something goes wrong.

In the 11-day flight, Navy Capt. Schirra, Air Force Maj. Eisele and Cunningham, a civilian, proved that Apollo's life-support systems can keep three men alive long enough for a round trip to the moon.

They showed that the craft's main engine can be fired for short steering maneuvers and long durations, as will be done to kick Apollo spaceships into orbit around the moon and back to earth.

Their computer-driven guidance and navigation system operated "as advertised," officials said.

New York City Faces Greatest Labor Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's largest city today faced the greatest municipal labor crisis in its history with its 1.1 million pupil public school system paralyzed by a teachers' strike.

The police patrolmen engaged in a work slowdown and its firemen set for their own slowdown.

WALKOUT — Rejected the mayor's plea for a school trustees Albert Shanker, president of the 33,000-member United Federation of Teachers, union to end its strike. He said the strike would continue until the local board, administrators and principals in a Brooklyn experimental school district were removed.

STAND FIRM — But if the firemen go through their slowdown, nearly 90,000 city employees will be engaged in either strikes or job action against the administration by Wednesday.

Lindsay declared he would "stand firm" on earlier agreements with the police and firemen saying that to reopen negotiations would set off a chain of reactions among city employees and produce "complete anarchy" in labor relations.

During the day police said 2,049 of the 23,000 members of Nelson A. Rockefeller said by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association called in sick while those who reported for work the continued to bypass traffic of tenders and perform "by the book."

Seek Debate With Hubert

AUSTIN, TEX. (AP) — The crowd Monday night at a Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) rally voted to try to engage Hubert Humphrey in a debate when he speaks here Tuesday night.

Then the group went behind closed doors to plan details of a protest against the war in Vietnam.

Chuck Cairns, UT faculty adviser to the University Committee to End the War in Vietnam, said some 150 members of his organization will appear at Municipal Auditorium wearing bandages to demonstrate repudiation of Democratic policies.

Hamby Named Campaign Exec

Lanny Hamby of Big Spring has been named Howard County campaign chairman for Attorney General Crawford Martin, who is seeking re-election in the Nov. 5 general election. Hamby is a well-known attorney and has his offices at 109 W. 4th St. He resides at 2900 Melrose.

"It is my privilege and pleasure to serve as Crawford Martin's campaign manager for this election," Hamby said.

"Mr. Martin has served the people and the State of Texas with distinction and effectiveness as a state senator, secretary of state, and for the past two years as an outstanding attorney general," he said.

Hamby has a supply of Martin campaign materials available, and it may be picked up at his office or will be delivered upon request. Materials include bumper stickers, brochures and post cards.

Martin, a native of Hillsboro, served 14 years as a leader in the Texas Senate, and was appointed to two consecutive terms by Gov. John Connally to the office of Secretary of State, Texas' highest appointive office.

Norwegian Students New At Webb

Latest additions to the foreign student flight training program at Webb AFB are Lt. Nels Hovevrdahl and Lt. Mathias Rekke, both just arrived here from Norway. They were greeted Monday evening at a dinner honoring them.

Foreign Students Training At Webb Honored Monday

Air Force students from other countries who are in training at Webb AFB under the U.S. military assistance program were honored at a dinner given Monday evening at the NCO Open Mess at Webb.

There were 14 present representing seven different countries — Iran, Japan, Libya, Morocco, Norway, Arabia and Jordan.

They were joined by a number of officers at Webb, as well as a group of civilian businessmen who have helped give the students an indoctrination in various phases of American living.

