McCARTHY SAYS Delay On Dove Stand Cost HHH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said Saturday a delay by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in softening his Vietnam position cost him the presidency in Tuesday's close contest.

McCarthy said in an interview he had no remorse for delaying his own endorsement of Humphrey, who defeated him for the Democratic nomination, until a few days before the election.

DECLINES TO GUESS

The Minnesota senator declined to speculate on whether Humphrey's narrow loss to Republican Richard M. Nixon might have been averted if McCarthy had not limited his endorsement to an announcement that he would vote for Humphrey and had campaigned actively for him.

"If Vice President Humphrey had changed his position on Vietnam earlier in the campaign, instead of waiting until the last week to do it, he would have won," McCarthy said.

McCarthy said he regarded as significant two Humphrey statements late in the campaign. He said these were Humphrey's expressed willingness to have the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, represented at the Paris talks and his declaration that the Saigon government should not have a veto on important American decisions.

FATHER, SON Pair Arrested In Plot Against Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — A father and son, both from Yemen, were charged Saturday night with conspiracy to murder President-elect Richard M. Nixon, police headquarters said.

Police said the two men were arrested in a tenement in Brooklyn's East New York section about 6 p.m.

MI RIFLE, SHELLS

Police also confiscated an M1 army rifle and a carbine and 20 to 25 .30-caliber shells to go with them.

They identified the two men as Ahmed Rageh Namer, 46, who came to the United States 13 years ago but never took out citizenship, and his son, Abdo Ahmed Namer, 20, who had been here two years.

Two other men also were being questioned. They were not identified.

Police headquarters said the father and son also were charged with criminal solicitation in the first degree and possession of the two weapons. The criminal solicitation charge was not immediately explained.

DETAILS NOT AVAILABLE

Details of the alleged plot were not available either.

The arrests were first disclosed by Elliott Golden, acting district attorney in Brooklyn. He said that the arrests were made in East New York, which is a Negro slum.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

It was a busy week, and in some respects an historic one. For one thing, the general (and presidential) election drew a record number of ballots. Despite forebodings about mutilated ballots, there were only about 100 out of 10,848 cast. Guess what caused most of the invalid ballots to be tossed out? People neither signed nor detached the tiny tag which goes in a separate box from the ballot.

Another point at which we almost made more history was the weather. Snow fell on Nov. 8, tying a record set previously in 1955. Temperatures dipped to 31 and 32, but although it will go in the books as the first frost, there was actually very little killing of vegetation. Despite a snow covering, not even the tomato vines were seriously nipped. We did get 4 of an inch moisture.

NO DEATHS OR SERIOUS DAMAGE REPORTED Strong Earthquake Rocks 20 States

By The Associated Press

A strong earthquake centered in Southern Illinois shook more than a third of the United States Saturday, rolling across at least 20 states.

The shock was felt by millions of persons, and it swayed numberless buildings, but there were no immediate reports of serious damage or of any casualties.

The tremor rolled out from Illinois to Kansas and Oklahoma on the west, West Virginia and the Carolinas on the east, south to Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas, and north to Wisconsin and Michigan.

The quake was reported in Minnesota, Arkansas, Illinois, Ohio, Tennessee, Missouri, Kansas, Georgia, Kentucky, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Indiana, Nebraska, Iowa, Alabama, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Oklahoma and Michigan.

The National Earthquake Information Center in Washington, D.C., said the epicenter of the quake—the point on the earth's surface directly above the shock—was 120 miles east of St. Louis, Mo., at 38.5 degrees north, 88 degrees west. That is in Illinois near the Indiana state line.

Tentative first reports had indicated the epicenter was at New Madrid, Mo., the heart of disastrous tremors in 1811-1812.

Carl von Hake, acting chief of the center, said the quake had a magnitude of 5.5 on the 10-point Richter scale, which is just under the usual damage level of 6.

A built-up, populated area, can experience damage from a quake that registers less than 6.

Because the quake hit a wide and populated area, Von Hake characterized it as strong.

The 1964 earthquake that devastated much of Alaska registered about 8.5 on the Richter scale.

Large buildings in St. Louis swayed noticeably for about 10 seconds after the quake struck. A seismograph report from Xavier University in Cincinnati said the shock was recorded at 12:03.30 p.m. EST.

There were widespread reports of swaying buildings, trembling walls and desks moving. There were scattered reports of minor damage, cracked windows, broken plaster and falling objects.

"I was trying to hold onto the kitchen wall," said a woman in Princeton, Mo. "I thought a truck had hit the house."

Added Duties

President-elect Richard M. Nixon announced at a news conference Saturday that his vice president Spiro Agnew (left) will have important added duties at home and abroad during his administration.

Nixon To Assign Veep New Duties

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon assigned his vice president to a White House office Saturday and promised him broad responsibilities, arranged a meeting with President Johnson Monday and said he may later send emissaries abroad.

Nixon hinted he may want his own men overseas during the transitional period of the new Republican administration which will take office Jan. 20, but he said he would take no such action without President Johnson's approval.

For Spiro T. Agnew, his vice president-elect, Nixon had word of new-but unspecified duties at home and abroad. He said Agnew will have an office close by his own, and added that there will be no independent vice presidential staff in the executive branch.

The plans he announced for Agnew were described in terms of cooperation but they seemed to imply supervision as well.

Nixon conferred with Agnew early in the day, then met Henry Cabot Lodge, his vice presidential running mate in 1960, now U.S. ambassador to West Germany. "The ambassador has agreed to undertake in the new administration some special assignments," Nixon said.

He said they had discussed in detail the current Vietnam peace talks and the situation in the war zone. "He is one of my top consultants in this field," Nixon said of Lodge, who formerly was U.S. ambassador to Saigon.

Nixon again ruled out overseas travel before the inauguration, unless it is at President Johnson's request. "Whatever the President might request in terms of the Vietnam situation, I would undertake," he said. "I don't anticipate that."

OVERSEAS

Talking briefly with newsmen at his Biscayne Bay retreat, Nixon said he might send representatives overseas prior to the inauguration.

"There is a possibility of some representation," he said, without indicating where or in what connection.

There has been speculation Nixon might want observers on hand at the Paris peace talks on Vietnam.

Nixon said he would take no action with regard to foreign representation until he has talked with Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, whom he also expects to see Monday.

"Anything I do between now and the inauguration would be cleared with and approved by the present administration," Nixon said.

"We can only have one president at a time . . ." he said. "I will do nothing to derogate ei-

Crack Troops Shift To Invasion Route

SAIGON (AP) — The prospects for renewed large-scale fighting along the Cambodian border increased Saturday with the shift to that front of one of the most battle-seasoned U.S. divisions.

The U.S. Command disclosed the 18,000-man 1st Air Cavalry Division, a highly mobile outfit able to strike swiftly, had been sent down from the far north to positions 50 to 70 miles north-west of Saigon.

PRESSURE

There it is expected to help exert relentless pressure on enemy troops, estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000, reported massed along invasion routes to Saigon.

The command said units of the division went into action several days ago and so far have killed 109 North Vietnamese troops in a series of skirmishes. U.S. losses were six killed and 40 wounded.

The division, however, is not yet fully operational. When it is ready to swing fully into action, it will have 300 helicopters to lift troops and artillery into positions in the jungles and rubber plantations that make up this front in Tay Ninh, Binh Long and Phuoc Long provinces.

Until its move south, the 1st Air Cavalry had been manning positions south of the demilitarized zone dividing the Vietnam along with U.S. Marines and other Army units.

A command spokesman said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, decided the enemy threat along the zone had lessened and had ordered the 1st Air Cavalry southward to help meet the growing menace north-west of Saigon.

Its last area of operation was around Quang Tri, a key provincial capital 19 miles south of the demilitarized zone. Abrams felt that the division, in a series of spoiling operations, had taken the enemy pressure off Quang Tri. The division killed 2,000 enemy troops and seized more than 1,300 weapons in the past six months at a cost of 232 killed and 1,569 wounded.

The 1st Air Cavalry Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. George I. Forsythe, is a veteran of the Vietnamese war. It has moved almost all over the country and has taken part in nearly every major campaign—la Drang in the central highlands and Khe Sanh and A Shau valley in the north, to mention a few.

Woman Dies Saturday Of Screwworm Infection

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Gregoria Castillo, 41, wife of a laborer and the mother of two, died Saturday of screwworm infection. The malady rarely attacks humans but is deadly among cattle.

Dr. S. C. Gartman, program director of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Center at Mission, Tex., said the woman's case was "the only one we have received since we started the eradication program in 1962."

Mrs. Castillo was admitted to Santa Rosa Hospital here Sunday night after recurrent nosebleeds could not be halted. She lapsed into a coma. Officials at the mission center confirmed she was a victim of screwworms.

Doctors said a screwworm fly probably deposited its eggs in or near the woman's mouth or nose while she slept.

Gartman said there was no danger of her family or friends contracting the deadly worms from her.

"This is not a communicable problem," he said, stressing that he had no other reports of human screwworm infestation.

The screwworm had been one of the southwest's deadliest foes of livestock until the eradication center was set up in 1962.

Gartman said that prior to that year in the Southwest alone, excluding Mexico, the livestock industry was suffering a $100 million loss a year.

In recent months there has been an upsurge of the screwworm fly due to ideal weather conditions both in Texas and Mexico, he said.

PROCESS

The eradication process consists of raising male screwworm flies, sexually sterilizing them and releasing them by airplane. The sterile flies mate with fertile females, and since the screwworm fly mates only once, this ends the production cycle.

By last year, the Southwest declared a "screwworm-free" area, with a barrier zone established between the U.S. and Mexico.

Predicts U.S. To Beat Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Apollo 7 astronaut Walter Cunningham predicted Saturday the United States will beat the Soviet Union to the moon.

Cunningham, a member of the three-man team which made an 11-day earth-orbit flight last month in preparation for the U.S. moon-landing attempt, made the comment after receiving Navy astronaut wings.

A Marine Reserve major, Cunningham got the wings from Gen. Leonard Chapman, Marine Corps commandant, in a ceremony at Marine Corps headquarters.

Cunningham, a civilian astronaut with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said he believed the Soviets are going all out in an attempt to reach the moon first, despite statements by Soviet space officials indicating otherwise.

U.S. To Fire Back In Rescuing Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States intends to use any means necessary—including suppressive fire—to rescue its reconnaissance pilots who may go down in North Vietnam during the bombing halt.

HARASS

Suppressive fire would harass and destroy enemy anti-aircraft batteries, machineguns and ground troops attempting to interfere with efforts to rescue downed reconnaissance pilots.

This could involve air-to-ground cannon fire, rockets and possibly even bombs.

U.S. government sources believe this would not constitute a violation of the U.S. commitment not to bomb North Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese tacitly have accepted the idea that the United States will continue to focus its camera eyes on their country, and American authori-

Another Cold Front On Way

By The Associated Press

Chilled air of approaching winter bathed all of Texas Saturday as a warming trend slowly erased the last remnants of a unique snow storm that covered a wide band of the state before the first hard frost.

NEW FRONT

But even as clouds thinned and the bright sun inched the mercury higher, a new cold front approached the Panhandle from the Northern Plains. It was due to hit late Sunday and move on into the Texas interior.

Snows of Friday piled up to an unbelievable nine inches in West Central Texas near Brownwood. Snow to the west for a while made driving hazardous in parts of the South Plains.

The storm brewer moved swiftly from the state at high levels and Texas skies tended to clear. The most persistent clouds lingered the longest in the Panhandle, Southwest and Southeast Texas. Early morning fog shrouded parts of East and South Texas.

Winds in the western half of Texas were from the south, those in the eastern half were from the north. A ridge of high pressure straddling the state from north to south marked the division point and this ridge was moving to the east.

It was afternoon before most Texas temperatures climbed into the 50s.

LITTLE MOISTURE

Moisture from the snow and rain was fairly widespread Friday but rarely measured much more than an inch. Except in late harvest areas, the moisture was needed and beneficial.

Forecasters called for fair to partly cloudy skies over most of Texas through Sunday with warmer temperatures.

Second Mass Swap Staged

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Surgical teams at two hospitals performed the second mass organ transplant in Houston within three months Saturday.

The heart, one lung and two kidneys of a 27-year-old woman were transplanted into four men.

The corneas of the donor, who died after a cerebral hemorrhage, were removed and placed in an eye bank.

The recipients were reported in satisfactory condition just hours after the operations.

Andrew Perhacs, 55, of Hempstead, N.Y., recipient of the heart, and Walter Charles Carey 43, of Carmel, N.Y., recipient of the lung, were in St. Luke's Episcopal hospital.

Edmond Johnson, 44, of Crockett, Tex., and Harry Castella, 40, of Tyler, Tex., recipients of the kidneys, were in adjacent Methodist Hospital.

The donor, whose name was withheld at the family's request, was a south New Jersey housewife. She was flown from Wilmington, Del., to Houston Friday after officials at Wilmington medical center said she was suffering irreversible brain damage.

A member of her family said she was flown to Houston so her heart could be given to someone.

Morse Loses, May Ask For Recount

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon voters turned Sen. Wayne Morse out of office after 24 years and replaced him with a vigorous young Republican but it took three days of balloting to learn it.

The election of Robert Packwood, 36, became definite Friday.

Packwood's victory had seemed probable since shortly after the polls closed Tuesday but not until Morse's home county finished its counting of absentee votes was the outcome certain. He needed overwhelming support there and did not get it.

Even now the challenge is not ended. A recount demand by Morse is almost sure.

Packwood wound up with 405,573 votes to Morse's 402,035. The lead of 3,538 is .43 of one per cent of the votes cast.

It was Oregon's closest senatorial race since Democrat Richard Neuberger ousted Sen. Guy Cordon in 1954 in a cliff-hanger that took 48 hours of counting to reach a decision.

Packwood, a Portland lawyer, served three terms in the Oregon Legislature but was not widely known to the voters when he announced last February he was after the Republican senatorial nomination.

Few thought in the early campaigning he had a chance to beat Morse. But Morse had trouble in the primary with a popular opponent, ran into bitter opposition from some Democrats who thought he had let them down by supporting Republican Mark Hatfield for the Senate two years ago, and lost some of his labor support.

After a televised debate in October it was apparent that Packwood, an articulate speaker, had caught the fancy of many independents and Democrats.

YOUR MONEY

By CHARLES E. BEIL

One of the real advantages of a habit of saving regularly is the peace of mind and security that come with knowing that a sudden emergency or temporary loss of income won't be disastrous.

Yet when you "gamble" with those savings, much of that feeling of security is removed. That's like a squirrel putting his store of nuts on a teeter-totter, subject to ups and downs... and losses... instead of storing them in a safe niche where they'll be available when needed.

That's why so many of your friends and neighbors save with us. They don't have to worry about market fluctuations, fund management, or sudden changes in the economic picture. Their funds earn a high return with insured safety. Their savings add up fast... and they enjoy real peace of mind.

Why not stop in this week and start your store of savings... your security for tomorrow!

HHH To Get Full Pension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will be entitled to full pension $19,450 under the congressional retirement plan when he leaves office Jan. 20.

Senate disbursing officials do not disclose pension entitlements but Humphrey's can be figured from the plan's formula: 2½ per cent times his 20 years service times the $38,900 salary averaged for his final five years in office.

Humphrey is entitled to full pension because he served 20 years, 16 as a senator and four as vice president, and is over 50. An aide confirmed Friday he has participated in the retirement plan.

The vice president has not announced future plans but University of Minnesota President Malcolm Moos told his board of regents Friday the school is interested in having Humphrey as a political science professor.

Group Thinned, But Five Hold 'Buzzard's Feed'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In 1917, fifteen struggling young bachelor apprentices at an aluminum company got caught up in the war fever and enlisted. Before leaving they decided to hold one last dinner.

Because they were poor, it was called "the Buzzard's Feed" and featured such delicacies as bread chips, pineapple salad, soda crackers and a steak. The punch was concocted from the leftovers of bottles of gin, rye, bourbon, rum, brandy and wine and given a brave name—"The Smiling Bowl."

Friday night the group thinned by time to only five—got together for their 50th reunion.

The menu was the same and the punch was the same. But the men are no longer struggling.

One of the five, Frank L. Macgee, is former president and board chairman of Alcoa, the world's biggest aluminum company.

GOP MAY HAVE BEEN HURT MORE BY WALLACE Election Looks Like Playback

By ROBERT E. FORD Associated Press Writer

Tuesday's general election in Texas looked like a playback of the 1960 presidential contest, a vote analysis by the Texas Election Bureau showed Saturday.

And one indication was that the American Independent party may have hurt the Republicans more than the Democrats. For several East Texas counties that voted for Richard M. Nixon when he ran in 1960 went for George C. Wallace last Tuesday.

On the other hand, Democratic Sen. Ralph Yarborough indicated he feels the Democrats and Hubert H. Humphrey were hurt by saying, "I believe the Wallace vote in populous Democratic areas such as Jefferson, Orange, Brazoria, Hardin and several other counties can be counted on to return to the Democratic party."

The Democrats won in both 1960 and 1968 and the margin was very thin each year. The 1960 margin was 46,233 votes and the edge in 1968 was 40,118.

The final count by the Texas Election Bureau, the unofficial vote counting organization, showed Humphrey with 41.1 per cent of the state's ballots, Nixon 39.8 per cent and Wallace 18.9.

Robert L. Johnson, head of the election bureau, said parallels between 1960 and 1968 were startling. Nixon was the GOP candidate in 1960 and John F. Kennedy was the Democrat. Nixon led in 81 of the state's 254 counties this year, two more than eight years ago. Nixon carried 56 of the same counties both years.

The top four counties in vote strength — Harris (Houston), Dallas, Bexar (San Antonio) and Tarrant (Fort Worth)—went to Nixon in their combined vote. Individually, Harris, Dallas and Tarrant counties gave Nixon the edge both years while Bexar went Democratic in these two elections.

Travis County (Austin), said Johnson, was the only county in the top five which switched in the eight-year period. It voted for Nixon in 1960 and for Humphrey in 1968.

The combined votes of Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant gave Nixon a margin of 58,585 votes this year while the Republican won these four in 1960 by an 816,011.

But in 1960 the big four had a vote total of 827,000 while last Tuesday 1,209,000 voted in those counties. This was about 40 per cent of the entire state vote.

The final count of the Election Bureau for president and the statewide offices was:

President: Humphrey, 1,267,817; Nixon, 1,227,199; George Wallace, 581,717.

Governor: Preston Smith, 1,659,478; Paul Eggers, 1,232,952.

Lt. Governor: Ben Barnes, 1,976,021; Doug DeCluit, 759,455.

Moon Flight Okay Is Due

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 8's three astronauts are expected to get approval next week for a 250,000-mile Christmas season trip around the moon.

The final word will come possibly Tuesday from Dr. Thomas O. Paine, acting administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Paine said the decision would be made "after a thorough assessment of the total risks involved and the total gains to be realized in this next step toward a manned lunar landing."

Other space officials have said all studies up to date indicate there is no barrier to attempting a moon orbit journey. Preparations at Cape Kennedy have been directed at a lunar orbit mission.

If the green light is given for the moon, Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders will blast off at 6:51 a.m. CST Dec. 21.

The Saturn 5 is to boost the astronauts on a so-called "free return" path which would enable the space travelers to come back to earth if their engine failed during the quarter-million-mile coast to the moon.

On this course, they would loop around the moon and come home without orbiting.

Drive To Complete Lake Moves On Several Fronts

The drive by the Colorado River Municipal Water District to deliver water from its new lake at Robert Lee by the end of 1969 is moving steadily forward on several fronts.

The 33 miles of 35-inch line from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station is now complete. Within a month the district is due to ask bids on a section of pipeline from the Martin County station to Midland to be ready to deliver water to this new customer.

Wittman Construction Company has pushed for eight miles from the Sun Oil water supply line in Mitchell County westward toward Moss Creek Lake, which will become a big terminal storage basin in eastern Howard County. Another three miles will complete this stage, permitting the contractor to build 18 miles of line northeastward from the Sun line juncture to the side storage on the river above Colorado City. The final phase of Wittman's $2,765,000 contract will be 10 miles of 42-inch line from Big Spring to Moss Creek Lake. Over-all, Wittmah is 17.8 per cent toward completion.

Lyles and Lyles is now 98 per cent complete on the side terminal storage reservoir just above Colorado City, and the CRMWD is preparing to install a pump to take out the mineralized normal low flow of the river and impound it in the reservoir. This is part of a million-dollar program to reduce brine pollution in the river so the new lake will not suffer.

At the Robert Lee Lake, Clement Bros., prime contractors, lists the project at 93.9 per cent of completion. So far 12,528,230 yards of material have been moved, including 12,342,845 cubic yards in the dam. The rest is in riprap to protect the face of the dam.

The City of San Angelo is due to receive bids Nov. 15 for construction of a pump station on Wildcat Creek at the south end of the lake. This will call for some 25 feet of excavation to attain a level equal to that of the Colorado River Channel at the dam. The station will be capable of lifting some 30 million gallons a day at capacity.

Roland Scherer has now completed his $465,058 contract for a dozen and a half huge oil well mounds. Work is almost complete on five other mounds in shallower parts of the lake.

Price Construction Company is doing this work. Terry Construction is 29 per cent toward completion of a gas drip-trap installation, and Terry Construction is 7.4 per cent along on a $465,196 pump station for the Humble repressuring facilities. McKee Construction Co. is about half through on the main pump station located some six miles upstream from the dam.

Most materials are now on the ground and Terry Construction is pressing for completion of the spillway so that the final closure of the dam can begin early in December. It is due to be completed by March 1. A letting on the final project, the 42-inch line from Moss Creek to the Robert Lee Lake is due probably in February.

ABOUT SHINGLES (HERPES ZOSTER)

Shingles is a virus infection attacking the nerves. Usually it is a "one sided" disease, since nerves branching out of the spinal cord spread out on each side. It is characterized by a vesicular eruption and severe neuralgic pains arising in the affected nerve root ganglia.

Shingles are more frequent in males and while it may happen to anyone, it is more common after 50. After about the fifth day the eruptions usually dry up and scab. A painful neuralgia may last for years. Diagnosis is difficult in the pre-eruptive stage. A physician is needed.

Hereford Association To Sell 50 Top Bulls In Annual Sale

Half a hundred of the finest Hereford bulls in the Howard County-West Texas area will be sold at auction at the 24th annual sale of the Howard County-South Plains Hereford Association here Nov. 22.

The sale will be at 1 p.m. and Walter Britten, widely known auctioneer, will handle the gavel. The sale will be in the Howard County Fair Building, near the Rodeo Bowl in west Big Spring.

Cattle will be on hand at the barn Wednesday, Nov. 20. The business meeting of the association is set Thursday night, when the association will elect officers for its 25th year.

Charlie Creighton, Big Spring, is current president. George W. Knox, Tarzan, is first vice president; Kenneth Liso, second vice president; and Jimmy Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

Several changes in sale procedure will be adopted for the sale. The halter judging, which has featured other sales, will not be conducted. The cattle will not be tied to the walls as in the past, but will be sold in pens.

Work is being completed this month on the interior of the north building at the fair grounds. The old wooden corrals and dividers have been removed and new pens built of steel are being installed. The Howard County Commissioners awarded contract for this phase of an overhaul program to Daves Welding Co., and work has been under way for some time.

Taylor said that this year, the animals will be sold as they are. In other words, other than for minor trimming of tails, no efforts will be made to bathe, curl or otherwise artificially change the appearance of the animals. The sale will be held in the south building.

The public is invited to attend, and to visit the pens earlier and inspect the animals.

Signors and the number of bulls each is offering for sale are:

Buchanan Herefords, 14 bulls; James Coates, two bulls; Charles W. Creighton, five bulls; Hall Bar-H Ranch, five bulls; Roy Henderson, five bulls; Ronnie Hirt, Garden City, one bull; George W. Knox, Tarzan, 10 bulls; Leland Wallace, three bulls; Pied Piper Farms, Hamlin, three bulls; W.M. Cattle Co., Tarzan, five bulls; and Jim Woodward, Tarzan, one bull.

No Oleander—And No Tree

EL PASO (AP) — City workmen were ordered Thursday to cut down an oleander bush on an El Paso residential corner because it obstructed traffic.

But confused workmen cut down a tree in the yard across the street belonging to William I. Latham, managing editor of the El Paso Times.

Latham said only a week before he had received a notice from the city instructing him to cut back his oleander bush.

"I don't even have any oleanders," Latham said. "Now I don't have my tree either."

