AT LEAST 754 COUNTED Record Road Toll

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents over the four-day Thanksgiving holiday took at least 754 lives, the highest highway death toll in any holiday period on record.
HIGHER
The count, which ran from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday, probably will run higher as late reports are received.
Rain or snow covered highways over most of the nation for at least part of the holiday period creating hazardous driving conditions.
The previous holiday record was 748 deaths during the 1966 Thanksgiving holiday.
The National Safety Council considers Thanksgiving a "stay at home" holiday and made no estimate of traffic deaths over the period.

To provide a basis for comparison, The Associated Press counted traffic deaths during a four-day non-holiday period. The count during that period was 530.
The 1967 Thanksgiving traffic toll was 688.
Traffic deaths during other holiday periods this year were New Year's 376; Memorial Day 629, a record for that holiday; Independence Day 620, and Labor Day 688, also a record for that holiday.
MULTIDEATHS
While most of the deaths occurred singly, multideath accidents helped push the toll upward.

Both Sides Welcome Chicago Riot Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report blaming Chicago police for the bloodshed that marred the Democratic National Convention was welcomed today by people who were on both sides of the epic August street battles.
One somewhat unusual reaction came, however, from the Government Printing Office which refused to reproduce it without deletion of an obscene four-letter word that appears 82 times.

EXCELLENT
"Over-all it is an excellent study," said Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who commissioned his own national television report shortly after the convention to defend his city and its policemen.
One of the leaders of the anti-war protesters — whom the report says were the victims of mindless, unrestrained and indiscriminate police violence — said it had "some gratifying aspects."

Daley said the bulk of the Chicago police force reacted with responsibility during the five August nights of disorder in darkened parks and downtown streets. He said some policemen have been suspended for their part in the violence and still others face dismissal.

A special task force compiled the report — an almost blow-by-blow account of the ferocity of the battles and the fever of the protests — for the President's commission on violence, which made it public without comment.

The White House was silent on its reaction to the report.
The task force said some police struck down innocent bystanders and peaceful protesters as well as taunting antiwar antigayists.

"To be sure, demonstrators threw things at policemen and at police cars," the report said, "but the weight of violence was overwhelming on the side of the police."

OUTNUMBERED
More than 10,000 demonstrators — actually outnumbered by the police force and National Guardsmen — converged on Chicago for the week of wild demonstrations that erupted, ironically, out of a protest for peace.

The report said the demonstrators showered police with obscenity, with beer cans, with chunks of concrete and ping pong balls studded with nails. One policeman was offered a sandwich filled with excrement, others were targets for sacks of human waste, the report said.

The response, said the report, "was unrestrained and indiscriminate police violence."
"That violence," it said, "was made all the more shocking by the fact that it was often inflicted upon persons who had broken no law, disobeyed no order, made no threat."

Newsmen were singled out by cursing policemen and clubbed to the ground, the report charged. Casual onlookers and innocent residents were caught in the orgy of anger, it said.

The violence began as police evicted demonstrators from a lakeside park on the first nights of the convention and chased them with clubs through the streets of a night club area in what the report said "can only be called a police riot."

CLIMAXED
It came to a climax as police beat back thousands of demonstrators besieging the candidates' downtown hotel on the night of the nomination while a shocked world watched on television.

"There is little doubt," the report said again, "the preponderance of violence came from the police."

But it adds, "It was not entirely a one-way battle."
Balding pacifist David Dellinger, leader of the peace protests, said in New York Sunday that the report has "some gratifying aspects." But, he insisted, it "overemphasizes the provocations on the part of the demonstrators."

Dellinger is among five top figures in the Chicago disorders under subpoena to testify as a House Un-American Activities subcommittee resumes its hearings today on the convention clashes.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., subcommittee chairman, has said earlier hearings uncovered a number of known Communists involved in the protests. But the task force report said that while communists were present at almost all stages, "none of them ever had much direct influence" on the planning or the actual clashes.

ALL TAINTED

The report concludes the police involved in the violence were a minority of Chicago's 12,000-man force, but it says the taint falls on all.

"There has been no public condemnation of these violators of sound police procedures and common decency by either their commanding officers or city officials," the report charged.

"Nor," it added, "has any disciplinary action been taken against most of them. That some policemen lost control of themselves under exceedingly provocative circumstances can perhaps be understood, but not condoned."

The study said if no action is taken against the police, then other officers who did act with responsibility will be discouraged.

It warns, "Although the crowds were finally dispelled on the nights of violence in Chicago, the problems they represent have not been."

"Surely this is not the last time that a violent dissenting group will clash head-on with those whose duty it is to enforce the law. And the next time the whole world will still be watching."

NO RECOMMENDATIONS

The task force made no recommendations in its report — that is expected to be the job of the full 13-man violence commission headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

The commission is due to go into seclusion at a Washington hotel next weekend to begin writing its full report to President Johnson on the wide range of violence in America.

Johnson named the commission when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was assassinated last June. The panel broadened its studies after the Chicago disorders.

Daniel Walker, a prominent Chicago Corporation lawyer, headed the 90-man task force under a contract with the violence commission.

The report is spiced with obscenity again and again as it quotes the taunts and the profanity from both police and protesters.

The task force had the report printed privately after the GPO refused to put it out without being able to censor it.

In the blur of the battle, even the final number of injured remains uncertain in the report. It counts 192 policemen hurt, 49 of them hospitalized.

OTHER SIDE

On the other side, 191 demonstrators were hospitalized and the protesters' own medical teams estimated — without full records — more than 1,000 others were treated for tear gas or injuries.

Among the other victims were 63 newsmen attacked and beaten by police.

The report said police singled out reporters and cameramen as they tried to cover the melee in the streets and clubbed them with night sticks.

BUT NOT TET Yule Truce Announced

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced tonight it will observe a 24-hour truce for Christmas.

The announcement was made by the office of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The truce will run from 6 p.m. — Saigon time — Dec. 24 to 6 p.m. Dec. 25.

The announcement was made on South Vietnamese radio and television. The truce will be observed for "humanitarian reasons," the statement said.

The Saigon announcement said the truce would be observed only on Christmas and not New Year's Day or Tet, the lunar new year period observed by the Vietnamese. It was during Tet on Jan. 31 this year that enemy forces launched a spectacular offensive.

Last week in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, a spokesman for the Viet Cong's South Vietnamese National Liberation Front said he understood the Viet Cong would call a cease-fire for Christmas, New Year's Day and Tet, which this year falls in mid-February. But he said any final announcement would have to be made by the Viet Cong command in South Vietnam.

Bank Burglarized

CELESTE, TEX. (AP) — Albert Granberry, president of the First National Bank here, said about $2,500 in coins was taken when the bank was burglarized over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Granberry said he discovered burglars had entered the building through an unbarred window in a restroom near the back of the building. He made the discovery Sunday.

Granberry said about a fourth of the bank's safe deposit boxes were forced open, in addition to the vault from which the coins were taken. The burglar's tools were found in a storeroom in the rear of the bank.

Dies On Birthday

AZLE, Tex. (AP) — Tina Lee Holmes died here Sunday on her fifth birthday after a cabinet fell on her at a neighbor's house. The little girl returned to her home after the accident and told her mother what had happened.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Edward Holmes, started to the hospital with the little girl, who complained of being sick at her stomach and fainted. She was dead on arrival at the hospital from internal injuries.

Cheer Fund

The CHRISTMAS CHEER Fund today picked up added support, with two friends of long standing sending in checks. They were $10 each from Miss Agnes Currie and her mother, Mrs. T. S. Currie. This brought the total so far to $48.

Gifts to the fund go to buy materials and parts for repairing and renovating toys given to the City Firemen. These are distributed to children who otherwise would be forgotten at Christmas.

Remaining funds are used throughout the year to help with drugs and food for needy children.

Won't you send or bring your gifts to The Herald for grateful acknowledgment?

SAIGON DELEGATION EXPECTED

Parley Arrangements Discussed

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators met privately today on arrangements for starting the expanded Vietnam peace parley.

No date was set for the opening of these new talks, but they are expected to get under way soon after the arrival late this week of a delegation from Saigon.

COMPLAINTS

At this morning's session,

U.S. and North Vietnamese delegates were also said to have traded complaints involving alleged departures from the understanding under which President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam.

Hanoi delegate Ha Van Lau was said to have protested that U.S. planes last Wednesday staged bombing attacks deep inside North Vietnamese territory.

The Americans, led by Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance, were understood to have warned against North Vietnamese attacks on U.S. reconnaissance planes which are continuing to fly over the North. The United States has been concerned also about alleged Communist abuse of the demilitarized zone between the two Vietnams.

The American and North Vietnamese representatives are reported working on arrangements for a preliminary procedural meeting attended by representatives of the four groups who will sit at the conference: The United States, North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

PROCEDURES

This session would work out the time, place and at least minimum procedures for the formal opening of the conference.

U.S. diplomats expect a double-track negotiation when the conference gets under way.

One of the tracks would deal primarily with the military situation and ways to scale down the fighting. The United States would be deeply involved in this bargaining which could produce limited agreements at an early stage.

The other track would involve political affairs in South Vietnam, would be handled mainly by the Vietnamese and would probably move at a slow pace for months.

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon announced today he is making Harvard Prof. Henry A. Kissinger his assistant for national security affairs to oversee the foreign and defense policy machinery of the White House.

REVAMP

Nixon, at a news conference, said the 45-year-old Kissinger, a native of Germany, will revamp the entire security planning machinery at the White House with an aim to preventing global crises rather than simply dealing with them as they arise.

President-elect Nixon said he was concerned that, after inauguration day, he gets a broad spectrum of news on foreign policy problems and is "not presented with a paper that represents a consensus — the least common denominator."