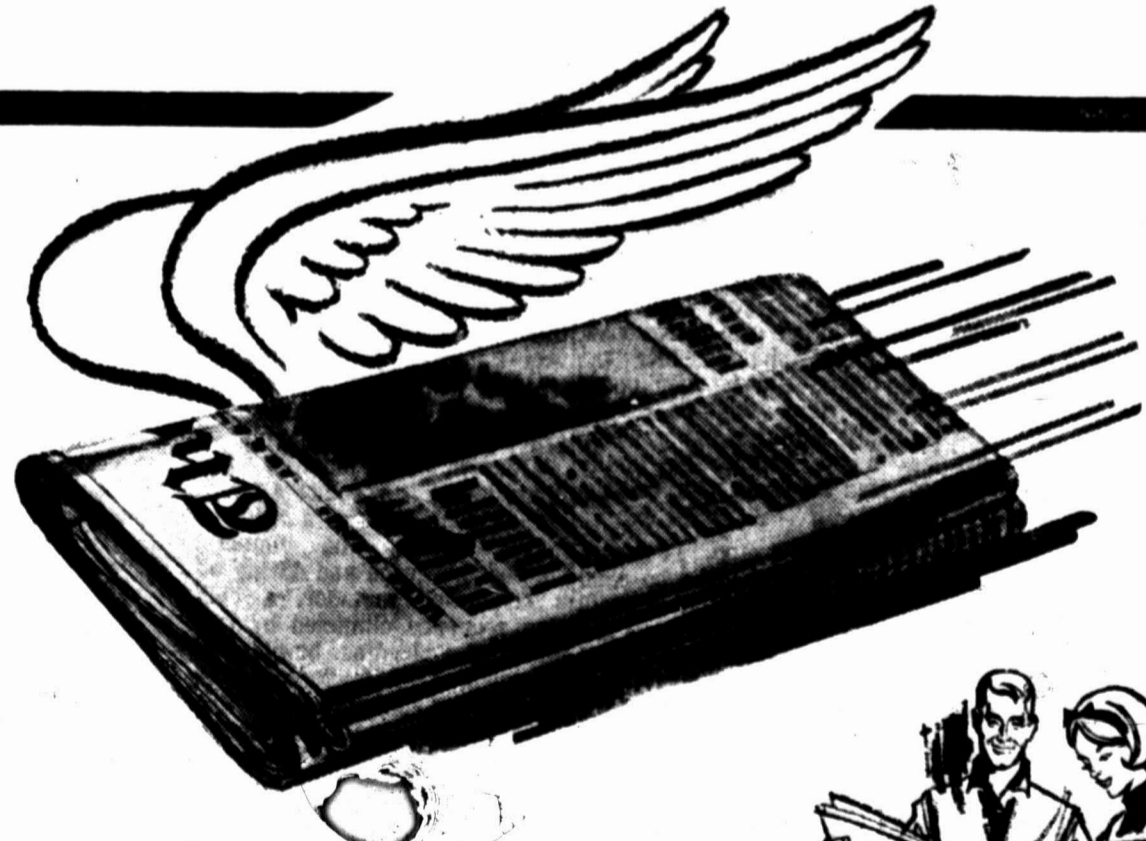

Guilford Jones, attorney, spoke to the group outlining the system of politics in the United States. He reviewed the history of the two major political parties, told of the appearance of the third (American) party this year, and told of the procedure that must be followed if no one candidate gets a majority of the electoral vote.

Nov. 5 Jones related the historical turnover of parties in power in this country, and said American voters in general are never quite satisfied with what a party in power accomplishes.

Lt. Richard Govette, who is in charge of the foreign student echelon at the base, was master of ceremonies.

Smith, Eggers Share Interest

By The Associated Press

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Paul Eggers talked about bringing more business into the state and broadening teachers' pensions in their latest utterances as Texas' rival candidates for governor.

Their quickening campaign efforts shared interest today with the start of a visit by Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential nominee, and plans of third party contender George Wallace and Republican candidate Richard Nixon to come back once more prior to the Nov. 5 election.

KEY STATE

Also taking a hand were Mrs. Johnson. They were in Austin today for a women's fashion show, after which the vice president's wife will fly to Dallas for a coffee and a television show Wednesday.

