FACT FINDING Insurance Rate Hike Delayed

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Insurance Board agreed today to delay an auto insurance rate increase until after Gov. Preston Smith's special fact finding committee makes its report.

Ned Price, one of the two board members, told the auto insurance committee of the board's decision as it held its first meeting.

The board had planned to issue the new rates Friday, effective Sept. 1.

"We are now saying that in compliance with the governor's request we are going to delay setting of the rates until the committee makes its report. Instead of putting them into effect Sept. 1, we are delaying," Price said.

Smith said he hoped the Insurance Board would delay action on a proposed car insurance rate increase until his committee has reported.

Price, the first witness, was questioned by the committee for more than an hour.

"Rate making is complex. You just can't simplify it," he said.

Former Secretary of State John Hill asked Price what he thought about making liability insurance mandatory.

Price said one state that has it, Massachusetts, has had rate increases higher than Texas has had.

Price told the committee no other state has a controlled rate system to the extent Texas has. He defended the Texas system as one that operates in the public interest and has served as a model for other states.

STRANGEST WELCOME ANY NATION EVER ACCORDED RETURNING HEROES

Moon Explorers Splash

End Of Fantastic Voyage

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP)

—The men who opened the Moon Age returned safely to planet earth today, steering themselves to a near-bull's-eye landing just nine miles from this recovery ship. They immediately were placed behind a biological barrier to prevent spread of possible lunar germs.

They were sprayed and rubbed with disinfectant and were kept away from their President in the most bizarre welcome a nation ever accorded returning heroes.

NIXON NIXED

President Nixon waited on the bridge of the carrier to congratulate Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins on their adventure, in which Armstrong and Aldrin became the first men to set foot on the moon.

But even Nixon won't shake their hands. He'll wait to talk with them until they are safely secured in a quarantine trailer on this carrier.

Apollo 11 made a blazing dive through the earth's atmosphere, hitting the warm Polynesian waters at 11:50 a.m. (Big Spring time).

For the first time in the Apollo program, the astronauts took manual action to change their landing site. This became necessary when a threat of thunderstorms forced officials to shift the landing 250 miles to the east.

Armstrong changed the guidance computer so that Apollo 11 dug a little deeper into the atmosphere, enabling it to shoot for the new touchdown zone, 950 miles southwest of Hawaii.

'TAKE YOUR TIME'

Three-to-six-foot waves turned the spaceship upside down after it landed. The astronauts righted it in 11 minutes by inflating flotation bags.

Planes and helicopters were overhead in minutes and dropped frogmen into the water.

"Our condition is all three excellent. Take your time," Collins told the swimmers.

Dark, hazy skies prevented Nixon and others on the ship from seeing the splashdown. Only a faint flash of light in the southern sky as dawn broke heralded the arrival.

As the carrier steamed toward the bobbing spaceship, one of the frogmen, Navy Lt. Clarence Hatteberg, 25, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., climbed into a rubber raft.

He wore a pea-green biological suit with a gas mask-like face device. He opened the hatch, tossed in three garments like his own, nicknamed BIG suits, and closed the hatch. BIG means biological isolation garments.

PRECIOUS ROCKS

Hatteberg then sprayed the hatch area with an iodized disinfectant to kill possible germs.

The other frogmen backed away from the craft, moving upwind to avoid possible bugs.

Thirty-five minutes after landing, Aldrin, followed by Armstrong and Collins, stepped into the orange rubber raft in their strange suits.

With Hatteberg's help they sprayed a disinfectant on their suits. Using big mittens, they rubbed it in—front, back, under the arms, top of the head, feet.

The disinfectant was sodium hypochlorate, a chemical familiar to housewives as a washday bleach.

The astronauts helped the frogman scrub the Apollo 11 hatch and then it was sprayed again and rubbed down. Inside the spaceship were the precious bits of lunar rocks that Armstrong and Aldrin collected on the moon Sunday.

On landing, Apollo 11 turned upside down in the three-to-six-foot waves and the astronauts inflated flotation bags to right it. The same thing happened to Apollo 7 when it landed last October.

"We're still in stable 2 (upside down)," Armstrong reported, "but slowly righting ourselves."

Eleven minutes later, with aircraft and helicopters overhead, Armstrong reported ship bobbing right side up.

"Stable 1," he called out.

The landing was not visible from the carrier because of a combination of a hazy sky and the fact that it was just after dawn in the Pacific.

Like hundreds of sailors on the deck, Nixon craned and peered through binoculars as he tried to see the descending craft.

The first report from the recovery forces said the crew was in "excellent" condition.

Live television from the ship showed Nixon peering toward the horizon. When word came that the astronauts were safely down, he clasped his hands and smiled. With the President was Col. Frank Borman, who commanded last December's Apollo 8 moon orbit flight, Secretary of State William Rogers, and space administrator Thomas O. Paine.

STRICT QUARANTINE

The Hornet, stationed about 950 miles southwest of Hawaii, steamed toward the landing point.

Because of strict quarantine measures, Nixon will not shake hands with the astronauts. They will put on isolation suits and be transferred from a helicopter to an airtight silver trailer below decks. This will be their home during a 2½-day sea-air trip to a quarantine facility at the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex.

After Apollo 11 was righted in the water, frogmen jumped into the sea from helicopters and attached additional flotation collars to make it stable some 15 minutes after touchdown.

The touchdown ended a flight of 8 days, 3 hours 18 minutes during which Apollo 11 traveled more than 750,000 miles.

Armstrong and Aldrin etched their names beside history's great explorers on Sunday when they flew the fragile craft named Eagle to man's first landing on the moon.

Hours later, Armstrong, then Aldrin, strode the lunar surface, leaving their footprints in the powdery terrain.

On Monday, in another gripping moment in this drama of the ages, Armstrong and Aldrin blasted Eagle off the moon and rejoined Collins orbiting overhead in the command ship, Columbia.

They fired themselves out of lunar orbit to start a leisurely 60-hour return trip.

'GO FOR LANDING'

Before hitting the atmosphere today, the astronauts jettisoned a service module attached to the command ship. The shedding of this equipment bay exposed the heat shield and reduced Apollo 11's weight from to appear in court Monday to serve in the trial, have been excused and will not report.

Moody's motion was accompanied by four affidavits, all alleging the defendant could not and would not receive a fair and impartial hearing if tried here.

The affidavits were signed by Lanny Hamby, Wayne Basden and John A. Burgess, all members of the Howard County bar, and by Richard R. Pfeiffer, local insurance man. All were identical and all alleged that widespread publicity has generated extensive prejudice which would preclude a fair trial for the defendant.

The court will rule on the motion after the hearing Monday.

Moody is in the Howard County jail. He was brought to the jail here from the Big Spring State Hospital, where he had been held for observation for several months. After a recent hearing on a defense motion of discovery, Judge Caton ordered Moody detained in the county jail pending further action in the case.

Probe Of Kennedy's Accident Continues

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The investigation into Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto accident "isn't completed—not by a long shot," a Registry of Motor Vehicles supervisor says.

The supervisor, George W. Kennedy, no relation to the senator, commented Wednesday after the state agency announced in Boston it had suspended the senator's driver's license because of the accident.

Registry officials noted temporary suspension of a license is "fairly routine in cases involving a fatality."

The suspension was based on a preliminary finding that the 37-year-old Massachusetts Democrat was at "fault" in the accident, which claimed the life of a young Washington secretary. Kennedy has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

UPSIDE DOWN

"There are a lot of things still to be done," George Kennedy said. "It might be a week before a full report is ready. We are going to have to ask a lot of questions before we get what we want."

Miss Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, a secretary to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., died in the accident.

The wreck occurred late Friday or early Saturday, when Kennedy's car went off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island, adjacent to a larger island, Martha's Vineyard, south of Cape Cod. The vehicle landed upside down in a tidal pond. Miss Kopechne was trapped in the car and drowned.

Kennedy escaped with what his doctor said was a mild concussion and a neck sprain. Kennedy said he was taking Miss Kopechne to catch a midnight ferry from Chappaquiddick to Martha's Vineyard.

The registry said suspension of the senator's license will remain in effect until a formal hearing is conducted.

"If the hearing results in a finding of no serious fault on Sen. Kennedy's part," the registry said, "his driver's license will be reinstated. If the hearing results in a finding of serious fault, the license suspension will be changed to a revocation, which must by law remain in effect for six months."

The senator, widely viewed as prime 1972 Democratic presidential timber, didn't go to the police until almost 10 a.m. Saturday, nine or 10 hours after the accident.

Markham, left, former U.S. attorney, and Mary Ellen Lyons of Milton, Mass., were among 12 persons at party on Chappaquiddick Island, Mass., last weekend which culminated in car accident involving Sen. Edward Kennedy. Miss Lyons was a campaign worker for the late Bobby Kennedy.

main in effect until a formal hearing is conducted.

"He's going to have to prove where he was between 1 and 9," Arena told newsmen Wednesday.

"We are satisfied that the accident is an accident," the chief continued. "What happened afterward is the reason for the (leaving the scene) complaint."

Arena said he wanted particularly to talk with the persons who were reported to have attended a party with Kennedy and Miss Kopechne on Chappaquiddick prior to the accident.

minic C. Arena still wants to find out what happened in the time between the accident and the time Kennedy reported it.

'FOOTPRINTS ON THE MOON'

Historically Valuable Book To Be Published

Even while America's space men were on their trip to the moon and back, the first chapters of a magnificent new close-to-the-news book on the whole project is being printed for the readers of The Herald.

The book is called "Footprints on the Moon," and will contain up to 150 of the most dramatic color photos ever taken, with a 70,000-word text by John Barbour, an Associated Press space specialist. He will have completed the task as soon as the astronauts have been returned and their pictures released.

It's a big volume, 9½ by 12 inches, with 224 pages bound handsomely in blue cloth enclosed in a colorful dust jacket. You can reserve your copy now of the first edition by sending $5 to the address shown in a coupon on Page 11-A of today's Herald.

It is expected that first books may be ready by Aug. 18.

"Footprints on the Moon" is no mere recital of the obvious events. It is being written by one of the most sensitive and knowledgeable reporters to cover the development of the space age.

He is giving the inside story of how America won its race to the moon, the story of men who died and the other men who sweated to make man's greatest enterprise succeed.

And it is the story of the promise the effort holds — the promise that men may at last know where the Earth, Moon and Sun began and when life began, and where it exists, and whether man is unique in the universe.

This is a volume every family will want to have for its lasting historical value.

Teenager Stabbed Fatally By Intruder

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP) — Caroline Louise Harte, 14, daughter of the San Antonio Express Publishing Co. president, suffered a fatal stab wound early today.

The stabbing occurred as the teenager slept in the cottage of friends.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Houston H. Harte and member of the family operating the Harte-Hanks newspaper group which has newspapers in 13 Texas cities.

Edward H. Harte, uncle of the victim and publisher of the Corpus Christi Caller and Times across the bay from Port Aransas, gave this account:

The slaying occurred at the resort cottage of Mr. and Mrs. G. Cameron Duncan of San Antonio.

In the early morning hours, Duncan was awakened by the slam of a screen door.

He went downstairs to see if he could see anyone but did not turn on any lights.

Duncan returned upstairs but Mrs. Duncan had been awakened. As Mrs. Duncan went downstairs she was met on the stairs by her daughter, May, 14. May was a classmate of Miss Harte and was sleeping in the bedroom with the girl.

Miss Duncan told her mother that Miss Harte had cried out.

Mrs. Duncan found Miss Harte bleeding and gasping for breath.

Acting on the advice of a nurse in the emergency room of Lyman-Roberts Hospital in Aransas Pass, she prepared to take emergency measures and in so doing found the wound.

The stab wound was between the 4th and 5th ribs. The Duncans were able to reach a doctor at 3:30 a.m., the doctor's records show.

The victim and Miss Duncan attended St. Mary's Hall, a fashionable girl's school in San Antonio.

A San Antonio resident since 1962, Miss Harte was born in Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 10, 1954.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by two brothers, Ritchie and David, and a sister, Sarah; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte of San Angelo; and maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Suter of Hamilton, Ohio.

Moody Wants Case Moved Elsewhere

Judge Ralph W. Caton, 118th District Court, has postponed the murder trial of Michael Lee Moody, set for Monday, and scheduled a hearing at 10 a.m. that day on the defendant's motion asking a change of venue.

Moody, in his new motion, alleges he cannot receive a fair and impartial trial here, and asks that the case be transferred to another court. He is charged in the Aug. 30, 1968, murder of 33-month-old Margaret Lori Gunn in Midland.

The case was moved here on an earlier plea for a change of venue.

Gil Jones and Van Culp, attorneys for Moody, filed the motion at 3:24 p.m. Wednesday, which includes reproductions of numerous newspaper stories, radio scripts, and radio wire dispatches dating back to Aug. 30, 1968.

James Mashburn, Midland district attorney, and Wayne Burns, Big Spring district attorney, were both notified of the new filing, and indicated they would oppose the motion.

County Road Bids Checked

Bids opened Wednesday in Austin on two Howard County Projects were "within the money," Joe Smoot, resident engineer, said this morning, and the Texas Highway Commission will probably award contracts within the next few weeks.

The projects will provide four lanes of pavement on US 87, from FM700 to Hearne Street, and on FM700, from Goliad east to IS20. Strain Brothers, Inc., of San Angelo, submitted the low bid of $1,245,161 for the projects.

Smoot said the contractor will have 250 working days to complete the work, which should be a little over a year after the contract is let.

Included in the projects will be a wider bridge on US87, at the City Park and Cosden Lake areas, and on FM700, near the sewage treatment plant. Traffic medians will be installed at the Birdwell Lane intersection on FM700.

Voting Drags

No absentee ballots have been cast since Wednesday in the Aug. 5 special election on nine constitutional amendments, according to County Clerk Pauline Petty. Three ballots were cast Wednesday. Mrs. Petty said one absentee ballot has been mailed, but it has not been returned to her office. Deadline for absentee ballots is 5 p.m. Aug. 5.

Legion Conclave

The semi-annual District 19 American Legion convention will be held in Big Spring the latter part of October, according to Dr. Halvard Hansen, commander of the local legion post. About 200 are expected to attend.

Tentatively, Gen. Walter "Buck" Staudt, chief of staff of the Texas Air National Guard, has agreed to be speaker for the event.

Suez Canal Fighting

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli air and ground forces brought down nine Egyptian warplanes today in renewed fighting along the Suez Canal, military sources reported.

The action followed a threat from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt that Arab forces are ready now to win back territories lost in the six-day war of June, 1967.

The downing of nine Soviet-built Egyptian warplanes would be the biggest single day's bag of Arab aircraft by the Israelis since the 1967 hostilities.

Military sources in Tel Aviv said Israeli jets shot down three of the Egyptian planes, Hawk ground-to-air missiles brought down three more and anti aircraft fire got the others.

Proposition No. 5 on the constitutional amendments ballot of Aug. 5 would permit Texas to increase payments to needy aged, needy disabled, needy blind and needy children. An explanation appears today on Page 2-A.

No Police Report On How Red Haired Girl Died

AUSTIN (AP) — The mysterious shooting death of Gloria Brumley, 17, of Corpus Christi, goes to the grand jury today, with still no police report on how the red haired girl died.

Justice of Peace Bob Kuhn has returned no ruling in the girl's death.

After giving a long haired, mustached 24-year-old man his second and third lie detector tests, homicide Lt. Merle Wells wrote off further investigation. Wells said the tests cleared the man.

Miss Brumley's body was found Friday evening on a bed in a University of Texas area apartment. An autopsy showed a .22 caliber bullet in her brain. The bullet entered through a "contact wound" under her chin, officers said. Miss Brumley had been dead about 24 hours when her body was discovered, the autopsy showed.

Since then, police have questioned numerous persons, mostly hippies.

Wells said police will conduct no further investigation "unless the grand jury deems it necessary."

But Police Chief Bob Miles said Wells "will talk to anyone who has information in this case. I can assure you this investigation is not over."

Wells said he was told a pistol believed to be the death weapon was thrown into Town Lake, on the Colorado River, but he did not feel it necessary "to go through a lot of trouble to try to retrieve the gun."

12th Street Dying After Wild Riots

DETROIT (AP) — Until two years ago, 12th Street had a reputation among Detroiters as the place where the action was, exciting although dangerous.

It was no secret that prostitution and after-hours drinking flourished along the street which runs through the heart of Detroit's West Side black slum area.

The street was crowded with people and traffic every hour of the day and night.

Then, two years ago Wednesday, the nation's bloodiest and most costly racial riot of the century flared on 12th Street. It was triggered by a police raid on an after-hours drinking establishment near the north end of the "strip."

Forty-three persons were killed in the rioting and the damage was estimated at $45 million.

Today, the 12th Street of old is dying. But in its place may come a community with a wide boulevard, shopping centers, churches and recreation areas, the result of lengthy planning by citizens groups and government.

"The signs for 12th Street are hopeful," says Philip Meek, director of the Economic Development Corp., a private nonprofit group seeking to help black businessmen.

"The fact that this is 1969, twenty-four months after the riots, and the area looks dead, is not a reflection of inaction or lack of interest," he says.

"These things just take a hell of a lot of time."

"These things" include a professional study commissioned by an all-black citizens group that wants to rebuild the area.

"The big thing that is being built is a new spirit on the part of the people who want to participate in the planning of their part of town," said William T. Patrick, president of new Detroit Inc., an organization formed after the 1967 riots to heal the scars and promote racial harmony.

A spokesman for Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said land acquisition for the first rebuilding project along 12th Street is scheduled to begin in September.

Although all the riot rubble was removed, some scars remain. Some stores are still boarded up and some of the few that rebuild have windowless cinderblock facades.

Police said the number of muggings and armed robberies in the area remains about the same as before the riot.

AMENDMENTS EXPLAINED—NO. 5 Would Permit An Increase In State Aid To The Needy

(Increasing the maximum amount which may be expended in one year from state funds for public assistance payments to needy aged, needy disabled, needy blind, and needy children to $80 million, and appropriating $15 million for each of the next two fiscal years beginning September 1, 1969, in addition to the amounts appropriated for these purposes in the regular Appropriation Act for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1969.)

