Negro demonstrators stand outside the barbed wire enclosed Hyde County Jail and sing freedom songs to fellow demonstrators arrested previously. Eighteen more Negroes were arrested Wednesday, bringing to 71 the total number arrested in three straight days of protests of the North Carolina county's federally approved school desegregation plan.

Violence Forces Class Suspension

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Classes have been suspended for an indefinite period for San Francisco State College's 18,000 students after a week of sporadic vandalism and violence stemming from a black student union strike.

President Robert R. Smith ordered the suspension Wednesday night "until we can open and operate in a more rational manner."

Smith acted after about 30 members of the police Tactical Squad were summoned to the campus twice within half an hour. They were met with rocks and cans and surrounded by groups of shouting demonstra-

Plead Innocent In Plot To Assassinate Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Yemeni Arabs, a father and his two sons, have pleaded innocent to a charge of conspiring to assassinate President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Ahmed Ragueh Namer, 43, and his sons, Hussein, 20, and Abdo, 19, were indicted Wednesday by a Brooklyn grand jury before being brought into Brooklyn Supreme Court for a hearing.

Justice John R. Starkey reduced bail from $100,000 to $25,000 each, but the lower bond was not posted. No trial date was set.

Attacks From DMZ Could Wreck Talks

Big Enemy Horde Fails In Assault

SAIGON (AP) — While U.S. planes and helicopters rained down flares, bullets and bombs, less than 500 South Vietnamese rangers and American artillerymen fought off about 1,000 North Vietnamese troops near the Cambodian border through the night and counted 287 enemy bodies after dawn broke today.

HEAVIEST
The North Vietnamese attack on the small ranger camp 60 miles north of Saigon produced the Vietnam war's heaviest fighting in weeks, with 120 of the enemy dead found inside the camp's barbed wire.

Cool Front Pushes Rain Into State

By The Associated Press
Stormy weather in New Mexico slopped over the state line into West Texas in the form of widespread light rain today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has warned North Vietnam that continued violations of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam could wreck the Paris peace talks.

The warning given to North Vietnamese representatives in Paris by U.S. representatives was disclosed by the State Department in a cautiously-worded statement Wednesday.

AT LEAST THREE
Officials said that beginning last Saturday there had been at least three instances in which American or South Vietnamese forces near the demilitarized zone had been hit by artillery shells from enemy forces inside the DMZ.

The statement issued by the United States takes a serious view of such incidents and "our representatives in Paris have brought this situation forcefully to the attention of the North Vietnamese."

"As the President and Secretary of Defense Clifford have made clear," the State Department added, "our position is that serious talks could not be conducted if the DMZ were abused."

REJECTS CLAIMS
In addition, the statement rejected implied claims of North Vietnam in recent statements that U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam violate the understandings which led to President Johnson's decision Oct. 31 to halt bombing and other attacks on the North.

Wizard Goofs, Depositor Ends Up With A Bundle

NEW YORK (AP)—To beep or not to beep (with apologies to Hamlet) is not, repeat not, the question as far as a computer is concerned.

The electronic wizard at the Seamen's Savings Bank on Wall Street goofed last Friday, and a Brooklyn girl suddenly became much more than a million dollars richer.

Wants Clear Statement

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam said today it would not negotiate with the United States unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is present at the table. It called on the United States to state clearly under what conditions it is prepared to resume the Paris peace talks.

Demonstrators Cooled

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — The president of the University of Connecticut cooled off a group of more than 100 demonstrators during a three-hour question and answer session early today.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL? Blue Laws Facing New Court Tests

AUSTIN (AP) — Backed up by a Midland district court decision, at least one Austin discount store plans to stay open both Saturdays and Sundays in possible violation of a state "blue law."

"The home office notified me to start opening Sundays," said James Vaughn, manager of Spartan Department Store.

Academy Super Surplus Manager Max Gochman said his store has been open both Saturdays and Sundays for some time and will continue to do so. "If they decide to enforce the law, I'll close on one day," he said.

COMMISSIONERS CERTIFY RETURNS, WITH QUALIFICATIONS Crooker To Seek Pct. 3 Vote Recount

By TEX ROGERS
Howard County's Nov. 5 general election was certified Wednesday, with some qualifications, and procedures began for a recount of votes in the commissioner race in Precinct 3.

W. B. (Bill) Crooker, candidate for commissioner of Precinct 3, who lost in the unofficial count by 81 votes, said today that he will seek a recount of all the boxes in the race.

deliberation, the commissioners court, acting as canvassing board for election returns, voted in separate motions to certify the election of commissioners of Precincts 1 and 3, with qualifications in each motion that the totals are unreconcilable due to the fact that there were more votes counted in the absentee box than there were applications for ballots.

There were 383 applications for absentee ballots in the Precinct 3 race, but 485 votes were counted by the special canvassing board in charge of the absentee box. In the Precinct 1 race, the court found that there were 145 applications for ballots and 323 were counted.

Terrazas won his Precinct 1 seat by defeating Republican O. L. (Lamar) Green by 1,534 to 297. Mrs. Hayden edged Crooker, a Republican, by 1,327 to 1,446.

Saigon Closes Newspaper

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government closed one of Saigon's three English-language newspapers today, charging it failed to give the government equal billing with the United States in their dispute over the Paris peace talks.

Likely beneficiary of such a move would be Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott who could take over chairmanship of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Scott, who supported the unsuccessful bid of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination, would succeed retiring Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, a conservative.

Liberals To Share In Move For Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative leaders of the Senate GOP bloc are considering giving a top post to a liberal Republican colleague, hoping for party unity at the outset of the Nixon administration.

Likely beneficiary of such a move would be Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott who could take over chairmanship of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

GOLDWATER
Republicans like to parcel out their jobs on a geographical basis where possible and there have been some suggestions that Barry Goldwater of Arizona be installed in the campaign post. He filled it for four years previously.

Nixon Picks Ehrlichman As Presidential Counsel

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon today named John D. Ehrlichman, 43, a Seattle attorney and eight-year political aide, to be counsel to the president.

Ehrlichman said he will, in addition to his duties as legal adviser, take on other assignments chosen by the president. For example, he said, he now is working in personnel recruitment.