Three Cadets Die In Highway Crash

ROANOKE, Tex. (AP)—Three members of the Texas A&M University Corps of Cadets perished early Saturday in the collision of their automobile and a two-trailer truck three and a half miles west of here.

The deaths threw a pall on the Corps of Cadets which was in Dallas for the crucial Texas A&M-Southern Methodist University football game. Tickets to the game were found on the bodies of the victims.

The corps, before its 9:30 a.m. parade Saturday in Dallas, held the traditional Silver Taps ceremony for departed members of the corps.

Groves, with the title of cadet major, was commander of Company C-1. The company marched into the Cotton Bowl for the game with the marching position of company commander deliberately vacant. Seniors in the company entered the bowl uncovered.

The other two victims were members of the same company. A Highway Patrol spokesman said the automobile of the three apparently crossed the highway dividing line. There were no skid marks to indicate brakes were applied. The weather was clear and the highway dry, investigators said.

The three apparently had been to a dance at Texas Woman's University at nearby Denton, a Denton funeral home spokesman said.

The truck driver, Bryan Calbee, son of Irving near Dallas, escaped injury.

Farmer Aid Adds Almost $3 Million To Economy

By TEX ROGERS

By the time payments are completed to about 1,000 farmers and landowners in Howard County for participating in all government programs, $2,961,592 will have been added to the economy.

Gabe Hammack, county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office manager, said the figure is being shelled out by the various divisions of the USDA for price support payments, diversion payments, Agriculture Conservation Program and other practices.

Cotton payments alone for 1968 will amount to $2,577,220, he said.

are in the Northeast Texas counties. By the same token, farm production in the Texarkana, Longview, Bonham and Nacogdoches areas has declined.

Panhandle counties also show increases in population. It seems that farmers further north are utilizing their feed grain and wheat production more efficiently so that more cattle can be fed.

One of the largest, both for head and dollar, Quarter Horse sales ever took place at the All-American Quarter Horse Congress last week in Columbus, Ohio. Some 664 head of top-bred animals went under the gavel and brought $266,560, or $4.165 per head.

Livestock production in Texas and the area is increasing, and a recent survey released by the USDA on the number of beef cows in Texas show that the bovine population also is on the upswing.

The survey, taken every five years, shows that beef cows on the range have increased some 41.6 per cent in Howard County from 6,133 in 1959 to 8,696 in 1964. Some folks may wonder where all that beef on the hoof is hiding, but the survey is considered authoritative.

Growth of beef across the area also is on the move with large increases reported in Glasscock, Martin and Dawson counties. Glasscock County marked a population of 5,635 in 1959 to 9,014 in 1964. Martin County had an increase from 2,553 to 4,419, and Dawson County cows moved from 3,915 to 7,105.

The horse market is about as predictable as the cattle market. Some animals bring more than others, but there seems to be a downward trend in the price of the average hayburner.

No doubt, the figures reveal hard work in range improvements with ranchers doing a considerable amount of brush and mesquite control for more effective use of pastures.

Glasscock County's increase may be due to control methods on the Edwards Ranch and the Lorin McDowell Ranch.

The Edwards spread, by constant battles with mesquite, has been able to increase some pastures to a capacity of 50 head of cattle per section, while the county average is 20 head.

The McDowells are aiming for a steady population of 30 head of cattle per section with their control program.

Something worth noting is that while West Texas counties have made substantial gains, large increases in the cow count

MAIDENHEAD, England (AP) — Michael Turner fell 18 feet Friday from his bedroom window onto a concrete path.

The 20-month-old boy bounced up with only a bruise on his forehead.

His father, James Turner 32, said, "The first thing I knew was seeing something go past the kitchen window. It's an absolute miracle that he didn't break every bone in his body."

THERE'S BEEN A GIN ON THIS SITE FOR THE PAST 63 YEARS

First Cotton Gin Opened Here In 1905; 12 Today

By SAM BLACKBURN
Howard County's first cotton gin was established in 1905 but farmers in the area had been halfheartedly toying with the idea of growing cotton for 18 years before that date. However, the practical acceptance of cotton as an annual crop in this part of Texas had been proven only seven years when that first gin graced the skyline of a small village known as "Big Springs."

ONE OF 12
The gin, according to the county records, was located on a site which is still the location of one of the county's 12 operating cotton gins. The first gin was established at 200 NE 2nd-Guitar's Big Spring gin (probably entitled to be called the "new" gin since it certainly replaced the original) stands on the spot where that first pioneer plant once stood. The gin now on the lot was built 27 years ago.

There are only a dozen gins left in the county despite the tremendous increase in the quality of cotton grown. The new gins are a far cry from their predecessors. Today's modern machinery permits one gin to handle four or five times more cotton.

In the old days, cotton farmers hauled their cotton to the gins in wagons over poor and often almost impassable roads. Gins, therefore, had to be located nearer to the farms and this involved the need for a large number of plants. However, from the records, there seems never to have been more than 15 gins operating in the county at one time.

PLODDED ALONG
Where farmers of half a century ago plodded along dirt roads with a single bale of cotton on their wagons, today's growers bring in huge cotton trailers with as many as five bales aboard.

A journey which took a day to complete now takes 30 minutes. Where 20 miles was a long distance in 1910, it is of no importance today.

The first gin in this county seems to have been the dream-child of a somewhat mysterious man named W. M. Derling. On July 31, 1905, Derling filed a deed to lots 7, 8 and 9, block 115, original Big Spring plat, in the office of the county clerk. On this tract he built his first gin.

Apparently, he built a second gin at about the same time in Coahoma, but there are no records available apparently as to exactly where this gin may have been.

Derling, as a ginmer, did not remain on the scene long. Less than a year later he had sold the Big Spring gin to W. R. Bruce and S. Aycock. Shortly thereafter John Guitar acquired half interest in the gin apparently, from a man named J. T. Crim, who lived in Tarrant County. Crim appears to have bought the interest from Bruce and Aycock not too long after they took over from Derling. Derling disappeared from the Howard County cotton picture as of April 23, 1906.

Cotton had become of some importance as a crop by that time.

FIRST PLANTED
The first cotton to be planted in the virgin soil of West Texas was on the McDowell ranch, southwest of here in Glascock County. In 1887, the late L. S. McDowell is said to have planted a few acres of land to the crop. The records indicate that, although the cotton was never picked and ginned, it would have made about a third of a bale to the acre. The results must not have been encouraging enough to stir McDowell to further experiments.

Eleven years later, some farmers in this county began growing cotton. In 1899 the Texas Almanac reports that the county produced five bales of cotton. (It is not recorded where the farmers took this cotton for ginning.)

Those five bales stirred considerable interest, apparently. In 1900, there were 300 bales of Howard County-grown cotton according to the Almanac.

Between 1900 and 1905, the planting of cotton seems to have spread considerably. At least there was enough of the staple being produced by 1905 to encourage Derling to invest his money in that first cotton gin.

THREE
Currently there are three gins in Big Spring. They are the Guitar — lineal descendant of the first gin — Farmer's Cooperative, and Planters.

Coahoma has two gins — Acuff and Guitar both have plants there.

There are three gins in Knott community — Farmers Cooperative, Planters and Guitar.

Paymaster has a gin at Fairview, and Lomax Gin Co. operates a plant in that community. One gin, operated by Vincent Gin Company, is busy in the Vincent community. Luther's gin is owned by Planters.

Apparently the record crop of all years in this county was in 1950 when 51,127 bales were ginned. This was far from being the biggest year, as measured by lint cotton produced per acre. Only 301 pounds of lint was garnered per acre that year. The county had 55,010 acres in cotton. The year before — 1949 — the farmers had seeded a record 114,846 acres and harvested only 45,000 bales or 197 pounds of lint per acre.

This year, if all holds well, will be one of the better years in the per acre lint production. The low year of the cotton story in this county is 1952. Total crop for that season was only 1,200 bales.

In 1931, old time cotton men recall ruefully that they sold their crop for as low as five cents per pound.

MoPac Buys More Stock

ST. LOUIS — The Missouri Pacific System has placed orders for 861 new freight cars and 34 locomotives at a total cost of more than $24,000,000, Downing B. Jenks, president, announced today.

Orders include 250 box cars 50 1/2 feet long with a capacity of 70 tons; 100 box cars, 60 feet long with a capacity of 100 tons; 11 high density box cars, 60 feet long, for auto parts; 200 insulated box cars, 60 feet long, with a capacity of 100 tons; and 300 flat cars, 60 feet long with a capacity of 100 tons, 200 of which will be equipped with bulkheads. MoPac has also ordered 20 SD-40 diesel locomotives of 3000 HP from the Electro-Motive Division of General Motors Corporation and four U-30-C diesel locomotives of 3000-HP from General Electric Company. The railroad also announced that it will build three heavy-duty flat cars with a capacity of 300 tons each in Missouri.

MoPac has purchased 15,500 new cars and 345 locomotives in the past eight years at a cost of $306,000,000, Jenks pointed out.

School Week Starts Today

Today marks the beginning of American Education Week, and with it comes several special activities plus an invitation for parents to visit in the schools sometime during the week.

Most service clubs will have programs about schools, and Supt. Sam Anderson is to speak Tuesday at the Rotary Club. There will be naptkins and place mats at the club meetings to remind members that "America Has a Good Thing Going."

All PTA units meet during the week and booklets, "How to Get the Most Out of School," will be distributed to all members. There also will be aired during the week a television strip, "How Can You Help Youth Get the Most Out of School."

This evening art students in Big Spring High School, Rannels and Gollad Junior High Schools will put up an exhibit of their work in the Highland Center mall, and these will be on display during the week. Future Teachers of America also will put up a project exhibit.

Each day of the week has a theme, and today's is "Stimulate Moral and Spiritual Values." Others are: Monday — "Strengthen the Nation"; Tuesday — "Aspire to Quality Teaching"; Wednesday — "Provide Equal Opportunity"; Thursday — "Foster Life-Long Learning"; Friday — "Promote Economic Prosperity"; Saturday — "Strive for Healthy Personality Development."

Mayor Arnold Marshall asked Big Spring citizens to join in the spirit of the week, and particularly urged that parents make a special effort to visit classrooms and see schools in action under every-day conditions.

Mop-Up Drive Begins Monday

The United Fund Drive in Big Spring closed Friday far short of its $109,225 goal with only 86 per cent of the objective reached. However, officials hoped that the remainder of the goal could be attained when a mop-up campaign begins Monday.

By Friday afternoon $94,252.60 was reported by Mrs. Alyce Butler, executive secretary, and most of the final contributions came through big gifts, with Jimmy Taylor as chairman.

Clyde McMahon Jr., drive chairman, will head the mop-up campaign this week.

False Alarm On 'Jump' Prospect

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — When it appeared a man was about to jump from atop the 14-story Fort Worth National Bank Building Friday, 15 police units, a fire department hook-and-ladder unit and a chaplain roared to the scene. Police Capt. L. E. Woods, a specialist in talking persons out of jumping off buildings, was summoned. Police learned the man was a workman waving to a police cadet not to put a ticket on his auto's windshield.

Corey Dies

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Wendell Corey, 54, actor whose career spanned 30 years on the stage, screen and in television, died Friday shortly after being admitted to a hospital with a liver disease. Corey became active in Republican politics in the 1950s. He was elected to the Santa Monica City Council in 1965.

Suspect Charged As Robbery Leader

LINSLADE, England (AP) — Ringed by detectives, the last man wanted in Britain's Great Train Robbery stood handcuffed in court Saturday—cool and composed, stylishly dressed and with a word of thanks to the Scotland Yard crime buster who arrested him.

Bruce Reynolds, 37-year-old antique dealer pursued by police since masked bandits stole more than $7 million from a mail train five years ago, was charged at last with taking part in the robbery.

Widely portrayed as the mastermind of the biggest robbery in modern British history, Reynolds was charged with conspiring with other gang members—all jailed, though one has escaped—to rob the train, and with actually participating in stealing 120 mail bags that held the fortune in used bank notes. Only about a million dollars has been recovered.

Reynolds, wearing an expensive camel hair coat, a well-cut blue suit and heavy-rimmed spectacles, did not speak a word during the five-minute hearing.

But his lawyer gave the suspect's thanks to detective Tommy Butler, the head of Scotland Yard's flying squad who had searched relentlessly for Reynolds since the robbery, for taking care of Reynolds' wife and 6-year-old son after he was arrested at a seaside resort Friday.

Reynolds was ordered held in custody to appear again in court Nov. 18. The hearing was held before five magistrates headed by a local woman farmer.

For the brief court appearance, police mounted the heaviest security precautions ever seen in this town 30 miles north of London, beside the railway

David K. Laning, Webb AFB, reported the theft of a stereo tape player and tapes from his car early Saturday morning. The car was parked at North 66 Cafe when Laning discovered the theft.

Malaysians Crack Down On Reds, Mao Charges

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The government accused Mao Tse-tung Saturday of inspiring attempts to launch "armed revolution" in Malaysia and announced the arrest of 116 members of the outlawed Communist party.

The charge against Red China's party chairman was made in a White Paper that said "not less than 90 Communist terrorist camps" had been found in the jungles near Thailand in the past two years.

The disclosure of the arrests, including 11 women, was made by a government spokesman at a news conference, who said more arrests are expected.

The White Paper said the Communist party of Malaysia—CPM—"considers the present time opportune for preparations to be initiated for the eventual launching of an armed revolution."

When the British ruled what was then known as Malaya, they broke the back of a Communist guerrilla movement. But ever since Malaysia was created in 1963, the Communists have become more troublesome.

It is estimated that 500 hardcore remnant members of the Communist party, driven northward from the Malayan peninsula by the British, are roaming the jungles of the Malaysian-Thailand border.

Many of these guerrillas are of Chinese descent, and the White Paper said the Communist party throughout its 38 years of existence has looked "to the Chinese Communist party for inspiration and guidance."

Increasing Debate Foreseen As Aftermath Of Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1968 election has opened the way for a period of consolidating, streamlining and modernizing the government after eight years of rapid growth.

In the next few years, leaders of both parties feel that the central issue will not be whether the federal government is to play a role in such fields as education, consumer affairs and urban problems but how much and what kind.

And the structure of the government itself, especially the departments dealing with domestic affairs, and the broad area of federal-state relations, are likely to become subjects of increasing debate.

In a sense, the second half of the Johnson administration has marked a watershed between the old New Deal type of federal aid program and newer kinds of programs involving broad cooperation between the government and private enterprise.

In part, this has been forced on the government by the Vietnam expenditures producing large federal deficits and curbing direct new spending programs. But it also represents an increasing awareness that the old boundary lines between the government and the private sector have dissolved.

Thus, the model cities program, last of the major Johnson domestic programs to win approval, has tended to rest heavily on efforts to get private investors, such as the insurance companies, to put up funds for urban development.

A similar pattern is developing in some other areas, such as the Appalachian regional program, and in efforts to find jobs for hard-core unemployed.

Nixon has indicated he thinks the private sector should be the major element in future urban programs, aided by tax credits which Congress is expected to be reluctant to vote. A compromise may result, similar to the pattern of model cities.

There may also be balking in Congress, especially in the committees which wrote the original legislation, to Nixon's announced intention of scrapping the Job Corps, generally seen as a forerunner to a complete overhaul and possible dismantlement of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

But there will be no disagreement from key congressional leaders on the need to overhaul and simplify the overlapping federal grant programs that have brought so many complaints from local officials because of the paperwork involved in getting the federal funds.

Teachers Told Of Services

GAIL — Dr. O. R. Douglas, executive director of the Region VII Education Service Center located in Lubbock, discussed the services available to pupils, teachers, and administrators, through the use of the service center, at an in-service training meeting of teacher-administrator participants in the South Zone Pilot Study Group of Texas Small Schools Association here Thursday in the Borden County School.

James McLeroy, Gail, heads the study group; A. L. Alford, of Klondike School, is vice chairman; and E. A. Deering, Dawson County School superintendent, is secretary-treasurer. Dale Choate, Gail, welcomed the group. Bo Barkowsky, Klondike, offered the invocation; and McLeroy introduced Dr. Douglas to approximately 100 persons in attendance. Audio-visual media were demonstrated. Fiscal accounting of the federal aid package also was talked.

Grade group sessions were led by Mrs. Juanita Carbon, Ira, Mrs. Bill Dunlop, Fluvanna, Mrs. Ronny Gandy, Sands, Ben Jarrett, Borden County, Gerald Harper and Bruce Land, both of Fluvanna, Dave Briggs, Borden County, Mrs. Grace Morse, Klondike, Mrs. Fred Minter, Union, and M. E. Maxwell, Sands, who led the administrators.

Future meetings will be held at the Borden County School on Jan. 30, Feb. 20, and April 17, 1969.

Directors To Meet

THE WEEK

and the Paul Winter modern music consort). Call Mrs. R. W. Caton to reserve your membership.

The United Fund had another substantially good week, but it was only at about 86 per cent of its goal instead of being over the top according to the time schedule. However, there are enough cards out to push the campaign to victory if contacts are only made.

Bank deposits showed a whopping 13.19 per cent gain, according to statements as of Oct. 30. The total was $48,838,827, a record for this time of the year. Loans and discounts of $25,280,788 were up only 2.99 per cent. Total resources were $54,165,346, up nearly 13 per cent. The call date was the latest on record for the third quarter, and it is conjectured if this affected totals.

A. C. (Ace) Balch was honored last week by the Big Spring State Hospital, and fittingly so. For the past 10 years he has volunteered a combo for the mid-week dance at the hospital. Other members of the musical group came and went, but Ace never missed being there himself and having a combo. That's a real labor of love for one's fellowman.

Two skirmishes between players marred Friday night's football game between Big Spring and Abilene, and this was no credit to either side. The officials, however, must be faulted for not having blown the whistle early in the game for piling on. This offense continued all night and caused tempers to flare. Big Spring, despite a relapse in the second half, had staunch defense, but the offense splattered. Both will have to be at full blast to take Permian in the final game.

Response was excellent to our appeal for veterans of World War I to come in and have their pictures made for our Veterans (Armistice) Day section. By no means all came, but we were gratified to be able to salute so many of the vets. Our photographers Frank Brandon and Danny Valdes did yeoman service in getting pictures and copying faded WWI pictures.

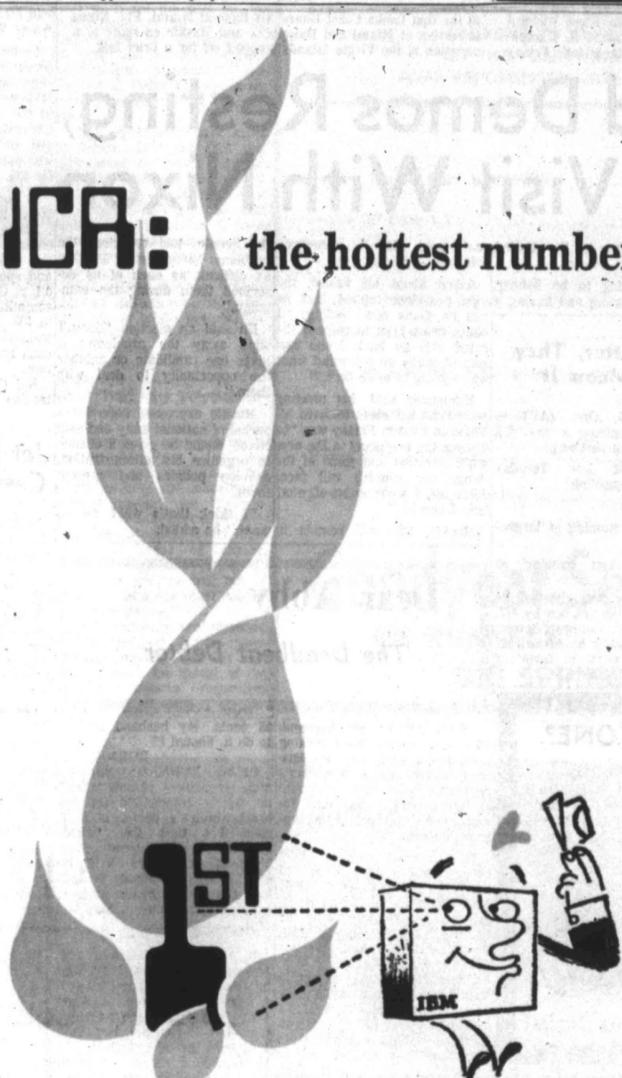

The projected reevaluation of non-urban properties in Howard County has struck a snag. Novis Womack, who took the contract, reported to the commissioners court that his chief assistant was moving and that he couldn't handle the job. The court is now checking into possibility of finding an appraisal firm to spearhead the project.

Building permits, although only $110,071 for October, represented a substantial gain over September. However, $31,000 of the increase was actually for demolition of the Crawford Hotel.

Hopes of getting into the new post office building in time to handle the Christmas rush have been dashed. Inability to get delivery on some key electrical equipment has pushed the date back until January.

This is American Education Week, and it is an excellent time for parents to show an extra measure of interest in schools by visiting them. There are no special activities in most classrooms, and intentionally so in order that patrons will observe normal instruction.

MICR: the hottest number in town.

Some items just naturally belong together. You might say MICR (Magnetic Ink Character Recognition) and the COMPUTER were made for each other! The computer can "see" each little curve and the angles of numbers printed in magnetic ink on all checks and deposit slips. Because of this special ability, our computer takes only ten minutes to perform the same work which previously required two hours and twenty minutes of an employee's time. This little number really gets around. When you write a check at your local store or at a store out of town, it is deposited in that store's bank. They look at the number and send it to the nearest Federal Reserve System

Bank which takes a peek at the number, makes appropriate notations, and returns it to your bank for debit against your account. This happens quickly and accurately as long as the little curves and angles are printed in magnetic ink.

This is the reason First National Bank has supplied you with personalized checks which have your own account number printed on them. If you will use these checks and the deposit slips which accompany them, we can give you the finest service available from any bank. Your checks can really get around and yet find their way back home as long as they have the MICR number on them.

Smiles All Around

There were smiles all around when President-Elect Richard M. Nixon was flanked by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey (left) and Sen. Edmund Muskie after their talk Friday at the Opa Looka Coast Guard Air Base at Miami, Fla. Nixon is resting at Miami and Humphrey and Muskie en route to a vacation in the Virgin Islands stopped off for a brief talk.

Defeated Demos Resting, Stop For Visit With Nixon

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie arrived with their families Friday night to spend some time "swimming and fishing and getting some rest."

The defeated Democratic candidates for president and vice president spoke briefly with newsmen at the Harry Truman Airport on the island of St. Thomas before the party of 25 boarded a boat for Caneel Bay Plantation on nearby St. John Island.

The entire Humphrey family is along on the vacation trip with the exception of their youngest son, who Humphrey said was in school. Muskie was also accompanied by his family. Humphrey said they will remain about 10 days. He added that he would not make up his mind about his future plans until he returns to the United States.

The ballot last Tuesday carried this question:

"Check one:
"For dogs running at large—Yes."
"Against dogs running at large—No."

The no box was checked by 1,211 voters, the yes box by 437. But City Atty. George Layman said: "No matter how residents voted, they were in favor of dogs running at large."

real good time," Humphrey said.

Asked about his future, the vice president replied that he has no plans now, adding: "I came down here to refresh the spirit and go back home and sort of make up my mind what we're going to do to them."

Humphrey said his meeting with President-elect Richard M. Nixon in Florida Friday was "to discuss the prospects in the new administration and some of the things our country will face. After all, I want to be of what help I can be."

Muskie expressed hope for a period of national unity and said Nixon should be given a chance to organize his administration, develop policies and present them.

"I think that's what we all want," he added.

Gun Dealers Facing More Rules On Sales

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's gun dealers face even more paperwork when selling firearms and ammunition after Dec. 16 than Congress called for in the Gun Control Act of 1968.

Lee Cook Shows Champ In Martin Capon Show

STANTON (SC)—Grand champion award for a single bird in the Martin County annual capon show went Saturday to Lee Cook, whose 16-pounder sold at auction for $105. It was purchased by the Holcombe Company of Stanton.

Blue ribbon for the grand champion trio of capons went to Mike Douglas, whose top bird sold for $50 to the Charlie Welch Water Well Service, Stanton.

Leslie Butler copped two reserve awards, that for single entry, and also for the trio. His 11½-pound single went for $35 in the auction to Alsop-Nowlin Chevrolet Company of Stanton, and the top fowl in the trio was purchased by Stanton Drug for $35.

