Big Spring VA Hospital Ranks First

The Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital was ranked first among 73 hospitals in its size in the nation for a perfect safety record by the National Safety Council and the American Hospital Association.

The local facility is one of 622 hospitals registered in the contest, and one of 91 hospitals entering with a perfect safety record.

Eight hospitals, grouped according to staff size, were awarded first place honors. The veterans hospital was entered in the 200-299 staff-member class.

The last lost-time accident at the hospital here was in September, 1964, according to Jack D. Powell, hospital director.

The award is represented by a plaque which will be received by the hospital in the near future.

Auto Show Highlights

The 1969 Auto Show, which will present scores of handsome, high-performing models, will be held Saturday at the High School parking lot. This is just east of the Steer gymnasium, and visitors may enter the show area either from Tenth Street or Eleventh Place.

All seven new car dealers will have displays, with show hours running from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Visitors 21 years of age and older may register without obligation for a color television set to be given away. A refreshment stand will be operated by the Band Boosters Club.

The public is invited to come any time during the day and have a close and leisurely look at the latest in new car offerings.

Word-Study Funds

An allocation of $40,802 has been made to Howard County Junior College under the work-study program, authorized by the Higher Education Act, Cong. Omar Burleson announced Monday.

The award covers 154 students who need financial aid in attending H.C.J.C. These are assigned to jobs to other governmental and non-profit agencies.

Buzz JFK Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Russian bombers overflew the aircraft carrier John F. Kennedy Sunday as she headed for her maiden deployment, an assignment with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, the Pentagon reported today.

Daniel Z. Henkin, the Pentagon's chief spokesman, said the overflight by two Soviet Bear aircraft occurred at 4:45 p.m. EST Sunday. The location is not immediately available.

Henkin said the conventionally powered carrier is due to join the 6th Fleet Tuesday.

The Soviet aircraft buzzed the carrier at an altitude of only 400 feet, about 500 yards off the starboard side.

Such overflights have become routine in recent years and apparently are part of Soviet intelligence operations.

Deployment of the carrier follows an increase in the Soviet naval force in the Mediterranean.

Adm. Horacio Rivero, commander of NATO forces in southern Europe, estimated over the weekend that Soviet naval combat strength in the Mediterranean is posing "a real problem."

Flag Fire Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court set aside today conviction of a Brooklyn Negro who set fire to an American flag when he heard a civil rights leader had been shot.

But the court sidestepped the large issue presented by the case: Whether Americans who burn the flag as a symbol of political protest may be jailed for their actions.

The 5-4 ruling found that Sidney Street, a bus driver who had won the Bronze Star in World War II, may have been punished for what he said rather than for what he did. And punishment for speech alone, however distasteful, said Justice John Marshall Harlan for the majority, is impermissible.

But, Harlan said, the record of Street's case was not sufficient to indicate whether he was convicted solely for what he said or for both his speech and his burning of the flag.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, in a dissenting opinion, said the majority had searched "microscopically" for a chance to avert a ruling on the legality of laws prohibiting flag burning.

He said he believed the states and the federal government "do have the power to protect the flag from acts of desecration and disgrace" and said the court should have met the issue head-on "in a time when the American flag has increasingly become an integral part of public protests."

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, R-Ill., poses today at the White House after being named director of the Office of Economic Opportunity and assistant to President Nixon with Cabinet rank. Rumsfeld, 36, plans to resign his House seat when he is confirmed by the Senate.

Rep. Rumsfeld Due $42,500 OEO Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today named Rep. Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois to head the administration's anti-poverty program.

Rumsfeld, 36, is to become both director of the Office of Economic Opportunity and an assistant to the President with Cabinet rank.

Rumsfeld, a Republican, plans to resign his Congress seat when he is confirmed by the Senate in the OEO post. He will be paid the salary of a presidential assistant, $42,500, the White House said.

President Nixon made the announcement in the Roosevelt Room of the White House and said in a statement that Rumsfeld is "one of the most dynamic young members of Congress."

He called Rumsfeld's decision to give up his congressional seat an act of "unusual courage and great dedication." Nixon said it reminded him of his decision, made at the same age, 36, in 1949, when he decided to give up a safe seat in Congress to run for the Senate.

Rumsfeld is now serving his fourth term in the House.

Both Rumsfeld and White House aides said there is no conflict with the law in the congressman's taking the post. They said all constitutional questions have been resolved.

In advance of his appointment, questions had been raised whether the selection might conflict with a constitutional ban on the appointment of a Congress member to a post which had been created or the salary for which had been increased during the term for which he was elected.

Salaries of most top government jobs went up this year under terms of a law passed last term, when Congress did not veto proposals sent to it by then President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The President announced also that he is asking Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy for a complete review of the entire federal tax system.

The recommendations should be in hand by next November 30, Nixon said. This would permit submission of legislative recommendations for basic taxation.

Meanwhile, Nixon called on Congress to "take important first steps in tax reform legislation during this session." He listed these:

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor Secretary George P. Shultz said in defense of President Nixon's planned, controversial cuts in the Job Corps program that the aim is a more comprehensive manpower development system.

"Instead of standing in splendid isolation, the Job Corps would be supported by and lend support to all other manpower programs," Shultz said in a statement prepared for the House Labor and Education Committee.

Chairman Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., and other committee Democrats are in the vanguard of the opposition to the President's proposal to disband 59 of the 113 Job Corps centers.

Shultz said there were "serious deficiencies" in the program's ability to keep enrollees. The Job Corps has the lowest completion rate, 36 per cent, of any manpower training program. This compares with 68 per cent and 60 per cent-rates for major programs of the Manpower Development and Training act, he said.

Meanwhile, since the Job Corps program started in 1964 there are more job preparation programs, he said. And, in 1977, the administration plans to increase by 5,700 to 368,000 the number of out of school youth served by Labor's manpower programs, Shultz said.

Nixon Wants To Slice Income Tax Surcharge

Poor Families Help Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent Congress today a tax reform package including a one-half cut in the 10 per cent income tax surcharge within a year and removal of two million poor families from all income tax liability.

Nixon, in an eight-fold tax reform package, also proposed immediate repeal of the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

Changing his position on a one-year tax extension of the surtax, Nixon proposed that it apply in full only until Jan. 1, 1970 and after that be cut to 5 per cent.

"If economic and fiscal conditions permit," he said, "we can look forward to elimination of the remaining surtax on June 30, 1970."

The reform package, which Nixon's statement called "long overdue," also includes a tax-the-rich provision to assure that the affluent pay some tax despite their ability to use deductions.

"MINIMUM TAX" — The new "minimum-income tax" would set a 50 per cent limit on the use of the major tax preferences that are subject to change by law.

"This limit on tax preferences," Nixon's message said, "would be a major step toward assuring that all Americans bear their fair share of the federal tax burden."

At the other end of the income scale, the President said, the "low income allowance will remove an estimated 2.2 million lower income families from the tax rolls and assure that families in poverty pay no federal income tax."

The message said a family of four would pay no income tax on income below $3,500; a married couple with $2,300 income would pay nothing, instead of the $100 they now pay; single persons, students and others who earn up to $1,700 in taxable income and now pay $117 in tax, would pay nothing.

"CHANGES MIND" — The recommended repeal of the 7 per cent investment tax credit was a reversal of the Nixon administration's position. The change was made because the tax credit, a stimulant to business investment in new plant and equipment, has been widely criticized as fueling the flames of inflation.

The President announced also that he is asking Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy for a complete review of the entire federal tax system.

The recommendations should be in hand by next November 30, Nixon said. This would permit submission of legislative recommendations for basic taxation.

Meanwhile, Nixon called on Congress to "take important first steps in tax reform legislation during this session." He listed these:

—"Much stricter surveillance" on tax exempt organizations, including private foundations.

—"TAX FARMERS" — Curbing of the practice of many corporations of breaking their business up into multiple subsidiaries and affiliated companies to take advantage of the lower tax rates on the first $25,000 of corporate income.

—Tougher rules governing losses on farm operations to prevent abuses by so-called "tax farmers" who use tax losses to cut the tax on other income.

—Tighter screening of deductions for charitable contributions. Nixon said these would operate "only to screen out the unreasonable and not stop those which help legitimate charities and therefore the nation."

—New rules on certain mineral transactions to prevent companies from creating artificial net operation losses in the mineral industries. These would affect so-called "carved out" mineral production payments and "ABC" transactions, but the statement did not provide details on this point; the Treasury was to provide them shortly.

—A requirement that taxpayers who have certain non-taxable income or other preferences would have their non-business deductions reduced proportionately. This proposal also awaiting further explanation.

"Special preferences in the law permit far too many Americans to pay less than their fair share of taxes," the statement said. "Too many other Americans bear too much of the tax burden."

"This administration, working with the Congress, is determined to bring equity to the federal tax system . . .

The economic overheating which has brought inflation into its fourth year keeps us from moving immediately to reduce federal tax revenues at this time. Inflation is itself a tax—a cruel and unjust tax that hits hardest those who can least afford it.

"In order to 'repeal' the tax of inflation, we are cutting budget spending and have requested an extension of the income tax surcharge."

The President thus disclosed that there will be little if any revenue loss from his proposals. The tax collections resulting from the closing of loopholes would offset the tax relief for the impoverished.

The President noted that much concern has been voiced over the ability of some persons with more than $200,000 incomes to escape taxation entirely.

They are not tax dodgers or tax cheats, Nixon said, noting many go untaxed by reason of their large donations to worthy causes. He added:

"But where we can prevent it by law, we must not permit our wealthiest citizens to be 100 per cent successful at tax avoidance."

White House officials have disclosed that Nixon plans to send another batch of tax reforms to Congress in June.

Webb Trainer Involved In Mid-Air Collision

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Four persons narrowly escaped death Sunday when an Air Force jet trainer and a twin-engine light plane collided in flight.

The accident occurred four miles east of El Paso.

Two occupants of the jet trainer were treated for minor cuts in William Beaumont General Hospital and released.

The successful landing of the two planes a few minutes after the collision — one with a smashed instrument panel and no roll control—brought gasps from veteran fliers at El Paso International Airport.

The incident occurred at 10:32 a.m. as the two planes flew on a direct collision course at 20,500 feet. The twin engine plane, a 1959 Piper Apache flown by Gary Garner of Salt Lake City, Utah, was westbound.

The jet trainer, a Cessna T37 flown by Capt. William A. Norton and 2nd Lt. Gilbert Harder, both of Webb Air Force Base at Big Spring, Tex., was eastbound.

The second occupant of the Piper Apache was identified as Peter Christensen of Alpine, Utah, a camera operator for Skyline Aerial Survey Co. of Salt Lake City, who owned the plane.

Garner said he and Christensen were on an aerial mapping mission photographing a pipeline east of El Paso and were flying at about 120 miles per hour. Garner said he saw the approaching jet just before the collision and was able only to pull back on his control wheel before the impact.

Garner's fast reaction and the superb flying ability of both pilots were credited by the Federal Aviation Administration officials with saving four lives.

The T37 landed safely at El Paso International Airport but the Apache with its nose wheel jammed and a malfunctioning main landing gear swerved off the runway, receiving further damage.

The collision occurred with the planes lined up dead center on each other, but with Garner's split second reaction, putting the Apache slightly above the T37, the Apache's underbelly ripped into the jet's canopy, shattering the cover on the left side.

The Apache's nose struck the upper vertical fin of the T37, shearing about three feet of fin and rudder off level with the horizontal stabilizer and jamming the rest of the rudder in a neutral position into the jet's plastic tail cone.

