

'I LIKE IKE'

Texans Join In Mourning Native Son

By The Associated Press

Texas, like the rest of the Western World, remembered Dwight David Eisenhower — a native son — Monday.

Nowhere, Texans of every political persuasion will tell you, was the slogan "I Like Ike" so well remembered — in San Antonio, where he was a young lieutenant, in Denison, where he was born; in Dallas, where he made several appearances to stamp the Eisenhower grin on every conscience.

REMEMBERED

In every city and country town, they remembered the conquering general who seemed more like a brother, or a genial uncle than a conqueror, a friendly man in Washington — instead of a politician.

"I Like Ike" . . . they remembered the end of the Korean War, and the man who knew his country was tired of war.

"I Like Ike" . . . they remembered the general in combat gear who raised his eyebrows and mugged a perplexed grimace when President Harry Truman fired his old commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"I Like Ike" . . . they remembered the big friendly smile when the war in Europe was over, with his arms raised in a "V" for victory.

"I Like Ike" . . . they remembered the grim man who directed the Allied landings on D-Day, the terrible days in Normandy and the bitter fight to Paris, then The Bulge and, finally, Berlin.

DAY OF MOURNING

Texans joined in the memories, but didn't bury them Monday, a national day of mourning for the departed general and President.

In nearly every church and synagogue across the big state, saddened citizens held memorial services and gave thanks to their Lord for the departed leader.

"I Like Ike" . . .

All federal agencies, the post offices, the reserve banks were tightly shut down, like bereaved relatives trying to shut out reality with closed eyes.

Every American flag was at half staff. And nobody wondered why. "I Like Ike" . . .

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson was to attend the funeral services at the National Cathedral in Washington. Mrs. Johnson visited with Mrs. Eisenhower in Washington.

PROUD MEMORY

Ike was but a proud, happy memory, a memory of a man who in crisis after crisis stamped his innate kindness and good nature on the world — and left it a legacy of heroism — in war and peace.

"I Like Ike" . . .

Coin Bearing Ike's Image

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is expected soon to consider proposals for a coin bearing former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's image.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee, said he has received several suggestions along this line "and I am heartily in favor of doing something."

Help Honor Youth Leaders

There are many seniors and juniors in the three high schools of Howard County who are doing remarkable things in organizational leadership, volunteer work in churches, helping in civic projects and proving themselves to be good citizens.

Won't you help honor these young people? You can, by nominating any of them for the 1969 Zale-Herald Youth Award, an outstanding recognition.

Just use the form on Page 4-A of today's Herald (this is required), but add more data if you wish. Fill in the form completely and mail it to The Herald, and a panel of judges will give your nomination, as well as all others, full consideration.

An award will go to a winner in each of the Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan High Schools, so you may nominate juniors or seniors from any school. And anyone can submit a name. But please do so promptly, as there remains only a week to receive the nominations.

Crowds At Capitol

The general public line up outside the Capitol Sunday to view the coffin of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Abilene Braces For Big Crowd

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower's home town, already bursting at the seams with visitors, expects 50,000 to 100,000 persons to flock in Wednesday for his burial.

The municipal election of city commissioners, a school board and a hospital board goes on as scheduled Tuesday because the law requires it, but two polling places have been preempted for use by the Army and newscasters.

The nearly 8,000 residents of this one-time terminal on the Chisholm cattle trail are getting accustomed to the television cameramen who stop them on the streets for interviews. Boyhood friends of Eisenhower have recited their recollections so often they could almost do it in their sleep.

"But we don't mind," said Henry J. Madden, a realtor and accountant who has turned his downtown office into an emergency housing center for the ceremony. "It's a Midwestern attitude. We open our doors to people and want to help them."

The 225 hotel and motel rooms in Abilene filled up quickly with official guests, military personnel and newsmen. Most rooms in nearby Junction City and Salina also are taken.

So far there has been no trouble finding space in private homes. Most residents not only refuse to accept payment but often throw in a hearty breakfast.

Several people called in to say they speak a foreign language and would be happy to help guide foreign guests and act as translators.

"Most of these people probably never even met Mr. Eisenhower," said Madden. "But they still look on him as one of their own, and they want to do anything they can to help."

Police Chief Fred Garten has obtained about 100 men from the Kansas Highway Patrol and the Dickinson County sheriff's office to help his seven-man force. They've stopped giving out parking tickets until after the burial.

The funeral crowd is expected to be the largest the town ever has seen, far bigger than the audience which crammed Eisenhower Park June 4, 1952, to hear the general announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

Lincoln grade school, which Eisenhower attended and which was to have been a polling place, is swarming with people transforming the building into a communications center for radio and television broadcasts of the burial ceremony in a tiny chapel across the street. All classes are canceled for the week.

Another voting place, in the band shell of Eisenhower Park, had to be moved because the Army is bivouacked there and in the adjacent National Guard Armory.

Israel Digs In For Crisis, Big Four Settlement Rejected

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel was digging in today for a critical spring and summer after its Cabinet rejected any Big Four settlement for the Middle East and Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser talked again of war.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan told border settlers the summer would be "most critical" because the Egyptian regime is under heavy pressure to renew the war of abdicate. And Nasser said Sunday that war with Israel is inevitable "so long as they refuse to withdraw from the occupied Arab lands."

Addressing the national congress of the Arab Socialist Union, Nasser said: "The days when we could not answer Israeli shelling have passed. We now can hit back, and hit violently." However, he said Egypt still hoped the coming four-power talks in New York at the United Nations would result in some kind of peace settlement.

Because the meetings of the United States, Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union are expected to begin this week, the Israeli Cabinet decided Sunday to state its position before rather than after the talks.

The Cabinet communique said: "Israel entirely opposes the plan to convene representatives of states outside the Middle East in order to prepare recommendations concerning the region. Such a procedure undermines the responsibility devolving on the states of the region to achieve peace among themselves."

It was no secret that the Israelis opposed the talks. They are said to believe that an imposed solution could only benefit the Arabs because they expect Russia and France to insist that Israel withdraw from the lands it occupied in the June, 1967, war. Before Israel gives up its biggest bargaining lever, it wants a signed peace agreement with the Arabs.

The Cabinet asserted that in the absence of a signed peace treaty with its neighbors, Israel will "consolidate her position in accordance with the vital need of security and development."

As if to underscore this, Israel jets streaked over the Jordanian cease-fire line Sunday morning. The army said they attacked guerrilla positions which opened fire on a patrol and wounded four border guards.

SOLDIER'S COFFIN

Common Folk, World Leaders Pay Tribute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The common people of this silent capital trudged in shuffling, ever-lengthening lines past the soldier's casket of Dwight D. Eisenhower today while world leaders assembled to pay their final tribute.

The funeral day of America's 34th President dawned radiantly clear and the file of mourners—two double lines, moving deliberately but steadily—quickly grew.

Soon it stretched from the hushed Capitol Rotunda, where the hero general of World War II lay in state, down the broad steps and far out into the Capitol Plaza where he twice took the oath of the presidency.

The leaders of American government and representatives of most of the world's nations would be there this afternoon at the start of his funeral procession.

Among them: President Charles de Gaulle of France, the Shah of Iran, King Constantine of Greece, King Baudouin of Belgium, West Germany's Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger and dozens more.

The quiet, tearless, affectionate line moved. By mid-morning fully half its numbers were children. Schools were closed and government offices excused on this day of national mourning.

The invitation-only funeral for the hero-president, under the soaring gothic arches of Washington National Cathedral will be over by evening and a funeral train will be carrying the one-time Kansas farm boy back to the plains of Abilene for burial.

Among the throngs that came to the Capitol to pay their personal tribute and murmur their private prayers were thousands of the Negroes who make up three-fourths of Washington's population.

But most were the white, middle class Americans who made Ike the most popular figure of his era.

Inside, their ranks parted to file by on either side of the plain GI coffin where it lay on its bier, draped in the Stars and Stripes of the country he had fought for in war and led in peace.

There, President Nixon had said in eulogy earlier, lay "that rarest of men, an authentic hero."

There lay a man whose last words to his wife were just the ones these people who came through the night might have hoped he would say:

"I've always loved my wife. I've always loved my children. I've always loved my grandchildren. And I have always loved my country."

A small, bent shadow, Mamie Doud Eisenhower, 72, fought back tears and grasped the arm of her sturdy son, John, as her husband's vice president and eventual successor quietly addressed the solemn gathering of dignitaries for 16 minutes before the Rotunda was opened to the public.

It was Nixon who disclosed to the world the last words Eisenhower had spoken to his wife just before his death Friday afternoon.

Dwight Eisenhower, said Nixon, was "one of the giants of our time . . . probably more loved by more people in other parts of the world than any president America ever had."

Bells tolled across the capital, quietly celebrating Palm Sunday under spitting, cheerless skies, as the Eisenhower family and dignitaries cleared the Rotunda to make way for the public.

The body, in its $80 steel coffin—the kind the Army uses to bury all its soldiers—had been borne majestically to the Capitol on the traditional, creaking artillery caisson drawn by horses.

The clatter of their hooves broke the silence as crowds lined Constitution Avenue for the full-dress cortege.

Drums, muffled and draped in black, sounded brisk but solemn cadence.

In black trappings, riderless, cavalry boots reversed in the stirrups, a black horse named Raven pranced nervously behind the rumbling caisson.

A procession of 45 military units of nearly 2,000 soldiers, veterans, and bandmen led the procession.

Military leaders were borne by limousines. Mrs. Eisenhower's car followed the slowly drawn caisson. The President and Mrs. Nixon followed in his heavily armored limousine, surrounded by watchful Secret Service agents at every slow-down.

Despite a delay in transfer—

Heads Of State

President Nixon and President Charles de Gaulle pose today at the South Portico of the White House.

Nixon, De Gaulle Meet For A Chat

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle and President Nixon talked together at the White House today for nearly an hour.

De Gaulle, riding in a small French-made Citroen sedan that barely accommodated his tall frame, came to the White House at 9:57 a.m. EST.

After their meeting, Nixon escorted him out of the South Portico entrance at 10:54 a.m. and they posed briefly for pictures before the French leader drove off, after a farewell handshake.

King Baudouin of Belgium also called on Nixon at the White House, arriving at 11 a.m. The two leaders were among notables here for the funeral of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

De Gaulle, who spoke to Nixon in Paris a month ago, has said he will return to the United States later for a formal visit.

Standing without hat or coat in a chill wind, Nixon awaited De Gaulle's arrival. The French president emerged from his car for a smiling exchange of handshakes, then joined Nixon in posing for photographers. The American and French flags whipped in the breeze beside them.

Although De Gaulle wore his military uniform when he went to the Capitol Rotunda Sunday night to pay his respects to Eisenhower, he appeared at the White House wearing a black civilian suit.

Memorial Service

A brief memorial service for Dwight D. Eisenhower, former president and general, will be held at 6:30 p.m. today in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, according to Rev. Harland Birdwell, rector. Chaplain Robert Deming, of Webb AFB, will speak. All residents are invited.

Two Out Of Four Candidates To Be Named

City Commission Election Tuesday

Make-up of the City Commission of Big Spring for the next year will be determined in the municipal election Tuesday.

Five polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in order for qualified voters of the city to register their decision. (Opening hour at the polling places was incorrectly stated in Sunday's Herald). Any one who resides within the city limits of Big Spring and who has properly registered under state election laws for 1969 is eligible to vote.

Two places on the commission are to be filled, and there are four candidates. Incumbents George Zachariah and Garner McAdams are standing for reelection, and are opposed by Eddie Acri and Blaz Bailon.

Holdover members of the council are Arnold Marshall, Walter Stroup and Jimmy Morehead.

While campaigning has not been extensive, there is a probability of a fairly good voter turnout, since voters today were urging people to exercise their franchise. There were 28 absentee ballots cast.

Voters may cast a ballot at any one of five fire stations: Central Station, W. J. Shepard judge; 18th and Main Station, L. R. Mundt judge; 11th and Birdwell Station, Lawrence Robinson judge; Northside Station, C. R. McClenny judge; and Air Base Road Station, Mrs. Fred Mays judge.

31 TEXANS DIE ON ROADWAYS

Traffic Mishaps Lead Violence

By The Associated Press Traffic mishaps sent the violent death count for the Texas weekend soaring. Thirty-one persons died on state highways and roads, seven of them in one accident. A total of 40 persons met death of violence means between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Four were fatally shot and six died in miscellaneous violence. The Associated Press tabulation showed the following victims:

Wilson Awaits Biafran Word

LAGOS (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson left today for Addis Ababa, still waiting for Biafran leader Odumegwu Ojukwu's response to the Briton's invitation to meet.

Wilson said he had bounced a message to Ojukwu "off some unidentifiable satellite" as he wound up his four-day visit to Nigeria and recaptured parts of the eastern region.

There remained the possibility he would meet Ojukwu in Ethiopia or some other African capital on his way home.

While in Addis Ababa Wilson will meet with Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie and officials of the Organization for African Unity. He leaves Addis Ababa Wednesday for London.

