RECOMMENDED Insurance Rate Hike Reduced

AUSTIN (AP) — A special auto insurance study committee recommended today that the planned 11.4 per cent average statewide boost of insuring the family car be cut to 9.9 per cent.

This would be a saving of $6.6 million to Texas auto insurance buyers, said the preliminary study report handed Gov. Preston Smith by former Gov. Price Daniel, head of the special committee.

The committee also recommended that the State Board of Insurance change present policy and consider the investment income that insurance companies made from auto insurance premiums in determining the fair profit allowed such firms.

"Your committee worked hard and we still have a lot more to do," Daniel told the governor. "This is just a preliminary report."

The preliminary report to Smith deals only with the 11.4 per cent average statewide boost in the price of insuring the family car, recommended July 8 by State Insurance Board actuaries.

The board postponed action on the staff proposal, pending completion of the committee's initial report. New rates originally were to have been issued Aug. 1, effective Sept. 1.

Meanwhile, insurance companies have been anxiously awaiting issuance of the new rates, claiming current premium levels are causing them to lose money.

Smith appointed the committee in the wake of widespread public complaints about the proposed rate increases. It will continue its work, with hearings on suggested policy changes beyond the immediate matter of the rate increase.

Actual rates are not determined on a statewide basis but according to 40 separate territories and 14 different rating classes.

Tax Collection Rules To Be Set

AUSTIN (AP) — New rules covering collection of the new mixed drinks tax will be made at a special session of the Texas Liquor Control Board before the law is effective Oct. 1.

The board briefly discussed the new law at its monthly meeting, Thursday, then recessed until a special session is called later to take definite action.

Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr. said his staff had been talking to a number of representatives of private clubs, the liquor and beer industry and others to get recommendations to present to the board at the special meeting.

Humphreys also said the collection of the new tax would be aided by the 25 new auditors given the TLCB by the recent legislature. Most of the new personnel will go to Houston, San Antonio and Dallas where most of the state's private clubs are located.

The $348 million tax bill levied a five cents-per-serving tax on all mixed drinks, beer and wine served in private clubs and on airlines in Texas. It also put retail sales of beer, wine and liquor under the 3.25 per cent state sales tax in addition to the present excise taxes.

Uphill Fight For Spending Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is heading into the homestretch of its long debate on the defense budget with critics of Pentagon spending still pressing their uphill fight for cuts.

A vote was scheduled today on the amendment of Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., to defer $377.1 million for the CVAN69 nuclear aircraft carrier pending a study of the need and cost.

Backers of the amendment hoped to do better than earlier in the week when a move to delay the next batch of C5A super-cargo planes failed 64-23. But foes of the CVAN69 project conceded privately only massive absenteeism could give them a victory.

Debate on the $20 billion military procurement authorization bill started July 7.

Among remaining amendments, the one with the best chance of approval appears to be a proposal by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., to restrict U.S. military aid to Laos and Thailand to "equipment, material, supplies and maintenance thereof."

ICC Can't Regulate Quality

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission ruled today it has no authority to regulate the quality of railroad passenger service.

Reversing an ICC examiner, the commission held that Congress had not granted it jurisdiction in cases in which railroads intentionally downgrade service.

At the same time, the ICC asked Congress to give it the authority to deal with the problem and suggested the Department of Transportation conduct a study of the nation's passenger train needs.

The action came after a year of infighting among commissioners.

The examiner found the ICC had jurisdiction over the adequacy of intercity passenger trains and service and recommended what the ICC called "a wide-ranging solution."

The ICC said the report showed "many forces have contributed to the creation of the problem," including state and local taxing authorities, railroad labor, diversion of patronage from trains to airplanes and cars and the loss of mail traffic.

"Equally clear," the ICC added, "is the fact that his plan goes far beyond the reach of this commission and certainly beyond any relief which might be accorded in this proceeding."

Although no vote was announced, it was reported the commission decided the case 5 to 4.

FUND NEEDS HELP NOW

With only two more days of formal appeal remaining, the Bible Class fund stood in real danger today of falling far short of its goal unless there is a rallying by church groups, individuals, clubs and others.

Ministers are urged by the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship to remind their people Sunday of this special, urgent need. The campaign has progressed well this year, but it was late in being launched, and the time for the formal appeal to end is Monday. Won't you please help — now — if you can?

Israeli Warplanes Strike Egyptian Bases On Gulf

By The Associated Press

Israeli warplanes swept across the Gulf of Suez today in an attack on Egyptian military objectives on Egypt's eastern coast, the Israeli military announced in Tel Aviv.

It was the fourth straight day of aerial activity on the Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire line. It came 24 hours after fierce air battles with Egyptian aircraft in which Israel claimed shooting down 11 Soviet-made planes and Cairo claimed the downing of six Israeli aircraft.

A brief announcement said the planes today went in at 10:30 a.m. and returned to Israel unharmed.

Singled out for attack, a Tel Aviv spokesman said, were Ras Za'farana, 55 miles south of Port Suez, and Ras Garib, about 120 miles south of Port Suez, which is on the southern end of the Suez Canal.

Earlier the Israelis reported one of their patrols killed eight Arab guerrillas in a clash 25 miles north of the Dead Sea Thursday night.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said the Israeli patrol intercepted an 11-man Arab guerrilla squad near the Damiya Bridge which spans the Jordan River. He said there were no Israeli casualties. Three guerrillas apparently escaped.

The spokesman also reported several rocket attacks from Lebanon and Jordan on Israeli settlements during the night but said they caused little damage.

Nixon Orders Bombing Raids To Be Resumed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon personally ordered a 36-hour halt in B-52 bombing missions over South Vietnam but has now directed that the bombings be resumed, the White House announced today.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the temporary cessation in sorties was ordered to give policymakers time to determine what the Communists intended to do about the level of fight following the 72-hour cease-fire they had announced to mark the death of Ho Chi Minh.

Ziegler said the level of enemy activity now has reverted to pre-truce levels and that, for that reason, Nixon had sent the big bombers back into the skies.

The announcement came as the President closeted himself with key advisers from Washington-Saigon and Paris for a broad review of the Vietnam situation.

The press aide, in seeking to explain the motivation for the brief halt in B-52 operations, said Washington wanted to determine whether the Communist-initiated truce "had political significance beyond the death of Ho."

In other words, the question was whether the other side might continue to hold down military activity even after the end of the cease-fire period.

In addition, Ziegler said, the United States wanted to make it clear that the enemy and not the U.S. forces would be responsible for resumption of full-scale fighting.

He said the enemy picked up the military tempo even before the end of the truce period and that therefore it was found necessary to fly B-52 missions for a 32-hour period following the truce.

RAIDS SUSPENDED — Conventional 750-pound bombs are ready to be loaded aboard B-52 jet bombers at U.S. airfield in Guam, some 2,000 miles from Saigon. It was reported Friday that the bombing runs by the huge eight-engine jets, a frequent occurrence during the Vietnam War, have been suspended as "a gesture of de-escalation."

essential to fly B-52 missions for a 32-hour period following the truce.

The meeting, which was called several days ago, took on added significance in the light of reports that the U.S. Command in a move to de-escalate the fighting, had halted B-52 bombing raids across South Vietnam.

"It's a gesture of de-escalation, a political move," one Saigon source said. "There is a new leadership in Hanoi."

Presidential news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who said there would be no announcement immediately following this morning's meeting, gave this list of officials called in by Nixon:

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, U.S. Commander in Vietnam Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. Ambassador to Saigon Ellsworth Bunker, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Secretary of Defense Mel-

Black Manifesto Demands Agreed To By Churchmen

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — American Protestant and Orthodox leaders have outlined their answer to the Black Manifesto—they'll put big money into black economic advancement, and let black churchmen decide who uses it and how.

Their top leaders make up the policy-making board.

They rejected the threatening ideology of the manifesto, but recognized the Black Economic Development Conference, which issued it, as an agency "in the black community directed toward the achievement of economic justice."

The group also was termed a "programmatic expression of the aspiration of black churchmen"—and these churchmen were designated to receive the large-scale church funding, including $500,000 immediately, to use as they judge best.

The solution, skirting direct funding of the BEDC but financing black churchmen who support it, was similar to that adopted in last week's Episcopal Church convention.

Some white delegates here, including leaders of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), pushed unsuccessfully for amendments aimed at prohibiting use of church funds to support groups advocating violence or government overthrow.

The Rev. Dr. George G. Beazley of Indianapolis declared:

"If we give this money with no strings attached, there is a high degree of probability that it will go to the Black Economic Development Conference, whose own document states its purpose is to overthrow the American system."

Negro churchmen, however, strongly opposed any restrictions, saying this would be a slur on their honor and intentions.

BULLETIN

MANILA (AP) — A Philippine Air Lines jet with 48 persons reported aboard crashed tonight in Rizal Province, about 20 miles east of here.

It was not immediately known whether there were any survivors. The plane apparently was approaching the Manila domestic airport when it crashed.

Civil Aviation Director Federico Ablan was quoted by Philippine News Service as saying there were 42 passengers and 6 crew members on board the BAC111.

Lethal Gas Clouds Force Evacuation

GLENDORA, Miss. (AP) —

Clouds of lethal phosgene gas, spewed from four railroad tank cars that exploded near here Thursday night, endangering areas as far away as 30 miles today after forcing the evacuation of thousands of persons.

No fatalities and one injury were reported, although some livestock was killed, authorities said.

Glendora is about 30 miles north of Greenwood.

The tank cars were carrying highly flammable vinyl chloride which was transformed into phosgene gas by the fire which followed the explosion. Officials said the blaze would have to burn itself out and refused to speculate how long the gas would be a threat.

A shifting southerly breeze forced numerous changes in the evacuation area and estimates of the number of persons evacuated ranged as high as 25,000.

