

Electoral Vote

By The Associated Press

Humphrey has carried 12 states and the District of Columbia with 181 electoral votes: Washington, Connecticut, Hawaii, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, West Virginia. He is leading in one state with 10 electoral votes: Maryland.

Nixon has carried 30 states with 287 electoral votes: Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming. He is leading in two states with 15 electoral votes: Alaska, Missouri.

Wallace has carried five states with 45 electoral votes: Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi. Needed to win: 270 electoral votes.

Still Counting

SEATTLE (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey picked up Washington's nine electoral votes in late ballot counting Wednesday but moved no closer to the presidency, with Republican Richard M. Nixon already the declared winner.

With 98.4 per cent of the vote counted, Humphrey led Nixon 559,357 to 517,509, or 48 per cent to 44.4. George Wallace had 85,131, or 7.3 per cent. Although about 112,000 absentee and special ballots were still out, state election supervisor Ken Gilbert said it was "highly improbable" that they would change the outcome.

Morse May Lose

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Counting boards in a dozen Oregon counties will determine today whether Wayne Morse, a U.S. senator for 24 years, has been replaced by Robert Packwood, 36, Portland Republican.

Absentee ballots held the decision after the unofficial count wound up with Packwood ahead by 2,433 votes — 395,574 to 393,141.

Some county clerks said it would be late today before they finished the tally of absentee votes. Because nearly 5,000 of the 14,000 absentee ballots to be counted were in Lane, Morse's home county, there was no certainty that Packwood would hold his lead.

Maryland Undecided

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Republicans nursed a faint hope today that Maryland, home state of Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew, still might wind up in the GOP column.

The glimmer of hope was based on the counting of 36,000 absentee ballots which could erase the 18,000-vote margin given Hubert H. Humphrey in the unofficial returns from Tuesday's voting.

But it would take about 23,000 of these ballots for Nixon-Agnew to give the GOP slate Maryland's 10 electoral votes.

Nixon carried 20 of Maryland's 23 counties for a total of 502,650 votes in Tuesday's balloting. But Humphrey, riding the crest of a wave of Democratic votes in Baltimore City, pulled into the lead with 519,797 votes. Third-party candidate George C. Wallace had 177,514 votes.

Sliver Of A Lead

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Missouri apparently went with the winner but it will be several days before the final vote for Richard M. Nixon will be known.

As the unofficial tabulation of the regular vote was completed, Nixon edged into a sliver of a lead over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the state's 12 electoral votes.

The margin was so thin it could be changed by the absentee votes which won't be counted until Friday or Saturday — or in some cases until Monday.

Secretary of State James Kirkpatrick's office estimated the absentee total might reach 100,000 votes. At the end of the unofficial tabulation without the absentees, with all precincts reporting, Nixon had 788,169, Humphrey 758,547 and George C. Wallace 195,455.

Alaskan Count Stalls

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon held a 1,000-vote edge in Alaska Thursday as results from Tuesday's election continued to trickle in from isolated "bush" precincts and the state prepared to count about 7,000 absentee votes.

With a record 70,000 votes tallied, results from some 75 outlying districts and from Friday's absentee count will decide the allocation of Alaska's three electoral votes.

State election officials explained that severe radio interference had stalled returns from precincts that have no other way but by mail to report their results.

The latest count showed Nixon leading with 32,245 to Hubert H. Humphrey's 31,337. George C. Wallace had 8,623.

UF Needs Boost

Chances of the United Fund Drive here reaching its $109,225 goal by the Friday deadline appeared dim today as only $39,631.70 was reported in the UF office.

The figures revealed that just 32 per cent of the objective had been reached, and there is only one day to bring in the remaining 18 per cent.

HELP

Giving the campaign a boost was KBST radio with a pledge of $16.50 per employee, and R. E. James Gravel Co. with a contribution of $22.40 per capita, the highest per employee gift from any company in the drive.

Mrs. Alyce Butler, executive secretary, said that the big gifts division was 88 per cent complete, and the employe division had reached 89 per cent of its goal. Out-of-town gifts were 87 per cent complete today.

Divisions reaching or exceeding their goals are women's, area and Webb AFB.

WORK CARDS

United Fund officials called for all campaign workers to complete as many cards as possible during the next two days and return them to the United Fund office.

Divisions reaching or exceeding their goals are women's, area and Webb AFB.

Wilson would welcome Nixon. LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today President-elect Richard M. Nixon "would be very welcome in Britain if he visits Europe."

Wilson told the House of Commons, "I look forward to regular and close contacts with the next president on all matters of common concern to both our countries and on wider world issues."

Both Sides Allege Vote 'Finagling' In Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — The official vote canvass begins today in Cook County (Chicago) amid charges by both major parties that there was vote finagling in an election which gave Richard M. Nixon the presidency on the strength of Illinois' 26 electoral votes.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, who, as head of the Democratic party machinery in Illinois has sometimes been accused by his opponents of finagling with election returns, said Wednesday the official count "might show some interesting figures."

There were 109 unreported precincts in heavily Democratic Chicago and 84 in suburbs. It was generally conceded that these precincts with 400-500 votes each could not overcome Nixon's 135-502-vote plurality in Illinois over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

With 95 per cent of the state's 10,694 precincts reported, unofficial returns gave Nixon 2,064,756 votes to Humphrey's 1,929,254.

In 1960 anti-Daley forces charged that tampered returns from Cook County narrowly edged Illinois from the Nixon-John F. Kennedy election.

Daley was the first Wednesday to claim vote irregularities by the other side. He cited two western suburbs where returns were delayed. The implication was that the delay could permit strengthening the Republican area if the election were very close—a maneuver Republicans charged Daley performed in 1960 when Nixon lost Illinois by less than 9,000 votes.

Asked if he charged irregularities in the western suburbs, Daley said, "Certainly."

"Our watchers said that," he added. "I say, frankly and honestly, there are and have been township clerks and others unlawfully assuming authority. We should watch the townships and the downstate counties."

Daley, who virtually chose the candidates himself, saw most of his state ticket go down to defeat. But Democrats made a sweep of Cook County offices.

Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro, seeking election to his first full term, was defeated by Republican Richard B. Ogilvie, who has been a thorn in Daley's side since Ogilvie's election as sheriff of Cook County in 1962.

Only three Democratic candidates—and these independent of Daley and one a subtle critic of the mayor—were elected on the state ticket.

Edmund J. Kucharski, county treasurer and Republican county chairman, answered Daley's "voting irregularity" charges by saying they were "completely absurd."

The election canvass will be completed by Nov. 25, Sidney T. Holzman, chairman of the election commissioners, said.

William Rentschler, chairman of the Illinois Citizens Committee for Nixon, said the FBI has been asked to monitor the counting of untabulated ballots. The U.S. attorney's office in Chicago also will be watching.

PRAGUE (AP) — A crowd of pro-Soviet Czechoslovaks shook their fists in the faces of Communist party leader Alexander Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik today and shouted, "Long live the Soviet Union!"

The hard-line Communists grabbed at the coats of the two reformist leaders after a ceremony at Olsany Cemetery, shouting, "We're with the Soviet Union!" Since the ceremony was part of the observance of the anniversary of the Soviet Union's Bolshevik Revolution there appeared to be few Dubcek supporters around.

BACKERS SHOW UP

But later several hundred backers of the reform leadership surged into the streets of Prague and forced the removal of three large red banners from the Ministry of Foreign Trade, put up as part of the anniversary observance.

The demonstrators gathered in a side street a block from Wenceslas Square chanting "tear it down, tear it down," and whistling at a huge red banner without the yellow hammer and sickle that hung at one side of the building.

The chants continued until workmen climbed out on a ledge on the building's second story and removed the flag. A great cheer went up.

Bus loads of police arrived to clear the street and loudspeakers broadcast appeals for the crowd to disperse. But the people moved to the front of the building and chanted "tear it down" until two more of the 30-foot red banners were removed.

Most Czechoslovaks resent the Soviet occupation, launched Aug. 20-21 to put a check on Dubcek's liberalization program, but the hard-liners had their day at the cemetery.

Several of them held Cernik by the coat and screamed in his face: "Why don't you put your regime in order?" and "Why don't you put order in the schools?"

Cernik flushed, answered something, tore himself away and entered his car.

The ceremony at the cemetery was part of the observance of the 51st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution and included the unveiling of a memorial to Czechoslovak soldiers who fought with the Soviet army.

FIRST TIME

It was the first time since the August invasion by Soviet forces that public appearance by Dubcek had not been greeted by adulation and shouts of support. The outburst was a manifestation of sentiment for the old guard that would like to discredit Dubcek's regime and reverse the reforms it has tried to maintain despite the Soviet occupation.

Thieu Invites Nixon To Visit S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today invited President-elect Richard M. Nixon to visit South Vietnam "to make an on-the-spot assessment of the war and the situation" in this country.

"The Vietnamese government, the Vietnamese people and our soldiers fighting in the front lines against Communist aggression will be most happy to receive on Vietnamese soil a staunch defender of freedom, which you have been for many long years," Thieu said.

NO COMMENT

(At Key Biscayne, Fla., Nixon's vacation retreat off Miami, the president-elect's traveling secretary, Ron Ziegler, said there would be no immediate comment on the invitation.)

The invitation was contained in a lengthy cablegram of congratulations from the South Vietnamese leader to Nixon for his narrow victory in Tuesday's election.

Thieu's message did not refer directly to the present strain in U.S.-South Vietnamese relations over Saigon's boycott of the U.S. proposal for expanded peace talks in Paris.

But Thieu told Nixon he was confident that "with you at the helm of the United States, the very close bonds of friendship and solidarity which for many years have united our two countries will be even further strengthened."

BEFORE JANUARY

While the cablegram did not specify a time, it appeared that Thieu was interested in having the Republican president-elect make a visit to Vietnam before he takes office in January.

Nixon Rests, Mulls Over First Chores Of Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, his narrow presidential triumph cemented by late election returns, chose the privacy of a Florida retreat today to start forming the new Republican administration he hopes will "bring the American people together."

Faced with the most pressing tasks of determining his immediate role in Vietnam peace efforts and picking the men who will guide the nation's destiny for the next four years, Nixon flew from New York to Key Biscayne, Fla., for what was billed as a few days rest.

On the way he stopped off for a sentimental visit in Washington with his hospitalized former chief, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

TRAILED

As the tide of more than 70 million votes continued to flow in from outlying precincts, mainly in the West, Nixon actually trailed by 29,730,272 to 29,726,409 vote behind Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey in the 70-million-plus popular vote.

But his electoral vote total, securely past the needed total of 270 after cliff-hanger victories in Illinois, Ohio and California, appeared headed for 302 when late returns gave him the lead in Missouri where more than 100,000 absentee ballots will be decisive.

Absentee votes were also expected to decide Maryland where Humphrey was leading. Humphrey received 29,677,152 votes under the Democratic column plus 53,120 in Alabama where he was listed in a second ballot position.

George C. Wallace received 9,291,807 votes.

President Johnson returned to the capital from Texas for the 75-day homestretch of his presidency, pledging to Nixon "everything in my power to make your burdens lighter" during the transition period.

Earlier in San Antonio, the Texas White House said that, at Nixon's request, a government aircraft had been made available to him. He already has Secret Service protection.

Johnson also offered Nixon government office space in Washington, but the winner said he would continue to work out of his New York offices in the weeks ahead.

FIRST CHORES

Latest Count

NEW YORK (AP) — A new tabulation of the vote for president in Tuesday's election gives the following totals:

Humphrey 30,122,715 — 43.2 pct IEV 191
Nixon 30,446,028 — 43.6 pct IEV 302
Wallace 9,186,703 — 13.2 pct IEV 45

These figures were based on the latest state totals as received from the News Election Service Wednesday, supplemented by reports Thursday from Associated Press Bureau in states where there were independent tabulations which the bureau considered accurate.

Toll Up Before Bomb Halt Called

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam rose slightly during the week before the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, the U.S. command reported today.

150 DIE

U.S. Headquarters said 150 Americans were killed in action during the week of Oct. 27-Nov. 2, a reporting period that included only 27 hours of the bombing halt which went into effect at 9 p.m. last Friday.

But the bombing halt is likely to have little effect on U.S. casualties since the American command says it will pursue the war as vigorously as ever in South Vietnam.

The allied commands reported 1,393 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week and increased the previous week's toll of the enemy from 1,259 to 1,995 killed.

U.S. headquarters accused the Viet Cong of continuing "indiscriminate" mortar and rocket attacks on cities and towns. New shelling was reported against two towns and a village on two sides of Saigon, with an expectant mother killed and seven other civilians wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 16 mortar, rocket and artillery attacks on provincial and district capitals since the bombing halt, with 47 civilians wounded and one killed.

Little other military activity was reported although a spokesman said U.S. forces are "continuing our actions in the South to seek out the enemy."

The South Vietnamese command reported that 107 Viet Cong were killed in two days of fighting in the Mekong Delta 64 miles west-southwest of Saigon. Government casualties were nine killed and 30 wounded.

In the air war, U.S. fighter-bombers kept up their attacks on enemy base camps in South Vietnam and North Vietnamese supply columns moving down the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos.

562 SORTIES
Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots logged 562 sorties—one flight by one plane—over South Vietnam Wednesday. The U.S. Command does not report its missions over Laos.

Military sources said that sorties over South Vietnam had increased 75 to 100 a day since the bombing of the North ended last Friday. Strikes over Laos reportedly have tripled, to about 300 sorties a day.

1st Freeze Here Recorded, Snow Falls On Panhandle

Old Jack Frost was on the job and right on time Thursday.

He pushed the mercury in the thermometer to a chilly 31 degrees early today—affording the community its first sub-freezing level of the current fall. He also managed to do the job on the exact date the records show the average first fall freeze occurs in this county.

In 1967, no frost was reported until Nov. 30.

The icy nip did not hold long and by 8 a.m. the reading had crept back to 36 degrees.

Cars left out-of-doors were coated with thin skims of ice and the cold set heating plants to flaring in many houses for the first time this season.

The frost, in the opinion of observers, did not last long enough to do much killing of greenery. It will contribute little or nothing to killing cotton still undefoliated.