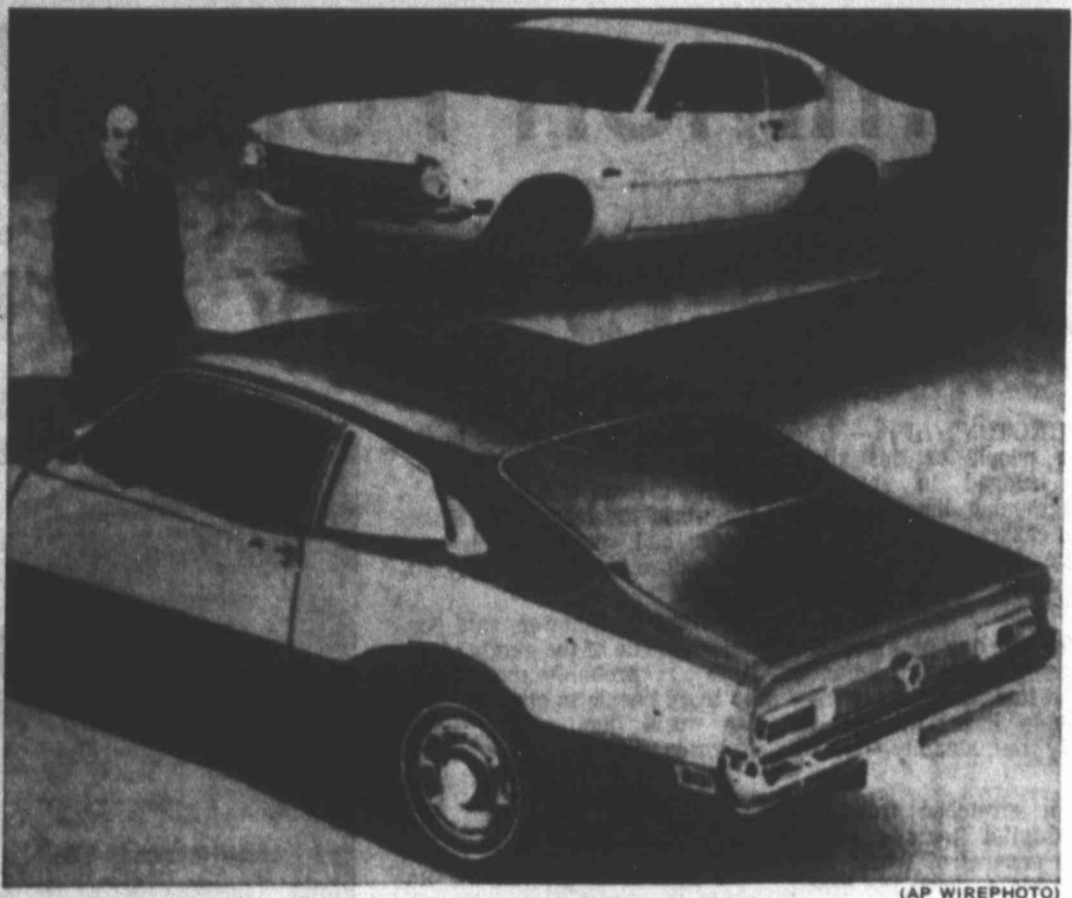

Selassie is chairman of the OAU's consultative committee on Nigeria, a committee pledged to honor the boundaries African countries inherited from their colonial rulers.

Although there was no immediate response from Ojukwu, speculation persisted in Addis Ababa that Ojukwu would come there to see Wilson. He came to the Ethiopian capital last August to present Biafra's case at unsuccessful OAU peace talks on Nigeria.

During his visit to Nigeria, Wilson lined up firmly behind the federal government whose military forces are partially equipped by Britain. Despite considerable sentiment for the Biafrans in Britain, the British government is no more anxious to see Nigeria break up into tribal fragments than are the African governments that fear the same thing might happen to them.

Wilson told a news conference that his bid to see Ojukwu implied "no question of recognition, mediation or negotiation in the 20-month-old civil war." He said he wanted to ask Ojukwu about relief and getting supplies to civilians inside Biafra, and to explain Britain's backing of federal authorities.

"I want to hear general views of how this matter of the war could be settled," said Wilson. Wilson said he did not ask Ojukwu for a halt in the bombing which has aroused much British public opinion because of the civilian casualties.

Heavy Losses May Thwart Cong Plans For Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy losses and allied blocking actions are forcing the Viet Cong command to reassess plans for its five-week-old spring offensive, U.S. military analysts said today.

Officers said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had lost more than 6,000 men during March in the 3rd Corps area stretching from the Cambodia border through Saigon to the South China Sea.

The analysts said the enemy during the first two weeks of April probably would limit his action to rocket and mortar attacks while he reassesses his plans and gets replacements and supplies.

But one officer said that more than 1,000 Viet Cong main force troops poised to the south and southwest of Saigon "could make a dash for the city for publicity purposes."

Enemy actions stepped up in Saigon over the weekend. In 24 hours, enemy gunners fired rockets into the city for the first time in two weeks, bombed a police station and a government post office and set off a claymore mine 100 yards from the national police headquarters.

Twenty-three persons were wounded in the terrorist actions, but the rockets fell harmlessly in or near the Saigon river.

Military spokesmen reported that allied forces killed 582 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in more than a dozen fights during the weekend. U.S. losses were put at 42 men killed and 158 wounded, while 20 South Vietnamese were reported killed and 116 wounded.

The U.S. Command reported about 20 attacks by rockets or mortars overnight on allied bases and towns, including a 150-round mortar barrage followed by an infantry assault on a night camp of U.S. 4th Infantry Division troops.

The ground assault touched off a night-long battle 25 miles west of Kontum, in the Central Highlands near the Cambodian border. Twenty-five North Vietnamese soldiers and six U.S. troops were reported killed and 37 Americans wounded.

At least half of the enemy dead were credited to massive American firepower, including bombers, helicopter gunships, artillery, the controversial new Sheridan tanks and armored personnel carriers.

Three American helicopters, a Sheridan tank and an armored personnel carrier were reported lost in the weekend fighting. Three of the helicopter crewmen were killed and five were wounded. A total of 2,481 American helicopters have been reported lost in the war.

Truman's Car To Be Memorial

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The private railroad car which carried Harry S. Truman on his "give-em-hell" presidential campaign in 1948, is back in Missouri and may stay as a memorial to the former president. City Sunday and Barket said it will be placed in an industrial park. "The people of Missouri should be able to enjoy its historic value," Barket said.

A man suspected of being a hotel bill jumper was dead on arrival at Bexar County hospital after he fought with a security guard over a stolen credit card Sunday night. He was Daniel B. Blocker, 30, of San Antonio.

A flaming crash at a combination grocery store and filling station in Bryan Sunday night killed seven persons.

Police identified the dead as Mr. and Mrs. Luke Collette of a Hearne rural route, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Degelia of Bryan and the Collettes' three young sons, Joseph, Johnny and Charles.

Benny Moreno, 3, was killed Sunday when he was run over by a truck driven by his father in San Antonio. Police said the tiny boy and a five-year-old brother had been helping their father remove blocks from the driveway.

Mavon J. Young, 33, of Fort Worth was shot to death Sunday, dying shortly after he reached a Fort Worth hospital. Police hunted a woman in connection with the shooting.

Joel Thomas Keele, 4 months old, suffocated in his crib Sunday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad L. Keele of Houston.

Mrs. Nelda A. Hoffman, 24, of Houston was killed Sunday when she was struck by a motor boat while fishing. Ernest Leslie Fouts, 30, of Houston was charged with negligent homicide and released on $1,500 bond. Police said the accident occurred about a mile north of the Texas City boat marina when the boats collided.

Ellie Royal, 41, of Watauga was killed Sunday when his pickup truck skidded on wet pavement and struck a bridge abutment. The accident occurred near Saginaw in Tarrant County.

Two Dallas women, Donetta Florence, 45, and Freddie Florence, 19, were killed on US 75 near Fairfield when their car skidded on wet pavement and was struck broadside by a truck. Foster Towser, 45, of Dallas, the truck driver, was reported in good condition at a Fairfield hospital.

Franklin D. Deering, 32, of Wichita Falls was fatally injured Sunday after his car overturned on a city street. His death, about 12 hours later, was the North Texas city's first in 102 days.

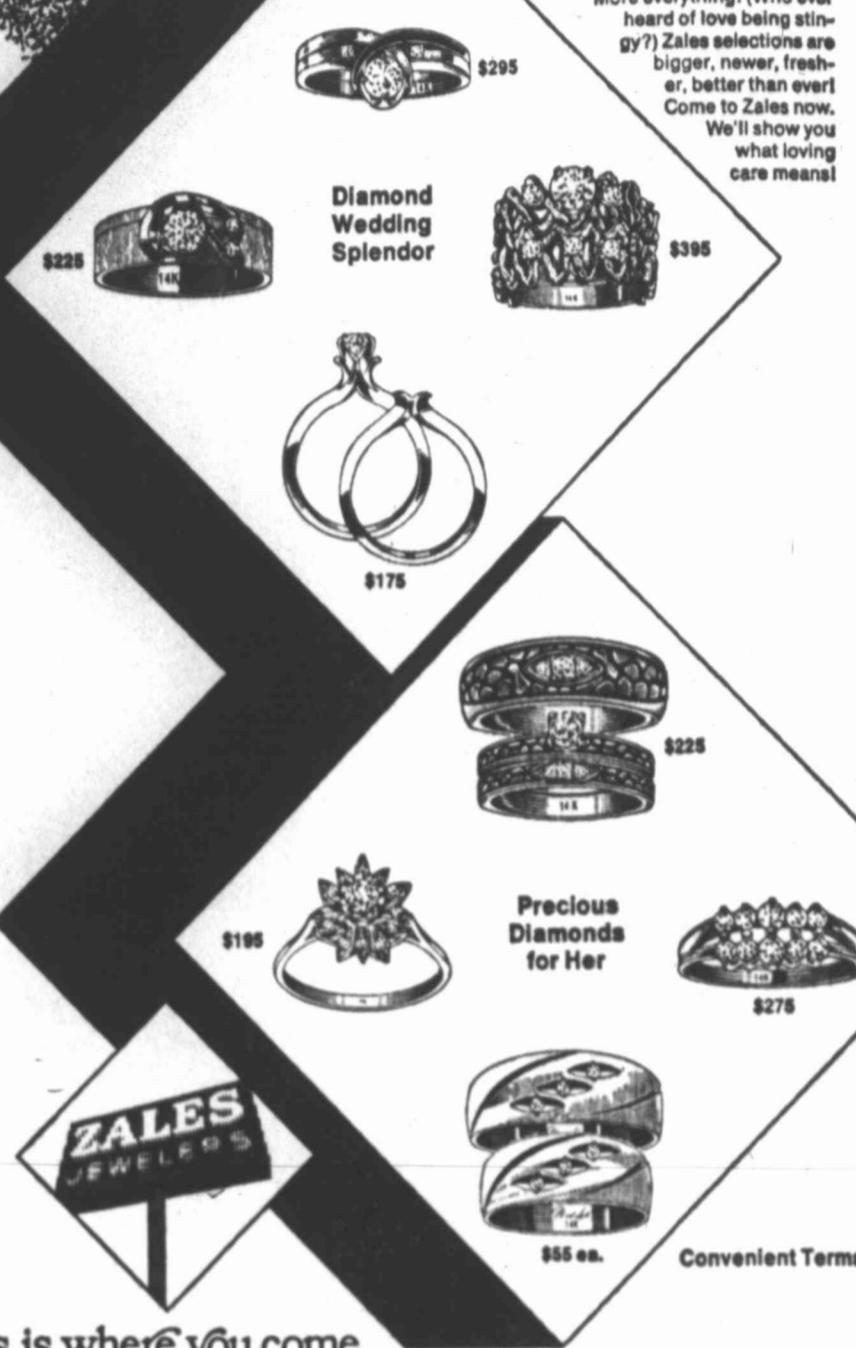

Shirley Ann Temple, 19, of At-Land, Tex., was killed on Texas 43. Authorities said she apparently lost control of her car during a rainstorm and skidded into a tree.

Eyes Of Widow Never Left Husband's Coffin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Donah Eisenhower's eyes never left the flag-shrouded casket of the husband whose last thoughts and words were for her.

Twice she seemed to fight back tears. Amid the great assemblage of world and national leaders in the Capitol rotunda, the former president's wife of nearly 53 years was calm and composed.

And so she remained during President Nixon's 16 minute eulogy, through the President's recitation of her husband's last words. "I've always loved my wife. I've always loved my children. I've always loved my grandchildren. I have always loved my country."

Dwight D. Eisenhower, Nixon said, spoke these words to his wife just before he died last Friday. When the eulogy was over, Mrs. Eisenhower returned to seclusion and private grief. She and other members of the

VOTE FOR EDDIE ACRI For CITY COMMISSIONER Tuesday, April 1 "New People Bring New Ideas" Let's Face The Facts

IN THE DECEMBER 13, 1967, issue of the Big Spring Herald, your City Commission unanimously endorsed the City Sales Tax and asked that we go to the polls and VOTE for it, and they stated "if this City Sales Tax is approved we pledge "AN ALLOTMENT OF 50 per cent of the Sales Tax Revenue for such needed permanent improvements as Street Pavings, Sidewalks, development of parks, improvement of problem drainage areas and more street lighting." The City Sales Tax has been in effect more than a year and as yet these improvements have not been started. We did receive a ten cent reduction in the current ad valorem property tax. The city sales tax revenue is much larger than first anticipated thus I feel that we should have received a larger reduction in the ad valorem property tax instead of the 10 cent reduction. On September 20, 1968, Contract 68-4 Assessment Paving Program for the City of Big Spring was awarded in the amount of $262,090.11 to have 28 of our local streets paved. The property owner will have to pay $219,802.03, the city will pay $42,288.08 if all 28 streets are paved. Since this contract was awarded 10 streets have been cut and will not be paved. These streets are: 13th Dixie to Settles, 14th Dixie to Settles, N. E. 10th N. Main to N. Runnels, Lorilla 7th to US 80, N. W. 6th Lamesa Hiway to N. Douglas, N. E. 8th N. Benton to N. Main, West 8th to US 80 to Andree, Trades Ave. 3rd to 4th, Austin 2nd to 3rd, and of the remaining 18 they are not too sure of them. Another salary increase of 5 per cent was given this year. This is a needed increase for the city employees, but I feel that the lower salaried employees are the ones that need this raise. If our highest paid employee makes a salary of $18,240.00 a year his increase will be $912.00, and if our lowest paid employee is making $3,576.00 his increase will be $178.80. By not giving the top salaried employees a raise they could have increased the raise to 7 per cent for the lower salaried city employees. I believe that anytime that we have any services that are not by an open bid, that these services should be equally distributed among the different local businesses. I understand that our City Manager is making a study to see if it is feasible to convert our garbage collection system. I believe that before we spend $200.00 for large garbage cans we should complete all the other programs the city has promised. The city charter of Big Spring states that the commissioners will meet two days a month. I feel that it is the City Commissioners' responsibility to the citizens to be more informed on how the city is being operated. To be a good commissioner one must be an informed commissioner and the only way that one can be informed is by spending time at City Hall. If a commissioner can't afford to spend the time the job requires, then he should not offer himself for election as a city commissioner. Your city will operate more effectively depending on how much time you devote to the commission. If the voters of Big Spring see fit to elect me to the City Commission, then I shall see to it that I do the very best possible job to merit your trust. With "New Commissioners Come New Ideas" and I have some New Ideas and with the help of all the citizens we can improve our wonderful city. If the different agencies, City, County and School, work together we can get so much more done for all the citizens and give the people the kind of City Government that they deserve for the Tax Dollars they pay.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN Easter Parade Slated Tuesday

The 1969 Easter Seal campaign will come to a climax when the Easter Seal Society of Howard County holds its annual Easter Parade from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday, according to Mrs. Louis Pallant, parade chairman.