The highway patrol said the four tank cars were among 12 Illinois Central cars which derailed around 3:30 p.m. Thursday in a sparsely populated region about one-half mile south of here. An area of one-half square mile was immediately evacuated when the vinyl chloride began leaking from one car.

Authorities said the situation appeared to be under control after railroad personnel arrived.

One tank car exploded shortly after 9 p.m., however, and the highway patrol put out evacuation warnings for a 25-mile area.

The cause of the explosion was not known.

SURPRISE MEETING CALLED 'USEFUL'

Kosygin, Chou Discuss Border

MOSCOW (AP) — Some Western diplomats in Moscow said today that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin may have gone to Peking to warn Communist China against more attacks across the Soviet-Chinese border.

The diplomats speculated that Kosygin would not have flown so far out of his way unless he had something more to say to Premier Chou En-lai than to suggest resumption of talks on border questions. These observers speculated that the Soviet premier told the Chinese premier the Kremlin's patience is not unlimited.

The Russians said the surprise meeting Thursday was "useful," but they gave no indication if anything was achieved.

After the first top-level conference between the two Communist giants in 4½ years, the Soviet news agency Tass said in a 150-word announcement: "The two sides openly explained their positions and held a conversation useful for both sides."

Peking's New China News Agency issued a 62-word statement in Tokyo saying the two premiers had "a frank conversation," but it also gave no further details.

It was assumed that Kosygin and Chou discussed the battles along their long Asian border, but the words "frank" and "useful" in Communist communications usually indicate disagreement. It was thought the two leaders also discussed aid to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

But the deep-seated differences between the Kremlin and the Chinese appear too great to be talked away. Their struggle for leadership of the world Communist movement has provoked a split that seems destined to remain. It has been accompanied by exchanges of abuse and condemnation that made even meeting at the same table difficult.

Shortly after the New China News Agency announced the meeting, it issued a report in Tokyo in which it said the Soviet Union's wooing of Japan was an indication that the Moscow leadership is "ridden with innumerable crises and is at the end of its rope."

Kosygin called in at Peking on his way back to Moscow from the funeral of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi.

Tass earlier had reported Kosygin's arrival Wednesday in Dushanbe, capital of Soviet Tadzhikistan, so apparently he turned around and flew eastward 2,600 miles to Peking.

The New China News Agency said Kosygin and Chou met at the airport, and Tass reported the Soviet premier arrived in Moscow Thursday night.

The Peking correspondent of the Japan Broadcasting Corp. reported he was told the meeting "lasted only a short time."

Waits In Jail, Believes Jury Will Believe Her Story

DALLAS (AP) — "The people here have been real, real nice to me," said Irene Williams Smith, popular, respected Dallas real estate operator who has lived in a cell in the Webb County jail in Laredo since July 30.

The only other statement she would make was, "I sincerely hope not to be here too much longer."

Mrs. Smith is charged with attempting to smuggle an estimated $7 million worth of cocaine into the United States. By a curious choice, she is still in jail, although dozens of her friends around Dallas contributed enough money to bail her out.

"She approached customs inspectors driving in from Mexico," said U. S. Customs Agent Oran G. Pugh of Laredo. "When asked if she brought anything to be declared, she said nothing. But there was a bag in the bottom of the front seat of the car, so she went in for secondary inspection."

"We found two cases of clothing in the trunk, and a further search disclosed the contraband beneath the rear seat, in plastic bags."

Pugh said the value of the 7½ pounds of cocaine was "astronomical."

In addition, Pugh said, inspectors found "cocaine in her purse in two small (prescription) bottles, about one ounce in each, plus a number of amphetamines—prohibited pills—in three or four other bottles."

Mrs. Smith was taken before U. S. Commissioner Lawrence Mann the same day and ordered held on $50,000 bond. The bond was later reduced by half, then raised again to $50,000, which would require $5,000 cash for her release.

All the while, she declared she was innocent.

One of her attorneys, Jacob

Hornberger in Laredo, pointed out that the car she was driving was registered to a man named Edgar Babe. He said this is another name for a man whose real name is Jorge Juan Lemus Garcia, believed to be from New York.

"She was just a middle-aged woman who fell madly in love," Hornberger said. "She's so much in love with that guy it's pitiful."

Hornberger said Mrs. Smith could not have known about the cocaine because "You've got to be an idiot when you smuggle something, to come across with luggage. That's asking for a search."

Within a month after her arrest, Mrs. Smith's friends in Dallas had collected more than the $5,000 cash required for bond. Charles Simmons, a businessman, said the contributions were made by 30 to 35 people convinced of Mrs. Smith's innocence.

After the money was raised, Mrs. Smith decided to remain in jail—because, Simmons said, "the grand jury will meet in 10 days and she could use the funds to pay for her defense and for some of her bills."

Simmons said all of the original contributors, except one, agreed to use the money as she requested. He said it would take about $3,000 more through her trial "to keep her out of bankruptcy."

Mrs. Smith—sister of the late country singer Hank Williams—is a respected businesswoman. A divorcee and mother of two, the 46-year-old Mrs. Smith owns her own real estate company here. She was a candidate for the national title of American Business Woman of the Year in 1963 and was named Oak Cliff Woman of the Month in May, 1967. Oak Cliff is a section of Dallas.

"I've seen Irene sacrifice business deals to be honest," Simmons said. "And that isn't a criminal mind."

"She is confident she will be released by a jury. She believes a jury will believe her story."

Mrs. Smith probably will come before a grand jury for a hearing Sept. 22 in Laredo. If she is indicted, she will be arraigned to enter a plea two days later. If she pleads not guilty, then a trial date will be set for the following week.

Meanwhile, she is waiting in the Webb County jail, which Simmons described as "not where you would prefer to live, but not too uncomfortable." Her attorney called it "just a jail."

Admits Catholics Treated Badly

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark admitted today that his Protestant party has treated the Roman Catholics badly and reaffirmed its determination to reform.

Commenting on a judicial inquiry into Northern Ireland's year of violence, Chichester-Clark said: "It is self-evident that in the past all of us have made mistakes. The question is what do we do now—profit from these mistakes, or sink into a welter of recriminations which would insure that those mistakes will be repeated."

"We are quite prepared to accept the facts the report contains. What we have to do now is get on with the reforms we have promised."

Militant Protestant and Catholic leaders denounced the report, which accused them of fomenting the religious strife.

The 10,000-word report, released today, was the result of a judicial inquiry by a three-man commission into the nature and causes of the troubles between Ulster's Protestant majority and Catholic minority.

The inquiry began March 3. Last month's riots, in which eight persons were killed, occurred while the report was being prepared.

The commission listed inferior housing, anti-Catholic discrimination in making government appointments, and gerrymandering of political boundaries to favor the Protestants as three basic causes of discontent among the Catholics.

The report warned of "a rising sense of continuing injustices and grief among large sections of the Catholic population... in respect to inadequacy of housing conditions, unfair methods of allocation of houses, and misuse in certain cases of house allocations to perpetuate Unionist control of the local authority."

The report recommended reforms beyond those already promised by the state government, including the setting up of a special board of judges to investigate complaints against the police and a new civil service embracing both central and local government administrations.

The commission accused the Ulster police of a lack of discipline and some brutality in trying to control marches and demonstrations. But surprising-ly it praised the outlawed Irish Republican Army for "maintaining and checking any disposition to violence or disorder."

Military Honors Accorded Sen. Dirksen At Burial

PEKIN, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen was buried with military honors Thursday in this central Illinois town where he was born.

Among the 3,000 persons who ringed the cemetery were Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, more than 40 senators and several Cabinet members.

The 10-minute service led by the Rev. Edward L.R. Elson, Senate chaplain, brought to a close four days of tribute to the Senate Republican leader who died Sunday.

Dirksen's widow Louella, daughter Danice, and son-in-law, Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., sat in front row as the Rev. Mr. Elson delivered the eulogy.

"The last march has ended, a mighty man now answers roll call. His battles are fought, his victories are won."

Dirksen, an artillery observer in World War I, received a three-volley salute from a seven-member rifle team before "Taps" was sounded. A hot sun beat down on the flag-draped coffin.

The Senate delegation, which included Democratic Leader

Mike Mansfield, Edmund S. Muskie, Edward M. Kennedy, Gordon Allot, Barry Goldwater, and Charles H. Percy, stood in a semicircle.

A resume of last year's work and reports were given by Mrs. Bob Bryan, secretary, and Mrs. Jimmie Sawyer, service chairman. Mrs. John Roueche, treasurer, and Mrs. Glenn Brown, publicity chairman, also gave reports, respectively.

Plans were made to send Angel as a delegate to Texas Division meeting in Houston Oct. 15 and 16. Mrs. Roueche will serve as alternate. It was announced that the next meeting will be held on Oct. 6.

MANY CHILDREN ARE NOT GETTING VACCINE

Experts Warn Of Polio Resurgence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government health experts, warning against a resurgence of polio if the nation lets down its vaccination guard, say potential pockets of the dread disease already exist in every metropolitan area of the country. Public Health Service doctors cautioned against any undue complacency from the fact that so far this year only 10 cases of paralytic polio—the lowest rate in history—have been reported. There were 48 such cases last year. But the government doctors said that even now on a nationwide basis approximately 30 per cent of the children in the most highly susceptible 1 to 4 year age group remain without vaccine.

Most of these are in ghetto or other low socio-economic sections. "Texas had intensive community polio vaccination programs, like most communities throughout the country, and its record was good."

GETTING READY — Workers use jack hammers to break the seal on Consol No. 9 mine near Farmington, W. V., in preparation of reopening to recover the bodies of 78 miners who perished last November.

Work Begins To Reopen Mine Tomb Of 78 Miners

FARMINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Work begins today on one of the largest recovery operations in coal mining history, the reopening of a mine sealed last November after explosions that killed 78 miners.

Massive air seals of concrete and steel were to be removed from ventilation shafts at Consolidation Coal Co.'s No. 9 mine as experts watched the operation apprehensively. It was expected to take months.

