TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Thirteen cases of gonorrhea were confirmed this week in pre-school age children at a local day care center.

Health officials said the cases were discovered about a week ago in children between the ages of two and five at a day care center operated by the Bowie County Economic Advancement Corp.

E. E. Collins, executive director of the corporation, said the agency does not consider the 13 cases an epidemic.

"There have been a few positive cases reported which are now under control," Collins said. "Everything possible is being done to maintain sanitary conditions at the center. This agency feels that this could have happened in any age group or at any place."

Approximately 64 children attend the center, which employs one adult coordinator and eight aides.

Bill Westbrook, chief sanitarian for the Bowie County Health Dept., told the Texarkana Gazette, "To the best of my knowledge there have been 13 pre-school children infected. This apparently did not originate in the day care center but from the home, and spread through the family."

"Investigation turned up approximately 22 cases in both children and adults," Westbrook said, nine of those involving people outside the day care center.

Westbrook also said the outbreak was under control and all known infected persons have been treated. "None of the employees of the center were infected," he said.

Cotton Blooming In Lubbock Area

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas crops and ranges are withering under generally cloudless skies and heat.

Scattered showers, some heavy in coastal areas, did little to improve the over-all situation, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, last week.

The High Plains report that most crops are making good progress but dryland crops in the area are showing the need for rain, the director said.

A further decline in crop and grazing prospects was noted in all other sections and grass fires are a real hazard, Hutchison added. Livestock generally held up well but grazing is declining and some weight losses are now being noted. Marketings are nearly normal, Hutchison said.

Lubbock area cotton made good progress and is blooming. Irrigation of sorghum was at a peak with severe moisture stress in some areas. The onion harvest was in full swing. Hot, dry weather deteriorated ranges. But livestock are holding up well.

Hot, dry and windy weather besieges Far West Texas. Dryland crops are suffering but irrigated crops are making good growth. Livestock are in good condition with some marketing of heavier lambs is reported.

Soil moisture in West Central Texas is getting away fast. Tanks in Kerr County are either dry or very low. Range fires burned over widespread areas in San Saba, Gillespie and Irion counties. Livestock are holding up well and grazing is about average. Cotton was satisfactorily but needs rain. Other crops show moisture stress.

Moisture in Central Texas is short to very short and temperatures are high. Corn and sorghum have been damaged but cotton is holding up fairly well and insect activity is light. Much sorghum has been baled in Burnet and Hamilton counties and some "hot spot" sorghum has been harvested in Milam County (Cameron). The harvest of a generally good tomato crop in Falls County (Marlin) is about over. Watermelon prospects are declining. Peanut irrigation was heavy. Some range fires have been reported and fire guards are being constructed in many areas. Labor is short.

Cotton picking has started in the dryland areas of the Rio Grande Valley. The South Texas sorghum harvest is in full swing. Some okra and peppers are being harvested. Land is being prepared for vegetable planting. Ranges were very dry but livestock generally are in good condition.

Coincidence

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Nixon took a spur-of-the-moment drive from nearby Camp David Friday to visit Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower at the Eisenhower farm. He found the presidential widow on the telephone—chatting with his wife, Pat, back at the White House.

Lunar Descent And Ascent

Diagram shows the Apollo 11 lunar module's descent to and ascent from the moon. Descent is scheduled for Sunday after-noon and ascent for Monday afternoon.

Earth Viewers Will Watch As Boot Leaves Its Mark

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — We are going to see a vast wasteland and it will be television's finest moment. We will see a white boot coming down nine steps of a ladder a minute at a time, and we will compare.

The space agency's final Apollo 11 lunar surface operations plan says, "The primary purpose of the TV is to provide a supplemental real time data source to assure or enhance the scientific and operational data return."

But that's not all. It is there to let us see that size 9½ boot crunch into the surface. It is there to make up for the fact that we didn't see the Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria making the landfall, or Lewis and Clark paddle up the Missouri, or Lindbergh or Byrd or Perry when they changed history.

In the quiet way that has marked them as men of serious intent, the Apollo 11 astronauts invited us along Friday as they opened the passageway into the strange-looking ship in which Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. will land on the moon.

There is a switch there—shown clearly—that is used for stopping their descent. "We're going to tape that switch over," said Armstrong.

During the 96-minute telecast, the camera picked out even the dust particles in the air, the flags on their sleeves and the backpacks that will keep them alive on the airless moon.

Their flight plan, a demanding mistress, hadn't called for television at that time, but Armstrong, Aldrin and Michael Collins thought it would be nice if everyone could see.

At 1:57 a.m. Monday, the command ship with Michael Collins, a lone passenger, will pass over the place where Eagle rests. The camera will look down, but from that height we will not be able to see the LM.

And then, at 2:12 a.m., unless impatience advances the time, Armstrong's white boot takes its first step onto the ladder. He'll pull a cord and a compartment will open to let a camera out and the world in.

And we will see that boot leave its eternal mark.

Experiments Planned Following Landing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Ever hear a pea drop a half-mile away and detect a tiny tremble in the ground at a distance of 300 miles?

Or perhaps you'd like to know if Moon, Va., is really 1,380 miles from Earth, Tex.

All this and more could come from the experiments to be put on the moon by Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

A self-contained seismic station aboard Apollo 11 is so sensitive that "it will be able to detect the impact of a meteorite weighing one gram—about the size of a pea—from a distance of one kilometer" or five-eighths of a mile, said Don K. Breseke, project engineer for Bendix Aerospace System Divisions, which built the unit for the space agency.

The same machine will be able to detect shifts or bends of one inch in the lunar crust 300 miles from Apollo 11's landing site, Breseke said.

And as Armstrong and Aldrin stomp around after the device is deployed about 70 feet from the lunar module landing craft, earthlings listening to signals from the experiments will detect the crunch of their footsteps.

Designed to reveal whether there are moonquakes, the seismic station is one of two experiments to be left behind by Apollo 11. The other is a reflector to be used as a target for laser beams fired from earth.

By measuring the time it takes for the beam to strike the object and bounce back to earth, scientists expect to know within inches exactly how far away the moon is from this planet. The lasers fired from different parts of the globe—Moon, Va., and Earth, Tex.—could be used to calculate exactly how far the points are from each other.

Measurements from different countries over a long period of time could reveal how fast continents are drifting apart, proving or disproving theories that Africa and South America, for example, were once one big continent.

Called EASEP for Early Apollo Scientific Experiments Package, the devices were designed to provide the most detailed information yet on the origin and structure of the moon.

If, for example, the seismometer detects moonquakes, it would support one theory that the moon has a molten mass in the middle like earth, and tend to disprove another theory that it is solid rock.

Grand Matrons, Patrons Honored

The Masonic and Eastern Star Past worthy grand matrons and patrons of the Grand Chapter of the State of Texas, proudly hold the keys to the city which were presented to them Friday night by Mayor Arnold Marshall at the 8th Annual State Roundup of the groups which is being held in Big Spring. From left are Herschel F. Harrington, Houston; Mrs. E. L. Sharpe, Dallas; Mrs. E. R. Bailey, San Antonio; and Herbert L. Arnold, Fort Worth.

About 200 Attend Masonic, Eastern Star Roundup Here

Approximately 200 persons from over the state are in Big Spring this weekend for the 8th Annual State Masonic and Eastern Star Roundup, which started Friday evening with welcoming ceremonies at the "big spring," followed by a picnic supper at Cosden Country Club.

The meeting will close today with a breakfast and devotional meeting, known as "The Lord's Candle Devotion," at 8:30 a.m. in the ballroom of the Settles Hotel.

Special guests of the convention, past worthy grand matrons and patrons were honored Friday evening as they were presented keys to the city by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

These guests, who spoke at a western barbecue at the Big Spring City Park Pavilion Saturday night, include Mrs. Edwin L. Sharpe of Dallas, the Past Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas; Herschel Harrington of Houston, Past Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Texas; Mrs. E. R. Bailey of San Antonio, Past Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas and Herbert Arnold of Fort Worth, Past Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Texas.

Speaker for the devotional meeting today will be the Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

During welcoming ceremonies Friday Barry Clayton, high school teacher, and Mrs. Doris Gambill, Worthy Matron of Big Spring Chapter 67, recited the Big Spring Cantata. These ceremonies were attended by approximately 100 persons.

In business meetings Saturday the groups decided to hold the state roundup next year at Dallas, which the Dallas delegation accepted.

Saturday afternoon a grand officers party was held at the home of Mrs. Norman Read, 503 Washington. The delegations from both organizations attended the party which was hosted by the grand officers of Section 8, District 2 of the Eastern Star. Business meetings Saturday were held at the home of Mrs. Steve Baker, 1707 Yale, general chairman of the party, and at the home of Mrs. Carl McGlothlin, 2703 Apache. The honored matrons and patrons spoke at the barbecue Saturday night.

Headquarters for the event were at the Holiday and Ramada Inns.

HE CLAIMS MOON GEMS

ABILENE (AP) — United States astronauts may not claim the moon as our territory, but Abilene inventor H. P. Compton is holding fast to his "legal rights" to moon minerals.

Back in 1954, before Russia surprised the world with Sputnik, Compton filed a claim at the state capital for all mineral rights on the moon. The claim cost $2.

"All his friends laughed and scorned him," said Mrs. Compton. "But the picture has changed considerably."

The claim, which lawyers and mining engineers assured him at the time was legal, is registered in the name of Lu Syndicate.

Death Toll Up

AUSTIN (AP) — A total of 1,793 persons have died in Texas traffic this year, 52 more than a year ago, state police said Saturday. Fatal accidents this year total 1,393, up eight.

Man's Contamination Goes Along To Moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Like a spreading virus, man in his time has corrupted and polluted the waters, the air and the land of the earth that gives him life.

And now, he is reaching out to contaminate the moon.

He will pollute its thin atmosphere. He will spread his own bacteria onto its surface. He will—as he has done already—litter the moon with things he no longer needs.

Such is the price the moon will pay for receiving two astronauts this weekend. It is unavoidable if man is to go there.

The braking rocket which will settle the lunar module on the moon's surface will discharge five tons of exhaust gases onto the moon, by one estimate.

FIVE PER CENT

This will equal five per cent of the moon's total existing atmosphere. If the guesses of some scientists are correct. The earth, by contrast, has about six quadrillion tons of atmosphere.

Bacteria and other organisms will leak out at the rate of 1,000 per minute from each of the two special spacesuits worn by Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. That totals more than 300,000 germs during their walking and working on the moon.

Nothing can prevent it. Even surgeons and nurses in supposedly sterile operating rooms exude more microbes than that from their bodies—not just their breath but from their skins as well—even after they have scrubbed up and donned special gowns.

An international space agreement stipulates sterilization for all rockets, probes and equipment landed on the moon, or on the earth's sister planets.

IMPRACTICAL

But total sterilization has proved to be impractical because such chemical treatments foul up delicate electronic gear.

So some past unmanned probes—both U.S. and Soviet—landing on the moon are assumed to have started out with some earthly germs. The LM on Apollo 11 has not been sterilized, says a spokesman for the manufacturer, Grumman Aircraft Corp. The landing craft will be exposed to the sterilizing effect of heat and ultraviolet light during its flight, it was pointed out.

The astronauts will leave on the moon their walking boots and gloves, a TV camera, the special tools with which they pick up moon rocks, a seismometer to see if the moon has moonquakes, a reflector to receive and retransmit laser beams sent from earth. None of these, so far as could be learned, has been sterilized.

ULTRAVIOLET LIGHT

On the positive side, the moon is bathed in fierce ultraviolet light from the sun. The light is a most efficient killer of bacteria if it strikes them. Also, the moon has no surface moisture and its thin air is nearly a vacuum. So most of the germs the astronauts carry up or release there personally should probably die soon.

But the fact that they unavoidably will release germs complicates the issue of determining whether there is any microbial life on the moon.

If the rocks they bring back are found to harbor germs, then the key question is—did the astronauts take them up there, or were they micro-organisms, especially peculiar ones, which have long existed on the moon? To check this out, the astronauts have been examined rigorously to learn what kinds of micro-organisms existed in their bodies—and in the LM—before their departure from earth.

EXHAUST FUMES

Rocket exhaust fumes from the descending LM introduce a complication. Hydrocarbons in the fumes might form organic compounds in rocks and soil picked up around the landing site. Organic, rather than inorganic, chemicals mean there is

Driverless Cars Are In Collision

Who says automobiles can't have accidents without drivers? At 11:22 a.m. Saturday, that happened and one of the cars crossed a highway without being hit. This was one of seven minor car accidents investigated by Big Spring police Friday and Saturday.

In the driverless accident, a car owned by Thelma Holton Percy, 2611 Carol, rolled away from its parking place on the parking lot of Highland South Shopping Center, crossed US 87 south, and was in collision with another parked car owned by William R. Banks, 2109 Carl. The Banks auto was knocked into the right rear end of an auto owned by Rollis Harold Anderson, 1708 Laurie.

In other Saturday accidents, police investigated a mishap at 12:09 p.m. at Fifth and San Jacinto. Drivers involved were Chon Yanez Garcia, 503 San Jacinto, and Dominga Nanez, 206 NE 7th. Police also were investigating an accident in which one of the cars left the scene. The mishap occurred in the 200 block of Runnels about 12:20 p.m. Saturday.

The parked car of Dealon Duane Murphree, 807 Willa, was struck.

At 1:30 a.m. Saturday police investigated a mishap in which the parked car of Jasper Fletcher, 1323½ Kindle, was in collision with an auto driven by Thomas J. Munnaco, Webb AFB. In a one-car mishap at 9:45 p.m. Friday at Eighteenth and Goliad approximately $300 damage was done to an auto driven by Micheal R. Green, 1410 Wood. Officers said Green was headed north on Goliad, when he lost control of the car and it struck a fire hydrant.

Three Charged, Released In Plan To Murder Sheriff

MADISONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Three men were free on $50,000 bonds Saturday, charged with conspiracy to murder Sheriff Ed Fannin.

An unsuccessful candidate for sheriff, W. R. Owens, 58, was named in the charges along with two brothers, Joe Kelly, 36, a painter, and Robert Kelly, 27, a roofer.