Garner said he was flying from the right seat of the Apache while Christensen operated the camera from the left. The collision's impact sent several parts of the jet through the Apache like shrapnel, cutting its controls.

The two men kicked the instrument panel back in place and came on in.

The T-37 was piloted by Capt. William A. Norton, of Webb's 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, and the student aboard was 2nd Lt. Gilbert V. Harder.

SUPREME COURT SPLITS 6-3 ON VOTE

Welfare Residency Rules Voided

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today invalidated state residence requirements for people receiving welfare assistance.

"Neither deterrence of indigents from migrating to the state nor limitation of welfare benefits to those regarded as contributing to the state is a constitutionally permissible state objective," said Justice William J. Brennan Jr. in the majority opinion.

The vote was 6 to 3. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justice Hugo L. Black joined in one dissent. Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan dissented separately.

The ruling is a major legal advance for the poor. It is expected to make 100,000 to 200,000 poor people newly eligible for Aid to Families With Dependent Children. This would boost welfare expenses $125 million to $175 million a year.

The ruling dealt specifically with residency requirements in Connecticut, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia. It is applicable to such regulations in about 40 states in all.

Chief Justice Warren, dissenting, said he believed Congress has the power to impose minimal nationwide residency requirements or to authorize the states to do so.

The hotly disputed issue was before the court twice—once last term when the justices evidently were too divided to reach a decision—and again last fall.

The residency regulations required newly migrated poor people to wait a year before they could obtain help. Under the program of Aid to Families

With Dependent Children. The justification was orderly administration of welfare programs and prevention of fraud.

Attorneys for the poor maintained the regulations deprived needy people of "the rudiments of life" as they searched for new opportunities in a new state.

The court decided that prohibition of benefits to residents of less than a year creates two separate classes of poor people — "an invidious discrimination" denying the newly migrated "equal protection of the laws."

The attack on residence requirements was spearheaded by the Office of Economic Opportunity's Legal Services Program. Regulations were struck down in Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and the District of Columbia before the court decided to resolve the dispute.

The AFDC program assists some six million people, with the federal government footing about 55.3 per cent of the bill nationally and the states and local government contributing the remainder. The federal share varies from state to state.

In fiscal 1968 the program cost $2,541,899,000 over-all.

The 1935 Social Security law forbids the states to impose more than a year's residency requirement for AFDC help. The states, defending their regulations, said Congress thereby had sanctioned one-year restrictions.

Attorneys for the poor took the position Congress was not approving one-year restrictions but simply forbidding longer ones.

The Connecticut regulation was challenged in behalf of a teenaged unmarried mother Vivian Thompson, who moved to Hartford from Massachusetts to be with her mother. Miss Thompson's two children were denied assistance.

The District's regulation was attacked for four women: Mrs. Minnie Harrell, now dead, who moved in from Suffolk County, N.Y.; Mrs. Vera M. Barley on her release from hospitalization for mental illness; Gloria Jean Brown, from Fort Smith, Ark.; and Clay Mae Legram, from South Carolina.

The Pennsylvania law was challenged by Juanita Smith, who moved into the state from Delaware with five children, and Jose Foster, from York County, S.C., with four children.

21 Traffic Fatalities Posted During Weekend

By The Associated Press

Texas counted 21 violent deaths during the weekend, including 21 traffic fatalities.

The toll, recorded between 5 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, also included two dying in a fire, six killed by gunfire, and three dead after an industrial accident at a Texas City refinery.

Miscellaneous violence accounted for the rest of the deaths—a plane crash, a drowning and a stabbing included.

Two traffic accidents claimed three lives each. Three Dallas youths died Sunday in a pre-dawn crash of their car on an expressway near the downtown area. They were Charles Thomas, 19, the driver; Michael Grimes, 20, and Larry Elbridge, 19. Police said the car struck a utility pole, then slammed into a concrete bridge abutment.

Three Corpus Christi residents died Saturday night when their car swerved off the highway and struck a tree in a roadside park. The accident on US 181 about 16 miles north of Beeville killed Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Langham and Mrs. Lois Opal Hammock, 59, the driver.

Two men died, apparently inhaling lethal gas, while working on an alkalization unit at the American Oil Co. refinery at Texas City Sunday night. An ambulance driver summoned to the scene also died. The dead are Clarence W. Lester, 28, of Texas City, and Collis Lee Wenning, 23, of Galveston. Both were operators at the refinery. The ambulance driver was identified as Terry Garris, 20, of Texas City.

Martin Rangel, 24, of Irving was drowned Sunday when his runabout collided with a larger boat and was cut in half. Searchers hunted for Rangel's body late Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Florence Douglas, 76, of Dallas was killed Sunday in a one-car accident in Dallas' Pleasant Grove section. Two other persons in the car were injured.

Mrs. Ramona Rodriguez, 28, was stabbed to death Saturday in an alley behind the Aransas Pass cafe where she worked. Police arrested a man.

Edward A. Jensen, 21, of Midland, Mich., died in a car-truck collision Saturday at a rural intersection near Corpus Christi. Jensen was identified as a naval airman stationed at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

Stefan Jewaski, 54, died Saturday when his car flipped over a guard rail of a San Antonio expressway and fell to an access road.

George Salinas Fernandez, 40, of San Benito was shot to death by police Sunday after he wounded two men with rifle fire during a two-hour sniping spree. Officers finally located his hiding place when he threw beer cans from atop a two-story stucco house.

Max L. Steincamp, 32, of Lake Jackson was killed and four other persons injured Saturday night in a two-car collision. The accident occurred about 15 miles east of Baytown at the intersection of FM 521 and FM 457.

Mrs. Corrinne Mary Brobst, 26, of Pasadena was killed Sunday when she was thrown from a motorcycle when it struck a curb. Her husband, George L. Brobst, 32, was charged with murder by auto in connection with the accident in the Houston suburb.

Josef Pesta, 36, of Fairview, Ohio, was killed Saturday when his cropduster plane struck a power line and crashed. The accident happened near the Grabb community east of Brenham in Southeast Texas.

Roy Lee Hendrick, 35, of Midland was shot to death Sunday night in a Midland bar. Police hunted another man in the shooting.

Fred Gordon, 35, of Dallas was shot to death Sunday during an argument. Police arrested a woman.

Three persons died in a two-car collision Sunday night near Marion in Guadalupe County east of San Antonio. Killed were Pete Gomez, 20; Jesus Rodriguez, 24; and Adolfo Hidalgo, all of Marion.

Tony Awards Show Seems To Be Falling Into Trap

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Broadway Tony awards, which in two previous television programs led the other awards shows in pace, class and general interest, seemed on Sunday night to be falling into the old Oscar trap.

With awards voted in 15 categories plus five special Tonys to hand out, plus scenes from several top plays to present, the show bogged down with the introductions of the presenters, the envelope-opening and the thanks speeches.

NO NUDES

Just about every great theatrical name, however, was on stage at some time—Sir Laurence Olivier flew over from England to pick up his special award. The program, scheduled to occupy 90 minutes of NBC time, was close to 45 minutes late in winding up.

Tony's charm for the average viewer with little access to the Broadway theatre is always the liberal sampling provided from top shows. There were scenes from "Zorba," "The Lovers," "Promises, Promises," "1776" and "Hair"—the last perhaps a bit disappointing since the cast sang a production number completely clothed.

It is interesting to note the close relationship between the branches of show business. Alan King and Diahann Carroll, certainly two familiar TV faces, served as host and hostess. Carl Burnett, who certainly belongs to television, received a special Tony. Art Carney, doing a scene from "The Lovers," has, as Alaa King observed, "come a long way from the sewer."

"SPOON RIVER"

But even if the show does seem to be getting a bit long-winded, it is still the most rewarding from the viewer's standpoint.

CBS plans to inaugurate a new policy of permitting television reviewers to preview some programs and have their judgments available to viewers before broadcast time.

It was first suggested by CBS President Frank Stanton during recent Senate hearings on TV violence. It is hard to see how the previews as set up will have anything to do with curbing violence since they will be concerned primarily with special programs—starting with Wednesday's documentary on the Japanese people. Dramas and news specials are rarely offensive or even controversial.

Recommended tonight: "Spoon River," CBS, 10-11 EST, dramatization of Edgar Lee Master's poem, with Jason Roberts.

Capt. Haggerty Is Honor Pilot

Capt. Eugene Haggerty has been named the T-37 instructor pilot of the month for March at Webb AFB.

In addition to instructional duties, Capt. Haggerty serves as squadron flight standardization officer and a runway supervisory unit observer. Lt. Col. Robert Wall, commander of the 3561st PTS, praised the captain's professional "can-do" attitude and cited him for "outstanding knowledge of aircraft systems, procedures and flying techniques."

Capt. Haggerty has been stationed at Webb since April 11, 1967. Prior to his arrival at the base he served with the 333rd Tactical Fighter Squadron, Takli AB, Vietnam.

Laird Talks Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The South Vietnamese army's ability to contain the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong is the only basis for unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops from the war, says Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Lacking sufficient South Vietnamese strength, Laird said, American troops would not be removed unless there is a withdrawal by the enemy by agreement at the Paris peace talks.

Laird spoke on the Metro-media television program "Evans-Novak Report."

The secretary said he does not rule out inclusion of Communists in a post-war government, provided that they are voted in free and honest elections. "I would be opposed to a forced coalition," Laird said, such as was the case in Laos.

Laird also referred to the Pentagon spending saying there has been $3 billion in defense budget cuts and a $1.1 billion cut in expenditures. "I think we can make further savings."

Domestic Policy Of Nixon Scored

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has not realized the gravity of the domestic crisis, says former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Of $4 billion in recent budget cuts ordered by Nixon, Humphrey said, $3 billion came from domestic programs and this was "indicative of the administration's attitude."

Humphrey said he is not sure the military budget—cut by $1 billion—is too large, but he felt the time had come for "an in-depth inquiry" into Pentagon spending.

Humphrey spoke on the NBC program "Meet the Press."

As for his political future, he said, "I'm not dead, and there are a few others around. I'm not through with public affairs, but I'm not sure about public office." He said he has not decided on whether to run for the Senate in 1970 or seek the presidency again in 1972.

Czech Leadership Change Protested

PRAGUE (AP) — Students in two departments of Charles University boycotted classes today to protest the leadership change in Czechoslovakia's Communist party last week.

The city-wide Prague student parliament, however, ended a long meeting early today unable to agree on proposals for a coordinated strike. Students said two of the 25 members of the parliament had decided to go on a hunger strike to protest the body's indecision.

Despite trade union opposition, some workers were reported attending student meetings at the university. Czechoslovakia's large trade union organizations have decided Gustav Husak, the new party leader, should be given a chance to end the crisis in Soviet-Czechoslovak relations and have asked the workers to avoid protest actions.

Husak is expected to go to Moscow for a session Tuesday of the Soviet bloc's Council of Mutual Economic Assistance. All Communist party chiefs in the bloc are due in Moscow. As expected, the Czechoslovak party newspaper Rude Pravo carried a long editorial today echoing Husak's acceptance speech and the resolutions of the party Central Committee meeting at which Husak was elected to succeed Alexander Dubcek.

Appeals By Sirhan To Take Long Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Whether the jury decrees death or life in prison for Sirhan Bishara Sirhan in the penalty phase of his trial, it will be a long time before the future of Robert F. Kennedy's murderer is finally determined.

Appeals are expected to take a year, perhaps longer.

For today's proceeding, prosecutor John E. Howard and defense attorney Grant B. Cooper said they would not take long to argue their cases before the same jury that last week convicted Sirhan of first-degree murder.