John Ashcraft, West Virginia state mines director, told newsmen: "Never before in the mining industry has such a hazardous undertaking been attempted with so many unknowns."

The unknowns are so varied officials refuse to set a timetable for the several steps in the recovery operation.

Rescuers will first remove deadly methane (natural) gas which has filled the abandoned mine shafts. Methane is freed from pockets in seams of coal during mining.

Jackhammers, armed with non-sparking beryllium points, were to splinter the concrete lids and cranes were to lift huge saucer-like steel discs from atop the shafts.

Once the gas is removed, a ventilation system will be established in the eastern half of the mine, hardly touched by the 16 major explosions.

Siphoning off the gas is dangerous. Methane is extremely explosive when diluted with air in proportions between five and 15 per cent and any spark could result in an explosion.

"That mine is loaded with gas and we dread most the danger of another explosion," said James Westfield of the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

The search of the western half for the 78 miners who died last November will begin after 1,000 tons of limestone dumped down another air shaft to effect a seal are removed.

John Corcoran, president of Consolidation Coal, said it will take "many, many months" to reach the area where the 78 men were believed to be working when the explosion occurred last Nov. 20.

Little Girl's Badly Beaten Body Found

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Brown-haired Donna Marie Golish, 7, apparently was beaten to death, authorities said after the finding of her body Thursday near an oil lease northwest of Sherman.

The little girl, newly enrolled in the first grade, disappeared Wednesday on the way to the home of her parents, less than a block from school. She was the daughter of Air Force Capt. and Mrs. Fred Golish.

Investigators ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death and whether the child was molested sexually.

Clad only in a half-slip, the battered body lay face down in a grassy spot near a little used road to an oil lease one mile from town. Small shoes and socks believed to have been hers were in some weeds half a mile away.

A member of the Grayson County sheriff's posse, R.V. Clinton, told of making the grim discovery.

"I was riding south on the road and I cut back to the west around a clump of trees," Clinton said. "When I came out on the south side of the trees I saw her body about 15 feet south of the trees and about 10 feet off the road."

Donna Marie was last seen walking through Fairview Park about noon, when she was dismissed from school for the day.

The possibility of outbreaks in these communities worry doctors such as F. Robert Freckleton, chief of the immunization branch of the Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center at Atlanta, Ga.

"If we lose any of our present momentum in the vaccination program—and we already have problems there—these pockets of unvaccinated or incompletely vaccinated children may increase in number and size," he said.

Freckleton and Dr. Michael B. Gregg, chief of CDC's virus disease epidemiology section, discussed the situation in separate telephone interviews.

He said epidemics such as occurred prior to 1955 currently aren't a threat because, even under the present incomplete vaccination coverage, between 75 and 80 per cent of the population up to age 40 have been vaccinated.

And this, he said, amounts essentially to "herd immunity"—enough to prevent widespread transmission of virus, and therefore enough to prevent mass epidemics.

"One problem as regards ghetto and similar areas," Freckleton said, "is that even when vaccination is accessible and without charge, it's often underutilized."

Both doctors point to certain areas in Texas to illustrate what can happen if a given community drops its guard.

"Back in 1963," said Freckle-

We keep a thief in our aging houses.

It's not the regular kind, of course. Our thief is a long tube. We use it to see how our Jim Beam Bourbon is aging from year to year in our special charred, white oak barrels. These barrels help make that wonderful, light and warm Jim Beam taste that's been a Beam family art for nearly 175 years. So when we tell you there's a thief in our aging house, it doesn't mean we end up with less Bourbon. All it means is we end up with the best Bourbon. "World's finest Bourbon since 1795."

Special Flight On Way With Militant

LONDON (AP) — A special Trans World Airline flight left London today carrying American black militant Robert Williams to Detroit.

The flight left 80 minutes early. Airline officials said they were advised "from America" to move it forward, presumably because somebody was afraid of a demonstration.

Williams was accompanied by a friend, Detroit lawyer Milton Henry. They were the only passengers on the flight, which is costing TWA about $20,000. The American Civil Liberties Union had threatened legal action against the airline because it refused to honor Williams' ticket for a transatlantic flight.

Williams, 44, is returning to face a charge of kidnapping a white couple in Monroe, N.C., during a racial demonstration eight years ago. He fled from the United States then and has lived in Communist China, Cuba and Africa. He claims the kidnapping charge is trumped up and says he is innocent.

Attorney General To Rule In McCrocklin's Case

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas administration wants to strip Dr. James McCrocklin of his Ph. D. degree and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin was expected to say today whether the university's regents have the authority to do so.

Informed sources said Thursday that Martin would hold the regents do not have this authority but that a court could do it if it found McCrocklin's work was fraudulent.

Regents Chairman Frank Erwin said in his opinion request that a faculty committee which investigated McCrocklin's dissertation recommended, and the UT administration agreed, that the degree should be withdrawn.

McCrocklin resigned April 19 as president of Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos to devote "my full time and efforts to dispelling the false smear upon my personal integrity."

Forty per cent of the sentences in McCrocklin's dissertation allegedly are identical with sentences in a Marine Corps document by Gen. Franklin Hart in U.S. military intervention in Haiti, 1914-1934.

McCrocklin reportedly did not credit the Hart work until the dissertation was published in book form two years after the degree was awarded.

Fifty-one per cent of the sentences in a master's thesis on the same subject by McCrocklin's wife allegedly are identical with passages in the dissertation. McCrocklin served on the three-man faculty committee at Texas A&M that approved his wife's thesis.

Erwin said McCrocklin has been invited to answer the charges. "He has consistently failed to appear in person or by counsel," Erwin said.

Prostituted Cradle

When a band of right-wing army colonels seized the government of Greece a couple of years ago and imposed a dictatorship by military junta, there were many cries of outrage about what was happening in the "cradle of democracy." Since then the junta has gone through the process of democratization, but events continue to demonstrate that tyranny is still the order of the day.

The latest indication of this is found in the draft of a new press law which, in effect, reaffirms the government's dictatorial control over the printed word. There are 179 articles in the proposed law, with severe penalties prescribed for any violation. The restrictions on what may be published are so comprehensive that the government will have power, by law, to confiscate any paper that offends it in any way. Jail sentences and fines also are provided for.

The Greek press has been heavily censored under the junta. Under the new law, rigid censorship will continue. Things are getting no better in the "cradle of democracy" where self-appointed protectors of the public good are turning it into a bed of tyranny.

Poking Into The Depths

For half a century and more, the submarine has generally been equated with warfare. In recent years, the sub's importance as a tool for scientific research has become more and more evident.

It is intriguing that Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, the Navy's stormy petrel, now predicts an even more important role for the submarine in underwater discoveries. Specifically, he is thinking of nuclear-powered craft manned by scientists bent on probing the secrets of the deep.

Adm. Rickover made his comments on the subject after being aboard the NR-1, the world's first deep-submergence ocean engineering and research vessel. The craft, capable of operating for several weeks without surfacing, is quite different from the tiny research subs heretofore used; it weighs 400 tons and is 140 feet long. "Because of the vastly increased endurance made possible by nuclear power," Rickover noted, "her capability will be an order of magnitude 10 times greater than that of any other existing or planned underwater research vehicle."

Those speculating on the research submarine's future envision fleets of nuclear-powered vessels capable of diving to unprecedented depths and equipped with claw-like gadgets for picking up objects from the ocean bottom. It looks as though the latter part of the 20th century may witness giant steps not only in space but under the seas of our home planet.

Dirksen's Knack Of Leadership

WASHINGTON — Everett Dirksen as leader of the Republican party in the Senate has passed away, but his spirit of affability, conciliation and good-natured criticism of his opposition will linger on as an example of tact and effectiveness. Contemporaries in Congress will agree that he showed a knack in leadership which is sometimes called political skill but in reality is a keen understanding of human nature and how to make agreements and compromises in complex legislative situations.

AS THE HEAD of the minority party in the Senate, the Illinois senator often found himself trying to hold his own party in line or adeptly seeking support inside the ranks of the majority party.

The task of a leader of either party in the Senate or House is not easily explained to persons who have not been in intimate touch with Congress. For a President depends very much on what the two leaders in the Senate and the two leaders in the House are able to do, and a great deal even on the leader in each case whose party isn't in the majority.

THUS, President Eisenhower counted on Lyndon Johnson to work out some compromises when the latter was majority leader of the Senate and the Republican party was in the minority. When Mr. Johnson became President he, in turn, established a workable system of communication with Mr. Dirksen, the minority leader in the Senate, as well as with the leader of his own party. Scarcely a week goes by that a President doesn't call in the party leaders of both houses of Congress.

Billy Graham

Our minister is a very educated man, but most of the congregation are average people. His sermons seem to be intended for the few who are on his intellectual level. Is this right?

P.F. No, I believe that a minister should communicate with all the people in his congregation. We preachers often make the mistake of directing our sermons to an elite group instead of the masses. It took me years to learn that the spiritual intelligence of the average audience is about that of a 10-year-old child. The reason being that most people, after early training in Sunday School, become spiritual drop-outs, and stop learning about God, the Bible and Salvation. In our Crusades I never try to impress the ministers present with my preaching ability. I try to talk directly and simply to the audience, spelling out clearly the plan of Salvation. People listen, not because our ministers don't believe as I do, but because the Gospel too often is presented in complicated language.

Jesus was the master-preacher. The Bible says, "The common people heard him gladly." The Gospel is "good news," and when it is proclaimed in understandable language, it brings gladness and response.

Checked Your Prestige Lately?

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you given yourself a prestige check-up lately?

If not, why not? Millions of Americans now get some kind of annual medical checkup. This is good as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough.

A medical checkup only determines the state of your physical health. It lets you know how much wear and tear your body is showing and whether you still have muscle tone or have gone flabby.