He said he was calling on Kissinger, a professor of government at Harvard, to bring in new men and promote new ideas so he will have the benefit of divergent views.

Asked if Kissinger might overshadow the man Nixon eventually appoints as secretary of state, the incoming chief executive said, "I intend to have a

Massacre Site Found Sunday

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — An air force pararescue team found the massacred remains of eight persons Sunday deep in the Amazon jungle where an Indian pacification team led by a priest disappeared more than a month ago.

The rescue team radioed that the bodies, all with fractured skulls, could not be immediately identified because they were in an advanced state of decomposition.

Ten persons were in the expedition led by the Rev. Joao Calleri, which set out to pacify the Atoari and Waimiri Indians.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson took off in a gray drizzle today to fly back to Washington, ending a six-day Thanksgiving holiday at his Texas ranch.

CARRIED LUCINDA
The President carried his month-old granddaughter, Lucinda, aboard the big Air Force jet, while an aide held a black umbrella over them.

His wife, Lady Bird, and the baby's nurse followed.

The big jet plane took off from Randolph Air Force Base at 9:31 a.m. local time for the 2½-hour flight to Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

Daughter Luci and grandson Lyn Nugent were remaining at their Austin, Tex., home.

Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said Lynda Johnson Robb had gone home Sunday afternoon so she could be on hand early to be hostess at the White House today for 150 Texas girls from the Washington area, invited for a 4 p.m. pre-Christmas celebration.

Aboard the President's plane for the return flight was Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

A number of congressional problems face President Johnson as he wraps up his last days in office including the next budget.

White House aides said during the long Thanksgiving weekend that Johnson was still considering calling the Senate back to vote on ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

Presumably the chief executive will have to make up his mind this week in order to get senators rounded up and back in the capital with some time for debate, before the Christmas holidays.

Due in Washington today for an expected conference sometime this week with Johnson was Ambassador Averell Harriman, chief U.S. negotiator at the Paris peace talks.

SOCIAL EVENT
One of the first things on the presidential agenda, however, was a social event. The Johnsons both have been invited to a women's National Press Club dinner tonight, honoring Mrs. Johnson.

Chicago Calls Support Police

CHICAGO (AP) — The presidential commission's staff report on the Chicago demonstrations has received praise, modified by some criticism, from both sides of the fence.

Mayor Richard J. Daley said Sunday the over-all report was excellent. "My only basic criticism is the summary, which, if used alone, would mislead the public and be a disservice to those who prepared the report," he said.

The 343-page document was submitted to the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence by a team of investigators headed by Daniel Walker, president of the Chicago Crime Commission.

Daley said he was proud of the Chicago police and pleased that the report notes that the majority of policemen did act responsibly under exceedingly provocative circumstances.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said in a statement from Washington that the events in Chicago "made a mockery of an orderly, lawful and just society. He said the report's primary usefulness would be "in suggesting guidelines in the future."

A member of the presidential commission, Albert E. Jenner of Chicago, said he took exception

Capt. Joe Marm, Medal of Honor winner, is going back to Vietnam. Marm, 27, gave up a desk job as a general's aide to head an airborne unit. He is the first of 61 Vietnam winners of the nation's highest award for bravery to return to combat.

Windy City Mayor Will Not Appear

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee looking into disorders in Chicago during the Democratic National Convention hopes hearings that resume today will lead to legislation aimed at preventing similar outbreaks.

Democrat Richard Ichord of Missouri also said that he will not tolerate circus-like antics that plagued an early subcommittee hearing and inquiries conducted by the parent House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The hearings, expected to last a week, come after the President's commission on violence released a report saying Chicago police, although under tremendous strain, were to blame for most of the convention disorders.

Ichord said Chicago Mayor Richard Daley "definitely will not appear." He said Daley's representatives "have adequately represented his views."

Ichord said his ideas for new legislation based on the hearing results would include more stringent regulations on foreign

Shame On Reluctant Father

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 60 years old and I am 40. The doctor just told me that I am going to have a baby and my husband is absolutely furious! He says a man HIS age can't father children, and he has accused me of having relations with another man. I swear to God this is not true.

Abby, will you please tell my husband that a man his age CAN father a child. He won't listen to my doctor. FRANTIC

DEAR FRANTIC: Maybe he won't listen to me either, but tell him that I said men have been known to father children at age 60, 70, and even older. And you can also tell him that most men who become fathers at age 60 are pretty proud fathers, so he ought to be ashamed of himself for his ugly accusations.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl and my problem is my mother. She's the world's biggest snob. No matter where I hide my diary, she finds it. I think I should be able to have some privacy, but I don't have any. I guess my mother doesn't trust me. It doesn't do any good to keep a diary if you can't put down the true facts, but now I'm afraid to. I don't DO anything I'm ashamed of, but I also put down some of my "thoughts" which might upset my mother.

Please put your advice in the paper. If a letter ever came to this house, my mother would "accidentally" open it.

You and your mother need to have a better understanding. Give her a chance to be a friend by telling her more. And maybe she'll snooop less.

But she has cooked my meals and washed my clothes, bore our children, fed the chickens, gathered the eggs, and she has even carried in the wood and built the fire to keep us warm. She has managed the family spending so that we won't have to beg in our old age, or be beholden to money-lenders.

WITHOUT REASON IN CHICAGO

Police Pummeled, Jailed, Attacked Members Of Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police pummeled, arrested and attacked newsmen without reason during the street violence at the Democratic convention, says a report to the President's commission on violence.

The report said 63—or one in five—newsmen were attacked and all of the ones beaten bore visible press credentials.

The report, compiled privately for the violence commission, listed 49 specific cases involving newsmen and said others are "under active consideration" by the Justice Department.

"GET THE CAMERA" — "News reports of events did seem to the police to be anti-Chicago and antipolice," the report says. "But was the response appropriate to the provocation?"

Without answering its rhetorical question, the report lists specific instances of police attacks on newsmen.

The report quoted police as singling out newsmen for assault by word as well as deed.

"Individual newsmen were warned, 'You take my picture tonight and I'm going to get you.' Cries of 'get the camera' preceded individual attacks on photographers," the report said.

Winston S. Churchill II, grandson of the former British prime minister, was covering the convention for the London Evening News. The report says police knocked him to the ground. He and a companion were pinned against a wall by a policeman rushing them on a motorcycle. Another reporter told the committee he was chased 30 feet by a motorcycle policeman roaring down the sidewalk yelling, "Wahoo Wahoo!"

The report noted, "There is no question that the protesters in Chicago, as elsewhere, played to the cameras or that they did it very effectively." Demonstrators chanted "The whole world is watching! The whole world is watching!" on the bloodiest night of violence.

"What the whole world was watching, after all," said the report, "was not a confrontation, but the picture of a confrontation, to some extent directed by a generation that had grown up with television and learned to use it."

Noting the police dissatisfaction with news coverage, the report said, "In this emotional climate, with police tempers already shortened by conflicts with demonstrators, it was perhaps inevitable that incidents of police press violence would occur."

The violence commission, appointed by President Johnson after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June, is to reopen hearings Dec. 18-20 for testimony on the relationship between the mass media and violence.

Mighty Wet In November

Sunshine returned to Howard County on Sunday but the drying out process to permit stripping of the remaining cotton to be renewed is far from complete.

Ginners said that a week or perhaps more might have to elapse, even if there is no more moisture, before the strippers can go back in the fields.

Most of the gins were idle. Some have not turned a wheel in several days. A few have been laboriously ginning cotton which they had on their gin lots.

November wound up with an official 3.94 inch moisture report as gauged at the U.S. Experiment Station. The first 11 months of 1968 have had 22.34 inches of rain — 4.76 inches more than the average for the first 11 months of the past 67 years.

High temperature on Sunday was 60 and the low on Monday morning was 38. It was the first night in four that the temperature did not drop to freezing or below.

♠J10743 ♣3 ♦A764 ♣KQ2

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now? A.—Four spades. You should be unwilling to play for less than game. A three spade bid would be inadequate, since that is not forcing once you have passed. Partner might say, "We could not possibly have a game, partner, in view of your previous pass," and would be at liberty to drop the bidding at the part score."

Q. 2—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now? A.—This is a very strong holding, and it might well produce a slam, if partner has the ideal hand. In order to learn more about it you should make a ten-pointing bid of three clubs for, when a major suit has been supported, the mention of some other suit must be treated as a one-round force.

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass

What do you bid now? A.—While you may have had high aspirations when your partner opened the bidding, his subsequent calls have been anything but encouraging, and you must be content with a game contract. Bid three no trump.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with one diamond, you hold:

♠74 ♣J1085 ♣Q1085 ♠K94

What is your response? A.—There is only one bid that gives an accurate description of your holding and that is a raise to two diamonds. A response of one heart is completely pointless. If this hand belongs in hearts, partner will be able to bid two hearts over your bid of two diamonds should be happy to have a four-card suit and sufficient high card values to warrant making the bid.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠Q104 ♣85 ♦863 ♠AK632

The bidding has proceeded: North East South 1 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take? A.—Two spades. Your hand contains 10 points in support of a single raise. If you bid two clubs and partner rebids two spades, you may feel constrained to raise to three, which produces an overbidding your values by a considerable margin. With this type of hand it is better to get off the spot immediately and describe your hand in one bid.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K104 ♣AQ72 ♣Q5 ♠AJ76

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—This is a very strong holding, and it might well produce a slam, if partner has the ideal hand. In order to learn more about it you should make a ten-pointing bid of three clubs for, when a major suit has been supported, the mention of some other suit must be treated as a one-round force.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AK106 ♣AJ7 ♠A10532

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—A jump shift to three diamonds is our choice. If the bidding develops favorably we may even reach a grand slam. If you are playing with a partner who is not well adapted to scientific bidding, we would find acceptable a direct jump to six clubs.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠876 ♣Q72 ♠AKQ ♠Q42

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now? A.—The answer is arrived at on a basis of simple arithmetic. Partner has a maximum of 20 points. You have 11. The partnership, therefore, cannot have more than 31 points in high cards, and with this balanced hand a slam is known to be out of reach. The proper bid, therefore, is three no trump.

