

WHERE PEOPLE CAN BE GRATEFUL WITHOUT EMBARRASSMENT

Europe's Liberators Return To Beaches Of Normandy

SAINTE-MERE-EGLISE, France (AP) — "Under the command of Gen. Eisenhower, Allied naval forces, supported by strong air forces, began landing Allied armies this morning on the northern coast of France."

Britons, Canadians and soldiers of the Free French army—were back on the beaches and in the villages today where people can be grateful to them without embarrassment and the old soldiers proud without complexes.

American casualties in the first 24 hours were put at 6,603 by the 1st Army, including more than 3,000 dead and missing. British and Canadian forces had about 3,500 to 4,000 casualties.

mandar-in-chief of the Royal Air Force. Speaking about the D-Day dead, Gavin said: "A tribute in human lives had to be paid. When the end of the war was near, when finally we entered our first concentration camp at Mecklenburg, near Ludwigslust, we understood that our sacrifices had not been in vain."

This message from Col. Ernest Dupuy in London came at 9:33 a.m. London time 25 years ago today. D-Day had begun and Hitler's four-year grip on Europe would be smashed in 11 months.

They came late Thursday night to this village which says it was the first in Europe to regain its freedom in 1944.

Some of the old paratroopers, including the 82nd's commander at the time, Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, were back in town to watch two planes drop dummies on the square in a simulated attack.

At 6:30 a.m. men were moving into the beaches, the Americans at Omaha and Utah, and east at Juno, Sword and Gold.

On Omaha beach, casualties were heavy and the situation near destroyed in a Panzer attack.

CHECKING SOVIETS

Plane Missing With 19 Aboard

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — At least 15 military planes continued searching the western Aleutian Islands today for an Air Force reconnaissance plane missing with 19 men aboard.

Sgt. Larry Helmerick, public information officer for the Alaska Air Command at nearby Elmendorf Air Force Base, said today's search was to be concentrated near Amchitka Island, where the plane was located when it made its last radio communication.

Its last estimated position Thursday was 250 miles east of Shemya on what was described as a routine flight from Shemya to Eielson Air Force Base near Fairbanks, Alaska.

The Pentagon said Thursday night the plane, an RC135, is powered by four turbo-fan engines and carries electronic reconnaissance equipment. The Pentagon said the RC135 was not shot down.

The missing plane's mission may have involved checking Soviet radar and possible monitoring Russian radio communications, but there was no official word other than that the flight was routine. Military officials in Alaska would not speculate on whereabouts of the plane or elaborate on its mission.

The plane last was heard of 30 minutes after take-off.

Sentenced To Life

ODESSA (AP) — Clyde Hendrix, 43, was sentenced to life in prison Thursday in the slaying of Dwight Dwan Creekmore, 31, last summer.

Roving Bands Destroy, Loot

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Police cordoned off a predominantly Negro section on the near northwest side of Indianapolis Thursday night when roving bands of mostly young people broke windows of stores and threw stones and bottles at cars.

A food market was destroyed by fire and there was looting, police said.

They said the crowds which appeared to be scattered and not organized, began to disperse after about four hours. Three persons were arrested.

Police said the disturbance developed after two officers sent to investigate a fight in front of an apartment complex were struck on the heads by bottles. Each was treated at a hospital and released.

Police Lt. Roger Harrison said a firebomb was hurled into the Big Ten food market, destroying the one-story structure.

An undetermined amount of merchandise was taken from a display window of a loan shop, police said. Windows were broken in a drug store and another food market.

He Got His Wish

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Silas Spencer Griffin has spent more than half of his 55 years behind bars.

Thursday he stood before a judge for sentencing on his fifth felony conviction — armed robbery.

"If you had your choice between life in prison and a 25-year sentence, which would you choose?" asked the judge. "I think I would prefer life, your honor," said Griffin. "It would keep me out of trouble." He got his wish.

Displaced By War

An 85-year-old South Vietnamese great-grandmother sits outside her home 340 miles north-east of Saigon, waiting to be evacuated to a refugee center for civilians. She was found hiding with seven other members of her family in a dugout next to her home, by troops of the 101 Airborne engaged in a sweep through the Tien Phuoc area.

Red Rockets, Mortars Rake Bases, Towns

At Least 40 Yanks Killed, 100 Wounded

SAIGON (AP) — The enemy stepped up attacks across South Vietnam sharply in the last 24 hours, the allied command reported. Viet Cong rockets and mortars hit more than 100 allied bases and towns, while at least 46 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed in ground fighting.

Incomplete reports said at least 40 Americans were killed and more than 100 wounded in the ground fighting or by the enemy shelling. South Vietnamese casualties were said to be light.

There was speculation that the upsurge in enemy activity was an attempt to influence the conference between President Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu on Midway Island Sunday.

"It's just a little bit more pressure to perhaps cause the meeting at Midway to come up with some sort of concession," a spokesman for the U.S. Command commented. "It is to let the participants at Midway and the world know they are still capable of shooting off a lot of rockets even though the majority didn't do much."

The shelling was the heaviest since May 11, when North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops shelled more than 200 allied bases and towns. The shelling then was a big factor in a sharp jump in U.S. casualties that week to 430 killed.

U.S. headquarters said 46 of the rocket and mortar attacks Thursday night were significant, meaning they caused damage or casualties, but "over-all, casualties and damage were light."

A communique said 19 of the significant attacks were against U.S. forces or installations. South Vietnamese headquarters said there were 82 "enemy-initiated incidents" directed at government military units or civilians. A spokesman said rockets and mortars fell into 10 provincial capitals and 16 district capitals. He said at least three Vietnamese civilians were known dead and 45 wounded.

Pete Rodriguez Gets Aggie Award

A $1,000 scholarship to Texas A&M University was awarded to Pete Rodriguez Thursday night at the annual Aggie scholarship barbecue.

Aggies' estimated 1,000 persons were served barbecue and drinks, and for the first time in several years, there was no threatening weather to mar the event.

Rodriguez is a 1969 graduate of Big Spring High School, where he was a member of the National Honor Society and a three-year letterman in track.

He was a nominee for the Youth Achievement Award this year.

Jim Bill Little, president of the local Texas A&M Club, made the award, citing Rodriguez for his 90.58 grade average in high school.

"He is an outstanding young man and will be a fine representative for the Big Spring Aggies," Little said.

Rodriguez is the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Rodriguez, 509 NE 8th. He plans to major in electrical engineering.

Memorial Services Marking Anniversary Of JFK Death

By The Associated Press

Some of Robert F. Kennedy's special interests—the young, the poor, gun control, sports—are reflected in memorial services today marking the first anniversary of his death.

A simple folk Mass at the gravesite in Arlington National Cemetery will be held at 8 p.m.

A choral group of 70 high school students will sing folk songs to guitar accompaniment, at the request of Ethel Kennedy, the New York senator's widow.

Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York will celebrate the Mass at Kennedy's grave, marked only by a white cross.

About 1,000 announcements of the service have been sent out by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the only surviving brother. The expected crowds will fill an area that holds the grave of President John F. Kennedy, yards from his brother's grave.

Another evening service will be held at 8th and H Streets in Washington, part of the predominantly Negro neighborhood that was scarred by disorders after the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in April, 1968.

In San Francisco, a "St. Francis of the Guns" statue will be dedicated. It was made from more than 2,000 guns turned in after the senator's assassination in Los Angeles.

Youth choirs from city high schools will sing the folk Mass around the statue, by sculptor Beniamino Bufano.

In New York City, a Mass was to be offered at noon in St. Patrick's Cathedral, where tens of thousands of mourners viewed his coffin.

At the Church of St. Vincent Ferrer, a choir of 100 teen-agers will sing a requiem Mass, aided by members of the Harlem Youth Symphony.

The Revitalization Corps, a private citizens' campaign dedicated to the slain Kennedy brothers, will mark the day with a 12-hour vigil at Dag Hammarskjold Park near the United Nations. A children's choir will sing.

Special Airlift To Fly Most Of Survivors Home

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — The U.S. carrier Kearsarge brought more than 190 survivors of the destroyer Frank E. Evans to this Navy base today and a special airlift was being arranged to fly most of them home.

Only those needed to testify about the Evans' collision with the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne in the South China Sea Tuesday will remain.