This proposed amendment makes three changes in Article III, Section 51-a, of the Texas Constitution:

(1) It raises the ceiling on the amount which may be expended out of state funds per fiscal year for money payments (grants) to public assistance recipients from $60 million to $80 million.

(2) It adds a provision making a supplemental appropriation of $15 million for each fiscal year in the period beginning September 1, 1969, and ending August 31, 1971, in addition to the $60 million appropriation in the Departmental Appropriation Bill for the payment of assistance grants for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1969. The supplemental appropriation is allocated and will be available to the Department of Public Welfare for the purpose of paying assistance grants effective September 1, 1969, as follows:

Biennium Fiscal Year	Old Age Assistance	$ 3,600,000	$ 1,800,000
	Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled	2,500,000	1,250,000
	Aid to Families with Dependent Children	23,900,000	11,950,000
	Total	$30,000,000	$15,000,000

The funds will be made available on the basis of equal monthly installments. The $60 million appropriated in the regular Appropriation Act for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1969, plus the $15 million supplemental appropriation for the same year, makes a total of $75 million appropriated, or $5 million less than the $80 million ceiling per fiscal year which may be appropriated by the legislature for assistance payments in the future as provided in the proposed Amendment No. 5.

(3) It streamlines the provisions so as to eliminate certain eligibility requirements from the Constitution and gives the legislature the authority to prescribe eligibility requirements for the needy aged, the needy disabled, the needy blind, and needy children. Age requirements for the needy aged, the needy disabled, the needy blind, and needy children have been deleted as have also citizenship requirements for the last three mentioned categories of participants.

BACKGROUND

The public welfare provisions of the Texas Constitution originated during depression years. Amendments to them have been deleted as have almost as regularly as the Congress has changed the terms whereby the states become eligible for available federal funds.

Prior to 1933 public assistance was held by most Texas citizens to be the concern of local governmental units rather than the responsibility of the central state government. However, the depression of the 1930's, the shift in Texas from an agrarian to an industrial and urban society and economy, and the influence of federal legislation led to the passage of the first public welfare amendment—Section 51a of Article III. This first amendment authorized the state to issue 4 1/2 per cent general obligation bonds in the amount of $20 million, with the proceeds to be used in "furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardships resulting from unemployment."

In 1935 a new Section 51b was added to Article III, which initiated the policy of providing aid to aged citizens with payments provided partially from federal funds and partially from current revenue of the state. Sections 51c and 51d were added in 1937 and authorized grants to the needy blind and needy children. In 1945 Sections 51b, 51c, and 51d were consolidated by an amendment designated "Section 51a," which, in effect, repealed the old Section 51a. A limit of $35 million per year was established in the 1945 amendment as the amount that could be spent out of state funds for public assistance to needy aged, needy blind, and needy children. The limit was increased to $42 million in 1954; to $47 million in 1957; to $52 million, plus $2.5 million for the permanently and totally disabled, in 1962; and to $60 million, in 1963, in money payments for all classes of public assistance—needy aged, needy disabled, needy blind, and needy children—in the present Section 51a of Article III.

An increase in the number of needy children eligible for public assistance, combined with the restrictions of the ceiling limiting funds, led to a reduction in public assistance to needy children in September, 1968. A proposed amendment to raise the ceiling to $75 million in 1968 was defeated by the electorate in the November general election, thereby necessitating another curbsack in public assistance to needy children on May 1, 1969. The present $60 million ceiling would be raised to $80 million—with an initial annual appropriation of $75 million for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1969—by adoption of the proposed Amendment No. 5.

FOR:

The proposed Amendment No. 5 allows the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to again enable the State Department of Public Welfare to make assistance payments to all four classes of welfare recipients in accordance with the minimal standards of need established by the Department. Texas consistently has been among the lowest of the states in terms of average monthly assistance payments per recipient and in terms of per capita cost to taxpayers. It ranks almost at the bottom in Aid to Families with Dependent Children, with its average payment per recipient of Aid to Families with Dependent Children now less than $19 per month. The failure of the proposed constitutional amendment in 1968 resulted in drastic reductions in public assistance to needy children. The State Department of Public Welfare now is able to pay only 50 per cent of what it says should be provided for needy children, and it is powerless to restore benefit payments to the levels it recognizes as minimal unless the proposed Amendment No. 5 is adopted. If the proposed amendment is defeated, it will cause another immediate reduction in assistance to needy children and the Department predicts that it ultimately would have to reduce levels of assistance to the needy disabled and the needy aged.

AGAINST:

The large over-all expenditure of state funds which this proposed amendment authorizes would increase each recipient's income only a few dollars a month but would possibly require $20 million in new funds each year at a time when the state is already hard pressed to meet existing financial obligations.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ South's bidding was impeccable until his final call. The cue bid beyond game in East's suit was well calculated to ferret out the nature of North's heart preference on the previous round. But, when North accepted the invitation and bid the slam, South's persistence to seven was in the nature of a trap. Unless partner has four trumps, development of the club suit may prove to be extremely awkward.

West led the ten of diamonds. East overtook with the jack which brought forth declarer's ace. South observed that he had a convenient parking place for his losing diamond on the ace of spades, and if the clubs broke no worse than four-two, the suit could be established with one ruff in dummy.

The king and ace of hearts were cashed first, followed by a club to the queen, so that South might dispose of the small diamond on dummy's spade ace. When a club was led back to the closed hand, however, East showed out and, the South was able to ruff out one club with North's last trump, he was obliged to surrender a club trick to West in the end.

Altho the hand broke rather badly, East's preemptive activities during the auction should have provided a clear warning sign to South that a full measure of caution might be indispensable to his plan of campaign. First of all, if the clubs are divided five-one his cause is hopeless, unless he finds the hand holding the singleton club also having only one heart. If this proves to be the case, then South must draw one round of trumps and then use the dummy's remaining hearts to ruff out both of his losing clubs.

In any event, declarer should test the club suit first before drawing a second round of trumps. After winning the opening diamond lead, he plays a heart to the king, discards his diamond loser on the ace of spades, and then cashes the queen and ace of clubs. If everyone follows, he can ruff a low club with the jack of hearts. When East shows out on the second club, however, and fails to ruff in, South is able to trump away his two small clubs and then draw the remaining hearts when he is finished with all of his washing.

Farm Bureau Supporting Water Plan

Future irrigation needs for agriculture and drinking water for rural areas are involved in two of the nine proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in the special election Aug. 5, according to Jerry Iden, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau.

Proposed Amendment No. 2 on the ballot would grant the powers and flexibility of operation to the Texas Water Development and future economic development of the state. The proposed amendment contains those constitutional changes necessary to implement the Texas Water Plan.

Proposed Amendment No. 4 on the ballot would exempt non-profit water supply corporations from ad valorem taxation. This would give the many rural water systems that have been set up in recent years the same tax status as municipal government water systems.

The Texas Farm Bureau supported both of these proposals in the recent regular 61st session of the Legislature, Jerry Iden said. In regard to Amendment No. 2, the Farm Bureau policy on the matter states that any water plan for Texas must be "equitable" to all sections of the state, Iden explained.

Both of these water-related propositions are important to agriculture and rural areas, the county farm leader asserted.

"Therefore, I am urging all voters of Howard County to go to the polls on Aug. 5 and cast their ballots for both Amendment No. 2 and Amendment No. 4," Iden said.

FINANCIER DIES — Sidney J. Weinberg, a well-known figure in the financial world with the nickname of "Mr. Wall Street," died in New York Wednesday at the age of 77.

'Politician' Weinberg Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidney J. Weinberg, the financial community's "Mr. Wall Street," died Wednesday evening at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center after a short illness. He was 77.

Weinberg was 5 feet 4 and nearsighted. His formal education ended with eighth grade. His first job paid $2 a week. He rose to become one of the most powerful men on Wall Street.

The senior partner of the venerable investment banking firm of Goldman, Sachs & Co., Weinberg was among the most sought-after advisers in the complex world of corporate financing.

So in demand were his talents that at one time he sat on 31 boards of directors. His performance on these boards led Fortune magazine once to dub him "the directors' director."

He also served as an unofficial adviser to five presidents—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. Roosevelt called him "The Politician" for his ability to get things done.

Perhaps the crowning achievement of his career came in 1956 when he engineered the sale of $650 million worth of Ford Motor Co. stock for the Ford Foundation—the largest corporate financing project to that time.

The sale took two years to arrange and earned Weinberg a fee estimated at $1 million. He prepared and discarded more than 50 plans for reorganizing Ford Motor's financial setup before designing one satisfactory to all parties.

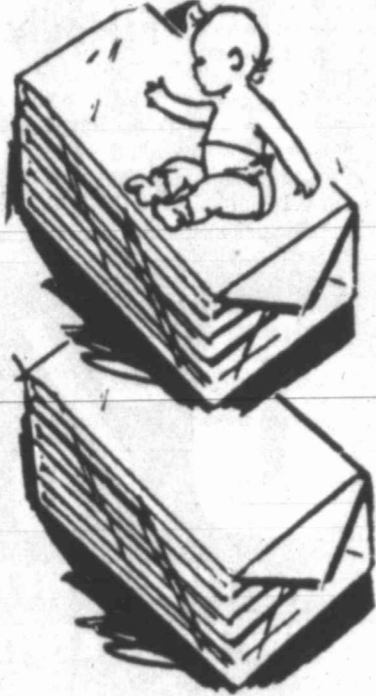

Another Weinberg coup occurred in 1958 when he sold $350 million worth of Sears, Roebuck debentures—the largest company debt offering to that time—in a bond market so soft that some doubted the issue could be sold at all.

Alexander Plans To Join Law Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clifford L. Alexander, who stepped down as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission with sharp criticism of President Nixon, says he plans to join a Washington law firm, Arnold and Porter.

Alexander, still a member of the commission, is expected to resign when he joins the firm as a partner. He will be the first Negro to join a major law firm in the nation's capital.

In quitting as chairman of the EEOC, Alexander said the agency suffered from what he termed a crippling lack of support from the Nixon administration.

Abe Fortas was a partner in the firm before he became a Supreme Court justice.

Back In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and President Nikita S. Khrushchev returned to Moscow Wednesday after a trip to Warsaw.

Brezhnev and Podgorny had been in the Polish capital to help observe the 25th anniversary of Poland's Communist regime.

Moon Trip Highlights

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Here are the highlights of the Apollo 11 flight's final two days, all times Eastern Daylight.

The day ahead (today):

After seven hours' rest, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins are awakened at 6:32 a.m.

If needed to correct their homeward course, the main rocket engine was to be fired at 7:37 a.m.

The service module that brought them to the vicinity of the moon and back is jettisoned at 12:22 p.m., doomed to burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

At 12:36 p.m., radio communications black out. Now just a bell-shaped capsule, Apollo 11 makes a flaming entry into the earth's atmosphere at 12:37 p.m., aiming for a Pacific Ocean splashdown 950 miles southwest of Honolulu.

The radio blackout ends at 12:39 p.m.

Two drogue parachutes unfurl at 12:44 p.m. to slow the craft. They drop away before the three main parachutes open at a height of 10,000 feet at 12:45 p.m.

The cargo of men and moon treasure splashes down at 12:49 p.m., ending a 780,000-mile trip.

The day past (Wednesday):

The crew awoke after an extra hour of sleep at 12:30 p.m.

At 3:56 p.m., Apollo 11 passed the halfway point — 118,321 miles from both the earth and the moon.

The craft was on such a true homeward course that a corrective rocket engine firing was cancelled.

Praising the behind-the-scenes men and women whose work put them on the moon, the astronauts beamed a 12½-minute color telecast home at 7:04 p.m.

A seven-hour rest period began at 11:30 p.m.

Demos Working To Free Surtax Extension Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders are reported working on a procedure to free the surtax extension bill for quick passage by putting a time limit on committee consideration of a later tax reform bill.

The procedure, as outlined by several sources, would work this way:

The reform bill on which the House Ways and Means Committee now is making rapid progress would be intercepted upon arrival at the Senate from the House—hopefully during the first week in August.

This would mean the reform bill would go directly on the Senate debate calendar instead of being referred to the Finance Committee as would be the normal procedure.

Then, however, the Senate would vote to send the bill to the committee for hearings but with directions that the bill be returned to the floor within a specific time, probably 60 days.

This would mean the committee would not be able to hold up the bill indefinitely if some of its members were unhappy about some features.

Once the time limit had been set, the Democratic leadership would agree to allow the House-passed surtax bill to be brought up for Senate action before the congressional summer recess starts Aug. 13.

This would be a victory for the Nixon administration, which has been pressing for quick extension of the surtax to combat inflation and bolster the government's fiscal position.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior GOP member of Finance, told a reporter he was willing to go along fully with this plan.

even though it put tight restrictions on his committee.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declined to discuss the matter in detail but did say the procedure was among many possibilities being considered.

The Democratic Policy Committee has insisted tax reform be considered simultaneously with the surtax measure.

But Mansfield has indicated this position could be modified if there were ironclad guarantees that action on reform would quickly follow the surtax extension.

The House-passed surtax bill would extend the 10 per cent surtax for the last six months of this year and lower it to 5 per cent for the first half of 1970 as proposed by the President.

Club Horse Show Has 125 Entries

For the second time in three years, Big Spring is host to the District 2 4-H Club Horse Show and the rodeo grounds were teeming today with young riders, their prized horses, horse trailers, pickups and cars.

More than 125 contestants from the 20 counties in District 2 were on hand. This year's show was being staged under much more favorable auspices than prevailed two years ago. On that day, officials recalled, it poured rain and the entire area was a sea of mud. Today, bright sunshine and blue skies, plus a promise of 100 degree heat, greeted the young riders.

From the 125 contestants, 20 will be selected to compete in the Texas 4-H Club Horse Show in Sweetwater Aug. 14, 15 and 16.

Bobby Lemons is show superintendent. Judges are

Jimmy Taylor and Billy Reagor.

Registration began at 8 a.m., and judging started with halter classes at 9 a.m. The show continues all afternoon. It is open to the public and, despite the heat, a sizable gallery had gathered by 8:30 a.m.

In addition to the halter classes, there was competition in the showmanship class, western pleasure, reining, pole bending and barrel racing.

Howard County 4-H Club has five competitors entered — Nancy Phillips, Rene Roman, Leah Roman, Dale Mitchell and Glenda Addy.

Entries from Borden County are Mary Anderson, Debby Dennis, Vickie Newton, Claudia Swann, Jerry Hodge and Darrell Taylor.

Two riders from Dawson County are entered — Nan Clayton and Scott Clayton.

Scurry County's delegation is Martha Dickey, Vicki Lee Johnson, Billy Vaneese Voss, Johnny Voss and Lisa Marie Voss.

The other counties extend northward to Lubbock and cover all of the south half of the high plains.

Street Coating Project Slated

August 4 the city will begin its seal-coat program, consisting of tar and asphaltting 100 blocks around the city, according to Ernest Lillard, public works director.

The program is designed to preserve the life of the streets, and will take 10 working days to finish. The cost of labor, equipment and materials is approximately $135 per block.

Kennedy Pals, Foreigners Join In Real Estate Deals

NEW YORK (AP) — Some former associates of President John Kennedy, a 25-year old financial wizard, and foreigners with cash to spare are making a fortune buying up some of the best addresses in America. Their company, United States Investment Fund, USIF, owns the towering LTV building in Dallas, the Wilson Plaza office building in Washington, the EAC building in Los Angeles, and garden apartments, shopping centers, industrial and office properties all over the country.

Only non-U.S. citizens can invest in the fund which capitalizes on foreigners' desire to participate in the American real estate boom. The fund is managed, however, by an American team of investors gathered together by Great America Management Corp., (GRAMCO.)

"We plan to be the lifeline of the real estate investment funds," said Keith Barish, the whiz-kid chairman of Great America.

Barish said the fund, which holds $400 million worth of prime U.S. property, will control $1 billion worth by 1970.

"We really aren't that different from other real estate investors," he said. "We just move a little faster."

The fund purchases property through a subsidiary, AMPROP whose staffers log mileage faster than airplane pilots.

When an AMPROP scout spots a deal he likes, a team of analysts including leasing experts, engineers, and lawyers, examines the purchase with the help of computers. Often they close a deal in two weeks—a breakneck pace for the real estate industry.

Directors of the fund has some of the big names of the Kennedy era. Among them are Pierre Salinger, former presidential press secretary; Charles Daly and Richard Donahue, staff assistants to Kennedy; John Stillman, former assistant secretary of commerce; Ivan Nestingen, under secretary of health, education and welfare; and James Patton, a presidential advisor.

Barish dreamed up the idea for the fund while on a government summer internship in Washington. He had already amassed a small fortune in business ventures at the University of Miami before he dropped out, but he moved into the big-time when he figured out the money-making potential for foreigners' desires to get a chunk of American economic growth.

With Rafael Navarro, who at age 20 served as U.N. ambassador under Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, Barish set up GRAMCO and USIF and the money started rolling in.

The fund originally started offering portfolios in mutual funds and common stocks as well as real estate, but according to Barish, "lack of interest" stocks led the funds to concentrate on real estate.

"We pioneered the real estate concept for foreigners—allowing them to invest with maximum security," said Barish. "We believe in real estate and think it's more attractive than securities."

"You really can't be good at a whole range of things," he said.

USIF is an "offshore" fund—it is headquartered in the Bahamas and only foreigners can invest in it. This setup gives special tax advantages.

President Heads For Ringside Seat

ABOARD USS ARLINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, convinced the Apollo 11 moon mission boosted spirits all over the world, was en route today to a ringside seat for the return to earth of the trail-blazing astronauts.

Before leaving San Francisco Wednesday afternoon, Nixon told a street crowd of several thousand that the moon landing of Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. generated a burst of good will around the globe.

The chief executive hopes to capitalize on that good will as he visits five South Asian nations, Communist Romania and Britain during the next 11 days.

Nixon flew Wednesday from San Francisco to Johnston Island, an American atoll 1,200 miles from Honolulu which he last visited 25 years ago while en route home from wartime Navy service in the South Pacific.

From the atoll, a Marine helicopter took the President to the Apollo recovery fleet maneuvering in mid-Pacific some 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. He spent the night aboard the Arlington, a 19,600-ton communications ship.

