Violence Gets Off To Big Start In Texas

By The Associated Press

Violent death marked the long Labor Day holiday in Texas, headed by a five-fatality automobile collision near Nacogdoches in East Texas.

A late count showed 11 traffic deaths and six shootings to bring the total dead in violence to 18.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and will continue through midnight Labor Day.

Four members of the Jerry L. Thomas family of Marshall died and the driver of the second car succumbed in a two-car collision early Saturday northeast of Nacogdoches. The Thomas family was en route to visit Thomas' father in Houston.

Officers said the Benton vehicle swung to the wrong side of U.S. 59 as it descended a hill and the cars hit head-on.

Two young Dallas women were killed Saturday in the fiery crash of their sports car and a six-wheeled truck, eight miles north of Lufkin on US 39. Officers said the accident occurred when the car pulled onto the highway into the path of the truck. Killed were Jane E. Randol, 24, and Gail Craig, 23. The truck driver and the operator of a third vehicle which piled into the wreckage were uninjured, police said.

ALMOST PACKED AND MORE TO ARRIVE — Several thousand long-haired music lovers were on hand waiting for the opening of the Texas International Pop Festival to begin at Lewisville, Tex., Saturday. More are expected to arrive over the Labor Day weekend.

Lewisville Pop Festival Given Roaring Start

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A young engineer became suddenly ill while attending the Texas International Pop Festival late Saturday—along with a noisy 40,000 others—and was dead on arrival at a Dallas hospital.

The festival, whose backers hoped to draw 125,000 music lovers in its three days, a few hours earlier had boomed off to a roaring start amid praise from cautious police.

The dead man was identified as John Shope, 27, of nearby Arlington, Tex. His death was the first serious incident connected with the festival. Only minor disturbances—an occasional hippie on a freak-out drug trip or a pointless scuffle—broke the noisy calm.

Attendees at Parkland Hospital, where Shope was brought by ambulance after he became ill in the crush of the crowd, said the cause of his death could not be determined immediately.

The Grand Funk Railroad asked the musical question, "Are You Ready?" to begin the opening day of the festival 20 minutes ahead of schedule as the crowd grew rapidly.

Meanwhile, at a federal campground about four miles away, a spin-off festival was in progress.

The campground had been offered free to those attending the festival.

A stage was set up at the campground on Garza-Little Elm Reservoir and at least 1,000 hippies passed up the $6 a ticket affair at the Dallas International Speedway and stayed on at the campground.

No serious incidents have been reported, but a mammoth traffic jam was feared building. Festival officials said no one will be allowed to remain at the festival site overnight. This would mean miles of cars would all be leaving the festival site at about the same time.

But early indications were that nothing would occur like the jam and distress of the 400,000 at Woodstock where three died and 5,000 suffered injuries or illness.

A child was born Saturday in the main performance site even before the musicians tuned up their instruments.

Thousands had walked miles and waited as long as eight hours at the gates.

Early indications were that only 100,000—some estimate 150,000—will attend the affair

Woman Called 'Real Hero'

ROME (AP) — A blonde scuba-diving schoolteacher from Los Angeles who led an attempt to win freedom for six Israeli passengers on the TWA airliner hijacked Friday to Damascus was called "the real hero of the trip" when the weary returning passengers stepped from a chartered jet here Sunday morning.

Vivian Perry, 30, enlisted other passengers to demand that Syrian authorities free all the passengers or none of them. She said she soon realized she would lose the battle because the Syrian officials in charge of the passengers had no power to make the decision.

Miss Perry said she was "scuba diving my way around the world" and had been headed for Athens because "I thought Israel would be too risky a place to dive."

She said she was undecided now whether to continue her trip or return to Los Angeles.

Both Miss Perry and Fitelson said the Syrians "confiscated" some of their belongings.

which lasts through Labor Day in this Dallas suburb.

Access roads to the festival site—the Dallas International Motor Speedway—were jammed well before noon but remained fairly manageable.

Some had to park their vehicles—from old hearses to new Mercedes—miles away from the site.

Many walked miles through heat of nearly 90 degrees lugging ice and beverage chests. They were greeted by signs at entrance gates announcing that such containers are prohibited.

One youth was asked if he were discouraged by the long wait. "No," he said. "It's beautiful."

Some of those waiting in line played guitars and sang. Others took sun baths near signs saying: "This is for real. Beware of snakes." Water moccasins are abundant in the festival area.

Two youths were arrested Friday near Fort Worth and were held awaiting charges of possession of narcotics and narcotics paraphernalia.

The two told police they were on their way to the festival and stole typewriters from a San Antonio, Tex., school to finance the trip.

Most hard-core hippies were commuting from a federal campground near a lake about four miles away. Arriving at the site in their far-out garb, they mingled easily with more conservative looking music fans.

No one really believes that drugs can be kept out of the area.

The festival is providing its own security, but state, county and local officers are on hand, too.

The Texas Highway Patrol has two helicopters in the area to help if weekend traffic clogs roads worse.

One has a litter equipped to carry any ill or injured.

Gov. Smith Signs Bill, But Unhappy

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith, unhappy with Texas' dawdling lawmakers, finally signed a 60-day emergency spending bill Saturday to prevent what he called "the most serious fiscal crisis which has ever faced Texas."

There had been reports he might veto the stop-gap measure in an effort to force legislators to return to work instead of taking a long Labor Day holiday.

Both houses quit Friday although a Senate committee returns Monday afternoon for a hearing on the house-approved tax bill.

"I do not approve of this patchwork financing of state government any more than I approved of the one-year bill which was vetoed," Smith said Saturday. "But if I did not sign this 60-day bill, Texas would be without funds to operate past midnight Sunday."

Smith severely criticized legislators in his opening speech last Wednesday to the second special session saying he thought the people of Texas were "sick and tired of . . . a spectacle of petty quarreling, jealousies between houses, obstinate and self-serving positions, demagogic rhetoric, childish personalities and undue interference from the lobby."

The governor got a good round of applause when he made these statements to the joint House-Senate session, with cheers coming both from the legislators and from the spectators.

An incident Thursday night at the Oilers-Cowboys football game in Houston didn't improve the governor's humor. When Smith walked out in the middle of the field at the Astrodome to flip the coin before the kickoff, he was greeted by a resounding round of boos.

Then came Friday and the word that the Senate and House had decided to take a long Labor Day holiday without getting a two-year appropriations bill or a tax bill to finance it in Senate-House conference committees so work could begin on a compromise.

Despite loud promises made when the first special session ended in failure, the full legislature had agreed on only one thing in three full days—the 60-day emergency bill to keep the state operating while legislators argue.

Smith had indicated he would sign the 60-day emergency appropriations bill Friday. There were long closed door conferences in Smith's office with his top aides.

Capitol employes began to worry about their paychecks after the end of the state's fiscal year. Late Friday Smith's office issued a one-sentence statement saying the governor would sign the bill until Saturday morning.

Finally in midmorning Smith put out another brief statement of five crisp sentences.

"Because of my signature on the bill, agencies can keep operating until the legislature fulfills its constitutional responsibility," he said.

"In the name of the people of the State of Texas I call upon the legislative leadership to keep the Senate and House in session continuously until this severe crisis is resolved."

The word "continuously" was underlined.

Smith did veto, as was expected, several riders or special provisions of the emergency bill.

One provision voided would require state college teachers to spend at least 12 hours a week in the classroom. Another would have prohibited admission charges to any state park not financed by the state parks bond issue.

Another would have prevented state funds being used on a plane for the Parks and Wildlife Department unless the plane is used for wildlife conservation purposes.

Syrians Hold Six Israelis

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Italian airliner took off from here Saturday night for Athens and Rome carrying most of the crew and all but 16 of the passengers who had been aboard a TWA jet hijacked to Syria by Arab guerrillas.

Syrian authorities barred six Israeli passengers, four of them women, from leaving.

Also left behind were the two hijackers, an injured American woman and her four children, and TWA Captain Dean Carter, 49, remained behind to supervise the plane's removal from the runway.

An American and his wife and child left two hours earlier for Tehran aboard a Syrian aircraft.

Of the six Israelis held, the four women were lodged in a dormitory at Damascus University. The location of two elderly Israeli men was unknown. Western diplomats in Damascus said they were optimistic that the Israeli women would be released soon.

In New York, F.C. Wiser, president of TQA, said the airline was shocked at the detention of the passengers. "We intend to protest most vehemently against their unjustified detention. We will do everything in our power to secure their release."

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, which engineered the Friday plane seizure, said in a communique from Cairo that the Israelis would be held hostage for "the release of Syrian comrades in Israeli torture prisons."

The two hijackers, one a young woman, were believed to be in jail.

The Al Italia special plane, which came in to pick up the stranded passengers, took off at 4:45 p.m. EDT, and headed for Athens, its first stop.

The Italian airliner landed in Athens at 6:32 p.m. EDT and most of the passengers disembarked. A TWA spokesman said no Israelis were among them. The plane was to continue on to Rome with six passengers from the hijacked flight.

The jet was commandeered over the Adriatic Sea Friday a few minutes after leaving Rome en route to Athens and Tel Aviv, with 101 passengers and 12 crew members aboard.

The plane had been seized by an attractive Arab brunette, who waved a pistol in one hand and a gas grenade in the other, and by a male confederate, both of whom described themselves as members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

"They even had a new flight plan worked out," said Carter, of Freeport, Bahamas. But he added, the hijack could have wound up in a great tragedy.

"We were running short of fuel as our original flight had been scheduled for Athens," he said. "We would never have made it if we had had to circle the airport one more time."

Carter said the Arab girl, who looked to be in her early 20s, (See HIJACKING, P. 8-A, Col. 3)

Nation's Toll

By The Associated Press

The nation's toll of deaths in traffic rose to 155 Saturday, the first full day of the Labor Day weekend.

Sunny, warm weather prevailed in much of the country, but large areas of rain slicked roads in sections of the Southeast, Southwest and Midwest.

Bible Fund Climbs Slowly

The fund to support the Bible Class in Big Spring High School climbed slowly Saturday, with a few gifts coming in, and the total reported through those sent to The Herald was $225.

Latest contributions were from Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tollett, $100; Mrs. M. W. Nuckolls, $10; Homemakers Class, First Christian Church, $10; Mrs. David Waldo Jones, $5.

Many friends through the years have supported this program which cannot be financed by state funds. The class each year attracts upwards of 100 young people, who learn of the Bible's great literary and historical riches, and its moral truths. So, many young people are being helped, but they can be helped only through the interest and generosity of people who support the course.

If you want to have a part in this program please make your check to "Bible Class Fund" and send it to The Herald for acknowledgment. Monies will be transmitted to the Big Spring Pastors Association, which sponsors the program.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

For a change, nobody was complaining about the weather. There hasn't been a day for a week, has there, when the city and surrounding areas didn't get a good shower? The break didn't come any too soon, after a prolonged hot spell, but things were greening up again — but fast — and temperatures were down to where human beings like for them to be.

And the pressure on the water supplies of the Colorado River Municipal Water District had eased off appreciably. There were many days when the demand hit as high as 60 million gallons per day, and it was tough and go to meet this on some days. Hopefully, the towns served by CRMWD will be back in better shape for the months ahead.

While the weather took a turn for the better, the local tax conflict had not. The local school board had voted to accept a compromise figure on rural valuations, somewhat lower than appraisers had at first suggested. But all along, the district's board of equalization was working out its own formula, which didn't fit into the compromise (which other affected governmental agencies had accepted). The equalization group has the legal last say, and trustees had to stand (See THE WEEK, Page 8-A, Col. 1)

INQUEST OPENS WEDNESDAY AT EDGARTOWN

Teddy Faces Public Quiz On Girl's Death

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is expected to face public questioning about the death of Mary Jo Kopechne for the first time in the inquest that opens here Wednesday.

The 38-year-old Massachusetts Democrat, whose potential presidential candidacy was clouded by the accident, has made only two public statements about the night his car plunged off a Chappaquiddick Island bridge into a tidal pond, leading to Miss Kopechne's death. Both left questions unanswered.

One was a short statement dictated for police July 10, more than eight hours after the mishap. The other came a week later in a 12-minute nationally televised appearance that followed by 10 hours Kennedy's plea of guilty to leaving the scene.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis began pressing for the inquest after Kennedy's television appearance. It opens at 10 a.m., before Judge James A. Boyle, 62, who sentenced Kennedy to the minimum of two months in jail, suspended.

Boyle, who has presided over the Edgartown District Court since his appointment by a Republican governor in 1959, set strict ground rules for the inquest at a preliminary hearing Thursday.

Its purpose is to shed more light on the case, which has attracted newsmen from around the world to this slow-paced resort town, which normally butters down after Labor Day.

The public will be represented by newsmen, who will fill most of the 100 court room seats. No spectators without press credentials will be admitted.

Court Clerk Thomas A. Teller mailed out summonses to 21 prospective witnesses, although lawyers had promised all would be present.

Massachusetts law covering inquests, judicial inquiries into the legal cause and circumstances of a death, makes no provision for the right of lawyers to cross-examine witnesses.

Boyle could have decreed that the inquest be secret, and also could have barred any nongovernment lawyers from the court. Instead, he ruled that the news media would be admitted, and confined lawyers to advising their clients of the rights against self-incrimination.

Kennedy's lawyers objected to the rule against cross-examining witnesses. They argued vainly before Judge Boyle that despite the legal limits of an inquest, Kennedy was in effect going on trial.

Dinis has been blocked temporarily in his bid in Common Pleas Court of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for an autopsy on Miss Kopechne, 28, who is buried in nearby Larksville.

Lawyers for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., objected to Dinis' request, on the grounds he showed no evidence of a crime. Pennsylvania Judge Bernard C. Brominski is weighing Dinis' application for an exhumation hearing. His decision is not expected before Tuesday.

Boyle ordered the Kopechne family lawyers barred from the court. He also stipulated that only one witness be present at a time, and that witness' counsel leave when their testimony is concluded. A transcript of the inquest will be made public.

Witnesses summoned include seven Martha's Vineyard residents.

Among them are two medical examiners, the skin diver who recovered the girl's body from Kennedy's car, which was found overturned in eight feet of water, the owner and the operator of a small ferry which plies between Chappaquiddick and Edgartown, Police Chief Dominick J. Arena, 38, who gave the only testimony at Kennedy's arraignment, and Deputy Sheriff Christopher S. Look Jr., who saw a car resembling Kennedy's some 90 minutes after Kennedy estimated the accident took place.

Other witnesses expected include the five girls and five men who attended the Friday night party in a rented Chappaquiddick cottage with Miss Kopechne and the senator. Also expected to be called is a New England Telephone Co. official, who may shed some light on whether telephone calls were made from either the cottage or Kennedy's hotel room in Edgartown between the time of the accident and the time it was reported more than eight hours later.

The party guests included Kennedy's cousin, Joseph Gargan, and Paul Markham, a former U.S. attorney for Massachusetts who is a longtime family friend.

Dinis is expected to pursue the apparent gaps left in Kennedy's television description, concerning the time elements, the conduct of his companions, and the reason for the delay in reporting the crash.

Dinis estimated last week the inquest would last a week. The Massachusetts Legislature two weeks ago voted an extra $15,000 to Duques County to pay for court costs.

The district attorney has publicly criticized Dr. Donald R. Mills, the associate medical examiner, who viewed the girl's body and ruled death was accidental and caused by drowning.

Dinis said that because Kennedy was involved, an autopsy should have been held before the body was released to be flown to Pennsylvania for burial.

Mills says he checked with Dinis' office before releasing the body, and was told that as long as he was satisfied the death was accidental, the body could be released.

Keeping Texts Current Is An Expensive Program

DALLAS (AP) — Whatever became of McGuffey's Reader? It is obsolete like other textbooks published in its time — or as recently as yesterday.

With rapidly expanding knowledge has come faster and faster communication. When newspapers give a "this-minute" version of a scientific or historical event, where does that leave the textbook?

It leaves it in need of revision, said Frank Langston of the Dallas Times Herald in a series of stories.

But if a textbook must be constantly revised, or is obsolete before it is even published, it then becomes very expensive.

Texas taxpayers this school year will pay more than $16 million for "free" textbooks distributed by the state. State law reads that textbooks must be provided for each child in the public schools. The textbook bill runs more than $6 per child per year.

The law also spells out the manner of selection under a "uniform system" whereby textbooks for all subjects and grades, usually three to five per grade and subject.

The local board then may choose any or all those under state adoption, but at least one book per child per subject.

The specifications the books must meet come from the Texas Education Agency and bids are offered by interested publishers. Fifteen experienced educators from different congressional districts are appointed by the Commissioner of Education to make selections from this list of publishers. A two-thirds majority of the committee is required for approval of texts.

The committee's list is turned over to the State Board of Education which makes the final choice.

"We try not to substitute our judgment for that of the textbook committee on contents of books," Commissioner J. W.

Edgar said.

Some enthusiasts say the system is nearly foolproof, and others simply say they don't know of a better way.

The Governor's Committee on Public Schools is among those that have some reservations about the system. It offered this comment:

"The statewide adoption system usually keeps the same book in use for at least five years and often much longer. No more than five alternative books are offered for a given grade or subject and the number is sometimes reduced to only two."

It recommended:

—Reducing the period a book may be adopted to three years.

—Increasing the number of titles approved per subject and grade.

—Providing state money at the rate of $5 per average daily attendance for supplementary materials.

—Permitting any district to substitute materials of its own choice, provided they meet the requirements of a program approved by the TEA.

The TEA concedes that one of its greatest difficulties lies in keeping certain books in use too long, and it agrees that expanding the number of titles to be adopted would be a good move.

The agency generally agrees with the two latter recommendations also, which encourage what educators call the "multimedia" approach.

Multimedia means making use of more than a single textbook, plus using other teaching aids such as films, tape recordings, automated models, computers, etc.

More and more schools are making use of these teaching aids to keep information updated. More teaching aids of course means more money, and everybody wants to get into the act of making it.

Education has mushroomed into a $50 billion a year market of which textbooks form only a part.

Industrial concerns, particularly the big conglomerates, are eager to get into the education market and find that the quickest entry is through purchasing a textbook publishing house and then building peripheral teaching aids and services.

Child Loses Life After Bobcat Bout

TOMMY BUCHMANN

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Medical science kept Tommy Buchmann alive for five months after he was mauled by a rabid bobcat April 1. The little Lake-side boy, who died Friday, also helped medical science, his doctor says.

Dr. Samuel T. Giammona of University Hospital's pediatrics staff, said Tommy made two important contributions before he died, two days after his third birthday.

"We certainly learned how to manage an acutely ill person over a long period of time," Giammona said of the intensive care given Tommy since he lapsed into a coma April 28, never to regain consciousness.

"This could be important when science is close to a cure for a particular disease and it is essential to keep a patient alive until it does."

"Secondly, it has stressed to us that even after being given the rabies vaccine there is a risk that a person still can contract rabies. We had not thought that before."

Tommy lived longer than any human rabies victim in medical history, surpassing the 63-day survival of a 13-year-old Elk City, Kan., boy last year. Why?

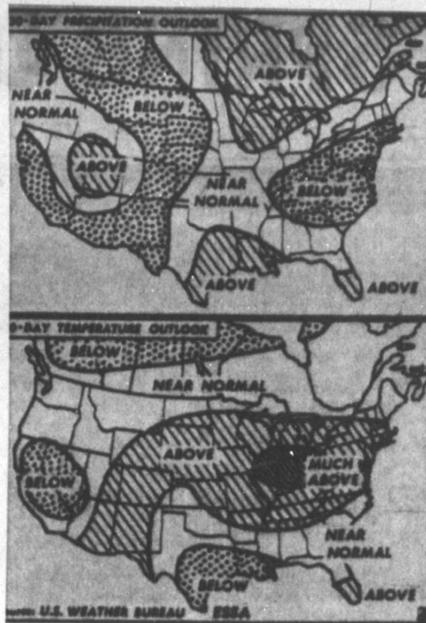

"It is hard to say," the doctor said. "He had a very strong constitution for a child and, of course, he had meticulous care."

Giammona said no new drug or treatment accounted for the boy's hold on life.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Buchmann, are poultry ranchers with two other children. They will not receive a doctor bill, a hospital spokesman said.

Private contributions, which have exceeded $20,000, the hospital's teaching fund and the Buchmanns will bear the $18,500 hospital room cost and special nursing charge of $13,200.

THIRTY-DAY WEATHER FORECAST — Maps show the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast of precipitation and temperatures for the next 30 days.

Rural Taxpayers Call Farm Meeting

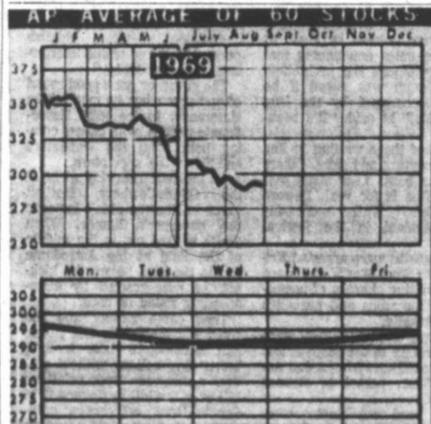

Directors of the Rural Taxpayers Association have called a meeting of all county farmers and ranchers at 8 p.m. Thursday in the district courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse, according to Ralph Proctor, chairman.

The meeting is to get support and outline procedure for the suit the association is planning to file against trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District and the school board.

Dee Jon Davis, attorney for the group, announced last week he would file a petition in 118th District Court late Friday or early Tuesday. He did not file Friday.

He indicated a suit against the school district for breach of contract in a recent tax valuation compromise negotiated by Davis and Don Curry, representing the farmers and ranchers, and Gil Jones, representing Howard County, Folsom Independent School District, Howard County Junior College and Big Spring Independent School District.

Big Spring school trustees approved the compromise; but the board of equalization decides on valuations, and they did not accept the compromise. The other county taxing agencies have accepted the compromise.

SLIGHT LOSS — The stock market slipped lower in the first few days last week, paring most of its decline the last day. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed Friday at $36.72, down .53. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed down .8 at 294.5.

Stock Market Ends Month About Where It Started

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite a sharp early decline followed by a rebound, the stock market didn't really go very far during the closing week of August, finishing up at almost the same place from which it started out.

The popular averages closed with tiny losses, and the trading pace slowed as many investors were reported staying out of the market place prior to the long Labor Day weekend. The stock exchanges will be closed Monday in observance of the holiday.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 43,016,970 shares, compared with 50,301,030 the previous week, and was the lightest since 41,036,990 shares changed hands during the four trading days in the week ended July 25.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which lost nearly 14 points in the week's first two trading sessions after spending all of the previous week gaining 16.37 points, turned in mid-stream, pared its losses and closed off .53 at 336.72.

The Associated Press 60-stock average, up 5.9 the week before, closed off .8 at 294.5.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks closed off .17 at 52.95. The week before it gained 1.13.

Becky Howell In Queen Contest

A Big Spring girl is a candidate in the Miss Union Queen Contest being held in conjunction with Labor Day activities Monday in Odessa.

Becky Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howell, 2503 Carol, is one of four contestants between the ages of eight and 13 entered in the contest.

Contestants must be the daughter of a union family or a relative of a union member, and each must present a talent act. Deadline for entries is 9 p.m. today. D. L. Willis, 1406 S. Terrell, Midland (682-2700) and S. E. Furlow, 400 E. 13th (EM6-5254) are in charge of the program.

The contest begins at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Floyd Gwin Park in Odessa, and the public is invited. Tickets are on sale at Union Hall for union members and from Willis and Furlow for the public. A $1.25 donation is required per person to help finance the show.

Other entrants are Linda Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Thompson, Odessa; Desi Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Black, Odessa; and Rhonda White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. White, Midland.

BIG-TIME 'GAS PUMPING' CHORE — The Air Force's C5 Galaxy, heaviest aircraft ever refueled in flight, takes on a load from a KC135 tanker during a test fueling of the huge transport over Edwards Air Force Base in California. The craft, now undergoing test flights, is able to deliver 100,000 pounds of cargo 6,325 miles.

Reinforced Corps Set Trap For An Enemy Division

By JAY SHARBUTT
By The Associated Press

SAIGON (AP) — Reinforced U. S. and South Vietnamese troops surrounded a valley south of Da Nang Saturday, hoping to trap part of a North Vietnamese division that has been slugging it out with allied forces for two weeks.

The allies expected to find elements of two regiments of the North Vietnamese 2nd Division in the Que Son Valley some 30 miles south of Da Nang, but contact was so light it was believed most enemy troops may have escaped.

The allied forces, swelled to 3,000 with the reinforcement of a U.S. Marine battalion and a South Vietnamese battalion, launched a sweep from four sides along the jungled ridges around the valley near the refugee center of Hiep Duc.

