Hard Fighting Casualties Climbing In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy casualties climbed steadily today as hard fighting was reported for the third day north of Saigon and in the coastal lowlands of South Vietnam.

More action also was reported just below the demilitarized zone, and American B52 bombers made their heaviest raids there in more than three months.

Allied forces claimed more than 1,700 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed since the enemy attacked 150 bases and towns early Tuesday in what U.S. analysts consider the opening "high point" of the Communist command's fall offensive.

Informed sources estimated U.S. casualties at 100 to 125 killed and more than 600 wounded.

The Quan Loi-An Loc-Loc Ninh triangle, north of Saigon and close to the Cambodian border, again was the scene of hard fighting as American forces pursued North Vietnamese units that made a heavy attack on the three towns early Tuesday.

U.S. forces said they killed 124 North Vietnamese in five battles Wednesday and today, while American casualties were three killed and 24 wounded.

Watch For Fire

Hazards, Meador Asks

Be fire conscious. Fire Marshal A. D. Meador urged Big Springers today, recalling the growing number of fires being reported in the city, as well as rural areas.

"The hot and dry weather has produced a dangerous situation," he pointed out. "Dry weeds and grass are ready to burst into flame from any blowing spark, such as cigarettes."

Do not throw cigarettes from your car," he urged. "Use the car ash tray. Most grass fires start from discarded cigarettes."

He said that the dry grass, once started, burns fast and can do a lot of damage before brought under control. In addition, he reminded residents that a city ordinance prohibits burning trash or grass. This can be additionally hazardous in dry, hot weather.

First Cotton Bale Award Is Posted

The Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee will again sponsor the First Bale of Cotton Award, according to Chairman Alton Marwitz.

A letter is being sent to businessmen and merchants, asking for contributions toward a total prize of $500 to the winner.

The award is a "gesture of appreciation to a most important segment of our economy and to the ones who make it possible," Marwitz said.

To be eligible for the award, the bale must weigh 450 pounds, must be grown on land with a Howard County ASC Farm Identification number, and must be ginned in Howard County. The farmer should register the bale with the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible after processing is finished.

Income Up In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rose sharply in July with a federal pay increase the largest component, the Commerce Department said today.

The department's Office of Business Economics said the $6 billion July advance, to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $732.3 billion, matched its revised June increase and was about $1 billion higher than the average monthly gain in the first half of the year.

Charges Fly At Paris

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today the United States is "deeply concerned" with indications that North Vietnam plans to intensify the war in the hope of military victory rather than a negotiated settlement.

Lodge told the 39th weekly session of the peace talks that while the United States is withdrawing 25,000 men and "decisions are being taken" on the departure of additional American forces, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have been "preparing systematically for a new offensive."

He declared that thousands of Vietnamese, Americans and others have died in recent weeks because North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have chosen to prolong and intensify the war rather than negotiate.

'WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR COURAGE'

Celebrities Toast Astronauts

PAPER ROUTE — Apollo 11 astronauts wave during motorcade in lower section of Manhattan Wednesday as flood of confetti and ticker-tape descends. From left, waving, are: Edwin Aldrin, Michael Collins and Neil Armstrong.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Nixon has toasted the Apollo 11 lunar explorers as "three brave men" who penetrated the shadows of space and carried humanity to new heights of imagination.

Holding aloft a glass of champagne at an extraordinary state dinner Wednesday night, he told Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins: "We thank you for your courage. We thank you for raising our sights. The sky is no longer the limit."

The boyish-looking Armstrong — mission commander and first man on the moon — responded in a sometimes quavering voice before 1,440 of the nation's elite: "We were very privileged to leave on the moon a plaque endorsed by you Mr. President, saying it was for all mankind." The glittering banquet was capped by presentation of special medals to the pioneering trio and, posthumously, to three astronauts fatally burned in a spacecraft fire in 1967.

The affair climaxed a triumphant day of tours through New York and Chicago, a day devoted to an outpouring of American appreciation for the feat.

Armstrong noted that during the New York ticker-tape tribute he saw a sign telling the astronauts, "Through you we touched the moon." Then he said: "It was our privilege today to cross the country to touch America."

Guests at the elaborate state dinner, the first ever held outside Washington, included members of the Cabinet and the Supreme Court, 44 of 50 governors, representatives of the diplomatic corps and the aerospace business, aviation heroes, military leaders and friends and relatives of the astronauts.

The 2½-hour, seven-course feast in a lavishly decorated ballroom of the Century Plaza Hotel broke up after a great roar of cheers and claps for the astronauts who spoke modestly of their accomplishments.

Earlier, they were cheered by an estimated four million in New York City and two million in Chicago.

Nixon hinted that the astronauts may travel overseas after their return today to Houston. "When they go abroad they will also get a welcome," the President grinned.

Outside, several thousand demonstrated peacefully against the war in Vietnam. Marching along the Avenue of the Stars in front of the half-moon shaped, 16-story, $32 million hotel they waved signs and chanted, "Stop the war" and "Power to the people."

Nixon said toasting the tuxedo-clad astronauts was "the highest privilege I could have Let's raise our glasses to America's astronauts."

As Vice President Spiro T. Agnew read citations, Nixon presented the trio with the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian honor.

Said Armstrong: "I suspect that perhaps the most warm, genuine feeling that all of us could receive came through the cheers and shouts, and most of all, the smiles of our fellow Americans."

Aldrin took note of the faith he said Americans put in the Apollo flight and its meaning for the future.

"We flew Eagle and Columbia with your hands helping us on the controls and your spirit behind us," he told the guests and a national television audience, referring to the moon-lander Eagle and the main spacecraft Columbia. "When Neil and I saluted the flag, all Americans, I think, saluted it with us."

Collins rose and turned to Nixon, saying, "Mr. President, here stands one proud American."

The trio appeared chipper despite the grueling day which began with a flight in the presidential jet to New York City and a mammoth welcome along Broadway, traditional canyon of heroes.

After a visit to the United Nations, the astronauts and their families flew to Chicago.

They rode down Michigan Avenue and through The Loop to the Civic Center where they received medals from Mayor Richard J. Daley and an expression of gratitude from the people of Illinois from their governor, Richard B. Ogilvie.

Then it was on to Los Angeles, to complete touching the nation's three largest cities.

The evening reached an emotional peak when Nixon honored astronauts Virgil I. Grissom, Edward H. White II and Roger B. Chaffee who died during Apollo mission training at Cape Nixon called "a day of sadness and a day of shock."

"We have the privilege sometimes of standing on the shoulders of the giants who have gone before us," the President said before presenting the posthumous medals.

Also honored was Steve Bales, 26, a flight control officer who flashed a go-ahead signal to Eagle in the face of computer warnings that might have forced them to abort the landing and return to moon orbit.

Many in the audience were aviation pioneers who forged the way to the threshold of space.

They included Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky, aviation designer; rocket expert Werner Von Braun; and German airplane designer Willy Messerschmitt.

Hollywood stars included Bob Hope, Red Skelton, James Stewart and Dan Rowan and Dick Martin.

There were diplomats from 83 countries — "the greatest representation at a state dinner ever held in the United States of America," the President said.

Irish Religious Warfare Flares With New Fury

LONDON (AP) — Northern Ireland's religious warfare increased in fury today as Catholics, Protestants and police battled in at least nine cities and towns.

The Catholic regime in the Irish Republic demanded that the British government call in a U.N. peace force to restore order to the Protestant-dominated northern counties which are part of the United Kingdom. London replied that Northern Ireland was no business of Dublin's or the United Nations.

Down town Londonderry, where the current violence began during a Protestant parade Tuesday, was in flames, ravaged by more than 4,000 Roman Catholic Qrmoistant fight-Catholic and Protestant fighters. Police fired a barrage of 30 shots to scatter one group of gasoline bombers.

Firing was reported in three other centers including Belfast, the state capital, and six persons were hit by bullets.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson was reported preparing to break off his vacation to confer in London with Home Minister James Callaghan. British troops waited in the wings.

In Belfast, Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark recalled the state parliament from summer recess, mobilized police reserves and hinted in a television broadcast he might call in British troops.

He warned that his Protestant government "will not shrink from any necessary measure, however firm or unpalatable." Premier Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic coupled his call for U.N. action with a demand that the British government open talks to review "the entire constitutional position" of Northern Ireland, meaning its separation from the republic.

Lynch charged the Belfast government had lost control and that its Protestant police force was no longer capable of acting impartially. He said Ireland could not "stand by" and see innocent people wounded, and he ordered his army to set up first aid stations on the border to help injured Catholics.

Chichester-Clark accused Lynch of a "clumsy and intolerable intrusion into our internal affairs." The British Foreign Office rejected Lynch's demands saying the crisis was an internal matter, and Northern Ireland will remain a part of the United Kingdom until the Ulster parliament decides otherwise.

With the dawn, grim-faced rioters manned the barricades in Londonderry after a night of gasoline bombs, tear gas, gunfire and rock throwing. The Londonderry Citizens Association — known as the Bogsideers after the embattled Catholic district of the town — issued a statement calling on "every able-bodied man in Ireland willing to take a stand against Unionist (Protestant) dictatorship to come to this city."

New Water Bans Back In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Water restrictions were back in effect today as city officials tried to restore pumping pressures.

An ordinance passed Wednesday bans the outdoor use of water between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. in all parts of the city.

Low pressure hit all sections of the city, with most complaints from the west and southwest.

Consumers Filing Claims For Wonder Drug Refunds

NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers across the country are trying to get part of a $100 million fund set up by five drug firms for users of certain wonder drugs between 1954 and 1966.

The refund program is an outgrowth of a price-rigging case, pressed by the federal government involving five leading pharmaceutical companies. The mailing deadline for claims is Aug. 16.

Several thousand claims have been picked up daily at a Bronx post office by the law firm of Dickstein, Shapiro, Dennis and Galligan since July 1, when the drug companies' advertisement publicizing the refund program appeared in about 1,500 newspapers.

Along with legitimate claims, the mail also has included claims accompanied by old death certificates and false teeth, and claims whose conditions make them obviously ineligible.

"One man is seeking a refund on a certain drug he purchased in 1947," commented Arthur Galligan, partner in the firm. "Not only is he not within the specified time period, but that particular drug was not produced until 1948."

Other persons are listing drugs bought after 1966, which makes them ineligible.

The $100 million fund is being provided by the drug firms of Chas. Pfizer & Co., American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers, E.R. Squibb, and Upjohn Co. American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers and Pfizer were convicted of the charge Dec. 29, 1967. Upjohn and Squibb were not defendants, but were named as co-conspirators in the Justice Department suit.

About 33 drug products marketed under different names, all containing tetracycline, were involved in the refund program, according to Galligan's office. The federal government had charged that tetracycline, regarded as one of most effective antibiotics, was produced for as little as 1.6 cents a capsule but retailed for 51 cents each.

Claimants say they spent an average of 50 cents to 85 cents per capsule, with some paying as high as a $1.

The government suit said that $1.7 billion of the drugs were sold over the 13-year period.

The convictions, now under appeal, opened the door to a number of civil law suits, all for triple damages.

The five drug firms pooled $100 million to settle claims by states, counties, cities, wholesalers, retailers and individual consumers. An added $20 million was offered for claims by private hospitals, and claimants such as hospital plans, the companies said Feb. 6.

All mailed claims are being handled, under authorization of the federal court, by the Dickstein firm, which is representing 20 states and two cities, including New York, in the drug refund case.

The attorneys general in each state, as well as consumer protection agencies in some large municipalities such as New York are serving as coordinators of the nationwide refund program. The firms' multimillion-dollar offer is one of the largest in antitrust history.

The claims must be screened by both the federal court and individual attorneys general, and eligible claimants cannot expect payment for another six to eight months, Galligan said.

Persons making claims, said Galligan must name the drugs purchased, when and where the purchases were made and whether any reimbursement was made by an insurance company under a health plan.

The information can be mailed to Clerk of the U.S. Court, P.O. Box 752, Bronx, N.Y.

The prices that individuals claim they have spent on the drugs in those 13 years range from 67 cents for one consumer to $15,000 for another. For the parents of a child using antibiotics daily, the windfall in refunds could be substantial, said Galligan.

Israel, Lebanon Swap New Charges

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab machine gunners fired on an Israeli position near the Lebanese border during the night as Israel and Lebanon swapped charges at U.N. headquarters in New York, Israeli spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said Israeli troops returned the fire, and later mortars on the Lebanese side of the border opened up.

No casualties were reported. Israeli jets struck inside Egypt and Jordan earlier in the day.

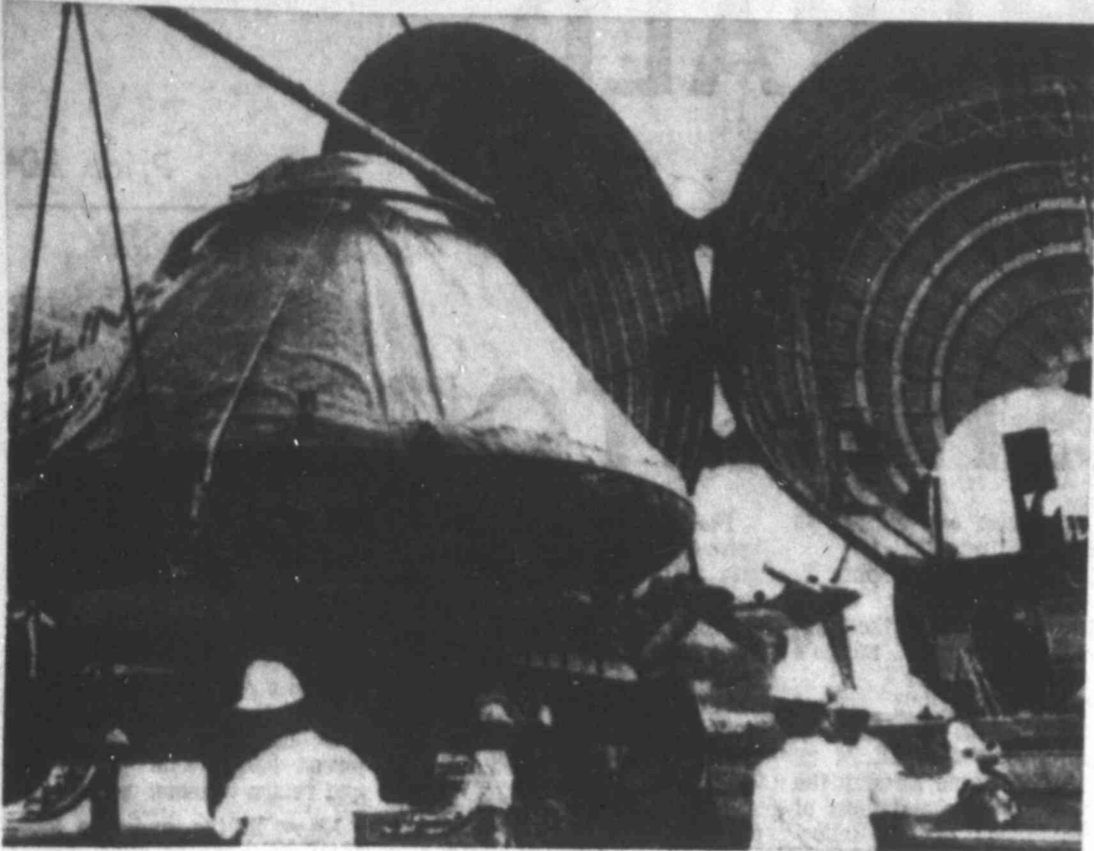

In the exchange before the U.N. Security Council, Lebanon demanded censure of Israel and compensation for damage to property and casualties suffered in Israel's air attack Monday on southeast Lebanon in the Mt. Hermon sector.

Lebanese Ambassador Edouard Ghorra said four civilians were killed and three seriously wounded in the 30-minute air raid. He reported four villages were attacked.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Teokoh countered that the raid singled out Arab guerrilla positions and said such military action was justified because Lebanese territory "has become a base for terror warfare" against Israel.

The debate was to continue today.

HEADING BACK HOME — The Apollo 11 command module is loaded into the Super Guppy at Ellington AFB for return to Los Angeles where technicians at North American will examine the craft. The craft has been undergoing a series of tests at the lunar receiving laboratory, Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., since splashdown and recovery from the Pacific Ocean.

Passenger Hurt In 3-Car Mishap

One person was hospitalized and three others were treated and released from Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital Wednesday night following two separate traffic accidents. Police also investigated four minor traffic mishaps.

Listed in good condition in Hall-Bennett Hospital Thursday morning was Rebecca Johnson, 1110 Main. She was injured in a three car accident at 10:21 p.m. Wednesday in the 700 block of West Third. She was a passenger in a car driven by Sandra Jean Heffington, 1110 Main.

Police said the mishap occurred as the Heffington auto and a pickup driven by Eugene Ray Cowell, Rt. 1, Perry, Okla., were in collision as both cars headed west on Third St. The Heffington auto was knocked into a parked car owned by Tommy Richbourg, 4708 Thomason, Midland.

Three persons were treated and released from Hall-Bennett Hospital following a one-car mishap at 9:33 p.m., just north of the intersection of Marcy and Westover.

Injured in the mishap were the driver of the car, Eldilido Ortega, Coahoma, and Dora Velasquez, Edna Velasquez, children of Mr. and Mrs. Inez Velasquez, 509 N. Main. Approximately $600 damage was done to the front end of the car when it struck a utility pole.

Police investigated a minor accident at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of Second and Main. Involved was a pickup driven by Glenn Edward Perry, Vincent Rt., Coahoma, which was in collision with a parked car owned by Iola Young, Rt. 3, Brownfield.

Slight damage was done to the front porch of the Mayo Motel, 1292 E. 3rd, when it was struck by an auto driven by Trinidad L. Chavez, 692 State,

Volunteers Asked For Ditty Bags

Mrs. Louise Allen, field director of the American Red Cross, is asking for volunteers to make "ditty bags" to be filled with gifts and sent to American servicemen in Vietnam.