In lightweight singles, Carla Welch had the grand champion. There were some 100 capons entered in the event, held at the Martin County showbarn and sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, agriculture committee. The show is open to 4-H and FFA members. Contestants could enter five birds each and could sell four at auction.

Bill Cawley, Texas A&M Extension Service, was the judge.

Jet Flight To Cover Both Poles

BOSTON (AP)—Seventy-eight persons left Logan International Airport Friday on the start of a 26-day jet flight that will cover both the North and South poles.

Billed as the first commercial transpolar world flight, the trip was planned to coincide with the anniversary of the late Adm. Richard E. Byrd's November 1929 flight over the South Pole.

The flight leader is Cmdr. Fred G. Dustin of Revere, Mass., a former advisor to Byrd.

Dustin said the group making the trip, mostly business executives, will investigate commercial and industrial exploration of the polar regions.

other state, unless it's an adjoining state.

Even then the sale is permissible only if the dealer knows a similar sale back in the buyer's home town would not be against the laws of his state or a county or municipal ordinance.

To guide them through this legal thicket, IRS will furnish every licensed dealer with an IRS-produced book that is touted as an encyclopaedia of every weapons law and ordinance in the country. Estimated thickness: 200 pages.

The Internal Revenue Service charged with enforcing the law, says in proposed regulations issued this week that the information is enough for ammunition purchasers, but not for buyers of weapons.

When selling a gun, storekeepers must also record place of birth, height, weight and race.

The proposed regulations will go into effect with the law Dec. 16 unless the IRS changes them. The dealers also will occasionally have to do a little over-the-counter lawyering.

The new law prohibits selling a weapon to a person from another state, unless it's an adjoining state.

James Green Jr., chief of the engineering division, and Frank W. Caldwell, chief of the personnel division at the local VA Hospital, visited the University of Texas at El Paso for Engineering Recruitment purposes Friday.

Dear Abby

The Deadbeat Debtor

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who is an honest, hard-working man, lent a man $200. My husband was so sure of this man's character that he didn't ask him to sign a note or anything. He didn't even charge him the regular interest.

This man has made no effort to pay back a dime of it, and it's been nearly three YEARS! Now listen to this. This deadbeat's sister is married to one of the richest men in this town. Everyone knows him. He has given away MILLIONS.

I told my husband to get in touch with this millionaire brother-in-law and ask him for the money, or I'd do it. Two hundred dollars doesn't mean any more to a millionaire than 25 cents. My husband refuses to do it. Should I?

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: No. No man (regardless of how "rich" he is) is responsible for his brother-in-law's debts. It is a good bet that this "rich" brother-in-law has already given his deadbeat relative all the financial help he intends to, and has washed his hands of him, which is his privilege. Stay out of it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl, 14, who sits for a lady who has twin boys, 2, and a girl, 6. She also has a son, 15. When I sit there, I have more trouble with the 15-year-old boy than I do with the other kids, if you know what I mean. He is all the time talking dirty and like that.

I don't want to get this boy in trouble, but I really don't care to sit there again if I know that boy will be home. The lady is very nice and the baby sitting money sure comes in handy, so how do I solve my problem without getting the boy in trouble?

DEAR "CRESTVIEW 3": Maybe the boy needs to get into "a little trouble" now in order to stay out of a lot of trouble later. The next time you are asked to sit there, tell the lady of the house to tell her son to behave himself, and I doubt if you'll have to stand for any more of his nonsense.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my late 40s and am considered quite attractive, if I do say so myself. I own my home, drive a late model car, and run a small business.

About a year ago I met a retired officer about my age who had lost his wife. We share many of the same interests and enjoy just being together. I know he cares for me, but I'm not any nearer to matrimony now than when we met. In fact, he said from the start he didn't plan to marry.

Abby, I just live for the hours we spend together, but I can't go on indefinitely like this. It's expensive to hire help so I can leave my business to be with him. I know a man doesn't like to be pressured, but I have to know if he will ever marry me. How can I find out?

WANTS TO WED
DEAR WANTS: Ask him. Your alternative is to be an available playmate. And time marches on.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90060 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," send $1. to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90060.

Four Speakers Slated For Aerospace Lectures

The aerospace lectures, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in Webb AFB's Withycombe Hall Thursday, has drawn four notable men in various aspects of the American space program.

To Speak Here

Bill Dana, X-15 test pilot, will be one of the speakers on the program explaining the aerospace lectures, sponsored by the Air Force Association.

Topping the list of guest speakers is William H. Dana, famed X-15 test pilot and civilian research pilot-engineer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Flight Research Center. Before joining NASA in 1958, Dana was the project pilot on NASA's study of supersonic transport operating conditions. In addition to many jet aircraft, he has also flown NASA's M2-F1 lightweight lifting body.

Modocs Must Pay The Toll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There'll be no more Modoc Indians crossing the Golden Gate bridge without paying the 50-cent toll.

That was the word Friday from the bridge district's attorney, Jerome White. White said a motorcyclist who described himself as a Modoc arrived at the toll plaza last week and declared he didn't have to pay a toll because a treaty granted his West Coast tribe toll free status.

When the collector referred the unidentified man to a sergeant, White said, "The Indian said he had an appointment, jumped on his motorcycle and was southbound without delay."

Eidinoff Says He Just Left, Not Escaped

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Harold Eidinoff, central figure in a sensational Texas killing and a resident of the Rusk hospital for the insane for nearly a decade, swears he didn't really escape last week.

"I just left," said Eidinoff in a telephone interview Saturday with Radio Station WBAP, Fort Worth.

In the copyrighted interview, the one-time El Paso physician rationalized his act by saying a jury had found him sane and that as far as he is concerned "the litigation is finished."

Eidinoff walked away from the Cherokee County courthouse last Monday, eluding his guard on the pretext of using the men's room. He was at the courthouse for a hearing.

The telephone interview was from an undisclosed place in New York state. The interview was arranged through Eidinoff's attorney, Willis Jarrell of Tyler, that he would not go back to El Paso because of what he called threats made against him.

Killed as he stepped off an airliner in El Paso was Ted Address, a lawyer with whom Dr. Eidinoff had been feuding for some time.

A Lubbock jury ruled Dr. Eidinoff insane and he was taken to the Rusk hospital which treats the criminally insane. Several weeks ago, a Cherokee County jury found Eidinoff sane, which normally would mean under Texas law that Eidinoff would go free. But prosecutors brought up the question of court jurisdiction, saying only the Lubbock court could free the physician.

It was concerning this legal point that Eidinoff was taken to the courthouse Monday.

Charges Texas Taxes To Build Eastern Systems

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Federal officials want to use Texas tax dollars to build rapid transit systems in eastern urban areas, and new regulations that will go into effect in 12 days are aimed at accomplishing this, the Texas Highway Commission charged Saturday.

One of the regulatory proposals calls for two public hearings before a highway may be constructed, and any layman can halt a highway project merely by citing, during or after either hearing, any of the regulatory points in opposing the project, the commission said.

The regulations, promulgated by the Department of Transportation, will become effective Nov. 22. The commission urged Texans to write their congressmen in an effort to get the regulations withdrawn.

"This is not the first but the latest move on the part of the Department of Transportation to stall the national highway construction program," said Herbert C. Petry Jr., one of the three members of the commission.

"DOT spokesmen have made no bones about the fact that they want to divert highway user tax revenues in the federal highway trust fund—paid by motorists of Texas and other states—to construction of mass transit systems in some of the eastern urban areas," Petry said.

"Some DOT planners see all highway matters centered in the problems of urban ghettos. The DOT ignores the fact that our whole economy is based upon the movement of goods and people over the highways," he said. "They have proposed the use of highway user tax revenues for everything from the construction of new airports to moving sidewalks. 'Joe motorist' can just take his lumps as far as they are concerned."

Petry quoted one "proponent of mass transportation facilities" who wants to divert highway user taxes as saying, "some of them are just going to have to get the hell out of their cars and use other means of transportation."

"DOT planners are obsessed with the prospect of mass transportation media, and they will force it down the throat of the American motorist regardless of whether he wants it or not."

granted individual or special interest group could forestall a highway project indefinitely. Meanwhile, motorists by the score could be dying on an adequate, overcrowded facility which the new highway would replace," Kultgen said.

FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Sunday mood. Look into your subconscious for good ideas.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have very fine ideas how to proceed in serious matters, so contact these individuals among your acquaintances who have plans in these areas. Wait until a better time to see that the time and mood is not right now.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) That new project you have is still right, but wait a better day to put in operation, or do whatever improves your personal life right now. Take time to lend a hand to a shut-in you know. Show that you are a true humanitarian.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget the practical and worrisome and be that with good acid who can give you a new and better outlook on life. The social is just ahead now. Many personal aims can be realized. Identify this way.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't listen to that associate who does not agree with what a higher-up suggests for your future welfare, which is very good. Give much of your attention to civic duties. Let your department be edified.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Put aside humdrum work and concentrate on some new plan you have for the future and get on the very highest level of consciousness. Contract persons out-of-town and tell them what ideas you have in mind.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want recreation but you have responsibilities to meet so proceed with them. Make plans to make definite plans, so be sure that you are cooperative and kind. Then both your lives become happier.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get together with associates socially and listen to their ideas, thereby avoiding some rather serious remarks at home. Much kidding about will bring fine ideas for the future. Show that you are a clever person.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show co-workers that you appreciate their observation and be sure you finish any work that you have started at home. Be it painting or whatever. Be sure to come through with that promise you made to another. Add more content to your life.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A close tie can give you advice that should be followed even though they differ from those of a business person you admire. Show you have good common sense. Then you can add considerably to present security.

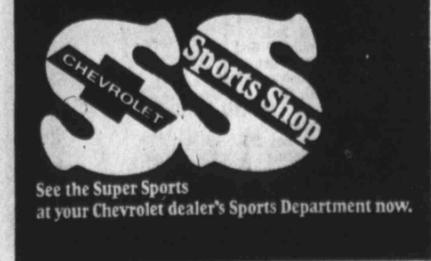

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an excellent day for putting into effect or in first thinking out a plan of action that can reap rich rewards for you in almost any direction that you wish. Be so active, center with yourself and the most important persons with whom you have any contact whatever and get a new perspective on life.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your creativity is at its peak today and can get others to do your bidding where some personal aims are concerned. Doing whatever will strike those you love happy is wise. Have you tried doing things with their ideas?
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Follow through with what you have planned. Do though it does against your grain, since more security and harmony will result. Dig into that new plan you have in mind. Success can be increased appreciably.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Talk over with partners how to get routines working more successfully via a more modern approach. Be more appreciative of those who succeed whatever is most valuable to you. Don't take them so much for granted.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get right into those duties that need more commitment. Be more practical in all that you do. Attend to all of your accounts and be sure to make the collections you should. Have fun tonight, even at home, which would be best.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Spend some time today socially and improve your relationships with those you like. Discuss mutual ideas. Something very worthwhile could come from this. Where's your sense of humor? Use it.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You desire some light recreation which is fine provided you get away from those who are your usual most serious-minded allies. Talk over with experts but how to get your life operating more ideally. Be ethical.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Your finest contact has fine ideas to gather how to improve your position in both civic and career work, so listen carefully. Find out what close ties desire of you and then be sure to back them. Show you are loyal.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Many fine ideas come to you now so get busy doing research work on them so they become productive. Those new contacts who cooperate with you are becoming more successful in the days ahead. Be dynamic.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Quickly get into those affairs that need your personal touch right now and that require precision and specialization. After you put in a good day's work, be concerned with the romantic. Happiness is yours for the taking.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your most intellectual pals are more than glad to carry on with what you desire. If you will include them in your plans monetarily, you can come to a very fine understanding with others now. Be, ethically.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Do your work so that you make a fine impression on higher-ups. Then do whatever will help you to handle those persons who mean much to you. Improve your health if you want to get that important work done well. Be smart.

"SS" stands for Super Sport... and no nonsense. The "396" part stands for the 396-cu.-in. 325-hp V8 that comes standard in this machine. Backing it up is a special suspension, floor-mounted 3-speed, power disc brakes and white lettered wide oval tires on extra-wide sport wheels.

Just by looking, you can tell this one's the real thing. A special domed hood and emblazoned SS badges let you know it's something special.

And here's the best part: you don't have to order the most luxurious Chevelle to get an SS 396. For a budget performer, you can order an SS 396 version of the Chevelle 300 Deluxe Sport Coupe or 300 pillar Coupe.

The Chevelle SS 396 comes with everything you need: a big V8, power disc brakes, special suspension, wide oval tires—the works. All you add is you. Stop at your Chevrolet dealer's Sports Shop and grab yourself one man-sized handful of car. The Chevelle SS 396—what it takes to grab first place.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

NEW STRUCTURE IN LUBBOCK
First National-Pioneer Building Now Open

New Bank Home In Lubbock Virtually An Art Museum

Newest structure to dominate the West Texas skyline is the 15-story First National Pioneer Building in Lubbock, now being put into use.

The $6 million edifice, a strikingly clean design in reinforced concrete which uses bronze spandrel glass, aluminum, marble and a marble aggregate for trim, is owned and occupied jointly by First National Bank in Lubbock and Pioneer Natural Gas Company for headquarters operations. Several floors will be for lease to other tenants.

The Pioneer section of the building is not quite complete but First National has moved into its quarters, which must be described as being among the most handsome anywhere in the country.

The bank has initiated a series of formal opening ceremonies, for different groups, which will run until Dec. 2.

While the seven floors occupied by the bank breathe an air of financial efficiency, the highlight for any visitor is the fabulous decoration scheme which follows an international theme. Virtually every floor, every office, is given over to paintings, sculptures and objects of art related to a different country.

The offices become virtually a museum, and visitors could spend hours reveling in the outstanding works of art — more than 500 of them — that have been gathered from all over the world for the central theme of the international concept. Some of the collections rate at the top for notable art.

The First National-Pioneer building, in addition to its innovations in decor, also is the first major office building in West Texas powered by a total energy plant. It uses only one fuel, natural gas, to produce all electricity, heating, cooling and hot-water requirements.

Sample Total Shows Jump

A total of 47,000 cotton samples were processed last week compared to 11,300 for the same week last year according to B. B. Manly Jr., officer in charge USDA cotton classing office, at Abilene. This brings the seasons total to 156,000 samples classed compared to 45,000 for a season total a year ago.

Eighteen classers, working two shifts, have kept the office with about the same backlog of samples. Two or three additional classers are being added today, which will enable the office to catch up, Manly said. The office is eight days behind.

Grades improved slightly last week with 48 per cent in the white category compared to 44 per cent for the previous week. Again, the remainder or 52 per cent were in the light spotted category. Bark bales showed up again with one per cent.

Staple was up a little last week, the predominant length being 30.

Micronaire readings were also up slightly with 86 per cent in the 3.3 to 4.9 premium range.

Strength readings were down a little but still good with 76 per cent reading 80,000 P.S.I. (pounds per square inch) and above.

The Consumer and Marketing Service reported that prices are down and range from 75 to 250 points over the government loan rate. Some average net prices are as follows: Middling 30—18.94 cents per lb.; middling 11—20.04; strict low middling 20—18.39; strict low middling 21—19.03; middling light spotted 20—18.75; middling light spotted 21—19.48.

Commuter Tax Held Invalid

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — The City of San Francisco's proposed one per cent income tax on commuters is unconstitutional, Judge Lincoln F. Mahan ruled Friday. Mayor

Joseph Alloto said in San Francisco the decision may be appealed or the ordinance revised to tax all persons working in that city, residents as well as commuters.

The income tax was scheduled to be effective Jan. 1 on salaries over $4,000 a year. The city expected 190,000 commuters would be affected.

'Help! Help!'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — There was one absentee ballot the St. Louis Board of Election Commissioners didn't count Friday. "Help," pleaded a note in a ballot envelope mailed from a serviceman. "I am being held prisoner against my will in an Army duffel bag."

RICHARD REAM Resident To Be On College Bowl

WACO — When Baylor University appears on the nationally televised General Electric College Bowl Nov. 30, a Big Spring resident and junior at Baylor will be a part of the team.

He is Richard Ream, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ream of 508 Highland.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, Ream is majoring in psychology.

There are three other students on the team and four alternates. For the past several weeks, these four students and the four alternates have had daily rehearsals with contests and brief talks from various Baylor professors.

The team is now in the process of meeting other campus teams in simulated contests in preparation for their television appearance.

Ream and his other teammates will travel to New York City Nov. 29, appear in the program Nov. 30 and return home Dec. 1.

Own Decisions

LOURDES, France (AP) — French Roman Catholic couples will be able to make their own decisions on birth control, the French Assembly of Bishops ruled Friday in a 10-page pastoral letter.

Noted Writers Due Here For Annual Book Fair

Fred Gipson, author of "Old Yeller," "Savage Sam" and other books, will head a list of three authors who will be here for the annual book fair sponsored by the Big Spring High School Library Club Nov. 19-21.

Joining him here for part of the fair will be Carlyse Graham Raht, Odessa, and Mrs. Vera Mullins, Wichita Falls.

Another big feature will be three panel-truck loads of books which will be on sale, in hard back and paper back volumes, at attractive rates for students.

The book fair itself will be held in the high school library during those three days, although there will be some other events honoring the guests.

Gipson will arrive here the afternoon of Nov. 18 and visit briefly with the librarians, assistants and student librarians. He also is scheduled for a television appearance and will be guest at a dinner.

All day Tuesday (Nov. 19), he will be at the library to visit with students and to autograph copies of his books. He will be honored at a luncheon, and then will remain at the library until 7 p.m. so that the public at large may visit with him. Open house will be observed from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Mrs. Joyce Ellis, librarian, and Mrs. Lee Ola Cook, assistant librarian and sponsor of the club, are in charge of arrangements.

In addition to his two famous dog stories which have been made into hit movies, Gipson has written numerous other books including "Fabulous Empire," "Cowhand," "Hound Dog Man," "Recollection Creek." Many of them have the locale of his native Mason country where he now lives.

Died of wounds: Marine Corp. Pfc. Steven A. Stroud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Stroud, 14522 Quention Road, Houston.

Changed from missing to captured: Navy Cmdr. Charlie N. James Jr., Lt. Cmdr. Vincent D. Monroe, Lt. J. G. Charles P. Zuhoski.

Missing as a result of hostile action: Army S. Sgt. Faris E. Holland.

He's Not Hoggish

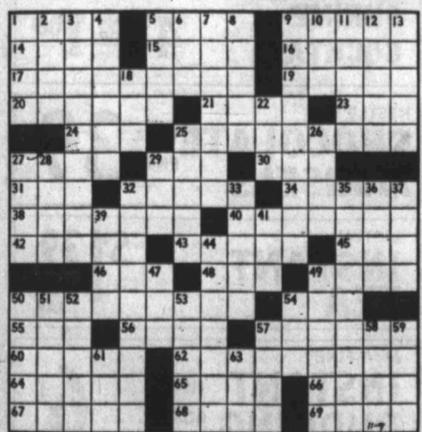

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Fred Kelly says he wishes the thief who stole $40 worth of hog wire and later returned to steal his post-hole diggers would come by for the rest.

"I've still got some fence posts the fellow may need," Kelly said. "I won't be able to keep the hog now so he can have that, too. I've even got some corn he can have."

Genealogists Set Workshop

The Permian Basin Genealogical Society will hold its annual workshop Sunday, Nov. 17 from 1-6 p.m. in the Ector County Library, 622 North Lee Street, Odessa.

Principal speaker will be Dr. James Day, former director of the Texas State Archives. He will speak on genealogical information available at the Texas State Library, archives, and other libraries in Austin, Tex., and area. At present Dr. Day is professor of English at Texas University in El Paso. Members are requested to bring their personal genealogical books and records in order to exchange information. The workshop is oriented for both the experienced genealogist and the beginner.

Discuss Projects

STANTON (SC) — The Optimist Club met Friday morning. A discussion of the fruit cake sale, now in progress, and the plans for the turkey shoot on Nov. 23 were led by Jimmy Wheeler, president.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN BOMBED BY RAIDERS IN LUBBOCK, 31-14

Sawyer Leads Tech Success

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas Tech, flirting with the flu bug, stormed from behind when the chips were down Saturday to spill Texas Christian 31-14 and retain a share of the Southwest Conference football lead.

Tom Sawyer, one of 15 Tech players stricken with a virus Friday night, engineered the triumph with timely runs and two touchdowns passes. One covered 71 yards.

The verdict was the fourth in five SWC games for the Raiders and kept alive their dream of a New Year's Day rendezvous in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

The Scarlet and Black Raiders are now 5-1-2 and face conference foes Baylor and Arkansas in the twilight phase of the SWC campaign.

Mercury Morris Leads Bisons

CANYON, Tex. (AP)— Eugene "Mercury" Morris, the nation's leading rusher, ran for 200 yards and scored three touchdowns as West Texas State came from behind and defeated Western Michigan 53-36 in an intersectional football game Saturday.

Trailing 30-17 after Mark Bordeaux completed his second of three touchdown passes to end Al Delille, West Texas' Duane Thomas plunged for two third-quarter scores, and the Buffaloes went in front 32-30 with 40 seconds left.

Aggies Slashed By Richardson

Richardson's ground gobbling, tackle-busting style was exemplified by his performance in the last six minutes of the game when he carried 7 straight times despite the fact that the Aggies' defense was keying on him.

Richardson, who gouged out 247 yards on 39 blasts at the Aggie forward-wall, rumbled to scores on runs of 10, 1 and 2 yards.

The victory gave SMU a 4-1 mark and kept the Mustangs in a tie with Texas, Arkansas, and Texas Tech for the SWC lead.

Hargett broke a career rushing record set by famed SMU All American Kyle Rote and overshadowed the heroics of Texas A&M's senior quarterback Edd Hargett.

Hargett threw three touchdown passes, broke a SWC career record for the most completed throws, and became the ninth all-time major college passer for career completions.

Hargett's touchdown throws traveled 7 and 11 yards to Bob Long and 17 yards to Larry Stengt.

SMU, its heralded passing game stymied by fierce rush, switched to Richardson's jarring runs to overcome a 10-7 Aggie halftime lead fashioned on Charlie Riggs 36 yard field goal.

Tech bounced back to life on the ensuing kickoff, executing a smooth handoff that nearly sprung Allen loose for a touchdown.

Lane Wade took the kick at the three, sped up field to the 22 and shoved the ball to Allen. He criss-crossed the field, weaving in and out of the hands of TCU defenders, and romped to the TCU 21.

Tech scored in five plays as end Evans took the first of his two payoff passes. A TCU fumble at the Christian four set up the second Raider touchdown.

Evans made this catch over a couple of TCU defenders in the corner of the end zone.

Sawyer carried 15 times for 107 yards and hit four of eight passes for 79 yards and the two touchdowns.

The defeat was the first for the No. 3 ranked Kansas after seven straight victories and may have ruined the Jayhawks' chances of going to the Orange Bowl.

Kansas had been considered a strong bet to win a bid to Bobby Allen at the TCU 45 on a scoring pass that covered 71 yards.

Angelo's Losing Streak Is Ended

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—The San receiving spread Don Burrell led the Angelo State Rams to a 47-7 victory over Northwood Institute Saturday.

Burrell scored three touchdowns and one two-point conversion as he caught 10 passes from Quarterback Billy Johnson for 135 yards.

The victory is the first of the season for Angelo State as the Ram's now own a 1-8 season. Northwood is 0-8 for the year.

Archer, Lotz Share Lead

HONOLULU (AP)—Young Dick Lotz rode in a 35-foot eagle put on the 18th hole in the third round of the $125,000 Hawaiian International Golf Tournament Saturday to share the 54-hole lead with lanky George Archer.

Archer birdied the 18th, 566 yards, with the Hawaiian trade winds at his back, for a three-round total of 203.

Both Lotz and Archer had 698 in the third round.

National Open champion Lee Trevino shot the day's best round, a 65, for 204 total, one stroke behind.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Roommates Bill Montgomery and Chuck Dicus drove Rice batty as the Arkansas Razorbacks prepared for their Southwest Conference stretch drive with a 46-21 victory over the Owls Saturday.

Montgomery, who completed 15 of 23 passes for 266 yards before retiring early in the fourth period, hooked up with Dicus on scoring passes of 38 and 67 yards as Arkansas spurred to a 27-0 halftime lead.

The victory pushed Arkansas' record to 7-1.