Howard, an advocate of the death penalty, said he would call no witnesses and would take only 20 minutes to "point out facts we think important—his lack of remorse, and the effect of political assassination on a democracy."

Cooper said the jury, which found Sirhan guilty of first degree murder Thursday, might begin deliberations on the sentence by late tonight or early Tuesday.

The jury, which spent the weekend seeing a movie and going to the beach, will give only two choices by Judge Herbert V. Walker: to send Sirhan to San Quentin's gas chamber or to sentence him to life in prison.

Should the seven men and five women return a death verdict, Judge Walker could on his own authority commute the sentence to life. This possibility was considered remote.

Normal procedure—and one that will be followed in Sirhan's case—is that the judge receives a probation report before pronouncing sentence. This normally takes 20 days.

A death sentence is subject to automatic appeal under California law.

Cooper said he planned to file a notice of appeal on a number of grounds, but whether he would press it immediately "depends partly on whether someone comes up with money to conduct a defense." None of the three defense lawyers or their two investigators has received a fee. Expenses have been paid out of the attorneys' own pockets and from the sale of a magazine article under a royalty-splitting agreement with the writer.

A life sentence would mean that Sirhan could not be paroled for at least seven years.

Armed Negro Students End Cornell Siege

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Armed Negro students wearing bandoliers of ammunition led a march from a Cornell University building after a signed agreement with school officials ended a 36-hour siege.

The evacuation followed day-long talks Sunday between Cornell administrators and leaders of the campus Afro-American Society (AAS), during which the school agreed to take no action against the students involved.

Later, standing before a row of followers carrying rifles, shotguns and improvised spears, Edward Whitefield, president of the society, read the agreement from the front steps of the organization's headquarters.

"We only leave now with the understanding the university will carry out the agreement reached," Whitefield said. "Failure to do so will result in further confrontation."

The occupied building, Willard Straight Hall, was entered at 6 a.m. Saturday by about 100 Negro students. The hall houses the Cornell Student Union, but was being used as a weekend guest house for 30 adults attending the annual Parents Weekend.

The invading students ousted the parents and 40 maintenance workers.

Spokesmen for the society said the occupation was a protest against reprimands imposed last week on three members involved in campus disorders last winter.

White students led by some university athletes attempted to evict the occupying group Saturday night but were beaten back in a fist-swinging melee.

The AAS leaders said the guns were brought into the building later for self-defense. Ithaca city police said the weapons were not loaded and therefore no city law was violated.

The AAS-school agreement calls for 24-hour protection of the AAS headquarters and of Wari House, a cooperative residence for Negro women which was the scene of a cross burning early Friday.

The university also agreed to assume responsibility for any damage to the Student Union. School officials described the damage as minor.

In addition to its promise not to act against anyone involved in taking the building, the school said it would help provide counsel if legal complaints were lodged by other parties as a result of the occupation.

Hornet, 10 Other Warships Reported In Sea Of Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The carrier Hornet and 10 other American warships sailed into the Sea of Japan today, apparently to join in protecting U.S. intelligence flights off North Korea.

The Japanese Maritime Agency said that between 2 a.m. and 8 a.m. the 33,000-ton Hornet, an escort of five destroyers and five other warships passed through the Tsushima Strait between Japan and South Korea.

Asahi Shimbun, Japan's biggest newspaper, reported one of its planes spotted the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise heading toward the Sea of Japan. The paper said the Enterprise, the world's biggest warship, was 121 miles north of the Sasebo naval base.

U.S. officials would not comment. They said warship movements are classified.

The arrival of the Hornet indicated that the reconnaissance flights off North Korea, which President Nixon has ordered continued, will be covered by carrier planes. Japan's Kyodo news service said the U.S. government had informed the Japanese government that the escorts would not come from bases in Japan.

The intelligence collecting flights were suspended after North Korea shot down a U.S. Navy reconnaissance plane with 31 Americans and special electronic equipment aboard April 14. North Korea said the plane invaded its air space but the United States insisted it had stayed far out over international waters.

The bodies of two crewmen were recovered from the Sea of Japan and were brought Sunday to the U.S. naval base at Sasebo, in southern Japan. A search for the other 29 men was called off Saturday.

The Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri said the Japanese government had informed the United States it considers reconnaissance flights in the area essential to Japanese security but wants the planes to refrain from action that might provoke North Korea. The plane that was shot down came from the Atsugi base near Tokyo, and Yomiuri said the government would ask the withdrawal of any planes from Japanese bases that invade North Korean air space.

In Londonderry on Saturday the police intervened to head off a clash between Catholics and Protestants, but the demonstrators turned on the police. In the fighting that followed, a mob tried to storm a police station but was beaten back by police charging with nightsticks.

Fighting resumed Sunday when a crowd of about 200 in Londonderry's predominantly Catholic Bogside district stoned the police, and the police charged the crowd.

BRUTALITY

Bomb Blasts Rock Northern Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops guarded key installations against sabotage today after weekend bomb blasts rocked Northern Ireland and rioting scarred the city of Londonderry.

The British army has about 6,000 troops stationed in Northern Ireland. They were under orders not to intervene in any civil disorders, leaving anti-riot duties to the police. The 3,000-man Royal Ulster Constabulary was reinforced by 1,000 special reservists and another 1,000 were to be called up, officials said.

Prime Minister Terence O'Neill called on the British army for help Sunday night after explosions crippled Belfast's power and water facilities and a series of firebombings left nine city post offices and a bus station blazing.

FEUDING, FIGHTING
The bombings were believed to be politically motivated, protesting the division of Ireland and Northern Ireland's membership in the United Kingdom. The Londonderry riots were sparked by religious feuding, aggravated by charges of police brutality.

Two days of rioting in that city left an estimated 260 persons injured—110 Saturday and 150 Sunday. The official casualty toll listed 180 policemen and 70 civilians hospitalized.

Roman Catholics, who comprise about a third of the province's 1.5 million people, first took to the streets of Londonderry last October, charging that Protestants were favored in jobs, housing and local voting procedures. The Protestant Unionists in turn accused the Catholics of seeking to sever the ties with Britain.

In Londonderry on Saturday the police intervened to head off a clash between Catholics and Protestants, but the demonstrators turned on the police. In the fighting that followed, a mob tried to storm a police station but was beaten back by police charging with nightsticks.

Fighting resumed Sunday when a crowd of about 200 in Londonderry's predominantly Catholic Bogside district stoned the police, and the police charged the crowd.

BRUTALITY
Demonstrators in at least six other Northern Irish towns blocked main roads in sympathy with the Londonderry rioters. Bernadette Devlin, a 21-year-old civil rights leader elected to Britain's Parliament last week, joined a sit-down demonstration at Dungiven, 15 miles from Londonderry on the road to Belfast.

She said she witnessed the Londonderry riots and accused the police of "sheer animal brutality."

Police spokesmen denied the brutality charges and said the fact that 180 officers were injured "speaks for itself."

While the Ulster Constabulary was occupied in Londonderry, a gelignite explosion cut water supplies to Belfast from the Silent Valley reservoir in the Mourne Mountains. Spokesmen said water would have to be rationed in large areas of the capital.

Another sabotage blast damaged an electricity pylon at Kilmore, eight miles from Armagh.

Both bomb blasts were near the Irish Republic border, leading to speculation that the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which has been mostly quiet during the civil rights campaign, has gone on the offensive.

IRISH TEMPER
O'Neill's decision to call on British troops, described as the most significant taken by an Ulster government in 25 years, was reportedly reached after telephone consultations with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his British Cabinet.

After a five-hour session of his own Cabinet Sunday, O'Neill also set up an emergency security committee of four Cabinet ministers to deal with all matters affecting the province's security.

Since the partition of Ireland in 1920, Northern Ireland has remained part of the United Kingdom with a considerable measure of domestic autonomy, including its own parliament and provincial government. The ruling Unionist party, which is Protestant-based, is committed to maintaining ties with Britain.

A LOVELIER YOU 'With It' Hairstyle Has Personal Look

By MARY SUE MILLER
Hairstyles this spring are as individual as Lovelies themselves. The only criterion of "in" is what's right for you and a short, smooth job. Or is a short, curly head your own "do?"

Long hair, by all that's "with it," may be your thing. Will you have it curly, flipped at the ends, with tendrils on the cheek and nape, or with body at the crown?

No matter, so far as achievement is concerned. It is easy to get exactly what you want, where you want it, with a new kind of permanent wave kit that "scatters" body, curl and curve to order.

There's no guesswork about it either. Shapers for winding the hair come color-keyed in three sizes to control amounts of wave. You may use or omit shapers in any area you choose for perfection styling.

Timing is foolproof, being tested at five-minute intervals against photos of individually desired results. For hair beauty a conditioner is an integral part of the process, not an afterthought. It even applies to abused hair — up to a point. Instructions tell when there's a no-no signal. Do abide by it. Condition your hair and then try again.

No amount of styling makes poor hair look good.
LOVELIER HAIR
Overcome your hair problems! Send for my booklet, HOW TO HAVE LOVELIER HAIR. Advice includes: corrective care of dry, abused, oily and hard-to-manage hair; expert coloring methods and treatment of tinted hair; hairstyle formulas; tips on perfection cutting, permanents, straightening and grooming. Write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald for your copy, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Racist Clashes Follow Youth For Decency Rally

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Racist clashes following a Maryland Youth for Decency Rally in Memorial Stadium, home of the Baltimore Orioles, resulted in the arrest of 133 persons and injury to 88, including seven policemen.

"How do you find decency after this?" asked Lynn Dorsey, a high school senior on the rally planning committee, after the outburst of violence Sunday.

The rally, attended by 40,000 teenagers, was modeled after an orderly and successful event last month in Miami's Orange Bowl protesting lewdness and obscenity in America. Its themes were "brotherhood, respect, responsibility and love."

Wade H. Poole, deputy police commissioner, said some of those at the Baltimore rally apparently became bored during the entertainment and speeches.

As the departing crowd streamed down exit ramps, fighting broke out. Witnesses, including a Negro police officer, said Negro youths clustered around the exits began taunting, shoving and hitting whites as they passed through the gates.

More than 500 police descended on the area in an attempt to restore order, but the violence spread to downtown Baltimore, where a number of windows were smashed.

About half of those arrested downtown were adults, most of them on charges of disorderly conduct or assault.

The injured included a youth who was stabbed in the chest and a policeman with a broken kneecap. Another police officer was taken to hospital after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Charles E. Moylan Jr., state's attorney for Baltimore, said it was difficult to place the blame for the outbreak. He expressed doubt, however, that it was advisable to bring so many teenagers together in a rally without stricter supervision.

Ft. Griffin Job

AUSTIN (AP) — A $9,000 contract has been negotiated between the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the University of Texas for archeological work at Ft. Griffin, 15 miles north of Albany in North Central Texas.

The work will be in connection with restoration of the fort as a historic site.

Takes School Post

FORT WORTH (AP) — Gerald Ward, a veteran member of the Fort Worth school system, was elected recently assistant superintendent for administration by the school board.

He replaced Eli Douglas, who was leaving to become superintendent at Galveston.

Nigerian Units Attack As Peace Talks Fizzle

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Advances Nigerian forces have driven Biafra's leaders to a new headquarters, and the attempt to get peace talks started collapsed Sunday.

Reports reaching Lagos said Biafran leader Odumegwu Ojukwu and his staff have left Umuahia and established new headquarters at Orlu, 36 miles to the west.

Orlu is the last town of any size left in the 3,000 square miles that remain of Biafra after 22 months of civil war. It is located near the two airstrips the besieged secessionist government depends on to receive arms and relief supplies from the outside world.