The Howard - Glasscock Counties Chapter will furnish lengths of red and green material to make the bags, and Mrs. Allen is asking clubs and organization officers to contact her in the office on the basement floor of the courthouse and tell her the number of bags they can make.

"We mailed 214 bags last year, and our quota this year is 244," she said. The bags must be completed by Sept. 30.

Names Fill Jury Wheel

District Clerk Fern Cox and Sheriff A. N. Standard filled the jury wheel this morning for the coming year with names of approximately 14,000 Howard County residents.

The names were taken from the county tax roll and voting registration, and Tax Assessor and Collector Zerah LeFevre and County Deputy Clerk Margaret Ray were on hand to check for duplications.

The next juries to be drawn will be for the August court term for 118th District Court beginning Aug. 25, and Cox said his deputy clerks will probably begin preparing a jury list next week.

Flees Hospital With Dead Mom Over His Shoulder

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jerry Graham, 37, was arrested Wednesday as, police said, he ran from a hospital with the body of his mother over his shoulder.

His mother, Mrs. Mary Graham, 70, had died in the hospital a short time earlier, apparently of a heart attack. Hospital guard Ed Boerckel said Graham, a professional wrestler from Buckeye Lake, Ohio, struck a nurse and fired a shot at Dr. G.S. Tyler as he wheeled his mother's body down a corridor on a hospital table.

Proposal To Abandon Oil Import Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite strong pressure from the oil industry, the government's antitrust chief has recommended the elimination of importation quotas on foreign crude oil.

In doing so, Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard W. McLaren placed the Justice Department on record against two other Cabinet-level agencies on a subject that a Senate subcommittee has said could mean $4 billion in annual savings to consumers.

McLaren told a Cabinet task force on oil import controls Wednesday that the present system of quotas is anticompetitive, unfair to consumers and unnecessary to the economy and national security. He suggested that if any import restraints are necessary a low protective tariff would be preferable.

Even so, McLaren made it clear that he prefers a system whereby the domestic oil market is governed solely by competitive considerations, including the entrance of foreign products.

THEY FEEL ALONE AND UNPROTECTED—THEY ADMIT TO FEAR

Ghetto Merchants: Exploiters Or The Exploited?

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The white merchant is an elderly man, gentle, with warm blue eyes and soft hands that would be knowing with grandchildren. Yet he keeps a gun in the cash drawer of his ghetto store.

"I wouldn't hesitate to use it," he said quietly and pushed the drawer closed, tucking the cold reality of a .32 caliber revolver back out of sight.

Twice, the merchant's liquor store has been robbed. And in the riots that swirled down Washington's 14th Street after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., looters picked the store clean, then burned it down.

NO INSURANCE

Now, heavy steel grating that blots out the sunlight protects his windows. He has no glass insurance. The gun is his protection against bandits. His crime insurance was canceled months ago.

He would leave if he could. He says he can't.

"We have debts. We owe for the merchandise. We just can't walk away and leave the business," he said.

The liquor store owner is one of an estimated 200,000 white retailers still doing business in the nation's Negro slums.

Many, perhaps most, are making money; but many, perhaps most, would like to leave. Yet they stay, still clinging to more than 70 per cent of the business ownership in the ghettos.

FEAR, THREATS

They feel alone and unprotected. They admit to fear.

A study of Jewish merchants who closed down for good in the slums of Cleveland found that "the majority of them tell of sleepless nights, severe psychosomatic complaints and emotional depression, which were immediately alleviated when their existence in the black community came to an end."

Liberals and militants scorn them as exploiters of the urban poor; yet, they feel they are the exploited ones.

Ghetto merchants, black and white, bear the brunt of the nation's crime problem. One of every five confronts a holdup man at least once a year. Ninety-seven of every 100 are burglary victims.

Insurance companies shun them. Hustlers threaten them. Junkies long to get at the cash in their tills.

"I hate to come here and love to go home," said a middle-aged druggist in a dingy drug store in lower Harlem. It was nearly noon and the junkies were gathering on the corner outside, waiting for the uncertain hour when the pusher would appear.

MANY LEAVING

"We're always under pressure, always under tension," the druggist said. "I try not to think about it but in the back of your mind you say to yourself, 'Thank God, the day is finished.'"

Many are leaving, just how many, no one seems to know for sure. The Small Business Administration only recently began to count the merchants still operating.

But boarded-up, abandoned

Racing Bias In Jobs Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights has proposed that federal aid be withheld from state and local governments which restrict employment opportunities for minority groups.

Entitled "For All the People By All the People," the report was based on a study of employment practices in seven key metropolitan areas where, the commission said, "the domestic crisis facing the nation is most critical."

In all seven areas, the report said, were found the "problems of racial tension, unemployment, underemployment, inadequate housing and increasing violence."

Nevertheless, the commission said, "state and local governments consciously and overtly discriminate in hiring and promoting minority group members" while the federal government maintains a hands-off policy.

Secret Police Seize Scripts

MOSCOW (AP) — Unofficial Soviet sources say government secret police have searched the home of writer Anatoly Kuznetsov, who defected to the west in London July 30, and seized manuscripts and other papers.

The sources said the search was made at Kuznetsov's apartment in Tula, about 100 miles south of Moscow.

and often burned out businesses reflect the trend in virtually every major city in the nation.

An official study put the Harlem vacancy rate at 10 per cent. Unofficial estimates put the vacancy rate at 40 per cent or higher in riot-racked sections of Newark. A post-riot study of business along Blue Hill Avenue in Boston's Roxbury section showed 87 fewer firms in 1968 than were in 1966. Seventy-four white businesses were still in operation.

BUYERS SCARCE

A team led by Riva Poor of the Action for Boston Community Development Inc., interviewed 53 of the white merchants. Forty-eight of them said they would like to sell but only 16 were actually seeking buyers.

Buyers are scarce.

"There's no set price at all," said Sam Blanken, a Washington business broker. "This stuff can be picked up cheap. Everyone wants to run away from it."

A business that might have brought $150,000 before Washington's riot might bring as little as $15,000 now, Blanken said.

"The only ones buying in the city now are black," he said. "I don't remember selling a grocery store to a white man since the riots."

Greek-born George Mandes will soon be eligible for Social Security. He'll then sell the little sandwich shop he's been operating since 1946 at the intersection of 14th and U in one of Washington's most dismal slums.

If times were good, Mandes says he could get at least $15,000 for his store. "I don't know what I'm going to get now," he said. "Maybe I'll get nothing."

"WHERE CAN I GO?"

Mandes would have left years ago but his age was a barrier. "I'm an old man," he said. "I can't jump here and there. Where can I go? Where do you go?"

Once, he was held up. The man who did it was arrested and sentenced. Now he is free. He drops in at Mandes' shop to eat. Mandes serves him. On a rare occasion when a patron walks out without paying, Mandes ignores it.

"It pays me to let him go and not invite trouble," he said.

"We bend over backwards to please people," said the Washington liquor dealer.

Most ghetto dwellers are dependent on bus transportation to get around the city. In Washington, passengers need exact change. The white-owned liquor store is one place to get it.

Community people can also go there to buy or cash money orders, cash checks or buy the daily newspapers.

"And if someone cuts a finger, we'll put a Bandaid on too," the owner said.

NO EASY TASK

Some dealers in the ghetto do indeed exploit the poor, but the poor become even worse off as the numbers of stores decline.

Without competition, the merchants who do remain are under less pressure to add to their inventory or keep prices scaled down or the store's appearance spruced up.

And without a wide selection, residents are forced to travel further afield to shop. Without convenient transportation, buying a sack of nails or a paint brush is no easy task.

Housewives might have to take a taxi cab to do a week's grocery shopping unless willing to face the higher prices at a corner store where the volume is often too low to allow the merchant to meet supermarket prices and stay in business.

The Harlem druggist said he had heavy competition before racial tensions locked the community in a state of ongoing crisis. Now he's virtually alone and business has been on the upswing.

"But money is not the reason I'm staying," he said. "We're not making that much and it's a hard dollar."

Negroes are aware of the hardship a deserted business block can inflict on the neighborhood. They are also aware that relatively few blacks have the capital or the business background to take over a white man's operation without help.

ABANDONED

Some are also highly skeptical about the viability of the businesses being abandoned by whites.

"They're not leaving any profitable operations," said Darwin W. Bolden, national executive director of the Interracial Council for Business Opportunity. "If the business is providing more than an adequate source of revenue, they're not leaving."

The Boston study showed that a downward trend in business was a decisive factor among white owners who actually did pull up stakes in the ghetto.

But so was violence either to the store itself or the owner and the escape hatch offered by outside income. "There was no one factor that induced an owner to close," the study said.

Bolden, whose group is advocating ownership transfers to put more blacks into business, said white business is welcome in Negro neighborhoods "if it offers quality merchandise at good prices and is not exploitative."

SLOPPY SERVICE

But, said Bolden, "I don't think those who offer inferior merchandise at first rate prices, and sloppy service have any place in the ghetto or any other place in business."

Bolden says some white merchants offend Negro sensibilities with a line of goods that includes $125 purple "gators" (Alligator shoes), gold suits, flimsy and shimmering orange dress-

Fred Powell, an JCBO aide, complained about what he called the "purple suit syndrome" as he walked along Harlem's 125th street, the community's biggest and most prosperous shopping area and one that is heavily white-owned.

Powell compared the restrained decor of Harlem's black-owned clothing stores where he said the salesmen don't "dress people like absolute clowns and make them think they look like Cesar Romero."

VULNERABLE

"The disturbing thing," he said, "is the radical misconception they (the whites) have of what should be offered to the community."

The white owners on 125th Street are relatively secure. Their stores are large with a number of employees. Pedestrian traffic is heavy outside. They are not easy pickings for bandits.

The smaller merchant is more exposed and more vulnerable.

Studies show he is the most frightened, and the most likely to sell.

Blumen Blames Crime

Broker Blumen blames crime on the junkies, who need money to support their habit. "It's not the color. They'll rob a black man just as fast. It's the buck," he said.

Berkeley G. Burrell, president of the National Business League, Negro organization founded by Booker T. Washington, admires many of the white merchants who remain. "He's a pretty brave buy if he does stay," said Burrell.

White Merchant's Mood

"If he (the white merchant) is there, it's a fact he's leaving. The mood of the ghetto isn't one that could accommodate him."

George Mandes stood inside his little sandwich shop. A small fan over the open doorway stirred the summer air heavy with the odor of fried chicken and haddock. Stokely Carmichael used to drop in occasionally for a sandwich. "He's a man, just like the others," Mandes said.

Mandes' Mood

"I'm not angry with no one," Mandes said. "I'm not angry with the colored people. I'm angry with the United States. They can't settle this thing. They don't have enough sense to settle this thing."

"Here they sleep... There is nobody who gives a damn what's going, what's coming... Where is the policy? Where is the law? Where is the United States? Sleeping."

Gas Firm Granted Increase In Price

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission granted Lone Star Gas Co. a six cents per 1,000 cubic feet increase today in the price it can charge for natural gas.

The rate increase could raise the price of gas in Dallas, Fort Worth and some 300 other cities.

The commission increased the company's permissible rate from 35.4 cents to 41.4 cents per thousand feet.

Lone Star had requested a 9.35 cents increase, to establish a new rate of 44.75 cents.

The commission also ruled that a fair rate of return on Lone Star's investment would be 7.25 per cent. Lone Star had asked for 8 per cent. Current rate is 6.25 per cent.

Lone Star asked the commission to set its investment figure at $147.9 million, but the commission found that the fair value of the company's plant and properties used in supplying natural gas was $138.3 million.

Dallas City Atty. Alex Bickley, Fort Worth City Atty. S.G. Johndroe Jr. and representatives of Waco, Garland, Richardson, Farmers Branch, Commerce, Sherman, Lake Worth and Quilman appeared before the commission in opposition.

Lone Star would have to get the approval of the city council in each city to put the increase into effect. If a city council refused, Lone Star then would appeal to the courts.

The Lone Star decision was the second gas rate increase approved by the commission in two weeks.

On July 31 the commission announced it had granted Houston

Outbreak Of Disease

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An outbreak of foot and mouth disease in children has been diagnosed here. About 12 cases were reported in children between two and four years old.

The outbreak is not associated with animals. A doctor said "superficially the condition resembles foot and mouth disease in cattle. The affected children develop blisters on their feet, mouths and hands. But there is no undue discomfort and the condition clears up within a week."

NEW TRAFFIC LAWS—NO. 5

Motor Vehicle Inspection Act Has Been Changed

AUSTIN — The most sweeping changes ever to be made in the State's Motor Vehicle Inspection Act will become effective September 1, according to Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir said the amended act, recently adopted by the Texas Legislature, will place Texas on a 12 month inspection period.

The measure increases the inspection fee from $1.75 to $2.00, and moves the location of the inspection sticker from the right of the windshield to the left. It also adds exhaust emission systems on 1968 or later vehicles, and exhaust systems on all vehicles, to the list of items to be inspected.

DATES

Speir said that all vehicles subject to inspection must be taken to an approved motor vehicle inspection station between Sept. 1, 1969, and

April 15, 1970. Upon satisfactory completion of the inspection procedure, the mechanic-inspector will remove the old sticker and affix the new one.

"The new stickers will expire 12 months from the date of inspection, and will contain a large number tab showing the month of expiration," Speir noted. "For example, a sticker issued in September will contain a number nine, and will expire on the last day of September, 1970. A sticker issued in January will contain the number one and will expire at the end of January, 1971," he added.

GO EARLY

The DPS director urged all motorists to have their cars inspected early to get ready for fall and winter driving, and to avoid long lines which may develop in April as the deadline draws near.

In addition to the new items to be inspected, inspection stations will check brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, and front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle. The inspection also includes steering and wheels and rims.

Sen. McCarthy's Niece To Marry

WILLMAR, Minn. (AP) — Peter Yarrow of the Peter, Paul and Mary singing group and Mary E. McCarthy, niece of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., obtained a marriage license Tuesday. It was understood they would wed in September.

Yarrow, 30, and his fiancée, 22, met when she was campaigning to obtain the Democratic presidential nomination for her uncle last year. Miss McCarthy recently had been working as a receptionist in New York.

VIOLIN MAKER — Ed L. Cooper of Lawton, Okla., puffs away on his cigar while finishing another violin in his workshop. Cooper, 73, now regards his craft more as a hobby. In bottom photo he displays a miniature violin he built.

The bidding:

2 NT	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Six of ♦

In today's hand the first two rounds of bidding were reasonable enough, but South's bid of three no trump is not to our taste. He was operating under the preconceived notion that this was a three no trump hand and paid no heed to his partner's warning against such a contract. North was obviously attempting to describe a highly unbalanced hand, one that was not suitable for a no trump contract. If North's hand were well adapted to no trump play, he would have raised to three no trump instead of mentioning the lowly minor suit.

South, having already given adequate description of his hand both as to strength and type of his two no trump rebid, should have returned to partner's first suit by bidding three hearts. North would have carried on to four. At that contract the losers would be limited to one heart and one club. At the no trump contract, against the diamond opening, South was helpless to take more than seven tricks.

South argued that he could not raise the hearts because he did not have normal trump support. This argument was without basis. The three heart bid would not be a raise but a mere preference. It would say, in effect: "Partner, you must remember that I refused to raise your hearts. I preferred to bid two no trump for the simple reason that I would like to play the hand at no trump. If, however, you insist on playing it at a suit you might just as well play it at hearts as clubs because I have just as many hearts. However, I would be grateful if you could arrange to take me back to no trump."

It was also suggested that North should not permit the hand to play at three no trump. To this reasoning we do not subscribe. North has already shown that he desires to play the hand at a suit and had been overridden in his judgment by South. To dispute any further would be a patronizing gesture toward his partner.

It is good general doctrine that, when partner has shown two suits, one should strain to show a preference if that preference happens to be for a major suit.

South has already announced that he desires a no trump contract. To repeat it by bidding three no trump is, in effect, telling the same story twice.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a fighting man in Vietnam with a problem that bothers me more than the enemy.

First, let me explain that there are six of us guys in one dwelling. We have a young Vietnamese girl who comes in every day to make our beds, clean up the place and do our laundry. For this we each pay her $6 a month.

Well, I have been taking pictures of the natives, the country and other things of interest here, and have sent these pictures to my girl for safekeeping, as the rain and heat here are hard on pictures.

Abby, I thought nothing of sending a picture of this little Vietnamese girl home to my girl with some other pictures. Well, my girl got the wrong idea and she wrote me a nasty letter saying if I was going to "play around" with native girls she was going to start dating, too! Abby, I haven't "played around" with anyone. This girl is a poor, little quiet servant and means absolutely nothing to me!

I wrote and explained this to my girl back home and she never even answered my letter. Please help me before something real bad happens.

IN DEEP TROUBLE
DEAR IN DEEP: Write to your girl again and tell it to her like you have told it to me. And get those buddies of yours to back you up with a "P.S." Your girl needs assurance, so give it to her — in spades. And good luck, soldier!

DEAR ABBY: May I share my happiness with the world? I threw away my girdle about two months ago, and now I am free, free, free! I can't understand how I ever put up with that uncomfortable harness for so many years. Now I just slip into a pair of pantyhose and I'm ready to go! What a time saver! It used to take me 20 minutes to struggle into my girdle.