At first, the major target was a 1,270-foot peak called Deo Ram, in the adjoining Hiep Duc Valley just to the south of Que Son Valley. But U.S. Marines found only light opposition on the hill, which had been stoutly defended the day before.

So the hunt was pressed in the Que Son Valley area, hoping that the North Vietnamese would be found among the rice paddies in the valley and along the slopes of the surrounding hills.

As of Saturday, U. S. Army and Marines had claimed about 1,000 enemy killed since Aug. 12, when infantrymen made the first contact in what developed into one of the biggest battles of the year.

U. S. losses since major fighting began Aug. 17 are estimated at 75 killed and 328 wounded. Ranking officers said U.S. Marines have lost 38 killed and 180 wounded since they joined the battle Aug. 23.

At first, U.S. officers thought the North Vietnamese were preparing to attack Hiep Duc. Now they believe the enemy aim either was to inflict casualties or to lure defenders away from pacified areas south of Da Nang.

All the fighting has centered around Hiep Duc, a showcase government resettlement center where 3,000 refugees from the war in the interior now live.

U.S. officers said one of the North Vietnamese division's regiments, the 3rd, has suffered nearly 80 per cent casualties.

The two battalions of Marines and South Vietnamese troops were airlifted into the hills overlooking the Que Son Valley Saturday after a reinforced Marine reconnaissance team secured the previously abandoned mountain-top fire support base, Ryder, at about dusk Friday.

Two other battalions of the 7th Marine regiment, which have been fighting the North Vietnamese for a week, moved into blocking positions to cut off enemy troops trying to withdraw north through the Que Son Valley.

"The whole concept of the operation is built on the rapidity with which he made the move," said Col. Gildo S. Codispoti of Brooklyn, N. Y., commander of the 7th Regiment.

Miss America Show Shaping

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Two Southern belles, Miss Florida and Miss Georgia, unpacked today after they headed the bevy of 50 contestants who were to arrive here Labor Day weekend for the Miss America Pageant which begins Monday.

Brunette Miss Florida, Lynne Edea Topping of Marco Island, arrives for her round of news interviews several hours ahead of Miss Georgia, Marilyn Louise Olley of Marietta.

The 19-year-old coed at the University of Georgia wore a gigantic emerald ring which she said was a good luck charm given to her by a Marietta doctor she dates.

"It's really my Christmas present," Marilyn admitted. "I'm supposed to give it back after the pageant so he can give me the ring again this Christmas."

Miss Florida, a 20-year-old University of Miami drama major, read her own palm and recited her horoscope.

"My palm says I'm very healthy. I have a hot temper and an ambitious, generous and very stubborn. I will live to be 85 and at 30 I will lose a fortune and have to start over again. I will marry twice, at 25 and 45, and have one boy and three girls," Miss Florida related.

Born under the sign of Cancer, Miss Florida said her horoscope for pageant week indicates that "she will be in the public eye, meet a lot of new friends and do a lot of traveling."

Chicago School Strike Pending Budget Review

CHICAGO (AP) — Teachers and maintenance workers in Chicago's 600 public schools have promised to hold off on any strike until the Board of Education reviews its budget.

The 19,000 members of the Chicago Teachers Union had been scheduled to hold a strike vote Tuesday, a day before the scheduled opening of school. Maintenance men had already voted to strike.

A strike-delaying agreement by the teachers and maintenance men came Friday after Supt. of Schools James F. Redmond told the board he would be able to come up with $12.7 million in extra revenue.

The extra money, Redmond said, would provide teachers the full amount of raises they won in a strike in May. The raises were sliced in half by the board's first supplemental budget.

The board agreed Friday to vote on a second supplemental budget Sept. 10 and the teachers union postponed its strike vote until Sept. 11.

Chicago's 600 public schools have promised to hold off on any strike until the Board of Education reviews its budget.

Gas Rate Hike Decision Delayed At Coahoma

The Coahoma City Council postponed a decision on Pioneer Natural Gas Co.'s rate increase request Thursday, as a quorum of members was not on hand for the hearing.

Mayor Jack Cauble said the council would take up the issue at the next regular meeting, set for Sept. 11.

The gas company is asking for a 14.8 per cent increase in its domestic and commercial rates, the first since 1957. The company also asks that a late charge of 10 per cent after 10 days be allowed on bills.

The Big Spring City Commission approved the rate hike but denied the late charge at its meeting Tuesday evening.

MONSTER ENGINE — Six-foot-tall Sgt. Douglas M. Yorn, Batesville, Ind., gives an idea of the size of the engines of the C5 Galaxy, the world's largest aircraft. The Military Airlift Command will begin cargo and troop delivery tests of the giant four-engine jet transport in October.

Conservatives Call On Nixon To Stick By School Pledges

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Southern conservative leaders have called on President Nixon to stick to campaign promises to return the regulation of schools back to the states.

The pleas came Friday from former Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox at the annual leadership conference of the Citizens Council of America.

Wallace, a Third Party candidate during the last presidential election, varied from the convention's theme of law and order Friday night and called on Nixon to rectify what federal officials "have done to the schools."

Wallace told the some 700 delegates representing 21 states that he knew the President would want to carry out the pledge of candidate Nixon when he said "there will be no busing of children to schools."

The Nixon administration is going to be judged by whether the war has ended in Vietnam, control of schools has been turned back to the people, taxes lowered and whether law and order has been restored, Wallace added.

Gov. Maddox joined Wallace in taking the Nixon administration to task.

Maddox told the afternoon session that former President Lyndon Johnson and Earl Warren, former chief justice of the Supreme Court, "can claim more credit for... the weakening of our constitution, attacks on our private free enterprise and the birthing of a police state in America" than anyone else.

Maddox added: "I will continue to call on President Nixon to live up to the promise of candidate Nixon when he said, 'Federal aid to education has been necessary and I have supported it. But I draw a line on one point. If we're going to have federal aid to education, it is the responsibility of those at the national level and particularly the President... to see that federal control does not follow.'"

Outstanding Senior May Attend Youth Conference

An outstanding high school senior from this area will be sponsored by Texas Electric Service Company to the 1969 National Youth Conference on the Atom to be held in Chicago Oct. 23-25, according to Don Womack, manager here.

Students interested in attending the conference must submit applications by Sept. 26 on forms available in area high schools or from the company. Detailed information concerning the conference and application procedures also is available at these locations.

The student will be chosen by a selection committee of distinguished educators and scientists on the basis of the applications submitted, Womack said. A student's grades, test scores and interest in science will be among the qualifications considered by the selection committee.

Members of the selection committee are Dr. E. Leigh Secrest, vice chancellor for advanced studies and research at Texas Christian University, who will serve as chairman; Dr. Wendell H. Nedderman, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Texas at Arlington; Dr. Arthur F. Beyer, chairman of the biology department of Midwestern University; Dr. H. R. Dvorak, chief scientist at General Dynamics Corp. in Fort Worth; and W. R. Garrett, chief engineer and manager for research and development of the Drilco division of Smith Industries in Midland. Calvin A. Cumble, registrar at TCU, will serve as advisor to the committee.

The principal of the school from which the student is chosen will be asked to name a science teacher to accompany the student to the conference, also as a guest of Texas Electric Service, Womack said. The company will sponsor eight students and eight teachers to the conference from high schools in communities it serves.

Representing most of the 50 states, the 800 conference delegates attending the eleventh annual event held at the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel will hear some of the nation's leading scientists discuss the latest progress in a variety of scientific areas. Discussions in the past have ranged from nuclear fusion to weather satellites and exploring the solar system, always conducted by top authorities in these fields.

The students and teachers also will make tours of the Argonne National Laboratory, a principal center for peaceful atomic research, and the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry.

Gang War Kills 30th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A teenager who came here from his native Georgia a month ago, was shot dead Friday night, and became the 30th victim of juvenile gang warfare in the city this year, police said.

The victim, Larry Harris, 18, had spurned overtures to join street gangs since his arrival, his brother, John, 15, said after the slaying.

Police were questioning 18 persons Saturday morning. They said 12 others had been questioned and released. Police say many of them are known to belong to gangs.

Investigators said an unidentified youth who was with Harris before the shooting, told them the gunman first pointed the gun at him. He said it failed to go off but when the killer aimed it at Harris it discharged.

Harris was a 6-foot-2 basketball star who was graduated last month from Sandersville, Ga., his father, Willie B. Harris, 49, said.

The father said his son was going to report for freshman classes at Fort Riley State College, Fort Riley, Ga., as a physical education major next week.

Willie Harris said, "I came from a small town to the big city to give my kids a better break."

Governors Count Out Teddy For Nod

By WALTER MEARS
Associated Press Writer
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Democratic governors generally count Edward M. Kennedy out of contention for the 1972 presidential nomination — but they aren't ready to take sides or forecast a successor to the Massachusetts senator as the party's frontrunner for a challenge to President Nixon.

Republican governors, who outnumber the Democrats 30 to 20, are predictably unanimous in their praise of Nixon's White House performance so far.

Those views were expressed in an Associated Press survey of opinion among the state executives, who began assembling here Saturday for the 61st National Governors Conference.

While most Democrats prepared to discuss the matter accept Kennedy's disclaimer of 1972 presidential candidacy, they are cautious about forecasting the prospects for a race three years away.

"I have absolutely no way of knowing," said Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, the conference chairman.

"Anything can happen between now and 1972," said Gov. John Burns of Hawaii.

But one thing most Democrats do not expect is a revival of the candidacy Kennedy rejected after the July 18 automobile accident in which a young girl secretary died.

Democratic governors who are guessing now anticipate a presidential lineup including Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, now the Democratic national chairman.

Assessing Nixon's performance, Republicans generally agreed that the cautious, go-slow approach at the White House has been good for the government and for the mood of the nation.

"He avoided trying to do everything overnight, and this has regulated what was getting to be an almost frenetic national pulse," said Gov. Tom McCall, Oregon Republican.

"The most impressive single facet of the Nixon administration has been the thoughtful, well-studied approach that has characterized every effort," said GOP Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, Pennsylvania Republican, agreed. The absence of hysteria is providing the nation with a rational base for setting goals and establishing priorities," he said.

Some Democrats found the presidential pace grounds for criticism.

"I didn't expect a lot out of him when he started, so I have not been particularly disappointed," said Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri.

"There has been a general lack of direction and a moving from one pole to another," said Democratic Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis of Maine. Curtis said Nixon has made no progress toward ending inflation, has given "indications of a regression" in civil rights, and has not produced any changes in American foreign policy.

Republicans rated foreign policy a Nixon strong point. "The attacks made on Mr. Nixon concerning the Vietnam war have been politically motivated," said Gov. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin.

"Some political leaders who helped lead our country into the present situation now claim to have all the answers and are trying to undermine Nixon's attempts to reverse the previous administration course," Knowles said.

One Democrat, Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas, had this verdict on the Nixon record: "Good."

"The domestic programs which he has proposed are a dorsed attack what I believe to be some of the basic issues of the day," Docking said.

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, a Democrat, said caution has produced inaction in the domestic field, and added "there has been no perceptible change in our foreign affairs."

"He has moved cautiously," said Republican Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb of Indiana. "At this time I have no fault to find."

"In the foreign field, performance has generally been good," said GOP Gov. John A. Love of Colorado. "Although it is as yet minuscule, a beginning has been made toward disengagement in Southeast Asia."

Gov. Stanley Hathaway of Wyoming said the deliberate Nixon approach, at home and abroad, is what the country needs after the "freewheeling" administration of Lyndon B. Johnson.

"New Federalism has neither the false glitter of the New Frontier nor the fraudulent grandeur of the Great Society," said Gov. Claude R. Kirk, Florida Republican. "Instead, it is a practical, reasonable and workmanlike approach."

Assessing Nixon's performance, Republicans generally agreed that the cautious, go-slow approach at the White House has been good for the government and for the mood of the nation.

"He avoided trying to do everything overnight, and this has regulated what was getting to be an almost frenetic national pulse," said Gov. Tom McCall, Oregon Republican.

"The most impressive single facet of the Nixon administration has been the thoughtful, well-studied approach that has characterized every effort," said GOP Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, Pennsylvania Republican, agreed. The absence of hysteria is providing the nation with a rational base for setting goals and establishing priorities," he said.

Some Democrats found the presidential pace grounds for criticism.

"I didn't expect a lot out of him when he started, so I have not been particularly disappointed," said Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri.

"There has been a general lack of direction and a moving from one pole to another," said Democratic Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis of Maine. Curtis said Nixon has made no progress toward ending inflation, has given "indications of a regression" in civil rights, and has not produced any changes in American foreign policy.

Republicans rated foreign policy a Nixon strong point. "The attacks made on Mr. Nixon concerning the Vietnam war have been politically motivated," said Gov. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin.

Gas Forces Evacuation

MUNDAY, Tex. (AP) — A transport tank carrying anhydrous ammonia broke loose from its tractor Saturday and a break sent the gas over much of Munday, forcing a large number of residents to evacuate their homes for hours.

By daylight, officers allowed townspeople to return to their homes but warned them to ventilate their residences well.

The odor hung in the still air over this west Central Texas town of 2,000.

Mrs. Boyd L. Baker, police dispatcher and wife of the police chief, said the leak in the tank was stopped.

Mrs. Baker was unable to estimate immediately how many persons left their homes. Some left without receiving a warning while volunteers went from door to door in places to order evacuation.

The dispatcher estimated an area 10 blocks long and five blocks wide was evacuated.

Increased Oil Imports Asked By Alliance Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top official of the Alliance for Progress asked the Nixon administration Saturday to permit increased imports of petroleum and petroleum products from Latin America.

The appeal came as a Cabinet-level commission reviewing the 10-year-old oil program reportedly is considering a Western Hemisphere oil commonwealth.

"The U.S. oil policy is of strategic importance to several Latin American countries," said Carlos Sanz de Santamaria, who chairs the Alliance's executive body.

Sanz noted that Latin America's oil shipments to the United States have grown at a declining rate in recent years and that the area's share of the U.S. market has dropped.

President Nixon on Feb. 20 ordered an extensive review of the oil program, set up in 1959 by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to limit the import of foreign oil in order to encourage domestic production.

Critics of the program have asserted that the oil-import quota system has cost consumers some $6.2 billion annually due to higher prices.

Sources close to the commission said the establishment of a Western Hemisphere oil commonwealth is one of the several plans under consideration.

It would allow Middle East oil to supply some 10 per cent of the U.S. foreign oil requirements, leaving Canada and the Latin American countries to provide the balance.

Sanz's views are contained in a letter to Charles A. Meyer, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, for presentation to the commission.

Pressure Tests For Moon Rocks

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — About a quarter-pound of the moon rocks picked up by Apollo 11 astronauts will be sent here next month for special high pressure tests, the University of California's Livermore Radiation Laboratory said.

SICKNESS HAS NO OFFICE HOURS

If you are fortunate, sometimes when you are sick, there is no urgent rush for the medicine you need. Perhaps delaying the treatment will not seriously inconvenience you. But, as a rule, if you are sick, the quicker you begin taking a medicine, the sooner you will get relief. Delay can be dangerous. We dispense prescriptions as quickly as safety permits.

The wisest rule is to take every medicine your Doctor directs as soon as possible, as often as he specifies and unless he tells you differently, take all the medicine he prescribes until none is left.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Cost Of Living Catching Up

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — The cost of living caught up with the Irish Washwoman Friday.

The company, in a newspaper advertisement, noted that "property taxes have gone up 1,034 per cent, sewer rates are up 135 per cent and water rates have climbed 135 per cent."

But, said the automatic car-wash firm, "We're just going up 50 per cent for our services, from $1 to $1.50."

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Now it's up to you to put your ideals on a working basis. For both without works is dead. You need to prove to yourself as well as to others, that you really do have a fine character. Live your ideals.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have to put everything on a practical basis if you are to make your whole life more profitable and satisfying. This applies even to religion. Plan how to make your property more valuable and comfortable. Be wise.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Enter into your associates today to open the way for more satisfactory relations in the future. Put all that dynamism to work in constructive ways. Try to go to bed early tonight so that you can get a good start in the morning.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Sit down and figure out your career plan intelligently. Decide on some recreation tonight for you and your mate. Give some time to the religion you like.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to think of others today. Do whatever will please friends and relatives you like. Plan your personal life more wisely. Offer to help those who are in distress.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you want to gain a big favor from a prominent individual, be sure you do something constructive of a civic nature. Handle all duties very carefully. Do an extra-good job.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have many fine ideas and can now put them in operation to your benefit. Discuss them with brilliant people who can help you weigh them. This is the time to plan that important trip, also.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle all your responsibilities right away. Take care of them as quickly as possible. Use your good judgment instead of relying on hunches alone. Rest in the afternoon.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Do anything that will shed light on present baffling conditions. The approval of your associates is necessary. Be meticulous in honoring agreements with others. Don't try to back down.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan a course that permits you to accomplish more in the future. Scheduling your time wisely is the first step. You have to do something to improve the state of your health, as well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go out for the recreation you need. Stop worrying about problems. Be with charming persons tonight. Let your laugh and be your real self. Take that trip off your shoulder. You're not that kind of person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Talking too much, or at the wrong time, could get you in trouble, especially at home. Be kind. Keep conditions more harmonious.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) After serious studies, visit with good friends and make fine plans for the future. Telephone those you wish to see later on. Make the appointments for the coming week. Be active and happy.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Answers to long-time plans will come to you. You will be able to see that if you discuss your financial problems with influential men you will learn how to increase your prosperity. Finding a solution will give you a new lease on life. You can also discuss with your loved one how you can get closer together.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Talk over with that important person you wish to become more successful yourself. Then follow through. You have the ability. Make your home more charming. Do the painting, cleaning that is necessary. Be smart.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Doing whatever makes you a more charming person can reflect on the one you love. Plan now how to be more popular in social affairs. Much happiness can be yours if you really work at it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Sit down quietly and plan months ahead. Then everything will run so smoothly as you want. Put in a good week. Go where the atmosphere is soothing in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Begin this new period by getting ideas from good writers and people you admire. See how you can improve your social life. Be happy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Contact important people in both social and business life. Get the ideas for increasing success in the future. Be sure to prefer ideas for that important civic matter now. Your ideas are good.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas for putting in motion some plan. Begin making arrangements. A vacation soon would be good for you. Plan for it now and all will go smoothly later.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you are more efficient at your regular duties, you will find that your life can be easier. You can get that new look that will please others. Stop acting in such a negative manner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Now you would be wise to contact associates to find out what is expected of you. Exchange ideas for the months ahead, as well. Cooperate. If you want to get the right results, be happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) With all those duties facing you, you hardly know where to begin. So just get started, and you will finish soon.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have new inspiration to gain your ambitions now. Get busy and reach those aims quickly. Use wisdom. Get out to the recreation you like and be happy. Be with congenial people. Have fun.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) What ever needs your attention at home should be handled with care and precision. Talk over with those at home how to make it more charming, how to have more comforts. Be economical, though.

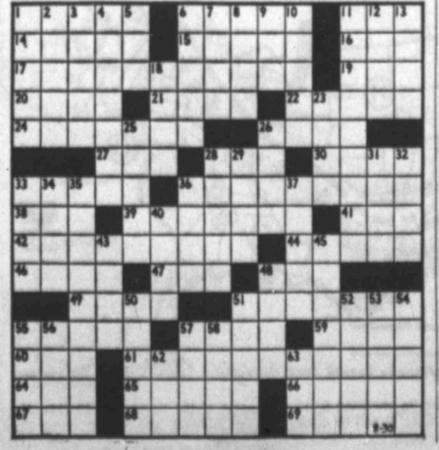

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Contact closest ties now. Go to see them in person or write to them. Get the backing you want that is so important to you right now. Be more interested in others' suggestions.

Controls Needed On Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said Saturday the only way to halt the nation's worst inflationary spiral in 18 years is for the government to declare a national emergency and impose wage-price controls.

"I'm not advocating this, but you're asking me," said the nation's 75-year-old "Mr. Labor."

"The only way you are going to stop it is by controls," he said.

Meany, speaking in a rare interview on the Labor Day weekend, said, however, that organized labor won't accept federal wage controls unless President Nixon asks Congress to impose controls across the board on all income.

"We will not accept legal con-controls unless they control all forms of income—prices, dividends, profits and everything else," he said.

Meany said the nation's workers are caught in a bind and forced to demand higher and higher wage hikes because inflation, running at the rate of six percent or more a year, is virtually wiping out the value of wage increases averaging some seven per cent. This despite Nixon's efforts to cool the economy with tight money and federal budget cuts.

Meany, who turned 75 two weeks ago, gave his views to a small group of labor reporters.

Q. You have seen a lot of Labor Days. Would you say that the labor movement is in better or worse condition this Labor Day?

A. I think the movement is in better condition than it ever was. I think that each year things are better. Actually, when I look back, it is hard really to realize the progress that is being made when you are so close to it, but if you take a leap back a few years and try to think of what was going on then—for instance, this business of welfare funds and pension and holidays with pay—this was a dream at one time. This is now accepted as commonplace.

Q. Sometimes it almost seems labor is a victim of its own success. The laboring man, as you have described it, has become middle class, has advantages that he didn't have before, more conservative than he was. Some people think that labor leaders now are out of tune with the younger generation.

A. Actually I think the labor leaders are out of tune with the people who feel that they know better than labor does what is best for labor. I mean, we have always had that type of people. We have people who are constantly worrying about the lack of militancy—militancy on the part of labor. We no longer march on the streets, we no longer have the sit-down strikes and, I think you put your finger on it—labor, to some extent, has become middle class. In other words, when you have no property, you don't have anything, you have nothing to lose by these radical actions. But when you become a person who has a home and has property, to some extent you become conservative.

keep plugging away and the new ideas become reality over the years.

City Bustle Slows Down For Holiday

Labor Day may be a day of rest for some Howard County residents, but many will be working to keep the city and county operations running smoothly.

Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard and Big Spring Police Chief Jay Banks said both departments will be open as usual Monday.

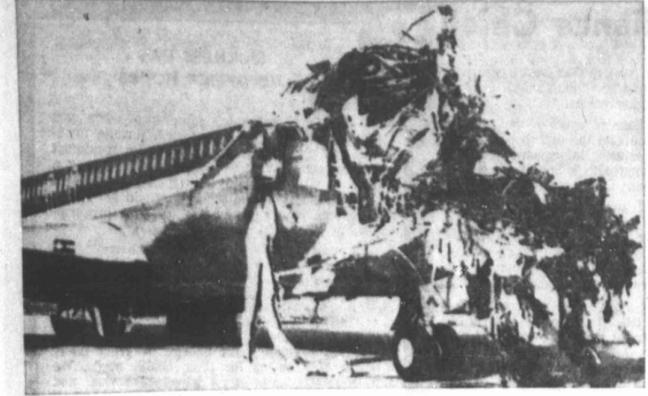

"We would like to urge people to plan their holiday activities near home and stay off the highways as much as possible," Banks said.

Larry Crow, city manager, said city hall will be closed although city services will be continued. "Actually only about half the city's employees will have the day off," Crow said.

All offices in the courthouse will be closed.

Labor Day is one of the six holidays approved by the Chamber of Commerce Retail Committee and most business houses will be closed. All banks will observe the holiday.

No route deliveries will be made by postmen, but clerks will be on duty to provide mail service for box holders and make special deliveries, Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said.

BOMB-DAMAGED HIJACKED TWA JET AT DAMASCUS AIRPORT — It is expected to take four months to repair this TWA Boeing 707 jet which was blasted by hijackers who diverted it Friday to Damascus while on a Rome-to-Athens flight with 101 passengers and 12 crew members. Passengers had only a minute to flee the plane after it landed.

by. Now the rural group which has resisted the hike will be meeting again to consider action.

No matter the tax bill, schools are on the verge of opening. It's back to class Tuesday for Big Spring students. Teachers already have had some three days of preliminary workshops and planning sessions.

A surprise development is that pupils of the first three grades in Big Spring must be dismissed 45 minutes earlier than their elementary elders. This is to meet a state requirement that says teachers must have a 45-minute planning period. Some wag suggested that this takes away a "planning period" from parents.

Howard County Junior College was seeing registration go at a fast clip. Total enrollment is sure to go well beyond 1,000, and up to three-fourths of this number will be full-time students.

Howard County released its preliminary budget, which shows expenditures of some $1,255,000, up by $75,000 over last year. The tax rate is due to stay the same, $1.05 per $100 valuation. The City of Big Spring, meanwhile, was at work on its budget and repeating an old refrain — more demands than money to meet them.

The City granted a rate increase to Pioneer Gas Company, with a new schedule that is supposed to run around $1 per month for the average consumer. Declined was the company's proposal to assess a charge on late payments.