Montgomery's 294 yards total offense gave him an Arkansas season record of 1,622 yards. Dicus gained an Arkansas one-game record of 193 yards on his eight pass receptions.

Both Montgomery and Dicus are sophomores from the suburbs of Dallas, Texas.

Another recruit from Texas, senior tailback David Dickey of Palestine, contributed a four-yard scoring pass to Max Peacock and a one-yard touchdown run.

The victory kept Arkansas in a tie for the lead in the Southwest Conference with a 4-1 record. The Razorbacks close out their season with showdowns against SMU and Texas Tech.

Macon Hughes plunged one yard for a Rice touchdown and caught a 27-yard pass from Dennis Alexander for another. Gary Thomas passed six yards to Larry Davis on the halfback option for Rice's other score.

Worster, Gilbert Hammer Bruins

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Steve Worster and Chris Gilbert scored three touchdowns each as tenth-ranked Texas overcame a hatful of first-half errors Saturday to defeat Baylor 47-26 and keep alive hope of a Southwest Conference title.

Worster scored on runs of two and six yards to open the second half and pulled the Longhorns from a 13-12 half-time deficit and kept them tied for a share of the SWC lead.

Chris Gilbert, who has a 4-1 league record, Baylor is 1-3.

The Bears, winners of only one game this season, matched the Longhorns' awesome ground gain touchdown for touchdown in the first half.

The Longhorns' first-half scores were on runs of 10 yards

Gilbert, already the leading ground gainer in the conference, picked up 212 yards on 28 carries. Gilbert now is only 13 yards shy of gaining 1,000 yards in each of three straight seasons.

The Longhorns' first-half scores were on runs of 10 yards

ACC Is Upended By Arlington

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—The University of Texas at Arlington defeated Abilene Christian College 30-20 Saturday to win its second straight Southland Conference game.

The contest was a quarterback duel with Arlington's Mike Baylor hitting 21 of 35 passes for 317 yards and Abilene's Jim Lindley completing 29 of 56 passes for 384 yards.

Mac McLendon, six months on the tour, had a 69 for 205.

Halfway leader Ken Ellsworth, playing in his first professional tournament, salvaged a birdie on the 18th hole for a one-over-par 73 on the 7,000-yard Waialae course that borders the Pacific, and finished with a 54-hole total of 206, three strokes back.

DAVIS CUP MATCHES EVENED

India's Ace Winner

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Ramanathan Krishnan, India's 31-year-old tennis ace, crushed Clark Graebner, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, Saturday and gave his team a 1-1 tie with the favored United States in the Davis Cup Inter-Zone finals.

Arthur Ashe, the U.S. amateur and open champion, had won the opening match for the United States by beating Premjit Lall 6-2, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

Krishnan, the veteran internationalist and Cup star, was the player the Americans feared and he lived up to expectations in downing the hard-hitting but erratic 25-year-old New Yorker.

The match will start at 12 p.m., CST. The final two singles contests on Monday will send Krishnan against Ashe and Graebner against Lall.

Ashe, the 25-year-old American ace from Richmond, Va., hit too hard and accurately for the 27-year-old Lall. Lall, however, brought cheers from the sparse crowd of a little more than 1,000 at the Caribe Hilton Hotel courts by taking the second set.

Big Spring turned the clock back to 1962 by blanking Abilene High, 13-0, in a pivotal football game for both teams here Friday night.

On a field made treacherous by a light rain and snow all day, the Longhorns insured themselves of their second straight 500 season and eliminated all hope the grim Eagles might have had for that sort of windup while achieving their third shutout in history over the invaders.

The situation became very volatile in the waning seconds of the fourth quarter when the clubs started punching each other. Play was stopped twice near the windup to let the players get the hostility out of their systems.

The officials, who had been ordered by the Texas Interscholastic League to stay clear of such melees, followed their instructions to the letter.

ULCERS ACTED UP
A lot of the hardy fans who showed up for the imbrogio must have gone right home to the refrigerator for the milk bottle to calm their ulcers — it was that kind of game.

The Longhorns lit up the pinball machine with a first quarter score following an interception and a 35-yard run by Jimmy Farris, blew a couple of fairly good scoring opportunities in Round Two and then spent practically all the third period and part of the fourth trying to contain the War Birds.

Big Spring didn't put its insurance tally on the board until five seconds before the end, at which time Roy Lee Warren took a pitch from QB Gary Hinds and scooted five yards on a fourth down maneuver for the score.

The teams lost the ball on fumbles so many times (nine, to be exact) that one of the coaches threatened to go after the errant pighide with a stick and beat it to death.

The Longhorns played the first period as if they were intent on making Abilene do penance for all the lean years they experienced in the long

Ozona Lions Decision Stanton Buffs, 48-26

By NATE MITCHELL
Ozona — The Fighting Lions of Ozona pounced on the outmanned Stanton Buffaloes with adept swiftness here Friday night in a District 5-AA barn-burner.

The volatile offensive machine of the Jungle Kings staged a coup which overturned an early Bison lead and won going away, 48-26.

The biting cold and wet grounds made shambles of Ozona's homecoming festivities, and kept all but a sparse gathering from witnessing the melee.

The Tammies assured themselves of an over-500 season — rolling to their sixth win in nine starts — while putting the monkey on Stanton's back to beat tough Big Lake next Friday night in order to break even. The Buffs are now 4-5, with only one game left to play.

It was a story of the also rans district-wide, however, since Ozona is but 1-3 in the league and Stanton is 0-3.

Fullback Rodney Pagan and tailback Fleet Coates provided a renaissance of the Glen Davis-Don Blanchard era — the latter effecting perfect mimicry of Mr. Outside and Pagan doing an excellent imitation of Mr. Inside's escapades.

Pagan hopped 241 yards rushing while lugging the pill 22 times and Coates was right on his heels with 124 steps in 19 attempts. Stanton's biggest offensive effort came via the airwaves, with quarterback David Jones hitting 12 of 24 passes for 190 yards and two touchdowns.

Less than two minutes had expired in the game when Jones stabbed over from the one-yard line for the initial tally of the conflict. It took the Bisons four plays to get to the bank, following recovery of a Lion fumble at the 15. Jones converted on a sweep for the visitors' short-lived 8-0 lead.

Coates plunged in from the two with 3:00 left in Round One — capping a 65-yard march which took 11 plays — for Ozona's first TD. He also took a page out of Jones' book and swept the end for the bonus two points, deadlocking the count at 8-8.

After Stanton failed to move from its shotgun passing formation and punted, Pagan exploded up the middle and thundered 77 yards to the treasury on the first play of the series. The PAT kick went wide.

Seconds before the intermission, Big Cat quarterback Randal Clepper hooked up with Pagan at the 30 and the fullback pulled out the throttle for a 75-yard touchdown. Crisp blocking freed him in the Buff secondary. A pass for the bonus left incomplete, leaving the hosts with a 20-8 half-time edge.

David Huff relieved Clepper at the helm to open the third period and the new pilot winged a 27-yard scoring strike to end Danny Maness with 9:10 left in the round. Again the PAT kick was no good.

Jones played copy-cat the next time Stanton got the ball — hitting tailback Johnny McMeans for a 67-yard scoring bomb. It took the Buffs but four stratagems to close the gap to 26-14, with the point-after failing.

With 9:10 left in the third canto, Huff stole home from a yard out, with guard Tom Connors splitting the upright; with his kick, to end a 63-pace drive in eight plays.

Jones repeated the act from the one two minutes later — directing Bryan Boyd's club the same number of yards in a like number of plays (63-8). The PAT pass was thrown away.

Leading 33-20, Huff unleashed Coates again with 10:10 left in the battle. The tailback tore 8-yards to the bank, carrying four Bisons with him across the double stripes. He bounced back with a sweep for the two point bonus.

Stanton tacked on six more points with 8:00 to go before the clash became history, when Jones heaved to halfback Carl Dean from 42 yards away. Dean took the ball standing flat-footed — the sixth play of a 62-yard offensive. The jinx continued on the PAT attempt, with Jones getting nailed short of the objective on a run.

Again, injuries and a lack of depth kept the Stantonites from putting up a better showing. On both of Pagan's long TD runs, Jones' injured ankle kept him from over-taking the opponent on his way home.

The Lions' journey to Badgerland next Friday night to do battle with league spotter, McCamey.

Cooper, Lee And Permian Score Wins

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper Cougars upped their season mark to 7-2 by slipping and sliding past the Midland Bulldogs, 14-0, here on a cold, muddy Friday night in a District 3-AAAA football game.

Quarterback Andy Duvall rolled 12 yards around left end for Cooper's first touchdown at the end of a 20-yard march which required seven plays. John Villareal kicked one of two extra points.

Late in the final period, Duvall sneaked 27 yards for the Cougars' other six-point, with Villareal kicking the point.

The undaunted Cougars, who close out the season here next Friday night against cross-town rival, Abilene High, amassed 223 total yards, while holding Midland to a 68-yard aggregate.

ODESSA — The Odessa Ector Eagles remain winless for the season, but they gave Permian trouble for three quarters before the Panthers won it, 28-6. The win leaves Permian with a 6-1 District 3-AAAA record, tied with San Angelo's Bobcats.

After Charles Billingsley scored Permian's initial TD on a four-yard run, Ector tied it before the half when Ector Matta pulled down a 26-yard pass from Al Hernandez.

Billingsley ran 11 yards for a TD in the third quarter and added the bonus points for a 14-6 lead.

Alvin Berry burst nine and quarterback Tommy Stewart ripped 12 yards for Permian's final period scores, with Kent Hulsey converting with a kick both times.

COAHOMA — Curse you, Grantland Rice, for immortalizing those Four Horsemen 30 years ago when they could just have well been christened here Friday night.

The quartet of Coahoma Bulldog ball carriers ripped through the defenses of the Seagraves Eagles in the game of the year and stamped to a 42-6 victory to all but clinch the District 5-A championship.

Both teams were unbeaten as the curtain climbed in the headline, but when the gun sounded Seagraves was completely defeated, demoralized and downtrodden. The Bulldogs, after a slow start, finished the game running at will and stifling the Eagle offensive attack with a defensive effort that would credit Fordham's Solid Blocks of Granite a la Vince Lombardi.

Before the game was over, fullback Johnny Ted Fowler had marked three touchdowns and massed 155 yards rushing in 26 carries. His partner in Seagraves' destruction, Dean plays later on the four. Unable to score twice from inside the 10, Seagraves' spirit appeared to be broken, and Coahoma knew it. They cashed in on the disappointment and moved in for the score with Fowler crashing over from the one with 1:27 left in the half. Ricky Evans ran the two-point conversion for an 8-0 intermission lead.

The 96-yard march was sparked by several Eagle penalties and long runs by Fowler and Richters and a 25-yard aerial from Clanton to end Gaylon Harrison.

Coahoma opened second half scoring late in the period when a pass by Eagle quarterback Billy Flemmons was stolen by Toby Green on Coahoma's 36. Then Fowler broke through the Eagle trenches 57 yards to the Seagraves 14, and on the second play following Clanton fired a 12-yard touchdown pass to Billy King. Clanton provided the two extra points for a 16-0 lead.

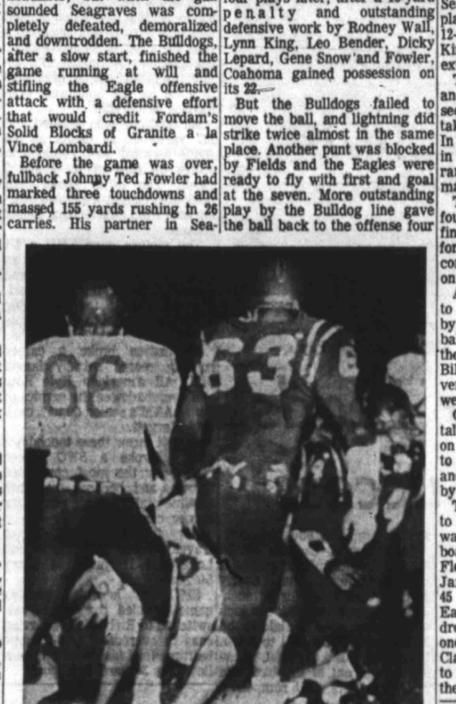

The Bulldogs managed another tally in the closing seconds of the third canto after taking over on the Eagle 33. In seven plays Fowler charged in from the four and Richters ran the conversion for a 24-0 margin.

The Bulldogs added their fourth touchdown early in the final quarter after Richters performed a bit of acrobatics to come up with an interception on the Eagle 47.

A 21-yard pass from Clanton to Billy King and steady gains by Fowler and Evans set the ball on the four. Clanton capped the drive with a short pass to Billy King and after the conversion run failed the Bulldogs were out of reach by 30-0.

Coahoma managed two more tallies in the final period, one on a two-yard run by Fowler to close a 52-yard campaign, and another on a 10-yard spurt by Clanton as the clock ran out.

The final tally added insult to injury. Down 36-6, Seagraves was trying to put more on the board with passes, but a Flemmons pass was grabbed by James Dunn on the Coahoma 45 and he returned it to the Eagle 21 where the visitors drew a penalty to the 10. With one second left in the game, Clanton rolled out to pass, faked to a receiver and charged down the sidelines to end the game.

Tense Moment
Seagraves had just blocked a punt and was on the verge of making a run at the Coahoma goal when the above picture was snapped. No. 66 is tackle Rodney Wall of Coahoma. Big No. 63 is Seagraves' all-district nominee, guard John Pillow.

Cowboys Favored By 16 In Game With New York

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys rate 16-point favorites Sunday to defeat the New York Giants and zoom to almost a certain Capitol Division championship in the National Football League.

A victory would give the Cowboys a three game lead over second place New York with but five games to play.

Should the Giants win, it would trim the Dallas lead to one game and perhaps set up a crucial windup battle between the two clubs in New York Dec. 15.

The Cowboys (7-1) feature the current No. 1 quarterback based on NFL figures in Dandy Don Meredith, playing with a broken nose since the loss to Green Bay Oct. 28.

Meredith got the top rating even after a poor performance against New Orleans in which he suffered two interceptions in a 17-3 win.

"If I keep this up, I'll soon be out of sight, won't I?" joked Meredith.

The flu has Dallas coach Tom Landry worried along with the fact his intricate multiple offense has been sputtering the last four games.

"Our pass protection hasn't been good, we're dropping too many passes, we have poor timing and Meredith hasn't been passing particularly well," Landry said. "And this flu bug going around doesn't help things any."

Linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, offensive tackle Ralph Neely, and No. 2 quarterback Craig Morton have been bothered with the flu.

"We are much more confident now on defense," he said. "We are working together more as a unit."

A sellout crowd of 72,000 is expected in the nationally televised match in the Cotton Bowl.

The Giants (5-3) come into the game off a 26-0 loss to Baltimore in which the Colts shut

Adams State May Go To Missouri

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP) — Adams State College is being considered for a third trip to the Mineral Water Bowl football game in Excelsior, Mo.

School officials said the Indians are one of four teams under consideration for the small college contest Thanksgiving Day.

Adams State won on both trips, the last a 14-6 victory over Southwest Missouri State in 1966.

Doane of Crete, Neb.; Central Missouri State of Warrensburg and Austin College of Sherman, Tex., also are under consideration.

Cooper Swarms Over Wink, 23-8

WINK — Lubbock Cooper swarmed all over the Wink Wildcats here Friday night and left town a 23-8 victor.

Cooper scored once in the first period, twice in the third and trapped the 'Cats in the end zone for a safety.

Rex Brewer counted Wink's only score, going four yards in the final period, with Jay Warren rolling in with the bonus.

Clinching Touchdown
Roy Lee Warren (20) heads for the second and clinching touchdown of the game in the Big Spring-Abilene High tussle here Friday night. The play covered five yards and occurred in the final five seconds. No. 25 is Abilene's Lorenzo Bell. Big Spring won, 13-0.

Troublesome Vikings To Host Green Bay

By The Associated Press

With Green Bay in the unusual position of playing catch up, the Central Division holds the spotlight in Sunday's National Football League play as the other division leaders are favored.

The defending champion Packers, stung with a 3-41 record, figure to have no easy task when they travel to Minnesota, a team which has always given the Packers rough treatment and upended them in the second week of the season.

NOW 4-4

The Vikings presently are 4-4, a record good enough to tie for the division lead with Chicago in the tangled race. The Bears also are expected to have their hands full against visiting San Francisco, 4-4. Detroit, 3-4-1, must face Baltimore and that makes the Lions an underdog.

With only a half game separating the four teams, any one could wind up on top alone after this ninth week of the 14-game season.

In the Coastal Division Baltimore and Los Angeles each stand at 7-1 and are expected to finish the day still tied with the Rams ruling a solid favorite at Atlanta.

Dallas, 7-1, can all but wrap up the Capitol Division title with an expected victory over the visiting second place New York Giants, 5-3.

Cleveland and St. Louis, each

5-3 in the Century Division, are favored to remain that way with the Browns hosting New Orleans and St. Louis entertaining Pittsburgh.

Washington plays at winless Philadelphia in the other contest.

As if the Vikings and their 3-2 record against Green Bay since 1966 isn't enough for the Packers to worry about, they also are troubled by kicking problems, which have helped cost them several victories this season.

Retired ace Don Chandler has been mentioned as a solution, but still hasn't signed.

Green Bay still has a healthy Bart Starr throwing, and he might have his hands full solving Minnesota's tough defense that featured seven defensive backs in obvious passing situations against Washington last week.

ROOKIE TO START

Chicago once again will start rookie quarterback Virgil Carter, who with plenty of support from Gale Sayers and kicker Mac Percival, guided the Bears past the Packers last week. The defense will have to stop San Francisco's John Brodie to Clifford McNeil passing combination.

Earl Morrill will start again for Baltimore against one of his old clubs and will be aided by one of the league's best defenses along with the absence of the Lions' injured Mel Farr.

St. Louis, with four straight victories behind young Jim Hart, can expect plenty of problems with the rejuvenated Steelers, who have won two in a row with Dick Shiner after six losses. Although the Steelers have won only one of the last nine meetings between the clubs, most of the battles have been cliff-hangers.

New Orleans will have Karl Sweetan replacing injured Bill Kilmer at quarterback while the Browns have won four of five behind Bill Nelsen and Leroy Kelly.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Press Box Is Inadequate

By TOMMY HART

Big Spring's three leading candidates for all-district and all-area football honors, quite probably, are fullback-linebacker Rocky Wooley, halfback Roy Lee Warren and offensive tackle Steve Russell.

Russell picks up a surprising amount of support from coaches around the conference, who like the authoritative way he leads interference for Steer ball carriers.

Wooley is tremendous both ways but especially poisonous on defense.

Coaches and members of the District 3-AAAA executive committee should work toward two objectives for next fall: Altering the schedule so that the suspense will endure beyond the first two weeks of the district campaign and moving the starting times of games to 7:30 p.m.

The cost of tickets for all football games will almost surely be advanced to $2 before the 1969 campaign begins—the price of ducats hasn't changed in a dozen years while everything else has gone up.

The people who planned a new press box in the Midland stadium took care of the newsmen's needs last and almost didn't get around to it at all.

Football scouts, who in the beginning begged to be allowed to use any empty seats that might be available, are like the camel who was allowed to stick his head in the tent—he now has the whole tent.

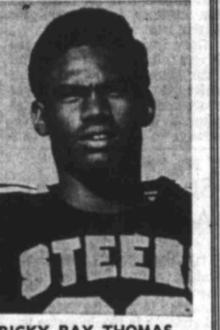

The scouts have the choice seats and the working press is assigned to a tiny corner in an upper story of the Midland press coop.

If any game of importance is played there, the result will be that most newsmen cannot be accommodated.

It is as if the school system were trying to alienate their most loyal friend, the newsmen.

Some members of the Midland news corps won't even dignify the place by using its facilities.

Why should radio stations, who never accept a contract to air any football game unless they can be assured a profit, be given preferential treatment at the expense of newspapers?

RICKY RAY THOMAS

The 1972 extravaganza in Munich will be the XX Olympiad and "x" will mark the spot unless the IOC committee does something to stop the demonstrations that have become a part of the athletic show.

One of the Sands heroes in the recent football game with Roby was a 113-pound linebacker named Randy Clements, who is only a freshman.

You ask why Coach Spike Dykes of Big Spring didn't go for the two-pointer rather than the one-pointer after that fifth touchdown in the Midland game? Good question. Spike explains he wanted to put the pressure on the Bulldog bench, had Midland scored again—by making it decide in a hurry whether to try for a win or a tie.

The Bulldogs, of course, never got the chance because the Steers never gave them the opportunity.

Big Spring, incidentally, returned kickoffs a total of 231 yards against Midland, which could be a school record.

When Ricky Ray Thomas returned the opening kickoff for a TD, it marked the first time in history a Big Spring team had run back kickoffs for touchdowns on consecutive plays.

The Steers had ended the San Angelo game the previous week with a runback for a score.

One of the most tenacious players in the local system is Lewis Switzer, an outstanding linebacker with the JV unit.

He pounces on enemy ball carriers like an angry falcon.

Notre Dame hasn't won a football game in East Lansing, Mich., (home of Michigan State) in 19 years now but the futility of Wisconsin is worse—

The Badgers haven't beaten Ohio State in Columbus, Ohio, in 50 seasons.

Idaho University, where ex-Big Spring Don Robbins now coaches, has a 6-4 quarterback named Steve Olson who is said to be one of the best in the West.

He's a pinpoint passer.

The Big Spring football team has played better on the road than in home contests this year and Coach Dykes has never been able to figure out why.

Bobby Nichols, medalist in the 1958 Big Spring Invitational, has a $250,000 contract at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio, payable over five years.

His could be the best club job in golf.

Skirmishing Far From Over In AFL's Western Circuit

By The Associated Press

New York is a slight favorite to turn back a loser to become a winner for the first time, but the Western Division race is expected to remain as tight as ever in American Football League activity Sunday.

The Jets, 6-2, who have never won an Eastern Division crown, can just about sew it up when they play host to suddenly-revived Houston.

The Oilers have only a 4-3 record—but that's good enough for second place in the mismatched Eastern race. A victory would almost certainly assure New York the title since that would give Houston four more losses than the Jets with only four games to play.

Things are just the opposite in the Western race, where Kansas City, 7-2, holds only a half-game edge over Oakland, 6-2, and San Diego, 6-2.

And, the complexion of that race isn't expected to change much Sunday because all three are paired against weaker foes—Kansas City travels to Cincinnati, 2-7; Oakland is at Denver, 4-4, and San Diego is at Boston, 3-5. Miami, 2-5-1, goes to Buffalo, 1-7-1, in the day's other game.

Despite their poor record, the Oilers have been coming on strong of late thanks to former

No. One Team Given Scare

By The Associated Press

Dallas South Oak Cliff, Henderson, Iowa Park, and Poth—the first-ranked teams in the top four divisions of Texas school football—emerged victorious Friday night.

Dallas South Oak Cliff, the top-ranked Class AAAA club, had a scare from Dallas Sunset on a muddy field before prevailing 14-6. Second-ranked Galveston Bay scored an impressive 45-10 victory over Lamar Consolidated and stands an excellent chance to press the Golden Bears for the top spot in the rankings next week. Third-ranked Austin Reagan, the defending state champion, eased past Austin Johnston 19-0.

Tough Henderson, the No. 1 Class AAA club, smashed Nacogdoches 26-0 while second-ranked Refugio kept pace with a 21-0 victory over Pleasanton. Third-ranked Alvin and fourth-ranked Lubbock Estacado did not play Friday night, but the fifth-ranked Ennis Lions shined with a thorough 47-0 drubbing of Terrell. Sixth-ranked Mission was in a 7-4 squeaker over Weslaco.

Top-ranked Iowa Park of Class AA ripped Quanah 28-0 to put a strong anchor on its top position. The stunner in Class AA was second-ranked Crane's 12-4 loss to Reagan County. Third-ranked San Antonio Randolph rolled 40-0 over San Antonio Cole. Fourth-ranked Phillips blasted Spearman 55-14 but fifth-ranked Olton was tied 28-28 by Friona.

In Class A, the mighty Poth Pirates thundered on with a 41-0 smearing of Stockdale. A stunning upset occurred in Dist. 2-A where third-ranked Clearendon was slapped 15-7 by Wheeler.

Baylor star Don Trull, who has moved from the taxi squad to the No. 1 quarterback role.