Again underscoring the importance attached to Texas' 25 electoral votes, Wallace scheduled an Oct. 28 trip to Beaumont for a rally and $25-a-plate dinner and Nixon arranged a Nov. 1-2 swing through Fort Worth, Lubbock, San Antonio, Austin and El Paso.

In addition to a speech at Fort Worth, Humphrey was set for stops today in Dallas, Waco, Austin and San Antonio, and Wednesday in Harlingen and El Paso.

Lt. Gov. Smith, who heads the state Democratic ticket, talked about promoting industrial development in Dallas, where he met Tuesday with the State Democratic Executive Committee, and today at Lampasas.

Smith said about 900 new industries have begun operations in the state under Democratic administrations the past six years. This is one reason, he said, that Texas remains among the five largest states from a business standpoint and still does not levy state and corporate income taxes.

The lieutenant governor said he would go "anywhere, any time, if there's a chance of proving to a manufacturer that Texas will be a good location for his company. At the same time we'll be making every effort to create and maintain the kind of business climate that will encourage our present corporate citizens to expand."

MORE MONEY

Eggers, the GOP nominee for governor, said Monday night he favors a proposed constitutional amendment based on full salary instead of the present $84,000 ceiling.

He told the Austin Educators Association also that he endorses a Texas State Teacher Association plan for raising the pay of teachers.

Speaking earlier at Trinity University in San Antonio, Eggers asserted, "Texas will never stop the spiral of rising taxes if we do not adopt a sound fiscal policy now. We must stop wasted government spending, and this means adopting the economy commission that Preston Smith voted against in 1965."

An endorsement of Eggers' candidacy was disclosed in Washington by the National Ripon Society, a liberal Republican organization.

Agnew Is 'Afraid' Of 'Veep' LeMay

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew says he would be "desperately afraid" to see retired Gen. Curtis LeMay, the third party vice presidential candidate, running the U. S. government.

Agnew charged in a speech here Monday night that LeMay, chosen as a running mate by George Wallace, "treats the awesome power of nuclear capability too casually."

The Republican vice presidential candidate said LeMay "regards nuclear weapons as being no different than conventional weapons."

NUCLEAR FUSS

"I'd have to say that I'd be desperately afraid to turn the administration of this country over to a person that thinks that way," Agnew said.

LeMay told newsmen shortly after he was named as running mate by Wallace that he considers nuclear bombs "another weapon in the arsenal" but added that he did not think he would use nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

Agnew's criticism of Wallace and LeMay came only hours after he said he was concentrating his campaign fire on Democratic presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey instead of Wallace.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠QJ107 ♥105 ♦AK ♣AK1043

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1♣ Pass 1♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—One spade. The hand is not strong enough for a jump to two no trump. A bid of one spade is therefore suggested as a temporary measure. If partner passes, it is because he has a very weak hand.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠QJ10753 ♥K6 ♦K742 ♣Q

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

Pass 1♣ Pass 1♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Inasmuch as you have great playing strength, a bid of three spades is recommended. This is not forcing but strongly urges partner to continue.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AKQJ10742 ♥5 ♦72 ♣82

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

3♣ 4♥ Pass 5♣ Pass 6♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—What is the purpose of North's six-club bid? He is stating: "Partner, I am forcing you automatically to bid a slam. My reason for telling you I have club control is that it may enable partner to bid a grand slam." Since you to bid a grand slam, you must have the other three aces to justify his request that we bid a grand slam. Since you have the ace of clubs, the proper call is seven spades, counting on some heart tricks.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠S ♦AK10853 ♣AK10742

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1♦ Pass 1♣ 3♥ Dble. 4♥ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Your partner must realize that you have great length in diamonds and clubs and are, therefore, apt to be short in spades. His four spade bid, therefore, must have been based on a strong suit. East is obviously counting on some heart tricks.

and will be disappointed. The proper procedure is to redouble. A rescue to five of a minor suit would be a blatant insult to your partner.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠102 ♥95 ♦Q9 ♣KQJ9873

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South

3♦ Dble. Pass ?