Volunteers, tagged as Easter Seal representatives, will visit homes here to deliver sheets of the 1969 Easter Seals, explain local services available to crippled children, and accept contributions to help finance these services. The parade is the high point in the 1969 appeal, which will continue through Easter Sunday with its theme of, "Your money is working. Crippled children can be helped."

"Please invite the Easter Seal volunteer in and listen to the story of rehabilitation care and treatment services given to crippled children in Big Spring," Mrs. Pallant said. "Accept the sheet of Easter Seals, and use them on your mail. Then please contribute as generously as you can so that the help to cripple children can continue and expand here."

Helping with the Easter Seal Parade will be the Rainbow Girls, the Coahoma and Big Spring PHA Girls, Key Club, Royal Ambassadors, Boy Scouts, the Junior Volunteers of the Rehabilitation Center, members of the Big Spring High School football team, youth of the YMCA, the Latin Club, Tennis Club, Journalism Club and about 20 college students. There will be numerous adults helping also.

U.S. Has Suffered Little From Halt In Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officers say the United States has suffered little militarily from the prohibition against bombing North Vietnam, begun in limited fashion one year ago today.

This attitude would seem to be an admission that the air campaign against the North, launched in February, 1965, was not as vital as the Pentagon made it out to be.

But, military men say, the North Vietnamese have gained operating flexibility and are no longer paying as high a price to infiltrate men and supplies southward.

At the same time, however, Hanoi has not been able, or has not chosen, to build up a much larger force in South Vietnam. Its troop level today is about what it was when the bombs were falling—around 100,000.

Former President Johnson restricted U.S. bombing of North Vietnam last March 31 to the narrow panhandle beneath the 20th parallel to encourage Hanoi to enter peace negotiations. Last Nov. 1, with talks imminent, he made the prohibition complete.

There was some concern the bombing halt would bring a dangerous North Vietnamese threat to U.S. Marines stationed below the demilitarized zone separating the two countries. The United States warned Hanoi in advance to respect the supposedly mutual nature of the DMZ.

Officers say Hanoi still plays fast and loose with the DMZ but not to the extent that U.S. forces have been placed in serious jeopardy.

U.S. intelligence estimates 1,500 to 3,000 North Vietnamese operate continuously in the 12-mile zone but few are combat types.

Most are patrols or are in construction units sent in to repair fortifications in North Vietnam's six-mile portion of the DMZ. Small armed units do slip through occasionally to raid Marine outposts.

Four divisions, or around 40,000 men, which were withdrawn to North Vietnam last year remain scattered above the DMZ and pose a potential threat.

The United States still "attacks" North Vietnamese territory on occasion. There have been dozens of exchanges of fire between U.S. Marines in the south and North Vietnamese units in the DMZ. The U.S. military has recorded nearly 1,100 instances of enemy presence inside the zone.

British Criticized For 'Snub' To Ike's Memory

LONDON (AP) — The British government faced criticism in Parliament and the press today over what some newspapers called a snub to the memory of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Britain sent Earl Mountbatten of Burma, a friend of Eisenhower and a distant relative of Queen Elizabeth II, to represent the royal family at the funeral and Defense Minister Denis Healey to represent the government.

"This is not really good enough," said the Daily Telegraph. The pro-Labor Sunday Mirror headlined its story "America Bewildered at Royal Snub."

A Labor member of Parliament, Marcus Lipton introduced a motion saying Britain should have been "more adequately represented at the funeral of Gen. Eisenhower."

"A member of the royal family should represent the Queen, not Lord Mountbatten," said Lipton. "You might as well send the assistant postmaster general as Mr. Healey for all the American public knows of the defense minister."

Prime Minister Harold Wilson is on a trip to Africa, and the Queen and Prince Philip were attending the dedication today of a chapel in memory of her father, King George VI.

The Telegraph noted that Healey is the eighth-ranking member of the Cabinet and that Mountbatten, once Britain's top soldier, now holds no official position. But the Times said the defense minister was a suitable choice because Eisenhower's closest connection with Britain mander in World War II.

Ike Was Eighth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower was the eighth president or former president to lie in state in the rotunda of the nation's Capitol which was completed in 1863. Abraham Lincoln was the first to rest on the simple wooden bier under the dome. The others were John F. Kennedy, James A. Garfield, Warren G. Harding, William Howard Taft, Herbert Hoover and William McKinley.

1—'GAUGE OF GREATNESS'

Preordained For Great Role In History

Editor's Note: This is the first of five articles on the life of one of America's best-loved figures. It is based on the author's forthcoming book, "Dwight D. Eisenhower: A Gauge of Greatness."

By RELMAN MORIN

A strange pattern appears again and again in the whole of Dwight D. Eisenhower's story, a sequence of events that seems almost to have preordained him for his great role in history. He makes a certain decision, unaware that it will lead to a turning point in his life. Sheer accident brings him to other turning points. If he had made a different decision at a particular moment, or if events had developed differently, it is extremely unlikely that he would have been chosen to lead the mightiest army in history, and then to be elected President of the United States. Indeed, it is doubtful that the world ever would have heard his name.

The nexus—destiny or blind chance—is clearly visible, binding together the strands of his two careers.

This is not to say that Eisenhower was merely a fortunate man. He brought to each new undertaking a keenly analytical mind, vision, determination, and the physical and mental stamina to work long hours. He took advantage of his opportunities, but nothing came to him on a silver platter.

Nonetheless, his life is a fascinating study in "ifs."

The first of these appears in 1910, the accident that sent him to the United States Military Academy.

He had graduated from high school in Abilene, Kan., and was desperately anxious to go to college. Any college. However, his elder brother, Edgar, had just entered the University of Michigan and Dwight, for financial reasons, would have to wait. He took a job as night foreman in the Belle Springs Creamery in Abilene.

Eisenhower's closest friend was a schoolmate named Everett L. Hazlett, Jr. Dwight called him "Swede." Throughout the Second World War and even when he was President, Eisenhower corresponded regularly with his friend. Some of his most interesting and touching letters began with the salutation, "Dear Swede." In the year before, Hazlett had received a Congressional appointment to the United States Naval Academy, but had failed the entrance examinations. Now, having obtained a second appointment, he was taking special studies in preparation for a second try.

"Swede" often came to the creamery at night to pass the time with Ike. One night, he broached an idea—why shouldn't Ike try for an appointment to the Academy? He pictured the fun they could have together. They might even be roommates. But he touched the most responsive chord when he said, "Look at it this way, Ike. Here's a chance for an education and you don't have to pay for it."

The thought took root. Ike promptly wrote to both Kansas senators asking for an appointment to Annapolis. One, J. L. Bristow, replied that he proposed to fill them in competitive examinations. May the best man win.

With "Swede's" help, Ike crammed furiously for a month and then went to Topeka for the examinations. Playing it safe, he did not express a preference for the Naval Academy. He took the tests for both service schools.

To his immense delight, the senator later advised him that he had scored highest (among four applicants) for the appointment to the Naval Academy and second (among eight) for West Point.

Then came a cruel shock. Having passed his 20th birthday, Ike was ineligible because of age for Annapolis. Bristow wrote that the boy who had scored No. 1 in the test for the Military Academy would not be taking the appointment and therefore he was awarding it to Ike.

Both boys were deeply disappointed. But, Hazlett recalled later, "Ike mumbled something about not looking a gift horse in the mouth." So it was to be West Point, not Annapolis.

He was luckier than he realized. Suppose he had attended the Naval Academy. With his attainments, he might have reached the rank of Admiral. But would he have become the first Admiral elected President of the United States?

The second turning point was to come four years later.

Eisenhower's grades were well above average at West Point. He graduated in the top third of the Class of 1915.

However, a serious question arose as to whether he should be commissioned.

He injured his knee playing football against Tufts College in his second year as a cadet. (Eisenhower said that in the ensuing years more than two dozen Tufts alumni each told him that he had been the one who inflicted the injury and apologized "for hitting you so hard.") He said, wryly, that he often wondered how many men Tufts had on the field that day!

Characteristically, he ignored the pain. Then, in a cavalry drill, he jumped from his horse and the knee buckled like a jackknife. He was hospitalized, in traction part of the time, for 30 days.

When he was about to graduate the medical officers at the Academy were not certain whether they should recommend him for a commission. The authorities hesitated to commission any cadet with a serious physical defect which might force him to retire early. In that event, the investment of four years' training in the Academy would be lost. What should they do about the man with the trick knee?

The question of commissioning him hung in the balance. Eisenhower did not attempt to argue his case. He had achieved his objective, a college education, albeit primarily in military science. If he was not to go into the Army he would have to try some other profession.

The medical officers offered to recommend him for a commission in the Coast Artillery. He refused. He said he wanted the Infantry. After long deliberations—and stretching the point—they agreed.

If they had decided otherwise, there would not have been a Lt. Eisenhower, much less the Allied Supreme Commander of that name nearly 30 years later.

Doctor's Wife Kills Intruder

DALLAS (AP) — A doctor's wife shot and killed an intruder who attacked her husband Sunday night, in their home, police said today.

Mrs. Walter Dickinson killed John Walford Leyh, 19, a probation violator from Maryland, police said.

Dickinson said he saw Leyh on the patio and a struggle ensued. He said his wife was sleeping, and was awakened by the commotion. Mrs. Dickinson said she ran back to the bedroom to call police, and Leyh ran toward her. She then shot him. Police said Mrs. Dickinson shot the man in the face, neck and a hand.

Wide-Track LeMans:
It proves a car doesn't have to look like a bargain to be one.

The Wide-Track Family for '69: Grand Prix, Bonneville, Brougham, Executive, Catalina, 6T0, LeMans, Custom 3, Tempest and Firebird. Pontiac Motor Division.

LeMans certainly doesn't look like the kind of car you normally associate with budgets and penny-pinching and all that. It looks like someone splurged. Someone did, Pontiac. And not just on the styling. LeMans is as great to drive as it is to look at. Thanks to a rather special way of moving called Wide-Tracking. And a rather special piece of machinery called America's strongest Overhead Cam Six (with a pair of V-8's available if you want to do a little splurging of your own). So if you're bargain hunting, don't pass up LeMans just because it looks too rich for your blood. It isn't. That's the real beauty of it.

That's a Break Away.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold, with 70 part score:

♠KJ6 ♥AKQ ♦A9J3 ♣J103

What is your opening bid?

A.—One no trump. True, this hand exceeds the bounds of a no trump opening by a full point plus a ten. However, the conditions of score may create an awkward rebid problem if you open with one diamond and partner responds in a major suit. The slight underbid is very unlikely to result in the loss of a slam and will, in fact, serve to facilitate further bidding if any develops.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q9843 ♥87542 ♦85 ♣4

The bidding has proceeded: North East South

1♣ Dble. ?

What do you bid?

A.—Our choice is for a barrage of three spades. This may keep the opponents out of a possible game in a minor suit or good them into a game in hearts, against which you have some defense.

Q. 3—As dealer you hold:

♠AKQ ♥KQ ♦AK9 ♠A1064

What is your opening bid?

A.—While this hand measures up to the specifications of a three no trump opening and, the such an answer must be accepted as entirely correct, this department has a very slight preference in favor of an opening two spade bid. Such a bid provides an additional chance for a safe landing place if partner should have some weak hand containing four spades—some hand which would provide no good play for nine tricks at no trump but would nevertheless provide the distributional values to produce 10 tricks at spades. Furthermore, the two spade opening does not preclude an eventual no trump contract.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A95 ♥K74 ♦AK ♣AQJ6

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1♣ Pass 1♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—It is a close call between a jump raise to four spades and a jump shift to three diamonds. Either may be accepted as correct. Our own taste runs to the latter by a narrow margin. It will have the merit of ferreting out a possible slam on some few holdings.

Q. 5—Your side is vulnerable; partner opens with one spade, and you hold:

♠98754 ♥6 ♦Q7 ♣KQ1075

What is your response?

A.—This is the type of hand for a preemptive raise. You have a great playing strength, but no defense. Bid four spades.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AKJ ♥A8752 ♦A ♣Q874

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—A vigorous rebid is in order, but not one that absolutely insists upon game, which may not be available if partner has a shaded response. Our preference is for a raise to three spades. Normally we insist upon four trumps for such a call but, since no other suitable bid is available, we must ask partner to get along with only three trumps this time.

Q. 7—Partner opens with one club, and you hold:

♠K642 ♥K753 ♦Q743 ♣5

What is your response?

A.—One diamond. The four major suit holdings are stronger, a diamond response is more strategic. It affords partner the opportunity of rebidding at the level of one and, if he happens to have four hearts or four spades, you will hear about it at once.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AJ63 ♥73 ♦A62 ♣AK65

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1♣ 1♠ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—While there is good reason to believe that you can beat three spades, a double is not recommended. There is too much danger that partner will choose not to leave it in and, if he responds in hearts, you will find yourself, no doubt, in a shaky contract. We would prefer to play for a reasonably sure profit by passing.

