Reward For Hijackers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airline companies and their pilots are offering a $25,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of hijackers.

But it will not be paid to anyone who tries to apprehend a hijacker on board an airplane.

The Air Line Pilots Association and the Air Transport Association jointly announced the reward Monday. They said it will be limited to information supplied before next Jan. 1 about hijackings that occurred on United States airlines after last Jan. 15.

In Congress, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., said the House Commerce Committee he heads will start a hearing on air safety and hijacking Wednesday.

Tag Sales Brisk

Business was brisk in the Howard County Tax Collector-Assessor's office Monday for the first day on sale of 1969 motor vehicle licenses.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, tax collector-assessor, reported that receipts in the courthouse amounted to $8,630.28, which was far above the $6,928.17 taken in the first day last year.

She noted that receipts from substations at Newsom's Food Store, Webb AFB and Forsan were not included in the figure.

Persons who have all proper papers, including their 1968 vehicle registration and titles, may purchase the plates in the property tax office, she said. But those without all their necessary documents must get their plates in the motor vehicle office in the courthouse.

TRAFFIC CLERK

$1,200 Taken

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Violations Bureau, where Washington traffic tickets are paid, was robbed Monday by two youths who forced the clerk to hand over $1,200.

The bureau, located in the old District Court House, is across the street from Metropolitan Police Headquarters.

Priest Loses Appeal

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The conviction of the Rev. James E. Groppi, white civil rights militant, on charges of resisting arrest was upheld today by the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

The Roman Catholic priest was arrested during a civil rights demonstration in Milwaukee Aug. 31, 1967. He was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. The fine was paid and the priest was placed on two years probation.

Groppi contended the lower court had erred in denying him a change of venue.

Barry Backs Hike

BELLELEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The administration should keep the 10 per cent income tax surcharge, but a 10 per cent tax hike would be better, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Monday.

Sen. Goldwater told newsmen before addressing the Southern Illinois Builders Association the tax increase is needed to help brake inflation. He blamed inflation on government spending.

"I believe that we are finally going to have to pay the piper for the spending excesses of the past eight years," Goldwater said. He called inflation the most serious domestic issue.

The 1964 Republican presidential candidate went on to say, "We cannot stand four more years of reckless, unsound government spending and the resulting inflation."

He said from 1960 to 1967 inflation has added $180 billion to the American cost of living, cut $2 billion from people's savings and reduced pension reserves and eroded the value of government and other bonds.

Protest Hangings

NEW YORK (AP) — About 10,000 demonstrators milled about the Israel Mission to the United Nations Monday in a second day of protest against the hanging of 14 men, including nine Jews, as spies for Israel. Ten persons were arrested.

Most of the trouble occurred when an attempt was made to break through police barricades. One youth was arrested when he attempted to hang an effigy in a tree across from the mission on East 79th Street.

At one point, three men attacked one of five counterdemonstrators, who had identified themselves as members of the Action Committee on American-Arab relations.

Israeli Troops Break Arab Demonstration

By The Associated Press

Israeli troops broke up a demonstration by Arab school girls who marched through Nablus today shouting "Death to the Jews," the Israeli state radio reported. A curfew was clamped on the city's casbah. Arab businessmen of Nablus, in Israeli-occupied Jordanian territory 30 miles north of Jerusalem, padlocked their shops in protest at the handling of the demonstration.

Disturbances in that city were sparked by fierce unrest in the Gaza Strip, 75 miles to the southwest.

Two Arab boys were killed and 10 other persons were wounded Monday by a hand grenade thrown at an Israeli military vehicle a few minutes after Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan drove past on a tour of Gaza, the Israeli army reported.

The Arab refugee center has been the scene of several bitter confrontations between Arabs and the Israeli occupying force during the past two weeks. Dayan and several of his top military officials were making an unannounced tour of the area.

In Cairo today the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram reported that Yasser Arafat, official spokesman for the Al Fatah guerrilla organization has been elected chief of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

VOWS TO ESCALATE
Arafat succeeds lawyer Yehia Hammouda as head of the coalition of Palestinian organizations. He vowed to escalate guerrilla activities against Israel until they become "an all-out liberation war encompassing the whole of our occupied Palestinian homeland."

The Iraqi government announced a 29-year-old Iraqi soldier had confessed to the murder of a left-wing army officer who Syria claimed was assassinated by the Iraqi government. The officer, Col. Abdul Karim Mustafah Nasrat, was found dead in his Baghdad apartment Jan. 27. He had been a supporter of the Syrian wing of the Baath Socialist party. Feuding Baath factions rule the two nations.

Baghdad Radio said the soldier, Khudayer Alfahed, confessed that he got drunk in Nasrat's apartment and stabbed the officer to death.