Fannin said Owens and the Kelly brothers tried to get him to come to Robert Kelly's home last Sunday. He said Robert Kelly telephoned him and asked him to come and discuss a private matter.

Fannin said he was called to investigate a traffic accident and could not get to Robert's home between 10 and 10:30 a.m., as asked. Roberts' wife and children were to have been away at that time, Fannin said.

Five persons were originally sought in the case. Two were questioned and released without charges, said Dist. Atty. James Warren of Navasota.

Knowledge of the alleged plot came about after several persons listened to a telephone conversation on a line with eight separate connections, the charges said.

During the 1968 Democratic primary, the sheriff defeated incumbent Sheriff J. T. Park and Owens in a three way race. Fannin said a feud became apparent when Owens received just 124 of the 2,288 electorate.

Owens is said to have criticized the sheriff's department on numerous occasions, including advertisements in the Madisonville Meteor. However, Fannin was not specifically named in the paper.

Efforts were made, Owens said, to have the Houston FBI office, the Texas Rangers in Bryan, and Gov. Preston Smith's office investigate alleged "martial law." None of the agencies has investigated, Owens said.

One of the advertisements read: "Watch out; or the ghost riders will get you. Just what in the heck is a ghost rider, we ask, and one of the boys that drive around at night a bit tells us that is the name of a bunch of men and boys that come out at night in radio-equipped cars, unmarked, but with from one to several armed men in them and patrol the city and county. On checking a bit I am told that they are special deputies."

Two Teenagers Gunned Down

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Two Durant, Oklahoma, teenagers were killed and another young man was wounded early Saturday in a shooting at a Lake Texoma resort area near the Texas border.

The Bryan County sheriff's office said details of the shooting at West Burns Run near Cartwright, Okla., were not yet available.

The two youths killed were identified as 15-year old Richmond Annatubby and 18-year old Dickie Arnold. Wounded and taken to a Durant hospital was 20-year old Bobby Cass, also of Durant.

The three reportedly were shot with a 22 caliber pistol. Officers were seeking an unidentified man who fled from the scene in a late model car shortly after the shooting at about 4 a.m. Saturday.

Heyerdahl Leaves Ra Short Of Destination

CHRISTIANSTED, V.I. (AP) — Deciding repairs were impossible, Thor Heyerdahl and his six-man crew abandoned the battered reed boat Ra Friday night 600 miles from their destination.

The unanimous decision was made after one crewman was chased by sharks when he dived under the ship to try to secure two papyrus ropes that had broken loose.

Heyerdahl and his men boarded the escorting fishing craft Shenandoah and sailed for Bridgetown, Barbados, where they were expected Sunday night or Monday.

Herb Schoenbohm, a ham radio operator in Christiansted, St. Croix, who has been in daily contact with the Ra, quoted Heyerdahl as saying the Ra might drift by itself to Barbados.

"I think the main thing is that they were just tired," said Schoenbohm. "They have had hell of an ordeal the last 70 days or so."

He said the Ra lost its yard-arm in a storm several days ago. As a result, its speed was reduced from 60 miles a day to 25 miles. He estimated that at that rate it would have taken them three weeks to reach Barbados.

"The ship had lost its maneuverability, cargo and rigging were crashing around, water was crashing over the ship ..."

Heyerdahl, the Norwegian anthropologist who sailed the raft Kon Tiki across the Pacific, and his crew left Morocco May 25 trying to prove the Egyptians could have sailed to America in papyrus boats more than 4,000 years ago. Heyerdahl told Schoenbohm he thought he had been successful in this effort.

The Ra's original destination was Central America because Heyerdahl said the culture of Central American Indians seemed to him similar in some respects to the ancient Egyptians.

However, this week, after 18-foot-high waves battered the craft, Heyerdahl decided to head for Barbados. Earlier Friday he had radioed that he planned to continue the voyage and spend nights aboard the Shenandoah.

Pleads Guilty

Edward Capers, charged in an indictment with issuing a worthless check, entered a plea of guilty in 118th District Court on Friday and was sentenced to two years in prison. The court then probated the sentence.

Airport Project In Progress

The appearance of Airport School continues to be improved under a city-county-school agreement to provide the area with a community park. County workmen installed a culvert to improve the entrance to the parking lot, and city workmen rip-rapped the culvert to keep run-off water from washing the fill dirt away. Now W. D. Caldwell Inc. workmen have begun hauling fill dirt in preparation for paving the lot under a contract with the Big Spring Independent School District.

Dedication Tuesday Of Meditation Room

An open Bible, surrounded by Spanish furnishings, a Spanish picture depicting an old castle with knights of armor on their horses are the first things which attract the eye in the new meditation room at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a brief ceremony at 8 p.m. Tuesday to dedicate the room to the memory of Donald D. Van Meter who served as hospital director from April, 1964, until his death May 9, 1968.

Honored guests at the ceremony will be the wife of the late director and her daughter, Laurel Van Meter, who both now reside in Austin.

Presentation of the commemorative plaque from District 25, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be made by Clifford T. Teer, Senior Vice Commander, Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The ceremony will be held in Room 232. Dr. H. C. Ernsting, VA Hospital chief of staff, will give an acceptance address, and a dedicatory prayer will be given by Chaplain Anderson C. Hicks.

Eleven women from Big Spring and one from Coahoma will attend workshops beginning Monday sponsored by the West Texas Education Center. The workshops are offered in conjunction with various state colleges which offer credit for participation in the programs.

Big Spring participants include Mrs. Polly Donnell, Kathleen Feller, Nancy Mosteller, Mrs. Blanche L. Burton, Mrs. Betty Cain, Mrs. Berniece Coates, Alice Hedges, Mrs. Helene Langley, Mrs. Shirley Matthews, Venora Williams, and Elizabeth Schattel. Doris Tiller from Coahoma will also participate in the program.

Miss Tiller will participate in Reaching the Handicapped Child in the Regular Classroom through Teacher Change workshop beginning Monday at Odessa College. The group will attend a three-day reading conference at Sul Ross State College and make a field trip to a special educational camp at Prude Ranch.

Miss Williams and Miss Schattel are participating in a program for Regular Classroom Teachers to receive training in dealing with first through sixth grade handicapped students in the regular classroom setting. The training began with a six-week summer course at the University of Texas at El Paso beginning July 18 and at Angelo State University July 14, and will continue during the school year with professional diagnostic personnel assisting on various school campuses.

Utility Lines Downed Friday

Telephone service to Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. and electrical service to approximately 80 customers along East IS 20 was knocked out Friday morning when a van truck driving underneath the service lines at Hale Pump Co., East IS 20, caught the cables, breaking two phone lines and one electrical wire.

Telephone officials said a pole which sits near Hillside Trailer Court, East IS 20, also was broken, knocking down a concrete block fence by the court. Cosden telephones were out of service from shortly after 10 a.m. until about 2:15 p.m. Friday.

Texas Electric officials said that all their customers were back in service by noon. The lines were knocked down

AMENDMENTS EXPLAINED—NO. 1 Taking 'Deadwood' Out Of Constitution Proposed

AMENDMENT NO. 1 H.J.R. No. 3 (Repealing Sections 42, 46, and 48 of Article III, Sections 3a and 7 of Article VIII, Section 12 of Article VII, Section 3 of Article IX, Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of Article X, Section 10 of Article XI, Sections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7 of Article XII, Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of Article XIII, Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 of Article XIV, Sections 3, 4, 7, 11, 29, 32, 34, 35, 36, 38, 42, 45, 46, 54, 55, 57, 58 and 60 of Article XVI.)

The proposed amendment repeals those sections of the Texas Constitution which, after careful study, have been determined to be obsolete, superfluous, and unnecessary. The basis for this determination is the Texas Legislative Council's report to the 57th Legislature which contained an exhaustive study of the Texas Constitution and recommended changes. (See Volume 1, Constitutional Revision, A Report to the 57th Legislature, Texas Legislative Council, No. 56-10, December, 1960, pages 35 through 145 for a detailed section-by-section analysis of the sections repealed by this amendment.)

The proposed amendment also provides that the enumerated sections be repealed with the specific understanding that the repeal shall not in any way make any substantive changes in the present constitution. Therefore, in terms of legal effect, the repeal of any section is effective only to the extent that it effects no substantive change in the present Texas Constitution.

BACKGROUND
The following language, appearing on page 5 of Volume 1 of the Texas Legislative Council's report, is illustrative of the general type of constitutional provisions repealed by the proposed amendment:

Earth Resources On American Stock Exchange

DALLAS — Earth Resources Company, Dallas-based mineral exploration and development company, has been opened for trading on the American Stock Exchange with the ticker symbol ERC.

The listing of ERC took place one year and 10 days after the company's incorporation July 8, 1968.

During Earth Resources' brief history, the company has registered 800,000 shares with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and its first public offering was effected on Feb. 18, 1969. In its prospectus, the company stated its intent to apply for listing on the American Stock Exchange.

The company presently has an annual sales volume in the $40 million range, according to president Dan M. Krause. Mr. Krause also pointed out that, in meeting the standards for listing by AMEX, ERC has nearly 7,000 shareholders in all 50 states and several foreign countries.

THE WEEK

Municipal Water District. One day last week the volume ran to nearly 65 million gallons.

The heat (plus Daylight Saving Time) was probably no help to the attendance at the Starlight Special in the City Park amphitheatre. Crowds ranged from 1,000 down to 300, but without exception those who attended on any night enjoyed first-rate entertainment.

There passed a week without major violence. Officers did arrest a fifth person accused in wide-spread burglaries through the area during the past year. A tremendous amount of loot has been recovered, much of it going back to owners.

And grass fires became real, rather than a threat. Latest was near Sterling City, where seven fire-fighting units combined to stop the blaze. The prairie country is getting to where it needs a safety spokesman, say, like Smoky the Rabbit.

County commissioners did more work on property valuations, attempting to fix levels for oil, gas and utility properties. Spokesmen for those interests said the county had taken the right step in adjusting rural values (they all but demanded this last year), while the Rural Taxpayers Association has met a delay in the proposed higher valuations, filing a suit designed to halt schedules.

Meanwhile, over in City Hall, more sales tax money came in, and the take for the past year has been over $339,000, pretty close to $90,000 more than had been forecast. It could be a barometer that business is better than some people say it is.

In the business area, Texas international Airlines reported its boardings in Big Spring the first six months of the year were up by 35 per cent, to 2,633.

Adn DataMate Computer Systems Inc. broke ground for a big new building. Officials of the parent company, Siboney, were here, and they, with President George McAlister of DataMate, are predicting a rosy future for the concern. The city is moving into the electronics field, and already DataMate has brought into town several top technicians.

Blissard Takes Part In Farm Bill Support

Doris Blissard, Garden City, was one of 125 farm and rural leaders from Texas, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Illinois participating last week in the third Farmers' Union "Legislative Fly-In" effort to Washington, D.C., this year to urge support of a farm bill.

The bill is sponsored by Rep. W. R. Poage, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and proposes the permanent extension of the farm stabilization and food stamp programs.

The farm leaders made the rounds of the 535 offices of House and Senate members to ask support for the bill, and Monday attended a Senate breakfast at which Texas Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Minnesota Sen. Walter F. Mondale spoke.

At a House breakfast Tuesday the group heard comments from House Banking and Currency Committee Chairman Rep. Wright Patman; House Appropriations Committee Chairman George Mahon and Poage. Other speakers included Texas Congressmen Abraham Kazen and Omar Burleson, Minnesota Congressmen Albert Quie, John Axach, Odin Langen and Ancher Nelsen, and Pennsylvania Con-

DONNA MARIE STONE ... What became of her?

Time May Be Running Out For Myers, After 8 Years

By SAM BLACKBURN

John Edwin Myers, shifty-eyed Chicago transient who admitted he and a teenage girl friend slew four persons in three days in August, 1961 — including one shot to death a few miles west of here — has successfully eluded the gallows for eight years.

An Illinois lawyer, who was state's attorney at one of the two trials of Myers in which death penalties were allotted the man, believes that Myers' time may be running out — that he is nearer to retribution now than at any time since he was arrested.

The attorney is John M. Karns, Belleville, Ill., who convicted Myers in district court of the murder of a 10-year-old girl, Carole Ballard.

The death sentence meted to Myers then was the second such penalty he had met. At a Texas trial in 1963, with Gil Jones, Big Spring lawyer, who was then district attorney as prosecutor, Myers had been assessed death in the murder of Arthur DeKraai, a hitchhiking plumber.

Myers was brought back to the public eye a few weeks ago when several Big Spring persons, including Jones and Bobby West, who had been Jones' investigator, received calls asking if they would come to Danville, Ill., as witnesses in a hearing for Myers in federal district court.

Karns, who is now in private practice in Belleville, but who is still intensely concerned that justice be meted out to Myers, said that this new hearing (which had been set for July 21 but was reported earlier this week to have been postponed) has only one purpose.

That purpose, the Belleville lawyer said, is to inquire into the voluntariness of the confessions Myers gave Texas authorities and what relation these confessions may have to the confession given to the Illinois officers.

"This (the Illinois statement) has several times been determined to be voluntary," Karns noted. "I have no reservations but that the court will conclude that the Texas confessions were likewise voluntary, and this should indicate an end to this protracted litigation."

When Myers and Donna Marie were arrested on Sept. 2, 1961, in Midland by an alert highway patrolman who recognized the car in which they were riding as one listed as stolen, he noted bloodstains on the clothing of the two.

Under questioning they readily told how they had slain Arthur DeKraai, a hitchhiking plumber they had given a ride as they passed through Fort Worth.

They shot DeKraai to death as he slept, they told officers, and Donna Marie, who was between the two men had leaned forward, steering the car, while Myers put his arm back of her and fired several shots into the sleeping man's head.

They had killed DeKraai to rob him. The effort was fruitless — the luckless Ottumwa, Iowa, drifter did not have a penny.

Brought to the Howard County Courthouse, they told of killing Carole Ballard and her father on the shores of a lake near Belleville — also a robbery effort which was as profitless as the slaying of DeKraai.

