Tina Noyes joins Ice Capades

Ice Capades To Open At Odessa Sept. 11

Multi-Vision, an original ice ballet, a live-action strobelight freakout and the finest skating talents combine to make this season's Ice Capades a vibrant, streamlined production. The 30th Anniversary show opens Sept. 11 at the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa, for a seven performance engagement through Sept. 16.

Six production numbers, along with topflight comedy and specialty acts, vary in theme and interest to insure enjoyment for the entire family. The show opens to the familiar "Skater's Waltz" — but this time it's "Skate-In" and decidedly upbeat. Each star is introduced on the ice and again in close-up on the gigantic motion-picture screen within the set.

Children will delight in "Once Upon A Time." This is the story of a young thief who, by his wit and wile, works his way to the palace of the Grand Vizier to become the hero of the day. "Once Upon A Time" was designed with spectacle in mind. Costumes and scenery are story-book opulent.

James Harbert's ice ballet, "Rhapsody for Piano and Ice," is a unique departure in ice show production. Musically this number is brilliant and moving, and by the use of Multi-Vision, a triple-screen, triple-projector motion picture process, becomes an entertaining essay on ice ballet.

Multi-Vision is used again in "Mission Impossible," a spy-spoof reprieve with a psychedelic light show. "Sing Along, Swing Along" is a breezy community sing with skaters urging the audience to participate. Highlighting the production is the children's ride — big, beautiful, four-seater balloons to go up, up and away. The calypso flavored "Fourteen Miles from Montego Bay" closes the show. It's a stirring finale, Ziegfeld-style, splashy and spectacular.

There's an abundance of young, talented performers new to the company this season as well as performances by familiar favorites. Ice comedy's number one charmer Freddie Trenkler returns along with North American Champion Donald Knight; Japanese Champion Sashi Kuchiki; Olympic contender Roy and Sandi Wagelein; lovely Janet Runn and Diane Schatz.

Newcomers this season are Tina Noyes, an outstanding amateur competitor from Boston, just turned professional; Canada's zesty soloists Cliff McArdle and Marc LeBel; the adagio artistry of Jorge and Helga Valle, just back from a European tour, two family acts: magic ice-cyclists from France, The Romanos, and California's talented Beard Family. College Has 931 Signed Although registration at Howard County Junior College will continue for two weeks, the bulk of students — 931 — signed in Tuesday and Wednesday.

"That's how many have cleared the business office," said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president. "We're holding about 47 cards for payment of fees and we know we'll break a 1,000 soon."

Dr. Hunt estimated that of the 931 students, about 600 are full time and 300 part-time. He said this figure does not include students registered for non-credit vocational courses such as nursing.

Specs On Cars To Be Mailed

Specifications for the 20 city vehicles to be replaced have been completed and will be mailed to local dealers before the end of the week, Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson said today. Bids will be received by the city Oct. 6.

Anderson said in the past the city had traded in one type of vehicle, such as a police car, for another type, such as a pickup. But this year, only cars will be traded for cars, and trucks for trucks, and the contract will go to the low price after trade-in prices have been subtracted.

SHE TELLS NEWSMEN WHY Sue Didn't Make It To Her Wedding

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Sue Fischer didn't make it to her wedding last week.

Wednesday, with tears streaming down her bruised face, she told newsmen why.

The 23-year-old Albuquerque woman told of being taken by her former husband, Jerry Wilson, 25, of Borger, Tex., to Juarez, Mexico. She said he forced her to remarry him there.

Her days and nights were filled with terror until Wilson surrendered to FBI agents in Amarillo, Tex., she said.

Her story went like this: A week ago Wednesday, Miss Fischer and her fiance, John Curtis, a 34-year-old Dallas, Tex., corporation lawyer, drove up to a stop sign in east Albuquerque. She and Curtis were to be married the next day. They had met when Curtis handled her divorce from Wilson last May.

Suddenly, she said, Wilson, brandishing a gun, jumped into the car and forced Curtis to drive toward a nearby dump ground.

Curtis jumped from the car and Wilson fled with his former wife, to Juarez. There, she said, he forced her to remarry him.

Miss Fischer said Wilson, a former Southern Methodist football star, forced her to call her parents in Albuquerque several times to assure them she was all right and that she had remarried Wilson voluntarily.

Saturday, Wilson, accompanied by Miss Fischer, gave himself up to FBI agents in Amarillo. He was sought on a federal kidnaping charge in connection with Miss Fischer's abduction.

"I was scared to death," she said Wednesday. "I told the police in Amarillo that I had voluntarily married him because I was terrified."

When Miss Fischer told police she had remarried Wilson voluntarily, federal officials moved to dismiss charges. A family friend brought Miss Fischer home to Albuquerque.

Wilson then was freed on a $1,000 bond on an aggravated battery charge in connection with his alleged beating of Curtis.

Tricia Nixon Free Of Pain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors still haven't pinpointed the cause of abdominal pains which hospitalized Tricia Nixon, but President Nixon's elder daughter is reported improving and free of pain.

The White House reported Wednesday that Tricia was still under observation at Walter Reed Hospital, where she was taken by ambulance Tuesday morning.

The Western White House at earlier Wednesday that the San Clemente, Calif., reported President's 23-year-old daughter was out of bed, eating and "doing well."

Summer Youth Recognition Program Started At YMCA

Larry Moreno, 19-year-old supervisor of the YMCA game room, initiated a youth recognition program at the "Y" this summer that has drawn wide participation from the youngsters, according to Curtis Mullins, general secretary of the "Y."

Youth members of the YMCA made nominations for the weekly award and summer staff members made the final decision based upon attitude, respect for others, furthering the purposes of the YMCA, and aiding in developing Christian personalities.

Recipients of the award during July were Tammy Taylor, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Renee Taylor, 1004 Stadium; Johnny Tonn, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Tonn, 2311 Roberts; Randy Marshall, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Marshall, 609 Caylor Drive; and Darla Carlie, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Carlie, 1204 Lloyd.

Russ Attack On Chinese Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP) — According to reports received here the Soviets are sounding out opinion on the possibility of a Russian armed strike against Red China's atomic weapons installations.

Reports emanating from some West European party sources last month said the Soviets had sounded them out for a reaction in the event of such an attack.

However, other information reaching Washington has cast doubt on the truth of these reports, which came from Western party circles following the Communist Congress in Moscow last June.

Versions from some other Western delegates at the meeting tend to discount the reports as exaggerations or as deliberate misinformation promoted by non-Soviet Communist factions for their own interest.

The general opinion in the U.S. government is that Russia and Communist China will remain sharply at odds but any armed conflicts are likely to be limited to border clashes.

Fire Destroys Hugo Building

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed the old Wright Building in downtown Hugo Wednesday night. The building had been vacant since it was sold recently to the Security First National Bank of Hugo as a site for a new bank.

There was no estimate of damage.

It was the second fire in the structure in the past three weeks. Another blaze, also of undetermined origin, destroyed the Three-C Cafe on Aug. 9.

PENTAGON DISAGREES Enemy Infiltration Drop 'Significant'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is all but arguing publicly with the State Department over whether a recent reduction in enemy infiltration into South Vietnam can be considered "significant."

The State Department used the term Wednesday, saying the infiltration drop suggests that Hanoi may be letting its force level in the South go down through attrition.

"We consider these facts to be significant and have said so on several occasions," Press Officer Robert McCloskey said at a State Department briefing.

Called upon to provide some statistical backing for State's position, the Pentagon later would acknowledge only that infiltration is "down considerably" from last year and that enemy strength may have suffered some loss.

But the Pentagon avoided—deliberately, according to sources—embracing the term "significant," and in a three-page statement listed no fewer than eight reasons why the recent infiltration decline may be short-lived.

The Pentagon, differing with State, contended that North Vietnam "is substantially replacing" its losses through the current infiltration rate.