The men left the Kearsarge and were transported in buses to barracks on the base. Four remained in sick bay in the Kearsarge.

The Evans' skipper, Cmdr A. S. McLemore, told newsmen that his reaction was one of "complete disorientation" when the ships collided.

"The ship had been hit," he said, "and at this point I simply don't know how I survived."

Seventy-four of the Evans' crew were lost in the pre-dawn collision.

A joint preliminary investigation of the collision will begin Monday. Senior member of the investigating board will be Rear Adm. Jerome H. King Jr.

King said the findings would not lead to punitive action. He explained the panel of three Americans and three Australians will be a fact-finding body only.

King arrived aboard the Kearsarge with the 197 survivors. Two other Evans crewmen were flown to a U.S. hospital in Vietnam.

MAFIA LOAN SHARK AND HIS SON

Named In Shady Money Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mafia loan shark and his son are involved in a nationwide series of deals in which millions of dollars of commercial loans were obtained by using questionable insurance policies and bonds as collateral.

The names of John A. Masiello Sr. and his son, John Jr., turned up in an investigation of the severe financial problems of insurance companies in Oklahoma, Florida and Arizona.

Earlier this year, the elder Masiello was also in the news when the New York State Investigation Commission disclosed that companies he controlled had received more than a half-million-dollars in Small Business Administration loans. The SBA loans have since been recalled and repaid.

The commission identified the elder Masiello as a member of the Mafia organization formerly headed by Vito Genovese. Both father and son also are under indictment on bribery and conspiracy charges in connection with Post Office Department mail hauling contracts.

As part of the insurance deals, the Masiellos received most of $550,000 lent by a New York bank. Collateral for the loans was insurance policies and surety bonds issued by companies in Oklahoma and Florida.

And a $150,000 bond issued by the Florida company was used to purchase a paid up annuity from the Arizona insurance firm for John Masiello Jr. Annuities from the Arizona firm also are being used as collateral for loans.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, recently warned federal banking officials that "a large number of banks across the country stand to lose millions of dollars in loans collateralized by questionable insurance policies." Patman put the total at $25 million.

The Masiello loans are just a small part of the wheeling and dealing now unfolding.

Investigators are checking possible links to other Mafia members.

They also are trying to unravel the tangle of deals which have led to financial woes of these companies.

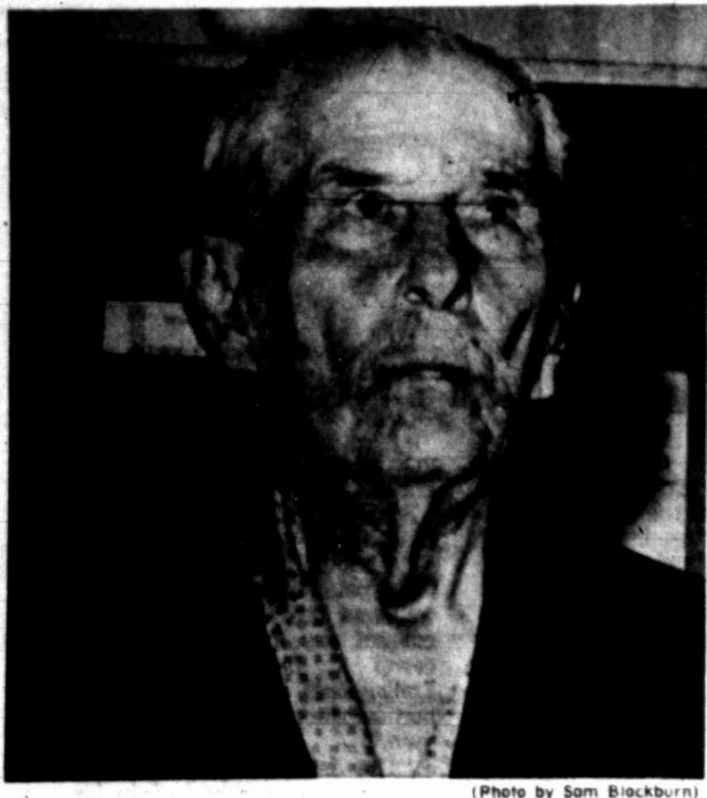

—State Fire and Casualty Co. of Miami, Fla. This firm had been licensed to write insurance in 26 states before Florida officials announced it was $8 million in the red and asked a court to dissolve it.

—Community National Life Insurance Co. of Tulsa, Okla. It is in court custody while an interim management group appointed by the court tries to determine the extent of its losses.

—Financial Security Life Insurance Co. of Phoenix, Ariz. It was suspended by the state after a $75,000 company check bounced. Officials estimate it is more than $7 million in the red.

But, say investigators, hardest hit are thousands of people who may lose their investments in life insurance issued by the

TO HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY
Walter Robinson, pioneer farmer, nears 90th year

Walter Robinson Marks 90th Birthday Monday

By SAM BLACKBURN

Walter Robinson, who has lived in Howard County for nearly 90 years, will reach his 90th milestone Monday and has extended an invitation to his friends to come and see him. He is making his home with his daughter Mrs. Vera Sandlin, 1006 Sycamore.

Mr. Robinson, who was born June 9, 1879 in Comanche, is the last surviving member of one of Howard County's pioneer farm families. He and his twin brother, the late Charlie Robinson, came to Howard County with their parents in 1890. The family settled on a farm two miles northeast of Coahoma.

"My father, C. J. Robinson, was the first man to try farming in the Coahoma area," Robinson recalls. "We came here from Comanche where my folks had lived for a long time. They came to Texas from Louisiana."

Robinson said that he "had always been a farmer," and that he "hadn't even been out of Texas" in the 90 years he has lived.

He and his twin, Charlie, farmed until only a few years ago when advancing age forced them to leave the fields. Walter has been in excellent health until the past four or five weeks when a spell of sickness left him so weakened that he has to stay in bed much of the time and make use of a wheelchair to get around.

The Robinson brothers owned farm lands near Sand Springs. Walter is a long time member of the Sand Springs Baptist Church, and if he could, would be on hand every Sunday for services. His health, however,

Peking Demanding Intrusions Halt

TOKYO (AP) — Red China charged today that Soviet troops have fired across the Manchurian border and have sent hundreds of armored vehicles into Sinkiang Province in the far northwest in incidents "still occurring incessantly."

Moscow promptly denied the charges. Peking probably wanted to get its message across while world Communist parties are meeting in Moscow. Red China has boycotted the meeting but it has its supporters there.

The Chinese charged the Russians have been carrying on border provocations and kidnapping Chinese since the clashes on the Manchurian frontier in March. The latest reported incident was an incursion by Soviet planes May 31.

From a Chinese point of view, any incidents in Sinkiang Province would be particularly important since this is a testing ground for Red China's nuclear weapons. Now called the Sinkiang-Uighur Autonomous Region, the Russians have covered this sprawling territory since czarist days.

The official New China News Agency, said the Chinese Foreign Ministry handed a protest note to the Soviet Embassy in Peking today. The agency said after the border clashes March 2 and 15 between Soviet and Chinese troops, "the Soviet government, while expressing willingness to hold consultations," has intensified its armed provocations against China" and extended them to new areas.

The Chinese note said Soviet fire had killed a border guard on patrol May 15 on the island of Wupalao, in the Heilung River in the northeast Chinese province of Heilungkiang.

The B. M. Keese tribe was prepared to relax with the graduation of the last member from Texas Tech last week, but now Keese, retired registrar at HCJC, isn't so sure.

The Keese's granddaughter, Sue Marie Hamilton of Level, land, took her bachelor of science degree in child development with a teaching career in kindergarten in mind. But she turned right around and began work on her masters on a work-shop grant this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Keese both hold degrees from Tech. He took his bachelor's at West Texas and MA at Tech, but Mrs. Keese is a veteran teacher in the Big Spring schools has her AB and MA from Tech. Bahaman Police Nab Raid Suspects

LONDON (AP) — Bahaman police are holding nine crew members of a Constellation that landed on Grand Bahama Island Thursday and resembles an aircraft involved in a raid on Port au Prince, Haiti, the British Foreign Office said today.

A spokesman told reporters seven of the arrested persons are U.S. citizens and two are Haitians. They are regarded as illegal immigrants.