What you need to know in addition is the state of your social health. Competition is not only the life of trade, it is also the life of our business-oriented society.

In time, of course, these checkups will be given by computers. But there is no reason why, if you are one of those do-it-yourself guys, you can't figure out yourself the state of your prestige.

You can congratulate yourself that you're doing okay if—

The wife of the boss insists that you dance with her at least twice at the annual office spring get-together.

Instead of your getting an occasional dunning letter from the alumni office, the president of your college suggests having lunch with you when he drops into town.

You quit hanging around pool halls and spend more time at country clubs.

When you drop into the bank to explain how your wife overdrew your joint account, the banker no longer looks at you in chagrin. He calls you by your first name—or, better yet, by your initials—and says not to worry about it until the bank does.

On a business trip you don't feel it necessary to wash your own socks in the hotel wash bowl, at home your wife has quit ironing your shirts and now sends them to the laundry.

At least one member of the family has had a small nervous breakdown and emerged from it successfully.

You have been asked to head a charitable drive in your community, even if it was only to raise funds to wipe out chilblains among the Eskimos.

The boss doesn't push the buzzer on his desk so often anymore to summon you to his office. When he has something on his mind, he likes to drop into your office and talk it over more informally. If he asks how your kids are, he remembers their names.

You no longer can waste time at the barbershop leaning through naughty magazines while awaiting your turn in the chair. Your secretary now arranges your haircuts by appointment.

School's Business Problems

By WAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration of public school systems is big business—expenditures of $20 million a year are not uncommon—but comparatively few schools have taken advantage of modern business methods.

One of the largest educational consulting firms in the nation estimates average elementary and high schools could improve efficiency by 35 per cent employing a business-like approach to administration and expenditures.

The crux of the problem, according to Englehardt & Englehardt Inc., of Purdy Station, New York, is that educators traditionally are the ones who become financial managers and administrators.

Just because a man is a great educator, it doesn't mean he can administer a multimillion dollar budget," said Emerson W. Mitchell, an Englehardt business and systems analyst.

The school scene has changed since the days of the little red schoolhouse, when 40 or 50 pupils gathered in a few rooms to learn the three Rs.

Today, public schools reflect the sprawling megalopolises they serve. They run their own transportation systems, process mountains of paper work and decide how to spend millions of dollars to the best advantage of thousands of students.

Outside the major population belts, many school systems operate the largest food distribution and personnel systems in their counties.

"The average system is operating at about 50 per cent efficiency," says Mitchell. With the application of management principles long ago accepted by businessmen with far smaller budgets, they could boost efficiency to 85 per cent."

Budgetary and cost control systems research, the use of computers and other techniques would free superintendents and others from administrative busywork to improve the education system, he says.

In addition to the administrative tasks of purchasing, planning food service, maintenance, payroll preparation, Englehardt said systematic data processing could simplify the following areas, now done as much as 80 per cent manually in the schools:

- Student testing, including mechanical, teacher-originated diagnostic testing.
- Attendance record keeping.
- Scheduling of facilities and personnel.
- Computer assisted instruction including problem solving, and tutorial logics.
- Keeping student records such as transcript preparation, and data needed for guidance programs and progress reports.
- Library materials control.

Around The Rim

Is He Human Or Is He A Cyborg?

A few weeks ago a news release arrived saying that "real people, physically speaking, may within the lifetimes of most of us be no more numerous than synthetic people."

"The age of the cyborg — half man, half machine — seems to be approaching," a survey by the family economic bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. indicates, adding:

"Already with us are people with metal elbows, finger and knee joints; or metal upper arms, knee plates and tibias, metal cranium plates, silicone tracheas or tendons, or plastic heart valves and arteries."

WITHIN 30 YEARS, we'll have artificial lungs and mechanized artificial limbs as versatile as natural arms, legs and hands, and electronic substitutes for all the senses, including sight and touch.

The cyborg, having worn out the heart he was born with, will be powered by a synthetic heart run by an engine fueled by a miniature nuclear furnace.

In one planned artificial limb system, thought impulses will be transmitted through electrodes placed on muscles to a miniature computer in the active muscle tissue. This amplifies the impulse to a tiny motor within the artificial limb.

A PERSON will simply think about picking up a spoon, and his artificial arm will obey.

Lungs, kidneys, hearts, corneas, ear drums — even plastic toenails are possible — but the human brain will never be duplicated.

Good grief! I thought, and put it aside as fodder for a column on a dull day.

But this week, General Electric came out with an advertisement in the news magazines that sent me scurrying for my file. (A stack of newspapers, clippings and rejection slips.)

"WHAT'S 11 FEET tall, walks on four legs and drinks gasoline?" the ad begins.

It's a machine GE is developing for the U.S. Army through the science of Cybernetic Anthropomorphic Machine Systems, or CAMS for short. This has to be one more step toward Cyborgs.

CAMS will be operated by a man inside. The ad doesn't say so, but I suspect a later step will be for man to be operated by CAMS inside.

AND THE FINAL inevitable step will be to phase out the man.

I don't mean eliminate him. Maybe these synthetic people will be used as servants, laborers and in other menial jobs, such as writing newspaper columns, at first.

But what happens when they start looking around and realize they are doing the hard work, while man is reaping the profits.

ONE OF THEM will show up with a sweatshirt bearing the words "Cyborgs Are Bountiful," and heaven only knows what will follow.

I mentioned this possibility in a telephone conversation with Bobby Harris, my drinking cousin, and he said he saw no reason to be amazed. "I know a lot of synthetic people," he added.

A Republican Moves In Virginia

COVINGTON, Va. — Linwood Holton, the pride of Big Stone Gap, is running loose and confident for the governorship of Virginia. As Labor Day passed, he was well on his way to becoming the first Republican chief executive of his State since the aftermath of Appomattox.

His progress toward the seat of power in Richmond ought rightly, one feels, to be accompanied by solemn music which sets the mood for the fall of kings. In fact, two kingdoms are collapsing to bring about the succession of Lin Holton and the Virginia Republicans. These faltering regimes are the House of Byrd and the House of Kennedy.

ONE OF HOLTON's subdued theme songs is "Harry, won't you please come home." U.S. Sen. Harry Byrd Jr. is politically uncongenial with the winners of the recent Democratic primary. Young Harry's own man, Fred Pollard, finished third behind Henry Howell, who collected the Labor and Negro votes, and behind William Battle, the eventual winner, who was a Kennedy manager and ambassador. If Harry will "come home" to the decent conservatives of both parties he will have Holton's backing for Senate re-election in 1970, but on the Republican ticket.

HOLTON WON'T make this announcement, but he won't deny it either. He wants the best of the Byrd Democrats in the Republican party. He wants Virginia to lead other once-Democratic States into the moderate-conservative hegemony of Nixon.

leadership, the one that seems certain to run the country in the foreseeable future.

Bill Battle carries the ponderous handicap of having been close to the Kennedys, and Holton will not let this fact go unremarked in the September and October campaigning. Battle paid a visit to Mrs. Ethel Kennedy a while back, and is supposed to have enlisted the help of Sen. Ted Kennedy. Even that past and vague connection has become a taint by association, and Holton will not let Battle escape it.

QUITE ASIDE from being aided by the fall of these once-proud houses of Byrd and Kennedy, Holton is riding high on a program of State-improvement. He will offer a Nixon-model tax reform to give relief to the lower incomes. He will go to the Federal government, as no Democrat could do, for aid to highways and public education.

WHAT THE visitor sees in Virginia politics is a huge relocation project. The Nixonite Republicans are trying to move the State out of its psychological bind of belonging to the Southern bloc. This is delicate work, rather like shifting the site of the temple without smashing the sacred objects on the altar.

But if Holton becomes the Union's 1st Republican Governor, he will have subtracted one State from the Old South and have added it to the Borderland, probably to the devout relief of most white and black Virginians.

A Fabulous City In Peril

VENICE — This fabulous city in peril of its very existence stands as a symbol of the plight of the Western world. Pollution of air and water and the rapid encroachment of a massive industrial complex threaten to erase in a short span of years the city of canals that has been the magnet for travelers and lovers of beauty for centuries.

Ordinary cities may be resigned to the blight of smog and pollution. But Venice is a treasure house of art and architecture. Those treasures are rapidly deteriorating.

THE GREAT paintings — the Titians, the Tintoretto's, the Veroneses — and the monuments are like defenseless invalids. Still aglow with the splendid past, they cannot save themselves. Not a single museum or church is air conditioned to keep out the dampness and the smog with its high sulphur and carbon monoxide content.

The question is being seriously asked today: "Can Venice be saved?" The lagoon is dying, a victim of chemical wastes from the industrial center of Marghera, with its huge refineries hardly 10 minutes away by the crowded city of Mestre, with its dreary substandard housing.

TO SAVE the city will mean an effort costing hundreds of millions of dollars. Industrial practices in Marghera will have to be drastically altered to reduce the poisons loosed in the air and the water. Central to the salvation of this unique historical treasure house is the control of the tides as they flood in from the sea, lapping higher and higher each year with the disaster of the ultimate flood ever nearer.

When the Republic of Venice held sway over much of the East in the 16th and 17th Centuries the Venetians understood how vital it was to preserve the life of the lagoon. The threat of extinction then came from silt pouring in from three rivers — the Piave, the Brenta and the Sile. The lagoon was gradually filling up.

THE MAGISTRA ti alle Acque, the magistrate of all the waters, wielding overwhelming power took an heroic decision. The course of the rivers was to be deflected so they would run into the open sea. With relentless drive over many years, the project was carried through and the lagoon and Venice were saved.

Saving the lagoon today will mean a project not unlike that in scope. As the industrial complex of Marghera has expanded during the past 40 years, the delicate balance between land and water has been progressively undermined. The demands of industry drain off the subsoil water. Land is reclaimed along the lagoon, narrowing its course.