The county had responded generously to appeals for help for the Mississippi hurricane victims. The Salvation Army sent off some 4,000 pounds of food and clothing, and the Red Cross had about $2,800 on hand to send in for relief and rehabilitation purposes.

An annual appeal was started — and considerably later than in years past. That would be for public subscription to finance the Bible class in high school, proven through the years. The Big Spring Pastors Association and The Herald are jointly stressing participation without delay.

The Chamber of Commerce will work through all its committees in an effort to arrive at priorities on major projects for community betterment. After the committees report, all members will be asked to assist in planning for this year and next. Meanwhile, if you have an idea of a program that would help make your town a better place, the chamber would be pleased to hear from you.

Webb Air Force Base lost two senior officers last week, with both Col. John B. Trumble, civil engineer, and Lt. Col. John D. Baker Jr., chief of maintenance, stepping out of uniform to go into civilian activities. And Col. Anderson Atkinson, Webb's deputy commander for operations, received the Legion of Merit for notable work while serving in Southeast Asia.

Some of our own youngsters were honored, too. That would be those who have served as volunteers at the VA Hospital during the summer. Verna Goswick was singled out for having contributed more than 500 hours, and special awards went to Marjorie Carlton, Debbie Oxford and Ruth Russell. There were a couple of dozen others cited, too, and the community at large owes them a hand.

The ranks of the real old-timers along the T&P line are thinning. Latest to pass from the scene was Archie Clayton, 88, who served the railroad for 44 years, beginning back in 1901. Not many are still around who rode the rails in the days of the old steam locomotives.

Do you have a library book that should have been returned? Take it back. From now until Sept. 6, the Howard County Library has a "free week" and late returns will not be fined. You can save your money, the library needs the book.

Francelia Cranking Up

MIAMI (AP) — Tropical Storm Francelia—the sixth of the hurricane season—cranked up winds of 50 miles an hour Saturday and spread southward over a 250-mile wide area of the central Caribbean.

A Navy hurricane hunter plane scouting the storm 875 miles southeast of Miami. It was speeding west-northwest at 15 to 20 miles an hour and was expected to affect Jamaica quickly. Squalls spread out 250 miles north of the center to the Bar-hona Peninsula of Hispaniola, the Caribbean island shared by Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Conditions were ripe for rapid intensification as the storm swirled toward the Western Caribbean, from which Hurricane Camille launched her vicious attack on the Gulf coast.

Small craft in the western Caribbean were warned by the National Hurricane Center not to venture far from safe harbors.

Damages Fixed In Cab Wreck

The jury deliberated three hours Friday afternoon in the case of Pearl R. Simmons and Thelma White vs. Yellow Cab Co. and found the company and the driver not guilty of negligence in an automobile accident in which the two women were injured. The jury found Albert Peter Cline, driver of the other car, guilty of negligence and fixed damages at $1,651. The women were asking $20,300. They were passengers in a cab which was in collision with the Cline car.

More Rain Forecast

By The Associated Press

Moderate showers and thunderstorms hit widely scattered sections of Texas again Saturday while forecasters were looking for cooler weather and more rain.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms also continued to lace the rough waters of the Gulf of Mexico off Texas covering most of the area east of Matagorda, just offshore south of Freeport and 140 miles south and 160 miles southeast of Galveston. The Gulf showers moved to the west.

Light, occasionally moderate showers extended from 30 miles north of Amarillo to EP miles southeast of Amarillo and into wide stretches of New Mexico.

Very widely scattered, very light showers fell over a North Central Texas section bounded by points near Gainesville to Waco to 20 miles west of Cleburne and back to Gainesville. The Texas Panhandle expected cooler weather over Sunday from a cold front that was crossing Kansas and Colorado late Saturday night.

Meanwhile, coastal residents kept a wary eye on tropical storm Francell moving west-northwest some 900 miles southeast of Miami, Fla.

Texas, still far away from the disturbance but wary, had extremely heavy rains and some flash flooding in the normally arid Guadalupe Mountains east of El Paso closed U.S. 82-180 for a while with gushing floodwaters between the Texas hamlet of Pine Springs and Carlsbad, N.M.

Nearly all the state was cloudy or partly cloudy except the northeast quadrant, where skies generally were clear.

Forecasters said generally clear to partly cloudy and warm weather was in store for North-Central Texas through Sunday. West Texas and the interior of South Texas are due for widely scattered showers. More showers are expected in the Davis Mountains of Far West Texas and along the coast.

Rock Festivals Open On Wight, At Tenino

TENINO, Wash. (AP) — Thousands of rock music lovers, hippies and curious squares converged Saturday for three days of blues and blaring beat on a 360-acre ranch where once the loudest sound has been the moos of cattle.

The Sky River Rock Festival and Lighter Than Air Fair—having overcome court objections raised by merchants, the Birch Society, landowners and the Northern Pacific Railroad—opened officially at noon.

The first of 15-20 bands to appear daily on the big 92x49-foot stage, with 35-foot high light towers on each side, kicked off the festival. The bands and acts perform from midday to midnight or on into the early morning.

An estimated 5,000 persons swarmed into camping and parking areas by dawn, and roads were jammed with cars headed for the site two miles from this town of 900, about 20 miles south of Olympia, the capital.

The sponsors, New American Community, Inc., Seattle, have based their plans on a three-day attendance of about 50,000, with no more than 25,000 on any one day.

The State Supreme Court cleared the way for the festival to go ahead late Friday, ordering the county auditor to issue the sponsors a license.

ISLE OF WIGHT, England (AP) — American folk singer Bob Dylan, emerging from sequestration, brought a mass migration of pop music fans to this holiday island in the English Channel Saturday.

Even the Beatles were expected and a topless girl dancer was on the bill.

Tens of thousands of long-haired fans from all over the world steamed in under banners echoing the slogan: "Help Bob Dylan sink the Isle of Wight."

An estimated 200,000 fans are on an island that measures 15 miles from top to bottom and has a worried force of 150 policemen.

"Oddly dressed people of uncertain sex are arriving in droves by every boat," a police spokesman said.

All leave for Isle of Wight bobbies has been canceled in case the kids get out of hand. Prospects of that happening were slim.

Thousands spent the night in tents and the flicker of barbecue fires were seen on the English mainland three miles away.

Dylan, 28-year-old high priest of pop, was not due to show himself until a climactic appearance Sunday night, for which he reportedly will receive $84,000.

Actress Hussey Bigger Girl Now

ROME (AP) — British actress Olivia Hussey, the teenager who sprang to film stardom in "Romeo and Juliet," has lost a leading role in the forthcoming movie "Red Hotshot" because she's a bigger girl now.

Director Piero Zuffi said she had been replaced by Czech actress Susanna Martinikova.

"It seems as if Miss Hussey let herself go a little in recent times and has slightly taken on some weight," Zuffi explained.

James G. Brown, Retired Painter

James G. Brown, 70, of 1705 Lancaster, a retired painter, died at 5:35 a.m. Saturday in a local hospital. Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Rev. W. H. Odell, pastor of Berea Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Brown was born Oct. 20, 1898 in Pittsburgh, Pa., and moved to Big Spring in 1948 with Williams, Calif. He married Winnie White Aug. 3, 1946 in Reno, Nev. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Big Spring, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Wymer, Los Angeles, Calif.

Pallbearers will be Dan Padgett, J. D. Hare, Herman Wilkerson, Jim King, Bobby White and Bennett White.

Mrs. Ethel Teeters, Loraine Resident

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mrs. Ethel Teeters, 80, died at the Roland Nursing Home in Loraine at 2:45 a.m. Friday, and funeral was held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church at Loraine, with a pastor of Belmont Baptist Church, Odessa, officiating.

Burial was in Loraine Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. Teeters was born in Corvett County Feb. 16, 1889. She lived in Nolan and Mitchell counties 44 years.

Survivors include her husband, W. M. Teeters, Loraine; one daughter, Mrs. Lucian Rudd Sr., Vidor; two sons, Henry Cox, Loraine, and Rev. Monroe Teeters, Amarillo; two brothers, Henry Patterson, Gatesville, Bill Patterson, now lives at Irving.

DEATHS

Bangs; one sister, Mrs. Floyd Spradley, Goldthwaite; nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Vernetta Samples, Monday Services

Funeral for Vernetta Diane Samples, 20, will be at 2 p.m. Monday in the Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. D. M. Duke officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Miss Samples died Wednesday morning in Lake City, Fla., when the pickup she was driving was in collision with a car. Her body was returned to Big Spring Friday.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Samples, Big Spring; one brother, Ernest Samples, Centerville, La.; four sisters, Mrs. Vivian Carter, Royalty; Mrs. Goldie Weaver, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. Linda Kiser, Big Spring; and Mrs. Virginia McPhearson, Jacksonville, Fla.; and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers will be Cecil Cooper, Marvin Woolridge, Jimmy Pedigo, Jackie Thomas, William Gray and Gene Haston.

A. W. Wilkinson

A. W. Wilkinson, 80, father of J. T. Wilkinson, died Friday in Abilene, and funeral services are set for today at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church at Tuscola, under direction of Fry Funeral Home. J. T. Wilkinson formerly lived here while employed with Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., and the family

Three Hurt In Car Wreck

Three Big Springers were injured, one seriously, in a one-car accident early Saturday morning, just north of IS 20 and its underpass of a service road, 3 of a mile west of Big Spring.

In satisfactory condition in Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital Saturday night were Mrs. Neva Griffith, 2006 Runnels, and Mrs. Lougenice Elliott, 706 S. Nolan. Mrs. Griffith's husband, George, was treated and released at the same hospital.

Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Robinson said the car, being driven by Michael W. Modglin, 4206 Dixon, failed to negotiate a curve on the service road which goes underneath IS 20, and crashed through a restraining barrier.

He said Mrs. Elliott was thrown approximately 15 feet from the car.

Theft From Car

Big Spring police Saturday were investigating the theft of several items from the car of L. E. Holsinger, 1322 Wright, while it was parked at a parking lot at Eleventh Place and Locust about 11 a.m. Saturday. Reported missing in the theft was an air conditioner water pump, an oil filter and a bottle of denture cleanser.

BUT STANDARDS VARY WIDELY

Teachers Give In On Style

By RICHARD BLYSTONE Associated Press Writer

Does junior's hair dangle too far toward his bugle-leg blue jeans? Is daughter's summer hemline a little sporty for fall? Looking at the kids this Labor Day weekend, are you seeing problems when school opens?

Depends where you live. In general, American school administrators are giving way to the demands of fashion, but the standards range widely.

High in banning T shirts, bell-bottom trousers, sandals, "exposed shirt-tails, girls' slacks, minidresses and shorts.

But many officials echo William Armistead of DeKalb County, Ga.: "I don't think you can fight designers." Dungearees are gaining acceptance, along with girls' pants dresses, slacks and culottes, skirts joined in the middle to give some of the versatility of pants.

"I have my own personal ideas about it," says Vice Principal William DeWolfe of Baltimore's Western High. "But I guess you can learn a geometry theorem just as easily in a pair of pants as you can in a dress."

Two inches above the knee in Cheboygan, Mich., but five for public schools in Omaha, which says it doesn't permit miniskirts. Fallbrook, (Calif.) High has okayed a two-inch rise for fall—to seven inches off the floor by the "kneel and measure" system.

Pointing out the difficulty in going strictly by the numbers, headmaster Glen Ballard of Brownell-Talbot, an Omaha private school, says: "It's a funny thing. One girl can look fine in a skirt a certain number of inches above the knee and another looks like a biology experiment."

enforcement is that they recall legal squabbles such as cropped up in the past year in Maine and other states. Or student protests like the one at Eastern High in Baltimore, where girls sat in, chanting "We want pants. We want pants."

In Pocatello, Idaho, and Detroit, students were refused graduation last spring for insisting on long hair and a beard, respectively. But in Walworth County, Wis., anyway, you can have hair today and gown tomorrow. Courts there upheld an American Civil Liberties Union contention that schools have no jurisdiction outside school hours and grounds and a student's hair spends more time away from school than in it.

'I FELT A LITTLE WARM' — Mrs. J. P. Skinner, Columbus, Ohio, dashes away from her blazing car with what few belongings she could save. Mrs. Skinner and her husband were headed for a vacation on Anna Maria Island on Florida's west coast when she 'felt a little warm.' Mrs. Skinner looked in the back seat and saw it was ablaze. They escaped with just a few belongings before flames engulfed the car.

Municipal Band Helps Erase Woes

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Paris Municipal Band is one of the few left in the Southwest. Not only do the citizens support it with their tax dollars, but they turn out every summer to hear or participate in the concerts.)

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — On Friday evenings, this Northeast Texas city tunes out the troubled world and turns its ear to the music coming from the village green.

The melodic sounds which fill the summer air come from the Paris Municipal Band, one of the few such organizations still existing in the Southwest.

The townspeople voted to place the band, first formed in 1912, in the city budget in 1920. And although bandsmen and directors have come and gone, the Municipal Band has been a part of Paris since.

BACH TO ROCK
While the band is traditional its music isn't. Director Floyd Weger gives the listeners everything from Bach to rock.

Although the series of concerts are in the summer, the band rehearses once a week year-round.

Weger's 42 members this year range from junior high clarinetist Billie Ausmus to aging Gus Baize, a veteran trumpet player.

Weger also doubles as the director of the Paris High School Band and most municipal band members played for him there. Several high school students are in both bands. A few band directors from neighboring cities also drop in for an evening of good music playing. One is Weger's brother, Roy, who directs the Southern Methodist University Concert Band.

SPECIAL ELECTION
The award-winning director of the Paris High Band has guided the municipal band since 1958. His wife, Irene, is a member and their two children played in the band.

Both put their training to good advantage, as son Steve plays for the San Antonio Symphony while working for his doctorate in music at Boston University. Daughter Jeanie plays in the Austin Symphony while studying for a masters degree at the University of Texas.

Before the city started supporting the musical organization, bandsmen passed the hat to pay the expenses and the bandmaster.

The late Arthur Caddell and W. W. Stamples led a campaign in 1920 for a special election to approve the band as a legal part of the city's services. The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of approval.

VOTERS APPROVE

The voters reaffirmed their approval in a 1959 election.

A city Band commission oversees the band, which has a $3,000 budget. The director, receives a token salary, with the bandsmen getting $5 per concert.

Many of the veterans turn over their pay to a band fund to help younger members.

The city provides some of the larger and more expensive band instruments. In earlier years the members were outfitted in uniforms. But the passing years, waistlines and moths took care of that.

There have been five bandmasters since E. A. Lightfoot raised his baton for the first time 57 years ago. Father-son, Mother-daughter combinations and whole families have played in the band at one time or another.

The concerts are performed from the peristyle of Bywaters Park, with the audience bringing its own chairs or just sprawling on the grass for an evening of good old-fashioned entertainment.

Viet Claims Aid Wasted

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese banker-economist said Friday night that his country has "recklessly and indiscriminately squandered" American aid, which has "righteously evoked complaints and displeasure from our benefactors."

Dr. Nguyen Van Hoa, director general of the Agricultural Development Bank, told the South Vietnamese Council on Foreign Relations: "We have been extremely wasteful in using that aid. . . We must assume the full responsibility for our unskillful and unreasonable use of it and suffer the consequences."

Hoa said that U.S. aid is intended to make South Vietnam more self-reliant, but instead the nation has become increasingly dependent on American help.

'Quirk' Gives Landfall Pay Raise At El Paso

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Senate Bill 613, passed in the closing days of the last regular legislative session, has stirred up a political hornet's nest in a county where it was never intended to apply. Here is the story behind it.)

EL PASO (AP) — By one of those legislative quirks, county commissioners in El Paso County could have their salaries more than doubled — from $8,000 to $19,120 annually — by a bill that was only intended to benefit their counterparts in Dallas and Tarrant counties.

The quirk stems from Senate Bill 613, sponsored by Dallas and Tarrant County senators to provide immediate pay raises for their county and district officials.

It was patterned after the usual "class" legislation in fixing mandatory salaries in counties with a population of at least 375,000 according to the last census. What the sponsors, as well as El Paso's delegation in Austin, apparently forgot, is that El Paso County is certain to hit that figure next year and come under the provisions of the salary schedule.

Most of the previous bills dealing with salaries have given the counties leeway by posting maximums payable within certain population brackets. Not so with SB 613 that says the county shall pay at least the minimums prescribed.

For most El Paso officials this will mean increases of between 40 and 50 per cent when the 1970 census is completed — but for the county commissioners it would bring a 139 per cent increase for a job that is part time for each, incidental to his main occupation.

It will also affect salaries paid constables and justices of the peace in Precincts 1 and 2. In Dallas and Fort Worth these are the main downtown precincts. In El Paso County Precinct 2 is a remote outpost with very little business transacted. Under the new law, however, the justice and constable must be paid $14,000 a year.

How to correct the salary schedule without touching the pay raises approved for Dallas and Tarrant counties is a legislative problem that is not expected to be solved until the next regular session in 1971. By that time the pay scale will be mandatory. Since the Constitution bans reducing salaries of elected officials during their term of office, just where does that leave El Paso's officials?

"Very happy," says one courthouse official. It doesn't leave others so elated, however, namely the legislative delegation from El Paso. Reps. Tom Niland and Paul Moreno and Sen. Joe Christie rushed statements into print after the situation was made public in the El Paso Times.

The legislators said they knew nothing of the bill's implications when they voted for it.

"It makes them (the legislators) look bad," said a county official who claims Niland is trying "to muddy the water" that would bring raises by introducing corrective legislation. Christie said the commissioners court need not accept the raises, pending the corrective legislation — but some members would just as soon have theirs.

Commissioner Richard Telles, facing re-election next year, introduced a resolution urging the other commissioners to join him in requesting legislation to reduce the proposed salaries. The resolution failed when only one other commissioner voted with Telles.

How could those who agree to have their salaries adjusted downward do so without touching the other officials? That's one of several questions everyone is waiting — either eagerly or anxiously — to hear answered.

CAMPUS DISORDERS Students Can Sue For Refunds

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An attorney said Saturday that college students should sue for a refund of tuition fees for days classes are interrupted by campus disorders.

Maurice R. Franks of New Orleans, legal advisor to the Louisiana delegation to the Young Americans for Freedom convention, said courts have held that a college catalogue is a binding contract between the school and its students.

"Whenever the class schedule listed in the catalogue is altered, as for example by leftist campus disorders, any student has a right to sue to compel refunds to all students of tuition for the days on which classes were interrupted," he told a news conference.

Franks said at larger private institutions $20 per day per student could mount to damages of $250,000 or more after only a short disruption.

He said he would place his proposal before the convention Sunday during a panel on YAF's legal attack on the new left.

Franks said a federal court ruling involving the Louisiana State Board of Education held that college officials have a legal duty to expel students for attending meetings of groups conspiring to break the peace.

"Far from fulfilling this duty, certain universities have evidenced gross disregard for prospects of peace on campus by their policy of admitting and retaining known student agitators, by their policy of hiring and retaining troublesome teachers, and by their policy of granting official university recognition to the various student organizations that the administrators ought to know have fomented riot, destruction and bloodshed on other campuses," Franks said.

The attorney quoted a 1965 Court of Appeals decision by

THESE HUSKIES HARD AT WORK FOR OPENER WITH MONTEREY—The Big Spring Steers, 1969 version (above), have already put in many hours of preparation for the season's opening game against Lubbock Monterey, which will be played here a week from next Friday night. The boys paused long enough Saturday to have their picture taken. The athletes have been blessed by favorable, if damp, weather during early drills. They scrimmage Sweetwater next weekend as head coach Spike Dykes (left, top row) gets a final look at his talent under stress. Hopes are high in the community for a 3-AAAA contender.

Johnson, Broadrick Lead In Meet Here

On a course made difficult by heavy rains, two hometown linksters, Dr. Bob Johnson and Ronnie Broadrick took the first round lead Saturday in the 38th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament with one-over par 72's.

The tournament extends through Monday, with 18 holes of medal play scheduled each day.

One shot off the pace is another Big Spring entry, Dan Wilkins, former Country Club champion, while the reigning City titlist, Jerry Barron, is only three strokes back.

The leading out-of-town entry is Dan Gaudin of Weatherford, who posted a first round 74 to tie Barron and Ted Gross for fourth place.

The course was playing extremely long because of the soggy conditions. The ball was getting very little roll on it, although no rain fell on the layout Saturday.

Last year's champion, Dwain (Pancho) McNabb, Odessa, was in good shape with a 75.

Twenty-two players remained in the Championship Flight after the first day of activity—anyone with a score of 79 or better made the cutoff.

The remainder were relegated to the President's Flight.

Match play is being used to determine winners in all flights but the top two.

Johnson Hurt In Card Loss

By The Associated Press

Quarterback Charley Johnson of Big Spring and the St. Louis Cardinals stepped out of a concussion... and stepped into a concussion... and stepped into a concussion...

Johnson turned defensive tackle for a moment and tried to haul down Jim Kearney, who had picked off one of his passes in the second quarter Friday night. The play set up a Kansas City touchdown and left Johnson dazed the rest of the game, as the Chiefs trumped the Cards 31-21 in a pro exhibition football game.

"All interceptions hurt you, especially when they're in your territory," said Coach Charley Winner of St. Louis. "But this one really hurt because Charley was the one who tackled Kearney and got conked on the head."

"From then on, he was kind of dazed. He said he was okay, but finally took himself out. He said he didn't know what he was calling."

Johnson's injury appeared not to be serious, however. Winner said he would probably play in the next exhibition game.

More seriously hurt was another Cardinal, Chuck Latourette, who suffered a knee injury while running back a kickoff 29 yards. He was to undergo an operation today.

Cincy Closes In On Lead

CINCINNATI (AP)—Wayne Granger came out of the bullpen in the ninth inning to nail down Cincinnati's 4-3 victory over St. Louis Saturday night as the Reds closed within one-half game of San Francisco in the National League's West Division race.

The Reds, who haven't had two consecutive complete games since last August, saw Gary Nolan take a 4-2 lead into the ninth against the Cards. Jim Maloney had gone the route Friday night.

But the Cards rallied and Granger relieved. Two walks, a wild pitch and an infield out gave St. Louis one run but Granger, an ex-Cardinal, got Vada Pinson on an infield out to end it.

Pete Rose singled home what proved to be the winning run in the two-run fifth.

St. Louis tallied its first run of the contest in the third as Lou Brock tripped leading off and Curt Flood cracked a single.

Cincinnati knotted the game 1-1 in the bottom half of the inning on a walk to Nolan, Rose's ground out and Bobby Tolán's run-scoring single.

They upped their lead to two runs in the fifth on Rose's hit and Alex Johnson also registered an RBI hit.

WINS U.S. AMATEUR — Steve Melnyk of Brunswick, Ga., points to his final score after winning the U.S. Amateur at Oakmont Country Club near Pittsburgh Saturday. Melnyk had a 72-hole score of 286, two over par.

Melnyk Grabs Title With 70

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sopping the pressure in his 235-pound frame like a sponge, Steve Melnyk charged to a one-under par 32-38-70 Saturday to win the 69th annual U.S. Amateur Golf Championship by five strokes.

The 22-year-old Melnyk, university of Florida senior, posted a 72 hole total of two-over-par 288 as he left his closest pursuers, Marvin "Vinnie" Giles and Allen Miller buried in the 157 sand traps of Oakmont Country Club's demanding 6,670-yard course.

Giles staggered home second for the third straight year, the first in the history of the tournament to be runner-up three times in a row. Two others, Charles Evans Jr. in 1912, 1922 and 1927, Raymond E. Billows in 1937, 1939, 1945, have been second three times since the event started in 1895.

The 26-year-old Giles, recent Virginia Law School graduate, shot a final round 37-35-72 and wound up with a seven-over-par 291. He was two strokes ahead of Miller, the University of Georgia insurance major, who took a 37-37-74 on the final 18 holes for a 293.

Melnyk faltered a little on the back nine as he did in every round but the first, but his big lead was enough of a cushion.

He was three over par on the back nine, including a double bogey on the 161-yard, par 3 13th hole where he hit into a trap and three putted. He also had bogeys on 11, 14 and 16, with an eight-foot birdie putt at 14.

Melnyk, the 1969 Western Amateur champion led all the way in the four-day tournament. He started with a one under par 70 Wednesday, added rounds of 73

Dierker Wins 17th Game

HOUSTON (AP)—Larry Dierker became the first Astro in history to win 17 games as Houston beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 Saturday night.

Dierker pitched a seven-hitter and struck out 13 to record the victory, only Houston's third of the year over the Pirates.

It was the fourth time this year that Dierker, who has lost 10, had 10 or more strikeouts.