The Constellation, according to the spokesman, landed at an American air base on Grand Bahama Island, and the pilot asked for fuel. The spokesman said American authorities replied they could not supply it.

Then the nine hired taxis and went into Freetown, where they were arrested.

The spokesman said at that point that the aircraft resembled the raider reportedly involved in the assault on the Haitian capital Wednesday. He added that so far as he knew Haiti passengers from a Constellation who are responsible for the Bahamas, for the extradition of the men.

The British are in touch with U.S. authorities on the matter. A Constellation with a red stripe on its triple tail flew over Port au Prince Wednesday and dropped six 55-gallon drums of gasoline with burning fuses attached. One of the drums caught fire, and one of the others fell in the grounds of President Duvalier's palace.

Duvalier said in a radio broadcast Thursday night that the attack originated from South Caicos Island, in the Bahamas.

Driskill Hotel May Be Saved

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Austin's Driskill Hotel, where generations of politicians have wheeled and dealt, may be saved from the wrecker's hammer after all.

The 53-year-old hotel, two years older than the present Capitol, closed its doors Tuesday for lack of business.

A plan was unveiled Thursday to restore the old four-story building to its original Victorian grandeur and replace a 12-story 1928 annex with a 360-room 19-story luxury hotel.

A 250-car parking garage is planned across the street on the present Driskill parking lot.

Public response to the proposal from the Ardmore-Douglass al is critical. Max Brooks, Austin architect, told a news conference.

Roundup Winners

These two Howard County 4-H'ers captured top honors in field crops demonstration during the State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 3-4. They are Larry Don Shaw, left, and Johnny Pugh, both of Knott and members of the Knott 4-H Club. The youngsters competed with 15 other teams in the contest. Some 1,800 4-H'ers from throughout the state participated in the annual event.

Fulbright Still Pessimistic About Pullout Of Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says a limited withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam would be of little value unless it is a prelude to more extensive cutbacks and a political settlement of the war — which he doesn't foresee in the near future.

The Arkansas Democrat who chairs the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee said in an interview his pessimism stems from President Nixon's Wednesday speech charging critics of administration defense policies with being new isolationists who want unilateral disarmament.

That speech was a certain topic at today's brief and closed appearance of Secretary of State William P. Rogers before the committee prior to his leaving for the upcoming meeting on Midway Island between Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

There have been constant reports that Nixon and Thieu would announce at their Sunday meeting a withdrawal of 50,000 U.S. troops from the war zone.

"It would be a good thing to bring some of them home," Fulbright said. "They ought to bring all of them home." But if it's used simply to placate those who disagree with their policies, it won't accomplish anything.

Fulbright said the Nixon speech sounded like those of former President Johnson and his secretary of state Dean Rusk.

"It looks as if it's almost a complete adaptation of the policies of the past administration," he said.

The senator who was a bit charged after military police raids on his office and the GI Organizers' anti-war publications produced by GIs at Ft. Hood.

Fulbright said the speech undercut the conciliatory tone set

Anti-War Charge At Ft. Hood Axed

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — The Army will not court-martial a Ft. Hood soldier charged with distributing anti-war literature on the post, a spokesman said Thursday.

A court martial for Pfc Robert Bowers, 20, of Eau Gallie, Fla., was due to start today. But the spokesman said the trial judge advocate at Ft. Hood had decided there was not enough evidence to prosecute Bowers.

Bowers, a Vietnam combat veteran, said he enlisted in the Army because he believed in American aims in Vietnam, then changed his views while serving in Vietnam.

The soldier said he was charged after military police raided his car on three separate occasions and found anti-war literature, including copies of the Fatigue Press and the GI Organizers' anti-war publications produced by GIs at Ft. Hood.

Bowers said he was active in the publication of the papers in nearby Killeen.

South employed guile to win a contract that might have been defeated as the cards actually lay. Alho his plan does not necessarily win our vote of approval, it points up the importance of psychology as one of the essential methods of an experienced declarer's technique.

West opened the six of hearts a K-T-N-T; three no trump and the trick was taken in the closed hand by the nine. Declarer could count six diamond tricks, the heart just won and the ace of clubs. If the club finesse succeeded, his total would be increased to the required nine.

There was a risk involved in taking the club finesse, however, for if it lost and West was able to reach his partner with the ace of spades—a heart lead thru South's king-jack would enable West to cash enough tricks to defeat the contract. Of course, if West had the ace of spades, there was nothing to fear, for South's heart holding would then be safe from a tack.

Declarer saw a way to give himself an extra chance however, if the cards were all wrong for him. He decided to use a bit of psychology. At trick two, he cashed the ace followed by the king of diamonds from his hand. His next play was the queen of spades. This was designed to give the appearance that he had the lone ace, king of diamonds and was trying to drive out the ace of spades in order to create an entry to dummy's long suit.

Perhaps South's methods should have been questioned, but it was admittedly difficult for East to be aware of what was going on. He could hardly know, for example, that West's opening lead had dislodged declarer's only heart stopper and that that suit was now ready to run. At any rate, East ducked the queen of spades after some "soul wracking" and South quickly ran for cover with his nine tricks.

Of course, if East had both the ace of spades and the king of clubs, then declarer would have exposed himself to an unnecessary risk, since the club finesse would have succeeded. In that case, however, we would have had no story to tell.

First Men On Moon Facing Quarantine

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The first men to set foot on the moon will face two weeks of quarantine when they return to earth, before there will be any welcoming ceremonies. They'll also get a cold shower of iodine disinfectants.

These were among the precautions outlined by a group of scientists Thursday. The steps are aimed at insuring that the returning astronauts do not contaminate the earth or its atmosphere with lunar particles.

Dr. David J. Sencer, head of the National Communicable Disease Center, described the danger as "remote but still possible."

Sencer and other members of the special interagency committee on contamination, told a news conference of plans to rid the astronauts of any moon germs which may exist. The space voyagers would be exposed to lunar contamination during their mission of collecting up to 50 pounds of rock and dirt for study.

Both astronauts who will walk on the moon surface scheduled for the Apollo 11 flight in July will discard their special gloves and boots before they leave the moon.

"There'll be a little pile of American litter right next to the American flag," commented Maj. Gen. J.W. Humphreys, director of space medicine for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Once the astronauts return to their ship, they will expose plant and animal life to lunar specimens to check for adverse reaction. However, Sencer said, the bodies of the astronauts themselves are the most likely hosts for hostile bacteria, virus or parasites.

At splashdown, a Navy frogman will then spray more of the iodine compound disinfectant around the spacecraft's hatch and on the astronauts. The spacemen also will be given filter masks.

Hoisted aboard a helicopter and kept in isolation during the flight to the recovery ship, the astronauts will enter a trailer which will be flown to the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston. A lunar receiving laboratory has been established there.

Some 18 physicians and other scientific personnel also will be inside the lab during the quarantine period at Houston. Wastes from the sealed laboratory will be burned or funneled into special tanks to insure the quarantine, Sencer said.

Jones' Return From Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Jones, 10 Indian Ridge, have returned from Hawaii where Jones, president of the Big Spring Rotary Club, was delegate to the 60th Annual Convention of Rotary International. He said there were 14,453 delegates at the meeting which was held in Honolulu from May 25-29.

Highlight of the convention was selection of James F. Conway, Rockville Center, N.Y., as the Rotary president for 1969-70.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, traveling with 157 other Rotarians and their families, stopped off at each of three islands — (Hawaii, Maui and Kauai). They missed the most recent eruption of famed Kilauea volcano by one day. The Joneses flew nonstop from Dallas to Honolulu.

Racial Problems Harry Methodists

NEW YORK (AP) — A few weeks ago, pickets appeared at Methodist book centers across the country, carrying signs such as "Print Truth—Practice Truth" and "Equality When?"

involved the huge church agency's racial practices, which it insists are equitable, but which have come under continuing attack from unofficial Negro and white Methodist groups.

The 11-million-member denomination's governing convention last year recommended that all its institutions participate in the program.

Beams Gospel From Israel

By HARRY NASH Associated Press Writer PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — A Virginia clergyman is seeking to build a radio station in Israel to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ into the Soviet Union and the Arab nations.

The Rev. Marion G. Robertson—he prefers to be called Pat—went to Tel Aviv in March and discussed his proposal for such a station with an Israeli official in charge of issuing broadcast licenses.