Charges Fly Over Travel Vouchers

AUSTIN (AP)—State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White says Republican claims that he made employees help finance his campaign are nothing "but an attempt to cover up their failure to carry Texas."

"I have not this year or any year asked or accepted any money from any of my employees for campaign expenses," White, an 18-year Democratic veteran in the Capitol who won re-election again Nov. 5.

White's news conference was held late Wednesday immediately following one in which state GOP Executive Director John M. Stokes charged that bogus travel vouchers were used in White's department to hide employees' campaign contributions.

Stokes said the evidence presented Dist. Atty. Bob Smith in

Dawson Cotton Record Expected

By SAM BLACKBURN

LAMESA — Dawson County stands a good chance to hang up a record cotton crop in the opinion of competent observers.

"We could have as much as 168,000 bales — perhaps even more," exulted Bart Barnett, Lamesa Chamber of Commerce manager.

Production is good over all of the county. About half of the county's cotton is irrigated. Dryland cotton is turning out exceptionally well. Barnett said he had heard of one dryland field north of Lamesa which had ginned out an average of two bales an acre.

Everyone believes, he said, if weather continues good, that the harvest will be over by Christmas.

GINNS SPIN

There are 32 cotton gins in the county and they are going at top speed. It was guessed that perhaps half of the crop has now been ginned.

PESTS PLAY

So far, boll weevils have not invaded the county. There may be a few fields where some weevils are to be found. The ginners at Cotton Center, 10 miles south, had two or three weevils, which he picked out of cotton his gin was handling.

The snow and drizzle weather of last week slowed operations somewhat but on Tuesday the strippers were back in the fields in numbers. No major damage was caused to the crops by the weather. However, the gins reported that cotton on the yards which has been ginned since the storm has been damp and posed ginning problems.

No campaign of any organized character is being plotted at this time to cope with the weevils.

The farmers are watching, however, the encroachment of the weevils from the south and from Borden County where there are fields reportedly heavily hit by the pests.

Parasites Attacking Dawson Farm Plants

LAMESA — Bollweevils are not a major problem on Dawson County farms, but there is a distinct threat of crop damage from another parasite — nematodes.

Acres of Dawson County irrigated farm land are being infested with these damaging pests, according to Lee Roy Colgan, county farm agent.

"Fumigating the soil," said Colgan in a letter sent out this week, "is one good method of controlling nematodes."

He added that Paymaster Seed Farms has developed a variety of cotton — Paymaster M-18 — which is resistant to nematodes on cotton.

stalks found in the M-18 plot and the number of stalks attacked by nematodes in the field where the standard variety was planted.

In an adjacent field, Colgan said that the same varieties were planted on soil which had been treated. The M-18 yield was 415 pounds on this field and the standard variety 278 pounds of lint.

He said the demonstration was seeded 20 pounds to the acre and planted in solid rows. No irrigation was used on this tract, but 22 inches of rain fell on the Barron field for the season. All four of the tracts were damaged by hail during the August hail storm.

Money Picture Bright In Big Spring Schools

Big Spring schools are taking in more money and spending less the past two years, according to an audit report submitted Wednesday by George Thorburn to the board of trustees.

Thorburn's report showed that total revenue taken in by the school system as of Aug. 31 was $4,475,065, while expenses incurred at the same date were $4,355,729, for an excess of $119,336.

planning for a joint effort with the city.

Also delayed was approval of contractual terms for hiring a tax attorney, because two members of that committee were absent from the meeting. Moss, however, who has been working on the committee, said he had taken steps to obtain applications for an attorney through the U.S. Air Force retirement section in San Antonio.

In other business the board heard a report on the cost of education index for Big Spring schools by Noel Reed, director of personnel services.

Reed noted that cost per student in the system was $439.28 from state and local resources, and $533.42 per student from the regular and Title II budgets.

REVENUE UP

Revenue for the previous year, ending Aug. 31, 1967, was $4,381,210, for an increase in 1968 of $93,748. Expenses in 1967 were $3,916,861 for an increase in 1968 of $464,449.

The report noted there was a decrease in revenues over expenses for the two years of $345,120.

In a separate audit report on the Head Start program, liabilities totaled $13,857 with a balance on Aug. 31 of $7,741.

Following Thorburn's reports, the board voted to retain him for the 1968-69 audit.

Possibility of hiring a full-time purchasing agent was discussed, but no action was taken. Trustee Jerry Currie noted several purchases which he thought appeared to be expensive, and asked Don Crockett, business manager, if some items could be bought wholesale.

Rep. Young Sees No Shakeup In Democratic Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress won't be obstructionist even though for the first time in decades a Republican President will take office with the opposite party controlling both houses of Congress, predicts Rep. John Young, D-Tex.

"I don't think there is any question but that Democrats will act responsibly concerning legislation," Young said in an interview.

phrey's defeat by Richard Nixon "might be the best thing that ever happened to the Democratic Party and the nation."

"If Nixon is as good as he says he is, if he has solutions to all these tough problems in the racial, poverty and foreign areas, then we need him as president," Young said.

SURVIVAL

"Their own survival depends on it," he said. "The country won't stand for an obstructionist force."

Young, a member of the House Rules Committee, campaigned for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in Texas.

Nevertheless, he said, Humphrey's defeat by Richard Nixon "might be the best thing that ever happened to the Democratic Party and the nation."

"I doubt that he has the answers. The Republicans are in command in New York and New York City is about to fall apart with the teachers, firemen and policemen on strike," he said.

"I don't think anybody knows all the answers. It's obvious we haven't had solutions to all problems. Maybe some of them have to wear themselves out."

But if Nixon is not as good as he says, the country would never know it unless he's in the White House. Let those critical of the situation take over for awhile. Let them see if these problems are as tough as we've found them to be," Young said.

Father Says Eye Will Be Saved

ACKERLY — Mike Miranda, father of Lupe Miranda, one of the Sands High School youngsters injured in a car-truck crash Nov. 1, said today that reports his daughter may lose one of her eyes as result of the accident are not correct. Baptist Messengers OK Record Budget

FORT WORTH (AP) — The president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas told fellow churchmen Wednesday night that "this time in history is our greatest opportunity as Texas Baptists."