Bo Belinsky, now 0-1, was the loser, although he gave up only three hits in his four-inning stint.

The Astros jumped into a 1-0 lead in the second with an unearned run. Belinsky fanned Dierker with the bases loaded and one out but a passed ball by Gary Kolb on the third strike allowed Denis Menke to score from third.

Marty Martinez' single, following a double by Jesus Alou, made it 2-0, Houston, in the third.

Gene Alley's seventh homer of the year produced the only Pittsburgh run in the sixth.

Mets Defeat Giants, 3-2

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don Clendenon ripped a two-out homer in the 10th inning, giving the New York Mets a 3-2 decision over San Francisco Saturday and ending the Giants' winning streak at nine games.

Clendenon's ninth homer of the year sailed over the right center field wall. It came on a two-strike pitch by loser Gaylord Perry.

Lions Deflate 'Skins, 21-20

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Sparked by Lem Barney's 75-yard touchdown run after grabbing off a blocked field goal the Detroit Lions fought to a tight 21-20 pre-season victory over the Washington Redskins Saturday night.

The Redskins scored five minutes into the opening quarter with an eight-yard field goal off the instep of Charley Gogolak.

Hobbs, Willis Show Well In Forsan Scrimmage

FORSAN — Leon Hobbs filled in more than adequately for the injured Jeff Williams at quarterback when the Forsan Buffaloes scrimmaged Grandfalls in a soggy field here Friday night.

Coach Don Stevens had another reason to feel better, too. Williams, who suffered a concussion in an earlier workout, can start running again Tuesday although his neck will be in a brace for a while.

Stevens used 36 boys in the scrimmage (compared to 18 for Grandfalls) and saw the two first units tied with one touchdown each.

Because of a shortage of personnel, Grandfalls had to use a mixture of first and second stringers against Forsan reserves and achieved a 3-2 edge in touchdowns in that particular scrimmage.

Bobby Davis scored Forsan's lone TD on a 15-yard end sweep in the varsity workout.

Stevens said his boys have not yet developed the necessary quickness and must improve their agility but he feels those will come. The Bisons hit very well throughout the contest, the coach thought.

Forsan goes to Imperial next Friday for a similar drill.

Jackie Willis, playing at fullback, looked good for Forsan, especially in situations where the Buffs needed short yardage for a down renewal. The blocking was sub-normal, Stevens said, but he feels that, too, will get better.

Defensively, Willis was tough as the "mike man," as was Bobby Davis at halfback.

The Buffs open their season Sept. 12 against Abilene Central Catholic in Abilene.

MOVE TO TEXAS REPORTED Sale Of Club Denied

SEATTLE (AP)—William R. Daley denied from Cleveland Saturday that he is considering an offer to sell his stock in the American League Seattle Pilots to Lamar Hunt and Tommy Mercer of Dallas, Tex.

The Houston Chronicle reported the two Texans were negotiating with Daley in an effort to gain control of Pilot stock and move the team to Texas.

"There is nothing to it," Daley told the Seattle Times by telephone from his home in Cleveland.

"It is reported that a tacit agreement has been reached that the club will move to Dallas-Fort Worth," sports columnist John Wilson wrote in the Chronicle.

"I have no thought of disposing of my stock," said Daley, adding that he had "never talked with them" (Hunt and Mercer).

Daley is chairman of the board and has the largest block of stock but is not believed to hold a controlling interest.

In Dallas, Hunt also said there had been no contact and that he and Mercer had not tried to move the Seattle franchise. Said Mercer: "We are not actively negotiating with any major league franchise at this time. We have been contacted by several franchises, but Seattle is not one of them."

Dewey Soriano, president of the Pilots, said the report was "damaging — it's very untimely."

"Our problems are here," said Soriano, "and we've got to work them out. We know nothing about any plans in Texas—they've been trying to get a franchise for several years."

Daley admitted disappointment in Seattle attendance, which has averaged 9,808 for 60 home dates. The team plays in a temporary stadium seating 20,500. Construction has not yet begun on a $40 million domed stadium to be built at the edge of the city's business district.

Montgomery Tops Among Grid Elite

NEW YORK (AP) — Terry Bradshaw and Dennis Shaw join Rex Kern, Bill Montgomery, Bob Anderson, Jim Plunkett and Bill Cappelman in the crowded quest for 1969 All-America quarterback honors.

At other positions, on the eve of college football's centennial season, the field of contenders includes:

—A record-breaking ball carrier, Steve Owens of Oklahoma.

—A receiver who has dropped only three passes in two years,

Idaho's 6-2 Jerry Hendren.

—The defending national scoring champion, Cincinnati's wide receiver Jim O'Brien.

—A future forest ranger, Oklahoma State's 6-5, 242-pound tackle John "Marmaduke" Ward.

—And two accomplished actor-musicians, Penn State's great defensive tackle Mike Reid and Texas Tech defensive end Richard Campbell.

PHIL OLSON TOPS
There is no better lineman anywhere than Phil Olson, 6-5, 265-pound Utah State defensive end who is one of those carrying on a proud football family name with distinction. His brother, Merlin, stars on the Los Angeles Rams' front four.

At 6-4, 190 with a 4.4 clocking in the 40-yard dash, Grambling's hard-hitting defensive back Delles Howell is following in the footsteps of brothers Mike and Lane now in the NFL. Star Tennessee tight end Ken DeLong was preceded by AA Linebacker Steve.

Eye-popping receiver Walker Gillette from Richmond (20 catches in the Tangerine Bowl alone) is the son of a former Cleveland Rams and Virginia Back. Ohio U. pass catcher Todd Snyder's father is the school basketball coach and member of the Ohio Athletic Hall of Fame. North Carolina tight end Tony Blanchard, 6-3, 245 is the son of former Army all-time fullback Doc Blanchard.

Attention-getting will be an art among quarterbacks this fall and no school, regardless of size, will be left unturned in the effort.

Louisiana Tech's Bradshaw, who can hustle his 6-3, 216-pound frame in 4.7 for the 40, led the college division in total offense last year with 2,987 yards while completing 176 of 339 aeriels for 2,890 and 22 touchdowns.

Shaw, once a freshman line-backer at Southern Cal, now directs San Diego State's versatile attack. In the crushing 68-7 trouncing of Southern Mississippi last year, the 6-3, 200-pound marksman hit on 17 of 38 tosses for 524 yards and seven TDs.

Kern and Montgomery return after sensational sophomore campaigns.

CAPPED FINE YEAR

The former, possessing just the right combination of brains, brawn and brash confidence, led Ohio State to the national championship. Montgomery sparked Arkansas' Southwest Conference co-titlists, capping his year with a great Sugar Bowl show. Both should be even better with the seasoning.

Colorado senior Anderson, best at running the option sweep, returns after pacing the Big Eight in total offense last year. Plunkett, 6-3, 205, junior, is the premiere QB on the coast who could lead Stanford into the Rose Bowl. He passed for 2,156 yards while playing half a season on torn knee cartilage.

The Florida State staff claims no passer can match Cappelman while Purdue coach Jack Molenkopf says that while Mike Phipps is not as quick releasing the ball as pro Bob Girese, he is bigger, stronger and a better marksman.

POINTS WITH PRIDE

SMU points with pride to junior Chuck Hixson, 6-2, 190, who burst onto the varsity scene last season to become the nation's top aerialist as he hit on 265 of 468 passes for 3,103 yards and 21 TDs.

Other top quarterbacks include Harry Gonso, Indiana; Steve Ramsey, North Texas State; Tommy Pharr, Mississippi State; Cleve Bryant, Ohio U.; James Street, Texas; Leo Hart, Duke; Bill Triplett, Michigan State; Ray Grath, Utah.

Sooner workhorse Owens set an all-time national mark of 237 carries in 1968. He now needs only 158 yards to match Gale Sayers' three-year Big Eight Conference rushing mark and 1,945 yard to crack the NCAA three-year standard of Mercury Morris. Owens powered his way for 1,536 yards and 21 TDs last fall.

Discussion of other halfbacks quickly swings to swiftness like Penn State's versatile Charley Pittman, Nebraska's Joe Orduña, UCLA's Greg Jones, Billy Mair of Oregon State; Harvey Blanks of Washington, Texas A&M's Larry Steiger and converted wide receiver Ron Gardin of Arizona.

Kansas' John Riggins at 6-2, 225 rushed for 866 yards and a 6.2 average with his 9.8 speed as a yearling so he's prime AA fodder at fullback. Arizona's hustling Art Malone wound up fifth in rushing (1,431 yards) and tied for eighth (96 points) in scoring. If he's whole again, TCU's Norm Bulaich, 6-1, 216 is a great one with 9.6 swiftness.

Other standout fullbacks include Texas' Steve Worster, Ohio State's Jim Otis, Bo Bowen of Mississippi, Jim Carter of Minnesota, Warren Muir of South Carolina and Tim Sullivan of Iowa along with Al Newton of Syracuse.

Five Schools Have Chance In Big Eight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Big Eight Conference spawned three major football bowl teams in 1968 and didn't have its league race settled until the last day of November—when most college teams have packed away their gear.

An even more hectic situation is expected this year.

Five teams have a shot at the Big Eight championship and nobody will be surprised if the conference lands teams in three more bowls.

Once known as Oklahoma and the Seven Dwarfs, the Big Eight has achieved the balance so long sought.

TIGERS SALTY

Oklahoma again will be rugged. But so will Missouri, which thrashed Alabama in the Gator Bowl, 35-10, last December, and Kansas, which tied the Sooners for the Big Eight championship and then lost 15-14 to Penn State in the Orange Bowl. And Nebraska and Colorado are not being counted out of anything.

Rapidly-rising on the football scene are Kansas State and Iowa State. Both once were conference doormats, but now are regarded as brash, young upstarts under the fine coaching of Vince Gibson and Johnny Majors.

Oklahoma State, which starts another attempt at a five-year program under a new coach, Floyd Gass, is the only team not regarded as a possible title threat.

Oklahoma, which cut down Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma State to claim a share of the 1968 title with the Jayhawks, returns tailback Steve Owens. That alone makes the Sooners a contender.

Owens heads into his senior season with a good chance of becoming the top ground gainer in collegiate football history. Owens needs 1,945 yards to crack Eugene "Mercury" Morris' career rushing record of 3,388 yards and 19 touchdowns to break Glen Davis' scoring record of 51 touchdowns.

The Sooners also return Steve Zabel—considered by many the Big Eight's finest football player—who can play tight end or defensive end and center Ken Mendenhall. Quarterback Jack Mildren, flanker Roy Bell and end Bruce Deloney are up from a freshman team that was 4-0 and outscored its opponents 194-66.

HURT BY LOSSES

Kansas suffered severe graduation losses, but Coach Pepper Rodgers still has fullback John Riggins, who gained more yardage as a sophomore last year than did Owens in his first year; center Dale Evans and end John Mosier on offense; plus Emery Nicks and Karl Salb on defense.

BUFFS' ATTITUDE BRINGS GRIN TO COACH'S FACE

STANTON — Head coach Gerald Loyd said he was well pleased with the manner in which his Stanton Buffaloes performed in their Friday night scrimmage with Rankin in Rankin.

The Buffaloes are coming along on schedule, Loyd said, pointing for their opening game of the season in Tahoka a week from Friday night.

Loyd said he had lost only two players since workouts got under way. He is working with a squad of 53, including nine lettermen.

"Our boys have a great attitude, the former Big Spring assistant said. "I'd heard stories how conditions are for a football coach in Stanton but I've found things to be just the opposite. Things couldn't have been better and it's quite obvious the community wants a winner."

The 1969 squad boasts only 20 juniors and seniors, which means Loyd and his aides will be rebuilding largely with young talent. Stanton finished with a 4-6 record last year.

The Buffaloes visit Roscoe next Friday for their final scrimmage before the season begins.

Returning lettermen include ends Steve Stallings and Mark Hursh, tackles Jerry Smith and Scotty Fisher, guard Larry Pinkston, quarterback Russell Hicks, halfbacks Greg Kitchens and Alan Gregston and fullback Johnny McMeans.

Hicks, who understudied David Jones as the quarterback position last year, faces competition for his job from such boys as Larry Adams, 143-pound junior; and Glen Ray, 160-pound soph.

Stallings, a fine pass receiver, is better known in athletic circles as the State Class AA mile champion in track.

Loyd has installed a straight

COAHOMA TERMINALS — Toby Green (left) and Gaylon Harrison are two of the reasons football hopes are high at Coahoma High School this fall. The two man the end positions for Bernie Hagins' club, which opens its season in Rankin Friday night, Sept. 12.

Rufneks Poised For Sacramento

MIDLAND — Ted Dawson, general manager and head coach of the West Texas Rufneks Professional Football Team announced today that the team is at full strength for its clash with the Sacramento Capitols Tuesday night, Sept. 2 at 7:30 p.m. at Sacramento.

Coach Dawson stated that the team is ready for its first league game and that many new players recently acquired have shown outstanding talents in their hard practice sessions the last two weeks.

Coach Dawson said the Sacramento Capitols are one of the strongest teams and are the leading contender for Western Division title of the Continental Football League, having trounced the Seattle Rangers 10 to 6 last weekend.

The Board of Directors of the West Texas Rufneks stated they have chartered a private aircraft to be called "The West Texas Rufneks Special" to assure speedy travel and increase the efficiency of the football team on the field of play at their away games.

Nash J. Dowdle, chairman of the board, stated "our aim is to win the championship of both the Texas Football League and play-off game for the championship of the Continental Football League."

Dowdle stated that efforts are being made to secure National Television coverage of the play-

STANTON FEED SET TUESDAY

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Buffalo Boosters Club will stage its annual barbecue for the high school football team at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the high school stadium.

Honored guests will be coaches Gerald Loyd, Jim Eden, Bill Jennings and Phil Stovall, along with 52 varsity and junior varsity players and their seven trainers and managers.

Junior high mentors Jerry Bethell and Mickey Gosdin will also be present, along with the 56 boys who have reported for seventh and eighth grade workouts.

Cheerleaders and their sponsors, Claudia Sanders and Betta Little, will also be on hand.

Buffalo Booster Club membership dues are $5, which entitle the holder to attend the barbecue. Additional tickets will cost $1.50 each.

Club officers are shooting for a record enrollment of members this year, hoping to recruit as many as 200.

REEVES TO MISS TWO CONTESTS

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League will have to do without the services of running back Danny Reeves for at least the rest of the exhibition season.

Reeves underwent minor surgery Friday to remove a pin placed in his right knee last fall during a major operation.

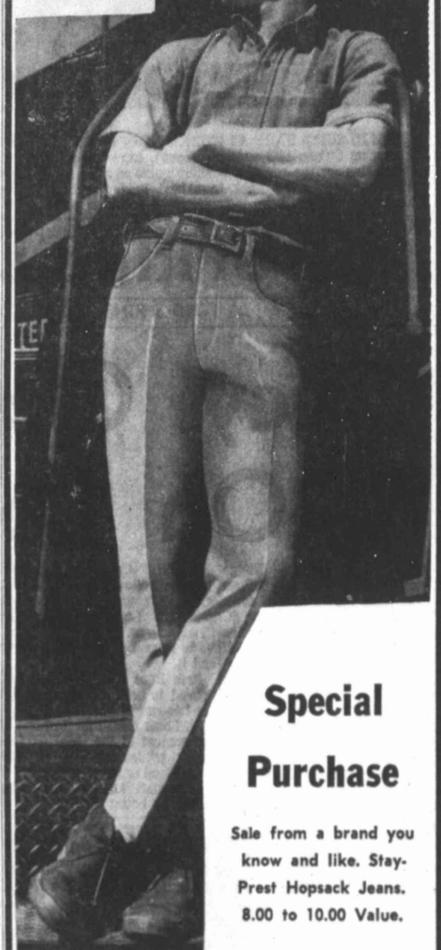

Doctors said Reeves will be out of action at least two weeks, meaning he will miss the Sept. 6 inter-league game with the New York Jets and the Sept. 14 pre-season tussle with the Baltimore Colts.

Alford Is Lost To Tech Team

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech suffered a scholastic casualty Friday that could severely damage the Red Raiders hopes in the Southwest Conference football race this Autumn.

Larry Alford, All-Southwest Conference safety, was ruled scholastically ineligible.

Dr. J. Williams Davis, Tech's faculty representative for athletics, said Alford was one hour short in his total accumulative hours.

NO LONGER MINIS Angelo Boasts New Alignment

SAN ANGELO — They were dubbed "Mighty Minis of the Conchos" in 1968 because of their unusually small size, an average starting lineup of 162.6 pounds per man. They still managed a District 3-4A championship with Odesa Permian and a 9-1 season mark, lone defeat coming at the hands of Permian, 14-0, and knocking them out of a shot at the playoffs.

But 1969 brings a new cast of characters and the Angry Orange Bobcats of San Angelo are no longer mini. In fact, they will have better than average size.

But along with the enlarged stature comes inexperience and Dan LaGrasta, starting his third season at the helm, had only eight lettermen when fall practice opened.

"But they are eight bonafide lettermen," he states, "every one a good football player."

Quarterback is a question. When spring work started, Neil Sykes, only a sophomore at the time, was rated no better than No. 3 behind David White and Stanley Howard, another sophomore. But it didn't take Sykes long, about 1 1/2 weeks, to assert himself as No. 1. The 5-10, 160-pound junior varsity graduate, took firm command in the windup scrimmage which saw the Bobcats-to-be whip the graduating seniors, 26-7.

Sykes hit four of six passes for 115 yards in the first half including a 66-yard shot to Hensley. And the little fellow is one of those that smells the goal line and heads for it in a hurry.

The only question about the young junior is experience and whether he can learn quickly enough before the start of 3-4A football the second week of the season when the Cats play at Midland High.

White, a senior letterman, who will be a regular defensive back, will be backup quarterback.

Probable starters at offensive ends will be Joe Holland, 190, and David Rainey, 175, a pair of juniors. Holland stands 6-2 and can catch the ball though his strong forte is blocking. Neither is a letterman.

Ed Nalepka, 180-pound senior, another of the returning letter winners and one of the tri-captains along with Lacy and Williams, will definitely man one of the guard spots.

WIDE OPEN
The other guard spot is wide open with letterman Ham Collins, 175, 165-pound Herbie Hunter, 175-pound J. W. Ragsdale and 165-pound Frank Kanro all in the running. All are seniors except Kanro, a junior.

Lynn Brenek, 244-pound returning regular, is a cinch for a tackle spot with the other one being a battle among John Armendariz, 180-pound junior, 200-pound senior Bill Ford, 180-pound junior Robert Kleinhaus and 185-pound junior John Sanders.

John Malitz, 165-pound senior, appears to have won the starting center spot backed up by 180-pound senior Mike Robinson. Defensively it will probably be Hensley and Lacy at ends, Brenek and Armendariz at tackles, Nalepka shifting from defensive end last year to middle guard, Williams and 225-pound junior Charlie Brown at interior line-backing, 150-pound letterman senior Shane Alexander and 150-pound junior Roy Holland at cornerbacks with White and 160-pound Walter Lewis, a junior, at the half-backs.

A couple of juniors of unknown quantity, 210-pound John Meyers and 195-pound Lincoln Davis, could be tremendous Bobcat bonuses should they be able to rebound from shoulder and knee surgery respectively.

Should Meyers be okay and come along, he would join the fight for the starting right guard slot while Davis would serve as a backup at fullback. Meyers would play middle guard and Davis an interior line-backer on defense.

LaGrasta feels his offensive strength will be in his tough running backs and passing attack but that improvement has to be shown in the line, especially on the right side. The defensive ends and line-backers are strong but the secondary is completely unproven with newcomers at every position.

While it will be much larger than the '68 crew, the 1969 edition of the Angry Orange will have a hard time matching the quickness of the smaller team.

The Bobcats of 1968 were far and above the best offensive team in 3-4A, rolling up a total of 2,775 yards in eight loop games, an average of around 347 steps per outing. The Bobcats, always strong on offense, wound up second to Cooper.

LaGrasta, like everyone else, figures Permian as the team to beat with Cooper, Big Spring and Odesa definite threats.

He's mighty quiet about his own Bobcats, much like 1968 when the Mighty Minis surprised with that great 9-1 season.

Sept. 12-Dallas Bruno Adams

Sept. 19-Midland (C)

Sept. 26-Abilene (C)

Oct. 3-Odesa Permian (C)

Oct. 10-Midland Lee (C)

Oct. 24-Big Spring (C)

Oct. 31-Abilene Cooper (C)

Nov. 7-Odesa (C)

Nov. 14-Spring Branch (C)

Nov. 21-District 3-4A games.

Laver Comes Through In Grand Slam Bid

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Did Rufneks Pull Rock?

By TOMMY HART

Midland prides itself as a city of champions—The Tall City projected Doug Russell as a swimmer of note and more recently fielded the nation's Soap Box racing tiffist—but it's possible the community blew the duke when owners of the West Texas Rufneks tied the can to Lou Rymkus as their coach and general manager.

Perhaps communications did break down between management and Rymkus but Lou had been too busy to do much talking with anyone.

One suspects that the club's problems go back to money — and the manner in which Rymkus was putting it in circulation. Before he started back on May 1, Lou had been told the club couldn't hope to make money, that as much as $150,000 could be dropped in the venture. Once the bills started coming in, however, stark reality began staring the owners in the face. The loot was virtually all going out and very little was coming in. The club probably would be better off playing all its home games in Midland—Odessa simply hasn't warmed to the new image. There is still a lot of rivalry between the two cities and the Odessa people have the idea that Midland gets the credit (and should get the blame), no matter where the games are played. Once the high schools start playing, interest in the Rufneks is going to sharply diminish—unless something very dramatic occurs. Ted Dawson may be the Messiah the club needs (there is a great difference in opinion on Ted's healing powers), but he could also be the man who sings the funeral dirge when the club is buried. Dave Thomas bids fair to become the most outstanding center the Big Spring Steers have had the past several years. Two outstanding features of the Big Spring Steers this fall could be their spirit of unanimity and their attitude. The current club would rank those attributes with any in the school's history.

R. J. Englert, perhaps the finest natural hitter the local high school baseball team ever had, led the Dallas Summer League in hitting with a .483 mark. R. J. has three years of eligibility remaining at Texas A&M. Some say that the nocturnal habits of Ray Floyd, the new PGA golf champion, would make Joe Namath look like a church deacon by comparison. Floyd owned a part of several North Beach topless joints in San Francisco at one time and maintained several race horses. Construction work on Philadelphia's $45 million sports stadium is 30 working days behind schedule but contractors still hope to have the park ready for the beginning of the 1970 baseball season. When the national high school baseball championship of Japan was determined in Tokyo recently, 60,000 paying customers were in attendance. Ex-Big Springer Camilo Pascual cut out recently to undergo surgery on his vocal chords in Miami but expects to be back with the Cincinnati Reds before the 1969 season ends. John Bowen, one of the game officials in Big Spring's opening contest against Lubbock Monterey, is a Sweetwater dentist while Marvin Salyer, who will help call the Midland-Big Spring contest, works as a State Highway Patrolman in Pecos. Darrell Froman, who grew up in Howard County, is currently a varsity assistant on the Lamesa High School football staff. Lee McNair, who spent his early years here will likely be Snyder's No. 1 quarterback this fall. Bill Russell announced his retirement from pro basketball only for the benefit of Sports Illustrated. One can only assume he is still playing for the newspapers, radio and TV. The American Basketball Association, for an outfit that drew only 1,500,000 paying customers last season, certainly talks big money. When Gene Gibson coached at Texas Tech, he would never send his freshman basketball team here to play HCJC. New mentor Bob Bass says he'd dearly like to, if the Southwest Conference will allow member schools to book more fresh games. The University of Arkansas will charge a minimum of $6 for all their home football games this fall, along with $1 for game programs and $1 for parking fees—and will still sell out for virtually every contest.

disputed champion shot for shot but experience finally prevailed.

The final two sets, once Fillof's resistance was broken, were routs.

LAUDS OPPONENT

"Jaime has tremendous potential," Laver said later of his beaten opponent. "He needs a little more steam on his service and needs to change his pace somewhat but when he gets that he'll be hard to beat."

Fillof was wide-eyed in his admiration of Laver. "I never saw a man hit the ball so quick, so hard and so low," he said.

Laver hasn't been beaten since he lost to John Newcombe at Queen's Club in London last spring.

A second leg injury in as many days knocked out a competitor when Ismail el Shafei of the United Arab Republic was forced to default in the second set of his match with Iie Nastase, the Romanian giant-killer.

Nastase, who upset America's Stan Smith Friday, was leading 6-0, 1-0 when the mustachioed Arab retired with an ailing right knee.

"I hurt it on Thursday and it stiffened up on me today," El Shafei said. "I could not continue."