This official, Robertson told an interviewer, "showed a good deal of interest because he realized such a station would help Israel economically and improve its relations with Russia and the Arabs." but said the final decision would be up to Prime Minister Golda Meir.

UNITY OF THE BIBLE DISCUSSED IN LESSON

Continuing studies concerning the Bible, the International Sunday School lesson for June 8 turns to yet another distinctiveness — that of unity. Previous lessons have touched on keys to understanding, the importance of geography and people of Biblical times, literary forms. But what holds all this together? This is the burden of Sunday's study based on Deut. 28:5-9; Acts 13:17, 23; Luke 24:25-27.

Out of a study of these and background Scriptures such as Gen. 12:1-7; Joshua 24:2-8 comes the clear conclusion that the basic thread of the Bible is that of redemption. References go back to the Exodus, which was the proving of a great people. Jacob had gone down to Egypt during a severe famine and his descendants remained to become a populous and prosperous nation. But the Hyksos dynasty was replaced by a native line of Pharaohs, and the Israelites were sore oppressed. And in their time of misery, they began to pray earnestly to God for salvation. Their prayers were heard and they were delivered.

Paul recounted this when he gave a terse history of the Israelites and quickly pointed to the Christ, a descendant of David, as the Messiah. The burden of his message was that the earthly line had come to an end with the captivity, but that "in the fullness of time, Christ came." As Jacob was rejected by his brothers and then ultimately accepted, so it will be with the Saviour.

MILITANT CRITIC Forman Has Churches On Edge

NEW YORK (AP) — On the sunny walkways surrounding St. Patrick's Cathedral, blue-uniformed policemen stood vigil at a half-dozen entrances as tourists and worshippers threaded in and out of the towering mid-Manhattan sanctuary.

"The church asked for protection," an officer explained about the special detail on duty around the block-square facilities of the New York Roman Catholic archdiocese. "It's this Forman thing. They're afraid he'll show up and make trouble."

That anxiety, along with a mixture of resentment, sympathy and perplexity, is whipping through religious institutions today because of James Forman. At present, he is "the most disturbing critic of the churches from the extreme militant point of view," said the Rev. George E. Sweazey, of Webster Groves, Mo., the newly elected moderator of the United Presbyterian Church, in a letter sent throughout the denomination.

In just one month, Forman's avowed "war" on churches and synagogues for financial reparations to Negroes has erupted widely in major religious communities, with reactions ranging from partial affirmation to outrage.

He "is giving nightmares to religious leaders who handle bills, budgets and bank accounts," comments the Catholic weekly Ave Maria. Bearing his "Black Manifesto," adopted April 27 by a formative meeting of the National Black Economic Development Conference in Detroit, demanding reparations of $500 million for Negro development projects, he has confronted one religious body after another, claiming specific payments. Already, the individual demands in different church groups total $850 million, plus $1.5 billion for black colleges, far more than the original half-billion figure set in the manifesto, even though several major denominations have not been hit at all.

Responses have varied from steps to boost aid to Negroes on the one hand to blunt rejection on the other.

But even in denominations projecting some positive response, leaders generally have denounced the threatening tone and tactics of the manifesto. And none of the churches have promised funds to Forman's particular group, more.

MAY CURTAIL STUDENT LOANS Money Lenders Set Stage For 'Real Loan Crunch'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of banks and other money lenders, setting the stage for what one official says will be a "real loan crunch," are telling the government they may have to sharply curtail or end student loans.

It may just be sabre rattling," said an official of the insured loan bureau in the U.S. Office of Education, "but we are definitely concerned over a real loan crunch this summer." At stake is more than $640 million in government guaranteed loans now going to 750,000 students under the Higher Education Act of 1965. Under the act the government guarantees loans of up to $1,000 and a large part of the interest for almost any student certified as attending a college or university. As commercial interest rates climbed, Congress last year raised the ceiling from the original 6 per cent ceiling to 7 per cent. Earlier this year, however, the prime interest rate—the rate banks charge their most favored customers—spurred to 7 1/2 per cent. With the actual rate that most lenders charge being closer to 10 per cent, most institutions prefer to sink their money into something besides students.

The executive of one Midwestern bank with $5 million in student loans said it would be "folly" to continue them unless the law is changed.

The government official also said the crisis arises at a time when the government already is under fire from colleges and universities for cutting back the 10-year-old national student defense loan program. Under that program colleges and universities make loans directly to needy students with money that is 10 per cent theirs and 90 per cent federal.

NEEDY STUDENTS

While the defense loans are intended for needy students only, the higher education act was aimed at any student.

"But it's the poor student who will get hurt. Banks and other lenders probably won't turn away the sons and daughters of good customers," said the insured loans official.

Several proposals have been made in Congress or are expected that would raise the guaranteed rate or provide some alternative such as granting lenders the right to charge a fee for each loan application or making some fee arrangement for volume.

The administration is now preparing its own proposal that is expected to go to Congress shortly, but officials declined to give any details.

Virtually all student loans are made in July, August and September, officials say, and therefore it will be several weeks before trends show whether the lending institutions actually will carry out threats to shut off the loans.

"As soon as they also became aware of the fact that numbers of them did not return from those 'trips' as they call them," he said, "they stopped taking it."

Persons under the influence of marijuana are as mentally unreliable as those who drink to excess, he said, but there is no scientific basis for determining the long-term effect of smoking marijuana.

Goddard, in his statements two years ago, made similar comparisons.

Nigerian Jet Shoots Down 'Rebel Plane'

LAGOS (AP) — The Nigerian air force said today one of its jets shot down a DC6 aircraft flying supplies into secessionist Biafra.

The announcement came shortly after the Swedish Red Cross said in Stockholm one of its aircraft with a crew of four was missing after being hit over Biafra. The pilot was identified as an American.

A brief report over Nigeria radio said the "rebel aircraft" went down near Eket in the Southeast State, a town near the mouth of the Kwa-Ibo River not far from the coast and west of Calabar in what was once Biafra.

It said the four-engine airplane was destroyed.

The Swedish account said two other aircraft were also hit.

Nightly airlifts have been flying for many months to Biafra's beleaguered Uli-Ihalala airstrip near the Niger River at Biafra's western boundary. Federal authorities have forbidden the flights and have repeatedly warned they would shoot down what aircraft they could with their jet fleet made up mostly of older Soviet MIGs.

Swedish planes have been flying from Cotonou, Dahomey, to the west of Nigeria, after flights from the former Spanish island of Fernando Poo were halted.

The International Red Cross in Geneva said the lost plane was a DC7, a similar but more advanced piston-engine aircraft from a DC6.

The original report of the attack reached Stockholm from an Icelandic identified only as Capt. Olsen, flying another relief mission. He reported two other planes, on a mission for Joint Church Aid, also were hit and caught fire.

The Swedish Red Cross account said all Red Cross flights to Biafra were halted.

It added that the plane's chief pilot was David Brown, 51, an American now making his home in Stockholm. Others on board were identified as a flight engineer from Norway, Kjell Pettersen, 41, pilot Stig Carlsson, 33, a Swede, and Harry Axelsson, 25, cargo officer also from Sweden.

Just what is their bag?

Are they Protestant, Catholic, or something in between?

Call them anything you please. Episcopalians are Protestant because their forebears were among the leaders of the Protestant Reformation in 16th-Century England. But the word "Catholic" means "universal" . . . and Episcopalians are quick to embrace the universality of all Christian denominations. They do not believe that heaven is reserved for those who agree, jot and tittle, with their particular views.

What place does the Bible occupy in the Episcopal faith?

It's central. No Episcopalian is required to accept any belief that doesn't agree with Holy Scripture.

Then why do they use a Prayer Book?

The Episcopal Book of Common Prayer serves several purposes. It's an excellent key to understanding the Bible. It assures reading and teaching solely from the Bible. And it's a complete guide to worship.

The word "common" in the title means "together." Episcopalians pray and praise God together, believing—as they do—that worship is not a spectator sport. Thanks to the Prayer Book, their services cannot be dominated by the minister's whims.

Aren't Episcopal services mighty ritualistic?

Compared to most other churches, yes. The ministers wear robes. Members take communion at the altar rail. They kneel to pray. They don't chit-chat during worship.

