IN HOLD-UP Bandit Guns Down Police Officer Guard

DALLAS (AP) — A police officer was killed here Sunday night during the hold-up of a drive-in grocery.

Patrolman Floyd A. Knight was shot in the face by a middle-aged man who escaped with about $85 cash.

Dianne Phifer, 26, a clerk at the store, told officers the man pulled a gun on her and told her to sack up the money in the cash register, then ordered her to get into a back room.

Knight, hiding in the room, was on assignment at the store to kill or capture holdup men.

The clerk related that she walked into the store-room, unaware the stranger was behind her. She said she heard someone say "Drop it," someone else blurt, "You gotta be kidding," and then two shots rang out.

Death Treated As Joke

NEWCASTLE, England (AP) — Two school girls accused of killing little boys for pleasure treated the death of one victim as a huge joke, a court was told today.

Testimony by relatives of two murdered boys came on the third day of the trial of Norma Bell, 13, and Mary Flora Bell, 11.

The girls, unrelated but next-door neighbors in this northeast city, stand accused of slaying Martin Brown, 4, and Brian Howe, 3, "solely for the pleasure and excitement afforded by killing."

The girls both pleaded not guilty to the double murder charge. The case is being heard by Judge Sir Ralph Cusack before a jury of seven men and five women at Newcastle Assizes. It is expected to last at least seven days.

DAMAGED BY FIRE Scrolls Buried

NEW YORK (AP) — "O God, pagans have defiled Your Holy Sanctuary."

With these words from the 79th Psalm, some 2,000 Orthodox Jews Sunday buried the remains of seven Torahs — or sacred scrolls — which were destroyed in a fire set by vandals in Brooklyn Nov. 27. Some of the Torahs had been saved from the Nazis during World War II.

The mourners, dressed in black, gathered before the burial for a funeral service outside the Yeshiva of Eastern Parkway.

The mourners proceeded by car to the Beth David Cemetery at Elmont, N.Y., where the Torahs, which had been placed in a plain pine coffin, were lowered into the ground by eight students from the yeshiva.

The fire at the yeshiva destroyed the library, the synagogue and scholarly books. The yeshiva is seeking $200,000 to replace the facilities.

Sears Officials Seek Return Of Poison Pins

CHICAGO (AP) — Sears, Roebuck & Co. officials are continuing a nationwide search for 300 to 400 pieces of costume jewelry, which are decorated with a poisonous tropical bean that could cause death if swallowed.

A Sears spokesman, Ernest L. Arms, Sunday urged buyers of the $1 pins to return them to the store where they were purchased.

Arms estimated that 31 pins imported from Japan by a New York firm were sold to customers in the Chicago area and more than 300 nationwide through 138 Sears outlets in at least 110 cities.

A Food and Drug Administration spokesman in Washington said Sears received 200 boxes, each containing 48 pins. About 12 pins in each box were decorated with the deadly Jequirity bean.

The FDA spokesman said some 30 other firms also received one or two boxes each, but there was no way of knowing whether the deadly pins were placed on sale.

The jewelry is made in two designs, a clown face with beans for eyes and a flower with a bean in the center.

Police Find Dynamite On One Campus

By The Associated Press

Student unrest simmered over the weekend at embattled San Francisco State College and Washington University in suburban St. Louis. Police reported finding enough dynamite at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., to blow up a four-story building.

MEN FLED

Security officers at Brandeis said they saw a group of young men near Mailman's Hall Sunday night. They investigated and the men fled, dropping five sticks of heavy construction dynamite.

The dynamite was found near the building housing a young AWOL soldier in "sanctuary" on campus since last Wednesday. The soldier, Spec. 4 John G. Rollins of Wilmington, N.C., moved to another building.

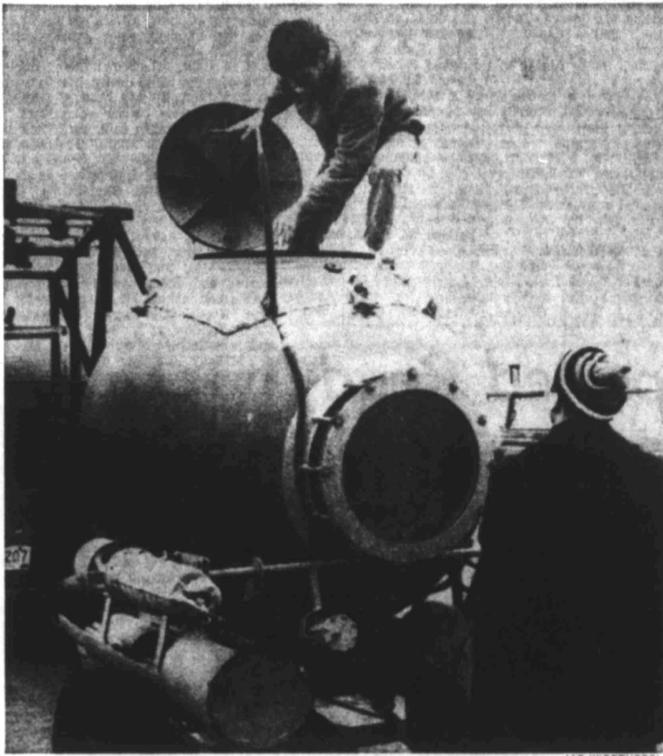

At San Francisco State, strike groups held rallies in the downtown area and called for an all-out effort to shut down the school again. One fire found in an administration building of office caused minimal damage, authorities said. Negro and some non-Negro minority groups are demanding control of their own ethnic studies program.

Washington University officials open a hearing today into the alleged mistreatment of a Negro graduate student by campus police which triggered a "lock-in" by black students and a sympathy sit-in by white students.

At Brown University in Providence, Negro students agreed to return to the campus today. The university said it would accede to student demands and increase Negro student enrollment. The Ivy League school earmarked more than $1 million to aid black students.

At Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., representatives of Negro students were scheduled to meet today with university authorities to discuss a demand for black control of that Ivy League school's Afro-American studies program.

Nixon To Announce Cabinet Wednesday

Home-Made Mini-Sub

Bill Haworth, 22-year-old University of Washington science student, and his brother, Wally, 21, built this sub from a float off an anti-submarine net, at a cost of $2,000 and working two summers. In the maiden voyage Sunday, they took the Haworth Experimental No. 1 down to 156 feet in Puget Sound. It is powered by two converted auto starter motors, fitted with small propellers, which control direction and dive angle.

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon will fly to Washington Wednesday to announce his entire slate of cabinet nominees before national television cameras at 10 p.m. EST.

Ron L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced this today and said that Nixon, who would be accompanied by members of his new cabinet, might take the occasion to also disclose "other major appointments."

LITTLE DOUBT

The president-elect will make his announcement in the Palladium Room at the Shoreham Hotel. The national television and radio networks have been invited to provide live coverage of the event, and there seemed little doubt that one or all of them would snap up the offer.

Ziegler said it would be fair to conclude that Nixon now has made final decisions on his choices to head the 12 cabinet departments.

Asked to comment on widespread reports that Republican Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin has been tagged to be secretary of defense, Ziegler said, "I can neither confirm nor deny any speculation with respect to the cabinet."

Presidents-elect normally dribble out cabinet announcements over a period of days and even weeks. But Nixon decided to make one big splash by announcing all at once and, to quote Ziegler, "thought Washington, D.C., was the appropriate place to make an announcement of this magnitude."

MEET THEM

On Thursday morning, Nixon will meet with his new cabinet at the Shoreham, where he will spend the night. He will return to New York later in the day, Ziegler said.

On Nixon's public schedule for today were two prominent callers, Robert B. Anderson, who was under secretary of defense and secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration, and William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

In the evening, Nixon was to address a national board meeting of the Boys Clubs of America at a Manhattan Hotel.

Nixon, who has indicated he will seek early meetings with Western European leaders, has added fuel to the active rumor mill here by conferring nearly two hours with R. Sargent Shriver, ambassador to France.

Shriver said he flew to New York from Washington Sunday at Nixon's request to "bring him up to date about things in France."

The brother-in-law of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., indicated he and Nixon didn't discuss a possible Cabinet appointment for Shriver nor even the possibility of his continuing as ambassador to France. However, the fact that the conversation at the President-elect's Fifth Avenue apartment was the longest yet announced by Nixon prompted speculation about Shriver's future.

PLEASANT

Shriver described the meeting as "a pleasant and I hope useful visit." He said it would be up to Nixon to reveal whether he was given any personal message to carry to French President Charles de Gaulle.

Herbert Klein, Nixon's director of communications, said Sunday that he thought the incoming President would seek closer ties with Western European allies before considering personal talks with Soviet leaders.

The President-elect spent all day Sunday at his apartment, conferring with assistants as well as with Shriver.

Soviets Complain Of Black Sea Trip

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Two destroyers of the U.S. 6th Fleet sailed through the Bosphorus today for a five-day cruise along Turkey's Black Sea coast. The Russians called the American naval visit to their southern coast a provocation, a threat to peace and Soviet security, and a violation of the 1936 Montreux Convention.

LED WAY

The 3,500-ton Dyess led the way through the narrow strait between the Sea of Marmara and the Black Sea. Her sister ship the Turner followed about an hour later.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported Sunday that its correspondent had seen the two destroyers pass through the Bosphorus and slip "like thieves" into the landlocked Black Sea. But the ships anchored in the Sea of Marmara for the night, abiding by the provision of the Montreux Convention that bars transit of the strait after nightfall.

Izvestia claimed that the ships' passage through the Bosphorus violated the Montreux Convention regulating use of the strait because the two destroyers were equipped with missiles capable of delivering nuclear weapons and because the conventional warships of any nation at war.

Predicts Red Flight Soon

MOSCOW (AP) — Col. Georgy Beregovoy, the Soviet cosmonaut who orbited the earth for four days in late October, suggested today that one of the two backup men for his Soyuz 3 flight might carry out a space mission in the "nearest future."

The disclosure came in the second of a series of articles Beregovoy is writing for Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper. It added to speculation the Soviets may be preparing for a round-the-moon space spectacular before the American effort planned for Dec. 21.

Beregovoy did not name the man or give details of the next space flight. The Soviets customarily keep such information secret until the flight begins.

N. Viet Spokesman Blasts Premier Ky

PARIS (AP) — A spokesman for North Vietnam's delegation to the Paris peace talks lashed at South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today, calling him "a puppet, a servant of the United States and a devotee of Hitler."

MANY EXPECTED

It was a forerunner of many charges and countercharges expected as the Vietnamese rivals maneuver toward the enlarged peace talks.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese teams set up a strategy session later in the day with Ambassadors W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance on the American side and Pham Dang Lam and Bui Diem, the ambassador to Washington, on Saigon's side.

The North Vietnamese blast at Ky came from Hanoi delegation spokesman Bui Nhan and referred to past remarks Ky had made about Hitler in South Vietnam.

Ky denied at the time that he was voicing any admiration for the former Nazi dictator. And in the course of his exuberant arrival here Sunday the jaunty former combat pilot repeatedly stressed he was no puppet of Uncle Sam.

FOUR FLIERS ABANDON T33 JET TRAINERS

Three Accidents Kill 21 Servicemen

By The Associated Press

Twenty-one servicemen have been killed in three separate accidents, the worst a ship collision that sent a Coast Guard buoy tender to the bottom of the Mississippi River with 17 crewmen aboard.