Hefley Sanity Case Called 4-H Award Goes To Rep. Purcell

FORT WORTH (AP) — A sanity hearing was scheduled today for Charles Roy Hefley whom a jury found insane three years ago after he allegedly raped and stabbed a young mother and drowned her two small children.

Psychiatrists from Rusk State Hospital were expected to testify that Hefley is sane now and has been sane since he entered Rusk in May, 1965.

Hefley was charged in connection with a September, 1964, incident in which Mrs. Carolyn Adams, 20, of Fort Worth was stabbed and raped and her two children thrown into the Trinity river.

The Texas Supreme Court in November of this year overruled a plea from Fort Worth Dist. Atty. Frank Coffey for a writ commanding Judge Byron Matthews of Tarrant County Criminal District Court No. 1 to vacate the insanity judgment.

Coffey said the court erred at Hefley's 1965 trial in not informing the jury that if it found Hefley insane he could not be tried on any further issue.

State law prohibits trying a man for a crime once a jury finds him insane at the time of his trial.

Congressman Graham Purcell, formerly of Big Spring, is one of eight nationally prominent 4-H alumni honored at the 47th National 4-H Congress now underway in Chicago.

Rep. Purcell will receive the Alumni Key award presented by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. at special ceremonies Wednesday.

He was elected to the 87th Congress from the 13th congressional district in January, 1962. Prior to the election he was district judge in Wichita Falls for seven years, during which time he was twice honored as "Outstanding Citizen of Wichita Falls." He is a former practicing attorney in Big Spring and Wichita Falls.

As a member of the House of Representatives, he has served on the agriculture committee and is chairman of the livestock and grains subcommittee. Rep. Purcell was one of 15 members of the National Commission on Food Marketing to make an intensive two-year study of the food industry from the producer to the consumer. He attended the United Nations foreign agriculture conference in Rome, and while in Europe, studied the agriculture of several Iron Curtain countries at the request of the House agriculture committee.

Much of his time is devoted to legislation aimed at feeding the starving peoples of the world. Rep. Purcell is the sponsor of legislation to make farm life more profitable, so that young people will remain in the agricultural segment of our society.

While a 4-H member, the congressman was selected as the first Gold Star Boy in Archer County. During his 4-H career he showed the reserve champion steer in the District 4-H and FFA Steer Show in Wichita Falls.

As an ardent supporter of 4-H, he makes numerous talks to club award groups throughout the year. The door to his office is always open to visiting Texas 4-H'ers, Boy Scouts and high school students traveling to Washington.

Rep. Purcell received his B.S. degree in animal husbandry at Texas A&M University. His education was interrupted by service as an Army combat officer during World War II. He completed his education following the war, receiving his LL.B. degree at Baylor University.

Rep. and Mrs. Purcell reside at 9026 Old Mount Road, Alexandria, Va. They have four children, Blaine, 19, a sophomore in veterinary medicine at Texas A&M; Kirk, 17, a high school senior; Jannie, 14, a high school freshman and Blake, 9, a fourth grader.

Three In Pecos Face Theft Raps

A detail from the Big Spring police department left here this morning to pick up three men in Pecos who were charged this morning with the theft of an automobile here Saturday.

Terry Duane Renell, Joseph Glenn Teel and Walter Francis Gaultland were named in the charges filed in Jess Slaughter's justice of the peace court. Slaughter indicated he would set bond for the accused trio after they are returned to Big Spring.

The car which the three are alleged to have taken belonged to R. E. Dennis, 500 Douglas. Dennis reported to police Saturday his 1960 Buick had been taken from his driveway and a 1966 Pontiac left in its place.

County Barn Bids Rejected

Three bids were submitted to the Howard County Commissioners Court to remodel the County Fair Barn, and all were rejected.

The project calls for placing a roof over the two present fair barns to make one structure from both.

Bids were submitted from Jack Cathey Construction Co., $16,220, or $15,983; AAA Structures, Inc., $11,626; and Quality Steel Building, $14,779.

The court had originally budgeted $14,800 for the project, and $5,100 has been spent already for improvements at the barns, leaving a remainder of $9,700.

Commissioner Bill Tune made a motion to reject all bids and call for others at a later date. In the meantime, the court will try to decide if other specifications can be made for the project.

Annual Campus Revue Shaping

The format for the second annual Campus Revue is beginning to take shape, according to representatives from the sponsoring Big Spring High School band.

The Feb. 7-8-9 production basically will follow a Walt Disney theme, and there will be several surprise production numbers.

Campus Revue is staged annually by the Big Spring High School band, and last year's introduction was declared an outstanding success.

REP. GRAHAM PURCELL

school students travelling to Washington.

Rep. Purcell received his B.S. degree in animal husbandry at Texas A&M University. His education was interrupted by service as an Army combat officer during World War II. He completed his education following the war, receiving his LL.B. degree at Baylor University.

Rep. and Mrs. Purcell reside at 9026 Old Mount Road, Alexandria, Va. They have four children, Blaine, 19, a sophomore in veterinary medicine at Texas A&M; Kirk, 17, a high school senior; Jannie, 14, a high school freshman and Blake, 9, a fourth grader.

Among The Latest Deaths Reported On Texas Roads

By The Associated Press
Rain, snow and generally bad weather contributed to a total of 61 persons killed on Texas highways and roads during the long Thanksgiving weekend.

In addition to the traffic fatalities, other forms of violence brought the total number of persons who died in the state during the four-day period to 84. The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and continued until midnight Sunday.

ODESSA WOMAN

Among the latest deaths reported were:
Mrs. Deborah Jean Wise of Odessa died two days after she and her husband were found unconscious in their apartment. He remains in an Odessa hospital. Both were victims of carbon monoxide.

Three persons were killed in a two-car smashup Saturday on rain-slick Texas 36 south of Sealy. They were identified as Spec. 4 Jesse L. Davis, 27, of Wharton, stationed at Ft. Sam Houston in San Antonio; SP Preiser of Sealy and an unidentified woman traveling with Davis.

William J. McElwee, 56, was found shot to death Sunday in the back of his panel delivery truck. He was a San Antonio newspaper distributor. Police said his wallet was missing. Folley Hendrickson, 36, of Duncanville, was killed Sunday in Dallas in a car-motorcycle collision.

STABBING

Ernest Herman Miller, 25, of Houston was dead on arrival at a Houston hospital late Saturday, apparently the victim of a stabbing at a tavern on the city's northeast side.

Pickup Order For Two Men

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Police have issued an order to pick up two white men for questioning in connection with an explosion that injured four persons at the storefront headquarters of the Black Panther party.

Anthony Kaiser, a spokesman for the militant Negro group, said the explosion early Sunday was in retaliation for an attack allegedly by Black Panthers on a Jersey City police station Friday night. Twenty shots were fired from a speeding car but no one was injured.

Newark Police Lt. Joseph Kinney said, however, it was "purely speculation" to link the two incidents. He said police had not determined whether the Newark explosion which shattered a front window and started a small fire, was a "bona fide bombing attack" and fire authorities said it may have been caused by a Black Panther "acid bomb."

Police issued the pickup order for the two white men after taking a sworn statement from Willie McIntire, 20, a Black Panther who provided their description.

McIntire told police the explosion was caused by two white men wearing "police type" hats, leather jackets and dark trousers with gold stripes.

Patrol Planning Steam Engine Test

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The California Highway Patrol says a steam engine will be tested in a patrol car early next year.

Costulo Garcia, 46, of Robstown died in a Corpus Christi hospital of injuries he received in a one-car accident Friday on the access road to an expressway in the coastal city.

A Sunday morning car-truck collision near Kingsville killed Airman Richard Gonzalez, 19, of Raton, N. M., and Kathleen Rice Ekstrom of Kingsville.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 47, of Ingleside, near Corpus Christi, was shot to death late Saturday night with a shotgun.

Two Wichita Falls women, Mrs. Evelyn Doris Stenvenson, 29, and her sister, Laura Jeanette Dixon, 21, were killed in the head-on crash of two automobiles Saturday near Mankins on Texas 25.

An Odessa couple, Franklin Resse Slusher, 66, and his wife, 64, were killed Saturday when their car and a truck collided about a mile north of Odessa. Jamie Mike Ara, 55, of Goliad was killed Saturday when he was thrown from his truck when it was involved in a car-truck collision on a Victoria street.

Charles Wesley Owens, 67, retired farmer living near New Boston, was killed Saturday when his pickup truck collided with an auto on Farm Road 992. Dewey R. Wilkerson, 63, of Texarkana, burned to death Saturday when flames badly damaged the home where he lived alone.

Artist, 64, Dies

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Artist Douglass Crockwell, known for his series "Home Life in America" and his work in the Saturday Evening Post, died in Glens Falls over the weekend after a brief illness. He was 64.

TO GO BACK TO COLLEGE

Miss Texas Gives Up Her 1968 Crown

FORT WORTH (AP) — Diane Huggins, 1968 Miss Texas, has given up her crown to go back to school full time, pageant officials said Sunday.

Glenda Kay Propes of Henderson, first runner-up in the July pageant, will take over the duties of Miss Texas and pass on the crown at the 1969 pageant.

Miss Huggins, of Tyler, said in a letter to B. Don Magness, executive director of the pageant, that she wanted to complete her college education as soon as possible and begin teaching school.