Among factors cited by the Pentagon "that could influence the present lower infiltration rates":

—Fewer infiltrators showed up in South Vietnam this summer because the late spring monsoon season over Laos, a principal infiltration route made travel difficult on the so-called Ho Chi Minh trail.

—The enemy has needed fewer replacements recently because of its "stand-off" operations.

—The enemy may have made a political decision not to increase his forces but "this decision can be altered at will and on short notice."

The Pentagon also cited such other things as the close proximity of North Vietnamese troops to the Demilitarized Zone and their deployment in border sanctuaries handy to the battlefields, as well as their ability to move rapidly over a travel system improved since the United States stopped bombing the north.

The Pentagon released no infiltration figures officially, but sources said only about 5,000 enemy troops have shown up the last month or so, compared with an average of about 11,000 a month in 1968 and about 15,000 per month during the first half of 1969.

The chief problem, according to uniformed officers, is that infiltration rates throughout the war have shown a cyclical pattern of peaks and valleys.

"You can find any number of times when we could have picked out a low point and called it significant, only to find out a few months later we were wrong," one Pentagon official commented.

Furthermore, there are several different sets of infiltration figures available to the government, reflecting "confirmed," "probable" and "possible" infiltration totals. Officers say it takes four to six months to get a reliable "confirmed" total.

The suggestion from the military was that the State Department is basing its "significant" judgment on "soft" or very recent infiltration estimates which have not been verified.

Figures on enemy strength in Vietnam, as supplied to the Pentagon by the U.S. Command in Vietnam, have remained unchanged for months, a range of 100,000 to 120,000. This consists of about 75,000 North Vietnamese, with the remainder Viet Cong.

Enemy combat losses have been running upwards of 2,000 per week.

Pope Invited To Osaka Fair

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese Foreign Ministry said today the government has invited Pope Paul VI to the 1970 World's Fair in Osaka but has not invited the pontiff to visit Hiroshima on the 25th anniversary of its atomic bombing.

A spokesman said the Pope was invited to the fair because invitations went to heads of all states sponsoring pavilions at the fair next summer.

The spokesman said Japan has received no reply from the Vatican about the invitation.

On Aug. 26, a political science professor from the University of Hiroshima handed the Pope an invitation to attend the anniversary ceremonies in Hiroshima next Aug. 6. Commenting on Italian press reports that the Pope might attend, the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said Tuesday that the Pope had not been invited to Japan "by the competent authorities." It made no mention of

Youth Fares Rule Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students preparing to fly back to school can count on youth standby and reservation fares remaining in effect through the football season, and probably through the school year.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said in an opinion Wednesday that its examiner, Arthur S. Present, was wrong when he ruled last Jan. 21 that youth fares were unjustly discriminatory and should be canceled.

The board said the fares—which enable the 12-to-22-year age group to travel at half fare on a standby basis or at two-thirds fare on a reserved-seat basis—are by their nature discriminatory, but without the offensive, blatant character of racial or religious discrimination.

Accordingly, the board returned the case to the examiner for further hearings and a new ruling. This could take months.

Meanwhile the youth fares will remain in effect on the two airlines that offer both types—Continental and Northeast; the 11 that offer standby fares only—Alaska, Aloha, American, Hawaiian, New York Airways, Northwest, Pan American, San Francisco & Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Trans World, United and Western; and the 11 that provide reservation fares—Air East, Allegheny, Braniff, Delta, Eastern, Frontier, National, North Central, Ozark, Southern and Texas International.

Has Decided Not To Resign

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Vice President Simon Kapwepwe, who sparked a political and tribal crisis Monday by announcing his resignation, now says he has decided not to quit after all.

Kapwepwe told a news conference Wednesday night that he had changed his mind because Africans were protesting his resignation and "had threatened to start violence."

The 47-year-old vice president had said he was quitting because some members of the government did not recognize him as vice president, because of tribal discrimination and because he feared bloodshed if he stayed on.

Accident Kills

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Alvin Davis, 43, of Houston died Wednesday night when the tractor-trailer rig he was driving and an automobile collided three miles north of Edinburg.

The occupants of the car escaped minor injury.

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT OR CONSTRUCTION

The Texas Highway Department is proposing to proceed with the development of two proposed highway improvements in Big Spring, one on U.S. 87 from 1.7 miles south of F.M. 700 to F.M. 700 and the other one on F.M. 700 from Goliad Street to IH 20.

Since the Bureau of Public Roads has approved the design proposed for the project on U.S. 87 and since the Texas Highway Department has approved the design proposed for the development of the project on F.M. 700, work will begin on the next phase of engineering necessary for the development of these projects.

The proposed work consists of reconstructing and widening to make four-lane pavement with joint medians. In general, there will be no change in right-of-ways except some small parcels for widening obtained on U.S. 87. No relocation of persons or buildings are involved.

Maps, drawings showing geometric design and all other available data concerning the development of these projects may be inspected at the Resident Engineer's office on State Highway 350 at IH 20 in Big Spring.

Bitter Battle To Win More Jobs For Blacks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A bitter struggle to win more jobs for blacks in the construction industry moves from the street to the conference table today.

Owners of 10 major projects involving more than $200 million, targets of three days of angry protests by hundreds of black and white demonstrators, agreed Wednesday night to suspend operations until next Tuesday.

The move was hailed as a victory by leaders of the Black Construction Coalition, which called the demonstrations to force an increase in the two percent Negro membership share among the city's 30,000 trade unionists. Byrd Brown, a coalition leader, said of the protest: "It has been a qualified success. We began the demonstrations to bring construction to a halt and to force the Master Builders' Association and the trade unions council to negotiate.

"But we still have no black people working on these jobs, and until we do it won't be a complete success."

During the three days of demonstrations in downtown streets, more than 225 persons were arrested and 35 demonstrators and 12 policemen were injured.

Brown, chairman of the Pittsburgh chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, appeared on television with Mayor Joseph Barr to make the announcement.

Grove Named For Mrs. LBJ

ORICK, Calif. (AP) — In the cathedral-like setting of a giant redwood grove President Nixon had dedicated to her, Lady Bird Johnson reminded Americans that "conservation is indeed a bipartisan business."

"All of us have the same stake in this magnificent continent—the same love for it and the same feeling that it is going to belong to our children and grandchildren," the former first lady said Wednesday, "and the same opportunity to work in our time to see that it stays glorious."

It was the climax of a day in which Nixon saluted former President Lyndon B. Johnson's wife for her conservation and beautification efforts in five years as first lady. They also celebrated Johnson's 61st birthday with cake and serenades of "Happy Birthday."

The Nixon and Johnson families traveled by plane and helicopter 670 miles from San Clemente to this remote Northern California coastal area.

Standing on a redwood platform beneath a 234-foot tall, 675-year-old redwood, Nixon signed a proclamation naming a 300-acre "Lady Bird Johnson Grove." Mrs. Johnson had dedicated the park on this same spot Nov. 25, 1968.

minutes earlier from jail, where he was taken after being arrested during Wednesday's demonstrations.

Barr said the decision, reached during an emergency meeting of owners in his office, was made to prevent further disruption and violence, and to open negotiations between the builders and unions and the Black Construction Coalition.

"It is imperative that negotiations continue and that an agreement satisfactory to all parties be reached so that order can be restored to this community," Barr said.

The mayor, whose office had released figures showing Negroes made up two per cent of trade union members, called the Black Coalition cause "right."

Last week, the Master Builders' Association and the Trade Unions Council announced plans to train 80 to 100 blacks as apprentices.

The proposal was rejected by coalition leaders, who claimed they were not consulted.

Against the rest of the National League's pitchers, Koozman is 6-0-for-58, but against Kirby he is 3-for-5 after two hits Wednesday night.

Koozman's line single, his first hit in 49 at bats, in the third inning, started a rally that ended in Cleon Jones' two-run double for a 2-1 lead. He beat out a topper in the seventh. His only other hit this year, off Kirby, was a bunt single.

