Big Springers Get Prepared For Scorchers

Thursday was posted as the hottest day of the current season, but it was not as warm here as in San Angelo and Presidio.

Big Spring's high temperature Thursday was 103 degrees.

The high reported from Presidio and San Angelo was 108. These latter figures compare with the all-time high for June 19 in Big Spring—112 in 1915. Today's all time record high was 110 scored on two dates in 1916 and 1951. The low Thursday was 72, which was 20 degrees over the low record of 52 of 1932.

Summer officially moves into the area on Saturday at 7:55 a.m. Advance showings of what will be probably popular styles in summer weather were posted on both Wednesday and Thursday.

Clear skies, a brazen sun and high promise of another scorcher greeted Big Springers Friday morning.

Sniper Fires

A 22-year-old sniper stands atop a bridge in downtown Pittsburgh Thursday and fires at police. The man, identified as Robert Michniak of Pittsburgh, an electronics student, pinned police down for more than an hour and then shot himself in the head.

Mom Watches Her Son Blast Away At Cops

PITTSBURGH (AP) — While his mother watched on television, a young student stood atop a downtown bridge for more than an hour shooting at police. Then he critically wounded himself in the head with a pistol.

Robert Michniak, 22, described by his mother as quiet, withdrawn and often nervous, climbed nearly 100 feet to the top of the span Thursday and fired four shots into the air. Police were called.

For 75 minutes, as police crouched in doorways and behind cars and armored trucks and hundreds of spectators stood behind barricades three blocks away, Michniak held his perch.

Wearing black trousers and a white shirt, he walked back and forth along a steel beam high above the Allegheny River.

From time to time he fired quick bursts of two to six shots.

Police, under orders not to shoot, said Michniak fired a total of 45 rounds. At least 20 ripped into patrol cars and police vans.

One policeman was hit in the hand by a bullet fragment.

Finally Michniak pointed the gun to his head, fired and slumped out of sight.

Three patrolmen wearing bulletproof vests and helmets cautiously made their way up an aerial ladder and found him lying on the beam.

Michniak was taken to Allegheny General Hospital where he underwent brain surgery. Doctors said his condition was serious.

The shooting was broadcast live by a Pittsburgh television station and among the viewers was his mother, Mrs. Arvella Michniak, who was in her home in Bethesda, Ohio, 70 miles away.

Mrs. Michniak said her son was placed under psychiatric care several years ago, shortly after he completed Air Force basic training.

She said he was under a doctor's care in Pittsburgh and had complained recently of not feeling well.

Michniak, married and the father of a five-month-old son, had lived in Pittsburgh for two months while studying electronics at Gateway Polytechnic Institute.

Parking Lot Paving Date

Paving of the downtown parking lot on the site of the old Crawford Hotel, which has been delayed two months by heavy rains, will begin next week, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

The parking lot should be available to the public about July 8, Lillard said. The lot will have 55 parking spaces and a pavilion.

The curbing was poured in April, but heavy rains have delayed the paving by keeping the street clogged with routine maintenance work, Lillard said.

Johnson Named Parks Chairman

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith named J. Pearce Johnson, an Austin lawyer, today as a member of the Parks and Wildlife Commission and appointed him chairman.

Johnson succeeds J. M. Dellinger of Corpus Christi, who asked not to be reappointed after his term expired Feb. 1.

Dellinger has held office pending Smith's appointment of his successor.

The governor's announcement said Johnson was designated commission chairman "in a surprise move," replacing Commissioner L. P. Gilven of Amarillo in the post.

Gilven was named chairman by former Gov. John Connally in December.

Johnson, 52, was a member of the legislature from 1947 to 1956 and wrote the laws creating the Texas Youth Council and the Texas Legislative Council.

He is president of the Frontier Quarter Horse Association, a member of the board of the South Central Texas Horse Show Association, a member of the National Rifle Association and the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association. He was the first president of the Austin Council on Alcoholism and is a former board member of the United Cerebral Palsy Fund here.

Smith said Johnson "has been cited many times by the ranching industry for his outstanding service while serving as the attorney and designer for the screw worm eradication program in Texas."

While serving in the legislature, Pearce Johnson was a leader, a man of action. He is a rugged individualist, an outdoorsman, who possesses all of the qualifications necessary for the job he is being asked to undertake," Smith said.

Seven U.S. Ships Seized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven U.S. fishing boats were seized by Ecuador this morning and are being taken into Ecuadorian ports, according to preliminary reports received in Washington.

One of the American vessels was fired upon by the Ecuadorians, industry-connected sources said.

The State Department immediately began checking into the affair. Initial reports came from radio dispatches from the vessels.

At San Diego, Calif., the American Tunaboat Association said six — rather than seven — U.S. tuna boats were shot at and seized by a patrol boat from Ecuador for allegedly violating Ecuador's territorial waters.

The latest incident comes on the heels of a running argument with Ecuador, Peru and some other Latin American countries on fishing off Latin American shores.

Army Expects About 50,000 Desertions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it expects 50,000 soldiers will have deserted by the end of the current fiscal year, an increase of nearly 30 per cent over 1968.

In testimony released today, Lt. Gen. A. O. Conner, Army deputy chief of staff for personnel, told the House defense appropriations subcommittee, the jump in the number of soldiers going over the hill is the result of:

"Getting more kooks into the Army, for one thing. We are getting more young men who are coming in undisciplined, the product of a society that trains them to resist authority."

The subcommittee also released testimony from Vice Adm. G. M. Davis, chief of Navy medicine, that 2,372 sailors were discharged for drug abuse in 1968—a three-fold climb over 1967.

"It is actually alarming," Davis said during the closed hearings held last March. The problem is most severe in Vietnam, he said, "and that makes it worse because particularly in the Marine Corps, and with the use of marijuana, it distorts your judgment and you can see what it might do on a patrol to a man who perhaps is not well grounded."

Conner, who said the 50,000 figure was a projection based on the first quarter of the fiscal year ending June 30, also stated that over 500 soldiers deserted to foreign nations.

"In this group," he testified, "that are deserting to foreign countries it runs the gamut from the extreme pacifist to the no-good drug addict who is just trying to escape detention."

The General said although the increase in desertions is cause for concern, the figures are still far lower than during World War II and the Korean War.

Typical deserters, Conner said, are not philosophical or religious war objectors, but misfits "who because they cannot get satisfaction from their commander on the ground or because the commander is not far enough along in his development to handle their problems, who will take off and go AWOL."

Conner said the Army has established a program to help overcome the problems of dissatisfaction and undisciplined personnel.

"We have opened up a training facility at Ft. Riley, Kan.," he said. "This is a rehabilitation type facility where we're having pretty good luck in taking a young man who has gone AWOL two or three times, put him under the right kind of leadership and right kind of trainers, and we have turned them into useful soldiers."

Conner also touched on the unrest on some college campuses concerning military training programs.

He said the Army is moving to meet some student objections by dropping nonproductive drill sessions and adding additional "academic-type subjects to make it more palatable."

Forceful President

During last night's news conference in the White House, President Nixon formed a fist to emphasize a point. The question and answer session was held in the East Room of the Executive Mansion.

Nixon Holds Out Hope For Huge Withdrawals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he holds out hope for massive troop withdrawals from Vietnam by the end of 1970 and that his efforts to bank the nation's inflationary fires will start having an effect within two or three months.

Nixon, in a wide ranging, 32-minute news conference Thursday, also touched on the outcome of municipal elections in New York City, his missile defense system and who ordered a wiretap of Dr. Luther King's telephone.

But Vietnam was Topic A of his first nationally televised and broadcast meeting with newsmen since April 18.

Asked about a proposal by former Democratic Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford that 100,000 U.S. combat troops be pulled out of Vietnam by the end of the year, and that all combat ground forces withdraw by the end of 1970, Nixon said: "As far as how many will be withdrawn by the end of this year, or the end of next year, I would hope that we could beat

Mr. Clifford's timetable . . ."

At the June 8 Midway summit meeting between Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, an initial plan to pull out 25,000 Americans later this summer.

"We will withdraw more," Nixon told his news conference, promising another review of the situation in August.

When asked to assess the troubled economy, the chief executive said actions taken by his administration "will begin to have effect within a matter of two to three months" in cooling off the inflation spiral. But he added, rather ominously:

"If our projection proves to be wrong, then we will have to look to other courses of action, because we cannot allow prices to continue to go up; interest to go up, and the other factors . . . to continue."

He did not elaborate but Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy suggested last week that wage-price controls might be sought should the situation get out of hand; although the White House said there are no plans for such action at this time.

Asked for his reading of victories by generally conservative candidates for mayor of Los Angeles and Minneapolis, and similar upsets by conservative forces in both the Republican and Democratic primaries for mayor of New York, Nixon jabbed at his Adam's apple and said:

"This is the message that comes through rather loud and clear from these elections: the American people in our cities, in our small towns, and in this country are fed up to here with violence and lawlessness and they want candidates who will take a strong stand against it. I think that is the message for the candidates in the future."

While saying the people are voting against lawlessness, the President declared:

"I do not believe the great majority of the American people in our cities are anti-Negro. I do not believe they are anti-poor or anti-welfare, or reactionary, or members of hate groups."

Firebase Ike Penetrated By Commies

SAIGON (AP) — More than 500 North Vietnamese soldiers stormed a U.S. artillery base 15 miles north of Tay Ninh City early today and American headquarters said, "An undetermined number penetrated the perimeter but were repulsed."

The attack was reported a few hours after military spokesmen said a massive enemy drive against Tay Ninh City had "fizzled."