What is your response?

A.—Four clubs. On the surface this may appear inadequate, because four clubs is only a forced bid and could show considerably less in trick taking values. However, a bid of five clubs would be too drastic in view of your doubletons in all three suits.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A1084 ♥AJ83 ♦K ♣A1083

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North

Pass 1♣ 1♦ 2♣ 2♥ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. Partner's bid has shown that he has a lack of high cards. This became evident when he refused to stand for the double. However, his distribution must be very favorable and you ought to be able to hold your losers to three.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠6 ♣AK1084 ♦1063 ♣AQ5

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1♦ Pass 1♥ Pass 1♣ Pass 2♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six hearts. Partner has opened the bidding, shown another suit and then jumped in hearts. Since you have better than an opening bid, there is enough material for a slam, and you should up and bid it.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠73 ♥K98 ♦KQJ109 ♣KJ9

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1♦ Pass 1♥ 1♣ Pass 2♣ 2♦ ?

What do you bid now?

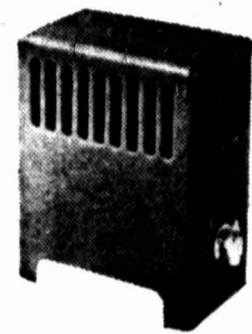

A.—Three hearts. It is true that you opened a minimum hand, but two rounds of bidding have transformed it. Your splendid fit in partner's two suits makes it reasonable to suppose that you are safe for nine tricks.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGITT

If you're going to nearly knock someone down at a doorway, there's no nicer person to run into than Chub McGibbon, especially when he says, "Oh yes, I have a message for you from Liz Spence."

Seems Chub (K. H.) ran into Mrs. E. V. Spence at the Shamrock Hilton in Houston during an oil jobbers gathering recently which her brother attended, also. Mrs. Spence, you'll remember, made her home here for many years while her late husband headed the Colorado River Municipal Water District and also served as city manager. She moved to Corpus Christi several years ago, and I envy her view of the Gulf, especially on those gorgeous, gray stormy days. The Big Spring Herald still has a place by her coffee cup, and she enjoys keeping up with old friends.

Chub and Mrs. McGibbon are leaving this week to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Webb in Bloomington, Ind., and their children, who have moved into a new home and are ready for company. Think Chub will come back first because he has a meeting coming up in Dallas.

Before we get too far from the subject of Corpus, chatted with Mrs. C. E. Long this morning, and she said that they just returned from a refreshing trip down that way where C. B. likes to do his deep-sea fishing. Missed it this summer, though because of surgery.

Nothing like that is making the Orville Shaplans miss anything, however, they are always such fun to keep up with. Phyllis is celebrating a birthday tomorrow, as is her friend, Lil Lurting. As Orville says, "Both are 39 again." Lil and Dr. Fred Lurting are settled in Jasper now, so it may be February before the couples get together again. The Shaplans are planning a Thanksgiving flying trip to Plains, Kan., to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ray and daughters, Mavis, Melodie and Julie, have returned from Austin where Ray attended a cocktail and luncheon honoring the 1968 recipients of the Distinguished Alumnus Award of the University of Texas. Among the honorees was Mrs. Ray's father, W. W. Heath, United States Ambassador to Sweden. Mr. and Mrs. Ray attended a reception given by Gov. and Mrs. John Connally at the Governor's Mansion Friday evening, and a pre-game reception and buffet as the guests of Chancellor and Mrs. Harry Ransom of the University of Texas. The trip climaxed with their attendance at the Texas-Arkansas football game where the Distinguished Alumni Awards were presented to Mr. Bob Dorse, president of Gulf Oil Corporation; Gall Whitcomb, Houston attorney and civic leader; and Fess Parker, Hollywood film actor.