Trull, traded away by the Oilers to Boston last year then reacquired when the Patriots dropped him, has been an impressive replacement for the ailing Pete Beathard and ineffective Bob Davis.

He has started in Houston's last two victories, and has fired six touchdown passes in 10 quarters. Two of those makers came three weeks ago in the final quarter of a game with the Jets. New York needed a dramatic last-minute drive, directed by Joe Namath, to win that one.

Guldahl, Jameson, Todd And Norton Join Shrine

DALLAS (AP)— Two golfing greats, a former pro football player and the coach of a national collegiate championship football team have been elected to the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

The four are National Open winner Ralph Guldahl, golfer Betty Jameson, Dick Todd of Texas A&M and the Washington Redskins, and the late Homer Norton, whose 1939 Aggie team was voted the nation's best.

The three living immortal sports figures will come to Dallas Dec. 31 for the Hall of Fame luncheon that has become a highlight of Cotton Bowl Week.

The luncheon is co-sponsored by the Texas Sports Writers Association, which governs the Hall of Fame, and the Dallas Salesmanship Club.

Guldahl, a former Dallas resident, won back to back victories in the National Open in 1937-1938 and missed by one stroke of winning the same tournament in 1939. He won the Masters in 1938, after being runner-up in 1937 and 1938. Guldahl also won the Western Open three times, 1936-1938.

Miss Jameson is the second woman to be elected to the hall. The late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, hailed as the world's greatest woman athlete, was selected in 1954.

Betty won the 1938 U.S. Women's Amateur Championship and repeated in 1940. She held the Western Amateur title in 1940 and 1942.

After turning pro, she captured the U.S. Women's Open in 1947 and was runner-up in 1952.

Betty, who started swinging clubs when she was only a school girl of 12 in San Antonio, had won four Texas women's titles by the time she was 19.

Todd set an all-time high school scoring record for Crowell High School before entering Texas A&M. He earned all-SWC honors as a halfback in 1937 and Purdue University's Perry Williams leaps over teammate Donnie Green (70) for a 2-yard gain against the University of Minnesota during Big Ten game in Minneapolis Saturday. In background is Minnesota's Ron Kamzelski (76).

Purdue Upset By Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Burlington fullback Jim Carter hammered in for three first period touchdowns as Minnesota knocked sixth-ranked Purdue reeling 27-13 Saturday in a stunning Big Ten football upset. Carter, who gained 100 yards rushing, rambled 49 yards for the opening touchdown early in the period and then added two more scores on short yardage plunges, igniting the Gophers to a 27-0 halftime lead. Purdue, a two-touchdown favorite which had been averaging 33 points per game, never recovered from the first half onslaught.

The Boiler-makers, suffering their second loss of the season, prevented an all-out Minnesota rout in the second half, on Perry Williams two-yard touchdown plunge and Mike Phipps' three-yard scoring pass to Marion Griffin. The Gophers, capitalizing on two fumble recoveries and two intercepted passes, churned 307 yards rushing in the game played before a crowd of 49,780 and a national television audience in 33-degree weather. Georgia Batters Florida, 51-0

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Mike Cavan drove ninth-ranked Georgia to an amazingly easy 51-0 victory over the steadily deteriorating Florida Gators through a heavy rain Saturday and kept the Bulldogs a leading contender for the Southeastern Conference championship and a bowl game. A record crowd of 70,012 saw the start of this traditional game but dwindled steadily in the face of game-long rain, a tornado watch and fog as the Gators absorbed their worst beating since 1942 when Frank Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi led Georgia to a 75-0 win. Georgia was in command from the opening whistle, offensively and defensively. Cavan sent his running backs around both ends and through the middle with regularity. On the rare occasions of third down and long yardage, he lofted passes to receivers who were nearly always open and had no trouble holding the wet ball. Cavan tossed touchdown passes of 26 yards to Charles Whittemore and six yards to Dennis Hughes and ran three yards for a score. Georgia 14 21 13 3-51 Florida 0 0 0 0-0

Sweetwater Rout Chiefs, 54-6

LITTLEFIELD — The Sweetwater Mustangs routed the Littlefield Chiefs, 54-6, here Friday night in a District 3-AAA football game. Except for a tie the Ponies have an unmarred record this season. Benjie Kemp, Larry Williams and Aubrey McCain scored two TDs each for Sweetwater. David Redwine and Johnny Moore tallied one six-pointer each, with Moore nailing a Chief runner in the end zone for a safety. Wes Ronemus kicked three extra points. Littlefield got its lone tally on a 90-yard kickoff return by Ken Twitty.

JAYTON — The Jayton Jaybirds penned the Sands Mustangs, 49-6, here Friday night in a District 8-B grid encounter. The win sends Jayton against Hermleigh for the district crown here next week. Martin Garcia scored four touchdowns and passed to Denny Chaney for another. Rick Hall tallied a pair of six-pointers on passes from Kim Nichols, who kicked seven consecutive extra points. The Mustangs got their lone score when Ron Taylor took a 21-yard pass from Steve Herm in the second period. The score was close, 7-6, with just over two minutes left in the half, but a fumble turned the game around for Jayton. The Jaybirds tacked on 14 additional points before the intermission and erupted for four other TDs in the third canto. Taylor accumulated 153 yards in eight receptions for the Ponies. Sands journeys to Wilson for a game next Friday night.

Two Students Honored During Coahoma Game

By SUSIE WISENER
Climaxing a week filled with spirit activities at Coahoma High School was Friday night's announcement of the Football Sweetheart, Mr. Football and Band Sweetheart, Twylla Wall, a sophomore, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wall, who was named Football Sweetheart and presented a bouquet of carnations from football tri-captains Mike Duke, Rickey Evans and Rodney Wall.

The honor of Mr. Football was bestowed upon two senior captains this year. Rodney Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wall, and Rickey Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans were presented by Sharon Roman, pep squad president.

Mary Pipes, band sweetheart, received a bouquet of roses from Tommy Rutledge, band president. Mary, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pipes.

SPIRIT WEEK
Last week was officially declared "School Spirit Week" and special activities took place each day. Tuesday was "Slogan Day," with usual greetings replaced by "Beat Seagraves," or "Get an Eagle." Cathy Evans received the prize for being the one-hundredth person to recite a slogan to Mr. Grady Tindol, school counselor.

Wednesday each student wore a hat for "Booster Hat Day." The prize for the most creative hat went to Connie Parrish. Students made and carried posters for Thursday's activity, "Sign Day." Gary Roberts and Danny Walker won prizes for the best signs. Members of the student body wore school colors, red

Council Holds Straw Vote

By VELMA LEE SHERROD
GARDEN CITY — The Garden City student council sponsored an election Tuesday for president and governor. When the results were counted, George Wallace won the presidential election by a landslide and Paul Eggers won the governorship by a narrow margin of two votes.

Friday, the annual staff held elections for the class officers, most likely to succeed, most athletic, friendliest, neatest, Mr. and Miss GCHS, and the teachers will elect the best all-around boy and girl.

In the finals, Kay Sawyers and David Hoelscher were named king and queen and Crystal Overson and Clay Hammond were named grade school royalty.

Thursday, the sophomores, juniors and seniors began their achievement tests which will show the students where their talents lie. They will also show in what fields the students should work harder.

A movie about Egypt, past and present, was presented Thursday to the world history class. The class has been studying the Asian continent and its countries' histories.

Cheryl McDonald, freshman, adds light on several of these countries that she has lived in. Among them are Germany and Spain.

and white, on Friday. During the noon pep rally, prizes were awarded to the winners of the various activities.

Head Coach Bernie Hagins gave the victory speech during the main pep rally Friday. Mrs. Marie Eberidge was presented a charm and gift certificate from the members of the pep squad in honor of her loyal devotion as sponsor. Mrs. Doris Easterling, Mrs. Jean Wynn and Mrs. Eleanor Garrett were judges of the spirit stick competition which was awarded to the football team.

TEAM HONORED
A special issue of the "Bark" was published Friday in honor of all football players. A victory theme was carried out in the edition because Friday night's game between Coahoma and Seagraves was the decisive

Pep Squad Selling Booster Pillows

By SHIRLEY COBB
The Buffalo Gals, pep squad of the Forsan High School, have undertaken the task of selling Buffalo Booster pillows. The pillows are strong plastic cover on which is printed Forsan Buffs-surrounding the head of a "mean" buffalo.

Any person interested in purchasing a pillow is asked to contact a member of the pep squad or cheerleader. The pillows are priced at $1.25 each.

The student council representatives reported to their respective classes Wednesday the decisions of the weekly meeting. The council has decided to take suggestions for citizens of the month. A suggestion box has been set up in the library to take nominations for this honor.

Any student who wishes to make a nomination is asked to place the name of the nominee or nominees on a slip of paper with reasons why the nominee should be citizen of the month. The name of the individual who makes the nomination is to appear on the back of the nomination.

The student council will review the suggestions and will decide upon the citizen or citizens of the month.

The council also decided to

Payne Appointed To Be Counselor

John Howard Payne III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Payne II, 3704 Hamilton, is among 14 individuals, considered to be exceptional students at the University of Texas, selected to be adviser-counselors in the office of the dean of the UT College of Arts and Sciences.

The idea is that any arts and sciences student can "tell it like it is" to another student in the Office of Student Affairs. This is part of the college's "feedback" program instituted this autumn. Payne is a junior student in liberal arts.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS
6-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Nov. 10, 1968

Students Honored By Optimist Club

By SHARON SWIM
Anne Robinson and Gerald Smith were chosen from a group of seven Big Spring High School youths to be awarded with Youth Appreciation

Trophies by the Optimist Club. Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Robinson. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Smith. The awards were presented at the football game between the Big Spring Steers and the Abilene Eagles.

Campaigns Active During Elections

By GAYLE MOORE
Forsan Junior High, as well as high school, has been participating in politics this past week. In one of the 8th grade classes the students campaigned and spoke for each of the three candidates. Although they did not have a rally as high school did, they campaigned and voted in class rooms. The speeches were given in social studies, the last period of the day. When all of the votes were counted, Wallace came in first, Nixon second and Humphrey last.

Another Forsan Junior High football game was played Thursday evening at Bronte. The score was 20-6, Bronte's favor. Chuck Chrane made the touchdown for Forsan.

At the half time, the junior high cheer leaders did a pom pom routine to the tune of "The Good, the Bad and the Ugly." The last game for Forsan Junior High is scheduled for next Thursday at Forsan against Loraine.

Winners of the Recognition awards were: Lynn Cauley, son of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Cauley; James Person, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Person; Elizabeth Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Moore; Patricia Macklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Macklin; and Ruth Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell.

The Silver Horns, a BSHS Stage Band, will play for the veterans at the Veterans Administration Hospital Monday.

UIL CONTEST
The band is preparing for the University Interscholastic League Marching Contest to be held in Odessa Saturday.

The band is making an all out effort to get a first division rating at the UIL Contest. Many sectionals and extra rehearsals have been held to make preparations," stated Mr. Don Turner, assistant band director. Captain Smith and Lt. Roy were speakers at a meeting of the Texas Association of Careers for Health. Captain Smith spoke on the duties of an Air Force Nurse. The TACH members will tour the Webb Hospital Tuesday.

Season To Close For Goliad Fans

By NANCY POLK
This week at Goliad will be climaxed by the final football game of the season. The football sweetheart, chosen by the band members, will be presented at the pep rally Thursday. This precedes the game against the Runnels Yearlings which will be played at Memorial Stadium, 6:00 p.m. The Seventh Grade All-Stars will play at Memorial Stadium, Thursday at 4:00 p.m.

Band fruit cakes will be on sale up to the Christmas season. Prices are as follows: two pounds, $3.90; three pounds, $5.50; and five pounds, $8.60. For each $50 the salesman brings in, he will receive a free ticket to a Midland theater.

The band president will be elected this week by band members. He will present the band sweetheart at Thursday's pep rally.

The Goliad Mavericks were defeated 14 to 12 by Snyder Lamar last Thursday evening at Blankenship Field. This was the second defeat for Goliad out of nine games. Results of seventh grade games played Saturday, Nov. 2, were Coach Lane's Vikings, first place over the Runnels Cowboys; and coach Griffin's Gladiators, third place over the Runnels Rams.

All seventh grade students will take achievement and ability tests Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The major part of both days will be required to finish the tests. Further instructions will be given during the early part of the week.

Finals in the girls' intramural softball games will be played off Monday during the eighth grade advisory period. This will take place at Goliad's east backstop. All students are invited to watch after receiving permission from their advisory teachers.

Goliad enrolled eight new students this week. Eighth grade students are Jan and Ann Carman from Ector, Texas; Richard Phelps from Madison Heights, Va.; Bobbie Ann Hollenbeck from Montgomery, Ala.; Henry Horton from San Angelo, Texas. New seventh grade students are David Harrison from Copparras Cove, Texas; Kim Meyers from Adams, Colo.; and Karl Lane Walker from Joplin, Mo.

Sophomores Sponsor Festive Spirit Week

By FRANK GRIFFIS
The sophomore class of Howard County Junior College is sponsoring a Spirit Week beginning Friday, Nov. 22. The festivities will include tugs-of-war, a talent show, sack racing, bonfires, a dance, and the crowning of Miss Scarecrow 1968 during the first home basketball game.

The basis for the Spirit Week is the competition between the freshman and sophomore classes. Each class will vie to see who can win each individual contest category. During activity period Friday, the two groups will compete in the contests, according to Gary Givens, sophomore class president.

DANCE SET
A dance is slated for Saturday evening from 9-1 o'clock. Monday will be "Color Day," with a possible talent assembly presented, with points awarded to the class with the highest percentage of attendance, based on total enrollment.

Each class will build a bonfire on the vacant lot at the east end of the campus, and the size of the bonfire will be judged with points going to the class with the biggest and highest entry. The flames will go up at 7 p.m. Monday night, during the first basketball game with Grayson County Junior College. Miss Scarecrow will be crowned, her selection having depended on the class with the highest number of points in the overall competition. Each class will have selected a nominee for the honor, and the winner's name will be withheld until the game.

GARAGE SALE
The Lasso Club is planning a garage sale Nov. 15-16 at Nancy Mathis' house, 1007 Mt. Vernon. This project is to raise money for a banquet to be held in December.

Sale Underway At Runnels

By ANN NICHOLSON
A magazine sale began at Runnels Monday with a total of over $400 being taken in that day. The high salesman for the first day was Gary Truett, an eighth grader and Mark Anderson, a seventh grader.

The high salesman won a large stuffed donkey and the runner-up received $1. The head cheerleader this week was Janell Wright. The seventh grade was excluded from the pep rally this week because they have already finished their season. Their finals were Yearlings, 5-1-1, and the Cowboys, 5-2. There will be an art show at Runnels Monday through Friday of next week.

High School Presents 'National Election'

By BRENDA INGRAM
SANDS — A national election was held for the high school students Tuesday. George Wallace captured 53 votes.

Richard Nixon was second with 33, and Hubert Humphrey gathered only 13 votes. Teachers were also allowed to vote. Campaign speeches were given in the three government classes by various students in behalf of the candidate of their choice.

Membership fees for eight new Beta club members were sent in Wednesday to the national headquarters in Spartanburg, South Carolina. New members are: Seniors — Paula Woods, Johnny McGregor, and Gary Riddle; freshmen — La Deana Riddle, Dorinda Graham, Paul Hopper, Mary Ann Wallace, and Kathy Newcomer. This brings the total membership to 27, the largest in the school's history.

In last Friday's pep rally, the cheerleaders, Lana Lloyd, head and senior cheerleader, Sandra Nichols, juniors, D'Aun Ditto, sophomore, and Dorinda Graham, freshman, presented a pom pom routine. Coach James Blake presented player of the week certificates for several games and gave a speech.

The Mustangs are now 1-1 in district play after routing the Roby Lions 30-12 here last Friday night.

After the game there was a reception at the Church of Christ fellowship building. Refreshments were served and entertainment in the form of a skit and several songs was presented. Approximately 100 attended.

Congratulations to junior end, Perry Gillespie, for receiving the Lineman of the Week award, and to sophomore back, Johnny Peugh, for capturing Back of the Week honors in the Roby game.

School was closed—all day Monday out of respect to the four students of Sands who perished in the tragic car-truck collision Friday night after the football game.

Mrs. Edgar Herm won the cake that the seniors raffled off at the game Friday night. The class wishes to thank Mrs. W. C. Taylor for baking the cake.

The eighth grade class is selling candy for $1 a box. The money will go toward sending the class to Fort Davis and Prude Dude Ranch at the end of the school year.

The Junior High girls defeated Garden City 36-23 Tuesday night. The high school "B" team won by a margin of 48-35 over the Bearkat "B" team. The "A" team came on strong to defeat Garden City 74-33 in the last game of the evening.

School was dismissed at 2:00 Thursday in order for the teachers to attend a Small Schools Teachers Meeting at Howard County Junior College.

Students Honored During Half-Time

By CINDY DAVIS
The 1968 Stanton Football Sweetheart and the Pep Squad Hero were presented during the half-time activities of the Stanton-Dunbar game.

Pug Deavenport was named the 1968 Football Sweetheart. Vicki Glynn and Kay Fuller were runners-up. Carl Dean was chosen as the Pep Squad's Hero. Benny Avery and Mike Curry were named runners-up.

A mock election was held Tuesday, Nov. 5. The students were given mimeographed copies of the official ballot used in Martin County. The results of the election showed 213 ballots cast. George Wallace won the presidential count with 117 votes. Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon received 54 and 53 votes, respectively. The election was sponsored by the Stanton High School student council.

Twenty-five members of the L. M. Hays Future Teachers of America chapter traveled to the District IV FTA convention held in Seminole on Saturday, Nov. 2.

Anne Robinson of Big Spring presided over the meeting. The keynote address was delivered by Harry Newhart of Midland.

Stanton FTA members attending the meeting were: John Anastasio, David Workman, Doris Allen, Darla Sawyer, Pug Deavenport, Trudy Powell, Faye Ringener, Sandy Chandler, Brenda Holloway, La Wanda Glaspie, Love Stewart, Teresa Louder, Gayle Haggard, Deborah Holloway, Cyndi Clements, Jackie Cook, Darla Dowden, Chester Kokel, Judy Costlow, Rosalyn Louder, Patricia Haislip, Debbie Linney, Peggy Anastasio, Susan Vest, and Melissa McArthur. The group was sponsored by Mr. Charles Hardin. Mr. George Walker also went with the group.

STUDENTS HONORED
Cindy Davis and Walt Haislip were chosen by the Stanton High School faculty as the October citizens-of-the-month. They were both honored at the Stanton Lions Club meeting Tuesday.

David Adkins, Stanton High School senior, has received a letter from the Area FFA advisor, indicating that he has been named one of the ten youths in the state for the Rural Youth Award. David, along with the other nine recipients, will be honored in February in San Antonio.

The band members honored their director Mr. George Walker with a surprise party after the Dunbar game. The theme of the party was "Up With Mr. Walker." Cake, cookies, and soft drinks were served.

Students Teach For Fall Term

DENTON — Marshall Ray Box and Toni Ann Urban of Big Spring are among some 443 North Texas State University students serving as student teachers in Dallas-Fort Worth-Denton area schools during the fall semester.

Box, son of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Box, 2401 Cindy Lane, is teaching industrial arts in the Dallas school system. Miss Urban is teaching first grade at Fannie C. Harris Elementary School, Dallas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Urban, 2509 Carleton.

Welfare Issue Most Disliked

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN (AP) — Texans, by defeating a welfare proposal in Tuesday's election, have anchored the state at or near the national tail end in providing aid to the needy.

The proposed constitutional amendment would have raised the present $60 million limit on annual welfare grants to $75 million next September.

It lost by 235,752 votes out of 1,492,988 cast, making it the most unpopular of the 14 proposed amendments on the ballot. Five years ago Texans voted 330,922 to 192,450 to raise the welfare ceiling from $54.3 million to $60 million.

"The welfare board couldn't come to any conclusion why the amendment was defeated this year," said Bob Grissom, assistant welfare commissioner in charge of finance. "But my personal feeling is that people felt taxes are too high, so to hell with it."

The Welfare Department was counting so much on passage of the proposal that it had based its budget for the next two years on the $75 million limit.

There will have to be some fast reshuffling before the legislature convenes in January.

"Point blank, we don't know the effect" rejecting the amendment will have, Grissom said, but he was talking about specifics. "The true effect is that we will have to try to figure out how to handle it to hurt the people the least."

Texas' welfare payments have been consistently low. The state ranks last, 50th, in administrative cost per recipient for old age assistance, 49th in assistance in aid to dependent children and 45th in assistance to permanently and totally disabled.

The Welfare Department's plans for possible increases in payments to the elderly, blind and families with dependent children are now nothing more than memories.

"Since September we've been averaging an increase of more than $,000 a month in the AFDC (aid to families with dependent children) program," Grissom said. "A year ago we were averaging an increase of 1,500 a month so it has more than doubled. We keep thinking it will level off, but if this continues for the next six months we are really going to be in trouble."

"There would be a drastic effect immediately, but in all probability there will be another reduction" in welfare grants in that category, matching one made earlier because of the high caseload.

"For old age assistance," Grissom said, "We might get along at the same level without any unusual difficulty, and payments to the blind won't be affected if the caseload remains static as it has."

This doesn't take into account the rising cost of living, which means the same payments next year as this year would not buy as much.

"The present fact that unemployment is low and average income high has little influence on welfare recipients," said the Texas Social Welfare Association. "Ninety-two per cent are either 65 years of age or older, in school or too young to be employable, ill, blind, or permanently and totally disabled."

Will the welfare hike be put before the voters again? "I don't know," said Grissom. "That's for the legislature to decide. But even if it was, they probably wouldn't call a special election, so it would be two and Mrs. H. D. Bruton. The auxiliary serves refreshments at the Veterans Administration Hospital each month and assists with special parties.

ASSISTING WITH PLANS for observing Veterans' Day Monday are these members of the WWI Barracks Auxiliary, Mrs. J. L. Unger, Mrs. W. W. Wood, Mrs. T. G. Adams, Mrs. H. M. Haygood

and Mrs. Mary Brown, trustee. Those standing are Mrs. Allen Hull, chaplain; Mrs. George Pike, trustee; and Mrs. W. E. Moran, secretary. Mrs. J. L. Swindell, treasurer, was unable to be present for the picture.

"The Sound Of Silence"

By JO BRIGHT

When the guns quieted, the silence was heard all over the world. Then, as it ever is when men are weary of war, the news was shouted from trench and train until it reached the ears of women at home. It was ended — this "war to end all wars."

Many of the men who fought that war, along with women who waited for them, will be in attendance at Veterans' Day services scheduled at 10 a.m., Monday, at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The Ladies Auxiliary No. 1474, Veterans of World War I, has 75 members, and for each of them, there is special meaning in the annual ceremony.

Mrs. John Waddill is president of the auxiliary. Other officers are Mrs. Lee Castle, senior vice president; Mrs. E. L. Patton, junior vice president; Mrs. J. L. Swindell, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Moran, secretary; and Mrs. T. B. Clifton, publicity chairman.

Following the Veterans' Day program, the Ladies Auxiliary will join members of the Big Spring Barracks for a luncheon in the 100F Hall.

Mulligan, Mrs. A. D. Franklin, Mrs. R. D. Ulrey, Mrs. A. V. Walker and Mrs. J. B. Blocker. From center, they are Mrs. W. B. Averitt, Mrs. Pearl Hornbeck, Mrs. Gladys Lepard and Mrs. Homer Casey.

PAST PRESIDENTS of the Ladies Auxiliary No. 1474 were together last week as the group helped with plans for observing the 50th anniversary of the signing of the armistice at the end of World

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Wendell Clark of Hereford is weekend here as a guest of Will Inkman while visiting the Toots Mansfield ranch and the G. T. Hall farm. I'm looking forward to seeing the latter, myself, and maybe helping Mrs. Hall shoot a few rabbits.

Was hoping I could drop by the Pep Squad reunion at a Dutch brunch held Saturday morning at Big Spring Country Club but couldn't get away.

Mrs. Camille Patterson said it was going to be a fun morning, and I understand that among those from out of town who were planning to be here to recall old times were Mrs. Garth Jones (Nancy Phillips) of Austin and Mrs. Frances Stamper of Odessa. Speaking of Odessa, the Bob Newtons are moving there this weekend, and Wanda says the address is 3929 Everglades, so the latch string is out for any Big Spring pals who get over that way.