U. S. Base Stormed

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Radical students hurling rocks and Molotov cocktails stormed the U.S. air base at Kadena today but were beaten back by Okinawan riot police.

HOSPITALIZED

More than 10 students and police were taken to hospitals.

The students peppered police with rocks and at least seven gasoline bombs and smashed a barricade at the gate to the base before they were driven back.

The attempt on the base was made near the end of a rain-drenched, four-hour demonstration demanding the removal of U.S. B52 bombers from Okinawa. About 6,000 people massed a few miles from the base to hear protest speeches and snake dance to dramatize their opposition. Organizers of the protest had promised a turnout of 50,000, but the weather kept the crowd small.

Nearly 700 riot police were on guard, backed up by Okinawan security guards hired by the Air Force and U.S. troops.

The demonstration was called by Okinawa's labor unions after Ryukyuan Chief Executive Chobyo Yara pressured them into canceling a 24-hour general strike. Yara said a strike would cause serious labor problems, and businessmen said it would cost $2.65 million.

WAR LINK

The unions claim the B52s link Okinawa to the Vietnam war and threaten the safety of the islanders. Their campaign got a boost from the crash Nov. 22 of a B52 as it was taking off for Vietnam. There was considerable minor damage to homes around the site of the crash, and two of the crew were killed.

Oil Still Bubbles Up From Bottom

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — With one exception, offshore oil drillings were shut down today in the Santa Barbara channel as oil continued to bubble up at 21,000 gallons a day from a runaway well 3,500 feet under the ocean floor.

The rig still running was drilling a second well that experts hoped would relieve underground pressure forcing the oil through a crack in the sea floor.

200 MILES

An oil slick from the runaway covered about 200 square miles of the Pacific off the Southern California coast. Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, after a flight over the slick, said "the pollution is more severe than I anticipated."

So far, strong winds from the east have kept most of the slick away from beaches except at a few points. However, conservationists express fears for marine and bird life.

Congressional concern over the pollution threat resulted in the Senate Public Works Committee sending a team of investigators from Washington to the scene.

The investigators will report their findings Wednesday to a public works sub-committee currently holding hearings on a bill that proposes fines of up to $15 million in cases of proven negligence in oil spillages.

Hickel, after his inspection, asked for suspension of drilling on a temporary, voluntary basis. Humble, Phillips, Gulf, Texaco and Mobil oil companies quickly agreed. Union Oil Co., owner of the well that began spewing oil eight days ago, had ceased operations at its offshore sites shortly after the seepage was discovered. The shutdown did not involve a Union well being drilled to relieve pressure from the runaway.

Hickel said the suspension "will afford a breathing spell until it can be determined if corrective measures are necessary."

Pirate Lost His Nerve, Agrees To Give Up Threat

MIAMI (AP) — A knife-wielding Cuban hijacker a jet airliner with 93 persons to his native island Monday. But the passengers and crew of a second huge jet were spared a similar detour when their pilot decided a long-haired youth lacked the nerve to carry out his skyjack threat.

The youth, Michael Peparo, 18, of Cold Spring, N.Y., and a girl companion, Tamsin Fitzgerald, 18, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were arrested when National Airlines New York-to-Miami flight landed here. Both were charged with air piracy and kidnapping and held without bond.

KNIFE

Airline officials said Peparo was carrying a knife and a can of mosquito repellent when he forced his way into the cockpit of the flight carrying 73 persons.

Capt. Harry Davis, the pilot, said Peparo told him he was eligible for the draft in about six months and didn't want to go into the army. Peparo said he preferred a simple life of hard work, in Cuba if necessary, Davis said.

The flight engineer, Harry L. Hendrickson, said Peparo gave way to tears several times while talking with the crew. Davis told officers he "doubted the boy had the nerve" to carry out his threat.

He said the crew convinced Peparo they would need more fuel to make the trip to Havana

Agents Seize Phony Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of the largest seizures of counterfeit bills in history, more than $1.5 million, was reported by Secret Service agents here and he agreed to land in Miami. After they were on the ground Peparo agreed to give up the plan entirely, Davis said.

Peparo wore a mustache, shoulder-length hair, blue jeans, desert boots and a pullover sweater. Miss Fitzgerald wore boots and a flowered dress and carried a flute in a small black case.

In Poughkeepsie, the girl's mother told newsmen her daughter "went to New York with her friend Mickey on the 8 o'clock train this morning. She said she was going to take a flute lesson and then do some errands. I sort of thought she was putting me on but . . ."

Mrs. John Fitzgerald said her daughter and Mickey had been seeing each other "for about six months. Mickey lost his 25 (student) deferment when the term ended in January—he was attending Dutchess Community College here—and Tamsin told me he was worried about the draft."

The four persons who left the hijacked Eastern Airlines plane in Cuba were "dressed well enough," pilot Capt. Jack Moore of Miami said.