Adams had rallied strongly on the second day with a 68.

Wortham claimed the 12-13 year crown with a two-day total of 164. Donnie Winslow, Midland, took the runner-up spot in a playoff with Jimmy Stewart, Big Spring. Both had finished the regulation 36 holes in 165 strokes.

Beoka claimed the title in the 16-17 age group with a 140 for the two days. He settled for a 70 each day.

Romo Shining As Starter For Boston

Vicente Romo is missing again—this time from the Boston Red Sox bullpen.

Romo, the wandering Mexican reliever who disappeared from the club for 36 hours in Chicago a couple of weeks ago, hasn't been back to the bullpen since.

Manager Dick Williams, who decided Romo didn't make enough money to be fined for his AWOL escapade, has turned him into a starter and with good results. The stocky right-hander pitched his first complete game in the majors Wednesday night, beating Kansas City 4-3.

That gave Romo a 2-1 record as a starter for the Red Sox and 5-9 overall. He scattered nine hits and got credit for the victory when Syd O'Brien's two-out, bases-loaded single drove in George Scott with the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning.

In other American League action Wednesday, Detroit blanked Oakland 2-0, Minnesota clipped Washington 4-1 in 10 innings, Baltimore jolted Seattle 7-2 and New York downed Chicago 6-3.

Romo left the Red Sox without an explanation on the club's last trip to Chicago. He turned up 1½ days later safe and sound after the Red Sox had called out just about everyone but the Marines to search for him.

The pitcher's explanation was that he had become ill and stayed at a friend's house. Williams docked Romo one day's pay but did not fine him, explaining, "Vicente can't afford a big fine on the salary he's making."

But the manager did spring Romo from the bullpen after his return, and so far the results have been good.

Wortham Cops Golf Crown

ANDREWS - Dub Huckabee, Monahans; Ross Wortham, Iraan; and Jay Boeka, Amarillo, won division titles in the Tournament of Champions, a 36-hole junior golf program which ended here Wednesday.

The tournament climax activities for the year pit used by the West Texas chapter of the PGA.

Huckabee tied John Adams, Midland, in regulation play with the help of a hole-in-one on the 17th and then won on the second extra hole. The two were competing for the 14-15 year title.

Adams had rallied strongly on the second day with a 68.

Wortham claimed the 12-13 year crown with a two-day total of 164. Donnie Winslow, Midland, took the runner-up spot in a playoff with Jimmy Stewart, Big Spring. Both had finished the regulation 36 holes in 165 strokes.

Beoka claimed the title in the 16-17 age group with a 140 for the two days. He settled for a 70 each day.

Mike Knight, Lubbock, won second place in a playoff with Glen Ramin, Snyder. Each had a 143 for the regulation rounds. Knight prevailed on the second extra hole.

Dramatic Structure In Dallas To Be World's Tallest Tower

A new tourist attraction for Dallas, combined with a startling new downtown building featuring a 600-room hotel, was announced by C. Wesley Goyer Jr., managing partner of Griffin Square, Ltd. and Ernest E. Renaud, vice president of development for Fred Harvey, Inc.

The dramatic structure, a cylindrical tower 913 feet high, will be the first building to be constructed in the 32-acre downtown Dallas redevelopment announced last fall by Goyer, Dallas real estate investor.

Fred Harvey, Inc., the internationally known hotel-restaurant company, will operate the hotel accommodations in 28 floors of the tower on a long-term lease. Executive office suites will occupy the lower 21 floors. The structure will be topped by an indoor-outdoor observation area and a revolving restaurant, both reached by glass-enclosed express elevators, and together adding a leading tourist attraction to downtown Dallas.

The tower, world's tallest concrete building, will exceed in height such tall structures as Houston's new Shell Building (714 feet); New York's Pan-Am Building (808 feet); and the renowned RCA Building at Rockefeller Center (850 feet). The observation deck at 900 feet will exceed by one foot that of the Eiffel Tower (899 feet); by 300 feet San Antonio's Tower of the Americas (600 feet); and by 352 feet Seattle's famed Space Needle (518 feet).

The proposed tower will contain approximately one million square feet of floor area, and will cost close to $30 million.

Goyer also stated that negotiations with a large international corporation to become the major tenant in the office portion of the tower have not been completed.

Amfac, the parent corporation of Fred Harvey, Inc., is based in Honolulu. It is widely diversified, with major interests in financing, wholesale and retail merchandising, sugar production, real estate development, and hotel operations. The corporation's assets exceed $176,000,000, and include 80,000 valuable Hawaiian acres. Its revenues in 1968, which marked the 119th year of operation, passed the $200,000,000 mark.

Amfac and Harvey presently operate over 4,200 hotel rooms and are constructing 2,800 more, to be completed within the next 2½ years. In addition to its long-time Grand Canyon Park operations, Fred Harvey properties on the West Coast include the Victor Hugo Inn in Laguna Beach; the Furnace Creek Inn at Death Valley; and the show-place of Northern California, Silverado at Napa. The company has recently leased and will operate the 800-room Airport Marina hotel at Los Angeles' International Airport. The firm employs over 5,000 people in its various facilities.

Griffin Square, located in the southwestern quadrant of downtown Dallas, stretches along Young Street from the Convention Center site, west to the studios of WFAA-TV, and south nearly to the R. L. Thornton Freeway. The tower will face Griffin Street at the point it is to be intersected by the new grand entranceway to the Dallas Convention Center. Ultimately, the WORLD'S TALLEST—This dramatic circular tower, a new Dallas tourist attraction and hotel, will be the first structure to rise in the 32-acre downtown Griffin Square development. The 913-foot tower will have hotel accommodations in the upper portion and will be topped by an observation gallery and revolving restaurant, to be reached by glass enclosed elevators. Luxury office suites will occupy the lower portion.

total development will involve an literally the product of such prior investment of more than $200 million.

"Griffin Square, which has attracted and will continue to attract major investment from outside Dallas, is commitments as the Southland Center, Republic and First National Bank buildings, Main Place, Goals for Dallas program, Crossroads Bond Issue, City Hall complex, the Convention Center and the Ponte-Travers plan for downtown Dallas. All of these inspired the confidence of out-of-town investors to make this startling structure and major redevelopment a fact," Goyer explained.

He added, "Dallas' recent financial commitments to its core will be exceeded many times over by additional tax revenues from Griffin Square and from other downtown redevelopment stimulated by the broad vision of its citizens in investing their municipal dollars."

The Griffin Square site, which has been railroad and warehouse property for nearly 80 years, will be cleared by May, 1970, at which time construction is expected to begin. To assemble the new complex, approximately 12½ acres were bought from the Santa Fe Railroad; 12½ from the Cotton Belt; and seven from Communications Realty, Inc., a subsidiary of the Dallas Morning News. Rockefeller Center in New York, perhaps the best known contains 14½ acres.

Phase Two of the Griffin Square development calls for a number of retail uses, including fine restaurants, theaters, night clubs and specialty shops.

"The most exciting thing about the structure is that it contains one million square feet of space, yet covers less than one-third of an acre," Goyer said, adding, "Only such technical innovations as this will permit gracious open spaces in our central cities while maintaining the economics of downtown land values. Specifically, we plan that in Griffin Square two-thirds of the site will be set aside for parks, pools and landscaped walkways, providing for people a garden environment — sunlight, fresh air, trees and flowers — right in the middle of the city."

"There are a number of innovations in the construction techniques of the Griffin Square tower that make this 913-foot structure competitive in cost," Henry C. Beck said. "It is a creative adaptation of proven construction techniques to meet tomorrow's building needs."

"Innovations in structure, vertical transportation and building techniques make the tower design realistic at great heights," Hal Box, a member of the architectural firm, has explained.