A pilot parachuted to safety Sunday when a hovercraft used to train astronauts went out of control and crashed at the Houston, Tex., Space Center. It was the second time a moon landing training craft has crashed.

Four fliers abandoned their T33 jet trainers in Greenland Sunday night after their three planes ran out of fuel on a flight from Newfoundland. They were rescued by a Danish helicopter.

Only three of the 20-man crew of the buoy tender White Alder were rescued when it was sliced in half Saturday night by the Nationalist Chinese freighter about 30 miles downstream from Baton Rouge.

The trio was found clinging to a buoy. One man had been burned.

"They were very lucky men," said Sheriff Bo Williams of Iberville Parish. "They were freezing."

The Coast Guard declined to speculate on how the collision might have occurred. There was no fog.

The other fatal accidents occurred Saturday on carriers taking part in a U.S. Navy exercise, "Beef Trust," about 40 miles from the West Coast.

Lt. Cmdr. Robert J. Simonic, 35, of Lemore Naval Air Station, Calif., ejected from his Corsair II about five miles from the carrier Enterprise and drowned. The Navy said it could not explain why he abandoned the plane.

Airman J. A. Fischer, 21; Aviation Boatswain's Mate 3. C. Leroy Ervin, 20; and Aviation Boatswain Mate 1. C. G. A. Smith, 31, were asphyxiated when a gasoline line broke in a pump room aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk.

Divers Today Searching For Missing Crewmen

WHITE CASTLE, La. (AP) — Divers today search by touch in the sunken White Alder for bodies of 17 crewmen missing since a collision with a freighter sent the Coast Guard buoy tender 75 feet to the bottom of the Mississippi River near here.

The shoreline and river search for the men continued. It began shortly after the 133-foot vessel was hit by the Nationalist Chinese freighter Helena Saturday night.

Three of the 20-man crew were plucked from the river but no trace of the others was found.

After hours of dragging operations, the White Alder was located Sunday when three large cannister buoys from the vessel rose to the surface, giving away its resting place.

The boat was grappled from the surface and marked with buoys.

Operations were suspended pending the arrival of a Navy diving team and its tons of equipment. Lt. Philip Sage said a decision was made not to send scuba divers down Sunday because of choppy waters and the possibility that other buoys would break free and come rushing to the surface.

Moonship Crash May Have Set Back Lunar Landing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The crash Sunday of a spider-like craft designed to teach pilots how to land on the moon may have been an "unassessable setback" to America's man to the moon program, a space official said.

The training vehicle, a bug-like craft which darts and hovers in an artificially created one-sixth earth gravity similar to the moon's, crashed Sunday morning after developing wildly uncontrollable twisting and swaying motions. The pilot escaped injury.

Paul Haney, director of public affairs at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center, said the crash may have been an "unassessable setback" to the lunar landing project, "but to what degree is anybody's guess."

"We'll have to figure the effect on an overall training program," Haney said. "The flight today was to have been the last major test before the craft was used for astronaut training."

An accident investigation board, headed by Astronaut Walter Schirra Jr., convened shortly after the accident but its report is not expected for some time.

The $1.8 million craft, called the Lunar Landing Training Vehicle (LLTV), crashed and exploded early Sunday morning after NASA test pilot Joseph A. Algranti ejected and parachuted to safety.

Cosden 25-Year Club Adds 19 Members Tonight

The Cosden 25-Year Club will have its membership beefed by 19 new inductees at festivities set for this evening at the Cosden Country Club.

This will bring to 149 the number of members of the exclusive club founded March 7, 1959 for those individuals who have given a quarter of a century service to Cosden Oil & Chemical Company and its predecessors.

The social hour is set for 6:30 p.m., followed by a buffet dinner with J. B. Kling, assistant executive director of the city-county sheriff's office in Baton Rouge, La., as the speaker. Kling is in demand as a speaker with his Cajun dialect stories. Mrs. Gayle Bonner will play the dinner music. Afterwards, additional guests will join the members and their families for an evening of dancing to the music of the Chanteurs.

Jack Y. Smith, director of industrial relations, will preside over the affair, at which the election of officers will be accomplished.

Among those to be inducted today are:

Briefly he drove one of the plant's two winch trucks before moving into the electric department to learn that craft. He started as a helper in July, 1944. Directing work on the pneumatic and electronic control panels at the operating units is his responsibility. On a special assignment in 1966, he went to Trinidad to help check out the instrumentation on the new Grace ammonia plant there. The Howard County native grew up in Knot, and his wife, Anna Belle, is in her home in Sand Springs. She is employed at Big Spring State Hospital. Originally Covington is from Rule. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and, with his wife Opal, is in Airport Baptist Church. The couple reside at 1313 Harding and are looking forward this month to the return home of their son, Eddie Dean, a Navy man who has been in Vietnam. They have two other sons: Rolen B. Jr., who lives in Big Spring, and Teddy Ray, who is a helper at the polybutene unit. A daughter, Mary Katherine, lives in Ellsworth, Maine, with her husband, Ronald E. Dority, and family. The Covingtons visited them in October. Four grandsons and three granddaughters complete the Covington family.

He recalls coking out the Jenkins stills and helping on the old Dubbs before it burnt to the ground. He has worked at the Foster unit, the poly plant, the crude units and the cat cracker. An operator at the crude unit since July 1, 1951, he went on disability August 5, 1968. Harvell, who is a widower, is scheduled for retirement next February. His home is in Sand Springs near that of his son N. R. Jr. Another son, Thomas G., resides in Big Spring. Between them, the two boys have 44 years of service with Cosden. In mid-1952, he helped bring on stream the BTX unit, which launched Cosden into petrochemicals. Four years later, when the Reformer made its debut, he was on the initial crew there. He is now an operator at the Reformer. Some three miles north, on the Gail Route, Hutt and his wife live on a 100-acre farm, one of four that he owns. The Huttts are Baptists. They have a son, Kenneth, and two grandsons here in Big Spring.

R. L. ANDREWS
Raymond Lee Andrews, a native Big Springer, has had a diversified career with Cosden. It started on the refinery yard Oct. 5, 1943. For six years he was a painter for the sales department, then moved into a salesman's role. Next came emulsion pumping and blending, followed by work with the pipefitters and riggers. He entered the electrical department as a helper March 16, 1958, and for a number of years has been an electrician, doing both instrument and electrical work. He proudly states he has never been late for work. Andrews and his wife, Candy, have a

Mr. and Mrs. Barbee are members of Midway Baptist Church, where he serves as a deacon.

J. W. BENNETT
James W. Bennett began his Cosden years Oct. 4, 1943, as a yardman. However, within a few months he was located at the warehouse where he has worked up to a senior warehouseman. As such, he receives all incoming material and stocks it. He and his wife, Maudie — both are Eastland County natives — make their home at 3310 Cornell, which is often brightened by their three grandsons, ages 4 to 8. The Bennetts have three daughters: Mrs. Fred (Jimmie) Joan Wilson is in Houston. JOHN ED BROWN
John Edward Brown recalls very well starting his Cosden career, June 17, 1943, as a sample jerker in the laboratory. He has graduated through the tester levels in the meantime and today rates as a special tester in the refining lab. His job with Cosden is the only one he has ever held. He came here soon after graduating from high school in his home town, Graham. He has a three-year-old granddaughter and a grandson who is approaching three.

Today, as a mechanic A, he concerns himself chiefly with seeing that all the engines, pumps and compressors throughout the complex are properly oiled and lubricated. This mission also takes him to the tank farm. A motor scooter provides the transportation. The Scurry County native and his wife, Mary Emma, are Baptists. Their older son, James A., and his wife have a 17-month-old daughter and make their home in Cisco where he teaches English and chemistry at Cisco Junior College. The Leslies' younger son, Tommy Joe, is a senior at the University of Texas at Arlington, majoring in aeronautical engineering. The senior Leslie is a member of Masonic Lodge 598.

Previously he had been a Cosden jobber and had a station in Jack County where he was reared. For a while he served as a truck driver, moving them to the Sweetwater terminal as assistant manager. Four years later he came to Big Spring Refinery and became a compound warehouseman. In December, 1959, he relocated at the Fina payroll in 1963. He and his wife, Mildred, reside in Iowa Park. He also requisitions them and repairs them. Roberts, who is a native of Coahoma, and his wife, Flora, reside at 1002 East 16th and are members of Trinity Baptist Church. Egypt Reported Ready For Peacekeeping Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt is reported willing to accept another U.N. force to help safeguard a peace settlement with Israel, diplomatic sources at the United Nations report.

The sources said Egypt's delegate to the United Nations, Mohamed Awad El Kony included the idea in a seven-point statement he gave to Chief U.S. delegate J.B. Wiggins Thursday.

Egypt accepted a U.N. force after the 1956 Suez invasion, and the force prevented Egypt from closing the Gulf of Aqaba, alongside the Sinai desert, to Israeli shipping.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered the force out in 1967 and said Israel couldn't use the gulf. Shortly afterward, Israel drove the Egyptians out of Sinai in the six days' war.

The diplomatic sources said Egypt now would accept a new U.N. force to supervise Israel's withdrawal from the peninsula and remain at mutually agreed places, including the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

El Kony's proposal came in response to a seven-point program U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said to have outlined a month ago to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad. The State Department denied the existence of such a program last week.

Meanwhile, the U.N. special envoy for the Middle East, Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, flew back to his headquarters in Cyprus after talks with Jordanian leaders in Amman.

Jordan Premier Bahjat Talhouh told his Parliament that Israel's attitude is preventing progress by Jarring's mission, and that Jordan and Egypt will go no further with Jarring until Israel expresses willingness to implement the U.N. Security Council resolution calling for Israel's withdrawal from the Arab territory it occupied in the 1967 war.

However, Talhouh and Foreign Minister Abdul Muneim Rifai told President-elect Richard M. Nixon's special Middle East envoy, William W. Scranton, that Jordan still is willing to cooperate with Jarring.

Scranton said at a news conference in Amman Sunday that Arab leaders with whom he had talked expected a change in U.S. policy in the Middle East.

"Precisely what they have in mind I do not think is actually completely specific," said Scranton, "but they are hopeful that there will be what they call a change."

Scranton has conferred with the leaders of Iran, Lebanon, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan. He went on to Jerusalem.

PAYMENTS FREEDOM

Calls For Dismantling Federal Farm Programs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Present government farm programs should be dismantled and replaced with devices to help successful farmers move gradually into a market-oriented economy free of federal controls and payments, says Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It should be recognized that the low-income problems in agriculture are of two distinctly different kinds—those of the commercial farmers who receive most of their income from farming, and those of the part-time, subsistence and rural resident farmers," Shuman said.

The latter type, he said, needs a program offering help to become more productive either in agriculture or in some other field. Shuman's speech was prepared for delivery today at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau.

LONG FIGHT

About 5,000 persons are expected for the meeting, which runs through Thursday.

The Farm Bureau, which represents about 1.8 million families, has vigorously opposed the farm programs of the Democratic administration.

Shuman said that with a change to a Republican administration the Farm Bureau has won, "for all practical purposes," its long fight to end acreage controls and "government management of farm prices" through existing programs.

"The general public is finally beginning to recognize that a government-planned agriculture is a costly exercise in futility," he said.

But the present programs should not be dumped all at once, Shuman said. Instead, "transitional assistance or a reasonable assurance" against losses during an adjustment toward a free economy should be provided, he said.