The services are pretty formal . . . but it's a matter of viewpoint. The Episcopal viewpoint is that worship is an act of giving—not receiving. They find that a bit of quiet formality and beauty helps put them in a proper frame of mind truly to give themselves over to God's worship.

Ever hear anyone complain of the ritual to be found at a big college football game? Or the weekly lodge meeting?

Is it true that Episcopal women cover their heads in church?

Customarily, yes. It's another way of paying respect to God. Nearly anything is considered cricket . . . from a kerchief to last year's Easter bonnet.

Isn't the Episcopal Church sort of a private club for the rich?

Nope. That may be unfortunate around budget time each year, but Episcopalians don't believe God reserves any special place in heaven for the rich or influential.

That's one reason Episcopal funerals don't feature eulogies or an open casket. The departed—quite apart from the respect of his fellow man—is presumed already to have made his peace with God. The funeral service isn't conducted primarily for the dead; it's mostly a message of hope for eternal salvation . . . and addressed to the living.

What is the Episcopal view of baptism?

They follow the custom of pouring water, but readily will baptize by immersion those who prefer. They believe that the action of God in baptism is more important than the mechanics of men . . . and they accept baptism in any other Christian denomination as a true sacrament.

Then why the need for instruction and confirmation?

The Church has always regarded confirmation as completing baptism. Thus the promises made for a child in baptism are confirmed by the candidate himself. Correspondingly, the service signifies a confirmation, on God's part, of His promise of salvation.

Simple instruction by the minister assures a complete understanding of the Church's basic creeds before the candidate assumes the responsibilities of communicant status.

Does this mean they have a "closed" communion?

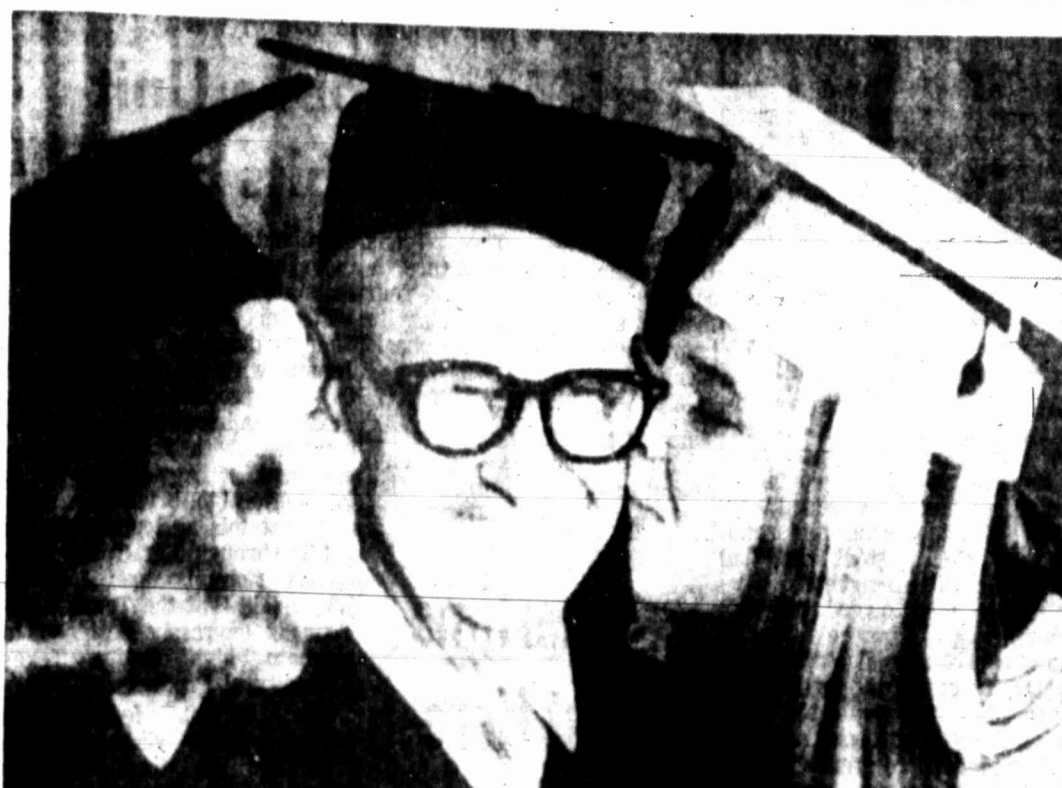

Not at all, although the Episcopal church regards communion as a true sacrament and not just a memorial. Anyone who may have communion in another Christian denomination is welcome to join in an Episcopal communion service if his own church's discipline permits him to do so.

Are visitors welcomed to Episcopal services?

Absolutely. At any service. It's customary for Episcopalians to remain quiet until they're outside the church, which explains why some visitors look on them as unfriendly. Just stick around after the service. There's usually coffee in the nearby parish hall . . . and plenty of opportunity to get acquainted. Feel free to ask the minister for an appointment to discuss anything you find puzzling about the Episcopal faith. He'll be delighted . . . and wouldn't think of "twisting your arm" to join his church. That sort of decision must come from you, or it loses meaning.

Says There Is No Evidence Smoking 'Mary Jane' Harmful

WASHINGTON (AP) — The board chairman of the National Science Foundation says there is no scientific evidence that smoking marijuana is harmful or addictive.

In fact, says Dr. Philip Handler, the information available now indicates the opposite may be true.

"It is our puritan ethics which says we shouldn't do this rather than science which says we should not at the moment," Dr. Handler told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony released today.

Handler said it still remains a scientific problem to decide whether marijuana is dangerous to society. He likened it to alcohol and said a similar decision would have to be made if alcohol had just been discovered.

Similar statements touched off a controversy in 1967 when they came from a top health official in the Johnson administration.

Dr. James I. Goddard, a commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, said then that as a physician he was not satisfied that medical justification existed to prohibit the use of marijuana.

He went further than Handler, however, and condemned laws against the use of marijuana as too severe and medically unjustified.

Release of Handler's testimony comes at a time when the government is in the midst of a nationwide campaign against marijuana and narcotics. Gerald N. Kurtz, director of the drive by the National Institute of Mental Health, said upon launching the campaign, "Our primary aim is to arm young people and their parents with the facts to help them resist pressures to experiment with drugs—marijuana and LSD."

Dr. Handler, in his testimony to the subcommittee, said there is no scientific proof that the use of marijuana can lead to addiction to harder narcotics.

"This is a problem which requires very clear and insightful investigation of the facts," he said.

"The evidence that marijuana is addictive is not conclusive at all," he said. "Quite the opposite is as far as I can make out."

Dr. Handler said the use of the hallucinogenic LSD has dropped off sharply among young people since it was established that the drug can cause chromosome damage.

"As soon as they also became aware of the fact that numbers of them did not return from those 'trips' as they call them," he said, "they stopped taking it."

Persons under the influence of marijuana are as mentally unreliable as those who drink to excess, he said, but there is no scientific basis for determining the long-term effect of smoking marijuana.

Forges Proposed ABM Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal which would delay deployment of an antimissile system for a year—while radar and computer components are being tested—is being forged by a special Senate Armed Services committee.

The recommendation expected from the research subcommittee would be aimed at averting a bitter Senate showdown over the Nixon administration's Safeguard antiballistic missile—ABM—program.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., first put forth the compromise two weeks ago, and it is now understood to have the support of two other members of the five-man subcommittee—Sens. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., the chairman, and Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

The recommendation, which would be purely advisory to the full committee, comes as the Senate fight over the ABM moves toward its final stages. The committee is preparing to start next week to write the $25 billion military procurement bill.

Administration spokesmen previously have reacted coldly to proposed compromises which would delay deployment while providing for continued ABM research. President Nixon's program calls for the beginning of construction at two sites and funds to buy land for 12 more sites.

Critics who see ABM as escalating the arms race or as a waste of defense money have fought for a delay in the actual start on missile site construction. Most have said they would agree to continued work, however.

With polls showing the Senate almost evenly split on the ABM issue, Republican leaders continue to insist they will win the fight.

But Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the GOP whip, said Thursday that he "would see no objection" to acceptance by the Nixon administration of a limited compromise in order to insure victory.