"This exciting structural system consists of a reinforced concrete perimeter, which is a stressed skin, in addition to a reinforced concrete central core, which contains mechanical, electrical and communication services," Tom Taylor, of Chappel, Taylor & Mitchell, said. "Precast concrete floor slabs span these two structural tubes, with the result that the building has no columns and no beams to interfere with the efficient planning of commercial office layouts."

Herman Blum explained that the ribs of the tower exterior will provide sun protection for the glass areas and will reduce air conditioning tonnage; also, that the central core in the circular floor plan permits short utility runs, contributing to the efficiency and economy of the very tall structure and simplifying the providing of private lavatories and kitchenettes in the office suites.

"The tower will be the landmark of Griffin Square," Goyer said, but he also re-emphasized that the open spaces, the parks and the total environment are equally important. "At this time, my partners and I visualize a kind of Twenty-first Century, multi-level use of downtown real estate, with contrasting areas of tranquil beauty and exciting activity for all ages. We are fortunate that Dallas is a city where people want to be, and it is our intention to make Griffin Square a place where people will enjoy coming because it is stimulating and a place of great quality and great charm."

The developer said he is enthusiastic about the tower and its significance not only to the downtown section, but to the City of Dallas. He said that the dramatic cylindrical configuration, as well as the height, of the structure will make it an outstanding attraction for Dallas visitors.

Final plans for the observation area and the revolving restaurant have not been completed, Goyer pointed out, but he said the designers are incorporating a number of other entertainment features in addition to a thrilling elevator ride and the panoramic view.

80 JOHN—The story of Daniel Webster "80 John" Wallace, whose career began in slavery and ended as a successful rancher in Mitchell County, is a highlight of the Negro histo-wall at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio. The photo of "80 John," shown above, is also on display.

Story Told On Histo-Wall

SAN ANTONIO — From birth as a slave to a successful career as a Negro rancher is the life story of Daniel Webster "80 John" Wallace of Mitchell County, near Colorado City.

The tall, ambitious Wallace eventually owned more than 10,000 acres of land and was one of the most respected ranchmen of the old west. In his lifetime, he saw the buffalo disappear from the frontier and was the oldest resident-pioneer of Mitchell County.

The story of Wallace and a photo of him are on display on the Negro histo-wall at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio.

Wallace's mother, Mary Wallace, had been sold to a family in Victoria County for $1,000 one year before his birth. He was born near the town of Victoria on Sept. 15, 1860, one year prior to the start of the Civil War.

When he was still a young child, his mother sent him to the fields to chop and plow all day. But he dreamed of riding the open range as a cowboy.

Since Wallace had grown up on a ranch and learned how to ride a horse and drive cattle at an early age, he went to work as a cowhand when he was 17 years old. He left the Victoria area with all his possessions tied on a saddle behind him.

The ensuing days were happy ones for the young cowboy who had realized his dream. The only cloud on his untroubled horizon was the frequent Comanche raid which usually occurred at night when the trail drivers were not on guard.

In a book on her father, published in 1960 and titled, "The Story of '80 John,'" his daughter, Hettye Wallace Branch, described the early Texas of Wallace's youth as:

"Unsettled by barbed wire and train smoke, a cowman's paradise of running water, grass-covered hills and wide fertile valleys."

While working for Rancher Clay Mann, he made the long journey up the trail to Dodge City, Kansas. In 1877, he helped Mann drive the first herd of cattle into what is now Colorado City.

Mann's cattle were branded with a large "80." It was from this that

Wallace got the nickname that was to last a lifetime, "80 John."

In the years that followed, "80 John" suffered most of the hardships of the frontiersman. There was extreme cold in winter, frequent prairie fires and the big drought of 1883. But there were personal compensations. He was so respected by Mann that he often was entrusted with as much as $30,000 in cash to deliver to cattlemen in payment for new herds.

When the other boys spent their money in the dance halls, saloons and gambling places, Wallace went back to camp and saved his, for he had still another dream. He wanted to own a ranch.

With the money he saved, "80 John" bought cattle which Mann permitted him to pasture on his ranch. Wallace branded them with his surname, later changing to "DW."

In 1885, he purchased two sections of land, three miles southeast of Lorraine in Mitchell County. This was the beginning of his career as a cattlemen.

Things went well at first, but the drought of 1894 brought disaster to Wallace, who had to sell his cattle at a much lower price than he had paid. However, an old friend, Winfield Scott, came to his aid and loaned him $10,000 to restock his land.

In the 1890's and at a cost of $2,500, he drilled one of the first water wells in West Texas to be pumped by a windmill.

A man of little formal education, Wallace was nevertheless a good businessman. He was well-respected by other ranchers and generous with his time and money.

Although he had received only a little over two years of schooling, Wallace contributed toward the establishment of a Negro school near Colorado City, which was named in his honor. Later it became a high school and now has been integrated.

When "80 John" died on March 28, 1939, he was the owner of 10,000 acres of land, 600 cattle, a modern eight-room house, barns, lots and corrals.

Today, his descendants still operate the ranch founded of the dreams, ingenuity and hard work of a former Negro slave.

Blacksmith's Shop Given To Tech

LUBBOCK — A building once used for the frontier's inventive artisan, the blacksmith, and $20,000 memorializing the I. L. Ellwood family were given recently to the Ranch Headquarters at Texas Tech.

The gifts were announced by Frank H. Chappell Jr., a member of the committee working to establish an authentic southwestern ranch headquarters at the site of The Museum at Texas Tech.

The $20,000 gift will go for the general cash need for the project and brings to $129,820 the total pledged. To keep the development on schedule, $200,000 must be pledged by Sept. 1.

The gifts of the $20,000 and the Blacksmith shop were made by Mr. and Mrs. Chappell and by Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Bassham of Colorado City in memory of the Ellwood family. Mrs. Bassham is the sister of Chappell.

The gifts were made with this notation: "In memory of the Ellwood family — their barbed wire and ranching enterprises as such have contributed to the development of the area. We should like to request particular mention in memory of Col. I. L. Ellwood, Mrs. W. L. Ellwood and Jean Ellwood Chappell."

Chappell manages for the family the Randerbrook Spade Ranch near Colorado City and the Chappell Spade Ranch at Tucumcari, N.M.

The Southwest Collection at Texas Tech previously received from the Ellwood Estates approximately 300,000 leaves of material on family enterprises dating back to 1860. At one time the family controlled about 400,000 acres of Texas rangeland.

Col. Isaac L. Ellwood was the co-inventor and manufacturer of barbed wire. Chappell and Mrs. Bassham are his great-grandchildren.

In 1889, Col. Ellwood, who lived in DeKalb, Ill., purchased the 130,000-acre Randerbrook Ranch near Colorado City. Two years later he added the Spade Ranch of 128,000 acres in Hale, Hockley and Lamb counties.

The Randerbrook Ranch was expanded later to 160,000 acres. The Spade Ranch was expanded to more than 268,000 acres by his son, W. L. Ellwood, making it one of the largest Texas ranches.

The gift of the blacksmith shop from the Randerbrook Spade Ranch was particularly appropriate since barbed wire which built the Ellwood fortunes originally was developed in a blacksmith shop.

"The best blacksmiths were artists at their trade," Chappell said, pointing out that they were the inventors on the range.

The art of shoeing horses was only a minor part of blacksmithing. Shrinking steel tires to fit wagon wheels was an art now almost lost to the West, Chappell said, and there were other jobs for the blacksmith to do.

"When a problem came along, and a particular piece of equipment was needed," he said, "the blacksmith would devise something that could be used. Many pieces of early ranch equipment were the brainchildren of able blacksmiths."

Chappell said the final effect of the blacksmith shop, when it becomes a part of the Ranch Headquarters "will be as if the blacksmith just went off to lunch and left it."