ASSISTANCE

"This transitional assistance could take the form of substantial land retirement programs indemnity or adjustment payments to compensate for the capitalized value of allotments, loans to facilitate orderly marketing, and protection against dumping of government-held stocks on the market to depress prices," Shuman said.

Exports of U.S. farm products could be doubled in the next four or five years, Shuman said, if federal trade negotiations would bargain "with any or all free nations" either unilaterally or among several at one time.

"In order to pursue this hard-nosed bargaining policy successfully, it will be necessary for Congress to discontinue direct subsidies to farmers," Shuman said. "These payments are recognized by foreign nations as a form of export subsidy."

He said Congress must resist demands for import barriers to protect domestic goods which have met increased competition from foreign producers. "Trade is a two-way street," Shuman added.

PICKETS

The farm leader called for "badly needed reorganization" of agricultural research and programs to help land grant colleges improve their research functions.

Shuman said Congress also has the responsibility for bringing government spending in line with income.

Farm Bureau officials were met Sunday by pickets who said they supported the United Farm Workers national boycott of California table grapes.

The Farm Bureau has opposed the boycott and its officials say that if unionization is forced on California growers other farm commodities could encounter the same treatment.

CLAIMS OF VENGEFUL MISTAKES Credit Reporting Abuses Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The organizations that often determine what persons are considered reliable enough to receive credit are coming under congressional scrutiny this week.

A Senate antitrust monopoly subcommittee under Michigan Democrat Philip A. Hart will hold hearings Tuesday and Wednesday into the possible need for legislation to protect the public in its dealing with the businesses who report on credit.

Among those to testify are three persons who volunteered to tell their claims of misdealings by credit reporting firms and officials of three of the largest credit reporting companies.

IMPORTANCE

The importance of a person's credit ratings has grown in recent years with the bounding use of charge accounts. Many businesses rely on reports from various credit reporting firms, not only for an indication whether to provide charge accounts but to determine whether a prospective employee is reliable enough to be hired.

The scope of the hearings will include claims of careless reporting, technical and vengeful mistakes, conflicts of interest and the increasing concentration among the credit reporting companies.

On the basis of the subcommittee staff's preliminary findings released last spring, the senators will hear such claims as:

FALSE BOSS — One man was unable to get a job because a former employer had furnished a reporting agency with false information. The man successfully sued his former boss.

—In more than two-thirds of the country's biggest cities, a collection agency attempting to collect a disputed bill is owned by the same organization that runs the agency which reports on the person's credit.

—A firm which did business with the government last year to the tune of $500 million has purched part of a fast-growing computerized credit data agency.

One of the 13 credit reporting firms involved in the inquiry is Retail Credit Co., of Atlanta, Ga., which is also under scrutiny by the Justice Department for possible antitrust violations.

Retail Credit, which already owns Credit Bureaus Inc., of Georgia and its 58 local companies in the East, South and California is moving to buy 36 more reporting bureaus from the Francis Smith interests in four western states.

The three company spokesmen to testify are:

UDDER DISASTER

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Danny Fleming covered the well pit at his Grass Lake Township home with boards and then spread straw over them to keep out winter's freezing temperatures.

Later Fleming found a cow in the pit. She had found the straw during the night and apparently had been chomping away when the boards broke.

W. Lee Burge, president of Retail Credit, said in Atlanta Sunday there have been some abuses in the credit reporting industry, but "it has been remarkably free of abuse when you consider that multimillions of credit investigations are made each year."

Burge said too much government regulation could hurt the industry.

Attorney Robert W. Biccum is scheduled to testify for Burge's firm at the hearings.

Others scheduled to testify are:

—Dr. Harry C. Jordan, chairman of Credit Data Corp., who told a House subcommittee last March that his firm could have every American's name listed on its computers by 1973.

—TRW Inc., a diversified firm that did half-a-billion dollars in government business last year, already owns part of Credit Data and may buy the rest.

—John L. Spafford, vice president of Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc., which maintains credit ratings on almost 100 million people.

Associated Credit local bureaus was found by the subcommittee to have been under the same ownership as collection agencies in more than two-thirds of the 130 cities with population of more than 100,000.

Marines Mop Up Red Force

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marines closed out their massive cordon operation south of Da Nang today with another flurry of stiff bunker fighting. At least 882 North Vietnamese soldiers were claimed killed in the 20-day campaign.

Some field reports were still missing, and some senior officers estimated the total enemy losses may approach 1,000 when the final count is made. A hundred North Vietnamese troops were taken prisoner.

95 KILLED

Marine casualties for the entire operation, called Meade River, were 95 killed and 500 wounded. Nearly half of the U.S. and enemy casualties were taken in the last five days as the Leathernecks' encirclement shrank to less than a square mile.

Staff officers said preliminary intelligence indicated that major portions of four battalions of the North Vietnamese Army's 38th Regiment had been trapped in the cordon following an enemy attack on the district town of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

As the Marines were being pulled out for operations elsewhere, there was still light sniper fire and some mortaring from their rear, showing that swept territory had already been infiltrated again by at least token enemy forces.

The cordon operation was the largest ever conducted by the Marines in Vietnam and their most successful.

FINAL FIGHTING

It began Nov. 20 with nearly 7,000 U.S. and Korean Marines and Vietnamese infantrymen placed in position in half a day, mainly by helicopter. The area inside the cordon at the outset was approximately 50 square miles.

Government officials evacuated 2,600 peasants and later returned them to their homes after screening them in an effort to trap Viet Cong political officials and agents. Some 73 of these were seized.

The final fighting Sunday and today involved five Marine companies and Vietnamese in 10 armored personnel carriers mopping up enemy soldiers dug into bunkers at the edge of a muddy river. A spokesman said one Marine company had worked into the bunkers before being hit with heavy enemy fire Sunday night. In the darkness, groups of three and four North Vietnamese probed along the Leatherneck lines trying to escape.

This morning, the Marines attacked again, dropping grenades into bunkers while the Vietnamese armored troops fired recoilless rifles mounted on the personnel carriers.

Government officials evacuated 2,600 peasants and later returned them to their homes after screening them in an effort to trap Viet Cong political officials and agents. Some 73 of these were seized.

Fire Lassies Find Solution?

COOL, Calif. (AP) — Because the 10 Cool firewomen lack manpower to hoist the firehouse door, it has always lain on the ground outside. "Even if the firemen ever got around to installing the door, it would be too heavy for firewomen to open," said Ruth White, 32, a firewoman.

Now the solution may be near: A car left the highway and knocked down Jennie Niel's front fence, hurling one of the posts through the firehouse door.

The fire lassies say they hope the motorist's insurance will pay for a new, lightweight door.

Mystery Flames Burn Mrs. Pool

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Elizabeth Lee Pool, 50, the widow of Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., was in critical condition today with severe burns she received in an apartment fire here Sunday.

Firemen who charged through the burning apartment where Mrs. Pool was visiting to carry her out, said she was burned over 90 per cent of her body.

Her host, Biago Pepe, 42, was not injured.

The cause of the fire was not known. Fireman described damage as extensive.

Mrs. Pool's husband died July 14 at a Houston airport and she tried for the House seat he held. She was defeated in a special election Aug. 24 by Jim Collins of Dallas.

Mrs. Pool had said she wanted to serve out the remaining four months of her husband's term to complete his administrative work, including his records for the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

She and her four sons live in Falls Church, not far from this Washington suburb.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

(© 1968 by The Chicago Tribune) ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠J9643 ♥A6 ♦952 ♣KQ7

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♦ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—You have an average hand in high cards (10 points) and a five-card suit, which makes game prospects very bright opposite a take-out double. The method of conveying this bit of information is to bid one more than necessary. The proper call is two spades.

Q. 2—Partner opens with three no trump and you hold:

♠AS ♥763 ♦Q1094 ♣K1075

What do you bid?

A.—On the basis of simple arithmetic, you should contract for a small slam in no trump. You have a count of nine, and partner has a minimum of 25.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠763 ♥AQ753 ♦Q1063 ♣5

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♦ 2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. There can be no bright prospects for game when partner fails to make a take-out double. It is extremely dangerous to experiment with a suit that is higher in rank than partner's suit. If he does not like hearts, clubs, and then the fur might start flying.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A654 ♥A ♦A843 ♣A865

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—This hand will very likely produce a slam, and a jump shift is clearly indicated. The suggested call is three clubs. This is much preferable to two spades, for in making temporary bids it is preferable not to take liberties with weak major suits.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K106 ♥AK1075 ♦KJ96 ♣A

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—With this hand we would insist upon reaching a game contract despite partner's mild response. We, therefore, would rebid three diamonds, a jump shift forcing to game. If partner returns to three hearts we would bid four. If he bids three no trump we would relax and, if by some chance he should raise diamonds, we should have a reasonable play for game in that suit.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A73 ♥97642 ♣AK753

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Two clubs. This is preferable to a response of two diamonds, for it is not our purpose to bid this hand as a diamond-club two suiter. It is highly improbable that diamonds could be the best contract unless partner bids that suit himself.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A2 ♥53 ♦J98764 ♣AK2

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 ♦ Pass 3 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—We do not recommend a bid of three no trump. Partner's hand is highly unbalanced. Your tricks are very quick, and your diamond suit does not appear to be readily establishable for purposes of no trump. We, therefore, recommend a raise to four hearts. Remember that two trumps constitute adequate support when partner has made a jump rebid in the suit.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠QJ9 ♥65 ♦543 ♣AJ642

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

3 ♦ Pass Pass Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—While technically partner's double of three diamonds is primarily for a take-out, nevertheless under the conditions of vulnerability we would pass and convert it into a penalty double. This hand has the reasonable expectation of taking about two tricks in defense, which means that a sure set is in sight.

A family portrait makes an excellent gift to grandparents, parents or children, and it adds a more personal touch to giving. Curley Johnson, backed by more than 30 years experience as a photographer, can make a gift that will last for years and be appreciated every time it is seen. He has all the equipment and knowhow necessary for making just the picture you want.

Curley's Studio can make all types of pictures and will do commercial photography as well as take aerial photographs.

DINE AT THE PIZZA HUT

Break The Holiday Rush

The holiday rush which is coming on undoubtedly leaves little time in the kitchen for preparing good meals. If you find your calendar is crowding out time reserved for cooking, solve the problem by eating at the Pizza Hut, Highland Shopping Center.

Eating at the Pizza Hut can offer a variety in the holiday activities, plus a variety in dining. When you eat at Pizza Hut, you never lack for a choice of expertly-cooked pizza. You can make a selection from Mozzarella cheese, green pepper, sausage, mushroom, pepperoni, pizza supreme, onion, anchovy, hamburger, half-and-half of cheese and sausage, and even shrimp and jalapeno.

The sauce at the Pizza Hut is made of a special blend of herbs credited for the popularity of the pizzas. The sauce and the dough for the shell are always fresh and never frozen. That gives the pizzas a fresh-made flavor and taste every time.

Since it takes 20 minutes to prepare the pizza, you may want to call 263-3333 to place your order ahead of time if you are in a hurry. Or, you can come by and wait and have something to drink.

The Pizza Hut serves many soft drinks, tea and cold beer. Featured are Michelob and Budweiser beers served in cold, frosted mugs. Delicious hot coffee is always available as well as milk for the children.

If you had rather stay and eat, instead of taking your pizza home, use the Pizza Hut's spacious dining area which seats 80 persons.

