Israeli Units Raid Egyptian Coastline

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli aircraft and armored units thrust into Egypt across the Gulf of Suez today in a raid on Egyptian army positions, the Israeli army announced.

It was the biggest action reported on the Egyptian-Israeli front since the 1967 Middle East war.

The 10-hour operation ranged over a 30-mile stretch of the Egyptian shore, a military spokesman reported.

One Israeli plane was lost and the pilot parachuted into the Gulf of Suez, he said.

The attack began at 2 a. m., and lasted until noon, the spokesman continued.

The Israelis used naval vessels to take their armor across the 25-mile-wide gulf.

He listed Israeli casualties as one soldier wounded and claimed dozens of Egyptian soldiers were killed or wounded and "heavy damage caused" to Egyptian equipment.

The planes bombed and strafed artillery batteries and units of the Soviet-built surface to air—SAM—missiles, he said.

The action ranged between El Hasayer and Ras Za' Farana, 60 miles south of the port of Suez at the southern end of the Suez Canal.

The raid came on the heels of a sea battle in the same general area Monday. In that engagement, Israel claimed to have sunk two Egyptian torpedo boats. Cairo said one Egyptian boat was hit but not sunk and asserted the Egyptians sank an Israeli vessel.

In the latest raid, the Israelis claimed to have destroyed army bases and encampments, vehicles, radar stations and buildings.

The Egyptians put up no air or sea resistance, the spokesman said. The raid came after what the spokesman called continued and initiated Egyptian aggression.

This was the biggest attack by Israel on any Arab power since the raid into Jordan in March, 1968, when Israeli forces hit an Arab commando base at Karameh. This day-long action, also supported by tanks and planes, killed more than 120 guerrillas, the Israelis claimed then.

A high Israeli Foreign Ministry official said the attack was "to improve our position along the canal, to set a high price for Egypt's aggression and to prove that their side is more vulnerable than is ours."

BY NIXON Top Advisors Are Called

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has called an extraordinary meeting Friday of his top advisors to discuss every aspect of the Vietnam situation, the White House announced today.

Press officer Ronald L. Ziegler, who announced the meeting, declined to discuss specific topics.

Nixon announced earlier he would take another look at troop withdrawals early in September.

Called to attend the meeting were Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, national security advisor, Dr. Henry Kissinger, Gen. Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. William McCain, commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific, Gen. Creighton Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, Richard Helms, director of Central Intelligence and Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam.

Low Collections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department, under fire for collecting less than half the government's bad debts, agreed today the chore has sometimes been neglected in the past.

But it said a mounting criminal caseload "requires us to be realistic concerning the amount of resources and emphasis which can be allocated to collections work at present."

Although the Justice Department won $383 million in bad debts, fines, penalties and forfeitures from court judgments in the past four years, the agency has collected only $163.2 million, according to a congressional study reported by the Associated Press last week. This is a collection rate of 42 per cent.

SHOWERS

Big Spring and vicinity — Cloudy today and tonight with 50 per cent chance of showers and thundershowers, decreasing to cloudy Wednesday with 20 per cent chance of showers. High today mid-upper 70's; low tonight low 60's; high tomorrow mid 80's.

PASADENA Twister Flicks Down

By The Associated Press

Flicking down from a mean thunderstorm, a tornado inflicted limited damage in the Houston suburb of Pasadena while widespread showers dampened other parts of Texas during the night and early today.

The Pasadena twister wrecked a sheet iron warehouse and a construction shack, damaged a brick building still under construction, put holes in roofs, smashed windows and uprooted trees. About the same time a vicious thunderstorm smacked into Alvin, between Houston and Galveston, with gusty winds and briefly heavy rain.

Thunderstorms continued into this morning in other sections across the north half of the state while clouds thinned and often disappeared farther south.

Near dawn a cool front came close to a standstill along a line linking Texarkana, Waco, San Angelo and Pecos. Rain was falling over much of the Panhandle and thundershowers raged near and 50 miles north of the front from around Brownwood westward to the southeast corner of New Mexico.

Weather Bureau radar at one time or another spotted some fairly heavy thunderstorms around San Angelo and in areas embracing Wichita Falls, Breckenridge, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Junction, Palestine and Killeen. Showers were widespread in the same general area.

More thundershowers, well spaced in most cases, were predicted throughout the state.

Protest 3rd Term

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Rockhurling students battled riot police for three hours on the streets of Seoul today as the students continued their protest against a third term for President Chung Hee Park.

PRINCIPALS IN POSSIBLE CEASE-FIRE ANNOUNCEMENT — Gen. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, left, is the Biafran leader, President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania is a prime mover for a cease-fire in the Nigerian-Biafran war and Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, right, is head of the Nigerian government. There were mounting reports that cease-fire in the war would be announced Tuesday or Wednesday at the African summit meeting in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Cease-Fire Hope Fades In Nigeria

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Hopes for a cease-fire in the Nigerian civil war faded today.

President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania told a news conference that other African heads of state oppose anything but military solution in Nigeria.

He said Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, leader of Nigeria expressed a willingness to consider meeting with Gen. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu of Biafra on the hard to define precondition that he be assured Ojukwu was serious about talking peace.

An advocate of a cease-fire at the African summit meeting here, Nyerere said "we find the incredible situation where non-Nigerians are more interested in pressing on with the war," instead of talking, than even Gowon.

Many African countries fear Biafra's of their own if Biafra is not crushed militarily as an example and "this amounts to saying we are keeping unity by force," Nyerere declared.

Nyerere, who has had meetings with African leaders and a long talk with Gowon, has been pleading for a cease-fire.

He argued that a cease-fire would permit a Nigerian-Biafran meeting to set a climate of assurance whereby the Ibos, who broke away from Nigeria in search of security, can see if it is possible to live in peace in a united Nigeria.

Gerda Slams Might Into New England

BOSTON (AP) — Residents of New England's weathered Atlantic shoreline raced against time today to brace themselves for Hurricane Gerda, a fast-moving storm born almost overnight southwest of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

The storm, packing 90-100-mile-per-hour winds and churning up 30-40-foot seas, was trundling north-northeastward at 40 m.p.h.—unusually fast for a hurricane—and was expected to roar across Cape Cod around noon (EDT).

Hurricane warnings extended from Block Island, R.I., northward to Eastport, Maine. Gale warnings were up for most of the rest of the Northeast coast.

The Weather Bureau warned that flooding was likely along the shoreline, and added that it probably would be "major" on the Cape.

Similar warnings were issued for the off-shore summer resort islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket.

At Otis AFB on Cape Cod, crewmen began removing planes at midmorning, flying them to inland havens.

And officials at the Newport (R.I.) Naval Base began shifting the 32 ships at anchor there to safer moorings in a protected channel.

Urgency cloaked eastern New England as the area prepared for the storm.

So quickly did the storm develop, in fact, that at least 150 fishing boats from southeastern New England ports were reported caught at sea.

In the dozens of summer resort communities that dot the southeastern Massachusetts shoreline, boatmen struggled to secure their craft against the oncoming storm. Shopkeepers and homeowners boarded windows, and school children were sent home early.

Hundreds of pleasure craft remained at anchor in these towns, and officials said they feared loss of property would be extensive.

About 100 boats still were in the water at Edgartown, on Martha's Vineyard, and Police Chief Dominick J. Arena said: "We're working like hell to get them buttoned down."

Earlier, New York and New Jersey residents were advised by the Weather Bureau to "be prepared to take quick action if this should prove necessary" and Mayor John V. Lindsay ordered New York City officials to "batten down the hatches."

All city police units were alerted.

It had been traveling at about 20 mph but weather officials predicted "an increase in intensity and a more rapid movement."

In Rhode Island, the Civil Defense director said schools and other public buildings would be used as emergency shelters if the storm necessitated evacuation of low-lying areas.

Massachusetts Civil Defense director, Allan R. Zenowitz asked residents of Cape Cod and neighboring islands to check emergency plans.

Towns in eastern Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina were alert for possible flooding, but expected the storm to pass without trouble.

Earlier, Dr. Robert Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center in Miami, said only a slight change in weather conditions could send Gerda barreling into New England.

Gerda, seventh storm of the season, graduated quickly from a tropical disturbance Sunday to a tropical storm at midday Monday and a hurricane six hours later.

New England was last pounded by a hurricane on Sept. 12, 1960, when Hurricane Donna left 148 dead and $30 million in damages, in a patch from the Leeward Islands in the Caribbean to Maine.

Budget Awaits Certification Before Going On To Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — A record $5.8 billion, two-year state budget that beefs up law enforcement, enlarges mental institutions and builds new medical schools has won legislative approval.

It still needs Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's certification that it will balance with taxes before it can go to Gov. Preston Smith for signature.

Lawmakers assured the bill's certification Saturday when they passed a revenue measure raising the approximately $349 million in new taxes required by the measure.

One immediate group of beneficiaries are state employees, who were given help in keeping their living standards abreast of inflation. A 6.8 per cent across the board pay raise was provided for this year, with another 3.4 per cent due on Sept. 1, 1970.

The 22 state colleges and universities received a $96.5 million increase from general revenue, with extra money for faculty salaries.

A big stride was made toward providing more doctors and dentists for Texas, a state which is below the national average in both groups. The measure provides $10 million apiece for new medical schools in Houston and Lubbock. Also included is $1.25 million to start planning a new dental school in San Antonio.

Texas' new statewide meat inspection received $2.8 million for 1970-71, thus freeing it of dependence on fees from meat packers and putting the state in line with federal sanitary standards.

For the first time in years, there will be more state law enforcement officers. The highway patrol will gain 75 men, boosting its strength from 1,222 to 1,297.

Texas Rangers will increase from 62 to 80. The Department of Public Safety's force of narcotics agents — overworked by young people's increasing drug use — will triple, from 25 to 75.

The budget provides $22.9 million over the next two years for improvements and new facilities in mental institutions, including living space for 1,266 more patients.

Also included is $5.4 million to build a new training school for 480 delinquent boys and $2.2 million to finish a reform school for 240 girls.

The governor got a pay raise, from $40,000 to $50,000 a year.

For the next two years, the bill provides nearly $2 million to improve nine state parks, scattered throughout the state from Atlanta in the northeast to Abilene in the west.

There is $200,000 a year to pay cities and counties to clean up public beaches.

A $375,000 a year budget was provided for advertising Texas to potential tourists, up $75,000 from last year.

House Votes 64-48 To Reprimand Sadler

AUSTIN (AP) — The House voted 64-48 today to reprimand Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for "misleading" a House committee into believing he had a contract with the salvager of sunken treasure off Padre Island.

Supporters of the resolution stressed that they wanted Sadler reprimanded solely for his conduct with the legislature in the treasure controversy.

Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater strongly opposed the resolution, which was called unprecedented in Texas history.

Dickson likened it to Congress' impeachment (but not conviction) of President Andrew Johnson after the Civil War.

Each was "a great miscarriage of justice," a political foray, an attempt to destroy a man," Dickson said.

Sadler told the House Rules Committee Monday he was evasive with lawmakers last spring, but he said it was necessary to make the salvager think a contract was in existence or Texas would never have recovered the treasure.

The Senate voted to concur in House amendments to its bill that would create an antiquities commission to regulate treasure hunting in Texas. The bill was sent to the governor.

Gov. Preston Smith, meanwhile, announced Monday he would not open the special session to any more legislation.

The House Rules Committee after a heated 2½ hours hearing Monday voted unanimously to reprimand Sadler.

A second resolution, calling for a full investigation of the operations of the Land Office, was held in committee pending a vote on the reprimand.

The principal charge in the reprimand is that Sadler misled a House committee last spring on whether he had a contract with the salvager of sunken treasure off Padre Island.

The House voted 79-54 on Aug. 28 to postpone action on an identical resolution.

The legislature also approved creation of 27 new district courts.

A similar bill was vetoed by Smith in June because it, and 39 others, got to him several days after the legislature adjourned.

Another bill sent to Smith prohibits "no trespassing" signs on public beaches.

Another bill would remove interest rate ceilings on state and local bonds, except those set out in the state constitution.

In the Rules Committee hearing, Sadler turned to the author of the reprimand resolution, Rep. Frances Farenthold, Corpus Christi, and said: "Mrs. Farenthold, God bless you. I knew your husband paid a $20,000 fine for smuggling precious gems into this country but I didn't say anything out of respect for your children."

He said Jeff Burke of Rio Hondo, one of the divers who brought up sunken treasure off Padre Island in 1967, was the man who started all the controversy about the treasure.

A subcommittee investigating the treasure last spring kept dropping Burke's name, and that was why he refused to talk to the lawmakers further, Sadler said.

Burke was charged in El Paso with driving while intoxicated, Sadler said. Burke was charged in 1963 with negligent homicide, he said. And Burke lost the top part of his left ear in World War II demolitions work but in a 1961 fight with a man named Hugh Williams in front of a Pecos drive-in he said.

Williams bit off the ear "while Burke was twisting a sensitive part of Mr. Williams' body," he said.

Burke also was involved in business dealings with Billie Sol Estes, he said.

Sadler repeated earlier testimony that he grabbed Rep. Jake Johnson, San Antonio, by the tie, not by the throat, when Johnson and Mrs. Farenthold tried to see the treasure in the Land Office July 29.

"I reached over and got him by the tie. I had to reach around Mrs. Farenthold. He was behind her," Sadler said. "If he had been a whole man, I would have gone further than the tie."

Mrs. Farenthold disputed this. She said Johnson, whose spine has been fused from the middle of the back up to retard curvature caused by a childhood polio attack, was not standing to her right and Sadler was standing to her left, she said.

"I did see Mr. Sadler choke Mr. Johnson," she said. After the hearing, Mrs. Farenthold confirmed to newsmen that her husband paid a $20,000 fine in 1956 for not declaring "family jewels" he brought from France and England in 1947. He tried to bring them in secretly "on the advice of counsel," she said.

BIBLE FUND TOPS $2,000

The Bible Class fund topped the $2,000 mark today, thanks to another round of fine support by friends of the program. Today's total was $288, making $2,004.50 so far given.

Many individuals and classes have indicated they have raised funds or plan to give, and they are urged to report these promptly to The Herald. Time on the campaign is much shorter this year, and your help is needed urgently.

BRONZE PLAQUE UNVEILED UNDER BLAZING SUN

Nixon, Ordaz Join Hands At Dam

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — Texas sun to dedicate Amistad Dam, another link between two nations. President Nixon and President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz embraced in the traditional Mexican "abrazo" Monday after unveiling a bronze plaque at the center of the dam.

It was a first meeting between the two presidents since they took office and, said Diaz Ordaz, "I certainly hope that this took office and, said Diaz will help to establish and continue the friendship between us."

UNUSUAL SIGHT — This giant haze in the western skies last weekend had some residents anxious, until it was later announced as an experiment to test wind direction and the magnetic field. A barium-filled rocket was launched from the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico and the cloud developed at about 600,000 feet. Others are planned in the future, depending on weather conditions. Mike Lawton made this photo with a time exposure.

More Planes Could Bring Troops Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators backing the Pentagon's request to go ahead with the controversial C5A transport say more of the supercargo planes could enable a cutback in U.S. forces overseas.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Milton R. Young, R-N.D., said today in prepared speeches that by using the huge transports to boost the nation's airlift capability, the number of American troops abroad might be trimmed.

The arguments came as the Senate headed toward an expected afternoon vote on Sen. William Proxmire's effort to hold up authority for 23 more C5As pending a General Accounting Office study of the need for the planes.

Proxmire said the review also should delve into the heavily criticized contract under which Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be made up by the government.

Young, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee and its defense subcommittee, said he favors a sharp reduction in the U.S. Army in Europe.

"With the capability we will have through the C5A," he said, "we could easily withdraw to or three divisions from Germany." This would be nearly half the U.S. ground force there.

Young said most of the increased cost in the C5A — nearly $2 billion since the contract was signed in 1965 — is due to inflation, frequent changes in production schedules and improvement "which gives us a better weapons system and should not be considered as a cost increase in the usual sense."

He charged the Proxmire amendment "would cause a break in the production of the C5A aircraft which could lead to tremendous further increases in its cost."

Heavy Rains Collapse Sterling School Roof

STERLING CITY — Sterling City residents were busy this morning mopping up in the Sterling City High School after an estimated 60,000 pounds of water collapsed the roof of the agricultural shop.

O. T. Jones, superintendent of schools, said the roof was weakened about two weeks ago during a six-inch rain, and janitors were busy trying to get the water off the roof when it collapsed about 8 a.m. today.

No one was injured, Jones said, because the janitors were aware of the weakening of the roof. A clogged drain may have prevented water from running off the roof.

grated," Jones said. Extensive damage was done to the shop and the science laboratory. Some water flooded the high school wing. The elementary wing was not damaged at all.

The 250 students were dismissed for the day as they arrived at school, Jones said, although classes will resume tomorrow.

"We're hoping to block off the shop and the laboratory with sandbags," Jones said. A crew of county workers and volunteers were on hand about 10 a.m. today to help with mop-up operations.

an estimated four and one-half inches of rain from the time the downpour started about 11 p.m. Monday night until the collapse of the roof this morning. A light mist was still falling at 10 a.m. today.

Board To Consider Land Values, Purchase Of Lot

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the first regular board meeting since being named defendants in a suit filed last week by the Howard County Rural Taxpayers Association.

The association is asking a declaratory judgment that an agreement between attorneys representing the school district and the taxpayers association be held as valid contract.

The school board of equalization did not concur in the compromise rural land valuations and set the school tax roll approximately $5 to $10 higher per acre, depending on the land classification.

Trustees will also discuss the purchase of lot nine, Cole and Strayhorn Addition. In 1965, trustees were purchasing property in this block for the purpose of acquiring parking area for the high school; however litigation developed between the parties owning the property, and the sale of lot nine was not completed.

Litigation now has been cleared, according to Jerry Brooks, owner.

Jerry Woods, building trades teacher, will also appear before the trustees tonight to propose a project for the building trades class.

Trustees referred Woods to his advisory committee last month when a proposal concerning the construction of a private home for Woods was made to the board. Woods and members of his advisory committee are expected to ask the trustees' approval of the project since no other project is forthcoming.

Anderson will also ask approval of a portable classroom on the Kentwood Elementary School campus as a temporary solution to unexpected large enrollment.

Kentwood has eleven classrooms, however, increased enrollment makes a sixth grade classroom necessary for the school. The alternative is to transfer the sixth graders to Washington Elementary where space is available, however, "it is always better to maintain a neighborhood elementary school concept, and all parents as a rule feel strongly about this," Anderson said.

Other items on tonight's agenda include the resignations of five teachers; employment of 20 new teachers; consideration of renewal of contract with Pritchard and Abbott; analysis of collections of tax department; and the report of the tax appraiser for August.

Compensation Case

Jesse Cervantes was awarded $100 workmen's compensation in a judgment issued Monday by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court. Cervantes was injured Sept. 29, 1967 while working for J. W. Little Construction Co.

Verdict Holds For Defendant

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, Monday issued a judgment in favor of the defendant in Pearl R. Simmons and Thelma White vs. The Yellow Cab Co.

Caton said the women can not recover damages against the cab company for injuries received earlier this year when the cab in which they were riding was involved in an accident.

"The jury found no negligence on the part of The Yellow Cab Co. or Charles Holland Lewis, the cabdriver," Caton said.

"The accident was due solely to actions of commission and omission on the part of a third party (the other driver) not sued by plaintiff," he said.

Aggie Mothers

The initial meeting of the executive board of the Federation of Texas A&M University Mothers' Clubs for the year 1969-1970 will be held Saturday, at 8:30 a.m. at the College Station. Mrs. John Beasley, of Austin, is president of the Federation. Mrs. C. L. Girdner is president of the Howard County A&M Mothers' Club.

General, Erratic Rains Cover Area

Teasing rains that hit Howard County last night were but a drop in the rain barrel compared to unofficial reports of four inches in Dawson County and four and a half in Sterling County. The Lamesa Police Department reported over three inches, and Sterling City recorded up to 4 1/2 inches.

Big Spring, equidistant between the two cities received an official 6.4 inches with reports from the northern part of town reading 4.5.

The most rain in Howard County fell in Vincent with a gauge filled to the three-inch mark. Lake Thomas received little moisture and was able to reduce level decline to .01 of a foot instead of the normal .04 or .05 per day. Morgan Creek recorded 1 inch of precipitation, and the Martin County station gauge read 1.10 inches of rain.

Luther, in north central Howard County, rains were falling hard this morning with an estimated inch of moisture since Monday. Five miles southwest of Kfott a gauge read an inch since Monday.

The southwestern sector of the county received about an inch of rain Monday. Lomax reported an inch, and Elbow, where it was promising rain this morning, recorded one and a half inches.

It was still raining in the southeast part of the county this morning also, with Chalk reporting 6 inch of precipitation since Monday. Forsan recorded 1.4 inches and Coahoma has had 1.8 inch of moisture.

Five Committee Sessions Slated

Another five Chamber of Commerce committees have set meetings to discuss recommendations for a 1970 program of work.

The sports and recreation committee will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Chamber conference room. At 3 p.m. the same day and in the same place, the education committee will convene.