"I can only effectively take six hours and still fulfill my duties as Miss Texas," she wrote. "Therefore, it is with a great deal of regret that I must give up my title of Miss Texas effective Dec. 1, in order that I might return to the full time task of completing my college education as rapidly as possible."

Some persons close to Miss

Huggins said she was disenchanted with her Miss Texas role. Magness said Sunday, "Well, if she was disenchanted I wasn't aware of it. She did a very good job."

He said in the last two months she made $2,200 in personal appearance fees.

"It would be hard to be disenchanted with that type of income," Magness said.

The brown-eyed Miss Propes, now a student at Kilgore Junior College, said she will use the $1,100 scholarship left unused by Miss Huggins to enroll next semester at North Texas State University in Denton where she will study drama.

She said she plans to take a full load of 15 hours and that she didn't believe her duties as Miss Texas will interfere.

Magness said he had received the letter of resignation from Miss Huggins Tuesday, but withheld it until Sunday so Miss Huggins could complete a 10-day appearance at the Tarrant County Convention Center.

Water Floods Sea Capsule

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sea water flooded into the Sea Lab 3 elevator Sunday, damaging the container designed to take aquanauts to a large capsule 600 feet below the ocean's surface to conduct the Navy's third undersea living experiment.

The unmanned container was flooded through an unsealed hatch as it was lowered in an attempt to straighten its connecting cable, Cmdr. J.M. Tomsky said. The repairs to electrical and communications equipment may require three weeks, he said.

The Navy has not announced a starting date for the undersea work. Tomsky said the capsule is pressurized with an oxygen-helium breathing gas mixture when it is used to transport aquanauts. The capsule was not pressurized when it flooded.

Claim New Pets

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Officials of the Atlanta Humane Society decided last week that about 100 animals at the society's animal shelter would have to be "put to sleep" to alleviate the shelter's overcrowded conditions.

The Atlanta Constitution published a story about the decision. As a result, many people showed up at the shelter Sunday and claimed new pets.

Americans Endangering Their Health

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — All too many Americans are endangering their health through dissipation while laboring under the illusion that miracles of medicine alone will keep them well, some leaders of organized medicine report.

The Board of Trustees of the American Medical Association, in a special report to the AMA's 22nd clinical convention Sunday, said:

"Our affluence has reduced physical exertion and increased overeating, excess drinking, smoking, late hours and drug consumption.

ADVICE IGNORED
"Advice of the physician is too often ignored and slighted. The sense of well being resulting from our progress leads many people to assume that illness cannot strike them, or that cures are to be taken for granted."

The board made the comments in urging the nation's doctors to "educate the American people to the growing role of the individual in the delivery of health care."

The report added: "While much progress has been made in overcoming many historic plagues of mankind, we find more and more illness due, at least in part, to abuse and neglect by the individual himself."

In a kindred vein, Dr. Dwight L. Wilbur of San Francisco, president of the AMA, declared in his presidential address to the policy-making house of Delegates that millions of Americans falsely "assume there are easy ways to stay well and youthful looking."

"The human being," he said, "remains the complex, finely tuned, vulnerable body each of us inherits; but millions resist the arduous and disciplinary requirements of really caring for it."

DIET FAD
"Instead, they turn, among other things, to diet fads, patent medicines, a countless variety of pills, tobacco and alcohol, often instant and inadequate exercise and quacks."

On another subject, Wilbur urged physicians to maintain "effective self-discipline" as regards fees charged to patients, as one way to help cope with the "rising cost of health care."

He also recommended that doctors "avoid hospitalizing any patient unless it is absolutely necessary" and "reduce the length of stays in hospitals to the essential minimum."

He said one of the major causes for raising health care costs "is the inflation that grips all aspects of our economy."

Among some 50 resolutions presented to the House of Delegates for possible action during the next three days was one from the Michigan delegation urging that the AMA "condemn all cigarette advertising on television."

Counting A Million

Sgt. Chuck Fulton (left) of the Hollywood, Fla., police count money that was found in the closet of Mrs. Mary MacMahon who neighbors found dead in her home. Helping Sgt. Fulton count the money, which they say is well over a million dollars, is Officer Tom McGuire and Officer A. Hampton.

Widow's Estate Worth Million

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Mary MacMahon had neither television nor air conditioner, but she has an estate worth more than a million dollars and police are still counting her money, jewels, stocks and bonds.

"It has got to be worth more than a million dollars, easy," said Sgt. Charles Fulton, "maybe a million and a half." Mrs. MacMahon, 67-year-old widow of Thomas F. MacMahon, a New York attorney and investor, died sometime last weekend. The body was discovered Saturday when a maid came to clean Mrs. MacMahon's modest bungalow on Harrison Street.

Inside the bungalow, police found $242,283.87 in cash and stock certificates and dividend checks from numerous corporations including U.S. Steel, Woolworth, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Texaco and RCA.

Police received hundreds of calls from all over the country Sunday from persons claiming to be relatives of Mrs. MacMahon. The calls were referred to her attorney, Linwood Jabot.

Mrs. Melvin G. Faris, of suburban Miami, Mrs. MacMahon's niece, said the news that her aunt kept that much money on hand was a shock.

How the money will be divided among the potential heirs, including Mrs. Faris and Mrs. MacMahon's two sisters, remains to be determined. No will has been found.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Israeli pumdered Jordan with air strikes, commando raids and artillery barrages Sunday and early today, a Jordanian military spokesman said.

Admitting only a raid by land forces and an artillery exchange, an Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv said commandos cut a highway and railroad between Jordan's capital and its only port Sunday by blowing up two bridges 40 miles inside the Arab country.

JETS BOMB
The Jordanian spokesman said Israeli jets bombed a convoy of trucks on a desert highway Sunday, destroying six. During the night, he continued, jets returned to bomb the village of Kfar Yuba in northern Jordan, killing two soldiers and wounding a third.

The spokesman said helicopters brought the Israeli commandos who blew up 100-foot road and rail bridges on the highway between Amman and the port of Aqaba.

He said two civilians were killed and four were injured, and the helicopters took the commandos out before Jordanian troops arrived.

RETALIATION
The Israeli spokesman said the raid was in retaliation for at least 50 Arab sabotage attacks from Jordan since Nov. 16, when King Hussein and the sabotage groups were reported to have reached an agreement restraining the saboteurs.

The attack on the bridges was the second Israeli commando raid in a month. On Oct. 31 a task force blew up two bridges and a power station on Egypt's Nile River after an Egyptian artillery attack across the Suez Canal in which 15 Israelis were killed.

The Jordanian spokesman also charged that Israeli gunners precipitated a three-hour artillery duel Sunday by shelling the town of Irbid from the occupied Golan Heights in Syria. He said two children and an adult civilian were wounded.

The Israelis said the Jordanians started it by shelling a number of farm settlements in the Beisan Valley, causing slight damage and injuring one person.

CONDEMNNS APARTHEID

UN To Slap Binding Sanction On Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A resolution is near passage in the U.N. General Assembly calling on the Security Council to slap full and binding sanction on South Africa because of its apartheid policy of racial segregation. Nothing is likely to come of it.

The assembly is expected to adopt the resolution at today's session.

The council normally ignores such requests from the assembly and takes them up only when they are made by a country or countries. But the black African countries that are most interested in action against South Africa seem unlikely to go to the council because they know the United States, Britain and France would not allow it to go beyond the arms embargo it laid on South Africa in 1963.

Those three veto-holding members of the 15-nation council all abstained from voting in the assembly's special political committee on Nov. 15 when it recommended approval of the anti-apartheid resolution.

The committee's vote was 95-1 in favor of the resolution, with Portugal voting no and 15 countries abstaining. It voted 80-9, with 21 abstentions, to kill a U.S. amendment that would have eliminated the request to the council.

The resolution condemns apartheid, directs Secretary-General U Thant to establish a public register of persons executed, imprisoned or deported for opposing apartheid, and asks all countries to suspend cultural and sports relations with South Africa and to discourage immigration to it.

Denison Student Wants To Help

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — The Denison Chamber of Commerce has enrolled the youngest member of its history.

There is the further angle that 19-year-old Albert Lee Cox, a high school student, was too young to join the Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees). This organization has a 21-year minimum age rule while the senior group has no age restriction.

"I believe teenagers should take an interest in community affairs to be in a better position to carry on after they become adults," Cox said. "I want to help instead of protest," he added.

Cox is a member of the school Distributive Education Club and works part-time in a grocery.

Will Celebrate In Steel Mill

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will celebrate Christmas Eve Mass at midnight at a steel mill in Taranto, an economically depressed region of southern Italy.

"With my presence I want to convey to the metal workers the brotherly presence of Christ," the pontiff told an audience Sunday in St. Peter's Square.

The pontiff urged Roman Catholics to observe Christmas "not as a day of worldly wastefulness and selfish joy but as an event of common goodness and serene hope."

Planes Plaster Cong Corridors

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes and artillery attacked a North Vietnamese position in the demilitarized zone Sunday after two U.S. reconnaissance planes were fired on, the U.S. command said today.

It was the first incident of enemy activity reported since last Tuesday in the six-mile-wide zone that separates North and South Vietnam.

SMOKE SCREEN
The U.S. attacks in the zone destroyed four bunkers and 100 yards of trenches and set off secondary explosions, indicating ammunition stores were hit, a U.S. spokesman said. The American planes were not hit.

In the American view, North Vietnam tacitly acknowledged an understanding to keep the DMZ free of military activity and refrain from indiscriminate attacks on major South Vietnamese cities in return for the bombing halt ordered Nov. 1.

North Vietnam has claimed that the bombing halt was unconditional and that charges it is violating the DMZ are a "smoke screen to camouflage the intensification of the American aggressive war in South Vietnam and illegal American reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam."