Federal authorities refused to confirm or deny that Umuahia has fallen, but a spokesman for the International Committee of the Red Cross confirmed reports that relief agencies have moved their headquarters out of Umuahia.

However, the Biafran official who headed his country's delegation at two days of unsuccessful attempts in Monrovia, Liberia, to arrange peace talks dismissed the reports of Umuahia's fall.

Sir Louis Mbanefo, Biafra's chief justice who once sat with the International Court at the Hague, said: "When you hear about the war ending with the fall of Umuahia remember the strength of Biafra is not in the towns, it is in the villages."

The Biafran delegation and the Nigerian delegation, headed by Federal Works Commissioner Femi Okunnu, met in Monrovia at talks called by the Organization of African Unity's seven-nation committee on Nigeria.

Biafra rejected an OAU declaration urging both sides to accept "in the supreme interest of Africa a united Nigeria which ensures all forms of security and guarantees equality of rights and privileges to all its citizens."

"Within the context of this agreement, the two parties accept an immediate cessation of the fighting and the opening without delay of peace negotiations."

Biafra's Mbanefo said he was unable to get an explanation of what the OAU meant by a united Nigeria in which the Biafrans were guaranteed security saying he was being called on "to agree to unity before we defined what unity meant."

The Biafrans did not reject absolutely the idea of rejoining Nigeria, he said, but "we cannot accept a united Nigeria without knowing the nature, form or extent of the security we are getting for our lives and property."

The Nigerian delegation said they doubted if anyone could find a solution to the war and they saw no prospects of further talks.

Miss Clean

About seven years ago Miss Maud Price of North Stonington, Conn., began a one-woman campaign to keep roads and streets in her community free of litter. Those who know her say she is more than 80 years old, but she admits only to being "over 21." When weather permits, she can be seen almost daily riding her bicycle and putting litter into a basket on her bicycle. She attributes her personal campaign to a sense of pride in her community.

Student Units Threaten To Escalate Conflict

NEW YORK (AP) — Two student groups have threatened to escalate their conflict with the Columbia University administration in a series of protests this week.

The two groups, the Students' Afro-American Society (SAS) and the predominantly white Students for a Democratic Society, joined Sunday in a peaceful march billed as a prelude to the week's activities.

About 200 demonstrators marched from nearby Harlem to the sundial on the Columbia campus, where they held a brief rally to support student demands for a greater voice in setting university policies.

The marchers were also protesting the university's participation in a plan to relocate 160 community residents as part of a housing-renewal program.

Rising Rivers Pose Fresh Threats In Vermont, South

By The Associated Press
Swiftly rising rivers, swollen by heavy rains, posed new threats to New England and the South today while flood control workers along the rampaging Mississippi held their breaths, hoping newly built levees would hold.

In northern New England, some rivers began rising above flood stage over the weekend after a heavy rainfall.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Hartford, Conn., issued a warning of flooding later "on many major rivers in New England."

Roads were closed by flooding in Vermont. Telephones in Westminster, Vt., were knocked out when water damaged a cable under a bridge over the Connecticut River.

FLOOD WATCH
The Connecticut was reported to have risen five feet in 24 hours at White River Junction.

A flood watch was set up throughout the state. In the South, flooding was predicted today along the Savannah River at Augusta, Ga.

Along the Chattahoochee River in Blountstown, Fla., waters rose two feet above the 15-foot flood stage. The flood was expected to crest at 20 feet Tuesday.

The situation was, for the most part, under control along the Mississippi, which began its rampage last week.

With the precautionary evacuations out of the way and levee construction virtually completed, Wisconsin settled down to a week of high-water watch in confidence.

James Gruentzel, deputy administrator of the state's Division of Emergency Government, said the levees should hold, unless unexpectedly heavy rain upsets the high-water forecasts.

More than 600 Wisconsin residents have been moved from dwellings along the Mississippi banks with as many as 100 more ready to move if necessary.

The Souris River, locally called the Mouse, continued to batter Minot, N.D., in lion-like fashion.

CUT IN HALF
The Souris swelled to the highest level in 65 years at Minot Sunday with the worst still to come.

The swirling waters forced 11,864 residents from 2,544 homes in the city of 35,000.

The seven-mile-wide town has been cut in half, with US 83 linking the two sections closed to all but emergency traffic. Other traffic took a 20-mile detour around the floodwater.

Floods elsewhere in the northern Midwest were reported receding.

The Red River, still a lake from Fargo to beyond Grand Forks along the North Dakota-Minnesota border, was receding end as the battalions sparred with two bands of irregulars led by American Special Forces men.

Other attacks hit the airfields at Da Nang, Nha Trang, on the coast, and Vinh Long, in the Mekong Delta. Authorities said damage was light and apparently only one aircraft was hit.

Other barrages hit the high-

Crusade Plans Second Drive

The Cancer Crusade has netted $3,400; however, a second door-to-door canvass is planned Wednesday night, according to Mrs. Raymond Torp, chairman.

"There were many sections of town that our volunteer workers didn't reach during the crusade last week," Mrs. Torp said. "We want everyone to have the opportunity to share in this work. Many of our volunteers expressed a willingness to continue the crusade Wednesday, and we took them up on it."

The "Buck Cancer with a Buck" poster displays will be collected today, she said. These posters were to have accounted for a fifth of the crusade goal.

"There will be plenty of room for more volunteer workers. Anyone who wants to join may do so by coming by campaign headquarters," she said.

The second drive will be launched from 608 Highland Drive at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Aggies Elect

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Jimmy Dunham of Baytown has been elected president of next year's senior class at Texas A&M University.

land city of Pleiku, a district military headquarters about 50 miles southwest of Saigon, the headquarters of the American Green Beret force in Vietnam at Nha Trang and the U.S. 9th Infantry Division base camp at Dong Tam, 40 miles below Saigon.

HURL GRENADES

Fresh North Vietnamese regulars fell upon a night camp of U.S. Marines less than half a mile below the demilitarized zone. For two hours the attacking force tried to overrun the band of fewer than 100 Marines, getting inside the perimeter at one time and hurling satchel charges and grenades before being thrown back in hand-to-hand fighting.

At dawn, with a gunship rounding them with 6,000-round-minute bursts of minigun fire, the North Vietnamese pulled back, leaving 20 bodies and four badly wounded men.

The U.S. Command announced that an Army helicopter was shot down 15 miles west of Saigon Sunday, killing one American and wounding three others. It was the 2,544th U.S. helicopter lost in the war.

ONCE AGAIN

Meanwhile, the National Liberation Front charged that President Nixon is escalating the war and insisted once again that peace can come only if American and other foreign allied troops are unconditionally withdrawn.

An editorial broadcast by the Viet Cong Radio said the Paris peace talks "are at a standstill with no sign of improvement."

Military spokesmen said today the Communist Command has launched a stepped up program to take more American prisoners, offering such incentives as portable radios to troops in the field for capturing U.S. soldiers.

Dear Abby

An Unhappy Vacation

DEAR ABBY: A very dear friend of mine has three children all in school. Her husband is begging her to go to Florida with him for a two-week vacation, but she's the type who "can't leave" her children.

Her husband works hard and he NEEDS a vacation, but she says she won't go without the children. He says WITH the children it's no vacation.

It's not like she'd be leaving them on a doorstep. She has good help in the house and her own mother has offered to move into the house to supervise, but no, this foolish mother won't go.

How can I convince her that it's her DUTY to go with her husband? She says if she goes, she'll worry. I am only thinking of her poor husband.

DEAR FRIEND: I'm thinking of her "poor husband," too. And I can't imagine anything worse than being with a martyred wife who vacations with her husband out of "duty." She'll have a rotten time because she's all set to worry. And he'll have a rotten time, too. She'll see to that. Stay out of it.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my Sweet Sixteen party and have run into a problem. My best girl friend is going with a boy who, quite frankly, I can't stand. I want her, but not him. Should I invite them both, or just my girl friend?

PLANNING MY PARTY

DEAR PLANNING: You'll not have a "successful" party unless all the guests have a good time. If you don't invite your best friend's boyfriend, SHE won't have any fun. Invite him. At age 16, it's time you learned to "stand" people you "can't stand" occasionally to please good friends.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister's daughter is getting married in June and they're having a big wedding for her.

I don't know if I'm wrong or right, but I'm not going. I didn't tell her that, I'm going to wait until the time comes. Here's the reason:

Two years ago my daughter eloped. I was very unhappy about it, but all is forgiven now. I tried to help them get started so I bought them a refrigerator, sheets, pans, etc. My mother and friends gave her little things for housekeeping, too.

My husband's mother and sisters said they were going to buy her something and kept asking me what she "needed." I said she needed most everything and I told them what she already had as a guide.

Well, none of them gave her so much as a dish towel. Now, here's the way I look at it; what's good for my daughter is good for my daughter. In their words, an eye for an eye. Am I wrong?

TURN ABOUT

DEAR TURN ABOUT: I think you are. The only thing wrong with the "eye for an eye" game is that it results in total blindness. Don't punish your sister-in-law's daughter for her mother's thoughtlessness.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQ10754 ♥KJ95 ♣752
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ 1 NT Dble. 3 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have a minimum opening and despite the fact that partner has shown definite values by doubling one no trump, it would be poor strategy on your part to take voluntary action which would show a hand with considerable excess values. Partner should have the next say.

Q. 2—As South, not vulnerable, you hold:

♠J10 ♥AQJ10 ♣Q8 ♥J10743
The bidding has proceeded: East South West North Pass Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. This hand contains 11 points in high cards and you should certainly make one more try since your values are distributed in all four suits. If partner bids three spades, call it a day. A three heart bid is not recommended.

Q. 3—As South, not vulnerable, you hold:

♠AK10 ♥AQ983 ♣842 ♣Q5
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two hearts. This hand is not eligible as a two no trump rebid because it lacks a stopper in diamonds. Valued at hearts, this hand is worth 16 points which places it at the top of the minimum range.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A982 ♥J10943 ♣10544 ♣J
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West Pass Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Your hand has little in the way of defensive values. As a matter of fact the only trick-taking possibility you have is the ace of spades which may duplicate tricks your partner expected to win. It seems improbable that the three club contract can be defeated when you recall that partner passed originally. In self-defense you should return to three spades.

Q. 5—You are vulnerable, have a part score of 70 and hold:

♠AKJ9853 ♥A64 ♣K5 ♣6
What is your opening bid?

A.—I would be inclined to relax the standard requirements for two bids in this case. There is too much likelihood that partner even with definite values will take no action over a one spade bid which "put you out" and a slam may be missed. An opening bid of two spades is recommended, with the suggestion that you tread lightly after that.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠98653 ♥Q109 ♣AK3 ♣AS
The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 3 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Slam possibilities should not be overlooked with this powerful hand, and the way to start probing is by a cue bid of four clubs. Your next step will depend upon partner's action at this point.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠3 ♥KJ97432 ♣J3 ♣J52
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 3 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—With this hand you have but one story—hearts, and the suggested call at this point is four hearts. If partner wishes to go to five clubs he is at liberty to do so but, we would rather string along at this point with a seven card suit.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK875 ♥7 ♣QJ5 ♣K763
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Our choice is for a temporarily bid of four clubs. That the hand will surely make at least six clubs there can be no doubt, but by proceeding slowly we may obtain sufficient information upon which to base a grand slam effort. Giving immediate club support is preferable to a rebid of the spades.

along most of its length. The Big Sioux in South Dakota, the Minnesota in that state and the Des Moines in Iowa were no longer a threat.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Writing to a friend, Dwight D. Eisenhower once mentioned Winston Churchill, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee as great men, and then went on to establish his own scale for weighing greatness.