Next Monday the advertising and promotion committee will gather at 3:15 p.m. in the Chamber conference room, while Tuesday the convention and tourist committee will meet at the same time and in the same place. On Thursday, Sept. 17, the cultural affairs committee has planned a meet-

Unfavorable Wind Erases Blast Date

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Unfavorable winds erased another detonation date Monday for Project Rulison, an underground nuclear explosion planned in western Colorado. And there were indications the delay may extend into next week.

The earliest possible detonation date for the 40-kiloton explosion now is 5 p.m. EDT Wednesday, pending another weather briefing tonight.

Originally, the blast was scheduled last Thursday afternoon, but winds have not been right and it has been postponed 24 and 48 hours at a time.

The latest 24-hour delay was ordered Monday evening, when winds were blowing mostly to the north. Scientists want a wind to the southeast, so that any possible radiation leakage from the explosion would be carried toward desolate areas.

Ray White, the weather spokesman, said Monday that "it looks to me that to get the winds from the northwest, we're going to have to get a frontal system through here."

White said the only chance of this he sees "is a cold front off the Pacific that might affect the area next Monday."

Project Rulison, a blast equivalent to 40,000 tons of TNT, is sponsored jointly by the Atomic Energy Commission and Austral Oil Co., Houston, Texas. It is intended to help free natural gas from sandstone formation more than 8,000 feet below the surface of Battlement Mesa near the small town of Grand Valley.

President Makes No Promise Of Specific Federal Aid

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — President Nixon told a Mississippi Gulf Coast crowd Monday night that Hurricane Camille may have knocked them down but they'll be up before the count of 10.

"I predict that the people of Mississippi, particularly in the areas of great destruction, will come up from this destruction," he said. "You will rise from it and be a greater people than before."

The President's brief talk concentrated on the intangibles of spirit and purpose, with no mention of specific additional federal aid to come—which many in the crowd had hoped for.

No matter how many federal millions might be poured into the vast work of rehabilitation of the ravaged coastal strip, Nixon said, what really counts is the "heart, spirit and strength" of the people who must rebuild.

Tanned from a month in California's sunny coast, Nixon landed at the Biloxi-Gulfport Municipal Airport in Air Force One, conferred with state officials aboard the jet plane, then walked to the speaker's platform. An estimated 35,000 had turned out to welcome him.

The size of the crowd, he said, made it plain that "whatever had happened in physical destruction, the spirit of the people is high and will continue to be high."

Nixon plugged Gov. John Bell Williams' ambitious effort to see the wrecked coastal strip, the state's lucrative resort area, rebuilt along a comprehensive plan.

"You have an unprecedented group of leaders with a plan in which you will not just rebuild, as it was, what was old but will build a new area with new ideas," he said. "What a challenge that is!"

Dusk was gathering as Air Force One landed in Gulfport after first swooping low over the marsh area south of New Orleans to view the hurricane destruction in lower Plaquemines Parish.

Camille wrecked that area with 200 mile an hour winds and monster tides before curving onto the Mississippi coast August 17.

When the President stepped off the plane in Gulfport, many in the crowd held up "Welcome President Nixon" placards which Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts handed out to people driving or walking onto the field.

After his talk Nixon walked into the crowd to smile and shake hands of eagerly outstretched hands.

Before stepping out to the speaker's stand, Nixon conferred aboard the plane with a group that included Gov. Williams, Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis, Rep. William Colmer, Clarke E. Reed, the state Republican chairman, and Lt. Gen. George Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Bud Collyer Dies Monday

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Bud Collyer, a veteran of more than 30 years in radio and television, died Monday in Greenwich Hospital, where he was being treated for a circulatory ailment. He was 61.

In recent years Collyer was best known as the master of ceremonies as such shows as "To Tell the Truth," "Winner Take All," "Break the Bank" and "Beat the Clock."

From 1938 to 1952 he was the radio voice of Superman. He also had roles in the radio shows "Cavalcade of America," "The March of Time," "Gangbusters," "Pretty Kitty Kelly" and "The Goldbergs."

He was born Clayton Heermance and in his youth planned a career in law.

Many Oldsters Live In Near Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than one-third of all Americans 65 years old and over live in poverty or near-poverty, a Senate committee was told today.

And, said Sen. Harrison J. Williams, D-N.J., "most of them did not become poor until they became old."

Williams, chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, commented in testimony prepared for the opening of three days of hearings by another Senate committee that is looking into national problems of the elderly.

The committee, called the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, is chaired by South Dakota Democrat George McGovern.

Williams, who estimated that seven million of the 20 million Americans 65 and older are poor or nearly so, said the nation was faced with a retirement income crisis that is getting worse.

"The gap between retirement income and income of Americans still in the labor force is now greater than it was seven years ago," Williams said.

 The presence of a part score influenced North and South to wage an uneven contest against their opponents in order to buy the contract. Their desperation tactics resulted in a sizable loss, when East and West extracted the full toll by means of an alert defense.

West opened the bidding with one diamond and East had something in reserve for his raise to two diamonds—which completed the part score. South inserted a competitive bid of two hearts, in an attempt to prevent the opposition from buying the hand too cheaply. West and North passed, and East—who was willing to be pushed once more—bid three diamonds.

South was content to abandon the contest and perhaps North should have done the same, inasmuch as his values were none too robust. He elected however to continue the flag flying by persisting to three hearts and East lowered the ax by doubling.

West opened the king of diamonds, and when this held the first trick, he chose to switch to the nine of clubs. Declarer put in the jack from dummy and when East covered with the queen, South played the ace. A spade was led and West put up the ace to lead another club. North played the king.

The ten of hearts was led for a finesse and West won the trick with the king. He switched to a small diamond to put East in with the ace. The latter cashed the queen of clubs on which West discarded a spade. East alertly followed up by leading the king and another spade, West ruffing the third round of the suit with the five of hearts—to complete the damages which amounted to 500 points.

The defense took, in all, one club, two diamonds, one heart, two spades, and a spade ruff. South could have saved one trick by playing North's king of clubs when West shifted to that suit at trick two. This play enables the declarer to take an immediate heart finesse. When he regains the lead, he is in position to draw trumps and thus avert the spade ruff.

Had South restricted the set to 300 points, the loss would not have been unreasonable, inasmuch as the value of the opponents' game if they had been permitted to play three diamonds is roughly estimated as about the same score.

A Devotion For Today . . .

If God be for us, who can be against us? (Romans 8:31)
PRAYER: Great God of the universe, in whose hand rests the destiny of men and nations, guide our steps as we stumble through the maze of untried paths and dark fearful nights. We thank Thee that Thou art with us. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Senator Everett Dirksen

The nation has lost one of its most skillful legislative leaders in the death of Senator Everett Dirksen, the Republican from Illinois.

Much is being written about the unique and colorful personal characteristics of the man: his resonant voice, his theatrics, his dramatic sense of timing. That honeyed voice of his, incidentally, helped him to sell a record in a volume matching that of the Beatles and other popular songsters. So a great segment of the public felt they knew Everett Dirksen.

It takes closer students of politics to be aware of the great power and prestige he wielded as minority leader of the Senate. Just recently, his power was demonstrated in getting presidential appointments overruled, and in causing to be fired some top administrators he disliked.

Regardless of party affiliation, he understood the course of government intimately enough to work with Democratic presidents, such as John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson. Both depended upon him heavily. And while he at first had opposed the nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower, he became one of Ike's staunch supporters when the General became president.

Dirksen freely admitted he loved his job, and this was evident in the way he went about his legislative maneuverings. While it could be said he always had one eye on the gallery (or the television camera), he nevertheless was knowledgeable and nearly always effective.

These are changing times, and the personalities in our national Congress are changing, too. The Senate will not have many more men like Everett Dirksen, who mixed dramatics with political awareness, matched his public personal attractiveness with hard-nosed exercise of the power that went with his job.

Doing It The Hard Way

The Legislature came forth with a tax bill, and it did it the hard way.

A whopping measure designed to raise nearly $50 million in the final analysis contained few elements of surprise; and, at the moment, there seems to be no major protests in the air. Not that anybody is happy with more taxes; the citizen just becomes resigned.

The irony of the matter is that the legislators could have, with better communication and a little more charity toward one another, passed this identical measure in the first couple of weeks of the first special session. Instead, that session became an arena of bitterness, and a second session was no improvement.

It is regrettable that all major leaders of the state have emerged from this tax hassle with some tarnish. Governor Preston Smith failed to display the strong leadership that other chief executives have shown in times of monetary crisis, and stood aloof after making his first recommendations. He could have pressed for more cooperative action.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes, as leader of the Senate, got himself mixed up in a surprise Senate vote to extend the sales tax to groceries. This was quickly squelched, but there is still wonder as to why he permitted this political gesture in the first place. His political enemies won't let him forget it.

Speaker of the House Gus Mutscher got linked with the beer lobby, and this phase of the tax bill tied the House in knots for days, and days. His prestige, whether through his fault or not, has not been helped.

Time, as it does in politics, will heal some wounds — or at least bandage them until next year's elections. Meanwhile, be prepared on October 1, to ante up.

Holmes Alexander
Maintaining Independence

During Mr. Alexander's vacation, we are substituting excerpts from his forthcoming autobiography, "PEN AND POLITICS."

It would never be within my capacity to be a sustained best-seller, either with books, magazine pieces, or newspaper features. I was too frank with myself to say "sour grapes" about desires beyond my reach, but I was also an auto-psychiatrist by this time. I knew perfectly well that I carried subconscious aversions which limited my career and which could never be got rid of. Much as I craved the big success, I inwardly distrusted both wealth and popularity. I needed and demanded satisfactory payment for my work, but not much more.

AS TO ANY form of popularity, I would like to have it, but not in exchange for something I prize much more — my total independence. Many times as a columnist, I declined the good advice of Charlie McAdam, the supersalesman. In 1952, I stuck with Robert Taft till the late innings, although an earlier switch to Ike would have helped McAdam make the sales. In 1960, I refused a chance to double my royalties by ghosting a Sunday column for Jack Kennedy which Jack's father arranged through McNaught to pay for. In 1964, I left uncashed a big checking account of personal friendship with Lyndon Johnson. I chose, as my column said, to go "all the way to Appomattox" with Barry Goldwater whom I knew to be doomed.

BUT NOBODY owned me, certainly not the moguls of the ultra-right wing, right-winger though I was. I was adamant on the conservative philosophy, but seemingly inconsistent on persons who claimed the conservative mantle. My truth-seeking compass very seldom pointed with constancy at politicians who were trying to please both their constituencies and their own conscience. Public men are not right in all things, and not wrong in all of them. It was this phenomenon in politics, its shifts and drifts, that the Alexander column sought to register. I never meant to be defiant. I always intended to be nobody's man except my own.