About 3,000 messengers, the voting body of the BGCT, are registered for a meeting which ends today. No official estimate of other association members and guests has been made.

CHALLENGE

Dr. Gordon Clinard, BGCT president and pastor of San Angelo First Baptist Church, said, "Our opportunity to be a missionary in a smaller world is a challenge as never before."

He said Baptists had a responsibility and opportunity "to give spiritual values in a secular society, to give greater stewardship in an unparalleled opportunity to be God's people in a changing world."

Earlier Clinard said he saw no conflict between "evangelism and social concern."

He was speaking of the observation that some Baptist pastors tended to shy away from preaching social concern and sticking either with strictly Biblical or generalized sermons.

FEAR

"Baptists are terribly afraid of a social gospel, but a social gospel is not the same as a social interpretation of the gospel," he said.

"Baptists believe, and I believe, that the gospel says that the greatest need is for redemption."

Clinard explained that redemption, salvation for sins, will result in social change and that the first goal should not be change of man's environment.

The Baptists considered today the remaining 25 proposals by their Committee of 100.

Messengers approved 32 of 33 committee recommendations Wednesday and tabled one that an employment information service be set up to aid pastors without churches.

Some opposition centered on views that the Lord would lead pastors to churches. The recommendation could be brought up again.

A second recommendation was hotly contested. This issue, a proposal to keep $2 million in reserve for BGCT emergencies, was approved by a 716 to 406 vote.

SURPRISE

The other recommendations passed routinely. They dealt with administrative matters.

A surprise proposal regarding acceptance of government funds was advanced in a later business session by Rufus Sprayberry of Mineral Wells and also was to be voted on today.

Sprayberry recommended that the Baptist General Convention of Texas approve the securing of long term loans from public funds for construction of buildings by Texas Baptist institutions, providing the institutions voluntarily reimburse the government annually the additional amount of interest which will cover the government subsidy involved.

ELECTION

Baptists long have advocated strict separation of church and state.

The messengers unanimously adopted a record $13.5 million budget for 1969. It designates nearly $9 million for state causes and the remaining $4.5 million for world missions. The total exceeds the 1968 budget by $700,000.

Clinard was re-elected president of the BGCT. Dr. Jimmy

Allen, pastor of San Antonio First Baptist Church, was elected first vice president and Dr. Darold Morgan, pastor of Dallas Cliff Temple Baptist Church, second vice president.

Also re-elected were Dr. Cecil Goff, recording secretary; Dr. D. B. South, registration secretary, and Dr. J. Earl Mead, secretary.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — More Aggies are studying engineering than any other subject, contrary to their nickname.

Statistics released by Registrar H. L. Heaton indicate 32.2 per cent of Texas A&M University's record 13,801 students—approximately one of every three—is majoring in some form of engineering.

Agriculture moved into second place this fall when business administration was separated from liberal arts. Heaton said agriculture accounts for 18.7 per cent of total enrollment; liberal arts, 15.3 per cent, and business administration, 11.9 per cent.

SHOULD BE AVAILABLE TO ALL WOMEN?

Safe And Legal Abortions

DETROIT (AP) — "All women" should have the right to "safe legal abortions," the American Public Health Association's governing council declared today.

In a formal resolution, it put no string on any woman's right to decide not to have a baby if she became pregnant. Such a stand goes far beyond even the most liberal of the present state laws.

WOMAN'S RIGHT

"The APHA urges that access to abortion be accepted as an important means of securing the right to spacing and choosing the number of children wanted," the resolution said.

"To this end, restrictive laws should be repealed so that pregnant women may have abortions performed by qualified practitioners in medicine and osteopathy."

The resolution will be distributed to members of the prestigious, quasi-official National Health Organization at its 96th annual meeting. It was adopted by a vote reported to have been about three to two among the council's 100-plus members.

Most state laws prohibit abortions unless the mother's health is clearly endangered.

A few states have recently modified this stand to permit abortions if, for example, there is good evidence that the yet-unborn infant might be deformed.

DEATHS

None permits an abortion because the woman, married or single, simply does not want a baby, or another baby.

Illegal abortions are performed by the hundreds of thousands each year, often under conditions that result in serious infection or death, or later inability to have a child, and invariably at exorbitant cost.

The governing council is the decision-making body of the American Public Health Association. One-third of council members are elected by specialty sections within the ALPHA, one-third by affiliated organizations, and the rest by the membership at large.

First Refuel For Savannah

NEW YORK (AP) — The Nuclear Ship Savannah, often called "the pride of the American merchant marine," sailed for the Mediterranean Wednesday night after the first refueling in her seven-year history.

The world's only commercially operating atomic merchant vessel slipped away from Pier "B," Hoboken, N.J., at 6:40 p.m., EST with the flag of Spain at her forepeak, denoting the country of her first port-of-call, Bilbao.

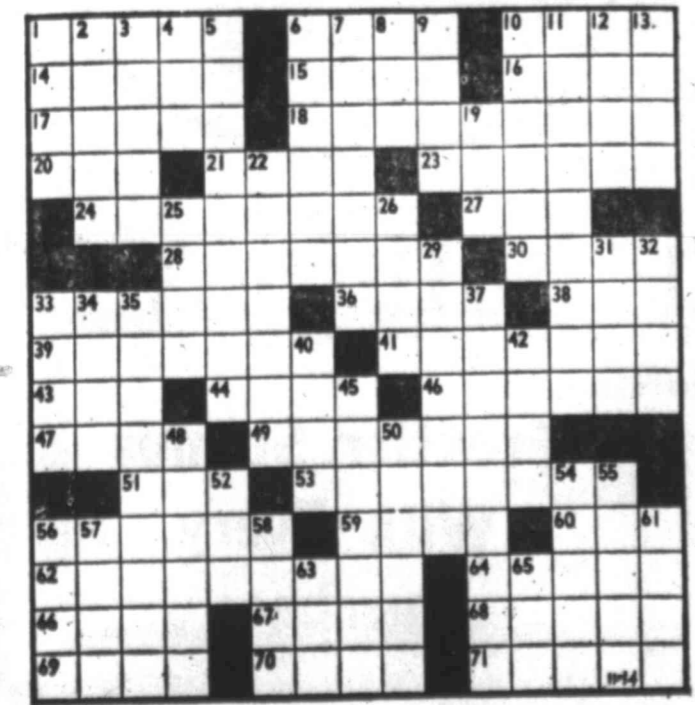

On her bridge was her master, Capt. Arnold R. Block, of Providence, R.I., who pronounced the refueling operation very satisfactory.

