163 COUNTED Road Toll Posts Record

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents claimed a record toll of lives for a one-day New Year's observance during the holiday period which ended at midnight Wednesday.
Late reports pushed the count to 163 early today. The record for a 30-hour New Year's period since World War II had been 160, set in 1957. This also was the most recent time the holiday driving period ran 30 hours.
The National Safety Council had estimated that 200 to 260 persons might die in traffic accidents during the period which began at 6 p. m. Tuesday.
Bad driving weather was common throughout the Pacific Northwest, over much of the Great Lakes region and in a large part of the Northeast during the holiday.
Last week's one-day Christmas driving period accounted for 231 traffic deaths.

Quake In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An earthquake rattled buildings, furniture and nerves throughout Arkansas Wednesday, but apparently caused no injuries and no major damage.
State police said the tremor cracked walls and floors, and there were reports that dishes were broken but authorities found no major damage.
The shock frightened thousands of Arkansans, who swarmed police and news media with telephone calls. Estimates of the duration of the tremor ranged from five to 40 seconds.
"It felt like a train running across my house," said Joe Caldwell of Benton.
Only portions of south and southwest Arkansas apparently escaped the shock, which extended into southern Missouri. Residents of West Plains, Mo., near the northern Arkansas border reported two shocks — one at 6:38 p. m. EST, and the other about two minutes later.

CONG TERRORISTS Civilian Toll High

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today that terrorists killed at least 5,362 civilians in South Vietnam in 1968.
The year-end report also said 11,837 civilians were wounded and 8,556 kidnaped by the Viet Cong.
Terrorism includes Viet Cong assassinations, bombings, kidnappings and other acts of violence against civilians or local self-defense units.

Airliner Still Missing

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Mexican authorities were hopeful early today that a DC-3 passenger plane missing since Tuesday with 22 aboard has landed at an emergency airstrip between Reynosa and Tampico.
The craft took off from Reynosa, near the United States border, across from McAllen, Tex., about 2:30 p. m. EST Tuesday, officials said.
The plane, owned by the Mexican airline "SAENA," was chartered by workers for Peroles Mexicanos Pemex for a flight to Tampico to be with their families for New Year's Eve, airline officials said.
Communication with the plane failed shortly after takeoff from Reynosa, a spokesman said.
Authorities said the flight requires about an hour. They said slight hope existed that the plane landed at one of the emergency landing strips along the route.

Family Plane Sought

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A family of five from San Antonio was still missing today on a flight from Hattiesburg, Miss., to San Antonio.
Authorities identified the family as that of Liston P. Stuart. They left Hattiesburg Monday in bad weather.
Civil Air Patrol searchers in Mississippi and Louisiana flew missions Wednesday. They were aided by two planes of the U. S. Air Force.

Teenager Shot, Killed

WACO (AP) — Patricia Rita Davis, 19, of Waco was shot and killed early today while sitting in a car in Cameron Park in Waco.
Police said her companion, a soldier from Ft. Hood in Central Texas, told them that the girl was shot by someone who ran up to the car, fired a single shot, then ran away before he could react.
Police held the soldier, 21, for questioning.

The Winner

Nurse Jewel Fields holds Robert Allen White, first Howard County baby of 1968 and first born of Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Gene White, 3106 W. 9th.

Robert White Is Year's First Baby

Howard County's first baby of 1968 is Robert Allen White, born to Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Gene White, 3106 W. 9th, at 12:59 p. m. on New Year's Day at Cowper Clinic and Hospital.
Robert barely edged a baby boy born at 2:17 p. m. at the Welch AFB Hospital.
The first baby weighed in at eight pounds, eight ounces, and measured 21 inches in length. He is the first child born to Mr. and Mrs. White. The father has been an employee of Big Spring Tractor Company as a mechanic.
His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. White, 1211 Mobile, and Mrs. Mary Cottongame, Ellis Homes.
As the first baby born here in 1969, Robert's parents are entitled to receive a list of gifts from a number of local merchants and service agencies listed in an advertisement in today's Herald.

Capt. and Mrs. Danny J. Parnell, who reside at 1713 Purdue, Thursday morning had not named the second baby of the year. The young man reported in at seven pounds, 11 ounces. Capt. Parnell is assigned to the 3561st Student Squadron at Webb.
Drae Michelle Kruse, the first girl of the year, was born at 2:33 p. m. at Cowper Clinic and Hospital. Weighing in at seven pounds, four ounces, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wayne Kruse, Midland.

Band Goes On Rampage, Cause Heavy Damage

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A band of Negro youths went on a New Year's rampage, smashing plate glass windows and two telephone booths in Berkeley, a predominantly Negro neighborhood, causing damage estimated at several thousand dollars.
Seven juveniles were arrested Wednesday night and police had warrants for two other youths, all between the ages of 14 and 22.
The vandalism occurred on East Liberty Street, South Main Street, and Walker Avenue. The youths apparently began smashing windows around midnight New Year's Eve and continued into the early hours of Wednesday.
Damage estimates were in complete Wednesday as police were unable to contact all of the property owners.
Some Berkeley civic leaders and businessmen met Wednesday afternoon and decided to ask for more police protection.

She Didn't Know She Was Pregnant

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Helen Miller, a housewife who was described as a little overweight, started 1969 by unexpectedly giving birth to a 6-pound girl, although she said she didn't know she was pregnant.
The girl—the 36-year-old Mrs. Miller's only child—arrived at 12:47 a. m. Wednesday, shortly after Mrs. Miller and her husband left a New Year's party because she wasn't feeling well—a gall bladder attack, she thought.
"Everyone was surprised," she said at the hospital where the delivery was made, "especially my husband."
The Millers have been married for 13 years and have no other children. Miller, 37, is a postal worker.

Missing Coed Murdered, Body Found In Ravine

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The pretty 17-year-old daughter of an actress and a novelist, home on Christmas vacation from college, was found slain late Wednesday at the bottom of a thickly wooded ravine.
Dark-haired Marina Elizabeth Habe, daughter of Hans Habe of Zurich, Switzerland, and Eloise Hardt, was last seen when she left on a date Sunday night.
"She was definitely murdered," said Sheriff's Lt. Norman Hamilton who was at the scene when the body was recovered. However, he said the cause of death would not be announced until after a coroner's autopsy. Witnesses said there were no visible marks on the body.
"A lot of detectives have some ideas on this," he said, particularly walking patrolmen and K9 units. They said they will also ask police to enforce the city's curfew to keep the juveniles off the streets.

Bachelor Ready To Make Deal

OTTAWA (AP) — The most eligible bachelor in Canada—dapper Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau—says the new year may offer him time to take initiatives toward marriage.

Missing Coed Murdered, Body Found In Ravine

"and we want to hold off until we can investigate them. It's important that this body be properly examined."
ALARM
No arrests were made, but Sheriff's Lt. Harold White said an alarm had been issued for a car seen near the girl's home early Wednesday morning. He said the male driver tried to molest a woman.
The girl's home in the Hollywood hills is located about four miles from the ravine where Marina was found. Officers said the ravine: clogged with thick brush, is off Mulholland Drive, a road known as a lovers lane.
A search party found Marina's body about 30 feet down a slope. Searchers went there after a woman walking on Mulholland Drive reported finding a purse. In it were Marina's com-

SHOT WHEN CHASING THIEF Killed While Trying To Help

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Raymond Sansoucie, 30, stopped his car and gave chase to a purse snatcher after witnessing an attack on a woman.
Moments later, a shot was heard. Sansoucie fell in an alley. His wife, Ruth, 24, who was in the car with three of their four children, hurried to the scene.
Witnesses said Mrs. Sansoucie arrived only to hear her husband say: "I love you." He was pronounced dead a short time later.

The thief got away with the purse of Mrs. Maude Robinson, a widow. It contained $6.

The incident occurred New Year's Eve and the Grand Jury Association of St. Louis announced Wednesday a drive to set up a trust fund for Mrs. Sansoucie and her four children, Howard, 1, Raymond, 3, Deborah, who was 5 Wednesday, and Tammy, 7. Mrs. Sansoucie is expecting a fifth child.
Elmer Rosenthal, president of the Grand Jury Association, said, "This man made the ultimate sacrifice for society. I think society owes his family something."

Sansoucie, a Ford Motor Co. employee lived with his family at Cadel, Mo., a rural community about 60 miles southeast of St. Louis.

Kills Four, Injures Four In Shootout

WESTERNVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph MacLachlan, a metal cutter who shot and killed his estranged wife and three other persons in a Wednesday night rampage, put a bullet through his head today as officers closed in, police reported.

Mrs. MacLachlan, 31, was shot as she and members of her family sat in their home in this central New York village. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Turke Ringrose, 35, and Mrs. Ringrose's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara, were killed at the same time. The other four occupants of the house were wounded before MacLachlan left.

RAN NEXT DOOR
Police said he then ran to the next-door home of Mrs. James Pepper, apparently to try to get Pepper's 10-year-old son, James Jr., was fatally wounded.

Mrs. Pepper was critically wounded, as were three other persons. Mrs. Pepper was shot in the head and spine.
Two other of her children saved their lives by hiding in a closet.

MacLachlan, officers said, stole a jeep from a service station and began a flight into the rough country of the Adirondack mountains that sit just above Westernville.

Early today the blue jeep was spotted by state troopers. Dominick DePaola Jr. and Thomas Buck and they gave chase. MacLachlan fired three shots through the windshield of the troopers' automobile, then retreated inside a tractor sales house in the hamlet of Remsen, 10 miles east of Westernville.
DePaola and Buck were reinforced and volleys of shots were exchanged before MacLachlan shot himself to death.

NO MOTIVE
No motive was established immediately, but officers said MacLachlan and his wife had been separated for about two weeks. MacLachlan, 37, was a 6-foot 2-inch-tall man. He worked in Oneida, N.Y.

An alert went out for his arrest shortly after the shootings, which happened after 10 p. m.
A young girl called Oneida County Sheriff's Deputy James Campbell at 10:24 p. m. Wednesday and screamed: "Three people have been shot and I'm going to be shot next."

Campbell said "I don't know what happened. She let out a scream and that was the last I heard."
Mrs. Pepper and the other wounded were taken to Rome-

Murphy Memorial Hospital. Cynthia Ringrose, 11, Robert Ringrose, 36, and Perry Turke, 65, also were in critical condition.

Turke's 62-year-old wife like the rest of the injured, was shot more than once. She, however, was not listed as critical.
The Turkes, the Peppers and the MacLachlans lived side by side in the rolling, snowy hills of Westernville, their homes separated by small fields.

The officers involved in the Remsen shootout said MacLachlan never uttered a word.

HAMPERS
Near blizzard conditions had hampered the search which was concentrated in a 29-mile radius north of Westernville in one of New York state's snow belt areas. Roadblocks had been thrown up for miles. There were only three roads into Remsen, however, and the hamlet has a state police station.
In Westernville, which has no police force of its own, the residents, about 1,000, were in a state of approaching panic. Word of the slayings spread quickly. Most residents were awake with lights out. Many who owned guns got them out.

'GOT GUN'
"I'm not going outside," one resident told a telephone caller. "I've got my gun here and I'm not going outside until daybreak. Everybody in town is up, and everybody is scared. I'm scared to death."

Greek Gunman Forces Pilot To Fly Airliner To Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — An Olympic Airways DC-8 plane landed at Cairo airport today after being hijacked by a lone Greek gunman following takeoff from Crete for Athens, Egyptian officials said.

FIRES SHOT
Airport authorities said the pilot told them the hijacker fired a warning shot over the airman's head through the cockpit window when he tried to contact Athens airport. Officials gave this account.

The hijacker burst into the cockpit soon after takeoff and told the pilot to fly south to Egypt. When the pilot tried to warn Athens airport, the gunman fired the warning shot.

The hijacker was taken into custody and the plane's 97 passengers and five crew members were provided accommodations by Egyptian authorities until they return. Officials said the passenger list included 27 women and seven children.

Officials did not immediately identify the hijacker, but Cairo radio said he was George Lamoretz, 29, who had been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for opposing the Greek military regime in 1967.

The hijacker was taken into custody. The passengers were served sandwiches while the investigation went on.

Ioannis Georgakias, chairman of the airline, took a Boeing 707 jet to Cairo to bring the passengers back to Athens.

ONASSIS
The airline is owned by Aristotele Onassis, who interrupted a New Year's holiday with his wife, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, and her children on the island of Skorpios to fly to Athens.