HIS MEMORY WAS HONORED IN CEREMONIALS ACROSS THE NATION

Lots Of Things Stopped For Eisenhower Today

By The Associated Press
A lot of things stopped for Ike today—schools, businesses, sports events, even the postal service—and his memory was honored at ceremonies across the nation.
Military bases scheduled 21-gun salutes at noon and 50-gun salutes at sunset in honor of their former commander-in-chief.
The stock and commodity exchanges closed in New York

City and banks closed in some states.
Many colleges shut down for the day, including Columbia University, where Dwight D. Eisenhower was president before heading the call to public office.
Schools and government offices in many states shut down for all or part of today. Post offices closed and mail deliveries were suspended for the day.
At Broadway theaters, a minute of silence will be observed before curtains rise.
Three major league baseball exhibition games, three American Basketball Association games, racing at Miami's Gulfstream Park and the qualifying round of the Greater Greensboro Open golf tourney in North Carolina were canceled.
Trains of the Erie-Lackawanna and Chesapeake & Ohio-Baltimore & Ohio railroads will stop for one minute during the day.

One of many memorial services will be held at the Air Force Academy in Colorado, founded in 1955 during the late president's first term.
The Mormon Tabernacle Choir set a noon service at the Tabernacle in Salt Lake City.
"The nation and the world will miss his wisdom and valiant service," said David O. McKay, president of the Mormon Church. "I cherish the memory of my visits with him both here in Salt Lake City and at the White House."

About 5,000 people gathered in Anaheim, Calif., Sunday, where bands, choral groups and Hollywood figures led the mourning.
"We all loved Ike," said Jimmy Durante. "He was my friend, your friend, everybody's friend. We sure miss him."
Palm Sunday church services echoed President Nixon's eulogy for Eisenhower.

"We're sorry over the death of President Eisenhower. But we have the happiness of the memory of his dedicated life," said Archbishop Terence Cooke, outside of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City where Eisenhower's name was read in the prayer for the dead.
Gila Indians joined an elderly crowd at the First Presbyterian Church in Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday. Tribal Judge Perry Enos said, "President Eisenhower has always been my favorite general and my favorite president."

In Boston, the Rev. Dr. Frederick M. Meek, minister of Old South Church, United Church of Christ, recalled that Eisenhower "was a man of war who once said at Boston University that it was the business of the church to put generals like himself out of business."

Judge Frees All But 2 In Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — A Negro judge has freed all but two of 10 men detained by police after a shootout with members of the black separatist Republic of New Africa which left a young patrolman dead.
Detectives investigating the fatal shooting of the policeman, Michael Czapski, 22, wanted to jailed eight more of 135 originally arrested.

But Judge George Crockett of Recorder's Court ruled Sunday that police had illegally made nitrate tests of the suspects' hands to determine whether they had recently fired weapons. The judge said the police had failed to advise the men first of their right to call lawyers, and he ordered their release.

Crockett cited William L. Cahalan, Wayne County prosecutor, for contempt of court for trying to keep one of the men in custody.
Czapski's partner, Richard E. Worobec, radioed police headquarters shortly before midnight Saturday that they were about to make a check on about a dozen Negroes with rifles and carbines they had seen outside a church in a Negro district.
"They're shooting at us, they're shooting at us. We need help," was his next radio message.
When about 50 police reinforcements began arriving, they found Czapski dead with seven wounds in the head and chest. Worobec had crawled into the scout car, pushed the accelerator down with his hand to get the bullet-riddled vehicle out of the line of fire and gasp his call for help.
Lying in serious condition in Detroit General Hospital with wounds in the lower back and legs, Worobec was unable to provide details of the shooting.
Police said that as reinforcements arrived, they were fired on from the church. They smashed their way through front and side entrances, guns and rifles blazing.
They were met, they said, by a line of Negroes kneeling inside the church, in firing position.
Police said they later confiscated seven rifles, three handguns and a large supply of ammunition.
Five Negroes were injured, four by gun fire and one with a broken leg.

Protest March At Border City

Between two and three thousand persons, mostly Mexican-Americans, staged a protest march and rally at Del Rio Sunday to protest what many called "gringo injustice." Several Mexican-American groups were represented, among them the Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO).

Police Relax After March Turns Out To Be Peaceful

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — This border city was peaceful Sunday night, just as hundreds of marchers had been hours earlier when they strolled through city streets with words of a "Mexican-American manifesto" on their lips.
Police relaxed after staying on the alert for 48 hours preparing for violence that never came.
At the Val Verde County courthouse someone ripped down the copy of the "manifesto" that leaders of the march stuck on the front door after shouting that the "Cactus Curtain" had opened on Mexican-American problems.
The manifesto threatened that violence might erupt if Mexican-American demands for equality with Anglos were not met.
The three-page unsigned statement also demanded that Gov. Preston Smith, who acted at the urging of local county commissioners, rescind his request to throw a VISTA program out of Del Rio.
It warned of "serious social unrest" if he and the commissioners did not change their minds.
The commissioners charged that the 20 VISTA workers here were becoming too involved in local politics and were aligning themselves with the militant Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO).
The governor's action was at the heart of complaints in the demonstration here which began with an estimated crowd of at least 1,000 in the Del Rio Civic Center.
It continued in a march down US 90 and 277 and ended with a Palm Sunday field mass in a city park on the edge of town.
Soon the crowd, tired, hot and quiet after the three-mile march, broke up and only picnickers remained at the park.
Crowd estimates for the march ranged from 1,200 by police to 4,000 by Mexican-American leaders. Marching four and five abreast the line of predominantly Mexican-Americans stretched back a full five blocks.
The civic center rang with chants of "brown power!" and "viva la raza (long live the race)!" during the flurry of addresses from such speakers as state Sen. Joe Bernal, a Mexican-American, and state Rep. Curtis Graves, a Negro.

Zoning Board To Hear 2 Requests

There will be a meeting of the planning and zoning commission at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday to hear two requests.

Henry Robinson has requested a special use permit for supplemental dwelling at 2204 Runnels.

Lodge Claims Progress Made In Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge says some slow progress has been made at the Vietnam peace talks, citing as evidence the fact that all the participants are "sitting around the same table and talking."

Lodge also does not believe a military victory is possible for either side, thus making a negotiated settlement the only alternative.

"For the first time in the history of the war, the key belligerents on both sides are meeting face to face," the chief U.S. representative at the Paris peace talks said in a weekend interview. We now have a structure here in Paris to exchange views with the other side... Through the exchange of statements and rebuttals, each side is learning what is important to the other side."

Lodge refused to answer questions about secret meetings, prospects for a more flexible Communist position, the possibility of a Soviet role in a settlement, or whether mutual withdrawal of foreign forces from South Vietnam is possible without an admission by Hanoi that it has troops there.

SCIENTISTS SAY NO ONE KNOWS WHEN MAJOR EARTHQUAKE WILL COME

California Jittery Over Doomsday Forecasts

By RALPH DIGHTON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Against all scientific evidence prophets of doom say April is the month when a super earthquake will topple half of California into the Pacific.

he has received more than 1,200 phone calls and 500 letters since early March requesting pamphlets on what to do in case of an earthquake.

said they expected soon. —A calypso tune called "Day after Day" which forecast imminent disaster has jumped in three weeks from 20th to 7th place on radio station KHJ's compilation of retail record sales.

conceivably might have some scientific basis is April 16. On that date the sun and moon will be lined up, exerting a gravitational pull that will make the earth's crust bulge a foot or more in their direction.

where this tidal force may trigger the stresses that lead to earthquakes. Another Caltech release, issued March 9, said "Wild predictions of disastrous earthquakes—issued by self-proclaimed oracles and other visionaries—are not supported by scientific evidence and are frightening many Californians needlessly."

was a normal year—none came true." Another Caltech seismologist, Dr. James N. Brune, said in the release: "A common characteristic in most of these dire predictions is the idea that a great part of California will split off and slide into the sea. This is clearly ridiculous."

Fault, and that a major earthquake is overdue. New studies indicate, however, that the strain has been significantly relieved by earthquakes near the fault in 1925, 1941 and 1952, Caltech said.

It's An Ill Rattlesnake That Doesn't Turn Money

It's an ill rattlesnake that doesn't make money, so far as the Big Spring Jaycees are concerned. In addition to staging their annual Rattlesnake Roundup here, the Jaycees have been helping set up others in the area.

in a snake fry at the national Jaycee convention. The local Jaycees will get 75 per cent of the hides for skinning and curing, and these will be used in various novelties. Estimates are that an average rattlesnake hide is worth at least $2.

ring the casket from the National Cathedral to the caisson, after a brief motor journey, the ceremonies went off with military precision called for in the detailed, three-year-old state funeral plan.

School Vote Deadline Near

Deadline for voting absentee in the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees election is 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Howard County Clerk's office.

Long lines of persons waited in the Howard County Tax Assessor-Collector's office Monday morning to register motor vehicles before the deadline of midnight Tuesday. Persons without 1969 license plates on their vehicles after midnight Tuesday will be subject to a fine and a 20 per cent increase in registration fee, if the vehicle is driven.

Marker Commemorating County's 1st Well Unveiled

At the intersection of two roads which didn't exist when it happened, a marker commemorating the discovery of Howard County's first commercial oil well was unveiled Sunday afternoon.

about three miles east of where the marker was unveiled on the highway. The test had a slight show in the Yates, but on Nov. 9, 1925 it hit pay at 1,508 feet and completed it for "25 barrels a day," which Mr. Hyer admitted was really good for nine barrels. This led to the county's

Tompkins Tire Center

Jeff Brown, (left) manager, and Alfred Ham, sales representative, have the tires at Tompkins Tire, 601 E. 2nd, that will put your car in good shape for driving during the Easter holiday. Tompkins Tire Center stocks all sizes of Dunlop tires and can arrange financing up to 24 months with the first payment not coming due until 45 days after the purchase. With each tire sold comes free mounting and balancing.

Concrete Vault Is Permanent

Trinity Memorial Park has had to substantially increase the number of vaults it produces each month because of the demand for a high quality burial vault.

The concrete vault is less expensive than many other types of vaults. Its strength and durability is equal to or superior to all other kinds of burial vaults, with the possible exception of solid copper.

Trinity vaults are built of steel reinforced concrete with a waterproofing agent mixed with the concrete before it is formed. Dense concrete, with a tensile strength of more than 4,000 pounds of pressure per square inch, is required by Trinity Memorial Park for use in each vault it builds. The concrete becomes even stronger as time passes.

A concrete vault prevents a sunken grave. Rust and other corrosion is not possible. Trinity Memorial Park has found that a more lasting vault could not be built at the same price and offer the same protection.

The Trinity Memorial Park vaults are designed with "Air Seal," which allows moisture to escape from the interior of the vault, thereby keeping it dry.

O. C. Shapland, operator of Trinity Memorial Park, advises that you discuss the merits of a concrete vault with your funeral director the next time the need arises.

National Makes Ideas Buildings

Take your ideas for remodeling and updating your home or business to National Building Supplies, 301 E. 2nd, where you will find the help, material and tools to get the job done. Although National Building Center is primarily in the lumber business, it handles remodeling and construction contracts.

Tom Vernon, manager, invites you to bring your blueprints to National Building Center. The trained staff can help you turn the paper work into a completed structure at the lowest possible price.

Come to National Building Center for the lumber to build weekend projects. The center stocks all grades and many different types of woods which will help make your project the talk of the neighborhood. In addition to the wood, you will find other materials and accessories to give the project that professional-finished look.

You will find a supply of Spartan Storm Doors, which are made of all-aluminum construction. The Spartan Doors never need painting to protect them from the weather. They have glass panels for winter protection and screening for summer ventilation.

Curiosity Shop

Sherman Whitaker fixes one of the many lamps that he has put back into safe working order. Whitaker and his wife, Wilma, own and operate the Curiosity Shop, 3103 W. US 80, where your problems can be solved. When you're confronted with an electrical repair or have to buy a gift for a friend, solve your problem at the Curiosity Shop.

Bennett's Drive-In Is Convenient

filled between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m., directly after they see a doctor. That's exactly the hours Bennett's Pharmacy is open, Monday through Saturday. Bennett's Pharmacy is located in the near perfect location of 305 W. 16th. It is near, but away from the traffic on Gregg, and close but away from the congestion of downtown.

It offers a relaxed atmosphere with convenient and ample parking space, in both the front and rear.

An asphalt driveway leads customers directly to the drive-in window, which was built especially for the mother who has a sick child at home and does not have the time to come inside. Here the customer can drive up and pick up a prescription. Even more time can be saved at the drive-in window, if you have your doctor phone in your prescription to Bennett's Pharmacy. The order will be ready by the time you can drive at the window.

A coffee bar awaits the customers who want to come inside and browse around the well-stocked displays of lotions, colognes, cards and other supplies. There is a complete line of hair care items, from shampoo to bobby pins. For men, there is a variety of shaving lotions and lathers.

Protection, Service Available At Permian

Protection and service are the products sold from the offices of the Permian Insurance Agency in the Permian Building in downtown Big Spring.

Permian operates on the theory that when a prospect spends money on insurance he should receive the most protection and service possible for that money. Jeff Brown, owner, makes sure each of his insurance policies carries all the protection possible. He provides the service.

When buying life, hospitalization, or other protection, let Brown sit down with you to discuss the coverage you will be getting. Make sure you are covered when you buy the policy, instead of waiting until you put in a claim to find out you may not, Brown said.

Permian Insurance is a member of the Independent Agency System through its affiliation with the local association as well as the Texas and National Association of Independent Agents.

All types of insurance are offered by Permian. The agency has several stock companies from which to choose and almost all claims are handled by local qualified adjusters.

Bear Kills Its Owner-Trainer

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP) — A 4-year-old brown Russian bear, without teeth and claws, killed its owner and trainer at a carnival Saturday night.

Russell Ringer, 49, of Newberry, Mich., was crushed when he entered the cage to muzzle the bear for their wrestling act as the carnival opened at this military post.

His assistant, Willard Durjeau of Newberry, said Ringer apparently slipped and was wrestled down by the bear.

Del Rohr, the carnival owner, said the bear weighed between 700 and 800 pounds and was too tall to stand in a seven-foot cage. Its teeth and claws had been extracted for safety.

CHARLES DAVID MCCALLY

Emphasis Placed On Cultural Programs During Convention

Varied in subject and presentation, the cultural programs featured during the weekend convention of the Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, provided something for everyone.