FREE AGAIN
DEAR FREE: Congratulations. I'd have to see you before sharing your enthusiasm. Any woman who needs 20 minutes to "struggle" into a girdle, needs one.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a beautiful day and evening in which to relax and enjoy the weekend. Do what is necessary to keep you in good health. Get the apparel you need. Enjoy the company of others with whom you have some partnership arrangements.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) There are so many tasks ahead of you, at some end in business, so get busy early. Do your hardest work in the morning. A co-worker can be convinced now that you have a good plan in mind.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Make the right impression today. Improve your health and appearance this morning. Then arrive at that social event well-dressed. Your closest tie can be persuaded to follow your ideas, plans.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study your home well. See where you can make improvements that will please everyone dwelling there. Then do some charming, yet calculated entertaining in your bright new home. Help some romance along. Have fun.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take the time to shop today instead of tomorrow. Then plan the weekend wisely. Keep that appointment. Also, correspond, as over reports, check bank statements tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Dating whatever will add to your present income is good. So get busy with some practical ideas and come to the right decisions. Set up a better budget. Follow your hunches. They're correct.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make personal decisions early. Then carry out your plans. Make important new contacts this evening at group affairs. The future can be very pleasant and affluent.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) There are personal affairs which need your immediate attention so get busy. Then tend to the romantic side of your life. Get out of that rut you're in. This is a good day for music or art appreciation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Disciplined and discriminating friends are glad to advise you how to gain your finest aims. Listen to what they say. Go out to that social affair for the happy time you so want. Resist an invitation as well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have an excellent opportunity to discuss a plan with one in a higher position who can help you succeed. Make sure your credit rating is good. This can be very helpful in your present plans.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) There are many chances for you to become more influential in the near future, so seize them. Get the right information you need. That new partner has a better understanding of you than you think. Listen to his ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19) Do the things that will help you to pay bills and get your life on a more secure footing. Rely on those who have proven themselves in the past. Evening can be very happy, romantically.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Your associates will now listen to your ideas. Sit down with them and express yourself intelligently. Find the right system for getting the support you need from the public. Put your plans in operation.

Big Tax Slash
BEAUMONT (AP) — The Beaumont City Council has unanimously adopted a 16 cent decrease in the tax rate, to $1.47 per $100 valuation.

Councilman Dale Hager said the action would encourage industry to move to Beaumont and that the tax cut was "the biggest reduction in Beaumont's history."

TIPRO Seeks
Major Import
Policy Change

AUSTIN (AP) — The executive committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO) voted Wednesday to seek a change in import policy to insure more domestic on-shore drilling.

The committee plans to urge the President's cabinet, tax force, now reviewing imports policy, to recommend the change.

The committee met here with TIPRO's national petroleum policy committee, which is concerned largely with imports and federal taxation.

The policy committee proposed setting aside a segment of import quotas to encourage increased exploration and development of U. S. reserves.

"This was the purpose of establishing mandatory oil import controls," the committee said in a statement, "but this has not been achieved.

"In general, the recommendations will be to adjust the current program to allow domestic operators to participate in import quotas in proportion to their drilling activities."

This would provide economic incentive, the committee said, and help revitalize exploration and development of U. S. reserves.

TIPRO plans to suggest that the program be applied throughout the nation in a similar manner.

"This would allow the entire domestic industry to participate on an equitable basis," the committee said.

Once the drilling plan becomes operational, the committee feels, available quota for domestic drillers would increase each year in ratio to the increases in domestic production.

"What we're primarily interested in is to find an imports control system that stimulates the domestic industry and gets the country back into a position to supply energy and defense needs," said William J. Murray, TIPRO president.

"Domestic operators are the only major segment of the U.S. oil industry not now participating in the program and we think this should be changed."

Student Loans
Plea Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration is expected to ask bankers to continue making loans to college students despite the failure of Congress to revive a government-backed program before starting a three-week vacation.

President Nixon or Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, will make the plea publicly, according to government sources. The statement now being prepared, the sources said, will assure lending institutions that the administration will push for speedy action on loan legislation when Congress goes back to work Sept. 3.

The Senate already has passed and a House committee has approved legislation raising the interest rate ceiling on government-guaranteed student loans to 10 per cent. Each bill specifies the new ceiling would be retroactive to all loans made after Aug. 15.

Officials in the Office of Education's insured loan division have estimated that upwards of 220,000 students may be denied loans this year if the ceiling isn't raised from the current 7 per cent. The interest rate for prime borrowers is a record 8 1/2 per cent.

"The upshot is that thousands of kids . . . may not be able to go to college this fall because they can't get loans," one federal loan official said.

"These kids can't be put in the deep freeze like other government projects," he added. "We're getting thousands of letters from students who can't get loans."

A further complication came when the Senate added an amendment to its bill that would prohibit banks from requiring a student or his family to have an account as a condition for a loan, the official said.

He said the provision sponsored by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has created a furor among bankers.

"Our Maryland people report that 95 of 100 participating banks in the state threaten to pull out if the Kennedy amendment stays," the official said. The reaction has been similar in other areas of the country, he added.

The official noted that one reason banks make the loans is to drum up later business with students.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Pepper Rodgers, the University of Kansas football coach, isn't used to losing.

At Georgia Tech, he played on teams that were beaten only twice in 33 starts.

As a coach, he's been associated with only one losing team in a career that encompasses 12 seasons.

Thus far, Rodgers has resisted the temptation to recruit in Texas but will have freshmen enrolled from seven states other than Kansas plus one from Washington, D.C., next month.

While playing for Kansas against Oklahoma State in 1962, Gale Sayers (now with the Chicago Bears) gained 283 yards in 22 carries.

The Jayhawks won the game, 36-17.

Henry Aaron, the Atlanta cannon, says Babe Ruth's all-time home run record looks out of sight to him but he has every intention of overtaking Willie Mays in the all-time derby.

Aaron now trails the San Francisco slugger by more than half a hundred boundary belts but is three years younger than Mays.

Henry has already overtaken four players on the all-time home run list this season — Ed Mathews, Ted Williams, Jimmy Foxx and Mickey Mantle.

Green Bay must spend money like it is going out of style. The Packers are the one who anted up more than $600,000 to sign Donny Anderson.

Green Bay, more recently, offered the West Texas Rufneks a quarterback off their taxi squad they apparently are paying in four figures each week now.

The Rufneks, as they understood, would have been obligated for at least two-thirds of the boy's weekly paycheck — or too much for a club with no television income.

The Rufneks are well fixed for capital but, from all indications, decided quarterbacks aren't THAT hard to find.

Although pari-mutuel betting is not allowed in Texas, quarterhorse racing programs will be held at seven different tracks in the state between now and Jan. 1.

Jack C. Cox of Big Spring is one of the consignees to the 1969 All American Futurity sale, which will be held Aug. 29-30-31 in Ruidoso Downs, N.M., immediately prior to the world's richest horse race, the All-American Futurity.

Last year, 136 head of yearlings were purchased at the sale, averaging a record $4,167 per animal.

What do women bowlers average? A recent survey indicates that nearly three million members of the Women's International Bowling Congress hit a 132 norm.

The record average achieved by a WIBC member was 219, a mark set by Mildred Martorella of Rochester, N.Y., two seasons ago.

USC will probably rank as the finest collegiate basketball power in the country for the next three years for a number of reasons, several of which are listed here:

(1) The Trojans have three regulars returning in Don Crenshaw, Dana Pagett and Chris Schrobilgen, who figured strongly in UCLA's only defeat last year.

(2) The California school had an undefeated freshman team.

(3) SC is enrolling three of the most highly sought players in the land: Dennis Layton, George Watson and Leroy Cobb. They were the backbone of a high school team in Newark, N.J., undefeated in the east a couple of years ago.

More recently, the three played for a fierce Phoenix JC team that was the scourge of the National JC tournament at Hutchinson, Kan.

Two Local Teams To Play In Slow Pitch Tourney

Two Big Spring teams are entered in the Texas Slow Pitch Softball tournament, which gets underway in Midland this evening.

Webb AFB opposes Midland Continental Airlines on the No. 1 diamond at Hogan Park at 8:30 p.m.

Morton's Foods of Big Spring will not begin competition until Friday.

The tournament, which has attracted 22 teams, will continue through Sunday. Two defeats will be required to eliminate a team.

The championship contest is down for 8 p.m., Sunday. If a second game is needed to determine the titlist, it will follow immediately.

In other games today Midland Mobil Oil tangles with Midland Washington Youth Center on Diamond No. 1 while Midland Rand-Bits tests Midland Schlumberger on Diamond 2, both contests starting at 7:30 p.m.

Midland Drlico and Midland Modern Miss Beauty Squad clash at 8:30 p.m. on Diamond No. 2.

Midland Huckaby Chevrolet and Midland Lanes clash at 6:30 p.m. Friday on Diamond 2 while Midland Sun DX opposes Midland Globe Universal Services on Diamond 1 at the same hour.

Midland Southwestern Bell, Midland Dr. Pepper, Midland McDonald Instruments, Odessa Basin Machine and San Angelo Jaycees are other teams which wait until Friday to open activity.

Big Spring will be represented by an incredible threesome in the Tournament of Champions in Andrews Aug. 26-27.

They are Gary Travis and the Stewart brothers, Howard and Jimmy.

Travis, son of the HCJC basketball coach, Buddy Travis, has won six times in the 14-15 age group. Howard Stewart has prevailed three times in that age classification and twice in the 16-17 bracket.

Jimmy Stewart has won no fewer than 10 times among 12 and 13 year olds.

Howard's best score was a 66. Travis has pieced together a 71. Jimmy's top effort was 73 — no one else has come close.

The boys have one more tournament before the big event — an Aug. 19 event over the Lamesa Country Club.

Astros Climb To 3rd In Torrid Flag Race

Something old and something new has been injected into the National League's division races.

The St. Louis Cardinals, veteran campaigners and pennant-winners the past two years, moved into second place in the NL East Wednesday night as rookie Chuck Taylor blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-0.

And the Houston Astros, cellar-dwellers in last season's 10-team league and newcomers to the wonderful world of pennant races, leaped from fifth to third in the NL West by trouncing the New York Mets 8-2.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati overcame Montreal 8-3 in 11 innings, Atlanta took Philadelphia 4-2 before losing 7-0, the Chicago Cubs tripped San Diego 4-2 and Pittsburgh whopped San Francisco 10-5.

METS SKIDDING — The Cardinals' triumph, coupled with New York's defeat, dropped the amazing Mets out of the runner-up spot for the first time since June 3. But St. Louis is finding it difficult to pick up ground on the highflying Cubs.

The Cards have won 28 of 36 games since they got hot on July 5, when they trailed the Cubs by 1 1/2 games. But they've managed to pick up only 1 1/2 games since the All-Star break, even though they've won 16 of 20 in that span, and still trail Chicago by 8 1/2.

"The first half of the season we just couldn't get started," said Manager Red Schoendienst. "We couldn't do anything right. At exactly the half-way point it was like day and night. We started playing good ball, getting base hits and scoring with two out, which we weren't doing before."

Informed that he was the manager of a second-place team, Schoendienst replied: "It's not first place. There's a long way to go, but we have seven games left with the Cubs and we'll have to win them all."

Taylor, the pride of Bell Buckle, Tenn., has compiled a 5-1 mark since he came up up, Atlanta took Philadelphia 4-2 before losing 7-0, the Chicago Cubs tripped San Diego 4-2 and Pittsburgh whopped San Francisco 10-5.

Something old and something new has been injected into the National League's division races.

The St. Louis Cardinals, veteran campaigners and pennant-winners the past two years, moved into second place in the NL East Wednesday night as rookie Chuck Taylor blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-0.

And the Houston Astros, cellar-dwellers in last season's 10-team league and newcomers to the wonderful world of pennant races, leaped from fifth to third in the NL West by trouncing the New York Mets 8-2.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati overcame Montreal 8-3 in 11 innings, Atlanta took Philadelphia 4-2 before losing 7-0, the Chicago Cubs tripped San Diego 4-2 and Pittsburgh whopped San Francisco 10-5.

"The first half of the season we just couldn't get started," said Manager Red Schoendienst. "We couldn't do anything right. At exactly the half-way point it was like day and night. We started playing good ball, getting base hits and scoring with two out, which we weren't doing before."

Unitas, Colts Bid For Scalps In AFL

By The Associated Press

Johnny Unitas and the Baltimore Colts appear to be on a trail of vengeance against American Football League clubs as they gun for their third straight pre-season victory over the rival league.

The National Football League champions, who lost to the AFL New York Jets in the Super Bowl, have zipped to consecutive triumphs over San Diego and Oakland, the Houston Oilers are next Friday night in the Astro dome as the exhibition season rolls into its third week.

The loss to the Jets last January has probably given the Colts all the incentive they need against the AFL, but a healthy Unitas has also given Baltimore a lift.

ON TARGET — Last week, Unitas, who missed most of last season with arm problems, connected on his first six passes and of 19 for 147 yards and a touchdown in helping Baltimore to 17 points during the second quarter in the 34-30 victory over Oakland. That was the only action John saw.

In the Colts opener against San Diego, Unitas again played only the second quarter. But he hit on seven of eight passes and 86 yards, helping Baltimore to an easy 26-6 victory.

So in two games the masterful Unitas, playing less than 24 minutes, completed 19 of 27 passes for 233 yards and produced 27 points.

In the only other Friday night game, the AFL Buffalo Bills, with heralded Heisman Trophy winner O. J. Simpson possibly making his pro debut, face the Lions of the NFL in Detroit.

Buffalo 1-1, whipped Washington, NFL, last week 21-17 as quarterback Tom Flores tossed a winning TD pass to Haven Moses. The Lions, 0-1, lost to the Kansas City Chiefs, AFL, 38-13.

Over-all the NFL has taken six of nine games over the AFL so far with four other intraleague games coming up this weekend as all teams see action except the NFL Minnesota Vikings and Redskins.

Saturday in NFL games, Chicago plays Green Bay at Milwaukee, Cleveland is at Los Angeles and Pittsburgh plays St. Louis at Norfolk, Va., in AFL clashes, Oakland is at San Diego and Cincinnati plays Kansas City at Jackson, Miss.

SAINTS ON ROAD — In intra-league battles, New Orleans, NFL, is at Denver, AFL and Philadelphia, NFL, plays at Miami, AFL.

Sunday the Jets face the NFL New York Giants at New Haven, Conn.; Atlanta, NFL, plays at Boston, AFL; and Dallas is at San Francisco in an NFL affair.

Meanwhile, Clifton McNeil, 29-year-old flanker with the 49ers continues his holdout. The former Cleveland pass catcher, who led the NFL in receiving last year with 71 catches, is believed looking for a contract of about $40,000 per year. Last season he reportedly got $22,000.

And as the impasse reached its 25th day Wednesday, McNeil has already lost $5,000. The 49ers are fining him at the rate of $200 per day. He's drawing the fine because the 49ers insist he be in camp while negotiating. He refuses to budge, however, from his Cupertino, Calif., home.

"We'll iron things out up here or not at all," McNeil said. "Were I to go down there and get hurt, I'd be left without any bargaining power whatsoever."

In a minor deal, the Eagles picked up defensive back Curtis Gentry from the Cardinals for a future draft choice.

And George Preston Marshall, founder of the Redskins, who died Saturday at 72, will be buried today in Romney, W. Va.

The three Odessa and two Midland schools will make up the West. The Eastern clubs will play four round-robins, delaying the start of league competition until March 31.

The Western teams will play three round-robins and will start league activity as early as March 21. All regular season games must be over by May 9.

Winners of the two divisions will then engage in a best of three series, with the survivor advancing to bi-district competition.

It was also decided to dispense with the ten-run rule after it was pointed out that it was frustrating for a team to travel up to 160 miles and then get to play no more than 4 1/2 innings.

A schedule was submitted to Chuck Moser, league secretary, for certification before release.

San Angelo objected to the division of the league, pointing out it would have difficulty booking non-conference games. It was strongly recommended that teams in one division play clubs in the other section whenever possible.

Henceforth, a team sportsmanship award will be made. Each school will send a delegation of three students and two adults to a meeting here Sept. 7 to set up a procedure for choosing the trophy recipient.

The league's district basketball schedule was adopted without debate. First round basketball games are set for Dec. 16, a week later than last year. Big Spring goes to Midland to oppose Lee on that date and plays its first home game Dec. 19 against Ector.

The spring meet, which will be hosted by Midland Lee, was scheduled for April 11-12.

Kennedy Says He's At Peace With Himself

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says he is privately at peace with himself about the automobile accident in which Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, a secretary to his late brother Robert, was killed. "I can live with myself," the Massachusetts Democrat said in an interview with Matthew V. Stornin of the Boston Globe's Washington staff. "I feel the tragedy of the girl's death. That's on my mind. That's what I will always have to live with," Kennedy said. "But what I don't have to live with are the whispers and innuendoes and falsehoods, because these have no basis in fact." In other developments involving the July 18 accident on the Chappaquiddick Island section of Martha's Vineyard: —The Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader said that in the hours immediately after the accident, when Kennedy said he was in shock, 17 telephone calls were charged to his credit card. In Boston, a spokesman for New England Telephone Co. said legal restrictions prevented him from confirming or denying the report, but he said the use of the card did not necessarily mean that the senator made the calls. —In Washington, Kennedy denied as "categorically untrue" a statement by columnist Jack Anderson that after the accident Kennedy did not swim the channel between Chappaquiddick Island and Edgartown, as the senator said he did. Anderson said Kennedy intimates told him that Kennedy was taken across in a boat by two associates. In the Boston Globe story published today, Stornin said Kennedy "particularly resents charges that he may have thought of his political future and left the scene of the accident while there was still a chance Miss Kopechne was alive."

'Bracken's World' Tooled For Adults

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Bracken's World," a new dramatic television series, will try to capture that Hollywood tinsel and tragedy, ecstasy and agony of which fan magazines and best-sellers are made. Students of motion pictures, off-screen and on-screen, may have special fun with the series since at least half the plots and half the characters have their roots in reality. Among members of the big cast—11 regulars—are three neophyte actresses. One is, in the words of writer Bob Lewin, "a sexy, driven girl who is married to a cop." Another, also blonde, is rich and Main Line society. A third is talented and retiring, dominated by a pushing stage mother. Their real-life prototypes may form the basis of a guessing game. Then there are situations based on segments of Hollywood history. One show is concerned with a budding love affair between a white starlet and Negro boy, and the studio's attitude. Another is climaxed by a scene in which a great woman star stands up in public and blames the studio head for her personal destruction. While based on fact, none is the stuff that makes law suits since real episodes provided only an idea and the shows are not carbon copies. Lewin, a former newspaperman who is now associate producer, said the "Bracken" of the title is the studio head and

Crow To Attend TML Meeting

City Manager Larry Crow plans to attend the Region IV quarterly meeting of the Texas Municipal League at Andrews next Tuesday. Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Andrews County Club, and dinner will be served at 7:15 p.m. Harry Clark, vice president in charge of development with the First National Bank of Midland, will be the speaker. Other Big Spring officials will be contacted in the next few days on their plans for the meeting.