Israeli Planes Strike Arab Posts In Jordan

By The Associated Press
Israeli warplanes struck at Arab positions in Jordan today and on the Suez Canal. Israeli and Egyptian troops exchanged small arms fire.

An Israeli army spokesman said the warplanes roared in low over the Jordan River near Beit Yosef, 10 miles south of the Sea of Galilee, to silence guns that had fired on an army patrol.

JET ATTACK
A Jordanian army spokesman said six Israeli Mirage jets attacked the Ziglab Dam in the northern Jordan Valley with napalm, rockets and machine-gun fire but claimed they were turned back by anti-aircraft fire.

The spokesman said Israeli tanks opened fire on plantations in the Menshia Area. There were no casualties in either attack, he added, but a house near the dam and some plantations were damaged.

On the Suez Canal front, an Israeli army spokesman accused the Egyptians of opening fire south of Lake Timsah at Israeli troops on the occupied east bank. The Israelis fired back and there were no casualties in the 30-minute exchange. The Lake is about midway in the canal.

The army also said it intercepted and drove back a band of saboteurs who crossed from Jordan near Massada, just south of the Sea of Galilee Wednesday night. He reported the Israeli troops found an assault rifle and a bag of ammunition.

Jordan reported earlier that armed Israeli helicopters struck Jordanian forces in the southern desert Wednesday and that a Jordanian soldier was killed.

There was no admission of the attack from the Israelis, but the same area along the Jordanian-Israeli frontier was the scene of an Israeli helicopter attack Tuesday in which three Jordanian security police were killed.

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said that on Wednesday five Israeli helicopters crossed the frontier with a jet fighter escort and machine-gunned Jordanians near the frontier village of Gharandal, 40 miles north of the port of Aqaba. In addition to the soldier killed, two civilians were wounded in the attack, the spokesman said.

AFTER U. N. ACTION
The attack was reported less than 12 hours after the U. N. Security Council condemned Israel for the commando raid Saturday in which 13 Lebanese commercial aircraft were destroyed at Beirut's International Airport.

Because of the Beirut Airport attack, London underwriters announced a 500 per cent increase in war risk insurance rates for goods shipped to or from Israel and half a dozen of her Arab neighbors. For example, $240 worth of coverage will cost 90 cents instead of 18.

The spokesman also said insurance costs will double for cargoes outside the Middle East if they are shipped aboard vessels owned by or sailing under the flag of Israel or any of the six Arab nations.

Weaknesses In Antipoverty Program Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators have discovered that hundreds of high school graduates—and even some college students—have collected government paychecks under Detroit antipoverty programs set up to provide jobs and training for high school dropouts.

In a report to Congress, the General Accounting Office cited this as one of "a number of discrepancies" it found in examining Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Detroit, where slums were scarred by a major riot in 1967.

NO WAY

The 82-page report also disclosed that—

—Inadequate screening allowed some youths to receive federal assistance even though their families did not meet the antipoverty program's low-income criteria.

—Antipoverty officials made little or no attempt to follow up on the progress of youths who completed training, and thus had no way to gauge the programs' effectiveness.

—Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

—The "weakness cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipoverty program requirements were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit.

GAO PROBES

The Associated Press reported last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipoverty agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent nonprofit corporation. The GAO report centered on 16 neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city Board of Education and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit.

More than half the $15.7 million in federal funds involved went to the first group, headed by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

The 16 projects fell into three categories. One type was set up to give 30 hours of work and 10 hours of training each week to school dropouts and a limited number of high school students. The second was designed to give part-time jobs of 8 to 15 hours a week to "young people who because of economic reasons are potential school dropouts." The third was intended to give summer jobs to disadvantaged youths. In each category, the enrollees were paid at least $1.25 an hour.

In its report, the GAO questioned the eligibility of more than half the 2,592 enrollees in an out-of-school program sponsored by the mayor's committee.

It said an examination of the files of 794 participants showed that 263—or nearly one third—were high school graduates. Only six of the 263 files contained the required "written justification" for allowing the graduates to receive federal paychecks.

The review indicated that about 15 enrollees (in the program for dropouts) were attending college or were planning to attend in the fall. The report said it said still another spot check turned up a dozen more enrollees who "had expressed an interest in or were attending college."

This occurred, the report said, in a city where 7,000 students dropped out of school in a single year. It added: "We believe that the comparison of the significant number of school dropouts who are potential enrollees in the out-of-school program with the large percentage of high school graduates who have been accepted into the out-of-school program in Detroit, indicates the need for the MCHRD (Mayor's Committee) to direct its recruiting efforts to school dropouts and the limited number of high school graduates which the program is designed to benefit."

Other spot checks raised questions about the eligibility of a third of the enrollees on the ground that their families were not in the low-income category. Local sponsors, the GAO said, should conduct "more careful screening of youths prior to their enrollment." And it said the Detroit office of the Bureau of Work-Training Programs (an arm of the Labor Department, should undertake effective and continuous monitoring" of the Detroit programs.

MONITORING

"We found a number of weaknesses in the operations of the sponsors in Detroit, which we believe could have been detected and corrected earlier through better monitoring by BWTP," investigators said.

The Labor Department, in a departure from a general rule had allowed local sponsors to use funds supplied by other federal agencies to hire personnel for job training projects, the report said. Salaries of these employees, although partially paid by the federal government, were considered part of the local sponsors' contribution. Thus, the GAO said, the Detroit sponsors actually contributed only 5 per cent of the projects' total cost instead of the required minimum of 10 per cent.

"We are taking no action concerning past violations of the principles involved," the report said. "However, the Secretary of Labor should take the necessary steps to ensure... that sponsors will not claim, as part of their required 10-per cent share, costs which have been reimbursed to them under other federal grant programs."

Northern Florida Nipped By Frost

By The Associated Press

Bone-chilling cold gripped nearly two-thirds of the nation today, its bite compounded by gale-force winds and heavy snows in parts of the Northeast.

The cold wave which broke out of the northwest early in the week and drove temperatures to their lowest mark of the season throughout the midcontinent swept and dropped the mercury near or below zero in the Northeast.

A hard freeze hit Georgia and Alabama and frost nipped northern Florida.

The Weather Bureau expected temperatures to drive to zero or below in portions of 30 states from the northern Rockies to New England and southward to North Carolina.

Biting winds drove the bitter cold onto the Eastern Seaboard. Heavy squalls along the eastern shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario dumped deep snows into portions of upstate New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

Fourteen inches of snow fell on the northern New York community of Boonville throughout New Year's Day to give the area a total accumulation of 40 inches. Six inches blanketed

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♥	Pass	1NT	Pass
2NT	Pass	2NT	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠

A difference in dummy technique by the respective declarers led to a sizable swing when this deal came up in a recent team of four match. The bidding was the same at both tables and against South's three no trump contract, West in each instance opened the five of spades, and declarer's ten won the first trick.

An examination of the combined holding revealed that, even if the jack of hearts was outside, the immediate trick total came to only eight—four diamonds, two spades, and two hearts.

South at the first table decided to work on the clubs. He crossed over to the queen of diamonds in order to lead the eight of clubs from dummy. However, East rose with the ace and returned a spade to dislodge North's ace.

When declarer continued clubs, West was in with the king and he cashed the king of spades—dropping South's queen—and ran the balance of the suit to register a two trick set.

Observe that, if East plays second hand low when the club is led from dummy, West's entry card will be driven out first and, when the spade suit is finally established, he is unable to regain the lead to cash out because East has no more spades.

At the second table, South took a less sanguine view concerning establishment of the club suit, for he saw that, unless spades were divided four-four, the opponents would shortly have enough tricks in that suit to defeat the contract.

He resolved to bank his hopes on the diamonds and hearts. After winning the first trick with the ten of spades, he crossed over to the queen of diamonds in order to lead the queen of hearts. This was ducked in all hands, and declarer continued with the jack. East covered with the king, South played the ace and, when the eight appeared from West, declarer's seven and dummy's nine became equal. The seven of hearts was led to drive out the ten, thereby establishing North's spot card.

When the diamonds split subsequently, South was able to cash out four diamonds, two spades, and three hearts. His skillful handling of the heart suit enabled him to develop his ninth trick before the opposition could establish the spades.

Ground Action Lull In Viet Continues

SAIGON (AP) — The year 1968 ended with the lowest weekly American death toll since the bombing of North Vietnam ended, the U.S. Command reported today. But the number of South Vietnamese dead was the highest in three months, indicating an increasing part in the war by the Saigon government's troops.

The U.S. Command does not comment on the activities of pilotless planes over the North. Since the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands did not declare a New Year's truce this year, there was no question of any violations. A U.S. spokesman said the war "went on at about the same level—it wasn't as bad as it has been and it wasn't as good as it could be."

The Viet Cong cease-fire ended at 1 a.m. Saigon time—about the time millions of Americans were turning on television sets to watch the annual bowl games.

Within a few minutes about 10 enemy shells burst on the U.S. Marine airfield at Marble Mountain, near Da Nang. A few hours later an artillery base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, 60 miles north of Saigon, was hit by about 65 mortar rounds. Casualties and damage were light, officers reported.

Viet Cong gunners also opened up on U.S. Navy river boats moving South Vietnamese troops along a Mekong Delta canal. Ten Navy men were wounded, and South Vietnamese casualties were described as "light."

President Tours Texas Hill Country With Pals

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — President Johnson's last New Year's Day in office was spent touring the Texas Hill Country with friends through the country to which he returns for good in less than three weeks.

Bundled up against the chill that enveloped the brown and barren countryside, the president and his friends visited a series of parks and historical monuments, including the LBJ Park across the Pedernales River from his ranch.

The group strolled through the park, due to be opened in the spring, and inspected the visitors center that will house artifacts of Johnson's career.

Johnson has visited the park almost daily since he arrived at the ranch Friday.

The next stop was in Kerrville, 45 miles from the ranch. The group toured another unopened park, Oak Crest, which is being developed by the city as a recreation complex.

Other stops during the day included St. Barnabas Episcopal Church and the two-room log cabin used by the founding congregation, a pioneer museum and the Adm. Chester Nimrod Memorial Museum at Fredericksburg.

McDuff Dodges Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A U.S. judge postponed the execution of Kenneth Allen McDuff Wednesday only hours before the young convict scheduled death in the electric chair.

U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals of Houston said the stay of execution would remain in effect until he could study complaints listed by McDuff's attorneys, Godfrey Sullivan of Waco.

McDuff, 22, of Rosebud, Tex., was convicted in 1966 in connection with the death of Robert Riland, 17, of Bethesda, Tex. He was accused of killing Mark Dunham, 16, of Tarzana, Calif., and Edna Louise Sullivan, 16, of Everman, Tex., recently.

The condemned man is housed with 32 other prisoners on death row at the Ellis Prison Unit. No death sentences have resulted in executions at the Texas prison since 1964.

Author Awarded Order Of Merit

LONDON (AP) — E. M. Forster, author of "A Passage to India" and other novels, was awarded the Order of Merit Tuesday, the eve of his 90th birthday.

The order, a personal gift from Queen Elizabeth II, is designed as a special distinction for eminent men and women.

Moist Air Moves To South Texas

By The Associated Press

Rains fell over much of the southern half of Texas early today as moist air moved in from the Gulf of Mexico.

Before dawn rain was recorded at most points in South Central and Southeast Texas and precipitation was spreading slowly north and eastward.

Rain-slick streets in San Antonio today led to a rash of traffic accidents, including a head-on collision on a freeway which eventually resulted in a 17-car tangle.