Want to have a fun party the easy way? Make it a pizza party with delicious pizza from the Pizza Hut. Ray Woolverson, manager, can supply many helpful hints and you can leave the food arrangements to the Pizza Hut. There'll be no big kitchen cleanup job when it's over.

Serving hours at the Pizza Hut are from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays, from 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays, and 4 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

There is plenty of parking space at the Pizza Hut where they serve the hottest, juiciest and biggest pizzas in Big Spring.

Whether you want to eat your pizza at home or at the Pizza Hut, you can't go wrong.

PIZZA HUT HAS PLENTY OF ROOM FOR GOOD EATING
Plus delicious pizza, refreshing atmosphere

Harris Lumber Co. Offers Service As Well As Lumber

Harris Lumber Co., 1609 E. 20th, has become known throughout the area as "a service yard; not a lumber yard." It has everything for the builder, painter, handyman, and extra helps for customers.

Not only does Bert Harris stock top quality lumber and a complete line of other building materials, but Harris Lumber Co. has hardware of all kinds, tools, paints and "everything needed to build a house."

Harris Lumber has updated its service yard concept this year by increasing its capacity more than two times with the construction of a new 150 by 20 by 16 feet lumber barn. This barn allows Harris to stock more lumber and building materials with a greater selection.

If you are a building contractor or just a do-it-yourself enthusiast, you will appreciate the wide selection of goods at Harris Lumber Co.

Harris has both wood and asbestos siding and aluminum window and screen door units. A new attraction is their House of Panels, featuring a large selection of pre-finished paneling. They have more than 20 colors of paneling, so you can be sure of getting the right shade for your new room.

Harris also has a large stock of pre-finished molding, which is coordinated with the pre-finished paneling to make the interior of any house complete. Added to the stock for interior decorating is a wide selection of ceiling tile.

Harris Lumber Co.'s seamless flooring is one of the most modern and popular floor decorating ideas. The new Flecto Seamless Plastic Flooring system is a permanent floor painted on. It is easy to apply over linoleum, resilient tile, wood or concrete. Because it is painted on, you don't have to cut around appliances, plumbing fixtures, corners, etc. — just paint around them.

The pre-finished paneling, Miraphy, is an ideal product to redecorate your home. You can redo an entire room or accent a wall, and it makes excellent shelves for the children's room. It is easy to install and adds fresh dignity to your home.

Harris also reminds customers that Harris Lumber Co. cuts plywood and lumber to lengths called for when bought, making Harris Lumber Co. a "service yard; not a lumber yard."

Monkey Business On Public Display

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — It will be an unusual moving day for three Atlanta families Tuesday. Three orangutan families are to be lodged in new quarters at the Grant Park Zoo after being transferred from Emory University's Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center.

"We want to see how three orangutan mothers and their babies will interact socially while living together as a community," said John Roth, zoo director.

The monkey quarters at Emory were too small for the test, he explained.

It is the first time the zoo has put any of these rarest of great apes on public display.

Percy Foreman To Help Defend Accused Slayer

HOUSTON (AP) — Attorney Percy Foreman of Houston says he will help defend Charles V. Harrelson, accused in the slayings of a Houston carpet firm executive and a Hearne grain dealer.

Harrelson, 30, is being held without bond in the Brazoria County jail at Angleton. He was arrested Nov. 20 in Atlanta, Ga.

He is charged with murder in the separate slayings of Alan Berg, 31, of Houston, and Sam Degelia Jr., 30, of Hearne.

Foreman said Sunday that Sam J. Lee, former Brazoria County district attorney, also will defend Harrelson.

A Hidalgo County grand jury at Edinburg indicted Harrelson in the Degelia slaying last week. The jury also indicted Jerry O. Watkins, 43, for murder and Peter Thomas Scamardo, 31, of Hearne as an accomplice in that case.

Degelia's body was found near McAllen July 11, five days after he disappeared while on a grain buying trip in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Berg vanished last May 28 and his skeleton was found Nov. 8 near Freeport.

Foreman also is defending James Earl Ray, scheduled to be tried for murder March 3 in Memphis, Tenn., in the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Life In Mansion Not So Bad, Mom

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The Brophy sisters, Mary Ann, 14, and Nancy, 13, have decided life with their family in their $300,000 mansion isn't so bad after all.

The girls, after spending a summer at a riding academy and boarding school, told a judge in juvenile court they would not return home because the mansion was the scene of wild parties and was "in a constant state of uproar."

On Nov. 4 a judge told them to choose between their home or juvenile hall. The chose juvenile hall but after four days in the detention home they said their tale of wild parties had been exaggerated and asked to return home.

On Friday, Superior Court Judge Edward R. Brand placed the girls on a year's probation and told them to obey their mother.

"It's wonderful to have them back," said Gloria Brophy Baker, who has five other children.

Says Connally Big Difference In Texas Race

AUSTIN (AP) — Albert B. Fay, Republican national committee man, said today he believed Gov. John Connally's work for the national Democratic ticket brought out as many as 20,000 votes for Vice President Hubert Humphrey and possibly made the difference in Humphrey's carrying Texas.

Fay spoke to the Republican State Executive Committee. Connally, he said, is one of the most popular governors Texas has ever had and was "a tremendous factor in the race." Humphrey defeated Nixon in Texas by about 40,000 votes, so if Fay's assessment is accurate, Connally may have made the difference between GOP success and failure Nov. 5, he indicated.

Fay also indicated in his election postmortem that Nixon lost the state because Democrats worked harder to register voters, because of the Humphrey rally in Houston's Astrodome and because of what Fay called "false propaganda," especially in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Three Public Hearings Set

Big Spring city commissioners will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in city hall to hold three public hearings, appoint a health officer, evaluate traffic commission recommendations and discuss remodeling the water office.

Requests for the public hearings come from Jack Becker, who has asked for a taxi franchise, and Russell Mauldin and Mrs. Claudine Terrazas, who have both applied for permits to sell beer.

Mauldin's permit is requesting on premise consumption at Master's Drive-In, located on FM 700, between Birdwell and Muleshoe Lanes. Mrs. Terrazas permit is requested for off premise consumption sale at Flatiron Canteen Store, 401 Lamesa Highway.

The commissioners will evaluate several recommendations made by the traffic commission at its last meeting, and discuss remodeling the water office. The water office will be remodeled to accommodate the new computer billing and accounting systems, recently installed at city hall, according to city manager Larry Crow.

Youth Shot In NS Fracas

The shooting in the left leg of a 17-year-old Northside youth has resulted in two charges of aggravated assault upon police officer Lynn Williams, against two men.

Pablo Viera, 17, received three gun-shot wounds in his left leg early Sunday morning, when a disturbance broke out in a residence at 215 NE 8th. He was taken to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

The two assault charges were filed in county court against Clarence Yanez, 24, and Prospero Yanez, 21. Justice of the peace Jess Slaughter set bond at $1,500 for each man. Another man was charged in corporation court with drunk and disturbance.

Fact-Finding Envoy Arrives In Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — Former Gov. William W. Scranton, President-elect Richard M. Nixon's fact-finding envoy, arrived in Israel today on the last leg of his Middle East tour. He said it is important U.S. policy become more even handed in the area.

"The United States must take into consideration the feelings of all persons and countries in the Middle East and not necessarily one country over another," Scranton told newsmen after he crossed the Jordan River. He came from Amman, the Jordanian capital.

Holding a news conference on a muddy road leading from the Allenby Bridge, Scranton said that in Cairo he had received no indication of what kind of solution to the Middle East situation the Egyptians want.

"They seemed reasonable in their attitude," he said.

Asked if Jordan supported a separate peace with Israel, he replied: "They didn't tell me exactly what they want. I think this position is justified."

Scranton said that he had reached no conclusions yet.

"I don't make conclusions until I see everybody—and I have not met the Israelis yet."

He was met by the U.S. consul-general in Jerusalem, William Campbell, and officials from Premier Levi Eshkol's office and the Foreign Ministry.

Scranton was scheduled to meet Eshkol and Foreign Minister Abba Eban later today in Jerusalem. Tuesday he confers with Deputy Premier Yigal Alon and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan.

Clay Shaw's Plea Fizzles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to stand in the way of trial of Clay L. Shaw on charges of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Shaw, a retired New Orleans businessman, had appealed to the court for "sanctuary" from Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's impending prosecution. Shaw claimed he was the victim of "a concerted pattern of persecution."

Only rarely do federal courts act to block state-court prosecutions. The Supreme Court gave no reason for refusing to block Shaw's trial or to give him a hearing.

Shaw, 55, also sought to make the Warren Commission report binding on all courts in the country and to have Louisiana's conspiracy laws declared unconstitutional.

The Warren Commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, declared Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, assassinated Kennedy in November, 1963.

Garrison's theory is that Shaw conspired with Oswald and others to murder Kennedy.

Shaw said Garrison's prosecution is designed to intimidate those who disagreed with the conspiracy theory. Shaw said Garrison did not expect to obtain "a valid conviction."

Warren took himself out of the case.

Crash Sends 5 To Hospitals

Big Spring's mayor and four other people were taken to local hospitals Sunday afternoon after they were involved in a two-car collision.

Mayor Arnold Marshall, 700 Highland, was released this morning from Cowper Clinic and Hospital after spending the night there for observation. Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Dick Ream, 508 Highland, both passengers in the car driven by the mayor, were reported in satisfactory condition this morning at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Mrs. Michael Raymond Guffey and her child, both passengers in a car driven by Mr. Guffey, 905 Lancaster, were taken to Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation where they were treated for minor injuries and released. Neither Dick Ream, also a passenger in the mayor's car, nor Michael Guffey, appeared to have received injuries.

The collision took place at the intersection of Goliad and FM 700. The mayor was driving north on Goliad, and Guffey was driving west on FM 700 when the mishap occurred.

In a minor accident Sunday Alvin David Gilbert, Big Spring, and Shelly Virgil Allen, Plainview, collided in the intersection of Fourth and Bell.

Closing Of Refinery Dims Party For Veteran Workers

COLORADO CITY — The patient is still alive, but the Col-Tex refinery services for Col-Tex refinery were held here Friday.

The occasion was the traditional old-timers party where veteran workers are honored. Hanging over stabs at gaiety was the shadow of a Jan. 12 projected closing date for the refinery, first in the Permian Basin.

It is a victim of progress and modern technology. Cosden Oil & Chemical, the parent company, is completing a modern crude unit that will process more oil than the old Big Spring and Colorado City plants combined. When it comes on stream, the old crude unit at Big Spring and the Col-Tex plant will shut down.

For some it will mean retiring, for others it will mean moving or commuting to Big Spring, and for some it may mean a reduction in scale in order to maintain job continuity.

Kiwanians, Kids Await Yule Party

Each member of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club has been charged to provide three Christmas toys to be presented to that many boys and girls at the Kiwanis Club Annual Christmas party in West Side Park. The party is Thursday noon.

Apparently the number of boys and girls who are to share in the party is larger this year than in the past since it was found necessary to ask each Kiwanian to provide one extra present from the old custom of two gifts per member.

Wives of the Kiwanians will be busy Thursday morning assembling ham sandwiches and preparing cookies. The Kiwanians will dine with their young guests and the menu will feature the two items named. There will be plenty of cold drinks on hand.

The party is staged in the community building at the west end of the park property. Arrangements have been made with schools which serve the kids in the area to have them at the park at noon.