Nixon was to be called before dawn for a 15-minute helicopter flight to the aircraft carrier Hornet. There, after breakfast with the captain, he will watch the splashdown from the flag bridge.

Nixon expressed confidence the moon mission would have a happy ending, with Armstrong, Aldrin and command module pilot Michael Collins snugly settled inside a sealed chamber aboard the Hornet.

The President planned to talk to the astronauts on the ship's intercom system. And in telephone calls Wednesday to the wives of the trio, he promised to wave to their husbands through one of the windows of the chamber. The astronauts will remain quarantined for 19 days in an attempt to ensure that they do not contaminate the earth with some unknown germ from the moon.

Flying across the Pacific, Nixon studied black-bound briefing books on the areas he will visit during his 25,000-mile journey around the world.

New Mobil Station Opens Friday At FM700, Goliad

The formal opening of Johnny's Mobil Service Center, FM 700 and Goliad, will be held Friday and the station will serve the public with more than 32 years of service station experience, according to Johnny Moore, manager.

Born and reared in Big Spring, Moore, 707 W. 13th, has been with Mobil four years and came to the new service center from a station at Fourth St. and Johnson.

He has worked for eight years as the service and parts manager of an auto dealership here.

Working with Moore at the station will be Ray Meron, who has more than five years experience, and Paul Thomas, who numbers his experience in this field at 35 years.

The station will be open daily from 6 a.m. until 10 p.m. Built in an art deco style, the station which is the eighth Mobil station to open in Big Spring, opened its doors Monday, but the formal opening is scheduled Friday with gifts for children, service coupons for the men, and hand lotion for women, Moore said.

Besides the usual services found at a station, Moore said the center offers day and night wrecker service.

The service bays, of which there are two and a wash room, make up the complement of places where both mechanic and washing duties, even to van trucks, can be serviced.

The station has three regular and three premium gasoline pumps.

Judge Resentences Clay To Five Years In Prison
HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge resentenced Cassius Clay today to the same five years in prison and $10,000 fine he assessed in June, 1967, after Clay's conviction on a charge of refusing induction into the armed services.

There had been speculation U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham might reduce his original sentence, but he imposed the same sentence without comment.

Clay's chief lawyer, Charles Morgan Jr., filed notice of appeal at once to the 5th Circuit Court in New Orleans.

Clay will remain free on $5,000 bond posted at the time of his first appeal two years ago.

Before sentencing, Ingraham asked Clay if he had any comment.

"No, sir," Clay said. "Except I am sticking to my religious beliefs. I know this is a country that preaches religious freedom."

Clay had sought exemption from the draft as a Black Muslim minister and as a conscientious objector.

Clay's plea that his conviction be set aside was rejected July 14 by Ingraham who ordered him to appear for re-sentencing.

Clay's attorneys claimed illegally obtained wire tapped conversations involving Clay had tainted the conviction.

During a June hearing here before Ingraham four such conversations were admitted into evidence.

Ingraham refused to admit a fifth summary. He said it had been obtained legally and that revealing it publicly would endanger national security.

Who Killed Deputy During Gun Battle?

PINEDALE, Wyo. (AP) — A coroner's inquest Wednesday left unanswered the question of who killed a Teton County deputy sheriff during a gun battle between sheriff's officers and two Texas men holding hostages.

The inquest said only that Billy Edwards, 32, was shot by unknown persons. The decision did nothing to stop speculation that Edwards may have been killed accidentally by one of the other law enforcement officers at the scene.

Edwards was found shot once through the head in the basement of the Battle Mountain Lodge near Pinedale. Since then, Sublette County Sheriff Morris Horton has said only that Edwards died in the line of duty.

Two men, 14-year-old Larry Foster and James Earl Arquette, 27, were arrested following the shootout. They were charged with the death of 13-year-old Kathleen Callier of Pasadena, Tex., whose body was found near the lodge.

Foster and Arquette pleaded guilty to the murder. But no charges were ever brought in Edwards' death.

The inquest was called by Sublette County Coroner Dick Tanner. There was no explanation as to why officials had waited more than a week for the inquest, or why neither a pathology nor a ballistics report was introduced in evidence.

The three-man jury deliberated for more than two hours before reaching its decision. That decision also upheld the contention by Horton that Edwards had entered the building against orders. The jury said Edwards had "willfully disobeyed the orders of a superior officer and entered the lodge of his own volition."

Edwards was buried in Jackson last week. He is survived by his widow Jennie, 27, and four children aged five to 12 years.

LETTERS Had Help From Many

Dear Sir,
Although it is impossible to name all the people in the community who contributed to the success of the Starlight Specials, we would like to acknowledge the efforts of three other members of the cultural affairs committee. Capt. Harry Brooks managed the concession stand; Mrs. Roy Cederberg organized collections, and Mrs. Harold Davis handled publicity.

We also thank White's Music Co., Faye's and Quigley's florists, Mrs. Bill Richey, Bob Lewis, Fred Davis, and HCJC.

We especially appreciate the performers who donated their talents, making it possible for the minimum admission of 25 cents. Without the services of Roy Rogan, who came early and stayed late each evening, we would not have had a program. The Herald, radio and television stations reported the activities.

We hope the 1969 Starlight Specials provided an enjoyable experience for many.

Sincerely,
Lois Davis

PROXY SON — Movie star Sophia Loren takes a break on the set of movie "The Sunflower" to cuddle a Russian boy. She says she misses her own son, who is being cared for in Rome while she works on location near Moscow.

Sophia Likes Russia, But Misses Her Baby

KHLEBNIKOV, Soviet Union (AP) — Sophia Loren likes movie making in Russia, but she misses her 7-month-old son. "Now is the time they do so many things—any things—and I won't be able to see all that," the Italian actress said in an interview in this town just outside Moscow.

She left little Carlo Ponti Jr. in Rome two weeks ago and came here to shoot scenes for the movie "Sunflower" in which she is starring with Marcello Mastroianni.

Resting in her trailer between scenes beside a lake, Miss Loren said Carlo Jr. will make his film debut in the movie later in Italy.

"It's a very small scene," she said, smiling proudly. The star said before the baby was born she was "also happy but not as much as now because before there always was something missing."

"Maybe now I get less upset about the tiny problems you have every day," she said in a low, smooth voice filled with warmth.

"Sunflower" to be released next year, tells of an Italian woman's postwar trip to Russia to find her soldier husband.

Miss Loren's son will "play" the part of a baby she has by a new husband in Italy after finding that her soldier husband has married a Russian girl.

Dressed in a plain brown dress, her hair grayed for the part, Miss Loren praised the friendliness of the few Russians she has met while filming here and in Moscow's Red Square.

"They are so sweet because they come with flowers, apples, pears . . . They want to make you understand," she said.

Although a movie of hers has not been shown here since "Marriage Italian Style" four years ago, she said Russians on the street recognize her.

After a week of filming in the Ukraine starting Friday, she flies home to her baby.

Aztec Excuse

AZTEC, N.M. (AP) — Mrs. Jerry Wells had a different excuse when she called the school principal recently to say she would be late to teach her class at Park Avenue Elementary School. Mrs. Wells said there was a bear in her garage.

Antique Car Buffs Elect Officer Slate

The Big Spring region of the Antique Automobile Club of America elected new officers at a recent meeting.

Those elected were John Anderson, director; Don Frazier, assistant director; Maurice Smith, secretary; treasurer; and Richard D. Cook, editor. Ezell Brewer was chosen to fill a vacancy in the board membership.

The meeting also discussed plans for attending the Grand Ole Tour to be held in Lubbock July 31-Aug. 2, consisting of judging antique cars, a style show of both men's and women's fashions dating back to the 1800's and up to 1937, and several contests involving old cars.

The program will also consist of several tours to show off old cars and to see who doesn't get a flat or overheated engine, and will be climaxed by the awards banquet on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Banks, Sand Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Turney, 1802 Settles; Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, 3705 Hamilton; J. T. Boney, 405 Sunset; and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brewer, 3609 Dixon, are among those who plan to attend the tour and enter the events.

American Fliers To Be Released?

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam said Wednesday gifts to American prisoners from their families in the United States will be received until Aug. 15 instead of the previously set deadline of this Friday.

The official Vietnam News Agency said this was reported to a group of Americans now visiting Hanoi to take over three American fliers to be released by Hanoi. North Vietnam announced on the occasion of U.S. Independence Day that American prisoners being held in Hanoi could receive gifts from their families July 4-25.

It said gifts should not be heavier than 6.6 pounds and should be routed via Moscow.

The news agency said the Americans have been in Hanoi since July 18 but did not say when the three American fliers would be turned over to them.

Gun-Toting Photo Hastens Action

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A news photograph of five Black Panthers carrying long guns and bandoliers of ammunition apparently has hastened the city to draft an ordinance prohibiting such displays.

The idea has been under consideration for some time, but complaints about the gun-toting Black Panthers have speeded action, according to City Atty. Herbert M. Fittle.

Present city and state laws do not ban open display of firearms. The ordinance would require rifles, shotguns and handguns to be unloaded and in a case, or broken into component parts when carried in public.

The Black Panthers were photographed while emerging from a police station during racial disorders last month. The picture was circulated nationally. Councilman Arthur Bradley Jr. said the photographed incident apparently contributed most to public concern.

Ward's Makes Remodel Jobs Simpler And Easier

Many take advantage of the summer months to finish long-planned remodeling or repair of their home. Why not make the job simple and easy by calling Montgomery Ward, Highland Center, and let them do the job for you. The advantage in dealing with Montgomery Ward is that they have a complete remodeling department, where they can handle everything from kitchen heating and air conditioning, fixing up the roof, adding on a den — anything short of building a whole house. Montgomery Ward takes charge of the work, and is responsible for satisfying the customer.

Customer Satisfaction

Knight's Pharmacy offers a drive-in window, family record service and free delivery anywhere in the city. Robert Knight, owner, says Knight's can fill any prescription from the doctor.

Knight's Pharmacy Complete Drug, Prescription Service

For pharmaceutical service that can't be beat, there's only one place to go: Knight's Pharmacy, 900 S. Main. Robert Knight, owner, is an experienced pharmacist who's ready to help in any way he can. Knight's Pharmacy offers a complete drug and prescription department, which can fill any drug order from the doctor, whether it's medicines that require compounding, ointments or capsules. If it's hard to move around, be sure to call Knight's; it delivers prescriptions free anywhere in the city. Records are kept accurately on each family member who has prescriptions filled at Knight's Pharmacy. The system is so accurate that Knight's Pharmacy is accredited with Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Co. Knight explains that family record sheets, maintained at no extra cost, includes the name, the medication required and the date the prescription was filled, plus the amount of the purchase. Knight's carries a supply of hospital equipment which will fulfill every demand of the sick room. Hospital beds, lifts, wheelchairs, prescription canes and walking canes are available by either renting or buying, Knight said. Among recent supplies received at Knight's were new DuBarry cosmetics. Playthings, including fact tint gel, translucent fluid make-up, lash lengthener and brush-on blusher (a compact with a mirror that won't get covered with dust; are for the active girl; they won't streak, smear or crack, no matter how hot it is nor how much a girl perspires. DuBarry also offers New Winkers, brush on or powdered eye shadows in six pillow-soft colors. Whether the frosted or the regular is used, they're both eye catchers. Knight's also stocks Faberge perfume fragrance for women and cologne and after-shave lotion for men, which make the other sex sit up and take notice. Trylash Bar self-adhesive nails and ready to wear eyelashes make it easy for a girl to look just right for her date. Laylu nail polish comes all the way from Milan, Italy, and is guaranteed to stay on 10 days without chipping or peeling. For summer weather use Tanya sun lotion, a mixture of coconut oil and cocoa butter; it opens pores for a deeper tan that won't flake. For those who wear contacts Knight's also has on hand the Swisher, a box-like gadget designed to make contact cleaning and care easy and less time consuming. Put the contacts in the box, pour in Contique cleaning solution or soaking tablets, and then shake. Your contacts come out clean and sterile. Other Knight features include Hallmark cards and wedding books, Polaroid color sunglasses that cut through the glare, and Whitman's books and games for children. The next time a prescription drug, medicine or cosmetic is needed, stop by or call Knight's Pharmacy, 900 S. Main, for prompt and friendly service.

Hurrah For 'Ra'

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — Norwegian explorer Thor Heyerdahl says his unsuccessful attempt to sail from Africa to the New World in a papyrus boat still proved that Egyptians could have made the voyage thousands of years ago. Heyerdahl and his six-man crew arrived in Barbados Tuesday aboard the yacht Shenandoah, three days after they abandoned their battered reed vessel, Ra, 600 miles short of their goal. "I think we have made our point," the 55-year-old anthropologist said. "We sailed 2,700 miles before we deserted the Ra, and the shortest distance across the Atlantic from Africa to the Americas is 1,600 miles. In addition, none of us had previous experience sailing a papyrus reed craft. "For ancient Egyptians with thousands of years experience in this type of sailing it would have been a walkover." Heyerdahl said the decision to abandon the Ra was taken because continuing the voyage would have endangered the lives of the crew. The Ra skipper said most of the damage was caused by a two-day storm just before the boat was abandoned.

Stars Disagree On Reason, But Nationals Win, 9-3

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American League went back to the drawing board today in search of another plan to win the All-Star Game—with its two biggest stars disagreeing over the reason why the National League has now extended its superiority through seven years.

"They got more stars over there," said Reggie Jackson of the Oakland Athletics after Wednesday's 9-3 loss to the National League.

"We don't have players like they have—like Mays, Aaron and Clemente. And we have no McCovey. And no Banks. And no Marichal. But we have a younger league than they have. Most of our players on the field were younger than theirs.

"So give us time—we'll be there."

"I have to admit we needed this game bad for league prestige," said Frank Howard of the Washington Senators. "You know you hear all this stuff about them being better. But I've played in both leagues and I think the American is as big league as the National.

"These things seem to run in cycles. Our league will be back."

SLUGGER STRATEGY
Jackson, at 23 representing the AL's younger generation, and Howard, at 33 representing the AL's older generation, were the key players in the American League's plan for ending NL superiority this time around.

That plan called for loading the team with the league's top home hitters. Jackson, with 37, and Howard, with 34, were the leading elements in a starting unit that statistically had the edge on the National League starters—179 homers to 105.

But 2 hours and 38 minutes later when the scoreboard showed the 9-3 final score, the National League had hit more homers than the American, 3-2, and had out-hit them, 11-6.

Howard and Bill Freehan of Detroit collected home runs for the Americans, while Jackson failed to get the ball out of the infield in two official trips to the plate. But Willie McCovey of San Francisco hit two for the Nationals and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati one.

If, having lost the home run battle, the Americans decide now that pitching might have to be the answer—then it probably will help next year if Detroit's Denny McLain doesn't have a dentist's appointment.

TOO LATE
McLain, Detroit's 14-game winner and the scheduled AL starter, took off in his private plane Tuesday night, after the game was postponed by rain, to have nine teeth capped in Detroit Wednesday morning.

His flight plan was expected to get him back to Washington in time for Wednesday's rescheduled start, but he did not appear on the American League bench until the National League was battling in the second inning.

He was too late to see the National League collect its first run in the first inning off Mel Stottlemire on Matty Alou's leadoff single and Howard's error on Hank Aaron's fly ball.

He arrived while Bench was building the National League's lead to 3-0 with his first homer, following a single by Cleon Jones. And he was sent to the bullpen to get ready while the Americans got one back on Howard's homer.

But he still wasn't ready when the third inning opened and all he could do was watch while he warmed up in the bullpen as the National League exploded for five runs on five hits off John "Blue Moon" Odom, including McCovey's first homer.

The Americans got one back in their half on Freehan's homer, and then McLain got his chance—and became the victim of McCovey's record-tying second homer. Only three previous players in All-Star history had hit two in one game—Arky Vaughan in 1941, Ted Williams in 1946 and Al Rosen in 1954.

McCovey's second homer produced the NL's final run—and McLain left for a pinch hitter when the American League came to bat. He retreated to the dressing room, showered and flew off again, heading for Florida and a business deal.

The early bombing, however, had given the fans what they were looking for after three straight years in which the pitchers had completely dominated the hitters as the National League posted 2-1, 2-1 and 1-0 victories.

WIDEN EDGE
It also gave the National League a 22-67-1 edge in the 40 games played so far. But Ted Williams, Washington's manager and a coach of the Americans under Smith, reminded everyone all streaks have to end sometime.

"When I came into the league we were beating heck out of them," said Williams. "Since about 1950 they've been knocking us around pretty good. They've had some great players over there.

"But seven in a row. That ought to stop pretty soon."

McCovey's right hip was troubling him Wednesday in the muggy Washington weather and, although he had a crack at setting an All-Star record of three homers, he wasn't unhappy when NL manager Red Schoendienst lifted him from the line-up in the sixth inning.

"As a matter of fact, I was ready to come out," he said. "The hip was bothering me a lot. I think the humid weather has a lot to do with it."

But, while he might have had difficulty swinging from the hip, his long-ball swing was in top form. After delivering a first-inning run with a ground out, he blasted a John "Blue Moon" Odom pitch 420 feet against the facade of the upper right center field stands. Then he tagged Denny McLain for a 350-foot belt that cleared the fence in right.

"I got enough of the second one so I thought it had a chance of going out," he said. "There was no doubt about the first one."

McCovey's home runs are tape measure shots more often than not. And he is far ahead of his 1968 pace, when he led the league with 36. But he isn't counting on himself, or anyone else, breaking Roger Maris' 1961 record of 61 homers.

The Tigers and the Cardinals generally gave been written off as repeat champions this year, but baseball is an unpredictable game and there always is a chance.

After all, the New York Giants of 1951 came from 13½ games behind in mid-August to beat out the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cardinals were 10 games back of Brooklyn in August of 1942, but came on to win.

The Cardinals open a home stand against the San Francisco Giants tonight in third place in the NL East, 11 games back of the first place Chicago Cubs.

The Tigers similarly open a home stand against the Kansas City Royals, also in third place in the AL East, 11½ games behind the leading Baltimore Orioles.