Highlighting the Friday session was a color slide lecture by Charles David McCally of Odessa, managing artistic director of "The Globe of the Great Southwest," an authentic replica of a Shakespearean theater of the 16th century.

In introducing the speaker, Mrs. Richmond Dublin, district president, said, "I urge all West Texas club women to become involved in this venture, and consider it a step forward in the cultural affairs of Texas."

McCally earned two degrees at Baylor University and was a drama professor at Trinity University in San Antonio prior to becoming involved with the Shakespeare theater project in Odessa. Previously, he performed as an actor with the National Repertory Theater of New York and was associated with the Dallas Theater Center.

McCally explained that the theater came about because of the "dream" of Mrs. Marjorie Morris of Odessa. Through her efforts, and help of others, land was donated by the college and monetary gifts provided for the construction.

"Up to now, the theater has been mainly a curiosity, and we have conducted tours for visitors from all over the world," continued McCally. "However, we are now entering a new phase, for this is 'the year of the Globe,' when we begin three new projects. There will be a Summer Shakespeare Festival, the opening of the Globe Academy, (a school for classical styles of acting) and productions by the Classical Theater, which will produce only classical plays."

McCally showed slides on the theater, pointing out the authenticity of design and scenery. Wood used inside was handhewn and carved by a single man, according to McCally, so that there would be no change in the "rhythm of design." Lanterns are like those used in Shakespeare's time to light the docks of London, and shakes give a thatched appearance to the roof.

"The closed roof and air conditioning are the only concessions we have made to modern times," said McCally, in describing what is planned to become a future center for art, music and dance. An art exhibit has become a traditional part of each presentation.

Announcing the theater's 1969 season, McCally said that "Arms and the Man" had been presented in March, "Peter Pan" opens May 14, and "An Evening With Shakespeare" is slated April 23 in observance of the bard of Avon's birthday. The Shakespeare Festival will run from June 17 to Aug. 24, featuring "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "The Taming of the Shrew." On Oct. 7, there will be "The World of Carl Sandburg," and the season will end Oct. 23 with "The Importance of Being Ernest."

INTERNATIONAL
"International Night" was observed Friday by the convention with an evening of entertainment entitled, "A Quaint Essence of Spain." Castanets clicked as Miss Christina Guerrero of Odessa performed flamenco dances, and guest speakers were Dr. Ignacio Manuel Munoz, formerly of Valencia, Spain, and Mrs. Luman Holman of Jacksonville, Texas, author of the book, "Spanish Nuggets."

Dr. Munoz, now a professor at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches, where he earned his MA degree, first came to the United States in 1962 to study law at Vanderbilt University. He did graduate work at the University of North Carolina and is a Ph.D. candidate at Kentucky University.

Dr. Munoz' ceramics and photographic exhibits have been featured in national salons, and his published material includes articles on art and books of poetry and fiction. His latest book, "Rebel War," is now in publication. Assisting Dr. Munoz in showing color slides of the city of Valencia was Carl Vega, also of Nacogdoches.

"Valencia is the feminine city of Spain," said Dr. Munoz, "and is often called a city of gardens or land of flowers. It is filled with music, flowers and pretty girls. In fact, we have a holiday that lasts from January 1 till the end of December."

Slides showed the classic architecture of city buildings, gardens in bloom and statutory revealing the whimsical humor of the city's million inhabitants. Of particular interest were pictures of an event honoring motherhood, where combined bouquets brought to the symbolic statue formed a floral arrangement weighing five tons.

"I love Valencia, my language, and the romance of Spain," concluded Dr. Munoz.

AUTHOR
The second speaker, Mrs. Holman, is a native of this country, but also showed a love for the Spanish language in her book, "Spanish Nuggets," which is described as a new approach to bilingual teaching for young learners. The book, which was displayed, contains quotations and proverbs from many lands, presented in Spanish followed by their English counterparts.

Mrs. Holman, the mother of seven children, five of whom are now attending college, reared her children before returning to college to earn a degree, majoring in Spanish. Tracing her life, in relation to those who influenced it, Mrs. Holman said, "There isn't anything an American Texas woman can't do or won't do. We don't want a woman's world — we want to share our man's world."

In summation, she reminded the group that 12 men, the Apostles, had changed the world, and the combined power of women might do the same — "with prayer, work and wisdom."

Get Maximum 'Cool' From Conditioner

During heat waves, it is easier on the air conditioner to let it run continuously, keeping the temperature down consistently. Letting the indoors warm up puts an extra strain on the unit to pull the temperature down repeatedly. Steady operation also keeps the humidity down.

The Eager Beaver Sewing Club will not meet Friday due to the Easter holidays. The announcement was made during Friday's session in the home of Mrs. A. B. Jernigan, 707 E. 16th. The women did handwork, and refreshments were served.

Sew In Zippers With Baste Stitch

Beginning sewers sometimes have trouble sewing their zipper plackets in straight. Instead of leaving an opening for the zipper, use the basting stitch on your sewing machine and continue the seam. This way the fabric is sewn together and has a standard seam allowance for the zipper to be applied to. After the zipper is in, the basting will come out easily and you have a neat-looking zipper.

A Devotional For The Day

"The kingdom of heaven is like a net which was thrown into the sea . . . when it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into vessels but threw away the bad." (Matthew 13:47-48, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us to take a new look at the way we organize and do our work as Christians. Keep us from throwing away everything that is good simply because it is old. Keep us from rejecting goodness also simply because it is new. Amen.

Classify Yourself

In a democracy, people probably get better government than they deserve.

This is because the minority of the citizenry which does get to the polls exercises good judgment.

But our governmental functions ought not to depend upon less than an overwhelming percentage of those qualified to vote.

Tuesday Big Spring has its annual election of city commissioners. Unless providentially hindered, every qualified voter ought to take time out to go to the polls and express a choice for this important office.

Men willing to give their time — and that's just about what it literally amounts to for those who serve — ought to be matched by people who are willing to take time to vote.

Good citizens will take that time Tuesday. And you can classify yourself.

Another Reason For Cooperation

In light of the oil slick disasters off the coast at Santa Barbara, Calif., discussions at the recent Offshore Exploration Conference are most timely. Though exploration of offshore drilling possibilities has only been going on for a few years, underwater reserves are now thought to comprise about 20 per cent of the world's total petroleum supply.

It is evident that as population grows, there will have to be more offshore drilling to meet world oil requirements. The experts say that within 30 years, there will be need for three times the present amount of oil for energy.

This, it is thought, cannot be met in either oil field drilling alone, or even in conjunction with offshore deposits. As a result, the oil industry is moving farther out to the sea, testing its technology to face hazards in such drilling — storms, marine growth, powerful currents, and so forth.

Oil searches conducted far from shore at considerable depths are attended by special problems, however. Boundary difficulties, for example, Dr. Simon Ramo, speaking at the Offshore Exploration Conference, commented thus: "The nations of the earth will have to learn how to adjust their maritime boundaries in advance to avoid political, social, military and economic contests which can neutralize the scientific and technological advances."

As with numerous other problems, we inevitably come back to the need for growing cooperation among nations. Only through joint international effort will mankind be able to make the best possible use of world natural resources.

WASHINGTON — It could have been written for Dwight David Eisenhower — that towards die many times, the valiant only once.

He was supposed to pass on last August during the G.O.P. Convention at Miami Beach, but he had a couple of things to live for — the marriage of his beloved grandson to Julie Nixon, and the election of his protégé, Richard Nixon, to the Presidency. He had somewhat promoted the young couple's match, and he always felt he hadn't done right by Mr. Nixon in the 1960 contest.

A FRIEND of mine, a white back, was riding in an airplane with the former President. Assured that he wouldn't be quoted, the General talked about his conduct of foreign affairs. He said nobody ever called his bluff because he let it be known that he wasn't bluffing. In the Guatemala affair, our CIA went in and squashed an intended Communist take-over. But he believed the matter was settled in foreign chancelleries where he made it clearly understood that U.S. troops, if necessary, would follow the agents in.

THE GENERAL said he'd been knocked around by criticism on his handling of the Lebanon crisis. Here, he did commit troops, and the trouble evaporated. Then there was the method used to bring a ceasefire in Korea. Eisenhower told about it in his memoirs. He planned the word in talks — use of atomic weapons on the Red Chinese, and that was that. Nobody on the other side doubted that he meant it.

I ASKED my friend what, on the basis of his talk with Ike, the General would have done about Vietnam. My friend was sure from what Eisenhower said that we should never have committed anything except air, technicians and advisers. There aren't any exceptions to the West Point rule that American armies should never be sent to fight in the landmass of Asia.

He always regretted, I'm told by one who was in on the decision, getting involved in the invasion of Little Rock, Ark., but never regretted his noninvolvement over Suez. He thought there were a lot of better ways to employ the American military than to send it in against American civilians.

AS TO SUEZ, he felt pretty much about the sands of Egypt as he did the jungles of Asia. There are some powderkegs that can't be defused. They fizzle or they explode of their own contents.

He had the most animated personality that could belong to a man who wasn't a chucklehead. His face would flush, his eyes snap, his jaw harden. He ran an instant gamut between hilarity and anger. Millions of Americans and Europeans who never got close enough for a handclasp came to know and like him for no better reason than the luminous warmth of his smile and unfakable sincerity.

HE WAS the right material for our history books. A poor man's son, who made good. A lady's man who married his sweetheart and not the boss's daughter. A great commander, like Lee, who became a college president instead of a corporation figurehead. A man who loved his farm, like Washington; and, like Washington, was first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen.

They say he won't rate as a great President. But we'll have a better breed of Presidents if men at the White House ask themselves in crisis, "How would Ike have handled this?"

Billy Graham

My family is very concerned about me as I worry a great deal and it is now completely out of control. I have tried to stop but I just can't do so. Can you help me?

G.V.

God has made you a responsible person, and has entrusted to your care certain work. There are many things you can do nothing about, but there is nothing God cannot do. I would suggest that you first make sure that you have faithfully discharged your own responsibility. When you have done so, you can then commit the outcome to God. Remember the Bible says, "Cast all your care (anxiety) upon Him for He careth for you." As for the multitude of things over which you have no control, you can be sure that insofar as they concern you at all, they are in His power. Jesus said, "Take no thought for the morrow," for He knew well that there were many who would do just what you are doing.

It is possible that your worry grows out of a knowledge that all is not right with God. This is so general a problem that I suggest it to you, Trust in Christ for salvation, yield yourself to God, and then commit every problem to Him for He is able to solve your many problems.

First They Have To Die

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're ever wondered why you see a limited number of wallets made of elephant hide when shopping, the reason is that elephants are never killed to obtain leather. According to elephant-wallet specialist Enger Kress, availability is determined by the death rate of elephants from natural causes or conservation-controlled harvests. The current supply is approximately 1,000 square feet per month.

Lots Of Loans

NEW DELHI (AP) — Neither a borrower nor a lender be. But if you do borrow, you might as well lend a little.

Following this policy, India advanced more than rupees 400 million (over $55.5 million) as loans to other countries between 1950 and 1967.

The largest recipient has been Burma, which accounts for almost half the amount. Other countries are Afghanistan, Sikkim, Bhutan, Nepal, Ceylon and Indonesia.

THIS OUGHT TO WIN THE YEAR'S AWARD FOR FICTION'

A special column by Hal Boyle Trust And General Eisenhower: Inspiration

NEW YORK (AP)—Trust, Inspiration.

Those two words most aptly sum up the hardware behind "Ike's" famous grin. By those two words he is most likely to endure.

A GENERATION trusted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and he returned that trust by inspiring that generation. The people had faith in him; he had faith in the people.

A psychologist might sum up his career by saying that he satisfied America's desire for a "father image." To use a Southern colloquialism, he might be described as the "big Daddy Rabbit" of his time.

Certainly it is true that he came to have a paternal feeling for his country and it developed a filial affection for him. In health, he led it to victory in wartime; in illness, he gave to millions of ailing others an example of fortitude under duress, courage in ordeal.

IT WAS a long journey that Eisenhower took—away from and back to Abilene, where a residual immortality awaits him in graven stone and stored words.

The 34th president of the United States won florid praise as a chieftain in war and a statesman in peace. He won florid praise, too, in both functions. We are perhaps too close to both the praise and dispraise now to be sure of how his fame will emerge.

Undoubtedly, however, history will have to certify his genius in a very vital field—the ability to get people to work together for a common purpose and a mutual goal. This talent, which alone can assure the nobility of mankind's potential glory, is as rare in the human race as platitudes are on horned toads.

EISENHOWER was able to put dreams in harness and make them work.

His critics may say that on the field of battle the general was hardly another Napoleon. Indeed he wasn't. Napoleon had a 500 average in combat. He won half his campaigns and lost half of them, including his last one. Eisenhower didn't lose any.

There are so many fists and thumbs in the second world war that it is hard to say that any one man fished out the plum of victory. But it can be said of Eisenhower that he was the key architect of unity among the Allies on the western front.

THOSE WHOSE carping jealousies endangered that unity of aim he curbed or dismissed; those who worked for that unity he promoted and sustained.

As president of his country, he tried to do the same thing—sustain and promote a unity. There are those who say that in politics he was inept and a caretaker rather than a creator. Some of this criticism overlooks Eisenhower's own conscientious idea of his task—to get disparate elements among his countrymen to get along and achieve essential goals, the goals he saw.

Perhaps a longer view from a later time may see those goals as limited. Perhaps not. But to dismiss Eisenhower as politically unsophisticated is in itself perhaps to show critical naivete.

IT WAS during his administration that the United States, by taking in as members Alaska and Hawaii, changed its traditional structure that had hinged until then on contiguity. Now, if politically advisable, our country club can add to its roster and put new stars in its flag. At least the pattern of possibility is there.

The idea of unity was uppermost in Eisenhower's mind. Shortly before his death he confided that he hoped to write a book on the history of men's attempts to ally themselves with one another, and the problems allies faced in getting along.