A Christmas tree will be in

Bandit Attacks Big Spring Man

Salvador Flores, 312 NE 9th, reported to police he was attacked and robbed Sunday morning. He reported his loss at $80 cash, plus a $68 check.

Julio Perez, Garden City Rd., said his six-string guitar was taken from his car early Sunday morning while it was parked at Herman's Cafe and he was inside eating.

A short Christmas program will be presented but the basic idea is to let the kids eat, get their presents and be back in their school rooms on time.

All Kiwanians are asked to be at the park by noon.

Presents purchased by the Kiwanians should be left at the office of Horace Reagan, 207 West 4th, not later than Wednesday afternoon, D. O. Lovelady, chairman of the Christmas party committee, said.

The Kiwanis Club limits the amount a member may spend on a gift to $2. It is also urged that the presents bought be playthings of some type rather than "practical" gifts.

The club will not meet at the Hotel Settles this week but will resume its regular sessions there on Dec. 19.

Caldera Wins In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Three-time loser Rafael Caldera of the Social Christian party narrowly won Venezuela's presidency today after a tense week of ballot counting.

The Supreme Electoral Council declared the 52-year-old lawyer-politician winner of the Dec. 1 election at 4 a.m. today, giving him a plurality of 31,071 votes over Gonzalo Barrios, Candidate of the ruling Accion Democratica party.

Out of six candidates, Caldera got 1,062,941 votes, or 29.09 per cent, and Barrios got 1,051,870, or 28.24 per cent.

Caldera is Venezuela's fourth popularly elected president. He is inaugurated next March, it will be the first peaceful surrender of the presidency to an opponent.

When the decision was announced, Caldera embraced well-wishers at his suburban Los Choros home while his supporters filled Caracas streets waving the green party flag and honking car horns.

The victory capped a 35-year career in politics for Caldera, who is considered moderately right of center. He ran unsuccessfully for the presidency in 1948, 1958 and 1963.

For his fourth attempt he chose an ambitious reform platform that drew charges of "fascism" from his opponents and won Caldera the lowest percentage of the popular vote ever awarded a Venezuelan president. His reform program appeared threatened by his failure to get a congressional majority.

Caldera's inauguration will make him Latin America's second Social Christian president and will end 10 years of Accion Democratica rule. The other Social Christian president is Chile's Eduardo Frei.

President Raul Leoni, who was barred by the constitution from re-election, the five unsuccessful presidential candidates and the country's armed forces all pledged to respect the election results, whatever the outcome.

Will Make It Through Marine Boot Training

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Younger men than Carl E. Herring join the U.S. Marines. But few are so persistent.

After 11 years and four tries he graduates from boot camp today.

"I never dreamed of any other life," says Herring, now 28, who wants to be a drill instructor.

In Temple, Tex., Herring quit school after the sixth grade at 10 years old and worked in a variety store, then in a Dallas cafe until his 17th birthday arrived and he could enlist.

His determination started to get a real test. On a Marine obstacle course Herring broke his knee and was sent home with a medical discharge. He paid for corrective surgery, then flooded the Corps with letters asking for a medical waiver to get back in.

The Marines said yes, on condition Herring pass its physical requirements. In June he re-enlisted. He broke his arm July 7. On July 28, the day the cast came off, he was washed out of boot camp again, a victim of meningitis.

After three weeks in a hospital, he was back beginning boot camp the fourth time.

"The training is getting easier over the years — a little too easy, I think," says Herring.

The leader of his 70-man platoon, Staff Sgt. Howard Garcia, was a recruit along with Herring in the same company at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot in 1957.

Both Garcia and 1st Lt. Michael F. Valdez, commander of the 1st Battalion, say Herring is "a good man, a good Marine."

Since his first enlistment Herring has married and is the father of two girls.

In Albuquerque, N.M., his wife, Mitsy, 24, lives with her parent and attends beauty school. Does she understand why Herring fights so doggedly to become a Leatherneck? Carl said, "Maybe not, but she wants me to do what I want."

And what Carl Herring wants is to be a Marine.

Dear Abby

Study May Mean Experimenting

DEAR ABBY: Larry and I are high school sophomores. We have been going steady for a year and plan to marry when we graduate.

Larry heard about a very good book on sex and marriage, and he wants to get it so we can study it together. It is not dirty, Abby. It was written by a doctor and is supposed to have a lot of good stuff about the importance of sex as it relates to married life.

The reason I am writing is because I have always told my mother everything, and for some reason I haven't told her about this. I hate to sneak. What do you think?

LARRY'S GIRL: I think you haven't told your mother because deep down you know it's wrong. "Studying" a subject is sure to stimulate one's curiosity and interest. And there's no point in "studying" the violin if you have to wait two years to practice.

DEAR ABBY: I answer the telephone for a rather large concern. We have these two nice young fellows who do a real good job. But they could do better if their wives would quit calling them at work so much.

I can understand emergency calls, but these wives call up to ask, "Are you planning to work late?" Or, "We got a letter from Joe today." Or, "The baby cut a tooth." Abby, I know both these wives and I wouldn't hurt their feelings for the world, and I certainly wouldn't say anything to the fellows, but if you print this, they may get the hint. Besides, it's not fair to call a person at work to just gab about nothing on company time.

TELEPHONE GIRL: DEAR GIRL: Your point is well taken. And may I add that when a man comes home after work and asks his wife "What's new?" It will give them something to talk about.

DEAR ABBY: I just finished a best-selling book on child rearing. The author said that when a child and his parents visit people, the burden of responsibility for the child's behavior is left with the child and the HOST! In other words, a child is more apt to obey an outsider than his own parents.

This really upset me, Abby.

When parents come to visit me and bring their children along, I don't think it's MY place to discipline their children. Can't parents see a child walking on the sofa? Why should I have to tell somebody else's child how to behave when his own mother is sitting right there? What's your idea? MRS. G. W.

DEAR MRS. G. W.: Same as yours. Some of the theories in child rearing books make fascinating reading, but unless they "work" they aren't much good. Don't believe everything you read.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "FLAT IN ATLANTA" not to feel so sorry for herself. If it weren't for US, those gorgeous, full-bosomed gals wouldn't look so good.

"FLAT IN BUFFALO" Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WEATHER PROBLEMS

Cotton Grades Dip, Prices Stay Steady

"We were able to keep current with daily receipts last week, as fields in most areas were still too wet for any harvesting activities," said B. B. Manly Jr., officer in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Cladding Office, Abilene.

In areas where fields had dried, it is apparent that the cotton had not dried sufficiently as the number of bales increased considerably last week. Tractor loads of cotton on a gin yard should be sheltered as much as possible from rain as ginning cotton when it is wet does tend to lower its grade, he said.

The office processed 19,000 samples last week compared to 25,000 for the same week last year. The season total now stands at 355,000 compared to 119,000 at this time a year ago, Manly said.

Grades were down some last week with 27 per cent in the white category, 69 per cent in the light spotted category, and four per cent in the spotted category. Seven per cent were bark bales and one per cent were grass bales.

Staple length was up a little with 31 the predominant length at 47 per cent. Other lengths were: 30, 28 per cent; 32, 15 per cent; 33, five per cent; 34, three per cent; and 35 and longer, two per cent.

Uneasiness Felt By Most Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — Uneasiness was felt in Prague today over a weekend Soviet-Czechoslovak summit meeting held in the Ukraine amid the kind of secrecy that was common before Alexander Dubcek came to power.

The two-day talks in Kiev covered "issues of common interest" including "further development of cooperation" between the two Communist parties and countries, a vague communique issued Sunday in Moscow said.

It said the talks "passed in a cordial atmosphere, in comradely and friendly spirit." The language was warmer than that used to describe previous Soviet-Czechoslovak meetings but there was no mention of "complete unity of views"—the Communist phrase to describe agreement fully satisfying the Kremlin.

IN THE DARK
Most Czechoslovak officials and the local press was kept in the dark about the meeting until after it was over. This was in marked contrast to nearly all earlier meetings which Communist party chief Dubcek and his associates held with Kremlin officials, both before and after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

The extreme secrecy was a blow to Czechoslovak journalists, intellectuals, students and factory groups who have been protesting the drastic curtailment of information since the invasion.

Journalists have been working to establish a dialogue with the authorities and to reopen channels of information. Two weeks ago all leading cultural unions adopted a resolution warning that despite all promises the government was returning to "a closed-door policy of secret dealings and agreements... without any possibility for citizens to criticize or take part."

The Soviet delegation was headed by Communist party General Secretary Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin.

'INNER EIGHT'
Some concern was felt in Prague that the progressive Dubcek was virtually isolated on his five-member delegation because the four men who accompanied him are regarded as members of a growing "center" group that stresses accommodation to Soviet demands rather than preservation of Dubcek-era reforms.

The four were President Ludvik Svoboda, Premier Oldrich Cernik and Deputy Premiers Gustav Husak, head of the Slovak Communist party, and Lubomir Strougal, head of the embryonic Czech Communist party.

Strougal, interior minister under the ousted Antonin Novotny, emerged as a fast rising political power last month when he was given a party secretaryship, a post on the party presidium and membership on the presidium's "inner eight" executive committee. He is regarded as pro-Moscow.

The Kiev meeting presumably covered the full range of Soviet-Czechoslovak issues, including the Czechoslovak party Central Committee session on economic reforms starting next Thursday and complaints about Soviet interference in Czechoslovakia's internal affairs.

Records Smashed In Rodeo Finals

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Brahmas barreled out the chutes and cowboys tossed their lariats for the last time this year Sunday as the National Finals Rodeo wound up a nine-day stand on a record-shattering note.

John W. Jones, Morro Bay, Calif., smashed the NFR steer wrestling record by posting a time of 6.5 seconds in the final round. That time gave him a total of 67.5 seconds for the nine steers, breaking the one-year-old record of Walt Linderman, Belfry, Mont., who turned the trick in 70 seconds.

Bobby Goodspeed, High Ridge, Mo., lowered the arena record in calf roping to 9.6 seconds, breaking a record set Saturday night of 9.9 seconds by Barry Burk, Duncan, Okla.

MONEY RULES
And George Paul, Del Rio, Tex., posted 87 out of a possible 100 points—the highest score of the nine days—to capture the final go-round of the bull riding competition.

The National Finals Rodeo is the World Series of the rodeo world, although it is not necessary for a cowboy to win at the NFR in order to win the world championship.

The world championships are determined on the basis of money winnings in Rodeo Cowboys of America rodeos throughout the year.

Italian Vote Leaders Test Rumor's Blueprint

ROME (AP) — Leaders of Italy's Christian Democratic and Socialist parties are putting Premier-designate Mariano Rumor's blueprint for a new center-left government to crucial ratification tests.

Rumor completed his coalition program Saturday after a week of talks with party leaders. It puts emphasis on university and pension reforms to ease the nation's student and labor unrest.

CONFIDENCE
The accord was ratified Sunday by the tiny Republican party, third partner in the coalition. If the leadership councils of the two larger partners pass his program today, Rumor is expected to present his Cabinet choices to President Giuseppe Saragat Wednesday or Thursday.

Political observers said Rumor's government could be ready to face the necessary votes of confidence in parliament by next Saturday.

In a last-ditch effort to dissuade the Socialists from entering another coalition, the Communist party newspaper L'Unita called for left-wing forces to join and block formation of the center-left coalition.