Troops Help Fight Crime

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Special troops have arrived at Ft. Sam Houston in an effort to put a damper on a wave of burglaries, robberies, muggings and rapes on the post. An Army spokesman said they were not riot troops but said they were "special troops." He said they have been held in readiness and have not been used. The spokesman said the special troops were needed because of a shortage of military policemen at the post. Sam Houston is a huge compound headquarters for the 4th Army and is a training center. It has no large force of combat troops suitable for extensive guard duty. Ft. Hood is sending 50 military policemen to replace the special troops to beef up Ft. Sam Houston's regular M. P. force. No compilation of the number of crimes on the base was available.

Giving Away Flea Beetles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department thinks so much of a South American flea beetle that scientists now are giving them away as a promotional gimmick. A number of beetles were given to persons attending a field day at the J. D. Murphree Wildlife Refuge near Port Arthur, Tex., on Tuesday, says the department's Agricultural Research Service. The beetles were brought to the United States from South America and were found to have big appetites for alligatorweed which is considered a major plant pest in southern areas. Scientists began releasing the insects two years ago to help clear Texas waterways of the weed. "Tests showed that the insects starve to death before they will eat anything other than alligatorweed," the department experts said. "They are harmless to humans and to animals." A demonstration of the crawling weed-control creatures was held at the wildlife refuge and free specimens passed out to visitors, the department said.

Buddies Of 'Little Mo' Vow To Wreak Revenge

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Eight prisoners were charged Wednesday in the beating death of a prisoner that led to revenge cries from a motorcycle gang called the "Outlaws of Texas." Michael Perkins, held for several months on a charge of forgery, died Saturday after reportedly suffering numerous beatings and sexual abuses during a several week period from his eventual slaying. Frank Dolan, speaking of the accused man, said, "If any of them gets loose, I'll crucify him, and I mean crucify." Dolan is president of the "Outlaws." Sources at the jail said the killing was racial. Perkins was one of two Anglos in a cell block containing 22 Mexican-Americans and Negroes, the sources said. "Those punks are going to get it, if not in the court, then we'll let 'em just say the sentence has already been passed," Dolan asserted. Dolan, said he and Perkins had been friends for some time. "If the man was beaten on several occasions, why was the jailer so negligent he couldn't pull him out of there?" Dolan asked. Reminded that Perkins had not asked for help, Dolan said, "He's no cry baby. He wouldn't cop out. He just wasn't that way." Charged with murder in Justice of the Peace Jimmy Gutierrez' court was Lawrence Johnson, 29, of Waco and the following of San Antonio: Alvin Grant, 23; Albert Garza, 21; Ramon L. Perez, 25; Ernest Macias Jr., 19; Perfecto Caballero, 18; Larry Perryman, 20; and Raymond Ricando, 20. Dist. Atty. James Barlow said

Truitt Guilty Of Air Piracy

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A grandson of the late Vice President Alben Barkley was sentenced to 20 years in jail for air piracy and kidnapping in the hijacking of a light plane to Cuba. "I feel sympathetic... but you did an inexcusable act," Judge William Mehrtruss told William Alben Truitt, 35 Wednesday. The air piracy charge carried a possible death penalty, but the federal jury of 10 women and two men that found Truitt guilty specified that its verdict was "without capital punishment." Truitt, dressed in a light blue suit, stood quietly while the judge spoke. Throughout the three-day trial, he had calmly watched as his lawyers tried to prove he was temporarily insane during the hijacking last Oct. 23.

Prospects For Oil Record Look Good

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Oilmen are facing troublesome times in Washington these days but mid year reports on their industry indicate bright prospects for a record year. Mid year surveys report record demand for petroleum products, record refinery operations, a near-record domestic production, and an encouraging upward swing in drilling and exploration programs. Most of the trends are expected to continue through the remainder of the year regardless of the outcome of tax and oil import problems now keeping industry leaders quite busy at the Washington level. January-June demand for all oils exceeded 14 million barrels a day, an increase in excess of five per cent above the year earlier level. July-December demand is not expected to be quite so strong but is expected to leave 1969 with a consumer demand in excess of 13.8 million barrels a day, some four per cent above 1968. Motorists required an average of 5,468,000 barrels of gasoline a day, compared with 5,204,000 in January-June last year. The increase is expected to continue through the remainder of the heavy consumption summer season and boost the final 1969 daily average closer to the 5,500,000-barrel mark. Despite a January-February strike, refiners processed a record 10.8 million barrels of crude oil the first six months of the year. A normal decline in the months ahead should leave 1969 with an all-time high averaging about 10.6 million a day. Increased imports of crude and products contributed to domestic crude production being held to 9,150,000 barrels a day, some 30,000 below the year earlier average. Revised forecasts for the year now indicate a 12-month average output approximating 9,200,000 barrels a day compared with last year's record 9,095,000. Chase Manhattan bank's crude oil imports in January-June averaged 1,375,000 barrels a day, compared to 1,233,000 a year earlier, a 22.4 per cent increase. The bank estimated residual fuel oil imports at 1,298,000 barrels a day, compared with 1,270,000 a year earlier, and estimated other products imports at an average of 519,000 barrels daily, compared with 388,000, the same 1968 six months. This would indicate over-all imports in January-June averaged 2,192,000 barrels a day, compared with 2,773,000 the comparable 1968 period.

QUEEN CONTESTANTS — Sandy Williams (left) and Becky Fryar are entries in the Howard County Farm Bureau Queen contest this weekend. The program will be at 8 p.m. in the Big Spring High School Auditorium.

Nine Entered In FB Contest

Sandy Williams, Velma Sherrod and Becky Fryar are among the nine contestants in the Howard County Farm Bureau Queen Contest and Talent Find Saturday night in the Big Spring High School Auditorium.

Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Williams, Knott, and will attend Big Spring High School this fall as a transfer from Sands High School. She is 16 years old and has brown hair and green eyes.

Miss Fryar has blue eyes and brown hair, and is the daughter of Billy Fryar, 2805 Gollad. She will be a senior at Stanton High School this fall. She likes all kinds of sports, especially horseback riding.

Miss Sherrod is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Sherrod, Garden City.

Other contestants are Ann Posey, Molly McKinney, Debra Buchanan, Linda Foster, Brenda Jackson and Shara Dee Hambrick.

Competing in the talent find are Ginger Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams and the reigning Howard County Farm Bureau Queen; Belinda McKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKinnon; and Kelly Gaskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskin.

Ed Cumble will be the master of ceremonies and the Sand Diggers from Ackerly will entertain the audience before the contest.

The program will also feature the three to eight year old future farmers and future queens, with Friendly Frank, KWAB television personality, as master of ceremonies. Admission is free.

Little On Books To Show For Eight Months' Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is on vacation with little on the lawbooks to show for eight months in session—and Senate leaders of both parties say it's a good thing.

HAVEN'T HARMED

"We haven't been passing legislation in quantity as we have in the past five or six years, which I think is a good thing," said Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana. "We've been paying more attention to quality."

"We haven't harmed the country one bit," said Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Dirksen said a legislature which doesn't clutter the lawbooks with too much legislation can help a country.

STATEWIDE TELECAST Sales Tax Foes Ask New Business Levies

AUSTIN (AP) — A statewide telecast Wednesday night carried a "write your senator, write your representative" plea for new business taxes as legislative opponents of additional sales taxes waged an electronic battle.

The 30-minute program, sponsored by "Texans for Tax Reform" was shown in Austin, Beaumont, Bryan, Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio and Waco.

It is scheduled to be shown tonight in El Paso and Harlingen.

Among speakers on the program were Rep. Carlos Truan, Corpus Christi; Sen. Barbara Jordan, Houston; Rep. Rex Braun, Houston; Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston; and Sen. Oscar Mauzy, Dallas.

Most of the program's cost was paid by the Texas AFL-CIO. The labor federation has opposed further consumer taxes and has sent spokesmen to argue before legislative committees in behalf of a corporation income tax of 15 per cent of the firm's federal income tax payments.

Earlier Wednesday, Mauzy had pushed through a Senate amendment to Gov. Preston Smith's tax package. It removed a provision raising the sales tax rate from 3 to 3½ per cent. The Senate later voted a sales tax rate of 3½ per cent.

On the telecast, Mauzy said taxing auto repairs, as proposed by the House, would drive up the cost of car insurance. Mauzy serves as chairman of the "Texans for reforms."

"There is something criminal about the proposition that the only place we can increase taxes is on the consumer at the cash register," Schwartz said.

Truan said "lobbyists in Austin are capitalizing on the fact

Carroll Baker Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Carroll Baker, 38, and director Jack Garfein, 39, have been granted double divorce decrees in Superior Court.

Judge William E. MacFaden rejected Wednesday a claim by Garfein that he was entitled to part of the earnings from Miss Baker's Paramount contract, however.

Garfein said he sacrificed his career to promote Miss Baker, who rose to stardom with the film "Baby Doll." MacFaden found no evidence that the promotion of Miss Baker "ever deterred or damaged" Garfein's career.

Miss Baker was granted custody of the couple's two children, Blanche, 12, and Herschel, 11. Garfein was given "reasonable visitation rights" and ordered to pay $300 monthly child support.

The couple married in 1955 and separated in 1967. Garfein filed for divorce in 1968 and Miss Baker cross-complained. Each charged cruelty.

the Safeguard missile defense program.

When recess time arrived Wednesday, the Senate was beginning its sixth week of debate on the $20 billion defense authorization bill, which sets terms for later appropriation of money.

RESPONSIBILITY

That will take more time after the Senate reconvenes Sept. 3—Dirksen estimated at least another full week.

But Mansfield said the long battle on that bill, and the amendments which have trimmed Pentagon prerogatives, are evidence of a major achievement: a drive to reaffirm congressional control over military and foreign policy.

"The Senate at long last is finally grasping the nettle of responsibility and jurisdiction," Mansfield said.

Name Acme Veep

FORT WORTH (AP) — Marshall Vaughan has been named vice president and general manager of the Southwest Division of Acme Brick Co. of Fort Worth.

He will head the firm's Texas operations, including sales offices in twelve principal cities.

Sexy Spy Wants $1.5 Million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paramount Pictures Corp. said last June that green-eyed actress Barbara Bain broke her contract when she refused to star in television's "Mission: Impossible." Now Miss Bain says Paramount is the contract breaker—and she wants $1.5 million damages.

Miss Bain made the demand Wednesday in a cross-complaint to a Paramount suit filed in Superior Court. Paramount wants $12,000 from her for each program she misses this year and $11,500 for each program she misses next year.

The actress, who won three Emmys for playing a sexy spy, said last May that if her co-star husband Martin Landau doesn't return to Paramount she won't. Landau and the studio have been unable to agree on a contract.

Superintendent Takes New Post

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — School Supt. Paul W. Manning of the Marshall Independent School District Tuesday announced his retirement, effective Oct. 13.

Manning said he had accepted a position as superintendent of schools in Texas City. He came to Marshall from Littlefield and had been superintendent for two years.

Masons Plan Special Rites

The York Rite bodies comprising the chapters of Royal Arch Masons, Councils of Royal & Select Masters and Knight Templar commanderies within District 9 will conduct a district-wide portrayal Saturday of degrees and orders.

There will be portrayals of the four Royal Arch and two Council degrees during the day, and three orders starting at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Midland Masonic Temple. All degrees and orders will be conferred in their entirety in long form, with nothing omitted.

Chapter officials have been urged to contact all Master Masons who are not York Rite Masons to take advantage of the one-day conferral of all York Rite degrees and orders. Every Christian Mason should be a Knight Templar, they said.

Degree teams will be composed of Royal Arch Masons and Royal and Select Masters and Knights Templar from various bodies throughout the district.

Commanderies in the district include El Paso, Alpine, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Snyder, Pecos, Odessa, Midland and Big Spring.

Rodeo Scheduled In Lewisville

LEWISVILLE (AP) — The fifth annual Lewisville Championship Rodeo will stage performances nightly Aug. 28-Sept. 1 at the Lewisville Saddle Club Arena.

A rodeo parade is scheduled for Aug. 28. Rodeo events include bareback riding, calf roping, bull riding, steer wrestling and barrel racing.

ON THE JOB — Knobby, a member of Engine Company 24 in Cleveland, Ohio, guards the remainder of a litter of kittens from Knobby's prolific co-mascot, a female cat. The sign in the back was printed on a window shade at the fire station when the cat began having litters. Now, when the kittens are weaned, firemen pull down the sign and put Knobby on guard.

Rodeo Cowboys Go To Eastern Arenas

DENVER, Colo. — Professional rodeo cowboys are swinging to the east this week, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

A number of top pro contestants are in New York City, where the first association-sanctioned rodeo in 10 years will be held in Madison Square Garden Tuesday through Sunday.

Cowboys competed at five major rodeos over the weekend, at Colorado Springs, Colo.; Omak, Wash.; Billings, Mont.; Burwell, Neb.; and Sikeston, Mo.

Lamesa School Tax Rate Set For Big Jump

LAMESA — Aug. 18 was set as the final clearing date for the school budget by the trustees in a meeting last Monday. The trustees recommended a tax rate increase of 48 cents per $100 valuation, bringing the rate to $1.98 per $100 valuation for the 1969-70 budget.

The increase was necessary because of a boost in bonded indebtedness, recent legislation for teacher pay raises, and a decrease in oil property valuations of more than $1.2 million in the school district.

Lamesa teachers will still draw salaries $400 above the state scale.

Discuss Walkout

HOUSTON (AP) — Members of Local 15 of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers will meet next Wednesday to discuss the possibility of a walkout against Cameron Iron Works of Houston, a spokesman said.

Local president Charles Bertani said the walkout could affect 2,500 union members. He said the union is protesting a company seniority program.

Our Little Miss Pageant Plans

DALLAS (AP) — The World's Our Little Miss Pageant will host contestants from 34 states and five foreign countries next week in Dallas.

Finals in the competition will be held in the Great Hall of the Apparel Mart Aug. 20. Two groups will compete, La Petite and Little Miss.

The association's top money-winner the past three years, Larry Mahan, 26, of Brooks, Ore., continued to dominate the circuit, picking up $1,165 in saddle and bareback bronc riding at Colorado Springs, Colo., and Burwell, Neb. He has $28,940 for the season, and might break the record $51,996 he won in 1967. The rodeo season runs until mid-December.

Doug Brown, 24, Silverton, Ore., continues to keep the pressure on Mahan for the all-around cowboy title. Brown pocketed $1,841 in Colorado, Nebraska and Washington over the weekend in saddle bronc and bull riding. Brown is third in the all-around with $31,488. Second with $32,276 is Idaho's Dean Oliver, who was winless last weekend.

Ronny Sewat, Chico, Tex., snared $1,739 in calf roping, placing him fourth in the all-around. Oliver has won $31,313 in this event and seems certain of an unprecedented eighth World's title.

Sadler To Speak To Lamesa Lions

LAMESA — The Lamesa Lions Club will hear Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler at their noon luncheon Aug. 21.

Sadler has recently called attention to his department by ordering the men in his office to trim their sideburns and the girls to wear longer skirts. A Texas legislator also claims Sadler choked him during a controversy over sunken treasures taken from Padre Island and kept in an Austin vault.

Donkey Game

STANTON (SC) — The Lions Club made plans for the donkey baseball game to be held Sept. 8 in the high school stadium. A film on the space program was shown by Cecil Bridges.

Native Son Is Westbrook's New Superintendent

WESTBROOK — L. M. Dawson, a former resident of Westbrook, has returned here to accept the position as superintendent of Westbrook schools.

Dawson attended high school here and is a graduate of Texas Tech in Lubbock. For the past 11 years he has been superintendent of schools at Fluvanna.

He will teach science in the high school here in addition to his administrative duties.

Dawson replaces H. M. Parsons, who moved to Snyder where he will teach math in the public schools. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson moved to Westbrook last month with their three children. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson, Westbrook.

A LOVELIER YOU Gain Glow By Using Deep Grain Cleanser

By MARY SUE MILLER
Some Lovelies take to yoga-like headstands to bring roses to their cheeks. But there are much less demanding ways to supply needy skin with radiance.

makeup: such special problems as pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover handling.

The method, below, is especially recommended for a naturally sallow skin; for one grown pallid because of a recent illness, or the aging process, or a "hothouse" existence, meaning too little outdoor life. These are the steps:

- a) Twice weekly clean your face with a deep pore cleanser and then apply a cream specifically formulated to stimulate facial glow. The treatment both tones the pores and gently increases the flow of blood to the skin's surface, actions which perk up texture as well as color.
 - b) After washing your face at any hour, splash with cool water. Or better still, compress cold water to your skin with a small towel. That way your circulation gets a frequent nudge. Exhilarating skin lotion, chilled and firmed on with an absorbent cotton patten, makes a quickie pickup before a makeup.
 - c) Be sure that your cosmetic shades are clear and insistent. Ghostly, no-color pastels are not for you. A trending cosmetic—cream rouge in sticks or pats—could be your best ally.
- If you take all of those steps, plus a few in the fresh air, you skin will bloom. Soon!

Luncheon Fetes
J. G. Nicholse

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nicholse were honored on their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday with a luncheon and reception in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicholse in Knott. Approximately 45 family members and friends from various cities and states attended.

Planters Garden Club Advised On Camping

"Picnic Time" was the subject chosen by Mrs. J. O. Sanderson for a program presented Wednesday for the Planters Garden Club which met in her home at 819 W. 7th. Posters emphasized the club's litterbug campaign.