On foot, they walked to East St. Louis, where they invaded a residence and forced Miss Wernicker to take her car and drive them south. In the dense woods near Thayer, the two said they forced the 39-year-old woman out of the car, tied her hands and feet, and each took turns firing shots into her head.

In Fort Worth, or near there, they gave DeKraai a ride. His death terminated their murderous travels.

Indicted here, efforts were made to try Myers in 118th District Court. A change of venue sent the case to Rusk where a jury found him guilty and ordered him put to death. It was when this verdict was reversed that Jones called Karns and told him he was ready to turn the prisoner over to Illinois.

In April, 1964, Karns succeeded in persuading a Belleville jury that Myers merited death for slaying little Carole Ballard.

Karns said that after the defendant had been convicted in June, 1964, in Belleville, he appealed the case to the U.S. Supreme Court. That high tribunal denied Myers a writ of certiorari — which means the high court declined to order the lower courts to provide records of proceedings for judicial review.

The door to the high court closed, Myers filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in Federal District Court at Danville, Ill. The district court denied his petition and Myers then appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

The Circuit Court of Appeals declined to reverse his conviction, but did remand the case to the U.S. District Court at Danville. The remand was for the limited purpose of determining whether the confessions given to the Texas authorities back in September, 1961, were voluntary.

Karns said that this was the reason the federal authorities were in contact with Jones, West and possibly others who had a part in the original investigation of Myers and the multiple murders.

Karns, commenting on the case said: "I have remained in contact with Bob West over the years, and Bob has expressed his continuing interest in this case and has always been more than generous of his time in assisting us up here.

"When I heard about the Danville hearing (then scheduled for July 21) I contacted Bob and he assured me he would be available and even offered to assist in lining up various witnesses we might need who had any part in the questioning of Myers in Texas.

"This will be a big undertaking. Several of the agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have since retired and live in various parts of the country. Gil Jones is no longer in office as is the case of West, his investigator. I don't know if Miller Harris is still sheriff — I merely suggest these names to show the magnitude of getting these people to Danville."

Karns then pointed out that the sole purpose of the proposed hearing in Danville is to inquire into the voluntariness of the confessions obtained here, and what relation these may have to the confession Myers made to Illinois authorities. Karns noted that the Illinois confession has "several times" been determined to be voluntary.

"That is why," said the former Belleville prosecutor, "I have no reservation but that the court will conclude that the Texas confessions were voluntary."

"If this is the case, then this should indicate an end to this protracted litigation."

Karns did not comment on the fate of Donna Marie Stone.

On her return to Illinois, she pleaded guilty to the murder of the Ballards. Because she was only 14 at the time, she was remanded to the Illinois Youth Commission. It was assumed that when she reached maturity, a final disposition of her case would be made.

Donna Marie is now 21. The control over her, set by the court in connection with the Youth Commission, will have expired.

DEAR ABBY: I am 42 and Sam is 57. We have been married for nearly three years. This is the second marriage for both of us. I have two children by my first husband.

Sam is an executive and a big stockholder with a very important company. He works 12 hours a day, six days a week, and some weeks he works seven. Sam is a man obsessed with his work. You would think the business would fall apart if he didn't do everything himself.

Although we have a lovely home we have practically no social life. I have tried every way I know to get Sam to relax, but he doesn't know how, and doesn't want to learn.

My question: What kind of life is this for me? And what will our relationship be like when the children are grown and gone?

DEAR WIFE: From your letter, I would say that by the time your children are "grown and gone," your husband won't be around, either. Men who are obsessed with their work and don't know how to relax, usually leave rich widows.

DEAR ABBY: We owe everybody in town. I can hardly hold my head up. Every time I hear a knock on the door I'm afraid somebody has come to take something back. We bought everything on time and are behind on all our payments. We still owe the doctor for bringing our baby into the world and the "baby" is three years old.

My husband works steadily, believe it or not. And overtime, too. He's no ladies' man, drinks only beer, and as far as I know, he doesn't gamble, so will you please tell me where his money goes? Thank you.

NERVOUS IN JERSEY DEAR NERVOUS: Why don't you ask him? And tell him that he is legally as well as morally responsible for your support, and if you want to get rough, you can go to his employer and arrange to have part of his check sent directly to you.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, at the age of 19, is divorced after nine months of marriage and has gone back to using her maiden name with a "Miss" in front of it.

I don't think she has any business calling herself a "miss" again after being married and divorced. I can understand how she would prefer it, being so young, but didn't she forfeit this right once she got married?

She is now working at a new job and using her maiden name. Can she get into trouble doing

ANONYMOUS MOM

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Your daughter should ask her lawyer if she can "get into trouble" by using her maiden name with "Miss" in front of it without some legal procedure.

It would appear that your daughter made a bad marriage while young, recognized it, and got out of it with a minimum of battlescars, for which she should be commended. If she wants to "bury" her past, that's her privilege, but I agree, she should do it legally, to keep her skirts clean.

Sooners, Buckeyes One-Two On List

By BOB HOOBING
Written For The Associated Press
Oklahoma decisively retains major college football's 25-year championship, forged on consistency and a pair of amazing streaks.
But Ohio State's defending Rose Bowl kings—who ended the era as they began it with a perfect campaign—nudge Army by only .0004 in the battle for the runner-up position.
By the margin of its inspired 34-17 comeback victory over Virginia Tech in the Liberty Bowl, Mississippi gains a similar eyelash decision over Texas for fourth place.
IRISH SIXTH
Notre Dame, like Army the proud owner of six unbeaten seasons over the past quarter century, is next in the survey. The Irish top arch-rival Michigan State in the standings despite the fact the Spartans hold a decided 13-5-1 edge in head-to-head combat between the schools during the period.
Penn State, Alabama and Wyoming round out the top 10.
Over the years 1944 through 1958, quick-striking, offensive-minded Oklahoma clubs have put together a record of 196 victories, 60 losses and six ties for a .766 percentage. By comparison, Ohio State is 158-59-12, .7281 and Army 163-61-11, .7277 for the same span.
To a large degree, the Sooners owe their quarter century supremacy to the fact they put together eye-popping winning streaks of 47 and 31 games. The former is a record for a team against collegiate competition and ran from the third game of 1953 until late 1957 when a fourth down gamble carried Notre Dame to a 7-0 upset victory. After losing to Santa Clara in the 1948 opener, Oklahoma ran off 31 in a row before Kentucky's famed 13-7 shocker in the 1951 Sugar Bowl.

While the streaks were fashioned under the tutelage of Bud Wilkinson, the Sooners' present coach, Chuck Fairbanks, has in only two campaigns charted a 17-5 course right in line with Oklahoma winning standards.
Back in 1944 when Derald Lebow led the nation with a 31.4 yard kickoff runback average, Oklahoma won its second straight Big Six (later Big Seven and now Big Eight) Conference title in the infancy of a string which was to reach 16 outright or shared crowns in 17 seasons.
HORVATH LEADER
Ohio State blitzed all rivals behind Heisman Trophy winner Les Horvath in 1944 and was recognized as the nation's top civilian power. The sophomore-laden Buckeyes of 1968 did likewise, punctuating coach Woody Hayes' finest hour with a 27-16 Pasadena verdict over Southern California and O. J. Simpson. In between, Ohio State enjoyed two other undefeated campaigns.
The Doc Blanchard-Glenn Davis-Arnold Tucker Cadets launched Army in this quarter century competition with three successive unbeaten seasons tainted only by the famous scoreless standoff with Notre Dame in 1946. Before the end of 1950, the Cadets had a pair of undefeated strings spanning 32 and 28 contests.
Geographically, the South has eight representatives in the top 25. The East has five and the Midwest four.

JIM CARVER

'ONE OF BEST' K-State Coaches Laud Carver

MANHATTAN, Kansas — A college football lineman, especially an offensive player, usually doesn't receive much news space. It's not expected of linemen — the familiar adage of them doing all of the work and the backs getting the credit.
All of which may sound like the linemen are jealous of their teammates' performances. You can count James Carver, Kansas State's fine guard, as not among those dissenters.
Carver, a strapping 6-4, 226-pounder from Big Spring, should be manning down the left guard spot when the Wildcats go on offense this fall. Carver ably handled those duties last season, lifting the Cats and its sagging offensive line to a 4-4 record and hopes for brighter things to come.
"They're really something," Carver has said of the K-State backs. "I know with the talent they have if I do my job in the line it's really going to mean something."
K-State coaches are counting on Carver to do his job. Head coach Vince Gibson calls Carver "one of the best offensive guards anywhere."
Carver was plucked out of Big Spring by assistant Leroy Montgomery, who has done a fabulous job of recruiting in Texas.
"I was going to lunch at school one day," Carver recalls, "when Coach Montgomery joined me and asked if I'd like to come up. As soon as I did, saw the dorm and the stadium and talked to the coaches. I knew this was where I wanted to play my football."
The visit was the last of several trips made by Carver, including looks at Southwest Conference schools SMU and Texas Tech as well as Tulsa and Arizona State.
"My dad (Milton) was a pretty good football player in high school, but he couldn't play college ball because of injuries he received in World War II. He wanted me to make up my own mind where to go to college and after visiting K-State he took one look at our facilities and said, 'I know you're well taken care of.'"
Carver was an all-around athlete in high school — lettering two years in football and tackle, one in basketball and two as a weightman in track. As a freshman at K-State, Carver was an offensive tackle.
The big junior made the switch to guard in spring practice of his freshman season and has remained a fixture.
Carver has improved his pass blocking each year — most important in the Wildcats pro-type offense — and is a strong, durable performer leading the sweep plays.

Carver should be headed for another good season. He's hopeful the Wildcats can take up where they left off. Even if that means the backs will be getting all of the publicity.

News Of Capitulation Is Cheered By Jets Players

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — "We can be better than last year."
Safety Bill Baird made the comment Friday night after the New York Jets learned that quarterback Joe Namath is returning to the fold. His words sum up the feeling of the entire team.
Depression and confusion hung over the world champions' Hofstra University training camp all week while Namath and the pro football commissioner, Pete Rozelle, talked their way toward the settlement which prompted Namath to renounce his retirement, agree to sell his controversial Manhattan restaurant and return to the game he loves.

"It was Coach Weeb Ewbank who ended the uncertainty when he stood in the middle of the dining room and said, 'I have an announcement to make.'"
The 50 players looked up from their plates of breaded pork chops and string beans. It was very quiet. No one knew what to expect.
"Joe will be back with us," Ewbank said.
Applause rattled through the silence.
"Beautiful, beautiful," Namath's teammates said. It was the only word you could hear, and they said it over and over again.
"The decision this week was getting to too many guys," Babe Parilli, the aging, backup quarterback, said later. "We needed him. We'd have a good practice, but Joe's situation was always in the back of our mind."
"Now we can be better than last year," said Baird. "We have Joe and the year's experience and the knowledge we can do it."

3-Run Blast By Johnson Ruins Cubs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detroit Johnson's second homer of the game, a three-run shot with two out in the eighth, lifted Philadelphia to a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday, ending the Phillies' seven-game losing streak.
Larry Hise tripled with one out in the eighth, but Bill Hands got Rick Joseph on a grounder, Hise holding third. Johnny Briggs walked and Johnson hit a 1-0 pitch over the left field roof for his seventh homer.
Johnson had pulled the Phillies within 3-2 with a solo homer in the seventh.
Jim Hickman gave the Cubs an early lead with a second-inning homer, but rookie pitcher Lowell Palmer tied it in the fifth with his first major league homer.
With two out in the sixth, Glenn Beckert singled and Billy Williams walked. Ron Santo followed with a two-run double into right center, giving Chicago a 3-1 lead.
Rick Wise, 7-8, who relieved in the eighth inning, picked up the victory, but had to work out of a jam in the ninth when Hickman and Randy Hundley singled with one out. However, Wise got Jimmy Qualls to hit into a force out and struck out pinch-hitter Willie Smith to end the game.

Britain Wins Tennis Test

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Britain's tennis team knocked South Africa out of the Davis Cup Saturday while demonstrators bombarded the courts with flour bags and shouted slogans against South Africa's racial policies.
Graham Stilwell defeated Bob Maud 8-6, 11-9, 6-3 to give Britain an insurmountable 3-1 lead in the final of the European Zone, Section A.
It was a stormy match, twice interrupted by the political demonstrators.
During the first set two young men ran on to the court and sat down on either side of the net. They were carried away by police.
In the second set six bags of flour sailed over the heads of the crowd from an adjoining road. Five burst on the center court and the players went to the dressing rooms for 15 minutes while the ground crew cleared up the mess with brooms and a vacuum cleaner.
While the cleaning up operations went on, demonstrators paraded in the road outside and held up red flags on long poles.
The defeat ended South Africa's stormy road in this year's Davis Cup play.
The South Africans played only one match on the way to the section finals. Poland and Czechoslovakia refused to play the South Africans for political reasons and presented them with victories by default.
Demonstrators had picketed the Bristol Lawn Tennis Club during the three days of the final. Play on the first day was held up briefly by a sit down on court by two youths and two girls.
Bob Hewitt salvaged the meaningless wrapup match for South Africa, defeating Mark Cox 3-6, 6-0, 4-6, 6-3, 9-7.
The final two singles will be played Sunday with Romania already holding a 3-0 lead in the five-match series.

Trio Of Raiders Get Invitations

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Texas Tech Alumni Association in Fort Worth has invited Philip Barney, David Browning and Gary Kennedy of the Red Raiders to participate in the annual Southwest Conference Football Rally Aug. 14.
Coaches and players from all eight Southwest Conference universities will be on hand. The rally and banquet draws more than 1,000.
A golf tournament among the SWC's head coaches will be played.