Spokesmen said 72 enemy troops were killed in the assault. U.S. casualties were seven killed and 18 wounded.

It raised to 475 the number of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong reported killed in fierce fighting around Tay Ninh City since early Thursday. Total U.S. casualties in the past 24 hours were put at 15 killed and 48 wounded, while South Vietnamese casualties were 14 killed and more than 20 wounded.

Tay Ninh City is a key provincial capital near the Cambodian border, 50 miles northwest of Saigon. Spokesmen said the North Vietnamese force attacked Firebase Ike, 15 miles to the north, shortly after midnight, charging behind rockets and mortar fire that pinned down the 150 defenders U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division soldiers.

The Americans fought back with rifles and machine guns while helicopter gunships and artillery pounded the attackers. The North Vietnamese withdrew after 75 minutes of close quarters fighting.

While the battle raged, two waves of B52 bombers dumped 300 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese troop concentrations just north of Firebase Ike in the northern half of Tay Ninh province. Spokesmen said the strikes were aimed at smashing North Vietnamese reserve troops.

Far to the north, more of the big Stratofortresses dropped another 300 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese bases, troops and bunker complexes between Ap Bia Mountain and the Laotian border.

On Thursday, Maj. Gen. John M. Wright, commander of the 101st Airborne Division, said North Vietnamese troops have set up bases on the hills and ridges surrounding the mountain.

Most of the 403 enemy killed in the Tay Ninh battles Thursday were credited to U.S. tanks, dive-bombers, helicopter gunships and armored personnel carriers. Military spokesmen said it was the biggest assault of the enemy's current summer campaign.

"It's significant that the enemy tried to make a stab into Tay Ninh City, and we blunted it on all four sides," a U.S. spokesman said earlier today. "The whole operation fizzled. If his objective was to occupy all or part of Tay Ninh City he failed completely, although he did get an insignificant number of troops into the edge of the city."

Water Shortage Hurts Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The largest city in the south, Houston, has a water shortage.

Mayor Louie Welch urged Thursday that residents in three areas of the city start watering their lawns on alternate days.

A spokesman for the water department said defunct wells have left hundreds of homes with a trickle of water.

Robert A. Thompson Jr., assistant public works director, said hot weather had increased lawn sprinkling and pushed the city's demand to a peak pumpage. Some residents reported being unable to use their dishwashers and washing machines.

FOUND RFK AUTHORIZED FBI WIRETAPPING

President 'Checked Personally'

Dr. Eidinoff's Writ Dismissed

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor dismissed an application for a writ of habeas corpus from Dr. Harold Eidinoff Thursday.

Eidinoff had filed for the writ in 1968 against Supt. Archie Connolly of the Rusk State Hospital. The dismissal was made "without prejudice," meaning Eidinoff is free to file again.

The former El Paso physician was originally committed to the Rusk hospital after he was found innocent by a commission found innocent by reason of insanity in the 1959 El Paso shooting death of attorney Ted Andress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he "checked personally" and found that Robert F. Kennedy as attorney general did authorize FBI wiretapping of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s telephone.

Nixon interjected himself into the growing dispute over the tapping of the slain civil rights leader's phone at his Thursday news conference when he came down in support of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who claims Kennedy not only authorized the King surveillance, but originated the idea.

But the two men who succeeded Kennedy as attorney general accused Hoover and the FBI of making unfair attacks on the two slain men.

The controversy over the wiretapping took on a new dimension when The Washington Evening Star reported in a copyright story Thursday that Hoover had disclosed contents of two memorandums, one saying Kennedy had expressed concern about reports that King was a student of Marxism and was associating with a New York man with known Communist connections.

Courtney Evans, then assistant director of the FBI and liaison man with the Justice Department, wrote the memorandum to Hoover in June, 1963. The Star said. According to the article, Evans reported the substance of a conversation in which Kennedy expressed concern about possible infiltration of the civil rights movement by Marxists, and asked about the feasibility of installing electronic devices on King's telephones.

Hoover was quoted by the Star as saying FBI officials at that time advised against electronic surveillance of King because of possible political repercussions.

The FBI later informed Kennedy it would be feasible to tap King's telephones at the headquarters of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Atlanta, Ga., and at a New York location. The Star said a notation on this memorandum to Kennedy indicated it had been signed by the attorney general Oct. 10, 1963, and this was cited by Hoover as authorization for the wiretapping.

Nixon told a nationally televised news conference that he "checked personally into the matter as to whether or not that surveillance which had been discussed had been conducted by him (Hoover) and the FBI, by themselves, or whether it had been, as is supposed to be the case, always approved by the attorney general."

As Nixon was backing Hoover, former attorneys general Ramsey Clark and Nicholas Katzenbach issued statements criticizing the FBI for saying the wiretap idea originated in Kennedy's office.

Clark said it also is deceptive to depict Hoover as a reluctant eavesdropper.

Rotary Citizen Of The Year

Adolph Swartz (left) and Lowell Jones (right) presented Col. W. C. McGlothlin, Webb AFB commander, with a plaque naming him Rotary Citizen of the Year Thursday. The plaque was engraved "To Col. W. C. 'Bill' McGlothlin Jr. for upbuilding of this community." Swartz was chairman of the nominating committee and Jones is president.

Quiet Night In Town Torn By Gunfire

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Tensions eased Friday after the first quiet night in a week in this Ohio river town torn by arson, gunfire and racial confrontations. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie ordered 70 state policemen into the city Thursday at the request of Pol. Chief William Petersen Sr.

Mayor Lee Stenzel imposed a 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew Monday. Two persons were arrested Thursday for violating the order. They were charged with disorderly conduct and carrying weapons. Petersen ordered white citizens acting as special deputies to stop patrolling the city's streets.

"We are going to police this town," he said. "We are going to have a police department enforcing the law in this community, not every citizen." City and state officials met Thursday and decided to order all persons holding special commissions as sheriff's or coroner's deputies to remain at home unless called out by authorities for a specific purpose. State police were ordered to the city after Ogilvie said he had received reports that "white citizens, deputized by the sheriff and coroner, were patrolling the streets, stopping people and causing a serious problem for regularly constituted law enforcement officers."

Buckland Named To CD Region

Richard K. Buckland, of Brownwood, was named by the Department of Public Safety (DPS) as the new regional civil defense liaison officer to Region Four, headquartered in Midland. Buckland will serve the Midland and Abilene districts and the San Angelo and El Paso sub-districts. He will assist the regional commander in operational procedures from the DPS office and aid in making available equipment on relief assistance as needed. If a disaster strikes, he will handle communications between the DPS and local officials. Buckland is married and has two children. He attended the University of California at Riverside and McVee College in Louisiana. He retired from the Army Air Corps as a major Sept. 30, 1968.

Youth Are Seeking Jobs

Do you have a summer job for a high school student? Workarama, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club in cooperation with the Texas Employment Commission, would be pleased to learn about it.

Jeff Talmadge, member of the Key Club, told Kiwanians Thursday that the young people, who come from the average home and who lack the connections to get a job, are anxious to work.

"We're not the kind who demonstrate or tear up things or riot or push radical ideas," he said. "We just want a chance to work." Those in upper brackets have help in getting jobs, and those in the lower brackets are given jobs because of their family's low income, but the average youth is caught in between, he said.

Yet they can fill jobs such as clerical, typist, stenographer, car hops, sales clerks, hand bill distributors, soda fountain help, grocery sackers, ticket takers, package delivery, service station work, yard work, child care, fence mending, painting, etc. Anyone who can use a young hired hand is urged to call 267-5291.

Park Restrooms Are Completed

With the construction of restrooms in Lakeview School-Park this week, the city fulfilled the initial agreement between the Big Spring Independent School District and the City Council.

Workmen finished the concrete block structure Wednesday, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager. The restrooms cost about $750 in materials to build.

The Parks and Recreation Board has also recommended construction of restrooms in Birdwell Park with the remaining $750 of the $75,000 bond for park improvement passed in September, 1960.

Fancy Pants Are Made From Low Grades Of Cotton, Wool

Dr. John R. Bradford told service clubmen here Thursday about a $25,000 pair of slacks which have gone through a dozen washings. They might help ease cotton producers' headaches, he said. So might a sweater with equal parts of cotton, wool and mohair.

completion of Tech's new textile laboratory the last of October. There will be none like it in the country, for this center can not only make the experimental runs, but is equipped to duplicate regular commercial production from raw materials to finished product.

That pair of fancy pants Dr. Bradford described, is the culmination of efforts to make use of high- and low-micronaire cotton, the low-grade lint which is either a drag on the market or faces a sharp price penalty. Treated and combined with pre-shrunk wool, it yields a yarn that has the feel of cotton and the looks and body of wool. The cotton imparts the permanent-press feature, so that after 12 washings, the slacks look like something fresh from the cleaners. In a couple of years, this should be on the market without that $25,000 research tag included.

Committees Named For Annual Rodeo Barbecue

Gibby Morehead, general chairman of the Kiwanis Club annual rodeo barbecue committee organization, said Thursday at J. C. Pickle will be chairman of activities at the City Park and Bill Johnson at the rodeo grounds.

Ice tea detail is in the hands of Billy Smith, Roscoe Newell, Charles Warren, Richard H. Goyette, Jene K. Taylor, Robert Plathowski, Jack Lee, Noel Reed and Bob Crowell.

What happens to cotton and other Texas grown or made fabrics is of vital importance because they constitute a $7 billion contribution to Texas' annual economy, he said. He was introduced by Dr. Dawson DeViney, James Thompson, Kiwanis president, presiding over the program arranged by Gerald Miller and the Chamber of Commerce for the newspaper.