ALL CUBANS

Capt. Moore said the passenger list carried the names of the quartet, two men and two women, as "J. Babin, W. Hernandez, Mrs. W. Hernandez and Miss Hernandez." He said the men were Cubans "about 40, one about six feet tall with receding hair. The other a little shorter, maybe five feet ten and approaching the chubby side."

Today. Two men are under arrest.

Special agent in charge Robert Mampel, who described the big haul, said it ranked only below the $4 million in bad bills seized in New York City in 1967.

Mampel said the operation began here in January of 1968 and that $20 counterfeit bills appeared in Columbus in the same month. Others were passed in Port Huron and Detroit, Mich., and California cities. Agents termed the quality of the bills, in denominations of $10, $20 and $100 as "average to good."

Arrested were 25-year-old Lawrence Whitt of Oakland, Calif., and his uncle, Jack G. Whitt, 44, of Columbus. It was in a raid by agents and police at the uncle's home here that the counterfeit money was seized, along with the plates from which it was printed.

Agents said only a "very small" amount of the money had been distributed before the raid.

A third man described by the Secret Service only as Bobby Fulton of the San Francisco area is being sought in the case. The two Whitts were charged specifically with manufacturing more than $1 million in counterfeit bills and possession of $50,950 in counterfeit bills.

Hopes To Improve Peking Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the hard line he laid down on Red China policy last week, President Nixon plans to start a new diplomatic probe later this month into the possibility of improving U.S.-Peking relations.

FIRST STEP

Nixon is considering proposing to the Chinese regime that as a first step the two countries relax travel and communications barriers somewhat. Easing of the U.S. embargo on trade with the Chinese mainland might follow eventually.

Some State Department officials believe there is an outside chance the Peking regime may be shifting its policy from a high degree of isolation to a more flexible position.

The very limited hope held by some experts is based on the fact that Communist China itself proposed last November that the next round of diplomatic talks with the United States should be held Feb. 20 — a month after the Nixon administration took office.

The date, which the State Department accepted by agreement with President-elect Nixon's advisers at the time, was coupled with a Chinese proposal which some officials here considered hopeful that the two countries make an agreement "on the five principles for peaceful coexistence."

The principles include respect for territorial integrity, non-aggression, non-interference, equality and living together in peace. The United States and China have held unofficial meetings for several years in Warsaw, Poland.

President Nixon was asked at his new conference a week ago about his "plans" for improving relations with Communist China. He immediately declared opposition to admitting the country to the United Nations under present circumstances. He also said he saw no prospect of any change in U.S. policy "until some changes occur on their side."

Mid-East Decisions Pend After Council Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon met with the National Security Council today and the White House said "some decisions" will be made on Middle East policy, with a response to French proposals for a four-power meeting on the Middle East expected to be sent off this week.

There were no indications on just what decisions Nixon will make.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters Tuesday "they'll become apparent" in a short time.

The response to the French note is to be made through diplomatic channels this week, Ziegler said.

Meanwhile Ziegler announced that President Nixon talked by phone from the White House for 15 minutes Monday night to former President Lyndon B. Johnson at his Texas ranch to fill him in on the latest foreign policy developments, including the Middle East and discussions concerning the pending nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

Ziegler said Nixon has made arrangements to provide both Johnson and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower with weekly briefings on foreign policy developments. Former President Harry S. Truman, the only other living ex-president, was not included.

Dear Abby The Snoring Husband

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for a long time and have finally concluded that nobody has a problem like mine.

Almost every evening after dinner Ralph and I watch TV together, then Ralph cuddles up in his easy chair, falls asleep and starts to snore with all the lights blazing in his face. There is nothing else for me to do except go to bed.

When Ralph finally wakes up and discovers that I have gone to bed without him (about 2 a.m.) he becomes very angry. I've tried to let him know before he falls asleep that I'm going to bed, but he doesn't even hear me.

We're not a couple of old fogeys, Abby. I am 26 and he is 28 and we've only been married for two years. And I'd like to add that before we got married, I wasn't sure I'd be enough "woman" for him, and I actually used to pray to the good Lord to give me the strength to keep up with him.

What happened? PUZZLED DEAR ABBY: My husband's snoring has ended, or your prayers were too well answered.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a very wealthy aunt who had a fortune in jewels and claimed she had been robbed of nearly everything, collected the insurance and then kept showing up wearing this piece of jewelry and that — which were supposed to have been stolen?

I mentioned this to my husband, and he said I should mind my own business. What do you think? NO NAME, NO LOCATION

DEAR NO NAME: I would mention to my aunt that she should call her insurance agent and tell him she didn't lose as much as she thought she lost. And if she doesn't come clean, your aunt stands to lose a lot more.