The speaker said outings should be planned in advance, preferably at a shady spot where tables are available, and picnickers should inspect the area for poison plants. In conclusion, she described recent experiences in camping and cooking out while on a trip to Yellowstone Park. Roll call was answered with favorite vacation spots.

Mrs. Paul Guy presided, introducing a new member, Mrs. R. E. Gregory. She reported on a barbecue held at the C. Y. Clinkscales home and announced that club members

Vacationers Are Visitors In Westbrook Homes

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Alton Raschke of Colorado City will be the new second grade teacher in the Westbrook School. She is a graduate of McMurry College, and has taught at Coahoma.

The Sam Odens have as their guest his father of Buffalo, Texas.

Guests in the home of the Tom Jacksons and Mrs. John Latty are the Jackie Collinses of Duncan, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Parsons have returned from a vacation in El Paso and Eastland. They visited Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hill in Dell City, where Kathy Parsons and Pam Parsons remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. J. D. Iglehart has returned from Pittsburg, Calif. where she visited her niece Mrs. Jimmy Daylong, who is seriously ill. Mrs. Iglehart was accompanied by Mrs. Melton Morris of Tarzan and Ray Whirley of Crane.

Mrs. M. J. Whirley is visiting her children, the Jabe Whirleys and Ervin Joneses of O'Donnell. The D. L. Sullivan family of Odessa spent the weekend with their parents.

Mrs. Dave Craddock and children of McCamey are visiting her parents, the A. E. Bradberrys, while the Rev. Craddock is touring the Holy Land.

Gift Shower Held For Bride-Elect

Miss Paula Woods, bride-elect of Charles Crowover, was complimented with a kitchen shower Monday afternoon in the fellowship hall of Ackerly Baptist Church.

Cohostesses were Miss Beverly Snell, Miss Brenda Ingram, Miss Londa Kemp and Miss Sandy Grigg.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over yellow and centered with a yellow floral arrangement. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Out-of-town guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. J. H. Woods, Big Spring; and Mrs. Eugene Coleman and daughter, Heather, of Midland.

Peruvian Officer Is Club Speaker

Capt. Jose Gonzalo Arenas Eroles of the Peruvian Air Force, now stationed at Webb AFB, was guest speaker for Tuesday's meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels at the YMCA.

Capt. Eroles described his native country, saying it gained its independence in 1821. He emphasized that the government is much like that of the United States. Peru is geographically divided into three sections, the coast, coastland, and jungle. Capt. Eroles said the largest lake in the world is in Peru, and the country's main products are rice, sugar and minerals.

Mrs. Tim Lee presided and introduced the speaker. Mrs. Russell DeVore won the basket of fruit, and Mrs. Kenneth Hewitt received a free hair style. Mrs. Bussy Bussell and daughter, Kathy, were named "July queens."

Here, too, is Elaine Cocayne, 24, of Inglewood, Calif., a bouncy brunette who admits the flights depress her. "I always get choked up when we land."

Why are they bid on a flight on which they will have to be nurse, waitress, entertainer and confidante to every sad soldier? Better pay — but not that much better. Domestic stewardesses gross $500 a month; MAC stewardesses $650. All airlines admit the job has higher physical and emotional strain.

When the girls explain why they go, the same words crop up: "rewarding," "satisfying," even "glamorous."

MAC Air Hostesses Called 'New Breed'

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

EL TORO MARINE CORPS AIR STATION, Calif. (AP) — A setting California sun sends shafts of orange light across the air strip and illuminates the squinting faces of young men in khaki walking toward the silver jet.

A few wives holding babies linger in the heat. No one mentions the word on everyone's minds: "Vietnam." It is a serious, almost depressing farewell.

Then the plane door opens and five per girls in pink miniskirts and beaucy white hats bounce down the steps, smiling.

"Welcome aboard, corporal," says the blonde, slipping her white-gloved hand into his. "I hope we're going to be friends."

Stunned, the young corporal nods and blushes. By the time the fifth man is up the ramp, the teasing has begun. Tension is broken. One GI, surveying the lineup of lovelies, sighs: "What a way to go to war."

The women, most between 22 and 25, are part of a new breed of air hostesses created during the Vietnam conflict. Trained as commercial stewardesses, they have chosen to participate in what they call "MAC flights."

MAC is short for Military Airlift Command, which pays airlines to transport servicemen to and from Southeast Asia. The flights have none of the glamor of whizzing off to Rome one day, Paris the next.

Yet, here is Sharon Mulliken, 22, statuesque blonde from Racine, Wis., boarding a flight the airlines rate as the most gruelling a stewardess can draw.

Here, too, is Elaine Cocayne, 24, of Inglewood, Calif., a bouncy brunette who admits the flights depress her. "I always get choked up when we land."

When the girls explain why they go, the same words crop up: "rewarding," "satisfying," even "glamorous."

way," says tall, green-eyed Ann Williamson, 25, of Huntington N.Y., flying for Pan American. "Take any girl and put her on that plane with 150 young men and she feels like a queen. It's a great ego builder."

Depressing? At times. "They're so young," says Ann. "I remember a group of Marines who got off my plane at Da Nang. The sun hit their faces a certain way and they looked so young and tender. I didn't want them to go."

El Toro, liftoff time. The ramp decorated with the base insignia — a red bull with golden wings — slides back. Jet engines roar. Wheels up.

In the long cabin the stewardesses set the mood of the flight with happy chatter over the PA system.

Some girls carry games and puzzles aboard. One brings her collection of slides from around the world. They start a bingo game or a lottery.

"I have more games in my luggage than anything," says Carolyn Burke, Salt Lake City. "One puzzle I call 'therapy.' Whenever I see a guy stiff, staring straight ahead, I challenge him to beat me. It snaps him right back."

Aboard this El Toro flight is Pat Schuler, 24, Creston, Iowa, cut-up of Continental's crew. "Before we're off the ground she has everyone laughing," says another hostess.

Honolulu, the first refueling stop. The five stewardesses leave the plane and five more replace them. They rest for 18 hours. Then they pick up another flight to Okinawa.

The girls stay there a few days. They can shop or enjoy the officers' club, but many visit GI hospitals, bringing fresh milk not available there.

The hospital visits, says Betsy Norman, 23, of Montgomery, Ala., are "the closest thing to seeing the reality of war."

WAR ZONE
The final leg. The girls board for a place they will not see, except from the tiny airplane windows: Vietnam. Safety precautions are strict. The planes fly in high to avoid gunfire. The crew can't leave the plane. So far, no stewardess has been injured and no MAC plane has been disabled by war. Home ward bound. The greatest thrill of heading back, the girls say, is the day they meet a man who was on their flight 13 months before.

Home ward bound, happy servicemen write poems to the stewardesses. More than one has dubbed them "angels of the air." Others give them medals or platoon insignias.

The best thing about returning, the girls say, is when the wheels touch American soil and there's a deafening roar of cheers, whistles and stomping feet. They've come home.

Auxiliary Slates Watermelon Party

A watermelon party was slated for Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the City Park at Tuesday's meeting of the National Association of Letter Carriers Auxiliary No. 1975 in the First Federal Community Room. The group will also furnish the watermelons for patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital this week.

Mrs. Wayne Beene presided, and Mrs. A. W. Moody was hostess.

Mrs. Allan Hopper Named TOPS Queen

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Allan Hopper was crowned July Queen at Tuesday's meeting of the TOPS Scale Steppers at the Martin County Library. A new member was welcomed, and six visitors were introduced.

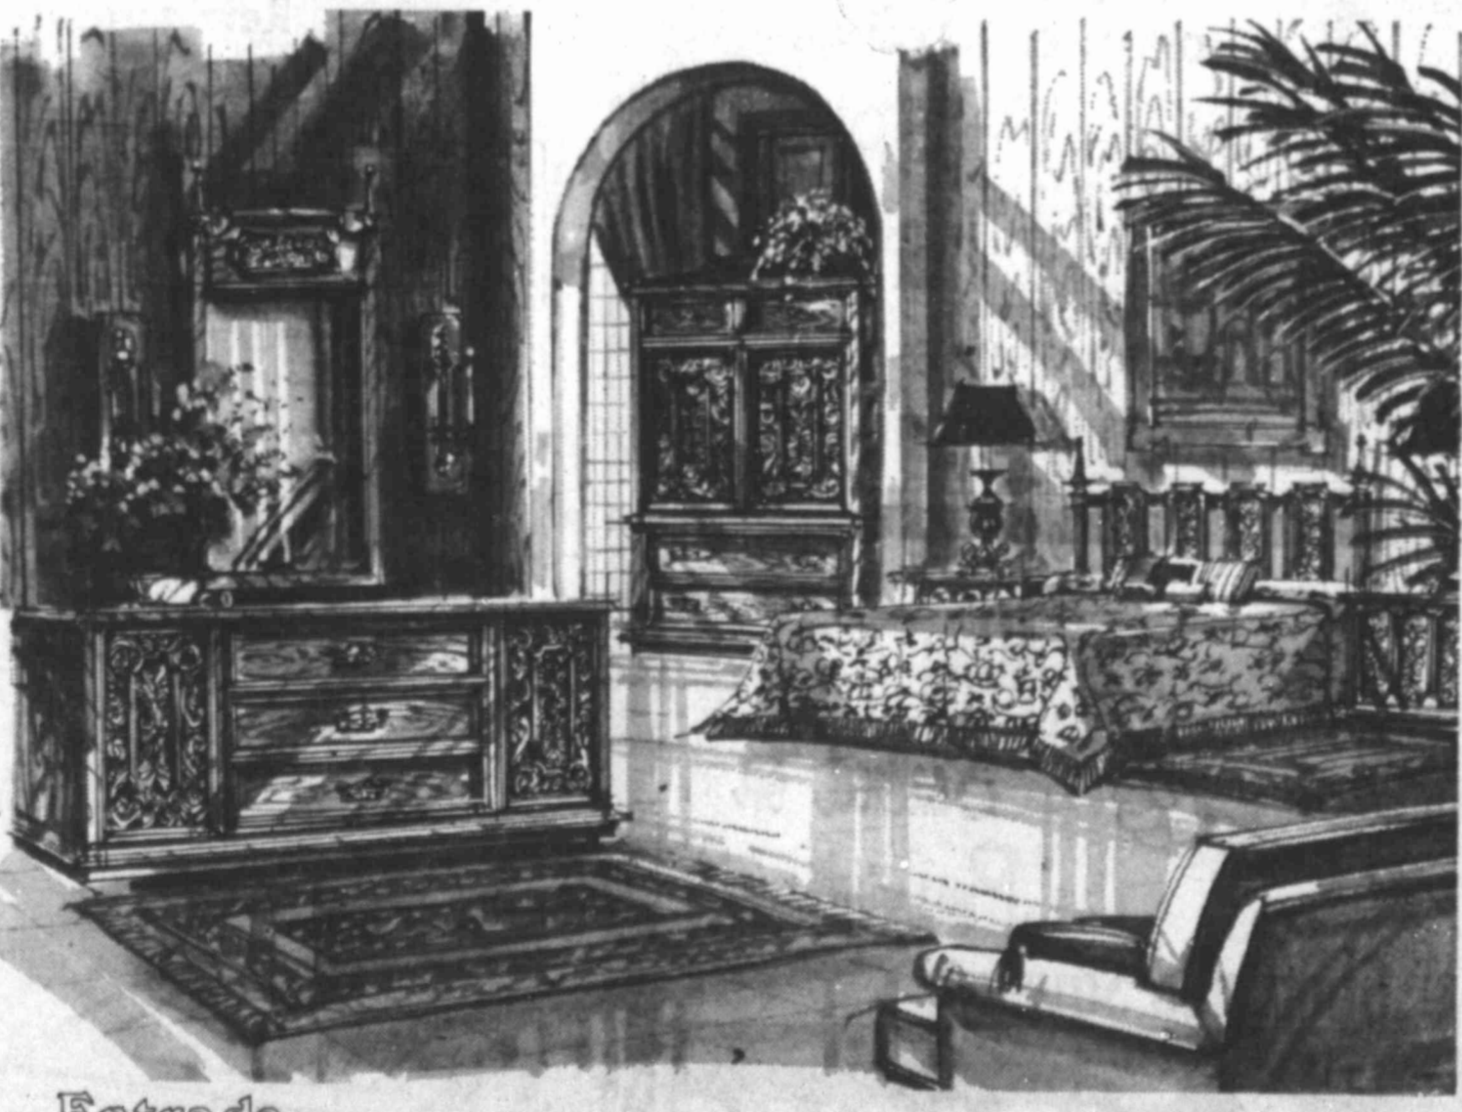

Following the meeting, the group re-convened at the Permian Basin Encampment for a swimming party. The next meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 21.

THREATENS TO SHOOT AND KILL ANY PERSON STARTING A RIOT Cook County's Controversial Cop

By MICHAEL S. HARRIS
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — He some times leads raids on gambling houses wearing a hand-me-down tuxedo from President Nixon and holding a pistol in his right hand.

He has tried—and failed—to form a posse of 1,000 volunteers to back up his small police force.

He has threatened to shoot and kill any person intentionally starting a riot.

He is Sheriff Joseph I. Woods of Cook County, 954 square miles of flamboyance and controversy.

CHALLENGES

est county in the nation, is filled with challenges, problems and tension for the man who is responsible for enforcing the rules.

But the 53-year-old Woods appears to be a match for it.

This is the man who sometimes attends a fancy reception wearing a tuxedo, and leaves early to lead a raid—without changing clothing. His sister, Rose Mary, is President Nixon's private secretary, and Woods has been the recipient for years of Nixon's suits. He still wears them, replete with the initials "RMN" on the lining.

Prior to the summer of 1968, Woods tried to organize a 1,000-man civilian force for riot control after his request for the hiring of 200-300 additional policemen for his force was turned down.

"VIGILANTES"

His plan for the half-white, half-Negro posse was beaten down by critics including civil rights leaders and politicians who labeled the proposed group "the vigilantes."

Woods was back in the news again recently when some 250 bailiffs and process servers employed by his department to bolster his approximately 250 regulars formed a volunteer riot-control force.

They outfitted themselves in khaki uniforms with black berets, scarves and paratrooper-type boots and nicknamed themselves the "Black Berets."

The men are being professionally trained and, according to Woods, would only be used as a last resort.

Woods stands a trim 6 feet and has a deep booming voice, insistent eyes and military bearing.

His face is lined and the thinning hair is graying a bit but his smile comes easily and often and he appears relaxed and confident.

CONTRASTS

The history of Woods is a study in contrasts.

Born and reared in Sebring, Ohio, Woods finished high school and spent 10 years studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood. With only three or four months to go Woods said he decided the priesthood was not for him.

Shortly after he left the seminary, Woods joined the Marines and spent four years in the service.

Then, Woods decided to go into the business of law enforcement.

"A friend of mine who was an FBI agent suggested I apply there," Woods said in an interview. "I applied in 1951 and was accepted. I had no law degree and no accounting degree but I had studied canon law in the seminary. The rules of evidence are roughly the same, so I took the FBI legal test and passed."

13 REASONS

"I resigned from the FBI in 1961 for 13 reasons—my wife, myself and the 11 children, the Good Lord blessed us with," he said.

"I started my own business in Washington—the investigating business—then the Better Government Association of Chicago asked me to come here for an interview.

"In December of 1961 I had never seen Cook County before," he said. "In December of 1966 I was elected sheriff. Since then I've on occasion been controversial but always professional."

He fielded the question, "What made you run for sheriff of Cook County?" with a smile.

"I didn't want to," he commented. "The various factions of the Republican party came to me and, in effect, said: 'You've been giving speeches telling the citizens if you're not satisfied with the school board don't sit on the sidelines and criticize, run for it and change it.' Now they want to know am I going to put my reputation where my mouth was. They asked me to run for sheriff of Cook County."

HIS DECISION

He says he has ever regretted his decision.

"It is a time-consuming job that, the way I work, takes me away from my children and family too much. I worked as an (FBI) agent the same way, so I would say that in law enforcement I'm pretty well dedicated to trying to get some answers to some questions" Woods said.

Woods is in an elected position—he's a Republican in a strongly Democratic county—and one in which he cannot succeed himself. What is his next objective? "I haven't the vaguest idea yet. I've got a little over two years as sheriff. A lot of people have asked me what I'm going to run for next," he remarked.

"I didn't ask to run before. They now tell me they want me to run. I don't know yet."

However, there are indications that Woods is attempting to take the same route that boosted another Republican, Richard B. Ogilvie, into the Illinois governor's office.

Recent newspaper stories indicating that Woods is rounding up support for the Republican nomination for president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners.

POLITICAL CAREER

Ogilvie started his political career as Cook County sheriff, then moved on to president of the board before winning the governorship.

The sheriff has been a headline maker for a number of years, but, unlike many fellow politicians, he has not had a good rapport with the press and it doesn't seem to bother him.

"I couldn't care less about the press," Woods said coldly. "For every editorial that papers put out about something where I'm trying to come up with an idea to protect people, such as in Oak Lawn where I issued an order to shoot looters last year... there were no looters... after that order, it just doesn't mean anything."

Woods called riots in the suburbs the biggest problem he and his department have faced. But, he smiled as he talked about the way they've handled the situations.

"We put down some of them so quickly that I suppose the press got upset. At Blue Island they didn't even get there before it was over... and that was black against white. And it was only three days before the (Democratic national) convention."

'I'M A PRO'

"We've learned and tried to teach our men to work as a team. We try to move the leaders fast and in this way we hope to stop the riot before it really gets started."

Woods surveyed the large room, with its picture of President Nixon and his family on a nearby table and plaques adorning the walls.

The sheriff smiled, then said in a serious tone of voice:

"I can't do things to please everybody. So, whether somebody likes it or doesn't like it, I can't be swayed by that. I've got to—knowing that I'm a pro and I discuss it with the FBI and various other pros—I've got to discuss it and make my decision based on facts."