"A new and more advanced balance of forces can be built," wrote party Secretary Luigi Longo. He spoke of "workers, farmhands, and students" demonstrating side by side with "protest exploding everywhere." However, the Communist proposal appeared doomed.

STRIKES
Labor unions scheduled a series of regional strikes this week from Sicily to the Alps in quest of higher pay and better working conditions. Rome was slated to be hit with a bus and tram strike.

A Devotional For The Day

When we pray, believe that ye receive. (Mark 11:24)
PRAYER: I look forward to an unknown day, O Christ, but Thou art in it, and Thou art mightier than any evil that can come into it. Thou art kinder than any cruelty that can inflict it. Thou art more patient than any pain and more abiding than any agony. Therefore I will not fear, for Thou wilt be with me, even after the sorrow passes. For all Thy manifold mercies, I give Thee most humble and hearty thanks. Amen.

A Hot Economic Potato

The latest U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics report on the consumer price index (for October) is a shocker. It pushes inflation into the highest priority of problems facing the incoming Nixon administration.

Just before the November election, Chairman Arthur Okun of the Council of Economic Advisers told President Johnson the economic evidence indicated "that we have turned the corner toward price stability." That can be discounted as a campaign gimmick because the CPI — the cost-of-living barometer — had then risen only .3 per cent in August and 2 per cent in September.

Now comes the report that the October CPI jumped .4 per cent. Worse, the rise was general — " pervasive" the economists call it — and thus less likely to be a one-month accident. On an annual basis, the October rise would be seven per cent price inflation, more than double the three per cent considered tolerable, well over the Korean war peak of 5.9 per cent in 1951, and near the level where the wage-price-profit controls no one likes to think about would have to be considered.

Excessive inflation seems certain to continue through the high-demand fourth quarter of this year. But if it does not abate in the lower-demand first quarter of 1969 — if the tax-hike, spending-cuts brakes fail to take hold — the national economy will be in serious trouble indeed.

A continuing high inflation rate well into next year will compel the Nixon administration to make some delicate and difficult decisions, none of which can be politically palatable. For any action to check inflation will hurt a lot of people, though not so many so badly as inaction. The main hope, of course, is that the Vietnam war, the core cause of current inflation, can soon be ended, or at least reduced in cost while prolonged negotiations seek a final settlement.

Florida Stirs Up Problem

The State of Florida is about to stir up a hornet's nest. William D. Dover, a member of the boundaries committee of the Florida Commission on Marine Sciences, announced that the state will soon move to extend its boundaries beyond the territorial three-mile limit.

At the very least, a long and tempestuous battle in court is in prospect. Obviously Florida would like to take control of fisheries and oil and gas resources out to the Continental Shelf — the 100-fathom or 600-foot contour line. At the very least, it would like to get the same consideration that Texas did when the federal government granted it jurisdiction to a point three leagues or 10.35 miles seaward — but the Texas claim was based on a seaward boundary claim made by Spain and carried forward when Texas entered the Union.

Edward Weinberg, solicitor for the U.S. Interior Department, indicated the complexities involved in the Florida approach when he said: "Extending to the coastal states even a limited jurisdiction over natural resources of submerged lands seaward of present (three-mile) limits inevitably would involve them in matters which concern the relations of this nation as well as other nations."

For many years maritime nations have argued inconclusively the question of seaward boundaries. The United States and a number of other nations adhere to the ancient three-mile-limit formula, established when three miles was the approximate limit of coastal artillery. Peru, for instance, claims a 200-mile limit, and Mexico a nine-mile limit. While most nations seem to agree that a three-mile limit is no longer realistic, and while a 12-mile limit seems to have the support of many of them, agreement on a seaward limit has not been reached.

David Lawrence Reorganizing Executive Approach

WASHINGTON — President-elect Nixon is finding it necessary to reorganize the office of the chief executive. Somewhat similar attempts have been made by preceding administrations, and they reflect an evolution in the presidency from merely a cabinet type of government to the addition of an important echelon of advisers who deal with special topics rather than the administration of departments or agencies.

THE NEW president will before long need to define the responsibilities of his group of special advisers, setting forth where their duties begin and end, so that it will be clear just what the functions of the cabinet members are in relation to the men who sit at the elbow of the president every day.

Presidents in recent years have found that the White House requires not only an information-gathering staff, but advisers with a thorough knowledge of specific fields in public affairs. Mr. Nixon already has at work at least 14 task forces.

MR. NIXON has selected, as chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, Dr. Paul W. McCracken, professor at the University of Michigan's graduate school of business. He is also to be the overall chairman of the task forces.

Dr. Lee A. Dubridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, will be science adviser to the president dealing not only with the space program but with research in all fields of science.

MR. NIXON has chosen Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, the head of Harvard's international seminar and its defense studies program, as his assistant for national security affairs. He, of course, will not be issuing orders to the joint chiefs of staff or other officials in the Pentagon, but will devote himself to long-range planning. Basic policy will be made by the president, and such recommendations as come from Dr. Kissinger doubtless will be submitted to the defense department for study and comment.

A most interesting post has been given to Herbert G. Klein, who is to be director of communications for the entire executive branch of the government — a new concept.

Billy Graham

I read in the paper about a top golfer who says he has "inner peace." I play golf, and it is one game that literally manufactures frustration. How can a man find "peace" on the golf course?

M.W.

Golf is called a "relaxing sport," but I agree with you that many golfers don't get relaxation from it. For one thing, they take themselves and the game too seriously. It may be surprising to find out that about 20 top golfers on the tour meet together frequently for prayer and Bible study. Among these are many of the big names in golf. They don't win tournaments because they pray together, but their attitude toward life in general, obviously gives them a poise and a relaxed attitude toward their work.

I play golf, but I've concluded a long time ago that I am never going to break any course records, or become good enough to play exhibition matches. So I just play for self-entertainment, and the amazement of those who watch me. The feel of the green turf under my feet, the true flight of an occasionally well-hit ball, the companionship with good friends, and the prospect of improving one's health by good exercise, are enough to make it worthwhile. The Scripture teaches that "bodily exercise profiteth a little." I'm honest when I say that I've never been tempted to use unwholesome expletives on the golf course. The secret is: don't take yourself or the game too seriously. There are only about 150 top golfers in the U.S., and you and I are not likely to be one of them.

AS FOR relations with Congress, Bryce Harlow, who used to be an aide to President Eisenhower, will be the presidential assistant on legislative and congressional affairs and presumably will maintain contact with the chairmen of committees and other leaders in both houses.

Among the many task forces that have been set up to furnish the president with comprehensive studies are those which will deal with labor-management relations, crime and law enforcement, international economic policy, tax legislation, inflation, housing and urban renewal, public welfare, intergovernmental fiscal relations, education, and health programs.

MR. NIXON'S experiment in an expanded executive office is a logical outgrowth of the enlargement of the federal government. In 1940, for example, just before America entered World War II, the national budget was about 10 billion dollars, while for the year 1969-70 it is expected to be nearly 20 times as much, or around 200 billion dollars. It is due, of course, primarily to the fact that America today has more than 200 million people and a gross national product of 900 billion dollars, whereas in 1940 the population was around 133 million and the gross national product was only 100 billion dollars.

Fine Tuning Produces Sour Notes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Among the likely departures from Washington along with the Democratic administration is an economic idea, the belief that the economy can be fine tuned.

This is not to say that the economy never can be made to do the bidding of the monetary and fiscal masters, which are the Federal Reserve Board and those who control government spending and taxes.

But at the present time the attempt to give precise orders has failed. The economy has been disoriented, despite the theory that it can be regulated, manipulated, forced to respond in precisely predictable ways to government spending and taxes, and to the amount of money permitted to flow to business and consumers.

It was a contradiction also and it soon showed up in inflation. The New Economics, in theory, would have avoided inflation as dangerous to the economy.

Inflation, came however, as the New Economics fell defeated before political and other considerations.

In fact, the New Economics, the theory that sees Uncle Sam as not just the collector of revenue but the controller and manipulator of the economy as well, has not been used in three years.

WHEN AN attempt was made to put the theory back into practice earlier this year, some harmony but much discordance resulted. The fine tuners still were off their mark. Forecasting remained imperfect.

Instead of slowing under the weight of the surtax, economic expansion continued at an inflationary pace. Government spending was checked, it is true, but the consumer and business went on a spree.

Such extravagance was not foreseen. And last week fine tuning continued to produce sour notes.

Hal Boyle U.S. Is Full Of Veeps

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Being a vice president no longer makes you stand out very far from the crowd. America is getting to be a land of veeps. It is said there are now nearly half a million company vice presidents—a Gee Whiz item if true.

THE MORE people ride around in cars, the bigger their feet seem to grow. The average shoe size for today's hulking young men is 10-D, a full size larger than the average of only a dozen years ago.

Speaking of automobiles, how many do you have and how old are they? Nearly one out of every four U.S. families now own two or more cars. Some six million vehicles still on the road are 12 years of age or over.

Once a pioneer shows the way, others are usually quick to follow. Only 103 years ago, so far as is known, an Englishman named Edward Whympy first accomplished the formidable feat of climbing the famous Alpine peak, the Matterhorn. In favorable weather today, says the National Geographic Society, about 60 persons a day successfully scale it.

HOW ABOUT giving the U.S. farmer a pat on the back? He's getting more efficient all the time. Powered by machinery now rather than by the help of a lop-eared mule, he is able to grow enough food to feed himself and 42 other people, something no other man in history has been able to do.

ON SITE INSPECTION: The

To Your Good Health Punch Drunk Describes Brain Condition

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you please comment on encephalopathy with seizures? Please include the causes, symptoms, cure and prevention. I am a former boxer and I have had it for 25 years. Some people call me punch drunk.—W.S.

"Encephalo" part means brain; the "pathy" means disease. Hence disease or damage affecting the brain.

This can occur from infection, from intoxications (alcohol, lead poisoning, and others), from physical injury.

It may or may not be possible afterward to discover which cause did the damage.

The brain, encased in the protection of the skull, is not easily harmed by light or moderate blows. A heavier blow is something else again. It can slam the delicate brain tissues against the skull. (Indeed, in some injury cases, a skull fracture may be preferable to suffering the same blow without a fracture. The fracturing absorbs some of the energy of the blow, and to that extent reduces the amount of energy applied to hurting the brain against the skull.)

This impact of brain against the inner wall of the skull is what we know as a concussion — an injury ordinarily of temporary nature.

The pommeling that a boxer takes can cause repeated injury, perhaps none severe enough to be recognized as a "concussion," but small hemorrhages can occur. Taken together, there is appreciable damage to the brain.

This can result in convulsive seizures, loss of balance, noises in the head, and a variety of symptoms. In the case of a boxer, we assume it is from repeated blows to the head, and we call it "punch drunk." Because balance and coordination may be impaired, he may be "walking on his heels."

I've seen some of these poor fellows on occasion, all alone shadow-boxing on a street corner. I've seen some others who never were in a ring, but with "wet brains" from too much booze.

It does not follow that because a man has been a boxer and has seizures that he is "punch drunk." Lead poisoning, and other such subtle, dangerous toxicity, can be the underlying cause.

There is no prevention except to avoid the damage — to detect lead poisoning in children, for example, and treat them before the poisoning has damaged the brain too much. (That is one of the dangers of being raised in ancient slum housing which still has lead paint in the interior and lead in the crumbling plaster.)