DEAR ABBY: Re: your advice to ORANGEBURG, S.C. — that it's all right to "hint"

MORE MANPOWER COULD CRIMP Illegal RGV Labor Recruiting

AUSTIN (AP) — Just a little bit down and a little bit more gone, he has his load and is Presently the bureau has a man in Edinburg and one in El Paso. An employee in San Antonio works part-time in Laredo.

That's the proposition made Texas legislators by Tommy V. Smith, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"Right now, I'll bet we don't catch one out of 50 unlicensed labor recruiters operating in the (Lower Rio Grande) Valley," Smith told the Senate Finance Committee Monday. "Give me three more offices and we can do a lot better job."

150 PROPOSALS

Smith's appeal to the Senate Finance study group came during one of the fast increasing number of committee sessions called as lawmakers take the first steps toward passing new Texas laws or changing old ones. So far about 150 legislative proposals have been introduced in both houses and are in various stages of consideration by committees before being brought out for actual debate.

Both Houses planned brief meetings today before recessing for more committee study.

"Right now we have 14 field offices but only 2 1/2 on the border to license and inspect these migrant labor recruiters that come in from Florida and other states," Smith told the Senate group that will recommend how much money the Bureau of Labor Statistics gets in 1970-71.

ROAD BLOCKS

"We get a lot of calls here at Austin that some recruiter is loading up at McAllen or Laredo or somewhere, but by the time we can get a man down there, he has his load and is not trained or experienced in the technicalities of labor laws.

"Looks to me this might be something we could give the Texas Rangers to do," said Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston, a member of the committee.

Smith explained that migrant laborers, some who live in Texas and some who cross the border from Mexico, will be picked up in small bunches in the Valley, traveling in cars, pickup trucks and campers. If stopped, the driver will contend they are a family unit "and it is not illegal to transport a family unit without a license."

After getting out of the border zone, these small groups will be loaded into one big truck and taken to Florida or other states by the recruiters, Smith said. "A licensed recruiter is bonded and he has to guarantee that these people will get a certain rate of pay and have certain living conditions and their transportation paid back to Texas," Smith said. "These unlicensed recruiters promise them $3 a day and when they get to Florida they are offered $1 but have to take it because they have no money and no way back."

If the legislature would give him about $18,000 more a year for three more inspectors, plus some office and travel expenses, Smith said he would set up full time offices in Laredo, Odessa and Del Rio.

GOOD JOB

In other committee action Monday, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes told the newly created Senate Youth Affairs Committee that he wants them to work with private, professional people on an "in-depth study of the Texas Youth Council, paying particular attention to the rehabilitation program."

"My impression is that the council is doing a good job, but there are things that need to be changed," Barnes said.

He said he doubted if the Senate committee would be able to visit the Gatesville School for Boys, center of a recent controversy over alleged beating of inmates, but Barnes asked the committee to turn over any information they might receive to law officers for investigation.

Sen. Criss Cole, Houston, called a Thursday meeting of the group to discuss methods of appointing a "blue-ribbon citizens committee" to work with the senators.

Charges About Sex Education Denied

FORT WORTH (AP) — Charges from some parents about sex education in Fort Worth public schools were disputed Monday by Supt. Julius Truelson.

He made public the findings of a study ordered after a group calling itself Parents United for Emotional Health declared the instruction was contributing to moral decay among pupils.

Spokesman for this group told the school board that contraceptives were passed around among girls in class and use was made there of material possessing "the characteristics of pornography."

Truelson said the study had failed to turn up any supporting evidence for any of the charges except that concerning the contraceptives and that, he said, had been exaggerated by the group.

"A representative of the planned parenthood group did speak to the girls' health class at McLean Junior High School . . . She did have some contraceptives on display. These were not passed around. A film strip was shown but, according to both of the teachers, it was scientific not pornographic," he said.

He said the decision to invited the speaker was "an honest mistake" by an outstanding teacher.

He said teachers are instructed to refer all questions on contraceptives to the pupils' parents, doctor or clergyman.

The group had also charged that a Carter-Riverside Junior High School teacher had distributed a booklet to girls detailing changes in the adolescent boy along with large pornographic pictures.

Truelson said the teacher, who resigned at mid-term to move to Tyler with her husband, said the only booklet distributed was a supplement furnished by the school and that no pictures of any kind were given out.

The American Cancer Society is beginning to win," according to Clayton Williams, a national delegate of the American Cancer Society who spoke in Midland recently.

There are 1,500,000 Americans alive today, who once had cancer and were cured, according to Williams. He pointed to the cured as a measure of how far research has come in the battle against cancer.

Local delegates to the Midland meeting were told that more than $1,150,000 is invested each year in Texas for research.

Representing Big Spring at the Midland meeting were Howard County Unit President Dee Jon Davis, Mrs. Torp, Mrs. Hamby, Lt. Col. E. C. Parker and Mrs. Galbraith.