The general public will be served at Big Spring City Park. Serving hours are from 5 to 8 p.m. Price of tickets is $1.25. Leon Taylor is general ticket chairman and all Kiwanians are provided with tickets to sell. Tickets will also be available at the park and at the rodeo grounds Wednesday night.

Denmark, Sweden Ban Use Of DDT

COPENHAGEN, (AP) — Denmark will follow Sweden's lead and ban the use of DDT in agriculture, forestry and horticulture next fall, the government's poison control agency announced today. Agency director Poul Bonnevie, said farmers can easily switch to new, equally efficient, but less dangerous, insecticides to replace the estimated 50 tons of DDT poured every year on Denmark's fields and gardens. Sweden is banning indoor use of DDT and forbidding outdoor use provisionally for a two year trial period. The outdoor ban in Denmark is permanent but Danes may go on using DDT as an indoor insecticide.

OPEN ALL DAY MONDAYS THROUGH SATURDAYS

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your mother who said to you when you were young, "Don't buy me anything for Mother's Day — I don't need anything."

I am that kind of mother, too, and I'm sure there are many mothers just like me. Mother's Day (like Christmas) has become so commercialized it's lost its meaning. It's downright embarrassing to be bombarded on all sides with "gifts" just because a date was circled on the calendar, and all the ads have urged you to buy this and that for mother on "her" day.

I love spontaneous gifts at odd times which come to me only because one of my children saw something he thought I'd enjoy. Mother's Day hits me, wrote Abby. It's how you treat your mother every day of the year that really counts.

There is something sad about the mother who is "honored" once a year. Her children buy her a corsage and take her out for Sunday dinner, but she sits and waits a whole year before they do it again. A MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the woman who wrote to say that her "mother" never missed an opportunity to remind her that she was adopted, hit a sympathetic note with me because my problem is just the opposite. We have an adopted daughter who never misses an opportunity to remind us that she is adopted so she is not really related to us.

ABBY: We adopted her as a tiny baby, and she has meant the world to us. But we must have failed somewhere along the way because apparently we don't mean very much to her.

We have no grandchildren as yet, but if she marries and has children I am sure she will tell them that they aren't related to us either.

Air Travelers Late, Planes Like Bows In A Kite's Tail

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reached-over basic controller-traffic-control-profession-more appealing. Airports around the country reported controllers were showing up to work in unusual numbers and operations were returning to normal following Bailey's sending out word the dispute was over. "People who have been calling in asking for sick leave have suddenly gotten well," a supervisor at the air traffic control center for the Chicago area reported. Similar reports came from key centers at New York and other cities.

The controllers either called in sick in unusually high numbers Thursday or applied Federal Aviation Administration safety rules so strictly that planes were up to four hours behind schedule and airlines canceled flights. Bailey, reached at his Boston home, said it would be misleading to say an agreement had been reached between the FAA and the PATCO, since that implies some organized effort to have the controllers not show up. But he said the association had urged the men to go back to work following a four-hour meeting Thursday night in the FAA is, in fact, studying Washington between PATCO officials and the FAA in which some understandings had been

Mistrial Ends Appeal Case

A mistrial was declared this morning in Howard County Court, before the jury was selected in the appeal case of Manuel Cuellar Jr.

County Court Judge Lee Porter ruled the mistrial because of an improper reference by the prosecution to the jury panel. Cuellar is appealing a speeding charge from Corporation Court.

Proceedings also began this morning for the case of Larry Edgar Burklow, who is also appealing a speeding charge from Corporation Court. Two persons pleaded guilty this week in County Court to driving while intoxicated, and defendants were each fined $50 plus court costs and given six-month probation sentences. They were Carson Grech Wells and Bartolo Vela Gonzales.

Mrs. Nixon Will Accent 'Positive Side'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, home from her first solo tour as First Lady, is planning trips to college campuses this fall to accent the "positive side" of what students are doing.

She said Thursday she wants to draw attention on volunteer social work being done by students.

Despite the campus demonstrations, Mrs. Nixon said the present generation of college students is "terrifically idealistic" and "more of them than we know" are working on community projects, helping in needy neighborhoods and tutoring the underprivileged.

"Students really want people to get their ideas, give them recognition and encouragement," said the First Lady. "That's not only what I'm going to do—it's what Dick's doing," she said, referring to the President's recent discussions on the draft with students. Mrs. Nixon displayed a keen, warm interest in the efforts of volunteers, young and old, on her trip to ten citizen projects in Oregon and California this week.

Mrs. Nixon traveled over 5,000 miles in four days on the first such trip she has ever taken on her own in more than 20 years as a political wife.

CAMP MASS STEPS

Rotary Citizen Of The Year

Adolph Swartz (left) and Lowell Jones (right) presented Col. W. C. McGlothlin, Webb AFB commander, with a plaque naming him Rotary Citizen of the Year Thursday. The plaque was engraved "To Col. W. C. 'Bill' McGlothlin Jr., for upbuilding of this community." Swartz was chairman of the nominating committee and Jones is president.

Quiet Night In Town Torn By Gunfire

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Tensions eased Friday after the first quiet night in a week in this Ohio river town torn by arson, gunfire and racial confrontations. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie ordered 70 state policemen into the city Thursday at the request of Police Chief William Petersen Sr. Mayor Lee Stenzel imposed a 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew Monday. Two persons were arrested Thursday for violating the order. They were charged with disorderly conduct and carrying weapons. Petersen ordered white citizens acting as special deputies to stop patrolling the city's streets.

Fancy Pants Are Made From Low Grades Of Cotton, Wool

Dr. John R. Bradford told service clubmen here Thursday about a $25,000 pair of slacks which have gone through a dozen washings. They might help ease cotton producers' headaches, he said. So might a sweater with equal parts of cotton, wool and mohair. Dr. Bradford, dean of engineering at Texas Tech, addressed a combined meeting of several service clubs hosted by the Kiwanians at the Settles. The Downtown Lions met jointly, and there were representatives from the ABC Club, Morning Optimists, Civitan, Coahoma Lions, Rotary and Javvacs. His report concerned research being done, and which will be expanded vastly with completion of Tech's new textile laboratory the last of October. There will be none like it in the country, for this center can not only make the experimental runs, but is equipped to duplicate regular commercial production from raw materials to finished product. That pair of fancy pants Dr. Bradford described, is the culmination of efforts to make use of high and low micronaire cotton, the low-grade lint which is either a drag on the market or faces a sharp price penalty. Treated and combined with pre-shrunk wool, it yields a yarn that makes a knitted fabric that has the feel of cotton and the looks and body of wool. The cotton imparts the permanent press feature, so that after 12 washings, the slacks look like something fresh from the cleaners. In a couple of years, this should be on the market without that $25,000 research tag included. Since Tech's target is fibres — not just cotton — three natural fibres which are in deep trouble (cotton, wool and mohair) were combined. A special treatment for low-grade cotton helped contribute to a fabric that has the feel of cashmere, plus a classy sheen. Researchers are turning to experiments with cotton and dacron for shirting. "Some experts — including those in the National Cotton Council — have cautioned that it's time for the cotton industry to pull its head out of the sand," he said. "There are fibers other than cotton."

"We are going to police this town," he said. "We are going to have a police department enforcing the law in this community, not every citizen." City and state officials met Thursday and decided to order all persons holding special commissions as sheriff's or coroner's deputies to remain at home unless called out by authorities for a specific purpose. State police were ordered to the city after Ogilvie said he had received reports that "white citizens, deputized by the sheriff and coroner, were patrolling the streets, stopping people and causing a serious problem for regularly constituted law enforcement officers." About 40 per cent of the city's population is Negro. Cairo has a history of racial conflict dating back to 1962. In 1967 and again this spring National Guardsmen were called in to quell serious disorders. Firebombings and shooting incidents have erupted sporadically since April 24. Four major fires, numerous lesser ones and many snippings have been reported since new incidents began Sunday.

Committees Named For Annual Rodeo Barbecue

Gibby Morehead, general chairman of the Kiwanis Club annual rodeo barbecue committee organization, said Thursday at J. C. Pickle will be chairman of activities at the City Park and Bill Johnson at the rodeo grounds. These annual barbecues are served by the Kiwanis Club on evening night of each year's Howard County Rodeo. In the past the Howard County Rodeo Association has picked up the meal tab for the riding club members from other towns who will be here for the parade and grand entry on opening night, June 25. This year, the association is not feeding its guests; however, Johnson and crew of Kiwanians will be on duty at the rodeo grounds and will serve barbecue to all who want it. The general public will be served at Big Spring City Park. Serving hours are from 5 to 8 p.m. Price of tickets is $1.25. Leon Taylor is general ticket chairman and all Kiwanians are provided with tickets to sell. Tickets will also be available at the park and at the rodeo grounds Wednesday night. Tickets, plates, napkins and other equipment at the barbecue will be distributed by Jack Worsham, Clyde Hollingsworth and Soc Walker. Meat servers are to be Wendal Parks, Robert G. Goodwin, Joe P. Gordon, Bob Bradberry, Sam Blackburn, Dawson DeViney, Robert Stripling, Horace Reagan, Jim Beam, W. A. Moore and Ben Bancroft. Bean servers are to be Ed Corson, Elmer Boatler, H. W. Smith, Harry W. Denmark, Sweden Ban Use Of DDT