Note in the mail says that Mr. and Mrs. Tony Taroni, Mrs. Chela Taroni and William Taroni were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Edwards of Lubbock this past weekend. Thomas Taroni, a student at Texas Tech, also joined the group. Seemingly, William Connally Edwards Jr., grandson of the Tony Taronis, was "host" for a joint birthday celebration for his grandparents.

TIDBITS: Mrs. Raymond Tollett will be in Austin this weekend to visit son, Ray, at TU and daughter, Iris Ann, at San Marcos. The Vance Lebkowskys are enjoying their new home in Odessa and Bobbie is playing bridge with Dixie Cox (Bill's wife), more former residents. Incidentally, did you notice the little story the other day that George Dolan told of the visit Phil Terk and his wife Pat, of Odessa, had with Pinkie Roden and wife, Jackie, at their mountain retreat near Madeira Springs? Terk joined Pinkie for a mule ride to the top of the mountain which cured him of such foolishness.

The Troy Debras are also settled in Odessa now, but he gets over this way often. If you're at all interested in where the ex-Mrs. John Kennedy may be making her home, Mrs. Robert T. Deming to show you her wonderful collection of slides on Greece, where she and Chaplain Deming lived for several years. . . . Is it true that the Willie Lanes started their honeymoon by forgetting her suitcase and having to make a sheepish return? Think the Bill Carries are having a family reunion somewhere but have no details. The reunion of the Big Spring High School Pep Squad for 1965-67 sounds like fun. They'll have a luncheon at Big Spring Country Club Nov. 9. Better be there or your ears may be burning. Deadline: Call me?

"Present day churches are concerned with how people are meeting their problems," said Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as he spoke at Monday's meeting of the Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association. The group met at Coker's Restaurant.

Dr. Lloyd pointed out that today's churches have a need for leadership and stressed that business women can contribute leadership, influence and educational abilities to church work. He charged the members to become active in their respective churches to make their lives more abundant. Mrs. Betty Overark introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Boone Horne and Mrs. Robert McDonald, recently returned from the national ABWA convention in Jacksonville, Fla., announced the year's theme as "Achievement Time Is '68," and they reported on the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Hans, vice president, presided, and introduced Mrs. George R. Walters and Mrs. Eldon E. Watts as guests. Three new members, Mrs. Owen McCombs, Mrs. Margaret Wiles and Mrs. Esta Lee Mullican, were installed.

Mrs. Carol Chavetta gave the vocational talk on her work at the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Plans were made to provide a scholarship for Mrs. Bonnie Ward for one course at Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. A. C. Moore and Mrs. Carl Tippie led prayers.

The tables were laid with white cloths and the main table was centered with a football flanked with gold chrysanthemums. Miniature goal posts were at each end of the table. One inscribed with '68 and the other with an arrow pointing to '69 which symbolized the club moving ahead to new goals.

Kennedy Children Start Back To NY

ATHENS (AP) — Caroline and John Kennedy left Greece today for New York and a return to school, but bad weather still kept their mother's honeymoon yacht tied alongside their new Greek stepfather's island.

The Kennedy children took a nonstop TWA flight to New York. They were accompanied by their grandmother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, and her husband.

All had attended the wedding Sunday of Mrs. John F. Kennedy to Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis on Scyros, the small island in the Ionian Sea which he owns.

SECRET

Mrs. Auchincloss' other daughter, Princess Lee Radziwill, and her husband, Prince Stanislaus Radziwill, were taking another plane to London, their home.

Where the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Aristotle Socrates Onassis were headed was their secret.

The storm that raged through their wedding Sunday on Scyros Island kept up through Monday and into Tuesday.

The wedding guests flew to Athens Monday. In addition to 10-year-old Caroline and 7-year-old John, the Radziwills also were accompanied by their young son and daughter.

Texas Shares Farm Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten states accounted for nearly 60 per cent of the nation's $6.3 billion agricultural exports last year, says Agriculture Department statisticians.