BLAST-OFF IS FRIDAY Girl Scouts Begin 'Cookie Count Down'

Girl Scouts will be knocking on doors Feb. 7-14. It's cookie time, and Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts are out to surpass their efforts of last year, which turned out to be the best sale in the history of the West Texas Girl Scout Council. The Scouts will be selling four varieties: peanut butter, chocolate mint, butter shorties and assorted sandwich creams. The cookies will sell for $6 a case, two boxes for $1 or 50 cents per box. The Girl Scout Council receives 27 1/2 cents from each box sold.

Proceeds from the sale go to troop treasuries, to supplement established camps, to improve and maintain council properties, to send girls and adults to national and international Girl Scout events and to provide a year around camping program at Camp Boothe Oaks.

To prepare for the sale, a "cookie luncheon" was held recently with instruction in selling cookies given by Miss Beth Nowotny of Abilene, the council's executive director. She was assisted by Mrs. Virgil Stewardson, cookie coordinator for the council. The group met in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club where others in attendance were Mrs. Tom Ivey, Neighborhood Two chairman; Miss Celia Fowler, district advisor; and Mrs. Joe Cole of Abilene, booth coordinator.

CHAIRMEN
Neighborhood Cookie Chairmen are Mrs. Jack Horn, No. One; Mrs. Robert Waggoner, No. Two; Mrs. Charles Tate, No. Three; Mrs. Michael Leinen, No. Four; and Mrs. Dub Coates, No. Five. The Snyder cookie chairmen are Mrs. Lou Neves and Mrs. Sandra Graves. The chairmen will receive the cookies (three cases per registered Scout in neighborhood), distribute cookies to the girls and keep a record of the sales.

Baby Cream Can Help Dry Scalp

Maybe you've discovered that you don't have to have dry hair to have a dry, itchy scalp. Oils will help the dry scalp but they are bound to slide right down the hair strands and, if your hair is already too oily that's the last thing you want. Pure baby cream can be rubbed into the scalp with a minimum amount of overlapping. Allow the cream to remain overnight and in the morning your scalp will be less dry. Repeat the treatment until the condition has cleared up, and then prevent a return of the problem with a regular pre-shampoo baby cream scalp massage.

Dance Teacher Explains Fundamentals Of Ballet

The five fundamental positions of ballet were discussed by Mrs. Robert Gremmel of Farrar School of Dance when she was guest speaker at Monday's meeting of Alpha Beta Omicron of Coahoma.

Mrs. Gremmel introduced one of her students, Linda Beard, who performed ballet movements and gymnastic routines, after which club members joined in steps of the dance.

The refreshment table was decorated in a valentine motif. The next meeting will be Feb. 15 in the home of Mrs. Owens in Sand Springs.

Pro Help Sought By Youth Probers

AUSTIN (AP) — Treading softly, a new Senate committee started Monday to see if it can stop Texas youth in troubled waters from going off the deep end.

The senators agreed to ask private, professional people to aid in the probe.

BRUTALITY

"One of your primary areas of responsibility will be to make an in-depth study of the Youth Council, paying particular attention to the rehabilitation program," Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes told the 11-member Youth Affairs Committee.

"The council is doing a good job," Barnes said, "but there are things that need to be changed. The legislature, perhaps, failed to my own personal disappointment, to provide enough money to the council."

He said he doubted the committee "would have the time personally to go to Gatesville (School for Boys) or anywhere to investigate charges of brutality." But he added that any information the senators might receive should be turned over "to the Department of Public Safety, FBI or any other law enforcement agency which you think appropriate."

PREVENTION

Barnes said "a blue-ribbon citizens committee" would be an "excellent vehicle for bringing in experienced, qualified people to help you discharge your responsibility." Barnes said he was not particularly interested in making the citizen appointments, but added, "I will do whatever the committee wants."

Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, committee chairman, said he wanted to "open up hearings not only to the problem of the Gatesville school, but also to drugs at the local schools. That is a considerable problem in Houston and Harris county."

Cole set another meeting for Thursday, and said Col. Wilson Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety, and police chiefs from Houston, Dallas and San Antonio had been invited. He said he was considering a special subcommittee just to work with the problems of youth in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

"It has often been said that youth are the nation's backbone, which is true," Cole said. "I don't want this committee to do anything that would hurt the image of good youth. Some children can't help what they do. We want to help those who haven't been in step with society, who have fallen by the wayside."

"As we go along, we have to try to find a method of prevention (of crimes)."

Congress Pay Rap 'Malarkey'

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the Senate's leading economy watchdogs has dismissed as "malarkey" the claim that a resolution he sponsored lacks the legal force to block a congressional pay boost.

"That's malarkey and they know it," said Delaware Republican John J. Williams going into today's scheduled debate on the resolution.