COPENHAGEN, (AP) — Denmark will follow Sweden's lead and ban the use of DDT in agriculture, forestry and horticulture next fall, the government's poison control agency announced today. Agency director Poul Bonnevie said farmers can easily switch to new, equally efficient, but less dangerous, insecticides to replace the estimated 50 tons of DDT poured every year on Denmark's fields and gardens. Sweden is banning indoor use of DDT and forbidding outdoor use provisionally for a two year trial period. The outdoor ban in Denmark is permanent but Danes may go on using DDT as an indoor insecticide.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your mother who said to you when you were young, "Don't buy anything for Mother's Day — I don't need anything." I am that kind of mother, too, and I'm sure there are many mothers just like me. Mother's Day (like Christmas) has become so commercialized it's lost its meaning. It's downright embarrassing to be bombarded on all sides with "gifts" just because a date was circled on the calendar, and all the ads have urged you to buy this and that for mother on "her" day. I love spontaneous gifts at odd times which come to me only because one of my children saw something he thought I'd enjoy. Mother's Day hits me all wrong, Abby. It's how you treat your mother every day of the year that really counts. There is something sad about the mother who is "honored" once a year. Her children buy her a corsage and take her out for Sunday dinner, but she sits and waits a whole year before they do it again. A MOTHER DEAR ABBY: That letter from the woman who wrote to say that her "mother" never missed an opportunity to remind her that she was adopted, hit a sympathetic note with me because my problem is just the opposite. We have an adopted daughter who never misses an opportunity to remind us that she is adopted so she is not really related to us. Abby, we adopted her as a tiny baby, and she has meant the world to us. But we must have failed somewhere along the way because apparently we don't mean very much to her. We have no grandchildren as yet, but if she marries and has children I am sure she will tell them that they aren't related to us either.

Youth Are Seeking Jobs

Do you have a summer job for a high school student? Workarama, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club in cooperation with the Texas Employment Commission, would be pleased to learn about it. Jeff Talmadge, member of the Key Club, told Kiwanians Thursday that the young people who come from the average home and who lack the connections to get a job, are anxious to work. "We're not the kind who demonstrate or tear up things or riot or push radical ideas," he said. "We just want a chance to work." Those in upper brackets have help in getting jobs, and those in the lower brackets are given jobs because of their family's low income, but the average youth is caught in between, he said. Yet they can fill jobs such as clerical, typist, stenographers, car hops, sales clerks, hand bill distributors, soda fountain help, grocery sackers, ticket takers, package delivery, service station work, yard work, child care, fence mending, painting, etc. Anyone who can use a young hired hand is urged to call 267-5291.

Park Restrooms Are Completed

With the construction of restrooms in Lakeview School-Park this week, the city fulfilled the initial agreement between the Big Spring Independent School District and the City Council. Workmen finished the concrete block structure Wednesday, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager. The restrooms cost about $750 in materials to build. The Parks and Recreation Board has also recommended construction of restrooms in Birdwell Park with the remaining $750 of the $75,000 bond for park improvement passed in September, 1960.

Mrs. Nixon Will Accent 'Positive Side'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, home from her first solo tour as First Lady, is planning trips to college campuses this fall to accent the "positive side" of what students are doing.

She said Thursday she wants to focus attention on volunteer social work being done by students.

Despite the campus demonstrations, Mrs. Nixon said the present generation of college students is "terrifically idealistic" and "more of them than we know" are working on community projects, helping in needy neighborhoods and tutoring the underprivileged.

Mistrial Ends Appeal Case

A mistrial was declared this morning in Howard County Court, before the jury was selected in the appeal case of Manuel Cuellar Jr.

County Court Judge Lee Porter ruled the mistrial because of an improper reference by the prosecution to the jury panel. Cuellar is appealing a speeding charge from Corporation Court.

Proceedings also began this morning for the case of Larry Edgar Burklow, who is also appealing a speeding charge from Corporation Court.

Two persons pleaded guilty this week in County Court to driving while intoxicated, and defendants were each fined $50 plus court costs and given six-month probated sentences. They were Carson Grech Wells and Bartolo Vela Gonzales.

Assault Alleged

Charges were filed Monday in County Court against Robert Barragan, 609 Nolan, for aggravated assault of Mrs. Lupe Benavides, his former mother-in-law. Mrs. Benavides alleges Barragan broke into her home at 1206 W. 2nd early Saturday. He was released on $500 bond.

Air Travelers Late, Planes Like Bows In A Kite's Tail

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congestion crisis that threatened chaos at key airports around the country on one of their busiest days apparently ended this morning with the settlement of a dispute resulting from air controllers' complaints of being overworked and undermanned.

F. Lee Bailey, attorney for the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization, signaled an end to the dispute when he said this morning the group had urged its members to return to work on a normal basis.

The controllers either called in sick in unusually high numbers Thursday or applied Federal Aviation Administration safety rules so strictly that planes were up to four hours behind schedule and airlines canceled flights.

Bailey, reached at his Boston home, said it would be misleading to say an agreement had been reached between the FAA and the PATCO since that morning some organized effort to have the controllers not show up.

But he said the association had urged the men to go back to work following a four-hour meeting Thursday night in the FAA is, in fact, studying Washington between PATCO officials and the FAA in which some understandings had been reached over basic controller traffic control profession more appealing.

Airports around the country reported controllers were showing up to work in usual numbers and operations were returning to normal following Bailey's sending out word the dispute was over.

"People who have been calling in asking for sick leave have suddenly gotten well," a supervisor at the air traffic control center for the Chicago area reported.

Similar reports came from key centers at New York and other cities.

The controllers have been demanding more help, improved working conditions and better career opportunities.

Bailey said the FAA had agreed to consider these problems.

FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer said today he was pleased with the controllers' action.

"I hope they will be back at full strength," he said, indicating a return to normal operations on a day traditionally one of the busiest for the airlines.

Shaffer added there "is recognized need for additional air traffic control staffing to meet the demands on the system and second career opportunities for controllers and/or early retirement as ways to make the air

C-City Business Booms As Road Closed For Bomb Move

Bombs waiting for a truck to take them to Abilene for repacking for shipment.

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Thirty-nine thousand pounds of bombs left Colorado City, Thursday at 5 p.m., with a highway patrol escort, bound for the McAllister Trucking Company at Abilene, according to the Colorado City Police Department.

The bombs will be packed for interstate shipment and sent on to a military installation in California for X-ray inspection for possible damage received in an accident which occurred Wednesday morning.

The bombs were originally bound for a military installation at Concord, Calif., but were sidetracked Wednesday when the truck in which they were shipped struck a farm tractor on the Colorado River bridge on Interstate 20, two miles northwest of Colorado City, and went over the side of the bridge, dropping about 40 feet to the dry bank of the river.

The driver, Jimmie L. McGee, 22, of Collins, Miss., was killed and his body was to be returned to Mt. Olive, Miss., by plane Thursday afternoon. Nick Soliz, 48, driver of the farm tractor was still hospitalized with minor injuries Thursday.

The bombs did not explode and a bomb disposal crew from Fort Hood, stood by all day Wednesday, but were not used and returned to Fort Hood. The bombs were recovered from the wrecked truck by employees of the McAllister Trucking firm and loaded on a trailer. Loading was completed at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Traffic was diverted from IS 20 during the loading period from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. and Colorado City streets looked like a boom town again as hundreds of tourists and big truck rigs funneled through the narrow streets.

Smith Will Drop Second Shoe

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith will drop the other shoe on statewide television tonight, and it may hit 151 legislators on the head.

Smith dropped the first shoe on June 11, when he said he would announce on television what he will do about the one-year $2.8 billion appropriations bill.

If he vetoes the bill, lawmakers will have to come back for a special session of the legislature this summer.

His remarks have been so closely guarded that only five copies of his speech have been made.

Thirty television stations have confirmed they will carry Smith's speech at 7:30 p.m., and six others plan to show it later.

Smith was to tape his address prior to broadcast time.

The governor's speech also will be available for simultaneous broadcast by Texas radio stations.

Even if Smith says he will sign the spending bill, or allow

Capt. Allee Will Retire After Years As Ranger

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP)—Capt. A. Y. Allee, 63, the salty Texas Ranger who can't count the number of times he's been shot at, says he will retire Oct. 1 of 1970.

"I'm looking forward to it," the lawman said Thursday, his voice rumbling like thunder as he looked back to 1931 when he joined the Rangers.

"I'll spend the rest of my time hunting and fishing with my grandchildren," said the man who has tracked down "everything from murders to cattle rustling."

"I made up my mind I'm going out with a smile on my face," Allee said. "I'm one feller really looking forward to retirin'."

His grandchildren are the son and daughter of his only son—A. Y. Allee Jr., also a Texas Ranger.

The senior Allee's father and grandfather were Rangers.

Allee, who will be 64 in September, couldn't find the words to describe how he feels about being a living part of Texas history.

He paused and recalled how

Three Arrested On Odessa Counts

The Howard County Sheriff's Department is holding three persons who were picked up Thursday afternoon here on charges of shoplifting and forgery in Odessa.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said Arthur Neal Reed, 24, Gloria Lillian Banks, 34, and Pearlletta Polk, 40, all of Bryan, were stopped by deputies about 2 p.m. Thursday at the intersection of FM 700 and Gregg, after his department received a bulletin from the Ector County Sheriff's Department.

Bond was set at $2,000 each by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, and Ector County deputies are expected to take the three to Odessa today.

Millionaire Oilman Murchison, 74, Dies

ATHENS, Tex. (AP)—Millionaire oilman Clint Murchison Sr., 74, died early today in Henderson County Memorial Hospital.

He had been in declining health for some time and had been living at his Henderson County ranch the past few years.

Funeral arrangements are complete at Hassell and Foster Funeral Home in Athens.