Oil Depletion Film Shown

Downtown Lions were shown a film Wednesday explaining the reasons for the oil (and other extractive minerals) depletion allowance.

With a ration of only one producer to nine dry holes, the allowance was the incentive which kept up the exploration which had maintained the national reserves, the film explained. The program was in charge of F. D. (Red) Williams.

Special guests were S. Sgt. David Sutton and Sp. 4 Doug E. Franklin, former servicemen returned from Vietnam. Tom Hammond, vice chairman of the mayor's welcoming committee, extended the official appreciation.

M. A. Barger, Marshall Box and Maj. Bill Lund were inducted into the club by Dr. J. E. Hogan, who reminded them of their community responsibilities and also that they were becoming part of a world-wide organization that now is approaching 1,000,000 members.

This Week Magazine May Cease Publication

NEW YORK (AP) — This Week magazine, which calls itself the country's oldest nationally distributed Sunday newspaper supplement, may cease publication with its Nov. 2 issue due to falling circulation and advertising.

The management of the 34-year-old supplement recommended Wednesday in a letter to 42 distributing newspapers that the Nov. 2 issue be the last one.

Agreement from client newspapers is needed before the supplement can halt operation. A spokesman for the magazine said a definite decision is expected early next week.

"It is a pity that This Week, so long such a distinguished member of the newspaper family, evidently has outlasted its economic usefulness to newspapers and advertisers," said Fred H. Stapleford, president of United Newspapers Magazine Corp., which owns This Week.

"Although we do not regret in any sense our determined effort to give it renaissance, we believe it would be foolhardy to continue publishing when all the vital signs are negative," Stapleford added in his letter to the editors.

Current circulation of the supplement is 9.9 million, a sharp drop from its 1963 high of 14.6 million. Moreover, 15 newspapers, representing an aggregate circulation of 4.3 million for the supplement, plan to cancel effective Dec. 31, 1969.

Stapleford said this would mean that costs to the newspapers would shoot from its present subsidized level of $2 per thousand copies to about $10 per thousand in 1970.

Advertising, which peaked at 1,027 pages in 1957, also has fallen off in the last decade, declining to 452 pages in 1968.

Under their contracts, the newspapers pay production and paper costs on a pro rata basis and participate in advertising profits.

LTV To Slice Dallas Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., a major conglomerate, is reorganizing and reducing its headquarters staff in Dallas.

Some personnel will be transferred to subsidiary companies and others will be laid off. LTV has 318 employees at its headquarters and 174 in general accounting.

The cost-cutting move came soon after the company reported a loss of $3,357,000 for three months ended June 30, compared with earnings of $10,675,000 a year earlier, but a spokesman said the cutback had been in the planning stage since last October.

"What we've done is transfer some of our people downstream to some of our subsidiaries," the spokesman said. "We feel our subsidiaries are mature enough to handle their own services for the most part."

Transfers to the nine LTV subsidiaries will include all 174 persons in general accounting and all 46 in marketing services. The spokesman said the public relations staff will be reduced from 18 to 11.

The spokesman declined to estimate how many of the other employees would be transferred or lose their jobs.

New Hornet Unveiled

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (AP) — Starring its new compact Hornet, American Motors Corp. Wednesday became the first of the U.S. automakers to unveil its 1970 model automobiles.

William V. Luneburg, AMC president, told a press preview showing the Hornet has "a versatility uncommon in other cars of its size and price class."

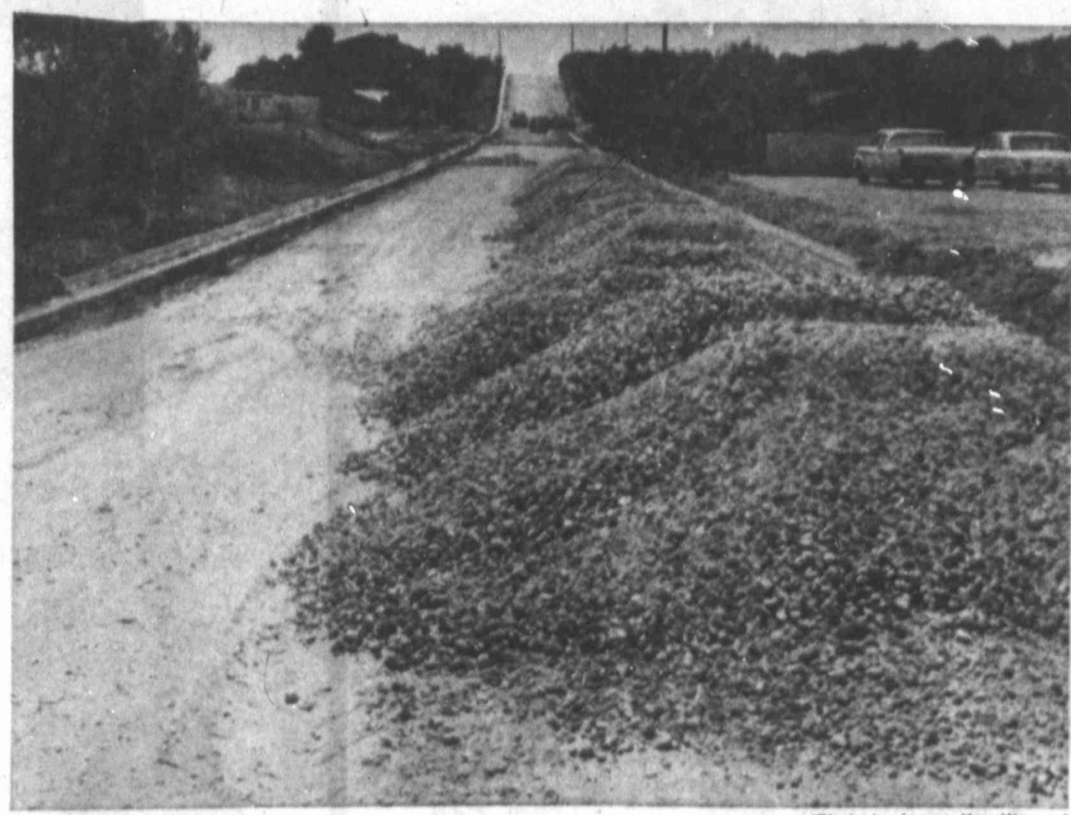

Roy D. Chapin Jr., AMC chairman, told a Tuesday night gathering of newsmen that the Hornet and "other new, smaller models still to come" from U.S. plants should be outselling imported minicars by 1972.

He said this would reverse a sales trend that began in the 1968 model year.

'Rumble Strips'

DALLAS (AP) — Twelve locations have been approved for the installation of "rumble strips" in Dallas alleys as part of a safety program.

The sites will test the effectiveness of raised ribbons of asphalt in reducing traffic accidents in alleys with rear-entry residences alongside.

PAVING PROGRAM — Caldwell, Inc., has started work on the paving of Phillips Road on the southeast side of town. The project is part of the city's $245,000 paving assessment program and is carried out according to contract specifications.

Texas' Draft Quota Unveiled

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' draft quota for September is 1,698 men, mostly for the Army, state selective service headquarters said today.

September's quota compares with 1,548 in August, 1,178 in July and 1,366 in June. It ranks below April's 1,737 in the total labor force, and 4,903,000 for 1967.

Officials said the average July labor force indicated the gain in farm harvest activity and compared with the 1968 annual average of 4,745,800 in the total labor force, and 4,903,000 for 1967.

Farm Labor Wage Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm workers averaged $1.58 an hour on July 1, a gain of 13 cents from a year earlier, says the Agriculture Department.

But farm labor wage rates vary widely according to arrangements between employers and hired hands. For example, the Crop Reporting Board said the average wage when a house is provided was $319 a month.

This compared with $295 a year earlier and $275 on July 1, 1967. When both board and room were provided, the wage averaged $232 compared with $217 a month last year and $202 in 1967.

The report also showed there were 5,571,000 farm workers during the survey week of July 20-26, a seasonal gain of 6 percent from June. These included 3,730,000 farm family members and 1,841,000 hired workers.

Officials said the average July labor force indicated the gain in farm harvest activity and compared with the 1968 annual average of 4,745,800 in the total labor force, and 4,903,000 for 1967.

Back-To-School Drug Raids Jump In Texas

By MIKE RITCHEY Associated Press Writer

Law enforcement officers in Texas are in the midst of stepped-up offensive on dope peddlers, who are concentrating the major portion of their pitches at young people, ranging in ages from 15 to 25.

In Dallas alone, more than 40 people have been picked up in two raids in the more affluent north and northeastern sections of the city. Not one has been over 25 years old. Many young teen-age girls have been arrested.

Law enforcement officers in Texas are in the midst of stepped-up offensive on dope peddlers, who are concentrating the major portion of their pitches at young people, ranging in ages from 15 to 25.

Law enforcement officers in Texas are in the midst of stepped-up offensive on dope peddlers, who are concentrating the major portion of their pitches at young people, ranging in ages from 15 to 25.

initial drive announced as a "pre-back-to-school" operation. "These people may not believe it's all so funny now," remarked a grim-faced Dallas officer. "They're not going to be going back to school this fall."

He cited possible prison terms of from 2 to 5 years. In Beaumont 51 people were seized in two raids last week. They ranged in ages from 17 to 41, but Beaumont authorities said the majority were "juveniles" and, once again, "too many were very young teen-age girls."

NETS PUSHERS The pre-midnight raids in Beaumont netted the largest group of "heads" and pushers in the history of Jefferson County.

More than 100 officers from various law enforcement agencies participated in the raids at addresses in Beaumont, Port Arthur, Nederland, Port Neches and Groves.

of the Jefferson County Law Enforcement Council, said the raids were the result of a seven-month investigation that involved several outside undercover men. He discounted reports that the project was connected with recent Dallas raids but said the raids did have statewide implications and has already resulted in arrests in Austin, Houston, San Antonio and Dallas.

VALUE? No "for sure" value of the materials confiscated was made but Cubertson said one box of "long, Vietnam" marijuana cigarettes valued at $2,560 was taken.

"Just about all of these people can be considered as drug pushers," Cubertson said. "Our undercover men have made buys from nearly all of them."

In addition to the sheriff's department, city officers from Beaumont, Port Arthur, Nederland, Port Neches and Groves; state narcotics and intelligence agents; a Texas Ranger; representative of the district attorney's office; and a federal narcotics agent took part in the raids.

Officers in both cities who were involved in the raids insist that there was no particular organization broken either in one city alone nor statewide.

MORE BURGLARIES However, Beaumont Chief of Police Willie Bauer said, "The various groups involved might be considered as the nucleus for an organization." He said the raids would prevent the formation of any such organization.

In several instances, burglaries were solved simultaneously with the drug arrests. "Many of the peddlers had broken into drug stores to steal drugs," he said.

Drug seizures in particular in Dallas have been small but the raids in both areas resulted in finding relatively the same type drugs, though in different quantities. Mainly, LSD, amphetamine, barbiturates, marijuana, hashish and demerol turned up.

Narcotics departments in other areas have not noticed such a gargantuan rise in drug arrests. In Fort Worth, though, Police Capt. C. E. Hogue said there have been 80 narcotics cases filed since May 30 and that the number of young persons involved in heroin traffic has increased in the last few months.

DRYING UP A Fort Worth detective said he talked Sunday with a juvenile in jail on a burglary charge and that the youngsters said marijuana sources are "drying up."

Hogue said officers made raids Friday and Saturday nights but arrested only seven persons. He said, as have most all those involved, that police activity is more of a "continuing pressure" rather than a back-to-school crackdown.

Authorities say that most of the drug supply comes in from California, with the ever-present heavy source from below the border. Beaumont officials said "a good bit" of the "stuff" confiscated in their raids came in from Dallas and San Antonio.

PRESSURE It is a grave matter and one not easily solved, said all police contacted. In almost every case, officers said they believed the policy of "continuous pressure" and sudden raids recently practiced served as a strong deterrent to pushers and users.

In Wichita Falls, Dist. Atty. Jim Phagan said only four drug arrests had been made since the first of the year. From Austin, he told of a plan to make use of the Texas Youth Council to conduct a drug abuse conference in Wichita County in which the students themselves were totally involved in training one another.

Loving Scores Deep Producer

In the Grice East (Strawn) pool of Loving County American Petrofina Co. of Texas, Big Spring, has finished No. 1 Wilder, an old well plug back, as a discovery completion.

The well had a calculated absolute open flow of 7,000,000 cubic feet of 51.8 gravity oil per day with a gas-oil ratio of 178,365-1 and a tubing pressure of 7,028 pounds. Total depth is 20,150 feet, plugged back to 14,740 feet, 14,894-726 feet. Operator acidized with 6,900 gallons.

Well site is 16 miles north of Mentone, 1,960 feet from the south and east lines of section 36-76, T5L survey. The well was originally completed as an Atoka discovery in January, 1967, by Natural Gas and Oil Corp. and Freeport Oil Co.

Attractive Homelife Concerns Homemaker

By RHODA LEMONS

"I enjoy making my home more attractive," said Mrs. Billy Joe Reynolds, 1000 Baylor. "My husband and I have just finished painting the inside an off-white."

The color forms a lovely background for the blue and green upholstered furniture in the Reynolds home.

Mrs. Reynolds has decoupage a number of plaques which almost cover one entire wall. Making use of candles, she has them in avocado colors in black wrought iron holders. She has made the holders, using jars, bowls and other odds and ends covered with paper mache and antiqued. She uses some as gifts but keeps those that blend with the decor in their home.

Reynolds is senior chemist and analytical section leader at Coston Oil and Petroleum Company. The couple has three daughters, Debbie, 9, a fourth-grader at Moss; Donna, 7, a second-grader; and Danna, 5, who will attend kindergarten at St. Mary's School this fall.

"I sew constantly," said Mrs. Reynolds, who makes almost all the children's clothes and most of her own. She recently made spring coats for two of her daughters and capes for herself and Debbie.

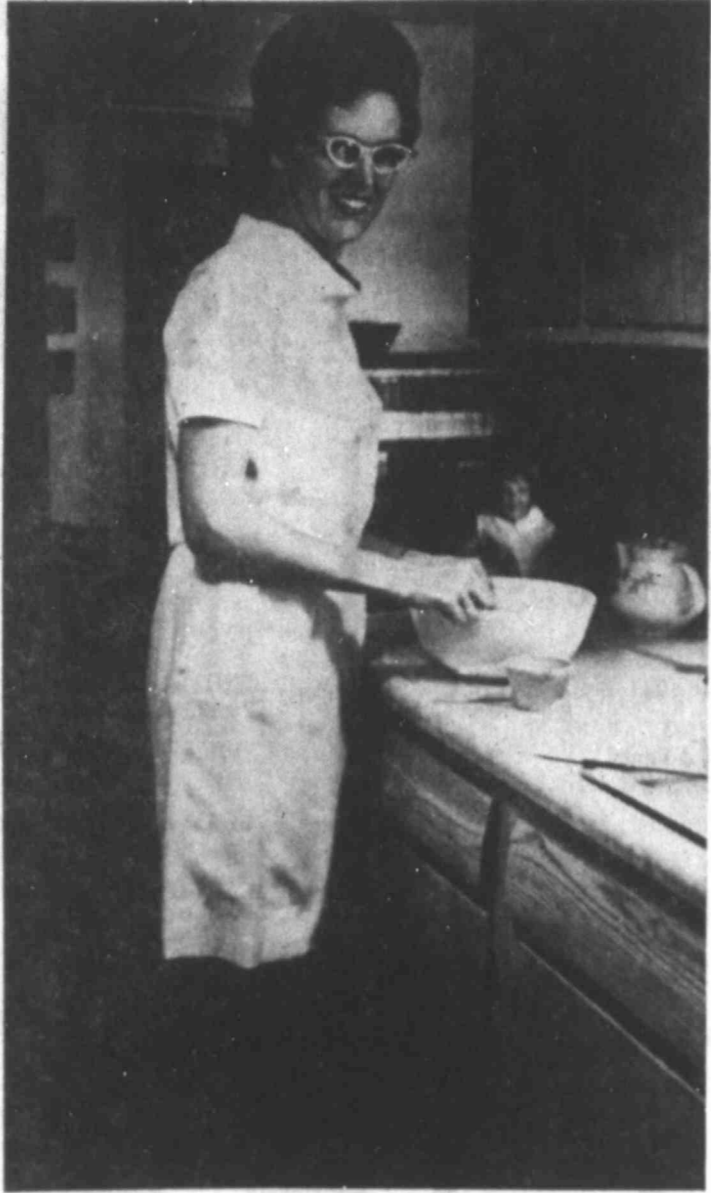

"I sew for economical reasons," said Mrs. Reynolds, "as well as pleasure."

Because Mrs. Reynolds puts her home and family first, she has little time for outside activities. She is junior Sunday school co-ordinator at First Baptist Church where her husband teaches a 16-year-old boys' class.

"We love to swim and camp," said Mrs. Reynolds. The family is planning a weekend at Possum Kingdom soon. They recently returned from a week at Glorieta, N.M.; the Baptist encampment, and a couple of days' camping in Colorado.

"I love to cook outdoors," said Mrs. Reynolds, "and the girls help me." Her husband is an outdoor cook also, so the burden is not too heavy on "mother."

The Reynolds are football fans, attending all the high school home games, as well as the junior college basketball games.

"We like what the girls can join us in doing," said Mrs. Reynolds, "for soon, they will be interested in things of their own in which we can't share as much."

Mrs. Reynolds likes to grow things. She has planted okra, carrots, tomatoes and peach trees; everything bearing on schedule except the tomatoes. She will not have enough produce to put in the freezer, except the peaches, but the family meals have been enlivened by them.

"We like plain foods three times a day," said Mrs. Reynolds. When it comes to exotic foods, the Reynolds will take Mexican food or Italian dishes, which Mrs. Reynolds enjoys preparing occasionally.