UPHILL BATTLE
The Tigers appear to face a more difficult task than the Cardinals, since Baltimore is rolling along at a .677 clip with 65 victories against 31 defeats. Boston is second with a 54-42 record and the Tigers next at 52-41.

The Cards must overtake the Chicago Cubs and the New York Mets, whose six-game series at Shea Stadium and Wrigley Field excited the fans before the All-Star break.

The Cubs, who play Los Angeles today, are on top with a 60-37 record, 4½ games ahead of the Mets who have a 53-39 mark. The Cards are just one game above .500 at 49-48.

THICK OF FIGHT
Los Angeles and the Giants are in the thick of the fight with Atlanta for first place in the NL West, so the Cubs and Cardinals face a stern test today.

Atlanta plays at home tonight against Montreal. In other NL games, Cincinnati is at New York, Philadelphia at Houston and San Diego at Pittsburgh.

Minnesota, seeking to increase its four-game lead over Oakland in the AL West plays at Cleveland tonight while the A's are at home against Washington.

New York is at California, Boston at Seattle and the Chicago White Sox at Baltimore in the other AL games.

Reeves, Hill May Play End

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Coach Tim Landry of the Dallas Cowboys is toying with the idea of trying backs Danny Reeves and Calvin Hill at tight end.

Veteran pros Pettis Norman, last year's starter, and newly acquired Mike Ditka, appeared to be the favorites for the end spot.

"Hill has shown toughness and that he has good hands," said Landry. "I like Hill at tight end."

"He's fit fairly well in our system as a running back but tight end is his best spot," the coach said Wednesday. "He has some very good motions and moves that help him get loose as a receiver."

Ayala Upsets Bob Lutz

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Luis Ayala, 36-year-old teaching pro from San Juan, P.R., scored the first major upset of the $25,000 National Clay Court tournament Wednesday in defeating fifth-seeded Bob Lutz of Los Angeles 8-6, 6-2.

Lutz, who will be 22 next month, twice held set point with the score 6-5 in the first set but Ayala came back to take the next six games.

Ayala is unseeded here because he became a teaching pro 2½ years ago and was off the circuit that long. He said it was his best victory in some time because "I've only been entering two tournaments a year."

Two seeded foreigners — No. 6 Pancho Guzman of Ecuador and No. 7 Dick Crealy of Australia — also lost their second round matches at Woodstock Club Wednesday. Guzman fell to Louis Rouyer of France 2-6, 6-4, 7-5. Crealy lost to Tom Edler, Fort Walton Beach, Fla., 6-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Top-seeded Arthur Ashe and Nancy Richey both won their second round matches with ease.

Ashe, Richmond, Va., outclassed Australia's Terry Addison 6-1, 6-0. Miss Richey, six-time champion from San Angelo, Tex., beat Peru's Marie Cardenas 6-0, 6-1.

Clark Graebner, No. 2 U.S. seed and defending champion from New York, battled his way into the third round with a 6-4, 6-1 triumph over France's Jean Chanfreau.

Ruidoso Race For Herald Ed

Racing secretaries Murph Palmer and Pete Drypocher have combined a Friday race card for Ruidoso Downs which should satisfy the racing tastes of all fans. "The Tommy Hart Purse", honoring the sports editor of the Big Spring Herald, will present the thoroughbred part of the spotlight, while the running of the Rainbow Derby trials will bring top quarter horses into the picture.

"The Tommy Hart Purse", a six furlong allowance for three-year olds, will find a full field of almost equal ability. The list is headed by Hal Bogle's Breathing Fury, a winner the last start and an entry which has been out of the money only once this season at Ruidoso Downs. Breathing Fury will carry a top weight of 120, along with experienced Dawn's Dandy and newcomer, Swift Camp.

STUBBORN KNEE Ernie Ladd Due Year's Layoff

By The Associated Press

Ernie Ladd, one of the most feared linemen in pro football, won't play this season.

Halfback Dick Bass, in contrast, is ready for a strong comeback after being hampered most of the 1968 season by injuries.

Hank Stram, coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, said Wednesday that the Chiefs and Ladd had agreed it would be best for all concerned for Ladd to sit out this season and concentrate on getting into shape for the 1970 campaign.

Ladd, a 6-foot-9, 300-pound defensive tackle, underwent surgery on his left knee last January.

"He worked on the knee very religiously since the operation, but it hasn't responded as well as we had hoped," Stram said.

The 31-year-old Ladd, a former star at Grambling College, is a nine-year pro veteran.

Bass, the all-time leading runner for the Los Angeles Rams, said he felt great after two workouts Wednesday.

"My legs feel real good and I'm anxious to get started," the 195-pound Bass said.

The Chicago Bears held their first full-blown scrimmage and it was rookie halfback Ross Montgomery of Texas Christian who starred. He gained 24 yards in seven carries, including a two-yard TD plunge. In addition he caught three passes for 48 yards.

The Bears also sent defensive back Curtis Gentry to the St. Louis Cardinals for receiver Bobby Lee and an undisclosed draft choice.

The San Diego Chargers tried out rookie Jeff Green from Morgan State as a running back and Coach Sid Gillman was pleased with his speed.

Stars At Pecos For Playoffs

The American League All-Stars, with poise and confidence, continued this evening to tread the path where one false step is fatal to hopes for a regional or state title.

They go to Pecos to meet the all-stars of that city at 8 p.m. for the right to go to Wichita Falls for the regional tournament starting next Wednesday.

Peco came here last year to lose 1-0 to the Texas League (which had Lubbock, the eventual state champion, beat until the last inning). This time the Big Spring team has to go to Pecos.

Manager Tommy Vick, whose Stars came from behind to beat Andrews 4-2 last weekend, indicated these starters for this evening:

It's off to Houston and a chance to shine in the Astrodome this weekend for Tony Mann and Barry Canning. With their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Mann, 3619 Calvin, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Canning, 2407 Apache, the boys will represent Big Spring in the Southwest baseball finals sponsored by the Houston Astros.

Tony won the 9-year-old division and Barry, the 12-year-old class in competition (sponsored locally by KBVG) involving physical fitness, throwing for accuracy and distance, and base running. They will be fitted with Astro uniforms and will make three appearances at the famed dome. The boys and parents will fly back home Sunday.

STOPS HOME RUN — Johnny Bench's ball was meant for a home run into the left field bullpen but, Carl Yastrzemski leaps to bring it down. The Boston star, playing for the American League, made the spectacular catch in the sixth inning yesterday in the All-Star game at RFK Stadium. Bench's earlier home run helped the National League beat the American League, 9-3.

Tigers, Cards Eye Last Half Drive

Can the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals put on a second half drive and again finish on top in the American and National Leagues?

That is the big question as the pennant races resume today in major league baseball.

The Tigers and the Cardinals generally gave been written off as repeat champions this year, but baseball is an unpredictable game and there always is a chance.

After all, the New York Giants of 1951 came from 13½ games behind in mid-August to beat out the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cardinals were 10 games back of Brooklyn in August of 1942, but came on to win.

ONE STARTER BACK Vets Missing At Garden City

GARDEN CITY — Hit by loss of seven starters by graduation, the Garden City Bearkats face what could be a bleak football season unless some young lettermen come through.

When Coach Jack Woodley blows the whistle for the first practice Aug. 18, only Steven Hirt, quarterback and halfback, and Larry Loso, end, will be back as seniors. Steven was a starter last year.

What compounds the problem is that there are only four juniors returning. The three lettermen are Floyd Schwartz, a halfback with considerable promise, Rudy Halfmann, center, Jerry Robinson, guard, Sid Fowler, end, a junior, also is back.

There are four soph lettermen back, including Kenneth Chandler, an end, and Earl Jansa, end and guard, who were looking good at the end of last season, and Delvin Lawlis, on whom considerable pressure will rest as quarterback-halfback, and Roy McDaniel, a back. Other returning sophs are Kervin Frysak, center-guard,

Pat Halfmann, back-guard, Cecil Pearce, Homer Speaks and Steve Livingston, an end. Mike Dobb, end-back, and Jodie Schwartz, end-back, appear among the most likely prospects as freshmen. Woodley also is looking to Guy Newell, guard, Lynn Halfmann, guard, Alan Dierschke, end, Joe Timmons, end, and Harley Loso, end-guard, to beef up the squad.

The Ugly Duckling

All the other ducks made fun of his gawky, peculiar look. "He isn't quite the right shape", they clucked. They made up jokes about him. But, in the end, he grew up to be a beautiful swan. (Moral: Beauty is in the eye of the beholder.)

Group Starts Study Of Rising Car Insurance Costs

AUSTIN (AP) — A special governor's committee begins today an investigation in search of ways to slow down Texas' auto insurance rate spiral.

Gov. Preston Smith, who appointed the nine-member group, scheduled a speech to the group, which he wants to report back to him before Sept. 1.

Chairman is former Gov. Price Daniel, who originally appointed both of the present state insurance board members but who fought the insurance companies when he was governor over Hurricane Carla losses.

The governor named the committee shortly after Insurance Board actuaries recommended an average 11.4 per cent increase state wide in private passenger car insurance rates, effective Sept. 1.

Taken as a whole, the board staff asserted, the 334 companies that wrote car insurance in Texas last year lost $15.9 million on such coverage.

The board staff said a 9.2 per cent rate increase, averaged out over both commercial and private passenger categories and 40 separate rating territories, should put all the companies on a profit-making basis.

But this increase would mean huge windfalls to some giants of the insurance industry — assuming their ratios of accident losses and expenses to premiums stay the same.

Six of the top 10 firms in auto premiums had premium dollars left over after paying their claims and expenses, board records show. The five most profitable companies passed their surpluses on to policyholders as dividends.

State farm mutual auto insurance, Allstate Insurance Co., Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., Southern Farm Bureau Casualty, Employers Casualty Co., and United Service Auto Association all had an excess of premiums over costs. Only Hartford reported no dividends.

Last year, the top 10 companies wrote $195.5 million in Texas car insurance earned premiums, more than a third of the $586.5 million total.

Earned premiums are the portion of total premiums that actually go for coverage within the calendar year. If a policyholder paid a $120 premium for a policy that ran from July 1, 1968, to July 1, 1969, only $60 would be counted as earned premium for 1968.

State Farm and Allstate, a Sears, Roebuck & Co. subsidiary, received 18.5 per cent of the total earned premiums last year, and State Farm's $60.9 million was more than a tenth of the Texas total.

Applying the expense factors furnished by the companies and deducting their reported accident losses, State Farm had a surplus of $9.3 million and Allstate had a $4.4 million excess of premiums over costs and losses.

and fourth ranked companies in total premiums, showed big losses on their Texas car insurance business.

Texas law requires rates to be uniform, so customers of profitable companies must pay the same rate increases as those of firms that lost money by writing auto insurance.

Smith has noted that Texas is one of the few states with controlled rates.

If the rates set by the board are not high enough to enable insurance companies to make a profit on auto coverage, why do so many stay in business?

"They say, 'We are just over-optimistic. We think things are going to get better,'" said a board staff member.

Smith asked his committee to investigate the desirability of making all drivers have liability insurance, but board actuaries say this would drive rates even higher.

Some 74.5 per cent of Texas drivers have liability insurance, a board staffer said, and "We know the driving experience, habits and records of the other 24.5 per cent is not as good as those with liability. . . New York and Massachusetts have mandatory liability and the highest rates in the country."

An informed source said the board is thinking about reducing the formula item for such things as agents' commissions in determining rates for collision and comprehensive policies. The present formula allows 25 per cent of premiums for this item. But cutting the formula, the board would cut the size of the collision and comprehensive rate increase—and make a lot of insurance agents mad in the bargain.

MEMORIAL TO CHURCHILL — Lady Spencer-Churchill, widow of the wartime prime minister of Britain, talks with Sir Robert Menzies, former prime minister of Australia, after unveiling the memorial to her late husband Wednesday. Battlefield Deaths Jump

SAIGON (AP) — Despite a five-week lull in sustained ground action across South Vietnam, American battlefield deaths last week increased 23 per cent over the total the previous week, the U.S. Command reported today.

The weekly casualty summary said 182 Americans were killed in action last week compared with 148 the week before. The toll for the week that ended at midnight last Saturday was the highest since June 22-28, when 241 U.S. troops were killed.

The toll for the week that ended at midnight last Saturday was the highest since June 22-28, when 241 U.S. troops were killed. But it was 23 per cent below the weekly average this year of 235 deaths.

Headquarters also reported that 1,405 U.S. troops were wounded last week, down from 1,612 the week before.

Although the number of American battle dead increased last week, those of South Vietnamese government forces and of the enemy were less than the week before.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 295 government troops were killed in action last week, compared with 352 the week before. Another 923 government soldiers were wounded; there had been 1,088 the previous week.

The report said 2,203 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed by allied forces last week compared with a revised total of 2,369 the week before.

A U.S. spokesman said many of the Americans killed last week died in small unit actions or as a result of booby traps. U.S. sources said that despite an absence of large-scale fighting, small-unit contacts involving anywhere from a company of 100 men to a squad of 10 have been averaging about 60 per day for most of the last two weeks.

The 182 U.S. troops killed last week raised to 37,349 the number of Americans reported killed in battle in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961. Another 241,164 have been reported wounded.

More than a third of the total American battlefield deaths—14,398—have occurred since the United States opened preliminary peace talks with North Vietnam in Paris on May 13, 1968.

Since South Vietnam joined the talks last Dec. 7, 7,292 Americans have been reported killed in action.

The U.S. Command also reported that a total of 531,122 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed by allied forces since Jan. 1, 1961.

Everyone Would Pay Taxes On At Least Half Of Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax reformers have fashioned a provision that would make it impossible for wealthy individuals to avoid income taxes entirely through tax-free investments or special loss and deduction allowances.

Under the proposal tentatively adopted by the House Ways and Means Committee, everyone would pay taxes on at least half his income.

The Treasury, by rough estimates, would pick up a minimum $200 million a year in additional taxes.

The provision is based on a proposal the Nixon administration called "limit on tax preferences," but it goes farther.

President Nixon proposed taxing some income now exempted because of allowances for accelerated depreciation on real estate, certain farm losses, intangible drilling expenses in the oil industry, and charitable contributions of property that has gained in value.

In addition to using these tax preferences in figuring a minimum income tax, the committee proposal would include interest on municipal bonds and the untaxed one-half of capital gains.

A taxpayer who had more than half his income in such preferences would have to show them all in his return.

Then, for example, if a taxpayer had $100,000 in ordinary income and $200,000 in preferences, he would add them up and be taxed on half the sum—$150,000. Under present law he would be taxed only on the $100,000 ordinary income.

Tax preferences, however, would not be reduced under $10,000 for anyone.

The committee is driving tentatively on tighter rules on gifts of property that appreciate in value while held by the donor.

The committee is driving to produce a comprehensive tax bill for House consideration before the Aug. 13 recess. Spokesmen said the panel hopes to finish its major policy decisions this week and polish the language next week.

Foes Of Safeguard Need Couple Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro-Safeguard pressure on uncommitted and wavering senators is making it increasingly difficult for opponents, admittedly two or three votes shy of a majority, to stop President Nixon's missile defense system.

Senate sources say it is because of this situation that Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., are unable to say when they will seek a vote on their proposal to block Safeguard deployment while permitting continuation of research.

The two antiballistic missile—ABM—foes claimed at least 46 of the Senate's 100 votes for their proposal before moving formally on Wednesday to make their amendment the Senate's pending business.

But other sources saw this as an overly optimistic estimate. One source said that White House pressure is "extraordinary, especially on Republicans."

"They're really keeping their softies in line," the source added.

Others cited the situation of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., who is publicly uncommitted though listed in most polls as against ABM deployment and claimed by both sides as being with them.

His Democratic colleague Sen. Henry M. Jackson, one of the leading spokesmen for the pro-Safeguard forces, has been actively courting Magnuson, stressing the help he gave in the senator's 1968 re-election campaign.

On the other hand, virtually all of Magnuson's staff is understood to be opposed to the ABM and are seeking to hold him to their point of view.

To complicate his situation, the Nixon administration is weighing whether to press forward with development of the supersonic transport, and one of the prime contractors is Boeing Aircraft Co., the largest employer in Magnuson's home state of Washington.

Faced with such conflicting pressures, Magnuson has remained silent, and is likely to do so right up to the vote.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., the only senator besides Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., to be listed as uncommitted in the last Associated Press poll showing a 49-49 deadlock says he has made up his mind but won't discuss his position.

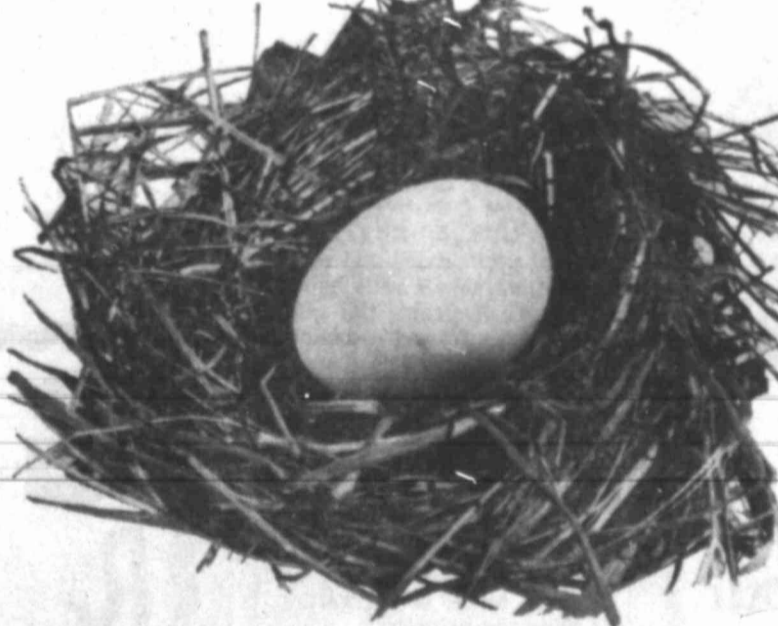

It would be difficult to pressure Williams, one of the most independent of senators who has announced his retirement effective the end of his term in 1971.

And aides to some senators who hold the key to the outcome insist they have seen no signs of pressure from either side in the debate.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a vociferous ABM opponent, said he thinks the Nixon administration may win its fight by a one vote margin.