Without a House or Senate veto the proposed pay hikes take effect Feb. 14. Congressional pay would go up from $30,000 to $42,500 with bigger increases going to judges, Cabinet members and other high federal officials.

Backers of the pay raises contended that the law on which they are based says they will take effect unless the House or Senate has "enacted legislation" to the contrary.

While they contended this means a full dress bill, Williams said it was "clear and absolutely clear" that a resolution would suffice.

Williams had vowed in an interview Monday to meet every parliamentary maneuver with a demand for a roll-call vote and insisted there was no way his colleagues could avoid a public stand on the issue.

Williams had fought almost alone to block the raises, which he said will prompt big wage demands throughout the economy.

Ralph McGill, Editor, Dies

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Ralph Emerson McGill, the Pulitzer Prize-winning publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, died Monday night of a heart attack. He would have been 71 Wednesday.

McGill rose from life in a small Tennessee farm community to become the South's most vocal white advocate of civil rights.

McGill, who became publisher of the Constitution in 1960 after 31 years with the newspaper, received the Pulitzer Prize in 1958 for editorial writing. The Pulitzer committee pointed to his "long, courageous and effective editorial leadership."

After Capture Of Pueblo, Navy Was Ready To Battle

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — After the capture of the Pueblo, two high ranking Navy officials ordered a destroyer to prepare to go into a North Korean harbor to board it and tow it away if necessary, an admiral has testified.

Rear Adm. George L. Cassell detailed the order Monday to a Navy court of inquiry into the Pueblo's capture by North Korea. But a further question, asking whether any actual attempt to rescue the Pueblo was ever carried out, was left unanswered.

There was no known actual attempt to remove the Pueblo from North Korean custody.

When the Pueblo was seized a little over a year ago, Cassell was assistant chief of staff for operations for the commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, based in Honolulu.

He agreed with earlier witnesses that neither U.S. ships nor planes were close enough to help immediately but said recovery action was possible the next day.

"Adm. (John) Hyland, myself and the Operational Control Center directed the Seventh Fleet to dispatch a destroyer and position this destroyer off Wonsan Harbor in international waters," Cassell said.

"We further directed Commander Seventh Fleet to provide air cover for this particular destroyer and be prepared to recover the Pueblo either by going into the harbor and manning the ship and getting under way or towing as necessary. I forget the precise words, but she was to be prepared to recover or tow the Pueblo."

TALK, TALK, TALK

He said naval officials discussed other possibilities, such as sending aircraft to destroy the ship "to prevent classified material from falling into the hands of the Koreans."

Executive officer Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr. was called to the stand today as the first of the Pueblo's crew, other than skipper Lloyd Bucher, to testify in open court.

Unidentified Flying Objects Report Socked

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A University of Arizona physicist Monday criticized the recent Condon Committee report on unidentified flying objects.

The report, financed by the U.S. Air Force, was "the largest piece of bad advice on UFOs the Air Force has received to date," said Dr. James E. McDonald, senior physicist at the UA Institute of Atmospheric Physics.

McDonald said Dr. Edward U. Condon, a University of Colorado physicist who headed the two-year study, misconceived the UFO problem, tending to equate it with a lot of nutty people with nutty theories.

"He sets up the obvious straw men in the report, a group of about 20 cases that any serious investigator wouldn't have paid any attention to, and when he knocks them down, gets applauded for it.

"The obvious insignificant cases get top billing while he ignores several well known cases. About a dozen cases he does cite, startingly significant ones, remained completely unexplained," McDonald said.

McDonald said Condon apparently paid little attention to project members who were investigating seemingly strong cases, in favor of personally looking into crackpot cases. Next week the Arizona physicist will speak at the Symposium on Meteorological Observations and Instrumentation in Washington, D.C., and will urge the scientific community not to take Condon's recommendation to drop all investigation of UFOs.

FBI Hunting Second Brother After Capture

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The FBI continued today a manhunt for Francis Xavier Kilday, wanted for North Florida's biggest bank burglary. It warned Kilday may be armed and dangerous.

Francis Kilday's brother, John Joseph Kilday, 46, a one-eyed former boxer, was being held here in lieu of $500,000 bond. Both men are charged with the $363,051 burglary last month of a branch bank in Jacksonville, Fla.

All but about $31,000 of the money was recovered in Dallas. John was arrested by the FBI Sunday at San Antonio International Airport as he was returning from Mexico City, agents announced Monday. They said they had traced his path from Jacksonville to Miami, then to Atlanta, Ga., Dallas, San Antonio, Central America, South America and again to San Antonio.

Francis, 44, also known as Frank Kilday, was described as 5 feet 5, 140 pounds with brown hair and blue eyes. The Milton, Mass., native had a larceny record and had lived in Jacksonville 15 years, the FBI said.