He said earlier that the sleek, 15,585-ton, white ship now can get back to her job "of showing to the ports of the world that this ship and succeeding generations of nuclear ships, can be operated into any port anywhere, just as conventionally powered cargo ships can."

'Boc Si' Para Returns From Vietnam Service

By TEX ROGERS

Several weeks ago "Boc Si" Para was treating mental patients at a hospital in Bien Hoa, South Vietnam. Today, the same man, Dr. Andrew Para, is making the rounds at the Veterans Administration Hospital, and happy to be home.

Dr. Para, who celebrated his 68th birthday recently, returned from a two-month tour of duty in that war-torn country as a volunteer medical man, serving with a program sponsored by the American Medical Association and Agency for International Development.

It was the doctor's second trip to Vietnam. In 1950, he was stationed in Hanoi, North Vietnam, with the War Food Administration. But that was before the small Asian country was split in two.

DR. ANDREW PARA

Dr. Para's original assignment was to be at the provincial hospital in Qui Nhon, but when he arrived in Saigon, he was re-assigned to the only mental hospital in South Vietnam, a large, antiquated complex in Bien Hoa.

The 510th American doctor to volunteer for a tour of duty in Vietnam, Dr. Para recalled that living quarters for the medical men were far more luxurious than the hospital wards which they served.

"The Bien Hoa hospital had 1,600 beds and open sewage," he said. "Water was taken from five wells. It was not very clean by our standards."

He said that the hospital was next to the American air base at Bien Hoa, and guerrilla activity during his stay was high. Viet Cong rockets slammed near the base almost every night.

During his stay, he made several trips into other provinces where he helped treat villagers of wounds and diseases. He said that Viet Cong terrorists claimed casualties in the unprotected villages with gun shot wounds, burns and mine injuries.

"The villages were nearly all unprotected, and people were always moving from the country and into the cities for protection," he said.

He also saw three villages comprised of refugees from North Vietnam who had moved to the south during the heavy fighting between the French and Viet Cong in 1953-54.

The Vietnamese people hold high regard for the American "Boc Si," or doctors, he said. The villagers appreciated their help, as did the Vietnamese doctors, who also learned from their American colleagues.

Dear Abby

Get Rid Of The Bum

DEAR ABBY: I went with this guy for four years. We sneaked around like a couple of criminals because he was married. He said he loved me, and I believed him. He also said his wife wouldn't give him a divorce, but he was "working on it." He even told me that they were married "in name only."

I turned down a lot of swell guys for this bum. Now get this: He says he can't even mention "divorce" to his wife right now because she's pregnant! Now, how in heck could this have happened if he was telling me the truth?

DEAR BEEN: I'd bet against an immaculate conception. Obviously, he wasn't telling you the truth. Lose the bum.

DEAR ABBY: Every day after school a group of us girls walk home together. We have to pass a certain barber shop, which is located in the basement of a building. Well, this particular barber seems to have very little business, because every time we walk by he's got himself parked in a chair right in front so he can look up and see us.

You know that he gets a pretty good view from where he is sitting, and this is very disturbing. We have thought of crossing the street, but shouldn't he have enough sense not to sit there?

DEAR DISTURBED: If you know he is sitting there because he likes the "view," you should have enough sense to cross the street.

DEAR ABBY: In your column was a letter from a grandmother who bought clothes for her three grandsons only to have the boys' mother exchange them all for a larger size to fit the eldest, her favorite. The two younger brothers wore hand-me-downs. You advised as follows: "The next time you buy clothes for your grandsons, tell the merchant that under no circumstances should he allow the mother to exchange them for a larger size."

Now, Mrs. Abby, I am a merchant and I would appreciate it if you wouldn't advise your readers to burden us merchants with their problems. To begin with, that daughter-in-law is evidently no delight to deal with, and I can just imagine what she would say to me if I told her that her mother-in-law instructed me not to exchange the merchandise for her. I'd be lucky to come out with all my limbs intact.

It isn't fair to bring the merchant into family arguments. Right now I have a customer who is teaching his teenage son a lesson by refusing to pay me for a pair of shoes his son charged to him without his permission. The son isn't going to pay for the shoes either, so I am stuck for the shoes. Now "ain't" that some lesson he's teaching the kid?

Also, merchants have been stuck when wives run up big clothing bills and their husbands want to teach them a lesson by refusing to pay the bill.

So, Dear Abby, I know you are brilliant and beautiful, so please be merciful.

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL LIBRARY ENCOURAGES READING HABIT
Youngsters make good use of remarkably well-equipped facility at school

EDUCATION WEEK

Libraries Press For Full Use As Reading Foundation

The boy or girl who acquires a thirst for reading while in the elementary grades of school establishes a foundation for a life in which the opportunity to learn never ends.

Realization of this has impelled Ernest Morgan, principal of Lakeview school, to stress heavily the establishment and operation of an exceptionally fine elementary library and to encourage in every way the full use of the library. All schools of the city have libraries and all are in good demand by the pupils but the one at Lakeview is a little different from most of the others.

Lakeview's student body is made up entirely of Latin-American and Negro children. Morgan said that the division is about 60 per cent Latin-American and 40 per cent Negro.

"Most of our children," he explained, "come from homes where low income is the rule. They come from homes where there is no home library — in most instances there are no books at all other than school books."

The Lakeview library owes a lot of its success, Morgan points out, to the work of Mrs. Mary B. Patillo, who is now serving her second year as librarian. She is a professional in the field and devotes her full time to the operation of the department.

Lakeview library is housed in a well-lighted and well-furnished room. It has 4,769 books on its shelves. These involve 3,549 individual titles. Indicative of the interest in books by the Lakeview children is that the circulation of the library for the first six weeks of school was 1,300 volumes.