THIS I ANGERED zealots on both sides of the ideological divide. Conservatives were furious when I supported President Truman's firing of General McArthur. Liberals called me a McCarthyite because I liked Joe McCarthy's anti-communism. Conservatives raged when I wrote that I'd have voted for the McCarthy censure if I'd been in the Senate.

IN THE MIDDLE 1960's, I ran into more tempestuous weather when I sided with Labor Secretary Wirtz (D) in the matter of excluding foreign workers who, for years, had been brought into many states to pick fruits and vegetables. The big landowners (R) of California, Florida and Appalachia said that I had betrayed them. They were thinking of the labor-costs and labor-skills I was thinking that America could not afford to be without indigenous laborers who knew how to harvest the food-crops.

IN MY determination for the truth, and in my insistence upon writing it, I scared off many subscribers. I angered not a few extremists on both flanks.

In those early days, I was close to being illiterate in the political dialogues. My previous experience in writing sports, biography and a romance did not require me to think out any positions. But the longer I wrote the column, the more pronounced my conservatism became.

'Better Close The Generation Gap — Baby Needs Food'

John Cunniff Profit-Sharing Gets Bigger

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit-sharing is big in the Western world and getting bigger. Five million employees are covered by a government-imposed profit-sharing system in France and at least six million are benefited by voluntary plans in the United States.

Some of the biggest companies in Great Britain, Canada, West Germany, Italy and Holland voluntarily give their employees a piece of the action under various profit-sharing schemes. Denmark has set up a national board to create the establishment of such voluntary plans. In Mexico profit-sharing has been compulsory since 1964.

The underdeveloped nations of the world also seem to be latching on to the idea. The Afro-Asian Organization for Economic Cooperation has recommended compulsory profit-sharing, 75 per cent to company shareholders and 25 per cent to employees.

The world leader in voluntary plans appears to be the United States, with more than 77,000 deferred plans at last count, and thousands of cash plans, which give out the profits periodically as they come in.

Big U.S. corporations tend to favor deferred plans, which postpone profit distributions to employees until they retire or leave. These plans give the employee a tax break, deferring tax payments, sometimes at lower capital gains rates. Cash distributions are taxable for normal income tax.

A study by the Profit Sharing Research Foundation of Evanston, Ill., indicates that cash plans are two to three more popular among firms with 19 employees or less. Deferred plans are twice as popular as cash plans among businesses with 20 employees or more. One reason for this could be that cash distributions boost morale in outfits small enough for the individual to see the results of his efforts.

The same study concludes that one out of every five American businesses with 50 employees or more has a profit-sharing plan of some kind, and the proportion is steadily rising toward one in every four.

Labor unions traditionally have been hostile or indifferent to profit-sharing plans but the foundation says union attitudes are now "in flux." However, management and labor are both found to be reluctant to include profit-sharing in collective labor agreements.

A notable exception was the landmark labor contract signed in 1961 by the American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers, covering 25,000 workers. The agreement provided that one-third of the profits to be shared should be used to buy American Motors stock for employees and the other two thirds to improve insurance and pension programs.

Profit-sharing can add up to substantial amounts for individual employees. A secretary at the Signode Steel Strapping Co. in Chicago for example retired in 1960 after 19 years in the Signode profit-sharing plan with $35,000 in cash and Signode stock.

The oldest existing profit-sharing plan in the United States is perhaps the Procter & Gamble plan begun in 1887. Other pioneering plans include Eastman Kodak, 1912 and Sears, Roebuck & Co., 1916. They have 200,000 members.

A Few More Small Coins, Please

By JOY STILLEY
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — The new exact change system that recently went into effect on New York City buses emphasizes anew the erratic behavior of any money that happens to be in my possession.

Under the present setup, riders must have either 20 cents in change or a subway token to put in the coin box. The driver no longer makes change.

This poses a problem for me, because all I ever seem to have is quarters.

No matter how many dollar bills I break during the day for coffee, newspapers, gum or mints, when the showdown comes nothing shows up but 25-cent pieces and pennies.

Some of my best friends have nickels and dimes. Sometimes I get them too, and tuck them away with loving care, happy in the knowledge that I can come to terms with any vending machine. But when the moment of truth arrives, or when I have a confrontation with a pay telephone, those lesser coins I have so carefully hoarded have by some alchemy turned into the unimpressing quarters.

While too little wealth brings problems, so at times does too much wealth. Take that gadget that turns a dollar bill into all sorts of useful coins if you can manage to get George Washington's picture in just the right spot and push the plunger with the proper flair. When I chance upon one of these money-changing wonders I'm sure to have no bill smaller than a five on hand.

I've become resigned to the fact that money and I will never achieve a compatible relationship.

If I set out on a shopping trip with bulging bankroll, not one item strikes my fancy. But if I just happen to be in a store when I'm a likely candidate for a bank loan I'm sure to run across something irresistible.

Oh well, I've always got all those quarters—unless I happen to need one for the washing machine.

Around The Rim

Those Worrisome Credit Cards

I have heard it said the time is coming when you won't be able to buy anything with money — only a credit card will be accepted. I think for me the time has come.

I dutifully make purchases on my credit cards, and not too eagerly await the arrival of my monthly statement; and now I have discovered that one company wants me to continue to have the service of their card — but they won't let me pay anything.

FOR TWO MONTHS I didn't receive a statement at all, and then I got a polite letter from their lawyer saying he wished I would get so far behind in my payments. While he didn't exactly say so, the inference was there are places for people like me — Alcatraz and Sing Sing.

ANXIOUS TO please, I hurried down to my neighborhood department store and gave them a check — which promptly went underground. The next day I received a letter urging me to come in and buy an air conditioner and color television set, and the next day I got a letter from my friend in the legal department saying my credit card had been suspended until I learned how to handle my money.

I GAVE my temper time to cool off and then took another trip to the local store, cancelled checks and receipts in hand. The woman at the desk was very nice and took a picture of my check, promising the head of the department would straighten everything out as soon as she came to work.

THE NEXT DAY I got a call asking me to come by for a conference on my overdue credit account. However, by the time I got there someone, goaded on by a few sharp words from me, had managed to locate the photostat of the check and enter it on the books.

Yesterday I got a letter from the company, my account is overdue. Chuckling quietly to myself, I cut the offending card into little plastic strips and mailed it to their legal department.

Nixon Avoids Defense Budget Fight

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON — The second successive challenge from the Senate's New Left to President Nixon's command of military policy — a heavy and sustained attack on his $20-million defense budget — is again rolling on with no visible exercise of White House muscle in the crisis.

As he did on the issue of Senate approval of the antiballistic missile system, which in the showdown he won by a single vote, the President is publicly standing afar from this battle. Again, he is declining directly and irresolutely to commit the ultimate prestige of the presidency, even though a defeat here would be as would have been a defeat on ABM, a profound and perhaps even a fatal blow to his whole leadership.

AND AGAIN he is leaving his case primarily in the hands of senators of the opposite party, the sturdy and stoical defense-minded types such as Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi, the chairman of the Armed Services Committee. It was precisely these ABM type now looks that if he is to be saved here, it will be they who have done the job.

The consequences of all this are arresting. For one thing, pro-administration Republican senators are torn between a nagging anxiety that the President might turn out to have been too relaxed altogether and a sense of satisfaction that it is at any rate the Democratic party, and not their own, that is being torn apart on the issue.

FOR ANOTHER THING, these fellows fear that Mr. Nixon's implied trust in the Stennis kind of Democrat, while no doubt highly complimentary, may become at last a bit unwelcome to its beneficiaries — who are, moreover, carrying a doubly burdensome load in the absence because of illness of that old ally who is minority leader Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois.

FINALLY, there is acute embarrassment among administration Republicans at the important, if thus far hardly noticed, circumstance that the great debate is in the real sense not between two sets of senators at all. Rather, it is actually between one set of senators on the one side — Stennis and company — and a group of present and former Pentagon civilian "Whiz Kids" who are intellectually spoofing the senatorial critics who are nominally leading the attack.

INDEED, NEITHER of the most vehement assailants of the bill, Sens. William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Mark Hatfield of Oregon, is even a member of the Armed Services Committee. Neither has the slightest objective claim to any expertise in a field to which committee members give their lives.

Now, there is no law, of course, against a senator's going anywhere he may choose for his ammunition, nor does it follow inevitably that it is bad ammunition for being second-hand. All the same, the situation is most sticky one, particularly in that some of the "Whiz Kids" involved are still in the Pentagon and thus are the ultimate responsibility of the same Republican administration that is fighting for this bill.

IN THE MEANTIME, the central and the crucial fact is that Mr. Nixon is for the second time throwing the dice of fate with the future of his own presidency by declining to enter this immense action with all guns going.

Art Buchwald

Tax Relief For Nearly Everybody

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's new tax reform program, presented by Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy to the Senate Finance Committee, has been greeted with joy by taxpayers all over the country.

The President's tax proposals are very similar to those suggested by tax reformers, with just a few exceptions.

In order to understand the tax-reform measures as outlined by the Nixon Administration, I went to see Prof. Heinrich Appelbaum, the economist, whose best-selling book, "How to Avoid Taxes by Going to Jail," is the last word on the subject.

"PROFESSOR, WHAT does the Nixon tax-reform package mean as far as the average taxpayer is concerned?" I asked.

"Well, we're not very sure, because there are still many vested interest groups to be heard from. But from what I can gather, everyone stands to gain. If you're married and have two children and make less than $3,500 a year, which means you're starving, you don't have to pay any taxes at all."

"What a break!"

"IF YOU MAKE over $3,500, you must pay taxes. But there will be great savings. For example, if you earn $5,000, the savings on your taxes will permit you to go to one extra movie a year."

"As we get into the middle-class income brackets, the savings will be enormous. A married couple with two children in a lower middle-income bracket will save enough money under the Nixon tax reform program to buy a tire for their car."

"Suppose they can't afford a car?"

"THEN THE taxes saved will allow them to purchase 200 bus tokens, providing, of course, they have the correct change."

"The Nixon Administration has really gone out on a limb," I said. "That's true, and you have to admire the President for it. He's made it possible for any member of a family of four, earning $12,000 a year, to save enough to stay in a hospital for one extra day."

"I hope the little guy is not the only one getting the benefit of the tax-reform bill."

you can't just give tax relief to the little guy without getting the people in the upper brackets and the corporations mad. So, he's done all he could to make things easier for them. For example, a family of four earning $200,000 a year from municipal bonds and oil investments will be put in the same tax bracket as a family on welfare."

"That's only fair," I said. "If the poor don't pay taxes, the rich shouldn't be asked to carry the burden."

"OF COURSE, the Nixon tax proposals may not please everyone. But you have to help those in the greatest need, and if we can ease the burden on our large companies and upper-income bracket families, the Nixon Administration will have gone a long way in bringing much-needed tax relief to this country."