AS THE CANALS grow darker and filthier, a reflection of the fundamental problem of the waters, Venetians move out to Mestre. The city has declined in population between 1951 and 1968 from 192,000 to 130,000. There are 3,000 abandoned houses and many of the noble palaces are reduced to slum dwellings. Moving to Mestre, the Venetian has his little car and becomes part of the consumer economy.

VENICE CAN be saved. An impressive series of articles in Corriere della Serra has alerted the country to the peril. Determined spirits such as countess Anna Maria Cigona are leading the fight. Venice can be saved if the will is there. With Venice as a symbol, that is the question posed for the West in a far larger context in the struggle between the technological present and the historical past.

Optometrist Is Speaker For Nurses

"There is a desperate need for special training in the early years if a brain-damaged child is to be helped," said Dr. Harold Smith, optometrist, when he spoke Tuesday to Constituent No. 24, Texas Nurses Association.

Speaking on "Minimal Brain Injury in Children with Sight Problems," Dr. Smith said there is a program in local schools for children with this type of injury, but it does not start until the fourth grade. A child needs help before this time, according to Dr. Smith.

Mrs. Ruth Jones, assistant director of state hospitals, will inspect hospitals in Big Spring Oct. 13-14. The association will host a dinner meeting in her honor Oct. 14.

The current membership drive will continue through October, and the American Nurses Association is striving for approximately 15,000 new members during the drive. Nurses who are not working are being urged to return to their profession because of the shortage in this field.

Mrs. Claude Van Vleet and Mrs. Charles Condray were hostesses.

Former Residents Announce Birth

Airman and Mrs. Kirby Hodnett, Biloxi, Miss., are announcing the birth of a son, Bradford Lynn, born Sept. 9 at Keesler Air Force Base Hospital in Biloxi. The infant weighed seven pounds, six ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sturm of Luther, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hodnett, 1405 E. 15th.

PTA Hears Of Reading Aids

Mrs. Rogers Hefley, reading coordinator for Big Spring Public Schools, explained learning methods at Thursday's meeting of the Airport Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Hefley said that there are different types of children, "fast learners and slow learners." She stressed that among types of equipment available to teach reading are overhead projectors, listening stations and language approaches. She emphasized the importance of individualized reading, noting that many children have to be motivated to read.

"Children are being encouraged to read comic books," said Mrs. Hefley. If they meet with the teacher's and parent's approval, "Poetry is excellent for children but when reading for pleasure, they should read one grade below their grade level."

Mrs. Dale Ditto, vice president, introduced the speaker. J. L. Rankin gave the devotion, and Cub Scouts from Troop One led the Pledge of Allegiance and presented the flag.

C. L. Carlile, principal, introduced teachers, including Mrs. David Bowden and Mrs. R. L. Parramore, who are new to the school. Mrs. Bill Lowery, school secretary, and Joe Dominguez, custodian, were presented gifts for their help to the PTA.

New officers were introduced. They included Mrs. Lee Justice, president; Mrs. Ditto, vice president; Mrs. R. H. Carter Jr., secretary; and Charles Cain, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Cain publicity; Mrs. Robert Doe for room representative; Mrs. Richard Smith, hospitality; Carlile, legislation; Mrs. Frank Pearson, publications; Mrs. Bob Smith, membership; Miss Shirley Osborn, parliamentarian; Mrs. Frank Moore education for family living.

Propagation Process Explained To Club

"Do-It-Yourself Propagation" was the topic chosen by Mrs. S. P. Jones, speaker at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the Planters Garden Club at the Hilltop Green House with Mrs. D. W. Rankin as hostess.

Mrs. Frank Wilson introduced Mrs. Jones, who demonstrated rooting a rose cutting.

"There are two kinds of plants," said Mrs. Jones, "soft plants and hard plants. Soft plants can be rooted in water or soil, but plants root better in soil."

She explained that "laying" is another type of rooting, and almost any type of plant that has a joint, including the umbrella plant, can be rooted. Soil around the plant should be kept moist. Members answered roll call by telling of a plant they had propagated.

Mrs. Wilson created a flower arrangement which was to be donated to the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Speed Reading Classes Set for Big Spring

The famous Cutler Accelerated method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here in both day and evening classes.

The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 40% comprehension — a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college, and business.

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine-week program have secured the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with for better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 40 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in major cities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

This professionally conducted course boasts over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to its staff of professionally qualified, master teachers.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in the Big Spring area who desire to know how they too may learn to read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.

At these free one-hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to these forward-looking persons attending.

Jones Attends Youth Parley

The 24th annual Texas Institute on Children and Youth was held Monday through Thursday at the Mo Ranch near Hunt.

Keith Jones, juvenile officer for the city, county and school, was one of 60 persons attending the conference which was organized around the theme of "Making Community Resources Relevant To The Problems Of Children and Youth."

A new idea in juvenile rehabilitation was suggested by speakers at the meeting, Jones said. Small-group institutions for local children was recommended by speakers who said the lack of home facilities for children who need help is a problem in the larger institutions.

Tapes, Camera, Purse Stolen

Thefts of objects from parked automobiles kept Big Spring police busy Thursday afternoon, as they received reports of a purse, a camera and stereo tapes being taken.

Dr. Loran Warren, 2903 Navajo Drive, told officers 12 stereo tapes, valued at over $50, had been taken from his car late Wednesday night, while it was parked at 3709 Hamilton.

UF Gains By A Thousand

The United Fund drive climbed another $1,000 Thursday, with a total of $13,596.28 being collected, according to campaign Chairman Harry Sawyer. This year's goal is $110,000.

The out-of-town division, with Paul Meek chairman, the big gifts, with Roger Brown chairman, and Webb AFB, with Lt. Col. Ernest C. Cutler chairman, continue to report in.

A luncheon at the Holiday Inn has been scheduled for Monday, Sawyer said, at which division chairmen will make a report on their progress.

The city has been approached once and will be contacted again by the state corps of engineers about a possible informal meeting next week, according to City Manager Larry Crow.

Exporters Get Subsidy For 'Chicken War' In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has spent almost $3.5 million subsidizing chicken exports to Switzerland while prices paid by American housewives have climbed nearly 12 per cent in the past six months.

More than 20 million pounds of top-grade whole broilers have been purchased since the Agriculture Department began the program in April, 1968. The payments are made to exporters and recently have averaged around 17 cents a pound.

The subsidies are designed to make U.S. chickens competitive with European birds in the Swiss market, and represent the second round of a "chicken war" with the Common Market in 1965.

Retail prices of broiler chickens have climbed steadily since January, along with other meats, consumer appetites and spending.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the average price of broilers in January was 39.1 cents a pound. In July, the most recent month surveyed, the average had climbed to 44.4 cents.

Prices paid to U.S. chicken growers have been running ahead of last year, but production has expanded to meet the demand and producers are expected to get somewhat lower prices this fall.

There has already been some weakening of poultry farm prices. The Agriculture Department reported last month that the August average received by broiler growers was 16.5 cents a pound for live birds, compared with 17.3 cents in July and 14.9 cents a year ago.

The chicken export subsidy was directed immediately to the problem of regaining valuable U.S. markets in Europe and also at purchasing poultry to help strengthen the market for domestic growers.

The money used in the subsidy program comes from so-called "section 32" funds which are the Agriculture Department's share of duties collected on imports.

A department official said there was no indication that the chicken subsidy would end soon or that it might be expanded. Some broiler traders have urged the subsidies be extended to markets in other countries, but the official would not identify the countries.

The United States enjoyed a thriving chicken market in much of Europe until the Common Market applied subsidy muscle in the early 1960s. U.S. chicken exports dropped from 146 million pounds in 1962 to around 14 million by 1967.

Wrinkle Heads Up GOP Task Force

Winston Wrinkle of Big Spring has accepted chairmanship of a Republican committee which will be concerned with election of more Republicans to the Texas Legislature next year.

A goal is to add 35 Republicans in the House and two senators. There currently are eight House members and two senators with the GOP label.

State GOP Chairman Bill Speger in Austin said that Wrinkle's committee will select the "target areas" for the 1970 campaigns.

Wrinkle said today that these had not yet been defined, but indicated that Republicans could have considerable success in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and in the upper Panhandle.

"What we hope to do is to first find the right man in the particular district, and then to give him financial support," Wrinkle said. "Some of us feel that while Texas Republicans have worked hard for national offices, we have not really organized ourselves to win seats in the Legislature."

Wrinkle is the GOP district committeeman for the 24th senatorial district, has become increasingly more active in the state party machinery. He was a delegate to the last Republican national convention.

Wrinkle, owner of Radio Station KBST, pointed out that big-city counties to be broken up into single-member districts. Bexar, Dallas and Tarrant counties now elect House delegations county-wide. Harris County elects them from three Congressional Districts into which that county is divided.

A law suit in which House redistricting was ordered is still pending before a three-judge Federal Court in Houston.

The variation of population in Texas House districts is so wide that it violates the standards of tolerance set by the United States Supreme Court in a Missouri case.

So the suit has been revised, and Wrinkle said the GOP, now a defendant in the case, will become a plaintiff and will ask that the court order the big-city counties broken up into single-member districts.

big-city counties to be broken up into single-member districts. Bexar, Dallas and Tarrant counties now elect House delegations county-wide. Harris County elects them from three Congressional Districts into which that county is divided.

A law suit in which House redistricting was ordered is still pending before a three-judge Federal Court in Houston.

The variation of population in Texas House districts is so wide that it violates the standards of tolerance set by the United States Supreme Court in a Missouri case.

So the suit has been revised, and Wrinkle said the GOP, now a defendant in the case, will become a plaintiff and will ask that the court order the big-city counties broken up into single-member districts.

Wrinkle said today that these had not yet been defined, but indicated that Republicans could have considerable success in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and in the upper Panhandle.