Murchison, who was a millionaire at 32, was among the first of a generation of enterprising Texans to become wealthy in oil between the wars.

Estimates of his worth have varied between 100 and 500 million dollars, placing him among the world's richest men.

Aside from oil and gas, his holdings over the years have proliferated into railroads, book publishing, buses, taxis, outdoor theaters, restaurants, real estate and fishing gear manufacture.

He was once said to control 115 separate companies at one time.

Murchison became adept at being able to "spin" one company out of another, usually on borrowed money. Most of his wealth was in "things" and not money.

"Cash," he often said, "makes a man careless."

Lavish houses fascinated him. His best known were a 25-room Dallas mansion built for $125,000 in 1936, and another showplace on his 75,000-acre ranch in the Sierra Madre wilderness in Mexico.

He had an airship capable of landing DC-3s built on his Mexico ranch, and once sent a fleet of planes to bring Dallas guests to a party attended by the Duke of Windsor.

Unlike some Texas millionaires, Murchison did not start at the bottom but rather in the middle.

He was born into an East Texas banking family in 1895 and grew up at Athens, a Piney Woods town located some 75 miles southeast of Dallas.

He left the bank, organized

Rockefeller Okays Change Of Destination

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller extended his visit to Paraguay one day, until Saturday and agreed to a change of destination in Uruguay, his next stop, because of threatened demonstrations there.

After a week of clashes between police and students in Montevideo, Uruguayan officials announced Rockefeller would bypass their capital and fly to the secluded resort of Punta del Este for his talks with President Jorge Pacheco Areco.

Rockefeller meets today with President Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay, who has prepared a request for $115 million in long-term American loans for Rockefeller to take back to President Nixon.

The New York governor arrived to a warm welcome at Asuncion airport Thursday where several thousand persons cheered him. Rockefeller told them he was "encantado"—very pleased—then went over to shake hands with a crowd in a roped off area.

But some Paraguayan students said they will try to stage a demonstration before Rockefeller leaves.

Rockefeller is on the third leg of a presidential fact-finding mission intended to develop new guidelines for U.S. policy in Latin America.

Minor Mishaps Investigated

Police investigated several minor accidents Thursday.

Cars driven by Morris Victor Thwaitt, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Felix Lesa Perez, San Angelo, were drivers of cars involved in a minor accident at Fourth and Gregg. Francis C. Reese, Box 1573, and Cuca P. Everett, 104 NW 8th, were drivers of cars involved in a collision at Third and Curry.

A fender-bender at Third and Ayford involved cars driven by Floyd Leon Hitchcock, 404 State, and Arnold Odell Tunn, 2311 Roberts. Acex Banks, 503 NW 4th, and Billy Ray Prather, Amarillo, were drivers of vehicles involved in a minor accident at Third and Gregg.

Turbulent Weather Keeps Battering Parts Of Texas

By The Associated Press

Wild weather kept right on making passes at Texas on this last official day of spring.

The almost nightly siege of big, bad thunderstorms and occasional tornadoes centered its attack early this morning on a cluster of North Texas counties near the Red River.

During the night hail up to the size of baseballs and gusty downpours also punished sections of the Texas Panhandle to deep in the central part of the state.

A whole flock of tornadoes—hatched north and east of Abilene in West Central Texas, and at least two inflicted damage.

One twister wrecked the E. E. Jordan farm home three miles west of Lueders where the family was safely sheltered in a storm cellar. It skipped on to strike a glancing blow at a house several miles to the north.

An apparent tornado was blamed for extensive damage in Eastland, where roofs of several homes were lifted, the county courthouse and a school were damaged and utility poles and trees were toppled.

State police relayed reports of still other funnel clouds whirling harmlessly through the sky seven miles southeast of Anson and northeast of Haskell. Hail the size of golf balls pelted Knox City and smaller hail fell at Stamford, in the same general vicinity.

Storms concentrating on the east side of the Panhandle bombed a rural area 10 miles southwest of Memphis with hail as big as baseballs, and the turbulent weather battering Eastland turned loose some the same

No 1 Stringfellow drilled to 7,718 feet in the Wolfcamp and set 7-inch casing at 7,648 feet in the Wolfcamp. It was originally started as a 4½-mile southeast extender for Wolfcamp production in the Hutto South (Wolfcamp) reservoir.

That area has upper Wolfcamp, along with the regular Wolfcamp, and a Fusselman production. Some of the holes in the field have shown possibilities from the Clear Fork but until now none of them have completed in that zone.

The Wolfcamp will be checked after the producing ability of the San Andres is determined.

Mitchell Towns Will Be Linked

WESTBROOK (SC)—Free dialing will come to Westbrook July 1 when all major phone systems within Mitchell county will be linked directly to Colorado City, according to Bill Gilliland, Colorado City-Snyder manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Westbrook City Council approved a higher monthly phone rate for its telephone customers, and thus paved the way for the improved service. This will eliminate the charge for phone calls between the towns of Loraine and Colorado City before the service last year.

Equipment necessary for the conversion of toll-free calling has been installed in Westbrook and is now being tested.

Irish Voters Give Lynch Small Lead

DUBLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Jack Lynch's conservative Fianna Fail party appeared today to have won a razor-thin majority in Ireland's parliamentary elections. Lynch called it "a great victory."

With 17 of the 143 contested seats still undecided, the Fianna Fail—Soldiers of Destiny—held 66 seats in the Dail, the lower house of Parliament. The Centrist Fine Gael—Irish party—had captured 44 seats, and the leftist Labor party won 16.

The vote confounded politicians and writers who had predicted that Lynch's party would lose its two-seat edge in the Dail and said the prime minister would have to form a minority government or call for new elections in the fall.

Fianna Fail had campaigned on its record of encouraging industrial growth and increasing welfare benefits during its 12 years in power. Fine Gael called for expanded welfare aid and a crash housing program. The Laborites, boosted by the candidacy of several intellectuals and well-known farmers for the party's first national campaign effort, were pushing for establishment of a welfare state and for giving workers a voice in industry.

Lynch's entire Cabinet was re-elected Dail seats also went to Fine Gael leader Liam Cosgrave, President Eamon de Valera's son Vivion de Valera and Laborite Conor Cruise O'Brien. O'Brien, 51, one of his party's recent recruits, is a former humanities professor at New York University and was the chief U.N. representative in the Congo during the chaotic days of Congolese independence in 1961. He quit the U.N. post amid a flurry of accusations against the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's handling of the crisis and accepted the vice chancellorship of Ghana's university.

O'Brien left Ghana critical of government interference in university affairs and accepted the Schweitzer chair in humanities at NYU.

In December, 1967, he was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace while participating in a demonstration in New York against the Vietnam war but was acquitted a few months later.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Do over any contracts or statements you have made. Eliminate any errors, carry through with your promises. Speak up with your associates and tell them what your ideas are. Gain support for them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) Although you like to be generous with others, now it is best for you to be sure of your own financial position and well-being. Be more economical in certain areas. Plan how to get what you really want.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sep 22) Analyze your position and your appearance. Make all the improvements that are necessary. Don't hesitate to change things. One in a higher position may be suspicious of you. Do nothing to warrant that.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) You are able to make a fine impression on one in a higher position if you do your work exceptionally well, and if you show you are a first-class citizen. Get out of that fix work, too. It may be a bit boring, but do it anyway.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) You want to get certain new situations working for you, but you may have more data first. Take care that some new contact doesn't try to persuade you to do something you care nothing about. Stand firm.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Paying your bills, using your charm to make collections, and improving your property are fine activities today. Try not to spend money unnecessarily. This could lead to more expense later.

Kayaks Slow Water Skier

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The water skier surprised Mrs. Gerald Hicks, but not as much as the pickup truck doing the towing.

The unusual hookup went zipping past the Hicks home when knee-deep water sloshed across Lehi Drive after a storm in suburban Granger.

They were having a ball, said Mrs. Hicks. "Except, they had to slow down once in a while for the kayaks."

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — W. Francis English received a college doctorate degree nine days after he was awarded his high school diploma.

English, retiring dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Missouri, earned 15 high school units in three years as a youth—enough to admit him to college but not enough to qualify for a high school diploma.

The certificate was given him recently when he gave the commencement address at North Callaway High School. Nine days later he received an honorary doctorate from Westminster College.

Tourists Pay

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Tourists paid nearly 24 per cent of all Florida's taxes last year, a state agency says. Out-of-state visitors spent about $5.5 billion while in Florida and some $263 million of that was in taxes, said the agency.

Vetoes Settle Fate Of 38 Bills, Dozen Resolutions

AUSTIN (AP) — There is no more doubt about the legal status of bills that arrived late on Gov. Preston Smith's desk. They are dead. Smith killed them Thursday with vetoes.

Ten days ago, the governor questioned the legality of 38 bills and 12 resolutions that reached him seven days after the legislature adjourned on June 2.

Gov. Ben Barnes said Smith's position was "ridiculous."

Sen. A. R. Schwartz, author of 13 of the bills and outspoken critic of Smith when Smith presided over the Senate as lieutenant governor, asked Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin for his opinion.

Martin gave that opinion Thursday morning. To the hypothetical question of what happens in the case of a bill which the journals of the two houses say was signed in the presence of both houses, Martin said the bill would become law without the governor's signature if he did not veto it.

Smith said Martin's opinion was "absolutely not a correct analysis."

"I'm not a lawyer," Smith told station KTRH in Houston. "I'm just a businessman and I don't understand all of this legal chicanery, and I doubt the people do. But I can read the constitution."

The constitution gives the governor 20 days after the legislature adjourns to consider bills passed in the final 10 days of the session.