U.S. headquarters also reported that 717 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were killed in heavy fighting on three sides of Saigon in the past week. U.S. casualties were put at 37 dead and 142 wounded, while South Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

Plan More Disruptions At Frisco State College

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Student demonstrators say they plan more disruptions at the reopening today of San Francisco State College. Authorities promised swift reaction.

The new president, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, said he would keep the school open. He said this was the wish of the "vast majority" of the 18,000 students and 1,100 faculty members who want to get on with education.

But Russell Bass, 22, the student body president, declared that "On the basis of what I have heard, the campus is not ready to reopen." Bass said demands made at the start of a student strike had not been acted upon and urged students "to attend only classes held off campus and to support faculty members who refuse to suppress the issues . . . by refusing to resume regular class instruction."

The Black Students Union, joined by the Third World Liberation Front, called a strike Nov. 6, demanding the reinstatement of a militant Negro instructor, more courses on Negro subjects and the admission of all Negro student applicants, regardless of qualifications. After class boycotts by students and teachers and some disorders the school was closed Nov. 22.

The Third World Liberation Front represents noncaucasians other than Negroes.

EMERGENCY
On Saturday Hayakawa declared a state of emergency, under which police will be nearby if needed, and students and faculty members disrupting classes can be dealt with quickly.

He promised due process in all cases, but speedy expulsion of students found guilty, and temporary but prompt suspension of any teachers refusing to teach.

Five days of missed classes means automatic resignation by a teacher, said Hayakawa, and the resignation will be promptly accepted.

The campus has been in turmoil since Nov. 1 when Dr. Glenn Dumke, chancellor of the 19-campus state college system, ordered suspension of George Mason Murray, a part-time San Francisco State instructor and graduate student who is a Black Panther leader.

SUSPENSION
Murray's 30-day suspension ended at midnight Saturday.

Hayakawa said Sunday night he had decided what to do about Murray, but had not announced it.

Hayakawa, a 62-year-old semantist, said in interviews that much of the troubles on the campus stem from the "hunger for humiliation" which he said some white liberals experience because of guilt feelings over American treatment of Negroes. He said such whites "will take as revealed truth anything an angry black man says."

"They are capable of getting their whole idea of how American Negroes think and feel from listening to a few extremists and black neurotics with an identity problem, and imagining that they are beginning to understand the Negro," he said.

"They have not had the experience that I have had," said Hayakawa.

He then told how he, a native of Vancouver, B.C., of Japanese ancestry, worked five years on the Chicago Defender, a Negro newspaper, and lived and talked with Negroes on Chicago's South Side.

POWERFUL
"I travelled with them in the South, as nonwhites, wondering where the hell we were going to find a place to eat and sleep."

"The Negro community is a far bigger thing, a far more powerful, wonderful thing than we can ever guess from watching the black militants alone," he said. "The militants are an important part of the black community, but they're not the whole black community."

Hayakawa then said he had drawn up a plan in October before the present trouble began to expand the school's activities through its extension service into Negro and other minority communities in San Francisco.

Hayakawa said he advocates—in addition to expanded black and other minority study programs which the students demand—that more police study sociology and other subjects, in addition to criminology on the campus.

Today's Teens Face Pressures

BURKBURNETT, Tex. (AP) — Parents should teach teenagers to accept responsibility for their actions and how to cope with personal, social and educational pressures, a school counselor here says.

Mrs. Linda Froman, counselor at Burkburnett Junior High School, says rapid transportation, greater affluence and mass media "have conspired to place heavy pressures and anxieties on young people at an increasingly earlier age."

Speaking to the Current Literature Club, she said today's teenagers are no different from those of past generations but society itself has changed.

'Night Sun' Not You-Know-What

FORT WORTH (AP) — "I want to report a bright light in the sky. It's not a plane or a star; it could be a you-know-what?"

This was typical, police said, of a flurry of telephone calls they received one night recently from residents who sighted an object over the eastern part of the city.

But it was not an unidentified flying object (UFO). A helicopter company was giving a demonstration of a high-intensity lighting system on a helicopter. The light, called a "night sun," is used by the military to illuminate battlefields from the air.

A Devotional For The Day

The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; he knows those who take refuge in him. (Nahum 1:7, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, help us to be aware of the seriousness of sin. May we as individuals and as nations defy not Thy commandments. Give us grace to recognize our own sinfulness. Give us the desire to seek Thy forgiveness. Through Jesus Christ. Amen.

Avenues For Reorganization

Republican Sen. James B. Pearson of Kansas and Rep. William V. Roth of Delaware are urging President-elect Richard Nixon to back another "Hoover commission" on executive-branch reorganization. Nixon indicated favor in his campaign (as President Eisenhower did late in his second term), and it is probably time to give what Pearson calls the "bureaucratic thicket" another sweeping clearing.

Former President Herbert Hoover headed two Commissions on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1947-49 and 1953-55. Together they made 587 reorganizational recommendations, with 396 adopted in whole or part by legislation or executive order. Major achievements were merging the Army, Navy and Air Force into the Department of Defense, internal remodeling of the State Department, creation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and reformed federal budgeting.

Most important was congressional passage of the Reorganization Act of 1949. This allowed the president to submit reorganizational plans to Congress which would become law in 60 days unless disapproved by one or the other of the two chambers. Congress has allowed most of the presidential plans to take effect. The Reorganization Act was allowed to lapse twice, 1959-61 and 1963-64, but it is now in effect and the main instrument for keeping the federal executive branch up to date.

Mr. Nixon thus has a choice if bent on reform. He can make vigorous use of the Reorganization Act from recommendations of his own staff. Or he can encourage Congress to set up another Hoover-type commission for a comprehensive review with recommendations to be carried out either by legislation or presidential reorganization plans.

Unlikely For Example

The Democratic Study Group (DSG), made up of liberals in the U.S. House of Representatives, has a problem. Members would like very much to discipline Rep. John R. Barick of Louisiana for supporting George C. Wallace for president, but they are reluctant to make a martyr of him.

Still fresh in memory is the example of Rep. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, a veteran of 10 terms in the House, who was stripped of his seniority for supporting Barry Goldwater in 1964. He was the second-ranking member of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. He was dropped to 22nd place, at the bottom of the list. But he became a martyr and got elected governor of Mississippi which he helped carry for Wallace in the Nov. 5 general election.

The trouble with Barick, too, is that he doesn't have much seniority to take away. He was first elected in November, 1966, and he is 20th in seniority among the 21 members of the Agriculture Committee. He was wounded in World War II and is a member of the Disabled American Veterans, which doesn't help.

Under the circumstances, the DSG probably will decide, with good reason, that no profit is to be derived from disciplining Barick.

Holmes Alexander Nixon Can Speed The Express

WASHINGTON — Actually, Richard Nixon was jumping aboard a moving train when he promised a private enterprise solution to the urban problem. Local businesses have had this one on the rails for many years. What Nixon's got to do is to speed it up into a fast express.

AT A LUNCHEON here the other day the U.S. Chamber of Commerce honored 12 cities where big and small companies had pulled off do-it-yourself coups. All of the case histories were meritorious, but they were remarkably diverse. My guess is that Mr. Nixon will understand this better than the federalized social planners who have come before him. This is not the kind of fast express that can be run from a central control tower.

For instance, we have heard much about the need for national crack-down laws on air pollution. But Montgomery County (Dayton) Ohio, started as long ago as 1950 to do what any municipality can do if its people decide not to live in a smog. Big firms like Chrysler Corp., General Motors and Standard Register supplied some technological advice, and eventually there was a bond issue that built two incinerator plants at $3.5 million. It's doubtful that any amount of haranguing by the U.S. Interior Department could have cleared the skies.

IN 1962, before law-and-order

Billy Graham

I try to read the Bible but I don't understand it. Can you help me?
P.C.
How long have you been trying to read the Bible? Do you read it every day? Often a person who says he doesn't understand the Bible is using this as an excuse for his laziness, or for surrendering his life to material things.

Are you truly hungry for spiritual food? Then you will read with eagerness. You will expect a feast. This is important. Begin with the Gospels, and the Psalms. Even a child can digest parts of these books.

The Holy Bible is a library of 66 books. Law and prophecy, history and biography, wisdom and letters are found in its volumes. Yet it has one theme, man's search for God, and God's revelation of His nature and will. If you read the Bible faithfully every day you will learn how God has spoken through the ages, and you will often hear Him speaking to you. A good Bible Commentary will give you knowledge of the background of each book. This will be helpful in studying the Bible, but do not let it become a substitute for reading God's Holy Word. The Psalmist said: "Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." (Psalm 119:105). You will find this to be true if as you read you meditate upon many of the passages, and pray that God will tell you not only what they meant to other men, but what is their message for you now.

became a risky political term, 27 firms in Indianapolis underwrote a budget to study crime-in-the-streets which didn't become a catchphrase until after 1964. Instead of bringing in an ex-FBI agent or ex-police chief to head the inquiry, the citizens' committee hired a newspaperman who knew what went on in town. It won't do to say crime has been abolished in Indianapolis, but its growth has been retarded, and its changing nature is under continuing study.

The Philadelphia Gas Works, a city-owned utility, followed the laws of necessity, which long antedated civil rights legislation, in making a policy of non-discriminatory hiring. It was hard to get workers during World War II, and not many repairmen cared to go at night into the North Philadelphia "jungle" where many low-income customers lived. Negroes were hired and trained for 112 job classifications, so that today about one-fourth of the employees are non-white.

A MUCH smaller company in a non-ghetto area of Greater Boston went in for "open hiring" back in 1957 as a matter of social responsibility, rather than hard necessity. K.L.H. of Cambridge (Mass.) actually sought out persons from minority groups and from dubious behavior backgrounds as workers for its electronic-sounds business. The idea of implanting company-loyalty in new trainees had something to do with it. By 1968 the non-Caucasians were 35 per cent of the pay-roster. Many were women taken off the welfare (Aid to Dependent Children) rolls.