RANCHING HERITAGE — Frank Chappell Jr. rides the Randerbrook Spade range with an ailing calf over the saddle. Mr. and Mrs. Chappell and Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Bassham, Colorado City, have given the Ranch Headquarters at Texas Tech $20,000 and the Randerbrook Spade blacksmith shop which will become a part of the authentic Ranch Headquarters at the site of The Museum at Texas Tech. Mrs. Bassham is Chappell's sister. The gift was given in memory of Col. I. L. Ellwood, co-inventor of barbed wire, W. L. Ellwood and Jean Ellwood Chappell.

Committee Discusses Fall Recital, Book Drive

The Chamber of Commerce Cultural Affairs Committee decided to investigate the possibilities of a winter faculty recital and of sponsoring a book drive for the new library at its regular meeting Wednesday.

The first part of November was determined to be the best time for the faculty recital, similar to the one held earlier this year. Mrs. Harold Davis suggested the time after Christmas might be better, but Mrs. Roy Cederberg said it might conflict with concerts held at that time.

Mrs. Richard Davis suggested the campaign to help collect books for the library when it moves into its expanded facilities in the old post office building.

"Maybe we should sponsor a book drive," Mrs. Davis said, "even if we have to use part of our treasury. We could collect old books too."

"Maybe we could also purchase one good book in each art field," Mrs. Harold Davis said, "to make sure the library is well supplied." She suggested inviting Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian, to the next meeting to discuss possibilities along this line.

Earlier Mrs. Richard Davis reported attendance at the Starlight Specials was good every night except perhaps Talent Night; she said Western Night had the biggest turnout. The specials netted $144.49, with receipts totaling $540.66 and expenditures $396.17. The amount paid Roy Rogan for operating the sound system was $181.

Suggestions for next year's Specials included moving the time so they wouldn't conflict with Little League playoffs, bringing in out-of-town talent, putting the admission price on the posters and exploring ways to let the people in the overnight camping park know something was happening.

Mrs. Robert Knight reported there was a larger crowd this year at the July 4 "Let Free-

The bidding:

4♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠
South, the declarer at four hearts, was able to avoid risking a guess as to the location of the missing queen of trumps, by laying down a smoke screen which caught an unwary opponent off guard.

West led the king of spades and East started an echo by playing the jack. Despite the appearance of his partner's honor, West was a little dubious of continuing the suit, for fear that he would establish North's queen. In an effort to make a play for East while he still had control of the spade suit, West switched at the second trick to the nine of clubs. The four was played from dummy and East put up the jack to dislodge the declarer's king.

South observed that he was confronted with the loss of two tricks in spades and one in diamonds. It was therefore necessary for him to pick up the queen of hearts which would offer no problem if the suit were divided two-two. However, he was a bit reluctant to bang down the top trump honors without further ado, and he decided to make an attempt to enlist his opponents' assistance first.

A small spade was led from the closed hand West rose with the ace. Another club was returned and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer now led the queen of spades in the manner of someone who was seeking a sluff. East hastened to frustrate this measure by ruffing in with the seemingly worthless three of hearts.

South overruffed with the five and since East was so willing to part with a trump, it appeared unlikely that the latter had the guarded queen of hearts. South cashed the ace of trumps and when East showed out, a marked finesse in hearts thru West became clearly indicated.

Whether or not East should have ruffed in when the queen of spades was led is, perhaps, debatable, but declarer certainly did all he could to mask his intentions. Furthermore, in the absence of this preliminary maneuvering, it is extremely doubtful that South would ever have ventured to finesse West for the queen of trumps.

Pot-Sniffers Are Looking For Mary Jane In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Cookie and Smidgen are looking for Mary Jane in Vietnam. The two are a male-female team of German shepherd dogs brought into the country by the U.S. Army on "temporary duty status" after 16 weeks of intensive training on Okinawa. They were drafted for a military effort to curb the shipment of marijuana back to the States by servicemen. Cookie and Smidgen are the only two dogs who passed the course out of 30 candidates. For 16 weeks the dogs were trained in basic obedience, safety, retrieving, and scouting, taking on their complex sniffing missions starting with a marijuana-filled toy. The purchase and use of marijuana, also called Mary Jane, by GIs has long been a problem in Vietnam, although the extent has often been the subject of controversy. The cannabis plant is so readily—and cheaply—available in Vietnam, it is not surprising that some GIs think of mailing some to their friends back home. In typical demonstrations, Cookie and Smidgen sniff their way past assorted pieces of baggage or packages and individuals and sniff out planted marijuana shipments or personal "stashies" in a man's baggy fatigue pockets. For his find the dog is rewarded with an affectionate pat on the head and given his stuffed toy to chew on while he bones up for his next sniffing mission. The toy is to remind the dog of the smell of marijuana while he's not sniffing packages. According to the rules, the trainer can show affection for his dog only when he finds a hidden package. During one demonstration at a military police battalion headquarters Smidgen failed to detect one packet. "The dogs are not 100 per cent effective. They occasionally make mistakes the same as people do," said Sgt. Enos Cooper, the senior instructor in the program. After several weeks in Vietnam, the dogs' performance will be evaluated and recommendations made whether to expand the program. If the dogs get the go-ahead, several more German shepherds selected for their "military aptitudes" now in training at the Military Police School at Ft. Gordon, Ga., will join Cookie and Smidgen.

Says Judy Died Million In Debt

LONDON (AP) — Judy Garland's husband says she died a million dollars in debt, including half a million owed to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. "Too many sharks in the business used her as a pawn to their own ends," said Mickey Deans, the singer's fifth husband. Deans said the condition of the estate was "why I was able to laugh at the people who said I married her for her money. I don't expect anything except the bills."

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a waitress in a very nice restaurant which is located on an interstate highway. It's one of a well-known chain. I greet everyone with a smile and try to give good service. Sometimes I exchange chat with my customers, but I never get overly familiar. I am happily married and have four children.

About three months ago a man came in alone and I served him. I don't know who he is or where he's from. He was well-dressed and well-mannered. He didn't talk much but he did tell me about his grandchildren. I also told him about my family. I showed no more interest in him than any other customer and he never made a pass at me.

About three weeks later this man came in again and sat in my section. I remembered him, greeted him cheerfully and served him. When he left he gave me a hundred-dollar bill for a tip. I was flabbergasted! I really tried to give it back but he wouldn't take it.

About three weeks later he came in again, and the same thing happened. After it happened a third time I took the three one-hundred-dollar bills down to the bank to find out if maybe they were counterfeit. They were real and legitimate.

I haven't spent any of it. I'm afraid if I do, he might turn out to be some kind of eccentric and his family might demand the money back. He seems perfectly sane and normal to me, but I wonder now just what I should do? PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: If you haven't already told your husband, tell him. You are wise to save the money for the time being in case The Last of the Big-Time Spenders turns out to be a disturbed or shady character. Maybe he is on the level, but I'm suspicious. It's a little early for Santa Claus.

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful husband and children, too, but don't use my name as this is a small town and I'm known here.

I love my husband and he loves me. So what's my problem? My husband's brother, I feel strongly attracted to him, and it is so frustrating because we are around each other a lot. I know that he feels a strong attraction for me, too. He is also married, and has a family, but you can't change what you feel, can you? I wouldn't want to jeopardize my own marriage, or his either, but I sometimes feel that if I don't get this guy alone just once I am going to jump out of my skin. It's getting worse all the time. How can I control it? Or should I make the first move and get it over with? He wouldn't be hard to get. ATTRACTED

DEAR ATTRACTED: I mean keep busy, think of something else, and keep your mind off this man. You're undoubtedly "flirting" with him, and he's responding. CUT IT OUT! It's marital suicide.

Hunter Craft Check Storm

MIAMI (AP) — A tropical disturbance moving toward the Windward Islands produced a threat of heavy showers and gusty winds today and hurricane hunter aircraft were ordered to check it for any sign of intensification.

The disturbance sprang up as tropical storm Eve degenerated into a low pressure area of minor squalls southwest of Bermuda.

The San Juan, P.R., weather bureau said the latest disturbance was about 200 miles east of the Lesser Antilles early today. Highest winds were estimated at 35 miles an hour.