The leading states for the year ended June 30 were: Illinois $583.3 million; Texas $551.2 million; California $413.3 million; Iowa $392.3 million; North Carolina $366.2 million; Kansas $296 million; Arkansas $254.8 million; Indiana $251.3 million; Nebraska $229.5 million; and Minnesota $226.3 million.

Department officials said in a report on 1967-68 farm export trade that shares were estimated mainly on the basis of state contributions to the nation's over-all agricultural output, with adjustments to reflect actual shipments of commodities.

Bull Nets $102,000; United States Record

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A bull sale on the grounds of the Hereford Association's national headquarters.

The sale was the first of its kind conducted by the association and was termed a success.

Breeders were invited to enter their best bulls, paying an entry fee of $250 for each animal, and 20 were to be selected for the sale.

Thirty-three animals were offered, and 1,000 breeders selected the top 20 by voting as the animals were paraded in the arena at the American Royal Livestock show earlier Monday.

Computers were used to tabulate the votes.

In the association's semiannual business meeting, Wayne Naugle of Nampa, Idaho, was elected president of the organization; Gene Wiese of Manning, Iowa, vice president; Joe Budd of Big Piney, Wyo., and John Sutton, Agar, S.D., directors; Clarence Cross, Colquitt, Ga., was re-elected to the board.

The previous record for a Hereford bull was $100,000, paid in 1954 in Chester, W. Va., an official of the American Hereford Association said.

Twenty bulls were sold for an average of $15,470 each at the

Astros Get Lots Of Mail

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Mountains of mail will greet the Apollo 7 astronauts when they return to earth-bound duty here.

Space agency spokesmen said they were still busy Monday counting and sorting the mail received here and at Cape Kennedy, Fla., in response to the three astronauts' nationally televised plea to "Keep those cards and letters coming."

It was estimated that more than 3,000 letters have filled Space Center mailboxes. Upwards of 500 have been received at Cape Kennedy, and more than 50 telegrams also are waiting to be read.

Apollo 7 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Walter Cunningham and Donn F. Eisele asked for the mail during one of their early by Walt, Wally and Donn telecasts.

"Hi! We're going around in circles rooting for you guys," said one letter.

A fourth grader named Kenneth from Worth, Ill., had these thoughts in his letter:

"Dear astronauts, we all hope you the best of luck in your dangerous (sic) trip if you have some extra time I wish you could answer this letter with a few samepulls (sic) like the food you eat out there and a picture showing the suit on you and like on commercials do you have any food pills..."

"The show was great. Keep those pictures coming. God bless you all," wrote an adult from Streetsboro, Ohio.

U.S. Crime Agency Leaders Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Ramsey Clark, charged by law and order, says the beginning operation of a federal agency marks a "new era in criminal justice."

Clark, commenting Monday at the swearing-in of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration's top three officials, predicted swift growth for the agency from a $63-million start to a billion-dollar operation.

"This ceremony marks the beginning of a new era in criminal justice," Clark said. "It is the major opportunity of this century to fully professionalize law enforcement, modernize the judiciary and provide improvements in the corrections field."

The agency, set up under the omnibus crime control bill passed by Congress in June, also will channel funds to local and state law enforcers to train and equip personnel and upgrade salaries.

Chief Justice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court officiated at the ceremony outside Clark's office at which agency's administrator Patrick V. Murphy and associate administrators Wesley A. Pomeroy and Dr. Ralph G. H. Siu, took the oaths of office.

The three men were given interim appointments by President Johnson after the Senate Judiciary Committee failed to act on their nominations.

Introducing the three new agency officials, the attorney general said their appointment "brings proven ability, immense knowledge . . . and progressive leadership to bear on the challenge of crime in America."

Murphy is former director of public safety in the District of Columbia. Pomeroy was a special assistant to Clark while Siu, a Hawaii scientist, is a former official in the U.S. Army Materiel Command.