Brooke and McIntyre, however, want to put a compromise into the legislation and hope to have unanimous support of the subcommittee. But its other two members, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., and Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., are Safeguard supporters and would be unlikely to endorse scaling down unless the administration approves.

Scott emphasized he was speaking just for himself and indicated that part of his role as assistant floor leader is to float trial balloons.

The most recent Associated Press poll showed 49 senators opposed to ABM deployment, 47 for and four uncommitted, but Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen claims at least two senators have switched to support the administration plan.

OPEN ALL DAY MONDAYS THROUGH SATURDAYS

DEAR ABBY: A great deal has happened to our country lately, and the youth is blamed. We've been called everything from "flower children" to hippies. Everywhere you hear about "protesters" and draft dodgers, and adults are suspicious of any teenager with long hair.

I recently came across this quote from a worried adult: "What is this world coming to? What will the world be like when the younger generation takes over? Will it be destroyed by individualism - and lack of leadership?" (Signed: Socrates, 469 B. C.)

SINCERELY YOURS, LINDA IN CEDAR RAPIDS

DEAR LINDA: And look what happened to Socrates' "world" - which was Greece! And they didn't regain stature again until Melina Mercouri made "Never on Sunday" and Jackie married Onassis.

DEAR ABBY: As the mother of a 22-year-old daughter, I would like to have some up-to-date information on present day dating customs.

My daughter has been dating a young man for several months. He's a college graduate and has a very good job. He invited her to go skiing, and then informed her that she would have to pay for her own lift fee. She thought this was rather odd, but she paid her own fee.

Then on subsequent dates he told her she should pay her own way.

She told him she thought he was being "cheap." He said she was "ignorant." And they quarreled.

Is the young man correct? Is it the custom now for girls to pay their own way when asked for a date? PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: The gentleman treats the lady unless they have an "understanding" beforehand, and are saving for their mutual benefit. A man who would ask a girl for a date and then suggest she pay her own way is no gentleman. And a girl, to put up with it must be very "honorary" company.

Juveniles Arrested

City police referred two juveniles Thursday to the divorced 14 and 15 year-olds were arrested for theft from an automobile.

DEAR ABBY: You are a doll. You made me see the light, even though it took six years to register.

I am 40 years old and slim. The divorced I am tall and slim and have been told that I am "attractive." I have many talents and a good job, but for some unknown reason I became involved with a married man. He was "misunderstood, unloved," etc. and said that they were together only because of the children, but if it took him until he was 65 we would be together. You know the routine. I believed him.

Naturally we couldn't be seen together, so I entertained him in my home. He was jealous and possessive, and never knew until the last minute if we could be together, so I wasn't able to go anywhere.

Finally I saw something in your column that hit me right between the eyes. ("He'll never marry you. Why should he? He's getting the whole show for the price of the amusement tax.")

I looked at myself in the mirror, and said, "This is it - no more wasting years." I called him and told him bluntly not to bother me anymore. He got the message.

Now I can rest at night. Thank you!

WHITE MAN SURPRISED

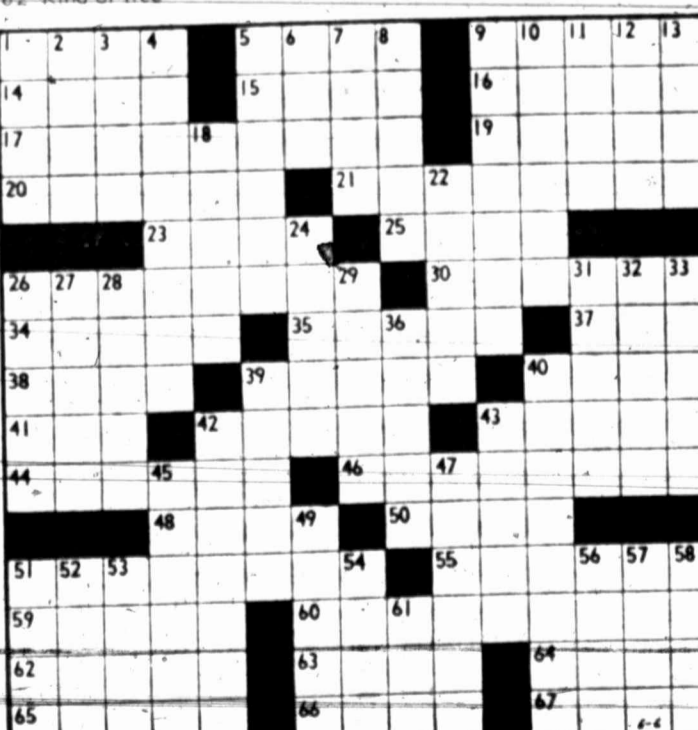

HARTSHORNE, Okla. (AP) - Now the white man is teaching Indians how to shoot with a bow and arrow.

Each Friday night about 30 young Indians meet at the Jones Academy gymnasium to learn to use the weapon of their forefathers.

"There must be something to this thing called heredity," said Leon Maggard, president of the Little Dixie Bowmen Club. "It is surprising how much natural ability the young Indians have toward the weapon used by their forefathers."

What Did Lawmakers Do About Education?

By LEE JONES Associated Press Writer AUSTIN (AP) - The legislature shoveled millions of dollars into school teachers' pockets but ducked the big issue of reshaping Texas' public school system. It didn't take long for urban lawmakers to discover the deck was stacked against consolidating small school districts and using actual land values as the measure of local taxpayer's ability to support their schools. Those were the most important and most controversial recommendations of former Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education, which laid out a blueprint to take advantage of declining enrollments during the 1970s to raise Texas schools status. When the legislature adjourned, many rural senators spoke of the committee's director, mild-mannered Glenn Ivy, as if he had horns and a tail and breathed sulphurous fumes. "I dislike him intensely," Sen. J. P. Word told a reporter who asked why he opposed another senator's request to let Ivy sit at his desk and advise him during a teacher pay raise debate. Powerful Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah, the House Appropriations Committee chairman, would not even comment when asked if he thought Ivy was a "good man" despite Healy's objection to the report. The consolidation and school financing issues were left to interim committees of lawmakers and laymen for further study. Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, who tried to make rural taxpayers pick up a bigger share of their school costs, predicted the legislature would be more receptive to the idea after it redistricts in 1971. "When that urban majority arises, I hope it takes care of the problems of rural people better than the rural majority has taken care of urban areas," Schwartz thundered. Some of the committee's other ideas were greeted more warmly and were passed, although some were watered down before the final vote was taken. A major one raised teacher salaries by an average of $1,800 over the next two years, put their pay on a 10-month basis starting in 1970-71 and established a guaranteed increase program considerably more generous than the present law provides. The teacher pay bill, however, is also more generous than automatic increments than

Other COPSE recommendations, approved in one form or another, include: -State-supported public kindergarten, starting with poor children and those who don't speak English, and widening their programs to include all five-year-olds by 1978. -Bilingual programs, providing pre-school training for children who do not speak English and allowing such children to receive elementary school instruction in their own language while they are learning English. -Free time for teachers to plan lessons and study. The legislature approved 45 minutes a day, compared with the 10 hours a week that COPSE recommended. -A state board of vocational-technical education. -State supported sick leave for teachers, up to five days a year. -Free transfer of pupils from one district to another with the consent of their parents and the receiving district. -Recodifying of the state's school laws to make them easier to locate and understand.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Students for a Democratic Society have selected 24 defense-oriented plants in the Southwest - including 15 in Texas - for a summer offensive, a Texas congressman says he has learned. Rep. James M. Collins, R-Tex., from Dallas, said Thursday he was told of the plans in strict confidence but felt he should alert the concerned industries to the danger. He said the Dallas Police Department has verified his information. "It is quite probable that violence will erupt," Collins said, "as SDS members try to forcibly close our machinery." Collins named a Texas couple as leaders of the five-state effort by the SDS. He said Roy Bartee Haile and his wife Margie Bolton Haile, last reported in Houston, were the organizers and that the husband was a member of an SDS national interim committee. An aide to Collins said the husband is not affiliated with any specific college SDS chapter. "I am now convinced that Bartee and Margie Haile and other top SDS leaders have formulated a most ingenious plan to transfer chaos from the college campus to the industrial assembly lines," Collins said. Among the plants identified as SDS targets are Ling-Temco-Vought in Grand Prairie, Tex., which makes the A7 fighter bomber; General Dynamics of Fort Worth, which produces the F111 swing-wing plane; and Bell Helicopter, Fort Worth, which produces many of the helicopters being used in Vietnam. The plants listed as targets normally hire summer help, Collins said. Many of the positions are menial and are offered to college students to help pay for the rest of their education. Because of the low grade of the job, security clearance is often not required for the temporary workers, Collins said. He said the danger can be averted if the companies screen their job applicants more carefully. An aide said it was unclear whether the SDS members would try to recruit supporters from their fellow workers in their attempt to disrupt plant activity. "But many of these workers are strong individualists and there is a good possibility they would react with physical force and there would be violence if the SDS approached them," he said. Collins' contact in Dallas was Roy Westfall, chief of the police intelligence unit. The aide said the Justice Department and congressional investigation committees have been kept informed. Collins said he had no information about potential SDS plant targets outside the South.