MINUTE MEMOS: One of the most charming newcomers I've met in a long time is Mrs. Robert Daniel, wife of the coordinator-instructor of Law Enforcement Technology at Howard County Junior College. She does the food page and a column for the statewide edition of the "Texas Co-op Power" magazine. Mrs. Marshall Brown of Yoakum, a former local resident, had serious eye surgery recently, and Miss Twila Lomax says her address is 611 Schwab St. for area friends who would like to write and cheer her up. Mrs. Glenna Williams, who makes people pretty out at Chateau de Coiffures, has moved into her new home. Dewey Byers and buddies are off to the Hill Country for the opening of deer season. Mrs. Ivah Lou Ashley is in El Paso on business for the Texas Education Agency. Be back about Tues-

Screw Wire Rack To Cabinet Door

If you have a small amount of cupboard space for pans, pie tins, pot lids and such, screw a wire rack on the inside of the cupboard door. Pie tins, lids, and flat frying pans may be placed into the rack, giving you more space elsewhere for the bulkier items.

MORE OF SAME: R. E. McKinney and Dr. Floyd Mayes are in Dallas for a weekend of footballing, and it will take more than rain or cold to dampen such enthusiastic fans.

The NCO Wives Club at Webb has slated a "happening" for Nov. 16 which should be lots of fun. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cluskey of Midland and the Odell Womacks of Big Spring are in Alpine but I've forgotten why. Brest Womack took Pat Weaver with him to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Womack in Fort Worth, while his parents are gone. Chatted with Mrs. Robert Nichols of "West Knott" the other day, and she said it is so hard to get help, she has been "throwing back cotton," whatever that means. Hope it means money. Don't give up, girls. Mrs. Howard McChristian of the TOPS Pound Rebels has lost 50 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lansing celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary last weekend in Austin with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Glenna, and their lovely little ones, Bryan and Carrie. Understand that young gay blades, Mike Clark and Mike McCrary are sharing an apartment at the Ponderosa and the first Mike is showing off a new car. In talking with Mrs. Morris Gay, found out that her son-in-law, Lt. Cmdr. Floyd R. Jordan is commander of the USS Dubuque, the ship that delivered some prisoners from South Vietnam to North Vietnam recently. Mrs. Jordan is the former Jo Ann Gay.

Mrs. David Henry and daughter, Kimberly, of New York City, have been guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Bedwell of the Sterling City Route. Henry came with the family but returned home Friday. His wife and daughter will return home by way of Albuquerque to visit other relatives. Raymond Tollett will receive an award from the Texas State Genealogical Society which is meeting this weekend at Austin's Driskill Hotel and heard there is another honor coming up for him in Chicago from the American Petroleum Institute. Deadline. Call me?

Area Families, Take Trips, Visit

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Bill Rees of Dallas visited relatives and friends in this community recently. Mrs. John W. Hawkins returned home with them.

The Ralph Bryants visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bell, in Huntsville over the weekend. They attended a reunion Sunday of Mrs. Bryant's mother's family in Thorndale. Approximately 75 persons attended.

The Hoyt Robertses were in Odessa Friday and Saturday as guests of the Dick Kennedys.

Carole and Patricia Bell, students at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell.

The Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Kelley of Vealmoor were Sunday guests of the Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Edwards.

Ted Nelson of Phoenix, Ariz., was a guest Sunday of the Altis Clemmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Clawson and son, Larry, of Coahoma were Sunday visitors of the P. E. Clawsons.

New Sorority Chapter Being Formed Here

Mrs. Nels Christensen, international representative for Phi Sigma Alpha, a cultural and social sorority, is presently in Big Spring interviewing area women who have been proposed for and invited to become members of the organization.

Mrs. Christensen will select prospective members, explain the sorority's programs and initiate the formation of the new chapter in Big Spring.

Headquarters for Phi Sigma Alpha is in Scottsdale, Ariz., and is non-academic, non-political and has no religious affiliations or fund-raising purposes.

Mrs. Christensen states that membership is open to women over 35 who are intellectually curious, and who like to think about and discuss "things" rather than talk about people.

"We feel that a woman over 35 needs to become reacquainted with herself — not as a mother, a wife or a homemaker, but as an individual. Married or single, a woman needs mental stimulation to expand her horizons and to gain recognition as a person," said Mrs. Christensen.

MRS. NELS CHRISTENSEN

Membership in Phi Sigma Alpha includes governors' wives, women listed in "Who's Who," housewives, business and professional women plus outstanding and distinguished honorary members, she said.

Membership is transferable to any chapter in the world, and members may attend city assemblies in addition to state and area meetings. The official publication, "The Courier" is edited by Margerie Scott in England and each monthly issue contains chapter news, photographs submitted by members, fashion news and other items of interest to the chapter and individual members.

The first year's program will be "Inventory of Personality" designed by Dr. William Parker, professor of psychology at Redlands University, Redlands, Calif., and author of several best selling books. Programs change in topic each year.

Interested area women may contact Mrs. Christensen at 263-3317. Interviews will be conducted in room 11, Ponderosa Motor Inn, with installation of new charter members planned for Nov. 14 at 8 p.m.

Reviewer Is HD Club Speaker

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. gave a book review on "My Heart Lies South" by Elizabeth Barton Traviens at Friday's meeting of the City Home Demonstration Club in the First Federal Community Room.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. N. Norred, Mrs. H. P. Wooten, Mrs. Ervin Daniels, Mrs. Carl Gum, Mrs. A. W. Page and Mrs. Alton Underwood.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over a gold underlay and centered with a cornucopia of fruit and fall flowers.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Leslie Bryson, Mrs. Bob Wren, Mrs. Nannie Garrett and Mrs. Lula Westbrook.

The next meeting will be a Thanksgiving luncheon at 11 a.m., Nov. 22, in the home of Mrs. Alton Underwood, 901 E. 18th.

What do you notice first in a person's face? Their eyes, of course. How many times have we made a judgment of someone's personality and character simply on the evidence of his or her eyes? All too often, I'm sure, but so it goes. It's up to each woman to see to it that she shows herself through her eyes to her best advantage. She can do this cleverly if she knows her eye facts. She should know that she can frame her eyes in flattering ways. Brown adds depth and expression. These can be arched, lengthened, darkened or tapered to harmonize with the effect she desires her eyes to give. The lashes, too, can be emphasized to enhance your eye framework. Eye shadow brings out the color of the eyes, and you can curl the upper lashes to make them more important. Financing arranged on approved credit.

FOR NEEDY FAMILY

PBX Club To Provide Thanksgiving Basket

Mrs. John Rains, project chairman of the PBX Club, reported on an "adopted" family during Tuesday's meeting in the Malone and Hogan Clinic. The members will provide Thanksgiving dinner for the family.

Teenagers Learn Shopping Pitfalls

The teenager who sets out on a shopping expedition can sidestep the common pitfalls if she heeds these hints: Decide what you really need. Weed out articles you haven't worn once in the past year. Are you equipped for school, rain, snow, sun, informal and dress-up dates and special activities? Put first things first and know what you're looking for when you shop. Build up bargain resistance and don't buy out of desperation. Be a discriminating shopper, take your time, look around and compare.

Mrs. John Ray presided, and Mrs. Nellie Spence, ways and means chairman, reported on pin and key chain sales. Mrs. Gene Haston read a letter from the state convention chairman, Pat Cleary, announcing the convention will be held in April at Fort Worth.

The 'operator of the year' banquet was slated for Dec. 6, and letters of recommendation will be judged Nov. 22. The 'bosses' banquet will be held during March.

Mrs. Nellie Spence worded the closing prayer.

Gives Tips On Floral Arranging

Mrs. Halvard Hanson spoke on basic principles of flower arranging for churches and homes during Thursday's meeting of the Lutheran Women Parish Workers of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Mrs. Hanson, 621 Tulane, was hostess.

Mrs. Marlyn Gieseke gave the devotion, "Faith Shown In Good Works." Mrs. Marion Oppgaard presided and announced the Woman's Bible group will meet on the second Monday during November and December.

A Thanksgiving basket will be provided for a needy family, and each member will bring a gift for a patient at the Big Spring State Hospital at the December meeting.

The annual Christmas party for couples will be held Dec. 8 at the parish hall. Mrs. W. D. Lund is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Albert Hohertz will make a large Christmas card for the church, which members will sign, thus, money saved on individual cards will be donated to Lutheran World Relief.

Three guests, Mrs. Miher Demeril, Mrs. Joe Bosse and Mrs. Howard Berry, attended.

Public May See Film On Greece

The Salvation Army will hold its annual Thanksgiving supper Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. in the Citadel. Members are asked to bring a covered dish, and the corps will provide turkey and bread. Slides on Greece will be shown by Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert T. Deming of Webb Air Force Base, at 8 p.m., and the public is invited to view the films.

Mrs. Marvin Sewell Talks On Landscaping

Mrs. Marvin Sewell presented the program, "Landscaping Small Gardens," at Wednesday's meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club in the home of Mrs. J. E. Brown, 1606 Wood. Mrs. John Baich was cohostess. Mrs. Sewell discussed the decorative advantages of using potted and hanging basket plants and using ornamental statuary in the garden.

Mrs. Arnold Marshall spoke on flower arrangements and demonstrated the design, principle, proportion and scale of a number of arrangements.

The refreshment table was laid with a brown and beige cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums accented with persimmon, red onions and greenery. Yellow tapers in black wrought iron candelabra flanked the centerpiece, and copper appointments were used.

Mrs. James B. Frazier presided and announced the Southern Zone meeting will be held Nov. 21 in Monahans. Registration must be made by Nov. 14.

The next meeting will be a Christmas coffee, Dec. 4, in the home of Mrs. H. G. Keaton, No. 8 Indian Ridge, with Mrs. J. B. Knox as cohostess.

Prophets Probed At CWF Meeting

Mrs. L. M. Brooks was in charge of the program, "The Prophets," at Thursday's meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church. The group met in the fellowship hall.

Those on a discussion panel were Mrs. Hack Hudgins, Mrs. Lil Adams, Mrs. Mary Wilcox, Mrs. Mabel Rice and Mrs. Luther Bean.

Mrs. Hudgins was named flower chairman for November, and a covered dish supper was planned for Dec. 5.

Club Sees MOD Film On Births

Mrs. H. H. Stephens, executive secretary of the National Foundation (March of Dimes), showed a film on pre-natal care and defective births at Thursday's meeting of the Airmen's Wives Club. The group met in the John H. Lees Service Club.

Mrs. Robert Casey, new honorary chairman, was an honored guest. Mrs. Donald Jones presided, and plans were discussed for a future trip to Juarez, Mexico, and El Paso.

The club members and husbands will visit the Link trainer facility on base Sunday to view pilots learning instrument flying.

Mrs. Ethel Wood, service club director, gave a resume of the month's activities, and refreshments were served.

Clean With Soda

Rubber soap dishes, drain-board covers, bowl scrapers, and rubber gloves may be cleaned with baking soda. Use three tablespoons of soda in a quart of warm water.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pedro, 212 Circle Drive, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Betty Catherine, to Richard Allen Munson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Munson of Toledo, Ohio. The couple plans to be married December 28 in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church with the Rev. Francis Beazley, OMI, officiating.

Chinese Auction Held For OWC Luncheon

The 3561st Medical Wives hosted the monthly luncheon for the Officers' Wives Club Thursday at Webb Air Force Base, with Mrs. William Peety serving as general chairman. Her co-chairman was Mrs. Allen Fox and others assisting were Mrs. Joseph Balesky, treasurer; Mrs. Larry McLain, decorations; Mrs. Frederick Suter, door prizes; and Mrs. Edward Parker, menu. Mrs. Chandler B.

Estes, OWC honorary vice president, was in attendance. Mrs. James Malone, OWC president, welcomed the guests. Miss Ginny Ross and Mrs. Frances Williams, and introduced a newcomer to the base, Mrs. Pat McClure.

Tables were laid with red cloths and accented with handmade rickshaws, filled with spider mums and pulled by miniature coolies. The head table was graced with a Chinese doll, and wind chimes were placed at vantage points about the room. Panels of Chinese characters decorated columns, and the stage held various Chinese items as well as numerous articles donated by board members for the "Chopfor M," a Chinese auction. Mrs. J. E. Glisson was auctioneer.

Door prizes went to Mrs. Roy Piland, Mrs. Herbert Clark, Mrs. Pat McClure, Mrs. William Dunivant, Mrs. Owen Wormser, Mrs. Steven Reynolds, Mrs. John Whitney, Mrs. J. R. Spencer, Mrs. R. Gebbauer, Mrs. L. E. Roddy, Mrs. Joe Banks, Mrs. David Lydon, Mrs. Jesse Scarbrough, Mrs. Thomas Cuddeback and Mrs. W. F. Riddle.

It was announced that the OWC formal holiday dance is slated for December 7 at the Officers Open Mess.

Agent Describes Laundry 'Enzyme'

The pre-soak enzyme is the latest and one of the most revolutionary ingredients introduced into home laundry products, according to Mrs. Mildred Patterson, Lubbock County Home Demonstration Agent. This new development in laundry products is an enzyme-action additive which researchers say is "entirely different from any detergent and entirely different from any bleach."

These enzymes, the fermentation of bacteria, trigger a chemical reaction between hard-to-remove stains (like blood, grass, grimey lines on shirt collars) and the water that is strong enough to cause the stains to be broken down or "eaten" away, but yet is safe for all synthetic fabrics, explains Mrs. Patterson.

Most of the enzyme-active products are used in a pre-soaking period before the clothes are put into the washer with detergent.

HD Unit Schedules Holiday Luncheon

The Airport Home Demonstration Club planned a Thanksgiving luncheon to be held Nov. 19 in the home of Mrs. R. P. Morton, 2303 Austin, when the group met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Henry Tubb, 601 State.

The Christmas party salad luncheon was slated for Dec. 17 in the home of Mrs. S. A. Wilson, 2500 Seminole. Mrs. Vern Vigar presided and announced the Howard County Hereford Association sale will be held Nov. 22, and the club will serve lunch. Proceeds will go to the HD Council.

Mrs. James Finley gave a demonstration on making burlap flowers and Mrs. S. A. Wilson, incoming president, announced her committee appointments.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

This early snow caught us with our peaches hanging high on the limbs of our mixed up tree. This is the first time that we have not had all the fruit off the tree when the first frost came. But who could expect a snow so early...

Speaking of products from the home garden, the JAMES C. JONESSES have had a most bountiful crop of eggplant this fall. Mrs. Jones has shared with the neighborhood and relatives and friends across town. She has even put a good amount in her freezer, and after gathering 13 eggplants Wednesday, she said there was still some on the vines and blooms.

Here from their home in E. Greenwich, R.I., are MR. and MRS. JOHN FRANK WESTBROOK and their little daughter, Kimberley Ellen. They plan to be here several more days with their parents, MR. and MRS. HOMER WESTBROOK.

MR. and MRS. GARY SIMS were in Cisco Monday evening to hear PEARL BUCK speak for the Cisco Junior College Fine Art Series. Mrs. Buck, a Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner, spoke to a standing room only crowd summarizing the events leading to our involvement in Southeast Asia. She gave the listeners a background on the thinking of the Asians and told them of her great interest in the "Amerasians."

These "Amerasians" are children fathered by American service men and left with their Asian mothers. As they are not Asians themselves, they have no state and their mothers are not obligated to see to their care or education. Mrs. Buck has founded a movement whereby these children are cared for and educated.

MRS. BEULAH BRYANT is in Waco to visit her daughter and her family.

A. LOVELIER YOU

Use Graceful Hints For Putting On Coat

By MARY SU EMILIER

Why do so many of us wriggle into a coat as though it were a girdle? The maneuver puts a terrible strain on one's grace and poise. Not to mention one's coat!

No less gauche is the practice of diving backward into a coat. Really, that's tomboy stuff. If you want to avoid awkward writhings of any sort, slip on a coat this way:

1. Hold it in left hand at center at neckband with lining turned toward you; insert right arm into sleeve and anchor shoulder seam on your shoulder.

2. With left hand, reach behind your neck and slide neckband across back of shoulders.

3. With right hand, hold left side of coat away from the body. Insert left arm in sleeve by raising elbow until fingertips are posed directly over armpit.

At first you may find the whole procedure tricky, but it becomes automatic after a bit of practice. And then you will have an example of what is meant by "easy grace."

Of course, when an escort helps you with a coat, your tactics are simplified. Still, you can never plunge both arms into the sleeves at the same time. Not unless you wish to chance a right to the gentleman's chin. With help at hand, stand slightly sideways to your coat before slipping an arm in the sleeve. Bring the other arm into position by pivoting in the waist. Be careful not to move your feet. Shuffle about and you scuff your escort's shine.

It may seem to you that grace is made up of trifles. Maybe so, but your grace is no trifle.

TIPS FOR TEENS

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural make-up for young adults — ages 13 to 19 — are detailed in my booklet, "Model Tips for Teens." Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use make-up to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model make-up tricks. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mrs. A. G. Beene Conducts Meeting

Mrs. W. A. Allen read the council report and announced the Howard County Hereford Breeder's Association sale to be Nov. 22. The club will donate three pies and one worker, and proceeds will be used by the HD council.

The council Christmas party will be Dec. 9 at Howard County Junior College, and the club Christmas party will be Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Denver Yates.

Mrs. L. M. Duffer won the attendance prize.

Mrs. A. G. Beene, president of the Howard County A&M Mother's Club, read letters concerning fund-raising projects at Thursday's meeting in her home at 2608 Brent. Mrs. Faye Nix was welcomed as a new member, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Dec. 5 in the home of Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, 1404 Johnson.

Miss Mata Honored At Club Dance

Miss Christina Mata was honored on her 13th birthday Saturday with a formal dance at Cosden Country Club hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mata, 503 NW 10th.

The honoree was attired in a white velveteen dress and wore a red carnation corsage presented by her escort, Daniel Garcia.

Forming the house party were 14 young couples. All the girls wore velveteen dresses; five of blue, five of red and four of avocado green. Each wore a white carnation corsage presented by her escort.

Approximately 150 guests attended, along with adult couples who served as chaperones. Music was by "The Continentals." Prior to the dance, punch and cake was served to friends of the honoree from 1 to 4:30 p.m. in an entertaining area at College Park Shopping Center.

Remove Stem Odor From Flower Vase

Remove stem odor from a flower vase by filling it with a solution of vinegar, salt and water, then allow to soak overnight. In the morning, crumple several sheets of paper and drop into the solution. Slog it around vigorously and the vase will become sweet and clean in odor.

Treat Your Feet To Beauty Bath

Before a big night at the discotheque, give your feet this treatment to help them keep their comfort and cool all evening long. Pour about a half-inch of chilled baby lotion with built-in hexachlorophene into a pan and let your feet rest in the lotion for five or ten minutes. Then massage your feet and legs with gentle upward strokes. The lotion will soften and soothe the skin and the hexachlorophene in it provides a natural deodorant.

MRS. DWAYNE LEE UNDERHILL

Wedding Solemnized In Baptist Church

Miss Sandra Beth Woodson and Dwayne Lee Underhill were united in marriage Saturday evening in a double ring ceremony at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scroggins and the late Clifford Woodson, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ted Underhill of Rotan and the late Mr. Underhill.

The Rev. Clyde R. Campbell read the ceremony before an altar adorned with arrangements of chrysanthemums, white gladioli and pompons and flanked by white candelabra holding cathedral tapers accented with emerald ferns.

Miss Avenell Greenwood, organist, played traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her brother, C. E. Woodson Jr. of Fort Worth, the bride was attired in a formal gown of lustrous silk and lace. The lace bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves, and the skirt was accented with rows of lace on each side extending from the bodice to the hemline. The train was detailed with embroidered lace, and self-corded defined the waistline. Her silk illusion veil was elbow-length and fell from a jeweled crown tiara of simulated pearls and crystals.

She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered carnations backed with tulle and satin leaves.

Mrs. Ross Darrow Jr. of Coahoma, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Debbie Meeks of Coahoma was bridesmaid. The attendants wore matching street-length dresses of blue crepe and carried nosegays of white chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbon.

Jim Anderson was best man, and Jim McElyea was groom.

Wear Corsage With Petals Up

The correct way to wear a corsage is the way flowers grow — petals up. You can pin your corsage to either shoulder, but it will keep fresh longer on your right shoulder if you're going dancing. As a new variation, you can also wear the flowers at your waist or purse if your dress is strapless.

Miss Patricia Fisher Honored At Shower

Miss Patricia Ellen Fisher, bride-elect of Carl Giles, was honored with a gift shower Saturday morning in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club. Calling hours were from 10 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon, and over 100 were included on the guest list.

Miss Fisher received guests with her mother, Mrs. Cliff Fisher of Dallas, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Barbara Giles. All were presented corsages of chrysanthemums in fall colors, and the hostesses' gift to Miss Fisher was a silver tray.

Hosting the affair were Mrs. Cornelia Gary, Mrs. James W. Wilcox, Mrs. Cliff Wiley, Mrs. Jack Alexander, Mrs. S. A. Walker, Mrs. H. F. Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Lowell Knoop, Mrs. Leland Calvert, Mrs. M. R. Turner, Mrs. Jim Parks and Mrs. Dolores Gage. All wore corsages of mixed fall flowers.

man. Usbers were Terry Meeks and Randy Evans, both of Coahoma.

SCHOOLS
The bride is a graduate of Sweetwater High School, where she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America. She is presently employed by Carter's Furniture.

The bridegroom graduated from Rotan High School and attended Howard County Junior College. He is employed by Gibson's Discount Center.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall where Miss Mary Ann Shirley of Coahoma presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Mrs. Terry Carter, Mrs. Rex Greenwood, Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Mrs. Dee Arnold, Miss Avenell Greenwood and Mrs. Glenda Lee.

The refreshment table was laid with a floor-length blue cloth overlaid with white lace and centered with the bride and attendants' bouquets. The three-tiered white cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barrett of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tidwell, Rotan; and Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Underhill, Plainview.

WEDDING TRIP
The couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. For traveling, the bride chose a brown tweed dress with a brown and gold felt coat and brown lizard accessories. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Big Spring.

WMU Discussion Unit Will Meet
The Woman's Missionary Union of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church met Tuesday at the church for the monthly business session with Mrs. Todd Roberts presiding and leading prayer. Plans were announced for the round table discussion group to meet Dec. 19 in the Roberts home.

Mrs. James Petty read the calendar of prayer and led prayer for missionaries, Mrs. H. E. Cox presented the program, "Fruits of Evangelism in Ecuador," and Mrs. Aaron Laverty urged special prayer for next year's "Crusade of the Americas."

Coahoma Club Hears Program
The Coahoma Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Sr. where Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County Home Demonstration Agent, presented a program on vegetables. During the meeting, she prepared a casserole dish.

A Thanksgiving dinner was slated Nov. 20 in the home of Mrs. Ray Swann who will prepare chicken for the main dish (as part of the study program) and members will bring salads and desserts.

The club will cook 25 pounds of meat and three pies which will be served at the Hereford sale Nov. 22.

American Women Not Exercising Full Influence To Bring Change

NEW YORK CITY — American women are not exercising their full influence in effecting political and social change, and legislation on their own behalf, according to Maurine B. Neuberger, former senator from Oregon, and chairman of the President's Advisory Council on the Status of Women.

Speaking at a seminar sponsored by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, at the Americana in New York City, Sen. Neuberger urged greater female interest and involvement in the issues before Congress and state legislatures, and a more forceful voicing of opinion through national and state representatives.

FEW LEGISLATORS
She noted that out of nearly 7,800 members of United States legislatures, only 250 — or about three per cent — are women. "With women now outnumbering men in this country, the simple fact is that every time men enact a law, more women are affected by the result."

Drawing on her experience as a member of the Oregon House of Representatives, and later U.S. senator, she added, "During our deliberations in both bodies, we debated such measures as the price of milk, tenure for high school teachers, and civil rights laws that prevent discrimination because of sex. These were questions which primarily concern women, but they were being decided by a legislative body made up overwhelmingly of men."

"We also debated male-oriented measures such as hunting and fishing regulations, a tax on cigars, war veterans administration and the anti-ballistic missile. I can imagine what the male population of the country would think if they had been decided by 98 women and two men."

Sen. Neuberger attributed the now female-occupied White House office of Presidential Advisor on Consumer Affairs with having had a marked effect on stimulating women to meaningful action on legislative matters.