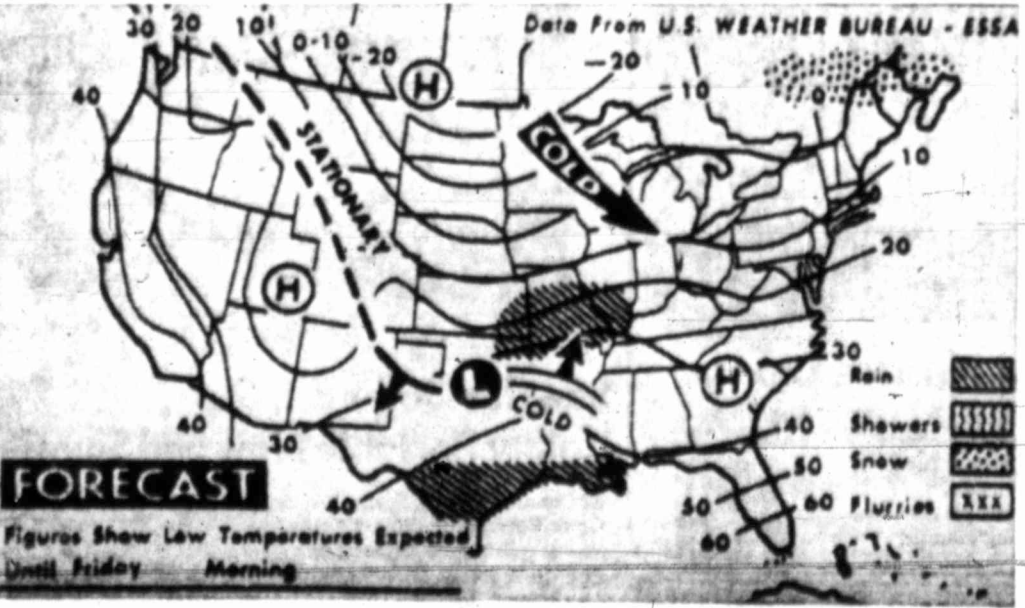

No one was injured in the accident but traffic backed up more than a mile.

The only area of the state reporting clear skies was the Panhandle.

Temperatures ranged from the mid and upper 20s in the El Paso area to the 30s in most of the rest of the state. Readings in the 40s were reported in extreme South Texas and near the coast.

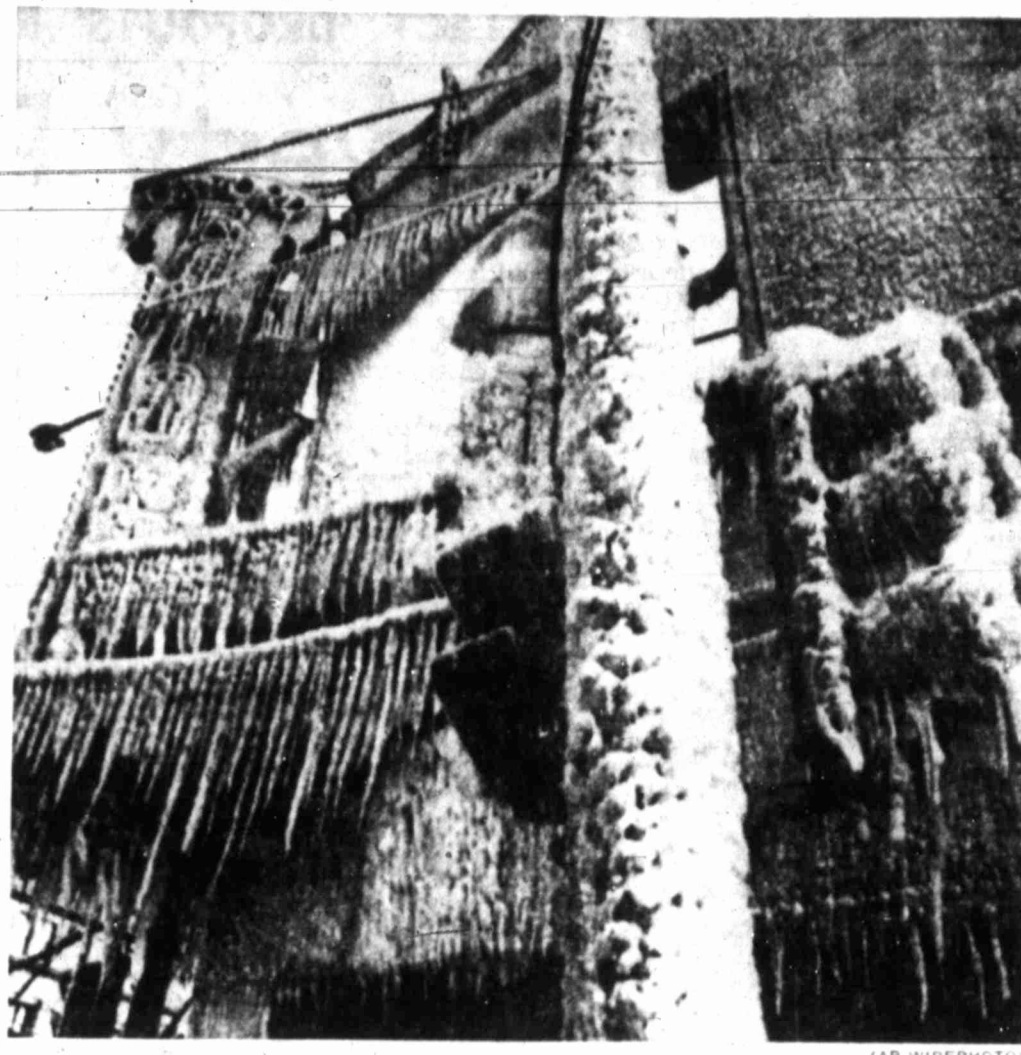

A warming trend was to continue with highs today forecast to range from the middle 30s in West Texas to the middle 50s in the extreme east.

The outlook called for more rain in South Texas and for moisture to spread over most of the eastern half of the state during the day.

Weather Forecast

Rain is predicted Friday across much of the Gulf Coast region and over the central Mississippi Valley. Snow is expected over extreme northern New England. Bitter cold temperatures will continue to grip the nation's mid-section with continued chilly readings over much of the remainder of the country.

After Fire Comes Ice

Subzero weather in Chicago left building covered with ice from water and spray when firemen brought fire under control. A Chicago fireman lost his life when he was trapped on second floor of the building, which was scheduled for demolishing. Fireman was veteran of 19 years in fighting fires.

North Vietnam Stands Fast On Its Last Offer To U.S.

PARIS (AP) — The long lull necessary setting here in Paris in negotiations to get the Vietnam peace talks going again months ago for one would hope that the fighting could stop during the year, as a result of the withdrawal of North Vietnam troops, was broken Tuesday.

The U.S. negotiator, Cyrus R. Vance, last bargained with Col. Ha Van Lau of North Vietnam over the shape of the conference table and other issues delaying the parley.

Two Texas Teens Killed In Car-Truck Collision

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Two teenagers were killed and three injured critically in a car-truck collision early today on US 277 between here and Eagle Pass.

The dead were identified by the Department of Public Safety as Elda Ramirez, 18, and Juan Robles, 18.

Listed in very critical condition at a Carrizos Springs hospital were Rosaria Ramirez, 16, a brother and Carlos Ramirez, 16, a brother of the dead girl.

Basilio Robles, 17, brother of the dead boy, was also listed in critical condition at a San Antonio hospital.

Wrong New Year Start For Four

THREES started the New Year off wrong for four Big Spring residents.

Mike Seale, 2300 S. Monticello reported a stereo, two speakers and four tapes were taken from his car while it was parked at the College Park Shopping Center. Seale estimated his loss at $56.

W. F. Blanchard, 1301 Wright reported the theft of two hub caps from his car which was parked at his home.

Homer Conner, 1605 Oriole reported the theft of four hub caps from his car which was parked in front of his home.

Mrs. Lois Marshall, employee of Ramada Inn, reported that a 3-foot-high lamp had been taken from the lobby of the motel. The lamp was valued at $100.

Minor Mishaps

Two minor accidents were investigated here New Year's Day.

A two-car collision involving Edison Taylor, 1208 Pennell, and Sandra Lee Webb, 1504 A Lincoln, occurred at Sixteenth and Pennsylvania.

Cars driven by Richard Dale Hopkins, Webb AFB, and John Clay Greenhaw, Big Spring were in collision at the intersection of Northwest Third and Scurry.

Water Money

KIRBYVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Some $170,000 in federal funds have been received by the South Kirbyville Rural Water Supply Corp. for the construction of a well, water treatment plant and 30 miles of line, according to Clark B. Smith, president.

Coming from the Farmers Home Administration the loan constitutes the major portion of the $175,000 needed to complete the water system.

Clean Sidewalks Idea Sounds Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Special vacuum cleaners may soon be cleaning the city's sidewalks.

Merrill Eisenbud, the city's environmental protection administrator, said Sunday he was looking for "some sort of a vacuum sweeper that we can take right on to a sidewalk and that isn't going to make too much noise."

Laukilders don't do enough to keep the sidewalks clean, Eisenbud said and the city may do the job for them and send them a bill.

1969 Under Way With Padded Feet

The new year came in with padded feet as far as Howard County law enforcement officers were concerned.

Highway patrolmen said that no accidents occurred on county roadways on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, and only one man was registered for time in the Howard County jail on Jan. 1.

Liquor By Drink Odds Look Good

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press writer

Thirsty Texans, a bottle in a bag crowd for many years, will find out again this year the legislature's mood on liquor by the drink. Pression comments look promising for drinkers.

The lawmakers who have made their opinion known favor liquor by the drink by about a two to one margin.

NO SALOONS

A few suggested letting the voters decide the issue in a statewide election on a proposed change to the Constitution.

"I believe a constitutional amendment is the only safe route for liquor by the drink," said Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena.

Liquor reforms, yes. Liquor by the drink, no, said Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview.

Texas liquor laws, which outlaw open saloons but permit private clubs for drinking and the Texas Liquor Control Board have been in full public view since the last regular legislative session in 1967.

The state attorney general's office and the Department of Public Safety reported after a five-month investigation that the agency was controlled to a great extent, by the very industry it was designated to regulate.

Thirteen board employees, including Administrator Cole Steadman, resigned or were fired. Five others were reduced in rank.

MINIBOTTLE

Liquor law revision however, passed in a special June legislative session. It was tied in with occurred when the shrewd lobbyist John Connolly's name and a truck driven by John Reves, 22, Ackerly, drew many observers thought that both vehicles were traveling north on US 87.

Even the most ardent "anti-minibottle" said Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo.

The board has replaced the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Price, also former Big Springers who now live in Lubbock.

The Shreves and the Price boys had come to Big Spring for the holidays, visit with friends and were on their way back to Lubbock.

Both Mrs. Shreves and Kirk were due to be released from the hospital today and were to return to Lubbock. The Price boys were here to accompany them back.

Two Injured In Accident

Two persons, both former Big Springers, were injured partially but not seriously, in a car-truck accident about 10 p.m. Wednesday four miles north of Ackerly in Dawson County on US 87.

Listed in good condition today in Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital were Mrs. Delbert Shirey, Iowa City, Iowa, and Kirk Price, 11, of Lubbock.

Mrs. Shirey suffered a shoulder separation and lacerations on the face. Young Price had a cut on his head.

Both were passengers in a car driven by Delbert Shirey, also of Iowa City, who was 20.

A Dawson County highway patrolman said the mishap occurred when the Shirey auto was struck by a truck.

Both vehicles were traveling north on US 87.

Mrs. Shirey is the former Julie Rainwater, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, formerly of Big Spring and now of Lubbock, Texas. She is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Price, also former Big Springers who now live in Lubbock.

Bizarre Mirage

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — From here, it looked for two hours Tuesday as though the Owl Creek mountains were turned upside down on Riverton, a city 24 miles to the northeast.

The weather bureau said it was just a bizarre mirage caused by refraction of sunlight in the crisp air over the Lander Valley.

A Devotional For The Day

This is the day which the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24, RSV)
PRAYER: O Lord, we thank Thee for each day of life. Teach us so to use each one that we may increase in knowledge and understanding and express more love and compassion toward other persons. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen"
(From the "Upper Room")

Possible Space Telescope

In a world of practical men, it is never easy to justify basic research, or even some of its technological offspring. Thus our space scientists and their supporters in the space industry have never gotten what they think they need in budgeted funds.
A new orbiting telescope may help to loosen the purse strings, though. This monster, weighing two tons, carrying 11 telescopes and costing about $75 million, is doing much to unravel some of the mysterious goings-on in space.
Earth-bound telescopes are strictly limited in their observations, astronomers have long known. The earth's atmosphere clouds our view even on the clearest days and nights.

Radio telescopes have recorded some curious signals from outer space, suggesting there are stars and galaxies that are invisible to telescopes on earth. The orbiting telescope may answer some of these questions and clear up some mysteries.
By expressing the need for space research in terms of a "race" with the Soviet Union, scientists have been able to pry surprisingly large sums of money from Congress. But the task becomes more difficult. There is so much to be done on earth. There isn't enough money to do everything we would like to do. Therefore, the space program has lagged to some extent and may lag much more in the months to come.