Lakeview's total figures out about 20 titles or 25 books per child as compared with the Southern Association standard of 20 titles per child. Bauer and Cedar Crest schools exceed the standard, and other elementary schools are being pushed in that direction. Junior highs are right at the standard and senior high school is moving steadily to the goal. All Big Spring libraries have between 50,000 and 60,000 volumes.

The books are constantly being augmented with funds from the school budget and from money derived from Title I and Title II federal programs.

Mrs. Virginia Miller, head of "Impact Library" out of Lubbock who recently inspected the facility here, was high in praise of it.

The children at the school have half hour sessions in the library. They read books on some of these occasions. They see films or slides on others. Mrs. Patillo sometimes varies the program by reading stories to the youngsters.

Children are encouraged to take books home and read them and as a result, dozens of volumes are checked out daily.

"We try to teach the children to take care of books," said Mrs. Patillo, "but we make no fetish of it. We prefer that the books be read rather than treated as perishables."

"The books are read, too," she added, "as you can see by looking at the volumes. Notice how much wear and tear each book shows."

Youngsters are not fined if they keep a book overtime. "We try to encourage the kids to get the books back on the day they are supposed to return them," said Morgan, "but if they are late, we do not make an issue of it."

He explained that it is felt it is more important to keep the children reading than it is to collect a few pennies from them.

"It is possible," he said, "that a fine might discourage that child from continuing his reading interest — and that would be exactly opposite to what we want."

"The children are deeply interested in books," said Mrs. Patillo. "They are proud of their ability to read and they are proud of their library."

Morgan and his librarian believe that the establishment of the reading habit in their young charges is of tremendous importance in that it will keep the gate open for life-long learning.

No Obstacles In The Way Of Library Bid

Apparently no obstacles have arisen to the bid made by the Howard County Commissioners Court asking that the present Big Spring post office, soon to be vacated, be deeded to Howard County as a library building.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said that the last time he had discussed the matter with representatives of the General Service Agency, he was told no obstacles were anticipated.

However, before any transfer can be made, the GSA will make a close survey of the situation here to determine if the building is needed by some federal agency.

If no federal agency needs it, the post office department will probably turn the building to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. This agency will then evaluate the application of the county, and determine if it is to receive the building.

Meantime, plans are being pursued to move the post office operations from the present site to the new building soon after Jan. 1.

One minor problem which has been discussed is the disposition which may be made of the big mural painting which adorns the main lobby of the present post office.

This mural, painted 30 years ago by Peter Hurd, now one of the most famous artists in the country, cannot be safely moved from its present site. The general impression is that the painting should be left where it is. If the old post office becomes the new county library, it will fit into the project.

Jan Herring Schedules Painting Class At Lamesa

LAMESA — Deadline is Monday for registration for an oil painting workshop in Lamesa featuring widely known El Paso artist and instructor Jan Herring.

Sponsored by the Dawson County Art Association, the oil painting course has been scheduled for a two-week period, five days weekly, from Feb. 3 to Feb. 14, 1969.

Registration, which must be completed by Monday, is open to either morning (9 to noon) or night (7 to 10 o'clock) classes at a cost of $55, which includes studio fee. A $15 registration deposit may be mailed to Mrs. Pat Nix, 906 North Ave. G, Lamesa.

Mrs. Nix, president of the local artist group, said morning and evening classes will be limited to 15 persons each.

She said Miss Herring has conducted similar workshops throughout the Southwest.

Instruction here will touch on all phases of oil painting.

Miss Herring's work is featured in the permanent collection at the West Texas Museum and she has been a resident artist of the El Paso Museum of Art. She recently opened the Jan Herring Design Center in El Paso. She has had some 50 one-man shows.

She has earned numerous honors, including high awards from the New York City Center, the Ford Foundation and the Burr Gallery of New York.

Trustees Hire Two Teachers

Resignations of two teachers were accepted and two more were hired Wednesday by the Big Spring Independent School District Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Susan W. Comer and Mrs. Sharon Klose were hired. Mrs. Comer, who has a bachelor's degree from Washburn University in Kansas, will teach science at Runnels Junior High, and Mrs. Klose, who has a bachelor's degree from Concordia Teacher's College in Illinois, will teach the sixth grade at Marcy Elementary School.

Those resigning are Mrs. Dorothy E. Crowther, Marcy sixth grade teacher, and Mrs. Donna R. Gillenwaters, high school homemaking teacher.

Lions Planning To Sweep City With Annual Sale

Downtown Lions are planning to mop up the town — or put it another way, to sweep it clean.

Or more exactly, to provide the means for doing either.

The club agreed Wednesday to stage an intensive broom-mop sale to replenish its welfare project fund. Demands upon the fund for glasses, sending children to the crippled children's camp, etc., have been so great that the balance is too low for comfort, said Morris Rhodes, secretary-treasurer.

The brooms and mops are manufactured by blind people. Dates for the city-wide sale will be announced later, said Clyde McMahon Jr., president.

Two locally manufactured electronic computer devices were demonstrated by Loal Hightower, sales manager for the computer division of Gamco, Inc. One was the educational unit, designed specifically to teach computer math and programming. It has a capability of handling 200,000 operations per second, and it has a light board above the console to show pupils visually what is happening.

The other is a new data processer so compact that it fits into a 19x23x9-inch box, yet has the capability of handling 16,000,000 operations per second. The unit is comparatively light, fully portable and ruggedly constructed. This is designed for the industrial market, said Hightower, and out-performs

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1968

Forsan's New Post Office Building Site Approved

FORSAN — Forsan's new County's youngest incorporated town has been approved. The government has held an option for some months on a tract, encompassing 4,462 square feet of land, located at the southeast corner of Fourth Street and Ave. F.

According to residents here, this is a vacant area a hundred feet or so across the street and west of the present post office. The land is owned by Mr. and Mrs. James McCarty of Sterling City. The McCarty's formerly lived in Forsan.

Rep. Burleson's report had no further information than the fact that the purchase of the site had been approved.

The usual procedure followed by the post office department in providing post office buildings for communities such as Forsan is to acquire the site or accept an option on it and then to advertise for a contractor to build the post office and improve the grounds, leasing the completed structure and government on a 10-year lease plan with an option for a five year renewal.