"This is the first instance in a long time that a President has taken into consideration the problems of the rich. He has made a concerted effort to remedy the inequities of our tax system, which was originally written to give people in the lower-income brackets all the breaks."

Athletic Solons

CHICAGO (AP) — Congressmen with sports backgrounds serving in the House of Representatives are among the individuals with unusual careers, before they were elected legislators.

But a study of biographies gives no real clue as to what an ambitious young person needs as background for a career in Congress.

Commerce Clearing House said those with sports backgrounds are Robert B. Mathias (Calif.), twice Olympic Gold Medal winner in the Decathlon; Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (N.C.) former National League All-Star baseball pitcher, and Morris I. Udall (Ariz.), who played professional basketball with the Denver Nuggets.

Forty-eight members have served as teachers, 21 once were newspaper publishers, editors or reporters, 20 have served as administrative assistants to other legislators, 10 were F.B.I. agents, three are medical doctors, and three are clergymen.

Problem Of Bad Tonsils In Adults

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A throat specialist tells me I have chronic tonsillitis. In his own words, he said, "Have those tonsils out or put up with it."

As I am 50, I am undecided what to do. I have had a long series of sore throats for 15 years. — D.G.

Tonsils usually shrink before 50. However, chronic infection can be a factor in repeated sore throats. The specialist has examined your throat; he has recommended removal. I'd do it.

Dear Doctor: I am 64 and had my tonsils out 32 years ago. I first noticed a lump last fall, especially when swallowing while lying down.

visible as isolated lumps or "tags."

The tags, if large enough to be troublesome, can be removed.

As to the lump on the outside, it could be a matter of enlarged lymph glands as a result of some infection. If this is continuing infection of the tonsil tags, then the swelling should subside when the tonsil infection is cleared up.

But if they do not, or if the tonsil tags are not infected, then you must look for some other cause—infection in some other part of the body, perhaps. If that lump persists, then one of the lymph glands should be removed for laboratory examination.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Last summer my daughter had sun poisoning on her face and hands. I'm told it was from some medicine she was taking. This year any amount of sun causes a rash to break out and it itches. It disappears in a day or two. The doctor gave her a prescription and said to avoid the sun.

sun all her life, or is there something else I can do? She is only 13. — Mrs. M.M.

This is a case of a sensitivity having developed. I don't like to be a spoilsport, but I am very much afraid that she will always have to be careful to avoid too much sun.

The sun-screen type of lotions, which filter out some of the ultraviolet light in sunshine, may help and would be worth trying.

This caution: trying to force things by getting sun deliberately, hoping to become accustomed to it that way, can be expected to make things worse, not better.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Shrine Circus Big Success

The ninth annual Shrine Circus was here for only a day, but more than 10,000 people turned out to see the performances Monday to enjoy the animals, clowns, and traditional three-ring circus acts.

George Bair, assistant circus chairman, said about 7,500 people attended the evening performance and about 2,500 went to the matinee.

"And you've never seen the likes of so many kids," he said. "I'd say the average age was 16."

He added that children under 14 years old were admitted to the circus free of charge and were bused from the Veterans Administration Hospital at the Big Spring State Hospital.

"It was real successful," Bair said. "Everyone had a good time and we made pretty good money."

Proceeds from the circus, which is planned and carried out entirely by the 260 area shriners, will go to philanthropies like the Shrine Burn Institute, Galveston, and the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children. Care at these places is furnished without charge.

Several civic leaders have been invited to meet with Raymond Ammarell Sr. and John Vacca Thursday, Sept. 18, at 2 p.m. in the chamber conference room. Ammarell is vice president of Doudley and Company Inc. (parent company of KOSA-TV in Odessa), and Vacca is vice president and general manager of KOSA-TV. The meeting is to familiarize them with Big Spring.

A Colorado City man is in Howard County jail today pending charge of carrying a prohibited weapon in a public place. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter set bond at $500, and the man was expected to be released sometime today.

William Napoleon Patrick, Seminole, was released from Howard County jail Monday on a charge of felony theft. Patrick completed a three month sentence for theft here Monday.

It was incorrectly reported Monday in the Minor Mishaps that a car belonging to Irene Pitcock was involved in an accident while parked at Wanda's Tavern. Actually Mrs. Pitcock's car was parked across the street from the tavern in the 300 block of Aylford.

Mostly Routine Items Listed On Council's Agenda

City commissioners face a routine session when they gather for their regular meeting tonight in the city commission room at 7 p.m.

The commission will consider a series of recommendations from the traffic commission including one to change the city's speed zone of FM 700 to conform to the 55 m.p.h. proposed by the Texas Highway Department.

Other recommendations from the traffic commission are to delete parking on Fifteenth from Gregg to Lancaster; to limit parking on Eleventh Place in the vicinity of HCJC to two hours; and to place stop signs on Scurry Street at Eleventh Street, with the traffic light being removed.

The commissioners will also consider approval of the 1969 tax roll, hold a public hearing for a beer permit for off-premises consumption for the Hilltop Grocery, consider board appointments, and hold readings on fingerprinting employees and license applicants, parking trucks carrying flammable or poisonous gases, and increasing the rates of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

C-City Lake Park Will Be Enlarged

COLORADO CITY (SC) — electric company will release additional water from the restricted area for public use. Mayor John Chinn and members of the council also expressed appreciation for the company's offer. The additional land is south of the present park.

The council also approved the opening of approximately five acres of land for cemetery use. The additional space lies at the northwest corner of the Colorado City cemetery.

In other action, the council heard a report from Dee Tonn, local housing administrator who reported on the 30 percent occupancy of the 30 public housing units and an average rental per month per unit of $26.93, which includes rent, water, sewer and garbage removal. The council also heard a report on Operation Pride from chairman Dr. Bill Driggard, who said that his committee will be meeting with city engineers and planning consultants this month to discuss further steps in the program of beautifying the business section of Colorado City.

UF Drive Launched, First Funds Banked

The United Fund 1969-70 Campaign was off to a good start today with approximately $7,000 of the $110,000 goal already in the bank, according to Campaign Chairman Harry Sawyer.

About 100 persons attended the barbecue in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church Monday formally kicking off the drive. After seeing a film explaining the 14 United Fund Agencies, K. M. Jastrow, an independent oil operator from Midland, spoke briefly.

"We have to work together to accomplish things on the road of life," he said. "Sharing is the meat of the whole thing. To get this across to people we have to know and sell our product (United Fund). It is a good product. We need to show people the involvement of people. We have to have pride in our community.

Earlier Sawyer had introduced the division chairmen and their goals. Paul Meek is heading the out-of-town division, $10,439; Roger Brown, big gifts, $3,821; Morris Robertson, special gifts, $6,310; Louis McKnight, metropolitan, $3,568; Lt. Col Ernest C. Cutler, Webb AFB, $13,000; Larson Lloyd, area and rural, $1,171; employees, Ken Perry, $26,105; Ervyn Fisher, state and federal employees, $1,319; Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. Harold Davis, women's, $3,135.

More State Aid Is Due HCJC

Howard County Junior College will receive around half a million dollars in appropriations under the bills passed by the Legislature Monday.

for full-time equivalents. Here, the figure has been substantially less, and with a downward beat for those above 450 students.

At the same time, a point of order knocked off the calendar a bill by Rep. Bill Healy to establish a junior college at Quannah, a measure which opponents said would open the door to 100 more junior colleges in Texas.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, estimated that HCJC will receive $415,000 for academic students, and another $75,000 for those in the vocational-technical division. Last year's budget showed $316,000 in state aid to HCJC.

The appropriations bill supported by a new tax measure was awaiting certification to the governor Tuesday.

Re p. Burke Musgrove, Breckenridge, blocked Rep. Healy's efforts to run with HB 63, which would have made it possible for any Texas county with a $17 million property valuation and a minimum of 360 students in grades nine through 12 to have a junior college. Dr. Bevington Reed of the Coordinating Board of Texas Colleges and Universities, said there were 100 counties in the state with junior colleges which would meet the specifications in the bill. He said this would destroy effective planning for a comprehensive junior college system. College administrators also vigorously opposed the bill.

Chamber Adjusts Salaries Of Top Administrators

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors approved a $600 a year raise for both Chamber Manager Tom Eastland and Secretary Edith Gay at its regular meeting Monday.

Previously, the board indicated it planned to review the salaries.

Adolph Swartz also reported the President's Task Force on Priorities is progressing. Two Chamber committees had already met and others have been scheduled for this week and next. The Task Force will meet Friday, Sept. 19, to hear all the recommendations from these committees.

Earlier the board had heard Harry Sawyer, campaign chairman for this year's United Fund Drive, announce the formal kick-off of the campaign for that evening and appeal for the board's support in the drive. He stressed the UF was a community effort and urged all to participate in the campaign.

A former resident of Howard County was arrested Monday on a warrant from Howard County charging embezzlement of money from Kent Oil Co. Aug. 27, 1968. Sheriff A. N. Standard said an officer was to pick up William D. Wilson in Andrews sometime today.

DEATHS

Found Dead On Tractor

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Ned Smith, 52, Colorado City farmer, was found dead on his tractor about 7:45 p.m. Monday, four miles northwest of here.

When he failed to return home for supper his wife went to a neighbor for help who found the Smith lying across the steering wheel of the tractor.

Justice of the Peace Leonard Henderson, Colorado City, returned a verdict of death due to natural causes.

Services are pending at the Kiker and Son Funeral Home in Colorado City.

He was born March 31, 1917 in Scurry County and later moved to Mitchell County.

He married Nora Mae Moore Oct. 24, 1936, in Colorado City. He was a member of the Buford Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Tommy Jamison of Arlington and Mrs. Rex Northcutt of Abilene; two sons, Joe Smith, Abilene, and Johnny Smith, Lubbock; a brother, Bob Smith, Groesbeck; four sisters, Mrs. J. A. Cocker, Abilene, Mrs. Roy Wells, Abilene, Mrs. Lina Prentice, Dallas, and Mrs. Earl Hunter, Colorado City.

Graveside services were held Tuesday morning under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home for Albert Lee Stacy, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stacy, 2505 W. 4th St. Survivors include the parents; four brothers, Kenneth Dale Stacy, Jimmy Lloyd Stacy, Bobby Gene Stacy and Charlie Brice Stacy; three sisters, Joann Stacy, Julia Kay Stacy and Linda Maria Stacy; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Stacy, Stephenville; and maternal grandparents, Mrs. W. L. Hargrove, Waco, and Claude Sprayberry, Big Spring.

Mrs. Green Rites

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday for Mrs. Clara Josie Green at Mount Bethel Baptist Church, with the Rev. R. L. Parramore officiating and burial in City Cemetery under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home. Mrs. Green died Monday in her home.