THERE IS no conformity whatever in the community tactics of these Good Guy firms. Federal legislation couldn't be written out of these, and the many other examples of how free enterprise feels its way along. During the campaign Hubert Humphrey promised a grandiose "Marshall Plan" for the cities, whereas Richard Nixon often sounded very fuzzy about his urban uplift. But what Nixon did say is, "I intend to set up a national clearing-house for information on voluntary activities . . . a comprehensive, computerized data bank . . . But (the government) should lead, not push; it should encourage, not coerce . . . The whole strength of this voluntary sector lies precisely in its voluntary nature. To trifle or tamper with this voluntary nature is to risk destroying it."

The secretary who addressed the letter obviously didn't quite understand the address, for the letter was addressed to: Mr. P. O. Drawer.

AND THE REDS CALL THEM OUR PUPPETS!

John Cunniff Merchants Aren't Relaxing

NEW YORK (AP) — While almost everyone was all wrapped up in the elections, the pre-Christmas selling season slipped into town as quietly and unnoticed as Santa Claus bringing his sleigh to rest on a snowy rooftop.

In some areas the black and orange colors and rustic mood of Halloween weren't even dispelled when the red and green trimmings of Christmas went up. Election loudspeakers sometimes vied with carols.

THE WEATHER in parts of the country helped set the mood. Three snowfalls in a bit more than a week buried the fall in some Northeastern communities. And heavy snows along the Canadian border came on time.

But in most ways the early onset of the Christmas season was predetermined by merchants hoping to have a big year and feeling they must catch the consumer while he was in a spending mood.

There's a lot of anxiety about this season, even though the popular forecasts call for a 7 per cent sales increase over a year ago. Merchants aren't relaxing.

FIRST, THERE are four fewer shopping days this year between Thanksgiving and Christmas. If buyers aren't motivated to buy early, this shorter season could be reflected in disappointing receipts.

Secondly, there's the usual question this year about the consumer. If he's in a poor mood, as many merchants have learned he has been for the past two Christmas seasons, receipts could fall below estimates.

To compensate, some merchants already are more than three weeks into their own particular selling season. And it's a good bet, based on talks with retailers, that night and Sunday openings will be more common this year.

THE PROBLEM of consumer behavior is less likely to be solved through any effort of the merchants. It depends instead on how people view the surtax on their incomes, how they feel about the Vietnam war, how worried they are about inflation and so on.

For several months the consumer has maintained his high rate of spending by dipping into his savings. Before the surtax, for instance, he was saving 7.5 per cent of his takehome pay. The rate is now down nearly to 6 per cent and, if past figures are a gauge, won't go much lower.

There is also the question now about how long the consumer will be willing to dip into savings before calling a halt. Sooner or later he is bound to be disturbed by his receding reserves.

Meanwhile, so long as he dips into savings the consumer is well supplied with buying power, and he has access to what must be considered an amazing and freely offered supply of credit. The wherewithal is there; whether it is used is quite another matter.

Some 25 million Americans snore regularly. That means one out of eight of us is giving insomnia to the others.

Teenagers are among the more affluent members of our affluent society. A recent study found that 50 per cent of them had more than $10 a week to spend.

ON THE other hand, the more prosperous we get the more money we owe to ourselves. Our federal debt is now in the $362.5 billion area, on which the interest payment alone amounts to $253 per household. That's up by $106 since 1957.

IT PAYS off statistically for a woman to watch her health. Research figures indicate that if a woman ceases to smoke excessively her risk of lung cancer is reduced by 50 per cent. And if she takes a "Pap" test regularly, her risk from cervical cancer is cut from 181 out of 100,000 down to 11.

To Your Good Health Better Ways To Lose Weight

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was told by a doctor that intestinal bypass surgery was possible for weight loss. I need desperately to lose 200 pounds. For 10 years I've been on all kinds of diets and to hundreds of doctors, also hypnotists and quacks. Life isn't worth living in my present state. Tell me about this operation and where I can find a doctor close by to perform it.

—C.A.W.

Such surgery is possible, but you've got to understand its values and its weaknesses before there is any point in considering it.

It involves "short-circuiting" a large part of the digestive tract. Food passes through without much of the nutrition being absorbed.

Large amounts of weight have been lost by such patients — they eat and lose weight. But it is a complicated process, and since the patient does not absorb various necessary minerals, close watch has to be kept to replace these necessities artificially.

In a word, the patient has to be in a hospital where constant laboratory tests can be carried on. Liver and other organs must be studied to see that they do not suffer. And in time another operation must be performed to restore the digestive tract to its original condition.

The great disappointment in this procedure is that too many patients don't learn anything from the whole expensive undertaking. They continue to eat the same way they always did — and they get fat again.

The type of patient who can be genuinely helped is the one who recognizes the underlying implications: that the short-circuiting proves that he can lose weight if he will reduce the amount he eats. Whether you don't eat the food in the first place or achieve the same result by not digesting it doesn't matter.

Some doctors — include me among them — believe that this procedure seldom does any lasting good unless the patient has psychiatric help in discovering why he has been eating more than he needs. Compulsive eating, like any other neurosis, usually can be helped only when the patient gains some understanding of why he does it.

If you have, as you say, been to "hundreds" of doctors, you must not have stayed with any one of them long enough to get to the root of your problem. You should consider that.

With 200 pounds to lose, you need expert help. Discuss this bypass surgery with your doctor if you wish — but if he can convince you that it is possible for you to lose weight anyway, you won't need this complicated treatment. And if you can't be convinced, the operation won't anyway.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter, 16, still chews bubble gum and it shames me. I have been after her to give up gum and take up cigarettes, but she says no. How can I convince her that gum is bad for her? — Mrs. E.M.

Girls her own age (or maybe a boy!) will laugh her out of the bubble gum soon enough. She's a smart girl to refuse your urging to start cigarettes. Where, for pity's sake, have you been in recent years, not to know the dangers of cigarette smoking?

Note to R.A.B.: No, that old saw that "masturbation will cause acne" has no scientific basis whatever.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write in care of the Big Spring Herald for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

QUICK NOW, you students of theology, what are the books often called the "seven Bibles of the world?" In addition to the Holy Scriptures of the Christians and the Jews, the list would include the Koran of the Mohammedans, the Tripitaka of the Buddhists, the Five Kings of the Chinese, the Three Vedas of the Hindus, the Zendvesta of the Zoroastrians and the Eddas of the Scandinavians.

THERE WAS a time in the Old West, when the biggest show going was a public hanging and, often as not, the remains of the executed (if they boasted any sort of a reputation as a "badman" at all) often drew armies of the curious.

Back before the turn of the century, five bandits were treated to a necktie party in Tombstone, Ariz., and grandstand seats for the event sold for $2.50 each.

AS RECENTLY as the 1920's, carnival shows would display what their pitchmen insisted were bodies of outlaws of the frontier days, their bodies riddled by bullets or showing evidence of rope burns.

Quite likely, the remains were put together in some laboratory.

Ghost Of Gramp

It Is Not Tall Texas Tale

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Big Thicket of Texas is a beautiful place — by daylight. What happens sometimes at night turns the most sophisticated into primitive men with their fears and superstitions. At last a trained observer stamps the ghosts back into the earth again.)

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — You have just laid gramp to rest six feet down. The shovel tamps the last bit of Big Thicket earth in place.

Halfway home you find you've left something and you return. It now is night and seems very black in the Big Thicket. You approach gramp's grave. You can find it, all right.

For it is glowing as bright as the embers of a fire. You could read a newspaper.

SCARED? YOU BET! Not many people would retrieve the forgotten item.

That is just one of the stories of the Big Thicket, that vast area of dense vegetation in East Texas. It is not a legend or a tall tale. It is fact.

This is attested to by a trained observer, Ed Holder, outdoors editor of the Port Arthur News. Holder saw some of the legendary lights and even picked them up. First off, he will tell you they are not ghosts.

Holder related his recent experience, telling how he and some others were using a bulldozer to clear an old logging road long overgrown with vegetation.

That night, the workers turned out their lanterns, and, as Holder tells it: "Within seconds after the last lantern was extinguished, a member in the work party exclaimed, 'Look at that! What is it?'"

"It was easy to see what he was talking about."

"There on the ground was a white light, glowing softly, about a foot long and about an inch or two in diameter — very much like a small, very dim, fluorescent light bulb."

"Then other lights could be seen on the ground."

"AND AS OUR eyes became more accustomed to the darkness, we could see dozens of them, mostly very small, like embers from a fire."

"The ground over an area several yards square looked as if someone had extinguished a fire by kicking the coals in all directions."

"It was, indeed, an eerie sight. "One of the men picked up the largest light. It was nothing but a piece of wood, we discovered, when we turned on a flashlight to examine it."

"But the light from this, the largest piece, was almost bright enough to read a newspaper by if it were held against the page."

"Other sources of small lights were revealed as roots, chips of wood and leaves."

"The light was 'foxfire.' " Holder's research showed that foxfire is a phosphorescent light caused by decaying wood and by any of various luminous fungi that cause decaying wood to glow.

Another definition was that white phosphorous glows due to the oxidation of the material by the air.

HOLDER CONTINUED, "This would explain, perhaps, why the decaying wood glowed so brightly where we were. We had just exposed it from its grave under the earth in our work with the bulldozer. It also would explain why the following night the lights were almost gone. It had dried out."

So there is the explanation of why the newly exposed earth on gramp's grave glows.

Holder reports that the Big Thicket has another form of night glow known as swamp gas, particularly well known on "Ghost Road" near Sour Lake.

"Still," said Holder, "to a hunter stumbling homeward in the darkness after a tiring day afoot in the woods, such explanations may be a little difficult to accept."