"It embraced," as Reiman Morin writes in his new biography, EISENHOWER: A GAUGE OF GREATNESS, "the qualities of vision, integrity, courage, understanding, and the ability to communicate."

You will be interested in Morin's judgment on how Eisenhower measured up to the high standards that he himself set. This is just one of the insights that Morin, a two-time Pulitzer prize winner, supplies into unknown and little known aspects of the life of the war time commander and peace time president.

A Devotional For The Day

Make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness. (II Peter, 1:5-6, RSV)

PRAYER: Help us, O God, to earnestly try to learn spiritual truths. Help us to see our Lord's teachings in the Beatitudes as they apply to the issues of this day. Help us to strengthen the hands of those who are teaching these spiritual lessons of life. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

The German Question

A shiver of apprehension must have been shared by Russian leaders when the West German foreign office denied that it was planning an exchange of trade missions with Red China.

Just to suggest that Bonn and Peking may even be thinking of strengthening trade relations raises the Russian phobia of enemies on two fronts. It suggests another Rapallo, with Russia on the outside rather than the inside.

Most foreigners probably are unable to understand Russian fears of German resurgence. They tend to overlook the fact that West Germany is the most populous country in Western Europe, even more populous than Great Britain. They also tend to forget that an estimated 20 million Russians died during the Nazi invasion.

Russians have a great deal of respect for German inventiveness and martial vigor. Because of this they have dismembered Germany. Because of this there is no perceivable reunion of Germany except on Russian terms.

Even in truncated fashion, Germany remains a threat to Russia, as felt in the minds of Russians.

It is assumed that West Germany could not seek closer relations with Red China because of the United States. But this is true only at the moment. At some future time the German people will try to normalize relations with other countries, as they have been trying to do in Eastern Europe, where they have been stymied by Russia.

Of equal concern to the United States is the possibility that West Germany, despairing of unity by other means, will turn to Russia and make a deal. This would unhinge the Western Alliance by destroying the balance of power.

Thus all our hope, shared by Russians perhaps for different reasons, that the German question will go away is a chimera. We must settle the German question before there can be any general European settlement. Yet that settlement remains as elusive today as it did when the Nazi Reich lay prostrate in 1945.

Prickly Nettle

The conscience of many Americans continues to be troubled by the problem of the conscientious objector and how we should deal with him. On one side it poses the right of the state to demand the service of its youth in the defense of the state. On the other side is the freedom of conscience and religion conferred on individuals by the Constitution. We have not been able to reconcile the conflict.

But the question was brought into sharp perspective recently by Chief Judge Charles E. Wyzenski of federal district court in Boston. He declared unconstitutional the 1967 amendment of the Selective Service and Training Act and upheld the principle of selective conscientious objection to an "unjust war."

In World War II, so long as an individual's objection to combat was based on "religious training and belief," he was entitled to conscientious objector status. Later Congress reduced that ground to "belief in a Supreme Being" as grounds for objection to combat. Angered by draft card burnings and anti-Vietnam war disturbances, Congress in 1967 deleted the belief in a Supreme Being as a basis for objection.

Judge Wyzenski overturned the conviction of John Heffron Sisson Jr., who was convicted of refusing to be inducted. He held that formal religious training is not necessary to qualify as a conscientious objector since Sisson had a "table of alternate values" as commendable as those taught by any formal religion.

Now the question seems to be joined, since the government is expected to appeal the case directly to the Supreme Court of the United States. It is a prickly nettle. Does the "religious training and belief" clause amount in effect to the establishment of religion forbidden by the Constitution, since it discriminates against atheists? Or can an individual deny the state his services purely on moral grounds?

Texas' Padre Island The Search For Sunken Treasure

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Fact has it there is sunken treasure along the Gulf coast of Texas worth figures that could range into six digits — and fable has it there is much, much more.

But Padre Island National Seashore has one of the poorest collections of loot, public or private. It consists of a single, corroded silver coin turned over to the seashore office by a conscientious visitor a couple years ago.

Would-be treasure finders have been haunting the island for years and discoveries of discs of gold and silver in the rolling dunes have seemed like dreams come true. Particular interest in treasure hunting was aroused with the establishment of the national seashore.

THEN THE FACTS and fables of treasure on the coast were really revived when Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced recently that his office was claiming jurisdiction over a group of sunken ships being explored off Padre Island.

Although no estimate has been made of the total value of the discovery, the commissioner displayed a golden crucifix which he said might be worth $100,000.

The ships haven't been identified, but romantics like to think they are part of a fabled convoy of Spanish galleons which supposedly was destroyed in a hurricane in 1533.

BESIDES THE CROSS, an exploration team has found rusty cannon balls, corroded silver bullion and coins, pewter dishes and several brass astrolabes used in navigation.

The discovery of the sunken ships was the work of an enterprising Indiana man named Paul Znika, who first became interested in treasure hunting on the Texas coast by reading an Argosy magazine article five years ago.

Znika began his search at Mansfield Cut where beachcombers had been picking up ancient Spanish coins for years. He had luck, and was soon recruiting divers for the explorations of sunken ships.

He returned to Indiana long enough to generate interest for the formation of a salvage group, Platoro, Ltd., and exploration began in earnest.

The group reportedly fitted out a barge for underwater dredging and sifted hundreds of items from the murky waters before operations were suspended by court order early last year.

THE ORDER restrained Platoro from disposing of any objects it found pending a review of the state's rights. Sadler has since announced that the Land Office is entering into a contract with Platoro to split any treasure from the ships on a 50-50 basis, the state reserving the right to keep all items and reimburse the firm for its share in cash.

Although the focus of attention has been on the project near Mansfield Cut, other discoveries have spurred speculation that the Gulf coast may be even richer in sunken treasure.

Dozens of coin specimens have been recovered from the dunes at Bob Hall Pier, 75 miles north of Mansfield Cut, and are credited to the legendary work of the pirate Jean Lafitte, who operated out of New Orleans and Galveston and sank a Spanish galleon worth $500,000 in 1811.

The hull of another ship possibly sunk in 1853 was discovered three miles farther south by beachcombers who were looking for treasures tossed up from the deep by Hurricane Carla.

Although it apparently contained nothing of intrinsic value, a printing press found in the wreckage was of historical interest.

Billy Graham

A serious personal problem is on my mind constantly. My desire is to solve it God's way but it seems impossible. Can you help me?

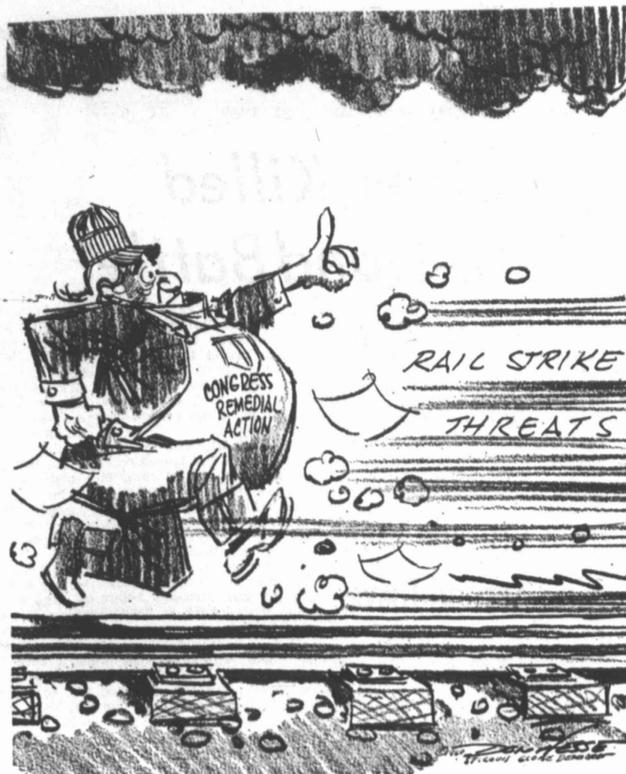

O.F.

First of all, you know that God knows about it. Also, He is concerned that you shall find the right answer. Finally, He will help you find it. The problem reserves itself into two things: your willingness to surrender your own will and desires to God, then, to accept and act on His leading. You do the first by coming to Him in the Name of Christ, asking Him to forgive your sins and to give you a heart completely surrendered to Him. Then you pray specifically that God will give you clear leading as to the solution of your problem. This leading may come as you pray; or, it may come as you read your Bible; or, God may send someone to you, who, under the leading of His Spirit, will direct you in the thing you should do.

This all may sound theoretical and mechanical, but actually it is just taking God at His Word and expecting Him to honor that Word. In Proverbs 3:5-6 we find these words: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not to thine own understanding; in all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." Honor God by accepting and acting on His Word and He will surely honor your faith.

CASEY JONES IS LATE AGAIN

John Cunniff It's Real Austerity For Britons

NEW YORK (AP) — April is not the month that Englishmen, especially the wealthy ones, write nostalgic poetry about these days. A lament might be more appropriate, for the somber Britain of today is not the merry one of yesterday.

It is, instead, a severe one. The theme of the economy is "produce more, use less." And the chief means of achieving this aim is to tax, tax, tax.

ALREADY HARSH taxes this April have been raised even more, the purpose being to take another $816 million of purchasing power out of the economy and bring the nation's hopes more in line with its abilities.

It's a cold April, and were Robert Browning writing today instead of more than a century ago, you might speculate that he would not be inspired to write so wistfully, "Oh to be in England, now that April's there."

WERE HE THERE, he would learn that betting taxes are going up, that there's a brand-new tax on bingo game winnings, that the tax on a bottle of wine is being raised by 13 cents, and that gasoline taxes will total 54 cents a gallon.

To businessmen, the increases are simply shocking: The corporate profit tax goes up to 45 per cent from 42.5 per cent, and the payroll tax for employers rises to well over $5 a head from $4.50.

But business does better than the consumer in one area, and that is borrowing. Business still can deduct the interest cost on loans, but consumers no longer can do so, except for houses. Borrowing, the nation's leaders say, must be discouraged.

THE BACKGROUND for such austerity goes back a long way, even to the days preceding World War II, and is tied to the breakup of the British Empire. The present Britain did not enter the postwar world very well equipped.

Not only did it lose some of its finest manpower in two wars, but its plants were damaged and old-fashioned, and its ability to utilize new technology was snaggled in a cobweb of ancient labor and management work methods.

A reliable estimate shows that within the past few years Britain needed more than 200 men to turn out the same amount of steel produced by 170 West Germans or 160 Frenchmen or 100 Americans.

THIS, OF course, means that British goods have been overpriced. In an effort to make them more competitive, the British devalued their currency in 1949 and 1967, thus lowering the price of exports, raising the price of imports.

These devaluations have had the aim of bringing money into the British economy, making industry more competitive, while at the same time making it more difficult for Britishers to spend money.

The latest figures show that 16 months after devaluation of the British pound sterling, the British slowly are improving their situation. Although still in debt, slow progress is noted.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The chances are one out of 10 that you will be hospitalized sometime during this year.

A chief reason that agricultural experts fear the population explosion will create a worldwide food shortage is this: Only about three per cent of the earth's land surface is suitable for the production of crops.

The accent isn't on youth when it comes to highway safety—it's on age. A 31-state survey by the University of Denver's Law College found that car owners over 65 were involved in only 4.8 per cent of all accidents although those in this age bracket make up 7.4 per cent of the nation's drivers.