If the legislature can withhold bills for seven days, why couldn't it withhold them for 21 days and let them become law without his signature and without giving him an opportunity to veto them, he said.

Among the bills was one creating 27 state district courts, mainly in the big cities. Smith said the constitutionality of one of those courts might later be questioned in a death penalty case, for example.

Martin said the state Supreme Court has ruled that the dates and signature on the bills and the house journals are "conclusive evidence" that they were constitutionally passed.

Smith said Martin's opinion "does not speak to the question of timely presentation nor does it speak directly to the issue of whether or not a bill is validly passed when not signed in the presence of both houses."

"The attorney general's opinion is confined to court rules of evidence which prohibit actual compliance with constitutional rules and all cases cited apply

"The governor has not approved these bills, and the governor is not protected nor bound by court rules of evidence which permit him to close his eyes to the actual facts. The governor is part of the process by which bills are passed, and as governor, I do not intend to become involved in any situation where the constitution was not followed."

not the deciding factor.

The original letter contracts called for paying GM $56 million to supply 240,000 rifles and H&R $42 million for the same number. The Army said the difference in price was due to labor costs.

When the final price was set later in the year, the figure for GM had been cut $9.3 million while that for H&R was down $25 million. The totals were still higher than what the Army was paying Colt's.

GM has been turning out M16s ahead of the contract schedule. As of May 31, it had supplied 29,676. Its contract also had called for delivery of 19,000 by that date.

In July, the Army is scheduled to award two new M16 contracts for a total of 687,652 rifles at a rate of 60,000 a month starting next spring.

Unless the Army's requirements for M16s increase, one of the three current suppliers—GM, H&R or Colt's—will be dropped.

An Army spokesman said the proposals for the new contracts were submitted June 12. He said the contracts will be awarded primarily on the basis of lowest price. But, he added, other factors could be decisive.

After the controversy over last spring's awards, Congress amended procurement regulations to require that price always be considered even if it is

M16 Supplier In Running For New Rifle Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the two new suppliers of M16 rifles for the Vietnam war is scrambling to catch up with the Army's delivery schedule and stay in the running for huge new rifle contracts to be awarded this summer.

As of May 31, Harrington & Richardson Inc. had supplied 12,210 of the lightweight rapid firing weapons used by combat troops in Vietnam. The delivery schedule on the controversial contract the Worcester, Mass. firm received last spring called for supply of 19,000 rifles by that date.

The Army, stirred a wave of congressional criticism a year ago when it awarded M16 contracts to H&R and to General Motors' Hydramatic Division. The House and Senate Armed Services Committee launched investigations after the Associated Press disclosed that the Army would be paying the new suppliers far more than it had to buy M16s from Colt's Inc. of Hartford, Conn.

It also was disclosed then that two other companies which had paraded to supply the rifles at a lower price than either GM or H&R.

The Army told Congress it had not considered price. Army officials said they chose GM and H&R on grounds they were best qualified to supply quality weapons under an accelerated production schedule.

An Army spokesman said Thursday that H&R had fallen short of the contract delivery schedule for three of the first four months of production. He added that the company has corrected its problems and expects to be on schedule by July 31.

An Army spokesman said the proposals for the new contracts were submitted June 12. He said the contracts will be awarded primarily on the basis of lowest price. But, he added, other factors could be decisive.

After the controversy over last spring's awards, Congress amended procurement regulations to require that price always be considered even if it is

WHAT-WILL-THEY-THINK-OF-NEXT?

The Latest Fashion Fad: Bosom Makeup

NEW YORK (AP) — The current craze for nudity in fashion has sparked a whole series of new products ranging from body stockings for the modest to body jewelry for the daring.

And the latest idea in the what-will-they-think-of-next category probably will raise more eyebrows than all the rest put together.

It's makeup for the bosom. The new line of makeup was introduced Thursday by Kenneth, the hairdresser turned cosmetics entrepreneur. He showed the makeup to 200 fashion editors at the New York Couture Group's fall and winter showings this week.

Kenneth said that although he feels "the human body looks better covered up," the "times are against him." "We are going to start to feel more conscious of how we look naked," he said.

The new makeup, called

Cotton Fashions Take Contest Awards

Style Show Creations Take Cotton Awards

"King Cotton" proved itself fit for a queen last night as the local observance of National Cotton Week climaxed with a style show in the auditorium at Big Spring High School. The event featured contestants in the "Sew It With Cotton" promotion, with three top winners being named in each of five categories.

In Division One (children's clothing up to 12 years made by adult or student) winners were Mrs. Ray Swann, first; Mrs. Dan Brasher, second; and Mrs. Bud Nichols, third. The Division Two (sub-deb clothing through 13 years made by girl modeling the garment) winners were Darla Kay Harrington, first; Kayla Gaskins, second; and Donna James, third.

Fourteen models appeared for Division Three (juniors, 14 through 16 years made by girl modeling the garment). The top awards went to Joan Crawford, first; Debra Buchanan, second; and Patsy Hendrix, third.

The Division Four (senior 17 through 20 years made by girl modeling garment) top spots went to Carolyn Crawford, first; Linda Foster, second; and Kathryn Dirks, third.

The final group was Division Five (adult 21 years or older made by woman modeling garment). These placings were Mrs. J. E. Peugh, first; Mrs. Frances Zant, second; and Mrs. J. D. Smith, third.

Mrs. Peugh's award was won with a three-piece beige and black basket weave costume featuring a wide laped long-line jacket, A-line skirt and bell-bottom pant. Miss Crawford took her prize with a yellow cotton lace formal designed with Empire diagonal bodice and satin sash caught with a rhinestone clip.

Robin Ethridge modeled the costume made by Mrs. Ray Swann which was a navy and white novelty weave with dropped waist circled by a narrow red belt. A red tie completed the dress.

Darla Harrington received a first place in her division by modeling her casual creation which teamed a blue shambay dirndl skirt, buttoned in red, with a sleeveless bandana print blouse Joan Crawford, another first place winner, modeled a white pique two-piece dress with long torso overblouse trimmed in black and white braid. The dress was styled with a flared skirt.

The show was presented against a background of fluffy cotton bales and massive bolls which were placed about the stage.

Mrs. Robert Daniel was narrator, with Lila Williams serving as pianist. Gene McElroy was master of ceremonies, and a special entertainment was provided by the Big Spring High School Dixieland Band.

Both the audience and contestants were eligible for prizes awarded at the end of the show. A sewing machine was won by Miss Dirks, and the TV set went to Byron Hill.

Two of the sewing contest winners, Miss Dirks and Miss Carolyn Crawford will be entering Texas Tech this fall majoring in home economics and fashion design.

Members of the style show committee are Mrs. Delaine Crawford, chairman; Mrs. Jack Alexander, Mrs. Jo Bright, Mrs. Wilbur Cunningham, Miss Edith Gay, Mrs. Tolbert Grisham, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. Albert Hill, Mrs. Johnny Justice, Mrs. M. S. Knowles, Mrs. Jesse Majors, Tom Merrill, G. B. McElroy, Gerald Miller, Jerry Sherrill, Mrs. Jerry Torbensen, Mrs. Walter Wheat and Miss Helen Willard. Judges for the contest are Mrs. Carl Fambro, Mrs. Ernest Lillard, Mrs. William Lund, Mrs. Bob Renshaw, Mrs. Ray Swann, Mrs. Walter Wheat, Mrs. Frances Zant, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mrs. William Martin.

Numerous local merchants have assisted by donating prizes, providing stage decorations and promoting cotton products.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

As you know, with pantyhose when you ruin one leg you may as well throw them away — and they are quite expensive! Well, here's what I do:

First, you know how they have a seam running around the top of the leg part — well, about an inch below this seam I cut off the leg with the runner. Then when I have two to make a "pair" again, I wear them both.

Sure, you have to wear two "half pairs," but the top part is so thin and lightweight that you don't even know you're wearing them. Just Jeannie!

Most of us girls nowadays wear pantyhose, but nothing makes me madder than to ruin one stocking and have to throw the whole kaboodle away.

Money wasted!

Some of you have said that you cut off one leg and sew another stocking on it. But that's time, trouble and, really, it doesn't fit.

What Jeannie is trying to tell us is:

Just take your scissors and cut off the stocking that has the run in it. Then when you wear another pair and ruin one leg, cut it off.

THEN put the TWO pairs of the panty stockings on at the same time (one left and one right). You'll have a complete new pair again! So what if you've got two pair of thin panties on?

That's fine. Some of them are too thin anyway.

I NEVER buy just one or two pairs. I buy at least three alike. I keep the tag and next time buy the same brand and color. This can go on for months and months.

Think of the money you are going to save. Why throw something away when it isn't necessary? We all work for those dimes and quarters.

And don't forget, odd stockings can be tinted or dyed.

My many blessing upon Jeannie for cluing us in on this terrific budget saver. Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Don't throw away your old coat hangers. They can be used as holders for rolls of waxed paper, plastic wrap, foil or paper towels.

Make a cut in the middle of the lower wire. Then pull apart, place your roll on the wires and push back together again.

It works beautifully.

These could be used on the back of a pantry door with a staggered effect. Just place nails — each one lower than the other — and hang up your foil and waxed paper. D.V.M., Age 12

A LOVELIER YOU Color Uses Unlimited In Decorative Plans

By MARY SUE MILLER

The blonde who so strikingly wears unrelieved black all winter may need to modify her color theme when she acquires a suntan. Tanning changes your color type, you know. Even that of an olive-skinned brunet. The color tables, if not completely turned, are more than a bit topsy-turvy.