That was the program followed in Coahoma, a few years ago, and at Gall and Ackerly in more recent times.

When Forsan has its new post office building, all of the county's three incorporated towns will have new post office structures.

Coahoma's post office is only a few years old. Big Spring will move into its million dollar federal building around the first of the year.

Meantime, another postal department problem still faces Forsan — selection of a postmaster.

With the retirement some time ago of Mrs. Vera Harris, the second postmaster the town has had since the office was established, the department held examinations to name her successor. Of the considerable number who took the tests, it is said that only two made passing grades.

No appointment has been made by the government to fill the post. Meantime, Mrs. D. M. Bardwell is acting postmaster.

Warehouse Roof Collapse Kills

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Only 30 minutes before he met death when a 288-ton warehouse roof crashed, E. J. Hardwick, Wednesday had expressed apprehension over the roof supports, a witness said.

TRAGEDY
Hardwick, 51, of San Antonio, a superintendent for a firm building the warehouse, was dead on arrival at a hospital following the afternoon tragedy in south Bexar County.

Four welders working atop the roof were injured when the prestressed concrete roof collapsed. They literally "rode the roof down" an officer said.

The 21-foot-tall structure was being built as an addition to a cold storage warehouse.

A workman, Joseph Arellano, told newsmen of Hardwick's apprehension. "Just 30 minutes before this thing fell, he told me he didn't like this and he didn't want to go under there, but if he didn't, no one else would."

"And 30 minutes later this thing went down right on his back and head," Arellano said.

He said Hardwick showed him vibration in the large uprights supporting the roof each time a prestressed cross piece was dropped on the roof.

fast everything fell. I saw two guys flying through the air."

Another workman, Pedro Vela, said he was inside the building with Hardwick when "I saw it falling and I jumped. I was right under the west edge with Mr. Hardwick. I don't know how I got out, but I just jumped."

Injured were Vernon Onley, 35, Howard M. Guenles, 61, John Sheffield, 24, all of San Antonio, and Carl Frazier, 33, of nearby Atascosa. Sheffield was treated and released. The other men were in undetermined condition late Wednesday night.

Placed In Charge

DALLAS (AP) — Oliver R. Kirby, formerly an assistant director of the National Security Agency, has been placed in charge of all technical operations at the Greenville division of LTV ElectroSystems, President E. F. Buehring has announced.

In addition to naming Kirby vice president of technical operations, Buehring transferred the entire ElectroSystems computer sciences capability to the Greenville division as part of Kirby's organization.

Austin Woman Facing Marijuana Charges

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Federal officers filed charges of smuggling and possession of over $1 million worth of marijuana against an Austin woman.

Mrs. Charlotte Marie Smith, 25, was ordered held in the Cameron County jail here Wednesday in lieu of $50,000 bond by U.S. Commissioner Otto Reichert.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Homer Lopez said federal officers found 870 pounds of marijuana in burlap bags at Port Mansfield and near Raymondville Tuesday after Mrs. Smith and her husband, Raymond Keith Smith, 25, were arrested.

Smith is being held in the Willacy county jail at Raymondville in lieu of $500 bond and pending completion of an investigation by federal officers. Smith has been charged by Raymondville police with carrying a concealed weapon.

Lopez said the marijuana found at the two locations would be worth about $1,700,000 because 1,500 cigarettes can be made from a pound of marijuana. He said the cigarettes are reportedly being sold for $1

2-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Nov. 14, 1968

Mother Provides Stimulus

By RHODA LEMONS

This is the second time around in Big Spring for the Bill Bright family, 2905 Cactus. They previously lived here for over a year before moving to Odessa, but returned almost two years ago.

The Brights have three children, Kathy, 11, a fifth-grader at Park Hill Elementary School; Sam, 8, a third-grader at the same school, and Susie, 3. "We live very simply," said Mrs. Bright. Most of their entertaining is done at home with small groups bringing their families over for dinner and bridge.

Her husband is the outdoor cook and one of his hobbies is making a Mexican dinner of tacos and enchiladas. It is always a treat for the family to have him do the cooking.

He is employed as sales representative for Visco Chemicals. His office is in the home, and Mrs. Bright serves as his secretary and bookkeeper.

Because of her husband's irregular working hours, Mrs. Bright cooks one large meal a day (in the evening) and if her husband can join them the family eats together, but if he works late, she feeds the children and provides dinner for him later.

She does not plan her menus in advance, but lets each day and its plan unfold as it will. She is home most of the time, and her one dream is to have enough time one day to do all the reading she would like to get done.

She sews for both her daughters and occasionally for herself. She takes her two older children to piano lessons and she teaches the five-year-old Sunbeam class at the First Baptist Church, where the family has membership.

When Mrs. Bright expects company, she cooks in advance for her freezer in order that she can prepare meals with a minimum of effort. However, for family occasions, she usually does not cook in advance, but uses the freezer for storage.

Mrs. Bright cleans her house each day and thoroughly once each week. She does not have a set day for doing any chore, and she does her grocery shopping every two weeks. She said that she always runs out of something, but that by improvisation, she manages to get by.

She and her husband are avid football fans, and they try to attend all the home games.

Try Oriental Fish Cooked In Sauce

Fish steaks baked in a sweet sauce borrowed from oriental cuisine.

MANDARIN FISH STEAKS
4 large white-fleshed fish steaks (about 3 pounds), such as striped bass (1/2 to 3/4 inch thick)
1/2 cup frozen chopped onion
1 can (3 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
2 tbsps. butter
2 tbsps. sugar
2 tbsps. lemon juice
1/4 cup Japanese-type soy sauce
2 tps. finely chopped fresh ginger

Place fish in a single layer in a buttered 13 by 9 by 2 inch glass baking dish. Sprinkle with onion and mushrooms and dot with butter. Mix remaining ingredients, stirring to dissolve sugar, and pour over fish. Bake in a moderate oven until fish flakes and is opaque through — about 25 minutes. Serve with rice — the sauce tastes good with it. Makes six servings.

Citizen Patrols Curtail Crime

DETROIT (AP) — Citizens, black and white, have set up their own "help the police" project in Detroit's 13-square mile Palmer Park precinct on the city's Northwest Side.