Gore spoke on CBS radio's "Capitol Cloakroom."

'Planning Ahead' Not For E. A. Hood Family

By RHODA LEMONS
 "We live one day at a time and seldom make plans very far in advance," said Mrs. E. A. Hood, incoming president of the NCO Wives Club. "For some reason when we plan ahead, everything goes awry, so we usually end up doing spur of the moment things."
 Mrs. Hood is looking forward to a stimulating experience in leading the club, which she has served two terms as treasurer.
 Her husband is T. Sgt. Eddie Hood, of the Data Automation department at Webb Air Force Base. They live at 178-B Fairchild with their four sons, Andy, 11; Jeffery, nine; Timmy, seven; and Richard, four.
 Hood teaches a data computer class at Howard County Junior College, and with retirement from the Air Force only a year and a half away, he is making plans to become a full-time teacher.
 "We aren't positive, but we will probably retire in Florida," said Mrs. Hood. "We have lived there previously and we like the fishing, beaches and wonderful climate."
 Mrs. Hood plans her menus on a daily basis, buying groceries as she needs them. She cooks a large breakfast and evening meal; the family has soup or sandwiches for lunch.
 "I do quite a bit of running for the NCO Wives Club," said Mrs. Hood, and then I chauffeur the boys to places they need to go." Her husband is the type of man that needs a project going, and the current one is remodeling a car.
 "He will never get through with it, but it keeps him happy tinkering," said Mrs. Hood.
 The family enjoys camping and fishing more than most anything. They are looking forward to Sgt. Hood's coming home and saying, "Let's go," as they eagerly pack to go to

Make An Economical Main Dish

If the favorite meatless menu at your house requires a main dish of macaroni and cheese, but you just don't have hours enough to spend waiting for it to bake, spend 10 minutes instead. Try this quick and easy dish. It's delicious as well as economical.

MACARONI AND CHEESE
 2 cups large elbow macaroni
 1 can cheddar cheese soup
 1/2 cup milk

Cook macaroni as directed on package. Meanwhile blend cheese soup with milk and heat. Add to drained macaroni. Mix well and serve. Preparation time is 10 minutes. Average cost per serving is seven cents. Serves four or five with buttered asparagus tips.

Economical Recipe Will Help Budget

Here's a boon to the homemaker who's in a hurry, and suddenly discovers that TODAY requires an economical main dish. This one's really quick, very economical and just delicious.

QUICK MACARONI PARMESAN
 2 1/2 to 3 cups elbow macaroni
 2 cups shredded American process cheese
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese (or more)

Cook macaroni as directed on package; drain. Immediately add the shredded cheese and toss until macaroni is coated. Turn into heated serving dish and sprinkle Parmesan on top. Serve at once. Preparation time is 10 minutes. Average cost per serving is 12 cents. Serves six.

Tuna And Noodle Quickie

Variety is the spice of meatless main dishes. And to prove it, try this tasty combination of egg noodles, cream of celery soup, tuna fish and pickle relish. When your friends ask how you manage time for such culinary delights, tell them it was sheer inspiration. They'll believe you.

NOODLES 'N' TUNA QUICKIE
 1 10-oz. pkg. pure egg noodles
 1 10 1/2-oz. can cream of celery soup, diluted with one-fourth cup milk
 1 7-oz. can tuna fish
 1/2 cup pickle relish

Cook noodles as directed on package; drain. Heat diluted soup with tuna fish and combine with cooked noodles. Stir in pickle relish; add salt and pepper as needed. Preparation time: 10 minutes. Average cost per serving is 16 cents.

CORNED BEEF DINNER Made appealing and colorful

Simple Supper Dish Has Plenty Added Glamour

Corned beef dinner-in-a-dish is a snap to prepare, yet it is as colorful and appealing as many a far more complicated main dish, and delightfully delicious in the bargain. The secret lies in the selection and arrangement of the meat and vegetables.

The dish is made up of mashed potatoes, extra creamy and tempting with cottage cheese and sour cream added; mild yet distinctively-flavored green beans; and hearty canned corned beef, seasoned to everyone's taste by the corning process. The beef is nestled in the center of the potatoes with the beans surrounding it, leaving a snowy potato border at the edges.

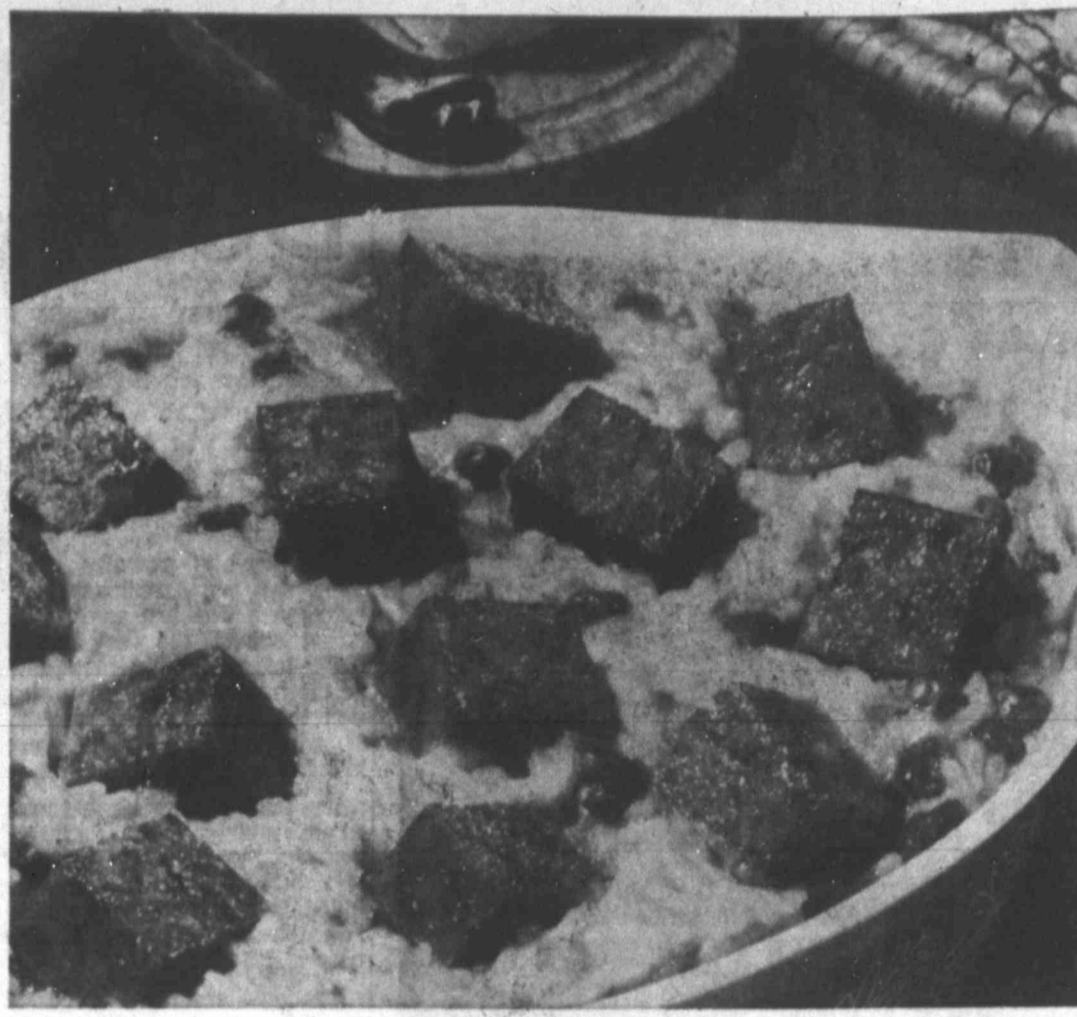

Package instant or leftover mashed potatoes, and canned beans and corned beef, cut the preparation time way down. Time for baking is short, too; just enough to heat the dish through. The corned beef is cooked to full-done, just-right tenderness in the can; the brief heating brings out its unique flavor. While the dish bakes, a bit of butter or margarine in a custard cup can be set in the oven to melt, and then be brushed over the beans at serving time.

CORNED BEEF DINNER-IN-A-DISH
 2 envelopes instant mashed potatoes (or 5 cups leftover mashed potatoes)
 1 1/2 cups creamed-style cottage cheese
 1/2 cup sour cream
 1 tsp. chopped onion
 1/4 tsp. salt
 Dash pepper

2 cans (12-oz. each) corned beef, unchilled
 1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans, drained
 Melted butter or margarine
 Prepare potatoes according to package directions. Beat potatoes, cottage cheese, sour cream, onion, salt and pepper with mixer until smooth. Spoon into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole, building up on sides with indentation in center. Fill center with flaked canned corned beef and surrounded with beans. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes, or until heated through. Just before serving, brush beans with melted butter.

Makes six servings.

QUICK AND EASY Deliciously cooked in few minutes

Quick Meals Are Necessity In Hectic Life Of Today's Mother

Quick and easy meals are a necessity for today's busy homemaker. When shopping, meetings or traffic tie-ups cause her to arrive home late, she can depend on convenience foods to help her prepare an attractive dinner for the family. A hearty canned luncheon meat, packed with flavor and protein, cubed into a casserole will bring compliments with little effort.

Possibilities for creativity with this luncheon meat are unlimited. The homemaker may fry it for breakfasts or quick lunches, dice it into salads or casseroles, bake it for suppers, or slice, and glaze it. In this easy main-dish casserole the luncheon meat is cut into one-half inch cubes, then combined with a subtle blend of curry, dry mustard, and chili sauce. Frozen green peas add a spark of color plus nutritional value. Long grain rice binds the dish together and provides needed bulk to satisfy the hungry men in the family.

To accompany this savory dish serve a crisp, tossed salad with marinated artichoke hearts. For variety try using several kinds of greens which may, as yet, be unfamiliar to your family. Bibb, endive, escarole, or Boston plus the familiar iceberg or head lettuce will make a pretty and interesting salad. Dress it with an oil and vinegar base seasoned with salt, pepper, oregano or basil, and onion or garlic salt.

LUNCHEON MEAT CASSEROLE
 12 oz. can luncheon meat, cubed
 1 cup uncooked rice
 10 1/2 oz. pkg. frozen peas, thawed
 1 1/2 cups milk
 3 tbsps. butter or margarine
 3 tbsps. flour
 1/4 tsp. dry mustard
 1/4 tsp. curry powder
 1/4 cup chili sauce

Cook rice according to package directions. Meanwhile, melt butter in a saucepan. Blend in flour, mustard, curry powder, and chili sauce. Gradually stir in milk. Cook and stir until sauce is thickened. Combine sauce with cubed luncheon meat, cooked rice, and peas. Place in a two quart casserole which has been rubbed with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes. Yield: Six servings.

APPLESAUCE RAISIN CAKE
 2 prepared box mixes of applesauce raisin cake mix
 Eggs
 Empty into mixing bowl two boxes of applesauce raisin cake mix (13 1/2 oz. boxes). Add eggs and water according to directions on the package. Beat for three minutes at medium speed.

Line bottom of cake pan with wax paper. Pour into greased, small-sized (9x3 1/2 inch) angel food cake pan. Bake in 375 degree oven for one hour. Serves eight.

HARD SAUCE TOPPING
 1/4 lb. soft butter
 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 2 egg yolks
 Rum or brandy flavoring, to taste, if desired.
 Cream together all ingredients until light and fluffy.

READER'S QUERY: "I've followed your advice and served Noodles Romanoff with ham as a change-off from the usual baked beans and scalloped potatoes, but now I've done the noodle dish to death. I'd appreciate another suggestion." Glad to oblige, and individual Hominy Cheese Souffles are our choice. Here's the recipe, one that should satisfy six hearty eaters.

HOMINY CHEESE SOUFFLES
 3 tbsps. butter or margarine
 3 tbsps. cornstarch
 3/4 tsp. salt
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1 1/2 cups water
 1/2 cup regular hominy grits
 1/4 cup grated cheddar cheese
 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
 4 eggs (separated)

In a medium saucepan over low heat, melt the butter. Stir in cornstarch and salt, blending as smooth as possible. Gradually stir in milk and water; stirring constantly, bring to a boil. Stir in grits. Cook over low heat, stirring often, for 20 minutes. Remove from heat; cool about 10 minutes; egg whites will not fold in readily. Stir in cheese and cream of tartar. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; stir into grits mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in. Turn into six ungreased individual baking or souffle dishes—seven or eight ounces (about one cup) and from one and one-half to two inches deep. Place in shallow pan; pour hot water into pan to depth of one inch. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes without opening oven door during baking. Rush to table. Makes six servings.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Scrub zucchini thoroughly in cold water; slice into thin rounds, discarding ends; parboil a minute or two. Chill and add to salad greens tossed with French dressing for welcome new flavor.

A chocolate-sauce stain on that white tablecloth? Try dipping the cloth into hot water several times and then washing with suds. If traces of the stain remain, you can try bleaching lightly and rinsing well.

Tomato halves may be broiled along with the chicken. Place both foods about four inches from the source of heat, but add the tomatoes about 10 minutes before the chicken is done.

When you are skewering and broiling scallops, be sure to brush the seafood with melted butter before putting them under the heat. If you like, you may season the butter with a clove of garlic.

If you want to pep up that broiled fish, serve it with a barbecue sauce.

Sunday night supper: add drained canned red kidney beans to a savory cheese sauce and serve over steamed rice. A combination salad—lettuce, tomatoes, green pepper and olives—tastes fine with the bean rarebit.

Thinly sliced cucumbers taste wonderful dressed with salt, freshly-ground pepper and sour cream; but they're even better when minced fresh dill is added to this dressing.

Cook a package of frozen cauliflowerets and add it to creamed shrimp for an interesting flavor combination.

You can bake extra biscuits and put them in the freezer—but use them within a month.

If you are broiling 1 1/2 pounds fish fillets, you'll need about one-fourth cup of melted butter for brushing the fish.

Next time you make baking soda biscuits, add raisins and caraway seed to the dough, then roll out and cut as usual. If you like, you may brush the cut-out biscuits with melted butter or egg white and sprinkle with sugar before baking.

 Cut bread into strips, one inch wide, one inch thick, and three inches long. Dip in condensed milk and roll in coconut. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven (425 F. degrees) until brown.

CURRIED TUNA DIP
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 tbsps. chopped onion
 1 tsp. curry powder
 1/4 cup sour cream
 1 7-oz. can drained flake tuna
 Melt butter or margarine. Stir in chopped onion and curry powder. Cook until onions are tender. Stir in sour cream and flaked tuna. Serve hot in chafing dish. Makes about one and one-half cups.

GINGER CHUCK STEAK
 1 chuck steak, 3 1/2 inches thick
 1 cup soy sauce
 1 tsp. grated or ground ginger
 2 cloves garlic, crushed
 Marinate steak in soy sauce.

Try New Version Of Favorite Salad

TUNA-PIMENTO SALAD
 1 can (8 oz.) solid white (albacore) tuna, packed in vegetable oil
 2 tbsps. sweet pickle relish, undrained
 1 can (4 oz.) pimento, drained
 Shredded lettuce, as much as you like
 Turn tuna with its oil into a small bowl; flake; mix in the pickle relish. Reserve two of the pimentos; dice remaining pimento and add to tuna mixture. Fill the whole pimento with as much of the tuna mixture as they will hold and center each one on a salad plate. Scatter remaining tuna mixture over lettuce. Makes two large servings.

DANISH GOULASH
 2 lbs. top round steak, 1/2 inch thick
 1/4 cup butter or fat
 1/2 tsp. pepper
 2 1/2 tsp. salt
 4 med. onions
 1 tsp. brown sugar
 6 small bay leaves
 4 tsp. flour

Melt butter in frying pan, add pepper and two teaspoons salt. Add meat and brown on all sides over high heat about 10 minutes. Peel onions, cut in half, shave paper thin and add to browning meat cubes. Continue searing for five minutes, stirring constantly. Add two cups boiling water, brown sugar, remaining salt and bay leaves.
 Cover and bring to boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer one hour. Remove bay leaves. Thicken stew with flour mixed to a smooth paste with six tablespoons cold water. Cook until thickened, stirring well.

CRUMB CRUST
 15 ginger snaps, finely rolled (approximately one cup crumbs)
 2 tbsps. sugar
 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted

FILLING
 1/2 cup solid pack pumpkin
 2 tbsps. light brown sugar, firmly packed
 1/2 tsp. grated orange rind
 1/2 pint vanilla ice cream, slightly softened
 1/2 oz. candy corn curls
 Blend together first three ingredients. Divide mixture into 6 (2 3/4 x 1 1/2-inch) paper lined cupcake cups. Press firmly against side, and bottom, using a teaspoon. Place in freezer while preparing filling. Blend pumpkin, sugar and orange rind. Partially stir into ice cream, giving a swirled effect. Quickly spoon into prepared cupcake cups. Freeze three to four hours. Garnish with candy corn curls. Makes six tarts.

OUT OF THIS WORLD — It was inevitable. Moon maidens made their appearance at the Rome fall-winter fashion shows. Sketch shows astronaut dresses and coats by the Daniele fashion house of Rome. They're in sky-blue wool with crater-shaped collars and silver metal buttons. The outfits are worn with space boots.

Discipline Stressed In Talk

Mrs. Spike Dykes spoke on "Understanding the Problems of Youth" at Tuesday's meeting of the Woman's Society of the Christian Service, First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Dykes said young people today need to have greater responsibilities and be given specified tasks to perform. She stressed the need of teaching young people a sense of values and demanding that they live up to those standards. Mrs. H. C. Ernsting presided and announced the next meeting will be a luncheon, Sept. 9, when new officers will be elected. Mrs. Max Fitzhugh read the prayer calendar and worded prayer.