Residents of the Windward Islands were cautioned to be alert to possible intensification as the system moved westward.

Meanwhile, a third disturbance was being tracked midway between Africa and the Antilles. It moved off the African coast last Sunday on a course that was taking it westward at 15 m.p.h.

Accused Of Failure To Pay Food Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Broderick Crawford, accused of failure to pay a grocery bill totaling $4,988, has until Oct. 30 to answer the complaint.

Crawford, 57, surrendered Wednesday on a bench warrant issued when he failed to appear for previous hearing on the matter. Superior Court Commissioner Jacqueline L. Weiss then rescheduled the hearing for Oct. 30.

Told To Pay

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Peter Francis Tregaskis, sued for alimony, told the Supreme Court here he could not pay monthly support to his wife and offered instead to let her have any of his personal belongings she might want.

To prove it, he began undressing on the spot. He removed his coat and tie and was unbuttoning his shirt when a court orderly warned him to get dressed or get out. The judge ordered him to pay Rands 70 ($88) a month to support his wife and two minor children.

Word Is Selected Senate Pro Tem

AUSTIN (AP) — The new president pro tempore of the Texas Senate is Sen. J. P. Word, 40, a 6-foot-4 former county judge from Meridian.

Word succeeds Sen. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock, who served during this 30-day special session.

Word ranks eighth in Senate seniority, the basis for choosing the pro tem.

He was county judge of Bosque County before his election to the Senate in 1962. He is chairman of the Nominations Committee.

Special Position For Special Girl

NASHVILLE (AP) — A young Wheeling, W. Va., woman, Patricia Jarvis, who spent two years as a Christian worker among youths in an area of Brooklyn, is the Methodist Church's special ambassador to the inclusive church.

The assignment includes speaking at youth gatherings, summer institutes, campus churches and Sunday services across the country. "This young lady communicates," says the Rev. Dr. Lawrence Lacour of the church's evangelism board. "She has a story to tell and she tells it with directness and power."

Westerners Like College Drama

NEW YORK (AP) — A study by the U.S. Office of Education

shows college drama is more popular with western audiences than those in eastern states.

The survey found a national average of one person in every 38.7 attends a production put on by collegiate groups. At extremes, only one in 769.7 persons saw a show in Georgia, but in Utah the ratio was one in 8.7. Altogether, five million playgoers saw 10,000 campus exhibits.

Drag Race Rabbi

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Rabbi Robert Schechtman, 28, who toots around town in a white souped-up sports car called "Heavenly Hauler" and who has won several drag races in the area, says his car speaks louder to teenagers than sermons.

"I have been able to show these teenagers that a religious person is a real person. To be religious doesn't mean that one must be withdrawn."

Liz Is 'Great' Lady Macbeth

LONDON (AP) — Actor Richard Burton says he thinks Elizabeth Taylor will make a great Lady Macbeth.

"It's a smashing part for a woman, and that's what appeals in this family," he said.

"The thing is, you've got to make everyone realize why Macbeth was so mad about her. Elizabeth can do it, I think. I've never seen a Lady Macbeth I wanted to leap into bed with."

"I can't say that I care for the character of Macbeth. I've always thought that Macbeth and Romeo were the most stupid men that Shakespeare ever created."

"Macbeth was just a bit thick, but Romeo was an absolute dunpkoft."

Genealogy Photos Is Society Topic

Photographs in genealogy will be the topic presented by Hollis R. Brice, Midland, Monday at 7 p.m. at the Permian Basin Genealogical Society meeting in the Ector County Library, 622 N. Lee, Odessa.

Brice, a geologist of Phillips Petroleum Company, will discuss types, age determination, identification, restoration and reproduction of antique photographs. He serves as president of the recently incorporated society, organized to promote the study of family history.

Bill Gooch, Ector County librarian and a member of the society's executive board, will present tentative plans for the books and photograph records sale, sponsored by the society, to be held in Odessa in September.

English Movie Made In Ireland

LONDON (AP) — The small Irish seaside town of Galway and its surrounding countryside was chosen as the site for filming the MGM epic "Alfred the Great."

Director Gilve Donner said he made the choice because the wild, unspoiled countryside resembled Anglo-Saxon Wessex in the England of 870 A.D.

The film stars David Hem-

Churches Rich

NEW YORK (AP) — Total wealth of religious institutions in the United States is estimated at $79.5 billion in a Philosophical Library publication, "Church Wealth and Business Income." It puts the Jewish holdings at $7 billion, the Protestant at $28 billion and Roman Catholic at $44.5 billion.

'Queen Of Soul' Cancels Bookings

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Aretha Franklin, the "Queen of Soul," has canceled the rest of her bookings for 1969 on the advice of her doctor.

A spokesman for Miss Franklin, 27, said she was suffering from the effects of overwork and needed a rest.

Cancellations include appearances on the Andy Williams and Tom Jones TV shows, three California concerts and a European tour.

Tax Sharing Idea Lauded By Connally

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Former Gov. John Connally of Texas told national legislative leaders federal tax sharing offers the states a chance to solve their own pressing problems.

"The basic common sense," he said, "of providing more resources to deal with our states' needs where they exist—at the state level, to those who know them best—is beyond partisanship," he said.

Connally was the first major speaker at the opening plenary session of the National Legislative Conference.

"Many of us have given long and relentless voice to the wisdom of this action, and I hope that this body will be heard clearly on the issue," Connally added.

"Without such resources, the best intentions of our state governments, will remain shackled, and the hopelessness of attempting to deal with all our problems in Washington—regardless of the administration, will eventually bring a breakdown in the ability of government to function effectively."

"If the challenges are formidable, the opportunities are staggering, for the very forces that have created turbulent change also have brought us a society more advanced than the wildest dreams of other eras."

He urged the legislators to "remember that despite the discord around us, the vast majority of our people are decent, honest, tax-paying citizens who are remarkably tolerant of all the imperfections of government and those of us who serve in it."

British Author Likes Musicals

LONDON (AP) — British playwright Peter Shaffer, author of the London and Broadway hit, "Royal Hunt of the Sun," says he wants to write a musical.

Shaffer, 41, told a newsman: "I have never had any desire to write an opera. All the emphasis is on the music."

"But I like the idea of a musical with Shaffer lyrics and Burt Bacharach music."

Shaffer said he had no special musical in mind, but it would have to be an original with the music genuinely springing from the story.

Two one-acters by Shaffer — "Black Comedy" and "The White Liar" — are at London's Lyric theater.

He begins work soon on his next play. The theme is topical: aggression.

Germans Say No Substitute For 'Bonanza'

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — This Sunday night will be a sad one for millions of West Germans. "Bonanza" will be making its last appearance on their TV sets.

"The entire Sunday won't be any fun any more," Robert Ferner of Kiel wrote in a letter to a television magazine.

In two years, the weekly adventures of Ben Cartwright and his boys have gained 47 per cent of the West German television audience on Sunday evenings—about 20 million viewers a week.

"We are receiving sacks of mail protesting the decision of Second German Television to drop the show," said one of the largest TV magazines, Bild and Funk. The letters come "not only from young Wild West fans but also from adults."

Spokesman for Second German Television said "Bonanza" originally was scheduled for a one-year run but was extended a year because it was so popular.

"We have just decided to bring in something else," said the spokesman. "We thought two years was enough and wanted to present some new faces."

Instead of Lorne Greene's face, the viewers will get Barbara Stanwyck's. "The Big Valley," another hit Western series in America, is the replacement. But "there is no substitute for 'Bonanza,'" wrote Baerbel Gabler of Bad Aibling. J. Sooker of Munich said that if West German television was operated by a private company instead of by public authorities, "they wouldn't have made such a catastrophically mistaken decision."

The show's creator, David Dortort, once said part of its success in the United States was due to the strong father figure of Ben Cartwright.