Election Method Changes In The Air

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress are apparently ready to give serious consideration to proposals for the adoption of a constitutional amendment which would change the present method of electing a president and vice president. The recent period of uneasiness about the possibility of the presidential election being thrown into the House of Representatives for decision has awakened the country to the necessity of a revision of the electoral system.

WHAT IS being advocated by several members of Congress is a formula by which the vote of a majority of the people in each congressional district — or a plurality if there is a third ticket in the contest — would be the basis for apportioning the electoral votes of the states for president and vice president.

For several decades there has been dissatisfaction because the electoral votes of a state are awarded in their entirety to the candidate who gets the majority or plurality, however small, of the popular votes within a given state. Again and again, it has been evident that, through the control of a few cities by political bosses or machines, a decisive influence can be exercised.

IN THE 1936 presidential election, for instance, the vote in only nine cities in the North and West was enough for the Democrats to swing all the electoral votes of those states. Together with the electoral votes of the then "Solid South," this would have enabled the Democratic candidate to achieve a majority in the electoral college without carrying any other state. Since the Democratic party has a strong hold on the vote in the cities — and is likely to be drawing also a major share of any "ghetto" vote — it is possible for the people in the farm areas and the suburbs in the North and West to be outvoted, and a national election won by the party which controls the big-city majorities.

THE PLAN which some prefer is one which would permit the casting of the electoral vote of each congressional district by the popular vote therein. A state would have one electoral vote for each of its congressional districts, and two electoral votes which would be awarded on the basis of the statewide results. The electoral votes "at large" would be allocated to the presidential candidate who won either a majority or a plurality of the state's popular vote. Thus, New York State, which has 43 electoral votes, would choose one elector in each congressional district, so there would be 41 votes decided by the majority or plurality within each congressional district, while two electoral votes would go to the winner of the statewide contest.

There is a feeling that an opportunity should always be given for third-party candidates to run for the presidency. But much dissatisfaction was noted in the recent election because the third-party candidate did not have a congressional slate, and the voters thus were not able to choose either representatives or senators of a third party along with a president in a national election.

THE IMPORTANCE of party responsibility is not generally recognized in electing presidential and congressional candidates. All the members of the House of Representatives are up for election in the midterm of a president, as well as in the year of a presidential election. The terms of one-third of the members of the Senate expire every two years, so that in a presidential year at least one-third of the seats of the Senate are being contested. This tends to make party responsibility difficult. Certainly, if a third party enters the field, it ought to offer a congressional slate as well as presidential and vice presidential candidates.

Gold Control

NEW DELHI (AP) — A member of Parliament claimed that more than 11,000 Indian goldsmiths have committed suicide because of a government gold control order.

The regulation prohibits the manufacture of 24-carat jewelry in an attempt to cut down gold hoarding, and has therefore cut into Indian goldsmiths' business.

Colts, Rams Head For Title Showdown

By The Associated Press
The Baltimore Colts, more than anyone, know better than to rest on past accomplishments. And the Green Bay Packers are learning.
Only last year the Colts ran up a 11-0-2 record only to blow their division title to Los Angeles by losing to the once-beaten Rams in the last game of the season.

CAUTIOUS
With that reminder, the Colts remain plenty cautious now with their 11-1 mark and half game lead over the Rams in the Coastal Division of the National Football League, despite a 44-0 rout over Atlanta Sunday for their third shutout in five weeks.
"Nothing we've done so far will mean anything unless we win the last one," was the way defensive tackle Fred Miller put it.

That last one is in two weeks against the Rams, who kept pace with an equally impressive 31-3 romp at Minnesota.
The Colts first must take on once-powerful Green Bay, which is finding out that two consecutive Super Bowl victories is no assurance that it will get a chance at a third.
On the contrary, the Packers have a good chance of not even winning the Central Division after dropping before San Francisco 27-20. Green Bay, at 5-6-1 and Baltimore and Chicago still to play, will need more than reputation to catch the Bears and Minnesota.

Chicago climbed into a tie for the division lead with the Vikings at 6-6 with a 23-17 victory over New Orleans. Chicago, also caught in the middle of the Baltimore-Los Angeles squeeze, plays the Rams Sunday, while Minnesota closes with San Francisco and Philadelphia.

CLINCHED TITLE
Dallas, which beat Washington 29-20 last Thursday, clinched the Capitol Division title when Cleveland eliminated the New York Giants 45-10, and at the same time the Browns all but wrapped up the Century Division. With two games left, they hold a 1 1/2 game lead over St. Louis, a 20-10 winner over Pittsburgh.

In Thursday's other game, Philadelphia beat Detroit 12-0 on Sam Baker's four field goals for its first victory.

"We're not worried about how we got here," said Baltimore Coach Don Shula after his club intercepted four passes and half recovered two fumbles to befuddle the Falcons. "We're happy to be where we are and are looking forward to the next two weeks."

"Los Angeles keeps winning so we've got to stay right with them," agreed Earl Morrall, who completed 17 of 23 passes for 231 yards and two touchdowns.

"Now it's the last one that counts," added defensive tackle Billy Ray Smith. "The Rams know it and we know it."

The Rams appear ready after what Coach George Allen called "our best game of the year."

They came within 19 seconds of their first shutout in three years while holding the Vikings without a first down for the first 26 1/2 minutes. Roman Gabriel and Wendell Tucker took care of the offensive, teaming for three scoring passes.

PACKERS RUINED
John Brodie ruined the Packers with three touchdown passes, two to Bill Tucker in the fourth quarter to make up a 20-7 deficit. Bart Starr had led the Packers to a 10-0 lead before he was injured in the second quarter.

Leroy Kelly, the NFL's leading rusher and scorer, ran for only 56 yards, but scored four touchdowns in Cleveland's seventh straight victory.

Jack Concannon threw twice to Austin Denny for touchdowns and Mac Percival kicked three field goals for a 23-10 Chicago lead before New Orleans scored in the last minute.

Abilene Picked For AA Match
Representatives of Iowa Park and Reagan County met in Big Spring Saturday and chose Abilene as a city for their Class AA State quarterfinal football game. The two teams clash in P. E. Shottwell stadium at 8 o'clock Friday night.

U-Boat Sighted, Trying To Sink Same

No. 33 (in soiled white), Kerry Joy, of Sonora, had already been decked in the above picture, but Coahoma players react to see that Joy doesn't slide farther. The game, won by Sonora, 7-6, could just as well have been played in the Sea of Azov as in San Angelo's stadium. No. 22, who has attached himself to Joy's running gear, is Dean Richters. No. 69 is Gene Snow. No. 68 Rodney Wall, No. 78 Dicky Leopard, No. 31 Johnny Ted Fowler and No. 64 Ronnie Leopard, all of Coahoma. By edging Coahoma, Sonora won the right to face Sudan in the State quarterfinals.

Trojans May Slip To Third Place

By The Associated Press
The Southern California Trojans, choking on a tie, will have to wait until New Year's Day now to get their do-or-die wish—No. 1 ranking.
The Trojans missed a chance last Saturday to retake the top spot from Ohio State when they wound up with a dissatisfying 21-21 tie against ninth-ranked Notre Dame.
"I wish we could go into sudden death instead of settling for a tie," muttered a disheartened O. J. Simpson, USC's Heisman Trophy winner, who had the worst day of his two-year varsity career.
His coach, John McKay, felt the same way. "We didn't start

Jayhawks To Host SWCC Tuesday

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks, fresh from a third-place win at the Garden City JC tourney in Garden City, Kan., host a highly-touted Southwestern Christian College quintet from Terrell here at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.
The Terrell squad is classed as a fast-breaking, good shooting squad. However, SWCC lost to Lubbock Christian College earlier this year, a team which went under to H.C.J.C.
Thursday the Jayhawks will kick off the Odessa Chamber of Commerce Junior College Tournament against Cisco Junior College at 2 p.m. The Jayhawks also will face Christian College of the Southwest in Dallas, the top-seeded team, early in tourney competition.

Miss Wilson, 33, beat out Carol Mann on the final day of the Hollywood Lakes Open for a winner's purse of $1,875. She had rounds of 69, 70 and 70.
Kathy Whitworth shot the best round of the day, a 67 over the par 72, 6,210-yard Hollywood Lakes course.

Hadl, Alworth Keep San Diego Catch-Up Hopes Alive

By The Associated Press
John Hadl and Lance Alworth are keeping San Diego's game of catch-up alive in the American Football League stretch race.
Hadl fired five touchdown passes—four of them to the elusive Alworth—as the Chargers bombed the Denver Broncos 47-23 Sunday and remained in the thick of the three-way Western Division title chase.
San Diego, 9-3, trails co-leaders Oakland and Kansas City by one game with two weeks to go in the regular season. The Raiders and Chiefs were idle Sunday after winning Thanksgiving Day games to stay in a first-place deadlock.

DENNIS THE MENACE

'WHAT'S GOOD FOR GETTING A GOLF BALL OUT OF A GAS TANK?'

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

All of us had something to be thankful for — and wasn't it wonderful? Thanksgiving Day may not have been all things to all people, but it meant rest, recreation or revelation to most everyone. For some, the family circle was not complete — for others, work went on as usual — and for more, there was no turkey on the table. How wonderful to know there will be another November — and blessings — for those who may have felt forgotten this year.

Many cars were packed with people — and pumpkin pies as the traditional trip "to grand-father's house" began. The lyrics to the old song kept nudging my memory and those words "over the river and through the trees" suddenly seemed like something from a thousand years ago. It was impossible to blot out the fancy freeways, concrete canyons and high-powered, impatient beasts with rolling, rubber hooves. What happened to my quiet country lane? And the tall, wide steps leading to a big house guarded by pecan and magnolia trees?