Nixon's Choice For Chief Of Veterans Administration

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP) - If President Nixon's choice for chief of the Veterans Administration is confirmed by the Senate, Donald E. Johnson will be the second man from this rural village to serve in Washington officialdom. The first was President Herbert Hoover. But, unlike Hoover, Johnson wasn't born here. He came to West Branch - population 1,100 - at the age of 16 months, the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson. In announcing Johnson's appointment at San Clemente, Calif., Thursday, Nixon also disclosed he has ordered a study of means to improve benefits for returning veterans of the Vietnam war. Johnson, a former national commander of the American Legion, will serve as chairman of the new study group, the President's Committee on the Vietnam Veteran. In Johnson, the President said, the VA will have an administrator who has "the business background which qualifies him for administration, and he has a deep devotion to country which goes completely beyond any partisan consideration, although he does happen to be a Republican." Johnson was born 45 years ago this week in Cedar Falls, Iowa, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris E. Hansen. His father, a Danish immigrant gassed while serving with the infantry in France during World War I, died soon after Donald's birth. The boy was placed in the Danish Lutheran orphanage at Elk Horn, Iowa. Johnson entered the Army as Donald Hansen, but had his name legally changed to that of his foster parents in 1947, after emerging from World War II as a technical sergeant. He won the Bronze Star for bravery on April 2, 1945, in Germany. After the war Johnson returned to West Branch where he worked in his foster father's poultry business. He currently is president of the West Branch Farm Supply Co. and secretary-treasurer of the S&J Poultry Co. Inc. of West Branch and Waterloo.

STRAY FELINE SNAGS MISSILE

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) - A wayward cat caused a three-hour delay in the launching of an Air Force Athena missile from the White Sands Missile Range's Utah launch complex near Green River. The stray feline climbed a utility pole in Blanding, Utah, and short-circuited a transformer, cutting off power to a critical radar tracking facility near the town. Although power was restored after about 30 minutes, the temporary loss created technical difficulties with the radar's sensitive computer system. The cat lost all its nine lives and it cost taxpayers several thousand dollars' worth of range time.

Lightning-Set Gasoline Storage Fire Rages Four Hours

It took 250 firemen more than four hours to extinguish this fire in a full gasoline storage tank and save millions of gallons of fuel in the tank farm only a few blocks from the Gator Bowl in East Jacksonville, Fla. Nine firemen were taken to hospitals and one admitted with chemical burns caused by a mixture of gasoline, foam and water.

Fed Agents Seize Four Men, Guns, Ammo, Literature

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal agents seized four men, $50,000 worth of munitions and a quantity of right-wing political literature Thursday in what one agent termed the "largest seizure in the country since the federal Gun Control Act went into effect."

A dozen agents, escorted by Suffolk County detectives, arrested the men in their Long Island homes.

The arms seized included a tripod-mounted large-caliber machine gun, six submachine guns, 10,000 rounds of ammunition, 28 rifles and shotguns, 18 pistols, 19 silencers, 14 flare guns, two dynamite bombs, a telescopic sight and gun parts.

"We have some reason to believe that some of the men may be members of right-wing groups," said Phillip E. Kopstein, chief special investigator here, of the Treasury Department's Alcohol Tobacco and Firearm Division.

Kopstein, noting that a large amount of right-wing literature had been found, said the men may have supplied right-wing militants with weapons.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Lawrence G. Soicher said the four men were "part of a ring" that dealt with "mob characters and possibly militants."

They men were identified as Arthur Needles, 48, Southampton; Joseph Konopka, 35, Manville; Moreland Rollins, 36, Hampton Bays and Robert V. McCormick, 26, Center Moriches.

The men were charged with unlicensed dealing in firearms and illegal possession and transfer of the guns. The federal Gun Control Act, approved last year, sets a maximum penalty of 10 years in jail and $10,000 fine.

Kopstein said during a six-month investigation, agents had purchased arms from the suspects several times.

Band Of Commandos Make Three Raids Into Israel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab commandos from Jordan made three raids into Israel Thursday night on the second anniversary of the six-day war, the Israeli army announced. A spokesman said six Arabs and an Israeli sergeant were killed.

The spokesman said the commando unit intercepted a band of Arabs who crossed the Jordan River near the Mandassa Bridge, 25 miles north of the Dead Sea. The three-man guerrilla team intercepted in the Negev Desert 12 miles north of Elat about two hours later.

Another band of commandos was discovered after they crossed the Jordan River near the Damia Bridge. The Israelis reported killing two members of north of the Dead Sea. The spokesman said four Arabs were killed.

The army said seven persons, including three children were slightly injured by rockets from Jordan which exploded in two border settlements in the Beisan Valley. The casualties reportedly occurred at Neve Eitan and Hamadia.

The army said rockets from Lebanon hit the settlements of Kfar Giladi and Tel Hai, near the Lebanese frontier, but caused no injuries.

A spokesman said Israeli artillery returned the fire "to silence the sources of the shooting."

A military communique in Beirut said Lebanese and Israeli forces fought a 25-minute duel across the frontier early today, but there were no Lebanese casualties and on which a ualities. The Lebanese claimed they silenced Israeli positions along the border.

Kiwanians Hear Speaker Discuss Americanism

The Big Spring Kiwanis Club took eight seconds to repeat the pledge of allegiance to the flag Thursday. This, according to Bob Crowell, public relations committee chairman, was two seconds or so longer than the average time the club has devoted to this rite in the past.

Crowell was the speaker for the day and devoted his remarks to the need that this nation faces to restore its belief in Americanism, the flag, and ideals upon which this nation was founded and under which it has grown great.

He urged that citizens devote more than eight seconds a week to serious contemplation of the ideals of Americanism and that all good citizens do all in his or her power to foil the forces which would destroy these principles.

"Sometimes," he said, "I wonder if we haven't become so concerned with safeguarding the rights of the minority, that we are forgetting the rights of the majority."

The minority is certainly entitled to full exercise of all its rights, but this does not mean it can prevent others — the majority — from the free exercise of their rights as well, Crowell warned.

Jim Thompson, club president, announced that Gibby Morehead had accepted the post of barbecue chairman and would direct the preparation and serving of the Rodeo barbecue dinner on June 25. He pointed out that this year, the Rodeo Association has announced it will not feed the riding club members who come here to take part in the parade and grand entry as they have in the past.

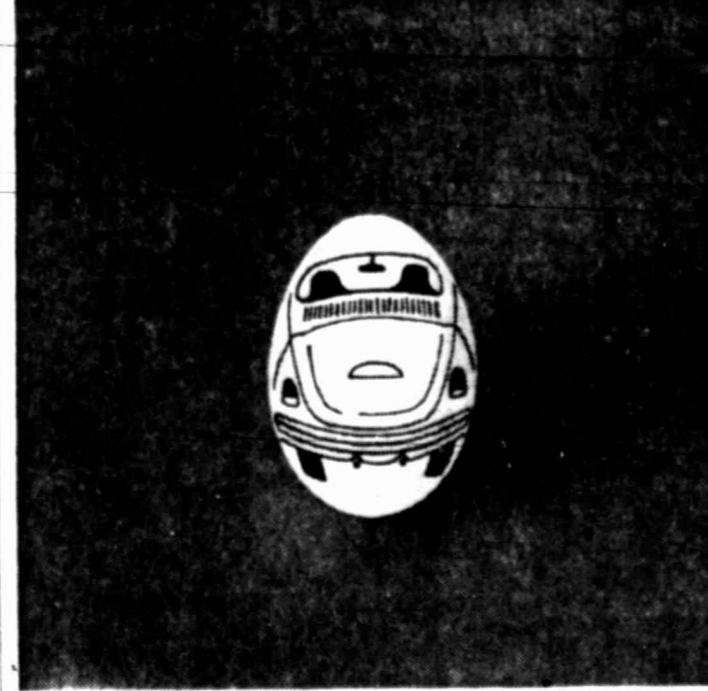

Leon Taylor, ticket chairman, pointed out this means that the club members will have to work harder and sell more tickets if the club is to show a profit.