Snow—the first of the season—dusted parts of the Texas Panhandle lightly today and a chill spread throughout the state.

There was enough snow to leave occasional patches of white on the ground around Dalhart. The flakes were mixed with a little rain farther south toward Amarillo and the snowfall apparently was confined to the west side of the Panhandle.

VOTE 'FIXED' FOR WALLACE

BLOOMFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Last week a group of fifth graders used machines in a mock election in the town clerk's office.

Third-party candidate George C. Wallace received one vote.

The teacher in charge learned Wednesday that vote was cast by a little girl who could reach only the lowest lever—Wallace's.

Wallace To Sit Around Confederate Monument

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George C. Wallace, his day in the limelight of national politics over at least for the moment, returns to his home county today for the funeral of the man who helped launch his political career.

Wallace planned to go to Eu-aula, Ala., to attend the funeral of former Alabama Gov. Chauncey Sparks who died Wednesday at the age of 84.

Sparks had hired Wallace as a legislative page in the early 1940s and later as an assistant attorney general. Both men came from sparsely populated Barbour County in eastern Alabama.

With his political future in doubt after an unsuccessful bid for the White House on a third-party ticket, Wallace told news men Wednesday he is going to rest for a while at his home in Clayton, Ala.

"I'm going to sit around the courthouse and the Confederate monument," he said.

Wallace said his immediate goal is to practice law in Alabama and that he does not have any political plans on the state or national level — at least for the moment.

Trustees OK HCJC Audit

Trustees of Howard County Junior College accepted the annual audit at their meeting Tuesday and then passed on relatively routine matters.

Included on the agenda was the resignation of Mrs. Helen Kerr, whose husband has been transferred to Florida. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Betty Ann Petty, who has served part time as an English instructor at HCJC. Mrs. Petty holds a BA in English from Little Rock University and a MA from Vanderbilt. She has four years of teaching experience. Her contract will become effective with the spring semester. The board also elected, effective with the fall semester 1969, Mrs. Mary L. Bailey to be a faculty member in the social science department. She holds a masters in history and minor in English from Texas Tech and has taught part-time at HCJC for the past two years.

Approval of purchase of a rotor-router and an air compressor in the aggregate of $562 was approved. So were payments of $12,330 and $285 to the contractor and architect for boiler house expansion. The contract payment included $8,755 in pre-purchased equipment.

Financial statement for October was approved along with reports from the office of Novis Womack, appraiser.

Who Needs PO Workers?

If you can read and follow simple instructions, you can get nearly any type of postal service at the new Big Spring post office whether it is during working hours or not.

Edd Staub, maintenance engineer, pointed out the areas set up for the numerous vending and mailing machines which are to be a feature of the new building.

Plans are for the Big Spring post office to occupy the new building sometime around Jan. 1. Included in the machines which are to be in the lobby and available for the public's use at all hours will be a complex stamp device which will issue stamps of all denominations from one cent upward on depositing proper coins.

Suppose you go to the post office after hours and want to get stamps but have no change. Nearby is a machine which will change any coins you may have into the proper denominations to get the stamps you need.

Also available will be scales on which you can weigh that package you want to mail. A table of charges will be posted adjacent to the machine.

You figure out what it will cost to send the parcel, go to the change machine, get the coins you need; go to the stamp vendor and in no time at all, even though the windows are closed, your package will be on its way.

Soviet Union Celebrates; Grechko Fails To Rip U. S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko omitted the usual attack on the United States today as the Soviet Union celebrated the 51st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution with a display of missiles which included no new weapons.

In another break with tradition, Marshal Grechko in his speech at the annual Red Square ceremony made no mention of Vietnam.

DANGER The defense minister, flanked on Lenin's tomb by Soviet leaders, spoke only against "imperialists" in general, repeating the standard Soviet charge that they are "increasing tensions and creating the danger of a new world war."

Grechko did not refer to the U.S. presidential election or the Vietnam peace talks in Paris. But the departures from the usual wording of his speech seemed to indicate that the Kremlin does not want to hurt its chances of getting along with President-elect Richard M. Nixon. They also appeared to be aimed at avoiding anything that might hamper progress toward bringing the Vietnam war to an end.

Grechko, in probably the mildest Bolshevik anniversary speech made here in many years, also refrained from attacking China or any other country by name.

RED UNITY His five-minute speech, always closely watched for indications of changes in Kremlin thinking, bore down heavily on the theme of Communist unity and threats to this from the East. This new emphasis was obviously linked to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the disension that caused the Communist movement.

He never specifically referred to Czechoslovakia, and asserted that "just as in the past, the Soviet armed forces now serve not the purpose of attacking and capturing foreign territories, but of safeguarding the cause of peace, socialism, international freedom and independence."

Another Kremlin leader, Politburo member Kirill T. Mazurov said on Wednesday that the Soviet Union attaches "great importance to the normalization of relations between the Soviet Union and the United States which would be important not only to both our states but also to world peace." He declared, however, that "on the way to this goal there remain a number of serious obstacles created by aggressive manifestations of U.S. foreign policy."

Unusual Accident Injuries

J. B. Bailey, Big Spring, was reported in good condition at Cowper Hospital this morning, after complaining of chest pains following an unusual mishap about 9:10 p.m. Wednesday.

He was driving a tractor, pulling a cotton trailer, 12.9 miles north of Big Spring on FM 669. An H. W. Smith Transport truck-tanker, driven by Claude A. Hendricks, Big Spring, rounded the curve at the Luther Gin, attempted to stop when the driver saw the Bailey tractor, and the tanker-trailer hit the cotton trailer, highway patrol officers said.

Bailey was thrown from his tractor. An Alert Ambulance picked him up, but ran into trouble coming back to town, and a second ambulance was dispatched for the injured man.

Farm Bureau Hails Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which complained constantly that Democrats overmanaged agriculture, say they're looking forward to working with president-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Since the Democrats took over in 1961 and instituted far-reaching production control and price support programs for farmers, the Farm Bureau has been mostly on the outside looking in.

But with the election of Richard M. Nixon, the organization expects to be closer to the White House than it has since the Eisenhower era and the programs administered by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

"We hope to cooperate with the new President and the Congress in any way we can," said Roger W. Fleming, a Farm Bureau officer and director of its Washington office.

"And there is likely to be more cooperation because the new President is less likely to be twisting arms in support of unsound farm proposals."

However, Fleming said, the Farm Bureau traditionally looks to Congress for much of its support and this is expected to continue.

Fleming said Midwestern farmers helped re-elect President Truman in 1948 but that they didn't respond this time in favor of Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

"There has been a lot of comparison between this year and 1948 when Truman won in the Midwest farm states," Fleming said. "But the farm vote went to Nixon rather than Humphrey—and that made a big difference."

The National Farmers Union, which has disagreed basically with Farm Bureau officials on government farm programming, had no official comment here, but its Washington office said a statement may be issued later.

A Farmers Union spokesman said, however, that the organization's officials seemed to feel that much depends on Nixon's choice as secretary of agriculture.

Among those mentioned as Nixon's agriculture secretary is Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., who, the Farmers Union spokesman said, "would be several cuts above Benson."

"Of the possibilities seen right now," he said, "Quie would be acceptable to us and would be a constructive friend of the farmer."

Herschel D. Newsom, who soon will retire as master of the National Grange—the third major general farm organization—said he has found over many years that it is "always possible to put an election behind you" and work with a new Administration.

"Mr. Nixon probably will be receptive to ideas and is bound to be looking for any to help correct the terribly dangerous position agriculture is in right now," Newsom said.

The Farmers Union, in particular, has viewed the Democratic farm programs administered by Secretary Orville L. Freeman as "generally in the right direction," but the Farm Bureau has been a consistent critic of Freeman and what it sees as the over-management of agriculture by the federal government.

Foreign Reaction To U.S. Election Outcome Mixed

LONDON (AP) — Foreign reaction to Richard M. Nixon's election was widely favorable today, with conservatives enthusiastic, socialists cool to lukewarm and communists critical.

Hanoi and Saigon were silent, but South Vietnamese officials before the election preferred the Republican candidate because they considered him more hawkish than Hubert H. Humphrey.

'BIG BUSINESS' BOY
In the first Soviet comment on Nixon's election, Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said he was the "big business" candidate who won strong support in the large cities because he promised to suppress the "Negro upheaval."

Pravda said neither Nixon nor Humphrey gave the American people a "clear answer to questions of war and peace," and as a result "Americans quite openly voted not so much for as against one candidate or another."

In Asia, there was some concern and criticism mixed amid general approval of the election outcome. But anti-Communist leaders who know Nixon from his many visits to their areas welcomed his election and expressed confidence he would maintain close U.S. ties with the area.

INVASION
In Venezuela, where Nixon was treated roughly on a visit 10 years ago, his election aroused some disappointment. Crowds in Caracas on election night cheered returns in which Humphrey led.

The Times of London said the first condition for success of Nixon's presidency would be to end the Vietnam war and added that "on foreign policy, Mr. Nixon's stated position accords with realities. Before the invasion of Czechoslovakia his harder line on Russia might have seemed a mere echo of Dullesism, but its tone now is probably about right for Europe's needs."

The London Daily Express noted that Britain's next ambassador to Washington, John Frederick...

When the ambulance passed, he pulled back onto the road and was turning left into a residence, when the mishap occurred.

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Residents of Eugene voted Tuesday in favor of a $225 million bond issue for construction of a nuclear power plant. The one million kilowatt plant is scheduled to begin operation by 1976.

Peace Envoys

The South Vietnamese insist they will send peace envoys to Paris only if the NLF sits as part of Hanoi's delegation, not as a separate entity. When Saigon balked, the United States refused to go ahead with the talks.

Two 'Sides'

They noted that North Vietnam's chief negotiator in Paris, Xuan Thuy, used the same language—"all acts involving the use of fire"—in his acknowledgement Nov. 1 of the bombing halt and his agreement to enlarge the talks.

A Devotional For The Day

Ruth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: they people shall be my people, and Thy God my God. (Ruth 1:16)

PRAYER: Dear God, help me, a sinner redeemed by daily lives that others will desire to know Thee, our God. Because we esteem others, help us to be zealous in bringing them to Thee and so find our richest joy. In His name. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Wearing Campaign

As one pundit who couldn't seem to get located in a happy corner during the recent campaign, James (Scotty) Reston of the New York Times New Service may have had some personal feelings wrapped up in his observation that "the best thing about this election campaign is that it has finally come to an end. . . . It has not produced a single noble speech. It has not clarified but has confused the great issues of our time, and has not united but has divided the nation, particularly the young, in the process."

Yet, there is more than pique in Mr. Reston's observation. It was not a stimulating campaign. It was the case of a strong front runner content not to ripple the waves behind the sanctity of a smooth campaign liner, and of one adversary who could not seem to stir meaningful waves until the eleventh hour and another beating against the rocks of frustration and back-lash.

One of the worst things about the campaign was that it had to fit into a certain capsule of our times when besetting and befuddling issues were flocking back to the roost from one or two decades of delay and procrastination.

Another was — and this applies to succeeding campaigns — that the campaign was entirely too long. Just as we must find some way to overhaul the creaky and potentially precarious electoral system and the frustrating nominating process, we must also find some way to shorten the time, energy and frightening expense of conducting our presidential campaigns. They constitute too much of a drain of human and financial resources of the nation.

Bits In Congress' Mouth

The nation appears likely to face a temporary return to what Woodrow Wilson once considered normal, "congressional government."

Since the "Roosevelt revolution" in the Great Depression crisis, this nation has had "presidential government." This was true even during the eight years that President Eisenhower had a Democratic Congress, because of his immense and sustained personal popularity.

Hubert Humphrey might have more influence on Congress than Richard Nixon, especially since Democrats control the House. He has more rapport with Capitol Hill than Nixon, but hardly enough to push a domestic program through a balky Congress.

Mr. Nixon apparently will have to function with some sort of coalition.

Since the election was close, Congress will have no clear mandate, nothing approaching a consensus, on any important issues. Its leadership in both parties is aging and relatively weak. Its organization, rules and customs are outmoded, lagging behind public opinion and not geared for leadership or prompt and positive action. Party discipline is loose, and its memberships in both Senate and House will be likely to fragment into factions.

This is hardly a reassuring prospect with the nation at war and in a place of world leadership while rent by dissension and explosive problems internally.

What We Do For The South Vietnamese

WASHINGTON — While on the surface it looks as if there is a deadlock in the Paris Negotiations over the Vietnam War, there are ways to resolve the controversy and ultimately bring an agreement.

At the moment, the national pride of South Vietnam has become a major factor. Its government is unwilling to sit down at the same table and on equal terms with the "National Liberation Front" — The political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas in South Vietnam. The North Vietnamese, on the other hand, insist that the Viet Cong must participate in the conferences.

IT IS CLEAR now that, while President Johnson accelerated the peace talks by his announcement of a halt in the bombing, it is going to take weeks, if not months, of informal talks before a procedure can be worked out that will be satisfactory to all concerned. Hanoi evidently is willing to let matters drift for a while as the American government strives to find some compromise.

THE SIMPLE WAY, of course, is not to try to bring all four parties

Billy Graham

Twice in my life I have been unfaithful to my husband, even though I love him dearly, if you can believe that. Now, I am free from this weakness, for I am doing penance for my sins, and am able to accept my guilt by doing so. My husband was sent to Vietnam this year, and I consider this separation a part of my penance. In this way, I feel I am paying for my sins. Do you agree with my thinking? H.G.A.

You say, "I am doing penance for my sins . . . and am able to accept my guilt by so doing." While we indeed pay for our sins in a measure, the gist of the Gospel is that Christ paid the penalty for our sins on the cross, and we are forgiven and freed from the guilt of sin when we accept His sacrifice on Calvary. The concept that you "earn" your salvation by your own suffering is medieval and not Scriptural. The Bible says, "By grace are ye saved, through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God." And again, it says: "But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were afar off are made nigh by the blood of Christ . . . that he might reconcile . . . by the cross."