Reduce Irritation With Witch Hazel

The popular wide wedding bands, because they cover so much skin and reduce ventilation, sometimes cause skin irritation and swelling. Harsh detergents in the dish water or laundry water add to the problem. Without removing the band, soak the finger in a saucer of good quality witch hazel. Let the solution seep under the band. Witch hazel is a pure herbal extract, harmless to the most sensitive skin. If you have medium to long hair and you want to try styles featuring a pony tail, but cannot figure out how to hide the rubber band — there is a trick you can use. First arrange the pony tail, then take a roller-sized portion of hair from the side of your head — this portion should not be part of the pony tail — and divide it into three equal sections. Braid it as far as it will go, then spray it until it is stiff. Do this while you are setting your hair. Put a roller or two in the pony tail for fullness and wind the braid upward into another roller. When hair is dry, feather pony tail, wind braid around its base and smooth pony tail down.

Miss Morrison Is Honored At Parties

A series of parties is continuing for Miss Vicky Morrison, who will be married Aug. 6 to Reggy W. Robertson in the Belvue Church of Christ at Stanton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Morrison of Stanton, and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Robertson, 2806 Clanton. The first party was held Thursday evening in Stanton at the home of Mrs. Troy Ray, where cohostesses were Mrs. John Shanks, Mrs. Calvin McKenzie, Mrs. George Dowden, Mrs. Virgie Quaid, Mrs. Darr Huckaby, Mrs. Marvin Standefer, Mrs. Floyd Huckaby, Mrs. George Costlow, Mrs. E. T. Polson, Mrs. Richard Doggett, Mrs. Glen Brown, Mrs. Darrell Quaid and Mrs. R. P. Odom. The honoree and both mothers were presented yellow carnation corsages. Refreshments were served from a table covered with white lace over a yellow underlay and appointed with crystal. The centerpiece was pictures of the couple flanked by yellow roses and green streamers. A kitchen and linen shower was held Friday at the Texas Electric Service Building in Stanton where hostesses were Miss Pug Deavenport, Miss Doris White, Miss Laura Pulbright, Miss Sherla Manning, Miss Nancy Hurst, Miss Trudy Powell, Mrs. Jerry Daughtery, Miss Paula Standefer and Miss Darla Dowden. The honoree and mothers were presented yellow carnation corsages, and the table was laid with a white lace cloth over a green underlay. Appointments were crystal, and the table was

TOPS Club Holds Party Tuesday

STANTON (SC) — The TOPS Scale Steppers met Tuesday evening at the Martin County Library. A salad supper was held and games were played with fruits and vegetables as prizes. A weight loss of over 21 pounds was recorded by the 11 members present. One guest attended. Plans were made for a swimming party next week.

Home League Has Picnic In Park

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army planned quarterly meetings at Wednesday's meeting in the Citadel. The group also planned a picnic in city park for Wednesday night. Softball games and a potato race were held, and supper was served by the league. Lt. Joseph Saint was in charge of devotions, and Mrs. (L.) Saint assisted with the picnic. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peiree of Irving and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Madison, 714 Lorilla. The bride was attired in a white peau de soie street-length dress overlaid with white lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nelson of Dallas served as the couple's only attendants. The couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado, and for traveling, the bride chose a lavender and white striped silk dress with white accessories. A reception was held in Galveston. The refreshment table was highlighted by a two-tiered white cake accented with pink flowers.

Birthday Honoree Feted At Party

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McFall honored her aunt, Miss Lucille Berry, with a birthday party Tuesday evening in their home, 1710 State. Miss Berry won high score in "42" games. She was presented birthday gifts. Homemade ice cream and birthday cake were served. Summer flowers were placed at focal points in the entertaining rooms. This hint might save some other family from suffering the same agony... Mrs. C.O.B.

4-H Food Goup Concludes Study

The Gay Hill 4-H food group concluded its study on "Expanding Food—the Picnic Way" at Thursday's meeting in the home of Mrs. John T. Couch. Martha Couch is junior 4-H leader. Picnic dishes were prepared by Cindy Montgomery and Reba Hyden.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Ladies: Now don't laugh at me. Let's all laugh together! A few months ago a woman wrote that she hated to dust, especially bric-a-brac shelves, books and collections. She said she took her hair dryer, which had a hose, and with the cap removed, turned it on and literally blew the dust off all the tiny things on her shelves. Now you can laugh all you want to, but I have tested this for months, and it actually works! Here's the secret: Always BLOW this dust off bookshelves BEFORE you start to clean up a room. Then you can take up the rest of the dust with your vacuum. Here's another tip I learned: If you don't have a hair dryer, use the blowing end of your vacuum cleaner hose — without any attachment. And just blow away without moving any of the articles. Try SUCKING most of the dust up first, then reverse the tube to the blowing end of the vacuum and blow the rest of the dust off. Then reverse the tube again and suck up some more of that loose dust. It works like magic! And our thanks to the wonderful housewife who wrote this in. May God bless her always. We sure do... Heloise. Dear Heloise: Cut off the tops of one large bleach bottle, one medium-size bottle and one small one. This makes three nice mixing bowls when you're out camping. They can be used several times and discarded, or can be used later for leftovers in the refrigerator... Mrs. M.M. Dear Heloise: When cooking supper every night seems to get you down, at least get dessert and a salad in the ice box before noon. It is amazing how easily the rest comes out with this head-start. Even if it's only a simple pudding or aspic. Begun is half-done. Cohostesses were Miss Judy Bair, Miss Debra Anderson, Miss Nancy Williams, Miss Becky Easley, Miss Galya Bledsoe and Mrs. Charles Hyden. The honoree was attired in a white chiffon dress designed with long sleeves. She greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Collin Reese, and her fiancée's sister, Mrs. Bobby Cunningham. They were presented yellow and white corsages. The refreshment table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and centered with a yellow and green floral arrangement. The wedding will be an event of July 31 in the College Baptist Church.

Keep up the great "Mamma's Helper Column!" Mother of Four. Dear Heloise: Many families do a lot of traveling while on vacation. If they have small ones along, it is a good idea to have each child wear an identification tag on a pin or chain. These can be either metal or plastic, with the name of the child on one side. Cover the other side of the tag with adhesive tape on which is printed the name of the motel, campground, etc., along with any identifying location number necessary. This tape can be changed easily from one stop-over to another. This thought came to my mind after three agonizing hours of worry and fright when our small son wandered away while we were making camp near a lake. Each of us thought another member of the family had him in tow, and he was long-gone before we realized our mistake. Recently a lady wrote to you about saving the liquid from cans of fruit to make juice drinks. Well, we save the liquid from jars of maraschino cherries to make milkshakes. We use about a tablespoon of juice for each shake and they're absolutely delicious... Lynda. This column is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Gift Party Honors Miss Debbie Reese

A LOVELIER YOU Dieter's Sweets Are Low-Cal Delights

By MARY SUE MILLER

A real mod dieting trick is not to cut out what's dear to the reducer's heart, but to cut down. Take an aftermeal sweet as an example. A gourmet peach souffle becomes a dieter's dish when it's made with sugar substitutes, nonfat dry milk, unflavored gelatin and fresh peaches. Served on a chilled china compote and garnished with fresh mint, this dessert is a delight instead of a deprivation.

A first course, while seldom sweet, too often has a soaring calorie count. One "cut down" here, especially in summer, is Soup on the Rocks. Just load an old-fashioned glass with ice and cover with canned condensed beef broth, consommé or chicken broth. Cool, ma'am, cool!

Just so, you can eat to lose. And just to demonstrate how you can make a fancy dessert with low-cal ingredients, here's the recipe for

PEACH SOUFFLE

Soften one envelope unflavored gelatin in 1/2 cup lemon juice; dissolve in one cup hot water; add two tps. non-caloric liquid sweetener. Chill until mixture starts to thicken. Beat until fluffy. Fold in whipped topping.

To make topping, combine 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk with 1/4 cup cold water. Beat to peak stage. Add one tsp. lemon juice and 1/4 tsp. non-caloric liquid sweetener. Continue to beat until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Pour into lightly oiled quart mold. Chill until firm, unmold and garnish with two cups fresh peach slices, sprinkled with lemon juice and non-cal sweetener to taste. Serves six.

CALORIES COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our booklet, "Pocket Calorie Counter," tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan—a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Store Razor Blade

For safety's sake, store that razor blade used in sewing within an empty aspirin box in your sewing basket.

Does Told Of Trip To Convention

Mrs. Glen Gale told about her trip to the Elks convention in Dallas at Wednesday's meeting of the BPO Does in the Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Kay Williams presided and announced the Does will give a set of flatware to the Elks at tonight's meeting. Mrs. Sam Mellinger served as protom first counselor, and Mrs. Gale was protom conductress.

Mrs. Frank George reported on work accomplished at the Veterans Administration Hospital, and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins announced cards had been mailed to the sick and shut-in.

September Picnic Planned By Club

Eleven members of the Sew and Chatter Club met Wednesday to plan a picnic for their husbands in September. The group met in the home of Mrs. Herbert Johnson Sr., 601 E. 18th. The table was laid with a white embroidered linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of summer flowers. The next meeting will be Aug. 13 in the home of Mrs. Ruby Martin, 1503 Vines.

Miss Wade Is Honored

Miss Sally Wade, bride-elect of Lt. Larry D. Seals, was honored Wednesday evening at a pre-nuptial gift shower in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. D. Robertson, Mrs. A. J. Statter, Mrs. Jim Lewis, Mrs. Eugene Peters, Mrs. W. A. Cobb, Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin and Mrs. Mary Cochran.

Miss Wade, who was attired in a brown embroidered organdy dress, was presented a corsage of yellow mums as was her mother, Mrs. V. O. Wade. The prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. D. H. Soles of El Paso, was unable to attend.

The refreshment table was laid with a silk organza runner with yellow underlay. Flowers were placed between the runner and cloth, and appointments were crystal and silver. Placed on the table was a pewter candlestick arranged with spider mums and asters in varying shades of yellow, and petits fours were topped with yellow confection flowers.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 2 in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church with the Rev. William Meagher officiating.

George Read Has Birthday Party

George Read of Vincent was honored on his 70th birthday with a dinner and family reunion Tuesday evening in the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob L. Read, 2600 E. 24th.

The five-tiered cake was decorated with confection sweet peas and held 70 candles. Homemade ice cream was served.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barr and family, Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Read and sons, Mrs. A. O. Read, Mrs. Ernest Bowman and Elaine, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowman and Chantel, all of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Holley and Susan, Midland; and Mrs. L. M. Barr and Elmer Rainey, both of Big Spring.

Bridal Shower Held For Miss Williams

Miss Kay Williams, bride-elect of David Mitchell, was honored with a bridal shower Monday evening in the fellowship hall of Trinity Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. Gabe Hammack, Mrs. Roy Shaffer, Mrs. Avery Deel, Mrs. Harold Mossholder, Mrs. Jack Shaffer, Mrs. Floyd Williams, Mrs. Ruth Hampton, Mrs. Paul Beasley, Mrs. J. R. Petty, Mrs. Jim Newman and Mrs. Raymond Cooper.

The honoree was attired in a white sleeveless dress and presented a blue carnation corsage.

Entertains Class On Wednesday

Mrs. Walter Douglas, hostess, and her daughter, Mrs. Cornelia Gary, cohostess, entertained the Berta Beckett Sunday school class of First Baptist Church Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Gary, 1510 Nolan.

Mrs. H. H. Squires presided for the brief business session, followed by prayer led by Mrs. J. E. Hardesty.

Mrs. O. N. Greene used "service" as the subject of her devotion, which she illustrated with a collection of scriptures.

Refreshments were served to 18 members and two guests, Mrs. Joe Pond and Mrs. R. D. Ulrey. The next meeting will be a luncheon Aug. 9 at the Downtown Tea Room.

Bridge Winners At Country Club

Winners in duplicate games played Tuesday evening at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, first; Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Ayra McGanna, second; and Mrs. Fera Durham and Mrs. Joe Herbert, third.

At Wednesday's games, winners were Mrs. McGann and George Pike, first; Mrs. Floyd Mays and Mrs. Don Newsom, second; and Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, third.

City Dunning Air Force On Water Bill

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Air Force's station at Little Rock is getting its water, but Mayor John H. Harden of Jacksonville says it won't be long if it doesn't ante up on its city water bills.

This central Arkansas community of 18,000 supplies water for the base.

A few days ago, Harden said Tuesday, he received a letter from the Air Force general counsel in Denver, Colo., who claimed that the base had overpaid the city for water for the last 12 years.

The letter demanded that the city produce $99,137.64, plus interest, and said the base would hold up its monthly payment—$9,000—to $10,000—until the city paid up.

"Sue us," Harden replied. "They've either got to pay me or I'll pull a Castro on them and turn their water off," the mayor said.

Several hundred persons, including crews for nuclear-tipped Titan II missiles and B58 bombers, are stationed at the base.

Jacksonville's original contract to supply the water was later replaced by a new contract that raised the rates.

"Everybody was real happy," Harden said. "Then, in 1967, I got a letter."

"Someone in Denver was reviewing the old contract and said, 'If it was calculated this way, we would have saved $400 a month,'" Harden explained. "They added it up for 12 years and came up with $99,137.64."

The mayor said he responded, explaining the change in rates, heard nothing and assumed the matter was settled.

The latest letter, however, told Harden that Jacksonville had 30 days in which to pay the $99,137.64, plus 6 per cent interest, and that the Air Force was holding up payment of the monthly bill until the city paid up.

"Naturally," Harden said, "I can't afford that."

If the Air Force believes it has a case he said, it should take the city to court and try to collect.

Cutting off the water isn't a happy choice, he added, since the Air Force payments amount to about a third of the city water department's $36,000 monthly income.

Want A Loan For Divorce Suit?

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Used car dealer Joe Hargitt has a sideline—he finances divorce suits.

He launched his no-money-down, 30-months-to-pay way of splitting up last week with a newspaper advertisement.

Hargitt, 35, arranges financing to cover legal costs and charges a two per cent fee, or a minimum of $35.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You know exactly what you want to do over the weekend, so make your arrangements now. Act quickly to get things in perfect order. Drive with utmost care and avoid strangers who could do you harm.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Clear the slate of bills and other responsibilities that are imminent or long overdue. Get as many business matters handled nicely as you possibly can. Evening should be devoted to make-avoid-ship-ship.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Talking over with associates what your future plans are and getting their reactions, ideas is fine now. A new meeting of minds can be reached. Romance should be the only thing on the agenda for the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Work up more enthusiasm for the tasks ahead of you and work on getting them done in a hurry. Taking treatments to improve your health is important. Why not add more color to that good appearance? Perk up your spirit.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 31) Planning your activities for the weekend during spare time makes everything on that much smoother. Listen to what romantic ally has to suggest. Ideas given you can be very helpful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Anything you want to do to improve situations at home is fine, but avoid arguments in the afternoon. Use orthodox methods if you want to add to present security. Forget going off on some tangent.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Get daily routines handled wisely instead of doing so much daydreaming, wasting of time. Then you find you have the wherewithal to take a trip later on. Perseverance wins out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Keep focused on finances of this time and you can increase your present income, abundance, prosperity. Do not make any foolish mistakes just so that you do not consult an expert. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have some personal friend you can rely very much today, so contact his person nearby, and if you can become a mutual admiration society of two. This leads to meeting worthwhile acquaintances, also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 30) Try to help one who is having a rough time in a direct way instead of angling so much. Listen to advice of experts and get your affairs in order. Be more active sure of yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 31 to Feb. 19) Your day to be so generous that you identify truly your own and can have a wonderful time with great, good friends. Exchange ideas that are worthwhile. Show that you are a true leader.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 30) Good day to do something of a civic, or public nature that is of value, can help you to improve your image. Be sure to contact a friend who can help you to make progress. Be your own smart self.

Dear Abby
—ABIGAIL VAN BURN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. She is very fat, and I am ashamed of her. She's a good mother, but she weighs more than 200 pounds and eats everything she wants and plenty of it. I don't see how my daddy can stand her. I don't think he could get his arms around her.

I don't like for my friends to meet her, and I don't want to go out and be seen with her.

What chance do I have to get a boyfriend when he sees HER? I know a girl is supposed to love her mother, but how can I when I don't even respect her?

I have a picture of her before she got fat and she was beautiful. She is only 30 (Sign me) ASHAMED

DEAR ABBY: Every fat woman is "ashamed" of herself, but losing weight is strictly a do-it-yourself project. I will print your letter in hopes that your mother sees it, takes the hint, goes to her doctor for a check-up and a diet, latches on to "Tops" or "Weight Watchers" and becomes her "beautiful" self once again. Meanwhile, little girl, even though your mother's appearance may not make you "proud," there are qualities of equal or greater importance. And troubled by weight, she needs your love now more than when she was slim and "beautiful."

DEAR ABBY: Around noon on Saturday a lady called and asked to talk to Tony (my husband) and I said he wasn't home (which he wasn't) and then she asked if he was out of town. I asked her who wanted to know, and she says, "It's none of your business," so I hung up on her.

She called back in about an hour and this time Tony was home, so I just stood there and let him answer her.

All he said was, "I told you not to bother me," then he hung up. I asked him who it was and he said, "Some dizzy dame who works at the plant," but he wouldn't tell me her name. If you were I would you try to find out who she is? And do you think there is some funny business going on? He's always walked a straight line.

SUSPICIOUS: If he's always walked a straight line, let it go. A man isn't responsible for who calls HIM.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just came back from a week's vacation at his parents'. It was in the high nineties all the time we were there and the nights were unbearable. I was in my eighth month with my third child.

Our bedroom had one small window and the heat was making me sick. I noticed a huge window fan stored in its original box, so since nobody else was using it I asked my father-in-law if we could use it, and he said, "You don't need it. We've had it two years and have used it only twice."

So I spent my nights sitting on the porch trying to breathe. Our eldest child stayed a week after we left, and when he came home he said, "Right after you left, Grandpa hooked up the fan. He told me not to tell you."

My husband is already talking about going back there in the spring after the baby is born, and I refuse to go. Do you blame me? STUBBORN

DEAR STUBBORN: No! And if I were you I wouldn't go back in the winter either if they're as stinky with the heat as they are with the fan.

Georgia Asks School Rules

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's board of education told the federal government today it will "do everything within our legal authority and power" to see that local school systems end segregation and asked for specific advice on what action is required.

In a lengthy letter to the U.S. Department of Justice, the state board said, however, that it has no power to regulate internal administration of local school systems.

But, the board said: "The state board of education desires to comply both fully and voluntarily with all constitutional standards."