"What we hope to do is to first find the right man in the particular district, and then to give him financial support," Wrinkle said. "Some of us feel that while Texas Republicans have worked hard for national offices, we have not really organized ourselves to win seats in the Legislature."

Wrinkle is the GOP district committeeman for the 24th senatorial district, has become increasingly more active in the state party machinery. He was a delegate to the last Republican national convention.

Other Carmakers Consider GM Price Increases Today

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler, Ford and American Motors had a new factor to consider today as they formulated their 1970 car prices—the 1970 General Motors price list which boosts price tags an average of about $125.

GM, however, puts the average hike at $119. It says that because of higher volume more weight should be given the lower-priced Chevrolets than the more expensive Cadillacs.

GM also announced Thursday it was continuing its warranty plan which provides coverage for the power train—engine, transmission and rear axle—for five years or 50,000 miles.

Henry Ford II, Ford Motor Co. board chairman, said a staff of executives was at work today considering the competitive impact of the GM warranty. Ford previously had announced a one year, unlimited mileage plan covering the entire car, including power train.

GM's coverage for the entire car is for one year or 12,000 miles.

Ford, speaking at a news conference called after he announced he had fired Ford President Semon E. Knudsen, declined comment on prices. "We will have our answer next week," he said.

GM begins sales on Sept. 18.

Ford the next day and Chrysler on Sept. 23. It was the first time in four years that GM had announced prices first.

Because of its tremendous sales volume—it sells more cars than the other three automakers together—GM can operate on a lower per-car profit basis.

In announcing the price increases, GM Board Chairman

James Roche cited payroll increases during the past year of 6 per cent, higher prices for metals and increases in state and local taxes.

The firm-supplied average price was an increase of 3.9 per cent over 1969 while the average increase of all models—$124.14—was an increase of 3.6 per cent from 1969 cars.

Knudsen Fired As Ford Motor Chief No More Church Bingo

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II has named a three-man team to oversee the operations of the Ford Motor Co. after firing Semon E. Knudsen, who has been president of the big auto firm since February, 1968.

Ford also indicated he would maintain a closer watch on the company's operations. He is chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

With the firing of Knudsen, announced Thursday, Ford also eliminated the post of Ford president.

Ford would not amplify on his statement that Knudsen, advised of the decision Sept. 2, was leaving because "things did not work out as I had hoped they might."

Knudsen, 56, said his dismissal came as a complete surprise. He said the company had prospered under his direction and Ford agreed with that evaluation.

"During the time that I was at the Ford Motor Co., Mr. Ford concurred with every important decision I made," Knudsen said. "Working as an executive team, we materially improved the condition of the company."

"He never indicated to me any dissatisfaction with my services or the direction the company was taking," he said.

Knudsen joined Ford in February, 1968, after resigning as fourth-ranking executive at General Motors Corp. He quit GM after being passed over for president in favor of Edward N. Cole, who holds that post today.

Knudsen signed a five-year contract which would pay him $200,000 a year. He will receive $16,666 a month for the remaining 41 months of the contract unless he takes another job in the industry or otherwise breaks provisions of the contract.

Knudsen stated Thursday that he would not rejoin GM.

The three Ford executives named to replace Knudsen as heads of operational divisions were Robert J. Hampton, 52, president of Philco-Ford and Tractor Operations; Robert Stevenson, 55, president of Ford International Automotive Operations; and Lee Iacocca, 45, president of Ford North American Automotive Operations.

No More Church Bingo

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Bingo is now a "No-no" in the Brownsville Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop Humberto Medeiros has sent a letter to all Catholic priests, parishes and organizations ordering that bingo games be halted.

A diocese office spokesman at Brownsville said the letters were mailed earlier this week after Texas Ranger Jerome Preiss of San Benito showed the Bishop six pages of legal opinions holding that bingo is illegal in Texas.

Preiss said he had received "many" complaints concerning the operation of bingo games in the six South Texas counties under his jurisdiction, the Edinburg Daily Review reported yesterday. Preiss was not available for comment. A spokesman at the Harlingen office of the Department of Public Safety said the ranger was on vacation.

Jim Ray, chief of criminal law enforcement for the Department of Public Safety, said there is no statewide crackdown on bingo. Ray said a private party in Brownsville complained about the bingo games there, but he was not at liberty to identify the complainant.

"One of my duties, which is also yours, is to abide by the civil laws of the state. It is my obligation to direct everyone to comply with such laws and to hold personally responsible those guilty of the same," the Bishop said.

The Edinburg Daily Review reported Thursday that churches in Mission and La Joya said they will halt the bingo games. The Catholic War Veterans Organization at Mission also reported the organization voted Wednesday night, after receiving the letter, to discontinue the games. A spokesman for the organization said profits from the games had been used to finance a Boy Scout troop and a youth baseball team.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠. South overlooked his most promising prospect in playing the six heart contract, and the result was a totally unnecessary loss on the deal.

When North raised South's jump rebid in hearts, the latter checked back for controls. If his partner had shown one ace and three kings, he would have been in position to count 13 tricks. North announced only two kings however, and South chose to settle for a small slam.

West opened the queen of clubs which was taken in the closed hand with the ace. Trumps were drawn in three pulls and a diamond was led to the king. The ace of diamonds was cashed followed by a diamond ruff—in the hope that the suit would divide evenly, in which case declarer's spades could be discarded on the established diamonds.

West showed out on the third round of the suit, however, and everything now hinged on the spade finesse. A club was led to the king and a spade was returned. South played the queen from his hand, however West turned up with the king and the defense subsequently took another spade trick to hand South a setback.

Declarer had neglected to avail himself of an additional opportunity to succeed. South is, in fact, in position to assure his contract provided the diamonds are divided no worse than four-two.

When South leads a diamond, instead of going up with the king, it is suggested that he put in the seven from dummy—conceding a cheap trick to East. If a spade comes back, declarer puts up the ace and leads another diamond to the king. When all hands follow, a small diamond is ruffed to establish the rest of the suit. One spade is discarded on the ace of diamonds and the other on North's long card which is now the 13er in the suit. Declarer loses only one trick—a diamond.

NUCLEAR PROGRAM LAGGING BADLY

Red China Not Equipped For War

LONDON (AP) — Red China's armed forces are not equipped for modern war and its nuclear arms program seems to be lagging badly, an authoritative defense research institute said today.

"China's conventional arms industry would be in no position to produce weapons on a scale needed for war; neither could Chinese-produced nuclear arms be a substitute for them," the Institute for Strategic Studies said in its annual survey of world military strength.

"China's military potential still lies basically in her large reserves of manpower," the report continued.

When a newsman commented that the report appeared to downgrade China's military strength, the director of the institute, Alastair Buchan, replied:

"Does that surprise you when you compare China's gross national product and industrial fabric with that of the Soviet Union or the United States?"

China's armed forces, he added, "are in a much poorer state in regard to equipment" than the Soviet Union's, but he refused to speculate on the future.

"Chinese stocks of fissile material might be sufficient for about 100 atomic bombs of nominal (20-kiloton) yield or a smaller amalgam of both hydrogen and atomic varieties," the report said. "Some of the fusion (H-bomb) weapons could be of several megatons."

"The lengthening gap that has been noted between nuclear tests may mean, however, that fissile material is not being produced in the quantities forecast in the West."

"Likewise, the Chinese missile program has apparently not progressed as fast as expected. It is possible that the advanced weapons program faltered in 1966-68 due to political harassment of the small scientific community engaged on the program, but efforts to restore the momentum must now be in progress."

The bulk of China's tanks were made or designed by the Soviets. The survey said China has a shortage of heavy artillery and a big lack of more sophisticated equipment.

The institute reported that the Soviet Navy has 120 submarines in Far Eastern waters, many of them armed with nuclear weapons. It said China has 33 submarines, and only one has tubes for ballistic missile.

Turning to the comparative strength of the United States and the Soviet Union, the report said the Russians within the next four months will have more intercontinental and medium range nuclear weapons than the United States. But it said this threat and that of the numerically superior Communist forces in Europe are offset by the Chinese threat to the Russians.

The survey said the Soviets had 1,050 intercontinental ballistic missiles with nuclear warheads in July and are expected to have 1,150 by the end of the year. The United States has had 1,654 ICBMs since 1967 and is not building any new ones.

The Soviets have 700 intermediate and medium-range missiles, while the United States has none. However, the United States has 656 nuclear missiles to be launched from submarines, while the Russians have 160.

Suit On Smog Devices Settled With Carmakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Justice Department has agreed to settle out of court its antitrust suit charging the nation's automakers with conspiring to delay installation of antismog devices on new model cars.

The accord—announced Thursday—would require automobile manufacturers to develop antismog devices independently in competition with each other. With court approval, the agreement would become binding in 30 days.

The decree was signed by General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp., American Motors Corp. and the Automobile Manufacturers Association, a trade group.

In Detroit, Chrysler and General Motors denied they had taken part in any agreement to restrain development of antismog devices. They said they were entering into the settlement to avoid long and costly litigation that would delay development of emission control systems.

Los Angeles County supervisors said they would try to intervene in the case before the 30-day deadline, thereby keeping the suit alive and nullifying the accord.

The pact was announced simultaneously by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in Washington and Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard McLaren in Los Angeles. The agreement, a proposed consent decree, was filed in U.S. District Court here.

However, county supervisors and Rep. George E. Brown, D-Calif., said the pact permits automakers to evade a court suit without laying down a specific timetable for the development of auto exhaust control systems. Seventeen other congressmen opposed the pact as word of its existence spread through Washington.

As detailed in a news conference by Mitchell, the agreement prohibits automakers from developing smog control devices in concert and bans them from agreeing among themselves when to equip the cars with the antipollution devices.

McLaren said the pact forces the nation's automakers to rescind a 1955 agreement providing for crosslicensing of antismog devices patents.