KNOW POLITICS
Following establishment of the office, "Many women who had not heretofore been knowledgeable about political activity began to show their support for legislation that affected their daily buying habits. The result has been increasing activity for consumer protection — the Truth in Labeling Act, Truth in Lending, Clean Meat, Clean Poultry, with similar bills now in the works on appliance guarantees, auto insurance, and many others. The next President of the United States would be well advised to continue the office," she affirmed.

MR. AND MRS. M. B. BOWLIN

Golden Anniversary Celebration Is Today

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Bowlin will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary today from 2 until 5 p.m. with an open house at their home in Ackerly. All friends and relatives are invited to call.

The couple's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien Bowlin; also the grandchildren, Mrs. Dan Shortess and Miss Diane Bowlin, will host the complimentary affair.

Those in the house party are Mrs. Dudley Coleman, Mrs. Glen Williams, Mrs. Jack Bowlin and Mrs. Ben Bowlin, all of Ackerly, Mrs. Johnnie Morrison of Big Spring; and Mrs. Ben Bowlin of Loraine.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. JACK HALLETT
DMC hosted a cocktail party at the Officers' Open Mess Friday evening. Farewell was said to 1st Lt. and Mrs. Mike Hubbell, and welcomed to the group were 2nd Lt. and Mrs. William McClure and 1st Lt. Bominador Amador. Special guest of Col. and Mrs. Donald Jones was Mrs. A. Keaton.

Guests of 1st Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth Rider recently were 1st Lt. and Mrs. Albert Tijerina and family who were on their way to Ellsworth AFB, S.D. While here the Tijerina's also visited with 1st Lt. and Mrs. David Mott and 1st Lt. and Mrs. Billy Walker.

The instructors and wives of E Flight and the students and wives of Class 69-F held a party at the Officers' Open Mess Saturday evening with Maj. and Mrs. John O'Donnell as special guests.

Maj. and Mrs. G. O. Smith hosted a dessert party for the members and wives of H Flight in their home Thursday night. Farewell was said to Capt. and Mrs. William E. Dunivant, who were transferred to Sturon recently.

The wives of Class 70-C held a meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Richard Lord, with Mrs. John O'Shant as special guest.

Visiting Maj. and Mrs. Joe Crenwelge for the weekend were Maj. and Mrs. L. J. Headley and family who were on their way to a new assignment in California.

D Flight honored Capt. and Mrs. Robert Mayo Wednesday evening with a going-away party at the Cosden Country Club. Special guests were Col. and Mrs. Theodore Beuchler, Maj. and Mrs. Richard Moore and Maj. and Mrs. James J. Malone.

The "Western Party" hosted by Class 69-F to be held at the Officers' Open Mess will be Nov. 16 and not Nov. 23 as earlier publicized.

The couple was acquainted as students in the Fulson Chapel community, near Center in Shelby County. They were married Nov. 10, 1918, in the home of the Rev. W. A. Willingham. They lived in Center until 1923, when they moved to Ackerly and have made their home there since that time.

Bowlin is engaged in farming. He has served in every official capacity, except that of pastor, in the First Methodist Church, and Mrs. Bowlin has been active in the Woman's Society of Christian Service and as a Sunday school teacher. Bowlin is a 29-year member of the Ackerly Lions' Club.

The refreshment table will be laid with a gathered white net cloth over gold satin. The net is encrusted with sequins and love birds and was made by Mrs. A. D. Park of Tenaha, aunt-of-the-honoree. The centerpiece will be a massive arrangement of white and gold chrysanthemums, and highlighting the table will be the white and gold cake. Crystal and silver appointments will complete the setting.

O. G. Milam Feted At Retirement Party

Odus G. Milam was feted recently at an informal retirement party in the refinery conference room. He formally retired October 31 after a 31-year career at Cosden, almost entirely in the mechanic shop.

Co-workers presented several gifts to him and his wife, including a camp light, a rod and reel for each and a shotgun for his hunting trips.

Jack Y. Smith and his perennial deer hunters are off this weekend on a hunt near Llano. In the party is J. L. LeBleu, former Cosdenite who now resides at Hosston, La.

Larry Nix is off on a one-week vacation.

Fellow workers honored Mrs. Jack R. Piper, clerk-typist in crude oil accounting, recently with a farewell party. She and her husband are relocating in Washington, D.C.

Paul D. Meek spoke informally to a group of business students from Colorado High School, Wednesday in Furr's Cafeteria.

A number of Cosdenites were in attendance at the dinner meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Permian Basin Chapter, Thursday evening at Ramada Inn. Jim Dale introduced the speaker, Chief Jay Banks.

Robert A. Fuller, development engineer, discussed licensing of petro-chemical processes for the local Desk and Derrick Club last Monday in the Cosden Snack Bar. Members elected the following slate of officers: Mrs. Doryne Hefner, president; Mrs. John Rains, vice president; Mrs. Eleanor Matheny, treasurer; and Mrs. John Darnon and Mrs. Jackie Sheedy, recording and corresponding secretaries.

Cancels Meeting

The Permian Basin Medical Society Auxiliary has cancelled the meeting which had been scheduled for Thursday, according to Mrs. Waman Kale, president.

Yanks Turned War's Tide, Set Fighting Traditions

Fifty years ago Monday, the American Expeditionary Force had waded through 47 days of hell in the Meuse Valley and Argonne Forest and forced the Germans in full retreat. The Armistice on that front also became the end of the great first World War.

It was a miraculous achievement and one written not without great sacrifice. American casualties were 33,408 dead and 202,261 wounded — most of them within the last six months of fighting. Somehow within months the American man had been transformed from a green and under-trained individual to a fearsome fighter.

Franklin M. Davis Jr., writing in the Legion magazine, quotes Lawrence Stallings: "The doughboy held the line at the critical Marne in 1918, broke the back of Ludendorff's offensive spirit at Soissons, wiped out the four-year torment of the Saint-Mihiel salient, cracked the Saint-Quentin Canal complex on the main Hindenburg Line, destroyed the great German base-

Reims, fought across the rain-swollen Scheldt to give the Belgians bridgeheads to Brussels, and most notably plunged into the maze of the Meuse-Argonne front to cut the broad highway of the Sedan-Mezieres railroad network, forestalling any German hope of a last ditch stand on the Rhine."

Although the United States had declared war in April, 1917, so utterly unprepared for war was the nation that it was not until Oct. 21, 1917, that first Yank troops were fed into the quiet sectors. The Germans promptly tested them, killing three, taking 11 prisoners, and wounding a large number. The Yanks had to be pulled back.

Before it was all over 13 months later, the traditions of fighting for the Army were moulded for half a century.

The Germans in May, 1918, had swung through the northern lowlands and pushed a bulge to Cantigny. Another pocket between Soissons and Reims pointed to Paris. They got within 40 miles of the French capital when the American forces moved up and helped stall the Huns at Chateau Thierry. The Marines were so valiant that Belleau Woods were renamed in their honor.

New sagas of heroism, however, came from the 3rd Division which for 14 hours fought off two crack German divisions. Its 38th Regiment became the "Rock of the Marne."

In three days the German offensive was crushed. German Chancellor Hertling noted "... even the most optimistic among us knew that all was lost. The history of the world was played out in those three days."

Now with American divisions fighting side by side under Gen. John J. Pershing, they plunged into the Aisne-Marne offensive, and by Aug. 6 when it was over, the initiative in the war had passed to the Allies. So fierce did the AEF strike that the St. Mihiel battle was over in two days. The Yanks turned immediately toward the Meuse River and Argonne Forest to straighten out the entire front and destroy the German capacity for a final stand.

OVER THE TOP

The forces went over the top the morning of Sept. 26 on a 72-mile front. It was a vicious and bloody fight, but the Lost Battalion became a legend and Sgt. Alvin York an immortal hero by single-handedly quelling 35 machine guns and bagging 132 prisoners in 15 minutes.

By Nov. 11, the Americans opened up the last German defense northeast of Bouzancy, permitting the French to cross the Aisne River. That night Germans were in retreat. Tank forces cleared Heights of the Meuse by Nov. 7 and on Nov. 10 the American Second Army broke through the front. The Armistice next day ended the battle and the war.

D. H. Lawrence wrote all that the great words had been used up for a generation. Even today, the spirit of America's fighting men is a legacy of the AEF.

Austin M. Harris

The war was over before Austin M. Harris, 908 E. 12th, could do much more than get into it.

He enlisted Aug. 31, 1918, at Clayton, N.M., and was sent to Camp Mead, Md., for training with the Army Signal Corps, 36th Division. He was in the midst of his training and had attained rank of private first class when the Armistice came in November. He was separated from service at Ft. Logan, Colo., Jan. 24, 1919, at rank of private first class.

He has lived in Big Spring since 1942 and is associated with Elrod's.

Leroy Gressett, Westbrook, put in two years service in World War I, being held over in Europe in the occupation forces.

He enlisted July 3, 1917, in El Paso and trained at Ft. Bliss for assignment as a medic in field hospital No. 1, which served in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. He attained the rank of private first class.

His unit served at Toulon-Troyen, Chateau Thierry, and other campaigns before he was with occupation forces. He was discharged Aug. 19, 1919, at Camp Pike.

HARVEY G. CARMACK

Harvey G. Carmack, 607 State, helped run the railroad system that took troops and supplies throughout France and Germany. He was a member of the Railroad Operating Engineers.

Carmack became a soldier April 24, 1918, at Angel Island, Calif., and took his training at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

He received his discharge on June 27, 1919, at Camp Lewis, Washington. Railroad work was in his blood, and he returned to this work. Carmack was a long-time employee of the T&P.

He was kept on duty until July 19, 1919, having been kept busy supplying the ships bringing the boys home. He was sent to New York and then to Dallas for final separation.

He entered service April, 1917, in Tulsa, Okla., training at Norfolk, Va., before being assigned to the USS Nebraska, a battleship. While serving off the coast of South America (Brazil-Uruguay) and going on five trips to France on convoy duty, he attained rank of Fireman First Class.

Although he was below most of the time, his shipmates spotted several U boats and were ready to turn loose the 12-inch and 8-inch guns. He got to go ashore in Brest, France, and also in Rio de Janeiro. Painter actually spent a month in the Brazilian Navy. His discharge came March 21, 1919, at Boston, Mass.

World War I Barracks, Auxiliary, Set Meet

Veterans of World War I will meet at 12 noon Monday, together with the Auxiliary, to observe Armistice Day, which now has become Veterans Day.

"We want all WWI buddies and their wives to share in this occasion," said T. J. Walker. "You do not have to be a member of the Barracks (No. 1474) or the Auxiliary."

"The Auxiliary will have plenty of food at the IOOF Hall, West Ninth and Magnolia, and, of course, there is no charge for the meal."

Because this is the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice in WWI, Barracks officials are anxious to have an unusually large attendance.

On This 50th Anniversary Of The End Of World War I

JAMES A. ETHERIDGE

James A. Etheridge, 1005 Nolan, was a private in the States-side army.

He entered the army in 1918 in Fort Worth and was trained at Camp Travis there. After his basic training he was assigned to the Medical Detachment of the 218th Engineers, but the war ended before he could go overseas.

He was discharged in February 1919.

W. E. MOREN

W. E. Moren

That horses were used in World War I may seem inconceivable to this generation, but they were — and that gave W. E. Moren a job.

The old fashioned cavalry saw its last days during the war and in the latter phases, most of the stock was used to pull the heavy caissons into position. Entering service June 18, 1918, in Graham, Moren was assigned to the veterinary corps of the 90th division. His rank, believe it or not, was horseshoer.

In keeping the horses and mules going, he was one of the last of a breed in the Army. Moren started in the St. Mihiel campaign and saw considerable action. He was separated from service June 30, 1919, at Camp Travis at San Antonio.

Mr. Moren came to Big Spring two decades ago to establish the Western Auto Store. He has been active in the Legion post.

G. L. MONRONEY

G. L. Monroney

G. L. Monroney, Forsan, got to France not long before the Armistice was signed for World War I, but that didn't mean he got to turn around and come home then. On the contrary, he was in the army of occupation and was not discharged until July 17, 1919, at San Francisco, Calif.

He had joined the services April 8, 1918, at Ft. McDowell, Calif., and was sent to Ft. Myers, Va., to train with his unit, the 49th Engineers of the 119th Transportation Corps. His unit was sent to Nevers, France. Monroney was a private.

He has been quite active in the WWI Barracks here, and twice has served as commander of the unit which meets at the IOOF Hall.

L. R. MUNDT

Leighton R. Mundt can swap his span of jobs in World War I with almost anyone. It ranged from cook to mule skinner.

He entered service in Oklahoma in September, 1918, and got his basic training at Camp Logan in Houston, near where the Astrodome now is located. His assignment was with the 80th Infantry, 15th Division. At first he was a cook, but later he was made a "wagoner" or "wagonist," a rank which entitled him to be a mule skinner. He became a corporal before he was discharged Feb. 27, 1919, at Camp Logan.

During World War II, Mundt was a member of the Texas Defense Guard (later Texas State Guard). He is active in the World War I Barracks.

George M. Pike

George M. Pike, Rt. 2, Big Spring, volunteered for the Army during World War I, was trained as a medic, but served as a cook.

Pike entered the service on June 5, 1917, in Big Spring and trained at Ft. Bliss with the medical corps. During his training he also qualified as a cook, and that kept him on the front lines with the First Division, Fifth Field Artillery most of the war.

Pike saw action at Chateau Thierry, Saint Mihiel, Argonne Forrest, Meuse-Argonne and Belleau Woods. He received a machine gun wound in the shoulder and shrapnel in the hand.

Pike was discharged from the

GEORGE M. PIKE

Army on July 24, 1923, as a cook, specialist first class, at Ft. Totten, Long Island, after volunteering again following the war.

C. A. Walker

Cecil A. Walker is a rare bird among World War I veterans. He holds a discharge from the 5th Texas National Guard, and so far as he knows none other has one.

This came about as a result of an attack of pneumonia shortly after he enlisted Oct. 12, 1918, at Coleman and was sent to Camp Leon Springs, San Antonio. He was in the hospital for 29 days during which the Armistice was signed.

Kept around the hospital because he was still convalescing, he volunteered to do clerical work. All of his buddies, who had transferred to Army units, were discharged. When his discharge was ready, his CO tore it up because he had no Army unit from which to be discharged.

Finally he was given the option of going home, and eventually his discharge from the Texas National Guard came through in May, 1919. This helped him get funds with which he became a pharmacist.

Walker has lived here since October, 1937, and sold his drug store last year.

ERDA LEWIS

Erda Lewis

Erda Lewis, 2304 Grace, was among the first of the Yanks to go over and among the last to return in World War I.

He enlisted in mid-1917 at Carlsbad, N.M., and trained at Albuquerque, N.M., and then at San Diego, Calif.

A corporal with Co. 1, 109th Infantry, 28th Division, he saw service in Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne Forest. He also was on the historic Verdun Front which held in the face of massive German attacks and prevented the breakthrough to Paris. He was wounded once.

It was not until Sept. 1, 1919, that he was discharged at Long Island, N.Y.

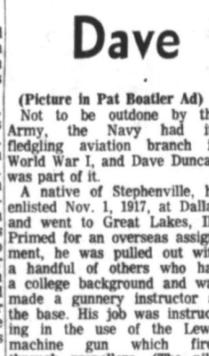

CARL T. McDONALD

Carl T. McDonald

Carl T. McDonald, 1108 Austin, thought he was handsomely paid when he made sergeant in World War I. He got $38 a month.

He had entered service Sept. 5, 1917, at Gustine and was sent to Camp Travis in San Antonio for his basic. He was assigned to Co. G, 85th Infantry, 18th Division and put all his service in with this unit.

He was mustered out of service at Camp Travis Jan. 21, 1919. He came to Big Spring in August, 1927, and has resided here continuously since.

Dave Duncan

Not to be outdone by the Army, the Navy had its fledgling aviation branch in World War I, and Dave Duncan was part of it.

A native of Stephenville, he enlisted Nov. 1, 1917, at Dallas and went to Great Lakes, Ill. Primed for an overseas assignment, he was pulled out with a handful of others who had a college background and was made a gunnery instructor at the base. His job was instructing in the use of the Lewis machine gun which fired through propellers. (The pilot had a lever with which he pumped up pressure on a gadget near the engine. When the pressure was released, the gun gears meshed with pistons in such a way that the gun fired where the prop wasn't.)

After the Armistice, Duncan was shipped with officers to Key West, Fla., where he had the job of testing an aerial cannon. This contraption was 22 feet long and fired a three-inch shell much like a shotgun. The rear end was open so that there was no recoil. He was discharged Jan. 29, 1919, as a gunner first class and went home to the oil fields near Desdemona.

He's been a driller and independent operator ever since, coming here first in 1930 and permanently in 1934.

Leon Cole, 1705 Yale, signed his name and became a member of the regular Army in June, 1917. Before leaving the armed forces, he was promoted to sergeant.

Cole took his basic training at Fort Thomas, Ky., where he signed, and was then sent to the 114 Machine Gun Battalion of the 29th Division.

He went through the battles for Argonne and St. Mihiel.

During the drive for St. Mihiel in September, 1918, Cole was in a trench after having pulled back from an artillery shell hit about 30 feet from him. The explosion hurled a piece of metal into his stomach.

He was taken from the front lines and to a base hospital in France where he spent three months before being transferred to Camp Pike, Ark., where he was separated from the service on Aug. 20, 1919.

W. B. Harrison, 1809 W. 3rd, had the unique assignment of being in the 57th balloon company which was preparing to go overseas when World War I was over.

He enlisted May 8, 1918, at Carlsbad, N.M., and trained at Camp Mabry at Austin before being sent to Camp John Wise for service with the balloon unit. He reached the rank of private first class at the time he was in Newport News, Va., where he was separated from service Dec. 13, 1918.

PROUDLY PAYS TRIBUTE TO TWO OF HOWARD COUNTY'S VETERANS OF WORLD WAR I... ON THIS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

R. R. McKinney

R. R. McKinney, 1411 Eleventh Place, has the distinction of being a World War I vet who also fought in WW II.

He signed up for service in the U. S. Navy July 5, 1917, in Dallas and was sent to Great Lakes, Ill., for his boot training. Soon he was aboard the USS Walter D. Henshaw, a transport-troop carrier, and made 12 trips across the Atlantic. These were precarious affairs as the convoys had to creep along in a zig-zag course for protection. McKinney was separated from service at Great Lakes July 16, 1920.

When WW II erupted, he was past the age when most men would be accepted, but he was. First thing he knew he was in Naval Intelligence and behind the Japanese lines in China, where he served for two years. Naturally he became "Pops" to most of the men, but he more than held up his end of the grueling activities. He was separated from service April 11, 1945. McKinney has been active in veterans organizations, including VFW, DAV and WWI Barracks.

CARL STROM

Carl Strom, shirt salesman, was sitting in Hotel Heart in Hot Springs, Ark., when he read a paper and decided war was coming. He checked out, hurried back to Tulsa to check in his supplies and went to Oklahoma City to enlist in the Navy.

Too tight, he was told to eat bananas and drink buttermilk all day. Late in the afternoon he returned only to find he was one pound underweight. Disgusted, he went around the corner and joined the regular Army. After signing, the recruiter got Strom's background and advised him to get letters of recommendation. While waiting orders to go to Ft. Sam Houston, he got a notice addressed to "Sgt. Strom, ordering him to Ft. Still with the quartermaster corps.

When he got there, no one seemed to know what to do with him, but he was assigned to personnel. One day an old-time sergeant said: "Kid, do you know what those three stripes mean?" Strom said he didn't. "Well," said the sergeant, "it means you don't have to take any of that stuff off to be sergeant first class with the handsome pay of $64 a month. He was discharged March 10, 1919, at Ft. Still. He has lived here for the past three decades and is a 50-year member of the Legion.

C. E. Barrington

The end of the war was only little more than three and a half months away when C. E. Barrington, 1501 Kentucky Way, mustered into service July 22, 1918, in San Antonio.

But that didn't keep him from bouncing quickly overseas with the 1st Division in France. He became logical fodder for the occupation forces, so it was not until July 15, 1919, that he was back at Camp Bowie in Fort Worth to get his discharge. He was rated as a private in the infantry.

Originally he was with the headquarters company of the 39th Division, but en route to France he was changed to Co. C of the 89th Division. He was a private and company runner during the Argonne Forest and the Argonne-Meuse campaigns. Once five machine gun bullets clipped the bottom of his sleeve, and another time an artillery shell landed about eight feet from him, his captain and sergeant — but it was a dud. Separating from service June 14, 1919, at Jackson, Miss., he came later to Howard County with Marland (now Conoco) Oil Company in the early days of the local oil boom. Until his retirement he was an oilfield pumper for several independent operators.

Paul M. Berset

Paul M. Berset, 79, of 1703 Jennings may be the oldest World War I veteran in Howard County. The last time he checked at the Legion post, he had about two years in age over his nearest buddy.

He entered service at age 28 in September, 1917, and trained at Camp Travis, San Antonio, then went with the 344th Field Artillery, 90th Division. He got overseas in June, 1918, and attained the rank of sergeant. Berset's job was instrument man on an artillery crew handling French 75's. His unit was due to go up front, but there were no horses to pull the pieces. Finally, when they got horses the first of November, they had to re-educate them to understand English instead of French. By that time the war was over.

However, his unit got to make use of them. During the occupation of Germany, they helped out the fraus and frauleins left at home by hooking up the horses and plowing fields. He was discharged in July, 1919, in Camp Travis.

JAKE VINSON

Jake Vinson

Jake Vinson, 1004 E. 16th, was discharged twice during World War I.

He joined the Texas National Guard June 28, 1917, in Dallas but was discharged from the Guard so that he could become a member of the regular Army. His second and final discharge came on June 20, 1919, at Camp Bowie where he had received his basic training two years before.

Vinson participated in the Meuse-Argonne campaign with F Company of 144th Infantry, 36th Division.

While in France Vinson had one close call when an artillery shell hit a few feet from where he was standing, but he was not seriously hurt.

De Gaulle Slaps Cost Reporters

PARIS (AP) — The director of a right-wing weekly newspaper and four of his writers and cartoonists were fined Thursday for publishing matter judged "offensive to the president of the republic" — Charles de Gaulle.

Jean-Francois Devay, director of Minute, was fined $2,000, writers Francois Brigneau $400 and Rene Seive $200, and cartoonists Jean and Jacques Faure $120 and $60, respectively.

The offensive matter, published in five issues in July and August, 1967, concerned De Gaulle's trip to Canada where he shouted, "Long live free Quebec!"

Within a couple of months after war was declared, Binie White volunteered here in June, 1917, and went to Fort Bliss and then to Camp Bowie for training. He was assigned to the 141st Field Hospital with the 36th Division and reached the rank of Plc. He spent over a year in France and was for 21 days involved in the Champagne battle. His outfit was in the middle of several other campaigns before he was returned to the States on June 19, 1919, and separated at Camp Bowie. Not so long afterwards, he acquired a ranch near Vincent and has operated it continuously since.

Olen Pigford

Corporal Olen Pigford fed the troops while he was with the 31st Company of the 80th Battalion in the 165th Depot. He was a cook in the camp where he trained.

Pigford became a soldier Sept. 6, 1918, in Fort Worth and was trained in Camp Bowie. He attained rank of Corporal. He was discharged on Dec. 21, 1918, in San Antonio.

(Picture in State National Ad) Hudson L. Bohannon, 1707 Kentucky Way, took the long way around to get out of the Navy at the end of World War I.

He enlisted in the regular Navy Dec. 8, 1917, at Dallas and trained at Great Lakes, Ill., and Norfolk, Va. Assigned to the USS Louisiana, he was made seaman first class and was a member of an armed guard crew on the battleship's 3-in. guns. The dreadnaught brought up the rear of convoys and was held ready to rush up to meet any heavy intruder. During the war, Bohannon made six trips to Brest, France, and back.

At the end of the war, all Navy men who wanted out were given their release. But before he was discharged, he was put aboard the USS Melville, sent through the Panama Canal, and to San Diego, thence back to Dallas and discharge.

Bohannon came to Big Spring May 2, 1929, from Midland and served as captain and commanding officer of the Texas State Guard unit here.

ELBERT H. BOULLION, SR.