Parilli Says Joe Unsure

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — Babe Parilli, who was the New York Jets' No. 1 quarterback for five days, revealed Saturday that as late as last Wednesday night when he met secretly with his teammate, unpredictable Joe Namath had doubts about playing this season.
"I thought all along he'd be back," said Parilli, who was No. 1 from last Monday until Friday when Namath announced his return. "I thought so until I talked to Joe the other night. He took me aside and said: 'Babe, I think you'd better be ready.'"
"When he said that I had my doubts whether he'd make it. I don't think he himself knew."
Now Parilli probably will be relegated to the back-up role for which he was originally acquired. Namath announced Friday he was selling his restaurant, clearing the way for his return to camp.
Namath, in Los Angeles for business, is expected in the Jets' camp late Sunday night and likely will work out for the first time Monday.
"I'm very happy to hear Joe's coming back," Lammons said. "He called me this afternoon to tell me the news. I'm going back to camp Sunday."

Cassius Clay Dominates Miami Beach Spotlight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Costa Rica scribbled autographs. Miss Peru posed prettily. Miss Uruguay just smiled demurely. And Cassius Clay stole the Miss Universe audience in a hotel lobby.
Clay, who lost his world heavyweight boxing crown for refusing draft induction, sauntered into a Miami Beach hotel Friday night while autograph seekers were clustered around a bevy of Miss Universe contestants.
The word spread quickly through the marble and tile lobby.
At first Clay—signing Muhammad Ali despite his defrocking by the Muslims—was standing six feet from Miss Costa Rica. Both scribbled rapidly on bits of proffered paper.
Then the crowd around Clara Anillon, Costa Rica's 36-27 representative among the 62 Miss Universe contestants, began to dwindle and fold into Clay's admiring group.
"No girl is really the prettiest in the whole world," he explained. "But I'm the best fighter in the whole world."
"I'm not conceited. I am convinced," he declared.
Clay announced he was in town to work with Rocky Marciano—who retired as undefeated heavyweight champion—on a boxing film that was supposed to let a computer determine who was the greatest heavyweight ever.
Miss Peru, Maria Julia Mantilla, strolled up and held out a piece of paper to Clay.
"I want your autograph too so I can make my wife jealous," Clay quipped as he wrote.
Miss Peru, who has caused the demise of thousands of flashbulbs in the last week, announced: "I want my picture taken with him."
They sat side by side, not quite touching, on a couch. Photographers snapped away.
"I'm like a tiger in a cage," Clay told Miss Peru. And he growled.
Miss Peru growled back.

Chicago Nips Royals, 5-4

CHICAGO (AP) — Reliever Dick Drago walked Gail Hopkins with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning Saturday, handing the Chicago White Sox a 5-4 victory over the skidding Kansas City Royals.
Don Pavletich walked with one out in the ninth and pinch runner Woody Held took third on Luis Aparicio's two-out single. Drago walked Carlos May intentionally, filling the bases, before forcing in the winning run.
"The loss was the sixth in a row for the Royals."
They tied the game in the eighth when Joe Keough singled, took second on a wild pitch by reliever Wilbur Wood and scored on Lou Piniella's two-out single.
Jackie Hernandez' run-producing triple gave the Royals a 2-2 edge in the top of the seventh.
Chicago struck for two runs in the seventh and a 4-3 lead on a walk, Pavletich's pinch double and Aparicio's single.

Cubs Are Well On Way Toward Gate Record

CHICAGO (AP) — In the middle of the night as the saloons start closing, small groups begin huddling at certain vantage points.

Even with the seating capacity cut down because of general improvements, the Cubs are on their way to breaking their 1929 record of 1,485,166.

Not only are the crowds big, but they are noisy and no section in the ball park is as noisy as left field where the Bleacher Bums gather.

The Bleacher Bums is a club of about 75 card-holding members, identified by their yellow construction helmets. Because of their antics and prominence, not withstanding, are on their way to setting an attendance mark.

SET IN 1929

By daybreak, regular lines have formed. Around 10 a.m. the gates have to be kept open to alleviate congestion in the neighborhood and the race is on for 22,000 unreserved seats.

That used to be the weekend scene around Wrigley Field where the Chicago Cubs and their fans are causing all kinds of excitement.

Currently, however, it has become the daily scene and as the result of the 1969 Cubs, pennant there's a regular daily fight to get into the section which seats less than a thousand.

The Bums, however, have methods of getting their tickets first by stationing different groups at the gate long before the wickets are open. And when the other guys with yellow helmets show up, the rest of the crowd steps aside.

The Bums and their cohorts have organized cheering and regulated applause. Cub pitcher Dick Selma leads the cheers from the bullpen during the game and from in front of the stands in pre-game demonstrations.

WT Rufneks Ink 38 For 1969 Campaign

MIDLAND — Coach Lou Rymkus of the West Texas Rufneks revealed Saturday he had signed 38 players for the 1969 Texas Football league season, including 21 backs.

One of the backs, Woodie Dwayne Hawkins, a 200-pounder, has indicated he will not play, however. He has been named the freshman coach and varsity secondary coach at the University of Houston.

Fourteen of the players are former Southwest Conference players. Some of the athletes never played college football.

Biggest of the linemen signed were Thurmon (Big Daddy) Randle of Big Spring and UT-El Paso, who tips the scales at 290; and Ronnie Pack, of

Raton Track Slates Two Important Races Today

RATON, N.M. — Two rich stakes events — the first running of the "Land of Enchantment Derby," with a record-breaking total purse of $47,880.00, and the $18,500 Kansas Quarter Horse Derby — share top billing on La Mesa Park's twelve-race card today.

Mahar's Diplomat, Favorite Pleasure, Negro Barro, Hodego, Wingo Bound, Ruth L., Rag Tag Circus, Travisita, Carreo, and Darrabel, in post order, will match strides in the mile Derby, which will offer the Southwest's richest-ever purse for three year-old thoroughbreds.

The classy Rag Tag Circus, who has won three straight and set a new track record of 1:24 for seven furlongs June 29 at the Raton oval, will again be piloted by La Mesa's leading rider, Bobby Harmon. Owned by Riley M. Gilbert Jr., Middleburgh, Va., the Swoon's Son sophomore posted the fastest qualifying victory in last week's trials.

Hazel Park's second-ranked jockey, R. L. Baird, will fly in to ride Favorite Pleasure, one of Cletus Brown's two qualifiers from Houston, Texas. The son of Favorite Prince will be coupled in the wagering with Brown's other qualifier, Travisita, who will be ridden by Ronnie Ellis.

D. W. Whited will come from Centennial to handle the riding chores aboard Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace's Nahar's Diplomat from Albuquerque, N.M. The son of Nahar II posted last week's second-fastest qualifying win.

Wingo Bound, winner of last year's 'Enchantment Futurity

Horse Gamble Opens Monday

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The biggest gamble in racing — one that makes the Derby future book look puny — gets under way Monday with the 25th anniversary Keeneland Summer Sale of yearling thoroughbreds.

At the pound of the hammer, hundreds of thousands of dollars can be placed on the line in a wager on the uncertain future of a horse at the racetrack or in the stud.

Another gavel fall could mean a bargain buy of a future Kentucky Derby winner or millionaire thoroughbred.

And when it's over Tuesday night, about $5 million will have changed hands and about 300 new owners will be harboring an impossible dream for future years.

A total of 312 yearlings have been consigned for sale, the largest number since 1961. Among them are sons and daughters of the past eight Derby winners.

But perhaps the most exciting sales might be those of three colts and three fillies by Sea-Bird, who earned European Horse of the Year honors at age 3 and whose first produce are 2-year-olds now.

It was a Sea-Bird filly, out of the mare, Libra, that set a record last year when W.P. Ross paid $405,000. The seller was Mrs. Julian Rogers.

Sea-Bird's progeny for sale this time includes a colt out of Belle Jeep, dam of champion 2-year-old Jewel's Reward, and a filly out of Miz Carol, dam of champion 2-year-old filly Regal Gleam.

Leslie Combs II, who last year earned $1.4 million in a single night of sales, has consigned 31 head this time including three colts by Raise A Native, sire of Majestic Prince, Frank McMahon, a British Columbia oil tycoon, set a then record when he bought Majestic Prince at this same Keeneland sale for $250,000. The Prince won this year's Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Fabulous Deal For S. Hill

By TOMMY HART

This could be the Year of the Locust for the Dallas Cowboys . . . The Pokes have always had trouble in the Capitol Division with Washington . . . Green Bay has posed a past for Dallas problem in the with Vince Lombardi at the helm . . . Now that Lombardi has set up a base of operations in Washington, the odds against the Waddies could lengthen . . .

The draft system in the Teen-Age baseball system here probably needs revamping . . . One team in the Sophomore circuit last spring didn't get to pick a player until 27 had been grabbed by other teams . . . They say the umpiring situation in the Teen-Age circuits has vastly improved since the leagues started using high school boys as arbiters . . . Picking the San Angelo Bobcats to finish no higher than fourth in District 3-AAAA (which Texas Football magazine did) can be likened only to waving a red flag in front of a bull . . . When coach Dan LaGrasta heard about it, he stated: "No Bobcat living or dead, is going to settle for fourth place" . . . The District 3-AAAA football brochure is due to be available to readers within a few days . . . For a craft that appears to be shipping water, the American Basketball Association deals in big money . . . The Los Angeles Stars of that circuit reportedly are paying Simmie Hill, the ex-West Texas State star, $435,000 in a package deal, which is tremendous for a virtual unknown . . . The Stars have also acquired Willie Wise, a 6-6 Drake luminary who had been drafted by the San Francisco Warriors of the NBA . . . Is it more than a coincidence that assaults on the major league home run records have come during expansion years — in 1961 and again this year? . . . Roger Maris his 61 round trippers in '61 and Reggie Jackson may break that figure this year.

STEVE STALLINGS

Several of the big league scouts say that catcher Joe Martinez, who has another season of eligibility left at the local high school, is an outstanding prospect . . . Joe meets the ball well at bat but, more important still, handles his pitchers in an ideal manner and has that good arm going to second base . . . David Jones, the Stanton athletic phenom, has a nine-year-old brother, Marvin, who may eclipse all of David's athletic feats, according to Jimmy Stallings, secretary of the Stanton Recreation Association . . . Marvin is not only a top player in Stanton's small-fry baseball league but is a powerful sprinter in track, as well . . . Incidentally, Jimmy's son, Steve, is working hard for the Dallas AAU meet scheduled in early August, where he'll be competing in the mile against boys with high school eligibility remaining . . . In a recent meet at Arlington, young Stallings ran against a New York product who only the week before had run a 4:10.0 mile and who is already committed to TCU on a track scholarship . . . Lavonne Boyette, official in the Region V Basketball tournament here last March, will be the back judge in the All-Star football game in Dallas next month . . . Earlier this year, band leader Bob Crosby hit a drive off a fairway of a course near where many homes are being built . . . When he finally found his ball, it had a three-penny nail through it (skulduggery in the woods?) . . . It may come to the time when a golfer has to carry a hammer as part of his equipment . . . Johnny Cliff Patton, the ex-Steer quarterback who is bound for Colorado College at Greeley, is doing hard manual labor as a roustabout in the oil fields around here — working seven days a week . . . Robert Jackson, the HCJC basketball star, is passing up scholarship offers from Howard Payne and Centenary to enroll at Lakehead College in Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada . . . He says Port Arthur, a city of about 110,000, offers more to do than a city like Brownwood (or Big Spring) does . . . George Burcher is coach at Lakehead . . . Jackson will have two years of eligibility remaining in basketball.

Adventurer Ends 4,000 Mile Trip

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Tanned, whiskery John Fairfax paddled ashore Saturday after a 4,000-mile journey to become the first man to row the Atlantic Ocean alone.

"This is bloody stupid," the exhausted London adventurer protested after friends aboard a boat declined to take him to land and urged him on for the last mile.

Pulling wearily, Fairfax said "Hail Britannia" and put ashore at a white sand beach as hundreds of weekend swimmers ran to greet him.

His 24-foot orange, shoeshaped rowboat Britannia was badly flaked and faded from 180 days in the often-stormy Atlantic.

Fastened to his bow were dried, gray shark fins, a reminder of a battle he did with a giant hammerhead shark some 120 days at sea.

"Beautiful hammerhead," he said.

shark that was," grinned the 31-year-old unemployed bachelor. Fairfax said the shark attacked him as he scraped barnacles from the bottom of his tiny vessel and he managed to kill it with his knife.

Aboard a yacht which followed Fairfax in his London sweetheart, Sylvia Marrett, 30, wearing a blue mini-skirt and a red bow in her long brown hair.

"He looks marvelous, a little thinner, I think," she beamed as she waved him on.

Miss Marrett quit her job of nine years in a London art gallery several weeks ago to come to the United States and await Fairfax's arrival.

"I decided some things are more important than a job. I wanted to be with John," she said.

John Austin of London, one of Fairfax's sponsors, said the record voyage would be financially profitable.

"It's bound to be worth more than $10,000," he said.

Austin said two U.S. magazines and at least three television network talk shows were interested in speaking to the lone seaman. He also said two London book publishers were in contact with him.

In 1966 two British paratroopers, Capt. John Ridgway and Sgt. Chay Blyth, rowed the Atlantic from Cape Cod, Mass., to Ireland, but Fairfax claims to be the only man to have done it alone.

He left the Canary Islands last Jan. 20 in his small craft, a mahogany plywood boat similar to the lifeboats air-dropped to downed British and American fliers during World War II. The boat is unsinkable and, if capsize, will automatically right itself in a matter of seconds.

Highlights Of Three Days Aboard Moon Ship Columbia

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Here are highlights of Apollo 11's fourth, fifth and sixth days in space, all times Eastern Daylight:

The day ahead (Sunday): Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins awake at 7:02 a.m. after a nine-hour rest period and eat breakfast.

Hatch separating lunar module (LM) landing craft and command ship is removed. Aldrin crawls into LM at 9:17 a.m. and switches on electrical power.

Armstrong follows at 10:16 a.m. He checks out LM communications and astronauts hook pressure suits into LM life support systems.

LM landing legs deployed at 12:25 p.m.

Mission control gives go-no-go for undocking at 1 p.m., followed by a check out of LM maneuvering jets.

Command ship piloted alone by Collins undocks with LM at 1:40 p.m., and both ships do formation flying so Collins can inspect LM's exterior.