The federal government's antitrust suit was initiated by former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark last Jan. 10 after a secret federal grand jury investigation.

Los Angeles County Supervisor Warren Dorn, a Republican, said, "It looks as though the citizens will be sold down the river."

The pact, he said, prevents public disclosure of the facts that led to the federal grand jury indictment.

Showers Are Due To Return

By The Associated Press

Mild weather took over in Texas today to provide nearly ideal conditions for the first weekend of the new high school and college football season.

Showers disappeared, and skies cleared over much of Central and East Texas. It was still largely cloudy, however, across the southern and western thirds of the state.

A little rain continued into Thursday evening in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and parts of the Texas Panhandle. Amounts were generally light then and earlier in the day, when the larger measurements included Wichita Falls .39 inch, Abilene .36, Waco .30 and Austin .23.

Clear to only partly cloudy skies were predicted through Saturday. Extended forecasts covering the next five days, indicated, however, that scattered showers would return in all sections by the fore part of next week.

Top temperatures Thursday rose no higher than 67 degrees at Childress and 68 at Lubbock. Brownsville and McAllen were in the 90s.

Weather Favors Most Of Nation

By The Associated Press

Fair and pleasant weather favored most of the nation today although an autumnlike chill persisted in parts of the Great Lakes region and the east.

Showers were confined mostly to widely scattered sections of the Rockies and the Southwest. Nearly an inch of rain splashed over Grand Canyon, Ariz., during the night.

A warming trend fanned out of the plains and over much of the Midwest. However, more cool weather was building up off the Pacific northwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 45 at Hibbing, Minn., Elmira, N.Y., and Beckley, W. Va., to 93 at Needles, Calif.

At $375 A Copy, Books Are Rationed To Bookstores

NEW YORK (AP) — The newest venture in the book world combines a literary classic with the original art of Salvador Dali. At $375 a copy, it is such a hot item that it is being rationed to bookstores across the nation.

The classic is Lewis Carroll's "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland." Remember how Alice fell down the rabbit hole and met all sorts of odd creatures, such as the Dormouse and the Mad Hatter?

Accompanying the text is a set of original graphics by Dali. The illustrations are original works of art—not reproductions.

The work is known as "The Dali Alice." It is being distributed now in an edition of 2,500 copies, plus 200 special copies at $750 each, jointly published by Random House and Maecenas Press.

Even before its official publication date of Nov. 5, it is a status symbol. For the first time, Random House has limited its distribution to a certain number of copies for each city.

Buffalo, N.Y., has been allocated five copies. There are 10 each available for Austin, Tex., Phoenix, Ariz., and the Tampa-St. Petersburg area of Florida. There are 15 each available for Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Nashville, Columbus, New Orleans, Salt Lake City and Portland, Ore.

The figures go high for nearly a score of larger cities, topping off with 100 in Boston, 125 in San Francisco-Oakland, 150 in Chicago, 200 in Los Angeles and 550 in New York City.

In physical appearance "The Dali Alice" is different from the usual book. Its pages are not sewn together, and there is no binding. The text pages and the art pages—all of them 11½ by 17 inches, on specially made rag paper—lie in a silk-lined "case-portfolio."

Dali has illustrated the text with what are known in the art trade as "mixed media original graphics."

A graphic is a work of art in multiple copies, such as prints or etchings, or a combination of several processes. Working with a copper plate, an artist may create an etching and then print over it with a woodcut, the result being "mixed media."

Illustrations in the usual "art book" are reproductions—not originals.

For each of the 12 chapters of "Alice," Dali colors a gravure in 6 to 12 colors, upon which is superimposed the impression of a woodcut. The 13th illustration is a color etching opposite the title page, portraying the artist's conception of Alice.

The 200 special copies contain a double set of the illustrations, in a full leather portfolio. The extra set is for possible framing.

Thoughts are what we are

We are what we think all day long. Never underestimate the power of your thoughts. They are tremendously influential in molding character and action. They are, in truth, the parents of our behavior. Disposition and personality — even character — will very largely be determined by the thoughts we welcome to our minds each day.

Since it is true that a soul is dyed the color of its thoughts, it is imperative that everyone be given guidance in thinking about truths and values that are noble and eternal.

The Church stands in your community to help you and your children. Worship this week in your church, and find the joy that comes when life is centered upon values that last.

Chicago Yields More Ground In Scramble

By The Associated Press

FAN IN UNIFORM — Ray Floyd, this year's Professional Golfer's Association champion, throws a baseball as he joins Rich Nye, of the Chicago Cubs, in the pre-game warm-up before the start of Thursday night's game with the Phillies in Philadelphia. Floyd, who wore a complete Cubs' uniform, also sat on the bench during the contest.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Of the Big Spring High School football team which debuts here tonight against Lubbock Monterey, Coach Spike Dykes said, with an understandable note of pride:

"They've worked harder and put out more in physical effort than any team with which I've ever been associated."

"They began to drag a little toward last weekend but even that may be a good thing. Boys can get full throttle just so long and then might go stale. We sure don't want that to happen."

Dykes had not planned to have his scouts take a look at Lubbock Monterey in its scrimmage last week but changed his mind when Plainsmen Coach James Odom called here to alert the Steer ringmaster he was sending two spies in for the Steers' scrimmage with Sweetwater.

Odom suggested that Dykes take advantage of the Monterey workout and pick up what information he could.

Odom could have dispatched people here without notifying anyone. Obviously he believes in doing everything above-board.

People who are rational about most things they have to face in life sometimes get irrational when it comes to football.

High school teams can book a maximum of ten games during the regular season but are permitted under Texas Interscholastic League rules to scrimmage at specified times before regular play begins, sometimes one opponent, sometimes two.

Coaches like to keep such workouts in the proper perspective, not emphasizing victory—because no victor can be declared—but using the time to spot and reduce the incidence of mistakes before the heat of the campaign really arrives.

Regrettably, there are a few zealots who would make great issue of such workouts. Invariably, they read into the scrimmages portents that the coaches themselves cannot see.

The mentors understandably do not like to over-emphasize the importance of an impending scrimmage or have it analyzed and picked apart by observers. The raucous element reacts differently—and thereby puts more pressure on coaches and players alike.

Those so-called friends of football, the first to join the anvil chorus when things go amiss, stump for the complete setting—bands, pep squads, concession stands, the whole bit. In so doing, they are doing football and the schools a disservice.

The amazing thing about football is not that the game is losing as many good men as it is, but that more coaches don't shuck it more quickly than they do. One of the worst things about their jobs is that they have to give audience to ill-informed and often ill-mannered people.

Working with boys who want to work as a unit can be a very rewarding experience. But having to listen to the lunatic fringe can be very harrowing.

Tom Brookshier, who pitched here occasionally for Roswell in the old Longhorn League, 20 years ago, says he sometimes gets a little put out with directors and producers of TV football shows.

Brookshier, who has a sports program on a Philadelphia TV station and is a color man for CBS when the network airs NFL games, played in the NFL for several years.

Tom says that the TV officials seem to worry about everything but the game itself. When a cluster of balloons rises from the stadium, the producer or director never fails to swing his camera over for the sight and away from the battle pits.

Brookshier also states:

"We've educated the people about football to the point unknown 25 years ago. My concern now is that I'll get too technical, too scientific."

"There is one attitude I try to have above all. That is that football is a fun game. . . I don't believe that tomorrow will be a worse day because the Jets beat the Giants. . . It is, after all, only a game. . . That's the way I see it although some of the letters I get indicate that there are those who have a pretty grim outlook on what football should be."

Regrettably, many football buffs regard football as a holy war. If their team—whether it be on the high school, college or professional level—loses, that kind reasons he personally has lost face and sues for a week—or until such time as his pets line up for another kickoff. Only then he is rejuvenated.

Rufneks Host Rugged Toros Saturday At 8

MIDLAND — Saturday night's game between the West Texas Rufneks and the San Antonio Toros could well be one of the deciding games in the drive for the Texas Division title.

The Toros have dominated Texas Professional football for two seasons winning, all but one game in their first two years of competition. This year, the Toros are one and one for the year, having lost to Las Vegas, 20-17.

The key men on the Toros squad are wide receiver Truman Franks and tight end Don Frieling. The two are the favorite targets of the two Toros quarterbacks, Sol Olivas and Les Obie. Olivas is the former NAIA passing champion from Eastern New Mexico University and played last year for the El Paso Jets. Obie was with the Rufneks last year and is a product of Trinity University.

The Rufnek defensive unit, which has played superb ball from the start this year, will face its toughest challenge yet against the Toros offense rated as one of the most potent in the league. Defensive captain, Don Floyd, leader of the "Fighting Four," reports his front wall escaped injury in the game.

Offensively the Rufneks will also be facing the toughest challenge of the season as they try the Toros defensive unit led by described Lum earlier in the season, "and there are plenty of major league clubs he could play for regularly."

"I'd rather be a regular," says Lum, "but if I can't, then this is the next best thing. When you have guys in the outfield like Aaron, Alou, Carly and Gonzalez, what can you do?"

Willie McCovey slammed two homers for the Giants, his 43rd and 44th of the season, while Hank Aaron hammered No. 41 for the Braves.

Lum's pinch hit gave the victory to Ron Reed, 16-9. Hoyt Wilhelm, the 46-year-old knuck leballer recently acquired from California, made his first NL appearance since 1957 and worked a scoreless ninth inning.

Bobby Bonds of the Giants struck out for the 164th time this season, a league record.

BANKS CONNECTS

The Cubs and Phillies were tied 1-1 in the eighth when Ernie Banks homered for Chicago, No. 22. But the Phils came right back to tie the score on consecutive doubles by Tony Taylor and Johnny Briggs and Richie Allen followed with his 30th homer.

That gave James a 4-2 lead. Willie Smith hit a pinch homer for the Cubs with one out in the ninth and with two away. Glenn Beckert singled. Jackson came on and retired Billy Williams on a pop fly.