"I felt the country was crying out for a strong father image," he said.

That may explain some of the program's appeal in West Germany. In a letter to a magazine, Monika Stadler of Stuttgart wrote: "I am a widow with two minor children and when I have difficulties with them I have always pointed out that Ben Cartwright raises his children properly. He was like a father to my children."

Now can Barbara Stanwyck do as much for motherhood?

Clerical Baker

HONG KONG (AP) — Because about a fourth of the grade school children in four schools in his area got no breakfast before coming to school, a Maryknoll priest, the Rev. Ronald A. Saucy, has taken on a part-time job of supervising the baking of 3,800 buns daily for distribution to them.

East Arkansas Town 'Tense'

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — National Guardsmen and state troopers patrolled deserted Forrest City streets Wednesday night after a curfew and nightfall brought relative calm to this racially tense East Arkansas town.

About 100 guardsmen moved into the city by late afternoon to help about 80 state troopers, and Forrest City and St. Francis County authorities in enforcing a p.m. curfew. The guardsmen of a crowd of about 50 Negroes on one side of a four-block area around the city hall and police station in advance of the curfew as about 30 white pickets demonstrated in support of "law and order." About 100 persons were in the area to watch the activity.

There were no major incidents as guardsmen, troopers and city police cleared a crowd of about 50 Negroes on one side of the street and about 100 whites on the other about a block from city hall as the curfew siren sounded.

The area around the city hall and police station was the scene Tuesday night when five persons were accosted by angry members of a crowd of several hundred whites. Lance "Sweet Willie Wine" Watson, leader of a black militant group in Memphis called the Invaders and an organizer of a Negro boycott of Forrest City merchants, suffered a broken elbow in an altercation with several whites.

State Police reported the arrest after the curfew hour of five whites on weapons charges. Authorities said that in one case "two or three" rifles were confiscated. There also were several arrests for curfew violations.

Police Chief Marvin Gunn of Forrest City described the atmosphere as "highly tense—I would say it is explosive."

Stanton Lions Honor Teachers

STANTON (SC) — The Lions Club, in Tuesday's meeting, announced Sept. 15 as the date for its Teacher Appreciation Night.

Dr. Harold Smith, optometrist from Big Spring, and Mrs. Al Smith, health nurse for Stanton schools, talked about the visual testing machine the club will present to the school. The machine makes 32 tests and Dr. Smith said the majority of vision malfunction cases will fall within this range, thus speeding diagnosis and correction.

The Lions also discussed the donkey baseball game, Sept. 8 at 8 p.m. at the high school football field, to raise money for the purchase of the visual testing machine.

Library Sets A 'Free Week'

Howard County Library is having a Free Week on library fines, beginning Aug. 29 and ending Sept. 5, according to Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian.

Anyone returning overdue books during this time, regardless of the date due, will not be charged fines. By this, Mrs. McDaniel said, both the library and the library patron benefit — the library by having many long overdue books returned, and the patron by avoiding a large fine.

She also said "free weeks" in past years, both in Big Spring and in other cities, have been a valuable way of returning lost books to the library.

Scouts Help UF Campaign

Boy Scouts from Troop 178 of the Lone Star District were doing their part Wednesday afternoon to make the 1969-70 United Fund Campaign a success.

David Fisher, 14, Scott Miller, 12, Allan Born, 14, Max Brashears, 14, and Kent Brashears, 12, were sticking "Push United Fund" leaflets on windows and shelves in both the College Park and Highland South shopping centers. They were to continue their efforts downtown today with reinforcements.

The Scouts' action counts as part of the community service they must perform before getting their next badge. Don Campbell is their scoutmaster.

LONDON (AP) — American comedian Art Carney and comedienne Phyllis Diller have been signed to star in the film, "The Adding Machine." Jerry Epstein will produce and direct.

Mrs. Clemont Jones Joins 'Civilian' Life

After 21 years of military life, M. Sgt. and Mrs. Clemont Jones will be retiring this month for the life of civilians. They have been living at 227-A Langley, Webb Air Force Base, and will move with their three sons to 414 Westover.

Jones will join a local firm, and they plan to make Big Spring their permanent home. Their sons are Dana, 13, Bryan, 11, and Mark, eight.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have lived in Big Spring one year, and they have joined in community activities and have enjoyed spending their time here.

"The greatest thing about Big Spring is its friendly people," said Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Jones realizes there will be many adjustments to make from being with the military so long, but she believes the family can easily make the change.

Sgt. Jones has been non-commissioned officer in charge of radio maintenance for the communications squadron.

"One reason we want to make Big Spring our home is because of the church we joined," said Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Jones is teacher of the 15 year old girls Sunday school class, and Jones is superintendent of the 17 year old boys' department at First Baptist Church. Also, he is a deacon, and she sings in the choir and in a sextette.

"I am looking forward to moving to our new home," said Mrs. Jones. "We will rent for six months with an option to buy." The Jones have traveled extensively, and their home shows that they bought wisely in the places they have lived.

They spent three years in Berlin, Germany; four years outside London, England and have lived in Arizona, Illinois and California.

"We have liked wherever we have lived," smiled Mrs. Jones. She has collected antique glassware every place she could find it and has a lovely collection.

Mrs. Jones does oil paintings. She has been taking lessons since December and has done about 12 paintings, selling 10. "I have tried other mediums of art," said Mrs. Jones, "but I had never painted in oils, and it fascinates me."

"Originally, I am from Paxton, Ill., and Clemont is from

MRS. CLEMONT JONES

Trumann, Ark.," said Mrs. Jones. They met while he was stationed in Illinois, and she was working on her first job.

Mrs. Jones cooks each day without planning very far in advance. "We like simple foods, and the boys are very easy to please," she said. She plans the meals around her husband's work schedule and the boys' activities. Dana plays in the band and Bryan is a Boy Scout.

They have collections of coins, stamps and postcards.

Mrs. Jones and her husband play "42" with a group about once a month. They usually serve dessert and "don't go to a lot of trouble."

Another hobby of Mrs. Jones is reading. She prefers non-fiction or biographies. "Our whole family is composed of readers," she said.

Mrs. Jones is a member of the Child Study Club.

DIFFERENT CAKE

Bake In Ring Mold For Festive Sunday Dessert

Ever feel like running an ad for a different kind of delicious cake? Here's one that will answer that request: a cake that's spiced with four different spices with emphasis on ginger. Molasses, orange rind and nuts add extra festive notes.

Bake the cake in a ring mold rather than a traditional cake pan, then serve it centered with a fluffy combination of whipped cream, marshmallows and orange segments.

Grease and flour only the bottom, not the sides, of the ring mold or pan in which Orange-Ginger Cake is baked. Leaving the sides ungreased will give the cake a non-slick surface to which to cling, thus giving better volume.

The mixing method for this cake also departs from the traditional one. Dry ingredients are mixed by sifting, then the liquid ones are added.

FESTIVE ORANGE-GINGER CAKE

- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 2 tps. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. ginger
- ½ tsp. ground cloves
- ½ tsp. allspice
- ½ tsp. nutmeg
- ½ cup melted lard
- ½ cup light mild molasses
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. soda
- ½ cup boiling water
- 2 tps. grated orange rind
- ¼ cup chopped nuts

Grease and flour a 1½-quart ring mold or an 8x8-inch baking pan. Sift flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, ginger, cloves, allspice and nutmeg. Mix lard, molasses and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Add sifted ingredients and stir only until moistened. Dissolve soda in boiling water and immediately add to batter. Beat for one-half minute. Stir in orange rind and nuts. Pour mixture into baking pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes.

WHIPPED CREAM TOPPING

- 2 oranges
 - 8 marshmallows
 - ½ pt. whipping cream
- Peel and section oranges. Cut each section in half. Cut marshmallows into quarters. Whip cream until stiff. Fold in marshmallows and orange sections. Spoon into center of ginger cake mold or serve on top of squares. Yield: 8 to 9 servings.