School Board Meets Tuesday

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District board will begin studying their budget for 1969-70, during the regular meeting Tuesday. The panel meets in the board room at 7:30 p.m. Only routine matters are on tap, but decisions must be made on major teacher salaries and estimates on income totals.

Body Recovered

CARTHAGE, Tex. (AP) — The body of Willie Lee Daugherty, 17, was recovered late Thursday from a stock pond where he drowned Tuesday. The body was found by Carthage volunteer firemen and divers from Kilgore.

Some shapes are hard to improve on.

Ask any hen. You just can't design a more functional shape for an egg.

And we figure the same is true of the Volkswagen sedan.

Don't think we haven't tried. (As a matter of fact, the Volkswagen's been changed nearly 3,000 times.)

But we haven't improved our basic design. Like the egg, it's the right kind of package for what goes inside.

So that's where most of our energy goes. To get more power, without using more gas. To make a transmission that shifts for itself, our optional automatic stick shift. To provide a dual brake system. To improve the heating and ventilating systems (including a new rear window de-fogger). That sort of thing.

The result is a package that carries four adults, and all their luggage, at about 27 miles to a gallon of regular gas (about 25 mpg with the automatic stick shift).

We've made a few external changes, of course. Such as a new and larger outside rear-view mirror. Which is one up on the egg.

Steve Stallings, Stanton's splendid miler who gets a chance next spring to win his second straight State Class AA mile next year, will stay busy this summer competing in the State JC Meet at Arlington and the Aug. 1-2 State TAAF Meet at Denton.

Eddie Crowder, who quarterbacked some of the University of Oklahoma's finest football teams and who is now head coach at the University of Colorado, says that professional football has given the college game a certain verve.

Not so for the 39-year-old Maxwell, a veteran Texan. "I scrambled all over the place," little Billy drewled. "It would take me 30 minutes to tell you everything I did."

James Coffey picked up the mound win. Coffey had three hits, as did Fred Pickett of the winners. Pickett crossed the plate four times.

Morgan Gets Hot But Faces Service Duty

HOUSTON (AP)—Astros second baseman Joe Morgan feels he is finally getting hot with the bat and it is happening just when he will have to leave the Houston club for two weeks of Army duty.

Morgan hit three singles and a home run Thursday night in leading the Astros to an 11-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I needed those hits," he said. "But I knew it—soon as I get hot, I'd have to leave for the Army. Tomorrow is my last game before reporting."

Morgan raised his batting average 16 points to .249 with the night's work. He has now hit eight home runs but all have been bases-empty knocks.

The victory was Houston's 11th straight in the Astrodom and their 14th in the last 15 games under the big top. The club also broke a four-game losing streak all on the road.

After Morgan singled in the first inning, Jim Wynn walked and Norm Miller doubled them both home.

The NFL commissioner reportedly took an unfavorable view of Namath's interest in the restaurant because the place was visited by what he called unsavory characters.

Over 200 Await Start Of Partnership Meet

The annual Big Spring Partnership Golf tournament, scheduled to get under way Saturday, is again bustling at the seams with entries.

Over 200 got their names in the hopper Thursday with every indication that late mail entries would give officials the maximum number—252.

Scratch flight players are scheduled to tee off starting at 1:20 p.m., using both the first and tenth tees. Handicap flight entries get away as early as 8 a.m.

Indications are that as many as 90 players will make up the Scratch Flight. In that division, two amateurs team up and play toward a low-ball score without benefit of handicap.

The surprising announcement was made at the lounge known as Bachelors Three, located at 62nd and Lexington Avenue of which Namath is one-third owner.

The football star appeared more than half an hour late in a small narrow room which was crammed with more than 150 news and camera men.

The swarthy, 6-foot-2 quarterback, who was 26 years old May 31, strode into the lounge wearing a blue wind breaker and casual slacks.

"I don't think it's right, so I am getting out of football," the Jets' star told a hurriedly-called press conference.

"Rozelle told me I must get out of the restaurant business or he suspended. I am innocent of any wrong doing. It's the last thing I want to do."

The NFL commissioner reportedly took an unfavorable view of Namath's interest in the restaurant because the place was visited by what he called unsavory characters.

The Big Spring Hardware Tigers ran their Hi-Junior league record to 2-0 by churning past the Optimists, 11-5, here Thursday night.

Randy Womack pitched the win, benefitting from an eight-run inning—in the fifth.

Muscular Thomas Brewer clubbed a first inning run with two on to first the Tigers off on the right foot. Brewer wound up with two hits.

Well-Groomed Look Wins Job Assurance

By MARY SUE MILLER
The job of a girl's dreams is not to be had for the asking, even though prospects seem extra bright for June grads. Shortages in the women's labor force would seem to leave doors to desirable positions wide open.

But landing a first-rate job requires a real cool approach to interviews. Put yourself in the employer's seat. From that vantage point, which of these girls would you hire: (All are qualified to do the work.) Miss A. looks like an untidy, immature schoolgirl. Miss B. is toggled out for a disco date. Miss C. is with it — with attractive, businesslike looks.

Of course, you would award the job to Miss C. Employer experience shows that high-taste and personal standards carry

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Tell anyone who has plans to sod grass in a new yard to take it from me, and not get too rambunctious. Just don't think you are going to get the whole yard sodded in one day. It's practically impossible.

I tried it and found that all the layers of grass I bought and couldn't sod, turned brown within three days, became dry and didn't spread half as fast as the sod I planted the first day.

Buy grass sod in chunks — only one or two yards at a time. Then cut it up with a butcher knife into the size you want and plant it.

Remember that there's always the next weekend. Why let money go to waste?

New Husband

You are so right. I look back and wonder at all of the yards I have planted, sodded and seeded.

When you go to purchase this grass by the square yard, remember to pick the greenest you can find, and don't buy more than you know you can plant in two days.

After dividing it with that knife, dig a hole with the blunt end of a pick a little deeper than the chunk itself. Drop the grass in the hole, step on it with your foot, mash it down hard, then lay a slow running garden hose on it.

This allows the silt and dirt to mesh and helps prevent root shock. If you have any areas which do not fill, take some of the soil you dug out of the hole and crumble it over the new sod with your hands while it's still dry, and water further.

Many people don't know this, but I learned that you can also use the same grass in seed form — and sprinkle it between the planted chunks. This makes your yard look beautiful in no time at all.

Dear Heloise:

My husband said I could submit this hint for men who wash their hair at night and have those cowlicks in the morning.

Take a washcloth wrung out in hot water and put it over your head while shaving. Cowlick will be gone and hair quite controlled.

Mrs. Ray Addis

Dear Heloise:
When making cooked puddings, put a few of those multi-colored, small marshmallows in the serving dish first, then pour in the hot pudding. The pretty colors all rise to the top, but completely melt. Delicious!

Marian Jackson

Dear Heloise:
I have to wear a hair net at work, and my hair is long. If you ever had a dress or uniform that zipped up the back, you know that the zipper can ruin those nets.

I had my husband put a piece of clear cellophane tape over the zipper tab at the neckline. It stayed put all day and never once did my net get caught.

Frances Littleton

Dear Heloise:

Did you know aluminum foil may be washed in a dishwasher and used again?

Just hang it over the side of the racks and it comes out like new.

Mary Weisbrod

Well, I'll be! It works. I held one big piece on to the top rack with two clip clothespins.

Dear Heloise:

When I wash my nylon ruffe curtains, I tag them by putting each pair together along with the tie backs. Then, with a string tag and a safety pin, write the room and window where they belong.

With many different sizes, it sure saves a great deal of time trying to get the right ones up at the right window.