Francis was a former employee of the burglarized bank, the Naval Air Station Branch of the Barnett National Bank at Jacksonville.

The bank, a former barracks, lost $363,051.13 in the burglary on the night before payday at the big naval base. The FBI said it was the largest bank burglary on record in north Florida.

The FBI asked the public to advise its agents if Francis is seen. It warned not to attempt to capture him since he is considered dangerous.

J. Myers Cole, special agent in charge of the FBI here, said about $282,000 was discovered deposited in the name of John Kilday in an unidentified Dallas bank. The FBI recovered the money on a federal warrant.

John Kilday, who wears a toupee and a glass left eye that replaced one lost in an industrial accident, was a top contender in the middleweight boxing division from 1948 to 1951, the FBI said. He fought under the name "Irish Johnny" Kilday.

His arrest here late Sunday came after a customs agent recognized him.

He was arraigned Sunday night. An extradition hearing is set for Wednesday before a U.S. commissioner.

Two Burn Victims Flown To Dallas

Burn victims, Mrs. Bonnie Babcock and her 10-month-old granddaughter, were flown to the burn center at Parkland Hospital in Dallas late Monday afternoon.

The two, along with Mrs. Babcock's two young sons, were burned Sunday afternoon when the gasoline they were using for cleaning erupted into flame. The gas fumes were ignited by the flame in the water heater, according to Mrs. Babcock.

The trip to Dallas was made in an air ambulance furnished by the Big Spring Aircraft Co. The hour-and-a-half flight left here at 5 p.m.

Both Mrs. Babcock and the baby, Melisa, took the air transfer to Dallas comfortably, according to pilot Rex Goff. The baby went to sleep when the plane engine was turned on here and slept through the entire flight.

Melisa was burned on the arms, legs and face. Mrs. Babcock was burned on the legs and left side. Sherman, 11, received injuries on his legs, while Norman, 9, was burned on the face.

The boys were reported in good condition this morning at Cowper Hospital and Clinic. Arrangements for the flight and admittance to Parkland Hospital were made through the Howard County Welfare Office.

Oil Pact Okay In Texas City

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union employees at Amoco Chemicals in Texas City, Tex., were to return to work today following ratification of a new contract.

OCAW headquarters in Denver said the 168 workers at the plant will return with their shifts today. But talks between Goodrich Gulf Co. and the OCAW in Port Neches, Tex., were broken off.

A union spokesman said all local issues were settled at Port Neches but talks hung up over national issues. The firm employs 360 workers.

The 290 Mobil Oil Co. marketing workers in New England will vote today to ratify agreements reached Monday. If the contract is approved the men will return to work Wednesday.

Over 1,000 workers at the American Oil Co. facility in Texas City returned to work Monday.

The union says fewer than 20,000 of the 60,000 men who went on strike Jan. 4 are still on the picket lines. The major companies which have not come to terms with the OCAW are Texaco, Shell, Continental, Standard of California and Standard of Ohio.

Pickets surrounded the Continental Oil building in Denver Monday to point out that it is the only one of six first in the Denver-area still without a contract.

Parks To Lead Drive For Local Industry

Wendal Parks was named president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation at a meeting of the board of directors Monday afternoon. He has been serving as vice president and succeeds Lowell Jones in the presidency. Tom South was elected vice president and Charles Bell secretary and treasurer.

At an earlier membership meeting, five new directors were added to the 15-member board: R. S. Boyd, Clyde Mc-Mahon Jr., Dr. J. H. Fish, Fred Kasch and Ken Perry. They succeeded Jones, Paul Meek, Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Clyde McMahon Sr., and Robert Currie.

In addition, two directors were named to fill vacancies occurring because members have moved out of town. Clyde Angel takes the place held by Joe Price. Other holdover directors are Harold Canning, Ralph McLaughlin, Ike Robb, Tom South, Jasper Atkins, Charles Bell, Winston Winkle, and Wendal Parks.

The foundation closed its calendar year with a little more than $3,600 in cash and savings, and in addition holds title to a tract of land on IS 20 east of the Cosden refinery, which is held available for interested industrial prospects. The tract is a little over 193 acres.

During the past year, the Foundation spent some $1,960 on cleaning up the property, removing trees, leveling, etc. It also had a topographical map made. The tract has been kept under rental for farming purposes.

The Foundation is a non-profit corporation whose shareholders are local citizens who made contributions for their certificates. It is empowered to buy and sell tracts, make leases etc., with industries, but cannot make outright grants.

Laymen Honored In Sunday Service

Laymen of the Mexican Baptist Church were in charge of the Sunday School, and then were given special recognition in a subsequent service Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. Ellis Gomez.

This was part of Baptist Men's Day, aimed at the total enlistment of men in service and in prayer for the Crusade of the Americas evangelistic effort this year.