The letter was in response to a letter from the Justice Department.

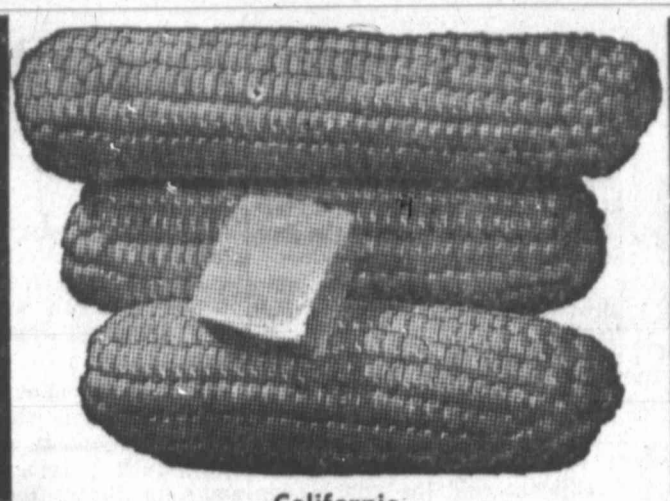

The Justice Department gave the board 15 days in which to reply. Requested by the federal agency was a state board plan for integration of Georgia schools.

State Water Plan 'Sound', Says Veteran Engineer

AUSTIN — The Texas Water Plan is the first major water plan in the United States where substantial provision is made for maintaining the ecological balance, declared a 45-year veteran of water engineering in Texas.

S. V. Freese of Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth based consulting engineering firm, said the plan is essential to the welfare of the state and added "the framework of the plan is sound."

"The passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 2 on Aug. 5 is a first step toward carrying out the plan," he said.

The noted water engineer and his associate, R. S. Gooch, in a prepared statement dealt specifically with comments made by University of Texas Professor Daniel E. Willard criticizing the plan. The biology professor's main field of research is in the metabolic processes in cold-blooded animals, according to his own testimony before a state agency recently.

Professor Willard reasons that providing more water will cause a substantial growth in population and he does not consider this a worthwhile objective of the plan.

Freese said the growth in population will take place with or without the water plan. "All that the Texas Water Plan does is to help insure that the water will be provided in a timely, economical and equitable manner," he added.

"The Texas Water plan deals specifically with the maintenance of desirable salinity gradients in Galveston Bay," said Freese. About 1.5 million acre-feet of additional fresh water will be provided the bay annually from the Texas Water System.

"The plan attempts to maintain and enhance the ecological balance and appears to be an improvement over continuation of the past unplanned policy in this respect," he added.

Freese said one of the main purposes of the Texas Water Plan is to maintain the High Plains irrigation economy by use of imported water. Professor Willard contends the moving of more water in this region would simply aggravate the ecological imbalance that exists.

Professor Willard also charged the system of reservoirs in East Texas would cause atmospheric imbalance and actually result in West Texas getting less rain than now is received.

"I am not a weather expert, but it is likely that the evaporation from planned reservoirs in East Texas would be about the same as present transpiration from the moist, lush forests in the reservoir sites," said Freese.

Gooch contended in his statement that the crux of the argument over the water plan is whether it is better to have a

Sadler Calls For Guard On Treasures

AUSTIN (AP) — Alarmed by reports of two-man submarines in the area, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has hired a radar-equipped patrol boat to guard sunken Spanish galleons off Padre Island.

The ships were sunk during a hurricane in 1554, and the hulls are said to contain millions of dollars in silver, gold and artifacts.

Sadler instructed the captain of the state vessel to keep an "around-the-clock" watch. Law officers are on board, Sadler said.

Sadler said Gov. Preston Smith had agreed to leasing the patrol boat and also to allowing the special legislative session to consider an antiquities bill to regulate treasure recovery operations on public lands.

An aide to the governor said, however, the lease and the bill were still being considered.

Sadler said the patrol boat will operate out of Port Mansfield for at least 60 days and longer if needed.

He said another boat in the area had spotted a pair of two-man submarines recently.

The location is fairly common knowledge, Sadler said, because of his recent dealings with an Indiana salvage firm to recover the treasure.

A Kenedy County district judge has granted a temporary restraining order against Platoro Ltd., Inc., of Gary, Ind., prohibiting further salvage work.

Hundreds of artifacts recovered by Platoro are locked in the land office awaiting an audit.

Wedding Prank

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — "Help, I am being kidnapped! We're not married!" read a note that a service station attendant found under the hood of the auto he was servicing Tuesday.

After the couple in the auto drove off, the attendant called police.

California Highway Patrol officers stopped the car 20 miles south of here and found only a very embarrassed pair of newlyweds.

Officers said the note was a wedding prank. They released the couple without asking their names.

Fomer Webb Students Named IP's Of Month

Two officers, who earned pilot wings at Webb AFB several years ago, received instructor pilot-of-the-month honors in the pilot training squadrons last week.

Capt. Nolan Voight, a T-38 Talon instructor pilot, received the IP-of-the-month award in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron; and Capt. Harry Hopper, a T-37 IP, received the same award in the 3561st PTS.

scheduling officer.

Hopper has spent almost his entire three and one-half years in service at Webb. After graduation with UPT class 67-D in December, 1966, Hopper attended instructor pilot school and returned to Webb to become a T-37 IP.

Although instructional duties remain the captain's primary assignment, he also works with the squadron check section. Lt. Col. Robert Wall, 3561st PTS commander, said Hopper has flown 23 student check flights and more than 60 total flying hours during the month besides his flights with his assigned students.

Speeding Ticket For Going 20 MPH

MAIDEN'S GREEN, England (AP) — Gordon Chapman left his wife a 66-year-old police speeding summons when he died. It was the only motoring offense Chapman had committed in his 84 years.

He was charged with driving his car "furiously so as to endanger the life and limb of any passenger on the highway and exceeding the 12 miles-an-hour limit."

Chapman's widow recalled that he must have driven close to 20 miles an hour that day.

They Still Maintain Old Mother Earth Is Flat

DOVER, England (AP) — A quiet Dover suburb named River. The International Flat Earth Society concedes that the moon may be round but otherwise it is standing by its first principle: The earth is flat as a pancake.

The projected moon landing is causing little disturbance round the society's headquarters in the deception. They are simulating the earth as round and this is a great delusion for the rest of the world."

Shenton and his followers claim Scriptural backing for their theory that the earth is stationary at the bottom of several space layers in which objects like the moon, stars and spaceships are traveling.

They expect disagreement and say it was precisely forecast by the Second Epistle of Peter, Chapter 3, Verse 3: "There shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts."

Shenton, a retired signwriter, said his membership now is down to fewer than 90 but still is spread across the world. Older members die and few young ones come in to replace them.

"I just can't get through to young people these days," he said. "Science teachers have deluded them from the cradle."

Nothing upsets him more than people who refuse to take his society seriously. He has frequently protested to prominent people, Prime Minister Harold Wilson among them, who use the term "flat earthers" in a belittling manner.

Shenton prefers his members to be known as zetetics. Zetetic, from the Greek word zetetikos, means seeking after knowledge. Shenton insists that space exploration has done nothing to shake his society's views.

New Members Of Commission

FORT WORTH (AP) — Three new Texas Industrial Commission members will be sworn in Thursday at the group's quarterly meeting, the commission's first here.

To be sworn in are C. L. Cooke, Fort Worth; Lloyd L. Davis, Plainview, and C. Truett Smith, Wylie. Their terms run to 1975.

Tomorrow's College Is Here Now, Says HCJC Instructor

Tomorrow's college is here now to an encouraging degree at Howard County Junior College, David King, social studies chairman, told the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Settles.

New methods are employing the Skinnerian theory that you teach a lot more by love than you can out of fear, he said. The trend is away from regimenting students and toward individual instruction. Counseling is being de-institutionalized and put at various points of the campus where students are. One school has experimented with putting its periodical stacks from the library in the cafeteria — and reading jumped sharply.

King has just returned from a special workshop on mass media in education at the University of Texas.

"We have arrived at a respectable revolution in education," he declared, "and a major facet of this is the junior college — the college of now. The junior college is uniquely equipped to educate and salvage what many major universities lose."

He touched on a few developments in teaching aids: Reading machines used by both the counselors and the library; tapes (one college has put in 1,700 cassettes (individual learning stalls) equipped for tapes and television; slide projectors (teachers can make their own slides quickly, simply); movies (best developed of new techniques); overhead projectors (which make use of overlay transparencies to superimpose additional information progressively); videotape projectors which can project pictures instantly or preserve them on tape; electronic projections which allow a student to make multiple choices which are graded instantly; television-computer networks connecting colleges with educational centers (HCJC is one included in the West Texas Educational Network).

These new approaches capitalize on learning percentages (1 per cent by taste; 1.5 by touch, 3.5 by smell, 11.5 hearing, and 83 per cent by seeing). New things are being developed constantly, and King displayed a few samples of dry mounting and lamination materials which any teacher may quickly prepare for repeated use.

A guest for the meeting was Cecil Heath, former Big Spring resident who now resides in Virginia. Winston Wrinkle, vice president, presided.

Delegates At Veterans Meet

Delegates from Barracks 1474 Veterans of World War I and the barracks auxiliary are in San Antonio today for the opening of the annual state convention.

L. R. Mundt is delegate from the barracks, while Mrs. Mary Crown, Mrs. Ruby Simpson and Mrs. Lucille Jacobs are representing the Auxiliary.

The Veterans of World War I came into being in 1953 and now has around 200,000 members nationally, making it the third largest veterans group in the country.

Among the speakers at the state meeting will be Oliver E. Meadows, staff director, Veterans Affairs committee, Washington, D.C. Sessions are being held in the Gunter Hotel.

Deadline Coming For Employers

Employers have an important tax deadline on July 31, 1969, according to Ellis Campbell Jr., district director of Internal Revenue Service in Northern Texas.

This is the last day for reporting and paying both social security and withheld income taxes for the quarter ending June 30, 1969.

The completed Form 941 should be mailed to Southwest Service Center, 361 S. Interregional Highway, Austin, Texas 78740.

Baytown Woman Wreck Victim

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — Delores Marie Watson, 33, of Baytown, Tex., died Wednesday of internal injuries several hours after she was injured in a three-vehicle collision at a Hobbs intersection.

Mrs. Watson's husband, William; her sons, Lee, 14, and daughter, Juanita Marie, 11, escaped serious injury.

Hobbs police said a car driven by Glenda Griffith, 38, was headed north and had stopped at a blinking red light when she saw the westbound Watson car slow down and try to drive through the intersection and the collision occurred.

Course Slated On Pesticides

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — A two-day course on "The Public Health Aspects of Pesticides" will be held here July 29-30.

The conference is sponsored by the Texas State Health Department and the Laredo-Webb County Health Department in cooperation with the U.S. Public Health Service.

A Devotional For The Day

Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (Romans 12:21, RSV)
PRAYER: O God, in a world abounding in evil, make us aware of that which is good. May this awareness not dull our sensibilities to the needs of those caught in the clutches of evil nor diminish our eagerness to help those enslaved. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

May Take More Prodding

Quite a number of people have been asking why Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy met with executives of the country's 25 largest banks to discuss fiscal matters. He did express the belief that higher interest rates (banks recently raised their "prime" rate to 8 1/2 per cent) would not curb inflation. Bankers responded that the government — or somebody — should persuade businesses to restrain their borrowings for capital investment as an anti-inflationary move.

Nobody pretends that this exchange of views was helpful. Kennedy did not take the stand to castigate the bankers, although the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, sent word that the board's tight credit policy would become tighter still if something were not done.

The difficulty is that President Nixon, during his campaign and since, has cultivated a hands-off attitude. He promised that "in a Nixon administration there will be a new measure of reliance on voluntary efforts" as against the penchant of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations to intervene in the settlement of strikes and price and wage increases.

Nixon has not budged from his conviction that the economy should be free of government interference. He said nothing when wages and prices were increased, nor when interest rates went up. He is persuaded that the law of the market place will prevail in a free enterprise system.

Yet unanswered question remains: Have big business and big labor finally acquired a social conscience that places the national interest above the interests of a group or class? There is a suggestion that they have not. President Nixon may be compelled to speak out publicly in favor of restraint.

A Word For Youth

After a long life of great and enduring works, Walter Gropius, internationally famed leader in modern architecture, died recently at 86. His career carries a lesson to all, but especially to youth, in these troubled times that are rife with skepticism and despair.

A persistent aim in his creativity was to bridge the gulf between artistic form and the requirements of industrial production, to harness esthetic values to practical purpose. His success was typified by the fact that a factory which he designed in Germany, before becoming a refugee from Hitlerism first to London and then to Harvard, is now a national monument. Perhaps it was reflecting on that experience that moved him to say this to some Washington State schoolboys five years ago:

"For whatever profession, your inner devotion to the tasks you have set for yourself must be so deep that you can never be deflected from your aim . . . Act as if you were going to live forever and cast your plan way ahead. By this I mean that you must feel responsible without time limitation. And the consideration whether you may or may not be around to see the result should never enter your thoughts."

What better message could there be for the "now generation" that shies at commitment to any problem against society's ills who threaten violence, if not revolution, if their demands are not immediately met? And for that much-publicized ill of alienation — what can one individual do against the marshaled forces of the establishment? Gropius, the apostle of teamwork in the service of ideals, had the answer:

"If your contribution has been vital, there will always be somebody around to pick up where you left off, and that will be your claim to immortality."

David Lawrence

We Have A Right To Cheer

WASHINGTON — For centuries past, people everywhere have been gazing at what seemed to them to be the face of a man on the moon. Today they actually saw by television the faces of two men from the earth as they walked on the moon. This spectacular feat ranks in history as unparalleled among the achievements of man.

As science now has attained fantastic results, particularly in being able to fly human beings around the earth, there is a natural pride in landing astronauts on the moon. America takes first place in the realm of communication with satellites and the outer world.

PEOPLE MAY not realize the usefulness of the trip to the moon. The scientists do. Knowledge of what can be done in outer space happens to be valuable not only to this country in the future but to the Soviet Union as well in connection with the growth of military strength.

Billy Graham

I hear a lot about the "free enterprise system," and many people seem to think that this is what is unique about America. Frankly, I don't know what it is. Will you explain the free enterprise system, and tell me if it is really the genius of America?

A.C. While I believe in a free enterprise system, I really don't believe this is the unique thing about America.

Free enterprise is simply the economic doctrine that private industry should operate with a minimum of control from government. But if this is the genius of America, it means that profit-making is our chief aim and goal. Personally, I don't believe that it is. Nor do I believe that Jesus taught that it is life's chief goal. He said, "The abundance of a man's life consisteth not in the things which he possesseth." He said, (regarding material things) "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

To work for pleasure, for creativity, or for the glory of God, is a lost art in these United States. Most of us are money-making machines, and nothing more — and that is the reason for the secularization of our society. Our forefathers came to this land, not to make more money, but for religious freedom. But, we have become slaves of mammon, and have drifted far from the American ideal. We need to rediscover faith, creativity, love for work, love for our fellow man, and love for God.

Indeed, three days before the American astronauts were launched on their journey to the moon, the Soviets deliberately put into space another ship — this one unmanned — not merely to gain information about the moon but to try to demonstrate to the whole world that the Russians are as capable as the Americans in space ventures and that there isn't just one power with lunar experience but two.

INSIDE AMERICA, there have regrettably been some criticisms expressed in connection with plans for the flight to the moon. One or two large newspapers which have been picking flaws in the present administration took advantage of the opportunity to criticize President Nixon for wanting to engage in a conversation with the astronauts which would, of course, be viewed on television.

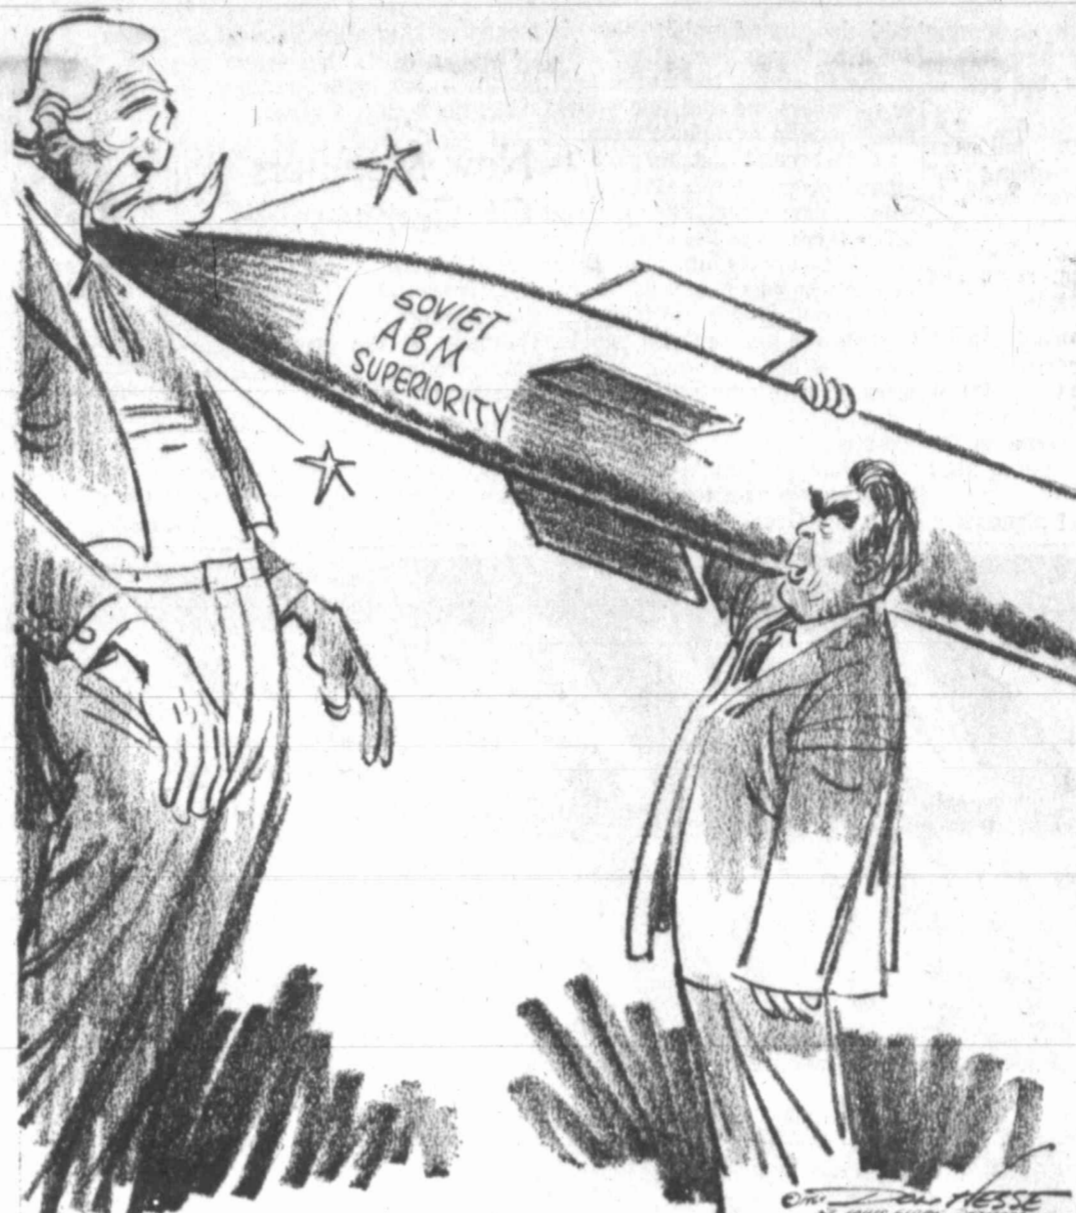

But the fact is that Americans have not had too much to be proud of lately, and President Nixon was right in seeking to emphasize to all the world and particularly to the American people that there are constructive achievements to which this nation could well point with pride.