Citizen patrols cruise the area in cars at night. They are armed only with a radio, tuned in on a citizens' band frequency to their own receiving station, which in turn relays their observations to the precinct police station via telephone.

The area once was mostly Jewish, now it is 50 to 75 per cent Negro. The project grew from a meeting of an integrated block club.

Lt. Arthur Sand, police community relations head for the precinct, considers the area one of the better residential neighborhoods of Detroit.

But crime has increased dramatically there.

Lt. Sand says on the average there are 150 car thefts, 175 automobile break-ins, 50 armed robberies, a dozen purse-snatchings and 150 dwelling break-ins a month.

The Rev. Isaiah Patterson, a

Negro, leads the six-car nightly radio patrols for which there are more than 30 men and women volunteers. Another 60 persons, mostly merchants, raised $450 for equipment.

While no arrests have stemmed directly from the new patrols, Lt. Sand says there is no way of telling how many crimes they have prevented.

In asking for more patrol volunteers at a block club meeting, businessman Harry Portner said, "Store owners were operating behind closed doors in the middle of the afternoon."

And Lt. Sand said: "These aren't vigilante groups. They operate completely outside the police department. They work with police. They don't get out of cars. They aren't armed."

"They let police know what is happening or what is suspicious and we take over from there."

"They screen their own patrol participants, trying to assign a white and a black to each car, if possible. And when we make a pinch on their information, we have two ready-made witnesses ready to testify."

Texas Probation Program Costly

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas is wasting millions of state tax dollars by not having as good a probation program as it could have, the director of the Texas Research League says.

Alvin A. Burger also told the Senate Economy in Government

Study Committee the state could save money by —Establishing a work-release program in state prisons. —By using state-owned cars for all state business. —Converting the McKnight Tuberculosis Hospital near San Angelo into a state school to absorb about half the waiting list for institutions for the mentally retarded. —Requiring state employees to fly tourist or coach class when they use commercial airlines. —Eliminating the $15 million annual general revenue transfer to farm to market roads.

"It seems to me there's more public concern about rising tax trends today than has been visible in a long time. That concern is evident for all levels of government," Burger said.

Burger estimated $4 million a year in prison maintenance and welfare costs could be saved by requiring judges to have a social case history for each defendant before deciding whether to grant probation.

"We still lag in the use of probation as a device for rehabilitating offenders," he said.

By setting up a work-release program for some 200 prisoners, the state could save another $200,000 in prison and welfare programs, Burger estimated. He said he had been told the old Blue Ridge Prison Unit near Houston "would appear to provide good housing and control for a release-for-work program."

Burger said that when state employees use commercial airlines, they "invariably fly first-class," with tickets costing some $26 more than tourist fare on a round-trip flight from Austin to Washington, D.C.

Student Charged With Selling LSD

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — A 17-year-old Canyon High School student is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond on charges of selling LSD to a small group of classmates.

Canyon Police Chief Calvin Costley said Randy Simpson of South Amarillo, was charged with selling a dangerous drug Tuesday following an investigation of several months.

Police said they were uncertain how many youngsters made purchases but investigators said they thought only six were regular customers.

Costley said he used his brother-in-law, a Canyon High School senior, in gathering evidence in the case.

Texas Hospitality

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — A welcoming committee met a Paris man when he climbed off the bus from Denison here recently.

The delegation, made up of Texas Liquor Control Board agents, was more interested in the suitcase he was carrying.

It contained 17 half-pints of whiskey. He drew charges of transporting liquor in a dry area.

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1♣ Pass 1♠
Pass 3NT Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
When South, the declarer at three so trump, realized that his campaign had been foiled by an acute defender, he was obliged to dig deep into his bag of tricks to uncover an alternative plan.

West opened the queen of diamonds which was taken by declarer's king. South led a low spade, putting in the nine from dummy. East made a very alert play when he followed with the deuce of spades, permitting North to hold the trick. The dummy obviously did not have many entries, and it was East's desire to do everything possible to prevent the profitable development of the spade suit.

South returned to his hand with the ace of clubs to lead another spade. This time

East topped the ten with the queen and declarer realized that he had been made the victim of a very fine play for, if East wins the first spade, South has time to drive out the remaining stopper while North still has the queen of clubs. As matters stood, the ace of spades was still outstanding—and declarer had only the one entry left to dummy.

East returned a diamond and declarer played the ace. Having apparently been restricted to but one spade trick, it appeared that South must pay off to his opponent's alert defense for, even if the heart finesse succeeded, declarer could count only eight tricks.

Presently he spotted an outside chance which hinged on West's being very short in hearts. He led the jack of hearts and it overtook with North's queen. The king of spades was played putting East in with the ace as South discarded his king of clubs. By so doing, he converted dummy's ten of clubs into the master card in that suit.

East returned the jack of hearts and South successfully finessed the queen. He cashed the ace next removing West's last heart and then led a diamond. West was able to take two diamond tricks, but having nothing but clubs left, he was forced to surrender the lead to dummy and North took the fulfilling tricks with the ten of clubs and the jack of spades.

Neighbor Repaid Their Kindness

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — Elmo McCorquodale, 95, and his 101-year-old wife Margaret have always been neighbors. "This week a neighbor repaid their kindness. 'I've always checked on them,' said the neighbor, Mrs. William J. Brake. 'When I noticed the shades weren't up Monday, I called police.' Police found the couple had collapsed from malnutrition and dehydration and apparently had not eaten for three days. They were taken to a hospital and by Wednesday, reported 'eating well' and in satisfactory condition. 'There was plenty of food on the shelves,' said Mrs. Brake. 'But they were probably just too tired to fix it.'

Neighbor Repaid Their Kindness

Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr., Webb wing commander, in making the presentation said, "One of our beloved ones is departing." He then turned to the major and said, "Maj. Osgood has all those qualities which we all seek to emulate. He's a real pro." The inscription on the award commended the major for his outstanding contributions to the base. It said he held one of the most challenging jobs in the wing and that his responsibilities defied enumeration. The colonel especially singled out Maj. Osgood's contributions in the community relations program. The base has enjoyed excellent relations with the community, primarily due to the major's efforts in this area. "I hate to leave the fleet. I made many lasting friendships here," the major said. Approximately 35-40 top wing officers attended the briefing.