THE ACCENT is on youth, however, when it comes to auto thefts. In 1969 they are expected for the first time to pass the million mark, and most of them will be stolen by lads too young to vote.

Children often pay the penalty for alcoholism in their parents. An Austrian study found that 72 per cent of the offspring of alcoholic parents suffered detectable mental or physical damage.

What is the world's fastest winged creature? Ornithologists believe it is the duck hawk, which can achieve a speed of up to 180 miles an hour when diving on its prey.

tant things. The monkey wears an expression of seriousness which would do credit to any college student, but the monkey is serious because he itches." —Robert Hutchins.

DELIVERING letters is one of the oldest government services. As long ago as 500 B.C., Darius the Great operated a postal system throughout Persia. In America, the first postage stamps didn't go on sale until July 1, 1847.

Doctors are worrying about drugs that hurt instead of help. A survey by two physicians in Northern Ireland of 1,160 patients found that 10.2 suffered adverse reactions from drug therapy. However, only a few of the reactions were of a life-threatening nature.

Americans still cling to the old-fashioned theory that higher education is more important to men than to the gentler sex. Women make up only 40 per cent of the nation's 7½ million college students.

KNOWLEDGE nuggets: Quebec is the only walled city in North America. In an ear of corn there is a strand of silk for each kernel. Laying an egg is a pretty grim ordeal for New Zealand's kiwi bird. A four-pound kiwi can produce a one-pound egg. For an ostrich to match this feat in terms of body weight, it would have to lay a 75-pound egg.

It was Kin Hubbard who observed, "Some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and others just keep still."

both patient and doctor to be on the alert in case such effects do develop, but it is not logical to take it for granted that they will develop. More often they won't.

Even in the case of medications which are known to produce side effect with continued use, cortisone being one, that does not prohibit the use of cortisone. Rather, one knows in what direction to look for possible side effects, and can discontinue the medication when and if they appear.

To Your Good Health When Tranquilizers Work In Reverse

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D. Dr. Thosteson: The doctor gave me tranquilizers and they worked the opposite way. I was so full of pep I couldn't stop moving, and I didn't sleep at all. Does that happen to many people? If so, why? — D.R.

It happens to some, although not to most people to the extent you describe.

This "opposite" effect, although infrequent, is known to happen with morphine, too. A time-honored sedative, it has an excitant effect on some patients.

The explanation apparently lies in the fact that the systems of some individuals metabolize drugs in different ways, a factor thought to be influenced, at least in part, by heredity.

In one recent study of hospitalized patients, it was found that a third of them had adverse reactions — "side effects" — to at least one drug.

This does not mean that the unwanted reactions were so extreme as to reverse the intended purpose of the medicine, as in your case.

But let's take the other side of the coin. If one patient in three has some undesirable result from a drug, or drugs, it also means that two out of three did not have trouble with any drug.

I would hope that this may help put into proper perspective the frequent concern about "side effects." Too often, I receive letters from nervous readers who have refused to take prescribed medicine because they have "heard about side effects."

This is looking at the whole thing backward. Most medicines, in most instances, will have no unpleasant side effects, or at least not to a noticeable or deleterious degree.

It makes perfect sense for both patient and doctor to be on the alert in case such effects do develop, but it is not logical to take it for granted that they will develop. More often they won't.

Even in the case of medications which are known to produce side effect with continued use, cortisone being one, that does not prohibit the use of cortisone. Rather, one knows in what direction to look for possible side effects, and can discontinue the medication when and if they appear.

Around The Rim Profits In Military Hardware

The nation's press has focused a lot of attention recently on the late Gen. Eisenhower's warning of the military-industrial complex.

Regrettably, that gentle man was in a position to do something about neutralizing the effects of such a trust and took no action.

As long ago as 1935, the late Gen. Smedley Butler pointed an accusing finger at the military-industrial complex that opened the way for 21,000 new millionaires and billionaires to come out of World War I, and his charges were most devastating and precise, yet little was done about insuring that such a thing would not happen again.

IT DID, during World War II and in succeeding years involving the United States and will continue to occur, mainly because the temptations are too great for people in a position not to capitalize on it.

Gen. Butler, in focusing attention on the cabal that existed between the military brass and big business during World War I, wrote that the profits of the Central Leather Company increased 1,100 per cent in 1916, that one chemical company saw its earnings increase 1,400 per cent and the makers of steel took a safe and short detour to Easy Street.

DURING WORLD WAR I, again quoting from Butler, the shoe people sold Uncle Sam 35 million pairs of hobnailed service shoes. There were 4,000,000 soldiers, enough to supply each doughboy with eight pairs.

Butler's own regiment, which fought in Europe, had only one pair per soldier. When the great conflict ended, Uncle Sugar was stuck with 25 million pairs of footgear, which it had bought and paid for.

THE LEATHER people sold the U.S. hundreds of thousands of McClellan saddles for the cavalry in 1916. There wasn't any American cavalry assigned to overseas duty. When the country entered the war, the Army had 86,000 horses. Some imaginative individual placed orders for 945,000 saddles, 1,000,000 horse feed bags and 2,800,000 halters.

The government also bought 20 million mosquito nets for World War I soldiers serving overseas. Not one of those ever got to France. Yet 40 million additional yards of mosquito netting were palmed off on Uncle Sam.

ONE VERY patriotic soul sold the country 12 dozen 48-inch wrenches. There was only one bolt that was large enough for those wrenches — the one that held the turbines at Niagara Falls.

It was estimated by Gen. Butler that of the $52 billion spent by the U.S. during World War I, $16 billion went into the pockets of opportunists.

The military and big business have had half a century to become more sophisticated in their dealings since the Kaiser was Europe's leading bogey man. Think what mischief could have taken place since that era.

—TOMMY HART

David Lawrence That Federal Deficit Is Still There

WASHINGTON — Isn't the United States government really running in the red every year? Why are the people being told there will be a "surplus"? The average person is unfamiliar with the way the government keeps its books, but virtually every businessman will wonder whether the terms being used are misleading and, indeed, what is the true meaning of the figures being bandied about which imply that the government's finances are on a sound basis.

PRIOR TO January, 1968, the budget sent to Congress by the President — known as the "administrative budget" — followed a system of accounting which had been in use for many years. Then it was changed upon the recommendation of a presidential commission headed by David Kennedy, now Secretary of the Treasury in the Nixon administration.

Anybody who knows anything about bookkeeping for corporations would arch his eyebrows if someone told him that money being put into trust funds by employees and companies for pensions could be described as "cash receipts." But this is exactly what the government is doing when it formally designates the money in trust funds as federal income.

POLITICS, OF course, played an important role in the adoption by President Johnson of what is called a "unified budget" in which trust funds were included. The Nixon administration now is necessarily using the same type of budget.

What this means is that, for the fiscal year which begins on July 1, there is an estimated "surplus" of 5.8 billion dollars, as contrasted with LBJ's projection of a 3.4 billion dollar taken out of the totals and the "administrative budget" is considered, an entirely different picture emerges — instead of a "surplus" there would be a deficit of 5.9 billion dollars.

THE "ADMINISTRATIVE BUDGET" has shown an annual deficit since fiscal year 1961, ranging from 3.9 billion dollars to 28.4 billion in 1968. In other words, last year the actual receipts — excluding contributions to the trust funds — amounted to 114.7 billion dollars and the expenditures in the federal budget were 143.1 billion. In the face of continuing deficits of large proportions, the politicians decided there ought to be other ways to define the word "budget."

Billions have been poured into the Social Security trust fund for payment of benefits in future years. The federal government feels free to utilize this money for current operating expenses by borrowing from the Social Security trust fund. This, of course, is less costly in interest rates than borrowing from the general public or through the banks or by the issuance of new bonds.

NO WONDER that there is concern among fiscal experts about the size of the national debt, for certainly the U.S. Treasury cannot ignore the huge borrowings from the trust funds. This method of financing doesn't have any direct impact on interest rates. But if the government had to borrow from the public as much cash as it takes from trust funds, interest rates would be forced up to higher and higher levels.

WHAT THE U.S. Treasury is doing, however, under the new budget concept applied by the Johnson administration and maintained by the Nixon administration is not in accord with what are generally accepted as sound bookkeeping principles. The government is simply borrowing money from trust funds that are supposed to be independent of general operations, and classifying these sums as "receipts."

The truth is the government is still spending far more than it is taking in each year, and the deficits of the last 10 years are being continued in large amounts.

Holmes Alexander The Nuclear Friend Of Man

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has got a push-pull problem with the Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT), and at this moment the pull-back seems stronger than the opposite force.

In candor, the White House has some doubts, not openly expressed, about the NPT. The President has been told by a respected and knowledgeable friend that the Treaty is probably unworkable on technological grounds. There aren't enough international nuclear experts to carry out the safeguards.

THE PRESIDENT may also have heard — it's widely discussed — that one of the Middle East contestants is likely to fire a "tac-nuke," which is military jargon for tactical nuclear weapon. Then, too, there's an existent map which purports to show the exact location of Castro's Russian-made nuclear missiles, the ones he's not supposed to have.

If nuclear shoot-offs or exposures materialize, the nation and the free world will take a dim view of "non-proliferation" claims.

ON THE OTHER hand, there's an undoubted push-forward in atoms-for-peace, a home-and-abroad nuclear industrialization plan for which Gen. Eisenhower and his friend advisor, Adm. Lewis Strauss, never got nearly their deserved credit. Article V of the NPT deals specifically with peaceful nuclear explosions and President Nixon almost closed a deal for the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to demonstrate American know-how by blasting a harbor in Australia at Cape Kerauken.

THE PUSH for peaceful use of nuclear explosives has been a story in frustration, but the NPT may provide some forward motion. As long ago as 1956, when Nasser first closed the Suez Canal, proposals were made at Lawrence Radiation Laboratory to dig a new canal with nukes. A year later, U.S. scientists fired the first underground nuclear shot. Dr. Edward Teller gave the name Ploshware to this mode of earth-moving, which was expanded to include gas-and-oil production and earthquake studies.

SUPERSTITION, however, soon raised its brainless head. Ploshware was internally opposed by mystics of the Mushroom Cloud who operate in the State Department, the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and the over-intellectualized nut-fringe. Several go-ahead tests were cancelled because of this opposition. One experiment, the Cabriole, was scrubbed as recently as 1967 because President Johnson was warned that it might upset negotiations for a nuclear free zone in Latin America. A decision, now regretted by industry, was taken in 1958 against an AEC plan to bust open an oil-shale deposit in Colorado.

BUT REP. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., long a pusher of Ploshware, now believes its hour has come under the like-minded Nixon Administration. The NTP gives the patina of internationalism to peaceful nuclear energy. The idea of more American wealth-sharing may even win over some of the hostile mystics who see every nuclear explosion as the holocaust.

On balance, the Treaty was probably a futile effort to halt weapons-proliferation, but it may have a useful side-effect. It may hasten the day when commercialized nuclear energy becomes the friend of man as labor-saver, money-maker and time-economizer.

Four Tall Smith Brothers Cited

COOPER, Tex. (AP) — The four Smith brothers who helped carve Delta County out of the wilderness in the 1840s have been cited by a Texas Historical Marker near Cooper.

The brothers, Charles, Benjamin, Gilford and Mira J., each stood over six-foot-four and weighed more than 250 pounds. They cut logs, built their cabins and furniture, lived mostly off bear meat and other game from the nearby Jernigan's Thicket and successfully settled the area.

The marker will be the 18th placed in Delta County.