At a 7:30 a.m. breakfast, Richard Veras presided, while Candido Perez and Mike Ramirez gave the devotions. Pablo Ramirez led the singing and Herbert Rubio and Sixto Ramirez sang a duet. Others on the program were Presciliano (Chano) Fierro and Robert Leuvano.

Stanton Senior Selected For 'Rural Youth' Honors

David Adkins, Stanton High School senior, will be among outstanding young people honored Feb. 8 during "Rural Youth Day" at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition in San Antonio.

For the past 14 years the livestock show has recognized the accomplishments of 40 boys and girls from 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America during the annual exposition which is slated Feb. 7-16.

Adkins is a District Star Farmer in the FFA, Chapter Star Greenhand and District Star Lone Star Farmer. He is a member of the Methodist Youth Fellowship and church choir, and his school activities include football, public speaking and student council president.

Member of the National Honor Society, he plans to enter the field of agronomy.

Elmer C. Crumrine, chairman of the rural youth activities for the livestock show said that David and the other young people will be honored by the show and San Antonio Kiwanis Club with a reception and dinner Feb. 7, make television and radio appearances and be guests of the show at the Feb. 8 matinee performance.

Maj. Truxal Is Decorated

Maj. Everett W. Truxal, whose wife is the former Sue Nall, was decorated recently at Reese AFB with the Distinguished Flying Cross and the first through the 15th Oak Leaf clusters to his Air Medal. He currently is quality control officer at Reese near Lubbock.

The Oak Leaf Clusters were for service performed under "extremely hazardous" conditions between Sept. 5, 1967 and July 22, 1968 in Southeast Asia.

The DFC citation notes that "Maj. Everett W. Truxal distinguished himself by extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight as a forward controller near Ben Tre, RVN, on Jan. 7, 1968.

"Maj. Truxal directed five combat support missions in extremely close proximity to friendly ground forces. Although he was subjected to heavy ground fire, Maj. Truxal remained over the target area to direct all ordnance precisely on the hostile positions. The professional competence, aerial skill and devotion to duty displayed by Maj. Truxal reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

While he was in Vietnam, Mrs. Truxal and their children resided here with her mother, Mrs. R. L. Nall, and she taught at Park Hill School. Maj. Truxal was an instructor at Webb AFB when he met and married Miss Nall.

Cong. Burleson To Speak At Jaycees Bosses Night

Cong. Omar Burleson will be guest speaker for the Big Spring Jaycees annual Bosses Night banquet Feb. 20.

Awards slated to be presented at the banquet include the Boss of the Year, Educator of the Year, Jaycee of the Year, and a Key Man award.

Gerald Miller, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, gave the program at the Jaycees Monday noon meeting. He spoke on the recently completed waste disposal system which was devised by the SCS, Texas Highway Department, and City of Big Spring. The project included use of the city of a large eroded gully east of Big Spring off Interstate 20 as a place for garbage. The city filled in the gully with garbage while the SCS constructed a waterway to divert water which ran through a culvert into the gully. The highway department also helped in providing a new culvert to change the water's course.

The project was aided with a $35,000 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Miller said, and is the only such project in the United States.

Today's hand illustrates an aspect of the Blackwood convention with which everyone may not be familiar. It provides that, when a cue bid had been made on a preliminary round to show an ace or a void and the Blackwood four no trump is subsequently called, the responder should not—in making his reply—count an ace held in the suit which his partner has cue bid.

When South bid four hearts to announce first round control of the opponent's suit, he was making a slam try, and it should have been clear to North that his ace of hearts was a duplication of values inasmuch as South was obviously void in that suit. Consequently, when the latter persisted to invoke Blackwood after North returned to four spades, it would have been expedient for the latter to bid five clubs even if he weren't familiar with the rule cited above, in an attempt to cool his partner's passions which were obviously near the boiling point. When North admitted to having an ace, South could hardly be blamed for bidding the slam.

West opened the king of hearts. With the appearance of the dummy, declarer found himself confronted with two almost certain losers—a diamond and a club. South saw a slight glimmer of hope provided that certain cards were well placed and he proceeded to campaign on his optimistic assumption.

Declarer was in no hurry to take a discard, and he ruffed the opening lead with the ten of spades. The ace of that suit cleared up the trump situation and the ten of diamonds was led next. West was afraid of losing his ace if he ducked, so he put up that card and returned the queen of hearts.

The ace was played and South discarded a club. He returned to his hand with the king of diamonds, led a small spade to dummy's nine and cashed the queen of diamonds. When the jack fell, North's nine became established for yet another discard, and South disposed of his remaining club loser.

It would have done West no good to duck the ten of diamonds. Dummy's queen will win the trick enabling declarer to discard the king of diamonds on the ace of hearts and thus eliminating the diamond loser. He now gives up one club and ruffs out the other two.