Nixon Will Not Change Commitment To Allies

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States assured its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today that the Nixon administration in Washington will not alter the U.S. commitment to defend Western Europe against unprovoked attack. But at the same time, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and Secretary of State Dean Rusk let the 14 other NATO nations know that Americans feel they are shouldering a disproportionately heavy share of the defense burden.

Well Done Award Given Maj. Osgood

Th statements of Clifford and Rusk highlighted a session of NATO's defense planning committee, which is considering the need of strengthening defenses against the danger of new Soviet thrusts in Europe. Norway, Denmark, West Germany, the Netherlands, Britain and the United States announced new contributions to NATO as a result of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

Valley Pupils Stage Boycott

ELSA, Tex. (AP) — An estimated 100 high school pupils boycotted classes at Edcouch-Elsa High School today because the pupils claimed the school board would not meet to listen to their demands. The newly formed Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO) backed the boycott. The pupils gathered on a dirt road at the site of the sprawling school complex in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and cheered other pupils who joined and encouraged pupils who still were on the school grounds to join the boycott.

Longer 'Space Ferry' Flights Scheduled

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A critical test over U.S. space officials planned today for higher and longer flights for what may be the space ferry of the future. The HL10 lifting body may fly again within two weeks. National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said after Wednesday's successful test of the wingless craft's maneuverability under sustained power. Some NASA officials who watched the flight said they believe that—reinforced, enlarged and with a heat shield—the wedge-shaped 22-foot long vehicle soon could be ready to take the place of capsules atop rocket boosters.

More Joining In Good Turn

KNOTT — Lenora cotton farmers are joining with their Knott neighbors in the plan to strip the W. B. Walker farm's cotton crop in one big day's operation on next Monday. More than half a dozen strippers have already been promised from the community. Meantime, it was announced that all of the gins in Knott — Planters, Guitar and Farmers Co-Op — are to gin the Walker cotton as rapidly as loaded trailers reach the plants. "Whatever gin the hauler takes his load to will handle the cotton immediately," said a spokesman. "That means that the trailer can be emptied immediately to be returned to the Walker farm or to the owner's own fields." Mr. Walker, a widely known Knott community resident, died recently and his death left his family faced with a difficult problem in harvesting the lush cotton crop on his place. It was estimated about 125 bales are ready for the gins. Knott and Lenora farmers, with strippers and trailers, will converge on the farm on Monday morning and sweep through the fields in one big push.

British Defense Minister Denis Healey was host Wednesday night to his colleagues from West Germany, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Norway and Denmark. Luxembourg's foreign minister Pierre Garey and a British spokesman said they agreed on the need to undertake closer cooperation among European countries on defense. NASA Discloses Apollo 10 Flight Near Moon's Surface

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A flight to less than 10 miles above the moon's surface will be undertaken next year by a crew of space veterans, officials disclosed Wednesday. Then they'll rendezvous with the command module, rejoin Young on board, separate from the lunar module and return to earth. National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials have said privately that Apollo 10 may later be changed from "F" class to "G" class, the actual moon landing. Apollo 10's "F" mission differs from the Apollo 8 "C" prime mission, also a lunar orbit flight, in the type of hardware and altitude above the moon. Apollo 8, scheduled to fly next month, will orbit the moon 10 times at an altitude of 69 miles. It will not have the lunar module on board. Apollo 8 crew members are Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders. The command module and lunar module combination will fly manned for the first time on Apollo 9, scheduled for launch early next year. The Apollo 9 crew—James A. McDivitt, Rusty Schweickart and David

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Bake, Mail Food In Tin Containers

Dear Heloise: My son who attends college away from home asked me to tell you what I do when I mail food to him.

Sending baked goods to him through the mail was always quite a problem to me until I hit on the idea of baking fruit breads in number 303 tin cans. After the bread is baked, I remove it from the can to cool. Then return to can for shipping. In this way breakage is avoided.

He said all the students on his floor had written home to tell their mothers to ship their goodies this way. He also says they many times prefer the breads to cookies or cakes because they aren't so sweet and keep well . . . Erma M. Wiegand

Dear Heloise, I read your advice to buy enough extra material to line a garment.

Well, a home economics major gave me this hint: Take an old bed sheet that is worn or torn and cannot be used on the bed anymore. Cut a lining from the good part.

A sheet has been washed many times and it will not shrink.

I have used this idea on wool, cotton, linen and silk and have never been disappointed when the garment is washed or cleaned. The lining is always right and the seams do not pucker . . . Mrs. W. B. Sibold

Dear Heloise:

When I took my baby off baby food I used quick-cooking cereals for breakfast, but before I could cool the cereal, the baby would be hungry and crying.

Now I've learned to drop an ice cube in the hot cereal stir only a few seconds, then remove the remainder of the cube and the cereal is ready to eat.

As most hot cereals cook rather thick, the melting cube doesn't make it too thin . . . Sherry

Now, that's what I call finding your COOL right quick, Sherry! Great! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise, Here's a hint I tried and enjoyed so much that I would like to pass it on to others.

I had some chocolate nut bars left from trick-or-treat night. So I cut up and melted two of them in a little water, making a nice syrup.

I then poured this over vanilla ice cream and I'm telling you, it was the best chocolate nut sundae I have ever eaten! . . . Edith H. Hawk

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise: I have five boys and your most frequently used hint is the one on using nutmeats to hide scratches on furniture.

I use more walnuts for scratches than I do for baking brownies! . . . Mrs. R. Medeiros

Dear Heloise: In our family there are five school-age children, and umbrellas were always getting lost until my mother got this idea.

Inside of each dark umbrella, she printed the name and address of each child with white paint, using a pen or tiny paint brush.

Now if we lose one, it is always returned to us . . . Susie

Dear Heloise: I always take the last piece of cake that is drying out and put it through the food chopper. Then store it in the freezer along with the cookie crumbs from the bottom of the canister until I have enough for a crumb crust or topping.

Frosting and nuts in the cake only add to the flavor of the dish! . . . Dorothy

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible. (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)