MEMOS: Frank Griffis Jr., Herald "Megaphone" editor, was off to Houston to see his parents, ex-Big Springers Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Griffis, and his brothers, Richard and Steven. Mr. Griffis is now associated with Dyna Electron at NASA. Hartman Hooser and son, DeLoyd were planning on being in Odessa for a reunion with the married Hooser girls. Incidentally Red McMahon tells me that he joined Hartman and John Stone last week to cook up about 50 pints of deer chili. Think Slim Proffitt may have provided the venison. Red brought me a cold corn muffin the other day that his Imogene had left over from lunch, and it was delicious. But they would go good with that chili. If helping with gift-wrapping at Big Spring State Hospital has become a traditional part of your holiday schedule, Mrs. Ennis Cochran suggests you give her a buzz. They are ready to tackle the job and could use more help, so why not call the hospital? It might put you in the Christmas spirit.

I didn't get to use that relish recipe that Mrs. J. Y. Robb gave me, but I'm saving it for next year. Just like I'll probably end up "saving" the clear cranberry goody that Mrs. W. W. Lansing jotted down. Sounds simple and good if you'd like to try it: Combine one pound cranberries, two cups sugar and one cup cold water. Bring to boil, lower heat and cook until all berries pop open. Use wooden spoon to help less ripened berries "pop." Put through sieve or colander until all possible is through. Chill in mold — and serve with Christmas dinner — or any other for that matter.

Didn't get to see Rick Ream's television debut on "College Bowl" Saturday because I was driving at the time. Did they win? Mama and Papa, the Dick Reams, are back from a trip to Las Vegas and Phoenix where they visited with ex-Webbites, Ma, and Mrs. Jake Sorenson. They got back in time to visit with one of their favorite foreign students, Ahmad (Jerry) El Mustafa who was here for several days last week. Jerry is back in the states, (Florida) for more pilot training and stayed here with the Reamses and the W. H. Eyssen Jr. He came by our house to visit with Becky, and it was good to chat with him, especially when we thought he'd never get back this way. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brunson were expecting their son-in-law and daughter, T. Sgt. and Mrs. Bruce Hogue here yesterday. Mrs. Hogue and daughters, Brenda and Beverly, have been living in Riverside, Calif., while Sgt. Hogue was in Vietnam, and they will be stationed in Kansas now. While here, they will also visit Mrs. Hogue's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Underwood.

Thank goodness, I've had no real tragedies, and haven't been sent anything I couldn't stand — but heaven knows, these little emergencies are about to eat me alive! Besides, they lose up some lovely evenings, such as making me miss the recent party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Swartz. Mr. and Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper and Mrs. Horace Garrett. Had already purchased my costume, too, and believe me, it wasn't something I can wear to work. Everyone says it was a wonderful evening and just what was needed to get people in a festive mood for the rest of the holidays.

Speaking of holidays, Rhoda and I are going to be trying out some new recipes, thanks to sweet Pauline Petty who gave us each a copy of the "Executive Woman's Cookbook." The note that accompanied it means even more to us than the book. Thank you, Pauline. Deadline. Call me!

HOT AND TASTY
Delicious on a cold day

Prepare Good Recipe From Leftover Turkey

Roasted, America's great bird, the turkey, is enjoyed by everyone. But that accounts for only part of its popularity among housewives. The rest derives from the easy convertibility of leftover turkey into an endless number of second-day entrees so delicious they bring forth enthusiastic praise rather than budget-aware tolerance.

Mixtures containing diced turkey (or chicken) when used as fillings for rolled, thin pancakes make main courses almost as gala as the roasted bird with all the fixin's. One such mixture, which extends the turkey and complements its flavor, includes Cheddar cheese, chopped celery, onion, and spinach. Serve pancakes filled with it and generously enhanced with a sauce made of canned giblet gravy, thyme, and chopped tomatoes.

No one will think you're putting on airs when you announce your eye-appealing main course as Crepes Divan.

CREPES DIVAN WITH GIBLET GRAVY
1/4 cup chopped celery
2 tbsps. finely chopped onion
1/4 tsp. marjoram, crushed
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, cooked and well-drained
1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
8 thin pancakes (6-inches)
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) giblet gravy
1/4 cup chopped tomatoes
Generous dash leaf thyme, crushed

In saucepan, cook celery, onion, and marjoram in butter until celery is tender. Add spinach, chicken, and cheese.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:
For years I've been washing, drying and stretching sweaters. I've used every idea, and tried to figure out how to eliminate that crease across the shoulders which I think is unsightly.

Read on pals. . . . After washing and then rinsing a sweater in vinegar water (this takes any odor out), I squeezed it real good. I did NOT wring it or twist it.

Then I threw it up in the air about 10 times and caught it with my hands each time. (Imagine that! I didn't drop it.)

This allows the air to get back in the knit and brings back the original shape and spreads what little moisture is left among the fibers — which is good. And MOST important.

I then took my broom and literally threaded the sweater on its handle through one sleeve, passed the neck and out the other sleeve!

This funny looking "scarecrow" I put ACROSS my clotheslines.

Since then I have learned that I can cut off a broom or an old mop handle, stack 'em up in a corner and use 'em for drying many things — quilted housecoats, babies' padded jackets, drip-dry shirts, and etc.

Gals, this way they dry with NO crease at all. And dry quicker because air gets inside. Cane fishing poles are also marvelous for this because you can hang more than one garment on the same pole.

And you don't have to cut the mop or broom off the end either. Sometimes I just use mine as is. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Often I make a double batch of cookies and divide the dough into portions large enough to make a pan full of cookies. Then I give a package of unbaked dough to my mother and mother-in-law to store in their freezers.

That way they can have a variety of cookies on hand to be freshly baked anytime they want.

Frozen cookie dough in small packages takes little time to thaw out. For hurry-up occasions, just slice the frozen dough with a sharp knife, put on pan frozen and bake a few minutes longer than usual. . . . Mrs. Gordon Thomas

Dear Heloise:
The other day while drying one of my clear-glass flower bowls with a colored paper towel, I realized what a help it would be to have some color in all my clear bowls and vases. Because, when stored on the shelf, they are sometimes hard to see when several are placed together.

So I left the paper towel in when I put it on the shelf. Now it's so easy to tell if I have stored one inside the other. . . . Mrs. G.D.T.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:
When I was just a new bride, we were having company for dinner and I was preparing T-bone steaks.

My big mistake was that I got cornmeal out instead of flour. I came up with a very odd dish. My guests thought at first they were eating fish!

I have been married seven years now and my husband and our friends still get a big laugh about our "T-bone fish." . . . Martha Sue Ring

Dear Folks:
Many of us like to cook our own cranberries along about "turkey time." And some of us like 'em strained and some don't!

So why not try putting them through your food chopper BEFORE you ever cook the berries. I found this to be great. Lots more juice if you strain them, and for those who don't, they even spread nicer on hot breads.

The cranberries may be chopped a day or two before the holiday and set aside in your refrigerator. Saves time. . . . Heloise

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

A LOVELIER YOU

Use Good Manners In Everyday Life

By MARY SUE MILLER

Some people scoff at the idea of etiquette, but no one derides good manners. In reality the two are allied, springing from a common ground of self-respect and consideration for others.

Any person who ridicules the code of agreeable behavior misses its reasons for being. The sole purpose is to smooth life's path, in ways that are understood and accepted by the majority.

Courtesy begins in the family circle. When family members treat each other with the consideration proffered to guests, home is a happy haven. Children respond in kind to the treatment accorded them. The course of adult relations is far pleasanter. The most difficult persons, unless entirely witless, finally get the message and are won over to civility.

Of equal significance is the fact that homegrown attitudes carry over into public actions. Members of mannerly families are polite and considerate of outsiders. It comes naturally to them to say Please, Thank You and Excuse Me . . . to avoid such public annoyances as littering the streets, let's say, or talking in the tones of a blating transistor at a lunch counter.

It is said that courtesy breeds courtesy. The rudeness we suffer and complain about in public life today would fade, if only more of us planted seeds of good conduct.

WINNING MANNERS

To open a door on increased poise and popularity, send for my booklet, WINNING MANNERS. Topics included are Introductions, Invitations, Table Manners, The Charming Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald enclosing 25 cents in coin, and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

WOMEN SUFFER WITH BLADDER IRRITATION

Common Kidney or Bladder Irritations affect twice as many women as men, often causing tenderness and nervousness from frequent, burning, itching urination. Secondly, you may lose sleep and have headaches, backaches and feel older, tired, depressed. In such cases, CYSTEX usually brings relief and comfort by curbing germs in acid urine, and easing pain. Get CYSTEX at drugists today.

Clean Fake Fur Rug With Baby Powder

Baby your bear skin! If your bedroom, bathroom or study sports one of those cuddly fake fur rugs or pillows in white or a pastel color, here's the way to perk it up between washings with a dry shampoo. Simply dust on highly absorbent baby powder and brush out with a soft brush. The powder will pick up dust and dirt and leave the rug fluffy with a fresh clean smell.

Size Of Bathrooms Growing Larger

People are becoming disenchanted with small bathrooms. Whereas bathrooms averaged 5x7, many now are at least 8x10. Off-the-floor water closets, already popular in public washrooms, are being installed in more and more homes. They make floor cleaning much easier.

Keep Feet Warm With Slippers

Crocheted slippers are quick and simple to make. Pattern No. 887 contains the instructions and also the instructions for the crocheted socks.

Send 30 cents plus 10 cents for third-class mail postage in coins for this pattern to MARTHA MADISON, care of the Big Spring Herald, Morris Plains, N.J., 07950. Add 15 cents for first-class mail.

For New Fall and Winter Needlework Book send 50 cents. Contains free coat pattern and embroidery and a coupon for free pattern of your choice.