THE ORDEALS of the presidency put a somewhat frozen quality in Eisenhower's famous grin. Tremendously aware of the dangers of a military man in public office, remembering the fate of Gen. U.S. Grant, he sought to emulate the conduct of an earlier American "father image"—George Washington.

In 1957, responding to criticism, he remarked:

"I refer you to the second term of President Washington . . . When I compare the weak, inconsequential things they say about me, compared to what they (said) about the man who I think is the greatest human the English-speaking race has produced, then I can be quite philosophical about it."

'Pill' For Birds

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A zoology professor at the University of Missouri is directing a project aimed at developing birth control pills for birds.

William H. Elder says the pills are a humane way to cut down the population of unwanted birds such as pigeons. He said the pills are food pellets or grain treated with an anti-fertility compound and are supplied to birds at regular feeding grounds.

The pills, he added, work by inhibiting egg laying. He said the compound, similar to chemicals used to keep down cholesterol, is harmless.

In tests at Moberly, which had about 1,200 pigeons concentrated downtown, inhibition of egg laying was reported 99 per cent complete for three months.

Not Far Wrong

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Although the letters in a key word on a bulletin board at a local high school were juggled around, they still made sense.

The announcement read: "Tonight — PTA Broad Meeting."

To Your Good Health Can Massage Get Rid Of Fat?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How much truth is there to the opinion that you should massage the thighs, then exercise, and that in this way fatty deposits which cause heavy thighs can be diminished?

Also, is it dangerous to massage your calves when you have pain due to broken (but not badly varicose) veins? — M.C.

Excess fat — in the thighs or anywhere — has to be used up by exercise, that is, "burned" by the body's functions or activity. Massaging, pummeling, or rubbing won't do it.

I know this answer will be a great disappointment to the many folks who want to reduce just one part of the body and not the rest.

Some people with fat tummies and thin legs want to know how to make their tummies smaller and their legs fatter. Others are just the reverse. Some complain, "My face gets so thin when I reduce, but nothing else does." And so on.

Some of the "reducing parlors" claim to be able to reduce one part of you and not another, but they are flying in the face of everything that is known about human physiology. If you are overweight, reducing will show some loss in all of the places where fat tends to accumulate — bust, waist, hips, arms, thighs, calves, or other roosting places for stored calories.

Some large thighs or calves are due to heavy muscular development; some areas acquire fat because we happen to be built that way. Sometimes the underlying bone structure influences our outer shape, but that can't be helped, either.

No, massage, vibrators, or other gadgets aren't going to accomplish what we call "regional reducing." Within small limits, and over a long stretch of time, muscular development can build up certain areas, but for all practical purposes, once we manage to reach whatever our proper weight is, and develop proper posture, that's about all we can do about our shapes.

In answer to your second question, it is not advisable to massage a leg having vein trouble. Rest, support, and at times medication are important, but massage is more likely to cause further damage than to be of benefit in any way.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Did you ever write in the paper that diverticulitis is "nothing"? I have been told so, but don't believe it. — B.D.

I did not. I have said, on more than one occasion, that diverticulitis — that is, "the mere presence of outpouching areas in the colon — often exists without bothering a person at all."

Diverticulitis — with the "itis," not the "osis" ending — is quite another matter. That indicates that a pouchy section has become irritated and inflamed. And that is anything but "nothing."

You can lose weight if you really want to. Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and with no gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy, write to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim People Like A Good Listener

If you yearn to become popular with your fellow travelers on this ride through life, I suggest you become a good listener.

People love to talk and they forever are seeking out friends who will listen to them. If they can't find a friend, most of them will chin with a stranger.

That especially is true, if you renew acquaintances with someone carrying a lot of troubles around with him. He needs to unburden himself and what better way than to talk about it?

IT'S ADVISABLE to be attentive. If your petitioner is bent on launching a violent tirade, let it flow interrupted until it is exhausted. If you have trouble listening, put yourself in his shoes and try to find out why he is so venomous.

A paucity of language is also recommended. About all a wrought-up person wants to hear from you is agreement in the most terse terms, like "I see" or "absolutely."

IF THE PERSON to whom you are talking isn't inclined to give all the facts, it's advisable not to probe for them. Curious inquisitiveness on your part may mean only trouble for you — he may get the idea you're snooping. There is a distinct difference between that approach and a willingness to learn.

If the talker asks for advice, be cautious in giving it. You may suggest something he doesn't want to hear. Express confidence in the person's ability to work out his own problems. Chances are he'll do it his own way anyway.

DID YOU know that the Japanese, who trace their recorded history back to 660 B.C., still cannot decide the name of their nation?

Some Japanese are prone to call it Nippon. Others say Nihon. The government has never settled the question.

The name Japan was given to the islands off Asia by early European explorers.

SOMEONE asked recently: With all the money we spent on Apollo, shouldn't it have a little more chrome?

ONE OF THE better stories I've heard recently concerned the old Texan who was having a policy written for him by an insurance agent.

"Ever had any accidents?" he was asked. The greybeard shook his head.

"You mean you've never been hurt?" the agent asked.

"Oh, I've had a couple of ribs busted by a bucking horse and a rattlesnake bit me some years back."

"You don't call those accidents?"

"Nope," the Texan replied, "they done it on purpose."

David Lawrence Congress Isn't Helping Nixon

WASHINGTON — The majority of the American people who went to the polls last autumn wanted less war, less government spending, less crime, lower costs of living, and less interference with the quality of education in the public schools through the arbitrary assignment of students and faculty by racial quotas or "guidelines."

But today there is a mood of impatience sweeping the country because the new administration in Washington hasn't shown signs of an intention to deal firmly with these major problems.

THE PUBLIC is bewildered by the controversy over the anti-ballistic-missile system, just as it is frustrated by talk of peace-making in Paris while the North Vietnamese step up their assaults on American and South Vietnamese troops.

What is also bothering people throughout the country is the mess that has been created in the public-school system as a consequence of vague rulings by the courts and even vaguer pronouncements by federal agencies which require what is being called "discrimination in reverse."

The quality of education is being impaired in order to achieve artificial quotas of teachers despite the fact that Congress declared by law that federal action could not be taken merely to correct "racial imbalance" in the schools.

SO FAR AS crime is concerned, the administration has promised to enforce some federal laws relating to interstate activities of criminals or conspirators. But the President has pointed out that state and city governments must, after all, bear the main responsibility. This, of course, cannot be accomplished without the expenditure of large sums. Although the federal government indicates that it will do something about sharing tax revenues with the states, it can be done but not necessarily in the immediate future.

AS FOR A reduction in the cost of living, the latest figures from official sources show the curve is still moving upwards. Labor costs haven't diminished, and prices of many manufactured products are showing no sign of coming down.

The 10 per cent surtax on incomes, it has been announced, will be retained at least another year. There is, to be sure, justification for keeping it. Most people don't realize that if inflation is to be curbed, spending power must be restricted somewhat.

THE NIXON administration is faced with economic factors inherited from eight years of Democratic administration, including cuts in taxes that were promptly followed by increases in state taxes and a rise in prices due to higher wage costs. No administration could possibly transform this situation overnight and not even in a single year. It may require the rest of Mr. Nixon's term to achieve the desired results.

So much attention is focused on a new President during his first few weeks in office that the responsibilities and obligations of the new Congress, which started its session on Jan. 3, 1969, are being overlooked.

IT HAPPENS that the Democratic party has a majority in both houses, and there are lots of measures which could be enacted into law limiting expenditures and clarifying the ambiguous phrases of previous laws without waiting for recommendations from the administration. The legislators have given the impression that they want Mr. Nixon to make the first moves — such as his effort to assure a better defense system — are under heavy criticism. This doesn't convey the idea of a smoothly operating federal government in which the legislative and executive branches are supposed to be working together.

If Process Succeeds Cheap Atomic Power

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — A plant that could make the main explosive for at least one hydrogen bomb a year will cost only a few hundred thousand dollars if a new European process succeeds.

Britain, West Germany and Holland are working on it together.

IT IS CALLED the gas centrifuge method for extracting uranium-235 as fuel for peaceful nuclear power plants. The same machines could make U-235 of a quality suitable for bombs, by working a longer time.

There is no known intention to use the process for explosives, but a debate is going on over how to make sure it will not be misused. One British newspaper, worried that West Germany might get nuclear weapons, has asked if there is going to be a "Volksbomb."

To avoid such criticism, and undercut the protest from the Soviet Union, the first prototype plants will be put in Britain and Holland, with only the headquarters of the prime contractor in Germany.

DETAILS OF the machine are closely guarded. Independent scientists think it could be quite small: basically a cylinder about eight inches in diameter and five feet high, according to one calculation. It has been estimated that as few as 300 could supply enough high-grade U-235 to make the trigger for one hydrogen bomb a year. Not all 300 machines would have to be in the same place.

British experts are hoping to get the cost of the machine below the $1,000 mark, with final costs depending on how many are built. So far production has been only experimental. It would take hundreds of thousands of machines to supply the fuel needed for nuclear power plants over the next few years.

Cheap, easy-to-hide centrifuges could put the makings of an atomic explosion into the hands of a small country, and possibly within the reach of small groups of individuals.

The U-235 could be used as the explosive trigger for an atom bomb. Such an atomic explosion is necessary to trigger a hydrogen bomb.

IN WASHINGTON, the Atomic Energy Commission said U.S. government research on gas centrifuges always has been classified as secret. Until March, 1967, the AEC said, U.S. industrial firms were permitted to do research, but this is now forbidden.

A secrecy agreement still binds the three main European countries working on the process. Several others — notably Japan, France and Australia — have done some independent work.

U.S. officials have seemed less worried recently. Many take the view that 17 or 18 countries can make nuclear bombs now if they want to spend the money. In a few years reactors of many lands will be producing quantities of plutonium, from which bombs can also be made. This is one reason the United States and the Soviet Union back a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

IF BRITAIN, West Germany and Holland succeed with the gas centrifuge, they will be bound to agree on safeguards to keep it out of the wrong hands. To avoid nuclear explosions set off by political fanatics, the world will have to rely on this kind of safeguard, on the treaty and on the efficiency of intelligence services at smelling out violations.

Thousands Pay Last Respects To Eisenhower

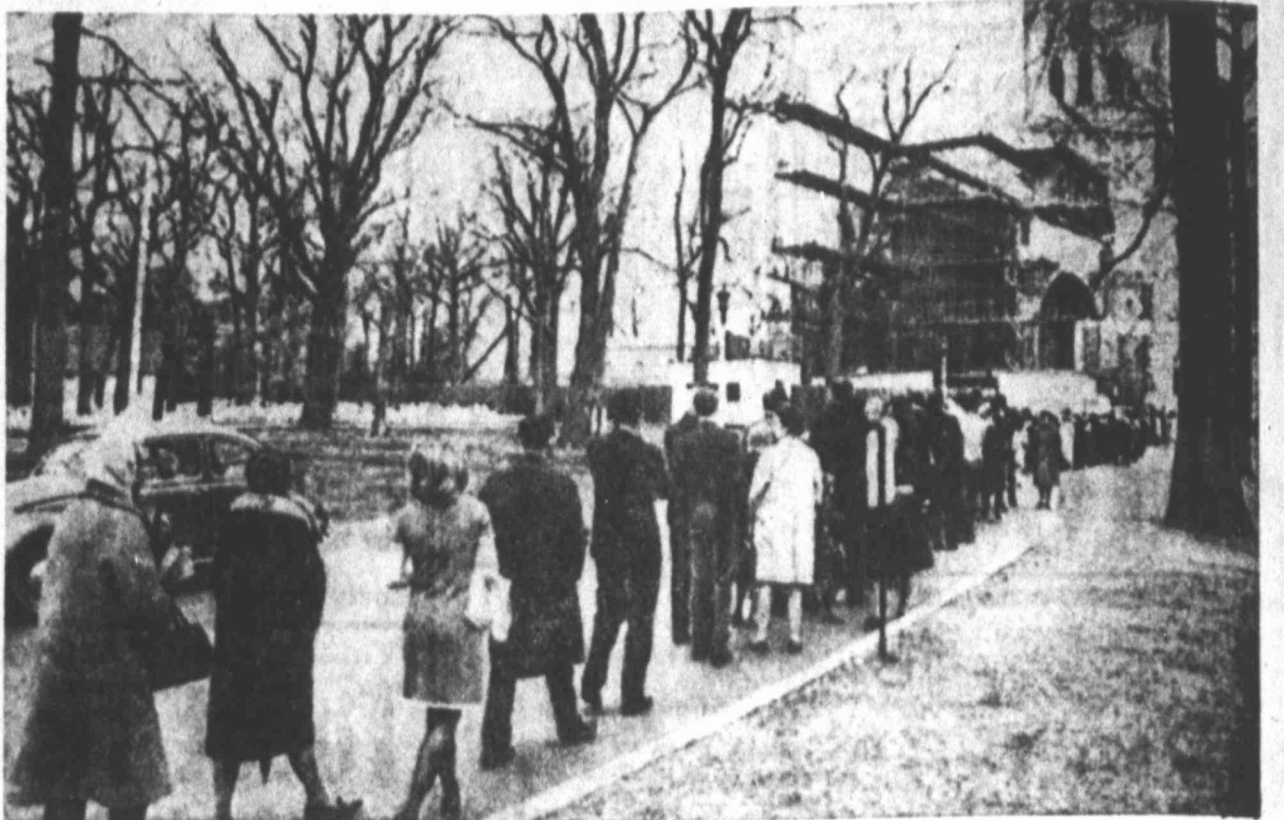

Mourners Gather

Crowd waited outside Washington National Cathedral for the opportunity to pay respects to Dwight

Widow

Mrs. Marie Eisenhower, widow of the former President, was escorted into Washington National Cathedral where the former President was lying in repose.

By The Thousands

Mourners by the thousands move toward the still unfinished Washington National Cathedral to walk past the casket of Dwight D. Eisenhower in the Bethlehem Chapel.

Paris Headlines

The headlines in the morning papers in Paris Saturday announced the death of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the reaction of French President Charles de Gaulle.