School Child Hit By Car

A nine-year-old boy, stuck by a car Monday afternoon is in a hospital condition with a broken leg and head lacerations. The mishap occurred about five miles northeast of Big Spring.

Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Robinson said Sylvester Thomas, son of Mrs. Cora Melton, Rt. 2, Box 147, was struck by a car driven by Linda Ann Singer, Odessa, when he started across SH 350 in front of a stopped school bus about 4:15 p.m.

The bus was parked on the north side of the road headed west and the Singer car was traveling east when the incident occurred. The child was thrown approximately 45 feet. Miss Singer, a senior at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, was en route to school from Odessa when the accident occurred.

Embezzlement Case

A former resident of Howard County was arrested Monday on a warrant from Howard County charging embezzlement of money from Kent Oil Co. Aug. 27, 1968. Sheriff A. N. Standard said an officer was to pick up William D. Wilson in Andrews sometime today.

LEARNING LESSONS — Alexander J. Chavich, right, is in charge of his music class at Macombs Junior High School in The Bronx, New York, after being introduced by Principal Milton J. Steir, center, who hired him. Chavich is blind.

Blind Teacher Finds First Day Very Busy, Exciting

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the most disadvantaged areas of the Bronx, was not without problems, said Principal Milton Steir. Furniture had to be rigidly arranged so Chavich would not bump into it. Students were told to speak out for attention instead of raising their hands. Chavich was excused from lunchroom monitor duty when it became apparent he could not handle 500 youngsters swirling about. His textbook is being transcribed into braille and he will leave his seats quickly discovered Chavich can slightly see light and was aware of their movement. He returned them to their seats, somewhat astonished. But the day in Macombs Junior High School, located in children — not to the extent he's blind but that he's overcome it. They feel they will fail because they are disadvantaged. Here's a man who is really disadvantaged. "It's also a good example for the teachers. If he can control his class, they who are fully sighted ought to be able to. What's their excuse?" For the most part the students were fascinated with their new music teacher, asked him about his blindness and how he learned to read. Chavich explained about braille and distributed a leaflet about the blind in braille and print. For Chavich, a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the Manhattan School of Music, the teaching job signals the culmination of a long fight for a teacher's license. "The day was very exciting, very busy and a tremendous learning experience," said Chavich. "Now I want to do some good teaching."

Hereford Selection Tour Dates Are Set For Sept. 15

Nine ranches in this vicinity are on the itinerary of the annual selection tour for the Howard County South Plains Hereford Association on Sept. 15. Lee Reed will make the selection of animals for the annual show and sale held here at the end of the year. Those going on the tour are asked to assemble at Charlie Creighton's place at 7:30 a.m. The first stop will be at 8:10 a.m. at Patterson Brothers. Any interested person is invited to take the tour with association members.

NIXON WILL DELIVER EULOGY Lonely Marigold On Desk

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Kennedy had used as a senator a lonely marigold marks his vacant Senate desk, Everett M. Dirksen will lie in state today beneath the Capitol's soaring dome to receive the nation's annual Senate speech to unsuccessfully champion their cause as a national flower. Dirksen's family has asked that no flowers be sent to memorial services for him. Instead, they have asked donations to go to the Dirksen Memorial Library, planned in Peoria to house the papers and memorabilia the senator gathered during his long career.

Dirksen, the Senate's Republican leader until his death Sunday, is the 21st American since Abraham Lincoln to be so honored.

Following the reading of the 23rd Psalm by Senate Chaplain the Rev. Dr. L. R. Elson, Dirksen family asked President Nixon to deliver the eulogy for the man the President had called "My warm personal friend."

The casket, resting on the same catafalque that carried Lincoln's body and attended by a military honor guard, is to remain on view in the rotunda until, at noon Wednesday, it is carried by hearse to National Presbyterian Church for funeral services.

The senator's family has accepted the President's offer of his personal plane — Air Force One — to fly them and the senator's body to burial services Thursday at Pekin, Dirksen's small-town birthplace on the Illinois prairie.

However, Nixon will not attend the burial, sending Vice President Spiro T. Agnew instead. Dirksen was the fourth senator to lie in state in the Capitol rotunda. His casket rested on the black velvet catafalque that has borne the bodies of presidents, soldiers and statesmen since Lincoln's funeral, 104 years ago.

Monday morning, moments before the Senate's 11 o'clock opening, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine — who has made the rose she always wears her personal symbol — placed a long-stemmed marigold, tied with a white ribbon, on Dirksen's front-row desk.

Some Of Dirksen's Pet Projects May Fade Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen may mark the fading of some of the late Senate Republican leader's pet projects — namely overturning two controversial Supreme Court decisions. Dirksen was the champion of constitutional amendments which would undo high court rulings banning official prayers in public schools and requiring that state legislatures be elected on an equal population basis.

At the time of his death Sunday, the Illinois senator had been unsuccessful, but he was still pushing the amendments.

Wide Open Contest For Leader's Job Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans now anticipate a wide-open contest — with the White House likely to take an active role — for the Senate leader's job left vacant by Everett M. Dirksen's death.

At least five GOP senators, and possibly more, are rated prospective candidates. For the moment, and probably for the remainder of this Dirksen funeral week, no Republican senator is willing to talk frankly and publicly about the looming leadership race.

GOP sources indicated the prospective senators to succeed Dirksen are likely to wait, taking their own soundings of support, before deciding whether to openly enter the competition. Although one senator said "It shouldn't take too long to contact 43 Republicans," indications are even the contact workwhich would: —Permit one house of each state's legislature to be appointed on the basis of factors other than population. —Make it clear that non-denominational prayer is permissible in schools and other public buildings. A prayer amendment he proposed in 1966 won a 49-37 vote in the Senate, but this was eight short of the two-thirds majority needed.

He also was hoping, despite two defeats in the Senate, for passage of the amendment to wipe out the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rulings. Dirksen had adopted the strategy of pushing for a constitutional convention. Earlier this year the move appeared near success, with the number of state legislatures petitioning Congress for a convention only one short of the number required.

Those arrangements will be made at a conference of Republican Senators, not yet scheduled, to vote on Dirksen's successor. The Liberal Republican Scott is certain to face a conservative challenge if, as expected, he bids for the top GOP job. Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska and Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado are rated prime prospects among the more conservative Republicans. Sen. John Tower of Texas said he would be available but did not expect to be summoned to the task.

Mitchell Retiring; George Mira Traded

By The Associated Press

George Mira got what he wanted but a host of other veterans didn't. Bobby Mitchell chose to avoid the whole issue. Mira, five-year quarterback with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League, was traded to the Philadelphia Eagles and wide receiver Bobby Mitchell announced his retirement from the Washington Redskins on a busy Monday at football's market place and chopping block.

American Football League clubs made their final, no-recall cuts to reach the 40-man limit. NFL teams got down to 44 men, and will make their final, no-recall cuts to 40 Sept. 15.

Mira, who had often said he wanted to be traded, was dealt to the Eagles for veteran lineman Randy Beisler and two draft choices. Mira played in the shadow of John Brodie for most of his career. His departure opens the No. 2 spot to Steve Spurrier.

Beisler, the Eagles' first draft pick in 1966, has played both defensive end and offensive tackle.

In two other trades, the Cincinnati Bengals of the AFL sent running back Warren McVea to the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL for placekicker-punter Horst Muhlmann and the New Orleans Saints of the NFL dealt safety George Youngblood to the Chicago Bears of the NFL for a draft choice.

The world champion New York Jets of the AFL went one under the 40-man limit in cutting four veterans. Defensive tackle Carl McAdams was placed on injured waivers, while running back Billy Joe and wide receiver Bill Rademacher were waived outright. The Jets placed offensive tackle Paul Siler on military reserve.

The Minnesota Vikings of the NFL waived five players, including veteran quarterback King Hill. The New York Giants of the NFL cut flanker Pete Gent, acquired from Dallas, and tackle Roger Anderson, a starter most of last season.

Another victim of the chopping block was veteran wide receiver Art Graham of the Boston Patriots of the AFL. Mitchell, his pride aching as

Hectic Finish Sure In National League

By The Associated Press

The National League East has taken on the look of the National League West, which could lead to the most complicated windup to the pennant races in baseball's 100-year history.

The New York Mets and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn were the instruments of the latest developments Monday, the Mets tightening the Eastern race even further by defeating front-running Chicago 3-2 just hours after Kuhn had announced multiple plans covering all playoff possibilities.

Those possibilities moved closer to becoming probabilities—and forcing the first double-playoff in history—as the Mets trimmed another length off the Cubs' lead and tightened the NL East race into NL West proportions.

The Mets' victory drew them even with the Cubs in the loss column, just 1 1/2 games behind the leaders—the closest they've been since the third day of the season. At the same time, Pittsburgh closed to within 6 1/2 of the top with a 6-2 triumph over Montreal.

In the West, meanwhile, the juggling continued with Cincinnati taking over first place from San Francisco, by one-half game, with a doubleheader sweep over the Giants by identical 5-4 scores, although the nightcap took 15 innings.

GAINS GROUND

Los Angeles moved into third, just 1 1/2 behind, by edging Atlanta 2-0 while, in other games, Houston stayed up there with a 9-2 blasting of San Diego and St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 4-3.

Under baseball's new four-division format, the first-place teams in each league will meet in league playoffs prior to the World Series starting in the American League city Oct. 11.

Two Bulldogs In Dry Dock

COAHOMA — Physical miseries have hit the Coahoma Bulldog football camp.

Starting linebacker David Brady is definitely out of the Friday night game with Rankin because of a strained ligament in his arm, suffered in a workout.

His place will be taken by a sophomore, Keith Pherigo, coach Bernie Hagins has announced.

If the game were to be played today, starting quarterback Kenny Clanton could not go because of a boil on his back. He could hardly navigate in Monday's workout.

Hagins was due to take Clanton to Big Spring some time today to have the boil lanced.

If Clanton cannot play sophomore Donnie Buchanan will probably open at that position. Senior Gary Belew would also be available at the spot.

Returning regulars from last season in the Coahoma lineup include Clanton, end Gaylon Harrison, tackle Don Richters, halfback Dean Richters, fullback Johnny Ted Fowler and Toby Green and James Dunn at defensive halfbacks.

Word from out of the Rankin camp is that the Red Devils are beset with physical problems, too.

Speedster Booker T. Dixon has been out with a bad ankle but Hagins expects him to play.

Coahoma's reserves also open this week, visiting Colorado City Saturday night for a game.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Kuhn's new plans cover play-offs leading to the playoffs. If two teams in any division tie a one-game playoff on Oct. 3 will determine the winner. In a three-way tie, two teams will meet head-on Oct. 3 while one draws a bye and meets the winner Oct. 4. If four teams tie, there will be two games Oct. 3 with the survivors meeting Oct. 4.