NTSU Graduate Wins Audition

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — North Texas State University graduate Elaine Cormany, a native of Wichita Falls, recently won the Corbett Foundation audition entitling her to two years of study in the Munich Opera Studio.

A 1967 graduate of NTSU's School of Music, Miss Cormany went to New York in February to the Metropolitan Opera Studio, later winning a $1,000 Rockefeller grant and a $1,000 W. Matthews Sullivan grant.

Gary Player Sacks Up Champ Tourney

spts GARY PLAYER — 3-48 ... RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Gary Player went flying home to South Africa today for a three-week vacation from golf and was armed with $30,000 to finance the holiday.

From tee to green, this is the finest I've ever played," the tough-minded little Johannesburg rancher said Sunday after winning golf's $150,000 Tournament of Champions.

He had a final round 72 for 284, four strokes under par for four trips over the demanding 7,114-yard, par 72 La Costa Country Club course.

Lee Trevino, the wise-cracking U.S. Open champion, was ambushed by a pair of bogeys on the back nine, fell out of a share of the lead and finished in second, two strokes back at 286. He had a final round 74.

Arnold Palmer, with a 71, and Dave Stockton, 70, tied for third at 289.

The final round was strictly a two-man fight between player and Trevino as most of the rest of the elite field of 28 struggled and strained with the deep, clinging rough.

They were tied starting out

Wooten Scores FORSAN — Forsan scored a total of two points in the Regional Class B track and field meet at Lubbock the past weekend. Terry Wooten wound up fifth in the 120-yard high hurdles, an event won by Charles Lee of Lubbock in 15.3.

and remained there most of the way. Player finally moving in front to stay when Trevino took bogeys on the 13th and 14th holes.

Player, meanwhile, was ripping his irons at the flag with methodical regularity.

It was Player's first four victory in the United States since he won the U.S. Open at St. Louis in 1965. And the $30,000 was the biggest check he's ever pulled down.

"I can use the money," he quipped. "I've got a wife, five kids and 30 horses to feed."

Player, the current British Open champion, lauded the tournament "as one of the top six in the world."

"Most of the tour events in this country are just putting contests. But this course is different. It makes you earn your pars. I think that's right. You should have to earn them, just like you have to earn every thing else in life."

St. Louis Earns Berth In Finals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Winners of eight straight Stanley Cup playoff games, the St. Louis Blues today await the final National Hockey League series.

They'll face the winner of the Boston-Montreal set deadlocked at two games apiece. St. Louis belted the Los Angeles Kings Sunday night 4-1 for a 4-0 series sweep.

Meanwhile, the future of Red Kelly as coach of the Kings is in doubt. His two-year contract will be up this summer and general manager Larry Regan said the situation will be assessed in the interim.

The Blues, who lost to Montreal four straight a year ago, wiped out Philadelphia and Los Angeles to win the West Division playoffs this time.

St. Louis scored twice in the second stanza with Red Berenson and Gary Sabourin tallying. It was Berenson's seventh goal of the playoffs and the sixth for Sabourin. Camille Henry tallied in the third period on a power play when three Blues converged on Kings goalie Gerry Desjardins.

Boston started to tie the second victory with two goals while short handed in the first period.

Veteran Eddie Westfall, teaming with Derek Sanderson as penalty killers, rebounded a Sanderson slap shot and bowled over defenseman Jacques Laperriere and goalie Rogatien Vachon for the first score, and after Jacques Lemaire tied it for Montreal, Westfall set up Sanderson for another score that put the Bruins ahead to stay.

The decisive goal came when Westfall set up Bobby Orr for a close in shot on a beautiful give-and-go passing show at 18:13 of the final period. Trailing 3-1, Montreal pulled Vachon and Serge Savard up in a shot seconds later with one minute to go, but the Bruins held on.

The Big Spring Cardinals pushed across four scattered runs while Johnny Ramirez was holding the Big Lake Tigers in check here Sunday to give the Cards a 4-1 victory.

Ramirez allowed only three hits and struck out eight batters. His control was a bit faulty as he gave up six walks. Mendez doubled and came home on Reyes' single in the ninth for Big Lake's only run.

J. Watson scattered eight hits fairly well, but he was tabbed with the loss. He struck out five and gave up no walks.

Pano Rodriguez and Tony Martinez had two singles, and P. Rodriguez contributed a pair of doubles. The big blow was Avel Ramirez' triple in the fifth.

Atlanta's Zelmo Beatty (left) and Los Angeles' Wilt Chamberlain contest for the ball during the teams' NBA playoff game at Los Angeles yesterday. Beatty, 6 feet 8, couldn't get the ball and Chamberlain, 7-1, kept it and whirled away. Lakers won, 104-96, and took the western division series, 4-1.

Elgin And Wilt Awaken Lakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We need Elgin Baylor against Boston," declared big Wilt Chamberlain and it appeared the Los Angeles Laker captain has snapped out of his slump at the opportune time.

Baylor scored 29 points in the 104-96 victory over Atlanta on Sunday afternoon. That sends the Lakers against the Celtics of Boston on Wednesday night in the first meeting of the best-of-7 final National Basketball Association playoff series.

In addition to dropping 14 of his 18 field goal attempts and adding one free throw, Baylor grabbed 11 rebounds and contributed 12 assists.

"There is no way you can stop the great ones forever," commented losing coach Richie Guerin of the performance. Baylor had averaged just 12.2 points in this season's playoff games against San Francisco and Atlanta.

With the first two games slated in the Forum, home of the Lakers, Wednesday and Friday nights, Los Angeles has the home court advantage. Even more important, says Tom Hawkins, "We have Chamberlain this year."

Los Angeles lost to Boston in the playoffs a year ago in six games, but the 7-foot-2 Wilt wasn't on that club.

"There are so many things he has done for us, I'd hate to think about going into this series without him," Hawkins said.

Atlanta trailed by 17 points with 5:31 left in the third quarter Sunday and then came on to actually move into an 87-86 lead at 7:30 of the final period.

Two field goals by Baylor against a single free throw by Zelmo Beatty put the Lakers back into the lead.

At that point, Chamberlain blocked three straight Hawk field goal attempts and thwarted the hopes of a successful comeback.

Beatty wound up with 30 points matching Baylor's twelve in the final stanza. Bill Bridges hit for 26 and Lou Hudson for 21 in the losing cause.

Monterrey Now In Grid Loop DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Monterrey, Mexico, has replaced Mexico City as a member of the Texas Football League.

The transfer of the franchise was announced at a meeting of Texas Football League officials Sunday.

The team will be known as the Mexico Golden Aztecs and will play in a 52,000-seat stadium owned by the University of Nuevo Leon.

In other business, Ray Herndon, Odessa television executive said progress had been made in working out a game of the week for the TFL. TFL Commissioner George Schepps said the league hopes to televise some games in the upcoming season.

'I Want Title,' Says Zyglewicz

HOUSTON (AP) — Heavy weight challenger Dave Zyglewicz says "I want that title." Champion Joe Frazier answers "all I can say is I'm going to beat him."

A sellout crowd of 11,000 is expected to watch Zyglewicz battle Frazier for his share of the title Tuesday night in a scheduled 15-round bout at Sam Houston Coliseum.

"I think I'm faster than Ziggy and I don't get hit as much unless I fool around," said Frazier, recognized as champion in five states, Mexico and Argentina.

Frazier, 24, the 1964 Olympic champion from Philadelphia, is a heavy favorite against Zyglewicz, a Watervliet, N.Y., native who moved to Houston several years ago.

Replacement For Balky Harrelson Is Red Hot

By The Associated Press The Hawk had hardly said goodby when the Yazoo Kid made a bid for the replacement role.

Rookie Gerry Moses knocked in five runs—four with a grand slam homer—to power Boston to a 9-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians Sunday.

The 6-foot-3, 205-pound catcher from Yazoo City, Miss., unleashed his production just a few hours after Ken "Hawk" Harrelson announced he would rather give up baseball than report to Cleveland to complete Saturday's six-man deal.

In other American League games, New York rookie Bill Burbach made his first major league victory a 2-0 success over Detroit, after the Tigers won the first game of a doubleheader 5-2; Chicago checked Seattle 3-2 and 13-3 thanks to a pair of timely homers by Bill Melton; Minnesota socked California 12-1; Kansas City trimmed Oakland 7-5, after dropping the opener of a doubleheader 5-1, and Baltimore defeated Washington 2-1 before losing 5-2.

Moses, who had two homers in 18 trips during a brief trial with the Red Sox last year, unloaded his bomb—his first of the second—in a six-run second inning. He doubled home another run in the eighth.

But was what going on in the field was overshadowed by protests from some fans, miffed over the Red Sox' attempt to deal off the popular Hawk.

Several fans carried signs protesting the trade and chants of "We want the Hawk" sounded intermittently through the game.

At the request of the American League office, the other five players involved in the trade set out Sunday's game, pending some sort of a settlement.

Burbach, 21-year-old right-hander, not only started the game on five hits but also scored the only run he needed.

"I felt real good at the end," said the 6-foot-4, 212-pounder, "but it was kind of slow getting there." Joe Pepitone's homer gave the Yankees a 2-1 lead in the sixth inning of the first game, but the Tigers whipped that out with a four-run seventh, climaxed by Norm Cash's two-run homer.

Melton cracked an upper deck homer in the 10th inning of the first game to give the White Sox their victory, then tagged another to spark a spurge of four second-game homers.

In the opener, Wayne Comer's leadoff homer in the sixth permitted the Pilots to move into a 2-2 tie, setting the stage for Melton's sixth inning clincher.

Minnesota's Dave Boswell allowed California only five hits, despite playing with a bad cold and a fever during the game played in intermittent drizzles and gusting winds.

It was the sixth straight loss for the Angels. Frank Bertina and Bob Humphreys teamed to stop powerful Baltimore on seven hits after Mark Belanger's two-run last-inning single gave the Orioles victory in the opener.

Frank Howard hit his sixth homer of the season for the Senators in the first game.

Kansas City's Jim Nash checked Oakland on five hits in the opener while Rick Monday hit his first homer of the year and Dick Green drove in three runs with a pair of triples.

But, in the nightcap, Bob Taylor for the Royals' third-string catcher, smashed a three-run homer in the eighth to wipe out the A's 5-4 lead.

Astros Drop Close One

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The streaking Los Angeles Dodgers used a tie-breaking home run by Wes Parker in the eighth inning Sunday to trip the Houston Astros, 2-1.

Parker's third homer, a one-out shot over the left field fence off Denny Lemaster, gave the Dodgers their fifth successive victory.

Osteen scattered seven Houston hits on the way to his third triumph without a loss.

The Astros, who have lost five in a row, took a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Curt Blefary stroked a two-out single and raced home on a long double by Dennis Menke, who stretched his hitting streak to 10 games.

With the first two games slated in the Forum, home of the Lakers, Wednesday and Friday nights, Los Angeles has the home court advantage. Even more important, says Tom Hawkins, "We have Chamberlain this year."

Los Angeles lost to Boston in the playoffs a year ago in six games, but the 7-foot-2 Wilt wasn't on that club.

For Donn, It's Suddenly Spring

By The Associated Press Donn Clendenon's first exposure to springtime in Canada left him out in the cold. Then it was the Chicago Cubs' turn to suffer.

Clendenon, who snagged a winter trade between Montreal and Houston by abruptly quitting baseball, then was permitted to return to the National League expansion club, finally started swinging for the Expos over the weekend.

Saturday, the big first baseman went 0-for-5 at the plate as the Expos dropped a 6-5 extra inning verdict to the torrid Cubs in frigid (30 degrees) Montreal.