LM's braking rocket triggered for 29 seconds at 3:03 p.m. to lower landing craft's orbit from 69-mile-high circular path to an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 10 to 66 miles high.

Braking rocket fired again at 4:02 p.m. for 12 minutes for final descent to the surface.

Astronauts begin photographing lunar surface from LM windows at 5:30 p.m., while Collins zips overhead trying to spot the landing area.

Forty-minute eat period begins at 6:16 p.m., followed by four-hour rest period and another one-hour eat period at 10:56 p.m.

The following day (Monday):

Armstrong and Aldrin begin preparations at midnight for moon walk, unstowing equipment.

They don life-supporting backpacks filled with oxygen at 12:30 a.m. and begin a one-hour check out of backpack systems.

Cockpit depressurized at 1:30 a.m. and hatch opened half-hour later exposing LM cabin to the lunar vacuum.

Armstrong eases backwards on hands and knees out LM hatch at 2:07 a.m. and stands on LM front porch. He slowly descends ladder to surface and on the way opens a compartment holding TV camera. TV turned on.

Armstrong steps on moon for first time at 2:16 a.m., checks his stability in one-sixth gravity environment, uses scoop to pick up sample of lunar rock and sticks it in a pocket. He then begins inspection of LM landing gear.

Aldrin climbs out LM and steps on moon at 2:30 a.m. Armstrong deploys TV camera to a position 30 feet from LM, so earthlings can see LM and astronauts working around it.

Armstrong begins putting rocks and soil samples in a box at 2:45 a.m., as Aldrin becomes familiar with lunar environment. Both astronauts begin detailed inspection of LM at 3:05 a.m.

Aldrin carries experiments from LM to a point about 70 feet away and deploys them at 3:15 a.m. One experiment is to listen for moonquakes and the other is to reflect laser beams fired from earth so scientists can measure exact earth-moon distance.

At 3:30 a.m., Aldrin and Armstrong fill another box with the most geologically interesting rocks they can obtain.

Aldrin climbs back into LM at 4:08 a.m. Using a hand-powered conveyor belt, Armstrong and Aldrin work together to transfer rock boxes, cameras and other gear into LM.

Armstrong climbs into LM at 4:25 a.m. and astronauts repressurize cabin.

Astronauts begin 40-minute eat period at 6:09 a.m., followed by five-hour rest period and another eat period.

LM's ascent engine fired for critical seven-minute burn at 1:30 p.m. to put astronauts into an initial lunar orbit ranging from 52 to 69 miles. Several firings of smaller maneuvering rockets later put LM in same orbit as command ship.

LM and command ship hook up again at 5:26 p.m. Armstrong and Aldrin return to command ship about two hours later.

Unmanned LM jettisoned from command ship's nose at 9:20 p.m.

One-hour eat period begins at 9:53 p.m.

Main engine fired at 12:32 a.m. Tuesday to kick Apollo 11 out of lunar orbit and start return trip home.

During a 35-minute telecast starting at 3:56 p.m., the astronauts showed earthlings views of the lunar surface and Armstrong gave a running commentary of what he expects to see descending to the surface.

The spaceship engine was successfully triggered again at 5:37 p.m. EDT to lower Apollo 11's orbit to 62 by 75 miles above the surface. They then repressurized the LM so the astronauts could unstow equipment in it in preparation for Sunday's landing.

Pinkerton Hired As Night Officer

STANTON (SC) — The City Council met in a called session Thursday at City Hall and approved the hiring of Elmo Pinkerton as night patrolman. Pinkerton has been working as patrolman on a temporary basis.

Applications for water department clerk are being accepted at City Hall. Mayor J. C. Epley and F. E. Houston, W. H. Terry Jr., Benjamin Welch, Gerald Hanson and Stanton White, councilmen, attended the called meeting.

Enemy Garrison Taken By Surprise

SAIGON (AP)—Sweeping down in helicopters behind a rocket and artillery barrage, U.S. 25th Infantry Division soldiers surprised and overwhelmed a garrison at an enemy supply headquarters north of Saigon Saturday.

"This was the most precisely timed and expertly executed raid I've ever seen," said the division commander, Maj. Gen. Ellis W. Williamson, who circled above the battle in his command helicopter.

At the end of the fighting, 47 enemy soldiers had been killed and 25 captured, U.S. spokesmen said. No U.S. casualties were reported. A spokesman said the 25 captives was an unusually large number for any battle in Vietnam and showed the complete surprise achieved.

The enemy camp was located only seven miles north of Cu Chi, the 25th Division's headquarters. Cu Chi itself is 30 miles north of Saigon.

There was a camouflaged main headquarters building and supply storage buildings.

The attack was staged at dusk, an unusual time for an American attack. First, Cobra gunships flew over firing their rockets. When they left, U.S. artillery opened up on the camp.

As the artillery barrage lifted, the division's 2nd Brigade arrived by helicopter and ground fighting raged for about an hour.

If the Americans hoped to scoop up large supplies they were disappointed. They found only two rocket-propelled grenades, seven AK47s, the standard enemy automatic rifles, and a machine gun. They then were flown out by helicopters.

A military spokesman said the unorthodox tactic of a helicopter assault just before dusk "caught the Viet Cong completely by surprise."

Attorneys For Moody Allowed More Depositions

Attorneys for Michael Lee Moody, charged with murder and scheduled for trial here starting July 28, Friday, obtained permission from Judge Ralph Caton in 11th District Court to take depositions in the case from seven persons.

The court had already ordered the depositions of 10 persons. These, according to local court officials, are to be taken early this week.

The depositions asked Friday are those of Joe Saragosa, Earl Luckey, Roger H. Meurer, Pete Monemayer, Sidney Corley, Jimmie Colburn and Thomas B. White.

Moody is under indictment for the strangling death of a year ago of 33-month old Lori Margaret Gunn in Midland. The case has been moved from Midland to Big Spring on a change of venue.

The defense attorneys Friday also asked the issuance of 15 subpoenas. Five of these named persons whose only known addresses are military post offices.

Several of those who are to be subpoenaed are identified only as "Capt. Shea," "Sgt. Thomas" and other names without initials or other identifying information.

FURRY, SCALY Over 100 Have Seen Monster

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Lake Worth monster may be caused by Texas' burning heat of the last few weeks, police opine, but if that is correct, about 100 persons have been similarly stricken.

The 7-foot, half man, half goat has been chased and done some chasing himself for about two weeks on Greer Island on the old lake.

Police last had a report on the furry and scaly creature only Thursday. The latest witness said it had a "head like a man, ears like a goat, a dragon's back, one horn and scales."

Another witness said he just wasn't able to describe the thing.

Officers first heard of the monster 10 days ago when a man told them the thing jumped on his car as he drove on Greer Island. It ran away, the man said, then picked up a tire and rim and threw it 500 feet at him.

Police found a scratch on the man's automobile—but no monster.

Jack Cooper, who lives about a tire's throw from Lake Worth, said he and some Fort Worth naturalists have concluded that the monster is a bobcat.

A tire throwing bobcat? Joe Pack of Fort Worth carved a statue of the monster after listening to about 100 people describe it.

"I don't know what to believe," said Pack. "I don't deny anything anymore."

Baptist Survey Indicates Preachers No Longer Poor

DALLAS (AP) — Preachers by a number of churches were no longer as poor as a churchmouse, a recent survey by the Southern Baptists indicates.

Figures compiled by the Research and Statistics Department of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention show pastors in churches of over 3,000 members can make up to $21,343 a year.

Average compensation for pastors in churches of 500 to 749 members was shown to be $11,157.

Rental allowances, car expense, utilities, insurance and other fringe benefits, where provided by churches, were included in the annual compensation figures.

Considering base salary only, 90.6 per cent of the pastors in the smaller churches are earning less than $8,000 yearly, but nearly three-fourths of their counterparts in the largest churches have an annual base pay of over $12,000.

In middle-sized churches, with 1,000 to 1,499 members, 62.6 per cent of the pastors earn more than $8,000 annual base pay.

Churches with fewer than 500 members were not included in the survey.

Nearly all of the churches — 97.6 per cent — provide a home for pastors and 70 per cent pay their utility bills as well.

Other fringe benefits reported

Hearings On Insurance Set

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith's special auto insurance fact-finding committee will hold its first meeting Thursday. Smith is expected to speak to the nine-member group.

The committee chairman, former Gov. Price Daniel said he hoped members of the State Insurance Board and its staff would be available to answer questions and present data on the proposed 11.4 per cent statewide average increase in private car insurance.

Smith named the committee earlier this week after declaring the proposed rate increase bordered on catastrophe for Texas drivers.

The insurance board is expected to act on the proposal Aug. 1, putting it into effect Sept. 1.