"Works" puts the burden of our salvation upon ourselves, but faith puts the responsibility upon Christ. Put your trust in Him, and not in your deeds of righteousness, or penance. While past sins may haunt us, and demand some sort of payment in the region of the memory, the Bible says that God forgives and forgets our sins. He can be trusted with our guilt, so let Him handle it for you.

into a formal conference, but to let the United States act in the role of mediator by discussing vital issues with the North Vietnamese government and the Viet Cong. American negotiators could then hold separate meetings with the South Vietnamese government at which there would be full disclosure of just what demands or concessions were being made by the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

Certainly the government at Saigon cannot go against its own public opinion by entering into a conference with the Viet Cong — an ally of the Hanoi government — which has been responsible for the guerrilla warfare and terrorism in South Vietnam.

EVENTUALLY the United States government will have to make up its mind whether to insist that the people of South Vietnam shall determine for themselves their form of government or whether a coalition of some kind is to be imposed upon them against their will.

Certainly American troops and the South Vietnamese forces have made many sacrifices in the last four years. It would be tragic if the Saigon government, which has placed so much faith in the United States, should find itself "sold out" — as the phrase is being used now by critics here and abroad to indicate that President Johnson has veered from his strong support of South Vietnam.

IF THE United States did go along with Hanoi's demand that the Viet Cong should play a prominent part in any future government of South Vietnam, the war would not be ended. Even if the President of the Saigon government agreed to a "coalition," it is doubtful whether the people themselves would concur, and this could mean more fighting in South Vietnam.

The problem is how to find a way to assure the people of South Vietnam — who have for years suffered heavy losses — a chance to maintain the government they have elected or be free to elect another one.

IT MAY TAKE a long while before actual peace is established in Vietnam, but the issues today are not much different from those which prevailed when the United States originally decided to throw its weight on the side of the South Vietnamese. Either that decision is going to be upheld, or the new administration in Washington is, in effect, going to concede that a mistake was made.

In any case, peace cannot be expected in Southeast Asia unless self-determination is accepted as a valid principle in the selection of a government by the people of any country, large or small.

THE SNEAK THIEF

John Cunniff Challenge And An Opportunity

NEW YORK (AP) — In an economy becoming more oriented toward the sale of services, the sad fact is that many Americans feel they are not getting what they pay for.

Not only is this an important key to understanding consumer discontent, it seems also to provide an area for the new administration in Washington to make great advances in the quality of American life.

YOU NAME it, Americans are complaining about it: drugs, cars, toys, food prices, stocks, supermarkets, mutual funds, advertising, tires, housing, insurance, health care. This amidst material plenty.

To correct the problem will offer the newly elected officials a challenge and an opportunity. In the opinion of some students, the fault lies as much with the service as with the product, with the repairman and the salesman and the billing department.

Merchants and others readily admit that a breakdown has developed in communications between buyer and seller, adviser and client, user and producer, and that complaints often fill the gap. Transactions today of ten are impersonal.

IN TIMES not long past the buyer placed his hand upon the very product he wished to buy, spoke about it to an interested salesman, handed over cash and walked out of the store with product in hand.

Today he may purchase without ever contacting a salesman or seeing the goods. He may order by telephone, by the serial number, and find the product delivered by a third party, with the bill arriving later by mail.

Self-service is in vogue, both as a means of beating the labor shortage and lower costs and sometimes prices. But even where salesmen are involved, suggests Jack I. Straus, chairman of the executive committee of R. H. Macy & Co., problems are common.

STRAUS WAS quoted in the Wall Street Journal as saying: "What is there about the act of serving others that today seems demeaning to so many people . . . Why does a clerk in a store (yes, even in Macy's) seem uninterested in waiting on a customer who's willing and anxious to make a purchase. . . .?" He commented: "In fact, the lack of salesmanship is threatening to make the significant failure of American enterprise. . . ."

Hal Boyle The Good Old Days

NEW YORK (AP) — We are always being admonished to prepare for the future.

But most of us, being the contrary creatures that we are, prefer to relive the past, over and over again.

One doesn't have to look very hard to find the reason. The future is a gamble, an unknown full of potential dread and new dragons. The past is a more comfortable place. We have survived its perils, slain its dragons, and turned it into a memory garden which is pleasant indeed to revisit.

There are a lot of blooms in your own memory garden if you can look back and remember when —

THE ONLY people who played golf were those who could really afford to.

Hatcheck girls looked grateful if you put a dime on the counter to retrieve your bonnet.

Most workers carried their sandwiches in tin lunch buckets instead of imitation leather briefcases.

One of the hated chores of childhood was having to put blacking on the big pot-bellied coal stove in the living room.

It cost as much to buy the sack of popcorn as it did to go into the movie.

Every housewife had the dull conviction that sometime during her matrimonial career she'd have to deal with the problem of bedbugs.

A COLLEGE rebel was any male student who objected to joining the ROTC.

No one had heard of the dangers of a population explosion, and motherhood was the one thing on earth that stood above criticism.

If you looked at a painting in an art gallery, you could tell at a glance what it was — and whether it was hung right side up.

The quality of a saloon was

Around The Rim

Pace-Setters

Although we often drag our heels on some issues, such as establishing a child welfare department, our community has at times been a step ahead of the pack. It is easier to recall and enumerate our shortcomings, but even the most devoutly can run up a lengthy list of times when we blazed a new path, or trod a worthwhile one.

THERE HAS been a lot of publicity, for instance, on the many benefits of the Head Start program, all of it no doubt deserved. But our school system had struck out on a similar plan long before the federal folks decided to get into pre-school preparation.

Supt. Sam Anderson recalls that a course in giving Spanish-speaking youngsters a beginning course in English before they entered the first grade was offered here. The aim was to better equip them to make the most of their school experience, by insuring they had the proper vocabulary tools.

The program was not nearly as far-reaching as Head Start but our school system does not have the available funds of the federal government in establishing such a program.

THERE HAS been a hue and cry across the land in the last year for more training of police officers. The politicians have promised to establish academies, with the aim of upgrading the training given officers.

The idea and plan is good, but not original in these parts. Before it became popular, which is to say before the riots, such an academy was established in Big Spring, and all new officers in the local department are required to attend it.

THROUGH THE efforts of Chief Jay Banks and HCJC President W. A. Hunt the academy has been opened to police departments throughout the area, and a score of cities have sent men for training. With this year, a course of study for policemen is being offered at the college.

Perhaps the program is not so far reaching as some being promised by the politicians, but then it was financed on a shoestring, and without the financial support of the vast federal budget.

IN THESE days of seeking federal assistance at every twist of the turnstile, our own CRMW is an example of what might be done on most any project, if the community is really interested in self-help. I suppose the federal government might have been encouraged to put up a few bucks to help pay for the multiple lakes of the district. But instead, the lakes are being financed out of the income they generate — that is, by the folks who use and benefit from them. No tax money is involved, from this area, or any other.

Surely, this is the better way to do things. —V. GLENN COOTES

Holmes Alexander The Anatomy Of Greatness

WASHINGTON — My publisher persuaded me to drop a summing-up chapter to the book (The Famous Five: 1958) in which I wrote, and Sen. Jack Kennedy forwarded, about the lives of the five greatest U.S. senators. My summary would have said that their common quality was an extraordinary capacity for love.

Clay was a man of myriad friendships; Webster gave his big heart with extremism to a younger brother and a wife; Calhoun was excessively enamored of his femme fatale, the American Southland; the marital love stories of Bob and Martha Taft, of Bob and Belle La Follette are romance of the highest order. Love is greatness. Vice versa. Q.E.D.

READING BOOKS to fight off an anxiety complex in the last days of the presidential campaign. I reconfirmed the above proposition. How come Allen Drury's new novel "Preserve and Protect" (Doubleday) rides high on the best-seller list despite caustic, vindictive reviews by the N.Y. Times and other literary opinion-makers?

Maybe it isn't a great book, but the American people know Drury is a great writer. Love of country, a religious fervor of patriotism, dominates all that Drury writes about the USA. His countrymen, wiser than his critics, vote him greatness where it counts, in the marketplace.

THEN, THERE'S Sara Mayfield's "The Constant Circle" (Delaorte Press) meaning circle of affection, the latest of a half-dozen H. L. Mencken biographies I've read — and the first one to give us the breathing, full-blooded man. Perhaps it took a woman, the understanding, feminine heart to comprehend Mencken, 49 and Sara Haardt, 32, had known one another for seven years when they married in 1930. She had been an invalid most of that interim.

After her death Mencken told Miss

Mayfield, who had introduced the couple, "As you know, when Sara and I were married, the doctors said that she had only two or three years to live at best. But we had almost five years together . . ."

PEOPLE WHO think of him as an iconoclastic funnyman of letters don't realize his greatness came from his heart and not his head.

What a different biography is Nuel Pharr Davis's "Lawrence & Oppenheimer" (Simon and Schuster) the combined story of two foremost nuclear scientists. It's the tale of men whose friendship was broken in the murky battles of the Cold War as waged in their fissured loyalties to country and conscience.

Yet, although hailed by the high-brow press, impressively researched and crisply written, it is not an honest work. Its propaganda intent shows through, the purpose of good-guy presentation for those who opposed H-bomb armament, bad-guy presentation for the others.

ERNEST O. LAWRENCE, the cyclotron inventor, comes through as a glory-hunter with a skyscraper-complex. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the theoretical physicist and "poet," is glorified with the martyr's crown of thorns, and all who questioned his "security" are made to look like Pontius Pilate. It is a view-point book that warps the truth in treating the Oppenheimer hearings as a "treason" trial.

Major contributors to science (certainly they "did more" than the Famous Five Senators, more than Mencken and Drury), Lawrence and Oppenheimer fall short of greatness, though both carried off many prizes.

Ambition in the one, ambivalence in the other, would not let them give their hearts away, not fully to friendship, nor fully to patriotism.

Art Buchwald Power In The White House

WASHINGTON — It is only natural, as the Johnson Administration nears its end, that magazine and book publishers should be descending on the White House to sign up everybody in sight for their memoirs.

The sidewalk in front of the White House is jammed these days with editors carrying satchels of money that they have been ordered to give out in advance to anyone who can offer insights into the Johnson years. The competition for memoirs is something fierce.

AS I WAS leaving a White House briefing the other afternoon, several editors ran up to me at the gate and shoved contracts in front of my face.

"I don't work in the White House," I explained. "I don't know any more about what went on there in the last five years than you do."

Disappointed, they turned away from me and then rushed up to a man in overalls carrying a bag of tools.

"What do you do in the Executive Mansion?"

"I'm an electrician," he said.

"I'LL GIVE YOU $10,000 to write the story of how you wired the White House," an editor shouted.

"Fifteen thousand," a book publisher yelled, "if you tell us the inside story of how President Johnson made you change all the bulbs."

"Are you crazy?" the electrician said. "I've already been offered $25,000 by Life magazine to write about the time the President blew a fuse during the Fulbright Gulf of Tonkin hearings."

"DON'T SIGN," the Look editor said, waving 35 $1,000 bills. "We'll give you this, plus a percentage, if you tell the inside story of when Johnson switched from AC to DC over Vietnam."

The electrician shook his head. "There are certain things between me and the President that I can't talk about, even after he leaves office. They're in my diary and that's where they're going to stay."

"You kept a diary?" a publisher asked.

"Sure. How else would I know where all the plugs were? That's a big house."

"I'll give you $50,000 for the diary without reading it," the publisher said.

"GOSH," the electrician shook his head. "I don't know what to say. There's some stuff in there that's very personal, like the time I put in an extension cord for the President's electric blanket when Lynda Bird decided to tell her parents about her engagement to Capt. Robb."

"I'll give you $75,000," another publisher shouted.

"What else is in the diary?" the editor of the Ladies Home Journal demanded.

"Well, there was the day when Walt Rostow was briefing the President on the Pueblo and he got so excited he stuck his finger in a socket and got a shock."

"THE HARPER & ROW editor said, 'I'll bid $100,000.'"

The electrician looked confused. "Is it worth that much?"

"Of course. You'd be the first one to shed any light on the Pueblo incident."

"I think I better talk this over with my agent," the electrician said. "All these offers are bewildering. I knew my memoirs were worth something, but I didn't think they would fetch $100,000."

"WHY NOT?" the Putnam publisher said. "You controlled the power in the White House, didn't you?"

"Now that you mention it," the electrician said, "I guess I did. What am I offered for the movie rights?"

WONDERFUL WORLD OF CHRISTMAS

WHY

do stores start Christmas before Thanksgiving?

That's a question that's often asked, and it deserves a sincere answer!

- * Your newspaper appreciates the spirit that prompts many of the objections to early Christmas shopping promotions.
- * However, when the reasons for the urge to "Shop Early" are examined, the most critical agree it's MORE than a problem for stores alone.
- * So we're happy to take this opportunity of presenting some of the problems that confront all stores at holiday time.
- * Every successful store directs its best effort toward perfecting a helpful service to ALL its customers. And since many customers ask stores to make it easier for them to complete their gift shopping before the crowded post-Thanksgiving period, Christmas merchandise and displays are brought forward early to accommodate them.
- * And scarcely a major store in the nation could cope with the store traffic that would be generated if any part of early Christmas shopping was postponed until after Thanksgiving. Even under present circumstances most stores are strained to capacity during the peak of the season, to maintain the kind of store service all shoppers have learned to expect.
- * When you recall the extremely crowded conditions of stores the final two or three weeks before Christmas the problem becomes evident.
- * If no early Christmas shopping were done this condition would be multiplied many fold. (Actually there would not be enough room behind store counters for enough sales people to serve shoppers during this period between Thanksgiving and Christmas.)