MR. NIXON'S concept was in the direction of publicity for the United States of America. The President is a symbol of the nation itself. When he is able to participate in a ceremony congratulating our astronauts, it is fitting for him to express the appreciation of the American people. He is not speaking for himself or for any political party but for all the people of the United States who are truly proud of what the astronauts and those who helped them prepare for the trip to the moon really accomplished.

THE WHOLE project and the announced plans for nine or more flights to the moon in the next few years have increased the prestige of the United States of America throughout the world. The influence of this country for peace is enhanced as other nations respect the military and scientific potential of present-day Americans.

THE VOYAGE to the moon would not have been possible unless Presidents Kennedy and Johnson also had recognized that public and private funds must be spent for targets unseen, yet which may be important goals in the cause of human progress. There has been so much emphasis recently on the unhappy state of affairs inside the United States — the riots and demonstrations — that it is a relief for the nation to be able to cheer a great accomplishment of its own.

'We Are Ready To Discuss Freezing Arms Production'

Hal Boyle Star With A Social Conscience

NEW YORK (AP) — Is an actor a mere puppet? Not in the opinion of Burt Lancaster, the film star millionaire who started his career as a $3-a-week circus acrobat.

"Some American actors think acting is unmanly," he said. "I felt that way myself for years — that I should be doing something else. I don't now. I've found acting is a way to be myself."

"I don't think of myself as an actor in the traditional, conventional sense. Acting has become to me a way of saying what I want to say."

LANCASTER, who once aspired to be an opera singer, has been saying pretty much what he wants to say since the age of three when, while appearing in a church nativity play, he saw a piece of gum on his shoe and started the audience by exclaiming, "What the hell is that piece of gum doing there?"

Son of a postal clerk, Burt likes to recall the years when he and five brothers and sisters were reared in an east Harlem walkup railroad flat. "I came from a family poor in terms of money but not in terms of courage and affection," he said.

"My childhood was a happy one. There was a lot of laughter, joy and love in my family."

THOSE EARLY years, and later years when he worked around the country in menial jobs ranging from boiler stoker to road gang worker, left Lancaster with a strong sympathy for underdogs — the downtrodden and overlooked people of earth.

"To me life is a commitment," he said. "You have to get involved."

"When whatever talent you have wins you prestige and success — isn't that the American dream? — you can't simply retire to an ivory tower and live there. Your talent owes a responsibility to others. You have to try to help them in some way."

"I always like the advice that Bernard Shaw gave: 'Waste yourself on the ash heap of humanity.' But actually you do something for yourself when you care for others."

Lancaster, who won an Oscar for "Elmer Gantry," likes to make films that carry a powerful social impact. His latest — and 41st — is "Castle Keep," a surrealistic war picture detailing the experiences of a group of GIs during the battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

SOME YEARS AGO, already laden with honors and loot, Burt thought of quitting the industry, trying a new field. But now, still ruggedly trim at 55, he has shelved that idea.

Market Feeds On Its Own Worries

NEW YORK (AP) — Because it was his job to write a weekly letter of stock market advice, a young analyst stared out the window, scratched his head again, and unable to come up with new and scintillating advice, wrote:

"Money is tight. Interest rates are high. The Vietnam conflict remains an imponderable, as does the balance of payments problem. It is difficult to foresee any change in Federal Reserve policy. This is a time for caution."

LET US call him Martin Slipknot, not that it sounds like his name but because it suggests his style. Martin knows more slipknots than a sailor. He never gets tied down by what he writes; he always slips out.

He is, naturally, highly regarded for his prose. The deftness with which he weaves his words into convolutions of nothing is widely admired, and his remarks soon are widely circulated.

Not only did other brokers read his views, but the portfolio managers of the big mutual funds and insurance companies and banks read them too. The word was out that a well known analyst was cautious.

THE PORTFOLIO managers already were a bit worried. They should have been, for some were losing not only their shirts but their trousers too. And so Martin's cautionary advice was the last straw. They said,

Noting this, Martin observed in his next letter that some of the funds were unloading,

"All I want to do is to go on as long as I can making films that touch people emotionally and express what I feel about life," he said. "You can't just quit because you are ahead."

When he isn't on location abroad, Burt, who shuns all forms of ostentation, lives quietly in Bel Air, Calif., with his wife, Norma, a former USO entertainer he met while he was in the Army, and their five children.

John Cunniff

Market Feeds On Its Own Worries

"Since they have wide impact," he wrote, "it may be wise to refrain from purchasing until the funds turn more optimistic."

Martin had eaten his own vague advice.

SOMETHING of the sort, market authorities now say, may be going on today. The market is unable to forecast outside factors so it has become introspective. It is feeding on its own worries. It is nervous and neurotic.

In this bleak atmosphere everything not clearly bullish is interpreted as strongly bearish. Short-term factors, mainly negative, are magnified; long-term prospects, mostly positive, are ignored. Traders peek over each other's shoulders and do what their neighbor is doing.

THIS IS a rather classic bear market situation and, if the script is followed, could result in a selling climax during which frustrated speculators throw in their stocks, take their losses and make their solemn vows.

But, there is a huge and growing difference between recent bear markets and those of several years ago. The market today is far less one of diverse traders with random thoughts. It is institutionalized. Power is concentrated.

As a result, the spread of negative attitudes can be enormous. It is one thing for ideas to spread from one individual to another, but an entirely different matter when they spread from one institution to another.

Around The Rim

The Hearings That Count

We are in the midst of budget time for most of our political subdivisions, the junior college, school district, and the city. Year in and out, they tend to run pretty much in the same channels — who will get a salary increase and who will not. Salaries for the various public employees make up the largest single item in these budgets, and for the most part, comprise the bulk of public expenditures.

AT THE SAME time, other expenditures are as important and determine the kind of service taxpayers can expect for the budget period — particularly by the city. Once the budget has been drafted and approved, the form of the services to be rendered in the coming year have been determined, at least for major items.

THUS, NOW is the time to be heard, speak up on how you think the money should be spent. In the city's case, a special meeting will be set aside in the next few weeks to hear from residents who want to comment on the city's current programs, as well as programs that might be instituted. City Manager Larry Crow inaugurated this special meeting for the last budget, and plans to continue it for this one.

Most important, this program is being held before the budget has been drawn, before all the money is allocated, while there is still time for any feasible suggestions to be included in the proposed expenditures.

DOUBTLESS, ALL of us have different ideas on how the money should be spent and all of them cannot be included and stay within the present tax structure. I should know, after tithing with the windmills of Scurry Street paving and City Auditorium air conditioning all these years. The special meeting does offer a chance to be heard, and some suggestions made at the initial meeting of this kind did result in programs being stepped up or improved.

IT IS WORTH the resident's time to participate in such meetings; it is assurance that the programs will be considered at the right time — when the decision is being made to spend the money. When the date for the meeting is announced, mark your calendar. You interest is the best assurance that such meetings will be continued.—V. GLENN COOTES

Say It Isn't So, Joe

WASHINGTON — The second biggest story of our time was quarterback Joe Namath's decision to sell his interest in Bachelors III Bar and Restaurant so he could return to pro football. Needless to say, it came as a shock and disappointment to bar and grill fans everywhere. As my friend Ernie said to me the other day, while quaffing a beer, "Good quarterbacks are a dime a dozen, but where can you find a saloon owner these days who really cares about his joint?"

"Then you think Joe Namath made a mistake selling his interest in Bachelors III?"

"I CERTAINLY DO," said Ernie, blowing the froth off his beer. "Joe Namath represented something in this country to the people who patronize saloons, and he was a symbol of all that was good and beautiful about booze. When he decided to go back to football, he let every drinking man in this country down."

"Namath must have suffered before he made his decision," I said, trying to defend him.

"I'M NOT THINKING of myself," Ernie said, as he nodded to the bartender to refill his glass. "I'm thinking of the millions of kids all over this country who dreamed of someday owning a bar of their own, and who considered Joe Namath the greatest saloon keeper of all time. Think how they feel to discover he sold out to a stupid game of football."

"Why do you believe he did it?" I asked Ernie.

"I SUSPECT it was his legs. You know you have to have awfully good legs to stand up in a saloon. And Joe's legs aren't that good. He probably figured if his legs were bad he might as well go back to football, rather than take the chance of them being permanently injured while stacking liquor bottles on a shelf."

"Ernie," I said, "what effect do you think this will have on the saloon business throughout the country?"

"I believe it will be adverse. Many people in the bar and grill business are going to say, 'If Joe Namath can sell his saloon why can't I?' The image of people who sell booze has to be above reproach, and whether they like it or not pro-football players can give anyone who sells drinks a bad name."

"DO YOU FEEL this is the reason that the commissioner of the National Saloon League told Namath he had to stop playing football if he wanted to stay in the bar business?"

"The commissioner had no choice," said Ernie. "His job is to keep the saloon league clean and free of scandal. Namath might not have done anything wrong associating with people who hang out in pro football, but one incident could hurt the booze business forever, and the commissioner just couldn't take the chance."

"DO YOU THINK there's any chance of Joe coming back to saloon business, after he realizes he's made a mistake?"

"Everyone in the saloon business hopes so. I think when Joe starts playing football he's going to realize his blunder. He was a big hero in this country when he owned Bachelors III — and — newspapers — covered everything he did and said. But soon he'll discover he's just another quarterback, and he's going to find out that no one gives a damn."

'To Be Defended Without Fighting'

WASHINGTON — In the witness chair was Defense Secretary Laird, facing his tormenters of the Foreign Relations committee, and in other parts of the building Sen. McGovern was exposing his bleeding heart for the Hungering Poor, and Sen. McClellan was taking testimony about commies-on-the-campus, and in still another room Ralph Nader was gnashing his teeth over the plight of the American consumer.

AND IN MY POCKET that day was a review of two books about the fall of France, 1940 One book was "Why France Fell" (Holt) by Guy Chapman. The other was "To Lose a Battle" (Little-Brown) by Alistair Horne.

What a deadly parallel seemed to be running between the psychological unreadiness of the USA '69 and the French Republic '39. How inevitable it was that the aggressive, disciplined, win-minded Hitlerite Germany was going to maul the slack, socialistic, fear-minded France.

WHY DID FRANCE collapse? Chiefly, writes Mr. Chapman, because of "the desire of the citizen to be defended without fighting." For that reason the Maginot Line, an engineering marvel of Deterrence, was not pushed to completion at the Belgian border. It was too expensive to finish the job, and millions of francs went into Leon Blum's welfare state which soon lost all those social gains in the German Occupation.

ALSO, both authors point out, the blood-soaked memories of World War I not only made France defense-prone but engendered the philosophy another such war was "unthinkable." Therefore, France didn't budge in 1936 when Hitler took the Rhineland, nor in 1938 when he seized Austria, nor in 1939 when he seized Poland. France was so enabled by its peace-mongers and Leftists that German armor and airpower, smashing through treaties as well as fortifications, swept from the western borders to the Channel ports.

Read it again: "the desire of the citizen to be defended without fighting."

SEN. FULBRIGHT was scolding Secretary Laird for the military "assumptions" that Russia and the Warsaw Pact nations posed any real threat to Western Europe. Last summer's invasion of Czechoslovakia might show a Red Army "capability" to move fast and hit hard. Fulbright contended, but it didn't show a "probability" of any such action.

SEN. CASE (R., N.J.) wanted to make sure we were going to leave a liberal-enough government in South Vietnam, and Sen. Gore (D., Tenn.) was bothered that we were still shooting at the Viet Cong, and Sen. Symington was upset about anti-Communist "hate" speeches in the ABM debate, and Sen. Javits (R., N.Y.) was trying to make the Defense Secretary say that Russia hadn't broken any treaties lately.

"For the French," said the book-review in my pocket, "the outcome was the result of 20 years of apathy, economics and self-delusion. Under those circumstances, defeat was almost a foregone conclusion."

What Others Say

Gasoline station games quite possibly have been overdone, but that fact alone doesn't make it reasonable to outlaw them.

The alleged purpose of the legislation, already adopted by such states as Maine and Nevada, is to protect the public interest. Actually, the intent is to allow the stations to drop a competitive gimmick that some of them have found expensive and burdensome.

An individual station owner could have dropped his game whenever he wished. Many were afraid to do so, however, because they feared the station across the street or down the block would continue its game — and draw away their customers. So they find a way out by getting the state legislature to pass a law.

Some day more station owners may recognize that the average motorist does not drive up the gasoline pump to play games. What he's hoping for, essentially, is swift, efficient and cheerful service.

If that sort of operation becomes too common, though, someone probably will pass a law against it.

Achievement Day At Knott

KNOTT — Fifty Knott residents, including members of the Knott 4-H Club, their families and friends, took part in the annual Community Achievement Day tour this week.

Exhibiting cotton were Johnny and Patty Peugh, Kelly Gaskins, Bruce, Keith and Martin Nichols.

Swine exhibits were presented by Johnny and Patty Peugh, Larry Shaw, and Kelly and Kayla Gaskins.

Girls who had clothing exhibits were Jaynie and Diane Billingsley, Carla and Mary Kay Hunt, Kelly Zant, Lynn Hopper and Kayla Gaskins.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Carolyn, Linda and David Crawford, Sandra Bridge, Jim Allison, and Mr. and Mrs. James Shelton, with their children, Shannon and Stacey.

Climax of the tour was a basket lunch at the community center with Kelly Gaskins as master of ceremonies. Johnny Peugh led the invocation. Carla Hunt, Diane Billingsley and Janette Nichols reviewed highlights of the 4-H Club year.

Announcement was made that Kayla Gaskins would be the club's candidate for Rodeo Queen and tickets for the rodeo were distributed for advance sale.

Sergeants Get Quarterly Awards

Two organizational maintenance men who earned their squadron's monthly awards for June, received quarterly awards for the second quarter of 1969.

Sgt. Robert Hancock, who works on Dock III in the T-38 periodic maintenance section, took the NCO of the Quarter nomination. Sgt. John Carter, who just swapped airman stripes for sergeant chevrons, was selected the Airman of the Quarter. Sgt. Carter works on F-row on the T-38 flightline. For their selection, both men will receive a three day pass.

Heavy Damage In 2 Wrecks

Two separate accidents Wednesday caused a total of $1,550 in damages to three pickups and 2 cabs. No one was injured in either accident.

A taxi driven by Joe Gomez, 304 Lancaster, was involved in a collision with a pickup driven by Charles A. Tidwell, 511 Austin, at Sixth and Runnels.

A pickup driven by Rawlin R. Dupre, 3704 Caroline, was involved in a mishap at Fourth and Johnson with a pickup driven by James H. Redman, Box 2287.

Another accident Wednesday, in the 1900 block of Gregg between a car belonging to Gregory D. Bangs, 2600 Crestline, and one driven by Rita T. Nichols, Garden City Route, caused little damage to either car. Bangs' car was parked in front of Newsom's.

Fort Davis Astronomers Fail To Hit With Beam

FORT DAVIS, Tex. (AP) — Astronomers at the University of Texas' McDonald Observatory said today they have failed to hit with a laser beam the reflector left on the moon by the Apollo 11 astronauts.

They will try again at 6 p.m. today to locate the reflector.

Scientists have said that hitting the reflector with the laser beam is like shooting at a dime from a mile away.

If the astronomers hit the reflector with the ruby laser fired through McDonald's 107-inch telescope, they will measure the time taken by the reflected beam to bounce back in measuring the precise distance between the earth and the moon.

Human Error Caused Crash

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Human error caused the June 4 crash of a Mexicana de Aviacion DC 9, which took the lives of all 79 passengers on board, the Communications and Transportation Ministry announced today.

Among those killed in the crash were tennis champion Rafael Osuna and Carlos Madrazo, former president of Mexico's Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI).

The aircraft was being flown outside the authorities instrument landing pattern and projection zone at an excessive rate of speed and angle of descent at the time it crashed.

Noisy Dog Proves To Be Expensive

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Suburban Parma Heights service station operator John Hudd's watchdog proved to have a bark worse than his bite. It cost Hudd $100.

After suffering through three burglaries in eight months, Hudd got a nameless, ferocious Norwegian elkhound to use as a watchdog at the station.

A neighbor complained, however, that the dog howled all night while it was locked in the station. Mayor Paul W. Cassidy ordered Hudd to get rid of the dog.

Several days later, Hudd discovered $100 had been taken in an overnight burglary. Cassidy was sympathetic, but said, "Hudd could have gotten a quieter dog."