Moss Creek Lake

— A WEST TEXAS OASIS —

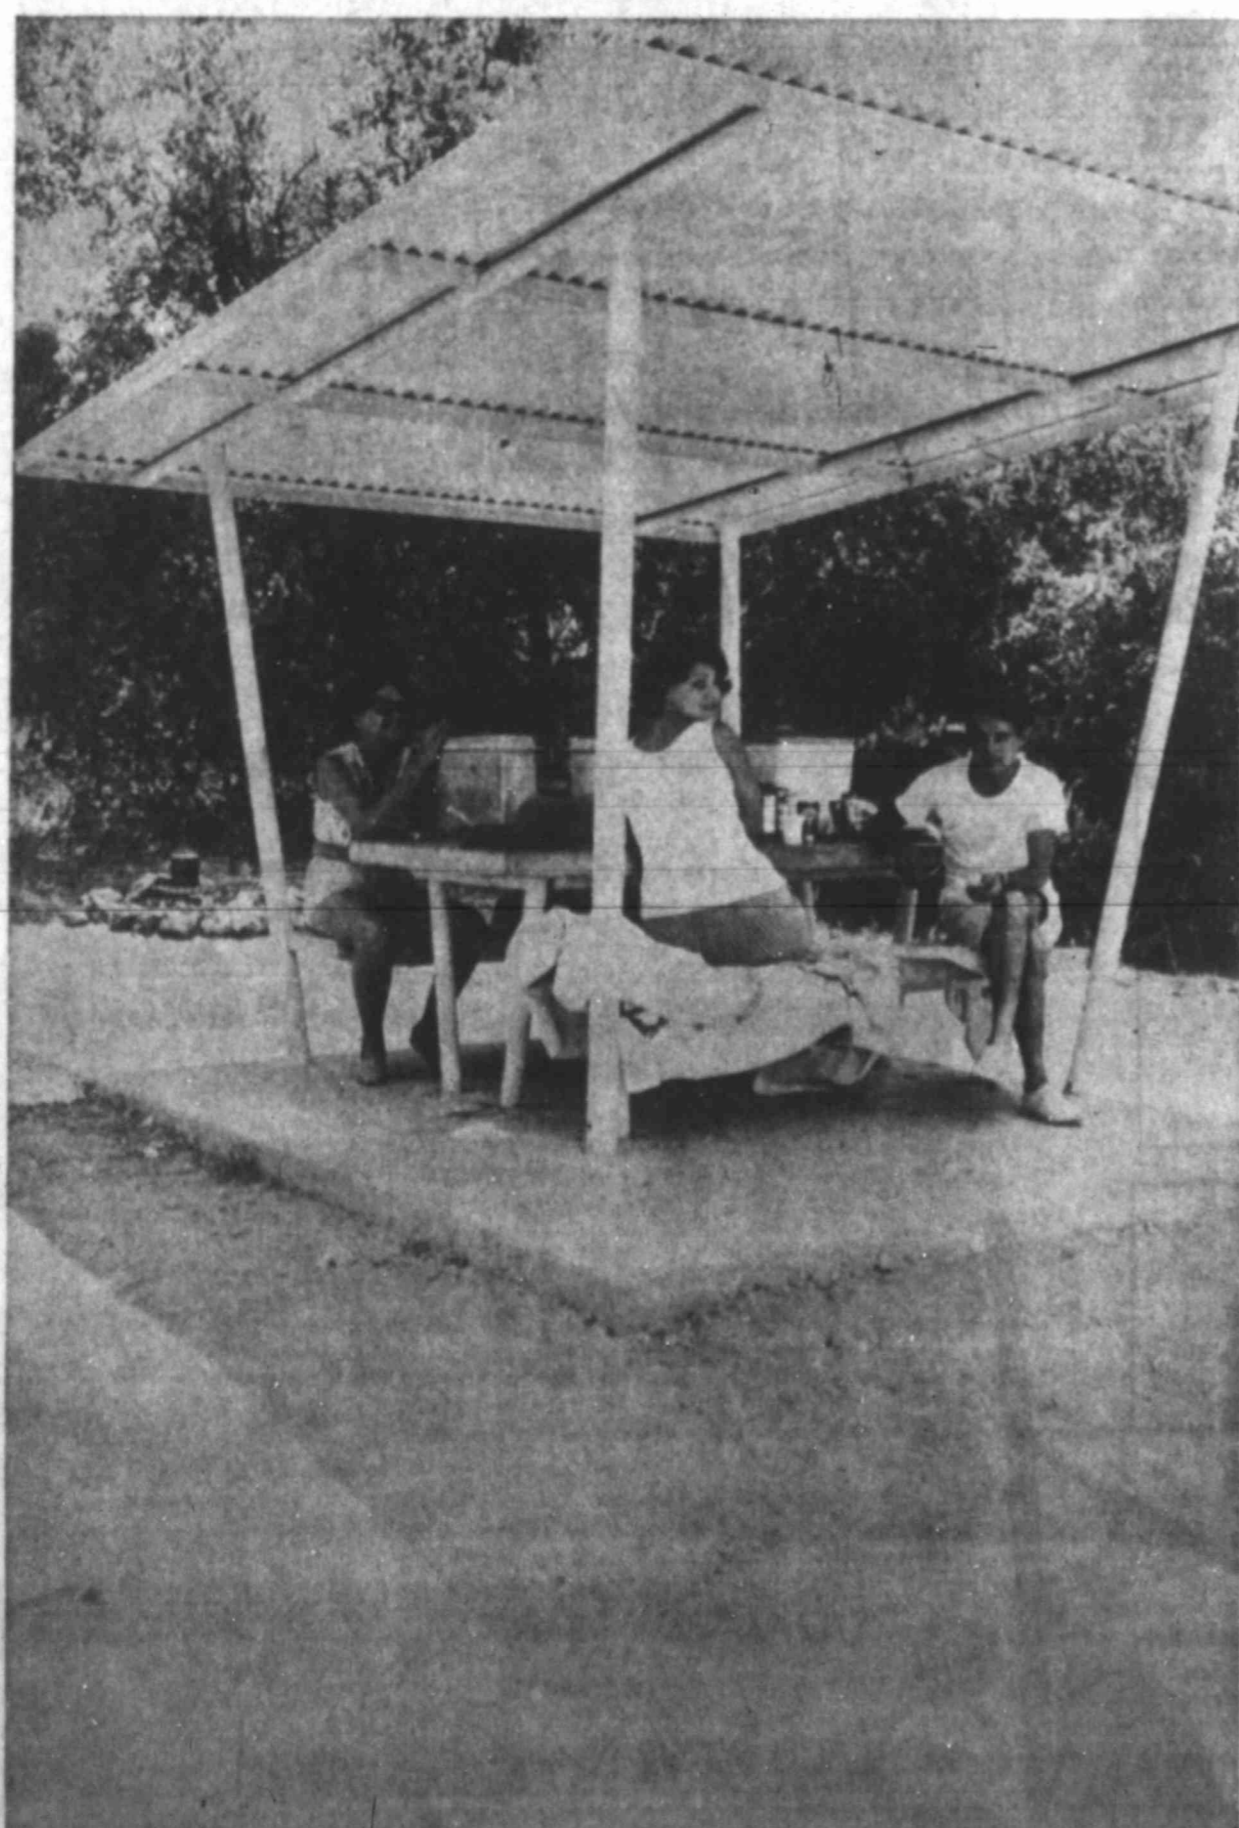

WEST TEXAS WINDS provide power for colorful sail boats which skim the mirror surfaces of Moss Creek Lake. To insure safety and enjoyment for all who use the lake, only small boats are allowed for sailing, rowing or fishing. Here, Mr. and Mrs. Zane D. Curry have beached their boat near the boat ramp and fishing docks.

THE SANDY SHORE AREA at Moss Creek Lake take on a beach appearance as sun-worshippers shed the cares of the week for an afternoon of swimming and relaxation. Recreational facilities at the lake have been steadily improved since the dam was completed in 1939. The lake's surface area covers 144 acres and the average depth is 31.5 feet. In the foreground, a child discards her life jacket to join her mother on the blanket, and at center, a young couple have brought a protected playpen for their baby. Near the water's edge, a father stands to keep a protective eye on youngsters bobbing on floats.

Photos by Lynna Kay Weaver

PICNIC PAVILIONS PUT these couples in the shade for easy outdoor dining during an outing at the lake. Hampers hold cold cuts and drinks, while hot coffee brews on the campfire. There are numerous small sites such as this at the lake, as well as two concrete pavilions which may be reserved for larger gatherings. Added conveniences are barbecue racks, dressing rooms and rest room facilities.

WEEKEND VISITORS TO Moss Creek Lake are often treated to the sight of soaring planes taking off from a field which has been cleared southeast of the lake. Organized only a few years ago, the local soaring club has gained many enthusiastic members who participate in the sport every weekend when weather permits the planes to go aloft.

Retired Army Couple Traveled Far To Reside In Big Spring

By RHODA LEMONS
The Big Spring Herald was, in part, responsible for Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. C. L. Flick making their retirement home in Big Spring at No. 5, Ponderosa Apartments.

The Flicks were traveling from Riverside, Calif., to Tyler, where they planned to live, when they stopped here en route, and Col. Flick bought a paper to scan the advertisements. He found apartments advertised, so they "went looking," renting the first one they found. Now they are comfortable and happily the two most enthusiastic residents in Big Spring.

Col. Flick was born in Fairmont, W. Va., the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Flick. He has four sisters. His father was in the production end of the oil industry, and the family traveled widely while he worked in the oil fields. Col. Flick graduated from high school in Fairmont, and attended Baylor University for a brief time. After "running away from home" three times (his father came after him twice), he enlisted in the military in World War I.

Following brief service in the war, he went to Ranger to work in the oil fields, later working as a driller over East Texas and Virginia.

He re-enlisted in the Army in Virginia and was classified as post librarian while actually playing football most of the time. This was in 1925, the year he met and married a college student, Miss Lucile White of Indianapolis, Ind. She had graduated from Indiana University, but was furthering her education at Mrs. Blaker's Normal, now a part of the university. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oakley M. White. The couple moved to West Texas, where Col. Flick again resumed work in the oil fields, this time in Odessa.

He drilled the first oil well in Crane where Mrs. Flick was the first school teacher. Also, they built the first house in Crane. Recently, they went back to see it, and it is still standing and currently occupied.

The military life still attracted Col. Flick, so they returned to Indianapolis, where he joined the Air Force in 1931 as a master sergeant. He had left with his group, the 54th Troop Carrier Wing, to join Gen. Claire Chennault's Flying Tigers in China, when a change of orders turned their ship toward Melbourne, Australia. He was commissioned a warrant officer while in New Guinea, where he contracted malaria.

Sent to a base hospital in San Francisco, Calif., he later rejoined his troop and was ordered to Biak (the northern tip of New Guinea) and on to the Philippines, and Okinawa invasions.

He served with the occupation forces in Korea and Japan before being sent back to the Philippines, then to Hickam Field in Hawaii. He was joined there by his wife and three sons.

Col. Flick was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in 1953, retiring in 1955. He spent the last five years at the Inspector General Headquarters branch at Norton Air Force Base, Calif.

"I have never been anywhere," said Mrs. Flick, "while he has traveled in 53 foreign countries." However, she kept the home a welcome place for him to return, and she reared their children while he was away.

The couple's sons are Robert W. 28, of Canoga Park, Calif.; and James D. 30, of Corb L., 33, Laguna Beach, Ontario, Calif.

"We also have eight beautiful grandchildren," said Mrs. Flick. "We are utterly delighted to be in Big Spring," she continued. "The climate is wonderful, the people are friendly and the cost of living is so much less than it was in California."

Col. Flick's favorite hobby is bowling, and Mrs. Flick enjoys reading and sewing. They both like bridge.

Col. and Mrs. Flick are of the Presbyterian faith.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. George H. O'Brien Jr. of Midland, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Terry Jo, to Foy J. Henson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Foy J. Henson Sr. of Arlington. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien Sr. of Big Spring. The wedding is planned for Nov. 29 in the First Presbyterian Church in Midland with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd of Big Spring and the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn of Midland officiating.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

On the other end of that camping 'like-or-no-like' clique are a group of Big Springers who are now at Island Village on Lake Buchanan and plan to spend from one to two weeks right out in the lake. They drive across a causeway to get to their camping space.

Four Big Spring families left Friday and met the FLOYD HOBSONS who live in Lubbock for the "camp-in." From here are MR. and MRS. C. L. WOODS, MR. and MRS. BOB RYBOLT and their children and Mrs. Rybolt's mother; MR. and MRS. JAMES HOUSEHOLDER and MR. and MRS. L. H. STEWARD. They went equipped with boats, fishing gear, water sports needs and whatever else a family takes to entertain themselves on what sounds like fun. (That is, if you like to camp.)

MRS. JANIE COFER is off on a vacation trip to see her other sons, grandchildren and her only great-grandchild. She is to go first to Westwood, N.J. to see her youngest son, Kenneth, and his family, then she will visit in Centralia, Ill., with Merlin and his family. Here she will see again her great-grandchild, Craig Basant, who is now three years of age. She saw him when he was an infant.

TERESA and DEBBIE CROWNOVER and their friend, PAT HOWARD, have returned to their home in Lafayette, La., after visiting here with the Crownover children's grandparents, CMDR. (Ret) and MRS. NEEL BARNABY. The children's parents, CAPT. and MRS. A. B. CROWNOVER and MR. and MRS. PAT HOWARD, flew here and visited the Barnabys, the B. BROADRICKS and the JERRY CURRIES.

The Barnabys brought the children home with them when they returned from a vacation trip to Lafayette and New Orleans where they attended retirement festivities for CMDR. and MRS. WALTER HEISON and also the change of command at the Naval Support Activity. Another friend, CMDR. WILLIAM PADEN also retired at this time. During the stay in New Orleans the couple visited their son, Neel Jr. in Meridian, Miss., they were guests of MR. and MRS. BOB WRIGHT.

MR. and MRS. FLOYD PANNELL are in Corpus Christi visiting their youngest daughter and her husband.

JOHN HARDY finally got to be 12 years of age and he joined the ranks of grandchildren of DR. and MRS. W. B. HARDY for his air trip to Texas. MR. and MRS. JAMES M. (BOBO) HARDY who lived here a number of years now make their home in Maplewood, N.J., and as each of their children has reached the age of 12 they have given them an air trip to Texas. John first flew to Houston to visit his other grandparents and will arrive here Tuesday. When he has his visit out, Mrs. Hardy will fly with him to Dallas to get him started on his trip back home.

MRS. GARNER McADAMS called to say yes they would be going back to Lake City, Colo., this summer but that will come later. Right now they are just back from a fabulous trip to Mackinack Island, Mich., where they attended the ABC national convention which was held at Grand Hotel.

After the convention they took the Lake Superior Circle which they entered at Sault Ste. Marie. This they recommend for anyone who gets up that way. At Lansing, Mich., they visited some longtime friends of Mrs. McAdams, MR. and MRS. RALPH E. (BUD) KAUFFMAN, who was a captain when he left Webb AFB in 1951. They asked to be remembered to a number of Big Spring friends, among them the JIM ZACKS, the ELMO WASSONS, the A. SWARTZES, and the BOB WHIPKEYS.

MR. and MRS. JOHN ULREY and their children, Palma and Jhon Bae, plan to return today to their home in Pasadena after spending a week here with his mother, MRS. R. D. ULREY.

MR. and MRS. A. W. MOODY and four of their five children of Garden-Grove, Calif., are expected today to visit his parents, MR. and MRS. ALFRED MOODY, and other relatives. Joe Vernon, Susie, Syvilla and Beth are coming with the parents but Sarah, the eldest, will not come to Texas until later when she will register again at North Texas State University at Denton. All the kith and kin are planning a family picnic on Monday evening at the City Park.

MR. and MRS. RODGER W. WYMAN and their children, Mike, Vicki and Colin, have returned to their home in Georgetown, Mass., after a visit of two weeks here in the homes of Mrs. Wyman's two sisters, MRS. JOHN C. ARNOLD and MRS. JOE M. WRIGHT, and a brother, FISHER P. TYNES. Also here during the visit was Mrs. Wyman's mother, MRS. W. C. HAMILTON, who lives in Cisco.

One of the highlights of the visit to Texas was a big family picnic at Birdwell Park during the July 4th holidays when the JOHN C. ARNOLDS JR. came from Hereford to join the other members of the family.

Mrs. Wyman is the former LENNA TYNES and was married to Mr. Wyman when he was stationed here at Webb AFB.

After several starts and stops, I have finally met the charming MRS. HARRISON LOBDELL JR. and MRS. ANDERSON ATKINSON at a small gathering of friends at the J. E. HOGAN home Friday morning. The wives of the new officers at Webb have been busy socially since their arrival here and are gradually getting able to put names with faces ... which is no small task.

MRS. JOEY GLENN BAKER

Couple United In Marriage

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Debbey Shane Estes and Joey Glenn Baker Friday evening at the Wesley United Methodist Church. The Rev. Caleb Hildebrand performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was adorned with baskets of white gladioli and spider mums against a background of wedding palms flanked by branched candelabra.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bill M. Estes, 1909 Osage, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Baker, 604 Steakley. Miss Annette Fitzhugh, organist, accompanied Miss Sheryl Gambill as she sang "More" and "The Wedding Prayer." The couple knelt on a white satin prie-dieu during prayer.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of candlelight silk organza and Alencon lace. The Empire bodice, overlaid with English net, was etched with lace medallions and featured long tapered sleeves and wedding ring neckline. The Watteau train was chapel-length, and a cathedral veil of silk illusion fell from a Dior bow trimmed with lace and pearls. She carried a cascade of white bridal roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Denise Estes, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pale avocado formal gown designed with Empire bodice and scooped neckline. Her brief train was attached at the waistline and topped with a bow. Her headpiece was a Dior bow of matching maline with brief veil, and she carried an English nosegay of yellow daisies interspersed with babies'-breath.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donnie Baker and Mrs. Mike Callahan. Bridesmaids were Miss Lynn Ezell of Harlingen; Miss Sarah Flynn, Port Arthur; Miss Susan Busch, Baytown; Miss Ann Garrett and Miss Candice Marcum. All were attired in blue peau de soie gowns designed as the maid's of honor. They wore blue maline Dior bows attached to veils of illusion and carried nosegays of yellow daisies.

Miss Terri Taylor, Burkburnett, was junior bridesmaid. Altar tapers were lighted by Miss Denise Johnson and Miss Donna McDaniel. They were attired in dresses identical to the other attendants, and the altar taper lighters were bustle bouquets above the trains of their dresses.

'What's For Dinner?'

Maybe it doesn't look like what mother used to make, but shown above is the first scheduled meal to be eaten on the moon. Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin will spend about 24 hours on the moon. Between the two exploratory and rest periods, they will eat two meals. Pictured is the first one, which will consist of bacon squares, peaches, sugar cookie cubes, pineapple grapefruit drink and coffee.

Meals On The Moon Not Like Mom Made

When Apollo 11 astronauts land on the moon, they will be eating tasty, nutritious and varied meals supplied to NASA by the Life Support Division of Whirlpool Corporation. Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin will spend about 24 hours on the moon. Between the two exploratory and rest periods, they will eat two meals on the moon.