- The same condition exists in regard to the children's visits to Santa Claus. Thousands of children and their parents, look forward to their annual visit with him, and unless he makes an early appearance, many hundreds would be doomed to disappointment simply because it's physically impossible to reach him in a shorter time.
- * Those in the store business know that an extremely large percentage of the Christmas gifts that are selected are items that are in plentiful supply the entire year.
- * If you were to ask the hundreds of retail employees—and as a group they represent one of the largest employe groups in Big Spring—they would tell you that much of the stress and strain of their Christmas would be relieved if the shopping public would anticipate Christmas shopping throughout the year. Then you'd seldom hear your friends in retailing remark, "I'm simply worn down to my knees by Christmas Eve."
- * Granted that the problem is not a one-sided one, it should be recognized that stores are faced with the problems of convenient service to customers, of maintaining helpful employe relations, of providing a place where those of the public who cannot, or do not plan ahead may select the traditional gifts for their loved ones and friends.
- * We are sure that if all of our storekeepers could chat with you, personally and informally, that you would be convinced of their sincerity, and that in the true spirit of Christmas, they would not be criticized for their efforts to perform a helpful service to their shopping public.
- * Finally, for all these reasons, and for others which will occur to you, don't you agree that beginning Christmas shopping early makes it easier, faster and a whole lot more pleasurable for you?
- * So do yourself and your favorite stores a favor . . . start shopping now . . . while selections are at their best . . . while you have plenty of time to compare before choosing . . . while sales personnel can give you the kind of service you prefer.

Head For Jayton Friday Night

Only Ike Lewis (30), standing at the far left, will be missing when the Sands Mustangs invade Jayton Friday night for a crucial test against the Jaybirds in District 6-B. Lewis is out for the season with an injury. From the left, out front, they are Perry Gillespie, John McGregor, Gavino Rodriguez, Jake Merrick, Edward Barraza, Jim Fryar and Ron Taylor. Backs are Lance Hopper, Ray Rodriguez, Steve Herm and Kynn Maxwell. The Mustangs remained in contention for the flag by upsetting Roy last week.

Texas Ace Closing In On NCAA Mark

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' Chris Gilbert burst through a strong Southern California line and was sent spinning with a solid tackle. He checked his fall by pushing off the ground with his hand and sped 15 more yards before being whacked out of bounds.

The Southern Cal game of Sept. 17, 1966, was the debut of Gilbert, a 180-pounder whose this-way, that-way running style has made him the greatest ground gainer in Southwest conference history.

In his senior year, with three regular season games to go, Gilbert has a chance to leap to the top of the list of all-time NCAA rushing leaders.

He's 16 now with 2,874 yards, 507 behind the national leader, Art Luppino, who played at Arizona in 1953-56.

CHRIS GILBERT

GARRETT SECOND

Between Gilbert and Luppino are such former rushers as Mike Garrett, in second place and the three-year rushing leader with 3,221 yards; Alan Ameche, Ollie Matson, Glenn Davis, Larry Csonka and Ray McDonald.

But Gilbert's main competition for the top spot may be Eugene Morris of West Texas State, who gained 3,016 yards—142 more than the Longhorn halfback—and also is in his senior season, in ninth place among all-time rushers.

"Watching Chris run is like a film strip with several frames missing," said his coach, Darrell Royal. "You see him hit a hole here and all of a sudden he's way over there and you don't see him get over there."

"I'm his No. 1 fan other than this week," Texas Tech coach J. T. King said just prior to the Texas-Texas Tech game. "I think he's one of the all-time greats to play in this conference."

"There isn't any doubt in my mind that he has run successfully against better defenses than a lot of people you may have read about in the old days. I mean the Doak Walkers, the Jim Swinks, the Jack Crains, the Bohn Hilliards," King added, listing former SWC stars. "He has gone against better defenses Saturday after Saturday than they ever did."

"It is amazing," said Royal, "that he has yet to be picked on an All-American team. I realize there are other great ones, but there has to be a backfield picked somewhere with Gilbert on it."

Statisticians have worn out packages of pencils recording Gilbert's exploits.

STARTED AS SUB

He started the 1966 season, his sophomore year as a sub against USC and didn't carry the ball until the second half but finished with 103 yards in 14 carries. Since then he has gained more than 100 yards in 15 games, including a SWC single game record of 245 against Baylor in 1966.

He piled up 1,069 yards in 206 carries as a sophomore for a 5.2-yard average and tacked on an extra 156 against Mississippi in the 1966 Bluebonnet Bowl, which is not counted in the NCAA statistics.

"As a junior, he raced for 1,019 yards in 205 carries, a 5-yard average, although he missed the equivalent of two full games with shoulder and hip injuries. His 96-yard run from scrimmage against TCU in 1967 was a conference record.

Texas was only a so-so 6-4 team both years. This year, with the Longhorns 5-1-1, Gilbert has shared more of the ball-carrying duties but has a better average, running for 775 yards in 118 carries, an average of 6.6 per play.

In less than three years, he's had 11 runs of 50 yards or more. "He has proven beyond any question of doubt that he can go against any kind of competition and he can get it all in one whack," said King. "I think Gilbert is going to get his 100 or 150 yards against anybody he plays."

Sam Houston Aces Are Singled Out

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sam Houston quarterback David Kubiak and tackle George Wright have been named back and lineman of the week respectively for their play Saturday in a 30-28 Lone Star Conference victory over Stephen F. Austin.

Wright, from Houston King High, was responsible for destroying the Lumberjack running game.

Toros, Goliad Play Snyder Lamar Here

The ninth grade Toros and the Goliad eighth graders will see action here this evening while the ninth grade Brahmas and the Rannels eighth graders go on the road.

The Toros and the Mavericks will be at home to teams from Snyder Lamar at Blankenship Field, with the eighth grade game starting at 6 p.m. and the ninth graders taking over between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

The Toros lost their most recent start, a 24-8 decision to San Angelo Glenn Goliad walloped representatives from the same school last weekend, 38-6, to run its record to seven straight. The Mavericks have yet to lose to an out-of-city contingent.

Lamar, however, gave the Mavericks all they could handle in a previous game before yielding, 8-6, so the contest to night should be close.

The Toros have won once this year. Lamar was the victim of that occasion, at which time the score was 20-10.

The ninth grade Brahmas and Rannels' eighth graders head for Snyder for return engagements with Snyder Travis teams, the eighth graders playing at 6 p.m. and the ninth graders at 7:30 p.m.

The Brahmas are 2-5-1 on the in a previous engagement with Travis, 14-12, while Rannels popped a team from the same school, 38-14.

The Brahmas are 2-5-1 on the season while Rannels has won six of eight assignments. The Yearlings lost only to Snyder Lamar, 12-6 (a loss they later avenged by a score of 20-6; and last week were tied by San Angelo Edison, 6-6.

Next week, in the final games of the season, the Brahmas again square off with the Toros while the Yearlings duel with the Mavericks. Both of those contests will be in Memorial Stadium a week from tonight.

The Goliad team, which is coached by Jack Gray, is Big Spring's highest scoring team, having accumulated an aggregate of 238 points over the year. That averages out to 29.8 points a start.

Rannels has scored a total of 190 points for an average of 23.8 points a start.

Bullets Shock NBA Teams

By The Associated Press

If an election were held today for the most surprising team in the National Basketball Association, the Baltimore Bullets would win hands down.

After five years of finishing in the depths of the Eastern Division, the Bullets have suddenly become a contender, and they scored a rousing 140-119 victory Wednesday night over the Atlanta Hawks.

The triumph was the fifth in a row for the Bullets, and their ninth in 12 outings.

Only Cincinnati's 133-122 decision over the Chicago Bulls kept the Bullets from jumping into first place as they stand only 28 percentage points behind the 7-2 Royals and remained tied with the 6-2 Boston Celtics.

In other action Detroit broke Angeles bounced Milwaukee 128-115 and San Francisco mined New York 94-83.

The addition of rookie center Wes Unseld to complement Earl Monroe has made the difference in Baltimore. They scored 22 and 29 points, respectively, along with 24 by Kevin Loughery against the Hawks. But it was Leroy Ellis and Ray Scott who led a 49-point fourth quarter surge that moved them into a 12-point deficit in the third period to a 106-90 lead.

Ellis hit all his 15 points and Scott 10 of his 14 in the final half.

Don Ohl's 27 points led the Hawks, playing without Zelmo Beaty, who damaged the cartilage in his right knee in pregame warmups.

Jerry Lucas and Tom Van Arsdale shot Cincinnati into a 69-42 lead in the first half and Oscar Robertson added 31 LaRusso's 24 points, including 10 in the final period. Cazzie Russell led the Knicks with 18.

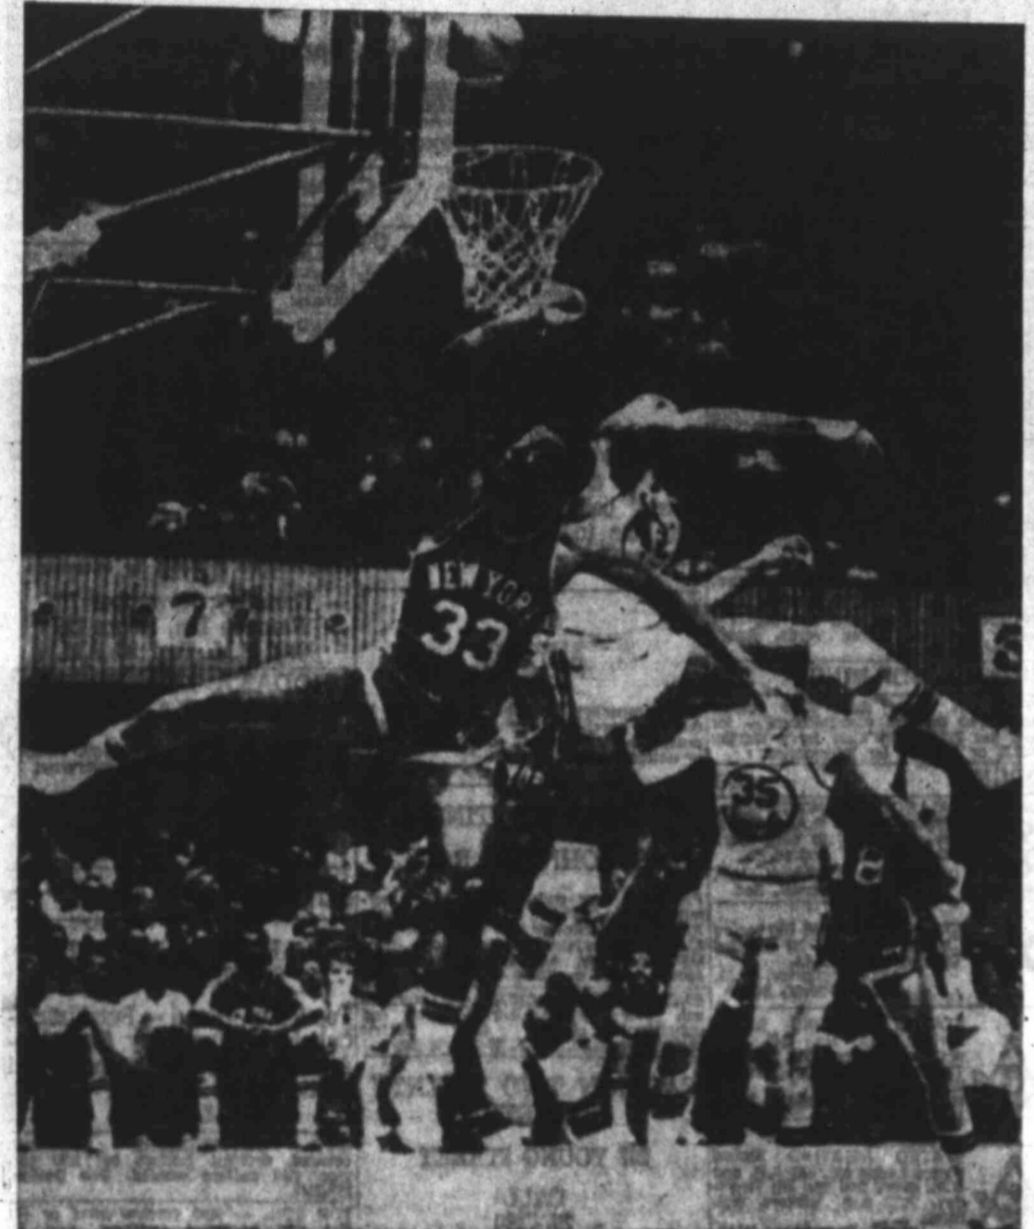

Detroit won for the fifth time in six starts as it exploded from a 111-111 tie in the final period behind Dave Bing, who finished with 37.

Seattle Coach Al Bianchi drew three straight technical fouls and was ejected along with center Bob Rule.

Elgin Baylor's 33 points as Los Angeles broke open a tight game in the final period. Wayne Embry had 30 points for the Bucks.

Jeff Mullins' 10-foot jump shot with three seconds to play capped San Francisco's comeback over New York. The Knicks had gone ahead 93-92 with seven seconds left on a basket by Dick Barnett.

The Warriors, who overcame a 15-point deficit in the third quarter, were sparked by Rudy LaRusso's 24 points, including 10 in the final period. Cazzie Russell led the Knicks with 18.

They Call It Basketball

Cazzie Russell (23), New York Knicks, and Nate Thurmond (43), San Francisco Warriors, bang each other around as Thurmond blocks a shot by Russell Wednesday night. A foul was called on Thurmond on the play. San Francisco won, 94-83.

Sophomores, S. Angelo Tangle At 4:00 Today

The Big Spring Sophomores try for their second win of the season over the San Angelo Sophs in a 4 p.m. contest in Memorial Stadium today.

The game was originally to have been unrec'd here Saturday night but was moved up following a conference between head coaches of the two schools.

Big Spring won the previous game, 16-0, with a final half rally. In the first two quarters, the Dogies fought off one San Angelo threat after another and left for half-time intermission with a scoreless tie.

The Dogies will be seeking to rebound from a 22-6 defeat administered by the Monarchs last week. It was the Sophs' first loss of the year.

Over-all, the Dogies are now 7-1. They close out against Sweetwater here next week.

The Sophs have defeated

Colorado City twice, 57-20 and 42-12; Coahoma twice, 38-0 and 19-0; and Stanton twice, 20-6 and 44-0, in addition to San Angelo.

The San Angelo team brings a 4-4 record here, having beaten Lake View twice, 22-12 and 12-3; Sweetwater, 21-18; and Ballinger, 14-13.

In addition to Big Spring, the Angeloans have lost to Snyder twice, 12-6 and 39-8; and Midland, 34-6.