Clark Graebner, the United States' No. 2 Davis Cup ace, was on the sidelines with crutches after spraining his right ankle in a match Friday against Britain's Roger Taylor.

Doctors reported there was no break, that Graebner should be able to test the ankle in a week and perhaps return to action in two weeks. The Davis Cup matches against Romania are scheduled Sept. 19-21 in Cleveland.

The ladies fought for quarter-final berths in hot, humid weather before another good crowd, more than 12,000.

NANCY IN RALLY

Sixth-seeded Nancy Richey, the pint-sized backcourt sniper from San Angelo, Tex., had to rally for a 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 victory over petite Winnie Shaw of Britain.

She was joined in the quarter-finals by Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco.

Jim Stewart Has Best BS Finish

ANDREWS — Big Spring's three entries in the Tournament of Champions held for junior golfers here earlier in the week finished well up in the running.

Jimmy Stewart tied for second in the 12-13 division but lost in a playoff to Donnie Winslow of Midland. Stewart finished with a 165.

Jimmy's brother, Howard, competing in the 16-17 group, wound up tied for tenth with a 148.

Gary Travis, who represented Big Spring in the 14-15 division, was fifth in the field with a 150.

Palmer, Doctor To Take New Look At Condition

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Arnold Palmer said Saturday he and his doctor would take a whole new look at the golfer's physical condition Tuesday.

Palmer quit the pro golf tour two weeks ago in Dayton, Ohio, after taking an 82 in the first round of the annual PGA tournament. He complained of a sore hip and said he wouldn't play again until the condition cleared.

The 39-year-old Palmer—he'll be 40 Sept. 10—doesn't expect to return to competitive golf until November at the earliest, if then. He plans to see his physician, Dr. Carl Eisenbeis, in Pittsburgh Tuesday for an examination.

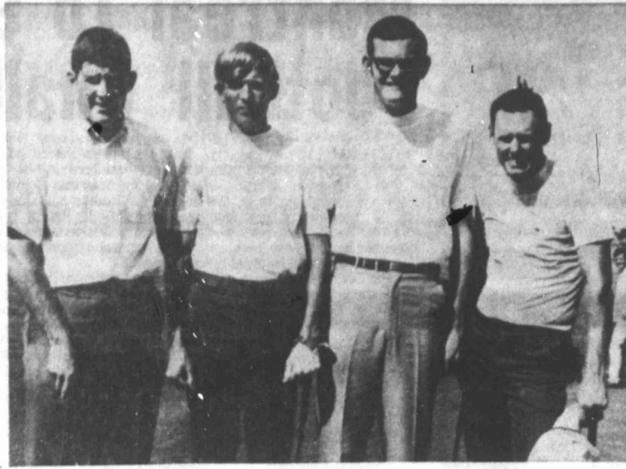

Palmer, who lives in Latrobe, about 30 miles east of Pittsburgh, talked about two exhibitions he played last week. He said his hip didn't bother him in the exhibition at Kansas City, that he felt fine although a little tired.

"If, the hip, did bother me again the next day at Denver," he admitted. He also said he wasn't letting out with his booming shots.

He plans to go to Hawaii for the Hawaiian open, although he doesn't know now if he can play.

He also talked about the stories of his entering the race for governor in Pennsylvania next year. He's a registered Republican.

"One of the Western Pennsylvania committeemen came and asked me if I was interested," Palmer said. "He and I discussed it at great length. I told him then I had no present political ambitions. I was approached a second time by another man

Ted Hull's Local Team Wins In Cup Matches

Ted Hull's resident team prevailed in the annual First National Bank Cup matches at the Big Spring Country Club Friday, edging the visiting delegation by the thinnest of margins, 8-7.

The visitors were captained by George Powell of Colorado City.

Hull had a personal hand in the success, nudging Powell in an individual match while his partner, Ted Gross, turned back Roy Peden, Kermit.

Together, Hull and Gross won low-ball to post three points for the Big Spring team.

Another Big Spring sweep was achieved by Dr. Robert Johnson and Pat Weaver. Johnson turned back Marvin Williams, Big Spring Muni player, while Weaver decisioned Rick Terry, Dallas, in individual play.

One visitors' sweep was achieved by a tandem consisting of Frank Powell, Garden City, and James Pritchett, Midland.

Powell measured Spot Cocker

while Pritchett outlasted Gil Jones.

Another 3-0 enemy success was scored by Travis Horton, Abilene, and Jerry Barron, Big Spring Muni.

Horton measured Jack Cook while Barron took out Jack Wallace.

The margin of victory actually came in the struggle between the Big Spring team of Dan Wilkins and Mike Hall and the outside twosome of Pancho McNabb, Odessa; and Dan Gaudin, Weatherford.

Hall and Gaudin split their match and low-ball play also resulted in a split but Wilkins nudged McNabb to result in a 2-1 Big Spring win for that particular foursome.

Lowest medal score of the day was achieved by Gross, who pieced together a two-under par 69.

A total of 125-players, enough for six flights, entered the tournament — three less than last year. The last five were added to the Championship Flight, winner of which will be determined by medal play.

No medalist award was offered in this year's tournament, since players did not have to qualify. They had only to request the Championship Flight, if they wanted to contest for the top award.

Hot Rod Classic Goes To Dallas

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The National Hot Rod Association announced Saturday its annual World Finals of drag racing will be moved from Tulsa, Okla., to the new Dallas International Motor Speedway.

The $150,000 event will be run Oct. 25-26. The World Finals have been run at Tulsa International Raceway the last four years.

Veterans Play In Houston

HOUSTON — A bit of baseball's nostalgic past will be presented at the Astrodome Monday evening at 5:30 when 38 former baseball stars take the field in Houston's annual "Oldtimers Game" prior to the Astros-Cardinals game at 7:05.

This year's game will pit the National League All-Stars of 1952, led by Hall of Famer Stan Musial and Roy Campanella, against Houston's Oldtimers.

The reunion of the 1952 National League Stars is in honor of National League president Warren Giles. Giles is retiring from baseball at the end of this season after spending 50 years (half of baseball's life) in the game. The 1952 team was Giles' first team as League president and he will be on hand to receive a special award.

The 1952 All-Stars who will be present are: Catcher Roy Campanella, first baseman Stan Musial, second baseman Red Schoendienst, shortstop Granny Hamner, third baseman Grady Hatton, left fielder Hank Sauer, center fielder Bobby Thomson, right fielder Enos Slaughter and pitchers Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Bob Rush and Jim Hearn.

The Houston Oldtimers, made up of former major and minor league stars now living in Houston will consist of: Catchers Gus Mancuso, Frank Niedson, Gerry Brumeister and Buddy Hancken; first basemen Pidge Browne, Jerry Witte, and Mel McGaha; second basemen Pete Runnels and Salty Parker; shortstops Solly Hemus, Billy Costa and Joffre Cross; third baseman Carey Selph and Frank Croucher; outfielders Carl Warwick, Harry Walker, Larry Miggins, Ray Knoblauch and Hal Epps; and pitchers Ted Wilks, Howie Pollet, John Berly, Al Hollingsworth, Harry Gumbert and Red Mungor.

Howard hit his 41st homer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Howard hit his 41st home run, stole a base for the first time in three years and batted in four runs with four hits as the Washington Senators routed Oakland 11-3 Saturday.

Ken McMullen also had a home run, four hits and batted in three runs while Lee Maye had three hits as the Senators pounded Lew Krausse and two successors for 17 hits.

Dick Bosman breezed six scoreless innings and won his 11th, most on the Senators' staff. He was lifted after six innings.

Oakland scored three unearned runs in the eighth off Bob Humphreys when Tim Cullen tied a major league record by making three errors in one inning. The only hit was a single by Dick Green.

Howard stole second in the first inning with Maye on third and two out. Both scored on McMullen's double.

Cubs Nudge Braves, 5-4

ATLANTA (AP) — Ernie Banks cracked a two-run homer in the first inning Saturday, starting the Chicago Cubs off to a 5-4 victory over struggling Atlanta.

Banks' 21st homer of the season and the 495th of his career landed among the touring Bleacher Bums from Chicago who taunted the Braves and tried to lasso Atlanta's Indian mascot, Chief Noc-A-Homa.

The blast scored Ron Santo. Billy Williams had gotten the Cubs' first run home. Don Kessinger tripled in the second, scoring Oscar Gamble, and the Cubs added an insurance run in the seventh when Kessinger doubled, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Glenn Beckert's sacrifice fly.

The Braves, beaten for the second straight day, chased starter Dick Selma in the first with two runs, with Orlando Cepeda singling home Tony Gonzalez and Rico Carty scoring on Clete Boyer's single.

Ken Johnson got the Cubs out of trouble by getting Bob Didier to pop out, and the veteran reliever blanked the Braves until Hank Aaron led off the seventh with his 37th home run.

Didier doubled in the eighth, took third on a ground ball by Bob Aspromonte, and scored on pinch-hitter Felipe Alou's sacrifice fly.

Cards Defeat Colts, 9-6

MIDLAND — The Big Spring Cardinals, benefitting from three-hit pitching on the part of Junior Mendoza, defeated the Midland Colts in the opening round of the Midland Invitational Baseball tournament here Saturday, 9-6.

San Angelo's Hawks, who oppose the Cards in the second round at 10:30 o'clock this morning, turned back the Big Spring Tigers in the first round, 8-4, dropping the Bengals into the losers' bracket.

Jody Florez will likely pitch for the Red Birds today. The tournament extends through Monday.

The Big Springers struck for seven runs in the fifth and then had to beat out a final inning rally on the part of Midland that netted five runs.

Montreal To Get New Football Challenge

MONTREAL (AP) — The city of Montreal is the latest victim of the Expansion Game — which has turned out to be the Russian Roulette of pro football.

That there may have been an element of intrigue involved in last Monday night's disaster at Jarry Park, when just 8,212 people showed up for the Boston-Detroit inter-league exhibition game, has been whispered in several quarters.

The whippers are, of course, all off the record but they suggest that certain forces fashioned a minor conspiracy with the express purpose of diminishing interest in obtaining an expansion franchise.

The whippers also have tended to obscure two other possibilities — that this city is not football oriented or has had its desire for major league status so satisfied by baseball's Montreal Expos that there is little need to bolster it with American football.

That the Boston-Detroit game was not considered a test for Montreal by American Commissioner Pete Rozelle has already been established. But it was considered a test as far as the city government of Montreal was concerned.

Such was reflected by Gerry Snyder, who is vice chairman of the city's executive committee and a spokesman for Mayor Jean Drapeau. Snyder is generally acknowledged as the force behind Montreal's acquisition of a baseball franchise.

Snyder says he has taken the pulse of the people and found a strong desire for seeing American pro football. "At a comparable stage," he has said, "there is more enthusiasm here for pro football than baseball."

And prior to the Boston-Detroit game he stated frankly: "It certainly has to be considered a test. If it lays an egg — if this game and the next one between the Giants and Steelers don't draw well the BIG PART OF LONGHORN DEFENSE—Bill Ateasis, defensive end on the University of Texas football team is expected to be one of the key players in the unit. Ateasis, from Houston, is a junior letterman and is 6-3 tall and weighs in at 257.

Enemy To Know Hixson This Year

DALLAS (AP) — Depth is spoken of in hushed tones at church schools trying to play bigtime football. At institutions like Southern Methodist, which must be self-supporting, it's considered the impossible dream.

So watch out for the Mustangs this Autumn! They've got the nation's leading passer and 4-4-p-h.

"The most encouraging thing is that it looks like we are going to have some needed depth," says a grinning Coach Hayden Fry, who finds it difficult to contain his enthusiasm.

Cornered at a pre-season dinner, Fry said "in my seven years at SMU this has got to be the best over-all talent we've ever had. I'm not near as apprehensive this season as I have been in the past."

Of course, most pleasing to Fry is the fact that Chuck Hixson is just a junior.

There will be no "Chuck Who?" queries this year when Hixson lines up as the man under. His name can be found in the NCAA record books as the most successful collegiate sophomore passer in history.

Hixson passed for 21 touch-downs and ran for six last season. The 6-foot-2, 196-pound San Antonio led the nation in passing with 265 completions in 468 attempts for 3,103 yards. He broke or tied every passing record in the Southwest Conference record book for one game and one season.

Ex-Big Springer Hunting Guide

LOS MOCHIS, Mexico — Hunters and fishermen in West Texas are noting that one of the Southwest's best known bass fishermen and hunting guides, Dick Simpson of Falcon Lake in Texas, opened the white-wing dove shooting in Sinaloa on the west coast of Mexico last Thursday.

"Fields around Los Mochis are already full of birds, and shooting will be good, right up to Nov. 1," the popular Falcon guide said.

Simpson will also guide fishing parties at nearby Lake Hidalgo, now in its prime, which offers some of the best bass fishing in North America. The bass season there picks up in October.

"I believe the white-wing dove season, the bass fishing and the duck shooting will all set records in the Los Mochis area this season," Simpson said.

Simpson five years ago opened a guide service at Falcon Lake on the Rio Grande midway between Laredo and McAllen. The nearest large city is San Antonio, 200 miles north. Simpson lives at Zapata, the largest town on the lake.

Simpson resided in Big Spring until he moved to Falcon Lake several years ago.

He is known for consistently catching large fish in great numbers at Falcon.

White-wing dove and ducks fly in such great numbers into the grain fields of Sinaloa's heavily irrigated Rio Fuerte Valley that farmers welcome all shooters, according to Billy Chapman, Simpson's partner here in the guide service. Chapman operates the Chapman Motel, which was founded by his father, Dr. William Chapman, a well-known surgeon from Dallas, who pioneered medicine along the west coast of Mexico 40 years ago.

"Birds fly in by the thousands and destroy corn and grain fields in a week's time," said Chapman. There are more than 800,000 acres of irrigated land in the Los Mochis area.

"Later in the fall," Chapman said, "we shoot pin-tail, widgeon, redheads, canvasback, and ducks, and bagging limits is no trouble. Large Mochetama quail run in patches. Blue rock pigeons are plentiful."

While Los Mochis itself is the headquarters for the hunting, Lake Hidalgo sits like a jewel in the foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains about an hour's drive away.

The lake has an airstrip, where fishermen may land their planes. Simpson and Chapman are installing complete boating facilities. Accommodations may be had both at the lake at a fishing camp and six miles away in the 400-year-old village of El Puerto, which was founded by one of Cortez' lieutenants and still has an old world look.

Simpson is well acquainted with Mexico and for five years from his headquarters on Falcon Dam has hosted groups of hunters from all over the U.S. and Canada into various areas of the State of Tamaulipas.

He operated a ranch in Borden County, Tex., for several years and is well known in the oil and ranching industries. He is a graduate of Texas Christian University, where he played football with Sammie Baugh, David O'Brien and Ki Aldrich.

Los Mochis may be reached by road, rail or air routes. It is linked to Chihuahua City in North Central Mexico by the extraordinary Chihuahua y Pacifico Railroad, which was completed in 1961 after 50 years of construction and which negotiates the precipitous Sierra Madres by way of 86 tunnels and 39 bridges.

Speedway Toil Moving Ahead

COLLEGE STATION — Texas International Speedway — "The Fastest Track North, South, East or West of the Mississippi" is breaking all construction records as it rapidly nears completion as a total auto racing system designed for stock, Championship, Grand Prix and sports car racing.

Located six miles Southeast of College Station, the $8 million facility has already utilized 800 acres of a 2,600 acre site in an accelerated building and development program that is without precedent in the field of modern construction methods.

Leo Margolian, general manager, reports that construction is well ahead of schedule on all fronts and that the track will be ready for "shake-down" and initial testing by mid-October.

As of this date, site clearing and earth moving activity is 100 per cent complete. More than 2.5 million cubic yards of dirt have been moved and graded to form the 2.0 mile high speed banked oval and the 3.0 mile Grand Prix road racing circuits that form the heart of all racing activity at the new Texas track.

Lime stabilizing and final preparation for surface asphaltting has also reached completion with final paving operations scheduled to begin September 2.

Spectator and convenience facilities are also mushrooming. Fourteen on-site buildings including garages, emergency treatment center, concession and restroom facilities are in varying stages of completion, and Margolian expects the administration offices to be ready for occupancy mid-

September.

Additional construction activity centers around ensuring the track's self-sufficiency during actual race operation. A self contained sewage disposal plant is now being installed on the property. Additionally, the construction and installation of a 150,000 gallon water storage unit will supplement the local water supply obtained from the Bryan-College Station district. The 31 foot diameter, 27 foot high tank will be located atop the grandstand embankment and will eliminate any possibility of a water shortage occurring at the track.

Texas International Speedway has been designed as one of the world's fastest speedways. Total construction activity is estimated to be 75 per cent complete six months after groundbreaking. Texas International Speedway also ranks "numero uno" in the speed record books of elapsed construction time. Margolian promises the track will be fully operative when Texas International Speedway opens its 1969 racing season Nov. 9th with the Texas International Can-Am to be followed by the Dec. 7th Texas 500.

Tickets for the Nov. 9th Texas International Can - Am are scaled at $20, $15, $12 and $10; infield admission is $8. Infield admission for the Dec. 7th Texas 500 is $6 with grandstand seats at $25, $20, $15 and $10. When accompanied by an adult, children under twelve are admitted free to general admission areas.

Additional information and tickets for both races are available through mail order to the Speedway offices in College Station.

"I think we're set at that position," Fry says.

Fry has 34 lettermen returning with seven starters on offense and nine on defense. However, he has switched safety Daryl Doggett, a 172-pounder to full back because of the lad's explosiveness and excellent blocking.

"We can't fully replace Mike Richardson at the position, but Doggett will stick with you," says Fry.

All-American split end Jerry Levas has graduated. Replacing him will be sophomore Gary Hammond of Port Arthur. The 180-pound swiftie will also be used to return punts and kickoffs.

"We plan to use him just like we did Levas," says Jerry Moore, coach of the pass receivers.

Offensive starters returning include end Ken Fleming, tackle Bill Jackson, guards Que Brittain, and Kemp McMillan, center Stan Poulos and back Sam Holden. Fleming, a tough tight end, was 17th in the nation last year with 53 catches.

ROUGH ON DEFENSE

The Mustangs will be salty on defense, returning rover-end Tommy Fraser, tackles Bill Wright and Jim Johnston, guard Rufus Cormier, cornerbacks Larry Tunnell and Mike Nekuzal and linebackers Bruce Portillo and Joe Stuts. Fry feels that Cormier is of All-American caliber.

Other talented sophomores besides Hammond include tight end Randy Dossot, tailbacks Gordon Glider and Larry Guthrie, linebacker S herwood Blount, rover Mike Shelton, defensive guard Jim Hodges and safeties Cleve Whitener and Alan Everest.

SMU faces a killing non-conference schedule — Air Force, Georgia Tech and Michigan State. The Mustangs' first SWC game is Oct. 10 with TCU in the Cotton Bowl.

"If we can build up some momentum during our inter-sectional schedule, it could make us double tough," says Fry.

The Mustangs meet SWC favorites Texas and Arkansas at home in the Cotton Bowl.

"I think we can give them a good game," Fry says.

Oklahoma, a 25-27 loser in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl to SMU will nod in agreement.

All American Consolation Slated Today At Ruidoso

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — The seventh race at Ruidoso Downs here today will honor "ABC's Wide World of Sports," whose people are here shooting the richest race in the world, the All-American. FOOTPRINTS ON THE MOON

Never again will there be a first landing on the moon. And never again will there be such a volume as this.

Written by John Barbour, an outstanding journalist who has been helping cover the thrust into space from the start, its 70,000-word text includes much new material and is complemented by more than a hundred of the most dramatic color pictures ever taken.

The book contains:

- 224 pages, 9 1/2" x 12 1/2" hard-bound edition, with dust-jacket.
- 70,000 word manuscript by AP space specialist John Barbour.
- More than 100 full color illustrations, from the first space efforts in 1960s through to Apollo 11.
- Edited and produced by the worlds largest news-gathering organization, The Associated Press.

ORDER YOUR BOOK NOW AT THE SPECIAL PRICE OF $5

To make sure that you get your copy of a first edition that doubtless will become a collector's item, you should make your reservation now.

You and your children and your children's children will find it a volume to treasure.

Beachcombing—Texas style

Running from Sabine on the north to Boca Chica on the south is Texas' answer to the rat race, the daily grind, the jet age jitters. Traffic trauma, roaring freeways, screaming sirens, shattering jets, squalling kids, jangling phones, business pressures and the phrenetic fits all melt into oblivion as Texans take to their beaches and heavy doses of SSS tonic... sun, sea and surf!

plaster-white sand dollar... or mother-of-pearl. What sheer joy of strolling for miles with a new-found energy, scurrying skimmers, curlews and sand pipers ahead of you, of breathing the fresh, clean breeze, of a deep, satisfying relish of God's handiwork. How simple... and delightful... is the thrill of finding a beach treasure. A perfect glass float, or slightly nicked cork one. A rare bottle or even a coconut! What superb satisfaction in being furnished after a day in the open... of relishing a well-prepared meal over a fire on the cool sand. Of being lulled to sleep by the symphony of the surf.

Couple Tied Knot In '01; Get Honors

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — George Muller grinned an "aw shucks" sort of grin as if there wasn't anything special about being married to the same woman for 68 years. "Raise a big family like I did," Muller, 94, confided. "That's the secret."

Red Cross Meets Campaign Quota

The Howard - Glasscock Chapter of the American Red Cross Saturday had met its quota in the special Hurricane Camille disaster fund. Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am heartsick. My 14-year-old daughter has been picked up for shoplifting! She is a good girl and has never been in any trouble before. I can't understand what got into her. She gets a generous allowance, has never been denied anything she wanted or needed. She was with two other girls, and all three were caught red-handed. The other girls were even better off financially than my daughter. I have tried to raise this child right. Where have I failed? SHOPLIFTER'S MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: Don't be so quick to accept the blame. YOU haven't failed. Your daughter has. She has failed to realize that shoplifting is a crime. She thinks it's a "game".... or a challenge. Or a new "sport." It's a strange new epidemic. I can offer seven rules for parents as a preventative to curb this new game: 1. Explain to your youngsters that shoplifting is a CRIME, which leaves a criminal record. And a criminal record is a lifetime shadow. 2. Emphasize that "Going along with the crowd" for fear of being "chicken" is the coward's way out. 3. When youngsters go on a shopping expedition, know where your child is going, how much money he has and what he expects to buy. 4. If your child comes home with more merchandise than he or she had money to buy, ask

Marshall's Mayor, Woman Are Killed

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Officers kicked open the door of an apartment Saturday and found the bodies of the mayor of Marshall and his former secretary. They had been shot.

Police said indications were that it was murder and suicide but ordered autopsies.

Killed were Mayor A. Weldon Webber, 43, and Mrs. Dorothy G. Miller, 46.

Mrs. Miller was divorced about eight months ago from an employe of Thiokol Chemical Co. here. Webber's wife died about a year ago.

The mayor was shot in a shoulder, the neck and in the stomach area. The former secretary was shot through the mouth and the bullet emerged through the back of her head. The woman clasped a .38-caliber revolver in her hand when found.

She had been working as secretary-treasurer of a lumber firm of which Webber was part owner.

Webber's wife died about a year ago of cancer. They had three children.

The children said that their father was summoned from home by a telephone call from the secretary about 5 or 5:30 p.m. Friday.

The children called Don Rives, a lawyer and U.S. commissioner, when their father had not returned Saturday morning.

Rives went with Police Chief Bill Oldham to the Miller apartment. Looking through a window they could see her legs on the floor. The chief kicked open the door.

Jim Burnett of the Marshall News-Messenger said the two were on the floor their feet almost touching and their heads pointed in different directions. They were in the hallway of the two-bedroom brick apartment.

Police said Webber was shot from very close range.

An inquest is set for Tuesday. Times of death was estimated between 10 p.m. and midnight Friday.

Mrs. Miller has two adult sons, one of whom is in Vietnam.

Webber's children are Judd, 18; Nancy, 14; and Holley, 13. The mayor was serving his fifth term as a part of the City Commission.

The commission took no action except, said City Atty. Gaines Baldwin, to call a meeting for Sept. 11 to set a date for a special election for mayor.

Mrs. Miller was an official of Tomlin-Webber Lumber Co. of which the mayor was part owner.

DRIVE CAREFULLY-

Give the kids a brake!

school's open—so slow down!
protect our children's lives

On the first days of school you can expect to see our youngsters running across streets without looking, forgetting to obey the traffic signs and signals. That's why we must be a little extra careful, slowing down near schools, watching all traffic signals and obeying school safety patrolmen. Our kids' safety is our responsibility.