In Honor Of Ike

The flags that encircle the base of the Washington Monument were lowered to half staff after the death of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. In the background is the U.S. Capitol.

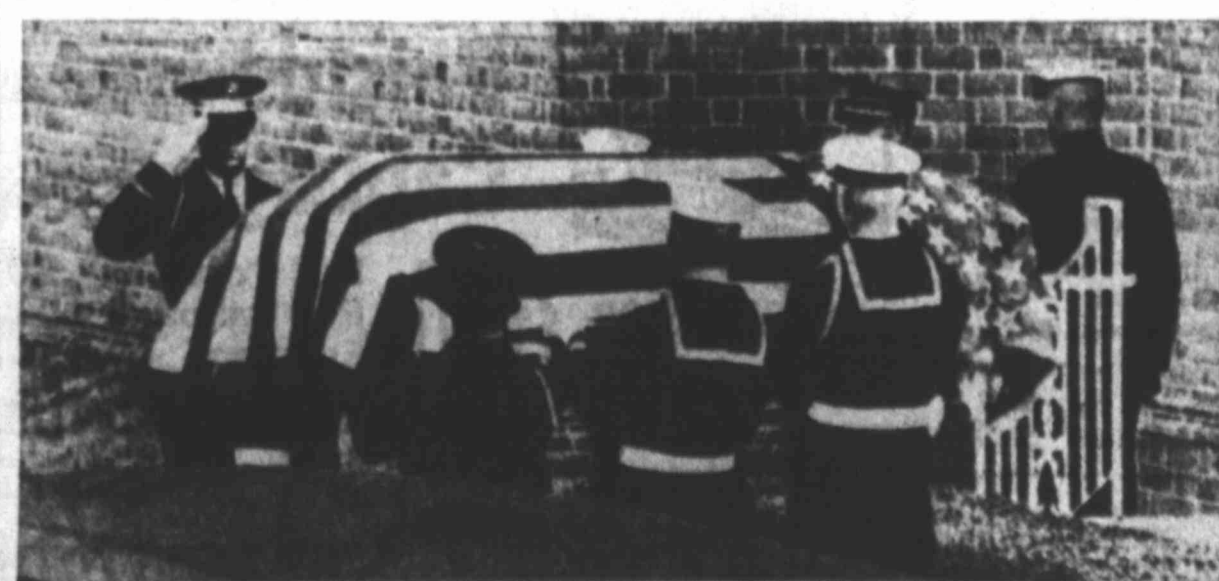

Half-Mast At Center

The flag is flown at half-mast at the Eisenhower Center where former President Eisenhower will be buried Wednesday. In background at right is the boyhood home of Eisenhower, and at left of the flagpole is the Chapel where Ike will be buried.

Carried Past Mourners

The flag-draped casket of Dwight D. Eisenhower is brought past his widow and into Washington National Cathedral to lie in repose. Mamie Eisenhower, center, stands with her son John, his wife Barbara, their daughter Susan, and daughter-in-law, Julie, right.

To Cathedral

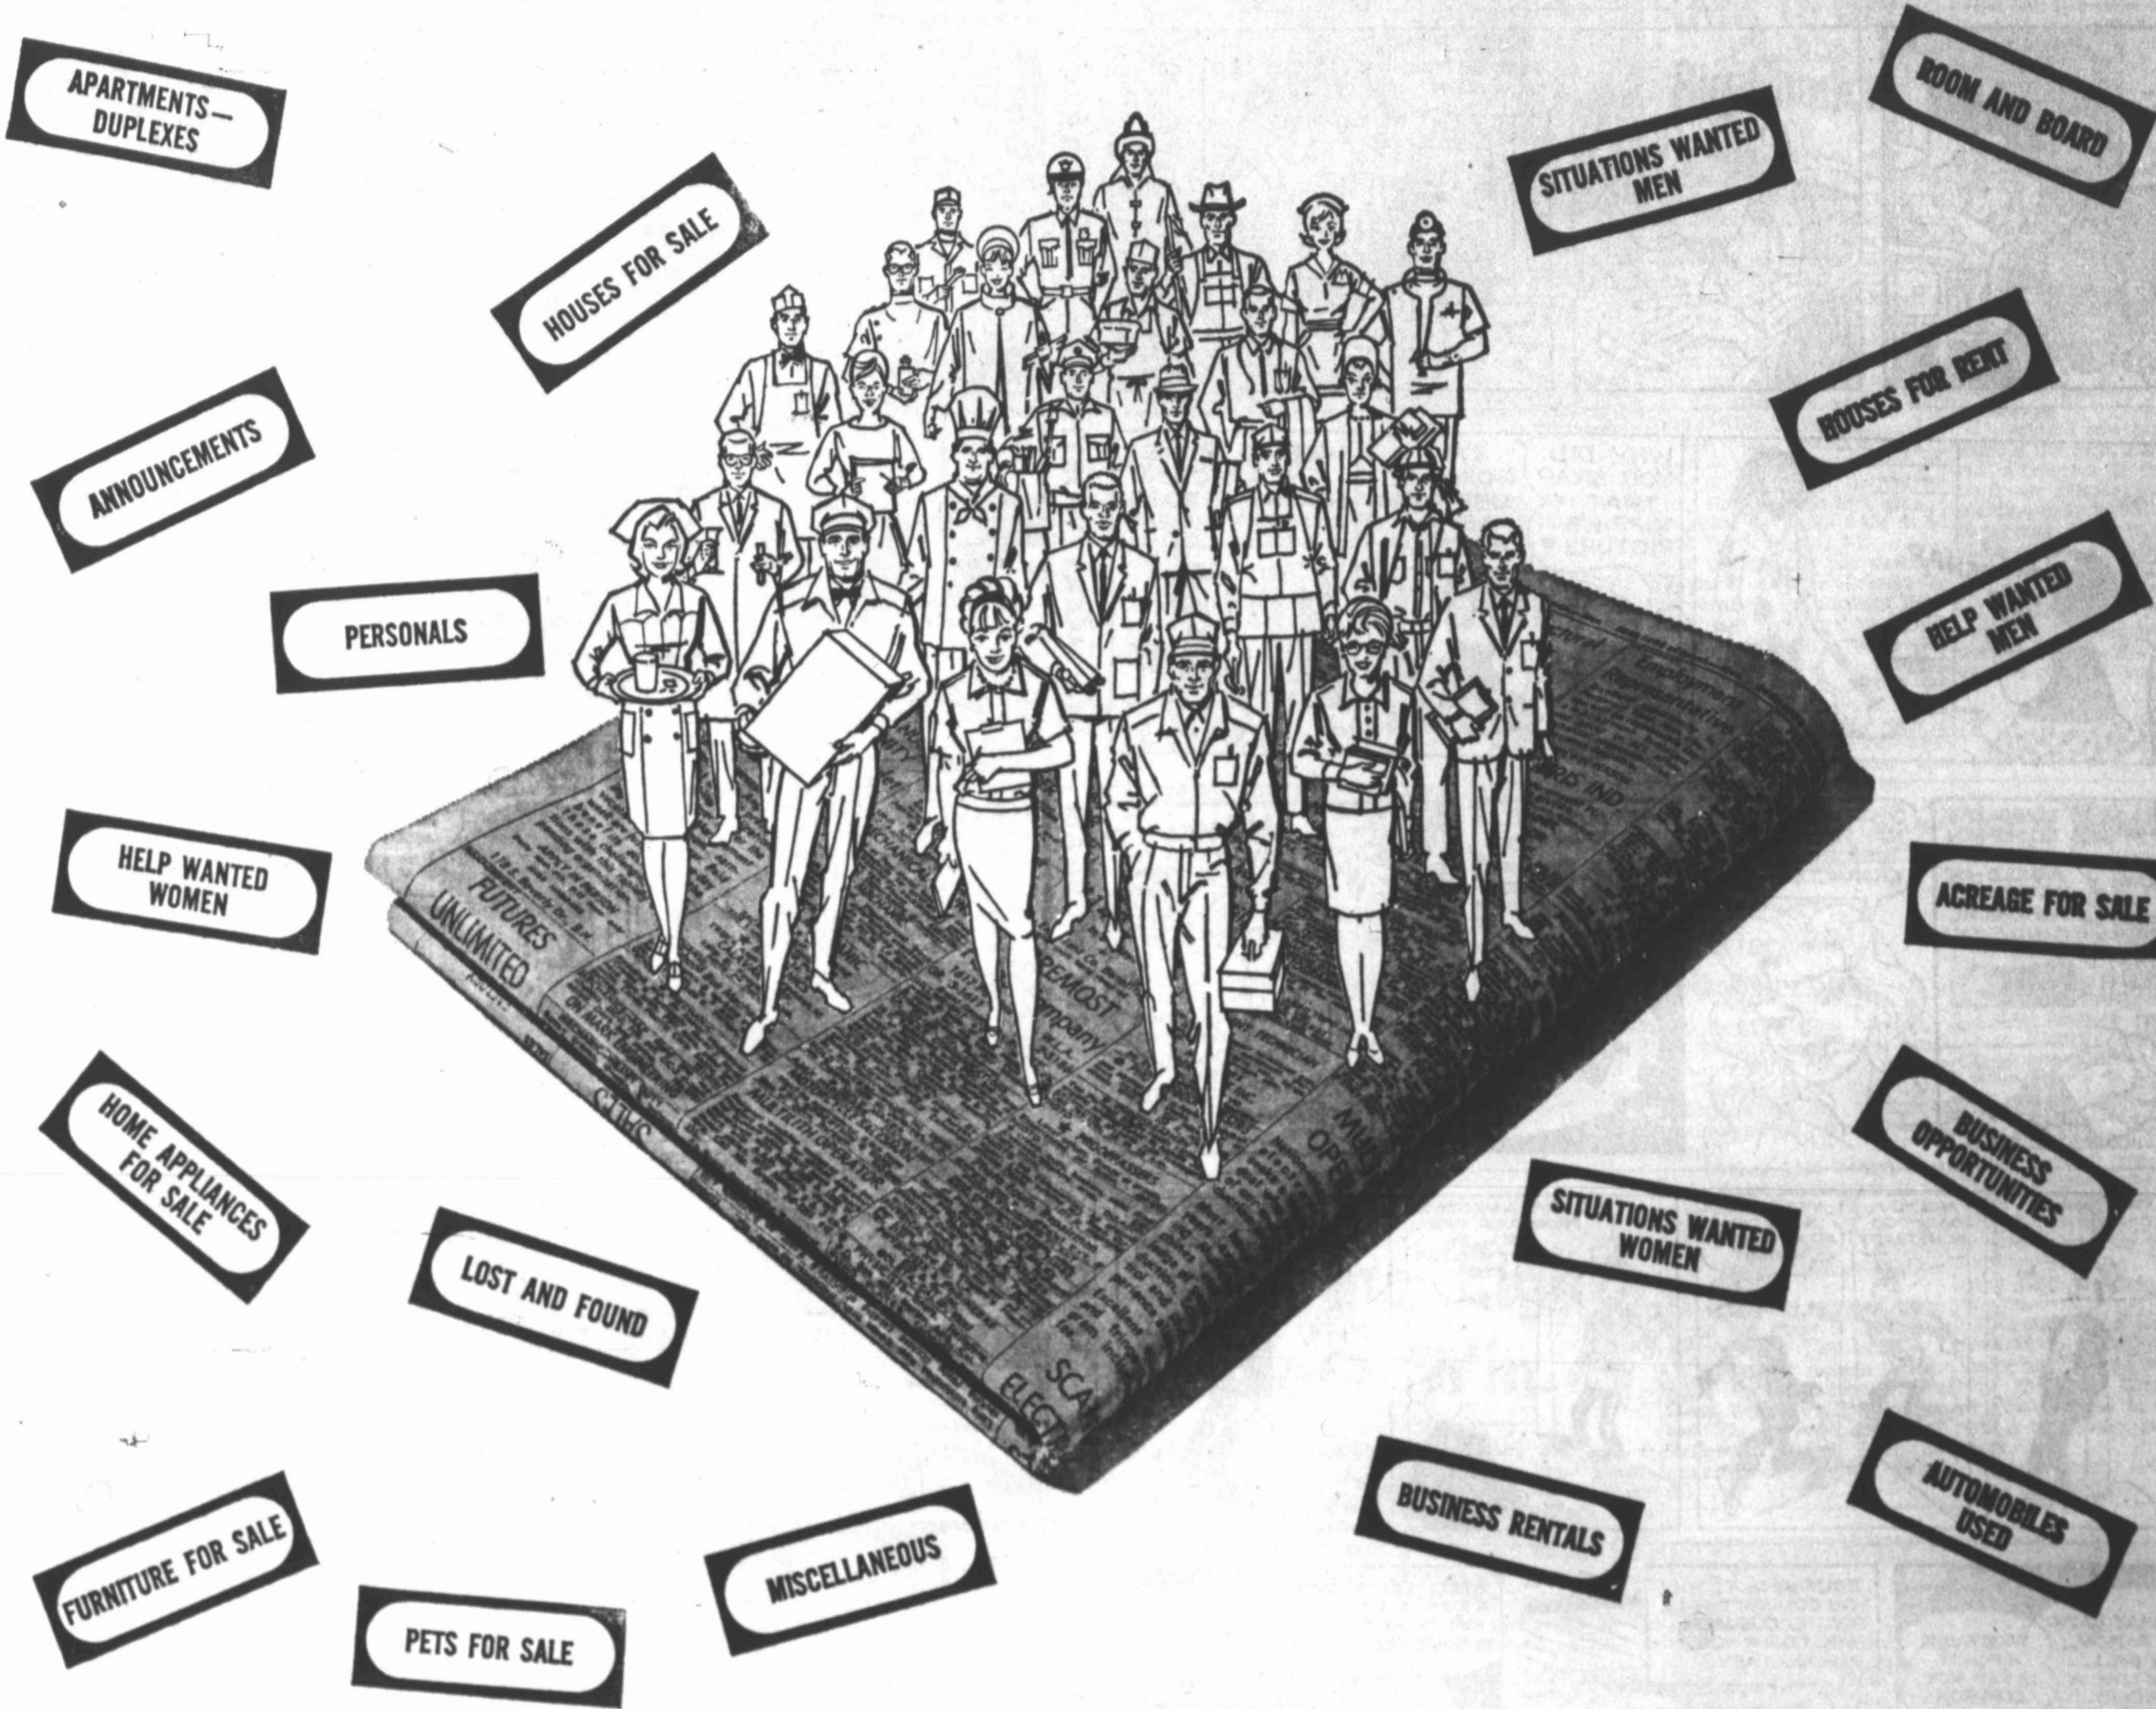

The body of former President Eisenhower is taken from a Washington funeral home for the trip to Washington National Cathedral.