Tighter Food Budgets Challenge Homemakers

The homemaker often finds herself a four-fold challenge.

With a tighter food budget in mind, she plans her family's meatless meals with (she hopes) an extra dash to pep up pre-fall spirits. With canned condensed soups, all this can be accomplished with delicious ease.

What could be a more flavorful sauce for flounder roll-ups than canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup? Already seasoned just right and blended to a creamy smoothness, it not only sauces the fish but lends a special touch to the stuffing mixture, too. The stuffing combines bread cubes, cooked tomatoes for color and zest, chopped celery for crunch, and mushrooms, oregano and garlic for additional flavor.

Here's an inexpensive meal well worthy of your finest company. Give it a festive air with a bowl of succotash and a lime meringue pie for dessert.

SAUCY FLOUNDER ROLL-UPS

- 1 can (11 oz.) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
 - ¼ cup chopped cooked tomatoes
 - ¼ tsp. oregano, crushed
 - ½ cups finely chopped celery
 - 1 can (2 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
 - 1 medium clove garlic, minced
 - 2 tps. butter or margarine
 - 2 cups dry bread cubes
 - 6 flounder filets (about 1½ lbs.)
 - 2 tps. minced onion
 - 1 tsp. chopped parsley.
- Combine soup, tomatoes, and oregano. In saucepan, cook celery, mushrooms, and garlic in butter until celery is tender; add one-fourth cup soup mixture and bread cubes. Stuff filets with bread mixture; fasten with toothpicks. Place in shallow baking dish (12x8x2"). To remaining soup, add onion and parsley; pour over fish. Bake at 350 F. degrees for 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

'One-Man, One-Vote' Law For Irish Vowed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A leader of Northern Ireland's government reported promised wide-ranging civil rights legislation Wednesday night, including equal voting rights for Roman Catholics in local elections.

Minister of Development Roy Bradford was understood to have given this pledge at a dinner to which visiting British Home Secretary James Callaghan invited a dozen persons representing all sides of the religious warfare which has bloodied the province.

A "one-man, one-vote" law for local elections has been one of the chief goals of the pro-Catholic civil rights movement whose campaign so inflamed Protestant militants. Because voting in local elections is based on property taxes and most property is owned by Protestants, the Catholics claim they are not represented on the local councils which hand out many jobs and decide who gets public housing.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Callaghan was visiting more riot-torn areas today. He was also to meet with the Rev. Ian Paisley, the firebrand who leads the most militant Protestant faction.

One of Callaghan's first actions was to order a team of British doctors, scientists and technicians into Londonderry's Catholic Bogside district to investigate the effects of the CX tear gas that the police used there during the riots. There have been reports that many of those exposed to the gas two weeks ago, including a number of children, are still suffering from diarrhea, vomiting and abdominal pains.

Callaghan emphasized that he did not intend to dictate solutions to Northern Ireland's government or its people. But during lengthy talks with Prime Minister James Callaghan and his Cabinet, Callaghan was believed to have urged formation of a committee with strong legal powers to guard against discrimination along religious and other lines.

Smoking Baboons Study Revealing

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — As everyone who has tried to give up cigarettes knows, it's tough to break the habit when you hang around with a bunch of heavy smokers. And if your companions are baboons who smoke four packs a day, it's enough to make you go ape.

Henry Swanson Jr., 32, has been trying to stop smoking for a year.

But he has to spend most of his time with three live baboons who are all as crazy over smoking cigarettes as eating bananas.

Swanson is a caretaker for the animals who are part of a Louisiana State University School of Medicine research project on the effects of smoking on hardening of the arteries.

Swanson, who has been smoking since he was 12, says "mostly lack of will power" keeps him puffing. But lighting up four packs a day for the baboons would put a strain on anyone's will power.

His heaviest smoker is "007," who got started when, in the interest of science, he was rewarded with a banana every time he took a puff on a cigarette held at the edge of his cage.

Then the other two baboons started smoking, too, perhaps to keep up with "007," and now the three are permanent residents of a smoke-filled room at the school. For "007," it's three packs a day, the other two a half-pack apiece.

Dr. Jack P. Strong, head of the school's pathology department and director of the program, says hardening of the arteries is a major factor in the death of most of the world's male population.

The baboons were brought into the program after he and a team of physicians made a trip to Kenya.

They said they found striking similarities between baboons and humans in areas of sickness. Hence the research into hardening of the arteries.

Ex-SBA Aide Loses Round

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Former Small Business Administration aide Albert Fuentes Jr. and salesman Edward Montez Wednesday were denied their motion to dismiss the loan conspiracy indictment against them.

U. S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears ruled there was "no merit" to defense lawyers' claims that the grand jury which indicted the two men was prejudiced.

Montez was a member of the grand jury. He was disqualified from the body when the case came before it.

Fuentes, former special assistant to SBA Administrator Hilary Sandoval, and Montez, both of San Antonio, are charged with seeking 49 per cent of a local businessman's firm in exchange for a $100,000 SBA loan.

No trial date has been set. Among those scheduled to testify is Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., of San Antonio, who publicly accused Fuentes of mishandling SBA matters one month before Fuentes and Montez were indicted.

Riot Police Fire Gas Grenades At Students

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Riot police broke up a peaceful demonstration at the University of Malaya today by firing tear gas grenades at students demanding the ouster of Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman. At least one student was reported injured.

About 500 Malay students had conducted a short march carrying signs denouncing the Tunku and were sitting on the ground to hear speeches by student leaders when 70 red-helmeted policemen arrived in trucks.

The police began firing gas at the students. Most of the demonstrators ran into the building. They dispersed after Vice Chancellor Ungku Aziz went inside and pleaded for order.

Militant young Malays contend that Rahman has not been tough enough on the Malaysian Chinese since the Chinese-Malay race riots in Kuala Lumpur May 13. The racial strife may be renewed Sunday when Malaysia observes its national day.

Concert Board Meets Tonight

Directors of the Big Spring Concert Association were reminded today of the regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the student union building at Howard County Junior College. Dan Shockey, president, urged all members to be on hand and said plans for the Fall membership drive would be explained.

Mexican-Brazilian Trade Pact Revealed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The first joint Mexican-Brazilian Enterprise—a promotion bureau—opened Wednesday in the offices of the Mexican Federation of National Chambers of Commerce.

An announcement to a meeting of the private sector of the 90-man Brazilian Trade Mission said the Enterprise will promote sales of Brazilian goods in Mexico and Mexican goods in Brazil.

A plant to transform raw materials used in production of plastics was projected as another joint venture in discussions held by representatives of the Brazilian and Mexican chemical industries. The proposed plant would be located in Brazil and operated with both Mexican and Brazilian capital.

Mexico sells Brazil approximately 20 million pesos (1.6 million U.S. dollars) in chemical products annually, while Brazilian sales to Mexico are half that amount.

Edmundo de Macedo Soares E Silva, Brazilian Minister of Commerce and Industry and head of the mission, emphasized in a meeting with Mexican businessmen that positive action in promotion of industry and commerce between Brazil and Mexico is possible only through direct contact.

Jesse Pinto Freire, of the Brazilian Commerce Federation said:

"We are not here to create problems nor to discuss. We came to buy and sell, to invest our capital and make an effort to increase the present level of trade."

The efforts made by the Mexican mission to Brazil in June and the Brazilian mission, which arrived Aug. 24 and will remain until Sunday, were called "a new experience in the world of two important underdeveloped countries" by Mexican Industry and Commerce Minister Octaviano Campos Salas.

"It is a massive mutual effort and one does not know where it will end," he said.

The mission is scheduled to visit a number of Mexican industries in Mexico City Thursday, and in Monclova and Toluca Friday.

Meetings Monday resulted in an agreement to establish a camera factory using Mexican and Brazilian capital, and approval by President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz for a correspondent bank of the Bank of Brazil in Mexico.