After the damage has occurred, anticonvulsant drugs can lessen the seizures, but that is about all that can be done.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am diabetic. My trouble is I love ice cream and eat one or two pints a day. Could this hurt me if I keep it up? I am afraid to tell my doctor. —J.P.

Depending on the severity of your diabetes and what else you eat, so much ice cream is probably bad for you, not only because of the sugar in it but the total calories.

Tell your doctor. You aren't fooling him by keeping it secret; you're only fooling yourself. So tell him the truth. If your diabetes is not too severe, he probably will let you have a little ice cream. Then stick to whatever amount he says is safe.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Kindly explain what effect transplanting of a heart has on the color of the eyes? —P.P.

None at all.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Grass Grows In Busy Places

One thing and another: I once heard about a parrot which was so profane that he taught a team of plumbers, called to his house, to swear.

WHY IS IT that, in some instances here, grass grows better in the streets than it does in appointed places.

Some insist that it is a sign of a declining city and a declining nation but that isn't necessarily so, since it thrives in some of the busiest thoroughfares in some of the busiest cities across the land.

One thing for sure, it is a harder brand of turf than the kind you feed regularly with vitamins and water all too often in order to mow once or twice a week.

Much of it is a thing called knotweed and it doesn't discourage easily.

THE PLODDERS in this old world go through life cultivating their suspicions of the thinkers and, no doubt, for good reason. The thinkers thrive, if only in their minds.

Consider the case of that entreprenizing operator of a used-car who uses his hear for sometimes besides a hat rack or a becoming wig.

He put this sign across the front of his place of business:

"Used cars for sale — I would give them away but my wife won't let me."

FOR THE person who you must admit has an education awaiting her, I give you that new mother who, walking away from the hospital with her baby in her arms, turned to her husband to say:

"Oh, dear! I forgot to ask the doctor what time we should wake her in the morning."

THOSE RACISTS who would "Send all the Negroes back to Africa" have never accepted the fact that the modern Negro is as American as apple pie.

His antecedents may have come from Africa but he was born and grew up here. Furthermore, he is regarded by the African as an American.

Some of the Negroes who have ventured back to Africa, perhaps to try and find their identity, hoping to be loved because of their pigmentation, have discovered they are treated as foreigners. In other words, their color does not make them immediately acceptable to Africans.

Holmes Alexander Revitalizing The State Department

WASHINGTON — The State Department is the "sick man" of government. Richard Nixon will have to apply radical surgery in order to revive this fabulous invalid. It is not too simplistic to write that the State Department may get a heart-transplant from the Pentagon. In other words, the revitalizing could take the form of "militarization." These specifics which are being advised:

COURTS OF INQUIRY: When a commander loses his ship, he is brought before a Navy board. His case is judged, not in reference to his personal career, or the prestige of his branch of service, but strictly in reference to the national interest. But when a diplomat makes a blunder, he is tried "in the corridors" by the department gossip-mongers. If the offender is a nice guy, and if the Foreign Service or AID or USAID or the Peace Corps would get a black eye, the national interest is often waived. If Mr. Nixon takes some available advice, he will institute court-martial type inquiries into diplomatic disasters.

Pentagon makes a fetish of its Zero Defects program, aiming at it not achieving perfection in materiel. The Armed Services also upgrade their officer-personnel by frequent refresher courses at the universities. Rigorous inspection by the State Department might have exposed the serious defects in our diplomatic "front line" in Vietnam after the French defeat of 1954. In the critical period, 1957-1963, three different "desk officers" rotated in charge of Vietnam affairs. Their immediate superiors were also playing musical chairs in the game of rotation; in the eight years of 1957-65 there were six different assistant secretaries for the Far East. At the Saigon embassy in this critical period only two U.S. officials had records of Vietnam language training. In this and other "hardship" posts, the personal interests were served instead of the national interests when it came to transfers.

ACCENT OFF YOUTH: Careerists for the several civilian agencies which serve overseas are now recruited and examined at the collegiate age-level. These rookies are given written examinations, but the passing grade of 70 is flexible. If the State Department, or some other diplomatic agency, needs 200 recruits, the top 200 are automatically graded from 99 down to 70, regardless of how they answered the questions. Many immature men and women are inducted by this method. The advice to Mr. Nixon that diplomats be recruited in the higher age groups and from persons who have already proved themselves in business, politics or the military, with emphasis on the latter.

THE HEART TRANSPLANT: If the State Department's foreign service and related agencies were "militarized" (this is a high-frequency term in much of the constructive criticism), there would be forward-programming as there is in weaponry. It was well known after 1954, and better known still after 1961, that we had an interventionist policy in Vietnam, but none of the three secretaries of state had a training program to back up our increasing involvement. The same storm signals today are flying in the Middle East and Pakistan, to say nothing of East Europe.

The Republican campaigners often spoke of "preventive diplomacy." It means action instead of counter-action in foreign affairs. It means forward-programming and the heart-transplant of military-type discipline.

Texas Dreamers Tollroads Change Directions

By SHELBY HAGER
Associated Press Writer

Texas Turnpike Authority officials no longer foresee as they once did, super toll highways crisscrossing the state.

Instead, the state agency has turned its attention to adding metropolitan areas to finance relatively short tollways demanded by growing commuter traffic from the suburbs.

And the dreamers are beginning to focus on imaginative mass transit systems financed by the authority.

OFFICIALS POINT with satisfaction to the success of their initial venture, the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike, now in its 11th year.

Their second project, the 9.3-mile Dallas North Tollway, will end its first year of operation Dec. 21. Officials report an average daily volume of 26,000 cars since mid-summer.

"This means we've got two winners on our hands," one Turnpike Authority official said. "It's a lot like oil well drilling."

The North Dallas project signalled the change in direction of Turnpike Authority thinking. When the agency began in 1953, several long-distance toll projects loomed as possibilities.

Some planners predicted four-to-six-lane toll roads from the Dallas-Fort Worth area to Houston, Austin-San Antonio and north to Oklahoma City.

Board Chairman Clyde R. Ashworth said such thinking proved impractical after the federal government joined state agencies in creating a massive super highway system.

municipalities of Highland Park and University Park, both encompassed by Dallas.

Other cities considered likely prospects for the services of the authority are Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

"We will work with any governmental unit that requests our services," Ashworth said. "The only other requirement for a project is approval of the route by the State Highway Department."

Under the 1953 law creating the Authority, roadways built with funds from its revenue bonds become toll free segments of the state highway system when the bonds are retired.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike cost $58.5 million. Its bonds mature in stages through 1965. Officials point out, however, that retirement is well ahead of schedule.

J. H. DAVIS, the authority's engineer-manager, reported recently that bond retirement by 1967 totaled $11.5 million when the schedule called for only $6.5 million.

"This type of financial record over the past decade interests planners in large cities facing a demand for urban road systems but lacking funds," Davis said.

The veteran planner has directed the authority's operation since it was created. He will retire the end of the month.

Officials said the authority actually stands as a common denominator in expensive highway building. It has the prestige of a state agency in selling revenue bonds but does not obligate the state.

"We have here the faculty to provide needed freeways at little expense to the municipality," Davis said. "Also, each project must stand independently — one cannot be financed by another."

SUCH A HIGHWAY already serves between Dallas and San Antonio, touching Waco and Austin en route. And a similar freeway edges slowly from Houston toward Dallas.

"The success in recent years of the Texas Highway Department has made it obvious that our toll service lies in areas where need exists but state funds are limited," Ashworth said. "This leads us to intracity freeway development obviously."

Dallas' toll facility required Authority financing of $33.5 million through the sale of revenue bonds. The freeway penetrates into the heart of North Dallas from the downtown area. In its path are the independent

Steelers Touchdown

Steelers tight end John Hilton (82) falls across the goal line for a touchdown after catching a 37-yard pass from quarterback Dick Shiner in the second quarter of Sunday's game at Dallas. Defending against the pass was Dallas' Cornell Green (34) and Mike Gaechter (37). The Cowboys won 28-7.

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys' long-dormant punt return game came to life Sunday and so did quarterback Don Meredith. The result was a 28-7 thrashing of Pittsburgh and the building of momentum for the Dec. 21 National Football League Eastern Conference championship in Cleveland.

Big Spring JVs Win Second At Snyder Meet

A strong finish by Plainview knocked the Big Spring junior varsity out of the championship Saturday of the Snyder Junior Varsity basketball tournament, and the Shorthorns had to settle for second place by 70-53. The Shorthorns gained their finals berth by rolling past Snyder, 69-64, with Jimmy Farris' 20 points and 16 more by Johnson. In the first round Big Spring smashed Lubbock 73-49 with Olague marking 18 and Johnson scoring 16 points.

San Angelo Wins 7th In Tourney

SAN ANGELO — Dallas Jefferson topped Houston Lee, 68-63, in the finals of the San Angelo Basketball tournament here Saturday night. San Angelo Central won seventh place in the tournament by flogging L. D. Bell, 72-52, after dropping an earlier game to Wichita Falls Rider, 66-64.

Midland Loses To Roswell, 75-53

MIDLAND — Midland High dropped a 75-53 decision to Roswell N.M. High School here Saturday night. Midland was playing without the services of Neil Ormond, who is out with a broken wrist, and Courtland Bivens, who was out of town. The loss was the fourth in eight starts for Midland.

Steers Meet Lee In Opening Tussle

The Big Spring Steers will open their District 3-AAAA campaign on the hardwoods here Tuesday night against the Midland Lee Rebels with the junior varsity tussle opening at 6:15 p.m. and the varsity tilt beginning at 8 p.m. The Steers, hampered by injuries and plagued by inexperience, are 4-6 for the season, while the tall, rangy Rebels have dropped only two games this season and are rated as third place contenders in the district.

Coach Kirby Pugh said the Steers will be without the services of James Brown, the team's highest scorer, who has an arm infection and will have to sit out the tilt on the bench. Claude Tucker, who was injured during football season, has yet to report in uniform. Midland relies heavily on the service of Randy Prince, a 6-8

ODESSA PERMIAN TO MEET SMILEY AT AUSTIN

Upsets Set Stage For Semifinal Games

By The Associated Press
The top 16 schoolboy football teams in Texas begin tuning up today for the weekend's semifinal playoff rounds, the prelude to next week's championship showdowns. Some unexpected faces appear in this week's games, the result of several upsets in last week's quarterfinals. Houston Smiley, unranked in Class AAAA, pulled the big shocker Saturday, upending Dallas South Oak Cliff, the No. 1 ranked Class AAAA team, 7-0. On Friday night, Galveston Ball, ranked No. 2 in Class AAAA, tumbled before Houston Washington 22-9. In Class AA, No. 2 ranked San Antonio Randolph lost to Klein 24-8. Defending Class AAAA champion Austin Reagan goes after its 28th straight victory in a semifinal contest against Houston Washington. Smiley plays Odessa Permian in the other AAAA game. Surprising Lubbock Estacado, which has advanced to the semifinals in its first year of competition in the University Inter-scholastic League, plays No. 1 ranked Henderson, in the Class AAA highlight. Alvin meets Re-fugio in the other semifinal match. Class AA powerhouse Iowa Park and top rated Poth in Class A are favored to advance to the finals in their games this week.