Troops Mourn Ike

His head bowed, S. Sgt. Darwin Boyer of Montezuma, Iowa, pauses near flag flying at half staff in memory of former President Eisenhower at the United States military headquarters in Saigon. Flags were lowered throughout South Vietnam after word arrived of Eisenhower's death.

Indiana Pacers Get ABA's Eastern Nod

By The Associated Press
The Indiana Pacers can stop spacing. They've won the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division championship.

In the National Basketball Association playoffs, New York and Boston took 3-0 leads in their best-of-7 Eastern semifinals. New York edged Baltimore 119-116 and Boston tripped Philadelphia 125-118.

The victory gave the Bucs a 1 1/2-game lead over Denver with one game remaining. Skip Thoren scored 23 points and Donnie Freeman had 22 and 19 assists in Miami's triumph over Minnesota, although the losers, Connie Hawkins and Charley Williams, tallied 28 and 26, respectively.

Knicks, Celtics Liven Playoffs

By The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Lakers try tonight to break the division winners' jinx and get back into the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Celtics, fourth-place finishers in regular season play, could wrap it up Tuesday when action switches to their home court and erase the embarrassment of their lowest finish since 1950.

"We'll finish 1-2," Bob predicted. "On the putting green, before the final round, I kidded with Muri, saying 'I'm going to lick you,'" Henry explained. "Bob laughed and said, 'Don't forget the order is me one and you two.'"

Henry shot a final 70 for 278. Murphy skied to a 76 for 279, tying Dan Sikes, who had a hole-in-one in his 68; Australian Bruce Crampton, who shot a 66, and Dave Stockton, who had a 72.

Arnold Palmer shot a 72 for 283. He was tied with PGA champion Julius Boros and Sam Snead. Gary Player was at 285.

Cale Yarborough Wins At Atlanta, Then Races Stork

ATLANTA (AP) — Ex-farm boy Cale Yarborough won the Atlanta 500 stock car race Sunday and headed back to South Carolina to await the birth of his second child, with a $21,027 check to pay for it.

equipped with Ford's new 429 cubic inch Boss Mustang engine, as were four other Ford products in the field. Only one of the engines suffered mechanical troubles.

In Sunday's final games, New York thumped Toronto 4-0, Boston slugged Montreal 6-3, Chicago walloped Detroit 9-5, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 2-1, and Los Angeles tied Minnesota 3-3.

But it was Pearson who captured the crowd's fancy. The 34-year-old Ford driver elected to start at the rear of the 40-car field when he decided to use a tire compound different from the one on which he qualified for the front row. NASCAR rules require that the car be started on the tires it used in qualifying.

The daredevil Pearson always a charger, threaded his way through the pack at such breakneck speed that he took the lead within 55 laps. From then on it was a battle between these two drivers and everything else was incidental.

Midland Lee won the District 3-AAAA girls' volleyball championship the past weekend by defeating Abilene High, 15-2, 15-5, at home. The Rebels finished with a 7-1 conference record.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — George Mikan, who says he signed "for something like $10," when he entered professional basketball, awaited word today from Lew Alcindor on an American Basketball Association offer worth more than $3.25 million.

Owls To Get Big Chance

By The Associated Press
The Rice Owls have the opportunity this week to do what no other Southwest Conference baseball team has been able to do—stop the Texas Longhorns and James Street.

Alcindor has said he will sign with the Milwaukee Bucks of the rival National Basketball Association.

Bowlers Fix New Records

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Four records were established, three in Class C and one in Class B, at the 41st annual Southwest Bowling Association championships, which ended Sunday.

Street's no-hitter was the first since Texas' Tommy Youngman flipped once against Rice in 1955, and the fourth in SWC history.

Santone Dame Tops Bowlers

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Open division records in team and all events competition remained firm today and Mrs. Alice Iltis of San Antonio is the frontrunner for the Billie Simon trophy following weekend action at the Texas Women's Bowling Association tournament.

It includes five per cent of stock in the Nets, a $500,000 bonus, a five-year $1 million contract, an annuity payment of $62,500 a year for 20 years and 10 per cent of ABA national television contracts totaling at least $500,000.

They don't make them like they used to.

They may still look like they used to, but that doesn't mean we still make them that way.

Which, of course, was the plan. In 1949, when we decided not to outdate the bug, some of the big auto names making big, fancy changes were Kaiser, Hudson and Nash.

They don't make them like they used to.

We used to have a tiny rear window. Now there's a big one. We used to have a plain old rear seat. Now there's one that folds down. Over the years, engine power has been increased by 76%. A dual brake system has been added. The heater is much improved. Fact is, over the years, over 2,200 such improvements have been made. Yet, you have to be some sort of a car nut to tell a new one from an old one.

Not that we were right and they were wrong, but one thing's for sure: They don't make them like they used to either.

Lawmakers Open On Somber Note

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Legislature's pre-Easter week started on a somber note today in observance of a national day of mourning for former President Dwight Eisenhower.

The Senate and House, with 11 a.m. starting times, were expected to meet just long enough to pass a memorial resolution in honor of Eisenhower.

Gov. Preston Smith said he had no authority to close state offices, but he urged Texans "to join in mourning for the loss of our late great leader."

Smith said he hoped state employees would be given time off to attend memorial services for the former president.

Although Eisenhower's death cancelled a full day of the legislative week, including a long list of committee hearings, scheduled Monday lawmakers had a busy agenda for the rest of the week.

They are scheduled to quit Thursday for the Easter holidays, coming back the following Tuesday.

The last step in approving a proposed constitutional change for water development is expected in the House. If the House accepts a Senate amendment, the proposal to allow the state to issue $3.5 billion in bonds to finance its share of the $10 billion Texas water plan

Dear Abby

A Woman's Virtue

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "WAITING" — the 41-year-old virgin — to keep waiting. A woman's virginity is still the greatest gift she can offer a man in marriage. Even though a man makes excuses for himself, he still prefers a virgin for a wife. Please don't conclude from my signature that I know nothing about life. I was in the business world for over 30 years before I became a priest. Respectfully,
SAN DIEGO PRIEST

DEAR ABBY: To the 41-year-old virgin who is holding out for marriage. Forget it. On her epitaph they'll inscribe: "Package returned unopened."
HANDSOME

DEAR ABBY: For "WAITING": Lady, you are to be commended. Don't let a clod sell you. If he says, if you don't give him what he wants, he will go elsewhere — let him. He will be doing you a big favor.
R.B., OKLAHOMA CITY

DEAR ABBY: Why all the emphasis on virginity? A man who insists that he be the "one and only" probably does so because he doesn't want the woman he marries to be able to make comparisons and find him lacking. Me? I don't have that problem.
A MAN NAMED "MANN"

DEAR ABBY: I am a U.S. serviceman with 18 years' service and three overseas tours of duty, and all my life I've practiced a code of morality some call "Victorian." I've taken tremendous ridicule for it, and I freely admit, it hasn't always been easy. I married a wonderful girl who held the same moral principles as I, and I cannot begin to express the closeness, trust and warmth of feeling it has brought to our lives. We've been married 16 years and have six fine children and we're still "in love."

OLD SARGE
Vandenbergh AFB, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "WAITING," who claims she's been on her own since 17, lived abroad, is romantic, sensitive, and not ugly. She has got to be kidding! I'm all for purity, but at age 41, what kind of a "prize" does she think she's going to give a man?
No man, for example, is going to ask a Chinese girl, whose feet have been bound since infancy, to go on a hike with him. She'd be lucky to be able to walk around the block. And marriage is a long hike.
COMPASSIONATE IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: My analysis of "WAITING": Immature, selfish, masochistic, inhibited, guilt-ridden, and a cold fish. She repeatedly lures her prey and then rejects it, laying claim to "virtue" — but punishing herself more than the man she has rejected.
D.W.H., M.D.

DEAR ABBY: For "WAITING": Maybe there is a Santa Claus, but a body is not a gift — unless, of course, you are Dr. Frankenstein.
ADOLPH G., L.A.

If Convicted, Sirhan To Have Suite Of Three Cells

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If the jury convicts Sirhan of first-degree murder, it will decide the penalty—death or life imprisonment.

Sirhan would be confined to three adjoining cells—each about 10 by 15 feet. In one would be a kitchen with a stainless steel stove where uniformed guards would cook Sirhan's meals. Most prisoners eat in a central kitchen. Sirhan's quarters, Guthrie said, would "eliminate the risk of someone trying to poison his food."

In the second cell, a living room with television set, Sirhan would receive visitors. He would sleep in the third cell. A bathroom is off the kitchen.

Full-time security guards would be posted near Sirhan's quarters, Guthrie said, and the cost of imprisoning him would probably far outstrip the $2,800 yearly spent on average prisoners.

If Sirhan is acquitted, "we'll find other uses for the cells," Guthrie said.

PRAIRIE VIEW A&M Classes Resume, Search Continues For Slayer

PRAIRIE VIEW, Tex. (AP) — Classes resumed today at Prairie View A&M, and a search continued for the accused slayer of a student whose death triggered weekend violence at the predominantly Negro college.

Between 20 and 50 students went on a rampage, burning three buildings, setting fire to a fourth and damaging a campus dining hall.

The 90-minute outburst began after Wesley Davidson, 20, a football player from Bay City, was fatally stabbed in the back and stomach with a butcher knife early Saturday.

Justice of the Peace J. S. Greathouse of Hempstead has charged Herbert Lee Thompson, 26, a sophomore from Beaumont, with murder.

"We've been watching his mother's place in Beaumont," said Waller County Sheriff Jimmie Whitworth, "and the couple of places up in Dallas where he has relatives and might show up."

Destroyed by fire were an equipment storeroom, the groundkeepers' headquarters and a cottage used for English classes. The fourth building, an English laboratory, was slightly damaged by flames.

The demonstrators also overturned a laundry truck on a campus street.

Dr. Alcin I. Thomas, president of the college 40 miles northwest of Houston, estimated damage at "less than $10,000." Other estimates ranged as high as $40,000.

Thomas said he knew the names of some of the demonstrators and they would face "disciplinary action."

"I feel sure that the student courts, which represent the great majority of the students who were not involved, will take some pretty drastic action against them," he said.

Prairie View has an enrollment of about 4,100.

Thomas said most of the demonstrators were athletes and "were reacting emotionally after one of their teammates was killed."

Campus security officer Romero Alexander said he apprehended a suspect shortly after the slaying, but the man escaped.

"They wanted the security officer to shoot the boy and when he would not, they became angry," Thomas said.

Thomas said a feud between the athletes and a campus veterans organization had been developing about a month.

Thompson told police he was beaten March 18 by a group of athletes, but refused to file charges.

"There had been rumors" of a dispute, said dean of men Leroy Marion, "but no actual evidence had been produced that would indicate this type of violence."

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon means that this will be a dynamic, but tempestuous, day. While there are some cooperative forces at work this day and evening, there can also be a storm of ideas, and odd and unexplained reversals. You must be alert. Stop being so critical of others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to April 19) Listen closely to the new ideas which associates offer. You will find them much more useful than you think. Do not be a contributor instead of an initiator. Stop being so self-centered.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Think out your moves carefully before you act. Do not let your emotions lead you. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

MEANWHILE (May 21 to June 21) She who has been waiting for the social progress you want of her. Do not let your family prevent you from accepting a fine business offer. Show loyalty to superiors. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) Do not let your family prevent you from accepting a fine business offer. Show loyalty to superiors. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) You have excellent prospects. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You need to attend to monetary matters. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Who not out those talents to work that can add to your income as well as bring you much personal pleasure. Find a more charming manner of self-expression. Add to your present in-spiration. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Take care of your present anxieties so that you attend no one. Give experts a run for their money. Think before you jump into something with a great deal of emotion. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A good day for going out with your friends. Do not let your pride lead you. Do not let your vanity lead you. Do not let your jealousy lead you. Do not let your anger lead you. Do not let your fear lead you. Do not let your greed lead you.

DECEMBER (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use your wits to persuade your family to accept a very effective plan you have in mind. Associate yourself with experts but don't try to tell them what to do. Cooperation brings the finest results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Attend those meetings you like but don't try to delay the proceedings by organizing your outdated plan. Be more assertive instead and learn to cooperate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Finances should be the focal point of your activities now. Be sure to make those collections, pay important debts. A slight revision of your budget is vital. Show more wisdom.

Firefighters End Walkout

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A walkout by Madison firefighters ended Sunday when the Common Council and firemen agreed on a new contract.

The pact also provides for amnesty to the 270 firemen who walked out Thursday night despite a state law prohibiting strikes by municipal employees.

No major fire occurred in the city of 158,000 population during the 52-hour strike by Local 311, International Association of Firefighters, AFL-CIO.

Nine of the city's 10 fire stations were unmanned and only a few officers were on duty at a central headquarters.

Public schools were closed Friday because of lack of fire protection. But state facilities, including the 33,000-student University of Wisconsin, continued operations.

The agreement boosts the pay scale for firemen from $620-$691 per month to $627.58-$727.58. The new scale is about a penny less an hour than firemen had been demanding since November.

Rules On Flying Flag—30 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Current rules specifying that U.S. flags are to be flown at half-staff for 30 days from the death of a president or former president were issued Dec. 13, 1956, by then-President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

KIMBERLY knits for the wonderful days ahead. An easy-going two piece dress in Dacron®. Strips of stripes up and around the double breasted jacket provide an extra touch of color to the generously gored fling of skirt. Certainly a traveler's delight.