Brazil's Military Dictatorship

With North Americans' interest focused on so much else of keener immediate interest, little attention was given in the United States to the succumbing of Brazil to absolute military dictatorship. But this somber December event in inter-American affairs should seriously concern the incoming Nixon administration.

Brazil came under military rule in 1964 when the army ousted left President Joao Goulart, who took office after the strange resignation in 1961 of Janio Quadros less than a year following his election. Though Goulart's presidential powers were greatly reduced by temporary adoption of parliamentary government, the military charged him with subversive activities, corruption, ruminous inflation and by coup replaced him with the late President Humberto Castelo Branco.

Castelo Branco was credited with restoring order, gaining some control over inflationary forces, and keeping military rule within acceptable bounds. The military-supervised election of his successor, Arthur da Costa e Silva was generally expected to begin a cautious effort toward returning Brazil to constitutional civilian government.

Now the opposite has happened. After a rebuff from what the military considered a subservient Congress, President da Costa e Silva recessed Congress, suspended constitutional guarantees, and took over indefinitely with government by executive decree. Press censorship and jailing of political opponents are among the dictatorial excesses.

It is troubling that there is so little that the United States or the Organization of American States can do about it. U.S. inter-American aid is now at so low a level that it affords little leverage for influence. And Brazil is so big that half the area of South America and nearly 40 percent of Latin America's population, that the OAS can be no more than a persuasive while it is the prerogative of neither to interfere in the internal affairs of member nations, both should explore every feasible approach toward encouraging the Brazilian military to turn back toward a real effort to restore political freedom in that troubled land. And a critical review of our own inter-American policies is now in order.

Getting Used To Truth-Tellers

WASHINGTON — David Kennedy and George Romney are the two Mormons on Mr. Nixon's cabinet, and both are compulsive truth-tellers. Mr. Kennedy, the incoming Secretary of Treasury, proved in his first press conference that he cannot tell a lie. He cannot even dissemble. Falsification is against his religion and against his nature. Compulsive truth-telling may be a political liability, but it's a public asset, and we'd all better accommodate ourselves to that double axiom.

I HAVEN'T interviewed Mr. Kennedy, but I have interviewed a financial wizard who's fresh from a private, privileged talk with the Secretary-designate, and the truth of the matter about the fixed price of gold at $35 an ounce is as follows:

Billy Graham

I am a poor girl, but I would like to lift myself out of the poverty I was born and brought up in. Is there really any chance for a poor girl to marry a rich man?

Yes. As a matter of fact, a poor girl has a better chance of getting married than a rich girl for the reason that many men marry beneath their social class. Dr. Paul Glick of the Bureau of Census says that many wealthy girls get left over, and that many women with big incomes remain spinsters, either by choice or necessity.

Having said that, may I add a word of advice. Don't make riches your only qualification for a husband. I can well understand why you want to extricate yourself from the poverty of your childhood. In the Proverbs we read "Better is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, than a house full of sacrifice with strife." Many poor girls who marry rich husbands find it hard going, particularly if their education is inferior to their husband's, and if they do not possess an inner poise, strength, and religious faith.

Better qualifications than affluence are: kindness, tenderness, understanding, faith, and love. All things being equal there is nothing wrong in marrying a man with money; but make sure he has more — much more. For if he hasn't you may end up actually being poorer than you are, except in a different way.

If you are a true believer then you should marry a man of God's choice — rich or poor. And be sure that he too is a believer.

OKAY, LET'S MAKE UP OUR MINDS

Hal Boyle

It Looks Like A Roller Coaster Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Will everything be fine in 1969?
Our annual peek into the clouded crystal ball of the future doesn't permit us to be unyieldingly affirmative. But, on the other hand, we can't be altogether negative.
It looks like a roller coaster year, characterized by ups and downs and emergent uncertainties.
The biggest question is what will happen to money. For years the value of money has been eroding and the value of credit has increased. As our gallop into inflation gains headway many of our more serious minds may be faced with a crisis of decision: Whether to give up on money as a lost cause and depend totally upon credit, which is more fun anyway.

THE MOON will become a vexing problem for geographers. Soviet Russia will put five cosmonauts and a poet in lunar orbit. The cosmonauts will methodically rename every crater named by the three American astronauts. The poet will return with the first ode to the moon-planet composed in true mongolian. Its title, translated into English, will be "What Is the Working Man Without Moonshine?"
The United Nations will continue its relentless war against malaria throughout the world but turn its back upon a more dangerous disease—the ubiquitous spread of pandemic influenza.

ELSEWHERE on the international front these things will occur:
IN BRITAIN, Queen Elizabeth will calm a parliamentary crisis over the traffic problem by suggesting that, while the rest of the world drives on the right side of the road and Britons traditionally on the left side, in the future everyone should be free to drive down the middle of the road.

IN FRANCE, Gen. Charles de Gaulle will succumb to his physician's advice and buy a pair of bifocal glasses. His first remark upon peering through them: "Eh, bien la mon cosmos."
In China, home of the fire-cracker, larger explosions will ensue.

Here in America, look for these possibilities:
Lyndon B. Johnson will become our leading political sage in exile. He will turn down offers to become a columnist for both the New York Times and Ramparts magazine.

President Nixon will appoint new committees to find new solutions for old problems that Former President Johnson appointed earlier committees to solve. They will report back unanimously: "Something ought to be done sometime by somebody about everything."

THE COST of living will go up and the joy in living stay about the same. Everyone over 40 will ask himself the age-old middle-aged question: "When does the fun begin?"
In a revolutionary experiment financed by the Ford and Carnegie foundations, teenagers will launch an experimental university with themselves as faculty. Anyone over 65 will be able to attend tuition free.

Science will develop a birth control pill for men. Most men will immediately decide this is more than they'll swallow.
NEWS ODDITY of the year: An obscure cow in Iowa will deliver five live calves. The U.S. Department of Agriculture will hail her as "bovine mother of the year" and send her, proud father and their small herd on a tax-paid round trip to Hawaii.

As to the weather:
Snow in widespread areas in January, intermittent sunshine and rain east and west of the Mississippi River from April to November.
Summary:
All in all, a year the human race can put up with but one in which most will inescapably become 365 days older.

Wall Street Jam

NEW YORK (AP) — Underlying many of the moves by both government and stock market officials to clear up the paper mess on Wall Street is a fear that the confidence of the public is being sorely, dangerously tried.

Should this confidence be lost the results would be disastrous for the exchange community and severely damaging to business, the dollar, the balance of payments and to American prestige in international finance.

The money that pours into the market from independent and institutional investors is offered with faith that their business will be transacted safely, efficiently and accurately. Much of this money comes from abroad.

HOWEVER, the inability to handle commitments has resulted in a bookkeeping snafu at some brokerage houses that might be considered scandalous if it occurred in a related enterprise such as commercial banking.

That commitment is a tough one. As Robert Haack, New York Stock Exchange president, commented in a year-end meeting with newsmen: "no other business promises five-day delivery on orders of such magnitude."

Because of antiquated work methods, a shortage of skilled clerical help and a desire to take on as much business as possible regardless of ability to handle it, some brokers have failed to deliver in five days.

Several have been forced to curtail business, some have been forced to close offices and dismiss workers, others have found it necessary to merge, and some are refusing the unprofitable orders of small investors.

ON TOP of all these troubles have come serious problems with regulatory agencies of the government, particularly regarding the use and misuse of "inside" information.
With the return to the five-day week even though the daily gong will sound 90 minutes earlier than the old 3:30 p.m. closing, there are misgivings among securities men including the Securities and Exchange Commission.

THE BIG question is whether or not the brokerage firms have made enough headway in the past year, both in eliminating old work and in upgrading their facilities to handle larger volume to resume a five day week.

Around The Rim

Still Unanswered Question

There was no TV to watch, so as long as the adults would allow, we often sat in the front yard and discussed the major problems of the day. These might include "we would've won if they hadn't cheated," or "did you find those pecans in Mr. Whostis pasture," to a summation that red crayfish just naturally pinch harder than the green ones.

BUT OFFEN as not, we turned our attention to the skies and identified the constellations or searched for the planets. The preacher's boy, who lived next door, was far more sophisticated than the rest of us, and thus knew more about astronomy. He explained the mechanics of celestial movements, including the fascinating intelligence that the Moon was the only thing we could see up there that moved around the Earth. He knew all sorts of things, such as the fact that the Sun was just another star — small one at that — and that there were moons that moved around the other planets, but of course we couldn't see them.

I DON'T know how much of this we believed at the time, but we were good for one of his stories, hook, line and sinker. He prophesied that some day man would visit the moon, the planets and the stars. Far as I know, not a one of us doubted it for an instant, but we didn't go for those moons we couldn't see. Mind you, at that time, I bet few of the crowd had ever seen an airplane.

A few years later, a Piper Cub was to land in a nearby pasture, and the pilot set up shop giving rides to the foolhardy, at 50 cents a flight. But while we were indulgently believing in a flight to Mars, the local "airport" was still in the future.

I HAVE forgotten most of the details, but the sophisticated fellow regaled us with stories of the peoples on the Moon, Mars, Venus, and all the rest. He assured us that folks lived on all of them, and that they were waiting for our visits. Of course, we were told, there are monsters on Mars and we shall have to fight. To a man, we were ready.

My parents were not nearly so excited about these revelations as I, and I recall being asked why anyone would want to go to the Moon in the first place.

TODAY, it appears that the belief of all those youngsters, tired of chasing fireflies, has about been realized. I know no more now than then, what good it all is; but then I don't know if that other team cheated, nor if the red ones bite harder than the grey ones.

A Parallel Miracle

WASHINGTON — What was really the big "miracle" in the voyage of the American astronauts to the moon and back? Some will say it was the 500,000-mile flight — the orbiting of the moon and the safe return. But all this could have happened and the rest of the world would not have witnessed the dramatic arrival of the astronauts aboard an aircraft carrier in the middle of the Pacific Ocean or the pictures sent from outer space for several days if it had not been for another great feat of science — transmission of television and radio from artificial satellites direct to every continent of the world.

MILLIONS of people not only heard but saw the astronauts speak from the deck of the ship. During the six-day trip, moreover, pictures of the earth were transmitted direct from the capsule in which the astronauts were traveling around the moon. It can be assumed that hundreds of millions of people watched and listened as one of the astronauts prayed for peace on Christmas Eve from a distance of 230,000 miles away from the earth.

HOW WAS THIS contact accomplished? Many persons who do not follow scientific matters too closely perhaps are unaware that the United States six years ago began sending into orbit a series of satellites, two of which have been traveling 22,500 miles above the earth ever since. Each is about the size of a big barrel. These satellites, of course, are unmanned. They have enough power to remain aloft for at least six years and are equipped with an apparatus enabling stations in America and other countries to beam signals to them for relay to a large receiving station. The one located in the state of Washington picked up the happenings in the Pacific and put them into telephone cables for instantaneous transmission over the television networks of America.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, there is also one satellite above the Atlantic ocean which receives signals transmitted from the United States. These are picked up by stations in several European countries with which the television networks that serve Western and Eastern Europe are connected. This is how the Soviet television system was able to get the pictures of what took place aboard the aircraft carrier and listen to the remarks of the returning astronauts.

The devices in the satellites permit voices and moving pictures to be beamed from anywhere on or above the earth and then relayed to television stations. Within a decade, it is anticipated that it will be possible to beam the signals from a satellite direct to a television set in homes anywhere in America.

THE SATELLITE system was recently used to transmit throughout the world pictures of the Olympic games in Mexico City, but the events of the past week marked the first occasion when television reception was accomplished from mid-Pacific, and the program was shown instantly around the globe. Japan and other Asian nations received it, too.

The first big inventions in the field of communication were, of course, the telegraph and telephone. Then came radio and decades later the use of a combination of all in making modern television possible.

ONE WONDER whether a truly miraculous use of such inventions eventually could somehow help peoples to speak to each other — to get all the news and not what dictators distort and give their citizens. A sincerity of expression and recognition of mutual interest by the spokesmen in government, chosen by well-informed electorates, could lead to the establishment of peace throughout the world.

Maybe You Missed 'Best' Stories

WASHINGTON — It is our pleasure to once again print the "best news stories of the year." These are not necessarily headline stories which you may have read, but rather news items that were buried in the back pages of your paper which you probably missed.

WAILING WALL, CALIF., March 16 — Students at Wailing Wall State College marched on the administration yesterday afternoon, yelling for the resignation of Chancellor Winthrop Coldwater, and closing down of the school. After breaking windows and scuffling with the police, the students demanded to see Coldwater. When the chancellor appeared he grabbed the microphone and said, "You should be ashamed of yourselves. I have a good mind to cancel the spring prom."