Fern Smathers, who is San Angelo's varsity baseball coach, brings the San Angelo team here.

Buzzy Gaston leads the San Angelo attack from a halfback spot. He's a 150-pounder. Jessie Smith, Mike Varnadore, Rick Canada and Bob Dickey are other scoring threats for San Angelo.

The Big Spring JV's go to Abilene Saturday for a 2 p.m. clash with Abilene High's JV's.

Darel Carrier Guides Quint Past Pipers

By The Associated Press

As far as the Minnesota Pipers are concerned, Darel Carrier sure picked a lousy time to go on a 46-point scoring binge.

Carrier's career-tying outburst Wednesday night guided the Kentucky Colonels to a 131-112 rout of the Pipers—their first setback in five American Basketball Association games this season.

In other ABA activity, Denver nipped Indiana 109-107 in overtime, Miami whipped New Orleans 123-109 and Los Angeles defeated Dallas 123-117.

Carrier, who scored 46 points in a game with New Orleans last season, drilled in seven three-point shots from beyond the 25-foot range in powering Kentucky from a five-point half-time deficit to a 92-84 command at the end of three quarters.

Darel's showing over overshadowed performances by Minnesota's three gunners—Connie Hawkins, Charles Vaughn and Charlie Williams. Hawkins had 32 points while Vaughn, who hit six straight three-point attempts, and Williams each had 28.

Denver's Wayne Hightower connected on a hook shot with 16 seconds left to send the game into overtime, and Larry Jones tallied on a driving layup and later hit a crucial free throw in the extra session, enabling the Rockets to win their first game in five starts.

Lonnie Wright led Denver with 26 points, while Indiana's Mel Daniels had 29.

Miami trailed by as much as 16 points in the third quarter before launching a rally that made the Floridians' home debut a success.

Les Hunter scored 33 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, including vital ones when Miami outscored the Buc 23-2 at the end of the third period and start of the final session. Austin Robinson and James Jones each scored 23 for New Orleans.

Los Angeles overcame an early 21-5 deficit in handing winless Dallas its third straight setback. Steve Chubin triggered the Stars' comeback.

Chubin's basket with 37 seconds left in the third quarter put Los Angeles ahead 91-90. Ron Boone gave the Chaps the lead again but Chubin's three-point goal on a 40-footer enabled the Stars to go in front at the end of the period.

Ben Warley topped Los Angeles with 40 points and Chubin contributed 27. Charley Beasley was high for the Chaparrals with 35.

Vikings' Page Rated At Top

NEW YORK (AP) — Alan Page's pass rush last Sunday helped him win for the 6-foot-4 defensive tackle of the Minnesota Vikings. The Associated Press' designation as defensive player of the week in the National Football League.

Washington's passers had been smeared only nine times in seven previous games and Sonny Jurgensen, in particular, had been dumped only six times. Minnesota got to the passer eight times last Sunday in a 27-14 win, plucking Jurgensen seven times and rookie Harry Theofiles once.

Flu Bug Worrying Mentor Of Pokes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — While Dallas Cowboy coach Tom Landry ponders the problems of his passing game, he's added a new worry—the flu bug.

The flu hasn't reached the runway stage, but it has slowed linebacker Leo Roy Jordan, offensive tackle Ralph Neely, reserve quarterback Craig Morton and receiver Dennis Homan.

"It's supposed to be the 24-hour variety—but I haven't seen Homan this week," Landry said. "I certainly hope it will stop quick."

Landry is worried about his offense. He figures the breakdowns are coming in the lack of protection from the passer, poor timing, dropped passes, and mediocre passing.

"It's sort of a mid-season lull that is bothering all the teams," Landry said. "A lot of quarterbacks are getting injuries and are not as sharp as they could be. Even with all the trouble (quarterback) Don Meredith is having he's still the No. 1 passer in the league."

Dallas meets New York Sunday in a nationally televised game before a near-sellout of 72,000 fans in the Cotton Bowl. It's a Capitol Division game in the National Football League and a victory for the Cowboys would mean a three-game spread over the second-place Giants.

Landry said that while Dallas' intricate multiple offense could use some smoothing out he was pleased with the play of the defense.

"I think we are more confident...we are working together now," said Landry, who plans to continue the use of speedy Mel Renfro at cornerback.

He said New York and its scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton presented special problems for the Cowboy defense Sunday.

"New York always plays well against us...we've just got to keep Tarkenton in the pocket," Landry said. "He bothers us a lot, but I still think a scrambling team doesn't make too many points. If our defense plays the way it did last Sunday (against New Orleans) we shouldn't have any trouble."

Don Smith, publicity man for the Giants, said "We need a big effort from Tarkenton every week to win. With our defense, we need four touchdowns. We haven't reached the stage yet where we can have an off day offensively and still win like the Cowboys can."

Landry said Meredith was having his physical problems with a broken nose and a sore arm.

"He's had a sore arm every week for eight years—and the long strain of the season may be taking its toll on him," Landry said.

Five JC's In Title Bid

By The Associated Press

Five teams have a chance for the Texas Junior College Football Federation title in the closing two weeks of the campaign.

Henderson County and Kilgore are tied for the lead with 4-1 records. Tyler, Blinn and Navarro are close behind with 3-2 marks.

The Cardinals broke the race open with a 7-6 victory over Kilgore last Saturday. Tyler stayed alive by downing Wharton 37-16. Blinn romped past Cisco 42-12, and Navarro survived 8-7 over Ranger.

The schedule this weekend shows Kilgore at Wharton; Henderson County at Tyler; Blinn at Ranger; and Navarro at Cisco.

The crucial victory for Henderson County over Kilgore was a combination of two things—a long standing jinx and a flubbed extra point.

Kilgore's Draves Edwards romped 63 yards for a touchdown with a short pass, but Pat Murphy's kick siced to the right. Henderson County got the equalizer on Joe Gilliam's one-yard run and John Hollowell kicked the winning point.

Since 1962 Henderson County has beaten Kilgore nine times and tied but one in 10 games.

And, Greene's own coach, Rod Rust, had this to say: "There are two factors behind Joe's success. First, he has the ability to make the big defensive play and turn the tempo of the game around.

"Second, he has the speed to be an excellent pursuit player. He's stronger than most, but Joe's main forte is his pursuit."

Greene continues to rank high on the Associated Press Midlands board in its weekly All-American checklist among defensive players.

HHH TO CARRY TEXAS BY ABOUT 40,000 VOTES

Republicans Take Modest Cheer

By CLAUDE MAPPE
Associated Press Writer

Although Richard Nixon swept the nation in the presidential election, Hubert Humphrey held Texas' 25 electoral votes.

Robert Johnson of the Texas Election Bureau said Thursday Humphrey would carry Texas by about 40,000 votes when all the approximately 3,660,000 ballots cast are counted.

Texas Democrats not only gave the state's electoral votes to Humphrey but they retained their iron grip on the top state jobs in the general election Tuesday.

Texas Republicans gave the state Democrats one of the closest presidential races that Texas has ever held. It was the first time in more than 40 years that Texas electoral votes did not go to the president-elect.

Texas Election Bureau listed: 731,305.
Governor: Preston Smith
1,625,793, Paul Eggers 1,219,132
Lieutenant Governor: Ben Barnes 1,899,372, Doug DeCluit

Attorney General: Crawford Martin 1,809,218, Sproesser Wynn 737,382.
Comptroller: Robert Calvert
Land Commissioner: Jerry Sadler 1,744,452, John Bennett 780,873.
Treasurer: Jesse James 1,839,182, Manuel Sanchez 715,541.

Agriculture Commissioner: John White 1,750,709, E.G. Schu-hart 676,959.
Railroad Commissioner: Jim Langdon 1,718,765, Jim Segrest 774,232.

Nixon Leaves Right Away For 'Little White House'

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. AP) — Only minutes had passed since he was declared the president-elect of the United States, but already Richard M. Nixon was packing his bags. He was leaving New York right away, he said, for Key Biscayne in Florida.

For 17 years, this tight little tropic island has been Nixon's favorite "hideaway—the place where he always comes to celebrate the victories and contemplate the setbacks of an up-and-down political career.

And, unless all signs fail, it will for the next four years be the site of the nation's "Little White House."

During his numerous visits here, Nixon has stayed at the Key Biscayne villas, on grounds of the Key Biscayne Hotel; at the home of C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo, a long-time friend, and at the home of Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., adjacent to the Rebozo home.

Nixon Likes Villa

This ocean front villa with a wide, sandy beach at the front door is expected to be occupied for the next three days by President-elect Richard M. Nixon who arrived at Miami, Fla., Wednesday night.

nut plantation, and began playing host to millionaire yachtsmen sailing down from the north.

OVERLOOKED
Oddly, for almost the next half century, Key Biscayne was totally overlooked by Florida land developers. In 1951, after a causeway was built from the mainland, the Mackle Co. erected a few villas midway on the eight-mile long beach facing the Atlantic.

That same year, looking for a place to rest after a tough California campaign, Nixon moved into one of the villas after being brought to the island by Sen. George Smathers of Florida.

It was during this first visit that Nixon formed one of his closest personal friendships. Smathers introduced him to Rebozo, now a 55-year-old Key Biscayne bank president, and Rebozo took him fishing.

LAY ODDS
In 1952, the Mackle Co. put up 1,000 homes in the island's interior.

Wealthy visitors began to move to the island and now with more than $100 million worth of hotels and apartments under construction or scheduled and beachfront property selling at $3,000 a front foot, the complex is rapidly changing.

Nixon bought two beachside lots last year. He has announced no building plans, but the islanders will lay odds that a Little White House will go on them.

STILL COUNTING
The latest tabulation from the Texas Election Bureau, in returns from 254 counties with some 226 complete, gave the vice president 1,235,662 votes. President-elect Richard M. Nixon polled 1,198,232 votes and American Independent Party candidate George Wallace received 570,128.

Less than 70,000 votes remained to be counted with about 23,000 of these in Tarrant County.

Republican officials noted the heavy turnout of voters in South Texas, a traditionally Democratic stronghold with a heavy concentration of Mexican-Americans.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, a long-time Texas politician, won his bid for the governor's office by handily defeating Republican Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls. Smith was ahead all the way.

Democratic voting was up over the state with all of the party's statewide candidates winning their contests.

VOTE GETTER
Lt. Gov. elect Ben Barnes was the Democrat's top vote getter and swamped Republican Doug DeCluit by more than one million votes in the state's No. 2 race.

Attorney General Crawford Martin had a walk-in race for re-election over GOP Sproesser Wynn.

With all Texas congressmen winning re-election, 29 Democrats and three Republicans will return to the nation's capital when the 92nd Congress convenes.

Union labor voters were difficult to determine. While Wallace led in Orange County, an industrial area, Humphrey was ahead in adjoining Jefferson County, as he was in Galveston and Brazoria counties.

DEMOCRATS DENOUNCE 'BACK DOOR SPENDING'

Nixon May Collide Early With Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a pledge from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to support Richard M. Nixon "when he is right," the incoming Republican president could collide early with the still Democratic Congress.

A likely point of early contention could be the use of tax credits, rather than programs depending on appropriations, to finance social objectives.

Another test of both presidential and congressional intentions will come when the new, but not much changed, Congress goes to work in January on the budget prepared by President Johnson.

NET GAIN

If he recommends full funding of the programs associated with his and the previous Democratic administration instead of the pared-down appropriations Congress has voted in the past, Nixon will be under pressure to show quickly to what extent he intends to economize.

The GOP made a net gain of four seats, but still winds up on the short end of a 243-192 lineup in the House.

In the Senate, Republicans gained four seats and possibly five depending on the outcome of the Oregon race where liberal Wayne Morse trails in a fight for political survival.

Records of newly elected senators, however, indicate that chamber may have a slightly more conservative tone than in the 90th Congress where the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition was a major force.

THE WINNER

Democrats in both chambers will continue to hold committee chairmanships.

Mansfield pledged Wednesday that the Senate's Democratic majority will not oppose Nixon's recommendations to Congress "just for the sake of opposition."

"He's the winner, the people have expressed their will," Mansfield said.

"We'll give him our loyal support when he is right," Mansfield told a reporter. "When we disagree, we'll oppose not just for the sake of opposition but we will try to offer constructive alternatives. This was the position Johnson took when he was the Senate Democratic leader during the Eisenhower administration. The Democrats controlled the Senate and the House during all but the first two years of Eisenhower's eight years in the White House.

Nixon—and the Republican platform—advocated tax credits especially for dealing with problems of the city poor and unemployed. Rather than programs like the Democratic-inspired Job Corps, they would abate taxes for businesses willing to hire and train workers with low skills.

JOB CORPS

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee is an outspoken opponent of tax credits and in general of using the revenue to achieve nonfiscal purposes.

Less than a month before the election, Mills denounced such plans as "back door spending," saying they could cost billions more than appropriations for the same purposes.

Other areas of possible conflict include the Vietnam war, defense spending and the income surtax.

POWER

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., continues as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Fulbright, a consistent opponent of President Johnson's Vietnam War policies, presumably would rally opposition to any toughening of this policy by Nixon if the Paris peace discussions come to nothing.