A tanned blonde can wear deeper pastels than is her wintertime custom. Strong aqua and ripe peach, for instance. Creamy white, black relieved with white, dark brown, and golden reds also form a beautiful background for fair hair and a tan.

To set off a tanned brunet, colors have to be either brilliant or low-keyed. Her name is on high intensity yellow, flag red, emerald green, stark white. As her skin darkens, pale grays and beiges, water greens and blues become more and more flattering.

What about the redhead? If she's a natural redhead, she may never be faced with a color problem. For the chances are she cannot get a good tan and will not try to.

However, when a Lovely with red hair does develop a tan, she must be extra fussy about the shades she wears. She's a target for light, grayed-off greens, yellow and mauves, for wheat and dove gray. Dark colors, not even dark green, will do much for her now. Very carefully chosen, off-shades of coral and reddish brown seem custom made for her.

Whatever shades you wear, heaven forbid they should detract from a hard-won tan.

EYES OF YOUTH

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, THE EYES OF YOUTH. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

A bridal shower for Miss Cindy Decker, bride-elect of Johnny McCullough, was held recently in the home of Mrs. James W. Findley, 2604 Clanton. Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Spivey, Mrs. R. P. Morton, Mrs. James Norman, Miss Shirley Osborn, Mrs. D. M. Osborn, Miss Kathleen Morton, Mrs. Wilbur Pope, Mrs. Sam Wells, Mrs. G. R. Brown, Mrs. Ted McMurry, Mrs. Leroy Findley and Mrs. Burl Lewis.

The honoree received guests with her mother, Mrs. Omer Decker. Miss Decker received a white gardenia corsage, and her mother was presented a pink corsage.

Pink cutwork linen covered the refreshment table, and appointments were of crystal and silver. Pink candles flanked a miniature bride and groom under an arch topped with white bells. The registry featured an arrangement of white doves and bells.

Miss Decker was attired in a pink knit sheath with three-quarter sleeves accented with ruffles. She and her fiance plan to be married June 27 at the Airport Baptist Church.

Two 4-H Girls Give Program

Two 4-H Club girls presented a program Thursday afternoon for the Elbow Home Demonstration Club which met in the home of Mrs. B. F. Petty.

"Does Anything Fit Like a Glove?" was the topic chosen by Kayla Gaskin of the Knott 4-H Club, and "Don't Be A Dropout" was the title of a talk given by Joan Crawford of the Big Spring 4-H Club.

The hostess gave the devotion, after which roll call was answered with "a cure for the blues."

The nominating committee was named to include Mrs. Denver Yates, Mrs. Jack McKinnon and Mrs. Lewis Soles. The club will not meet again until September when Mrs. Petty will again be hostess.

Refreshments were served to the members and guests including Mrs. Wayman Clark and Mrs. Joe Gaskin.

NEW YORK (AP) — The hall is big and mostly dark, except for the garish, oscillating patterns of colored light flashing on the wide screens at either side and behind the throbbing clamor of the band.

Across the broad, dim interior, streaked with racing, phosphorescent beams, about 1,000 young people sit in little groups at white-topped tables, absorbed in the electric rock sounds and the shimmering psychedelic glow.

Then the loud music stops, and a lean, thick-haired guitar player, in bright blue shirt and white pants, with a red kerchief at his neck, steps to the microphone and tells how a relationship with Christ got him off dope.

"It's a fantastic experience," he said. "Jesus gives you a way. He sticks with you. He's for you, and once you tune in with Him, you just keep wanting to know and love Him better."

Bam, thump and strumming strings. Again, the amplified rock reverberations flood the room; the flowing chromatic lights trace phantom designs on the panels, and a shapely girl in a miniskirt steps up to sing a ballad.

Each night after evangelist Billy Graham's service in Madison Square Garden, where he is devoting special attention to young people, swarms of them migrate a block up the street to keep the mood jumping until midnight.

Making 'The Scene'

Complete with psychedelic lighting and throbbing rock music, the Rev. John Guest, right, runs a nightly "coffee house" program as part of Billy Graham's current crusade in New York City. Playing at left is band member, Rick Lane.

"It's a culture shock to most religious people," says the Rev. John Guest, the wide-belted, wavy-haired young British Anglican priest who runs the program, and who looks and dresses like a swinger himself.

"Religion is generally regarded as something that belongs only in a staid, musty environment, but what we're saying here is that it fits into the secular world," he said. "It's a new scene."

In between the rock and folk music, and the brief, simple affirmations of faith from the microphones, the table groups talk with conversation, much of it about religion.

"It's fun," said Rosula Niemczyk, 20, Brooklyn, a pretty blonde Catholic who came here

Musical To Be Staged At First Baptist

A contemporary Christian musical, "Christ In You The Hope," will be presented by the young people of the First Baptist Church at the evening worship Sunday at 7 o'clock.

Objective of the musical is to encourage consecration on the part of the laity so that Christ living in the individual may be seen by the world.

The music features instruments such as the guitar, string bass and flute as well as the piano, and it has a definite beat. Special lighting effects will accompany the narration.

Youths in the choir will be in contemporary dress. "Christ In You The Hope" is a composition of Philip Landgrave.

The pianist will be Shelly Greer; David Bentley and Dan Gillespie, the guitarists; Tommy Butler, the string bass; Laula Lemons and Marjorie Carlton the flutes for the finale. Narrators will be Sidney Clark and Bob Bryant.

The program, said Bobby Jack Priddy, director, is only 30 minutes in length.

Linda Taylor On Glorieta Staff

GLORIETA, N.M. — Linda Taylor is one of 450 staff members of Glorieta Baptist Assembly this summer. A graduate of Big Spring High School, she is the daughter of Willis E. Taylor, Big Spring.

She will work in the 2,500 seat dining hall during the first half of the summer season. Glorieta Baptist Assembly, located 15 miles east of historic Santa Fe, N.M., covers a 2,500-acre mountain site. A 13-week summer program for Southern Baptists emphasizes church conferences, youth activities, mission studies, and leadership training sessions. The assembly is owned and operated by the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Church Women

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The Church is becoming a feminine movement with many more women joining than men according to a survey issued by the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland. The survey showed that 65 per cent of recruits under 21 and 53 per cent of those over 21 were women.

Springer Selected Elder Statesman

R. A. Springer, treasurer of the 1.8 million member Baptist Association of Texas, presents the award annually in recognition of long and outstanding service.

Born August 2, 1905, he is the oldest in point of service on the BGCT level and the youngest of 10 previous recipients of the Elder Statesman Award.

Though busy with denominational activities, Springer has found time for a number of outside activities — ranging from collecting trophies in league bowling to serving as mayor of Fruitdale, a small community now incorporated into the city of Dallas, from 1951-56.

The Midlothian native has contributed significantly to Texas Baptist growth since joining the BGCT state offices in Dallas in the post depression year of 1938. That year the BGCT budget amounted to some $310,000. In 1969, the BGCT operated under a $13.5 million budget.

Mobile Pulpit

SUTTON-IN-ASHFIELD, England (AP) — A local churchman, Arthur Quincey, has built a mobile pulpit and is offering the design to any clergymen who have difficulty in bridging the gap between themselves and small congregations in large churches where pulpits are a long way from the pews. It costs less than 15 dollars and can be made in under 10 hours, Quincey says. The mobile pulpit just books on to the pews that are nearest to the congregation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON CONTINUES STUDY OF BIBLE

This week the International Sunday School lesson continues with the second of three readings concerning the significance of the Bible for our faith. We must remember God's concern for us is personal and the Bible offers us, not religious sentiment, but a road map to life.

Deut. 5:1-4 and 30:15-20 show God has given two definite choices in life: The one we pick will determine whether our eternity is death or life.

God's covenant is not with ancestors — but with each of us (Deut. 5:3). On Mt. Sinai Moses had to act as mediator between God and Israel: in our time, Christ performs this mediator role. Through His life and death He presents us with God's new covenant, and we are faced with the same choice as Israel.

The road to life requires certain things. Jesus said the first was to love the Lord and do His will. Love keeps obedience from being sham; it makes duty authentic, and together they bring happiness and blessing.

The way to death is equally clear: By turning away one's heart and refusing to listen to God's voice (Deut. 30:17). Moses tried to hammer this point into Israel's consciousness, yet Israel continually disobeyed the Lord.

Our problem is not in seeing the choices; we know these. Rather it's in making the right choice. This involves our total person, mind as well as emotions. If we are to make the right choice, our commitment to Christ and the Father must be total (Deut. 30:20).

Four Mormons Located Here

Four missionaries for the Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, are now situated in Big Spring.

They are Kent Crookston, Charles Martin, Mark Jorgensen and Kelly Cook, who may be reached by calling phone 267-8351. None is required to spend the two-years in service of the Lord, nor does the Church demand it, but it is on a volunteer basis. The missionaries pay their own way.

Elder Crookston came from a small town in Kaysville, Utah, a Mormon settlement of about 4,000. He graduated from high school there in 1966, and attended Weber College in Ogden for one and a half years. He has been in Big Spring for about three weeks, and on a mission 13 months.

Elder Martin, a convert of 20 months, is from Dayton, Ohio. He is blind and has been for the last five years. He will be attending B. Y. U. in Utah at the close of his mission, having almost a year left.

Elder Jorgensen is one of the Spanish speaking missionaries, having been trained in Provo for three months at the Language Training Mission. He is from Greenville, N.C., and attended one year at East Carolina University as a physical education major.

HURRY UP and RELAX

Highways, superhighways, turnpikes, freeways, expressways—they crisscross America, leading in every imaginable direction. And, they get you there so fast, you are past the right exit before you know it. We live in such a speed-oriented world that, when we are not working, we feel we must "hurry up and relax." At times we even feel guilty when we are not busy about something.