Head coach Ted Dawson announced that Burgin "Bubba" Beale will receive the nod as starting quarterback for the Rufneks.

Beale is the all-time offensive leader in North Carolina grid history. At his alma mater, Elon College in Burlington, N.C., Beale finished the season with 28 all-time individual records. Beale concluded his career with a total of 5,611 yards in passing and 5,633 yards in total offense. His marks surpass the all time North Carolina marks set by such greats of football as Charlie Justine and Norm Snead.

Beale's individual game record saw him complete 22 of 47 passes for 368 yards and five touchdowns while carrying the ball an additional eight times for another 54 yards.

Tony Butler, former all-state player for the Coahoma Bulldogs and later a standout blocker for Texas Tech, will start at fullback for the Rufneks.

Forsan Plays Chargers

ABILENE — Forsan will be out to make it two in a row over Abilene Central Catholic in their 8 o'clock football game here tonight.

The Buffaloes from Howard County won last year, 24-0. The Bisons will be playing their first game under their new coach, Don Stevens, who was first assistant last year.

Central Catholic is coached by Wiley Wise, former Big Spring High School and McMurry end. Central Catholic won only three of ten starts last year. The game will be played in the Wylie High School stadium. It originally was scheduled for McMurry Stadium in Abilene.

Tailback Jimmy Bassford, who moved here with his family from Maine, is the chief running threat of the Chargers. Junior Gary Lewis will open at quarterback for Central Catholic.

Stevens will be fielding one of the youngest and most inexperienced Forsan clubs in recent years. Sophomore Jeff Williams will be the "man under" for the Buffaloes.

Both Desmond Early of Ireland and Bruno Taino of Peru will be eligible for varsity competition this year.

Early, 20, from Carlow, is a four-time all-Ireland tennis champion. Taino, 19, is from Lima. He captured the junior title twice and this year won the senior championship.

Coahoma Visits Rankin Tonight

COAHOMA — Coach Bernie Hagins of Coahoma has been informed that Rankin will be at full strength when the Red Devils host his Bulldogs at 8 o'clock this evening.

Several of the Rankin standouts had been ailing, including star ball carrier Booker T. Dixon and center Larry Holder.

Hagins says Rankin is always hard to contain at home and will be coming off a 7-3-1 record of a year ago. Rankin has nine of 25 lettermen back, including star quarterback Adam Pina, a 150-pound senior.

Rankin has been picked to finish second in its district (7-A) immediately behind Van Horn.

The Bulldogs have been cheered by the return to camp of quarterback Kenny Clanton, a regular at the position last year. Clanton had a boil on his back lanced and spent two days in a Big Spring hospital.

In a game played at Coahoma last year, the Bulldogs beat Rankin, 16-8.

Coahoma plays its first home game a week from tonight, at which time the Bulldogs host Class AA Winters.

AS IT WAS PLAYED CENTURY AGO — Artist Arnold Friberg's painting of the Princeton-Rutgers football game (above) depicts the grand old game of football as it was played in 1869. Bewildered spectators, all 200 of them, sat on fence rails or in buckboards and watched the 25-man teams play soccer-type ball. After much "headlong running, wild shouting and frantic kicking," Rutgers won, 6 goals to 4.

Rams, Colts Likely To Fight It Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Even the schedule makers expect Los Angeles and Baltimore to fight it out for the Coastal Division title and the Central Division is a Reeves last winter. In the absence of any clear winner in the Central, we'll put the finger on the Minnesota Vikings to do it again with the help of all signs point to a fine comeback by John Unitas. Steers Launch Play Against Plainsmen Autumnal madness, more properly identified as Texas high school football, shows up on schedule here again tonight, when the Big Spring Steers seek their first victory in history over Lubbock Monterey. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

The two elevens have met only twice before — in 1955 and again last fall. Monterey won the opener, 26-7, and scalped Big Spring last year, 21-14, on its way to an 8-2 season.

This is Spike Dykes' third season as head coach of the Steers and he's hoping to improve upon the two 5-3 seasons the provincials have had under him.

This will be the only warmup game for Big Spring before the Longhorns plunge into District 3-AAAA competition a week hence against Midland Lee.

Good weather could bring out a crowd in excess of 6,000, although not many are due to come back from Lubbock. Two hundred adult and 500 student tickets were dispatched there.

Both teams have experienced quarterbacks returning. Gary Hinds, a slick runner and better-than-average passer, will be at the controls for the resident eleven. Tail Murre O'Hair will direct the operations from the field for Monterey.

The two teams stark up about evenly in weights. Big Spring has a little more experience.

Big Spring must adjust to the loss of ace fullback-linebacker Rocky Wooley and speedster Roy Lee Warren. Wooley is attending the University of Texas on a scholarship. Warren is in the University of Houston under a similar arrangement.

Gone from the Big Spring line are such worthies as all-district tackle Steve Russell, Greg Lewis, Bill Henry and Johnny Hedges.

Herman Evans, the Steers' fastest man, will miss tonight's contest due to a foot injury suffered in the recent scrimmage against Sweetwater.

In the last 11 years, the Steers have lost only three openers including the one to Monterey last year. San Antonio Edison beat the locals in 1959 while Lamesa turned the trick in '66.

Dykes believes in running the ball a lot but Hinds has some standout receivers, in event he elects to go to the air. Jimmy Farris, Johnny Rutherford, Lewis Switzer, Steve Tidwell and Rick Peurifoy all make good targets.

The Steers' line play will have to be extra sharp, if it is to contain elusive Bobby Lewis, who played a leading role in last year's Monterey win. Lewis played perhaps his finest game

Steelers Flog Giants, 17-13

By The Associated Press
Dick Shiner's arm is alive and well in Montreal. And there's nothing wrong with Gene Mingo's foot, either.

Shiner, plagued with a sore arm recently, uncorked two touchdown passes and Mingo kicked a 25-yard field goal as the Pittsburgh Steelers spilled the New York Giants 17-13 in a National Football League exhibition game in Montreal Thursday night.

"We started out slow in the first half, but that first touchdown we got in the third quarter started us off," said winning coach Chuck Noll, referring to Shiner's five-yard strike to Earl Gros.

The Steelers were trailing 6-0, but Shiner's touchdown toss got the Steelers a 7-6 advantage.

After another New York touchdown, Shiner clicked with a 38-yard pass to John Hilton for a 14-13 lead, then Mingo booted the clincher in the fourth period.

Noll praised his defense for the victory, the Steelers' second in five preseason games. The Giants now are 0-5 in tuneup games.

Coach Allie Sherman of the Giants agreed with Noll that the Steeler defense was the key to the Pittsburgh victory.

"Their defense was real good," Sherman said.

Fran Tarkenton, the Giants' quarterback, said the outcome was just an old story.

"It's the same thing for the last five games," he said dejectedly. "We've been beating ourselves."

Pete Gogolak booted a pair of first half field goals to give the New Yorkers a 6-0 lead, but that was wiped out with Shiner's first touchdown pass. John Fugqua smashed in for a four-yard touchdown run to give the Giants a short-lived 13-7 lead.

Then Shiner and Mingo got busy and put the game out of the Giants' reach.

Two games are on tap tonight. St. Louis plays at Chicago and New Orleans is at Detroit in two NFL battles. On Saturday, Green Bay plays Atlanta at Canton, Ohio; Cleveland meets Minnesota at Akron, Ohio, and Los Angeles tackles San Francisco, all NFL tilts.

The exhibition season winds up Sunday with two NFL games — Washington at Philadelphia and Baltimore at Dallas.

Meanwhile, St. Louis signed 11-year veteran King Hill, a backup quarterback and punter with Philadelphia and Minnesota. He'll be doing the same thing with the Cardinals.

Coahoma Elevens To Play Openers

COAHOMA — Two Coahoma high school football teams will see action this week, both on the road.

The varsity Bulldogs travel to Rankin Friday night for a contest against powerful Rankin. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

The Coahoma B team will meet Colorado City's reserves in a 7:30 o'clock engagement Saturday night.

Coahoma's varsity plays its home opener Sept. 19 against Winters.

Earl, Chip Stewart Take 2-Shot Lead At Odessa

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Earl and Chip Stewart, the precision father-son golfing team from Dallas, carried a two-shot lead into the second round today of the $35,000 Odessa Pro-Am.

Twenty-eight teams were with five shots of the leaders as the 72-hole race for the $8,000 first prize resumed over the 6,600-yard par 72 Odessa Country Club course.

Stewart, 47, back on the tour after 15 years as a club pro, finished with a 61 when Earl nearly eagled the 61 at 18th hole with an approach shot that missed the cup by inches.

"I finally helped him out of a hole, didn't I," Earl laughed, contending, in effect, that Chip had carried most of the load as they finished third here the last two years.

Among the 64 shooters was tour veteran Billy Maxwell, who once called Odessa home, and his amateur partner, Richard Ellis of Texas A&M.

Also in this group were Terry Dill and Bill Penn of Austin Tex.; Jim Wichers and Bob Ireland of Atherton, Calif.; and Jim Grant of Weathersfield Conn., and Bill Harvey of Greensboro, N.C.

"We never came close to making a bogie," Wichers said, adding that they had at least four other good shots at birdies that failed to fall.

"We didn't even have a chance to make a bogie," said Grant.

"We should have been 12 under par."

U.S. open champion Orville Moody, playing with brother Lloyd, headed four teams at 63. This group included Clayton Cole-Jack Rivers of Monroe La.; Fred Atkins-Frank Redman of El Paso and Rik Massengale of Jacksonville, Tex., and Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla.

Massengale, playing as an amateur with his brother Don, won the pro-am last year by a stroke on the basis of Rik's hole-in-one on the last round.

There were eight teams at 66 and 12 at 67 at the start of the second day. The field of 90 will be trimmed after 36 holes to 80 teams and ties.