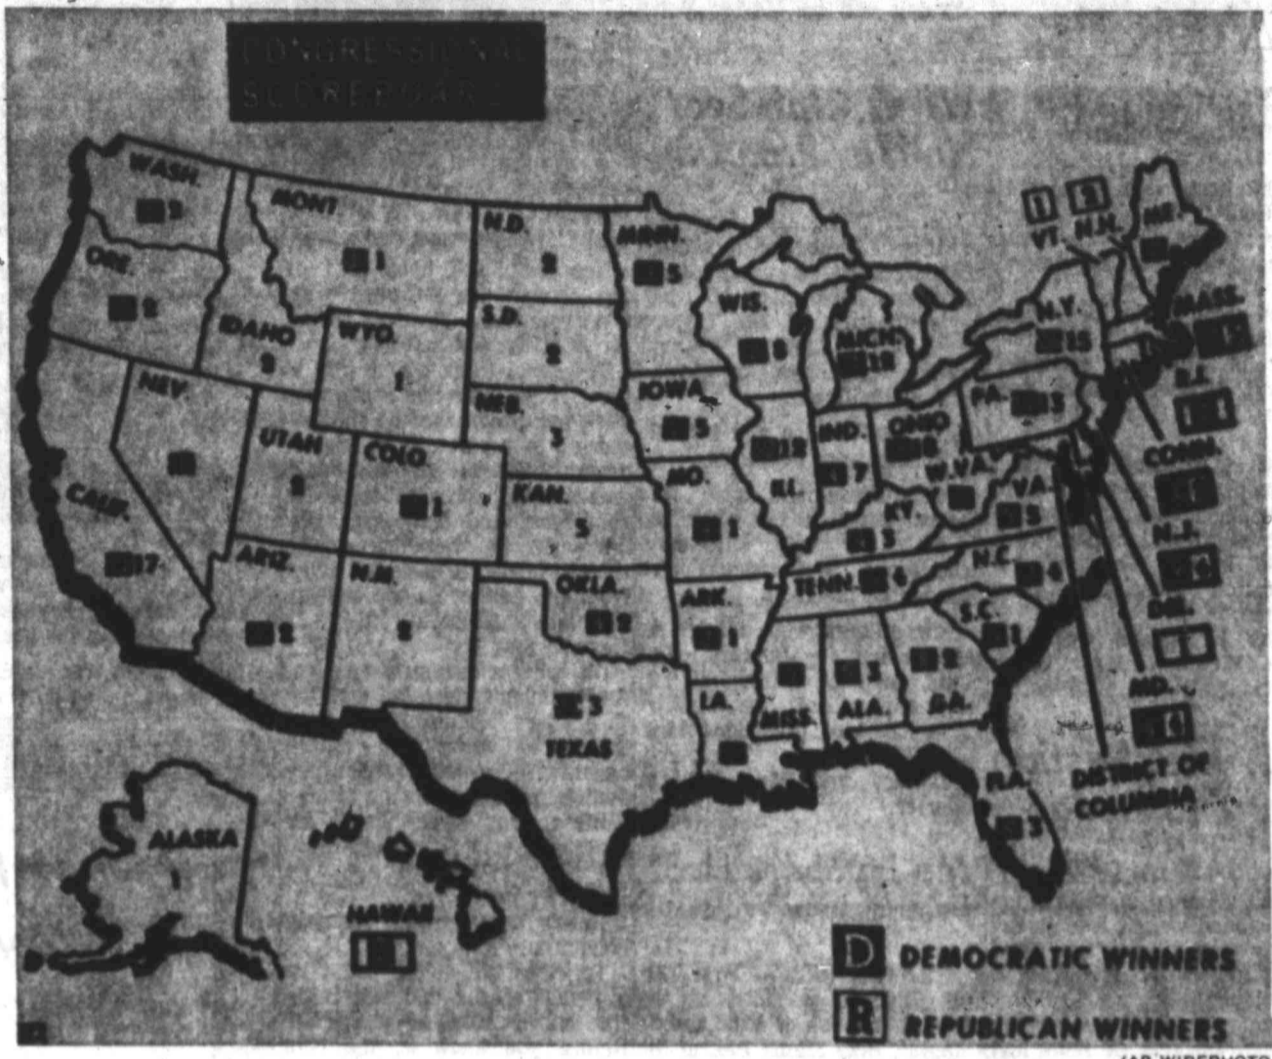

The Nixon camp has spoken of a substantial rise in military expenditures exclusive of Vietnam. Here Nixon could expect support from influential Democrats in both chambers who have listened sympathetically to complaints that the Soviet Union is closing gaps or even forging ahead in some areas of military power.

'PEACE BONUS'

But there would be a strong push among other Democrats to use any "peace bonus"—savings from a settlement in Vietnam—for domestic social programs or tax relief.

A politically delicate question both the new administration and Congress must face next year, especially if by then progress has been made toward peace, is whether to re-enact the 10 percent income tax surcharge. Unless Congress acts, it will expire June 30, rekindling fears of big deficits and a boost to inflation.

Each of the New Frontier and Great Society programs—such as the Peace Corps, VISTA, and the various education aid measures—has had both bipartisan opposition. Nixon has given the impression that, except for a few like the Job Corps, he is inclined to continue these programs, while cutting back their administrative superstructures in the interest of economy. The new tax credit plans would be in lieu of expansion or proliferation of existing programs.

Advance Planning Made For Turnover Of Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew are beneficiaries of more advance planning for the transfer of government than ever before in United States history.

They will be the first to avail themselves of a $750,000 transitional expense account provided by Congress in 1964 which President Johnson as the incumbent didn't need.

And Johnson himself acted months ago to smooth the way by appointing a liaison man to plan with representatives of the three major candidates for the 76 days of decision that would face the new presidential team.

LEJ'S PAY

Every department and agency is handling over transition briefing papers to spell out administrative and budget problems and catalogue important jobs the president-elect will have to fill.

The incoming president and vice president get $375,000 each to pay for office staffs, consultants, travel expenses, postage, printing, telephones and communications.

President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey get $75,000 each to ease them through the first six months of their transition to private life.

Fifty rooms in two executive office buildings near the White House have been furnished and fully equipped for the staffs of the new presidential team. However, Nixon said he would continue to work out of his New York offices.

In the days between now and inauguration, one of the biggest tasks facing the president-elect is finding new people to fill hundreds of important posts. He also must acquaint himself with pressing diplomatic and budgetary problems and start work on his own important State of the ### Union messages.

'PLUM' TIME

Aides say the Vietnam war has put top priority on selection of national security officials, including new secretaries of state and defense.

In the turnover of executive power, the president-elect has an estimated 450 to 500 key appointments to consider. All are high-level personnel who serve "at the pleasure of the president." He must pick a House staff of about 40. And, ultimately, must take a look at some 1,600 other policy and support positions.

Months ago, Johnson gave a White House transition assignment to his special counsel, Charles Murphy, a 67-year-old veteran of 30 years of government service and former chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Advance planning has included inaugural events as well. Bipartisan Nixon and Humphrey representatives came to some tentative agreements aimed at shortening the inaugural parade, but proposing six inaugural balls instead of the five in 1965.

President Elected, Windup Was Moving

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The suspense, building inexorably over a 17-hour period, had become painful when, suddenly, it was over. Around 10:30 a.m., EST, the computers put Illinois into Nixon's column and television's greatest drama and longest program of the season came to a climax. The nation had seen its president elected, and the big show was over.

43-43-17

The windup was moving. First there were the closeups of a man near tears, fatigue puffing his face, gamely conceding defeat and generously congratulating his successful opponent.

The wear of Richard M. Nixon's long campaign and election-night vigil showed on his face, too, a half-hour later when he appeared before the cameras.

By one audience poll, some 65-million Americans had watched the returns on the three major networks through Tuesday evening.

From early dawn until Illinois ballots started to come in during the morning, the most interesting—and static—statistics were 43-43-17, the percentage of popular votes rolled up by the candidates Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace.

Since the live windup of the national election had been strictly a day-time show, it was repeated at the end of the day, in the news shows and in special, NBC had an hour's resume during the dinner hour and CBS had an hour's program at the end of its evening schedule.

CONCEDED

Bob Hope, who came along on NBC Wednesday night with a special program, was following a very tough act, attempting to entertain an audience that had stayed up most of the previous night.

Hope started his usual monologue at the top of the show, a taped portion with the astronauts in Houston—some space jokes and a couple of observations about Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis' recent wedding.

Voters Made Few Mistakes

Despite the heavy vote and the change in voting procedure, from the old style of scratching all unwanted candidates' names to the "X" system for the favored contender, Howard County voters made few balloting errors Tuesday.

A check of the reported mutilated or rejected ballots for the 21 voting boxes and the special canvassing board showed less than 100. Nearly 11,000 voters went to the polls in this county Tuesday.

News media and political organizations have been waging an intensified educational campaign for some weeks to familiarize voters with the change in voting procedures.

Use of the "X" did not seem to confuse the voters as much as had been expected. As a result none of the election precinct judges reported any difficulty.

Nixon's Peace Talks Role Likely To Be Top Priority

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's first priority in the days until his Jan. 20 inauguration likely will be to work out an agreement with President Johnson on his role in the current Vietnam peace drive.

There are no immediate signs that Nixon has decided he wants to make a personal pilgrimage, although he said in the late stages of his presidential campaign that he is willing to travel to either Saigon or Paris to get the stalled peace talks moving.

The possibility remained, however, that Johnson might decide to ask the president-elect to help convince South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu to send a delegation to the Paris meetings with North Vietnam.

REFUSAL

Thieu's refusal to join in negotiations that include the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, has stalled the Paris negotiations. Nixon suggested in a campaign TV speech last Sunday that "President Johnson and President-Elect Nixon could knock out the idea that Hanoi is going to gain from the negotiating table what they cannot gain from the battlefield"—an obvious fear of the Saigon government.

There has been speculation that Saigon may be more willing to listen to Nixon or his representative at this point than to Johnson.

Besides the concern over the war, Nixon said that the "great objective" of his administration would be "to bring the American people together."

Considering that less than half of the Americans who voted in Tuesday's record turnout picked him for president, this looks at the beginning like a difficult undertaking.

'NEW IDEAS'

Nixon promised in his victory statement "an open door administration—open to new ideas."

But faced with a Democratic controlled Congress there is some doubt about how far any "new ideas" will get.

Nixon has promised to maintain close relations with Johnson, who has pledged full cooperation. But it remained to be seen how cordial these would be with a Democratic president who has constantly attacked Nixon.

Also the budget Johnson submits to Congress before he retires could fence Nixon in on the all-important matter of expenditures.

While he will have the opportunity to make changes in Johnson's recommendations, the new president would probably find it impossible to make a top to bottom revision.

Nixon's prospects in getting his way in Congress are cloudy. Minimal changes in the House lineup left him subject to mollifying Southern Democrats to get the kind of legislation he may suggest.

HINTS FROM HELOISE Tie Perky Net Bows For Hanger Covers

Dear Heloise: May I tell you about the perkiest nylon net idea that I've seen yet?

It's a fancy wire coat hanger made with 3/4" x 5/8" pieces of colorful nylon net.

The pieces of net (approximately 165) are easily TIED all the way around the wire of a hanger and pushed together just as close as possible. No need to even tie them in a real hard knot. Just loop the net once and pull it tight, then push it up against the previous one added.

The stem and hook part of the hanger are wrapped with a narrow piece of velvet ribbon for a lovely, finished look.

The good thing about this is the ends of the nylon rectangles stick out and make the fluffiest hanger to use for those special dresses because it absolutely won't leave a crease across the shoulders. And truly great for hanging drip dries on because the net holds the garment away from the hanger so the air can circulate through it.

Oh, what a dream of an idea. And wouldn't they be just the thing for Bluebirds and Girl Scouts to make for church bazaars — especially as they don't require any sewing at all.

Bless your sweet heart for sending this in ... Heloise

Dear Heloise: Anyone having a hard time keeping shoe strings tied?

Just put a tiny piece of clear cellophane tape over the knot, then tie the bow and it will remain tied all day.

Dear Heloise: At wit's end to amuse the children? Here's a new way to use their coloring crayons which will fascinate 'em for hours.

Hand them the uncolored comic pages of the daily paper, together with their crayons and a small square of ordinary window screen. A piece of screen about six by six inches is fine. Bend under any protruding wires on the edges so little fingers won't get stuck.

Have them place the screen under the picture they want to color before applying the crayon to the paper. The "color dotted" result will keep them busy occupied indefinitely and re-awaken their interest in coloring ... Howard S. Pyle.

Dear Heloise: It's a wish of mine that every box packed for a serviceman in Vietnam contain an inexpensive mechanical toy of some kind. What a wonderful way to promote friendship — in the giving of some little dime store novelty to a Vietnamese child.

The box to my son in Korea contained a trapeze toy. It made a Korean boy very happy (after every soldier had a turn playing with the toy).

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew plans to spend the rest of the week clearing his desk of the paper work that has been accumulating since his campaign began, then take some time off in the Virgin Islands.

Brothers Are Held In 'Star' Slaying

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two young brothers, described by police as transients from the Chicago area, were booked on suspicion of murder Wednesday night in the bludgeoning death of silent screen lover Ramon Novarro.

Thomas ran away from their mother's home in Round Lake, Ill., three weeks ago.

Paul Robert Ferguson, 22 and his 17-year-old brother, Thomas Scott Ferguson, were arrested in Bell Gardens, just southeast of downtown Los Angeles.

An autopsy indicated the old-time star suffocated on blood from his broken nose and battered mouth while lying unconscious. Furniture was overturned, and Novarro's glasses had been smashed.

UN Expected To Okay Ocean Development Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for an international Decade of Ocean Development is expected to get unanimous approval in the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee.

law use of the ocean floor for war purposes. He said a treaty must be worked out to reserve the sea bed for peaceful uses or mankind will face the threat of nuclear war being waged from the bottom of the ocean.

Not only did Eggers garner more than 1,139,000 votes, barely outdistancing Nixon, but he also set a new record for the most votes ever cast in a statewide race for a Texas Republican.

EGGERS SURPRISE Vote counters said he got about 44 per cent of the record vote cast by Texans. In July a carefully guarded GOP survey showed he might get 20 per cent.

And the state GOP expects to hear more from Eggers. Bush and Eggers are the two most attractive young campaigners presently available with proven vote-getting ability.

A resolution sponsored by the United States and 18 other nations welcomes Johnson's proposal last March to begin a 10-year program in 1970 to promote the peaceful uses of the ocean floor.

The 125-nation committee is also expected today to approve two other resolutions dealing with the sea bed.

EGGERS AND SMITH In the third phase, just before the election, Eggers concentrated on the 26 most urbanized areas of Texas, where there were the most votes, and on television and radio appearances.

Another, introduced by the United States, the Soviet Union and 28 other nations, calls on all nations to take measures to minimize pollution of the oceans from seabed mining and drilling.

Gunnar G. Schram of Iceland urged that some sort of machinery be set up to determine responsibility in sea bed exploration.