NOT YET OLD ENOUGH to try for a reading certificate, Marty Holmes, 4, thinks there's no harm in getting a head start. Completely unaware of watching eyes, he found a cool, comfortable spot to enjoy an exciting adventure.

A FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE is a fine place for young ladies to get to know each other, while, at the same time, becoming acquainted with the world of books. Discussing the merits of their chosen reading matter are, from left, Lilia Hinojos, Paulette Whitaker, Sheila Whitaker, Debbie Wiggins and Monica Woods.

Vacation Readers

By JO BRIGHT

The Texas Reading Club is sponsored each year cooperatively by the Howard County Library and the Texas State Library at Austin.

The theme this year was "Vacation Readers Go Everywhere."

Children from the first through the sixth grades may register and are required to read 12 books at their reading level by August 15. Included in this list must be one travel book and one biography.

Certificates for this accomplishment are sent from the State Library and signed by the State Librarian.

This summer, over 100 local youngsters registered as members of the club, with over 60 completing requirements for a certificate. The program has been carried out under the direction of the Howard County Librarian, Mrs. Hank McDaniel, assisted by Mrs. Richard Vera, who is in charge of the story hour for pre-schoolers, which will start in September.

PHOTOS BY LYNNA KAY WEAVER

PRETTY RIBBON circles the certificates won by Shirley Shanks, Paula Adams and Carol Adams during the summer reading program at the Howard County Library. The three girls were among the more than 60 young students who completed their required reading.

IT'S AN UPHILL climb to higher education, but it all begins with the opening of a book. Taking a few more steps in the right direction are these future collegians who enjoy the sun on the steps at Howard County Library. They are, from top to bottom, Robbie Jones, Dennis Berry, Dayton Berry, Wayne Rodricks, Gene Rodricks, Mike Holmes, Rickie Jones, Roy Beauchamp, Kevin Harper, Larry Wheat and Tracy Frazier.

ALWAYS WITHIN REACH of a seeking mind are answers to a child's many questions. The fun of finding them are enjoyed here by Troy Hyden, Reba Hyden and Kimberly Harper who have learned how to locate their books.

Learn Methods For Cleaning Glassware

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
County HD Agent

Cleaning and stain removal often trouble owners of antique glassware, but they can be problems for everyday glass articles. Here are some solutions to common cleaning problems with glassware:

Glass never is stained permanently, the Glassware Institute of America says. It has a hard, smooth, non-absorbent surface that stains cannot penetrate, and surface discolorations can be removed with treatment. Minerals in water often cause lime deposits and surface discoloration.

To remove lime deposits from the bottom of pitchers, bottles or decanters, put tea leaves on the stained surface and fill the container with a vinegar solution.

For surface discoloration on decanters, rub the glass with half a lemon, or wash it with vinegar, or partially fill with uncooked rice and vinegar and shake vigorously.

A well-known research laboratory offers this method of removing hard water deposits which have dried in designs and etchings: soak glassware in a solution of one part muriatic acid and four parts water.

This acid, available at drug or hardware stores, should be handled with rubber gloves. After soaking in the solution, rinse the glass thoroughly and dry.

Vinegar cruets often become stained and should be rinsed with diluted ammonia before washing. Stains in flower vases can be cleaned with a chlorine bleach solution. To brighten glass coffee makers, use a teaspoon of baking soda in the rinse water.

The next time you get an urge to prolong the fragrant aroma of your cologne by dabbing it on your clothing, remember: cologne and clothing do not mix.

Alcohol in cologne can affect the dye in a garment. In addition, the small amount of oil a cologne contains may cause yellow or brown stains. So apply cologne to skin, not clothing.

Glass containers can be used in home freezing although care in handling is required. Clear glass makes labeling unnecessary. Add only the date of freezing.

If you use jars, here are a few simple steps for handling them:

1. Examine jars to make sure they have no nicks or cracks. Wash them in hot soapy water, rinse and scald them. Invert jars on a clean cloth to drain and cool.
2. Pack food in clean jars to within one-half inch of the top of the jar. Pack firmly but not tightly. Filling too full may cause breakage when the food expands in freezing.
3. Place cap on the jar with sealing composition next to the glass and screw the band tight. No special cap is needed for freezing; use regular canning lids.

A cup of two per cent milk contains 10 fewer calories than whole milk . . . but it has more protein, calcium and B vitamins. Why? Two per cent not only means two per cent fat, rather than the three and a half in whole milk, but also that two per cent milk solids have been added.

Because of the lack of iron in American diets, U.S. Department of Agriculture researchers are investigating milk fortified with the mineral. Their problem is to avoid giving milk a metallic flavor.

MRS. JAMES CUNNINGHAM

Wedding Solemnized In Presbyterian Rites

Miss Sherry Leigh Rozell became the bride of James Cunningham Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church at Big Spring.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd served as officiant before an altar adorned with arrangements of white roses flanked by white tapers on a satin altar cloth. Robert Strain, organist, played traditional wedding selections throughout the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rozell, Odessa; and Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Cunningham, Gail Route.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of pure silk organza and Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a sculptured stand-up neckline and long sheer tapered sleeves appliqued with Alencon lace with an elaborate design edging the wrist. Lace medallions accented the front of the gown and organza bows emphasized the built-in chapel train. Her headpiece was a face framing bandeau of miniature silk rosebuds, silk leaves and orange blossoms, and her veil of illusion cascaded to a chapel-length train. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Lynne Puckett was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Brenda Cunningham, sister of the bridegroom, and Paula Ann Schmidt of Irving. The attendants wore matching street-length dresses of white eyelet embroidery and wore gold hairbows and carried white nosegays.

Danny Cunningham, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Robert Rozell II, brother of the bride, and Santos Lujan.

Karia Meek was flower girl. She wore a white dress with a gold hairbow and carried a bouquet of white flowers. Joey Valiquette was ring bearer, and altar tapers were lighted by Andrew Karl Rozell, brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Permian High School in Odessa, and is an interior design major at Sam Houston University. She is employed by the Paper House. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School and is a music major at SHU where he is a member of the Sam Houston Symphonic band. He is employed by the Houston School district.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall. Miss Wanda Simpson registered guests, and others in the house party were Miss Betty Johansen and Miss Jane Lusk.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over white satin and centered with an arrangement of white flowers. Silver and crystal appointments were used. The tiered cake was topped with satin bells.

The bridegroom's table was laid with lace cloth and was centered by a chocolate cake. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Charles Rozell and H. L. Rozell, Mrs. Edwin Gates and Mrs. Lawrence Schmidt, all of Irving; Mrs. Cora Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Oates and Mrs. J. E. Smith, all of Fort Worth.

The couple left on a brief wedding trip. For traveling, the bride chose a brown, green and yellow plaid suit with yellow crepe blouse. Her accessories were antique green, and her corsage was a green orchid.

COURTESIES
Several pre-nuptial courtesies were held for the couple prior to the wedding. On Friday, a bridesmaid's luncheon was held in the home of the bride's parents, and that evening an outdoor barbecue was hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Reception Scheduled Sunday Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Mize Sr. will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary with an open house this afternoon from 2 to 5:30 o'clock in the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Mize at 1907 Nolan. All relatives and friends are invited to attend the affair.

Assisting with the event will be the couple's other six children, Mrs. Gene (Zenuia) Haston and Herman Mize, both of Big Spring; Mrs. B. A. (Jane) Patton, Mesquite; Mrs. Rudy (Shirley) Dolan, San Leandro, Calif.; and Dr. Joe Mize, Auburn, Ala. Another son, Chief Machinist Mate Kelly

P. P. Howards Entertain Guests

FORSAN (SC) — Guests in the home of Mrs. P. P. Howard during the week were Mrs. Leon Allen and Mrs. Mozelle Abee, both of Andrews; Mrs. G. S. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Snyder and children, all of Austin.

The C. M. LaDueques of Seminole spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shoultz visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Huff, in Seminole and with the C. L. Girdners and the Buster Griggs families in Abilene.

Mize Jr., on sea duty with the Navy, will be the only child unable to attend. One of the couple's sons, R.L., died of polio in 1945, when he was eight years old.

The couple has 14 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Mize was born in Comanche County and his family moved to Scurry County when he was three years old. He lived there until he went to meet his future bride for the first time. They had corresponded after getting to know about one another through a newspaper column called the "Cousin's Page" in the Dallas News. He wrote letters and she answered from January, 1919, until August of the same year when they met. They were married three weeks later.

Mrs. Mize, the former Miss Bertie Adams, was born and reared in Delta County in Cooper.

The couple moved to Big Spring in 1924, and he worked for a soft drink bottling company for 35 years. He began working as a janitor at the Big Spring school system in 1950 and will soon retire.

Morning services today at the Church of the Nazarene will be dedicated as "Bertie and Kelly Mize day." One of their sons-in-law, the Rev. B. A. Patton of Mesquite, will conduct the worship service. Mrs. Mize will wear an orchid corsage sent to her from Hawaii by her son.

During the open house, the refreshment table will be laid with a gold linen cloth, used by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Manes of Cooper, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Christmas. An arrangement of gold carnation pompons will be used as the centerpiece, and crystal and silver appointments will complete the setting.

The couple's grandchildren will serve refreshments and preside at the guest register.

Out-of-town guests will be his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Mize of San Diego, Calif., who are also celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Slides On Europe Shown To Women

Mrs. Florence Hallam showed slides on her recent tour of Europe at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Homemakers' Class, First Christian Church, in the fellowship hall.

Mrs. Hallam showed films made in Lucerne, Switzerland, and Vienna and Rome, Italy. Hostesses were Mrs. Albert Elam and Mrs. H. T. Page.

The Rev. John Baird gave the invocation, and Mrs. C. G. Barnett, president, welcomed the guests, Mrs. John Baird and Mrs. Hallam. The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. J. R. Michael and Mrs. Beulah Morrison.

Plans were made to donate $10 to the Bible fund at Big Spring High School.

Couple Marries In Webb Chapel Rites

Friday, August 29, was the date for the wedding of Miss Kathryn Lee Cochran, daughter of E. L. Cochran, Pecos, and Mrs. Mary Cochran, 1314 Lexington, to Lt. Leonard Sheldon Spitzer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Spitzer Sr., Little Rock, Ark.

The chapel at Webb Air Force Base was the scene of the double ring ceremony and baskets of white gladioli flanked by pink gladioli and fern trees surrounded the altar which was adorned with candles and a Bible.

Mrs. Spitzer wore a white wool crocheted street length frock with long sleeves and high-rise collar. She wore a double white orchid corsage.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Mary Kay Cochran, who wore a yellow street-length dress, and Miss Nancy Sessions, who wore blue. Mrs. Spitzer chose a white knit pant suit with long tunic top for going away to Dallas.

The former Miss Cochran graduated from Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College, and North Texas State University, and has been a child care worker in the adolescent program at Big Spring State Hospital.

Lt. Spitzer graduated from Hall High School in Little Rock, Ark., and Texas University in Austin, where he was a member of Phi Sigma Delta and Alpha Delta Sigma. He is also a graduate of the pilot program at Webb AFB.

Lt. Spitzer is serving as a pilot with the 12th Special Operations Squadron, Ben Hoa, Vietnam. He will continue his assignment there while his wife continues her schooling in Arlington.

Gold-Fingered Is Look Of Fashion

For fall, rings are indispensable, and the selection in gold-filled rings is impressive. The emphasis is on flower shapes blooming with texture and centered with tiny beads of semi-precious tones. Modern, capricious designs are equally represented, sometimes set with cultured pearls to woo the classic lovers.

With such a wonderful variety available, gold-filled jewelry is sure to be the constant companion of fall's multi-fashionables.

Speaker Discusses Communications

"There are three main ways of communicating with others by speaking, writing and listening," said Tom Eastland, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce at Thursday's meeting of the Altusa Club. The group met in Coker's Restaurant.

"The most important and rare method is to be a good listener," said Eastland. He asked questions of the group and discussed ways of communicating by speaking simply, precisely and in an interesting manner.

Mrs. G. C. Broughton Jr. presided, and Mrs. Loyd Wooten, vice president, introduced the speaker.

Methodist Women Have Bible Study

The Martha Foster Circle of Wesley United Methodist Church held a study session on the Book of Thrus at Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. T. C. Richardson, 782 Birdwell. Mrs. W. M. Morris worded opening prayer. The next meeting will be at the church.

Couple United In Marriage In Stanton Baptist Church

STANTON (SC) — Miss Glenda Fern Adams and Earl Eugene Flowers were married Friday evening in the First Baptist Church in Stanton. The Rev. W. H. Uhlman served as officiant as the couple recited vows before an altar adorned with baskets of white gladioli and greenery flanked by candles.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Adams, Stanton; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Flowers, Denton.

Miss Melrae Angel, organist, accompanied Robert Haggard when he sang "The Twelfth Of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was attired in a gown of white Chantilly lace over peau de soie and was fashioned with a chapel-length train of lace and silk illusion. The fitted bodice was accented with a scalloped neckline and embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her veil of silk illusion was bordered with lace and fell from a petal headpiece of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations centered with an orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Robert Haggard, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Robert Housden, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. All the attendants wore red satin dresses designed with Chantilly lace yoke and short sleeves. The rounded necklines were accented with lace ruffling. They wore red satin bows as headpieces, and they carried single long-stemmed red carnations.

BEST MAN

Mike Calhoun was best man. Groomsmen were David Flowers, brother of the bridegroom and Roy Kelly. Ushers were Larry Adams and Michael Adams, both brothers of the bride.

Serving as flower girls were Angela Adams and Amy Porterfield; and ring bearers were Don Porterfield and Anita Flowers.

For their wedding trip, the bride chose a dress of red and white dotted swiss with white accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at 607 Sycamore St., Denton, where the bridegroom will attend North Texas State University this fall. He is a graduate of Denton High School and is employed with Bill Utter Ford Company. The bride graduated from Stanton High School and will attend a commercial college in Fort Worth.

'Quotable Quotes'

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Not enough people realize the importance of physical fitness for themselves; everyone talks about it, but it doesn't get past the breakfast table." — Micki King, six times AAU diving champion, now a lieutenant in the air force.

"If anyone doubts that a revolution is in progress in this country, he should have attended the Woodstock Music and Art Festival." — Sunna Rasch, 44-year-old mother, after attending the New York pop music festival, in an article for The Associated Press.

"Perhaps hippies should be forbidden to use roads, bridges, parks, libraries and other things that are tax-supported by working people." — Actress-singer Sheila MacRae in an interview.

"I never go to bed before 6 or 7 a.m. I wake up at 2, sometimes 3. First is my massage. Afterwards I answer my phone calls and see my bankers, racing managers and lawyers—the usual daily chores." — The Maharane of Baroda, in an interview.

"I'm happy here and happiness is what we're searching for, isn't it?" Mrs. Rose Walters, 76, only permanent resident of the old Nevada mining town of Belmont where she was born.

"At least before I got down on the floor, they didn't know how old I was." — Carol Jane Oritz, first woman trader on the floor of the Chicago Board of Trade, in an interview.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Salazar, 406 NW 10th, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ramona Lujon, to Sgt. Jesus Saenz Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Saenz Sr. of Benavides. The wedding will be held Oct. 4 in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev. Thomas Delaney as officiant.

P. E. Clawson Visit Children

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Clawson have returned from visiting their children. They were the guests of the F. A. Carters and the C. E. Clawsons in Corpus Christi; they visited the John A. Millers in Oklahoma City; the A. D. Sparks in Willis Point; Mrs. Lillian Sullivan in Canton; and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Clawson in Coahoma. Guests of the P. E. Clawsons Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Morris D. Clawson of Austin.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: Just call me Mrs. Fix-it!

I finally did it — and I've always been so careful — but it happened, and to my best white nylon slip.

You guessed it... I tried to iron it with an iron that was too hot. Well, you know the rest of the story! I was just sick. But I took a lace design off an old slip, and as luck would have it, the design completely covered the hole.

I just sewed it down with the machine and pressed it (with the iron on the correct temperature setting) and honest injun, you'd never know it. Slip looks as good as new... and I'm so proud!... Mrs. K. W. Henry

You goofed! But I'll have to admit that was about the best cover-up job of the century, and you have a right to be proud. You deserve it... Heloise

Dear Heloise: In the past when my baby's plastic pants have gotten a hole or a small rip in them, I have thrown them away.

Now I save them and when I have two with holes (in different places), I use both of them at the same time on the baby over the diaper.

This works just as well as one good pair and saves me a little money by not having to buy new ones quite so often... Sandra

Dear Heloise: I have a cake carrier that I don't use very often. It's rather large and takes up quite a bit of storage space. I have finally found a use for it while it's being stored.

and never could find a good way of storing them.

Now I put them under the lid of the cake carrier and they are kept clean and out of the way... Mrs. Everett Denny

Dear Heloise: When making entries in your family bookkeeping journal or listing telephone numbers alternate with blue ink and then with black ink. It will be easier for your eyes to follow the correct line across to the number... Mrs. Howard Thompson

MR. AND MRS. E. E. SMITH

Couple Honored With Reception At Church

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith are celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary today, and their sons and daughters-in-law will host a reception for them at the Central Baptist Church in Colorado City from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married Sept. 1, 1919, near Woodville, Tex., and came to Colorado City where Smith was working as a rural mail carrier.

They were both born in Woodville Sept. 12, 1890. Mr. Smith went to Colorado City with his parents in 1908 where he worked as a farmer and taught school for seven years before he went to work for the post office in 1918. He delivered mail in a Model T Ford, which cost $540, and his salary was $1,680 a year.

Mrs. Smith, who taught music before she married, recalls the town she moved to as a bride as "Colorado" not Colorado City as it is today.

"There were no houses at all where we live now, just a big orchard," she said. "It certainly has built up since we moved here." She added that they paid $8.00 a month rent in 1919.

The Smiths have three sons: Julius Smith, Colorado City; Earnest E. Smith, Crane, and Cecil Smith, Burbank, Calif. They have six grandchildren.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. LARRY McLAIN
"Round and 'round and 'round she goes and where she stops everybody knows! The wheel of fortune is spinning away and making a lucky turn for you at the Webb Air Force Base annual Labor Day Carnival.

Not just yellow, red, blue and green lights flashing, then blinking — but magenta, chartreuse, saffron and sapphire waves of light hopping, jumping, yelling, screaming out for all to join the Tilt-a-wheel whirl world and see the sights.

Across the way, ladies and gentlemen, we have the NCO Wives and the NCOA's themselves keeping everyone well fed with hot dogs, hamburgers, sausages, chips, popcorn, candy, soft drinks and some not so soft, and if you're still hungry, they'll be glad to take your money again and give you a re-fill. Because we've kept the Moms out of the kitchen for the evening, they won't mind if dad and the kids try their hand at a bit of bingo played Hospital Squadron style.

On our left, guys and gals, you can't miss the mini-carnival sponsored by OMS. Within one small area notice how ingeniously these folks have not one, but four games operating simultaneously. First, there is the number dart game where you try to make your dart meet the number for that cute little pink and purple stuffed poodle. Couldn't even hit the board you say? Don't give up. Move on to the ring toss and peg yourself that giant black and white spotted dog (it'll look great in Junior's room). Rings too small you say? Then revive that once great throwing arm and knock over one of those little furry dolls. Nothing to it! Look your wife just won the grand prize — a six foot pink and blue Teddy bear — just what you've always wanted! Meanwhile, Junior has hooked himself an authentic reproduction of a giant earth worm! Boy that OMS sure knows how to put on a good show.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, oldsters and youngsters, let's watch someone else get theirs as the Air Base Group dunking machine rings out another bulls eye and sends some poor sucker diving to the bottom of the pool for the eighty-sixth consecutive time. Strange how everybody seems to hit the hole on this one.

Also under water is Field Training Detachment's crazy submarine. Drop a coin on the right number and it could be very profitable. What'll they think of next to try your eye-hand coordination and perception? Something else equally as irresistible as every other carnival booth ever invented.

You'd have to be some kind of nut to get your kicks from such silliness — let's do something sensible and find the Tilt-a-wheel for one last ride before closing time. After one last green gob of cotton candy and a big orange drink!

Weight Loss Told

Mrs. James Leon Rankin won the bowl of fruit at Thursday's meeting of the TOPS Plate Pushers in Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Twelve members reported a total weight loss of 15 pounds. The next meeting will be in the Flame Room at 7:30 p.m.

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. Tex J. Cobb, 4304 Connally, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to John Kenneth Gieselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gieselman of Springfield, Ohio. The couple plans to marry Oct. 11 in Grace Baptist Church.

Receives Master Degree At Baylor

Mrs. Jimmie Simmons, the former Linda Woodall, received her Masters of Art degree in English at Baylor University recently. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Woodall, 508 W. 14th. Both, Mrs. Simmons and her husband received their degrees at Baylor, and Mrs. Simmons taught as an associate teacher while working on her Masters. They live in Little Rock, Ark., and have three children, Susan, Lisa and Allison.

Abusive Parents Suffer Too

By The Associated Press

What type of parent would fracture his child's bones, burn him, cut him or subject his child to other physical abuses.

In a speech before the International Congress of Pediatrics, Dr. Brandt F. Steele, chief of the psychiatric liaison division of the University of Colorado Medical Center, said that parents of "battered children" usually suffer from a "lifelong feeling of emptiness and disappointment and a conviction that the world will never be good to them."

When the world fails to meet their excessive demands for love and attention, these parents turn to the infant for comfort, and lash out at him ferociously for not performing satisfactorily. The medical researcher said that in many cases these parents were themselves abused as children.

Dr. Steele opposes punishing the offending parents. While it may be necessary to remove the battered child from the home, he said, psychiatric treatment or social work for the adults offer the hope that the child may eventually return home and that other children in the family will escape harm.

Minijumps, Tunics Go To School

Back-to-school fashion for 1969 is all fun and games. Dresses look like multi-piece costumes; tunics are long enough to go it alone; little minijumps hide their identity behind flared bottoms and shirts stretch to graze the top of the knee. Waistlines wander. The newest location is low, just below the hip. A flared or box-pleated skirt usually complements the look.

Sleeve interest has never been stronger. When sleeves are long, they are cuffed. Short sleeves tend to be puffed. Smocking trims peasant sleeves and ruffles race down to reach the wristbone.

Because the look for fall '69 is very individual, pants do their own thing. Shorts peek out beneath matching dresses. Slacks flare at the bottom and culottes add a new dimension to classroom clothes.

Of special note is the all-purpose coat perfect for everyday wear. The chic of the rugged West will dash about the schoolyard, rain or shine — play it cool with lining zipped out or snug, zipped in.

MRS. JAMES LEESON REED

Miss Koleta Witcher Weds James L. Reed

Miss Koleta Ann Witcher became the bride of James Leeson-Reed in a nuptial ceremony performed Saturday by Perry Cotham, minister of the 14th and Main Church of Christ. The wedding was held in Webb Air Force Base chapel.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jess E. Witcher, 424 Ryon, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ray Hawkins, Holiday, Fla., and the late John L. Reed.

The altar was adorned with baskets of gladioli entwined with greenery and illuminated by white candles.

Mrs. Leonard Moody, organist, accompanied Leonard Moody as he sang "The Twelfth of Never," "Lara's Theme" and "Romeo and Juliet."

The bride was attired in a white peau de soie formal gown designed with a lace bodice and lace front panel. Her stand-up collar and long lace sleeves were edged with ruffling, and she wore a bow headpiece enhanced with white rosebuds and a bouffant veil of tulle. She carried a white feathered carnation bouquet centered with an orchid atop a satin covered Bible.

Mrs. Ronald Barnes was matron of honor, and Mrs. Ken Fuller was bridesmatron. Miss Janice Chapman of Knott was maid of honor. They wore identical gowns of tangerine crepe with short sleeves and an Empire bodice. They wore tangerine velvet Dior bows as headpieces enhanced with brief veiling, and they carried a basket of tangerine carnations.

Stan Goodrich was best man. Ushers were Joe Schalk and Ken Fuller.

SCHOOLS

The bride is graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College and Lubbock Christian College, where she was a member of Alpha Epsilon Chi Social Club. She is employed by Southwestern Investment Company and will continue with the company in Arlington. The bridegroom graduated from Shinnston High School, W. Va., and served four years in the Air Force. He is a graduate of Howard County Junior College, where he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi. He will continue his education at the University of Texas in Arlington.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Dwayne Faucett of Tom Bean presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Miss Carla Denton, Mrs. Joe Schalk, Mrs. Stan

Goodrich, Mrs. John Ferguson, Mrs. Joe Wasson and Mrs. Jeff Chapman, the latter from Knott.

The refreshment table was laid with a tangerine cloth with white overlay and centered with the attendants' bouquets. The tiered cake was decorated with tangerine roses and cupid columns. The bridegroom's table was laid with a yellow cloth centered with a dark cake and silver coffee service.