We don't really like our foolish pace. We speak longingly of peace of mind and quietude, and we take tranquilizers by the ton. We search frantically... on vacations, on "lost weekends," on "fun activities"... but tranquility is hard to find.

Perhaps we are seeking too hard. Perhaps tranquility is not to be sought. Rather, isn't it what happens when you are at peace with yourself, no matter the circumstances?

You can be at peace with yourself only when you are at peace with God. He is the very center of your being, and His peace is freely given when you accept it.

Accept this great gift of God in the very best place of all—His Church.

SPARKLE?—UH—WITH VERA ALLDID?—ARE YOU SURE, B.O.?

I SAW IT IN HIS EYES AND I SAW IT IN HERS!—WEEKS AGO!

FROM DOGNAPPING TO GIRL-NAPPING!—MYSTERIOUS NEW CASE, EH?

HMM! AN OLD CASE! THE OLDEST!

THE OLDEST MYSTERY KNOWN TO MAN, SPELLED L-O-V-E!

MARY WORTH

WHERE DO FELICE AND HIS FAMILY LIVE, ARTHUR?

OVER IN THE... UH... COLONY, SWEET!—ALL OUR DOMESTICS HAVE HOMES THERE!

HE HAS BEEN SO KIND TO ME—I'D LIKE TO GO SEE IF I CAN DO ANYTHING FOR HIS SICK WIFE!

BUT... WE HAVE A GOLF DATE WITH SYD AND JUNIOR, DARLING!

ANYHOW, THEY'RE GREAT MALIGNERS—ALL THOSE MEX...

I MEAN... THOSE SERVANTS!

GET SOMEONE ELSE FOR YOUR FOURSOME! ...I'M GOING TO OFFER HELP TO... A FELLOW MEXICAN!

REX MORGAN

RIGHT NOW THERE'S ONE THING WHICH BOTHERS ME: DR. MORGAN... THE RESIDENT... HE'S ACTUALLY FALLEN IN LOVE WITH LEA!

HE'S YOUNG AND I DON'T WANT TO SEE HIM HURT...

I WISH YOU COULD BELIEVE IT! ...NO!

OF COURSE WE REALLY HAVE NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT! WITH ALL THE EVIDENCE STALKED AGAINST LEA FOSTER...

HAS DR. DAVID BEEN IN IT?

NO! DR. MORGAN DON'T WANT YOU TO HAVE ANY VISITORS. HE'LL BE BACK TO SEE YOU SHORTLY.

TERRY

AT ZUZY'S INSISTENCE, THE TRIBES-PEOPLE AROUND HER EXPLAIN THE STAKE IN THE FIGHT BETWEEN CHAPPIE KHAN AND PIFFE.

THE INSULTING PIG! I'LL MAKE CHAPPIE KHAN PAY FOR THIS!

WHILE, BATTLING FRANTICALLY TO AVOID THE DREADFUL FATE WHICH AWAITS THE LOSER, THE COMBATANTS TUMBLE INTO A NARROW SPACE BETWEEN TENTS.

SO I'M NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR A FASCIST PIG, EH?

SMITTY

WHY DID I BET THAT GUY I COULD LIE IN THE WOODS WITH JUST A COMPRESS AND A KNIFE?

HE TOOK ME UP ON MY SLY BOAST AND LOOK WHERE I AM!

I'M ALWAYS PUTTING MY FOOT IN IT!!

SPLAT!

MOON MULLINS

BRILLIANT, PROFESSOR! THERE ARE ELEVATED TRAIN STATIONS WHY NOT UNDERGROUND AIRPORTS?

SURE... THEY COULD SELL TICKETS AT ROCK BOTTOM PRICES!

...ADVERTISE THEIR DOWN-TO-EARTH COMFORTS...

BUT WILL THE AIRLINE BIG SHOTS GOPHER THE IDEA?

I THINK THEY'LL DIG IT...

DENNIS THE MENACE

JOHNNY AND I WILL STAY RIGHT HERE! IF HE COMES TO, AND CAN TALK... LET ME KNOW IMMEDIATELY!

WITH THIRD DEGREE BURNS... AND SOME LUNG DAMAGE, I'M AFRAID THE PROGNOSIS IS NEGATIVE!

IN A HOSPITAL EMERGENCY ROOM, A LONG VIGIL BEGINS—

BEEBLE BAILEY

TRUTHFULLY, CHAPLAIN, DON'T YOU THINK L' FLIZZ IS A COMPLETE WASHOUT?

WELL, HE HAS REDEEMING VIRTUES.

WHAT'S A REDEEMING VIRTUE?

A TERM I USE WHEN I CANT THINK OF A REDEEMING VIRTUE.

DENNIS THE MENACE

I DON'T KNOW HOW TO WRITE. BUT YOU TELL ME THE MESSAGE AND I'LL DRAW A PICTURE OF IT.

Pros And Cons

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee and Treasury Secretary David Kennedy, right, give their views on interest rates in Washington yesterday. Kennedy was leadoff witness before the committee.

Prime Interest Rates Climb Stirs Squabble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bank that started the climb in prime interest rates to a historic high told Congress today its action reduced rather than increased dangers to the economy.

Alfred Brittain III, president of Bankers Trust Co. of New York, testified that "we have prevented our lending capacity from being overrun and have made sure that funds will remain available for the essential needs, above all, of our small businesses and other customers who cannot finance themselves in the securities market."

FAST ACTION
Bankers Trust was the first to announce an increase June 9 from 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 per cent in the prime rate. Banks across the country quickly followed.

In testimony prepared for the House Banking Committee, Brittain said the bank will continue to finance residential mortgages at 7 1/2 per cent and raise rates to small business borrowers less than the 1 per cent jump in the prime rate charged its biggest and best customers.

The committee opened an investigation of the prime rate increase Thursday with another confrontation between Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., and Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy.

Patman again accused the secretary of conflicts of interest because of continued financial ties with Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago, which Kennedy formerly headed.

Kennedy denied the charges, telling newsmen afterward he arranged his financial affairs in accordance with recommendations of the Senate Finance Committee and is convinced he has no legal or moral conflict.

"THOU SHALT NOT"
Kennedy said he had talked with bankers, corporation executives and labor groups about the general need to contain inflation. But, he continued, "I have not tried to say 'thou shalt not increase this rate. I have no right to do this... just to get up on a high pulpit as though I were God and say 'thou shalt not.'"

Pursuing his contention the administration should have taken steps in retaliation for the interest rate increase, Patman said: "What about the President? Can he do something?"

"I suspect you'll have to ask him... You did, you wrote him a letter," Kennedy said, referring to a message Patman sent President Nixon urging strong steps to force the banks to reduce the interest rates.

"I received no reply from him," Patman said. "I would think you are closer to him than I am."

"I would hope I am..." Kennedy said, drawing laughter from the packed committee hearing room.

Rhodesians Vote On Britain Break

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesians vote today on a final break with Britain and constitutional changes that would entrench white supremacy into the middle of the next century. The predominantly white electorate is expected to say "yes" to both.

Heavy balloting was expected in the two-question referendum, which asks a yes or no vote on the constitutional changes and whether this African country should become the world's newest republic. The country, rich in minerals, tobacco and grain crops is almost as big as California.

Prime Minister Ian Smith's government is expected to get a heavier plurality on the republic question—70 per cent or better—than on the new constitution. The latter would eliminate franchise on merit and substitute a tribally divided vote for blacks based on how much they pay in taxes.

Besides elimination of African vote power into the 21st century, the constitution would give the government stiff new police controls without the need to go to Parliament to proclaim a state of emergency.

Rhodesia has 4.4 million Africans and about 237,000 whites. There are 90,000 eligible voters, most of them white.

The former self-governing British colony broke away from the crown on Nov. 11, 1965, when Smith announced Rhodesia's independence. Negotiations with London to legalize Rhodesia's independence floundered because Britain insisted on guarantees for ultimate African majority rule.

U.N. sanctions have had little effect as the Portuguese colonies and the "apartheid" regime in South Africa openly trade with Rhodesia, and Rhodesian exports find their way to neighboring black-ruled African countries.

There is some opposition to the referendum from the small multiracial Center party, two weak African parties, businessmen tired of evading economic sanctions and many clergymen.

In New York, African and Asian members of the U.N. Security Council today were pushing the toughest resolution yet for council action against Rhodesia. But diplomats said it would fall two votes short of the nine needed for passage.

The resolution condemns the proposed republican constitution; amplifies the 1968 trade embargo and extends it to South Africa and Portuguese-ruled Mozambique, and urges Britain to "take all necessary measures, including the use of force," in the Rhodesian rebellion.

Witnesses Plan Kansas City Meet

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area have been invited to attend an eight-day International Assembly to be held in Kansas City, Mo., July 18-25. According to local representatives, some 36,000 delegates will attend the gathering at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium.

The Kansas City assembly is one of seven such meetings in the United States this summer, with 25 scheduled in various countries around the world. They all have the theme: "Peace on Earth." The convention's major address, "The Approaching Peace of a Thousand Years," reflects their belief that true peace will come to this earth in the near future. It will be delivered by N. H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Society, the worldwide organization which directs the worldwide activities of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Wonder Why?

DENVER (AP) — Singer Tiny Tim was here Wednesday for an autograph party, and greeted a childhood friend, Artie Wachter, now an insurance man.

Said Tiny: "We are old friends who played curb ball in the street in New York. He always got the best hits, and in all fairness, I was fortunate to get on the team. He was the only one who would choose me."