A case of pollution can present a grave threat to countries far from the source, Schram told the committee.

A year's study of the sea bed carried out under U.N. auspices, has noted that huge resources in oil, gas, manganese and phosphate exist on the under the ocean floor.

Hamilton S. Amrashinge of Ceylon, who directed the survey, told the committee that his group is studying ways to out-

150 Americans Killed In Action

SAIGON (AP) — Combat casualties in Vietnam increased last week, the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported today, but they still were at a lower level than in the weeks of heavier fighting earlier in the year.

The U.S. Command said 150 Americans were killed in action last week, compared with 109 the previous week and 100 the week before.

There were 1,214 Americans wounded last week, with 429 requiring hospitalization, the U.S. Command said. The number of wounded during the previous week totaled 717.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 129 government soldiers killed last week, 684 wounded and 16 missing in action, compared with 103 killed, 578 wounded and two missing the week before.

The allied commands said 1,393 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed last week and increased the previous week's enemy toll from 1,289 to 1,995.

The report raised to 29,184 the number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961, while the total number of wounded reported is 183,349, of whom 95,880 were hospitalized. Another 1,217 Americans are listed as missing, captured or interned.

Thanks A Lot

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — The owner of Alamogordo radio station KALG, Terry Clark, was elected Otero County surveyor. But he says he'll resign because he doesn't want it and isn't qualified.

There were no candidates running for the office and two of Clark's friends wrote him in. Three other persons, none of them qualified, received one vote each.

Crash Claims Five Texans

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Five motorists died and three suffered injuries in a highway crash involving two cars and a heavy truck about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday.

State patrolman Bob Gray said a southbound car clipped the rear wheels of the truck and collided head-on with the second automobile 1.6 miles north of the Anna community, 20 miles south of here in North Texas.

It was raining at the time.

Gray listed these dead: Wendell A. Rich, 51, of Denison; George Holmes, 24, and Mildred Fowler, 20, both of McKinney; Kenneth R. Samuels, 20, of Dallas, and an unidentified woman, about 20, believed from Beaumont.

The officer said a car driven by Leonard F. Tell, about 20, glanced off the truck's rear wheels and collided with the vehicle driven by Billy Don Rich, 25, of Denison, son of one of the dead.

Injuries also were suffered by Mary E. Rich, 51, mother of Billy Don.

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas College Coordinating Board sold $12 million in bonds Wednesday to help send youths to college and delayed a look at a proposal for a joint junior college election in Comal and Guadalupe counties.

Dr. Bevington Reed, state commissioner of higher education, said the junior college proposal was not completed in time for the board's staff to check it before it went to the board.

The junior college petition proposed a $2.5 million bond issue and a property tax not to exceed 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago was the low bidder for the student loan bonds, with 3.8673 per cent interest to be paid by the state. Joint managers will be Chase Manhattan Bank of New York and First National Bank of Dallas.

COLLEGE LOANS
Board chairman John Gray of Beaumont said 29,480 students already have used loans under the three-year-old program to help pay their college costs. Each student has averaged receiving $739 under the program, he said, as a total of $21,789,229 has been paid out.

The board also approved fine arts programs at nine schools and approved administrative reorganization of fine arts programs at the University of Texas at Arlington and West Texas State University.

Gray announced that following next Monday's hearing on future plans for higher education in North Texas and locations for new dental and medical schools the board would meet Dec. 3 to hand down its decisions.

NEW PROGRAMS
New academic programs approved included:
—Bachelor of fine arts in art at Sam Houston State College.
—Bachelor's degree in education with a major in drama at Southwest Texas State College.
—Bachelor of fine arts degree in art at Stephen F. Austin State College.
—Bachelor of music education degree at Tarleton State College.
—Bachelor of fine arts degree with a major in art at Texas Tech.
—Bachelor of arts in speech and drama, a bachelor of fine arts in art and a bachelor of music degree at UT-Arlington.

—Bachelor of music degree at West Texas State.
—Master of fine arts with a major in art and a master of music degree at Tech.
—Major in art under master of arts degree at West Texas State.

The board approved construction of a $1.5 million physical education complex at Angelo State College, which will include a field house and swimming pool, and a $200,000 maintenance building.

The board also opened up the state plan for higher education facilities so Texas schools can get up to 50 per cent federal financing on construction projects and adopted a list of priorities for federal funds under the community services program of 1965.

First on the list of 39 priorities was $28,325 for Texas A&M's extension for model cities agencies and second was $37,144 for Tech's television series of urban local government affairs.

Mrs. King Wishes Nixon 'Success'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The widow of slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says she wishes President-elect Richard M. Nixon "every success in the heavy social responsibilities that now are his."

Mrs. King said Wednesday that Nixon will have the complex task of representing the nation and he will "have to constructively relate to the black community which so heavily supported his opponent."

Convention Call In New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexicans expressed overwhelmingly Tuesday a desire to revamp the state's 56-year-old and much amended constitution, voting more than 2-1 in favor of a constitutional convention call.

The next step is for the New Mexico Legislature to establish the method for the convention call and convention membership.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

The Poor-Budget Man

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who spends more than he earns? Sam is very extravagant, and says as long as he's the one who makes the money in the family he can spend it as he sees fit. (He doesn't save a dime.)

We're behind on our payments for things he's bought on time, and since Sam has insisted on handling the checkbook we are always overdrawn.

My husband's occupation? An accountant. FED UP!

DEAR FED UP: So what is new? The shoemaker's kids go barefoot, doctors neglect their own health, and lawyers get into legal jams. So why can't an accountant mishandle his own money? My advice to you is to take your books out of your husband's office before you wind up in the poor house.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "HEARTSICK," the young wife who found some beads in the front seat of her husband's car.

Several years ago, I left my husband in a restaurant to curl up in the front seat of the car as it was very late and I was exhausted. It was pitch dark in the parking area.

I kicked off my shoes and curled up in the front seat of what turned out to be the same make and model car as ours. The next thing I knew, a strange man was shaking me awake, asking me what I was doing in his car? I was so frightened and mortified that I ran off without my shoes.

I am still "heartsick" for that poor man who no doubt had to explain the presence of a pair of ladies' shoes in his car. Your advice — to give the husband a break even in the face of all that incriminating evidence — was excellent.

HEARTSICK NUMBER 11

"CONFIDENTIAL TO 'HUNGRY FOR LOVE' ON FRANKLIN AVENUE": You give me now a clue as to why you are "love-starved," but if you are like most women with the same complaint, may I give you a few?

What kind of reception does YOUR man get when he comes home?

Most men drag their weary bodies home after a hard day of wrestling with bosses, customers, and competitive co-workers. No sooner do they get a foot in the door when the little woman hits them with junior's report card, or the news that Penelope needs a new dress for the prom.

During dinner, the old arguments are aired about Susie's make-up and David's hair. Also, the washing machine man was there today and said that to fix the machine would cost nearly as much as a new one, so how about it?

The evening falls, and the bedroom is supposed to be transformed into the honeymoon suite at the Waldorf. Ha! He is tired, and she is tired of being told he's tired.

So, improve your timing, Lady. Greet your man at the door with a smile and a kiss. Shove the bills in the drawer, table those complaints, and tell the kids to keep quiet or you'll put a muzzle on 'em. If you want to be loved, set the emotional climate in your home.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MRS. SPIKE DYKES

Coach's Wife Shares In Husband's Career

By RHODA LEMONS

"A coach's life is filled with joys and disappointments, and a coach's wife shares it all," said Mrs. Spike Dykes, wife of the head coach and athletic director at Big Spring Senior High School.

The couple lives at 2513 Ann and has two children, Rick, eight, a third-grader at Kentwood Elementary School, and Beth, seven, a second-grader at the same school.

Mrs. Dykes enthusiastically shares her husband's life and attends approximately three ball games a week with the junior varsity, the sophomore and the varsity teams all playing.

"People expect and should get the best of the team each time it plays," said Mrs. Dykes noting that they have always had "nice" fans who could be counted on whether the team won or lost.

Dykes leaves the house at 6 a.m., and Mrs. Dykes arises later to cook breakfast for the children and get them off to school. Actually she does not see a lot of her husband because of late practice sessions during football season, and he keeps the gymnasium open several nights during the week.

"We always have a nice summer together when we take a two-week trip," said Mrs. Dykes.

In cooking for her family, Mrs. Dykes said that the family favorite is pot roast with gravy. Mrs. Dykes occasionally joins the children at their evening meal, but usually waits for her husband to come home so they may eat together.

Mrs. Dykes has a secret of pouring one cup of black coffee into the juice from her pot roast to make a delicious gravy. She said that her mother used one cup of wine, which is even better, but that coffee was more readily available.

The Dykes have been married 18 years during which they have moved nine times. Mrs. Dykes said that she has enjoyed living in most of the places they have been, and she finds it fun to redecorate another home and meet new people.

Mrs. Dykes has a theory of "living each moment as it comes," and her sense of humor usually rises above all else. She thinks that she is involved in too many activities and that she is unable to do the things she really loves to do including gardening and charcoal sketching. She plans to cancel some activities to give herself time for more enjoyable things.

Mrs. Dykes cooks food for freezer storage and plans menus in advance. She has tried both methods, "pre-planning and haphazard" and admits that she cannot tell much difference in the outcome.

She likes to mix decors in her home and has refurnished a number of antiques which mix nicely with contemporary furnishings. She is especially attracted to the Spanish motif and thinks it more practical to get just one piece of furniture at a time, rather than a room full.

The Dykes entertain informally and usually serve snacks and chips. They enjoy card games, and Mrs. Dykes plays bridge.

"I make the worst coffee in the world," said Mrs. Dykes. Whenever possible, she gets her husband or someone else to make it.

Serve Hot Muffins On Occasion

Special occasion dinners, luncheons or breakfasts, demand a delightful hot bread as a crowning touch.

Muffins are easily mixed since all the dry ingredients go together in a large bowl. Lard to make them tender is then cut in, as for biscuits or pie crust. The egg and milk are added last with mixing only to blend.

This hot bread will bake with rounded tops if muffin cups are filled only two-thirds full. There will also be an attractive glaze as well as sparkle when the muffins are brushed before baking with an egg white-water mixture, sprinkled with sugar.

SUGAR FROST MUFFINS

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup lard
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 2 tbsps. water

Grease 12 medium muffin pans. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Add brown sugar and mix well. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine even crumb. Beat one whole egg and one egg yolk, reserving one egg white for topping. Combine beaten egg and milk and add to dry ingredients, stirring only until blended. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Beat egg white, add two tablespoons water to egg white and brush over top of muffins. Sprinkle each muffin with one teaspoon granulated sugar. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.

Make Afternoon Refresher Snack

Delicate lemon flavor distinguishes these delicious cookies.

BROWNSTONE COOKIES

- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 2 sticks (1/2 lb.) butter
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 eggs yolk
- Grated rind of 1 large lemon
- 1 tsp. lemon juice
- 1 egg white
- 1/2 cup very finely chopped walnuts

On wax paper sift together flour and baking powder. In large bowl cream butter and sugar; add egg yolks, one teaspoon of the grated lemon rind and the lemon juice; beat thoroughly. Gradually stir in sifted ingredients.

Chill, covered, if necessary to make dough firm enough for rolling. On floured pastry cloth with floured stockinet-covered rolling pin roll out dough, one-quarter at a time, about 1/8 inch thick.

Use two-inch round cookie cutter to cut out. Place about one-inch apart on buttered cookie sheets. Beat egg white until frothy; brush over cookies; mix walnuts and remaining lemon rind; sprinkle over egg white.

Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned, 10 to 12 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool. Store in tightly covered tin box. Makes about 6 1/2 dozen.

Imperial Sugarland Production Spans 125 Years In Texas

Sam Houston was in his second term as president of the Republic of Texas. The Indians had become relatively quiet. Only minor skirmishes were developing with Mexico, and Texans were beginning to settle down to the job of building a life and economy for their fledgling nation.

The year was 1843. Along the banks of Oyster Creek about 20 miles southwest of the little town of Houston, hands on the S. M. Williams plantation were excited. They were going to start making sugar.

Among other things, Stephen F. Austin's colonists brought sugar cane plants with them from Louisiana when they first settled in Texas in 1821. These plants grew well in the rich South Texas soil, and as more and more colonists arrived they spread the growth of the sweet-tasting cane until the whole valley around the Brazos River became known as the "sugar bowl."

Making syrup from the cane juices was an individual proposition, and usually only enough sugar was made to fill the needs of those living in the immediate vicinity.

On the Williams Plantation on Oyster Creek, things were going to be different. They were going to produce cane sugar in quantity, and maybe even sell some of it.

Large cast-iron kettles had been set up under covered sheds. Fire grates were built under them. A grinding mill was ready to squeeze the sweetish juice from the cane stalks, as slaves brought cane in from the fields.

So it was, in 1843, that Texas' first sugar mill was established and began operation. It was a crude affair and located outdoors, but it did produce cane sugar. Everyone in the area began to refer to the place as "Sugar Land," and the name stuck.

Cane-growing and sugar-milling prospered at Sugar Land and in the Texas "sugar bowl" for the next decade, with more than 35 mills on plantations in Fort Bend, Brazoria, Wharton, Matagorda and neighboring counties.

Following the War Between the States, with slavery at an end, most of the mills closed. Many plantations were broken up. One survivor was the mill on the Williams Plantation.

Late in the 19th Century, Col. Edward H. Cunningham bought the plantation, and when most of Texas' sugar mills were in ruins expanded the mill at Sugar Land, adding equipment to make refined as well as raw sugar.

The early years of the 20th Century witnessed a further decline in Texas' cane-growing activity, however. As this was happening, the demand for refined sugar from the Sugar Land plant continued to increase year by year.

To meet the demand, it became necessary to start importing raw sugar from other lands. In 1902, the first cargo of West Indian raw sugar was brought to the Sugar Land refinery through the Port of Galveston.

The plant then had a capacity of less than 100,000 pounds a day but the demand continued to grow and so did the refinery.

In 1906, Cunningham Sugar Company was purchased by I. H. Kemper of Galveston, and Col. W. T. Eldridge of Sugar Land.