Elbert H. Boullion Sr., 434 Dallas, abandoned a lucrative typewriter repair-sales job on the road to enlist in the 7th Texas National Guard at Amarillo June 29, 1917. He had signed shortly after war was declared. After brief training at Amarillo, the unit went to Camp Bowie in Fort Worth. There he changed from Co. A to Co. G, 142nd Infantry, 36th Division. He went up the ladder to sergeant, and five days before sailing in August, 1918, he was commissioned second lieutenant. Because officers couldn't serve where they had been non-coms, he was transferred as commander of a 250-man automatic replacement detachment in France. At Bassens he was bayonet instructor, and at St. Romaine he was attached to a Marine unit to evacuate wounded troops. Then he went to 30th Company of the Transportation Corps and brought this group home to be discharged June 19, 1919. When World War II came, he signed for another hitch, serving as captain and schooling young Signal Corps officers in company administration at Camp Murphy, Fla., and Governor's Island, N.Y.

H. D. Bruton

H. D. Bruton, 710 W. 7th, received the Purple Heart for his World War I service. It was on March 13, 1918, that he was hit by shrapnel during heavy shelling at Chateau Thierry. After some four weeks in the hospital he returned to the front and was gassed while in a rest area (the sentinel posted to sound the warning failed to detect the gas). Later, he caught another dose of mustard gas from an undetermined source.

He was in the Meuse-Argonne, the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and the Defense Sector campaigns. Back home, he was kept at North Brothers Island near New York for three months and was finally separated from service June 19, 1919, at Waco. Mr. and Mrs. Bruton moved in 1942 to Big Spring from Roscoe, where they had lived 18 years.

L. W. Croft

(Picture in Duncan Drilling Ad) L. W. Croft, 1510 Douglas, is one of that rare breed who was in the embryonic air arm. He enlisted Aug. 1, 1917, at Stephenville, went to Fort Worth, bounced to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for five days and then back to Kelly Field No. 1 which was being activated at San Antonio. There he was assigned to the 90th Aero Squadron of the aviation branch of the Signal Corps. He landed in England Nov. 3, 1917, then went near Toule, France, with the 1st Air Depot.

He won his three stripes as sergeant and chief mechanic of his crew. His first pilot, Lt. Broomfield, was shot down in the Meuse-Argonne campaign. His outfit was in reconnaissance and thus kept constantly up front. Mostly he worked on Sampsons, then some Spads and Sopwith Camels. His unit was in the St. Mihiel, Argonne-Meuse Argonne Forest, Belleau Woods campaigns, and sometimes they were under artillery fire.

Back home he was discharged June 16, 1919, at Kelly Field and came to Big Spring May 12, 1920, as manager of H. H. Hardin Lumber Co. (Later Higginbotham-Bartlett). Croft was one of the organizers of the local American Legion post, which had its first home near where the Ritz Theatre now stands. He is a senior past commander in the post and the last WWI vet to head it. He holds his 50-year Legion card.

Thomas M. Pearce, Garden City, went all the way through the Argonne Forest campaign with all its heavy shelling and never got a scratch. After the war, while awaiting return home, he had a ruptured appendix in April, 1919, and came back on a casualty ship. He signed on in Lynn County May 24, 1918, and went to Camp Bowie at Fort Worth for his training. As a private in Co. 1, 143rd Infantry, 36th Division, he went overseas July 10, 1918. Soon his unit was up front in the Argonne, facing heavy shelling and machine gun fire. The first night the enemy barrage was so heavy men had to move forward to get out of the pocket. Once, he got a little gas and was in the infirmary for two weeks. He was sent back to Camp Bowie when he was discharged June 3, 1919.

James L. Unger, 1112 Main, didn't lack for action in World War I. Mustered into service September, 1917 at Mart, he was assigned to the headquarters company, 36th Infantry, 90th Division, training at Camp Travis, San Antonio. Within 72 days he was on the front in France, first at St. Mihiel, where his company stormed a bridge only to run into their own artillery fire. He called back to the barrage to be Lifted but rear commanders thought it was not possible for his unit to have gone so fast. They sent up scouts and found it was so. In the Argonne Woods, his unit pushed to an objective in 35 minutes of withering fire, but 500 of 500 men fell. He was on this front preparing to attack again when the Armistice came. Unger went into Belgium and then Germany, hiking 22 days with full equipment, after the Armistice. He was discharged as a private in June, 1918 at Camp Travis.

G. H. SARGENT

G. H. SARGENT

G. H. Sargent

G. H. Sargent, 612 E. 14th St., Colorado City, had a disadvantage during his tour in Europe during World War. As a medical corpsman with the Fifth Marine Division, he couldn't fight back.

But that didn't keep the veteran from earning six bronze stars, the French Croix de Guerre for gallantry and a special decoration for the battle of Verdun.

Sargent signed up for the war in Amarillo in June, 1917, and received training at Ft. Bliss in El Paso. He went overseas with the Second Division, American Expeditionary Force for two years in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. During his fighting days he was in every major battle on the Western Front from the time the AEF entered the war until the Armistice was signed.

Sargent saw action at Aisne-Marne, Marbache, St. Mihiel, Argonne-Meuse twice, and was in the army of occupation. He was discharged Aug. 19, 1919, with the rank of private first class.

Rufus H. Miller

(Picture in State National Ad) The current slogan of "keep 'em flying" applied 50 years ago to Rufus H. Miller, 108 Canyon Drive.

When he went into service in September, 1917, he was sent to Camp Travis, San Antonio, for basic and then became No. 18 in the 1st Air Service Mechanics, AEF. He went overseas Feb. 18, 1918, and served in Epinal, France, on the Moselle River. His job was running a lathe to machine parts for Yank planes. He came back home August, 1919, and was discharged at Fort Sam Houston.

George L. Price, an Army private, helped build the bridges that carried supplies for the Argonne battle. He was with the 22nd Engineers.

Price went in to the Army Feb. 22, 1918, in Breckenridge and took his training at Camp Travis before being shipped to France.

He was separated from the service July 18, 1919, in Long Island, N.Y. Mr. Price is ill and unable to have his picture made.

EDWARD SIMPSON

Edward Simpson, Galt Route, was teaching school at New Home in Lynn County when he volunteered for service Nov. 27, 1917. He was sent from Lamesa to Great Lakes Naval Training Station at Chicago, then to Charleston, S.C., where he boarded the troop ship, USS Louisville on June 19, 1918. As a seaman, he made six trips. He was asleep and missed the first firing at U-boats lurking on the flanks of the convoy. Afterwards, shots were fired to keep the pig boats at respectable distance. Everyone breathed easier when destroyers came out from England for the final escort. It took 17 days of zig-zagging to make the trips to Liverpool or Brest.

He could have gone into officer training, but he was much older than most servicemen and wanted to get back home. After all $38.41 a month was about a fourth of his teaching salary. He was separated at Great Lakes March 3, 1919 and took a job teaching immediately at Knott. His parents had come here in 1891, and in 1921 he acquired his own place near theirs and has owned it since.

City Had Own Company In War

Big Spring has its own company in World War I.

The unit, commanded by James T. Brooks, a young attorney, was mustered into service in August, 1917, under a tent pitched just south of where the First National Bank now stands.

Bolstered by men from Midland and Colcrado City, the unit became Company D, 117th Supply Train, 42nd Division. Although it was involved in several campaigns, and served as part of the army of occupation, Company D had only one fatality, and that from the great flu epidemic.

Until less than a decade ago, the unit annually held a reunion at the City Park here until the ranks thinned and broke under the assault of years.

Fred Eaker

When Fred Eaker, 1500 Main, Big Spring, joined the Army here on May 10, 1918, most weaponry used in the fighting was pulled by teams of horses and mules. However, before he was discharged as a corporal in the later part of June, 1919, American Doughboys were being supported at the front by motorized artillery, thanks in part to Eaker.

Eaker's time in World War I was spent mostly in France where he was a specialist in heavy artillery and motor power with the First Army. He saw two months in action at Saint Mihiel and Verdun.

During that time he supported the First Army with fire power and helped replace the horse and mule drawn artillery with tractors. One of his tractors landed Eaker in the hospital for four months when it fell through a bridge.

ROBERT F. COOK

SAM M. BUCHANAN

It didn't take too long for Robert F. Cook's unit to get its basic and land in France in World War I. He enlisted in Henderson County and was sent to Barked Harbour after relatively brief training. The next stop for his outfit, Battery C, 71st Artillery, was in Angers, France. His was a free lance brigade and not assigned to a division. Cook was on a crew firing 8-in. howitzers in long range support of Verdun, where he was when the Armistice came. His unit got back to the States Feb. 22, 1919 and he was discharged March 14, one day short of one year from entry.

Sam M. Buchanan, Luther, had the unique experience of being wounded with shrapnel. As a corporal in the 75th company in the Fourth Marines of the 4th Marine Regiment, he had been in six campaigns in France. In July, 1918, he was crossing a wheat field ready to be cut when an Austrian 82 mm. one of the most fearsome shells of the war, hit about 20 feet in front of him. He was knocked sprawling and caught some bits of shrapnel and a rattling of gravel and dirt. But worst of all, the blast blew pieces of wheat straw into his eyes. He looked like a porcupine. He got up and continued the fight and finally made it to the hospital the next day.

Buchanan entered service May 15, 1917, at Abilene and after two weeks of training at Paris Island, S.C., he went overseas. He was separated from service Aug. 13, 1919, having spent nearly 10 months in occupation forces near Coblenz. He was of Romagen scene of a famous bridged battle in World War II. Since 1909 he has lived in Howard County, having attended the Guy Hill School.

Each and everyone of us want to pause and pay a special tribute to the men who fought to protect our Free Enterprise System. Monday, November 11, 1968 marks the 50th Anniversary of Armistice Day (the day set aside to acknowledge our appreciation for their dedication).

GARLAND W. KING

Garland W. King

Garland Willis King, Sterling City Route, had his fighting career come to a sudden end in the St. Mihiel campaign in World War I. It was a case of adding injury to injury. He had enlisted April 6, 1917, just before war was declared, at Munday and went to Camp Travis, San Antonio, to train. His unit, No. E 358th Infantry, 90th Division, was moved into action in June, 1918. On Sept. 12, 1918, he caught a machine gun bullet in his left side, the missile coming out at the base of his back. But the worst happened as he lay in a shell hole waiting for a medic to get to him. A shell hit close enough to send a chunk of shrapnel into his left thigh, ripping out much of the muscle. He was moved back to the hospital at Toule then finally to the base hospital at Bordeaux in December. On Feb. 22, 1919, he was separated from service at Waco.

He enlisted Sept. 6, 1917, at St. Louis, Mo., and trained with Co. C, 101st Field Signal Battalion, 26th Division at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., then later at Ft. Wood, N.Y., and on the island which now bears the Statue of Liberty. As a private first class, he moved into the Champagne-Marne sector with French troops Feb. 2, 1918, two months after leaving the States. He took part in the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne and the Defense Sectors. The last two months of his service was with the 60th Signal Battalion in the (Picture in State National Ad) D. H. Goodnough, 1501 E. 6th, remembers his World War I service well. He drove an ammunition wagon, and "it was hell." He had ample time to reach that judgment, for he participated in St. Mihiel and the Argonne Forest campaigns, among others, serving as wagoner for the 345th machine gun battalion. He served in the headquarters company and reached rank of corporal. Goodnough entered service in April, 1918, at San Antonio and did his training there at Camp Travis. He saw service in the occupation forces in Germany before returning to be separated June 18, 1919.

D. H. Goodnough

G. R. (Bob) WREN

G. R. Wren

G. R. (Bob) Wren, 700 E. 14th, got to France in WWI in time for the St. Mihiel campaign, and it was more than enough to keep his unit occupied. One day he and 12 of his outfit (Co. D, 5th Engineers, 7th Division) were isolated in a rock quarry, from which they watched a massive barrage. When it swung on them about sundown, he and his partner decided to crawl back to the Puvellé Woods — and soon all others were coming, too. In the trenches, however, they ran into a pocket of gas. He quit a job with the FW & D railroad at Wichita Falls to come home to Snyder to volunteer Feb. 22, 1919. He was sent to San Antonio for basic. Landing in France in August, 1918, he said "we lived for six weeks on carrot soup" while awaiting assignment at the front. His unit was the first complete one to come back, and so eager to get home were the troops they marched 18 kilometers in four hours over glassy ice. Their ship was the George Washington, which had distinguished passengers — President Woodrow Wilson and an assistant Navy secretary named F. D. Roosevelt. His unit got back in the States and was discharged June 19, 1919, at Camp Travis.

Leroy H. Little

(Picture in Anthony Ad) In May, 1918, Leroy H. Little, 813 E. 3rd, was a movie operator; three months later he was pumping mortar shells at the Huns. He had been living in Bratcher Springs, Kan., and went over to Columbus to enlist. Trained at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., he was put in the headquarters company of the 34th Infantry, 7th Division. The unit embarked from Camp Merritt, N. J., and landed in Brest, France, in time to be rushed to the Puvellé sector west of the Moselle. After a month of fighting there, they were shoved up to the Somme front where they were battling when the Armistice was signed. In all, he spent 10 months in Europe.

ESTEL A. ROBERTSON

E. A. Robertson

Estel A. Robertson, 3202 Auburn, was in the first squadron to occupy Mitchell Field, Long Island, N.Y., but before he could go overseas the war was over.

He enlisted Oct. 1, 1917, at Bartlett and spent a month at Kelly Field and was assigned to the 44th Aero Squadron. Later he was put in the 631st Supply Squadron. Three months before the war was over, he volunteered for overseas with the 339th Service Squadron. Most of his work was as a corporal in the aviation school. He also played on the squadron baseball team and batted in cleanup position. One day he told a mate to get a hit "and I'll bring you in." The score keeper said: "You guys don't know who you are battling against, or you wouldn't be blowing off." Replied Robertson and his pal: "We don't give a d— who he is." They got their hits, too, probably against some big leaguer. Robertson was separated from service Dec. 19, 1918.

Jess Slaughter

(Picture in Cecil Thixton Ad) When he enlisted Oct. 8, 1917, at Big Spring, Jess Slaughter did not dream he would be herding German prisoners in less than a year's time. He went to Camp Travis at San Antonio, and after basic was put in Co. A, 315th Military Police, 90th Division. He got to Toule, France, via Liverpool, England, and then was pressed to the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne fronts. At one stage, the Yanks had taken so many prisoners that 25 men in his unit guarded 2,500 German prisoners in an open flat space much as cowboys rode herd at night. Once they almost shot a prisoner who wandered to the perimeter, oblivious to commands to halt. At the last second the prisoner stopped, attended to a matter of sanitation and serenely returned to the fold. As a corporal, Slaughter was assigned six men and two trucks and given the task of hauling 54 German officers to the rear. One officer, who spoke English, confided he was glad to be captured and have the war over for him. His unit got back in the States and was discharged June 19, 1919, at Camp Travis.

MONTGOMERY-WARDS SALUTES CASIMIRO VASQUEZ IN RECOGNITION OF SERVICES RENDERED FOR DEFENSE OF OUR NATION IN WWI

CASIMIRO VASQUEZ

It didn't take long for Casimiro Vasquez, 610 NW 4th, to be on his way to France during World War I. He enlisted April 26, 1918, at El Paso and was sent to Camp Travis, San Antonio. Fifteen days later he was on his way overseas, arriving in France June 21, 1918. As a private in Co. M, 360th Infantry, 90th Division, he saw service in St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne, and several other campaigns. He was separated from service June 21, 1919, at Camp Travis. Most of the time since the war he has lived in Big Spring.

C. C. (CHOC) JONES

Private, corporal, sergeant? None of that for Charles C. (Choc) Jones during World War I. Choc had the elite rating of "wagoner." "That meant I was a truck driver," he said. Jones, who lives at 603 W. 17th, went from Merkel to Abilene to enlist Sept. 21, 1917. He trained at Camp Travis, then went to Boston, Mass. for embarkation ("and I don't mind telling you I got sick") for France. Fifteen days later—June 30, 1918—his unit, Battery C, 345th Field Artillery, 90th Division, was on the way to the Meuse-Argonne front. Most of his time was spent in hauling supplies in old, solid-tired Nash quads. One day it was coal, the next groceries, then 40 guys who wanted to go somewhere. After the Armistice, his battery was assigned to Neumorgan, Germany, on the Moelle River and spent the next six months dreaming of coming home. He made it to Camp Bowie and got that wonderful piece of paper June 23, 1919. Jones, who played football for Merkel against Big Spring back in 1915, et seq, came here in 1941 as co-owner of J & K Shoe Store. He retired in 1959.

JOHN W. MILLER

John W. Miller, 1806 Gollad, is one of that thinning tribe which belonged to Big Spring's own company—Co. D, 117th Supply Train, 42nd (Rainbow) Division. He mustered into service with others in the company in early August 1917 under a tent which had been erected near where the First National Bank now stands. Capt. James T. Brooks, a local attorney, and the unit went to Camp Bowie at Fort Worth and on to Long Island, N.Y. for embarkation in October. The company took part in the Argonne and the St. Mihiel and other campaigns, shuttling supplies up front and frequently coming under fire. Miller got to be a corporal in the unit, which was tapped out for occupation duty after Armistice and spent the next six months in Germany. He got back to Camp Bowie on May 15, 1919 and was discharged on that date. He has the unusual record of having been born here and spent his entire life here except for the time in France and Germany.

Lest We Forget

Monday, November 11, 1968 marks the Fiftieth Anniversary of Armistice Day—the end of the "war to end all wars." Now called Veterans Day, it is still a time to pause and pay tribute to those who served in World War I. We at Big Spring's oldest bank are happy to salute these and all other veterans.

'Sand Pebbles' Filmed On Location Near China

"The Sand Pebbles" opens at the Ritz Theatre Thursday. It stars Steve McQueen with Richard Attenborough, Richard Crenna and Candice Bergen.

Filming in Panavision and color by DeLuxe, producer-director Robert Wise spent more than six months on locations in Taiwan and Hong Kong to catch the atmosphere and backgrounds of China in the 1920's, the locale of the exciting drama which was adapted by Robert Anderson from the prize-winning novel by the late Richard McKenna.

There is a total of 47 speaking parts in "The Sand Pebbles," and on some days in Keelung and Sam Sul, on the island of Taiwan, extra calls ran upwards of 1,000. It was a huge canvas covered by Wise and the hundred-odd film makers. In top supporting roles are Marayat Andriane, a Siamese beauty who makes her film debut; Make, a Japanese actor, also making his motion picture debut after attracting attention in theatrical road companies and television; and Charles Robinson, who appears as Ensign Bordenelles.

The back waters of Hong Kong and its green islands served as deeper water areas of the Yangtze River. The company filmed on the edge of Red China for a period of two months, culminating with a battle staged in a narrow neck of water at Sai Kung. This "junk fight," wherein the USS San Pablo is faced with a blockade, is one of the most unusual sea battles ever filmed.

"The Sand Pebbles" was the first major American motion picture ever to be made on Taiwan. Technically Taiwan is at war! Therefore, the cast and the crew were under military jurisdiction much of the time. They also weathered a few storms of various kinds, including the wet kind.

One night on Taiwan the entire city swayed in a major earthquake; the following night a hotel housing many of the crew caught on fire; and in Hong Kong cast and crew were interested and disturbed bystanders during three days of rioting.

'THE DETECTIVE'
Frank Sinatra in starring role

Sinatra Stars In New 'Shocker'

"The Detective," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre brings Frank Sinatra to the screen in one of his most demanding dramatic roles to date.

The DeLuxe Color film, based on Roderick Thorpe's best-selling novel which shocked and informed readers, promises to be one of the most factual and hard-hitting behind-the-scenes revelations of a big city police department ever released.

Sinatra stars as Joe Leland, the detective who found his life in the police department to be more important than his life as a man. Lee Remick co-stars as his wife, Karen, who truly wanted one man—but her obsessive needs drew her to many.

Jacqueline Bisset, whose beauty and talent promise a bright career, appears as Norma MacIver, a young widow who refuses to believe her husband committed suicide. Too many people freeze when his death is mentioned. Leland begins an investigation that leads into a world which, until now, has been virtually unopened on the screen.

A number of picturesque New York locations serve as a background for the film—the

Love Story Midst War

In bringing Boris Pasternak's novel, "Doctor Zhivago," to the screen, two-time Oscar-winning director David Lean had two objectives in mind.

The first was to present the love triangle of the story in such a way that audiences would share the depth of emotion which Lean had experienced when he first read the book.

The second was to depict this moving story against the tumultuous background of revolutionary Russia without dwarfing its human values.

Depicting the love story itself presented no serious problem to a director skilled at creating such memorable films as "Brief Encounter" and "Summer-time." But in "Doctor Zhivago" the challenge lay in not permitting the film's historical background to overwhelm the personal story of Yuri Zhivago (Omar Sharif), of his happy marriage to Tonya (Geraldine Chaplin) and of his subsequent passionate love affair with Lara (Julie Christie).

More Scenes Are Added To Film Version Of Play

The supporting cast is merely flawless. John Fiedler, Larry Haines, Herbert Edelman and David Scheiner portray the poker players in "The Odd Couple," opening Thursday at the Cinema Theatre, cronies of Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau, who get together every Friday night for card playing and wife talk. Fiedler is the only one of the four who was in the original play.

All are exciting character actors with total comedy ranges. Two delightful English actresses, Carole Shelley and Monica Evans will recreate their sister roles from the play, that of a widow and a divorcee who are dated by Lemmon and Matthau, a hilarious date that his the bulseyes of comedy and pathos with unerring accuracy.

In the legit version of "The Odd Couple" the action was constructed to the confines of a single room. In his screenplay, however, Simon has expanded the physical setups considerably. All of the eight rooms in Matthau's apartment will not be shown.

THE ODD COUPLE
Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau

The restless eye of the motion picture camera was fully utilized with three weeks of location filming in New York. Colorful places like Central Park, Times Square, the Hudson River, Riverside Drive, 47th Street and Shea Stadium were captured by the camera for various location scenes.

Concert Series To Open, Supper Theatre Slated

By WINNIE UNGER
It's a good week in Big Spring, with the first of the Concert Series, "Cactus Flower," and the first supper theatre production of high school's Court Jesters and the drama class. Then there's the Flea Market art show in Highland South mall today.

"Cactus Flower" is a comedy starring Jeannie Carson, who plays a prim, sharp-toothed dental nurse; and Biff McGuire, the playboy dentist. It begins at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in City Auditorium.

there and in Spain. During the past year he has painted in New Mexico. His works have been exhibited internationally and in New York City, Philadelphia, Buffalo and Dallas.

The exhibit will continue through Dec. 1.

ODESSA — The first Permian Playhouse Children's play, "The Merry Pranks of Tyl," opened yesterday, and will run today, and again Nov. 16-17.

Matinee performances on Saturday and Sunday begin at 2:30 at the Permian Playhouse, and season tickets may be purchased at the door for $2. The play is one of four to be presented for the Children's Theatre season, and will delight people of all ages. The cast features 14 adults and two children.

SNYDER — More than 150 entries have been received for the West Texas Art Show sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to Wacil McNair, Snyder general chairman of the event.

With a limitation of 600 entries and a deadline of Jan. 15 for entries, McNair said he is pleased with the early response. According to the entry blanks, entries are limited to paintings and drawings of West Texas subjects relating to historical, scenic or tourist attractions. Categories are oil, water color and other media. Site of the exhibition is the Scurry County Coliseum in Snyder.

Interested artists are asked to write the WTCC, P.O. Box 1561, Abilene, for entry blanks and rules sheets.

Flea Market

Papier mache animals and figures, unframed water colors and collages, plus a large assortment of paintings and crafts will be displayed in the Highland South mall today at the Big Spring Art Association Flea Market Show and Sale.

BOOKS

History Of Motor Cars

AUTOMOBILES OF AMERICA, written by AMA Staff; published by Wayne State University Press; 270 pages, paper-back, $2.50.

Did you know there have been more than 3,000 different makes of automobiles produced in the United States since the first "motor car" appeared in 1893? This new book, the second edition of "Automobiles of America," not only lists alphabetically all of the many cars which have been introduced to the motoring public in the past three quarters of a century, but also has a lengthy department called "Milestones" which details dates that important motor car developments occurred.

The book is profusely illustrated with photographs of automobiles dating from their earliest to the most modern days.

If you want to find out when the first Star car appeared, it's in the Roll Call section, for example.

Older folk will get a kick out of looking at photographs of automobiles they remember from their younger days. Long-gone models, such as the Hupp, Stutz Bearcat, Essex, Stanley, and a hundred others.

Because automobiles are so important to Americans, this AMA produced book should be of general interest to everyone who owns or drives a car.