The Mets closed in on Chicago with Tommie Agee providing the impetus. Agee whacked a two-run homer in the third inning, then doubled in the sixth and scored the winning run on Wayne Garrett's single. That tagged the loss on Bill Hands, now 16-13.

Jerry Koosman, 13-9, got the victory with a seven-hitter after the Cubs had tied the score in the top of the sixth on singles by Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams and a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo.

The Reds won the opener when Johnny Bench tagged Giants' starter Jaun Marichal, 17-10, for a two-run homer in the eighth inning.

PUTS IT AWAY

Then, after being held hitless for 10 consecutive innings by San Francisco relievers Ron Herbel, Don McMahon and Frank Linzy, the Reds put the nightcap away in the 15th on an infield hit by pinch hitter Ted Savage, a sacrifice, an intentional walk to Pete Rose and Bobby Tolan's single.

The Pirates ran their winning streak to four games, and made it 14 victories in their last 20 games, by coming from behind in the ninth inning on a grand slam homer by Joes Martinez. The homer was the first for Martinez in the majors.

A home run from another unlikely source, Ted Sizemore, brought Los Angeles its victory over Atlanta. Sizemore's two-run shot in the third inning — only his second homer and both in Atlanta — gave the Dodgers the only runs they needed behind Bill Singer and Jim Brewer.

The Astros put it out of San Diego's reach with a four-run first built on triples by Joe Morgan and Jesus Alou, a wild pitch, a walk and a homer by Curt Blefary. That was enough for Tom Griffin, who posted his 10th victory despite two homers by Nate Colbert.

Mike Shannon's two-run homer boosted the Cardinals lead over the Phillies to 4-0 in the sixth inning and turned out to be the clinching blow when Philadelphia struck back in the ninth on a three-run homer by Johnny Briggs.

Kennel Club Plans Match

An American Kennel Club approved obedience and conformation match will be held Sunday in Birdwell Park.

The match is being sponsored by the Big Spring Kennel Club and will open at 10 a.m. Deadline for entries is 12:30 p.m. and judging will begin at 1:30 p.m. Entry fees are $1 per dog.

Trophies will be given for best puppy, best dog in the match and first place in each group. The six groups are working dog, sporting dog, non-sporting, hound, terrier and toy. Obedience trophies will also be awarded.

QBC TO HOLD MEET AT 8

The Quarterback Club holds its first formal session of the new school year at 8 o'clock this evening in the High School cafeteria.

Co-captains Kimball Guthrie and Jimmy Felts Jr., will be in charge.

A scouting report on Big Spring's Friday night foe, Lubbock Monterey, will be given as well as a progress report on the Big Spring team.

SPORTS DIALOGUE:
GENE STALLINGS, Texas A&M coach: "I don't say that playing at home is an advantage, but I do say that playing away is a disadvantage. . . I think the fans will see better defense played in college ball this year. For one thing, coaches are going to be thinking about defense more, and they will be putting better people on defense."

RON BRAND, pint-sized catcher for the Montreal Expos: "I'd like to see them name Johnny Bench (ace catcher of the Cincinnati Reds) commissioner of baseball, just to get him out of the league. That or have the pitchers chip in and pay him $150,000 not to play."

KEN HOLTZMAN, Chicago Cub pitcher, after first pitching a no-hitter and then hitting a home run (against Atlanta) in the National League: "That one at-bat, that one swing—it gave me a bigger charge than the no-hitter. It was great, tremendous. Just one swing and that was it. But the no-hitter was a slow, long process and the tension kept mounting every inning. That's the difference. When I hit the thing, I thought it was just another out. Then I saw Rico Carty going back and when I saw him leap and miss it and realized it was gone I said, 'What do I do now?' I looked at Phil Neikro (the Atlanta pitcher). He dropped his glove and was walking off the mound. I told myself, 'My goodness, he's quitting the game. He's going to quit baseball over that.'"

ROSS BRUPBACHER, Texas A&M, discussing his switch to right end: "They say it takes a good athlete to play the position. I've already ruined that theory."

BOB DILLON, Midland scribe: "Bob Milburn, sports scribe in San Angelo, is already singing the blues for the 1969 season. It seems that three promising juniors have been lost to the Bobcats. This corner wouldn't be surprised to see at least one and maybe even two of the three mentioned in Milburn's column in the starting lineup against the Midland Bulldogs come Sept. 20. . . This corner doesn't feel sorry for San Angelo. After all, it is one of the largest, if not the largest school in the district and has plenty of material. It surprises this corner why it doesn't win more often that it does."

BILL ZAPALAC, University of Texas griddier, on what it is like to be recruited by one's father (Bill's dad is Willie Zapalac, UT coaching aide): "He left everything up to me. He told me the situation here would be difficult in many ways, but that I had to make up my own mind. I visited Alabama, and was impressed, but still preferred Texas. Dad told me again that it would be rougher on me here, because I am a coach's son. He said if I played offense, he'd have to be rougher on me than he was on anybody else. Well, at first I was on offense and he was right. . . I'm glad I moved to defense."

CHIEF MEYERS, now 89, who once caught the great Christy Mathewson: "In my day, our gloves were like a motorman's mitt. Now they're similar to a lacross net. . . There's never been a better pitcher than Mathewson. He had it all: The arm, the strength, the brains. Never been his equal. . . Nowadays, a pitcher wastes so much time out there it's ridiculous—fixing his cap, pulling up his pants, rubbing his chin, wiping his brow, pulling his nose, scratching the ground with his feet. And after he does all that he looks all around his outfield, and then he st-a-a-a-rea-s in at the catcher giving the sign. Why, he's afraid to throw the darn ball."

Gra-Y Needs 5 Coaches

Five of the eight teams in the Gra-Y Football League still need coaches and Eddie Trice, physical education director of the YMCA, would like to line them up before the organizational meeting Sept. 20.

Present plans call for the league to begin operations Oct. 1 and to play a single round-robin schedule.

Those who would agree to coach one of the teams can contact Trice at the YMCA.

Teams in need of coaches include Airport-Cedar Crest, Boydston, College Heights, Kentwood and Washington.

Harry McKinney will mastermind the Moss team. Delnor Poss, Park Hill-Marcy while Sam Dawson will appoint the man to coach the Lake View-Bauer club.

Park Hill-Marcy is defending tittist in the circuit.

Wilhelm Waived To Atlantans

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Braves have picked up veteran relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm from the California Angels.

Wilhelm, a 46-year-old knuckleballer who has been in the major leagues since 1952, was acquired Monday on waivers.

Orioles, Twins Move Closer To Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Baltimore and Minnesota didn't do very much Monday night — the Orioles were rained out and the Twins lost — but still drew closer to the expected October playoff for the American League pennant.

While the Orioles were washed out of their scheduled meeting with the Washington Senators the second-place Detroit Tigers bowed to the New York Yankees 3-2 and fell 15 games back. Baltimore's magic number to clinch the AL East dropped to eight.

In the West, California whipped Minnesota 6-4 but runner-up Oakland lost to Kansas City 7-3. The Twins remained 8½ games in front and their magic number is 16.

SEATTLE SWEEPS

Elsewhere, Boston nipped Cleveland 5-4 and Seattle swept the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and 3-1 as rookie Miguel Fuentes hurled a seven-hitter in his first major league start.

The Angels did a thorough job on Minnesota routing 17-game winner Jim Perry and halting Ted Uhlaender's 20-game hitting streak, longest in the league this season.

Rudy May, 8-11, needed help from Ken Tatum in the eighth and the rookie right-hander posted his 18th save. Perry was seeking to match his career high in victories, set with Cleveland in 1960, but came away instead with his sixth loss.

California nipped Perry for two runs in the third — Sandy Alomar scoring the first one when he sped home from third base on Jim Ferguson's looping pop to second baseman Cesar Tovar in shallow right field. The Angels added four more in the fifth, Alomar igniting the uprising with a single.

Bob Allison cracked a three-run homer for the Twins in sixth.

Rookie Al Fitzmorris posted his first big league victory with three innings of scoreless relief as Kansas City sent slumped Oakland to its 11th defeat in 14 games.

LEAD WIPED OUT

Bob Oliver's two-run pinch homer in the fifth wiped out a 3-1 Oakland lead and Lou Piniella drove in the go-ahead run in the eighth with a sacrifice fly. The Royals added three more in the ninth, two on Joe Keough's single.

A crowd of only 2,791, second smallest in Oakland Coliseum history, watched the game.

Gene Michael knocked in two runs with singles and pitcher Mike Kekich, 2-4, drove in another as the Yankees edged Detroit and sent the defending world champions closer to elimination.

Kekich allowed just three hits in 7 2/3 innings — including Jim Northrup's 20th homer — before Jack Aker came on to preserve the left-hander's first win of 1969 as a starter.

George Scott's two-run, two-out single in the eighth lifted the Red Sox past Cleveland. Rico Petrocelli and Tony Conigliaro homered for Boston.

Fuentes, a 20-year-old right-hander brought up last week from the Pilots' Class A farm team in the Midwest League, lost his shutout against the White Sox in the eighth when Angel Bravo tripled and scored on a single by Walt Williams.

Seattle's Steve Whitaker and Chicago's Budy Bradford homered in the opener and the Pilots scored the winning run in the third when Tommy Harper walked, swiped his 66th base and eventually trotted home on a bases-loaded walk to Don Mincher.

Laver Ready To Phase Out Tennis Career

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Australian Rod Laver recognized as the world's No. 1 tennis player and acclaimed by many as perhaps the greatest of all time, is ready at 31 to phase out his career.

"I have three years to go on a five-year contract," the little left-hander said after beating fellow Aussie Tony Roche 7-9, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 Monday for the U.S. Open crown and his second grand slam.

"I intend to play those three years at least — cutting down perhaps on my tournament schedule. After that, well, we'll just have to see."

"I love tennis — but I also love my wife. I have been travelling the tennis circuit for 15 years, since I was 16. I think it's time I start having a home life."

Laver's wife, Mary, whom he married in June, 1966, in San Francisco, is in Corona Del Mar, Calif., awaiting the couple's first child.

"It was due Sunday," Laver said, smiling when someone suggested perhaps there was a delay because of rain, as was the tennis tournament.

Laver is under contract to the National Tennis League, directed by George MacCall of Los Angeles, and is committed to play in so many tournaments, "I hope next year to start limiting myself to the bigger money tournaments," he said. "Then I hope to sort of phase out of the picture. The new guys are getting too tough."

Laver, who with his $16,000 first prize in the U.S. Open boosted his year's winning to a record $106,030, predicted that in five years purses will be doubled and even quadrupled.