The couple left on a wedding trip to East Texas. For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue sleeveless A-line dress with silver buttons down the front. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed will make their home at Royal Park Apts., Apt. 159, Arlington.

Paula Woods Weds Charles Crownover

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Paula Woods and Charles H. Crownover Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Perry Cotham, minister officiated before an altar enhanced by a large sunburst arrangement of chrysanthemums, gladioli and pompons encircled with an emerald fern tree.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woods, 2600 Carol, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crownover, Lamesa.

The church choir under the direction of Dan Conley sang "More," "The Twelfth of Never," "The Wedding March" and "I Pledge My Love."

The bride was attired in an imported satin gown enhanced with re-embroidered Alencon lace gown, featuring a contoured neckline and long, tapered traditional sleeves accented with lace and sprinkled with seed pearls. Re-embroidered lace enhanced the full, voluminous chapel train which flowed from the princess A-line silhouette. Her bouffant veil extended from a cascade of petals edged with seed pearls, and she carried an orchid surrounded by a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Brenda Ingram of Ackerly was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandy Grigg, Ackerly and Miss Carol Perry. The attendants wore yellow fallie street-length dresses with matching pill box hats, and they carried nosegays of bronze chrysanthemums.

BEST MAN
Steve Crownover, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were Bob Ayres and Marvin Womack, both of Lamesa. Lance Wades and Graig Boyd, both of Lamesa, were ushers.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall. The refreshment table was laid with a white satin cloth overlaid with silk organza and centered with an arrangement of white carnations, pompons and gladioli. The tiered cake was decorated with yellow and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Eugene Coleman, sister of the bride, registered guests. Others in the house party were Mrs. H. B. Perry, Miss Lana Perry, Miss Melba Gentry, Miss Londa Kemp, Mrs. T. W. Hooten, Miss Beverly Snell, Miss Sandra Nichol, Miss Shara Dee Hambrick, Miss Jan Nichols, Miss Susan Holloway and Mrs. Robert Holloway.

SCHOOLS
The bride is a graduate of Sands High School, and the bridegroom graduated from Plainview High School and attended Howard County Junior College. He is employed by the Pittsburg Paint Company in Midland.

The couple left on a wedding trip. For traveling, the bride chose a yellow and gray plaid linen dress with the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 2303 Brunson, Midland.

MRS. DAN MERLE STROUP

United In Marriage In Midland Service

Miss Sarah Elizabeth Mason and Dan Merle Stroup were united in marriage Saturday evening in the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Midland.

The Rt. Rev. Everett H. Jones, of San Antonio, retired bishop of West Texas, performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. Bob J. Currie, church pastor.

The altar was adorned with matching arrangements of white asters and emerald foliage, flanked by white candles and palms.

Mrs. Harold W. Heckathorn, organist, played traditional wedding selections throughout the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a silk peau de soie skirt and pure silk organza shirtwaist dress. The blouse was collared and cuffed in peau de soie and was accented with a soft belt and full sleeves. Her veil fell to floor-length from a single satin rose embossed with seed pearls, and her only jewelry was an antique gold and pearl necklace worn by four generations of family brides. She carried a nosegay of white roses and smilax with white picot streamers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F. Morris Mason, 3521 Seaboard, Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Stroup, 2501 Cindy Lane.

Miss Alynda Mauldin, Amarillo, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Joseph R. Calhoun of Dallas, was bridesmatron. They wore formal white organza gowns designed in an Empire style with cerise sashes, complemented by white silk organza picture hats enhanced with cerise velvet streamers. They carried white garden baskets holding cerise snowflake chrysanthemums and fern.

David Wayne Stroup, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Joseph R. Calhoun of Dallas, was groomsman. Ushers were William Ray Mason, brother of the bride, and David J. Proffitt of Big Spring.

Allison Mason, sister of the bride, was flower girl, and Steve Hetzel assisted her in distributing rice bags.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the bride chose a turquoise and white two-piece ensemble with white accessories. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock, where both attend Texas Technological College. The bride is a graduate of Highland Park High School in Dallas and attended Southwestern University at Georgetown. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College.

RECEPTION
A reception was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents. The refreshment table was laid with a white organza cloth and centered with silver candelabra holding votive candles and entwined with cerise chrysanthemums. The tiered wedding cake was decorated with confection roses and doves.

Miss Sally Hoover of Dallas presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Miss Barbara Wasko and Miss Ellen Womack, both of Dallas; Miss Karen Robertson, Big Spring; Miss Cathy Gravel, Corsicana; and Mrs. Jack Beshears.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hodges, Roswell, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Renfro, Mrs. Dennis Hoover and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ray, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Michael McAllister of Lubbock, grandparents of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stroup of Fort Worth, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Couple United In Chapel Rites

The wedding of Miss Marilyn Donell Groesbeck and M. M. 3rd Freddy Morten Mears of the Navy was solemnized Aug. 23 in the Episcopal chapel at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio.

Parents of the couple are Capt. and Mrs. Donald Groesbeck, San Antonio; and Mr. and Mrs. W. Mears, 711 Scurry.

Chaplain Harry Tipton read the ceremony before an altar adorned with white gladioli and candles.

Robert Wade, organist, played traditional wedding selections throughout the ceremony.

The couple will be at home in Long Beach, Calif. For traveling to their new home, the bride chose a white linen dress with matching accessories.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a white antique lace formal gown, designed with scalloped trim and accented with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a petal cap enhanced with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. John C. Johnson of Houston was matron of honor, and Miss Zonell Mears, Big Spring, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Beth Cutter and Miss Mathilde Brailsford. They wore pale blue matching dresses with pale blue ribbon veils, and they carried nosegays of white carnations over a prayer book.

W. Mears of Big Spring served as his son's best man. Ushers were John C. Johnson, Ronald Groesbeck and Frank Contoya.

The bride is a graduate of John Marshall High School, San Antonio, where she was a member of the choral club and the tennis team. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School.

A reception was held in the NCO Open Mess at Lackland AFB. Those in the receiving line were the bride couple, the bride's parents, the bridegroom's parents, and her grandmother, Mrs. H. S. Mills of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. J. Kassel, New Orleans, La.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mears and sons of Galveston.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with the bride's bouquet and the attendants' nosegays. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Miss Connie Wade presided at the guest register.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Abe Kaufman, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. J. Kassel, New Orleans, La.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mears and sons of Galveston.

Hospital Plans Volunteer Orientation Wednesday

What the community can do to help and other discussions in the fight against mental illness, plus a tour of the hospital units, will be the highlights Wednesday of the all-day volunteer orientation at Big Spring State Hospital.

The session will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., in the Allred Auditorium.

Such topics as what to do when mental illness strikes, the part religion plays in the recovery of patients, the alcoholic program of the hospital, the vocational rehabilitation program and the part the community plays in rehabilitation will be discussed during the day.

Tours of the hospital units also will be held, as well as a hypnosis demonstration by Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent.

Highlight of the program will be a panel discussion on how the community can help in the work with the mentally ill. Dr. Harrison will serve as chairman of the discussion, entitled "The Community Is The Key." Other members of the panel include Dawson County Judge Leslie Pratt, Lamesa; Price Parker, consultant of foster family services of Austin; and Orgelio Arzola, institutional consultant of the State Department of Welfare, Austin. This discussion will be held at 2:30 p.m.

The day will start at 9 a.m. with a discussion of vocational rehabilitation by Mrs. Mary Cochran, volunteer coordinator, and Larry Cheatham, supervisor of vocational rehabilitation. In this discussion the hospital's volunteer programs, a new pilot project on alcoholism follow-up and the upcoming state volunteer meeting, Oct. 3-4, will be discussed.

The part religion plays in the treatment of the mentally ill will be discussed at 9:30 a.m. by Chaplain Lee Butler in a talk entitled "Religion Is A Reality." The group also will hear reports about the hospital's All-Faith Chapel, now in the planning stages.

"What To Do When Mental Illness Strikes," will be the topic of a panel discussion at 10:15 a.m. headed by Tad Corbet, hospital psychologist. The talk will be on the signs of mental illness and treatment resources. Other panel members will be representatives from outlying mental health clinics. They include Mrs. Bernice Hilliard, Colorado City; Mrs. Merle Doyle, Lamesa and Mrs. Elaine Crawley, Snyder, all case workers, and Mrs. Jane Johnson, Seminole, a clerk of the volunteer program in Gaines County.

Shelby Parnell, counselor of the alcoholic program here, will discuss alcoholic addiction at 11:30 a.m. before the session takes its dinner break at noon.

Following tours of the various units of the hospital at 12:45 p.m., a hypnosis demonstration will be given by Dr. Harrison at 1:30 p.m. This demonstration will include both individual and group hypnosis.

Mrs. Cochran urged citizens to bring sack lunches as a musical program provided by patients of the hospital under the direction of Frank Wharton, music therapist, will be present.

Huge Change In Texas Construction Figures

AUSTIN (AP) — A growing trend toward apartment living has made a big change in Texas construction figures, the Bureau of Business Research reports. The University of Texas agency said in a special report that multi-family dwellings — apartments or duplexes — increased 26 per cent in seven months of 1969. One-family dwellings dropped four per cent.

Construction has been away from one-family dwellings. A number of factors have influenced this trend: The high cost of construction, growing interest rates and growing maintenance costs after occupancy. The increase toward apartment living has been generally accepted by all age and income groups. One group may choose apartment living for economic reasons while another group chooses it to avoid the inconvenience of housekeeping and lawn tending and the chore of tax paying.

The special report pointed out that in Abilene for January-July 1969 authorizations for apartment buildings was 12 times the total in 1968 and 13 times the preceding year total for Wichita Falls.

The report said Houston had three apartment projects authorized in July for $1 million or more each. Dallas had two and Austin had one. Houston had one other project authorized for $1.7 million and Fort Worth one for $1 million.

"All evidence indicates that the tight-money policy will continue for some time," the report said. "Nonresidential construction, however, may begin to slow down but not as sharply as residential building."

Autumn Trails Festival Features 'Big Woods'

WINNSBORO — W. C. Corbett discovered East Texas over a hundred years ago and felt the silent wilderness of the "big woods" begging him to stay.

He did. His log cabin is now a part of the five routes featured during the Autumn Trails Festival.

Autumn Trails come at a time when "an afternoon sun bathes the hills in a yellow light, and pulses with a yearning to savor the brief precious days."

Jonan Williams, editor of the trails brochure, also described the Festival as a month of the preservation of folk arts and crafts that are a part of the mysterious "big woods." It will be held Oct. 4 through Nov. 2.

The Festival invites visitors into the "big woods" when autumn captures the splendor of Indian summer. The motor trails wind through a tunnel of maple, black gum and oak — splashing red and golden hues against a backdrop of green Texas pine.

A queen is crowned the first weekend to reign over the celebration.

Winnsboro has planned something different for every weekend of the Festival. It might be the Big D trail ride with campouts and plenty of stew, or sidewalk sales of crafts and flowers, or an old-fashioned gospel singout.

Everyday Winnsboro hands out trail maps at the town's "hospitality center." They show the sites and scenic areas within a 30-mile radius.

The boy scouts have developed their own nature trail. On the 100-yard walk, the scouts point out the ages and species of more than twenty East Texas trees.

The Autumn Trails Festival will end with a tour of the pioneer homes.

Banks Responding To Nixon's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education reports banks and other lenders apparently are responding to President Nixon's appeal and are making loans to college students on faith that Congress will raise the federal backing.

A Senate-passed bill to boost the interest rate on the federally insured student loans—from the present maximum 7 per cent to whatever it takes, up to 10 per cent, to make them attractive to bankers—is due for a House vote Sept. 15.

Student loan money has been drying up ever since the prime interest rate, now 8½ per cent, rose above the 7 per cent maximum.

The education agency figures 924,000 students from middle and low income families will be applying for $794 million in loans this year. It said about 25 per cent of them will not get the loans if Congress does not boost the backing.

Moisture Still Short Over Far West Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Evidence mounted last week that Texas' long hot dry summer may be nearing an end. Light showers to downpours covered much of the state and prospects for more were good.

Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said the rains have been very beneficial, especially to parched ranges and crops not yet mature. Grain planting moisture got a boost but more will be needed in most sections because soil moisture was very short in all areas before the rains started.

"We still have plenty of time," he noted, "to produce fall hay crops and range forage provided timely rains continue on into the fall. Livestock have held up surprisingly well considering the long unbroken siege of dry, hot weather. The over-all situation looks much better now."

District agents sum up their districts thus:
General rains of 1 to 2 inches have covered the South Plains (Lubbock). A few spots are still dry but the over-all picture is good. Moisture will insure good range growth. Livestock are in good condition. Dry grazing was plentiful. Dryland cotton should react very favorably to the rain despite deterioration for several days. Good fall weather will be needed on the late plantings. Dryland sorghum is being harvested and the rain was too late to help. Yields are about average. All irrigated crops are average to above in condition. Some bollworm activity is noted all through the area. Wheat planting has started and the rain helped. The area's first bale of cotton was ginned in Lamesa last week.

Rains over the Rolling Plains (Vernon) have greatly im-

Howard Has Hutto Well

A well has been completed in Howard County and a project staked in Martin County.

Amerada Hess Corp. has completed No. 1 Jack Willcox in the Hutto South (Wolfcamp) pool of Howard County, 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 6-31-1S, T&P survey.

The well, four miles east of Big Spring, pumped 28 barrels of 38-gravity oil and no water per day with a gas-oil ratio of 445-1 after being acidized with 20,500 gallons. Total depth is 7,750 feet, plugged back to 7,680 feet, and 5/2-inch casing is set on the bottom and perforated at 7,604-68 feet.

In Martin County Tom Brown Drilling Co. Inc. has staked No. 1 Sales for exploration of the Wolfcamp at 9,200 feet.

The wildcat is 10 miles northwest of Stanton, 1,320 feet from the south and west lines of section 14-37-1N, T&P survey, and is 3/4 miles northwest of Adobe No. 1-A Sale Ranch, a long extension to the Spraberry Trend Area.

proved the moisture situation and crops should rapidly take on a new look. Cotton and guar had been slowed by heat and drought. Both should perk up. 95 per cent of the sorghum has been harvested in some areas. Ranges will benefit and the threat from fires will be relieved for a while.

Moisture is still short over most of Far West Texas. But some light to heavy rains helped the eastern counties of the district. Dryland crops are in poor condition, those under irrigation have good prospects. Livestock are still in good condition despite dry ranges. Some feeding was noted.

Parts of West Central Texas got welcome showers to good rains. General rain is needed. The moisture will help crops and ranges. The lesser corn stalk borer caused extensive damage to peanuts in Llano and San Saba counties. Runoff is needed for stock tanks. Livestock generally are still in good condition with dry grazing ample.

Heavy rains hit parts of South Central Texas and all areas got moisture. Peanuts, ranges, vegetables and small grain planting benefitted greatly, are in good condition.

Moisture in South Texas ranges from very short to adequate. The cotton harvest was near completion and vegetable planting was active. Citrus was in good condition and peach prospects are fair. More rain is needed on ranges. Livestock are still in good condition and the market is strong.

Men In Service

Army Pvt. Doyle R. Dennis, 20, was assigned to the 1 Field Force, Vietnam, Artillery, July 31 as a clerk. His father, Weldon C. Dennis, lives at 805 N. 4th, Lamesa.

"NORMAN LUBOFF, CONDUCTING" "TOUR MANAGEMENT: KENNETH ALLEN"
Since they first began touring in "live" concert performances in 1963, the choir has averaged more than 100 performances per concert season — a total approached by no other professional touring attraction of this kind.

The nucleus of the choir consists of 25-30 virtuoso professional singers, with an amazing repertoire that quite literally runs the gamut from Bach to the Blues.

The enormous and mutually complementary gifts of Mr. Luboff are clearly displayed throughout the concert.

"puppets in pot pourri"

Elton Norwood's interest in and knowledge of theatre, art and music combined with the fascination of puppetry prompted him through a five year apprenticeship to learn the art. He was determined to make puppetry his career.

Each puppet (or marionette) is a Norwood creation from initial design to final costume, control bar and strings. He selects the music, does the choreography and directs the action of each production. Norwood, by the way, plays piano, organ, clavichord, the harpsicord and is proficient with the Koto and Shamisen, the ancient instruments of Japan. The Koto will be used in the Potpourri production.

Ask Norwood about puppets and he will tell you, "It's not enough to just make a puppet, you must give life to it."

kid thomas valentine and his preservation hall jazz band thursday, april 30

Valentine and his Band were the first group to play regularly at Preservation Hall. Of strong willed determination, he has over the years refused to change his style to the more commercial, but rather to maintain the tremendously moving beat, or "stomp" that made him famous during the early history of American Jazz. These musicians, working together for an extended length of time, bring to their concerts a special team feeling and esprit de corps that cannot help but shine through to their listeners.

Bible Fund Makes Its Appeal

Through the years, Big Spring (and others) have made a rather distinctive contribution in that they finance the cost of a course in Bible in Big Spring High School.

Such special support is required because, under the law, state funds cannot be used to teach such a course.

But it has been a most rewarding study, as many, many students are eager to testify. The young people who wish to enroll for this course (and they get credit for it) have found new understandings opened to them, as they accumulate more knowledge of the richness of truths in the Bible, of its literary and historical values, and for its basic moral precepts.

The school has been fortunate in having a most effective teacher in Mrs. Johnny Johansen, who leads her charges into extra-curricular interests such as a Bible Club, and spurs them on to further research on what is put before them.

There is no denominationalism in this course, no trumpeting of religions. It is not necessary, for the Bible as a treasure volume can stand alone.

Assuredly, the Bible course will be continued this year. Due to a series of circumstances, the public appeal was announced somewhat late. Hence, prompt response is necessary.

Members of the Pastors Association, which sponsors this program, are now making contacts by person and by letter. The Herald, which works in cooperation with the Association, again opens its columns to acknowledge gifts. Checks, which should be made to the "Bible Class Fund," may be mailed to The Herald, where acknowledgment will be made, and all transactions passed on to the Pastors Association.

Each year, enough people give enough to make this course a success. This year, time is of the essence. Your participation is solicited without further delay.

School Is Starting — Drive With Care

Thousands of children are headed back to school full of nervous excitement — but with little thought, most of the time, for their own safety.

And so again, The Herald joins with law enforcement officials and safety associations throughout the country in urging extra care in driving during these school opening weeks.

The speed zones and the stop signs around the schools haven't been in effect during the summer months, but motorists driving in those areas must remember that they definitely are in effect beginning Tuesday.

Traffic accidents kill more children between one and 14 years of age than any other cause. So many of these can be avoided with due care on the part of drivers.

Of course, the youngsters themselves must be made safety-conscious. Because kindergarten and first grade youngsters, many of them on their own in traffic for the first time, suffer most of these school injuries, it is suggested that parents walk with their children on the opening day of school, making sure the children are familiar with traffic aids and regulations and use guarded crosswalks wherever possible.

Driving children to school only adds to the confusion around the school areas, creating more hazardous conditions. Even though children should learn traffic rules, the major traffic responsibility consistently falls on the driver.

This is a renewed plea that all drivers help protect the lives of school children this year by driving with particular care everywhere children might be playing or crossing — and especially near the school areas.

Extra care, a determination not to be in too big a hurry, alertness for traffic signs — all these add up to safety. Won't you make a resolution on your own driving?

David Lawrence The Money Is Already Committed

WASHINGTON — Most people have imagined that, if the Vietnam war came to an end, there would be many billions of dollars available each year for social welfare. It turns out that this is an illusion and that almost all of the money which would be saved by a termination of the conflict is already scheduled to be spent on existing projects.

The news came out after a three-hour conference by the President with his advisers, during which they discussed a special study which had been made. It indicated that not much of the $25 billion a year being spent for the Vietnam war would be available for new welfare programs.

DANIEL O. MOYNIHAN, assistant to the President for urban affairs, talked with the press after the conference with the President, and declared that the study of future requirements as well as authorized appropriations indicated that budgets are going to be higher each year.

He said it would not be realistic to expect that big sums would be available for any new projects because the funds would be almost entirely consumed by programs "already on the books." He referred to Medicare, education, proposals to share revenues with the states, and various military expenditures for equipment or research now under way.

ALL THIS is a significant example of how little the public knows about the financial affairs of their government. Indeed, Congress is not too familiar with them, either. The reason is that, when an appropriation bill is passed, it doesn't always designate the year in which the funds may be spent, but merely authorizes the expenditures. In order to find out what the budgets might be for each of the next five years, a careful examination of the existing authorizations would be necessary as well as a projection as to when the actual expenditures will be made.

CONGRESS, OF course, can stop any authorizations and refuse to expend more money. But on Medicare and education, the chances of such action being taken are remote. In fact, because of the increasing population, it is conceded that in many instances the amount of money needed will be even larger than what has already been authorized.

The state and city governments are frustrated by their lack of revenues to take care of hard-pressed areas. Members of Congress are urging "priorities," which merely means that some worthy projects would be set aside.

PRESIDENT NIXON — in outlining earlier this month his new program of manpower training and enlarged proposals for welfare together with a reduction in taxes for lower-income groups — mapped out a plan which each year will require more and more revenue.

While many members of Congress and state and city officials are disappointed to learn that the ending of the Vietnam war will not make available to them much more revenue, it would take a considerable amount of time to overhaul existing programs and determine "priorities."

THE TREND probably will be toward a gradual increasing of tax rates in order to derive more revenue for the federal government. It would not be surprising if the tax surcharge or an equivalent were retained beyond this year, because it is not expected that the Vietnam war will be ended in 1970. The expense of maintaining a substantial force in Vietnam will probably be large for another two or three years.

Billy Graham

I have a friend who professes to be a Christian, but he is extremely critical of others. When I am with him for ten minutes I feel like I need a bath — so I shun him like I would a poisonous snake. Am I wrong, or is he?

P.Y.

I know what you mean: It is depressing to be in the presence of someone who sees no good in others. It is generally true that in judging others we echo our secret faults. The psychologist J. A. Hadfield, in PSYCHOLOGY AND MORALS, says: "Allow any man to give free vent to his feelings about others, and then you may turn in perfect safety and say: 'Thou art the man.'"

When the prophet Nathan told the erring David about the shepherd with many sheep who stole the lone sheep of the poor shepherd, David said: "As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this thing shall surely die." (II Sam. 12:5) David was quick to judge the shepherd, not realizing that he himself had committed a far graver sin. Reflected in his judgment of the other man was his own sin, and Nathan said, "Thou art the man."

This is what Jesus must have meant when He said, "Judge not lest thou be judged." (Matt. 7:1) He was saying: "We often reveal our own shortcomings in our judgment of others." So, a man such as the one to which you refer, in his judgment of others is really revealing contempt for himself, but using of his faults would come if he were to recognize his own faults instead of the faults of others. The Bible says, "Confess your faults one to another, that ye may be healed."

'I CAN'T MAKE ANY LABEL STICK ANYMORE'

Jack Lefler Inflation Still Rolls Along

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor Day has been regarded in some quarters as an informal target date for achieving definite results in the battle against inflation. It seems likely now that the timetable will have to be extended to the end of this year at least.

ECONOMIC INDICATORS

- Personal income growing
- Unhappily, no cooling signs
- Price increases continuing
- Worst building slump ahead
- Gallops at rate of 5%

While a few signs of economic slowdown have cropped up, inflation has continued to roll along at a five per cent rate.

William H. Chartnerer, who soon will leave his position as assistant secretary of the commerce for economic affairs, said this past week he doesn't see "any signs of abating of inflation to any significant degree" for the rest of this year.

He said continued growth of personal income was a primary factor in propelling inflation at an undiminished rate.

Chartnerer made his remarks at a news conference after reports of a sharp decline in the value of military prime contract awards in the second quarter, a 0.1 per cent decline in the preliminary August wholesale price index, and a 0.4 per cent drop in the government's index of leading economic indicators.

"There was a time earlier this year when it did not seem unreasonable to think that by Labor Day the over-all economy would be showing fairly clear-cut signs of cooling," Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. said in its current monthly business review.

"Unhappily that has not come to pass. Some soft spots, it is true, do exist as the summer season nears its end. But these developments — though potentially very significant — have not as yet altered the complexion of the over-all economy. It is still showing the ruddy flush of excess in various areas."

In another appraisal, Murray L. Weidenbaum, assistant secretary of the treasury for economic policy, said there has been "a gradual slowing in the over-all growth of the economy from the hectic pace of a year or so ago." But he added that "the cooling down process needs to continue until it is clearly reflected in a much slower rate of advance in costs and prices."

Moody's Investors Service expressed the opinion that the economy should be considerably slower and inflation moderated by the first half of 1970.