Their first scheduled meal to be eaten on the moon will consist of bacon squares, peaches, sugar cookie cubes, pineapple grapefruit drink and coffee. The second meal will contain beef stew, cream of chicken soup, date fruitcake, grape punch and orange drink. In addition to the meals, other snack items such as dried fruit, candy, extra beverages, wet packs, sandwich spread, and bread will be included.

The food items are similar to the types used in previous Apollo missions: freeze-dried bite-size foods, those eaten directly from the package; and rehydratable freeze-dried foods, those foods which need to be reconstituted with water before eaten. Astronauts Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins will eat in the command module according to pre-planned menus and will also have pantry items which they can select at will.

The meals are referred to as Meal A, B or C and are identified to each astronaut by means of a colored tab of "velcro" material. "Velcro" is a nylon hooked material which mates to a similar textured material on the spacecraft wall. Besides identifying the food, it acts as a holding device which keeps the food packs from floating in space.

Unlike other missions, Apollo 11 will carry pre-planned menus for only the first five days of the flight. For the duration of the flight, the astronauts may select individual food items from a pantry. Pantry items are foods which are not as-

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. LARRY McLAIN
Unlike other occupations, the military is not just a job; it is an entire way of life. Working in a highly technical military area such as the Air Force creates a complex mode of life unknown to many civilian jobs. Frequent moving, periods of separation and unusual working hours are some of the more common strains that become commonplace with Air Force families. And as with any occupation, the security and harmony of the family are vital to the effectiveness and efficiency with which a military man performs his jobs.

It emerges as an inevitability then, that an organization such as Family Services would develop, whose mission is to serve the military family. In providing a centrally-located office where dependents may obtain information and assistance, Family Services significantly helps to alleviate the inconveniences caused by periodic moves. "Kitchen Kits" containing the vital kitchen needs is only one such help. Others include providing cribs, cots, irons and ironing boards until household goods arrive to the new home or after they are packed for their new destination.

Family Services is staffed entirely by volunteers who are wives of Air Force personnel. Most of them have no doubt utilized the service during their Air Force experience, so they can be especially helpful to new people because they have been through it all themselves. Just their personal interest and the reassurance that all will go well seems enough contribution. But they do even more.

Heading up the volunteers is the coordinator, Mrs. David P. Mott, who is responsible for monitoring all volunteer activities and providing leadership and guidance to the volunteer force so that they work as an efficient team. Working with her is the office chairman, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, who is concerned with the day-to-day work of the service and the staff. Advising the group is Mrs. Chandler B. Estes, and Sgt. Vernon Skarke is advising officer. Because the volunteers and officers of the group are from both officer and enlisted ranks, Family Services represents a total effort on the part of the military team to "take care of its own."

In an effort to further familiarize military dependents with the services of Family Services, a series of coffees is now in the planning stage. In addition to information about the service, a program or guest speaker will highlight the meetings. Though the military man and his family must live a different sort of life, things are made easier because Family Service is serving the family wherever the military man is serving his country.

"You have been named 'filler-inner'." That's what the note said. Now, granted, I've always had a hankering to be named something or other — but frankly, I hoped for more than I got. "Filler-inner" somehow lacks the glamour I envisioned in other titles, but none the less, it is mine. Which means I'll be writing a few Rims next month — sans chest banner — while the boys take a breather.

It's been a banner week for someone else, tho. Mrs. J. C. Humphries, who was 75 years old Friday, couldn't have had a better present than a fly-in visit from her niece, Mrs. Paul (Volene) Dodson, and her daughter, Claudette, of Fresno, Calif. The Humphries had never seen their niece, who, along with a woman friend as co-pilot, landed at Howard County Airport Wednesday. The women (members of the 99'ers) had left Fresno two weeks ago to attend the Powder Puff Derby events in Washington, D.C., and stopped here while returning to California where Mrs. Dodson's husband operates a chemical plant. The women joined the Humphries and Mrs. Humphries' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Brooks of Cross Plains for dinner at Camada Inn. The next day, Mrs. Dodson took the Brooks for a short flight, and he, who had never flown, said "It thrilled me so much it nearly killed me!" Mrs. Dodson is the daughter of Mrs. Nora Bourland of Crockett, Calif.

Had a brief visit with Harriet Zie who was gathering up the loose ends for her daughter's wedding yesterday. The ex-Big Springers have missed local friends since their transfer to Tulsa, Okla., and Harriet hasn't been getting in as much golf up there as she did here. They stayed at the Tommy Jordan home while Tommy and Bernice are in Rudoso.

Chatted with that delightful Mrs. Carl Strom Saturday morning. Sol M. Smith and daughter, Paula, had flown in from the 7-Bar Ranch at Fairfax, Okla., to visit their aunt, Mrs. Strom, and family. Sol will return today, but Pamela will stay for a week before taking a commercial plane to Kansas City, Mo., to join her parents for the Flying Farmers convention. Sol is vice president of the group, and Pamela, a student pilot, is it's duchess. Thursday, the Stroms and Pamela's cousin, Easy Ezzell, entertained with a pizza and miniature golf party which ended up at their home in the wee hours. No doubt, Pamela will continue the pace while a guest here.

Had a cup of coffee with Harry Sawyer, Bell's man in Big Spring, at the Settles the other day. He says that he and Mrs. Sawyer may have a week's vacation all their own this year. The first week was spent with the youngsters at Padre Island, which was fun, but more tiring than restful.

Rest and relaxation is what the Morris Pattersons and Tommy Gages were seeking when I talked to them at the Crystal Cafe. They were getting a quick snack while finishing preparations for a trip to Colorado.

Gift Shower Held For Parsonage

The Mission Methodist Church parsonage benefited from a miscellaneous kitchen shower by the Philathea Sunday School class. The gathering was held Thursday following a dinner at First United Methodist Church, when gifts were presented to Mrs. Apolonia Vega, wife of the mission pastor.

Mrs. C. R. Moad was elected president of the class. Other officers named were Mrs. Cass Hill, first vice president; Mrs. R. F. Dorsey, second vice president; Mrs. L. B. Maulden, secretary; Mrs. Gladys Burnham, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Stripling, curriculum chairman; and Mrs. J. D. O'Barr, group chairman.

Mrs. Stripling gave the program, "Life Is An Echo," and Mrs. Bill McIvain introduced Mrs. Vega. Miss Roberta Gay, pianist, accompanied Mrs. E. C. Howard in leading group singing.

Hostesses were Mrs. S. R. Nobles, Mrs. T. G. Adams, Mrs. Jake Bishop, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs. Hugh Duncan, Mrs. E. C. Howard, Mrs. C. R. McClenny, Mrs. M. E. Ooley, Mrs. Lawrence Robinson and Mrs. Stripling.

Mrs. H. V. McClellan gave the invocation. The main table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of phlox and dahlias. Other floral arrangements were placed on smaller tables.

Miss Zike Becomes Bride Of Michel Conley Saturday

Miss Margaret Elaine Zike became the bride of Michel Owen Conley Saturday morning in the First Presbyterian Church with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd performing the double ring ceremony.

The prelude of nuptial music was by Miss Lynne Puckett, organist, who played the theme from "Romeo and Juliet" and accompanied Mrs. Noble Kennemur as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "More."

The bride is the daughter of

MRS. MICHEL OWEN CONLEY

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Zike of Tulsa, Okla., formerly of Big Spring, and the bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kelly of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The altar setting was enhanced with arched candleabra and emerald palms flanked by arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, pale pink asters and greenery. The bride was attired in a formal gown of white taffeta embossed with daisies and overlaid with silk organza trimmed with daisy Chantilly lace. The Empire gown was fashioned with lace forming a brief yoke and short scalloped sleeves, and the back of the gown swept into a chapel-length train bordered with lace and tiny bows. Her headpiece of white roses and lily of the valley secured a tiered circular veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white and pale pink sweetheart roses interspersed with ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Sarah Eileen Bennett, wore a sleeveless cerise gown styled with Empire waist, ruffled neckline and A-line skirt. A small bow topped a pleat at the back of the dress. She wore a Dior hair bow with veiling and carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses tied with moss green ribbon.

Alan Anderson of Seattle, Wash., was best man, and the bride's brother, James H. Zike of Webster, served as usher.

Following the wedding, a luncheon buffet was held at the KC Steak House, attended by approximately 50 guests. The bridegroom's grandmother joined the couple and her parents in receiving guests who were registered by Mrs. James H. Zike of Webster.

The bride's table and buffet were graced with white floral arrangements. Champagne punch was served with a double ring cake decorated with white ribbons and wedding bells.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Deaton Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Atkins, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Marcum, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boren, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Kilpatrick, Miss Mary Boren, Miss Debbie Douglass and Miss Vicki Holland.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a light green double knit sheath with three-quarter-length sleeves.

The bride graduated from Big Spring High School where she was associate editor of the Corral and member of Future Teachers of America, 4-H Club, History Club and Tri-Hi-Y. During two years at the University of Texas she majored in Interior Design and was a member of Alpha Xi Delta. She plans to continue her education. The bridegroom Robertson, Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. Bob Rogers and Mrs. Ernest Welch. Guests were greeted by Miss Valencia Rankin and Miss Theresa Rankin. Miss Karen Fortson presided at the bride's book.

The table was laid with white net trimmed with satin and pearls, and crystal and silver appointments were used. The centerpiece was a crystal epergne holding turquoise carnations and white pompons. The future bride's corsage was of turquoise carnations tied with miniature wedding bells. Her mother, Mrs. J. B. Howell of Seminole, and her fiancé's mother and sister, Mrs. Joe E. Fortson and Miss Karen Fortson, received corsages of white pompons with bell trim.

The couple will be married July 26 in the Avenue B Church of Christ in Seminole.

Texas!

Fort Davis

When the U.S. Secretary of War, Jefferson Davis, ordered the construction of a fort in west Texas in 1854 to assure the safe and swift flow of traffic through these parts, he had his eye on the 1970's, too.

While it is no longer necessary to be escorted by the U.S. Cavalry across our superb West Texas highways, the westward movement of Texans continues to accelerate toward their increasingly popular Trans-Pecos playground, smack in the middle of which sits Fort Davis. Or, rather, its ruins. Back just before the Civil War, the Apaches and Comanches played need with anything that moved west of the Pecos River. This was their happy hunting ground which consisted mostly of raiding trails into Mexico over which they rampaged frequently. But, with rich trade opportunities beckoning, the discovery of gold in California and the need to settle the new territories of New Mexico, Arizona, California and Utah recently gained from Mexico, the west was opening up for the white man. And across Texas he poured.

To quell the Indians who were taking a heavy toll of these pioneers, the U.S. built Fort Davis. . . and later forts Hudson, Lancaster, Stockton and Quitman. For nearly thirty years, the valiant men of Ft. Davis campaigned against the wily and elusive redman, including eighteen years of highly effective Indian fighting by the notorious Negro troops, the Buffalo Soldiers. Diligent escort duty, Army tenacity and the growing encroachment of the white man drove the Indian north and west until, in a final battle with the Apaches west of the fort, the Indian menace in west Texas was ended in 1880. Life at the fort was reduced to a dull, formal routine, broken only by an occasional campaign with Texas Rangers against bandits. In 1891 Ft. Davis was ordered abandoned.

Today, a thrilling and skillfully presented program and tour of National Historic Site Fort Davis awaits the Texan who comes this way. Dedicated personnel in the same spit and polish that marked Ft. Davis routine since its beginning enthusiastically recount the history that was this famous post. . . even to sound, color movies in an air-conditioned theatre! Discover, too, Texan, your lovely Davis Mountains—the sweep of green, mile-high meadows, cool canyons and rushing streams, where time and Nature have banded together to preserve a pristine Paradise. . . and where the exploding population still stands at only one person per square mile. Understand why Brig. General Benjamin H. Grierson, one of the last commanders of Fort Davis, returned following his retirement from the U.S. Army in 1891 to take up the life of a cattleman. . . right across the road from the fort!

SEC. D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 20, 1969 SEC. D

Hearing On HCJC Budget Tuesday

City commissioners and members of the planning and zoning commission will sit in joint session Thursday for a public hearing on the revised city zoning ordinance.

The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Municipal Auditorium, and City Manager Larry Crow said approximately 11,000 notices have been sent to city property owners, advising them of the hearing.

Members of the planning and zoning commission approved the revised ordinance June 12, and recommended the hearing July 24, in order to give city employees time to mail notices. State law requires 10 days notice of a public hearing.

Marvin Springer, city planner, explained the changes in the zoning ordinance at the June 12 meeting, and showed commissioners a preliminary map of the proposed zoning districts.

"The basic standards have not been changed," Springer said. Three districts have been added, the general residential district is reduced in area, and the parking district is enlarged.

The districts added include an agricultural district, an office district and a heavy commercial district.

"The addition of a heavy commercial district will solve problems that have plagued the planning and zoning commission for some time," Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said.

Commissioners have had difficulty in deciding whether heavy commercial businesses can be established in a commercial area where only light commercial businesses exist, he said.