Claiborne For Baylor? Officials' Blunder Costs Rams A Down In Last Drive

By The Associated Press
Roman Gabriel got a close-up look at the broken down Chicago Bears... and found himself eyeball to eyeball with the Monsters of the Midway. The Baltimore Colts watched Gabriel's nightmare—including a misplaced fourth down—unfold from a safe distance. But those big, bad Bears looked beautiful to them. Just beautiful. The Bears, riddled by injuries earlier in the National Football League season, rose up Sunday to terrorize Gabriel and topple Los Angeles 17-16, handing Baltimore the Coastal Division title and keeping their own championship hopes alive. The loss eliminated the Rams one week before their anticipated season-closing showdown with the Colts. The victory kept Chicago tied for first place with the Minnesota Vikings, who trimmed San Francisco 30-20, in the Central Division stretch race. The Bears take on Green Bay and the Vikings meet Philadelphia next Sunday.

Chiefs, Raiders May Need Playoff

By The Associated Press
Ever try to throw a football over a 10-story building and know where it's going? Quarter-back John Hadl of the San Diego Chargers had a similar problem, hard-throwing over the hulking, hard-charging Kansas City defensive line. "Those guys 6-foot-7 look 100 feet tall when you try and throw over them," Hadl said Sunday. Hadl managed to get the ball over them most of the time, but on six occasions it went into the hands of Kansas City players as the Chiefs trounced San Diego 40-3 and knocked the Chargers out of the Western Division race in the American Football League. "The victory kept the Chiefs, 11-2, in a first-place tie with the Oakland Raiders, who edged Denver 33-27. Kansas City is at Denver and Oakland at San Diego next weekend, and if both win, a playoff will be held in Oakland. In other AFL action Sunday, the New York Jets, 10-3 and the Eastern Division champions, downed Cincinnati 3-11, 27-14 and Miami 5-7-1, blasted Boston 4-9, 38-7. Saturday, Houston, 6-7, ripped Buffalo 1-12-1, 35-8. Buffalo's season-ending loss became a victory of sorts when Philadelphia won its second game to make the Bills' record

Swimmers Win At Dual Meet

Carrie Bizzell won three first places as Big Spring High School girl swimmers participated in a dual meet at Andrews Saturday. Relay teams won a couple of second places, and Donna Moss lacked on a second. Coach Mike Harris reported, Saturday he will take his boys team to compete in a state meet at San Angelo. No high-point award was made at Andrews, but Carrie Bizzell likely would have won it, since she was on both second-place relay teams. Results included: 50-yard free style — Carrie Bizzell first, Cindy Hickson third. 50-yard breast stroke — Donna Moss second, Karen McKeller third. 50-yard butterfly — Carrie Bizzell, first. 50-yard back stroke — Carrie Bizzell first, Sherry Dickson fourth. 100-yard free style — Nancy Bortner third, Laura Campbell fourth. 200-yard medley relay — Big Spring second (Carrie Bizzell, Nancy Bortner, Sherry Dickson, Cindy Hickson).

Cooper Fourth At Plainview

PLAINVIEW — Abilene Cooper finished fourth in the Plainview tournament here Saturday, losing first to Plainview, 57-45, and then to Lubbock Coronado, 76-62. As it prepares to open District 3-AAAA play, the Cooper team now has won seven of 12 starts. Plainview defeated Midland Lee in the championship finals, 62-60. Lee was the defending titlist in the tournament. Randy Prince of Lee was named to the five-man all-tournament team. Robert Black of Cooper was also on the elite squad.

Abilene Edged By Richfield At Waco

WACO — Waco Richfield edged Abilene High, 72-68, in the finals of the Waco Invitational Basketball tournament here Saturday night. Abilene had earlier beaten Richfield in the Abilene tournament. The loss was Abilene's third of the season, compared to eight wins. Chris Smith, James Brown and Laurence Young of the Abilene team were named to the all-tournament team.

'WE'LL GET IT AGAIN'

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The crucial game was over, the season's joys and sadness were relegated to memory. Unlike the last three years, residents of this small Wisconsin city were not discussing the post-season National Football League outlook. Yet, there were no tears over the fallen champions, the Green Bay Packers. "We have to give someone else a chance to be on top," said Dan Van Dyke, a Green Bay resident. His companion agreed: "We have had the title a long time, and we'll get it again." Elsewhere around Green Bay Saturday night and Sunday, in the wake of the Packers' 16-3 loss to the Baltimore Colts, local fans repeated similar thoughts. Of course, they were sorry their team was no longer No. 1. But, as one woman said: "You can't expect to win it all the time." "These are sophisticated fans," said a veteran sports writer, Lee Remmel of the Green Bay Press-Gazette. "They are very very loyal to the Packers, but they also want to see good football."

Oil Trade Zone Deals Slammed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Interstate Oil Compact Commission said Saturday the nation's petroleum self-sufficiency is being threatened by certain companies seeking special treatment under the mandatory oil import control program.

The 33-state oil and gas conservation agency asked that the Interior Department grant no more special exceptions and, where possible, eliminate those already granted.

KANSAS ELECTED

A resolution adopted at the final session of the commission's annual meeting also renewed pleas that the Commerce and Interior Departments reject foreign trade zone applications that are in conflict with the objectives of the oil import control program.

No specific companies or trade zone proposals were mentioned but the conservationists left no doubt they were particularly concerned over an Occidental Petroleum Corp. application to operate a 300,000 barrel Machiasport, Maine, refinery exclusively on foreign oil and sell the plant's products in the New England states.

Gov. Robert B. Docking, D-Kan., was elected chairman of the commission, succeeding Gov. John J. McKeithen, D-La. Docking's father, the late George Docking, was chairman of the commission in 1960 while serving as governor of Kansas.

JEOPARDY

The resolution on imports was adopted after Minor S. Jameson Jr., Washington, D.C., had said special exceptions were destroying the control program's objective of maintaining a healthy domestic petroleum industry in the interest of national security.

The executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America said the domestic industry would be in serious jeopardy unless the Interior Department takes action to stabilize oil imports. He said special exception import quotas now exceed 677,000 barrels a day and will increase to 1,800,000 a day by 1972 if current federal policies continue.

MoPac Orders Freight Cars

ST. LOUIS—The Missouri Pacific System will order an additional 900 freight cars at a cost of about $15,400,000 as a part of its 1969 capital improvement program, Downing B. Jenks, president, has announced.

This new order brings to 1,769 the number of cars being purchased by MoPac for delivery next year, along with 24 new locomotives, at a cost of more than $40,000,000, Jenks said.

All of the new cars will be equipped with roller bearings for safer, faster operation. All box cars will be equipped with special cushioning devices which provide greater protection to freight in movement and with load restraining devices for better handling of freight.

In the past eight years MoPac has ordered 17,250 new freight cars and 372 new locomotives at a cost of more than $346,000,000.

Hong Kong Flu Really Strikes

NEW YORK (AP)—John J. Casese heads the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, a union that staged a work slowdown last month and blamed much of the absenteeism on the Hong Kong flu.

On Saturday, Casese was to receive the 1968 service award of the Columbia ESCA Alliance, an Italian-American group, but he failed to show up.

"He's at home," said City Comptroller Mario A. Proccacio, who was to present the award. "In truth and in fact, he's got the Hong Kong flu."

Miss Asia Data

The beauty queen measures 34-22-35, stands 5-foot-5 and weighs 108 pounds. She will receive $2,500, a wardrobe and an Asian tour.

Hyperion Club Views 'Life Of Christ In Art'

The meaning and spirit of Christmas was brought vividly to life Saturday afternoon for the 1930 Hyperion Club when Mrs. Adolf Swartz, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach presented the seasonal program, "The Life of Christ in Art."

The club met at the home of Mrs. J. Y. Robb, 606 Matthews, where Mrs. E. L. Powell was cohostess, and Mrs. Lester Morton, vice president, introduced the speakers.

"The image of Jesus Christ has been one of the great subjects of art for almost 2,000 years," said Mrs. Schwarzenbach, "and, for most Christians, that art has been almost the only source of their conception of his appearance. In our one authentic source of the life of Jesus, the Gospels, there is no physical description of him."

Mrs. Schwarzenbach explained that as Christianity spread in the pagan world, the desire for pictures of Christ increased, and the former pagans still needed visible symbols. There was also the problem of conveying the teachings of the Gospels to those who could not read, and pictures could serve this purpose. During this period, Christ was generally pictured as "the good shepherd," and later, a bearded Christ began to appear. As Christianity gradually became the dominant religion within the Roman Empire, the greatest artists in the Hellenistic and Roman worlds came to glorify Christ in works of art.

Mrs. Schwarzenbach showed prints of the world's most famous paintings depicting the life of Christ. Accompanying description of the art works and the painters was given by Mrs. Swartz, and Mrs. Patterson read appropriate scripture. At intervals, an a cappella choir of high school students, under the direction of Dan Conley, presented songs of praise, including "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Fairiest, Lord Jesus," "In the Garden," "Up From the Grave He Arose" and "Joy to the World."

Pictures described by Mrs. Swartz included interpretations of the Annunciation, journey to Bethlehem, the Nativity, adoration of the Magi, flight into Egypt, Christ among the doctors, tribute money, in the house of Mary and Martha, driving out of the money changers, the Last Supper and Christ at Gethsemane.

Among the concluding pictures were those of the crowning with thorns, the road to calvary, Christ on the cross, descent from the cross, supper at Emmaus and Christ at the Sea of Galilee. The final picture which remained on the screen as the choir appeared on the stairway to sing "Joy to the World."

Among the artists whose works were shown were Simone Martini, Pieter Bruegel, Botticelli, Gerard David, Florence Kroger, Hofmann, Masaccio, Tintoretto, El Greco and Rubens.

Mrs. H. G. Keaton, president, conducted a brief business session at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. Elmo Wasson presented a report from the club welfare committee, and the club agreed to make its special Christmas contribution to the Bobby Lepard family.

Mrs. Keaton poured hot spiced tea at a polished refreshment table centered with a massive, branched silver candelabrum with white tapers. Hors d'oeuvres and petits fours were served from china and silver appointments, and the buffet held a tiered arrangement of holly and votive candles flanked by silver candelabra.

White was the predominant color in the living room where the focal point was a large white Christmas tree trimmed with red and gold ornaments. The refreshment table was covered with a white organza cloth and centered with a small white log lighted with red holly berries and crystal snowflakes.

In another room egg nog was served from a table laid with a floor-length red cloth and centered with two poinsettias. The champagne fountain was placed on a marble table based in poinsettias, and in the den area, a long table, covered with a floor-length emerald green cloth, was accented with a "partridge and pear tree" arrangement. Copper appointments were used at the fondue table, and another buffet table held a white reindeer arrangement.

A 20-tree theme was used in the decorations. The main tree in the living room told the story, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," in colors of pink, silver and white decorations on a white Scotch pine tree with a silver sparkling cloth at the base. The refreshment table was laid with white and accented with beaded swags and wreaths decorated in red, gold and green. A silver service and milk glass punch bowl were placed on the table with silver and gold serving pieces. The centerpiece was a white flocked miniature tree flanked with four gold candle holders. Gold glitter reflectors, gold balls and gold glitter clusters of flowers and prisms decorated the tree. On the buffet, a white Palacio topiary tree was placed in a majolica urn and decorated with gold balls. White and gold boutique ornaments draped with pearls and stones hung from the ceiling, and placed beside the buffet was a white and gold decorated candle atop a gold column with two white birds. The hostesses were attired in white dresses, and houseparty members wore pastel colors or green. The corsages were gold bells entwined in red leaves with red satin ribbon. Approximately 450 attended.