The new owners wanted to re-name their enterprise and the search for a new name began.

As a young man, Mr. Kemper had visited the old Imperial Hotel in New York City. Its grandeur and unmistakable hallmark of quality had deeply impressed him. He also remembered that the hotel's stationery had been decorated with a crown.

So, the name became "Imperial," and its symbol, a crown. To the new owners of Imperial Sugar Company, these seemed to express their feelings for a name and a symbol that would suitably identify their company as one which produced refined cane sugar of unsurpassed quality.

The growth of Imperial Sugar Company since that time has been healthy and progressive. It has played a vital, constructive and far-reaching role in the industrial development of Texas.

Listed below are recipes from the 125th Anniversary Cookbook that you may receive by sending $1 and the red block marked pure cane from an empty bag or carton of Imperial Sugar. The address is Imperial Sugar Company, P.O. Box 530, Sugar Land, Texas, 77478.

ANGEL FOOD ROYAL

- 1 large angel food cake
- 1 cup Imperial Granulated Sugar
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 4 egg yolks, beaten
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 cups milk, scalded
- 1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- 2 tbsps. milk
- 2 cups whipping cream, whipped

pot-roast
3 tbsps. lard or drippings
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 medium-sized green pepper, cut in strips
1 can (16 oz.) unsweetened apples slices
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 tbsps. brown-sugar

Brown pot-roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water, soy sauce, pepper and onion. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 1/2 to three hours, or until meat is almost tender. Add green pepper, apples, raisins and brown sugar. Continue cooking 30 minutes, or until meat is tender. Makes six to eight servings.

POT-ROAST WITH APPLES

- 3 to 4 lb. beef arm or blade

Flavor Your Pot Roast

Apples, raisins and green pepper strips make this beef pot-roast a menu treat for chilly evenings. Serve with buttered, parsleyed carrot sticks and baked potatoes, topped with sour cream and cooked bacon.

Cook Pot Roast With Apples And Raisins

Pot-roast is a homey kind of entree but it takes on an air of sophistication when fruits are cooked with it. With apples and raisins coming back into season, these are ideal companions for this popular beef cut.

Most often chosen cuts for pot-roast come from the chuck or shoulder section. These are either blade bone or arm (round) bone pot-roads.

Both of these are considered less tender. That means they're cooked by a slow, moist method called braising. Meat is browned first, then drippings are poured off. A small amount of liquid, water in this case, is added with soy sauce for the actual cooking or tenderizing process.

POT-ROAST WITH APPLES
3 to 4 lb. beef arm or blade

2 tps. vanilla
1/2 cup chopped pecans or toasted, sliced almonds

Blend Imperial Granulated Sugar with flour. Add beaten egg yolks and salt. Mix carefully with scalded milk and cook in top of double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Soak gelatin in two tablespoons milk. Add to hot custard mixture and cool completely. When almost set, fold in whipped cream and vanilla.

With sharp knife, split cake into two layers. Spread part of custard mixture on bottom layer; sprinkle with nuts. Place top layer on; cover entire cake with remainder of custard. Refrigerate at least two hours before serving. Makes 12 servings.

GRANDMOTHER ADA'S GINGERBREAD

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup Imperial Granulated Sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 cup molasses
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. ground cloves
- 1 tsp. ginger
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 1/2 tps. baking soda
- 1 cup hot water

Cream butter and Imperial Granulated Sugar; add egg and molasses, mixing well. Sift together dry ingredients and add to first mixture; add hot water and beat until smooth. Pour into lightly greased and floured 9-inch square pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes.

Add Spicy Relish To Enliven Meal

A spicy offering from pantry shelf ingredients.

PEAR CHUTNEY

- 1 can (1 lb., 13 oz.) Bartlett pear halves
- 1 can (1 lb.) Italian-style peeled tomatoes
- 2 medium onions, diced (1 cup)
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup distilled white vinegar
- 1/2 cup currants, rinsed in hot water and drained
- 1/4 cup currants, rinsed in hot water and drained
- 1/4 cup fine strips syrup-pressed ginger, lightly packed
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. ground ginger
- 2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce

Cut each pear half into eight pieces; turn into a three-quart saucepot with the pear syrup and the undrained tomatoes. Add remaining ingredients. Boil vigorously, stirring often, for one to one and one-fourth hours; mix mixture is of chutney consistency; stir almost constantly for the last 15 minutes or so of cooking to prevent sticking.

The pear pieces should keep their shape. Makes one quart. Cover and store in the refrigerator.

Use Canned Meat

Make cooking easy on yourself by using canned meats. They are as nutritionally rich as the meat you cook yourself. Requiring no further cooking, they can be served either hot or cold. Keep a supply handy.

Try New Topping For Steak Slices

Mushrooms from the pantry shelf make an excellent topping for steak.

MUSHROOMS AND ONIONS

- 3 tbsps. butter
- 1 1/2 cups thin strips onion
- 1 can (6 oz.) chopped mushrooms, drained

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat, melt the butter. Add the onion and cook gently, stirring occasionally, until golden-brown. Add mushrooms and gently heat about five minutes. Makes four to six servings. Serve over slices of steak.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

When cookie dough is rich, always roll a small amount at one time and use a prepared pastry cloth and a cloth-covered rolling pin.

Cranberries have been used as a pie filling over the years. Nowadays some good cooks like to team the cranberries with raisins to achieve a pleasant combination of tart and sweet.

Mix tomato juice with clear beef broth; add a few sprigs of parsley, a whole clove or two and some peppercorns. Heat and serve as a first-course offering on a brisk day. Be sure to remove the parsley, cloves and peppercorns before serving.

Coating pork chops with seasoned flour before frying? Add a little ground ginger to the seasoned flour.

When you are buying half of a fully cooked ham, you may want to have a slice removed for separate cooking. Have the slice a couple of inches thick and bake it on a rack in a shallow pan in a slow oven (325 degrees) for about 40 minutes.

Giant GOP Grip On State Houses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six of the seven biggest states will have Republican governors next January, with the GOP holding a 31 to 19 edge nationwide—the party's biggest majority since the first years of the Eisenhower administration.

In all, Republicans will replace Democratic governors in seven states and there will be Democrats in place of Republicans in two others—for a net GOP gain of five.

AGNEW ACTION
Ironically, the Republican presidential victory Tuesday will eventually put another statehouse in the Democratic column. Maryland has no lieutenant governor and the successor to Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, vice president-elect will be named by the Democratic-controlled legislature.

The election of Richard B. Ogilvie puts Illinois in Republican hands along with New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan where governors were not up for re-election. Texas, which elected Lt. Gov. Preston Smith to succeed retiring Gov. John Connally, is the only one of the most populous seven to have a Democrat as governor.

SWITCHING
Besides Illinois, states that switched from a Democrat to a Republican are Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, New Hampshire, Vermont and West Virginia.

Montana and Rhode Island went from a Republican to a Democrat. Otherwise, the parties had an even split Tuesday. Arizona, New Mexico, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin and Arkansas, returned Republicans to the governor's mansion. Kansas, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, and Utah joined Texas in retaining Democrats.

A total of 13 Republicans and 8 Democrats were elected. States that did not have a gubernatorial election this year were in control of 18 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

PATTERN
There wasn't any clear pattern of governors riding in on the presidential candidate's coattails. Kansas, Montana, North Carolina, North Dakota and Utah voted for Richard M. Nixon, while electing Democrats as governor. Utah and West Virginia were for Hubert Humphrey but voted Republicans for governors.

Incumbents re-elected are Jack Williams of Arizona, Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, Robert Docking of Kansas, Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, David F. Cargo of New Mexico, William L. Guy of North Dakota, Calvin L. Hampton of Utah, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin.

Three governors were defeated in re-election bids: In Delaware, Gov. Charles L. Terry by Russell W. Peterson; in Montana, Gov. Tim Babcock by Forrest H. Anderson; in Rhode Island, Gov. John Chafee by Frank Licht.

That's Her Right
WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — Anita Bartlett decided to do more than exercise her right to vote when she turned 21. She ran for office as circuit clerk in Lawrence County—and won.

What if she hadn't won? "I'd have cried."

Wallace Contributed To Slim Nixon Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — George C. Wallace's third-party effort for the presidency appears to have played a substantial part in putting Republican Richard M. Nixon in the White House.

The votes he pulled in five key industrial states—California, Illinois, New Jersey, Ohio and Wisconsin—could have had the effect of nudging these states and their 121 electoral votes into Nixon's column. Wallace appears to have pulled much of his support from blue-collar union workers. They usually support Democrats.

It is true that the five Southern states the former Alabama governor won were regarded as strong Nixon territory before Wallace came along but their electoral votes total only 45. So electoral votes Wallace took from Nixon in the South may have been far fewer than those he denied to Hubert H. Humphrey in the North.

Although the third-party candidate ran a weak third in their states, Democratic leaders in California, Illinois and New Jersey attributed the Humphrey loss of their states' 83 electoral votes to the Wallace candidacy.

In Ohio and Wisconsin, with 38 electoral votes, politicians were less sure of Wallace's impact.

HATE VOTES
Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey said the results in his state were "a victory for Wallace and the hate vote, not a victory for Nixon over Humphrey."

Late, unofficial results put Nixon 54,000 votes ahead of Humphrey but Wallace polled some 253,000 votes.

Hughes said inroads by Wallace in Democratic strongholds such as Hudson, Middlesex, Passaic and Essex counties kept down Humphrey's pluralities.

In California, where Wallace polled some 481,000 votes while Nixon was ahead by only 221,000, former Democratic National Committeeman Eugene L. Wyman said Humphrey would have carried the state in a two-way race.

He said Wallace's votes were mainly in blue-collar and suburban areas, adding "it would have been difficult for these people to vote for Nixon."

NUISANCE
But Leon Cooper, the new national committeeman and Humphrey's state chairman, disagreed, calling Wallace's vote "of nuisance value. It made the election closer, but that's about all."

In Illinois, where Wallace polled 336,000 and Nixon was leading by 74,000, William Flanagan of the All-Illinois Committee for Hubert H. Humphrey-Edmund S. Muskie said "Obviously the Wallace vote cut both ways, but also obviously it cut in the Humphrey vote more. It could have made the difference."

In Wisconsin, where Wallace's total of 126,000 was about double Nixon's margin, John Schmitt, president of the state AFL-CIO, said he could not guess at this stage which candidate was hurt most by Wallace.

In Ohio, there was mixed reaction. Frank King, president of the state AFL-CIO and Senate Democratic leader, said "I think many of the Wallace votes would have gone to Nixon anyway." But a Cincinnati Republican leader, David Bodley, said most of the Wallace vote in that area came from blue-collar, normally Democratic wards in the inner city.

Mrs. Onassis was on her way to spend the day sightseeing on the nearby island of Madouiri. At the helm is the Christina's captain, C. Anastasiadis.

Political Experts Talking About Humphrey For Senate

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Some Democratic leaders are already talking of a political comeback for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey—as the 1970 candidate for the U.S. Senate seat Eugene J. McCarthy says he will not try to retain in the party.

SECLUSION
Speculation began almost as soon as his fight for the presidency was over, even as Humphrey left Wednesday for his lakeside home in Waverly to spend a few days in seclusion with his family. Friends of the vice president say his commitment to the race for the White House was total and included no thought of defeat. And they say Humphrey has no plans for the future now.

Many observers who have watched Humphrey as mayor of Minneapolis, senator and vice president expect him to "go on to something else." They expect it to be the U.S. Senate.

In endorsing Humphrey for the presidency last week, McCarthy said he will not seek reelection to the seat as a Democrat. Although he didn't rule out running as a third-party candidate, state party leaders say they expect him to bow out.

HAPPENING

Thus the way would be open for Humphrey to return to the job he left in 1964 when Lyndon B. Johnson chose him as his vice presidential running mate.

Although he lost the national election Tuesday, Humphrey got 899,078 votes in Minnesota or 54 per cent of the total. Richard M.

Nixon got 42 per cent and George C. Wallace 5 per cent.

This happened in a state with a Republican governor, a congressional delegation dominated by Republicans and a state legislature controlled by the Republican-oriented conservatives.

Detective Faces Murder Charge

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — A Beaumont police detective has been charged with murder with malice in the shooting death of a fellow detective.

Jefferson County authorities charged that Henry Chumley, 34, shot Billy Widner, 36, several times with a .38-caliber job he left in 1964 when Lyndon B. Johnson chose him as his vice presidential running mate.

Chumley has been on the police force here for nine years and Widner for 10 years.

Chumley was arraigned before Judge Horace Blades and released on $5,000 bond.

4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♣
The apparent solidity of his trump holding blinded South to the necessity for taking out insurance against the perversities of unfavorable distribution in his four spade contract—and the result was an unnecessary deficit on the deal.

West opened the four of hearts which was taken in the closed hand by the lone ace. It appeared to declarer that he could score up an over-trick on the deal with no strain, losing only to the ace and king of clubs.

He proceeded to draw trumps; however, when East showed out on the second round, South realized that it was not going to be as routine an effort as he had anticipated. He abandoned the trump suit to work on the development of some club tricks.

East won the first club trick with the king and returned the king of hearts which declarer ruffed. The next club was taken by West's ace and another round of hearts forced South once more, reducing his spade holding to the queen-jack alone while West still had trumps left.

Declarer cashed his remaining spades, but West ruffed in when the queen of clubs was led and the defense proceeded to cash two heart tricks. The result was a 100 point deficit for North and South.

Declarer's belated efforts in the club suit came a little too late to do him any good. Only an unfavorable trump break can cause him any concern on the deal and, inasmuch as the opponents have launched their initial attack against his weakest suit, he should leave the long trump in dummy as a protection against repeated heart forces while he works on the clubs.

If South plays a club at trick two, East can ruff him down by returning the king of hearts. On the next round of clubs, West is in but, if he returns another heart, the ruff can be taken in dummy as South discards from his hand. Any other return by West leaves declarer in full control of the proceedings, for he still has as many trumps left as West. South cashes his high spades and proceeds to play off good tricks until West ruffs in. Declarer trumps the heart return and claims the rest. He loses, in all, two clubs and one spade.