Israeli Planes Hit Targets In Jordan

An Egyptian commando squad crossed the Suez Canal today and attacked Israeli forces for the second time in three days. Arab and Israeli forces again duelled across the Jordan River, and Israeli warplanes hit suspected guerrilla positions in Jordan.

An Israeli army spokesman said the Egyptians crossed the canal 19 miles north of El Qantara and attacked an army patrol in the occupied Sinai Desert. One Israeli vehicle was damaged and three Israeli soldiers were wounded, he said, before the attackers were driven back across the canal.

Late Saturday night Egyptian commandos crossed the canal and attacked an army position, but the Israelis said they fled across the waterway without inflicting major damage.

Hostilities on the Jordanian front erupted at 5:20 a.m. when Arab guerrillas in the Beisan Valley fired at an Israeli army patrol near Beit Yosef and Neve Jr., Israeli spokesmen reported.

Two or three Israeli jets were seen strafing and bombing the Manshiyah area, sending up plumes of smoke and fire. A Jordanian military spokesman said two Israeli jets rained the northern Jordan valley with rockets and napalm but inflicted no casualties.

Israeli spokesmen said Jordanian and Iraqi long-range artillery then opened up, pounding the Beisan Valley south of the Sea of Galilee and the Jordan Valley. The Israelis fired back with tanks and artillery.

Apart from a 10-minute lull around 9:30 a.m., artillery barrages were reported continuing along the entire front from the Sea of Galilee to the occupied Golan Heights of Syria.

Jordan reported one of its soldiers killed and 10 wounded in the ground action. It said two Israeli jets were seen falling in Israeli territory and claimed that 40 Israeli soldiers were killed or wounded in the fighting.

There was no confirmation of this from Israel. A spokesman in Amman said Israeli planes were used more than once. He said Deir Abu Saeed, Manshiyah and North Shmeh in the Jordan valley came under heavy mortar and tank fire; artillery from the Golan Heights pounded areas around Irbid and "Israeli jet fighters raided intermittently the Soum and Zimal villages, using machine guns and rockets." "At 9:30 a.m. the Israelis widened the scope of their attack using various kinds of weapons, and extended the clash to the whole of the confrontation line in the northern Jordan valley," he said.

Time For Nixon Action Past Due?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has not moved fast enough in his first 90 days in office to meet the crises that face the nation both at home and abroad, according to Democratic leaders in Congress.

"It is not too early to note the slowness of the pace of the Nixon administration," said House Majority Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma. "The time for action is past due."

The Republican assessment, as could be expected, took an opposite tack. The GOP congressional leaders see the President as using his first three months to build solid foundations for his foreign and domestic policies to come.

House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., said that in Nixon's first 90 days the President "has concerned himself primarily with the tasks and responsibilities of the peacemaker. The search for peace in Vietnam and in the Middle East was clearly Mr. Nixon's first priority."

But Ford added, the President also has engaged in a thorough-going study of our domestic problems and an overhaul of Executive Branch machinery.

"In the broad sense, therefore," Ford asserted, "the President used his first 90 days in the White House to exercise the kind of global leadership, on which peace is built and to carefully map domestic proposals aimed at achievable objectives."

"In brief, President Nixon has restored balance to our foreign policy and has moved this nation toward balance in its domestic affairs after being tempest-tossed by violent, discordant, chaotic and confusing events in recent months and years, America ached for quiet and a period of calm. President Nixon's administration is providing that air of quietude."

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said that "on the threshold of the 90th day... Congress and the country can now expect a rapid series of messages dealing with the various items in the program." He expects some 30 such messages, Dirksen said.

The Democrats generally viewed Nixon's approach as too cautious, particularly in detailing his legislative program.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said in his assessment for The Associated Press, "The delay in President Nixon's messages to Congress is matter of concern."

"As a result Congress and its committees have taken the initiative on electoral college reform, aid to education, banking legislation, tax law revision, water pollution control and other matters," the Speaker said.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Democratic Whip Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, in a joint statement noted that while the first 90 days were over:

"So, too, is the calm which has characterized them. If a signal of the end is needed it is to be found in the tragedy of the intelligence reconnaissance plane off North Korea," they said.

"From now on crises at home and abroad are likely to crowd in upon the nation," Mansfield and Kennedy said.

"What also remains to be seen, is whether the President can gain control over the far flung activities of the military and civilian wings of the government," the two Democrats said.

Another such example, the officials said Sunday, was the Soviet naval cooperation last week in the search for the U.S. plane shot down by North Korean jets.

Under the radio agreement, a set will be allowed for the American Embassy in Moscow. An embassy-controlled transmitter is considered valuable by U.S. diplomats in countries where commercial facilities are poor or political conditions unstable.

Previously, Washington and Moscow had agreed to private teletype circuits to their embassies and the right to carry away diplomatic pouches from commercial flights without customs inspection.

The agency argues that one side to the debate over smoking, the cigarette manufacturers, have "economic interests and resources unmatched by any opponent."

Therefore, the agency says, the Constitution and the public interest are served "by an attempt to address the balance" with government-ordered anti-smoking messages.

A lot more is at stake than constitutional questions. Radio and television account for about 75 per cent of all the money spent on cigarette advertising—probably $250 million to $300 million a year.

More at stake If the justices turn their backs on the broadcasters and the tobacco people, refusing even to grant them a full-dress hearing, congressional proponents of an anti-smoking measure would be emboldened to drive ahead.

However, if the justices set the appeal down for a hearing next term, the effect likely would be to restrain the more adventurous legislators. A very real prospect of court disapproval will have been raised.

The FCC, for its part, has brushed aside the 1st Amendment argument and pitched its case to protecting the public against "the powerful blandish-

Discrimination Claims Continue At Kingsville

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A second week of controversy dawned here today with school officials considering another demand for a hearing on Mexican-American claims of discrimination at Gillett Junior High School.

Board President Nick M. Harrel Jr. said he was handed a petition Sunday afternoon asking that the board hold a meeting at 7 p.m. tonight.

Pointing out that school district policy calls for pupils' parents to present grievances, Harrel said he would check today to determine if parents do wish to appear before the board.

If so, he said, "the school board will hear the parents." He indicated that if the Gillett pupils are not accompanied by their parents the board will refuse to hear the demands.

Led by the Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO) Mexican-American youths have rallied here since a week ago today, demanding that Spanish language be allowed to be spoken in school without harassment; that books on Mexican-American heritage be included in school libraries; that more bilingual and bicultural programs be introduced; and that more Mexican-American teachers, counselors and administrators be hired.

The young people previously requested a school board hearing, but were told their parents should bring the matter to the Gillett principal. They were told if he could not resolve it, the school board would hold a hearing.

About 110 young people, many of them pupils at Gillett, were arrested Wednesday as they marched through this South Texas ranching city's streets.

For two hours Sunday afternoon, a crowd of 250-300 children and adults, chanted "Viva La Raza (the race)" and heard MAYO leaders demand equality for Mexican-Americans.

There was no violence during the rally held outside the yellow frame house that serves as MAYO headquarters here.

Jose Angel Gutierrez, head of MAYO in Texas; Bexar County Commissioner Albert Pena, a founder of the political association for Spanish-speaking organizations (PASO); and Carlos Guerra of the Texas A&I University PASO chapter, were among the speakers at Sunday's rally.

Police, highway patrolmen and two Texas Rangers, alerted for possible trouble, patrolled the predominantly Mexican-American area throughout the day.

Police received an anonymous call that a bomb had been placed in MAYO headquarters. However, the crowd remained in place after the threat was announced by leaders of the rally. No bomb was found.

One MAYO source hinted that a march would be held tonight if the school board refuses to hold the hearing. There were shouts for a march Sunday, but it did not materialize.

Rene Trevino, 17, former A&I freshman who said he acts as spokesman for the protesters, told the crowd that the Anglo system is guilty of "halfway solutions that are not going to be enough to satisfy us."

Reading from a prepared text, Trevino said Mexican-American problems are "many and diversified, but the gringo system refuses to address its vast resources to the solution of these problems."

In an interview, Board President Harrel countered the youths' demands for more books on Mexican-American culture by saying that the high school here offers elective courses on the various Latin American nations.

Harrel said it might be possible for the school district itself to institute bilingual education if enough funds were available. "But we are running on a pretty tight budget as it is," he said. The school district recently applied for federal bilingual education funds, but was turned down for lack of money, Harrel said.

TRYOUTS FOR MUSICAL SET

He invited all interested persons to attend the tryouts. The musical will be staged in late June, he said.

the number of cities in the United States with daily newspaper service is now 1,500, an increase of 104 since 1965.

The report said newspaper employment in 1968 reached 363,000 an increase of 46.1 per cent from the 248,500 employed in 1946 and that surpasses the 31.4 per cent increase in total national employment during the same period.

Couple Ends Ride, In Jail

A stolen car ride that started in Dallas has ended in the Big Spring city jail for a young couple.

Chester Lee Edward Wells, 20, and Lanora Ann Brennon, 19, were being questioned this morning by police after being returned here from Brownfield Sunday. They have been charged in Jess Slaughter's justice court with theft over $50 and defrauding an innkeeper. Bond of $1,000 for each one was set on the defrauding charge, and $1,500 for each was set on the theft charge.

Police gave this account: A young couple left Dallas in a stolen car Thursday, and the car was abandoned Friday at First and Broadway in Coahoma. The two hitch-hiked to Big Spring, and stayed Friday night at the Holiday Inn.

Sometime Saturday morning the car belonging to Mike Noble, Gail Route, was stolen from the Safeway parking lot in the College Park Shopping Center. Police issued an area reconnaissance flights, are three cruisers and 16 destroyers.

"We will not go into any details concerning the operations . . ." Henkin said. But he would name the ships.

Asked whether the EC121 flights have resumed, Henkin said he could not get into that operation aspect either.

23-Ship Task Force Formed To Back Up Nixon's Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 23-ship task force including four American aircraft carriers has been formed to back up President Nixon's pledge to protect reconnaissance planes operating in the Sea of Japan, the Pentagon disclosed today.

It was the first official word of the scope of a U.S. naval armada formed for deployment in the Sea of Japan in response to North Korea's shooting down of an unarmed EC121 aircraft one week ago.

Daniel Z. Henkin, the Pentagon's chief spokesman, told reporters the new Task Force 71 has been activated by the Pacific fleet and is under the command of Rear Adm. Malcolm W. Cagle of Grand Junction, Colo.

Along with the four carriers, which will be able to provide jet fighter protection for future reconnaissance flights, are three cruisers and 16 destroyers.

"We will not go into any details concerning the operations . . ." Henkin said. But he would name the ships.

Asked whether the EC121 flights have resumed, Henkin said he could not get into that operation aspect either.

The task force carriers include the Enterprise, Ticonderoga, Ranger and Hornet. The cruisers include the Chicago, Oklahoma City and the S. Paul.

It was not disclosed whether all these ships are now in the Sea of Japan or whether all will be deployed there at the same time. They could take turns rotating in and out of assignment zones along the coast of Korea.

Henkin said the battleship New Jersey, which was diverted to the western Pacific during the EC121 crisis, "will be coming home."

He said operational considerations prevent him from saying exactly when the New Jersey will reach the West Coast or precisely where she is at this time. The battleship had been due to dock on the West Coast Friday after winding up a tour of service off Vietnam.

The large deployment of ships to the Sea of Japan apparently will not significantly affect naval operations off Vietnam. It is understood that the carriers Kitty Hawk and Bon Homme Richard will take up battle stations off Vietnam to support ongoing missions in South Vietnam and Laos.