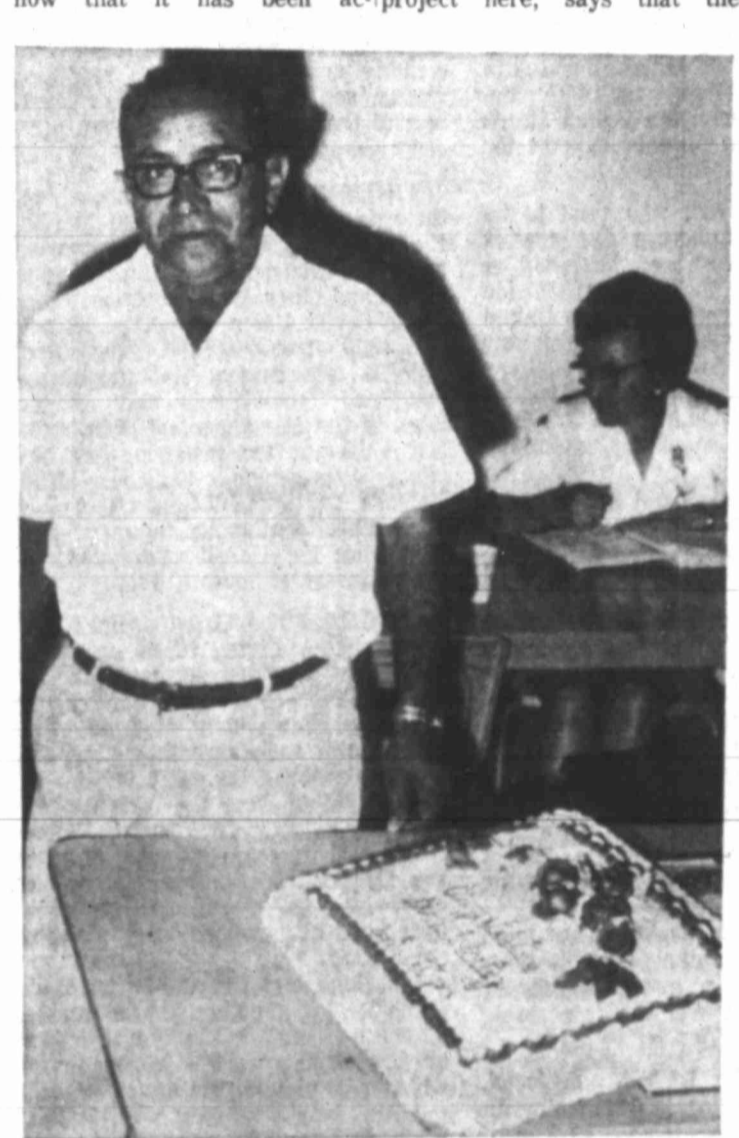

Both heavy and light commercial businesses can exist in a heavy commercial district, according to the new zoning ordinance, but in a light commercial district such

HE HAS EARNED HIS CITIZENSHIP Now Armando Cortez Wants To Vote

By SAM BLACKBURN — Meet Armando Cortez — American citizen.

Armando, 53, made his citizenship the hard way, but now that it has been accomplished, there is no one any-where prouder of the designation.

ARMANDO CORTEZ—AMERICAN CITIZEN Big Springer attains goal it took him 20 years to reach

Keith Swim, school official who directs the adult education project here, says that the achievement of Cortez is a clear-cut demonstration of the effectiveness of the program to help older people correct educational shortcomings.

On July 16, Cortez, who has lived in this country 20 years, stood before the federal judge in Abilene and took his solemn oath to be a good and loyal American.

It was the climax to two years of hard study and much midnight oil burning, and it was a goal the smiling Latin-American had been pursuing since he came to this country from Guadalajara in 1949.

In order to qualify as an American citizen it is necessary the applicant be able to read and write the English language. He lacked this skill. Raising a family of a son and two daughters gave him little time to correct this condition.

Besides, until a short time ago, there was no easily available opportunity for a fellow like Cortez to improve his educational background. With the establishment of the Adult Education project here, the gate was opened.

Cortez promptly enrolled and has been a faithful and hard-working student. Mrs. Loyce Phillips, a teacher, knowing the end that Cortez was pursuing, gave him hours of extra help.

"I could never have done it if it hadn't been for Mrs. Phillips," says Cortez. It took two years for Cortez to acquire sufficient skill as a writer and reader of English for him to try for his naturalization papers.

As of July 16 he became the fifth American citizen in the Cortez residence at 106 N. Nolan. Mrs. Cortez was born in the United States, and their three children are citizens by birth. Therefore it was up to Cortez, head of the family, to make the list complete.

He is employed at the Webb AFB Credit Union and before that worked for many years with W. D. Caldwell here.

What will Cortez do first now that he has attained his citizenship?

"Monday," explained the new American citizen. "I go down to the office of Mrs. (Zarah) LeFevre. I will find out from her how I register so I can vote. It is my duty as a citizen to vote."

His oldest daughter, Martha, 20, graduated from Big Spring High School last spring. She is now married. Armando Jr., his 19-year-old son, will graduate this year. Yolanda, 11, is a seventh grader.

Thursday night, Armando showed up for classes at the Adult Education sessions in Runnels Junior High. In his hand he proudly carried two framed documents — his official designations as an American citizen.

"I wanted my teacher and Mr. Swim to see them," explained Cortez. What he didn't know, though, was that his classmates had anticipated him — there on the table was a gorgeously decorated red, white and blue cake emblazoned with the legend "Armando Cortez — American Citizen."

All Armando could do was stare at the cake with a broad smile on his face, but with just the trace of tears in his eyes. Although normally quite voluble, the guest of honor was this time speechless.

Beauty Draws Duty In Army

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "After I finish with the army," Miss Israel said quietly, "I'd like to have children, and a home."

Hava Levy, a 35 1/2-25-35 1/2 brunette representing Israel in the Miss Universe Pageant, said she was granted a delay in her military service to compete with 61 other girls for the title.

"I have to go into the army when I go back," she explained. "I have to be in the army two years. If I get married I can get out, but I want to finish my two years."

"I think it's a good thing to be in the army. You are on your own, without your mother and father. You have to take care of yourself. You meet new people."

"I can also study in the army. I can study to be a teacher, for example. I can be learning all the time."

Miss Levy, from Haifa, said she'll work as a secretary or nurse or in some other non-combat capacity with the Israeli Army.

Park Booming WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — More than 325,000 persons have traveled to Glacier National Park this year, a park official reported recently, and 10,000 are passing through the famed park each day. Supt. Keith Neilson said the number of visits is 5.22 per cent ahead of last year.

'Midnight Cowboy' Star Now Riding Up On Top

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Yes, I'm hot right now," says Jon Voight realistically. "I can swing in almost any direction, make almost any kind of deal. But the 'bread' is not what I'm after."

The bread — money — will be coming his way, whether he's after it or not. For Jon Voight is this year's Dustin Hoffman, who happens to be his close friend and co-star in "Midnight Cowboy."

What "The Graduate" did for Hoffman, "Midnight Cowboy" is doing for blond, husky Voight. It is not a pleasant film, depicting the survival attempts of an unbright, self-styled stud from Texas in New York City. That's Voight. Hoffman, in a stunning change of pace from "The Graduate," plays his mangy, crippled buddy.

Voight is here for the finishing scenes of "Catch 22."

Like all "overnight sensations," Voight put in a long and hard apprenticeship. The beginning was at Archbishop Stepienac High School in White Plains, N.Y., where he played an 80-year-old in a comedy. Then came training at Catholic University and the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York.

"In those early New York days I was a madman," he reflected. "I wanted to be a big, big star but I was a complete fool about acting. I had a lot of talent, but I wasn't an artist. I couldn't hone my talent to a fine edge; I was only as good as the director I was working with."

"Fortunately I had a lot of friends who helped me. I've always been gregarious. With their help I stuck it out until I began to develop technique. It wasn't easy, and there were long times when it was tough to make a living. But I hated to take another job, and I never did. I could always send home for money; my parents were great about that."

Voight began hitting it in 1964 when he attracted attention off Broadway in "A View from the Bridge." He won an award on Broadway in "That Summer, That Fall," toured in "Camelot" with Howard Keel, played Romeo with the Globe Theater in San Diego. But he credits television with providing his biggest boost.

"They talk about today's actors missing the training ground of the repertory theater; I found my own repertory in television series," said the actor. "I did seven shows, from 'Cimarron Strip' to 'Gunsmoke,' and that's how I served my apprenticeship."

Thirty and divorced, Voight is eyeing his moves with care. He'll make "The Revolutionary" in London for United Artists this summer, then he'll consider what comes along. "Right now I'm an unknown quality; I can't do anything wrong," he admitted. But he knows that euphoric state doesn't continue for long.

At Cinema

With their son, Timmy, home from the Army, Nettie Cleary (Patricia Neal) discusses his future with her husband (Jack Albertson) in "The Subject Was Roses."

Knotts Plays Unlikely Role In Jet Feature

Love God?

Comedy star Don Knotts and veteran comedy director and writer Nat Hiken, met at a Hollywood restaurant to discuss an idea for a new feature film that was germinating in Knotts' head, waiting to be polished, refined and written. It involved the typical Knotts character, a naive, mild mannered small town guy — a physical weakling — who, through slick promotion, becomes an international sex symbol. Intrigued with the idea, Hiken left the meeting bent on writing a tailor-made script showcasing Knotts' comic assets.

Hiken's typewriter hours resulted in "The Love God?," his first film screenplay and Knotts' fourth Universal film produced by Edward J. Montagne, with a cast including Anne Francis, Edmund O'Brien and James Gregory. Hiken also makes his bow as a feature film director in the Technicolor comedy which opens Thursday at the Jet Theatre.

It's an entirely new kind of role for Don who portrays a small town publisher of a bird watchers monthly magazine saved from bankruptcy by O'Brien, a shady con artist, who uses the publication's mailing permit to make Don the reluctant publisher of a scandalous girls magazine, replete with all

Writer's Class Dates Fixed

A three-day writers' short course will be conducted in Lubbock Aug. 20-22 in the Flame Room of the Pioneer-First National Building, 1500 Broadway, by Louise Bogges, a nationally known writer, teacher, and lecturer from San Mateo College of California. Preregistration may be made by contacting Etta Lynch, 5101 41st, Lubbock. Fee is $20.

Sponsored by the South Plains Writers Association, the workshop is open to anyone interested in writing. Morning classes will be held from 10 to noon, and evening classes from 7:30 to 9:30. The same instruction will be offered at both times, dealing with fiction and non-fiction articles, juvenile fiction and non-fiction, and the short story as related to the novel.

Mrs. Bogges has authored several books on writing, among them "Writing Filmmaking That Sell," "Writing Articles That Sell," and "Fiction Techniques That Sell."

Prize Winner Will Open At Cinema

When you come away from "The Subject Was Roses," you will remember the glowing, beautiful performance given by Patricia Neal as the embittered mother of an Irish-American family living in the Bronx.

The film version of Frank D. Gilroy's play, which won the Pulitzer Prize, the New York Drama Critics Circle Award and the "Tony" Award, marks Miss Neal's first appearance on the screen since winning her Oscar for her work in "Hud," and she again proves herself an incomparable actress.

It opens Wednesday at the Cinema.

But there are other fine performances in this moving and compelling drama of emotional conflicts and the need for love. Jack Albertson, as the father of the Cleary family, and Martin Sheen as Timmy, the son who returns home after three years in the Army during World War II to find that things are not the same, enact the roles they created in the original Broadway play.

Timmy's welcome home starts off with a bang with a gala night club tour of the town with his parents, but disillusionment soon sets in when he becomes aware of the discord between John and Nettie Cleary.

A marriage in which an ebullient and ambitious John Cleary had swept Nettie off her feet has turned sour. Self-educated and hard-working, Cleary's hopes of becoming a rich man were shattered by the stock market crash. Nettie, yearning for affection from a husband who soon took her for granted, spent much of her time at the home of her mother and Timmy's mentally retarded cousin, and John turned to other women. Most of their life is spent in quarreling and recriminations.

There is a memorable scene in which Nettie repulses the drunken advances of her husband and smashes a vase of roses which she believed he had tenderly brought her only to discover that it was Timmy's idea.

Timmy at first tries to make peace between his parents without siding with either, but gradually comes to feel that Nettie has inveigled him into joining her in ganguing up on John. When he accuses her of this, she leaves the house and disappears for twelve hours. When she returns to her frightened husband and son, she refuses to tell them where she has been.

Actually, she has taken a bus to the Jersey shore and the trip seems to have given her her only day of freedom since her marriage. But Nettie knows that things cannot change, and Timmy knows that he must leave home and make a life of his own. And, although it breaks their hearts to lose him, Nettie and John realize that it is the only way for him to become a man. When Timmy at the last moment changes his mind and says he will stay with them for a longer while, they will not permit it.

At Jet

Stella Stevens and Rosalind Russell play lead roles in "Where Angels Go, Trouble Follows."

Nuns Star At Drive-In

Stella Stevens was never one to mind having her acting talents get a little help from her physical attributes. In fact, she will tell you that it was the body as much as the ability. Now this has all been changed in one daring piece of casting. Stella appears as a nun in "Where Angels Go — Trouble Follows," the release also starring Rosalind Russell in Eastman color at the Jet Theatre.

"I never faced such an acting challenge in my whole career," Stella said. "Once I put on the habit, it was if I were told, 'Okay, Stella, you're on your own. No one will look at anything but your face. No distractions and no help from your body. It's just you, your expressions, the script and your voice. Go get 'em!'"

Fortunately, Stella is not only a fighter but a girl with a lot of talent. So she got 'em.

Co-starring are Binnie Barnes, Susan Saint James, Mary Wickes, Dolores Sutton and, as members of the "in" group, Milton Berle, Arthur Godfrey, Van Johnson and Robert Taylor.

June Was Busy Month Of Cleaning

June proved to be a busy month for the city's sanitation and street departments.

In the sanitation department a record 2,999 vehicles entered the landfill site during June. This and the alley cleaning program helped set a record amount of refuse; 3,299 tons were covered last month.

For the alley-cleaning program, crews composed of regular city drivers and NYC workers cleaned 250 blocks. The trash amounted to four tons and was approximately 38 per cent of the refuse handled at the landfill site. The heaviest work has been finished this month, and the trash shouldn't be so concentrated in the future.

The department has also received a new truck load of trash containers, and as soon as painting and locations can be determined, they will be added to the system.

In the street department 478 blocks of streets and 263 blocks of alleys were graded, while 25 blocks of streets were rebuilt and 34 blocks of shoulders cleaned and graded. Street and alley maintenance required 50 cubic yards of pit caliche and 60 cubic yards of crushed caliche, plus 146,000 gallons of water.

City street sweepers cleaned 1,105 miles of paved streets, and hauled off 524 cubic yards of sweepings while working 178 hours.

To maintain city streets and alleys and to repair pavement cuts, four by Pioneer Natural Gas Co., two by the city sewer department, and one by the city water department, 80 tons of pre-mix asphalt and 25 gallons of emulsified asphalt were used. Three rip-rap drainage ditches, and 181 square feet of curb and gutter were repaired.