The shocked students couldn't believe their ears. They publicly apologized to the chancellor for their behavior and immediately returned to their classes.
CHICAGO, ILL., Aug. 27 — Charles McPherson was arrested for wearing nothing but a Viet Cong flag on Michigan Ave. last night. At a preliminary hearing before a magistrate, McPherson said that he had assaulted the arresting officer for no reason, and he wished to compliment the Chicago police force on the way they handled his arrest. He also wanted to cite the officer's superiors for their kind treatment and concern when he was booked at the station house. "Something like this," said McPherson, shaking hands with the police, "could only happen in Chicago."

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 1 — Pentagon officials testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee said today that they had all the money they needed for defense purposes and would probably need no more funds for the next fiscal year.

A general with the Joint Chiefs of Staff told the senators, "We've got all the appropriations we can handle now, and it would be foolish to spend more money on new weapons which probably won't work anyway."

MIAMI, FLA., Oct. 12 — A Boeing 707 on its way from New York to Miami reported that a dark bearded man forced his way into the cockpit of the plane. "I suppose you want to go to Cuba?" the captain said.
"Heck no," the man replied, "they oversold the plane, and they said I could sit up here with you guys."

ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 28 — William Washington, the first Negro admitted to the Atlanta Athletic Club, resigned today. Asked if his resignation had anything to do with prejudice against him, Washington said, "No. I resigned because they were letting women in the club's dining room at lunch time."

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF., Nov. 12 — Sam Shatzberg announced today that in spite of the new motion picture code he was planning to go ahead with his new film, "The Girl Next Door."
"My story is about a boy who falls in love with the girl next door, and both their families approve. So they get married in a church and have children. I don't give a damn if they give me the seal or not. This is a picture that has to be made."

PARIS, FRANCE, Dec. 29 — President Charles de Gaulle at his annual press conference told reporters that France had made many mistakes in the past year and most of them were his fault. He said, "If he had to do it all over, he would have listened to the United States."
"France," he said, "deserves better leadership. Our problems are too complicated to be resolved by one man."

Longhorns Bewilder Tennessee, 36-13

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texas beat Tennessee 36-13 in the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas. The Longhorns dominated the game from the start, leading 14-0 at the half and 27-0 at the end of the third quarter. Quarterback Jim Brown threw for 234 yards and three touchdowns, while running back Earl Campbell had 147 yards on the ground and a touchdown. Tennessee's only score came in the fourth quarter on a 33-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Gary Kreis to tight end Gary Kneib.

Chuck Dicus Is Hero For Hogs

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Several Arkansas football players were outstanding in Wednesday's Sugar Bowl, but Razorback flanker Chuck Dicus stood out as the hero. Dicus, a 171-pound sophomore, caught 12 passes for 169 yards and the game's only touchdown as the Razorbacks upset previously undefeated Georgia 16-2. "Dicus has been exceptional in every ball game," said Arkansas coach Frank Broyles. "He's a fine receiver and he's tough to get down when he gets the ball under his arm."

"No 20 (Dicus) really hurt us," said Georgia coach Vince Dooley. "He made some big plays."

FINGERTIP GRAB
Dicus' touchdown catch was a 27-yard fingertip grab. He also made a diving catch of a 45-yard pass to spark Arkansas' drive toward a second quarter field goal and a 10-2 halftime lead.

"He's unbelievable," said quarterback Bill Montgomery. "He's been doing a great job all year."

Dicus got behind All-American safety Jake Scott on the touchdown pass.

"Scott has tremendous speed," said Montgomery, "but we felt like we might be able to beat him inside."

"Georgia has the best secondary we've played against," said Dicus. "No doubt, Scott is an All-American."

Everyone in the Arkansas dressing room praised the likeable, good-looking Dicus, named the most valuable player in the game.

"I'd hate to be playing against him the next two years," said All-American guard Jim Barnes. Barnes also offered a theory on why the Razorbacks, ranked ninth in the pre-bowl ratings, had defeated Georgia, ranked fourth.

"I have never been associated with a bunch of boys like this," said Barnes. "They're given up more and sacrificed more than any group I've ever seen."

"That's why we won 9-1 this year and why we won out there today," he said.

"We didn't come to New Orleans until Sunday night and everybody has been in their rooms at 10 p.m.," he said. "I went down on Bourbon Street for one hour Monday afternoon but nobody's been down there at night."

THE ROLE HELPED
Broyles and the Razorbacks, co-champions of the Southwest Conference, enjoyed a psychological advantage over Georgia, champions of the Southeastern Conference.

"We've been the underdogs for 35 days," he said. "Georgia had been to three straight bowl games. We don't have a boy who had ever played in a bowl game before."

"We were ready," Broyles said. "No one rated us high all year. We knew we had a good football team. In 1965 we were 10-0 and LSU was 7-3."

The Tigers upset the Razorbacks 14-7 in the Cotton Bowl that year.

Buckeyes Find Easy Pickings In Pasadena

By The Associated Press
No. 1 was an easy burden for Ohio State to bear but No. 12 turned out to be a catastrophe for Kansas.

It was "Ohio's finest hour" Wednesday as the top-ranked Buckeyes of Ohio State virtually assured themselves of the national collegiate championship by trouncing runner-up Southern California and O. J. Simpson in the Rose Bowl 27-16.

And it was Penn State's finest minute as a last-gasp touchdown and second-chance, penalty-aided two-point conversion after Kansas was detected with 12 men on the field gave the third-ranked Nittany Lions a thrilling 15-14 triumph in the Orange Bowl.

NINE SOLID HOURS
It was a New Year's Day guaranteed to give the most avid college football fan a television hangover. The armchair quarterbacks were able to sit by the fireside and watch one bowl game after another for nine solid hours.

Texas walloped Tennessee 36-13 in the Cotton Bowl and Arkansas trimmed previously unbeaten Georgia 16-2 in the Sugar Bowl, convincing victories for the Southwest Conference over their Southeastern rivals that set at least one SEC coach to wondering whether "maybe we better take a hard look at ourselves in the conference."

The only remaining games on the post-season college slate are the Hula Bowl at Honolulu and the American Bowl at Tampa, Fla. This Saturday and the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 11.

Ohio State's defense that shut out the fabulous Simpson in the second half was the big factor in Ohio State's Rose Bowl triumph before 102,063 fans, including President-elect Richard Nixon. "Our defense was fabulous," chortled Coach Woody Hayes.

Heisman Trophy winner Simpson cracked Ohio's defense for 137 yards in 18 first-half carries, including a scintillating 80-yard broken field scamper that put the Trojans ahead 10-0. But he managed only 34 yards in 10 carries during the second half. Simpson also caught eight passes for 85 yards.

The Buckeyes tied it with 10 quick points just before halftime. Jim Roman's 25-yard field goal put them ahead in the third period and they turned fumbles by Steve Sogge and Simpson into fourth-period touchdowns as Rex Kern passed four yards to Leophus Hayden and 16 to Ray Gilliam.

That was enough to carry the Buckeyes to a 10-0 campaign and rob the previously unbeaten but once-tied Trojans of any chance of recapturing the No. 1 ranking they held for most of the season.

HITS 7 PASSES
Street, who was named the most valuable offensive player, hit 7 of 13 passes for 200 yards. Speyrer snared five of the passes for 161 yards.

Fifth-ranked Texas rolled up a massive 513 yards in total offense—279 on the ground and 234 in the air. The other touchdowns came on Koy's nine-yard run and Gilbert's five-yard dash. Gilbert, the only major college player ever to gain 1,000 yards in each of his varsity seasons, finished the day with 82 yards in 13 carries—three yards less than Worcester.

Texas linebacker Tom Campbell, who intercepted two Vol passes, was named the outstanding defensive player.

Eighty-ranked Tennessee had trouble getting its offense on the track before the 72,000 fans in Vol 33-degree cold.

Vol Coach Doug Dickie replaced starting quarterback Bubba Wyche with soph Bobby Scott who threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Gary Kreis and a 2-yard scoring pass to Mike Price.

Dickey had high praise for Texas, saying "They outran and outgamed us. We dropped balls, didn't dive for fumbles, failed to block, got behind and had to play catch up. That is not our kind of football."

"We felt we needed 24 or 25 points to win. We didn't make an inch."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

DALLAS — Texas beat Tennessee with such ridiculous ease in the 33rd annual Cotton Bowl game here Wednesday, observers had to look at the Top Ten ratings again to see if the Vols had been ranked among the elite.

The Tuesday night squareoff between Oklahoma and SMU in Houston quite perhaps was the most exciting of the post-season games. The one in Pasadena, Calif., between awesome Ohio State and USC was the prestige bowl of the year. Quite probably, though, the people who flocked to feast on the Cotton Bowl offerings were seeing the best collegiate team in the country — at least for the weekend.

Texas took charge from the start with a bread-and-butter offense. Tennessee was simply in over its head. In other words, the Vols' season ran just one game too long. Texas, no doubt, has the best backfield in the country and a line that complements it very well.

Quarterback James Street uses the pass just often enough to keep the defense honest but when he unloads the opposition had best head for the bomb shelters. The Longview product is prone to go for distance.

A couple of times, his receivers had to wait around for the ball to get there but they invariably were in the right place when it did come down.

The Southeastern Conference teams experienced disaster almost everywhere but nowhere was their shortcomings more pronounced than in the Cotton Bowl. The Longhorns built up such a margin at halftime (28-0) they began to ease off in fear of humiliating their guests.

One of the surprising aspects of the game was the fact that probably not more than 35,000 saw the game. The contest was advertised as a sellout and all 72,000 stands were sold. However, entire sections were without hulaeids. A cold wave which descended upon Big D Monday night, coupled with a major flu scare, probably kept many of the faithful at home. SMU's trip to Houston took more than 10,000 with it. Too, a lot of people are simply bone tired of the sport.

The story has been bandied about that Jerry Claiborne passed up the Baylor coaching job not especially because of the limited budget under which the school works but rather due to the fact that the Southwest Conference is thinking in terms of dropping its weaker members for colleges like Houston and LSU.

Conditions can not continue very long as they are within the league, where the strong get stronger and the parochial schools face awesome deficits.

You heard about and perhaps were part of the anvil chorus that belted when an AFL football game between the New York Jets and Oakland was pre-empted by the TV program "Heidi."

Would you then be surprised to learn that the gentle play about the little girl in the mountains captured 31.8 per cent of the viewing audience? That means more than 50 million people sat in on the movie.

The football game knocked sideseide by "Heidi" was rated at 12 per cent, with 17 million viewers.

Allen Simpson, the former Big Spring coach, guided Class AA Spearman to a 23-12 win-loss record in basketball last year. The Lockney team with which another ex-Big Spring, Jimmy Marcus, is working with doesn't have a starter taller than 6-2 and three of the regulars are under 6-0.

The favorite in Lockney's district appears to be Dimmitt, which won 14 of its first 15 starts. All of the Bobcats' starters are 6-0 or more.

The seven-day Mobil Economy Run, which sometimes was routed through here, has been cancelled.

Mobil's vice president for marketing, Richard F. Tucker, says the decision was made because (1) the average motorist's attitude toward automotive performance factors had changed and (2) Mobil's advertising strategy had been altered.

The run never proved much Super-tuning of cars driven by professional drivers accounted for gas economy that no layman could hope to match.

Pinky Schafer, manager of boxer Leotis Martin, is rather bitter that his ring tiger can't command as much as $5,000 for a bout. Says he: "The splash is still up in the air from those two dives Sonny Liston took (in his appearances against Cassius Clay). And they still have to get in line to pay him big money."

Perhaps the owners of big league baseball clubs are justified in refusing to dignify the demands made by the players. All the players want, according to their mouth-piece Marvin Miller, are:

- (1) Reduction of the age when pensions begin from 50 to 45;
- (2) a cut in the time they must clock in the big leagues from five years to four; and
- (3) severance pay in the amount of $2,000 for each year in service.

In other words, if the magnates stood still for the nudge a player could stay 'up' four years and start drawing $250 a month at the age of 45. A 20-year veteran, upon being dropped, could cost the league $40,000 outright in addition to his subsequent pension grants.

Woody Hayes: 1954 Bucks Still Best

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes heads for Vietnam on Friday with the National Collegiate football championship firmly entrenched in his capable hands.