Mrs. Reynolds has a flower garden in her backyard, otherwise, she does little yard work, leaving it to her husband.

Reynolds is a member of the Optimist Club, and Mrs. Reynolds is an Opt-Mrs. They play "42" and have couples over for games and simple meals.

However, most of their time is taken with the girls, their young friends and church activities. One project the Reynolds' are working on together is refinishing a piano. They are in the process of "stripping" it and will finish it in walnut. "There is always something interesting to do at home," smiled Mrs. Reynolds.

One thing Mrs. Reynolds does every year is make about two dozen jars of bread and butter pickles. The recipe is listed below.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Mrs. B. J. Reynolds

SPAGHETTI
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can tomato soup
1 tsp. chili powder
1 lb. ground meat
1 pkg. spaghetti (about 8 oz.)
Chopped onion, as desired
Brown ground meat and onion; season with salt and pepper. Stir in soups and chili powder, heating thoroughly. Serve over spaghetti, prepared according to instructions on package.

MOM WHITE'S GINGER BREAD
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg
1 cup molasses (brown label)
2 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. cloves
1/2 tsp. salt
Cream sugar, shortening, egg and molasses thoroughly. Sift dry ingredients and add to creamed mixture (this will be stiff). Add one cup hot water and beat until smooth. Bake in a greased 13x10 pan about one hour at 325 to 350 degrees. Good served hot with butter or margarine.

COMPANY CHEESECAKE
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup melted butter
Combine and press on bottom and sides of 10-inch pie pan.
2 well-beaten eggs
1 8-oz. pkg. and 1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. almond extract
1 1/2 cups sour cream
Combine and beat until smooth everything except sour cream, then blend in sour cream. Pour in crumb crust. Bake at 375 degrees about 25 minutes or just until set. Cool. Chill well, about four or five hours.

PINEAPPLE GLAZE
Combine three tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, and one cup unsweetened pineapple juice in saucepan. Heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Cook, over low heat, until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Cool to room temperature. Cut canned pineapple rings in half and arrange around edge of cheesecake. Spoon glaze over top. Chill.

LIME GELATIN SALAD
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 pkg. lime gelatin
1 No. 303 can pears

1 carton whipping cream, whipped OR
1 envelope whipped topping, whipped according to instructions
Finely chopped nuts, if desired
Dissolve gelatin in one cup boiling water. Cool. Add pear juice, and water, if needed, to make another cup liquid. Chill in refrigerator while mashing pears and combining with cream cheese and whipping cream. Combine all ingredients and chill.

FRUIT-CREAM CHEESE PIE
1/2 pint whipping cream OR
1 envelope whipped topping, blended with milk, not beaten
1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar
Desired flavoring
1 3-oz. cream cheese
1/2 to 1 can prepared fruit pie filling
Combine whipping cream and cheese and beat until stiff. Blend in the sugar and flavoring.
Pour into baked pie shell or graham cracker crust and top with fruit pie filling. Chill 1-2 hours before serving.

ICE CREAM
1 tall can evaporated milk, chilled
4-6 eggs, beaten
2 cups sugar
1 tsp. flour
1 tsp. vanilla
Pinch salt
Whip chilled milk and beat in one cup sugar, vanilla, flour and salt. Add remaining sugar to eggs and mix well. Combine the two mixtures and pour into ice cream freezer. Add enough milk to fill freezer. Makes one gallon.
Any flavoring may be used instead of vanilla and fresh fruit may be added to the ingredients just before pouring into the freezer. Use four to six fresh peaches, cut into small pieces and sweetened to taste or about two cups of fruit.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES
24 medium cucumbers
1 lb. onions
2 sweet red peppers
1 sweet green pepper
Slice and mix. Pour mixture of one-third cup salt and eight cups water over and let set at least three hours.
Add:
2 cups sugar
6 cups vinegar
4 tps. mustard seed
2 tps. celery seed
1 tsp. tumeric
Combine and bring to a boil. Add vegetables and bring to a good boil.
Pour into hot jars and seal.

Always wash that lemon or orange before grating the rind from it.

Time-saver: Keep paper baking cups on hand and use these when you are baking muffins or cupcakes. No greasing necessary!

When you melt butter it does not change in volume. So when a recipe calls for two tablespoons of melted butter, make a quarter-pound stick of butter into eight pats and melt two of the pats. No need to measure the butter after melting.

When you are placing a baked ham on a platter, make sure that the shank will be on the carver's right.

Cut a cross on the top surface of a baked potato to pop in a square of butter and to let the steam escape.

Let your youngster cut out a batch of paper liners for the bottoms of your cake pans. Then when you are baking cake, the liners will be ready and save you time.

Layer parfait glasses with vanilla ice cream and strawberries — fresh or frozen — and then for an epicurean topping add orange whipped cream. To make the topping whip a cup of heavy cream with a quarter cup of confectioner's sugar, then beat in several tablespoons of orange liqueur.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Hot Onion Is Good Buy Now

There are onions and onions, but none that can approach the versatility of the Idaho-Oregon grown sweet Spanish onions now so plentiful in our markets. These are the striking king-size onions with paper-crisp skins of golden-bronze, sometimes creamy-white.

Known for their size and mild manners by way of flavor, they may be used in so many ways — as meat accompaniment (so good creamed, scalloped, baked, broiled, fried), as entree in themselves when filled with a savory stuffing (meat, rice and cheese, baked beans), to say nothing of the famous French onion soup, lacy French-fried onion rings, relishes and garnishes, and the zest they give to salads and sandwiches. No ordinary onions these, yet so inexpensive. Salad Valencia is a beautiful salad for a buffet table, a delightful example of flavor and texture contrasts for embroidery.

In the early morning, thin-slice three or four small peeled navel oranges and three large sweet Spanish onions easiest done by slicing through the unpeeled onion, then removing the skin from each slice. Arrange the slices in a shallow dish. Cover with a good tomato-free French dressing or a garlic-Italian dressing. Let stand in the refrigerator six hours at least, turning slices once or twice.

Tear into bite-size pieces salad greens of your choice. A mixture is good. Put to crisp in the refrigerator. Cut French bread into 3/4-inch cubes, to make a cup or more. Brown in heavy skillet in butter melted with a cut clove of garlic.

When ready to serve the salad, put greens into chilled bowl. Separate onion slices into rings and place along with orange slices atop greens. If desired, add sliced peeled avocado brushed with orange juice or dressing. Pour the leftover dressing over the salad. Sprinkle top with the garlic-buttered browned bread cubes. Makes six to eight servings or more if you like. The orange and onion flavors blended with the dressing make for a most unusual and well-liked result.

You may like to serve this salad with two dressings alongside, one being additional oil dressing used for the salad marinating and the other a creamy Roquefort or Blue cheese salad dressing — an excellent partner for any sort of sweet Spanish onion salads.

Smoother Custard
You can have a smoother custard by making it in a double boiler. See that the water in the lower saucepan is almost but not quite, boiling. If you use a glass double boiler, this is easy to determine.

FESTIVE ARTICHOKE Makes a wonderful opening course

Artichokes Give Zest To The Simplest Meal

The artichoke is such a festive-looking vegetable that you can serve it in the simplest way and have it add interest to any menu.

What's the simplest way? Cooked in boiling water, drained and offered with a dip. In the following recipe hot garlic-flavored butter is the dip. Any eater who is devoted to hot garlic bread is bound to enjoy this accompaniment.

Artichokes prepared this way make an excellent first course at lunch or dinner. Or they can substitute for a salad. Just be sure you put the artichokes on individual plates so eaters will have plenty of room for the leaves after they scrape off the meaty base of each one with their teeth. Fingers are used to pull out the leaves, but forks and knives will be needed for removing the thistlelike choke. After the choke comes the best part of all — the bottom of the artichoke containing the heart.

ARTICHOQUES WITH HOT GARLIC BUTTER
4 large artichokes
1 qt. boiling water
1 tsp. salt
2 tps. olive oil
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1 large garlic clove, peeled and quartered

Cut off artichoke stems so artichokes will stand straight. Pull off any small or coarse leaves at bottom. With a sharp heavy wide-blade knife, cut off — straight across — one half to one inch of the top. With scissors, clip off thorny tip of each leaf. Thoroughly wash artichokes in cold water. Stand the artichokes, stem side down, in a kettle or Dutch oven into which they just fit — a straight-side utensil that is about ten inches in diameter and four inches deep is fine. Add the boiling water, salt and olive oil. Bring to a boil; cover and boil until bottoms of artichokes (the hearts) are tender when pierced with a fork — 35 to 45 minutes. Place artichokes, stem side up, in a colander to drain.

Meanwhile, in a small saucepan over very low heat, melt the butter; add garlic; cover and allow to stand over very low heat for about one-half hour. Remove garlic; skim off white foam at top. Pour butter — about two tablespoons for each — into four small containers (Oriental cups without handles are fine). Serve this hot garlic butter as a dip for the fleshy part at the base of the leaves and for the heart after the center thistle-like part (the choke) has been removed. Makes four servings.

For Western Food Try Avocado Dip
One of the most delicious first courses you can serve!

GUACAMOLE WITH CORN CHIPS
3 ripe medium avocados
1/4 cup finely chopped shallot or scallion bulb
Juice of one medium lime
1/2 tsp. salt
8 oz. (about) corn chips
Halve avocados lengthwise; twist apart; remove seeds; peel. Mash fine (there should be two cups). Mix in the shallot, lime juice (there should be two tablespoons) and salt. Serve at once (or mixture will darken) with corn chips for scooping up the avocado dip. Makes four generous servings. Because the strength of shallots varies as does the acidity of lime juice, you may need to adjust the amounts given in this recipe.

Light Airy Pie Tastes 'Cool'

With hot, humid summer, our thoughts turn to light, airy desserts. Preferably, these should be easy to prepare and require no cooking, giving us more time to enjoy the summer nights.

This Lemon Angel Pie is a special dessert. A frothy combination of whipped cream and gelatine—it's filled and garnished with strawberry halves.

LEMON ANGEL PIE
1 baked 9-in. pie shell
1 envelope (1 tps.) plain unflavored gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup bottled lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups heavy cream, whipped
1 10-oz. pkg. strawberry halves, thawed and well-drained

Softened gelatine in cold water. In a small saucepan combine bottled lemon juice and sugar; heat to boiling. Add softened gelatine; stir until dissolved. Chill gelatine mixture over ice water, stirring occasionally until just syrupy; beat until foamy. Gradually fold gelatine mixture into whipped cream. Mixture should mound when dropped from a spoon; if necessary, chill over ice water. Spoon enough cream mixture into pie shell to cover bottom; arrange strawberry halves over filling, reserving a few halves for garnish. Spoon remaining filling into pie shell; chill in refrigerator about three hours or until firm. Garnish with remaining strawberry halves. Makes one nine-inch pie.

Fall Foods Make Hit With Family

Foods that reflect the season make a hit with the family. This casserole which uses squash, ham cubes and spices reflects fall color and flavor.

Leftover cooked ham may be used. Tinned mandarin orange sections lend sparkle to both ham and squash.

INDIAN SUMMER CASSEROLE
3 cups (1 lb.) diced cooked ham
2 pkgs. (10 oz. each) frozen squash
1/4 tsp. salt
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) mandarin orange sections, drained
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 tsp. ginger
1/4 tsp. nutmeg

Heat squash five minutes. Combine squash, salt, orange sections, brown sugar, ginger and nutmeg. Place in greased two-quart baking dish and top with ham. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes or until heated through. Makes six servings.

Gold Undercolor Tells If It's Ripe
The red blush on a peach may or may not be a sign of ripeness. Blush depends on variety. A soft, creamy-to-gold undercolor of the yellow part is the best sign of ripeness. Peaches are plentiful, according to the Consumer and Marketing Service.

Make Rice White
One teaspoon of lemon juice boiled with rice will make it whiter.

A Devotional For The Day

A (lawyer) desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29, RSV)

PRAYER: O God keep us growing and our love flowing toward others. Help us to seek out and accept those whose lives may be noticeably different from our own. Open our eyes that we may see their need. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Poor, Pretty Moon

The astronauts have returned to circulation, uncontaminated by the moon, but the world is still waiting to see them other than in pictures. They were kept in quarantine to make certain that they have not brought back any lethal organisms. It was a good idea. We don't want any lunar contamination.

But what about earth contamination on the moon? What did the visitors from this planet leave on the lunar surface? Some specialists think they may have left hundreds of thousands of germs. In addition, the rocket which settled the lunar module to the moon's surface discharged five tons of exhaust gases. Contamination of the moon is not academic, but an accomplished fact. Nothing can be done to change that; probably the contamination will be continued as future landings are made. It is simply not practicable to purge the lunar equipment and men of all micro-organisms.

The moon does have some natural defenses. Its envelope moves in a vacuum more perfect than any yet attained in laboratories on earth. It is periodically bombarded by intense ultra-violet light from the sun — an effective germ-killer. Still, there is something a bit sad in the knowledge that man has begun — in however minuscule degree — to contaminate the moon that rides so serenely in the heavens.

Brace Yourself

Within the decade, every time a governor has turned his attention toward bridling runaway automobile insurance rates, the effect has been a nice, robust increase. Garth Jones, chief of bureau for the Associated Press in Austin, notes that three major increases have followed special studies.

When the Texas Legislative council made a two-year (it turned out to be a four-year) study of automobile insurance rates, and a House investigative committee got in on the act as did former Attorney General Will Wilson, the result was a 16.7 per cent boost for all private passenger coverages. In 1965, the legislature, at the prodding of Gov. John Connally, passed a few traffic safety bills (but ignored most of the governor's recommendations), and rates went up 15.2. Now Gov. Preston Smith has named a study committee to look into a projected 11.4 per cent increase. If history repeats, the motorist might as well brace himself.

Add these three increases and you come up with about a 40 per cent hike; actually, piling increase on increase means better than a 50 per cent hike.

In former years liability rates have been jumping nearly twice as fast as property damage. This might reflect generous settlements or verdicts that outstrip even the rapidly rising cost of repairs and replacement.

There seems little basis for hope that the current study is anything but a delaying tactic (if not a roundabout blessing for a rate increase), but perhaps it will be helpful in pinpointing some of the most costly spots. We might be forced back to the rate penalties of 1960, or perhaps to some sort of relief for habitually safe drivers.

The Joys Of Renting A House

WASHINGTON — A friend of mine rented his house on the Long Island shore for the summer while he was traveling abroad with his family. Then he remembered he had forgotten to tell the man he had rented the house to that someone was coming to fix the oil burner, which was in a locked room in the cellar. So he decided to call his house and tell the man where the workers could find the key. He said the conversation went something like this:

"Hello, this is Mr. Mellon," my friend said. "I just wanted to . . ."

"OH, HELLO, Mr. Mellon," the wife of the man who rented the house said. "My husband isn't home now."

"That's all right," Mr. Mellon said. "How is everything?"

"Just fine, Mr. Mellon. We're really enjoying the house . . . Peter, will you stop pulling on those curtains, I'm talking on the phone. The children love it here . . . Wanda, what are you doing with those scissors . . ."

Billy Graham

Isn't part of our trouble today on our campuses caused by a lack of respect by youth for their elders? I think the older generation has made some serious mistakes, and that they are paying for them in youth rebellion. What do you think? — D.W.

There is a great deal of truth in what you say. While some of the young people causing the disturbances and incidents on our campuses are misguided radicals, and troublemakers, yet many of them are idealists rebelling against conditions in our world today, and they are sincere in their struggle for a better world. The danger is: they may want change for the sake of change, and what sort of change are they advocating? There was need for change in Russia before the revolution. Many historians believe that had Russia changed to a true democratic society instead of communism that she might well have been the strongest and greatest country in the world today — minus all the purges and mistakes that have caused so much agony both in Russia and the world.

Granted the present generation has made some mistakes. (What generation hasn't?) But, if they are to be blamed for societies faults, should they not also be credited with its virtues? We have thus far averted a nuclear war. We are making efforts to alleviate poverty. We have made great strides in the area of race relations. And educational opportunities are more wide spread than ever before. Also, to a degree we are still "one nation under God." Young and old should work together for a better America.

VOLLEYBALL ON THE BORDER

John Cuniff

An Inevitable Consequence

NEW YORK (AP) — In the current anti-inflation program, which has caused home mortgages to be priced out of the reach of thousands of Americans and threatens an end to government-backed loans for students, it is wise to remember the causes.

A popular conception is that inflation resulted from the greedy demands by ordinary citizens for more goods and services, and that this overly great demand drove up prices and caused the government to apply economy measures.

Something nearly the opposite is true. It was government spending that produced the first twist in the spiral. And it was, to a large extent, the complaints of ordinary citizens that brought about the economy.

The history of the present tug-of-war between wages and prices began in 1965. At that time the federal government went on a spending spree. Like an irresponsible consumer with a credit card, it spent money far beyond its means.

This would have been permissible if the government went out and raised more revenue, just as the customer would have been better off if he had taken on a part-time job to bring in more money to finance his spending.

The Johnson administration, however, did not raise taxes immediately. It escalated the war in Vietnam without employing compensating economies in other areas of the budget or raising taxes to finance the spending. The deficit reached $25 billion.

Congress also contributed to the problem. While the primary damage was done by the president's failure to raise more revenue, Congress added to the problem when it, too, failed to increase taxes in 1967.

But, although the failure to take remedial action was a mistake by Congress, it doesn't change the cause. And the primary cause, disguised quite a bit these days, was government spending.

When the government spends money it doesn't have there is an inevitable consequence: the tax of inflation. Every man, woman and child must pay the bill through higher prices just as the bill should have been paid by conventional taxes.

The results have become obvious to most Americans.

Man's Best Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is man's best friend.

It doesn't die or leave him as other friends may, but remains his boon companion and chief solace all his days. It enables him to drink at any time he wills from the sweet reviving fountain of the past.

Without memory, man is but an aimless vegetable existing in a cheerless night. The more meaningful his life is.