"And you have a lot of good young players coming to play for them," the court king said. "I was very impressed here with the play of young Ilie Nastase of Romania and Jaime Fillo of Chile."

Soccer Decree Sets Off Riot

CASERTA, Italy (AP) — Demonstrators battled police today for the second straight day after setting fires in protest of a bribery charge that set back the local soccer team. Parts of the town were wrecked by the fires and its 39,000 people were on strike.

About 2,000 demonstrators broke through police lines and halted traffic on the Rome-Caserta-Naples railway line, which had been restored to service under police guard during the night.

Police kept control of the burned railway station but the demonstrators blocked a grade crossing 500 yards away with piles of wood and stone. Traffic was being diverted over a second Rome to Naples line.

Armed with clubs and hurling stones demonstrators charged police lines around the railway station. Police fought them off with tear gas.

Ambulances rushed policemen and demonstrators to hospitals during the melee. The number of injured was not immediately known.

As the rioting went into its second day, the Italian Soccer Federation announced it would hear an appeal by the Caserta team against the demolition that touched off the disorders.

At midday, water stopped flowing to three quarters of the city. Police said they suspected demonstrators of damaging a pipe. Bonfires flared from one end of the town to the other.

By contrast, thousands sang and danced in Taranto, on the heel of the Italian boot, and followed black-draped coffins labeled Caserta. For when Caserta's team went down, Taranto went up.

Caserta had defeated Taranto 1-0 in a crucial game last May. This put it on top of the "C" league and qualified it for advancement to a better league. Then on Monday the Italian Soccer Federation ruled that a Caserta player had tried to bribe a Taranto man before the game. The federation dropped Caserta to second place in the league, and Taranto got the promotion.

Embezzlement Trial Begins

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — J. Lyman Bingham of Harrison N.Y., solicitation chairman of the U.S. Olympic Funds Committee, testified late Monday that Joe William Tate of Dallas, Tex., had sought to be designated as the Olympic solicitation agent in the Southwest in 1965.

Tate went on trial in federal district court Monday on 21 counts of mail and wire fraud and conspiracy in connection with the alleged embezzlement of $72,000 in Olympic committee funds.

Joyce Ann Dodson, also known as Joyce Dodson Tate, pleaded guilty earlier in the day to two of the 21 counts. U.S. Dist. Court Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. dismissed the other 19 counts. Sentencing was deferred.

At Business Office Monterey Ducats Ready Wednesday

Tickets for the season's recent days, for some reason opening football game between School officials expected to sell Big Spring and Lubbock Monterey, scheduled here at 8 last year, due to the savings o'clock Friday night, will go on the customer would realize.

The individual who would wait until game time to buy passage into the game would pay $2.50 more for the privilege than the adult tickets will sell for $1.50 each. The cost jumps to $2.00 however, if bought at the gate. Those terms are dictated by District 3AAA.

The student pasteborders retail for 50 cents each, if purchased in the schools. The pupil who waits to get to the park before buying the ticket must pay $1.

The campaign to sell season tickets will continue through Friday, assistant business manager Don Green said. Late Monday, a total of 971 had been distributed, compared to 1,094 for all of last season.

The distribution has been slow

Monterey Aces Will Be Back

The two Monterey players who inflicted so much havoc against Big Spring last year will be back to torment the Steers again when the two teams clash Friday night.

They are quick Bobby Lewis, 155-pound senior halfback; and a 175-pound quarterback named Marc O'Hair.

Although he didn't score, Lewis set up two touchdowns for the Plainsmen in last year's game. He went for gains totaling 131 yards in 18 carries — a 7.3-yard average.

O'Hair gained 60 paces in 15 tries for a 4.0-yard norm and completed four of 12 passes for 65 yards, including one touchdown (to Greg Palmer).

Both Jan Hood, who scored two of Monterey's touchdowns in the Plainsmen's 21-14 win, and Palmer have graduated.

Coach Spike Dykes said Lewis was as good a man in an open field as he's seen in high school ranks and added that O'Hair is doubly dangerous because of his experience and height (6-4).

It gets prettier and prettier.

There's so much to like about a VW that you'll learn to like its looks, too. For instance, you'll like the way the VW is built. It's so tight you have to open a window to close the door. Bucket seats are contoured, and have headrests, for greater comfort. Safety belts in front and back are standard. There's enough space inside to accommodate a long-legged driver, wearing a hat. The air-cooled motor never boils over, and runs up to 27 miles on a gallon of gas. The exhaust emission control conforms to all state and federal laws. And there's much more to tell you about than there's room for in this ad. So come in and let us show you why Volkswagens are less and less funny looking, to more and more people.

Ho's Will Called Political Treatise

HONG KONG (AP) — Ho Chi Minh in a "final will" read today expressed sorrow at the split between the Soviet and the Chinese Communists and exhorted the Vietnamese people to fight on until complete victory over the U.S. aggressors.

The North Vietnamese president's will, a political testament rather than a distribution of his property, was read by North Vietnamese Communist party secretary Le Duan at a memorial service held in Hanoi's Ba Dinh Square.

As broadcast by Hanoi Radio, Ho's will gave no hint of any choice of his successor and named no North Vietnamese Communists by name.

Hanoi had announced earlier that the party and the nation would be directed by a collective leadership which had been "carefully trained and selected" by Ho.

Without mentioning either Russia or China by name, Ho appealed to them to patch up their quarrel. He told his own Vietnamese Communist party that it should offer all help in reuniting and solidifying international communism.

"The more I feel proud and happy to see the growing strength of international communism and the working class," he said, "the more I feel deeply painful sorrow in my heart because of the present discordance between the fraternal parties.

"I hope that our party will do its utmost to cooperate and to contribute efficiently to the reconstruction of unity among the fraternal parties on the basis of Marxism-Leninism and international communism.

Low Level Of Activity Marking Mourning Period

SAIGON (AP) — American U.S. officials considered it most unlikely that the enemy would continue the cease-fire long after the announced expiration time. Since Ho's death last Wednesday, Radio Hanoi and the Viet Cong Radio have exhorted his followers repeatedly to keep up the fight until U.S. forces are driven from Vietnam and the Saigon regime is crushed. And the old leader's will, read today at a memorial service in Hanoi, called on the people to "fight on until complete victory over the U.S. aggressors," something Ho said might take a "prolonged time and require still more sacrifices in manpower and property."

C-C Executives Will Meet Here

A meeting of the Chamber Executives of the Permian Basin has been scheduled for Oct. 9 in Big Spring, according to Tom Eastland, chamber of commerce manager. The meeting will continue to discuss job descriptions as a follow up to the meeting held in Colorado City last Friday and Saturday. Eastland said a committee will draw up a consensus report on the role of a chamber manager by the October meeting. Eastland also said three reservations have been sent in for the 19th Annual Texas Industrial Development Conference in Dallas Sept. 25-26. Who will use the reservations has not yet been determined but more could be included later on.

Forsan Offers Fire Aid But Asks Help On Truck

Three Forsan residents Monday morning offered county commissioners the use of the Forsan Fire Department in extending fire protection to the southern end of the county. Forsan, in return, wants assistance in buying a new truck to replace the 19-year-old vehicle now in use. Jack Lamb, Forsan mayor, Hamlin Elrod and G. R. Munroney, told commissioners the Forsan firemen will be available as part of the county firefighters. "We've answered two local calls in six months," Lamb said "We've been called to outlying areas in Sterling and Glasscock counties 10 times." Commissioner Bill Crooker said he was concerned about getting the maximum benefit from the location of the station. Lamb said placing a county station at the south end of the county will be difficult unless it is in Forsan because of a man-power problem. In reply to a question by Simon Terrazas, Lamb said Forsan is 10 miles from Silver Hills Addition, however, the only way to get there from Forsan is by way of US 87. Elrod said Forsan has no volunteer firemen organization. "We have a siren on the water tower, and when it goes off all available men know to meet," he said. He estimated the siren can be heard for several miles in all directions. Bill Tune and Crooker said they felt the best thing to do is to study the situation before declining or accepting the offer.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My mother read and I finished in seven semesters. My father refuses to explain why the bill is so large, and he is threatening to sue me. Do you think I need a lawyer? PITTSBURGHER

DEAR PITTSBURGHER: Not yet — if the facts are as you stated them. But should your father actually sue you, then you may have to shell out for a lawyer to defend yourself.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 10 years to a hard working man whom I love very much. He was married twice before, and one of his ex-wives lives about 400 miles from here. Every so often he takes a vacation alone and he always stops off to see her for two or three days. He is taking another vacation and I heard him tell her on the phone that he would be seeing her.

If I say anything about it he raises his voice in anger as if I have no right to wonder why he wants to see her. I am sure if I had an ex-husband (which I haven't) and visited him every now and then my husband wouldn't stand for it.

I hate arguments, therefore I keep it to myself, but I get all torn up inside when I think of it.

I have tried to be broad-minded, but I am beginning to feel that maybe I'd be better off away from him rather than to fight this situation every time it comes up.

Please tell me what to do.

ALL TORN UP

DEAR TORN: I will tell you what NOT to do. DON'T give your husband an "either or" ultimatum unless you are willing to accept the consequences.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 89700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ALSO: I have checked with my medical authorities and they concur that this one tops the story about the "star rising in the East." I have heard that there is nothing new under the sun. But perhaps there IS something new under the water.

DEAR ABBY: I am a recent college graduate. My parents paid my tuition and room and board at college. I paid for all my books, clothes, and other expenses by working.

Recently my father handed me a bill for $7,492.23. He said that is what I owe him for college, and he wants it paid back now.

I did not promise, suggest, or agree to pay back any money when I started college. My parents are not in any financial trouble. The bill seems way out of proportion since my school cost only $430 a semester.

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TOMORROW — CARROLL RIGNER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Complete health. Then enjoy social activities with persons who like and understand you. You can have the pleasure that has been impossible before.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to be precise in your work. If you want the approval of higher-ups show your gratitude to those who counsel you. Get your feet firmly on the ground and move ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have had difficulty gathering certain information. You can obtain it now from a good friend if you request it. Socialize with congenial who share your ideas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can come to an understanding now with an important person who has demanded much of you. This is the time to get busy with that political matter. Show your ability.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Examine every bit of data for the ideas you need to succeed faster. Put into operation the plan that can acquaint you with new contacts. This is an excellent day for much thinking.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) It's a good day to carry out your responsibilities, earning the good will you want from others. Do your duties accurately. Don't disappoint your mate in any way. Be willing to run small errands, or whatever is requested.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You may feel that after talking with associates nothing was accomplished. Later, you will discover that many fine ideas sprang from such conversations. Find out what others will do for you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Make an appointment at that new beauty or barber shop. Be a more charming, modish you. Then gain greater happiness with the one you love. Practice your new hobby. You can really enjoy it.