It will be the fourth goodfellow jaunt for the veteran Buckeye mentor who scored his third Rose Bowl victory New Year's Day—an impressive 27-16 decision over Southern California.

The outcome left little doubt that the No. 1-ranked Buckeyes were as good as their press clippings. But Hayes heralded the victory as his most precious in a Rose Bowl clash.

BEST OF ALL
"This is my greatest bowl victory," the jubilant Hayes said afterwards. "After all, both teams were unbeaten."

The dean of Big Ten coaches wasn't ready to call his sophomore-laden club his best ever in an illustrious 18-year career.

"I still consider my 1954 team my greatest," he said. "We had four great backs that year." Aspiring Southern California, the nation's second-ranked team, stunned the Bucks by opening a 10-0 lead in the second quarter.

Brilliant O. J. Simpson led the first Trojan thrust by gathering in three passes from Steve Sogge for 53 yards. A stout Buckeye defense stiffened on the three and Ron Ayala booted a 21-yard field goal.

Minutes later, Simpson, two-time All-American and Heisman Trophy winner, electrified the 102,063 fans by breaking off left tackle and cutting back to the right on a spectacular 80-yard touchdown gallop.

The faithful Buckeye followers didn't have long to wait for an Ohio comeback.

Quarterback Rex Kern, a superb field general, directed the Bucks on a 13-play, 69-yard march with fullback Jim Oros cracking the final yard for the score.

GOES TO WORK
"After we fell behind 10-0, I told the guys in the huddle that we better get rolling and quit messing around," Kern said. "With only 72 seconds remaining in the half, Kern completed three passes for 35 yards and set up the first of two field goals by Jim Roman."

The 26-yard three-pointer with three seconds left evened the count at intermission.

"Getting that field goal was a big psychological advantage for us," Hayes said. "I felt we would win even after we got behind. I knew we would move the ball better."

Broncos Rip Chief Quint

By The Associated Press
While most everyone else was playing football, Santa Clara used New Year's Day to get a head start in 1969 on the rest of the nation's Top Ten basketball teams.

The unbeaten Broncos celebrated their new No. 6 ranking by dropping Oklahoma City 92-82 on the West Coast on a light night in college basketball.

The only other major teams in action were Utah and Connecticut and Utah carried off a 103-83 victory over the visiting Huskies.

Santa Clara, fresh from a victory over Columbia in the Rainbow Classic title game Monday night in Hawaii, made Oklahoma City its 11th victim and boosted its chances to move even higher in the rankings.

While Davidson protected its No. 2 spot with a 94-32 triumph over Michigan Tuesday night, third-rated Kentucky lost to unranked Wisconsin 69-95 and appeared all but certain to fall.

In the only major games New Year's Eve, Duke beat Iowa 85-82 for the Sugar Bowl Classic crown. Houston won third place from Western Kentucky 57-66. Dayton stopped St. Louis 71-67.

Loyola of Chicago whipped Wichita State 101-83, and Memphis State tripped Brown 70-52.

End Of The Battle

Attendants load the body of Ralph MacLachlan into an ambulance near Westernville, N.Y., early Thursday morning. MacLachlan earlier shot and killed his wife and three persons, wounding some four others. Police say MacLachlan killed himself as they exchanged fire with him. Union Boss Predicts Ports To Stay Closed Long Time

NEW YORK (AP) — A long day of negotiations between the IILA and the New York Shipping Association broke down last Sunday and no date has been announced for their resumption.

While most ships in the affected ports remained idle, tankers and passenger cruise liners were exceptions because they do not need longshoremen to load and unload them.

Scott has proposed separate contracts with conventional and container ship operators. "We have, for all practical purposes, reached agreement with the conventional companies and are striking, in effect, only the container companies," he said.

The strike, which began after the expiration of an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act, is estimated to be costing the national economy $5 million a day in San Antonio, Tex. he is left to the Republican administration that will take over Jan. 20.

Chorus Girls Stage Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike by chorus girls demanding higher pay kept the Latin Quarter, one of Broadway's best known nightclubs, closed on New Year's Eve.

Mediators tried without success Tuesday to bring the parties to agreement but broke off talks saying the sides were "very far apart" on money issues.

The dancers, represented by the American Guild of Variety Artists, AFL-CIO, walked out last Friday seeking a $150 a week wage in place of the current $122 for 13 shows.

Congress Will Consider Tax Reform Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-free status of charitable institutions and the exemption from capital gains taxes enjoyed by heirs are due for careful scrutiny in the new Congress, informed sources say.

These two areas are designated for special study as part of a look at tax reforms that sources say Congress will undertake next day in San Antonio, Tex. he is left to the Republican administration that will take over Jan. 20.

MacLane Dies

Movie bad guy Barton MacLane, 66, above, died of double pneumonia Wednesday at a Santa Monica, Calif., hospital. MacLane played the villain more often than not in more than 150 films and dozens of television productions. He's shown on the set of a Hollywood western in 1963. During his 33 year acting career, he appeared in such films as "Treasure of Sierra Madre" and "San Quentin."

'The O. J. Simpson Show' Is Slammed

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — You might say with a certain degree of truth that if you've seen one Rose Parade you've seen them all—the show moving floats with their millions of flowers, the pretty smiling girls, the proud bands and horses, the sizzling commercial flavor of an occasional entry on TV stars in competition spots.

NBC's New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl. For the occasional football viewer, though, the big game the Rose Bowl since it is part of the tradition. This year, if one listened to NBC sports announcers Curt Gowdy and Kyle Rote, the program should really have been called "The O. J. Simpson Show."

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — An explosion partly demolished a granite Celtic cross today five miles from a hall where a civil rights group that is conducting a four-day Belfast-to-Londonderry protest march spent the night.

The marchers, who are demanding better treatment for Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic minority, chafed Wednesday with 20 members of a Protestant group barring them from the town of Antrim, 20 miles outside Belfast.

Traditional Commander's Reception

The year's social activities at Webb Air Force Base climaxed New Year's Eve in the Officers Open Mess where Col. and Mrs. William C. McGlothlin Jr. were the host couple for the traditional Commander's Reception. Here, Maj. and Mrs.

New Year's Eve Party For Club

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Boardman were hosts at a New Year's Eve party in their home at 2514 E. 24th St. members of the Thursday Night Bridge Club and their husbands.

The refreshment table was laid with a green linen cloth and centered with a bowl of camellias flanked by red tapers in gold candelabra entwined with greenery. An array of decorative candles, mixed with greenery, was placed above the fireplace, and a coffee table was centered with a holiday arrangement.

The entertainment included games, and 16 attended.

Birth Announced By Lewis Arnolds

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Arnold, 11999 Greenville Ave., Dallas, announce the birth of a son, Brett Tyson, born Dec. 25 in the Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas. The infant, who weighed six pounds, seven ounces, was the hospital's "Christmas Baby" and received a silver rattle. The mother was given a bouquet of red roses.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hoover of Burnett, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Arnold, 3621 Hamilton.

Women Speak Out On Events

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Wonderful! To God be the glory."—Mrs. Wailey S. Anderson, mother of freed Pueblo crewman Wayne D. Anderson upon hearing the news.

"The extremely few times he is home, he has not much time for the family. It's very difficult to have three children and the father never around."—Actress May Britt testifying during her uncontested divorce suit against entertainer Sammy Davis Jr.

"I just can't get over it, when they had so many things to do in."

space that he would think of his mother on her birthday."—73-year-old Blanche Lovell on getting greetings from her astronaut son, James, from the far distances of outer space.

"To me, color makes no difference. I've been trained to believe that people are what they are."—Jane Kenyatta, 20-year-old daughter of Jomo Kenyatta, president of Kenya and former leader of the Mau Mau in an interview at Indian University where she is a freshman.

"I just feel wonderful and I just want to thank everybody for their prayers and their concern for myself and my family."—Barbara Jane Mackle in a news conference soon after being recovered from kidnappers.

"He was shaking and once he cried and said he was doing it for his daughter. The girl was crying and I cried and she used some tissue I'd given her to wipe my tears."—Stewardess Uta B. Risse describing the scene when a hijacker forced an Eastern Airlines jet with 151 persons aboard to fly to Cuba.

A LOVELIER YOU

Keep Legs Attractive With Simple Exercise

By MARY SUE MILLER
How nice it would be if we could shake off the years the way Father Time does it. Not that any of us would wish to become a baby cherub on the strike of midnight every January 1st. But, if we could leave some of the wear and tear behind, like teenage skin and middle-age figure muddle, it would be nice indeed.

Well, in the figure department there's a cheery thought on the subject of feminine legs. The fact is that legs resist aging long after other areas succumb. Aiding the cause are these basics:

Encourage shapely, limber legs by taking a normal amount of exercise. Walking, biking, swimming and muscle-tension routines are excellent for that purpose.

Make a fetish of firm, lotion massages. If makeup would improve your legs, use it. The best choice is a sun-kissed opaque cream or fluid made for the purpose.

See medical advice about varicose and spider veins before the problem becomes unsightly. In most instances, those difficulties can be eased, if not totally cleared up.

Avoid girdles and garters that bind the legs. Flabbiness and discolorations follow the construction of underpinnings. In these mini-mini days, heaven forbid.

SPOT REDUCING
Spot reduction — key to a proportioned figure. Exercise is the only way to trim those stubborn bulges — to lose inches exactly where you wish. My new booklet, "Spot Reducing Exercises," gives easy routines — 40 in all — for slimming the upper back, arms, midriff, hips, legs, ankles... Plus ideal measurements... other figure-trimming tips. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Family Reunions Held As End To Holidays

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Altus Clemmer attended a Christmas reunion Sunday in Putnam with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Ramsey, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Johnson, and her brother, Jack Ramsey. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clemmer and Stacey, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Marshall, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Webster, Stanton; Jimmy Johnson, recently stationed with the Army in Germany; Terry Johnson, Scranton, Tex.; Harlan Johnson and son, Galveston; and Mrs. Bill Bistree and Jane and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan and son, all of Clyde.

Holiday guests of the A. C. Moody's and the J. A. Moody's were the Fred Howks of Long Beach, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Jansen Jones, Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. Tack Elson and John Martin, all of Midland.

Tuesday guests of the Van Williamsons in Big Spring were the Keith Williamsons, Westbrook; Howard Williamson, Nacogdoches; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Hoyle of Lubbock.

Mrs. Burton Hines has returned home from Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City. Gerald Messimer of Titusville, Fla., is spending the holidays with his parents, the Roy Messimers.

The Donald Gressetts of Bedford are spending the holidays with his parents, the Leroy Gressetts in Westbrook and her mother, Mrs. Orlean Cook, and Faye of Colorado City.

Recent guests in the C. E. Ranne home were Eddie Ranne, North Texas State University, the Royce Feasters, Levelland, the C. C. Rannes and Leman Joneses, all of Midland, and the Orin Feasters of Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchins and children of Albuquerque, N.M., arrived Friday for a visit with his parents, the Bill Hutchins, and her parents, the Monroe Schrankes in Aleman. Collegians home for the holidays include Johnny Hines, Texas Tech; Eddie Ranne, North Texas State University; Carole Bell and Pat Bell, Howard Payne College; Maritha (Oden, Sul Ross; Clay Strange, Austin College; Howard Williamson, Stephen F. Austin College; Vee Inglehart, George Sweat, Harrell Geron and Travis Conaway, all of Howard County Junior College; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Hoyle, Texas Tech; and Dale Byrd and Larry Bell, both of Sam Houston State College.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hardin of Levelland were recent guests of her parents, the George Sweatts, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutchins. Also, visiting the Hutchinses were R. C. Hardin and Donnie

Texas Deaths Below Guess

By The Associated Press

The Texas violent death toll for the New Year's holiday stood at only 11—a figure well below those of recent years. At a late hour Wednesday night, the total death count included only five motor vehicle fatalities. The Department of Public Safety earlier predicted 14 persons would die on Texas highways during the holiday period.

"Apparently we're running under our estimate, which is very good," a DPS spokesman said Wednesday afternoon.

The Associated Press began its tabulation at 6 p.m. Tuesday and continued it until midnight Wednesday.

FIVE TIMES

Among the dead were Lemuel Jack Jones, 51, of Conroe who died in an automobile-train collision at a Montgomery County railroad crossing 10 miles east of Conroe. The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon.

Phillip Phil, 17, of Lewisville died Tuesday night when the car in which he was riding flipped five times on the Garza-Little Elm Park Road in Lewisville.