Despite efforts to stem inflation, the weekly rash of price increases continued. The latest boosts embraced bedsheets, envelope paper, detergent materials, heating equipment, fluorescent lamps and color film processing.

A survey of 1,000 of the biggest manufacturers by the National Industrial Conference Board indicated corporations would continue to increase their expenditures for new plants and equipment through the rest of this year and the early part of next year.

Martin R. Gainsbrugh, the board's chief economist, said this was indicated by a 12.6 per cent increase in capital expenditures by manufacturers in the second quarter.

For the second straight month, new construction contracts declined in July.

"While July's decline was felt mainly in the sagging housing market, the two-month slide since May affected most major building markets to some degree," said George A. Christie, chief economist for McGraw-Hill Information Systems Co.'s F. W. Dodge Division, which specializes in construction statistics.

Tom B. Scott Jr., president of the United States Savings and Loan League, told the organization's annual business clinic in Chicago that the worst of the slump is still ahead of us, particularly in single family homes, and that it will be some time in spring or summer of 1970 before a revival in home building develops," he said.

Scott blamed the short supply of available mortgage credit for discouraging home building.

To Your Good Health Small Girl Has Rheumatoid Arthritis

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 4-year-old daughter has arthritis. The doctor calls it juvenile rheumatoid arthritis. She has it in her shoulders, elbows, fingers, knees, ankles, and hips. I noticed her fingers first, three months ago.

They have prescribed four baby aspirins for her four times a day. I would like to know more on the subject. I realize there is no cure.

The doctor says it is a rare case. Why? And would she have been born with this? How could it have gotten so bad in three months?

Would a change of climate help her? She is under care at a hospital clinic. I would like someone else to see her. Should I go to an arthritis doctor, general doctor, or maybe an internist?

She is a very active child, jumps rope, bounces a ball, rides a bike. Every so often she says she is tired, and complains of stomach aches quite often. Today she said, "Why does everything always hurt me?" Is she doomed to be crippled? — Mrs. S.K.

Rheumatoid arthritis can develop at any age, even childhood. Why does your doctor call this a very unusual case? Probably because of some unrelated problems which I omitted from your letter.

It sounds to me as though she is getting capable care. The aspirin serves a double purpose: to combat inflammation in her joints and to make her more comfortable — but rheumatoid arthritis is no picnic. How can you explain it to a 4-year-old, I don't know. Just tell her she has a sickness that takes time to treat.

But the joint pain is enough to make her tired, and the nervous tension might well explain her stomach aches.

Since the poor child is remaining active, I think you have reason to hope that she will escape crippling. Some youngsters are so severely attacked by arthritis that they have trouble walking, and it then becomes a desperate struggle to keep the joints from "freezing" or becoming deformed. Still, many of them come through quite well in the end, so I think the outlook for your little girl is distinctly on the favorable side.

No, I doubt that a change of climate would make any real difference. As to having someone else examine her, the best place would be at one of the arthritis centers — the number of them is growing, but slowly, in a city the size of yours, there is one. Children's hospitals are ideal. With your daughter's problems, that would perhaps be best. But in any event, have a pediatrician look after her, for her varied troubles.

One thing you must keep in mind, and she must learn as she becomes old enough to understand: rheumatoid arthritis has a tendency to subside, then flare up again, perhaps years later.

You (and she) should be alert for signs of a subsequent attack, since prompt treatment is important in avoiding joint deformity.

I would doubt that she was "born with it." Rheumatoid arthritis is a disease of sudden onset, unlike osteoarthritis which develops gradually.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife's mother paralyzes about a pint of wine every 24 hours. She is nearly 80. Would appreciate your advice whether this is harmful to her health. — J.S.

At her age, she's doubtless doing more good than harm with her pint.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I wish to bequeath my heart and eyes to science. How do I go about it? — M.R.

Get in touch with the dean's office at whatever medical college you favor, and they'll tell you what forms need to be filled out.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as outlining effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Grand-Dad Wants Peace And Quiet

(News item: Old Grand-Dad is finally coming into his own as far as recognition is concerned. For the past six years, the first Sunday after Labor Day has been marked as a special day for him. Grand-Dad's Day is rapidly taking its place alongside Father's Day, Mother's Day and other special days in popularity).

Let's set a scene in a home where Grand-Dad lives. The old geezer is blissfully enjoying his rocking chair. A daughter approaches.

"Dad, wouldn't you like to have a special day?"

"Er? Did you say some special day? Is the gumminit raising the Social Sec-curlity? You bet I want some special pay."

"NO, YOU didn't hear me. I didn't say pay, I said day — a special day."

"Well, what about the day? What's wrong with today? Looks all right to me. By the way, what day is it?"

"Oh, Dad, it's Wednesday, and it's just another day. I'm talking about a very special occasion when all your children and grandchildren give you honors, and shower you with gifts."

"SHOWER, YOU say? Wa-l-l, those have been pretty nice showers we've had the past few days, although they keep me sort of cooped up. I s'pose another shower would be all right."

"But you still haven't understood me, Dad. This is a day they have set aside for Grand-Dads, you know, just like Mother's Day. We have a big meal, we pay you extra attention, we tell you we love you, and give you presents."

"I'm not sure I like that extra attention. The last time I got it, you moved me out of that room at the back of the garage, and put me up here in everybody's way. Do I get to go back to my own bedroom?"

"OH, DAD," we had to have that room for the boys, so they could come and go. We felt you would be more comfortable in your new room. But, what about the Day?"

"What Day you gonna make it? I got to get down to the post office and the courthouse one of these days to see if any of those old codgers are still hanging 'round there. And don't forget I play checkers with Claude Tuesdays and Fridays."

"I KNOW all that, Dad. This would be on a Sunday, with an extra big Sunday dinner."

"What for dinner? You know I can't eat a lot of that rich stuff no more."

"Oh this will be a dinner when your sons and daughters and their children can eat a lot, and we'll give you just what you want. We'll have the whole family together."

"DID I hear you say that the whole tribe's a-comin', with all those noisy, yellin' brats?"

"Well, they're not all that bad, and we'll try to keep them quiet. After all, it would be your day."

"If it's just the same with you, lets keep it my day — 21 to myself. I can get more thinkin' and rockin' done that way."

And there went Grand-Dad's Day.

Marquis Childs If The War Ended Tomorrow—

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON — The biggest and most hardy fiction of current times, the non-fact that if only the war in Vietnam were not there billions upon billions would be instantly at hand to cure all our urban ills, has at long last been exploded.

THE MAN who is surely not lacking in interest in urban reform, White House urban affairs assistant Daniel Moynihan, has officially — and with obvious reluctance — reported to President Nixon that even if the war ended tomorrow, all those bags of money simply would not be available for new social programs. The vast "surplus" so long predicted would in fact be eaten up by the rising costs of other programs, not excluding the new defense allocations that would be unavoidable if we allowed ourselves to be defeated in Vietnam, and by rising costs in general and the rising population curve.

THIS FORMAL finding by the Nixon administration that the Big Rock Candy Mountain does not exist is perhaps as important for its timing as for its substance. For it is issued in the wake of the President's decision to halt indefinitely his erstwhile plan for steady troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

IT IS OBVIOUS that this could be used to support what is almost certain now to come. This is a harder line in Vietnam, however it may be described, not because the administration loves "escalation" and all that, but because of another harsh reality that simply cannot be wished away. This is the reality that repeated one-sided American concessions to the Communist enemy have demonstrably only emboldened him to believe that, having already got something, he can at length get it all and force an American capitulation.

OFFICIAL Washington denies that the suspension of troop withdrawal is a major change in principle, and this is entirely understandable. It is particularly so in light of the fact that both Secretary of State William Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird had been talking of more and more withdrawals right up to the hour when the President himself said in effect: No more now, anyhow.

For Mr. Nixon's whole approach for many weeks has been grounded upon an earnest and indeed almost desperate attempt somehow and to some extent to placate the new isolationist doves of the Senate and to get at least some of their pressure off his back. The attitudes of Rogers and Laird may be explained by this circumstance.

BOTH WERE trying, as the saying goes (and goes and goes and goes), "to keep open the dialogue" with anti-Vietnam politicians and commentators. This was a normal and perfectly legitimate political ploy, and all those who are not interested in scoring debating points must regret that it did not work — so long, that is, as the President did not do anything seriously to weaken our actual posture militarily in Vietnam.

The trouble, however, is that even though Mr. Nixon's yielding and yielding was in truth more symbolical than real, since he never intended to open any possibility of genuine retreat, it was not seen in that way by either the Communist enemy or the doves of the Senate.

Art Buchwald An Attack On Inflation

WASHINGTON — The wonderful thing about American industry is that it rises to every challenge. Even something as distasteful as inflation has not discouraged most manufacturers. Their solution to the problem is not in the product but in the package. Rather than raise the prices on many goods, American industry is devising new methods to make the product smaller, while making the package larger. In this way, the customer feels assured that nothing has changed.

I visited one of the largest packaging companies in the country the other day to see how they were doing it. The vice president in charge of inflationary design took me around the plant.

"WE'RE GOING 24 hours a day," he said proudly. "Everyone is asking us for new designs to help them get through this rough period."

I noticed women in white smocks working with tweezers under microscopes.

"What are those women doing?" I asked.

"Those are five-cent chocolate bars on their tweezers. They put each one in that large aluminum foil and then they wrap wax paper around it. Over the wax paper they put the name of the chocolate bar in large letters. Here's one that's finished."

"Why, from the outside it looks like an old-fashioned chocolate bar!"

"NO ONE can tell the difference until they open the package," he said proudly.

We went into another part of the building. There were air hoses hanging all over the ceiling and boxes were rolling along a conveyor belt.

I looked perplexed.

"We're packaging soap flakes in here," he shouted above the din. "The lady down at the beginning of the line puts one teaspoonful of soap flakes into those giant-sized boxes; then those men over there with the hoses pump air into the rest of the box."

"How ingenious!" I shouted back.

THE BOTTOM of the box is weighted with very heavy cardboard so no one will know, when picking up the box, how much soap flakes there are in it.

"That's a lot of air to put in a box."

"We don't use the air for only soap flakes. We also use it for cereals, baking products and anything that comes in a box."

"Let me show you this invention which we have a patent on. This is a see-through wax paper window for noodles. Well, when you look at it you think you're getting a full box of noodles. Right?"

"Of course."

"Now look at the inside of the box."

"WHY, THE ONLY noodles in it are stuck to the window," I said in amazement.

He took me into another building which had a large sign, "Pharmaceuticals," on the outside. "This is where we work on new packaging for medicines." He opened a door and everywhere I looked were large mounds of white cotton.

"What do you do with that stuff?" I asked.

"WE PUT two pills in each bottle of medicine and stuff the rest of it with white cotton. If it wasn't for cotton I don't think the drug industry could survive."

"You people think of everything." "Not everything. Our dream is to devise a package filled with nothing but air, cotton and aluminum foil. If you bought one, you'd get a second package free."

SMOKESTACKS

All around the world they marvel at American industry. Factory chimneys send great clouds of smoke skyward as we produce more and still more. There seems to be no end to man's progress, whether here on earth or out in the vast mystery of space.

In spite of all we do, there is still so much that we cannot do. For all our power, we are still frail and vulnerable. God has given us many capabilities, but we were never meant to "go it" entirely alone. To think that we need nothing beyond ourselves is not self-confidence—it is brashness.

There are moments when we all need to look into a special kind of mirror, by which we may re-examine our lives. Such a mirror may be found in church where God's word, if we really listen to it, can help show us the truth.

Why not go and listen in your church next Sunday?

CARNIVAL TIME—Webb's Labor Day Carnival is sponsored each year to provide an attraction for base personnel to keep as many as possible off the highway.

Actors Share Warfare Twice

Academy Award winner, Lee Marvin and Japan's most famous actor, Toshiro Mifune are the only two characters in "Hell in the Pacific," the powerful drama set in World War II. It opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

It is unusual that these two men should meet in these roles. During World War II, Marvin saw action with the 2nd Marine Division at Kwajalein, Eniwetok and Saipan where he was wounded by machine gun fire. Mifune served with the Japanese army in the Pacific, rising to the rank of petty officer. It is not unlikely that they unknowingly faced each other across a battlefield 23 years before they met on the screen.

Both men are at the top of their professions in their own countries. Marvin, known for his roles in such films as "The Dirty Dozen," "Point Blank," "The Professionals," "Cat Ballou," and "The Professionals," is one of the most sought-after actors in the American motion picture industry. It was while he was recuperating from his war wounds that he got his first acting job — a role in an off-

PETER PAN—The ever-young hero of Never Land is starred in Walt Disney's production "Peter Pan," held over until Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre. On the same bill is "The Boy and The Eagle," another Disney film.

British Films Featured

British Cinema Week will focus attention on England during the final week of Alley Theatre's Summer Repertory Film Festival in Houston Sept. 3-9.

Alfred Hitchcock's neglected masterpiece "The Lady Vanishes" begins Sept. 3-4 at 8:30 p.m.

Charles Dickens' classic "Oliver Twist" will be shown Sept. 5-6 at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. and Sept. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 weeknights and $1.75 Friday and Saturday.

Horror Films Slated For Jet Theatre

Science-fiction fans will get a double treat in the chill and thrill department when "They Came From Beyond Space" and "The Terrornauts," open Friday at the Jet Theatre in color and wide-screen.

"They Came From Beyond Space," which stars Robert Hutton, Jennifer Jayne, Zia Mohyeddin and Bernard Kay, tells the suspense-packed story of strange invaders from another planet... unearthly beings who give vent to unearthly desires! They turn women into killer robots, enslave men, and make cities into places of terror!

Dual Purpose For Carnival

Webb's Labor Day Carnival sponsored for the second year by the Personnel Services Division, will again serve a two-fold purpose.

According to Jerry White, base recreation director and project officer for the carnival, the carnival is being staged to provide an attraction for base personnel to keep as many Webb personnel off the highways as possible this Labor Day Weekend. The second purpose is to benefit the Consolidated Base Fund, which supports many base-wide activities and recreational programs throughout the year, and the unit funds of those organizations participating.

The carnival will be open from 4 p.m. until midnight Friday, from 1 p.m. until midnight Saturday through Monday, and 4 p.m. until midnight Tuesday. Although the booths will be closed Tuesday, the rides will be in full swing.

A dance will be held at 9 p.m. Friday at the John H. Lees Service Club.

'The Wild Bunch' Shows Outlaws Passed By Time

"The Wild Bunch," opening today at the Jet Theatre, is a story of outlaws in the cruel terrain of the West. It takes place in 1813 when the world was about to plunge into war; and Mexico, where much of the action takes place, was being strangled in bloody counter-revolution.

Pike Bishop (William Holden) and his gang are outlaws of a sort whose exploits 10 or 15 years before might have been considered as heroic. Even their arch-enemy, Deke Thornton (Robert Ryan), thought they were re-living past glories. But time had passed them by.

"The Wild Bunch" stars William Holden, Ernest Borgnine, Robert Ryan, Edmond O'Brien and Warren Oates. Albert Dekker, Ben Johnson, Jaime Sanchez, Emilio Fernandez, Strother Martin, and L. Q. Jones are the co-stars. William Holden's career is now one of the great stories of Hollywood film history. His list of outstanding performances, from "Golden Boy" to his Academy Award winning performance in "Stalag 17," makes him one of the most distinguished and popular actors on the screen.

Ernest Borgnine's Academy Award performance in "Marty" established him as one of motion picture's finest actors. His unforgettable martinet in "From Here to Eternity" as well as his leading role in the "McHale's Navy" television series suggest the wide range of his acting powers.

Robert Ryan's career is another saga of stardom. Since "The Set-Up," he has been the prototype of the virile, rugged "loner." He changes that image from time to time by stage appearances in the plays of Shakespeare and Eugene O'Neill.

Edmond O'Brien began his career as one of the fresh faces in the legendary wartime production "Winged Victory." He has since reached pre-eminence for his Academy Award performance in "The Barefoot Contessa."

Warren Oates' appearances as a regular on the Stony Burke television show established him as an acting personality in his own right. His film credits include "In the Heat of the Night," with Rod Steiger and Sidney Poitier, and "Something of a Lonely Man." His part as Holden's counterfoil in "The Wild Bunch" is his most important role to date.

Head Start Sign-Up Dates Announced

The Head Start program will be in operation in Big Spring schools again this year. Registration of pupils for this program will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, announced Keith Swim, administrative assistant for special services for the school district. Enrollment is to be at Kate Morrison school, and parents are requested to accompany their children for the registration. Enrollment starts at 9 a.m. and will continue until 6 p.m. so that working parents may find time to appear. Actual classwork will begin Thursday, when lunch will be served to the youngsters. Children may register from the Airport, Bauer, Lakeview and Cedar Crest elementary districts. Last year, some 200 were in the program, and Swim said he expects about the same number this year. Head Start is designed to give youngsters from the less privileged homes an opportunity to catch up on pre-school principles and practices so that they will have an even break as they start regular school classes. The Big Spring program has been widely recognized for its effective operation and results.

Siboney Drops Sharpstown Acquisition

DALLAS — Siboney Corporation has announced that plans for the acquisition of Sharpstown Realty Company, Houston, and Siemon Manufacturing Company, Grandview, Mo., have been terminated. Changes in conditions between the time when agreement in principle had been reached for the acquisition of these companies and the present time make it impractical to pursue these acquisitions further, a statement said. Siboney also reported that it is proceeding with its plans for the acquisitions of Columbia Investment Corporation, Fort Worth, Southgate Shopping Center, Inc., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Celcon, Inc. in San Jose, Calif., as previously announced.

was represented by C. T. McLaughlin, long time friend of the Academy. The painting was unveiled in the Academy Library and accepted by Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman (left), superintendent of the Academy.

AIR FORCE PILOT'S WORKS INCLUDED

Southwestern Artists' Showing Is Scheduled

Paintings, sculpture and graphics by William Kolliker from El Paso; popular favorite Manual Acosta from the same city, and Wilson Hurley of Albuquerque, N.M., will be the feature of the newest "Meet the Artist" personal appearance opening at the Baker Collector Gallery, 1301 13th Street in Lubbock, starting next Sunday, Sept. 7. The show, which will bring the artists in person from 1:30-5 p.m. on Sunday, will be on view through Oct. 4.

In the coming exhibit Hurley has several new works completed since returning from Vietnam. Also included are paintings of Vietnam which are accurate in every detail.

Within the last three weeks Hurley received important national recognition with his painting "And Touch The Face of God." The painting now is in the permanent collection of the United States Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo. C. T. McLaughlin, Diamond M Foundation of Snyder, is a director of the Air Force Academy Foundation. McLaughlin is also well known for developing one of the most important private art museums in the Southwest, with numerous works by such renown artists as N. C. Wyath, Andrew Wyath, Peter Hurd, Remington, Russell, Phippen, W. R. Laigh, Dunn and many others of similar fame.

Thus, it was a natural turn of events for McLaughlin to consider acquiring an important and appropriate painting to donate to the permanent collection of the Air Force Academy.

The painting was created by Hurley while he was a member of New Mexico Air National Guard and shortly before being called to active service in the United States Air Force in January, 1968.

The origin of this painting is unusual. Hurley had previously chosen quiet landscapes or drifting clouds for his subjects. This penchant existed in spite of the fact that he was a fighter pilot. October, 1967, he was asked to hang eight New Mexico landscapes on March 1, 1968, at the Lovelace Foundation in Albuquerque. Considering that the Lovelace Foundation was the center of Aerospace medicine, he elected to paint T. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. James Baker attended the New Mexico Air National Guard.

While he was working on the show, a fellow pilot visited his studio and titled the paintings with excerpts from McGhee's famous sonnet. Ironically, before the last painting was completed, Hurley was recalled to active duty and only seven paintings were submitted to the Lovelace Show, of which "And Touch The Face of God" was the largest work.

Purchase of the Hurley painting for the Air Force Academy was handled through the Baker Gallery of Lubbock, while the artist was on active duty as a major with the 21st Tactical Air Support Squadron in Vietnam. The painting was unveiled and accepted for the Academy by Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hurley, and Mr. and Mrs. James Baker attended the dedication of the painting.

Speed Reading Classes Set for Big Spring

The famous Cutler Accelerated method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here in both day and evening classes.

The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 60% comprehension — a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college, and business.

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine-week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,000 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in major cities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

This professionally conducted course boasts over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in the Big Spring area who desire to know how they can more easily read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.

All these free one-hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attending.

Since there is no cost or obligation by attending, you owe it to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you. Drop in and find out how you can make 1969 a more successful year.

All meetings are open to the public and will be conducted on following:

Wednesday, Sept. 10, at 7:00 p.m. and at 8:30 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 11, at 7:00 p.m. and at 8:30 p.m.

Friday, Sept. 12, at 7:00 p.m. and at 8:30 p.m.

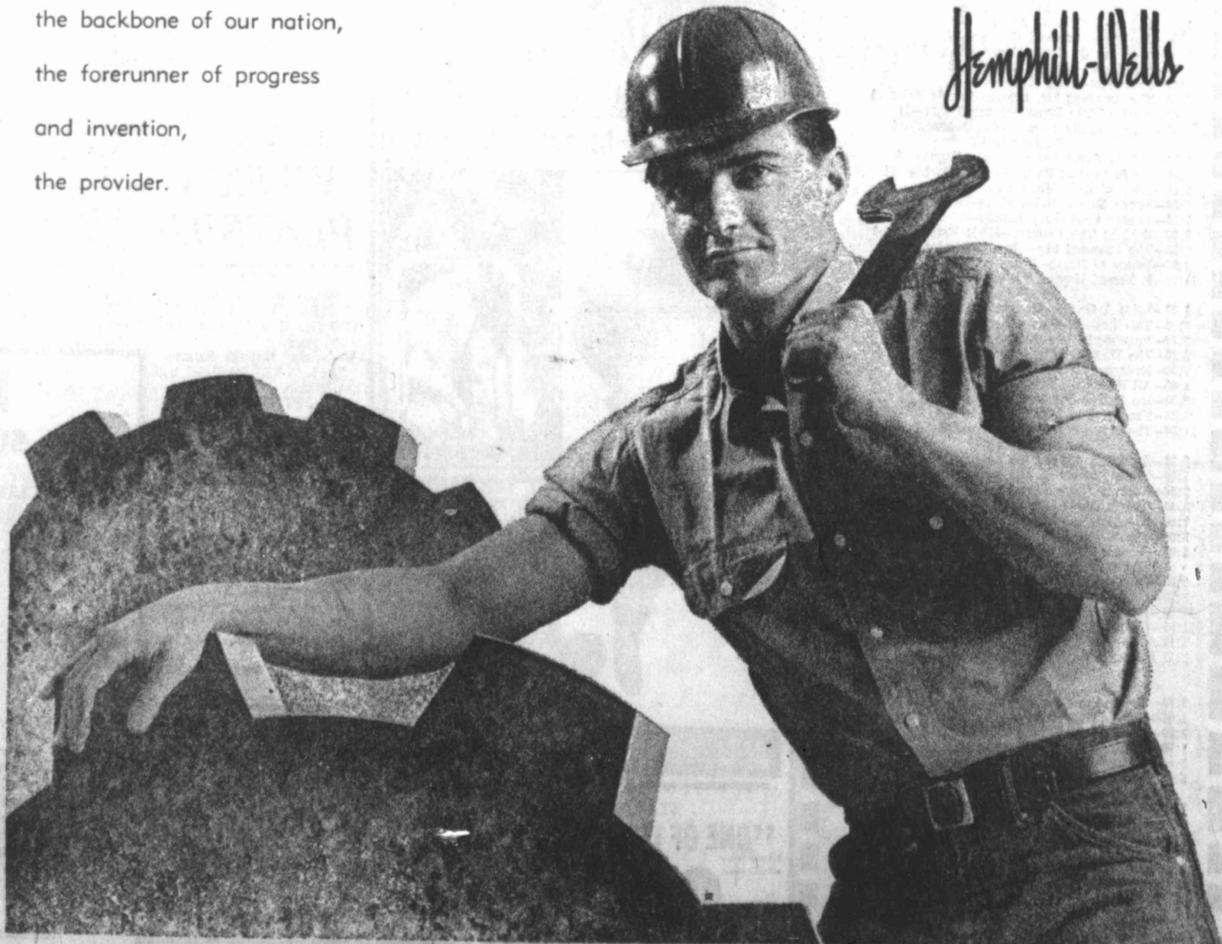

Saturday, Sept. 13, at 10:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and at 3:00 p.m.

All meetings will be conducted in the Meeting Room No. 1 of the Sattles Motel, 2nd and Sumner St., in Big Spring. (Adv.)