Your own store of memories is pretty extensive if you can look back and remember when:

There were more people who'd been up in balloons than airplanes.

The collie was one of the most popular dogs in America. You could win a reputation for repartee by tossing off a fast line such as, "Well, everybody makes mistakes—that's why they put erasers on pencils."

The two most famous mustaches in America adorned the upper lips of President William Howard Taft and Gen. John J. Pershing. The best known beard—and a sedate one it was—belonged to Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

A juvenile delinquent was a kid who chatted naughty words, the exact meaning of which he wasn't always sure of, on a schoolyard wall.

If your mother had given you a "sissy" name—Percy, Clarence, Harold, Reginald, Marion—you had to learn to put your dukes up early and often, until the neighborhood gang mercifully conferred an acceptable nickname on you—"Fats," "Butch," "Slug," or "Slats."

Women used more yardage of fabric in a single dress than girls today have in a whole wardrobe of miniskirts.

It started gossip in a small town if the depot loafers saw a married woman get on the front end, and a married man get on the back end, of the morning train to the big city.

Practically everyone could draw a picture of the American flag.

Hot dogs in most places still cost a nickel, and were worth every penny of it.

Teenagers subsisted largely on butter and sorghum sandwiches and had never heard of pizza parlors.

Girls began dating at 16 or 17 instead of 12.

Freedom began for a boy the day his parents let him quit wearing long black stockings and put on a pair of long pants. Mother wept and said, "I've lost my little boy." Father just cleared his throat and looked proud.

Foreign wars were expected to be over in four years or less. Those were the days! Remember?

Small 'Spider' Veins On The Thighs

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 15 and have veins on my thighs, upper legs and just above the knee. I am sure they are not varicose. They are small but very noticeable if I am wearing bermudas or a bathing suit.

Will they disappear with age or will they be there forever? If they are permanent, is there any way they can be removed by surgery or otherwise? — J.L.

These little veins, close to the surface, are known as "spider veins" or "vein stars." They are not varicose veins, which are larger veins in which the valves have failed and pressure builds up and swells them.

The spider veins are small. They pose a cosmetic rather than a health problem.

The cause simply is not known, although there has been a pretty fair amount of study devoted to them. At least one investigation indicated that, in some patients at least, they may come and go — again for reasons unknown.

There seems to be some connection with the female hormone (estrogen), even though men now and then also have these spiders. Sometimes an injury can make the tiny veins visible in this manner; again, there may be no injury. A peculiar localization of small vessels in the skin has been advanced as one possible explanation as to why some people have this trouble and others don't.

There really is no effective treatment, and my advice is either to forget about them or, if they make you too unhappy, then use some of the cosmetics which are available. There are types intended to cover birth marks or scars, and they will, of course, cover these veins, too.

I suggest avoiding anything constricting about the thigh, as circular garters, tight panty girdles, etc., but frankly I cannot guarantee that will stop the trouble.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have a booklet on trauma? What is trauma and is there a cure for it? — Mrs. P.M.

You've been confused by some statement or other. Trauma is a general term for a wound or injury. There can also be mental trauma, in the sense of some shocking experience.

A broken leg, a punch in the nose, the physical strain of having an operation — any of these, and a lot more, all are trauma.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, including scores of pertinent questions and their answers, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for his booklet, "Make Menopause Easier," enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

Tourist Bait—Santa In August

Santa Claus in August?

Even this jolly old gent has been trotted out to pose a trap for the hapless tourist, and the youthful pair in our entourage discovered he was available while we were still 200 miles away. Accustomed to running into most every conceivable tourist trap, I was surprised to find this familiar December character with his hand extended in mid-summer. The youngsters, of course, could not have been more pleased.

THIS PARTICULAR Colorado trap lies in the midst of many other lures, and I suppose it is as successful as all the others. It even includes the super market style of shopping. After handing over a princely sum that insures the tourist his right to spend more money inside, the family group is handed a card on which its purchases in a world of gadgets and knick-knacks are listed as it makes the rounds of the shops inside. In addition, there are a selection of revamped carnival rides, designed to build up the total amount of purchases.

THE FAMILY leader with a strong list of "no's" might make it back to the gate with a blank card. But most of them I saw had to cough up a large traveler's check to regain freedom.

Highlight of the tour for our brood was the visit with the old gent, and he was neither more nor less than the commercial varieties available here in season. (Perhaps, he was a bit warmer.)

I THINK the only surprised ones were our youngsters, who really didn't expect to see someone, who is supposed to be at the North Pole, while on vacation. (That's another thing, our youngsters have it figured that "vacation" is a place, rather than a time of year.)

OF COURSE, they'll take Santa Claus any time of the year they can find him, either on vacation, at Easter, or Labor Day, or whatever. They dutifully trotted up, received a bit of candy, posed for the pictures, then guided their elders to each and every candy machine in the place, as well as the multitude of carnival rides.

I GUESS it was no better nor worse than the other so-called "sights" of that area. My opinion is that the religious Christmas songs played for background is in rather bad taste, but then most commercially devised tourist traps are. It is one of the prices a family with "two weeks off" usually pays.

The Drama Of Tax Reform

WASHINGTON — The most human story around town this summer has a very improbable subject and a very unusual protagonist.

Whoever heard of tax reform being a matter to touch the imagination and stir the heart? Or of a tax lawyer, now serving in the prosaic post of Assistant Treasury Secretary for Tax Policy, assuming a sympathetic role?

But the tax "reform," known as Low Income Allowance, does touch the feelings, for it mercifully allows substantially all poverty people to be "forgiven" what they formerly would owe the Government and to be spared the nuisance of filling out forms. And the man who worked out this plan, Assistant Secretary Edwin S. Cohen, almost literally did it in a dream.

I USUALLY don't take my problems to bed," says Ed Cohen in the light accent of a Richmonder (Va.) who has lived much of his adult 34 years in the canyons of financial Manhattan. "But on the weekend of last April 4-5, I went home to Charlottesville, and kept waking up at night with an idea that wouldn't go away. This idea was that the Government shouldn't tax poor people and then give them back the money by reason of their poverty. It didn't make sense, and there had to be a solution."

He got out of bed, opened books and commenced a study which eventually led to a computerized "model" of the Low Income Allowance.

THIS IS A "model" which would make 13 million poor and near-poor people virtually tax-free, and at the same time repay the government in revenues by collecting from other sources, notably from 154 hitherto tax-free millionaires.

THE LOW INCOME Allowance is

Nixon's New Welfare Program

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has recommended to Congress a program of legislation which he calls the "new federalism," but it may be more aptly described as a "new humanism" in government.

For what is recognized and realistically dealt with is this simple truth — that there are millions of poor people who work but do not make enough to take care of their families, and there are many millions who can't find jobs and would need more income even if they got work.

THE AMERICAN people have always had a humanitarian instinct. A consciousness of widespread poverty and lack of opportunity began to be apparent 35 years ago when the "New Deal" of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was launched in the midst of a grave depression. Since then, as economic conditions have improved, a residue of "welfare" projects have to some extent continued the "relief" and "Works Progress Administration" agencies of the 1930's.

MR. NIXON realizes that the situation cannot be allowed to drift haphazardly and that a new approach is needed. So he urges that "family assistance" programs be started which will insure a basic annual income to the poverty-stricken. The poor who do work also will be given federal help up to a point. To administer these numerous cases, all of which require individual attention, the federal government will share revenues with the states.

Estimates vary, but it is calculated that more than 22 million persons could be directly benefited by the policy. It is surprising that, as unemployment has decreased in recent years, welfare lists have risen.

BUT HOW WILL progress be made? First, Congress has to pass laws authorizing the appropriation of the necessary funds. It will be costly, but on a long-range basis the United States government can collect much of the money needed. Second, the tax system is being overhauled and only one of some two dozen tax "reforms" recommended by the House Ways and Means committee, and Cohen is only one of many highly involved persons in this popularly inspired reformation movement. Were it not for floods of letters and editorials, it's doubtful if legislation would have been drafted and brought to debate in 1969. President Nixon last April sent up a tax message of 16 broad proposals, and said he'd be sending more but not until November. Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills (D., Ark.) didn't seem in much of a hurry either. It was the popular instance which galvanized first the Chairman, then the President into action.

THE NAMES of Cohen, Mills and Nixon, in that order, are the star performers of this suddenly dramatic scene. But the stage has been filled with minor and indispensable actors.

It takes bodies, and lots of them, to draft bills of this detail and magnitude. The President made available to Mills some 30 economists from the Treasury's Office of Tax Analysis, and some 15 lawyers and tax accountants from the Treasury's Tax Legislative Counsel, and some 24 accountants from the Internal Revenue Service.

FROM MAY until August, for example, the helpers from the Tax Legislative Counsel reported for work each morning at 7:30, and they usually got home after midnight. They worked seven out of the eight Saturdays and Sundays on the four week-ends preceding Aug. 1.

Nobody can remember when so much activity was expended by so many persons on a job that affects all 70 million American income earners.

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

eventually will be more productive of revenue than ever before. Third, the Vietnam war, in its present proportions, will not last much longer and some of those billions will become available for domestic use.

Also, there is an incentive to be provided the citizen to encourage his search for employment. In the end some of the money earned will provide additional tax receipts.

MOTHERS WHO want to work are to be assisted, under the new plan, by the setting up of "day care centers" which will offer "more than custodial care" for young children. All these humanitarian projects will need the cooperative help of volunteers in the local communities.

It is essential that the Nixon program, when adopted in its present or modified form, become known in detail to the millions of persons who will be affected by the changes made.

FIRST OF ALL, even though many millions of persons listened on television and radio to the President's speech, and millions read newspaper accounts of what is being proposed, the story will not get through in understandable detail to the people affected. What is required is a simple means of explanation so that all the low-income and jobless individuals will get the story and learn especially about the job training which will be available.

The greatest need will be efficiency in operation and a system of information distribution which will tell the low-income groups how they can be helped and also how they can best help themselves.

Price's Barbecue Serves Many Tasty Food Treats

When mealtime is approaching and nothing has been put on to cook yet, don't become frenzied and harried with worry. Just call 263-1615 — Price's Bar-B-Q, 2000 Gregg.

Doug Price, owner, can rustle up an order for the whole family in ten minutes; and the quality of the barbecuing can't be beat either. Price has had 40 years experience in preparing food.

Whether it's an emergency or not, Price's barbecue makes good eating any time of the day, any day of the week. He serves only prime brisket that with his barbecuing becomes the juiciest piece of meat in town.

Price has expanded his services so that he now offers barbecue tips besides beef, ham and sausage; and a vegetable and beef stew is also on the menu. He can also serve sandwiches or a full plate from salad to dessert that includes cole slaw, macaroni or potato salad, garlic bread, and pickles.

Commemorate Important Events With A Photograph

Traveling is one of summer's activities, and many people use the time to visit relatives long absent. If a son or daughter, grandma or granddad, or a favorite brother or sister drop in this summer, commemorate the event with a portrait made by Curley Johnson of Curley's Studio, 206 Eleventh Place.

A portrait is a perfect way to remember loved ones who may not be able to visit again for years. A picture keeps their memory alive long after they have departed.

Curley Johnson, backed by more than 30 years experience as a photographer, makes a durable portrait that is appreciated every time it is seen. He has all the equipment and knowhow necessary for making just the picture you want.

Curley has also taken over the studio at Webb, AFB, and takes all pictures of the training classes at the base. The studio is located in the Base Exchange, and is used in taking the pictures for the base's yearbook.

Johnson is always available to make wedding pictures, and can also photograph other events such as parties and anniversary gatherings.

When Curley's Studio makes the wedding picture at either the church, home or wherever the wedding is held, the engagement and wedding photo for the newspaper announcement is made at no extra charge.

His wide knowledge of photography and his equipment allow Johnson to make reproductions of your old photographs. If you have pictures that are fading or becoming ragged around the edges, let Curley's Studio make a new photograph, whether the old one is in color or black and white.

Curley's Studio does film finishing, and features excellent portraits in black and white or natural color. His prices for portraits are noted as the most reasonable in West Texas. His service is also fast and reliable.

Curley's Studio can make all types of pictures and will do commercial photography as well as take aerial photographs.

Angelo Adopts Ration Plan

The City of San Angelo has adopted a compulsory water rationing ordinance, replacing a voluntary plan imposed last week. Lawn watering and swimming pool water are prohibited except for certain public facilities such as golf greens, football fields, etc. A fine of $10 to $100 is imposed for violations.

Meanwhile, it was indicated that perhaps a plan had been worked out which would permit the City of San Angelo to sell $3.2 million in bonds, approved by the voters, to finance construction of a $3.2 million pipeline from Lake E. V. Spence, above Robert Lee, to San Angelo. The city has a contract to obtain up to 3,000 acre-feet of water per annum, but has no way to get it to San Angelo. Under the complicated plan, the State Water Development Board and city would issue bonds simultaneously for a four per cent, then swap bonds. The city would then discount the state bonds 10 per cent (making them saleable with the equivalent of a 4.25 tag) to obtain the money. The state cannot discount its bonds.

Blaze Blamed On Cigarette

Minor damage was done to the roof and a wooden walkway atop the Cosden Petroleum Building, at Second and Scurry, early Wednesday afternoon.

Firemen said the blaze was apparently caused by a cigarette which had caught some paper on fire underneath the walkway.

Two trash fires and a grass blaze also were fought by Firemen Wednesday.

The first trash fire was at Twelfth and Main at 11:45 a.m. Cause of the fire was unknown.

An apparent hot load of trash from a dump truck caught some trash ablaze at 4:20 p.m. Wednesday at the city dump grounds.

In a grass fire at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at 1110 Nolan, firemen listed the burning of weeds as the cause of the blaze.

Man Buried Beneath Ore

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — A Hughes Springs, Tex. man was buried beneath tons of iron ore for more than six hours Tuesday night before more than 100 rescue workers reached him.
Leonard Hooten, 61, remained in serious condition at a Longview hospital late Wednesday.
Lone Star Steel Co. officials said witnesses told them Hooten apparently thought he was in a safe position, but a stockpile shifted and immediately covered him.
L. W. Moore, vice president of company operations who directed the rescue, said a rope was tied around Hooten and air hoses forced through to him before he was completely buried.
"The air kept him alive and the rope let workers keep him located," Moore said.
Hooten is a supervisor for Lone Star and has been with the company for 23 years.

Equalization Board Lowers Taxes For Two, Recesses

The Board of Equalization asked for a two-day recess in order to gather additional figures.
"We would like to present an alternative formula for land valuation. We hoped to be able to present the figures today, but we just don't have sufficient data," he said.
"It will take us at least another two days to come up with another plan that will be reasonable and acceptable to both sides," Curry said.
Jones recommended the board accept the recess with the understanding that the next meeting be the last. County Judge Lee Porter set the meeting for 2 p.m. Monday.

While attorneys for both sides met in an effort to gather information omitted from some of the affidavits, the board lowered tax valuation for G. C. Broughton on property located north of the city limits on US 37.
"My property is the only land out there without a business or a home on it, and I'm paying taxes on a $600 per acre valuation," Broughton said. "I don't see why I should have to pay it when nobody else pays taxes this high."
The board members lowered taxes on nine acres from $600 valuation to $100 valuation with a provision that the entire area be readjusted next year. Three acres of frontage land owned by Glenn Cantrell was also dropped to $100 per acre in accordance with the Broughton decrease.
Don Curry, Fort Worth, and Dee Jon Davis, attorneys for the Rural Taxpayers Association, and Gil Jones, attorney for the equalization board, rejoined the board members, and Curry

Sands School Will Open August 25

Sands Independent School District expects an enrollment of 321 students when school begins Aug. 25, according to M. B. Maxwell, superintendent. Both buses and the cafeteria will start operating that day. Maxwell said the district is buying new desks for the junior high school, and has hired two new teachers.

Mrs. Judith Williams, who received her bachelor's degree from Texas Tech in Lubbock, will be teaching home economics. Mrs. Carol Jean Grant graduated from the same university with a BS, and will be teaching business. Maxwell also said the district will be getting a new math and a new English-Spanish teacher too.

96 Americans Killed In Action Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 96 Americans were killed in action last week, the smallest weekly total in two years.
The low toll was evidence of the two-month lull in sustained ground fighting which ended early Tuesday when the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese launched rocket, mortar and ground attacks all across South Vietnam. Since midnight Monday an estimated 100 to 125 Americans have been killed and 600 wounded, and they will be included in the weekly casualty report to be issued Aug. 21.
The death toll last week was the lowest since the week that ended Aug. 12, 1967, when 52 Americans were killed in action. It was also the first time this year the U.S. battle death toll has dropped below 100. The previous 1969 low was in the week ending Dec. 29-Jan. 4, when 101 Americans were killed.

The South Vietnamese government reported 225 of its men killed in action last week, 51 less than the week before. But it was the 13th consecutive week that the government total exceeded that for the Americans.
While the total of American and South Vietnamese battle dead decreased, that of the enemy increased slightly. Allied headquarters said 2,214 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed, compared with a revised today of 2,168 the week before.
The casualty report raised to 37,694 the number of Americans killed in the Vietnam War since Jan. 1, 1961, while a total of 537,543 enemy are claimed slain by the allies during the same period.
The U.S. Command said 1,086 Americans were wounded in action last week, slightly less than the previous week's 1,110. This brought to 244,320 the number of Americans wounded since the beginning of 1961.
A total of 687 South Vietnamese troops were reported wounded last week compared with 545 the week before.

Winds Fan Forest Fire

SOLDOTNA, Alaska (AP) — A 50,000-acre forest fire, fanned to new intensity by high winds, threatened the Soldotna area today after sweeping across the Swanson River oil field.
More than 800 persons were evacuated from their homes between Kenai and Soldotna, and plans were being made to evacuate some 2,000 from the Soldotna-Ridgeway-Sterling area.
Several houses were reported burned, but there was no accurate count because of the dense smoke which billowed 7,000 feet into the sky. No serious injuries had been reported.