An 18-year-old Austin resident Edward Huckaby died early Wednesday after the car in which he was riding smashed into a tree in Lacey Lakeview, a suburb of Waco.

A fire at a residence in San Antonio Tuesday night claimed the life of Noah Brown, 71.

An early morning fire which spread through a six-room residence at Austin Wednesday resulted in the death of a 90-year-old woman, Laure Krebs.

Thomas W. Jendrzey, 22, of Yorktown died Wednesday of injuries received 24 hours earlier in a two-car collision in Yorktown.

Robert Lester Gurwell, 39, of Houston died Wednesday after he was shot during a tavern argument in the northern section of Harris County.

SHOT BY TRUCKS

An unidentified woman was killed and another seriously wounded Wednesday night in a shooting incident near Crosby. Police said the shooting occurred at a highway intersection just northeast of the Harris County town.

Willie Oscar Bluin, 55, a Dallas janitor, was killed Wednesday by burglars whom he surprised inside a cafe where he worked, police said.

Thad Scott Holmes, 16, of Houston was killed when he was thrown from a car in which he was riding through the windshield of a second car that was struck by a third vehicle. The accident occurred Wednesday on a Houston street intersection.

Walter Kenneth Nicholson, 62, was shot to death in what police called an apparent robbery in a Houston restaurant.

Nicholson, a Houston resident, was found dead in his car Tuesday night with bullet wounds in a forearm and his chest.

Nation's First Automat Victim Of Modern Times

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Model T alongside the Apollo America's first Automat, which served breakfast, lunch, dinner and a mess of nickel coffee before and after World War II, breaks to some 50 million customers in 66 years, is a victim of modern times.

Horn and Hardart Baking Co. opened the original coin-operated restaurant in 1902 to provide clean and fast food service. It folded last weekend because it was a museum piece, inefficient and slow, in a computerized world.

"We took this step most reluctantly from the standpoint of nostalgia," said Nelson G. Harris, the new H&H president. "We have to be realistic. The Automat in its existing form meets the requirements of this space age about as well as a and twisting knots.

At the peak of its popularity before and after World War II, the business, founded in 1888 by Joseph V. Horn and Frank Hardart operated 32 Automats. Now there are two left in Philadelphia, and eight in New York City.

"They are not really automatized," said Harris. "And definitely uneconomical to maintain and staff."

Fresh food must be placed into the slotted compartments by people behind the equipment. Customers open the glass doors to get at the items and dropping in coins space age about as well as a and twisting knots.

Negotiations Resume Today On Oil Workers Contract

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Oil workers were ordered to continue working without a contract as negotiations resume today on a new contract with 435 separate oil companies.

The contracts between the companies and the 60,000 member Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union expired at midnight Tuesday, but OCAW president A. F. Crippin ordered continued operations.

When negotiations recessed Tuesday, the union was asking for a wage increase twice that offered by the companies. OCAW workers average $3.80 an hour, but the union is asking for a 72 cents an hour raise over the next 23 months.

A spokesman for Continental Oil Co. said his company offered on Tuesday a 35-cent-an-hour raise during the next two years. The company's proposed contract also offered other improvements, including increased night differential payments.

Meanwhile a federal judge in Billings, Mont., issued an injunction prohibiting workers from leaving the Farmers Union Central Exchange refinery in Laurel, Mont., without giving eight hours notice.

The company said it feared an explosion or fire if the workers left without notice.

The director of public information for Conoco said automation would enable supervisory personnel to continue operation of the refineries. Smaller refineries would be closed, the spokesman said, with supervisory personnel moving to operations at major plants.

Nineteen members of the crew spent the day in Pasadena, watching the annual Rose Bowl game. They were the guests of one of the crewmen's family, who asked to remain anonymous.

Others left the U.S. Naval Hospital here, where they have been since their return Christmas Eve, to join families and friends. Some spent the day in front of the hospital's television sets, watching bowl games.

The Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, was confined to his hospital room to recover from mental and physical exhaustion, but his wife Rose came out of the room to wish the hospital staff a happy New Year from her husband.

Pueblo's 82 Enjoy Liberty

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Navy intelligence officers continue today their questioning of the Pueblo's 82 crewmen back from spending New Year's Day with their families and watching football. It was their first liberty since they returned from 11 months of North Korean imprisonment.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 77. I live in the same apartment building with a very nice gentleman, and we've become very good friends. He is married but he has a legal separation from his wife. He pays her a big alimony, but she won't give him a divorce unless he gives her a very large settlement, which he doesn't want to do as he figures he may outlive her. (She's 51 and he's 54.)

I am not ever entirely at ease with this man as I am afraid his wife might sue me and I have a pretty nice savings myself, she's very clever and I have heard that she still watches him very close. He takes me out to dinner, and I have him in for meals, and maybe we watch a little television. We both enjoy the companionship. I think you get the picture, but I'm not looking for trouble. CAREFUL.

DEAR CAREFUL: Ask your lawyer how much "companionship" the law allows a man in your neighbor's circumstances. I think I get the picture, but if you aren't careful, you could get the frame.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a friend who is a very fine person. His wife, unfortunately, is something else again. When the men are together, watching a sports event on TV, she and I will sit in another room, where she tells one fantastic story after another. I have never heard such outrageous lies.

For instance, she tells of her close friendships with influential people. (They call HER to ask her for advice.) She talks about her "collection" of priceless antiques, which she keeps stored in a warehouse. She speaks of her blueblood family background (in a distant state) and talks about her rich relatives whom nobody has met.

I just smile and say nothing, but it has gotten to the point where I feel like a blooming idiot, pretending to believe all that stuff.

My husband has been a loner all his life, and this woman's husband is the first really close friend he has ever had, and I hate to disturb the relationship.

The husband has heard his wife tell some of these outlandish tales, and he doesn't say a word. What should I do?

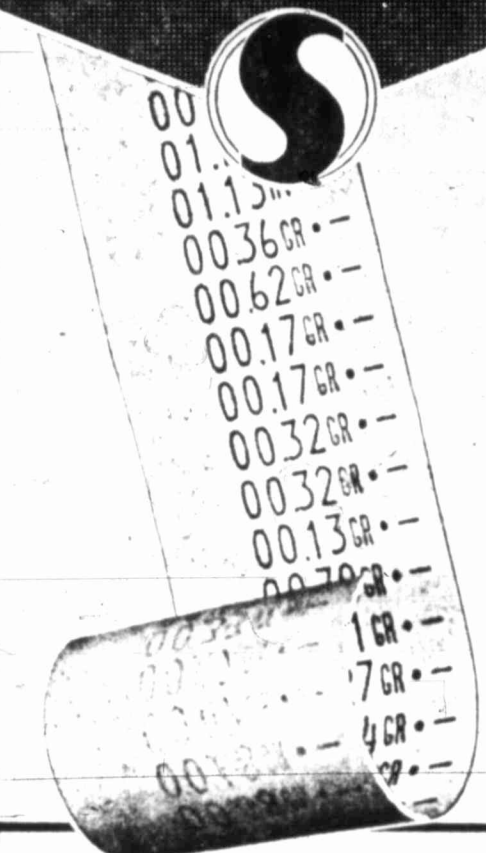

DEAR STUMPED: If the husband is a "fine" person, and he listens silently while his wife spins these yarns, he is obviously aware of her problem and is handling it as best he can. People who lie consistently in the manner you describe are "sick." You are generous to consider your husband's friendship with the husband. Continue to "smile" and keep mum. You'd gain nothing by letting this pathetic woman know you're wise.

Weary Climbers Huddle Just Below Timberline

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP)—A summit but each attempt to reach it has been beaten back by winds.

Petzoldt asked rangers to radio him a weather report today at which time the future of the climb will be decided.

Tuesday, four of the climbers reached a hut 2,100 feet below the summit. But the winds returned Wednesday and they were forced to leave the hut and take refuge in the party's base camp at Moose Meadows, just below timberline.

Petzoldt told national park rangers by radio Wednesday night the men decided not to attempt the final stretch to the peak "because conditions were impossible."

A second eight-man party on the mountain was heard from Wednesday night after a two-day silence. The climbers, led by George Lowe, 24, of Salt Lake City, radioed saying they were well. Lowe's party set out

Mass Plantings Of Crape Myrtle

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—The image of Paris as the crape myrtle city has been enhanced by the first mass plantings of crape myrtle on major highway approaches to Paris.

A total of 26 red crape myrtle plants has been placed at four interchanges leading into the city by the Texas Highway Department. More plantings will be made later at the FM 195 and US 271 east entrances. District Engineer James Cravens said:

Blaiberg Will Celebrate Anniversary Of Operation

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the longest surviving heart transplant patient, planned a dinner party tonight to celebrate the first anniversary of his operation.

Blaiberg said he took a glass of wine Wednesday, his first since the operation.

"On that score you're behind me," Blaiberg was told by the Rev. Charles Boulogne, the French Dominican monk who is No. 2 in length of survival for heart transplant patients. "I've been drinking for a long time now."

The two men talked briefly in a Paris-Cape Town telephone hookup arranged by a French radio station. Boulogne received his new heart last May 12.

Except for a crisis that almost required a second heart transplant and kept him in the hospital 118 days last summer, Blaiberg has led a fairly normal life.

He drives his own car, goes swimming, attends shows, receives visiting celebrities and several times a week has friends to tea at his apartment.

However, he still walks with a slight limp and has to follow a strict regimen, including 10 minutes taking medicines four times a day. He has a medical checkup twice a week but no special attention.

Blaiberg was given the heart of Clive Haupt, a 24-year-old mulatto factory worker who had died of a brain hemorrhage. Blaiberg went home from the hospital on March 16, 74 days after the operation. He was back in the hospital May 24 with a liver complaint that was diagnosed as hepatitis.

Lung complications set in, and by July 6 Blaiberg had decided to perform a second heart transplant. On that day, Blaiberg recalls in his book "Looking at My Heart," he told his wife Eileen: "You know as well as I do that this is the end of the road."

Then he was given injections of antilymphocyte serum and by the next day was on the way to recovery. He was released from the hospital Sept. 26.

DEATH REPORT EXAGGERATED

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Somebody insists that Belle B. McMahan is dead. She insists that she isn't.

"I'm in pretty bad shape," said Mrs. McMahan, "but I think I'm still alive."

Mrs. McMahan, 65, had a foot operation under the medicare program last September. Somehow, either the insurance company, the hospital or somebody filed information into a government computer that she was dead.

Mrs. McMahan, a widow, learned of it when her "estate" received a copy of a letter sent to her doctor, suggesting that he fill out forms to collect his payments, since Mrs. McMahan was dead.

Mrs. McMahan said she wouldn't have been so upset about the report of her death "if I'd been feeling better."

MRS. H. D. STEWART JR.

Starts Year Grateful For Opportunities

By RHODA LEMONS

Mrs. H. D. Stewart Jr. will start the New Year with a heightened awareness of how precious time is — and how fast the years go by. She plans to make every moment count while being with her husband and fast-growing sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart live at 2904 Gollad, where one enters through a courtyard and large double doors into the home. They have two sons, Howard, 15, a sophomore at Big Spring Senior High School, and Jimmy, 13, a seventh-grader at Gollad Junior High School.

The Stewarts bought their home about two years ago, the one they previously lived in was much smaller. However, Mrs. Stewart said the family "ad-justed and expanded" in about one week to fit the extra room and that they had felt at home ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart base their family activities around their boys' schedules, but the family seldom has dinner together. She cooks a large breakfast for the boys, including a steak or chop, pancakes or

Serve The Salad Most Men Order In Public Restaurants

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

America's favorite salad may well be wedges of iceberg lettuce with blue cheese dressing.

That's a big statement. What do we base it on? The fact that time after time at restaurants with table d'hôte menus, it's listed on the salad selection. Diners — especially men — order it in preference to other salads.

To please the men in the family — as well as yourself, you may want to keep this excellent recipe for All Round Blue Cheese Dressing at hand to serve with iceberg lettuce.

We call the dressing "all round" because it may be varied a number of ways. Here are half a dozen suggestions:

Add a scallion (green onion) or two to the salad plates. Or mince the scallions (bulb and part of the green portion) and strewn over the dressing after it has been spooned onto the lettuce.

Sprinkle the lettuce — and dressing combo with bits of crisply cooked bacon.

Add fruit to the salad plates using whatever fruit is at hand. Fresh strawberries are a surprising but delightful addition. So is melon, from cantaloupe to watermelon. Peaches, pears and pineapple make a good contribution. So do grapes.

This dressing, after chilling, also makes an excellent dip for radishes and carrot and celery sticks. Cauliflowerets, too. In Capers add piquancy. Drain them, if they're liquid-packed, and add a generous amount to the dressing. If the capers are salt-packed, rinse them in cold water before adding.

Creole Dish Gives Zest

"How can I get all these foods ready at the same time?" So asks a new homemaker beset with different cooking times for the main course.

Perhaps that's one of the reasons for the popularity of casseroles, those dinner-in-a-dish marvels in Liver-and-Rice Casserole, the meat, rice and vegetables bake in a single dish in half an hour.

LIVER AND RICE CASSEROLE

1 lb. sliced beef or pork liver, cut in 1 inch squares
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 medium onion, diced
2 tbs. lard or drippings
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
3 cups cooked rice
1 can (16 oz.) tomatoes
1 1/2 tps. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/8 tsp. thyme
1/2 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese

Cook liver, celery, green pepper and onion in lard or drippings until liver is very lightly browned and vegetables are tender. Pour off drippings. Add tomato sauce, rice, tomatoes, salt, pepper and thyme. Pour into greased quart casserole. Sprinkle grated cheese over the top and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 to 30 minutes. Makes four to five servings.

Cook All-In-One Meal For Supper

Here's a quick and easy recipe for the day you don't know what to serve.

SKILLET HAMBURGER

2 tbsps. butter
1 medium onion, diced
1 clove garlic, minced
1 lb. ground chuck beef
1 cup marinara sauce (from a jar or can)
1 pkg. (8 oz.) broad noodles
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
Salt and pepper to taste

Coconut Waffles

Here is a quick supper treat that your family will enjoy. It's economical too — a variation of plain breakfast waffles. After you have poured the batter into the waffle iron, sprinkle two tablespoons of shredded coconut per waffle over the plain batter. Bake the waffles as usual and serve with syrup and butter.

NEW TWIST FOR STANDBY
Add new flavor with seasoning

Glamourize Ground Beef With Canned Mushrooms

Be it ever so humble there's nothing quite like ground beef on an equally easy dessert: canned fruit and cookies with coffee.

BEEF PATTIES WITH MUSHROOM GRAVY

1 lb. ground beef
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. dried flat leaves, crushed
1/2 tsp. salt
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) mushroom gravy
1 cup sour cream
1 cup thinly sliced carrots
Generous dash nutmeg
Chopped pecans

Mix beef, egg, crumbs, dill, and salt. Shape into four patties. In skillet, brown meat. Pour off fat. Add remaining ingredients. Cover, cook over low heat 20 minutes. Stir now and then. Garnish with pecans. Makes four servings.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Here is a dessert that is aptly called Ambrosia. It is made with orange sections, sliced bananas, orange juice and flaked coconut with a sprinkling of sugar. Make it ahead and keep it in the refrigerator.

Add some chopped parsley to your next batch of baking powder biscuit dough. It will add color and flavor.

The secret of a good salad is the way you prepare the greens. Wash them well, but dry them carefully before you break them into bite-sized pieces. Keep the salad cold and add the dressing at serving time.

To help eliminate cooking odors when you are cooking cabbage, put a slice of bread on top of the cabbage when it is cooking. Throw the bread out.

Cream butter with parsley and tarragon and use as a spread for French or Italian bread. Slice the bread, but not all the way through, then spread both sides of each slice with some of the herbed butter. Place on foil or wrap in foil and heat in a moderate or hot oven before serving.

For a delicious chilled beverage team cold coffee and a cold cocoa drink, serve over ice cubes.

Ever saute shrimp in butter and crushed garlic? Delicious!

For a good summer dessert serve cantaloupe halves filled with vanilla ice cream. Some melted sauce dribbled over the top will add color and flavor.

Storing a meat stew in the freezer? Pack the meat and gravy separately.

One to two tablespoons of cornstarch will thicken the syrup (plus water to make one cup) from a one-pound can of fruit. The amount of cornstarch you use will depend on how thick you want the sauce; also on how much sugar is added.

Next time you serve raised sauce with smoked tongue, you might enjoy adding slivers of crystallized or preserved ginger to the sauce.

'Man In Your Life' Will Become Poetic Over Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

When a man waxes positively lyrical about a recipe and says his guests "wolf it down," it's time to look into it.

When our man went on to say that he had discovered his recipe in South Carolina, we weren't surprised to find it was for Carrot Cake. All good cakes of this kind seem to come from the Carolinas.

This cake is delicious served plain. No frosting needed. Just the fare to hit the spot at snack time with tea or coffee, iced or hot.

What makes carrot cakes so popular? For one thing, the carrots add moisture. Second, carrot cakes are usually made with corn oil and that, too, adds moisture and produces a favorite kind of texture. Third, the carrots seem to supply an interesting indefinable flavor.

CARROT NUT CAKE

1 1/2 cups unsifted regular flour (sift to aerate before measuring)
2 1/2 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup corn oil
2 eggs
1 cup grated (medium fine) carrot (about two medium carrots)
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts

Grease a square baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); line bottom with wax paper.

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon.

In a medium bowl beat together the sugar and corn oil. Thoroughly beat in the eggs, one at a time.

Stir in the dry ingredients in four additions, alternately with the carrots, blending just until the batter is smooth after each addition; begin and end with the dry ingredients. Stir in the nuts. Turn into the prepared pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until the cake springs back when touched lightly with finger — about 40 minutes.

With a spatula, loosen the sides. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool. Store in a tightly covered tin box.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

2 pkgs. active dry yeast
2 cups warm water (not hot)
1/2 cup sugar
2 tps. salt
6 1/4 to 7 cups flour, sifted
1 egg
1/2 cup cooking oil

ANGEL BISCUITS

5 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar
3 tps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1 cup shortening
1 pkg. dry yeast
4 tps. warm water
2 cups buttermilk

TWINKLING ROLLS

1/2 cup scalded milk
1 tsp. salt
3 tps. shortening
3 tps. plus 1 tsp. sugar
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 egg, well beaten

CINNAMON ROLLS

2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
4 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1 well-beaten egg
1 cup milk
1/4 cup cooking oil
1 cup sliced apples

one teaspoon cinnamon. Roll up jelly roll fashion and seal along edge by pressing with fingers.

Cut into one-inch crosswise slices, place close together, cut side down, in a greased nine-inch pan. Brush tops with melted butter and sprinkle with remaining sugar and cinnamon mixture. Cover with clean cloth and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Bake in 375 degree oven for 25 minutes. Makes about 10 cinnamon rolls.

MELTED BUTTER OR SHORTENING

Sift dry ingredients with shortening in with pastry blender. Dissolve yeast in warm water, add dry ingredients with buttermilk. Makes soft dough. Mix well. Roll out to desired thickness; cut, dip in melted butter. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes.

APPLE MUFFINS

2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
4 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1 well-beaten egg
1 cup milk
1/4 cup cooking oil
1 cup sliced apples

PARMESAN STEAK

2 lbs. round steak, sliced thick
Salt
Pepper
1 beaten egg
1 tps. water
1/4 cup sifted flour

MEAT BALLS:

1 1/2 lbs. ground lean meat
4-5 slices bread (not fresh), broken into small pieces and moistened with water
3 beaten eggs
1 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

SAUCE:

2 tps. fat for browning
1 medium minced onion
2 cloves minced garlic
1 small can tomato paste
1 1/2 tall cans tomato juice
1 large can tomatoes
Dash of salt and pepper
2 tps. sugar

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI AND MEAT BALLS

1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tsp. whole oregano, crushed
Put fat or oil in large saucepan. Brown onion and garlic pieces, lightly add tomato paste and fry for three to five minutes. Add tomatoes and juice. Season with salt, pepper, cheese and oregano. About 30 minutes before sauce is done, add sugar.

1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Shortening for browning:
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 small sliced onion
1 medium-sized green pepper, cut in rings
Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper, pound on both sides with meat hammer. Cut into serving pieces. Combine egg and water. Mix flour and cheese. Dip pieces of meat in egg, then in flour mixture. Brown in hot fat in skillet. Pour in tomato sauce. Add onion and green pepper rings. Cover, simmer until steak is tender, about 1 1/2 hours. Sprinkle with additional Parmesan cheese before serving, if desired. Makes six to eight servings.

SAUCE:

2 tps. fat for browning
1 medium minced onion

Backers Of Speaker Claim Enough Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of the liberal-moderate Democratic House caucus claim more than enough votes to elect the 46-year-old speaker during a meeting Tuesday in the Massachusetts capitol building. The caucus is expected to elect a speaker of the House.

McCormack, however, despite stalling in advance of today's Democratic House caucus, apparently wants a louder voice in shaping the caucus's agenda. He is expected to challenge the caucus's selection of speaker. The caucus is expected to elect a speaker of the House.

McCormack, however, despite stalling in advance of today's Democratic House caucus, apparently wants a louder voice in shaping the caucus's agenda. He is expected to challenge the caucus's selection of speaker. The caucus is expected to elect a speaker of the House.

Nation's Women Taller, Curvey As 1940 Model

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 355 women between the ages of 20 and 29 in the Boston area surveyed by a study conducted by the U.S. Army Medical Department and the U.S. Army Research Office-Durham, N.C., are taller and curvier than women in 1940. The study found that today's young women are about 1.6 inches taller than the 1940 model, almost two pounds heavier, and have slightly smaller measurements around some of the traditional contours.

Ohio Schools Reopen Today

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Youngstown public schools, closed since Nov. 27 because of a lack of funds, reopened today with money borrowed against taxes to be collected this year. The more than 27,000 pupils will have to make up the missed time by attending classes until June 24. School officials say there will not be enough money to start the 1969-70 school year unless a new school levy is approved by voters.

David, Julie 'Nice And Tan'

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — David and Julie Eisenhower, "nice and tan" after a Florida honeymoon, spent New Year's with their parents here. David, grandson of former President Dwight Eisenhower, and Julie, daughter of President-elect Nixon, ended a 10-day stay in Florida, apparently relaxed and rested.

'Donkey' Game Set At Stanton

STANTON (SC) — The agriculture committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a donkey basketball game Jan. 4 at 7 p.m. at the junior high gym. Trick acts and a relay race for women will be held, followed by the Stanton FFA boys vs. local men in the basketball game on donkeys.

Proceeds of the game will go for awards to be given at the annual livestock show sponsored by the committee.

Cousin Of Queen Plays Tube Hero

LONDON (AP) — Lord Mountbatten, 67-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and a former British defense chief, took up television acting Wednesday as hero of a 12-part color series about his life. It takes him back to such scenes as India and Southeast Asia, where he was allied commander in World War II.

Czech Leaders Vow To Push Stalled Reform Programs

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's most sweeping government change since the August invasion left the occupied nation today with familiar leaders still in control and still pledged to press ahead with stalled reform programs.

Premier Oldrich Cernik's new federal government, announced Wednesday, contained no unexpected members. There was no indication that the wholesale reshuffle involved in setting up the new federal system would lead, under Soviet pressure, to a purge of progressives.

Diplomatic observers said the new lineup made no basic shift in the balance between progressives and conservatives.

The federal system gives more autonomy to the Czech and Slovak governments but leaves over-all programs in the hands of the federal cabinet.

There were two additions to the cabinet's senior ranks. Jan Marko, 48, a relatively unknown engineer and economic specialist, was named foreign minister. He succeeds Jiri Hajek, who resigned Sept. 19 under Soviet pressure after announcing the invasion at the United Nations.

Marko was one of the progressives elected to the Communist party central committee at a clandestine congress soon after the invasion.

The other new man is Jan Tabacek, also an engineer, named foreign trade minister. He succeeds Vaclav Vales, who became a deputy premier.

Deputy Premiers Petr Colotka and Frantisek Hamouz remained in the new government. Samuel Faltan, another new deputy premier, has been chairman of the Slovak National Front.

Two members of the top Communist party leadership—Gustav Husak and Lubomir Strougal—lost deputy premierships but held on to more important party jobs that form their power bases.

The ascent through the cabinet was on men known as specialists to shepherd the inflation-troubled economy through a difficult period. Cernik, 47, is also an economic specialist.

There were no changes in the top ranks of the Communist party, which is still headed by First Secretary Alexander Dubcek. The party is the nation's most important body and sets the policy the government carries out.

Cernik's new cabinet contains seven senior ministers. Five of them were members of his government that resigned Sunday. They are Lt. Gen. Martin Daur,
